JUDGES 6 †The people of Israel did what was evil in the sight of the LORD, and the LORD gave them into the hand of Midian seven years. <sup>2</sup>And the hand of Midian overpowered Israel, and because of Midian the people of Israel made for themselves the dens that are in the mountains and the caves and the strongholds. <sup>3</sup>For whenever the Israelites planted crops, the Midianites and the Amalekites and the people of the East would come up against them. <sup>4</sup>They would encamp against them and devour the produce of the land, as far as Gaza, and leave no sustenance in Israel and no sheep or ox or donkey. <sup>5</sup>For they would come up with their livestock and their tents; they would come like locusts in number—both they and their camels could not be counted—so that they laid waste the land as they came in. <sup>6</sup>And Israel was brought very low because of Midian. And the people of Israel cried out for help to the LORD.

<sup>7</sup>When the people of Israel cried out to the LORD on account of the Midianites, <sup>8</sup>†the LORD sent a prophet to the people of Israel. And he said to them, “Thus says the LORD, the God of Israel: I led you up from Egypt and brought you out of the house of bondage. <sup>9</sup>And I delivered you from the hand of the Egyptians and from the hand of all who oppressed you, and drove them out before you and gave you their land. <sup>10</sup>And I said to you, ‘I am the LORD your God; you shall not fear the gods of the Amorites in whose land you dwell.’ But you have not obeyed my voice.”

The Call of Gideon

<sup>11</sup>†Now the angel of the LORD came and sat under the terebinth at Ophrah, which belonged to Joash the Abiezrite, while his son Gideon was beating out wheat in the winepress to hide it from the Midianites. <sup>12</sup>And the angel of the LORD appeared to him and said to him, “The LORD is with you, O mighty man of valor.” <sup>13</sup>†And Gideon said to him, “Please, sir, [1] if the LORD is with us, why then has all this happened to us? And where are all his wonderful deeds that our fathers recounted to us, saying, ‘Did not the LORD bring us up from Egypt?’ But now the LORD has forsaken us and given us into the hand of Midian.” <sup>14</sup>And the LORD [2] turned to him and said, “Go in this might of yours and save Israel from the hand of Midian; do not I send you?” <sup>15</sup>And he said to him, “Please, Lord, how can I save Israel? Behold, my clan is the weakest in Manasseh, and I am the least in my father’s house.” <sup>16</sup>And the LORD said to him, “But I will be with you, and you shall strike the Midianites as one man.” <sup>17</sup>† And he said to him, “If now I have found favor in your eyes, then show me a sign that it is you who speak with me. <sup>18</sup>† Please do not depart from here until I come to you and bring out my present and set it before you.” And he said, “I will stay till you return.”

<sup>19</sup>So Gideon went into his house and prepared a young goat and unleavened cakes from an ephah [3] of flour. The meat he put in a basket, and the broth he put in a pot, and brought them to him under the terebinth and presented them. <sup>20</sup>And the angel of God said to him, “Take the meat and the unleavened cakes, and put them on this rock, and pour the broth over them.” And he did so. <sup>21</sup>Then the angel of the LORD reached out the tip of the staff that was in his hand and touched the meat and the unleavened cakes. And fire sprang up from the rock and consumed the meat and the unleavened cakes. And the angel of the LORD vanished from his sight. <sup>22</sup>Then Gideon perceived that he was the angel of the LORD. And Gideon said, “Alas, O Lord GOD! For now I have seen the angel of the LORD face to face.” <sup>23</sup>But the LORD said to him, “Peace be to you. Do not fear; you shall not die.” <sup>24</sup>Then Gideon built an altar there to the LORD and called it, The LORD Is Peace. To this day it still stands at Ophrah, which belongs to the Abiezrites.

<sup>25</sup>That night the LORD said to him, “Take your father's bull, and the second bull seven years old, and pull down the altar of Baal that your father has, and cut down the Asherah that is beside it <sup>26</sup>and build an altar to the LORD your God on the top of the stronghold here, with stones laid in due order. Then take the second bull and offer it as a burnt offering with the wood of the Asherah that you shall cut down.” <sup>27</sup>† So Gideon took ten men of his servants and did as the LORD had told him. But because he was too afraid of his family and the men of the town to do it by day, he did it by night.

Gideon Destroys the Altar of Baal

<sup>28</sup>When the men of the town rose early in the morning, behold, the altar of Baal was broken down, and the Asherah beside it was cut down, and the second bull was offered on the altar that had been built. <sup>29</sup>And they said to one another, “Who has done this thing?” And after they had searched and inquired, they said, “Gideon the son of Joash has done this thing.” <sup>30</sup>Then the men of the town said to Joash, “Bring out your son, that he may die, for he has broken down the altar of Baal and cut down the Asherah beside it.” <sup>31</sup>But Joash said to all who stood against him, “Will you contend for Baal? Or will you save him? Whoever contends for him shall be put to death by morning. If he is a god, let him contend for himself, because his altar has been broken down.”<sup>32</sup>‡ Therefore on that day Gideon [4] was called Jerubbaal, that is to say, “Let Baal contend against him,” because he broke down his altar.

<sup>33</sup>Now all the Midianites and the Amalekites and the people of the East came together, and they crossed the Jordan and encamped in the Valley of Jezreel.
<sup>34</sup>But the Spirit of the LORD clothed Gideon, and he sounded the trumpet, and the Abiezrites were called out to follow him. <sup>35</sup>And he sent messengers throughout all Manasseh, and they too were called out to follow him. And he sent messengers to Asher, Zebulun, and Naphtali, and they went up to meet them.

The Sign of the Fleece

<sup>36</sup>‡ Then Gideon said to God, “If you will save Israel by my hand, as you have said, <sup>37</sup>behold, I am laying a fleece of wool on the threshing floor. If there is dew on the fleece alone, and it is dry on all the ground, then I shall know that you will save Israel by my hand, as you have said.” <sup>38</sup>And it was so. When he rose early next morning and squeezed the fleece, he wrung enough dew from the fleece to fill a bowl with water. <sup>39</sup>Then Gideon said to God, “Let not your anger burn against me; let me speak just once more. Please let me test just once more with the fleece. Please let it be dry on the fleece only, and on all the ground let there be dew.” <sup>40</sup>And God did so that night; and it was dry on the fleece only, and on all the ground there was dew.

Gideon's Three Hundred Men

JUDGES 7 Then Jerubbaal (that is, Gideon) and all the people who were with him rose early and encamped beside the spring of Harod. And the camp of Midian was north of them, by the hill of Moreh, in the valley.

<sup>2</sup>†The LORD said to Gideon, “The people with you are too many for me to give the Midianites into their hand, lest Israel boast over me, saying, ‘My own hand has saved me.’ <sup>3</sup>Now therefore proclaim in the ears of the people, saying, ‘Whoever is fearful and trembling, let him return home and hurry away from Mount Gilead.’” Then 22,000 of the people returned, and 10,000 remained.

<sup>4</sup>And the LORD said to Gideon, “The people are still too many. Take them down to the water, and I will test them for you there, and anyone of whom I say to you, ‘This one shall go with you,’ shall go with you, and anyone of whom I say to you, ‘This one shall not go with you,’ shall not go.” <sup>5</sup>†So he brought the people down to the water. And the LORD said to Gideon, “Every one who laps the water with his tongue, as a dog laps, you shall set by himself. Likewise, every one who kneels down to drink.” <sup>6</sup>And the number of those who lapped, putting their hands to their mouths, was 300 men, but all the rest of the people knelt down to drink water. <sup>7</sup>And the LORD said to Gideon, “With the 300 men who lapped I will save you and give the Midianites into your hand, and let all the others go every man to his home.” <sup>8</sup>So the people took provisions in their hands, and their trumpets. And he sent all the rest of Israel every man to his tent, but retained the 300 men. And the camp of Midian was below him in the valley.

<sup>9</sup>That same night the LORD said to him, “Arise, go down against the camp, for I have given it into your hand. <sup>10</sup>†But if you are afraid to go down, go down to the camp with Purah your servant. <sup>11</sup>And you shall hear what they say, and afterward your hands shall be strengthened to go down against the camp.” Then he went down with Purah his servant to the outposts of the armed men who were in the camp. <sup>12</sup>And the Midianites and the Amalekites and all the people of the East lay along the valley like locusts in abundance, and their camels were without number, as the sand that is on the seashore in abundance. <sup>13</sup>When Gideon came, behold, a man was telling a dream to his comrade. And he said, “Behold, I dreamed a dream, and behold, a cake of barley bread tumbled into the camp of Midian and came to the tent and struck it so that it fell and turned it upside down, so that the tent lay flat.” <sup>14</sup>And his comrade answered, “This is no other than the sword of Gideon the son of Joash, a man of Israel; God has given into his hand Midian and all the camp.”

<sup>15</sup>†As soon as Gideon heard the telling of the dream and its interpretation, he worshiped. And he returned to the camp of Israel and said, “Arise, for the LORD has given the host of Midian into your hand.” <sup>16</sup>†And he divided the 300 men into three companies and put trumpets into the hands of all of them and empty jars, with torches inside the jars. <sup>17</sup>And he said to them, “Look at me, and do likewise. When I come to the outskirts of the camp, do as I do. <sup>18</sup>When I blow the trumpet, I and all who are with me, then blow the trumpets also on every side of all the camp and shout, ‘For the LORD and for Gideon.’”

Gideon Defeats Midian

<sup>19</sup>†So Gideon and the hundred men who were with him came to the outskirts of the camp at the beginning of the middle watch, when they had just set the watch. And they blew the trumpets and smashed the jars that were in their hands.

<sup>24</sup>Gideon sent messengers throughout all the hill country of Ephraim, saying, “Come down against the Midianites and capture the waters against them, as far as Beth-barah, and also the Jordan.” So all the men of Ephraim were called out, and they captured the waters as far as Beth-barah, and also the Jordan. <sup>25</sup>And they captured the two princes of Midian, Oreb and Zeeb. They killed Oreb at the rock of Oreb, and Zeeb they killed at the winepress of Zeeb. Then they pursued Midian, and they brought the heads of Oreb and Zeeb to Gideon across the Jordan.

Gideon Defeats Zebah and Zalmunna

JUDGES 8 Then the men of Ephraim said to him, “What is this that you have done to us, not to call us when you went to fight against Midian?” And they accused him fiercely. <sup>2</sup>†And he said to them, “What have I done now in comparison with you? Is not the gleaning of the grapes of Ephraim better than the grape harvest of Abiezer? <sup>3</sup>God has given into your hands the princes of Midian, Oreb and Zeeb. What have I been able to do in comparison with you?” Then their anger [\[1\]](#) against him subsided when he said this.

<sup>4</sup>And Gideon came to the Jordan and crossed over, he and the 300 men who were with him, exhausted yet pursuing. <sup>5</sup>So he said to the men of Succoth, “Please give loaves of bread to the people who follow me, for they are exhausted, and I am pursuing after Zebah and Zalmunna, the kings of Midian.” <sup>6</sup>And the officials of Succoth said, “Are the hands of Zebah and Zalmunna already in your hand, that we should give bread to your army?” <sup>7</sup>†So Gideon said, “Well then, when the LORD has given Zebah and Zalmunna into my hand, I will flail your flesh with the thorns of the wilderness and with briers.” <sup>8</sup>And from there he went up to Penuel, and spoke to them in the same way, and the men of Penuel answered him as the men of Succoth had answered. <sup>9</sup>†And he said to the men of Penuel, “When I come again in peace, I will break down this tower.”

<sup>10</sup>Now Zebah and Zalmunna were in Karkor with their army, about 15,000 men, all who were left of all the army of the people of the East, for there had fallen 120,000 men who drew the sword. <sup>11</sup>And Gideon went up by the way of the tent dwellers east of Nobah and Jogbehah and attacked the army, for the army felt secure. <sup>12</sup>And Zebah and Zalmunna fled, and he pursued them and captured the two kings of Midian, Zebah and Zalmunna, and he threw all the army into a panic.

<sup>13</sup>Then Gideon the son of Joash returned from the battle by the ascent of Heres. <sup>14</sup>And he captured a young man of Succoth and questioned him. And he wrote down for him the officials and elders of Succoth, seventy-seven men. <sup>15</sup>And he came to the men of Succoth and said, “Behold Zebah and Zalmunna, about whom you taunted me, saying, ‘Are the hands of Zebah and Zalmunna already in your hand, that we should give bread to your men who are exhausted?’” <sup>16</sup>And he took the elders of the city, and he took thorns of the wilderness and briers and with them taught the men of Succoth a lesson. <sup>17</sup>And he broke down the tower of Penuel and killed the men of the city.

<sup>18</sup>Then he said to Zebah and Zalmunna, “Where are the men whom you killed at Tabor?” They answered, “As you are, so were they. Every one of them resembled the son of a king.” <sup>19</sup>And he said, “They were my brothers, the sons of my mother. As the LORD lives, if you had saved them alive, I would not kill you.” <sup>20</sup>† So he said to Jether his firstborn, “Rise and kill them!” But the young man did not draw his sword, for he was afraid, because he was still a young man. <sup>21</sup>† Then Zebah and Zalmunna said, “Rise yourself and fall upon us, for as the man is, so is his strength.” And Gideon arose and killed Zebah and Zalmunna, and he took the crescent ornaments that were on the necks of their camels.

Gideon's Ephod

<sup>22</sup>† Then the men of Israel said to Gideon, “Rule over us, you and your son and your grandson also, for you have saved us from the hand of Midian.” <sup>23</sup>Gideon said to them, “I will not rule over you, and my son will not rule over you; the LORD will rule over you.” <sup>24</sup>†† And Gideon said to them, “Let me make a request of you: every one of you give me the earrings from his spoil.” (For they had golden earrings, because they were Ishmaelites.) <sup>25</sup>And they answered, “We will willingly give them.” And they spread a cloak, and every man threw in it the earrings of his spoil. <sup>26</sup>† And the weight of the golden earrings that he requested was 1,700 shekels [2] of gold, besides the crescent ornaments and the pendants and the purple garments worn by the kings of Midian, and besides the collars that were around the necks of their camels. <sup>27</sup>And Gideon made an ephod of it and put it in his city, in Ophrah. And all Israel whored after it there, and it became a snare to Gideon and to his family. <sup>28</sup>So Midian was subdued before the people of Israel, and they raised their heads no more. And the land had rest forty years in the days of Gideon.

The Death of Gideon

<sup>29</sup>Jerubbaal the son of Joash went and lived in his own house. <sup>30</sup>† Now Gideon had seventy sons, his own offspring, [3] for he had many wives. <sup>31</sup>And his concubine who was in Shechem also bore him a son, and he called his name Abimelech. <sup>32</sup>And Gideon the son of Joash died in a good old age and was buried in the tomb of Joash his father, at Ophrah of the Abiezrites.

<sup>33</sup>As soon as Gideon died, the people of Israel turned again and whored after the Baals and made Baal-berith their god. <sup>34</sup>And the people of Israel did not remember the LORD their God, who had delivered them from the hand of all their enemies on every side, <sup>35</sup>and they did not show steadfast love to the family of Jerubbaal (that is, Gideon) in return for all the good that he had done to Israel.

Abimelech's Conspiracy

JUDGES 9 Now Abimelech the son of Jerubbaal went to Shechem to his mother's relatives and said to them and to the whole clan of his mother's family, <sup>2</sup>“Say in the ears of all the leaders of Shechem, ‘Which is better for you, that all seventy of the sons of Jerubbaal rule over you, or that one rule over you?’ Remember also that I am your bone and your flesh.”

<sup>3</sup>And his mother's relatives spoke all these words on his behalf in the ears of all the leaders of Shechem, and their hearts inclined to follow Abimelech, for they said, “He is our brother.” <sup>4</sup>And they gave him seventy pieces of silver out of the house of Baal-berith with which Abimelech hired worthless and reckless fellows, who followed him. <sup>5</sup>†And he went to his father's house at Ophrah and killed his brothers the sons of Jerubbaal, seventy men, on one stone. But Jotham the youngest son of Jerubbaal was left, for he hid himself. <sup>6</sup>†And all the leaders of Shechem came together, and all Beth-millo, and they went and made Abimelech king, by the oak of the pillar at Shechem.

<sup>7</sup>When it was told to Jotham, he went and stood on top of Mount Gerizim and cried aloud and said to them, “Listen to me, you leaders of Shechem, that God may listen to you. <sup>8</sup>The trees once went out to anoint a king over them, and they said to the olive tree, ‘Reign over us.’ <sup>9</sup>But the olive tree said to them, ‘Shall I leave my abundance, by which gods and men are honored, and go hold sway over the trees?’ <sup>10</sup>And the trees said to the fig tree, ‘You come and reign over us.’ <sup>11</sup>But the fig tree said to them, ‘Shall I leave my sweetness and my good fruit and go hold sway over the trees?’ <sup>12</sup>And the trees said to the vine, ‘You come and reign over us.’ <sup>13</sup>But the vine said to them, ‘Shall I leave my wine that cheers God and men and go hold sway over the trees?’ <sup>14</sup>†Then all the trees said to the bramble, ‘You come and reign over us.’ <sup>15</sup>And the bramble said to the trees, ‘If in good faith you are anointing me king over you, then come and take refuge in my shade, but if not, let fire come out of the bramble and devour the cedars of Lebanon.’

<sup>16</sup>“Now therefore, if you acted in good faith and integrity when you made Abimelech king, and if you have dealt well with Jerubbaal and his house and have done to him as his deeds deserved— <sup>17</sup>for my father fought for you and risked his life and delivered you from the hand of Midian, <sup>18</sup>and you have risen up against my father's house this day and have killed his sons, seventy men on one stone, and have made Abimelech, the son of his female servant, king over the leaders of Shechem, because he is your relative— <sup>19</sup>if you then have acted in good faith and integrity with Jerubbaal and with his house this day, then rejoice in Abimelech, and let him also rejoice in you. <sup>20</sup>But if not, let fire come out from Abimelech and devour the leaders of Shechem and Beth-millo; and let fire come out from the leaders of Shechem and from Beth-millo and devour Abimelech.” <sup>21</sup>And Jotham ran away and fled and went to Beer and lived there, because of Abimelech his brother.

The Downfall of Abimelech

<sup>22</sup>Abimelech ruled over Israel three years. <sup>23</sup>†And God sent an evil spirit between Abimelech and the leaders of Shechem, and the leaders of Shechem dealt treacherously with Abimelech, <sup>24</sup>that the violence done to the seventy sons of Jerubbaal might come, and their blood be laid on Abimelech their brother, who killed them, and on the men of Shechem, who strengthened his hands to kill his brothers. <sup>25</sup>And the leaders of Shechem put men in ambush against him on the mountaintops, and they robbed all who passed by them along that way. And it was told to Abimelech.

<sup>26</sup>†And Gaal the son of Ebed moved into Shechem with his relatives, and the leaders of Shechem put confidence in him. <sup>27</sup>And they went out into the field and gathered the grapes from their vineyards and trod them and held a festival; and they went into the house of their god and ate and drank and reviled Abimelech. <sup>28</sup>And Gaal the son of Ebed said, “Who is Abimelech, and who are we of Shechem, that we should serve him? Is he not the son of Jerubbaal, and is not Zebul his officer? Serve the men of Hamor the father of Shechem; but why should we serve him? <sup>29</sup>Would that this people were under my hand! Then I would remove Abimelech. I would say [1] to Abimelech, ‘Increase your army, and come out.’”

<sup>34</sup>So Abimelech and all the men who were with him rose up by night and set an ambush against Shechem in four companies. <sup>35</sup>And Gaal the son of Ebed went out and stood in the entrance of the gate of the city, and Abimelech and the people who were with him rose from the ambush. <sup>36</sup>And when Gaal saw the people, he said to Zebul, "Look, people are coming down from the mountaintops!" And Zebul said to him, "You mistake [4] the shadow of the mountains for men." <sup>37</sup>†Gaal spoke again and said, "Look, people are coming down from the center of the land, and one company is coming from the direction of the Diviners' Oak." <sup>38</sup>Then Zebul said to him, "Where is your mouth now, you who said, 'Who is Abimelech, that we should serve him?' Are not these the people whom you despised? Go out now and fight with them." <sup>39</sup>And Gaal went out at the head of the leaders of Shechem and fought with Abimelech. <sup>40</sup>And Abimelech chased him, and he fled before him. And many fell wounded, up to the entrance of the gate. <sup>41</sup>And Abimelech lived at Arumah, and Zebul drove out Gaal and his relatives, so that they could not dwell at Shechem.

<sup>42</sup>On the following day, the people went out into the field, and Abimelech was told. <sup>43</sup>He took his people and divided them into three companies and set an ambush in the fields. And he looked and saw the people coming out of the city. So he rose against them and killed them. <sup>44</sup>Abimelech and the company that was with him rushed forward and stood at the entrance of the gate of the city, while the two companies rushed upon all who were in the field and killed them. <sup>45</sup>†And Abimelech fought against the city all that day. He captured the city and killed the people who were in it, and he razed the city and sowed it with salt.

<sup>46</sup>When all the leaders of the Tower of Shechem heard of it, they entered the stronghold of the house of El-berith. <sup>47</sup>Abimelech was told that all the leaders of the Tower of Shechem were gathered together. <sup>48</sup>And Abimelech went up to Mount Zalmon, he and all the people who were with him. And Abimelech took an axe in his hand and cut down a bundle of brushwood and took it up and laid it on his shoulder. And he said to the men who were with him, "What you have seen me do, hurry and do as I have done." <sup>49</sup>So every one of the people cut down his bundle and following Abimelech put it against the stronghold, and they set the stronghold on fire over them, so that all the people of the Tower of Shechem also died, about 1,000 men and women.

<sup>50</sup>Then Abimelech went to Thebez and encamped against Thebez and captured it. <sup>51</sup>But there was a strong tower within the city, and all the men and women and all the leaders of the city fled to it and shut themselves in, and they went up to the roof of the tower. <sup>52</sup>And Abimelech came to the tower and fought against it and drew near to the door of the tower to burn it with fire. <sup>53</sup>And a certain woman threw an upper millstone on Abimelech's head and crushed his skull. <sup>54</sup>Then he called quickly to the young man his armor-bearer and said to him, "Draw your sword and kill me, lest they say of me, 'A woman killed him.'" And his young man thrust him through, and he died. <sup>55</sup>And when the men of Israel saw that Abimelech was dead, everyone departed to his home. <sup>56</sup>Thus God returned the evil of Abimelech, which he committed against his father in killing his seventy brothers. <sup>57</sup>†And God also made all the evil of the men of Shechem return on their heads, and upon them came the curse of Jotham the son of Jerubbaal.

Tola and Jair

JUDGES 10 After Abimelech there arose to save Israel Tola the son of Puah, son of Dodo, a man of Issachar, and he lived at Shamir in the hill country of Ephraim. <sup>2</sup>And he judged Israel twenty-three years. Then he died and was buried at Shamir.

<sup>3</sup>After him arose Jair the Gileadite, who judged Israel twenty-two years. <sup>4</sup>And he had thirty sons who rode on thirty donkeys, and they had thirty cities, called Havvoth-jair to this day, which are in the land of Gilead. <sup>5</sup>And Jair died and was buried in Kamon.

Further Disobedience and Oppression

<sup>6</sup>The people of Israel again did what was evil in the sight of the LORD and served the Baals and the Ashtaroth, the gods of Syria, the gods of Sidon, the gods of Moab, the gods of the Ammonites, and the gods of the Philistines. And they forsook the LORD and did not serve him. <sup>7</sup>So the anger of the LORD was kindled against Israel, and he sold them into the hand of the Philistines and into the hand of the Ammonites, <sup>8</sup>and they crushed and oppressed the people of Israel that year. For eighteen years they oppressed all the people of Israel who were beyond the Jordan in the land of the Amorites, which is in Gilead. <sup>9</sup>And the Ammonites crossed the Jordan to fight also against Judah and against Benjamin and against the house of Ephraim, so that Israel was severely distressed.

<sup>10</sup>And the people of Israel cried out to the LORD, saying, “We have sinned against you, because we have forsaken our God and have served the Baals.”

<sup>11</sup>And the LORD said to the people of Israel, “Did I not save you from the Egyptians and from the Amorites, from the Ammonites and from the Philistines?

<sup>12</sup>The Sidonians also, and the Amalekites and the Maonites oppressed you, and you cried out to me, and I saved you out of their hand. <sup>13</sup>Yet you have forsaken me and served other gods; therefore I will save you no more. <sup>14</sup>Go and cry out to the gods whom you have chosen; let them save you in the time of your distress.”

<sup>15</sup>And the people of Israel said to the LORD, “We have sinned; do to us whatever seems good to you. Only please deliver us this day.” <sup>16</sup>So they put away the foreign gods from among them and served the LORD, and he became impatient over the misery of Israel.

<sup>17</sup>Then the Ammonites were called to arms, and they encamped in Gilead. And the people of Israel came together, and they encamped at Mizpah. <sup>18</sup>And the people, the leaders of Gilead, said one to another, “Who is the man who will begin to fight against the Ammonites? He shall be head over all the inhabitants of Gilead.”

Jephthah Delivers Israel

JUDGES 11 †Now Jephthah the Gileadite was a mighty warrior, but he was the son of a prostitute. Gilead was the father of Jephthah. <sup>2</sup>And Gilead's wife also bore him sons. And when his wife's sons grew up, they drove Jephthah out and said to him, "You shall not have an inheritance in our father's house, for you are the son of another woman." <sup>3</sup>†Then Jephthah fled from his brothers and lived in the land of Tob, and worthless fellows collected around Jephthah and went out with him.

<sup>4</sup>After a time the Ammonites made war against Israel. <sup>5</sup>And when the Ammonites made war against Israel, the elders of Gilead went to bring Jephthah from the land of Tob. <sup>6</sup>And they said to Jephthah, "Come and be our leader, that we may fight against the Ammonites." <sup>7</sup>But Jephthah said to the elders of Gilead, "Did you not hate me and drive me out of my father's house? Why have you come to me now when you are in distress?" <sup>8</sup>And the elders of Gilead said to Jephthah, "That is why we have turned to you now, that you may go with us and fight against the Ammonites and be our head over all the inhabitants of Gilead." <sup>9</sup>Jephthah said to the elders of Gilead, "If you bring me home again to fight against the Ammonites, and the LORD gives them over to me, I will be your head." <sup>10</sup>And the elders of Gilead said to Jephthah, "The LORD will be witness between us, if we do not do as you say." <sup>11</sup>†So Jephthah went with the elders of Gilead, and the people made him head and leader over them. And Jephthah spoke all his words before the LORD at Mizpah.

<sup>12</sup>Then Jephthah sent messengers to the king of the Ammonites and said, "What do you have against me, that you have come to me to fight against my land?" <sup>13</sup>†And the king of the Ammonites answered the messengers of Jephthah, "Because Israel on coming up from Egypt took away my land, from the Arnon to the Jabbok and to the Jordan; now therefore restore it peaceably." <sup>14</sup>Jephthah again sent messengers to the king of the Ammonites <sup>15</sup>†and said to him, "Thus says Jephthah: Israel did not take away the land of Moab or the land of the Ammonites, <sup>16</sup>but when they came up from Egypt, Israel went through the wilderness to the Red Sea and came to Kadesh. <sup>17</sup>Israel then sent messengers to the king of Edom, saying, 'Please let us pass through your land,' but the king of Edom would not listen. And they sent also to the king of Moab, but he would not consent. So Israel remained at Kadesh.

<sup>18</sup>“Then they journeyed through the wilderness and went around the land of Edom and the land of Moab and arrived on the east side of the land of Moab and camped on the other side of the Arnon. But they did not enter the territory of Moab, for the Arnon was the boundary of Moab. <sup>19</sup>Israel then sent messengers to Sihon king of the Amorites, king of Heshbon, and Israel said to him, ‘Please let us pass through your land to our country,’ <sup>20</sup>but Sihon did not trust Israel to pass through his territory, so Sihon gathered all his people together and encamped at Jahaz and fought with Israel. <sup>21</sup>And the LORD, the God of Israel, gave Sihon and all his people into the hand of Israel, and they defeated them. So Israel took possession of all the land of the Amorites, who inhabited that country. <sup>22</sup>And they took possession of all the territory of the Amorites from the Arnon to the Jabbok and from the wilderness to the Jordan. <sup>23</sup>So then the LORD, the God of Israel, dispossessed the Amorites from before his people Israel; and are you to take possession of them? <sup>24</sup>Will you not possess what Chemosh your god gives you to possess? And all that the LORD our God has dispossessed before us, we will possess. <sup>25</sup>Now are you any better than Balak the son of Zippor, king of Moab? Did he ever contend against Israel, or did he ever go to war with them? <sup>26</sup>‡ While Israel lived in Heshbon and its villages, and in Aroer and its villages, and in all the cities that are on the banks of the Arnon, 300 years, why did you not deliver them within that time? <sup>27</sup>I therefore have not sinned against you, and you do me wrong by making war on me. The LORD, the Judge, decide this day between the people of Israel and the people of Ammon.” <sup>28</sup>But the king of the Ammonites did not listen to the words of Jephthah that he sent to him.

Jephthah's Tragic Vow

<sup>29</sup>‡ Then the Spirit of the LORD was upon Jephthah, and he passed through Gilead and Manasseh and passed on to Mizpah of Gilead, and from Mizpah of Gilead he passed on to the Ammonites. <sup>30</sup>‡ And Jephthah made a vow to the LORD and said, “If you will give the Ammonites into my hand, <sup>31</sup>‡ then whatever [1] comes out from the doors of my house to meet me when I return in peace from the Ammonites shall be the LORD's, and I will offer it [2] up for a burnt offering.” <sup>32</sup>So Jephthah crossed over to the Ammonites to fight against them, and the LORD gave them into his hand. <sup>33</sup>And he struck them from Aroer to the neighborhood of Minnith, twenty cities, and as far as Abel-keramim, with a great blow. So the Ammonites were subdued before the people of Israel.

besides her he had neither son nor daughter. <sup>35</sup>† And as soon as he saw her, he tore his clothes and said, “Alas, my daughter! You have brought me very low, and you have become the cause of great trouble to me. For I have opened my mouth to the LORD, and I cannot take back my vow.” <sup>36</sup> And she said to him, “My father, you have opened your mouth to the LORD; do to me according to what has gone out of your mouth, now that the LORD has avenged you on your enemies, on the Ammonites.” <sup>37</sup> So she said to her father, “Let this thing be done for me: leave me alone two months, that I may go up and down on the mountains and weep for my virginity, I and my companions.” <sup>38</sup> So he said, “Go.” Then he sent her away for two months, and she departed, she and her companions, and wept for her virginity on the mountains. <sup>39</sup> And at the end of two months, she returned to her father, who did with her according to his vow that he had made. She had never known a man, and it became a custom in Israel <sup>40</sup> that the daughters of Israel went year by year to lament the daughter of Jephthah the Gileadite four days in the year.

Jephthah's Conflict with Ephraim

JUDGES 12 †The men of Ephraim were called to arms, and they crossed to Zaphon and said to Jephthah, “Why did you cross over to fight against the Ammonites and did not call us to go with you? We will burn your house over you with fire.” <sup>2</sup>And Jephthah said to them, “I and my people had a great dispute with the Ammonites, and when I called you, you did not save me from their hand. <sup>3</sup>And when I saw that you would not save me, I took my life in my hand and crossed over against the Ammonites, and the LORD gave them into my hand. Why then have you come up to me this day to fight against me?” <sup>4</sup>†Then Jephthah gathered all the men of Gilead and fought with Ephraim. And the men of Gilead struck Ephraim, because they said, “You are fugitives of Ephraim, you Gileadites, in the midst of Ephraim and Manasseh.” <sup>5</sup>And the Gileadites captured the fords of the Jordan against the Ephraimites. And when any of the fugitives of Ephraim said, “Let me go over,” the men of Gilead said to him, “Are you an Ephraimite?” When he said, “No,” <sup>6</sup>†they said to him, “Then say Shibboleth,” and he said, “Sibboleth,” for he could not pronounce it right. Then they seized him and slaughtered him at the fords of the Jordan. At that time 42,000 of the Ephraimites fell.

Ibzan, Elon, and Abdon

<sup>8</sup>After him Ibzan of Bethlehem judged Israel. <sup>9</sup>†He had thirty sons, and thirty daughters he gave in marriage outside his clan, and thirty daughters he brought in from outside for his sons. And he judged Israel seven years. <sup>10</sup>Then Ibzan died and was buried at Bethlehem.

<sup>13</sup>After him Abdon the son of Hillel the Pirathonite judged Israel. <sup>14</sup>He had forty sons and thirty grandsons, who rode on seventy donkeys, and he judged Israel eight years. <sup>15</sup>Then Abdon the son of Hillel the Pirathonite died and was buried at Pirathon in the land of Ephraim, in the hill country of the Amalekites.

The Birth of Samson

JUDGES 13 And the people of Israel again did what was evil in the sight of the LORD, so the LORD gave them into the hand of the Philistines for forty years.

<sup>2</sup>There was a certain man of Zorah, of the tribe of the Danites, whose name was Manoah. And his wife was barren and had no children. <sup>3</sup>†And the angel of the LORD appeared to the woman and said to her, “Behold, you are barren and have not borne children, but you shall conceive and bear a son. <sup>4</sup>Therefore be careful and drink no wine or strong drink, and eat nothing unclean, <sup>5</sup>†for behold, you shall conceive and bear a son. No razor shall come upon his head, for the child shall be a Nazirite to God from the womb, and he shall begin to save Israel from the hand of the Philistines.” <sup>6</sup>Then the woman came and told her husband, “A man of God came to me, and his appearance was like the appearance of the angel of God, very awesome. I did not ask him where he was from, and he did not tell me his name, <sup>7</sup>but he said to me, ‘Behold, you shall conceive and bear a son. So then drink no wine or strong drink, and eat nothing unclean, for the child shall be a Nazirite to God from the womb to the day of his death.’”

<sup>8</sup>Then Manoah prayed to the LORD and said, “O Lord, please let the man of God whom you sent come again to us and teach us what we are to do with the child who will be born.” <sup>9</sup>And God listened to the voice of Manoah, and the angel of God came again to the woman as she sat in the field. But Manoah her husband was not with her. <sup>10</sup>So the woman ran quickly and told her husband, “Behold, the man who came to me the other day has appeared to me.” <sup>11</sup>And Manoah arose and went after his wife and came to the man and said to him, “Are you the man who spoke to this woman?” And he said, “I am.” <sup>12</sup>And Manoah said, “Now when your words come true, what is to be the child's manner of life, and what is his mission?” <sup>13</sup>And the angel of the LORD said to Manoah, “Of all that I said to the woman let her be careful. <sup>14</sup>She may not eat of anything that comes from the vine, neither let her drink wine or strong drink, or eat any unclean thing. All that I commanded her let her observe.”

<sup>15</sup>Manoah said to the angel of the LORD, “Please let us detain you and prepare a young goat for you.” <sup>16</sup>†And the angel of the LORD said to Manoah, “If you detain me, I will not eat of your food. But if you prepare a burnt offering, then offer it to the LORD.” (For Manoah did not know that he was the angel of the LORD.) <sup>17</sup>†And Manoah said to the angel of the LORD, “What is your name, so that, when your words come true, we may honor you?” <sup>18</sup>† And the angel of the LORD said to him, “Why do you ask my name, seeing it is wonderful?” <sup>19</sup> So Manoah took the young goat with the grain offering, and offered it on the rock to the LORD, to the one who works [\[1\]](#) wonders, and Manoah and his wife were watching. <sup>20</sup>† And when the flame went up toward heaven from the altar, the angel of the LORD went up in the flame of the altar. Now Manoah and his wife were watching, and they fell on their faces to the ground.

<sup>21</sup> The angel of the LORD appeared no more to Manoah and to his wife. Then Manoah knew that he was the angel of the LORD. <sup>22</sup>† And Manoah said to his wife, “We shall surely die, for we have seen God.” <sup>23</sup> But his wife said to him, “If the LORD had meant to kill us, he would not have accepted a burnt offering and a grain offering at our hands, or shown us all these things, or now announced to us such things as these.” <sup>24</sup> And the woman bore a son and called his name Samson. And the young man grew, and the LORD blessed him. <sup>25</sup> And the Spirit of the LORD began to stir him in Mahaneh-dan, between Zorah and Eshtaol.

Samson's Marriage

JUDGES 14 †Samson went down to Timnah, and at Timnah he saw one of the daughters of the Philistines. <sup>2</sup>Then he came up and told his father and mother, “I saw one of the daughters of the Philistines at Timnah. Now get her for me as my wife.” <sup>3</sup>But his father and mother said to him, “Is there not a woman among the daughters of your relatives, or among all our people, that you must go to take a wife from the uncircumcised Philistines?” But Samson said to his father, “Get her for me, for she is right in my eyes.”

<sup>4</sup>His father and mother did not know that it was from the LORD, for he was seeking an opportunity against the Philistines. At that time the Philistines ruled over Israel.

<sup>5</sup>Then Samson went down with his father and mother to Timnah, and they came to the vineyards of Timnah. And behold, a young lion came toward him roaring. <sup>6</sup>Then the Spirit of the LORD rushed upon him, and although he had nothing in his hand, he tore the lion in pieces as one tears a young goat. But he did not tell his father or his mother what he had done. <sup>7</sup>†Then he went down and talked with the woman, and she was right in Samson's eyes.

<sup>8</sup>†After some days he returned to take her. And he turned aside to see the carcass of the lion, and behold, there was a swarm of bees in the body of the lion, and honey. <sup>9</sup>†He scraped it out into his hands and went on, eating as he went. And he came to his father and mother and gave some to them, and they ate. But he did not tell them that he had scraped the honey from the carcass of the lion.

<sup>10</sup>†His father went down to the woman, and Samson prepared a feast there, for so the young men used to do. <sup>11</sup>As soon as the people saw him, they brought thirty companions to be with him. <sup>12</sup>And Samson said to them, “Let me now put a riddle to you. If you can tell me what it is, within the seven days of the feast, and find it out, then I will give you thirty linen garments and thirty changes of clothes, <sup>13</sup>but if you cannot tell me what it is, then you shall give me thirty linen garments and thirty changes of clothes.” And they said to him, “Put your riddle, that we may hear it.” <sup>14</sup>And he said to them, “Out of the eater came something to eat.

Out of the strong came something sweet.”

And in three days they could not solve the riddle.

<sup>15</sup>On the fourth [\[1\]](#) day they said to Samson's wife, "Entice your husband to tell us what the riddle is, lest we burn you and your father's house with fire. Have you invited us here to impoverish us?" <sup>16</sup>‡And Samson's wife wept over him and said, "You only hate me; you do not love me. You have put a riddle to my people, and you have not told me what it is." And he said to her, "Behold, I have not told my father nor my mother, and shall I tell you?" <sup>17</sup>She wept before him the seven days that their feast lasted, and on the seventh day he told her, because she pressed him hard. Then she told the riddle to her people. <sup>18</sup>And the men of the city said to him on the seventh day before the sun went down, "What is sweeter than honey?"

What is stronger than a lion?"

And he said to them, "If you had not plowed with my heifer, you would not have found out my riddle."

<sup>19</sup>‡And the Spirit of the LORD rushed upon him, and he went down to Ashkelon and struck down thirty men of the town and took their spoil and gave the garments to those who had told the riddle. In hot anger he went back to his father's house. <sup>20</sup>‡And Samson's wife was given to his companion, who had been his best man.

Samson Defeats the Philistines

JUDGES 15 †After some days, at the time of wheat harvest, Samson went to visit his wife with a young goat. And he said, “I will go in to my wife in the chamber.” But her father would not allow him to go in. <sup>2</sup>†And her father said, “I really thought that you utterly hated her, so I gave her to your companion. Is not her younger sister more beautiful than she? Please take her instead.” <sup>3</sup>†And Samson said to them, “This time I shall be innocent in regard to the Philistines, when I do them harm.” <sup>4</sup>†So Samson went and caught 300 foxes and took torches. And he turned them tail to tail and put a torch between each pair of tails. <sup>5</sup>And when he had set fire to the torches, he let the foxes go into the standing grain of the Philistines and set fire to the stacked grain and the standing grain, as well as the olive orchards. <sup>6</sup>†Then the Philistines said, “Who has done this?” And they said, “Samson, the son-in-law of the Timnite, because he has taken his wife and given her to his companion.” And the Philistines came up and burned her and her father with fire. <sup>7</sup>And Samson said to them, “If this is what you do, I swear I will be avenged on you, and after that I will quit.” <sup>8</sup>And he struck them hip and thigh with a great blow, and he went down and stayed in the cleft of the rock of Etam.

<sup>9</sup>Then the Philistines came up and encamped in Judah and made a raid on Lehi. <sup>10</sup>And the men of Judah said, “Why have you come up against us?” They said, “We have come up to bind Samson, to do to him as he did to us.” <sup>11</sup>Then 3,000 men of Judah went down to the cleft of the rock of Etam, and said to Samson, “Do you not know that the Philistines are rulers over us? What then is this that you have done to us?” And he said to them, “As they did to me, so have I done to them.” <sup>12</sup>And they said to him, “We have come down to bind you, that we may give you into the hands of the Philistines.” And Samson said to them, “Swear to me that you will not attack me yourselves.” <sup>13</sup>They said to him, “No; we will only bind you and give you into their hands. We will surely not kill you.” So they bound him with two new ropes and brought him up from the rock.

<sup>14</sup>When he came to Lehi, the Philistines came shouting to meet him. Then the Spirit of the LORD rushed upon him, and the ropes that were on his arms became as flax that has caught fire, and his bonds melted off his hands. <sup>15</sup>†And he found a fresh jawbone of a donkey, and put out his hand and took it, and with it he struck 1,000 men. <sup>16</sup>And Samson said, “With the jawbone of a donkey, heaps upon heaps, with the jawbone of a donkey have I struck down a thousand men.”

<sup>17</sup>As soon as he had finished speaking, he threw away the jawbone out of his hand. And that place was called Ramath-lehi. [\[1\]](#)

<sup>18</sup>And he was very thirsty, and he called upon the LORD and said, “You have granted this great salvation by the hand of your servant, and shall I now die of thirst and fall into the hands of the uncircumcised?” <sup>19</sup>†And God split open the hollow place that is at Lehi, and water came out from it. And when he drank, his spirit returned, and he revived. Therefore the name of it was called En-hakkore; [\[2\]](#) it is at Lehi to this day. <sup>20</sup>And he judged Israel in the days of the Philistines twenty years.

Samson and Delilah

JUDGES 16 †Samson went to Gaza, and there he saw a prostitute, and he went in to her. <sup>2</sup>The Gazites were told, “Samson has come here.” And they surrounded the place and set an ambush for him all night at the gate of the city. They kept quiet all night, saying, “Let us wait till the light of the morning; then we will kill him.” <sup>3</sup>†But Samson lay till midnight, and at midnight he arose and took hold of the doors of the gate of the city and the two posts, and pulled them up, bar and all, and put them on his shoulders and carried them to the top of the hill that is in front of Hebron.

<sup>4</sup>†After this he loved a woman in the Valley of Sorek, whose name was Delilah. <sup>5</sup>†And the lords of the Philistines came up to her and said to her, “Seduce him, and see where his great strength lies, and by what means we may overpower him, that we may bind him to humble him. And we will each give you 1,100 pieces of silver.” <sup>6</sup>So Delilah said to Samson, “Please tell me where your great strength lies, and how you might be bound, that one could subdue you.”

<sup>7</sup>†Samson said to her, “If they bind me with seven fresh bowstrings that have not been dried, then I shall become weak and be like any other man.” <sup>8</sup>Then the lords of the Philistines brought up to her seven fresh bowstrings that had not been dried, and she bound him with them. <sup>9</sup>Now she had men lying in ambush in an inner chamber. And she said to him, “The Philistines are upon you, Samson!” But he snapped the bowstrings, as a thread of flax snaps when it touches the fire. So the secret of his strength was not known.

<sup>10</sup>Then Delilah said to Samson, “Behold, you have mocked me and told me lies. Please tell me how you might be bound.” <sup>11</sup>†And he said to her, “If they bind me with new ropes that have not been used, then I shall become weak and be like any other man.” <sup>12</sup>So Delilah took new ropes and bound him with them and said to him, “The Philistines are upon you, Samson!” And the men lying in ambush were in an inner chamber. But he snapped the ropes off his arms like a thread.

<sup>13</sup>Then Delilah said to Samson, “Until now you have mocked me and told me lies. Tell me how you might be bound.” And he said to her, “If you weave the seven locks of my head with the web and fasten it tight with the pin, then I shall become weak and be like any other man.” <sup>14</sup>So while he slept, Delilah took the seven locks of his head and wove them into the web. [\[1\]](#) And she made them tight with the pin and said to him, “The Philistines are upon you, Samson!” But he awoke from his sleep and pulled away the pin, the loom, and the web.

<sup>15</sup>And she said to him, “How can you say, ‘I love you,’ when your heart is not with me? You have mocked me these three times, and you have not told me where your great strength lies.” <sup>16</sup>And when she pressed him hard with her words day after day, and urged him, his soul was vexed to death. <sup>17</sup>† And he told her all his heart, and said to her, “A razor has never come upon my head, for I have been a Nazirite to God from my mother's womb. If my head is shaved, then my strength will leave me, and I shall become weak and be like any other man.”

<sup>18</sup>When Delilah saw that he had told her all his heart, she sent and called the lords of the Philistines, saying, “Come up again, for he has told me all his heart.” Then the lords of the Philistines came up to her and brought the money in their hands. <sup>19</sup>She made him sleep on her knees. And she called a man and had him shave off the seven locks of his head. Then she began to torment him, and his strength left him. <sup>20</sup>† And she said, “The Philistines are upon you, Samson!” And he awoke from his sleep and said, “I will go out as at other times and shake myself free.” But he did not know that the LORD had left him. <sup>21</sup>† And the Philistines seized him and gouged out his eyes and brought him down to Gaza and bound him with bronze shackles. And he ground at the mill in the prison. <sup>22</sup>† But the hair of his head began to grow again after it had been shaved.

The Death of Samson

<sup>23</sup>† Now the lords of the Philistines gathered to offer a great sacrifice to Dagon their god and to rejoice, and they said, “Our god has given Samson our enemy into our hand.” <sup>24</sup>† And when the people saw him, they praised their god. For they said, “Our god has given our enemy into our hand, the ravager of our country, who has killed many of us.” [2] <sup>25</sup>And when their hearts were merry, they said, “Call Samson, that he may entertain us.” So they called Samson out of the prison, and he entertained them. They made him stand between the pillars. <sup>26</sup>And Samson said to the young man who held him by the hand, “Let me feel the pillars on which the house rests, that I may lean against them.” <sup>27</sup>Now the house was full of men and women. All the lords of the Philistines were there, and on the roof there were about 3,000 men and women, who looked on while Samson entertained.

<sup>28</sup>† Then Samson called to the LORD and said, “O Lord GOD, please remember me and please strengthen me only this once, O God, that I may be avenged on the Philistines for my two eyes.”<sup>29</sup> †And Samson grasped the two middle pillars on which the house rested, and he leaned his weight against them, his right hand on the one and his left hand on the other.<sup>30</sup> And Samson said, “Let me die with the Philistines.” Then he bowed with all his strength, and the house fell upon the lords and upon all the people who were in it. So the dead whom he killed at his death were more than those whom he had killed during his life.<sup>31</sup> Then his brothers and all his family came down and took him and brought him up and buried him between Zorah and Eshtaol in the tomb of Manoah his father. He had judged Israel twenty years.

Micah and the Levite

JUDGES 17 † There was a man of the hill country of Ephraim, whose name was Micah. <sup>2</sup>And he said to his mother, “The 1,100 pieces of silver that were taken from you, about which you uttered a curse, and also spoke it in my ears, behold, the silver is with me; I took it.” And his mother said, “Blessed be my son by the LORD.” <sup>3</sup>And he restored the 1,100 pieces of silver to his mother. And his mother said, “I dedicate the silver to the LORD from my hand for my son, to make a carved image and a metal image. Now therefore I will restore it to you.” <sup>4</sup>So when he restored the money to his mother, his mother took 200 pieces of silver and gave it to the silversmith, who made it into a carved image and a metal image. And it was in the house of Micah. <sup>5</sup>† And the man Micah had a shrine, and he made an ephod and household gods, and ordained [1] one of his sons, who became his priest. <sup>6</sup>† In those days there was no king in Israel. Everyone did what was right in his own eyes.

<sup>7</sup>† Now there was a young man of Bethlehem in Judah, of the family of Judah, who was a Levite, and he sojourned there. <sup>8</sup>And the man departed from the town of Bethlehem in Judah to sojourn where he could find a place. And as he journeyed, he came to the hill country of Ephraim to the house of Micah. <sup>9</sup>And Micah said to him, “Where do you come from?” And he said to him, “I am a Levite of Bethlehem in Judah, and I am going to sojourn where I may find a place.” <sup>10</sup>And Micah said to him, “Stay with me, and be to me a father and a priest, and I will give you ten pieces of silver a year and a suit of clothes and your living.” And the Levite went in. <sup>11</sup>And the Levite was content to dwell with the man, and the young man became to him like one of his sons. <sup>12</sup>And Micah ordained the Levite, and the young man became his priest, and was in the house of Micah. <sup>13</sup>Then Micah said, “Now I know that the LORD will prosper me, because I have a Levite as priest.”

Danites Take the Levite and the Idol

JUDGES 18 In those days there was no king in Israel. And in those days the tribe of the people of Dan was seeking for itself an inheritance to dwell in, for until then no inheritance among the tribes of Israel had fallen to them. <sup>2</sup>† So the people of Dan sent five able men from the whole number of their tribe, from Zorah and from Eshtaol, to spy out the land and to explore it. And they said to them, “Go and explore the land.” And they came to the hill country of Ephraim, to the house of Micah, and lodged there. <sup>3</sup> When they were by the house of Micah, they recognized the voice of the young Levite. And they turned aside and said to him, “Who brought you here? What are you doing in this place? What is your business here?” <sup>4</sup> And he said to them, “This is how Micah dealt with me: he has hired me, and I have become his priest.” <sup>5</sup>† And they said to him, “Inquire of God, please, that we may know whether the journey on which we are setting out will succeed.” <sup>6</sup> And the priest said to them, “Go in peace. The journey on which you go is under the eye of the LORD.”

<sup>7</sup>† Then the five men departed and came to Laish and saw the people who were there, how they lived in security, after the manner of the Sidonians, quiet and unsuspecting, lacking [1] nothing that is in the earth and possessing wealth, and how they were far from the Sidonians and had no dealings with anyone. <sup>8</sup> And when they came to their brothers at Zorah and Eshtaol, their brothers said to them, “What do you report?” <sup>9</sup> They said, “Arise, and let us go up against them, for we have seen the land, and behold, it is very good. And will you do nothing? Do not be slow to go, to enter in and possess the land. <sup>10</sup> As soon as you go, you will come to an unsuspecting people. The land is spacious, for God has given it into your hands, a place where there is no lack of anything that is in the earth.”

<sup>11</sup> So 600 men of the tribe of Dan, armed with weapons of war, set out from Zorah and Eshtaol, <sup>12</sup> and went up and encamped at Kiriath-jearim in Judah. On this account that place is called Mahaneh-dan [2] to this day; behold, it is west of Kiriath-jearim. <sup>13</sup> And they passed on from there to the hill country of Ephraim, and came to the house of Micah.

<sup>14</sup>† Then the five men who had gone to scout out the country of Laish said to their brothers, “Do you know that in these houses there are an ephod, household gods, a carved image, and a metal image? Now therefore consider what you will do.” <sup>15</sup> And they turned aside there and came to the house of the young Levite, at the home of Micah, and asked him about his welfare. <sup>16</sup>Now the 600 men of the Danites, armed with their weapons of war, stood by the entrance of the gate. <sup>17</sup>And the five men who had gone to scout out the land went up and entered and took the carved image, the ephod, the household gods, and the metal image, while the priest stood by the entrance of the gate with the 600 men armed with weapons of war. <sup>18</sup>And when these went into Micah's house and took the carved image, the ephod, the household gods, and the metal image, the priest said to them, "What are you doing?" <sup>19</sup>And they said to him, "Keep quiet; put your hand on your mouth and come with us and be to us a father and a priest. Is it better for you to be priest to the house of one man, or to be priest to a tribe and clan in Israel?" <sup>20</sup>And the priest's heart was glad. He took the ephod and the household gods and the carved image and went along with the people.

<sup>21</sup>So they turned and departed, putting the little ones and the livestock and the goods in front of them. <sup>22</sup>When they had gone a distance from the home of Micah, the men who were in the houses near Micah's house were called out, and they overtook the people of Dan. <sup>23</sup>And they shouted to the people of Dan, who turned around and said to Micah, "What is the matter with you, that you come with such a company?" <sup>24</sup>And he said, "You take my gods that I made and the priest, and go away, and what have I left? How then do you ask me, 'What is the matter with you?'" <sup>25</sup>And the people of Dan said to him, "Do not let your voice be heard among us, lest angry fellows fall upon you, and you lose your life with the lives of your household." <sup>26</sup>Then the people of Dan went their way. And when Micah saw that they were too strong for him, he turned and went back to his home.

<sup>27</sup>But the people of Dan took what Micah had made, and the priest who belonged to him, and they came to Laish, to a people quiet and unsuspecting, and struck them with the edge of the sword and burned the city with fire. <sup>28</sup>And there was no deliverer because it was far from Sidon, and they had no dealings with anyone. It was in the valley that belongs to Beth-rehob. Then they rebuilt the city and lived in it. <sup>29</sup>† And they named the city Dan, after the name of Dan their ancestor, who was born to Israel; but the name of the city was Laish at the first. <sup>30</sup>† And the people of Dan set up the carved image for themselves, and Jonathan the son of Gershom, son of Moses, [3] and his sons were priests to the tribe of the Danites until the day of the captivity of the land. <sup>31</sup>† So they set up Micah's carved image that he made, as long as the house of God was at Shiloh.

A Levite and His Concubine

JUDGES 19 †† In those days, when there was no king in Israel, a certain Levite was sojourning in the remote parts of the hill country of Ephraim, who took to himself a concubine from Bethlehem in Judah. <sup>2</sup>† And his concubine was unfaithful to [1] him, and she went away from him to her father's house at Bethlehem in Judah, and was there some four months. <sup>3</sup> Then her husband arose and went after her, to speak kindly to her and bring her back. He had with him his servant and a couple of donkeys. And she brought him into her father's house. And when the girl's father saw him, he came with joy to meet him. <sup>4</sup> And his father-in-law, the girl's father, made him stay, and he remained with him three days. So they ate and drank and spent the night there. <sup>5</sup> And on the fourth day they arose early in the morning, and he prepared to go, but the girl's father said to his son-in-law, "Strengthen your heart with a morsel of bread, and after that you may go." <sup>6</sup> So the two of them sat and ate and drank together. And the girl's father said to the man, "Be pleased to spend the night, and let your heart be merry." <sup>7</sup> And when the man rose up to go, his father-in-law pressed him, till he spent the night there again. <sup>8</sup> And on the fifth day he arose early in the morning to depart. And the girl's father said, "Strengthen your heart and wait until the day declines." So they ate, both of them. <sup>9</sup> And when the man and his concubine and his servant rose up to depart, his father-in-law, the girl's father, said to him, "Behold, now the day has waned toward evening. Please, spend the night. Behold, the day draws to its close. Lodge here and let your heart be merry, and tomorrow you shall arise early in the morning for your journey, and go home."

<sup>10</sup>† But the man would not spend the night. He rose up and departed and arrived opposite Jebus (that is, Jerusalem). He had with him a couple of saddled donkeys, and his concubine was with him. <sup>11</sup> When they were near Jebus, the day was nearly over, and the servant said to his master, "Come now, let us turn aside to this city of the Jebusites and spend the night in it." <sup>12</sup>† And his master said to him, "We will not turn aside into the city of foreigners, who do not belong to the people of Israel, but we will pass on to Gibeah." <sup>13</sup> And he said to his young man, "Come and let us draw near to one of these places and spend the night at Gibeah or at Ramah." <sup>14</sup> So they passed on and went their way. And the sun went down on them near Gibeah, which belongs to Benjamin, <sup>15</sup>† and they turned aside there, to go in and spend the night at Gibeah. And he went in and sat down in the open square of the city, for no one took them into his house to spend the night.

<sup>16</sup>And behold, an old man was coming from his work in the field at evening. The man was from the hill country of Ephraim, and he was sojourning in Gibeah. The men of the place were Benjaminites. <sup>17</sup>And he lifted up his eyes and saw the traveler in the open square of the city. And the old man said, “Where are you going? And where do you come from?” <sup>18</sup>†And he said to him, “We are passing from Bethlehem in Judah to the remote parts of the hill country of Ephraim, from which I come. I went to Bethlehem in Judah, and I am going to the house of the Lord, [2] but no one has taken me into his house. <sup>19</sup>We have straw and feed for our donkeys, with bread and wine for me and your female servant and the young man with your servants. There is no lack of anything.” <sup>20</sup>†And the old man said, “Peace be to you; I will care for all your wants. Only, do not spend the night in the square.” <sup>21</sup>So he brought him into his house and gave the donkeys feed. And they washed their feet, and ate and drank.

Gibeah's Crime

<sup>22</sup>†As they were making their hearts merry, behold, the men of the city, worthless fellows, surrounded the house, beating on the door. And they said to the old man, the master of the house, “Bring out the man who came into your house, that we may know him.” <sup>23</sup>And the man, the master of the house, went out to them and said to them, “No, my brothers, do not act so wickedly; since this man has come into my house, do not do this vile thing. <sup>24</sup>†Behold, here are my virgin daughter and his concubine. Let me bring them out now. Violate them and do with them what seems good to you, but against this man do not do this outrageous thing.” <sup>25</sup>†But the men would not listen to him. So the man seized his concubine and made her go out to them. And they knew her and abused her all night until the morning. And as the dawn began to break, they let her go. <sup>26</sup>And as morning appeared, the woman came and fell down at the door of the man's house where her master was, until it was light.

<sup>27</sup>And her master rose up in the morning, and when he opened the doors of the house and went out to go on his way, behold, there was his concubine lying at the door of the house, with her hands on the threshold. <sup>28</sup>He said to her, “Get up, let us be going.” But there was no answer. Then he put her on the donkey, and the man rose up and went away to his home. <sup>29</sup>†And when he entered his house, he took a knife, and taking hold of his concubine he divided her, limb by limb, into twelve pieces, and sent her throughout all the territory of Israel. <sup>30</sup>And all who saw it said, “Such a thing has never happened or been seen from the day that the people of Israel came up out of the land of Egypt until this day; consider it, take counsel, and speak.”

Israel's War with the Tribe of Benjamin

JUDGES 20 †Then all the people of Israel came out, from Dan to Beersheba, including the land of Gilead, and the congregation assembled as one man to the LORD at Mizpah. <sup>2</sup>And the chiefs of all the people, of all the tribes of Israel, presented themselves in the assembly of the people of God, 400,000 men on foot that drew the sword. <sup>3</sup>(Now the people of Benjamin heard that the people of Israel had gone up to Mizpah.) And the people of Israel said, “Tell us, how did this evil happen?” <sup>4</sup>And the Levite, the husband of the woman who was murdered, answered and said, “I came to Gibeah that belongs to Benjamin, I and my concubine, to spend the night. <sup>5</sup>And the leaders of Gibeah rose against me and surrounded the house against me by night. They meant to kill me, and they violated my concubine, and she is dead. <sup>6</sup>So I took hold of my concubine and cut her in pieces and sent her throughout all the country of the inheritance of Israel, for they have committed abomination and outrage in Israel. <sup>7</sup>Behold, you people of Israel, all of you, give your advice and counsel here.”

<sup>8</sup>And all the people arose as one man, saying, “None of us will go to his tent, and none of us will return to his house. <sup>9</sup>But now this is what we will do to Gibeah: we will go up against it by lot, <sup>10</sup>and we will take ten men of a hundred throughout all the tribes of Israel, and a hundred of a thousand, and a thousand of ten thousand, to bring provisions for the people, that when they come they may repay Gibeah of Benjamin, for all the outrage that they have committed in Israel.” <sup>11</sup>So all the men of Israel gathered against the city, united as one man.

<sup>12</sup>And the tribes of Israel sent men through all the tribe of Benjamin, saying, “What evil is this that has taken place among you? <sup>13</sup>†Now therefore give up the men, the worthless fellows in Gibeah, that we may put them to death and purge evil from Israel.” But the Benjaminites would not listen to the voice of their brothers, the people of Israel. <sup>14</sup>Then the people of Benjamin came together out of the cities to Gibeah to go out to battle against the people of Israel. <sup>15</sup>And the people of Benjamin mustered out of their cities on that day 26,000 men who drew the sword, besides the inhabitants of Gibeah, who mustered 700 chosen men. <sup>16</sup>Among all these were 700 chosen men who were left-handed; every one could sling a stone at a hair and not miss. <sup>17</sup>And the men of Israel, apart from Benjamin, mustered 400,000 men who drew the sword; all these were men of war.

<sup>18</sup>†The people of Israel arose and went up to Bethel and inquired of God, “Who shall go up first for us to fight against the people of Benjamin?” And the LORD said, “Judah shall go up first.”

<sup>19</sup>Then the people of Israel rose in the morning and encamped against Gibeah. <sup>20</sup>And the men of Israel went out to fight against Benjamin, and the men of Israel drew up the battle line against them at Gibeah. <sup>21</sup>The people of Benjamin came out of Gibeah and destroyed on that day 22,000 men of the Israelites. <sup>22</sup>†But the people, the men of Israel, took courage, and again formed the battle line in the same place where they had formed it on the first day. <sup>23</sup>And the people of Israel went up and wept before the LORD until the evening. And they inquired of the LORD, “Shall we again draw near to fight against our brothers, the people of Benjamin?” And the LORD said, “Go up against them.”

<sup>29</sup>So Israel set men in ambush around Gibeah. <sup>30</sup>And the people of Israel went up against the people of Benjamin on the third day and set themselves in array against Gibeah, as at other times. <sup>31</sup>And the people of Benjamin went out against the people and were drawn away from the city. And as at other times they began to strike and kill some of the people in the highways, one of which goes up to Bethel and the other to Gibeah, and in the open country, about thirty men of Israel. <sup>32</sup>†And the people of Benjamin said, “They are routed before us, as at the first.” But the people of Israel said, “Let us flee and draw them away from the city to the highways.” <sup>33</sup>And all the men of Israel rose up out of their place and set themselves in array at Baal-tamar, and the men of Israel who were in ambush rushed out of their place from Maareh-geba. [1] <sup>34</sup>And there came against Gibeah 10,000 chosen men out of all Israel, and the battle was hard, but the Benjaminites did not know that disaster was close upon them. <sup>35</sup>And the LORD defeated Benjamin before Israel, and the people of Israel destroyed 25,100 men of Benjamin that day. All these were men who drew the sword. <sup>36</sup>So the people of Benjamin saw that they were defeated.

The men of Israel gave ground to Benjamin, because they trusted the men in ambush whom they had set against Gibeah. <sup>37</sup>Then the men in ambush hurried and rushed against Gibeah; the men in ambush moved out and struck all the city with the edge of the sword. <sup>38</sup>Now the appointed signal between the men of Israel and the men in the main ambush was that when they made a great cloud of smoke rise up out of the city <sup>39</sup>the men of Israel should turn in battle. Now Benjamin had begun to strike and kill about thirty men of Israel. They said, “Surely they are defeated before us, as in the first battle.” <sup>40</sup>But when the signal began to rise out of the city in a column of smoke, the Benjaminites looked behind them, and behold, the whole of the city went up in smoke to heaven. <sup>41</sup>Then the men of Israel turned, and the men of Benjamin were dismayed, for they saw that disaster was close upon them. <sup>42</sup>Therefore they turned their backs before the men of Israel in the direction of the wilderness, but the battle overtook them. And those who came out of the cities were destroying them in their midst. <sup>43</sup>Surrounding the Benjaminites, they pursued them and trod them down from Nohah [2] as far as opposite Gibeah on the east. <sup>44</sup>Eighteen thousand men of Benjamin fell, all of them men of valor. <sup>45</sup>And they turned and fled toward the wilderness to the rock of Rimmon. Five thousand men of them were cut down in the highways. And they were pursued hard to Gidom, and 2,000 men of them were struck down. <sup>46</sup>† So all who fell that day of Benjamin were 25,000 men who drew the sword, all of them men of valor. <sup>47</sup>† But 600 men turned and fled toward the wilderness to the rock of Rimmon and remained at the rock of Rimmon four months. <sup>48</sup>And the men of Israel turned back against the people of Benjamin and struck them with the edge of the sword, the city, men and beasts and all that they found. And all the towns that they found they set on fire.

Wives Provided for the Tribe of Benjamin

JUDGES 21 † Now the men of Israel had sworn at Mizpah, “No one of us shall give his daughter in marriage to Benjamin.”<sup>2</sup> And the people came to Bethel and sat there till evening before God, and they lifted up their voices and wept bitterly.<sup>3</sup> And they said, “O LORD, the God of Israel, why has this happened in Israel, that today there should be one tribe lacking in Israel?”<sup>4</sup> And the next day the people rose early and built there an altar and offered burnt offerings and peace offerings.<sup>5</sup> And the people of Israel said, “Which of all the tribes of Israel did not come up in the assembly to the LORD?” For they had taken a great oath concerning him who did not come up to the LORD to Mizpah, saying, “He shall surely be put to death.”<sup>6</sup> And the people of Israel had compassion for Benjamin their brother and said, “One tribe is cut off from Israel this day.<sup>7</sup> What shall we do for wives for those who are left, since we have sworn by the LORD that we will not give them any of our daughters for wives?”

<sup>8</sup> † And they said, “What one is there of the tribes of Israel that did not come up to the LORD to Mizpah?” And behold, no one had come to the camp from Jabesh-gilead, to the assembly.<sup>9</sup> For when the people were mustered, behold, not one of the inhabitants of Jabesh-gilead was there.<sup>10</sup> So the congregation sent 12,000 of their bravest men there and commanded them, “Go and strike the inhabitants of Jabesh-gilead with the edge of the sword; also the women and the little ones.<sup>11</sup> This is what you shall do: every male and every woman that has lain with a male you shall devote to destruction.”<sup>12</sup> And they found among the inhabitants of Jabesh-gilead 400 young virgins who had not known a man by lying with him, and they brought them to the camp at Shiloh, which is in the land of Canaan.

<sup>13</sup> Then the whole congregation sent word to the people of Benjamin who were at the rock of Rimmon and proclaimed peace to them.<sup>14</sup> And Benjamin returned at that time. And they gave them the women whom they had saved alive of the women of Jabesh-gilead, but they were not enough for them.<sup>15</sup> And the people had compassion on Benjamin because the LORD had made a breach in the tribes of Israel.

<sup>16</sup> † Then the elders of the congregation said, “What shall we do for wives for those who are left, since the women are destroyed out of Benjamin?”<sup>17</sup> And they said, “There must be an inheritance for the survivors of Benjamin, that a tribe not be blotted out from Israel. <sup>18</sup>Yet we cannot give them wives from our daughters.” For the people of Israel had sworn, “Cursed be he who gives a wife to Benjamin.” <sup>19</sup>So they said, “Behold, there is the yearly feast of the LORD at Shiloh, which is north of Bethel, on the east of the highway that goes up from Bethel to Shechem, and south of Lebonah.” <sup>20</sup>And they commanded the people of Benjamin, saying, “Go and lie in ambush in the vineyards <sup>21</sup>and watch. If the daughters of Shiloh come out to dance in the dances, then come out of the vineyards and snatch each man his wife from the daughters of Shiloh, and go to the land of Benjamin. <sup>22</sup>And when their fathers or their brothers come to complain to us, we will say to them, ‘Grant them graciously to us, because we did not take for each man of them his wife in battle, neither did you give them to them, else you would now be guilty.’” <sup>23</sup>And the people of Benjamin did so and took their wives, according to their number, from the dancers whom they carried off. Then they went and returned to their inheritance and rebuilt the towns and lived in them. <sup>24</sup>And the people of Israel departed from there at that time, every man to his tribe and family, and they went out from there every man to his inheritance.

<sup>25</sup>† In those days there was no king in Israel. Everyone did what was right in his own eyes.

Study Notes

JUDGES—NOTE ON 1:1 After the death of Joshua. C. 1383 B.C. (cf. Josh. 14:7–10 with Josh. 24:29). Descriptions of the book’s setting in Judg. 1–2 vary between times after Joshua’s death and flashbacks summarizing conditions while he was alive (as 2:2–6). Compare Josh. 1:1, “After the death of Moses . . .”

JUDGES—NOTE ON 1:2 Judah shall go up. This tribe received God’s first go-ahead to push for a more thorough conquest of its territory. The reason probably lay in God’s choice that Judah be the leader among the tribes (Gen. 49:8–12; 1 Chron. 5:1–2) and set the example for them in the other territories.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 1:6–7 cut off his thumbs and his big toes. Removing the king’s thumbs hampered effective use of a weapon; taking off his big toes rendered footing unreliable in battle. The Lord himself is nowhere said to endorse this tactic, but it was an act of retributive justice for what Adoni-bezek had done to others. It appears from his confession that he was acknowledging he deserved it.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 1:12–15 Caleb said. This repeats the account of Caleb and his family (cf. Josh. 15:13–19).

JUDGES—NOTE ON 1:16 the city of palms. Since Jericho was destroyed in the invasion, this refers to the area around Jericho, an oasis of springs and palms (Deut. 34:3).

JUDGES—NOTE ON 1:19 he could not drive out. “He,” Judah, could not. They had been promised by Joshua that they could conquer the lowland (Josh. 17:16–18) and should have remembered Josh. 11:4–9. This is a recurring failure among the tribes to rise to full trust and obedience for victory by God’s power. Compromising for less than what God was able to give (Josh. 1:6–9) began even in Joshua’s day (Judg. 2:2–6) and earlier (Num. 13–14). In another sense, God permitted enemies to hold out as a test to display whether his people would obey him (2:20–23; 3:1, 4). Another factor involved keeping the wild animal count from rising too fast (Deut. 7:22).

JUDGES—NOTE ON 1:20 sons of Anak. Anak was an early inhabitant of central Canaan near Hebron from whom came an entire group of unusually tall people called the Anakim (Deut. 2:10). They frightened the 10 spies (Num. 13:33; Deut. 9:2), but were finally driven out of the land by Caleb (Josh. 14:12–15; 15:13–14; 21:11) with the exception of some who resettled with the Philistines (Josh. 11:22). “The sons of Anak” was used as a term equivalent to “the Anakim.”

JUDGES—NOTE ON 1:34 Amorites pressed . . . Dan. Like all other tribes, Dan had a territory given them, but they failed to claim the power of God to conquer that territory. Later they capitulated even more by accepting defeat and migrating to another territory in the north, becoming idolatrous (ch. 18).

JUDGES—NOTE ON 2:1 the angel of the Lord. One of three preincarnate theophanies by the Lord Jesus Christ in Judges (cf. 6:11–18; 13:3–23). This same Divine Messenger had earlier led Israel out of Egypt (cf. Ex. 14:19). See note on Ex. 3:2. I will never break my covenant with you. God would be faithful until the end, but the people would forfeit blessing for trouble, due to their disobedience (cf. Judg. 2:3).

JUDGES—NOTE ON 2:10 another generation . . . did not know. The first people in the land had vivid recollections of all the miracles and judgments and were devoted to faith, duty, and purity. The new generation were ignorant of the experiences of their parents and yielded more easily to corruption. To a marked degree the people of this new generation were not true believers, and were not tuned to the God of miracles and victory. Still, many of the judges did genuinely know the Lord, and some who did not live by faith eventually threw themselves on God’s mercy during oppressions.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 2:12 They went after other gods. Idol worship, such as the golden calf in the wilderness (Ex. 32), flared up again. Spurious gods of Canaan were plentiful. El was the supreme Canaanite deity, a god of uncontrolled lust and a bloody tyrant, as shown in writings found at Ras Shamra in north Syria. His name means “strong, powerful.” Baal, son and successor of El, was “lord of heaven,” a farm god of rain and storm, his name meaning “lord, possessor.” His cult at Phoenicia included animal sacrifices, ritual meals, and licentious dances. Chambers catered to sacred prostitution by men and women (cf. 1 Kings 14:23–24; 2 Kings 23:7). Anath, sister-wife of Baal, also called Ashtoreth (Astarte), patroness of sex and war, was called “virgin” and “holy” but was actually a “sacred prostitute.” Many other gods besides these also attracted worship.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 2:14 the anger of the Lord was kindled. Calamities designed as chastisement brought discipline intended to lead the people to repentance.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 2:16 the Lord raised up judges. A “judge” or deliverer was distinct from a judge in the English world today. Such a leader guided military expeditions against foes as here and arbitrated judicial matters (cf. 4:5). There was no succession or national rule. They were local deliverers, lifted up to leadership by God when the deplorable condition of Israel in the region around them prompted God to rescue the people.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 3:1 nations . . . left. The purpose was to use them to test (cf. v. 4) and discipline the sinful Israelites, as well as to aid the young in learning the art of war.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 3:6 See note on 1:19. The Israelites failed God’s test, being enticed into 1) marriages with Canaanites and 2) worship of their gods. Disobedience was repeated frequently through the centuries, and led God to use the Assyrians (2 Kings 17) and Babylonians (2 Kings 24–25) to expel them from the land gained here.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 3:10 The Spirit of the Lord was upon him. Certain judges were expressly said to have the Spirit of the Lord come upon them (6:34; 11:29; 13:25; 14:6, 19; 15:14); others apparently also had this experience. This is a common OT expression signifying a unique act of God that conferred power and wisdom for victory. But this did not guarantee that the will of God would be done in absolutely all details, as is apparent in Gideon (8:24–27, 30), Jephthah (11:34–40), and Samson (16:1).

JUDGES—NOTE ON 3:20 “I have a message from God for you.” Ehud claimed he came to do God’s will in answer to prayer (v. 15). Calmly and confidently, Ehud acted and later credited the defeat of the wicked king to God (v. 28; cf. Ps. 75:6–10; Dan. 4:25), though it was by means of Ehud, as Jael used her way (Judg. 4:21) and Israel’s armies used the sword (4:16). By God’s power, Ehud’s army would slay a greater number (3:29). Men’s evil provokes God’s judgment (Lev. 18:25).

JUDGES—NOTE ON 3:24 “he is relieving himself.” The dead king’s servants guessed he was indisposed in privacy, lit., “covering his feet,” a euphemism for bathroom functions.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 3:31 Shamgar. His extraordinary exploit causes one to think of Samson (15:16). an oxgoad. This was a stout stick about 8–10 feet long and 6 inches around, with a sharp metal tip to prod or turn oxen. The other end was a flat, curved blade for cleaning a plow.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 4:4 Deborah, a prophetess. She was an unusual woman of wisdom and influence who did the tasks of a judge, except for military leadership. God can use women mightily for civil, religious, or other tasks, e.g., Huldah the prophetess (2 Kings 22:14), Philip’s daughters in prophesying (Acts 21:8–9), and Phoebe a deaconess (Rom. 16:1). Deborah’s rise to such a role is the exception in the book because of Barak’s failure to show the courage to lead courageously (Judg. 4:8, 14). God rebuked his cowardice by the pledge that a woman would slay Sisera (v. 9).

JUDGES—NOTE ON 4:11 Hobab the father-in-law of Moses. Num. 10:29 indicates that Reuel (elsewhere called Jethro, cf. Ex. 3:1) is Moses’ father-in-law and Hobab is Reuel’s son. Both “father-in-law” and “brother-in-law” have the same three consonants in Hebrew and, therefore, here would be better translated “Hobab the brother-in-law of Moses.”

JUDGES—NOTE ON 4:19–20 she . . . gave him a drink . . . covered him. Usually, this was the strongest pledge of protection possible.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 4:21 a tent peg, and . . . a hammer. Jael’s bold stroke in a tent rather than on a battlefield draws Deborah’s and Barak’s praise (5:24–27). Her strength and skill had no doubt been toughened by a common Bedouin duty of hammering down pegs to secure tents, or striking them loose to take down tents.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 5:1 sang . . . on that day. The song (vv. 1–31) was in tribute to God for victory in 4:13–24. Various songs praise God for his help, e.g., Moses’ (Ex. 15), David’s (2 Sam. 23:1–7), and the Lamb’s (Rev. 15:3–4).

JUDGES—NOTE ON 5:10 white donkeys. Because of this unusual color, they were a prize of kings and the rich.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 5:11 To the sound of musicians at the watering places. The wells were at a little distance from towns in the east, away from the battles and often places for pleasant reflection.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 5:14 root . . . into the valley. The Hebrew reads, “in Amalek” (esv footnote). Ephraim as a tribe took the central hill area, which the Amalekites had held with deep roots (see 12:15).

JUDGES—NOTE ON 5:17 Dan, why did he stay with the ships? Danites migrated from their territory to Laish north of the Lake of Chinneroth (Sea of Galilee) before the Israelite triumph of ch. 4, though details of it are not given until ch. 18. They became involved with Phoenicians of the northwest in ship commerce (cf. Joppa as a coastal city, Josh. 19:46). As with some other tribes, they failed to make the trek to assist in the battle of Judg. 4.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 5:20 stars fought. A poetic way to say that God used these heavenly bodies to help Israel. They are bodies representing and synonymous with the heavens, the sky from which he sent a powerful storm and flood (cf. “torrent” of the Kishon River, v. 21) that swept Syrians from their chariots. God also hid the stars by clouds, increasing Syrian ineffectiveness.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 5:24–27 Though this act was murder and a breach of honor, likely motivated by her desire for favor with the conquering Israelites, and though it was without regard for God on her part, God’s overruling providence caused great blessing to flow from it. Thus the words of vv. 24–27 in the victory song.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 5:31 The intercessory prayer committed to God’s will ends a song that has other aspects: blessing God (v. 2), praise (v. 3), affirming God’s work in tribute (vv. 4, 20), and voicing God’s curse (v. 23).

JUDGES—NOTE ON 6:1 Midian. These wandering herdsmen from east of the Red Sea had been dealt a severe blow in Moses’ time (Num. 31:1–18) and still resented the Israelites. They became the worst scourge yet to afflict Israel.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 6:8 the Lord sent a prophet. He used prophets in isolated cases before Samuel, the band of prophets Samuel probably founded (1 Sam. 10:5), and later such prophets as Elijah, Elisha, and the writing prophets—major and minor. Here the prophet is sent to bring the divine curse because of their infidelity (Judg. 6:10).

JUDGES—NOTE ON 6:11 the angel. This angel (lit., “messenger”) of the Lord is identified as “the Lord” himself (vv. 14, 16, 23, 25, 27). Cf. Gen. 16:7–14; 18:1; 32:24–30 for other appearances. See note on Ex. 3:2. Gideon was beating out wheat in the winepress to hide it. This indicated a situation of serious distress; also it indicated a small amount of grain. This is clear because he is doing it rather than having cattle tread it. It is on bare ground or in the winepress rather than on a threshing floor made of wood, and is done remotely under a tree out of view. The fear of the Midianites caused this.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 6:13 Gideon’s language here indicates a weak theology. The very chastisements of God were proof of his care for and presence with Israel.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 6:17 Like Moses (Ex. 33), Gideon desired a sign; in both incidents revelation was so rare and wickedness so prevalent that they desired full assurance. God graciously gave it.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 6:18–23 In the realization of the presence of God, the sensitive sinner is conscious of great guilt. Fire from God further filled Gideon with awe and even the fear of death. When he saw the Lord, he knew the Lord had also seen him in his fallenness. Thus he feared the death that sinners should die before Holy God. But God graciously promised life (v. 23). For a similar reaction to the presence of God, see Manoah in 13:22–23 (cf. Ezek. 1:26–28; Isa. 6:1–9; Rev. 1:17).

JUDGES—NOTE ON 6:27 was too afraid. Very real human fear and wise precaution interplay with trust in an all-sufficient God.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 6:32 Jerubbaal (lit., “let Baal contend”) became a fitting and honorable second name for Gideon (7:1; 8:29; 9:1–2). This was a bold rebuke to the nonexistent deity, who was utterly unable to respond.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 6:36–40 Gideon’s two requests for signs in the fleece should be viewed as weak faith; even Gideon recognized this when he said, “Let not your anger burn against me” (v. 39) since God had already specifically promised his presence and victory (vv. 12, 14, 16). But they were also legitimate requests for confirmation of victory against seemingly impossible odds (6:5; 7:2, 12). God nowhere reprimanded Gideon, but was very compassionate in giving what his inadequacy requested. In 7:10–15, God volunteered a sign to boost Gideon’s faith. He should have believed God’s promise in 7:9 but needed bolstering, so God graciously gave it without chastisement.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 7:2 The people . . . are too many. Those of faith, though inadequate by human weakness, gain victory only through God’s power (cf. 2 Cor. 3:5; 4:7; 12:7–9). Three hundred men win against an incredible Midianite host (Judg. 7:7, 16–25). God gains the glory by making the outcome conspicuously his act, and no sinful pride is cultivated.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 7:5 Every one who lapped. Soldiers who lapped as a dog, scooping water with their hands as a dog uses its tongue, were chosen; while those who sank to their knees to drink were rejected. No reason for such distinction is given, so that it showed nothing about their ability as soldiers. It was merely a way to divide the crowd. Their abilities as soldiers had no bearing on the victory anyway since the enemy soldiers killed themselves and fled without engaging Gideon's men at all.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 7:10 if you are afraid. God sensitively recognized Gideon's normal fear since he was the commander. God encouraged him to take his servant as protection. See note on 6:36–40.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 7:15 Arise. God said this in v. 9. Infused with courage, Gideon is in step with the Lord.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 7:16 Trumpets and torches at first concealed within clay pitchers were suddenly displayed at the most startling moment. The impression caused by blaring noise, the always terrible shouts of Israel (cf. Num. 23:21), and sudden lights surrounding the sleeping hosts and shattering the stillness conveyed one idea: Each light could mean a legion behind it, so that they believed an incredible host had moved in to catch the awaking army in a death trap.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 7:19 beginning . . . middle watch. About 10 P.M.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 7:20 A sword for the Lord and for Gideon! Here was the power of God in harmony with the obedience of man. Such shouts reminded the enemies that the threat of the sword of Gideon and of God was for real. The impression was one of doom and terror.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 7:22 every man's sword against his comrade. Panic followed shock. Every soldier was on his own, in desperate retreat. In the darkness and crash of sounds the soldiers were unable to distinguish friend from enemy, and with their swords they slashed a path of escape through their own men.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 8:2 gleaning of the grapes of Ephraim. Ephraim resented being slighted in the call to battle but was placated by Gideon's compliment. His figures of speech implied that Ephraimite capital punishment of the two fleeing Midianite leaders (7:25) was "the vintage of Ephraim," to use an image drawn from their grape horticulture. It played a more strategic role than taking part in "the vintage of Abiezer," the suicide of the enemy under Gideon's leadership (cf. 8:3).

JUDGES—NOTE ON 8:7 thorns. Gideon's threatened discipline of Succoth's leaders for refusing to help their brothers came due. He had them dragged under heavy weights over thorns and briars, which painfully tore their bodies. This was a cruel torture to which ancient captives were often subjected. He did it on his return, not wanting to delay the pursuit (v. 16).

JUDGES—NOTE ON 8:9 tower. They probably had defiantly boasted of their strength and defensibility because of the tower. He kept his promise and more (v. 17).

JUDGES—NOTE ON 8:20 Jether . . . kill them. Gideon desired to place a great honor on his son by killing the enemies of Israel and of God.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 8:21 killed Zebah and Zalmunna. The earlier Midianite scourge inflicted on Israel was the worst, so this victory lived long in their minds (cf. Ps. 83:11).

JUDGES—NOTE ON 8:22–23 Rule over us. Israelites sinned by the misguided motive and request that Gideon reign as king. To his credit, the leader declined, insisting that God alone rule (cf. Ex. 19:5–6).

JUDGES—NOTE ON 8:24 Ishmaelites. Synonymous with Midianites (cf. Gen. 37:25–28).

JUDGES—NOTE ON 8:24–27 Gideon made an ephod. This was certainly a sad end to Gideon's influence as he, perhaps in an expression of pride, sought to lift himself up in the eyes of the people. Gideon intended nothing more than to make a breastpiece as David did (1 Chron. 15:27) to indicate civil, not priestly rule. It was never intended to set up idolatrous worship, but to be a symbol of civil power. That no evil was intended can be noted from the subduing of Midian (Judg. 8:28), quietness from wars (v. 28), and the fact that idolatry came after Gideon's death (v. 33) as well as the commendation of Gideon (v. 35).

JUDGES—NOTE ON 8:26 the weight of the golden earrings. The total was about 42 pounds.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 8:30–31 many wives. Gideon fell severely into the sin of polygamy, an iniquity tolerated by many but which never was God’s blueprint for marriage (Gen. 2:24). Abimelech, a son by yet another illicit relationship, grew up to be the wretched king in Judg. 9. Polygamy always resulted in trouble.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 9:5 killed . . . brothers. This atrocity, common in ancient times, eliminated the greatest threat in the revolution—all the legitimate competitors.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 9:6 Beth-millo. Lit., “house of the fortress.” This was a section of Shechem, probably involving the tower stronghold of v. 46.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 9:14 You come and reign over us. In Jotham’s parable of trees asking for a king (vv. 7–15), the olive, fig, and vine decline. They do not represent specific men who declined, rather they build the suspense and heighten the idea that the bramble (thornbush) is inferior and unsuitable. The bush represents Abimelech (vv. 6, 16).

JUDGES—NOTE ON 9:23 God sent an evil spirit. In the course of God’s providence, there appeared jealousy, distrust, and hate. God allowed it to work as punishment for the idolatry and mass murder.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 9:26–45 A failed coup.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 9:37 Diviners’ Oak. A tree regarded superstitiously where mystical ceremonies and soothsaying were done.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 9:45 sowed it with salt. An act polluting soil and water, as well as symbolizing a verdict of permanent barrenness (Deut. 29:23; Jer. 17:6). Abimelech’s intent finally was nullified when Jeroboam I rebuilt the city as his capital (1 Kings 12:25), c. 930–910 B.C.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 9:57 That curse was pronounced in v. 20 for the pervasive idolatry.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 10:3–5 Most likely, the judgeship of Jair was the time period of Ruth.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 10:10 We have sinned. Confession is followed by true repentance (vv. 15–16).

JUDGES—NOTE ON 10:13–14 Here is the form of God’s wrath, by which he abandons persistent, willful sinners to the consequences of their sins. This aspect of divine judgment is referred to in the case of Samson (16:20), as well as the warnings of Prov. 1:20–31 and Rom. 1:24–28. It is a pattern of rejection seen throughout history (cf. Acts 14:15–16) even among the Jews (cf. Hos. 4:17; Matt. 15:14).

JUDGES—NOTE ON 10:15 do to us whatever seems good. Genuine repentance acknowledges God’s right to chasten, so his punishment is seen as just and he is thereby glorified. It also seeks the remediation that chastening brings, because genuine contrition pursues holiness.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 11:1 mighty warrior. In a military situation, this means a strong, adept warrior, such as Gideon (6:12). In response to their repentance, God raised up Jephthah to lead the Israelites to freedom from the 18 years of oppression (11:8).

JUDGES—NOTE ON 11:3 went out. Such attacks would be against the Ammonites and other pagan peoples and brought fame to Jephthah.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 11:11 spoke . . . before the Lord. Refers to confirming the agreement in a solemn public meeting with prayer, invoking God as witness (v. 10).

JUDGES—NOTE ON 11:13 Israel . . . took away my land. The Ammonite ruler was claiming rights to the lands occupied by the Israelites. Jephthah’s answer was direct: 1) those lands were not in the possession of Ammonites when Israel took them, but were Amorite lands; 2) Israel had been there 300 years in undisputed possession; 3) God had chosen to give them the lands, and thus they were entitled to them, just as the Ammonites felt they received their lands from their god (cf. v. 24).

JUDGES—NOTE ON 11:15 Israel did not take away the land. These people initiated the hostility, and being at fault, invited loss of possession (vv. 16–22). This fit perfectly the will of God, who has ultimate rights (cf. Gen. 1:1; Ps. 24:1) to give the land to Israel.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 11:26 300 years. With an early exodus from Egypt (c. 1445 B.C.), one can approximate the 480 years covered in Judges to 1 Kings 6:1, Solomon’s fourth year 967/966 B.C.: 38 from the exodus to Heshbon; 300 from Heshbon to Jephthah in Judg. 11:26; possibly seven more years for Jephthah; 40 for Samson, 20 for Eli, 20 for Samuel, 15–16 beyond Samuel for Saul, 40 for David, and four for Solomon, which totals about 480 years. It is quite possible that 300 has been rounded off.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 11:29 the Spirit . . . was upon Jephthah. That the Lord graciously empowered Jephthah for war on behalf of his people does not mean that all of the warrior’s decisions were of God’s wisdom. The rash vow (vv. 30–31) is an example.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 11:30 made a vow to the Lord. This was a custom among generals to promise the god of their worship something of great value as a reward for that god’s giving them victory.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 11:31 I will offer it. Some interpreters reason that Jephthah offered his daughter as a living sacrifice in perpetual virginity. With this idea, v. 31 is made to mean “shall be the Lord’s” or “I will offer it up as a burnt offering.” The view sees only perpetual virginity in vv. 37–40, and rejects his offering a human sacrifice as being against God’s revealed will (Deut. 12:31). On the other hand, since he was 1) beyond the Jordan, 2) far from the tabernacle, 3) a hypocrite in religious devotion, 4) familiar with human sacrifice among other nations, 5) influenced by such superstition, and 6) wanting victory badly, he likely meant a burnt offering. The translation in Judg. 11:31 is “and,” not “or.” His act came in an era of bizarre things, even inconsistency by leaders whom God otherwise empowered (cf. Gideon in 8:27).

JUDGES—NOTE ON 11:34 his daughter came out to meet him. She was thus to be the sacrificed pledge.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 11:35 Alas. Here is indicated the pain felt by her father in having to take the life of his only daughter to satisfy his pious but unwise pledge.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 12:1 Why did you . . . fight . . . did not call us . . . ?

Ephraim's newest threat (cf. 8:1) was their jealousy of Jephthah's success and possibly a lust to share in his spoils. The threat was not only to burn the house, but to burn him.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 12:4 fugitives. Here was a mockery referring to the Gileadites as low lifes, the outcasts of Ephraim. They retaliated with battle.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 12:6 Shibboleth. The method used for discovering an Ephraimite was the way in which they pronounced this word. If they mispronounced it by an “s” rather than “sh” sound, it gave them away, being a unique indicator of their dialect.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 12:9 thirty sons. Very large families suggest the father's marriage to several wives, a part of life tolerated but never matching God's blueprint of one wife at a time (Gen. 2:24). To have many children had the lure of extending one's human power and influence.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 13:3 the angel of the Lord. In this case, it was a preincarnate appearance of the Lord himself (vv. 6–22), as elsewhere (see note on 6:11). See note on Ex. 3:2.

The Judges of Israel

c. 1375–1050/1210–1050 B.C.

The judges came from various tribes and regions of Israel, and they likely held varying degrees of influence over their neighboring regions and tribes.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 13:5 Nazirite. The word is from the Hebrew “to separate.” For rigid Nazirite restrictions, such as here in Samson’s case, see note on Num. 6:2. God gave two restrictions: no wine (Judg. 13:4) and no razor cutting the hair (v. 5). An additional restriction for a Nazirite was not to touch a dead body (Num. 6:6). Such outward actions indicated an inner dedication to God.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 13:16 offer it to the Lord. Manoah needed this explanation because he was going to offer this to him, not as the Lord himself, or even an angel, but just a human messenger. The instruction is intended to emphasize that this visitor is indeed the Lord.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 13:17 What is your name . . . ? This secret name is again indicative that the angel is the Lord.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 13:18 Why do you ask my name . . . ? That the angel would not divulge his name reminds one of the angel (God) whom Jacob encountered (Gen. 32:24–30), who likewise did not give his name.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 13:20 flame went up toward heaven. This miraculous act points to divine acceptance of the offering.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 13:22 We shall surely die. This reaction of the fear of death is familiar with those who come into God's presence. Many did die when facing God, as the OT records. It is the terror in the heart of the sinner when in the presence of holy God. Cf. Ezekiel (Ezek. 1:28), Isaiah (Isa. 6:5), the 12 (Mark 4:35–41), Peter (Luke 5:8), and John (Rev. 1:17–18).

JUDGES—NOTE ON 14:1–4 she is right in my eyes. The Philistines were not among the seven nations of Canaan which Israel was specifically forbidden to marry. Nonetheless Samson's choice was seriously weak. Samson sins here, but God is sovereign and was able to turn the situation to please him (v. 14). He was not at a loss, but used the opportunity to work against the wicked Philistines and provided gracious help to his people. He achieved destruction of these people, not by an army, but by the miraculous power of one man.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 14:7 talked. Such conversation was not acceptable in the east, unless a couple was betrothed.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 14:8 to take her. Usually a year until the wedding.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 14:9 He scraped it out into his hands. Some scholars suggest that Samson violated his Nazirite standard by coming in contact with a dead body (see note on 13:5). Others reason that Num. 6 specifies the body of a person, not an animal. Whether or not he sinned here, the context does show instances of him sinning.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 14:10 feast. The wedding feast usually lasted a week.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 14:16–18 Samson’s wife wept. She cheated and manipulated, working against Samson’s expectations that the men must come up with the answer. The men also cheated and threatened, having murder in their hearts (v. 15) and putting pressure on the woman.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 14:19 hot anger. God blesses the one who had been wronged. Samson’s anger may be legitimate—righteous indignation against deceit (cf. Mark 3:5). The battle with the men at Ashkelon, about 23 miles away, was a part of the war between Israel and Philistia.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 14:20 Samson’s wife was given. Another act of treachery was done. The Philistine father had no reason to assume that Samson would not be back, nor had Samson given word about not returning. He, as a Philistine, did not want his daughter marrying the enemy.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 15:1 wheat harvest. Samson tactfully made his move when wheat harvest kept men busy. This was probably around May. A token of reconciliation was offered as he brought a young goat, showing the father and the daughter that they had nothing to fear.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 15:2 I . . . thought. This flimsy excuse by the father was an effort to escape the trap he was in. He feared the Philistines if he turned on the new husband, yet feared Samson, so he offered his second daughter as a way out. This was insulting and unlawful (cf. Lev. 18:18).

JUDGES—NOTE ON 15:3 The cycle of retaliation began, and it ends in 16:30–31.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 15:4 caught 300 foxes. Samson, insulted and provoked to fleshly resentment, took vengeance on the Philistines. It must have taken a while to catch so many foxes or jackals and to keep them penned and fed until the number reached 300. Apparently he tied them in pairs with a slow-burning torch, sending the pairs down the hills into fields thrashing with fire, igniting all the standing grain so dry at harvest. This was a loss of great proportion to the Philistine farmers.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 15:6 the Philistines . . . burned her and her father. The general principle of reaping what is sown is apropos here (cf. Gal. 6:7).

JUDGES—NOTE ON 15:15 struck 1,000 men. Cf. 3:31. God gave miraculous power to Samson for destruction, but also to show fearful Israelites (15:11) that he was with them, despite their lack of trust.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 15:19 water came out. God worked a miracle of supplying a spring in response to Samson’s prayerful cry in thirst. He called the place “the spring of him who called” (see esv footnote; cf. Jer. 33:3).

JUDGES—NOTE ON 16:1–3 God was merciful in allowing Samson to be delivered from this iniquity, but chastening was only postponed. Sin blinds and later grinds (v. 21).

JUDGES—NOTE ON 16:3 hill . . . in front of Hebron. This place was about 38 miles from Gaza.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 16:4 loved . . . Delilah. His weakness for women of low character and Philistine loyalty reappeared (cf. Prov. 6:27–28). He erred continually by going to her daily (Judg. 16:16), allowing himself to be entrapped in her deceptions.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 16:5 1,100 pieces of silver. Since there were five rulers of the Philistines, each giving that amount, this was a large sum.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 16:7 Samson said. Samson played a lying game and gave away his manhood, here a little, there a little. He also played with giving away his secret—and finally gave it up, i.e., “told her all” (v. 17). He could be bought for a price, and Delilah paid it. Compare Esau selling his birthright (Gen. 25:29–33) and Judas denying Jesus (Matt. 26:14–16).

JUDGES—NOTE ON 16:11 new ropes. Cf. 15:13.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 16:17 If my head is shaved. His strength came from his unique relation to God, based on his Nazirite pledge. His long hair was only a sign of it. When Delilah became more important to him than God, his strength was removed.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 16:20 he did not know that the Lord had left him. Here was the tragedy of the wrath of abandonment. His sin had caused him to forfeit the power of God’s presence. This principle is seen in Gen. 6:3; Prov. 1:24–31; Matt. 15:14; Rom. 1:24–32. See note on Judg. 10:13–14.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 16:21 Gaza. The last town encountered in southwest Palestine as a traveler went from Jerusalem toward Egypt, near the coast. It was nearly 40 miles from Samson's birthplace, Zorah. There he was humiliated.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 16:22 hair . . . began to grow. His hair grew with his repentance, and his strength with his hair.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 16:23 Dagon. He was a sea-god, an idol with the head of a man and the body of a fish.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 16:24 they praised their god. It is tragic when a person's sin contributes to the unsaved community giving praise to a false god, for God alone is worthy of praise.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 16:28 remember me. A prayer of repentance and trust pours from Samson.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 16:29–30 Some Philistine temples had roofs overlooking a courtyard, above wooden columns planted on stone foundations. The central pillars were set close to furnish extra support for the roof. Here the victory celebration and taunts flung at the prisoner below drew a big crowd. The full strength of Samson, renewed by God, enabled him to buckle the columns. As a result, the roof collapsed and the victory was Israel's, not Philistia's. He died for the cause of his country and his God. He was not committing suicide, but rather bringing God's judgment on his enemies and willing to leave his own life or death to God. He was the greatest champion of all Israel, yet a man of passion capable of severe sin. Still, he is in the list of the faithful (cf. Heb. 11:32).

JUDGES—NOTE ON 17:1 Chapters 17–21 give miscellaneous appendixes to illustrate the pervasively depraved conditions in the era of the judges.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 17:5 Micah had a shrine. A counterfeit shrine and personal idols with a private priest is set up within the tribe of Ephraim (v. 1), whereas God's priests were of the tribe of Levi (cf. v. 13). The defection is one example of personal and family idolatry.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 17:6 Everyone did . . . own eyes. This is the general characterization of the time, and of sinful behavior in all times. This attitude had been mentioned much earlier in Israel's history (cf. Deut. 12:8; Judg. 21:25).

JUDGES—NOTE ON 17:7–13 a Levite. He compromised in departing from one of the 48 cities God gave for Levite service to Israel (Josh. 21). Then he sinned grossly by prostituting himself as a priest in a private idolatry.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 18:2 On the migration by the tribe of Dan to a new territory, see note on 1:34. Dan was an example of tribal idolatry.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 18:5 Inquire of God, please. The passage does not say if the Levite did in fact seek God’s counsel before giving reassurance (v. 6); the Danites should have prayed to seek God’s counsel before making this trip or consulting a disobedient priest as one would an oracle.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 18:7 Laish. Known also as Leshem (cf. Josh. 19:47), this was a secluded, rich land.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 18:14–26 The Danites sinfully seized the idols of Micah by force, probably because they believed those false idols were the source of power to give them the land they had spied. The apostate Levite who had served Micah as priest, named Jonathan, sold out again to be a priest for the Danites (vv. 18–20, 30), who were not bothered by his defection, but rather believed in his spiritual power.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 18:29 named the city Dan. This was in the northernmost extremity of the land of Canaan, hence the origin of the phrase, “from Dan to Beersheba,” as indicating the land from north to south (cf. 20:1).

JUDGES—NOTE ON 18:30 son of Moses. Some manuscripts say “son of Manasseh” (see esv footnote), others “son of Moses,” which may be more probable as Gershom was a son of Moses (Ex. 2:22; 18:3). This idolatrous priestly service continued until the captivity. This is most likely 1) the captivity of Israel by Assyria in 722 B.C. (2 Kings 15:29; 17:1–6), or possibly 2) the Philistine captivity of the ark from Shiloh (see Judg. 18:31) in 1 Sam. 4:11.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 18:31 the house of God was at Shiloh. The ark of God was far away from them, so they justified their idolatry by their distance from the rest of Israel. This caused perpetual idolatry for many generations.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 19:1–10 Here is an example of the kind of personal immorality that went on during this era.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 19:1 concubine. Priests could marry (Lev. 21:7, 13–14).

Though a concubine wife (usually a slave) was culturally legal, the practice was not acceptable to God (Gen. 2:24).

JUDGES—NOTE ON 19:2 unfaithful. She should have been killed as the law required and could have been if there was a devotion to holiness and obedience to Scripture (cf. Lev. 20:10). A priest was not allowed to marry a harlot (Lev. 21:14), so his ministry was greatly tainted. Yet, he made little of her sin and separation and sought her back sympathetically (Judg. 19:3).

JUDGES—NOTE ON 19:10 Jebus. An early title for Jerusalem because of Jebusite control (1:21) until David wrested it away to become his capital (2 Sam. 5:6–9). Another early name for the city was Salem (Gen. 14:18; cf. Ps. 76:2).

JUDGES—NOTE ON 19:12 Gibeah. Jerusalem was still partially out of the control of Israelites. Gibeah was under Israelite control and safer.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 19:15 People of the Benjamite town of Gibeah failed to extend the expected courtesy of a lodging. This opened the door to immorality.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 19:18 going to the house. He was headed for Shiloh to return to priestly duty.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 19:20 night in the square. The old man knew the danger of such a place at night.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 19:22 worthless fellows. Lit., “sons of Belial,” i.e., base and perverse men, who desired to commit sodomy against the Levite. The phrase elsewhere is used for idolaters (Deut. 13:13), neglecters of the poor (Deut. 15:9), drunks (1 Sam. 1:16), immoral people (1 Sam. 2:12), and rebels against the civil authority (2 Sam. 20:1; Prov. 19:28). “Belial” can be traced to the false god Baal, and is also a term for yoke (they cast off the yoke of decency), and a term for entangling or injuring. It is used in the NT of Satan (2 Cor. 6:15).

JUDGES—NOTE ON 19:24 Let me bring them out. The host showed a disgraceful compromise in his exaggerated desire to extend hospitality to his male guest. He should have protected all in his house, and so should the Levite, even at the risk of their own lives in guarding the women. His sad estimate of women was demonstrated by his willingness to hand his daughter or the guest concubine over to indecent men. Lot’s plunge from decency was similar (Gen. 19). Here, repeated rape and finally murder were the pitiful sequel.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 19:25 the man seized his concubine and made her go out to them. This is unthinkable weakness and cowardice for any man, especially a priest of God. Apparently he even slept through the night, or stayed in bed out of fear, since he didn't see her again until he awakened and prepared to leave (cf. v. 28).

JUDGES—NOTE ON 19:29 divided her . . . into twelve pieces. The Levite's bizarre butchery to divide the woman's body into 12 parts was his shocking summons for aroused Israelite redress. No doubt a message went with each part, and the fact that he "sent" assumes messengers (cf. 1 Sam. 11:7). As he calculated, many were incensed and desired to avenge the atrocity (cf. Judg. 20:30). Nothing could have aroused universal indignation and horror more than this radical summons from the Levite.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 20:1 all the people of Israel came out. As a result of this horrible tragedy, a national assembly was convened with people coming from the north (Dan) and the south (Beersheba). as one man to the Lord. This indicated a humble attitude and desire to seek help from God for the nation.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 20:13 the Benjaminites would not listen. They hardened their hearts against the justice and decency of turning over the criminals. Even greatly outnumbered in war, they would not yield to what was right (cf. vv. 15–17). So civil war resulted.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 20:18 inquired of God. The Lord gave his counsel from the location of the ark at Shiloh, probably through the Urim and Thummim (vv. 27–28). The tribe of Judah was responsible to lead in battle since God had chosen a leadership role for that tribe (Gen. 49:8–12; 1 Chron. 5:1–2). See note on Ex. 28:30.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 20:22–25 The Lord twice allowed great defeat and death to Israel to bring them to their spiritual senses regarding the cost of tolerating apostasy. Also, while they sought counsel, they placed too much reliance on their own prowess and on satisfying their own outrage. Finally, when desperate enough, they fasted and offered sacrifices (v. 26). The Lord then gave victory with a strategy similar to that at Ai (Josh. 8).

JUDGES—NOTE ON 20:32 Here was a battle strategy that lured the Benjamite army into a disastrous ambush (cf. vv. 36–46).

JUDGES—NOTE ON 20:46 25,000. A rounded number for the more exact 25,100 (cf. v. 35).

JUDGES—NOTE ON 20:47 The number of Benjaminites adds up to the 26,700 (v. 15) in a reasonable way: 18,000 killed (v. 44); 5,000 (v. 45); 2,000 (v. 45); 600 survived (v. 47); leaving an estimated 1,100 lost the first two days (v. 48).

JUDGES—NOTE ON 21:1 sworn at Mizpah. The Israelites made an oath not to “give” their daughters to the 600 surviving Benjamites (20:47). But they realized that the latter would fade as a tribe unless they had wives (cf. 21:6–7), since the Benjamite women had died in the total sack of Gibeah (20:37). Cf. 21:9.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 21:8 No one had come from Jabesh-gilead, so the Israelites conquered Jabesh-gilead, which did not help against the Benjamites, and gave 400 virgins from there to the tribe (vv. 12–14).

JUDGES—NOTE ON 21:8–16 Jabesh-gilead. Israelites placed such a premium on the unity of their tribes that they saw this city’s non-cooperation in battle as worthy of widespread death. The passage does not give God’s approval to this destruction of men, women and children (vv. 10–11). It is another of the bizarre actions of men when they do what is right in their own eyes, which is the point that both begins and ends this dark final section (17:6; 21:25).

JUDGES—NOTE ON 21:16 wives for those who are left. Having recognized that the 200 others needed wives (vv. 17–18), they decided to allow them to snatch brides on their own at a dance in Shiloh (vv. 16–22), not believing that this violated their oath of not directly “giving” their daughters.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 21:25 Judges 17–21 vividly demonstrates how bizarre and deep sin can become when people throw off the authority of God as mediated through the king (cf. 17:6). This was the appropriate, but tragic, conclusion to a bleak period of Israelite history (cf. Deut. 12:8).

Introduction to Ruth

Title

Ancient versions and modern translations consistently entitle this book after Ruth the Moabitess heroine, who is mentioned by name 12 times (1:4 to 4:13). Only two OT books receive their names from women—Ruth and Esther. The OT does not again refer to Ruth, while the NT mentions her just once—in the context of Christ’s genealogy (Matt. 1:5; cf. Ruth 4:18–22). “Ruth” most likely comes from a Moabite and/or Hebrew word meaning “friendship.” Ruth arrived in Bethlehem as a foreigner (2:10), became a maidservant (2:13), married wealthy Boaz (4:13), and was included in the physical lineage of Christ (Matt. 1:5).

Author and Date

Jewish tradition credits Samuel as the author, which is plausible since he did not die (1 Sam. 25:1) until after he had anointed David as God’s chosen king (1 Sam. 16:6–13). However, neither internal features nor external testimony conclusively identify the writer. This exquisite story most likely appeared shortly before or during David’s reign in Israel (1011–971 B.C.), since David is mentioned (Ruth 4:17, 22) but not Solomon. Goethe reportedly labeled this piece of anonymous but unexcelled literature as “the loveliest, complete work on a small scale.” What Venus is to statuary and the Mona Lisa is to paintings, Ruth is to literature.

The Setting of Ruth

Set in the period of the judges, the book of Ruth records how a famine in Judah forces Naomi and her husband to leave Israel and move to Moab, where their sons marry Moabite women. When Naomi’s husband and sons die, she decides to return to her home in Bethlehem in Judah, and her daughter-in-law Ruth chooses to go with her.

Background and Setting

Aside from Bethlehem (1:1), Moab (the perennial enemy of Israel, which was east of the Dead Sea), stands as the only other mentioned geographic/national entity (1:1-2). This country originated when Lot fathered Moab by an incestuous union with his oldest daughter (Gen. 19:37). Centuries later the Jews encountered opposition from Balak, king of Moab, through the prophet Balaam (Num. 22–25). For 18 years Moab oppressed Israel during the time of the judges (Judg. 3:12–30). Saul defeated the Moabites (1 Sam. 14:47) while David seemed to enjoy a peaceful relationship with them (1 Sam. 22:3–4). Later, Moab again troubled Israel (2 Kings 3:5–27; Ezra 9:1). Because of Moab’s idolatrous worship of Chemosh (1 Kings 11:7, 33; 2 Kings 23:13) and its opposition to Israel, God cursed Moab (Isa. 15–16; Jer. 48; Ezek. 25:8–11; Amos 2:1–3).

The story of Ruth occurred in the days “when the judges ruled” Israel (Ruth 1:1), c. 1370 to 1041 B.C. (Judg. 2:16–19), and thus bridges time from the judges to Israel’s monarchy. God used “a famine in the land” of Judah (Ruth 1:1) to set in motion this beautiful drama, although the famine does not receive mention in Judges, which causes difficulty in dating the events of Ruth. However, by working backward in time from the well known date of David’s reign (1011–971 B.C.), the time period of Ruth would most likely be during the judgeship of Jair, c. 1126–1105 B.C. (Judg. 10:3–5).

Ruth covers about 11 or 12 years according to the following scenario: 1) Ruth 1:1–18, 10 years in Moab (1:4); 2) 1:19–2:23, several months (mid-April to mid-June) in Boaz’s field (1:22; 2:23); 3) 3:1–18, one day in Bethlehem and one night at the threshing floor; and 4) 4:1–22, about one year in Bethlehem.

Historical and Theological Themes

All 85 verses of Ruth have been accepted as canonical by the Jews. Along with Song of Solomon, Esther, Ecclesiastes, and Lamentations, Ruth stands with the OT books of the Megilloth or “five scrolls.” Rabbis read these books in the synagogue on five special occasions during the year—Ruth being read at Pentecost due to the harvest scenes of Ruth 2–3.

Genealogically, Ruth looks back almost 900 years to events in the time of Jacob (4:11) and forward about 100 years to the coming reign of David (4:17, 22). While Joshua and Judges emphasize the legacy of the nation and their land of promise, Ruth focuses on the lineage of David back to the patriarchal era.

At least seven major theological themes emerge in Ruth. First, Ruth the Moabitess illustrates that God’s redemptive plan extended beyond the Jews to Gentiles (2:12). Second, Ruth demonstrates that women are co-heirs with men of God’s salvation grace (cf. Gal. 3:28). Third, Ruth portrays the virtuous woman of Prov. 31:10 (cf. Ruth 3:11). Fourth, Ruth describes God's sovereign (1:6; 4:13) and providential care (2:3) of seemingly unimportant people at apparently insignificant times which later prove to be monumentally crucial to accomplishing God's will. Fifth, Ruth along with Tamar (Gen. 38), Rahab (Josh. 2), and Bathsheba (2 Sam. 11–12) stand in the genealogy of the messianic line (Ruth 4:17, 22; cf. Matt. 1:5). Sixth, Boaz, as a type of Christ, becomes Ruth's kinsman-redeemer (Ruth 4:1–12). Finally, David's right (and thus Christ's right) to the throne of Israel is traced back to Judah (4:18–22; cf. Gen. 49:8–12).

Interpretive Challenges

Ruth should be understood as a true historical account. The reliable facts surrounding Ruth, in addition to its complete compatibility with Judges plus 1 and 2 Samuel, confirm Ruth's authenticity. However, some individual difficulties require careful attention. First, how could Ruth worship at the tabernacle then in Shiloh (1 Sam. 4:4), since Deut. 23:3 expressly forbids Moabites from entering the assembly for 10 generations? Since the Jews entered the land c. 1405 B.C. and Ruth was not born until c. 1150 B.C., she then represented at least the eleventh generation (probably later) if the time limitation ended at ten generations. If "ten generations" was an idiom meaning "forever" as Neh. 13:1 implies, then Ruth would be like the foreigner of Isa. 56:1–8 who joined himself to the Lord (Ruth 1:16), thus gaining entrance to the assembly.

Second, are there not immoral overtones to Boaz and Ruth spending the night together before marriage (3:3–18)? Ruth engaged in a common ancient Near Eastern custom by asking Boaz to take her for his wife, symbolically pictured by throwing a garment over the intended woman (3:9), just as Jehovah spread his garment over Israel (Ezek. 16:8). The text does not even hint at the slightest moral impropriety, noting that Ruth slept at his feet (Ruth 3:14). Thus, Boaz became God's answer to his own earlier prayer for Ruth (2:12).

Third, would not the levirate principle of Deut. 25:5–6 lead to incest and/or polygamy if the nearest relative was already married? God would not design a good plan to involve the grossest of immoralities punishable by death. It is to be assumed that the implementation of Deut. 25:5–6 could involve only the nearest relative who was eligible for marriage as qualified by other stipulations of the law.

Fourth, was not marriage to a Moabitess strictly forbidden by the law? The nations or people to whom marriage was prohibited were those possessing the land that Israel would enter (Ex. 34:16; Deut. 7:1–3; Josh. 23:12) which did not include Moab (cf. Deut. 7:1). Further, Boaz married Ruth, a devout proselyte to Jehovah (Ruth 1:16–17), not a pagan worshiper of Chemosh—Moab’s chief deity (cf. later problems in Ezra 9:1–2 and Neh. 13:23–25).

Ruth

Naomi Widowed

RUTH 1 †† In the days when the judges ruled there was a famine in the land, and a man of Bethlehem in Judah went to sojourn in the country of Moab, he and his wife and his two sons. † The name of the man was Elimelech and the name of his wife Naomi, and the names of his two sons were Mahlon and Chilion. They were Ephrathites from Bethlehem in Judah. They went into the country of Moab and remained there. † But Elimelech, the husband of Naomi, died, and she was left with her two sons. † These took Moabite wives; the name of the one was Orpah and the name of the other Ruth. They lived there about ten years, † and both Mahlon and Chilion died, so that the woman was left without her two sons and her husband.

Ruth's Loyalty to Naomi

†† Then she arose with her daughters-in-law to return from the country of Moab, for she had heard in the fields of Moab that the LORD had visited his people and given them food. † So she set out from the place where she was with her two daughters-in-law, and they went on the way to return to the land of Judah. † But Naomi said to her two daughters-in-law, “Go, return each of you to her mother's house. May the LORD deal kindly with you, as you have dealt with the dead and with me. † The LORD grant that you may find rest, each of you in the house of her husband!” Then she kissed them, and they lifted up their voices and wept. † And they said to her, “No, we will return with you to your people.” † But Naomi said, “Turn back, my daughters; why will you go with me? Have I yet sons in my womb that they may become your husbands? † Turn back, my daughters; go your way, for I am too old to have a husband. If I should say I have hope, even if I should have a husband this night and should bear sons, † would you therefore wait till they were grown? Would you therefore refrain from marrying? No, my daughters, for it is exceedingly bitter to me for your sake that the hand of the LORD has gone out against me.” † Then they lifted up their voices and wept again. And Orpah kissed her mother-in-law, but Ruth clung to her.

† And she said, “See, your sister-in-law has gone back to her people and to her gods; return after your sister-in-law.” † But Ruth said, “Do not urge me to leave you or to return from following you. For where you go I will go, and where you lodge I will lodge. Your people shall be my people, and your God my God. <sup>17</sup>‡Where you die I will die, and there will I be buried. May the LORD do so to me and more also if anything but death parts me from you.” <sup>18</sup>And when Naomi saw that she was determined to go with her, she said no more.

Naomi and Ruth Return

<sup>19</sup>‡So the two of them went on until they came to Bethlehem. And when they came to Bethlehem, the whole town was stirred because of them. And the women said, “Is this Naomi?” <sup>20</sup>‡She said to them, “Do not call me Naomi; [\[1\]](#) call me Mara, [\[2\]](#) for the Almighty has dealt very bitterly with me. <sup>21</sup>I went away full, and the LORD has brought me back empty. Why call me Naomi, when the LORD has testified against me and the Almighty has brought calamity upon me?”

<sup>22</sup>‡So Naomi returned, and Ruth the Moabite her daughter-in-law with her, who returned from the country of Moab. And they came to Bethlehem at the beginning of barley harvest.

Ruth Meets Boaz

RUTH 2 †† Now Naomi had a relative of her husband's, a worthy man of the clan of Elimelech, whose name was Boaz. † And Ruth the Moabite said to Naomi, "Let me go to the field and glean among the ears of grain after him in whose sight I shall find favor." And she said to her, "Go, my daughter." † So she set out and went and gleaned in the field after the reapers, and she happened to come to the part of the field belonging to Boaz, who was of the clan of Elimelech. †† And behold, Boaz came from Bethlehem. And he said to the reapers, "The LORD be with you!" And they answered, "The LORD bless you." † Then Boaz said to his young man who was in charge of the reapers, "Whose young woman is this?" † And the servant who was in charge of the reapers answered, "She is the young Moabite woman, who came back with Naomi from the country of Moab. †† She said, 'Please let me glean and gather among the sheaves after the reapers.' So she came, and she has continued from early morning until now, except for a short rest." [1]

† Then Boaz said to Ruth, "Now, listen, my daughter, do not go to glean in another field or leave this one, but keep close to my young women. † Let your eyes be on the field that they are reaping, and go after them. Have I not charged the young men not to touch you? And when you are thirsty, go to the vessels and drink what the young men have drawn." † Then she fell on her face, bowing to the ground, and said to him, "Why have I found favor in your eyes, that you should take notice of me, since I am a foreigner?" † But Boaz answered her, "All that you have done for your mother-in-law since the death of your husband has been fully told to me, and how you left your father and mother and your native land and came to a people that you did not know before. † The LORD repay you for what you have done, and a full reward be given you by the LORD, the God of Israel, under whose wings you have come to take refuge!" † Then she said, "I have found favor in your eyes, my lord, for you have comforted me and spoken kindly to your servant, though I am not one of your servants."

† And at mealtime Boaz said to her, "Come here and eat some bread and dip your morsel in the wine." So she sat beside the reapers, and he passed to her roasted grain. And she ate until she was satisfied, and she had some left over. † When she rose to glean, Boaz instructed his young men, saying, "Let her glean even among the sheaves, and do not reproach her. † And also pull out some from the bundles for her and leave it for her to glean, and do not rebuke her."

<sup>17</sup>† So she gleaned in the field until evening. Then she beat out what she had gleaned, and it was about an ephah [\[2\]](#) of barley. <sup>18</sup>† And she took it up and went into the city. Her mother-in-law saw what she had gleaned. She also brought out and gave her what food she had left over after being satisfied. <sup>19</sup> And her mother-in-law said to her, “Where did you glean today? And where have you worked? Blessed be the man who took notice of you.” So she told her mother-in-law with whom she had worked and said, “The man's name with whom I worked today is Boaz.” <sup>20</sup>† And Naomi said to her daughter-in-law, “May he be blessed by the LORD, whose kindness has not forsaken the living or the dead!” Naomi also said to her, “The man is a close relative of ours, one of our redeemers.” <sup>21</sup> And Ruth the Moabite said, “Besides, he said to me, ‘You shall keep close by my young men until they have finished all my harvest.’” <sup>22</sup>† And Naomi said to Ruth, her daughter-in-law, “It is good, my daughter, that you go out with his young women, lest in another field you be assaulted.” <sup>23</sup>† So she kept close to the young women of Boaz, gleaning until the end of the barley and wheat harvests. And she lived with her mother-in-law.

Ruth and Boaz at the Threshing Floor

RUTH 3 † Then Naomi her mother-in-law said to her, “My daughter, should I not seek rest for you, that it may be well with you? † Is not Boaz our relative, with whose young women you were? See, he is winnowing barley tonight at the threshing floor. † Wash therefore and anoint yourself, and put on your cloak and go down to the threshing floor, but do not make yourself known to the man until he has finished eating and drinking. † But when he lies down, observe the place where he lies. Then go and uncover his feet and lie down, and he will tell you what to do.” † And she replied, “All that you say I will do.”

† So she went down to the threshing floor and did just as her mother-in-law had commanded her. † And when Boaz had eaten and drunk, and his heart was merry, he went to lie down at the end of the heap of grain. Then she came softly and uncovered his feet and lay down. † At midnight the man was startled and turned over, and behold, a woman lay at his feet! † He said, “Who are you?” And she answered, “I am Ruth, your servant. Spread your wings [1] over your servant, for you are a redeemer.” † And he said, “May you be blessed by the LORD, my daughter. You have made this last kindness greater than the first in that you have not gone after young men, whether poor or rich. † And now, my daughter, do not fear. I will do for you all that you ask, for all my fellow townsmen know that you are a worthy woman. † And now it is true that I am a redeemer. Yet there is a redeemer nearer than I. † Remain tonight, and in the morning, if he will redeem you, good; let him do it. But if he is not willing to redeem you, then, as the LORD lives, I will redeem you. Lie down until the morning.”

† So she lay at his feet until the morning, but arose before one could recognize another. And he said, “Let it not be known that the woman came to the threshing floor.” † And he said, “Bring the garment you are wearing and hold it out.” So she held it, and he measured out six measures of barley and put it on her. Then she went into the city. † And when she came to her mother-in-law, she said, “How did you fare, my daughter?” Then she told her all that the man had done for her, † saying, “These six measures of barley he gave to me, for he said to me, ‘You must not go back empty-handed to your mother-in-law.’” † She replied, “Wait, my daughter, until you learn how the matter turns out, for the man will not rest but will settle the matter today.”

Boaz Redeems Ruth

RUTH 4 †† Now Boaz had gone up to the gate and sat down there. And behold, the redeemer, of whom Boaz had spoken, came by. So Boaz said, “Turn aside, friend; sit down here.” And he turned aside and sat down. <sup>2</sup>† And he took ten men of the elders of the city and said, “Sit down here.” So they sat down. <sup>3</sup>† Then he said to the redeemer, “Naomi, who has come back from the country of Moab, is selling the parcel of land that belonged to our relative Elimelech. <sup>4</sup>† So I thought I would tell you of it and say, ‘Buy it in the presence of those sitting here and in the presence of the elders of my people.’ If you will redeem it, redeem it. But if you [\[1\]](#) will not, tell me, that I may know, for there is no one besides you to redeem it, and I come after you.” And he said, “I will redeem it.” <sup>5</sup>† Then Boaz said, “The day you buy the field from the hand of Naomi, you also acquire Ruth [\[2\]](#) the Moabite, the widow of the dead, in order to perpetuate the name of the dead in his inheritance.” <sup>6</sup>† Then the redeemer said, “I cannot redeem it for myself, lest I impair my own inheritance. Take my right of redemption yourself, for I cannot redeem it.”

<sup>7</sup>† Now this was the custom in former times in Israel concerning redeeming and exchanging: to confirm a transaction, the one drew off his sandal and gave it to the other, and this was the manner of attesting in Israel. <sup>8</sup> So when the redeemer said to Boaz, “Buy it for yourself,” he drew off his sandal. <sup>9</sup>† Then Boaz said to the elders and all the people, “You are witnesses this day that I have bought from the hand of Naomi all that belonged to Elimelech and all that belonged to Chilion and to Mahlon. <sup>10</sup>† Also Ruth the Moabite, the widow of Mahlon, I have bought to be my wife, to perpetuate the name of the dead in his inheritance, that the name of the dead may not be cut off from among his brothers and from the gate of his native place. You are witnesses this day.” <sup>11</sup>† Then all the people who were at the gate and the elders said, “We are witnesses. May the LORD make the woman, who is coming into your house, like Rachel and Leah, who together built up the house of Israel. May you act worthily in Ephrathah and be renowned in Bethlehem, <sup>12</sup>† and may your house be like the house of Perez, whom Tamar bore to Judah, because of the offspring that the LORD will give you by this young woman.”

Ruth and Boaz Marry

<sup>13</sup>† So Boaz took Ruth, and she became his wife. And he went in to her, and the LORD gave her conception, and she bore a son. <sup>14</sup>† Then the women said to Naomi, “Blessed be the LORD, who has not left you this day without a redeemer, and may his name be renowned in Israel! <sup>15</sup>† He shall be to you a restorer of life and a nourisher of your old age, for your daughter-in-law who loves you, who is more to you than seven sons, has given birth to him.” <sup>16</sup>† Then Naomi took the child and laid him on her lap and became his nurse. <sup>17</sup>† And the women of the neighborhood gave him a name, saying, “A son has been born to Naomi.” They named him Obed. He was the father of Jesse, the father of David.

The Genealogy of David

Study Notes

RUTH—NOTE ON 1:1–5 This introduction to Ruth sets in motion the following events, which culminate in Obed’s birth and his relationship to the Davidic line of Christ. See Introduction: Background and Setting.

RUTH—NOTE ON 1:1 famine. This disaster sounds similar to the days of Abraham (Gen. 12), Isaac (Gen. 26), and Jacob (Gen. 46). The text does not specify whether or not this famine was God’s judgment (cf. 1 Kings 17–18, esp. 18:2). Bethlehem in Judah. Bethlehem (“house of bread”) lies in the territory given to the tribe of Judah (Josh. 15) about 6 miles south of Jerusalem. Rachel, the wife of Jacob, was buried nearby (Gen. 35:19; cf. Ruth 4:11). Bethlehem eventually received the title “city of David” (Luke 2:4, 11). Later, Mary delivered Christ (Luke 2:4–7; cf. Micah 5:2) and Herod slaughtered the infants here (Matt. 2:16). This title (Judg. 17:7, 9; 19:1–2, 18) serves to distinguish it from Bethlehem of Zebulun (Josh. 19:15). sojourn. Elimelech intended to live temporarily in Moab as a resident alien until the famine passed. Moab. See Introduction: Background and Setting.

RUTH—NOTE ON 1:2 Elimelech. His name means “my God is king,” signifying a devout commitment to the God of Israel. Most likely, he was a prominent man in the community whose brothers might have included the unnamed close relative and Boaz (cf. 4:3). Naomi. Her name means “pleasant.” Mahlon and Chilion. Their names mean “sick” and “pining” respectively. Ephrathites. A title used of people who lived in the area anciently known as Ephrath (Gen. 35:16, 19; 48:7) or Ephrathah (Ruth 4:11; Micah 5:2), but later more prominently called Bethlehem (Ruth 1:1). Jesse, father of David, is called “an Ephrathite of Bethlehem” (1 Sam. 17:12) and “Jesse the Bethlehemite” (1 Sam. 16:1, 18; 17:58).

RUTH—NOTE ON 1:4 Moabite wives. See Introduction: Interpretive Challenges. Orpah. Her name means “stubborn.” Ruth. Her name means “friendship.” about ten years. This period would seem to include the entire time of Naomi’s residency in Moab.

RUTH—NOTE ON 1:5 woman was left without. Naomi, a widow in Moab whose two sons had died also, believed that the Lord had afflicted her with bitter days until she would die (1:13, 20–21). No reason for the death of these three men in her life is given. Ruth married Mahlon, and Orpah united with Chilion (cf. 4:10).

RUTH—NOTE ON 1:6–22 The death of Elimelech and his two sons (vv. 3, 5) prepared the way for Naomi and Ruth to leave Orpah in Moab (vv. 6–14) and return together to Bethlehem (vv. 15–22).

RUTH—NOTE ON 1:6 the Lord had visited his people. Obviously the Lord had sent rain to break the famine. The sovereignty of Jehovah on behalf of Israel permeates the pages of Ruth in several ways: 1) actually for good (2:12; 4:12–14), 2) perceived by Naomi for bad (1:13, 21), and 3) in the context of prayer/blessing (1:8–9, 17; 2:4, 12, 20; 3:10, 13; 4:11). The return of physical prosperity only shadowed the reality of a coming spiritual prosperity through the line of David in the person of Christ.

RUTH—NOTE ON 1:7 she set out. Naomi had friends (1:19), family (2:1), and prosperity (4:3) awaiting her in Bethlehem.

RUTH—NOTE ON 1:8–10 Naomi graciously encouraged her two daughters-in-law to return to their homes (v. 8) and to remarry (v. 9), but they emotionally insisted on going to Jerusalem (v. 10).

RUTH—NOTE ON 1:11–13 Naomi selflessly reasoned a second time for their return, because she would be unable to provide them with new husbands (possibly in the spirit of a levirate marriage as described in Deut. 25:5–6). If Orpah and Ruth waited, they would most likely have become as old as Naomi was then before they could remarry (cf. Gen. 38:11).

RUTH—NOTE ON 1:12 I am too old. Naomi was probably over 50.

RUTH—NOTE ON 1:13 the hand of the Lord. A figure of speech that describes the Lord's work. The Lord is spirit (John 4:24) and therefore does not have a literal hand.

RUTH—NOTE ON 1:14–15 At the second plea to return, Orpah turned back. Naomi pleaded with Ruth a third time to return.

RUTH—NOTE ON 1:15 her gods. Refers to Chemosh the chief Moabite deity who required child sacrifice (2 Kings 3:27) and other local deities.

RUTH—NOTE ON 1:16–18 Ruth recited her hallmark expression of loyalty to Naomi and commitment to the family she married into.

RUTH—NOTE ON 1:16 and your God my God. This testimony evidenced Ruth’s conversion from worshipping Chemosh to Jehovah of Israel (cf. 1 Thess. 1:9–10).

RUTH—NOTE ON 1:17 the Lord do so to me. Ruth’s vow bore further testimony to her conversion. She followed the path first blazed by Abraham (Josh. 24:2).

RUTH—NOTE ON 1:19 they came to Bethlehem. A trip from Moab (at least 60–75 miles) would have taken about 7–10 days. Having descended about 4,500 feet from Moab into the Jordan Valley, they then ascended 3,750 feet through the hills of Judea. the whole town. Naomi had been well known in her prior residency (cf. Ephrathites of Bethlehem, 1:2). The question, “Is this Naomi?” most likely reflected the hard life of the last decade and the toll that it took on her appearance.

RUTH—NOTE ON 1:20–21 Naomi . . . Mara . . . full . . . empty. Naomi’s outlook on life, although grounded in God’s sovereignty, was not hopeful; thus she asked to be renamed “Mara,” which means “bitter.” Her experiences were not unlike Job’s (Job 1–2), but her perspective resembled that of Job’s wife (Job 2:10). In reality, Naomi had 1) a full harvest prospect, 2) Ruth plus Boaz, and 3) the hope of God’s future blessing.

RUTH—NOTE ON 1:22 Ruth the Moabite. This title also appears at 2:2, 21; 4:5, 10. Ruth stands out as a foretaste of future Gentile conversions (cf. Rom. 11). at the beginning of barley harvest. Normally the middle to the end of April.

RUTH—NOTE ON 2:1–23 Two widows, newly at home in Bethlehem after Naomi’s 10-year absence, needed the basics of life. Ruth volunteered to go out and glean the fields for food (cf. James 1:27). In so doing, she unintentionally went to the field of Boaz, a close family relative, where she found great favor in his sight.

RUTH—NOTE ON 2:1 relative of her husband’s. Possibly as close as a brother of Elimelech (cf. 4:3), but if not, certainly within the tribe or clan. a worthy man. Lit., “a man of valor” (cf. Judg. 6:12; 11:1) who had unusual capacity to obtain and protect his property. Boaz. His name means “in him is strength.” He had never married or was a widower (cf. 1 Chron. 2:11–12; Matt. 1:5; Luke 3:32).

RUTH—NOTE ON 2:2 glean. The Mosaic law commanded that the harvest should not be reaped to the corners nor the gleanings picked up (Lev. 19:9–10). Gleanings were stalks of grain left after the first cutting (cf. Ruth 2:3, 7, 8, 15, 17). These were dedicated to the needy, especially widows, orphans, and strangers (Lev. 23:22; Deut. 24:19–21).

RUTH—NOTE ON 2:3 she happened to come. Here was a classic example of God’s providence at work. part of the field. Possibly a large community field in which Boaz had a plot.

RUTH—NOTE ON 2:4–17 Notice throughout how Boaz manifested the spirit of the law in going beyond what the Mosaic legislation required by 1) feeding Ruth (2:14), 2) letting Ruth glean among the sheaves (2:15), and 3) leaving extra grain for her to glean (2:16).

RUTH—NOTE ON 2:4 The Lord be with you. This unusual labor practice speaks to the exceptional godliness of Boaz and his workers.

RUTH—NOTE ON 2:7 sheaves. Bundles of grain stalks tied together for transport to the threshing floor.

RUTH—NOTE ON 2:7, 17 morning . . . evening. Ruth proved to be diligent in her care for Naomi.

RUTH—NOTE ON 2:7 a short rest. She may have rested in a temporary shelter built with branches by the side of the field.

RUTH—NOTE ON 2:8 my daughter. Boaz was about 45–55 years old and a contemporary of Elimelech and Naomi. He would naturally see Ruth as a daughter (3:10–11), much like Naomi did (cf. 2:2, 22; 3:1, 16, 18). Boaz contrasted himself with younger men (3:10). my young women. The ones who tied up the sheaves.

RUTH—NOTE ON 2:9 they are reaping. The ones who cut the grain with hand sickles (cf. 2:21).

RUTH—NOTE ON 2:10 a foreigner. Ruth remained ever mindful that she was an alien and, as such, must conduct herself humbly. Possibly she had knowledge of Deut. 23:3–4. She acknowledged the grace (lit., “favor”) of Boaz.

RUTH—NOTE ON 2:11 fully told to me. This speaks to both Naomi's quickness to speak kindly of Ruth and Boaz's network of influence in Bethlehem. Ruth remained true to her promise (1:16–17).

RUTH—NOTE ON 2:12 wings . . . refuge. Scripture pictures God as catching Israel up on his wings in the exodus (Ex. 19:4; Deut. 32:11). God is here portrayed as a mother bird sheltering the young and fragile with her wings (cf. Ps. 17:8; 36:7; 57:1; 61:4; 63:7; 91:1, 4). Boaz blessed Ruth in light of her newfound commitment to and dependence on the Lord. Later, he would become God's answer to this prayer (cf. Ruth 3:9).

RUTH—NOTE ON 2:14 wine. Sour wine, mixed with a little oil, used to quench thirst.

RUTH—NOTE ON 2:15 among the sheaves. Boaz granted her request (2:7) to go beyond the letter of the law.

RUTH—NOTE ON 2:17 ephah. Over one-half bushel, weighing about 30 to 40 pounds.

RUTH—NOTE ON 2:18 what food she had left. Not the gleaned grain, but rather the lunch ration which Ruth did not eat (cf. v. 14).

RUTH—NOTE ON 2:20 whose kindness. Naomi began to understand God's sovereign working, covenant loyalty, lovingkindness, and mercy toward her because Ruth, without human direction (v. 3), found the near relative Boaz. a close relative. The great kinsman-redeemer theme of Ruth begins here (cf. 3:9, 12; 4:1, 3, 6, 8, 14). A close relative could redeem 1) a family member sold into slavery (Lev. 25:47–49), 2) land that needed to be sold under economic hardship (Lev. 25:23–28), and/or 3) the family name by virtue of a levirate marriage (Deut. 25:5–10). This earthly custom pictures the reality of God the Redeemer doing a greater work (Ps. 19:14; 78:35; Isa. 41:14; 43:14) by reclaiming those who needed to be spiritually redeemed out of slavery to sin (Ps. 107:2; Isa. 62:12). Thus, Boaz pictures Christ, who as a Brother (Heb. 2:17), redeemed those who 1) were slaves to sin (Rom. 6:15–18), 2) had lost all earthly possessions/privileges in the fall (Gen. 3:17–19), and 3) had been alienated by sin from God (2 Cor. 5:18–21). Boaz stands in the direct line of Christ (Matt. 1:5; Luke 3:32). This turn of events marks the point where Naomi's human emptiness (Ruth 1:21) begins to be refilled by the Lord. Her night of earthly doubt has been broken by the dawning of new hope (cf. Rom. 8:28–39).

RUTH—NOTE ON 2:22 you be assaulted. Ruth the Moabite would not be treated with such mercy and grace by strangers outside of the family.

RUTH—NOTE ON 2:23 the end of . . . harvests. Barley harvest usually began about mid-April and wheat harvest extended to mid-June—a period of intense labor for about two months. This generally coincided with the seven weeks between Passover and the Feast of Weeks, i.e., Pentecost (cf. Lev. 23:15–16; Deut. 16:9–12).

RUTH—NOTE ON 3:1–18 Encouraged by Ruth’s days in Boaz’s field, Naomi instructed Ruth in the way she should go to ensure a brighter future. Ruth carefully followed Naomi’s directions to solicit redemption by Boaz, while the Lord had prepared Boaz to redeem Ruth. Only one potential obstacle remained, a relative nearer than Boaz.

RUTH—NOTE ON 3:1 rest. Naomi felt responsible, just as she did in 1:9, for Ruth’s future husband and home.

RUTH—NOTE ON 3:2 threshing floor. Usually a large, hard area of earth or stone on the downwind (east) side of the village where threshing took place (loosening the grain from the straw and winnowing). tonight. Winnowing (tossing grain into the air to finish separating the grain from the chaff) normally occurred in late afternoon when the Mediterranean winds prevailed. Sifting and bagging the grain would have carried over past dark, and Boaz may have remained all night to guard the grain from theft.

RUTH—NOTE ON 3:3–4 Naomi instructed Ruth 1) to put on her best appearance and 2) to propose marriage to Boaz by utilizing an ancient Near Eastern custom. Since Boaz was a generation older than Ruth (2:8), this overture would indicate Ruth’s desire to marry Boaz, which the older, gracious Boaz would not have initiated with a younger woman.

RUTH—NOTE ON 3:7 his heart was merry. Using the same language of v. 1 (“rest” . . . “be well”), Boaz is described as having a sense of well being, which is most readily explained by the full harvest in contrast to previous years of famine (cf. Judg. 18:20; 1 Kings 21:7).

RUTH—NOTE ON 3:9 Spread your wings over your servant. Ruth righteously appealed to Boaz, using the language of Boaz's earlier prayer (2:12), to marry her according to the levirate custom (Deut. 25:5–10). See Introduction: Interpretive Challenges.

RUTH—NOTE ON 3:10 kindness. Ruth's loyalty to Naomi, the Lord, and even Boaz is commended by Boaz. after young men. Ruth demonstrated moral excellence in that 1) she did not engage in immorality, 2) she did not remarry outside the family, and 3) she had appealed for levirate redemption to an older, godly man.

RUTH—NOTE ON 3:11 worthy. In all respects, Ruth personifies excellence (cf. Prov. 31:10). This same language has been used of Boaz ("a worthy man" or more likely "a man of valor" in 2:1), thus making them the perfectly matched couple for an exemplary marriage.

RUTH—NOTE ON 3:12 a redeemer nearer than I. Boaz righteously deferred to someone else who was nearer in relationship to Elimelech. The nearer relative may have been Boaz's older brother (cf. 4:3) or Boaz may have been his cousin. The fact that the neighbor women said, "A son has been born to Naomi" at Obed's birth would suggest the brother or cousin relationship to Elimelech (4:17).

RUTH—NOTE ON 3:13 I will redeem you. Boaz willingly accepted Ruth's proposal, if the nearer relative was unable or unwilling to exercise his levirate duty. as the Lord lives. The most solemn, binding oath an Israelite could vow.

RUTH—NOTE ON 3:14 lay at his feet. According to the text, no immorality occurred. Boaz even insisted on no appearance of evil.

RUTH—NOTE ON 3:15 six measures. The Hebrew text gives no standard of measurement, but some translations use the word ephah. However, six ephahs would weigh about 200 pounds, far too much for Ruth to carry home in her shawl. Therefore, deemed most reasonable is six seahs (60–80 pounds), which would have been twice the amount Ruth had previously gleaned (see 2:17).

RUTH—NOTE ON 3:18 today. Naomi knew that Boaz was a man of integrity and would fulfill his promise with a sense of urgency. They needed to wait on the Lord to work through Boaz.

RUTH—NOTE ON 4:1–22 God's divine plan fully blossomed as Boaz redeemed

Naomi's land and Ruth's hand in marriage. Naomi, once empty (1:21), is full; Ruth, once a widow (1:5), is married; most important, the Lord has prepared Christ's line of descent in David, through Boaz and Obed, back to Judah (Gen. 49:10) to fulfill the proper messianic lineage.

RUTH—NOTE ON 4:1 gone up. Apparently the threshing floor was below the level of the gate. Compare 3:3, “go down to the threshing floor.” the gate. The normal public place to transact business in ancient times (cf. 2 Sam. 15:2; Job 29:7; Lam. 5:14). friend. The Hebrew text is not clear whether Boaz called him directly by name (which is then not mentioned by the author) or addressed him indirectly.

RUTH—NOTE ON 4:2 ten men. This number apparently comprised a quorum to officially transact business, although only two or three witnesses were needed for judicial proceedings (cf. Deut. 17:6; 19:15).

RUTH—NOTE ON 4:3 Naomi . . . is selling. As a widow, she needed the money for living expenses, knowing that the land would ultimately be returned at jubilee (Lev. 25:28). our relative Elimelech. Boaz and the unnamed relative were most likely either brothers or cousins.

RUTH—NOTE ON 4:4 Buy it. As authorized by the Mosaic law (Lev. 25:23–28).

RUTH—NOTE ON 4:5 you also acquire. Both redeeming Ruth and the land would not have been required by the letter of the levirate law (Deut. 25:5–6). Perhaps this exemplified Boaz's desire to obey the spirit of the law (see note on Ruth 2:4–17) or maybe redemption of land and marriage had been combined by local tradition. The levirate principle appears first in Scripture at Gen. 38:8 (cf. Matt. 22:23–28).

RUTH—NOTE ON 4:6 I impair my own inheritance. He was unwilling to have the family portfolio split between his existing children and the potential offspring of a union with Ruth. Take my right of redemption yourself. The closer relative relinquished his legal right to the land and Ruth. This cleared the way for Boaz to redeem both.

RUTH—NOTE ON 4:7 drew off his sandal. The Scripture writer explained to his own generation what had been a custom in former generations. This kind of tradition appears in Deut. 25:5–10 and apparently continued at least to the time of Amos (cf. Amos 2:6; 8:6). The closer relative legally transferred his right to the property as symbolized by the sandal, most likely that of the nearer relative.

RUTH—NOTE ON 4:9 I have bought. Boaz exercised his legal option to redeem both the land and Ruth before appropriate witnesses.

RUTH—NOTE ON 4:10 the widow of Mahlon. Only here is Ruth’s former husband identified (cf. 1:5 note). Therefore, it can also be assumed that Chilion married Orpah. I have bought to be my wife. Boaz exercised the spirit of the law and became Ruth’s kinsman-redeemer (Deut. 25:5–6). the name of the dead. Perpetuation of the family name (1 Sam. 24:21) was an important feature that the levirate process provided (cf. Deut. 25:6).

RUTH—NOTE ON 4:11 We are witnesses. This affirmation signaled the strong approval of the city. like Rachel and Leah. Rachel, the most beloved wife of Jacob, was buried nearby (Gen. 35:19); Leah was the mother of Judah (by Jacob), their namesake descendant (Gen. 29:35). This remembrance went back almost 900 years to c. 1915 B.C. Ephrathah . . . Bethlehem. The ancient name of Bethlehem (Gen. 35:19; 48:7). See note on Ruth 1:2. Micah later prophetically wrote that this city would be the birthplace of Messiah (Micah 5:2).

Ruth: The Proverbs 31 Wife

Ruth: The Proverbs 31 Wife
The “virtuous” wife of Prov. 31:10 is personified by “virtuous” Ruth of whom the same Hebrew word is used ( Ruth 3:11 ). With amazing parallel, they share at least eight character traits (see below). One wonders (in concert with Jewish tradition) if King Lemuel’s mother might not have been Bathsheba, who orally passed the family heritage of Ruth’s spotless reputation along to David’s son Solomon. Lemuel, which means “devoted to God,” could have been a family name for Solomon (cf. Jedediah, 2 Sam. 12:25 ), who then could have penned Prov. 31:10–31 with Ruth in mind. Each woman was:
1. Devoted to her family ( Ruth 1:15–18 // Prov. 31:10–12, 23 )
2. Delighting in her work ( Ruth 2:2 // Prov. 31:13 )
3. Diligent in her labor ( Ruth 2:7, 17, 23 // Prov. 31:14–18, 19–21, 24, 27 )
4. Dedicated to godly speech ( Ruth 2:10, 13 // Prov. 31:26 )
5. Dependent on God ( Ruth 2:12 // Prov. 31:25b, 30 )
6. Dressed with care ( Ruth 3:3 // Prov. 31:22, 25a )
7. Discreet with men ( Ruth 3:6–13 // Prov. 31:11–12, 23 )
8. Delivering blessings ( Ruth 4:14–15 // Prov. 31:28–29, 31 )

RUTH—NOTE ON 4:12 Perez . . . Tamar . . . Judah. Read Gen. 38:1–30 for the background to these three. Tamar, the widow of Judah’s first son, Er, when denied a levirate marriage to Judah’s remaining son, Shelah (38:14), took matters into her own hands and immorally consorted with her father-in-law Judah (38:18). Perez, the firstborn of twins by Tamar, became the main ancestor of the Ephrathites and Bethlehemites (1 Chron. 2:3–5, 19, 50, 51; 4:4). See note on Ruth 4:18. offspring. The firstborn son would be considered the son of Mahlon. Additional sons would legally be the offspring of Boaz (Deut. 25:6).

RUTH—NOTE ON 4:13 he went in to her. OT euphemism for sexual intercourse. the Lord gave her conception. As with Rachel (Gen. 30:22) and Leah (Gen. 29:31), so also with Ruth (cf. Ps. 127:3).

RUTH—NOTE ON 4:14 the Lord . . . has not left you. In contrast to Naomi’s worst moments of despair (1:20–21). a redeemer . . . his name. Refers to Obed, not Boaz (cf. 4:11), who cared for Naomi in her latter years.

RUTH—NOTE ON 4:15 more . . . than seven sons. Seven represented the number of perfection and thus seven sons would make the complete family (cf. 1 Sam. 2:5). However, Ruth exceeded this standard all by herself.

RUTH—NOTE ON 4:16 became his nurse. This expresses the natural affection of a godly grandmother for her God-given grandson.

RUTH—NOTE ON 4:17 the neighborhood gave him a name. Here is the only place in the OT where a child was named by someone other than the immediate family. Obed means “servant.” A son has been born to Naomi. Ruth vicariously bore the son that would restore the family name of Naomi’s deceased son Mahlon (cf. 4:1). Obed . . . Jesse . . . David. This complete genealogy appears identically in four other biblical texts (4:21–22; 1 Chron. 2:12–15; Matt. 1:5–6; Luke 3:31–32). Boaz and Ruth were the great-grandparents of David.

RUTH—NOTE ON 4:18–22 Perez . . . David. This representative genealogy, which spans nine centuries from Perez (c. 1885 B.C.) to David (c. 1040 B.C.), specifically names 10 generations. The first five (Perez to Nashon) cover the patriarchal times to the exodus and wilderness wanderings. Salmon to David covers Joshua’s lifetime and the judges to the monarchy. This genealogical compression by omission does not signal faulty records, because in Jewish thinking, “son” could mean “descendant” (cf. Matt. 1:1). The purpose of a family record was not necessarily to include every generation, but rather to establish incontestable succession by way of the more notable ancestors.

RUTH—NOTE ON 4:18 Perez. See note on v. 12. Although this genealogy only goes back to Perez, it conclusively establishes that David's lineage extends further back through Judah (Gen. 49:8–12), Jacob (Gen. 28:10–17), and Isaac (Gen. 26:24) to Abraham (Gen. 12:1–3).

RUTH—NOTE ON 4:18–19 Hezron. Cf. Gen. 46:12.

RUTH—NOTE ON 4:19 Ram. Listed as Arni in some Greek texts of Luke 3:33.

RUTH—NOTE ON 4:19–20 Amminadab. The father-in-law of Aaron (Ex. 6:23), who appears in 1 Chron. 2:10, and is cited in Matt. 1:4 and Luke 3:33. Some Greek manuscripts also include Admin between Ram and Amminadab in Luke 3:33.

RUTH—NOTE ON 4:20 Nahshon. The leader of Judah in the exodus (Num. 1:7; 2:3; 7:12, 17; 10:14).

RUTH—NOTE ON 4:20–21 Salmon. The husband of Rahab the harlot (cf. Matt. 1:5).

RUTH—NOTE ON 4:21 Salmon fathered Boaz. Since Matt. 1:5 lists Rahab the harlot, who lived c. 1425–1350 B.C., as Salmon's wife, it thus indicates that some generations have been selectively omitted between Salmon and Boaz (c. 1160–1090 B.C.).

RUTH—NOTE ON 4:22 David. Looking back at Ruth from a NT perspective, latent messianic implications become more apparent (cf. Matt. 1:1). The fruit that is promised later on in the Davidic Covenant (2 Sam. 7:1–17) finds its seedbed here. The hope of a messianic king and kingdom (2 Sam. 7:12–14) will be fulfilled in the Lord Jesus Christ (Rev. 19–20) through the lineage of David's grandfather Obed, who was born to Boaz and Ruth the Moabitess.

Introduction to 1 Samuel

Title

First and Second Samuel were considered as one book in the earliest Hebrew manuscripts, and were later divided into the two books by the translators of the Greek version, the Septuagint (LXX), a division followed by the Latin Vulgate (Vulgate), English translations, and modern Hebrew Bibles. The earliest Hebrew manuscripts entitled the one book “Samuel” after the man God used to establish the kingship in Israel. Later Hebrew texts and the English versions call the divided book “1 and 2 Samuel.” The LXX designated them “The First and Second Books of Kingdoms” and the Vulgate, “First and Second Kings,” with our 1 and 2 Kings being “Third and Fourth Kings.”

Author and Date

Jewish tradition ascribed the writing of “Samuel” to Samuel himself or to Samuel, Nathan, and Gad (based on 1 Chron. 29:29). But Samuel cannot be the writer because his death is recorded in 1 Sam. 25:1, before the events associated with David’s reign even took place. Further, Nathan and Gad were prophets of the Lord during David’s lifetime and would not have been alive when the book of Samuel was written. Though the written records of these three prophets could have been used for information in the writing of 1 and 2 Samuel, the human author of these books is unknown. The work comes to the reader as an anonymous writing, i.e., the human author speaks for the Lord and gives the divine interpretation of the events narrated.

The books of Samuel contain no clear indication of the date of composition. That the author wrote after the division of the kingdom between Israel and Judah in 931 B.C. is clear, due to the many references to Israel and Judah as distinct entities (1 Sam. 11:8; 17:52; 18:16; 2 Sam. 5:5; 11:11; 12:8; 19:42–43; 24:1, 9). Also, the statement concerning Ziklag’s belonging “to the kings of Judah to this day” in 1 Sam. 27:6 gives clear evidence of a post-Solomonic date of writing. There is no such clarity concerning how late the date of writing could be. However, 1 and 2 Samuel are included in the Former Prophets in the Hebrew canon, along with Joshua, Judges, and 1 and 2 Kings. If the Former Prophets were composed as a unit, then Samuel would have been written during the Babylonian captivity (c. 560–540 B.C.), since 2 Kings concludes during the exile (2 Kings 25:27–30). However, since Samuel has a literary style different from Kings, it was most likely penned before the exile during the period of the divided kingdom (c. 931–722 B.C.) and later made an integral part of the Former Prophets.

Background and Setting

The majority of the action recorded in 1 and 2 Samuel took place in and around the central highlands in the land of Israel. The nation of Israel was largely concentrated in an area that ran about 90 miles from the hill country of Ephraim in the north (1 Sam. 1:1; 9:4) to the hill country of Judah in the south (Josh. 20:7; 21:11) and between 15 to 35 miles east to west. This central spine ranges in height from 1,500 feet to 3,300 feet above sea level. The major cities of 1 and 2 Samuel are to be found in these central highlands: Shiloh, the residence of Eli and the tabernacle; Ramah, the hometown of Samuel; Gibeah, the headquarters of Saul; Bethlehem, the birthplace of David; Hebron, David’s capital when he ruled over Judah; and Jerusalem, the ultimate “city of David.”

The events of 1 and 2 Samuel took place between the years c. 1105 B.C., the birth of Samuel (1 Sam. 1:1–28), to c. 971 B.C., the last words of David (2 Sam. 23:1–7). Thus, the books span about 135 years of history. During those years, Israel was transformed from a loosely knit group of tribes under “judges” to a united nation under the reign of a centralized monarchy. They look primarily at Samuel (c. 1105–1030 B.C.), Saul who reigned c. 1052–1011 B.C., and David who was king of the united monarchy c. 1011–971 B.C.

Historical and Theological Themes

As 1 Samuel begins, Israel was at a low point spiritually. The priesthood was corrupt (1 Sam. 2:12–17, 22–26), the ark of the covenant was not at the tabernacle (1 Sam. 4:3–7:2), idolatry was practiced (1 Sam. 7:3–4), and the judges were dishonest (1 Sam. 8:2–3). Through the influence of godly Samuel (1 Sam. 12:23) and David (1 Sam. 13:14), these conditions were reversed. Second Samuel concludes with the anger of the Lord being withdrawn from Israel (2 Sam. 24:25).

During the years narrated in 1 and 2 Samuel, the great empires of the ancient world were in a state of weakness. Neither Egypt nor the Mesopotamian powers, Babylon and Assyria, were threats to Israel at that time. The two nations most hostile to the Israelites were the Philistines (1 Sam. 4; 7; 13; 14; 17; 23; 31; 2 Sam. 5) to the west and the Ammonites (1 Sam. 11; 2 Sam. 10–12) to the east. The major contingent of the Philistines had migrated from the Aegean Islands and Asia Minor in the twelfth century B.C. After being denied access to Egypt, they settled among other preexisting Philistines along the Mediterranean coast of Palestine. The Philistines controlled the use of iron, which gave them a decided military and economic advantage over Israel (1 Sam. 13:19–22). The Ammonites were descendants of Lot (Gen. 19:38) who lived on the Transjordan Plateau. David conquered the Philistines (2 Sam. 8:1) and the Ammonites (2 Sam. 12:29–31), along with other nations that surrounded Israel (2 Sam. 8:2–14).

There are four predominant theological themes in 1 and 2 Samuel. The first is the Davidic Covenant. The books are literarily framed by two references to the “anointed” king in the prayer of Hannah (1 Sam. 2:10) and the song of David (2 Sam. 22:51). This is a reference to the Messiah, the King who will triumph over the nations who are opposed to God (see Gen. 49:8–12; Num. 24:7–9, 17–19). According to the Lord’s promise, this Messiah will come through the line of David and establish David’s throne forever (2 Sam. 7:12–16). The events of David’s life recorded in Samuel foreshadow the actions of David’s greater Son (i.e., Christ) in the future.

A second theme is the sovereignty of God, clearly seen in these books. One example is the birth of Samuel in response to Hannah’s prayer (1 Sam. 9:17; 16:12–13). Also, in relation to David, it is particularly evident that nothing can frustrate God’s plan to have him rule over Israel (1 Sam. 24:20).

Third, the work of the Holy Spirit in empowering men for divinely appointed tasks is evident. The Spirit of the Lord came upon both Saul and David after their anointing as king (1 Sam. 10:10; 16:13). The power of the Holy Spirit brought forth prophecy (1 Sam. 10:6) and victory in battle (1 Sam. 11:6).

Fourth, the books of Samuel demonstrate the personal and national effects of sin. The sins of Eli and his sons resulted in their deaths (1 Sam. 2:12–17, 22–25; 3:10–14; 4:17–18). The lack of reverence for the ark of the covenant led to the death of a number of Israelites (1 Sam. 6:19; 2 Sam. 6:6–7). Saul’s disobedience resulted in the Lord’s judgment, and he was rejected as king over Israel (1 Sam. 13:9, 13, 14; 15:8, 9, 20–23). Although David was forgiven for his sin of adultery and murder after his confession (2 Sam. 12:13), he still suffered the inevitable and devastating consequences of his sin (2 Sam. 12:14).

Interpretive Challenges

The books of Samuel contain a number of interpretive issues that have been widely discussed: 1) Which of the ancient mss. is closest to the original autograph? The standard Hebrew (Masoretic) text has been relatively poorly preserved, and the LXX often differs from it. Thus, the exact reading of the original autograph of the text is in places hard to determine (see 1 Sam. 13:1). The Masoretic text will be assumed to represent the original text unless there is a grammatical or contextual impossibility. This accounts for many of the numerical discrepancies. 2) Is Samuel ambivalent to the establishment of the human kingship in Israel? It is claimed that while 1 Sam. 9–11 presents a positive view of the kingship, 1 Sam. 8 and 12 are strongly anti-monarchial. It is preferable, however, to see the book as presenting a balanced perspective of the human kingship. While the desire of Israel for a king was acceptable (Deut. 17:15), their reason for wanting a king showed a lack of faith in the Lord (see notes on 1 Sam. 8:5, 20). 3) How does one explain the bizarre behavior of the prophets? It is commonly held that 1 and 2 Samuel present the prophets as ecstatic speakers with bizarre behavior just like the pagan prophets of the other nations. But there is nothing in the text that is inconsistent with seeing the prophets as communicators of divine revelation, at times prophesying with musical accompaniment (see notes on 1 Sam. 10:5; 19:23–24). 4) How did the Holy Spirit minister before Pentecost? The ministry of the Holy Spirit in 1 Sam. 10:6, 10; 11:6; 16:13–14; 19:20, 23; 2 Sam. 23:2 was not describing salvation in the NT sense, but an empowering by the Lord for his service (see also Judg. 3:10; 6:34; 11:29; 13:25; 14:6, 19; 15:14). 5) What was the identity of the “harmful spirit”? Is it a personal being, i.e., a demon, or a spirit of discontent created by God in the heart (cf. Judg. 9:23)? Traditionally, it has been viewed as a demon (see note on 1 Sam. 16:14). 6) How did Samuel appear in 1 Sam. 28:3–5? It seems best to understand the appearance of Samuel as the Lord allowing the dead Samuel to speak with Saul. 7) What is the identity of David’s seed in 2 Sam. 7:12–15? It is usually taken as Solomon. However, the NT refers the words to Jesus, God’s Son in Heb. 1:5 (see notes on 2 Sam. 7:12–15).

1 Samuel

The Birth of Samuel

1 SAMUEL 1 <sup>1</sup>† There was a certain man of Ramathaim-zophim of the hill country of Ephraim whose name was Elkanah the son of Jeroham, son of Elihu, son of Tohu, son of Zuph, an Ephrathite. <sup>2</sup>† He had two wives. The name of the one was Hannah, and the name of the other, Peninnah. And Peninnah had children, but Hannah had no children.

<sup>3</sup>† Now this man used to go up year by year from his city to worship and to sacrifice to the LORD of hosts at Shiloh, where the two sons of Eli, Hophni and Phinehas, were priests of the LORD. <sup>4</sup>† On the day when Elkanah sacrificed, he would give portions to Peninnah his wife and to all her sons and daughters. <sup>5</sup>† But to Hannah he gave a double portion, because he loved her, though the LORD had closed her womb. [\[1\]](#) <sup>6</sup>† And her rival used to provoke her grievously to irritate her, because the LORD had closed her womb. <sup>7</sup>† So it went on year by year. As often as she went up to the house of the LORD, she used to provoke her. Therefore Hannah wept and would not eat. <sup>8</sup>† And Elkanah, her husband, said to her, “Hannah, why do you weep? And why do you not eat? And why is your heart sad? Am I not more to you than ten sons?”

peace, and the God of Israel grant your petition that you have made to him.”

<sup>18</sup>And she said, “Let your servant find favor in your eyes.” Then the woman went her way and ate, and her face was no longer sad.

<sup>19</sup>They rose early in the morning and worshiped before the LORD; then they went back to their house at Ramah. And Elkanah knew Hannah his wife, and the LORD remembered her. <sup>20</sup>†And in due time Hannah conceived and bore a son, and she called his name Samuel, for she said, “I have asked for him from the LORD.” [2]

Samuel Given to the LORD

<sup>21</sup>†The man Elkanah and all his house went up to offer to the LORD the yearly sacrifice and to pay his vow. <sup>22</sup>†But Hannah did not go up, for she said to her husband, “As soon as the child is weaned, I will bring him, so that he may appear in the presence of the LORD and dwell there forever.” <sup>23</sup>†Elkanah her husband said to her, “Do what seems best to you; wait until you have weaned him; only, may the LORD establish his word.” So the woman remained and nursed her son until she weaned him. <sup>24</sup>†And when she had weaned him, she took him up with her, along with a three-year-old bull, [3] an ephah [4] of flour, and a skin of wine, and she brought him to the house of the LORD at Shiloh. And the child was young. <sup>25</sup>Then they slaughtered the bull, and they brought the child to Eli. <sup>26</sup>†And she said, “Oh, my lord! As you live, my lord, I am the woman who was standing here in your presence, praying to the LORD. <sup>27</sup>†For this child I prayed, and the LORD has granted me my petition that I made to him. <sup>28</sup>Therefore I have lent him to the LORD. As long as he lives, he is lent to the LORD.”

And he worshiped the LORD there.

Hannah's Prayer

1 SAMUEL 2 †† And Hannah prayed and said, “My heart exults in the LORD; my strength [\[1\]](#) is exalted in the LORD.

My mouth derides my enemies, because I rejoice in your salvation.

2 † “There is none holy like the LORD; there is none besides you;
there is no rock like our God.

3 † Talk no more so very proudly, let not arrogance come from your mouth; for the LORD is a God of knowledge, and by him actions are weighed.

4 † The bows of the mighty are broken, but the feeble bind on strength.

5 † Those who were full have hired themselves out for bread, but those who were hungry have ceased to hunger.

The barren has borne seven,
but she who has many children is forlorn.

6 The LORD kills and brings to life; he brings down to Sheol and raises up.

7 The LORD makes poor and makes rich; he brings low and he exalts.

8 † He raises up the poor from the dust; he lifts the needy from the ash heap to make them sit with princes and inherit a seat of honor.

For the pillars of the earth are the LORD's, and on them he has set the world.

9 “He will guard the feet of his faithful ones, but the wicked shall be cut off in darkness, for not by might shall a man prevail.

10 † The adversaries of the LORD shall be broken to pieces; against them he will thunder in heaven.

The LORD will judge the ends of the earth; he will give strength to his king and exalt the power [\[2\]](#) of his anointed.”

11 † Then Elkanah went home to Ramah. And the boy ministered to the LORD in the presence of Eli the priest.

Eli's Worthless Sons

12 † Now the sons of Eli were worthless men. They did not know the LORD. 13 † The custom of the priests with the people was that when any man offered sacrifice, the priest's servant [\[3\]](#) would come, while the meat was boiling, with a three-pronged fork in his hand, 14 and he would thrust it into the pan or kettle or cauldron or pot. All that the fork brought up the priest would take for himself. This is what they did at Shiloh to all the Israelites who came there. <sup>15</sup>‡Moreover, before the fat was burned, the priest's servant would come and say to the man who was sacrificing, "Give meat for the priest to roast, for he will not accept boiled meat from you but only raw." <sup>16</sup>And if the man said to him, "Let them burn the fat first, and then take as much as you wish," he would say, "No, you must give it now, and if not, I will take it by force." <sup>17</sup>Thus the sin of the young men was very great in the sight of the LORD, for the men treated the offering of the LORD with contempt.

<sup>21</sup>Indeed the LORD visited Hannah, and she conceived and bore three sons and two daughters. And the young man Samuel grew in the presence of the LORD.

Eli Rebukes His Sons

<sup>22</sup>‡Now Eli was very old, and he kept hearing all that his sons were doing to all Israel, and how they lay with the women who were serving at the entrance to the tent of meeting. <sup>23</sup>And he said to them, "Why do you do such things? For I hear of your evil dealings from all the people. <sup>24</sup>No, my sons; it is no good report that I hear the people of the LORD spreading abroad. <sup>25</sup>‡If someone sins against a man, God will mediate for him, but if someone sins against the LORD, who can intercede for him?" But they would not listen to the voice of their father, for it was the will of the LORD to put them to death.

<sup>26</sup>‡Now the young man Samuel continued to grow both in stature and in favor with the LORD and also with man.

The LORD Rejects Eli's Household

<sup>27</sup>‡And there came a man of God to Eli and said to him, "Thus the LORD has said, 'Did I indeed reveal myself to the house of your father when they were in Egypt subject to the house of Pharaoh?' <sup>28</sup>‡Did I choose him out of all the tribes of Israel to be my priest, to go up to my altar, to burn incense, to wear an ephod before me? I gave to the house of your father all my offerings by fire from the people of Israel. <sup>29</sup>†Why then do you scorn [4] my sacrifices and my offerings that I commanded, and honor your sons above me by fattening yourselves on the choicest parts of every offering of my people Israel?’ <sup>30</sup>†Therefore the LORD, the God of Israel, declares: ‘I promised that your house and the house of your father should go in and out before me forever,’ but now the LORD declares: ‘Far be it from me, for those who honor me I will honor, and those who despise me shall be lightly esteemed. <sup>31</sup>†Behold, the days are coming when I will cut off your strength and the strength of your father's house, so that there will not be an old man in your house. <sup>32</sup>Then in distress you will look with envious eye on all the prosperity that shall be bestowed on Israel, and there shall not be an old man in your house forever. <sup>33</sup>The only one of you whom I shall not cut off from my altar shall be spared to weep his [5] eyes out to grieve his heart, and all the descendants [6] of your house shall die by the sword of men. [7] <sup>34</sup>†And this that shall come upon your two sons, Hophni and Phinehas, shall be the sign to you: both of them shall die on the same day. <sup>35</sup>†And I will raise up for myself a faithful priest, who shall do according to what is in my heart and in my mind. And I will build him a sure house, and he shall go in and out before my anointed forever. <sup>36</sup>†And everyone who is left in your house shall come to implore him for a piece of silver or a loaf of bread and shall say, “Please put me in one of the priests' places, that I may eat a morsel of bread.””

The LORD Calls Samuel

1 SAMUEL 3 † Now the young man Samuel was ministering to the LORD under Eli. And the word of the LORD was rare in those days; there was no frequent vision.

<sup>2</sup>At that time Eli, whose eyesight had begun to grow dim so that he could not see, was lying down in his own place. † The lamp of God had not yet gone out, and Samuel was lying down in the temple of the LORD, where the ark of God was.

<sup>4</sup>Then the LORD called Samuel, and he said, “Here I am!” <sup>5</sup>and ran to Eli and said, “Here I am, for you called me.” But he said, “I did not call; lie down again.” So he went and lay down.

<sup>6</sup>And the LORD called again, “Samuel!” and Samuel arose and went to Eli and said, “Here I am, for you called me.” But he said, “I did not call, my son; lie down again.” † Now Samuel did not yet know the LORD, and the word of the LORD had not yet been revealed to him.

<sup>8</sup>† And the LORD called Samuel again the third time. And he arose and went to Eli and said, “Here I am, for you called me.” Then Eli perceived that the LORD was calling the young man. <sup>9</sup>Therefore Eli said to Samuel, “Go, lie down, and if he calls you, you shall say, ‘Speak, LORD, for your servant hears.’” So Samuel went and lay down in his place.

<sup>10</sup>† And the LORD came and stood, calling as at other times, “Samuel! Samuel!” And Samuel said, “Speak, for your servant hears.” <sup>11</sup>† Then the LORD said to Samuel, “Behold, I am about to do a thing in Israel at which the two ears of everyone who hears it will tingle. <sup>12</sup>† On that day I will fulfill against Eli all that I have spoken concerning his house, from beginning to end. <sup>13</sup>† And I declare to him that I am about to punish his house forever, for the iniquity that he knew, because his sons were blaspheming God, [\[1\]](#) and he did not restrain them.

<sup>14</sup>† Therefore I swear to the house of Eli that the iniquity of Eli's house shall not be atoned for by sacrifice or offering forever.”

<sup>15</sup>† Samuel lay until morning; then he opened the doors of the house of the LORD. And Samuel was afraid to tell the vision to Eli. <sup>16</sup>But Eli called Samuel and said, “Samuel, my son.” And he said, “Here I am.” <sup>17</sup>† And Eli said, “What was it that he told you? Do not hide it from me. May God do so to you and more also if you hide anything from me of all that he told you.” <sup>18</sup>† So Samuel told him everything and hid nothing from him. And he said, “It is the LORD. Let him do what seems good to him.”

<sup>19</sup>† And Samuel grew, and the LORD was with him and let none of his words fall to the ground. <sup>20</sup>† And all Israel from Dan to Beersheba knew that Samuel was established as a prophet of the LORD. <sup>21</sup> And the LORD appeared again at Shiloh, for the LORD revealed himself to Samuel at Shiloh by the word of the LORD.

The Philistines Capture the Ark

1 SAMUEL 4 † And the word of Samuel came to all Israel.

Now Israel went out to battle against the Philistines. They encamped at Ebenezer, and the Philistines encamped at Aphek. <sup>2</sup>† The Philistines drew up in line against Israel, and when the battle spread, Israel was defeated by the Philistines, who killed about four thousand men on the field of battle. <sup>3</sup>† And when the troops came to the camp, the elders of Israel said, “Why has the LORD defeated us today before the Philistines? Let us bring the ark of the covenant of the LORD here from Shiloh, that it may come among us and save us from the power of our enemies.” <sup>4</sup>† So the people sent to Shiloh and brought from there the ark of the covenant of the LORD of hosts, who is enthroned on the cherubim. And the two sons of Eli, Hophni and Phinehas, were there with the ark of the covenant of God.

<sup>5</sup>† As soon as the ark of the covenant of the LORD came into the camp, all Israel gave a mighty shout, so that the earth resounded. <sup>6</sup>† And when the Philistines heard the noise of the shouting, they said, “What does this great shouting in the camp of the Hebrews mean?” And when they learned that the ark of the LORD had come to the camp, <sup>7</sup>† the Philistines were afraid, for they said, “A god has come into the camp.” And they said, “Woe to us! For nothing like this has happened before. <sup>8</sup>† Woe to us! Who can deliver us from the power of these mighty gods? These are the gods who struck the Egyptians with every sort of plague in the wilderness. <sup>9</sup>† Take courage, and be men, O Philistines, lest you become slaves to the Hebrews as they have been to you; be men and fight.”

<sup>10</sup>† So the Philistines fought, and Israel was defeated, and they fled, every man to his home. And there was a very great slaughter, for there fell of Israel thirty thousand foot soldiers. <sup>11</sup>† And the ark of God was captured, and the two sons of Eli, Hophni and Phinehas, died.

The Death of Eli

<sup>14</sup>When Eli heard the sound of the outcry, he said, “What is this uproar?” Then the man hurried and came and told Eli. <sup>15</sup>Now Eli was ninety-eight years old and his eyes were set so that he could not see. <sup>16</sup>And the man said to Eli, “I am he who has come from the battle; I fled from the battle today.” And he said, “How did it go, my son?” <sup>17</sup>He who brought the news answered and said, “Israel has fled before the Philistines, and there has also been a great defeat among the people. Your two sons also, Hophni and Phinehas, are dead, and the ark of God has been captured.” <sup>18</sup>†As soon as he mentioned the ark of God, Eli fell over backward from his seat by the side of the gate, and his neck was broken and he died, for the man was old and heavy. He had judged Israel forty years.

<sup>19</sup>Now his daughter-in-law, the wife of Phinehas, was pregnant, about to give birth. And when she heard the news that the ark of God was captured, and that her father-in-law and her husband were dead, she bowed and gave birth, for her pains came upon her. <sup>20</sup>And about the time of her death the women attending her said to her, “Do not be afraid, for you have borne a son.” But she did not answer or pay attention. <sup>21</sup>†And she named the child Ichabod, saying, “The glory has departed [1] from Israel!” because the ark of God had been captured and because of her father-in-law and her husband. <sup>22</sup>And she said, “The glory has departed from Israel, for the ark of God has been captured.”

The Philistines and the Ark

1 SAMUEL 5 †When the Philistines captured the ark of God, they brought it from Ebenezer to Ashdod. †Then the Philistines took the ark of God and brought it into the house of Dagon and set it up beside Dagon. †And when the people of Ashdod rose early the next day, behold, Dagon had fallen face downward on the ground before the ark of the LORD. So they took Dagon and put him back in his place. †But when they rose early on the next morning, behold, Dagon had fallen face downward on the ground before the ark of the LORD, and the head of Dagon and both his hands were lying cut off on the threshold. Only the trunk of Dagon was left to him. †This is why the priests of Dagon and all who enter the house of Dagon do not tread on the threshold of Dagon in Ashdod to this day.

†The hand of the LORD was heavy against the people of Ashdod, and he terrified and afflicted them with tumors, both Ashdod and its territory. †And when the men of Ashdod saw how things were, they said, “The ark of the God of Israel must not remain with us, for his hand is hard against us and against Dagon our god.” †So they sent and gathered together all the lords of the Philistines and said, “What shall we do with the ark of the God of Israel?” They answered, “Let the ark of the God of Israel be brought around to Gath.” So they brought the ark of the God of Israel there. †But after they had brought it around, the hand of the LORD was against the city, causing a very great panic, and he afflicted the men of the city, both young and old, so that tumors broke out on them. †So they sent the ark of God to Ekron. But as soon as the ark of God came to Ekron, the people of Ekron cried out, “They have brought around to us the ark of the God of Israel to kill us and our people.” †They sent therefore and gathered together all the lords of the Philistines and said, “Send away the ark of the God of Israel, and let it return to its own place, that it may not kill us and our people.” For there was a deathly panic throughout the whole city. The hand of God was very heavy there. †The men who did not die were struck with tumors, and the cry of the city went up to heaven.

The Ark Returned to Israel

1 SAMUEL 6 The ark of the LORD was in the country of the Philistines seven months. <sup>2</sup>† And the Philistines called for the priests and the diviners and said, “What shall we do with the ark of the LORD? Tell us with what we shall send it to its place.” <sup>3</sup>† They said, “If you send away the ark of the God of Israel, do not send it empty, but by all means return him a guilt offering. Then you will be healed, and it will be known to you why his hand does not turn away from you.” <sup>4</sup>† And they said, “What is the guilt offering that we shall return to him?” They answered, “Five golden tumors and five golden mice, according to the number of the lords of the Philistines, for the same plague was on all of you and on your lords. <sup>5</sup>† So you must make images of your tumors and images of your mice that ravage the land, and give glory to the God of Israel. Perhaps he will lighten his hand from off you and your gods and your land. <sup>6</sup>† Why should you harden your hearts as the Egyptians and Pharaoh hardened their hearts? After he had dealt severely with them, did they not send the people away, and they departed? <sup>7</sup>† Now then, take and prepare a new cart and two milk cows on which there has never come a yoke, and yoke the cows to the cart, but take their calves home, away from them. <sup>8</sup> And take the ark of the LORD and place it on the cart and put in a box at its side the figures of gold, which you are returning to him as a guilt offering. Then send it off and let it go its way <sup>9</sup>† and watch. If it goes up on the way to its own land, to Beth-shemesh, then it is he who has done us this great harm, but if not, then we shall know that it is not his hand that struck us; it happened to us by coincidence.”

<sup>10</sup> The men did so, and took two milk cows and yoked them to the cart and shut up their calves at home. <sup>11</sup> And they put the ark of the LORD on the cart and the box with the golden mice and the images of their tumors. <sup>12</sup>† And the cows went straight in the direction of Beth-shemesh along one highway, lowing as they went. They turned neither to the right nor to the left, and the lords of the Philistines went after them as far as the border of Beth-shemesh. <sup>13</sup>† Now the people of Beth-shemesh were reaping their wheat harvest in the valley. And when they lifted up their eyes and saw the ark, they rejoiced to see it. <sup>14</sup>† The cart came into the field of Joshua of Beth-shemesh and stopped there. A great stone was there. And they split up the wood of the cart and offered the cows as a burnt offering to the LORD. <sup>15</sup>† And the Levites took down the ark of the LORD and the box that was beside it, in which were the golden figures, and set them upon the great stone. And the men of Beth-shemesh offered burnt offerings and sacrificed sacrifices on that day to the LORD. <sup>16</sup>† And when the five lords of the Philistines saw it, they returned that day to Ekron.

<sup>17</sup> These are the golden tumors that the Philistines returned as a guilt offering to the LORD: one for Ashdod, one for Gaza, one for Ashkelon, one for Gath, one for Ekron, <sup>18</sup> and the golden mice, according to the number of all the cities of the Philistines belonging to the five lords, both fortified cities and unwalled villages. The great stone beside which they set down the ark of the LORD is a witness to this day in the field of Joshua of Beth-shemesh.

<sup>19</sup>† And he struck some of the men of Beth-shemesh, because they looked upon the ark of the LORD. He struck seventy men of them, [1] and the people mourned because the LORD had struck the people with a great blow. <sup>20</sup>† Then the men of Beth-shemesh said, “Who is able to stand before the LORD, this holy God? And to whom shall he go up away from us?” <sup>21</sup>† So they sent messengers to the inhabitants of Kiriath-jearim, saying, “The Philistines have returned the ark of the LORD. Come down and take it up to you.”

1 SAMUEL 7 And the men of Kiriath-jearim came and took up the ark of the LORD and brought it to the house of Abinadab on the hill. And they consecrated his son Eleazar to have charge of the ark of the LORD. <sup>2</sup>†From the day that the ark was lodged at Kiriath-jearim, a long time passed, some twenty years, and all the house of Israel lamented after the LORD.

Samuel Judges Israel

<sup>3</sup>†And Samuel said to all the house of Israel, “If you are returning to the LORD with all your heart, then put away the foreign gods and the Ashtaroath from among you and direct your heart to the LORD and serve him only, and he will deliver you out of the hand of the Philistines.” <sup>4</sup>†So the people of Israel put away the Baals and the Ashtaroath, and they served the LORD only.

<sup>5</sup>†Then Samuel said, “Gather all Israel at Mizpah, and I will pray to the LORD for you.” <sup>6</sup>†So they gathered at Mizpah and drew water and poured it out before the LORD and fasted on that day and said there, “We have sinned against the LORD.” And Samuel judged the people of Israel at Mizpah. <sup>7</sup>†Now when the Philistines heard that the people of Israel had gathered at Mizpah, the lords of the Philistines went up against Israel. And when the people of Israel heard of it, they were afraid of the Philistines. <sup>8</sup>And the people of Israel said to Samuel, “Do not cease to cry out to the LORD our God for us, that he may save us from the hand of the Philistines.” <sup>9</sup>So Samuel took a nursing lamb and offered it as a whole burnt offering to the LORD. And Samuel cried out to the LORD for Israel, and the LORD answered him. <sup>10</sup>†As Samuel was offering up the burnt offering, the Philistines drew near to attack Israel. But the LORD thundered with a mighty sound that day against the Philistines and threw them into confusion, and they were routed before Israel. <sup>11</sup>†And the men of Israel went out from Mizpah and pursued the Philistines and struck them, as far as below Beth-car.

<sup>12</sup>†Then Samuel took a stone and set it up between Mizpah and Shen [1] and called its name Ebenezer; [2] for he said, “Till now the LORD has helped us.”

<sup>13</sup>†So the Philistines were subdued and did not again enter the territory of Israel. And the hand of the LORD was against the Philistines all the days of Samuel.

<sup>14</sup>†The cities that the Philistines had taken from Israel were restored to Israel, from Ekron to Gath, and Israel delivered their territory from the hand of the Philistines. There was peace also between Israel and the Amorites.

<sup>15</sup>Samuel judged Israel all the days of his life. <sup>16</sup>†And he went on a circuit year by year to Bethel, Gilgal, and Mizpah. And he judged Israel in all these places. <sup>17</sup>†Then he would return to Ramah, for his home was there, and there also he judged Israel. And he built there an altar to the LORD.

Israel Demands a King

1 SAMUEL 8 †† When Samuel became old, he made his sons judges over Israel. †† The name of his firstborn son was Joel, and the name of his second, Abijah; they were judges in Beersheba. †† Yet his sons did not walk in his ways but turned aside after gain. They took bribes and perverted justice.

† Then all the elders of Israel gathered together and came to Samuel at Ramah † and said to him, “Behold, you are old and your sons do not walk in your ways. Now appoint for us a king to judge us like all the nations.” † But the thing displeased Samuel when they said, “Give us a king to judge us.” And Samuel prayed to the LORD. † And the LORD said to Samuel, “Obey the voice of the people in all that they say to you, for they have not rejected you, but they have rejected me from being king over them. † According to all the deeds that they have done, from the day I brought them up out of Egypt even to this day, forsaking me and serving other gods, so they are also doing to you. † Now then, obey their voice; only you shall solemnly warn them and show them the ways of the king who shall reign over them.”

Samuel's Warning Against Kings

† So Samuel told all the words of the LORD to the people who were asking for a king from him. † He said, “These will be the ways of the king who will reign over you: he will take your sons and appoint them to his chariots and to be his horsemen and to run before his chariots. † And he will appoint for himself commanders of thousands and commanders of fifties, and some to plow his ground and to reap his harvest, and to make his implements of war and the equipment of his chariots. † He will take your daughters to be perfumers and cooks and bakers. † He will take the best of your fields and vineyards and olive orchards and give them to his servants. † He will take the tenth of your grain and of your vineyards and give it to his officers and to his servants. † He will take your male servants and female servants and the best of your young men [1] and your donkeys, and put them to his work. † He will take the tenth of your flocks, and you shall be his slaves. † And in that day you will cry out because of your king, whom you have chosen for yourselves, but the LORD will not answer you in that day.”

The LORD Grants Israel's Request

<sup>19</sup>†But the people refused to obey the voice of Samuel. And they said, “No! But there shall be a king over us, <sup>20</sup>†that we also may be like all the nations, and that our king may judge us and go out before us and fight our battles.” <sup>21</sup>And when Samuel had heard all the words of the people, he repeated them in the ears of the LORD. <sup>22</sup>And the LORD said to Samuel, “Obey their voice and make them a king.” Samuel then said to the men of Israel, “Go every man to his city.”

Saul Chosen to Be King

1 SAMUEL 9 † There was a man of Benjamin whose name was Kish, the son of Abiel, son of Zeror, son of Becorath, son of Aphiah, a Benjaminite, a man of wealth. <sup>2</sup>† And he had a son whose name was Saul, a handsome young man. There was not a man among the people of Israel more handsome than he. From his shoulders upward he was taller than any of the people.

<sup>3</sup>† Now the donkeys of Kish, Saul's father, were lost. So Kish said to Saul his son, "Take one of the young men with you, and arise, go and look for the donkeys." <sup>4</sup>† And he passed through the hill country of Ephraim and passed through the land of Shalishah, but they did not find them. And they passed through the land of Shaalim, but they were not there. Then they passed through the land of Benjamin, but did not find them.

<sup>5</sup> When they came to the land of Zuph, Saul said to his servant [\[1\]](#) who was with him, "Come, let us go back, lest my father cease to care about the donkeys and become anxious about us." <sup>6</sup>† But he said to him, "Behold, there is a man of God in this city, and he is a man who is held in honor; all that he says comes true. So now let us go there. Perhaps he can tell us the way we should go." <sup>7</sup>† Then Saul said to his servant, "But if we go, what can we bring the man? For the bread in our sacks is gone, and there is no present to bring to the man of God. What do we have?" <sup>8</sup>† The servant answered Saul again, "Here, I have with me a quarter of a shekel [\[2\]](#) of silver, and I will give it to the man of God to tell us our way." <sup>9</sup>† (Formerly in Israel, when a man went to inquire of God, he said, "Come, let us go to the seer," for today's "prophet" was formerly called a seer.) <sup>10</sup> And Saul said to his servant, "Well said; come, let us go." So they went to the city where the man of God was.

<sup>11</sup> As they went up the hill to the city, they met young women coming out to draw water and said to them, "Is the seer here?" <sup>12</sup>† They answered, "He is; behold, he is just ahead of you. Hurry. He has come just now to the city, because the people have a sacrifice today on the high place. <sup>13</sup>† As soon as you enter the city you will find him, before he goes up to the high place to eat. For the people will not eat till he comes, since he must bless the sacrifice; afterward those who are invited will eat. Now go up, for you will meet him immediately." <sup>14</sup> So they went up to the city. As they were entering the city, they saw Samuel coming out toward them on his way up to the high place.

<sup>16</sup>†“Tomorrow about this time I will send to you a man from the land of Benjamin, and you shall anoint him to be prince over my people Israel. He shall save my people from the hand of the Philistines. For I have seen [3] my people, because their cry has come to me.” <sup>17</sup>†When Samuel saw Saul, the LORD told him, “Here is the man of whom I spoke to you! He it is who shall restrain my people.” <sup>18</sup>†Then Saul approached Samuel in the gate and said, “Tell me where is the house of the seer?” <sup>19</sup>Samuel answered Saul, “I am the seer. Go up before me to the high place, for today you shall eat with me, and in the morning I will let you go and will tell you all that is on your mind. <sup>20</sup>†As for your donkeys that were lost three days ago, do not set your mind on them, for they have been found. And for whom is all that is desirable in Israel? Is it not for you and for all your father's house?” <sup>21</sup>†Saul answered, “Am I not a Benjaminite, from the least of the tribes of Israel? And is not my clan the humblest of all the clans of the tribe of Benjamin? Why then have you spoken to me in this way?”

<sup>22</sup>†Then Samuel took Saul and his young man and brought them into the hall and gave them a place at the head of those who had been invited, who were about thirty persons. <sup>23</sup>And Samuel said to the cook, “Bring the portion I gave you, of which I said to you, ‘Put it aside.’” <sup>24</sup>†So the cook took up the leg and what was on it and set them before Saul. And Samuel said, “See, what was kept is set before you. Eat, because it was kept for you until the hour appointed, that you might eat with the guests.” [4]

So Saul ate with Samuel that day. <sup>25</sup>†And when they came down from the high place into the city, a bed was spread for Saul [5] on the roof, and he lay down to sleep. <sup>26</sup>Then at the break of dawn [6] Samuel called to Saul on the roof, “Up, that I may send you on your way.” So Saul arose, and both he and Samuel went out into the street.

<sup>27</sup>†As they were going down to the outskirts of the city, Samuel said to Saul, “Tell the servant to pass on before us, and when he has passed on, stop here yourself for a while, that I may make known to you the word of God.”

Saul Anointed King

1 SAMUEL 10 †Then Samuel took a flask of oil and poured it on his head and kissed him and said, “Has not the LORD anointed you to be prince over his people Israel? And you shall reign over the people of the LORD and you will save them from the hand of their surrounding enemies. And this shall be the sign to you that the LORD has anointed you to be prince [1] over his heritage. †When you depart from me today, you will meet two men by Rachel's tomb in the territory of Benjamin at Zelzah, and they will say to you, ‘The donkeys that you went to seek are found, and now your father has ceased to care about the donkeys and is anxious about you, saying, “What shall I do about my son?”’ †Then you shall go on from there farther and come to the oak of Tabor. Three men going up to God at Bethel will meet you there, one carrying three young goats, another carrying three loaves of bread, and another carrying a skin of wine. †And they will greet you and give you two loaves of bread, which you shall accept from their hand. †After that you shall come to Gibeath-elohim, [2] where there is a garrison of the Philistines. And there, as soon as you come to the city, you will meet a group of prophets coming down from the high place with harp, tambourine, flute, and lyre before them, prophesying. †Then the Spirit of the LORD will rush upon you, and you will prophesy with them and be turned into another man. †Now when these signs meet you, do what your hand finds to do, for God is with you. †Then go down before me to Gilgal. And behold, I am coming to you to offer burnt offerings and to sacrifice peace offerings. Seven days you shall wait, until I come to you and show you what you shall do.”

†When he turned his back to leave Samuel, God gave him another heart. And all these signs came to pass that day. †When they came to Gibeah, [3] behold, a group of prophets met him, and the Spirit of God rushed upon him, and he prophesied among them. †And when all who knew him previously saw how he prophesied with the prophets, the people said to one another, “What has come over the son of Kish? Is Saul also among the prophets?” †And a man of the place answered, “And who is their father?” Therefore it became a proverb, “Is Saul also among the prophets?” †When he had finished prophesying, he came to the high place.

†Saul's uncle said to him and to his servant, “Where did you go?” And he said, “To seek the donkeys. And when we saw they were not to be found, we went to Samuel.” †And Saul's uncle said, “Please tell me what Samuel said to you.”

<sup>16</sup>† And Saul said to his uncle, “He told us plainly that the donkeys had been found.” But about the matter of the kingdom, of which Samuel had spoken, he did not tell him anything.

Saul Proclaimed King

<sup>17</sup>† Now Samuel called the people together to the LORD at Mizpah. <sup>18</sup>† And he said to the people of Israel, “Thus says the LORD, the God of Israel, ‘I brought up Israel out of Egypt, and I delivered you from the hand of the Egyptians and from the hand of all the kingdoms that were oppressing you.’ <sup>19</sup>But today you have rejected your God, who saves you from all your calamities and your distresses, and you have said to him, ‘Set a king over us.’ Now therefore present yourselves before the LORD by your tribes and by your thousands.”

<sup>20</sup>† Then Samuel brought all the tribes of Israel near, and the tribe of Benjamin was taken by lot. <sup>21</sup>He brought the tribe of Benjamin near by its clans, and the clan of the Matrites was taken by lot; [\[4\]](#) and Saul the son of Kish was taken by lot. But when they sought him, he could not be found. <sup>22</sup>† So they inquired again of the LORD, “Is there a man still to come?” and the LORD said, “Behold, he has hidden himself among the baggage.” <sup>23</sup>† Then they ran and took him from there. And when he stood among the people, he was taller than any of the people from his shoulders upward. <sup>24</sup>And Samuel said to all the people, “Do you see him whom the LORD has chosen? There is none like him among all the people.” And all the people shouted, “Long live the king!”

<sup>25</sup>† Then Samuel told the people the rights and duties of the kingship, and he wrote them in a book and laid it up before the LORD. Then Samuel sent all the people away, each one to his home. <sup>26</sup>† Saul also went to his home at Gibeah, and with him went men of valor whose hearts God had touched. <sup>27</sup>† But some worthless fellows said, “How can this man save us?” And they despised him and brought him no present. But he held his peace.

Saul Defeats the Ammonites

1 SAMUEL 11 † Then Nahash the Ammonite went up and besieged Jabesh-gilead, and all the men of Jabesh said to Nahash, “Make a treaty with us, and we will serve you.” † But Nahash the Ammonite said to them, “On this condition I will make a treaty with you, that I gouge out all your right eyes, and thus bring disgrace on all Israel.” † The elders of Jabesh said to him, “Give us seven days’ respite that we may send messengers through all the territory of Israel. Then, if there is no one to save us, we will give ourselves up to you.” † When the messengers came to Gibeah of Saul, they reported the matter in the ears of the people, and all the people wept aloud.

† Now, behold, Saul was coming from the field behind the oxen. And Saul said, “What is wrong with the people, that they are weeping?” So they told him the news of the men of Jabesh. † And the Spirit of God rushed upon Saul when he heard these words, and his anger was greatly kindled. † He took a yoke of oxen and cut them in pieces and sent them throughout all the territory of Israel by the hand of messengers, saying, “Whoever does not come out after Saul and Samuel, so shall it be done to his oxen!” Then the dread of the LORD fell upon the people, and they came out as one man. † When he mustered them at Bezek, the people of Israel were three hundred thousand, and the men of Judah thirty thousand. † And they said to the messengers who had come, “Thus shall you say to the men of Jabesh-gilead: ‘Tomorrow, by the time the sun is hot, you shall have deliverance.’” When the messengers came and told the men of Jabesh, they were glad. † Therefore the men of Jabesh said, “Tomorrow we will give ourselves up to you, and you may do to us whatever seems good to you.” † And the next day Saul put the people in three companies. And they came into the midst of the camp in the morning watch and struck down the Ammonites until the heat of the day. And those who survived were scattered, so that no two of them were left together.

The Kingdom Is Renewed

† Then the people said to Samuel, “Who is it that said, ‘Shall Saul reign over us?’ Bring the men, that we may put them to death.” † But Saul said, “Not a man shall be put to death this day, for today the LORD has worked salvation in Israel.” † Then Samuel said to the people, “Come, let us go to Gilgal and there renew the kingdom.” † So all the people went to Gilgal, and there they made Saul king before the LORD in Gilgal. There they sacrificed peace offerings before the LORD, and there Saul and all the men of Israel rejoiced greatly.

Samuel's Farewell Address

1 SAMUEL 12 †And Samuel said to all Israel, “Behold, I have obeyed your voice in all that you have said to me and have made a king over you. <sup>2</sup>And now, behold, the king walks before you, and I am old and gray; and behold, my sons are with you. I have walked before you from my youth until this day. <sup>3</sup>†Here I am; testify against me before the LORD and before his anointed. Whose ox have I taken? Or whose donkey have I taken? Or whom have I defrauded? Whom have I oppressed? Or from whose hand have I taken a bribe to blind my eyes with it? Testify against me [\[1\]](#) and I will restore it to you.” <sup>4</sup>They said, “You have not defrauded us or oppressed us or taken anything from any man's hand.” <sup>5</sup>And he said to them, “The LORD is witness against you, and his anointed is witness this day, that you have not found anything in my hand.” And they said, “He is witness.”

<sup>6</sup>And Samuel said to the people, “The LORD is witness, [\[2\]](#) who appointed Moses and Aaron and brought your fathers up out of the land of Egypt. <sup>7</sup>†Now therefore stand still that I may plead with you before the LORD concerning all the righteous deeds of the LORD that he performed for you and for your fathers. <sup>8</sup>When Jacob went into Egypt, and the Egyptians oppressed them, [\[3\]](#) then your fathers cried out to the LORD and the LORD sent Moses and Aaron, who brought your fathers out of Egypt and made them dwell in this place. <sup>9</sup>But they forgot the LORD their God. And he sold them into the hand of Sisera, commander of the army of Hazor, [\[4\]](#) and into the hand of the Philistines, and into the hand of the king of Moab. And they fought against them. <sup>10</sup>And they cried out to the LORD and said, ‘We have sinned, because we have forsaken the LORD and have served the Baals and the Ashtaroth. But now deliver us out of the hand of our enemies, that we may serve you.’ <sup>11</sup>†And the LORD sent Jerubbaal and Barak [\[5\]](#) and Jephthah and Samuel and delivered you out of the hand of your enemies on every side, and you lived in safety. <sup>12</sup>†And when you saw that Nahash the king of the Ammonites came against you, you said to me, ‘No, but a king shall reign over us,’ when the LORD your God was your king. <sup>13</sup>†And now behold the king whom you have chosen, for whom you have asked; behold, the LORD has set a king over you. <sup>14</sup>†If you will fear the LORD and serve him and obey his voice and not rebel against the commandment of the LORD, and if both you and the king who reigns over you will follow the LORD your God, it will be well. <sup>15</sup>†But if you will not obey the voice of the LORD, but rebel against the commandment of the LORD, then the hand of the LORD will be against you and your king. [\[6\]](#) <sup>16</sup>†Now therefore stand still and see this great thing that the LORD will do before your eyes. <sup>17</sup>Is it not wheat harvest today? I will call upon the LORD, that he may send thunder and rain. And you shall know and see that your wickedness is great, which you have done in the sight of the LORD, in asking for yourselves a king.” <sup>18</sup>So Samuel called upon the LORD, and the LORD sent thunder and rain that day, and all the people greatly feared the LORD and Samuel.

<sup>19</sup>†And all the people said to Samuel, “Pray for your servants to the LORD your God, that we may not die, for we have added to all our sins this evil, to ask for ourselves a king.” <sup>20</sup>†And Samuel said to the people, “Do not be afraid; you have done all this evil. Yet do not turn aside from following the LORD, but serve the LORD with all your heart. <sup>21</sup>†And do not turn aside after empty things that cannot profit or deliver, for they are empty. <sup>22</sup>For the LORD will not forsake his people, for his great name's sake, because it has pleased the LORD to make you a people for himself. <sup>23</sup>Moreover, as for me, far be it from me that I should sin against the LORD by ceasing to pray for you, and I will instruct you in the good and the right way. <sup>24</sup>Only fear the LORD and serve him faithfully with all your heart. For consider what great things he has done for you. <sup>25</sup>But if you still do wickedly, you shall be swept away, both you and your king.”

Saul Fights the Philistines

1 SAMUEL 13 †Saul was . . . [\[1\]](#) years old when he began to reign, and he reigned . . . and two [\[2\]](#) years over Israel.

<sup>2</sup>†Saul chose three thousand men of Israel. Two thousand were with Saul in Michmash and the hill country of Bethel, and a thousand were with Jonathan in Gibeah of Benjamin. The rest of the people he sent home, every man to his tent.

<sup>3</sup>†Jonathan defeated the garrison of the Philistines that was at Geba, and the Philistines heard of it. And Saul blew the trumpet throughout all the land, saying, “Let the Hebrews hear.” <sup>4</sup>†And all Israel heard it said that Saul had defeated the garrison of the Philistines, and also that Israel had become a stench to the Philistines. And the people were called out to join Saul at Gilgal.

<sup>5</sup>†And the Philistines mustered to fight with Israel, thirty thousand chariots and six thousand horsemen and troops like the sand on the seashore in multitude. They came up and encamped in Michmash, to the east of Beth-aven. <sup>6</sup>When the men of Israel saw that they were in trouble (for the people were hard pressed), the people hid themselves in caves and in holes and in rocks and in tombs and in cisterns, <sup>7</sup>†and some Hebrews crossed the fords of the Jordan to the land of Gad and Gilead. Saul was still at Gilgal, and all the people followed him trembling.

Saul's Unlawful Sacrifice

<sup>8</sup>†He waited seven days, the time appointed by Samuel. But Samuel did not come to Gilgal, and the people were scattering from him. <sup>9</sup>†So Saul said, “Bring the burnt offering here to me, and the peace offerings.” And he offered the burnt offering. <sup>10</sup>As soon as he had finished offering the burnt offering, behold, Samuel came. And Saul went out to meet him and greet him. <sup>11</sup>†Samuel said, “What have you done?” And Saul said, “When I saw that the people were scattering from me, and that you did not come within the days appointed, and that the Philistines had mustered at Michmash, <sup>12</sup>I said, ‘Now the Philistines will come down against me at Gilgal, and I have not sought the favor of the LORD.’ So I forced myself, and offered the burnt offering.” <sup>13</sup>†And Samuel said to Saul, “You have done foolishly. You have not kept the command of the LORD your God, with which he commanded you. For then the LORD would have established your kingdom over Israel forever. <sup>14</sup>†But now your kingdom shall not continue. The LORD has sought out a man after his own heart, and the LORD has commanded him to be prince over his people, because you have not kept what the LORD commanded you.” <sup>15</sup>† And Samuel arose and went up from Gilgal. The rest of the people went up after Saul to meet the army; they went up from Gilgal [3] to Gibeah of Benjamin.

And Saul numbered the people who were present with him, about six hundred men. <sup>16</sup> And Saul and Jonathan his son and the people who were present with them stayed in Geba of Benjamin, but the Philistines encamped in Michmash. <sup>17</sup>† And raiders came out of the camp of the Philistines in three companies. One company turned toward Ophrah, to the land of Shual; <sup>18</sup> another company turned toward Beth-horon; and another company turned toward the border that looks down on the Valley of Zeboim toward the wilderness.

<sup>19</sup>† Now there was no blacksmith to be found throughout all the land of Israel, for the Philistines said, “Lest the Hebrews make themselves swords or spears.” <sup>20</sup>† But every one of the Israelites went down to the Philistines to sharpen his plowshare, his mattock, his axe, or his sickle, [4] <sup>21</sup>† and the charge was two-thirds of a shekel [5] for the plowshares and for the mattocks, and a third of a shekel [6] for sharpening the axes and for setting the goads. [7] <sup>22</sup>† So on the day of the battle there was neither sword nor spear found in the hand of any of the people with Saul and Jonathan, but Saul and Jonathan his son had them. <sup>23</sup>† And the garrison of the Philistines went out to the pass of Michmash.

Jonathan Defeats the Philistines

1 SAMUEL 14 †One day Jonathan the son of Saul said to the young man who carried his armor, “Come, let us go over to the Philistine garrison on the other side.” But he did not tell his father. <sup>2</sup>†Saul was staying in the outskirts of Gibeah in the pomegranate cave [\[1\]](#) at Migron. The people who were with him were about six hundred men, <sup>3</sup>†including Ahijah the son of Ahitub, Ichabod's brother, son of Phinehas, son of Eli, the priest of the LORD in Shiloh, wearing an ephod. And the people did not know that Jonathan had gone. <sup>4</sup>†Within the passes, by which Jonathan sought to go over to the Philistine garrison, there was a rocky crag on the one side and a rocky crag on the other side. The name of the one was Bozez, and the name of the other Seneh. <sup>5</sup>The one crag rose on the north in front of Michmash, and the other on the south in front of Geba.

<sup>6</sup>†Jonathan said to the young man who carried his armor, “Come, let us go over to the garrison of these uncircumcised. It may be that the LORD will work for us, for nothing can hinder the LORD from saving by many or by few.” <sup>7</sup>And his armor-bearer said to him, “Do all that is in your heart. Do as you wish. [\[2\]](#) Behold, I am with you heart and soul.” <sup>8</sup>Then Jonathan said, “Behold, we will cross over to the men, and we will show ourselves to them. <sup>9</sup>If they say to us, ‘Wait until we come to you,’ then we will stand still in our place, and we will not go up to them. <sup>10</sup>†But if they say, ‘Come up to us,’ then we will go up, for the LORD has given them into our hand. And this shall be the sign to us.” <sup>11</sup>†So both of them showed themselves to the garrison of the Philistines. And the Philistines said, “Look, Hebrews are coming out of the holes where they have hidden themselves.” <sup>12</sup>And the men of the garrison hailed Jonathan and his armor-bearer and said, “Come up to us, and we will show you a thing.” And Jonathan said to his armor-bearer, “Come up after me, for the LORD has given them into the hand of Israel.” <sup>13</sup>Then Jonathan climbed up on his hands and feet, and his armor-bearer after him. And they fell before Jonathan, and his armor-bearer killed them after him. <sup>14</sup>And that first strike, which Jonathan and his armor-bearer made, killed about twenty men within as it were half a furrow's length in an acre [\[3\]](#) of land. <sup>15</sup>†And there was a panic in the camp, in the field, and among all the people. The garrison and even the raiders trembled, the earth quaked, and it became a very great panic.

were with him, “Count and see who has gone from us.” And when they had counted, behold, Jonathan and his armor-bearer were not there. <sup>18</sup>† So Saul said to Ahijah, “Bring the ark of God here.” For the ark of God went at that time with the people [5] of Israel. <sup>19</sup>† Now while Saul was talking to the priest, the tumult in the camp of the Philistines increased more and more. So Saul said to the priest, “Withdraw your hand.” <sup>20</sup> Then Saul and all the people who were with him rallied and went into the battle. And behold, every Philistine's sword was against his fellow, and there was very great confusion. <sup>21</sup>† Now the Hebrews who had been with the Philistines before that time and who had gone up with them into the camp, even they also turned to be with the Israelites who were with Saul and Jonathan. <sup>22</sup>† Likewise, when all the men of Israel who had hidden themselves in the hill country of Ephraim heard that the Philistines were fleeing, they too followed hard after them in the battle. <sup>23</sup>† So the LORD saved Israel that day. And the battle passed beyond Beth-aven.

Saul's Rash Vow

<sup>24</sup>† And the men of Israel had been hard pressed that day, so Saul had laid an oath on the people, saying, “Cursed be the man who eats food until it is evening and I am avenged on my enemies.” So none of the people had tasted food. <sup>25</sup>† Now when all the people [6] came to the forest, behold, there was honey on the ground. <sup>26</sup> And when the people entered the forest, behold, the honey was dropping, but no one put his hand to his mouth, for the people feared the oath. <sup>27</sup>† But Jonathan had not heard his father charge the people with the oath, so he put out the tip of the staff that was in his hand and dipped it in the honeycomb and put his hand to his mouth, and his eyes became bright. <sup>28</sup> Then one of the people said, “Your father strictly charged the people with an oath, saying, ‘Cursed be the man who eats food this day.’” And the people were faint. <sup>29</sup>† Then Jonathan said, “My father has troubled the land. See how my eyes have become bright because I tasted a little of this honey. <sup>30</sup> How much better if the people had eaten freely today of the spoil of their enemies that they found. For now the defeat among the Philistines has not been great.”

people and say to them, ‘Let every man bring his ox or his sheep and slaughter them here and eat, and do not sin against the LORD by eating with the blood.’” So every one of the people brought his ox with him that night and they slaughtered them there. <sup>35</sup>† And Saul built an altar to the LORD; it was the first altar that he built to the LORD.

<sup>36</sup>† Then Saul said, “Let us go down after the Philistines by night and plunder them until the morning light; let us not leave a man of them.” And they said, “Do whatever seems good to you.” But the priest said, “Let us draw near to God here.” <sup>37</sup>† And Saul inquired of God, “Shall I go down after the Philistines? Will you give them into the hand of Israel?” But he did not answer him that day. <sup>38</sup> And Saul said, “Come here, all you leaders of the people, and know and see how this sin has arisen today. <sup>39</sup>† For as the LORD lives who saves Israel, though it be in Jonathan my son, he shall surely die.” But there was not a man among all the people who answered him. <sup>40</sup> Then he said to all Israel, “You shall be on one side, and I and Jonathan my son will be on the other side.” And the people said to Saul, “Do what seems good to you.” <sup>41</sup>† Therefore Saul said, “O LORD God of Israel, why [8] have you not answered your servant this day? If this guilt is in me or in Jonathan my son, O LORD, God of Israel, give Urim. But if this guilt is in your people Israel, give Thummim.” And Jonathan and Saul were taken, but the people escaped. <sup>42</sup> Then Saul said, “Cast the lot between me and my son Jonathan.” And Jonathan was taken.

<sup>43</sup> Then Saul said to Jonathan, “Tell me what you have done.” And Jonathan told him, “I tasted a little honey with the tip of the staff that was in my hand. Here I am; I will die.” <sup>44</sup>† And Saul said, “God do so to me and more also; you shall surely die, Jonathan.” <sup>45</sup>† Then the people said to Saul, “Shall Jonathan die, who has worked this great salvation in Israel? Far from it! As the LORD lives, there shall not one hair of his head fall to the ground, for he has worked with God this day.” So the people ransomed Jonathan, so that he did not die. <sup>46</sup>† Then Saul went up from pursuing the Philistines, and the Philistines went to their own place.

Saul Fights Israel's Enemies

<sup>47</sup>† When Saul had taken the kingship over Israel, he fought against all his enemies on every side, against Moab, against the Ammonites, against Edom, against the kings of Zobah, and against the Philistines. Wherever he turned he routed them. <sup>48</sup> And he did valiantly and struck the Amalekites and delivered Israel out of the hands of those who plundered them.

<sup>49</sup>‡ Now the sons of Saul were Jonathan, Ishvi, and Malchi-shua. And the names of his two daughters were these: the name of the firstborn was Merab, and the name of the younger Michal. <sup>50</sup>‡ And the name of Saul's wife was Ahinoam the daughter of Ahimaaz. And the name of the commander of his army was Abner the son of Ner, Saul's uncle. <sup>51</sup>‡ Kish was the father of Saul, and Ner the father of Abner was the son of Abiel.

<sup>52</sup>‡ There was hard fighting against the Philistines all the days of Saul. And when Saul saw any strong man, or any valiant man, he attached him to himself.

The LORD Rejects Saul

1 SAMUEL 15 And Samuel said to Saul, “The LORD sent me to anoint you king over his people Israel; now therefore listen to the words of the LORD. <sup>2</sup>† Thus says the LORD of hosts, ‘I have noted what Amalek did to Israel in opposing them on the way when they came up out of Egypt. <sup>3</sup>† Now go and strike Amalek and devote to destruction [\[1\]](#) all that they have. Do not spare them, but kill both man and woman, child and infant, ox and sheep, camel and donkey.’”

<sup>4</sup>† So Saul summoned the people and numbered them in Telaim, two hundred thousand men on foot, and ten thousand men of Judah. <sup>5</sup>† And Saul came to the city of Amalek and lay in wait in the valley. <sup>6</sup>† Then Saul said to the Kenites, “Go, depart; go down from among the Amalekites, lest I destroy you with them. For you showed kindness to all the people of Israel when they came up out of Egypt.” So the Kenites departed from among the Amalekites. <sup>7</sup>† And Saul defeated the Amalekites from Havilah as far as Shur, which is east of Egypt. <sup>8</sup>† And he took Agag the king of the Amalekites alive and devoted to destruction all the people with the edge of the sword. <sup>9</sup>† But Saul and the people spared Agag and the best of the sheep and of the oxen and of the fattened calves [\[2\]](#) and the lambs, and all that was good, and would not utterly destroy them. All that was despised and worthless they devoted to destruction.

<sup>10</sup> The word of the LORD came to Samuel: <sup>11</sup>† “I regret that I have made Saul king, for he has turned back from following me and has not performed my commandments.” And Samuel was angry, and he cried to the LORD all night. <sup>12</sup>† And Samuel rose early to meet Saul in the morning. And it was told Samuel, “Saul came to Carmel, and behold, he set up a monument for himself and turned and passed on and went down to Gilgal.” <sup>13</sup>† And Samuel came to Saul, and Saul said to him, “Blessed be you to the LORD. I have performed the commandment of the LORD.” <sup>14</sup> And Samuel said, “What then is this bleating of the sheep in my ears and the lowing of the oxen that I hear?” <sup>15</sup>† Saul said, “They have brought them from the Amalekites, for the people spared the best of the sheep and of the oxen to sacrifice to the LORD your God, and the rest we have devoted to destruction.” <sup>16</sup> Then Samuel said to Saul, “Stop! I will tell you what the LORD said to me this night.” And he said to him, “Speak.”

<sup>17</sup>† And Samuel said, “Though you are little in your own eyes, are you not the head of the tribes of Israel? The LORD anointed you king over Israel. <sup>18</sup> And the LORD sent you on a mission and said, ‘Go, devote to destruction the sinners, the Amalekites, and fight against them until they are consumed.’ <sup>19</sup>† Why then did you not obey the voice of the LORD? Why did you pounce on the spoil and do what was evil in the sight of the LORD?” <sup>20</sup>† And Saul said to Samuel, “I have obeyed the voice of the LORD. I have gone on the mission on which the LORD sent me. I have brought Agag the king of Amalek, and I have devoted the Amalekites to destruction. <sup>21</sup> But the people took of the spoil, sheep and oxen, the best of the things devoted to destruction, to sacrifice to the LORD your God in Gilgal.” <sup>22</sup>† And Samuel said, “Has the LORD as great delight in burnt offerings and sacrifices, as in obeying the voice of the LORD?”

Behold, to obey is better than sacrifice, and to listen than the fat of rams.

<sup>23</sup>† For rebellion is as the sin of divination, and presumption is as iniquity and idolatry.

Because you have rejected the word of the LORD, he has also rejected you from being king.”

<sup>24</sup>† Saul said to Samuel, “I have sinned, for I have transgressed the commandment of the LORD and your words, because I feared the people and obeyed their voice. <sup>25</sup>† Now therefore, please pardon my sin and return with me that I may worship the LORD.” <sup>26</sup> And Samuel said to Saul, “I will not return with you. For you have rejected the word of the LORD, and the LORD has rejected you from being king over Israel.” <sup>27</sup> As Samuel turned to go away, Saul seized the skirt of his robe, and it tore. <sup>28</sup>† And Samuel said to him, “The LORD has torn the kingdom of Israel from you this day and has given it to a neighbor of yours, who is better than you. <sup>29</sup>† And also the Glory of Israel will not lie or have regret, for he is not a man, that he should have regret.” <sup>30</sup>† Then he said, “I have sinned; yet honor me now before the elders of my people and before Israel, and return with me, that I may bow before the LORD your God.” <sup>31</sup>† So Samuel turned back after Saul, and Saul bowed before the LORD.

<sup>32</sup> Then Samuel said, “Bring here to me Agag the king of the Amalekites.” And Agag came to him cheerfully. [3] Agag said, “Surely the bitterness of death is past.” <sup>33</sup>† And Samuel said, “As your sword has made women childless, so shall your mother be childless among women.” And Samuel hacked Agag to pieces before the LORD in Gilgal.

<sup>34</sup> Then Samuel went to Ramah, and Saul went up to his house in Gibeah of Saul. <sup>35</sup>† And Samuel did not see Saul again until the day of his death, but Samuel grieved over Saul. And the LORD regretted that he had made Saul king over Israel.

David Anointed King

1 SAMUEL 16 †† The LORD said to Samuel, “How long will you grieve over Saul, since I have rejected him from being king over Israel? Fill your horn with oil, and go. I will send you to Jesse the Bethlehemite, for I have provided for myself a king among his sons.” † And Samuel said, “How can I go? If Saul hears it, he will kill me.” And the LORD said, “Take a heifer with you and say, ‘I have come to sacrifice to the LORD.’” † And invite Jesse to the sacrifice, and I will show you what you shall do. And you shall anoint for me him whom I declare to you.” † Samuel did what the LORD commanded and came to Bethlehem. The elders of the city came to meet him trembling and said, “Do you come peaceably?” † And he said, “Peaceably; I have come to sacrifice to the LORD. Consecrate yourselves, and come with me to the sacrifice.” And he consecrated Jesse and his sons and invited them to the sacrifice.

† When they came, he looked on Eliab and thought, “Surely the LORD's anointed is before him.” † But the LORD said to Samuel, “Do not look on his appearance or on the height of his stature, because I have rejected him. For the LORD sees not as man sees: man looks on the outward appearance, but the LORD looks on the heart.” † Then Jesse called Abinadab and made him pass before Samuel. And he said, “Neither has the LORD chosen this one.” † Then Jesse made Shammah pass by. And he said, “Neither has the LORD chosen this one.” † And Jesse made seven of his sons pass before Samuel. And Samuel said to Jesse, “The LORD has not chosen these.” † Then Samuel said to Jesse, “Are all your sons here?” And he said, “There remains yet the youngest, [\[1\]](#) but behold, he is keeping the sheep.” And Samuel said to Jesse, “Send and get him, for we will not sit down till he comes here.” † And he sent and brought him in. Now he was ruddy and had beautiful eyes and was handsome. And the LORD said, “Arise, anoint him, for this is he.” † Then Samuel took the horn of oil and anointed him in the midst of his brothers. And the Spirit of the LORD rushed upon David from that day forward. And Samuel rose up and went to Ramah.

David in Saul's Service

† Now the Spirit of the LORD departed from Saul, and a harmful spirit from the LORD tormented him. † And Saul's servants said to him, “Behold now, a harmful spirit from God is tormenting you.” † Let our lord now command your servants who are before you to seek out a man who is skillful in playing the lyre, and when the harmful spirit from God is upon you, he will play it, and you will be well.”<sup>17</sup> So Saul said to his servants, “Provide for me a man who can play well and bring him to me.”<sup>18</sup> † One of the young men answered, “Behold, I have seen a son of Jesse the Bethlehemite, who is skillful in playing, a man of valor, a man of war, prudent in speech, and a man of good presence, and the LORD is with him.”<sup>19</sup> † Therefore Saul sent messengers to Jesse and said, “Send me David your son, who is with the sheep.”<sup>20</sup> And Jesse took a donkey laden with bread and a skin of wine and a young goat and sent them by David his son to Saul.<sup>21</sup> † And David came to Saul and entered his service. And Saul loved him greatly, and he became his armor-bearer.<sup>22</sup> And Saul sent to Jesse, saying, “Let David remain in my service, for he has found favor in my sight.”<sup>23</sup> And whenever the harmful spirit from God was upon Saul, David took the lyre and played it with his hand. So Saul was refreshed and was well, and the harmful spirit departed from him.

David and Goliath

1 SAMUEL 17 †Now the Philistines gathered their armies for battle. And they were gathered at Socoh, which belongs to Judah, and encamped between Socoh and Azekah, in Ephes-dammim. <sup>2</sup>†And Saul and the men of Israel were gathered, and encamped in the Valley of Elah, and drew up in line of battle against the Philistines. <sup>3</sup>And the Philistines stood on the mountain on the one side, and Israel stood on the mountain on the other side, with a valley between them. <sup>4</sup>††And there came out from the camp of the Philistines a champion named Goliath of Gath, whose height was six [\[1\]](#) cubits and a span. <sup>5</sup>†He had a helmet of bronze on his head, and he was armed with a coat of mail, and the weight of the coat was five thousand shekels [\[2\]](#) of bronze. <sup>6</sup>And he had bronze armor on his legs, and a javelin of bronze slung between his shoulders. <sup>7</sup>†The shaft of his spear was like a weaver's beam, and his spear's head weighed six hundred shekels of iron. And his shield-bearer went before him. <sup>8</sup>He stood and shouted to the ranks of Israel, "Why have you come out to draw up for battle? Am I not a Philistine, and are you not servants of Saul? Choose a man for yourselves, and let him come down to me. <sup>9</sup>If he is able to fight with me and kill me, then we will be your servants. But if I prevail against him and kill him, then you shall be our servants and serve us." <sup>10</sup>And the Philistine said, "I defy the ranks of Israel this day. Give me a man, that we may fight together." <sup>11</sup>†When Saul and all Israel heard these words of the Philistine, they were dismayed and greatly afraid.

<sup>12</sup>†Now David was the son of an Ephrathite of Bethlehem in Judah, named Jesse, who had eight sons. In the days of Saul the man was already old and advanced in years. [\[3\]](#) <sup>13</sup>The three oldest sons of Jesse had followed Saul to the battle. And the names of his three sons who went to the battle were Eliab the firstborn, and next to him Abinadab, and the third Shammah. <sup>14</sup>David was the youngest. The three eldest followed Saul, <sup>15</sup>†but David went back and forth from Saul to feed his father's sheep at Bethlehem. <sup>16</sup>For forty days the Philistine came forward and took his stand, morning and evening.

<sup>17</sup>†And Jesse said to David his son, "Take for your brothers an ephah [\[4\]](#) of this parched grain, and these ten loaves, and carry them quickly to the camp to your brothers. <sup>18</sup>Also take these ten cheeses to the commander of their thousand. See if your brothers are well, and bring some token from them."

with the Philistines. <sup>20</sup>And David rose early in the morning and left the sheep with a keeper and took the provisions and went, as Jesse had commanded him. And he came to the encampment as the host was going out to the battle line, shouting the war cry. <sup>21</sup>And Israel and the Philistines drew up for battle, army against army. <sup>22</sup>And David left the things in charge of the keeper of the baggage and ran to the ranks and went and greeted his brothers. <sup>23</sup>†As he talked with them, behold, the champion, the Philistine of Gath, Goliath by name, came up out of the ranks of the Philistines and spoke the same words as before. And David heard him.

<sup>24</sup>All the men of Israel, when they saw the man, fled from him and were much afraid. <sup>25</sup>†And the men of Israel said, “Have you seen this man who has come up? Surely he has come up to defy Israel. And the king will enrich the man who kills him with great riches and will give him his daughter and make his father's house free in Israel.” <sup>26</sup>†And David said to the men who stood by him, “What shall be done for the man who kills this Philistine and takes away the reproach from Israel? For who is this uncircumcised Philistine, that he should defy the armies of the living God?” <sup>27</sup>And the people answered him in the same way, “So shall it be done to the man who kills him.”

<sup>28</sup>†Now Eliab his eldest brother heard when he spoke to the men. And Eliab's anger was kindled against David, and he said, “Why have you come down? And with whom have you left those few sheep in the wilderness? I know your presumption and the evil of your heart, for you have come down to see the battle.” <sup>29</sup>And David said, “What have I done now? Was it not but a word?” <sup>30</sup>And he turned away from him toward another, and spoke in the same way, and the people answered him again as before.

<sup>31</sup>When the words that David spoke were heard, they repeated them before Saul, and he sent for him. <sup>32</sup>†And David said to Saul, “Let no man's heart fail because of him. Your servant will go and fight with this Philistine.” <sup>33</sup>†And Saul said to David, “You are not able to go against this Philistine to fight with him, for you are but a youth, and he has been a man of war from his youth.” <sup>34</sup>But David said to Saul, “Your servant used to keep sheep for his father. And when there came a lion, or a bear, and took a lamb from the flock, <sup>35</sup>I went after him and struck him and delivered it out of his mouth. And if he arose against me, I caught him by his beard and struck him and killed him. <sup>36</sup>†Your servant has struck down both lions and bears, and this uncircumcised Philistine shall be like one of them, for he has defied the armies of the living God.” <sup>37</sup>†And David said, “The LORD who delivered me from the paw of the lion and from the paw of the bear will deliver me from the hand of this Philistine.” And Saul said to David, “Go, and the LORD be with you!”

<sup>41</sup>And the Philistine moved forward and came near to David, with his shield-bearer in front of him. <sup>42</sup>And when the Philistine looked and saw David, he disdained him, for he was but a youth, ruddy and handsome in appearance. <sup>43</sup>† And the Philistine said to David, “Am I a dog, that you come to me with sticks?” And the Philistine cursed David by his gods. <sup>44</sup>The Philistine said to David, “Come to me, and I will give your flesh to the birds of the air and to the beasts of the field.” <sup>45</sup>† Then David said to the Philistine, “You come to me with a sword and with a spear and with a javelin, but I come to you in the name of the LORD of hosts, the God of the armies of Israel, whom you have defied. <sup>46</sup>† This day the LORD will deliver you into my hand, and I will strike you down and cut off your head. And I will give the dead bodies of the host of the Philistines this day to the birds of the air and to the wild beasts of the earth, that all the earth may know that there is a God in Israel, <sup>47</sup>† and that all this assembly may know that the LORD saves not with sword and spear. For the battle is the LORD's, and he will give you into our hand.”

<sup>48</sup>† When the Philistine arose and came and drew near to meet David, David ran quickly toward the battle line to meet the Philistine. <sup>49</sup>And David put his hand in his bag and took out a stone and slung it and struck the Philistine on his forehead. The stone sank into his forehead, and he fell on his face to the ground.

<sup>50</sup>† So David prevailed over the Philistine with a sling and with a stone, and struck the Philistine and killed him. There was no sword in the hand of David. <sup>51</sup>† Then David ran and stood over the Philistine and took his sword and drew it out of its sheath and killed him and cut off his head with it. When the Philistines saw that their champion was dead, they fled. <sup>52</sup>And the men of Israel and Judah rose with a shout and pursued the Philistines as far as Gath [5] and the gates of Ekron, so that the wounded Philistines fell on the way from Shaaraim as far as Gath and Ekron. <sup>53</sup>And the people of Israel came back from chasing the Philistines, and they plundered their camp. <sup>54</sup>†And David took the head of the Philistine and brought it to Jerusalem, but he put his armor in his tent.

<sup>55</sup>†As soon as Saul saw David go out against the Philistine, he said to Abner, the commander of the army, “Abner, whose son is this youth?” And Abner said, “As your soul lives, O king, I do not know.” <sup>56</sup>And the king said, “Inquire whose son the boy is.” <sup>57</sup>And as soon as David returned from the striking down of the Philistine, Abner took him, and brought him before Saul with the head of the Philistine in his hand. <sup>58</sup>And Saul said to him, “Whose son are you, young man?” And David answered, “I am the son of your servant Jesse the Bethlehemite.”

David and Jonathan's Friendship

1 SAMUEL 18 †As soon as he had finished speaking to Saul, the soul of Jonathan was knit to the soul of David, and Jonathan loved him as his own soul. <sup>2</sup>†And Saul took him that day and would not let him return to his father's house. <sup>3</sup>†Then Jonathan made a covenant with David, because he loved him as his own soul. <sup>4</sup>†And Jonathan stripped himself of the robe that was on him and gave it to David, and his armor, and even his sword and his bow and his belt. <sup>5</sup>And David went out and was successful wherever Saul sent him, so that Saul set him over the men of war. And this was good in the sight of all the people and also in the sight of Saul's servants.

Saul's Jealousy of David

<sup>6</sup>As they were coming home, when David returned from striking down the Philistine, the women came out of all the cities of Israel, singing and dancing, to meet King Saul, with tambourines, with songs of joy, and with musical instruments. [\[1\]](#) <sup>7</sup>†And the women sang to one another as they celebrated, “Saul has struck down his thousands, and David his ten thousands.”

<sup>8</sup>†And Saul was very angry, and this saying displeased him. He said, “They have ascribed to David ten thousands, and to me they have ascribed thousands, and what more can he have but the kingdom?” <sup>9</sup>And Saul eyed David from that day on.

<sup>10</sup>†The next day a harmful spirit from God rushed upon Saul, and he raved within his house while David was playing the lyre, as he did day by day. Saul had his spear in his hand. <sup>11</sup>†And Saul hurled the spear, for he thought, “I will pin David to the wall.” But David evaded him twice.

<sup>12</sup>†Saul was afraid of David because the LORD was with him but had departed from Saul. <sup>13</sup>†So Saul removed him from his presence and made him a commander of a thousand. And he went out and came in before the people. <sup>14</sup>And David had success in all his undertakings, for the LORD was with him. <sup>15</sup>And when Saul saw that he had great success, he stood in fearful awe of him. <sup>16</sup>†But all Israel and Judah loved David, for he went out and came in before them.

David Marries Michal

<sup>17</sup>† Then Saul said to David, “Here is my elder daughter Merab. I will give her to you for a wife. Only be valiant for me and fight the LORD's battles.” For Saul thought, “Let not my hand be against him, but let the hand of the Philistines be against him.” <sup>18</sup>† And David said to Saul, “Who am I, and who are my relatives, my father's clan in Israel, that I should be son-in-law to the king?” <sup>19</sup>† But at the time when Merab, Saul's daughter, should have been given to David, she was given to Adriel the Meholathite for a wife.

<sup>20</sup>† Now Saul's daughter Michal loved David. And they told Saul, and the thing pleased him. <sup>21</sup> Saul thought, “Let me give her to him, that she may be a snare for him and that the hand of the Philistines may be against him.” Therefore Saul said to David a second time, [2] “You shall now be my son-in-law.” <sup>22</sup> And Saul commanded his servants, “Speak to David in private and say, ‘Behold, the king has delight in you, and all his servants love you. Now then become the king's son-in-law.’” <sup>23</sup> And Saul's servants spoke those words in the ears of David. And David said, “Does it seem to you a little thing to become the king's son-in-law, since I am a poor man and have no reputation?” <sup>24</sup> And the servants of Saul told him, “Thus and so did David speak.” <sup>25</sup> †† Then Saul said, “Thus shall you say to David, ‘The king desires no bride-price except a hundred foreskins of the Philistines, that he may be avenged of the king's enemies.’” Now Saul thought to make David fall by the hand of the Philistines. <sup>26</sup> And when his servants told David these words, it pleased David well to be the king's son-in-law. Before the time had expired, <sup>27</sup> † David arose and went, along with his men, and killed two hundred of the Philistines. And David brought their foreskins, which were given in full number to the king, that he might become the king's son-in-law. And Saul gave him his daughter Michal for a wife. <sup>28</sup> But when Saul saw and knew that the LORD was with David, and that Michal, Saul's daughter, loved him, <sup>29</sup> † Saul was even more afraid of David. So Saul was David's enemy continually.

<sup>30</sup> Then the princes of the Philistines came out to battle, and as often as they came out David had more success than all the servants of Saul, so that his name was highly esteemed.

Saul Tries to Kill David

1 SAMUEL 19 †And Saul spoke to Jonathan his son and to all his servants, that they should kill David. But Jonathan, Saul's son, delighted much in David. <sup>2</sup>And Jonathan told David, "Saul my father seeks to kill you. Therefore be on your guard in the morning. Stay in a secret place and hide yourself. <sup>3</sup>And I will go out and stand beside my father in the field where you are, and I will speak to my father about you. And if I learn anything I will tell you." <sup>4</sup>††And Jonathan spoke well of David to Saul his father and said to him, "Let not the king sin against his servant David, because he has not sinned against you, and because his deeds have brought good to you. <sup>5</sup>For he took his life in his hand and he struck down the Philistine, and the LORD worked a great salvation for all Israel. You saw it, and rejoiced. Why then will you sin against innocent blood by killing David without cause?" <sup>6</sup>†And Saul listened to the voice of Jonathan. Saul swore, "As the LORD lives, he shall not be put to death." <sup>7</sup>And Jonathan called David, and Jonathan reported to him all these things. And Jonathan brought David to Saul, and he was in his presence as before.

<sup>8</sup>And there was war again. And David went out and fought with the Philistines and struck them with a great blow, so that they fled before him. <sup>9</sup>†Then a harmful spirit from the LORD came upon Saul, as he sat in his house with his spear in his hand. And David was playing the lyre. <sup>10</sup>†And Saul sought to pin David to the wall with the spear, but he eluded Saul, so that he struck the spear into the wall. And David fled and escaped that night.

<sup>11</sup>†Saul sent messengers to David's house to watch him, that he might kill him in the morning. But Michal, David's wife, told him, "If you do not escape with your life tonight, tomorrow you will be killed." <sup>12</sup>So Michal let David down through the window, and he fled away and escaped. <sup>13</sup>†Michal took an image and laid it on the bed and put a pillow of goats' hair at its head and covered it with the clothes. <sup>14</sup>And when Saul sent messengers to take David, she said, "He is sick." <sup>15</sup>Then Saul sent the messengers to see David, saying, "Bring him up to me in the bed, that I may kill him." <sup>16</sup>And when the messengers came in, behold, the image was in the bed, with the pillow of goats' hair at its head. <sup>17</sup>†Saul said to Michal, "Why have you deceived me thus and let my enemy go, so that he has escaped?" And Michal answered Saul, "He said to me, 'Let me go. Why should I kill you?'"

<sup>18</sup>† Now David fled and escaped, and he came to Samuel at Ramah and told him all that Saul had done to him. And he and Samuel went and lived at Naioth.

<sup>19</sup> And it was told Saul, “Behold, David is at Naioth in Ramah.” <sup>20</sup>† Then Saul sent messengers to take David, and when they saw the company of the prophets prophesying, and Samuel standing as head over them, the Spirit of God came upon the messengers of Saul, and they also prophesied. <sup>21</sup> When it was told Saul, he sent other messengers, and they also prophesied. And Saul sent messengers again the third time, and they also prophesied. <sup>22</sup>† Then he himself went to Ramah and came to the great well that is in Secu. And he asked, “Where are Samuel and David?” And one said, “Behold, they are at Naioth in Ramah.”

<sup>23</sup>† And he went there to Naioth in Ramah. And the Spirit of God came upon him also, and as he went he prophesied until he came to Naioth in Ramah. <sup>24</sup>† And he too stripped off his clothes, and he too prophesied before Samuel and lay naked all that day and all that night. Thus it is said, “Is Saul also among the prophets?”

Jonathan Warns David

1 SAMUEL 20 †Then David fled from Naioth in Ramah and came and said before Jonathan, “What have I done? What is my guilt? And what is my sin before your father, that he seeks my life?” †And he said to him, “Far from it! You shall not die. Behold, my father does nothing either great or small without disclosing it to me. And why should my father hide this from me? It is not so.” †But David vowed again, saying, “Your father knows well that I have found favor in your eyes, and he thinks, ‘Do not let Jonathan know this, lest he be grieved.’ But truly, as the LORD lives and as your soul lives, there is but a step between me and death.” †Then Jonathan said to David, “Whatever you say, I will do for you.” †David said to Jonathan, “Behold, tomorrow is the new moon, and I should not fail to sit at table with the king. But let me go, that I may hide myself in the field till the third day at evening. †If your father misses me at all, then say, ‘David earnestly asked leave of me to run to Bethlehem his city, for there is a yearly sacrifice there for all the clan.’ †If he says, ‘Good!’ it will be well with your servant, but if he is angry, then know that harm is determined by him. †Therefore deal kindly with your servant, for you have brought your servant into a covenant of the LORD with you. But if there is guilt in me, kill me yourself, for why should you bring me to your father?” †And Jonathan said, “Far be it from you! If I knew that it was determined by my father that harm should come to you, would I not tell you?” †Then David said to Jonathan, “Who will tell me if your father answers you roughly?” †And Jonathan said to David, “Come, let us go out into the field.” So they both went out into the field.

†And Jonathan said to David, “The LORD, the God of Israel, be witness! [\[1\]](#) When I have sounded out my father, about this time tomorrow, or the third day, behold, if he is well disposed toward David, shall I not then send and disclose it to you? †But should it please my father to do you harm, the LORD do so to Jonathan and more also if I do not disclose it to you and send you away, that you may go in safety. May the LORD be with you, as he has been with my father. †If I am still alive, show me the steadfast love of the LORD, that I may not die; †and do not cut off [\[2\]](#) your steadfast love from my house forever, when the LORD cuts off every one of the enemies of David from the face of the earth.” †And Jonathan made a covenant with the house of David, saying, “May [\[3\]](#) the LORD take vengeance on David's enemies.” †And Jonathan made David swear again by his love for him, for he loved him as he loved his own soul.

<sup>18</sup>Then Jonathan said to him, “Tomorrow is the new moon, and you will be missed, because your seat will be empty. <sup>19</sup>† On the third day go down quickly to the place where you hid yourself when the matter was in hand, and remain beside the stone heap. [4] <sup>20</sup>And I will shoot three arrows to the side of it, as though I shot at a mark. <sup>21</sup>And behold, I will send the young man, saying, ‘Go, find the arrows.’ If I say to the young man, ‘Look, the arrows are on this side of you, take them,’ then you are to come, for, as the LORD lives, it is safe for you and there is no danger. <sup>22</sup>But if I say to the youth, ‘Look, the arrows are beyond you,’ then go, for the LORD has sent you away. <sup>23</sup>And as for the matter of which you and I have spoken, behold, the LORD is between you and me forever.”

<sup>24</sup>So David hid himself in the field. And when the new moon came, the king sat down to eat food. <sup>25</sup>† The king sat on his seat, as at other times, on the seat by the wall. Jonathan sat opposite, [5] and Abner sat by Saul's side, but David's place was empty.

<sup>26</sup>† Yet Saul did not say anything that day, for he thought, “Something has happened to him. He is not clean; surely he is not clean.” <sup>27</sup>But on the second day, the day after the new moon, David's place was empty. And Saul said to Jonathan his son, “Why has not the son of Jesse come to the meal, either yesterday or today?” <sup>28</sup>Jonathan answered Saul, “David earnestly asked leave of me to go to Bethlehem. <sup>29</sup>He said, ‘Let me go, for our clan holds a sacrifice in the city, and my brother has commanded me to be there. So now, if I have found favor in your eyes, let me get away and see my brothers.’ For this reason he has not come to the king's table.”

<sup>30</sup>† Then Saul's anger was kindled against Jonathan, and he said to him, “You son of a perverse, rebellious woman, do I not know that you have chosen the son of Jesse to your own shame, and to the shame of your mother's nakedness? <sup>31</sup>For as long as the son of Jesse lives on the earth, neither you nor your kingdom shall be established. Therefore send and bring him to me, for he shall surely die.” <sup>32</sup>Then Jonathan answered Saul his father, “Why should he be put to death? What has he done?” <sup>33</sup>But Saul hurled his spear at him to strike him. So Jonathan knew that his father was determined to put David to death. <sup>34</sup>And Jonathan rose from the table in fierce anger and ate no food the second day of the month, for he was grieved for David, because his father had disgraced him.

I shoot.” As the boy ran, he shot an arrow beyond him. <sup>37</sup>And when the boy came to the place of the arrow that Jonathan had shot, Jonathan called after the boy and said, “Is not the arrow beyond you?” <sup>38</sup>And Jonathan called after the boy, “Hurry! Be quick! Do not stay!” So Jonathan's boy gathered up the arrows and came to his master. <sup>39</sup>But the boy knew nothing. Only Jonathan and David knew the matter. <sup>40</sup>And Jonathan gave his weapons to his boy and said to him, “Go and carry them to the city.” <sup>41</sup>† And as soon as the boy had gone, David rose from beside the stone heap [6] and fell on his face to the ground and bowed three times. And they kissed one another and wept with one another, David weeping the most. <sup>42</sup>† Then Jonathan said to David, “Go in peace, because we have sworn both of us in the name of the LORD, saying, ‘The LORD shall be between me and you, and between my offspring and your offspring, forever.’” And he rose and departed, and Jonathan went into the city. [7]

David and the Holy Bread

1 SAMUEL 21 † [\[1\]](#) Then David came to Nob to Ahimelech the priest. And Ahimelech came to meet David trembling and said to him, “Why are you alone, and no one with you?” 2† And David said to Ahimelech the priest, “The king has charged me with a matter and said to me, ‘Let no one know anything of the matter about which I send you, and with which I have charged you.’ I have made an appointment with the young men for such and such a place. 3Now then, what do you have on hand? Give me five loaves of bread, or whatever is here.” 4† And the priest answered David, “I have no common bread on hand, but there is holy bread—if the young men have kept themselves from women.” 5† And David answered the priest, “Truly women have been kept from us as always when I go on an expedition. The vessels of the young men are holy even when it is an ordinary journey. How much more today will their vessels be holy?” 6† So the priest gave him the holy bread, for there was no bread there but the bread of the Presence, which is removed from before the LORD, to be replaced by hot bread on the day it is taken away.

7† Now a certain man of the servants of Saul was there that day, detained before the LORD. His name was Doeg the Edomite, the chief of Saul's herdsmen.

8Then David said to Ahimelech, “Then have you not here a spear or a sword at hand? For I have brought neither my sword nor my weapons with me, because the king's business required haste.” 9† And the priest said, “The sword of Goliath the Philistine, whom you struck down in the Valley of Elah, behold, it is here wrapped in a cloth behind the ephod. If you will take that, take it, for there is none but that here.” And David said, “There is none like that; give it to me.”

David Flees to Gath

10† And David rose and fled that day from Saul and went to Achish the king of Gath. 11And the servants of Achish said to him, “Is not this David the king of the land? Did they not sing to one another of him in dances, ‘Saul has struck down his thousands, and David his ten thousands’?”

12And David took these words to heart and was much afraid of Achish the king of Gath. 13† So he changed his behavior before them and pretended to be insane in their hands and made marks on the doors of the gate and let his spittle run down his beard. <sup>14</sup>Then Achish said to his servants, “Behold, you see the man is mad. Why then have you brought him to me? <sup>15</sup>Do I lack madmen, that you have brought this fellow to behave as a madman in my presence? Shall this fellow come into my house?”

David at the Cave of Adullam

1 SAMUEL 22 †David departed from there and escaped to the cave of Adullam. And when his brothers and all his father's house heard it, they went down there to him. †And everyone who was in distress, and everyone who was in debt, and everyone who was bitter in soul, [\[1\]](#) gathered to him. And he became captain over them. And there were with him about four hundred men.

†And David went from there to Mizpeh of Moab. And he said to the king of Moab, "Please let my father and my mother stay [\[2\]](#) with you, till I know what God will do for me." †And he left them with the king of Moab, and they stayed with him all the time that David was in the stronghold. †Then the prophet Gad said to David, "Do not remain in the stronghold; depart, and go into the land of Judah." So David departed and went into the forest of Hereth.

Saul Kills the Priests at Nob

†Now Saul heard that David was discovered, and the men who were with him. Saul was sitting at Gibeah under the tamarisk tree on the height with his spear in his hand, and all his servants were standing about him. †And Saul said to his servants who stood about him, "Hear now, people of Benjamin; will the son of Jesse give every one of you fields and vineyards, will he make you all commanders of thousands and commanders of hundreds, ††that all of you have conspired against me? No one discloses to me when my son makes a covenant with the son of Jesse. None of you is sorry for me or discloses to me that my son has stirred up my servant against me, to lie in wait, as at this day." †Then answered Doeg the Edomite, who stood by the servants of Saul, "I saw the son of Jesse coming to Nob, to Ahimelech the son of Ahitub, †and he inquired of the LORD for him and gave him provisions and gave him the sword of Goliath the Philistine."

†Then the king sent to summon Ahimelech the priest, the son of Ahitub, and all his father's house, the priests who were at Nob, and all of them came to the king. †And Saul said, "Hear now, son of Ahitub." And he answered, "Here I am, my lord." †And Saul said to him, "Why have you conspired against me, you and the son of Jesse, in that you have given him bread and a sword and have inquired of God for him, so that he has risen against me, to lie in wait, as at this day?" †Then Ahimelech answered the king, "And who among all your servants is so faithful as David, who is the king's son-in-law, and captain over [3] your bodyguard, and honored in your house? <sup>15</sup>Is today the first time that I have inquired of God for him? No! Let not the king impute anything to his servant or to all the house of my father, for your servant has known nothing of all this, much or little.” <sup>16</sup>‡And the king said, “You shall surely die, Ahimelech, you and all your father's house.” <sup>17</sup>‡And the king said to the guard who stood about him, “Turn and kill the priests of the LORD, because their hand also is with David, and they knew that he fled and did not disclose it to me.” But the servants of the king would not put out their hand to strike the priests of the LORD. <sup>18</sup>‡Then the king said to Doeg, “You turn and strike the priests.” And Doeg the Edomite turned and struck down the priests, and he killed on that day eighty-five persons who wore the linen ephod. <sup>19</sup>‡And Nob, the city of the priests, he put to the sword; both man and woman, child and infant, ox, donkey and sheep, he put to the sword.

David Saves the City of Keilah

1 SAMUEL 23 † Now they told David, “Behold, the Philistines are fighting against Keilah and are robbing the threshing floors.” † Therefore David inquired of the LORD, “Shall I go and attack these Philistines?” And the LORD said to David, “Go and attack the Philistines and save Keilah.” † But David's men said to him, “Behold, we are afraid here in Judah; how much more then if we go to Keilah against the armies of the Philistines?” † Then David inquired of the LORD again. And the LORD answered him, “Arise, go down to Keilah, for I will give the Philistines into your hand.” † And David and his men went to Keilah and fought with the Philistines and brought away their livestock and struck them with a great blow. So David saved the inhabitants of Keilah.

† When Abiathar the son of Ahimelech had fled to David to Keilah, he had come down with an ephod in his hand. † Now it was told Saul that David had come to Keilah. And Saul said, “God has given him into my hand, for he has shut himself in by entering a town that has gates and bars.” † And Saul summoned all the people to war, to go down to Keilah, to besiege David and his men. † David knew that Saul was plotting harm against him. And he said to Abiathar the priest, “Bring the ephod here.” † Then said David, “O LORD, the God of Israel, your servant has surely heard that Saul seeks to come to Keilah, to destroy the city on my account. † Will the men of Keilah surrender me into his hand? Will Saul come down, as your servant has heard? O LORD, the God of Israel, please tell your servant.” And the LORD said, “He will come down.” † Then David said, “Will the men of Keilah surrender me and my men into the hand of Saul?” And the LORD said, “They will surrender you.” † Then David and his men, who were about six hundred, arose and departed from Keilah, and they went wherever they could go. When Saul was told that David had escaped from Keilah, he gave up the expedition. † And David remained in the strongholds in the wilderness, in the hill country of the wilderness of Ziph. And Saul sought him every day, but God did not give him into his hand.

Saul Pursues David

† David saw that Saul had come out to seek his life. David was in the wilderness of Ziph at Horesh. † And Jonathan, Saul's son, rose and went to David at Horesh, and strengthened his hand in God. † And he said to him, “Do not fear, for the hand of Saul my father shall not find you. You shall be king over Israel, and I shall be next to you. Saul my father also knows this.” <sup>18</sup>† And the two of them made a covenant before the LORD. David remained at Horesh, and Jonathan went home.

<sup>19</sup>† Then the Ziphites went up to Saul at Gibeah, saying, “Is not David hiding among us in the strongholds at Horesh, on the hill of Hachilah, which is south of Jeshimon? <sup>20</sup>Now come down, O king, according to all your heart's desire to come down, and our part shall be to surrender him into the king's hand.” <sup>21</sup>And Saul said, “May you be blessed by the LORD, for you have had compassion on me. <sup>22</sup>Go, make yet more sure. Know and see the place where his foot is, and who has seen him there, for it is told me that he is very cunning. <sup>23</sup>See therefore and take note of all the lurking places where he hides, and come back to me with sure information. Then I will go with you. And if he is in the land, I will search him out among all the thousands of Judah.” <sup>24</sup>† And they arose and went to Ziph ahead of Saul.

Now David and his men were in the wilderness of Maon, in the Arabah to the south of Jeshimon. <sup>25</sup>† And Saul and his men went to seek him. And David was told, so he went down to the rock and lived in the wilderness of Maon. And when Saul heard that, he pursued after David in the wilderness of Maon. <sup>26</sup>† Saul went on one side of the mountain, and David and his men on the other side of the mountain. And David was hurrying to get away from Saul. As Saul and his men were closing in on David and his men to capture them, <sup>27</sup>† a messenger came to Saul, saying, “Hurry and come, for the Philistines have made a raid against the land.” <sup>28</sup>† So Saul returned from pursuing after David and went against the Philistines. Therefore that place was called the Rock of Escape. [\[1\]](#) <sup>29</sup>† [\[2\]](#) And David went up from there and lived in the strongholds of Engedi.

David Spares Saul's Life

1 SAMUEL 24 [1] When Saul returned from following the Philistines, he was told, “Behold, David is in the wilderness of Engedi.” <sup>2</sup>† Then Saul took three thousand chosen men out of all Israel and went to seek David and his men in front of the Wildgoats' Rocks. <sup>3</sup>† And he came to the sheepfolds by the way, where there was a cave, and Saul went in to relieve himself. [2] Now David and his men were sitting in the innermost parts of the cave. <sup>4</sup>† And the men of David said to him, “Here is the day of which the LORD said to you, ‘Behold, I will give your enemy into your hand, and you shall do to him as it shall seem good to you.’” Then David arose and stealthily cut off a corner of Saul's robe. <sup>5</sup>† And afterward David's heart struck him, because he had cut off a corner of Saul's robe. <sup>6</sup>† He said to his men, “The LORD forbid that I should do this thing to my lord, the LORD's anointed, to put out my hand against him, seeing he is the LORD's anointed.” <sup>7</sup> So David persuaded his men with these words and did not permit them to attack Saul. And Saul rose up and left the cave and went on his way.

<sup>8</sup> Afterward David also arose and went out of the cave, and called after Saul, “My lord the king!” And when Saul looked behind him, David bowed with his face to the earth and paid homage. <sup>9</sup> And David said to Saul, “Why do you listen to the words of men who say, ‘Behold, David seeks your harm’? <sup>10</sup> Behold, this day your eyes have seen how the LORD gave you today into my hand in the cave. And some told me to kill you, but I spared you. [3] I said, ‘I will not put out my hand against my lord, for he is the LORD's anointed.’ <sup>11</sup>† See, my father, see the corner of your robe in my hand. For by the fact that I cut off the corner of your robe and did not kill you, you may know and see that there is no wrong or treason in my hands. I have not sinned against you, though you hunt my life to take it. <sup>12</sup>† May the LORD judge between me and you, may the LORD avenge me against you, but my hand shall not be against you. <sup>13</sup>† As the proverb of the ancients says, ‘Out of the wicked comes wickedness.’ But my hand shall not be against you. <sup>14</sup>† After whom has the king of Israel come out? After whom do you pursue? After a dead dog! After a flea! <sup>15</sup> May the LORD therefore be judge and give sentence between me and you, and see to it and plead my cause and deliver me from your hand.”

David, “You are more righteous than I, for you have repaid me good, whereas I have repaid you evil. <sup>18</sup>And you have declared this day how you have dealt well with me, in that you did not kill me when the LORD put me into your hands. <sup>19</sup>For if a man finds his enemy, will he let him go away safe? So may the LORD reward you with good for what you have done to me this day. <sup>20</sup>†And now, behold, I know that you shall surely be king, and that the kingdom of Israel shall be established in your hand. <sup>21</sup>Swear to me therefore by the LORD that you will not cut off my offspring after me, and that you will not destroy my name out of my father's house.” <sup>22</sup>†And David swore this to Saul. Then Saul went home, but David and his men went up to the stronghold.

The Death of Samuel

1 SAMUEL 25 †Now Samuel died. And all Israel assembled and mourned for him, and they buried him in his house at Ramah.

David and Abigail

Then David rose and went down to the wilderness of Paran. <sup>2</sup>†And there was a man in Maon whose business was in Carmel. The man was very rich; he had three thousand sheep and a thousand goats. He was shearing his sheep in Carmel. <sup>3</sup>†Now the name of the man was Nabal, and the name of his wife Abigail. The woman was discerning and beautiful, but the man was harsh and badly behaved; he was a Calebite. <sup>4</sup>†David heard in the wilderness that Nabal was shearing his sheep. <sup>5</sup>So David sent ten young men. And David said to the young men, “Go up to Carmel, and go to Nabal and greet him in my name. <sup>6</sup>And thus you shall greet him: ‘Peace be to you, and peace be to your house, and peace be to all that you have. <sup>7</sup>I hear that you have shearers. Now your shepherds have been with us, and we did them no harm, and they missed nothing all the time they were in Carmel. <sup>8</sup>†Ask your young men, and they will tell you. Therefore let my young men find favor in your eyes, for we come on a feast day. Please give whatever you have at hand to your servants and to your son David.’”

<sup>9</sup>When David's young men came, they said all this to Nabal in the name of David, and then they waited. <sup>10</sup>†And Nabal answered David's servants, “Who is David? Who is the son of Jesse? There are many servants these days who are breaking away from their masters. <sup>11</sup>Shall I take my bread and my water and my meat that I have killed for my shearers and give it to men who come from I do not know where?” <sup>12</sup>So David's young men turned away and came back and told him all this. <sup>13</sup>And David said to his men, “Every man strap on his sword!” And every man of them strapped on his sword. David also strapped on his sword. And about four hundred men went up after David, while two hundred remained with the baggage.

<sup>14</sup>†But one of the young men told Abigail, Nabal's wife, “Behold, David sent messengers out of the wilderness to greet our master, and he railed at them. <sup>15</sup>†Yet the men were very good to us, and we suffered no harm, and we did not miss anything when we were in the fields, as long as we went with them. <sup>16</sup>They were a wall to us both by night and by day, all the while we were with them keeping the sheep. <sup>17</sup>†Now therefore know this and consider what you should do, for harm is determined against our master and against all his house, and he is such a worthless man that one cannot speak to him.”

<sup>18</sup>†Then Abigail made haste and took two hundred loaves and two skins of wine and five sheep already prepared and five seahs [1] of parched grain and a hundred clusters of raisins and two hundred cakes of figs, and laid them on donkeys. <sup>19</sup>†And she said to her young men, “Go on before me; behold, I come after you.” But she did not tell her husband Nabal. <sup>20</sup>And as she rode on the donkey and came down under cover of the mountain, behold, David and his men came down toward her, and she met them. <sup>21</sup>Now David had said, “Surely in vain have I guarded all that this fellow has in the wilderness, so that nothing was missed of all that belonged to him, and he has returned me evil for good. <sup>22</sup>†God do so to the enemies of David [2] and more also, if by morning I leave so much as one male of all who belong to him.”

<sup>23</sup>When Abigail saw David, she hurried and got down from the donkey and fell before David on her face and bowed to the ground. <sup>24</sup>She fell at his feet and said, “On me alone, my lord, be the guilt. Please let your servant speak in your ears, and hear the words of your servant. <sup>25</sup>†Let not my lord regard this worthless fellow, Nabal, for as his name is, so is he. Nabal [3] is his name, and folly is with him. But I your servant did not see the young men of my lord, whom you sent. <sup>26</sup>Now then, my lord, as the LORD lives, and as your soul lives, because the LORD has restrained you from bloodguilt and from saving with your own hand, now then let your enemies and those who seek to do evil to my lord be as Nabal. <sup>27</sup>And now let this present that your servant has brought to my lord be given to the young men who follow my lord. <sup>28</sup>†Please forgive the trespass of your servant. For the LORD will certainly make my lord a sure house, because my lord is fighting the battles of the LORD, and evil shall not be found in you so long as you live. <sup>29</sup>†If men rise up to pursue you and to seek your life, the life of my lord shall be bound in the bundle of the living in the care of the LORD your God. And the lives of your enemies he shall sling out as from the hollow of a sling. <sup>30</sup>†And when the LORD has done to my lord according to all the good that he has spoken concerning you and has appointed you prince over Israel, <sup>31</sup>my lord shall have no cause of grief or pangs of conscience for having shed blood without cause or for my lord taking vengeance himself. And when the LORD has dealt well with my lord, then remember your servant.”

<sup>32</sup>And David said to Abigail, “Blessed be the LORD, the God of Israel, who sent you this day to meet me! <sup>33</sup>Blessed be your discretion, and blessed be you, who have kept me this day from bloodguilt and from avenging myself with my own hand! <sup>34</sup>For as surely as the LORD, the God of Israel, lives, who has restrained me from hurting you, unless you had hurried and come to meet me, truly by morning there had not been left to Nabal so much as one male.” <sup>35</sup>Then David received from her hand what she had brought him. And he said to her, “Go up in peace to your house. See, I have obeyed your voice, and I have granted your petition.”

<sup>36</sup>And Abigail came to Nabal, and behold, he was holding a feast in his house, like the feast of a king. And Nabal's heart was merry within him, for he was very drunk. So she told him nothing at all until the morning light. <sup>37</sup>‡In the morning, when the wine had gone out of Nabal, his wife told him these things, and his heart died within him, and he became as a stone. <sup>38</sup>And about ten days later the LORD struck Nabal, and he died.

<sup>39</sup>When David heard that Nabal was dead, he said, “Blessed be the LORD who has avenged the insult I received at the hand of Nabal, and has kept back his servant from wrongdoing. The LORD has returned the evil of Nabal on his own head.” Then David sent and spoke to Abigail, to take her as his wife. <sup>40</sup>When the servants of David came to Abigail at Carmel, they said to her, “David has sent us to you to take you to him as his wife.” <sup>41</sup>And she rose and bowed with her face to the ground and said, “Behold, your handmaid is a servant to wash the feet of the servants of my lord.” <sup>42</sup>And Abigail hurried and rose and mounted a donkey, and her five young women attended her. She followed the messengers of David and became his wife.

David Spares Saul Again

1 SAMUEL 26 †Then the Ziphites came to Saul at Gibeah, saying, “Is not David hiding himself on the hill of Hachilah, which is on the east of Jeshimon?” †So Saul arose and went down to the wilderness of Ziph with three thousand chosen men of Israel to seek David in the wilderness of Ziph. †And Saul encamped on the hill of Hachilah, which is beside the road on the east of Jeshimon. But David remained in the wilderness. When he saw that Saul came after him into the wilderness, †David sent out spies and learned that Saul had come. †Then David rose and came to the place where Saul had encamped. And David saw the place where Saul lay, with Abner the son of Ner, the commander of his army. Saul was lying within the encampment, while the army was encamped around him.

†Then David said to Ahimelech the Hittite, and to Joab's brother Abishai the son of Zeruiah, “Who will go down with me into the camp to Saul?” And Abishai said, “I will go down with you.” †So David and Abishai went to the army by night. And there lay Saul sleeping within the encampment, with his spear stuck in the ground at his head, and Abner and the army lay around him. †Then said Abishai to David, “God has given your enemy into your hand this day. Now please let me pin him to the earth with one stroke of the spear, and I will not strike him twice.” †But David said to Abishai, “Do not destroy him, for who can put out his hand against the LORD's anointed and be guiltless?” †And David said, “As the LORD lives, the LORD will strike him, or his day will come to die, or he will go down into battle and perish. †The LORD forbid that I should put out my hand against the LORD's anointed. But take now the spear that is at his head and the jar of water, and let us go.” †So David took the spear and the jar of water from Saul's head, and they went away. No man saw it or knew it, nor did any awake, for they were all asleep, because a deep sleep from the LORD had fallen upon them.

†Then David went over to the other side and stood far off on the top of the hill, with a great space between them. †And David called to the army, and to Abner the son of Ner, saying, “Will you not answer, Abner?” Then Abner answered, “Who are you who calls to the king?” †And David said to Abner, “Are you not a man? Who is like you in Israel? Why then have you not kept watch over your lord the king? For one of the people came in to destroy the king your lord. †This thing that you have done is not good. As the LORD lives, you deserve to die, because you have not kept watch over your lord, the LORD's anointed. And now see where the king's spear is and the jar of water that was at his head.”

<sup>17</sup>Saul recognized David's voice and said, “Is this your voice, my son David?” And David said, “It is my voice, my lord, O king.” <sup>18</sup>And he said, “Why does my lord pursue after his servant? For what have I done? What evil is on my hands? <sup>19</sup>‡Now therefore let my lord the king hear the words of his servant. If it is the LORD who has stirred you up against me, may he accept an offering, but if it is men, may they be cursed before the LORD, for they have driven me out this day that I should have no share in the heritage of the LORD, saying, ‘Go, serve other gods.’ <sup>20</sup>‡Now therefore, let not my blood fall to the earth away from the presence of the LORD, for the king of Israel has come out to seek a single flea like one who hunts a partridge in the mountains.”

<sup>21</sup>‡Then Saul said, “I have sinned. Return, my son David, for I will no more do you harm, because my life was precious in your eyes this day. Behold, I have acted foolishly, and have made a great mistake.” <sup>22</sup>And David answered and said, “Here is the spear, O king! Let one of the young men come over and take it. <sup>23</sup>The LORD rewards every man for his righteousness and his faithfulness, for the LORD gave you into my hand today, and I would not put out my hand against the LORD's anointed. <sup>24</sup>Behold, as your life was precious this day in my sight, so may my life be precious in the sight of the LORD, and may he deliver me out of all tribulation.” <sup>25</sup>‡Then Saul said to David, “Blessed be you, my son David! You will do many things and will succeed in them.” So David went his way, and Saul returned to his place.

David Flees to the Philistines

1 SAMUEL 27 † Then David said in his heart, “Now I shall perish one day by the hand of Saul. There is nothing better for me than that I should escape to the land of the Philistines. Then Saul will despair of seeking me any longer within the borders of Israel, and I shall escape out of his hand.” <sup>2</sup> So David arose and went over, he and the six hundred men who were with him, to Achish the son of Maoch, king of Gath. <sup>3</sup> † And David lived with Achish at Gath, he and his men, every man with his household, and David with his two wives, Ahinoam of Jezreel, and Abigail of Carmel, Nabal's widow. <sup>4</sup> † And when it was told Saul that David had fled to Gath, he no longer sought him.

<sup>5</sup> † Then David said to Achish, “If I have found favor in your eyes, let a place be given me in one of the country towns, that I may dwell there. For why should your servant dwell in the royal city with you?” <sup>6</sup> † So that day Achish gave him Ziklag. Therefore Ziklag has belonged to the kings of Judah to this day. <sup>7</sup> † And the number of the days that David lived in the country of the Philistines was a year and four months.

<sup>8</sup> † Now David and his men went up and made raids against the Geshurites, the Girzites, and the Amalekites, for these were the inhabitants of the land from of old, as far as Shur, to the land of Egypt. <sup>9</sup> † And David would strike the land and would leave neither man nor woman alive, but would take away the sheep, the oxen, the donkeys, the camels, and the garments, and come back to Achish. <sup>10</sup> † When Achish asked, “Where have you made a raid today?” David would say, “Against the Negeb of Judah,” or, “Against the Negeb of the Jerahmeelites,” or, “Against the Negeb of the Kenites.” <sup>11</sup> And David would leave neither man nor woman alive to bring news to Gath, thinking, “lest they should tell about us and say, ‘So David has done.’” Such was his custom all the while he lived in the country of the Philistines. <sup>12</sup> And Achish trusted David, thinking, “He has made himself an utter stench to his people Israel; therefore he shall always be my servant.”

Saul and the Medium of En-dor

1 SAMUEL 28 †In those days the Philistines gathered their forces for war, to fight against Israel. And Achish said to David, “Understand that you and your men are to go out with me in the army.” †David said to Achish, “Very well, you shall know what your servant can do.” And Achish said to David, “Very well, I will make you my bodyguard for life.”

††Now Samuel had died, and all Israel had mourned for him and buried him in Ramah, his own city. And Saul had put the mediums and the necromancers out of the land. †The Philistines assembled and came and encamped at Shunem. And Saul gathered all Israel, and they encamped at Gilboa. †When Saul saw the army of the Philistines, he was afraid, and his heart trembled greatly. †And when Saul inquired of the LORD, the LORD did not answer him, either by dreams, or by Urim, or by prophets. †Then Saul said to his servants, “Seek out for me a woman who is a medium, that I may go to her and inquire of her.” And his servants said to him, “Behold, there is a medium at En-dor.”

†So Saul disguised himself and put on other garments and went, he and two men with him. And they came to the woman by night. And he said, “Divine for me by a spirit and bring up for me whomever I shall name to you.” †The woman said to him, “Surely you know what Saul has done, how he has cut off the mediums and the necromancers from the land. Why then are you laying a trap for my life to bring about my death?” †But Saul swore to her by the LORD, “As the LORD lives, no punishment shall come upon you for this thing.” †Then the woman said, “Whom shall I bring up for you?” He said, “Bring up Samuel for me.” †When the woman saw Samuel, she cried out with a loud voice. And the woman said to Saul, “Why have you deceived me? You are Saul.” †The king said to her, “Do not be afraid. What do you see?” And the woman said to Saul, “I see a god coming up out of the earth.” †He said to her, “What is his appearance?” And she said, “An old man is coming up, and he is wrapped in a robe.” And Saul knew that it was Samuel, and he bowed with his face to the ground and paid homage.

†Then Samuel said to Saul, “Why have you disturbed me by bringing me up?” Saul answered, “I am in great distress, for the Philistines are warring against me, and God has turned away from me and answers me no more, either by prophets or by dreams. Therefore I have summoned you to tell me what I shall do.”

<sup>16</sup>‡And Samuel said, “Why then do you ask me, since the LORD has turned from you and become your enemy? <sup>17</sup>The LORD has done to you as he spoke by me, for the LORD has torn the kingdom out of your hand and given it to your neighbor, David. <sup>18</sup>Because you did not obey the voice of the LORD and did not carry out his fierce wrath against Amalek, therefore the LORD has done this thing to you this day. <sup>19</sup>‡Moreover, the LORD will give Israel also with you into the hand of the Philistines, and tomorrow you and your sons shall be with me. The LORD will give the army of Israel also into the hand of the Philistines.”

<sup>20</sup>‡Then Saul fell at once full length on the ground, filled with fear because of the words of Samuel. And there was no strength in him, for he had eaten nothing all day and all night. <sup>21</sup>And the woman came to Saul, and when she saw that he was terrified, she said to him, “Behold, your servant has obeyed you. I have taken my life in my hand and have listened to what you have said to me. <sup>22</sup>Now therefore, you also obey your servant. Let me set a morsel of bread before you; and eat, that you may have strength when you go on your way.” <sup>23</sup>He refused and said, “I will not eat.” But his servants, together with the woman, urged him, and he listened to their words. So he arose from the earth and sat on the bed. <sup>24</sup>Now the woman had a fattened calf in the house, and she quickly killed it, and she took flour and kneaded it and baked unleavened bread of it, <sup>25</sup>and she put it before Saul and his servants, and they ate. Then they rose and went away that night.

The Philistines Reject David

1 SAMUEL 29 † Now the Philistines had gathered all their forces at Aphek. And the Israelites were encamped by the spring that is in Jezreel. <sup>2</sup>As the lords of the Philistines were passing on by hundreds and by thousands, and David and his men were passing on in the rear with Achish, <sup>3</sup>† the commanders of the Philistines said, “What are these Hebrews doing here?” And Achish said to the commanders of the Philistines, “Is this not David, the servant of Saul, king of Israel, who has been with me now for days and years, and since he deserted to me I have found no fault in him to this day.” <sup>4</sup>† But the commanders of the Philistines were angry with him. And the commanders of the Philistines said to him, “Send the man back, that he may return to the place to which you have assigned him. He shall not go down with us to battle, lest in the battle he become an adversary to us. For how could this fellow reconcile himself to his lord? Would it not be with the heads of the men here? <sup>5</sup>† Is not this David, of whom they sing to one another in dances,

‘Saul has struck down his thousands, and David his ten thousands’?”

<sup>6</sup>† Then Achish called David and said to him, “As the LORD lives, you have been honest, and to me it seems right that you should march out and in with me in the campaign. For I have found nothing wrong in you from the day of your coming to me to this day. Nevertheless, the lords do not approve of you. <sup>7</sup>So go back now; and go peaceably, that you may not displease the lords of the Philistines.” <sup>8</sup>† And David said to Achish, “But what have I done? What have you found in your servant from the day I entered your service until now, that I may not go and fight against the enemies of my lord the king?” <sup>9</sup>† And Achish answered David and said, “I know that you are as blameless in my sight as an angel of God. Nevertheless, the commanders of the Philistines have said, ‘He shall not go up with us to the battle.’ <sup>10</sup>Now then rise early in the morning with the servants of your lord who came with you, and start early in the morning, and depart as soon as you have light.” <sup>11</sup>† So David set out with his men early in the morning to return to the land of the Philistines. But the Philistines went up to Jezreel.

David's Wives Are Captured

1 SAMUEL 30 †Now when David and his men came to Ziklag on the third day, the Amalekites had made a raid against the Negeb and against Ziklag. They had overcome Ziklag and burned it with fire <sup>2</sup>and taken captive the women and all [\[1\]](#) who were in it, both small and great. They killed no one, but carried them off and went their way. <sup>3</sup>And when David and his men came to the city, they found it burned with fire, and their wives and sons and daughters taken captive. <sup>4</sup>Then David and the people who were with him raised their voices and wept until they had no more strength to weep. <sup>5</sup>David's two wives also had been taken captive, Ahinoam of Jezreel and Abigail the widow of Nabal of Carmel. <sup>6</sup>†And David was greatly distressed, for the people spoke of stoning him, because all the people were bitter in soul, [\[2\]](#) each for his sons and daughters. But David strengthened himself in the LORD his God.

<sup>7</sup>†And David said to Abiathar the priest, the son of Ahimelech, “Bring me the ephod.” So Abiathar brought the ephod to David. <sup>8</sup>And David inquired of the LORD, “Shall I pursue after this band? Shall I overtake them?” He answered him, “Pursue, for you shall surely overtake and shall surely rescue.” <sup>9</sup>†So David set out, and the six hundred men who were with him, and they came to the brook Besor, where those who were left behind stayed. <sup>10</sup>But David pursued, he and four hundred men. Two hundred stayed behind, who were too exhausted to cross the brook Besor.

<sup>11</sup>They found an Egyptian in the open country and brought him to David. And they gave him bread and he ate. They gave him water to drink, <sup>12</sup>and they gave him a piece of a cake of figs and two clusters of raisins. And when he had eaten, his spirit revived, for he had not eaten bread or drunk water for three days and three nights. <sup>13</sup>And David said to him, “To whom do you belong? And where are you from?” He said, “I am a young man of Egypt, servant to an Amalekite, and my master left me behind because I fell sick three days ago. <sup>14</sup>†We had made a raid against the Negeb of the Cherethites and against that which belongs to Judah and against the Negeb of Caleb, and we burned Ziklag with fire.” <sup>15</sup>And David said to him, “Will you take me down to this band?” And he said, “Swear to me by God that you will not kill me or deliver me into the hands of my master, and I will take you down to this band.”

David Defeats the Amalekites

<sup>16</sup>† And when he had taken him down, behold, they were spread abroad over all the land, eating and drinking and dancing, because of all the great spoil they had taken from the land of the Philistines and from the land of Judah. <sup>17</sup>† And David struck them down from twilight until the evening of the next day, and not a man of them escaped, except four hundred young men, who mounted camels and fled. <sup>18</sup> David recovered all that the Amalekites had taken, and David rescued his two wives. <sup>19</sup>† Nothing was missing, whether small or great, sons or daughters, spoil or anything that had been taken. David brought back all. <sup>20</sup> David also captured all the flocks and herds, and the people drove the livestock before him, [3] and said, “This is David's spoil.”

<sup>21</sup> Then David came to the two hundred men who had been too exhausted to follow David, and who had been left at the brook Besor. And they went out to meet David and to meet the people who were with him. And when David came near to the people he greeted them. <sup>22</sup>† Then all the wicked and worthless fellows among the men who had gone with David said, “Because they did not go with us, we will not give them any of the spoil that we have recovered, except that each man may lead away his wife and children, and depart.” <sup>23</sup> But David said, “You shall not do so, my brothers, with what the LORD has given us. He has preserved us and given into our hand the band that came against us. <sup>24</sup> Who would listen to you in this matter? For as his share is who goes down into the battle, so shall his share be who stays by the baggage. They shall share alike.” <sup>25</sup>† And he made it a statute and a rule for Israel from that day forward to this day.

The Death of Saul

1 SAMUEL 31 †† Now the Philistines fought against Israel, and the men of Israel fled before the Philistines and fell slain on Mount Gilboa. † And the Philistines overtook Saul and his sons, and the Philistines struck down Jonathan and Abinadab and Malchi-shua, the sons of Saul. † The battle pressed hard against Saul, and the archers found him, and he was badly wounded by the archers. † Then Saul said to his armor-bearer, “Draw your sword, and thrust me through with it, lest these uncircumcised come and thrust me through, and mistreat me.” But his armor-bearer would not, for he feared greatly. Therefore Saul took his own sword and fell upon it. † And when his armor-bearer saw that Saul was dead, he also fell upon his sword and died with him. † Thus Saul died, and his three sons, and his armor-bearer, and all his men, on the same day together. † And when the men of Israel who were on the other side of the valley and those beyond the Jordan saw that the men of Israel had fled and that Saul and his sons were dead, they abandoned their cities and fled. And the Philistines came and lived in them.

† The next day, when the Philistines came to strip the slain, they found Saul and his three sons fallen on Mount Gilboa. † So they cut off his head and stripped off his armor and sent messengers throughout the land of the Philistines, to carry the good news to the house of their idols and to the people. † They put his armor in the temple of Ashtaroath, and they fastened his body to the wall of Beth-shan. † But when the inhabitants of Jabesh-gilead heard what the Philistines had done to Saul, † all the valiant men arose and went all night and took the body of Saul and the bodies of his sons from the wall of Beth-shan, and they came to Jabesh and burned them there. † And they took their bones and buried them under the tamarisk tree in Jabesh and fasted seven days.

Study Notes

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 1:1–7:17 This first major division of the book begins and ends in Samuel’s hometown of Ramah (1:1; 7:17). The focus of these chapters is on the life and ministry of Samuel. First Samuel 1:1–4:1a concentrates on Samuel as a prophet of the Lord (see the concluding statement of 4:1a, “the word of Samuel came to all Israel”). The text in 4:1b–7:17 emphasizes Samuel as judge (see 7:17, “there also he judged Israel”).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 1:1 a certain man. This verse resembles the introduction to the birth of Samson in Judg. 13:2. The strong comparison highlights similarities between Samson and Samuel: Both men were judges over Israel, fighters of the Philistines, and lifelong Nazirites. Ramathaim-zophim. Possibly meaning “two heights,” the name occurs only here in the OT. Elsewhere, the town is simply called Ramah. It was located about 5 miles north of Jerusalem. Elkanah. Meaning “God has created,” he was the father of Samuel. Zuph. “Zuph” is both a place (9:5) and a personal name (1 Chron. 6:35), as here. Ephrathite. First Chronicles 6:27 identifies Elkanah as a member of the Kohathite branch of the tribe of Levi. The Levites lived among the other tribes (Josh. 21:20–22). Ephraim was the tribal area where this Levite lived. While the Hebrew text without variation reads “Ephrathite,” it is quite possible that Elkanah’s lineage might have originally been Ephrathite, i.e., Bethlehemite (cf. 1 Sam. 17:12) genealogically and later been Ephraimite geographically.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 1:2 two wives. Although polygamy was not God’s intention for mankind (Gen. 2:24), it was tolerated, but never endorsed in Israel (see Deut. 21:15–17). Elkanah probably married Peninnah because Hannah was barren. Hannah. Meaning “grace,” she was probably Elkanah’s first wife. Peninnah. Meaning “ruby,” she was Elkanah’s second wife and the first bearer of his children.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 1:3 this man used to go up year by year. All Israelite men were required to attend three annual feasts at the central sanctuary (Deut. 16:1–17). Elkanah regularly attended these festivals with his wives. The festival referred to here was probably the Feast of Tabernacles (September/October) because of the feasting mentioned in 1 Sam. 1:9. the Lord of hosts. This is the first OT occurrence of “hosts” being added to the divine name. “Hosts” can refer to human armies (Ex. 7:4), celestial bodies (Deut. 4:19), or heavenly creatures (Josh. 5:14). This title emphasizes the Lord as sovereign over all of the powers in heaven and on earth, especially over the armies of Israel. Shiloh. Located about 20 miles north of Jerusalem in Ephraim, the tabernacle and ark of the covenant resided here (Josh. 18:1; Judg. 18:31). Eli. Meaning “exalted is the Lord.” He was the high priest at Shiloh. Hophni and Phinehas. Each of Eli’s two priestly sons had an Egyptian name: Hophni (“tadpole”) and Phinehas (“nubian”).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 1:4 sacrificed. A peace offering since the worshipers ate a portion of the offering (see Lev. 7:11–18).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 1:5 the Lord had closed her womb. Hannah’s barrenness was the result of divine providence like Sarah’s (Gen. 16:2) and Rachel’s (Gen. 30:2).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 1:6 her rival. The other wife was an adversary. used to provoke her. Lit., “to thunder against” her; see 2:10 for the same word.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 1:7 would not eat. Hannah fasted because of the provocation of Peninnah. She did not eat of the peace offerings.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 1:8 your heart sad. The idiom used reflects anger, not sadness (see Deut. 15:10 for the same idiom).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 1:9 temple. Actually, the tabernacle. The mention of sleeping quarters (3:2–3) and doors (3:15) implies that at this time the tabernacle was part of a larger, more permanent building complex.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 1:11 vow. Hannah pledged to give the Lord her son in return for God’s favor in giving her that son. A married woman’s vow could be confirmed or nullified by her husband according to Num. 30:6–15. your servant. A humble, submissive way of referring to herself in the presence of her superior, sovereign God. remember me. Hannah requested special attention and care from the Lord. all the days of his life. A contrast to the normal Nazirite vow, which was only for a specified period of time (see Num. 6:4–8). razor. Though not specified as such in this chapter, the Nazirite vow is certainly presupposed. The nonshaving of the hair on one’s head is one of the three requirements of the vow (Num. 6:5). This expression was used elsewhere only of the Nazirite Samson (Judg. 13:5; 16:17).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 1:13 drunken. Public prayer in Israel was usually audible. However, Hannah was praying silently, leaving Eli to surmise that she was drunk.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 1:16 worthless woman. Lit. “daughter of Belial.” Cf. 2:12.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 1:20 Samuel. The name lit. meant “name of God,” but sounded like “heard by God.” For Hannah the assonance was most important, because God had heard her prayer.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 1:21 his vow. Elkanah supported and joined with his wife in her vow to the Lord. With the birth of Samuel he brought his votive offering to the Lord (Lev. 7:16).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 1:22 weaned. As was customary in the ancient world, Samuel was probably breast fed for two to three years. Then he was left to serve the Lord at the tabernacle for the rest of his life.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 1:23 his word. Probably an earlier word of the Lord not recorded in the text.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 1:24 bull . . . flour . . . wine. According to Num. 15:8–10, a bull, flour, and wine were to be sacrificed in fulfillment of a vow. Hannah brought all three in larger measure than required. An ephah was about .75 bu.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 1:26 As you live. Lit., “by the light of your soul,” a common oath formula.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 1:27–28 my petition . . . lent. These terms are from the same Hebrew root used four times in these two verses. Twice in v. 27 it has the usual meaning of “asked.” Twice in v. 28 it bears the derived meaning “lent on request.” The son Hannah requested God had given, and she gives her gift back to the Giver.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 2:1–10 In contrast to the prayer that came from her bitterness (1:10), Hannah prayed from joy in these verses. The prominent idea in Hannah’s prayer is that the Lord is a righteous judge. He had brought down the proud (Peninnah) and exalted the humble (Hannah). The prayer has four sections: 1) Hannah prays to the Lord for his salvation (2:1–2); 2) Hannah warned the proud of the Lord’s humbling (vv. 3–8d); 3) Hannah affirmed the Lord's faithful care for his saints (vv. 8e-9b); 4) Hannah petitioned the Lord to judge the world and to prosper his anointed king (vv. 9c-10e). This prayer has a number of striking verbal similarities with David's song of 2 Sam. 22:2-51: "strength/stronghold" (1 Sam. 2:1; 22:3), "rock" (2:2; 22:2-3), salvation/deliverer (2:1-2; 22:2-3), Sheol (2:6; 22:6), "thunder" (2:10; 22:14), "king" (2:10; 22:51), and "anointed" (2:10; 22:51).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 2:1 strength. See esv footnote, "horn." A symbol of strength, power (see Deut. 33:17).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 2:2 rock. A metaphor for God that emphasized his strength and the security of those who trust in him (see Deut. 32:4; Ps. 18:1-2).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 2:3 proudly . . . arrogance. The majestic and powerful God humbles all those who vaunt themselves against him. The idea of God's humbling of the very proud is shown throughout 1 and 2 Samuel, toward Peninnah, Eli's sons, the Philistines, Goliath, Saul, Nabal, Absalom, Shimei, Sheba, and even David.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 2:4-7 Seven contrasts are found in these four verses: 1) mighty and weak; 2) full and hungry; 3) barren and fertile; 4) dead and alive; 5) sick and well; 6) poor and rich; and 7) humbled and exalted.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 2:5 has borne seven. This is not a personal testimony since Hannah bore only six children (2:21). "Seven" here is a general reference to women whom God blesses.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 2:8 pillars of the earth. A figure of speech that pictures the earth's stability (cf. Ps. 75:3; 82:5; 104:5).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 2:10 The Lord will judge the ends of the earth. The Lord will impose his righteous rule upon all the nations and peoples (see Isa. 2:2-4). his king. Moses had already predicted the coming of a king who would exercise God's rule over all the nations of the earth (Gen. 49:8-12; Num. 24:7-9, 17-19). It was this future, victorious king whom Hannah anticipated and Saul and David prefigured. his anointed. Previously in the OT, both the tabernacle and its utensils along with the priests (Aaron and his sons) had been anointed with oil. This pictured their consecrated and holy status before the Lord (Ex. 30:26-30). In Samuel, first Saul (1 Sam. 10:1), and then David (16:13; 2 Sam. 2:4; 5:3) were anointed as they were inaugurated for the kingship. From this point in the OT, it is usually the king who is referred as “the anointed (of the Lord)” (1 Sam. 12:3; 24:6; 26:9, 11, 16; 2 Sam. 1:14, 16; 19:21). The kings of Israel, particularly David, foreshadowed the Lord’s ultimate anointed king. The English word “Messiah” represents the Hebrew word used here meaning “anointed.” Thus, this ultimate King who would rule over the nations of the earth, came to be referred to as “the Messiah,” as here and 1 Sam. 2:35; cf. 2 Sam. 22:51.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 2:11 ministered to the Lord. As a Levite, the boy Samuel performed services that assisted Eli, the high priest.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 2:12 worthless. “Sons of Belial” was a Hebrew way of saying base or wicked men. See 2 Cor. 6:15, where it is used as a name for Satan. Eli had falsely considered Hannah a wicked woman (1 Sam. 1:16). Eli’s sons were, in fact, wicked men. They did not know the Lord. Eli’s sons had no personal experience of, nor fellowship with, the Lord. The boy Samuel came to “know the Lord” when the Lord revealed himself to him (see 3:7).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 2:13 The custom of the priests. Not content with the specified portions of the sacrifices given to the priests (Deut. 18:3), Eli’s sons would take for themselves whatever meat a three-pronged fork would collect from a boiling pot.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 2:15 before the fat was burned. The law mandated that the fat of the sacrificial animal was to be burned on the altar to the Lord (Lev. 7:31). In contrast, Eli’s sons demanded raw meat, including the fat, from the worshipers.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 2:18 Samuel. The faithful ministry of Samuel before the Lord was in sharp contrast to the disobedience of Eli’s sons. linen ephod. A close fitting, sleeveless outer vest extending to the hips and worn by priests, especially when officiating before the altar (Ex. 28:6–14).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 2:19 little robe. A sleeveless garment reaching to the knees, worn under the ephod (Ex. 28:31).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 2:20 May the Lord give you children. Eli’s blessing was a reminder of Hannah’s faithfulness to her vow to the Lord. By providing Hannah with additional children, the Lord continued to be gracious to her.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 2:22 lay with the women. Eli’s sons included in their vile behavior having sexual relationships with the women who served at the tabernacle (see Ex. 38:8). Such religious prostitution was common among Israel's Canaanite neighbors.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 2:25 who can intercede. Eli's point to his sons was that if God would surely judge when one sinned against another man, how much more would he bring judgment against those who sinned against him. it was the will of the Lord to put them to death. Because Eli's sons had persisted in their evil ways, God had already determined to judge them. This divine, judicial hardening, the result of defiant refusal to repent in the past, was the reason Hophni and Phinehas refused to heed Eli's warnings.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 2:26 continued to grow both in stature and in favor. In contrast to the apostate sons of Eli, Samuel was maturing both spiritually and socially (cf. Luke 2:52).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 2:27 man of God. Usually used as a synonym for "prophet" (see 9:9–10). house of your father . . . in Egypt. Although Eli's genealogy was not recorded in the OT, he was a descendant of Aaron. The Lord had revealed himself to Aaron in Egypt before the exodus (see Ex. 4:4–16). Aaron had been divinely chosen to serve the Lord as the first in a long line of priests (Ex. 28:1–4).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 2:28 to be my priest. The chief duties of the priests were: 1) to place the offerings upon the altar; 2) to burn the incense in the Holy Place; and 3) to wear the linen ephod (see v. 18).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 2:29 my offerings. In recognition of their service to God and his people, the priests were allocated specific parts of the offering, which were brought to the sanctuary (see Lev. 2:3, 10; 7:31–36). honor. By condoning the sin of Hophni and Phinehas, Eli had shown preference for his sons above the Lord. Therefore, Eli was unworthy of the Lord's blessing.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 2:30 I promised. The Lord had promised that Aaron's descendants would always be priests (Ex. 29:9), and he had confirmed that promise by oath (Num. 25:13). Because of flagrant disobedience, the house of Eli would forfeit their priesthood. Although the Aaronic priesthood was perpetual, priests could forfeit their position by their sin.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 2:31 there will not be an old man in your house. The judgment of untimely death followed the descendants of Eli. Eli's sons died in the flower of their manhood (4:11). Later, Saul massacred the priests at Nob (22:16–19). Ultimately, Solomon removed Abiathar from the priesthood (1 Kings 2:26–27) and the priestly line of Eleazar prevailed, as God promised (cf. Num. 25:10–13).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 2:34 the sign to you. The death of Eli's two sons on the same day validated the prophecy (cf. 4:11, 17).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 2:35 I will raise up for myself a faithful priest. Although some have identified this priest as Samuel and others Christ, it is better to view the prophecy as fulfilled in the accession of Zadok and his family to the priestly office in the time of Solomon (see 1 Kings 1:7–8; 2:26–35). This reestablished the office of high priest in the line of Eleazar and Phinehas (cf. Num. 25:10–13). I will build him a sure house. The sons of Zadok will also serve in the millennial temple (see Ezek. 44:15; 48:11). my anointed. This refers to the Messiah who will defeat God's enemies and establish his rule in the millennium (see 1 Sam. 2:10).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 2:36 a loaf of bread. The judgment corresponded to the sin. Those who had gorged themselves on the sacrifices (vv. 12–17) were reduced to begging for a morsel of food.

The Setting of 1 Samuel

The book of 1 Samuel is set in Israel during the time of transition between the period of the judges and the period of the monarchy. It opens with Samuel's birth and then describes his role as judge over Israel. When the people ask for a king, the Lord instructs Samuel to anoint Saul as Israel's first king.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 3:1 the young man Samuel. Samuel was no longer a child (2:21–26). While Jewish historian Josephus suggested he was 12 years of age, he was probably a teenager at this time. The same Hebrew term translated here “young man” was used of David when he slew Goliath (17:33). word of the Lord was rare. The time of the judges was a period of extremely limited prophetic activity. The few visions that God did give were not widely known. vision. A divine revelation mediated through an auditory or visual encounter.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 3:3 The lamp of God had not yet gone out. The golden lampstand, located in the Holy Place of the tabernacle, was filled with olive oil and lit at twilight (Ex. 30:8). The lamp was kept burning from evening until morning (Ex. 27:20–21). Just before dawn, while the golden lampstand was still burning, Samuel was called to his prophetic ministry. ark of God. See Ex. 25:10–22.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 3:7 Samuel did not yet know the Lord. Samuel had not yet encountered the Lord in a personal way, nor had he received God’s word by divine revelation (see 2:12).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 3:8 Then Eli perceived. Eli was slow to recognize that God was calling Samuel. This indicates that Eli’s spiritual perception was not what it should have been as the priest and judge of Israel (see also 1:12–16).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 3:10 hears. “To hear with interest,” or “to hear so as to obey.”

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 3:11 ears . . . will tingle. A message of impending destruction, here of Eli’s house (see 2 Kings 21:12; Jer. 19:3).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 3:12 all that I have spoken. See 2:27–36. The repetition of the oracle against Eli to Samuel confirmed the word spoken by the man of God.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 3:13 his sons were blaspheming God. Cursing God was an offense worthy of death (see Lev. 24:11–16, 23). did not restrain them. Eli was implicated in the sins of his sons because he did not intervene with judgment. If his sons were blaspheming God, they should have been stoned (see Lev. 24:15–16).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 3:14 not be atoned for . . . forever. Eli’s family was apparently guilty of presumptuous sin. For such defiant sin, there was no atonement and the death penalty could be immediately applied (see Num. 15:30–31).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 3:15 the doors of the house of the Lord. The doors of the tabernacle compound (see 1:9).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 3:17 God do so to you and more also. This is an oath of imprecation. Eli called down God’s judgment on Samuel if he refused to tell everything he knew.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 3:18 Let him do what seems good to him. Eli resigned himself to divine sovereignty, without reluctance.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 3:19 the Lord was with him. The Lord's presence was with Samuel, as it would be later with David (16:18; 18:12). The Lord's presence validated his choice of a man for his service. let none of his words fall to the ground. Everything Samuel said with divine authorization came true. This fulfillment of Samuel's word proved that he was a true prophet of God (see Deut. 18:21–22).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 3:20 Dan to Beersheba. The traditional limits of the land of Israel from the north to the south. prophet of the Lord. Samuel's status as a spokesman of God's message was acknowledged by all throughout Israel.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 4:1 the word of Samuel came to all Israel. The text of 1:1–3:21 climaxes with the establishment of Samuel as God's spokesman/representative. Observe that “the word of the Lord” (3:21) has become equivalent to “the word of Samuel.” Philistines. From the period of the judges through the end of David's reign, the Philistines (“Sea Peoples”) were an ever-present enemy of Israel. They were non-Semitic immigrants (see Gen. 10:14; 1 Chron. 1:12; Jer. 47:4–5; Amos 9:7) who settled along the coastal regions of southern Canaan, organizing their power in five chief cities: Ashdod, Ashkelon, Ekron, Gath, and Gaza (1 Sam. 6:17; Judg. 3:13). The introduction of the Philistines into the narrative provides a link between the judgeship of Samuel and the judgeship that Samson was not able to complete (Judg. 13–16).

Ebenezer. The location of this site has not been specifically identified. Opposite Aphek in Israelite territory, it is possibly modern Izbet Sarteh on the road to Shiloh. When translated it means “stone of help,” and its mention here (and 1 Sam. 5:1) and again in 7:12 of another location mark this section as a literary unit. Aphek. This site is located near the source of the Yarkon River, at the southern end of the coastal plain of Sharon, approximately 5 miles east of the Mediterranean. This city marked the northeastern edge of Philistine territory.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 4:3 Why has the Lord defeated us . . . ? The question of the elders reflected their knowledge that the Lord both fought their battles (2:10; 17:47) and allowed their defeat. To be defeated clearly meant that God was not “among” them (Num. 14:42; Deut. 1:42). Instead of inquiring of the Lord for direction, they proceeded to take the matter into their own hands. Let us bring the ark. The ark symbolized the presence and power of the Lord. Yet, Israel treated it like a good-luck charm, which would ensure them victory over the Philistines. Knowing that victory or defeat depended upon the Lord's presence, they confused the symbol of his presence with his actual presence. In this way, their understanding of God resembled that of the Philistines (1 Sam. 4:8).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 4:4 enthroned on the cherubim. A repeated phrase used to describe the Lord (see 2 Sam. 6:2; 2 Kings 19:15; 1 Chron. 13:6; Ps. 80:1; 99:1; Isa. 37:16). It spoke of his sovereign majesty. Hophni and Phinehas. These were the two wicked sons of Eli (1 Sam. 2:12–17, 27–36), of whom it was said that they “did not know the Lord” (2:12). The fact that they were mentioned together recalls the prophecy that they would die together (2:34).

The Ark's Travels in 1 Samuel 3–7

After suffering losses in battle against the Philistines at Ebenezer, the Israelite forces called for the ark of the covenant to be brought to the battle from Shiloh. But the Israelites were defeated again, and the Philistines captured the ark. The ark's presence in each Philistine city caused the people to suffer terrible tumors, so it was sent away to another city. Eventually the ark was returned to Israel at Beth-shemesh, and then it was brought to Kiriath-jearim, where it remained for some 20 years.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 4:6 Hebrews. In Gen. 14:13, the name “Hebrew” was applied to Abram. Consequently, the name came to refer to the physical descendants of Abraham. It was used to distinguish them as a class of people distinct from the foreigners around them. It means that Abram was a descendant of Eber in the line of Shem (cf. 10:25; 11:14–16).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 4:7 A god has come into the camp. The idol, to the Philistine, was thought to be the actual dwelling place of his deity. Hence, when Israel brought the ark into the camp, the Philistines concluded that God was present, an exclamation that reflected a knowledge of God’s power.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 4:8 the gods who struck the Egyptians. Evidently, the news of God’s victory over the Egyptians was common knowledge to the Philistines.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 4:9 slaves . . . as they have been to you. Israel’s failure to uproot all the inhabitants of Canaan (see Judg. 1:28) caused them to fall under the judgment of God. As a consequence of this judgment, Israel was enslaved to Philistine oppression (see Judg. 10; 13–16). The Philistines feared that they would become servants of the Hebrews.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 4:11 the ark of God was captured. In spite of their hopes to manipulate God into giving them the victory, Israel was defeated and the ark fell into the hands of the Philistines. The view of having the ark of God being equivalent to having control of God, possessed both by Israel and then the Philistines, is to be contrasted with the power and providence of God in the remaining narrative. Hophni and Phinehas, died. In fulfillment of 2:34 and 3:12, Eli's sons died together.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 4:12 his clothes torn and with dirt on his head. The actions of the man of Benjamin were considered to be universal signs of both mourning for the dead and of national calamity (cf. 2 Sam. 15:32).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 4:13 his heart trembled for the ark of God. Eli's concern for the ark stands in stark contrast to his earlier actions of honoring his two sons over honoring the Lord (2:29–30; cf. 4:17–18).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 4:18 Eli . . . died. As was the case with Hophni and Phinehas, Eli died. Thus, in fulfillment of the word of the Lord, all of the priestly line through Eli had been wiped out (2:29–34). See note on 2:31. He had judged Israel forty years. Over that time Eli fulfilled the office of both priest and judge in Israel.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 4:21 Ichabod . . . The glory has departed. Due primarily to the loss of the ark, the symbol of God's presence, Phinehas' wife names her child Ichabod, meaning either "Where is the glory?" or "no glory." To the Hebrew, "glory" was often used to refer to God's presence; hence, the text means "Where is God?" The word "departed" carries the idea of having gone into exile. Thus, to the people of Israel, the capturing of the ark was a symbol that God had gone into exile. Although this was the mindset of Israel, the text narrative will reveal that God was present, even when he disciplined his people. See note on Ezek. 10:18–19.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 5:1 Ashdod. One of the five chief Philistine cities, inland from the coast (3 miles) and approximately 33 miles west of Jerusalem.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 5:2 Dagon. Ancient literature identifies this deity as a fish god, whose image had the lower body of a fish and the upper body of a man. Dagon seems to have been the leader of the Philistine pantheon (Judg. 16:23) and is noted to be the father of Baal. The placing of the ark of God in the temple of Dagon was supposed to be a sign of Dagon's power and Yahweh's inferiority, a visual representation that the god of the Philistines was victorious over the God of the Hebrews. In addition, the textual connection of Dagon reinforces the affinity between the events written here and those in the life of Samson (cf. Judg. 13–16).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 5:3 fallen face downward. Ironically, God himself overturned the supposed supremacy of Dagon by having Dagon fallen over, as if paying homage to the Lord.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 5:4 head . . . hands were lying cut off. The first display of God's authority over Dagon was not perceived. God's second display of authority, the cutting off of Dagon's head and hands, was a common sign that the enemy was dead (Judg. 7:25; 8:6; 1 Sam. 17:54; 31:9; 2 Sam. 4:12), and was to be understood as God's divine judgment on the false idol.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 5:5 tread on the threshold. Because the head and hands of Dagon fell on the threshold, superstition developed that it was cursed; therefore, the Philistines would not tread on it. to this day. This phrase supports the claim that the writer was living at a time removed from the actual event itself (see Introduction: Author and Date). This phrase and phrases equivalent to it are found throughout 1 and 2 Samuel (6:18; 26:6; 30:25; 2 Sam. 4:3; 6:8; 18:18).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 5:6 The hand of the Lord was heavy. In contrast to the hands of Dagon being cut off, symbolizing his helplessness against the power of Yahweh, the Lord was pictured to be actively involved in judging the Philistines. The imagery of God's hand is found throughout the ark narrative (4:8; 5:6–11; 6:3–9). tumors. It has been suggested that this word refers to the sores or boils caused by an epidemic of the bubonic plague carried by rats (6:4–5). The spread of the disease and its deadly effect (5:6–12; 6:11, 17) make this a likely view.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 5:8 lords of the Philistines. Refers to those men who ruled the chief Philistine cities as kings (see note on 4:1). Gath. Another main Philistine city, located about 12 miles east of Ashdod (cf. 5:1).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 5:10 Ekron. With judgment on Gath, the Philistines sent the ark away to the next main city to see if God was behind their calamity. Located about 6 miles north of Gath, it was the closest major Philistine city to Israel's border. the ark . . . to kill us. The cry of the Ekronites was an admission that the Philistines had gotten the message that God was the source of their troubles. It is curious that the Philistines knew of God's power to smite the Egyptians (4:8), yet they proudly believed themselves stronger than Egypt. The severity of the plagues grew increasingly worse in 5:6–12, corresponding with the failure of the Philistines to humble themselves before God. Their actions were very similar to those of the Egyptians (Ex. 5–14).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 6:2 the priests and the diviners. These men of the Philistines, specifically identified in Scripture as having notable fame (Isa. 2:6), were summoned to figure out how to appease God so that he would stop the plague. send it to its place. The Philistines understood that they had offended God. Their diviners decided to rightfully appease his wrath by sending the ark back to Israel.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 6:3 guilt offering. The purpose behind this offering was to both acknowledge and compensate for their trespass of dishonoring the God of Israel. These pagans recognized their sin and the need for manifest repentance, which they did according to their religious tradition by means of votive trespass or guilt offerings.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 6:4 Five golden tumors and five golden mice. It was their custom to make models of their sores (and the mice that brought the plague), in hopes that the deity would recognize that they knew why he was angry and remove the evil that had fallen upon them. The context of v. 17 suggests that the items were in the writer's presence at the time the account was recorded. The number five represents each of the Philistine cities and lords affected by God's judgment.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 6:5 give glory to the God of Israel . . . he will lighten his hand. While sympathetic magic was the Philistine custom, this statement expressly affirms the intention behind the offerings: They were to halt the dishonor, confess their sin, and give glory to the God of Israel by acknowledging who it was that they had offended and who was the supreme Deity.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 6:6 Why should you harden your hearts . . . ? The diviners correlate the Philistines' actions of not recognizing God with those of Pharaoh and the Egyptians. This is the same word "harden" that was used in Ex. 7:14; 8:15, 32. It is an interesting correlation, because the dominant purpose in Ex. 5–14 is that the Egyptians might "know that I am the Lord" (Ex. 7:5).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 6:7 on which . . . never come a yoke. To know without a doubt that the God of Israel was behind all of their troubles, the diviners devised a plan that would reveal whether God was the One responsible. Using cows that had "never been yoked" meant using animals that were untrained to pull a cart and probably would not go anywhere. take their calves . . . away from them. The second element in their plan was to use nursing cows taken away from their calves. For the cows unnaturally to head off in the opposite direction from their calves would be a clear sign that the cause of their judgment was supernatural.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 6:9 Beth-shemesh. Named "house of the sun" and located in the Sorek Valley, this was a Levitical city about 15 miles west of Jerusalem. Originally designated for the descendants of Aaron (Josh. 21:16), it was chosen to be the destination of the cows pulling the cart.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 6:12 lowing as they went. With the moaning from instinctive unwillingness to leave their calves behind, the cows went straight to Beth-shemesh, not turning to the right or left, leaving the inescapable conclusion that God had judged them.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 6:13 reaping their wheat harvest. Sometime in June. These harvests were accomplished with the whole city participating.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 6:14 Joshua of Beth-shemesh. The cows stopped in the field of Joshua, where there was a large stone, which was verifiable to the writer at the time the account was written. burnt offering. Because the cows and cart were used for sacred purposes, they could not be used for normal everyday purposes. Therefore, the men of Beth-shemesh sacrificed the cows, using the cart for the fire.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 6:15 Levites. The men of Beth-shemesh, being Levites, were qualified to move the ark. set them upon the great stone. The stone mentioned was used as a pedestal for both the items of gold and the ark. At the time the account was written, it stood as a witness that God had returned to the land.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 6:16 five lords of the Philistines. The lords of the Philistines, upon seeing that the ark arrived safely, returned to Ekron.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 6:19 looked upon the ark. This action on the part of the men of Beth-shemesh constituted the sin of presumption. This is first addressed in Num. 4:20 and is mentioned again in 2 Sam. 6:6–7. seventy men. The Hebrew says “of the people seventy men, fifty thousand men” (see esv footnote). Some debate whether this figure is too large. However, retaining the larger number is more consistent with the context of “a great blow,” and the reference to 30,000 in 4:10 (cf. 11:8). However, a scribal error could have occurred, in which case the number would omit the 50,000 and likely be “seventy,” as in Josephus (and the esv).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 6:20 Who is able to stand before . . . God? This question climaxes the narrative of the ark. No one is able to stand against God’s judgment. This applied to the people outside the covenant as well as those under the covenant. Presumption before God is unacceptable. to whom shall he go. The expression was used to denote the desire to take the ark away from them.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 6:21 Kiriath-jearim. A city located approximately 10 miles northeast of Beth-shemesh. It would remain the resting place of the ark until David brought it to Jerusalem (2 Sam. 6:1–19). This location had long been associated with Baal worship (cf. Josh. 15:9, 60; 18:14).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 7:2 twenty years. Coupled with v. 3, the 20 years designated the period Israel neglected God and chased after foreign gods. After those 20 years, Israel returned to the Lord.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 7:3 direct your heart to the Lord . . . and he will deliver you. This statement recalls the cycle in the book of Judges: apostasy, oppression, repentance, and deliverance. It previews the contents of this chapter.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 7:4 the Baals and the Ashtaroth. Most dominant of the Canaanite pantheon, these deities were the fertility gods that plagued Israel. “Baal” and “Ashtaroth” are plurals of majesty, which signify their supreme authority over other Canaanite deities. Ashtaroth represented the female goddess, while Baal represented the male sky god who fertilized the land.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 7:5 Mizpah. This city was located 8 miles northeast of Kiriath-jearim in Benjamin. It became one of the cities of Samuel’s circuit (v.

16). I will pray. Samuel was a man of prayer (vv. 8–9; 8:6; 12:19, 23; 15:11).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 7:6 drew water and poured it out before the Lord. The pouring out of water before the Lord was a sign of repentance. This act is repeated in 2 Sam. 23:16. We have sinned against the Lord. The symbol of Samuel pouring out the water and the acknowledgment of the people reveal a situation where true repentance had taken place. The condition of the heart superseded the importance or righteousness of the ritual. Samuel judged. At this point Samuel is introduced as the judge of Israel. His judgeship encompassed both domestic leadership and the conduct of war. The word links the text back to the last comment about Eli who judged 40 years (1 Sam. 4:18). Samuel is shown to be the one taking over Eli’s judgeship. He served as the last judge before the first king (cf. 8:5).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 7:7 Israel . . . afraid of the Philistines. When Israel heard that the Philistines had come up against them for war, they were afraid.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 7:10 the Lord thundered . . . against the Philistines. In a literal manner, the Lord did to his enemies what was said by Hannah in her prayer (2:10).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 7:11 Beth-car. The location is unknown.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 7:12 Ebenezer. A different location from the one mentioned in 4:1 and 5:1. The name functions as the literary knot for the two ends of this unit (see note on 4:1). Till now the Lord has helped us. This expression means that the Lord was the One responsible for getting Israel to this point. He was Israel’s Sovereign One in times of both faithfulness and rebellion. He fought the battles and provided the blessings.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 7:13 did not again enter the territory of Israel. The Lord gave Israel the victory over the Philistines, discontinuing their threat for the immediate future during Samuel’s judgeship. all the days of Samuel. As the section opened in 4:1 with Samuel pictured as God’s agent, so here the section closed with the Lord working powerfully through all the days of Samuel.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 7:14 Ekron to Gath. These two cities, mentioned earlier as chief Philistine cities (5:8–10), became the eastern border of the Philistines. The territory to the east of these cities was freed from Philistine control and returned to Israel. Amorites. Whereas the Philistines resided in the coastal plains, the Amorites resided in the hills west of Israel between the Jordan Valley and the coastal plain. As with the Philistines, Israel was at peace with the Amorites.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 7:16 on a circuit. The circuit was an annual trip made by Samuel; he would travel to Bethel, Gilgal, Mizpah, and return once again to Ramah, which allowed him to manage the affairs of the people.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 7:17 Ramah. The first major division of the book (1:1–7:17) ends with Samuel returning to Ramah to judge the people.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 8:1–15:35 This division of the book concentrates on the interaction between Israel, Samuel, and Saul. These chapters begin with the elders of Israel coming to Samuel at Ramah (8:4) and conclude with Samuel's leaving Saul and returning to Ramah (15:34). Chapters 8:1–12:25 describe the establishment of the kingship over the nation of Israel and the advent of Saul as the first king. These chapters are linked by reference to Samuel's being old (8:1; 12:2) and listening to "the voice of the people" (8:7, 9, 19, 22; 12:1, 14–15). Chapters 13:1–15:35 recount the failures of Saul as king over Israel. The events of these chapters are bracketed by two interactions between Saul and Samuel that both take place in Gilgal (13:4, 7–8, 12, 15; 15:12, 21, 33).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 8:1 Samuel became old. Samuel was about 60 years of age (1043 B.C.). He appointed his two sons to serve as judges in Beersheba, a city about 57 miles south of Ramah.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 8:2 Joel. The name means "the Lord is God." Abijah. The name means "my Father is the Lord."

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 8:3 his sons did not walk in his ways. The perverted desire for riches led Samuel's sons to take bribes and thereby pervert justice. These actions were strictly forbidden for judges in Deut. 16:19. The sins of Samuel's sons became the pretext for Israel's demand for a king (1 Sam. 8:4–5).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 8:5 Now appoint for us a king. . . like all the nations. When Israel entered the land, they encountered Canaanite city-states that were led by kings (see Josh. 12:7–24). Additionally, during the period of the judges, Israel was enslaved by nations that were led by kings (Judg. 3:8, 12; 4:2; 8:5; 11:12). However, at the time of the judges there was no king in Israel (Judg. 17:6; 18:1; 19:1; 21:25). As Israel lived in the land surrounded by nations that had kings, the desire arose for a king in Israel also. According to Deut. 17:14, God knew this would be their desire and he would allow it to occur. However, 1 Sam. 8:20 revealed a motive that was definitely counter to the Lord's will. See note on 8:20.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 8:7 Obey the voice of the people. The Lord had predicted that there would be kings over Israel (Gen. 35:11; 36:31; 49:10; Num. 24:7–9, 17; Deut. 17:14; 28:36). Here, the Lord told Samuel to obey the request of the people and give them a king. they have not rejected you, but . . . me. The nature of this rejection of the Lord by Israel is explained in 1 Sam. 8:19–20.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 8:9 you shall solemnly warn them. Samuel obeyed the Lord by describing the behavior of a human king in vv. 10–18. A king would: 1) draft young men and women for his service (vv. 11–13); 2) tax the people's crops and flocks (vv. 14–15, 17a); 3) appropriate the best of their animals and servants (v. 16); and 4) place limitations on their personal freedom (v. 17b).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 8:10 who were asking for a king. Just as Hannah asked for a son (1:20), Israel asked for a king. See note on 9:2.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 8:18 you will cry out because of your king, whom you have chosen. Samuel warned the people that they would live to regret their decision for a king and would later cry out for freedom from his rule (1 Kings 12:4). the Lord will not answer you. In contrast to the Lord's response to Israel during the period of the judges (Judg. 2:18), the Lord would not be moved to pity and therefore would refuse to deliver the people out of the hand of their king who oppressed them.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 8:19 there shall be a king over us. In spite of Samuel's warnings, the people demanded a king.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 8:20 fight our battles. Up until this point, the Lord himself had fought the battles for Israel and given continual victory (Josh. 10:14; 1 Sam. 7:10). Israel no longer wanted the Lord to be their warrior; replacing him with a human king was their desire. It was in this way that Israel rejected the Lord (see 8:7). The problem was not in having a king; but, rather the reason the people wanted a king, i.e., to be like other nations. They also foolishly assumed there would be some greater power in a king leading them in battle.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 9:1 a man of wealth. The description is confirmed by the reference to donkeys and servants in v. 3 (cf. Boaz in Ruth 2:1).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 9:2 Saul. Son of Kish, a Benjamite, he was Israel's first king. The Hebrew root for "Saul" means "asked (of God)." In 8:10, the people were "asking for a king." Although God appointed Saul, he was really the people's choice, given by the Lord in answer to their request. The Lord's choice would be from the tribe of Judah (cf. Gen. 49:10). a handsome young man. Emphasis was placed on the external appearance of leaders (cf. David in 1 Sam. 16:18).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 9:3 the donkeys . . . were lost. "Lost donkeys" meant "lost wealth." Kish had servants who could have gone looking, but Saul was chosen to oversee this important task.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 9:4 Shalishah . . . Shaalim. The locations are geographically unknown.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 9:6 a man of God. A description of the prophet and judge, Samuel. "Man of God" referred to a prophet (see 2:27). See note on Deut. 33:1.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 9:7 no present to bring. A gift expressed gratitude and thankfulness for the service of the "man of God." Gifts were offered to prophets in 1 Kings 14:3; 2 Kings 4:42; 5:15–16; 8:8–9.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 9:8 a quarter of a shekel. About one-tenth of an ounce.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 9:9 today's "prophet" was formerly called a seer. Due to the God-given ability to know or "see" the future, the "seer" was so named in close relationship with what he did. The person called a prophet, by the time this book was written, had been termed a seer in the earlier time of Saul.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 9:12 high place. This is essentially Canaanite in background (cf. Deut. 12:2–5). Before the temple was built, the high place was used for worship and sacrifice because it provided the best vantage point for the participation of the people in worship and allowed them to visually see the sacrifice being made for them.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 9:13 he must bless the sacrifice. The sacrifice was offered to the Lord as an act of worship by the "man of God."

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 9:16 anoint him. This represents a setting apart for service to the Lord, which occurs in 10:1. See note on 2:10. prince. Lit., "one given prominence, one placed in front.” The title referred to “one designated to rule” (cf. 1 Kings 1:35; 2 Chron. 11:22). their cry has come to me. The people had been crying out for deliverance from the Philistines, their longstanding rivals, just as they did for liberation from Egypt (cf. Ex. 2:25; 3:9).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 9:17 He it is who shall restrain my people. God identified Saul to Samuel, assuring there was no mistaking whom God was choosing to be king.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 9:18 Tell me where is the house of the seer? A reference to Samuel’s house.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 9:20 all that is desirable in Israel. Saul was to become the focus of Israel’s hope for military victories over her enemies (cf. 8:19–20).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 9:21 a Benjamite . . . the least of the tribes. Saul’s humility and timidity was expressed by his proper assessment of his tribe and a humble estimation of his family.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 9:22 the hall. The place where those who were invited ate with Samuel after the offering of the sacrifice on the high place (cf. vv. 12–13).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 9:24 the leg . . . kept is set before you. Samuel was following Lev. 7:28–36. Samuel received the leg, the portion of the sacrifice reserved for the priest. Samuel’s giving of this choice piece of meat to Saul was a distinct honor and reflected Saul’s new status as the designated king.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 9:25 on the roof. The roof of Samuel’s house provided a place for Saul and his servant to sleep for the night.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 9:27 the word of God. Special revelation from God, given to Samuel and intended for Saul. See note on 3:1.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 10:1 the Lord anointed you to be prince. The Lord chose Saul to be the leader of Israel and communicated his choice through the private anointing by Samuel, signifying a setting aside for God’s service (see 2:10). his heritage. The inheritance was God’s nation, Israel, in the sense that she uniquely belonged to him (Deut. 4:20; 9:26).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 10:2 Zelzah. Only mentioned here. Probably near Ramah, located between Bethel and Bethlehem, where Rachel died (Gen. 35:19; 48:7).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 10:3 Tabor. This is not the far-distant Mount Tabor, but a location unknown, probably near Bethel.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 10:5 garrison of the Philistines. Most likely the garrison in Geba in Benjamin, about 5 miles north of Jerusalem. prophesying. The prophet, as God’s messenger, declared the word of the Lord (2 Sam. 7:5; 12:1), sometimes accompanied by music (1 Chron. 25:1). Here, “prophesying” connotes praising God and instructing the people with musical accompaniment.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 10:6 the Spirit of the Lord will rush upon you. The Holy Spirit would enable Saul to declare the word of the Lord with the prophets. turned into another man. With this empowerment by the Holy Spirit, Saul would emerge another man (cf. v. 9), equipped in the manner of Gideon and Jephthah for deeds of valor (cf. v. 9; Judg. 6:34; 11:29).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 10:7 signs. The three signs of vv. 2–6: 1) the report of the found donkeys; 2) the encounter of the three men going to Bethel; and 3) the encounter with the prophets.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 10:8 Gilgal. The town where Saul eventually would be declared king by Samuel (11:14–15), offer sacrifice before the Lord without the prophet Samuel (13:12), and where Samuel slew king Agag (15:33). Gilgal was to the east of Jericho, but west of the Jordan River. burnt offerings and . . . peace offerings. See notes on Lev. 1:3–17 and 3:1–17. Seven days. The appointed time Saul was to wait for Samuel to come and tell him what to do (see 1 Sam. 13:8).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 10:9 God gave him another heart. Lit., “God changed him for another heart,” i.e., God prepared Saul for the kingship by having the Holy Spirit come upon him (cf. v. 6).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 10:12 who is their father? A question asked to find out the identity of the leader of the prophetic band that now included Saul. a proverb. A saying of common occurrence.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 10:16 the matter of the kingdom. The information Samuel gave Saul about becoming king he did not tell his uncle. This might reflect Saul's humility (cf. v. 22).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 10:17 Samuel called the people. The Lord's choice of Saul was made public at Mizpah, the place of the spiritual revival before Israel's victory over the Philistines (7:5–8).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 10:18–19 the Lord, the God of Israel . . . delivered you. Despite the past faithfulness of God to his people, they still desired a human king to deliver them from the hands of their enemies.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 10:20–21 taken. Probably Saul was selected by the casting of lots (cf. Lev. 16:8–10; Josh. 7:15–18). See note on Prov. 16:33.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 10:22 hidden himself among the baggage. Overwhelmed, Saul had hidden himself in the military supplies.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 10:23 taller . . . from his shoulders upward. Saul's physical stature was impressive; being head and shoulders above the rest gave Saul a kingly presence.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 10:25 rights and duties of the kingship. Samuel reminded the people of the regulations governing the conduct of kings according to Deut. 17:14–20.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 10:26 whose hearts God had touched. Valiant men who were eager to affirm God's choice of Saul and, in response to a divine impulse, joined him.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 10:27 worthless fellows. Lit., "sons of Belial" (see note on 2:12). Those who did not recognize Saul with the respect befitting a king.

Saul Rescues Jabesh-gilead

c. 1050 B.C.

Soon after Saul was anointed king of Israel, the people of Jabesh-gilead were attacked by the Ammonites. When Saul heard the news at Gibeah, he quickly mustered the Israelite forces at Bezek and defeated the Ammonites in battle. Samuel then called upon the people to confirm Saul's kingship at Gilgal.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 11:1 Nahash the Ammonite. Nahash, meaning “snake,” was king of the Ammonites, the descendants of Lot (cf. Gen. 19:36–38) who lived east of the Jordan. Jabesh-gilead. A town east of the Jordan, about 22 miles south of the Sea of Galilee, in the tribal territory of Manasseh (cf. Judg. 21:8–14).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 11:2 gouge out all your right eyes. This barbarous mutilation was a common punishment of usurpers in the ancient Near East that would disable the warriors' depth-perception and peripheral vision, rendering them useless in battle.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 11:3 seven days. The elders at Jabesh were hoping for deliverance from the Israelites west of the Jordan.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 11:4 Gibeah of Saul. Saul's home and the first capital city of the monarchy, about 3 miles north of Jerusalem (cf. 10:26).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 11:5 from the field. Saul continued to work as a farmer while waiting for the time to answer Israel's expectations of him as the king.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 11:6 the Spirit of God rushed upon Saul. To fill him with divine indignation and to empower him to deliver the citizens of Jabesh-gilead (cf. 10:6).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 11:7 cut them in pieces. Saul divided the oxen in sections to be taken throughout Israel to rouse the people for battle (see a similar action in Judg. 19:29; 20:6).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 11:8 Bezek. A city 13 miles north of Shechem and 17 miles west of Jabesh-gilead. people of Israel . . . men of Judah. This distinction made between Israel and Judah before the kingdom was divided indicates the book was written after 931 B.C. when the kingdom had been divided. See Introduction: Author and Date.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 11:11 three companies. A military strategy of dividing up forces, it lessened the possibility of losing everyone to a sneak attack while giving greater military options. in the morning watch. The last of the three watches (2:00–6:00 A.M.), this surprise attack was before dawn, before the Ammonites were prepared for battle.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 11:13 the Lord has worked salvation in Israel. Saul recognized the deliverance of the Lord and refused to kill those who had rebelled against his kingship (10:27).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 11:14 Gilgal. See note on 10:8. renew the kingdom. The reaffirmation of Saul’s kingship by public acclamation.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 11:15 they made Saul king before the Lord. All the people came to crown Saul king that day. The process of entering the kingship was the same for both Saul and David: 1) commissioned by the Lord (9:1–10:16; 16:1–13); 2) confirmed by military victory (10:17–11:11; 16:14–2 Sam. 1:27); and 3) crowned (1 Sam. 11:12–15; 2 Sam. 2:4; 5:3). peace offerings. Sacrifices of thanksgiving (cf. Lev. 7:13). rejoiced greatly. Along with the victory over the Ammonites, there was a great celebration over the nation being united.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 12:1 I have obeyed your voice. Samuel had obeyed the will of the Lord and the people and set the king of God’s choice over them, though he had personal reservations concerning the monarchy.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 12:3 Here I am. These familiar words for Samuel throughout his entire life (cf. 3:4, 5, 6, 8, 16) emphasized his availability to God and the people. testify. Samuel requested the people to “testify” any covenant stipulations that he had violated.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 12:7 I may plead with you before the Lord. Despite the nation being unified under the new king, Samuel still wanted to rebuke the nation for ignoring and rejecting what God had done without a king.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 12:11 the Lord sent . . . and delivered you. It was the Lord who delivered them through the hands of the judges, not themselves.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 12:12 when you saw that Nahash the king of the Ammonites came against you. According to the Dead Sea Scrolls and Josephus, Nahash was campaigning over a large area. It was that Ammonite threat that seemingly provoked Israel to demand a human king (8:1–20). the Lord your God was your king. The clearest indictment of Israel for choosing a mere man to fight for her instead of the Lord God (cf. 8:20).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 12:13 the king whom you have chosen . . . asked. The Lord gave them their request (cf. Ps. 106:15).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 12:14 fear the Lord. A reminder of Josh. 24:14. Israel was to stand in awe of the Lord and submit to him (cf. Deut. 10:12). you and the king . . . follow the Lord. Both the people and the king were given the same command. The standard was the same, obedience to God’s commands.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 12:15 rebel. “Disobey, not heed, forsake.” Echoing the promises of Deut. 28, there would be blessings for obeying and curses for disobeying the commands of the Lord.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 12:16 this great thing. Though rain during the wheat harvest (late May to early June) was unusual, the Lord sent the rain and thunder to authenticate Samuel’s words to the people.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 12:19 Pray for your servants. The people’s response to the power of God was their recognition of their sinful motives in asking for a king. They needed Samuel’s prayers to intercede for them.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 12:20 serve the Lord with all your heart. An often-expressed covenant requirement (Deut. 10:12–13; 11:13–14).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 12:21 empty things. “Vain things,” i.e., idols.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 13:1 . . . years . . . and two years. The original numbers have not been preserved in this text. It lit. reads, “Saul was one year old when he became king and ruled two years over Israel.” Acts 13:21 states that Saul ruled Israel 40 years. His age at his accession is recorded nowhere in Scripture. Probably the best reconstruction of 1 Sam. 13:1–2 is “Saul was one and (perhaps) thirty years old when he began to reign, and when he had reigned two years over Israel, then Saul chose for himself three thousand men of Israel . . .”

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 13:2 Michmash. This area was located about 7 miles northeast of Jerusalem. Jonathan. “The Lord has given.” Saul’s firstborn son and heir apparent to the throne was evidently old enough to serve as a commander in Israel’s army at this time, much like David when he slew Goliath (17:32–37). Gibeah of Benjamin. This city was located 3 miles north of Jerusalem. It was called Gibeah of Saul in 11:4.

The Battle at Michmash

As the Philistines strengthened their grip on the central hill country of Israel, they placed troops at Michmash and sent raiding parties into the countryside. After Saul’s son Jonathan captured the town of Geba, Saul mustered more Israelite forces at Gilgal and joined Jonathan. A daring raid by Jonathan across the ravine separating Michmash and Geba led to an Israelite victory over the Philistines, and the Israelites drove them from the hill country.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 13:3 Geba. This outpost was located about 5 miles north by northeast of Jerusalem, 1.5 miles southwest of Michmash. blew the trumpet. Saul used the trumpet to summon additional troops for battle.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 13:4 stench. Israel could expect retaliation from the Philistines for Jonathan's raid. Gilgal. This is the town of Saul's confirmation as king by Samuel and the people (11:14–15). Saul chose Gilgal because of Samuel's word in 10:8.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 13:5 thirty thousand chariots. This is probably a scribal error, since the number is too large for the corresponding horsemen. Three thousand is more reasonable and is found in some OT manuscripts. Michmash. See note on 13:2. Beth-aven. Lit., "house of nothingness." It was less than 1 mile southwest of Michmash.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 13:7 Gad and Gilead. Areas east of the Jordan River. all the people followed him trembling. The people were in fear over probable Philistine retaliation.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 13:8 seven days, the time appointed by Samuel. This is a direct reference to Samuel's word in 10:8. Saul was commanded to wait seven days to meet Samuel in Gilgal. the people were scattering. Saul's men were deserting him because of anxiety and fear over the coming battle.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 13:9 he offered the burnt offering. Saul's sin was not specifically that he made a sacrifice (cf. 2 Sam. 24:25; 1 Kings 8:62–64), but that he did not wait for priestly assistance from Samuel. See 1 Sam. 10:8. He wished to rule as an autocrat, who possessed absolute power in civil and sacred matters. Samuel had wanted the seven days as a test of Saul's character and obedience to God, but Saul failed it by invading the priestly office himself.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 13:11 When I saw. Saul reacted disobediently based upon what he saw and not by faith. He feared losing his men and did not properly consider what God would have him do.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 13:13 You have not kept the command. Saul's disobedience was a direct violation of the command from Samuel in 10:8. your kingdom . . . forever. How could this be in light of God's promise to Judah (Gen. 49:10)? This would correct the potential contradiction of Saul being from Benjamin, not Judah.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 13:14 a man after his own heart. Instead of Saul, God was going to choose one whose heart was like his own, i.e., one who had a will to obey God. Paul quotes this passage in Acts 13:22 of David (cf. 1 Sam. 16:7). prince. Someone else, namely David, had already been chosen to be God's leader over his people.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 13:15 from Gilgal to Gibeah. This was about a 10-mile trip westward. Samuel left Saul, realizing that Saul’s kingship was doomed. six hundred men. This indicates the mass departure of the Israelites (v. 6) and gives a perspective on what Saul saw (v. 5).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 13:17 raiders . . . in three companies. Lit., these were “destroyers” in the Philistine army, divided into three groups.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 13:19 no blacksmith. The Philistines had superior iron and metal-working craftsmen until David’s time (cf. 1 Chron. 22:3), accounting for their formidable military force.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 13:20 mattock. A pickax to work the ground by hand.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 13:21 The Philistines charged a high price to sharpen instruments that could potentially be used against them.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 13:22 neither sword nor spear. The Philistines had a distinct military advantage over Israel since they had a monopoly on iron weapons.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 13:23 the pass of Michmash. Some of the Philistines had moved out to a pass leading to Michmash.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 14:1 the other side. Jonathan and his armor bearer left the Israelite camp to approach the Philistine outpost.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 14:2 pomegranate cave. Most likely “under the pomegranate tree” (see esv footnote). These trees are common to Israel’s landscape, normally growing as low shrubs with spreading branches. This may have been a particularly large one.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 14:3 Ahijah. “Brother of the Lord.” He was the great-grandson of Eli the high priest, another house that had been rejected of the Lord (2:22–36). wearing an ephod. The ephod was a white garment worn by the priests that was attached to the body by a belt. A breastpiece worn over the ephod had pouches that were used by the priests to carry certain devices used in determining the will of God, i.e., the Urim and Thummim, or sacred lots. See note on Ex. 28:5–13. Apparently, Saul chose not to use it for seeking the Lord’s will.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 14:4 Bozez . . . Seneh. Hebrew terms. Bozez may mean “slippery.” Seneh means “thorny.”

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 14:6 uncircumcised. This was a derogatory term used by the Israelites to describe the Philistines. by many or by few. Jonathan demonstrated the great faith that should have been demonstrated by the king (cf. 13:11).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 14:10 the sign to us. This was an unusual manner for determining the will of the Lord, but not without similar precedent, e.g., Gideon’s fleece (Judg. 6:36–40). Jonathan was allowed to determine the will of God by the reaction of his enemies.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 14:11 Hebrews. The oldest term used by Gentile nations to refer to the people of Israel. the holes where they have hidden. Many of the Israelites were hiding in fear over the battle. Apparently they thought Jonathan and his armor bearer were Israelite deserters coming to the Philistine side.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 14:15 the earth quaked. The earthquake affirms the fact that divine intervention aided Jonathan and his armor bearer in their raid. The earthquake caused a panic among the Philistines. God would have intervened on Saul’s behalf in such a manner had he chosen to be faithfully patient (cf. 13:9).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 14:18 ark of God. The LXX reads “ephod” instead of “ark,” and this seems more likely since the ark was at Kiriath-jearim and the language of v. 19 better fits the ephod (v. 3) than the ark.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 14:19 Withdraw your hand. Saul, in a hurry, ordered the priest to stop the inquiry into the will of the Lord.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 14:21 Hebrews. This is a reference to Israelite deserters or mercenaries.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 14:22 the hill country of Ephraim. A large and partially wooded area north and west of Michmash.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 14:23 So the Lord saved Israel. The writer uses similar language to that of the exodus. In spite of their disobedient king, God was faithful to deliver Israel from her enemies. Beth-aven. See note on 13:2.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 14:24 had been hard pressed. Saul's inept leadership failed to provide for the physical needs of his men, leaving them weak and fatigued. Cursed. Saul's first foolish oath pronounced a curse upon anyone tasting food until the battle was over. The scene fits chronologically after Jonathan's departure.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 14:25 honey on the ground. This was a reference to honeycombs found in the forest (v. 27).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 14:27 Jonathan had not heard. Jonathan apparently had departed before Saul made his oath.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 14:29 My father has troubled the land. Jonathan saw the foolishness of Saul's oath and how it actually hurt Israel's cause instead of helping it.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 14:31 Aijalon. This area is located 15 miles west of Michmash. This would have been a normal path back to the land of the Philistines.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 14:32 ate them with the blood. The people were so severely hungry because of the oath (v. 24) that they disobeyed the law by eating the meat raw and not draining the blood (cf. Lev. 17:10–14).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 14:35 the first altar. The first and only altar built by Saul mentioned in Scripture.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 14:36 Let us draw near to God. Ahijah the priest requested that they first seek the Lord regarding their course of action.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 14:37 Saul inquired of God. At the request of Ahijah, Saul inquired of the Lord regarding his battle plan. he did not answer him. Because of the sin that Saul had caused in his army, God did not answer his inquiry. This would not be the last time that the Lord would refuse to respond to sinful Saul (cf. 28:6).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 14:39 as the Lord lives. As an encore to his previous oath, Saul followed with another foolish oath, unknowingly jeopardizing his own son's life.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 14:41 taken. The practice of casting lots was used to distinguish one person or group from another. Jonathan was indicated as the guilty party, though he acted innocently (v. 27).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 14:44 God do so . . . and more also. Saul, proud and concerned with his own authority and honor, was intent on fulfilling his vow.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 14:45 worked with God this day. Jonathan, in stark contrast to his father the king, understood the sufficiency of God for the task and obediently relied on him for the victory.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 14:46 the Philistines went to their own place. The Philistines were left to continue their retreat unhindered.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 14:47–48 Saul's military accomplishments were significant and expanded Israel's borders in all directions: to the south (Edom), east (Ammon and Moab), north (Zobah), and west (Philistia). The defeat of the Amalekites is recorded in ch. 15.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 14:49–51 Saul's children, Jonathan and Michal, would both play significant roles in the life of the next king, David. Nothing further is known of Saul's wife or other children mentioned here.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 14:50 Abner. A cousin of Saul who commanded his army (cf. 17:55, 57; 20:25; 26:14–15).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 14:52 hard fighting. The Philistines' opposition to Israel was persistent and continual to the very last day of Saul's life (31:1–3). strong man . . . valiant man. Saul looked for the good warriors and attached them to his personal force. David was one such man, who would also continue this practice under his rule (2 Sam. 23:8–39).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 15:2 Amalek. The Amalekites, a nomadic people of the desert and descendants of Esau (Gen. 36:12), became a marked people when they attacked Israel in the wilderness after leaving Egypt (see notes on Ex. 17:8–16; cf. Num. 24:20; Deut. 25:17–19; Judg. 6:3–5).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 15:3 devote to destruction. God gave Saul an opportunity to redeem himself with obedience. The judgment was to be a complete and total annihilation of anything that breathed. God’s judgment was severe on those who would destroy his people. It was equally severe to those who disobeyed (cf. Achan in Josh. 7:10–26).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 15:4 Telaim. The precise location of this area is unknown, but it may be a reference to Telem found in Josh. 15:24.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 15:5 the city of Amalek. This was possibly modern-day Tel Masos located about 7 miles east southeast of Beersheba.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 15:6 the Kenites. Moses’ father-in-law was a Kenite (cf. Judg. 1:16), a people friendly to the Israelites.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 15:7 from Havilah as far as Shur. Saul’s victory was extensive, covering much of the Amalekite territory. However, the Amalekites were not completely destroyed (cf. 27:8; 30:1).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 15:8 Agag. Another example of Saul’s incomplete obedience, in the case of Agag, is recorded because it had such far-reaching implications. Over five centuries later an Agagite named Haman attempted to exterminate the Jewish race from his power base in Persia (cf. Est. 3:1 ff.). all the people. The Israelites killed everyone they came across, except for the king.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 15:9 Saul and the people spared. Motivated by covetousness, both Saul and the people greedily spared the choice spoil of the land, disobeying God’s word and demonstrating their faithlessness.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 15:11 Samuel was angry. Samuel’s role as priest over the people gave him great concern over the poor performance of the king, who was like the kings of other nations (6:19–20) i.e., self-centered, self-willed, and utterly disobedient to the things of God.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 15:12 Carmel. This is not Mount Carmel of Elijah fame (1 Kings 18:20ff.), but a Carmel located 7 miles south of Hebron. monument for himself. Saul, apparently taking credit for the victory, established a monument to himself (cf. Absalom in 2 Sam. 18:18). This foolish act of contemptible pride was Saul’s expression of self-worship rather than true worship of God and another evidence of his spiritual weakness. Gilgal. The site of Samuel’s first confrontation with Saul (1 Sam. 13:7b–15) became the site of this pronouncement of judgment.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 15:13 I have performed the commandment of the Lord. Saul, either ignorantly or deceitfully, maintained that he did what was commanded (v. 20).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 15:15 the people spared the best . . . to sacrifice. Saul began to place blame on others, making room for his own excuses just as he had done earlier (cf. 13:11–12). Then he tried to justify his sin by saying that the animals would be used to sacrifice to the God of Samuel. Saul's blatant disobedience at least pained his conscience so that he could not claim God as his God.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 15:17 little in your own eyes. Saul's status before he became king was as a humble and lowly Benjamite (cf. 9:21).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 15:19 pounce on the spoil. Saul and the people greedily took the spoil like a bird of prey diving on its victim.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 15:20–21 I have obeyed the voice of the Lord. Instead of confessing his sin and repenting, Saul continued to justify himself.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 15:22 to obey is better than sacrifice. This is an essential OT truth. Samuel stated that God desires heart obedience over the ritual sacrifice of animals (cf. Ps. 51:16–17; Isa. 1:10–17). The sacrificial system was never intended to function in place of living an obedient life, but was rather to be an expression of it (cf. Hosea 6:6; Amos 5:21–27; Micah 6:6–8).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 15:23 rebellion . . . presumption. Saul needed to see that his real worship was indicated by his behavior and not by his sacrifices. He demonstrated himself to be an idolater whose idol was himself. He had failed the conditions (12:13–15) that would have brought blessing on the nation. His disobedience here was on the same level as witchcraft and idolatry, sins worthy of death. Because you have rejected . . . he has also rejected. A universal principle is given here that those who continually reject God will one day be rejected by him. The sins of Saul caused God to immediately depose Saul and his descendants forever from the throne of Israel.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 15:24 I have sinned. This overdue confession appears to be generated more by a concern over consequences (regret) than by sorrow over having offended holy God (repentance). He bypasses his personal responsibility by shifting blame to the people.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 15:25 return with me. Saul was concerned about having Samuel's visible presence as a show of support in front of the people (cf. v. 30).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 15:28 torn the kingdom. Saul's judgment was a settled matter on the day of his disobedience with the Amalekites. Samuel used the illustration as it vividly portrayed how God would take the kingdom from Saul as he had just torn Samuel's robe. a neighbor of yours. This was a reference to David (cf. 28:17).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 15:29 the Glory of Israel. This was a unique title of God (cf. Mic. 1:15). will not lie or have regret. Samuel emphasized God's attribute of immutability in regard to the judgment upon Saul.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 15:30 honor me. Saul was still thinking of himself and how he could best salvage the situation for self-gain.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 15:31 Samuel turned back. Samuel agreed to follow Saul, perhaps seeing this as the wisest course of action for the nation at that time.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 15:33 hacked Agag to pieces. This was an act of divine judgment to show the holy wrath of God against wanton sin. Sadly, the Israelites did not exterminate the wicked Amalekites, so they came back later to raid the southern territory and take women and children captive, including David's family (see ch. 30).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 15:35 Samuel did not see Saul again . . . grieved. Samuel never went to visit the rejected King Saul again in his life (cf. 28:11–19). On at least one further occasion, Saul sought Samuel (cf. 19:24).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 16:1–31:13 The third major division of Samuel recounts the steady demise of Saul and the selection and preparation of David for the kingship. Chapter 16 begins with Samuel mourning for Saul as one would mourn for the dead. The death of Saul (31:1–13) concludes this last division of the book.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 16:1 Jesse the Bethlehemite. God's new king of Israel (and ultimately the Messiah; Gen. 3:15; Num. 24:17; 1 Sam. 2:10; Ps. 2) would come from the tribe of Judah (Jesse; cf. Ruth 4:12, 22; Gen. 49:10) and from Bethlehem of Judah (cf. Mic. 5:2; Matt. 2:2–6). I have provided . . . myself. The king was chosen and provided by God (Deut. 17:15), who orders all things according to the counsel of his own will (Isa. 40:14), not according to human desires (1 Sam. 8:5–6; 2 Sam. 2:8–9).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 16:2 Saul . . . will kill me. Saul’s unbalanced emotional state was already known in Israel. It is ironic that Samuel’s initial reaction to the word of the Lord was fear of Saul instead of rejoicing at God’s provision to Israel (and ultimately to all the nations; e.g., 1 Kings 8:41–43). The route from Ramah to Bethlehem would take Samuel through Gibeah of Saul (cf. 1 Sam. 10:26; 11:14). I have come to sacrifice. The place of sacrifice could be in any town until the establishment of the house of God in Jerusalem (Deut. 12:11).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 16:3 anoint. David’s first anointing was performed by Samuel, symbolizing God’s recognition/ordination (cf. 2:10). The following two anointings (2 Sam. 2:7; 5:3) were to establish David as king publicly for the benefit of Judah and Israel respectively.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 16:4 The elders of the city came . . . trembling. The elders, and no doubt all Israel, had heard of Samuel’s execution of Agag (15:33). Israel still closely associated the “seer,” or prophet, with the not-so-distant past office of “judge.”

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 16:5 Consecrate yourselves. Worship of Yahweh was always preceded by cleansing or washing, both of the outward garments and the inner man (Ex. 19:10, 14; 1 John 1:9).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 16:6 Eliab. Lit., “My God is Father.” Since Eliab was the first of Jesse’s sons to catch Samuel’s eye, he must have been an impressive young man by outward appearance.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 16:7 his appearance . . . height of his stature. Samuel needed to be reminded that God’s anointed was not chosen because of physical attributes. This was initially a difficult concept for Samuel as he was accustomed to a king whose only positive attributes were physical. the Lord looks on the heart. The Hebrew concept of “heart” embodies emotions, will, intellect, and desires. The life of the man will reflect his heart (cf. Matt. 12:34–35).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 16:8 Abinadab. Lit., “My Father is noble.” Samuel, now more sensitive to the leading of God’s Spirit, quickly discerned that Abinadab was not God’s anointed.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 16:9 Shammah. Lit., “Yahweh hears (or heard).” See v. 8.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 16:10 seven . . . sons. With David, Jesse had eight sons. The fact that 1 Chron. 2:13 indicates seven sons must mean that one of the eight died afterward and this is not considered in the Chronicles account.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 16:11 the youngest . . . keeping the sheep. God’s favor/choice often fell on the younger and the least (cf. Jacob, Joseph, Gideon). David, although the youngest, was the firstborn over Israel (Ps. 89:27), whose humble beginnings as a shepherd, and later rule as king, typify Jesus: the ultimate Shepherd and King of Israel.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 16:12 ruddy . . . beautiful eyes . . . handsome. God’s chosen king was handsome to look at, although that was not the reason for his selection by God. His appearance was perhaps enhanced by a genuine faith and joy in Yahweh. See also 17:42.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 16:13 anointed him in the midst of his brothers. David’s first anointing is before his family/house. His second anointing would be before the assembly of his tribe, Judah; and his third anointing would be before the nation Israel. (See note on 16:3.) the Spirit of the Lord rushed upon David. This familiar OT expression relates to empowerment for some God-given task (cf. 10:6, 11; 11:6; 19:20, 23; 2 Sam. 23:2; 2 Chron. 20:14; Isa. 11:2; 61:1; Ezek. 11:5; 37:1). David’s anointing was an external symbol of an inward work of God. The operation of the Holy Spirit in this case was not for regeneration, but for empowerment to perform his (David’s) role in God’s program for Israel (cf. Saul, 1 Sam. 10:6). After David sinned with Bathsheba (2 Sam. 11–12), he prayed, “take not your Holy Spirit from me” (Ps. 51:11).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 16:14 the Spirit of the Lord departed from Saul. When David’s ascent to the throne began, Saul’s slow and painful descent began also (cf. 18:12). Without God’s empowering Holy Spirit, Saul was effectively no longer king over Israel (15:28), although his physical removal from the throne, and his death, happened many years later. a harmful spirit. God, in his sovereignty, allowed an evil spirit to torment Saul (cf. Judg. 9:23; 1 Kings 22:19–23; Job 1:6–12) for his purpose of establishing the throne of David. This spirit, a messenger from Satan, is to be distinguished from a troubled emotional state brought on by indwelling sin, or the harmful consequences of the sinful acts of others (e.g., spirit of jealousy, Num. 5:14). This demon spirit attacked Saul from without, for there is no evidence that the demon indwelt Saul. tormented him. Saul, whose inward constitution was already prone to questionable judgment and the fear of men, began to experience God’s judgment in the form of severe bouts of depression, anger, and delusion, initiated and aggravated by the evil spirit assigned to him. There are several NT occasions where God turned people over to demons or Satan for judgment (see Acts 5:1–3; 1 Cor. 5:1–7; 1 Tim. 1:18–20). He also used Satan or demons for the strengthening of the saints. See Job 1:1–2:6; Matt. 4:1ff.; Luke 22:31–32; 2 Cor. 12:7–10.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 16:16 he will play . . . you will be well. God used the evil that had befallen Saul to introduce David into the court of the king and to the watching eyes of Israel.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 16:18 skillful in playing . . . a man of good presence. The writer of Samuel introduces David the sweet psalmist of Israel (2 Sam. 23:1) before introducing David the warrior. Later proven so skillful in the art of war and killing, David was also a tender musician of exceptional skill and reputation. the Lord is with him. The saints of God, OT and NT, are recognized by their fruit (1 Sam. 2:26; Luke 2:40). God’s approval of David was already recognized by certain people in Israel.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 16:19 Send me David your son. Verbal link with v. 1, “I have provided for myself a king among his (Jesse’s) sons.” David’s lineage was of importance to Saul in the near future when he arranged a marriage between Michal, his daughter, and David. with the sheep. David’s lowly, humble occupation is emphasized. He gave evidence of that humility and patience as he returned faithfully to his duty following Samuel’s anointing.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 16:21 Saul loved him greatly. Saul loved David for his abilities, but later grew to jealously hate him because he knew he was blessed by the Lord (cf. 18:29). his armor-bearer. David was most likely one of many such young men assigned to Saul’s barracks.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 17:1 Socoh . . . Azekah . . . Ephes-dammim. Following the anointing of David and his installation into the court of the king, there is this update on the situation of Israel in regard to Israel's enemies. Socoh and Azekah were towns of Judah (Josh. 15:20, 35; Jer. 34:7) approximately 15 miles west and 17 miles northwest (respectively) of Bethlehem. Ephes-dammim (1 Chron. 11:12–13; cf. 2 Sam. 23:9), the camp of the Philistines, probably lay 1 mile to the south of Azekah.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 17:2 Valley of Elah. Where the camp of Israel was, approximately 3 miles east of Ephes-dammim.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 17:4–7 On human terms alone, Goliath was invincible. However, David counted on the Lord being with him and making the difference (vv. 34–37).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 17:4 champion. Lit., “the man between two.” An appropriate appellation as Goliath stood between the two armies of the Philistines and Israel, and offered his challenge to a “duel” of hand-to-hand combat, the outcome of which would settle the battle for both sides. Gath. One of the five chief, Philistine cities, located 5 miles west of Azekah. six cubits and a span. One cubit measures approximately 18 inches and one span about 9 inches, making Goliath about 9 feet 9 inches in height (cf. “Egyptian,” 1 Chron. 11:23, and “Og of Bashan,” Deut. 3:11).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 17:5 five thousand shekels. 125 pounds.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 17:7 six hundred shekels. 15 pounds.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 17:11 Saul . . . dismayed and greatly afraid. Saul and Israel had proven themselves to be greatly concerned with outward appearances (10:23–24; 15:30) and able to be influenced by the fear of men (12:12; 15:24). It is only natural that Goliath would be their worst nightmare come true.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 17:12 Ephrathite. Ephrath(ah), another name for the Bethlehem in Judah (cf. Ruth 4:11; Mic. 5:2).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 17:15 David went back and forth from Saul. David's duties were divided between his billet with Saul as one of many armor bearers (16:21), and tending his father's sheep in Bethlehem. Doubtless, David learned important lessons regarding the weight of responsibility during this time, lessons that were later put to use in ruling over Israel.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 17:17 ephah. About .75 of a bushel.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 17:23 the same words. Goliath continued to offer the challenge of v. 10, as he had been doing for 40 mornings and evenings (v. 16).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 17:25 great riches . . . his daughter. The reward of a daughter in marriage for a great victory over an enemy of Israel was not unusual (cf. Josh. 15:13–17).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 17:26 the reproach from Israel. David knew that although Goliath's challenge had been issued to (any) individual of the camp of Israel, Goliath's defiant attitude was a reproach to all Israel.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 17:28 Eliab's anger. Eliab, perhaps still feeling the sting/rejection of having his "little" brother chosen over him by God/Samuel (16:6–7), expressed his jealousy in anger (cf. Gen. 37:4–5, 8, 11).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 17:32 Let no man's heart fail. Joshua and Caleb exhorted Israel in the same fashion regarding the giant Anakim 400 years prior (cf. Num. 13:30; 14:8–9). The heathens' hearts fail at the name of the Lord God of Israel (cf. Rahab, Josh. 2:11).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 17:33 You are not able. David's faith, like that of Joshua and Caleb, was met with disbelief on the part of Saul. By all outward appearances, Saul was absolutely correct in his assessment, but he failed to consider the Lord's presence in David's life.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 17:36 lions and bears. Just as David tended his flock of sheep and protected them from the lion and bear, his new responsibility as shepherd over Israel required him to eliminate the threat of Goliath.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 17:37 The Lord . . . will deliver me. Just as Jonathan believed earlier (14:6). David had a wholehearted faith in the God of Israel. the Lord be with you. One of the first explicit indications in the text that Saul knew that the Lord was with David (cf. 15:28).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 17:40 staff . . . stones . . . sling. The tools of the shepherd proved to be appropriate weapons also for Israel's shepherd. One of David's honorable and chief men of battle, Benaiah, the son of Jehoiada, slew a formidable Egyptian warrior (2 Sam. 23:20–21) with a staff like the one David carried toward Goliath.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 17:43 dog. Goliath uttered a statement of ironic truth about himself of which even he was unaware. As a wild dog can be a threat to the flock and must be chased away or killed, so must Goliath.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 17:45 in the name of the Lord of hosts. Goliath came out to battle in his own name; David came to battle in the name of the Lord of all the hosts (armies). Cf. Deut. 20:1–5.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 17:46 all the earth may know. David fought in the name of the Lord and for the glory of the Lord, whose name and glory will extend to the uttermost parts of the earth, to all nations (cf. Josh. 4:24; 2 Sam. 22:50; Ps. 2).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 17:47 the battle is the Lord's. Cf. Deut. 31:6 and Judg. 7:18. David fully understood the chief issue, i.e., the Philistines were in effect challenging the Lord by confronting the Lord's people.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 17:48 David ran. David, unencumbered by armor or fear and emboldened by faith in God, ran to meet Goliath.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 17:50 no sword. Iron weapons were scarce in Israel (13:9).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 17:51 cut off his head. David completed his promise given to Goliath in v. 46a. The Philistines would later do the same with Saul's head (31:9). fled. David's exclamation that there is a God in Israel (17:46) was proven before the Philistines, who were no strangers to the wrath of Yahweh (chs. 5–7). They wisely fled in terror, but did not honor the terms of Goliath if he lost (17:6–9).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 17:54 to Jerusalem. The Jebusites, who were the inhabitants of Jerusalem, were a stubborn, resistant people (cf. Josh. 15:63; Judg. 1:21; 19:10–11), particularly to the tribe of Judah. They doubtless began to feel some anxiety concerning the victory of this Bethlehemite. The head of Goliath was a constant warning to them over the ensuing days as to their future (cf. 2 Sam. 5:6–10).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 17:55 Abner. See note on 14:50. whose son. David's lineage was of the utmost importance to Saul at this point, since the victor over Goliath would marry into his family (cf. 17:25; 18:18).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 18:1 Jonathan loved him. Jonathan loved David with a loyalty and devotion indicative of covenantal love (18:3). Hiram of Tyre had much the same covenantal love for David (cf. 2 Sam. 5:11; 1 Kings 5:1; 9:11). David's later reign from Jerusalem is marked by loyalty to his covenant with Jonathan (2 Sam. 9:1).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 18:2 would not let him return. Saul's interest in keeping David in his household was more self-serving than a token of generous hospitality. Saul was aware of his promise of wife and wealth (17:25), and, no doubt, the stirrings of anxiety/fear were in his heart toward David, who appeared as a threat. Saul preferred to have him in the court to keep a watchful eye on the young upstart.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 18:3 covenant. See v. 1. Further mention of this honorable relationship is made in: 19:1; 20:8, 13–17, 42; 22:8; 23:18.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 18:4 robe . . . belt. Jonathan willingly and subserviently relinquished the outer garments and instruments that signified his position as prince of Israel and heir to the throne. Jonathan, a godly worshiper of Yahweh, quickly discerned that David was God's anointed and, without reservation, offered the robe of succession to the true king of Israel.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 18:7 David his ten thousands. This is a song that Saul grew to hate (cf. 21:11; 28:5) because it exalted David over him.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 18:8 the kingdom. Saul's jealousy and malice toward David were now explicit. By his own statement, Saul acknowledged that David was the rightful heir to the throne and the one of whom Samuel spoke in Gilgal (15:28).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 18:10 a harmful spirit. The painful descent and eventual demise of Saul was marked by the persistent vexing of this spirit. See 16:14. raved. This means to speak before people, not predict the future. Saul's speeches in the midst of the house were the ravings of one troubled by an evil spirit like other false prophets (cf. 1 Kings 22:19–23).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 18:11 David evaded . . . twice. As Saul's behavior was becoming increasingly violent, he made more than one attempt on David's life with the javelin. It was evident that God was with David, as it would be no small feat to dodge a javelin cast by such an experienced warrior as Saul.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 18:12 Saul was afraid of David. Saul, faced with the same conclusion reached by Jonathan in vv. 1–4, reacted with fear. Saul, a man who viewed life from a human perspective rather than a divine one, could view David only as a personal threat, rather than a blessing to Israel.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 18:13 commander of a thousand. Saul gave David a military commission, intended as kind of an honorable exile. But this duty only served to give David opportunity to display his remarkable quality of character and strengthen his hold on the people’s affections.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 18:16 loved David. The writer of Samuel, inspired by the Holy Spirit, offers an editorial comment full of truth.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 18:17 Merab. Lit., “compensation” or “substitute” (cf. 14:49). Saul’s later retraction of the betrothal to Merab (18:19) was similar to Laban’s trickery with Jacob and Rachel (Gen. 29:25). fight the Lord’s battles. A phrase Saul knew would appeal to David. Saul made the offer out of a treacherous heart, desiring evil and calamity for David. Notice the similarity between Saul’s treachery and that of David with Uriah (2 Sam. 11:15).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 18:18 son-in-law. The familial lineage was crucial when marrying into the king’s family. David asked, “Who am I . . . my father’s clan in Israel, that I should be son-in-law to the king?” Saul had asked of David’s lineage three times previously (17:55–58).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 18:19 Adriel the Meholathite. Merab married this man and bore children, five of whom were sons later executed by David as punishment for Saul’s disregard of Joshua’s covenant with the Gibeonites (2 Sam. 21:8; cf. Josh. 9:20).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 18:20 Michal. Lit., “Who is like God?” Michal sincerely loved David and perhaps was aware, as Jonathan, of his certain ascent (and right) to the throne. Ironically, Saul offered her to David, not from a benevolent heart, but as a “snare” (v. 21).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 18:25 bride-price. Saul resorted to the same treachery in his offer of betrothal to Merab, plotting to eliminate David by placing him in jeopardy with the Philistines. David, already having proved himself wise in many things (16:18), was aware, to some extent, of Saul’s intent and acted obediently, valiantly, and wisely.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 18:25, 27 foreskins. Such mutilations of the bodies of slain enemies were commonly practiced in ancient warfare. The number indicated the extent of the victory. Saul’s intent was to expose David to deadly danger by engaging in such an extensive and hazardous task.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 18:27 his men. Cf. 22:2; 25:12–13; 2 Sam. 23:8–39.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 18:29 Saul was David’s enemy. All of Saul’s plans came to naught. Saul asked for 100 Philistine foreskins; David brought 200. Saul offered Michal as a “snare”; Michal loved David as did Saul’s own son, Jonathan. There remained nothing else for Saul to contrive except open hatred toward David.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 19:1 kill David. Saul no longer tried to disguise or cover his evil intent toward David, but ironically made known his intent to those who held David in the highest esteem (cf. 16:18; 18:1–4). God, in his mercy, made sure that David had sympathetic ears within Saul’s court to inform him of Saul’s evil plans (e.g., 19:7; 20:2).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 19:4 Jonathan spoke well of David. Jonathan attempted to persuade his father with calm reason. Jonathan’s reason was tempered by a godly attitude centered on a remembrance of the Torah (14:6; cf. Num. 11:23; 14:9) and a covenantal loyalty toward and faithfulness for David.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 19:4–5 he has not sinned. Jonathan reminded Saul that David had done nothing to deserve death; in fact, he was worthy of honor for his good works toward the king and Israel. Jonathan knew that the spilling of innocent blood would affect all Israel, not just the house of Saul (Deut. 21:8–9).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 19:6 he shall not be put to death. Saul temporarily responded to reason and conviction in his heart. His mental capacity was so unbalanced, however, that this response would not last for long.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 19:9 a harmful spirit. Jealousy, rage, and anger once again dominated Saul, who was enraged by David’s success against the Philistines. See 6:14 and 18:10.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 19:10 pin David . . . with the spear. Saul’s already diminished capacity for reason was once again completely clouded by anger, and he responded toward David with murderous intent (cf. 18:10–11).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 19:11 Michal . . . told him. Michal, far from being a “snare” (18:21) to David, was instrumental in saving his life. Michal, at this time in her relationship with David, displayed a covenantal love and faithfulness similar to that of Jonathan. See the title of Ps. 59.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 19:13 image. Hebrew teraphim. The writer of Samuel draws a parallel between David/Michal/Saul and Jacob/Rachel/Laban (see note on 18:17), in that both Rachel and Michal employed the use of household gods (“teraphim”) in trickery and out of loyalty for their husbands rather than their fathers (cf. Gen. 31:30–35).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 19:17 He said to me. Michal lied in telling Saul the exact opposite of what she said to David (v. 11).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 19:18 Ramah. With the mention of Samuel’s birthplace, the author establishes a verbal link with 1:1, and also reminds the reader of Saul’s first encounter with Samuel the seer in Zuph (Ramathaim-zophim). Naioth. Perhaps dwellings or quarters within the town limits of Ramah, where Samuel and his company of prophet-disciples met for training, prayer, and fellowship (cf. Elisha at Gilgal, 2 Kings 6:1–2).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 19:20 company of the prophets prophesying. These prophets were declaring the word of God, probably with musical accompaniment. Saul’s messengers could not fulfill their task of taking David captive because they were irresistibly led to join the prophets and speak for and praise God.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 19:22 great well . . . in Secu. The exact location is unknown; the probable location was approximately two miles north of Ramah.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 19:23 the Spirit of God came upon him. This was the last time the Spirit of the Lord would rest on Saul. God turned Saul’s heart to prophesy and not to harm David. See note on 16:13.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 19:24 stripped off his clothes. Saul removed his armor and royal garments (cf. Jonathan, 18:4), prompted by the Spirit of God, thus signifying God’s rejection of Saul as king over Israel. lay naked. Without the royal garments, Saul was figuratively “naked,” perhaps so overwhelmed by the Spirit of God as to be in a deep sleep. Other than Saul’s utter despair and pitiful state at the home of the witch at En-dor (28:20) and his end at Mount Gilboa (31:4–6), this episode represents one of the severest humblings in Saul’s life. Is Saul also among the prophets? This is a final editorial comment tying together the Spirit of God’s presence at Saul’s inauguration (10:10–11), and the final departure of the same at his rejection (19:24).

David Flees from Saul

David's growing reputation among the people as a warrior and leader incited Saul's jealousy, and Saul began trying to kill David. David fled from Saul in Gibeah (1) and went to Samuel at Naioth in Ramah (2), but soon Saul sought him there, and David fled back to Jonathan in Gibeah (3). After Jonathan warned David of Saul's determination to kill him, David fled to Ahimelech the priest at Nob (4), where he collected food and Goliath's sword. David briefly sought refuge in the Philistine city of Gath (5) and then set up his headquarters at the cave of Adullam (6), where the ranks of his army swelled to 400 men. In order to protect his parents from harm, David left them in the care of the king of Moab at Mizpeh (7) and went to live in "the stronghold" (8). After some time, David went to the forest of Hereth (9) and then left to rescue nearby Keilah (10) from some Philistine raiding parties. When David heard that Saul was coming to Keilah, he and his growing army of 600 men relocated to the wilderness of Ziph (11). After the men of Ziph betrayed David to Saul, David and his men went to live in the wilderness of Maon (12) and narrowly escaped capture there by Saul. Fleeing the strongholds of Engedi (13), David again evaded capture by Saul and refused an opportunity to take Saul's life. David returned to "the stronghold" (14) and then to the wilderness of Paran (15). While he was there, David was again betrayed to Saul by the men of Ziph and refused another opportunity to take Saul's life. Finally, David and his men sought refuge with Achish, the king of Gath (16).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 20:1 Naioth in Ramah. See note on 19:18.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 20:2 why should my father hide this from me? Although Jonathan expressed his certainty that Saul was not seeking David's life, he may have been unaware of the most recent attempts on David's life (19:9–24) and was trusting in his father's oath not to harm David (19:6). Jonathan expected to be informed by Saul of any change in his plans.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 20:5 the new moon. The first day of the month, referred to as “the new moon,” was celebrated with a sacrificial meal (cf. 2 Kings 4:23; Isa. 1:13; Amos 8:5) and served both as a religious and civil festival (Num. 10:10; 28:11–15). hide . . . in the field. As in 1 Sam. 19:2–3, David hid from Saul in a secret place.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 20:6 a yearly sacrifice. Apparently, David’s family held an annual family reunion that coincided with one of the monthly new moon celebrations (cf. vv. 28–29).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 20:8 covenant. Cf. 18:1–3. Jonathan and David had solemnly pledged their friendship and loyalty to each other before the Lord. Their covenant is further amplified in 20:13–17, 42; 23:17–18. kill me yourself. As his covenant friend, David asked Jonathan to kill him, if he was deserving of death because of his possible sin.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 20:14 the steadfast love of the Lord. Jonathan acknowledged that David would one day be Israel’s king. With that in mind, Jonathan requested protection for him and his family when David took the throne.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 20:16 the house of David. This covenant was not only binding on Jonathan and David, but also upon the descendants of each. See 2 Sam. 9:1–8 for the account of David’s kindness to a descendant of Jonathan in fulfillment of this covenant. David’s enemies. Jonathan perceived that among David’s adversaries who would be cut off when he became king was his own father, Saul (cf. 1 Sam. 18:29; 19:17).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 20:17 swear. In response to Jonathan’s words, David solemnly pledged to fulfill the covenant between himself and Jonathan. loved him as . . . his own soul. A deep concern and affection was the basis of the covenantal relationship between Jonathan and David. This is the affection commanded by God when he said, “Love your neighbor as yourself” (Lev. 19:18; Matt. 22:39).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 20:19 stone heap. The esv follows the LXX; the Hebrew (see esv footnote) reads “the stone Ezel,” which may mean “departure stone.” The location of this stone is unknown, but it was a well-known landmark in the field where David was hiding.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 20:25 Abner. Saul's cousin and commander of his army (see note on 14:50).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 20:26 not clean. At first, Saul did not question David's absence at the feast, assuming that he was ritually unclean and thus could not participate in the meal (cf. Lev. 7:20–21; 15:16).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 20:30 son of a perverse, rebellious woman. With a vile epithet, Saul was cursing Jonathan, not Jonathan's mother, for having sided with David to his own shame and the shame of the mother who birthed him.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 20:41 bowed three times. David's bowing down more than once acknowledged Jonathan as the prince, and expressed humble affection for him.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 20:42 sworn. See note on 20:17. the city. I.e., Gibeah, the home of Saul. From this point until Saul's death, David was an outcast from the royal court.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 21:1 Nob. "The city of the priests" (22:19). The priests dwelt on Mount Scopus, about 1 mile northeast of Jerusalem. David went there for necessary supplies and for comfort and counsel. Ahimelech. A great grandson of Eli (1:9), who is possibly the brother of Ahijah (14:3; 22:11), or Ahimelech may be another name for Ahijah. Not only is there a rejected king on the throne (15:26–29) but also a disqualified priest (2:30–36). See note on Mark 2:26.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 21:2 The king has charged me. David, fearing someone might tell Saul where he was, deceived Ahimelech the priest into thinking that he was on official business for the king. He supposed, as many do, that it is excusable to lie for the purpose of saving one's life. But what is essentially sinful can never, because of circumstances, change its immoral character (cf. Ps. 119:29). David's lying led tragically to the deaths of the priests (1 Sam. 22:9–18).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 21:4 holy bread. Consecrated bread was set apart for use in the tabernacle to be eaten only by the priests (Ex. 25:30; Lev. 24:5–9). Ahimelech sought the Lord and received approval (1 Sam. 22:10) when he recognized that his spiritual obligation to preserve David's life superseded the ceremonial regulation concerning who could eat the consecrated bread (see Matt.

12:3, 4; Mark 2:25–26). kept themselves from women. Though this was not a spiritual mission or religious journey, David and his men were ceremonially clean (see Ex. 19:15).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 21:5 their vessels. A euphemism for the bodies of the young men, as in 1 Thess. 4:4.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 21:6 holy bread. Since that bread was no longer on the Lord's table, having been replaced by hot bread, it was to be eaten by the priests and in these exigencies, by David under the law of necessity and mercy. See note on 21:4. The removal of the old bread and the replacing with new was done on the Sabbath (Lev. 24:8).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 21:7 Doeg the Edomite. The head shepherd of Saul's herd, who witnessed the encounter between David and Ahimelech and told Saul (cf. 22:9–10), had embraced the Hebrew religion and was at the tabernacle, perhaps detained because it was the Sabbath and he could not travel.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 21:9 The sword of Goliath. The sword which David had used to behead Goliath in the valley of Elah (17:51) was kept in the place for storing the sacred vestments ("the ephod") deposited there as a memorial to divine goodness in the deliverance of Israel. the ephod. See notes on 2:18, 28:14:3.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 21:10 Achish the king of Gath. One of the kings or lords of the Philistines. See notes on 4:1; 5:8 for Gath. This seemed to be a dangerous place to go, since David was their greatest enemy and carried Goliath's sword into the giant's hometown.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 21:13 pretended to be insane. David feared for his life, lacked trust in God to deliver him, and feigned insanity to persuade Achish to send him away. See the titles of Ps. 34 and 56. Drooling in one's beard was considered in the East an intolerable indignity, as was spitting in another's beard.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 22:1 cave of Adullam. A cave near Adullam was David's refuge. Adullam, which may mean "refuge," was located in the western foothills of Judah (Josh. 15:33), about 17 miles southwest of Jerusalem and 10 miles southeast of Gath. See titles of Ps. 57 and 142, which could possibly refer to 1 Sam. 24:3. brothers and all his father's house. David's family members went down from Bethlehem to join David in Adullam, a journey of about 12 miles.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 22:2 captain over . . . four hundred men. David became the leader of a formidable force of men united by adverse circumstances. This personal army would soon grow to 600 (23:13).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 22:3 Mizpeh of Moab. Mizpeh means “watch tower,” or “place that overlooks.” Located on one of the heights of the tableland east of the Dead Sea, this site cannot be exactly identified. king of Moab. This ruler was probably a mutual enemy of King Saul. David had Moabite blood from his great-grandmother Ruth, and thus sought refuge for his father and mother in Moab (see Ruth 1:4–18; 4:13–22).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 22:5 prophet Gad. As the prophet Samuel had helped and advised Saul, so now Gad performed the same functions for David (cf. 2 Sam 24:11, where Gad is called “David’s seer”). forest of Hereth. Location in Judah unknown.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 22:6 tamarisk tree. Possibly located on a hill outside Gibeah which had been given over to pagan worship (cf. Ezek. 16:24–25, 31, 39). spear. A reminder of the threat that Saul was to friend and foe alike (cf. 18:10–11; 19:9–10; 20:3).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 22:7 people of Benjamin. Saul asked those of his own tribe whether associating themselves with David would provide for them more possessions and privileges than they already had from Saul.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 22:8 my son makes a covenant. See note on 20:8.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 22:8–13 to lie in wait. Saul insinuated that David was plotting his death. This was not true, as David would later spare Saul’s life (vv. 24:1–22).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 22:9–10 Doeg the Edomite. See note on 21:7 and the title of Ps. 52.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 22:13 conspired against me. Saul insisted falsely that Ahimelech was in league with his enemy David.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 22:14 captain over your bodyguard. Ahimelech responded to Saul by defending David’s character as loyal to Saul.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 22:16–19 This fulfills the curse on Eli’s house (see note on 1 Sam. 2:31), with the exception of Abiathar, who was later dismissed from the priesthood by Solomon (1 Kings 2:26–29).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 22:17 would not . . . strike the priests. Although Saul condemned Ahimelech and the priests to death, his servants knew better than to raise their weapons against the priests of the Lord.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 22:18 linen ephod. See notes on 2:18 and 14:3.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 22:19 Nob, the city of the priests. See note on 21:1. What Saul failed to do righteously to the Amalekites (15:3, 8–9), he unrighteously did to the citizens of Nob.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 22:20 Abiathar. Lit., “The father is excellent.” A son of Ahimelech (cf. 21:1) who escaped the slaughter and joined David’s company, he performed priestly functions for David for the rest of David’s life (cf. 23:6, 9; 30:7; 2 Sam. 8:17). See note on 1 Sam. 22:16–19.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 22:22 I have occasioned. David recognized his responsibility for causing the deaths of the priests’ families and animals, acknowledging the devastating consequences of his lie to Ahimelech (cf. 21:1–2).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 23:1 Keilah. A city located in the western foothills of Judah (see Josh. 15:44), about 18 miles southwest of Jerusalem and 3 miles southeast of Adullam.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 23:2 inquired of the Lord. Such inquiries were made using the sacred lots, the Urim and Thummim, stored in the priestly ephod that Abiathar had brought to David (v. 6). See note on Ex. 28:30.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 23:7 gates and bars. Lit., “two doors and a bar.” Keilah perhaps had only one gateway in its wall. Its two reinforced wooden doors had hinged posts at the sides of the entrance, meeting in the center and secured with a heavy bar spanning the entrance horizontally. Since there was only this one way in and out of the city, Saul believed he had David trapped.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 23:11 surrender me. David inquired of the Lord again, using the ephod with the Urim and Thummim by which God revealed his will.

David wanted to know whether the men of Keilah would be disloyal and surrender him into the hands of Saul. The Lord answered in the affirmative in v. 12.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 23:13 men, who were about six hundred. See note on 22:2 when David had only 400 men.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 23:14 strongholds . . . wilderness. The wilderness of Judah is the barren desert area between the hill country and the Dead Sea. Many ravines and caves are found in this rugged region, which David used as a place of refuge from Saul. The title of Ps. 63 may refer to this incident or to 2 Sam. 15:23–28. wilderness of Ziph. The wilderness surrounding Ziph, 4 miles south of Hebron. God did not give him. God sovereignly protected David from Saul for the fulfilling of his own divine purposes (cf. Isa. 46:9–11).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 23:16–17 strengthened his hand in God. Jonathan encouraged David by reminding him of the Lord's promise to him and concern for him, by emphatically assuring him that the Lord would make him the next king over Israel, as Saul well knew (see 20:30–31).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 23:18 covenant. See notes on 18:3 and 20:8.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 23:19 hill of Hachilah. Location unknown, somewhere between Ziph and the Dead Sea. See the title of Ps. 54. Jeshimon. Another name for the wilderness of Judea.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 23:24 wilderness of Maon. The barren territory in the vicinity of Maon (see Josh. 15:48, 55), about 5 miles south of Ziph.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 23:25 the rock. A landmark in the wilderness of Maon, soon to be given a name (v. 28).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 23:26 closing in on David. Saul probably divided his forces into two groups and so surrounded David.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 23:27 Philistines have made a raid against the land. Providentially, a messenger came to Saul telling him that the Philistines were invading the land so that he had no choice but to withdraw and postpone his pursuit of David.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 23:28 the Rock of Escape. The timely retreat of Saul’s men from David’s men led to this name.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 23:29 Engedi. An oasis on the western shore of the Dead Sea 14 miles east of Ziph, where there is a fresh water spring and lush vineyards (Song 1:14), standing in stark contrast to the surrounding wilderness. The limestone that dominates this region is permeated with caves, which provided good hiding places for David.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 24:2 three thousand chosen men. See 26:2. These were the most skilled soldiers. Wildgoats’ Rocks. The location of this cave is unknown, although “wildgoats” stresses the inaccessibility of the cave (cf. Job 39:1). See the titles of Ps. 57 and 142, which could also possibly refer to 1 Sam. 22:1.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 24:3 to relieve himself. Lit., “to cover his feet.” This is a euphemism for having a bowel movement, as the person would crouch with his inner garment dropped to his feet.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 24:4 the day of which the Lord said to you. David’s men perhaps believed that God had providentially placed Saul in the same cave where they were hiding so David could kill the king. However, nothing revelatory had previously been said by the Lord that indicated he wanted David to lift a hand against Saul.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 24:5 David’s heart struck him. David was able to cut off a piece of Saul’s robe undetected. However, touching Saul’s clothing was tantamount to touching his person, and David’s conscience troubled him on this account.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 24:6 Lord’s anointed. David recognized that the Lord himself had placed Saul into the kingship. Thus the judgment and removal of Saul had to be left to the Lord.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 24:11 no wrong or treason. If David were a wicked rebel against the rule of Saul, as Saul had said (22:8, 13), he would have killed Saul when given this opportunity. The corner of the robe was proof to Saul that David was not his enemy.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 24:12 May the Lord judge. David called for the Lord himself, the only fair and impartial Judge (cf. Judg. 11:27), to decide the fate of David and Saul (also 1 Sam. 24:15).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 24:13 proverb. A traditional pithy statement that evil deeds are perpetrated only by evil men. A similar point is made by Jesus in Matt. 7:16, 20.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 24:14 a dead dog! After a flea! David hereby expresses his lowliness and entire committal of his cause to God, who alone is the Judge and to whom alone belongs vengeance.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 24:17 You are more righteous than I. Upon hearing David's testimony, Saul was moved with emotion and acknowledged that David was more righteous than he was. His testimony to David's righteousness recognized David's right to the kingship.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 24:20 you shall surely be king. Saul emphatically acknowledged that David would be the ruler over the kingdom of Israel. Saul had already been told by Samuel that God would take the kingdom away from him and give it to a man after his own heart (13:14; 15:28). Jonathan had testified that Saul already knew that David would be king (23:17). However, this recognition did not mean that Saul was ready to give up the kingdom.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 24:22 David swore this to Saul. By solemn oath, David agreed to preserve Saul's family and family name. While most of Saul's family was later slain (2 Sam. 21:8–9), this pledge was fulfilled in the life of Mephibosheth (see note on 2 Sam. 21:7).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 25:1 all Israel . . . mourned for him. The death of Samuel, the last of the judges, brought Israel to the end of an era. So widespread was Samuel's influence among the people that all Israel gathered to lament his death. wilderness of Paran. A desert area in the northeast region of the Sinai Peninsula.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 25:2 Carmel. "Vineyard land," "garden spot." About 7 miles south of Hebron and 1 mile north of Maon. This was the same spot where Saul erected a monument in his own honor (15:12).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 25:3 Nabal. "Fool." An appropriate name in view of his foolish behavior (v. 25). Abigail. "My father is joy." The wife of Nabal was intelligent and beautiful in contrast to her evil husband. a Calebite. Nabal was a descendant of Caleb and lived in Caleb's tribal holdings (Josh. 14:13; 15:13), but did not possess the spiritual qualities of his illustrious forefather.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 25:4–5 shearing his sheep. While hiding out in the wilderness, David and his men took the job of protecting the flocks of Nabal (vv. 7, 15–16). Upon hearing that Nabal was shearing his sheep, David sent 10 of his men to collect their rightful compensation for the good they had done (v. 8).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 25:8 a feast day. A special day of rejoicing over the abundance of sheared wool from the sheep (cf. v. 11).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 25:10–11 This pretended ignorance of David was surely a sham. The knowledge of the young king-elect was widespread. Nabal pretended not to know to excuse his unwillingness to do what was right.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 25:14 railed. David sent his messengers to “greet” (lit., “bless”) Nabal, but David's men were viciously rebuffed by Nabal. This term emphasized the wickedness of Nabal's action.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 25:15–16 The testimony of one of Nabal's men affirmed the value of David's protection. It was like a fortress “wall” enclosing a city, providing total security.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 25:17 one cannot speak to him. Nabal was a “son of Belial,” a worthless fellow (see note on 2:12). Nabal's situation was the product of his own wickedness. His unwillingness to seek the counsel of others ultimately led to his demise.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 25:18 five seahs. Slightly more than one bushel.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 25:19 did not tell her husband. Abigail knew that Nabal would disagree with her actions, but knowing the Lord's choice of David (v. 28), she recognized the consequences involved in Nabal's cursing of David. By her actions, she chose to obey God rather than man (see Acts 5:29), as a wife may sometimes need to do.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 25:22 God do so. A strong oath of self-imprecation. David swore that he would kill every male in Nabal's household by daybreak.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 25:25 this worthless fellow. I.e., “troublemaker.” as his name is, so is he. A name was not simply a label of distinguishing one thing from another, but a profound insight into the character of the one named. “Fool” has the connotation of one who is “morally deficient.”

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 25:28 a sure house. Abigail’s perceptive insight fit an essential feature of the Davidic Covenant (see 2 Sam. 7:11–16). fighting the battles of the Lord. Unlike the king previously desired by the people (1 Sam. 8:20), David was a man who fought the Lord’s battles. He was truly God’s king.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 25:29 bound in the bundle of the living. A metaphor that reflects the custom of binding valuables in a bundle to protect them from injury. The point here was that God cared for his own as a man would his valuable treasure. David, she said, enjoyed the protection of divine providence, which destined him for great things. On the other hand, God would fling his enemies away like a stone in a slingshot.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 25:30 prince over Israel. Abigail was certain that David would exercise effective rule over Israel after Saul’s death. In the meantime, however, she did not want him to do anything to jeopardize his future, endanger his throne, or violate God’s will by seeking personal vengeance in anger (vv. 33–34).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 25:37–38 heart died . . . became as a stone. Intoxicated, Nabal apparently suffered a stroke and became paralyzed until he died.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 25:43 Ahinoam of Jezreel. David’s third wife, joining Michal and Abigail. For Jezreel, see note on 29:1.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 25:44 Palti . . . of Gallim. Palti means “my deliverance.” The location of Gallim is unknown, but was probably a few miles north of Jerusalem. See 2 Sam. 3:13–16 for Michal’s return to David.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 26:1 hill of Hachilah . . . Jeshimon. See notes on 23:19.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 26:2 three thousand chosen men. See 24:2.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 26:5 Saul was lying. Saul was sleeping in an apparently invulnerable place. He had his commander beside him, inside the camp, surrounded by his entire army. Abner. See note on 14:50.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 26:6 Ahimelech the Hittite. Mentioned only here, he was one of the many mercenaries who formed a part of David's army. Joab's brother, Abishai the son of Zeruiah. See note on 2 Sam. 2:18. He joined with Ahimelech in going down with David into the camp of Saul.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 26:9 the Lord's anointed. See note on 24:6.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 26:10 As the Lord lives. An oath usually associated with life-or-death matters. The sovereign God would decide when, where, and how Saul would perish, not David.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 26:12 spear and the jar. Like the corner of Saul's robe (24:4), these were taken as proof that David had Saul's life in his hand (cf. 26:16). a deep sleep from the Lord. As with Adam in Gen. 2:21 and Abraham in Gen. 15:12, the Lord caused Saul to be unaware of what was taking place around him.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 26:19 If it is the Lord . . . if it is men. David set forth two possibilities for why Saul was pursuing him. First, David had sinned against the Lord. If that was the case, he was willing to offer a sacrifice for atonement. Second, evil men had caused Saul's hostility toward David. If that were the case, these men should be judged. the heritage of the Lord. I.e., the land of Israel (cf. 2 Sam. 20:19; 21:3). Go, serve other gods. David's exile from the land was virtually equivalent to forcing him to abandon the worship of the Lord, for there were no sanctuaries to the Lord outside of Israelite territory.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 26:20 flea . . . partridge. The flea represents something that was worthless and the partridge something that was impossible to catch. Saul was wasting his time with his pursuit of David.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 26:21 I have sinned. As in 24:17, Saul confessed his sin and wrongdoing. Although Saul may have been sincere, he could not be trusted and David wisely did not accept his invitation to return with him. I have acted foolishly. Saul had been foolish in his actions toward David, as had Nabal.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 26:25 will succeed. Saul recognized the certain success of David's future as Israel's king (cf. 24:20).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 27:1 by the hand of Saul. In direct contrast to Saul's word that David would prevail (26:25), David thought that Saul would ultimately kill him. This anxious thinking and the fear that fell upon him explain David's actions in this chapter. God had told him to stay in Judah (22:5), but he was afraid and sought protection again among the Philistine enemies of Israel (cf. 21:10–15).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 27:3 two wives. His third wife, Michal, had been temporarily given to another man by Saul (cf. 25:44).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 27:4 no longer sought him. Saul was no longer able to pursue David since he was out of the land of Israel.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 27:5 the royal city. I.e., Gath. David requested a city of his own in the country so that he could be free from the constant surveillance to which he was exposed in Gath, and so that he could avoid the pagan influence of that Philistine city.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 27:6 Ziklag. This was a city located about 13 miles northwest of Beersheba that had been an Israelite possession (Josh. 15:31; 19:5), but was then under Philistine control. to this day. Ziklag became a part of Judah and was still so at the time of the writing of Samuel, which is clearly in the post-Solomonic, divided kingdom era. See Introduction: Author and Date.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 27:7 a year and four months. For 16 months David was able to deceive Achish concerning his actions. He remained there until after Saul's death, when he moved to Hebron (2 Sam. 1:1; 2:1–2).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 27:8 Geshurites . . . Girzites . . . Amalekites. These peoples lived in southern Canaan and northern Sinai. Shur . . . Egypt. See note on 15:7.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 27:9 would leave neither man nor woman alive. David left no survivors from his raids in order that Achish might not learn the true nature of his desert exploits (see v. 11).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 27:10 Judah . . . Jerahmeelites . . . Kenites. The regions south of the hill country centering around Beersheba. This region was far enough away from Gath so that Achish would be ignorant of David's movements. David implied to Achish that the hostility of Judah toward David was increasing, while in fact he was gaining the appreciation and loyalty of Judah toward himself by raiding their wilderness neighbors. Achish thought David was more securely his servant as his own people turned against him (vv. 2–4), but just the opposite was true.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 28:1 Understand that. The kindness showed to David and his men by Achish in Gath was not without expectation of reciprocation. This phrase seems to presuppose an understanding of this expectation.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 28:2 what your servant can do. Being a man of honor, David would not fail to help those who had shown him kindness. David was drawing attention to the fact that he had proven himself as a valiant and successful warrior and was assuring Achish of his fidelity and ability.

bodyguard. In light of David’s victory over Goliath (17:49–54) and imagined bad reputation among the Israelites, Achish was expressing considerable trust in David’s loyalty and ability, for “bodyguard” lit. means “keeper of my head.”

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 28:3–13 Having deprived himself of every legitimate means of spiritual input as a result of his own disobedience and rebellion, Saul walked in foolishness again by seeking out the very resource (a medium) he had previously removed from the land. Saul swore to the medium an oath of safety by the very God that he was disobeying even then. Yet the inexorable curiosity of Saul to consult Samuel, in spite of Samuel’s death, was satisfied by the medium’s willingness to “bring up” Samuel.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 28:3 mediums and the necromancers. By divine law, they were banned from Israel (Deut. 18:11), and Israel was not to be defiled by them (Lev. 19:31). Turning to them was tantamount to playing the harlot and would result in God setting his face against the person and cutting him off from among his people (Lev. 20:6). Mediums and spiritists were to be put to death by stoning (Lev. 20:27). Even Saul understood this and had previously dealt with the issue (see 1 Sam. 28:9).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 28:4 Shunem. Situated southwest of the hill of Moreh and 16 miles southwest of the Sea of Galilee; the Philistines designated it as their camp site. Gilboa. The mountain range beginning 5 miles south of Shunem and extending southward along the eastern edge of the plain of Jezreel. See note on 31:1.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 28:5 his heart trembled greatly. Saul had hidden himself when he was chosen by lot to be king (10:22). When the Spirit of the Lord came upon him, he was changed (10:6), but after the Spirit had departed (16:14), he was afraid and dismayed by Goliath (17:11, 24). He feared at Gilgal when faced by the overwhelming size of the Philistine army (13:11–12). Saul was also afraid of David because he knew that the Lord was with David (18:12, 29). But Saul was to fear God (12:24), not people.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 28:6 dreams . . . Urim . . . prophets. These were the three basic ways through which God revealed his word and his will. Dreams and visions were the common manner through which the Lord revealed himself and his will during the time of Moses (Num. 12:6). The Urim was used by the priest as a means of inquiring of the Lord (Num. 27:21). It was originally put in the breastpiece of judgment with the Thummim and worn over Aaron's heart when he went in before the Lord (see note on Ex. 28:30). Somehow, unknown to us, God revealed his will by it. Prophets were formerly called seers (1 Sam. 9:9) and were used as a reference for inquiring of the Lord. God also used prophets to declare his word when people were not interested in it (Amos 7:12–13). Since Saul had rejected the Lord, God had rejected him (1 Sam. 15:23). Saul appears to have had no court prophet in the manner that Gad and Nathan were to David (22:5; 2 Sam. 12); and, by this time, the ephod with the Urim was in David's possession by virtue of Abiathar the priest (1 Sam. 23:6).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 28:7 Seek out for me . . . a medium. In Saul's desperation, he sought the very source that he had formerly removed from the land (v. 3). In spite of the ban, Saul's servant knew exactly where to find a medium. En-dor. Located about 3.5 miles northwest of Shunem between Mount Tabor and the Hill of Moreh. Saul risked his life by venturing into the Philistine-held territory to seek out the counsel of the medium; thus he went in disguise by night (v. 8).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 28:10 swore to her by the Lord. Though blatantly walking in disobedience to God, it is ironic that Saul would swear by the very existence of the Lord as a means of assuring his credibility to the medium. Even more, Saul swore that no punishment would come upon her when the Levitical law required her to be stoned to death (Lev. 20:27).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 28:12 the woman saw Samuel. Though questions have arisen as to the nature of Samuel's appearance, the text clearly indicates that Samuel, not an apparition, was evident to the eyes of the medium. God miraculously permitted the actual spirit of Samuel to speak (vv. 16–19). Because she understood her inability to raise the dead in this manner, she immediately knew 1) that it must have been by the power of God and 2) that her disguised inquirer must be Saul.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 28:13 a god coming up out of the earth. The word translated “god” is actually the Hebrew word meaning “God, gods, angel, ruler, or judge.” It can also be used to designate a likeness to one of these. From the medium’s perspective, Samuel appeared to be “a god” ascending out of the earth. There is no other such miracle as this in all of Scripture.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 28:14 old man . . . in a robe. Obviously age and clothing do not exist in the realm of the spirits of those who have died, but God miraculously gave such appearances so that Saul was able to perceive that the spirit was Samuel. The question arises whether all believers will remain in the form they were in when they died. Samuel may have been as such simply for the benefit of Saul, or he might be in this state until he receives his resurrection body. Since Scripture teaches that the resurrection of OT saints is yet future (see Dan. 12:1–2), Samuel must have temporarily been in this condition solely for the benefit of Saul.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 28:15 disturbed me. Samuel’s comment expresses agitation caused by Saul’s efforts to contact him since living humanity was not allowed to seek out discussions with the dead (Deut. 18:11; Lev. 20:6). Witchcraft puts the seeker in contact with demons impersonating those who are being sought, since the dead person cannot ordinarily be contacted, except in this unique case.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 28:16, 18 your enemy. See 15:26–35.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 28:19 shall be with me. This could mean with him in “the abode of the righteous.” There is no doubt that Samuel meant this to serve as a premonition of Saul’s soon death.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 28:20 no strength in him. Already afraid with a heart that “trembled greatly” because of the Philistines (v. 5), Saul’s fear was so heightened by the words of Samuel that he was completely deprived of strength and vigor, which was reinforced by a lack of nourishment. The woman met his physical needs, and he returned to his camp to await his doom (vv. 21–25).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 29:1 gathered . . . encamped. The Philistines were assembling for battle while the Israelites were still camping by the spring. This picks up the story line originally started in 28:1, but which was sidelined to communicate Saul's encounter with the medium. Aphék. Located about 24 miles north of Gath (cf. 4:1). Jezeel. Only a few miles south of Shunem, and 40 miles northeast of Aphék, Jezeel was north of Mount Gilboa.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 29:3 no fault. David had proven himself as an honorable and righteous man before Achish, who knew that he could trust David.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 29:4 he become an adversary. The Philistine lords were not as willing as Achish to give favor and trust to David. Being very shrewd in their estimation of potential hazards, they realized that he might be feigning loyalty to the Philistines in order to seize a strategic moment in the battle when he could betray and fight against them.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 29:5 David, of whom they sing. The fame of David had spread throughout the land. The Philistine lords were no stranger to the skill and the victories that God had given to mighty David.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 29:6 As the Lord lives. When seeking the highest standard by which to assure David of his credibility, Achish swore by the existence of David's God. It is evident that the pagan world knows of God, but the irony is that their knowledge does not necessarily lead to repentance.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 29:8 the enemies of my lord the king. David's fidelity to Achish seemed to be at its climax in this expression of loyalty. David appears to have been fully prepared to do battle on behalf of Achish against his enemies, namely Israel. In light of David's former refusal to stretch out his hand against the Lord's anointed (24:6, 10; 26:9, 11, 21), David might have been capitulating and compromising. He did not inquire of the Lord before going to live with Achish, nor did he inquire of the Lord as to whether he should go out to battle with Achish. On the other hand, it could be that while David gave the appearance of loyalty, he actually believed the Philistines would not let him go out to battle, just as it actually happened (cf. 27:8–12). The providence of God kept David from fighting against the Lord's anointed and his own countrymen.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 29:9 an angel of God. The degree to which Achish praised David has led some to believe that his eulogy was merely a formal attempt at flattery.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 29:11 Jezeel. This was used to designate both a city about 56 miles north of Jerusalem as well as the plain of Jezeel, which served as a major battlefield for many nations. The city was situated in the territory of Issachar (Josh. 19:18). It was bounded on the north and south by Megiddo and Beth-shean (1 Kings 4:12) and on the west and east by Mount Carmel and Mount Gilboa.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 30:1 Ziklag. Serving as a temporary place of residence for David and his 600 men, Ziklag was located in the Negeb and given to David by Achish the king of Gath (27:6). David used it as the base from which he would make raids on the neighboring tribes (27:8–11). Amalekites. Reaping the consequences of Saul's failure to utterly destroy the Amalekites (ch. 15) and David's raids against them (27:8), David and his men were the victims of a successful raid in which the Amalekites took all of their wives and livestock captive before burning Ziklag, their city.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 30:6 distressed . . . bitter. Arriving home to the reality of their great tragedy caused David immense distress and provoked the wickedness of his men to entertain the treasonous idea of stoning him. Having not inquired of the Lord before his departure to support Achish in battle, David was in need of God's getting his attention. strengthened himself in the Lord his God. This was the key to David being a man after God's heart (cf. 13:14; Acts 13:22).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 30:7 Abiathar brought the ephod. Serving as a source through which one could make direct and specific inquiry into the will of God, the high priest's ephod, which contained the Urim and Thummim, was sought by David. The distress of the moment drew his focus away from the treasonous thoughts of his men and back to God in his desperation to know what God would have him do.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 30:9–10 brook Besor. David most likely encountered the brook about 13 miles south of Ziklag. It consisted of seasonal rivers from the area of Beersheba that ran northwest and emptied into the Mediterranean. Likely, this was during the latter rains (January-April) and the brook was filled with a rampaging runoff that would account for the soldiers who were unable to cross over.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 30:14 Negeb of the Cherethites. Benaiah the son of Jehoiada was over the Cherethites and the Pelethites (2 Sam. 8:18), who are almost always mentioned together. They fled Jerusalem as allies with David (2 Sam. 15:18), and pursued Sheba the son of Bichri with Joab (2 Sam. 20:7). They were hand-picked by David to be present at Solomon's anointing as king. The Cherethites appear to have come from Crete, and to have been a part of the king's bodyguard (2 Sam. 23:20, 23). Negeb of Caleb. Caleb, the son of Jephunneh, was one of 12 spies chosen to check out the land, and one of only two spies who gave a favorable report (Num. 13:6–30). This was the land assigned to his family (Josh. 14:13–14).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 30:16 all the great spoil. The Amalekites had not only what they took from Ziklag, but much more plunder from all their raids. After David conquered the Amalekites (vv. 17–18) he returned what belonged to Ziklag (vv. 19, 26) and spread the rest all over Judah (vv. 26–31).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 30:17 four hundred young men. It is obvious from Moses' encounter (Ex. 17:8–16), Saul's failure (1 Sam. 15), and Mordecai's opposition (Est. 3:1, 10–13) that the Amalekites were wicked people who hated God's people and died hard.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 30:19 Nothing was missing. In spite of David's previous failures, God showed himself to be more than gracious and abundant in his stewardship of the wives, children, livestock, and possessions of David and his men.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 30:22 worthless fellows. From the beginning of David's flight from Saul, he became captain of those who were in distress, discontent, and in debt (22:2), the least likely to exercise kindness and grace to others. This same expression was used of the sons of Eli (2:12), of those who doubted Saul's ability as king (10:27), of Nabal the fool by his servant (25:17), of Nabal the fool by his wife (25:25), of David when he was cursed by Shimei (2 Sam. 16:7), of Sheba the son of Bichri who led a revolt against David (2 Sam. 20:1), and of those who would be thrust away like thorns by David (2 Sam. 23:6).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 30:25 a statute and a rule. In spite of the opposition David received from the worthless men among him, he legislated his practice of kindness and equity into law for the people.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 30:26–31 Being no stranger to adversity and a life lived on the run, David realized the important role that so many others had played in his safety and welfare. Being the recipient of such kindness, David missed no opportunity to reciprocate kindness and generosity. It would be presumptuous to think that David was merely paying off debts or buying support; rather he was giving back as he had received, expressing his debt of gratitude for the kindness and support shown him. See note on 30:16.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 31:1–13 See 2 Sam. 1:4–12 and 1 Chron. 10:1–12.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 31:1 Mount Gilboa. Formerly the site of the Israeli camp, it was turned into the sight of the Israeli massacre. Saul and his sons lost their lives on Mount Gilboa. See note on 28:4.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 31:2 Jonathan and Abinadab and Malchi-shua. Three of the four sons of Saul were killed the same day in battle. The fourth son, Eshbaal, would later be referred to as Ish-bosheth, meaning “man of shame,” an appropriate designation in light of his apparent absence from the battlefield (cf. 2 Sam. 2:8ff.). Jonathan, Ishvi, and Malchi-shua were named as Saul’s sons in 1 Sam. 14:49, but Jonathan, Abinadab, and Malchi-shua are named here; Ishvi and Abinadab are thus one and the same. First Chronicles 8:33 and 9:39 are the only verses naming all four sons.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 31:4 these uncircumcised. A common term of derision used among Israelites to designate non-Israelites. Circumcision was given as the sign of the Abrahamic Covenant in Gen. 17:10–14. See note on 1 Sam. 14:6. mistreat me. Having engaged in several battles against the Philistines, Saul had succeeded in provoking their hatred and resentment. As the king, Saul had certainly received especially cruel treatment from the hands of his enemies, who would have likely made sport of him and tortured him before his death. Saul took his own sword and fell upon it. Though Saul’s suicide is considered by some to be an act of heroism, Saul should have found his strength and courage in God as David did in 23:16 and 30:6 to fight to the end or to surrender. Saul’s suicide is the ultimate expression of his faithlessness toward God at this moment in his life.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 31:6 all his men. The question is whether “all” was used in a qualified sense or in an absolute sense. In consideration of the context, the meaning was most likely intended to be qualified, not absolute. It is not necessary to conclude that every single one of Saul’s 3,000 men died that day and that none escaped. Where such a meaning is intended, the text usually provides more reinforcement, as in Josh. 8:22 where the author specifically states, “and Israel struck them down, until there was left none that survived or escaped.” In fact, Abner the general of Saul’s army survived (2 Sam. 2:8). “All” here means those who were personally assigned to Saul’s special guard (cf. 1 Sam. 31:7).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 31:9 cut off his head. There is a parallelism between the death of Saul and the death of Goliath. The giant champion of the Philistines had his head cut off by David, and the Philistines fled (17:51). The Philistines had taken revenge and done likewise to the giant champion of Israel, King Saul, who was “taller than any of the people from his shoulders upward” (10:23).

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 31:10 Ashtaroth. These were the fertility goddesses of the Canaanites, to whom the Philistines gave homage by placing the weapons of their defeated foe in the temple of Ashtaroth. As the sword of Goliath was put in the house of the Lord behind the ephod (21:9), so the weapons of Saul were taken by the Philistines and put in the temple of Ashtaroth. Military victory was attributed to the gods, since the belief was that military encounters were battles between the deities of rival nations. Beth-shan. Located in the Jordan Valley about 16 miles south of the Sea of Galilee.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 31:11 Jabesh-gilead. Located east of the Jordan, its people stayed out of the war against Benjamin and suffered severe consequences as a result (Judg. 21). The men of Jabesh-gilead showed kindness and respect to Saul, a Benjamite, by rescuing his body from the wall of Beth-shan because Saul and his sons had saved Jabesh-gilead from the Ammonites (1 Sam. 11:9–12) just after he had been chosen as king of Israel. By this act, they honored Saul for his faithfulness to them.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 31:12 bodies . . . burned. In light of Saul’s head having been cut off and the mutilation that had taken place, it is thought that the citizens of Jabesh-gilead burned his body to hide the damage.

1 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 31:13 bones . . . buried. It was considered disrespectful not to bury the dead. Abraham went to great lengths to bury Sarah (Gen. 23:4–15), and Jacob made Joseph swear that he would not bury him in Egypt (Gen. 47:29–30). fasted seven days. In relation to death, fasting was often associated with mourning in the Hebrew culture. It was a sign of respect, seriousness, and grief. First Samuel began with the ark of the covenant being captured by the Philistines (1 Sam. 4:11), and in the end Israel’s king had been killed by them. Second Samuel will recount how God vindicated his honor by David’s defeating the Philistines (2 Sam. 5:17–25), establishing an uncontested kingdom (1 Kings 2:12), and safely bringing the ark to Jerusalem, the city of God (2 Sam. 6:16–19).

David Hears of Saul's Death

2 SAMUEL 1 † After the death of Saul, when David had returned from striking down the Amalekites, David remained two days in Ziklag. 2 † And on the third day, behold, a man came from Saul's camp, with his clothes torn and dirt on his head. And when he came to David, he fell to the ground and paid homage. 3 David said to him, "Where do you come from?" And he said to him, "I have escaped from the camp of Israel." 4 † And David said to him, "How did it go? Tell me." And he answered, "The people fled from the battle, and also many of the people have fallen and are dead, and Saul and his son Jonathan are also dead." 5 Then David said to the young man who told him, "How do you know that Saul and his son Jonathan are dead?" 6 † And the young man who told him said, "By chance I happened to be on Mount Gilboa, and there was Saul leaning on his spear, and behold, the chariots and the horsemen were close upon him. 7 And when he looked behind him, he saw me, and called to me. And I answered, 'Here I am.' 8 † And he said to me, 'Who are you?' I answered him, 'I am an Amalekite.' 9 And he said to me 'Stand beside me and kill me, for anguish has seized me, and yet my life still lingers.' 10 † So I stood beside him and killed him, because I was sure that he could not live after he had fallen. And I took the crown that was on his head and the armlet that was on his arm, and I have brought them here to my lord."

11 Then David took hold of his clothes and tore them, and so did all the men who were with him. 12 † And they mourned and wept and fasted until evening for Saul and for Jonathan his son and for the people of the LORD and for the house of Israel, because they had fallen by the sword. 13 And David said to the young man who told him, "Where do you come from?" And he answered, "I am the son of a sojourner, an Amalekite." 14 † David said to him, "How is it you were not afraid to put out your hand to destroy the LORD's anointed?" 15 † Then David called one of the young men and said, "Go, execute him." And he struck him down so that he died. 16 † And David said to him, "Your blood be on your head, for your own mouth has testified against you, saying, 'I have killed the LORD's anointed.'"

David's Lament for Saul and Jonathan

<sup>18</sup>† and he said it [1] should be taught to the people of Judah; behold, it is written in the Book of Jashar. [2] He said: <sup>19</sup>† “Your glory, O Israel, is slain on your high places!

How the mighty have fallen!

<sup>20</sup>† Tell it not in Gath, publish it not in the streets of Ashkelon, lest the daughters of the Philistines rejoice, lest the daughters of the uncircumcised exult.

<sup>21</sup>† “You mountains of Gilboa, let there be no dew or rain upon you, nor fields of offerings! [3]

For there the shield of the mighty was defiled, the shield of Saul, not anointed with oil.

the bow of Jonathan turned not back, and the sword of Saul returned not empty.

<sup>23</sup>† “Saul and Jonathan, beloved and lovely!

In life and in death they were not divided; they were swifter than eagles;

they were stronger than lions.

<sup>24</sup>† “You daughters of Israel, weep over Saul, who clothed you luxuriously in scarlet,

who put ornaments of gold on your apparel.

<sup>25</sup>† “How the mighty have fallen in the midst of the battle!

“Jonathan lies slain on your high places.

<sup>26</sup>† I am distressed for you, my brother Jonathan; very pleasant have you been to me;

your love to me was extraordinary, surpassing the love of women.

David Anointed King of Judah

2 SAMUEL 2 †After this David inquired of the LORD, “Shall I go up into any of the cities of Judah?” And the LORD said to him, “Go up.” David said, “To which shall I go up?” And he said, “To Hebron.” †So David went up there, and his two wives also, Ahinoam of Jezreel and Abigail the widow of Nabal of Carmel. †And David brought up his men who were with him, everyone with his household, and they lived in the towns of Hebron. †And the men of Judah came, and there they anointed David king over the house of Judah.

When they told David, “It was the men of Jabesh-gilead who buried Saul,” †David sent messengers to the men of Jabesh-gilead and said to them, “May you be blessed by the LORD, because you showed this loyalty to Saul your lord and buried him. †Now may the LORD show steadfast love and faithfulness to you. And I will do good to you because you have done this thing. †Now therefore let your hands be strong, and be valiant, for Saul your lord is dead, and the house of Judah has anointed me king over them.”

Ish-bosheth Made King of Israel

†But Abner the son of Ner, commander of Saul's army, took Ish-bosheth the son of Saul and brought him over to Mahanaim, †and he made him king over Gilead and the Ashurites and Jezreel and Ephraim and Benjamin and all Israel. †Ish-bosheth, Saul's son, was forty years old when he began to reign over Israel, and he reigned two years. But the house of Judah followed David. †And the time that David was king in Hebron over the house of Judah was seven years and six months.

The Battle of Gibeon

†Abner the son of Ner, and the servants of Ish-bosheth the son of Saul, went out from Mahanaim to Gibeon. †And Joab the son of Zeruiah and the servants of David went out and met them at the pool of Gibeon. And they sat down, the one on the one side of the pool, and the other on the other side of the pool. †And Abner said to Joab, “Let the young men arise and compete before us.” And Joab said, “Let them arise.” †Then they arose and passed over by number, twelve for Benjamin and Ish-bosheth the son of Saul, and twelve of the servants of David. †And each caught his opponent by the head and thrust his sword in his opponent's side, so they fell down together. Therefore that place was called Helkath-hazzurim, [1] which is at Gibeon. <sup>17</sup>And the battle was very fierce that day. And Abner and the men of Israel were beaten before the servants of David.

<sup>24</sup>But Joab and Abishai pursued Abner. And as the sun was going down they came to the hill of Ammah, which lies before Giah on the way to the wilderness of Gibeon. <sup>25</sup>And the people of Benjamin gathered themselves together behind Abner and became one group and took their stand on the top of a hill. <sup>26</sup>†Then Abner called to Joab, “Shall the sword devour forever? Do you not know that the end will be bitter? How long will it be before you tell your people to turn from the pursuit of their brothers?” <sup>27</sup>And Joab said, “As God lives, if you had not spoken, surely the men would not have given up the pursuit of their brothers until the morning.” <sup>28</sup>So Joab blew the trumpet, and all the men stopped and pursued Israel no more, nor did they fight anymore.

<sup>29</sup>†And Abner and his men went all that night through the Arabah. They crossed the Jordan, and marching the whole morning, they came to Mahanaim. <sup>30</sup>Joab returned from the pursuit of Abner. And when he had gathered all the people together, there were missing from David's servants nineteen men besides Asahel. <sup>31</sup>But the servants of David had struck down of Benjamin 360 of Abner's men. <sup>32</sup>And they took up Asahel and buried him in the tomb of his father, which was at Bethlehem. And Joab and his men marched all night, and the day broke upon them at Hebron.

Abner Joins David

2 SAMUEL 3 † There was a long war between the house of Saul and the house of David. And David grew stronger and stronger, while the house of Saul became weaker and weaker.

<sup>2</sup>† And sons were born to David at Hebron: his firstborn was Amnon, of Ahinoam of Jezreel; <sup>3</sup>† and his second, Chileab, of Abigail the widow of Nabal of Carmel; and the third, Absalom the son of Maacah the daughter of Talmai king of Geshur; <sup>4</sup>† and the fourth, Adonijah the son of Haggith; and the fifth, Shephatiah the son of Abital; <sup>5</sup>† and the sixth, Ithream, of Eglah, David's wife. These were born to David in Hebron.

<sup>6</sup>† While there was war between the house of Saul and the house of David, Abner was making himself strong in the house of Saul. <sup>7</sup>† Now Saul had a concubine whose name was Rizpah, the daughter of Aiah. And Ish-bosheth said to Abner, “Why have you gone in to my father's concubine?” <sup>8</sup>† Then Abner was very angry over the words of Ish-bosheth and said, “Am I a dog's head of Judah? To this day I keep showing steadfast love to the house of Saul your father, to his brothers, and to his friends, and have not given you into the hand of David. And yet you charge me today with a fault concerning a woman. <sup>9</sup>† God do so to Abner and more also, if I do not accomplish for David what the LORD has sworn to him, <sup>10</sup>† to transfer the kingdom from the house of Saul and set up the throne of David over Israel and over Judah, from Dan to Beersheba.” <sup>11</sup> And Ish-bosheth could not answer Abner another word, because he feared him.

<sup>12</sup>† And Abner sent messengers to David on his behalf, [\[1\]](#) saying, “To whom does the land belong? Make your covenant with me, and behold, my hand shall be with you to bring over all Israel to you.” <sup>13</sup>† And he said, “Good; I will make a covenant with you. But one thing I require of you; that is, you shall not see my face unless you first bring Michal, Saul's daughter, when you come to see my face.” <sup>14</sup>† Then David sent messengers to Ish-bosheth, Saul's son, saying, “Give me my wife Michal, for whom I paid the bridal price of a hundred foreskins of the Philistines.” <sup>15</sup> And Ish-bosheth sent and took her from her husband Paltiel the son of Laish. <sup>16</sup>† But her husband went with her, weeping after her all the way to Bahurim. Then Abner said to him, “Go, return.” And he returned.

you have been seeking David as king over you. <sup>18</sup>† Now then bring it about, for the LORD has promised David, saying, ‘By the hand of my servant David I will save my people Israel from the hand of the Philistines, and from the hand of all their enemies.’” <sup>19</sup>† Abner also spoke to Benjamin. And then Abner went to tell David at Hebron all that Israel and the whole house of Benjamin thought good to do.

<sup>20</sup> When Abner came with twenty men to David at Hebron, David made a feast for Abner and the men who were with him. <sup>21</sup>† And Abner said to David, “I will arise and go and will gather all Israel to my lord the king, that they may make a covenant with you, and that you may reign over all that your heart desires.” So David sent Abner away, and he went in peace.

<sup>22</sup> Just then the servants of David arrived with Joab from a raid, bringing much spoil with them. But Abner was not with David at Hebron, for he had sent him away, and he had gone in peace. <sup>23</sup> When Joab and all the army that was with him came, it was told Joab, “Abner the son of Ner came to the king, and he has let him go, and he has gone in peace.” <sup>24</sup> Then Joab went to the king and said, “What have you done? Behold, Abner came to you. Why is it that you have sent him away, so that he is gone? <sup>25</sup>† You know that Abner the son of Ner came to deceive you and to know your going out and your coming in, and to know all that you are doing.”

Joab Murders Abner

<sup>26</sup>† When Joab came out from David's presence, he sent messengers after Abner, and they brought him back from the cistern of Sirah. But David did not know about it. <sup>27</sup>† And when Abner returned to Hebron, Joab took him aside into the midst of the gate to speak with him privately, and there he struck him in the stomach, so that he died, for the blood of Asahel his brother. <sup>28</sup>† Afterward, when David heard of it, he said, “I and my kingdom are forever guiltless before the LORD for the blood of Abner the son of Ner. <sup>29</sup> May it fall upon the head of Joab and upon all his father's house, and may the house of Joab never be without one who has a discharge or who is leprous or who holds a spindle or who falls by the sword or who lacks bread!” <sup>30</sup> So Joab and Abishai his brother killed Abner, because he had put their brother Asahel to death in the battle at Gibeon.

David Mourns Abner

<sup>31</sup>‡Then David said to Joab and to all the people who were with him, “Tear your clothes and put on sackcloth and mourn before Abner.” And King David followed the bier. <sup>32</sup>They buried Abner at Hebron. And the king lifted up his voice and wept at the grave of Abner, and all the people wept. <sup>33</sup>And the king lamented for Abner, saying, “Should Abner die as a fool dies?”

And all the people wept again over him. <sup>35</sup>‡Then all the people came to persuade David to eat bread while it was yet day. But David swore, saying, “God do so to me and more also, if I taste bread or anything else till the sun goes down!” <sup>36</sup>And all the people took notice of it, and it pleased them, as everything that the king did pleased all the people. <sup>37</sup>So all the people and all Israel understood that day that it had not been the king's will to put to death Abner the son of Ner. <sup>38</sup>And the king said to his servants, “Do you not know that a prince and a great man has fallen this day in Israel? <sup>39</sup>‡And I was gentle today, though anointed king. These men, the sons of Zeruiah, are more severe than I. The LORD repay the evildoer according to his wickedness!”

Ish-bosheth Murdered

2 SAMUEL 4 †When Ish-bosheth, Saul's son, heard that Abner had died at Hebron, his courage failed, and all Israel was dismayed. <sup>2</sup>††Now Saul's son had two men who were captains of raiding bands; the name of the one was Baanah, and the name of the other Rechab, sons of Rimmon a man of Benjamin from Beeroth (for Beeroth also is counted part of Benjamin; <sup>3</sup>the Beerothites fled to Gittaim and have been sojourners there to this day).

<sup>4</sup>†Jonathan, the son of Saul, had a son who was crippled in his feet. He was five years old when the news about Saul and Jonathan came from Jezreel, and his nurse took him up and fled, and as she fled in her haste, he fell and became lame. And his name was Mephibosheth.

<sup>5</sup>†Now the sons of Rimmon the Beerothite, Rechab and Baanah, set out, and about the heat of the day they came to the house of Ish-bosheth as he was taking his noonday rest. <sup>6</sup>And they came into the midst of the house as if to get wheat, and they stabbed him in the stomach. Then Rechab and Baanah his brother escaped. [\[1\]](#) <sup>7</sup>†When they came into the house, as he lay on his bed in his bedroom, they struck him and put him to death and beheaded him. They took his head and went by the way of the Arabah all night, <sup>8</sup>†and brought the head of Ish-bosheth to David at Hebron. And they said to the king, "Here is the head of Ish-bosheth, the son of Saul, your enemy, who sought your life. The LORD has avenged my lord the king this day on Saul and on his offspring." <sup>9</sup>†But David answered Rechab and Baanah his brother, the sons of Rimmon the Beerothite, "As the LORD lives, who has redeemed my life out of every adversity, <sup>10</sup>when one told me, 'Behold, Saul is dead,' and thought he was bringing good news, I seized him and killed him at Ziklag, which was the reward I gave him for his news. <sup>11</sup>How much more, when wicked men have killed a righteous man in his own house on his bed, shall I not now require his blood at your hand and destroy you from the earth?" <sup>12</sup>And David commanded his young men, and they killed them and cut off their hands and feet and hanged them beside the pool at Hebron. But they took the head of Ish-bosheth and buried it in the tomb of Abner at Hebron.

David Anointed King of Israel

2 SAMUEL 5 1 Then all the tribes of Israel came to David at Hebron and said, “Behold, we are your bone and flesh. <sup>2</sup>In times past, when Saul was king over us, it was you who led out and brought in Israel. And the LORD said to you, ‘You shall be shepherd of my people Israel, and you shall be prince over Israel.’” 3 So all the elders of Israel came to the king at Hebron, and King David made a covenant with them at Hebron before the LORD, and they anointed David king over Israel. <sup>4</sup>David was thirty years old when he began to reign, and he reigned forty years. 5 At Hebron he reigned over Judah seven years and six months, and at Jerusalem he reigned over all Israel and Judah thirty-three years. 1

6 And the king and his men went to Jerusalem against the Jebusites, the inhabitants of the land, who said to David, “You will not come in here, but the blind and the lame will ward you off”—thinking, “David cannot come in here.” 7 Nevertheless, David took the stronghold of Zion, that is, the city of David. 8 And David said on that day, “Whoever would strike the Jebusites, let him get up the water shaft to attack ‘the lame and the blind,’ who are hated by David’s soul.” Therefore it is said, “The blind and the lame shall not come into the house.” 9 And David lived in the stronghold and called it the city of David. And David built the city all around from the Millo inward. <sup>10</sup>And David became greater and greater, for the LORD, the God of hosts, was with him.

11 And Hiram king of Tyre sent messengers to David, and cedar trees, also carpenters and masons who built David a house. 12 And David knew that the LORD had established him king over Israel, and that he had exalted his kingdom for the sake of his people Israel.

13 And David took more concubines and wives from Jerusalem, after he came from Hebron, and more sons and daughters were born to David. <sup>14</sup>And these are the names of those who were born to him in Jerusalem: Shammua, Shobab, Nathan, Solomon, <sup>15</sup>Ibhar, Elishua, Nepheg, Japhia, <sup>16</sup>Elishama, Eliada, and Eliphelet.

David Defeats the Philistines

17 When the Philistines heard that David had been anointed king over Israel, all the Philistines went up to search for David. But David heard of it and went down to the stronghold. <sup>18</sup>† Now the Philistines had come and spread out in the Valley of Rephaim. <sup>19</sup> And David inquired of the LORD, “Shall I go up against the Philistines? Will you give them into my hand?” And the LORD said to David, “Go up, for I will certainly give the Philistines into your hand.” <sup>20</sup>† And David came to Baal-perazim, and David defeated them there. And he said, “The LORD has burst through my enemies before me like a bursting flood.” Therefore the name of that place is called Baal-perazim. [2] <sup>21</sup>† And the Philistines left their idols there, and David and his men carried them away.

<sup>22</sup> And the Philistines came up yet again and spread out in the Valley of Rephaim. <sup>23</sup> And when David inquired of the LORD, he said, “You shall not go up; go around to their rear, and come against them opposite the balsam trees. <sup>24</sup>† And when you hear the sound of marching in the tops of the balsam trees, then rouse yourself, for then the LORD has gone out before you to strike down the army of the Philistines.” <sup>25</sup>† And David did as the LORD commanded him, and struck down the Philistines from Geba to Gezer.

The Ark Brought to Jerusalem

2 SAMUEL 6 †David again gathered all the chosen men of Israel, thirty thousand. †And David arose and went with all the people who were with him from Baale-judah to bring up from there the ark of God, which is called by the name of the LORD of hosts who sits enthroned on the cherubim. †And they carried the ark of God on a new cart and brought it out of the house of Abinadab, which was on the hill. And Uzzah and Ahio, [\[1\]](#) the sons of Abinadab, were driving the new cart, [\[2\]](#) †with the ark of God, and Ahio went before the ark.

Uzzah and the Ark

†And David and all the house of Israel were making merry before the LORD, with songs [\[3\]](#) and lyres and harps and tambourines and castanets and cymbals. †And when they came to the threshing floor of Nacon, Uzzah put out his hand to the ark of God and took hold of it, for the oxen stumbled. †And the anger of the LORD was kindled against Uzzah, and God struck him down there because of his error, and he died there beside the ark of God. †And David was angry because the LORD had burst forth against Uzzah. And that place is called Perez-uzzah, [\[4\]](#) to this day. †And David was afraid of the LORD that day, and he said, “How can the ark of the LORD come to me?” †So David was not willing to take the ark of the LORD into the city of David. But David took it aside to the house of Obed-edom the Gittite. †And the ark of the LORD remained in the house of Obed-edom the Gittite three months, and the LORD blessed Obed-edom and all his household.

††And it was told King David, “The LORD has blessed the household of Obed-edom and all that belongs to him, because of the ark of God.” So David went and brought up the ark of God from the house of Obed-edom to the city of David with rejoicing. †And when those who bore the ark of the LORD had gone six steps, he sacrificed an ox and a fattened animal. †And David danced before the LORD with all his might. And David was wearing a linen ephod. †So David and all the house of Israel brought up the ark of the LORD with shouting and with the sound of the horn.

David and Michal

†As the ark of the LORD came into the city of David, Michal the daughter of Saul looked out of the window and saw King David leaping and dancing before the LORD, and she despised him in her heart. <sup>17</sup>† And they brought in the ark of the LORD and set it in its place, inside the tent that David had pitched for it. And David offered burnt offerings and peace offerings before the LORD. <sup>18</sup> And when David had finished offering the burnt offerings and the peace offerings, he blessed the people in the name of the LORD of hosts <sup>19</sup> and distributed among all the people, the whole multitude of Israel, both men and women, a cake of bread, a portion of meat, [5] and a cake of raisins to each one. Then all the people departed, each to his house.

<sup>20</sup>† And David returned to bless his household. But Michal the daughter of Saul came out to meet David and said, “How the king of Israel honored himself today, uncovering himself today before the eyes of his servants' female servants, as one of the vulgar fellows shamelessly uncovers himself!” <sup>21</sup>† And David said to Michal, “It was before the LORD, who chose me above your father and above all his house, to appoint me as prince over Israel, the people of the LORD—and I will make merry before the LORD. <sup>22</sup>† I will make myself yet more contemptible than this, and I will be abased in your [6] eyes. But by the female servants of whom you have spoken, by them I shall be held in honor.” <sup>23</sup>† And Michal the daughter of Saul had no child to the day of her death.

God's Covenant with David

2 SAMUEL 7 †† Now when the king lived in his house and the LORD had given him rest from all his surrounding enemies, † the king said to Nathan the prophet, “See now, I dwell in a house of cedar, but the ark of God dwells in a tent.” † And Nathan said to the king, “Go, do all that is in your heart, for the LORD is with you.”

† But that same night the word of the LORD came to Nathan, † “Go and tell my servant David, ‘Thus says the LORD: Would you build me a house to dwell in? † I have not lived in a house since the day I brought up the people of Israel from Egypt to this day, but I have been moving about in a tent for my dwelling. † In all places where I have moved with all the people of Israel, did I speak a word with any of the judges [\[1\]](#) of Israel, whom I commanded to shepherd my people Israel, saying, ‘Why have you not built me a house of cedar?’” † Now, therefore, thus you shall say to my servant David, ‘Thus says the LORD of hosts, I took you from the pasture, from following the sheep, that you should be prince over my people Israel. † And I have been with you wherever you went and have cut off all your enemies from before you. And I will make for you a great name, like the name of the great ones of the earth. † And I will appoint a place for my people Israel and will plant them, so that they may dwell in their own place and be disturbed no more. And violent men shall afflict them no more, as formerly, † from the time that I appointed judges over my people Israel. And I will give you rest from all your enemies. Moreover, the LORD declares to you that the LORD will make you a house. † When your days are fulfilled and you lie down with your fathers, I will raise up your offspring after you, who shall come from your body, and I will establish his kingdom. † He shall build a house for my name, and I will establish the throne of his kingdom forever. † I will be to him a father, and he shall be to me a son. When he commits iniquity, I will discipline him with the rod of men, with the stripes of the sons of men, † but my steadfast love will not depart from him, as I took it from Saul, whom I put away from before you. † And your house and your kingdom shall be made sure forever before me. [\[2\]](#) Your throne shall be established forever.’” † In accordance with all these words, and in accordance with all this vision, Nathan spoke to David.

David's Prayer of Gratitude

<sup>18</sup> † Then King David went in and sat before the LORD and said, “Who am I, O

Lord GOD, and what is my house, that you have brought me thus far? <sup>19</sup>†And yet this was a small thing in your eyes, O Lord GOD. You have spoken also of your servant's house for a great while to come, and this is instruction for mankind, O Lord GOD! <sup>20</sup>And what more can David say to you? For you know your servant, O Lord GOD! <sup>21</sup>Because of your promise, and according to your own heart, you have brought about all this greatness, to make your servant know it. <sup>22</sup>Therefore you are great, O LORD God. For there is none like you, and there is no God besides you, according to all that we have heard with our ears. <sup>23</sup>†And who is like your people Israel, the one nation on earth whom God went to redeem to be his people, making himself a name and doing for them [3] great and awesome things by driving out [4] before your people, whom you redeemed for yourself from Egypt, a nation and its gods? <sup>24</sup>And you established for yourself your people Israel to be your people forever. And you, O LORD, became their God. <sup>25</sup>†And now, O LORD God, confirm forever the word that you have spoken concerning your servant and concerning his house, and do as you have spoken. <sup>26</sup>†And your name will be magnified forever, saying, 'The LORD of hosts is God over Israel,' and the house of your servant David will be established before you. <sup>27</sup>For you, O LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, have made this revelation to your servant, saying, 'I will build you a house.' Therefore your servant has found courage to pray this prayer to you. <sup>28</sup>And now, O Lord GOD, you are God, and your words are true, and you have promised this good thing to your servant. <sup>29</sup>Now therefore may it please you to bless the house of your servant, so that it may continue forever before you. For you, O Lord GOD, have spoken, and with your blessing shall the house of your servant be blessed forever."

David's Victories

2 SAMUEL 8 †† After this David defeated the Philistines and subdued them, and David took Metheg-ammah out of the hand of the Philistines.

† And he defeated Moab and he measured them with a line, making them lie down on the ground. Two lines he measured to be put to death, and one full line to be spared. And the Moabites became servants to David and brought tribute.

† When Toi king of Hamath heard that David had defeated the whole army of Hadadezer, † Toi sent his son Joram to King David, to ask about his health and to bless him because he had fought against Hadadezer and defeated him, for Hadadezer had often been at war with Toi. And Joram brought with him articles of silver, of gold, and of bronze. † These also King David dedicated to the LORD, together with the silver and gold that he dedicated from all the nations he subdued, † from Edom, Moab, the Ammonites, the Philistines, Amalek, and from the spoil of Hadadezer the son of Rehob, king of Zobah.

† And David made a name for himself when he returned from striking down 18,000 Edomites in the Valley of Salt. † Then he put garrisons in Edom; throughout all Edom he put garrisons, and all the Edomites became David's servants. And the LORD gave victory to David wherever he went.

David's Officials

†† So David reigned over all Israel. And David administered justice and equity to all his people. † Joab the son of Zeruiah was over the army, and Jehoshaphat the son of Ahilud was recorder, <sup>17</sup>† and Zadok the son of Ahitub and Ahimelech the son of Abiathar were priests, and Seraiah was secretary, <sup>18</sup>† and Benaiah the son of Jehoiada was over [\[1\]](#) the Cherethites and the Pelethites, and David's sons were priests.

David's Kindness to Mephibosheth

2 SAMUEL 9 † And David said, “Is there still anyone left of the house of Saul, that I may show him kindness for Jonathan's sake?” † Now there was a servant of the house of Saul whose name was Ziba, and they called him to David. And the king said to him, “Are you Ziba?” And he said, “I am your servant.” † And the king said, “Is there not still someone of the house of Saul, that I may show the kindness of God to him?” Ziba said to the king, “There is still a son of Jonathan; he is crippled in his feet.” † The king said to him, “Where is he?” And Ziba said to the king, “He is in the house of Machir the son of Ammiel, at Lo-debar.” † Then King David sent and brought him from the house of Machir the son of Ammiel, at Lo-debar. † And Mephibosheth the son of Jonathan, son of Saul, came to David and fell on his face and paid homage. And David said, “Mephibosheth!” And he answered, “Behold, I am your servant.” † And David said to him, “Do not fear, for I will show you kindness for the sake of your father Jonathan, and I will restore to you all the land of Saul your father, and you shall eat at my table always.” † And he paid homage and said, “What is your servant, that you should show regard for a dead dog such as I?”

† Then the king called Ziba, Saul's servant, and said to him, “All that belonged to Saul and to all his house I have given to your master's grandson. † And you and your sons and your servants shall till the land for him and shall bring in the produce, that your master's grandson may have bread to eat. But Mephibosheth your master's grandson shall always eat at my table.” Now Ziba had fifteen sons and twenty servants. † Then Ziba said to the king, “According to all that my lord the king commands his servant, so will your servant do.” So Mephibosheth ate at David's [\[1\]](#) table, like one of the king's sons. † And Mephibosheth had a young son, whose name was Mica. And all who lived in Ziba's house became Mephibosheth's servants. † So Mephibosheth lived in Jerusalem, for he ate always at the king's table. Now he was lame in both his feet.

David Defeats Ammon and Syria

2 SAMUEL 10 †† After this the king of the Ammonites died, and Hanun his son reigned in his place. † And David said, “I will deal loyally [\[1\]](#) with Hanun the son of Nahash, as his father dealt loyally with me.” So David sent by his servants to console him concerning his father. And David's servants came into the land of the Ammonites. † But the princes of the Ammonites said to Hanun their lord, “Do you think, because David has sent comforters to you, that he is honoring your father? Has not David sent his servants to you to search the city and to spy it out and to overthrow it?” † So Hanun took David's servants and shaved off half the beard of each and cut off their garments in the middle, at their hips, and sent them away. † When it was told David, he sent to meet them, for the men were greatly ashamed. And the king said, “Remain at Jericho until your beards have grown and then return.”

†† When the Ammonites saw that they had become a stench to David, the Ammonites sent and hired the Syrians of Beth-rehob, and the Syrians of Zobah, 20,000 foot soldiers, and the king of Maacah with 1,000 men, and the men of Tob, 12,000 men. † And when David heard of it, he sent Joab and all the host of the mighty men. † And the Ammonites came out and drew up in battle array at the entrance of the gate, and the Syrians of Zobah and of Rehob and the men of Tob and Maacah were by themselves in the open country.

† When Joab saw that the battle was set against him both in front and in the rear, he chose some of the best men of Israel and arrayed them against the Syrians. † The rest of his men he put in the charge of Abishai his brother, and he arrayed them against the Ammonites. † And he said, “If the Syrians are too strong for me, then you shall help me, but if the Ammonites are too strong for you, then I will come and help you. † Be of good courage, and let us be courageous for our people, and for the cities of our God, and may the LORD do what seems good to him.” † So Joab and the people who were with him drew near to battle against the Syrians, and they fled before him. † And when the Ammonites saw that the Syrians fled, they likewise fled before Abishai and entered the city. Then Joab returned from fighting against the Ammonites and came to Jerusalem.

† But when the Syrians saw that they had been defeated by Israel, they gathered themselves together. † And Hadadezer sent and brought out the Syrians who were beyond the Euphrates. [\[2\]](#) They came to Helam, with Shobach the commander of the army of Hadadezer at their head. <sup>17</sup>And when it was told David, he gathered all Israel together and crossed the Jordan and came to Helam. The Syrians arrayed themselves against David and fought with him. <sup>18</sup>†And the Syrians fled before Israel, and David killed of the Syrians the men of 700 chariots, and 40,000 horsemen, and wounded Shobach the commander of their army, so that he died there. <sup>19</sup>†And when all the kings who were servants of Hadadezer saw that they had been defeated by Israel, they made peace with Israel and became subject to them. So the Syrians were afraid to save the Ammonites anymore.

David and Bathsheba

2 SAMUEL 11 † In the spring of the year, the time when kings go out to battle, David sent Joab, and his servants with him, and all Israel. And they ravaged the Ammonites and besieged Rabbah. But David remained at Jerusalem.

<sup>2</sup>† It happened, late one afternoon, when David arose from his couch and was walking on the roof of the king's house, that he saw from the roof a woman bathing; and the woman was very beautiful. <sup>3</sup>† And David sent and inquired about the woman. And one said, "Is not this Bathsheba, the daughter of Eliam, the wife of Uriah the Hittite?" <sup>4</sup>† So David sent messengers and took her, and she came to him, and he lay with her. (Now she had been purifying herself from her uncleanness.) Then she returned to her house. <sup>5</sup>† And the woman conceived, and she sent and told David, "I am pregnant."

<sup>6</sup>† So David sent word to Joab, "Send me Uriah the Hittite." And Joab sent Uriah to David. <sup>7</sup> When Uriah came to him, David asked how Joab was doing and how the people were doing and how the war was going. <sup>8</sup>† Then David said to Uriah, "Go down to your house and wash your feet." And Uriah went out of the king's house, and there followed him a present from the king. <sup>9</sup>† But Uriah slept at the door of the king's house with all the servants of his lord, and did not go down to his house. <sup>10</sup> When they told David, "Uriah did not go down to his house," David said to Uriah, "Have you not come from a journey? Why did you not go down to your house?" <sup>11</sup>† Uriah said to David, "The ark and Israel and Judah dwell in booths, and my lord Joab and the servants of my lord are camping in the open field. Shall I then go to my house, to eat and to drink and to lie with my wife? As you live, and as your soul lives, I will not do this thing." <sup>12</sup> Then David said to Uriah, "Remain here today also, and tomorrow I will send you back." So Uriah remained in Jerusalem that day and the next. <sup>13</sup>† And David invited him, and he ate in his presence and drank, so that he made him drunk. And in the evening he went out to lie on his couch with the servants of his lord, but he did not go down to his house.

<sup>14</sup> In the morning David wrote a letter to Joab and sent it by the hand of Uriah.

<sup>15</sup>† In the letter he wrote, "Set Uriah in the forefront of the hardest fighting, and then draw back from him, that he may be struck down, and die." <sup>16</sup> And as Joab was besieging the city, he assigned Uriah to the place where he knew there were valiant men. <sup>17</sup> And the men of the city came out and fought with Joab, and some of the servants of David among the people fell. Uriah the Hittite also died.

<sup>18</sup>‡ Then Joab sent and told David all the news about the fighting. <sup>19</sup>And he instructed the messenger, “When you have finished telling all the news about the fighting to the king, <sup>20</sup>then, if the king's anger rises, and if he says to you, ‘Why did you go so near the city to fight? Did you not know that they would shoot from the wall? <sup>21</sup>Who killed Abimelech the son of Jerubbesheth? Did not a woman cast an upper millstone on him from the wall, so that he died at Thebez? Why did you go so near the wall?’ then you shall say, ‘Your servant Uriah the Hittite is dead also.’”

<sup>22</sup>So the messenger went and came and told David all that Joab had sent him to tell. <sup>23</sup>The messenger said to David, “The men gained an advantage over us and came out against us in the field, but we drove them back to the entrance of the gate. <sup>24</sup>Then the archers shot at your servants from the wall. Some of the king's servants are dead, and your servant Uriah the Hittite is dead also.” <sup>25</sup>‡ David said to the messenger, “Thus shall you say to Joab, ‘Do not let this matter trouble you, for the sword devours now one and now another. Strengthen your attack against the city and overthrow it.’ And encourage him.”

<sup>26</sup>‡ When the wife of Uriah heard that Uriah her husband was dead, she lamented over her husband. <sup>27</sup>‡ And when the mourning was over, David sent and brought her to his house, and she became his wife and bore him a son. But the thing that David had done displeased the LORD.

Nathan Rebukes David

2 SAMUEL 12 ††† And the LORD sent Nathan to David. He came to him and said to him, “There were two men in a certain city, the one rich and the other poor. <sup>2</sup>The rich man had very many flocks and herds, <sup>3</sup>but the poor man had nothing but one little ewe lamb, which he had bought. And he brought it up, and it grew up with him and with his children. It used to eat of his morsel and drink from his cup and lie in his arms, [\[1\]](#) and it was like a daughter to him. <sup>4</sup>Now there came a traveler to the rich man, and he was unwilling to take one of his own flock or herd to prepare for the guest who had come to him, but he took the poor man's lamb and prepared it for the man who had come to him.” <sup>5</sup>† Then David's anger was greatly kindled against the man, and he said to Nathan, “As the LORD lives, the man who has done this deserves to die, <sup>6</sup>† and he shall restore the lamb fourfold, because he did this thing, and because he had no pity.”

<sup>7</sup>† Nathan said to David, “You are the man! Thus says the LORD, the God of Israel, ‘I anointed you king over Israel, and I delivered you out of the hand of Saul. <sup>8</sup>† And I gave you your master's house and your master's wives into your arms and gave you the house of Israel and of Judah. And if this were too little, I would add to you as much more. <sup>9</sup>† Why have you despised the word of the LORD, to do what is evil in his sight? You have struck down Uriah the Hittite with the sword and have taken his wife to be your wife and have killed him with the sword of the Ammonites. <sup>10</sup>† Now therefore the sword shall never depart from your house, because you have despised me and have taken the wife of Uriah the Hittite to be your wife.’ <sup>11</sup>† Thus says the LORD, ‘Behold, I will raise up evil against you out of your own house. And I will take your wives before your eyes and give them to your neighbor, and he shall lie with your wives in the sight of this sun. <sup>12</sup>For you did it secretly, but I will do this thing before all Israel and before the sun.’” <sup>13</sup>† David said to Nathan, “I have sinned against the LORD.” And Nathan said to David, “The LORD also has put away your sin; you shall not die. <sup>14</sup>† Nevertheless, because by this deed you have utterly scorned the LORD, [\[2\]](#) the child who is born to you shall die.” <sup>15</sup>Then Nathan went to his house.

David's Child Dies

And the LORD afflicted the child that Uriah's wife bore to David, and he became sick. <sup>16</sup>David therefore sought God on behalf of the child. And David fasted and went in and lay all night on the ground. <sup>17</sup>And the elders of his house stood beside him, to raise him from the ground, but he would not, nor did he eat food with them. <sup>18</sup>On the seventh day the child died. And the servants of David were afraid to tell him that the child was dead, for they said, “Behold, while the child was yet alive, we spoke to him, and he did not listen to us. How then can we say to him the child is dead? He may do himself some harm.” <sup>19</sup>But when David saw that his servants were whispering together, David understood that the child was dead. And David said to his servants, “Is the child dead?” They said, “He is dead.” <sup>20</sup>Then David arose from the earth and washed and anointed himself and changed his clothes. And he went into the house of the LORD and worshiped. He then went to his own house. And when he asked, they set food before him, and he ate. <sup>21</sup>Then his servants said to him, “What is this thing that you have done? You fasted and wept for the child while he was alive; but when the child died, you arose and ate food.” <sup>22</sup>He said, “While the child was still alive, I fasted and wept, for I said, ‘Who knows whether the LORD will be gracious to me, that the child may live?’ <sup>23</sup>‡But now he is dead. Why should I fast? Can I bring him back again? I shall go to him, but he will not return to me.”

Solomon's Birth

<sup>24</sup>‡Then David comforted his wife, Bathsheba, and went in to her and lay with her, and she bore a son, and he called his name Solomon. And the LORD loved him <sup>25</sup>‡and sent a message by Nathan the prophet. So he called his name Jedidiah, [3] because of the LORD.

Rabbah Is Captured

<sup>26</sup>Now Joab fought against Rabbah of the Ammonites and took the royal city. <sup>27</sup>And Joab sent messengers to David and said, “I have fought against Rabbah; moreover, I have taken the city of waters. <sup>28</sup>Now then gather the rest of the people together and encamp against the city and take it, lest I take the city and it be called by my name.” <sup>29</sup>‡‡So David gathered all the people together and went to Rabbah and fought against it and took it. <sup>30</sup>‡And he took the crown of their king from his head. The weight of it was a talent [4] of gold, and in it was a precious stone, and it was placed on David's head. And he brought out the spoil of the city, a very great amount. <sup>31</sup>‡And he brought out the people who were in it and set them to labor with saws and iron picks and iron axes and made them toil at [5] the brick kilns. And thus he did to all the cities of the Ammonites. Then David and all the people returned to Jerusalem.

Amnon and Tamar

2 SAMUEL 13 †Now Absalom, David's son, had a beautiful sister, whose name was Tamar. And after a time Amnon, David's son, loved her. <sup>2</sup>And Amnon was so tormented that he made himself ill because of his sister Tamar, for she was a virgin, and it seemed impossible to Amnon to do anything to her. <sup>3</sup>†But Amnon had a friend, whose name was Jonadab, the son of Shimeah, David's brother. And Jonadab was a very crafty man. <sup>4</sup>And he said to him, "O son of the king, why are you so haggard morning after morning? Will you not tell me?" Amnon said to him, "I love Tamar, my brother Absalom's sister." <sup>5</sup>Jonadab said to him, "Lie down on your bed and pretend to be ill. And when your father comes to see you, say to him, 'Let my sister Tamar come and give me bread to eat, and prepare the food in my sight, that I may see it and eat it from her hand.'" <sup>6</sup>So Amnon lay down and pretended to be ill. And when the king came to see him, Amnon said to the king, "Please let my sister Tamar come and make a couple of cakes in my sight, that I may eat from her hand."

<sup>7</sup>Then David sent home to Tamar, saying, "Go to your brother Amnon's house and prepare food for him." <sup>8</sup>So Tamar went to her brother Amnon's house, where he was lying down. And she took dough and kneaded it and made cakes in his sight and baked the cakes. <sup>9</sup>And she took the pan and emptied it out before him, but he refused to eat. And Amnon said, "Send out everyone from me." So everyone went out from him. <sup>10</sup>Then Amnon said to Tamar, "Bring the food into the chamber, that I may eat from your hand." And Tamar took the cakes she had made and brought them into the chamber to Amnon her brother. <sup>11</sup>But when she brought them near him to eat, he took hold of her and said to her, "Come, lie with me, my sister." <sup>12</sup>†She answered him, "No, my brother, do not violate [\[1\]](#) me, for such a thing is not done in Israel; do not do this outrageous thing. <sup>13</sup>As for me, where could I carry my shame? And as for you, you would be as one of the outrageous fools in Israel. Now therefore, please speak to the king, for he will not withhold me from you." <sup>14</sup>†But he would not listen to her, and being stronger than she, he violated her and lay with her.

<sup>15</sup>††Then Amnon hated her with very great hatred, so that the hatred with which he hated her was greater than the love with which he had loved her. And Amnon said to her, "Get up! Go!" <sup>16</sup>But she said to him, "No, my brother, for this wrong in sending me away is greater than the other that you did to me." [\[2\]](#) But he would not listen to her. <sup>17</sup>He called the young man who served him and said, "Put this woman out of my presence and bolt the door after her.” <sup>18</sup>† Now she was wearing a long robe [3] with sleeves, for thus were the virgin daughters of the king dressed. So his servant put her out and bolted the door after her. <sup>19</sup>† And Tamar put ashes on her head and tore the long robe that she wore. And she laid her hand on her head and went away, crying aloud as she went.

<sup>20</sup>† And her brother Absalom said to her, “Has Amnon your brother been with you? Now hold your peace, my sister. He is your brother; do not take this to heart.” So Tamar lived, a desolate woman, in her brother Absalom's house.

Absalom Murders Amnon

<sup>23</sup>† After two full years Absalom had sheepshearers at Baal-hazor, which is near Ephraim, and Absalom invited all the king's sons. <sup>24</sup> And Absalom came to the king and said, “Behold, your servant has sheepshearers. Please let the king and his servants go with your servant.” <sup>25</sup> But the king said to Absalom, “No, my son, let us not all go, lest we be burdensome to you.” He pressed him, but he would not go but gave him his blessing. <sup>26</sup> Then Absalom said, “If not, please let my brother Amnon go with us.” And the king said to him, “Why should he go with you?” <sup>27</sup> But Absalom pressed him until he let Amnon and all the king's sons go with him. <sup>28</sup>† Then Absalom commanded his servants, “Mark when Amnon's heart is merry with wine, and when I say to you, ‘Strike Amnon,’ then kill him. Do not fear; have I not commanded you? Be courageous and be valiant.” <sup>29</sup>† So the servants of Absalom did to Amnon as Absalom had commanded. Then all the king's sons arose, and each mounted his mule and fled.

Absalom Flees to Geshur

<sup>34</sup>‡But Absalom fled. And the young man who kept the watch lifted up his eyes and looked, and behold, many people were coming from the road behind him [5] by the side of the mountain. <sup>35</sup>And Jonadab said to the king, “Behold, the king's sons have come; as your servant said, so it has come about.” <sup>36</sup>And as soon as he had finished speaking, behold, the king's sons came and lifted up their voice and wept. And the king also and all his servants wept very bitterly.

<sup>37</sup>But Absalom fled and went to Talmai the son of Ammihud, king of Geshur. And David mourned for his son day after day. <sup>38</sup>So Absalom fled and went to Geshur, and was there three years. <sup>39</sup>‡And the spirit of the king [6] longed to go out [7] to Absalom, because he was comforted about Amnon, since he was dead.

Absalom Returns to Jerusalem

2 SAMUEL 14 †Now Joab the son of Zeruiah knew that the king's heart went out to Absalom. <sup>2</sup>†And Joab sent to Tekoa and brought from there a wise woman and said to her, “Pretend to be a mourner and put on mourning garments. Do not anoint yourself with oil, but behave like a woman who has been mourning many days for the dead. <sup>3</sup>Go to the king and speak thus to him.” So Joab put the words in her mouth.

<sup>4</sup>When the woman of Tekoa came to the king, she fell on her face to the ground and paid homage and said, “Save me, O king.” <sup>5</sup>And the king said to her, “What is your trouble?” She answered, “Alas, I am a widow; my husband is dead. <sup>6</sup>And your servant had two sons, and they quarreled with one another in the field. There was no one to separate them, and one struck the other and killed him. <sup>7</sup>†And now the whole clan has risen against your servant, and they say, ‘Give up the man who struck his brother, that we may put him to death for the life of his brother whom he killed.’ And so they would destroy the heir also. Thus they would quench my coal that is left and leave to my husband neither name nor remnant on the face of the earth.”

<sup>8</sup>Then the king said to the woman, “Go to your house, and I will give orders concerning you.” <sup>9</sup>†And the woman of Tekoa said to the king, “On me be the guilt, my lord the king, and on my father's house; let the king and his throne be guiltless.” <sup>10</sup>The king said, “If anyone says anything to you, bring him to me, and he shall never touch you again.” <sup>11</sup>†Then she said, “Please let the king invoke the LORD your God, that the avenger of blood kill no more, and my son be not destroyed.” He said, “As the LORD lives, not one hair of your son shall fall to the ground.”

<sup>12</sup>Then the woman said, “Please let your servant speak a word to my lord the king.” He said, “Speak.” <sup>13</sup>†And the woman said, “Why then have you planned such a thing against the people of God? For in giving this decision the king convicts himself, inasmuch as the king does not bring his banished one home again. <sup>14</sup>†We must all die; we are like water spilled on the ground, which cannot be gathered up again. But God will not take away life, and he devises means so that the banished one will not remain an outcast. <sup>15</sup>†Now I have come to say this to my lord the king because the people have made me afraid, and your servant thought, ‘I will speak to the king; it may be that the king will perform the request of his servant. <sup>16</sup>For the king will hear and deliver his servant from the hand of the man who would destroy me and my son together from the heritage of God.’ <sup>17</sup>And your servant thought, ‘The word of my lord the king will set me at rest,’ for my lord the king is like the angel of God to discern good and evil. The LORD your God be with you!”

<sup>18</sup>‡Then the king answered the woman, “Do not hide from me anything I ask you.” And the woman said, “Let my lord the king speak.” <sup>19</sup>The king said, “Is the hand of Joab with you in all this?” The woman answered and said, “As surely as you live, my lord the king, one cannot turn to the right hand or to the left from anything that my lord the king has said. It was your servant Joab who commanded me; it was he who put all these words in the mouth of your servant. <sup>20</sup>In order to change the course of things your servant Joab did this. But my lord has wisdom like the wisdom of the angel of God to know all things that are on the earth.”

<sup>25</sup>‡Now in all Israel there was no one so much to be praised for his handsome appearance as Absalom. From the sole of his foot to the crown of his head there was no blemish in him. <sup>26</sup>‡And when he cut the hair of his head (for at the end of every year he used to cut it; when it was heavy on him, he cut it), he weighed the hair of his head, two hundred shekels [1] by the king's weight. <sup>27</sup>‡There were born to Absalom three sons, and one daughter whose name was Tamar. She was a beautiful woman.

<sup>28</sup>‡So Absalom lived two full years in Jerusalem, without coming into the king's presence. <sup>29</sup>Then Absalom sent for Joab, to send him to the king, but Joab would not come to him. And he sent a second time, but Joab would not come. <sup>30</sup>‡Then he said to his servants, “See, Joab's field is next to mine, and he has barley there; go and set it on fire.” So Absalom's servants set the field on fire. [2] <sup>31</sup>Then Joab arose and went to Absalom at his house and said to him, “Why have your servants set my field on fire?” <sup>32</sup>Absalom answered Joab, “Behold, I sent word to you, ‘Come here, that I may send you to the king, to ask, “Why have I come from Geshur? It would be better for me to be there still.” Now therefore let me go into the presence of the king, and if there is guilt in me, let him put me to death.’” <sup>33</sup>†Then Joab went to the king and told him, and he summoned Absalom. So he came to the king and bowed himself on his face to the ground before the king, and the king kissed Absalom.

Absalom's Conspiracy

2 SAMUEL 15 †† After this Absalom got himself a chariot and horses, and fifty men to run before him. <sup>2</sup>And Absalom used to rise early and stand beside the way of the gate. And when any man had a dispute to come before the king for judgment, Absalom would call to him and say, “From what city are you?” And when he said, “Your servant is of such and such a tribe in Israel,” <sup>3</sup>Absalom would say to him, “See, your claims are good and right, but there is no man designated by the king to hear you.” <sup>4</sup>Then Absalom would say, “Oh that I were judge in the land! Then every man with a dispute or cause might come to me, and I would give him justice.” <sup>5</sup>And whenever a man came near to pay homage to him, he would put out his hand and take hold of him and kiss him. <sup>6</sup>Thus Absalom did to all of Israel who came to the king for judgment. So Absalom stole the hearts of the men of Israel.

<sup>7</sup>†† And at the end of four [\[1\]](#) years Absalom said to the king, “Please let me go and pay my vow, which I have vowed to the LORD, in Hebron. <sup>8</sup>For your servant vowed a vow while I lived at Geshur in Aram, saying, ‘If the LORD will indeed bring me back to Jerusalem, then I will offer worship to [\[2\]](#) the LORD.’” <sup>9</sup>The king said to him, “Go in peace.” So he arose and went to Hebron. <sup>10</sup>† But Absalom sent secret messengers throughout all the tribes of Israel, saying, “As soon as you hear the sound of the trumpet, then say, ‘Absalom is king at Hebron!’” <sup>11</sup>With Absalom went two hundred men from Jerusalem who were invited guests, and they went in their innocence and knew nothing. <sup>12</sup>† And while Absalom was offering the sacrifices, he sent for [\[3\]](#) Ahithophel the Gilonite, David's counselor, from his city Giloh. And the conspiracy grew strong, and the people with Absalom kept increasing.

David Flees Jerusalem

<sup>13</sup>† And a messenger came to David, saying, “The hearts of the men of Israel have gone after Absalom.” <sup>14</sup>Then David said to all his servants who were with him at Jerusalem, “Arise, and let us flee, or else there will be no escape for us from Absalom. Go quickly, lest he overtake us quickly and bring down ruin on us and strike the city with the edge of the sword.” <sup>15</sup>And the king's servants said to the king, “Behold, your servants are ready to do whatever my lord the king decides.” <sup>16</sup>So the king went out, and all his household after him. And the king left ten concubines to keep the house. <sup>17</sup>And the king went out, and all the people after him. And they halted at the last house.

<sup>18</sup>† And all his servants passed by him, and all the Cherethites, and all the Pelethites, and all the six hundred Gittites who had followed him from Gath, passed on before the king. <sup>19</sup>† Then the king said to Ittai the Gittite, “Why do you also go with us? Go back and stay with the king, for you are a foreigner and also an exile from your home. <sup>20</sup> You came only yesterday, and shall I today make you wander about with us, since I go I know not where? Go back and take your brothers with you, and may the LORD show [4] steadfast love and faithfulness to you.” <sup>21</sup> But Ittai answered the king, “As the LORD lives, and as my lord the king lives, wherever my lord the king shall be, whether for death or for life, there also will your servant be.” <sup>22</sup> And David said to Ittai, “Go then, pass on.” So Ittai the Gittite passed on with all his men and all the little ones who were with him. <sup>23</sup> † And all the land wept aloud as all the people passed by, and the king crossed the brook Kidron, and all the people passed on toward the wilderness.

<sup>24</sup> † And Abiathar came up, and behold, Zadok came also with all the Levites, bearing the ark of the covenant of God. And they set down the ark of God until the people had all passed out of the city. <sup>25</sup> Then the king said to Zadok, “Carry the ark of God back into the city. If I find favor in the eyes of the LORD, he will bring me back and let me see both it and his dwelling place. <sup>26</sup> But if he says, ‘I have no pleasure in you,’ behold, here I am, let him do to me what seems good to him.” <sup>27</sup> The king also said to Zadok the priest, “Are you not a seer? Go back [5] to the city in peace, with your two sons, Ahimaaz your son, and Jonathan the son of Abiathar. <sup>28</sup> † See, I will wait at the fords of the wilderness until word comes from you to inform me.” <sup>29</sup> So Zadok and Abiathar carried the ark of God back to Jerusalem, and they remained there.

<sup>30</sup> † But David went up the ascent of the Mount of Olives, weeping as he went, barefoot and with his head covered. And all the people who were with him covered their heads, and they went up, weeping as they went. <sup>31</sup> And it was told David, “Ahithophel is among the conspirators with Absalom.” And David said, “O LORD, please turn the counsel of Ahithophel into foolishness.”

you will defeat for me the counsel of Ahithophel. <sup>35</sup>Are not Zadok and Abiathar the priests with you there? So whatever you hear from the king's house, tell it to Zadok and Abiathar the priests. <sup>36</sup>Behold, their two sons are with them there, Ahimaaz, Zadok's son, and Jonathan, Abiathar's son, and by them you shall send to me everything you hear.” <sup>37</sup>So Hushai, David's friend, came into the city, just as Absalom was entering Jerusalem.

David and Ziba

2 SAMUEL 16 †When David had passed a little beyond the summit, Ziba the servant of Mephibosheth met him, with a couple of donkeys saddled, bearing two hundred loaves of bread, a hundred bunches of raisins, a hundred of summer fruits, and a skin of wine. <sup>2</sup>And the king said to Ziba, “Why have you brought these?” Ziba answered, “The donkeys are for the king's household to ride on, the bread and summer fruit for the young men to eat, and the wine for those who faint in the wilderness to drink.” <sup>3</sup>†And the king said, “And where is your master's son?” Ziba said to the king, “Behold, he remains in Jerusalem, for he said, ‘Today the house of Israel will give me back the kingdom of my father.’” <sup>4</sup>Then the king said to Ziba, “Behold, all that belonged to Mephibosheth is now yours.” And Ziba said, “I pay homage; let me ever find favor in your sight, my lord the king.”

Shimei Curses David

<sup>5</sup>††When King David came to Bahurim, there came out a man of the family of the house of Saul, whose name was Shimei, the son of Gera, and as he came he cursed continually. <sup>6</sup>And he threw stones at David and at all the servants of King David, and all the people and all the mighty men were on his right hand and on his left. <sup>7</sup>And Shimei said as he cursed, “Get out, get out, you man of blood, you worthless man! <sup>8</sup>The LORD has avenged on you all the blood of the house of Saul, in whose place you have reigned, and the LORD has given the kingdom into the hand of your son Absalom. See, your evil is on you, for you are a man of blood.”

<sup>9</sup>†Then Abishai the son of Zeruiah said to the king, “Why should this dead dog curse my lord the king? Let me go over and take off his head.” <sup>10</sup>†But the king said, “What have I to do with you, you sons of Zeruiah? If he is cursing because the LORD has said to him, ‘Curse David,’ who then shall say, ‘Why have you done so?’” <sup>11</sup>And David said to Abishai and to all his servants, “Behold, my own son seeks my life; how much more now may this Benjaminite! Leave him alone, and let him curse, for the LORD has told him to. <sup>12</sup>It may be that the LORD will look on the wrong done to me, [\[1\]](#) and that the LORD will repay me with good for his cursing today.” <sup>13</sup>So David and his men went on the road, while Shimei went along on the hillside opposite him and cursed as he went and threw stones at him and flung dust. <sup>14</sup>And the king, and all the people who were with him, arrived weary at the Jordan. [2] And there he refreshed himself.

Absalom Enters Jerusalem

<sup>15</sup>‡‡ Now Absalom and all the people, the men of Israel, came to Jerusalem, and Ahithophel with him. <sup>16</sup>‡ And when Hushai the Archite, David's friend, came to Absalom, Hushai said to Absalom, "Long live the king! Long live the king!" <sup>17</sup> And Absalom said to Hushai, "Is this your loyalty to your friend? Why did you not go with your friend?" <sup>18</sup> And Hushai said to Absalom, "No, for whom the LORD and this people and all the men of Israel have chosen, his I will be, and with him I will remain. <sup>19</sup> And again, whom should I serve? Should it not be his son? As I have served your father, so I will serve you."

<sup>20</sup> Then Absalom said to Ahithophel, "Give your counsel. What shall we do?" <sup>21</sup>‡ Ahithophel said to Absalom, "Go in to your father's concubines, whom he has left to keep the house, and all Israel will hear that you have made yourself a stench to your father, and the hands of all who are with you will be strengthened." <sup>22</sup> So they pitched a tent for Absalom on the roof. And Absalom went in to his father's concubines in the sight of all Israel. <sup>23</sup> Now in those days the counsel that Ahithophel gave was as if one consulted the word of God; so was all the counsel of Ahithophel esteemed, both by David and by Absalom.

Hushai Saves David

2 SAMUEL 17 † Moreover, Ahithophel said to Absalom, “Let me choose twelve thousand men, and I will arise and pursue David tonight. <sup>2</sup>I will come upon him while he is weary and discouraged and throw him into a panic, and all the people who are with him will flee. I will strike down only the king, <sup>3</sup>and I will bring all the people back to you as a bride comes home to her husband. You seek the life of only one man, [\[1\]](#) and all the people will be at peace.” † And the advice seemed right in the eyes of Absalom and all the elders of Israel.

<sup>5</sup>Then Absalom said, “Call Hushai the Archite also, and let us hear what he has to say.” <sup>6</sup>And when Hushai came to Absalom, Absalom said to him, “Thus has Ahithophel spoken; shall we do as he says? If not, you speak.” † Then Hushai said to Absalom, “This time the counsel that Ahithophel has given is not good.” <sup>8</sup>Hushai said, “You know that your father and his men are mighty men, and that they are enraged, [\[2\]](#) like a bear robbed of her cubs in the field. Besides, your father is expert in war; he will not spend the night with the people. <sup>9</sup>Behold, even now he has hidden himself in one of the pits or in some other place. And as soon as some of the people fall [\[3\]](#) at the first attack, whoever hears it will say, ‘There has been a slaughter among the people who follow Absalom.’ <sup>10</sup>Then even the valiant man, whose heart is like the heart of a lion, will utterly melt with fear, for all Israel knows that your father is a mighty man, and that those who are with him are valiant men. † But my counsel is that all Israel be gathered to you, from Dan to Beersheba, as the sand by the sea for multitude, and that you go to battle in person. <sup>12</sup>So we shall come upon him in some place where he is to be found, and we shall light upon him as the dew falls on the ground, and of him and all the men with him not one will be left. † If he withdraws into a city, then all Israel will bring ropes to that city, and we shall drag it into the valley, until not even a pebble is to be found there.” † And Absalom and all the men of Israel said, “The counsel of Hushai the Archite is better than the counsel of Ahithophel.” For the LORD had ordained [\[4\]](#) to defeat the good counsel of Ahithophel, so that the LORD might bring harm upon Absalom.

<sup>15</sup>Then Hushai said to Zadok and Abiathar the priests, “Thus and so did Ahithophel counsel Absalom and the elders of Israel, and thus and so have I counseled. † Now therefore send quickly and tell David, ‘Do not stay tonight at the fords of the wilderness, but by all means pass over, lest the king and all the people who are with him be swallowed up.’” † Now Jonathan and Ahimaaz were waiting at En-rogel. A female servant was to go and tell them, and they were to go and tell King David, for they were not to be seen entering the city. <sup>18</sup>† But a young man saw them and told Absalom. So both of them went away quickly and came to the house of a man at Bahurim, who had a well in his courtyard. And they went down into it. <sup>19</sup>† And the woman took and spread a covering over the well's mouth and scattered grain on it, and nothing was known of it. <sup>20</sup> When Absalom's servants came to the woman at the house, they said, "Where are Ahimaaz and Jonathan?" And the woman said to them, "They have gone over the brook [5] of water." And when they had sought and could not find them, they returned to Jerusalem.

<sup>21</sup> After they had gone, the men came up out of the well, and went and told King David. They said to David, "Arise, and go quickly over the water, for thus and so has Ahithophel counseled against you." <sup>22</sup> Then David arose, and all the people who were with him, and they crossed the Jordan. By daybreak not one was left who had not crossed the Jordan.

<sup>23</sup>† When Ahithophel saw that his counsel was not followed, he saddled his donkey and went off home to his own city. He set his house in order and hanged himself, and he died and was buried in the tomb of his father.

<sup>27</sup>† When David came to Mahanaim, Shobi the son of Nahash from Rabbah of the Ammonites, and Machir the son of Ammiel from Lo-debar, and Barzillai the Gileadite from Rogelim, <sup>28</sup> brought beds, basins, and earthen vessels, wheat, barley, flour, parched grain, beans and lentils, [7] <sup>29</sup> honey and curds and sheep and cheese from the herd, for David and the people with him to eat, for they said, "The people are hungry and weary and thirsty in the wilderness."

Absalom Killed

2 SAMUEL 18 Then David mustered the men who were with him and set over them commanders of thousands and commanders of hundreds. <sup>2</sup>† And David sent out the army, one third under the command of Joab, one third under the command of Abishai the son of Zeruiah, Joab's brother, and one third under the command of Ittai the Gittite. And the king said to the men, "I myself will also go out with you." <sup>3</sup>† But the men said, "You shall not go out. For if we flee, they will not care about us. If half of us die, they will not care about us. But you are worth ten thousand of us. Therefore it is better that you send us help from the city." <sup>4</sup> The king said to them, "Whatever seems best to you I will do." So the king stood at the side of the gate, while all the army marched out by hundreds and by thousands. <sup>5</sup>† And the king ordered Joab and Abishai and Ittai, "Deal gently for my sake with the young man Absalom." And all the people heard when the king gave orders to all the commanders about Absalom.

<sup>6</sup>† So the army went out into the field against Israel, and the battle was fought in the forest of Ephraim. <sup>7</sup> And the men of Israel were defeated there by the servants of David, and the loss there was great on that day, twenty thousand men. <sup>8</sup>† The battle spread over the face of all the country, and the forest devoured more people that day than the sword.

<sup>9</sup>† And Absalom happened to meet the servants of David. Absalom was riding on his mule, and the mule went under the thick branches of a great oak, [\[1\]](#) and his head caught fast in the oak, and he was suspended between heaven and earth, while the mule that was under him went on. <sup>10</sup>† And a certain man saw it and told Joab, "Behold, I saw Absalom hanging in an oak." <sup>11</sup>† Joab said to the man who told him, "What, you saw him! Why then did you not strike him there to the ground? I would have been glad to give you ten pieces of silver and a belt." <sup>12</sup> But the man said to Joab, "Even if I felt in my hand the weight of a thousand pieces of silver, I would not reach out my hand against the king's son, for in our hearing the king commanded you and Abishai and Ittai, 'For my sake protect the young man Absalom.' <sup>13</sup> On the other hand, if I had dealt treacherously against his life [\[2\]](#) (and there is nothing hidden from the king), then you yourself would have stood aloof." <sup>14</sup>† Joab said, "I will not waste time like this with you." And he took three javelins in his hand and thrust them into the heart of Absalom while he was still alive in the oak. <sup>15</sup> And ten young men, Joab's armor-bearers, surrounded Absalom and struck him and killed him.

<sup>16</sup>†Then Joab blew the trumpet, and the troops came back from pursuing Israel, for Joab restrained them. <sup>17</sup>†And they took Absalom and threw him into a great pit in the forest and raised over him a very great heap of stones. And all Israel fled every one to his own home. <sup>18</sup>†Now Absalom in his lifetime had taken and set up for himself the pillar that is in the King's Valley, for he said, "I have no son to keep my name in remembrance." He called the pillar after his own name, and it is called Absalom's monument [3] to this day.

David Hears of Absalom's Death

<sup>19</sup>†Then Ahimaaz the son of Zadok said, "Let me run and carry news to the king that the LORD has delivered him from the hand of his enemies." <sup>20</sup>And Joab said to him, "You are not to carry news today. You may carry news another day, but today you shall carry no news, because the king's son is dead." <sup>21</sup>†Then Joab said to the Cushite, "Go, tell the king what you have seen." The Cushite bowed before Joab, and ran. <sup>22</sup>Then Ahimaaz the son of Zadok said again to Joab, "Come what may, let me also run after the Cushite." And Joab said, "Why will you run, my son, seeing that you will have no reward for the news?" <sup>23</sup>"Come what may," he said, "I will run." So he said to him, "Run." Then Ahimaaz ran by the way of the plain, and outran the Cushite.

<sup>24</sup>Now David was sitting between the two gates, and the watchman went up to the roof of the gate by the wall, and when he lifted up his eyes and looked, he saw a man running alone. <sup>25</sup>The watchman called out and told the king. And the king said, "If he is alone, there is news in his mouth." And he drew nearer and nearer. <sup>26</sup>The watchman saw another man running. And the watchman called to the gate and said, "See, another man running alone!" The king said, "He also brings news." <sup>27</sup>†The watchman said, "I think the running of the first is like the running of Ahimaaz the son of Zadok." And the king said, "He is a good man and comes with good news."

<sup>28</sup>Then Ahimaaz cried out to the king, "All is well." And he bowed before the king with his face to the earth and said, "Blessed be the LORD your God, who has delivered up the men who raised their hand against my lord the king." <sup>29</sup>†And the king said, "Is it well with the young man Absalom?" Ahimaaz answered, "When Joab sent the king's servant, your servant, I saw a great commotion, but I do not know what it was." <sup>30</sup>And the king said, "Turn aside and stand here." So he turned aside and stood still.

David's Grief

<sup>31</sup>And behold, the Cushite came, and the Cushite said, “Good news for my lord the king! For the LORD has delivered you this day from the hand of all who rose up against you.” <sup>32</sup>†The king said to the Cushite, “Is it well with the young man Absalom?” And the Cushite answered, “May the enemies of my lord the king and all who rise up against you for evil be like that young man.” <sup>33</sup>† [4] And the king was deeply moved and went up to the chamber over the gate and wept. And as he went, he said, “O my son Absalom, my son, my son Absalom! Would I had died instead of you, O Absalom, my son, my son!”

Joab Rebukes David

2 SAMUEL 19 It was told Joab, “Behold, the king is weeping and mourning for Absalom.” <sup>2</sup>So the victory that day was turned into mourning for all the people, for the people heard that day, “The king is grieving for his son.” <sup>3</sup>†And the people stole into the city that day as people steal in who are ashamed when they flee in battle. <sup>4</sup>The king covered his face, and the king cried with a loud voice, “O my son Absalom, O Absalom, my son, my son!” <sup>5</sup>†Then Joab came into the house to the king and said, “You have today covered with shame the faces of all your servants, who have this day saved your life and the lives of your sons and your daughters and the lives of your wives and your concubines, <sup>6</sup>because you love those who hate you and hate those who love you. For you have made it clear today that commanders and servants are nothing to you, for today I know that if Absalom were alive and all of us were dead today, then you would be pleased. <sup>7</sup>†Now therefore arise, go out and speak kindly to your servants, for I swear by the LORD, if you do not go, not a man will stay with you this night, and this will be worse for you than all the evil that has come upon you from your youth until now.” <sup>8</sup>†Then the king arose and took his seat in the gate. And the people were all told, “Behold, the king is sitting in the gate.” And all the people came before the king.

David Returns to Jerusalem

Now Israel had fled every man to his own home. <sup>9</sup>†And all the people were arguing throughout all the tribes of Israel, saying, “The king delivered us from the hand of our enemies and saved us from the hand of the Philistines, and now he has fled out of the land from Absalom. <sup>10</sup>But Absalom, whom we anointed over us, is dead in battle. Now therefore why do you say nothing about bringing the king back?”

<sup>11</sup>†And King David sent this message to Zadok and Abiathar the priests: “Say to the elders of Judah, ‘Why should you be the last to bring the king back to his house, when the word of all Israel has come to the king? [\[1\]](#) <sup>12</sup>You are my brothers; you are my bone and my flesh. Why then should you be the last to bring back the king?’ <sup>13</sup>†And say to Amasa, ‘Are you not my bone and my flesh? God do so to me and more also, if you are not commander of my army from now on in place of Joab.’” <sup>14</sup>And he swayed the heart of all the men of Judah as one man, so that they sent word to the king, “Return, both you and all your servants.”

<sup>15</sup>‡ So the king came back to the Jordan, and Judah came to Gilgal to meet the king and to bring the king over the Jordan.

David Pardons His Enemies

<sup>16</sup>‡ And Shimei the son of Gera, the Benjaminite, from Bahurim, hurried to come down with the men of Judah to meet King David. <sup>17</sup>And with him were a thousand men from Benjamin. And Ziba the servant of the house of Saul, with his fifteen sons and his twenty servants, rushed down to the Jordan before the king, <sup>18</sup>and they crossed the ford to bring over the king's household and to do his pleasure. And Shimei the son of Gera fell down before the king, as he was about to cross the Jordan, <sup>19</sup>and said to the king, "Let not my lord hold me guilty or remember how your servant did wrong on the day my lord the king left Jerusalem. Do not let the king take it to heart. <sup>20</sup>‡ For your servant knows that I have sinned. Therefore, behold, I have come this day, the first of all the house of Joseph to come down to meet my lord the king." <sup>21</sup>Abishai the son of Zeruiah answered, "Shall not Shimei be put to death for this, because he cursed the LORD's anointed?" <sup>22</sup>But David said, "What have I to do with you, you sons of Zeruiah, that you should this day be as an adversary to me? Shall anyone be put to death in Israel this day? For do I not know that I am this day king over Israel?" <sup>23</sup>And the king said to Shimei, "You shall not die." And the king gave him his oath.

<sup>24</sup>‡ And Mephibosheth the son of Saul came down to meet the king. He had neither taken care of his feet nor trimmed his beard nor washed his clothes, from the day the king departed until the day he came back in safety. <sup>25</sup>And when he came to Jerusalem to meet the king, the king said to him, "Why did you not go with me, Mephibosheth?" <sup>26</sup>He answered, "My lord, O king, my servant deceived me, for your servant said to him, 'I will saddle a donkey for myself, [2] that I may ride on it and go with the king.' For your servant is lame. <sup>27</sup>He has slandered your servant to my lord the king. But my lord the king is like the angel of God; do therefore what seems good to you. <sup>28</sup>For all my father's house were but men doomed to death before my lord the king, but you set your servant among those who eat at your table. What further right have I, then, to cry to the king?" <sup>29</sup>‡ And the king said to him, "Why speak any more of your affairs? I have decided: you and Ziba shall divide the land." <sup>30</sup>And Mephibosheth said to the king, "Oh, let him take it all, since my lord the king has come safely home."

with the king to the Jordan, to escort him over the Jordan. <sup>32</sup>Barzillai was a very aged man, eighty years old. He had provided the king with food while he stayed at Mahanaim, for he was a very wealthy man. <sup>33</sup>And the king said to Barzillai, “Come over with me, and I will provide for you with me in Jerusalem.” <sup>34</sup>But Barzillai said to the king, “How many years have I still to live, that I should go up with the king to Jerusalem? <sup>35</sup>I am this day eighty years old. Can I discern what is pleasant and what is not? Can your servant taste what he eats or what he drinks? Can I still listen to the voice of singing men and singing women? Why then should your servant be an added burden to my lord the king? <sup>36</sup>Your servant will go a little way over the Jordan with the king. Why should the king repay me with such a reward? <sup>37</sup>†Please let your servant return, that I may die in my own city near the grave of my father and my mother. But here is your servant Chimham. Let him go over with my lord the king, and do for him whatever seems good to you.” <sup>38</sup>And the king answered, “Chimham shall go over with me, and I will do for him whatever seems good to you, and all that you desire of me I will do for you.” <sup>39</sup>Then all the people went over the Jordan, and the king went over. And the king kissed Barzillai and blessed him, and he returned to his own home. <sup>40</sup>The king went on to Gilgal, and Chimham went on with him. All the people of Judah, and also half the people of Israel, brought the king on his way.

<sup>41</sup>†Then all the men of Israel came to the king and said to the king, “Why have our brothers the men of Judah stolen you away and brought the king and his household over the Jordan, and all David's men with him?” <sup>42</sup>†All the men of Judah answered the men of Israel, “Because the king is our close relative. Why then are you angry over this matter? Have we eaten at all at the king's expense? Or has he given us any gift?” <sup>43</sup>†And the men of Israel answered the men of Judah, “We have ten shares in the king, and in David also we have more than you. Why then did you despise us? Were we not the first to speak of bringing back our king?” But the words of the men of Judah were fiercer than the words of the men of Israel.

The Rebellion of Sheba

2 SAMUEL 20 †Now there happened to be there a worthless man, whose name was Sheba, the son of Bichri, a Benjaminite. And he blew the trumpet and said, “We have no portion in David, and we have no inheritance in the son of Jesse; every man to his tents, O Israel!”

<sup>2</sup>†So all the men of Israel withdrew from David and followed Sheba the son of Bichri. But the men of Judah followed their king steadfastly from the Jordan to Jerusalem.

<sup>3</sup>†And David came to his house at Jerusalem. And the king took the ten concubines whom he had left to care for the house and put them in a house under guard and provided for them, but did not go in to them. So they were shut up until the day of their death, living as if in widowhood.

<sup>4</sup>†Then the king said to Amasa, “Call the men of Judah together to me within three days, and be here yourself.” <sup>5</sup>So Amasa went to summon Judah, but he delayed beyond the set time that had been appointed him. <sup>6</sup>†And David said to Abishai, “Now Sheba the son of Bichri will do us more harm than Absalom. Take your lord's servants and pursue him, lest he get himself to fortified cities and escape from us.” [\[1\]](#) <sup>7</sup>†And there went out after him Joab's men and the Cherethites and the Pelethites, and all the mighty men. They went out from Jerusalem to pursue Sheba the son of Bichri. <sup>8</sup>†When they were at the great stone that is in Gibeon, Amasa came to meet them. Now Joab was wearing a soldier's garment, and over it was a belt with a sword in its sheath fastened on his thigh, and as he went forward it fell out. <sup>9</sup>†And Joab said to Amasa, “Is it well with you, my brother?” And Joab took Amasa by the beard with his right hand to kiss him. <sup>10</sup>But Amasa did not observe the sword that was in Joab's hand. So Joab struck him with it in the stomach and spilled his entrails to the ground without striking a second blow, and he died.

Then Joab and Abishai his brother pursued Sheba the son of Bichri. <sup>11</sup>†And one of Joab's young men took his stand by Amasa and said, “Whoever favors Joab, and whoever is for David, let him follow Joab.” <sup>12</sup>And Amasa lay wallowing in his blood in the highway. And anyone who came by, seeing him, stopped. And when the man saw that all the people stopped, he carried Amasa out of the highway into the field and threw a garment over him. <sup>13</sup>When he was taken out of the highway, all the people went on after Joab to pursue Sheba the son of Bichri.

<sup>14</sup>† And Sheba passed through all the tribes of Israel to Abel of Beth-maacah, <sup>[2]</sup> and all the Bichrites <sup>[3]</sup> assembled and followed him in. <sup>15</sup> And all the men who were with Joab came and besieged him in Abel of Beth-maacah. They cast up a mound against the city, and it stood against the rampart, and they were battering the wall to throw it down. <sup>16</sup>† Then a wise woman called from the city, “Listen! Listen! Tell Joab, ‘Come here, that I may speak to you.’” <sup>17</sup> And he came near her, and the woman said, “Are you Joab?” He answered, “I am.” Then she said to him, “Listen to the words of your servant.” And he answered, “I am listening.” <sup>18</sup> Then she said, “They used to say in former times, ‘Let them but ask counsel at Abel,’ and so they settled a matter. <sup>19</sup>† I am one of those who are peaceable and faithful in Israel. You seek to destroy a city that is a mother in Israel. Why will you swallow up the heritage of the LORD?” <sup>20</sup>† Joab answered, “Far be it from me, far be it, that I should swallow up or destroy! <sup>21</sup>† That is not true. But a man of the hill country of Ephraim, called Sheba the son of Bichri, has lifted up his hand against King David. Give up him alone, and I will withdraw from the city.” And the woman said to Joab, “Behold, his head shall be thrown to you over the wall.” <sup>22</sup>† Then the woman went to all the people in her wisdom. And they cut off the head of Sheba the son of Bichri and threw it out to Joab. So he blew the trumpet, and they dispersed from the city, every man to his home. And Joab returned to Jerusalem to the king.

<sup>23</sup>† Now Joab was in command of all the army of Israel; and Benaiah the son of Jehoiada was in command of the Cherethites and the Pelethites; <sup>24</sup>† and Adoram was in charge of the forced labor; and Jehoshaphat the son of Ahilud was the recorder; <sup>25</sup>† and Sheva was secretary; and Zadok and Abiathar were priests; <sup>26</sup>† and Ira the Jairite was also David's priest.

David Avenges the Gibeonites

2 SAMUEL 21 ¶¶¶¶ Now there was a famine in the days of David for three years, year after year. And David sought the face of the LORD. And the LORD said, “There is bloodguilt on Saul and on his house, because he put the Gibeonites to death.” ¶ So the king called the Gibeonites and spoke to them. Now the Gibeonites were not of the people of Israel but of the remnant of the Amorites. Although the people of Israel had sworn to spare them, Saul had sought to strike them down in his zeal for the people of Israel and Judah. ¶ And David said to the Gibeonites, “What shall I do for you? And how shall I make atonement, that you may bless the heritage of the LORD?” ¶ The Gibeonites said to him, “It is not a matter of silver or gold between us and Saul or his house; neither is it for us to put any man to death in Israel.” And he said, “What do you say that I shall do for you?” ¶ They said to the king, “The man who consumed us and planned to destroy us, so that we should have no place in all the territory of Israel, ¶ let seven of his sons be given to us, so that we may hang them before the LORD at Gibeah of Saul, the chosen of the LORD.” And the king said, “I will give them.”

¶ But the king spared Mephibosheth, the son of Saul's son Jonathan, because of the oath of the LORD that was between them, between David and Jonathan the son of Saul. ¶ The king took the two sons of Rizpah the daughter of Aiah, whom she bore to Saul, Armoni and Mephibosheth; and the five sons of Merab [\[1\]](#) the daughter of Saul, whom she bore to Adriel the son of Barzillai the Meholathite; ¶ and he gave them into the hands of the Gibeonites, and they hanged them on the mountain before the LORD, and the seven of them perished together. They were put to death in the first days of harvest, at the beginning of barley harvest.

¶ Then Rizpah the daughter of Aiah took sackcloth and spread it for herself on the rock, from the beginning of harvest until rain fell upon them from the heavens. And she did not allow the birds of the air to come upon them by day, or the beasts of the field by night. ¶ When David was told what Rizpah the daughter of Aiah, the concubine of Saul, had done, ¶ David went and took the bones of Saul and the bones of his son Jonathan from the men of Jabesh-gilead, who had stolen them from the public square of Beth-shan, where the Philistines had hanged them, on the day the Philistines killed Saul on Gilboa. ¶ And he brought up from there the bones of Saul and the bones of his son Jonathan; and they gathered the bones of those who were hanged. ¶ And they buried the bones of Saul and his son Jonathan in the land of Benjamin in Zela, in the tomb of Kish his father. And they did all that the king commanded. And after that God responded to the plea for the land.

War with the Philistines

<sup>15</sup>† There was war again between the Philistines and Israel, and David went down together with his servants, and they fought against the Philistines. And David grew weary. <sup>16</sup>† And Ishbi-benob, one of the descendants of the giants, whose spear weighed three hundred shekels [2] of bronze, and who was armed with a new sword, thought to kill David. <sup>17</sup>† But Abishai the son of Zeruiah came to his aid and attacked the Philistine and killed him. Then David's men swore to him, "You shall no longer go out with us to battle, lest you quench the lamp of Israel."

<sup>18</sup>† After this there was again war with the Philistines at Gob. Then Sibbecai the Hushathite struck down Saph, who was one of the descendants of the giants. <sup>19</sup>† And there was again war with the Philistines at Gob, and Elhanan the son of Jaare-oregim, the Bethlehemite, struck down Goliath the Gittite, the shaft of whose spear was like a weaver's beam. [3] <sup>20</sup>† And there was again war at Gath, where there was a man of great stature, who had six fingers on each hand, and six toes on each foot, twenty-four in number, and he also was descended from the giants. <sup>21</sup>† And when he taunted Israel, Jonathan the son of Shimei, David's brother, struck him down. <sup>22</sup> These four were descended from the giants in Gath, and they fell by the hand of David and by the hand of his servants.

David's Song of Deliverance

2 SAMUEL 22 †† And David spoke to the LORD the words of this song on the day when the LORD delivered him from the hand of all his enemies, and from the hand of Saul. <sup>2</sup>†† He said, “The LORD is my rock and my fortress and my deliverer, <sup>3</sup>† my [\[1\]](#) God, my rock, in whom I take refuge, my shield, and the horn of my salvation, my stronghold and my refuge, my savior; you save me from violence.

<sup>4</sup>I call upon the LORD, who is worthy to be praised, and I am saved from my enemies.

<sup>7</sup>† “In my distress I called upon the LORD; to my God I called.

From his temple he heard my voice, and my cry came to his ears.

<sup>8</sup>† “Then the earth reeled and rocked; the foundations of the heavens trembled and quaked, because he was angry.

<sup>9</sup>Smoke went up from his nostrils, [\[3\]](#)
and devouring fire from his mouth; glowing coals flamed forth from him.

<sup>10</sup>He bowed the heavens and came down; thick darkness was under his feet.

at the rebuke of the LORD,

at the blast of the breath of his nostrils.

<sup>17</sup>† “He sent from on high, he took me; he drew me out of many waters.

<sup>18</sup>He rescued me from my strong enemy, from those who hated me, for they were too mighty for me.

<sup>19</sup>They confronted me in the day of my calamity, but the LORD was my support.

<sup>20</sup>†He brought me out into a broad place; he rescued me, because he delighted in me.

<sup>21</sup>‡“The LORD dealt with me according to my righteousness; according to the cleanness of my hands he rewarded me.

<sup>22</sup>For I have kept the ways of the LORD and have not wickedly departed from my God.

<sup>25</sup>And the LORD has rewarded me according to my righteousness, according to my cleanness in his sight.

<sup>28</sup>†You save a humble people, but your eyes are on the haughty to bring them down.

<sup>29</sup>‡†For you are my lamp, O LORD, and my God lightens my darkness.

<sup>30</sup>For by you I can run against a troop, and by my God I can leap over a wall.

<sup>32</sup>“For who is God, but the LORD?
And who is a rock, except our God?

<sup>33</sup>This God is my strong refuge and has made my [4] way blameless. [5]

<sup>34</sup>He made my feet like the feet of a deer and set me secure on the heights.

<sup>35</sup>He trains my hands for war, so that my arms can bend a bow of bronze.

<sup>36</sup>You have given me the shield of your salvation, and your gentleness made me great.

<sup>37</sup>You gave a wide place for my steps under me, and my feet [6] did not slip;
<sup>38</sup>I pursued my enemies and destroyed them, and did not turn back until they were consumed.

<sup>39</sup>I consumed them; I thrust them through, so that they did not rise; they fell under my feet.

<sup>40</sup>For you equipped me with strength for the battle; you made those who rise against me sink under me.

those who hated me, and I destroyed them.

<sup>42</sup>They looked, but there was none to save; they cried to the LORD, but he did not answer them.

<sup>43</sup>I beat them fine as the dust of the earth; I crushed them and stamped them down like the mire of the streets.

<sup>44</sup>“You delivered me from strife with my people; [8] you kept me as the head of the nations; people whom I had not known served me.

<sup>45</sup>Foreigners came cringing to me; as soon as they heard of me, they obeyed me.

<sup>47</sup>“The LORD lives, and blessed be my rock, and exalted be my God, the rock of my salvation,

<sup>48</sup>the God who gave me vengeance and brought down peoples under me,

<sup>49</sup>who brought me out from my enemies; you exalted me above those who rose against me;
you delivered me from men of violence.

<sup>50</sup>†“For this I will praise you, O LORD, among the nations, and sing praises to your name.

to David and his offspring forever.”

The Last Words of David

2 SAMUEL 23 †† Now these are the last words of David: The oracle of David, the son of Jesse, the oracle of the man who was raised on high, the anointed of the God of Jacob, the sweet psalmist of Israel: [\[1\]](#)

<sup>3</sup>† The God of Israel has spoken; the Rock of Israel has said to me: When one rules justly over men, ruling in the fear of God, <sup>4</sup>he dawns on them like the morning light, like the sun shining forth on a cloudless morning, like rain [\[2\]](#) that makes grass to sprout from the earth.

<sup>5</sup>† “For does not my house stand so with God?

For he has made with me an everlasting covenant, ordered in all things and secure.

For will he not cause to prosper all my help and my desire?

<sup>6</sup>† But worthless men [\[3\]](#) are all like thorns that are thrown away, for they cannot be taken with the hand; <sup>7</sup>but the man who touches them arms himself with iron and the shaft of a spear, and they are utterly consumed with fire.” [\[4\]](#)

David's Mighty Men

<sup>8</sup>†† These are the names of the mighty men whom David had: Josheb-basshebeth a Tahchemonite; he was chief of the three. [\[5\]](#) He wielded his spear [\[6\]](#) against eight hundred whom he killed at one time.

<sup>9</sup>And next to him among the three mighty men was Eleazar the son of Dodo, son of Ahohi. He was with David when they defied the Philistines who were gathered there for battle, and the men of Israel withdrew. <sup>10</sup>He rose and struck down the Philistines until his hand was weary, and his hand clung to the sword. And the LORD brought about a great victory that day, and the men returned after him only to strip the slain.

<sup>11</sup>And next to him was Shammah, the son of Agee the Hararite. The Philistines gathered together at Lehi, where there was a plot of ground full of lentils, and the men fled from the Philistines. <sup>12</sup>But he took his stand in the midst of the plot and defended it and struck down the Philistines, and the LORD worked a great victory.

<sup>13</sup>†† And three of the thirty chief men went down and came about harvest time to David at the cave of Adullam, when a band of Philistines was encamped in the Valley of Rephaim. <sup>14</sup>† David was then in the stronghold, and the garrison of the Philistines was then at Bethlehem. <sup>15</sup> And David said longingly, “Oh, that someone would give me water to drink from the well of Bethlehem that is by the gate!” <sup>16</sup>† Then the three mighty men broke through the camp of the Philistines and drew water out of the well of Bethlehem that was by the gate and carried and brought it to David. But he would not drink of it. He poured it out to the LORD <sup>17</sup> and said, “Far be it from me, O LORD, that I should do this. Shall I drink the blood of the men who went at the risk of their lives?” Therefore he would not drink it. These things the three mighty men did.

<sup>18</sup>† Now Abishai, the brother of Joab, the son of Zeruiah, was chief of the thirty. [7] And he wielded his spear against three hundred men [8] and killed them and won a name beside the three. <sup>19</sup> He was the most renowned of the thirty [9] and became their commander, but he did not attain to the three.

<sup>20</sup>† And Benaiah the son of Jehoiada was a valiant man [10] of Kabzeel, a doer of great deeds. He struck down two ariels [11] of Moab. He also went down and struck down a lion in a pit on a day when snow had fallen. <sup>21</sup> And he struck down an Egyptian, a handsome man. The Egyptian had a spear in his hand, but Benaiah went down to him with a staff and snatched the spear out of the Egyptian's hand and killed him with his own spear. <sup>22</sup> These things did Benaiah the son of Jehoiada, and won a name beside the three mighty men. <sup>23</sup> He was renowned among the thirty, but he did not attain to the three. And David set him over his bodyguard.

David's Census

2 SAMUEL 24 †† Again the anger of the LORD was kindled against Israel, and he incited David against them, saying, “Go, number Israel and Judah.” † So the king said to Joab, the commander of the army, [\[1\]](#) who was with him, “Go through all the tribes of Israel, from Dan to Beersheba, and number the people, that I may know the number of the people.” † But Joab said to the king, “May the LORD your God add to the people a hundred times as many as they are, while the eyes of my lord the king still see it, but why does my lord the king delight in this thing?” † But the king's word prevailed against Joab and the commanders of the army. So Joab and the commanders of the army went out from the presence of the king to number the people of Israel. † They crossed the Jordan and began from Aroer, [\[2\]](#) and from the city that is in the middle of the valley, toward Gad and on to Jazer. † Then they came to Gilead, and to Kadesh in the land of the Hittites; [\[3\]](#) and they came to Dan, and from Dan [\[4\]](#) they went around to Sidon, † and came to the fortress of Tyre and to all the cities of the Hivites and Canaanites; and they went out to the Negeb of Judah at Beersheba. † So when they had gone through all the land, they came to Jerusalem at the end of nine months and twenty days. † And Joab gave the sum of the numbering of the people to the king: in Israel there were 800,000 valiant men who drew the sword, and the men of Judah were 500,000.

The LORD's Judgment of David's Sin

† But David's heart struck him after he had numbered the people. And David said to the LORD, “I have sinned greatly in what I have done. But now, O LORD, please take away the iniquity of your servant, for I have done very foolishly.” † And when David arose in the morning, the word of the LORD came to the prophet Gad, David's seer, saying, † “Go and say to David, ‘Thus says the LORD, Three things I offer [\[5\]](#) you. Choose one of them, that I may do it to you.’” † So Gad came to David and told him, and said to him, “Shall three [\[6\]](#) years of famine come to you in your land? Or will you flee three months before your foes while they pursue you? Or shall there be three days' pestilence in your land? Now consider, and decide what answer I shall return to him who sent me.” † Then David said to Gad, “I am in great distress. Let us fall into the hand of the LORD, for his mercy is great; but let me not fall into the hand of man.”

† So the LORD sent a pestilence on Israel from the morning until the appointed time. And there died of the people from Dan to Beersheba 70,000 men. <sup>16</sup>† And when the angel stretched out his hand toward Jerusalem to destroy it, the LORD relented from the calamity and said to the angel who was working destruction among the people, “It is enough; now stay your hand.” And the angel of the LORD was by the threshing floor of Araunah the Jebusite. <sup>17</sup>† Then David spoke to the LORD when he saw the angel who was striking the people, and said, “Behold, I have sinned, and I have done wickedly. But these sheep, what have they done? Please let your hand be against me and against my father's house.”

David Builds an Altar

<sup>18</sup>†† And Gad came that day to David and said to him, “Go up, raise an altar to the LORD on the threshing floor of Araunah the Jebusite.” <sup>19</sup> So David went up at Gad's word, as the LORD commanded. <sup>20</sup> And when Araunah looked down, he saw the king and his servants coming on toward him. And Araunah went out and paid homage to the king with his face to the ground. <sup>21</sup> And Araunah said, “Why has my lord the king come to his servant?” David said, “To buy the threshing floor from you, in order to build an altar to the LORD, that the plague may be averted from the people.” <sup>22</sup> Then Araunah said to David, “Let my lord the king take and offer up what seems good to him. Here are the oxen for the burnt offering and the threshing sledges and the yokes of the oxen for the wood. <sup>23</sup> All this, O king, Araunah gives to the king.” And Araunah said to the king, “May the LORD your God accept you.” <sup>24</sup>† But the king said to Araunah, “No, but I will buy it from you for a price. I will not offer burnt offerings to the LORD my God that cost me nothing.” So David bought the threshing floor and the oxen for fifty shekels [7] of silver. <sup>25</sup>† And David built there an altar to the LORD and offered burnt offerings and peace offerings. So the LORD responded to the plea for the land, and the plague was averted from Israel.

Study Notes

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 1:1–3:5 David ascends to the kingship of Judah.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 1:1 the death of Saul. Second Samuel 1:1–14 begins where 1 Sam. 31:1–13 ends, with the death of Saul (cf. 1 Chron. 10:1–12). Amalekites. The mention of these people serves as a reminder of David's obedience to the Lord (1 Sam. 30:1–31) and Saul's disobedience (1 Sam. 15:1–33). See notes on Ex. 17:8–16. Ziklag. See notes on 1 Sam. 27:6 and 30:1. This town was not so completely sacked and destroyed that David and his 600 men with their families could not stay there.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 1:2 clothes torn and dirt on his head. This was a common cultural sign of anguish and mourning over a death. Cf. 15:32 and 1 Sam. 4:12.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 1:4–12 See 1 Sam. 31:1–13 and 1 Chron. 10:1–12.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 1:6 chariots and the horsemen. Chariots and horsemen were a symbol of power and strength (cf. Ex. 14:9; 1 Sam. 8:11; 13:5; 2 Sam. 8:4; 1 Kings 4:26; 9:19; 10:26; 1 Chron. 19:6; 2 Chron. 1:14; 9:25; 12:3; 16:8; Dan. 11:40). The Philistines were in pursuit of Saul with an abundant number of warriors, making Saul's escape hopeless.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 1:8 Amalekite. The man claiming to have killed Saul was from among the people whom David recently slaughtered (v. 1), whom God wanted eliminated (Ex. 17:14; 1 Sam. 15:3), and who would plague Israel for generations (Ex. 17:16) due to Saul's disobedience (1 Sam. 15:9–11).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 1:10 killed him. The Amalekite claimed responsibility for Saul's death, saying that Saul was still alive when he found him. However, 1 Sam. 31:3–6 makes it clear that Saul died by falling on his own sword, not by the hand of the Amalekite. Thus, this man, who may have witnessed Saul's suicide, claimed to have killed Saul when in reality he had only reached his body before the Philistines and had fabricated the story to ingratiate himself with the new king by killing his enemy and by bringing Saul's crown and bracelet to David. The crown and bracelet in the hands of the Amalekite show that he was the first to pass by the body of Saul.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 1:12 mourned and wept and fasted. David demonstrates genuine, heartfelt grief for the death of Saul and Jonathan by mourning and weeping, as well as fasting, which were common ways to demonstrate grief (cf. Est. 4:3; Joel 2:12).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 1:14 the Lord's anointed. Despite Saul's many attempts on David's life, David would not allow himself to see Saul as just a mere man or human monarch; he remained "the Lord's anointed," who occupied a sacred role before God (cf. 1 Sam. 24:1–15; 26:1–20).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 1:15 struck him down. This most certainly came as a great surprise to the Amalekite, for he intended to win the favor of David by saying he had killed Saul. This story is very similar to that of the men who later killed Ish-bosheth, thinking they would be able to endear themselves to David (4:5–12).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 1:16 Your blood be on your head. David executed the Amalekite on the basis of his own testimony, not on the basis of the truthfulness of his story.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 1:17 lamented. David chose to have both Saul and his noble son Jonathan remembered through this lament, which would be taught to all Israel as a national war song.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 1:18 it. See esv footnote, "the Bow." This was the title of the poem in which the word "bow" may have been chosen with reference to Jonathan, whose bow is mentioned in v. 22. Book of Jashar. A poetic collection of Israel's wars in which Israel's events and great men were commemorated (cf. Josh. 10:13).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 1:19 Your glory, O Israel. Lit., the gazelle or antelope of Israel, the chosen symbol of youthful elegance and symmetry, most likely referring to Jonathan. Thus, the song began and ended with Saul's noble son (vv. 25–26). high places. These were open-air worship sites generally established at high elevations. In this case the high place was Mount Gilboa, where Saul had died. How the mighty have fallen! They were not only Israel's slain "glory," but Saul and Jonathan were mighty men who had fallen in battle. This phrase is repeated as a refrain in vv. 25 and 27.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 1:20 Gath . . . Ashkelon. Two chief cities that together could represent all of the Philistine territory. Gath was situated in the eastern part of the Philistine territory, while Ashkelon was in the west by the sea. David did not want the Philistines to rejoice at the calamities of Israel as Israel had rejoiced at the defeat of the Philistines (1 Sam. 18:7).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 1:21 no dew or rain. David spoke a curse, seeking the absence of dew or rain upon the mountain where Saul and Jonathan died. not anointed with oil. It was necessary in those times to anoint a shield with oil (cf. Isa. 21:5) to prevent the leather from being hard and cracked. But there on Mount Gilboa lay the shield of Saul dried out, a symbol of defeat and death.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 1:22 bow . . . sword. These two weapons were used by Saul and Jonathan with much power, accuracy, and effectiveness. It was also with the bow that Jonathan helped David escape Saul's wrath (1 Sam. 20:35–42).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 1:23 beloved. This generous commendation, including Saul who was seeking to kill David, showed David's gracious, forgiving attitude—a model of gracious love (cf. Matt. 5:43–48).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 1:26 surpassing the love of women. The bond between David and Jonathan was strong. However, this does not mean that their friendship was necessarily superior to the bond of love between a man and a woman. The commitment shared between the two of them was a noble, loyal, and selfless devotion (cf. 1 Sam. 18:3), which neither of them had ever felt for a woman. Unlike love between a man and a woman in which a sexual element is part of the strong attraction, this love between these two men had no such sexual feature, yet was compellingly strong.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 1:27 weapons of war. A figurative expression referring to Saul and Jonathan.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 2:1 David inquired of the Lord. After the death of Saul, David could move about the land freely as the Lord directed him. A contrast can be seen between Saul, who had inquired of the Lord and the Lord would not answer (cf. 1 Sam. 28:6) and David, who also inquired of the Lord and the Lord gave him direction. cities of Judah. David sought guidance from the Lord as to where to start his reign. David first asked if he should begin in the southern area of Judah. The Lord responded affirmatively and thus David sought for a more precise destination. The nucleus of David's future government would come from the cities of Judah. Hebron. With the highest elevation of any town in Judah, the city was strategically chosen to be the initial location of David's rule over Israel. Hebron is located 20 miles south southwest of Jerusalem. Abraham had located there long before (Gen. 13:18), and later Hebron had been given to Caleb (Josh. 14:13–14; Judg. 1:20) when Israel occupied the land after the wilderness wanderings.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 2:2 Ahinoam . . . Abigail. Abigail became David's wife after the death of Nabal (cf. 1 Sam. 25:40–44).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 2:4 anointed David king. David had already been privately anointed king by Samuel (cf. 1 Sam. 16:3). This anointing recognized his rule in the southern area of Judah. Later he would be anointed as king over all Israel (cf. 2 Sam. 5:3). men of Jabesh-gilead. Jabesh, a city of Israel east of the Jordan, demonstrated its loyalty to Saul by giving him a proper burial (cf. 1 Sam. 31:11–13).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 2:7 Saul your lord is dead. David referred to Saul as “your lord” so as not to antagonize the men of Jabesh-gilead. He sought to win Israel over to his side, not force them into submission.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 2:8 Abner. Abner, cousin of Saul and general of his army (1 Sam. 14:50–51), did not desire to follow the Lord's new anointed king, but placed Ish-bosheth on the throne, causing tension between Judah and the rest of the tribes in Israel. Ish-bosheth. His name means “man of shame.” Saul's only surviving son was placed as king over the northern tribes of Israel and the eastern ones across the Jordan. Mahanaim. A town in Gilead to the east of the Jordan River. Ish-bosheth established himself there and reigned for two years in this city. This was the same city where Jacob saw the angels while on his way to Peniel (Gen. 32:2). It was appointed to be a Levitical city from the territory of Gad (Josh. 21:28; 1 Chron. 6:80). It later became the haven for David while fleeing from Absalom (2 Sam. 17:24, 27; 19:32; 1 Kings 2:8), because likely it was well fortified (cf. 2 Sam. 18:24).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 2:9 king over Gilead . . . all Israel. Ish-bosheth's power seemed more solidified in the land of Gilead (east of the Jordan) than in the rest of Israel.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 2:10 the house of Judah. A natural opposition arose between the tribe of Judah and the rest of Israel since Judah was under the reign of David, while the rest of Israel recognized the reign of Ish-bosheth.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 2:11 seven years and six months. Several years passed before Ish-bosheth assumed the throne of Israel, so that Ish-bosheth's two-year reign came at the end of David's seven-year-and-six-month reign over Judah. It must have taken Ish-bosheth about five years to regain the northern territory from the Philistines.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 2:12 Gibeon. During the time of Joshua, Gibeon was a very important city (Josh. 10:2). Its people probably had sided with David because Saul had broken a treaty with the Gibeonites and acted treacherously toward them (2 Sam. 21:1).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 2:13 Joab the son of Zeruiah. Joab was the leader of David's army and thus led the men against Abner. Although Ish-bosheth and David sat on the thrones of their respective territories, Joab and Abner truly had wielded the power and control by leading the military forces. Zeruiah was the sister of David (cf. 1 Chron. 2:16).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 2:14 the young men . . . compete. Rather than all-out war, Abner proposed a representative contest between champions on behalf of the opposing armies. Because all 24 of the contestants lay fallen and dying in combat (vv. 15–16), the contest settled nothing, but excited passions so that a battle between the two armies ensued (v. 17).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 2:18 Abishai. Brother of Joab, he was an aide to David throughout his rise to power. Abishai was with David in the camp of Saul when David had opportunity to kill Saul and encouraged the murder of Saul, which David would not allow (cf. 1 Sam. 26:6–9). Asahel. Another brother of Joab, Asahel was single-minded with dogged determination; though he was extremely fleet-footed, his determination would prove to be fatal (2 Sam. 2:23).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 2:21 take his spoil. To gain the armor or spoil of the enemy general, Abner, who was fleeing the defeat, would be to possess the greatest trophy. Asahel was ambitious to get it, while Abner kept warning him and suggested he take the spoil of some other soldier for his trophy, since he was not able to defeat Abner.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 2:22 How then could I lift up my face to your brother Joab? Abner sought to spare Asahel so as to avoid unnecessary vengeance from Joab or David. Abner tried to give Asahel reasons to stop his pursuit, but Asahel was determined. Abner did not wish to strike down Asahel, but Asahel refused to listen, so he was forced to stop his effort with a fatal stab by the butt end of his spear.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 2:26 Shall the sword devour forever? As Abner had earlier proposed that the hostilities begin, he now proposed that they cease.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 2:29 Arabah. The central valley region marked by Mount Hermon to the north and the Red Sea to the south. Mahanaim. See note on 2:8.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 3:1 a long war. The conflict between Ish-bosheth and David did not end in quick victory. There was a gradual transfer of power from the house of Saul to the house of David (v. 10) that lasted at least through the two-year reign of Ish-bosheth and maybe longer.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 3:2–5 See 1 Chron. 3:1–4.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 3:2 Amnon. He raped and defiled his half-sister Tamar and later, by the command of Absalom, was killed for his crime (13:1–39).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 3:3 Chileab. He apparently died before he was able to enter into position to contend for the throne, for nothing more is said about him. This child was born to David by the wife whom David had taken upon the death of Nabal (see 1 Sam. 25:3). Absalom. Lit., “my divine father is peace” or “divine father of peace.” Absalom was the son of Maacah who was a Geshurite princess from a region in Syria, not Israel. David may have married her as part of a diplomatic agreement made with Talmi, the Geshurite king, to give David an ally north of Ish-bosheth. Later Absalom, in fear of his life, fled to Geshur (2 Sam. 13:37–38).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 3:4 Adonijah. He was a prominent figure in the contention for David’s throne at the end of his reign (1 Kings 1–2), but was assassinated, allowing the throne to be given to Solomon (1 Kings 2:25). Haggith was probably married to David after his accession to the throne. Shephatiah . . . Abital. Shephatiah means “the Lord judges.” Abital means “my divine father is dew” or “my divine father of dew.”

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 3:5 Eglah. Eglah is called “David’s wife.” This may be because she is the last of the list and serves to draw emphasis to David’s polygamy. The inclusion of these sons indicates all who would have been in contention for the throne. born to David. More children were born to David when he moved to Jerusalem (5:14).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 3:6–5:16 David assumed the kingdom of all Israel by a similar progression of events as those that led to his assuming the throne of Judah. In both cases, a man comes seeking David’s favor (Amalekite, 1:1–13; Abner, 3:6–21). Both of these men are executed for their deeds (Amalekite, 1:14–16; Abner, 3:22–32). In both cases, this is followed by a lament of David (1:17–27; 3:33–39). Close to the middle of both accounts is a brief look at the anointing of David as king (over Judah, 2:1–7; over Israel, 5:1–5). After this, David and his men are successful in defeating their enemies (2:8–3:1; 5:6–12). Each section concludes with a list of the children born to David (Hebron, 3:2–5; Jerusalem, 5:13–16).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 3:6 Abner was making himself strong. Abner was the military leader of the country and the one who had put Ish-bosheth on the throne and whose power held him there. As time passed, Abner began to make his own move to take the throne.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 3:7 Rizpah. By taking Rizpah, the concubine of Saul, Abner made a clear statement to the people that he would take the place of Saul as king over Israel. Going in to the king’s concubine was a statement of power and rightful claim to the throne (cf. 16:21–22 in regard to Absalom). Ish-bosheth reacted strongly against Abner, so Abner resented his reaction as an indignity and, compelled by revenge, determined to transfer all the weight of his influence and power to David’s side (3:9–10).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 3:8 dog’s head. This was another way to ask, “Am I a contemptible traitor allied with Judah?” This was a common expression to show disdain (1 Sam. 17:43). Abner used this opportunity to condemn Ish-bosheth by reminding him that he would not have been in power had Abner himself not placed him there.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 3:9 the Lord has sworn to him. Abner seemed to demonstrate the knowledge that David was to be the next king of Israel as God had sworn to David (1 Sam. 13:14; 15:28; 24:20).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 3:10 transfer the kingdom. Part of Saul’s kingdom had already been transferred to David, namely Judah; however, Abner vowed to complete the process by helping David obtain the rest of the kingdom. Dan to Beersheba. This was an expression meaning the whole country (cf. Judg. 20:1), i.e., from Dan in the north to Beersheba in the south.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 3:12 To whom does the land belong? Though Abner's language (vv. 9–10) implied the conviction that in supporting Ish-bosheth he had been going against God's purpose of conferring the sovereignty of the kingdom on David, this acknowledgment was no justification of his motives. He selfishly wanted to be on the winning side and to be honored as the one who brought all the people under David's rule.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 3:13 Michal, Saul's daughter. David requested Michal for two reasons. One, it would right the wrong Saul had committed toward David by having given Michal, who was David's wife and who loved him (1 Sam. 18:20, 28), to another man (1 Sam. 25:44). Two, it would serve to strengthen David's claim to the throne of all Israel by inclining some of Saul's house to be favorable to his cause.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 3:14 a hundred foreskins of the Philistines. David reminded Ish-bosheth that he had not only paid the dowry to Saul for his daughter, 100 foreskins of the Philistines, but had delivered double the asking price (1 Sam. 18:25–27). Thus, Michal rightfully belonged to David.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 3:16 Bahurim. Located just east of Jerusalem, it became the final location where Paltiel (cf. 1 Sam. 25:44) would see Michal. This was also the town of Shimei, the man who cursed David during his flight from Jerusalem before Absalom (2 Sam. 16:5). David's soldiers also found refuge in a well at Bahurim while being pursued by Absalom's men (17:18).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 3:17 elders of Israel. These men were the recognized leaders of the people, serving as Ish-bosheth's advisers, who would have been consulted when important decisions needed to be made (cf. 19:7).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 3:18 my servant David. David is called "the Lord's servant" more than 30 times in the OT. Abner's words to the elders of Israel clearly recognized David as the servant of the Lord, thus having the right to the throne according to God's sovereign will.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 3:19 Benjamin. Abner gave special attention to the tribe of Benjamin, for they were Saul's and Ish-bosheth's kinsmen (see 1 Sam. 9:1–2).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 3:21 covenant with you. This covenant moved beyond the personal agreement made between Abner and David and was operative on the national level, uniting both north and south. in peace. The repetition of this phrase in vv. 22–23 serves to emphasize the fact that David sought to ensure peace with Abner. This also accentuates the fact that David was not involved in Abner's death (vv. 26–30).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 3:25 Abner . . . came to deceive you. It is ironic that Joab accused Abner of deception in spying on David in v. 25 when in v. 26 he deceived David by not telling him of his request to have Abner returned to Hebron. Joab used this deception to slay Abner out of personal vengeance for the death of his brother Asahel (v. 27; see 2:19–23).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 3:26 cistern of Sirah. The only mention of this location is found here. The town was located about 2.5 miles northwest of Hebron.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 3:27 in the stomach. Abner died in a similar manner to Joab's brother Asahel, the man he had killed (2:23). However, Abner struck Asahel during battle (cf. 2:18–23) in self-defense, while Joab murdered Abner to avenge the death of Asahel.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 3:28 the blood of Abner. Since life is in the blood (cf. Gen. 9:4; Lev. 17:11, 14; Deut. 12:23), this expression refers to the life of Abner. David made it clear he had nothing to do with the murder of Abner, and David sought the Lord's help to punish Joab for his evil deed (2 Sam. 3:39).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 3:31 mourn. Joab was instructed to lament the death of Abner, as was the custom for commemorating the death of an individual. To further demonstrate David's condemnation of the killing of Abner, he instructed "all the people" to mourn the death of Abner, including Joab and his men (vv. 32–34).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 3:35–39 David's feelings and conduct in response to Abner's death tended not only to remove all suspicion of guilt from him, but even turned the tide of public opinion in his favor and paved the way for his reigning over all the tribes much more honorably than by the negotiations of Abner (vv. 17–19).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 3:39 gentle . . . severe. David had not yet solidified his power enough to exact his own judgment without jeopardizing his command. He was still “gentle” and needed time to consolidate his authority. Once that was accomplished, he no longer needed to fear the strength of Joab and Abishai, who were Zeruiah’s sons (2:18).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 4:1 courage failed. . . dismayed. Lit., “his hands became weak or limp” (cf. 17:2; 2 Chron. 15:7). Ish-bosheth and all of Israel realized that Abner had been the source of strength and stability for Israel. With Abner dead, Israel was troubled because Ish-bosheth no longer had a leader for the army that secured him in power.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 4:2 sons of . . . Benjamin. It is stressed that these men were of the tribe of Benjamin (vv. 2–3), perhaps to show the friction within the house of Saul and his son Ish-bosheth, and how the grab for power began once Abner was gone.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 4:2–3 Beeroth . . . Gittaim. Beeroth was a Canaanite town belonging to the tribe of Benjamin. Gittaim was also a village of the tribe of Benjamin.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 4:4 Mephibosheth. He may be introduced here to demonstrate that his youth and physical handicap disqualified him from being considered for ruling Israel. He would have been only 12 years old at the time of Ish-bosheth’s death. For the history of this man, see 9:6–13; 16:1–4; 19:24–30; 21:7.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 4:5–6 It was the custom to secure wheat for the soldiers under their command (v. 2) along with some pay. Under the pretense of that normal routine, they came and killed the king.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 4:7 the Arabah. To avoid easy detection, the men traveled by way of the Arabah (cf. 2:29), i.e., the Jordan Valley. This plain extended about 30 miles from Mahanaim to Hebron.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 4:8 The Lord has avenged. The murderers of Ish-bosheth came to David and proclaimed that the Lord had avenged David. However, as happened earlier to the Amalekite (1:2–15), the men were very surprised at the response of David. David did not see their deed as the Lord’s vengeance, but as murder of an innocent man.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 4:9 the Lord . . . has redeemed my life out of every adversity. A striking contrast is shown between David and the two murderers who claimed they were performing the Lord’s work by killing Ish-bosheth. However, David praised the Lord for his providential work through Ish-bosheth’s life and proclaimed the Lord’s deliverance; thus, David condemned the murderers of Ish-bosheth and had them executed as he had done to the man who claimed to kill Saul (1:15–16).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 5:1–3 See 1 Chron. 11:1–3.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 5:1–2 all the tribes of Israel. The term “all” is used three times (vv. 1, 3, 5) to emphasize that the kingdom established under King David was truly a united monarchy. The “elders” of Israel (v. 3), representing the “tribes” (v. 1), came to David at Hebron with the express purpose of submitting to his rule. Three reasons were given by the Israelites for wanting to make David king: 1) he was an Israelite brother (cf. Deut. 17:15); 2) he was Israel’s best warrior and commander; and 3) he had been chosen by the Lord to be the king of Israel.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 5:3 King David made a covenant. David bound himself formally to certain obligations toward the Israelites, including their rights and responsibilities to one another and to the Lord (cf. 2 Kings 11:17). As good as this covenant was, it did not end the underlying sense of separate identity felt by Israel and Judah as the revolt of Sheba (2 Sam. 20:1) and the dissolution of the united kingdom under Rehoboam (1 Kings 12:16) would later demonstrate. they anointed David. David’s third anointing (2 Sam. 2:4; 1 Sam. 16:13) resulted in the unification of the 12 tribes under his kingship.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 5:5 Israel and Judah. The united kingdom was still known by its two component parts.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 5:6–10 See 1 Chron. 11:4–9.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 5:6 Jerusalem. This city is mentioned in the Bible more than any other (from Gen. 14:18 to Rev. 21:10). The city was located in the territory of Benjamin, near the northern border of Judah and was excellently fortified because of its elevation and the surrounding deep valleys, which made it naturally defensible on three sides. In addition, it had a good water supply, the Gihon spring, and was close to travel routes for trade. The city had earlier been conquered by Judah (Judg. 1:8), but neither Judah nor Benjamin had been successful in permanently dislodging the Jebusite inhabitants (Josh. 15:33; Judg. 1:21). By taking Jerusalem, David was able to eliminate the foreign wedge between the northern and southern tribes and to establish his capital. Jebusites. A people of Canaanite descent (Gen. 10:16–18). Since the earlier inhabitants of Jerusalem were Amorites (Josh. 10:5), it seems that the Jebusites took control of Jerusalem after the time of the Israelite conquest. the blind and the lame. The Jebusites taunted the Israelites and mocked the power of David by boasting that the blind and the lame could defend Jerusalem against him.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 5:7 stronghold of Zion. This is the first occurrence of “Zion” in the Bible and the only one in 1 and 2 Samuel. Referring here to the Jebusite citadel on the southeastern hill, the name was also later used of the temple mount (Isa. 10:12) and of the entire city of Jerusalem (Isa. 28:16). city of David. Both Bethlehem, David’s birthplace (Luke 2:4), and Jerusalem, David’s place of reign, were called by this title.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 5:8 water shaft. A tunnel that channeled the city’s water supply from the Gihon spring outside the city walls on the east side into the citadel.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 5:9 Millo. Lit., “filling.” Stone-filled terraces were built to serve as part of Jerusalem’s northern defenses, since the city was most open to attack from that direction.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 5:11–16 See 1 Chron. 14:1–7.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 5:11 Hiram king of Tyre. Tyre was a Phoenician port city about 35 miles north of Mount Carmel and 25 miles south of Sidon. During the latter part of David’s reign and much of Solomon’s, the friendly Hiram traded building materials for agricultural products. He also provided craftsmen to build David’s palace, indicating how the long war had brought the nation to a low place where there were few good artisans. Psalm 30 could possibly refer to the dedication of this house or to the temporary shelter for the ark in Jerusalem (6:17).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 5:12 the Lord had established him king. Witnessing God’s evident blessing on his life, David recognized the Lord’s role in establishing his kingship.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 5:13 more concubines and wives. The multiplication of David's wives and concubines was in direct violation of Deut. 17:17. These marriages probably (cf. 2 Sam. 3:3) reflected David's involvement in international treaties and alliances that were sealed by the marriage of a king's daughter to the other participants in the treaty. This cultural institution accounted for some of David's and many of Solomon's wives (see 1 Kings 11:1–3). In each case of polygamy in Scripture, the law of God was violated and the consequences were negative, if not disastrous.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 5:17–8:18 This section is bracketed by the descriptions of David's military victories (5:17–25; 8:1–14). In between (6:1–7:29), David's concern for the ark of the covenant and a suitable building to house it are recounted.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 5:17–23 See 1 Chron. 14:8–17.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 5:17 Philistines. The Philistines had remained quiet neighbors during the long civil war between the house of Saul and David, but, jealous of the king who has consolidated the nation, they resolved to attack before his government was fully established. Realizing that David was no longer their vassal, they took decisive military action against his new capital of Jerusalem.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 5:18 Valley of Rephaim. Lit., “the valley of the giants.” It was a plain located southwest of Jerusalem on the border between Judah and Benjamin (Josh. 15:1, 8; 18:11, 16), where fertile land produced grain that provided food for Jerusalem and also attracted raiding armies.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 5:20 Baal-perazim. The image seen in this name (see esv footnote) was that of flooding waters breaking through a dam as David's troops had broken through the Philistine assault.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 5:21 idols. The idols that the Philistines had taken into battle to assure them of victory were captured by the Israelites and burned (1 Chron. 14:12).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 5:24 the sound of marching. The leaves of this tree would rustle at the slightest movement of air, much of which would be generated by a large army marching.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 5:25 Geba to Gezer. Geba was located about 5 miles north of Jerusalem and Gezer was about 20 miles west of Geba. David drove the Philistines out of the hill country back to the coastal plain.

David Captures the Stronghold of Zion

c. 1005 B.C.

After securing his reign over all Israel, David moved his capital from Hebron, a southern city of Judah, to a more central and tribally neutral location at Jerusalem. At the time, Jerusalem (called “the stronghold of Zion”) was held by the Jebusites, and its terraced defensive walls and nearby steep hills and valleys made it seem impenetrable. But David sent men up a water shaft (believed by some to be Warren’s Shaft) to capture the stronghold, and he renamed it the city of David.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 6:1–11 See 1 Chron. 13:1–14.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 6:2 Baale-judah. Lit., “lords of Judah.” Also known as Kiriath-jearim (1 Sam. 7:1–2), this town was located about 10 miles west of Jerusalem. ark of God. The ark of the covenant represented the glorious reputation and gracious presence of the Lord to Israel. the name. See note on Deut. 12:5. Lord of hosts. See note on 1 Sam. 1:3.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 6:3 new cart. The Philistines had used a cart to transport the ark (1 Sam. 6:7). But the OT law required that the sacred ark be carried by the sons of Kohath (Num. 3:30–31; 4:15; 7:9), using the poles prescribed (Ex. 25:12–15). house of Abinadab. See 1 Sam. 7:1. Uzzah and Ahio. Descendants of Abinadab, possibly his grandsons.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 6:6–8 See 1 Chron. 13:9–12.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 6:7 because of his error. No matter how innocently it was done, touching the ark was in direct violation of God’s law and was to result in death (see Num. 4:15). This was a means of preserving the sense of God’s holiness and the fear of drawing near to him without appropriate preparation.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 6:8 David was angry. Probably anger directed at himself because the calamity resulted from David’s own carelessness. He was confused as to whether to carry on the transportation of the ark to Jerusalem (v. 9) and would not move it, fearing more death and calamity might come on him or the people (v. 10). It is likely that he waited to see the wrath of God subside before moving the ark.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 6:10 Obed-edom the Gittite. Lit., “servant of Edom.” The term “Gittite” can refer to someone from the Philistine city of Gath, but here it is better to see the term related to Gath-rimmon, one of the Levitical cities (cf. Josh. 21:24–25). Obed-edom is referred to as a Levite in Chronicles (1 Chron. 15:17–25; 16:5, 38; 26:4, 5, 8, 15; 2 Chron. 25:24).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 6:12–19 See 1 Chron. 15:25–16:3.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 6:12 blessed . . . because of the ark. During the three months when the ark remained with Obed-edom, the Lord blessed his family. In the same way God had blessed Obed-edom, David was confident that with the presence of the ark, the Lord would bless his house in ways that would last forever (7:29).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 6:13 those who bore the ark. In David’s second attempt to bring the ark to Jerusalem, it was transported in the manner prescribed by OT law. See note on v. 3. six steps. I.e., after the first six steps, not after every six steps.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 6:14 David danced before the Lord. Cf. Ps. 150:4. The Hebrews, like other ancient and modern people, had their physical expressions of religious joys as they praised God. linen ephod. See 1 Sam. 2:18.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 6:16 Michal . . . despised him. Michal's contempt for David is explained by her sarcastic remark in v. 20. She considered David's unbridled, joyful dancing as conduct unbefitting for the dignity and gravity of a king because it exposed him in some ways.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 6:17 tent. David had made a tent for the ark of the covenant until a permanent building for it could be built. Psalm 30 could refer possibly to this tent or to David's own home (2 Sam. 5:11–12).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 6:20 bless his household. David desired the same inevitable success from the Lord as experienced in the household of Obed-edom (see v. 11). The attitude of Michal aborted the blessing at that time, but the Lord would bless David's house in the future (7:29). uncovering. A derogatory reference to the priestly attire that David wore (6:14) in place of his royal garments.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 6:21 before the Lord. David's actions were for the delight of the Lord, not for the maidens.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 6:22 abased in your eyes. The esv here follows the LXX, but the Hebrew reads "in my eyes" (see esv footnote). If so, then David is viewing himself with humility. It is the humble whom the Lord will exalt (cf. 1 Sam. 7:7–8).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 6:23 Michal . . . had no child. Whether David ceased to have marital relations with Michal or the Lord disciplined Michal for her contempt of David, Michal bore no children. In OT times, it was a reproach to be childless (1 Sam. 1:5–6). Michal's childlessness prevented her from providing a successor to David's throne from the family of Saul (cf. 1 Sam. 15:22–28).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 7:1–17 See 1 Chron. 17:1–15. These verses record the establishment of the Davidic Covenant, God's unconditional promise to David and his posterity. While not called a covenant here, it is later (2 Sam. 23:5). This promise is an important key to understanding God's irrevocable pledge of a king from the line of David to rule forever (7:16). It has been estimated that over 40 individual biblical passages are directly related to these verses (cf. Ps. 89; 110; 132); thus, this text is a major highlight in the OT. The ultimate fulfillment comes at Christ's second advent when he sets up his millennial kingdom on earth

(cf. Ezek. 37; Zech. 14; Rev. 19). This is the fourth of five irrevocable, unconditional covenants made by God. The first three include: 1) the Noahic Covenant (Gen. 9:8–17); 2) the Abrahamic Covenant (Gen. 15:12–21); and 3) the Levitic or Priestly Covenant (Num. 3:1–18; 18:1–20; 25:10–13). The New Covenant, which actually provided redemption, was revealed later through Jeremiah (Jer. 31:31–34) and accomplished by the death and resurrection of Jesus Christ. See note on Matt. 26:28.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 7:1 lived in his house. See 5:11. David's palace was built with help from Hiram of Tyre. Since Hiram did not become king of Tyre until around 980 B.C., the events narrated in this chapter occurred in the last decade of David's reign. rest from all his surrounding enemies. David had conquered all the nations that were around Israel. See 8:1–14 for the details that occur prior to ch. 7.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 7:2 Nathan. Mentioned here for the first time, Nathan played a significant role in ch. 12 (confronting David's sin with Bathsheba) and 1 Kings 1 (upsetting Adonijah's plot to usurp the throne from Solomon). in a tent. See note on 2 Sam. 6:17.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 7:3 Go, do. Nathan the prophet encouraged David to pursue the noble project he had in mind and assured him of the Lord's blessing. However, neither David nor Nathan had consulted the Lord.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 7:4–16 The Lord revealed his will to Nathan in this matter, to redirect the best human thoughts of the king.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 7:5 Would you build me a house . . . ? Verses 5–7 are framed by two questions asked by the Lord, both of which pertain to building a temple for him. The first question, asking if David was the one who should build the temple, expected a negative answer (see 1 Chron. 17:4). According to 1 Chron. 22:8 and 28:3, David was not chosen by God to build the temple because he was a warrior who had shed much blood.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 7:7 Why have you not built me a house . . . ? The second question, asking if the Lord had ever commanded any leader to build a temple for his ark, also expected a negative answer. So, contrary to Nathan's and David's intentions and assumptions, God did not want a house at that time and did not want David to build one.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 7:8–16 a great name. These verses state the promises the Lord gave to David. Verses 8–11a give the promises to be realized during David’s lifetime. Verses 11b–16 state the promises that would be fulfilled after David’s death. During David’s lifetime, the Lord: 1) gave David “a great name” (see note on Gen. 12:2); 2) appointed a place for Israel; and 3) gave David “rest” from all his enemies. After David’s death, the Lord gave David: 1) a son to sit on his national throne, whom the Lord would oversee as a father with necessary chastening, discipline, and mercy (Solomon); and 2) a Son who would rule a kingdom that will be established forever (Messiah). This prophecy referred in its immediacy to Solomon and to the temporal kingdom of David’s family in the land. But in a larger and more sublime sense, it refers to David’s greater Son of another nature, Jesus Christ (cf. Heb. 1:8).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 7:11 the Lord will make you a house. Although David desired to build the Lord a “house,” i.e., a temple, instead it would be the Lord who would build David a “house,” i.e., a dynasty.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 7:12 your offspring. According to the rest of Scripture, it was the coming Messiah who would establish David’s kingdom forever (see Isa. 9:6–7; Luke 1:32–33).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 7:14 a father . . . a son. These words are directly related to Jesus the Messiah in Heb. 1:5. In Semitic thought, since the son had the full character of the father, the future seed or descendants of David would have the same essence of God. That Jesus Christ was God incarnate is the central theme of John’s Gospel (see Introduction to John). When he commits iniquity. As a human father disciplines his sons, so the Lord would discipline David’s descendants, if they committed iniquity. This has reference to the intermediary seed until Messiah’s arrival (any king of David’s line from Solomon on). However, the ultimate Seed of David will not be a sinner as David and his descendants were, as recorded in Samuel and Kings (see 2 Cor. 5:21). Significantly, Chronicles, focusing more directly on the Messiah, does not include this statement in its record of Nathan’s words (1 Chron. 17:13).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 7:15 This is an expression of the unconditional character of the Davidic Covenant. The Messiah will come to his glorious, eternal kingdom and that promise will not change.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 7:16 your house . . . your kingdom . . . Your throne. Luke

1:32b–33 indicates that these three terms are fulfilled in Jesus, “ And the Lord God will give to him the throne of his father David, and he will reign over the house of Jacob forever, and of his kingdom there will be no end.” forever. This word conveys the idea of 1) an indeterminately long time or 2) into eternity future. It does not mean that there cannot be interruptions, but rather that the outcome is guaranteed. Christ’s Davidic reign will conclude human history.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 7:18–29 See 1 Chron. 17:16–27. David prayed with awe and thanksgiving over God’s sovereign claim to bestow the divine blessing on his seed and nation.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 7:18 sat before the Lord. I.e., before the ark of the covenant in the temporary tent. Who am I . . . ? David was overwhelmed by the Lord’s promise that he would bring his kingdom through David’s seed. In vv. 18–29, David referred to himself 10 times as “your servant” (vv. 19, 20, 21, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29), acknowledging his God-given title, “my servant David” (v. 5).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 7:19 for a great while to come. David recognized that the Lord had spoken about the distant future, not only about his immediate descendant, Solomon. instruction for mankind. Lit., “and this is the law of man.” The idea is that God’s covenant promise is for an eternal kingdom, whereby the whole world of man shall be blessed, through the coming seed of David. The Davidic Covenant is thus a grant, conferring powers, rights, and privileges to David and his seed for the benefit of mankind, a promise that left David speechless (vv. 20–22).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 7:23 your people. David is remembering aspects of the Abrahamic Covenant (cf. Gen. 12; 15; 17). Israel. In 2 Sam. 7:18–21, David praised the Lord for his favor to him. In vv. 22–24, David praised the Lord for the favor shown to the nation of Israel (cf. Deut. 7:6–11).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 7:25 the word that you have spoken. In vv. 25–29, David prayed for the fulfillment of the divine promise spoken to him.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 7:26–29 your words are true. David’s prayer indicated that he fully accepted by faith the extraordinary, irrevocable promises God made to David as king and to Israel as a nation.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 8:1–14 These verses outline the expansion of David’s kingdom under the hand of the Lord (vv. 6, 14). Israel’s major enemies were all defeated as David's kingdom extended north, south, east, and west. See 1 Chron. 18:1–13. This conquering occurred before the event of 2 Sam. 7 (see 7:1).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 8:1 Philistines . . . subdued. David's first priority was to deal with the Philistines to the west, whom he quickly defeated and subjugated (see 5:25). Metheg-ammah. Probably a reference to the chief city of the Philistines, Gath (cf. 1 Chron. 18:1). He defeated his enemies to the west.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 8:2 Moab. David also defeated the Moabites who dwelt in Transjordan, east of the Dead Sea. This represented a change from the good relationship David once enjoyed with the Moabite royalty (cf. 1 Sam. 22:3–4). He defeated his enemies to the east. Two lines he measured. This could mean that David spared the young Moabites (whose height was approximately one cord) and executed the adults (whose height was two cords) or that one out of three rows of soldiers was arbitrarily chosen to be spared from execution. Such was a common practice of eastern kings in dealing with deadly enemies.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 8:3–8 He defeated his enemies to the north. David had already defeated the Amalekites to the south (1 Sam. 30:16–17).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 8:3 Hadadezer. Lit., “Hadad (the personal name of the Canaanite storm god) is my help.” Psalm 60 was written to commemorate this battle. Zobah. An Aramaean kingdom north of Damascus (cf. 1 Sam. 14:47). river Euphrates. I.e., the most southwesterly point of the Euphrates River around the city of Tiphseh.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 8:4 took . . . 1,700 horsemen. The reading of “7,000” in 1 Chron. 18:4 is preferable. See note there. hamstrung all the chariot horses. Hamstringing the horses disabled them from military action by cutting the back sinews of the hind legs (Josh. 11:6).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 8:5 Syrians of Damascus. I.e., Syrians, who were peoples located around the city of Damascus as well as in the area of Zobah.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 8:7 shields of gold. Ceremonial or decorative insignias that were not used in battle, but for decoration.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 8:8 bronze. First Chronicles 18:8 notes three towns belonging to Hadadezer that yielded bronze that was later used in the construction of the temple.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 8:9 Toi king of Hamath. Hamath was another Aramean territory located about 100 miles north of Damascus. The king, Toi, was thankful to see his enemy Zobah crushed and desired to establish good relations with David. So he gave David gifts to indicate that he voluntarily submitted to him as his vassal.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 8:12 Edom. These were David's enemies to the south.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 8:13 a name. The Lord began to fulfill his promise of giving David a great name (see 7:9). Edomites. See Ps. 60 and 1 Chron. 18:12. Valley of Salt. An area south of the Dead Sea.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 8:15–18 See 1 Chron. 18:14–17. This is the record of the cabinet under David's rule.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 8:15 justice and equity. David ruled his kingdom in a righteous manner, and in the future the “Messiah” will rule in a similar fashion (Isa. 9:7; Jer. 23:5; 33:15).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 8:16 Joab. David's general (2:13; 1 Sam. 26:6). Jehoshaphat . . . recorder. The keeper of state records, and possibly the royal herald (1 Kings 4:3).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 8:17 Zadok the son of Ahitub. Zadok, meaning “righteous,” was a Levitical priest descended from Aaron through Eleazar (1 Chron. 6:3–8, 50–53), who, along with his house, was the fulfillment of the oracle by the man of God in 1 Sam. 2:35. Future sons of Zadok will be priests in the millennial kingdom of Messiah (Ezek. 44:15). Later, he became the only high priest in Solomon's reign, fulfilling God's promise to Phinehas (cf. Num. 25:10–13). Ahimelech the son of Abiathar. See 1 Sam. 22:20, which indicates that Abiathar is the son of Ahimelech. This is best accounted for by a scribal copying error (cf. 1 Chron. 18:16; 24:3, 6, 31). Abiathar was David's priest along with Zadok (2 Sam. 15:24, 35; 19:11). Abiathar traced his lineage through Eli (1 Kings 2:27) to Ithamar (1 Chron. 24:3). With Abiathar's removal (1 Kings 2:26–27), God's curse on Eli was completed (1 Sam. 2:33), and God's promise to Phinehas of Eleazar's line was fulfilled (cf. Num. 25:10–13; 1 Sam. 2:35). Seraiah was secretary. His name means “The Lord prevails,” and he served as the official secretary of David.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 8:18 Benaiah. His name means “The Lord builds,” and he served as the commander of David's personal bodyguard. He later became the commander-in-chief of Solomon's army (1 Kings 2:34–35; 4:4), after he killed Joab, David's general (cf. 1 Kings 2:28–35). Cherethites and the Pelethites. See note on 1 Sam. 30:14. priests. Though the Hebrew text referred to the sons of David as priests, the LXX referred to them as “princes of the court.” The latter reading is supported by 1 Chron. 18:17, which refers to David's sons as “chiefs at the king's side.”

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 9:1–20:26 These chapters begin with “the house of Saul” (9:1) and end with “Sheba . . . a Benjamite” (20:1). As with Saul, David is shown to be a failed king, albeit a repentant failure. It was only the grace and mercy of the Lord and his irrevocable covenant that kept David from being removed from the kingship, as Saul had been (cf. 7:15). The emphasis in this section is upon the troubles of David, troubles brought on by his own sin.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 9:1 show him kindness for Jonathan's sake. David continued to display loving loyalty toward Jonathan (1 Sam. 20:42) by ministering to the physical needs of his crippled son, Mephibosheth (cf. 2 Sam. 4:4).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 9:2 Ziba. A former servant of Saul, who is first mentioned here.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 9:4 Machir the son of Ammiel. A man of wealth (see 17:27–29). Lo-debar. A city located in Gilead, east of the Jordan, about 10 miles south of the Sea of Galilee.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 9:6 Mephibosheth. See note on 4:4.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 9:7 restore . . . the land of Saul your father. The estate belonging to Saul was probably quite substantial. eat at my table. David desired to honor Mephibosheth by bringing him into the royal palace and providing for his daily needs (see 2 Kings 25:29).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 9:8 dead dog. A “dead dog” was considered contemptible and useless. Mephibosheth saw himself as such in that he knew that he had not merited David's kindness and that there was no way for him to repay it. David's offer was an extraordinary expression of grace and beauty to his covenant with Jonathan (cf. 1 Sam. 18:3; 20:15, 42).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 9:10 fifteen sons and twenty servants. This number shows the power and influence of Ziba. It also shows that the land given by David was substantial.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 9:12 Mica. The descendants of Mica, the son of Mephibosheth, are listed in 1 Chron. 8:35–38 and 9:41–44.

The Setting of 2 Samuel

c. 1000 B.C.

The book of 2 Samuel recounts David's reign over Israel and his battles to establish Israel as the dominant power in Syria and Palestine. David expanded Israel's borders from Saul's fledgling territory until, by the end of his reign, he controlled all of Israel, Edom, Moab, Ammon, Syria, and Zobah. Other kingdoms, such as Tyre and Hamath, established treaties with him.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 10:1–19 See 1 Chron. 19:1–19.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 10:1 king of the Ammonites. I.e., Nahash (see note on 1 Sam. 11:1).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 10:2 deal loyally with Hanun. Since Nahash was an enemy of Saul, he was viewed as a friend and supporter of David. It was implied that David and Nahash had entered into a covenant relationship, on the basis of which David desired to communicate his continuing loyalty to Nahash's son, Hanun.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 10:3 the city. I.e., Rabbah (see note on 11:1).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 10:4 shaved off half the beard of each. Forced shaving was considered an insult and a sign of submission (cf. Isa. 7:20). cut off their garments . . . at their hips. To those who wore long garments in that time, exposure of the buttocks was a shameful practice inflicted on prisoners of war (cf. Isa. 20:4). Perhaps this was partly the concern of Michal in regard to David's dancing (see 2 Sam. 6:14, 20).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 10:5 Jericho. The first place west of the Jordan River that would have been reached by the servants of David as they returned from Rabbah.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 10:6 Beth-rehob. An Aramean district located southwest of Zobah (cf. Num. 13:21; Judg. 18:28). Zobah. See note on 2 Sam. 8:3. Maacah. The region north of Lake Huleh north of Galilee (Deut. 3:14; Josh. 13:11–13). Tob. A city east of the Jordan River, located 45 miles northeast of Rabbah (Judg. 11:3, 5).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 10:6–11 The Ammonite army was in the city ready for defense, while the Aramean mercenaries were at some distance, encamped in the fields around the city. Joab divided his forces to deal with both. See note on 1 Sam. 11:1.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 10:12 Be of good courage . . . may the Lord do what seems good to him. Finding himself fighting on two fronts, Joab urged the army to “be strong” and recognize that the outcome of the battle depended ultimately upon the Lord (cf. 15:26). It was a just and necessary war forced on Israel, so they could hope for God’s blessing—and they received it (10:13–14).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 10:14 Then Joab returned. He did not attempt to siege and capture the city of Rabbah at this time because the time was unseasonable (see note on 11:1). Cf. 12:26–29.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 10:16 Hadadezer. See note on 8:3. Helam. The place of battle, about 7 miles north of Tob.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 10:18 chariots . . . horsemen. See note on 1 Chron. 19:18.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 10:19 made peace with Israel. All the petty kingdoms of Aram became subject to Israel and feared to aid Ammon against Israel.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 11:1 the spring . . . when kings go out to battle. In the Near East, kings normally went out to battle in the spring of the year because of the good weather and the abundance of food available along the way. See note on 10:14. David sent Joab. David dispatched Joab, his army commander, with his mercenary soldiers and the army of Israel to continue the battle against Ammon begun the previous year (10:14). Rabbah. The capital of the Ammonites, about 24 miles east of the Jordan River opposite Jericho. The previous year, Abishai had defeated the Ammonite army in the open country, after which the remaining Ammonites fled behind the walls of the city of Rabbah for protection (10:14). Joab returned the next year to besiege the city. But David remained at Jerusalem. Staying home in such situations was not David’s usual practice (5:2; 8:1–14; 10:17; but cf. 18:3; 21:17); this explicit remark implies criticism of David for remaining behind, as well as setting the stage for his devastating iniquity.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 11:2 walking on the roof. The higher elevation of the palace roof allowed David to see into the courtyard of the nearby house. That same roof would later become the scene of other sinful immoralities (see 16:22).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 11:3 Bathsheba. Not until 12:24 is her name used again. Rather, to intensify the sin of adultery, it is emphasized that she was the wife of Uriah (11:3, 26; 12:10, 15). Even the NT says “the wife of Uriah” (Matt. 1:6). Cf. Ex. 20:17. Eliam. The father of Bathsheba was one of David’s mighty men (2 Sam. 23:34). Since Eliam was the son of Ahithophel, Bathsheba was Ahithophel’s granddaughter (cf. 15:12; 16:15). This could explain why Ahithophel, one of David’s counselors (15:12), later gave his allegiance to Absalom in his revolt against David. Uriah. Also one of David's mighty men (23:39). Although a Hittite (cf. Gen. 15:20; Ex. 3:8, 17, 23), Uriah bore a Hebrew name meaning "the Lord is my light," indicating he was a worshiper of the one true God.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 11:4 she came . . . he lay. These terms are euphemistic references to sexual intercourse (cf. Gen. 19:34), indicating that both Bathsheba and David were guilty of adultery. her uncleanness. Her recent days had involved menstruation and the required ceremonial purification (Lev. 15:19–30). They were followed by adulterous intercourse. The fact that she had just experienced menstruation makes it plain that Bathsheba was not pregnant by Uriah when she came to lie with David.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 11:5 I am pregnant. The only words of Bathsheba recorded concerning this incident acknowledge the resultant condition of her sin, which became evident by her pregnancy and was punishable by death (Lev. 20:10; Deut. 22:22).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 11:6–7 This inane conversation was a ploy to get Uriah to come home and sleep with his wife, so it would appear that he had fathered the child, thus sparing David the public shame and Bathsheba possible death.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 11:8 wash your feet. Since this washing was done before going to bed, the idiom means to go home and go to bed. To a soldier coming from the battlefield, it said boldly, "enjoy your wife sexually." Hopefully, David's tryst with Bathsheba would be masked by Uriah's union. a present. This was designed to help Uriah and Bathsheba enjoy their evening together.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 11:9 Uriah slept. Wanting to be a loyal example to his soldiers who were still in the field, Uriah did not take advantage of the king's less-than-honorable offer (v. 11).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 11:11 The ark. The ark of the covenant was residing in either the tent in Jerusalem (6:17) or in a tent with the army of Israel on the battlefield (1 Sam. 4:6; 14:18).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 11:13 made him drunk. Failing in his first attempt to cover up his sin, David tried unsuccessfully to make Uriah drunk so he would lose his resolve and self-discipline and return to his home and his wife's bed.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 11:15 he may . . . die. Failing twice to cover up his sin with Bathsheba, the frustrated and panicked David plotted the murder of Uriah by taking advantage of Uriah's unswerving loyalty to him as king, even having Uriah deliver his own death warrant. Thus David engaged in another crime deserving of capital punishment (Lev. 24:17). This is graphic proof of the extremes people go to in pursuit of sin and in the absence of restraining grace.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 11:18–24 Joab sent . . . Uriah . . . is dead. He sent a messenger with a veiled message to tell David his wish had been carried out. Joab must have known the reason behind this otherwise stupid military deployment.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 11:25 encourage him. David hypocritically expressed indifference to those who died, and he consoled Joab, authorizing him to continue the attack against Rabbah.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 11:26–27 the mourning was over. The customary period of mourning was probably seven days (Gen. 50:10; 1 Sam. 31:13). Significantly, the text makes no mention of mourning by David.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 11:27 displeased the Lord. This sinful act would bring forth evil consequences.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 12:1–14 Psalm 51 records David's words of repentance after being confronted by Nathan over his sin with Bathsheba (cf. Ps. 32, where David expresses his agony after Nathan's confrontation).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 12:1 the Lord sent Nathan. The word "Lord" is conspicuously absent from the narrative of ch. 11 until v. 27, but then the Lord became actively involved by confronting David with his sin. As Joab had sent a messenger to David (11:18–19), so the Lord now sent his messenger to David.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 12:1–4 two men . . . rich . . . poor. To understand this parable, it is necessary only to recognize that the rich man represented David, the poor man, Uriah, and the ewe lamb, Bathsheba.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 12:5 deserves to die. According to Ex. 22:1, the penalty for stealing and slaughtering an ox or a sheep was not death, but restitution. However, in the parable, the stealing and slaughtering of the lamb represented the adultery with Bathsheba and the murder of Uriah by David. According to the Mosaic law, both adultery (Lev. 20:10) and murder (Lev. 24:17) required punishment by death. In pronouncing this judgment on the rich man in the story, David unwittingly condemned himself to death.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 12:6 fourfold. Exodus 22:1 demanded a fourfold restitution for the stealing of sheep. There is an allusion here to the subsequent death of four of David's sons: Bathsheba's first son (v. 18), Amnon (13:28–29), Absalom (16:14–15), and Adonijah (1 Kings 2:25).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 12:7 anointed. Earlier, the prophet Samuel's confrontation with the sinful Saul emphasized the same point (1 Sam. 15:17).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 12:8 your master's wives. This phraseology means nothing more than that God in his providence had given David, as king, everything that was Saul's. There is no evidence that he ever married any of Saul's wives, though the harem of eastern kings passed to their successors. Ahinoam, the wife of David (2:2; 3:2; 1 Sam. 25:43; 27:3; 30:5), is always referred to as the Jezreelitess, whereas Ahinoam, the wife of Saul, is distinguished clearly from her by being called "the daughter of Ahimaaz" (1 Sam. 14:50).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 12:9 despised. To despise the word of the Lord was to break his commands and thus incur punishment (cf. Num. 15:31). In summarizing David's violations, his guilt is divinely affirmed.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 12:10 the sword shall never depart from your house. David's tragic punishment was a lingering one. Since Uriah was killed by violence, the house of David would be continually plagued by violence. These words anticipated the violent deaths of Amnon (13:28–29), Absalom (18:14–15), and Adonijah (1 Kings 2:24–25).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 12:11 evil . . . out of your own house. David had done evil to another man's family (11:27). Therefore, he would receive evil in his own family, such as Amnon's rape of Tamar (13:1–14), Absalom's murder of Amnon (13:28–29), and Absalom's rebellion against David (15:1–12). lie with your wives in the sight of this sun. This prediction was fulfilled by Absalom's public appropriation of David's royal concubines during his rebellion (16:21–22).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 12:13 I have sinned against the Lord. David did not attempt to rationalize or justify his sin. When confronted with the facts, David's confession was immediate. The fuller confessions of David are found in Ps. 32

and 51. The Lord also has put away your sin. The Lord graciously forgave David's sin, but the inevitable temporal consequences of sin were experienced by him. Forgiveness does not always remove the consequences of sin in this life, only in the life to come. you shall not die. Although the sins of David legally demanded his death (see 2 Sam. 12:5), the Lord graciously released David from the required death penalty. There are events in the OT record where God required death and others where he showed grace and spared the sinner. This is consistent with justice and grace. Those who perished are illustrations of what all sinners deserve. Those who were spared are proofs and examples of God's grace.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 12:14 you have utterly scorned the Lord. The Masoretic text says that David scorned the enemies of the Lord (see esv footnote). Because of God's reputation among those who opposed him, David's sin had to be judged. The judgment would begin with the death of Bathsheba's baby son.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 12:23 I shall go to him. I.e., David would someday join his son after his own death (cf. 1 Sam. 28:19). Here is the confidence that there is a future reunion after death, which includes infants who have died being reunited with saints who die (see note on Matt. 19:14; cf. Mark 10:13–16).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 12:24 Solomon. Either “(God is) peace” or “his replacement.” Both were true of this child.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 12:25 Jedidiah. “Beloved of the Lord” was Nathan's name for Solomon, who was loved in the sense of being chosen by the Lord to be the successor to David's throne, a remarkable instance of God's goodness and grace considering the sinful nature of the marriage.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 12:29–31 See 1 Chron. 20:1–3.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 12:29 David . . . took it. David completed what Joab had begun by capturing the city of Rabbah.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 12:30 a talent of gold. About 75 lbs.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 12:31 set them to labor. David imposed hard labor on the Ammonites. But these verses can also be translated with the sense that the Ammonites were cut with saws, indicating that David imposed cruel death on the captives in accordance with Ammonite ways (cf. 1 Sam. 11:2; Amos 1:13).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 13:1–2 Tamar. “Palm tree.” She was David’s daughter by Maacah, the daughter of Talmai, king of Geshur (3:3), Absalom’s (David’s third son) full sister and half-sister of Amnon, David’s first son by Ahinoam (3:2). Amnon’s love for her was not filial, but lustful, as became clear in the story. Unmarried daughters were kept in seclusion from men, so that none could see them alone. Amnon had seen Tamar because of their family relationship and had conceived a violent passion for her. This was forbidden by God (see Lev. 18:11), yet with the example of Abraham (Gen. 20:12) and the common practice among the surrounding nations of marrying half-sisters, he felt justified and wanted his passion fulfilled with Tamar.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 13:3 Jonadab. The son of David’s brother, called Shammah in 1 Sam. 16:9; 17:3 and Shimea in 1 Chron. 2:13. Jonadab was Amnon’s cousin and counselor who gave Amnon the plan by which he was able to rape Tamar.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 13:12–13 this outrageous thing. Lit., “a wicked thing.” Tamar appealed to Amnon with four reasons that he should not rape her. First, it was an utterly deplored act in Israel because it violated the law of God (see Lev. 18:11) and Tamar knew that such action could bring disharmony and bloodshed to the king’s family, as it did. my shame. Second, as a fornicator, Tamar would be scorned as an object of reproach. Even though resistant to the evil crime perpetuated against her, Tamar would bear the stigma of one defiled. as one of the outrageous fools in Israel. Third, Amnon would be regarded by the people as a wicked fool, a God-rejecting man without principles who offended ordinary standards of morality, thereby jeopardizing Amnon’s right to the throne. the king . . . will not withhold me from you. Fourth, Tamar appealed to Amnon to fulfill his physical desire for her through marriage. She surely knew that such a marriage between half siblings was not allowed by the Mosaic law (Lev. 18:9, 11; 20:17; Deut. 27:22), but in the desperation of the moment, Tamar was seeking to escape the immediate situation.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 13:14 violated. A euphemism for “raped.”

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 13:15 hated her. Amnon’s “love” (v. 1) was nothing but sensual desire that, once gratified, turned to hatred. His sudden revulsion was the result of her unwilling resistance, the atrocity of what he had done, feelings of remorse, and dread of exposure and punishment. All of these rendered her intolerably undesirable to him.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 13:15–17 Amnon’s sending Tamar away was a greater wrong than the rape itself because it would inevitably have been supposed that she had been guilty of some shameful conduct, i.e., that the seduction had come from her.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 13:18 long robe with sleeves. See Gen. 37:33. A garment which identified the wearer’s special position. For Tamar, the robe identified her as a virgin daughter of the king. The tearing of this garment symbolized her loss of this special position (2 Sam. 13:19).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 13:19 put ashes . . . tore the long robe . . . laid her hand . . . went away, crying aloud. The ashes were a sign of mourning. The torn garment symbolized the ruin of her life. The hand on the head was emblematic of exile and banishment. The crying showed that she viewed herself as good as dead.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 13:20 do not take this to heart. Absalom told his sister not to pay undue attention or worry about the consequences of the rape. Absalom minimized the significance of what had taken place only for the moment, while already beginning to plot his revenge in using this crime as reason to do what he wanted to do anyway—remove Amnon from the line of succession to the throne (note also v. 32, where Jonadab knew of Absalom’s plans). desolate. She remained unmarried and childless. Her full brother was her natural protector and the children of polygamists lived by themselves in different family units.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 13:21 David . . . was very angry. Fury and indignation were David’s reactions to the report of the rape (Gen. 34:7). Because he did not punish Amnon for his crime, he abdicated his responsibility both as king and as father. The lack of justice in the land would come back to haunt David in a future day (2 Sam. 15:4).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 13:22 Absalom hated Amnon. As Amnon hated Tamar (v. 15), Absalom loathed his half-brother, Amnon.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 13:23–27 Baal-hazor. The Benjamite village of Hazor (Neh. 11:33), located about 12 miles northeast of Jerusalem, was the place for a sheep-shearing feast put on by Absalom, to which he invited all his brothers and half-brothers, as well as King David and his royal court (2 Sam. 13:24). David declined, but encouraged Absalom to hold the feast for “the king’s sons” as a means to unity and harmony (vv. 25–27). With David’s denial of the invitation, Absalom requested that Amnon go as his representative. Although David had reservations concerning Absalom’s intent, he allowed all his sons to go.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 13:28–29 kill him. Absalom murdered Amnon through his servants (cf. 11:15–17), just as David had killed Uriah through others (11:14–17). Though rape was punishable by death, personal vengeance such as this was unacceptable to God. Due course of law was to be carried out.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 13:29 his mule. Mules were ridden by the royal family in David’s kingdom (18:9; 1 Kings 1:33, 38, 44).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 13:30 all the king’s sons. This exaggeration plunged everyone into grief (v. 31) until it was corrected (v. 32).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 13:32 Jonadab . . . said. Jonadab knew of Absalom’s plot to kill Amnon (see v. 20) for the rape of Tamar. Death was prescribed in Lev. 18:11, 29 (“cut off” means to execute). See note on 2 Sam. 13:28–29.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 13:34, 37 Absalom fled. The law regarding premeditated murder, as most would view Absalom’s act, gave him no hope of returning (see Num. 35:21). The cities of refuge would afford him no sanctuary, so he left his father’s kingdom to live in Geshur, east of the Sea of Galilee, under the protection of the king who was the grandfather of both Tamar and Absalom (see note on 2 Sam. 13:1–2).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 13:39 longed to go. David gradually accepted the fact of Amnon’s death and desired to see Absalom again, but took no action to bring him back.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 14:1 David was strongly attached to Absalom, and, having gotten over the death of Amnon, he desired the fellowship of his exiled son, three years absent. But the fear of public opinion made him hesitant to pardon his son. Joab, perceiving this struggle between parental affection and royal duty, devised a plan involving a wise country woman and a story told to the king.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 14:2 Tekoa. A town about 10 miles south of Jerusalem (cf. Amos 1:1).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 14:2–3 Joab put the words in her mouth. Joab used a story, as Nathan had (12:1–12), to show David the error of his ways and to encourage him to call Absalom back to Jerusalem.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 14:7 leave to my husband neither name nor remnant. The story the woman told involved one brother killing another (v. 6). If the death penalty for murder was invoked (cf. Ex. 21:12; Lev. 24:17), there would be no living heir in the family, leaving that family with no future, a situation the law sought to avoid (Deut. 25:5–10). This would extinguish the last “coal” of hope for a future for her line. Cf. 2 Sam. 21:17; Ps. 132:17, where the lamp refers to posterity.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 14:9 On me be the guilt. The woman was willing to receive whatever blame might arise from the sparing of her guilty son.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 14:11 avenger of blood. This is a specific term identifying the nearest relative of the deceased who would seek to put to death the murderer (Num. 35:6–28; Deut. 19:1–13; Matt. 27:25). not one hair. This is an expression meaning that no harm will come to the son of the widow in the story.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 14:13 against the people of God. The woman asserted that by allowing Absalom to remain in exile, David had jeopardized the future welfare of Israel. If he would be so generous to a son he did not know in a family he did not know, would he not forgive his own son?

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 14:14 like water spilled on the ground. I.e., death is irreversible. God will not take away life. The woman stated that since God acts according to the dictates of mercy, as in David’s own experience (12:13), David was obligated to do likewise.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 14:15–16 the people . . . the man who would destroy me and my son. Those who were seeking to kill the son of the woman were like the people David feared who resented what Absalom had done and would have stood against a pardon for him.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 14:18–20 David gets the intent of the story and discerns the source as Joab.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 14:22 Joab’s motives were selfish, in that he sought to ingratiate himself further with David for greater influence and power.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 14:23 Geshur. See note on 13:34, 37.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 14:24 he is not to come into my presence. Absalom returned to Jerusalem, but the estrangement with his father continued.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 14:25 handsome. As with Saul before him (1 Sam. 9:1–2), Absalom looked like a king. His extraordinary popularity arose from his appearance.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 14:26 hair of his head. At his annual haircut, it was determined that Absalom's head produced approximately 5 lbs. of hair that had to be cut off.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 14:27 three sons. See note on 18:18. daughter . . . Tamar. Absalom named his daughter after his sister Tamar.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 14:28 two full years. Whatever were David's errors in recalling Absalom, he displayed great restraint in wanting to stay apart from Absalom to lead his son through a time of repentance and a real restoration. Rather than produce repentance, however, Absalom's non-access to the royal court and all its amenities frustrated him so that he sent for Joab to intercede (v. 29).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 14:30–32 set the field on fire. This was an act of aggression by Absalom to force Joab to act in his behalf with David, his father. Such a crime was serious, as it destroyed the livelihood of the owner and workers. It reveals that Absalom's heart was not repentant and submissive, but manipulative. He wanted an ultimatum delivered to David: Accept me or kill me!

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 14:33 the king kissed Absalom. The kiss signified David's forgiveness and Absalom's reconciliation with the family.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 15:1 chariot and horses, and fifty men. After the reconciliation, Absalom possessed the symbols of royalty (see 1 Sam. 8:11).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 15:1–6 stole the hearts. Public hearings were always conducted early in the morning in a court held outside by the city gates. Absalom positioned himself there to win favor. Because King David was busy with other matters or with wars, and was also aging, many matters were left unresolved, building a deep feeling of resentment among the people. Absalom used that situation to undermine his father, by gratifying all he could with a favorable settlement and showing them all warm cordiality. Thus, he won the people to himself, without them knowing his wicked ambition.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 15:7 four years. The four-year period began either with Absalom's return from Geshur (14:23) or with his reconciliation with David (14:33). The alternate reading "forty" (see esv footnote; nkjv; nasb) could refer neither to the age of Absalom since he was born at Hebron after David had begun to rule (3:2–5), nor the time of David's reign, since he ruled only 40 years total (5:4–5).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 15:7–9 Hebron. The city of Absalom's birth (3:2–3), and the place where David was first anointed king over Judah (2:4) and over all Israel (5:3). Absalom said he had made a vow while in Geshur (see note on 13:34, 37) that if he was restored to Jerusalem, he would offer a sacrifice of thanksgiving in Hebron, where sacrifices were often made before the temple was built. David, who always encouraged such religious devotion, gave his consent.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 15:10–12 Absalom formed a conspiracy, which included taking some of the leading men to create the impression that the king supported this action, and was in his old age sharing the kingdom. All of this was a subtle disguise so Absalom could have freedom to plan his revolution. Absalom was able to do this against his father not merely because of his cleverness, but also because of the laxness of his father (see 1 Kings 1:6).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 15:12 Ahithophel. A counselor of David who was considered a man who "consulted the word of God" (16:23). This man was the father of Eliam (23:34) and the grandfather of Bathsheba (11:3; 23:24–39), who may have been looking for revenge on David. Giloh. A town in the hill country of Judah (Josh. 15:48, 51), probably located a few miles south of Hebron.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 15:13–17 David's escape from Absalom is remembered in Ps. 3. Because he wanted to preserve the city he had beautified, and not have a war there, and since he felt that he could find greater support in the country, David left the city with all his household and personal guards.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 15:18 Cherethites . . . Pelethites. Foreign mercenary soldiers of King David. See note on 1 Sam. 30:14. Gittites. Mercenary soldiers from Gath, i.e., Philistines.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 15:19–22 Ittai. The commander of the Gittites, who had only recently joined David. In spite of David's words, he displayed his loyalty by going into exile with him. Ittai's later appointment as commander of one-third of the army (18:2, 5, 12) was David's way of expressing appreciation for his loyalty.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 15:23–28 Psalm 63 has this occasion in view or possibly 1 Sam. 23:14.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 15:23 brook Kidron. This familiar valley, running north/south along the eastern side of Jerusalem, separates the city from the Mount of Olives.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 15:24–29 Abiathar . . . Zadok. See notes on 8:17. They brought the ark to comfort David with assurance of God's blessing, but he saw that as placing more confidence in the symbol than in God and sent it back. David knew the possession of the ark did not guarantee God's blessing (cf. 1 Sam. 4:3).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 15:28 fords of the wilderness. Probably the region along the western bank of the Jordan River (see 17:16; Josh. 5:10).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 15:30 Mount of Olives. The hill to the east of the city of Jerusalem was the location for David's contrition and remorse over his sins and their results. This was the location from which Jesus ascended to heaven (Acts 1:9–12).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 15:32 summit. This was the place from which David could look toward the city to the west. Hushai the Archite. Hushai was of the clan of the Archites who lived in Ephraim on the border with Manasseh (Josh. 16:2) and served as an official counselor to David (2 Sam. 15:37; 1 Chron. 27:33). David persuaded Hushai to return to Jerusalem and attach himself to Absalom as a counselor. His mission was to contradict the advice of Ahithophel (2 Sam. 17:5–14) and to communicate Absalom's plans to David (17:21; 18:19).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 16:1 Ziba. See note on 9:2. Mephibosheth. Saul's grandson by Jonathan (see note on 4:4).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 16:3 where is your master’s son? According to 9:9–10, Ziba was able to garner such food and drink. His master had been Saul before his death and was then Mephibosheth. give me back the kingdom of my father. Ziba, evidently trying to commend himself in the eyes of David by bringing these gifts, accused his master of disloyalty to the king and participation in Absalom’s conspiracy for the purpose of bringing down the whole Davidic house. Thus the house of Saul would re-take the throne, and he would be king. This was a false accusation (see 19:24–25), but it was convincing to David, who believed the story and made a severe and rash decision that inflicted injury on a true friend, Mephibosheth.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 16:5 Bahurim. See note on 3:16.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 16:5–8 Shimei. Shimei was a distant relative of Saul, from the tribe of Benjamin, who cursed David as a “man of blood” (vv. 7–8) and a “worthless man” (see note on 1 Sam. 2:12). He could possibly be the Cush of Ps. 7. Shimei declared that the loss of David’s throne was God’s retribution on his past sins (2 Sam. 6:8), and David accepted his curse as from the Lord (v. 11). It could be that Shimei was accusing David of the murders of Abner (3:27–39), Ish-bosheth (4:1–12), and Uriah (11:15–27).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 16:9 Abishai. See note on 2:18. dead dog. I.e., worthless and despised (cf. 9:8).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 16:10–14 The patience and restraint of David on this occasion was amazingly different from his violent reaction to the slanderous words of Nabal (1 Sam. 25:2ff.). On that occasion, he was eager to kill the man until placated by the wisdom of Abigail. He was a broken man at this later time and knew that while the rancor of Shimei was uncalled for, his accusations were true. He was penitent.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 16:15 Ahithophel. See note on 15:12.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 16:15–23 Absalom set up his royal court in Jerusalem.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 16:16 Hushai. See note on 15:32.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 16:21–22 your father’s concubines. David had left behind in Jerusalem 10 concubines to take care of the palace (15:16). In the Near East, possession of the harem came with the throne. Ahithophel advised Absalom to have sexual relations with David's concubines and thereby assert his right to his father's throne. On the roof of the palace in the most public place (cf. 11:2); a tent was set up for this scandalous event, thereby fulfilling the judgment announced by Nathan in 12:11–12.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 17:1–4 Ahithophel's second piece of advice to Absalom was that he immediately pursue and kill David to remove any possibility of his reclaiming the throne, which would incline David's followers to return and submit to Absalom.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 17:4 all the elders of Israel. The same prominent tribal leaders who had accepted David's kingship in 5:3 had been won over as participants in Absalom's rebellion.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 17:7–13 Providentially, the Lord took control of the situation through the counsel of Hushai (see note on 15:32) who advised Absalom in such a way as to give David time to prepare for war with Absalom. Hushai's plan seemed best to the elders. It had two features: 1) the need for an army larger than 12,000 (v. 1), so that Absalom would not lose, and 2) the king leading the army into battle (an appeal to Absalom's arrogance).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 17:11 Dan to Beersheba. See note on 3:10.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 17:13 ropes. In besieging the town, hooks attached to ropes were cast over the protective wall and, with a large number of men pulling, the walls were pulled down.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 17:14 the Lord had ordained. The text notes that Ahithophel's advice was rejected by Absalom because the Lord had determined to defeat the rebellion of Absalom, as prayed for by David (15:31). God's providence was controlling all the intrigues among the usurper's counselors.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 17:16 pass over. Crossing over from the west side to the east side of the Jordan River was the means of protecting David and his people from the immediate onslaught if Ahithophel's plan was followed.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 17:17 Jonathan and Ahimaaz. Jonathan was the son of the priest Abiathar and Ahimaaz the son of the priest Zadok (15:27). They were designated to take information from Hushai in Jerusalem to David by the Jordan River. En-rogel. A spring in the Kidron Valley on the border between Benjamin and Judah (Josh. 15:1, 7; 18:11, 16) less than a mile southeast of Jerusalem.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 17:18 Bahurim. See note on 3:16.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 17:19 well's mouth. Using an empty cistern as a place for a covering of dry grain was a common practice.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 17:23 hanged himself. When Ahithophel saw that his counsel to Absalom had not been followed, he took his own life. He probably foresaw Absalom's defeat and knew that he would then be accountable to David for his disloyalty.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 17:24 Mahanaim. See note on 2:8.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 17:25 Amasa. Absalom appointed Amasa as commander of the army of Israel, replacing Joab who had accompanied David on his flight from Jerusalem. Amasa was the son of Abigail, either David's sister or his half-sister (1 Chron. 2:17), making him David's nephew. His mother was also the sister of Zeruah, the mother of Joab. Therefore, Amasa was a cousin of Absalom, Joab, and Abishai. Under his lead, the armies crossed the Jordan (2 Sam. 17:24) into Gilead, the high-eastern area. Sufficient time had passed for building the large army Hushai suggested, and so David had readied himself for the war (see note on 17:7–13).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 17:27 Shobi. A son of Nahash and brother of Hanun, kings of the Ammonites (10:1–2). Machir. See note on 9:4. Barzillai. An aged, wealthy benefactor of David from Gilead, on the east side of the Jordan (see 19:31–39; 1 Kings 2:7).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 18:2 A three-pronged attack was a customary military strategy (see Judg. 7:16; 1 Sam. 11:11; 13:17).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 18:3 You shall not go out. David desired to lead his men into the battle; however, the people recognized that the death of David would mean sure defeat and Absalom would then be secure in the kingship. The people's words echo what Ahithophel had earlier pointed out to Absalom (17:2–3). So David was persuaded to remain at Mahanaim.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 18:5 Deal gently. David ordered his three commanders not to harm Absalom. The four uses of "the young man Absalom" (vv. 5, 12, 29, 32) imply that David sentimentally viewed Absalom as a youthful rebel who could be forgiven.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 18:6 the forest of Ephraim. A dense forest existed east of the Jordan River and north of the Jabbok River in Gilead, where the battle was waged.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 18:8 the forest devoured more. Amazingly, because of the density of the trees and the rugged nature of the terrain, the pursuit through the forest resulted in more deaths than the actual combat (see v. 9).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 18:9 mule. See note on 13:29. his head caught fast in the oak. Either Absalom's neck was caught in a fork formed by two of the branches growing out from a large oak tree or his hair was caught in a tangle of thick branches. The terminology and context (cf. 14:26) favor the latter view.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 18:10 a certain man. One of David's soldiers, who refused to disobey the order of the king recorded in v. 5 to treat Absalom "gently," had done nothing to the suspended prince.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 18:11–12 ten . . . thousand. Four ounces and 25 pounds respectively.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 18:14 alive. The spears of Joab killed Absalom while Joab's armor bearers struck him to make sure that he was dead (v. 15). In this action, Joab disobeyed the explicit order of David (v. 5).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 18:16 blew the trumpet. Joab recalled his soldiers from the battle (cf. 2:28).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 18:17 a very great heap of stones. Absalom was buried in a deep pit that was covered over with stones, perhaps symbolic of stoning, which was the legal penalty due to a rebel son (Deut. 21:20–21). A heap of stones often showed that the one buried was a criminal or enemy (Josh. 7:26; 8:29).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 18:18 set up for himself the pillar. Absalom had memorialized himself by erecting a monument in his own honor (cf. Saul's action in 1 Sam. 15:12). There is today a monument, a tomb in that area, called Absalom's tomb (perhaps on the same site) on which orthodox Jews spit when passing by. King's Valley. Traditionally, the Kidron Valley immediately east of the city of Jerusalem. no son. According to 2 Sam. 14:27, Absalom had three sons, unnamed in the text, all of whom had died before him.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 18:19 Ahimaaz. See note on 17:17.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 18:21 Cushite. Cush was the area south of Egypt.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 18:27 good man . . . good news. David believed that the choice of the messenger was indicative of the content of the message.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 18:29 I do not know. Ahimaaz concealed his knowledge of Absalom's death as Joab requested (v. 20).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 18:32 the young man. The Cushite's reply was not so much indirect as culturally phrased (cf. 1 Sam. 25:26).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 18:33 my son. Repeated five times in this verse, David lamented the death of Absalom, his son (cf. 19:5). In spite of all the harm that Absalom had caused, David was preoccupied with his personal loss in a melancholy way that seems to be consistent with his weakness as a father. It was an unwarranted zeal for such a worthless son, and a warning about the pitiful results of sin.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 19:3 the people stole. Because of David's excessive grief, his soldiers returned from battle not as rejoicing victors, but as if they had been humiliated by defeat.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 19:5 covered with shame . . . your servants. Joab sternly rebuked David for being so absorbed in his personal trauma and failing to appreciate the victory that his men had won for him.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 19:7 not a man will stay with you this night. Joab, who was the esteemed general of the army, was a dangerous person because of that power. He was also dangerous to David because he had disobeyed his command to spare Absalom, and killed him with no remorse. When he warned David that he would be in deep trouble if he did not immediately express appreciation to his men for their victory, David knew he could be in serious danger.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 19:8 took his seat in the gate. It was at the gate of Mahanaim that David had reviewed his troops as they had marched out to battle (18:4). David's sitting in the gate represented a return to his exercise of kingly authority.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 19:9 arguing. An argument arose in Israel concerning whether David should be returned to the kingship. David's past military victories over the Philistines and the failure of Absalom argued for David's return. Therefore, David's supporters insisted on knowing why their fellow Israelites remained quiet about returning David to his rightful place on the throne in Jerusalem.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 19:11 elders of Judah. Through the priests who had stayed in Jerusalem during the rebellion, David appealed to the leaders of his own tribe to take the initiative in restoring him to the throne in Jerusalem (see 2:4; 1 Sam. 30:26). Though this appeal produced the desired result, it also led to tribal jealousies (2 Sam. 19:40–43).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 19:13 Amasa. See note on 17:25. commander of my army . . . in place of Joab. David appointed Amasa commander of his army, hoping to secure the allegiance of those who had followed Amasa when he led Absalom's forces, especially those of Judah. This appointment did persuade the tribe of Judah to support David's return to the kingship (19:14) and secured the animosity of Joab against Amasa for taking his position (cf. 20:8–10).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 19:15 Gilgal. See note on 1 Sam. 10:8.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 19:16 Shimei. See note on 16:5–8. Shimei confessed his sin of cursing David and his life was spared, temporarily, for on his deathbed David ordered that Shimei be punished for his crime (1 Kings 2:8–9, 36–46).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 19:20 house of Joseph. A reference to Ephraim, the descendant of Joseph, a large tribe of Israel that was representative of the 10 northern tribes. Here, even Shimei's tribe Benjamin was included.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 19:24–30 Mephibosheth. See note on 4:4. Mephibosheth also met David, exhibiting the traditional marks of mourning, and explained that he had not followed David into exile because he had been deceived by his servant Ziba (see 16:1–4). He came to David with great humility, generosity of spirit, and gratitude, recognizing all the good the king had done for him before the evil deception (19:28).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 19:29 divide the land. David had previously given the estate of Saul to Mephibosheth to be farmed under him by Ziba (9:9–10). Then when David was deceived, he gave it all to Ziba (16:4). Now David decided to divide Saul’s estate between Ziba and Mephibosheth since he was either uncertain of the truth of Mephibosheth’s story or who was guilty of what, and was too distracted to inquire fully into the matter. It was, in any case, a poor decision to divide the estate between the noble-hearted son of Jonathan and a lying deceiver. Mephibosheth was unselfish and suggested that his disloyal servant take it all—it was enough for him that David was back.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 19:31–39 Barzillai. See note on 17:27. David offered to let Barzillai live in Jerusalem as his guest, but Barzillai preferred to live out his last years in his own house.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 19:37 Chimham. Probably a son of Barzillai (see 1 Kings 2:7). It is probable that David gave a part of his personal estate in Bethlehem to this man and his descendants (see Jer. 41:17).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 19:41 stolen you away. Because only the troops of Judah had escorted David as he crossed over the Jordan River, the 10 northern tribes complained to David that the men of Judah had “kidnapped” him from them.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 19:42 our close relative. The men of Judah answered the men of Israel by stating that David was a member of their tribe. Nor had they taken advantage of their relationship to the king, as had some from the northern tribes.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 19:43 ten shares. The men of Israel replied to the men of Judah that they had a greater right to David, since there were 10 northern tribes in contrast to the one tribe of Judah. Contrast the “ten shares” here with the “no portion” in 20:1. despise us. The Israel-Judah hostility evidenced here led to the rebellion of Sheba (20:1–22) and eventually to the division of the united kingdom (1 Kings 12:1–24).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 20:1 worthless man. See note on 1 Sam. 2:12. Sheba. Though nothing is known of this man, he must have been a person of considerable power and influence to raise so sudden and extensive a sedition. He belonged to Saul's tribe, where adherents of Saul's dynasty were still many, and he could see the disgust of the 10 tribes for Judah's presumption in the restoration. He sought to overturn David's authority in Israel. no portion . . . inheritance. Sheba's declaration that the northern tribes had no part in David's realm was similar to words later used in 1 Kings 12:16 when Israel seceded from the united kingdom under Jeroboam.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 20:2 Israel withdrew from David. Once the 10 tribes withdrew, Judah was left alone to escort the king to Jerusalem. It seems that the disloyalty of the north continued as long as Sheba lived.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 20:3 the ten concubines. When David returned to Jerusalem, he confined his concubines to a life of abstinence because of their sexual relations with Absalom (16:21–22).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 20:4 Amasa. Amasa was Absalom's general (see note on 17:25), whom David promised would be commander of his army after Absalom's death (see note on 19:13). Amasa was installed publicly because David thought it would be seen favorably by the 10 tribes. He was told to assemble an army in three days to end the insurrection started by Sheba, but could not in such a brief time.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 20:6 Abishai. See note on 2:18. When Amasa failed to follow David's orders, David did not reinstate Joab, his former general who had Absalom killed against David's orders (see 18:5–15), but appointed Joab's brother Abishai as commander of his forces. your lord's servants. Called "Joab's men" in v. 7. Abishai was to take the army of Joab to pursue the rebel leader. Joab went also, determined to take vengeance on his rival Amasa.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 20:7 the Cherethites and the Pelethites. See note on 1 Sam. 30:14. mighty men. Those men are listed in 2 Sam. 23:8–39.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 20:8 Gibeon. See note on 2:12. Amasa came to meet them. Having collected some forces, he marched rapidly and came first to Gibeon, thus assuming the role of commander. It is possible that Joab purposely let the sword fall from its sheath as he approached Amasa, in order that stooping as if to pick up the accidentally fallen weapon, he might salute the new general with his sword already in hand, without generating any suspicion of his intent. He used this ploy to gain the position to stab the new commander, whom he considered as usurping his post.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 20:9 my brother. See note on 17:25. by the beard. Joab, present with his men, seized Amasa by his beard with his right hand apparently to give the kiss of greeting. Instead, with his left hand, he thrust his sword into Amasa's stomach (cf. 3:27).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 20:11 one of Joab's young men. Joab was reinstated as commander of David's army by his troops. It is a striking illustration of Joab's influence over the army that he could murder the commander whom David had chosen, a killing right before their eyes, and they would follow him unanimously as their leader in pursuit of Sheba.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 20:14 Abel of Beth-maacah. I.e., Abel Beth-maacah. About 25 miles north of the Sea of Galilee, 4 miles west of the city of Dan.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 20:16–19 This woman (probably a prominent judge in the city) was making an appeal based on the laws of warfare in Deut. 20:10 that required the assaulting army to offer peace before making war. She pleaded for Joab to ask the city if they wanted peace and thus avert war (2 Sam. 20:18).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 20:19 a mother in Israel. This is a reference to a specially honored city or a recognized capital of the region. the heritage of the Lord. This refers to the land of Israel (see 1 Sam. 10:1).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 20:20–21 The ruthless general was a patriot at heart, who on taking the leader of the insurrection, was ready to end further bloodshed. The woman eagerly responded with the promise of Sheba's head.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 20:21 hill country of Ephraim. A large, partially forested plateau that extended into the tribal territory of Benjamin from the north.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 20:22 David could not get rid of Joab, though he hated him. He had to ignore the murder of Amasa and recognize Joab as army commander.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 20:23–26 Cf. a similar list in 8:15–18.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 20:24 Adoram. Rendered “Adoniram” in 1 Kings 4:6 and 5:14. He was in charge of the “forced labor,” a term used to describe the hard labor imposed on subjugated peoples (Ex. 1:11; Josh. 16:10; Judg. 1:28). Adoram oversaw the forced labor on such projects as the building of highways, temples, and houses.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 20:25 Sheva. He replaced Seraiah (8:17) as David’s secretary.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 20:26 Ira. He was David’s royal adviser.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 21:1–24:25 This is the final division of 2 Samuel. Like the book of Judges (Judg. 17:1–21:25), it concludes with this epilogue that contains material, not necessarily chronological, that further describes David’s reign. There is a striking literary arrangement of the sections in this division of the book. The first and last sections (2 Sam. 21:1–14; 24:1–25) are narratives that describe two occurrences of the Lord’s anger against Israel. The second and fifth sections (21:15–22; 23:8–39) are accounts of David’s warriors. The third and fourth sections (22:1–51; 23:1–7) record two of David’s songs.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 21:1–14 This event occurred after the display of David’s kindness to Mephibosheth (v. 7; cf. 9:1–13) and before Shimei’s cursing of David (cf. 16:7–8).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 21:1 a famine. When Israel experienced three years of famine, David recognized it as divine discipline (cf. Deut. 28:47–48) and sought God for the reason.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 21:1–2 bloodguilt on Saul and on his house. By divine revelation David learned that the famine was a result of sin committed by Saul; namely, that he had slain the Gibeonites. There is no further reference to this event. Saul was probably trying to do as God commanded and rid the land of the remnant of heathen in order that Israel might prosper (v. 2). But in his zeal he had committed a serious sin; he had broken a covenant that had been made 400 years before between Joshua and the Gibeonites, who were in the land when Israel took possession of it. They deceived Joshua into making the covenant, but it was, nevertheless, a covenant (see Josh. 9:3–27). Covenant keeping was no small matter to God (see Josh. 9:20).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 21:2 Gibeonites . . . Amorites. Names sometimes used to designate all the pre-Israelite inhabitants of Canaan (Gen. 15:16; Josh. 24:18; Judg. 6:10). More precisely, the Gibeonites were called Hivites (Josh. 9:7; 11:19).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 21:3 the heritage of the Lord. See note on 20:19.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 21:6 seven of his sons. “Seven” symbolized completeness, not necessarily the number of Gibeonites slain by Saul. “Sons” could be either sons or grandsons. Gibeah of Saul. See note on 1 Sam. 11:4.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 21:7 the oath of the Lord . . . between David and Jonathan. Because Mephibosheth was the son of Jonathan, he was spared in accordance with the covenant between David and Jonathan (1 Sam. 20:14–15) and also between David and Saul (see note on 1 Sam. 24:22).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 21:8 Rizpah. Saul’s concubine (see 3:7). Mephibosheth. A son of Saul, different from the son of Jonathan with the same name. Merab. Merab was the mother of these five sons. She was the wife of Adriel (1 Sam. 18:19). Barzillai the Meholathite. A different man than Barzillai the Gileadite (2 Sam. 17:27; 19:31).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 21:9 before the Lord. These pagans were not bound by the law of Deut. 21:22–23, which forbade leaving a dead body hanging over night. Their intention was to let the bodies hang until God signaled he was satisfied and sent rain to end the famine. Such a heathen practice, designed to propitiate their gods, was a superstition of these Gibeonites. God, in his providence, allowed this memorable retaliation as a lesson about keeping covenants and promises. the beginning of barley harvest. April (see Ruth 1:22).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 21:10 sackcloth . . . spread. Rizpah erected a tent nearby to keep watch over the bodies, to scare away birds and beasts. It was considered a disgrace for the bodies of the slain to become food for the birds and beasts (cf. Deut. 28:26; 1 Sam. 17:44–46; Rev. 19:17–18). rain fell upon them. An unseasonably late spring or early summer shower. Possibly, the rain that ended the drought.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 21:11–14 Finally, after the rain had come, David, encouraged by the example of the woman’s devotion to her dead family members, ordered the remains of Saul and Jonathan transferred from their obscure grave in Jabesh-gilead (cf. 1 Sam. 31:11–12), along with the seven sons’ bones, to the honorable family grave in Zela (cf. Josh. 18:28; 1 Sam. 10:2, “Zelzah”). This location is unknown.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 21:14 God responded to the plea. The famine ended, and God restored the land to prosperity.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 21:15–22 This section describes the defeat of four Philistine giants at the hands of David and his men. Though these events cannot be located chronologically with any certainty, the narratives of victory provide a fitting preface to David’s song of praise, which magnifies God’s deliverance (22:1–51). See 1 Chron. 20:4–8.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 21:16 the giants. The Hebrew term used in vv. 16, 18, 20, 22 is rapha. This was a term used collectively for the “Rephaim” who inhabited the land of Canaan and were noted for their inordinate size (cf. Gen. 15:19–21; Num. 13:33; Deut. 2:11; 3:11–13). The term “Rephaim” was used of the people called the “Anakim” (Deut. 2:10–11, 20–21), distinguished for their size and strength. According to Josh. 11:21–22 the “Anakim” were driven from the hill country of Israel and Judah, but remained in the Philistine cities of Gaza, Gath, and Ashdod. Though the Philistines had succumbed to the power of Israel’s army, the appearance of some great champion revived their courage and invited their hope for victory against the Israelite invaders. three hundred shekels. Approximately 7.5 lbs. a new sword. Lit., “a new thing.” The weapon was not specified.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 21:17 Abishai. See note on 2:18. lamp of Israel. David, who with God’s help brought the light of prosperity and well-being to the whole land of Israel, was the symbol of Israel’s hope and promise of security. Continued blessing resided in David and his house.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 21:18 Gob. Near Gezer (cf. 1 Chron. 20:4), about 22 miles west of Jerusalem.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 21:19 Elhanan . . . struck down Goliath. The minor scribal omission of “the brother of” (in the Hebrew) belongs in this verse, based on 1 Chron. 20:5 which includes them, and because clearly the Scripture says that David killed Goliath as recorded in 1 Sam. 17:50. There has probably been a scribal error in the text which should read, “Elhanan . . . killed the brother of Goliath.” A second possible solution is that Elhanan and David may be different names for the same person, just as Solomon had another name (cf. 2 Sam. 12:24–25). A third solution is perhaps that there were two giants named Goliath.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 21:20 Gath. About 12 miles south of Geza and 26 miles southwest of Jerusalem.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 21:21 Jonathan. David's nephew, the son of Shimeah, also called Shammah in 1 Sam. 16:9, different from the son of Saul.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 22:1–51 David's song of praise here is almost identical to Ps. 18. This song also has many verbal links to Hannah's prayer (see note on 1 Sam. 2:1–10) and together with it forms the framework for the books of Samuel. This song focuses on the Lord's deliverance of David from all his enemies, in response to which David praised the Lord, his deliverer (2 Sam. 22:2–4). The major part of the song (vv. 5–46) states the reason for this praise of the Lord. David first describes how the Lord had delivered him from his enemies (vv. 5–20), then declares why the Lord had delivered him from his enemies (vv. 21–28), then states the extent of the Lord's deliverance from his enemies (vv. 29–46). The song concludes with David's resolve to praise his delivering Lord, even among the Gentiles (vv. 47–51). See notes on Ps. 18:1–50 for a more detailed explanation.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 22:1 all his enemies. Cf. 7:1–9 and 11. David composed this song toward the end of his life when the Lord had given him a settled kingdom and the promise of the Messianic seed embodied in the Davidic Covenant.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 22:2–4 This introduction contains the sum and substance of the whole psalm, as David extols God as his defense, refuge, and deliverer in the many experiences of his agitated life.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 22:2 rock. See notes on 1 Sam. 2:2 and Deut. 32:4.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 22:3 shield. See Gen. 15:1 and Deut. 33:29. horn. See note on 1 Sam. 2:1. stronghold. A secure, lofty retreat that the enemy finds inaccessible. As such, the Lord is the refuge of his chosen one, secure from all hostile attacks.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 22:5–7 David described how he cried to the Lord in the midst of his distress.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 22:5–6 death. Pictured as violent floods of water like waves ready to break over him and traps set by a hunter to snare him, David faced the reality of imminent death in his personal experience, most frequently when pursued by Saul, but also in Absalom’s conspiracy and in certain wars (see 21:16).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 22:7 distress. The particular trouble David was referring to was the potential of his imminent death (vv. 5–6). his temple. God’s heavenly dwelling place (cf. Ps. 11:4; 29:9).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 22:8–16 In reaffirming the great majesty of God, David described his coming in power from heaven to earth (cf. Ex. 19:16–20; Ezek. 1:4–28; Hab. 3:3–15).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 22:14 The Lord thundered. See note on 1 Sam. 7:10.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 22:17–20 In personalizing what he just said in vv. 8–16, David explained how God reached down from heaven to save him on the earth.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 22:20 he delighted in me. This expression that the Lord was “pleased” with David (cf. 15:26) provided a transition to 22:21–28, where David described the basis of God’s saving deliverance.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 22:21–25 David was not claiming to be righteous or sinless in any absolute sense. Rather, David believed God, was considered righteous by faith, and desired to please the Lord and be obedient to his commands. Thus he was blameless when compared with his enemies.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 22:26–28 David stated the basic principles that the Lord follows in delivering or judging people.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 22:28 humble . . . haughty. For the idea that the Lord saves the humble, but brings low the proud, see also 1 Sam. 2:4–7.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 22:29–46 Empowered by God (vv. 29–37), David was able to gain total victory over his enemies (vv. 38–43), both in Israel and throughout the nations (vv. 44–46).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 22:29 my lamp. David as the “lamp” of Israel (see note on 21:17) reflected the light of the glory of God, who was the “Lamp” of David himself.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 22:50 Paul quotes this in Rom. 15:9.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 22:51 his king . . . his anointed. These terms are singular and thus do not seem to refer to David and his descendants. Rather they refer to the promised “descendant,” the Messiah of 7:12. The deliverance and ultimate triumph of David foreshadow that of the coming Messiah. At the end of his life, David looked back in faith at God’s promises and forward in hope to their fulfillment in the coming of a future “king,” the “anointed one” (see notes on 1 Sam. 2:10).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 23:1–7 last words. This is David’s final literary legacy to Israel, not his final oral speech (see 1 Kings 2:1–10).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 23:1 the oracle. “Declares as an oracle” (cf. Num. 24:3, 15; 1 Sam. 2:30; Prov. 30:1). David realized that the psalms he wrote, as directed by the Holy Spirit, were the very word of God.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 23:2 Spirit. God’s Holy Spirit is the divine instrument of revelation and inspiration (cf. Zech. 7:12; 2 Tim. 3:16–17; 2 Pet. 1:19–21).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 23:3–4 one rules. These words begin the record of direct speech from God, whose ideal king must exercise his authority with justice, in complete submission to divine sovereignty. Such a king is like the helpful rays of sun at dawn and the life-giving showers that nourish the earth. This ideal king was identified in the OT as the coming Messiah (cf. Isa. 9:6–7).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 23:5 does not my house stand so with God? In response to God’s standard for his ideal king, David confessed that his house had not always ruled over God’s people in righteousness and in the fear of God, and thus was not the fulfillment of 7:12–16. Further, none of the kings of David’s line (according to 1 and 2 Kings) met God’s standard of righteous obedience. everlasting covenant. The promise given by the Lord to David recorded in 2 Sam. 7:12–16 is here referred to as a “covenant,” a binding agreement from the Lord that he will fulfill. In spite of the fact that David and his own household had failed (chs. 9–20), David rightly believed that the Lord would not fail, but would be faithful to his promise of hope for the future in the descendant of David, the Eternal King, the anointed one (see note on 7:12), who would establish a kingdom of righteousness and peace forever.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 23:6 worthless. Lit., “Belial” (see note on 1 Sam. 2:12). The wicked enemies of God will be cast aside in judgment when the Messiah, the fulfillment of the Davidic Covenant, establishes his rule upon the earth (cf. Isa. 63:1–6).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 23:8–39 This fifth inset recalls David’s mighty men. See 1 Chron. 11:10–41.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 23:8 the mighty men. David’s bravest warriors and most outstanding soldiers are memorialized. This list appears in 1 Chron. 11:11–41, with slight variations. According to 1 Chron. 11:10, these men helped David to become king. The listing of these men is presented in three sets: first, “the three” (2 Sam. 23:8–12); second, two more honored other than “the thirty,” but not attaining to “the three” (vv. 18–23); third, “the thirty” which is actually 32 (vv. 24–39). This list is expanded by 16 names in 1 Chron. 11:41–47. eight hundred. Probably a textual error. 1 Chron. 11:11 has “three hundred,” the likely number.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 23:13–17 three of the thirty. Three of the soldiers mentioned in vv. 34–39.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 23:13 cave of Adullam. See note on 1 Sam. 22:1. valley of Rephaim. See note on 5:18.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 23:14 stronghold. See note on 2 Sam. 22:3.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 23:16 poured it out to the Lord. Because David’s men brought him water from Bethlehem’s well at the risk of their own lives, he considered it as “blood” and refused to drink it. Instead, he poured it out on the ground as a sacrifice to the Lord (cf. Gen. 35:14; Ex. 30:9; Lev. 23:13, 18, 37).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 23:18 Abishai. See note on 2:18.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 23:20 Benaiah. See note on 8:18.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 23:24 Asahel. See note on 2:18.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 23:24–39 thirty. A technical term for a small military contingent, named “the thirty” since it usually consisted of around 30 men, whereas 32 men are listed here, counting Joab.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 23:39 Uriah. Here is inserted a mention of one of David's great soldiers, a reminder of David's great sin (11:1–27), and a preparation for David's further failure recorded in 24:1–10. thirty-seven. The three (23:8–12) with Abishai (vv. 18–19) and Benaiah (vv. 20–23) plus the 32 men of "the thirty" (vv. 24–39).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 24:1–17 See notes on 1 Chron. 21:1–16.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 24:1 Again. A second outbreak of the divine wrath occurred after the three-year famine recorded in 21:1. against Israel. The inciting of David to conduct a census was a punishment on Israel from the Lord for some unspecified sins. Perhaps sins of pride and ambition had led him to increase the size of his army unnecessarily and place heavy burdens of support on the people. Whatever the sin, it is clear God was dissatisfied with David's motives, goals, and actions and brought judgment. he incited David. See note on 1 Chron. 21:1. number Israel and Judah. A census was usually for military purposes, which seems to be the case here (see 2 Sam. 24:9). Numbering the potential army of Israel had been done in the past (Num. 1:1–2; 26:1–4). However, this census of Israel's potential army did not have the sanction of the Lord and proceeded from wrong motives. David either wanted to glory in the size of his fighting force or take more territory than what the Lord had granted him. He shifted his trust from God to military power (this is a constant theme in the Psalms; cf. Ps. 20:7; 25:2; 44:6).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 24:2 from Dan to Beersheba. A proverbial statement for all the land of Israel from north to south.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 24:3 but why . . . ? Although Joab protested the plan, he was overruled by David with no reason for the census being stated by David.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 24:5 Aroer. The census began about 14 miles east of the Dead Sea on the northern bank of the Arnon River, in the southeastern corner of Israel, and continued in a counterclockwise direction through the land. Jazer. A town in the territory of Gad about 6 miles west of Rabbah. Jazer was close to the border of the Ammonite territory.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 24:6 Gilead. The Transjordan territory north of Gad. Dan. See esv footnote, "Dan-jaan." Either a village near the town of Dan or a fuller name for Dan itself. Dan is 25 miles north of the Sea of Galilee.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 24:7 Tyre. The census takers seem to have gone north from Dan and then west toward Sidon before turning south toward Tyre, a city on the coast of the Mediterranean Sea ruled by David’s friend Hiram (see note on 5:11), but remaining in Israelite territory. Beersheba. A major settlement in the south of the land of Israel located about 45 miles southwest of Jerusalem.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 24:9 800,000 . . . 500,000. First Chronicles 21:5 has “1,100,000” and “470,000,” respectively. A solution can be found in seeing the 1 Chronicles figure including all the available men of military age, whether battle seasoned or not. But the 2 Samuel figure could be 800,000 battle-seasoned soldiers with the additional 300,000 being of military age who were in reserve but never fought, or it could be the 288,000 in the standing army (1 Chron. 27:1–15) rounded off to 300,000. Either of these two contingents would make up the 1.1 million number of 1 Chron. 21. As far as Judah was concerned, the number in 2 Samuel is 30,000 more than the 1 Chronicles figure. First Chronicles makes it clear that the numbering was not completed by Joab, because he didn’t get to the census regarding Benjamin (or Levi) before David came under conviction about completing it all. Joab was glad to stop when he saw the king’s changed heart. Because of the procedure selected (see note on 2 Sam. 24:5) the numbering of Benjamin would have been last, so their number was not included. In the record of 2 Samuel the figure for Judah included the already-known number of 30,000 troops from Benjamin, hence the total of 500,000. The Benjamites remained loyal to David and Judah.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 24:10 David’s heart struck him. Although God’s prohibition is not clear in the text, it was clear to David. sinned greatly . . . done very foolishly. David recognized the enormity of his willful rebellion against God. David’s insight saw the seriousness of his error in relying on numerical strength instead of on the Lord, who can deliver by many or few (see 1 Sam. 14:6).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 24:11 Gad. See note on 1 Sam. 22:5.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 24:13 famine . . . foes . . . pestilence. David was given a choice of three possible punishments for his sin of numbering the people: 1) seven years of famine in Israel (see note on 1 Chron. 21:12); 2) three months of fleeing from his enemies; or 3) three days of pestilence in the land. Implicit in the threat of pursuit by “foes” was death by the sword. Famine, sword, and plague were OT punishments of the Lord against his sinful people (Lev. 26:23– 26; Deut. 28:21–26; Jer. 14:12).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 24:14 fall into the hand of the Lord. David knew that the Lord would be more merciful than his enemies, so he took the third option.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 24:16 relented. Or “repented, grieved,” an expression of God’s deep sorrow concerning man’s sin and evil (see 1 Sam. 15:11, 29).

Araunah the Jebusite. Araunah (or Ornan) was a pre-Israelite inhabitant of Jerusalem. He owned a threshing floor north of the citadel of Jerusalem and outside its fortified area.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 24:17 let your hand be against me. Rather than witness the further destruction of his people, David called down the wrath upon himself and his own family (cf. Ex. 32:32).

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 24:18–25 See 1 Chron. 21:18–27.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 24:18 altar. At this time, the altar associated with the tabernacle of Moses was located at Gibeon (1 Chron. 21:29; 2 Chron. 1:2–6). David was instructed by Gad to build another altar to the Lord at the place where the plague had stopped. This indicated where the Lord’s choice was for the building of his temple.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 24:24 cost me nothing. Sacrifice is an essential part of worship and service to God (see Mal 1:6–10; 2 Cor. 8:1–5). fifty shekels. A little more than a pound of silver. First Chronicles 21:25 says David paid 600 shekels of gold. How is this discrepancy resolved? In the initial transaction, David either bought or leased the small threshing floor (usually 30 or 40 feet square) and purchased the oxen. Fifty shekels of silver was appropriate. After that, 1 Chron. 21:25 says he bought “the site,” costing 180 times as much, and referring to the entire area of Mount Moriah.

2 SAMUEL—NOTE ON 24:25 the plague was averted. This indicates that judgment is not the final action of the Lord toward either Israel or the house of David. God will fulfill the Abrahamic and Davidic Covenants (cf. Ezek. 37).

Introduction to 1 Kings

Title

First and Second kIngs were originally one book, called in the Hebrew text, “Kings,” from the first word in 1:1. The Greek translation of the OT, the Septuagint (LXX), divided the book in two, and this was followed by the Latin Vulgate (Vulgate) version and English translations. The division was for the convenience of copying this lengthy book on scrolls and codexes and was not based on features of content. Modern Hebrew Bibles title the books “Kings A” and “Kings B.” The LXX and Vulgate connected Kings with the books of Samuel, so that the titles in the LXX are “The Third and Fourth Books of Kingdoms” and in the Vulgate “Third and Fourth Kings.” The books of 1 and 2 Samuel and 1 and 2 Kings combined are a chronicle of the entire history of Judah’s and Israel’s kingship from Saul to Zedekiah. First and Second Chronicles provide only the history of Judah’s monarchy.

Author and Date

Jewish tradition proposed that Jeremiah wrote Kings, though this is unlikely because the final event recorded in the book (see 2 Kings 25:27–30) occurred in Babylon in 561 B.C. Jeremiah never went to Babylon, but to Egypt (Jer. 43:1–7), and would have been at least 86 years old by 561 B.C. Actually, the identity of the unnamed author remains unknown. Since the ministry of prophets is emphasized in Kings, it seems that the author was most likely an unnamed prophet of the Lord who lived in exile with Israel in Babylon.

Kings was written between 561–538 B.C. Since the last narrated event (2 Kings 25:27–30) sets the earliest possible date of completion and because there is no record of the end of the Babylonian captivity in Kings, the release from exile (538 B.C.) identifies the latest possible writing date. This date is sometimes challenged on the basis of “to this day” statements in 1 Kings 8:8; 9:13, 20, 21; 10:12; 12:19; 2 Kings 2:22; 8:22; 10:27; 14:7; 16:6; 17:23, 34, 41; 21:15. However, it is best to understand these statements as those of the sources used by the author, rather than statements of the author himself.

It is clear that the author used a variety of sources in compiling this book, including “the Book of the Acts of Solomon” (1 Kings 11:41), “the Book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Israel” (1 Kings 14:19; 15:31; 16:5, 14, 20, 27; 22:39; 2 Kings 1:18; 10:34; 13:8, 12; 14:15, 28; 15:11, 15, 21, 26, 31), and “the Book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Judah” (1 Kings 14:29; 15:7, 23; 22:45; 2 Kings 8:23; 12:19; 14:18; 15:6, 36; 16:19; 20:20; 21:17, 25; 23:28; 24:5). Further, Isa. 36:1–39:8 provided information used in 2 Kings 18:9–20:19, and Jer. 52:31–34 seems to be the source for 2 Kings 25:27–29. This explanation posits a single inspired author, living in Babylon during the exile, using these preexilic source materials at his disposal.

Background and Setting

A distinction must be made between the setting of the books’ sources and that of the books’ author. The source material was written by participants in and eyewitnesses of the events. It was reliable information that was historically accurate concerning the sons of Israel, from the death of David and the accession of Solomon (971 B.C.) to the destruction of the temple and Jerusalem by the Babylonians (586 B.C.). Thus, Kings traces the histories of two sets of kings and two nations of disobedient people, Israel and Judah, both of whom were growing indifferent to God’s law and his prophets and were headed for captivity.

The book of Kings is not only accurate history, but interpreted history. The author, an exile in Babylon, wished to communicate the lessons of Israel’s history to the exiles. Specifically, he taught the exilic community why the Lord’s judgment of exile had come. The writer established early in his narrative that the Lord required obedience by the kings to the Mosaic law, if their kingdom was to receive his blessing; disobedience would bring exile (1 Kings 9:3–9). The sad reality that history revealed was that all the kings of Israel and the majority of the kings of Judah “did evil in the sight of the Lord.” These evil kings were apostates, who led their people to sin by not confronting idolatry, but sanctioning it. Because of the kings’ failure, the Lord sent his prophets to confront both the monarchs and the people with their sin and their need to return to him. Because the message of the prophets was rejected, the prophets foretold that the nation(s) would be carried into exile (2 Kings 17:13–23; 21:10–15). Like every prophecy uttered by the prophets in Kings, this word from the Lord came to pass (2 Kings 17:5–6; 25:1–11). Therefore, Kings interpreted the people’s experience of exile and helped them to see why they had suffered God’s punishment for idolatry. It also explained that just as God had shown mercy to Ahab (1 Kings 22:27–29) and Jehoiachin (2 Kings 25:27–30), so he was willing to show them mercy.

The predominant geographical setting of Kings is the whole land of Israel, from Dan to Beersheba (1 Kings 4:25), including Transjordan. Four invading nations played a dominant role in the affairs of Israel and Judah from 971 to 561 B.C. In the tenth century B.C., Egypt impacted Israel's history during the reigns of Solomon and Rehoboam (1 Kings 3:1; 11:14–22, 40; 12:2; 14:25–27). Syria (Aram) posed a great threat to Israel's security during the ninth century B.C., c. 890–800 B.C. (1 Kings 15:9–22; 20:1–34; 22:1–4, 29–40; 2 Kings 6:8–7:20; 8:7–15; 10:32–33; 12:17–18; 13:22–25). The years from c. 800 to 750 B.C. were a half-century of peace and prosperity for Israel and Judah, because Assyria neutralized Syria and did not threaten to the south. This changed during the kingship of Tiglath-pileser III (2 Kings 15:19, 20, 29). From the mid-eighth century to the late seventh century B.C., Assyria terrorized Palestine, finally conquering and destroying Israel (the northern kingdom) in 722 B.C. (2 Kings 17:4–6) and besieging Jerusalem in 701 B.C. (2 Kings 18:17–19:37). From 612 to 539 B.C., Babylon was the dominant power in the ancient world. Babylon invaded Judah (the southern kingdom) three times, with the destruction of Jerusalem and the temple occurring in 586 B.C. during that third assault (2 Kings 24:1–25:21).

Historical and Theological Themes

Kings concentrates, then, on the history of the sons of Israel from 971 to 561 B.C. First Kings 1:1–11:43 deals with Solomon's accession and reign (971–931 B.C.). The two divided kingdoms of Israel and Judah (931–722 B.C.) are covered in 1 Kings 12:1; 2 Kings 17:41. The author arranged the material in a distinctive way in that the narration follows the kings in both the north and the south. For each reign described, there is the following literary framework. Every king is introduced with: 1) his name and relation to his predecessor; 2) his date of accession in relationship to the year of the contemporary ruler in the other kingdom; 3) his age on coming to the throne (for kings of Judah only); 4) his length of reign; 5) his place of reign; 6) his mother's name (for Judah only); and 7) spiritual appraisal of his reign. This introduction is followed by a narration of the events that occurred during the reign of each king. The details of this narration vary widely. Each reign is concluded with: 1) a citation of sources; 2) additional historical notes; 3) notice of death; 4) notice of burial; 5) the name of the successor; and 6) in a few instances, an added postscript (e.g., 1 Kings 15:32;

2 Kings 10:36). Second Kings 18:1–25:21 deals with the time when Judah survived alone (722–586 B.C.). Two concluding paragraphs speak of events after the Babylonian exile (2 Kings 25:22–26, 27–30).

Three theological themes are stressed in Kings. First, the Lord judged Israel and Judah because of their disobedience to his law (2 Kings 17:7–23). This unfaithfulness on the part of the people was furthered by the apostasy of the evil kings who led them into idolatry (2 Kings 17:21–22; 21:11), so the Lord exercised his righteous wrath against his rebellious people. Second, the word of the true prophets came to pass (1 Kings 13:2–3; 22:15–28; 2 Kings 23:16; 24:2). This confirmed that the Lord did keep his word, even his warnings of judgment. Third, the Lord remembered his promise to David (1 Kings 11:12–13, 34–36; 15:4; 2 Kings 8:19). Even though the kings of the Davidic line proved themselves to be disobedient to the Lord, he did not bring David’s family to an end as he did the families of Jeroboam I, Omri, and Jehu in Israel. Even as the book closes, the line of David still exists (2 Kings 25:27–30), so there is hope for the coming “seed” of David (see 2 Sam. 7:12–16). The Lord is thus seen as faithful, and his word is trustworthy.

Interpretive Challenges

The major interpretive challenge in Kings concerns the chronology of the kings of Israel and Judah. Though abundant chronological data is presented in the book of Kings, this data is difficult to interpret for two reasons. First, there seems to be internal inconsistency in the information given. For instance, 1 Kings 16:23 states that Omri, king of Israel, began to reign in the thirty-first year of Asa, king of Judah, and that he reigned 12 years. But according to 1 Kings 16:29, Omri was succeeded by his son Ahab in the thirty-eighth year of Asa, giving Omri a reign of only seven years, not 12 (for resolution, see note on 1 Kings 16:23). Second, from extrabiblical sources (Greek, Assyrian, and Babylonian), correlated with astronomical data, a reliable series of dates can be calculated from 892 to 566 B.C. Since Ahab and Jehu, kings of Israel, are believed to be mentioned in Assyrian records, 853 B.C. can be fixed as the year of Ahab’s death and 841 B.C. as the year Jehu began to reign. With these fixed dates, it is possible to work backward and forward to determine that the date of the division of Israel from Judah was c. 931 B.C., the fall of Samaria 722 B.C., and the fall of Jerusalem 586 B.C. But when the total years of royal reigns in Kings are added, the number for Israel is 241 years (not the 210 years of 931 to 722

B.C.) and Judah 393 years (not the 346 years of 931 to 586 B.C.). It is recognized that in both kingdoms there were some co-regencies, i.e., a period of rulership when two kings, usually father and son, ruled at the same time, so the overlapping years were counted twice in the total for both kings. Further, different methods of reckoning the years of a king's rule and even different calendars were used at differing times in the two kingdoms, resulting in the seeming internal inconsistencies. The general accuracy of the chronology in Kings can be demonstrated and confirmed.

A second major interpretive challenge deals with Solomon's relationship to the Abrahamic and Davidic Covenants. First Kings 4:20–21 has been interpreted by some as the fulfillment of the promises given to Abraham (cf. Gen. 15:18–21; 22:17). However, according to Num. 34:6, the western border of the land promised to Abraham was the Mediterranean Sea. In 1 Kings 5:1ff., Hiram is seen as the independent king of Tyre (along the Mediterranean), dealing with Solomon as an equal. Solomon's empire was not the fulfillment of the land promise given to Abraham by the Lord, although a great portion of that land was under Solomon's control. Further, the statements of Solomon in 1 Kings 5:5 and 8:20 are his claims to be the promised seed of the Davidic Covenant (cf. 2 Sam. 7:12–16). The author of Kings holds out the possibility that Solomon's temple was the fulfillment of the Lord's promise to David. However, while the conditions for the fulfillment of the promise to David are reiterated to Solomon (1 Kings 6:12), it is clear that Solomon did not meet these conditions (1 Kings 11:9–13). In fact, none of the historical kings in the house of David met the condition of complete obedience that was to be the sign of the Promised One. According to Kings, the fulfillment of the Abrahamic and Davidic Covenants did not take place in Israel's past, thus laying the foundation for the latter prophets (Isaiah, Jeremiah, Ezekiel, and the Twelve) who would point Israel to a future hope under Messiah when the covenants would be fulfilled (see Isa. 9:6–7).

1 Kings

David in His Old Age

1 KINGS 1 †† Now King David was old and advanced in years. And although they covered him with clothes, he could not get warm. <sup>2</sup>† Therefore his servants said to him, “Let a young woman be sought for my lord the king, and let her wait on the king and be in his service. Let her lie in your arms, [\[1\]](#) that my lord the king may be warm.” <sup>3</sup>† So they sought for a beautiful young woman throughout all the territory of Israel, and found Abishag the Shunammite, and brought her to the king. <sup>4</sup>† The young woman was very beautiful, and she was of service to the king and attended to him, but the king knew her not.

Adonijah Sets Himself Up as King

<sup>5</sup>† Now Adonijah the son of Haggith exalted himself, saying, “I will be king.” And he prepared for himself chariots and horsemen, and fifty men to run before him. <sup>6</sup> His father had never at any time displeased him by asking, “Why have you done thus and so?” He was also a very handsome man, and he was born next after Absalom. <sup>7</sup>† He conferred with Joab the son of Zeruiah and with Abiathar the priest. And they followed Adonijah and helped him. <sup>8</sup>† But Zadok the priest and Benaiah the son of Jehoiada and Nathan the prophet and Shimei and Rei and David's mighty men were not with Adonijah.

<sup>9</sup>† Adonijah sacrificed sheep, oxen, and fattened cattle by the Serpent's Stone, which is beside En-rogel, and he invited all his brothers, the king's sons, and all the royal officials of Judah, <sup>10</sup> but he did not invite Nathan the prophet or Benaiah or the mighty men or Solomon his brother.

Nathan and Bathsheba Before David

<sup>11</sup>†† Then Nathan said to Bathsheba the mother of Solomon, “Have you not heard that Adonijah the son of Haggith has become king and David our lord does not know it? <sup>12</sup>† Now therefore come, let me give you advice, that you may save your own life and the life of your son Solomon. <sup>13</sup>† Go in at once to King David, and say to him, ‘Did you not, my lord the king, swear to your servant, saying, “Solomon your son shall reign after me, and he shall sit on my throne”? Why then is Adonijah king?’ <sup>14</sup>Then while you are still speaking with the king, I also will come in after you and confirm [2] your words.”

<sup>15</sup>So Bathsheba went to the king in his chamber (now the king was very old, and Abishag the Shunammite was attending to the king). <sup>16</sup>Bathsheba bowed and paid homage to the king, and the king said, “What do you desire?” <sup>17</sup>She said to him, “My lord, you swore to your servant by the LORD your God, saying, ‘Solomon your son shall reign after me, and he shall sit on my throne.’ <sup>18</sup>And now, behold, Adonijah is king, although you, my lord the king, do not know it. <sup>19</sup>He has sacrificed oxen, fattened cattle, and sheep in abundance, and has invited all the sons of the king, Abiathar the priest, and Joab the commander of the army, but Solomon your servant he has not invited. <sup>20</sup>And now, my lord the king, the eyes of all Israel are on you, to tell them who shall sit on the throne of my lord the king after him. <sup>21</sup>Otherwise it will come to pass, when my lord the king sleeps with his fathers, that I and my son Solomon will be counted offenders.”

<sup>22</sup>While she was still speaking with the king, Nathan the prophet came in. <sup>23</sup>And they told the king, “Here is Nathan the prophet.” And when he came in before the king, he bowed before the king, with his face to the ground. <sup>24</sup>And Nathan said, “My lord the king, have you said, ‘Adonijah shall reign after me, and he shall sit on my throne’? <sup>25</sup>For he has gone down this day and has sacrificed oxen, fattened cattle, and sheep in abundance, and has invited all the king's sons, the commanders [3] of the army, and Abiathar the priest. And behold, they are eating and drinking before him, and saying, ‘Long live King Adonijah!’ <sup>26</sup>But me, your servant, and Zadok the priest, and Benaiah the son of Jehoiada, and your servant Solomon he has not invited. <sup>27</sup>Has this thing been brought about by my lord the king and you have not told your servants who should sit on the throne of my lord the king after him?”

Solomon Anointed King

<sup>28</sup>‡ Then King David answered, “Call Bathsheba to me.” So she came into the king's presence and stood before the king. <sup>29</sup>‡ And the king swore, saying, “As the LORD lives, who has redeemed my soul out of every adversity, <sup>30</sup>as I swore to you by the LORD, the God of Israel, saying, ‘Solomon your son shall reign after me, and he shall sit on my throne in my place,’ even so will I do this day.”

<sup>31</sup>Then Bathsheba bowed with her face to the ground and paid homage to the king and said, “May my lord King David live forever!”

<sup>32</sup>King David said, “Call to me Zadok the priest, Nathan the prophet, and Benaiah the son of Jehoiada.” So they came before the king. <sup>33</sup>‡And the king said to them, “Take with you the servants of your lord and have Solomon my son ride on my own mule, and bring him down to Gihon. <sup>34</sup>‡And let Zadok the priest and Nathan the prophet there anoint him king over Israel. Then blow the trumpet and say, ‘Long live King Solomon!’ <sup>35</sup>‡You shall then come up after him, and he shall come and sit on my throne, for he shall be king in my place. And I have appointed him to be ruler over Israel and over Judah.” <sup>36</sup>And Benaiah the son of Jehoiada answered the king, “Amen! May the LORD, the God of my lord the king, say so. <sup>37</sup>As the LORD has been with my lord the king, even so may he be with Solomon, and make his throne greater than the throne of my lord King David.”

<sup>38</sup>So Zadok the priest, Nathan the prophet, and Benaiah the son of Jehoiada, and the Cherethites and the Pelethites went down and had Solomon ride on King David's mule and brought him to Gihon. <sup>39</sup>‡There Zadok the priest took the horn of oil from the tent and anointed Solomon. Then they blew the trumpet, and all the people said, “Long live King Solomon!” <sup>40</sup>And all the people went up after him, playing on pipes, and rejoicing with great joy, so that the earth was split by their noise.

<sup>41</sup>‡Adonijah and all the guests who were with him heard it as they finished feasting. And when Joab heard the sound of the trumpet, he said, “What does this uproar in the city mean?” <sup>42</sup>‡While he was still speaking, behold, Jonathan the son of Abiathar the priest came. And Adonijah said, “Come in, for you are a worthy man and bring good news.” <sup>43</sup>Jonathan answered Adonijah, “No, for our lord King David has made Solomon king, <sup>44</sup>and the king has sent with him Zadok the priest, Nathan the prophet, and Benaiah the son of Jehoiada, and the Cherethites and the Pelethites. And they had him ride on the king's mule. <sup>45</sup>And Zadok the priest and Nathan the prophet have anointed him king at Gihon, and they have gone up from there rejoicing, so that the city is in an uproar. This is the noise that you have heard. <sup>46</sup>Solomon sits on the royal throne. <sup>47</sup>Moreover, the king's servants came to congratulate our lord King David, saying, ‘May your God make the name of Solomon more famous than yours, and make his throne greater than your throne.’ And the king bowed himself on the bed. <sup>48</sup>And the king also said, ‘Blessed be the LORD, the God of Israel, who has granted someone [4] to sit on my throne this day, my own eyes seeing it.’”

David's Instructions to Solomon

1 KINGS 2 †When David's time to die drew near, he commanded Solomon his son, saying, <sup>2</sup>†“I am about to go the way of all the earth. Be strong, and show yourself a man, <sup>3</sup>†and keep the charge of the LORD your God, walking in his ways and keeping his statutes, his commandments, his rules, and his testimonies, as it is written in the Law of Moses, that you may prosper in all that you do and wherever you turn, <sup>4</sup>†that the LORD may establish his word that he spoke concerning me, saying, ‘If your sons pay close attention to their way, to walk before me in faithfulness with all their heart and with all their soul, you shall not lack [\[1\]](#) a man on the throne of Israel.’

<sup>5</sup>†“Moreover, you also know what Joab the son of Zeruah did to me, how he dealt with the two commanders of the armies of Israel, Abner the son of Ner, and Amasa the son of Jether, whom he killed, avenging [\[2\]](#) in time of peace for blood that had been shed in war, and putting the blood of war [\[3\]](#) on the belt around his [\[4\]](#) waist and on the sandals on his feet. <sup>6</sup>Act therefore according to your wisdom, but do not let his gray head go down to Sheol in peace. <sup>7</sup>†But deal loyally with the sons of Barzillai the Gileadite, and let them be among those who eat at your table, for with such loyalty [\[5\]](#) they met me when I fled from Absalom your brother. <sup>8</sup>†And there is also with you Shimei the son of Gera, the Benjaminite from Bahurim, who cursed me with a grievous curse on the day when I went to Mahanaim. But when he came down to meet me at the Jordan, I swore to him by the LORD, saying, ‘I will not put you to death with the sword.’ <sup>9</sup>Now therefore do not hold him guiltless, for you are a wise man. You will know what you ought to do to him, and you shall bring his gray head down with blood to Sheol.”

The Death of David

<sup>10</sup>††Then David slept with his fathers and was buried in the city of David. <sup>11</sup>†And the time that David reigned over Israel was forty years. He reigned seven years in Hebron and thirty-three years in Jerusalem. <sup>12</sup>†So Solomon sat on the throne of David his father, and his kingdom was firmly established.

Solomon's Reign Established

And she said, “Do you come peacefully?” He said, “Peacefully.” <sup>14</sup>Then he said, “I have something to say to you.” She said, “Speak.” <sup>15</sup>†He said, “You know that the kingdom was mine, and that all Israel fully expected me to reign. However, the kingdom has turned about and become my brother's, for it was his from the LORD. <sup>16</sup>And now I have one request to make of you; do not refuse me.” She said to him, “Speak.” <sup>17</sup>†And he said, “Please ask King Solomon—he will not refuse you—to give me Abishag the Shunammite as my wife.” <sup>18</sup>Bathsheba said, “Very well; I will speak for you to the king.”

<sup>19</sup>So Bathsheba went to King Solomon to speak to him on behalf of Adonijah. And the king rose to meet her and bowed down to her. Then he sat on his throne and had a seat brought for the king's mother, and she sat on his right. <sup>20</sup>Then she said, “I have one small request to make of you; do not refuse me.” And the king said to her, “Make your request, my mother, for I will not refuse you.” <sup>21</sup>She said, “Let Abishag the Shunammite be given to Adonijah your brother as his wife.” <sup>22</sup>†King Solomon answered his mother, “And why do you ask Abishag the Shunammite for Adonijah? Ask for him the kingdom also, for he is my older brother, and on his side are Abiathar [\[6\]](#) the priest and Joab the son of Zeruiah.” <sup>23</sup>Then King Solomon swore by the LORD, saying, “God do so to me and more also if this word does not cost Adonijah his life! <sup>24</sup>†Now therefore as the LORD lives, who has established me and placed me on the throne of David my father, and who has made me a house, as he promised, Adonijah shall be put to death today.” <sup>25</sup>So King Solomon sent Benaiah the son of Jehoiada, and he struck him down, and he died.

<sup>26</sup>†And to Abiathar the priest the king said, “Go to Anathoth, to your estate, for you deserve death. But I will not at this time put you to death, because you carried the ark of the Lord GOD before David my father, and because you shared in all my father's affliction.” <sup>27</sup>†So Solomon expelled Abiathar from being priest to the LORD, thus fulfilling the word of the LORD that he had spoken concerning the house of Eli in Shiloh.

<sup>28</sup>†When the news came to Joab—for Joab had supported Adonijah although he had not supported Absalom—Joab fled to the tent of the LORD and caught hold of the horns of the altar. <sup>29</sup>And when it was told King Solomon, “Joab has fled to the tent of the LORD, and behold, he is beside the altar,” Solomon sent Benaiah the son of Jehoiada, saying, “Go, strike him down.” <sup>30</sup>So Benaiah came to the tent of the LORD and said to him, “The king commands, ‘Come out.’” But he said, “No, I will die here.” Then Benaiah brought the king word again, saying, “Thus said Joab, and thus he answered me.” <sup>31</sup>†The king replied to him, “Do as he has said, strike him down and bury him, and thus take away from me and from my father's house the guilt for the blood that Joab shed without cause. <sup>32</sup>The LORD will bring back his bloody deeds on his own head, because, without the knowledge of my father David, he attacked and killed with the sword two men more righteous and better than himself, Abner the son of Ner, commander of the army of Israel, and Amasa the son of Jether, commander of the army of Judah. <sup>33</sup>†So shall their blood come back on the head of Joab and on the head of his descendants forever. But for David and for his descendants and for his house and for his throne there shall be peace from the LORD forevermore.” <sup>34</sup>†Then Benaiah the son of Jehoiada went up and struck him down and put him to death. And he was buried in his own house in the wilderness. <sup>35</sup>The king put Benaiah the son of Jehoiada over the army in place of Joab, and the king put Zadok the priest in the place of Abiathar.

<sup>36</sup>†Then the king sent and summoned Shimei and said to him, “Build yourself a house in Jerusalem and dwell there, and do not go out from there to any place whatever. <sup>37</sup>For on the day you go out and cross the brook Kidron, know for certain that you shall die. Your blood shall be on your own head.” <sup>38</sup>And Shimei said to the king, “What you say is good; as my lord the king has said, so will your servant do.” So Shimei lived in Jerusalem many days.

<sup>39</sup>†But it happened at the end of three years that two of Shimei's servants ran away to Achish, son of Maacah, king of Gath. And when it was told Shimei, “Behold, your servants are in Gath,” <sup>40</sup>Shimei arose and saddled a donkey and went to Gath to Achish to seek his servants. Shimei went and brought his servants from Gath. <sup>41</sup>And when Solomon was told that Shimei had gone from Jerusalem to Gath and returned, <sup>42</sup>the king sent and summoned Shimei and said to him, “Did I not make you swear by the LORD and solemnly warn you, saying, ‘Know for certain that on the day you go out and go to any place whatever, you shall die’? And you said to me, ‘What you say is good; I will obey.’ <sup>43</sup>Why then have you not kept your oath to the LORD and the commandment with which I commanded you?” <sup>44</sup>The king also said to Shimei, “You know in your own heart all the harm that you did to David my father. So the LORD will bring back your harm on your own head. <sup>45</sup>†But King Solomon shall be blessed, and the throne of David shall be established before the LORD forever.” <sup>46</sup>†Then the king commanded Benaiah the son of Jehoiada, and he went out and struck him down, and he died.

So the kingdom was established in the hand of Solomon.

Solomon's Prayer for Wisdom

1 KINGS 3 †Solomon made a marriage alliance with Pharaoh king of Egypt. He took Pharaoh's daughter and brought her into the city of David until he had finished building his own house and the house of the LORD and the wall around Jerusalem. †The people were sacrificing at the high places, however, because no house had yet been built for the name of the LORD.

†Solomon loved the LORD, walking in the statutes of David his father, only he sacrificed and made offerings at the high places. ††And the king went to Gibeon to sacrifice there, for that was the great high place. Solomon used to offer a thousand burnt offerings on that altar. †At Gibeon the LORD appeared to Solomon in a dream by night, and God said, "Ask what I shall give you." †And Solomon said, "You have shown great and steadfast love to your servant David my father, because he walked before you in faithfulness, in righteousness, and in uprightness of heart toward you. And you have kept for him this great and steadfast love and have given him a son to sit on his throne this day. †And now, O LORD my God, you have made your servant king in place of David my father, although I am but a little child. I do not know how to go out or come in. †And your servant is in the midst of your people whom you have chosen, a great people, too many to be numbered or counted for multitude. †Give your servant therefore an understanding mind to govern your people, that I may discern between good and evil, for who is able to govern this your great people?"

†It pleased the Lord that Solomon had asked this. †And God said to him, "Because you have asked this, and have not asked for yourself long life or riches or the life of your enemies, but have asked for yourself understanding to discern what is right, †behold, I now do according to your word. Behold, I give you a wise and discerning mind, so that none like you has been before you and none like you shall arise after you. †I give you also what you have not asked, both riches and honor, so that no other king shall compare with you, all your days. †And if you will walk in my ways, keeping my statutes and my commandments, as your father David walked, then I will lengthen your days."

†And Solomon awoke, and behold, it was a dream. Then he came to Jerusalem and stood before the ark of the covenant of the Lord, and offered up burnt offerings and peace offerings, and made a feast for all his servants.

Solomon's Wisdom

<sup>16</sup>‡ Then two prostitutes came to the king and stood before him. <sup>17</sup>The one woman said, “Oh, my lord, this woman and I live in the same house, and I gave birth to a child while she was in the house. <sup>18</sup>Then on the third day after I gave birth, this woman also gave birth. And we were alone. There was no one else with us in the house; only we two were in the house. <sup>19</sup>And this woman's son died in the night, because she lay on him. <sup>20</sup>And she arose at midnight and took my son from beside me, while your servant slept, and laid him at her breast, and laid her dead son at my breast. <sup>21</sup>When I rose in the morning to nurse my child, behold, he was dead. But when I looked at him closely in the morning, behold, he was not the child that I had borne.” <sup>22</sup>But the other woman said, “No, the living child is mine, and the dead child is yours.” The first said, “No, the dead child is yours, and the living child is mine.” Thus they spoke before the king.

<sup>23</sup>Then the king said, “The one says, ‘This is my son that is alive, and your son is dead’; and the other says, ‘No; but your son is dead, and my son is the living one.’” <sup>24</sup>And the king said, “Bring me a sword.” So a sword was brought before the king. <sup>25</sup>‡ And the king said, “Divide the living child in two, and give half to the one and half to the other.” <sup>26</sup>Then the woman whose son was alive said to the king, because her heart yearned for her son, “Oh, my lord, give her the living child, and by no means put him to death.” But the other said, “He shall be neither mine nor yours; divide him.” <sup>27</sup>Then the king answered and said, “Give the living child to the first woman, and by no means put him to death; she is his mother.” <sup>28</sup>‡ And all Israel heard of the judgment that the king had rendered, and they stood in awe of the king, because they perceived that the wisdom of God was in him to do justice.

Solomon's Officials

1 KINGS 4 †King Solomon was king over all Israel, †and these were his high officials: Azariah the son of Zadok was the priest; †Elihoreph and Ahijah the sons of Shisha were secretaries; Jehoshaphat the son of Ahilud was recorder; †Benaiah the son of Jehoiada was in command of the army; Zadok and Abiathar were priests; †Azariah the son of Nathan was over the officers; Zabud the son of Nathan was priest and king's friend; †Ahishar was in charge of the palace; and Adoniram the son of Abda was in charge of the forced labor.

†Solomon had twelve officers over all Israel, who provided food for the king and his household. Each man had to make provision for one month in the year. †These were their names: Ben-hur, in the hill country of Ephraim; †Ben-deker, in Makaz, Shaalbim, Beth-shemesh, and Elonbeth-hanan; †Ben-hesed, in Arubboth (to him belonged Socoh and all the land of Hephher); †Ben-abinadab, in all Naphath-dor (he had Taphath the daughter of Solomon as his wife); †Baana the son of Ahilud, in Taanach, Megiddo, and all Beth-shean that is beside Zarethan below Jezreel, and from Beth-shean to Abel-meholah, as far as the other side of Jokmeam; †Ben-geber, in Ramoth-gilead (he had the villages of Jair the son of Manasseh, which are in Gilead, and he had the region of Argob, which is in Bashan, sixty great cities with walls and bronze bars); †Ahinadab the son of Iddo, in Mahanaim; †Ahimaaz, in Naphtali (he had taken Basemath the daughter of Solomon as his wife); †Baana the son of Hushai, in Asher and Bealoth; †Jehoshaphat the son of Paruah, in Issachar; †Shimei the son of Ela, in Benjamin; †Geber the son of Uri, in the land of Gilead, the country of Sihon king of the Amorites and of Og king of Bashan. And there was one governor who was over the land.

Solomon's Wealth and Wisdom

†Judah and Israel were as many as the sand by the sea. They ate and drank and were happy. † [1] Solomon ruled over all the kingdoms from the Euphrates to the land of the Philistines and to the border of Egypt. They brought tribute and served Solomon all the days of his life.

†Solomon's provision for one day was thirty cors [2] of fine flour and sixty cors of meal, †ten fat oxen, and twenty pasture-fed cattle, a hundred sheep, besides deer, gazelles, roebucks, and fattened fowl. †For he had dominion over all the region west of the Euphrates from Tiphseh to Gaza, over all the kings west of the Euphrates. And he had peace on all sides around him. <sup>25</sup>And Judah and Israel lived in safety, from Dan even to Beersheba, every man under his vine and under his fig tree, all the days of Solomon. <sup>26</sup>†Solomon also had 40,000 stalls of horses for his chariots, and 12,000 horsemen. <sup>27</sup>And those officers supplied provisions for King Solomon, and for all who came to King Solomon's table, each one in his month. They let nothing be lacking. <sup>28</sup>Barley also and straw for the horses and swift steeds they brought to the place where it was required, each according to his duty.

<sup>29</sup>And God gave Solomon wisdom and understanding beyond measure, and breadth of mind like the sand on the seashore, <sup>30</sup>†so that Solomon's wisdom surpassed the wisdom of all the people of the east and all the wisdom of Egypt. <sup>31</sup>†For he was wiser than all other men, wiser than Ethan the Ezrahite, and Heman, Calcol, and Darda, the sons of Mahol, and his fame was in all the surrounding nations. <sup>32</sup>†He also spoke 3,000 proverbs, and his songs were 1,005. <sup>33</sup>†He spoke of trees, from the cedar that is in Lebanon to the hyssop that grows out of the wall. He spoke also of beasts, and of birds, and of reptiles, and of fish. <sup>34</sup>†And people of all nations came to hear the wisdom of Solomon, and from all the kings of the earth, who had heard of his wisdom.

Preparations for Building the Temple

<sup>7</sup>†As soon as Hiram heard the words of Solomon, he rejoiced greatly and said, “Blessed be the LORD this day, who has given to David a wise son to be over this great people.” <sup>8</sup>And Hiram sent to Solomon, saying, “I have heard the message that you have sent to me. I am ready to do all you desire in the matter of cedar and cypress timber. <sup>9</sup>†My servants shall bring it down to the sea from Lebanon, and I will make it into rafts to go by sea to the place you direct. And I will have them broken up there, and you shall receive it. And you shall meet my wishes by providing food for my household.” <sup>10</sup>So Hiram supplied Solomon with all the timber of cedar and cypress that he desired, <sup>11</sup>while Solomon gave Hiram 20,000 cors [2] of wheat as food for his household, and 20,000 [3] cors of beaten oil. Solomon gave this to Hiram year by year. <sup>12</sup>And the LORD gave Solomon wisdom, as he promised him. And there was peace between Hiram and Solomon, and the two of them made a treaty.

<sup>13</sup>†King Solomon drafted forced labor out of all Israel, and the draft numbered 30,000 men. <sup>14</sup>And he sent them to Lebanon, 10,000 a month in shifts. They would be a month in Lebanon and two months at home. Adoniram was in charge of the draft. <sup>15</sup>Solomon also had 70,000 burden-bearers and 80,000 stonecutters in the hill country, <sup>16</sup>†besides Solomon's 3,300 chief officers who were over the work, who had charge of the people who carried on the work. <sup>17</sup>At the king's command they quarried out great, costly stones in order to lay the foundation of the house with dressed stones. <sup>18</sup>†So Solomon's builders and Hiram's builders and the men of Gebal did the cutting and prepared the timber and the stone to build the house.

Solomon Builds the Temple

1 KINGS 6 †† In the four hundred and eightieth year after the people of Israel came out of the land of Egypt, in the fourth year of Solomon's reign over Israel, in the month of Ziv, which is the second month, he began to build the house of the LORD. † The house that King Solomon built for the LORD was sixty cubits [1] long, twenty cubits wide, and thirty cubits high. † The vestibule in front of the nave of the house was twenty cubits long, equal to the width of the house, and ten cubits deep in front of the house. † And he made for the house windows with recessed frames. [2] † He also built a structure [3] against the wall of the house, running around the walls of the house, both the nave and the inner sanctuary. And he made side chambers all around. † The lowest story [4] was five cubits broad, the middle one was six cubits broad, and the third was seven cubits broad. For around the outside of the house he made offsets on the wall in order that the supporting beams should not be inserted into the walls of the house.

† When the house was built, it was with stone prepared at the quarry, so that neither hammer nor axe nor any tool of iron was heard in the house while it was being built.

† The entrance for the lowest [5] story was on the south side of the house, and one went up by stairs to the middle story, and from the middle story to the third. † So he built the house and finished it, and he made the ceiling of the house of beams and planks of cedar. † He built the structure against the whole house, five cubits high, and it was joined to the house with timbers of cedar.

† Now the word of the LORD came to Solomon, † “Concerning this house that you are building, if you will walk in my statutes and obey my rules and keep all my commandments and walk in them, then I will establish my word with you, which I spoke to David your father. † And I will dwell among the children of Israel and will not forsake my people Israel.”

† So Solomon built the house and finished it. † He lined the walls of the house on the inside with boards of cedar. From the floor of the house to the walls of the ceiling, he covered them on the inside with wood, and he covered the floor of the house with boards of cypress. † He built twenty cubits of the rear of the house with boards of cedar from the floor to the walls, and he built this within as an inner sanctuary, as the Most Holy Place. † The house, that is, the nave in front of the inner sanctuary, was forty cubits long. <sup>18</sup>The cedar within the house was carved in the form of gourds and open flowers. All was cedar; no stone was seen. <sup>19</sup>†The inner sanctuary he prepared in the innermost part of the house, to set there the ark of the covenant of the LORD. <sup>20</sup>†The inner sanctuary [6] was twenty cubits long, twenty cubits wide, and twenty cubits high, and he overlaid it with pure gold. He also overlaid [7] an altar of cedar. <sup>21</sup>And Solomon overlaid the inside of the house with pure gold, and he drew chains of gold across, in front of the inner sanctuary, and overlaid it with gold. <sup>22</sup>And he overlaid the whole house with gold, until all the house was finished. Also the whole altar that belonged to the inner sanctuary he overlaid with gold.

<sup>23</sup>†In the inner sanctuary he made two cherubim of olivewood, each ten cubits high. <sup>24</sup>Five cubits was the length of one wing of the cherub, and five cubits the length of the other wing of the cherub; it was ten cubits from the tip of one wing to the tip of the other. <sup>25</sup>The other cherub also measured ten cubits; both cherubim had the same measure and the same form. <sup>26</sup>The height of one cherub was ten cubits, and so was that of the other cherub. <sup>27</sup>He put the cherubim in the innermost part of the house. And the wings of the cherubim were spread out so that a wing of one touched the one wall, and a wing of the other cherub touched the other wall; their other wings touched each other in the middle of the house. <sup>28</sup>And he overlaid the cherubim with gold.

<sup>29</sup>†Around all the walls of the house he carved engraved figures of cherubim and palm trees and open flowers, in the inner and outer rooms. <sup>30</sup>The floor of the house he overlaid with gold in the inner and outer rooms.

<sup>31</sup>†For the entrance to the inner sanctuary he made doors of olivewood; the lintel and the doorposts were five-sided. [8] <sup>32</sup>He covered the two doors of olivewood with carvings of cherubim, palm trees, and open flowers. He overlaid them with gold and spread gold on the cherubim and on the palm trees.

<sup>33</sup>So also he made for the entrance to the nave doorposts of olivewood, in the form of a square, <sup>34</sup>and two doors of cypress wood. The two leaves of the one door were folding, and the two leaves of the other door were folding. <sup>35</sup>On them he carved cherubim and palm trees and open flowers, and he overlaid them with gold evenly applied on the carved work. <sup>36</sup>†He built the inner court with three courses of cut stone and one course of cedar beams.

month of Ziv. <sup>38</sup>† And in the eleventh year, in the month of Bul, which is the eighth month, the house was finished in all its parts, and according to all its specifications. He was seven years in building it.

Solomon Builds His Palace

1 KINGS 7 †Solomon was building his own house thirteen years, and he finished his entire house.

‡He built the House of the Forest of Lebanon. Its length was a hundred cubits [\[1\]](#) and its breadth fifty cubits and its height thirty cubits, and it was built on four [\[2\]](#) rows of cedar pillars, with cedar beams on the pillars. <sup>3</sup>And it was covered with cedar above the chambers that were on the forty-five pillars, fifteen in each row. <sup>4</sup>There were window frames in three rows, and window opposite window in three tiers. <sup>5</sup>All the doorways and windows [\[3\]](#) had square frames, and window was opposite window in three tiers.

‡And he made the Hall of Pillars; its length was fifty cubits, and its breadth thirty cubits. There was a porch in front with pillars, and a canopy in front of them.

‡And he made the Hall of the Throne where he was to pronounce judgment, even the Hall of Judgment. It was finished with cedar from floor to rafters. [\[4\]](#)

‡His own house where he was to dwell, in the other court back of the hall, was of like workmanship. Solomon also made a house like this hall for Pharaoh's daughter whom he had taken in marriage.

‡All these were made of costly stones, cut according to measure, sawed with saws, back and front, even from the foundation to the coping, and from the outside to the great court. <sup>10</sup>The foundation was of costly stones, huge stones, stones of eight and ten cubits. <sup>11</sup>And above were costly stones, cut according to measurement, and cedar. <sup>12</sup>The great court had three courses of cut stone all around, and a course of cedar beams; so had the inner court of the house of the LORD and the vestibule of the house.

The Temple Furnishings

‡And King Solomon sent and brought Hiram from Tyre. <sup>14</sup>He was the son of a widow of the tribe of Naphtali, and his father was a man of Tyre, a worker in bronze. And he was full of wisdom, understanding, and skill for making any work in bronze. He came to King Solomon and did all his work.

<sup>15</sup>†He cast two pillars of bronze. Eighteen cubits was the height of one pillar, and a line of twelve cubits measured its circumference. It was hollow, and its thickness was four fingers. The second pillar was the same. <sup>[5]</sup> <sup>16</sup>†He also made two capitals of cast bronze to set on the tops of the pillars. The height of the one capital was five cubits, and the height of the other capital was five cubits. <sup>17</sup>There were lattices of checker work with wreaths of chain work for the capitals on the tops of the pillars, a lattice <sup>[6]</sup> for the one capital and a lattice for the other capital. <sup>18</sup>†Likewise he made pomegranates <sup>[7]</sup> in two rows around the one latticework to cover the capital that was on the top of the pillar, and he did the same with the other capital. <sup>19</sup>Now the capitals that were on the tops of the pillars in the vestibule were of lily-work, four cubits. <sup>20</sup>The capitals were on the two pillars and also above the rounded projection which was beside the latticework. There were two hundred pomegranates in two rows all around, and so with the other capital. <sup>21</sup>†He set up the pillars at the vestibule of the temple. He set up the pillar on the south and called its name Jachin, and he set up the pillar on the north and called its name Boaz. <sup>22</sup>And on the tops of the pillars was lily-work. Thus the work of the pillars was finished.

<sup>27</sup>†He also made the ten stands of bronze. Each stand was four cubits long, four cubits wide, and three cubits high. <sup>28</sup>This was the construction of the stands: they had panels, and the panels were set in the frames, <sup>29</sup>and on the panels that were set in the frames were lions, oxen, and cherubim. On the frames, both above and below the lions and oxen, there were wreaths of beveled work. <sup>30</sup>Moreover, each stand had four bronze wheels and axles of bronze, and at the four corners were supports for a basin. The supports were cast with wreaths at the side of each. <sup>31</sup>Its opening was within a crown that projected upward one cubit. Its opening was round, as a pedestal is made, a cubit and a half deep. At its opening there were carvings, and its panels were square, not round. <sup>32</sup>And the four wheels were underneath the panels. The axles of the wheels were of one piece with the stands, and the height of a wheel was a cubit and a half. <sup>33</sup>The wheels were made like a chariot wheel; their axles, their rims, their spokes, and their hubs were all cast. <sup>34</sup>There were four supports at the four corners of each stand. The supports were of one piece with the stands. <sup>35</sup>And on the top of the stand there was a round band half a cubit high; and on the top of the stand its stays and its panels were of one piece with it. <sup>36</sup>And on the surfaces of its stays and on its panels, he carved cherubim, lions, and palm trees, according to the space of each, with wreaths all around. <sup>37</sup>After this manner he made the ten stands. All of them were cast alike, of the same measure and the same form.

<sup>38</sup>† And he made ten basins of bronze. Each basin held forty baths, each basin measured four cubits, and there was a basin for each of the ten stands. <sup>39</sup>And he set the stands, five on the south side of the house, and five on the north side of the house. And he set the sea at the southeast corner of the house.

<sup>40</sup>† Hiram also made the pots, the shovels, and the basins. So Hiram finished all the work that he did for King Solomon on the house of the LORD: <sup>41</sup>the two pillars, the two bowls of the capitals that were on the tops of the pillars, and the two latticeworks to cover the two bowls of the capitals that were on the tops of the pillars; <sup>42</sup>and the four hundred pomegranates for the two latticeworks, two rows of pomegranates for each latticework, to cover the two bowls of the capitals that were on the pillars; <sup>43</sup>the ten stands, and the ten basins on the stands; <sup>44</sup>and the one sea, and the twelve oxen underneath the sea.

<sup>48</sup>† So Solomon made all the vessels that were in the house of the LORD: the golden altar, the golden table for the bread of the Presence, <sup>49</sup>† the lampstands of pure gold, five on the south side and five on the north, before the inner sanctuary; the flowers, the lamps, and the tongs, of gold; <sup>50</sup>the cups, snuffers, basins, dishes for incense, and fire pans, of pure gold; and the sockets of gold, for the doors of the innermost part of the house, the Most Holy Place, and for the doors of the nave of the temple.

<sup>51</sup>† Thus all the work that King Solomon did on the house of the LORD was finished. And Solomon brought in the things that David his father had dedicated, the silver, the gold, and the vessels, and stored them in the treasuries of the house of the LORD.

The Ark Brought into the Temple

1 KINGS 8 <sup>1</sup>Then Solomon assembled the elders of Israel and all the heads of the tribes, the leaders of the fathers' houses of the people of Israel, before King Solomon in Jerusalem, to bring up the ark of the covenant of the LORD out of the city of David, which is Zion. <sup>2</sup>And all the men of Israel assembled to King Solomon at the feast in the month Ethanim, which is the seventh month. <sup>3</sup>And all the elders of Israel came, and the priests took up the ark. <sup>4</sup>And they brought up the ark of the LORD, the tent of meeting, and all the holy vessels that were in the tent; the priests and the Levites brought them up. <sup>5</sup>And King Solomon and all the congregation of Israel, who had assembled before him, were with him before the ark, sacrificing so many sheep and oxen that they could not be counted or numbered. <sup>6</sup>Then the priests brought the ark of the covenant of the LORD to its place in the inner sanctuary of the house, in the Most Holy Place, underneath the wings of the cherubim. <sup>7</sup>For the cherubim spread out their wings over the place of the ark, so that the cherubim overshadowed the ark and its poles. <sup>8</sup>And the poles were so long that the ends of the poles were seen from the Holy Place before the inner sanctuary; but they could not be seen from outside. And they are there to this day. <sup>9</sup>There was nothing in the ark except the two tablets of stone that Moses put there at Horeb, where the LORD made a covenant with the people of Israel, when they came out of the land of Egypt. <sup>10</sup>And when the priests came out of the Holy Place, a cloud filled the house of the LORD, <sup>11</sup>so that the priests could not stand to minister because of the cloud, for the glory of the LORD filled the house of the LORD.

Solomon Blesses the LORD

<sup>12</sup>Then Solomon said, "The LORD [\[1\]](#) has said that he would dwell in thick darkness. <sup>13</sup>I have indeed built you an exalted house, a place for you to dwell in forever." <sup>14</sup>Then the king turned around and blessed all the assembly of Israel, while all the assembly of Israel stood. <sup>15</sup>And he said, "Blessed be the LORD, the God of Israel, who with his hand has fulfilled what he promised with his mouth to David my father, saying, <sup>16</sup>'Since the day that I brought my people Israel out of Egypt, I chose no city out of all the tribes of Israel in which to build a house, that my name might be there. But I chose David to be over my people Israel.'<sup>17</sup>Now it was in the heart of David my father to build a house for the name of the LORD, the God of Israel. <sup>18</sup>But the LORD said to David my father, 'Whereas it was in your heart to build a house for my name, you did well that it was in your heart. <sup>19</sup>Nevertheless, you shall not build the house, but your son who shall be born to you shall build the house for my name.' <sup>20</sup>Now the LORD has fulfilled his promise that he made. For I have risen in the place of David my father, and sit on the throne of Israel, as the LORD promised, and I have built the house for the name of the LORD, the God of Israel. <sup>21</sup>And there I have provided a place for the ark, in which is the covenant of the LORD that he made with our fathers, when he brought them out of the land of Egypt."

Solomon's Prayer of Dedication

<sup>22</sup>†Then Solomon stood before the altar of the LORD in the presence of all the assembly of Israel and spread out his hands toward heaven, <sup>23</sup>and said, "O LORD, God of Israel, there is no God like you, in heaven above or on earth beneath, keeping covenant and showing steadfast love to your servants who walk before you with all their heart, <sup>24</sup>who have kept with your servant David my father what you declared to him. You spoke with your mouth, and with your hand have fulfilled it this day. <sup>25</sup>Now therefore, O LORD, God of Israel, keep for your servant David my father what you have promised him, saying, 'You shall not lack a man to sit before me on the throne of Israel, if only your sons pay close attention to their way, to walk before me as you have walked before me.' <sup>26</sup>Now therefore, O God of Israel, let your word be confirmed, which you have spoken to your servant David my father.

<sup>27</sup>†"But will God indeed dwell on the earth? Behold, heaven and the highest heaven cannot contain you; how much less this house that I have built! <sup>28</sup>Yet have regard to the prayer of your servant and to his plea, O LORD my God, listening to the cry and to the prayer that your servant prays before you this day, <sup>29</sup>that your eyes may be open night and day toward this house, the place of which you have said, 'My name shall be there,' that you may listen to the prayer that your servant offers toward this place. <sup>30</sup>And listen to the plea of your servant and of your people Israel, when they pray toward this place. And listen in heaven your dwelling place, and when you hear, forgive.

<sup>33</sup>“When your people Israel are defeated before the enemy because they have sinned against you, and if they turn again to you and acknowledge your name and pray and plead with you in this house, <sup>34</sup>then hear in heaven and forgive the sin of your people Israel and bring them again to the land that you gave to their fathers.

<sup>35</sup>“When heaven is shut up and there is no rain because they have sinned against you, if they pray toward this place and acknowledge your name and turn from their sin, when you afflict them, <sup>36</sup>then hear in heaven and forgive the sin of your servants, your people Israel, when you teach them the good way in which they should walk, and grant rain upon your land, which you have given to your people as an inheritance.

<sup>37</sup>“If there is famine in the land, if there is pestilence or blight or mildew or locust or caterpillar, if their enemy besieges them in the land at their gates, [\[2\]](#) whatever plague, whatever sickness there is, <sup>38</sup>whatever prayer, whatever plea is made by any man or by all your people Israel, each knowing the affliction of his own heart and stretching out his hands toward this house, <sup>39</sup>then hear in heaven your dwelling place and forgive and act and render to each whose heart you know, according to all his ways (for you, you only, know the hearts of all the children of mankind), <sup>40</sup>that they may fear you all the days that they live in the land that you gave to our fathers.

<sup>41</sup>“Likewise, when a foreigner, who is not of your people Israel, comes from a far country for your name's sake <sup>42</sup>(for they shall hear of your great name and your mighty hand, and of your outstretched arm), when he comes and prays toward this house, <sup>43</sup>hear in heaven your dwelling place and do according to all for which the foreigner calls to you, in order that all the peoples of the earth may know your name and fear you, as do your people Israel, and that they may know that this house that I have built is called by your name.

<sup>44</sup>“If your people go out to battle against their enemy, by whatever way you shall send them, and they pray to the LORD toward the city that you have chosen and the house that I have built for your name, <sup>45</sup>then hear in heaven their prayer and their plea, and maintain their cause.

<sup>46</sup>“If they sin against you—for there is no one who does not sin—and you are angry with them and give them to an enemy, so that they are carried away captive to the land of the enemy, far off or near, <sup>47</sup>yet if they turn their heart in the land to which they have been carried captive, and repent and plead with you in the land of their captors, saying, ‘We have sinned and have acted perversely and wickedly,’<sup>48</sup> if they repent with all their mind and with all their heart in the land of their enemies, who carried them captive, and pray to you toward their land, which you gave to their fathers, the city that you have chosen, and the house that I have built for your name,<sup>49</sup> then hear in heaven your dwelling place their prayer and their plea, and maintain their cause<sup>50</sup> and forgive your people who have sinned against you, and all their transgressions that they have committed against you, and grant them compassion in the sight of those who carried them captive, that they may have compassion on them<sup>51</sup> (for they are your people, and your heritage, which you brought out of Egypt, from the midst of the iron furnace).<sup>52</sup> Let your eyes be open to the plea of your servant and to the plea of your people Israel, giving ear to them whenever they call to you.<sup>53</sup> For you separated them from among all the peoples of the earth to be your heritage, as you declared through Moses your servant, when you brought our fathers out of Egypt, O Lord GOD.”

Solomon's Benediction

<sup>54</sup>‡ Now as Solomon finished offering all this prayer and plea to the LORD, he arose from before the altar of the LORD, where he had knelt with hands outstretched toward heaven.<sup>55</sup> And he stood and blessed all the assembly of Israel with a loud voice, saying,<sup>56</sup> “Blessed be the LORD who has given rest to his people Israel, according to all that he promised. Not one word has failed of all his good promise, which he spoke by Moses his servant.<sup>57</sup> The LORD our God be with us, as he was with our fathers. May he not leave us or forsake us,<sup>58</sup> that he may incline our hearts to him, to walk in all his ways and to keep his commandments, his statutes, and his rules, which he commanded our fathers.<sup>59</sup> Let these words of mine, with which I have pleaded before the LORD, be near to the LORD our God day and night, and may he maintain the cause of his servant and the cause of his people Israel, as each day requires,<sup>60</sup> that all the peoples of the earth may know that the LORD is God; there is no other.<sup>61</sup> Let your heart therefore be wholly true to the LORD our God, walking in his statutes and keeping his commandments, as at this day.”

Solomon's Sacrifices

sheep. So the king and all the people of Israel dedicated the house of the LORD.
<sup>64</sup>The same day the king consecrated the middle of the court that was before the house of the LORD, for there he offered the burnt offering and the grain offering and the fat pieces of the peace offerings, because the bronze altar that was before the LORD was too small to receive the burnt offering and the grain offering and the fat pieces of the peace offerings.

<sup>65</sup>† So Solomon held the feast at that time, and all Israel with him, a great assembly, from Lebo-hamath to the Brook of Egypt, before the LORD our God, seven days. [3] <sup>66</sup>On the eighth day he sent the people away, and they blessed the king and went to their homes joyful and glad of heart for all the goodness that the LORD had shown to David his servant and to Israel his people.

The LORD Appears to Solomon

1 KINGS 9 1 As soon as Solomon had finished building the house of the LORD and the king's house and all that Solomon desired to build, <sup>2</sup>the LORD appeared to Solomon a second time, as he had appeared to him at Gibeon. <sup>3</sup>And the LORD said to him, "I have heard your prayer and your plea, which you have made before me. I have consecrated this house that you have built, by putting my name there forever. My eyes and my heart will be there for all time. <sup>4</sup>And as for you, if you will walk before me, as David your father walked, with integrity of heart and uprightness, doing according to all that I have commanded you, and keeping my statutes and my rules, <sup>5</sup>then I will establish your royal throne over Israel forever, as I promised David your father, saying, 'You shall not lack a man on the throne of Israel.' <sup>6</sup>But if you turn aside from following me, you or your children, and do not keep my commandments and my statutes that I have set before you, but go and serve other gods and worship them, <sup>7</sup>then I will cut off Israel from the land that I have given them, and the house that I have consecrated for my name I will cast out of my sight, and Israel will become a proverb and a byword among all peoples. <sup>8</sup>And this house will become a heap of ruins. [1] Everyone passing by it will be astonished and will hiss, and they will say, 'Why has the LORD done thus to this land and to this house?' <sup>9</sup>Then they will say, 'Because they abandoned the LORD their God who brought their fathers out of the land of Egypt and laid hold on other gods and worshiped them and served them. Therefore the LORD has brought all this disaster on them.'"

Solomon's Other Acts

<sup>10</sup>At the end of twenty years, in which Solomon had built the two houses, the house of the LORD and the king's house, <sup>11</sup>and Hiram king of Tyre had supplied Solomon with cedar and cypress timber and gold, as much as he desired, King Solomon gave to Hiram twenty cities in the land of Galilee. <sup>12</sup>But when Hiram came from Tyre to see the cities that Solomon had given him, they did not please him. <sup>13</sup>Therefore he said, "What kind of cities are these that you have given me, my brother?" So they are called the land of Cabul to this day. <sup>14</sup>Hiram had sent to the king 120 talents [2] of gold.

<sup>15</sup>And this is the account of the forced labor that King Solomon drafted to build the house of the LORD and his own house and the Millo and the wall of Jerusalem and Hazor and Megiddo and Gezer <sup>16</sup>(Pharaoh king of Egypt had gone up and captured Gezer and burned it with fire, and had killed the Canaanites who lived in the city, and had given it as dowry to his daughter, Solomon's wife; <sup>17</sup>†so Solomon rebuilt Gezer) and Lower Beth-horon <sup>18</sup>†and Baalath and Tamar in the wilderness, in the land of Judah, <sup>[3]</sup> <sup>19</sup>†and all the store cities that Solomon had, and the cities for his chariots, and the cities for his horsemen, and whatever Solomon desired to build in Jerusalem, in Lebanon, and in all the land of his dominion. <sup>20</sup>†All the people who were left of the Amorites, the Hittites, the Perizzites, the Hivites, and the Jebusites, who were not of the people of Israel—<sup>21</sup>††their descendants who were left after them in the land, whom the people of Israel were unable to devote to destruction <sup>[4]</sup>—these Solomon drafted to be slaves, and so they are to this day. <sup>22</sup>But of the people of Israel Solomon made no slaves. They were the soldiers, they were his officials, his commanders, his captains, his chariot commanders and his horsemen.

The Queen of Sheba

1 KINGS 10 †† Now when the queen of Sheba heard of the fame of Solomon concerning the name of the LORD, she came to test him with hard questions. <sup>2</sup>She came to Jerusalem with a very great retinue, with camels bearing spices and very much gold and precious stones. And when she came to Solomon, she told him all that was on her mind. <sup>3</sup>And Solomon answered all her questions; there was nothing hidden from the king that he could not explain to her. <sup>4</sup>And when the queen of Sheba had seen all the wisdom of Solomon, the house that he had built, <sup>5</sup>† the food of his table, the seating of his officials, and the attendance of his servants, their clothing, his cupbearers, and his burnt offerings that he offered at the house of the LORD, there was no more breath in her.

<sup>6</sup>And she said to the king, “The report was true that I heard in my own land of your words and of your wisdom, <sup>7</sup>but I did not believe the reports until I came and my own eyes had seen it. And behold, the half was not told me. Your wisdom and prosperity surpass the report that I heard. <sup>8</sup>Happy are your men! Happy are your servants, who continually stand before you and hear your wisdom! <sup>9</sup>† Blessed be the LORD your God, who has delighted in you and set you on the throne of Israel! Because the LORD loved Israel forever, he has made you king, that you may execute justice and righteousness.” <sup>10</sup>† Then she gave the king 120 talents [\[1\]](#) of gold, and a very great quantity of spices and precious stones. Never again came such an abundance of spices as these that the queen of Sheba gave to King Solomon.

Solomon's Great Wealth

<sup>14</sup>† Now the weight of gold that came to Solomon in one year was 666 talents of gold, <sup>15</sup>†besides that which came from the explorers and from the business of the merchants, and from all the kings of the west and from the governors of the land. <sup>16</sup>†King Solomon made 200 large shields of beaten gold; 600 shekels [2] of gold went into each shield. <sup>17</sup>And he made 300 shields of beaten gold; three minas [3] of gold went into each shield. And the king put them in the House of the Forest of Lebanon. <sup>18</sup>The king also made a great ivory throne and overlaid it with the finest gold. <sup>19</sup>The throne had six steps, and at the back of the throne was a calf's head, and on each side of the seat were armrests and two lions standing beside the armrests, <sup>20</sup>while twelve lions stood there, one on each end of a step on the six steps. The like of it was never made in any kingdom. <sup>21</sup>†All King Solomon's drinking vessels were of gold, and all the vessels of the House of the Forest of Lebanon were of pure gold. None were of silver; silver was not considered as anything in the days of Solomon. <sup>22</sup>†For the king had a fleet of ships of Tarshish at sea with the fleet of Hiram. Once every three years the fleet of ships of Tarshish used to come bringing gold, silver, ivory, apes, and peacocks. [4]

<sup>26</sup>And Solomon gathered together chariots and horsemen. He had 1,400 chariots and 12,000 horsemen, whom he stationed in the chariot cities and with the king in Jerusalem. <sup>27</sup>And the king made silver as common in Jerusalem as stone, and he made cedar as plentiful as the sycamore of the Shephelah. <sup>28</sup>†And Solomon's import of horses was from Egypt and Kue, and the king's traders received them from Kue at a price. <sup>29</sup>†A chariot could be imported from Egypt for 600 shekels of silver and a horse for 150, and so through the king's traders they were exported to all the kings of the Hittites and the kings of Syria.

Solomon Turns from the LORD

1 KINGS 11 †† Now King Solomon loved many foreign women, along with the daughter of Pharaoh: Moabite, Ammonite, Edomite, Sidonian, and Hittite women, <sup>2</sup>from the nations concerning which the LORD had said to the people of Israel, “You shall not enter into marriage with them, neither shall they with you, for surely they will turn away your heart after their gods.” Solomon clung to these in love. <sup>3</sup>He had 700 wives, princesses, and 300 concubines. And his wives turned away his heart. <sup>4</sup>† For when Solomon was old his wives turned away his heart after other gods, and his heart was not wholly true to the LORD his God, as was the heart of David his father. <sup>5</sup>† For Solomon went after Ashtoreth the goddess of the Sidonians, and after Milcom the abomination of the Ammonites. <sup>6</sup>† So Solomon did what was evil in the sight of the LORD and did not wholly follow the LORD, as David his father had done. <sup>7</sup>† Then Solomon built a high place for Chemosh the abomination of Moab, and for Molech the abomination of the Ammonites, on the mountain east of Jerusalem. <sup>8</sup>And so he did for all his foreign wives, who made offerings and sacrificed to their gods.

The LORD Raises Adversaries

<sup>9</sup>† And the LORD was angry with Solomon, because his heart had turned away from the LORD, the God of Israel, who had appeared to him twice <sup>10</sup>and had commanded him concerning this thing, that he should not go after other gods. But he did not keep what the LORD commanded. <sup>11</sup>† Therefore the LORD said to Solomon, “Since this has been your practice and you have not kept my covenant and my statutes that I have commanded you, I will surely tear the kingdom from you and will give it to your servant. <sup>12</sup>† Yet for the sake of David your father I will not do it in your days, but I will tear it out of the hand of your son. <sup>13</sup>† However, I will not tear away all the kingdom, but I will give one tribe to your son, for the sake of David my servant and for the sake of Jerusalem that I have chosen.”

Midian and came to Paran and took men with them from Paran and came to Egypt, to Pharaoh king of Egypt, who gave him a house and assigned him an allowance of food and gave him land. <sup>19</sup>And Hadad found great favor in the sight of Pharaoh, so that he gave him in marriage the sister of his own wife, the sister of Tahpenes the queen. <sup>20</sup>And the sister of Tahpenes bore him Genubath his son, whom Tahpenes weaned in Pharaoh's house. And Genubath was in Pharaoh's house among the sons of Pharaoh. <sup>21</sup>†But when Hadad heard in Egypt that David slept with his fathers and that Joab the commander of the army was dead, Hadad said to Pharaoh, "Let me depart, that I may go to my own country." <sup>22</sup>But Pharaoh said to him, "What have you lacked with me that you are now seeking to go to your own country?" And he said to him, "Only let me depart."

<sup>23</sup>†God also raised up as an adversary to him, Rezon the son of Eliada, who had fled from his master Hadadezer king of Zobah. <sup>24</sup>And he gathered men about him and became leader of a marauding band, after the killing by David. And they went to Damascus and lived there and made him king in Damascus. <sup>25</sup>He was an adversary of Israel all the days of Solomon, doing harm as Hadad did. And he loathed Israel and reigned over Syria.

servant whom I chose, who kept my commandments and my statutes. <sup>35</sup>But I will take the kingdom out of his son's hand and will give it to you, ten tribes. <sup>36</sup>† Yet to his son I will give one tribe, that David my servant may always have a lamp before me in Jerusalem, the city where I have chosen to put my name. <sup>37</sup>And I will take you, and you shall reign over all that your soul desires, and you shall be king over Israel. <sup>38</sup>† And if you will listen to all that I command you, and will walk in my ways, and do what is right in my eyes by keeping my statutes and my commandments, as David my servant did, I will be with you and will build you a sure house, as I built for David, and I will give Israel to you. <sup>39</sup>† And I will afflict the offspring of David because of this, but not forever.’” <sup>40</sup>† Solomon sought therefore to kill Jeroboam. But Jeroboam arose and fled into Egypt, to Shishak king of Egypt, and was in Egypt until the death of Solomon.

Rehoboam's Folly

1 KINGS 12 1 Rehoboam went to Shechem, for all Israel had come to Shechem to make him king. 2 And as soon as Jeroboam the son of Nebat heard of it (for he was still in Egypt, where he had fled from King Solomon), then Jeroboam returned from [1] Egypt. 3 And they sent and called him, and Jeroboam and all the assembly of Israel came and said to Rehoboam, 4 “Your father made our yoke heavy. Now therefore lighten the hard service of your father and his heavy yoke on us, and we will serve you.” 5 He said to them, “Go away for three days, then come again to me.” So the people went away.

6 Then King Rehoboam took counsel with the old men, who had stood before Solomon his father while he was yet alive, saying, “How do you advise me to answer this people?” 7 And they said to him, “If you will be a servant to this people today and serve them, and speak good words to them when you answer them, then they will be your servants forever.” 8 But he abandoned the counsel that the old men gave him and took counsel with the young men who had grown up with him and stood before him. 9 And he said to them, “What do you advise that we answer this people who have said to me, ‘Lighten the yoke that your father put on us’?” 10 And the young men who had grown up with him said to him, “Thus shall you speak to this people who said to you, ‘Your father made our yoke heavy, but you lighten it for us,’ thus shall you say to them, ‘My little finger is thicker than my father’s thighs. 11 And now, whereas my father laid on you a heavy yoke, I will add to your yoke. My father disciplined you with whips, but I will discipline you with scorpions.’”

12 So Jeroboam and all the people came to Rehoboam the third day, as the king said, “Come to me again the third day.” 13 And the king answered the people harshly, and forsaking the counsel that the old men had given him, 14 he spoke to them according to the counsel of the young men, saying, “My father made your yoke heavy, but I will add to your yoke. My father disciplined you with whips, but I will discipline you with scorpions.” 15 So the king did not listen to the people, for it was a turn of affairs brought about by the LORD that he might fulfill his word, which the LORD spoke by Ahijah the Shilonite to Jeroboam the son of Nebat.

The Kingdom Divided

<sup>16</sup>† And when all Israel saw that the king did not listen to them, the people answered the king, “What portion do we have in David? We have no inheritance in the son of Jesse. To your tents, O Israel! Look now to your own house, David.” So Israel went to their tents. <sup>17</sup>† But Rehoboam reigned over the people of Israel who lived in the cities of Judah. <sup>18</sup>† Then King Rehoboam sent Adoram, who was taskmaster over the forced labor, and all Israel stoned him to death with stones. And King Rehoboam hurried to mount his chariot to flee to Jerusalem. <sup>19</sup>† So Israel has been in rebellion against the house of David to this day. <sup>20</sup>† And when all Israel heard that Jeroboam had returned, they sent and called him to the assembly and made him king over all Israel. There was none that followed the house of David but the tribe of Judah only.

<sup>21</sup>† When Rehoboam came to Jerusalem, he assembled all the house of Judah and the tribe of Benjamin, 180,000 chosen warriors, to fight against the house of Israel, to restore the kingdom to Rehoboam the son of Solomon. <sup>22</sup>† But the word of God came to Shemaiah the man of God: <sup>23</sup>“Say to Rehoboam the son of Solomon, king of Judah, and to all the house of Judah and Benjamin, and to the rest of the people, <sup>24</sup>† ‘Thus says the LORD, You shall not go up or fight against your relatives the people of Israel. Every man return to his home, for this thing is from me.’” So they listened to the word of the LORD and went home again, according to the word of the LORD.

Jeroboam's Golden Calves

<sup>25</sup>† Then Jeroboam built Shechem in the hill country of Ephraim and lived there. And he went out from there and built Penuel. <sup>26</sup>† And Jeroboam said in his heart, “Now the kingdom will turn back to the house of David. <sup>27</sup>† If this people go up to offer sacrifices in the temple of the LORD at Jerusalem, then the heart of this people will turn again to their lord, to Rehoboam king of Judah, and they will kill me and return to Rehoboam king of Judah.” <sup>28</sup>† So the king took counsel and made two calves of gold. And he said to the people, “You have gone up to Jerusalem long enough. Behold your gods, O Israel, who brought you up out of the land of Egypt.” <sup>29</sup>† And he set one in Bethel, and the other he put in Dan. <sup>30</sup>† Then this thing became a sin, for the people went as far as Dan to be before one. [2] <sup>31</sup>† He also made temples on high places and appointed priests from among all the people, who were not of the Levites. <sup>32</sup>† And Jeroboam appointed a feast on the fifteenth day of the eighth month like the feast that was in Judah, and he offered sacrifices on the altar. So he did in Bethel, sacrificing to the calves that he made. And he placed in Bethel the priests of the high places that he had made. <sup>33</sup>He went up to the altar that he had made in Bethel on the fifteenth day in the eighth month, in the month that he had devised from his own heart. And he instituted a feast for the people of Israel and went up to the altar to make offerings.

A Man of God Confronts Jeroboam

1 KINGS 13 † And behold, a man of God came out of Judah by the word of the LORD to Bethel. Jeroboam was standing by the altar to make offerings. <sup>2</sup>† And the man cried against the altar by the word of the LORD and said, “O altar, altar, thus says the LORD: ‘Behold, a son shall be born to the house of David, Josiah by name, and he shall sacrifice on you the priests of the high places who make offerings on you, and human bones shall be burned on you.’” <sup>3</sup>† And he gave a sign the same day, saying, “This is the sign that the LORD has spoken: ‘Behold, the altar shall be torn down, and the ashes that are on it shall be poured out.’” <sup>4</sup> And when the king heard the saying of the man of God, which he cried against the altar at Bethel, Jeroboam stretched out his hand from the altar, saying, “Seize him.” And his hand, which he stretched out against him, dried up, so that he could not draw it back to himself. <sup>5</sup> The altar also was torn down, and the ashes poured out from the altar, according to the sign that the man of God had given by the word of the LORD. <sup>6</sup> And the king said to the man of God, “Entreat now the favor of the LORD your God, and pray for me, that my hand may be restored to me.” And the man of God entreated the LORD, and the king's hand was restored to him and became as it was before. <sup>7</sup> And the king said to the man of God, “Come home with me, and refresh yourself, and I will give you a reward.” <sup>8</sup> And the man of God said to the king, “If you give me half your house, I will not go in with you. And I will not eat bread or drink water in this place, <sup>9</sup>† for so was it commanded me by the word of the LORD, saying, ‘You shall neither eat bread nor drink water nor return by the way that you came.’” <sup>10</sup> So he went another way and did not return by the way that he came to Bethel.

The Prophet's Disobedience

<sup>11</sup>† Now an old prophet lived in Bethel. And his sons [1] came and told him all that the man of God had done that day in Bethel. They also told to their father the words that he had spoken to the king. <sup>12</sup> And their father said to them, “Which way did he go?” And his sons showed him the way that the man of God who came from Judah had gone. <sup>13</sup> And he said to his sons, “Saddle the donkey for me.” So they saddled the donkey for him and he mounted it. <sup>14</sup> And he went after the man of God and found him sitting under an oak. And he said to him, “Are you the man of God who came from Judah?” And he said, “I am.” <sup>15</sup> Then he said to him, “Come home with me and eat bread.” <sup>16</sup> And he said, “I may not return with you, or go in with you, neither will I eat bread nor drink water with you in this place, <sup>17</sup>for it was said to me by the word of the LORD, ‘You shall neither eat bread nor drink water there, nor return by the way that you came.’” <sup>18</sup>† And he said to him, “I also am a prophet as you are, and an angel spoke to me by the word of the LORD, saying, ‘Bring him back with you into your house that he may eat bread and drink water.’” But he lied to him. <sup>19</sup>So he went back with him and ate bread in his house and drank water.

<sup>20</sup>† And as they sat at the table, the word of the LORD came to the prophet who had brought him back. <sup>21</sup>And he cried to the man of God who came from Judah, “Thus says the LORD, ‘Because you have disobeyed the word of the LORD and have not kept the command that the LORD your God commanded you, <sup>22</sup>† but have come back and have eaten bread and drunk water in the place of which he said to you, “Eat no bread and drink no water,” your body shall not come to the tomb of your fathers.’” <sup>23</sup>And after he had eaten bread and drunk, he saddled the donkey for the prophet whom he had brought back. <sup>24</sup>† And as he went away a lion met him on the road and killed him. And his body was thrown in the road, and the donkey stood beside it; the lion also stood beside the body. <sup>25</sup>And behold, men passed by and saw the body thrown in the road and the lion standing by the body. And they came and told it in the city where the old prophet lived.

<sup>26</sup>And when the prophet who had brought him back from the way heard of it, he said, “It is the man of God who disobeyed the word of the LORD; therefore the LORD has given him to the lion, which has torn him and killed him, according to the word that the LORD spoke to him.” <sup>27</sup>And he said to his sons, “Saddle the donkey for me.” And they saddled it. <sup>28</sup>And he went and found his body thrown in the road, and the donkey and the lion standing beside the body. The lion had not eaten the body or torn the donkey. <sup>29</sup>And the prophet took up the body of the man of God and laid it on the donkey and brought it back to the city [2] to mourn and to bury him. <sup>30</sup>And he laid the body in his own grave. And they mourned over him, saying, “Alas, my brother!” <sup>31</sup>And after he had buried him, he said to his sons, “When I die, bury me in the grave in which the man of God is buried; lay my bones beside his bones. <sup>32</sup>† For the saying that he called out by the word of the LORD against the altar in Bethel and against all the houses of the high places that are in the cities of Samaria shall surely come to pass.”

<sup>33</sup>† After this thing Jeroboam did not turn from his evil way, but made priests for the high places again from among all the people. Any who would, he ordained to be priests of the high places. <sup>34</sup>And this thing became sin to the house of Jeroboam, so as to cut it off and to destroy it from the face of the earth.

Prophecy Against Jeroboam

1 KINGS 14 †At that time Abijah the son of Jeroboam fell sick. †And Jeroboam said to his wife, “Arise, and disguise yourself, that it not be known that you are the wife of Jeroboam, and go to Shiloh. Behold, Ahijah the prophet is there, who said of me that I should be king over this people. †Take with you ten loaves, some cakes, and a jar of honey, and go to him. He will tell you what shall happen to the child.”

<sup>4</sup>Jeroboam's wife did so. She arose and went to Shiloh and came to the house of Ahijah. Now Ahijah could not see, for his eyes were dim because of his age. †And the LORD said to Ahijah, “Behold, the wife of Jeroboam is coming to inquire of you concerning her son, for he is sick. Thus and thus shall you say to her.”

When she came, she pretended to be another woman. †But when Ahijah heard the sound of her feet, as she came in at the door, he said, “Come in, wife of Jeroboam. Why do you pretend to be another? For I am charged with unbearable news for you. †Go, tell Jeroboam, ‘Thus says the LORD, the God of Israel: “Because I exalted you from among the people and made you leader over my people Israel †and tore the kingdom away from the house of David and gave it to you, and yet you have not been like my servant David, who kept my commandments and followed me with all his heart, doing only that which was right in my eyes, †but you have done evil above all who were before you and have gone and made for yourself other gods and metal images, provoking me to anger, and have cast me behind your back, †therefore behold, I will bring harm upon the house of Jeroboam and will cut off from Jeroboam every male, both bond and free in Israel, and will burn up the house of Jeroboam, as a man burns up dung until it is all gone. †Anyone belonging to Jeroboam who dies in the city the dogs shall eat, and anyone who dies in the open country the birds of the heavens shall eat, for the LORD has spoken it.”’ †Arise therefore, go to your house. When your feet enter the city, the child shall die. †And all Israel shall mourn for him and bury him, for he only of Jeroboam shall come to the grave, because in him there is found something pleasing to the LORD, the God of Israel, in the house of Jeroboam. †Moreover, the LORD will raise up for himself a king over Israel who shall cut off the house of Jeroboam today. And henceforth, †the LORD will strike Israel as a reed is shaken in the water, and root up Israel out of this good land that he gave to their fathers and scatter them beyond the Euphrates, because they have made their Asherim, provoking the LORD to anger. <sup>16</sup>And he will give Israel up because of the sins of Jeroboam, which he sinned and made Israel to sin.”

<sup>17</sup>‡Then Jeroboam's wife arose and departed and came to Tirzah. And as she came to the threshold of the house, the child died. <sup>18</sup>And all Israel buried him and mourned for him, according to the word of the LORD, which he spoke by his servant Ahijah the prophet.

The Death of Jeroboam

<sup>19</sup>Now the rest of the acts of Jeroboam, how he warred and how he reigned, behold, they are written in the Book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Israel. <sup>20</sup>‡And the time that Jeroboam reigned was twenty-two years. And he slept with his fathers, and Nadab his son reigned in his place.

Rehoboam Reigns in Judah

<sup>21</sup>‡Now Rehoboam the son of Solomon reigned in Judah. Rehoboam was forty-one years old when he began to reign, and he reigned seventeen years in Jerusalem, the city that the LORD had chosen out of all the tribes of Israel, to put his name there. His mother's name was Naamah the Ammonite. <sup>22</sup>‡And Judah did what was evil in the sight of the LORD, and they provoked him to jealousy with their sins that they committed, more than all that their fathers had done. <sup>23</sup>For they also built for themselves high places and pillars and Asherim on every high hill and under every green tree, <sup>24</sup>and there were also male cult prostitutes in the land. They did according to all the abominations of the nations that the LORD drove out before the people of Israel.

<sup>29</sup>Now the rest of the acts of Rehoboam and all that he did, are they not written in the Book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Judah? <sup>30</sup>† And there was war between Rehoboam and Jeroboam continually. <sup>31</sup> And Rehoboam slept with his fathers and was buried with his fathers in the city of David. His mother's name was Naamah the Ammonite. And Abijam his son reigned in his place.

Abijam Reigns in Judah

1 KINGS 15 ¶¶ Now in the eighteenth year of King Jeroboam the son of Nebat, Abijam began to reign over Judah. ¶ He reigned for three years in Jerusalem. His mother's name was Maacah the daughter of Abishalom. ¶ And he walked in all the sins that his father did before him, and his heart was not wholly true to the LORD his God, as the heart of David his father. ¶ Nevertheless, for David's sake the LORD his God gave him a lamp in Jerusalem, setting up his son after him, and establishing Jerusalem, ¶ because David did what was right in the eyes of the LORD and did not turn aside from anything that he commanded him all the days of his life, except in the matter of Uriah the Hittite. ¶ Now there was war between Rehoboam and Jeroboam all the days of his life. ¶ The rest of the acts of Abijam and all that he did, are they not written in the Book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Judah? And there was war between Abijam and Jeroboam. ¶ And Abijam slept with his fathers, and they buried him in the city of David. And Asa his son reigned in his place.

Asa Reigns In Judah

¶ In the twentieth year of Jeroboam king of Israel, Asa began to reign over Judah, ¶ and he reigned forty-one years in Jerusalem. His mother's name was Maacah the daughter of Abishalom. ¶ And Asa did what was right in the eyes of the LORD, as David his father had done. ¶ He put away the male cult prostitutes out of the land and removed all the idols that his fathers had made. ¶ He also removed Maacah his mother from being queen mother because she had made an abominable image for Asherah. And Asa cut down her image and burned it at the brook Kidron. ¶ But the high places were not taken away. Nevertheless, the heart of Asa was wholly true to the LORD all his days. ¶ And he brought into the house of the LORD the sacred gifts of his father and his own sacred gifts, silver, and gold, and vessels.

¶ And there was war between Asa and Baasha king of Israel all their days. ¶ Baasha king of Israel went up against Judah and built Ramah, that he might permit no one to go out or come in to Asa king of Judah. ¶ Then Asa took all the silver and the gold that were left in the treasures of the house of the LORD and the treasures of the king's house and gave them into the hands of his servants. And King Asa sent them to Ben-hadad the son of Tabrimmon, the son of Hezion, king of Syria, who lived in Damascus, saying, ¶ “Let there be a covenant [1] between me and you, as there was between my father and your father. Behold, I am sending to you a present of silver and gold. Go, break your covenant with Baasha king of Israel, that he may withdraw from me.”<sup>20</sup>† And Ben-hadad listened to King Asa and sent the commanders of his armies against the cities of Israel and conquered Ijon, Dan, Abel-beth-maacah, and all Chinneroth, with all the land of Naphtali.<sup>21</sup> And when Baasha heard of it, he stopped building Ramah, and he lived in Tirzah.<sup>22</sup>† Then King Asa made a proclamation to all Judah, none was exempt, and they carried away the stones of Ramah and its timber, with which Baasha had been building, and with them King Asa built Geba of Benjamin and Mizpah.<sup>23</sup> Now the rest of all the acts of Asa, all his might, and all that he did, and the cities that he built, are they not written in the Book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Judah? But in his old age he was diseased in his feet.<sup>24</sup> And Asa slept with his fathers and was buried with his fathers in the city of David his father, and Jehoshaphat his son reigned in his place.

Nadab Reigns in Israel

<sup>25</sup>† Nadab the son of Jeroboam began to reign over Israel in the second year of Asa king of Judah, and he reigned over Israel two years.<sup>26</sup> He did what was evil in the sight of the LORD and walked in the way of his father, and in his sin which he made Israel to sin.

<sup>27</sup>†† Baasha the son of Ahijah, of the house of Issachar, conspired against him. And Baasha struck him down at Gibbethon, which belonged to the Philistines, for Nadab and all Israel were laying siege to Gibbethon.<sup>28</sup> So Baasha killed him in the third year of Asa king of Judah and reigned in his place.<sup>29</sup>† And as soon as he was king, he killed all the house of Jeroboam. He left to the house of Jeroboam not one that breathed, until he had destroyed it, according to the word of the LORD that he spoke by his servant Ahijah the Shilonite.<sup>30</sup>† It was for the sins of Jeroboam that he sinned and that he made Israel to sin, and because of the anger to which he provoked the LORD, the God of Israel.

<sup>31</sup> Now the rest of the acts of Nadab and all that he did, are they not written in the Book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Israel? <sup>32</sup> And there was war between Asa and Baasha king of Israel all their days.

Baasha Reigns in Israel

<sup>33</sup>†In the third year of Asa king of Judah, Baasha the son of Ahijah began to reign over all Israel at Tirzah, and he reigned twenty-four years. <sup>34</sup>He did what was evil in the sight of the LORD and walked in the way of Jeroboam and in his sin which he made Israel to sin.

<sup>1</sup> KINGS 16 † And the word of the LORD came to Jehu the son of Hanani against Baasha, saying, <sup>2</sup> † “Since I exalted you out of the dust and made you leader over my people Israel, and you have walked in the way of Jeroboam and have made my people Israel to sin, provoking me to anger with their sins, <sup>3</sup> behold, I will utterly sweep away Baasha and his house, and I will make your house like the house of Jeroboam the son of Nebat. <sup>4</sup> Anyone belonging to Baasha who dies in the city the dogs shall eat, and anyone of his who dies in the field the birds of the heavens shall eat.”

Elah Reigns in Israel

<sup>8</sup> † In the twenty-sixth year of Asa king of Judah, Elah the son of Baasha began to reign over Israel in Tirzah, and he reigned two years. <sup>9</sup> But his servant Zimri, commander of half his chariots, conspired against him. When he was at Tirzah, drinking himself drunk in the house of Arza, who was over the household in Tirzah, <sup>10</sup> Zimri came in and struck him down and killed him, in the twenty-seventh year of Asa king of Judah, and reigned in his place.

<sup>11</sup> † When he began to reign, as soon as he had seated himself on his throne, he struck down all the house of Baasha. He did not leave him a single male of his relatives or his friends. <sup>12</sup> Thus Zimri destroyed all the house of Baasha, according to the word of the LORD, which he spoke against Baasha by Jehu the prophet, <sup>13</sup> for all the sins of Baasha and the sins of Elah his son, which they sinned and which they made Israel to sin, provoking the LORD God of Israel to anger with their idols. <sup>14</sup> Now the rest of the acts of Elah and all that he did, are they not written in the Book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Israel?

Zimri Reigns in Israel

<sup>15</sup> † In the twenty-seventh year of Asa king of Judah, Zimri reigned seven days in Tirzah. Now the troops were encamped against Gibbethon, which belonged to the Philistines, <sup>16</sup>†and the troops who were encamped heard it said, “Zimri has conspired, and he has killed the king.” Therefore all Israel made Omri, the commander of the army, king over Israel that day in the camp. <sup>17</sup>So Omri went up from Gibbethon, and all Israel with him, and they besieged Tirzah. <sup>18</sup>And when Zimri saw that the city was taken, he went into the citadel of the king's house and burned the king's house over him with fire and died, <sup>19</sup>because of his sins that he committed, doing evil in the sight of the LORD, walking in the way of Jeroboam, and for his sin which he committed, making Israel to sin. <sup>20</sup>Now the rest of the acts of Zimri, and the conspiracy that he made, are they not written in the Book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Israel?

Omri Reigns in Israel

<sup>21</sup>‡‡Then the people of Israel were divided into two parts. Half of the people followed Tibni the son of Ginath, to make him king, and half followed Omri. <sup>22</sup>But the people who followed Omri overcame the people who followed Tibni the son of Ginath. So Tibni died, and Omri became king. <sup>23</sup>‡‡In the thirty-first year of Asa king of Judah, Omri began to reign over Israel, and he reigned for twelve years; six years he reigned in Tirzah. <sup>24</sup>†He bought the hill of Samaria from Shemer for two talents [\[1\]](#) of silver, and he fortified the hill and called the name of the city that he built Samaria, after the name of Shemer, the owner of the hill.

<sup>25</sup>Omri did what was evil in the sight of the LORD, and did more evil than all who were before him. <sup>26</sup>For he walked in all the way of Jeroboam the son of Nebat, and in the sins that he made Israel to sin, provoking the LORD, the God of Israel, to anger by their idols. <sup>27</sup>Now the rest of the acts of Omri that he did, and the might that he showed, are they not written in the Book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Israel? <sup>28</sup>And Omri slept with his fathers and was buried in Samaria, and Ahab his son reigned in his place.

Ahab Reigns in Israel

<sup>29</sup>‡In the thirty-eighth year of Asa king of Judah, Ahab the son of Omri began to reign over Israel, and Ahab the son of Omri reigned over Israel in Samaria twenty-two years. <sup>30</sup>†And Ahab the son of Omri did evil in the sight of the LORD, more than all who were before him. <sup>31</sup>‡‡And as if it had been a light thing for him to walk in the sins of Jeroboam the son of Nebat, he took for his wife

Jezebel the daughter of Ethbaal king of the Sidonians, and went and served Baal and worshiped him. <sup>32</sup>He erected an altar for Baal in the house of Baal, which he built in Samaria. <sup>33</sup>And Ahab made an Asherah. Ahab did more to provoke the LORD, the God of Israel, to anger than all the kings of Israel who were before him. <sup>34</sup>†In his days Hiel of Bethel built Jericho. He laid its foundation at the cost of Abiram his firstborn, and set up its gates at the cost of his youngest son Segub, according to the word of the LORD, which he spoke by Joshua the son of Nun.

Elijah Predicts a Drought

1 KINGS 17 †Now Elijah the Tishbite, of Tishbe [\[1\]](#) in Gilead, said to Ahab, “As the LORD, the God of Israel, lives, before whom I stand, there shall be neither dew nor rain these years, except by my word.” <sup>2</sup>And the word of the LORD came to him: <sup>3</sup>†“Depart from here and turn eastward and hide yourself by the brook Cherith, which is east of the Jordan. <sup>4</sup>You shall drink from the brook, and I have commanded the ravens to feed you there.” <sup>5</sup>So he went and did according to the word of the LORD. He went and lived by the brook Cherith that is east of the Jordan. <sup>6</sup>†And the ravens brought him bread and meat in the morning, and bread and meat in the evening, and he drank from the brook. <sup>7</sup>And after a while the brook dried up, because there was no rain in the land.

The Widow of Zarephath

<sup>8</sup>Then the word of the LORD came to him, <sup>9</sup>†“Arise, go to Zarephath, which belongs to Sidon, and dwell there. Behold, I have commanded a widow there to feed you.” <sup>10</sup>So he arose and went to Zarephath. And when he came to the gate of the city, behold, a widow was there gathering sticks. And he called to her and said, “Bring me a little water in a vessel, that I may drink.” <sup>11</sup>And as she was going to bring it, he called to her and said, “Bring me a morsel of bread in your hand.” <sup>12</sup>And she said, “As the LORD your God lives, I have nothing baked, only a handful of flour in a jar and a little oil in a jug. And now I am gathering a couple of sticks that I may go in and prepare it for myself and my son, that we may eat it and die.” <sup>13</sup>And Elijah said to her, “Do not fear; go and do as you have said. But first make me a little cake of it and bring it to me, and afterward make something for yourself and your son. <sup>14</sup>For thus says the LORD, the God of Israel, ‘The jar of flour shall not be spent, and the jug of oil shall not be empty, until the day that the LORD sends rain upon the earth.’” <sup>15</sup>And she went and did as Elijah said. And she and he and her household ate for many days. <sup>16</sup>The jar of flour was not spent, neither did the jug of oil become empty, according to the word of the LORD that he spoke by Elijah.

Elijah Raises the Widow's Son

<sup>17</sup>After this the son of the woman, the mistress of the house, became ill. And his illness was so severe that there was no breath left in him. <sup>18</sup>And she said to Elijah, “What have you against me, O man of God? You have come to me to bring my sin to remembrance and to cause the death of my son!”<sup>19</sup> And he said to her, “Give me your son.” And he took him from her arms and carried him up into the upper chamber where he lodged, and laid him on his own bed.<sup>20</sup> And he cried to the LORD, “O LORD my God, have you brought calamity even upon the widow with whom I sojourn, by killing her son?”<sup>21</sup> Then he stretched himself upon the child three times and cried to the LORD, “O LORD my God, let this child's life [2] come into him again.”<sup>22</sup> And the LORD listened to the voice of Elijah. And the life of the child came into him again, and he revived.<sup>23</sup> † And Elijah took the child and brought him down from the upper chamber into the house and delivered him to his mother. And Elijah said, “See, your son lives.”<sup>24</sup> † And the woman said to Elijah, “Now I know that you are a man of God, and that the word of the LORD in your mouth is truth.”

Elijah Confronts Ahab

1 KINGS 18 †After many days the word of the LORD came to Elijah, in the third year, saying, “Go, show yourself to Ahab, and I will send rain upon the earth.”
‡So Elijah went to show himself to Ahab. Now the famine was severe in Samaria. †And Ahab called Obadiah, who was over the household. (Now Obadiah feared the LORD greatly, †and when Jezebel cut off the prophets of the LORD, Obadiah took a hundred prophets and hid them by fifties in a cave and fed them with bread and water.) †And Ahab said to Obadiah, “Go through the land to all the springs of water and to all the valleys. Perhaps we may find grass and save the horses and mules alive, and not lose some of the animals.” †So they divided the land between them to pass through it. Ahab went in one direction by himself, and Obadiah went in another direction by himself.

‡And as Obadiah was on the way, behold, Elijah met him. And Obadiah recognized him and fell on his face and said, “Is it you, my lord Elijah?” †And he answered him, “It is I. Go, tell your lord, ‘Behold, Elijah is here.’” †And he said, “How have I sinned, that you would give your servant into the hand of Ahab, to kill me? †As the LORD your God lives, there is no nation or kingdom where my lord has not sent to seek you. And when they would say, ‘He is not here,’ he would take an oath of the kingdom or nation, that they had not found you. †And now you say, ‘Go, tell your lord, “Behold, Elijah is here.”” †And as soon as I have gone from you, the Spirit of the LORD will carry you I know not where. And so, when I come and tell Ahab and he cannot find you, he will kill me, although I your servant have feared the LORD from my youth. †Has it not been told my lord what I did when Jezebel killed the prophets of the LORD, how I hid a hundred men of the LORD's prophets by fifties in a cave and fed them with bread and water? †And now you say, ‘Go, tell your lord, “Behold, Elijah is here”’; and he will kill me.” †And Elijah said, “As the LORD of hosts lives, before whom I stand, I will surely show myself to him today.” †So Obadiah went to meet Ahab, and told him. And Ahab went to meet Elijah.

‡When Ahab saw Elijah, Ahab said to him, “Is it you, you troubler of Israel?” †And he answered, “I have not troubled Israel, but you have, and your father's house, because you have abandoned the commandments of the LORD and followed the Baals. †Now therefore send and gather all Israel to me at Mount Carmel, and the 450 prophets of Baal and the 400 prophets of Asherah, who eat at Jezebel's table.”

The Prophets of Baal Defeated

<sup>20</sup>So Ahab sent to all the people of Israel and gathered the prophets together at Mount Carmel. <sup>21</sup>†And Elijah came near to all the people and said, “How long will you go limping between two different opinions? If the LORD is God, follow him; but if Baal, then follow him.” And the people did not answer him a word. <sup>22</sup>Then Elijah said to the people, “I, even I only, am left a prophet of the LORD, but Baal's prophets are 450 men. <sup>23</sup>Let two bulls be given to us, and let them choose one bull for themselves and cut it in pieces and lay it on the wood, but put no fire to it. And I will prepare the other bull and lay it on the wood and put no fire to it. <sup>24</sup>†And you call upon the name of your god, and I will call upon the name of the LORD, and the God who answers by fire, he is God.” And all the people answered, “It is well spoken.” <sup>25</sup>Then Elijah said to the prophets of Baal, “Choose for yourselves one bull and prepare it first, for you are many, and call upon the name of your god, but put no fire to it.” <sup>26</sup>And they took the bull that was given them, and they prepared it and called upon the name of Baal from morning until noon, saying, “O Baal, answer us!” But there was no voice, and no one answered. And they limped around the altar that they had made. <sup>27</sup>†And at noon Elijah mocked them, saying, “Cry aloud, for he is a god. Either he is musing, or he is relieving himself, or he is on a journey, or perhaps he is asleep and must be awakened.” <sup>28</sup>†And they cried aloud and cut themselves after their custom with swords and lances, until the blood gushed out upon them. <sup>29</sup>†And as midday passed, they raved on until the time of the offering of the oblation, but there was no voice. No one answered; no one paid attention.

<sup>30</sup>Then Elijah said to all the people, “Come near to me.” And all the people came near to him. And he repaired the altar of the LORD that had been thrown down. <sup>31</sup>†Elijah took twelve stones, according to the number of the tribes of the sons of Jacob, to whom the word of the LORD came, saying, “Israel shall be your name,” <sup>32</sup>†and with the stones he built an altar in the name of the LORD. And he made a trench about the altar, as great as would contain two seahs [1] of seed. <sup>33</sup>And he put the wood in order and cut the bull in pieces and laid it on the wood. And he said, “Fill four jars with water and pour it on the burnt offering and on the wood.” <sup>34</sup>And he said, “Do it a second time.” And they did it a second time. And he said, “Do it a third time.” And they did it a third time. <sup>35</sup>And the water ran around the altar and filled the trench also with water.

<sup>36</sup>†And at the time of the offering of the oblation, Elijah the prophet came near and said, “O LORD, God of Abraham, Isaac, and Israel, let it be known this day that you are God in Israel, and that I am your servant, and that I have done all these things at your word. <sup>37</sup>Answer me, O LORD, answer me, that this people may know that you, O LORD, are God, and that you have turned their hearts back.” <sup>38</sup>Then the fire of the LORD fell and consumed the burnt offering and the wood and the stones and the dust, and licked up the water that was in the trench. <sup>39</sup>And when all the people saw it, they fell on their faces and said, “The LORD, he is God; the LORD, he is God.” <sup>40</sup>†And Elijah said to them, “Seize the prophets of Baal; let not one of them escape.” And they seized them. And Elijah brought them down to the brook Kishon and slaughtered them there.

The LORD Sends Rain

<sup>41</sup>†And Elijah said to Ahab, “Go up, eat and drink, for there is a sound of the rushing of rain.” <sup>42</sup>†So Ahab went up to eat and to drink. And Elijah went up to the top of Mount Carmel. And he bowed himself down on the earth and put his face between his knees. <sup>43</sup>And he said to his servant, “Go up now, look toward the sea.” And he went up and looked and said, “There is nothing.” And he said, “Go again,” seven times. <sup>44</sup>And at the seventh time he said, “Behold, a little cloud like a man's hand is rising from the sea.” And he said, “Go up, say to Ahab, ‘Prepare your chariot and go down, lest the rain stop you.’” <sup>45</sup>†And in a little while the heavens grew black with clouds and wind, and there was a great rain. And Ahab rode and went to Jezreel. <sup>46</sup>†And the hand of the LORD was on Elijah, and he gathered up his garment and ran before Ahab to the entrance of Jezreel.

Elijah Flees Jezebel

1 KINGS 19 Ahab told Jezebel all that Elijah had done, and how he had killed all the prophets with the sword. <sup>2</sup>Then Jezebel sent a messenger to Elijah, saying, “So may the gods do to me and more also, if I do not make your life as the life of one of them by this time tomorrow.” <sup>3</sup>†Then he was afraid, and he arose and ran for his life and came to Beersheba, which belongs to Judah, and left his servant there.

<sup>4</sup>†But he himself went a day's journey into the wilderness and came and sat down under a broom tree. And he asked that he might die, saying, “It is enough; now, O LORD, take away my life, for I am no better than my fathers.” <sup>5</sup>And he lay down and slept under a broom tree. And behold, an angel touched him and said to him, “Arise and eat.” <sup>6</sup>†And he looked, and behold, there was at his head a cake baked on hot stones and a jar of water. And he ate and drank and lay down again. <sup>7</sup>And the angel of the LORD came again a second time and touched him and said, “Arise and eat, for the journey is too great for you.” <sup>8</sup>†And he arose and ate and drank, and went in the strength of that food forty days and forty nights to Horeb, the mount of God.

The LORD Speaks to Elijah

<sup>9</sup>There he came to a cave and lodged in it. And behold, the word of the LORD came to him, and he said to him, “What are you doing here, Elijah?” <sup>10</sup>†He said, “I have been very jealous for the LORD, the God of hosts. For the people of Israel have forsaken your covenant, thrown down your altars, and killed your prophets with the sword, and I, even I only, am left, and they seek my life, to take it away.” <sup>11</sup>†And he said, “Go out and stand on the mount before the LORD.” And behold, the LORD passed by, and a great and strong wind tore the mountains and broke in pieces the rocks before the LORD, but the LORD was not in the wind. And after the wind an earthquake, but the LORD was not in the earthquake. <sup>12</sup>And after the earthquake a fire, but the LORD was not in the fire. And after the fire the sound of a low whisper. [\[1\]](#) <sup>13</sup>And when Elijah heard it, he wrapped his face in his cloak and went out and stood at the entrance of the cave. And behold, there came a voice to him and said, “What are you doing here, Elijah?” <sup>14</sup>He said, “I have been very jealous for the LORD, the God of hosts. For the people of Israel have forsaken your covenant, thrown down your altars, and killed your prophets with the sword, and I, even I only, am left, and they seek my life, to take it away.” <sup>15</sup>†† And the LORD said to him, “Go, return on your way to the wilderness of Damascus. And when you arrive, you shall anoint Hazael to be king over Syria. <sup>16</sup>† And Jehu the son of Nimshi you shall anoint to be king over Israel, and Elisha the son of Shaphat of Abel-meholah you shall anoint to be prophet in your place. <sup>17</sup> And the one who escapes from the sword of Hazael shall Jehu put to death, and the one who escapes from the sword of Jehu shall Elisha put to death. <sup>18</sup>† Yet I will leave seven thousand in Israel, all the knees that have not bowed to Baal, and every mouth that has not kissed him.”

The Call of Elisha

<sup>19</sup>† So he departed from there and found Elisha the son of Shaphat, who was plowing with twelve yoke of oxen in front of him, and he was with the twelfth. Elijah passed by him and cast his cloak upon him. <sup>20</sup>† And he left the oxen and ran after Elijah and said, “Let me kiss my father and my mother, and then I will follow you.” And he said to him, “Go back again, for what have I done to you?” <sup>21</sup>† And he returned from following him and took the yoke of oxen and sacrificed them and boiled their flesh with the yokes of the oxen and gave it to the people, and they ate. Then he arose and went after Elijah and assisted him.

Ahab's Wars with Syria

1 KINGS 20 † Ben-hadad the king of Syria gathered all his army together. Thirty-two kings were with him, and horses and chariots. And he went up and closed in on Samaria and fought against it. <sup>2</sup>And he sent messengers into the city to Ahab king of Israel and said to him, “Thus says Ben-hadad: <sup>3</sup>‘Your silver and your gold are mine; your best wives and children also are mine.’” <sup>4</sup>And the king of Israel answered, “As you say, my lord, O king, I am yours, and all that I have.” <sup>5</sup>The messengers came again and said, “Thus says Ben-hadad: ‘I sent to you, saying, “Deliver to me your silver and your gold, your wives and your children.”’ <sup>6</sup>Nevertheless I will send my servants to you tomorrow about this time, and they shall search your house and the houses of your servants and lay hands on whatever pleases you and take it away.’”

<sup>7</sup>Then the king of Israel called all the elders of the land and said, “Mark, now, and see how this man is seeking trouble, for he sent to me for my wives and my children, and for my silver and my gold, and I did not refuse him.” <sup>8</sup>And all the elders and all the people said to him, “Do not listen or consent.” <sup>9</sup>† So he said to the messengers of Ben-hadad, “Tell my lord the king, ‘All that you first demanded of your servant I will do, but this thing I cannot do.’” And the messengers departed and brought him word again. <sup>10</sup>† Ben-hadad sent to him and said, “The gods do so to me and more also, if the dust of Samaria shall suffice for handfuls for all the people who follow me.” <sup>11</sup>And the king of Israel answered, “Tell him, ‘Let not him who straps on his armor boast himself as he who takes it off.’” <sup>12</sup>When Ben-hadad heard this message as he was drinking with the kings in the booths, he said to his men, “Take your positions.” And they took their positions against the city.

Ahab Defeats Ben-hadad

<sup>13</sup>† And behold, a prophet came near to Ahab king of Israel and said, “Thus says the LORD, Have you seen all this great multitude? Behold, I will give it into your hand this day, and you shall know that I am the LORD.” <sup>14</sup>And Ahab said, “By whom?” He said, “Thus says the LORD, By the servants of the governors of the districts.” Then he said, “Who shall begin the battle?” He answered, “You.” <sup>15</sup>Then he mustered the servants of the governors of the districts, and they were 232. And after them he mustered all the people of Israel, seven thousand.

<sup>16</sup>And they went out at noon, while Ben-hadad was drinking himself drunk in the booths, he and the thirty-two kings who helped him. <sup>17</sup>‡The servants of the governors of the districts went out first. And Ben-hadad sent out scouts, and they reported to him, “Men are coming out from Samaria.” <sup>18</sup>He said, “If they have come out for peace, take them alive. Or if they have come out for war, take them alive.”

<sup>19</sup>So these went out of the city, the servants of the governors of the districts and the army that followed them. <sup>20</sup>And each struck down his man. The Syrians fled, and Israel pursued them, but Ben-hadad king of Syria escaped on a horse with horsemen. <sup>21</sup>And the king of Israel went out and struck the horses and chariots, and struck the Syrians with a great blow.

<sup>22</sup>‡Then the prophet came near to the king of Israel and said to him, “Come, strengthen yourself, and consider well what you have to do, for in the spring the king of Syria will come up against you.”

<sup>23</sup>‡And the servants of the king of Syria said to him, “Their gods are gods of the hills, and so they were stronger than we. But let us fight against them in the plain, and surely we shall be stronger than they. <sup>24</sup>And do this: remove the kings, each from his post, and put commanders in their places, <sup>25</sup>and muster an army like the army that you have lost, horse for horse, and chariot for chariot. Then we will fight against them in the plain, and surely we shall be stronger than they.” And he listened to their voice and did so.

Ahab Defeats Ben-hadad Again

<sup>26</sup>‡In the spring, Ben-hadad mustered the Syrians and went up to Aphek to fight against Israel. <sup>27</sup>‡And the people of Israel were mustered and were provisioned and went against them. The people of Israel encamped before them like two little flocks of goats, but the Syrians filled the country. <sup>28</sup>‡And a man of God came near and said to the king of Israel, “Thus says the LORD, ‘Because the Syrians have said, “The LORD is a god of the hills but he is not a god of the valleys,” therefore I will give all this great multitude into your hand, and you shall know that I am the LORD.’” <sup>29</sup>And they encamped opposite one another seven days. Then on the seventh day the battle was joined. And the people of Israel struck down of the Syrians 100,000 foot soldiers in one day. <sup>30</sup>‡And the rest fled into the city of Aphek, and the wall fell upon 27,000 men who were left.

Ben-hadad also fled and entered an inner chamber in the city. <sup>31</sup>† And his servants said to him, “Behold now, we have heard that the kings of the house of Israel are merciful kings. Let us put sackcloth around our waists and ropes on our heads and go out to the king of Israel. Perhaps he will spare your life.” <sup>32</sup> So they tied sackcloth around their waists and put ropes on their heads and went to the king of Israel and said, “Your servant Ben-hadad says, ‘Please, let me live.’” And he said, “Does he still live? He is my brother.” <sup>33</sup> Now the men were watching for a sign, and they quickly took it up from him and said, “Yes, your brother Ben-hadad.” Then he said, “Go and bring him.” Then Ben-hadad came out to him, and he caused him to come up into the chariot. <sup>34</sup> † And Ben-hadad said to him, “The cities that my father took from your father I will restore, and you may establish bazaars for yourself in Damascus, as my father did in Samaria.” And Ahab said, “I will let you go on these terms.” So he made a covenant with him and let him go.

A Prophet Condemns Ben-hadad's Release

<sup>35</sup> † † And a certain man of the sons of the prophets said to his fellow at the command of the LORD, “Strike me, please.” But the man refused to strike him. <sup>36</sup> Then he said to him, “Because you have not obeyed the voice of the LORD, behold, as soon as you have gone from me, a lion shall strike you down.” And as soon as he had departed from him, a lion met him and struck him down. <sup>37</sup> Then he found another man and said, “Strike me, please.” And the man struck him—struck him and wounded him. <sup>38</sup> So the prophet departed and waited for the king by the way, disguising himself with a bandage over his eyes. <sup>39</sup> † † And as the king passed, he cried to the king and said, “Your servant went out into the midst of the battle, and behold, a soldier turned and brought a man to me and said, ‘Guard this man; if by any means he is missing, your life shall be for his life, or else you shall pay a talent [1] of silver.’” <sup>40</sup> † And as your servant was busy here and there, he was gone.” The king of Israel said to him, “So shall your judgment be; you yourself have decided it.” <sup>41</sup> Then he hurried to take the bandage away from his eyes, and the king of Israel recognized him as one of the prophets. <sup>42</sup> † And he said to him, “Thus says the LORD, ‘Because you have let go out of your hand the man whom I had devoted to destruction, [2] therefore your life shall be for his life, and your people for his people.’” <sup>43</sup> † And the king of Israel went to his house vexed and sullen and came to Samaria.

Naboth's Vineyard

1 KINGS 21 †Now Naboth the Jezreelite had a vineyard in Jezreel, beside the palace of Ahab king of Samaria. <sup>2</sup>†And after this Ahab said to Naboth, “Give me your vineyard, that I may have it for a vegetable garden, because it is near my house, and I will give you a better vineyard for it; or, if it seems good to you, I will give you its value in money.” <sup>3</sup>†But Naboth said to Ahab, “The LORD forbid that I should give you the inheritance of my fathers.” <sup>4</sup>And Ahab went into his house vexed and sullen because of what Naboth the Jezreelite had said to him, for he had said, “I will not give you the inheritance of my fathers.” And he lay down on his bed and turned away his face and would eat no food.

<sup>5</sup>But Jezebel his wife came to him and said to him, “Why is your spirit so vexed that you eat no food?” <sup>6</sup>And he said to her, “Because I spoke to Naboth the Jezreelite and said to him, ‘Give me your vineyard for money, or else, if it please you, I will give you another vineyard for it.’ And he answered, ‘I will not give you my vineyard.’” <sup>7</sup>†And Jezebel his wife said to him, “Do you now govern Israel? Arise and eat bread and let your heart be cheerful; I will give you the vineyard of Naboth the Jezreelite.”

<sup>8</sup>†So she wrote letters in Ahab's name and sealed them with his seal, and she sent the letters to the elders and the leaders who lived with Naboth in his city. <sup>9</sup>†And she wrote in the letters, “Proclaim a fast, and set Naboth at the head of the people. <sup>10</sup>†And set two worthless men opposite him, and let them bring a charge against him, saying, ‘You have cursed [\[1\]](#) God and the king.’ Then take him out and stone him to death.” <sup>11</sup>And the men of his city, the elders and the leaders who lived in his city, did as Jezebel had sent word to them. As it was written in the letters that she had sent to them, <sup>12</sup>they proclaimed a fast and set Naboth at the head of the people. <sup>13</sup>†And the two worthless men came in and sat opposite him. And the worthless men brought a charge against Naboth in the presence of the people, saying, “Naboth cursed God and the king.” So they took him outside the city and stoned him to death with stones. <sup>14</sup>Then they sent to Jezebel, saying, “Naboth has been stoned; he is dead.”

<sup>15</sup>As soon as Jezebel heard that Naboth had been stoned and was dead, Jezebel said to Ahab, “Arise, take possession of the vineyard of Naboth the Jezreelite, which he refused to give you for money, for Naboth is not alive, but dead.”

<sup>16</sup>And as soon as Ahab heard that Naboth was dead, Ahab arose to go down to the vineyard of Naboth the Jezreelite, to take possession of it.

The LORD Condemns Ahab

<sup>17</sup>Then the word of the LORD came to Elijah the Tishbite, saying, <sup>18</sup>“Arise, go down to meet Ahab king of Israel, who is in Samaria; behold, he is in the vineyard of Naboth, where he has gone to take possession. <sup>19</sup>†And you shall say to him, ‘Thus says the LORD, “Have you killed and also taken possession?”’ And you shall say to him, ‘Thus says the LORD: “In the place where dogs licked up the blood of Naboth shall dogs lick your own blood.”’”

<sup>20</sup>Ahab said to Elijah, “Have you found me, O my enemy?” He answered, “I have found you, because you have sold yourself to do what is evil in the sight of the LORD. <sup>21</sup>†Behold, I will bring disaster upon you. I will utterly burn you up, and will cut off from Ahab every male, bond or free, in Israel. <sup>22</sup>And I will make your house like the house of Jeroboam the son of Nebat, and like the house of Baasha the son of Ahijah, for the anger to which you have provoked me, and because you have made Israel to sin. <sup>23</sup>†And of Jezebel the LORD also said, ‘The dogs shall eat Jezebel within the walls of Jezreel.’ <sup>24</sup>Anyone belonging to Ahab who dies in the city the dogs shall eat, and anyone of his who dies in the open country the birds of the heavens shall eat.”

Ahab's Repentance

<sup>25</sup>(There was none who sold himself to do what was evil in the sight of the LORD like Ahab, whom Jezebel his wife incited. <sup>26</sup>He acted very abominably in going after idols, as the Amorites had done, whom the LORD cast out before the people of Israel.) <sup>27</sup>†And when Ahab heard those words, he tore his clothes and put sackcloth on his flesh and fasted and lay in sackcloth and went about dejectedly. <sup>28</sup>And the word of the LORD came to Elijah the Tishbite, saying, <sup>29</sup>†“Have you seen how Ahab has humbled himself before me? Because he has humbled himself before me, I will not bring the disaster in his days; but in his son's days I will bring the disaster upon his house.”

Ahab and the False Prophets

1 KINGS 22 †For three years Syria and Israel continued without war. †But in the third year Jehoshaphat the king of Judah came down to the king of Israel. †And the king of Israel said to his servants, “Do you know that Ramoth-gilead belongs to us, and we keep quiet and do not take it out of the hand of the king of Syria?” †And he said to Jehoshaphat, “Will you go with me to battle at Ramoth-gilead?” And Jehoshaphat said to the king of Israel, “I am as you are, my people as your people, my horses as your horses.”

†And Jehoshaphat said to the king of Israel, “Inquire first for the word of the LORD.” †Then the king of Israel gathered the prophets together, about four hundred men, and said to them, “Shall I go to battle against Ramoth-gilead, or shall I refrain?” And they said, “Go up, for the Lord will give it into the hand of the king.” †But Jehoshaphat said, “Is there not here another prophet of the LORD of whom we may inquire?” †And the king of Israel said to Jehoshaphat, “There is yet one man by whom we may inquire of the LORD, Micaiah the son of Imlah, but I hate him, for he never prophesies good concerning me, but evil.” And Jehoshaphat said, “Let not the king say so.” †Then the king of Israel summoned an officer and said, “Bring quickly Micaiah the son of Imlah.” †Now the king of Israel and Jehoshaphat the king of Judah were sitting on their thrones, arrayed in their robes, at the threshing floor at the entrance of the gate of Samaria, and all the prophets were prophesying before them. †And Zedekiah the son of Chenaanah made for himself horns of iron and said, “Thus says the LORD, ‘With these you shall push the Syrians until they are destroyed.’” †And all the prophets prophesied so and said, “Go up to Ramoth-gilead and triumph; the LORD will give it into the hand of the king.”

Micaiah Prophecies Against Ahab

†And the messenger who went to summon Micaiah said to him, “Behold, the words of the prophets with one accord are favorable to the king. Let your word be like the word of one of them, and speak favorably.” †But Micaiah said, “As the LORD lives, what the LORD says to me, that I will speak.” †And when he had come to the king, the king said to him, “Micaiah, shall we go to Ramoth-gilead to battle, or shall we refrain?” And he answered him, “Go up and triumph; the LORD will give it into the hand of the king.” †But the king said to him, “How many times shall I make you swear that you speak to me nothing but the truth in the name of the LORD?” <sup>17</sup>† And he said, “I saw all Israel scattered on the mountains, as sheep that have no shepherd. And the LORD said, ‘These have no master; let each return to his home in peace.’” <sup>18</sup> And the king of Israel said to Jehoshaphat, “Did I not tell you that he would not prophesy good concerning me, but evil?” <sup>19</sup> And Micaiah said, “Therefore hear the word of the LORD: I saw the LORD sitting on his throne, and all the host of heaven standing beside him on his right hand and on his left; <sup>20</sup> and the LORD said, ‘Who will entice Ahab, that he may go up and fall at Ramoth-gilead?’ And one said one thing, and another said another. <sup>21</sup> Then a spirit came forward and stood before the LORD, saying, ‘I will entice him.’ <sup>22</sup>† And the LORD said to him, ‘By what means?’ And he said, ‘I will go out, and will be a lying spirit in the mouth of all his prophets.’ And he said, ‘You are to entice him, and you shall succeed; go out and do so.’ <sup>23</sup> Now therefore behold, the LORD has put a lying spirit in the mouth of all these your prophets; the LORD has declared disaster for you.”

<sup>24</sup>† Then Zedekiah the son of Chenaanah came near and struck Micaiah on the cheek and said, “How did the Spirit of the LORD go from me to speak to you?” <sup>25</sup> And Micaiah said, “Behold, you shall see on that day when you go into an inner chamber to hide yourself.” <sup>26</sup> And the king of Israel said, “Seize Micaiah, and take him back to Amon the governor of the city and to Joash the king's son, <sup>27</sup> and say, ‘Thus says the king, “Put this fellow in prison and feed him meager rations of bread and water, until I come in peace.”’” <sup>28</sup>† And Micaiah said, “If you return in peace, the LORD has not spoken by me.” And he said, “Hear, all you peoples!”

Ahab Killed in Battle

<sup>29</sup> So the king of Israel and Jehoshaphat the king of Judah went up to Ramoth-gilead. <sup>30</sup>† And the king of Israel said to Jehoshaphat, “I will disguise myself and go into battle, but you wear your robes.” And the king of Israel disguised himself and went into battle. <sup>31</sup>† Now the king of Syria had commanded the thirty-two captains of his chariots, “Fight with neither small nor great, but only with the king of Israel.” <sup>32</sup>† And when the captains of the chariots saw Jehoshaphat, they said, “It is surely the king of Israel.” So they turned to fight against him. And Jehoshaphat cried out. <sup>33</sup> And when the captains of the chariots saw that it was not the king of Israel, they turned back from pursuing him. <sup>34</sup>† But a certain man drew his bow at random [1] and struck the king of Israel between the scale armor and the breastplate. Therefore he said to the driver of his chariot, “Turn around and carry me out of the battle, for I am wounded.” <sup>35</sup> And the battle continued that day, and the king was propped up in his chariot facing the Syrians, until at evening he died. And the blood of the wound flowed into the bottom of the chariot. <sup>36</sup>And about sunset a cry went through the army, “Every man to his city, and every man to his country!”

<sup>37</sup>So the king died, and was brought to Samaria. And they buried the king in Samaria. <sup>38</sup>And they washed the chariot by the pool of Samaria, and the dogs licked up his blood, and the prostitutes washed themselves in it, according to the word of the LORD that he had spoken. <sup>39</sup>Now the rest of the acts of Ahab and all that he did, and the ivory house that he built and all the cities that he built, are they not written in the Book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Israel? <sup>40</sup>So Ahab slept with his fathers, and Ahaziah his son reigned in his place.

Jehoshaphat Reigns in Judah

<sup>41</sup>And Jehoshaphat the son of Asa began to reign over Judah in the fourth year of Ahab king of Israel. <sup>42</sup>Jehoshaphat was thirty-five years old when he began to reign, and he reigned twenty-five years in Jerusalem. His mother's name was Azubah the daughter of Shilhi. <sup>43</sup>He walked in all the way of Asa his father. He did not turn aside from it, doing what was right in the sight of the LORD. Yet the high places were not taken away, and the people still sacrificed and made offerings on the high places. <sup>44</sup>Jehoshaphat also made peace with the king of Israel.

<sup>45</sup>Now the rest of the acts of Jehoshaphat, and his might that he showed, and how he warred, are they not written in the Book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Judah? <sup>46</sup>And from the land he exterminated the remnant of the male cult prostitutes who remained in the days of his father Asa.

<sup>47</sup>There was no king in Edom; a deputy was king. <sup>48</sup>Jehoshaphat made ships of Tarshish to go to Ophir for gold, but they did not go, for the ships were wrecked at Ezion-geber. <sup>49</sup>Then Ahaziah the son of Ahab said to Jehoshaphat, “Let my servants go with your servants in the ships,” but Jehoshaphat was not willing. <sup>50</sup>And Jehoshaphat slept with his fathers and was buried with his fathers in the city of David his father, and Jehoram his son reigned in his place.

Ahaziah Reigns in Israel

<sup>51</sup>And Ahaziah the son of Ahab began to reign over Israel in Samaria in the seventeenth year of Jehoshaphat king of Judah, and he reigned two years over Israel. <sup>52</sup>He did what was evil in the sight of the LORD and walked in the way of his father and in the way of his mother and in the way of Jeroboam the son of Nebat, who made Israel to sin. <sup>53</sup>†He served Baal and worshiped him and provoked the LORD, the God of Israel, to anger in every way that his father had done.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 1:2 the king may be warm. In his old age, circulatory problems plagued King David so he had trouble keeping warm. The royal staff proposed a solution that a young virgin nurse watch over him and, at night, warm him with her body heat. This was in harmony with the medical customs of that day; both the Jewish historian Josephus (first century A.D.) and the Greek physician Galen (second century A.D.) record such a practice.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 1:3 Abishag the Shunammite. Abishag was a very beautiful teenager from the town of Shunem, in the territory of Issachar located 3 miles north of Jezreel (Josh. 19:18; 1 Sam. 28:4; 2 Kings 4:8). Though from the same town, she is not to be identified with the Shulammite in the Song of Solomon \(Song 6:13\).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 1:4 the king knew her not. Although apparently joining David’s harem (cf. 2:17, 22–24), Abishag remained a virgin.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 1:5 Adonijah. Adonijah was the fourth son of David (2 Sam. 3:4) and probably the oldest living son, since Amnon (2 Sam. 13:28–29) and Absalom (2 Sam. 18:14–15) had been killed, and Chileab apparently died in his youth, since there is no mention of him beyond his birth. As David’s oldest surviving heir, Adonijah attempted to claim the kingship. chariots and horsemen. Like Absalom (2 Sam. 15:1), Adonijah sought to confirm and support his claim to kingship by raising a small army.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 1:7 Joab. David’s nephew (1 Chron. 2:16), the commander of the army of Israel (2 Sam. 8:16) and a faithful supporter of David’s kingship (2 Sam. 18:2; 20:22). He was guilty of the illegal killings of Abner and Amasa (1 Kings 2:5; cf. 2 Sam. 3:39; 20:10). Adonijah wanted his support in his bid for the throne. Abiathar. One of the two high priests serving concurrently during David's reign (2 Sam. 8:17), whose influence Adonijah sought.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 1:8 Zadok. The other high priest serving during David's reign (2 Sam. 8:17), whose descendants will serve the millennial temple (see Ezek. 44:15). He had been high priest in the tabernacle at Gibeon under Saul (1 Chron. 16:39). Benaiah. The commander of the Cherethites and Pelethites (1 Kings 1:44), David's official guards distinguished for bravery (see 2 Sam. 23:20). See note on 1 Sam. 30:14. He was regarded by Joab as a rival. Nathan. The most influential prophet during David's reign (2 Sam. 7:1–17; 12:1–15, 25). Shimei. Cf. 1 Kings 4:18. A different individual from the Shimei referred to in 2:8, 36–46; 2 Sam. 16:5–8. mighty men. See 2 Sam. 23:8–39.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 1:9 Serpent's Stone. A standard landmark identified with a previous Jebusite snake worship location. En-rogel. Lit., “the spring of the fuller.” Typically identified as being located at the northwest confluence of the Kidron and Hinnom Valleys. Here Adonijah held a political event to court popularity and secure his claim to the throne.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 1:11–27 The revolt of Adonijah was defeated by Nathan, who knew the Lord's will (see 2 Sam. 7:12; 1 Chron. 22:9) and acted quickly, by having Bathsheba go to David first to report what was happening, after which he would follow (1 Kings 1:23).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 1:11 Bathsheba the mother of Solomon. The mothers of the kings of the Davidic line are continually noted (2:13, 19; 14:21; 15:2; 2 Kings 8:26; 12:1; 14:2; 15:2, 33; 18:2; 21:1, 19; 22:1; 23:31, 36; 24:8). The queen mother held an influential position in the royal court. For the story of how David sinfully took her, see 2 Sam. 11.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 1:12 save . . . the life of your son. If Adonijah had become king, the lives of Bathsheba and Solomon would have been in jeopardy, because often in the ancient Near East potential claimants to the throne and their families were put to death (cf. 15:29; 16:11; 2 Kings 10:11).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 1:13 Did you not . . . swear. This oath was given privately (unrecorded in Scripture) by David, perhaps to both Nathan and Bathsheba. Solomon's choice by the Lord was implicit in his name Jedidiah, meaning “beloved of the Lord” (2 Sam. 12:24–25) and explicit in David's declaration to Solomon (1 Chron. 22:6–13). Cf. 1 Kings 1:17, 20, 35.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 1:28–53 See 1 Chron. 29:21–25.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 1:29 the king swore. David swore another oath to carry out his earlier commitment to make Solomon king, and he made good on it that very day.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 1:33 my own mule. The riding of David's royal mule showed Israel that Solomon was David's chosen successor (see 2 Sam. 13:29). Gihon. This spring, which was Jerusalem's main water supply, was located about one-half mile north of En-rogel (1 Kings 1:9) and hidden from it by an intervening hill. Thus, the sound of Solomon's anointing ceremony could have been heard without being seen by Adonijah's party.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 1:34 anoint him king. Saul and David had been anointed by Samuel, the Lord's priest and prophet (1 Sam. 10:1; 16:13); Solomon was also to be recognized by priest and prophet. The participation of the prophet Nathan gave Solomon's coronation evidence of the Lord's blessing. Throughout the book of Kings, God identified his chosen kings through prophets (11:37; 15:28–29; 16:12; 2 Kings 9:3). blow the trumpet. The blowing of the trumpet signaled a public assembly where the people corporately recognized Solomon's new status as co-regent with and successor to David (1 Kings 1:39–40).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 1:35 over Israel and over Judah. The two major geographical components of David's and Solomon's kingdoms. Even while still unified these two separate entities, that would later divide (12:20), were clearly identifiable.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 1:39 tent. This was the tent David set up in Jerusalem (2 Sam. 6:17; 1 Chron. 15:1) to house the ark of the covenant, not the tabernacle of Moses (see 1 Kings 3:4).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 1:41–49 Adonijah . . . heard it. The loud shouts hailing Solomon as king reached the ears of those at Adonijah's feast at En-rogel nearby. A messenger came with the full report of the coronation of Solomon, so that the cause of Adonijah was lost and the party ended with the people leaving in fear.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 1:42 Jonathan. The son of Abiathar the priest was an experienced messenger (2 Sam. 15:36; 17:17).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 1:50 horns of the altar. Cf. 2:28. The “horns” were corner projections on the altar of burnt offering on which the priests smeared the blood of the sacrifices (Ex. 27:2; 29:12). By taking hold of the horns, Adonijah sought to place himself under the protection of God (see Ex. 21:13–14).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 2:1 he commanded Solomon. Leaders typically exhorted their successors, e.g., Moses (Deut. 31:7–8), Joshua (Josh. 23:1–6), and Samuel (1 Sam. 12:1–25). So also David gave Solomon a final exhortation.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 2:2 the way of all the earth. An expression for death (Josh. 23:14; cf. Gen. 3:19). Be strong . . . show yourself a man. An expression of encouragement (Deut. 31:7, 23; Josh. 1:6–7, 9, 18; 1 Sam. 4:9) with which David sought to prepare Solomon for the difficult tasks and the battles in his future.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 2:3 keep the charge of the Lord your God. David admonished Solomon to obey the Mosaic law so he could have a successful kingship (cf. Deut. 17:18–20).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 2:4 his word. The unconditional Davidic Covenant was made by God with David in 2 Sam. 7:4–17 and confirmed to Solomon in 1 Kings 9:5, promising the perpetuation of the Davidic dynasty over Israel. If your sons pay close attention to their way. David declared that the king’s obedience to the law of Moses was a necessary condition for the fulfillment of the divine promise. The book of Kings demonstrates that none of the descendants of David remained faithful to God’s law; none of them met the conditions for the fulfillment of the divine promise. Rather, David’s words provided a basis for explaining the exile. Thus, the ultimate and final King of Israel would appear at a later, undesignated time.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 2:5 Abner . . . Amasa. These were victims of Joab’s jealousy and vengeance, who were killed after warfare had ceased (2 Sam. 3:27; 20:10), thus bringing Joab’s punishment as a murderer (Deut. 19:11–13).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 2:7 sons of Barzillai. David told Solomon to repay Barzillai’s kindness to David (2 Sam. 17:27–29) by showing similar kindness to Barzillai’s sons. eat at your table. A position of honor that could include a royal stipend (2 Sam. 9:7; 1 Kings 18:19; 2 Kings 25:29).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 2:8 Shimei. He had angrily stoned and vehemently cursed David when David was escaping from Absalom (2 Sam. 16:5–13). Shimei's actions were worthy of death (Ex. 22:28), and David counseled Solomon through subtle means to arrange for his just punishment (1 Kings 2:36–46).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 2:10–12 See 2 Sam. 5:5 and 1 Chron. 29:26–28.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 2:10 the city of David. I.e., Jerusalem (cf. 8:1).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 2:11 forty years. David ruled from c. 1011–971 B.C., probably with Solomon as co-regent during his final year (cf. 11:41).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 2:12 firmly established. Solomon's succession enjoyed the Lord's approval, and Solomon experienced unchallenged authority, prosperity, and renown (v. 46).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 2:15 all Israel fully expected me to reign. A reference to Adonijah's perceived right to the kingship as the oldest surviving son according to ancient Near East custom.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 2:17 give me Abishag. In the ancient Near East, possession of the royal harem was a sign of kingship (cf. 2 Sam. 3:8; 12:8; 16:20–22). Adonijah's request for Abishag was an attempt to support his claim to the kingship and perhaps generate a revolt to usurp the throne. Bathsheba didn't see the treachery (1 Kings 2:18–21).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 2:22 Ask for him the kingdom also. Solomon recognized Adonijah's request as the prelude to his usurping of the throne. Because Adonijah's request violated the terms of loyalty Solomon had previously specified (1:52), he pronounced a formal, legal death sentence on Adonijah (2:23–24).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 2:24 as he promised. Solomon viewed himself as the fulfillment of the Lord's promise to David in 2 Sam. 7:12–16 (see also 1 Kings 5:5; 8:18–21). The ultimate fulfillment will be the Messiah, Jesus, who will return to Israel and set up his kingdom (see Isa. 9:6–7).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 2:26 Anathoth. A priestly town, 3 miles northeast of Jerusalem (cf. Jer. 1:1). There Abiathar, the disloyal high priest (1 Kings 1:7), lived in banishment.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 2:27 fulfilling the word of the Lord. Solomon's removal of Abiathar from the office of priest fulfilled God's prophecy that Eli's line of priests would be cut off (1 Sam. 2:30–35). This reestablished the line of Eleazar/Phinehas in Zadok (1 Kings 2:35), as promised by God (cf. Num. 25:10–13).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 2:28 Joab fled to the tent. Cf. 1:50. He knew he would have been killed already if he had not been so popular with the army. The altar provided no real sanctuary to the rebel and murderer (cf. Ex. 21:14).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 2:31 strike him down. Like Adonijah (1:50), Joab sought asylum at the altar (2:28). The protection of the Lord at the altar applied only to accidental crimes, not premeditated murder (Ex. 21:14), so Solomon ordered Benaiah to administer the violent death sought by David (1 Kings 2:6).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 2:33 peace . . . forevermore. This pledge is ultimately to be fulfilled in the Messiah's kingdom (see Isa. 2:2–4; 9:6–7).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 2:34 wilderness. The tomb of Joab's father was near Bethlehem (2 Sam. 2:32). Joab's house was probably on the edge of the Judean wilderness, east of Bethlehem.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 2:36 do not go out. Shimei had not provoked Solomon directly as Adonijah had. Therefore, Solomon determined to keep Shimei under close watch by confining him to Jerusalem.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 2:39 Gath. A major Philistine city about 30 miles southwest of Jerusalem.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 2:45 throne of David. In contrast to Shimei's curse (2 Sam. 16:5–8), the Lord's blessing was to come through the ruler of David's, not Saul's, line (cf. 2 Sam. 7:12–16).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 2:46 With the death of Shimei, all the rival factions were eliminated.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 3:1 a marriage alliance with Pharaoh. The Pharaoh was probably Siamun, the next-to-last ruler of the weak twenty-first dynasty. Solomon's treaty with Pharaoh signified that he held a high standing in the world of his day. Pharaoh's daughter was the most politically significant of Solomon's 700 wives (cf. 7:8; 9:16; 11:1).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 3:2 the high places. The open-air, hilltop worship centers that the Israelites inherited from the Canaanites had been rededicated to the Lord; the use of pagan altars had been forbidden (Num. 33:52; Deut. 7:5; 12:3). After the building of the temple, worship at the high places was condemned (1 Kings 11:7–8; 12:31; 2 Kings 16:17–20; 21:3; 23:26). no house . . . for the name of the Lord. “Name” represented the character and presence of the Lord (cf. Ex. 3:13–14). He had promised to choose one place “to put his name and make his habitation” (Deut. 12:5). The temple at Jerusalem was to be that place (cf. 1 Kings 5:3–5; 8:16–48; 9:3–7). In the ancient Near East, to identify a temple with a god’s name meant that the god owned the place and dwelt there.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 3:3 only he. Solomon’s failure in completely following the Lord was exhibited in his continual worship at the high places.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 3:4–15 See 2 Chron. 1:7–13.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 3:4 Gibeon. A town about 7 miles northwest of Jerusalem, where the tabernacle of Moses and the original bronze altar were located (1 Chron. 21:29; 2 Chron. 1:2–6).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 3:5 dream. God often gave revelation in dreams (Gen. 26:24; 28:12; 46:2; Dan. 2:7; 7:1; Matt. 1:20; 2:12–22). However, this dream was unique, a two-way conversation between the Lord and Solomon.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 3:6 great and steadfast love. This term implies covenant faithfulness. Solomon viewed his succession to David as evidence of the Lord’s faithfulness to his promises to David.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 3:7 little child. Since Solomon was probably only about 20 years of age, he readily admitted his lack of qualification and experience to be king (cf. 1 Chron. 22:5; 29:1). See note on Num. 27:15–17.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 3:8 a great people. Based on the census, which recorded 800,000 men of fighting age in Israel and 500,000 in Judah (2 Sam. 24:9), the total population was over four million, approximately double what it had been at the time of the conquest (see Num. 26:1–65).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 3:9 an understanding mind. Humbly admitting his need, Solomon sought “a listening heart” to govern God’s people with wisdom.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 3:10 pleased the Lord. The Lord was delighted that Solomon had not asked for personal benefits, e.g., long life, wealth, or the death of his enemies.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 3:12 none like you. Solomon was one of a kind in judicial insight, as illustrated in vv. 16–27.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 3:14 lengthen your days. In contrast to riches and honor that were already his, a long life was dependent on Solomon’s future obedience to the Lord’s commands. Because of his disobedience, Solomon died before reaching 70 years of age (cf. Ps. 90:10).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 3:16–27 prostitutes came to the king. Here is an illustration of how wisely Solomon ruled. In Israel, the king was the ultimate “judge” of the land, and any citizen, even the basest prostitute, could petition him for a verdict (2 Sam. 14:2–21; 15:1–4; 2 Kings 8:1–6).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 3:25 half . . . half. In ordering his servants to cut the child in two, he knew the liar would not object, but out of maternal compassion the real mother would (cf. Ex. 21:35).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 3:28 awe of the king. Israel was in awe of and willing to submit to the rule of Solomon because of his wisdom from God.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 4:1 all Israel. Solomon was in firm control of all of the people. Israel’s squabbling factions had fallen in line behind the king.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 4:2 Azariah the son of Zadok. Actually, he was the son of Ahimaaz and the grandson of Zadok, as “son of ” can mean “descendant of ” (cf. 1 Chron. 6:8–9). In David’s roster of officials, the army commander came first (2 Sam. 8:16; 20:23). Under Solomon, the priest and other officials preceded the military leader.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 4:3 secretaries. Probably they prepared royal edicts and kept official records. recorder. Likely, he maintained the records of all important daily affairs in the kingdom.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 4:4 priests. Zadok and Abiathar had served together as high priests under David (2 Sam. 8:17; 20:25). Although Abiathar had been removed from priestly service and exiled (1 Kings 2:26–27, 35), he maintained his priestly title until his death.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 4:5 Nathan. Whether this is the prophet Nathan (see note on 1:8) or another person by that name is uncertain, but it could be that Solomon was honoring the sons of the prophet.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 4:6 charge of the palace. One who managed Solomon's properties, both lands and buildings (cf. 16:9; 18:3; 2 Kings 18:18, 37; 19:2). in charge of the forced labor. One who oversaw the conscripted workers of Solomon (cf. 1 Kings 5:13–18).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 4:7 twelve officers. Solomon divided the land into 12 geographical districts (different from the tribal boundaries), each supervised by a deputy. Each month a different deputy collected provisions in his district to supply the king and his staff.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 4:20 as many as the sand by the sea. A clear allusion to the Lord's promise to Abraham in Gen. 22:17. The early years of Solomon's reign, characterized by population growth, peace, and prosperity, were a foreshadowing of the blessings that will prevail in Israel when the Abrahamic Covenant is fulfilled.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 4:21 all the kingdoms. The borders of the kingdoms that Solomon influenced echoed the Lord's promise to Abram in Gen. 15:18. However, Solomon's reign was not the fulfillment of the Abrahamic Covenant for three reasons: 1) Israel still only lived in the land "from Dan even to Beersheba" (1 Kings 4:25). Abraham's descendants did not inhabit all the land promised to Abraham. 2) The non-Israelite kingdoms did not lose their identity and independence, but rather recognized Solomon's authority and brought him tribute without surrendering title to their lands. 3) According to Num. 34:6, the Mediterranean Sea is to be the western border of the Land of Promise, indicating that Tyre was to be a part of the Promised Land. However, Hiram king of Tyre was a sovereign who entered into a bilateral or parity treaty (between equals) with Solomon (1 Kings 5:1–12).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 4:22 provision. I.e., the daily provisions for Solomon's palace.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 4:24 Tiphsah . . . Gaza. Tiphsah was located on the west bank of the Euphrates and Gaza on the southwestern Mediterranean coast. These towns represented the northeast and southwest points of Solomon's influence.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 4:26 had 40,000 stalls. Though the Hebrew text reads 40,000, this was probably a copyist's error in transcribing the text, and it should read 4,000 as in 2 Chron. 9:25.

Jerusalem at the Time of Solomon

Through various building projects Solomon began to transform the small military stronghold of the city of David into a full-scale city that would be the geographical center of Israelite religion. He built the temple of the Lord and the royal palace complex on the hill to the north of the stronghold and encircled it with a wall. Ironically, Solomon also allowed his many foreign wives to establish pagan shrines on the hill to the east of the city, which would later be called the Mount of Corruption.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 4:30 the east . . . Egypt. The men to the east of Israel in Mesopotamia and Arabia (cf. Job 1:3) and in Egypt were known for their wisdom. Egypt had been renowned for learning and science, as well as culture. Solomon's wisdom was superior to all at home or abroad (1 Kings 4:31).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 4:31 sons of Mahol. This probably meant “singers,” a guild of musicians who created sacred songs.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 4:32 proverbs . . . songs. Hundreds of Solomon’s proverbs have been preserved in the book of Proverbs (see Introduction to Proverbs). One of his songs is the Song of Solomon.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 4:33 trees . . . beasts . . . birds. Solomon described and taught about all kinds of plant and animal life, e.g., Prov. 6:6–8; 28:15; 30:19.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 4:34 people of all nations. Solomon acquired an international reputation for his wisdom. Many important visitors came from faraway places to learn from Solomon’s wisdom (cf. 10:1–13).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 5:1–16 See 2 Chron. 2:1–18.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 5:1 Hiram king of Tyre. Tyre was an important port city on the Mediterranean Sea north of Israel. Two towering mountain ranges ran within Lebanon’s borders, and on their slopes grew thick forests of cedars. Hiram I ruled there c. 978–944 B.C. He had earlier provided building materials and workers for David to build his palace (2 Sam. 5:11). Solomon maintained the friendly relations with Hiram established by David. They were beneficial to both as Israel exchanged wheat and oil for timber (see 1 Kings 5:9–11).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 5:4 rest. The guarantee of peace with the peoples surrounding Israel allowed Solomon to build the temple (cf. 4:24).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 5:5 the name. “Name” represents the character and nature of the person indicated. See note on 3:2. Your son. Solomon claimed to be the promised offspring of David, the fulfillment of the Lord’s promise to David in 2 Sam. 7:12–13. However, Solomon’s later disobedience proved that he was not the ultimate, promised offspring (1 Kings 11:9–13).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 5:6 cedars of Lebanon. The cedars of Lebanon symbolized majesty and might (Ps. 92:12; Ezek. 31:3). Because it was durable, resistant to rot and worms, closely-grained, and could be polished to a fine shine, its wood was regarded as the best timber for building. The logs were tied together and floated down the Mediterranean to Joppa (see 1 Kings 5:9; 2 Chron. 2:16), from where they could be transported to Jerusalem, 35 miles inland. Sidonians. These are the inhabitants of the city of Sidon, located on the Mediterranean Sea about 22 miles north of Tyre. Here, the term probably referred, in a general sense, to the Phoenicians, who were skilled craftsmen.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 5:7 Blessed be the Lord. Perhaps Hiram was a worshiper of the true God, but it is equally possible that he was only acknowledging Jehovah as the God of the Hebrews (cf. 2 Chron. 2:16). a wise son. Hiram recognized Solomon's wisdom in seeking to honor his father David's desires.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 5:9 food for my household. Tyre's rocky terrain grew great trees, but little good food. Hiram asked Solomon for food for his court in exchange for his lumber.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 5:13 forced labor out of all Israel. Lit., "conscripted labor." These 30,000 men who labored in Lebanon were Israelites of the land. They were sent to Lebanon, 10,000 a month in rotation. For every month they worked, they were off two months, which meant they worked only four months per year. These Israelite laborers must be distinguished from the Canaanite remnant who were made into permanent slaves. See note on 9:21–22. The 30,000 Israelites were free and performed the task of felling trees.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 5:16 Solomon's 3,300. See note on 2 Chron. 2:2. people who carried on the work. According to 2 Chron. 2:17–18, these 150,000 laborers (1 Kings 5:15) and their supervisors were non-Israelite inhabitants of the land.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 5:18 men of Gebal. Inhabitants of Gebal, a town located about 60 miles north of Tyre.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 6:1–38 See 2 Chron. 3:1–17 and 7:15–22.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 6:1 four hundred and eightieth year. Solomon began to build the temple by laying its foundation (v. 37) 480 years after the exodus from Egypt. The 480 years are to be taken as the actual years between the exodus and the building of the temple, because references to numbers of years in the book of Kings are consistently taken in a literal fashion. Also, the literal interpretation correlates with Jephthah's statement recorded in Judg. 11:26. fourth year. I.e., 966 B.C. Thus, the exodus is to be dated 1445 B.C.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 6:2 cubits. Normally the cubit was about 18 inches. This would make the temple structure proper 90 feet long, 30 feet wide, and 45 feet high. However, 2 Chron. 3:3 may indicate that the longer royal cubit of approximately 21 inches was used in the construction of the temple. On this measurement, the temple structure proper would have been 105 feet long, 35 feet wide, and 52.5 feet high. The dimensions of the temple seem to be double those of the tabernacle (see Ex. 26:15–30; 36:20–34).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 6:3 vestibule. A porch about 15 feet long in front of the temple building proper.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 6:4 windows. Placed high on the inner side of the temple wall, these openings had lattices or shutters capable of being opened, shut, or partially opened. They served to let out the vapors of the lamps and the smoke of incense, as well as to give light.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 6:5 chambers. Another attached structure surrounded the main building, excluding the porch. It provided rooms off of the main hall to house temple personnel and to store equipment and treasure (cf. 7:51).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 6:6 lowest . . . middle . . . third. This attached structure to the temple was three stories high. Each upper story was one cubit wider than the one below it. Instead of being inserted into the temple walls, beams supporting the stories rested on recessed ledges in the temple walls themselves.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 6:7 stone prepared at the quarry. The erection of the temple went much faster by utilizing precut and prefitted materials moved on rollers to the temple site. In addition, the relative quiet would be consistent with the sacredness of the undertaking.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 6:8 entrance . . . stairs. The entrance to the side rooms was on the south side, probably in the middle. Access to the second and third stories was by means of a spiral staircase that led through the middle story to the third floor.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 6:11–13 During the construction of the temple, the Lord spoke to Solomon, probably through a prophet, and reiterated that the fulfillment of his word to David through his son was contingent on Solomon's obedience to his commands (cf. 2:3–4; 3:14; 9:4–8). The use of the same words, "I will dwell among the children of Israel," in 6:13 as in Ex. 29:45, implied that Solomon's temple was the legitimate successor to the tabernacle. The Lord forewarned Solomon and Israel that the temple was no guarantee of his presence; only their continued obedience would assure that.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 6:16 the Most Holy Place. This inner sanctuary, partitioned off from the main hall by cedar planks, was a perfect cube about 30 feet on a side (v. 20) and was the most sacred area of the temple. The Most Holy Place is further described in vv. 19–28. The tabernacle also had a “Most Holy Place” (Ex. 26:33–34).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 6:17 the nave. This was the Holy Place, just outside the Most Holy Place, 60 feet long, 30 feet wide, and 45 feet high, that housed the altar of incense, the golden tables of the bread of the Presence, and the golden lampstands (7:48–49).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 6:19 the ark of the covenant of the Lord. The ark was a rectangular box made of acacia wood. The ark was made at Sinai by Bezalel according to the pattern given to Moses (Ex. 25:10–22; 37:1–9). The ark served as the receptacle for the two tablets of the Ten Commandments (Ex. 25:16, 21; 40:20; Deut. 10:1–5) and the place in the inner sanctuary where the presence of the Lord met Israel (Ex. 25:22).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 6:20 overlaid it with pure gold. Cf. vv. 21, 22, 28, 30, 32, 35. Gold was beaten into fine sheets, and then hammered to fit over the beautifully embellished wood (vv. 18, 29), then attached to every surface in the temple proper, both in the Holy Place and in the Most Holy Place, so that no wood or stone was visible (v. 22).

Solomon’s Temple

Solomon constructed the temple on Mount Moriah, north of the ancient city of David. The temple was built according to plans that David received from the Lord and passed on to Solomon (1 Chron. 28:11–13, 19). The division into a nave and inner sanctuary corresponds to the division of the tabernacle into the Holy Place and Most Holy Place.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 6:23 cherubim. These two sculptured winged creatures, with human faces overlaid with gold (cf. Gen. 3:24; Ezek. 41:18–19), stood as guards on either side of the ark (see 2 Chron. 3:10–13) and are not to be confused with the cherubim on the mercy seat (see Ex. 25:17–22). The cherubim represented angelic beings who were guardians of God’s presence and stood on either side of the ark (1 Kings 8:6–7) in the Most Holy Place. They were 15 feet tall and 15 feet between wing tips (1 Kings 6:24–26). See note on Ex. 25:18.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 6:29 palm trees. An image reminiscent of the Garden of Eden in Gen. 2. The palm tree represented the tree of life from the Garden.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 6:31–35 There was distinct and magnificent separation by doors between the inner court of the temple (v. 36) and the Holy Place, as well as between the Holy Place and the Most Holy Place.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 6:36 the inner court. This walled-in, open space that surrounded the temple was also called “the court of the priests” (2 Chron. 4:9) or the “upper court” (Jer. 36:10). The wall of that court had a layer of wood between each of the three courses of stone. The alternation of timber beams with masonry was common in Mediterranean construction.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 6:37 fourth year . . . month of Ziv. Cf. 6:1.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 6:38 seven years. From foundation to finishing, the temple took seven years and six months to build. See note on 2 Chron. 5:1.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 7:1 thirteen years. Having built the house for the Lord, Solomon then built one for himself. Solomon's "house" was a complex of structures that took almost twice as long to build as the temple. The time involved was probably because there was not the same preparation for building or urgency as for the national place of worship. The temple and Solomon's house together took 20 years to complete (cf. 9:10).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 7:2–5 the House of the Forest of Lebanon. As a part of the palace complex, Solomon also built this large rectangular building, 150 feet long, 75 feet wide, and 45 feet high. It was built of a "Forest" of cedar pillars from Lebanon. Three rows of cedar columns supported trimmed cedar beams and a cedar roof.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 7:6 the Hall of Pillars. This colonnade was probably an entry hall or waiting area for the Hall of Judgment, which was probably used for the transaction of public business.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 7:7 the Hall of Judgment. The place where Solomon would publicly hear petitions from Israelites and render judgments was added to the grand palace site.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 7:8 house . . . court . . . house. Behind the Hall of Judgment was an open court. Within this court, Solomon built his own personal residence, a palace for his harem, and royal apartments for the Egyptian princess he had married.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 7:9–12 A fortune was spent on building, adjacent to the temple, the whole palace with its three parts: 1) the king's home, 2) the courtyard in the middle, and 3) the house of the women on the other side.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 7:13 Hiram. Although having the same Hebrew name, this individual was distinct from the King of Tyre (5:1). Hiram had a Tyrian father, but his mother was of the tribe of Naphtali. Second Chronicles 2:14 states that Hiram's mother came from the tribe of Dan. Probably one verse refers to her place of birth and the other to her place of residence. Or, if her parents were originally from the two tribes, then he could legitimately claim either. The description of Hiram's skills in 1 Kings 7:14 is exactly the same as that of Bezalel who made the tabernacle (Ex. 31:3; 36:1). Hiram made the pillars (1 Kings 7:14–22). See note on 2 Chron. 2:13–14.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 7:15 two pillars. One bronze pillar was on each side of the temple's entrance (v. 21). Each pillar was 27 feet high and 18 feet around. See note on 2 Chron. 3:15.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 7:16 capitals. These distinctively treated upper ends of the bronze pillars added 7.5 feet to the height of each pillar.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 7:18 pomegranates. One of the fruits of the Promised Land (Num. 13:23; Deut. 8:8), these were popular decorative motifs used on the hem of Aaron's priestly garment (Ex. 28:33–34).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 7:21 Jachin . . . Boaz. I.e. "he shall establish" and "in it is strength," respectively. It is likely that each name recalls promises given to the Davidic house, and that they perpetually reminded the worshipers of God's grace in providing the Davidic monarchy as well as each king's need to depend on God for his success. See note on 2 Chron. 3:17. They were also symbolic of the strength and stability of God's promise of a kingdom forever, even though the temple would come down (see Jer. 52:17).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 7:23 the sea. A huge circular bronze basin corresponding to the laver of the tabernacle. According to v. 26, this great basin's capacity was about 12,000 gallons (see note on 2 Chron. 4:5). The sea stood in the courtyard on the temple's southeast side and provided the priests water to wash themselves and their sacrifices (2 Chron. 4:6). It probably also supplied water for the 10 movable basins (1 Kings 7:38–39). See note on 2 Chron. 4:2.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 7:25 twelve oxen. Hiram arranged three oxen facing in each of the four directions of the compass to support the sea. See note on 2 Chron. 4:4.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 7:26 two thousand baths. See note on 2 Chron. 4:5.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 7:27–37 stands. Hiram made 10 movable stands of bronze 6 feet square and 4.5 feet high. Each consisted of four upright corner poles joined together by square panels. For mobility, the stands rode on four wheels of bronze (v. 30).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 7:38 basins. Hiram made 10 bronze basins as water containers for the stands. Each measured 6 feet across and held about 240 gallons of water.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 7:40 the shovels, and the basins. Shovels were used to scoop up the ashes that were then emptied into the bowls for disposal. The same tools served the same purpose in the tabernacle (Ex. 27:3).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 7:45 burnished bronze. I.e., bronze polished to a high shine.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 7:46 between Succoth and Zarethan. Succoth was located on the east side of the Jordan River just north of the Jabbok River (Gen. 33:17; Josh. 13:27; Judg. 8:4–5). Zarethan was nearby. This location was conducive to good metallurgy, because it abounded in clay suitable for molds and lay close to a source of charcoal for heat, namely the forests across the Jordan.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 7:48 the golden altar. The altar of incense stood in front of the Most Holy Place (cf. Ex. 30:1–4). the golden table. The table on which the bread of the Presence was placed, which the law required to be continually in God’s presence (Ex. 25:30).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 7:49 lampstands. Ten golden lampstands standing directly in front of the Most Holy Place, five on either side of the doors, provided a corridor of light.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 7:51 David . . . had dedicated. Solomon deposited that which David had dedicated to the Lord (2 Sam. 8:7–12) in the side rooms of the temple.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 8:1–21 See 2 Chron. 5:2–6:11.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 8:1 elders . . . heads. The “elders” of Israel were respected men who were in charge of local government and justice throughout Israel (Ex. 18:13–26; Num. 11:16–30; 1 Sam. 8:1–9). They advised the king on important matters of state (1 Sam. 15:30; 2 Sam. 17:5; 1 Kings 12:6–11). The “heads” of the tribes or “leaders” were the oldest living males within each extended family unit. They were the ones responsible for learning the law and leading their families to obey it.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 8:2 seventh month. Solomon finished building the temple in the eighth month of the previous year (6:38; see 2 Chron. 5:1); all its detail signifying the magnificence and beauty of God’s nature and his transcendent, uncommon glory. The celebration, then, did not take place until 11 months later. Apparently Solomon intentionally scheduled the dedication of the temple to coincide with the Feast of Booths or Tabernacles held in the seventh month, when there would be a general assembly of the people in Jerusalem. That was also a jubilee year, so it was especially appropriate (Lev. 23:33–36, 39–43; Deut. 16:13–15).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 8:4–6 brought up the ark. The ark of the covenant was transported by the priests and the Levites from the tent that David had made for it in Jerusalem (2 Sam. 6:17). They also brought to the temple the tabernacle and all its furnishings, which had been located at Gibeon (2 Chron. 1:2–6). The ark was placed into the Most Holy Place (1 Kings 8:6).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 8:7–8 poles. God had originally commanded that poles be used to carry the ark (Ex. 25:13–15). They were left protruding to serve as a guide so the high priest could be guided by them when he entered the dark inner sanctuary.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 8:8 to this day. The phrase is used from the perspective of one who lived and wrote before the destruction of the temple in 586 B.C. The writer of 1 Kings incorporated such sources into his book (cf. 9:13, 21; 10:12; 12:19).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 8:9 two tablets of stone. At this time the ark of the covenant contained only the two tablets inscribed with the Ten Commandments. The pot of manna (Ex. 16:33) and Aaron’s rod that budded (Num. 17:10) were no longer in the ark. See Heb. 9:4.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 8:10 a cloud. The cloud was “the glory of the Lord” (v. 11), the visible symbol of God’s presence. It signaled the Lord’s approval of this new temple. A similar manifestation took place when the tabernacle was dedicated (Ex. 40:34–35). See note on Lev. 9:23.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 8:12–13 Solomon's solemn declaration was addressed to the Lord. Solomon recognized the thick darkness as the manifestation of the Lord's gracious presence among his people (cf. Ex. 19:9; 20:21; Lev. 16:2) and affirmed that he had built the temple so that the Lord could dwell there in the glory of thick darkness.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 8:14–21 Solomon turned around from addressing the Lord and spoke to the assembly of Israel gathered at the temple. Solomon, in vv. 15–19 rehearsed the story of 2 Sam. 7:12–16 and claimed that he, having built the temple, had become the fulfillment of God's promise to his father David (1 Kings 8:20–21). However, Solomon's claim was premature because the Lord later appeared to him declaring the necessity of obedience for the establishment of Solomon's throne (9:4–9), an obedience that would be lacking in Solomon (11:6, 9–10).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 8:22–53 See note on 2 Chron. 6:12–40. Solomon then moved to the altar of burnt offering to offer a lengthy prayer of consecration to the Lord. First, he affirmed that no god could compare to Israel's God, the Lord (1 Kings 8:23–24). Second, he asked the Lord for his continued presence and protection (vv. 25–30). Third, he listed seven typical Israelite prayers that would require the Lord's response (vv. 31–54). These supplications recalled the detailed list of curses that Deut. 28:15–68 ascribed for the breaking of the law. Specifically, Solomon prayed that the Lord would judge between the wicked and the righteous (1 Kings 8:31–32); the Lord would forgive the sins that had caused defeat in battle (vv. 33–34); the Lord would forgive the sins that had brought on drought (vv. 35–36); the Lord would forgive the sins that had resulted in national calamities (vv. 37–40); the Lord would show mercy to God-fearing foreigners (vv. 41–43); the Lord would give victory in battle (vv. 44–45); and the Lord would bring restoration after captivity (vv. 46–54).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 8:22 spread out his hands. The spreading of open hands toward heaven was a normal posture of individual prayer (Ex. 9:29; Isa. 1:15).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 8:27 heaven . . . cannot contain you. Solomon confessed that even though the Lord had chosen to dwell among his people in the cloud at the temple, he far transcended containment by anything in all creation.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 8:54–61 Solomon arose to pronounce a benediction on the people. His words were substantially a brief recapitulation of the preceding prayer in which he affirmed the faithfulness of the Lord to Israel (v. 56) and exhorted Israel to faithfulness to the Lord (vv. 57–61).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 8:62–66 See 2 Chron. 7:1–10.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 8:62 offered sacrifice. To complete the temple's dedication, Solomon led the people in offering peace offerings to the Lord (cf. Lev. 3:1–17; 7:11–21), in which they consumed 22,000 bulls and 120,000 sheep (1 Kings 8:63). Although the number of sacrifices offered seems high, it was in keeping with the magnitude of this event. Obviously, the single bronze altar could not accommodate such an enormous number of sacrifices. Solomon first had to consecrate the entire middle courtyard, the one directly in front of the temple (v. 64). After consecrating the court, Solomon probably had a series of auxiliary altars set up in the court to accommodate all the peace offerings.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 8:65 from Lebo-Hamath to the Brook of Egypt. “Lebo-Hamath” was located about 20 miles south of Kadesh on the Orontes River and was the northern boundary of the land promised to Israel (Num. 34:7–9; Josh. 13:5). “The Brook of Egypt” is to be equated with Wadi El-Armish in the northeastern Sinai, the southern boundary of the land promised to Israel. These locations show that people from all over Israel attended the dedication of the temple.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 9:1–9 See 2 Chron. 7:11–22.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 9:1–2 finished . . . the king's house. According to 6:1, Solomon began building the temple in April/May 966 B.C. The temple was completed in October/November 959 B.C. (6:38). The temple dedication and Solomon's prayer to the Lord occurred 11 months after the completion of the temple in September/October 958 B.C. The Lord did not appear to Solomon this second time (cf. 3:5–14) until Solomon had completed the building of his own palace in 946 B.C. (cf. 7:1). Thus, the Lord's response came approximately 12 years after Solomon's prayer and supplication to the Lord recorded in 8:22–53.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 9:3 consecrated. The Lord made the temple holy by being present in the cloud (cf. 8:10). As proof of the temple's consecration, the Lord told Solomon that he had put his name there (cf. 3:2). forever. God was not saying he will dwell in that building forever, since in less than 400 years it was destroyed by the Babylonians (cf. 9:7–9). He was saying that Jerusalem and the temple mount are to be his earthly throne as long as the earth remains, through the millennial kingdom (see Isa. 2:1–4; Zech. 14:16). Even during the new heaven and new earth, the eternal state, there will be the heavenly Jerusalem, where God will eternally dwell (see Rev. 21:1–2). eyes . . . heart. These symbolized, respectively, the Lord’s constant attention toward and deep affection for Israel. By implication, he promised them access to his presence and answers to their prayers.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 9:4–9 See 2 Chron. 7:17–22.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 9:4 if you will walk. The Lord reiterated to Solomon the importance of obedience to the Mosaic statutes in order to experience the blessings of the Davidic Covenant (cf. 2:3–4).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 9:6 if you turn. If Israel (“you” is plural) abandoned the Lord to worship other gods, God would expel Israel from the land and destroy the temple (v. 7).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 9:9 this disaster. The destruction of Jerusalem and exile from the land (v. 8) were predicted by Moses in Deut. 29:24–28. The devastation of the temple, which came in 586 B.C., graphically demonstrated the Lord’s anger against Israel’s sin, particularly the sin of idolatry.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 9:10–28 See 2 Chron. 8:1–18.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 9:10 At the end of twenty years. The completion of the building of the temple (seven years) and the building of Solomon’s palace (13 years) would be c. 946 B.C. (see note on 9:1–2).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 9:11 Solomon gave to Hiram twenty cities. Solomon sold these 20 cities in Galilee to Hiram in exchange for the gold (about 4.5 tons) mentioned in v. 14. Probably these cities lay along the border between Tyre and Israel, just outside the territory of Asher. Later, Hiram gave the towns back to Solomon. See note on 2 Chron. 8:2.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 9:13 to this day. See note on 8:8.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 9:15 the Millo. A landfill in the depression between the city of David and the temple and palace complex to the north (see 2 Sam. 5:9). Hazor. Ten miles north of the Sea of Galilee, Hazor protected Israel's northeastern entrance from Syria and Mesopotamia. Megiddo. Megiddo guarded a crucial pass in the Carmel mountains, which linked the valley of Jezreel and the international coastal highway to Egypt. Gezer. Twenty miles west of Jerusalem, Gezer lay in the coastal plain at the intersection of the coastal highway and the main road to Jerusalem.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 9:17 Lower Beth-horon. About 12 miles northwest of Jerusalem along a road connecting Gibeon with the western lowlands and providing a western approach to Jerusalem. See note on 2 Chron. 8:5.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 9:18 Baalath. The designation of several cities in Canaan. See note on 2 Chron. 8:6. Tamar. This city was located 16 miles southwest of the Dead Sea on the southeastern boundary of the land (cf. Ezek. 47:19; 48:28).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 9:19 store cities. Cities whose primary purpose was to store food (2 Chron. 17:12; 32:28). cities for his horsemen. Solomon built military outposts for his chariots and horses. To defend his kingdom, these garrisons were probably located along key roads throughout the nation. All the cities listed in 1 Kings 9:15–19 met this requirement.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 9:20–23 See 2 Chron. 8:7–10.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 9:21–22 drafted to be slaves. I.e., “conscripted slave labor.” See note on 5:13. Only resident aliens permanently became part of this force since the law did not allow Israelites to make fellow-Israelites slaves against their will (Ex. 21:2–11; Lev. 25:44–46; Deut. 15:12–18). Additionally, 1 Kings 9:22 adds that he did not move someone from an established post, even for a specific project.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 9:21 to this day. See note on 8:8.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 9:25 Solomon used to offer. Once the temple had been built, Solomon's practice of sacrificing to God at the various high places ceased (cf. 3:2–4). He kept Israel's three great annual feasts, Passover, Weeks, and Booths (Deut. 16:1–17), at the temple in Jerusalem.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 9:26 Ezion-geber. Solomon's port located on the modern Gulf of Aqabah.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 9:28 Ophir. The location of Ophir is unknown. It has been suggested it was located on the southwestern Arabian peninsula. First Kings 10:11–12 possibly suggests that Ophir was close to or a part of the kingdom of Sheba. 420 talents. This was about 16 tons of gold. Second Chronicles 8:18 has 450 talents (see note on 2 Chron. 8:18).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 10:1–29 See 2 Chron. 9:1–28.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 10:1 Sheba. Sheba was located in southwestern Arabia, about 1,200 miles from Jerusalem. concerning the name of the Lord. The primary motive for the queen’s visit was to verify Solomon’s reputation for wisdom and devotion to the Lord. hard questions. Riddles designed to stump the hearer (cf. Judg. 14:12).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 10:5 no more breath in her. Lit., the experience “left her breathless.”

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 10:9 the Lord your God. The queen was willing to credit Solomon’s God with giving him wisdom that resulted in just and righteous decisions. Though she recognized the Lord as Israel’s national God, there was no confession that Solomon’s God had become her God to the exclusion of all others. There is no record that she made any offerings to God at the temple.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 10:10 120 talents. About 4.5 tons (cf. 9:28).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 10:11 almug wood. Probably the strong, long-lasting sandalwood, which is black on the outside and ruby red inside.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 10:12 to this day. See note on 8:8.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 10:14 weight . . . was 666 talents. About 25 tons of gold.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 10:15 Gold also came to Solomon from tolls and tariffs from traders, revenues from loyal administrators, and taxes from Arabian kings who used caravan routes under Solomon’s control.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 10:16–17 shields. From his gold revenues, Solomon made 200 large shields, containing about 7.5 pounds of gold each, and 300 small shields, having 3.75 pounds of gold each, that were ornamental in design and restricted to ceremonial use.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 10:21 House of the Forest of Lebanon. See note on 7:2–5. silver. To show the wealth of Solomon’s kingdom, the writer explains that gold was so plentiful that the value of silver dropped to nothing.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 10:22 ships of Tarshish. These were large, all-weather cargo vessels designed to make long ocean voyages.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 10:25 silver and gold . . . horses. The wisdom God had given to Solomon (v. 24) caused many rulers, like the queen of Sheba (vv. 1–13), to bring presents to Solomon as they sought to buy his wisdom to be applied in their own nations. These gifts led Solomon to multiply for himself horses, as well as silver and gold, precisely that which God’s king was warned against in Deut. 17:16–17. Solomon became ensnared by the blessings of his own wisdom and disobeyed God’s commands.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 10:28 Kue. Kue was in Cilicia, an area south of the Taurus Mountains in Asia Minor. In antiquity, Cilicia was famed for breeding and selling the best horses.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 10:29 chariot . . . for 600 shekels. About 15 pounds of silver. horse for 150. About 3.75 pounds of silver. Hittites. The majority of Hittites lived in Anatolia (Asia Minor). From c. 1720–1200 B.C. a unified kingdom ruled over the Hittites. These kings spread the influence of the Hittites throughout the ancient Near East; the Hittite empire reached the peak of its power c. 1380–1350 B.C. When the Hittite empire collapsed, c. 1200 B.C., many Hittite city-states developed, each with its own king. These rulers were called “the kings of the Hittites” and were scattered in Solomon’s day throughout Anatolia and northern Aram (Syria). kings of Syria. The geographical area within the bounds set by the Taurus Mountains in the north, the western bend of the Euphrates River and the edge of the desert in the east, the Litani River to the south and the Mediterranean Sea to the west, had as its major city, Damascus. Later known by the Greek term “Syria,” the land was known in OT times as Aram.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 11:1–6 loved many foreign women. Many of Solomon’s marriages were for the purpose of ratifying treaties with other nations, a common practice in the ancient Near East. The practice of multiplying royal wives, prohibited in Deut. 17:17 because the practice would turn the king’s heart away from the Lord, proved to be accurate in the experience of Solomon. His love for his wives (1 Kings 11:1–2) led him to abandon his loyalty to the Lord and worship other gods (vv. 3–6). No sadder picture can be imagined than the ugly apostasy of his later years (over 50), which can be traced back to his sins with foreign wives. Polygamy was tolerated among the ancient Hebrews, though most in the East had only one wife. A number of wives was seen as a sign of wealth and importance. The king desired to have a larger harem than any of his subjects, and Solomon resorted to this form of state magnificence. But it was a sin directly violating God's law, and the very result which that law was designed to prevent happened.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 11:1 Moabite. Descendants of Lot (Gen. 19:37) who lived in the land east of the Dead Sea between the Arnon River to the north and the Zered Brook to the south. Ammonite. Descendants of Lot (Gen. 19:38) who were located in the area of the Transjordan beginning about 25 miles east of the Jordan River. Edomite. Descendants of Esau (Gen. 36:1) who were located in the area south of Moab, to the southeast of the Dead Sea. Sidonian. See note on 5:6. Hittite. See note on 10:29.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 11:4 as . . . David. Cf. v. 6. David is consistently presented in Kings as the standard by which other kings were to act and be judged (3:14; 9:4; 14:8; 15:3; 2 Kings 8:19; 22:2). This was not because David had not sinned (cf. 2 Sam. 11–12), but rather because he repented appropriately from his sin (Ps. 32:51), and because sin did not continue as the pattern of his life.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 11:5 Ashtoreth. A deliberate distortion of the Canaanite “ashtart,” re-vocalized based on the Hebrew word for “shame.” She was the goddess of love and fertility, especially worshiped at Tyre and Sidon. Milcom. Another name for Molech (v. 7), the national god of the Ammonites. His name seems to mean “the one who rules.” The worship of Molech was associated with the sacrifice of children in the fire (Lev. 18:21; 20:2–5; Jer. 32:35).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 11:6 evil in the sight of the Lord. The particular evil of Solomon was his tolerance of and personal practice of idolatry. These same words were used throughout the book of Kings to describe the rulers who promoted and practiced idolatry (15:26, 34; 16:19, 25, 30; 22:52; 2 Kings 3:2; 8:18, 27; 13:2, 11; 14:24; 15:9, 18, 24, 28; 17:2; 21:2, 20; 23:32, 37; 24:9, 19). Solomon became an open idolater, worshiping images of wood and stone in the sight of the temple which, in his early years, he had erected to the one true God.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 11:7 Chemosh. The god of the Moabites, to whom the sacrifice of children as a burnt offering was customary (2 Kings 3:27). mountain east of Jerusalem. Probably, the Mount of Olives. This is the area called Tophet in Jer. 7:30–34 and the mount of corruption in 2 Kings 23:13.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 11:9–10 appeared to him twice. Once was at Gibeon (3:5), the next at Jerusalem (9:2). On both occasions, God had warned Solomon, so he had no excuses.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 11:11 not kept my covenant. Solomon failed to obey the commandments to honor God (Ex. 20:3–6), which were part of the Mosaic Covenant. Obedience to that covenant was necessary for receiving the blessings of the Davidic Covenant (see 1 Kings 2:3–4). tear the kingdom from you. The Lord's tearing of the kingdom from Solomon was announced in Ahijah's symbolic action of tearing his garment in 11:29–39. The tearing of the robe, picturing the loss of the kingdom, recalls the interaction between Samuel and Saul (1 Sam. 15:27–28), when the Lord took the kingdom away from Saul because of his disobedience. The great gifts to Solomon followed by his great abuse warranted such a judgment.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 11:12 not do it in your days. The Lord's great love for David caused him to temper his judgment with mercy by not disrupting the kingdom in Solomon's lifetime (cf. v. 34). This showed that Solomon's disobedience did not annul the Davidic Covenant; the Lord's commitment to fulfill his word to David remained firm (cf. 2 Sam. 7:12–16).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 11:13 one tribe. The one tribe that remained loyal to the Davidic dynasty was Judah (cf. 12:20). for the sake of Jerusalem. The Lord had chosen Jerusalem as the place where his name would dwell forever (9:3). Therefore, Jerusalem and the temple would remain so that the divine promise might stand.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 11:14–18 Hadad the Edomite. Even though Hadad belonged to the royal family that ruled Edom, he escaped death at the hands of David's army when he was a child, and he fled to Egypt (cf. 2 Sam. 8:13–14; 1 Chron. 18:12–13).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 11:18 Midian. The land directly east of Edom, to which Hadad first fled on his way to Egypt. Paran. A wilderness southeast of Kadesh in the central area of the Sinai Peninsula (cf. Num. 12:16; 13:3).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 11:21 Let me depart. Like Moses (Ex. 2:10), Hadad's son grew up in Pharaoh's household. As did Moses (Ex. 5:1), Hadad requested that Pharaoh allow him to leave Egypt. Hearing of the deaths of David and Joab, he renounced his easy position and possessions in Egypt to return to Edom in order to regain his throne. His activities gave great trouble to Israel (1 Kings 11:25).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 11:23–25 Rezon. After David conquered Zobar (2 Sam. 8:3–8), Rezon and his men took Damascus and established the strong dynasty of Syrian kings that severely troubled Israel in the ninth century B.C. (cf. 1 Kings 15:18; 20:1).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 11:26 Jeroboam the son of Nebat. In contrast to Hadad and Rezon, who were external adversaries of Solomon, God raised up Jeroboam from a town in Ephraim as an internal adversary. Jeroboam was from Ephraim, the leading tribe of Israel's northern 10 tribes. He was a young man of talent and energy who, having been appointed by Solomon as leader over the building works around Jerusalem, rose to public notice.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 11:28 forced labor. See note on 5:13.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 11:29 Ahijah the Shilonite. Ahijah was a prophet of the Lord who lived in Shiloh, a town in Ephraim about 20 miles north of Jerusalem. See note on 1 Sam. 1:3.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 11:30–32 Here is a monumental prophecy that because of Solomon's sins the kingdom would be divided and Jeroboam would rule in the northern area (cf. vv. 35–37).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 11:33 See notes on 11:5, 7.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 11:36 a lamp before me. A lighted lamp represented the life of an individual (Job 18:6; Ps. 132:17). God promised that from the tribe of Judah David would continue to have descendants ruling in Jerusalem (cf. 2 Sam. 21:17; 1 Kings 15:4; 2 Kings 8:19).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 11:38 if you will listen to all that I command you. The Lord gave to Jeroboam the same promise that he had made to David—an enduring royal dynasty over Israel, the 10 northern tribes, if he obeyed God's law. The Lord imposed on Jeroboam the same conditions for his kingship that he had imposed on David (2:3–4; 3:14).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 11:39 but not forever. This statement implied that the kingdom's division was not to be permanent and that David's house would ultimately rule all the tribes of Israel again (cf. Ezek. 37:15–28).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 11:40 kill Jeroboam. Though the prophecy was private (v. 29), the king heard about it and Jeroboam became a marked man, guilty in Solomon’s eyes of rebellion and worthy of the death penalty. Shishak. Shishak was the founder of the twenty-second dynasty in Egypt. He reigned c. 945–924 B.C. He invaded Judah during the reign of Rehoboam (14:25–26).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 11:42 forty years. 971–931 B.C.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 12:1–2 Kings 17:41 The division of Solomon’s kingdom had been predicted by the Lord to Solomon (1 Kings 11:11–13) and through Ahijah to Jeroboam (11:29–37). This section of the books of Kings shows how the word of the Lord through the prophet was fulfilled and narrates the history of the divided kingdom, Israel (the northern kingdom) and Judah (the southern kingdom), from 931–722 B.C.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 12:1–14:31 This section describes the disruption of the kingdom (12:1–24) plus the establishment and royal sanctioning of idolatry in Israel (12:25–14:20) and Judah (14:21–31). The reigns of Solomon’s son, Rehoboam, in the south (c. 931–913 B.C.) and Solomon’s servant, Jeroboam, in the north (c. 931–910 B.C.) are discussed. See 2 Chron. 10:1–12:16.

The Kingdom Divides

When Solomon’s son Rehoboam arrived at Shechem for his coronation after his father’s death, he refused to lighten his father’s heavy tax burden on the people, and the 10 northern tribes revolted and set up Jeroboam as their king. The northern kingdom would now be known as Israel and the southern kingdom as Judah. Five years later, Shishak (also called Sheshonq) king of Egypt invaded Judah and Israel and captured a number of towns. Rehoboam avoided Jerusalem’s destruction by paying off Shishak with many of the treasures Solomon had placed in the temple.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 12:1 Shechem. A city located in the hill country of northern Ephraim, 30 miles north of Jerusalem. Shechem had a long and important history as a political and religious center (cf. Gen. 12:6; Josh. 8:30–35; 24:1–28, 32). all Israel. The representatives of the 10 northern tribes assembled to accept Rehoboam as king (cf. 2 Sam. 5:3).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 12:2 heard of it. Jeroboam, in Egypt (11:40), learned about the death of Solomon (11:43).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 12:3 Jeroboam . . . said. The 10 northern tribes summoned Jeroboam from Egypt to become their representative and spokesman in their dealings with Rehoboam.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 12:4 yoke. The hardships that resulted from Solomon's policy of compulsory labor service (cf. 5:13; 9:22; 11:28) and excessive taxes (cf. 4:7) came because the splendor of his courts, the magnitude of his wealth, and the profits of his enterprises were not enough to sustain his demands.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 12:6–7 the old men. These were older, experienced counselors and administrators who had served Solomon. They counseled Rehoboam to give concessions to the 10 tribes.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 12:8–10 the young men. The contemporaries of Rehoboam, about forty years of age (cf. 14:21), who were acquainted only with the royal court life of Solomon, recommended that Rehoboam be even harsher on the 10 tribes than was Solomon.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 12:10 My little finger . . . my father's thighs. A proverbial manner of saying he was going to come at them with greater force than Solomon had exhibited (vv. 11–14).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 12:15 brought about by the Lord. God sovereignly used the foolishness of Rehoboam to fulfill Ahijah's prophecy (11:29–39).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 12:16 David. These words of Israel (v. 16) expressed deliberate, willful rebellion against the dynasty of David (cf. v. 19). Defiantly, the Israelites quoted the rallying cry used in Sheba's failed rebellion against David (2 Sam. 20:1). The northern tribes declared that they had no legal tie with David and went their way.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 12:17 the people of Israel. People from the northern tribes who had migrated south and settled in Judah.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 12:18 Adoram. Sending the chief of taxation and forced labor (Adoniram in 4:6; 5:14) to negotiate with the northern tribes was foolish (cf. 1 Kings 12:4).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 12:19 to this day. See note on 8:8.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 12:20–24 The kingdom was divided at that point. Israel (the northern 10 tribes) had its own king.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 12:21 the tribe of Benjamin. The tribe of Benjamin had split loyalty and land during the divided-kingdom era. According to v. 20, only the tribe of Judah remained completely loyal to the house of David, but in vv. 21, 23 it is said that Benjamin was associated with “all the house of Judah,” the emphasis being on the tribe of Judah. Certain towns of northern Benjamin, most notably Bethel (v. 29), were included in the northern kingdom. Simeon, the tribe originally given land in the southern section of Judah’s territory (Josh. 19:1–9), had apparently migrated north and was counted with the 10 northern tribes (cf. 1 Chron. 12:23–25; 2 Chron. 15:9; 34:6). Thus, the 10 northern tribes were Reuben, Simeon, Zebulun, Issachar, Dan, Gad, Asher, Naphtali, Manasseh, and Ephraim. The southern kingdom was the tribe of Judah only. The twelfth tribe, Benjamin, was split between the two kingdoms. The tribe of Levi, originally scattered throughout both kingdoms (Josh. 21:1–42), resided in Judah during the divided kingdom (see 2 Chron. 11:13–16).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 12:22 the man of God. Cf. 17:24. A common OT expression designating a man with a message from God who would speak authoritatively on the Lord’s behalf (cf. Deut. 33:1; 2 Tim. 3:17). See note on Deut. 33:1.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 12:24 this thing is from me. Through the prophet Shemaiah, the Lord commanded Rehoboam and his army not to invade Israel. God, in judgment, had ordained the north-south split (v. 15; 11:29–39), so to attack Israel was to oppose God himself.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 12:25 Shechem. Cf. v. 1. Jeroboam fortified the city of Shechem and made it into his royal residence. Cf. Judg. 9:1–47. Penuel. Jeroboam also fortified Penuel, a city about 10 miles east of the Jordan River on the River Jabbok, asserting his sovereignty over the Israelites east of the Jordan.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 12:26 turn back to the house of David. The Lord had ordained a political, not a religious, division of Solomon’s kingdom. The Lord had promised Jeroboam political control of the 10 northern tribes (11:31, 35, 37). However, Jeroboam was to religiously follow the Mosaic law, which demanded that he follow the Lord’s sacrificial system at the temple in Jerusalem (11:38). Having received the kingdom from God, he should have relied on divine protection, but he did not. Seeking to keep his subjects from being influenced by Rehoboam when they went to Jerusalem to worship, he set up worship in the north (12:27–28).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 12:28 two calves of gold. These two calves, probably made of wood overlaid with gold, were presented to Israel as pedestals on which the Lord supposedly sat or stood. He publicly presented them with the very words with which idolatrous Israel had welcomed Aaron's golden calf. He repeated Aaron's destructive sin of trying to make an earthly image of God. See note on Ex. 32:4.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 12:29 Bethel . . . Dan. Bethel was located about 11 miles north of Jerusalem within the territory of Benjamin (Josh. 18:11–13, 22). It lay at the southern end of Jeroboam's kingdom on the main north-south road to Jerusalem. Israel had long revered Bethel as a sacred place because Jacob had worshiped there (Gen. 28:10–22; 35:1–15). Dan was located in the northernmost part of Jeroboam's kingdom, about 25 miles north of the Sea of Galilee. A paganized worship of the Lord was practiced at Dan during the period of the judges (Judg. 18:30–31).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 12:30 this thing became a sin. Jeroboam's policy promoted gross and flagrant violation of the second commandment (Ex. 20:4–6) and led to violation of the first commandment (Ex. 20:3).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 12:31 high places. Jeroboam built minor sanctuaries on high places throughout the land of Israel. Over the centuries these high places became the breeding ground of Israel's idolatrous apostasy (cf. Hosea 5:1). See note on 1 Kings 3:2. priests. Jeroboam appointed priests to run his sanctuaries from all his tribes. His action blatantly violated the stipulation that only Aaron's descendants were to hold that office in Israel (Num. 3:10).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 12:32 appointed a feast. Jeroboam instituted a religious festival to compete with the Feast of Booths held at the temple in Jerusalem and scheduled it for the fifteenth day of the eighth month (October/November), exactly one month after its divinely ordained Judean counterpart (Ex. 34:22–23; Lev. 23:33–36, 39–40).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 13:1 man of God. See note on 12:22.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 13:2 Josiah. He ruled Judah about 300 years later c. 640–609 B.C. (cf. 2 Kings 22:1–23:30). sacrifice . . . the priests of the high places. The prophet predicted that Josiah would slaughter the illegitimate priests of the high places of his day who made offerings on the altar at Bethel. This prophecy was realized in 2 Kings 23:15–20, executing the divine judgment on the non-Levitical priesthood established by Jeroboam (1 Kings 12:31–32).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 13:3 sign. An immediate “wonder” that served to authenticate the reliability of the long-term prediction (cf. Deut. 18:21–22), this sign came to pass in 1 Kings 13:5. the ashes . . . shall be poured out. Proper ritual required the disposal of sacrificial ashes in a special “clean” place (Lev. 4:12; 6:10–11). Contact with the ground would render the ashes “unclean” and nullify the procedure.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 13:9 commanded me by the word of the Lord. The prophet’s divine commission expressly forbade receiving any hospitality at Bethel. It even required him to return home by a different route from the one by which he came, lest he should be recognized. The prophet’s own conduct was to symbolize the Lord’s total rejection of Israel’s false worship and the recognition that all the people had become apostates.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 13:11 an old prophet. Here was a spokesman for the Lord who had compromised his ministry by his willingness to live at the very center of the false system of worship without speaking out against it.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 13:18 he lied to him. Why the old prophet deceived the man of God the text does not state. It may be that his own son’s were worshipers at Bethel or perhaps priests, and this man wanted to gain favor with the king by showing up the man of God as an imposter who acted contrary to his own claim to have heard from God. Accustomed to receiving direct revelations, the Judean prophet should have regarded the supposed angelic message with suspicion and sought divine verification of this revised order.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 13:20 the word of the Lord. The lie arose from his own imagination (cf. Jer. 23:16; Ezek. 13:2, 7), but the true prophecy came from the Lord (cf. Ex. 4:16; Deut. 18:18; Jer. 1:9).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 13:22 your body shall not come to the tomb of your fathers. Israelites buried their dead with the bones of ancestors in a common grave (Judg. 8:32; 2 Sam. 2:32). The lack of such a burial was considered in Israel a severe punishment and disgrace. See note on Eccles. 6:3–6.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 13:24 donkey . . . lion. Both the donkey and the lion acted unnaturally: The donkey did not run and the lion did not attack the donkey or disturb the man’s body. Unlike the disobedient prophet, the beasts bent their wills to God's sovereignty.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 13:32 shall surely come to pass. The old prophet instructed his sons to bury him beside the Judean prophet (v. 31). The old prophet was finally willing to identify himself with the message that the man of God from Judah had given against worship at Bethel.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 13:33 made priests. Unlike the old prophet, Jeroboam did not change his evil ways, but continued appointing priests outside the tribe of Levi to serve the high places (12:30–32).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 14:1 At that time. Probably indicating a time shortly after the incident recorded in ch. 13. Abijah. Meaning “my father is the Lord,” Jeroboam’s son’s name implies that his father desired to be regarded as a worshiper of the Lord at the time of his son’s birth. Abijah was referred to as a “child” (14:12, 17), a term which can be used from childhood through young adulthood. Of all of Jeroboam’s family, Abijah was the most responsive to the Lord (v. 13). Jeroboam’s son, Abijah, should not be confused with Rehoboam’s son of the same name (see note on 15:1–8).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 14:2 disguise yourself. Probably for the avoidance of recognition by the people. Jeroboam did not want his subjects to know that he was consulting a prophet of the Lord. Shiloh. See note on 11:29.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 14:3 Take . . . ten loaves. A simple ordinary food gift added to the disguise (cf. 1 Sam. 9:7–8; 2 Kings 8:8). Ten loaves of bread, some cakes, and a jar of honey reflected the means of a common person, not royalty.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 14:9 evil above all. Jeroboam had not only failed to live up to the standard of David, but his wickedness had surpassed even that of Saul and Solomon. He had installed a paganized system of worship for the entire population of the northern kingdom (cf. 16:25, 30; 2 Kings 21:11).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 14:11 dogs . . . birds. The covenant curse of Deut. 28:26 was applied to Jeroboam’s male descendants.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 14:13 the grave. See note on 13:22.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 14:14 a king. I.e., Baasha (15:27–30).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 14:15 Ahijah announced God’s stern judgment on Israel for joining Jeroboam’s apostasy. Struck by the Lord, Israel would sway like a reed in a rushing river, a biblical metaphor for political instability (cf. Matt. 11:7; Luke 7:24). One day, the Lord would uproot Israel from Palestinian soil and scatter it in exile east of the Euphrates. The fulfillment of this prophecy is recorded in 2 Kings 17:23.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 14:17 Tirzah. Jeroboam had apparently moved his capital from Shechem to Tirzah (cf. 12:25), located in the tribal region of Manasseh, about 7 miles northeast of Shechem and 35 miles north of Jerusalem. Tirzah was famous for its beauty (Song 6:4).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 14:20 twenty-two years. 931–910 B.C.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 14:21 seventeen years. 931–913 B.C.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 14:22–24 Judah outdid her ancestors in evil, provoking the Lord to jealous anger (v. 22). Signs of idolatrous practice were everywhere (vv. 23–24). She even practiced sacred prostitution to promote fertility (v. 24). Judah had begun the downward slide toward doom that Israel was in.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 14:25 fifth year. 927/926 B.C. Shishak. See note on 11:40.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 14:27 shields of bronze. These bronze shields replaced Solomon’s gold shields, which were used as a ransom paid to Shishak. The bronze shields illustrate the sharp decline from the reign of Solomon to Rehoboam.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 14:30 war . . . continually. Many border skirmishes erupted as the armies in the north and south maneuvered for tactical advantage and control of territory (14:19; 15:6). A major battle ultimately erupted during the reign of Abijam (cf. 2 Chron. 13:1–20).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 15:1–16:22 Having documented the establishment of idolatry in both Israel and Judah (12:1–14:31), the text moves to a quick survey of the kings of Judah and Israel from 913 to 885 B.C. The author notes that the high places remained in Judah (15:14), and the sins of Jeroboam continued in Israel (15:26, 34; 16:13, 19).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 15:1–8 Abijam. He was at first called Abijah in 2 Chron.

13:1–2. Since Abijam means “father of the sea,” and Abijah, “my father is the Lord,” he may have had his name changed because of his sin. See notes on 2 Chron. 13:1–22.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 15:2 three years. 913–911 B.C. Parts of years were considered as whole years in this reckoning (cf. v. 9).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 15:3 his heart was not wholly true. Cf. 11:4, where the same statement was made concerning Solomon. Cf. 15:14.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 15:4 a lamp. See note on 11:36.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 15:5 what was right in the eyes of the Lord. This commendation is frequently used in speaking of kings of Judah and means only that they did or did not do what was generally acceptable to God, e.g., v. 11.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 15:7 war. See 14:30 and 2 Chron. 13:1–20.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 15:9–24 Asa. He was the first of the religiously good kings of Judah (cf. v. 11). See notes on 2 Chron. 14:1–16:14.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 15:10 forty-one years. 911–870 B.C.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 15:11–15 Asa did four good things: 1) he removed the sacred prostitutes (v. 12); 2) he rid the land of all the idols made by his predecessors (v. 12); 3) he removed the corrupt queen mother and burned the idol she had made; and 4) he placed “sacred gifts,” items that he and his father had dedicated to the Lord, back in the temple (v. 15). Though he never engaged in idolatry, Asa’s failure was his toleration of “the high places” (v. 14).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 15:13 abominable image. This term is derived from the verb “to shudder” (Job 9:6). “Horrible, repulsive thing” suggests a shocking, perhaps even a sexually explicit, idol. Asa removed his mother (“grandmother” in some translations), Maacah, the official queen mother, because of her association with this idol. brook Kidron. A seasonal river that ran through the Kidron Valley that marks the eastern boundary of Jerusalem.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 15:16 Baasha. Asa, who ruled Judah (c. 911–870 B.C.), enjoyed 10 years of peace after Jeroboam’s defeat by Abijam (2 Chron. 13:19–20) until Baasha began attacking. See notes on 1 Kings 15:27–16:7 and 2 Chron.

16:1–6.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 15:17 Ramah. A strategic town in Benjamin, located about 5 miles north of Jerusalem along the main north-south highway, built by Baasha, king of Israel, to effectively blockade the city of Jerusalem.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 15:18 Ben-hadad. Ben-hadad I, the grandson of Hezion (probably Rezon; see note on 11:23–25, c. 940–915 B.C.) and the son of Tabrimmon (c. 912–890 B.C.). He was the powerful ruler of the Syrian kingdom (Aramea; see note on 10:29), centered in Damascus. The majority of historians think that Ben-hadad reigned c. 900–860 B.C. and was succeeded by a son or grandson, Ben-hadad II, who ruled c. 860–841 B.C. (cf. 20:34). Asa sent a sizable gift to influence Ben-hadad I to break his treaty with Israel, enter instead a treaty with Judah, and invade Israel from the north.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 15:20 Ijon . . . Naphtali. The army of Ben-hadad I invaded Israel and took cities in the land north of the Sea of Galilee, a conquest giving Syria control of the trade routes to the Mediterranean coast and Israel's fertile Jezreel Valley, and also making Syria a great military threat to Israel. Baasha gave up fortifying Ramah and went to live in Tirzah, the capital of the northern kingdom.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 15:22 Geba . . . Mizpah. With the threat to Judah from Israel removed, Asa conscripted a Judean labor force to fortify Geba, about 6 miles northeast of Jerusalem, and Mizpah, about 7 miles north of Jerusalem, using the very building material for those fortifications that Baasha had used at Ramah.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 15:25 Nadab . . . two years. 910–909 B.C.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 15:27–16:7 Baasha. See note on 15:16.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 15:27 Gibbethon. This city, located about 32 miles west of Jerusalem, within the territory of Dan, was given to the Levites (Josh. 19:44) but controlled by the Philistines, on whose border it lay.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 15:29 he killed all the house of Jeroboam. Baasha, the northern king, in a vicious practice too common in the ancient Near East, annihilated all of Jeroboam's family. This act fulfilled Ahijah's prophecy against Jeroboam (cf. 14:9–11). However, Baasha went beyond the words of the prophecy, since 14:10 specified judgment only on every male, while Baasha killed all men, women, and children.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 15:30 This epitaph for wicked Jeroboam of Israel follows through the history of the northern kingdom relentlessly as the standard of sin by which judgment fell on the successive kings (see 15:34; 16:2, 19, 31; 22:52; 2 Kings 3:3; 10:29, 31; 13:2, 11; 14:24; 15:9, 18, 24, 28).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 15:33 twenty-four years. 909–886 B.C.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 16:1 Jehu the son of Hanani. Cf. v. 7. This Hanani may have been the prophet who warned Judah’s King Asa (2 Chron. 16:7–9). Jehu, like Ahijah before him (1 Kings 14:7–16), delivered the Lord’s message of judgment to the king of Israel. The pattern emerges in the book of Kings that the Lord used his prophets as a legitimate means by which to confront the sin of Israel’s kings.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 16:2–4 Baasha had angered the Lord by following the sinful paths of Jeroboam. Appropriately, he faced the same humiliating judgment Jeroboam had (14:10–11). Though he waded through slaughter to his throne, he owed it to the permission of God, by whom all kings reign. His judgment was that no long line of heirs would succeed him; instead, his family would be totally annihilated and their corpses shamefully scavenged by hungry dogs and birds.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 16:8–14 Elah . . . two years. C. 886–885 B.C.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 16:11 relatives. I.e., “relatives able to redeem.” Cf. Ruth 2:1. Zimri not only killed Elah and his immediate sons, but all of the extended relatives of Baasha who could help his family.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 16:15 seven days. Zimri’s reign (885 B.C.) was the shortest of any king of Israel. Gibbethon. See note on 15:27.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 16:16 Omri. When the soldiers of Israel in the field heard of Elah’s death, they immediately acclaimed Omri, the commander of Israel’s army, as the new king.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 16:21 Tibni. The death of Zimri (vv. 17–18) automatically placed the kingdom in Omri’s hands. Half of the population including the army, sided with Omri, but the other half backed Tibni. Nothing further is known of Tibni, but he was strong enough to rival Omri for about four years (cf. v. 15 with v. 23).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 16:21–28 Omri. Ruled the northern kingdom c. 885–874 B.C.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 16:23–2 Kings 13:25 This section is strategic in the book(s) of Kings and contains over one third of the total narrative of the book(s). The coming of the dynasty of Omri to the kingship of Israel brought with it the introduction of Baal worship with official sanction in Israel (16:31–32). Through intermarriage with the house of Omri, Baal worship penetrated into Judah and corrupted the line of David (2 Kings 8:18–27), initiating a gigantic struggle before Baalism was officially eradicated in both Israel and Judah (2 Kings 9:14–12:21).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 16:23 twelve years. Omri ruled 12 years (c. 885–874 B.C.), from Asa’s twenty-seventh year (16:15) to Asa’s thirty-eighth year (16:29). This notice of his beginning to reign in Asa’s thirty-first year must be a reference to his sole rule.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 16:24 Samaria. The hill of Samaria, named after its owner, Shemer, was located 7 miles northwest of Shechem and stood 300 feet high. Though ringed by other mountains, it stood by itself so that attackers had to charge uphill from every side. This new capital amounted to the northern equivalent of Jerusalem. Its central location gave Israelites easy access to it.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 16:29–22:40 Ahab . . . twenty-two years. C. 874–853 B.C.; see notes on 2 Chron. 18:1–34.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 16:30 evil . . . more than all who were before him. With Ahab, Israel’s spiritual decay reached its lowest point. He was even worse than his father, Omri, who was more wicked than all before him (v. 25). Ahab’s evil consisted of perpetuating all the sins of Jeroboam and promoting the worship of Baal in Israel (vv. 31–32). Of all Israel’s kings, Ahab outraged the Lord most (v. 33).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 16:31 Jezebel. The wretched wife of Ahab became symbolic of the evil of false religion (cf. Rev. 2:20). Ethbaal. His name meant “Baal is alive.” The father of Jezebel was the king of Phoenicia (including Tyre and Sidon) who had murdered his predecessor and, according to Josephus, was a priest of the gods Melqart and Astarte.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 16:31–32 Baal. Meaning “lord, husband, owner,” Baal was the predominant god in Canaanite religion. He was the storm god who provided the rain necessary for the fertility of the land. The worship of Baal was widespread among the Canaanites with many local manifestations under various other titles, the Tyrians calling him Baal Melqart. The worship of Baal had infiltrated Israel long before the time of Ahab (Judg. 2:11, 13; 3:7; 10:6, 10; 1 Sam. 12:10). However, Ahab gave it official sanction in Samaria through building a temple for Baal (see 2 Kings 3:2). As David had captured Jerusalem and his son Solomon had built a temple for the Lord there, so Omri established Samaria and his son Ahab built a temple for Baal there.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 16:34 Hiel of Bethel built Jericho. The re-fortification of Jericho was forbidden by God, who had supernaturally destroyed it. But Joshua predicted that a man and his sons would violate God's restriction (see note on Josh. 6:26). Two of Hiel's sons died when they sought to assist him to fortify the city.

Elijah and Elisha

Elijah and his successor Elisha figure prominently in 1 and 2 Kings as they prophesied against the wickedness of Ahab and Joram (also called Jehoram) of Israel. Elijah's opposition to pagan worship also put him at odds with Jezebel, Ahab's Phoenician wife, who supported hundreds of prophets of Baal and Asherah. Eventually Elisha sent someone to anoint Jehu, one of Joram's commanders, to be the next king and to execute judgment on the entire family of Ahab.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 17:1 Elijah. His name means “the Lord is God.” The prophet Elijah’s ministry corresponded to his name: He was sent by God to confront Baalism and to declare to Israel that the Lord was God and there was no other. Tishbite. Elijah lived in a town called Tishbe, east of the Jordan River in the vicinity of the Jabbok River. neither dew nor rain. The autumn and spring rains and summer dew were necessities for the crops of Israel. The Lord had threatened to withhold these from the land if his people turned from him to serve other gods (Lev. 26:18–19; Deut. 11:16–17; 28:23–24). Elijah had prayed for the drought (cf. James 5:17) and God answered. It lasted three years and six months according to James (James 5:17). The drought proved that Baal, the god of the rains and fertility, was impotent before the Lord.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 17:3 brook Cherith. Probably this was a seasonal brook that flowed during the rainy season but dried up when the weather turned hot. It was located east of the Jordan River.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 17:6 ravens brought. God’s supernatural provision, much like the manna and quail during Israel’s wilderness wanderings (Ex. 16:13–36).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 17:9 Zarephath. A town on the Mediterranean coast about 7 miles south of Sidon. Elijah was sent to live there, in a territory controlled by Ahab’s father-in-law, Ethbaal. In this way, he showed the power of God in the very area where the impotent Baal was worshiped, as he provided miraculously for the widow in the famine (vv. 10–16).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 17:23 your son lives. Canaanite myths claimed that Baal could revive the dead, but here it was the Lord, not Baal, who gave back the boy’s life. This conclusively demonstrated that the Lord was the only true God and Elijah was his prophet (v. 24).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 17:24 a man of God. See note on 12:22. A man of God has a true word from God.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 18:1 third year. Cf. James 5:17.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 18:2 famine. This was to give Ahab opportunity to repent. He was the cause of national judgment in the famine. If he repented, rain would come.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 18:3 Obadiah. His name means “servant of the Lord.” He was the manager of Ahab’s royal palace and a devout worshiper of the Lord, who had demonstrated his devotion to the Lord by protecting 100 of the Lord’s prophets from death by Jezebel (vv. 4, 13), which had put him on tenuous ground with Ahab.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 18:12 the Spirit of the Lord will carry you. The servant had been asked to tell Ahab that Elijah was present to speak with him (vv. 7, 18), but he was afraid because Ahab was seeking Elijah so intensely. Since Elijah had disappeared from sight earlier (17:5), Obadiah was afraid that the Holy Spirit would carry Elijah away again (cf. 2 Kings 2:16) and the irrational Ahab would kill him for the false report of Elijah's presence.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 18:17 troubler. Such was one who brought misfortune on a community by breaking an oath or by making a foolish one (Josh. 6:18; 7:25).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 18:18 Baals. These were the local idols of Baal (cf. Judg. 2:11). The prophet boldly told Ahab that the calamity of drought and famine was traceable directly to his and his family's patronage and practice of idolatry.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 18:19 Mount Carmel. The Carmel range of mountains, rising to 1,800 feet at its highest point, extends about 30 miles to the southeast from the shores of the Mediterranean Sea into the south of the Jezreel Valley. A series of rounded peaks and valleys, it became a symbol of beauty and fruitfulness because of its lush tree cover (Song 7:5; Isa. 35:2). It is not known at exactly what point along this ridge the contest between Elijah and the prophets of Baal took place. The queen cared for 850 false prophets who were associated with her.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 18:21 go limping between two different opinions. Lit., "limp along on or between two twigs." Israel had not totally rejected the Lord, but was seeking to combine worship of him with the worship of Baal. The issue posed by Elijah was that Israel had to choose who was God, the Lord or Baal, and then serve God wholeheartedly. Rather than decide by his message, Elijah sought a visible sign from heaven.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 18:24 the God who answers by fire. Since Baal's followers believed that he controlled the thunder, lightning, and storms, and the Lord's followers declared the same (Ps. 18:14; 29:3–9; 104:3), this would prove to be a fair test to show who was God.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 18:27 mocked. The myths surrounding Baal portrayed him as musing on actions to take, fighting a war, traveling, and even dying and coming back to life. Elijah's sarcastic advice to the prophets of Baal played on these beliefs.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 18:28 the blood gushed out. Self-laceration was practiced to rouse a god's pity and response in the ancient world, but was prohibited by the OT law (Lev. 19:28; Deut. 14:1).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 18:29 no . . . No . . . no. This threefold declaration emphasized the complete lack of response on the part of Baal. The fact that there was no response indicated Baal's impotence and non-existence (Jer. 10:5).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 18:31 twelve stones. The 12 stones represented the 12 tribes, since this contest had significance for both Judah and Israel. Although the tribes had been divided into two nations, they were still one people in the Lord's plans, with the same covenants and a single destiny.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 18:32 two seahs. This was about 4 gallons or a third of a bushel of seed.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 18:36 offering of the oblation. This sacrifice was offered around 3:00 p.m. (Ex. 29:38–41; Num. 28:3–8).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 18:40 Seize the prophets. Taking advantage of the excited feelings of the people over the manifestation of Jehovah as the true God, Elijah called on them to seize the priestly imposters and fill the river with their blood, the river that was dried up by their idolatry. brook Kishon. This river, which drains the Jezreel Valley from east to the northwest, was in the valley north of Mount Carmel. slaughtered them. The killing of the 450 prophets of Baal (18:19) fulfilled the law's demands that false prophets be executed (Deut. 13:1–5) and that those embracing idolatry or inciting others to practice it were worthy of death (Deut. 13:13–18; 17:2–7). Further, these deaths were just retribution for Jezebel's killing of the Lord's prophets (1 Kings 18:4, 13).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 18:41 eat and drink. Elijah instructed Ahab to celebrate the end of the drought.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 18:42 bowed himself down. Elijah's actions expressed his and Israel's humble submission to God. Elijah prayed for rain this time (cf. 17:1; James 5:17) and God again answered (cf. James 5:18). Since the Lord's curse was lifted, the rains would be coming.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 18:45 Jezreel. A town located in the tribal allotment of Issachar at the eastern end of the Jezreel Valley, north of Mount Gilboa, about 55 miles north of Jerusalem. Jezreel was Ahab's winter capital (see 21:1), situated between 15 to 25 miles east of the Carmel Range.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 18:46 ran before. It was customary in the ancient Near East for kings to have runners before their chariots. The prophet showed Ahab his loyalty by rendering to him that service. Empowered by God, Elijah ran on foot ahead of Ahab's chariot the 15 to 25 miles from Mount Carmel to Jezreel.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 19:3 he was afraid. His hope shattered, Elijah fled as a prophet, broken by Jezebel's threats (v. 2), her unrepentant Baalism, and her continuing power over Israel. Elijah expected Jezebel to surrender; when she did not capitulate, he became a discouraged man (vv. 4, 10, 14). Beersheba. A city located 100 miles south of Jezreel (18:45–46) in the Negeb, it marked the southern boundary of the population of Judah.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 19:4 broom tree. A desert bush that grew to a height of 10 feet. It had slender branches featuring small leaves and fragrant blossoms. take away my life. Since Israelites believed that suicide was an affront to the Lord, it was not an option, whatever the distress. So Elijah asked the Lord for death (cf. Jonah 4:3–8) because he viewed the situation as hopeless. Job (Job 6:8–9), Moses (Num. 11:10–15), and Jeremiah (Jer. 20:14–18) had also reacted in similar fashion during their ministries.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 19:6 cake . . . and . . . water. As at Cherith and Zarephath (17:6, 19), God provided food and drink for Elijah in the midst of his distress and the surrounding famine.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 19:8 forty days. Elijah's trip took over double the time it should have taken. Therefore, the period had symbolic meaning as well as showing literal time. As the people of Israel had a notable spiritual failure and so wandered 40 years in the wilderness (Num. 14:26–35), so a discouraged Elijah was to spend 40 days in the desert. As Moses had spent 40 days on the mountain without bread and water, sustained only by God as he awaited a new phase of service (Ex. 34:28), so Elijah was to spend 40 days depending on God's enablement as he prepared for a new commission from the Lord. As Moses had seen the presence of God (Ex. 33:12–23), so Elijah experienced a manifestation of God. Horeb. An alternate name for Mount Sinai, located about 200 miles south of Beersheba.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 19:10, 14 Elijah viewed the Israelites as rebels against the Mosaic Covenant, a rebellion that his ministry had been unable to arrest (see v. 3). Paul used this incident as an illustration in Rom. 11:3.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 19:11 the Lord passed by. The three phenomena, wind, earthquake, and fire, announced the imminent arrival of the Lord (cf. Ex. 19:16–19; Ps. 18:7–15; Hab. 3:3–6). The Lord's self-revelation to Elijah came in a faint, whispering voice (1 Kings 19:12). The lesson for Elijah was that Almighty God was quietly, sometimes imperceptibly, doing his work in Israel (v. 18).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 19:15 the wilderness of Damascus. The Syrian Desert south and east of the city of Damascus, the city located to the northeast of Israel.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 19:15–17 The Lord instructed Elijah to anoint Hazael of Aram (see 2 Kings 8:8), Jehu (see 2 Kings 9:2), and Elisha (1 Kings 19:19) for the purpose of commissioning them to destroy Baal worship in Israel. Through these three men, the Lord completed the execution of Baal worshipers that Elijah had begun. Actually, Elijah commissioned only the last of these three men directly—the other two were indirectly commissioned through Elisha. Elisha was involved in Hazael's becoming Syria's king (2 Kings 8:7–14), and one of Elisha's associates anointed Jehu (2 Kings 9:1–3). By the time the last of these men died (2 Kings 13:24), Baalism had been officially barred from Israel.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 19:16 Abel-meholah. The hometown of Elisha was located in the Jordan Valley, 10 miles south of Beth-shanon, in the tribal allotment of Manasseh.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 19:18 Paul used God's response to Elijah as an illustration in Rom. 11:4. kissed him. Kissing the image or symbol of Baal was apparently a common act in worship (cf. Hosea 13:2).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 19:19 Elisha. This name means “my God is salvation” and belonged to Elisha, the successor to Elijah (see 2 Kings 2:9–15). Shaphat. Elisha’s father, whose name meant “he judges.” twelve yoke of oxen. It was a common practice for several teams of oxen, each with its own plow and driver, to work together in a row. After letting the others pass, Elijah threw his mantle around the last man, Elisha, thus designating him as his successor.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 19:20 Go back again. Elijah instructed Elisha to go, but to keep in mind the solemn call of God and not to allow any earthly affection to detain his obedience.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 19:21 sacrificed. The slaughter of the oxen was a farewell feast for family and friends, indicating that Elisha was making a decisive break. He followed Elijah and became his servant (lit., “aide,” the same term used for Joshua’s relationship with Moses in Ex. 24:13; 33:11). Just as Elijah resembled Moses, so Elisha resembled Joshua.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 20:1 Ben-hadad. This was likely Ben-hadad II of Syria (see note on 15:18), who marched on the capital of Israel and demanded surrender by Ahab (1 Kings 20:2–6). Thirty-two kings. These were probably rulers of client city-states in the land of Syria (see notes on 10:29).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 20:9 I will do . . . I cannot do. Ahab was willing to give tribute to Ben-hadad as his vassal (vv. 2–4), but he refused to allow the Syrian king to plunder his palace (vv. 5–8).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 20:10–11 Ben-hadad boasted that his army would level the hill of Samaria to dust (v. 10). Ahab replied that Ben-hadad should not boast of the outcome of the battle before it began (v. 11).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 20:13 I will give it into your hand this day. These were the words of assurance given before battles when the Lord was about to fight on Israel’s side (Josh. 6:2, 16; 8:1, 18; Judg. 7:2; 18:10; 1 Sam. 23:4; 24:4). Further, the victory would show Ahab that the Lord was in every respect the mighty God he claimed to be. Though the people and king of Israel had dishonored God, he would not utterly cast them off (1 Kings 20:14–15).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 20:17–21 The battle strategy was to send out the young leaders who could perhaps draw near to the Syrians without arousing too much alarm and then, at a given signal, initiate a charge joined by Ahab’s main striking force that would catch the drunken Syrians off guard and throw them into confusion. The glorious victory, won so easily and with such a small force, was granted so that Ahab and the people would know that God was sovereign.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 20:22 in the spring. Spring was the usual time for battles in the ancient Near East (see note on 2 Sam. 11:1), and a prophet warned Ahab that Ben-hadad would retaliate in the following year.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 20:23 gods of the hills. The advisors of Ben-hadad believed that Israel had won the previous battle because it occurred in mountainous terrain, the area they believed was ruled by Israel’s “gods.” They counseled Ben-hadad to strengthen his army and fight Israel again, only on level ground (v. 25). Obviously, this attitude insulted Israel’s God, the Lord, who is sovereign over the whole earth (cf. 2 Kings 19:16–19). That blasphemous depreciation of the Lord’s power meant certain defeat for the Syrians (1 Kings 20:28).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 20:26 Aphek. Though several towns in Israel bore the name Aphek, the one mentioned here probably lay about 3 miles east of the Sea of Galilee, north of the Yarmuk River.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 20:27 like two little flocks of goats. Compared to the massive herd of Arameans covering the land, Israel looked like two little goat flocks. Goats were never seen in large flocks or scattered like sheep; hence the description of the two compact, small divisions.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 20:28 man of God. See note on 12:22.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 20:30 inner chamber. Lit., “a room in a room,” a safe, well-hidden place.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 20:31 sackcloth . . . and ropes. Sackcloth traditionally symbolized mourning and penitence. Ropes around the heads were symbols of surrender.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 20:34 bazaars. Lit., “outside places.” Bazaars were set up in a foreign land (cf. Neh. 13:16), a lucrative market for Israelite goods.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 20:35 sons of the prophets. An association of prophets that met and possibly lived together for study, encouragement, and service (see note on 1 Sam. 10:5).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 20:35–36 The prophet needed to be wounded as if in battle to carry out the drama. The refusal to do as the prophet said was wrong, as it was a withholding of necessary aid to a prophet of God in the discharge of his duty. It was severely punished as a warning to others (cf. 13:2–24).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 20:39–43 The prophet illustrated that, just as a soldier pays dearly for losing a prisoner in war, Ahab will pay for letting Ben-hadad, the idolatrous enemy of God, live.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 20:39 a talent of silver. This was about 75 pounds of silver, more than a common soldier could afford and for which debt he would face death.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 20:40 your judgment. This “judicial parable” was designed to trap Ahab into announcing the punishment for his own crime (see 2 Sam. 12:1–12). Unknowingly, Ahab declared his own judgment (1 Kings 20:42).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 20:42 destruction. By declaring the battles to be holy war (vv. 13, 22, 28), the Lord had put Ben-hadad and the Syrians under the ban, a reference to something belonging to the Lord and destined to be destroyed (Deut. 7:2; 20:16). By freeing Ben-hadad, Ahab had disobeyed the law and would suffer the ban in place of Ben-hadad.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 20:43 vexed and sullen. Ahab was resentful and angry because of the Lord's reaction to his actions (cf. 21:4).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 21:1 Jezreel. See note on 18:45. Ahab had built a second palace in Jezreel, where he lived when not in the capital at Samaria.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 21:2 Give me your vineyard. In Canaanite culture, since land was simply a commodity to be traded and sold for profit, Ahab's offer to Naboth of an exchange of property or offer of purchase was a common transaction in the Near East.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 21:3 The Lord forbid. Naboth's words implied that trading or selling his property would be a disregard of the law and thus displeasing in God's eyes (cf. 1 Sam. 24:6; 26:11; 2 Sam. 23:17). The reason was that the vineyard was his ancestral property. The Lord, the owner of all of the land of Israel, had forbidden Israelite families to surrender ownership of family lands permanently (Lev. 25:23–28; Num. 36:7–9). Out of loyalty to God, Naboth declined Ahab's offer.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 21:7 Do you now govern Israel? Jezebel was sarcastically rebuking Ahab for not exercising absolute royal power in the matter.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 21:8 she wrote letters. Written by the royal scribe, ancient letters were mainly in the form of a scroll sealed in clay or wax with the sender's personal sign. The seal made the contents of the letters a royal mandate and implied that disobedience would certainly lead to some kind of punishment.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 21:9 Proclaim a fast. To call an assembly for solemn fasting implied that a disaster threatened the people that could be averted only if they would humble themselves before the Lord and remove any person whose sin had brought God's judgment upon them (cf. Judg. 20:26; 1 Sam. 7:5–6; 2 Chron. 20:2–4).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 21:10 two . . . men. The Mosaic law required two witnesses in capital cases (Num. 35:30; Deut. 17:6; 19:5). worthless men. Lit., “sons of Belial.” These were utterly wicked men. See note on 1 Sam. 2:12. cursed God and the king. The penalty for cursing God and the king was death (Ex. 22:28).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 21:13 outside the city. They hypocritically climaxed their violent murder by killing the innocent Naboth in a place that was in accordance with the Mosaic law (Lev. 24:14; Num. 15:35–36). He was stoned to death in the open fields and his sons were killed with him (2 Kings 9:26), eliminating all possible heirs.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 21:19 Elijah’s first announcement of judgment applied to Ahab personally. He said that the dogs would lick Ahab’s blood in the same place that Naboth died, outside the city of Jezreel. This prophecy was not fulfilled because of his repentance (vv. 27–29), but was partially fulfilled in the licking of Ahab’s blood by dogs at the pool in Samaria (22:37–38).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 21:21–24 Elijah’s second announcement of judgment applied to Ahab and his house. The judgment was virtually identical with one made to Jeroboam (14:10–11) and similar to the one made to Baasha (16:3–4).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 21:23 of Jezebel. Jezebel was singled out for judgment because of her initiative in driving Ahab in the promotion of Baalism (v. 25). Elijah’s prophecy concerning her was literally fulfilled in 2 Kings 9:10, 30–37.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 21:27 tore his clothes. The tearing of garments was a common expression of grief, terror, or repentance in the face of great personal or national calamity (Num. 14:6; Josh. 7:6; Judg. 11:35; 2 Sam. 1:2; 3:31).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 21:29 his son’s days. Since Ahab had truly humbled himself before the Lord, he did not see the disaster forecast for him (v. 19). Instead, God postponed it until the reign of his son, Joram, c. 852–841 B.C. (2 Kings 9:25–26). Joram died in the field of Naboth (cf. 1 Kings 21:19).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 22:1 three years. Israel had peace for three years following the two years of war with Syria described in 20:1–34. During this peace, Benhadad, Ahab, and 10 other kings formed a coalition to repel an Assyrian invasion. Assyrian records described the major battle fought at Qarqar on the Orontes River in 853 B.C. Though Assyria claimed victory, later events show that they were stopped from further advance southward at that time. With the Assyrian threat neutralized, Ahab turned his attention to the unfinished conflict with Syria.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 22:2 Jehoshaphat. The king of Judah, c. 873–848, whose reign is described in vv. 41–50. See notes on 2 Chron. 17:1–21:3.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 22:3 Ramoth-gilead. Ramoth-gilead was a Levitical city east of the Jordan River in Gilead, on the north border of Gad the home of Jephthah (Judg. 11:34) and a key administrative center in Solomon’s kingdom (1 Kings 4:13). It seems to have been one of the cities that Ben-hadad should have returned to Israel (20:34).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 22:5 Inquire first for the word of the Lord. Jehoshaphat was willing to help Ahab fight Syria (v. 4), but reminded Ahab of the need to seek the will of the Lord before going into battle (cf. 1 Sam. 23:1–5, 9–13; 2 Sam. 2:1; 5:19–25; 2 Kings 3:11–20).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 22:6 prophets. These 400 prophets of Ahab were not true prophets of the Lord. They worshiped at Bethel in the golden-calf center set up by Jeroboam (12:28–29) and were supported by Ahab, whose religious policy also permitted Baal worship. Their words were designed to please Ahab (22:8), so they refused to begin with the authoritative “thus says the Lord” and did not use the covenant name for Israel’s God, “Lord.”

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 22:7 another prophet of the Lord. Jehoshaphat recognized that the 400 prophets were not true prophets of the Lord, and wished to hear from a true prophet.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 22:8 Micaiah. His name means “Who is like the Lord?”

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 22:10 thrones. A portable, high-backed chair made of wood with arm rests and separate footstool.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 22:11 Zedekiah. He was the spokesman for the false prophets. In contrast to v. 6, he used the introductory formula and God’s covenant name.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 22:15 Go up and triumph. Micaiah sarcastically repeated the message of the false prophets as he had been encouraged to do (v. 13). Ahab clearly sensed the sarcasm and demanded that Micaiah tell him the truth (v. 16).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 22:17 sheep that have no shepherd. The image of the king as a shepherd and his people as the sheep was a familiar one (Num. 27:16–17; Zech. 13:7). Micaiah’s point was that Israel’s shepherd, King Ahab, would be killed and his army scattered.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 22:22 a lying spirit. This must be Satan, whom the Lord allowed to speak through 400 demons who indwelt the 400 false prophets.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 22:24 struck . . . on the cheek. This was a rebuke by the leader of the false prophets (v. 6) for the perceived insolence of Micaiah and his claim to truly speak for God. It was followed by a sarcastic question asking if the prophet could tell which direction the spirit in Zedekiah had gone.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 22:28 If you return. In accordance with Deut. 18:21–22, Micaiah declared to Ahab that if he lived to return from the battle, then he had uttered a false prophecy.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 22:30 disguise myself. Rejecting the prophecy, but fearing it also, Ahab decided not to wear his official robe, but the clothes of an ordinary soldier.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 22:31 only with the king of Israel. The very Syrian king, Ben-hadad, whose life Ahab had spared (20:34), ungratefully singled him out for death.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 22:32 Jehoshaphat cried out. According to 2 Chron. 18:31, this was a prayer for the Lord’s deliverance. Jehoshaphat’s cry showed the Syrians that he was not Ahab.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 22:34 at random. The Syrian bowman shot at an Israelite soldier, not knowing that it was the disguised Ahab. The arrow found a small groove between the breastpiece and the flexible scale armor that covered the lower abdomen and thighs. Instantly, Ahab slumped in his chariot, mortally wounded in the stomach and bleeding to death.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 22:38 the prostitutes washed. The Hebrew text may read “where” or “while.” In either case, the point is the same: Ahab, the spiritual harlot (i.e., idolater), was associated with the physical harlots at his death. according to the word of the Lord. Ahab’s death fulfilled the prophecies spoken by Elijah (21:19) and Micaiah (22:17).

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 22:39 the ivory house. Ahab's palace at Samaria had internal walled panels that were made of inlaid ivory, indicative of his kingdom's economic prosperity. cities that he built. Archeological excavations show that Ahab strengthened the fortifications of Samaria, Megiddo, and Hazor.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 22:41 fourth year. A reference to the beginning of Jehoshaphat's reign, after being co-regent with his father Asa, in 870 B.C.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 22:42 twenty-five years. 873–848 B.C.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 22:43 doing what was right. Jehoshaphat faithfully followed in his father Asa's footsteps, doing what pleased the Lord. His only major fault, like that of his father, was his failure to close down the high places.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 22:44 made peace. In 2 Chron. 19:2, Jehu the prophet rebuked Jehoshaphat for this alliance.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 22:45 warred. See 2 Kings 3:7–27; 2 Chron. 17:11; 20:1–30.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 22:47–49 Jehoshaphat controlled Edom, which gave him access to Ezion-geber. He sought to emulate Solomon's fleet and wealth (9:26–28), but was unsuccessful. According to 2 Chron. 20:36–37, the Lord destroyed his fleet because of Jehoshaphat's alliance to build it with Ahaziah, king of Israel. First Kings 22:49 apparently refers to a subsequent attempt by Ahaziah to continue the joint venture after the disaster.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 22:51–2 Kings 1:18 Ahaziah . . . two years. 853–852 B.C.

1 KINGS—NOTE ON 22:53 He served Baal. Ahaziah continued the official promotion of Baal worship (cf. 16:31–32). First Kings ends at this point in the middle of Ahaziah's reign, which is picked up in 2 Kings 1:1–18. The explanation for this unusual break is found in Introduction: Title.

Elijah Denounces Ahaziah

2 KINGS 1 † After the death of Ahab, Moab rebelled against Israel.

<sup>2</sup>† Now Ahaziah fell through the lattice in his upper chamber in Samaria, and lay sick; so he sent messengers, telling them, “Go, inquire of Baal-zebub, the god of Ekron, whether I shall recover from this sickness.” <sup>3</sup>† But the angel of the LORD said to Elijah the Tishbite, “Arise, go up to meet the messengers of the king of Samaria, and say to them, ‘Is it because there is no God in Israel that you are going to inquire of Baal-zebub, the god of Ekron?’ <sup>4</sup>† Now therefore thus says the LORD, You shall not come down from the bed to which you have gone up, but you shall surely die.’” So Elijah went.

<sup>5</sup>The messengers returned to the king, and he said to them, “Why have you returned?” <sup>6</sup>And they said to him, “There came a man to meet us, and said to us, ‘Go back to the king who sent you, and say to him, Thus says the LORD, Is it because there is no God in Israel that you are sending to inquire of Baal-zebub, the god of Ekron? Therefore you shall not come down from the bed to which you have gone up, but you shall surely die.’” <sup>7</sup>He said to them, “What kind of man was he who came to meet you and told you these things?” <sup>8</sup>† They answered him, “He wore a garment of hair, with a belt of leather about his waist.” And he said, “It is Elijah the Tishbite.”

<sup>9</sup>† Then the king sent to him a captain of fifty men with his fifty. He went up to Elijah, who was sitting on the top of a hill, and said to him, “O man of God, the king says, ‘Come down.’” <sup>10</sup>† But Elijah answered the captain of fifty, “If I am a man of God, let fire come down from heaven and consume you and your fifty.” Then fire came down from heaven and consumed him and his fifty.

<sup>11</sup>Again the king sent to him another captain of fifty men with his fifty. And he answered and said to him, “O man of God, this is the king's order, ‘Come down quickly!’” <sup>12</sup>But Elijah answered them, “If I am a man of God, let fire come down from heaven and consume you and your fifty.” Then the fire of God came down from heaven and consumed him and his fifty.

<sup>13</sup>Again the king sent the captain of a third fifty with his fifty. And the third

captain of fifty went up and came and fell on his knees before Elijah and entreated him, “O man of God, please let my life, and the life of these fifty servants of yours, be precious in your sight. <sup>14</sup>Behold, fire came down from heaven and consumed the two former captains of fifty men with their fifties, but now let my life be precious in your sight.” <sup>15</sup>Then the angel of the LORD said to Elijah, “Go down with him; do not be afraid of him.” So he arose and went down with him to the king <sup>16</sup>and said to him, “Thus says the LORD, ‘Because you have sent messengers to inquire of Baal-zebub, the god of Ekron—is it because there is no God in Israel to inquire of his word?—therefore you shall not come down from the bed to which you have gone up, but you shall surely die.’”

<sup>17</sup>So he died according to the word of the LORD that Elijah had spoken. Jehoram became king in his place in the second year of Jehoram the son of Jehoshaphat, king of Judah, because Ahaziah had no son. <sup>18</sup>Now the rest of the acts of Ahaziah that he did, are they not written in the Book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Israel?

Elijah Taken to Heaven

2 KINGS 2 †Now when the LORD was about to take Elijah up to heaven by a whirlwind, Elijah and Elisha were on their way from Gilgal. †And Elijah said to Elisha, “Please stay here, for the LORD has sent me as far as Bethel.” But Elisha said, “As the LORD lives, and as you yourself live, I will not leave you.” So they went down to Bethel. †And the sons of the prophets who were in Bethel came out to Elisha and said to him, “Do you know that today the LORD will take away your master from over you?” And he said, “Yes, I know it; keep quiet.”

†Elijah said to him, “Elisha, please stay here, for the LORD has sent me to Jericho.” But he said, “As the LORD lives, and as you yourself live, I will not leave you.” So they came to Jericho. †The sons of the prophets who were at Jericho drew near to Elisha and said to him, “Do you know that today the LORD will take away your master from over you?” And he answered, “Yes, I know it; keep quiet.”

†Then Elijah said to him, “Please stay here, for the LORD has sent me to the Jordan.” But he said, “As the LORD lives, and as you yourself live, I will not leave you.” So the two of them went on. †Fifty men of the sons of the prophets also went and stood at some distance from them, as they both were standing by the Jordan. †Then Elijah took his cloak and rolled it up and struck the water, and the water was parted to the one side and to the other, till the two of them could go over on dry ground.

†When they had crossed, Elijah said to Elisha, “Ask what I shall do for you, before I am taken from you.” And Elisha said, “Please let there be a double portion of your spirit on me.” †And he said, “You have asked a hard thing; yet, if you see me as I am being taken from you, it shall be so for you, but if you do not see me, it shall not be so.” †And as they still went on and talked, behold, chariots of fire and horses of fire separated the two of them. And Elijah went up by a whirlwind into heaven. †And Elisha saw it and he cried, “My father, my father! The chariots of Israel and its horsemen!” And he saw him no more.

Then he took hold of his own clothes and tore them in two pieces. †And he took up the cloak of Elijah that had fallen from him and went back and stood on the bank of the Jordan. †Then he took the cloak of Elijah that had fallen from him and struck the water, saying, “Where is the LORD, the God of Elijah?” And when he had struck the water, the water was parted to the one side and to the other, and Elisha went over.

Elisha Succeeds Elijah

<sup>15</sup>† Now when the sons of the prophets who were at Jericho saw him opposite them, they said, “The spirit of Elijah rests on Elisha.” And they came to meet him and bowed to the ground before him. <sup>16</sup>† And they said to him, “Behold now, there are with your servants fifty strong men. Please let them go and seek your master. It may be that the Spirit of the LORD has caught him up and cast him upon some mountain or into some valley.” And he said, “You shall not send.” <sup>17</sup>† But when they urged him till he was ashamed, he said, “Send.” They sent therefore fifty men. And for three days they sought him but did not find him. <sup>18</sup> And they came back to him while he was staying at Jericho, and he said to them, “Did I not say to you, ‘Do not go’?”

<sup>19</sup> Now the men of the city said to Elisha, “Behold, the situation of this city is pleasant, as my lord sees, but the water is bad, and the land is unfruitful.” <sup>20</sup>† He said, “Bring me a new bowl, and put salt in it.” So they brought it to him. <sup>21</sup> Then he went to the spring of water and threw salt in it and said, “Thus says the LORD, I have healed this water; from now on neither death nor miscarriage shall come from it.” <sup>22</sup> So the water has been healed to this day, according to the word that Elisha spoke.

<sup>23</sup>† He went up from there to Bethel, and while he was going up on the way, some small boys came out of the city and jeered at him, saying, “Go up, you baldhead! Go up, you baldhead!” <sup>24</sup>† And he turned around, and when he saw them, he cursed them in the name of the LORD. And two she-bears came out of the woods and tore forty-two of the boys. <sup>25</sup>† From there he went on to Mount Carmel, and from there he returned to Samaria.

Moab Rebels Against Israel

2 KINGS 3 †In the eighteenth year of Jehoshaphat king of Judah, Jehoram the son of Ahab became king over Israel in Samaria, and he reigned twelve years. <sup>2</sup>†He did what was evil in the sight of the LORD, though not like his father and mother, for he put away the pillar of Baal that his father had made. <sup>3</sup>†Nevertheless, he clung to the sin of Jeroboam the son of Nebat, which he made Israel to sin; he did not depart from it.

<sup>9</sup>So the king of Israel went with the king of Judah and the king of Edom. And when they had made a circuitous march of seven days, there was no water for the army or for the animals that followed them. <sup>10</sup>Then the king of Israel said, “Alas! The LORD has called these three kings to give them into the hand of Moab.” <sup>11</sup>†And Jehoshaphat said, “Is there no prophet of the LORD here, through whom we may inquire of the LORD?” Then one of the king of Israel's servants answered, “Elisha the son of Shaphat is here, who poured water on the hands of Elijah.” <sup>12</sup>And Jehoshaphat said, “The word of the LORD is with him.” So the king of Israel and Jehoshaphat and the king of Edom went down to him.

<sup>13</sup>†And Elisha said to the king of Israel, “What have I to do with you? Go to the prophets of your father and to the prophets of your mother.” But the king of Israel said to him, “No; it is the LORD who has called these three kings to give them into the hand of Moab.” <sup>14</sup>†And Elisha said, “As the LORD of hosts lives, before whom I stand, were it not that I have regard for Jehoshaphat the king of Judah, I would neither look at you nor see you. <sup>15</sup>†But now bring me a musician.” And when the musician played, the hand of the LORD came upon him. <sup>16</sup>†And he said, “Thus says the LORD, ‘I will make this dry streambed full of pools.’ <sup>17</sup>For thus says the LORD, ‘You shall not see wind or rain, but that streambed shall be filled with water, so that you shall drink, you, your livestock, and your animals.’ <sup>18</sup>This is a light thing in the sight of the LORD. He will also give the Moabites into your hand, <sup>19</sup>and you shall attack every fortified city and every choice city, and shall fell every good tree and stop up all springs of water and ruin every good piece of land with stones.” <sup>20</sup>†The next morning, about the time of offering the sacrifice, behold, water came from the direction of Edom, till the country was filled with water.

<sup>21</sup>When all the Moabites heard that the kings had come up to fight against them, all who were able to put on armor, from the youngest to the oldest, were called out and were drawn up at the border. <sup>22</sup>†And when they rose early in the morning and the sun shone on the water, the Moabites saw the water opposite them as red as blood. <sup>23</sup>And they said, “This is blood; the kings have surely fought together and struck one another down. Now then, Moab, to the spoil!” <sup>24</sup>But when they came to the camp of Israel, the Israelites rose and struck the Moabites, till they fled before them. And they went forward, striking the Moabites as they went. [1] <sup>25</sup>†And they overthrew the cities, and on every good piece of land every man threw a stone until it was covered. They stopped every spring of water and felled all the good trees, till only its stones were left in Kir-hareseth, and the slingers surrounded and attacked it. <sup>26</sup>When the king of Moab saw that the battle was going against him, he took with him 700 swordsmen to break through, opposite the king of Edom, but they could not. <sup>27</sup>†Then he took his oldest son who was to reign in his place and offered him for a burnt offering on the wall. And there came great wrath against Israel. And they withdrew from him and returned to their own land.

Elisha and the Widow's Oil

2 KINGS 4 † Now the wife of one of the sons of the prophets cried to Elisha, “Your servant my husband is dead, and you know that your servant feared the LORD, but the creditor has come to take my two children to be his slaves.” † And Elisha said to her, “What shall I do for you? Tell me; what have you in the house?” And she said, “Your servant has nothing in the house except a jar of oil.” † Then he said, “Go outside, borrow vessels from all your neighbors, empty vessels and not too few. † Then go in and shut the door behind yourself and your sons and pour into all these vessels. And when one is full, set it aside.” † So she went from him and shut the door behind herself and her sons. And as she poured they brought the vessels to her. † When the vessels were full, she said to her son, “Bring me another vessel.” And he said to her, “There is not another.” Then the oil stopped flowing. † She came and told the man of God, and he said, “Go, sell the oil and pay your debts, and you and your sons can live on the rest.”

Elisha and the Shunammite Woman

† One day Elisha went on to Shunem, where a wealthy woman lived, who urged him to eat some food. So whenever he passed that way, he would turn in there to eat food. † And she said to her husband, “Behold now, I know that this is a holy man of God who is continually passing our way. † Let us make a small room on the roof with walls and put there for him a bed, a table, a chair, and a lamp, so that whenever he comes to us, he can go in there.”

† One day he came there, and he turned into the chamber and rested there. † And he said to Gehazi his servant, “Call this Shunammite.” When he had called her, she stood before him. † And he said to him, “Say now to her, ‘See, you have taken all this trouble for us; what is to be done for you? Would you have a word spoken on your behalf to the king or to the commander of the army?’” She answered, “I dwell among my own people.” † And he said, “What then is to be done for her?” Gehazi answered, “Well, she has no son, and her husband is old.” † He said, “Call her.” And when he had called her, she stood in the doorway. † And he said, “At this season, about this time next year, you shall embrace a son.” And she said, “No, my lord, O man of God; do not lie to your servant.” † But the woman conceived, and she bore a son about that time the following spring, as Elisha had said to her.

Elisha Raises the Shunammite's Son

<sup>18</sup>When the child had grown, he went out one day to his father among the reapers. <sup>19</sup>†And he said to his father, “Oh, my head, my head!” The father said to his servant, “Carry him to his mother.” <sup>20</sup>And when he had lifted him and brought him to his mother, the child sat on her lap till noon, and then he died. <sup>21</sup>And she went up and laid him on the bed of the man of God and shut the door behind him and went out. <sup>22</sup>Then she called to her husband and said, “Send me one of the servants and one of the donkeys, that I may quickly go to the man of God and come back again.” <sup>23</sup>†And he said, “Why will you go to him today? It is neither new moon nor Sabbath.” She said, “All is well.” <sup>24</sup>Then she saddled the donkey, and she said to her servant, “Urge the animal on; do not slacken the pace for me unless I tell you.” <sup>25</sup>†So she set out and came to the man of God at Mount Carmel.

When the man of God saw her coming, he said to Gehazi his servant, “Look, there is the Shunammite. <sup>26</sup>†Run at once to meet her and say to her, ‘Is all well with you? Is all well with your husband? Is all well with the child?’” And she answered, “All is well.” <sup>27</sup>†And when she came to the mountain to the man of God, she caught hold of his feet. And Gehazi came to push her away. But the man of God said, “Leave her alone, for she is in bitter distress, and the LORD has hidden it from me and has not told me.” <sup>28</sup>†Then she said, “Did I ask my lord for a son? Did I not say, ‘Do not deceive me?’” <sup>29</sup>†He said to Gehazi, “Tie up your garment and take my staff in your hand and go. If you meet anyone, do not greet him, and if anyone greets you, do not reply. And lay my staff on the face of the child.” <sup>30</sup>Then the mother of the child said, “As the LORD lives and as you yourself live, I will not leave you.” So he arose and followed her. <sup>31</sup>Gehazi went on ahead and laid the staff on the face of the child, but there was no sound or sign of life. Therefore he returned to meet him and told him, “The child has not awakened.”

<sup>32</sup>When Elisha came into the house, he saw the child lying dead on his bed. <sup>33</sup>So he went in and shut the door behind the two of them and prayed to the LORD. <sup>34</sup>†Then he went up and lay on the child, putting his mouth on his mouth, his eyes on his eyes, and his hands on his hands. And as he stretched himself upon him, the flesh of the child became warm. <sup>35</sup>Then he got up again and walked once back and forth in the house, and went up and stretched himself upon him. The child sneezed seven times, and the child opened his eyes. <sup>36</sup>Then he summoned Gehazi and said, “Call this Shunammite.” So he called her. And when she came to him, he said, “Pick up your son.”<sup>37</sup> She came and fell at his feet, bowing to the ground. Then she picked up her son and went out.

Elisha Purifies the Deadly Stew

<sup>38</sup>† And Elisha came again to Gilgal when there was a famine in the land. And as the sons of the prophets were sitting before him, he said to his servant, “Set on the large pot, and boil stew for the sons of the prophets.”<sup>39</sup>† One of them went out into the field to gather herbs, and found a wild vine and gathered from it his lap full of wild gourds, and came and cut them up into the pot of stew, not knowing what they were.<sup>40</sup> And they poured out some for the men to eat. But while they were eating of the stew, they cried out, “O man of God, there is death in the pot!” And they could not eat it.<sup>41</sup>† He said, “Then bring flour.” And he threw it into the pot and said, “Pour some out for the men, that they may eat.” And there was no harm in the pot.

<sup>42</sup>† A man came from Baal-shalishah, bringing the man of God bread of the firstfruits, twenty loaves of barley and fresh ears of grain in his sack. And Elisha said, “Give to the men, that they may eat.”<sup>43</sup>† But his servant said, “How can I set this before a hundred men?” So he repeated, “Give them to the men, that they may eat, for thus says the LORD, ‘They shall eat and have some left.’”<sup>44</sup> So he set it before them. And they ate and had some left, according to the word of the LORD.

Naaman Healed of Leprosy

2 KINGS 5 †Naaman, commander of the army of the king of Syria, was a great man with his master and in high favor, because by him the LORD had given victory to Syria. He was a mighty man of valor, but he was a leper. [\[1\]](#) †Now the Syrians on one of their raids had carried off a little girl from the land of Israel, and she worked in the service of Naaman's wife. [\[2\]](#) †She said to her mistress, "Would that my lord were with the prophet who is in Samaria! He would cure him of his leprosy." [\[3\]](#) †So Naaman went in and told his lord, "Thus and so spoke the girl from the land of Israel." [\[4\]](#) †And the king of Syria said, "Go now, and I will send a letter to the king of Israel."

So he went, taking with him ten talents of silver, six thousand shekels [\[2\]](#) of gold, and ten changes of clothing. [\[5\]](#) †And he brought the letter to the king of Israel, which read, "When this letter reaches you, know that I have sent to you Naaman my servant, that you may cure him of his leprosy." [\[6\]](#) †And when the king of Israel read the letter, he tore his clothes and said, "Am I God, to kill and to make alive, that this man sends word to me to cure a man of his leprosy? Only consider, and see how he is seeking a quarrel with me."

[\[7\]](#) †But when Elisha the man of God heard that the king of Israel had torn his clothes, he sent to the king, saying, "Why have you torn your clothes? Let him come now to me, that he may know that there is a prophet in Israel." [\[8\]](#) †So Naaman came with his horses and chariots and stood at the door of Elisha's house. [\[9\]](#) †And Elisha sent a messenger to him, saying, "Go and wash in the Jordan seven times, and your flesh shall be restored, and you shall be clean." [\[10\]](#) †But Naaman was angry and went away, saying, "Behold, I thought that he would surely come out to me and stand and call upon the name of the LORD his God, and wave his hand over the place and cure the leper. [\[11\]](#) †Are not Abana [\[3\]](#) and Pharpar, the rivers of Damascus, better than all the waters of Israel? Could I not wash in them and be clean?" So he turned and went away in a rage. [\[12\]](#) †But his servants came near and said to him, "My father, it is a great word the prophet has spoken to you; will you not do it? Has he actually said to you, 'Wash, and be clean'?" [\[13\]](#) †So he went down and dipped himself seven times in the Jordan, according to the word of the man of God, and his flesh was restored like the flesh of a little child, and he was clean.

Gehazi's Greed and Punishment

<sup>15</sup>†Then he returned to the man of God, he and all his company, and he came and stood before him. And he said, “Behold, I know that there is no God in all the earth but in Israel; so accept now a present from your servant.” <sup>16</sup>†But he said, “As the LORD lives, before whom I stand, I will receive none.” And he urged him to take it, but he refused. <sup>17</sup>†Then Naaman said, “If not, please let there be given to your servant two mules' load of earth, for from now on your servant will not offer burnt offering or sacrifice to any god but the LORD. <sup>18</sup>†In this matter may the LORD pardon your servant: when my master goes into the house of Rimmon to worship there, leaning on my arm, and I bow myself in the house of Rimmon, when I bow myself in the house of Rimmon, the LORD pardon your servant in this matter.” <sup>19</sup>He said to him, “Go in peace.”

But when Naaman had gone from him a short distance, <sup>20</sup>Gehazi, the servant of Elisha the man of God, said, “See, my master has spared this Naaman the Syrian, in not accepting from his hand what he brought. As the LORD lives, I will run after him and get something from him.” <sup>21</sup>So Gehazi followed Naaman. And when Naaman saw someone running after him, he got down from the chariot to meet him and said, “Is all well?” <sup>22</sup>†And he said, “All is well. My master has sent me to say, ‘There have just now come to me from the hill country of Ephraim two young men of the sons of the prophets. Please give them a talent of silver and two changes of clothing.’” <sup>23</sup>†And Naaman said, “Be pleased to accept two talents.” And he urged him and tied up two talents of silver in two bags, with two changes of clothing, and laid them on two of his servants. And they carried them before Gehazi. <sup>24</sup>And when he came to the hill, he took them from their hand and put them in the house, and he sent the men away, and they departed. <sup>25</sup>He went in and stood before his master, and Elisha said to him, “Where have you been, Gehazi?” And he said, “Your servant went nowhere.” <sup>26</sup>†But he said to him, “Did not my heart go when the man turned from his chariot to meet you? Was it a time to accept money and garments, olive orchards and vineyards, sheep and oxen, male servants and female servants? <sup>27</sup>†Therefore the leprosy of Naaman shall cling to you and to your descendants forever.” So he went out from his presence a leper, like snow.

The Axe Head Recovered

2 KINGS 6 † Now the sons of the prophets said to Elisha, “See, the place where we dwell under your charge is too small for us. <sup>2</sup>Let us go to the Jordan and each of us get there a log, and let us make a place for us to dwell there.” And he answered, “Go.” <sup>3</sup>Then one of them said, “Be pleased to go with your servants.” And he answered, “I will go.” <sup>4</sup>† So he went with them. And when they came to the Jordan, they cut down trees. <sup>5</sup>† But as one was felling a log, his axe head fell into the water, and he cried out, “Alas, my master! It was borrowed.” <sup>6</sup>† Then the man of God said, “Where did it fall?” When he showed him the place, he cut off a stick and threw it in there and made the iron float. <sup>7</sup>And he said, “Take it up.” So he reached out his hand and took it.

Horses and Chariots of Fire

<sup>8</sup>† Once when the king of Syria was warring against Israel, he took counsel with his servants, saying, “At such and such a place shall be my camp.” <sup>9</sup>†† But the man of God sent word to the king of Israel, “Beware that you do not pass this place, for the Syrians are going down there.” <sup>10</sup>And the king of Israel sent to the place about which the man of God told him. Thus he used to warn him, so that he saved himself there more than once or twice.

<sup>11</sup>† And the mind of the king of Syria was greatly troubled because of this thing, and he called his servants and said to them, “Will you not show me who of us is for the king of Israel?” <sup>12</sup>And one of his servants said, “None, my lord, O king; but Elisha, the prophet who is in Israel, tells the king of Israel the words that you speak in your bedroom.” <sup>13</sup>† And he said, “Go and see where he is, that I may send and seize him.” It was told him, “Behold, he is in Dothan.” <sup>14</sup>† So he sent there horses and chariots and a great army, and they came by night and surrounded the city.

<sup>15</sup>When the servant of the man of God rose early in the morning and went out, behold, an army with horses and chariots was all around the city. And the servant said, “Alas, my master! What shall we do?” <sup>16</sup>† He said, “Do not be afraid, for those who are with us are more than those who are with them.” <sup>17</sup>† Then Elisha prayed and said, “O LORD, please open his eyes that he may see.” So the LORD opened the eyes of the young man, and he saw, and behold, the mountain was full of horses and chariots of fire all around Elisha. <sup>18</sup>† And when the Syrians came down against him, Elisha prayed to the LORD and said, “Please strike this people with blindness.” So he struck them with blindness in accordance with the prayer of Elisha. <sup>19</sup>† And Elisha said to them, “This is not the way, and this is not the city. Follow me, and I will bring you to the man whom you seek.” And he led them to Samaria.

<sup>20</sup>† As soon as they entered Samaria, Elisha said, “O LORD, open the eyes of these men, that they may see.” So the LORD opened their eyes and they saw, and behold, they were in the midst of Samaria. <sup>21</sup>† As soon as the king of Israel saw them, he said to Elisha, “My father, shall I strike them down? Shall I strike them down?” <sup>22</sup>† He answered, “You shall not strike them down. Would you strike down those whom you have taken captive with your sword and with your bow? Set bread and water before them, that they may eat and drink and go to their master.” <sup>23</sup>† So he prepared for them a great feast, and when they had eaten and drunk, he sent them away, and they went to their master. And the Syrians did not come again on raids into the land of Israel.

Ben-hadad's Siege of Samaria

<sup>24</sup>† Afterward Ben-hadad king of Syria mustered his entire army and went up and besieged Samaria. <sup>25</sup>† And there was a great famine in Samaria, as they besieged it, until a donkey's head was sold for eighty shekels of silver, and the fourth part of a kab [1] of dove's dung for five shekels of silver. <sup>26</sup>† Now as the king of Israel was passing by on the wall, a woman cried out to him, saying, “Help, my lord, O king!” <sup>27</sup> And he said, “If the LORD will not help you, how shall I help you? From the threshing floor, or from the winepress?” <sup>28</sup>† And the king asked her, “What is your trouble?” She answered, “This woman said to me, ‘Give your son, that we may eat him today, and we will eat my son tomorrow.’ <sup>29</sup> So we boiled my son and ate him. And on the next day I said to her, ‘Give your son, that we may eat him.’ But she has hidden her son.” <sup>30</sup>† When the king heard the words of the woman, he tore his clothes—now he was passing by on the wall—and the people looked, and behold, he had sackcloth beneath on his body— <sup>31</sup>† and he said, “May God do so to me and more also, if the head of Elisha the son of Shaphat remains on his shoulders today.”

<sup>32</sup>† Elisha was sitting in his house, and the elders were sitting with him. Now the king had dispatched a man from his presence, but before the messenger arrived Elisha said to the elders, “Do you see how this murderer has sent to take off my head? Look, when the messenger comes, shut the door and hold the door fast against him. Is not the sound of his master's feet behind him?" <sup>33</sup>† And while he was still speaking with them, the messenger came down to him and said, "This trouble is from the LORD! Why should I wait for the LORD any longer?"

Elisha Promises Food

2 KINGS 7 †But Elisha said, “Hear the word of the LORD: thus says the LORD, Tomorrow about this time a seah [\[1\]](#) of fine flour shall be sold for a shekel, [\[2\]](#) and two seahs of barley for a shekel, at the gate of Samaria.” †Then the captain on whose hand the king leaned said to the man of God, “If the LORD himself should make windows in heaven, could this thing be?” But he said, “You shall see it with your own eyes, but you shall not eat of it.”

The Syrians Flee

†Now there were four men who were lepers [\[3\]](#) at the entrance to the gate. And they said to one another, “Why are we sitting here until we die? †If we say, ‘Let us enter the city,’ the famine is in the city, and we shall die there. And if we sit here, we die also. So now come, let us go over to the camp of the Syrians. If they spare our lives we shall live, and if they kill us we shall but die.” †So they arose at twilight to go to the camp of the Syrians. But when they came to the edge of the camp of the Syrians, behold, there was no one there. †For the Lord had made the army of the Syrians hear the sound of chariots and of horses, the sound of a great army, so that they said to one another, “Behold, the king of Israel has hired against us the kings of the Hittites and the kings of Egypt to come against us.” †So they fled away in the twilight and abandoned their tents, their horses, and their donkeys, leaving the camp as it was, and fled for their lives. †And when these lepers came to the edge of the camp, they went into a tent and ate and drank, and they carried off silver and gold and clothing and went and hid them. Then they came back and entered another tent and carried off things from it and went and hid them.

†Then they said to one another, “We are not doing right. This day is a day of good news. If we are silent and wait until the morning light, punishment will overtake us. Now therefore come; let us go and tell the king's household.” †So they came and called to the gatekeepers of the city and told them, “We came to the camp of the Syrians, and behold, there was no one to be seen or heard there, nothing but the horses tied and the donkeys tied and the tents as they were.”

†Then the gatekeepers called out, and it was told within the king's household.

†And the king rose in the night and said to his servants, “I will tell you what the Syrians have done to us. They know that we are hungry. Therefore they have gone out of the camp to hide themselves in the open country, thinking, ‘When they come out of the city, we shall take them alive and get into the city.’” <sup>13</sup>And one of his servants said, “Let some men take five of the remaining horses, seeing that those who are left here will fare like the whole multitude of Israel who have already perished. Let us send and see.” <sup>14</sup>So they took two horsemen, and the king sent them after the army of the Syrians, saying, “Go and see.” <sup>15</sup>So they went after them as far as the Jordan, and behold, all the way was littered with garments and equipment that the Syrians had thrown away in their haste. And the messengers returned and told the king.

<sup>16</sup>‡Then the people went out and plundered the camp of the Syrians. So a seah of fine flour was sold for a shekel, and two seahs of barley for a shekel, according to the word of the LORD. <sup>17</sup>Now the king had appointed the captain on whose hand he leaned to have charge of the gate. And the people trampled him in the gate, so that he died, as the man of God had said when the king came down to him. <sup>18</sup>For when the man of God had said to the king, “Two seahs of barley shall be sold for a shekel, and a seah of fine flour for a shekel, about this time tomorrow in the gate of Samaria,” <sup>19</sup>the captain had answered the man of God, “If the LORD himself should make windows in heaven, could such a thing be?” And he had said, “You shall see it with your own eyes, but you shall not eat of it.” <sup>20</sup>And so it happened to him, for the people trampled him in the gate and he died.

The Shunammite's Land Restored

2 KINGS 8 †† Now Elisha had said to the woman whose son he had restored to life, “Arise, and depart with your household, and sojourn wherever you can, for the LORD has called for a famine, and it will come upon the land for seven years.” † So the woman arose and did according to the word of the man of God. She went with her household and sojourned in the land of the Philistines seven years. † And at the end of the seven years, when the woman returned from the land of the Philistines, she went to appeal to the king for her house and her land. † Now the king was talking with Gehazi the servant of the man of God, saying, “Tell me all the great things that Elisha has done.” † And while he was telling the king how Elisha had restored the dead to life, behold, the woman whose son he had restored to life appealed to the king for her house and her land. And Gehazi said, “My lord, O king, here is the woman, and here is her son whom Elisha restored to life.” † And when the king asked the woman, she told him. So the king appointed an official for her, saying, “Restore all that was hers, together with all the produce of the fields from the day that she left the land until now.”

Hazael Murders Ben-hadad

† Now Elisha came to Damascus. Ben-hadad the king of Syria was sick. And when it was told him, “The man of God has come here,” † the king said to Hazael, “Take a present with you and go to meet the man of God, and inquire of the LORD through him, saying, ‘Shall I recover from this sickness?’” † So Hazael went to meet him, and took a present with him, all kinds of goods of Damascus, forty camel loads. When he came and stood before him, he said, “Your son Ben-hadad king of Syria has sent me to you, saying, ‘Shall I recover from this sickness?’” † And Elisha said to him, “Go, say to him, ‘You shall certainly recover,’ but the LORD has shown me that he shall certainly die.” † And he fixed his gaze and stared at him, until he was embarrassed. And the man of God wept. † And Hazael said, “Why does my lord weep?” He answered, “Because I know the evil that you will do to the people of Israel. You will set on fire their fortresses, and you will kill their young men with the sword and dash in pieces their little ones and rip open their pregnant women.” † And Hazael said, “What is your servant, who is but a dog, that he should do this great thing?” Elisha answered, “The LORD has shown me that you are to be king over Syria.” † Then he departed from Elisha and came to his master, who said to him, “What did Elisha say to you?” And he answered, “He told me that you would certainly recover.” <sup>15</sup>‡But the next day he took the bed cloth [1] and dipped it in water and spread it over his face, till he died. And Hazael became king in his place.

Jehoram Reigns in Judah

<sup>16</sup>‡In the fifth year of Joram the son of Ahab, king of Israel, when Jehoshaphat was king of Judah, [2] Jehoram the son of Jehoshaphat, king of Judah, began to reign. <sup>17</sup>‡He was thirty-two years old when he became king, and he reigned eight years in Jerusalem. <sup>18</sup>‡And he walked in the way of the kings of Israel, as the house of Ahab had done, for the daughter of Ahab was his wife. And he did what was evil in the sight of the LORD. <sup>19</sup>‡Yet the LORD was not willing to destroy Judah, for the sake of David his servant, since he promised to give a lamp to him and to his sons forever.

<sup>20</sup>‡In his days Edom revolted from the rule of Judah and set up a king of their own. <sup>21</sup>‡Then Joram [3] passed over to Zair with all his chariots and rose by night, and he and his chariot commanders struck the Edomites who had surrounded him, but his army fled home. <sup>22</sup>‡So Edom revolted from the rule of Judah to this day. Then Libnah revolted at the same time. <sup>23</sup>Now the rest of the acts of Joram, and all that he did, are they not written in the Book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Judah? <sup>24</sup>So Joram slept with his fathers and was buried with his fathers in the city of David, and Ahaziah his son reigned in his place.

Ahaziah Reigns in Judah

<sup>25</sup>‡In the twelfth year of Joram the son of Ahab, king of Israel, Ahaziah the son of Jehoram, king of Judah, began to reign. <sup>26</sup>‡Ahaziah was twenty-two years old when he began to reign, and he reigned one year in Jerusalem. His mother's name was Athaliah; she was a granddaughter of Omri king of Israel. <sup>27</sup>‡He also walked in the way of the house of Ahab and did what was evil in the sight of the LORD, as the house of Ahab had done, for he was son-in-law to the house of Ahab.

<sup>28</sup>‡He went with Joram the son of Ahab to make war against Hazael king of Syria at Ramoth-gilead, and the Syrians wounded Joram. <sup>29</sup>‡And King Joram returned to be healed in Jezreel of the wounds that the Syrians had given him at Ramah, when he fought against Hazael king of Syria. And Ahaziah the son of Jehoram king of Judah went down to see Joram the son of Ahab in Jezreel, because he was sick.

Jehu Anointed King of Israel

2 KINGS 9 Then Elisha the prophet called one of the sons of the prophets and said to him, “Tie up your garments, and take this flask of oil in your hand, and go to Ramoth-gilead. <sup>2</sup>† And when you arrive, look there for Jehu the son of Jehoshaphat, son of Nimshi. And go in and have him rise from among his fellows, and lead him to an inner chamber. <sup>3</sup>† Then take the flask of oil and pour it on his head and say, ‘Thus says the LORD, I anoint you king over Israel.’ Then open the door and flee; do not linger.”

<sup>4</sup> So the young man, the servant of the prophet, went to Ramoth-gilead. <sup>5</sup> And when he came, behold, the commanders of the army were in council. And he said, “I have a word for you, O commander.” And Jehu said, “To which of us all?” And he said, “To you, O commander.” <sup>6</sup> So he arose and went into the house. And the young man poured the oil on his head, saying to him, “Thus says the LORD, the God of Israel, I anoint you king over the people of the LORD, over Israel. <sup>7</sup>† And you shall strike down the house of Ahab your master, so that I may avenge on Jezebel the blood of my servants the prophets, and the blood of all the servants of the LORD. <sup>8</sup> For the whole house of Ahab shall perish, and I will cut off from Ahab every male, bond or free, in Israel. <sup>9</sup>† And I will make the house of Ahab like the house of Jeroboam the son of Nebat, and like the house of Baasha the son of Ahijah. <sup>10</sup>† And the dogs shall eat Jezebel in the territory of Jezreel, and none shall bury her.” Then he opened the door and fled.

<sup>11</sup>† When Jehu came out to the servants of his master, they said to him, “Is all well? Why did this mad fellow come to you?” And he said to them, “You know the fellow and his talk.” <sup>12</sup>† And they said, “That is not true; tell us now.” And he said, “Thus and so he spoke to me, saying, ‘Thus says the LORD, I anoint you king over Israel.’” <sup>13</sup>† Then in haste every man of them took his garment and put it under him on the bare [\[1\]](#) steps, and they blew the trumpet and proclaimed, “Jehu is king.”

Jehu Assassinates Joram and Ahaziah

<sup>14</sup> Thus Jehu the son of Jehoshaphat the son of Nimshi conspired against Joram. (Now Joram with all Israel had been on guard at Ramoth-gilead against Hazael king of Syria, <sup>15</sup>† but King Joram had returned to be healed in Jezreel of the wounds that the Syrians had given him, when he fought with Hazael king of Syria.) So Jehu said, “If this is your decision, then let no one slip out of the city to go and tell the news in Jezreel.” <sup>16</sup>† Then Jehu mounted his chariot and went to Jezreel, for Joram lay there. And Ahaziah king of Judah had come down to visit Joram.

<sup>17</sup> Now the watchman was standing on the tower in Jezreel, and he saw the company of Jehu as he came and said, “I see a company.” And Joram said, “Take a horseman and send to meet them, and let him say, ‘Is it peace?’” <sup>18</sup> So a man on horseback went to meet him and said, “Thus says the king, ‘Is it peace?’” And Jehu said, “What do you have to do with peace? Turn around and ride behind me.” And the watchman reported, saying, “The messenger reached them, but he is not coming back.” <sup>19</sup> Then he sent out a second horseman, who came to them and said, “Thus the king has said, ‘Is it peace?’” And Jehu answered, “What do you have to do with peace? Turn around and ride behind me.” <sup>20</sup> Again the watchman reported, “He reached them, but he is not coming back. And the driving is like the driving of Jehu the son of Nimshi, for he drives furiously.”

<sup>21</sup> † Joram said, “Make ready.” And they made ready his chariot. Then Joram king of Israel and Ahaziah king of Judah set out, each in his chariot, and went to meet Jehu, and met him at the property of Naboth the Jezreelite. <sup>22</sup> † And when Joram saw Jehu, he said, “Is it peace, Jehu?” He answered, “What peace can there be, so long as the whorings and the sorceries of your mother Jezebel are so many?” <sup>23</sup> Then Joram reined about and fled, saying to Ahaziah, “Treachery, O Ahaziah!” <sup>24</sup> And Jehu drew his bow with his full strength, and shot Joram between the shoulders, so that the arrow pierced his heart, and he sank in his chariot. <sup>25</sup> † Jehu said to Bidkar his aide, “Take him up and throw him on the plot of ground belonging to Naboth the Jezreelite. For remember, when you and I rode side by side behind Ahab his father, how the LORD made this pronouncement against him: <sup>26</sup> † ‘As surely as I saw yesterday the blood of Naboth and the blood of his sons—declares the LORD—I will repay you on this plot of ground.’ Now therefore take him up and throw him on the plot of ground, in accordance with the word of the LORD.”

<sup>27</sup> † When Ahaziah the king of Judah saw this, he fled in the direction of Beth-haggan. And Jehu pursued him and said, “Shoot him also.” And they shot him [2] in the chariot at the ascent of Gur, which is by Ibleam. And he fled to Megiddo and died there. <sup>28</sup> His servants carried him in a chariot to Jerusalem, and buried him in his tomb with his fathers in the city of David.

<sup>29</sup>‡In the eleventh year of Joram the son of Ahab, Ahaziah began to reign over Judah.

Jehu Executes Jezebel

<sup>30</sup>‡When Jehu came to Jezreel, Jezebel heard of it. And she painted her eyes and adorned her head and looked out of the window. <sup>31</sup>‡And as Jehu entered the gate, she said, “Is it peace, you Zimri, murderer of your master?” <sup>32</sup>‡And he lifted up his face to the window and said, “Who is on my side? Who?” Two or three eunuchs looked out at him. <sup>33</sup>He said, “Throw her down.” So they threw her down. And some of her blood spattered on the wall and on the horses, and they trampled on her. <sup>34</sup>‡Then he went in and ate and drank. And he said, “See now to this cursed woman and bury her, for she is a king's daughter.” <sup>35</sup>But when they went to bury her, they found no more of her than the skull and the feet and the palms of her hands. <sup>36</sup>‡When they came back and told him, he said, “This is the word of the LORD, which he spoke by his servant Elijah the Tishbite, ‘In the territory of Jezreel the dogs shall eat the flesh of Jezebel, <sup>37</sup>and the corpse of Jezebel shall be as dung on the face of the field in the territory of Jezreel, so that no one can say, This is Jezebel.’”

Jehu Slaughters Ahab's Descendants

2 KINGS 10 † Now Ahab had seventy sons in Samaria. So Jehu wrote letters and sent them to Samaria, to the rulers of the city, [1] to the elders, and to the guardians of the sons [2] of Ahab, saying, <sup>2</sup>“Now then, as soon as this letter comes to you, seeing your master's sons are with you, and there are with you chariots and horses, fortified cities also, and weapons, <sup>3</sup>†select the best and fittest of your master's sons and set him on his father's throne and fight for your master's house.” <sup>4</sup>But they were exceedingly afraid and said, “Behold, the two kings could not stand before him. How then can we stand?” <sup>5</sup>†So he who was over the palace, and he who was over the city, together with the elders and the guardians, sent to Jehu, saying, “We are your servants, and we will do all that you tell us. We will not make anyone king. Do whatever is good in your eyes.” <sup>6</sup>†Then he wrote to them a second letter, saying, “If you are on my side, and if you are ready to obey me, take the heads of your master's sons and come to me at Jezreel tomorrow at this time.” Now the king's sons, seventy persons, were with the great men of the city, who were bringing them up. <sup>7</sup>†And as soon as the letter came to them, they took the king's sons and slaughtered them, seventy persons, and put their heads in baskets and sent them to him at Jezreel. <sup>8</sup>†When the messenger came and told him, “They have brought the heads of the king's sons,” he said, “Lay them in two heaps at the entrance of the gate until the morning.” <sup>9</sup>†Then in the morning, when he went out, he stood and said to all the people, “You are innocent. It was I who conspired against my master and killed him, but who struck down all these? <sup>10</sup>†Know then that there shall fall to the earth nothing of the word of the LORD, which the LORD spoke concerning the house of Ahab, for the LORD has done what he said by his servant Elijah.” <sup>11</sup>†So Jehu struck down all who remained of the house of Ahab in Jezreel, all his great men and his close friends and his priests, until he left him none remaining.

<sup>12</sup>Then he set out and went to Samaria. On the way, when he was at Beth-eked of the Shepherds, <sup>13</sup>†Jehu met the relatives of Ahaziah king of Judah, and he said, “Who are you?” And they answered, “We are the relatives of Ahaziah, and we came down to visit the royal princes and the sons of the queen mother.” <sup>14</sup>†He said, “Take them alive.” And they took them alive and slaughtered them at the pit of Beth-eked, forty-two persons, and he spared none of them.

<sup>15</sup>†And when he departed from there, he met Jehonadab the son of Rechab coming to meet him. And he greeted him and said to him, “Is your heart true to my heart as mine is to yours?” And Jehonadab answered, “It is.” Jehu said, [3] “If it is, give me your hand.” So he gave him his hand. And Jehu took him up with him into the chariot. <sup>16</sup>And he said, “Come with me, and see my zeal for the LORD.” So he [4] had him ride in his chariot. <sup>17</sup>And when he came to Samaria, he struck down all who remained to Ahab in Samaria, till he had wiped them out, according to the word of the LORD that he spoke to Elijah.

Jehu Strikes Down the Prophets of Baal

<sup>18</sup>†Then Jehu assembled all the people and said to them, “Ahab served Baal a little, but Jehu will serve him much. <sup>19</sup>Now therefore call to me all the prophets of Baal, all his worshipers and all his priests. Let none be missing, for I have a great sacrifice to offer to Baal. Whoever is missing shall not live.” But Jehu did it with cunning in order to destroy the worshipers of Baal. <sup>20</sup>And Jehu ordered, “Sanctify a solemn assembly for Baal.” So they proclaimed it. <sup>21</sup>†And Jehu sent throughout all Israel, and all the worshipers of Baal came, so that there was not a man left who did not come. And they entered the house of Baal, and the house of Baal was filled from one end to the other. <sup>22</sup>He said to him who was in charge of the wardrobe, “Bring out the vestments for all the worshipers of Baal.” So he brought out the vestments for them. <sup>23</sup>Then Jehu went into the house of Baal with Jehonadab the son of Rechab, and he said to the worshipers of Baal, “Search, and see that there is no servant of the LORD here among you, but only the worshipers of Baal.” <sup>24</sup>Then they [5] went in to offer sacrifices and burnt offerings.

Now Jehu had stationed eighty men outside and said, “The man who allows any of those whom I give into your hands to escape shall forfeit his life.” <sup>25</sup>So as soon as he had made an end of offering the burnt offering, Jehu said to the guard and to the officers, “Go in and strike them down; let not a man escape.” So when they put them to the sword, the guard and the officers cast them out and went into the inner room of the house of Baal, <sup>26</sup>†and they brought out the pillar that was in the house of Baal and burned it. <sup>27</sup>†And they demolished the pillar of Baal, and demolished the house of Baal, and made it a latrine to this day.

Jehu Reigns in Israel

<sup>28</sup>†Thus Jehu wiped out Baal from Israel. <sup>29</sup>†But Jehu did not turn aside from the sins of Jeroboam the son of Nebat, which he made Israel to sin—that is, the golden calves that were in Bethel and in Dan. <sup>30</sup>And the LORD said to Jehu,

“Because you have done well in carrying out what is right in my eyes, and have done to the house of Ahab according to all that was in my heart, your sons of the fourth generation shall sit on the throne of Israel.” <sup>31</sup>But Jehu was not careful to walk in the law of the LORD, the God of Israel, with all his heart. He did not turn from the sins of Jeroboam, which he made Israel to sin.

<sup>32</sup>In those days the LORD began to cut off parts of Israel. Hazael defeated them throughout the territory of Israel: <sup>33</sup>†from the Jordan eastward, all the land of Gilead, the Gadites, and the Reubenites, and the Manassites, from Aroer, which is by the Valley of the Arnon, that is, Gilead and Bashan. <sup>34</sup>Now the rest of the acts of Jehu and all that he did, and all his might, are they not written in the Book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Israel? <sup>35</sup>So Jehu slept with his fathers, and they buried him in Samaria. And Jehoahaz his son reigned in his place. <sup>36</sup>†The time that Jehu reigned over Israel in Samaria was twenty-eight years.

Athaliah Reigns in Judah

2 KINGS 11 †Now when Athaliah the mother of Ahaziah saw that her son was dead, she arose and destroyed all the royal family. <sup>2</sup>†But Jehosheba, the daughter of King Joram, sister of Ahaziah, took Joash the son of Ahaziah and stole him away from among the king's sons who were being put to death, and she put [1] him and his nurse in a bedroom. Thus they [2] hid him from Athaliah, so that he was not put to death. <sup>3</sup>†And he remained with her six years, hidden in the house of the LORD, while Athaliah reigned over the land.

Joash Anointed King in Judah

<sup>4</sup>†But in the seventh year Jehoiada sent and brought the captains of the Carites and of the guards, and had them come to him in the house of the LORD. And he made a covenant with them and put them under oath in the house of the LORD, and he showed them the king's son. <sup>5</sup>†And he commanded them, “This is the thing that you shall do: one third of you, those who come off duty on the Sabbath and guard the king's house <sup>6</sup>†(another third being at the gate Sur and a third at the gate behind the guards) shall guard the palace. [3] <sup>7</sup>And the two divisions of you, which come on duty in force on the Sabbath and guard the house of the LORD on behalf of the king, <sup>8</sup>shall surround the king, each with his weapons in his hand. And whoever approaches the ranks is to be put to death. Be with the king when he goes out and when he comes in.”

<sup>9</sup>The captains did according to all that Jehoiada the priest commanded, and they each brought his men who were to go off duty on the Sabbath, with those who were to come on duty on the Sabbath, and came to Jehoiada the priest. <sup>10</sup>†And the priest gave to the captains the spears and shields that had been King David's, which were in the house of the LORD. <sup>11</sup>And the guards stood, every man with his weapons in his hand, from the south side of the house to the north side of the house, around the altar and the house on behalf of the king. <sup>12</sup>†Then he brought out the king's son and put the crown on him and gave him the testimony. And they proclaimed him king and anointed him, and they clapped their hands and said, “Long live the king!”

<sup>13</sup>When Athaliah heard the noise of the guard and of the people, she went into the house of the LORD to the people. <sup>14</sup>†And when she looked, there was the king standing by the pillar, according to the custom, and the captains and the trumpeters beside the king, and all the people of the land rejoicing and blowing trumpets. And Athaliah tore her clothes and cried, "Treason! Treason!" <sup>15</sup>Then Jehoiada the priest commanded the captains who were set over the army, "Bring her out between the ranks, and put to death with the sword anyone who follows her." For the priest said, "Let her not be put to death in the house of the LORD." <sup>16</sup>† So they laid hands on her; and she went through the horses' entrance to the king's house, and there she was put to death.

<sup>17</sup>† And Jehoiada made a covenant between the LORD and the king and people, that they should be the LORD's people, and also between the king and the people. <sup>18</sup>† Then all the people of the land went to the house of Baal and tore it down; his altars and his images they broke in pieces, and they killed Mattan the priest of Baal before the altars. And the priest posted watchmen over the house of the LORD. <sup>19</sup>And he took the captains, the Carites, the guards, and all the people of the land, and they brought the king down from the house of the LORD, marching through the gate of the guards to the king's house. And he took his seat on the throne of the kings. <sup>20</sup>So all the people of the land rejoiced, and the city was quiet after Athaliah had been put to death with the sword at the king's house.

Jehoash Reigns in Judah

<sup>21</sup>† [4] Jehoash [5] was seven years old when he began to reign.

2 KINGS 12 †In the seventh year of Jehu, Jehoash [1] began to reign, and he reigned forty years in Jerusalem. His mother's name was Zibiah of Beersheba. 2†And Jehoash did what was right in the eyes of the LORD all his days, because Jehoiada the priest instructed him. 3†Nevertheless, the high places were not taken away; the people continued to sacrifice and make offerings on the high places.

Jehoash Repairs the Temple

4‡†Jehoash said to the priests, “All the money of the holy things that is brought into the house of the LORD, the money for which each man is assessed—the money from the assessment of persons—and the money that a man's heart prompts him to bring into the house of the LORD, 5†let the priests take, each from his donor, and let them repair the house wherever any need of repairs is discovered.” 6†But by the twenty-third year of King Jehoash, the priests had made no repairs on the house. 7‡†Therefore King Jehoash summoned Jehoiada the priest and the other priests and said to them, “Why are you not repairing the house? Now therefore take no more money from your donors, but hand it over for the repair of the house.” 8So the priests agreed that they should take no more money from the people, and that they should not repair the house.

9‡†Then Jehoiada the priest took a chest and bored a hole in the lid of it and set it beside the altar on the right side as one entered the house of the LORD. And the priests who guarded the threshold put in it all the money that was brought into the house of the LORD. 10And whenever they saw that there was much money in the chest, the king's secretary and the high priest came up and they bagged and counted the money that was found in the house of the LORD. 11Then they would give the money that was weighed out into the hands of the workmen who had the oversight of the house of the LORD. And they paid it out to the carpenters and the builders who worked on the house of the LORD, 12and to the masons and the stonecutters, as well as to buy timber and quarried stone for making repairs on the house of the LORD, and for any outlay for the repairs of the house. 13But there were not made for the house of the LORD basins of silver, snuffers, bowls, trumpets, or any vessels of gold, or of silver, from the money that was brought into the house of the LORD, 14for that was given to the workmen who were repairing the house of the LORD with it. 15And they did not ask an accounting from the men into whose hand they delivered the money to pay out to the workmen, for they dealt honestly. 16†The money from the guilt offerings and the money from the sin offerings was not brought into the house of the LORD; it belonged to the priests.

<sup>17</sup>† At that time Hazael king of Syria went up and fought against Gath and took it. But when Hazael set his face to go up against Jerusalem, <sup>18</sup>† Jehoash king of Judah took all the sacred gifts that Jehoshaphat and Jehoram and Ahaziah his fathers, the kings of Judah, had dedicated, and his own sacred gifts, and all the gold that was found in the treasuries of the house of the LORD and of the king's house, and sent these to Hazael king of Syria. Then Hazael went away from Jerusalem.

The Death of Joash

<sup>19</sup>† Now the rest of the acts of Joash and all that he did, are they not written in the Book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Judah? <sup>20</sup>† His servants arose and made a conspiracy and struck down Joash in the house of Millo, on the way that goes down to Silla. <sup>21</sup>† It was Jozacar the son of Shimeath and Jehozabad the son of Shomer, his servants, who struck him down, so that he died. And they buried him with his fathers in the city of David, and Amaziah his son reigned in his place.

Jehoahaz Reigns in Israel

2 KINGS 13 †In the twenty-third year of Joash the son of Ahaziah, king of Judah, Jehoahaz the son of Jehu began to reign over Israel in Samaria, and he reigned seventeen years. <sup>2</sup>†He did what was evil in the sight of the LORD and followed the sins of Jeroboam the son of Nebat, which he made Israel to sin; he did not depart from them. <sup>3</sup>†And the anger of the LORD was kindled against Israel, and he gave them continually into the hand of Hazael king of Syria and into the hand of Ben-hadad the son of Hazael. <sup>4</sup>Then Jehoahaz sought the favor of the LORD, and the LORD listened to him, for he saw the oppression of Israel, how the king of Syria oppressed them. <sup>5</sup>†(Therefore the LORD gave Israel a savior, so that they escaped from the hand of the Syrians, and the people of Israel lived in their homes as formerly. <sup>6</sup>†Nevertheless, they did not depart from the sins of the house of Jeroboam, which he made Israel to sin, but walked [1] in them; and the Asherah also remained in Samaria.) <sup>7</sup>†For there was not left to Jehoahaz an army of more than fifty horsemen and ten chariots and ten thousand footmen, for the king of Syria had destroyed them and made them like the dust at threshing. <sup>8</sup>Now the rest of the acts of Jehoahaz and all that he did, and his might, are they not written in the Book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Israel? <sup>9</sup>So Jehoahaz slept with his fathers, and they buried him in Samaria, and Joash his son reigned in his place.

Jehoash Reigns in Israel

<sup>10</sup>†In the thirty-seventh year of Joash king of Judah, Jehoash [2] the son of Jehoahaz began to reign over Israel in Samaria, and he reigned sixteen years. <sup>11</sup>He also did what was evil in the sight of the LORD. He did not depart from all the sins of Jeroboam the son of Nebat, which he made Israel to sin, but he walked in them. <sup>12</sup>†Now the rest of the acts of Joash and all that he did, and the might with which he fought against Amaziah king of Judah, are they not written in the Book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Israel? <sup>13</sup>So Joash slept with his fathers, and Jeroboam sat on his throne. And Joash was buried in Samaria with the kings of Israel.

The Death of Elisha

<sup>14</sup>†Now when Elisha had fallen sick with the illness of which he was to die, Joash king of Israel went down to him and wept before him, crying, “My father, my father! The chariots of Israel and its horsemen!” <sup>15</sup>And Elisha said to him, “Take a bow and arrows.” So he took a bow and arrows. <sup>16</sup>†Then he said to the king of Israel, “Draw the bow,” and he drew it. And Elisha laid his hands on the king's hands. <sup>17</sup>†And he said, “Open the window eastward,” and he opened it. Then Elisha said, “Shoot,” and he shot. And he said, “The LORD's arrow of victory, the arrow of victory over Syria! For you shall fight the Syrians in Aphek until you have made an end of them.” <sup>18</sup>And he said, “Take the arrows,” and he took them. And he said to the king of Israel, “Strike the ground with them.” And he struck three times and stopped. <sup>19</sup>†Then the man of God was angry with him and said, “You should have struck five or six times; then you would have struck down Syria until you had made an end of it, but now you will strike down Syria only three times.”

<sup>20</sup>†So Elisha died, and they buried him. Now bands of Moabites used to invade the land in the spring of the year. <sup>21</sup>†And as a man was being buried, behold, a marauding band was seen and the man was thrown into the grave of Elisha, and as soon as the man touched the bones of Elisha, he revived and stood on his feet.

<sup>22</sup>†Now Hazael king of Syria oppressed Israel all the days of Jehoahaz. <sup>23</sup>†But the LORD was gracious to them and had compassion on them, and he turned toward them, because of his covenant with Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, and would not destroy them, nor has he cast them from his presence until now.

<sup>24</sup>When Hazael king of Syria died, Ben-hadad his son became king in his place. <sup>25</sup>Then Jehoash the son of Jehoahaz took again from Ben-hadad the son of Hazael the cities that he had taken from Jehoahaz his father in war. Three times Joash defeated him and recovered the cities of Israel.

Amaziah Reigns in Judah

2 KINGS 14 †† In the second year of Joash the son of Joahaz, king of Israel, Amaziah the son of Joash, king of Judah, began to reign. † He was twenty-five years old when he began to reign, and he reigned twenty-nine years in Jerusalem. His mother's name was Jehoaddin of Jerusalem. † And he did what was right in the eyes of the LORD, yet not like David his father. He did in all things as Joash his father had done. † But the high places were not removed; the people still sacrificed and made offerings on the high places. † And as soon as the royal power was firmly in his hand, he struck down his servants who had struck down the king his father. † But he did not put to death the children of the murderers, according to what is written in the Book of the Law of Moses, where the LORD commanded, "Fathers shall not be put to death because of their children, nor shall children be put to death because of their fathers. But each one shall die for his own sin."

† He struck down ten thousand Edomites in the Valley of Salt and took Sela by storm, and called it Joktheel, which is its name to this day.

† Then Amaziah sent messengers to Jehoash [1] the son of Jehoahaz, son of Jehu, king of Israel, saying, "Come, let us look one another in the face." † And Jehoash king of Israel sent word to Amaziah king of Judah, "A thistle on Lebanon sent to a cedar on Lebanon, saying, 'Give your daughter to my son for a wife,' and a wild beast of Lebanon passed by and trampled down the thistle. † You have indeed struck down Edom, and your heart has lifted you up. Be content with your glory, and stay at home, for why should you provoke trouble so that you fall, you and Judah with you?"

† But Amaziah would not listen. So Jehoash king of Israel went up, and he and Amaziah king of Judah faced one another in battle at Beth-shemesh, which belongs to Judah. † And Judah was defeated by Israel, and every man fled to his home. † And Jehoash king of Israel captured Amaziah king of Judah, the son of Jehoash, son of Ahaziah, at Beth-shemesh, and came to Jerusalem and broke down the wall of Jerusalem for four hundred cubits, [2] from the Ephraim Gate to the Corner Gate. † And he seized all the gold and silver, and all the vessels that were found in the house of the LORD and in the treasuries of the king's house, also hostages, and he returned to Samaria.

<sup>15</sup>Now the rest of the acts of Jehoash that he did, and his might, and how he fought with Amaziah king of Judah, are they not written in the Book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Israel? <sup>16</sup>And Jehoash slept with his fathers and was buried in Samaria with the kings of Israel, and Jeroboam his son reigned in his place.

<sup>17</sup>‡Amaziah the son of Joash, king of Judah, lived fifteen years after the death of Jehoash son of Jehoahaz, king of Israel. <sup>18</sup>‡Now the rest of the deeds of Amaziah, are they not written in the Book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Judah? <sup>19</sup>‡And they made a conspiracy against him in Jerusalem, and he fled to Lachish. But they sent after him to Lachish and put him to death there. <sup>20</sup>And they brought him on horses; and he was buried in Jerusalem with his fathers in the city of David. <sup>21</sup>‡And all the people of Judah took Azariah, who was sixteen years old, and made him king instead of his father Amaziah. <sup>22</sup>‡He built Elath and restored it to Judah, after the king slept with his fathers.

Jeroboam II Reigns in Israel

<sup>23</sup>‡In the fifteenth year of Amaziah the son of Joash, king of Judah, Jeroboam the son of Joash, king of Israel, began to reign in Samaria, and he reigned forty-one years. <sup>24</sup>And he did what was evil in the sight of the LORD. He did not depart from all the sins of Jeroboam the son of Nebat, which he made Israel to sin. <sup>25</sup>‡‡He restored the border of Israel from Lebo-hamath as far as the Sea of the Arabah, according to the word of the LORD, the God of Israel, which he spoke by his servant Jonah the son of Amittai, the prophet, who was from Gath-hepher. <sup>26</sup>For the LORD saw that the affliction of Israel was very bitter, for there was none left, bond or free, and there was none to help Israel. <sup>27</sup>But the LORD had not said that he would blot out the name of Israel from under heaven, so he saved them by the hand of Jeroboam the son of Joash.

<sup>28</sup>‡Now the rest of the acts of Jeroboam and all that he did, and his might, how he fought, and how he restored Damascus and Hamath to Judah in Israel, are they not written in the Book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Israel? <sup>29</sup>And Jeroboam slept with his fathers, the kings of Israel, and Zechariah his son reigned in his place.

Azariah Reigns in Judah

2 KINGS 15 †In the twenty-seventh year of Jeroboam king of Israel, Azariah the son of Amaziah, king of Judah, began to reign. <sup>2</sup>†He was sixteen years old when he began to reign, and he reigned fifty-two years in Jerusalem. His mother's name was Jecoliah of Jerusalem. <sup>3</sup>And he did what was right in the eyes of the LORD, according to all that his father Amaziah had done. <sup>4</sup>†Nevertheless, the high places were not taken away. The people still sacrificed and made offerings on the high places. <sup>5</sup>†And the LORD touched the king, so that he was a leper [1] to the day of his death, and he lived in a separate house. [2] And Jotham the king's son was over the household, governing the people of the land. <sup>6</sup>Now the rest of the acts of Azariah, and all that he did, are they not written in the Book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Judah? <sup>7</sup>And Azariah slept with his fathers, and they buried him with his fathers in the city of David, and Jotham his son reigned in his place.

Zechariah Reigns in Israel

<sup>8</sup>†In the thirty-eighth year of Azariah king of Judah, Zechariah the son of Jeroboam reigned over Israel in Samaria six months. <sup>9</sup>And he did what was evil in the sight of the LORD, as his fathers had done. He did not depart from the sins of Jeroboam the son of Nebat, which he made Israel to sin. <sup>10</sup>†Shallum the son of Jabesh conspired against him and struck him down at Ibleam and put him to death and reigned in his place. <sup>11</sup>Now the rest of the deeds of Zechariah, behold, they are written in the Book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Israel. <sup>12</sup>(This was the promise of the LORD that he gave to Jehu, “Your sons shall sit on the throne of Israel to the fourth generation.” And so it came to pass.)

Shallum Reigns in Israel

<sup>13</sup>†Shallum the son of Jabesh began to reign in the thirty-ninth year of Uzziah [3] king of Judah, and he reigned one month in Samaria. <sup>14</sup>†Then Menahem the son of Gadi came up from Tirzah and came to Samaria, and he struck down Shallum the son of Jabesh in Samaria and put him to death and reigned in his place. <sup>15</sup>Now the rest of the deeds of Shallum, and the conspiracy that he made, behold, they are written in the Book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Israel. <sup>16</sup>†At that time Menahem sacked Tiphseh and all who were in it and its territory from Tirzah on, because they did not open it to him. Therefore he sacked it, and he ripped open all the women in it who were pregnant.

Menahem Reigns in Israel

<sup>17</sup>† In the thirty-ninth year of Azariah king of Judah, Menahem the son of Gadi began to reign over Israel, and he reigned ten years in Samaria. <sup>18</sup> And he did what was evil in the sight of the LORD. He did not depart all his days from all the sins of Jeroboam the son of Nebat, which he made Israel to sin. <sup>19</sup> †† Pul [4] the king of Assyria came against the land, and Menahem gave Pul a thousand talents [5] of silver, that he might help him to confirm his hold on the royal power. <sup>20</sup> Menahem exacted the money from Israel, that is, from all the wealthy men, fifty shekels [6] of silver from every man, to give to the king of Assyria. So the king of Assyria turned back and did not stay there in the land. <sup>21</sup> Now the rest of the deeds of Menahem and all that he did, are they not written in the Book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Israel? <sup>22</sup> And Menahem slept with his fathers, and Pekahiah his son reigned in his place.

Pekahiah Reigns in Israel

<sup>23</sup> † In the fiftieth year of Azariah king of Judah, Pekahiah the son of Menahem began to reign over Israel in Samaria, and he reigned two years. <sup>24</sup> † And he did what was evil in the sight of the LORD. He did not turn away from the sins of Jeroboam the son of Nebat, which he made Israel to sin. <sup>25</sup> † And Pekah the son of Remaliah, his captain, conspired against him with fifty men of the people of Gilead, and struck him down in Samaria, in the citadel of the king's house with Argob and Arieah; he put him to death and reigned in his place. <sup>26</sup> Now the rest of the deeds of Pekahiah and all that he did, behold, they are written in the Book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Israel.

Pekah Reigns in Israel

<sup>27</sup> † In the fifty-second year of Azariah king of Judah, Pekah the son of Remaliah began to reign over Israel in Samaria, and he reigned twenty years. <sup>28</sup> And he did what was evil in the sight of the LORD. He did not depart from the sins of Jeroboam the son of Nebat, which he made Israel to sin.

<sup>29</sup> † In the days of Pekah king of Israel, Tiglath-pileser king of Assyria came and captured Ijon, Abel-beth-maacah, Janoah, Kedesh, Hazor, Gilead, and Galilee, all the land of Naphtali, and he carried the people captive to Assyria. <sup>30</sup> † Then Hoshea the son of Elah made a conspiracy against Pekah the son of Remaliah and struck him down and put him to death and reigned in his place, in the twentieth year of Jotham the son of Uzziah. <sup>31</sup>Now the rest of the acts of Pekah and all that he did, behold, they are written in the Book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Israel.

Jotham Reigns in Judah

<sup>32</sup>‡In the second year of Pekah the son of Remaliah, king of Israel, Jotham the son of Uzziah, king of Judah, began to reign. <sup>33</sup>‡He was twenty-five years old when he began to reign, and he reigned sixteen years in Jerusalem. His mother's name was Jerusha the daughter of Zadok. <sup>34</sup>And he did what was right in the eyes of the LORD, according to all that his father Uzziah had done.

<sup>35</sup>‡Nevertheless, the high places were not removed. The people still sacrificed and made offerings on the high places. He built the upper gate of the house of the LORD. <sup>36</sup>Now the rest of the acts of Jotham and all that he did, are they not written in the Book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Judah? <sup>37</sup>‡In those days the LORD began to send Rezin the king of Syria and Pekah the son of Remaliah against Judah. <sup>38</sup>Jotham slept with his fathers and was buried with his fathers in the city of David his father, and Ahaz his son reigned in his place.

Ahaz Reigns in Judah

2 KINGS 16 †† In the seventeenth year of Pekah the son of Remaliah, Ahaz the son of Jotham, king of Judah, began to reign. † Ahaz was twenty years old when he began to reign, and he reigned sixteen years in Jerusalem. And he did not do what was right in the eyes of the LORD his God, as his father David had done, † but he walked in the way of the kings of Israel. He even burned his son as an offering, [1] according to the despicable practices of the nations whom the LORD drove out before the people of Israel. † And he sacrificed and made offerings on the high places and on the hills and under every green tree.

† Then Rezin king of Syria and Pekah the son of Remaliah, king of Israel, came up to wage war on Jerusalem, and they besieged Ahaz but could not conquer him. † At that time Rezin the king of Syria recovered Elath for Syria and drove the men of Judah from Elath, and the Edomites came to Elath, where they dwell to this day. † So Ahaz sent messengers to Tiglath-pileser king of Assyria, saying, “I am your servant and your son. Come up and rescue me from the hand of the king of Syria and from the hand of the king of Israel, who are attacking me.” † Ahaz also took the silver and gold that was found in the house of the LORD and in the treasures of the king's house and sent a present to the king of Assyria. † And the king of Assyria listened to him. The king of Assyria marched up against Damascus and took it, carrying its people captive to Kir, and he killed Rezin.

† When King Ahaz went to Damascus to meet Tiglath-pileser king of Assyria, he saw the altar that was at Damascus. And King Ahaz sent to Uriah the priest a model of the altar, and its pattern, exact in all its details. † And Uriah the priest built the altar; in accordance with all that King Ahaz had sent from Damascus, so Uriah the priest made it, before King Ahaz arrived from Damascus. † And when the king came from Damascus, the king viewed the altar. Then the king drew near to the altar and went up on it † and burned his burnt offering and his grain offering and poured his drink offering and threw the blood of his peace offerings on the altar. † And the bronze altar that was before the LORD he removed from the front of the house, from the place between his altar and the house of the LORD, and put it on the north side of his altar. † And King Ahaz commanded Uriah the priest, saying, “On the great altar burn the morning burnt offering and the evening grain offering and the king's burnt offering and his grain offering, with the burnt offering of all the people of the land, and their grain offering and their drink offering. And throw on it all the blood of the burnt offering and all the blood of the sacrifice, but the bronze altar shall be for me to inquire by.” <sup>16</sup>Uriah the priest did all this, as King Ahaz commanded.

<sup>17</sup>‡And King Ahaz cut off the frames of the stands and removed the basin from them, and he took down the sea [2] from off the bronze oxen that were under it and put it on a stone pedestal. <sup>18</sup>‡And the covered way for the Sabbath that had been built inside the house and the outer entrance for the king he caused to go around the house of the LORD, because of the king of Assyria. <sup>19</sup>Now the rest of the acts of Ahaz that he did, are they not written in the Book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Judah? <sup>20</sup>‡And Ahaz slept with his fathers and was buried with his fathers in the city of David, and Hezekiah his son reigned in his place.

2 KINGS 17 †In the twelfth year of Ahaz king of Judah, Hoshea the son of Elah began to reign in Samaria over Israel, and he reigned nine years. †And he did what was evil in the sight of the LORD, yet not as the kings of Israel who were before him. †Against him came up Shalmaneser king of Assyria. And Hoshea became his vassal and paid him tribute. †But the king of Assyria found treachery in Hoshea, for he had sent messengers to So, king of Egypt, and offered no tribute to the king of Assyria, as he had done year by year. Therefore the king of Assyria shut him up and bound him in prison. †Then the king of Assyria invaded all the land and came to Samaria, and for three years he besieged it.

The Fall of Israel

†In the ninth year of Hoshea, the king of Assyria captured Samaria, and he carried the Israelites away to Assyria and placed them in Halah, and on the Habor, the river of Gozan, and in the cities of the Medes.

Exile Because of Idolatry

††And this occurred because the people of Israel had sinned against the LORD their God, who had brought them up out of the land of Egypt from under the hand of Pharaoh king of Egypt, and had feared other gods †and walked in the customs of the nations whom the LORD drove out before the people of Israel, and in the customs that the kings of Israel had practiced. †And the people of Israel did secretly against the LORD their God things that were not right. They built for themselves high places in all their towns, from watchtower to fortified city. †They set up for themselves pillars and Asherim on every high hill and under every green tree, †and there they made offerings on all the high places, as the nations did whom the LORD carried away before them. And they did wicked things, provoking the LORD to anger, †and they served idols, of which the LORD had said to them, “You shall not do this.” †Yet the LORD warned Israel and Judah by every prophet and every seer, saying, “Turn from your evil ways and keep my commandments and my statutes, in accordance with all the Law that I commanded your fathers, and that I sent to you by my servants the prophets.”

†But they would not listen, but were stubborn, as their fathers had been, who did not believe in the LORD their God. †They despised his statutes and his covenant that he made with their fathers and the warnings that he gave them.

They went after false idols and became false, and they followed the nations that were around them, concerning whom the LORD had commanded them that they should not do like them. <sup>16</sup>† And they abandoned all the commandments of the LORD their God, and made for themselves metal images of two calves; and they made an Asherah and worshiped all the host of heaven and served Baal. <sup>17</sup>† And they burned their sons and their daughters as offerings [1] and used divination and omens and sold themselves to do evil in the sight of the LORD, provoking him to anger. <sup>18</sup> Therefore the LORD was very angry with Israel and removed them out of his sight. None was left but the tribe of Judah only.

<sup>19</sup>† Judah also did not keep the commandments of the LORD their God, but walked in the customs that Israel had introduced. <sup>20</sup> And the LORD rejected all the descendants of Israel and afflicted them and gave them into the hand of plunderers, until he had cast them out of his sight.

<sup>21</sup>† When he had torn Israel from the house of David, they made Jeroboam the son of Nebat king. And Jeroboam drove Israel from following the LORD and made them commit great sin. <sup>22</sup>† The people of Israel walked in all the sins that Jeroboam did. They did not depart from them, <sup>23</sup>† until the LORD removed Israel out of his sight, as he had spoken by all his servants the prophets. So Israel was exiled from their own land to Assyria until this day.

Assyria Resettles Samaria

<sup>24</sup>† And the king of Assyria brought people from Babylon, Cuthah, Avva, Hamath, and Sepharvaim, and placed them in the cities of Samaria instead of the people of Israel. And they took possession of Samaria and lived in its cities. <sup>25</sup>† And at the beginning of their dwelling there, they did not fear the LORD. Therefore the LORD sent lions among them, which killed some of them. <sup>26</sup>† So the king of Assyria was told, “The nations that you have carried away and placed in the cities of Samaria do not know the law of the god of the land. Therefore he has sent lions among them, and behold, they are killing them, because they do not know the law of the god of the land.” <sup>27</sup>† Then the king of Assyria commanded, “Send there one of the priests whom you carried away from there, and let him [2] go and dwell there and teach them the law of the god of the land.” <sup>28</sup> So one of the priests whom they had carried away from Samaria came and lived in Bethel and taught them how they should fear the LORD.

<sup>29</sup>† But every nation still made gods of its own and put them in the shrines of the high places that the Samaritans had made, every nation in the cities in which they lived. <sup>30</sup>†The men of Babylon made Succoth-benoth, the men of Cuth made Nergal, the men of Hamath made Ashima, <sup>31</sup>†and the Avvites made Nibhaz and Tartak; and the Sepharvites burned their children in the fire to Adrammelech and Anammelech, the gods of Sepharvaim. <sup>32</sup>They also feared the LORD and appointed from among themselves all sorts of people as priests of the high places, who sacrificed for them in the shrines of the high places. <sup>33</sup>†So they feared the LORD but also served their own gods, after the manner of the nations from among whom they had been carried away.

<sup>34</sup>†To this day they do according to the former manner. They do not fear the LORD, and they do not follow the statutes or the rules or the law or the commandment that the LORD commanded the children of Jacob, whom he named Israel. <sup>35</sup>The LORD made a covenant with them and commanded them, “You shall not fear other gods or bow yourselves to them or serve them or sacrifice to them, <sup>36</sup>but you shall fear the LORD, who brought you out of the land of Egypt with great power and with an outstretched arm. You shall bow yourselves to him, and to him you shall sacrifice. <sup>37</sup>And the statutes and the rules and the law and the commandment that he wrote for you, you shall always be careful to do. You shall not fear other gods, <sup>38</sup>and you shall not forget the covenant that I have made with you. You shall not fear other gods, <sup>39</sup>but you shall fear the LORD your God, and he will deliver you out of the hand of all your enemies.” <sup>40</sup>However, they would not listen, but they did according to their former manner.

<sup>41</sup>So these nations feared the LORD and also served their carved images. Their children did likewise, and their children's children—as their fathers did, so they do to this day.

Hezekiah Reigns in Judah

2 KINGS 18 †† In the third year of Hoshea son of Elah, king of Israel, Hezekiah the son of Ahaz, king of Judah, began to reign. <sup>2</sup>† He was twenty-five years old when he began to reign, and he reigned twenty-nine years in Jerusalem. His mother's name was Abi the daughter of Zechariah. <sup>3</sup> And he did what was right in the eyes of the LORD, according to all that David his father had done. <sup>4</sup>† He removed the high places and broke the pillars and cut down the Asherah. And he broke in pieces the bronze serpent that Moses had made, for until those days the people of Israel had made offerings to it (it was called Nehushtan). [1] <sup>5</sup>† He trusted in the LORD, the God of Israel, so that there was none like him among all the kings of Judah after him, nor among those who were before him. <sup>6</sup> For he held fast to the LORD. He did not depart from following him, but kept the commandments that the LORD commanded Moses. <sup>7</sup>† And the LORD was with him; wherever he went out, he prospered. He rebelled against the king of Assyria and would not serve him. <sup>8</sup>† He struck down the Philistines as far as Gaza and its territory, from watchtower to fortified city.

<sup>9</sup>† In the fourth year of King Hezekiah, which was the seventh year of Hoshea son of Elah, king of Israel, Shalmaneser king of Assyria came up against Samaria and besieged it, <sup>10</sup> and at the end of three years he took it. In the sixth year of Hezekiah, which was the ninth year of Hoshea king of Israel, Samaria was taken. <sup>11</sup> The king of Assyria carried the Israelites away to Assyria and put them in Halah, and on the Habor, the river of Gozan, and in the cities of the Medes, <sup>12</sup> because they did not obey the voice of the LORD their God but transgressed his covenant, even all that Moses the servant of the LORD commanded. They neither listened nor obeyed.

Sennacherib Attacks Judah

<sup>13</sup>†† In the fourteenth year of King Hezekiah, Sennacherib king of Assyria came up against all the fortified cities of Judah and took them. <sup>14</sup>† And Hezekiah king of Judah sent to the king of Assyria at Lachish, saying, “I have done wrong; withdraw from me. Whatever you impose on me I will bear.” And the king of Assyria required of Hezekiah king of Judah three hundred talents [2] of silver and thirty talents of gold. <sup>15</sup> And Hezekiah gave him all the silver that was found in the house of the LORD and in the treasuries of the king's house. <sup>16</sup> At that time Hezekiah stripped the gold from the doors of the temple of the LORD and from the doorposts that Hezekiah king of Judah had overlaid and gave it to the king of Assyria. <sup>17</sup>‡‡And the king of Assyria sent the Tartan, the Rab-saris, and the Rabshakeh with a great army from Lachish to King Hezekiah at Jerusalem. And they went up and came to Jerusalem. When they arrived, they came and stood by the conduit of the upper pool, which is on the highway to the Washer's Field. <sup>18</sup>‡‡And when they called for the king, there came out to them Eliakim the son of Hilkiyah, who was over the household, and Shebna the secretary, and Joah the son of Asaph, the recorder.

<sup>19</sup>‡‡And the Rabshakeh said to them, “Say to Hezekiah, ‘Thus says the great king, the king of Assyria: On what do you rest this trust of yours? <sup>20</sup>‡‡Do you think that mere words are strategy and power for war? In whom do you now trust, that you have rebelled against me? <sup>21</sup>‡‡Behold, you are trusting now in Egypt, that broken reed of a staff, which will pierce the hand of any man who leans on it. Such is Pharaoh king of Egypt to all who trust in him. <sup>22</sup>‡‡But if you say to me, “We trust in the LORD our God,” is it not he whose high places and altars Hezekiah has removed, saying to Judah and to Jerusalem, “You shall worship before this altar in Jerusalem”? <sup>23</sup>‡‡Come now, make a wager with my master the king of Assyria: I will give you two thousand horses, if you are able on your part to set riders on them. <sup>24</sup>How then can you repulse a single captain among the least of my master's servants, when you trust in Egypt for chariots and for horsemen? <sup>25</sup>‡‡Moreover, is it without the LORD that I have come up against this place to destroy it? The LORD said to me, Go up against this land, and destroy it.’”

<sup>26</sup>‡‡Then Eliakim the son of Hilkiyah, and Shebna, and Joah, said to the Rabshakeh, “Please speak to your servants in Aramaic, for we understand it. Do not speak to us in the language of Judah within the hearing of the people who are on the wall.” <sup>27</sup>‡‡But the Rabshakeh said to them, “Has my master sent me to speak these words to your master and to you, and not to the men sitting on the wall, who are doomed with you to eat their own dung and to drink their own urine?”

<sup>28</sup>‡‡Then the Rabshakeh stood and called out in a loud voice in the language of Judah: “Hear the word of the great king, the king of Assyria! <sup>29</sup>Thus says the king: ‘Do not let Hezekiah deceive you, for he will not be able to deliver you out of my [3] hand. <sup>30</sup>Do not let Hezekiah make you trust in the LORD by saying, The LORD will surely deliver us, and this city will not be given into the hand of the king of Assyria.’ <sup>31</sup>Do not listen to Hezekiah, for thus says the king of Assyria:

‘Make your peace with me [4] and come out to me. Then each one of you will eat of his own vine, and each one of his own fig tree, and each one of you will drink the water of his own cistern, <sup>32</sup>‡‡until I come and take you away to a land like your own land, a land of grain and wine, a land of bread and vineyards, a land of olive trees and honey, that you may live, and not die. And do not listen to Hezekiah when he misleads you by saying, The LORD will deliver us. <sup>33</sup>Has any of the gods of the nations ever delivered his land out of the hand of the king of Assyria? <sup>34</sup>Where are the gods of Hamath and Arpad? Where are the gods of Sepharvaim, Hena, and Ivvah? Have they delivered Samaria out of my hand? <sup>35</sup>Who among all the gods of the lands have delivered their lands out of my hand, that the LORD should deliver Jerusalem out of my hand?’”

<sup>36</sup>‡‡But the people were silent and answered him not a word, for the king's command was, “Do not answer him.” <sup>37</sup>‡‡Then Eliakim the son of Hilkiah, who was over the household, and Shebna the secretary, and Joah the son of Asaph, the recorder, came to Hezekiah with their clothes torn and told him the words of the Rabshakeh.

Isaiah Reassures Hezekiah

2 KINGS 19 †As soon as King Hezekiah heard it, he tore his clothes and covered himself with sackcloth and went into the house of the LORD. †And he sent Eliakim, who was over the household, and Shebna the secretary, and the senior priests, covered with sackcloth, to the prophet Isaiah the son of Amoz. †They said to him, “Thus says Hezekiah, This day is a day of distress, of rebuke, and of disgrace; children have come to the point of birth, and there is no strength to bring them forth. †It may be that the LORD your God heard all the words of the Rabshakeh, whom his master the king of Assyria has sent to mock the living God, and will rebuke the words that the LORD your God has heard; therefore lift up your prayer for the remnant that is left.” †When the servants of King Hezekiah came to Isaiah, †Isaiah said to them, “Say to your master, ‘Thus says the LORD: Do not be afraid because of the words that you have heard, with which the servants of the king of Assyria have reviled me. †Behold, I will put a spirit in him, so that he shall hear a rumor and return to his own land, and I will make him fall by the sword in his own land.’”

Sennacherib Defies the LORD

†The Rabshakeh returned, and found the king of Assyria fighting against Libnah, for he heard that the king had left Lachish. ††Now the king heard concerning Tirhakah king of Cush, “Behold, he has set out to fight against you.” So he sent messengers again to Hezekiah, saying, †“Thus shall you speak to Hezekiah king of Judah: ‘Do not let your God in whom you trust deceive you by promising that Jerusalem will not be given into the hand of the king of Assyria. †Behold, you have heard what the kings of Assyria have done to all lands, devoting them to destruction. And shall you be delivered? †Have the gods of the nations delivered them, the nations that my fathers destroyed, Gozan, Haran, Rezeph, and the people of Eden who were in Telassar? †Where is the king of Hamath, the king of Arpad, the king of the city of Sepharvaim, the king of Hena, or the king of Ivvah?’”

Hezekiah's Prayer

†Hezekiah received the letter from the hand of the messengers and read it; and Hezekiah went up to the house of the LORD and spread it before the LORD. †And Hezekiah prayed before the LORD and said: “O LORD, the God of Israel, enthroned above the cherubim, you are the God, you alone, of all the kingdoms of the earth; you have made heaven and earth. <sup>16</sup>‡Incline your ear, O LORD, and hear; open your eyes, O LORD, and see; and hear the words of Sennacherib, which he has sent to mock the living God. <sup>17</sup>‡Truly, O LORD, the kings of Assyria have laid waste the nations and their lands <sup>18</sup>and have cast their gods into the fire, for they were not gods, but the work of men's hands, wood and stone. Therefore they were destroyed. <sup>19</sup>‡So now, O LORD our God, save us, please, from his hand, that all the kingdoms of the earth may know that you, O LORD, are God alone.”

Isaiah Prophecies Sennacherib's Fall

<sup>20</sup>‡Then Isaiah the son of Amoz sent to Hezekiah, saying, “Thus says the LORD, the God of Israel: Your prayer to me about Sennacherib king of Assyria I have heard. <sup>21</sup>‡This is the word that the LORD has spoken concerning him: “She despises you, she scorns you—the virgin daughter of Zion;

she wags her head behind you—the daughter of Jerusalem.

<sup>22</sup>‡“Whom have you mocked and reviled?
Against whom have you raised your voice and lifted your eyes to the heights?

Against the Holy One of Israel!

<sup>23</sup>‡By your messengers you have mocked the Lord, and you have said,
‘With my many chariots I have gone up the heights of the mountains, to the far recesses of Lebanon; I felled its tallest cedars,
its choicest cypresses;

I entered its farthest lodging place, its most fruitful forest.

<sup>24</sup>I dug wells and drank foreign waters, and I dried up with the sole of my foot all the streams of Egypt.’

<sup>25</sup>‡“Have you not heard that I determined it long ago?

I planned from days of old

what now I bring to pass, that you should turn fortified cities into heaps of ruins,

<sup>26</sup>while their inhabitants, shorn of strength, are dismayed and confounded, and have become like plants of the field and like tender grass, like grass on the housetops, blighted before it is grown.

<sup>27</sup>“But I know your sitting down and your going out and coming in, and your raging against me.

<sup>28</sup>Because you have raged against me and your complacency has come into my ears, I will put my hook in your nose and my bit in your mouth, and I will turn you back on the way by which you came.

<sup>29</sup>†“And this shall be the sign for you: this year eat what grows of itself, and in the second year what springs of the same. Then in the third year sow and reap and plant vineyards, and eat their fruit. <sup>30</sup>†And the surviving remnant of the house of Judah shall again take root downward and bear fruit upward. <sup>31</sup>†For out of Jerusalem shall go a remnant, and out of Mount Zion a band of survivors. The zeal of the LORD will do this.

<sup>32</sup>†“Therefore thus says the LORD concerning the king of Assyria: He shall not come into this city or shoot an arrow there, or come before it with a shield or cast up a siege mound against it. <sup>33</sup>†By the way that he came, by the same he shall return, and he shall not come into this city, declares the LORD. <sup>34</sup>†For I will defend this city to save it, for my own sake and for the sake of my servant David.”

<sup>35</sup>††And that night the angel of the LORD went out and struck down 185,000 in the camp of the Assyrians. And when people arose early in the morning, behold, these were all dead bodies. <sup>36</sup>Then Sennacherib king of Assyria departed and went home and lived at Nineveh. <sup>37</sup>And as he was worshiping in the house of Nisroch his god, Adrammelech and Sharezer, his sons, struck him down with the sword and escaped into the land of Ararat. And Esarhaddon his son reigned in his place.

Hezekiah's Illness and Recovery

2 KINGS 20 †In those days Hezekiah became sick and was at the point of death. And Isaiah the prophet the son of Amoz came to him and said to him, “Thus says the LORD, ‘Set your house in order, for you shall die; you shall not recover.’” <sup>2</sup>†Then Hezekiah turned his face to the wall and prayed to the LORD, saying, <sup>3</sup>†“Now, O LORD, please remember how I have walked before you in faithfulness and with a whole heart, and have done what is good in your sight.” And Hezekiah wept bitterly. <sup>4</sup>And before Isaiah had gone out of the middle court, the word of the LORD came to him: <sup>5</sup>“Turn back, and say to Hezekiah the leader of my people, Thus says the LORD, the God of David your father: I have heard your prayer; I have seen your tears. Behold, I will heal you. On the third day you shall go up to the house of the LORD, <sup>6</sup>†and I will add fifteen years to your life. I will deliver you and this city out of the hand of the king of Assyria, and I will defend this city for my own sake and for my servant David's sake.” <sup>7</sup>And Isaiah said, “Bring a cake of figs. And let them take and lay it on the boil, that he may recover.”

<sup>8</sup>†And Hezekiah said to Isaiah, “What shall be the sign that the LORD will heal me, and that I shall go up to the house of the LORD on the third day?” <sup>9</sup>And Isaiah said, “This shall be the sign to you from the LORD, that the LORD will do the thing that he has promised: shall the shadow go forward ten steps, or go back ten steps?” <sup>10</sup>And Hezekiah answered, “It is an easy thing for the shadow to lengthen ten steps. Rather let the shadow go back ten steps.” <sup>11</sup>And Isaiah the prophet called to the LORD, and he brought the shadow back ten steps, by which it had gone down on the steps of Ahaz.

Hezekiah and the Babylonian Envoys

<sup>12</sup>†At that time Merodach-baladan the son of Baladan, king of Babylon, sent envoys with letters and a present to Hezekiah, for he heard that Hezekiah had been sick. <sup>13</sup>††And Hezekiah welcomed them, and he showed them all his treasure house, the silver, the gold, the spices, the precious oil, his armory, all that was found in his storehouses. There was nothing in his house or in all his realm that Hezekiah did not show them. <sup>14</sup>Then Isaiah the prophet came to King Hezekiah, and said to him, “What did these men say? And from where did they come to you?” And Hezekiah said, “They have come from a far country, from Babylon.” <sup>15</sup>He said, “What have they seen in your house?” And Hezekiah answered, “They have seen all that is in my house; there is nothing in my storehouses that I did not show them.”

<sup>16</sup>‡Then Isaiah said to Hezekiah, “Hear the word of the LORD: <sup>17</sup>‡Behold, the days are coming, when all that is in your house, and that which your fathers have stored up till this day, shall be carried to Babylon. Nothing shall be left, says the LORD. <sup>18</sup>‡And some of your own sons, who shall be born to you, shall be taken away, and they shall be eunuchs in the palace of the king of Babylon.” <sup>19</sup>‡Then said Hezekiah to Isaiah, “The word of the LORD that you have spoken is good.” For he thought, “Why not, if there will be peace and security in my days?”

<sup>20</sup>‡The rest of the deeds of Hezekiah and all his might and how he made the pool and the conduit and brought water into the city, are they not written in the Book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Judah? <sup>21</sup>And Hezekiah slept with his fathers, and Manasseh his son reigned in his place.

Manasseh Reigns in Judah

2 KINGS 21 †Manasseh was twelve years old when he began to reign, and he reigned fifty-five years in Jerusalem. His mother's name was Hephzibah. <sup>2</sup>†And he did what was evil in the sight of the LORD, according to the despicable practices of the nations whom the LORD drove out before the people of Israel. <sup>3</sup>†For he rebuilt the high places that Hezekiah his father had destroyed, and he erected altars for Baal and made an Asherah, as Ahab king of Israel had done, and worshiped all the host of heaven and served them. <sup>4</sup>†And he built altars in the house of the LORD, of which the LORD had said, “In Jerusalem will I put my name.” <sup>5</sup>And he built altars for all the host of heaven in the two courts of the house of the LORD. <sup>6</sup>†And he burned his son as an offering [1] and used fortune-telling and omens and dealt with mediums and with necromancers. He did much evil in the sight of the LORD, provoking him to anger. <sup>7</sup>†And the carved image of Asherah that he had made he set in the house of which the LORD said to David and to Solomon his son, “In this house, and in Jerusalem, which I have chosen out of all the tribes of Israel, I will put my name forever. <sup>8</sup>†And I will not cause the feet of Israel to wander anymore out of the land that I gave to their fathers, if only they will be careful to do according to all that I have commanded them, and according to all the Law that my servant Moses commanded them.” <sup>9</sup>But they did not listen, and Manasseh led them astray to do more evil than the nations had done whom the LORD destroyed before the people of Israel.

Manasseh's Idolatry Denounced

<sup>10</sup>†And the LORD said by his servants the prophets, <sup>11</sup>†“Because Manasseh king of Judah has committed these abominations and has done things more evil than all that the Amorites did, who were before him, and has made Judah also to sin with his idols, <sup>12</sup>therefore thus says the LORD, the God of Israel: Behold, I am bringing upon Jerusalem and Judah such disaster [2] that the ears of everyone who hears of it will tingle. <sup>13</sup>†And I will stretch over Jerusalem the measuring line of Samaria, and the plumb line of the house of Ahab, and I will wipe Jerusalem as one wipes a dish, wiping it and turning it upside down. <sup>14</sup>†And I will forsake the remnant of my heritage and give them into the hand of their enemies, and they shall become a prey and a spoil to all their enemies, <sup>15</sup>†because they have done what is evil in my sight and have provoked me to anger, since the day their fathers came out of Egypt, even to this day.”

<sup>16</sup>‡Moreover, Manasseh shed very much innocent blood, till he had filled Jerusalem from one end to another, besides the sin that he made Judah to sin so that they did what was evil in the sight of the LORD.

<sup>17</sup>Now the rest of the acts of Manasseh and all that he did, and the sin that he committed, are they not written in the Book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Judah? <sup>18</sup>And Manasseh slept with his fathers and was buried in the garden of his house, in the garden of Uzza, and Amon his son reigned in his place.

Amon Reigns in Judah

<sup>19</sup>‡Amon was twenty-two years old when he began to reign, and he reigned two years in Jerusalem. His mother's name was Meshullemeth the daughter of Haruz of Jotbah. <sup>20</sup>And he did what was evil in the sight of the LORD, as Manasseh his father had done. <sup>21</sup>He walked in all the way in which his father walked and served the idols that his father served and worshiped them. <sup>22</sup>He abandoned the LORD, the God of his fathers, and did not walk in the way of the LORD. <sup>23</sup>And the servants of Amon conspired against him and put the king to death in his house. <sup>24</sup>‡But the people of the land struck down all those who had conspired against King Amon, and the people of the land made Josiah his son king in his place. <sup>25</sup>Now the rest of the acts of Amon that he did, are they not written in the Book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Judah? <sup>26</sup>And he was buried in his tomb in the garden of Uzza, and Josiah his son reigned in his place.

Josiah Reigns in Judah

2 KINGS 22 †Josiah was eight years old when he began to reign, and he reigned thirty-one years in Jerusalem. His mother's name was Jedidah the daughter of Adaiah of Bozkath. <sup>2</sup>†And he did what was right in the eyes of the LORD and walked in all the way of David his father, and he did not turn aside to the right or to the left.

Josiah Repairs the Temple

<sup>3</sup>†In the eighteenth year of King Josiah, the king sent Shaphan the son of Azaliah, son of Meshullam, the secretary, to the house of the LORD, saying, <sup>4</sup>††“Go up to Hilkiah the high priest, that he may count the money that has been brought into the house of the LORD, which the keepers of the threshold have collected from the people. <sup>5</sup>And let it be given into the hand of the workmen who have the oversight of the house of the LORD, and let them give it to the workmen who are at the house of the LORD, repairing the house <sup>6</sup>(that is, to the carpenters, and to the builders, and to the masons), and let them use it for buying timber and quarried stone to repair the house. <sup>7</sup>But no accounting shall be asked from them for the money that is delivered into their hand, for they deal honestly.”

Hilkiah Finds the Book of the Law

<sup>8</sup>†And Hilkiah the high priest said to Shaphan the secretary, “I have found the Book of the Law in the house of the LORD.” And Hilkiah gave the book to Shaphan, and he read it. <sup>9</sup>†And Shaphan the secretary came to the king, and reported to the king, “Your servants have emptied out the money that was found in the house and have delivered it into the hand of the workmen who have the oversight of the house of the LORD.” <sup>10</sup>Then Shaphan the secretary told the king, “Hilkiah the priest has given me a book.” And Shaphan read it before the king.

<sup>11</sup>†When the king heard the words of the Book of the Law, he tore his clothes. <sup>12</sup>And the king commanded Hilkiah the priest, and Ahikam the son of Shaphan, and Achbor the son of Micaiah, and Shaphan the secretary, and Asaiah the king's servant, saying, <sup>13</sup>“Go, inquire of the LORD for me, and for the people, and for all Judah, concerning the words of this book that has been found. For great is the wrath of the LORD that is kindled against us, because our fathers have not obeyed the words of this book, to do according to all that is written concerning us.”

<sup>14</sup>‡ So Hilkiah the priest, and Ahikam, and Achbor, and Shaphan, and Asaiah went to Huldah the prophetess, the wife of Shallum the son of Tikvah, son of Harhas, keeper of the wardrobe (now she lived in Jerusalem in the Second Quarter), and they talked with her. <sup>15</sup>‡ And she said to them, “Thus says the LORD, the God of Israel: ‘Tell the man who sent you to me, <sup>16</sup>Thus says the LORD, Behold, I will bring disaster upon this place and upon its inhabitants, all the words of the book that the king of Judah has read. <sup>17</sup>Because they have forsaken me and have made offerings to other gods, that they might provoke me to anger with all the work of their hands, therefore my wrath will be kindled against this place, and it will not be quenched. <sup>18</sup>But to the king of Judah, who sent you to inquire of the LORD, thus shall you say to him, Thus says the LORD, the God of Israel: Regarding the words that you have heard, <sup>19</sup>because your heart was penitent, and you humbled yourself before the LORD, when you heard how I spoke against this place and against its inhabitants, that they should become a desolation and a curse, and you have torn your clothes and wept before me, I also have heard you, declares the LORD. <sup>20</sup>‡ Therefore, behold, I will gather you to your fathers, and you shall be gathered to your grave in peace, and your eyes shall not see all the disaster that I will bring upon this place.’” And they brought back word to the king.

Josiah's Reforms

2 KINGS 23 Then the king sent, and all the elders of Judah and Jerusalem were gathered to him. <sup>2</sup>† And the king went up to the house of the LORD, and with him all the men of Judah and all the inhabitants of Jerusalem and the priests and the prophets, all the people, both small and great. And he read in their hearing all the words of the Book of the Covenant that had been found in the house of the LORD. <sup>3</sup>† And the king stood by the pillar and made a covenant before the LORD, to walk after the LORD and to keep his commandments and his testimonies and his statutes with all his heart and all his soul, to perform the words of this covenant that were written in this book. And all the people joined in the covenant.

<sup>4</sup>† And the king commanded Hilkiah the high priest and the priests of the second order and the keepers of the threshold to bring out of the temple of the LORD all the vessels made for Baal, for Asherah, and for all the host of heaven. He burned them outside Jerusalem in the fields of the Kidron and carried their ashes to Bethel. <sup>5</sup>† And he deposed the priests whom the kings of Judah had ordained to make offerings in the high places at the cities of Judah and around Jerusalem; those also who burned incense to Baal, to the sun and the moon and the constellations and all the host of the heavens. <sup>6</sup>† And he brought out the Asherah from the house of the LORD, outside Jerusalem, to the brook Kidron, and burned it at the brook Kidron and beat it to dust and cast the dust of it upon the graves of the common people. <sup>7</sup>† And he broke down the houses of the male cult prostitutes who were in the house of the LORD, where the women wove hangings for the Asherah. <sup>8</sup>† And he brought all the priests out of the cities of Judah, and defiled the high places where the priests had made offerings, from Geba to Beersheba. And he broke down the high places of the gates that were at the entrance of the gate of Joshua the governor of the city, which were on one's left at the gate of the city. <sup>9</sup> However, the priests of the high places did not come up to the altar of the LORD in Jerusalem, but they ate unleavened bread among their brothers. <sup>10</sup>† And he defiled Topheth, which is in the Valley of the Son of Hinnom, that no one might burn his son or his daughter as an offering to Molech. [\[1\]](#) <sup>11</sup>† And he removed the horses that the kings of Judah had dedicated to the sun, at the entrance to the house of the LORD, by the chamber of Nathan-melech the chamberlain, which was in the precincts. [\[2\]](#) And he burned the chariots of the sun with fire. <sup>12</sup>† And the altars on the roof of the upper chamber of Ahaz, which the kings of Judah had made, and the altars that Manasseh had made in the two courts of the house of the LORD, he pulled down and broke in pieces [3] and cast the dust of them into the brook Kidron. <sup>13</sup>† And the king defiled the high places that were east of Jerusalem, to the south of the mount of corruption, which Solomon the king of Israel had built for Ashtoreth the abomination of the Sidonians, and for Chemosh the abomination of Moab, and for Milcom the abomination of the Ammonites. <sup>14</sup> And he broke in pieces the pillars and cut down the Asherim and filled their places with the bones of men.

<sup>15</sup>† Moreover, the altar at Bethel, the high place erected by Jeroboam the son of Nebat, who made Israel to sin, that altar with the high place he pulled down and burned, [4] reducing it to dust. He also burned the Asherah. <sup>16</sup>† And as Josiah turned, he saw the tombs there on the mount. And he sent and took the bones out of the tombs and burned them on the altar and defiled it, according to the word of the LORD that the man of God proclaimed, who had predicted these things. <sup>17</sup>† Then he said, “What is that monument that I see?” And the men of the city told him, “It is the tomb of the man of God who came from Judah and predicted [5] these things that you have done against the altar at Bethel.” <sup>18</sup>† And he said, “Let him be; let no man move his bones.” So they let his bones alone, with the bones of the prophet who came out of Samaria. <sup>19</sup>† And Josiah removed all the shrines also of the high places that were in the cities of Samaria, which kings of Israel had made, provoking the LORD to anger. He did to them according to all that he had done at Bethel. <sup>20</sup>† And he sacrificed all the priests of the high places who were there, on the altars, and burned human bones on them. Then he returned to Jerusalem.

Josiah Restores the Passover

<sup>21</sup>† And the king commanded all the people, “Keep the Passover to the LORD your God, as it is written in this Book of the Covenant.” <sup>22</sup> For no such Passover had been kept since the days of the judges who judged Israel, or during all the days of the kings of Israel or of the kings of Judah. <sup>23</sup>† But in the eighteenth year of King Josiah this Passover was kept to the LORD in Jerusalem.

<sup>24</sup>† Moreover, Josiah put away the mediums and the necromancers and the household gods and the idols and all the abominations that were seen in the land of Judah and in Jerusalem, that he might establish the words of the law that were written in the book that Hilkiah the priest found in the house of the LORD.

<sup>25</sup>† Before him there was no king like him, who turned to the LORD with all his heart and with all his soul and with all his might, according to all the Law of Moses, nor did any like him arise after him.

<sup>26</sup>Still the LORD did not turn from the burning of his great wrath, by which his anger was kindled against Judah, because of all the provocations with which Manasseh had provoked him. <sup>27</sup>And the LORD said, “I will remove Judah also out of my sight, as I have removed Israel, and I will cast off this city that I have chosen, Jerusalem, and the house of which I said, My name shall be there.”

Josiah's Death in Battle

<sup>28</sup>Now the rest of the acts of Josiah and all that he did, are they not written in the Book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Judah? <sup>29</sup>†In his days Pharaoh Neco king of Egypt went up to the king of Assyria to the river Euphrates. King Josiah went to meet him, and Pharaoh Neco killed him at Megiddo, as soon as he saw him. <sup>30</sup>And his servants carried him dead in a chariot from Megiddo and brought him to Jerusalem and buried him in his own tomb. And the people of the land took Jehoahaz the son of Josiah, and anointed him, and made him king in his father's place.

Jehoahaz's Reign and Captivity

<sup>31</sup>†Jehoahaz was twenty-three years old when he began to reign, and he reigned three months in Jerusalem. His mother's name was Hamutal the daughter of Jeremiah of Libnah. <sup>32</sup>And he did what was evil in the sight of the LORD, according to all that his fathers had done. <sup>33</sup>†And Pharaoh Neco put him in bonds at Riblah in the land of Hamath, that he might not reign in Jerusalem, and laid on the land a tribute of a hundred talents [6] of silver and a talent of gold. <sup>34</sup>†And Pharaoh Neco made Eliakim the son of Josiah king in the place of Josiah his father, and changed his name to Jehoiakim. But he took Jehoahaz away, and he came to Egypt and died there. <sup>35</sup>†And Jehoiakim gave the silver and the gold to Pharaoh, but he taxed the land to give the money according to the command of Pharaoh. He exacted the silver and the gold of the people of the land, from everyone according to his assessment, to give it to Pharaoh Neco.

Jehoiakim Reigns in Judah

<sup>36</sup>†Jehoiakim was twenty-five years old when he began to reign, and he reigned eleven years in Jerusalem. His mother's name was Zebidah the daughter of Pedaiiah of Rumah. <sup>37</sup>And he did what was evil in the sight of the LORD, according to all that his fathers had done.

2 KINGS 24 †In his days, Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon came up, and Jehoiakim became his servant three years. Then he turned and rebelled against him. 2†And the LORD sent against him bands of the Chaldeans and bands of the Syrians and bands of the Moabites and bands of the Ammonites, and sent them against Judah to destroy it, according to the word of the LORD that he spoke by his servants the prophets. 3Surely this came upon Judah at the command of the LORD, to remove them out of his sight, for the sins of Manasseh, according to all that he had done, 4†and also for the innocent blood that he had shed. For he filled Jerusalem with innocent blood, and the LORD would not pardon. 5Now the rest of the deeds of Jehoiakim and all that he did, are they not written in the Book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Judah? 6So Jehoiakim slept with his fathers, and Jehoiachin his son reigned in his place. 7†And the king of Egypt did not come again out of his land, for the king of Babylon had taken all that belonged to the king of Egypt from the Brook of Egypt to the river Euphrates.

Jehoiachin Reigns in Judah

8†Jehoiachin was eighteen years old when he became king, and he reigned three months in Jerusalem. His mother's name was Nehushta the daughter of Elnathan of Jerusalem. 9And he did what was evil in the sight of the LORD, according to all that his father had done.

Jerusalem Captured

10†At that time the servants of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon came up to Jerusalem, and the city was besieged. 11And Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon came to the city while his servants were besieging it, 12†and Jehoiachin the king of Judah gave himself up to the king of Babylon, himself and his mother and his servants and his officials and his palace officials. The king of Babylon took him prisoner in the eighth year of his reign 13†and carried off all the treasures of the house of the LORD and the treasures of the king's house, and cut in pieces all the vessels of gold in the temple of the LORD, which Solomon king of Israel had made, as the LORD had foretold. 14†He carried away all Jerusalem and all the officials and all the mighty men of valor, 10,000 captives, and all the craftsmen and the smiths. None remained, except the poorest people of the land. 15And he carried away Jehoiachin to Babylon. The king's mother, the king's wives, his officials, and the chief men of the land he took into captivity from Jerusalem to Babylon. 16And the king of Babylon brought captive to Babylon all the men of valor, 7,000, and the craftsmen and the metal workers, 1,000, all of them strong and fit for war. <sup>17</sup>† And the king of Babylon made Mattaniah, Jehoiachin's uncle, king in his place, and changed his name to Zedekiah.

Zedekiah Reigns in Judah

<sup>18</sup>† Zedekiah was twenty-one years old when he became king, and he reigned eleven years in Jerusalem. His mother's name was Hamutal the daughter of Jeremiah of Libnah. <sup>19</sup> And he did what was evil in the sight of the LORD, according to all that Jehoiakim had done. <sup>20</sup>† For because of the anger of the LORD it came to the point in Jerusalem and Judah that he cast them out from his presence.

And Zedekiah rebelled against the king of Babylon.

Fall and Captivity of Judah

2 KINGS 25 †And in the ninth year of his reign, in the tenth month, on the tenth day of the month, Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon came with all his army against Jerusalem and laid siege to it. And they built siegeworks all around it. <sup>2</sup>†So the city was besieged till the eleventh year of King Zedekiah. <sup>3</sup>†On the ninth day of the fourth month the famine was so severe in the city that there was no food for the people of the land. <sup>4</sup>†Then a breach was made in the city, and all the men of war fled by night by the way of the gate between the two walls, by the king's garden, though the Chaldeans were around the city. And they went in the direction of the Arabah. <sup>5</sup>†But the army of the Chaldeans pursued the king and overtook him in the plains of Jericho, and all his army was scattered from him. <sup>6</sup>†Then they captured the king and brought him up to the king of Babylon at Riblah, and they passed sentence on him. <sup>7</sup>They slaughtered the sons of Zedekiah before his eyes, and put out the eyes of Zedekiah and bound him in chains and took him to Babylon.

<sup>8</sup>†In the fifth month, on the seventh day of the month—that was the nineteenth year of King Nebuchadnezzar, king of Babylon—Nebuzaradan, the captain of the bodyguard, a servant of the king of Babylon, came to Jerusalem. <sup>9</sup>†And he burned the house of the LORD and the king's house and all the houses of Jerusalem; every great house he burned down. <sup>10</sup>†And all the army of the Chaldeans, who were with the captain of the guard, broke down the walls around Jerusalem. <sup>11</sup>†And the rest of the people who were left in the city and the deserters who had deserted to the king of Babylon, together with the rest of the multitude, Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard carried into exile. <sup>12</sup>But the captain of the guard left some of the poorest of the land to be vinedressers and plowmen.

<sup>13</sup>†And the pillars of bronze that were in the house of the LORD, and the stands and the bronze sea that were in the house of the LORD, the Chaldeans broke in pieces and carried the bronze to Babylon. <sup>14</sup>And they took away the pots and the shovels and the snuffers and the dishes for incense and all the vessels of bronze used in the temple service, <sup>15</sup>the fire pans also and the bowls. What was of gold the captain of the guard took away as gold, and what was of silver, as silver. <sup>16</sup>As for the two pillars, the one sea, and the stands that Solomon had made for the house of the LORD, the bronze of all these vessels was beyond weight. <sup>17</sup>†The height of the one pillar was eighteen cubits, [1] and on it was a capital of bronze.

The height of the capital was three cubits. A latticework and pomegranates, all of bronze, were all around the capital. And the second pillar had the same, with the latticework.

<sup>18</sup>†† And the captain of the guard took Seraiah the chief priest and Zephaniah the second priest and the three keepers of the threshold, <sup>19</sup>and from the city he took an officer who had been in command of the men of war, and five men of the king's council who were found in the city, and the secretary of the commander of the army who mustered the people of the land, and sixty men of the people of the land who were found in the city. <sup>20</sup>And Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard took them and brought them to the king of Babylon at Riblah. <sup>21</sup>†† And the king of Babylon struck them down and put them to death at Riblah in the land of Hamath. So Judah was taken into exile out of its land.

Gedaliah Made Governor of Judah

<sup>22</sup>†† And over the people who remained in the land of Judah, whom Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon had left, he appointed Gedaliah the son of Ahikam, son of Shaphan, governor. <sup>23</sup>†† Now when all the captains and their men heard that the king of Babylon had appointed Gedaliah governor, they came with their men to Gedaliah at Mizpah, namely, Ishmael the son of Nethaniah, and Johanan the son of Kareah, and Seraiah the son of Tanhumeth the Netophathite, and Jaazaniah the son of the Maacathite. <sup>24</sup>†† And Gedaliah swore to them and their men, saying, “Do not be afraid because of the Chaldean officials. Live in the land and serve the king of Babylon, and it shall be well with you.” <sup>25</sup>†† But in the seventh month, Ishmael the son of Nethaniah, son of Elishama, of the royal family, came with ten men and struck down Gedaliah and put him to death along with the Jews and the Chaldeans who were with him at Mizpah. <sup>26</sup>†† Then all the people, both small and great, and the captains of the forces arose and went to Egypt, for they were afraid of the Chaldeans.

Jehoiachin Released from Prison

<sup>27</sup>†† And in the thirty-seventh year of the exile of Jehoiachin king of Judah, in the twelfth month, on the twenty-seventh day of the month, Evil-merodach king of Babylon, in the year that he began to reign, graciously freed [2] Jehoiachin king of Judah from prison. <sup>28</sup>†† And he spoke kindly to him and gave him a seat above the seats of the kings who were with him in Babylon. <sup>29</sup>So Jehoiachin put off his prison garments. And every day of his life he dined regularly at the king's table, <sup>30</sup>and for his allowance, a regular allowance was given him by the king, according to his daily needs, as long as he lived.

Study Notes

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 1:1 Moab rebelled. See note on Gen. 19:37–38; Introduction to Ruth: Background and Setting; cf. 2 Kings 3:4–27.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 1:2 Ahaziah. This king of the northern kingdom of Israel is not to be confused with Ahaziah of Judah (8:25–9:29). lattice in his upper chamber. Ahaziah's rooftop room was enclosed with crossbars of interwoven reed or wood strips, which shut out direct sunlight while letting in cool breezes. It was not sturdy enough to keep Ahaziah from falling to the ground below (for unexplained reasons). This took place c. 852 B.C. Baal-zebul. This was a local expression of the Baal cult at Ekron (see note on 1 Kings 16:31–32). Baal-zebul meant “lord of the flies,” suggesting that he was the storm god who controlled diseases brought by flies. On the other hand, the name may have been the sarcastic Israelite parody of Baal-zebul, meaning “prince Baal” or “exalted lord,” a common title for Baal in extrabiblical Canaanite texts. The NT preserved the name in the form Beelzebul, a name for Satan, the prince of the demons (Matt. 10:25; 12:24; Mark 3:22; Luke 11:15). Ekron. The northernmost of the major Philistine cities, located about 22 miles west of Jerusalem (see note on 1 Sam. 5:10).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 1:3 the angel of the Lord. Although some interpret this as a reference to the preincarnate Christ (e.g., Gen. 16:7–14; Judg. 2:1–4; see note on Ex. 3:2), probably here the reference is to an angelic messenger, like the one sent earlier by the Lord to Elijah (cf. 2 Kings 19:35; 1 Kings 19:7). The Lord's messenger was in contrast to the messengers of the wicked king (2 Kings 1:2–3, 5). Elijah. The record of this unusual prophet to Israel begins in 1 Kings 17:1 and extends to 2 Kings 2:11 (see note on 1 Kings 17:1).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 1:4 you shall surely die. The Lord's punishment on Ahaziah for consulting a false god instead of the true God was that he would fail to recover from his injuries. This was a merciful application of the Mosaic law (cf. Ex. 22:20), which demanded death. Cf. 2 Kings 1:16–17.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 1:8 a garment of hair. Lit., “possessor of hair.” This has been interpreted in two ways: 1) Elijah was physically hairy; or 2) Elijah wore a garment made of hair. The language supports the second viewpoint that Elijah wore a coarse wool garment girded at the waist with a leather belt. Zechariah 13:4 describes such a garment as belonging to prophets (cf. Matt. 7:15). Further, the NT describes John the Baptist, who came in the spirit and likeness of Elijah, as clothed in camel's hair (Matt. 3:4).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 1:9 O man of God. A technical title for a man who spoke for God. See notes on Deut. 33:1; 1 Kings 12:22; 1 Tim. 6:11.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 1:10–12 fire come down from heaven. This was the proof that Elijah was a prophet of the Lord and entitled to respect. Additionally, it was an indication that Elijah was like Moses, who also was validated as the Lord's prophet by fire from heaven (Num. 16:35).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 1:15 angel of the Lord. See note on 1:3.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 1:16 Baal-zebub. See note on 1:2.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 1:17 Jehoram . . . Jehoram. The first Jehoram mentioned here was, like Ahaziah (1 Kings 22:51), a son of Ahab (2 Kings 3:1), who ruled over the northern kingdom of Israel for 12 years, c. 852–841 B.C. (see note on 3:1). The second Jehoram mentioned was the son and successor to Jehoshaphat, who ruled in the southern kingdom of Judah, c. 853–841 B.C. (cf. 8:16–24). second year. C. 852 B.C. This was the second year of Jehoram of Judah's co-regency with Jehoshaphat his father (see notes on 3:1; 8:17; 2 Chron. 21:4–20).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 2:1 by a whirlwind. Lit., “in the whirlwind.” This was a reference to the specific storm with lightning and thunder in which Elijah was taken to heaven (v. 11). The Lord's presence was connected with a whirlwind in Job 38:1; 40:6; Jer. 23:19; 25:32; 30:23; Zech. 9:14. Elisha. The record of this prophet, who was the successor to Elijah, begins in 1 Kings 19:16 and extends to his death in 2 Kings 13:20 (see note on 1 Kings 19:16). Gilgal. Although some take this to be the Gilgal located west of the Jordan River near Jericho (cf. Josh. 4:19; 5:9), the close affinity to Bethel (2 Kings 2:2) and its distance from Jericho (v. 4) seem to indicate that the Gilgal mentioned here was located in the hill country of Ephraim about 7 miles north of Bethel.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 2:2 Bethel. A town in Benjamin about 8 miles north of Jerusalem, where one of Israel's false worship centers was located (see note on 1 Kings 12:29).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 2:3 the sons of the prophets. See note on 1 Kings 20:35. take away. The same term was used of Enoch’s translation to heaven in Gen. 5:24. The question from the sons of the prophets implied that the Lord had revealed Elijah’s imminent departure to them. Elisha’s response that he didn’t need to hear about it (“keep quiet”) explicitly stated that Elijah’s departure had been revealed by the Lord to him also (cf. v. 5). from over you. I.e., from supervising you, an allusion to the habit of students sitting beneath the feet of their master, elevated on a platform. Elisha would soon change from being Elijah’s assistant to serving as the leader among the prophets.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 2:4 Jericho. A city about 14 miles southeast of Bethel in the Jordan River Valley (cf. Josh. 2:1; 6:1), to which Elisha accompanied Elijah (cf. 2 Kings 2:6).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 2:8 water was parted. Elijah rolled up his cloak into a kind of rod and struck the water of the Jordan River. Immediately, the water parted, leaving a dry path through the river bed for the two prophets to cross. Elijah’s act recalled Moses’ parting of the Red Sea with his rod (Ex. 14:21–22) and the parting of the Jordan when Israel crossed over into the land (Josh. 3:14–17). The crossing put Elijah on the Jordan’s east bank, the area where Moses’ life came to an end (Deut. 34:1–6).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 2:9 a double portion. In Israel, the firstborn son inherited a double share of his father’s possessions and with it the right of succession (Deut. 21:17). “A double portion of your spirit” was not merely Elisha’s request to succeed Elijah in his prophetic ministry, since the Lord had already revealed this succession in 1 Kings 19:16–21. Nor was it Elisha’s desire for ministry superior to Elijah’s, though Elisha did, in fact, do twice as many recorded miracles as Elijah. Apparently, Elisha was asking to succeed Elijah in the prophetic office, as God had promised, with spiritual power beyond his own capabilities to meet the responsibilities of his position as Elijah’s successor. He desired that Elijah’s mighty power might continue to live through him.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 2:10 a hard thing. Since only God can give spiritual power, Elijah did not have the ability to grant Elisha’s request. Elijah told Elisha that if Elisha saw his departure, it would be the sign that God himself would grant Elisha’s request.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 2:11 chariots of fire and horses of fire. The horse-drawn chariot was the fastest means of transport and the mightiest means of warfare in that day. Thus, the chariot and horses symbolized God's powerful protection, which was the true safety of Israel (v. 12). As earthly kingdoms are dependent for their defense on such military force as represented by horses and chariots, one single prophet had done more by God's power to preserve his nation than all their military preparations.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 2:12 My father. The sons of the prophet recognized the leader of their company as their spiritual father. This title of respect for a person of authority (Gen. 45:8; Judg. 17:10) was later used for Elisha (2 Kings 6:21; 13:14).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 2:13 the cloak of Elijah. Elijah's cloak (see note on 1:8), picked up by Elisha, authenticated him as Elijah's legitimate spiritual successor.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 2:14 water was parted. Elisha repeated the action of Elijah (v. 8) in using the cloak to immediately part the waters of the Jordan River, allowing Elisha to recross on dry land. This confirmed that Elisha had received from God the same great power as his master, Elijah.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 2:15 bowed to the ground. This action symbolized the submission of the prophets to the preeminence of Elisha as the prophet in Israel.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 2:16 They knew that when souls went into God's presence at death, bodies remained on earth. Out of sensitivity to the body of Elijah, they wanted to retrieve it for appropriate care. Elisha knew Elijah's body would not be left behind, because he had seen his bodily ascension (v. 11) while the others had not, so he said, "You shall not send."

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 2:17 ashamed. In 8:11 and Judg. 3:25, this term was used for the feeling of embarrassment under the unrelenting pressure of their request. But with shame for his own failure to believe what he had seen, Elisha was also embarrassed for the prophets, knowing the futile outcome of their search (2 Kings 2:18). Cf. 1 Kings 18:12.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 2:20–21 bowl . . . salt. Salt purifies water, but the small amount used there could not clean the whole water supply. Rather, the use of salt from a new jar symbolized the cleansing of the waters that God would miraculously do. The healing of Jericho's water, through Elisha, freed the city from Joshua's curse, making it habitable for humans once again (cf. Josh. 6:26; 1

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 2:23 small boys. These were not children, but infidels and idolatrous young men in their late teens or twenties (cf. Gen. 22:12; 37:2; 1 Kings 20:14–15). baldhead. Baldness was regarded as a disgrace (cf. Isa. 3:17, 24). The baldness of Elisha referred to here may be: 1) natural loss of hair; 2) a shaved head denoting his separation to the prophetic office; or more likely, 3) an epithet of scorn and contempt, Elisha not being literally bald. These youths were sarcastically taunting and insulting the Lord’s prophet by telling him to repeat Elijah’s translation (“Go up”).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 2:24 cursed. Because these young people of about 20 years of age or older (the same term is used of Solomon in 1 Kings 3:7) so despised the prophet of the Lord, Elisha called upon the Lord to deal with the rebels as he saw fit. The Lord’s punishment was the mauling of 42 youths by two female bears. The penalty was clearly justified, for to ridicule Elisha was to ridicule the Lord himself. The gravity of the penalty mirrored the gravity of the crime. The appalling judgment was God’s warning to any and all who attempted to interfere with the newly invested prophet’s ministry.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 2:25 Mount Carmel. For the location, see note on 1 Kings 18:19. Elisha associated his prophetic ministry with Elijah’s stand against Baalism. Samaria. The capital city of the northern kingdom, located in central Palestine (cf. 1 Kings 16:24).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 3:1 Jehoram. See note on 1:17. He was Ahaziah’s brother (1 Kings 22:51). eighteenth year. C. 852 B.C. This was Jehoshaphat of Judah’s eighteenth year of rule after the death of his father Asa in 870 B.C. Jehoshaphat was co-regent with Asa from 873–870 B.C. Jehoshaphat’s son Jehoram was co-regent with his father from 853–848 B.C. (see notes on 2 Kings 1:17; 8:17). twelve years. 852–841 B.C.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 3:2 pillar of Baal. This was probably an image of the god Baal that King Ahab had made and placed in the temple he built to Baal (1 Kings 16:32–33). This image was only put in storage, not permanently destroyed, because it reappeared at the end of Jehoram’s reign (2 Kings 10:26–27).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 3:3 Jeroboam. C. 931–910 B.C. See notes on 1 Kings 11:26–14:20 and 2 Chron. 9:29–13:20.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 3:4 Mesha king of Moab. According to the Moabite Stone (discovered at Dihon, Moab, in A.D. 1868 and dated to c. 840–820 B.C.), Moab, which is located east of the Dead Sea between the Arnon River and the Brook Zered, had been Israel’s vassal since Omri (c. 880 B.C.). Moab’s king, Mesha, was a sheep breeder (cf. Amos 1:1) who supplied the king of Israel with lambs and wool. This was Moab’s annual tribute to the Israelite king.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 3:5 Moab rebelled. Mesha used Ahab’s death as an opportunity to cast off the political domination of Israel with its heavy economic burden. Moab’s rebellion took place in 853 B.C. during the reign of Ahaziah (1:1). Jehoram determined to put down Moab’s rebellion upon his accession to Israel’s throne in 852 B.C. He mobilized Israel for war (3:6) and asked Jehoshaphat of Judah to join him in the battle (v. 7).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 3:8 the wilderness of Edom. This was the long and circuitous route by the lower bend of the Dead Sea, the arid land in the great depression south of the sea known as the Arabah, or an area of marshes on Edom’s western side. According to the Moabite Stone (see note on v. 4), Mesha’s army firmly controlled the northern approach into Moab. Therefore, an attack from the south had a much better chance of success. It was the most defenseless position and Mesha could not enlist help from the forces of Edom (v. 9).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 3:11 poured water on the hands. Probably derived from the custom of washing hands before and after meals. The idiom meant that Elisha had personally served Elijah. Jehoshaphat recognized that Elisha was a true prophet of the Lord (v. 12).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 3:13 What have I to do with you? A Hebrew idiom that expressed the completely different perspective of two individuals (cf. 2 Sam. 16:10). Elisha sarcastically ordered Jehoram to consult the prophets of his father Ahab, prophets of the northern kingdom’s deviant religion (1 Kings 22:6, 10–12), and the prophets of his mother Jezebel, the prophets of Baal and Asherah (1 Kings 18:19).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 3:14 regard for Jehoshaphat. Elisha agreed to seek word from the Lord because of his great respect for Jehoshaphat, the king of Judah, who did what was right in the eyes of the Lord (1 Kings 22:43).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 3:15 a musician. The music was used to accompany praise and prayer, which calmed the mind of the prophet that he might clearly hear the word of the Lord. Music often accompanied prophecies in the OT (cf. 1 Chron. 25:1).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 3:16 this dry streambed. Probably the northeast area of the Arabah, west of the highlands of Moab and southeast of the Dead Sea (see v. 8).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 3:20 offering the sacrifice. This was offered daily (see Ex. 29:38–41). water came from the direction of Edom. Divinely created flash floods from the mountains of Edom caused water to flow in the direction of the Dead Sea. This water was caught in the canals that had been built in the valley (2 Kings 3:16).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 3:22 water . . . red as blood. As the Moabites looked down at the unfamiliar water in the ditches dug in the valley below them, the combination of the sun's rays and the red sandstone terrain gave the water a reddish color, like pools of blood. Unaccustomed to water being in those places and having heard no storm (see v. 17), the Moabites thought that the coalition of kings had slaughtered each other (v. 23) and so went after the spoils. The coalition army led by Israel defeated the Moabites, who had been delivered into their hands by the Lord (see vv. 18, 24).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 3:25 Kir-haraseth. The coalition army invaded Moab and besieged its capital city, Kir-haraseth, located about 11 miles east of the Dead Sea and about 20 miles northeast of the Arabah.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 3:27 his oldest son . . . offered him. In desperate hope for intervention by his idol god, Mesha sacrificed his oldest son to the Moabite god Chemosh. This was done in plain view of everyone inside and outside the city in an attempt to induce Chemosh to deliver the Moabites from disastrous defeat. great wrath against Israel. It seems best to understand that the king's sacrifice inspired the Moabites to hate Israel more and fight more intensely. This fierceness perhaps led Israel to believe that Chemosh was fighting for the Moabites. Thus, the indignation or fury came from the Moabites.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 4:1 the sons of the prophets. See note on 1 Kings 20:35. my two children to be his slaves. According to the Mosaic law, creditors could enslave debtors and their children to work off a debt when they could not pay (Ex. 21:2–4; Deut. 15:12–18). The period of servitude could last until the next year of jubilee (Lev. 25:39–40). Rich people and creditors, however, were not to take advantage of the destitute (see Deut. 15:1–18).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 4:2 jar of oil. A flask of oil used to anoint the body.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 4:4 shut the door behind yourself. Since the widow’s need was private, the provision was to be private also. Further, the absence of Elisha demonstrated that the miracle happened only by God’s power. God’s power multiplied “little” into “much,” filling all the vessels to meet the widow’s need (cf. 1 Kings 17:7–16).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 4:8 Shunem. A town in the territory of Issachar near Jezreel (Josh. 19:18), on the slopes of Mount Moreh, overlooking the eastern end of the Jezreel Valley (see note on 1 Kings 1:3). a wealthy woman. The woman was “great” in wealth and in social prominence.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 4:9 man of God. See note on 1:9. The woman recognized Elisha as a prophet uniquely separated unto God. Elisha’s holiness prompted the woman to ask her husband that a separate, small, walled upper room be provided for the prophet (4:10). The woman must have feared the “holy” Elisha coming into contact with their “profane” room (cf. Lev. 10:10).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 4:12 Gehazi. Elisha’s personal servant who was prominent here and in 5:20–27. Probably Gehazi is the unnamed servant in 4:43; the term “servant” used there was used in 1 Kings 19:21 of Elisha’s relationship to Elijah. Throughout this narrative, Elisha contacted the Shunammite woman through Gehazi (vv. 11–13, 15, 25, 29). Gehazi was involved in this ministry so that he might have opportunity to mature in his service to the Lord.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 4:13 I dwell among my own people. This reply expressed her contentment, since she wanted nothing.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 4:14 no son, and her husband is old. This remark implied two things: 1) she suffered the shame of being a barren woman (cf. Gen. 16:1; 18:10–15; 25:21; 30:1–2; 1 Sam. 1:6); and 2) her husband might die without an heir to carry on his name (Deut. 25:5–10).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 4:16 No, my lord. In response to Elisha’s announcement that she would have a son, the woman asked Elisha not to build up her hopes if she would be disappointed later. Her reply indicated that she felt having a son was impossible. man of God. See note on 1:9.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 4:17 conceived . . . bore. This was like Abraham and Sarah (Gen. 21:1–2).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 4:19 my head, my head. The child probably suffered sunstroke. The cries of the boy, the part affected, and the season of the year (“reapers”) lead to that conclusion. Sunstroke could be fatal, as in this case (v. 20).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 4:23 neither new moon nor Sabbath. The first day of the month and the seventh day of the week were both marked with special religious observances and rest from work (cf. Num. 28:9–15). The husband implied that only on such dates would a person visit a prophet. She apparently concealed the death of the child from him (“All is well”) to spare him unnecessary grief, in light of the power of the man of God whom she believed might do a miracle for the boy.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 4:25 Mount Carmel. See note on 1 Kings 18:19. The distance from Shunem was about 15 to 25 miles

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 4:26 All is well. She withheld the real sorrow of her son’s death, waiting to tell the prophet Elisha directly.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 4:27 of his feet. The grasping of the feet was a sign of humiliation and veneration.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 4:28 See v. 16.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 4:29 lay my staff on the face of the child. Elisha sent Gehazi ahead because he was younger and, therefore, faster. He may have expected the Lord to restore the child’s life when his staff was placed upon him, viewing that staff as representative of his own presence and a symbol of divine power (cf. 2:8).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 4:34 stretched himself upon him. Like Elijah (see 1 Kings 17:17–24), Elisha demonstrated the Lord’s power over death by raising their son from the dead. Also like Elijah, part of the restoration process involved lying on top of the boy’s body.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 4:38 Gilgal. See note on 2:1. This was about 40 miles south of Shunem. sons of the prophets. See note on 1 Kings 20:35.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 4:39 wild gourds. Probably a kind of wild cucumber that can be fatally poisonous if eaten in large quantities.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 4:41 flour. The flour itself did not make the noxious stew edible, but a miraculous cure was accomplished through the flour. Like Elijah (cf. 1 Kings 17:14–16), Elisha used flour to demonstrate the concern of God for man.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 4:42 Baal-shalishah. The exact location is uncertain. bread of the firstfruits. Normally, the firstfruits were reserved for God (Lev. 23:20) and the Levitical priests (Num. 18:13; Deut. 18:4–5). Though the religion in the northern kingdom was apostate, the man who brought the loaves to Elisha was a representative of godly religion in Israel.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 4:43–44 The multiplication of the loaves in accordance with the word of the Lord through his prophet anticipated the messianic ministry of Jesus himself (cf. Matt. 14:16–20; 15:36–37; John 6:11–13).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 5:1 Naaman. A common name in ancient Aram, or Syria, meaning “gracious, fair.” Four phrases describe the importance of Naaman: 1) he was the supreme commander of the army of Aram as indicated by the term “commander,” used of an army’s highest ranking officer (Gen. 21:22; 1 Sam. 12:9; 1 Chron. 27:34); 2) he was “a great man,” a man of high social standing and prominence; 3) he had “high favor,” a man highly regarded by the king of Syria because of the military victories he had won; and 4) he was “a mighty man of valor,” a term used in the OT for both a man of great wealth (Ruth 2:1) and a courageous warrior (Judg. 6:12; 11:1). Severely mitigating against all of this was the fact that he suffered from leprosy, a serious skin disease (cf. 5:27; see notes on Lev. 13–14). king of Syria. Either Ben-hadad I or, more likely, Ben-hadad II. See note on 1 Kings 15:18. by him the Lord had given victory to Syria. Naaman’s military success was attributable to the God of Israel, who is sovereign over all the nations (cf. Isa. 10:13; Amos 9:7).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 5:2 raids. Naaman led the Syrian army in quick penetrations across Israel’s border (cf. 1 Sam. 30:8, 15). On one of his raids, he captured a young Israelite girl used as a servant, who ultimately told him of Elisha.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 5:3 the prophet . . . in Samaria. Elisha maintained a residence in the city of Samaria (6:32).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 5:5 king of Israel. Jehoram. See note on 1:17. ten talents of silver, six thousand shekels of gold. About 750 pounds of silver and 150 pounds of gold.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 5:7 tore his clothes. This action was a sign of distress and grief (cf. 1 Kings 21:27). Jehoram thought that Ben-hadad expected him to cure Naaman's leprosy. Since Jehoram knew that this was impossible, he thought he was doomed to have a major battle with the Syrians. When Elisha heard of Jehoram's distress, he told the king to send Naaman to him for healing (1 Kings 5:8).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 5:11 surely come out to me. Because of his personal greatness (v. 1), his huge gift (v. 5), and diplomatic letter (v. 6), Naaman expected personal attention to his need. However, Elisha did not even go out to meet him. Instead, he sent his instructions for healing through a messenger (v. 10). Naaman was angry because he anticipated a personal cleansing ceremony from the prophet himself.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 5:12 Abana . . . Pharpar. The Abana River (modern Barada) began in the Lebanon mountains and flowed to Damascus, its clear water producing orchards and gardens. The Pharpar River flowed east from Mount Hermon to the south of Damascus. If Naaman needed to wash in a river, those two rivers were superior to the muddy Jordan. However, it was obedience to God's word that was the issue, not the quality of the water.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 5:13 My father. The title "father" was not usually employed by servants to their masters. The use of the term here may indicate something of the warmth that the servants felt for Naaman (cf. 2:12). His servants pointed out to Naaman that he had been willing to do anything, no matter how hard, to be cured. He should be even more willing, therefore, to do something as easy as washing in a muddy river.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 5:14 flesh of a little child. This description indicates that ancient leprosy was a disease of the skin, distinct from modern leprosy, a disease primarily of the nerves.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 5:15 there is no God . . . but in Israel. Upon his healing, Naaman returned from the Jordan River to Elisha's house in Samaria (about 25 miles) to give confession of his new belief. Naaman confessed that there was only one God, Israel's God, the Lord. In saying this, Naaman put to shame the Israelites who continued to blasphemously believe that both the Lord and Baal were gods (cf. 1 Kings 18:21).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 5:16 he refused. To show that he was not driven by the mercenary motives of pagan priests and prophets, Elisha, though accepting gifts on other occasions (cf. 4:42), declined them here so the Syrians would see the honor of God only.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 5:17 two mules' load of earth. In the ancient Near East it was thought that a god could be worshiped only on the soil of the nation to which he was bound. Therefore, Naaman wanted a load of Israelite soil on which to make burnt offerings and sacrifices to the Lord when he returned to Damascus. This request confirmed how Naaman had changed—whereas he had previously disparaged Israel's river, now he wanted to take a pile of Israel's soil to Damascus.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 5:18 Rimmon. The Hebrew term Rimmon (lit., “pomegranate”) is a parody of the Syrian deity, Hadad, whom the Assyrians named “Rananu” (lit., “the thunderer”). Hadad was the storm god, usually identified with the Canaanite god, Baal. As an aide to Syria's king, Naaman's duty demanded that he accompany the king to religious services at the temple of Rimmon in Damascus. Naaman requested that the Lord forgive this outward compromise of his true faith in and commitment to the Lord.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 5:22 My master has sent me. A lie for selfish gain revealed the sad state of Gehazi's character. Another lie followed to cover up (v. 25).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 5:23 two talents of silver. About 150 pounds of silver.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 5:26 Did not my heart go . . . ? Elisha knew Gehazi lied. Though his body did not move, Elisha's mind had seen all that had transpired between Gehazi and Naaman.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 5:27 leprosy . . . shall cling to you. Gehazi's greed had cast a shadow over the integrity of Elisha's prophetic office. This made him no better in the people's thinking than Israel's false prophets, who prophesied for material gain, the very thing he wanted to avoid (vv. 15–16). Gehazi's act betrayed a lack of faith in the Lord's ability to provide. As a result, Elisha condemned Gehazi and his descendants to suffer Naaman's skin disease forever. The punishment was a twist for Gehazi, who had gone to "take something" from Naaman (v. 20), but what he received was Naaman's disease.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 6:1 place where we dwell. The sons of the prophets, those specially instructed by Elisha, lived together in a communal setting. The word translated "dwell" can also be understood as "sit before." The term is used this way of David sitting before the Lord in worship (2 Sam. 7:18) and the elders sitting before Ezekiel to hear his advice (Ezek. 8:1; 14:1). The "place" here refers to a dormitory where Elisha instructed the sons of the prophets. The growing number of men who wished to be taught led to the need for a larger building.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 6:4 Jordan . . . trees. The Jordan Valley had mostly smaller kinds of trees, e.g., willow, tamarisk, and acacia that did not give heavy lumber. The resulting structure would be a humble, simple building.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 6:5 axe head . . . borrowed. Iron was expensive and relatively rare in Israel at that time and the student-prophet was very poor. The axe head was loaned to the prophet since he could not have afforded it on his own and would have had no means to reimburse the owner for it.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 6:6 made the iron float. Elisha threw a stick in the river at the exact spot where the axe head entered, and the stick caused the heavy iron object to float to the surface. Through this miracle, the Lord again provided for one who was faithful to him.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 6:8 king of Syria. Either Ben-hadad I or, more likely, Ben-hadad II (v. 24). See note on 1 Kings 15:18. warring. The king of Aram, or Syria, was probably sending raiding parties (2 Kings 6:23) to pillage and plunder Israelite towns.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 6:9 the man of God. I.e., Elisha (v. 12). See note on Deut. 33:1. king of Israel. I.e., Jehoram. See note on 2 Kings 1:17.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 6:9–10 do not pass this place. Elisha, receiving supernatural revelation, continually identified to Jehoram the Israelite towns that the king of Aram, or Syria, planned to attack. Jehoram then took the proper precautions and appropriately fortified those towns so as to frustrate the Syrian plan.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 6:11 who of us. The Syrian king was sure someone in his household was revealing his plans to Israel.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 6:13 seize him. The king of Syria's plan was to capture Elisha, who knew all his secrets (v. 12), so that no matter how great Elisha's knowledge might be, he would not be free to inform Israel's king. Dothan. A town in the hill country of Manasseh located about 10 miles north of Samaria and 12 miles south of Jezreel. Dothan commanded a key mountain pass along a main road that connected Damascus and Egypt (cf. Gen. 37:17).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 6:14 a great army. In contrast to the smaller raiding parties (vv. 8, 23), the king of Syria sent a sizable force, including horses and chariots, to take Elisha prisoner. Arriving at Dothan, the army encircled the town.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 6:16 those who are with us. Elisha was referring to God's heavenly army or "host" (cf. Josh. 5:13–15; 2 Chron. 32:7–8; Dan. 10:20; 12:1).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 6:17 open his eyes. Elisha asked the Lord to enable his servant to see this heavenly host. The Lord gave his servant the ability to see the normally unseen world of God's heavenly armies, here waiting to do battle with the Syrians (cf. Gen. 32:1–2).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 6:18 blindness. This word occurs only here and in Gen. 19:11. The term is related to "light" and seems to mean "a dazzling from bright light" (note the "chariots of fire" in 2 Kings 6:17). Both biblical uses of the term involve a miraculous act with angelic presence and both are used in the context of deliverance from danger.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 6:19 Follow me . . . to the man whom you seek. By going to Samaria himself, Elisha did not lie, but did truly lead the Syrian army to where he ultimately would be found.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 6:20 in . . . Samaria. God delivered a sizable portion of the Syrian army into the hands of the king of Israel without bloodshed. The Syrians discovered they were surrounded and captives of Israel.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 6:21 My father. See note on 5:13. By using this expression, which conveyed the respect a child had for his father, King Jehoram of Israel acknowledged the authority of Elisha.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 6:22 You shall not strike them. Elisha, bearing divinely delegated authority, prohibited the execution of the captives. It was uncommon and unusually cruel to put war captives to death in cold blood, even when taken by the point of a sword, but especially by the miraculous power of God. Kindness would testify to the goodness of God and likely stall future opposition from the Aramean, or Syrian, raiders. These kind deeds gained a moral conquest (v. 23).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 6:23 a great feast. In the ancient Near East, a common meal could signify the making of a covenant between two parties (cf. Lev. 7:15–18).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 6:24 Ben-hadad. See note on 1 Kings 15:18. This same Ben-hadad had laid siege to Samaria earlier (1 Kings 20:1), which was the result of Ahab's foolish and misplaced kindness (1 Kings 20:42). his entire army. In contrast to the smaller raiding parties (2 Kings 6:8–23) and the larger force seeking Elisha's capture (v. 14), Ben-hadad gathered his entire army, marched to Samaria, and besieged the capital.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 6:25 a donkey's head . . . eighty shekels of silver. The siege resulted in a terrible famine gripping the city of Samaria. This ignominious body part of an unclean animal (Lev. 11:2–7; Deut. 14:4–8) sold at an overvalued price of about two pounds of silver. dove's dung . . . five shekels of silver. "Dove's dung" was either a nickname for some small pea or root, or literal dung to be used as fuel or food in the desperate situation. Approximately one pint cost about two ounces of silver.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 6:26 Help, my lord, O king! The woman asked King Jehoram to render a legal decision in her dispute with another woman (see note on 1 Kings 3:16–27).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 6:28–29 Give your son, that we may eat him. The curses of the Mosaic Covenant, especially for the sin of apostasy, predicted this sort of pagan cannibalism (Lev. 26:29; Deut. 28:52–57). The way in which the woman presented her case without feeling added to the horror of it.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 6:30 tore his clothes. A sign of distress and grief (see note on 1 Kings 21:27). sackcloth . . . on his body. A coarse cloth, made from goat's hair, worn as a sign of mourning (cf. Gen. 37:34). He was not truly humbled for his sins and the nation's or he would not have called for vengeance on Elisha.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 6:31 the head of Elisha. Jehoram swore an oath to have Elisha killed. The reason Jehoram desired the death of Elisha could have been: 1) the king viewed the siege as the work of the Lord (v. 33), so he assumed that the Lord’s representative, the prophet, with whom the kings of Israel were in conflict, was involved as well; or 2) the king remembered when Elijah had ended a famine (1 Kings 18:41–46); or 3) Jehoram thought that Elisha’s clemency to the Syrian army (2 Kings 6:22) had somehow led to and added intensity to the present siege; or 4) because Elisha had miracle power, he should have ended the famine. But, most likely, the reason he wanted Elisha dead was because he expected that his mourning, perhaps counseled by the prophet as an act of true repentance (which it was not; see note on v. 30), would result in the end of the siege. When it did not, he sought the prophet’s head.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 6:32 the elders were sitting with him. The elders were the leading citizens of Samaria, whose gathering indicated the high regard in which Elisha was held by the prominent of Samaritan society. this murderer. Jehoram had the character of a murderer, just like his father Ahab (1 Kings 21:1–16).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 6:33 Why should I wait for the Lord any longer? Jehoram rightly viewed the Lord as the instigator of the siege and famine in Samaria and declared that he saw no hope that the Lord would reverse this situation.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 7:1 a seah . . . for a shekel. About 7 quarts of flour would sell for about two-fifths of an ounce of silver. two seahs . . . for a shekel. About 13–14 quarts of barley would also sell for about two-fifths of an ounce of silver. These prices, when compared to those in 6:25, indicated that the next day the famine in Samaria would end. at the gate. In ancient Israel, the city gate was the marketplace where business was transacted (cf. Ruth 4:1; 2 Sam. 15:1–5). Normal trade at the city gate of Samaria implied that the siege would be lifted.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 7:2 the captain on whose hand the king leaned. For “captain” see note on 9:25. The king depended upon this officer as his chief adviser. You shall see . . . but . . . not eat. The royal official questioned the Lord’s ability to provide food within the day. For that offense against God, Elisha predicted that the officer would witness the promised miracle, but he would not eat any of it. How this prophecy was fulfilled is described in 7:16–17.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 7:3 lepers. The account of these lepers is used to tell of the siege’s end and the provisions for Samaria (vv. 3–11). at the entrance to the gate. In the area immediately outside the city gate, four lepers lived, shut out of Samaria because of their disease (Lev. 13:46; Num. 5:3). The lepers knew that living in Samaria, whether just outside or inside the gate, offered them nothing but death.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 7:5 the edge of the camp of the Syrians. The normal meaning of this phrase would refer to the back edge of the army camp, the farthest point from the wall of Samaria.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 7:6 the kings of the Hittites and . . . Egypt. Sometime before the arrival of the lepers, the Lord had made the Syrians hear the terrifying sound of a huge army approaching. They thought the Israelite king had hired two massive foreign armies to attack them. The Hittites were descendants of the once-great Hittite empire who lived in small groups across northern Syria (see note on 1 Kings 10:29). Egypt was in decline at this time, but its army would still have represented a great danger to the Syrians.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 7:9 punishment. The lepers did not fear that the Syrians would return, but that the Lord would punish them for their sin of not telling the Israelite king of their discovery.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 7:12 what the Syrians have done to us. Jehoram greeted the report from the lepers with great suspicion. He thought that the Arameans, or Syrians, were feigning the pullback to appear defeated, in order to lure the Israelites out of Samaria for a surprise attack on them to gain entrance into the city. However, vv. 13–15 describe how the leper’s report was confirmed.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 7:16–20 By repeating words from vv. 1–2 and by explicit statements (“according to the word of the Lord,” v. 16; “for . . . the man of God had said,” vv. 17–18), the text emphasizes that Elisha’s prophecy in v. 2 literally came to pass.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 8:1–6 The chronological question of when the events recounted in these verses took place in Elisha’s ministry has been much debated. Interpreters hold to one of three positions: 1) The encounter between the Shunammite woman, the king of Israel, and Gehazi took place toward the end of the reign of Jehoram in Israel. However, this would mean Gehazi was in the presence of the king (vv. 4–5) although afflicted with leprosy (5:27) and King Jehoram was asking what great things Elisha had done after personally witnessing the events recorded in 6:8–7:19. 2) Because the king of Israel did not know Elisha’s exploits, some interpreters place the final encounter during the early reign of Jehu. However, there are still the issues of Gehazi’s leprosy and Jehu’s being well acquainted with the prophecy of Elijah (9:36–37; 10:17) that predicted Elisha’s ministry (1 Kings 19:15–18). 3) The best explanation is that the record is out of chronological sequence, being thematically tied to the subject of famine in 6:24–7:20, but having occurred earlier in the reign of King Jehoram of Israel, before the events recorded in 5:1–7:20.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 8:1 a famine . . . for seven years. Seven-year famines were known in the ancient Near East (cf. Gen. 41:29–32). Since the Shunammite woman would have been only a resident alien in a foreign land, her return within seven years may have aided her legal claim to her property (cf. Ex. 21:2; 23:10–11; Lev. 25:1–7; Deut. 15:1–6).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 8:2 land of the Philistines. The area located southwest of Israel along the Mediterranean Sea coastal plain between the Jarkon River in the north and the Besor Brook in the south. The fact that the famine was localized in Israel demonstrated that this was a curse, a punishment for apostasy (cf. Deut. 28:38–40), because of Israel’s disobedience of the Mosaic Covenant.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 8:3 appeal to the king. The Shunammite woman made a legal appeal to the king to support her ownership claim. In Israel, the king was the final arbiter of such disputes (see note on 1 Kings 3:16–27). Providentially, the widow arrived just as Gehazi was describing how Elisha had raised her son from the dead (2 Kings 8:5).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 8:6 Restore all . . . with all the produce. The king’s judgment was to return to the woman everything she owned, including the land’s earnings during her absence.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 8:7 Elisha came to Damascus. It was unusual for a prophet to visit foreign capitals, but not unknown (cf. Jonah 3:3). Elisha went to Damascus, the capital of Syria, to carry out one of the three commands God had given to Elijah at Horeb (1 Kings 19:15–16). Ben-hadad. See note on 1 Kings 15:18. Ben-hadad died c. 841 B.C., the same year as Jehoram of Israel (2 Kings 3:1), Jehoram of Judah (8:17), and Ahaziah of Judah (8:25–26). man of God. See note on Deut. 33:1.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 8:8 Hazael. His name means “God sees” or “whom God beholds.” Hazael was a servant of Ben-hadad and not a member of the royal family. Assyrian records called Hazael the “son of a nobody” and his lineage was not recorded because he was a commoner.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 8:9 all kinds of goods of Damascus. The city of Damascus was a trade center between Egypt, Asia Minor, and Mesopotamia. It had within it the finest merchandise of the ancient Near East. Ben-hadad evidently thought that an impressive gift would influence Elisha’s prediction. Your son. Ben-hadad approached Elisha with the humble respect of a son for his father (cf. 5:13; 6:21).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 8:10 recover . . . die. Ben-hadad wanted to know whether or not he would recover from his present illness. In response, Elisha affirmed two interrelated things: 1) Ben-hadad would be restored to health; his present sickness would not be the means of his death. 2) Ben-hadad would surely die by some other means.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 8:11 he was embarrassed. With a fixed gaze, Elisha stared at Hazael because it had been revealed to him what Hazael would do, including the murder of Ben-hadad (v. 15). Hazael was embarrassed, knowing that Elisha knew of his plan to assassinate the Syrian king.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 8:12 the evil. Elisha mourned, knowing the atrocities that Hazael would bring on Israel. The harsh actions mentioned here were common in ancient wars (Ps. 137:9; Isa. 13:16; Hos. 10:14; 13:16; Amos 1:13; Nahum 3:10). Hazael did prove to be a constant foe of Israel (2 Kings 9:14–16; 10:32; 12:17–18; 13:3, 22).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 8:13 your servant . . . a dog. To call oneself a dog was an expression of humility (see note on 2 Sam. 9:8). Hazael sought to deny that he would ever have the power to commit such atrocities. He was trying to convince Elisha that he had no plan to take over the kingship of Syria. you are to be king over Syria. In response to Hazael’s feigned self-deprecation, Elisha affirmed that the Lord willed that Hazael be king over Aram, or Syria (cf. 1 Kings 19:15).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 8:15 he died. Hazael took a bed furnishing, soaked it, and killed Ben-hadad by suffocation. Hazael became king. Upon Ben-hadad’s death, Hazael took the kingship of Syria and ruled c. 841–801 B.C., during the reigns of Jehoram, Jehu, and Jehoahaz in Israel and Ahaziah, Athaliah, and Joash in Judah.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 8:16 fifth year. C. 848 B.C., the year Jehoshaphat of Judah died. Joram. An alternate name for the king referred to as Jehoram previously (1:17; 3:1–6). See notes on 2 Chron. 21:4–20.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 8:17 eight years. 848–841 B.C. See notes on 2 Chron. 21:4–20. Jehoram of Judah served as co-regent with his father Jehoshaphat for the final four years of his reign, 853–848 B.C. Joram (Jehoram) became king of Israel during the second year of this co-regency, 852 B.C. (see notes on 1:17; 3:1). Jehoram of Judah ruled alone for eight years after his father’s death, until 841 B.C. (cf. 2 Chron. 21:15). Most likely, Obadiah prophesied during his reign.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 8:18 as the house of Ahab. Jehoram officially sanctioned Baal worship in Judah as Ahab had in Israel (1 Kings 16:31–33). the daughter of Ahab. Jehoram was married to Athaliah, the daughter of Ahab and Jezebel (2 Kings 8:26). Just as Jezebel incited Ahab to do evil in the sight of the Lord (1 Kings 21:25), so Athaliah influenced Jehoram. Athaliah’s wicked actions are recorded in 2 Kings 11:1–16 and 2 Chron. 22:10–23:15.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 8:19 a lamp . . . forever. See note on 1 Kings 11:36.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 8:20 Edom revolted. Edom had been a vassal of the united kingdom, and of the southern kingdom of Judah since David’s reign (2 Sam. 8:13–14).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 8:21 Zair. The exact location is unknown.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 8:22 Edom revolted . . . to this day. During the reign of Jehoram, Edom defeated the Judean army, took some border lands, and became independent of Judah’s rule. The continuing sovereignty of Edom proved that none of the future kings of Judah recorded in 2 Kings was the anticipated Messiah because he would possess Edom (cf. Num. 24:18). Libnah. A town located in the Shephelah on the border with Philistia, about 20 miles southwest of Jerusalem (Josh. 15:42; 21:13). The revolt of Libnah was probably connected with that of the Philistines and Arabians recounted in 2 Chron. 21:16–17.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 8:25–29 The reign of Ahaziah (c. 841 B.C.) is not to be confused with that of Israel’s King Ahaziah (1 Kings 22:51–2 Kings 1:8). See notes on 2 Kings 9:27 and 2 Chron. 22:1–9.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 8:26 Athaliah. See note on v. 18.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 8:27 as the house of Ahab. Like his father, Jehoram, Ahaziah continued the official sanctioning of Baal worship in Judah (see note on v. 18).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 8:28 Ramoth-gilead. See note on 1 Kings 22:3.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 8:29 went down to see Joram. Ahaziah's travel to visit the recuperating Joram (also called Jehoram) king of Israel placed him in Jezreel (west of the Jordan, southwest of the Sea of Galilee) during Jehu's purge of the house of Omri (see 9:21–29).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 9:2 Jehu. The Lord had previously told Elijah that Jehu would become king over Israel and kill those involved in the worship of Baal (cf. 1 Kings 19:17). The fulfillment of the prophecy is recorded from 2 Kings 9:1–10:31. inner chamber. A private room that could be closed off to the public. Elisha commissioned one of the younger prophets to anoint Jehu alone behind closed doors. The rite was to be a secret affair without Elisha present so that Jehoram would not suspect that a coup was coming.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 9:3 anoint you king over Israel. The anointing with olive oil by a prophet of the Lord confirmed that God himself had earlier chosen that man to be king (cf. 1 Sam. 10:1; 16:13). This action of anointing by a commissioned prophet indicated divine investiture with God's sovereign power to Jehu. flee; do not linger. The need for haste by the young prophet underscored the danger of the assignment. A prophet in the midst of Israel's army camp would alert the pro-Jehoram elements to the possibility of the coup.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 9:7 avenge . . . the blood. Jehu was to be the Lord's avenger (cf. Num. 35:12) for the murders of the Lord's prophets (1 Kings 18:4) and of people like Naboth who served the Lord (1 Kings 21:1–16).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 9:9 like the house of Jeroboam . . . Baasha. God would thoroughly annihilate Ahab's line in the same way as Jeroboam's dynasty and Baasha's dynasty had previously ended violently (1 Kings 15:27–30; 16:8–13).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 9:10 dogs shall eat. Dogs were considered scavengers in the ancient Near East and they would devour the corpse of Jezebel. Jezreel.

Formerly the area of Naboth's vineyard (1 Kings 21:1–16). none shall bury her. In Israel, the failure to be buried indicated disgrace (see note on 1 Kings 13:22).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 9:11 this mad fellow. The soldier demonstrated his disdain for Elisha's servant (vv. 1, 4) by referring to him as crazy or demented. In Jer. 29:26 and Hos. 9:7 this same term was used as a derogatory term for prophets whose messages were considered crazy. Jehu's response referred to the prophet's "talk," not his behavior.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 9:12 Thus and so. This refers to the repeating of the prophecy in vv. 4–10.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 9:13 blew the trumpet. Having laid their cloaks under Jehu's feet with the steps of the house serving as a makeshift throne, the officers blew trumpets acclaiming Jehu as king. A trumpet often heralded such a public proclamation and assembly, including the appointment of a king (cf. 11:14; 2 Sam. 15:10; 1 Kings 1:34).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 9:15 let no one . . . go and tell the news in Jezreel. For Jehu to succeed in his revolt and to avoid a civil conflict, it was important to take Joram totally by surprise. Therefore, Jehu ordered the city of Ramoth-gilead where he had been anointed (vv. 2–3) to be sealed lest someone loyal to Joram escape and notify the king.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 9:16 to Jezreel. From Ramoth-gilead, Jezreel was straight west across the Jordan, north of Mount Gilboa.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 9:21 Naboth the Jezreelite. Providentially, the kings of Israel and Judah met Jehu at the very place where Ahab and Jezebel had Naboth killed (1 Kings 21:1–16). The alarmed king, aware by then of impending disaster, summoned his forces and, accompanied by Ahaziah, met Jehu as Jehu's men ascended the slope up to the city from the northern side.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 9:22 What peace. Joram wished to know if Jehu's coming meant peace, apparently unsure of Jehu's rebellious plans. Jehu replied that there could be no true peace in Israel because of Jezebel's influence. "whorings," a common biblical metaphor for idolatry, and "sorceries," i.e., seeking information from demonic forces, described the nature of Jezebel's influence. Idolatry had lured Israel into demonic practices.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 9:25 Bidkar his aide. “Aide” originally referred to the third man in a chariot, besides the driver and a warrior; it was his task to hold the shield and arms of the warrior. The term was eventually applied to a high-ranking official (cf. 7:2). Jehu and Bidkar either rode together in one chariot as part of the chariot team or were in different chariots behind Ahab when Elijah gave his prediction to Ahab recorded in 1 Kings 21:17–24. the Lord made this pronouncement against him. The term “pronouncement” referred to a prophetic oracle, the prophetic utterance of Elijah recorded in 1 Kings 21:19, 20–24. Jehu viewed himself as God’s avenging agent fulfilling Elijah’s prediction.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 9:26 Naboth . . . sons. Although their deaths are not expressly mentioned in the record concerning Naboth, they are plainly implied in the confiscation of his property (see 1 Kings 21:16).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 9:27 Ahaziah the king of Judah . . . died. Jehu and his men pursued Ahaziah and wounded him at the ascent of Gur by Ibleam. According to 2 Chron. 22:9, Ahaziah reached Samaria, where he hid for awhile. Ahaziah then fled north to Megiddo, about 12 miles north of Samaria, where he died.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 9:29 eleventh year. C. 841 B.C. Cf. 8:25, “twelfth year.” In 8:25, the non-accession-year system of dating was used, so that Joram’s accession year was counted as the first year of his reign (see note on 12:6). Here, the accession-year dating system was used, where Joram’s accession year and his second year were counted as the first year of his reign.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 9:30 Painted her eyes. The painting of the eyelids with a black powder mixed with oil and applied with a brush, darkened them to give an enlarged effect. Jezebel’s appearance at the window gave the air of a royal audience to awe Jehu.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 9:31 Zimri. In referring to Jehu by that name, Jezebel sarcastically alluded to the previous purge of Zimri (1 Kings 16:9–15). Since Zimri died seven days after beginning to reign, Jezebel was implying that the same fate awaited Jehu.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 9:32 eunuchs. Some of Jezebel’s own officials threw her out of a second-story window, after which Jehu drove his horses and chariots over her body.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 9:34 a king's daughter. Jehu recognized Jezebel's royalty, while denying that she deserved to be the queen of Israel.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 9:36 This is the word of the Lord. Where and how Jezebel died fulfilled Elijah's prophetic oracle (1 Kings 21:23).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 10:1 seventy sons. These were the male descendants of Ahab, both sons and grandsons. Ahab had a number of wives (1 Kings 20:5) and therefore many descendants. Since these living relatives could avenge a dead kinsman by killing the person responsible for his death (cf. Num. 35:12), Jehu's life was in jeopardy while Ahab's male descendants survived. Samaria. Ahab's surviving family members were living in the capital city of the northern kingdom, located about 25 miles south of Jezreel. rulers . . . elders . . . guardians. Jehu sent the same message (2 Kings 10:2–3) in a number of letters to: 1) the royal officials, who had probably fled from Jezreel to Samaria; 2) the leaders of the tribes of Israel; and 3) those appointed as the custodians and educators of the royal children.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 10:3 fight for your master's house. Realizing potential conflict existed between himself and Ahab's family, Jehu was demanding that Ahab's appointed officials either fight to continue the royal line of Ahab or select a new king from Ahab's descendants who would fight Jehu in battle to decide which family would rule Israel (cf. 1 Sam. 17:8–9; 2 Sam. 2:9).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 10:5 he who was over the palace . . . city. These two officials were the palace administrator and the city governor, probably the commander of the city's fighting force. We are your servants. These officials and leaders transferred their allegiance from the house of Omri to Jehu.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 10:6 the heads of your master's sons. As a tangible sign of their surrender, Jehu required the officials to decapitate all of Ahab's male descendants and bring their heads to Jehu at Jezreel by the next day.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 10:7 heads in baskets. Out of fear, the officials obeyed Jehu by decapitating Ahab's male descendants. However, they did not personally go to Jehu in Jezreel, probably fearing that a similar fate would await them.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 10:8 two heaps. The practice of piling the heads of conquered subjects at the city gate was common in the ancient Near East, especially by the Assyrians. The practice was designed to dissuade rebellion.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 10:9 I who conspired . . . killed. Jehu is referring to his murder of Joram (9:14–24).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 10:10 word of the Lord. God had prophesied through Elijah the destruction of Ahab's house (1 Kings 21:17–24).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 10:11 Jehu struck down all. Jehu went beyond God's mandate and executed all of Ahab's officials, a deed for which God later judged Jehu's house (cf. Hos. 1:4).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 10:13 relatives of Ahaziah. Since the brothers of Ahaziah, the slain king of Judah (9:27–29), had been previously killed by the Philistines (2 Chron. 21:17), these must have been relatives of Ahaziah in a broader sense, like nephews and cousins.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 10:14 This slaughter by Jehu was because these people might have stimulated and strengthened those who were still loyal to the family of Ahab.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 10:15 Jehonadab the son of Rechab. This man was a faithful follower of the Lord and a strict observer of the Mosaic law, leading a life of austerity and abstinence. According to Jer. 35:1–16, the Rechabites did not plant fields or drink wine. They shook hands, indicating a pledge of support for Jehu from this influential man.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 10:18–19 Ahab served Baal a little, but Jehu will serve him much. Though it was in fact a ruse (v. 19), Jehu promised to outdo Ahab's devotion to Baal. The people of Samaria might have thought that Jehu was seeking a military, not a religious, reformation. If so, Jehu was seeking Baal's blessing on his reign as king (v. 20).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 10:21 house of Baal. The idolatrous worship center that Ahab had built in Samaria (1 Kings 16:32). All the worshipers could fit into that one edifice because the number of Baal devotees had been reduced by the influence of Elijah and Elisha and by the neglect and discontinuance of Baal worship under Joram.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 10:26 pillar. These were wooden idols distinct from the main image "pillar" of Baal (v. 27).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 10:27 a latrine. Lit., "place of dung." This desecration of the site discouraged any rebuilding of the temple of Baal.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 10:28 wiped out Baal from Israel. Jehu rid the northern kingdom of royally sanctioned Baal worship. It was done, however, not from spiritual and godly motives, but because Jehu believed that Baalism was inextricably bound to the dynasty and influence of Ahab. By its extermination, he thought he would kill all the last vestiges of Ahab loyalists and incur the support of those in the land who worshiped the true God. Jehonadab didn't know of that motive, so he concurred with what Jehu did.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 10:29 the sins of Jeroboam. However, Jehu did continue to officially sanction other idolatry introduced into the northern kingdom by Jeroboam I (cf. 1 Kings 12:28–33).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 10:33 from the Jordan eastward. Because Jehu failed to keep the Lord's law wholeheartedly (v. 31), the Lord punished him by giving Israel's land east of the Jordan River to Syria. This lost region was the homeland of the tribes of Gad, Reuben, and half of Manasseh (Num. 32:1–42).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 10:36 twenty-eight years. 841–814 B.C.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 11:1 Athaliah. A granddaughter of Omri (8:26) and daughter of Ahab and Jezebel. She was zealous to rule after the death of her son, Ahaziah (9:27) and was dedicated to seeing the worship of Baal officially sanctioned in Judah (see note on 8:18). She reigned for six years (11:3) c. 841–835 B.C. See note on 2 Chron. 22:10–23:21. destroyed all the royal family. The previous deaths of Jehoram's brothers (2 Chron. 21:4) and Ahaziah's brothers and relatives (2 Kings 10:12–14; 2 Chron. 21:17) left only her grandchildren for Athaliah to put to death to destroy the Davidic line. Though the Lord had promised that the house of David would rule over Israel and Judah forever (2 Sam. 7:16), Athaliah's purge brought the house of David to the brink of extinction.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 11:2 Jehosheba. She was probably the daughter of Jehoram by a wife other than Athaliah, and so a half-sister of Ahaziah, who was married to the high priest, Jehoida (2 Chron. 22:11). Joash. The grandson of Athaliah who escaped her purge. bedroom. Lit., "the room of the beds." It was either the palace storeroom where servants kept the bedding or a room in the living quarters of the temple priests.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 11:3 in the house of the Lord. The temple in Jerusalem. six years. 841–835 B.C.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 11:4 seventh year. The beginning of Athaliah’s seventh year of reign, 835 B.C. Jehoiada. The high priest during Athaliah’s reign (see note on 2 Chron. 24:15–16). He was the husband of Jehosheba (2 Kings 11:2; 2 Chron. 22:11). captains of the Carites and of the guards. These were the commanders of each 100 soldier unit; 2 Chron. 23:1–2 names five of these commanders. The bodyguards were “Carites” associated with the Pelethites (2 Sam. 20:23), who were mercenary soldiers serving as royal bodyguards. The escorts, lit. “runners,” were probably another unit of royal bodyguards who provided palace security (see 1 Kings 14:27). Jehoiada received an agreement of support from the royal guards, sealed with an oath of allegiance, and then presented Joash to them. The military leaders supported the plan to dispose of Athaliah and make Joash king.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 11:5–8 Jehoiada outlined his plan to crown Joash as the king. On a selected Sabbath, the royal guards coming on duty, including priests and Levites (2 Chron. 23:4), would guard the palace as usual. They would especially make sure that no word concerning the coup in the temple courtyard reached Athaliah and those loyal to her. The companies going off duty would not return to their quarters as usual, but would instead report to the temple to form a tight security ring around the young potential king. The successful accomplishment of Jehoiada’s plan is recorded in 2 Kings 11:9–12.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 11:6 the gate Sur. The exact location of this gate is unknown. Verse 19 implies that this gate connected the temple with the palace.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 11:10 spears and shields. These were probably part of the plunder David captured from King Hadadezer of Zobah (2 Sam. 8:3–12). Dedicated to the Lord by David (2 Sam. 8:7–11), these articles were stored in the temple. Since the soldiers were already armed, these additional ancient weapons symbolically reassured the soldiers that the temple authorities approved of their actions.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 11:12 the testimony. This was a copy of the whole law (Ps. 119:88). According to Deut. 17:18–20, a copy of the law was to be kept with the king always so that it became his guide for life. anointed. A priest or prophet customarily anointed kings, as here (1 Sam. 10:1; 16:13; 1 Kings 1:39; 2 Kings 9:6).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 11:14 pillar. Either one of the two pillars, Jachin or Boaz, on the temple’s front porch (1 Kings 7:21), or a raised platform in the court of the temple (cf. 2 Chron. 6:13). people of the land. Probably Jehoiada chose to stage his coup on the Sabbath during one of the major religious festivals, when those from Judah who were loyal to the Lord would be in Jerusalem.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 11:16 king's house, and there she was put to death.

Execution was not appropriate in the temple area since it was a place of worship (cf. 2 Chron. 24:20–22). Thus, the soldiers seized Athaliah and put her to death at one of the entrances to the palace grounds.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 11:17 a covenant. The renewal of the agreement between the people and the Lord and between the house of David and the people was appropriate because of the disruption under Athaliah. A similar ceremony was held later, during the reign of Josiah (23:1–3). See notes on Ex. 24:4–8.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 11:18 the house of Baal. A temple that had been built in Jerusalem and used by Athaliah to promote the worship of Baal in Judah. As Jezebel had promoted Baalism in Israel, her daughter Athaliah had sought its sanction in Judah. During Athaliah's reign as queen, Baalism gained its strongest foothold in Judah. This purge of Baalism in Judah paralleled the earlier purge of Baalism led by Jehu in the northern kingdom (10:18–29).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 11:21 Jehoash. Jehoash and Joash are variants of the same name, meaning "The Lord gave." See notes on 2 Chron. 24:1–27.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 12:1 seventh year. 835 B.C. Jehu of Israel began his reign in 841 B.C. (see notes on 9:29; 10:36). forty years. 835–796 B.C.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 12:2 all his days . . . Jehoiada . . . instructed him. Joash did what pleased the Lord while Jehoiada served as his parental guardian and tutor. After Jehoiada died, Joash turned away from the Lord (see note on 2 Chron. 24:17–18a).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 12:3 the high places. See note on 1 Kings 3:2. As with most kings of Judah, Joash failed to remove these places of worship where, contrary to the Mosaic law, the people sacrificed and burned incense to the Lord (cf. Deut. 12:2–14).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 12:4–16 See 2 Chron. 24:5–14.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 12:4 the holy things. Lit., "holy gifts." These offerings were given to the priests and used to support the temple. These three main offerings were the half a shekel assessed from every male 20 years old and above whenever a census was taken (Ex. 30:11–16), the payments of personal vows (Lev. 27:1–8), and voluntary offerings (Lev. 22:18–23; Deut. 16:10).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 12:5 his donor. This person would be a friend of the priest who either gave offerings or collected the offerings for the priest. However, some interpret the Hebrew term to mean “treasurer.” This understanding views the individual as a member of the temple personnel who assisted the priests with the valuation of sacrifices and offerings brought to the temple. repair the house wherever any need of repairs is discovered. During the reign of Athaliah, the temple had suffered major damages and temple articles had been taken for use in the temple of Baal (2 Chron. 24:7). Joash ordered the priests to channel the temple offerings to fund the needed repairs. This was to be in addition to the normal temple expenses.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 12:6 twenty-third year. C. 813 B.C. Judah seems to have used the non-accession-year system during the reigns of Athaliah and Joash (see note on 13:1), which did not count the first year of the reign but began with the second. This is how we count ages today, starting with the beginning of the second year as one. Joash was 29 years of age.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 12:7–8 The plan of Joash did not work. Either the revenue from these sources was inadequate to support the priests and Levites and also to pay for the temple repairs, or the priests for some unknown reason would not fund the temple repairs. Therefore, the priests no longer received the offerings from the people, nor did they fund the temple repairs from the income they had already received.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 12:9–16 Joash instituted a new plan. First, a single collection box was to receive all incoming offerings. When the chest was full, only the royal secretary and high priest would be authorized to empty it. Second, from the funds thus generated, men were hired to supervise and pay the carpenters, builders, masons, and stonemasons who worked on the temple repairs. The men involved were so trustworthy that no accounting was taken of them (v. 15).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 12:9 priests who guarded the threshold. These were priests who normally screened the people to keep unclean worshipers from entering the temple (25:18; Jer. 52:24). These priests took the offerings from the worshipers, who then personally watched the priests drop them into the chest.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 12:16 money from the guilt offerings and . . . sin offerings. The income from these offerings was distinct from the income mentioned in v. 4 and so was not used in the repair of the temple, but remained the property of the priests (see Lev. 4:1–6:7). The temple repairs did not deprive the priests of their income (Lev. 7:7).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 12:17 Hazael. See notes on 8:8–15. Gath. One of the five major Philistine cities (1 Sam. 5:8), located about 25 miles southwest of Jerusalem. Gath had previously belonged to Judah (2 Chron. 11:8).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 12:18 all the sacred gifts. When Joash’s army was defeated by Hazael and his leading men killed (2 Chron. 24:23–24), he averted further attacks against Jerusalem by sending tribute to the king of Syria. This tribute included gifts donated to the temple in Jerusalem by kings of Judah (cf. 1 Kings 15:15–18).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 12:19 acts of Joash. A more complete account of the reign of Joash is found in 2 Chron. 22:10–24:27.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 12:20 a conspiracy. Some of the officials of Joash conspired against him because he had killed the high priest Zechariah, the son of the priest Jehoiada (2 Chron. 24:20–22). house of Millo. Probably a house built on a landfill north of David’s city of Jerusalem and south of the temple mount. Cf. 2 Chron. 24:25. Silla. Possibly a ramp that descended from the landfill to the Kidron Valley.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 12:21 Amaziah. See 14:1–22 for the reign of Amaziah.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 13:1 twenty-third year. 814 B.C. Joash of Judah began his reign in 835 B.C. (see note on 12:1) and Jehu of Israel died in 814 B.C. (see note on 10:36). Thus the twenty-third year of Joash of Judah was calculated according to the non-accession-year system (see notes on 12:6; 13:10). seventeen years. 814–798 B.C., i.e., part of 17 calendar years, with the actual reign counted as 16 years.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 13:2 Jeroboam. For his sins, see notes on 1 Kings 12:25–32. This description of Jeroboam as one who “made Israel to sin” occurs in 2 Kings 13:6, 11; 1 Kings 14:16; 15:30; 16:31; 2 Kings 3:3; 10:29, 31; 14:24; 15:9, 18,

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 13:2–7 The record of the reign of Jehoahaz, the king of Israel, has literary and verbal similarities to the book of Judges: 1) Jehoahaz did evil in the sight of the Lord (2 Kings 13:2; cf. Judg. 2:11–13; 3:7); 2) the anger of the Lord was aroused against Israel and he delivered them over to their enemies (2 Kings 13:3; cf. Judg. 2:14–15; 3:8); 3) Jehoahaz cried out to the Lord who saw their oppression (2 Kings 13:4; cf. Judg. 2:18; 3:9); 4) the Lord raised up a deliverer for Israel who rescued them out of the hand of their enemies (2 Kings 13:5; cf. Judg. 2:16–18; 3:9); and 5) Israel continued in her evil ways with the result of further oppression (2 Kings 13:6–7; cf. Judg. 2:19; 3:12–14).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 13:3 Hazael. See notes on 8:8–15. Ben-hadad. Either Ben-hadad II or, more likely, III (see note on 1 Kings 15:18). His reign as king of Syria began c. 801 B.C. The length of his rule is unknown.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 13:5 a savior. The deliverer was not specifically named. This deliverer was: 1) the Assyrian king Adad-Nirari III (c. 810–783 B.C.), whose attack on the Syrians or Arameans, enabled the Israelites to break Syria's control over Israelite territory (see v. 25; 14:25); or 2) Elisha, who as the leader of Israel's military successes (see 13:14; cf. 6:13, 16–23) commissioned Joash to defeat the Syrians (13:15–19); or 3) Jeroboam II (c. 793–753 B.C.), who was able to extend Israel's boundaries back into Syrian territory (14:25–27).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 13:6 sins . . . of Jeroboam. See note on v. 2. Asherah. This idol representing Asherah, a Canaanite goddess and a consort of Baal, had been set up by Ahab (1 Kings 16:33) and had escaped destruction by Jehu when he purged Baal worship from Samaria (2 Kings 10:27–28). Along with the other idolatrous religion of Jeroboam II, there were still remnants of Baal worship in the northern kingdom.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 13:7 an army. Syria was able to dominate Israel militarily because the Lord had left Jehoahaz only a small army with very few chariots. dust at threshing. The army of Israel was so inconsequential, particularly when compared to the armies of Syria and Assyria, that it was likened to the dust left over after grain had been winnowed at a threshing floor.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 13:10 thirty-seventh year. C. 798 B.C. Joash of Judah began his reign in 835 B.C. (see note on 12:1). There is a change here to the accession-year system of dating for the reign of Joash of Judah (see note on 13:1). This explains how Jehoahaz of Israel could reign 16 years with only a 15-year advance on Joash of Judah's regnal years (cf. v. 1). Jehoash. This king of Israel had the same name as his contemporary, the king of Judah (see note on 11:21). sixteen years. 798–782 B.C.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 13:12 fought against Amaziah. See notes on 14:8–14.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 13:14 Elisha. The last previous reference to Elisha the prophet was in 9:1 when Jehu was anointed king of Israel. Since Jehu and Jehoahaz reigned from 841–798 B.C. (see notes on 10:36; 13:1), nothing was recorded for over 40 years of Elisha's life. Elisha began ministering with Elijah during the kingship of Ahab c. 874–853 B.C. (1 Kings 19:19–21) and so must have been over 70 years of age when these final events of his life took place. My father. Jehoash humbly voiced his great respect for Elisha and his dependence upon his counsel (see note on 2:12). The chariots of Israel and its horsemen. Jehoash acknowledged through this metaphor that the Lord, through Elisha, was the real strength and power of Israel against all her adversaries (see note on 2:11).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 13:16 Elisha laid his hands on the king's hands. This symbolic act indicated that Jehoash would exert power against the Syrians that came from the Lord through his prophet.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 13:17 window eastward. This window opened toward the east to the Transjordan region controlled by Syria (10:32–33). The Lord's arrow of victory. When Jehoash obeyed Elisha by shooting an arrow out the window, the prophet interpreted the meaning of the action. The shot symbolized the Lord's deliverance for Israel through the defeat of the Syrian army by Jehoash (cf. 13:5). Aphek. See note on 1 Kings 20:26.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 13:19 three times. Further, Elisha commanded Jehoash to shoot the remaining arrows into the ground (v. 18). Jehoash shot only three arrows into the ground instead of emptying the entire quiver. Because of his lack of faith, Jehoash would win only three victories over the Syrians instead of completely destroying them. The account of these victories is given in v. 25.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 13:20 spring. The prophet, who was Israel's defense (v. 14), was dead and it was the season for war campaigns to begin after the rains of winter.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 13:21 he revived. A dead man returned to life after touching Elisha's bones. This miracle was a sign that God's power continued to work in relationship to Elisha even after his death. What God had promised to Jehoash through Elisha when he was alive would surely come to pass after the prophet's death (cf. vv. 19, 25) in the defeat of the enemy, the recovery of the cities that had been taken, and their restoration to the kingdom of Israel (vv. 22–25).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 13:22 See note on 8:12.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 13:23 his covenant with Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob. During the wicked reign of Jehoahaz (vv. 2–7), the Lord was very patient and did not bring the ultimate military defeat that would lead to exile for Israel. This was because of his agreement with the patriarchs to give their descendants the land (Gen. 15:18–21; 26:2–5; 28:13–15). It was God's promise, not the Israelites' goodness, that motivated God to be merciful and compassionate toward Israel.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 14:1–15:38 This section quickly surveys the kings and selected events of the northern and southern kingdoms from 796 to 735 B.C. In contrast to the previous 19 chapters (1 Kings 17:1–2 Kings 13:25), which narrated 90 years of history (885–796 B.C.) with a concentration on the ministries of Elijah and Elisha during the final 65 years of that period (860–796 B.C.), 62 years are covered in these two chapters. The previous section concluded with a shadow of hope: officially sanctioned Baal worship had been eradicated in both Israel (10:18–28) and Judah (11:17–18); the temple of the Lord in Jerusalem had been repaired (12:9–15); and the Syrian threat to Israel had been overcome (13:25). However, this section emphasizes that the fundamental problems still remained: the false religion established by Jeroboam I continued in Israel even with the change of royal families (14:24–15:9, 18, 24, 28), and the high places were not removed in Judah even though there were only good kings there during those years (14:4; 15:4, 35).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 14:1 second year. 796 B.C. Amaziah. See notes on 2 Chron. 25:1–28.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 14:2 twenty-nine years. 796–767 B.C.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 14:3 not like David. David set a high standard of unswerving devotion to the Lord for the kings of Judah who were his descendants to follow (cf. 1 Kings 11:4, 6; 15:3). Amaziah did not follow the Lord completely, as David had, because he, like his father Joash, did not remove the high places (2 Kings 14:4) where, in disregard for Mosaic law, the people worshiped the Lord (Deut. 12:2–7, 13–14). Further, according to 2 Chron. 25:14–16, Amaziah embraced the false gods of the Edomites.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 14:5–6 When firmly in control of the kingdom, Amaziah took revenge on Jozachar and Jehozabad, the officials who assassinated his father Joash (12:20–21). However, he spared the lives of their sons, in obedience to the Mosaic law that children were not to die for their fathers' sins (Deut. 24:16; cf. Ezek. 18:1–20).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 14:7 For an elaboration of Amaziah's war with Edom, see the notes on 2 Chron. 25:5–16. Edom had revolted in Joram's reign (see 2 Kings 8:20) so the king wanted them subjugated again. the Valley of Salt. Probably a marshy plain at the south end of the Dead Sea (see note on 2 Sam. 8:13). Sela . . . Joktheel. Sela (meaning "rock" in Hebrew) is best identified as Petra (meaning "rock" in Greek), a city carved out of sheer mountain walls located about 50 miles south of the Dead Sea, though some prefer to place it in northern Edom near Bozra on the King's Highway (Judg. 1:36). Renaming a captured city, as Amaziah did with the name Joktheel, implied his control over it.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 14:8 Jehoash . . . of Israel. See notes on 13:10–23. look one another in the face. Amaziah's challenge to Jehoash constituted a declaration of war. Amaziah, emboldened by his victory over Edom (14:10), thought he could defeat the stronger army of Israel (cf. 13:25). He was probably also upset by the refusal of Jehoash to establish a marriage alliance with him (14:9).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 14:9 thistle . . . cedar. In this parable (cf. Judg. 9:8–15) the thorn bush (Amaziah), an irritating and worthless plant, sought to become the equal of the majestic cedar (Jehoash), but a wild animal crushed the bush. Jehoash counseled Amaziah that he was overestimating his power and prominence and should not go to war with Israel lest he be crushed (2 Kings 14:10).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 14:11 Beth-shemesh. A town about 15 miles west of Jerusalem, where the armies of Israel and Judah faced each other in battle.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 14:13 Jehoash . . . captured Amaziah. Winning the battle, Jehoash also captured Amaziah. Jehoash probably took Amaziah back to Samaria as a hostage (v. 14). The king of Judah was forced to stay in Samaria until the death of Jehoash in 782 B.C. (v. 17). Ephraim Gate . . . Corner Gate. The Corner Gate (cf. Jer. 31:38; Zech. 14:10) was at the northwest corner of the wall around Jerusalem. The Ephraim Gate was in Jerusalem's northern wall facing Ephraim, 600 feet east of the Corner Gate. This northwestern section of the wall of Jerusalem, torn down by Jehoash, was the point where Jerusalem was most vulnerable.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 14:14 he seized. Jehoash plundered both the temple at Jerusalem and the palace of Amaziah. The value of the plundered articles was probably not great, because Jehoash of Judah had previously sent the temple and palace treasures to pay tribute to Hazael of Damascus (12:17–18). Jehoash probably took hostages from Jerusalem to Samaria to secure additional payments of tribute in view of the small war booty.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 14:17 fifteen years. 782–767 B.C.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 14:18 the deeds of Amaziah. His apostasy (2 Chron. 25:27), his disastrous war with Israel, the ruinous condition of Jerusalem, the plunder of the temple, and the loss of hostages lost him the respect of his people who rebelled and killed him.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 14:19 Lachish. A town about 25 miles southwest of Jerusalem to which Amaziah fled seeking to escape death.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 14:21 sixteen years old. Azariah, a.k.a. Uzziah (see note on 15:1) had actually begun to reign at the age of 16 in 790 B.C. when his father Amaziah was taken prisoner to Samaria (14:13). When Amaziah returned to Judah, Azariah ruled with him as coregent from 782–767 B.C. (v. 17). In 767 B.C. when Amaziah was killed (v. 19), Azariah began his sole rule (15:1). See notes on 2 Chron. 26:1–23.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 14:22 Elath. Elath was located on the northern coast of the Gulf of Aqabah and was closely associated with Ezion-geber, a seaport of Solomon (1 Kings 9:26). Azariah's restoration of Elath to Judah marked the first significant act of his sole rule; his further successes are summarized in 2 Chron. 26:6–15.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 14:23 fifteenth year. C. 782 B.C. This marked the beginning of the sole reign of Jeroboam II. Since his son Zechariah succeeded him in 753 B.C. (see 15:8), Jeroboam II must have had a coregency with his father Jehoash for 11 years, making a total reign of 41 years (793–753 B.C.), longer than any other king in the northern kingdom. Jeroboam. This was Jeroboam II, who like the other kings of Israel, followed the false religion of Jeroboam I. During the reign of Jeroboam II, the prophets Hosea (Hos. 1:1) and Amos (Amos 1:1) ministered to the northern kingdom. These prophets showed that Jeroboam II's reign was a time of great prosperity and greater spiritual apostasy in Israel.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 14:25 restored the border of Israel. Jeroboam II's greatest accomplishment was the restoration of Israel's boundaries to approximately their extent in Solomon's time, excluding the territory belonging to Judah. The northern boundary was the entrance of Hamath, the same as Solomon's (cf. 1 Kings 8:65) and the southern boundary was the Sea of the Arabah, the Dead Sea (Josh. 3:16; 12:3). Jeroboam II took Hamath, a major city located on the Orontes River, about 160 miles north of the Sea of Galilee. He also controlled Damascus, indicating that the Transjordan territory south to Moab was also under his authority. These victories of Jeroboam II were accomplished because the Syrians had been weakened by attacks from the Assyrians, while Assyria herself was weak at this time, suffering from threats on her northern border, internal dissension, and a series of weak kings. Jonah. The territorial extension of Jeroboam II was in accordance with the will of the Lord as revealed through the prophet Jonah. This was the same Jonah who traveled to Nineveh with God's message of repentance for the Assyrians (see Introduction to Jonah). Gath-hepher. A town located in the tribal area of Zebulun, about 14 miles west of the Sea of Galilee (Josh. 19:13).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 14:25–26 The explanation for Jonah's prophecy is given here. The Lord himself had personally witnessed the heavy, bitter affliction borne by all in Israel with no human help available (v. 26). Further, the Lord had not decreed Israel's final doom (v. 27). To "blot out the name of Israel from under heaven" meant to annihilate Israel totally, leaving no trace or memory of her (Deut. 9:14; 29:20). Thus, moved with compassion, the Lord himself used Jeroboam II's reign to rescue his suffering people. However, as the books of Hosea and Amos show, Israel did not respond to God's grace with repentance.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 14:28 Without devotion to the Lord, Jeroboam, by might and clever leadership, brought Israel more prosperity than the country had known since Solomon. The people rested in their prosperity rather than God's power. Material blessing was no sign of God's blessing, since they had no commitment to him.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 15:1 twenty-seventh year. 767 B.C. This included the 11 years of Jeroboam II's coregency with Jehoash (see note on 14:23). Azariah. The name means "The Lord has helped" (14:21; 15:6–8, 17, 23, 27; 1 Chron. 3:12). He was also called Uzziah, meaning "The Lord is my strength" (15:13, 30, 32, 34; 2 Chron. 26:1–23; Isa. 1:1; 6:1; Hos. 1:1; Amos 1:1; Zech. 14:5). Isaiah the prophet began his public ministry during Azariah's reign (Isa. 1:1).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 15:2 fifty-two years. 790–739 B.C. Azariah was 16 when he began his coregency with his father Amaziah. Azariah's sole rule began in 767 B.C. (see note on v. 8).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 15:4 Cf. 12:3 and 14:4.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 15:5 leper. Azariah suffered from leprosy as punishment for usurping the priestly function of burning incense on the altar in the temple (see notes on 2 Chron. 26:16–20). The disease eventually killed him (see note on Isa. 6:1). separate house. Lit., "in a house of freedom." Azariah was relieved of all royal responsibilities. His son Jotham served as coregent until Azariah's death (750–739 B.C.; see notes on 15:2, 32). As coregent, Jotham specifically supervised the palace and governed the nation.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 15:8 thirty-eighth year. 753 B.C., making Azariah's co-reign with his father Amaziah (see notes on 14:21; 15:2) begin in 792–791 B.C. (accession year) or 790 B.C. (non-accession year). Zechariah. Zechariah was the fourth and final generation of the dynasty of Jehu (c. 753/752 B.C.). His death fulfilled the prophecy given by the Lord (cf. 15:12; 10:30).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 15:10 Shallum. Shallum killed Zechariah and replaced him as king of Israel. Assyrian records call Shallum "the son of nobody," indicating that he was not from the royal family.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 15:13 thirty-ninth year. 752 B.C. Zechariah's reign spanned the last months of Azariah's thirty-eighth year (v. 8) and the first months of the following year.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 15:14 Menahem. Menahem had probably been a military commander under Zechariah. Tirzah. The former capital of the northern kingdom (1 Kings 14:17; 15:21, 33), located about 9 miles east of Samaria. Menahem was probably stationed with his troops at Tirzah.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 15:16 Tiphseh. Since Tiphseh was located on the Euphrates River about 325 miles north of Samaria (1 Kings 4:24), a majority of interpreters translate this term “Tappuah,” a town 14 miles southwest of Tirzah (Josh. 17:8). ripped open. The ripping open of pregnant women was a barbarous practice and elsewhere associated only with foreign armies (2 Kings 8:12; Hos. 13:16; Amos 1:13). Menahem probably did this as a visible reminder of the city’s failure to “open” up, or surrender, to his demands.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 15:17 thirty-ninth year. 752 B.C. ten years. 752–742 B.C. With Menahem, the northern kingdom changed from the non-accession to the accession-year system of computing reigns.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 15:19 Pul. Assyrian kings frequently had two names, a throne name for Assyria and another for Babylon. Pul was the Babylonian throne name of the Assyrian king Tiglath-pileser III (cf. 1 Chron. 5:26) who reigned c. 745–727 B.C.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 15:19–20 Tiglath-pileser III invaded Israel in 743 B.C. Menahem paid tribute of 1,000 talents of silver (c. 37 tons) raised from the wealthy men of Israel. Each of 60,000 men paid 20 oz. of silver to raise the required 37 tons of silver. For his tribute, Tiglath-pileser III supported Menahem’s claim to the throne of Israel and withdrew his army. By this action, Menahem became a vassal of the Assyrian king.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 15:23 fiftieth year. 742 B.C. two years. 742–740 B.C.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 15:24 sins of Jeroboam. See notes on 13:2; 1 Kings 12:25–32.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 15:25 Pekah. See note on 15:27. Pekah was one of Pekahiah’s military officers, probably commanding Gilead, since 50 Gileadites accompanied him when he assassinated Pekahiah. Argob and Arieah were either Pekahiah’s sons or loyal military officers. Pekah probably represented the anti-Assyrian faction in Israel (cf. 16:5).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 15:27 fifty-second year. 740 B.C. twenty years. On the basis of Assyrian records, it can be determined that Tilgath-pileser III deposed Pekah as king of Israel in 732 B.C., evidently using Hoshea as his instrument. Therefore, Pekah reigned c. 752–732 B.C., using the accession-year system of dating (that is, counting the first year as one). For an explanation of this dating system see 1 Kings Introduction: Interpretive Challenges. This included the years 752–740 B.C., when Pekah ruled in Gilead while Menahem (vv. 17–22) and Pekahiah (vv. 23–26) reigned in Samaria (the Jordan River being the boundary of the split kingdom). Verse 25 seems to indicate that Pekah had an alliance with Menahem and Pekahiah, ruling Gilead for them.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 15:29 Ijon . . . Naphtali. The areas of Galilee and Gilead are described here. When Pekah and Rezin, the king of Syria, sought to have Judah join their anti-Assyrian alliance, another invasion by Assyria was provoked (cf. 16:5–9) in 733/732 B.C. Tiglath-pileser III took Galilee and Gilead and converted them into three Assyrian provinces governed by royal appointees. He also was involved in replacing Pekah with Hoshea as king over the remaining area of Israel (see note on 15:27).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 15:30 twentieth year. Jotham of Judah began his reign in 750 B.C. (see note on 15:32). His twentieth year was 732 B.C., according to the non-accession-year system. Assyrian records confirm that Hoshea began to rule Israel in 732 B.C. (see notes on 15:27; 2 Chron. 27:1–9).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 15:32 second year. 750 B.C., the year of Pekah's second year of rule in Gilead, according to the accession-year system (see note on 15:27).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 15:33 sixteen years. 750–735 B.C. According to v. 30, Jotham reigned until 731 B.C. Jotham was probably replaced as a functioning king of Judah by a pro-Assyrian faction who established Ahaz as ruler (see notes on 15:1–2) while leaving Jotham as a powerless coregent. Isaiah (Isa. 1:1) and Micah (Micah 1:1) the prophets ministered to Judah during Jotham's reign.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 15:35 the upper gate. Probably the upper Benjamin Gate, which stood along the north side of the temple complex facing the territory of Benjamin (cf. Jer. 20:2; Ezek. 9:2; Zech. 14:10). Other accomplishments of Jotham are noted in 2 Chron. 27:3–6.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 15:37 Rezin . . . Pekah. See notes on 16:5–9.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 16:1–17:41 At this point the narrative turns to the defeat and exile of Israel by Assyria. In 17:7–23, the prophetic writer states the reasons why Israel was punished by the Lord. A major reason was the sinful religion established by Jeroboam I (17:21–23), which was followed by every king in Israel. Ominously, the section begins with the narrative concerning Ahaz of Judah who “walked in the way of the kings of Israel” (16:3). The kind of punishment that came upon Israel would come later upon Judah for the same reason (17:19–20).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 16:1 seventeenth year. 735 B.C., since Pekah’s reign began in 752 B.C. (see note on 15:27). Although Jotham, the father of Ahaz, was still alive (see note on 15:30), Ahaz exercised the sovereign authority in Judah from 735 B.C. to Jotham’s death in c. 731 B.C. Isaiah (Isa. 1:1–7:1) and Micah (Mic. 1:1) the prophets continued to minister to Judah during the reign of Ahaz. See notes on 2 Chron. 28:1–27.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 16:2 sixteen years. 731–715 B.C. The principle of “dual dating” was followed here. See 1 Kings Introduction: Interpretive Challenges for an explanation of this principle. In 2 Kings 16:1 and 17:1, Ahaz was recognized as king in the year he came to the throne as a coregent, but the year of his official accession was determined as the year when he began to reign alone. Ahaz shared royal power with Azariah (to 739 B.C.) and Jotham from 744 to 735 B.C. (see note on 17:1); he exercised total authority as coregent with Jotham from 735–731 B.C. (see note on 16:1); he was sole king from 731 to 729 B.C. and was coregent with his son Hezekiah from 729 to 715 B.C. (see note on 18:1).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 16:3 walked in the way of the kings of Israel. This does not necessarily mean that Ahaz participated in the calf worship introduced by Jeroboam I at Bethel and Dan, but that he increasingly brought pagan, idolatrous practices into the worship of the Lord in Jerusalem. These are specified in vv. 10–16 and parallel those of Jeroboam I in the northern kingdom. This included idols to Baal (2 Chron. 28:2). burned his son as an offering. As a part of the ritual worship of Molech, the god of the Moabites, children were sacrificed by fire (cf. 2 Kings 3:27). This horrific practice was continually condemned in the OT (Lev. 18:21; 20:2–5; Deut. 18:10; Jer. 7:31; 19:5; 32:35). despicable practices of the nations. See note on Deut. 18:9–12.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 16:4 the high places. Ahaz was the first king in the line of David since Solomon who was said to have personally worshiped at the high places. While all the other kings of Judah had tolerated the high places, Ahaz actively participated in the immoral Canaanite practices that were performed at the “high places” on hilltops under large trees (cf. Hos. 4:13).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 16:5 Rezin . . . Pekah. The kings of Syria and Israel wanted to overthrow Ahaz in order to force Judah into their anti-Assyrian coalition. The two kings with their armies besieged Jerusalem, seeking to replace Ahaz with their own king (cf. Isa. 7:1–6). The Lord delivered Judah and Ahaz from this threat because of his promise to David (cf. Isa. 7:7–16).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 16:6 Elath. The Syrians did displace Judah from Elath (see note on 14:22). Later this important port town on the Gulf of Aqabah was captured by the Edomites.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 16:7 Tiglath-pileser. See notes on 15:19–29. your servant and your son. Ahaz willingly became a vassal of the Assyrian king in exchange for his military intervention. This was a pledge that Judah would serve Assyria from this point on. In support of his pledge, Ahaz sent Tiglath-pileser III silver and gold from the temple and from the palace treasuries (16:8). Evidently the prosperous reigns of Azariah and Jotham had replenished the treasures plundered by Jehoash of Israel 50 years earlier during Amaziah’s reign (14:14).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 16:9 the king of Assyria listened to him. According to Assyrian records, in 733 B.C. Tiglath-pileser III’s army marched against Damascus, the Syrian capital, laid siege for two years, and captured it. The victorious Assyrian king executed Rezin and deported his subjects to Kir, whose location is unknown.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 16:10 the altar. When Ahaz traveled to Damascus to meet Tiglath-pileser III, he saw a large altar (v. 15) which was most likely Assyrian. Ahaz sent a sketch of this altar to Uriah the high priest in Jerusalem and Uriah built an altar just like it. The serious iniquity in this was meddling with and changing, according to personal taste, the furnishings of the temple, the design for which had been given by God (Ex. 25:40; 26:30; 27:1–8; 1 Chron. 28:19). This was like building an idol in the temple, done to please the pagan Assyrian king, whom Ahaz served instead of God.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 16:12–13 offering. As did Solomon and Jeroboam before him (1 Kings 8:63; 12:32), Ahaz dedicated the new altar by offering sacrifices.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 16:14–16 bronze altar. Feeling confident about his alterations in the temple, Ahaz moved the old bronze altar dedicated by Solomon (1 Kings 8:22, 54, 64), which stood in front of the temple between the new altar and the temple itself (16:14). Ahaz had the bronze altar moved to a spot north of the new altar, thereby relegating it to a place of secondary importance. All offerings from then on were to be given on the altar dedicated by Ahaz, while Ahaz reserved the bronze altar for his personal use in seeking guidance (v. 15). The term “inquire” probably referred here to pagan divination through religious rituals. Deut. 18:9–14 expressly forbade such divination in Israel.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 16:17–18 Ahaz made further changes in the temple at Jerusalem. First, he removed the side panels (“frames”) and “basin” from the portable stands (cf. 1 Kings 7:27–29, 38–39). Second, he removed the large ornate reservoir called “the sea” from atop the 12 bronze bulls to a new stone base (cf. 1 Kings 7:23–26). Third, he removed the “covered way,” probably some sort of canopy used by the king on the Sabbath. Fourth, he removed “the outer entrance,” probably a special entrance to the temple used by the king on Sabbaths and feast days (cf. 1 Kings 10:5).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 16:18 because of the king of Assyria. Both items mentioned here were moved from the temple in hope that if the king of Assyria laid siege to Jerusalem, Ahaz could secure the entrance of the temple from him.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 16:20 Hezekiah. For his reign, see 18:1–20:21.

The Fall of Samaria and Deportation of Israelites

During the reign of Hoshea of Israel, Shalmaneser of Assyria attacked Israel and made it a vassal kingdom. Later, however, Hoshea conspired against Assyria, refusing to pay the tribute and appealing to Egypt for help, so the Assyrians came and besieged Samaria until it fell. Many Israelites were exiled far from Israel to the area near Gozan and the cities of the Medes, and foreign peoples from other parts of the empire were relocated to Israel in an effort to prevent revolt. This signaled the end of the northern kingdom of Israel.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 17:1 twelfth year. 732 B.C. This date for the accession of Hoshea as king of Israel is well established according to biblical and extra-biblical data (see note on 15:27). Therefore, Ahaz of Judah must have become coregent with his father Jotham, who was himself coregent with his father, Azariah, at that time (see notes on 15:30, 33), in 744 B.C. (see note on 16:2). nine years. 732–722 B.C. according to the accession-year system. Hoshea was imprisoned (v. 4) during the siege of Samaria by Assyria in 724–722 B.C. (v. 5).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 17:2 he did what was evil. Though Hoshea was characterized as a wicked king, it is not stated that he promoted the religious practices of Jeroboam I. In this way, he was some improvement on the kings of Israel who had gone before him. However, this slight improvement did not offset the centuries of sin by Israel’s kings nor divert her inevitable doom.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 17:3 Shalmaneser. Shalmaneser V succeeded his father Tiglath-pileser III as king of Assyria and reigned from 727–722 B.C. During the siege of Samaria, when the Assyrians began the destruction and captivity of the northern kingdom, Shalmaneser V died and was succeeded by Sargon II (see Isa. 20:1), who completed the siege, captured the city, destroyed the nation of Israel, and exiled the inhabitants (2 Kings 17:6). Sargon II reigned as king from 722–705 B.C. See note on Hos. 10:14.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 17:4 So, king of Egypt. Instead of paying his yearly tribute owed as a vassal of Assyria, Hoshea tried to make a treaty with Osorkon IV (c. 727–716 B.C.), king of Egypt. This was foolish because Assyria was powerful. It was also against God’s will, which forbade such alliances with pagan rulers (cf. Deut. 7:2). This rebellion led to Israel’s destruction (2 Kings 17:5–6).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 17:5 Samaria . . . besieged. In 724 B.C., Shalmaneser V invaded Israel and quickly conquered the land and captured Hoshea. However, the capital city of Samaria resisted the Assyrian invaders until 722 B.C. Like all major cities, Samaria had an internal water supply and plenty of stored food that allowed her to endure the siege for three years.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 17:6 king of Assyria. Sargon II (see note on v. 3). carried the Israelites away. The capture of Samaria marked the end of the northern kingdom. According to Assyrian records, the Assyrians deported 27,290 inhabitants of Israel to distant locations. The relocation of populations was characteristic of Assyrian policy during that era. The Israelites were resettled in the upper Tigris-Euphrates Valley and never returned to the Promised Land. “Halah” was a city northeast of Nineveh. The “Habor” River was a northern tributary of the Euphrates. The “cities of the Medes” were northeast of Nineveh. Samaria was resettled with foreigners (v. 24). God did what he said he would do in Deut. 28. The Jews were carried as far east as Susa, where the book of Esther later took place.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 17:7–23 In these verses, the writer departs from quoting his written sources and gives his own explanation for the captivity of Israel. Judah is included, though her captivity did not occur until 605/604–586 B.C. at the hands of the Babylonians. Her sins were the same. Here is a very full and impressive vindication of God’s action in punishing his privileged but rebellious and apostate people. In v. 7, he begins by stating that the Israelites had sinned against the Lord who had redeemed them from Egypt. Gross perversion of the worship of God and national propensity to idolatry finally exhausted divine patience. The idolatry of Israel is described in vv. 7–12. In response to Israel’s actions, the Lord sent his prophets to Israel and Judah with a message of repentance (v. 13). However, the people failed to respond to the prophets’ messages, because, like their fathers, they did not have faith in the Lord (v. 14). Their lack of faith resulted in disobedience to the Lord’s commands and the further pursuit of idolatry (vv. 15–17). The idolatry of Israel (and Judah) brought forth the anger of the Lord, which resulted in exile (v. 18). The “great sin” of both Israel and Judah was their continual following of the sinful pattern of Jeroboam I, departing from the Lord and practicing idolatry, thus bringing down the judgment of captivity predicted by the prophets (vv. 19–23).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 17:7 feared other gods. The primary cause of Israel’s exile was the worship of other gods. The fear of the Lord led to listening to his word and obeying his ordinances and statutes (Deut. 4:10; 5:29; 6:24), but the fear of the gods of Canaan led Israel to obey the laws of the Canaanite gods (2 Kings 17:8). The result of this obedience to false gods is recorded in vv. 9–12, 16–17.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 17:8 walked in the customs of the nations. This was expressly forbidden in Lev. 18:3 and 20:23.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 17:9 built . . . high places. In addition to their private sins (“secret”), judgment came for public wickedness and idolatry. These were not the high places utilized by Israel for worshiping God before the building of the temple (see note on 1 Kings 3:2). In direct disobedience to Deut. 12:1–4, the Israelites built new raised altars in the Canaanite pattern after the temple was constructed. These “high places” were in all the habitations of Israel, from small fortified structures to large garrison cities, i.e., from the smallest to largest towns. The altars were on wooded hills with images representing the false gods (2 Kings 17:10; cf. Deut. 16:21–22).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 17:13 Turn from your evil ways. The prophets continually called the people to repentance (cf. Jer. 7:3–5; 18:11; Ezek. 33:11).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 17:14 stubborn. A stubborn refusal to respond (see note on Deut. 9:6; cf. Ex. 32:9; 33:3–5; 34:9; Acts 7:51).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 17:16 metal images of two calves. Worship of these idols was instituted by Jeroboam (see 1 Kings 12:25–33). an Asherah. Built by Rehoboam (see 1 Kings 14:15, 23). the host of heaven. In the ancient Near East, the sun, moon, and stars were deified and worshiped. This astral worship entered Israel and Judah (2 Kings 21:5; 23:4–5; Ezek. 8:15–16; Amos 5:26). The worship of the heavenly bodies was prohibited by the Mosaic law (Deut. 4:19; 17:3).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 17:17 burned. See notes on 3:27 and 16:3. divination and omens. See note on Deut. 18:9–12. Isaiah prophesied of the devastation these practices would produce (2 Kings 8:19–22).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 17:19 Judah followed Israel into sin and judgment.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 17:21 he had torn Israel. See notes on 1 Kings 11:11–13, 29–39.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 17:22 the sins that Jeroboam. See notes on 1 Kings 12:25–32. The sins of that king put in motion an unbroken pattern of idolatrous iniquity. See note on 2 Kings 13:2.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 17:23 until this day. The exiles of Israel never returned en masse as did Judah (see note on 1 Chron. 9:1).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 17:24 Samaria. After its conquest by the Assyrians, the central hill and coastal plain region of the former northern kingdom of Israel became an Assyrian province, all of which was called “Samaria” after the ancient capital city (cf. vv. 28–29). The Assyrian king, Sargon II, settled alien people, who came from widely scattered areas also conquered by Assyria, into the abandoned Israelite towns. Babylon and Cuthah were located in southern Mesopotamia. Hamath was a town on the Orontes River in Syria. The exact location of Avva and Sepharvaim are unknown. These people, who intermarried with the Jews who escaped exile, became the Samaritans—a mixed Jew and Gentile people, later hated by NT Jews (cf. Matt. 10:5; John 4:9; see notes on Luke 10:29–36).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 17:25 lions among them. Lions were employed occasionally as instruments of punishment by God (cf. 1 Kings 13:24; 20:36).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 17:26 the law of the god. The newcomers interpreted the lions as a punishment from the God of Israel, whom they viewed as a deity who needed to be placated. Since they did not know how to appease him, they appealed for help to Sargon II.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 17:27–28 one of the priests. In response, the Assyrian king ordered an Israelite priest back to Samaria from exile to teach the people what the God of the land required in worship.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 17:29–32 Though they had been taught the proper way to worship God, these people all placed God alongside their other gods in an eclectic kind of worship that was blasphemy to the one true and living God.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 17:30 Succoth-benoth. Lit., “tents of the daughters,” probably indicating some deity worshiped by sexual orgies. Nergal. Perhaps the Assyrian god of war. Ashima. An idol in the form of a bald he-goat.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 17:31 Nibhaz. A dog-like idol. Tartak. Either a donkey or a celestial body, Saturn. Adrammelech. Perhaps the same as Molech, worshiped in the form of the sun, a mule, or a peacock. Anammelech. A rabbit or a goat idol.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 17:33 served their own gods. The religion of the Samaritans was syncretistic; it combined elements of the worship of the Lord with the worship practices of the gods that the Assyrian settlers had brought with them (see note on v. 24).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 17:34–41 Having shown how the Samaritan people and their religion came into being (vv. 24–33), the writer of Kings shows how the syncretistic worship of the Samaritans continued for generations, even to his own day (cf. v. 41; during the Babylonian exile). The religion of the Samaritans was, at its foundation, no different from Jeroboam I’s deviant religion.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 18:1–25:21 With the fall of Samaria, the northern kingdom of Israel came to an end (17:5–6; 18:9–12). This last major division of the books of Kings narrates the events in the surviving southern kingdom of Judah from 722 B.C. to its captivity and destruction in 586 B.C. These chapters are dominated by the accounts of two good kings, Hezekiah (18:1–20:21) and Josiah (22:1–23:30). However, the reforms of these two godly kings did not reverse the effects of the two worst kings of Judah, Ahaz (16:1–20) and Manasseh (21:1–18). The result of Judah’s apostasy was exile, just like it was for Israel (23:31–25:21). The books of Kings begin with the building of the temple (1 Kings 5:1–6:38) and end with its destruction (2 Kings 25:8–9, 13–17), chronicling the sad journey from the establishment of true worship to the destruction of apostasy.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 18:1 third year. C. 729 B.C. Hoshea began to reign in 732 B.C. (see notes on 15:27; 17:1). Hezekiah was coregent with Ahaz to 715 B.C. (see note on 16:2). See notes on 2 Chron. 29:1–32:32. With this verse, the writer returned from his digression summarizing the causes of captivity to the historical record of the kings of the southern kingdom, Judah.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 18:2 twenty-nine years. 715–686 B.C. He reigned by himself for 20 years (715–695 B.C.), and with his son, Manasseh, for nine years (695–686 B.C.). The 29 years given here indicate only those years after his coregency with Ahaz was over, when he was the actual sovereign. During Hezekiah’s reign, the prophets Isaiah (19:2; Isa. 1:1; 37:21) and Micah (Micah 1:1) continued to minister in Judah.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 18:4 removed the high places. Hezekiah was the first king of Judah to totally eradicate the high places, i.e., the worship centers built contrary to the Mosaic law (cf. Deut. 12:2–7, 13, 14). pillars . . . Asherah. Hezekiah destroyed the idols used in the worship of Baal and Asherah. the bronze serpent. Hezekiah broke the Nehushtan into pieces, i.e., the bronze snake made by Moses in the wilderness (see notes on Num. 21:4–9), because Judah had come to worship it as an idol, perhaps influenced by Canaanite religion, which regarded snakes as fertility symbols.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 18:5 He trusted in the Lord, the God of Israel. The most noble quality of Hezekiah (in dramatic contrast to his father, Ahaz) was that he relied on the Lord as his exclusive hope in every situation. What distinguished him from all other kings of Judah (after the division of the kingdom) was his firm trust in the Lord during a severe national crisis (18:17–19:34). Despite troublesome events, Hezekiah clung tightly to the Lord, faithfully following him and obeying his commands (18:6). As a result, the Lord was with him and gave him success (v. 7).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 18:7 He rebelled against . . . Assyria. Before he became king, his father had submitted to Assyria. Courageously, Hezekiah broke that control by Assyria and asserted independence (cf. Deut. 7:2).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 18:8 Gaza. The southernmost city of the Philistines, located about 55 miles southwest of Jerusalem. Since Assyria had controlled Philistia, Hezekiah's invasion defied Assyrian rule and brought the threat of retaliation.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 18:9–12 These verses flash back to the time just before Israel's destruction and captivity to give a summary of the fall of Samaria (more fully narrated in 17:5–23) as a graphic reminder of the Assyrian power and the threat they still were to Judah. This review sets the scene for the siege of Jerusalem with its reminder of Israel's apostasy against which Hezekiah's faith in the Lord was a bright contrast.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 18:13–20:19 This narrative, with a few omissions and additions, is found in Isa. 36:1–39:8. See Isaiah notes for amplification.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 18:13 fourteenth year. 701 B.C. Hezekiah began his sole rule in 715 B.C. (see notes on 18:1–2). This date for the siege of Jerusalem is confirmed in Assyrian sources. Sennacherib. He succeeded Sargon II as king of Assyria in 705 B.C. and ruled until 681 B.C. Hezekiah had rebelled against him (v. 7), probably by withholding tribute when he invaded Philistia. fortified cities. See note on Isa. 36:1.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 18:14–16 Hezekiah sought to rectify the situation with Sennacherib by admitting his error in rebelling and paying the tribute the Assyrian king demanded. Sennacherib asked for about 11 tons of silver and one ton of gold. To pay, Hezekiah emptied the temple and palace treasuries and stripped the layers of gold off the doors and doorposts of the temple.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 18:17–24 The tribute did not satisfy Sennacherib, who sent messengers to demand Hezekiah's complete surrender.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 18:17 Tartan. General of the Assyrian army (cf. Isa. 20:1). Rab-saris. A high official in the palace. Rabshakeh. The word is not a proper noun, but means "commander." He was the spokesman for Sennacherib, who represented the king against Jerusalem on this occasion. Lachish. See note on 14:19. Sennacherib's conquest of this city was in its closing phase when he sent the messengers. great army. This was a token force of the main army (19:35) with which Sennacherib hoped to bluff Judah into submitting. conduit of the upper pool. Isaiah had met Ahaz at the same spot to try, unsuccessfully, to dissuade him from trusting in foreign powers (Isa. 7:3). It was probably located on the higher ground northwest of Jerusalem on the main north-south highway between Judah and Samaria. Washer's. The word means "launderer" and indicates the field where such activity was done, being near the water supply.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 18:18 Eliakim . . . Shebna. Eliakim was the palace administrator and Shebna, the secretary. See notes on Isa. 22:19–22. Joah . . . the recorder. The position was that of an intermediary between the king and the people (cf. 2 Sam. 8:16).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 18:19–25 The Rabshakeh's logic was twofold: 1) Egypt would be unable to deliver Jerusalem (vv. 20–21, 23–24); and 2) the Lord had called on the Assyrians to destroy Judah (vv. 22, 25).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 18:19 great king. Cf. v. 28. The self-appropriated title of Assyrian kings. In contrast, Rabshakeh rudely omitted any title for Hezekiah (vv. 19, 22, 29, 30–32).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 18:20 mere words. See note on Isa. 36:5. In whom do you now trust . . . ? The implication was that Assyria was so strong, there was none stronger.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 18:21 broken reed . . . Egypt. The Assyrian's advice strongly resembled that of Isaiah (Isa. 19:14–16; 30:7; 31:3). Egypt was not strong and could not be counted on for help.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 18:22 he whose high places and altars. The Rabshakeh mistakenly thought Hezekiah's reforms in removing idols from all over the land and reestablishing central worship in Jerusalem (v. 4; 2 Chron. 31:1) had removed opportunities to worship the Lord, and thus cut back on honoring Judah's God, thereby displeasing him and forfeiting his help in war. this altar. That all worship should center in Solomon's temple was utterly foreign to the polytheistic Assyrians.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 18:23–24 See note on Isa. 36:8–9.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 18:25 The Lord said. See note on Isa. 36:10.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 18:26 Aramaic . . . language of Judah. See note on Isa. 36:11.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 18:27 men . . . on the wall. See note on Isa. 36:12.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 18:28–32 The Rabshakeh spoke longer and louder in Hebrew suggesting that Hezekiah could not save the city, but the great king, of Assyria, would fill the people with abundance if they would promise to surrender to his sovereign control, give tribute to him, and be willing to go into a rich and beneficial exile (vv. 31–32).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 18:32 take you away. See note on Isa. 36:17.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 18:32–35 See note on Isa. 36:18–20.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 18:36 were silent. See note on Isa. 36:21.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 18:37 clothes torn. See note on Isa. 36:22.

Hezekiah Fortifies Jerusalem

c. 702 B.C.

In anticipation of an Assyrian attack, King Hezekiah of Judah fortified Jerusalem, repairing broken sections of the wall and redirecting the flow of water from the Gihon Spring into the city. He also outfitted his army with weapons and shields and appointed battle commanders over the people. Archaeological evidence suggests he also enclosed the western hill of the city with a new wall and built the Temple Mount around Solomon's temple.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 19:1 tore . . . sackcloth. See note on 6:30. A reaction that symbolized Hezekiah's grief, repentance, and contrition. The nation had to repent and the king had to lead the way. house of the Lord. See note on Isa. 37:1.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 19:2 senior priests. See note on Isa. 37:2. the prophet Isaiah. The first reference in 1 and 2 Kings to one of the Lord's greatest prophets (cf. Isa. 1:1). He had already been ministering for 40 years since the days of Uzziah (Isa. 6:1), also called Azariah (2 Kings 14:21).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 19:3 come to the point of birth . . . no strength. See note on Isa. 37:3.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 19:4 mock the living God. See note on Isa. 37:4. remnant that is left. See note on Isa. 37:4.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 19:6 Do not be afraid. Sennacherib had blasphemed the Lord by equating him with other gods. The Lord would personally demonstrate to the Assyrian king his superiority over all other so-called deities.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 19:7 spirit. The Lord promised to incline Sennacherib's attitude in such a way that he would leave Jerusalem unharmed and return home. How the Lord did that is recorded in vv. 35–37.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 19:8 Libnah. See note on Isa. 37:8.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 19:9 Tirhakah king of Cush. See note on Isa. 37:9.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 19:9–13 The king of Assyria sent messengers to summarize the arguments given in the Rabshakeh's ultimatum of 18:19–25.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 19:10 deceive. The accusation of deception was first against Hezekiah (18:29), then against the Lord.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 19:11–13 The threat repeated the thrust of 18:33–35.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 19:12–13 The conquered cities mentioned here lay between the Tigris and Euphrates Rivers in Mesopotamia, and were cities of Syria that had recently fallen to Sennacherib and the Assyrians.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 19:14 house of the Lord. Godly Hezekiah returned to the house of the Lord (cf. v. 1) as he should have, in contrast to Ahaz who in a similar crisis refused even to ask a sign from the Lord (Isa. 7:11–12).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 19:15 enthroned . . . made heaven and earth. See note on Isa. 37:16.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 19:16 hear . . . see . . . hear. See note on Isa. 37:17.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 19:17–18 See note on Isa. 37:18–19.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 19:19 you . . . alone. See note on Isa. 37:20.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 19:20 Isaiah the son of Amoz. See note on Isa. 37:21.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 19:21 despises you. See note on Isa. 37:22.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 19:22 you mocked and reviled. The Lord had heard Sennacherib's reproach against him (v. 16).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 19:23–24 See note on Isa. 37:24–25.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 19:25–28 I bring to pass. See notes on Isa. 37:26–29.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 19:29 sign. The two years in which they were sustained by the growth of the crops were the two in which Sennacherib ravaged them. He left immediately after the deliverance (v. 36), so in the third year the people remaining could plant again.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 19:30–31 remnant . . . remnant. From the remnant of survivors in Jerusalem came descendants who covered the land once again (cf. Isa. 1:9, 27; 3:10; 4:3; 6:13; 8:16–17; 10:20–22; 11:12, 16; 26:1–4, 8; 27:12; 28:5; 37:4).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 19:31 zeal of the Lord. The same confirmation of God's promise in v. 7 assured the future establishment of the messianic kingdom. Deliverance from Sennacherib in Hezekiah's day was a down payment on the literal, final restoration of Israel at Christ's second coming.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 19:32 shall not come . . . cast up a siege mound. See note on Isa. 37:33.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 19:33 he shall return. See note on Isa. 37:34.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 19:34 for my own sake. Since Sennacherib had directly challenged the Lord's faithfulness to his word (v. 10), the faithfulness of God was at stake in this contest with the Assyrians (cf. Ezek. 36:22–23). for the sake of my servant David. God pledged to perpetuate David's line on his throne (2 Sam. 7:16; cf. Isa. 9:6, 7; 11:1; 55:3).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 19:35 the angel of the Lord. For identification, see note on Ex. 3:2. For the angel as an agent of destruction, see Gen. 19:15 and 2 Sam. 24:16.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 19:35–37 struck. See notes on Isa. 37:36–38.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 20:1 In those days . . . point of death. The date of Hezekiah's sickness poses three reasonable possibilities: 1) since Hezekiah would be given 15 years of life and delivered from the Assyrians (v. 6), the sickness occurred c. 701 B.C.; 2) since Merodach-baladan (v. 12) died in 703 B.C., the sickness occurred shortly before and was followed by the embassy from Babylon that saw the temple treasures (vv. 12–19); or 3) since Merodach-baladan's greatest power was c. 721–710 B.C., Hezekiah's sickness occurred during those years. The first or second possibility is most likely. Set your house in order. An instruction telling Hezekiah to make his final will known to his family (cf. 2 Sam. 17:23). you shall die; you shall not recover. The prediction sounded final, but Hezekiah knew God was willing to hear his appeal (cf. Ex. 32:7–14).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 20:2–3 prayed . . . wept bitterly. Hezekiah reminded the Lord in prayer of his piety and devotion to God. He did not specifically ask to be healed. Based on the interpretation of the date from v. 1, Hezekiah wept because: 1) he thought his death would give Sennacherib cause for boasting; or 2) his son Manasseh was too young to become king.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 20:3 whole heart. See note on Isa. 38:3.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 20:6 fifteen years. The Lord's immediate (v. 4) response granted the king's request. Having to reverse a prophecy so quickly did not alarm Isaiah as it did Jonah later on (Jonah 4:2–3). Isaiah resembled Nathan in this respect (2 Sam. 7:3–6). I will deliver . . . this city. See note on Isa. 38:6.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 20:8–11 sign . . . back ten steps. Here is the first biblical mention of any means of marking time. Hezekiah requested this sign to confirm the Lord's promise of healing.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 20:12 At that time. Just after Hezekiah's sickness and recovery. Merodach-baladan. This ruler of the city of Babylon defied Assyria repeatedly between 721 and 710 B.C. He apparently approached Hezekiah (c. 703 B.C.) for help against Sargon, king of Assyria, though interest in the reversal of the sundial (2 Chron. 32:31) and Hezekiah's recovery may have been part of his motivation.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 20:13 Hezekiah welcomed. The text does not say whether it was because of flattery or out of a desire for help against the Assyrian threat. Cf.

“gladly” in Isa. 39:2.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 20:13–14 treasure house . . . storehouses. See notes on Isa. 39:2–3.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 20:16–17 word of the Lord . . . carried to Babylon. Isaiah predicted the Babylonian captivity that would come over a century later (586 B.C.), another prophecy historically fulfilled in all of its expected detail.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 20:17 Nothing shall be left. Hezekiah’s sin of parading his wealth before the visitors backfired, though this sin was only symptomatic of the ultimate reason for the captivity. The major cause was the corrupt leadership of Manasseh, Hezekiah’s son (21:11–15).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 20:18 sons, who shall be born to you. Hezekiah’s sons had to go into captivity. See 24:12–16; 2 Chron. 33:11; Dan. 1:3–4, 6 for the prophecy’s fulfillment.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 20:19 word of the Lord . . . good. A surprising response to the negative prophecy of vv. 16–18. It acknowledged Isaiah as God’s faithful messenger, and God’s goodness in not destroying Jerusalem during Hezekiah’s lifetime. peace and security in my days. Hezekiah might have reacted selfishly, or perhaps he looked for a bright spot to lighten the gloomy fate of his descendants.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 20:20 conduit. See note on 2 Chron. 32:30.

Exile to Babylon

597, 586 B.C.

The final years of the kingdom of Judah were marked by a power struggle between the Egyptians and the Babylonians, the rising power that had overtaken the Assyrian Empire. King Nebuchadnezzar of Babylon eventually won out and seized control of the Mediterranean coastal lands. When Zedekiah, who had been placed on the throne of Judah by the Babylonians, rebelled, Nebuchadnezzar besieged Jerusalem and captured the city. Zedekiah fled toward the east but was captured near Jericho and sent to Riblah to be judged.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 21:1 twelve years old. Manasseh began to reign as co-regent alongside his father, Hezekiah, in 695 B.C. Since the years of the subsequent royal reigns in Judah total ten years longer than the actual historical period and the dates of the later kings synchronize well with history, it is best to assume a 10-year co-regency in Manasseh's long reign. Hezekiah groomed his son as a youth to succeed him as king; however, Manasseh turned out to be the worst king in Judah's history. fifty-five years. 695–642 B.C. See notes on 2 Chron.

33:1–20.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 21:2 the despicable practices of the nations. The detestable practices of the Canaanites were enumerated in Deut. 18:9–12. Israel’s reproduction of these abominable practices of the nations that preceded her in the land was forbidden in Deut. 12:29–31. The idolatry of Manasseh is detailed in 2 Kings 21:3–9 (cf. 17:7–12, 15–17).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 21:3 high places . . . altars . . . Asherah. Manasseh reversed the reforms of Hezekiah (cf. 18:4), reestablishing the worship of Baal as an official state-sanctioned religion in Judah, just as Ahab had done in Israel (cf. 1 Kings 16:30–33). host of heaven. See note on 2 Kings 17:16. The worship of the sun, moon, and stars was prohibited in Deut. 4:19 and 17:2–5.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 21:4 altars in the house of the Lord. These altars were dedicated to “the host of heaven” (v. 5).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 21:6 burned his son. See note on 16:3. fortune-telling . . . omens . . . mediums and with necromancers. The king was engaged in every form of occultism, including black magic, fortune-telling, demon contacts, and wizards. All this was in direct violation of God’s law (Lev. 19:31; Deut. 18:9–12).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 21:7 set . . . put. Manasseh provoked the Lord by “setting” an idol of a Canaanite goddess in the temple where the Lord had “set” his name (see 1 Kings 8:29; 9:3; 2 Chron. 7:12, 16). Asherah (cf. 2 Kings 23:4; 2 Chron. 15:16) was believed to be the mother of 70 deities, including Baal.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 21:8–9 This alludes to the promise of 2 Sam. 7:10. From the very start of their time in Canaan, the people were called to this obedience, but because the people of Judah did not follow carefully the stipulations of the Mosaic law, they were again led into idolatry by Manasseh. Their idolatry even exceeded the idolatry of the Canaanites from whom they took the land.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 21:10 the prophets. Through his spokesman, the Lord announced Judah’s judgment. In vv. 11–15, the prophetic message to Judah is summarized.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 21:11 Amorites. A general designation of the original inhabitants of Canaan (cf. Gen. 15:16; Josh. 24:8).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 21:13 the plumb line. These were weighted lines dropped from walls to see whether they were structurally straight (cf. Isa. 28:17; Amos 7:7–8). Walls out of line were torn down. The Lord had measured Jerusalem by the standard of his word and had determined that the fate of Samaria (Israel) was also to befall Jerusalem. wipe Jerusalem. As one would wipe food off a dish, the Lord would wipe Jerusalem clean off the earth, i.e., obliterate her, and leave her turned upside down, empty, and useless.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 21:14 forsake. The Lord was going to abandon his people into the hands of enemies who would plunder them (cf. Jer. 12:7). remnant. Judah, the only remaining group of the chosen people.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 21:15 provoked me to anger. The history of God's people Israel was a history of disobedience toward the Lord. With the reign of Manasseh, the sin of God's people climaxed, God's patience was withdrawn, and the judgment of exile became inevitable (cf. 24:1–4).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 21:16 very much innocent blood. The reference here is ambiguous and several interpretations have been offered: 1) child sacrifice (cf. v. 6); 2) oppression and persecution of the weak (Jer. 7:6; 22:3, 17; Ezek. 22:6–31); or 3) the martyrdom of God's prophets (cf. 2 Kings 21:10). A combination of all three is most likely. Jewish and Christian tradition alike report that Manasseh had Isaiah sawn in two inside a hollow log (cf. Heb. 11:37).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 21:19 two years. 642–640 B.C. Amon continued the idolatrous practices of his father, abandoning the Lord completely (vv. 20–22). See note on 2 Chron. 33:21–25.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 21:24 the people of the land. Probably a group of Judah's national leaders who killed the assassins of Amon and installed his son Josiah on the throne. Apparently, they desired to maintain the Davidic dynasty (cf. 11:14–18).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 22:1 thirty-one years. 640–609 B.C. During Josiah's reign, power in the ancient Near East passed from Assyria to Babylon. Nineveh, the capital of Assyria, was destroyed by the Babylonians in 612 B.C. and the whole Assyrian empire fell in 609 B.C. Josiah was the last good king of the Davidic line prior to the Babylonian exile. Jeremiah (Jer. 1:2), possibly Habakkuk, and Zephaniah (Zeph. 1:1) were prophets to Judah during the reign of Josiah. See notes on 2 Chron. 34:1–35:27.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 22:2 did not turn aside. Josiah had complete devotion to God's approved course of conduct for his life (cf. 23:25). He obeyed the Mosaic stipulations as he came to know them, following the example of David, who set the pattern for the rulers of God's people (Deut. 17:11, 20; Josh. 1:7).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 22:3 eighteenth year. 622 B.C., when Josiah was 26 years of age.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 22:4 Hilkiah. The high priest was the father of Azariah and the grandfather of Seraiah, the high priest who would be executed at the time of the exile by the Babylonians (cf. 25:8–20).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 22:4–7 keepers of the threshold. See note on 12:9. Josiah used the same procedure as King Joash had for collecting funds to repair the temple after its abuse in the days of Manasseh and Amon.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 22:8 the Book of the Law. A scroll containing the Torah (the Pentateuch), the revelation of God through Moses to Israel (see notes on 23:2; Deut. 28:61). Manasseh may have destroyed all the copies of God's law that were not hidden. This could have been the official copy laid beside the ark of the covenant in the Most Holy Place (Deut. 31:25–26). It may have been removed from its place under Ahaz, Manasseh, or Amon (cf. 2 Chron. 35:3), but was found during repair work.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 22:9–10 Some believe that Shaphan must have read Deut. 28–30, in which are recorded a renewal of the national covenant and a listing of the terrible threats and curses against all who violate the law of God.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 22:11 tore his clothes. Josiah's reaction at the reading of the law was one of immediate contrition, expressed by the common sign of lamentation and grief (see 18:37; 19:1). Josiah's grief sprang from Judah's guilt and God's punishment (22:13).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 22:14 Huldah. This prophetess is otherwise unknown in the OT. She was held in some regard for her prophetic gift, though why she was consulted and not another prophet like Jeremiah or Zephaniah (see note on 22:1) is unexplained. Rarely did God speak to the nation through a woman (cf. Miriam, Ex. 15; Deborah, Judg. 5) and never did a woman have an ongoing prophetic ministry identified in Scripture. No woman was inspired to author any of Scripture's 66 books. the wardrobe. Likely, these were the royal garments or those used by the priests. the Second Quarter. This district of Jerusalem was called "second" because it comprised the city's first major expansion. It was probably located on the western hill of Jerusalem, an area enclosed by the city wall and built during the reign of Hezekiah. The expansion of the city during Hezekiah's reign was perhaps to accommodate Jewish refugees who had escaped from the Assyrian invasion of Israel.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 22:15–20 Huldah gave God's message to Josiah through his messengers. First, the Lord confirmed to Josiah that he was surely going to bring his judgment upon Jerusalem because of her idolatry (vv. 15–17). Second, the Lord's personal word to Josiah was that he would die "in peace" (v. 20), meaning that he would escape the horrors in store for Jerusalem. This promise was based on Josiah's response of tenderness and humility before the Lord when he heard the scroll describing Judah's future devastation (vv. 18–19).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 22:20 in peace. His heart was at peace with God and he never lived to see Jerusalem destroyed, but he did die in battle (2 Chron. 35:23).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 23:2 Book of the Covenant. Although this designation was used in Ex. 24:7 with reference to the contents of Ex. 20:22–23:33, it seems here to refer to a larger writing. Since the larger part of the Pentateuch focused on the Mosaic Covenant, these five books came to be called thusly. Since all the men of Judah and all the inhabitants of Jerusalem were assembled together by Josiah, it seems best to view this as the reading of the whole written law found in Gen. 1 through Deut. 34 (see notes on Deut. 31:9–11).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 23:3 pillar. See note on 11:14. a covenant . . . this covenant. Josiah made a public, binding agreement to completely obey the Lord by doing all that was commanded in the Book of the Covenant that the people had just heard read to them. Following Josiah's example, all the people promised to keep the stipulations of the Mosaic Covenant. See notes on 11:17 and Ex. 24:4–8.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 23:4 Asherah. See note on 21:7. the fields of the Kidron. Josiah burned everything in the temple that was devoted to idolatry. This was done in the lower portion of the Kidron Valley, east of the city of Jerusalem (cf. 23:6). ashes to Bethel. Located about 10 miles north of Jerusalem, Bethel was one of the two original places where Jeroboam I established an apostate worship center (1 Kings 12:28–33). Bethel was located just north of the border of Judah in the former northern kingdom, which was then the Assyrian province of Samaria. With a decline in Assyrian power, Josiah was able to exert his religious influence in the north. He used the ashes of the burned articles of idolatry to desecrate Jeroboam’s religious center (cf. 2 Kings 23:15–20).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 23:5 constellations. Cf. 21:3. The astrologers were also removed. See Isa. 47:13.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 23:6 Asherah. The idol of Asherah (see note on 21:7). graves of the common people. The Kidron Valley contained a burial ground for the common people (cf. Jer. 26:23). Scattering ashes from the object of idolatry is said in 2 Chron. 34:4 to have been on the graves of those who sacrificed to that idol. The “common people” had followed their leaders to apostasy, defilement, and damnation—all symbolized by the act of scattering the ashes.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 23:7 houses. Tents (called “Succoth-benoth” in 17:30) used by women who were devoted to Asherah, in which they made hangings and committed sexual sins.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 23:8 Geba to Beersheba. Geba was located about 7 miles northeast of Jerusalem at the far north of Judah and Beersheba was located c. 45 miles south of Jerusalem at the southern end of Judah. Thus, this phrase was an idiomatic way of saying “throughout all of Judah.”

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 23:10 Topheth. Meaning “a drum” and identifying the area in the Valley of Hinnom where child sacrifice occurred (cf. Isa. 30:33; Jer. 7:31–32; 19:5–6). Perhaps called “drum” because drums were beaten to drown out the cries of the children being sacrificed.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 23:11 horses . . . dedicated to the sun. The horses and the chariots of the sun were probably thought to symbolize the sun blazing a trail across the sky and were a part of worshiping the sun. Recently, a religious shrine with horse figurines has been found in Jerusalem (cf. Ezek. 8:16).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 23:12 on the roof. Altars were erected on the flat roofs of houses so people could worship the “host of heaven” by burning incense (Jer. 19:13; Zeph. 1:5).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 23:13 Solomon . . . had built. Solomon had built high places east of Jerusalem on the Mount of Olives, renamed after the desecration, to be used in worship of foreign gods, e.g., the fertility goddess Ashtoreth from Sidon, the Moabite god Chemosh, and the Ammonite god Molech (1 Kings 11:7). These altars existed for over 300 years before Josiah finally destroyed them. The placing of human bones defiled them and, thus, rendered these sites unclean and unsuitable as places of worship.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 23:15 the altar at Bethel. Josiah reduced the altar that Jeroboam I had built at Bethel to dust and ashes (see 1 Kings 12:28–33).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 23:16 tombs. Seeing graves nearby, perhaps where idolatrous priests were buried, Josiah had their bones removed and burned on the altar at Bethel to defile it. This action fulfilled a prophecy given about the altar approximately 300 years before (1 Kings 13:2).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 23:17–18 See 1 Kings 13:1–32, especially vv. 31–32.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 23:18 Samaria. The former northern kingdom of Israel had become known as Samaria, so named as an Assyrian province (see note on 17:24).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 23:19 cities of Samaria. The desecration of the high place at Bethel was only the beginning of Josiah's desecration of all the high places in the Assyrian province of Samaria.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 23:20 he sacrificed all the priests. These non-Levitical priests, who led apostate worship in the former northern kingdom, were idolaters who seduced God's people into idolatry. They were put to death in accordance with the statutes of Deut. 13:6–18 and 17:2–7, and their graves were doubly defiled with burned bones.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 23:21–22 no such Passover. Judah's celebration of this Passover (see Deut. 16:2–8) more closely conformed to the instructions given in the Mosaic law than any in the previous 400 years of Israel's history. Though the Passover was observed by Hezekiah (2 Chron. 30), no observance had been in exact conformity to God's law since the judges. Further details of this Passover observance are found in 2 Chron. 35:1–19.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 23:23 eighteenth year. C. 622 B.C. All the reforms of Josiah described took place in the same year (cf. 22:3).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 23:24 the book . . . found. See 22:8.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 23:25 no king like him. Of all the kings in David's line, including David himself, no king more closely approximated the royal ideal of Deut. 17:14–20 than Josiah (cf. Matt. 22:37). Yet, even Josiah fell short of complete obedience because he had multiple wives (cf. 2 Kings 23:31–36; see note on Gen. 2:24). However, even this righteous king could not turn away the Lord's wrath because of Manasseh's sin (2 Kings 23:26–27). See chs. 17 and 18.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 23:29 Neco. Pharaoh Neco II (609–594 B.C.) was an ally of Assyria against the growing power of Babylon. For some unstated reason, Josiah was determined to stop Neco and his army from joining the Assyrian army at the Euphrates River to fight Babylon. Megiddo. The well-fortified stronghold overlooking the Jezreel Valley about 65 miles north of Jerusalem. Megiddo guarded a strategic pass on the route between Egypt and Mesopotamia. Josiah's death is explained in more detail in 2 Chron. 35:20–27.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 23:31 three months. Jehoahaz reigned during 609 B.C., became a prisoner of Pharaoh Neco II, and ultimately died in Egypt. See note on 2 Chron. 36:1–4.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 23:33 Riblah in the land of Hamath. Jehoahaz was in prison at Pharaoh Neco II's military headquarters located on the Orontes River in the north Lebanon Valley (see note on 25:6). silver . . . gold. The tax imposed on Judah, whose king was imprisoned, was 750 lbs. of silver and 7.5 lbs. of gold.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 23:34 Eliakim . . . Jehoiakim. In 609 B.C., Pharaoh Neco II placed Jehoahaz's older brother on the throne of Judah. Neco changed his name from Eliakim, meaning "God has established," to Jehoiakim, "the Lord has established." The naming of a person was regarded in the ancient Near East as sign of authority; so by naming Jehoiakim, Neco demonstrated that he was the lord who controlled Judah. As a vassal of Egypt, Judah risked attack by Egypt's enemy Babylon. See note on 2 Chron. 36:5–8.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 23:35 Jehoiakim taxed his people severely to pay tribute to Egypt, though he still had enough to build a magnificent palace for himself (see Jer. 22:13–14).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 23:36 eleven years. 609–597 B.C.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 24:1 Nebuchadnezzar. Nebuchadnezzar II was the son of Nabopolassar, king of Babylon from 626–605 B.C. As crown prince, Nebuchadnezzar had led his father’s army against Pharaoh Neco and the Egyptians at Carchemish on the Euphrates River in northern Syria (605 B.C.). By defeating the Egyptians, Babylon was established as the strongest nation in the ancient Near East. Egypt and its vassals, including Judah, became vassals of Babylon with this victory. Nebuchadnezzar followed up his victory at Carchemish by invading the land of Judah. Later, in 605 B.C., Nebuchadnezzar took some captives to Babylon, including Daniel and his friends (cf. Dan. 1:1–3). Toward the end of 605 B.C., Nabopolassar died and Nebuchadnezzar succeeded him as king of Babylon, three years after Jehoiakim had taken the throne in Judah (Jer. 25:1). Nebuchadnezzar reigned from 605–562 B.C. three years. Nebuchadnezzar returned to the west in 604 B.C. and took tribute from all of the kings of the west, including Jehoiakim of Judah. Jehoiakim submitted to Babylonian rule from 604–602 B.C. In 602 B.C., Jehoiakim rebelled against Babylon, disregarding the advice of the prophet Jeremiah (Jer. 27:9–11).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 24:2 the Lord sent . . . bands. As punishment for Jehoiakim’s disobedience of the Lord’s word through his prophet Jeremiah, the Lord sent Babylonian troops, along with the troops of other loyal nations, to inflict military defeats upon Judah.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 24:4 innocent blood. See note on 21:16.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 24:7 king of Egypt. In 601 B.C., Nebuchadnezzar again marched west against Egypt and was turned back by strong Egyptian resistance. However Egypt, though able to defend its own land, was not able to be aggressive and recover its conquered lands or provide any help for its allies, including Judah.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 24:8 eighteen. This reading is preferred over the “eight” of 2 Chron. 36:9 (see note). three months. Having regrouped, Nebuchadnezzar invaded Judah for a second time in the spring of 597 B.C. Before he could enter Jerusalem, Jehoiakim died and was succeeded as king of Judah by his son, Jehoiachin. Jehoiachin ruled for a short time in 597 B.C. See note on 2 Chron. 36:9–10.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 24:10–12 The Babylonian siege of Jerusalem was begun by the troops of Nebuchadnezzar. Later, Nebuchadnezzar himself went to Jerusalem and it was to the king himself that Jehoiachin surrendered (v. 12).

Babylon Attacks Judah

597, 586, 582 B.C.

It appears that three separate deportations of Judeans to Babylon took place under the rule of Nebuchadnezzar (see also Jer. 52:28–30). The first came during the reign of Jehoiachin, when Nebuchadnezzar besieged Jerusalem and carried away many of the treasures of the temple and the royal palace. The second occurred after the fall of Jerusalem in 586 B.C., when the walls of the city were leveled and the temple was completely destroyed. The third appears to have occurred around 582 B.C. while King Nebuchadnezzar was reasserting his control over the general region of Palestine.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 24:12 eighth year. 597 B.C. For the first time, the books of Kings dated an event in Israelite history by a non-Israelite king. This indicated that Judah's exile was imminent and the land would be in the hands of Gentiles.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 24:13 Nebuchadnezzar plundered the treasures of the temple and king's palace, just as the Lord had said he would (cf. 20:16–18).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 24:14–16 In 597 B.C., Nebuchadnezzar took an additional 10,000 Judeans as captives to Babylon, in particular the leaders of the nation. This included the leaders of the military and those whose skills would support the military. Included in this deportation was the prophet Ezekiel (see notes on Ezek. 1:1–3). Only the lower classes remained behind in Jerusalem. The Babylonian policy of captivity was different from that of the Assyrians, who took most of the people into exile and resettled the land of Israel with foreigners (2 Kings 17:24). The Babylonians took only the leaders and the strong, while leaving the weak and poor, elevating those left to leadership and thereby earning their loyalty. Those taken to Babylon were allowed to work and live in the mainstream of society. This kept the captive Jews together, so it would be possible for them to return, as recorded in Ezra.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 24:17 Mattaniah . . . Zedekiah. Mattaniah was a son of Josiah and an uncle of Jehoiachin (cf. 1 Chron. 3:15; Jer. 1:3). Mattaniah's name, meaning "gift of the Lord," was changed to Zedekiah, "righteousness of the Lord." Nebuchadnezzar's changing of Zedekiah's name demonstrated his authority as lord over him (see note on 2 Kings 23:34). See notes on 2 Chron. 36:11–21.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 24:18 eleven years. Zedekiah ruled in Jerusalem, under Babylonian sovereignty, from 597–586 B.C.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 24:20 Zedekiah rebelled. In 588 B.C., Apries (also called Hophra), the grandson of Neco, became Pharaoh over Egypt. He appears to have influenced Zedekiah to revolt against Babylon (cf. Ezek. 17:15–18).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 25:1 ninth year. Responding to Zedekiah's rebellion (24:20), Nebuchadnezzar sent his whole army to lay siege against the city of Jerusalem. The siege began in the ninth year of Zedekiah's reign, January, 588 B.C. The "siegeworks" were comprised of either wood towers higher than the walls of the city or a dirt rampart encircling the city.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 25:2 eleventh year. Jerusalem withstood the siege until the eleventh year of Zedekiah, July, 586 B.C. Hezekiah's tunnel guaranteed the city an uninterrupted supply of fresh water (20:20) and an Egyptian foray into Judah gave the city a temporary reprieve from the siege (Jer. 37:5).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 25:3 famine. After a siege of two and one half years, the food supply in Jerusalem ran out (Jer. 38:2–3).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 25:4 a breach was made in the city. The two walls near the king's garden were probably located at the extreme southeast corner of the city, giving direct access to the Kidron Valley. This gave Zedekiah and his soldiers an opportunity to flee for their lives to the east.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 25:5 plains of Jericho. Zedekiah fled toward the Jordan Rift Valley. Babylonian pursuers caught him in the Jordan Valley south of Jericho, about 20 miles east of Jerusalem.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 25:6 Riblah. Located on the Orontes River about 180 miles north of Jerusalem, Riblah was Nebuchadnezzar's military headquarters for his invasion of Judah. This location was ideally situated as a field headquarters for military forces because ample provisions could be found nearby (cf. 23:33). The captured traitor Zedekiah was brought to Nebuchadnezzar at Riblah, where he was blinded after witnessing the death of his sons. The execution of the royal heirs ensured the impossibility of a future claim to the throne or rebellion from his descendants. The blinding made his own future rebellion or retaliation impossible. Jeremiah had warned Zedekiah that he would see Nebuchadnezzar (see notes on Jer. 32:2–5; 34:3), while Ezekiel had said he would not see Babylon (see note on Ezek. 12:10–13). Both prophecies were accurately fulfilled.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 25:8 seventh day. See note on Jer. 52:12. This was August, 586 B.C., one month after the Babylonian breakthrough of Jerusalem's walls (2 Kings 25:2–4). Nebuzaradan. He was the commander of Nebuchadnezzar's own imperial guard, sent by the king to oversee the destruction of Jerusalem. The dismantling and destruction of Jerusalem was accomplished by the Babylonians in an orderly progression.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 25:9 First, Jerusalem's most important buildings were burned.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 25:10 Second, the Babylonian army tore down Jerusalem's outer walls, the city's main defense.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 25:11–12 Third, Nebuzaradan organized and led a forced march of remaining Judeans into exile in Babylon. The exiles included survivors from Jerusalem and those who had surrendered to the Babylonians before the capture of the city. Only poor, unskilled laborers were left behind to tend the vineyards and farm the fields.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 25:13–17 Fourth, the items made with precious metals in the temple were carried away to Babylon. See notes on 1 Kings 7:15–49.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 25:17 three cubits. See note on Jer. 52:22.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 25:18–21 Fifth, Nebuzaradan took Jerusalem's remaining leaders to Riblah, where Nebuchadnezzar had them executed. This ensured that they would never lead another rebellion against Babylon.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 25:18 Seraiah. Seraiah was the grandson of Hilkiah (22:4, 8; 1 Chron. 6:13–14) and an ancestor of Ezra (Ezra 7:1). Even though Seraiah was executed, his sons were deported (1 Chron. 6:15).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 25:21 Judah was taken into exile. Exile was the ultimate curse brought upon Judah because of her disobedience to the Mosaic Covenant (cf. Lev. 26:33; Deut. 28:36, 64). The book of Lamentations records the sorrow of Jeremiah over this destruction of Jerusalem.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 25:22–30 The books of Kings conclude with this brief epilogue. Despite the punishment of the Lord experienced by Israel and Judah, the people were still rebellious (vv. 22–26). However, due to the Lord's mercy, the house of David endured (vv. 27–30). The books of Kings end with a note of hope.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 25:22 Gedaliah. In an attempt to maintain political stability, Nebuchadnezzar appointed a governor from an important Judean family. A more detailed account of Gedaliah's activities is found in Jer. 40:7–41:18. Gedaliah's grandfather, Shaphan, was Josiah's secretary, who had implemented that king's reforms (2 Kings 22:3). His father, Ahikam, was part of Josiah's delegation sent to Huldah (22:14) and a supporter of the prophet Jeremiah (Jer. 26:24).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 25:23 Mizpah. Located about 8 miles north of Jerusalem, Mizpah became the new center of Judah. Mizpah might have been one of the few towns left standing after the Babylonian invasion.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 25:24 swore. As governor, Gedaliah pledged to the remaining people that loyalty to the Babylonians would ensure their safety.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 25:25 seventh month. October, 586 B.C., two months after the destruction of Jerusalem (cf. v. 8). Ishmael. Elishama, Ishmael's grandfather, was a secretary under Jehoiakim (Jer. 36:12; 41:1). Ishmael probably assassinated Gedaliah because he wished to reestablish the kingship in Judah with himself as king, since he was of royal blood (cf. Jer. 41:1).

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 25:26 went to Egypt. Fearing reprisals from the Babylonians, the people fled to Egypt.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 25:27 thirty-seventh year. March, 561 B.C. Jehoiachin was about 55 years old (cf. 24:8). Evil-merodach. The son and successor of Nebuchadnezzar, he ruled as king of Babylon from 562–560 B.C. To gain favor with the Jews, the king released Jehoiachin from his imprisonment and gave him special privileges.

2 KINGS—NOTE ON 25:28–30 spoke kindly to him. This good word from the king of Babylon to the surviving representative of the house of David served as a concluding reminder of God's good word to David. Through the curse of exile, the dynasty of David had survived. There was still hope that God's good word to David concerning the seed who will build God's temple and establish God's eternal kingdom would be fulfilled (cf. 2 Sam. 7:12–16). The book of 2 Kings opened with Elijah being carried away to heaven, the destination of all those faithful to God. The book ends with Israel, and then Judah, being carried away to pagan lands as a result of failing to be faithful to God.

Introduction to 1 Chronicles

Title

The original title in the Hebrew Bible read “The annals (i.e., events or happenings) of the days.” First and Second Chronicles were comprised of one book until later divided into separate books in the Greek OT translation, the Septuagint (LXX), c. 200 B.C. The title also changed at that time to the inaccurate title, “the things omitted,” i.e., reflecting material not in 1 and 2 Samuel and 1 and 2 Kings. The English title “Chronicles” originated with Jerome’s Latin Vulgate translation (c. 400 A.D.), which used the fuller title “The Chronicles of the Entire Sacred History.”

Author and Date

Neither 1 nor 2 Chronicles contains direct statements regarding the human author, though Jewish tradition strongly favors Ezra the priest (cf. Ezra 7:1–6) as “the chronicler.” These records were most likely recorded c. 450–430 B.C. The genealogical record in 1 Chron. 1–9 supports a date after 450 B.C. for the writing. The NT does not directly quote either 1 or 2 Chronicles.

Background and Setting

The immediate historical backdrop encompassed the Jews’ three-phase return to the Promised Land from the Babylonian exile: 1) Zerubbabel in Ezra 1–6 (c. 538 B.C.); 2) Ezra in Ezra 7–10 (c. 458 B.C.); and 3) Nehemiah in Neh. 1–13 (c. 445 B.C.). Previous history looks back to the Babylonian deportation/exile (c. 605–538 B.C.) as predicted/reported by 2 Kings, Jeremiah, Ezekiel, Daniel, and Habakkuk. The prophets of this restoration era were Haggai, Zechariah, and Malachi.

The Jews had returned from their 70 years of captivity (c. 538 B.C.) to a land that was markedly different from the one once ruled by King David (c. 1011–971 B.C.) and King Solomon (971–931 B.C.): 1) there was no Hebrew king, but rather a Persian governor (Ezra 5:3; 6:6); 2) there was no security for Jerusalem, so Nehemiah had to rebuild the wall (Neh. 1–7); 3) there was no temple, so Zerubbabel had to reconstruct a pitiful semblance of the Solomonic temple's former glory (Ezra 3); 4) the Jews no longer dominated the region, but rather were on the defensive (Ezra 4; Neh. 4); 5) they enjoyed few divine blessings beyond the fact of their return; 6) they possessed little of the kingdom's former wealth; and 7) God's divine presence no longer resided in Jerusalem, having departed c. 597–591 B.C. (Ezek. 8–11).

To put it mildly, their future looked bleak compared to their majestic past, especially the time of David and Solomon. The return could best be described as bittersweet, i.e., bitter because their present poverty brought hurtful memories about what was forfeited by God's judgment on their ancestors' sin, but sweet because at least they were back in the land God had given Abraham 17 centuries earlier (Gen. 12:1–3). The chronicler's selective genealogy and history of Israel, stretching from Adam (1 Chron. 1:1) to the return from Babylon (2 Chron. 26:23), was intended to remind the Jews of God's promises and intentions about: 1) the land; 2) the nation; 3) the Davidic king; 4) the Levitical priests; 5) the temple; and 6) true worship, none of which had been abrogated because of the Babylonian captivity. All of this was to remind them of their spiritual heritage during the difficult times they faced, and to encourage them to be faithful to God.

Historical and Theological Themes

First and Second Chronicles, as named by Jerome, recreate an OT history in miniature, with particular emphases on the Davidic Covenant and temple worship. In terms of literary parallel, 1 Chronicles is the partner of 2 Samuel, in that both detail the reign of King David. First Chronicles opens with Adam (1 Chron. 1:1) and closes with the death of David (29:26–30) in 971 B.C. Second Chronicles begins with Solomon (2 Chron. 1:1) and covers the same historical period as 1 and 2 Kings, while focusing exclusively on the kings of the southern kingdom of Judah, thus excluding the history of the northern 10 tribes and their rulers, because of their complete wickedness and false worship. It ranges from the reign of Solomon (1:1) in 971 B.C. to the return from Babylon in 538 B.C. (36:23). Over 55 percent of the material in Chronicles is unique, i.e., not found in 2 Samuel or 1 and 2 Kings. The “chronicler” tended to omit what was negative or in opposition to the Davidic kingship; on the other hand, he tended to make unique contributions in validating temple worship and the line of David. Whereas 2 Kings 25 ends dismally with the deportation of Judah to Babylon, 2 Chron. 36:22–23 concludes hopefully with the Jews' release from Persia and return to Jerusalem.

These two books were written to the repatriated Jewish exiles as a chronicle of God's intention of future blessing, in spite of the nation's past moral/spiritual failure for which the people paid dearly under God's wrath. First and Second Chronicles could be briefly summarized as follows:

- I. A Selected Genealogical History of Israel (1 Chron. 1–9)
- II. Israel's United Kingdom Under Saul (1 Chron. 10), David (1 Chron. 11–29), and Solomon (2 Chron. 1–9)
- III. Judah's Monarchy in the Divided Kingdom (2 Chron. 10–36:21)
- IV. Judah's Release From Their Seventy-Year Captivity (2 Chron. 36:22–23).

The historical themes are inextricably linked with the theological in that God's divine purposes for Israel have been and will be played out on the stage of human history. These two books are designed to assure the returning Jews that, in spite of their checkered past and present plight, God will be true to his covenant promises. They have been returned by God to the land first given to Abraham as a race of people whose ethnic identity (Jewish) was not obliterated by the deportation and whose national identity (Israel) has been preserved (Gen. 12:1–3; 15:5), although they are still under God's judgment as prescribed by the Mosaic legislation (Deut. 28:15–68). The priestly line of Eleazar's son Phinehas and the Levitical line were still intact so that temple worship could continue in the hope that God's presence would one day return (Num. 25:10–13; Mal. 3:1). The Davidic promise of a king was still valid, although future in its fulfillment (2 Sam. 7:8–17; 1 Chron. 17:7–15). Their individual hope of eternal life and restoration of God's blessings forever rested in the New Covenant (Jer. 31:31–34).

Two basic principles enumerated in these two books prevail throughout the OT, namely, obedience brings blessing, disobedience brings judgment. In the Chronicles, when the king obeyed and trusted the Lord, God blessed and protected. But when the king disobeyed and/or put his trust in something or someone other than the Lord, God withdrew his blessing and protection. Three basic failures by the kings of Judah brought God's wrath: 1) personal sin; 2) false worship/idolatry; and/or 3) trust in man rather than God.

Interpretive Challenges

First and Second Chronicles present a combination of selective genealogical and historical records, and no insurmountable challenges within the two books are encountered. A few issues arise, such as: 1) Who wrote 1 and 2 Chronicles? Does the overlap of 2 Chron. 36:22–23 with Ezra 1:1–3 point to Ezra as author? 2) Does the use of multiple sources taint the inerrancy doctrine of Scripture? 3) How does one explain the variations in the genealogies of 1 Chron. 1–9 from other OT genealogies? 4) Are the curses of Deut. 28 still in force, even though the 70-year captivity has concluded? 5) How does one explain the few variations in numbers when comparing Chronicles with parallel passages in Samuel and Kings? These will be dealt with in the notes at the appropriate places.

These were their cities until David reigned. <sup>32</sup>And their villages were Etam, Ain, Rimmon, Tochen, and Ashan, five cities, <sup>33</sup>along with all their villages that were around these cities as far as Baal. ## Descendants of Reuben

1 Chronicles 5 The sons of Reuben the firstborn of Israel (for he was the firstborn, but because he defiled his father's couch, his birthright was given to the sons of Joseph the son of Israel, so that he could not be enrolled as the oldest son; <sup>2</sup>†though Judah became strong among his brothers and a chief came from him, yet the birthright belonged to Joseph), <sup>3</sup>the sons of Reuben, the firstborn of Israel: Hanoch, Pallu, Hezron, and Carmi. <sup>4</sup>The sons of Joel: Shemaiah his son, Gog his son, Shimei his son, <sup>5</sup>Micah his son, Reaiah his son, Baal his son, <sup>6</sup>†Beerah his son, whom Tiglath-pileser [\[1\]](#) king of Assyria carried away into exile; he was a chief of the Reubenites. <sup>7</sup>And his kinsmen by their clans, when the genealogy of their generations was recorded: the chief, Jeiel, and Zechariah, <sup>8</sup>and Bela the son of Azaz, son of Shema, son of Joel, who lived in Aroer, as far as Nebo and Baal-meon. <sup>9</sup>He also lived to the east as far as the entrance of the desert this side of the Euphrates, because their livestock had multiplied in the land of Gilead. <sup>10</sup>And in the days of Saul they waged war against the Hagrites, who fell into their hand. And they lived in their tents throughout all the region east of Gilead.

Descendants of Gad

livestock: 50,000 of their camels, 250,000 sheep, 2,000 donkeys, and 100,000 men alive. <sup>22</sup>†For many fell, because the war was of God. And they lived in their place until the exile.

The Half-Tribe of Manasseh

<sup>23</sup>The members of the half-tribe of Manasseh lived in the land. <sup>35</sup>1In Gibeon lived the father of Gibeon, Jeiel, and the name of his wife was Maacah, <sup>36</sup>and his firstborn son Abdon, then Zur, Kish, Baal, Ner, Nadab, <sup>37</sup>Gedor, Ahio, Zechariah, and Mikloth; <sup>38</sup>and Mikloth was the father of Shimeam; and these also lived opposite their kinsmen in Jerusalem, with their kinsmen. <sup>39</sup>Ner fathered Kish, Kish fathered Saul, Saul fathered Jonathan, Malchi-shua, Abinadab, and Eshbaal. <sup>40</sup>And the son of Jonathan was Merib-baal, and Merib-baal fathered Micah. <sup>41</sup>The sons of Micah: Pithon, Melech, Tahrea, and Ahaz. [\[1\]](#) <sup>42</sup>And Ahaz fathered Jarah, and Jarah fathered Alemeth, Azmaveth, and Zimri. And Zimri fathered Moza. <sup>43</sup>Moza fathered Binea, and Rephaiah was his son, Eleasah his son, Azel his son. <sup>44</sup>Azel had six sons and these are their names: Azrikam, Bocheru, Ishmael, Sheariah, Obadiah, and Hanan; these were the sons of Azel.

The Death of Saul and His Sons

1 Chronicles 10 ‡ Now the Philistines fought against Israel, and the men of Israel fled before the Philistines and fell slain on Mount Gilboa. <sup>2</sup>And the Philistines overtook Saul and his sons, and the Philistines struck down Jonathan and Abinadab and Malchi-shua, the sons of Saul. <sup>3</sup>The battle pressed hard against Saul, and the archers found him, and he was wounded by the archers. <sup>4</sup>Then Saul said to his armor-bearer, “Draw your sword and thrust me through with it, lest these uncircumcised come and mistreat me.” But his armor-bearer would not, for he feared greatly. Therefore Saul took his own sword and fell upon it. <sup>5</sup>And when his armor-bearer saw that Saul was dead, he also fell upon his sword and died. <sup>6</sup>Thus Saul died; he and his three sons and all his house died together. <sup>7</sup>And when all the men of Israel who were in the valley saw that the army [\[1\]](#) had fled and that Saul and his sons were dead, they abandoned their cities and fled, and the Philistines came and lived in them.

<sup>8</sup>The next day, when the Philistines came to strip the slain, they found Saul and his sons fallen on Mount Gilboa. <sup>9</sup>And they stripped him and took his head and his armor, and sent messengers throughout the land of the Philistines to carry the good news to their idols and to the people. <sup>10</sup>And they put his armor in the temple of their gods and fastened his head in the temple of Dagon. <sup>11</sup>But when all Jabesh-gilead heard all that the Philistines had done to Saul, <sup>12</sup>all the valiant men arose and took away the body of Saul and the bodies of his sons, and brought them to Jabesh. And they buried their bones under the oak in Jabesh and fasted seven days.

<sup>13</sup>‡ So Saul died for his breach of faith. He broke faith with the LORD in that he did not keep the command of the LORD, and also consulted a medium, seeking guidance. <sup>14</sup>‡ He did not seek guidance from the LORD. Therefore the LORD put him to death and turned the kingdom over to David the son of Jesse.

David Anointed King

1 Chronicles 11 ¶¶ Then all Israel gathered together to David at Hebron and said, “Behold, we are your bone and flesh. <sup>2</sup>In times past, even when Saul was king, it was you who led out and brought in Israel. And the LORD your God said to you, ‘You shall be shepherd of my people Israel, and you shall be prince over my people Israel.’” <sup>3</sup>So all the elders of Israel came to the king at Hebron, and David made a covenant with them at Hebron before the LORD. And they anointed David king over Israel, according to the word of the LORD by Samuel.

David Takes Jerusalem

<sup>4</sup>¶ And David and all Israel went to Jerusalem, that is, Jebus, where the Jebusites were, the inhabitants of the land. <sup>5</sup>The inhabitants of Jebus said to David, “You will not come in here.” Nevertheless, David took the stronghold of Zion, that is, the city of David. <sup>6</sup>David said, “Whoever strikes the Jebusites first shall be chief and commander.” And Joab the son of Zeruiah went up first, so he became chief. <sup>7</sup>And David lived in the stronghold; therefore it was called the city of David. <sup>8</sup>And he built the city all around from the Millo in complete circuit, and Joab repaired the rest of the city. <sup>9</sup>And David became greater and greater, for the LORD of hosts was with him.

David's Mighty Men

<sup>10</sup>¶ Now these are the chiefs of David's mighty men, who gave him strong support in his kingdom, together with all Israel, to make him king, according to the word of the LORD concerning Israel. <sup>11</sup>¶ This is an account of David's mighty men: Jashobeam, a Hachmonite, was chief of the three. [\[1\]](#) He wielded his spear against 300 whom he killed at one time.

<sup>12</sup>And next to him among the three mighty men was Eleazar the son of Dodo, the Ahohite. <sup>13</sup>He was with David at Pas-dammim when the Philistines were gathered there for battle. There was a plot of ground full of barley, and the men fled from the Philistines. <sup>14</sup>But he took his [\[2\]](#) stand in the midst of the plot and defended it and killed the Philistines. And the LORD saved them by a great victory.

<sup>15</sup>Three of the thirty chief men went down to the rock to David at the cave of Adullam, when the army of Philistines was encamped in the Valley of Rephaim. <sup>16</sup>David was then in the stronghold, and the garrison of the Philistines was then at Bethlehem. <sup>17</sup>And David said longingly, "Oh that someone would give me water to drink from the well of Bethlehem that is by the gate!" <sup>18</sup>Then the three mighty men broke through the camp of the Philistines and drew water out of the well of Bethlehem that was by the gate and took it and brought it to David. But David would not drink it. He poured it out to the LORD <sup>19</sup>and said, "Far be it from me before my God that I should do this. Shall I drink the lifeblood of these men? For at the risk of their lives they brought it." Therefore he would not drink it. These things did the three mighty men.

<sup>20</sup>Now Abishai, the brother of Joab, was chief of the thirty. [3] And he wielded his spear against 300 men and killed them and won a name beside the three. <sup>21</sup>He was the most renowned [4] of the thirty [5] and became their commander, but he did not attain to the three.

<sup>22</sup>And Benaiah the son of Jehoiada was a valiant man [6] of Kabzeel, a doer of great deeds. He struck down two heroes of Moab. He also went down and struck down a lion in a pit on a day when snow had fallen. <sup>23</sup>And he struck down an Egyptian, a man of great stature, five cubits [7] tall. The Egyptian had in his hand a spear like a weaver's beam, but Benaiah went down to him with a staff and snatched the spear out of the Egyptian's hand and killed him with his own spear. <sup>24</sup>These things did Benaiah the son of Jehoiada and won a name beside the three mighty men. <sup>25</sup>He was renowned among the thirty, but he did not attain to the three. And David set him over his bodyguard.

son of Maacah, and Joshaphat the Mithnite, <sup>44</sup>Uzzia the Ashterathite, Shama and Jeiel the sons of Hotham the Aroerite, <sup>45</sup>Jediael the son of Shimri, and Joha his brother, the Tizite, <sup>46</sup>Eliel the Mahavite, and Jeribai, and Joshaviah, the sons of Elnaam, and Ithmah the Moabite, <sup>47</sup>Eliel, and Obed, and Jaasiel the Mezobaite.

The Mighty Men Join David

1 Chronicles 12 ¶¶¶ Now these are the men who came to David at Ziklag, while he could not move about freely because of Saul the son of Kish. And they were among the mighty men who helped him in war. <sup>2</sup>They were bowmen and could shoot arrows and sling stones with either the right or the left hand; they were Benjaminites, Saul's kinsmen. <sup>3</sup>The chief was Ahiezer, then Joash, both sons of Shemaah of Gibeah; also Jeziel and Pelet, the sons of Azmaveth; Beracah, Jehu of Anathoth, <sup>4</sup>Ishmaiah of Gibeon, a mighty man among the thirty and a leader over the thirty; Jeremiah, [\[1\]](#) Jahaziel, Johanan, Jozabad of Gederah, <sup>5</sup>Eluzai, [\[2\]](#) Jerimoth, Bealiah, Shemariah, Shephatiah the Haruphite; <sup>6</sup>Elkanah, Isshiah, Azarel, Joezer, and Jashobeam, the Korahites; <sup>7</sup>And Joelah and Zebadiah, the sons of Jeroham of Gedor.

<sup>8</sup>From the Gadites there went over to David at the stronghold in the wilderness mighty and experienced warriors, expert with shield and spear, whose faces were like the faces of lions and who were swift as gazelles upon the mountains: <sup>9</sup>Ezer the chief, Obadiah second, Eliab third, <sup>10</sup>Mishmannah fourth, Jeremiah fifth, <sup>11</sup>Attai sixth, Eliel seventh, <sup>12</sup>Johanan eighth, Elzabad ninth, <sup>13</sup>Jeremiah tenth, Machbannai eleventh. <sup>14</sup>These Gadites were officers of the army; the least was a match for a hundred men and the greatest for a thousand. <sup>15</sup>† These are the men who crossed the Jordan in the first month, when it was overflowing all its banks, and put to flight all those in the valleys, to the east and to the west.

<sup>16</sup>And some of the men of Benjamin and Judah came to the stronghold to David. <sup>17</sup>David went out to meet them and said to them, "If you have come to me in friendship to help me, my heart will be joined to you; but if to betray me to my adversaries, although there is no wrong in my hands, then may the God of our fathers see and rebuke you." <sup>18</sup>† Then the Spirit clothed Amasai, chief of the thirty, and he said, "We are yours, O David, and with you, O son of Jesse!

Peace, peace to you, and peace to your helpers!
For your God helps you."

Then David received them and made them officers of his troops.

<sup>19</sup>† Some of the men of Manasseh deserted to David when he came with the Philistines for the battle against Saul. (Yet he did not help them, for the rulers of the Philistines took counsel and sent him away, saying, "At peril to our heads he will desert to his master Saul.”) <sup>20</sup>As he went to Ziklag, these men of Manasseh deserted to him: Adnah, Jozabad, Jediahel, Michael, Jozabad, Elihu, and Zillethai, chiefs of thousands in Manasseh. <sup>21</sup>‡They helped David against the band of raiders, for they were all mighty men of valor and were commanders in the army. <sup>22</sup>For from day to day men came to David to help him, until there was a great army, like an army of God.

<sup>23</sup>‡These are the numbers of the divisions of the armed troops who came to David in Hebron to turn the kingdom of Saul over to him, according to the word of the LORD. <sup>24</sup>The men of Judah bearing shield and spear were 6,800 armed troops. <sup>25</sup>Of the Simeonites, mighty men of valor for war, 7,100. <sup>26</sup>Of the Levites 4,600. <sup>27</sup>The prince Jehoiada, of the house of Aaron, and with him 3,700. <sup>28</sup>Zadok, a young man mighty in valor, and twenty-two commanders from his own fathers' house. <sup>29</sup>Of the Benjaminites, the kinsmen of Saul, 3,000, of whom the majority had to that point kept their allegiance to the house of Saul. <sup>30</sup>Of the Ephraimites 20,800, mighty men of valor, famous men in their fathers' houses. <sup>31</sup>Of the half-tribe of Manasseh 18,000, who were expressly named to come and make David king. <sup>32</sup>Of Issachar, men who had understanding of the times, to know what Israel ought to do, 200 chiefs, and all their kinsmen under their command. <sup>33</sup>Of Zebulun 50,000 seasoned troops, equipped for battle with all the weapons of war, to help David [3] with singleness of purpose. <sup>34</sup>Of Naphtali 1,000 commanders with whom were 37,000 men armed with shield and spear. <sup>35</sup>Of the Danites 28,600 men equipped for battle. <sup>36</sup>Of Asher 40,000 seasoned troops ready for battle. <sup>37</sup>Of the Reubenites and Gadites and the half-tribe of Manasseh from beyond the Jordan, 120,000 men armed with all the weapons of war.

<sup>38</sup>‡All these, men of war, arrayed in battle order, came to Hebron with full intent to make David king over all Israel. Likewise, all the rest of Israel were of a single mind to make David king. <sup>39</sup>And they were there with David for three days, eating and drinking, for their brothers had made preparation for them. <sup>40</sup>And also their relatives, from as far as Issachar and Zebulun and Naphtali, came bringing food on donkeys and on camels and on mules and on oxen, abundant provisions of flour, cakes of figs, clusters of raisins, and wine and oil, oxen and sheep, for there was joy in Israel.

The Ark Brought from Kiriath-Jearim

1 Chronicles 13 ¶¶ David consulted with the commanders of thousands and of hundreds, with every leader. <sup>2</sup>And David said to all the assembly of Israel, “If it seems good to you and from the LORD our God, let us send abroad to our brothers who remain in all the lands of Israel, as well as to the priests and Levites in the cities that have pasturelands, that they may be gathered to us. <sup>3</sup>¶ Then let us bring again the ark of our God to us, for we did not seek it [\[1\]](#) in the days of Saul.” <sup>4</sup>All the assembly agreed to do so, for the thing was right in the eyes of all the people.

Uzzah and the Ark

<sup>5</sup>¶ So David assembled all Israel from the Nile [\[2\]](#) of Egypt to Lebo-hamath, to bring the ark of God from Kiriath-jearim. <sup>6</sup>And David and all Israel went up to Baalah, that is, to Kiriath-jearim that belongs to Judah, to bring up from there the ark of God, which is called by the name of the LORD who sits enthroned above the cherubim. <sup>7</sup>¶ And they carried the ark of God on a new cart, from the house of Abinadab, and Uzzah and Ahio [\[3\]](#) were driving the cart. <sup>8</sup>And David and all Israel were rejoicing before God with all their might, with song and lyres and harps and tambourines and cymbals and trumpets.

<sup>9</sup>And when they came to the threshing floor of Chidon, Uzzah put out his hand to take hold of the ark, for the oxen stumbled. <sup>10</sup>And the anger of the LORD was kindled against Uzzah, and he struck him down because he put out his hand to the ark, and he died there before God. <sup>11</sup>And David was angry because the LORD had broken out against Uzzah. And that place is called Perez-uzza [\[4\]](#) to this day. <sup>12</sup>And David was afraid of God that day, and he said, “How can I bring the ark of God home to me?” <sup>13</sup>So David did not take the ark home into the city of David, but took it aside to the house of Obed-edom the Gittite. <sup>14</sup>And the ark of God remained with the household of Obed-edom in his house three months. And the LORD blessed the household of Obed-edom and all that he had.

David's Wives and Children

1 Chronicles 14 † And Hiram king of Tyre sent messengers to David, and cedar trees, also masons and carpenters to build a house for him. <sup>2</sup> And David knew that the LORD had established him as king over Israel, and that his kingdom was highly exalted for the sake of his people Israel.

Philistines Defeated

<sup>8</sup> † When the Philistines heard that David had been anointed king over all Israel, all the Philistines went up to search for David. But David heard of it and went out against them. <sup>9</sup> Now the Philistines had come and made a raid in the Valley of Rephaim. <sup>10</sup> And David inquired of God, “Shall I go up against the Philistines? Will you give them into my hand?” And the LORD said to him, “Go up, and I will give them into your hand.” <sup>11</sup> And he went up to Baal-perazim, and David struck them down there. And David said, “God has broken through [\[1\]](#) my enemies by my hand, like a bursting flood.” Therefore the name of that place is called Baal-perazim. <sup>12</sup> † And they left their gods there, and David gave command, and they were burned.

<sup>13</sup> And the Philistines yet again made a raid in the valley. <sup>14</sup> And when David again inquired of God, God said to him, “You shall not go up after them; go around and come against them opposite the balsam trees. <sup>15</sup> And when you hear the sound of marching in the tops of the balsam trees, then go out to battle, for God has gone out before you to strike down the army of the Philistines.” <sup>16</sup> And David did as God commanded him, and they struck down the Philistine army from Gibeon to Gezer. <sup>17</sup> And the fame of David went out into all lands, and the LORD brought the fear of him upon all nations.

The Ark Brought to Jerusalem

1 Chronicles 15 †† David [\[1\]](#) built houses for himself in the city of David. And he prepared a place for the ark of God and pitched a tent for it. † Then David said that no one but the Levites may carry the ark of God, for the LORD had chosen them to carry the ark of the LORD and to minister to him forever. † And David assembled all Israel at Jerusalem to bring up the ark of the LORD to its place, which he had prepared for it. † And David gathered together the sons of Aaron and the Levites: † of the sons of Kohath, Uriel the chief, with 120 of his brothers; † of the sons of Merari, Asaiah the chief, with 220 of his brothers; † of the sons of Gershon, Joel the chief, with 130 of his brothers; † of the sons of Elizaphan, Shemaiah the chief, with 200 of his brothers; † of the sons of Hebron, Eliel the chief, with 80 of his brothers; † of the sons of Uzziel, Amminadab the chief, with 112 of his brothers. † Then David summoned the priests Zadok and Abiathar, and the Levites Uriel, Asaiah, Joel, Shemaiah, Eliel, and Amminadab, † and said to them, “You are the heads of the fathers' houses of the Levites. Consecrate yourselves, you and your brothers, so that you may bring up the ark of the LORD, the God of Israel, to the place that I have prepared for it. † Because you did not carry it the first time, the LORD our God broke out against us, because we did not seek him according to the rule.” † So the priests and the Levites consecrated themselves to bring up the ark of the LORD, the God of Israel. † And the Levites carried the ark of God on their shoulders with the poles, as Moses had commanded according to the word of the LORD.

† David also commanded the chiefs of the Levites to appoint their brothers as the singers who should play loudly on musical instruments, on harps and lyres and cymbals, to raise sounds of joy. † So the Levites appointed Heman the son of Joel; and of his brothers Asaph the son of Berechiah; and of the sons of Merari, their brothers, Ethan the son of Kushaiah; † and with them their brothers of the second order, Zechariah, Jaaziel, Shemiramoth, Jehiel, Unni, Eliab, Benaiah, Maaseiah, Mattithiah, Eliphelehu, and Mikneiah, and the gatekeepers Obed-edom and Jeiel. † The singers, Heman, Asaph, and Ethan, were to sound bronze cymbals; † Zechariah, Aziel, Shemiramoth, Jehiel, Unni, Eliab, Maaseiah, and Benaiah were to play harps according to Alamoth; † but Mattithiah, Eliphelehu, Mikneiah, Obed-edom, Jeiel, and Azaziah were to lead with lyres according to the Sheminith. † Chenaniah, leader of the Levites in music, should direct the music, for he understood it. † Berechiah and Elkanah were to be gatekeepers for the ark. † Shebaniah, Joshaphat, Nethanel, Amasai, Zechariah, Benaiah, and Eliezer, the priests, should blow the trumpets before the ark of God. Obed-edom and Jehiah were to be gatekeepers for the ark.

<sup>25</sup>‡ So David and the elders of Israel and the commanders of thousands went to bring up the ark of the covenant of the LORD from the house of Obed-edom with rejoicing. <sup>26</sup>And because God helped the Levites who were carrying the ark of the covenant of the LORD, they sacrificed seven bulls and seven rams. <sup>27</sup>David was clothed with a robe of fine linen, as also were all the Levites who were carrying the ark, and the singers and Chenaniah the leader of the music of the singers. And David wore a linen ephod. <sup>28</sup>So all Israel brought up the ark of the covenant of the LORD with shouting, to the sound of the horn, trumpets, and cymbals, and made loud music on harps and lyres.

<sup>29</sup>And as the ark of the covenant of the LORD came to the city of David, Michal the daughter of Saul looked out of the window and saw King David dancing and rejoicing, and she despised him in her heart.

The Ark Placed in a Tent

1 Chronicles 16 And they brought in the ark of God and set it inside the tent that David had pitched for it, and they offered burnt offerings and peace offerings before God. <sup>2</sup>And when David had finished offering the burnt offerings and the peace offerings, he blessed the people in the name of the LORD <sup>3</sup>and distributed to all Israel, both men and women, to each a loaf of bread, a portion of meat, [\[1\]](#) and a cake of raisins.

<sup>4</sup>Then he appointed some of the Levites as ministers before the ark of the LORD, to invoke, to thank, and to praise the LORD, the God of Israel. <sup>5</sup>Asaph was the chief, and second to him were Zechariah, Jeiel, Shemiramoth, Jehiel, Mattithiah, Eliab, Benaiah, Obed-edom, and Jeiel, who were to play harps and lyres; Asaph was to sound the cymbals, <sup>6</sup>and Benaiah and Jahaziel the priests were to blow trumpets regularly before the ark of the covenant of God. <sup>7</sup>Then on that day David first appointed that thanksgiving be sung to the LORD by Asaph and his brothers.

David's Song of Thanks

- <sup>8</sup>Oh give thanks to the LORD; call upon his name; make known his deeds among the peoples!
<sup>9</sup>Sing to him; sing praises to him; tell of all his wondrous works!
<sup>10</sup>Glory in his holy name; let the hearts of those who seek the LORD rejoice!
<sup>12</sup>Remember the wondrous works that he has done, his miracles and the judgments he uttered, <sup>13</sup>O offspring of Israel his servant, sons of Jacob, his chosen ones!
<sup>14</sup>He is the LORD our God; his judgments are in all the earth.
<sup>15</sup>Remember his covenant forever, the word that he commanded, for a thousand generations, <sup>16</sup>the covenant that he made with Abraham, his sworn promise to Isaac,
<sup>17</sup>which he confirmed as a statute to Jacob, as an everlasting covenant to Israel,
<sup>18</sup>saying, "To you I will give the land of Canaan, as your portion for an inheritance."
<sup>19</sup>When you were few in number, and of little account, and sojourners in it,

<sup>21</sup>he allowed no one to oppress them; he rebuked kings on their account,
<sup>22</sup>saying, “Touch not my anointed ones, do my prophets no harm!”

<sup>23</sup>‡Sing to the LORD, all the earth!

Tell of his salvation from day to day.

<sup>25</sup>For great is the LORD, and greatly to be praised, and he is to be held in awe above all gods.

<sup>26</sup>For all the gods of the peoples are idols, but the LORD made the heavens.

<sup>29</sup>Ascribe to the LORD the glory due his name; bring an offering and come before him!

Worship the LORD in the splendor of holiness; [2]

<sup>30</sup>tremble before him, all the earth; yes, the world is established; it shall never be moved.

<sup>31</sup>Let the heavens be glad, and let the earth rejoice, and let them say among the nations, “The LORD reigns!”

<sup>32</sup>Let the sea roar, and all that fills it; let the field exult, and everything in it!

<sup>33</sup>Then shall the trees of the forest sing for joy before the LORD, for he comes to judge the earth.

<sup>34</sup>‡Oh give thanks to the LORD, for he is good; for his steadfast love endures forever!

<sup>35</sup>Say also: “Save us, O God of our salvation, and gather and deliver us from among the nations, that we may give thanks to your holy name, and glory in your praise.

<sup>36</sup>Blessed be the LORD, the God of Israel, from everlasting to everlasting!”

Then all the people said, “Amen!” and praised the LORD.

Worship Before the Ark

<sup>37</sup>‡So David left Asaph and his brothers there before the ark of the covenant of the LORD to minister regularly before the ark as each day required, <sup>38</sup>and also Obed-edom and his [3] sixty-eight brothers, while Obed-edom, the son of Jeduthun, and Hosah were to be gatekeepers. <sup>39</sup>‡And he left Zadok the priest and his brothers the priests before the tabernacle of the LORD in the high place that was at Gibeon <sup>40</sup>to offer burnt offerings to the LORD on the altar of burnt offering regularly morning and evening, to do all that is written in the Law of the LORD that he commanded Israel. <sup>41</sup>With them were Heman and Jeduthun and the rest of those chosen and expressly named to give thanks to the LORD, for his steadfast love endures forever. <sup>42</sup>Heman and Jeduthun had trumpets and cymbals for the music and instruments for sacred song. The sons of Jeduthun were appointed to the gate.

<sup>43</sup>Then all the people departed each to his house, and David went home to bless his household.

The LORD's Covenant with David

1 Chronicles 17 ¶¶ Now when David lived in his house, David said to Nathan the prophet, “Behold, I dwell in a house of cedar, but the ark of the covenant of the LORD is under a tent.” <sup>2</sup>And Nathan said to David, “Do all that is in your heart, for God is with you.”

<sup>3</sup>But that same night the word of the LORD came to Nathan, <sup>4</sup>“Go and tell my servant David, ‘Thus says the LORD: It is not you who will build me a house to dwell in. <sup>5</sup>† For I have not lived in a house since the day I brought up Israel to this day, but I have gone from tent to tent and from dwelling to dwelling. <sup>6</sup>In all places where I have moved with all Israel, did I speak a word with any of the judges of Israel, whom I commanded to shepherd my people, saying, “Why have you not built me a house of cedar?”’” <sup>7</sup>Now, therefore, thus shall you say to my servant David, ‘Thus says the LORD of hosts, I took you from the pasture, from following the sheep, to be prince over my people Israel, <sup>8</sup>and I have been with you wherever you have gone and have cut off all your enemies from before you. And I will make for you a name, like the name of the great ones of the earth. <sup>9</sup>And I will appoint a place for my people Israel and will plant them, that they may dwell in their own place and be disturbed no more. And violent men shall waste them no more, as formerly, <sup>10</sup>from the time that I appointed judges over my people Israel. And I will subdue all your enemies. Moreover, I declare to you that the LORD will build you a house. <sup>11</sup>When your days are fulfilled to walk with your fathers, I will raise up your offspring after you, one of your own sons, and I will establish his kingdom. <sup>12</sup>He shall build a house for me, and I will establish his throne forever. <sup>13</sup>I will be to him a father, and he shall be to me a son. I will not take my steadfast love from him, as I took it from him who was before you, <sup>14</sup>but I will confirm him in my house and in my kingdom forever, and his throne shall be established forever.’” <sup>15</sup>In accordance with all these words, and in accordance with all this vision, Nathan spoke to David.

David's Prayer

<sup>16</sup>Then King David went in and sat before the LORD and said, “Who am I, O LORD God, and what is my house, that you have brought me thus far? <sup>17</sup>And this was a small thing in your eyes, O God. You have also spoken of your servant's house for a great while to come, and have shown me future generations, [\[1\]](#) O LORD God! <sup>18</sup>And what more can David say to you for honoring your servant?”

For you know your servant. <sup>19</sup>For your servant's sake, O LORD, and according to your own heart, you have done all this greatness, in making known all these great things. <sup>20</sup>There is none like you, O LORD, and there is no God besides you, according to all that we have heard with our ears. <sup>21</sup>And who is like your people Israel, the one [2] nation on earth whom God went to redeem to be his people, making for yourself a name for great and awesome things, in driving out nations before your people whom you redeemed from Egypt? <sup>22</sup>And you made your people Israel to be your people forever, and you, O LORD, became their God. <sup>23</sup>And now, O LORD, let the word that you have spoken concerning your servant and concerning his house be established forever, and do as you have spoken, <sup>24</sup>and your name will be established and magnified forever, saying, 'The LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, is Israel's God,' and the house of your servant David will be established before you. <sup>25</sup>For you, my God, have revealed to your servant that you will build a house for him. Therefore your servant has found courage to pray before you. <sup>26</sup>And now, O LORD, you are God, and you have promised this good thing to your servant. <sup>27</sup>Now you have been pleased to bless the house of your servant, that it may continue forever before you, for it is you, O LORD, who have blessed, and it is blessed forever."

David Defeats His Enemies

1 Chronicles 18 ¶¶ After this David defeated the Philistines and subdued them, and he took Gath and its villages out of the hand of the Philistines.

<sup>2</sup>¶ And he defeated Moab, and the Moabites became servants to David and brought tribute.

<sup>9</sup>When Tou king of Hamath heard that David had defeated the whole army of Hadadezer, king of Zobah, <sup>10</sup>he sent his son Hadoram to King David, to ask about his health and to bless him because he had fought against Hadadezer and defeated him; for Hadadezer had often been at war with Tou. And he sent all sorts of articles of gold, of silver, and of bronze. <sup>11</sup>¶ These also King David dedicated to the LORD, together with the silver and gold that he had carried off from all the nations, from Edom, Moab, the Ammonites, the Philistines, and Amalek.

<sup>12</sup>¶ And Abishai, the son of Zeruah, killed 18,000 Edomites in the Valley of Salt. <sup>13</sup>Then he put garrisons in Edom, and all the Edomites became David's servants. And the LORD gave victory to David wherever he went.

David's Administration

<sup>14</sup>¶ So David reigned over all Israel, and he administered justice and equity to all his people. <sup>15</sup>And Joab the son of Zeruah was over the army; and Jehoshaphat the son of Ahilud was recorder; <sup>16</sup>and Zadok the son of Ahitub and Ahimelech the son of Abiathar were priests; and Shavsha was secretary; <sup>17</sup>and Benaiah the son of Jehoiada was over the Cherethites and the Pelethites; and David's sons were the chief officials in the service of the king.

The Ammonites Disgrace David's Men

1 Chronicles 19 ¶ Now after this Nahash the king of the Ammonites died, and his son reigned in his place. <sup>2</sup>And David said, “I will deal kindly with Hanun the son of Nahash, for his father dealt kindly with me.” So David sent messengers to console him concerning his father. And David's servants came to the land of the Ammonites to Hanun to console him. <sup>3</sup>But the princes of the Ammonites said to Hanun, “Do you think, because David has sent comforters to you, that he is honoring your father? Have not his servants come to you to search and to overthrow and to spy out the land?” <sup>4</sup>So Hanun took David's servants and shaved them and cut off their garments in the middle, at their hips, and sent them away; <sup>5</sup>and they departed. When David was told concerning the men, he sent messengers to meet them, for the men were greatly ashamed. And the king said, “Remain at Jericho until your beards have grown and then return.”

<sup>6</sup>When the Ammonites saw that they had become a stench to David, Hanun and the Ammonites sent 1,000 talents [\[1\]](#) of silver to hire chariots and horsemen from Mesopotamia, from Aram-maacah, and from Zobah. <sup>7</sup>They hired 32,000 chariots and the king of Maacah with his army, who came and encamped before Medeba. And the Ammonites were mustered from their cities and came to battle. <sup>8</sup>When David heard of it, he sent Joab and all the army of the mighty men. <sup>9</sup>And the Ammonites came out and drew up in battle array at the entrance of the city, and the kings who had come were by themselves in the open country.

Ammonites and Syrians Defeated

<sup>10</sup>When Joab saw that the battle was set against him both in front and in the rear, he chose some of the best men of Israel and arrayed them against the Syrians. <sup>11</sup>The rest of his men he put in the charge of Abishai his brother, and they were arrayed against the Ammonites. <sup>12</sup>And he said, “If the Syrians are too strong for me, then you shall help me, but if the Ammonites are too strong for you, then I will help you. <sup>13</sup>Be strong, and let us use our strength for our people and for the cities of our God, and may the LORD do what seems good to him.” <sup>14</sup>So Joab and the people who were with him drew near before the Syrians for battle, and they fled before him. <sup>15</sup>And when the Ammonites saw that the Syrians fled, they likewise fled before Abishai, Joab's brother, and entered the city. Then Joab came to Jerusalem.

<sup>16</sup>But when the Syrians saw that they had been defeated by Israel, they sent messengers and brought out the Syrians who were beyond the Euphrates, with Shophach the commander of the army of Hadadezer at their head. <sup>17</sup>And when it was told to David, he gathered all Israel together and crossed the Jordan and came to them and drew up his forces against them. And when David set the battle in array against the Syrians, they fought with him. <sup>18</sup>†And the Syrians fled before Israel, and David killed of the Syrians the men of 7,000 chariots and 40,000 foot soldiers, and put to death also Shophach the commander of their army. <sup>19</sup>And when the servants of Hadadezer saw that they had been defeated by Israel, they made peace with David and became subject to him. So the Syrians were not willing to save the Ammonites anymore.

The Capture of Rabbah

1 Chronicles 20 ¶ In the spring of the year, the time when kings go out to battle, Joab led out the army and ravaged the country of the Ammonites and came and besieged Rabbah. But David remained at Jerusalem. And Joab struck down Rabbah and overthrew it. <sup>2</sup>And David took the crown of their king from his head. He found that it weighed a talent [\[1\]](#) of gold, and in it was a precious stone. And it was placed on David's head. And he brought out the spoil of the city, a very great amount. <sup>3</sup>And he brought out the people who were in it and set them to labor [\[2\]](#) with saws and iron picks and axes. [\[3\]](#) And thus David did to all the cities of the Ammonites. Then David and all the people returned to Jerusalem.

Philistine Giants Killed

<sup>4</sup>¶ And after this there arose war with the Philistines at Gezer. Then Sibbecai the Hushathite struck down Sippai, who was one of the descendants of the giants, and the Philistines were subdued. <sup>5</sup>And there was again war with the Philistines, and Elhanan the son of Jair struck down Lahmi the brother of Goliath the Gittite, the shaft of whose spear was like a weaver's beam. <sup>6</sup>And there was again war at Gath, where there was a man of great stature, who had six fingers on each hand and six toes on each foot, twenty-four in number, and he also was descended from the giants. <sup>7</sup>And when he taunted Israel, Jonathan the son of Shimea, David's brother, struck him down. <sup>8</sup>These were descended from the giants in Gath, and they fell by the hand of David and by the hand of his servants.

David's Census Brings Pestilence

1 Chronicles 21 †† Then Satan stood against Israel and incited David to number Israel. <sup>2</sup>So David said to Joab and the commanders of the army, “Go, number Israel, from Beersheba to Dan, and bring me a report, that I may know their number.” <sup>3</sup>† But Joab said, “May the LORD add to his people a hundred times as many as they are! Are they not, my lord the king, all of them my lord's servants? Why then should my lord require this? Why should it be a cause of guilt for Israel?” <sup>4</sup>But the king's word prevailed against Joab. So Joab departed and went throughout all Israel and came back to Jerusalem. <sup>5</sup>† And Joab gave the sum of the numbering of the people to David. In all Israel there were 1,100,000 men who drew the sword, and in Judah 470,000 who drew the sword. <sup>6</sup>† But he did not include Levi and Benjamin in the numbering, for the king's command was abhorrent to Joab.

<sup>7</sup>† But God was displeased with this thing, and he struck Israel. <sup>8</sup>And David said to God, “I have sinned greatly in that I have done this thing. But now, please take away the iniquity of your servant, for I have acted very foolishly.” <sup>9</sup>And the LORD spoke to Gad, David's seer, saying, <sup>10</sup>“Go and say to David, ‘Thus says the LORD, Three things I offer you; choose one of them, that I may do it to you.’” <sup>11</sup>So Gad came to David and said to him, “Thus says the LORD, ‘Choose what you will: <sup>12</sup>† either three years of famine, or three months of devastation by your foes while the sword of your enemies overtakes you, or else three days of the sword of the LORD, pestilence on the land, with the angel of the LORD destroying throughout all the territory of Israel.’ Now decide what answer I shall return to him who sent me.” <sup>13</sup>Then David said to Gad, “I am in great distress. Let me fall into the hand of the LORD, for his mercy is very great, but do not let me fall into the hand of man.”

<sup>14</sup>So the LORD sent a pestilence on Israel, and 70,000 men of Israel fell. <sup>15</sup>† And God sent the angel to Jerusalem to destroy it, but as he was about to destroy it, the LORD saw, and he relented from the calamity. And he said to the angel who was working destruction, “It is enough; now stay your hand.” And the angel of the LORD was standing by the threshing floor of Ornan the Jebusite. <sup>16</sup>† And David lifted his eyes and saw the angel of the LORD standing between earth and heaven, and in his hand a drawn sword stretched out over Jerusalem. Then David and the elders, clothed in sackcloth, fell upon their faces. <sup>17</sup>And David said to God, “Was it not I who gave command to number the people? It is I who have sinned and done great evil. But these sheep, what have they done? Please let your hand, O LORD my God, be against me and against my father's house. But do not let the plague be on your people.”

David Builds an Altar

<sup>18</sup>Now the angel of the LORD had commanded Gad to say to David that David should go up and raise an altar to the LORD on the threshing floor of Ornan the Jebusite. <sup>19</sup>So David went up at Gad's word, which he had spoken in the name of the LORD. <sup>20</sup>Now Ornan was threshing wheat. He turned and saw the angel, and his four sons who were with him hid themselves. <sup>21</sup>As David came to Ornan, Ornan looked and saw David and went out from the threshing floor and paid homage to David with his face to the ground. <sup>22</sup>And David said to Ornan, “Give me the site of the threshing floor that I may build on it an altar to the LORD—give it to me at its full price—that the plague may be averted from the people.” <sup>23</sup>Then Ornan said to David, “Take it, and let my lord the king do what seems good to him. See, I give the oxen for burnt offerings and the threshing sledges for the wood and the wheat for a grain offering; I give it all.” <sup>24</sup>But King David said to Ornan, “No, but I will buy them for the full price. I will not take for the LORD what is yours, nor offer burnt offerings that cost me nothing.” <sup>25</sup>So David paid Ornan 600 shekels [1] of gold by weight for the site. <sup>26</sup>And David built there an altar to the LORD and presented burnt offerings and peace offerings and called on the LORD, and the LORD [2] answered him with fire from heaven upon the altar of burnt offering. <sup>27</sup>Then the LORD commanded the angel, and he put his sword back into its sheath.

<sup>28</sup>At that time, when David saw that the LORD had answered him at the threshing floor of Ornan the Jebusite, he sacrificed there. <sup>29</sup>For the tabernacle of the LORD, which Moses had made in the wilderness, and the altar of burnt offering were at that time in the high place at Gibeon, <sup>30</sup>but David could not go before it to inquire of God, for he was afraid of the sword of the angel of the LORD.

1 Chronicles 22 ¶¶¶ Then David said, “Here shall be the house of the LORD God and here the altar of burnt offering for Israel.”

David Prepares for Temple Building

2 ¶ David commanded to gather together the resident aliens who were in the land of Israel, and he set stonecutters to prepare dressed stones for building the house of God. 3 ¶ David also provided great quantities of iron for nails for the doors of the gates and for clamps, as well as bronze in quantities beyond weighing, 4 ¶ and cedar timbers without number, for the Sidonians and Tyrians brought great quantities of cedar to David. 5 ¶ For David said, “Solomon my son is young and inexperienced, and the house that is to be built for the LORD must be exceedingly magnificent, of fame and glory throughout all lands. I will therefore make preparation for it.” So David provided materials in great quantity before his death.

Solomon Charged to Build the Temple

6 ¶ Then he called for Solomon his son and charged him to build a house for the LORD, the God of Israel. 7 David said to Solomon, “My son, I had it in my heart to build a house to the name of the LORD my God. 8 ¶ But the word of the LORD came to me, saying, ‘You have shed much blood and have waged great wars. You shall not build a house to my name, because you have shed so much blood before me on the earth. 9 Behold, a son shall be born to you who shall be a man of rest. I will give him rest from all his surrounding enemies. For his name shall be Solomon, and I will give peace and quiet to Israel in his days. 10 He shall build a house for my name. He shall be my son, and I will be his father, and I will establish his royal throne in Israel forever.’

11 ¶ “Now, my son, the LORD be with you, so that you may succeed in building the house of the LORD your God, as he has spoken concerning you. 12 Only, may the LORD grant you discretion and understanding, that when he gives you charge over Israel you may keep the law of the LORD your God. 13 Then you will prosper if you are careful to observe the statutes and the rules that the LORD commanded Moses for Israel. Be strong and courageous. Fear not; do not be dismayed.

14 ¶ With great pains I have provided for the house of the LORD 100,000 talents [1] of gold, a million talents of silver, and bronze and iron beyond weighing, for there is so much of it; timber and stone, too, I have provided. To these you must add. <sup>15</sup>You have an abundance of workmen: stonecutters, masons, carpenters, and all kinds of craftsmen without number, skilled in working <sup>16</sup>gold, silver, bronze, and iron. Arise and work! The LORD be with you!”

<sup>17</sup>‡David also commanded all the leaders of Israel to help Solomon his son, saying, <sup>18</sup>“Is not the LORD your God with you? And has he not given you peace on every side? For he has delivered the inhabitants of the land into my hand, and the land is subdued before the LORD and his people. <sup>19</sup>Now set your mind and heart to seek the LORD your God. Arise and build the sanctuary of the LORD God, so that the ark of the covenant of the LORD and the holy vessels of God may be brought into a house built for the name of the LORD.”

David Organizes the Levites

1 Chronicles 23 †† When David was old and full of days, he made Solomon his son king over Israel.

<sup>2</sup>David [\[1\]](#) assembled all the leaders of Israel and the priests and the Levites.

<sup>3</sup>† The Levites, thirty years old and upward, were numbered, and the total was 38,000 men. <sup>4</sup>† “Twenty-four thousand of these,” David said, [\[2\]](#) “shall have charge of the work in the house of the LORD, 6,000 shall be officers and judges, <sup>5</sup>† 4,000 gatekeepers, and 4,000 shall offer praises to the LORD with the instruments that I have made for praise.” <sup>6</sup>† And David organized them in divisions corresponding to the sons of Levi: Gershon, Kohath, and Merari.

<sup>7</sup>The sons of Gershon [\[3\]](#) were Ladan and Shimei. <sup>8</sup>The sons of Ladan: Jehiel the chief, and Zetham, and Joel, three. <sup>9</sup>The sons of Shimei: Shelomoth, Haziël, and Haran, three. These were the heads of the fathers' houses of Ladan. <sup>10</sup>And the sons of Shimei: Jahath, Zina, and Jeush and Beriah. These four were the sons of Shimei. <sup>11</sup>Jahath was the chief, and Zizah the second; but Jeush and Beriah did not have many sons, therefore they became counted as a single father's house.

<sup>12</sup>The sons of Kohath: Amram, Izhar, Hebron, and Uzziel, four. <sup>13</sup>The sons of Amram: Aaron and Moses. Aaron was set apart to dedicate the most holy things, that he and his sons forever should make offerings before the LORD and minister to him and pronounce blessings in his name forever. <sup>14</sup>But the sons of Moses the man of God were named among the tribe of Levi. <sup>15</sup>The sons of Moses: Gershom and Eliezer. <sup>16</sup>The sons of Gershom: Shebuel the chief. <sup>17</sup>The sons of Eliezer: Rehabiah the chief. Eliezer had no other sons, but the sons of Rehabiah were very many. <sup>18</sup>The sons of Izhar: Shelomith the chief. <sup>19</sup>The sons of Hebron: Jeriah the chief, Amariah the second, Jahaziel the third, and Jekameam the fourth. <sup>20</sup>The sons of Uzziel: Micah the chief and Isshiah the second.

<sup>24</sup>† These were the sons of Levi by their fathers' houses, the heads of fathers' houses as they were listed according to the number of the names of the individuals from twenty years old and upward who were to do the work for the service of the house of the LORD. <sup>25</sup>† For David said, “The LORD, the God of Israel, has given rest to his people, and he dwells in Jerusalem forever. <sup>26</sup>And so the Levites no longer need to carry the tabernacle or any of the things for its service.” <sup>27</sup>For by the last words of David the sons of Levi were numbered from twenty years old and upward. <sup>28</sup>For their duty was to assist the sons of Aaron for the service of the house of the LORD, having the care of the courts and the chambers, the cleansing of all that is holy, and any work for the service of the house of God. <sup>29</sup>Their duty was also to assist with the showbread, the flour for the grain offering, the wafers of unleavened bread, the baked offering, the offering mixed with oil, and all measures of quantity or size. <sup>30</sup>And they were to stand every morning, thanking and praising the LORD, and likewise at evening, <sup>31</sup>and whenever burnt offerings were offered to the LORD on Sabbaths, new moons, and feast days, according to the number required of them, regularly before the LORD. <sup>32</sup>Thus they were to keep charge of the tent of meeting and the sanctuary, and to attend the sons of Aaron, their brothers, for the service of the house of the LORD.

David Organizes the Priests

1 Chronicles 24 †† The divisions of the sons of Aaron were these. The sons of Aaron: Nadab, Abihu, Eleazar, and Ithamar. <sup>2</sup>But Nadab and Abihu died before their father and had no children, so Eleazar and Ithamar became the priests. <sup>3</sup>† With the help of Zadok of the sons of Eleazar, and Ahimelech of the sons of Ithamar, David organized them according to the appointed duties in their service. <sup>4</sup>† Since more chief men were found among the sons of Eleazar than among the sons of Ithamar, they organized them under sixteen heads of fathers' houses of the sons of Eleazar, and eight of the sons of Ithamar. <sup>5</sup>† They divided them by lot, all alike, for there were sacred officers and officers of God among both the sons of Eleazar and the sons of Ithamar. <sup>6</sup>And the scribe Shemaiah, the son of Nethanel, a Levite, recorded them in the presence of the king and the princes and Zadok the priest and Ahimelech the son of Abiathar and the heads of the fathers' houses of the priests and of the Levites, one father's house being chosen for Eleazar and one chosen for Ithamar.

and Jerimoth. These were the sons of the Levites according to their fathers' houses. <sup>31</sup>These also, the head of each father's house and his younger brother alike, cast lots, just as their brothers the sons of Aaron, in the presence of King David, Zadok, Ahimelech, and the heads of fathers' houses of the priests and of the Levites.

David Organizes the Musicians

1 Chronicles 25 †David and the chiefs of the service also set apart for the service the sons of Asaph, and of Heman, and of Jeduthun, who prophesied with lyres, with harps, and with cymbals. The list of those who did the work and of their duties was: <sup>2</sup>Of the sons of Asaph: Zaccur, Joseph, Nethaniah, and Asharelah, sons of Asaph, under the direction of Asaph, who prophesied under the direction of the king. <sup>3</sup>Of Jeduthun, the sons of Jeduthun: Gedaliah, Zeri, Jeshaiiah, Shimei, [\[1\]](#) Hashabiah, and Mattithiah, six, under the direction of their father Jeduthun, who prophesied with the lyre in thanksgiving and praise to the LORD. <sup>4</sup>Of Heman, the sons of Heman: Bukkiah, Mattaniah, Uzziel, Shebuel and Jerimoth, Hananiah, Hanani, Eliathah, Giddalti, and Romamti-ezer, Joshbekashah, Mallothi, Hothir, Mahazioth. <sup>5</sup>†All these were the sons of Heman the king's seer, according to the promise of God to exalt him, for God had given Heman fourteen sons and three daughters. <sup>6</sup>They were all under the direction of their father in the music in the house of the LORD with cymbals, harps, and lyres for the service of the house of God. Asaph, Jeduthun, and Heman were under the order of the king. <sup>7</sup>The number of them along with their brothers, who were trained in singing to the LORD, all who were skillful, was 288. <sup>8</sup>And they cast lots for their duties, small and great, teacher and pupil alike.

<sup>9</sup>†The first lot fell for Asaph to Joseph; the second to Gedaliah, to him and his brothers and his sons, twelve; <sup>10</sup>the third to Zaccur, his sons and his brothers, twelve; <sup>11</sup>the fourth to Izri, his sons and his brothers, twelve; <sup>12</sup>the fifth to Nethaniah, his sons and his brothers, twelve; <sup>13</sup>the sixth to Bukkiah, his sons and his brothers, twelve; <sup>14</sup>the seventh to Jesharelah, his sons and his brothers, twelve; <sup>15</sup>the eighth to Jeshaiiah, his sons and his brothers, twelve; <sup>16</sup>the ninth to Mattaniah, his sons and his brothers, twelve; <sup>17</sup>the tenth to Shimei, his sons and his brothers, twelve; <sup>18</sup>the eleventh to Azarel, his sons and his brothers, twelve; <sup>19</sup>the twelfth to Hashabiah, his sons and his brothers, twelve; <sup>20</sup>to the thirteenth, Shubael, his sons and his brothers, twelve; <sup>21</sup>to the fourteenth, Mattithiah, his sons and his brothers, twelve; <sup>22</sup>to the fifteenth, to Jeremoth, his sons and his brothers, twelve; <sup>23</sup>to the sixteenth, to Hananiah, his sons and his brothers, twelve; <sup>24</sup>to the seventeenth, to Joshbekashah, his sons and his brothers, twelve; <sup>25</sup>to the eighteenth, to Hanani, his sons and his brothers, twelve; <sup>26</sup>to the nineteenth, to Mallothi, his sons and his brothers, twelve; <sup>27</sup>to the twentieth, to Eliathah, his sons and his brothers, twelve; <sup>28</sup>to the twenty-first, to Hothir, his sons and his brothers, twelve; <sup>29</sup>to the twenty-second, to Giddalti, his sons and his brothers, twelve; <sup>30</sup>to the twenty-third, to Mahazioth, his sons and his brothers, twelve; <sup>31</sup>to the twenty-fourth, to Romanti-ezer, his sons and his brothers, twelve.

Divisions of the Gatekeepers

1 Chronicles 26 ‡As for the divisions of the gatekeepers: of the Korahites, Meshelemiah the son of Kore, of the sons of Asaph. <sup>2</sup>And Meshelemiah had sons: Zechariah the firstborn, Jediael the second, Zebadiah the third, Jathniel the fourth, <sup>3</sup>Elam the fifth, Jehohanan the sixth, Eliehoenai the seventh. <sup>4</sup>And Obed-edom had sons: Shemaiah the firstborn, Jehozabad the second, Joah the third, Sachar the fourth, Nethanel the fifth, <sup>5</sup>Ammiel the sixth, Issachar the seventh, Peullethai the eighth, for God blessed him. <sup>6</sup>Also to his son Shemaiah were sons born who were rulers in their fathers' houses, for they were men of great ability. <sup>7</sup>The sons of Shemaiah: Othni, Rephael, Obed and Elzabad, whose brothers were able men, Elihu and Semachiah. <sup>8</sup>All these were of the sons of Obed-edom with their sons and brothers, able men qualified for the service; sixty-two of Obed-edom. <sup>9</sup>And Meshelemiah had sons and brothers, able men, eighteen. <sup>10</sup>And Hosah, of the sons of Merari, had sons: Shimri the chief (for though he was not the firstborn, his father made him chief), <sup>11</sup>Hilkiah the second, Tebaliah the third, Zechariah the fourth: all the sons and brothers of Hosah were thirteen.

Treasurers and Other Officials

<sup>20</sup>‡‡And of the Levites, Ahijah had charge of the treasuries of the house of God and the treasuries of the dedicated gifts. <sup>21</sup>The sons of Ladan, the sons of the Gershonites belonging to Ladan, the heads of the fathers' houses belonging to Ladan the Gershonite: Jehieli. [\[3\]](#)

<sup>22</sup>The sons of Jehieli, Zetham, and Joel his brother, were in charge of the treasuries of the house of the LORD. <sup>23</sup>Of the Amramites, the Izharites, the Hebronites, and the Uzzielites— <sup>24</sup>and Shebuel the son of Gershom, son of Moses, was chief officer in charge of the treasuries. <sup>25</sup>His brothers: from Eliezer were his son Rehabiah, and his son Jeshaiiah, and his son Joram, and his son Zichri, and his son Shelomoth. <sup>26</sup>This Shelomoth and his brothers were in charge of all the treasuries of the dedicated gifts that David the king and the heads of the fathers' houses and the officers of the thousands and the hundreds and the commanders of the army had dedicated. <sup>27</sup>From spoil won in battles they dedicated gifts for the maintenance of the house of the LORD. <sup>28</sup>Also all that Samuel the seer and Saul the son of Kish and Abner the son of Ner and Joab the son of Zeruiah had dedicated—all dedicated gifts were in the care of Shelomoth [4] and his brothers.

<sup>29</sup>‡Of the Izharites, Chenaniah and his sons were appointed to external duties for Israel, as officers and judges. <sup>30</sup>Of the Hebronites, Hashabiah and his brothers, 1,700 men of ability, had the oversight of Israel westward of the Jordan for all the work of the LORD and for the service of the king. <sup>31</sup>‡Of the Hebronites, Jerijah was chief of the Hebronites of whatever genealogy or fathers' houses. (In the fortieth year of David's reign search was made and men of great ability among them were found at Jazer in Gilead.) <sup>32</sup>King David appointed him and his brothers, 2,700 men of ability, heads of fathers' houses, to have the oversight of the Reubenites, the Gadites and the half-tribe of the Manassites for everything pertaining to God and for the affairs of the king.

Military Divisions

1 Chronicles 27 ¶ This is the number of the people of Israel, the heads of fathers' houses, the commanders of thousands and hundreds, and their officers who served the king in all matters concerning the divisions that came and went, month after month throughout the year, each division numbering 24,000: <sup>2</sup>Jashobeam the son of Zabdiel was in charge of the first division in the first month; in his division were 24,000. <sup>3</sup>He was a descendant of Perez and was chief of all the commanders. He served for the first month. <sup>4</sup>Dodai the Ahohite [\[1\]](#) was in charge of the division of the second month; in his division were 24,000. <sup>5</sup>The third commander, for the third month, was Benaiah, the son of Jehoiada the chief priest; in his division were 24,000. <sup>6</sup>This is the Benaiah who was a mighty man of the thirty and in command of the thirty; Ammizabad his son was in charge of his division. [\[2\]](#) <sup>7</sup>Asahel the brother of Joab was fourth, for the fourth month, and his son Zebadiah after him; in his division were 24,000. <sup>8</sup>The fifth commander, for the fifth month, was Shamhuth the Izrahite; in his division were 24,000. <sup>9</sup>Sixth, for the sixth month, was Ira, the son of Ikkesh the Tekoite; in his division were 24,000. <sup>10</sup>Seventh, for the seventh month, was Helez the Pelonite, of the sons of Ephraim; in his division were 24,000. <sup>11</sup>Eighth, for the eighth month, was Sibbecai the Hushathite, of the Zerahites; in his division were 24,000. <sup>12</sup>Ninth, for the ninth month, was Abiezer of Anathoth, a Benjaminite; in his division were 24,000. <sup>13</sup>Tenth, for the tenth month, was Maharai of Netophah, of the Zerahites; in his division were 24,000. <sup>14</sup>Eleventh, for the eleventh month, was Benaiah of Pirathon, of the sons of Ephraim; in his division were 24,000. <sup>15</sup>Twelfth, for the twelfth month, was Heldai the Netophathite, of Othniel; in his division were 24,000.

Leaders of Tribes

those below twenty years of age, for the LORD had promised to make Israel as many as the stars of heaven. <sup>24</sup>‡Joab the son of Zeruiah began to count, but did not finish. Yet wrath came upon Israel for this, and the number was not entered in the chronicles of King David.

<sup>25</sup>‡Over the king's treasuries was Azmaveth the son of Adiel; and over the treasuries in the country, in the cities, in the villages, and in the towers, was Jonathan the son of Uzziah; <sup>26</sup>and over those who did the work of the field for tilling the soil was Ezri the son of Chelub; <sup>27</sup>and over the vineyards was Shimei the Ramathite; and over the produce of the vineyards for the wine cellars was Zabdi the Shipmite. <sup>28</sup>Over the olive and sycamore trees in the Shephelah was Baal-hanan the Gederite; and over the stores of oil was Joash. <sup>29</sup>Over the herds that pastured in Sharon was Shitrai the Sharonite; over the herds in the valleys was Shaphat the son of Adlai. <sup>30</sup>Over the camels was Obil the Ishmaelite; and over the donkeys was Jehdeiah the Meronothite. Over the flocks was Jaziz the Hagrite. <sup>31</sup>All these were stewards of King David's property.

<sup>32</sup>‡Jonathan, David's uncle, was a counselor, being a man of understanding and a scribe. He and Jehiel the son of Hachmoni attended the king's sons. <sup>33</sup>Ahithophel was the king's counselor, and Hushai the Archite was the king's friend.

<sup>34</sup>Ahithophel was succeeded by Jehoiada the son of Benaiah, and Abiathar. Joab was commander of the king's army.

David's Charge to Israel

1 Chronicles 28 † David assembled at Jerusalem all the officials of Israel, the officials of the tribes, the officers of the divisions that served the king, the commanders of thousands, the commanders of hundreds, the stewards of all the property and livestock of the king and his sons, together with the palace officials, the mighty men and all the seasoned warriors. ‡ Then King David rose to his feet and said: “Hear me, my brothers and my people. I had it in my heart to build a house of rest for the ark of the covenant of the LORD and for the footstool of our God, and I made preparations for building. <sup>3</sup>But God said to me, ‘You may not build a house for my name, for you are a man of war and have shed blood.’ <sup>4</sup>Yet the LORD God of Israel chose me from all my father's house to be king over Israel forever. For he chose Judah as leader, and in the house of Judah my father's house, and among my father's sons he took pleasure in me to make me king over all Israel. <sup>5</sup>And of all my sons (for the LORD has given me many sons) he has chosen Solomon my son to sit on the throne of the kingdom of the LORD over Israel. <sup>6</sup>He said to me, ‘It is Solomon your son who shall build my house and my courts, for I have chosen him to be my son, and I will be his father. <sup>7</sup>I will establish his kingdom forever if he continues strong in keeping my commandments and my rules, as he is today.’ † Now therefore in the sight of all Israel, the assembly of the LORD, and in the hearing of our God, observe and seek out all the commandments of the LORD your God, that you may possess this good land and leave it for an inheritance to your children after you forever.

David's Charge to Solomon

†† “And you, Solomon my son, know the God of your father and serve him with a whole heart and with a willing mind, for the LORD searches all hearts and understands every plan and thought. If you seek him, he will be found by you, but if you forsake him, he will cast you off forever. <sup>10</sup>Be careful now, for the LORD has chosen you to build a house for the sanctuary; be strong and do it.”

<sup>11</sup>Then David gave Solomon his son the plan of the vestibule of the temple, [\[1\]](#) and of its houses, its treasuries, its upper rooms, and its inner chambers, and of the room for the mercy seat; <sup>12</sup>and the plan of all that he had in mind for the courts of the house of the LORD, all the surrounding chambers, the treasuries of the house of God, and the treasuries for dedicated gifts; <sup>13</sup>for the divisions of the priests and of the Levites, and all the work of the service in the house of the LORD; for all the vessels for the service in the house of the LORD, <sup>14</sup>the weight of gold for all golden vessels for each service, the weight of silver vessels for each service, <sup>15</sup>the weight of the golden lampstands and their lamps, the weight of gold for each lampstand and its lamps, the weight of silver for a lampstand and its lamps, according to the use of each lampstand in the service, <sup>16</sup>the weight of gold for each table for the showbread, the silver for the silver tables, <sup>17</sup>and pure gold for the forks, the basins and the cups; for the golden bowls and the weight of each; for the silver bowls and the weight of each; <sup>18</sup>‡for the altar of incense made of refined gold, and its weight; also his plan for the golden chariot of the cherubim that spread their wings and covered the ark of the covenant of the LORD. <sup>19</sup>‡“All this he made clear to me in writing from the hand of the LORD, all the work to be done according to the plan.”

<sup>20</sup>‡Then David said to Solomon his son, “Be strong and courageous and do it. Do not be afraid and do not be dismayed, for the LORD God, even my God, is with you. He will not leave you or forsake you, until all the work for the service of the house of the LORD is finished. <sup>21</sup>And behold the divisions of the priests and the Levites for all the service of the house of God; and with you in all the work will be every willing man who has skill for any kind of service; also the officers and all the people will be wholly at your command.”

Offerings for the Temple

1 Chronicles 29 †† And David the king said to all the assembly, “Solomon my son, whom alone God has chosen, is young and inexperienced, and the work is great, for the palace will not be for man but for the LORD God. <sup>2</sup>So I have provided for the house of my God, so far as I was able, the gold for the things of gold, the silver for the things of silver, and the bronze for the things of bronze, the iron for the things of iron, and wood for the things of wood, besides great quantities of onyx and stones for setting, antimony, colored stones, all sorts of precious stones and marble. <sup>3</sup>Moreover, in addition to all that I have provided for the holy house, I have a treasure of my own of gold and silver, and because of my devotion to the house of my God I give it to the house of my God: <sup>4</sup>†3,000 talents [\[1\]](#) of gold, of the gold of Ophir, and 7,000 talents of refined silver, for overlaying the walls of the house, [\[2\]](#) <sup>5</sup>and for all the work to be done by craftsmen, gold for the things of gold and silver for the things of silver. Who then will offer willingly, consecrating himself [\[3\]](#) today to the LORD?”

<sup>6</sup>† Then the leaders of fathers' houses made their freewill offerings, as did also the leaders of the tribes, the commanders of thousands and of hundreds, and the officers over the king's work. <sup>7</sup>† They gave for the service of the house of God 5,000 talents and 10,000 darics [\[4\]](#) of gold, 10,000 talents of silver, 18,000 talents of bronze and 100,000 talents of iron. <sup>8</sup>And whoever had precious stones gave them to the treasury of the house of the LORD, in the care of Jehiel the Gershonite. <sup>9</sup>Then the people rejoiced because they had given willingly, for with a whole heart they had offered freely to the LORD. David the king also rejoiced greatly.

David Prays in the Assembly

<sup>10</sup>† Therefore David blessed the LORD in the presence of all the assembly. And David said: “Blessed are you, O LORD, the God of Israel our father, forever and ever. <sup>11</sup>Yours, O LORD, is the greatness and the power and the glory and the victory and the majesty, for all that is in the heavens and in the earth is yours. Yours is the kingdom, O LORD, and you are exalted as head above all. <sup>12</sup>Both riches and honor come from you, and you rule over all. In your hand are power and might, and in your hand it is to make great and to give strength to all. <sup>13</sup>And now we thank you, our God, and praise your glorious name.

<sup>14</sup>“But who am I, and what is my people, that we should be able thus to offer willingly? For all things come from you, and of your own have we given you. <sup>15</sup>For we are strangers before you and sojourners, as all our fathers were. Our days on the earth are like a shadow, and there is no abiding. [5] <sup>16</sup>‡O LORD our God, all this abundance that we have provided for building you a house for your holy name comes from your hand and is all your own. <sup>17</sup>‡I know, my God, that you test the heart and have pleasure in uprightness. In the uprightness of my heart I have freely offered all these things, and now I have seen your people, who are present here, offering freely and joyously to you. <sup>18</sup>O LORD, the God of Abraham, Isaac, and Israel, our fathers, keep forever such purposes and thoughts in the hearts of your people, and direct their hearts toward you. <sup>19</sup>Grant to Solomon my son a whole heart that he may keep your commandments, your testimonies, and your statutes, performing all, and that he may build the palace for which I have made provision.”

<sup>20</sup>‡Then David said to all the assembly, “Bless the LORD your God.” And all the assembly blessed the LORD, the God of their fathers, and bowed their heads and paid homage to the LORD and to the king. <sup>21</sup>‡And they offered sacrifices to the LORD, and on the next day offered burnt offerings to the LORD, 1,000 bulls, 1,000 rams, and 1,000 lambs, with their drink offerings, and sacrifices in abundance for all Israel. <sup>22</sup>‡And they ate and drank before the LORD on that day with great gladness.

Solomon Anointed King

And they made Solomon the son of David king the second time, and they anointed him as prince for the LORD, and Zadok as priest.

<sup>23</sup>Then Solomon sat on the throne of the LORD as king in place of David his father. And he prospered, and all Israel obeyed him. <sup>24</sup>All the leaders and the mighty men, and also all the sons of King David, pledged their allegiance to King Solomon. <sup>25</sup>And the LORD made Solomon very great in the sight of all Israel and bestowed on him such royal majesty as had not been on any king before him in Israel.

The Death of David

<sup>26</sup>‡Thus David the son of Jesse reigned over all Israel. <sup>27</sup>‡The time that he reigned over Israel was forty years. He reigned seven years in Hebron and thirty-three years in Jerusalem. <sup>28</sup>Then he died at a good age, full of days, riches, and honor. And Solomon his son reigned in his place. <sup>29</sup>†Now the acts of King David, from first to last, are written in the Chronicles of Samuel the seer, and in the Chronicles of Nathan the prophet, and in the Chronicles of Gad the seer, <sup>30</sup>with accounts of all his rule and his might and of the circumstances that came upon him and upon Israel and upon all the kingdoms of the countries.

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 1:43 kings . . . Edom. Esau’s children settled in Edom, east and south of Israel, and are included among the Arab nations.

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 2:1–7:40 These genealogies reflect the lineage of Jacob/Israel through his 12 sons. The tribe of Judah leads the list, indicating its importance, no doubt because of the Davidic heritage. After Judah, Levi receives the most attention, indicating the importance of their priestly role. Joseph (2:2) is later enumerated in terms of his sons Manasseh and Ephraim. Dan and Zebulun are not mentioned here, although they both are identified in the millennial distribution of land (cf. Ezek. 48:1–2, 26–27). The exact reason for these omissions is unknown. Benjamin is given additional attention in 1 Chron. 8:1–40. The tribes are mentioned as follows: 1) Judah (2:3–4:23); 2) Simeon (4:24–43); 3) Reuben (5:1–10); 4) Gad (5:11–22); 5) Manasseh-East (5:23–26); 6) Levi (6:1–81); 7) Issachar (7:1–5); 8) Benjamin (7:6–12); 9) Naphtali (7:13); 10) Manasseh-West (7:14–19); 11) Ephraim (7:20–29); and 12) Asher (7:30–40).

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 2:7 Achan. In Josh. 7:1–26 he disobeyed the Lord by taking goods from under God’s Jericho ban.

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 3:1–4 See 2 Sam. 3:2–5.

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 3:1 David. The chief reason for such detailed genealogies is that they affirm the line of Christ from Adam (Luke 3:38) through Abraham and David (Matt. 1:1), thus emphasizing the kingdom intentions of God in Christ.

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 3:5–8 See 2 Sam. 5:14–16 and 1 Chron. 14:4–7.

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 3:10–16 Rehoboam . . . Zedekiah. The reigns of these descendants of David are delineated in 2 Chron. 10:1–36:21.

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 3:16 Jeconiah. God’s curse resulting in no royal descendants from the line of Jeconiah (a.k.a. Jehoiachin), as given by Jeremiah (Jer. 22:30), was enforced by God. Even though Jeconiah was in the line of Christ, the Messiah was not a physical child of that line, thus affirming the curse, yet sustaining the legality of his kingship through Joseph, who was in David’s line. His blood birthright came through Mary, who traced her line to David through his son Nathan, not Solomon (cf. Luke 3:31).

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 3:22 six. Only five sons are named, so the number includes their father Shemaiah.

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 4:41 Hezekiah. He ruled Judah c. 715–686 B.C.

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 4:43 Amalekites. Longstanding enemies of Israel whom God purposed to exterminate. Another branch of the Amalekite family tree had appeared in Persia, represented by Haman, who attempted to exterminate the Jews (Est. 3:1ff.).

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 5:2 Judah became strong. In accordance with Jacob's blessing (Gen. 49:10), the king of Israel is to come from Judah. This prophecy had historical reference to the Davidic Covenant (cf. 2 Sam. 7; 1 Chron. 17) with full messianic implications.

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 5:6 Tilgath-pileser. The king of Assyria (c. 745–727 B.C.) who threatened Judah and made Ahaz pay a tribute (cf. 2 Kings 16:7–20; 2 Chron. 28:16–21).

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 5:22 the exile. The Assyrian deportation of 722 B.C. is meant (cf. 5:26).

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 6:1–15 This section lists the high-priestly lineage from Levi (v. 1) through Aaron (v. 3), through Eleazar (v v. 3–4), and through Phinehas (v. 4), with whom God covenanted for a perpetual priesthood (Num. 25:11–13).

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 6:8 Zadok. By the time of David's reign, the high-priestly line had wrongly been shifted to the sons of Ithamar as represented by Abiathar. When Abiathar sided with Adonijah rather than Solomon, Zadok became the ruling high priest (1 Kings 2:26–27) and restored the high priesthood to the Levitical line through Phinehas (cf. Num. 25:10–13).

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 6:13 Hilkiah. The high priest who rediscovered the law in Josiah's reign c. 622 B.C. (2 Kings 22:8–13; 2 Chron. 34:14–21).

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 6:14 Seraiah. The high priest who was executed by the Babylonians after their occupation of Jerusalem c. 586 B.C. (2 Kings 25:18–21). Jehozadak. (a.k.a. Jozadak.) The father of Jeshua, the first high priest in the return (cf. Ezra 3:2; 5:2).

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 6:16–30 The sons of Levi (vv. 16–19) and their families (vv. 20–30) are given here.

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 6:27–28 Samuel, a Levite, by exceptional, divine direction, offered priestly sacrifices (cf. 1 Sam. 7:9; 10:8; 11:14–15). The fact that Elkanah was from Ephraim (1 Sam. 1:1) indicates where he lived, not his family history (Num. 35:6–8).

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 6:31–48 The Levitical musicians are listed as they relate to: 1) Kohath and Heman (vv. 33–38); 2) Gershon and Asaph (vv. 39–43); and 3) Merari and Ethan (vv. 44–47).

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 6:49–53 This is a repeat of the high-priestly line enumerated in vv. 4–8 through Zadok. This repeated genealogy could possibly point to the Zadokian high priesthood for the temple in the Millennium (cf. Ezek. 40:46; 43:19; 44:15; 48:11).

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 6:54–81 This section rehearses the 48 cities given to the Levites instead of a section of land (cf. Num. 35:1–8; Josh. 21:1–42), which signals God’s intention for the Jewish nation to have a priesthood and future in the land first given to Abraham (cf. Gen. 12:1–3).

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 8:1–40 This section enlarges on the genealogy of Benjamin in 7:6–12, most likely because of that tribe’s important relationship with Judah in the southern kingdom. Thus these two tribes taken in captivity together and the Levites make up the returning remnant in 538 B.C.

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 9:1 all Israel. Even though the northern kingdom of Israel never returned from dispersion in 722 B.C., many from the 10 tribes that made up that kingdom migrated south after the division in 931 B.C. The result was that Judah, the southern kingdom, had people from all tribes, so that when returning from captivity “all Israel” was truly represented.

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 9:2 first to dwell. This chapter has genealogies of returning 1) Israelites (vv. 3–9); 2) priests (vv. 10–13); and 3) Levites (vv. 14–34). temple servants. These temple servants (Ezra 8:20) were possibly descendants of the Gibeonites (cf. Josh. 9:3–4, 23).

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 9:35–44 This section records Saul’s lineage as a transition to the main theme of the rest of the book, which is the kingship of David (c. 1011 B.C.).

The Chronicle's Sources

The Chronicles' Sources
The inspiration of Scripture ( 2 Tim. 3:16 ) was sometimes accomplished through direct revelation from God without a human writer, e.g., the Mosaic law. At other times, God used human sources, as mentioned in Luke 1:1–4 . Such was the experience of the chronicler as evidenced by the many contributing sources. Whether the material came through direct revelation or by existing resources, God's inspiration through the Holy Spirit prevented the original human authors of Scripture from any error ( 2 Pet. 1:19–21 ). Although relatively few scribal errors have been made in copying Scripture, they can be identified and corrected. Thus, the original, inerrant content of the Bible has been preserved.

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 10:1–12 See notes on 1 Sam. 31:1–13 (cf. 2 Sam. 1:4–12).

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 10:13–14 This summary is unique to 1 Chronicles and provides the proper transition from Saul's kingship to David's reign.

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 10:14 the Lord put him to death. Though Saul killed himself (v. 4), God took responsibility for Saul's death, which was fully deserved for consulting a medium, an activity punishable by death (cf. Deut. 17:1–6). This demonstrates that human behavior is under the ultimate control of God, who achieves his purpose through the actions of people.

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 11:1–29:30 This section selectively recounts the reign of David with a heavy emphasis on the placement of the ark in Jerusalem and preparation to build the temple.

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 11:1–3 See notes on 2 Sam. 5:1–3.

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 11:4–9 See notes on 2 Sam. 5:6–10.

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 11:10–41 See notes on 2 Sam. 23:8–39.

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 11:11 Jashobeam . . . Hachmonite. In 27:2, he is called the son of Zabdiel, so Hachmon may be, strictly speaking, his grandfather (27:32). For a variation in name and number (300), see note on 2 Sam. 23:8. A copyist's error would best account for 800 being reported in 2 Sam. 23:8.

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 11:41–47 This adds new material to 2 Sam. 23.

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 12:1–40 These events predate those of 11:1–47. They are divided between David's time at Ziklag (12:1–22) and Hebron (12:23–40). They summarize the narrative covered in 1 Sam. 27–2 Sam. 5.

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 12:1 Ziklag. Located in the south near the Edomite border. The territory was ruled by the Philistines, who made David a ruler over it during the latter period of Saul's reign when he was pursuing David (1 Sam. 27:6–7). This was prior to David's taking the rule over all Israel (cf. 1 Chron. 12:38).

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 12:1–14 Men from Benjamin (vv. 2–3, 16–18), Gad (vv. 8–15), Judah (vv. 16–18), and Manasseh (vv. 19–22) came to help David conquer enemies on both sides of the Jordan (1 Chron. 12:15).

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 12:15 first month. March/April when the Jordan River was at flood stage due to melting snow in the north. The Gadites would be crossing from east to west.

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 12:18 the Spirit. A temporary empowerment by the Holy Spirit to assure David that the Benjamites and Judahites were loyal to him and that the cause was blessed by God.

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 12:19–20 First Sam. 29 provides the background.

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 12:21–22 First Sam. 30 provides the background.

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 12:23–37 This recounts the period of David’s seven year, six month reign in Hebron until he was crowned king of the entire nation and was ready to relocate in Jerusalem (2 Sam. 2–5). This narrative comes full circle back to 1 Chron. 11:1ff.

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 12:38–40 This feast was associated with the king’s coronation in 2 Sam. 5.

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 13:1–16:43 This section recounts the ark of the covenant being brought from Kiriath-jearim (v. 5) to Jerusalem.

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 13:1–14 See notes on 2 Sam. 6:1–11. First Chron. 13:1–6 adds new material to the narrative.

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 13:3 the ark of our God. Not only had the ark been stolen and profaned by the Philistines (1 Sam. 5–6), but when it was returned, Saul neglected to seek God’s instruction for it. Scripture records only one occasion when Saul sought God’s ark after its return (cf. 1 Sam. 14:18).

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 13:5 Nile. The “river of Egypt” was a small stream flowing into the Mediterranean, which forms the southern boundary of Israel (cf. Josh. 13:3). It is also called the “brook of Egypt” (Josh. 15:4, 47; Num. 34:5; 2 Chron. 7:8). Lebo-hamath. On the northern boundary of Israel’s territory. Kiriath-jearim. A location approximately 10 miles west of Jerusalem that the Canaanites called Baalah (cf. 13:6). The ark of God had resided here for the previous 20 years (cf. 1 Sam. 7:1–2).

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 13:7–14 See notes on 2 Sam. 6:1–11. The violation of divine directives (Num. 4:1–49) for moving the ark proved fatal to Uzzah (1 Chron. 13:7–10).

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 14:1–7 See notes on 2 Sam. 5:11–16. The events of this chapter took place before those of 1 Chron. 13.

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 14:3–7 This is a repeat of 1 Chron. 3:5–9.

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 14:8–17 The Philistines desired to ruin David before the throne was consolidated. Their plan was to kill David, but God gave him victory over the Philistines (unlike Saul) and thus declared both to the Philistines and Israel his support of Israel's new king. For details, see notes on 2 Sam. 5:17–23.

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 14:12 gods . . . burned. Second Samuel 5:21 reports that the idols were carried away, presenting an apparent contradiction. Most likely the idols were first carried away and then burned later, according to the Mosaic law (cf. Deut. 7:5, 25).

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 15:1–29 The chronicler picks up the narrative concerning the ark where it left off at 1 Chron. 13:14, as David brings the ark from Obed-edom.

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 15:1 David built houses for himself. He was able by the alliance and help of Hiram (18:1) to build a palace for himself and separate houses for his wives and their children. While the ark remained near Jerusalem at the home of Obed-edom for three months (13:13–14), David constructed a new tabernacle in Jerusalem to fulfill God's word in Deut. 12:5–7 of a permanent residency.

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 15:2 carry the ark. After a lapse of three months (13:14), David followed the Mosaic directives for moving the ark (cf. Num. 4:1–49; Deut. 10:8; 18:5). These directions had been violated when the ark was moved from Kiriath-jearim to Obed-edom, and it cost Uzzah his life (cf. 1 Chron. 13:6–11).

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 15:4–7 Kohath . . . Merari . . . Gershom. David conducted the ark's relocation with the same families as had Moses (cf. Num. 4). In the restoration from Babylon, these identical three divisions of Levi participated (cf. 1 Chron. 6:1–48).

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 15:11 Zadok . . . Abiathar. These two high priests, heads of the two priestly houses of Eleazar and Ithamar, were colleagues in the high priesthood (2 Sam. 20:25). They served the Lord simultaneously in David's reign. Zadok attended the tabernacle in Gibeon (1 Chron. 16:39), while Abiathar served the temporary place of the ark in Jerusalem. Ultimately, Zadok prevailed

(cf. 1 Kings 2:26–27).

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 15:12 Consecrate yourselves. This was a special sanctification required on all special occasions, demanding complete cleanliness.

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 15:13 broke out against. God’s anger broke out when the ark had been improperly handled and transported by Uzzah (2 Sam. 6:6–8; 1 Chron. 13:9–12).

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 15:16–24 Eminent Levites were instructed to train the musicians and singers for the solemn procession.

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 15:25–16:3 See notes on 2 Sam. 6:12–19.

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 16:4–6 Levites . . . ministers. As soon as the ark was placed into its tent, the Levites began their duties.

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 16:7–22 See notes on Ps. 105:1–15.

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 16:23–33 See notes on Ps. 96:1–13.

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 16:34–36 See notes on Ps. 106:1, 47, 48.

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 16:37–42 regularly . . . as each day required. The ministry was established with continuity.

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 16:39 Gibeon. Located 6 miles northwest of Jerusalem.

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 17:1–27 This section recounts God’s bestowing the Davidic Covenant. For a full explanation, see notes on 2 Sam. 7.

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 17:1, 10 Second Samuel 7:1, 11 adds that God had and would give David rest from all of his enemies.

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 17:5 Second Samuel 7:14–17 adds new material.

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 18:1–21:30 This section selectively recounts David’s military exploits.

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 18:1–11 See notes on 2 Sam. 8:1–12.

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 18:2 Second Samuel 8:2 adds details to the judgment of Moab.

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 18:4 The numbers here are correct; the number in 2 Sam. 8:4 for the horsemen is 1,700, which would not seem as consistent with the other numbers, so the 1,700 probably resulted from a copyist's error.

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 18:11 Second Samuel 8:12 adds new material.

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 18:12 Second Samuel 8:13 adds that David was involved.

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 18:14–17 See notes on 2 Sam. 8:15–18.

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 19:1–19 See notes on 2 Sam. 10:1–19.

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 19:18 killed . . . 7,000. Second Samuel 10:18 erroneously has 700; this is apparently a discrepancy due to copyist error. foot soldiers. This is likely more correct than “horsemen” in 2 Sam. 10:18.

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 20:1–3 See notes on 2 Sam. 11:1 and 12:29–31. The chronicler was not inspired by God to mention David's sin with Bathsheba and subsequent sins recorded in 2 Sam. 11:2–12:23. The adultery and murder occurred at this time, while David stayed in Jerusalem instead of going to battle. The story was likely omitted because the book was written to focus on God's permanent interest in his people, Israel, and the perpetuity of David's kingdom.

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 20:4–8 See notes on 2 Sam. 21:15–22. The chronicler chose not to write of some of the darker days in David's reign, especially the revolt of David's son Absalom, for the same reason the iniquity of the king with Bathsheba was left out.

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 21:1 There is approximately a 20-year gap between 20:8 and 21:1, c. 995–975 B.C.

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 21:1–27 For the explanation of this section, see notes on 2 Sam. 24:1–25.

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 21:1 Satan . . . incited. Second Samuel 24:1 reports that “the anger of the Lord was kindled against Israel,” and this “incited” David to take the census. This apparent discrepancy is resolved by understanding that God sovereignly and permissively uses Satan to achieve his purposes. God uses Satan to judge sinners (cf. Mark 4:15; 2 Cor. 4:4), to refine saints (cf. Job 1:8–2:10; Luke 22:31–32), to discipline those in the church (cf. 1 Cor. 5:1–5; 1 Tim. 1:20), and to further purify obedient believers (cf. 2 Cor. 12:7–10). Neither God nor Satan forced David to sin (cf. James 1:13–15), but God allowed Satan to tempt David and he chose to sin. The sin surfaced his proud heart and God dealt with him for it. number Israel. David's census brought tragedy because, unlike the census in Moses' time (Num. 1–2) which God had commanded, this census by David was to gratify his pride in the great strength of his army and consequent military power. He was also putting more trust in his forces than in his God. He was taking credit for his victories by the building of his great army. This angered God, who moved Satan to bring the sin to a head.

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 21:3–4 a cause of guilt for Israel. Joab knew David was operating on a sinful motive, but the king's arrogance led him to ignore the warning.

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 21:5 all Israel . . . 1,100,000 men. Second Samuel 24:9 reports 800,000 and 500,000 respectively. For the resolution of this discrepancy, see note on 2 Sam. 24:9.

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 21:6 he did not include Levi and Benjamin. Levites were not soldiers (v. 5) and were not numbered in the Mosaic census (Num. 1:47–53). Benjamin had already been numbered (1 Chron. 7:6–11) and the register preserved in the archives of that tribe. From the course followed in the census (2 Sam. 24:4–8), it appears Judah and Benjamin were last to be visited. Before the census could be finished in Judah and begin in Benjamin, David recognized his sin and called for it to stop (cf. 1 Chron. 27:24).

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 21:7 he struck Israel. David's sin dramatically affected the entire kingdom in experiencing God's wrath.

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 21:12 "Three years" here is correct; "seven years" (see esv footnote) in 2 Sam. 24:13 is most likely a copyist's error, since it seems three years, three months, three days is the intent.

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 21:15 Ornan. This is a Hebrew name. He is called Araunah in 2 Sam. 24:18, a Jebusite or Canaanite equivalent. He had been converted to worship the true God.

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 21:16 This additional detail does not appear in the Hebrew of 2 Sam. 24. The "angel of the Lord" was the executioner poised to destroy Jerusalem, whose menacing destruction was halted (1 Chron. 21:27) because David and the leaders repented as indicated by the "sackcloth" and falling "upon their faces."

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 21:20–21 This additional detail does not appear in the Hebrew of 2 Sam. 24. “Threshing wheat” was done by spreading the grain out on a high level area and driving back and forth over it with a heavy sled and rollers pulled by oxen. One would drive the oxen while others raked the chaff away from the kernels.

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 21:25 paid . . . 600 shekels. The 50 shekels reported in 2 Sam. 24:24 was for the instruments and oxen alone, while the price here includes the whole property, Mount Moriah, on which the future temple stood. The threshing floor of Ornan is today believed to be the very flat rock under the Moslem mosque, the Dome of the Rock, inside the temple ground in Jerusalem.

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 21:28–30 This also is new data not included in 2 Sam. 24.

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 21:29 high place . . . Gibeon. The ark of the covenant resided at Jerusalem in a tent (1 Chron. 15) awaiting the building of the temple on Ornan’s threshing floor, while the Mosaic tabernacle and altar remained in Gibeon until the temple was completed (cf. 1 Kings 8:4).

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 21:30 the sword. Cf. 21:12, 16, 27. David continued to remain at the threshing floor and offer sacrifices because the Lord had appeared to him there (2 Chron. 3:1) and thus hallowed the place, and because he feared a menacing angel at Gibeon, the center of worship.

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 22:1–29:20 This section recounts David’s preparations for Solomon to build the temple. General preparation and various charges are discussed in 22:1–19. The division of labor unfolds in 23:1–27:33. Solomon’s final commission comes in 28:1–29:20.

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 22:1–19 David gives three charges to: 1) the workman (vv. 2–5); 2) Solomon (vv. 6–16); and 3) the leaders (vv. 17–19).

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 22:1 house. The land David had just purchased (21:22–30), he dedicated for the Jerusalem temple to be built by Solomon (22:6; 28:9–10).

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 22:2 resident aliens. These were non-Israelite artisans made up of descendants of the Canaanites (2 Chron. 8:7–10) and war captives (2 Chron. 2:7), for whom the Mosaic legislation provided compassion and protection (cf. Ex. 22:21; 23:9; Lev. 19:33; Deut. 24:14–15) and from whom service was exacted. Only here were the laborers called “foreigners” (cf. 1 Kings 5:13–18).

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 22:3 iron . . . bronze. David would have acquired the iron technology from the Philistines (1 Sam. 13:19–21) and the bronze would have come from spoils of war (cf. 1 Chron. 18:8).

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 22:4 cedar. This came from Lebanon, the heavily wooded and mountainous country north of Israel, and was provided by the residents of Sidon and Tyre, most likely under the leadership of David’s friend, King Hiram (cf. 14:1; 1 Kings 5:1).

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 22:5 young. Solomon was born early in David’s reign (c. 1000– 990 B.C.) and was at this time 20 to 30 years of age. The magnificent and complex challenge of building such a monumental edifice with all its elements required an experienced leader for preparation. magnificent. David understood that the temple needed to reflect on earth something of God’s heavenly majesty, so he devoted himself to the collection of the plans and materials, tapping the vast amount of spoils from people he had conquered and cities he had sacked (vv. 14–16).

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 22:6–16 Here is David’s careful instruction to Solomon for the building, which David could not do because he had killed so many in his battles (v. 8). Cf. 1 Kings 5:3.

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 22:8–10 David reflects on the covenant God had made with him (cf. 2 Sam. 7; 1 Chron. 17), which included 1) the divine mandate that Solomon build the temple and 2) overtones of the messianic reign.

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 22:11–13 David’s spiritual charge to Solomon resembles the Lord’s exhortation to Joshua (cf. Josh. 1:6–9). Solomon asked God for and received the very “discretion and understanding” his father, David, desired for him (cf. 1 Kings 3:3–14; 2 Chron. 1:7–12). He learned the value of such spiritual counsel and passed it on in Eccles. 12:1, 13.

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 22:14 provided . . . 100,000 talents of gold. Assuming a talent weighed about 75 pounds, this would be approximately 3,750 tons, a staggering amount of gold. a million talents of silver. This would be approximately 37,500 tons of silver.

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 22:17–19 Knowing that Solomon was young and inexperienced (22:5) and that he could not undertake this colossal project alone, David wisely enlisted the loyalty and help of his leaders to transfer their allegiance to Solomon, who would carry out the divine will and the last wishes of his father. The Lord undertook to make Solomon the wisest man on earth (cf. 1 Kings 3:3–14).

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 23:1–27:34 This labor-intensive project needed more than building materials. David marshaled his human resources and announced their division of labor as follows: 1) the Levites (23:1–32); 2) the priests (24:1–31); 3) the singers (25:1–31); 4) the gatekeepers (26:1–19); 5) the administrators (26:20–32); 6) the army (27:1–24); and 7) the leaders (27:25–34). Remember, the original readers of Chronicles were the Jews, who returned from exile in Babylon and were rebuilding the destroyed temple. This would remind them of what their fathers' sin forfeited, and how inferior their new temple was.

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 23:1 he made. For a fuller narrative of Solomon's coronation and the attempts to seize his throne, see chs. 28–29; 1 Kings 1:1–2:9.

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 23:3 thirty years old and upward. Numbers 4:3 establishes the age of recognized priests from 30 to 50 years of age. A five-year apprenticeship began at 25 (cf. Num. 8:24), and in some cases 20 (1 Chron. 23:24, 27). This number, 38,000, is four times greater than the early census in Moses' time (cf. Num. 4, 26).

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 23:4 have charge. The duties of these Levites are discussed in 1 Chron. 24. officers and judges. This particular function is covered in 1 Chron. 26:20–32.

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 23:5 gatekeepers. First Chronicles 26:1–19 gives information on them. offer praises. First Chronicles 25 identifies and describes these musicians. that I have made. David, a gifted musician, was not only the maker, but the inventor of musical instruments (cf. Amos 6:5).

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 23:6 divisions. The Levites were divided among the three groups with distinct duties, just as they were in Moses' day (Num. 3:14–37) and in Ezra's day (1 Chron. 6:16–30). The family of Gershon (23:7–11), Kohath (23:12–20), and Merari (23:21–23) are each discussed.

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 23:24, 27 twenty years. See note on 23:3.

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 23:25–32 The duties of the non-priestly Levites are enumerated in their duties to provide the temple service in support of the priests who descended from Levi, through Kohath, through Aaron, through Eleazar and Ithamar (cf. 6:1–3). The original duties of the three families are given specifically in Num. 3:25, 31, 36–37.

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 24:1–31 The divisions and duties of the priests are outlined. Temple worship was carefully structured, without hindering the Holy Spirit or true worship (cf. 1 Cor. 14:40).

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 24:1 Nadab, Abihu. Consult Lev. 10:1–3 for their disgrace and demise. Eleazar. The line of the high priest would be through Eleazar’s offspring in accord with the Priestly Covenant made by God with Phinehas (Num. 25:11–13).

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 24:3 Zadok. See notes on 1 Chron. 6:8, 49–53. Ahimelech. This was the son of Abiathar whom Solomon released from his duties for siding with Adonijah (cf. 1 Kings 1–2) and the grandson of another Ahimelech, who was a priest killed by Saul (1 Sam. 22:11–18). Second Samuel 8:17 confirms the Zadok and Ahimelech high-priestly combination, one at Jerusalem where the ark was kept and the other at Gibeon serving the tabernacle. See note on 1 Chron. 15:11.

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 24:4–19 Priesthood duties were divided up in David’s day into 24 divisions, 16 of Eleazar and eight of Ithamar. The reasons Eleazar’s family had twice as many divisions were that: 1) he had received the birthright since his older brothers, Nadab and Abihu, had been killed (Lev. 10); 2) he had more descendants; and 3) his descendants had more leadership ability. These divisions each served for either 1) two-week periods annually or, more likely, 2) a one-month period every two years (cf. 1 Chron. 27:1–15). These divisions appear again in Neh. 10:2–8; 12:1–7, 12–21. These divisions extended even into the time of Christ (cf. Luke 1:5–9). The rest of the time they ministered to people in their own hometowns.

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 24:5 divided them by lot. The ancient method of discerning God’s will (cf. Prov. 16:33; Acts 1:26) was used to sort out all the duties, so that all cause for pride or jealousy was mitigated (cf. 1 Chron. 24:31; 26:13).

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 24:10 Abijah. The division of Zechariah, John the Baptist’s father (cf. Luke 1:5).

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 25:1–31 David, the sweet psalmist of Israel (2 Sam. 23:1), established music as a central feature in the worship of God.

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 25:1 the chiefs of the service. David relied on his mighty men for help (cf. 11:10). Asaph . . . Heman . . . Jeduthun. David’s three chief ministers of music (cf. 6:31–48). prophesied. This is not necessarily to be taken in a revelatory sense, but rather in the sense of proclamation and exhortation through the lyrics of their music (cf. 25:2–3). Prophesying is not necessarily predicting the future or even speaking direct revelation. It is proclaiming truth (25:5) to people (cf. 1 Cor. 14:3), and music is a vehicle for such proclamation in praise (1 Chron. 25:3). David and the leaders selected those most capable (25:7) of leading the people to worship God through their music.

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 25:5 seer. A term used to describe a prophet in that he knew and understood the ways and will of God.

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 25:9–31 The musicians were divided up into 24 divisions (corresponding to that of the priests [24:4–18]) of 12 musicians each, for a total of 288. These would give leadership to the 4,000 instrumentalists (23:5).

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 26:1–19 Cf. 1 Chron. 9:17–27 for another discussion of the temple gatekeepers or guards as we would call them. They had other duties, such as checking out equipment and utensils; storing, ordering, and maintaining food for the priests and sacrifices; caring for the temple furniture; mixing the incense daily burned; and accounting for gifts brought. Their “duties” (v. 12) are given in 1 Chron. 9:17–27.

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 26:14 east. The gate assignments were based on four geographical points. Cf. also north (v. 14), south (v. 15), and west (v. 16).

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 26:16 gate of Shallecheth. A gate assumed to be on the west side, but other details are unknown.

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 26:18 colonnade. Probably a courtyard, extending westward. Verses 17–18 indicate a total of 24 guards posted at all points of entrance and exit.

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 26:20–32 This section lists miscellaneous administrative posts handled by the Levites, by those in Jerusalem (vv. 20–28), and by those outside (vv. 29–32).

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 26:20 treasuries. The Levites watched over the store of valuables given to the Lord. This is a general reference to all the precious things committed to their trust, including contributions from David and the people, as well as war spoils given by triumphant soldiers (vv. 26–27).

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 26:29–32 officers and judges. There were 6,000 magistrates exercising judicial functions throughout the land.

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 26:31 fortieth year. The last year of David’s reign (c. 971 B.C.).

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 27:1–34 First Chronicles 23–26 discusses spiritual leadership, while here the chronicler focuses on the civil aspects of David’s kingdom.

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 27:1–15 This section enumerates the standing army of Israel (288,000 men), which had responsibility to guard the nation and temple. They were divided into 12 divisions, each of which served for one month during the year. When full war occurred, a larger force could be called into action (cf. 21:5).

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 27:16–22 While 12 officers are named, the tribes of Asher and Gad are not mentioned for unknown reasons.

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 27:23–24 Here is further comment on the sinful census detailed in 1 Chron. 21:1–30. David didn’t try to number all Israelites because they were too many (cf. Gen. 28:14). Nor did he finish the census, being interrupted by guilt and judgment.

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 27:24 the chronicles of King David. Daily records were kept of the king’s reign. None was kept of this calamity because the record was too painful.

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 27:25–31 A summary of officials who looked over David’s various agricultural assets.

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 27:32–34 A summary of those whose duties kept them in close contact with the king (cf. 18:14–17), perhaps like a cabinet. When David’s son, Absalom, rebelled against him, Ahithophel betrayed David and joined the revolution. Hushai pretended loyalty to Absalom, and his advice caused Absalom’s death (cf. 2 Sam. 15:31–17:23).

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 28:1–29:20 A record is given of David’s last assembly, in which the king charged Solomon and the people to build the temple for God’s glory. These final chapters present the transition from David to Solomon. The chronicler does not mention Adonijah's conspiracy (1 Kings 1:5–9) or David's weakness (1 Kings 1:1–4), but looks at the positive contribution of the Davidic kingdom.

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 28:2–8 For the assembly's sake, David testified to the Davidic Covenant originally given by God to him in 2 Sam. 7 (cf. 1 Chron. 17:7–27; 22:6–16). David makes it clear that Solomon was God's choice (1 Chron. 28:5) as had been frequently intimated (cf. 2 Sam. 12:24–25; 1 Kings 1:13), just as the coming Christ will be God's chosen Son to ultimately fulfill the kingdom promise.

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 28:8 Cf. Deut. 5:29–33 and 6:1–3.

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 28:9–21 David turns his words to Solomon with four perspectives: 1) spiritual devotion (vv. 9–10); 2) architectural execution (vv. 11–19); 3) divine intervention (v. 20); and 4) human participation (v. 21).

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 28:9–10 Cf. notes on 22:11–13, 17–19.

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 28:18 the golden chariot. Using the imagery of Ps. 18:10, the cherubim are depicted as the vehicle in which God moves.

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 28:19 in writing. David wrote down the plans under the Holy Spirit's divine inspiration (non-canonical, written revelation). This divine privilege was much like that of Moses for the tabernacle (Ex. 25:9, 40; 27:8; Heb. 8:5).

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 28:20–21 Solomon's associates in the building project were God, the owner and general contractor (v. 20), plus the human work force (v. 21).

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 29:1–5 David called for consecrated giving to the project (cf. 28:1), based on the example of his generosity (29:3–4). David gave his personal fortune to the temple building, a fortune almost immeasurable.

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 29:1 young and inexperienced. See notes on 1 Chron. 22:5.

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 29:4 3,000 talents. Assuming a talent weighed about 75 pounds, this amounts to almost 112 tons of gold, plus the 7,000 talents of silver, which would be 260 tons. The total worth of such precious metals has been estimated in the billions of dollars. gold of Ophir. This was held to be the purest and finest in the world (cf. Job 22:24; 28:16; Isa. 13:12).

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 29:6–9 willingly. Here is the key to all freewill giving, i.e., giving what one desires to give. Tithes were required for taxation, to fund the theocracy, similar to taxation today. The law required that to be paid. This, however, is the voluntary giving from the heart to the Lord. The NT speaks of this (cf. Luke 6:38; 2 Cor. 9:1–8) and never demands that a tithe be given to God, but that taxes be paid to one's government (cf. Rom. 13:6–7). Paying taxes and giving God whatever one is willing to give, based on devotion to him and his glory, is biblical giving.

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 29:7 gave . . . 5,000 talents. Assuming a talent weighed about 75 pounds, this amounts to 187 tons of gold. darics. A Persian coin, familiar to Jews from the captivity, possibly named after Darius I (cf. Ezra 8:27). The readers of this material in Ezra's day would know it as a contemporary measurement. 10,000 talents. This amounts to 375 tons of silver. 18,000 talents. This amounts to almost 675 tons of bronze. and 100,000 talents. This amounts to 3,750 tons of iron. The sum of all this is staggering, and has been estimated into the billions of dollars.

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 29:10–15 David responds to the phenomenal offering expressing amazing sacrifices of wealth with praise in which he acknowledges that all things belong to and come from God. He concludes that God is everything and that man is nothing, much like Ps. 8. This magnificent prayer of thanks gives God all credit, even for the people's generosity (1 Chron. 29:14).

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 29:16–20 David leads in a prayer of commitment.

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 29:17 test the heart. Opportunities for giving to God are tests of the character of a believer's devotion to the Lord. The king acknowledges that the attitude of one's heart is significantly more important than the amount of offering in one's hand.

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 29:20 bowed . . . paid homage. The ultimate physical expression of an inward submission to God in all things.

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 29:21–30 The chronicler records in selective fashion the final days of David and the enthronement of Solomon. For a more complete treatment see 1 Kings 1:1–53.

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 29:22 the second time. This most likely refers to a public ceremony subsequent to the private one of 1 Kings 1:35–39 in response to Adonijah’s conspiracy. David’s high priest Zadok had been loyal to both father and son (1 Kings 1:32–40; 2:27–29), so he continued on as high priest during Solomon’s reign.

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 29:26–28 Cf. 1 Kings 2:10–12.

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 29:27 forty years. C. 1011–971 B.C.

1 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 29:29 Samuel. This most likely refers to the canonical book of 1 and 2 Samuel. seer . . . prophet . . . seer. All three are different, but synonymous, Hebrew terms referring to the prophetic office from the perspectives of: 1) to understand; 2) to proclaim; and 3) to understand respectively. Nathan . . . Gad. These are non-canonical, but reliable, historical records that the chronicler utilized. God’s Spirit protected the record from error in the original writing (2 Tim. 3:16–17; 2 Pet. 1:20–21).

Solomon Worships at Gibeon

2 Chronicles 1 †Solomon the son of David established himself in his kingdom, and the LORD his God was with him and made him exceedingly great.

<sup>2</sup>Solomon spoke to all Israel, to the commanders of thousands and of hundreds, to the judges, and to all the leaders in all Israel, the heads of fathers' houses.

<sup>3</sup>†And Solomon, and all the assembly with him, went to the high place that was at Gibeon, for the tent of meeting of God, which Moses the servant of the LORD had made in the wilderness, was there. <sup>4</sup>†(But David had brought up the ark of God from Kiriath-jearim to the place that David had prepared for it, for he had pitched a tent for it in Jerusalem.) <sup>5</sup>†Moreover, the bronze altar that Bezalel the son of Uri, son of Hur, had made, was there before the tabernacle of the LORD. And Solomon and the assembly sought it [\[1\]](#) out. <sup>6</sup>And Solomon went up there to the bronze altar before the LORD, which was at the tent of meeting, and offered a thousand burnt offerings on it.

Solomon Prays for Wisdom

<sup>7</sup>†In that night God appeared to Solomon, and said to him, “Ask what I shall give you.” <sup>8</sup>And Solomon said to God, “You have shown great and steadfast love to David my father, and have made me king in his place. <sup>9</sup>†O LORD God, let your word to David my father be now fulfilled, for you have made me king over a people as numerous as the dust of the earth. <sup>10</sup>†Give me now wisdom and knowledge to go out and come in before this people, for who can govern this people of yours, which is so great?” <sup>11</sup>God answered Solomon, “Because this was in your heart, and you have not asked possessions, wealth, honor, or the life of those who hate you, and have not even asked long life, but have asked wisdom and knowledge for yourself that you may govern my people over whom I have made you king, <sup>12</sup>wisdom and knowledge are granted to you. I will also give you riches, possessions, and honor, such as none of the kings had who were before you, and none after you shall have the like.” <sup>13</sup>So Solomon came from [\[2\]](#) the high place at Gibeon, from before the tent of meeting, to Jerusalem. And he reigned over Israel.

Solomon Given Wealth

<sup>14</sup>‡‡Solomon gathered together chariots and horsemen. He had 1,400 chariots and 12,000 horsemen, whom he stationed in the chariot cities and with the king in Jerusalem. <sup>15</sup>And the king made silver and gold as common in Jerusalem as stone, and he made cedar as plentiful as the sycamore of the Shephelah. <sup>16</sup>‡And Solomon's import of horses was from Egypt and Kue, and the king's traders would buy them from Kue for a price. <sup>17</sup>‡They imported a chariot from Egypt for 600 shekels [3] of silver, and a horse for 150. Likewise through them these were exported to all the kings of the Hittites and the kings of Syria.

Preparing to Build the Temple

2 Chronicles 2 †† [1] Now Solomon purposed to build a temple for the name of the LORD, and a royal palace for himself. † [2] And Solomon assigned 70,000 men to bear burdens and 80,000 to quarry in the hill country, and 3,600 to oversee them. † And Solomon sent word to Hiram the king of Tyre: “As you dealt with David my father and sent him cedar to build himself a house to dwell in, so deal with me. † Behold, I am about to build a house for the name of the LORD my God and dedicate it to him for the burning of incense of sweet spices before him, and for the regular arrangement of the showbread, and for burnt offerings morning and evening, on the Sabbaths and the new moons and the appointed feasts of the LORD our God, as ordained forever for Israel. † The house that I am to build will be great, for our God is greater than all gods. † But who is able to build him a house, since heaven, even highest heaven, cannot contain him? Who am I to build a house for him, except as a place to make offerings before him? † So now send me a man skilled to work in gold, silver, bronze, and iron, and in purple, crimson, and blue fabrics, trained also in engraving, to be with the skilled workers who are with me in Judah and Jerusalem, whom David my father provided. † Send me also cedar, cypress, and algum timber from Lebanon, for I know that your servants know how to cut timber in Lebanon. And my servants will be with your servants, † to prepare timber for me in abundance, for the house I am to build will be great and wonderful. † I will give for your servants, the woodsmen who cut timber, 20,000 cors [3] of crushed wheat, 20,000 cors of barley, 20,000 baths [4] of wine, and 20,000 baths of oil.”

† Then Hiram the king of Tyre answered in a letter that he sent to Solomon, “Because the LORD loves his people, he has made you king over them.” † Hiram also said, “Blessed be the LORD God of Israel, who made heaven and earth, who has given King David a wise son, who has discretion and understanding, who will build a temple for the LORD and a royal palace for himself.

† “Now I have sent a skilled man, who has understanding, Hiram-abi, † the son of a woman of the daughters of Dan, and his father was a man of Tyre. He is trained to work in gold, silver, bronze, iron, stone, and wood, and in purple, blue, and crimson fabrics and fine linen, and to do all sorts of engraving and execute any design that may be assigned him, with your craftsmen, the craftsmen of my lord, David your father. † Now therefore the wheat and barley, oil and wine, of which my lord has spoken, let him send to his servants. † And we will cut whatever timber you need from Lebanon and bring it to you in rafts by sea to Joppa, so that you may take it up to Jerusalem.”

<sup>17</sup>Then Solomon counted all the resident aliens who were in the land of Israel, after the census of them that David his father had taken, and there were found 153,600. <sup>18</sup>Seventy thousand of them he assigned to bear burdens, 80,000 to quarry in the hill country, and 3,600 as overseers to make the people work.

Solomon Builds the Temple

2 Chronicles 3 †† Then Solomon began to build the house of the LORD in Jerusalem on Mount Moriah, where the LORD [\[1\]](#) had appeared to David his father, at the place that David had appointed, on the threshing floor of Ornan the Jebusite. † He began to build in the second month of the fourth year of his reign. † These are Solomon's measurements [\[2\]](#) for building the house of God: the length, in cubits [\[3\]](#) of the old standard, was sixty cubits, and the breadth twenty cubits. † The vestibule in front of the nave of the house was twenty cubits long, equal to the width of the house, [\[4\]](#) and its height was 120 cubits. He overlaid it on the inside with pure gold. † The nave he lined with cypress and covered it with fine gold and made palms and chains on it. † He adorned the house with settings of precious stones. The gold was gold of Parvaim. † So he lined the house with gold—its beams, its thresholds, its walls, and its doors—and he carved cherubim on the walls.

† And he made the Most Holy Place. Its length, corresponding to the breadth of the house, was twenty cubits, and its breadth was twenty cubits. He overlaid it with 600 talents [\[5\]](#) of fine gold. † The weight of gold for the nails was fifty shekels. [\[6\]](#) And he overlaid the upper chambers with gold.

† In the Most Holy Place he made two cherubim of wood [\[7\]](#) and overlaid [\[8\]](#) them with gold. † The wings of the cherubim together extended twenty cubits: one wing of the one, of five cubits, touched the wall of the house, and its other wing, of five cubits, touched the wing of the other cherub; † and of this cherub, one wing, of five cubits, touched the wall of the house, and the other wing, also of five cubits, was joined to the wing of the first cherub. † The wings of these cherubim extended twenty cubits. The cherubim [\[9\]](#) stood on their feet, facing the nave. † And he made the veil of blue and purple and crimson fabrics and fine linen, and he worked cherubim on it.

† In front of the house he made two pillars thirty-five cubits high, with a capital of five cubits on the top of each. † He made chains like a necklace [\[10\]](#) and put them on the tops of the pillars, and he made a hundred pomegranates and put them on the chains. † He set up the pillars in front of the temple, one on the south, the other on the north; that on the south he called Jachin, and that on the north Boaz.

The Temple's Furnishings

2 Chronicles 4 †† He made an altar of bronze, twenty cubits [\[1\]](#) long and twenty cubits wide and ten cubits high. † Then he made the sea of cast metal. It was round, ten cubits from brim to brim, and five cubits high, and a line of thirty cubits measured its circumference. † Under it were figures of gourds, [\[2\]](#) for ten cubits, compassing the sea all around. The gourds were in two rows, cast with it when it was cast. † It stood on twelve oxen, three facing north, three facing west, three facing south, and three facing east. The sea was set on them, and all their rear parts were inward. † Its thickness was a handbreadth. [\[3\]](#) And its brim was made like the brim of a cup, like the flower of a lily. It held 3,000 baths. [\[4\]](#) † He also made ten basins in which to wash, and set five on the south side, and five on the north side. In these they were to rinse off what was used for the burnt offering, and the sea was for the priests to wash in.

† And he made ten golden lampstands as prescribed, and set them in the temple, five on the south side and five on the north. † He also made ten tables and placed them in the temple, five on the south side and five on the north. And he made a hundred basins of gold. † He made the court of the priests and the great court and doors for the court and overlaid their doors with bronze. † And he set the sea at the southeast corner of the house.

†† Hiram also made the pots, the shovels, and the basins. So Hiram finished the work that he did for King Solomon on the house of God: † the two pillars, the bowls, and the two capitals on the top of the pillars; and the two latticeworks to cover the two bowls of the capitals that were on the top of the pillars; † and the 400 pomegranates for the two latticeworks, two rows of pomegranates for each latticework, to cover the two bowls of the capitals that were on the pillars. † He made the stands also, and the basins on the stands, † and the one sea, and the twelve oxen underneath it. † The pots, the shovels, the forks, and all the equipment for these Hiram-abi made of burnished bronze for King Solomon for the house of the LORD. † In the plain of the Jordan the king cast them, in the clay ground between Succoth and Zeredah. [\[5\]](#) † Solomon made all these things in great quantities, for the weight of the bronze was not sought.

† So Solomon made all the vessels that were in the house of God: the golden altar, the tables for the bread of the Presence, † the lampstands and their lamps of pure gold to burn before the inner sanctuary, as prescribed; † the flowers, the lamps, and the tongs, of purest gold; <sup>22</sup>the snuffers, basins, dishes for incense, and fire pans, of pure gold, and the sockets [\[6\]](#) of the temple, for the inner doors to the Most Holy Place and for the doors of the nave of the temple were of gold.

2 Chronicles 5 † Thus all the work that Solomon did for the house of the LORD was finished. And Solomon brought in the things that David his father had dedicated, and stored the silver, the gold, and all the vessels in the treasuries of the house of God.

The Ark Brought to the Temple

2 † Then Solomon assembled the elders of Israel and all the heads of the tribes, the leaders of the fathers' houses of the people of Israel, in Jerusalem, to bring up the ark of the covenant of the LORD out of the city of David, which is Zion. 3 And all the men of Israel assembled before the king at the feast that is in the seventh month. 4 And all the elders of Israel came, and the Levites took up the ark. 5 And they brought up the ark, the tent of meeting, and all the holy vessels that were in the tent; the Levitical priests brought them up. 6 And King Solomon and all the congregation of Israel, who had assembled before him, were before the ark, sacrificing so many sheep and oxen that they could not be counted or numbered. 7 Then the priests brought the ark of the covenant of the LORD to its place, in the inner sanctuary of the house, in the Most Holy Place, underneath the wings of the cherubim. 8 The cherubim spread out their wings over the place of the ark, so that the cherubim made a covering above the ark and its poles. 9 And the poles were so long that the ends of the poles were seen from the Holy Place before the inner sanctuary, but they could not be seen from outside. And they are [1] there to this day. 10 There was nothing in the ark except the two tablets that Moses put there at Horeb, where the LORD made a covenant with the people of Israel, when they came out of Egypt. 11 † And when the priests came out of the Holy Place (for all the priests who were present had consecrated themselves, without regard to their divisions, 12 † and all the Levitical singers, Asaph, Heman, and Jeduthun, their sons and kinsmen, arrayed in fine linen, with cymbals, harps, and lyres, stood east of the altar with 120 priests who were trumpeters; 13 † and it was the duty of the trumpeters and singers to make themselves heard in unison in praise and thanksgiving to the LORD), and when the song was raised, with trumpets and cymbals and other musical instruments, in praise to the LORD, "For he is good, for his steadfast love endures forever," the house, the house of the LORD, was filled with a cloud, 14 so that the priests could not stand to minister because of the cloud, for the glory of the LORD filled the house of God.

Solomon Blesses the People

2 Chronicles 6 † Then Solomon said, “The LORD has said that he would dwell in thick darkness. <sup>2</sup>But I have built you an exalted house, a place for you to dwell in forever.” <sup>3</sup>Then the king turned around and blessed all the assembly of Israel, while all the assembly of Israel stood. <sup>4</sup>And he said, “Blessed be the LORD, the God of Israel, who with his hand has fulfilled what he promised with his mouth to David my father, saying, <sup>5</sup>‘Since the day that I brought my people out of the land of Egypt, I chose no city out of all the tribes of Israel in which to build a house, that my name might be there, and I chose no man as prince over my people Israel; <sup>6</sup>but I have chosen Jerusalem that my name may be there, and I have chosen David to be over my people Israel.’ <sup>7</sup>Now it was in the heart of David my father to build a house for the name of the LORD, the God of Israel. <sup>8</sup>But the LORD said to David my father, ‘Whereas it was in your heart to build a house for my name, you did well that it was in your heart. <sup>9</sup>Nevertheless, it is not you who shall build the house, but your son who shall be born to you shall build the house for my name.’ <sup>10</sup>Now the LORD has fulfilled his promise that he made. For I have risen in the place of David my father and sit on the throne of Israel, as the LORD promised, and I have built the house for the name of the LORD, the God of Israel. <sup>11</sup>† And there I have set the ark, in which is the covenant of the LORD that he made with the people of Israel.”

Solomon's Prayer of Dedication

<sup>12</sup>† Then Solomon stood before the altar of the LORD in the presence of all the assembly of Israel and spread out his hands. <sup>13</sup>† Solomon had made a bronze platform five cubits [\[1\]](#) long, five cubits wide, and three cubits high, and had set it in the court, and he stood on it. Then he knelt on his knees in the presence of all the assembly of Israel, and spread out his hands toward heaven, <sup>14</sup>and said, “O LORD, God of Israel, there is no God like you, in heaven or on earth, keeping covenant and showing steadfast love to your servants who walk before you with all their heart, <sup>15</sup>who have kept with your servant David my father what you declared to him. You spoke with your mouth, and with your hand have fulfilled it this day. <sup>16</sup>Now therefore, O LORD, God of Israel, keep for your servant David my father what you have promised him, saying, ‘You shall not lack a man to sit before me on the throne of Israel, if only your sons pay close attention to their way, to walk in my law as you have walked before me.’ <sup>17</sup>Now therefore, O LORD, God of Israel, let your word be confirmed, which you have spoken to your servant David.

<sup>18</sup>†“But will God indeed dwell with man on the earth? Behold, heaven and the highest heaven cannot contain you, how much less this house that I have built! <sup>19</sup>Yet have regard to the prayer of your servant and to his plea, O LORD my God, listening to the cry and to the prayer that your servant prays before you, <sup>20</sup>that your eyes may be open day and night toward this house, the place where you have promised to set your name, that you may listen to the prayer that your servant offers toward this place. <sup>21</sup>And listen to the pleas of your servant and of your people Israel, when they pray toward this place. And listen from heaven your dwelling place, and when you hear, forgive.

<sup>22</sup>“If a man sins against his neighbor and is made to take an oath and comes and swears his oath before your altar in this house, <sup>23</sup>then hear from heaven and act and judge your servants, repaying the guilty by bringing his conduct on his own head, and vindicating the righteous by rewarding him according to his righteousness.

<sup>24</sup>“If your people Israel are defeated before the enemy because they have sinned against you, and they turn again and acknowledge your name and pray and plead with you in this house, <sup>25</sup>then hear from heaven and forgive the sin of your people Israel and bring them again to the land that you gave to them and to their fathers.

<sup>26</sup>“When heaven is shut up and there is no rain because they have sinned against you, if they pray toward this place and acknowledge your name and turn from their sin, when you afflict [2] them, <sup>27</sup>then hear in heaven and forgive the sin of your servants, your people Israel, when you teach them the good way [3] in which they should walk, and grant rain upon your land, which you have given to your people as an inheritance.

<sup>28</sup>“If there is famine in the land, if there is pestilence or blight or mildew or locust or caterpillar, if their enemies besiege them in the land at their gates, whatever plague, whatever sickness there is, <sup>29</sup>whatever prayer, whatever plea is made by any man or by all your people Israel, each knowing his own affliction and his own sorrow and stretching out his hands toward this house, <sup>30</sup>then hear from heaven your dwelling place and forgive and render to each whose heart you know, according to all his ways, for you, you only, know the hearts of the children of mankind, <sup>31</sup>that they may fear you and walk in your ways all the days that they live in the land that you gave to our fathers.

<sup>32</sup>“Likewise, when a foreigner, who is not of your people Israel, comes from a far country for the sake of your great name and your mighty hand and your outstretched arm, when he comes and prays toward this house, <sup>33</sup>hear from heaven your dwelling place and do according to all for which the foreigner calls to you, in order that all the peoples of the earth may know your name and fear you, as do your people Israel, and that they may know that this house that I have built is called by your name.

<sup>34</sup>“If your people go out to battle against their enemies, by whatever way you shall send them, and they pray to you toward this city that you have chosen and the house that I have built for your name, <sup>35</sup>then hear from heaven their prayer and their plea, and maintain their cause.

<sup>36</sup>“If they sin against you—for there is no one who does not sin—and you are angry with them and give them to an enemy, so that they are carried away captive to a land far or near, <sup>37</sup>yet if they turn their heart in the land to which they have been carried captive, and repent and plead with you in the land of their captivity, saying, ‘We have sinned and have acted perversely and wickedly,’ <sup>38</sup>if they repent with all their mind and with all their heart in the land of their captivity to which they were carried captive, and pray toward their land, which you gave to their fathers, the city that you have chosen and the house that I have built for your name, <sup>39</sup>then hear from heaven your dwelling place their prayer and their pleas, and maintain their cause and forgive your people who have sinned against you. <sup>40</sup>Now, O my God, let your eyes be open and your ears attentive to the prayer of this place.

<sup>41</sup>‡“And now arise, O LORD God, and go to your resting place, you and the ark of your might.

Let your priests, O LORD God, be clothed with salvation, and let your saints rejoice in your goodness.

<sup>42</sup>O LORD God, do not turn away the face of your anointed one!
Remember your steadfast love for David your servant.”

Fire from Heaven

2 Chronicles 7 ¶ As soon as Solomon finished his prayer, fire came down from heaven and consumed the burnt offering and the sacrifices, and the glory of the LORD filled the temple. <sup>2</sup>And the priests could not enter the house of the LORD, because the glory of the LORD filled the LORD's house. <sup>3</sup>When all the people of Israel saw the fire come down and the glory of the LORD on the temple, they bowed down with their faces to the ground on the pavement and worshiped and gave thanks to the LORD, saying, “For he is good, for his steadfast love endures forever.”

The Dedication of the Temple

<sup>4</sup>¶ Then the king and all the people offered sacrifice before the LORD. <sup>5</sup>King Solomon offered as a sacrifice 22,000 oxen and 120,000 sheep. So the king and all the people dedicated the house of God. <sup>6</sup>The priests stood at their posts; the Levites also, with the instruments for music to the LORD that King David had made for giving thanks to the LORD—for his steadfast love endures forever—whenever David offered praises by their ministry; [\[1\]](#) opposite them the priests sounded trumpets, and all Israel stood.

<sup>7</sup>And Solomon consecrated the middle of the court that was before the house of the LORD, for there he offered the burnt offering and the fat of the peace offerings, because the bronze altar Solomon had made could not hold the burnt offering and the grain offering and the fat.

<sup>8</sup>¶ At that time Solomon held the feast for seven days, and all Israel with him, a very great assembly, from Lebo-hamath to the Brook of Egypt. <sup>9</sup>And on the eighth day they held a solemn assembly, for they had kept the dedication of the altar seven days and the feast seven days. <sup>10</sup>On the twenty-third day of the seventh month he sent the people away to their homes, joyful and glad of heart for the prosperity that the LORD had granted to David and to Solomon and to Israel his people.

If My People Pray

<sup>11</sup>¶ Thus Solomon finished the house of the LORD and the king's house. All that Solomon had planned to do in the house of the LORD and in his own house he successfully accomplished. <sup>12</sup>Then the LORD appeared to Solomon in the night and said to him: “I have heard your prayer and have chosen this place for myself as a house of sacrifice. <sup>13</sup>‡When I shut up the heavens so that there is no rain, or command the locust to devour the land, or send pestilence among my people, <sup>14</sup>if my people who are called by my name humble themselves, and pray and seek my face and turn from their wicked ways, then I will hear from heaven and will forgive their sin and heal their land. <sup>15</sup>Now my eyes will be open and my ears attentive to the prayer that is made in this place. <sup>16</sup>For now I have chosen and consecrated this house that my name may be there forever. My eyes and my heart will be there for all time. <sup>17</sup>‡‡And as for you, if you will walk before me as David your father walked, doing according to all that I have commanded you and keeping my statutes and my rules, <sup>18</sup>then I will establish your royal throne, as I covenanted with David your father, saying, ‘You shall not lack a man to rule Israel.’

<sup>19</sup>“But if you [2] turn aside and forsake my statutes and my commandments that I have set before you, and go and serve other gods and worship them, <sup>20</sup>then I will pluck you [3] up from my land that I have given you, and this house that I have consecrated for my name, I will cast out of my sight, and I will make it a proverb and a byword among all peoples. <sup>21</sup>And at this house, which was exalted, everyone passing by will be astonished and say, ‘Why has the LORD done thus to this land and to this house?’ <sup>22</sup>Then they will say, ‘Because they abandoned the LORD, the God of their fathers who brought them out of the land of Egypt and laid hold on other gods and worshiped them and served them. Therefore he has brought all this disaster on them.’”

Solomon's Accomplishments

2 Chronicles 8 †At the end of twenty years, in which Solomon had built the house of the LORD and his own house, †Solomon rebuilt the cities that Hiram had given to him, and settled the people of Israel in them.

††And Solomon went to Hamath-zobah and took it. †He built Tadmor in the wilderness and all the store cities that he built in Hamath. †He also built Upper Beth-horon and Lower Beth-horon, fortified cities with walls, gates, and bars, †and Baalath, and all the store cities that Solomon had and all the cities for his chariots and the cities for his horsemen, and whatever Solomon desired to build in Jerusalem, in Lebanon, and in all the land of his dominion. †All the people who were left of the Hittites, the Amorites, the Perizzites, the Hivites, and the Jebusites, who were not of Israel, †from their descendants who were left after them in the land, whom the people of Israel had not destroyed—these Solomon drafted as forced labor, and so they are to this day. †But of the people of Israel Solomon made no slaves for his work; they were soldiers, and his officers, the commanders of his chariots, and his horsemen. †And these were the chief officers of King Solomon, 250, who exercised authority over the people.

†Solomon brought Pharaoh's daughter up from the city of David to the house that he had built for her, for he said, “My wife shall not live in the house of David king of Israel, for the places to which the ark of the LORD has come are holy.”

†Then Solomon offered up burnt offerings to the LORD on the altar of the LORD that he had built before the vestibule, †as the duty of each day required, offering according to the commandment of Moses for the Sabbaths, the new moons, and the three annual feasts—the Feast of Unleavened Bread, the Feast of Weeks, and the Feast of Booths. †According to the ruling of David his father, he appointed the divisions of the priests for their service, and the Levites for their offices of praise and ministry before the priests as the duty of each day required, and the gatekeepers in their divisions at each gate, for so David the man of God had commanded. †And they did not turn aside from what the king had commanded the priests and Levites concerning any matter and concerning the treasuries.

†Thus was accomplished all the work of Solomon from [\[1\]](#) the day the foundation of the house of the LORD was laid until it was finished. So the house of the LORD was completed.

<sup>17</sup>‡Then Solomon went to Ezion-geber and Eloth on the shore of the sea, in the land of Edom. <sup>18</sup>‡And Hiram sent to him by the hand of his servants ships and servants familiar with the sea, and they went to Ophir together with the servants of Solomon and brought from there 450 talents [\[2\]](#) of gold and brought it to King Solomon.

The Queen of Sheba

2 Chronicles 9 †Now when the queen of Sheba heard of the fame of Solomon, she came to Jerusalem to test him with hard questions, having a very great retinue and camels bearing spices and very much gold and precious stones. And when she came to Solomon, she told him all that was on her mind. <sup>2</sup>And Solomon answered all her questions. There was nothing hidden from Solomon that he could not explain to her. <sup>3</sup>And when the queen of Sheba had seen the wisdom of Solomon, the house that he had built, <sup>4</sup>the food of his table, the seating of his officials, and the attendance of his servants, and their clothing, his cupbearers, and their clothing, and his burnt offerings that he offered at the house of the LORD, there was no more breath in her.

<sup>5</sup>And she said to the king, “The report was true that I heard in my own land of your words and of your wisdom, <sup>6</sup>but I did not believe the [\[1\]](#) reports until I came and my own eyes had seen it. And behold, half the greatness of your wisdom was not told me; you surpass the report that I heard. <sup>7</sup>Happy are your wives! [\[2\]](#) Happy are these your servants, who continually stand before you and hear your wisdom! <sup>8</sup>†Blessed be the LORD your God, who has delighted in you and set you on his throne as king for the LORD your God! Because your God loved Israel and would establish them forever, he has made you king over them, that you may execute justice and righteousness.” <sup>9</sup>Then she gave the king 120 talents [\[3\]](#) of gold, and a very great quantity of spices, and precious stones. There were no spices such as those that the queen of Sheba gave to King Solomon.

<sup>10</sup>Moreover, the servants of Hiram and the servants of Solomon, who brought gold from Ophir, brought algum wood and precious stones. <sup>11</sup>And the king made from the algum wood supports for the house of the LORD and for the king's house, lyres also and harps for the singers. There never was seen the like of them before in the land of Judah.

<sup>12</sup>And King Solomon gave to the queen of Sheba all that she desired, whatever she asked besides what she had brought to the king. So she turned and went back to her own land with her servants.

Solomon's Wealth

<sup>13</sup>Now the weight of gold that came to Solomon in one year was 666 talents of gold, <sup>14</sup>besides that which the explorers and merchants brought. And all the kings of Arabia and the governors of the land brought gold and silver to Solomon. <sup>15</sup>King Solomon made 200 large shields of beaten gold; 600 shekels [\[4\]](#) of beaten gold went into each shield. <sup>16</sup>†And he made 300 shields of beaten gold; 300 shekels of gold went into each shield; and the king put them in the House of the Forest of Lebanon. <sup>17</sup>The king also made a great ivory throne and overlaid it with pure gold. <sup>18</sup>†The throne had six steps and a footstool of gold, which were attached to the throne, and on each side of the seat were armrests and two lions standing beside the armrests, <sup>19</sup>while twelve lions stood there, one on each end of a step on the six steps. Nothing like it was ever made for any kingdom. <sup>20</sup>All King Solomon's drinking vessels were of gold, and all the vessels of the House of the Forest of Lebanon were of pure gold. Silver was not considered as anything in the days of Solomon. <sup>21</sup>For the king's ships went to Tarshish with the servants of Hiram. Once every three years the ships of Tarshish used to come bringing gold, silver, ivory, apes, and peacocks. [\[5\]](#)

<sup>22</sup>Thus King Solomon excelled all the kings of the earth in riches and in wisdom. <sup>23</sup>And all the kings of the earth sought the presence of Solomon to hear his wisdom, which God had put into his mind. <sup>24</sup>Every one of them brought his present, articles of silver and of gold, garments, myrrh, spices, horses, and mules, so much year by year. <sup>25</sup>†And Solomon had 4,000 stalls for horses and chariots, and 12,000 horsemen, whom he stationed in the chariot cities and with the king in Jerusalem. <sup>26</sup>And he ruled over all the kings from the Euphrates to the land of the Philistines and to the border of Egypt. <sup>27</sup>And the king made silver as common in Jerusalem as stone, and he made cedar as plentiful as the sycamore of the Shephelah. <sup>28</sup>And horses were imported for Solomon from Egypt and from all lands.

Solomon's Death

<sup>29</sup>††Now the rest of the acts of Solomon, from first to last, are they not written in the history of Nathan the prophet, and in the prophecy of Ahijah the Shilonite, and in the visions of Iddo the seer concerning Jeroboam the son of Nebat? <sup>30</sup>Solomon reigned in Jerusalem over all Israel forty years. <sup>31</sup>And Solomon slept with his fathers and was buried in the city of David his father, and Rehoboam his son reigned in his place.

The Revolt Against Rehoboam

2 Chronicles 10 ~~1~~~~1~~~~1~~ Rehoboam went to Shechem, for all Israel had come to Shechem to make him king. <sup>2</sup>† And as soon as Jeroboam the son of Nebat heard of it (for he was in Egypt, where he had fled from King Solomon), then Jeroboam returned from Egypt. <sup>3</sup> And they sent and called him. And Jeroboam and all Israel came and said to Rehoboam, <sup>4</sup> “Your father made our yoke heavy. Now therefore lighten the hard service of your father and his heavy yoke on us, and we will serve you.” <sup>5</sup> He said to them, “Come to me again in three days.” So the people went away.

<sup>6</sup> Then King Rehoboam took counsel with the old men, [\[1\]](#) who had stood before Solomon his father while he was yet alive, saying, “How do you advise me to answer this people?” <sup>7</sup> And they said to him, “If you will be good to this people and please them and speak good words to them, then they will be your servants forever.” <sup>8</sup> But he abandoned the counsel that the old men gave him, and took counsel with the young men who had grown up with him and stood before him. <sup>9</sup> And he said to them, “What do you advise that we answer this people who have said to me, ‘Lighten the yoke that your father put on us’?” <sup>10</sup> And the young men who had grown up with him said to him, “Thus shall you speak to the people who said to you, ‘Your father made our yoke heavy, but you lighten it for us’; thus shall you say to them, ‘My little finger is thicker than my father’s thighs. <sup>11</sup> And now, whereas my father laid on you a heavy yoke, I will add to your yoke. My father disciplined you with whips, but I will discipline you with scorpions.’”

<sup>12</sup> So Jeroboam and all the people came to Rehoboam the third day, as the king said, “Come to me again the third day.” <sup>13</sup> And the king answered them harshly; and forsaking the counsel of the old men, <sup>14</sup> King Rehoboam spoke to them according to the counsel of the young men, saying, “My father made your yoke heavy, but I will add to it. My father disciplined you with whips, but I will discipline you with scorpions.” <sup>15</sup> So the king did not listen to the people, for it was a turn of affairs brought about by God that the LORD might fulfill his word, which he spoke by Ahijah the Shilonite to Jeroboam the son of Nebat.

<sup>16</sup> † And when all Israel saw that the king did not listen to them, the people answered the king, “What portion have we in David? We have no inheritance in the son of Jesse. Each of you to your tents, O Israel! Look now to your own house, David.” So all Israel went to their tents. <sup>17</sup> But Rehoboam reigned over the people of Israel who lived in the cities of Judah. <sup>18</sup>Then King Rehoboam sent Hadoram, [\[2\]](#) who was taskmaster over the forced labor, and the people of Israel stoned him to death with stones. And King Rehoboam quickly mounted his chariot to flee to Jerusalem. <sup>19</sup>So Israel has been in rebellion against the house of David to this day.

Rehoboam Secures His Kingdom

2 Chronicles 11 When Rehoboam came to Jerusalem, he assembled the house of Judah and Benjamin, 180,000 chosen warriors, to fight against Israel, to restore the kingdom to Rehoboam. <sup>2</sup>But the word of the LORD came to Shemaiah the man of God: <sup>3</sup>“Say to Rehoboam the son of Solomon, king of Judah, and to all Israel in Judah and Benjamin, <sup>4</sup>“Thus says the LORD, You shall not go up or fight against your relatives. Return every man to his home, for this thing is from me.”” So they listened to the word of the LORD and returned and did not go against Jeroboam.

Priests and Levites Come to Jerusalem

<sup>13</sup>†And the priests and the Levites who were in all Israel presented themselves to him from all places where they lived. <sup>14</sup>For the Levites left their common lands and their holdings and came to Judah and Jerusalem, because Jeroboam and his sons cast them out from serving as priests of the LORD, <sup>15</sup>†and he appointed his own priests for the high places and for the goat idols and for the calves that he had made. <sup>16</sup>†And those who had set their hearts to seek the LORD God of Israel came after them from all the tribes of Israel to Jerusalem to sacrifice to the LORD, the God of their fathers. <sup>17</sup>They strengthened the kingdom of Judah, and for three years they made Rehoboam the son of Solomon secure, for they walked for three years in the way of David and Solomon.

Rehoboam's Family

Maacah the daughter of Absalom above all his wives and concubines (he took eighteen wives and sixty concubines, and fathered twenty-eight sons and sixty daughters). <sup>22</sup>And Rehoboam appointed Abijah the son of Maacah as chief prince among his brothers, for he intended to make him king. <sup>23</sup>And he dealt wisely and distributed some of his sons through all the districts of Judah and Benjamin, in all the fortified cities, and he gave them abundant provisions and procured wives for them. [\[1\]](#)

Egypt Plunders Jerusalem

2 Chronicles 12 † When the rule of Rehoboam was established and he was strong, he abandoned the law of the LORD, and all Israel with him. † In the fifth year of King Rehoboam, because they had been unfaithful to the LORD, Shishak king of Egypt came up against Jerusalem † with 1,200 chariots and 60,000 horsemen. And the people were without number who came with him from Egypt—Libyans, Sukkiim, and Ethiopians. † And he took the fortified cities of Judah and came as far as Jerusalem. † Then Shemaiah the prophet came to Rehoboam and to the princes of Judah, who had gathered at Jerusalem because of Shishak, and said to them, “Thus says the LORD, ‘You abandoned me, so I have abandoned you to the hand of Shishak.’” † Then the princes of Israel and the king humbled themselves and said, “The LORD is righteous.” † When the LORD saw that they humbled themselves, the word of the LORD came to Shemaiah: “They have humbled themselves. I will not destroy them, but I will grant them some deliverance, and my wrath shall not be poured out on Jerusalem by the hand of Shishak. † Nevertheless, they shall be servants to him, that they may know my service and the service of the kingdoms of the countries.”

† So Shishak king of Egypt came up against Jerusalem. He took away the treasures of the house of the LORD and the treasures of the king's house. He took away everything. He also took away the shields of gold that Solomon had made, † and King Rehoboam made in their place shields of bronze and committed them to the hands of the officers of the guard, who kept the door of the king's house. † And as often as the king went into the house of the LORD, the guard came and carried them and brought them back to the guardroom. † And when he humbled himself the wrath of the LORD turned from him, so as not to make a complete destruction. Moreover, conditions were good [\[1\]](#) in Judah.

† So King Rehoboam grew strong in Jerusalem and reigned. Rehoboam was forty-one years old when he began to reign, and he reigned seventeen years in Jerusalem, the city that the LORD had chosen out of all the tribes of Israel to put his name there. His mother's name was Naamah the Ammonite. † And he did evil, for he did not set his heart to seek the LORD.

† Now the acts of Rehoboam, from first to last, are they not written in the chronicles of Shemaiah the prophet and of Iddo the seer? [\[2\]](#) There were continual wars between Rehoboam and Jeroboam. † And Rehoboam slept with his fathers and was buried in the city of David, and Abijah [\[3\]](#) his son reigned in his place.

Abijah Reigns in Judah

2 Chronicles 13 †In the eighteenth year of King Jeroboam, Abijah began to reign over Judah. <sup>2</sup>He reigned for three years in Jerusalem. His mother's name was Micaiah [\[1\]](#) the daughter of Uriel of Gibeah.

Now there was war between Abijah and Jeroboam. <sup>3</sup>†Abijah went out to battle, having an army of valiant men of war, 400,000 chosen men. And Jeroboam drew up his line of battle against him with 800,000 chosen mighty warriors. <sup>4</sup>†Then Abijah stood up on Mount Zemaraim that is in the hill country of Ephraim and said, “Hear me, O Jeroboam and all Israel! <sup>5</sup>†Ought you not to know that the LORD God of Israel gave the kingship over Israel forever to David and his sons by a covenant of salt? <sup>6</sup>†Yet Jeroboam the son of Nebat, a servant of Solomon the son of David, rose up and rebelled against his lord, <sup>7</sup>†and certain worthless scoundrels gathered about him and defied Rehoboam the son of Solomon, when Rehoboam was young and irresolute [\[2\]](#) and could not withstand them.

<sup>8</sup>†“And now you think to withstand the kingdom of the LORD in the hand of the sons of David, because you are a great multitude and have with you the golden calves that Jeroboam made you for gods. <sup>9</sup>Have you not driven out the priests of the LORD, the sons of Aaron, and the Levites, and made priests for yourselves like the peoples of other lands? Whoever comes for ordination [\[3\]](#) with a young bull or seven rams becomes a priest of what are no gods. <sup>10</sup>†But as for us, the LORD is our God, and we have not forsaken him. We have priests ministering to the LORD who are sons of Aaron, and Levites for their service. <sup>11</sup>They offer to the LORD every morning and every evening burnt offerings and incense of sweet spices, set out the showbread on the table of pure gold, and care for the golden lampstand that its lamps may burn every evening. For we keep the charge of the LORD our God, but you have forsaken him. <sup>12</sup>Behold, God is with us at our head, and his priests with their battle trumpets to sound the call to battle against you. O sons of Israel, do not fight against the LORD, the God of your fathers, for you cannot succeed.”

<sup>13</sup>Jeroboam had sent an ambush around to come upon them from behind. Thus his troops [\[4\]](#) were in front of Judah, and the ambush was behind them. <sup>14</sup>And when Judah looked, behold, the battle was in front of and behind them. And they cried to the LORD, and the priests blew the trumpets. <sup>15</sup>†Then the men of Judah raised the battle shout. And when the men of Judah shouted, God defeated Jeroboam and all Israel before Abijah and Judah. <sup>16</sup>The men of Israel fled before Judah, and God gave them into their hand. <sup>17</sup>†Abijah and his people struck them with great force, so there fell slain of Israel 500,000 chosen men. <sup>18</sup>Thus the men of Israel were subdued at that time, and the men of Judah prevailed, because they relied on the LORD, the God of their fathers. <sup>19</sup>†And Abijah pursued Jeroboam and took cities from him, Bethel with its villages and Jeshanah with its villages and Ephron [5] with its villages. <sup>20</sup>†Jeroboam did not recover his power in the days of Abijah. And the LORD struck him down, and he died. <sup>21</sup>But Abijah grew mighty. And he took fourteen wives and had twenty-two sons and sixteen daughters. <sup>22</sup>The rest of the acts of Abijah, his ways and his sayings, are written in the story of the prophet Iddo.

Asa Reigns in Judah

2 Chronicles 14 ¶¶ [\[1\]](#) Abijah slept with his fathers, and they buried him in the city of David. And Asa his son reigned in his place. In his days the land had rest for ten years. <sup>2</sup> [\[2\]](#) And Asa did what was good and right in the eyes of the LORD his God. <sup>3</sup> ¶ He took away the foreign altars and the high places and broke down the pillars and cut down the Asherim <sup>4</sup> and commanded Judah to seek the LORD, the God of their fathers, and to keep the law and the commandment. <sup>5</sup> He also took out of all the cities of Judah the high places and the incense altars. And the kingdom had rest under him. <sup>6</sup> He built fortified cities in Judah, for the land had rest. He had no war in those years, for the LORD gave him peace. <sup>7</sup> And he said to Judah, “Let us build these cities and surround them with walls and towers, gates and bars. The land is still ours, because we have sought the LORD our God. We have sought him, and he has given us peace on every side.” So they built and prospered. <sup>8</sup> ¶ And Asa had an army of 300,000 from Judah, armed with large shields and spears, and 280,000 men from Benjamin that carried shields and drew bows. All these were mighty men of valor.

<sup>9</sup> ¶¶ Zerah the Ethiopian came out against them with an army of a million men and 300 chariots, and came as far as Mareshah. <sup>10</sup> And Asa went out to meet him, and they drew up their lines of battle in the Valley of Zephathah at Mareshah. <sup>11</sup> ¶ And Asa cried to the LORD his God, “O LORD, there is none like you to help, between the mighty and the weak. Help us, O LORD our God, for we rely on you, and in your name we have come against this multitude. O LORD, you are our God; let not man prevail against you.” <sup>12</sup> So the LORD defeated the Ethiopians before Asa and before Judah, and the Ethiopians fled. <sup>13</sup> ¶¶ Asa and the people who were with him pursued them as far as Gerar, and the Ethiopians fell until none remained alive, for they were broken before the LORD and his army. The men of Judah [\[3\]](#) carried away very much spoil. <sup>14</sup> And they attacked all the cities around Gerar, for the fear of the LORD was upon them. They plundered all the cities, for there was much plunder in them. <sup>15</sup> And they struck down the tents of those who had livestock and carried away sheep in abundance and camels. Then they returned to Jerusalem.

Asa's Religious Reforms

2 Chronicles 15 †The Spirit of God came upon Azariah the son of Oded, <sup>2</sup>†and he went out to meet Asa and said to him, “Hear me, Asa, and all Judah and Benjamin: The LORD is with you while you are with him. If you seek him, he will be found by you, but if you forsake him, he will forsake you. <sup>3</sup>For a long time Israel was without the true God, and without a teaching priest and without law, <sup>4</sup>but when in their distress they turned to the LORD, the God of Israel, and sought him, he was found by them. <sup>5</sup>In those times there was no peace to him who went out or to him who came in, for great disturbances afflicted all the inhabitants of the lands. <sup>6</sup>They were broken in pieces. Nation was crushed by nation and city by city, for God troubled them with every sort of distress. <sup>7</sup>But you, take courage! Do not let your hands be weak, for your work shall be rewarded.”

<sup>8</sup>†As soon as Asa heard these words, the prophecy of Azariah the son of Oded, he took courage and put away the detestable idols from all the land of Judah and Benjamin and from the cities that he had taken in the hill country of Ephraim, and he repaired the altar of the LORD that was in front of the vestibule of the house of the LORD. [\[1\]](#) <sup>9</sup>†And he gathered all Judah and Benjamin, and those from Ephraim, Manasseh, and Simeon who were residing with them, for great numbers had deserted to him from Israel when they saw that the LORD his God was with him. <sup>10</sup>†They were gathered at Jerusalem in the third month of the fifteenth year of the reign of Asa. <sup>11</sup>†They sacrificed to the LORD on that day from the spoil that they had brought 700 oxen and 7,000 sheep. <sup>12</sup>And they entered into a covenant to seek the LORD, the God of their fathers, with all their heart and with all their soul, <sup>13</sup>but that whoever would not seek the LORD, the God of Israel, should be put to death, whether young or old, man or woman. <sup>14</sup>They swore an oath to the LORD with a loud voice and with shouting and with trumpets and with horns. <sup>15</sup>And all Judah rejoiced over the oath, for they had sworn with all their heart and had sought him with their whole desire, and he was found by them, and the LORD gave them rest all around.

<sup>16</sup>†Even Maacah, his mother, King Asa removed from being queen mother because she had made a detestable image for Asherah. Asa cut down her image, crushed it, and burned it at the brook Kidron. <sup>17</sup>But the high places were not taken out of Israel. Nevertheless, the heart of Asa was wholly true all his days. <sup>18</sup>And he brought into the house of God the sacred gifts of his father and his own sacred gifts, silver, and gold, and vessels. <sup>19</sup>†And there was no more war until the thirty-fifth year of the reign of Asa.

Asa's Last Years

2 Chronicles 16 † In the thirty-sixth year of the reign of Asa, Baasha king of Israel went up against Judah and built Ramah, that he might permit no one to go out or come in to Asa king of Judah. <sup>2</sup>† Then Asa took silver and gold from the treasures of the house of the LORD and the king's house and sent them to Ben-hadad king of Syria, who lived in Damascus, saying, <sup>3</sup>† “There is a covenant [\[1\]](#) between me and you, as there was between my father and your father. Behold, I am sending to you silver and gold. Go, break your covenant with Baasha king of Israel, that he may withdraw from me.” <sup>4</sup>† And Ben-hadad listened to King Asa and sent the commanders of his armies against the cities of Israel, and they conquered Ijon, Dan, Abel-maim, and all the store cities of Naphtali. <sup>5</sup> And when Baasha heard of it, he stopped building Ramah and let his work cease. <sup>6</sup>† Then King Asa took all Judah, and they carried away the stones of Ramah and its timber, with which Baasha had been building, and with them he built Geba and Mizpah.

<sup>7</sup>† At that time Hanani the seer came to Asa king of Judah and said to him, “Because you relied on the king of Syria, and did not rely on the LORD your God, the army of the king of Syria has escaped you. <sup>8</sup> Were not the Ethiopians and the Libyans a huge army with very many chariots and horsemen? Yet because you relied on the LORD, he gave them into your hand. <sup>9</sup>† For the eyes of the LORD run to and fro throughout the whole earth, to give strong support to those whose heart is blameless toward him. You have done foolishly in this, for from now on you will have wars.” <sup>10</sup>† Then Asa was angry with the seer and put him in the stocks in prison, for he was in a rage with him because of this. And Asa inflicted cruelties upon some of the people at the same time.

<sup>11</sup> The acts of Asa, from first to last, are written in the Book of the Kings of Judah and Israel. <sup>12</sup>† In the thirty-ninth year of his reign Asa was diseased in his feet, and his disease became severe. Yet even in his disease he did not seek the LORD, but sought help from physicians. <sup>13</sup>† And Asa slept with his fathers, dying in the forty-first year of his reign. <sup>14</sup>† They buried him in the tomb that he had cut for himself in the city of David. They laid him on a bier that had been filled with various kinds of spices prepared by the perfumer's art, and they made a very great fire in his honor.

Jehoshaphat Reigns in Judah

2 Chronicles 17 ¶¶ Jehoshaphat his son reigned in his place and strengthened himself against Israel. <sup>2</sup>He placed forces in all the fortified cities of Judah and set garrisons in the land of Judah, and in the cities of Ephraim that Asa his father had captured. <sup>3</sup>¶¶ The LORD was with Jehoshaphat, because he walked in the earlier ways of his father David. He did not seek the Baals, <sup>4</sup>but sought the God of his father and walked in his commandments, and not according to the practices of Israel. <sup>5</sup>Therefore the LORD established the kingdom in his hand. And all Judah brought tribute to Jehoshaphat, and he had great riches and honor. <sup>6</sup>His heart was courageous in the ways of the LORD. And furthermore, he took the high places and the Asherim out of Judah.

<sup>7</sup>In the third year of his reign he sent his officials, Ben-hail, Obadiah, Zechariah, Nethanel, and Micaiah, to teach in the cities of Judah; <sup>8</sup>and with them the Levites, Shemaiah, Nethaniah, Zebadiah, Asahel, Shemiramoth, Jehonathan, Adonijah, Tobijah, and Tobadonijah; and with these Levites, the priests Elishama and Jehoram. <sup>9</sup>And they taught in Judah, having the Book of the Law of the LORD with them. They went about through all the cities of Judah and taught among the people.

<sup>10</sup>¶ And the fear of the LORD fell upon all the kingdoms of the lands that were around Judah, and they made no war against Jehoshaphat. <sup>11</sup>Some of the Philistines brought Jehoshaphat presents and silver for tribute, and the Arabians also brought him 7,700 rams and 7,700 goats. <sup>12</sup>¶ And Jehoshaphat grew steadily greater. He built in Judah fortresses and store cities, <sup>13</sup>and he had large supplies in the cities of Judah. He had soldiers, mighty men of valor, in Jerusalem. <sup>14</sup>This was the muster of them by fathers' houses: Of Judah, the commanders of thousands: Adnah the commander, with 300,000 mighty men of valor; <sup>15</sup>and next to him Jehohanan the commander, with 280,000; <sup>16</sup>and next to him Amasiah the son of Zichri, a volunteer for the service of the LORD, with 200,000 mighty men of valor. <sup>17</sup>Of Benjamin: Eliada, a mighty man of valor, with 200,000 men armed with bow and shield; <sup>18</sup>and next to him Jehozabad with 180,000 armed for war. <sup>19</sup>These were in the service of the king, besides those whom the king had placed in the fortified cities throughout all Judah.

Jehoshaphat Allies with Ahab

2 Chronicles 18 ‡ Now Jehoshaphat had great riches and honor, and he made a marriage alliance with Ahab. <sup>2</sup>After some years he went down to Ahab in Samaria. And Ahab killed an abundance of sheep and oxen for him and for the people who were with him, and induced him to go up against Ramoth-gilead. <sup>3</sup>Ahab king of Israel said to Jehoshaphat king of Judah, “Will you go with me to Ramoth-gilead?” He answered him, “I am as you are, my people as your people. We will be with you in the war.”

<sup>4</sup>And Jehoshaphat said to the king of Israel, “Inquire first for the word of the LORD.” <sup>5</sup>‡ Then the king of Israel gathered the prophets together, four hundred men, and said to them, “Shall we go to battle against Ramoth-gilead, or shall I refrain?” And they said, “Go up, for God will give it into the hand of the king.” <sup>6</sup>But Jehoshaphat said, “Is there not here another prophet of the LORD of whom we may inquire?” <sup>7</sup>And the king of Israel said to Jehoshaphat, “There is yet one man by whom we may inquire of the LORD, Micaiah the son of Imlah; but I hate him, for he never prophesies good concerning me, but always evil.” And Jehoshaphat said, “Let not the king say so.” <sup>8</sup>Then the king of Israel summoned an officer and said, “Bring quickly Micaiah the son of Imlah.” <sup>9</sup>Now the king of Israel and Jehoshaphat the king of Judah were sitting on their thrones, arrayed in their robes. And they were sitting at the threshing floor at the entrance of the gate of Samaria, and all the prophets were prophesying before them. <sup>10</sup>And Zedekiah the son of Chenaanah made for himself horns of iron and said, “Thus says the LORD, ‘With these you shall push the Syrians until they are destroyed.’” <sup>11</sup>And all the prophets prophesied so and said, “Go up to Ramoth-gilead and triumph. The LORD will give it into the hand of the king.”

<sup>12</sup>And the messenger who went to summon Micaiah said to him, “Behold, the words of the prophets with one accord are favorable to the king. Let your word be like the word of one of them, and speak favorably.” <sup>13</sup>But Micaiah said, “As the LORD lives, what my God says, that I will speak.” <sup>14</sup>And when he had come to the king, the king said to him, “Micaiah, shall we go to Ramoth-gilead to battle, or shall I refrain?” And he answered, “Go up and triumph; they will be given into your hand.” <sup>15</sup>But the king said to him, “How many times shall I make you swear that you speak to me nothing but the truth in the name of the LORD?” <sup>16</sup>And he said, “I saw all Israel scattered on the mountains, as sheep that have no shepherd. And the LORD said, ‘These have no master; let each return to his home in peace.’” <sup>17</sup>And the king of Israel said to Jehoshaphat, “Did I not tell you that he would not prophesy good concerning me, but evil?” <sup>18</sup>And Micaiah said, “Therefore hear the word of the LORD: I saw the LORD sitting on his throne, and all the host of heaven standing on his right hand and on his left. <sup>19</sup>And the LORD said, ‘Who will entice Ahab the king of Israel, that he may go up and fall at Ramoth-gilead?’ And one said one thing, and another said another. <sup>20</sup>Then a spirit came forward and stood before the LORD, saying, ‘I will entice him.’ And the LORD said to him, ‘By what means?’ <sup>21</sup>And he said, ‘I will go out, and will be a lying spirit in the mouth of all his prophets.’ And he said, ‘You are to entice him, and you shall succeed; go out and do so.’ <sup>22</sup>Now therefore behold, the LORD has put a lying spirit in the mouth of these your prophets. The LORD has declared disaster concerning you.”

<sup>23</sup>Then Zedekiah the son of Chenaanah came near and struck Micaiah on the cheek and said, “Which way did the Spirit of the LORD go from me to speak to you?” <sup>24</sup>And Micaiah said, “Behold, you shall see on that day when you go into an inner chamber to hide yourself.” <sup>25</sup>And the king of Israel said, “Seize Micaiah and take him back to Amon the governor of the city and to Joash the king's son, <sup>26</sup>and say, ‘Thus says the king, Put this fellow in prison and feed him with meager rations of bread and water until I return in peace.’” <sup>27</sup>And Micaiah said, “If you return in peace, the LORD has not spoken by me.” And he said, “Hear, all you peoples!”

The Defeat and Death of Ahab

<sup>28</sup>So the king of Israel and Jehoshaphat the king of Judah went up to Ramoth-gilead. <sup>29</sup>And the king of Israel said to Jehoshaphat, “I will disguise myself and go into battle, but you wear your robes.” And the king of Israel disguised himself, and they went into battle. <sup>30</sup>Now the king of Syria had commanded the captains of his chariots, “Fight with neither small nor great, but only with the king of Israel.” <sup>31</sup>As soon as the captains of the chariots saw Jehoshaphat, they said, “It is the king of Israel.” So they turned to fight against him. And Jehoshaphat cried out, and the LORD helped him; God drew them away from him. <sup>32</sup>For as soon as the captains of the chariots saw that it was not the king of Israel, they turned back from pursuing him. <sup>33</sup>But a certain man drew his bow at random [1] and struck the king of Israel between the scale armor and the breastplate. Therefore he said to the driver of his chariot, “Turn around and carry me out of the battle, for I am wounded.” <sup>34</sup>And the battle continued that day, and the king of Israel was propped up in his chariot facing the Syrians until evening.

Then at sunset he died.

Jehoshaphat's Reforms

2 Chronicles 19 †Jehoshaphat the king of Judah returned in safety to his house in Jerusalem. †But Jehu the son of Hanani the seer went out to meet him and said to King Jehoshaphat, “Should you help the wicked and love those who hate the LORD? Because of this, wrath has gone out against you from the LORD. †Nevertheless, some good is found in you, for you destroyed the Asherahs out of the land, and have set your heart to seek God.”

‡Jehoshaphat lived at Jerusalem. And he went out again among the people, from Beersheba to the hill country of Ephraim, and brought them back to the LORD, the God of their fathers. †He appointed judges in the land in all the fortified cities of Judah, city by city, †and said to the judges, “Consider what you do, for you judge not for man but for the LORD. He is with you in giving judgment. †Now then, let the fear of the LORD be upon you. Be careful what you do, for there is no injustice with the LORD our God, or partiality or taking bribes.”

†Moreover, in Jerusalem Jehoshaphat appointed certain Levites and priests and heads of families of Israel, to give judgment for the LORD and to decide disputed cases. They had their seat at Jerusalem. †And he charged them: “Thus you shall do in the fear of the LORD, in faithfulness, and with your whole heart: †whenever a case comes to you from your brothers who live in their cities, concerning bloodshed, law or commandment, statutes or rules, then you shall warn them, that they may not incur guilt before the LORD and wrath may not come upon you and your brothers. Thus you shall do, and you will not incur guilt. †And behold, Amariah the chief priest is over you in all matters of the LORD; and Zebadiah the son of Ishmael, the governor of the house of Judah, in all the king's matters, and the Levites will serve you as officers. Deal courageously, and may the LORD be with the upright!” [\[1\]](#)

Jehoshaphat's Prayer

2 Chronicles 20 †After this the Moabites and Ammonites, and with them some of the Meunites, [\[1\]](#) came against Jehoshaphat for battle. <sup>2</sup>Some men came and told Jehoshaphat, “A great multitude is coming against you from Edom, [\[2\]](#) from beyond the sea; and, behold, they are in Hazazon-tamar” (that is, Engedi). <sup>3</sup>†Then Jehoshaphat was afraid and set his face to seek the LORD, and proclaimed a fast throughout all Judah. <sup>4</sup>And Judah assembled to seek help from the LORD; from all the cities of Judah they came to seek the LORD.

<sup>5</sup>†And Jehoshaphat stood in the assembly of Judah and Jerusalem, in the house of the LORD, before the new court, <sup>6</sup>and said, “O LORD, God of our fathers, are you not God in heaven? You rule over all the kingdoms of the nations. In your hand are power and might, so that none is able to withstand you. <sup>7</sup>Did you not, our God, drive out the inhabitants of this land before your people Israel, and give it forever to the descendants of Abraham your friend? <sup>8</sup>And they have lived in it and have built for you in it a sanctuary for your name, saying, <sup>9</sup>‘If disaster comes upon us, the sword, judgment, [\[3\]](#) or pestilence, or famine, we will stand before this house and before you—for your name is in this house—and cry out to you in our affliction, and you will hear and save.’ <sup>10</sup>†And now behold, the men of Ammon and Moab and Mount Seir, whom you would not let Israel invade when they came from the land of Egypt, and whom they avoided and did not destroy—<sup>11</sup>behold, they reward us by coming to drive us out of your possession, which you have given us to inherit. <sup>12</sup>O our God, will you not execute judgment on them? For we are powerless against this great horde that is coming against us. We do not know what to do, but our eyes are on you.”

<sup>13</sup>Meanwhile all Judah stood before the LORD, with their little ones, their wives, and their children. <sup>14</sup>†And the Spirit of the LORD came upon Jahaziel the son of Zechariah, son of Benaiah, son of Jeiel, son of Mattaniah, a Levite of the sons of Asaph, in the midst of the assembly. <sup>15</sup>And he said, “Listen, all Judah and inhabitants of Jerusalem and King Jehoshaphat: Thus says the LORD to you, ‘Do not be afraid and do not be dismayed at this great horde, for the battle is not yours but God’s. <sup>16</sup>†Tomorrow go down against them. Behold, they will come up by the ascent of Ziz. You will find them at the end of the valley, east of the wilderness of Jeruel. <sup>17</sup>You will not need to fight in this battle. Stand firm, hold your position, and see the salvation of the LORD on your behalf, O Judah and Jerusalem.’ Do not be afraid and do not be dismayed. Tomorrow go out against them, and the LORD will be with you.”

<sup>18</sup>‡Then Jehoshaphat bowed his head with his face to the ground, and all Judah and the inhabitants of Jerusalem fell down before the LORD, worshiping the LORD. <sup>19</sup>And the Levites, of the Kohathites and the Korahites, stood up to praise the LORD, the God of Israel, with a very loud voice.

<sup>20</sup>And they rose early in the morning and went out into the wilderness of Tekoa. And when they went out, Jehoshaphat stood and said, “Hear me, Judah and inhabitants of Jerusalem! Believe in the LORD your God, and you will be established; believe his prophets, and you will succeed.” <sup>21</sup>‡And when he had taken counsel with the people, he appointed those who were to sing to the LORD and praise him in holy attire, as they went before the army, and say, “Give thanks to the LORD, for his steadfast love endures forever.”

<sup>22</sup>‡And when they began to sing and praise, the LORD set an ambush against the men of Ammon, Moab, and Mount Seir, who had come against Judah, so that they were routed. <sup>23</sup>For the men of Ammon and Moab rose against the inhabitants of Mount Seir, devoting them to destruction, and when they had made an end of the inhabitants of Seir, they all helped to destroy one another.

The LORD Delivers Judah

<sup>24</sup>When Judah came to the watchtower of the wilderness, they looked toward the horde, and behold, there [4] were dead bodies lying on the ground; none had escaped. <sup>25</sup>‡When Jehoshaphat and his people came to take their spoil, they found among them, in great numbers, goods, clothing, and precious things, which they took for themselves until they could carry no more. They were three days in taking the spoil, it was so much. <sup>26</sup>On the fourth day they assembled in the Valley of Beracah, [5] for there they blessed the LORD. Therefore the name of that place has been called the Valley of Beracah to this day. <sup>27</sup>Then they returned, every man of Judah and Jerusalem, and Jehoshaphat at their head, returning to Jerusalem with joy, for the LORD had made them rejoice over their enemies. <sup>28</sup>They came to Jerusalem with harps and lyres and trumpets, to the house of the LORD. <sup>29</sup>‡And the fear of God came on all the kingdoms of the countries when they heard that the LORD had fought against the enemies of Israel. <sup>30</sup>So the realm of Jehoshaphat was quiet, for his God gave him rest all around.

<sup>31</sup>‡Thus Jehoshaphat reigned over Judah. He was thirty-five years old when he began to reign, and he reigned twenty-five years in Jerusalem. His mother's name was Azubah the daughter of Shilhi. <sup>32</sup>He walked in the way of Asa his father and did not turn aside from it, doing what was right in the sight of the LORD. <sup>33</sup>The high places, however, were not taken away; the people had not yet set their hearts upon the God of their fathers.

<sup>34</sup>Now the rest of the acts of Jehoshaphat, from first to last, are written in the chronicles of Jehu the son of Hanani, which are recorded in the Book of the Kings of Israel.

The End of Jehoshaphat's Reign

<sup>35</sup>After this Jehoshaphat king of Judah joined with Ahaziah king of Israel, who acted wickedly. <sup>36</sup>He joined him in building ships to go to Tarshish, and they built the ships in Ezion-geber. <sup>37</sup>Then Eliezer the son of Dodavahu of Mareshah prophesied against Jehoshaphat, saying, “Because you have joined with Ahaziah, the LORD will destroy what you have made.” And the ships were wrecked and were not able to go to Tarshish.

Jehoram Reigns in Judah

2 Chronicles 21 Jehoshaphat slept with his fathers and was buried with his fathers in the city of David, and Jehoram his son reigned in his place. <sup>2</sup>He had brothers, the sons of Jehoshaphat: Azariah, Jehiel, Zechariah, Azariah, Michael, and Shephatiah; all these were the sons of Jehoshaphat king of Israel. [\[1\]](#) <sup>3</sup>Their father gave them great gifts of silver, gold, and valuable possessions, together with fortified cities in Judah, but he gave the kingdom to Jehoram, because he was the firstborn. <sup>4</sup>When Jehoram had ascended the throne of his father and was established, he killed all his brothers with the sword, and also some of the princes of Israel. <sup>5</sup>Jehoram was thirty-two years old when he became king, and he reigned eight years in Jerusalem. <sup>6</sup>And he walked in the way of the kings of Israel, as the house of Ahab had done, for the daughter of Ahab was his wife. And he did what was evil in the sight of the LORD. <sup>7</sup>Yet the LORD was not willing to destroy the house of David, because of the covenant that he had made with David, and since he had promised to give a lamp to him and to his sons forever.

<sup>8</sup>In his days Edom revolted from the rule of Judah and set up a king of their own. <sup>9</sup>Then Jehoram passed over with his commanders and all his chariots, and he rose by night and struck the Edomites who had surrounded him and his chariot commanders. <sup>10</sup>So Edom revolted from the rule of Judah to this day. At that time Libnah also revolted from his rule, because he had forsaken the LORD, the God of his fathers.

<sup>11</sup>Moreover, he made high places in the hill country of Judah and led the inhabitants of Jerusalem into whoredom and made Judah go astray. <sup>12</sup>And a letter came to him from Elijah the prophet, saying, “Thus says the LORD, the God of David your father, ‘Because you have not walked in the ways of Jehoshaphat your father, or in the ways of Asa king of Judah, <sup>13</sup>but have walked in the way of the kings of Israel and have enticed Judah and the inhabitants of Jerusalem into whoredom, as the house of Ahab led Israel into whoredom, and also you have killed your brothers, of your father's house, who were better than yourself, <sup>14</sup>behold, the LORD will bring a great plague on your people, your children, your wives, and all your possessions, <sup>15</sup>and you yourself will have a severe sickness with a disease of your bowels, until your bowels come out because of the disease, day by day.’”

<sup>16</sup>And the LORD stirred up against Jehoram the anger [\[2\]](#) of the Philistines and of the Arabians who are near the Ethiopians. <sup>17</sup>And they came up against Judah and invaded it and carried away all the possessions they found that belonged to the king's house, and also his sons and his wives, so that no son was left to him except Jehoahaz, his youngest son.

<sup>18</sup>And after all this the LORD struck him in his bowels with an incurable disease.

<sup>19</sup>In the course of time, at the end of two years, his bowels came out because of the disease, and he died in great agony. His people made no fire in his honor, like the fires made for his fathers. <sup>20</sup>†He was thirty-two years old when he began to reign, and he reigned eight years in Jerusalem. And he departed with no one's regret. They buried him in the city of David, but not in the tombs of the kings.

Ahaziah Reigns in Judah

2 Chronicles 22 ¶¶ And the inhabitants of Jerusalem made Ahaziah, his youngest son, king in his place, for the band of men that came with the Arabians to the camp had killed all the older sons. So Ahaziah the son of Jehoram king of Judah reigned. ¶ Ahaziah was twenty-two years old when he began to reign, and he reigned one year in Jerusalem. His mother's name was Athaliah, the granddaughter of Omri. ¶ He also walked in the ways of the house of Ahab, for his mother was his counselor in doing wickedly. ¶ He did what was evil in the sight of the LORD, as the house of Ahab had done. For after the death of his father they were his counselors, to his undoing. ¶ He even followed their counsel and went with Jehoram the son of Ahab king of Israel to make war against Hazael king of Syria at Ramoth-gilead. And the Syrians wounded Joram, ¶ and he returned to be healed in Jezreel of the wounds that he had received at Ramah, when he fought against Hazael king of Syria. And Ahaziah the son of Jehoram king of Judah went down to see Joram the son of Ahab in Jezreel, because he was wounded.

¶ But it was ordained by God that the downfall of Ahaziah should come about through his going to visit Joram. For when he came there, he went out with Jehoram to meet Jehu the son of Nimshi, whom the LORD had anointed to destroy the house of Ahab. ¶ And when Jehu was executing judgment on the house of Ahab, he met the princes of Judah and the sons of Ahaziah's brothers, who attended Ahaziah, and he killed them. ¶ He searched for Ahaziah, and he was captured while hiding in Samaria, and he was brought to Jehu and put to death. They buried him, for they said, "He is the grandson of Jehoshaphat, who sought the LORD with all his heart." And the house of Ahaziah had no one able to rule the kingdom.

Athaliah Reigns in Judah

¶ Now when Athaliah the mother of Ahaziah saw that her son was dead, she arose and destroyed all the royal family of the house of Judah. ¶ But Jehoshabeath, [\[1\]](#) the daughter of the king, took Joash the son of Ahaziah and stole him away from among the king's sons who were about to be put to death, and she put him and his nurse in a bedroom. Thus Jehoshabeath, the daughter of King Jehoram and wife of Jehoiada the priest, because she was a sister of Ahaziah, hid him [\[2\]](#) from Athaliah, so that she did not put him to death. ¶ And he remained with them six years, hidden in the house of God, while Athaliah reigned over the land.

Joash Made King

2 Chronicles 23 But in the seventh year Jehoiada took courage and entered into a covenant with the commanders of hundreds, Azariah the son of Jeroham, Ishmael the son of Jehohanan, Azariah the son of Obed, Maaseiah the son of Adaiah, and Elishaphat the son of Zichri. <sup>2</sup>And they went about through Judah and gathered the Levites from all the cities of Judah, and the heads of fathers' houses of Israel, and they came to Jerusalem. <sup>3</sup>†And all the assembly made a covenant with the king in the house of God. And Jehoiada [1] said to them, “Behold, the king's son! Let him reign, as the LORD spoke concerning the sons of David. <sup>4</sup>This is the thing that you shall do: of you priests and Levites who come off duty on the Sabbath, one third shall be gatekeepers, <sup>5</sup>and one third shall be at the king's house and one third at the Gate of the Foundation. And all the people shall be in the courts of the house of the LORD. <sup>6</sup>Let no one enter the house of the LORD except the priests and ministering Levites. They may enter, for they are holy, but all the people shall keep the charge of the LORD. <sup>7</sup>The Levites shall surround the king, each with his weapons in his hand. And whoever enters the house shall be put to death. Be with the king when he comes in and when he goes out.”

<sup>8</sup>The Levites and all Judah did according to all that Jehoiada the priest commanded, and they each brought his men, who were to go off duty on the Sabbath, with those who were to come on duty on the Sabbath, for Jehoiada the priest did not dismiss the divisions. <sup>9</sup>And Jehoiada the priest gave to the captains the spears and the large and small shields that had been King David's, which were in the house of God. <sup>10</sup>And he set all the people as a guard for the king, every man with his weapon in his hand, from the south side of the house to the north side of the house, around the altar and the house. <sup>11</sup>†Then they brought out the king's son and put the crown on him and gave him the testimony. And they proclaimed him king, and Jehoiada and his sons anointed him, and they said, “Long live the king.”

Athaliah Executed

<sup>12</sup>When Athaliah heard the noise of the people running and praising the king, she went into the house of the LORD to the people. <sup>13</sup>And when she looked, there was the king standing by his pillar at the entrance, and the captains and the trumpeters beside the king, and all the people of the land rejoicing and blowing trumpets, and the singers with their musical instruments leading in the celebration. And Athaliah tore her clothes and cried, "Treason! Treason!" <sup>14</sup>Then Jehoiada the priest brought out the captains who were set over the army, saying to them, "Bring her out between the ranks, and anyone who follows her is to be put to death with the sword." For the priest said, "Do not put her to death in the house of the LORD." <sup>15</sup>So they laid hands on her, [2] and she went into the entrance of the horse gate of the king's house, and they put her to death there.

Jehoiada's Reforms

<sup>16</sup>And Jehoiada made a covenant between himself and all the people and the king that they should be the LORD's people. <sup>17</sup>Then all the people went to the house of Baal and tore it down; his altars and his images they broke in pieces, and they killed Mattan the priest of Baal before the altars. <sup>18</sup>And Jehoiada posted watchmen for the house of the LORD under the direction of the Levitical priests and the Levites whom David had organized to be in charge of the house of the LORD, to offer burnt offerings to the LORD, as it is written in the Law of Moses, with rejoicing and with singing, according to the order of David. <sup>19</sup>He stationed the gatekeepers at the gates of the house of the LORD so that no one should enter who was in any way unclean. <sup>20</sup>And he took the captains, the nobles, the governors of the people, and all the people of the land, and they brought the king down from the house of the LORD, marching through the upper gate to the king's house. And they set the king on the royal throne. <sup>21</sup>So all the people of the land rejoiced, and the city was quiet after Athaliah had been put to death with the sword.

Joash Repairs the Temple

2 Chronicles 24 ¶¶Joash [\[1\]](#) was seven years old when he began to reign, and he reigned forty years in Jerusalem. His mother's name was Zibiah of Beersheba. <sup>2</sup>And Joash did what was right in the eyes of the LORD all the days of Jehoiada the priest. <sup>3</sup>Jehoiada got for him two wives, and he had sons and daughters.

<sup>4</sup>After this Joash decided to restore the house of the LORD. <sup>5</sup>And he gathered the priests and the Levites and said to them, "Go out to the cities of Judah and gather from all Israel money to repair the house of your God from year to year, and see that you act quickly." But the Levites did not act quickly. <sup>6</sup>So the king summoned Jehoiada the chief and said to him, "Why have you not required the Levites to bring in from Judah and Jerusalem the tax levied by Moses, the servant of the LORD, and the congregation of Israel for the tent of testimony?" <sup>7</sup>For the sons of Athaliah, that wicked woman, had broken into the house of God, and had also used all the dedicated things of the house of the LORD for the Baals.

<sup>8</sup>So the king commanded, and they made a chest and set it outside the gate of the house of the LORD. <sup>9</sup>And proclamation was made throughout Judah and Jerusalem to bring in for the LORD the tax that Moses the servant of God laid on Israel in the wilderness. <sup>10</sup>And all the princes and all the people rejoiced and brought their tax and dropped it into the chest until they had finished. [\[2\]](#) <sup>11</sup>And whenever the chest was brought to the king's officers by the Levites, when they saw that there was much money in it, the king's secretary and the officer of the chief priest would come and empty the chest and take it and return it to its place. Thus they did day after day, and collected money in abundance. <sup>12</sup>And the king and Jehoiada gave it to those who had charge of the work of the house of the LORD, and they hired masons and carpenters to restore the house of the LORD, and also workers in iron and bronze to repair the house of the LORD. <sup>13</sup>So those who were engaged in the work labored, and the repairing went forward in their hands, and they restored the house of God to its proper condition and strengthened it. <sup>14</sup>And when they had finished, they brought the rest of the money before the king and Jehoiada, and with it were made utensils for the house of the LORD, both for the service and for the burnt offerings, and dishes for incense and vessels of gold and silver. And they offered burnt offerings in the house of the LORD regularly all the days of Jehoiada.

<sup>15</sup>¶But Jehoiada grew old and full of days, and died. He was 130 years old at his death. <sup>16</sup>And they buried him in the city of David among the kings, because he had done good in Israel, and toward God and his house.

<sup>17</sup>‡Now after the death of Jehoiada the princes of Judah came and paid homage to the king. Then the king listened to them. <sup>18</sup>‡And they abandoned the house of the LORD, the God of their fathers, and served the Asherim and the idols. And wrath came upon Judah and Jerusalem for this guilt of theirs. <sup>19</sup>Yet he sent prophets among them to bring them back to the LORD. These testified against them, but they would not pay attention.

Joash's Treachery

<sup>20</sup>‡Then the Spirit of God clothed Zechariah the son of Jehoiada the priest, and he stood above the people, and said to them, “Thus says God, ‘Why do you break the commandments of the LORD, so that you cannot prosper? Because you have forsaken the LORD, he has forsaken you.’” <sup>21</sup>But they conspired against him, and by command of the king they stoned him with stones in the court of the house of the LORD. <sup>22</sup>‡Thus Joash the king did not remember the kindness that Jehoiada, Zechariah's father, had shown him, but killed his son. And when he was dying, he said, “May the LORD see and avenge!” [3]

Joash Assassinated

<sup>23</sup>‡At the end of the year the army of the Syrians came up against Joash. They came to Judah and Jerusalem and destroyed all the princes of the people from among the people and sent all their spoil to the king of Damascus. <sup>24</sup>‡Though the army of the Syrians had come with few men, the LORD delivered into their hand a very great army, because Judah [4] had forsaken the LORD, the God of their fathers. Thus they executed judgment on Joash.

<sup>25</sup>‡When they had departed from him, leaving him severely wounded, his servants conspired against him because of the blood of the son [5] of Jehoiada the priest, and killed him on his bed. So he died, and they buried him in the city of David, but they did not bury him in the tombs of the kings. <sup>26</sup>‡Those who conspired against him were Zabad the son of Shimeath the Ammonite, and Jehozabad the son of Shimrith the Moabite. <sup>27</sup>Accounts of his sons and of the many oracles against him and of the rebuilding [6] of the house of God are written in the Story of the Book of the Kings. And Amaziah his son reigned in his place.

Amaziah Reigns in Judah

2 Chronicles 25 ¶¶ Amaziah was twenty-five years old when he began to reign, and he reigned twenty-nine years in Jerusalem. His mother's name was Jehoaddan of Jerusalem. <sup>2</sup>And he did what was right in the eyes of the LORD, yet not with a whole heart. <sup>3</sup>And as soon as the royal power was firmly his, he killed his servants who had struck down the king his father. ¶But he did not put their children to death, according to what is written in the Law, in the Book of Moses, where the LORD commanded, “Fathers shall not die because of their children, nor children die because of their fathers, but each one shall die for his own sin.”

Amaziah's Victories

<sup>5</sup>¶¶ Then Amaziah assembled the men of Judah and set them by fathers' houses under commanders of thousands and of hundreds for all Judah and Benjamin. He mustered those twenty years old and upward, and found that they were 300,000 choice men, fit for war, able to handle spear and shield. <sup>6</sup>¶ He hired also 100,000 mighty men of valor from Israel for 100 talents [\[1\]](#) of silver. <sup>7</sup>¶ But a man of God came to him and said, “O king, do not let the army of Israel go with you, for the LORD is not with Israel, with all these Ephraimites. <sup>8</sup>¶ But go, act, be strong for the battle. Why should you suppose that God will cast you down before the enemy? For God has power to help or to cast down.” <sup>9</sup>¶ And Amaziah said to the man of God, “But what shall we do about the hundred talents that I have given to the army of Israel?” The man of God answered, “The LORD is able to give you much more than this.” <sup>10</sup>Then Amaziah discharged the army that had come to him from Ephraim to go home again. And they became very angry with Judah and returned home in fierce anger. <sup>11</sup>¶ But Amaziah took courage and led out his people and went to the Valley of Salt and struck down 10,000 men of Seir. <sup>12</sup>¶ The men of Judah captured another 10,000 alive and took them to the top of a rock and threw them down from the top of the rock, and they were all dashed to pieces. <sup>13</sup>¶ But the men of the army whom Amaziah sent back, not letting them go with him to battle, raided the cities of Judah, from Samaria to Beth-horon, and struck down 3,000 people in them and took much spoil.

Amaziah's Idolatry

<sup>14</sup>¶ After Amaziah came from striking down the Edomites, he brought the gods of the men of Seir and set them up as his gods and worshiped them, making offerings to them. <sup>15</sup>Therefore the LORD was angry with Amaziah and sent to him a prophet, who said to him, “Why have you sought the gods of a people who did not deliver their own people from your hand?” <sup>16</sup>But as he was speaking, the king said to him, “Have we made you a royal counselor? Stop! Why should you be struck down?” So the prophet stopped, but said, “I know that God has determined to destroy you, because you have done this and have not listened to my counsel.”

Israel Defeats Amaziah

<sup>17</sup>Then Amaziah king of Judah took counsel and sent to Joash the son of Jehoahaz, son of Jehu, king of Israel, saying, “Come, let us look one another in the face.” <sup>18</sup>And Joash the king of Israel sent word to Amaziah king of Judah, “A thistle on Lebanon sent to a cedar on Lebanon, saying, ‘Give your daughter to my son for a wife,’ and a wild beast of Lebanon passed by and trampled down the thistle. <sup>19</sup>You say, ‘See, I [2] have struck down Edom,’ and your heart has lifted you up in boastfulness. But now stay at home. Why should you provoke trouble so that you fall, you and Judah with you?”

<sup>20</sup>But Amaziah would not listen, for it was of God, in order that he might give them into the hand of their enemies, because they had sought the gods of Edom. <sup>21</sup>So Joash king of Israel went up, and he and Amaziah king of Judah faced one another in battle at Beth-shemesh, which belongs to Judah. <sup>22</sup>And Judah was defeated by Israel, and every man fled to his home. <sup>23</sup>And Joash king of Israel captured Amaziah king of Judah, the son of Joash, son of Ahaziah, at Beth-shemesh, and brought him to Jerusalem and broke down the wall of Jerusalem for 400 cubits, [3] from the Ephraim Gate to the Corner Gate. <sup>24</sup>And he seized all the gold and silver, and all the vessels that were found in the house of God, in the care of Obed-edom. He seized also the treasuries of the king's house, also hostages, and he returned to Samaria.

<sup>25</sup>Amaziah the son of Joash, king of Judah, lived fifteen years after the death of Joash the son of Jehoahaz, king of Israel. <sup>26</sup>Now the rest of the deeds of Amaziah, from first to last, are they not written in the Book of the Kings of Judah and Israel? <sup>27</sup>From the time when he turned away from the LORD they made a conspiracy against him in Jerusalem, and he fled to Lachish. But they sent after him to Lachish and put him to death there. <sup>28</sup>And they brought him upon horses, and he was buried with his fathers in the city of David. [4]

Uzziah Reigns in Judah

2 Chronicles 26 ¶¶ And all the people of Judah took Uzziah, who was sixteen years old, and made him king instead of his father Amaziah. <sup>2</sup>He built Eloth and restored it to Judah, after the king slept with his fathers. <sup>3</sup>Uzziah was sixteen years old when he began to reign, and he reigned fifty-two years in Jerusalem. His mother's name was Jecoliah of Jerusalem. <sup>4</sup>And he did what was right in the eyes of the LORD, according to all that his father Amaziah had done. <sup>5</sup>†He set himself to seek God in the days of Zechariah, who instructed him in the fear of God, and as long as he sought the LORD, God made him prosper.

<sup>6</sup>¶¶¶ He went out and made war against the Philistines and broke through the wall of Gath and the wall of Jabneh and the wall of Ashdod, and he built cities in the territory of Ashdod and elsewhere among the Philistines. <sup>7</sup>†God helped him against the Philistines and against the Arabians who lived in Gurbaal and against the Meunites. <sup>8</sup>†The Ammonites paid tribute to Uzziah, and his fame spread even to the border of Egypt, for he became very strong. <sup>9</sup>†Moreover, Uzziah built towers in Jerusalem at the Corner Gate and at the Valley Gate and at the Angle, and fortified them. <sup>10</sup>And he built towers in the wilderness and cut out many cisterns, for he had large herds, both in the Shephelah and in the plain, and he had farmers and vinedressers in the hills and in the fertile lands, for he loved the soil. <sup>11</sup>¶Moreover, Uzziah had an army of soldiers, fit for war, in divisions according to the numbers in the muster made by Jeiel the secretary and Maaseiah the officer, under the direction of Hananiah, one of the king's commanders. <sup>12</sup>The whole number of the heads of fathers' houses of mighty men of valor was 2,600. <sup>13</sup>Under their command was an army of 307,500, who could make war with mighty power, to help the king against the enemy. <sup>14</sup>And Uzziah prepared for all the army shields, spears, helmets, coats of mail, bows, and stones for slinging. <sup>15</sup>In Jerusalem he made engines, invented by skillful men, to be on the towers and the corners, to shoot arrows and great stones. And his fame spread far, for he was marvelously helped, till he was strong.

Uzziah's Pride and Punishment

<sup>16</sup>¶ But when he was strong, he grew proud, to his destruction. For he was unfaithful to the LORD his God and entered the temple of the LORD to burn incense on the altar of incense. <sup>17</sup>But Azariah the priest went in after him, with eighty priests of the LORD who were men of valor, <sup>18</sup>and they withstood King Uzziah and said to him, “It is not for you, Uzziah, to burn incense to the LORD, but for the priests, the sons of Aaron, who are consecrated to burn incense. Go out of the sanctuary, for you have done wrong, and it will bring you no honor from the LORD God.” <sup>19</sup>‡ Then Uzziah was angry. Now he had a censer in his hand to burn incense, and when he became angry with the priests, leprosy [1] broke out on his forehead in the presence of the priests in the house of the LORD, by the altar of incense. <sup>20</sup>‡ And Azariah the chief priest and all the priests looked at him, and behold, he was leprous in his forehead! And they rushed him out quickly, and he himself hurried to go out, because the LORD had struck him. <sup>21</sup>‡ And King Uzziah was a leper to the day of his death, and being a leper lived in a separate house, for he was excluded from the house of the LORD. And Jotham his son was over the king's household, governing the people of the land.

Jotham Reigns in Judah

2 Chronicles 27 ‡‡ Jotham was twenty-five years old when he began to reign, and he reigned sixteen years in Jerusalem. His mother's name was Jerushah the daughter of Zadok. <sup>2</sup>And he did what was right in the eyes of the LORD according to all that his father Uzziah had done, except he did not enter the temple of the LORD. But the people still followed corrupt practices. <sup>3</sup>† He built the upper gate of the house of the LORD and did much building on the wall of Ophel. <sup>4</sup>Moreover, he built cities in the hill country of Judah, and forts and towers on the wooded hills. <sup>5</sup>† He fought with the king of the Ammonites and prevailed against them. And the Ammonites gave him that year 100 talents [\[1\]](#) of silver, and 10,000 cors [\[2\]](#) of wheat and 10,000 of barley. The Ammonites paid him the same amount in the second and the third years. <sup>6</sup>† So Jotham became mighty, because he ordered his ways before the LORD his God. <sup>7</sup>Now the rest of the acts of Jotham, and all his wars and his ways, behold, they are written in the Book of the Kings of Israel and Judah. <sup>8</sup>He was twenty-five years old when he began to reign, and he reigned sixteen years in Jerusalem. <sup>9</sup>And Jotham slept with his fathers, and they buried him in the city of David, and Ahaz his son reigned in his place.

Ahaz Reigns in Judah

2 Chronicles 28 <sup>1</sup> Ahaz was twenty years old when he began to reign, and he reigned sixteen years in Jerusalem. And he did not do what was right in the eyes of the LORD, as his father David had done, <sup>2</sup> but he walked in the ways of the kings of Israel. He even made metal images for the Baals, <sup>3</sup> and he made offerings in the Valley of the Son of Hinnom and burned his sons as an offering, [\[1\]](#) according to the abominations of the nations whom the LORD drove out before the people of Israel. <sup>4</sup> And he sacrificed and made offerings on the high places and on the hills and under every green tree.

Judah Defeated

<sup>5</sup> Therefore the LORD his God gave him into the hand of the king of Syria, who defeated him and took captive a great number of his people and brought them to Damascus. He was also given into the hand of the king of Israel, who struck him with great force. <sup>6</sup> For Pekah the son of Remaliah killed 120,000 from Judah in one day, all of them men of valor, because they had forsaken the LORD, the God of their fathers. <sup>7</sup> And Zichri, a mighty man of Ephraim, killed Maaseiah the king's son and Azrikam the commander of the palace and Elkanah the next in authority to the king.

<sup>8</sup> The men of Israel took captive 200,000 of their relatives, women, sons, and daughters. They also took much spoil from them and brought the spoil to Samaria. <sup>9</sup> But a prophet of the LORD was there, whose name was Oded, and he went out to meet the army that came to Samaria and said to them, "Behold, because the LORD, the God of your fathers, was angry with Judah, he gave them into your hand, but you have killed them in a rage that has reached up to heaven. <sup>10</sup> And now you intend to subjugate the people of Judah and Jerusalem, male and female, as your slaves. Have you not sins of your own against the LORD your God? <sup>11</sup> Now hear me, and send back the captives from your relatives whom you have taken, for the fierce wrath of the LORD is upon you."

<sup>12</sup> Certain chiefs also of the men of Ephraim, Azariah the son of Johanan, Berechiah the son of Meshillemoth, Jehizkiah the son of Shallum, and Amasa the son of Hadlai, stood up against those who were coming from the war <sup>13</sup> and said to them, "You shall not bring the captives in here, for you propose to bring upon us guilt against the LORD in addition to our present sins and guilt. For our guilt is already great, and there is fierce wrath against Israel.”<sup>14</sup> So the armed men left the captives and the spoil before the princes and all the assembly.<sup>15</sup> And the men who have been mentioned by name rose and took the captives, and with the spoil they clothed all who were naked among them. They clothed them, gave them sandals, provided them with food and drink, and anointed them, and carrying all the feeble among them on donkeys, they brought them to their kinsfolk at Jericho, the city of palm trees. Then they returned to Samaria.

<sup>16</sup>† At that time King Ahaz sent to the king [2] of Assyria for help. <sup>17</sup> For the Edomites had again invaded and defeated Judah and carried away captives. <sup>18</sup>† And the Philistines had made raids on the cities in the Shephelah and the Negeb of Judah, and had taken Beth-shemesh, Aijalon, Gederoth, Soco with its villages, Timnah with its villages, and Gimzo with its villages. And they settled there. <sup>19</sup> For the LORD humbled Judah because of Ahaz king of Israel, for he had made Judah act sinfully [3] and had been very unfaithful to the LORD. <sup>20</sup>† So Tiglath-pileser [4] king of Assyria came against him and afflicted him instead of strengthening him. <sup>21</sup> For Ahaz took a portion from the house of the LORD and the house of the king and of the princes, and gave tribute to the king of Assyria, but it did not help him.

Ahaz's Idolatry

<sup>22</sup>† In the time of his distress he became yet more faithless to the LORD—this same King Ahaz. <sup>23</sup> For he sacrificed to the gods of Damascus that had defeated him and said, “Because the gods of the kings of Syria helped them, I will sacrifice to them that they may help me.” But they were the ruin of him and of all Israel. <sup>24</sup> And Ahaz gathered together the vessels of the house of God and cut in pieces the vessels of the house of God, and he shut up the doors of the house of the LORD, and he made himself altars in every corner of Jerusalem. <sup>25</sup> In every city of Judah he made high places to make offerings to other gods, provoking to anger the LORD, the God of his fathers. <sup>26</sup> Now the rest of his acts and all his ways, from first to last, behold, they are written in the Book of the Kings of Judah and Israel. <sup>27</sup> And Ahaz slept with his fathers, and they buried him in the city, in Jerusalem, for they did not bring him into the tombs of the kings of Israel. And Hezekiah his son reigned in his place.

Hezekiah Reigns in Judah

2 Chronicles 29 ‡‡Hezekiah began to reign when he was twenty-five years old, and he reigned twenty-nine years in Jerusalem. His mother's name was Abijah [1] the daughter of Zechariah. <sup>2</sup>And he did what was right in the eyes of the LORD, according to all that David his father had done.

Hezekiah Cleanses the Temple

<sup>3</sup>‡In the first year of his reign, in the first month, he opened the doors of the house of the LORD and repaired them. <sup>4</sup>He brought in the priests and the Levites and assembled them in the square on the east <sup>5</sup>and said to them, “Hear me, Levites! Now consecrate yourselves, and consecrate the house of the LORD, the God of your fathers, and carry out the filth from the Holy Place. <sup>6</sup>For our fathers have been unfaithful and have done what was evil in the sight of the LORD our God. They have forsaken him and have turned away their faces from the habitation of the LORD and turned their backs. <sup>7</sup>They also shut the doors of the vestibule and put out the lamps and have not burned incense or offered burnt offerings in the Holy Place to the God of Israel. <sup>8</sup>Therefore the wrath of the LORD came on Judah and Jerusalem, and he has made them an object of horror, of astonishment, and of hissing, as you see with your own eyes. <sup>9</sup>For behold, our fathers have fallen by the sword, and our sons and our daughters and our wives are in captivity for this. <sup>10</sup>Now it is in my heart to make a covenant with the LORD, the God of Israel, in order that his fierce anger may turn away from us. <sup>11</sup>My sons, do not now be negligent, for the LORD has chosen you to stand in his presence, to minister to him and to be his ministers and make offerings to him.”

<sup>12</sup>‡‡Then the Levites arose, Mahath the son of Amasai, and Joel the son of Azariah, of the sons of the Kohathites; and of the sons of Merari, Kish the son of Abdi, and Azariah the son of Jehallelel; and of the Gershonites, Joah the son of Zimmah, and Eden the son of Joah; <sup>13</sup>‡and of the sons of Elizaphan, Shimri and Jeuel; and of the sons of Asaph, Zechariah and Mattaniah; <sup>14</sup>and of the sons of Heman, Jehuel and Shimei; and of the sons of Jeduthun, Shemaiah and Uzziel. <sup>15</sup>‡They gathered their brothers and consecrated themselves and went in as the king had commanded, by the words of the LORD, to cleanse the house of the LORD. <sup>16</sup>‡The priests went into the inner part of the house of the LORD to cleanse it, and they brought out all the uncleanness that they found in the temple of the LORD into the court of the house of the LORD. And the Levites took it and carried it out to the brook Kidron. <sup>17</sup>They began to consecrate on the first day of the first month, and on the eighth day of the month they came to the vestibule of the LORD. Then for eight days they consecrated the house of the LORD, and on the sixteenth day of the first month they finished. <sup>18</sup>Then they went in to Hezekiah the king and said, “We have cleansed all the house of the LORD, the altar of burnt offering and all its utensils, and the table for the showbread and all its utensils. <sup>19</sup>All the utensils that King Ahaz discarded in his reign when he was faithless, we have made ready and consecrated, and behold, they are before the altar of the LORD.”

Hezekiah Restores Temple Worship

<sup>20</sup>‡Then Hezekiah the king rose early and gathered the officials of the city and went up to the house of the LORD. <sup>21</sup>And they brought seven bulls, seven rams, seven lambs, and seven male goats for a sin offering for the kingdom and for the sanctuary and for Judah. And he commanded the priests, the sons of Aaron, to offer them on the altar of the LORD. <sup>22</sup>So they slaughtered the bulls, and the priests received the blood and threw it against the altar. And they slaughtered the rams, and their blood was thrown against the altar. And they slaughtered the lambs, and their blood was thrown against the altar. <sup>23</sup>Then the goats for the sin offering were brought to the king and the assembly, and they laid their hands on them, <sup>24</sup>and the priests slaughtered them and made a sin offering with their blood on the altar, to make atonement for all Israel. For the king commanded that the burnt offering and the sin offering should be made for all Israel.

<sup>25</sup>And he stationed the Levites in the house of the LORD with cymbals, harps, and lyres, according to the commandment of David and of Gad the king's seer and of Nathan the prophet, for the commandment was from the LORD through his prophets. <sup>26</sup>‡The Levites stood with the instruments of David, and the priests with the trumpets. <sup>27</sup>Then Hezekiah commanded that the burnt offering be offered on the altar. And when the burnt offering began, the song to the LORD began also, and the trumpets, accompanied by the instruments of David king of Israel. <sup>28</sup>The whole assembly worshiped, and the singers sang, and the trumpeters sounded. All this continued until the burnt offering was finished. <sup>29</sup>When the offering was finished, the king and all who were present with him bowed themselves and worshiped. <sup>30</sup>And Hezekiah the king and the officials commanded the Levites to sing praises to the LORD with the words of David and of Asaph the seer. And they sang praises with gladness, and they bowed down and worshiped.

<sup>31</sup>Then Hezekiah said, “You have now consecrated yourselves to [2] the LORD. Come near; bring sacrifices and thank offerings to the house of the LORD.” And the assembly brought sacrifices and thank offerings, and all who were of a willing heart brought burnt offerings. <sup>32</sup>The number of the burnt offerings that the assembly brought was 70 bulls, 100 rams, and 200 lambs; all these were for a burnt offering to the LORD. <sup>33</sup>And the consecrated offerings were 600 bulls and 3,000 sheep. <sup>34</sup>†But the priests were too few and could not flay all the burnt offerings, so until other priests had consecrated themselves, their brothers the Levites helped them, until the work was finished—for the Levites were more upright in heart than the priests in consecrating themselves. <sup>35</sup>Besides the great number of burnt offerings, there was the fat of the peace offerings, and there were the drink offerings for the burnt offerings. Thus the service of the house of the LORD was restored. <sup>36</sup>And Hezekiah and all the people rejoiced because God had prepared for the people, for the thing came about suddenly.

Passover Celebrated

2 Chronicles 30 †† Hezekiah sent to all Israel and Judah, and wrote letters also to Ephraim and Manasseh, that they should come to the house of the LORD at Jerusalem to keep the Passover to the LORD, the God of Israel. † For the king and his princes and all the assembly in Jerusalem had taken counsel to keep the Passover in the second month— † for they could not keep it at that time because the priests had not consecrated themselves in sufficient number, nor had the people assembled in Jerusalem— † and the plan seemed right to the king and all the assembly. † So they decreed to make a proclamation throughout all Israel, from Beersheba to Dan, that the people should come and keep the Passover to the LORD, the God of Israel, at Jerusalem, for they had not kept it as often as prescribed. † So couriers went throughout all Israel and Judah with letters from the king and his princes, as the king had commanded, saying, “O people of Israel, return to the LORD, the God of Abraham, Isaac, and Israel, that he may turn again to the remnant of you who have escaped from the hand of the kings of Assyria. † Do not be like your fathers and your brothers, who were faithless to the LORD God of their fathers, so that he made them a desolation, as you see. † Do not now be stiff-necked as your fathers were, but yield yourselves to the LORD and come to his sanctuary, which he has consecrated forever, and serve the LORD your God, that his fierce anger may turn away from you. † For if you return to the LORD, your brothers and your children will find compassion with their captors and return to this land. For the LORD your God is gracious and merciful and will not turn away his face from you, if you return to him.”

† So the couriers went from city to city through the country of Ephraim and Manasseh, and as far as Zebulun, but they laughed them to scorn and mocked them. † However, some men of Asher, of Manasseh, and of Zebulun humbled themselves and came to Jerusalem. † The hand of God was also on Judah to give them one heart to do what the king and the princes commanded by the word of the LORD.

† And many people came together in Jerusalem to keep the Feast of Unleavened Bread in the second month, a very great assembly. † They set to work and removed the altars that were in Jerusalem, and all the altars for burning incense they took away and threw into the Kidron Valley. † And they slaughtered the Passover lamb on the fourteenth day of the second month. And the priests and the Levites were ashamed, so that they consecrated themselves and brought burnt offerings into the house of the LORD. <sup>16</sup>They took their accustomed posts according to the Law of Moses the man of God. The priests threw the blood that they received from the hand of the Levites. <sup>17</sup>For there were many in the assembly who had not consecrated themselves. Therefore the Levites had to slaughter the Passover lamb for everyone who was not clean, to consecrate it to the LORD. <sup>18</sup>†For a majority of the people, many of them from Ephraim, Manasseh, Issachar, and Zebulun, had not cleansed themselves, yet they ate the Passover otherwise than as prescribed. For Hezekiah had prayed for them, saying, “May the good LORD pardon everyone <sup>19</sup>who sets his heart to seek God, the LORD, the God of his fathers, even though not according to the sanctuary's rules of cleanness.” [1] <sup>20</sup>And the LORD heard Hezekiah and healed the people. <sup>21</sup>And the people of Israel who were present at Jerusalem kept the Feast of Unleavened Bread seven days with great gladness, and the Levites and the priests praised the LORD day by day, singing with all their might [2] to the LORD. <sup>22</sup>And Hezekiah spoke encouragingly to all the Levites who showed good skill in the service of the LORD. So they ate the food of the festival for seven days, sacrificing peace offerings and giving thanks to the LORD, the God of their fathers.

<sup>23</sup>†Then the whole assembly agreed together to keep the feast for another seven days. So they kept it for another seven days with gladness. <sup>24</sup>For Hezekiah king of Judah gave the assembly 1,000 bulls and 7,000 sheep for offerings, and the princes gave the assembly 1,000 bulls and 10,000 sheep. And the priests consecrated themselves in great numbers. <sup>25</sup>The whole assembly of Judah, and the priests and the Levites, and the whole assembly that came out of Israel, and the sojourners who came out of the land of Israel, and the sojourners who lived in Judah, rejoiced. <sup>26</sup>†So there was great joy in Jerusalem, for since the time of Solomon the son of David king of Israel there had been nothing like this in Jerusalem. <sup>27</sup>Then the priests and the Levites arose and blessed the people, and their voice was heard, and their prayer came to his holy habitation in heaven.

Hezekiah Organizes the Priests

2 Chronicles 31 † Now when all this was finished, all Israel who were present went out to the cities of Judah and broke in pieces the pillars and cut down the Asherim and broke down the high places and the altars throughout all Judah and Benjamin, and in Ephraim and Manasseh, until they had destroyed them all. Then all the people of Israel returned to their cities, every man to his possession.

<sup>2</sup>† And Hezekiah appointed the divisions of the priests and of the Levites, division by division, each according to his service, the priests and the Levites, for burnt offerings and peace offerings, to minister in the gates of the camp of the LORD and to give thanks and praise. <sup>3</sup>The contribution of the king from his own possessions was for the burnt offerings: the burnt offerings of morning and evening, and the burnt offerings for the Sabbaths, the new moons, and the appointed feasts, as it is written in the Law of the LORD. <sup>4</sup>And he commanded the people who lived in Jerusalem to give the portion due to the priests and the Levites, that they might give themselves to the Law of the LORD. <sup>5</sup>As soon as the command was spread abroad, the people of Israel gave in abundance the firstfruits of grain, wine, oil, honey, and of all the produce of the field. And they brought in abundantly the tithes of everything. <sup>6</sup>† And the people of Israel and Judah who lived in the cities of Judah also brought in the tithes of cattle and sheep, and the tithes of the dedicated things that had been dedicated to the LORD their God, and laid them in heaps. <sup>7</sup>† In the third month they began to pile up the heaps, and finished them in the seventh month. <sup>8</sup>When Hezekiah and the princes came and saw the heaps, they blessed the LORD and his people Israel. <sup>9</sup>And Hezekiah questioned the priests and the Levites about the heaps. <sup>10</sup>Azariah the chief priest, who was of the house of Zadok, answered him, “Since they began to bring the contributions into the house of the LORD, we have eaten and had enough and have plenty left, for the LORD has blessed his people, so that we have this large amount left.”

<sup>11</sup>† Then Hezekiah commanded them to prepare chambers in the house of the LORD, and they prepared them. <sup>12</sup>And they faithfully brought in the contributions, the tithes, and the dedicated things. The chief officer in charge of them was Conaniah the Levite, with Shimei his brother as second, <sup>13</sup>while Jehiel, Azariah, Nahath, Asahel, Jerimoth, Jozabad, Eliel, Ismachiah, Mahath, and Benaiah were overseers assisting Conaniah and Shimei his brother, by the appointment of Hezekiah the king and Azariah the chief officer of the house of God. <sup>14</sup>And Kore

the son of Imnah the Levite, keeper of the east gate, was over the freewill offerings to God, to apportion the contribution reserved for the LORD and the most holy offerings. <sup>15</sup>Eden, Miniamin, Jeshua, Shemaiah, Amariah, and Shecaniah were faithfully assisting him in the cities of the priests, to distribute the portions to their brothers, old and young alike, by divisions, <sup>16</sup>except those enrolled by genealogy, males from three years old and upward—all who entered the house of the LORD as the duty of each day required—for their service according to their offices, by their divisions. <sup>17</sup>†The enrollment of the priests was according to their fathers' houses; that of the Levites from twenty years old and upward was according to their offices, by their divisions. <sup>18</sup>They were enrolled with all their little children, their wives, their sons, and their daughters, the whole assembly, for they were faithful in keeping themselves holy. <sup>19</sup>†And for the sons of Aaron, the priests, who were in the fields of common land belonging to their cities, there were men in the several cities who were designated by name to distribute portions to every male among the priests and to everyone among the Levites who was enrolled.

<sup>20</sup>†Thus Hezekiah did throughout all Judah, and he did what was good and right and faithful before the LORD his God. <sup>21</sup>And every work that he undertook in the service of the house of God and in accordance with the law and the commandments, seeking his God, he did with all his heart, and prospered.

Sennacherib Invades Judah

2 Chronicles 32 ‡ After these things and these acts of faithfulness, Sennacherib king of Assyria came and invaded Judah and encamped against the fortified cities, thinking to win them for himself. <sup>2</sup>And when Hezekiah saw that Sennacherib had come and intended to fight against Jerusalem, <sup>3</sup>he planned with his officers and his mighty men to stop the water of the springs that were outside the city; and they helped him. <sup>4</sup>A great many people were gathered, and they stopped all the springs and the brook that flowed through the land, saying, “Why should the kings of Assyria come and find much water?” <sup>5</sup>He set to work resolutely and built up all the wall that was broken down and raised towers upon it, [\[1\]](#) and outside it he built another wall, and he strengthened the Millo in the city of David. He also made weapons and shields in abundance. <sup>6</sup>And he set combat commanders over the people and gathered them together to him in the square at the gate of the city and spoke encouragingly to them, saying, <sup>7</sup>“Be strong and courageous. Do not be afraid or dismayed before the king of Assyria and all the horde that is with him, for there are more with us than with him. <sup>8</sup>With him is an arm of flesh, but with us is the LORD our God, to help us and to fight our battles.” And the people took confidence from the words of Hezekiah king of Judah.

Sennacherib Blasphemes

<sup>9</sup>After this, Sennacherib king of Assyria, who was besieging Lachish with all his forces, sent his servants to Jerusalem to Hezekiah king of Judah and to all the people of Judah who were in Jerusalem, saying, <sup>10</sup>“Thus says Sennacherib king of Assyria, ‘On what are you trusting, that you endure the siege in Jerusalem? <sup>11</sup>Is not Hezekiah misleading you, that he may give you over to die by famine and by thirst, when he tells you, “The LORD our God will deliver us from the hand of the king of Assyria”? <sup>12</sup>Has not this same Hezekiah taken away his high places and his altars and commanded Judah and Jerusalem, “Before one altar you shall worship, and on it you shall burn your sacrifices”? <sup>13</sup>Do you not know what I and my fathers have done to all the peoples of other lands? Were the gods of the nations of those lands at all able to deliver their lands out of my hand? <sup>14</sup>Who among all the gods of those nations that my fathers devoted to destruction was able to deliver his people from my hand, that your God should be able to deliver you from my hand? <sup>15</sup>Now, therefore, do not let Hezekiah deceive you or mislead you in this fashion, and do not believe him, for no god of any nation or kingdom has been able to deliver his people from my hand or from the hand of my fathers. How much less will your God deliver you out of my hand!”

<sup>16</sup>And his servants said still more against the LORD God and against his servant Hezekiah. <sup>17</sup>And he wrote letters to cast contempt on the LORD, the God of Israel, and to speak against him, saying, “Like the gods of the nations of the lands who have not delivered their people from my hands, so the God of Hezekiah will not deliver his people from my hand.” <sup>18</sup>And they shouted it with a loud voice in the language of Judah to the people of Jerusalem who were on the wall, to frighten and terrify them, in order that they might take the city. <sup>19</sup>And they spoke of the God of Jerusalem as they spoke of the gods of the peoples of the earth, which are the work of men's hands.

The LORD Delivers Jerusalem

<sup>20</sup>Then Hezekiah the king and Isaiah the prophet, the son of Amoz, prayed because of this and cried to heaven. <sup>21</sup>And the LORD sent an angel, who cut off all the mighty warriors and commanders and officers in the camp of the king of Assyria. So he returned with shame of face to his own land. And when he came into the house of his god, some of his own sons struck him down there with the sword. <sup>22</sup>So the LORD saved Hezekiah and the inhabitants of Jerusalem from the hand of Sennacherib king of Assyria and from the hand of all his enemies, and he provided for them on every side. <sup>23</sup>And many brought gifts to the LORD to Jerusalem and precious things to Hezekiah king of Judah, so that he was exalted in the sight of all nations from that time onward.

Hezekiah's Pride and Achievements

<sup>24</sup>‡In those days Hezekiah became sick and was at the point of death, and he prayed to the LORD, and he answered him and gave him a sign. <sup>25</sup>But Hezekiah did not make return according to the benefit done to him, for his heart was proud. Therefore wrath came upon him and Judah and Jerusalem. <sup>26</sup>But Hezekiah humbled himself for the pride of his heart, both he and the inhabitants of Jerusalem, so that the wrath of the LORD did not come upon them in the days of Hezekiah.

<sup>27</sup>‡And Hezekiah had very great riches and honor, and he made for himself treasuries for silver, for gold, for precious stones, for spices, for shields, and for all kinds of costly vessels; <sup>28</sup>storehouses also for the yield of grain, wine, and oil; and stalls for all kinds of cattle, and sheepfolds. <sup>29</sup>He likewise provided cities for himself, and flocks and herds in abundance, for God had given him very great possessions. <sup>30</sup>† This same Hezekiah closed the upper outlet of the waters of Gihon and directed them down to the west side of the city of David. And Hezekiah prospered in all his works. <sup>31</sup>† And so in the matter of the envoys of the princes of Babylon, who had been sent to him to inquire about the sign that had been done in the land, God left him to himself, in order to test him and to know all that was in his heart.

Manasseh Reigns in Judah

2 Chronicles 33 ‡‡Manasseh was twelve years old when he began to reign, and he reigned fifty-five years in Jerusalem. <sup>2</sup>And he did what was evil in the sight of the LORD, according to the abominations of the nations whom the LORD drove out before the people of Israel. <sup>3</sup>For he rebuilt the high places that his father Hezekiah had broken down, and he erected altars to the Baals, and made Asherahs, and worshiped all the host of heaven and served them. <sup>4</sup>And he built altars in the house of the LORD, of which the LORD had said, “In Jerusalem shall my name be forever.” <sup>5</sup>And he built altars for all the host of heaven in the two courts of the house of the LORD. <sup>6</sup>‡And he burned his sons as an offering in the Valley of the Son of Hinnom, and used fortune-telling and omens and sorcery, and dealt with mediums and with necromancers. He did much evil in the sight of the LORD, provoking him to anger. <sup>7</sup>And the carved image of the idol that he had made he set in the house of God, of which God said to David and to Solomon his son, “In this house, and in Jerusalem, which I have chosen out of all the tribes of Israel, I will put my name forever, <sup>8</sup>and I will no more remove the foot of Israel from the land that I appointed for your fathers, if only they will be careful to do all that I have commanded them, all the law, the statutes, and the rules given through Moses.” <sup>9</sup>Manasseh led Judah and the inhabitants of Jerusalem astray, to do more evil than the nations whom the LORD destroyed before the people of Israel.

Manasseh's Repentance

<sup>10</sup>The LORD spoke to Manasseh and to his people, but they paid no attention. <sup>11</sup>‡‡Therefore the LORD brought upon them the commanders of the army of the king of Assyria, who captured Manasseh with hooks and bound him with chains of bronze and brought him to Babylon. <sup>12</sup>‡And when he was in distress, he entreated the favor of the LORD his God and humbled himself greatly before the God of his fathers. <sup>13</sup>He prayed to him, and God was moved by his entreaty and heard his plea and brought him again to Jerusalem into his kingdom. Then Manasseh knew that the LORD was God.

<sup>14</sup>‡Afterward he built an outer wall for the city of David west of Gihon, in the valley, and for the entrance into the Fish Gate, and carried it around Ophel, and raised it to a very great height. He also put commanders of the army in all the fortified cities in Judah. <sup>15</sup>And he took away the foreign gods and the idol from the house of the LORD, and all the altars that he had built on the mountain of the house of the LORD and in Jerusalem, and he threw them outside of the city. <sup>16</sup>He also restored the altar of the LORD and offered on it sacrifices of peace offerings and of thanksgiving, and he commanded Judah to serve the LORD, the God of Israel. <sup>17</sup>Nevertheless, the people still sacrificed at the high places, but only to the LORD their God.

<sup>18</sup>‡Now the rest of the acts of Manasseh, and his prayer to his God, and the words of the seers who spoke to him in the name of the LORD, the God of Israel, behold, they are in the Chronicles of the Kings of Israel. <sup>19</sup>And his prayer, and how God was moved by his entreaty, and all his sin and his faithlessness, and the sites on which he built high places and set up the Asherim and the images, before he humbled himself, behold, they are written in the Chronicles of the Seers. [1] <sup>20</sup>So Manasseh slept with his fathers, and they buried him in his house, and Amon his son reigned in his place.

Amon's Reign and Death

<sup>21</sup>‡Amon was twenty-two years old when he began to reign, and he reigned two years in Jerusalem. <sup>22</sup>And he did what was evil in the sight of the LORD, as Manasseh his father had done. Amon sacrificed to all the images that Manasseh his father had made, and served them. <sup>23</sup>And he did not humble himself before the LORD, as Manasseh his father had humbled himself, but this Amon incurred guilt more and more. <sup>24</sup>And his servants conspired against him and put him to death in his house. <sup>25</sup>But the people of the land struck down all those who had conspired against King Amon. And the people of the land made Josiah his son king in his place.

Josiah Reigns in Judah

2 Chronicles 34 <sup>1</sup>Josiah was eight years old when he began to reign, and he reigned thirty-one years in Jerusalem. <sup>2</sup>And he did what was right in the eyes of the LORD, and walked in the ways of David his father; and he did not turn aside to the right hand or to the left. <sup>3</sup>For in the eighth year of his reign, while he was yet a boy, he began to seek the God of David his father, and in the twelfth year he began to purge Judah and Jerusalem of the high places, the Asherim, and the carved and the metal images. <sup>4</sup>And they chopped down the altars of the Baals in his presence, and he cut down the incense altars that stood above them. And he broke in pieces the Asherim and the carved and the metal images, and he made dust of them and scattered it over the graves of those who had sacrificed to them. <sup>5</sup>He also burned the bones of the priests on their altars and cleansed Judah and Jerusalem. <sup>6</sup>And in the cities of Manasseh, Ephraim, and Simeon, and as far as Naphtali, in their ruins [\[1\]](#) all around, <sup>7</sup>he broke down the altars and beat the Asherim and the images into powder and cut down all the incense altars throughout all the land of Israel. Then he returned to Jerusalem.

The Book of the Law Found

<sup>8</sup>Now in the eighteenth year of his reign, when he had cleansed the land and the house, he sent Shaphan the son of Azaliah, and Maaseiah the governor of the city, and Joah the son of Joahaz, the recorder, to repair the house of the LORD his God. <sup>9</sup>They came to Hilkiah the high priest and gave him the money that had been brought into the house of God, which the Levites, the keepers of the threshold, had collected from Manasseh and Ephraim and from all the remnant of Israel and from all Judah and Benjamin and from the inhabitants of Jerusalem. <sup>10</sup>And they gave it to the workmen who were working in the house of the LORD. And the workmen who were working in the house of the LORD gave it for repairing and restoring the house. <sup>11</sup>They gave it to the carpenters and the builders to buy quarried stone, and timber for binders and beams for the buildings that the kings of Judah had let go to ruin. <sup>12</sup>And the men did the work faithfully. Over them were set Jahath and Obadiah the Levites, of the sons of Merari, and Zechariah and Meshullam, of the sons of the Kohathites, to have oversight. The Levites, all who were skillful with instruments of music, <sup>13</sup>were over the burden-bearers and directed all who did work in every kind of service, and some of the Levites were scribes and officials and gatekeepers.

<sup>14</sup>While they were bringing out the money that had been brought into the house of the LORD, Hilkiyah the priest found the Book of the Law of the LORD given through Moses. <sup>15</sup>Then Hilkiyah answered and said to Shaphan the secretary, “I have found the Book of the Law in the house of the LORD.” And Hilkiyah gave the book to Shaphan. <sup>16</sup>Shaphan brought the book to the king, and further reported to the king, “All that was committed to your servants they are doing. <sup>17</sup>They have emptied out the money that was found in the house of the LORD and have given it into the hand of the overseers and the workmen.” <sup>18</sup>Then Shaphan the secretary told the king, “Hilkiyah the priest has given me a book.” And Shaphan read from it before the king.

Huldah Prophecies Disaster

<sup>22</sup>So Hilkiyah and those whom the king had sent [\[2\]](#) went to Huldah the prophetess, the wife of Shallum the son of Tokhath, son of Hasrah, keeper of the wardrobe (now she lived in Jerusalem in the Second Quarter) and spoke to her to that effect. <sup>23</sup>And she said to them, “Thus says the LORD, the God of Israel: ‘Tell the man who sent you to me, <sup>24</sup>Thus says the LORD, Behold, I will bring disaster upon this place and upon its inhabitants, all the curses that are written in the book that was read before the king of Judah. <sup>25</sup>Because they have forsaken me and have made offerings to other gods, that they might provoke me to anger with all the works of their hands, therefore my wrath will be poured out on this place and will not be quenched. <sup>26</sup>But to the king of Judah, who sent you to inquire of the LORD, thus shall you say to him, Thus says the LORD, the God of Israel: Regarding the words that you have heard, <sup>27</sup>because your heart was tender and you humbled yourself before God when you heard his words against this place and its inhabitants, and you have humbled yourself before me and have torn your clothes and wept before me, I also have heard you, declares the LORD. <sup>28</sup>Behold, I will gather you to your fathers, and you shall be gathered to your grave in peace, and your eyes shall not see all the disaster that I will bring upon this place and its inhabitants.’” And they brought back word to the king.

<sup>29</sup>Then the king sent and gathered together all the elders of Judah and Jerusalem.
<sup>30</sup>And the king went up to the house of the LORD, with all the men of Judah and the inhabitants of Jerusalem and the priests and the Levites, all the people both great and small. And he read in their hearing all the words of the Book of the Covenant that had been found in the house of the LORD. <sup>31</sup>And the king stood in his place and made a covenant before the LORD, to walk after the LORD and to keep his commandments and his testimonies and his statutes, with all his heart and all his soul, to perform the words of the covenant that were written in this book. <sup>32</sup>Then he made all who were present in Jerusalem and in Benjamin join in it. And the inhabitants of Jerusalem did according to the covenant of God, the God of their fathers. <sup>33</sup>† And Josiah took away all the abominations from all the territory that belonged to the people of Israel and made all who were present in Israel serve the LORD their God. All his days they did not turn away from following the LORD, the God of their fathers.

Josiah Keeps the Passover

2 Chronicles 35 ¶¶ Josiah kept a Passover to the LORD in Jerusalem. And they slaughtered the Passover lamb on the fourteenth day of the first month. <sup>2</sup>He appointed the priests to their offices and encouraged them in the service of the house of the LORD. <sup>3</sup>† And he said to the Levites who taught all Israel and who were holy to the LORD, “Put the holy ark in the house that Solomon the son of David, king of Israel, built. You need not carry it on your shoulders. Now serve the LORD your God and his people Israel. <sup>4</sup>Prepare yourselves according to your fathers' houses by your divisions, as prescribed in the writing of David king of Israel and the document of Solomon his son. <sup>5</sup>And stand in the Holy Place according to the groupings of the fathers' houses of your brothers the lay people, and according to the division of the Levites by fathers' household. <sup>6</sup>† And slaughter the Passover lamb, and consecrate yourselves, and prepare for your brothers, to do according to the word of the LORD by Moses.”

<sup>7</sup>Then Josiah contributed to the lay people, as Passover offerings for all who were present, lambs and young goats from the flock to the number of 30,000, and 3,000 bulls; these were from the king's possessions. <sup>8</sup>And his officials contributed willingly to the people, to the priests, and to the Levites. Hilkiah, Zechariah, and Jehiel, the chief officers of the house of God, gave to the priests for the Passover offerings 2,600 Passover lambs and 300 bulls. <sup>9</sup>Conaniah also, and Shemaiah and Nethanel his brothers, and Hashabiah and Jeiel and Jozabad, the chiefs of the Levites, gave to the Levites for the Passover offerings 5,000 lambs and young goats and 500 bulls.

<sup>10</sup>When the service had been prepared for, the priests stood in their place, and the Levites in their divisions according to the king's command. <sup>11</sup>And they slaughtered the Passover lamb, and the priests threw the blood that they received from them while the Levites flayed the sacrifices. <sup>12</sup>And they set aside the burnt offerings that they might distribute them according to the groupings of the fathers' houses of the lay people, to offer to the LORD, as it is written in the Book of Moses. And so they did with the bulls. <sup>13</sup>And they roasted the Passover lamb with fire according to the rule; and they boiled the holy offerings in pots, in cauldrons, and in pans, and carried them quickly to all the lay people. <sup>14</sup>And afterward they prepared for themselves and for the priests, because the priests, the sons of Aaron, were offering the burnt offerings and the fat parts until night; so the Levites prepared for themselves and for the priests, the sons of Aaron.

<sup>15</sup>The singers, the sons of Asaph, were in their place according to the command of David, and Asaph, and Heman, and Jeduthun the king's seer; and the gatekeepers were at each gate. They did not need to depart from their service, for their brothers the Levites prepared for them.

<sup>16</sup>So all the service of the LORD was prepared that day, to keep the Passover and to offer burnt offerings on the altar of the LORD, according to the command of King Josiah. <sup>17</sup>And the people of Israel who were present kept the Passover at that time, and the Feast of Unleavened Bread seven days. <sup>18</sup>†† No Passover like it had been kept in Israel since the days of Samuel the prophet. None of the kings of Israel had kept such a Passover as was kept by Josiah, and the priests and the Levites, and all Judah and Israel who were present, and the inhabitants of Jerusalem. <sup>19</sup>In the eighteenth year of the reign of Josiah this Passover was kept.

Josiah Killed in Battle

<sup>20</sup>† After all this, when Josiah had prepared the temple, Neco king of Egypt went up to fight at Carchemish on the Euphrates, and Josiah went out to meet him. <sup>21</sup>† But he sent envoys to him, saying, “What have we to do with each other, king of Judah? I am not coming against you this day, but against the house with which I am at war. And God has commanded me to hurry. Cease opposing God, who is with me, lest he destroy you.” <sup>22</sup>Nevertheless, Josiah did not turn away from him, but disguised himself in order to fight with him. He did not listen to the words of Neco from the mouth of God, but came to fight in the plain of Megiddo. <sup>23</sup>And the archers shot King Josiah. And the king said to his servants, “Take me away, for I am badly wounded.” <sup>24</sup>So his servants took him out of the chariot and carried him in his second chariot and brought him to Jerusalem. And he died and was buried in the tombs of his fathers. All Judah and Jerusalem mourned for Josiah. <sup>25</sup>† Jeremiah also uttered a lament for Josiah; and all the singing men and singing women have spoken of Josiah in their laments to this day. They made these a rule in Israel; behold, they are written in the Laments. <sup>26</sup>Now the rest of the acts of Josiah, and his good deeds according to what is written in the Law of the LORD, <sup>27</sup>and his acts, first and last, behold, they are written in the Book of the Kings of Israel and Judah.

Judah's Decline

2 Chronicles 36 ‡ The people of the land took Jehoahaz the son of Josiah and made him king in his father's place in Jerusalem. <sup>2</sup>Jehoahaz was twenty-three years old when he began to reign, and he reigned three months in Jerusalem. <sup>3</sup>Then the king of Egypt deposed him in Jerusalem and laid on the land a tribute of a hundred talents of silver and a talent [\[1\]](#) of gold. <sup>4</sup>And the king of Egypt made Eliakim his brother king over Judah and Jerusalem, and changed his name to Jehoiakim. But Neco took Jehoahaz his brother and carried him to Egypt.

<sup>5</sup>‡ Jehoiakim was twenty-five years old when he began to reign, and he reigned eleven years in Jerusalem. He did what was evil in the sight of the LORD his God. <sup>6</sup>Against him came up Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon and bound him in chains to take him to Babylon. <sup>7</sup>Nebuchadnezzar also carried part of the vessels of the house of the LORD to Babylon and put them in his palace in Babylon. <sup>8</sup>Now the rest of the acts of Jehoiakim, and the abominations that he did, and what was found against him, behold, they are written in the Book of the Kings of Israel and Judah. And Jehoiachin his son reigned in his place.

<sup>9</sup>‡‡ Jehoiachin was eighteen [\[2\]](#) years old when he became king, and he reigned three months and ten days in Jerusalem. He did what was evil in the sight of the LORD. <sup>10</sup>In the spring of the year King Nebuchadnezzar sent and brought him to Babylon, with the precious vessels of the house of the LORD, and made his brother Zedekiah king over Judah and Jerusalem.

<sup>11</sup>‡‡‡ Zedekiah was twenty-one years old when he began to reign, and he reigned eleven years in Jerusalem. <sup>12</sup>He did what was evil in the sight of the LORD his God. He did not humble himself before Jeremiah the prophet, who spoke from the mouth of the LORD. <sup>13</sup>He also rebelled against King Nebuchadnezzar, who had made him swear by God. He stiffened his neck and hardened his heart against turning to the LORD, the God of Israel. <sup>14</sup>All the officers of the priests and the people likewise were exceedingly unfaithful, following all the abominations of the nations. And they polluted the house of the LORD that he had made holy in Jerusalem.

<sup>15</sup>The LORD, the God of their fathers, sent persistently to them by his messengers, because he had compassion on his people and on his dwelling place. <sup>16</sup>But they kept mocking the messengers of God, despising his words and scoffing at his prophets, until the wrath of the LORD rose against his people, until there was no remedy.

Jerusalem Captured and Burned

<sup>17</sup>Therefore he brought up against them the king of the Chaldeans, who killed their young men with the sword in the house of their sanctuary and had no compassion on young man or virgin, old man or aged. He gave them all into his hand. <sup>18</sup>And all the vessels of the house of God, great and small, and the treasures of the house of the LORD, and the treasures of the king and of his princes, all these he brought to Babylon. <sup>19</sup>And they burned the house of God and broke down the wall of Jerusalem and burned all its palaces with fire and destroyed all its precious vessels. <sup>20</sup>‡He took into exile in Babylon those who had escaped from the sword, and they became servants to him and to his sons until the establishment of the kingdom of Persia, <sup>21</sup>‡to fulfill the word of the LORD by the mouth of Jeremiah, until the land had enjoyed its Sabbaths. All the days that it lay desolate it kept Sabbath, to fulfill seventy years.

The Proclamation of Cyrus

<sup>22</sup>‡Now in the first year of Cyrus king of Persia, that the word of the LORD by the mouth of Jeremiah might be fulfilled, the LORD stirred up the spirit of Cyrus king of Persia, so that he made a proclamation throughout all his kingdom and also put it in writing: <sup>23</sup>“Thus says Cyrus king of Persia, ‘The LORD, the God of heaven, has given me all the kingdoms of the earth, and he has charged me to build him a house at Jerusalem, which is in Judah. Whoever is among you of all his people, may the LORD his God be with him. Let him go up.’”

Solomon's International Ventures

c. 950 B.C.

Solomon's firm control of important trade routes linking Egypt, Arabia, Mesopotamia, and Anatolia (Asia Minor) provided him with incalculable wealth. Partnering with King Hiram of Tyre, Solomon also launched his own trading expeditions to Ophir to acquire valuable and exotic goods. The queen of Sheba's visit to Solomon attests to his great fame throughout the ancient world. Solomon further augmented his wealth by buying horses from Kue and chariots from Egypt and selling them to the kings of Syria and the Hittites.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 2:1–18 This section reports how Solomon selected men to gather building materials for the temple. This was in addition to the massive supplies stockpiled by David (cf. 1 Chron. 22, 29). This section parallels 1 Kings 5:1–16.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 2:1 a temple for the name of the Lord. God’s covenant name, Yahweh or Jehovah (cf. Ex. 3:14), is in mind. David wanted to do this, but was not allowed to do any more than plan and prepare (1 Chron. 23–26; 28:11–13), purchase the land (2 Sam. 24:18–25; 1 Chron. 22), and gather the materials (1 Chron. 22:14–16). royal palace. See 1 Kings 7:1–12 for details (cf. 2 Chron. 7:11; 8:1).

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 2:2 These numbers are repeated in 2:17–18. First Kings 5:16 records 3,300 overseers, compared to 3,600 in 2 Chron. 2:18. If, however, the additional supervisors (250 in 2 Chron. 8:10, but 550 in 1 Kings 9:23) are added, then both 1 Kings and 2 Chronicles agree that a total of 3,850 men worked. David had done similarly at an earlier date (1 Chron. 22:2).

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 2:3–10 Compare with the contents of 1 Kings 5:3–6. The differences can be accounted for in much the same way as in the Gospels, by combining the narratives of 1 Kings 5:3–6 and 2 Chron. 2:3–10 to complete the entire correspondence.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 2:7 send me a man skilled. The Israelites were familiar with agriculture, but not metalworking. They needed experts for that.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 2:8 algum. A coniferous tree native to Lebanon. Some identify it as sandalwood, a smooth, expensive red wood that could be polished to a high gloss.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 2:10 This listing of goods is more complete than that of 1 Kings 5:11. Lebanon traded with Israel regularly for food. give . . . 20,000 cors. A cor is the same as a homer and could have measured as much as 7.5 bushels, making this amount about 150,000 bushels. and 20,000 baths. A bath measured about 6 gallons. This would be about 120,000 gallons. The 20,000 cors of “beaten oil” in 1 Kings 5:11 is most likely not a scribal error but rather a finer grade of oil.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 2:11–16 Compare with the context of 1 Kings 5:7–9.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 2:12 God . . . who made heaven and earth. This was the common identification of the true God when pagans spoke of or were told of him (cf. 2 Chron. 36:23; Ezra 1:2; 5:11–12; 6:10; 7:12, 21, 23; Jer. 10:11–12; Acts 4:24; 14:15; 17:24–26; Col. 1:16–17; Rev. 11:1, 6).

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 2:13–14 Hiram-abi. First Kings 7:14 states that his mother was of the tribe of Naphtali, not Dan, as reported here. This is resolved if she was of Naphtali by birth, but living in the territory of Dan. Or, if his parents were originally from the two tribes, then he could legitimately claim either. He was the parallel to Bezalel, who constructed the tabernacle. See note on 2 Chron. 1:5.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 2:16 Joppa. A major coastal port of Israel. Later, Jonah would sail from Joppa (Jonah 1:3), and much later Peter would be there to receive God's call in a vision (Acts 10:5ff.).

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 2:17–18 See note on 2 Chron. 2:2.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 3:1–17 Cf. 1 Kings 6:1–38 and 7:15–22 for amplification and additional material on the building of the temple.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 3:1 threshing floor. See notes on Gen. 22:1–18; 2 Sam. 24:18–25; 1 Chron. 21:20–30.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 3:2 second month . . . fourth year. C. April/May, 966 B.C. (cf. 1 Kings 6:1). The project took seven years, six months to complete c. October/November 959 B.C. (cf. 1 Kings 6:37–38).

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 3:3 cubits . . . old standard. About 18 inches or possibly the royal cubit of 21 inches (cf. Ezek. 40:5).

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 3:6 Parvaim. An unknown location.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 3:8 600 talents . . . gold. Equal to almost 23 tons of gold.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 3:9 fifty shekels. Equal to 1.25 pounds. Most likely, this small amount gilded only the spike heads.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 3:10–13 two cherubim. See note on 1 Kings 6:23. This free-standing set of cherubim was in addition to the more diminutive set on the ark itself.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 3:14 veil. Cf. Ex. 26:31–35 on the veil of the tabernacle. The veil separated the Holy Place from the Most Holy Place, which was entered once annually by the high priest on the Day of Atonement (cf. Lev. 16). This highly limited access to the presence of God was eliminated by the death of Christ, when the veil in Herod's temple was torn in two from top to bottom (Matt. 27:51). It signified that believers had immediate, full access to God's presence through their Mediator and high priest Jesus Christ, who was the perfect, once-for-all sacrifice (cf. Heb. 3:14–16; 9:19–22).

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 3:15 thirty-five cubits. First Kings 7:15, 2 Kings 25:17, and Jer. 52:21 uniformly describe these cast-bronze pillars as 18 cubits high (about 27 feet). Most likely this is accounted for because the chronicler gave the combined height of both as they were lying in their molds (cf. 2 Chron. 3:17).

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 3:17 Jachin . . . Boaz. Most likely these were so named because of the names' meaning rather than in honor of particular people. Jachin means "he shall establish" and Boaz means "in it is strength" (cf. 1 Kings 7:21).

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 4:1–5:1 See 1 Kings 7:23–51 for amplification and additional details.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 4:1 altar of bronze. This is the main altar on which sacrifices were offered (cf. the millennial temple altar, Ezek. 43:13–17). For comparison to the tabernacle's altar, see Ex. 27:1–8 and 38:1–7. If the cubit of 18 inches was used rather than the royal cubit of 21 inches, it would make the altar 30 feet by 30 feet by 15 feet high.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 4:2 made the sea. This large laver was used for ritual cleansing (cf. Ex. 30:17–21 as it relates to the tabernacle). In Ezekiel's millennial temple, the laver will apparently be replaced by the waters that flow through the temple (Ezek. 47:1–12).

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 4:3 gourds. These were also around the laver, which was set on top of the 12 oxen.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 4:4 twelve oxen. Very likely the 12 oxen represent the 12 tribes who were similarly arrayed around the tabernacle as they set out on their journey in the wilderness (cf. Num. 2:1–34).

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 4:5 held 3,000 baths. A bath equaled almost 6 gallons. First Kings 7:26 reads 2,000 baths. This discrepancy has been reconciled by accounting here not only for the water the basin held, but also the water source that was necessary to keep it flowing as a fountain.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 4:6 ten basins. There were no such corresponding basins in the tabernacle.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 4:7–8 ten golden lampstands . . . ten tables. The tabernacle had one of each. Everything was large because of the crowds of thousands that came on a daily basis and for special occasions.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 4:11–5:1 See notes on 1 Kings 7:40–51. All these details emphasize the great care and concern for worship, and served as a manual for the new temple being built by Zerubbabel after the Jews returned from Babylon.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 4:11 Hiram. See note on 2:13–14. He led the actual work that Solomon directed.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 5:1 The temple took seven years, six months to build and was completed in Solomon's eleventh year (959 B.C.) in the eighth month (cf. 1 Kings 6:38). Since it was dedicated in the seventh month (5:3), its dedication occurred 11 months later to coincide with the Feast of Booths, or Tabernacles. See note on 1 Kings 8:2. Why is there so much emphasis in the OT on the temple? 1) It was the center of worship that called people to correct belief through the generations. 2) It was the symbol of God's presence with his people. 3) It was the symbol of forgiveness and grace, reminding the people of the seriousness of sin and the availability of mercy. 4) It prepared the people for the true Lamb of God, Jesus Christ, who would take away sin. 5) It was a place of prayer. Cf. 2 Chron. 7:12–17.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 5:2–10 See notes on 1 Kings 8:1–9.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 5:2 The ark was in Jerusalem in a temporary tent (2 Sam. 6:17), not the original tabernacle, which was still at Gibeon (1 Chron. 16:39).

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 5:11 the Holy Place. This was to be the last time anyone but the high priest went in, and then only once a year. It took several priests to place the ark in its new home.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 5:12 Asaph, Heman, and Jeduthun. See notes on 1 Chron. 25.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 5:13–14 the glory of the Lord. The Lord's presence indwelt the temple and the first service of worship was held. In the same manner he descended on the tabernacle (Ex. 40:34–38). He will do likewise on the millennial temple (Ezek. 43:1–5). His glory is representative of his person (cf. Ex. 33), and entering the temple signified his presence.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 6:1–11 See notes on 1 Kings 8:12–21.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 6:11 the covenant of the Lord. The Mosaic law written on tablets of stone (cf. 5:10).

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 6:12–40 See note on 1 Kings 8:22–53. As Solomon led his people in prayer, he asked God to help them in many situations: 1) crime (vv. 22–23); 2) enemy attacks (vv. 24–25); 3) drought (vv. 26–27); 4) famine (vv. 28–31); 5) foreigners (vv. 32–33); 6) war (vv. 34–35); and 7) sin (vv. 36–39).

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 6:13 knelt. Solomon, in an unusually humbling act for a king, acknowledged God's sovereignty.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 6:18 Solomon marveled that God would condescend to live there. Cf. John 1:14 and Col. 2:9.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 6:41–42 See notes on Ps. 132:8–10 and 1 Kings 8:54–61.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 7:1–3 fire came down. This also occurred when the tabernacle was dedicated (Lev. 9:23–24). This was the genuine dedication, because only God can truly sanctify.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 7:4–5 See note on 1 Kings 8:62.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 7:8–10 Solomon's celebration included the special assembly to dedicate the altar on the eighth–fourteenth of the seventh month (September/October) which included the Day of Atonement. It was immediately followed by the Feast of Booths, or Tabernacles (fifteenth–twenty-first) and a special assembly on the eighth day, i.e., twenty-second day of the month.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 7:8 Lebo-hamath . . . Brook of Egypt. Lit. from the northern boundary to the southern boundary.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 7:11–12 See note on 1 Kings 9:1–2. Perhaps years had passed since the dedication of the temple in 2 Chron. 6 during which he had also built “his own house” (cf. 8:1). After all that time, God confirmed that he had heard Solomon’s prayer (7:12).

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 7:13–16 This section is almost all unique to 2 Chronicles (cf. 1 Kings 9:3), and features the conditions for national forgiveness of Israel’s sins: 1) humility; 2) prayer; 3) longing for God; and 4) repentance.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 7:17–22 See notes on 1 Kings 9:4–9.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 7:17–18 if . . . then. If there was obedience on the part of the nation, the kingdom would be established and they would have “a man to rule.” Their disobedience was legendary and so was the destruction of their kingdom and their dispersion. When Israel is saved (cf. Zech. 12:14; Rom. 11:25–27), then their King Messiah will set up this glorious kingdom (Rev. 20:1ff.).

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 8:1 twenty years. C. 946 B.C., 24 years after Solomon’s reign began.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 8:2 Cf. 1 Kings 9:10–14. Though these cities were within the boundaries of the Promised Land, they had never been conquered, so Solomon gave Hiram the right to settle them. Hiram, however, returned the Galilean cities that Solomon had given him because they were unacceptably poor. Solomon apparently then improved them and settled Israelites there.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 8:3–6 Here are additional military campaigns and building projects not mentioned in 1 Kings 9. He was building storage places for his commercial enterprises and fortifying his borders to secure his kingdom from invasion.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 8:3 Hamath-zobah. A city located in Syria, north of Damascus and in close proximity to but south of Hamath.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 8:4 Tadmor. A city 150 miles northeast of Damascus. Hamath. A city north of Damascus.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 8:5 Beth-horon. Two cities northwest of Jerusalem. Upper Beth-horon is at 2,022 feet, 11 miles northwest of Jerusalem. Lower Bethharon is at 1,210 feet, 13 miles northwest of Jerusalem. They were both on a strategic road that connected Jerusalem with Joppa on the coast.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 8:6 Baalath. A city originally in Danite territory (Josh. 19:44) c. 30 miles west of Jerusalem.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 8:10 250. See note on 2 Chron. 2:2.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 8:11 Pharaoh's daughter. Cf. 1 Kings 9:24. First Kings 3:1 mentions the marriage and the fact that Solomon brought her to Jerusalem until he could build a house for her. Until that palace was built, Solomon lived in David's palace, but did not allow her to do so, because she was a heathen and because the ark of God had once been in David's house. He surely knew his marriage to this pagan did not please God (cf. Deut. 7:3–4). Eventually his pagan wives caused tragic consequences (1 Kings 11:1–11).

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 8:12–15 This section expands on 1 Kings 9:25, and indicates that Solomon was, in spite of his disobedience in marriage, still faithful to the religious practices required in the temple.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 8:13 three . . . feasts. These were prescribed in the Mosaic legislation: 1) Unleavened Bread, or Passover; 2) Weeks, or Pentecost; and 3) Booths, or Tabernacles (cf. Ex. 23:14–17; Deut. 16:1–17).

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 8:17–18 See notes on 1 Kings 9:26–28. These two ports where Solomon had received ships were located on the eastern gulf of the Red Sea, called Aqabah. Solomon was cultivating peace and commerce plus using Hiram's sailors to teach his people how to sail.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 8:18 450 talents. First Kings 9:28 reports 420 talents, probably accounted for by a scribal error in transmission. This was about 17 tons of gold.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 9:1–28 See notes on 1 Kings 10:1–29.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 9:8 his throne. The thought that Solomon sat on God's throne is not included in the queen of Sheba's words in 1 Kings 10:9. The blessing of God on Israel and on Solomon was to last as long as he followed the Lord as David had (2 Chron. 7:17–21).

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 9:16 shekels. “Bekah,” not shekel, is the correct unit of weight. Since one mina equals 50 shekels and one shekel equals two bekahs, then the three minas in 1 Kings 10:17 equals the 300 bekahs here and both texts agree. This would represent a little less than 4 pounds.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 9:18 footstool of gold. The chronicler adds this detail, which is absent in 1 Kings 10:19.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 9:25 had 4,000 stalls. This reading is preferable to “40,000” in 1 Kings 4:26 (see note).

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 9:29–31 See 1 Kings 11:41–43.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 9:29 First Kings 11:41 reports that Solomon’s deeds were written in “the Book of the Acts of Solomon.” For the rest of the record of Solomon’s life, read 1 Kings 10:26–11:43. In later years, he turned away from God and, due to the influence of his wives, he led the nation into idolatry. This split the kingdom and sowed the seeds that led to its defeat and dispersion. The Chronicles do not record this sad end to Solomon’s life because the focus is on encouraging the returning Jews from Babylon with God’s pledge to them for a glorious future in the Davidic Covenant.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 10:1–36:21 This section records all 20 of the Judean rulers in the divided kingdom from Solomon’s son Rehoboam (c. 931 B.C.) to Zedekiah (c. 586 B.C.) when the people were taken captive to Babylon. The righteous kings and the revivals under them are presented, as well as the wicked kings and their disastrous influence. The northern kingdom is absent since Chronicles focuses on the Davidic line.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 10:1–12:16 The reign of Rehoboam (c. 931–913 B.C.). Cf. 1 Kings 12–14.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 10:1–11:4 For details on this chapter, see notes on 1 Kings 12:1–24. Rehoboam followed foolish and bad advice from novices rather than the good counsel of wise, seasoned men. The result was the division of the nation. Amazingly, with all the strength of Solomon’s reign, unity was fragile and one fool in the place of leadership ended it. Rehoboam tried to unite the people by force, but was not allowed to by God (2 Chron. 11:1–4).

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 10:2 Jeroboam. He became the first king of the northern kingdom of Israel (c. 931–910 B.C.). His story leading to his return from Egypt is told in 1 Kings 11:26–40.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 10:16–19 Here is recorded the beginning of the divided kingdom. Ten tribes followed Jeroboam and were called Israel. The other two tribes, Benjamin and Judah, stayed loyal to David’s line, accepted Rehoboam’s rule, and were called Judah. However, Benjamin at times demonstrated split loyalties (see note on 1 Kings 12:21).

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 11:6 built. To be understood as built further/strengthened/fortified (cf. 11:11–12).

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 11:13–14 The priests and Levites from all the northern 10 tribes were rejected by Israel’s king, Jeroboam (c. 931–910 B.C.), who saw them as a threat because of their loyalty to Jerusalem and the temple. He appointed his own idol priests, and all true priests moved south and found refuge in Judah with Rehoboam.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 11:15 he had made. This is in reference to Jeroboam (cf. 1 Kings 12:25–33), who established idolatry in the north.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 11:16–17 God’s blessing rested on Rehoboam for three years because the people’s commitment to the ways of God was patterned after David and Solomon.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 11:18–23 A summary of Rehoboam’s life is given with special emphasis on succession to the throne. This is not a commendation of polygamy or concubinage, which violated God’s law for marriage (cf. Gen. 2:24–25) and resulted in severe trouble and disaffection toward God. Never is polygamy commended in Scripture, and usually its tragic results are recorded.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 11:21 The chronicler did not include the similar summary of Solomon’s wives (cf. 1 Kings 11:3), but clearly Rehoboam learned this disastrous marital style from his father Solomon. Even David was a polygamist. Polygamy was often practiced by the kings to secure alliances with nearby nations.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 12:1–2 fifth year. C. 926 B.C. Presumably, Rehoboam’s three years of blessing preceded a fourth year of spiritual rebellion, which God judged in his fifth year with judgment at the hand of the Egyptians.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 12:2–5 Shishak. He ruled over Egypt c. 945–924 B.C. An Egyptian record of this invasion written on stone has been found, recording that Shishak’s army penetrated all the way north to the Sea of Galilee. He wanted to restore Egypt’s once-great power, but was unable to conquer both Israel and Judah. However, he was able to destroy cities in Judah and gain some control of trade routes. Judah came under Egyptian control.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 12:6–7 humbled themselves. In the face of the Egyptian conqueror, the leaders responded to the word of God through the prophet (v. 5) and repented, so that God would end his wrath worked through Shishak.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 12:8 Nevertheless. A fitting punishment arose to remind the Jews of their heritage in relationship to Egypt. This was the first major military encounter with Egypt since the exodus had ended hundreds of years of slavery there. A taste of being enslaved again to a people from whom God had given liberation was bitter. The message was crystal clear—if the Jews would forsake the true worship of God, they would also lose his protective hand of blessing. It was much better to serve God than to have to serve “kingdoms of the countries.”

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 12:9 against Jerusalem. After the parenthetical section (vv. 5–8) describing the state of the beleaguered court, the historian returns to discuss the attack on Jerusalem and the pillage of the temple and palace.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 12:9–16 See notes on 1 Kings 14:25–30.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 12:10–11 bronze. The pure gold was replaced by bronze, which was carefully guarded.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 12:12 Cf. 12:7. God preserved Judah because of her repentance.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 12:13 C. 931–913 B.C. By the general revival of true worship, Rehoboam’s reign acquired new life and continued many years after the departure of Shishak. Sadly he faltered (v. 14), probably due largely to his heathen mother (v. 13).

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 12:16 Abijah. Cf. 11:20–22. In 1 Kings 15:3, he is called a great sinner. But consistent with his pattern, the writer of the Chronicles highlights the little good he did to indicate that he was still in line with God’s covenant promise to David.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 13:1–22 In the succession of Judah’s kings, the reign of Abijah/Abijam is next (c. 913–911 B.C.; cf. 1 Kings 15:1–8). The disobedient nature of Abijah’s reign is mentioned in 1 Kings 15:3, as is his faithless treaty with Syria (2 Chron. 16:3).

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 13:3 See notes on 1 Kings 15:1–8. These numbers are large, but not surprising, given the immense number of capable men who could fight, as counted in David’s census (cf. 1 Chron. 21:5). Both armies were set for civil war.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 13:4 Mount Zemaraim. The exact location is unknown, but it is likely near Bethel (Josh. 18:22) inside Israel’s territory.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 13:5 covenant of salt. Salt is associated elsewhere with the Mosaic Covenant sacrifices (Lev. 2:13), the Priestly Covenant (Num. 18:19), and the New Covenant symbolic sacrifices in the millennial kingdom (Ezek. 43:24). The preservative quality of salt represents the fidelity or loyalty intended in keeping the covenant. Here it would refer to God's irrevocable pledge and intended loyalty in fulfilling the Davidic Covenant and God's desire for the loyalty of David's lineage to him if the people are to enjoy the blessings of the covenant.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 13:6 For the story of Jeroboam, read 1 Kings 11:26–40 and 2 Chron. 10. He was the first king of the northern kingdom called Israel.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 13:7 young. He was 41 (cf. 2 Chron. 12:13).

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 13:8 kingdom of the Lord. Abijah reminds all that the Davidic Covenant is God's expressed will concerning who would rule on his behalf in the earthly kingdom. Thus Judah is God's nation, since the king is in the line of David. golden calves. Cf. 1 Kings 12:25–33 and 2 Chron. 11:15. Israel was full of idols and false priests, having driven out all the Levitical priests and, with them, the true worship of God.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 13:10–12 Abijah confessed a national commitment to pure worship and thus confidence in God's favor in battle.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 13:15 God defeated Jeroboam and all Israel. At the time of certain defeat, with 400,000 troops behind and the same number in front, Judah was saved by divine intervention. What God did is unknown, but the army of Israel began to flee (v. 16), and the soldiers of Judah massacred 500,000 of them in an unimaginable blood bath (v. 17).

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 13:17 Before the battle, Jeroboam outnumbered Abijah two to one (13:3). After the fray, in which the Lord intervened on behalf of Judah, Abijah outnumbered Jeroboam four to three.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 13:19 Bethel. Located 12 miles north of Jerusalem. Although their exact locations are unknown, Jeshanah and Ephron are believed to be in the vicinity of Bethel.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 13:20 he died. Again God acted, in a manner not described, to end the life of this wicked ruler (c. 910 B.C.).

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 14:1–16:14 The reign of Asa (c. 911–870 B.C.). Cf. 1 Kings 15:9–24.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 14:1–2 First Kings 15:11 says that Asa did as his forefather David had done—honoring God while building the kingdom (2 Chron. 14:6–8). Times of peace were used for strengthening.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 14:3–5 He removed elements of false worship that had accumulated over the years of Solomon, Rehoboam, and Abijah (cf. 1 Kings 15:12–13). Apparently, he did not remove all the high places or, once removed, they reappeared (cf. 2 Chron. 15:17; 1 Kings 15:14). His son Jehoshaphat later had to remove them (cf. 2 Chron. 17:6), although not completely (cf. 20:33). This was done in an effort to comply with Deut. 12:2–3.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 14:8 Asa had an army of 580,000 compared to Abijah's 400,000 (2 Chron. 13:3).

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 14:9–15 A major threat developed from Zerah, the Ethiopian, probably on behalf of the Egyptian Pharaoh, who was attempting to regain control as Shishak had during the days of Rehoboam (cf. 2 Chron. 12:7–8), c. 901–900 B.C.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 14:9 Mareshah. Located about 8 miles southeast of Gath and 25 miles southwest of Jerusalem. Rehoboam had earlier reinforced this city (2 Chron. 11:8).

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 14:11 Asa's appeal to God centered on God's omnipotence and reputation.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 14:13–15 plunder. It appears that this great horde was a nomadic people who moved with all their possessions and had set up their camp near Gerar. The spoils of Judah's victory were immense.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 14:13 Gerar. Approximately 8 miles south of Gaza on the Mediterranean coast. Egypt does not appear on the scene again for over 150 years (cf. 2 Kings 17:4).

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 15:1 Spirit of God. An act of the Holy Spirit, common in the OT enabling servants of God to speak or act uniquely for him. Azariah. This man was a prophet mentioned only here, who met Asa as he returned from the victory and spoke to him before all his army.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 15:2 The spiritual truth here is basic, namely that God is present and powerful in defense of his obedient people. Cf. Deut. 20:1; 1 Chron. 28:9; Isa. 55:6–7; Jer. 29:12–14; James 4:8. While good Asa ruled for 41 years, eight wicked kings ruled in Israel, including Jeroboam, who along with the others, was a negative illustration of this truth (cf. 2 Chron. 12:1ff.).

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 15:8 vestibule. This refers to the area outside the Holy Place, where the altar of the burnt offering was located.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 15:9 Ephraim, Manasseh, and Simeon. This indicates that not all the people in the 10 tribes that constituted the apostate northern kingdom of Israel had abandoned God. Many migrated south into Judah, so that all tribes were represented in the mix of Jews in Judah.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 15:10 fifteenth year. C. 897 B.C. in May/June. The Feast of Weeks would have been the occasion.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 15:11–15 The assembled worshipers entered into a renewed promise to obey (cf. Ex. 24:1ff.) and to rigorously enforce the laws that made idolatry punishable by death (cf. Deut. 17:2–5). This was inaugurated with the sacrifices of animals taken in spoil from the Ethiopians (14:15).

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 15:16–18 See note on 1 Kings 15:11–15.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 15:19 thirty-fifth year. C. 875 B.C.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 16:1 thirty-sixth year. Since Baasha (c. 909–886 B.C.) died in the twenty-sixth year of Asa's reign (cf. 1 Kings 15:33), this could not mean that they were at war 10 years later. However, if the time reference was to the thirty-fifth year since the kingdom was divided, then the year is c. 896 B.C. in the fourteenth year of Baasha's reign and the sixteenth of Asa's reign. This manner of reckoning was generally followed in the book of the record of the kings of Judah and Israel, the public annals of that time, from which the inspired writer drew his account (cf. 2 Chron. 16:11). This could be a cause for the defections of people from Israel to Judah as described in 15:9. Cf. 1 Kings 15:16–17. Ramah. This frontier town was on the high road about 6 miles north of Jerusalem. Because of the topography and fortification of that city, this would effectively block all traffic into Jerusalem from the north. Cf. 1 Kings 15:16–22.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 16:2–6 Asa sinfully resorted to trusting in a pagan king, Ben-hadad, for protection against the king of Israel in contrast to 1) Abijah (13:2–20) and 2) even earlier to his own battle against Egypt (14:9–15), when they both trusted wholly in the Lord. See note on 1 Kings 15:18.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 16:3 my father . . . your father. A previously unmentioned treaty between Abijah (c. 913–911 B.C.) and Tabrimmon (c. 912–890 B.C.).

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 16:4 Ijon . . . cities. Along with the other cities mentioned, these were located north and east of the Sea of Galilee.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 16:6 Geba . . . Mizpah. Located two miles north northeast and two miles east of Ramah respectively.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 16:7 Hanani. God used this prophet to rebuke Asa 1) for his wicked appropriation of temple treasures devoted to God to purchase power, and 2) for his faithless dependence on a pagan king instead of the Lord, in contrast to before when opposed by Egypt (14:9–15). army of the king of Syria has escaped. Asa forfeited by this sin the opportunity of gaining victory not only over Israel, but also Aram, or Syria. This could have been a greater victory than over the Ethiopians, which would have deprived Syria of any future successful attacks on Judah. Though God had delivered them when they were outnumbered (13:3ff.; 14:9ff.), the king showed his own spiritual decline both in lack of trust and in his treatment of the prophet of God who spoke truth (16:10).

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 16:9 strong support . . . heart is blameless toward him. See note on 15:2. you will have wars. Divine judgment on the king's faithlessness.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 16:10–12 During Asa's last six years, he uncharacteristically exhibited the ungodly behavior of: 1) anger at truth (v. 10); 2) oppression of God's prophet and people (v. 10); and 3) seeking man not God (v. 12).

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 16:12 thirty-ninth year. C. 872 B.C. He died as a result of what may have been severe gangrene.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 16:13 forty-first year. C. 870 B.C.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 16:14 great fire. Due to the longevity of his reign and his notable accomplishments, Asa was honored by the people in their memorial of his death. Cremation was rarely used by the Hebrews (cf. 21:19; 1 Sam. 31:13; Amos 6:10). Later, Jehoram was not honored by fire (2 Chron. 21:19) because of his shameful reign.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 17:1–21:3 The reign of Jehoshaphat (c. 873–848 B.C.). Cf. 1 Kings 15:24 and 22:1–50.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 17:1–2 Jehoshaphat prepared the nation militarily for any aggression, particularly from the northern kingdom of Israel.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 17:3 the Baals. This is a general term used for idols. Cf. Judg. 2:11–13.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 17:3–9 Jehoshaphat made three strategic moves, spiritually speaking: 1) he obeyed the Lord (vv. 3–6); 2) he removed false worship from the land (v. 6); and 3) he sent out teachers who taught the people the law of the Lord (vv. 7–9).

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 17:10–11 Jehoshaphat's spiritual strategy accomplished its intended purpose, i.e., invoking God's blessing and protection, much as it did with Abijah (13:2–20) and Asa (14:9–15). It should be noted that the Jews needed animals for extensive sacrificial uses, as much as for food and clothing.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 17:12–13 These verses indicate the massive wealth that developed under divine blessing (cf. 18:1), as well as formidable military power (17:14–19).

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 18:1–34 See notes on 1 Kings 22:1–39. Ahab was king in Israel. Jehoshaphat arranged for his son (cf. 2 Chron. 21:6) to marry Athaliah, daughter of wicked Ahab, then made a military alliance with him. This folly had tragic results: 1) Jehoshaphat drew God's wrath (19:2); 2) after Jehoshaphat died and Athaliah became queen, she seized the throne and almost killed all of David's descendants (22:10ff.); and 3) she brought the wicked idols of Israel into Judah, which eventually led to the nation's destruction and captivity in Babylon. Jehoshaphat had a tendency to rely on other kings as evidenced by this unique report of a marriage alliance with Ahab (18:1). See also 20:35–37 concerning an alliance with Ahaziah (c. 853–852 B.C.).

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 18:5 Evil kings had false prophets who told them what they wanted to hear (cf. Isa. 30:10–11; Jer. 14:13–16; 23:16, 21, 30–36). The true prophet spoke God's word and was arrested (v. 26).

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 19:1–3 Having faced possible death that was diverted by God (18:31), Jehoshaphat was rebuked because of his alliances. The prophet condemned the king's alliance with God's enemy, Ahab (1 Kings 22:2), yet there was mercy mingled with wrath because of the king's concern personally and nationally for the true worship of God.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 19:2 Hanani. This same prophet had earlier given Jehoshaphat's father, Asa, a similar warning (16:7–9).

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 19:4–11 Jehoshaphat put God's kingdom in greater spiritual order than at any time since Solomon. To ensure this order, he set "judges" (v. 5) in place and gave them principles to rule by: 1) accountability to God (v. 6); 2) integrity and honesty (v. 7); 3) loyalty to God (v. 9); 4) concern for righteousness (v. 10); and 5) courage (v. 11). All are essentials to spiritual leadership.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 20:1–2 The offspring of Lot, i.e., Moab and Ammon, located east of the Jordan, and those from Edom to the south (the offspring of Esau), had intentions of dethroning Jehoshaphat. They had come around the south end of the Dead Sea as far north as Engedi, at the middle of the western shore. This was a common route for enemies since they were invisible to the people on the other side of the mountains to the west.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 20:3–4 Jehoshaphat made the appropriate spiritual response, i.e., the king and the nation appealed to God in prayer and fasting. The fast was national, including even the children (v. 13). Cf. Joel 2:12–17 and Jonah 3:7.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 20:5–12 Jehoshaphat stood in the redecorated center court praying for the nation, appealing to the promises, the glory, and the reputation of God, which were at stake since he was identified with Judah. In his prayer he acknowledged God’s sovereignty (v. 6), God’s covenant (v. 7), God’s presence (vv. 8–9), God’s goodness (v. 10), God’s possession (v. 11), and their utter dependence on him (v. 12).

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 20:10 Mount Seir. A prominent landmark in Edom.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 20:14–17 The Lord responded immediately, sending a message of confidence through the prophet Jahaziel.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 20:16 ascent of Ziz . . . wilderness of Jeruel. These areas lie between Engedi on the Dead Sea and Tekoa, which is 10 miles south of Jerusalem and 17 miles northwest of Engedi. This is the pass that leads from the valley of the Dead Sea toward Jerusalem.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 20:18–21 Here was the praise of faith. They were confident enough in God’s promise of victory to begin the praise before the battle was won. So great was their trust that the choir marched in front of the army, singing psalms.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 20:21 in holy attire. This refers to the manner in which the Levite singers were clothed in symbolic sacred clothing (cf. 1 Chron. 16:29) in honor of the Lord’s holiness.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 20:22–24 Similar to God’s intervention in Gideon’s day

(Judg. 7:15–23), God caused confusion among the enemy, who mistakenly turned upon themselves and slaughtered each other. Some think this may have been done by angels who appeared and set off this uncontrolled and deadly panic. The destruction was complete before Jehoshaphat and his army ever met the enemy (2 Chron. 20:24).

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 20:25–28 They went back just as they had gone out—with music (cf. vv. 21–22).

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 20:29 This is the second time in Jehoshaphat's reign that fear came on the nations (cf. 17:10), which was similar to that when Israel came out of Egypt (Ex. 23:27; Num. 22:3; Josh. 2:9–11; 9:9–10).

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 20:31–21:3 See notes on 1 Kings 22:41–49.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 21:2–5 When the co-regency with his father ended at his father's death, Jehoram killed all who might have threatened his throne.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 21:4–20 The reign of Jehoram (c. 853–841 B.C.). Cf. 2 Kings 8:16–24. Most likely, Obadiah prophesied during his reign.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 21:4–10 See notes on 2 Kings 8:16–22.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 21:11 made Judah go astray. Undoubtedly he was influenced by his marriage to Ahab's daughter (cf. v. 6) and was influenced in the alliance just like his father (18:1). They had not learned from Solomon's sinful example (cf. 1 Kings 11:3–4). His wicked wife, Athaliah, later became ruler over Judah and tried to wipe out David's royal line (2 Chron. 22:10).

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 21:12–15 Elijah, best known for his confrontations with Israel's Ahab and Jezebel (1 Kings 17–2 Kings 2:11), confronted prophetically Jehoram's sins of idolatry and murder (2 Chron. 21:13). The consequences from God's judgment extended beyond himself to his family and the nation (21:14–15). This event undoubtedly occurred in the early years of Jehoram's co-regency with his father Jehoshaphat and shortly before Elijah's departure to heaven, c. 848 B.C. (cf. 2 Kings 2:11–12).

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 21:16–20 The consequences of his sin were far-reaching. He suffered military losses, his country was ravaged, his capital taken, his palace plundered, his wives taken, all his children killed but the youngest, he died with a painful disease, and was buried without honor (21:16–22:1).

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 21:20 eight years. These were the years of his exclusive reign, not including his co-regency with his father.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 22:1–9 The reign of Ahaziah (c. 841 B.C.). Cf. 2 Kings 8:25–29 and 9:21–29.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 22:1–6 See notes on 2 Kings 8:25–29.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 22:2 twenty-two. Some versions read “forty-two” here, a copyist’s error easily made due to the small stroke that differentiates two Hebrew letters. The reading from 2 Kings 8:26 of “twenty-two” should be followed.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 22:3 his mother was his counselor . . . wickedly. Athaliah and the rest of Ahab’s house who were in the young king’s life taught him wickedness and led him to moral corruption, idolatry, and folly in being induced to war with the Arameans, or Syrians (vv. 5–6).

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 22:7–9 See notes on 2 Kings 8:28–9:29.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 22:10–23:21 The reign of Athaliah (c. 841–835 B.C.). Cf. 2 Kings 11:1–20.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 23:3 as the Lord spoke. This is one of the most dramatic moments in messianic history. The human offspring of David have been reduced to one—Joash. If he had died, there would have been no human heir to the Davidic throne, and it would have meant the destruction of the line of the Messiah. However, God remedied the situation by providentially protecting Joash (22:10–12) and eliminating Athaliah (23:12–21).

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 23:11 testimony. The usual meaning is a copy of the law (cf. Deut. 17:18; Job 31:35–36).

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 24:1–27 The reign of Joash (c. 835–796 B.C.). Cf. 2 Kings 11:17–12:21. Most likely, Joel prophesied during his reign, and his prophecy provides much helpful background to the time.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 24:1–14 See notes on 2 Kings 11:17–12:16.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 24:15–16 Jehoiada. This man was the high priest of Athaliah’s and Joash’s reigns (cf. 2 Chron. 23:1–24:16), who championed God’s cause of righteousness during days of evil by: 1) leading the fight against idols; 2) permitting the coup against Athaliah; and 3) granting the throne to Joash to bring about the subsequent revival.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 24:17–18a After Jehoiada’s death, the leaders of Judah convinced King Joash that they needed to return to idolatry. With the death of the old priest came the turning point in the reign of Joash. He “listened” means Joash gave consent for the idol worship and thus it began.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 24:18b–19 God’s righteousness judged the evil of Judah, while at the same time his mercy sent prophets to preach the truth of repentance.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 24:20–22 The specific example of Zechariah, son of Jehoiada (not to be confused with Zechariah, son of Berechiah [Zech. 1:1; Matt. 23:35]) is alluded to by NT writers in such texts as Acts 7:51–52; Heb. 11:37. This priest told the people that faithfulness to the Lord is the condition for blessing (cf. 2 Chron. 12:5; 15:2). The conspiracy against this man who spoke the truth was with the king’s full authority, and he bore the greatest guilt for the murder (24:22). See note on Matt. 23:35.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 24:22 did not remember. Cf. 22:11, where Jehoiada’s wife preserved Joash from certain death as an infant, or 23:1–24:1, where Jehoiada devised a plan to dethrone Athaliah and crown Joash king, or 24:2, where Jehoiada is acknowledged as the voice of righteousness for Joash. Yet, Joash willfully ignored all that. Zechariah died pronouncing the just doom that would eventually come.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 24:23–25 As Zechariah had prayed (v. 22), so God repaid Joash’s apostasy with defeat by Syria and death at the hands of his own people.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 24:24 few men. As the Lord had previously given victory to Judah’s smaller army because of their faithfulness (13:2–20; 14:9–15), he gave Judah defeat at the hands of a lesser force because of their wickedness.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 24:25 Unlike righteous Asa (16:13–14), but like unrighteous Jehoram (21:18–20), Joash died an ignominious death and received burial without honor.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 24:26–27 See notes on 2 Kings 12:19–21.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 25:1–28 The reign of Amaziah (c. 796–767 B.C.). Cf. 2 Kings 14:1–20.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 25:1–4 See notes on 2 Kings 14:1–6.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 25:4 Cf. Ezek. 18.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 25:5–16 This section is an elaboration of 2 Kings 14:7.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 25:5–13 Amaziah gathered his army, which was small compared to the army of Jehoshaphat, which was over 1,000,000 (cf. 17:14–19). This shows how the southern kingdom had declined in 80 years.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 25:6 100 talents. If a talent weighs 75 pounds, this represents almost four tons of silver. This wealth was paid to the king of Israel, Jehoahaz, who ordered the mercenaries of Israel to aid Amaziah against Edom.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 25:7 man of God. This is a technical term used about 70 times in the OT, always referring to one who spoke for God. He warned Amaziah not to make idolatrous Israel his ally because the Lord was not with Ephraim, i.e., Israel, the capital of idolatry. See note on Deut. 33:1.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 25:8 God has power. See note on 2 Chron. 24:24. The man of God reminded the king sarcastically that he would need to be strong, since God wouldn't help.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 25:9–10 The man of God told Amaziah to cut his losses and trust the Lord. The king obeyed and sent the Israelite mercenaries home in anger.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 25:11 Valley of Salt. Most likely this is located at the southern end of the Dead Sea, where David had several centuries before been victorious (cf. 1 Chron. 18:12–13). Seir. Another name for Edom.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 25:12 rock. This mode of execution was common among pagan nations (cf. Ps. 137:9).

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 25:13 Samaria. This was the well-known town of Israel from which they launched their attacks. Beth-horon. See note on 2 Chron. 8:5.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 25:14–16 Amaziah did the unthinkable from both a biblical and political perspective—he embraced the false gods of the people whom he had just defeated. Perhaps he did this because he was seduced by the wicked pleasures of idolatry and because he thought it would help him in assuring no future threat from Edom. However, it only brought destruction to the king, who just wanted to silence the voice of God.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 25:17–28 See notes on 2 Kings 14:8–19.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 26:1–23 The reign of Uzziah, a.k.a. Azariah (c. 790–739 B.C.). Cf. 2 Kings 14:21–22; 15:1–7. Hosea (Hosea 1:1), Amos (Amos 1:1), Jonah, and Isaiah (Isa. 6) ministered during his reign.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 26:1–4 See notes on 2 Kings 14:21–22 and 15:1–4.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 26:5 Zechariah. An otherwise unknown prophet during Uzziah's reign, not the priestly spokesman of 24:20, nor the prophet Zechariah who wrote the prophetic book to Judah c. 520 B.C. sought . . . prosper. This summarizes a major theme in 2 Chronicles.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 26:6–15 A summary of Uzziah's prosperity in the realm of: 1) conquering the Philistines (vv. 6–8); 2) domestic affairs (vv. 9–10); and 3) military might (vv. 11–15).

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 26:6–8 A description of Judah's military success to the west, east, and south. Israel to the north is not mentioned.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 26:6 Gath . . . Jabneh . . . Ashdod. Key Philistine cities to the southwest of Jerusalem.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 26:7 Arabians . . . Gurbaal. Most likely a nomadic group who lived in an area whose location is unknown. Meunites. A nomadic people living in Edom (cf. 20:1).

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 26:8 Ammonites. Offspring of Lot who lived east of the Jordan.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 26:9 Corner Gate. Located in the northwest section of Jerusalem. Valley Gate. Located in the southwest section of Jerusalem. Angle. Located in the east section of Jerusalem.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 26:11–15 With over 300,000 in the army and the development of new weapons, he posed a threat to would-be assailants and thus secured the nation in peace.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 26:16–18 Uzziah attempted to usurp the role of the priest, which is forbidden in the Levitical code (cf. Num. 3:10; 18:7). Proverbs 16:18 indicates that pride precipitates a fall, and it did in his case. Even the king could not live above God's law.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 26:19–20 God judged the king's refusal to heed the law but was merciful in that he did not kill Uzziah. With leprosy, Uzziah had to submit to the priests in a new way according to the laws of leprosy (cf. Lev. 13–14), and endure isolation the rest of his life from the temple as well.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 26:21–23 See notes on 2 Kings 15:5.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 26:22 Not the canonical book of Isaiah, but rather a reference to some other volume that the prophet wrote.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 26:23 It was in that very year that Isaiah had his vision of God's glory (cf. Isa. 6:1ff.).

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 27:1–9 The reign of Jotham (c. 750–731 B.C.). Cf. 2 Kings 15:32–38. Isaiah (Isa. 1:11) and Hosea (Hosea 1:1) continued to minister during his reign, plus Micah (Micah 1:1) prophesied during that time also.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 27:1–4, 7–9 See notes on 2 Kings 15:33–37.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 27:3 wall of Ophel. Located on the south side of Jerusalem.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 27:5 Ammonites. See note on 2 Chron. 26:8. Jotham repelled the invasion, pursuing the enemy into their own land and imposing a yearly tribute, which they paid for two years until Rezin, king of Syria, and Pekah, king of Israel, revolted and attacked. Jotham was too distracted to bother with the Ammonites (cf. 2 Kings 15:37). 100 talents. If a talent is about 75 pounds, this represents almost four tons of silver. 10,000 cors. If a cor is 7.5 bushels, this represents 75,000 bushels.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 27:6 His one failure was in not removing the idolatrous high places and stopping idol worship by the people (cf. v. 2; 2 Kings 15:35).

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 28:1–27 The reign of Ahaz (c. 735–715 B.C.). Cf. 2 Kings 16:1–20. Isaiah (Isa. 1:1), Hosea (Hosea 1:1), and Micah (Micah 1:1) all continued to minister during his reign. Second Kings 17:1–9 reports that it was after the twelfth year of Ahaz, when Hosea was king in Israel, that the Assyrians took Israel into captivity (722 B.C.).

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 28:1–5a See notes on 2 Kings 16:1–6.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 28:2 Baals. See note on 17:3.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 28:5b–8 Ahaz's gross disobedience earned him God's wrath, by which both Aram, or Syria, and Israel defeated his army, as they had in Jotham's day (cf. 2 Kings 15:37). This was likely a continuation of the same campaign against Judah begun earlier.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 28:5–6 Damascus. The capital city of Aram, or Syria, northeast of Judah. Pekah. King of Israel (c. 752–732 B.C.).

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 28:8 Samaria. The capital city of the northern kingdom of Israel.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 28:9 Oded. An otherwise unknown prophet, with the same name as an earlier Oded (cf. 15:1, 8). The prophet said that Israel had won the victory because God was judging Judah. But he protested the viciousness of the killing and the effort to enslave them (28:10) and warned them of God's wrath for such action (v. 11). Amazingly the apostate and hostile Israelites complied with the prophet's warning (vv. 12–15).

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 28:16 king of Assyria. Tiglath-pilneser, or Tiglath-pileser (c. 745–727 B.C.).

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 28:18 cities . . . Shephelah. To the southwest of Jerusalem.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 28:20–21 Tiglath-pileser. See note on 2 Chron. 28:16. In spite of temporary relief by the conquest of Damascus and slaughter of Rezin (2 Kings 16:9), little benefit came from this king to Ahaz because he allied with Assyria.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 28:22–27 Ahaz surrendered himself to idolatry with the ignorance of a wicked pagan and a ruthless defiance of God that ruined him and his nation. He was justly dishonored in his burial (v. 27).

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 29:1–32:33 The reign of Hezekiah (c. 715–686 B.C.). Cf. 2 Kings 18:1–20:21 and Isa. 36–39. Second Kings 18:5 notes that Hezekiah's trust in the Lord had not been equaled by any king who preceded him nor by any who followed (cf. 2 Chron. 31:21). Isaiah (Isa. 1:1), Hosea (Hosea 1:1), and Micah (Micah 1:1) prophesied during his reign.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 29:1–2 See notes on 2 Kings 18:1–2.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 29:3 first year . . . first month. Hezekiah addressed the spiritual problems first, which reflected his life priorities. Hezekiah correctly diagnosed Judah's ills—she had abandoned the true worship of God. So the king stepped in to reverse the policy of his father (28:22–25) and to repair the temple and return proper temple worship as God had prescribed in his word (29:3–7). He knew such a revival of devotion to God would turn God's wrath away from Judah (v. 10).

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 29:12–14 Fourteen leaders undertook to collect and prepare for the cleansing of the temple.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 29:12 Kohathites . . . Merari . . . Gershonites. The three familial lines of Levi (cf. 1 Chron. 6:1).

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 29:13–14 Elizaphan. An important leader among the Kohathites (cf. Num. 3:30; 1 Chron. 15:8). Asaph . . . Heman . . . Jeduthun. The three lines of Levitical musicians (cf. 1 Chron. 25:1).

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 29:15–19 to cleanse. Beginning with the outer courts and working for eight days, they then went inside. But as the Levites were not allowed within the walls of the holy places, the priests had to bring out all the debris to be carted off. This took eight more days.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 29:16 brook Kidron. To the east of Jerusalem, between the temple and the Mount of Olives.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 29:20–36 Hezekiah restored true temple worship as practiced in the time of David and Solomon, producing great joy (v. 36).

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 29:26 instruments of David. The instruments David had made for the temple (cf. 1 Chron. 23:5).

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 29:34 Levites were more upright in heart than the priests. Perhaps the priests had become used to participating in all the idol sacrifices they had instituted (cf. 28:25).

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 30:1–27 Hezekiah reached back to restore the Passover (Ex. 12:1–20; Lev. 23:1–8) which apparently had not been properly and regularly observed in some time, perhaps since the division of the kingdom 215 years earlier (2 Chron. 30:5). The Passover would later be revived again by Josiah (35:1–9) and Zerubbabel (Ezra 6:19–22). It celebrated God’s forgiveness and redemption of his believing people.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 30:1 Israel. These would be the remnant of the northern 10 tribes (vv. 6, 25) left in the land or escaped from the enemy after the northern kingdom was taken captive following the invasion by Assyria in 722 B.C. (2 Kings 17:1–9). Ephraim and Manasseh were the leading tribes.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 30:2 second month. This call to Passover was to unite the nation again in worship. Normally the Passover would be in the first month (March/April). The rule of exception for individuals who were unclean or absent (Num. 9:9–11) was applied to the whole nation.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 30:5 Beersheba to Dan. These two cities were at the extreme ends of the country, so this expression was a way of saying, “from south to north.”

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 30:6 return. The nation was required by law to annually celebrate three feasts in Jerusalem: 1) Passover; 2) Weeks, or Pentecost; and 3) Booths, or Tabernacles (cf. Ex. 23; Lev. 23; Num. 28–29; Deut. 16). God would have returned to bless the people of the northern apostate and idolatrous kingdom of Israel if they had returned to him. Cf. 2 Chron. 15:2; 20:20; 26:5; 31:21, where this recurring theme is affirmed.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 30:8 stiff-necked. This is the same kind of language used by Stephen in Acts 7:51–53, which in effect says, “Don’t be obstinate.”

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 30:9 Not all the people of Israel had been taken captive in the invasion of the Assyrians during Hezekiah’s reign (cf. 2 Kings 17:5–23; 18:9–12).

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 30:10 Scorn was the response of these tribes, showing their wickedness even after judgment on them had begun. Notice v. 18 for the additional brazen sin of these tribes.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 30:13 second month. Normally, Passover, including the Feast of Unleavened Bread, was held in the first month; however, at this special time it was better to be one month late, than not at all.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 30:14 These altars had been erected to idols by Ahaz. See 28:25 and 29:16. Hezekiah was able to cleanse the city of idols and altars, something his predecessors failed to do.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 30:18–20 The attitude of the heart was to prevail over their outward activity (cf. 1 Sam. 15:22; Jer. 7:22–23; Hosea 6:6). Hezekiah reminded them that God forgives even the most heinous sins, and he did (2 Chron. 30:20).

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 30:23 This speaks to the authenticity of revival in that the people knew how sinful they had been and how desperately in need of cleansing they actually were. They doubled the time for the feast that pointed to God's salvation and deliverance of the faithful.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 30:26 nothing like this. A telling statement about the spiritual degeneracy of the divided kingdom since the time of Solomon over 215 years earlier.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 31:1 Judah and Benjamin . . . Ephraim and Manasseh. The first two referred to the southern kingdom; the last two represented the northern kingdom. The Passover had been a real revival, and they carried the conviction of it back to their homes to destroy all the idolatry. So the reign of idolatry ended, and the worship of God was restored. The people went home in hope of divine blessing and a future of peace and prosperity.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 31:2–19 divisions of the priests and of the Levites. The priestly service had not been supported by the government during the reign of the wicked kings, so Hezekiah restored that support as God originally ordained it (cf. 1 Chron. 24:1ff.; 2 Chron. 8:12–14).

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 31:6 tithe. Since the priests and Levites served the nation, they were to be supported by the people through the taxation of the tithe. According to Lev. 27:30–33 and Num. 18:21–24, the people were to give the tenth (tithe) to supply all the needs of the Levites. Malachi 3:8 says they were robbing God when they did not give the tithe. Deuteronomy 12:6–7 called for a second tithe that was to support the nation's devotion to the temple by being used for the national festivals at the temple in Jerusalem. This was called the festival tithe. Deuteronomy 14:28–29 called for a third tithe every three years for the poor. The sum of this tax plan totaled about 23 percent annually.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 31:7 third . . . seventh month. From the time of the Feast of Weeks, or Pentecost, in May/June until the Feast of Booths, or Tabernacles, in September/October.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 31:11 chambers. These were stone houses, granaries, and cellars to replace the old decayed ones. In these places the Levites stored the tithes (v. 12).

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 31:17 twenty years old. See notes on 1 Chron. 23:3. Cf. Num. 4:3 and 28:24.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 31:19 fields of common land. This refers to the 48 Levitical cities (cf. Josh. 21:1–42). The tithes-taxes collected from everyone were used not only for festivals at the temple, but also for regular daily support of the priests living and leading throughout the land (see note on 2 Chron. 31:6).

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 31:20–21 See notes on 2 Kings 18:5–7.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 32:1–23 Hezekiah's dealings with Sennacherib, king of Assyria (c. 705–681 B.C.). See notes on 2 Kings 18:13–19:37 and Isa. 36–37. The Assyrian king came because Hezekiah, determined to recover the independence of his nation, refused to pay the tribute his father had bound him to pay to Assyria. Sennacherib retaliated, and Hezekiah fortified the city (2 Chron. 32:5) and trusted God (vv. 8, 11), who delivered them (vv. 21–22) and was glorified (v. 23).

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 32:24–26 See notes on 2 Kings 20:1–11 and Isa. 38.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 32:27–31 See notes on 2 Kings 20:12–20 and Isa. 39.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 32:30 A 1,700 feet long tunnel cut through solid rock (below Jerusalem) redirected water from the spring Gihon outside of Jerusalem (to the east) toward the south of Jerusalem into the pool of Siloam within the city to provide water in time of siege. The tunnel was a remarkable feat of engineering and boring skill, often 60 feet below the ground and large enough to walk through. It was discovered in 1838, but not until 1909 was it cleared of the debris left by the destruction of Jerusalem back in 586 B.C. This may not have been the first water shaft, since David may have entered Jerusalem 300 years earlier through a water shaft (cf. 2 Sam. 5:6–8).

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 32:31 Babylon. This empire was gradually gaining power as Assyria declined due to internal strife and weak kings. Assyria was crushed in 612 B.C. and Babylon, under Nebuchadnezzar, became the world ruler (cf. 2 Kings 20:14).

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 32:32 Isaiah. Cf. Isa. 1:1.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 33:1–20 The reign of Manasseh (c. 695–642 B.C.). Cf. 2 Kings 21:1–18.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 33:1–10 See notes on 2 Kings 21:1–10.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 33:6 Son of Hinnom. This valley to the south and east of the temple was where the worship of Molech involved burning children to death (Ps. 106:37). This was forbidden in Lev. 18:21; 20:2–5; Deut. 18:10. Such horrible practices appeared in Israel from the time of Ahaz (cf. 2 Chron. 28:3).

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 33:11–17 God’s retribution was swift. Manasseh apparently repented, but the spiritual damage was not easily reversed.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 33:11 king of Assyria. Most likely Ashurbanipal (c. 669–633 B.C.). Between 652 and 648 B.C., Babylon rebelled against Assyria. The city of Babylon was defeated temporarily, but Assyria may have felt Manasseh supported Babylon’s rebellion, so he was taken to trial in Babylon.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 33:12–13 Manasseh. This king was very wicked and idolatrous, a murderer of his children, and a desecrater of the temple. God graciously forgave this “foremost” of sinners (cf. 1 Tim. 1:15) when he repented. He did what he could to reverse the effect of his life (2 Chron. 33:15–17). Although the people worshiped God and not idols, they were doing it in the wrong place and wrong way. God had commanded them to offer sacrifices only in certain places (Deut. 12:13–14) to keep them from corrupting the prescribed forms and to protect them from pagan religious influence. Disobedience to God’s requirements in this matter surely contributed to the decline under the next king, Amon (2 Chron. 33:21–25), whose corruption his successor, Josiah, had to eliminate (34:3–7).

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 33:14 A wall running from south of the temple and Ophel (west of the Kidron Valley) southeast/northwest reaching to the Fish Gate, northwest of the temple.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 33:18–20 See 2 Kings 21:17–18.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 33:21–25 The reign of Amon (c. 642–640 B.C.). Cf. 2 Kings 21:19–26. See notes on 2 Kings 21:19–24.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 34:1–35:27 The reign of Josiah (c. 640–609 B.C.). Cf. 2 Kings 22:1–23:30. Jeremiah prophesied during this reign (2 Chron. 35:24; Jer. 1:2) as did Habakkuk, Zephaniah (Zeph. 1:1), and Nahum.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 34:1–2 See notes on 2 Kings 22:1–2. At the age of 16, Josiah began to cultivate a love for God in his heart, and by age 20 his character was strong enough in devotion to him that he went into action to purge his nation.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 34:3–7 See notes on 2 Kings 23:4–20.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 34:8 repair the house of the Lord. During the 55-year reign of Manasseh (33:1) and the two-year reign of Amon (33:21), the work of Hezekiah on the temple restoration was undone, which called for another extensive enterprise to “restore and repair” it (34:9–13).

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 34:8–13 See notes on 2 Kings 22:3–7.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 34:8–33 See notes on 2 Kings 22:8–23:20.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 34:33 All his days. This noble king had a life-long influence by the power of his godly life and firm devotion to God and his word. The strength of his character held the nation together serving the Lord. It started because as a young man he “began to seek . . . God” (cf. v. 3).

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 35:1–19 The chronicler, probably Ezra, gave much more attention to this Passover celebration than does 2 Kings 23:21–23.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 35:1–2 Obviously, the temple’s contents had been disturbed and the sacrifices/festivals interrupted by lack of attention, idolatrous practices, and foreign intervention. As Hezekiah had restored the Passover in his time (30:1ff.), so did Josiah. This was the central feast in devotion to the Lord (Ex. 12–13).

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 35:3 the holy ark. The ark of the covenant, which was to remain in the Most Holy Place, had been removed, probably by Manasseh who set a carved image in its place (cf. 33:7). The law for the carrying of the ark during the tabernacle days, when it was portable, called for poles to be placed through rings on the sides, and Levites (Kohathites) to carry it by the poles without touching it (cf. Ex. 25:14–15). Uzzah died for touching the ark while he was improperly transporting the ark on a cart (1 Chron. 13:6–10). Now that the temple was built and the ark had a permanent place, it no longer needed to be transported in the old way.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 35:6 Moses. See notes on Ex. 12–13. The prescribed pattern for the Passover in the temple was followed (2 Chron. 35:7–17).

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 35:18 such a Passover. Hezekiah's Passover (cf. ch. 30) differed. It was not celebrated strictly according to Mosaic law in that: 1) it was celebrated in the second month (30:2); 2) not all the people were purified (30:18); and 3) not all of the people came (30:10).

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 35:18–19 since . . . Samuel. C. 1100–1015 B.C. It had been over 400 years, since before all the kings of Israel and Judah.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 35:20–27 The details of Josiah's tragic death are given. When compared with the account in 2 Kings 23:28–30, the events become clearer. Toward the end of Josiah's reign, the Egyptian Pharaoh Neco (c. 609–594 B.C.) set out on a military expedition to aid the king of Assyria in a war at Carchemish, Assyria's latest capital, 250 miles northeast of Damascus on the bank of the Euphrates River. Fearing such an alliance would present future danger to Israel, Josiah decided to intercept Pharaoh Neco's army and fight to protect his nation. Coming from Egypt, likely by ship to Acco, a northern seaport in Israel, and by land up the coastal plain of Israel, the Egyptian army had landed and proceeded east to the plain of Megiddo (2 Chron. 35:22), i.e., Jezreel on the plain of Esdraelon. This was the most direct way to Carchemish. There Josiah met him for battle and was wounded by an arrow. He made it back to Jerusalem (60 miles south), where he died.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 35:21 God has commanded me. He is referring to the true God; whether he had a true revelation or not is unknown. Josiah had no way to know either, and it is apparent he did not believe that Neco spoke the word of God. There is no reason to assume his death was punishment for refusing to believe. He probably thought Neco was lying and, once victorious with Assyria over Babylon, they would together be back to assault Israel.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 35:25 There is no record of Jeremiah’s elegy. The people continued to mourn the loss of Josiah up to the writing of the Chronicles in 450–430 B.C., nearly 200 years after the event. In fact, the location of the battle, the town of Hadad-rimmon in the plain of Megiddo, was part of a proverb lamenting Josiah’s death even in Zechariah’s day (Zech. 12:11), 90 years later.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 36:1–4 The reign of Joahaz (c. 609 B.C.). Cf. 2 Kings 23:31–33. Jeremiah continued to prophesy during this reign (Jer. 1:3).

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 36:5–8 The reign of Jehoiakim, a.k.a. Eliakim (c. 609–597 B.C.; cf. 2 Kings 23:34–24:7). See notes on 2 Kings 23:34–24:7. Daniel was taken captive to Babylon in 605 B.C. Jeremiah prophesied during this reign (Jer. 1:3), and Habakkuk likely appeared on the scene at this time of kingly abominations.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 36:9–10 The reign of Jehoiachin (c. 597 B.C.). Cf. 2 Kings 24:8–16. See notes on 2 Kings 24:8–16. Ezekiel was taken captive to Babylon in 597 B.C. Jeremiah prophesied during this reign.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 36:9 eighteen years old*. Many Hebrew manuscripts say “eight years old,” but the esv translation is preferable, as stated in 2 Kings 24:8, because of the full development of his wickedness (see Ezekiel’s description of him in Ezek. 19:5–9).

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 36:11–21 The reign of Zedekiah, a.k.a. Mattaniah (c. 597–586 B.C.). Cf. 2 Kings 24:17–25:21 and Jer. 52:4–27. Jeremiah prophesied during this reign (Jer. 1:3) and wrote Lamentations to mourn the destruction of Jerusalem and the temple in 586 B.C. Ezekiel received his commission during this reign (Ezek. 1:1) and prophesied from 592 B.C. to his death in 560 B.C.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 36:11–20 See notes on 2 Kings 24:17–25:21.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 36:20 See notes on 2 Kings 25:22–30 for the fate of those who remained behind in Jerusalem.

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 36:21 Sabbaths. This suggests that the every seventh year Sabbath that God required for the land (Lev. 25:1–7) had not been kept for 490 years, dating back to the days of Eli, c. 1107–1067 B.C. (cf. 1 Sam. 1–4). Leviticus 26:27–46 warns of God’s judgment in general if this law were to be violated. Jeremiah 25:1–11 applied this judgment to Judah from 605 B.C. at the time of the first Babylonian deportation until 536 B.C. when the first Jews returned to Jerusalem and started to rebuild the temple (cf. Ezra 3:8).

2 CHRONICLES—NOTE ON 36:22–23 See notes on Ezra 1:1–3. The chronicler ended with a ray of hope because the 70 years were completed (cf. Dan. 9:1–2) and Abraham’s offspring were returning to the land to rebuild the temple.

Introduction to Ezra

Title

Even though Ezra's name does not enter the account of Judah's postexilic return to Jerusalem until 7:1, the book bears his name ("Jehovah helps") as a title. This is because both Jewish and Christian tradition attribute authorship to this famous scribe-priest. New Testament writers do not quote the book of Ezra.

Author and Date

Ezra is most likely the author of both Ezra and Nehemiah, which might have originally been one book. Ezra 4:8–6:18 and 7:12–26 are written in Aramaic. Although Ezra never states his authorship, internal arguments favor him strongly. After his arrival in Jerusalem (c. 458 B.C.), he changed from writing in the third person to writing in the first person. In the earlier section it is likely that he had used the third person because he was quoting his memoirs. Ezra is believed to possibly be the author of the books of the Chronicles. It would have been natural for the same author to continue the OT narrative by showing how God fulfilled his promise by returning his people to the land after 70 years of captivity. There is also a strong priestly tone in Chronicles, and Ezra was a priestly descendant of Aaron (cf. 7:1–5). The concluding verses of 2 Chronicles (2 Chron. 36:22–23) are virtually identical to the beginning verses of Ezra (Ezra 1:1–3a), affirming his authorship of both.

Ezra was a scribe who had access to the myriad of administrative documents found in Ezra and Nehemiah, especially those in the book of Ezra. Very few people would have been allowed access to the royal archives of the Persian Empire, but Ezra proved to be the exception (cf. Ezra 1:2–4; 4:9–22; 5:7–17; 6:3–12). His role as a scribe of the law is spelled out in 7:10: "For Ezra had set his heart to study the Law of the Lord, and to do it and to teach his statutes and rules in Israel." He was a strong and godly man who lived at the time of Nehemiah (cf. Neh. 8:1–9; 12:36). Tradition says he was founder of the Great Synagogue, where the complete OT canon was first formally recognized.

Ezra led the second return from Persia (c. 458 B.C.), so the completed book was written sometime in the next several decades (c. 457–444 B.C.).

Background and Setting

God had originally brought Israel out of the slave markets of Egypt in the exodus (c. 1445 B.C.). Hundreds of years later, before the events of Ezra, God told his people that if they chose to break their covenant with him, he would again allow other nations to take them into slavery (Jer. 2:14–25). In spite of God's repeated warnings from the mouths of his prophets, Israel and Judah chose to reject their Lord and to participate in the worship of foreign gods, in addition to committing the abominable practices that accompanied idolatry (cf. 2 Kings 17:7–18; Jer. 2:7–13). True to his promise, God brought the Assyrians and Babylonians to issue his chastisement upon wayward Israel and Judah.

In 722 B.C. the Assyrians deported the 10 northern tribes and scattered them all over their empire (cf. 2 Kings 17:24–41; Isa. 7:8). Several centuries later, in 605–586 B.C., God used the Babylonians to sack and nearly depopulate Jerusalem. Because Judah persisted in her unfaithfulness to the covenant, God chastened his people with 70 years of captivity (Jer. 25:11), from which they returned to Jerusalem as reported by Ezra and Nehemiah. Cyrus, the Persian, overthrew Babylon in 539 B.C., and the book of Ezra begins with the decree of Cyrus one year later for the Jews to return to Jerusalem (c. 538 B.C.). It chronicles the reestablishment of Judah's national calendar of feasts and sacrifices, including the rebuilding of the second temple (begun in 536 B.C. and completed in 516 B.C.).

As there had been three waves of deportation from Israel into Babylon (605 B.C., 597 B.C., and 586 B.C.), so there were actually three returns to Jerusalem over a nine-decade span. Zerubbabel first returned in 538 B.C. he was followed by Ezra, who led the second return in 458 B.C. Nehemiah did likewise 13 years later, in 445 B.C. Complete uncontested political autonomy, however, never returned. The prophets Haggai and Zechariah preached during Zerubbabel's time, about 520 B.C. and following.

Historical and Theological Themes

The Jews' return from the Babylonian captivity seemed like a second exodus, sovereignly patterned in some ways after Israel's first redemption from Egyptian bondage. The return trip from Babylon involved activities similar to those of the original exodus: 1) the rebuilding of the temple and the city walls; 2) the reinstitution of the law, which made Zerubbabel, Ezra, and Nehemiah collectively seem like a second Moses; 3) the challenge of the local enemies; and 4) the temptation to intermarry with non-Jews, resulting in idolatry. Other parallels between the original exodus and the return from Babylon must have seemed to the returnees like they were given a fresh start by God.

In his account of the return, Ezra drew upon a collection of Persian administrative documents to which he had access as a scribe. The presence of actual royal administrative documents carries a powerful message when accompanied by the resounding line “the hand of the Lord his/my God was on him/me” (7:6, 28). The decrees, proclamations, letters, lists, genealogies, and memoranda, many of them written by the Persian administration, attest to the sovereign hand of God in Israel’s restoration. The primary message of the book is that God orchestrated the past grim situation (captivity) and would continue to work through a pagan king and his successors to give Judah hope for the future (return). God’s administration overrides that of any of the kings of this world, and thus the book of Ezra is a message of God’s continuing covenant grace to Israel.

Another prominent theme that surfaces in Ezra is opposition from the local Samaritan residents whose ancestors had been imported from Assyria (4:2; cf. John 4:4–42). For reasons of spiritual sabotage, Israel’s enemies requested to participate in rebuilding the temple (Ezra 4:1–2). After being shunned, the enemies hired counselors against the Jews (cf. 4:4–5). But the Lord, through the preaching of Haggai and Zechariah, rekindled the spirit of the people and their leaders to build, with the words “be strong . . . Work, for I am with you” (Hag. 2:4; cf. Ezra 4:24–5:2). The reconstruction resumed (c. 520 B.C.) and the temple was soon finished, dedicated, and back in service to God (c. 516 B.C.).

Interpretive Challenges

First, how do the postexilic historical books of 1 and 2 Chronicles, Ezra, Nehemiah, and Esther relate to the postexilic prophets Haggai, Zechariah, and Malachi? For the chronology of Ezra, Nehemiah, and Esther, see the notes on Ezra 6:22–7:1. The two books of Chronicles were written by Ezra as a reminder of the promised Davidic kingship, the Aaronic priesthood, and appropriate temple worship. Haggai and Zechariah prophesied in the period of Ezra 4–6 when temple construction was resumed. Malachi wrote during Nehemiah’s revisit to Persia (cf. Neh. 13:6).

Second, what purpose does the book serve? Ezra historically reports the first two of three postexilic returns to Jerusalem from the Babylonian captivity. The first return (chs. 1–6) was under Zerubbabel (c. 538 B.C.) and the second (chs. 7–10) was led by Ezra himself (c. 458 B.C.). Spiritually, Ezra reestablished the importance of the Aaronic priesthood by tracing his ancestry to Eleazar, Phinehas, and Zadok (cf. Ezra 7:1–5). He reported on the rebuilding of the second temple (chs. 3–6). How he dealt with the gross sin of intermarriage with foreigners is presented in chs. 9–10. Most important, he reports how the sovereign hand of God moved kings and overcame varied opposition to reestablish Israel as Abraham’s seed, nationally and individually, in the land promised to Abraham, David, and Jeremiah.

Third, the temple was built during the reign of Cyrus. Mention of Ahasuerus (4:6) and Artaxerxes (4:7–23) might lead one to conclude that the temple could also have been built during their reigns. Such a conclusion, however, violates history. Ezra was not writing about the construction accomplishments of Ahasuerus or Artaxerxes, but rather he continued to chronicle their oppositions after the temple was built, which continued even to Ezra’s day. It is apparent, then, that Ezra 4:1–5 and 4:24–5:2 deal with rebuilding the temple under Zerubbabel, while 4:6–23 is a parenthesis recounting the history of opposition in the times of Ezra and Nehemiah.

Fourth, the interpreter must decide where Esther fits in to the time of Ezra. A careful examination indicates it took place between the events of chs. 6 and 7. See notes on Esther.

Fifth, how does divorce in Ezra 10 correlate with the fact that God hates divorce (Mal. 2:16)? Ezra does not establish the norm, but rather deals with a special case in history. It seems to have been decided (Ezra 10:3) on the principle that the lesser wrong (divorce) would be preferable to the greater wrong of the Jewish race being polluted by intermarriage, so that the nation and the messianic line of David would not be ended by being mingled with Gentiles. To solve the problem this way magnifies the mercy of God in that the only other solution would have been to kill all of those involved (husband, wives, and children) by stoning, as was done during the first exodus at Shittim (Num. 25:1–9).

The Proclamation of Cyrus

EZRA 1 †† In the first year of Cyrus king of Persia, that the word of the LORD by the mouth of Jeremiah might be fulfilled, the LORD stirred up the spirit of Cyrus king of Persia, so that he made a proclamation throughout all his kingdom and also put it in writing:

<sup>2</sup>†† “Thus says Cyrus king of Persia: The LORD, the God of heaven, has given me all the kingdoms of the earth, and he has charged me to build him a house at Jerusalem, which is in Judah. <sup>3</sup>Whoever is among you of all his people, may his God be with him, and let him go up to Jerusalem, which is in Judah, and rebuild the house of the LORD, the God of Israel—he is the God who is in Jerusalem. <sup>4</sup>And let each survivor, in whatever place he sojourns, be assisted by the men of his place with silver and gold, with goods and with beasts, besides freewill offerings for the house of God that is in Jerusalem.”

<sup>5</sup>† Then rose up the heads of the fathers' houses of Judah and Benjamin, and the priests and the Levites, everyone whose spirit God had stirred to go up to rebuild the house of the LORD that is in Jerusalem. <sup>6</sup>† And all who were about them aided them with vessels of silver, with gold, with goods, with beasts, and with costly wares, besides all that was freely offered. <sup>7</sup>† Cyrus the king also brought out the vessels of the house of the LORD that Nebuchadnezzar had carried away from Jerusalem and placed in the house of his gods. <sup>8</sup>† Cyrus king of Persia brought these out in the charge of Mithredath the treasurer, who counted them out to Sheshbazzar the prince of Judah. <sup>9</sup>† And this was the number of them: 30 basins of gold, 1,000 basins of silver, 29 censers, <sup>10</sup>30 bowls of gold, 410 bowls of silver, and 1,000 other vessels; <sup>11</sup>† all the vessels of gold and of silver were 5,400. All these did Sheshbazzar bring up, when the exiles were brought up from Babylonia to Jerusalem.

The Exiles Return

the sons of Harhur, <sup>52</sup>the sons of Bazluth, the sons of Mehida, the sons of Harsha, <sup>53</sup>the sons of Barkos, the sons of Sisera, the sons of Temah, <sup>54</sup>the sons of Neziah, and the sons of Hatipha.

<sup>55</sup>‡The sons of Solomon's servants: the sons of Sotai, the sons of Hassophereth, the sons of Peruda, <sup>56</sup>the sons of Jaalah, the sons of Darkon, the sons of Giddel, <sup>57</sup>the sons of Shephatiah, the sons of Hattil, the sons of Pochereth-hazzebaim, and the sons of Ami.

<sup>58</sup>All the temple servants and the sons of Solomon's servants were 392.

<sup>64</sup>‡The whole assembly together was 42,360, <sup>65</sup>besides their male and female servants, of whom there were 7,337, and they had 200 male and female singers. <sup>66</sup>Their horses were 736, their mules were 245, <sup>67</sup>their camels were 435, and their donkeys were 6,720.

<sup>68</sup>Some of the heads of families, when they came to the house of the LORD that is in Jerusalem, made freewill offerings for the house of God, to erect it on its site.

<sup>69</sup>‡According to their ability they gave to the treasury of the work 61,000 darics [1] of gold, 5,000 minas [2] of silver, and 100 priests' garments.

<sup>70</sup>‡Now the priests, the Levites, some of the people, the singers, the gatekeepers, and the temple servants lived in their towns, and all the rest of Israel [3] in their towns.

Rebuilding the Altar

EZRA 3 †† When the seventh month came, and the children of Israel were in the towns, the people gathered as one man to Jerusalem. † Then arose Jeshua the son of Jozadak, with his fellow priests, and Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel with his kinsmen, and they built the altar of the God of Israel, to offer burnt offerings on it, as it is written in the Law of Moses the man of God. † They set the altar in its place, for fear was on them because of the peoples of the lands, and they offered burnt offerings on it to the LORD, burnt offerings morning and evening. † And they kept the Feast of Booths, as it is written, and offered the daily burnt offerings by number according to the rule, as each day required, † and after that the regular burnt offerings, the offerings at the new moon and at all the appointed feasts of the LORD, and the offerings of everyone who made a freewill offering to the LORD. † From the first day of the seventh month they began to offer burnt offerings to the LORD. But the foundation of the temple of the LORD was not yet laid. † So they gave money to the masons and the carpenters, and food, drink, and oil to the Sidonians and the Tyrians to bring cedar trees from Lebanon to the sea, to Joppa, according to the grant that they had from Cyrus king of Persia.

Rebuilding the Temple

† Now in the second year after their coming to the house of God at Jerusalem, in the second month, Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel and Jeshua the son of Jozadak made a beginning, together with the rest of their kinsmen, the priests and the Levites and all who had come to Jerusalem from the captivity. They appointed the Levites, from twenty years old and upward, to supervise the work of the house of the LORD. † And Jeshua with his sons and his brothers, and Kadmiel and his sons, the sons of Judah, together supervised the workmen in the house of God, along with the sons of Henadad and the Levites, their sons and brothers.

† And when the builders laid the foundation of the temple of the LORD, the priests in their vestments came forward with trumpets, and the Levites, the sons of Asaph, with cymbals, to praise the LORD, according to the directions of David king of Israel. † And they sang responsively, praising and giving thanks to the LORD,

“For he is good, for his steadfast love endures forever toward Israel.”

And all the people shouted with a great shout when they praised the LORD, because the foundation of the house of the LORD was laid. <sup>12</sup>† But many of the priests and Levites and heads of fathers' houses, old men who had seen the first house, wept with a loud voice when they saw the foundation of this house being laid, though many shouted aloud for joy, <sup>13</sup>so that the people could not distinguish the sound of the joyful shout from the sound of the people's weeping, for the people shouted with a great shout, and the sound was heard far away.

Adversaries Oppose the Rebuilding

EZRA 4 †Now when the adversaries of Judah and Benjamin heard that the returned exiles were building a temple to the LORD, the God of Israel, <sup>2</sup>†they approached Zerubbabel and the heads of fathers' houses and said to them, “Let us build with you, for we worship your God as you do, and we have been sacrificing to him ever since the days of Esarhaddon king of Assyria who brought us here.” <sup>3</sup>†But Zerubbabel, Jeshua, and the rest of the heads of fathers' houses in Israel said to them, “You have nothing to do with us in building a house to our God; but we alone will build to the LORD, the God of Israel, as King Cyrus the king of Persia has commanded us.”

<sup>4</sup>Then the people of the land discouraged the people of Judah and made them afraid to build <sup>5</sup>†and bribed counselors against them to frustrate their purpose, all the days of Cyrus king of Persia, even until the reign of Darius king of Persia.

<sup>6</sup>††And in the reign of Ahasuerus, in the beginning of his reign, they wrote an accusation against the inhabitants of Judah and Jerusalem.

The Letter to King Artaxerxes

<sup>7</sup>†In the days of Artaxerxes, Bishlam and Mithredath and Tabeel and the rest of their associates wrote to Artaxerxes king of Persia. The letter was written in Aramaic and translated. [1] <sup>8</sup>†Rehum the commander and Shimshai the scribe wrote a letter against Jerusalem to Artaxerxes the king as follows: <sup>9</sup>Rehum the commander, Shimshai the scribe, and the rest of their associates, the judges, the governors, the officials, the Persians, the men of Erech, the Babylonians, the men of Susa, that is, the Elamites, <sup>10</sup>†and the rest of the nations whom the great and noble Osnappar deported and settled in the cities of Samaria and in the rest of the province Beyond the River. <sup>11</sup>†(This is a copy of the letter that they sent.) “To Artaxerxes the king: Your servants, the men of the province Beyond the River, send greeting. And now <sup>12</sup>†be it known to the king that the Jews who came up from you to us have gone to Jerusalem. They are rebuilding that rebellious and wicked city. They are finishing the walls and repairing the foundations. <sup>13</sup>†Now be it known to the king that if this city is rebuilt and the walls finished, they will not pay tribute, custom, or toll, and the royal revenue will be impaired. <sup>14</sup>Now because we eat the salt of the palace and it is not fitting for us to witness the king's dishonor, therefore we send and inform the king, <sup>15</sup>‡in order that search may be made in the book of the records of your fathers. You will find in the book of the records and learn that this city is a rebellious city, hurtful to kings and provinces, and that sedition was stirred up in it from of old. That was why this city was laid waste. <sup>16</sup>We make known to the king that if this city is rebuilt and its walls finished, you will then have no possession in the province Beyond the River.”

The King Orders the Work to Cease

<sup>17</sup>The king sent an answer: “To Rehum the commander and Shimshai the scribe and the rest of their associates who live in Samaria and in the rest of the province Beyond the River, greeting. And now <sup>18</sup>the letter that you sent to us has been plainly read before me. <sup>19</sup>‡And I made a decree, and search has been made, and it has been found that this city from of old has risen against kings, and that rebellion and sedition have been made in it. <sup>20</sup>And mighty kings have been over Jerusalem, who ruled over the whole province Beyond the River, to whom tribute, custom, and toll were paid. <sup>21</sup>‡Therefore make a decree that these men be made to cease, and that this city be not rebuilt, until a decree is made by me. <sup>22</sup>And take care not to be slack in this matter. Why should damage grow to the hurt of the king?”

<sup>23</sup>‡Then, when the copy of King Artaxerxes' letter was read before Rehum and Shimshai the scribe and their associates, they went in haste to the Jews at Jerusalem and by force and power made them cease. <sup>24</sup>‡Then the work on the house of God that is in Jerusalem stopped, and it ceased until the second year of the reign of Darius king of Persia.

Rebuilding Begins Anew

EZRA 5 †Now the prophets, Haggai and Zechariah the son of Iddo, prophesied to the Jews who were in Judah and Jerusalem, in the name of the God of Israel who was over them. †Then Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel and Jeshua the son of Jozadak arose and began to rebuild the house of God that is in Jerusalem, and the prophets of God were with them, supporting them.

†At the same time Tattenai the governor of the province Beyond the River and Shethar-bozenai and their associates came to them and spoke to them thus: “Who gave you a decree to build this house and to finish this structure?”
†They [1] also asked them this: “What are the names of the men who are building this building?” †But the eye of their God was on the elders of the Jews, and they did not stop them until the report should reach Darius and then an answer be returned by letter concerning it.

Tattenai's Letter to King Darius

†This is a copy of the letter that Tattenai the governor of the province Beyond the River and Shethar-bozenai and his associates, the governors who were in the province Beyond the River, sent to Darius the king. †They sent him a report, in which was written as follows: “To Darius the king, all peace. †Be it known to the king that we went to the province of Judah, to the house of the great God. It is being built with huge stones, and timber is laid in the walls. This work goes on diligently and prospers in their hands. †Then we asked those elders and spoke to them thus: ‘Who gave you a decree to build this house and to finish this structure?’ †We also asked them their names, for your information, that we might write down the names of their leaders. [2] †And this was their reply to us: ‘We are the servants of the God of heaven and earth, and we are rebuilding the house that was built many years ago, which a great king of Israel built and finished. †But because our fathers had angered the God of heaven, he gave them into the hand of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, the Chaldean, who destroyed this house and carried away the people to Babylonia. †However, in the first year of Cyrus king of Babylon, Cyrus the king made a decree that this house of God should be rebuilt. †And the gold and silver vessels of the house of God, which Nebuchadnezzar had taken out of the temple that was in Jerusalem and brought into the temple of Babylon, these Cyrus the king took out of the temple of Babylon, and they were delivered to one whose name was Sheshbazzar, whom he had made governor; <sup>15</sup>and he said to him, “Take these vessels, go and put them in the temple that is in Jerusalem, and let the house of God be rebuilt on its site.” <sup>16</sup>Then this Sheshbazzar came and laid the foundations of the house of God that is in Jerusalem, and from that time until now it has been in building, and it is not yet finished.’ <sup>17</sup>Therefore, if it seems good to the king, let search be made in the royal archives there in Babylon, to see whether a decree was issued by Cyrus the king for the rebuilding of this house of God in Jerusalem. And let the king send us his pleasure in this matter.”

The Decree of Darius

EZRA 6 †Then Darius the king made a decree, and search was made in Babylonia, in the house of the archives where the documents were stored. †And in Ecbatana, the capital that is in the province of Media, a scroll was found on which this was written: “A record. †In the first year of Cyrus the king, Cyrus the king issued a decree: Concerning the house of God at Jerusalem, let the house be rebuilt, the place where sacrifices were offered, and let its foundations be retained. Its height shall be sixty cubits [1] and its breadth sixty cubits, †with three layers of great stones and one layer of timber. Let the cost be paid from the royal treasury. †And also let the gold and silver vessels of the house of God, which Nebuchadnezzar took out of the temple that is in Jerusalem and brought to Babylon, be restored and brought back to the temple that is in Jerusalem, each to its place. You shall put them in the house of God.”

†“Now therefore, Tattenai, governor of the province Beyond the River, Shethar-bozenai, and your associates the governors who are in the province Beyond the River, keep away. †Let the work on this house of God alone. Let the governor of the Jews and the elders of the Jews rebuild this house of God on its site. †Moreover, I make a decree regarding what you shall do for these elders of the Jews for the rebuilding of this house of God. The cost is to be paid to these men in full and without delay from the royal revenue, the tribute of the province from Beyond the River. †And whatever is needed—bulls, rams, or sheep for burnt offerings to the God of heaven, wheat, salt, wine, or oil, as the priests at Jerusalem require—let that be given to them day by day without fail, †that they may offer pleasing sacrifices to the God of heaven and pray for the life of the king and his sons. †Also I make a decree that if anyone alters this edict, a beam shall be pulled out of his house, and he shall be impaled on it, and his house shall be made a dunghill. †May the God who has caused his name to dwell there overthrow any king or people who shall put out a hand to alter this, or to destroy this house of God that is in Jerusalem. I Darius make a decree; let it be done with all diligence.”

The Temple Finished and Dedicated

†Then, according to the word sent by Darius the king, Tattenai, the governor of the province Beyond the River, Shethar-bozenai, and their associates did with all diligence what Darius the king had ordered. †And the elders of the Jews built and prospered through the prophesying of Haggai the prophet and Zechariah the son of Iddo. They finished their building by decree of the God of Israel and by decree of Cyrus and Darius and Artaxerxes king of Persia; <sup>15</sup>†and this house was finished on the third day of the month of Adar, in the sixth year of the reign of Darius the king.

<sup>16</sup>And the people of Israel, the priests and the Levites, and the rest of the returned exiles, celebrated the dedication of this house of God with joy. <sup>17</sup>They offered at the dedication of this house of God 100 bulls, 200 rams, 400 lambs, and as a sin offering for all Israel 12 male goats, according to the number of the tribes of Israel. <sup>18</sup>†And they set the priests in their divisions and the Levites in their divisions, for the service of God at Jerusalem, as it is written in the Book of Moses.

Passover Celebrated

<sup>19</sup>†On the fourteenth day of the first month, the returned exiles kept the Passover. <sup>20</sup>For the priests and the Levites had purified themselves together; all of them were clean. So they slaughtered the Passover lamb for all the returned exiles, for their fellow priests, and for themselves. <sup>21</sup>†It was eaten by the people of Israel who had returned from exile, and also by every one who had joined them and separated himself from the uncleanness of the peoples of the land to worship the LORD, the God of Israel. <sup>22</sup>††And they kept the Feast of Unleavened Bread seven days with joy, for the LORD had made them joyful and had turned the heart of the king of Assyria to them, so that he aided them in the work of the house of God, the God of Israel.

Ezra Sent to Teach the People

EZRA 7 †† Now after this, in the reign of Artaxerxes king of Persia, Ezra the son of Seraiah, son of Azariah, son of Hilkiah, <sup>2</sup>son of Shallum, son of Zadok, son of Ahitub, <sup>3</sup>son of Amariah, son of Azariah, son of Meraioth, <sup>4</sup>son of Zerariah, son of Uzzi, son of Bukki, <sup>5</sup>son of Abishua, son of Phinehas, son of Eleazar, son of Aaron the chief priest— <sup>6</sup>† this Ezra went up from Babylonia. He was a scribe skilled in the Law of Moses that the LORD, the God of Israel, had given, and the king granted him all that he asked, for the hand of the LORD his God was on him.

<sup>7</sup>† And there went up also to Jerusalem, in the seventh year of Artaxerxes the king, some of the people of Israel, and some of the priests and Levites, the singers and gatekeepers, and the temple servants. <sup>8</sup>† And Ezra [1] came to Jerusalem in the fifth month, which was in the seventh year of the king. <sup>9</sup> For on the first day of the first month he began to go up from Babylonia, and on the first day of the fifth month he came to Jerusalem, for the good hand of his God was on him. <sup>10</sup>† For Ezra had set his heart to study the Law of the LORD, and to do it and to teach his statutes and rules in Israel.

<sup>11</sup>† This is a copy of the letter that King Artaxerxes gave to Ezra the priest, the scribe, a man learned in matters of the commandments of the LORD and his statutes for Israel: <sup>12</sup>†† “Artaxerxes, king of kings, to Ezra the priest, the scribe of the Law of the God of heaven. Peace. [2] And now <sup>13</sup>I make a decree that anyone of the people of Israel or their priests or Levites in my kingdom, who freely offers to go to Jerusalem, may go with you. <sup>14</sup>† For you are sent by the king and his seven counselors to make inquiries about Judah and Jerusalem according to the Law of your God, which is in your hand, <sup>15</sup>and also to carry the silver and gold that the king and his counselors have freely offered to the God of Israel, whose dwelling is in Jerusalem, <sup>16</sup>with all the silver and gold that you shall find in the whole province of Babylonia, and with the freewill offerings of the people and the priests, vowed willingly for the house of their God that is in Jerusalem. <sup>17</sup>† With this money, then, you shall with all diligence buy bulls, rams, and lambs, with their grain offerings and their drink offerings, and you shall offer them on the altar of the house of your God that is in Jerusalem. <sup>18</sup> Whatever seems good to you and your brothers to do with the rest of the silver and gold, you may do, according to the will of your God. <sup>19</sup> The vessels that have been given you for the service of the house of your God, you shall deliver before the God of Jerusalem. <sup>20</sup> And whatever else is required for the house of your God, which it falls to you to provide, you may provide it out of the king's treasury.

<sup>21</sup>“And I, Artaxerxes the king, make a decree to all the treasurers in the province Beyond the River: Whatever Ezra the priest, the scribe of the Law of the God of heaven, requires of you, let it be done with all diligence, <sup>22</sup>†up to 100 talents [3] of silver, 100 cors [4] of wheat, 100 baths [5] of wine, 100 baths of oil, and salt without prescribing how much. <sup>23</sup>Whatever is decreed by the God of heaven, let it be done in full for the house of the God of heaven, lest his wrath be against the realm of the king and his sons. <sup>24</sup>We also notify you that it shall not be lawful to impose tribute, custom, or toll on anyone of the priests, the Levites, the singers, the doorkeepers, the temple servants, or other servants of this house of God.

<sup>25</sup>†“And you, Ezra, according to the wisdom of your God that is in your hand, appoint magistrates and judges who may judge all the people in the province Beyond the River, all such as know the laws of your God. And those who do not know them, you shall teach. <sup>26</sup>Whoever will not obey the law of your God and the law of the king, let judgment be strictly executed on him, whether for death or for banishment or for confiscation of his goods or for imprisonment.”

<sup>27</sup>Blessed be the LORD, the God of our fathers, who put such a thing as this into the heart of the king, to beautify the house of the LORD that is in Jerusalem, <sup>28</sup>and who extended to me his steadfast love before the king and his counselors, and before all the king's mighty officers. I took courage, for the hand of the LORD my God was on me, and I gathered leading men from Israel to go up with me.

Genealogy of Those Who Returned with Ezra

EZRA 8 †These are the heads of their fathers' houses, and this is the genealogy of those who went up with me from Babylonia, in the reign of Artaxerxes the king: <sup>2</sup>Of the sons of Phinehas, Gershom. Of the sons of Ithamar, Daniel. Of the sons of David, Hattush. <sup>3</sup>Of the sons of Shecaniah, who was of the sons of Parosh, Zechariah, with whom were registered 150 men. <sup>4</sup>Of the sons of Pahath-moab, Eliehoenai the son of Zerahiah, and with him 200 men. <sup>5</sup>Of the sons of Zattu, [1] Shecaniah the son of Jahaziel, and with him 300 men. <sup>6</sup>Of the sons of Adin, Ebed the son of Jonathan, and with him 50 men. <sup>7</sup>Of the sons of Elam, Jeshaiiah the son of Athaliah, and with him 70 men. <sup>8</sup>Of the sons of Shephatiah, Zebadiah the son of Michael, and with him 80 men. <sup>9</sup>Of the sons of Joab, Obadiah the son of Jehiel, and with him 218 men. <sup>10</sup>Of the sons of Bani, [2] Shelomith the son of Josiphiah, and with him 160 men. <sup>11</sup>Of the sons of Bebai, Zechariah, the son of Bebai, and with him 28 men. <sup>12</sup>Of the sons of Azgad, Johanan the son of Hakkatan, and with him 110 men. <sup>13</sup>Of the sons of Adonikam, those who came later, their names being Eliphelet, Jeuel, and Shemaiah, and with them 60 men. <sup>14</sup>Of the sons of Bigvai, Uthai and Zaccur, and with them 70 men.

Ezra Sends for Levites

<sup>15</sup>†I gathered them to the river that runs to Ahava, and there we camped three days. As I reviewed the people and the priests, I found there none of the sons of Levi. <sup>16</sup>Then I sent for Eliezer, Ariel, Shemaiah, Elnathan, Jarib, Elnathan, Nathan, Zechariah, and Meshullam, leading men, and for Joiarib and Elnathan, who were men of insight, <sup>17</sup>and sent them to Iddo, the leading man at the place Casiphia, telling them what to say to Iddo and his brothers and [3] the temple servants at the place Casiphia, namely, to send us ministers for the house of our God. <sup>18</sup>And by the good hand of our God on us, they brought us a man of discretion, of the sons of Mahli the son of Levi, son of Israel, namely Sherebiah with his sons and kinsmen, 18; <sup>19</sup>also Hashabiah, and with him Jeshaiiah of the sons of Merari, with his kinsmen and their sons, 20; <sup>20</sup>besides 220 of the temple servants, whom David and his officials had set apart to attend the Levites. These were all mentioned by name.

Fasting and Prayer for Protection

<sup>21</sup>†Then I proclaimed a fast there, at the river Ahava, that we might humble ourselves before our God, to seek from him a safe journey for ourselves, our children, and all our goods. <sup>22</sup>For I was ashamed to ask the king for a band of soldiers and horsemen to protect us against the enemy on our way, since we had told the king, “The hand of our God is for good on all who seek him, and the power of his wrath is against all who forsake him.” <sup>23</sup>So we fasted and implored our God for this, and he listened to our entreaty.

Priests to Guard Offerings

<sup>24</sup>Then I set apart twelve of the leading priests: Sherebiah, Hashabiah, and ten of their kinsmen with them. <sup>25</sup>And I weighed out to them the silver and the gold and the vessels, the offering for the house of our God that the king and his counselors and his lords and all Israel there present had offered. <sup>26</sup>†I weighed out into their hand 650 talents [4] of silver, and silver vessels worth 200 talents, [5] and 100 talents of gold, <sup>27</sup>†20 bowls of gold worth 1,000 darics, [6] and two vessels of fine bright bronze as precious as gold. <sup>28</sup>And I said to them, “You are holy to the LORD, and the vessels are holy, and the silver and the gold are a freewill offering to the LORD, the God of your fathers. <sup>29</sup>Guard them and keep them until you weigh them before the chief priests and the Levites and the heads of fathers' houses in Israel at Jerusalem, within the chambers of the house of the LORD.” <sup>30</sup>So the priests and the Levites took over the weight of the silver and the gold and the vessels, to bring them to Jerusalem, to the house of our God.

<sup>31</sup>†Then we departed from the river Ahava on the twelfth day of the first month, to go to Jerusalem. The hand of our God was on us, and he delivered us from the hand of the enemy and from ambushes by the way. <sup>32</sup>We came to Jerusalem, and there we remained three days. <sup>33</sup>On the fourth day, within the house of our God, the silver and the gold and the vessels were weighed into the hands of Meremoth the priest, son of Uriah, and with him was Eleazar the son of Phinehas, and with them were the Levites, Jozabad the son of Jeshua and Noadiah the son of Binnui. <sup>34</sup>†The whole was counted and weighed, and the weight of everything was recorded.

<sup>35</sup>At that time those who had come from captivity, the returned exiles, offered burnt offerings to the God of Israel, twelve bulls for all Israel, ninety-six rams, seventy-seven lambs, and as a sin offering twelve male goats. All this was a burnt offering to the LORD. <sup>36</sup>†They also delivered the king's commissions to the king's satraps [7] and to the governors of the province Beyond the River, and they aided the people and the house of God.

Ezra Prays About Intermarriage

EZRA 9 †After these things had been done, the officials approached me and said, “The people of Israel and the priests and the Levites have not separated themselves from the peoples of the lands with their abominations, from the Canaanites, the Hittites, the Perizzites, the Jebusites, the Ammonites, the Moabites, the Egyptians, and the Amorites. <sup>2</sup>†For they have taken some of their daughters to be wives for themselves and for their sons, so that the holy race [1] has mixed itself with the peoples of the lands. And in this faithlessness the hand of the officials and chief men has been foremost.” <sup>3</sup>†As soon as I heard this, I tore my garment and my cloak and pulled hair from my head and beard and sat appalled. <sup>4</sup>†Then all who trembled at the words of the God of Israel, because of the faithlessness of the returned exiles, gathered around me while I sat appalled until the evening sacrifice. <sup>5</sup>†And at the evening sacrifice I rose from my fasting, with my garment and my cloak torn, and fell upon my knees and spread out my hands to the LORD my God, <sup>6</sup>saying: “O my God, I am ashamed and blush to lift my face to you, my God, for our iniquities have risen higher than our heads, and our guilt has mounted up to the heavens. <sup>7</sup>From the days of our fathers to this day we have been in great guilt. And for our iniquities we, our kings, and our priests have been given into the hand of the kings of the lands, to the sword, to captivity, to plundering, and to utter shame, as it is today. <sup>8</sup>††But now for a brief moment favor has been shown by the LORD our God, to leave us a remnant and to give us a secure hold [2] within his holy place, that our God may brighten our eyes and grant us a little reviving in our slavery. <sup>9</sup>†For we are slaves. Yet our God has not forsaken us in our slavery, but has extended to us his steadfast love before the kings of Persia, to grant us some reviving to set up the house of our God, to repair its ruins, and to give us protection [3] in Judea and Jerusalem.

<sup>10</sup>†“And now, O our God, what shall we say after this? For we have forsaken your commandments, <sup>11</sup>which you commanded by your servants the prophets, saying, ‘The land that you are entering, to take possession of it, is a land impure with the impurity of the peoples of the lands, with their abominations that have filled it from end to end with their uncleanness. <sup>12</sup>Therefore do not give your daughters to their sons, neither take their daughters for your sons, and never seek their peace or prosperity, that you may be strong and eat the good of the land and leave it for an inheritance to your children forever.’ <sup>13</sup>†And after all that has come upon us for our evil deeds and for our great guilt, seeing that you, our God, have punished us less than our iniquities deserved and have given us such a remnant as this, <sup>14</sup>† shall we break your commandments again and intermarry with the peoples who practice these abominations? Would you not be angry with us until you consumed us, so that there should be no remnant, nor any to escape? <sup>15</sup>† O LORD, the God of Israel, you are just, for we are left a remnant that has escaped, as it is today. Behold, we are before you in our guilt, for none can stand before you because of this.”

The People Confess Their Sin

EZRA 10 †While Ezra prayed and made confession, weeping and casting himself down before the house of God, a very great assembly of men, women, and children, gathered to him out of Israel, for the people wept bitterly. †And Shecaniah the son of Jehiel, of the sons of Elam, addressed Ezra: “We have broken faith with our God and have married foreign women from the peoples of the land, but even now there is hope for Israel in spite of this. †Therefore let us make a covenant with our God to put away all these wives and their children, according to the counsel of my lord [1] and of those who tremble at the commandment of our God, and let it be done according to the Law. †Arise, for it is your task, and we are with you; be strong and do it.” †Then Ezra arose and made the leading priests and Levites and all Israel take oath that they would do as had been said. So they took the oath.

†Then Ezra withdrew from before the house of God and went to the chamber of Jehohanan the son of Eliashib, where he spent the night, [2] neither eating bread nor drinking water, for he was mourning over the faithlessness of the exiles. †And a proclamation was made throughout Judah and Jerusalem to all the returned exiles that they should assemble at Jerusalem, †and that if anyone did not come within three days, by order of the officials and the elders all his property should be forfeited, and he himself banned from the congregation of the exiles.

†Then all the men of Judah and Benjamin assembled at Jerusalem within the three days. It was the ninth month, on the twentieth day of the month. And all the people sat in the open square before the house of God, trembling because of this matter and because of the heavy rain. †And Ezra the priest stood up and said to them, “You have broken faith and married foreign women, and so increased the guilt of Israel. †Now then make confession to the LORD, the God of your fathers and do his will. Separate yourselves from the peoples of the land and from the foreign wives.” †Then all the assembly answered with a loud voice, “It is so; we must do as you have said. †But the people are many, and it is a time of heavy rain; we cannot stand in the open. Nor is this a task for one day or for two, for we have greatly transgressed in this matter. †Let our officials stand for the whole assembly. Let all in our cities who have taken foreign wives come at appointed times, and with them the elders and judges of every city, until the fierce wrath of our God over this matter is turned away from us.” †Only Jonathan the son of Asahel and Jahzeiah the son of Tikvah opposed this, and Meshullam and Shabbethai the Levite supported them.

<sup>16</sup>‡ Then the returned exiles did so. Ezra the priest selected men, [3] heads of fathers' houses, according to their fathers' houses, each of them designated by name. On the first day of the tenth month they sat down to examine the matter; <sup>17</sup> and by the first day of the first month they had come to the end of all the men who had married foreign women.

Those Guilty of Intermarriage

<sup>18</sup>‡‡ Now there were found some of the sons of the priests who had married foreign women: Maaseiah, Eliezer, Jarib, and Gedaliah, some of the sons of Jeshua the son of Jozadak and his brothers. <sup>19</sup> They pledged themselves to put away their wives, and their guilt offering was a ram of the flock for their guilt. [4] <sup>20</sup> Of the sons of Immer: Hanani and Zebadiah. <sup>21</sup> Of the sons of Harim: Maaseiah, Elijah, Shemaiah, Jehiel, and Uziah. <sup>22</sup> Of the sons of Pashhur: Elioenai, Maaseiah, Ishmael, Nethanel, Jozabad, and Elasa.

<sup>25</sup> And of Israel: of the sons of Parosh: Ramiah, Izziah, Malchijah, Mijamin, Eleazar, Hashabiah, [5] and Benaiah. <sup>26</sup> Of the sons of Elam: Mattaniah, Zechariah, Jehiel, Abdi, Jeremoth, and Elijah. <sup>27</sup> Of the sons of Zattu: Elioenai, Eliashib, Mattaniah, Jeremoth, Zabad, and Aziza. <sup>28</sup> Of the sons of Bebai were Jehohanan, Hananiah, Zabbai, and Athlai. <sup>29</sup> Of the sons of Bani were Meshullam, Malluch, Adaiah, Jashub, Sheal, and Jeremoth. <sup>30</sup> Of the sons of Pahath-moab: Adna, Chelal, Benaiah, Maaseiah, Mattaniah, Bezalel, Binnui, and Manasseh. <sup>31</sup> Of the sons of Harim: Eliezer, Isshijah, Malchijah, Shemaiah, Shimeon, <sup>32</sup> Benjamin, Malluch, and Shemariah. <sup>33</sup> Of the sons of Hashum: Mattenai, Mattattah, Zabad, Eliphelet, Jeremai, Manasseh, and Shimei. <sup>34</sup> Of the sons of Bani: Maadai, Amram, Uel, <sup>35</sup> Benaiah, Bedeiah, Cheluhi, <sup>36</sup> Vaniah, Meremoth, Eliashib, <sup>37</sup> Mattaniah, Mattenai, Jaasu. <sup>38</sup> Of the sons of Binnui: [6] Shimei, <sup>39</sup> Shelemiah, Nathan, Adaiah, <sup>40</sup> Machnadebai, Shashai, Sharai, <sup>41</sup> Azarel, Shelemiah, Shemariah, <sup>42</sup> Shallum, Amariah, and Joseph. <sup>43</sup> Of the sons of Nebo: Jeiel, Mattithiah, Zabad, Zebina, Jaddai, Joel, and Benaiah. <sup>44</sup> ‡ All these had married foreign women, and some of the women had even borne children. # Study Notes

EZRA—NOTE ON 1:1–3a These verses are almost identical to 2 Chron. 36:22–23. The preexilic history of 1 and 2 Chronicles gave the postexilic returnees direction regarding the Davidic kingship, the Aaronic priesthood, and temple worship. This book continues the story.

EZRA—NOTE ON 1:1 first year. C. 538 B.C. Cyrus king of Persia. C. 550–530 B.C. The Lord had prophesied through Isaiah, who said of Cyrus, “He is my shepherd,” and declares of Jerusalem, “She will be built,” and to the temple, “Your foundation shall be laid” (Isa. 44:28). The historian Josephus records an account of the day when Daniel read Isaiah’s prophecy to Cyrus, and in response he was moved to declare the proclamation of Ezra 1:2–4 (538 B.C.). by the mouth of Jeremiah. Jeremiah had prophesied the return of the exiles after a 70-year captivity in Babylon (Jer. 25:11; 29:10–14; cf. Dan. 9:2). This was no isolated event, but rather an outworking of the covenant promises made to Abraham in Gen. 12:1–3. the Lord stirred up. A strong expression of the fact that God sovereignly works in the lives of kings to effect his purposes (Prov. 21:1; Dan. 2:21; 4:17). made a proclamation. This was the most common form of spoken, public communication, usually from the central administration. The king would dispatch a herald, perhaps with a written document, into the city. In order to address the people, he would either go to the city gate, where people often congregated for social discourse, or gather the people together in a square, occasionally by the blowing of a horn. The herald would then make the proclamation to the people. A document called the Cyrus Cylinder, recovered in reasonably good condition by archeologists, commissions people from many lands to return to their cities to rebuild the temples to their gods, apparently as some sort of general policy of Cyrus. Whether or not this document was an extension of the proclamation made to the exiles in this passage must remain a matter of speculation (cf. Ezra 6:2–5). put it in writing. Proclamations were oral statements, usually made by a herald, which were often written down for recordkeeping.

EZRA—NOTE ON 1:2–4 It is possible that Daniel played a part in the Jews’ receiving such favorable treatment (cf. Dan. 6:25–28). According to the Jewish historian Josephus, he was Cyrus’s prime minister who shared Isaiah’s prophecies with Cyrus (Isa. 44:28; 46:1–4). The existence of such documents, written over a century before Cyrus was born, led him to acknowledge that all his power came from the God of Israel and prompted him to fulfill the prophecy.

EZRA—NOTE ON 1:2 Lord, the God of heaven. The God of Israel was recognized as the utmost divine authority (cf. 5:12; 6:9–10; 7:12, 21, 23), who sovereignly dispenses authority to human monarchs. a house. This refers to the second temple, which would be built after the return to the land by Zerubbabel.

EZRA—NOTE ON 1:5 whose spirit God had stirred. The primary underlying message of Ezra and Nehemiah is that the sovereign hand of God is at work in perfect keeping with his plan at his appointed times. The 70 years of captivity were complete, so God stirred up not only the spirit of Cyrus to make the decree, but his own people to go and build up Jerusalem and the temple (cf. 1:1).

EZRA—NOTE ON 1:6 all who were about them. A basic similarity to the exodus is seen throughout Ezra and Nehemiah. One can hear faint echoes of the Egyptians supplying treasures in order to provide splendor for the tabernacle (cf. Ex. 11:2; 12:35–36). Here other nations around Israel are called to contribute. They were assisted by some of their captive countrymen, who had been born in Babylon and chose to remain, and perhaps by some Babylonians and Assyrians who were favorably disposed to Cyrus and/or the Jews.

EZRA—NOTE ON 1:7 the vessels of the house of the Lord. Cf. Ezra 6:5. These were the vessels that Nebuchadnezzar removed when he sacked the temple (c. 605–586 B.C.; 2 Kings 24:13; 25:14–15; Dan. 1:2). God had preserved them (2 Chron. 36:7) with the Babylonians (cf. Dan. 5:1–4) for the return as prophesied by Jeremiah (Jer. 27:22).

EZRA—NOTE ON 1:8 Sheshbazzar the prince of Judah. Cf. 1:11 and 5:14–16.

Nothing is said about this man biblically except in Ezra. Most likely, he was a political appointee of Cyrus to oversee Judah. He is not to be confused with Zerubbabel, who was the leader recognized by the Jews (cf. 2:2; 3:2, 8; 4:2–3; 5:2) and by God (cf. Hag. 1–2; Zech. 4). While Zerubbabel did not serve as king, he was in the Davidic line of Messiah (cf. Hag. 2:23; Matt. 1:12).

EZRA—NOTE ON 1:9–11 The 2,499 articles counted in vv. 9–10 are only representative of the total of 5,400 mentioned in v. 11.

EZRA—NOTE ON 1:11 exiles. Those whom Nebuchadnezzar had taken into Babylonian captivity from Jerusalem, whose return probably occurred early in the reign of Cyrus (c. 538/537 B.C.). Babylonia to Jerusalem. A journey taking three to five months (cf. 7:8–9).

EZRA—NOTE ON 2:1–70 This list is given almost identically in Neh. 7:6–73 (see notes there).

EZRA—NOTE ON 2:1 the province. This refers to Judah, reduced from an illustrious, independent, and powerful kingdom to an obscure, servile province of the Persian Empire. The returning Jews were still considered subjects of Cyrus living in a Persian province.

EZRA—NOTE ON 2:2 Zerubbabel. This man was the rightful leader of Judah in that he was of the lineage of David through Jehoiachin (cf. 1 Chron. 3:17). He did not serve as king (cf. the curse on Jehoiachin’s line, Jer. 22:24–30), but was still in the messianic line because the curse was bypassed (cf. Matt. 1:12; Luke 3:27). The curse of the messianic line for Christ was bypassed in Luke’s genealogy by tracing the lineage through David’s son Nathan. His name means “offspring of Babylon,” indicating his place of birth. He, rather than Cyrus’s political appointee Sheshbazzar (cf. Ezra 1:11), led Judah according to God’s will. Jeshua. The high priest of the first return whose name means “Jehovah saves.” He is called Joshua in Hag. 1:1 and Zech. 3:1. His father Jozadak (Ezra 3:2) had been exiled (cf. 1 Chron. 6:15). He came from the lineage of Levi, Aaron, Eleazar, and Phinehas; thus he was legitimately in the line of the high priest (cf. Num. 25:10–13). Nehemiah . . . Mordecai. These are not the same men in Nehemiah or Esther.

EZRA—NOTE ON 2:3–20 Various Jewish families are listed.

EZRA—NOTE ON 2:21–35 These were people from various Judean cities.

EZRA—NOTE ON 2:36–42 Priests and Levites. See Neh. 12:1–9 for additional details.

EZRA—NOTE ON 2:43–54 temple servants. These were descendants of the Gibeonites who performed servile duties at the temple.

EZRA—NOTE ON 2:55–58 Here are descendants of Solomon’s servants.

EZRA—NOTE ON 2:59–62 Those whose genealogical information could not be verified.

EZRA—NOTE ON 2:63 Urim and Thummim. See note on Ex. 28:30. These objects, kept in the breastpiece of the high priest, were used to determine God’s will.

EZRA—NOTE ON 2:64–65 This gross amount is 12,000 more than the particular numbers given in the catalogue, when added together. Reckoning up the smaller numbers, we will find they amount to 29,818 in this chapter, and to 31,089 in the parallel chapter of Nehemiah. Ezra also mentions 494 persons omitted by Nehemiah, and Nehemiah mentions 1,765 not noticed by Ezra. If, therefore, Ezra’s surplus is added to the sum in Nehemiah, and Nehemiah’s surplus to the number in Ezra, they will both become 31,583. Subtracting this from 42,360, there is a deficiency of 10,777. These are omitted, because they did not belong to Judah and Benjamin, or to the priests, but to the other tribes. The servants and singers, male and female, are reckoned separately (v. 65), so that putting all these items together, the number of all who went with Zerubbabel amounted to 50,000 with 8,000 beasts of burden.

EZRA—NOTE ON 2:69 darics . . . minas. A daric was a Persian coin, named after Darius I. This would have amounted to approximately 1,100 pounds of gold. A mina weighed about 1.2 pounds, so this would represent 3 tons of silver (cf. 1 Chron. 29:7).

EZRA—NOTE ON 2:70 temple servants. See note on vv. 43–54.

EZRA—NOTE ON 3:1–13 The worship and regular calendar resumed. The altar was probably rebuilt in 537 B.C.

EZRA—NOTE ON 3:1 After their arrival, they were occupied with their own dwellings in and around Jerusalem. After that work was done, they turned to building the altar of burnt offering in time for the feasts, resolved to celebrate as if the temple had been completed. The month (c. September/October 537 B.C.) of the Feasts of Trumpets, Atonement, and Booths, or Tabernacles (cf. v. 4) was the seventh month. Such an assembly had not convened for 70 years. They obeyed according to Lev. 23:24–44. Over 90 years later, Nehemiah and Ezra would lead a similar celebration (cf. Neh. 8:13–18).

EZRA—NOTE ON 3:2 Jeshua . . . and Zerubbabel. The recognized spiritual and civil leaders, respectively. See notes on 2:2. as it is written in the Law of Moses. The burnt offerings were in accord with Lev. 1:3–17.

EZRA—NOTE ON 3:3 set the altar. This was all that was needed to reestablish temple worship (cf. v. 6). They reset it on its old foundation, so it occupied its sacred site. the peoples of the lands. The settlers who had come to occupy the land during the 70 years of Israel’s absence were deportees brought in from other countries by the Assyrians and the Babylonians. These inhabitants saw the Jews as a threat and quickly wanted to undermine their allegiance to God (cf. 4:1–2). burnt offerings. These were the most common offerings for sin (cf. 3:2).

EZRA—NOTE ON 3:4 number according to the rule. According to Num. 29:12–38.

EZRA—NOTE ON 3:7 masons . . . carpenters . . . cedar trees. The process of rebuilding the temple sounds similar to the original construction under Solomon (1 Kings 5–6; 1 Chron. 22; 2 Chron. 2). Sidonians . . . Joppa. The materials were shipped from the Phoenician ports of Sidon and Tyre south to Joppa, the main seaport, about 35 miles from Jerusalem. grant that they had from Cyrus. Cf. Ezra 1:2–4.

EZRA—NOTE ON 3:8 second year . . . second month. C. April/May 536 B.C. This officially ended the 70-year captivity that began in 605 B.C.

EZRA—NOTE ON 3:11 they sang. Their song of praise is similar to Ps. 136:1.

EZRA—NOTE ON 3:12 the first house. The temple built by Solomon (cf. 1 Kings 5–7). wept with a loud voice. The first temple had been destroyed 50 years earlier. The old men, who would have been about 60 years or older, knew that this second temple did not begin to match the splendor of Solomon’s temple nor did the presence of God reside within it (cf. Hag. 2:1–4; Zech. 4:9–10). The nation was small and weak, the temple smaller and less beautiful by far. There were no riches as in David and Solomon's days. The ark was gone. But most disappointing was the absence of God's Shekinah glory. Thus the weeping. shouted . . . for joy. For those who did not have a point of comparison, this was a great moment. Possibly Ps. 126 was written and sung for this occasion.

EZRA—NOTE ON 4:1 the adversaries. Cf. 5:3–17. These were Israel's enemies in the region, who resisted their reestablishment.

EZRA—NOTE ON 4:2 we have been sacrificing to him. This false claim represented the syncretistic worship of the Samaritans, whose ancestry came from intermarriage with foreign immigrants in Samaria after 722 B.C. (cf. v. 10). In the British Museum is a large cylinder and inscribed on it are the annals of Esarhaddon, an Assyrian king (c. 681–669 B.C.), who deported a large population of Israelites from Palestine. A consequent settlement of Babylonian colonists took their place and intermarried with remaining Jewish women and their descendants. The result was the mongrel race called Samaritans. They had developed a superstitious form of worshiping God (cf. 2 Kings 17:26–34).

EZRA—NOTE ON 4:3 we alone. Idolatry had been the chief cause for Judah's deportation to Babylon, and they wanted to avoid it altogether. While they still had their spiritual problems (chs. 9–10), they rejected any form of mixed religion, particularly this offer of cooperation that had sabotage as its goal (cf. 4:4–5). King Cyrus . . . commanded us. Cf. 1:2–4 (c. 538 B.C.). This note gave authority to their refusal.

EZRA—NOTE ON 4:5 frustrate. This caused a 16-year delay (c. 536–520 B.C.). As a result, the people took more interest in their personal affairs than spiritual matters (cf. Hag. 1:2–6). Darius. Darius ruled Persia c. 521–486 B.C.

EZRA—NOTE ON 4:6–23 This section represents later opposition, which Ezra chose to put here as a parenthetical continuation of the theme "opposition to resettling and rebuilding Judah" (see Introduction: Interpretive Challenges). He first referred to the opposition from Israel's enemies under King Ahasuerus (a regal title) or Xerxes (c. 486–464 B.C.), who ruled at the time of Esther (4:6). Ezra 4:7–23 then recounts opposition in Nehemiah's day under Artaxerxes I (c. 464–423 B.C.) expressed in a detailed letter of accusation against the Jews (4:7–16). It was successful in stopping the work, as the king's reply indicates (vv. 17–23). Most likely, this opposition is that also spoken of in Neh. 1:3. All this was the ongoing occurrence of severe animosity between the Israelites and Samaritans, which was later aggravated when the Samaritans built a rival temple on Mount Gerizim (cf. John 4:9). The opposition to Zerubbabel picks up again at Ezra 4:24–5:2 during the reign of Darius I, who actually reigned before either Ahasuerus or Artaxerxes.

EZRA—NOTE ON 4:6 they wrote an accusation. The word translated “accusation” means “a complaint.” Satan, meaning “legal adversary” or “opponent,” is a related term.

EZRA—NOTE ON 4:7–8 letter . . . letter. Two different words are used here. The first is an official document as opposed to a simple letter. The second is the generic term for letter. The context verifies the choices of two different terms, since two different letters are indicated.

EZRA—NOTE ON 4:8–6:18 Since this section contains predominantly correspondence, it is written in Aramaic (also 7:12–26) rather than Hebrew, generally reflecting the diplomatic language of the day (cf. 2 Kings 18:26; Isa. 36:11).

EZRA—NOTE ON 4:10 Osnappar. Most likely another name for the Assyrian king Ashurbanipal, c. 669–633 B.C. settled . . . cities of Samaria. The race of Samaritans resulted from the intermarriage of these immigrants with the poor people who were not taken captive to Nineveh (see note on v. 2 and 2 Kings 17:24–41).

EZRA—NOTE ON 4:11 Artaxerxes. See note on vv. 6–23. Beyond the River. West of the Euphrates River.

EZRA—NOTE ON 4:12 Jews. This name was generally used after the captivity because the exiles who returned were mainly of Judah. Most of the people of the 10 northern tribes were dispersed, and the largest number of returnees came from the two southern tribes.

EZRA—NOTE ON 4:13–14 This accusation is full of hypocrisy. They did not relish paying taxes either, but they did hate the Jews.

EZRA—NOTE ON 4:15 book of the records. An administrative document called a “memorandum” kept on file in the royal archives. city was laid waste. A reference to Jerusalem’s destruction by the Babylonian king Nebuchadnezzar (c. 586 B.C.).

EZRA—NOTE ON 4:19 I made a decree. This was no simple routine order given to one person, but rather a major edict to a large group of people.

EZRA—NOTE ON 4:21 make a decree. No small order for one or two workers, but rather the efforts of 50,000 were called to a halt. The king was commissioning a decree of great significance. The original language calls for the difference. This decree would not lose its authority until the king established a new decree.

EZRA—NOTE ON 4:23 letter. Another official document, as opposed to a generic letter, came from Artaxerxes, for the transfer of authority to the regional leaders to establish the decree. Without the king's official administrative correspondence, the decree could not be established.

EZRA—NOTE ON 4:24 stopped . . . ceased. For 16 years, from 536 B.C. to 520 B.C., work on rebuilding was halted.

EZRA—NOTE ON 5:1 Haggai and Zechariah. The book of Haggai is styled as a “royal administrative correspondence” (cf. Hag. 1:13) sent from the Sovereign King of the Universe through the “messenger of the Lord,” Haggai (Hag. 1:13). Part of its message is addressed specifically to Zerubbabel, the political leader, and Joshua, the religious leader, telling them to “be strong . . . work” on the temple because God was with them (Hag. 2:4). These two prophets gave severe reproaches and threats if the people did not return to the building and promised national prosperity if they did. Not long after the exiles heard this message, the temple work began afresh after a 16-year hiatus. See notes on Haggai and Zechariah.

EZRA—NOTE ON 5:2 prophets of God. These would be in addition to Haggai and Zechariah.

EZRA—NOTE ON 5:3 Tattenai. Most likely a Persian official. Who gave you a decree . . . ? In other words, “Who gave you royal permission to build?” Cf. Ezra 5:9.

EZRA—NOTE ON 5:5 But the eye of their God was on the elders. God's hand of protection, which led this endeavor, allowed the work to continue while official communication was going on with Darius, the Persian king (see note on 4:5).

EZRA—NOTE ON 5:8 huge stones, and timber. This technique of using beams and stone blocks was a well-known form of wall construction. The reason for mentioning it here was it seemed to be a preparation for conflict, or battle. Including this piece of information served as a threat to the Persian official who wanted no such conflict.

EZRA—NOTE ON 5:11 this was their reply. They sent back a report (official document for the archives). a great king of Israel. Solomon built the first temple (c. 966–960; 1 Kings 5–7).

EZRA—NOTE ON 5:12 gave them into the hand of Nebuchadnezzar. The expression is used commonly in royal administrative correspondence when a more powerful administrator, such as a king, relinquishes some of his authority to an underling and yet keeps the lower administrative official completely under his command. The point here is that God, as king of the universe, satisfied his wrath by relinquishing the authority for this administrative action to Nebuchadnezzar. The greatest king the ancient Near East has ever known was merely a petty official in the administration of the sovereign Lord.

EZRA—NOTE ON 5:13 Cyrus . . . decree. Cf. Ezra 1:2–4.

EZRA—NOTE ON 5:14, 16 Sheshbazzar . . . laid the foundations. This seems to contradict the statement in 3:8–10 that Zerubbabel, Jeshua, and the Jewish workmen laid the foundation, but it actually does not, since Sheshbazzar was the political appointee of the Persian king over the Jews and thus is given official credit for work actually done by them. See note on 1:8.

EZRA—NOTE ON 6:1 Darius the king made a decree. Rather than a public edict, this was a simple order issued to a small group of officials.

EZRA—NOTE ON 6:1–2 Babylonia . . . Ecbatana. Ecbatana was one of the Persian capitals, 300 miles northeast of Babylon in the foothills, where Cyrus and others had their summer homes.

EZRA—NOTE ON 6:2 was written. A particular kind of document called a memorandum (Ezra 4:15; Mal. 3:16). Administrative officials often kept these documents of administrative decisions made, or issues remaining to be settled, to retain the details of administrative action for future reference.

EZRA—NOTE ON 6:3 first year. C. 538 B.C. (cf. 1:2–4). be sixty cubits . . . sixty cubits. These dimensions exceed those of Solomon's temple (cf. 1 Kings 6:2).

EZRA—NOTE ON 6:5 Nebuchadnezzar took. See note on 1:7.

EZRA—NOTE ON 6:6–7 God so favored the Jews (cf. 5:5) that, through Darius, he forbade the officials from interfering with the building project.

EZRA—NOTE ON 6:8–10 Not only could the officials not hinder the building, but they also had to help finance it by giving the Jews some of their portion of taxes collected for the Persian king. The Jews could draw from the provincial treasury.

EZRA—NOTE ON 6:10 pray for the life of the king and his sons. This was essentially the same self-serving motive that prompted Cyrus to decree that all captured peoples should return to their countries, rebuild the temples that Nebuchadnezzar and others had destroyed, and placate the offended deities. He wanted all the gods on his side, including Israel's God.

EZRA—NOTE ON 6:11 pulled . . . impaled . . . be made a dunghill. Typical punishment for a serious infraction (cf. Rev. 22:18–19). This was specifically directed at the hostile Samaritans.

EZRA—NOTE ON 6:14 prospered. Cf. Hag. 1:7–11. by decree of the God of Israel . . . by decree of Cyrus. This is not the normal term for a command, but it is the same word translated “decree” or “administrative order” throughout the book. The message here is powerful. It was the decree from God, the Sovereign of the universe, that gave administrative authority to rebuild the temple. The decrees (same word) of three of the greatest monarchs in the history of the ancient Near East were only a secondary issue. God rules the universe and he raises up kings, then pulls them from their thrones when they have served his administration. Artaxerxes. Although he did not contribute to the project under Zerubbabel, he did under Ezra (cf. Ezra 7:11–26).

EZRA—NOTE ON 6:15 Adar . . . sixth year. The twelfth month (February/March) in 516 B.C.

EZRA—NOTE ON 6:18 divisions. Cf. 1 Chron. 24, where the priestly divisions are delineated. Although David arranged the priests and Levites in order according to families, it was Moses who assigned their rights, privileges, and duties (see notes on Num. 3–4). the Book of Moses. I.e., the Pentateuch.

EZRA—NOTE ON 6:19 Passover. Cf. Lev. 23:4–8. Other notable Passovers include Hezekiah's (2 Chron. 30:1–22) and Josiah's (2 Chron. 35:1–19). first month.

March/April.

EZRA—NOTE ON 6:21 the uncleanness of the peoples. These were proselytes to Judaism, who had confessed their spiritual uncleanness before the Lord, been circumcised, and renounced idolatry to keep the Passover (v. 22).

EZRA—NOTE ON 6:22 turned the heart of the king of Assyria to them. By turning the heart of the king in their favor in allowing them to complete the rebuilding, God encouraged his people. They understood the verse, “The king’s heart is . . . in the hand of the Lord” (Prov. 21:1) better through this ordeal. The title “king of Assyria” was held by every king who succeeded the great Neo-Assyrian Empire regardless of what country they may have come from.

EZRA—NOTE ON 6:22–7:1 The book of Esther fits in this 59-year gap between the completion of the temple (c. 516 B.C.) under Zerubbabel (Ezra 1–6) and the second return (c. 458 B.C.) under Ezra (Ezra 7–10). Ezra 4:6 provides a glimpse into this period also.

EZRA—NOTE ON 7:1–10:44 This section covers the return of the second group to Judah, led by Ezra (c. 458 B.C.).

EZRA—NOTE ON 7:1 Artaxerxes. King of Persia from 464–423 B.C. Ezra. See Introduction: Author and Date. son of. Ezra traced his lineage back through such notable high priests as Zadok (1 Kings 2:35), Phinehas (Num. 25:10–13), and Eleazar (Num. 3:4).

EZRA—NOTE ON 7:6 a scribe skilled in the Law. Ezra’s role as a scribe was critical to reinstate the nation since the leaders had to go back to the law and interpret it. This was no small task because many aspects of life had changed in the intervening 1,000 years since the law was first given. Tradition says Ezra had the law memorized and could write it from recall. the hand of the Lord his God was on him. This refrain occurs throughout the books of Ezra and Nehemiah. Its resounding presence assures the reader that it was not by the shrewd leadership skills of a few men that Judah, with its temple and walls, was rebuilt in the midst of a powerful Medo-Persian Empire. Rather it was the sovereign hand of the wise and powerful King of the universe that allowed this to happen.

EZRA—NOTE ON 7:7 temple servants. See note on 2:43–54. seventh year. C. 458 B.C.

EZRA—NOTE ON 7:8–9 The four-month journey from Babylon to Jerusalem, covering almost 1,000 miles, started in March/April and ended in July/August.

EZRA—NOTE ON 7:10 study . . . do . . . teach. The pattern of Ezra’s preparation is exemplary. He studied before he attempted to live a life of obedience, and he studied and practiced the law in his own life before he opened his mouth to teach that law. But the success of Ezra’s leadership did not come from his strength alone, but most significantly because “the good hand of his God was on him” (7:9).

The Persian Empire at the Time of Ezra

c. 458 B.C.

During the time of Ezra the Persian Empire had reached its greatest extent, engulfing nearly the entire Near East. In 539 B.C. the Persians under Cyrus the Great defeated the Babylonians and absorbed their territory into the empire, including the lands of Israel and Judah (known as Beyond the River). The next year Cyrus allowed the people of Judah to return home under the leadership of Zerubbabel and rebuild the temple of the Lord. Later, around 458 B.C., another group of Judean exiles returned under Ezra’s leadership.

---

EZRA—NOTE ON 7:11 copy of the letter. The original was usually kept for a record. The letter was addressed to Ezra because the decree recorded therein was the critical administrative document. Decrees were commonly embedded in letters. The letter in essence authorized the document into Ezra's hands so that he could carry it and read it to its intended audience.

EZRA—NOTE ON 7:12–26 This is a remarkable decree that evidences God's sovereign rule over earthly kings and his intent to keep the Abrahamic, Davidic, and New Covenants with Israel. This section is in Aramaic, as was 4:8–6:18.

EZRA—NOTE ON 7:12 king of kings. Though it was true that Artaxerxes ruled over other kings, Jesus Christ is the ultimate King of kings (cf. Rev. 19:16), who alone can genuinely make that claim since he will rule over all kings in his coming kingdom (cf. Rev. 11:15).

EZRA—NOTE ON 7:14 seven counselors. This number was according to the Persian tradition (cf. Est. 1:14).

EZRA—NOTE ON 7:17 then. The royal decree protocol recorded in the opening words of 7:13–16 leads up to the section introduced by this word.

EZRA—NOTE ON 7:22 up to 100 talents. Approaching 4 tons in weight. to . . . 100 cors. Approximately 750 bushels. to . . . 100 baths. Six hundred gallons.

EZRA—NOTE ON 7:25 you, Ezra. The letter in which the decree was embedded was written to Ezra. The king turned to him in a demonstration of administrative trust and granted him permission to appoint magistrates and judges for the region. The effect of this decision would be to offer a measure of local autonomy to the Jews.

EZRA—NOTE ON 8:1–14 from Babylonia. The list that follows no doubt includes those who lived in the surrounding areas. The total number of males in this section is 1,496 plus the men named, so with the addition of the women and children the number easily approaches 7,000 to 8,000. Just as these had not gone with the first group of returnees, so many Jews remained in Babylon after this group had departed. During the 70 years, many of the exiles had settled into a comfortable lifestyle. No small conflict arose between those who returned and those who stayed in Babylon.

EZRA—NOTE ON 8:15 river . . . Ahava. An unknown location where a canal/river flowed into the Euphrates. This was in Babylon and chosen for the place where the returning Jews would render vows for several days in preparation to leave.

none of the sons of Levi. There were no Levites who chose to return, so Ezra pursued such needed men by sending a command to Iddo, who was chief of the temple servants. Iddo's influence brought 38 Levites and 220 temple servants (vv. 16–20).

EZRA—NOTE ON 8:21–23 I proclaimed a fast. They would soon begin the long journey. Such travel was dangerous, for the roads were frequented by thieves who robbed for survival. Even messengers traveled with caravans to ensure their safety. Ezra and the people did not want to confuse the king regarding their trust in God's protection so they entreated him for safety with a prayerful fast. God honored their prayer of faith with his protection.

EZRA—NOTE ON 8:26 weighed . . . 650 talents. Over 25 tons. worth 200 talents. Almost 8 tons.

EZRA—NOTE ON 8:27 bowls . . . worth 1,000 darics. About 20 pounds. See note on 2:69.

EZRA—NOTE ON 8:31 Ahava. See note on v. 15. first month. See note on 7:8–9. The 12-day delay occurred because of a three-day delay searching for more Levites (8:15) and the fast that sought God's protection (8:21).

EZRA—NOTE ON 8:36 They also delivered the king's commissions. The plural "commissions" may account for a change of terminology. This would include the decrees plus other edicts in the official correspondence Artaxerxes gave to Ezra to deliver, to support the Jews and their building of the temple.

EZRA—NOTE ON 9:1 After these things had been done. This refers to the implementation of the different trusts and duties committed to him. priests . . . Levites. As was the case before the Assyrian and Babylonian deportations, the spiritual leadership defaulted along with the people (cf. Isa. 24:2; Jer. 5:30–31; 6:13–15; Hosea 4:9; Mal. 2:1–9; 2 Tim. 4:2–4). abominations. The reason for this exclusiveness was to keep the people pure. In the first settlement, Israel was warned not to make covenants with the nations, which would result in intermarriages and inevitably the worship of foreign gods (Ex. 34:10–17; Deut. 7:1–5). To a great extent, the continual violation of this precipitated the 70-year exile from which they had just returned. Ezra found out it had happened again and called for immediate repentance. Nehemiah (Neh. 13:23–27) and Malachi (Mal. 2:14–16) later encountered the same sin. It is unthinkable that the Jews would so quickly go down the same disastrous path of idolatry. Neither wrath from God in the exile to Babylon, nor grace from God in the return was enough to keep them from defecting again. Canaanites . . . Amorites. See notes on Josh. 3:10.

EZRA—NOTE ON 9:2 holy race. The seed of Abraham that God had set apart (cf. Gen. 13:15–16; 17:4–14) was not to be mixed with other nations; and if so, it violated God’s covenant (cf. Deut. 7:2–3). This marriage with Gentile women would bring idolatry into the next generation for certain, so Ezra reacted strongly.

EZRA—NOTE ON 9:3 tore . . . pulled . . . sat. An outward expression of a grieving, disturbed spirit over sin (cf. 2 Chron. 34:27) characterized Ezra as he saw the people returning to their old ways, which would bring judgment again.

EZRA—NOTE ON 9:4 trembled at the words. In contrast to those who participated in the intermarriage, there were those who saw it as an abomination. They greatly feared the Lord’s judgment on them again (cf. Isa. 66:2, 5) and sat with Ezra until the gathering of the people for the evening sacrifice, when there was surely public prayer and confession as Ezra fasted, lamented, and prayed (Ezra 9:5) in an effort to lead the leaders and people to repent.

EZRA—NOTE ON 9:5–15 Ezra’s priestly prayer of intercession and confession is like Daniel’s (Dan. 9:1–20) and Nehemiah’s (Neh. 1:4–11), in that he used plural pronouns that identified himself with the people’s sin, even though he did not participate in it. The use of “we,” “our” and “us” demonstrates Ezra’s understanding that the sin of the few is sufficient to contaminate the many.

EZRA—NOTE ON 9:8 a secure hold within his holy place. Lit., a “nail” or “tent-pin” (see esv footnote)—a figure of speech that indicated permanence and prominence.

EZRA—NOTE ON 9:8–9 favor . . . steadfast love. God had been true to his character and his covenant (cf. Lam. 3:22–23) in restoring Israel, Jerusalem, and the temple.

EZRA—NOTE ON 9:9 protection. Lit., a “wall” (see esv footnote) As a people scattered all over the Fertile Crescent, the Jews were vulnerable to the nations. Together in Judah, with God as protector, they were safe. The “wall” does not exclude the walls of Jerusalem yet to be built, but it speaks more broadly of God's provision for protection.

EZRA—NOTE ON 9:10–12 your commandments. This is not a quotation of any single text of Scripture, but rather a summation of God's commands on the subject (cf. Ex. 34:15–17; Deut. 7:1–6).

EZRA—NOTE ON 9:13–14 See a similar situation in the first exodus, when the Israelites engaged in idolatry and immorality led by Aaron, who was then confronted by Moses (Ex. 32:1–35).

EZRA—NOTE ON 9:14 no remnant. Ezra feared that this sin would provoke the ultimate judgment of God and the abrogation of God's unconditional covenants. While God would judge sin, the coming of Messiah and Paul's insights on God's continued faithfulness in his promise to the Jews (Rom. 9–11) assures that God's calling of Israel as a beloved people and nation is irrevocable (Rom. 11:25–29).

EZRA—NOTE ON 9:15 none can stand before you. All were reckoned guilty and had no right to stand in God's presence, yet they came penitently seeking the grace of forgiveness.

EZRA—NOTE ON 10:1 prayed and made confession, weeping and casting himself down. Ezra's contrite spirit before the people was evident, and they joined him. These extreme expressions of contrition demonstrated the seriousness of the sin and the genuineness of their repentance.

EZRA—NOTE ON 10:2 Shecaniah. This leader, not involved in the mixed marriages since his name does not appear in the list in vv. 18–44 (though his father and five paternal uncles do appear in v. 26), was bold and chose to obey God rather than please his relatives. hope for Israel in spite of this. This hope is centered in God's covenant love and forgiveness of truly repentant sinners.

EZRA—NOTE ON 10:3 make a covenant. Shecaniah calls for the people and leaders to accomplish the specific action of divorcing the wives and children and acknowledges that Ezra has counseled a course of action consistent with Scripture (cf. 2 Chron. 29:10). those who tremble. Cf. Isa. 66:2, 5. This refers to those who take the word of God seriously, especially his judgment on their sin. according to the Law. They wanted to get in line with God's law as revealed in Deut. 7:2–3.

EZRA—NOTE ON 10:4 your task. Ezra is acknowledged as the chief spiritual leader with appropriate divine authority and human responsibility to take on the execution of this formidable task of dealing with divorces for so many (cf. vv. 18–44).

EZRA—NOTE ON 10:5 take oath. The oath in relation to the covenant specified in 10:3. Cf. Neh. 10:28–39 for the content of a later oath under similar conditions.

EZRA—NOTE ON 10:7 a proclamation was made. A proclamation was delivered orally by a herald. It often had the force of law as did this one. Not participating in the assembly, as some might have been tempted to do, meant not just losing your property, but being ostracized from Israel.

EZRA—NOTE ON 10:8 three days. The message had to go out, and the people were required to respond within 72 hours. Since only the territories of Judah and Benjamin were involved, the greatest distance would have been no more than 40–50 miles.

EZRA—NOTE ON 10:9 all the men. Serious consequences highlighted the gravity of the situation, and thus everyone came. ninth month. December/January, the time of the heaviest rains and coldest weather, especially in Jerusalem, which is over 2,500 feet in elevation.

EZRA—NOTE ON 10:11 confession. . . . Separate. Here are the two essential elements of repentance—agreeing with God and taking righteous action to separate from sin.

EZRA—NOTE ON 10:12–14 all . . . the people are many. This demonstrates how widespread this sin was among the people. With the heavy rain and the large number of people to be processed, the whole operation could go long, so the people made an administrative suggestion for dealing with the magnitude of the problem. For each unlawful marriage, a questioning or court session could be locally conducted. All of these details had to be treated with great care; thus, delegating the court process was a suggestion much like Jethro’s back in the wilderness (cf. Ex. 18).

EZRA—NOTE ON 10:15 opposed this. It is unclear whether these four opposed the delay in dealing with the situation or whether they opposed dealing with the sin at all. It was, however, a good plan and brought about a reasonably fast resolution.

EZRA—NOTE ON 10:16–17 tenth month . . . first month. It took three months to rectify the situation in all cases, after which the people were prepared to celebrate Passover with a clear conscience.

EZRA—NOTE ON 10:18 the sons of Jeshua the son of Jozadak and his brothers. At the head of the list of those who had intermarried were the descendants and other relatives of the high priest who first returned with Zerubbabel and led in the temple reconstruction. They set the example for all the people in giving the appropriate trespass offering (v. 19).

EZRA—NOTE ON 10:18–44 Given the fact that it took three months to resolve the situation, this list of 113 men could represent only those in leadership (cf. “the people are many,” 10:13). There were apparently more violators among the people. Even though the problem was dealt with directly, it would eventually reappear (cf. Neh. 9; 10; 13).

EZRA—NOTE ON 10:44 An appropriate provision was doubtlessly made for the divorced wives and the children.

Introduction to Nehemiah

Title

Nehemiah (“Jehovah comforts”) is a famous cupbearer, who never appears in Scripture outside of this book. As with the books of Ezra and Esther, named after his contemporaries (see Introductions to Ezra and Esther), the book recounts selected events of his leadership and was titled after him. Both the Greek Septuagint (LXX) and the Latin Vulgate named this book “Second Ezra.” Even though the two books of Ezra and Nehemiah are separate in most English Bibles, they may have once been joined together in a single unit as currently in the Hebrew texts. New Testament writers do not quote Nehemiah.

Author and Date

Though much of this book was clearly drawn from Nehemiah’s personal diaries and written from his first person perspective (1:1–7:5; 12:27–43; 13:4–31), both Jewish and Christian traditions recognize Ezra as the author. This is based on external evidence that Ezra and Nehemiah were originally one book as reflected in the LXX and Vulgate; it is also based on internal evidence such as the recurrent “hand of the Lord” theme that dominates both Ezra and Nehemiah and the author’s role as a priest-scribe. As a scribe, he had access to the royal archives of Persia, which accounts for the myriad of administrative documents found recorded in the two books, especially in the book of Ezra. Very few people would have been allowed access to the royal archives of the Persian Empire, but Ezra proved to be the exception (cf. Ezra 1:2–4; 4:9–22; 5:7–17; 6:3–12).

The events in Neh. 1 commence late in the year 446 B.C., the twentieth year of the Persian king, Artaxerxes (464–423 B.C.). The book follows chronologically from Nehemiah’s first term as governor of Jerusalem c. 445–433 B.C. (Neh. 1–12) to his second term, possibly beginning c. 424 B.C. (Neh. 13). Nehemiah was written by Ezra sometime during or after Nehemiah’s second term, but no later than 400 B.C.

Background and Setting

True to God's promise of judgment, he brought the Assyrians and Babylonians to deliver his chastisement upon wayward Judah and Israel. In 722 B.C. the Assyrians deported the 10 northern tribes and scattered them all over the then known world (2 Kings 17). Several centuries later, c. 605–586 B.C., God used the Babylonians to sack, destroy, and nearly depopulate Jerusalem (2 Kings 25) because Judah had persisted in her unfaithfulness to the covenant. God chastened his people with 70 years of captivity in Babylon (Jer. 25:11).

During the Jews' captivity, world empire leadership changed hands from the Babylonians to the Persians (c. 539 B.C.; Dan. 5), after which Daniel received most of his prophetic revelation (cf. Dan. 6; 9–12). The book of Ezra begins with the decree of Cyrus, a Persian king, to return God's people to Jerusalem to rebuild God's house (c. 539 B.C.), and chronicles the reestablishment of Judah's national calendar of feasts and sacrifices. Zerubbabel and Joshua led the first return (Ezra 1–6) and rebuilt the temple. Esther gives a glimpse of the Jews left in Persia (c. 483–473 B.C.) when Haman attempted to eliminate the Jewish race. Ezra 7–10 recounts the second return led by Ezra in 458 B.C. Nehemiah chronicles the third return to rebuild the wall around Jerusalem (c. 445 B.C.).

At that time in Judah's history, the Persian Empire dominated the entire Near Eastern world. Its administration of Judah, although done with a loose hand, was mindful of disruptions or any signs of rebellion from its vassals. Rebuilding the walls of conquered cities posed the most glaring threat to the Persian central administration. Only a close confidant of the king himself could be trusted for such an operation. At the most critical juncture in Judah's revitalization, God raised up Nehemiah to exercise one of the most trusted roles in the empire, the King's cupbearer and confidant. Life under the Persian king Artaxerxes (c. 464–423 B.C.) had its advantages for Nehemiah. Much like Joseph, Esther, and Daniel, he had attained a significant role in the palace that then ruled the ancient world, a position from which God could use him to lead the rebuilding of Jerusalem's walls in spite of its implications for Persian control of that city.

Several other historical notes are of interest. First, Esther was Artaxerxes' stepmother (see note on Est. 1:9) and could have easily influenced him to look favorably upon the Jews, especially Nehemiah. Second, Daniel's prophetic 70 weeks began with the decree to rebuild the city issued by Artaxerxes in 445 B.C. (cf. Neh. 1–2; see notes on Dan. 9:24–26). Third, the Elephantine papyri (Egyptian documents), dated to the late fifth century B.C., support the account of Nehemiah by mentioning Sanballat the governor of Samaria (Neh. 2:19), Jehohanan (6:18; 12:23), and Nehemiah's being replaced as governor of Jerusalem by Bigvai (c. 410 B.C.; Neh. 10:16). Finally, Nehemiah and Malachi represent the last of the OT canonical writings, both in terms of the time the events occurred (ch. 13; Mal. 1–4) and the time when they were recorded by Ezra. Thus the next messages from God for Israel do not come until over 400 years of silence had passed, after which the births of John the Baptist and Jesus Christ were announced (Matt. 1; Luke 1–2).

With the full OT revelation of Israel's history prior to Christ's incarnation being completed, the Jews had not yet experienced the fullness of God's various covenants and promises to them. While there was a Jewish remnant, as promised to Abraham (cf. Gen. 15:5), it does not appear to be even as large as at the time of the exodus (Num. 1:46). The Jews neither possessed the land (Gen. 15:7) nor did they rule as a sovereign nation (Gen. 12:2). The Davidic throne was unoccupied (cf. 2 Sam. 7:16), although the high priest was of the line of Eleazar and Phinehas (cf. Num. 25:10–13). God's promise to consummate the New Covenant of redemption awaited the birth, crucifixion, and resurrection of Messiah (cf. Heb. 7–10).

Historical and Theological Themes

Careful attention to the reading of God's word in order to perform his will is a constant theme. The spiritual revival came in response to Ezra's reading of "the Book of the Law of Moses" (8:1). After the reading, Ezra and some of the priests carefully explained its meaning to the people in attendance (8:8). The next day, Ezra met with some of the fathers of the households, the priests, and Levites, in order to "study the words of the Law" (8:13). The sacrificial system was carried on with careful attention to perform it "as it is written in the Law" (10:34, 36). So deep was their concern to abide by God's revealed will that they took "a curse and an oath to walk in God's Law" (10:29). When the marriage reforms were carried out, they acted in accordance with what "they read from the Book of Moses" (13:1).

A second major theme, the obedience of Nehemiah, is explicitly referred to throughout the book because the book is based on the memoirs or first person accounts of Nehemiah. God worked through the obedience of Nehemiah; however, he also worked through the wrongly motivated, wicked hearts of his enemies. Nehemiah's enemies failed, not so much as a result of the success of Nehemiah's strategies, but because "God had frustrated their plan" (4:15). God used the opposition of Judah’s enemies to drive his people to their knees in the same way that he used the favor of Cyrus to return his people to the land, to fund their building project, and even to protect the reconstruction of Jerusalem’s walls. Not surprisingly, Nehemiah acknowledged the true motive of his strategy to repopulate Jerusalem: “my God put it into my heart” (7:5). It was he who accomplished it.

Another theme in Nehemiah, as in Ezra, is opposition. Judah’s enemies started rumors that God’s people had revolted against Persia. The goal was to intimidate Judah into forestalling reconstruction of the walls. In spite of opposition from without and heartbreaking corruption and dissension from within, Judah completed the walls of Jerusalem in only 52 days (6:15), experienced revival after the reading of the law by Ezra (8:1ff.), and celebrated the Feast of Tabernacles (8:14ff.; c. 445 B.C.).

The book’s detailed insight into the personal thoughts, motives, and disappointments of Nehemiah makes it easy for the reader to primarily identify with him, rather than “the sovereign hand of God” theme and the primary message of his control and intervention into the affairs of his people and their enemies. But the exemplary behavior of the famous cupbearer is eclipsed by God who orchestrated the reconstruction of the walls in spite of much opposition and many setbacks; the “good hand of God” theme carries through the book of Nehemiah (1:10; 2:8, 18).

Interpretive Challenges

First, since much of Nehemiah is explained in relationship to Jerusalem’s gates (cf. Neh. 2; 3; 8; 12), one needs to see the map “Jerusalem at the Time of Nehemiah” for an orientation. Second, the reader must recognize that the timeline of chs. 1–12 encompassed about one year (445 B.C.), followed by a long gap of time (over 20 years) after Neh. 12 and before Neh. 13 (see “Timeline of Nehemiah”). Finally, it must be recognized that Nehemiah actually served two governorships in Jerusalem, the first from 445–433 B.C. (cf. Neh. 5:14; 13:6) and the second beginning possibly in 424 B.C. and extending to no longer than 410 B.C.

Nehemiah

Report from Jerusalem

Now it happened in the month of Chislev, in the twentieth year, as I was in Susa the capital, <sup>1</sup> <sup>2</sup> that Hanani, one of my brothers, came with certain men from Judah. And I asked them concerning the Jews who escaped, who had survived the exile, and concerning Jerusalem. <sup>3</sup> And they said to me, “The remnant there in the province who had survived the exile is in great trouble and shame. The wall of Jerusalem is broken down, and its gates are destroyed by fire.”

Nehemiah's Prayer

<sup>4</sup> As soon as I heard these words I sat down and wept and mourned for days, and I continued fasting and praying before the God of heaven. <sup>5</sup> And I said, “O LORD God of heaven, the great and awesome God who keeps covenant and steadfast love with those who love him and keep his commandments, <sup>6</sup> let your ear be attentive and your eyes open, to hear the prayer of your servant that I now pray before you day and night for the people of Israel your servants, confessing the sins of the people of Israel, which we have sinned against you. Even I and my father's house have sinned. <sup>7</sup> We have acted very corruptly against you and have not kept the commandments, the statutes, and the rules that you commanded your servant Moses. <sup>8</sup> Remember the word that you commanded your servant Moses, saying, ‘If you are unfaithful, I will scatter you among the peoples, <sup>9</sup> but if you return to me and keep my commandments and do them, though your outcasts are in the uttermost parts of heaven, from there I will gather them and bring them to the place that I have chosen, to make my name dwell there.’ <sup>10</sup> They are your servants and your people, whom you have redeemed by your great power and by your strong hand. <sup>11</sup> O Lord, let your ear be attentive to the prayer of your servant, and to the prayer of your servants who delight to fear your name, and give success to your servant today, and grant him mercy in the sight of this man.”

Now I was cupbearer to the king.

Nehemiah Sent to Judah

NEHEMIAH 2 † In the month of Nisan, in the twentieth year of King Artaxerxes, when wine was before him, I took up the wine and gave it to the king. Now I had not been sad in his presence. † And the king said to me, “Why is your face sad, seeing you are not sick? This is nothing but sadness of the heart.” Then I was very much afraid. † I said to the king, “Let the king live forever! Why should not my face be sad, when the city, the place of my fathers' graves, lies in ruins, and its gates have been destroyed by fire?” † Then the king said to me, “What are you requesting?” So I prayed to the God of heaven. † And I said to the king, “If it pleases the king, and if your servant has found favor in your sight, that you send me to Judah, to the city of my fathers' graves, that I may rebuild it.” † And the king said to me (the queen sitting beside him), “How long will you be gone, and when will you return?” So it pleased the king to send me when I had given him a time. † And I said to the king, “If it pleases the king, let letters be given me to the governors of the province Beyond the River, that they may let me pass through until I come to Judah, † and a letter to Asaph, the keeper of the king's forest, that he may give me timber to make beams for the gates of the fortress of the temple, and for the wall of the city, and for the house that I shall occupy.” And the king granted me what I asked, for the good hand of my God was upon me.

Nehemiah Inspects Jerusalem's Walls

† † Then I came to the governors of the province Beyond the River and gave them the king's letters. Now the king had sent with me officers of the army and horsemen. † But when Sanballat the Horonite and Tobiah the Ammonite servant heard this, it displeased them greatly that someone had come to seek the welfare of the people of Israel.

† † So I went to Jerusalem and was there three days. † Then I arose in the night, I and a few men with me. And I told no one what my God had put into my heart to do for Jerusalem. There was no animal with me but the one on which I rode.

† † I went out by night by the Valley Gate to the Dragon Spring and to the Dung Gate, and I inspected the walls of Jerusalem that were broken down and its gates that had been destroyed by fire. † Then I went on to the Fountain Gate and to the King's Pool, but there was no room for the animal that was under me to pass. † Then I went up in the night by the valley and inspected the wall, and I turned back and entered by the Valley Gate, and so returned. <sup>16</sup>And the officials did not know where I had gone or what I was doing, and I had not yet told the Jews, the priests, the nobles, the officials, and the rest who were to do the work.

<sup>17</sup>† Then I said to them, “You see the trouble we are in, how Jerusalem lies in ruins with its gates burned. Come, let us build the wall of Jerusalem, that we may no longer suffer derision.” <sup>18</sup>† And I told them of the hand of my God that had been upon me for good, and also of the words that the king had spoken to me. And they said, “Let us rise up and build.” So they strengthened their hands for the good work. <sup>19</sup>† But when Sanballat the Horonite and Tobiah the Ammonite servant and Geshem the Arab heard of it, they jeered at us and despised us and said, “What is this thing that you are doing? Are you rebelling against the king?” <sup>20</sup>† Then I replied to them, “The God of heaven will make us prosper, and we his servants will arise and build, but you have no portion or right or claim [\[1\]](#) in Jerusalem.”

Rebuilding the Wall

NEHEMIAH 3 ††Then Eliashib the high priest rose up with his brothers the priests, and they built the Sheep Gate. They consecrated it and set its doors. They consecrated it as far as the Tower of the Hundred, as far as the Tower of Hananel. <sup>2</sup>And next to him the men of Jericho built. And next to them [\[1\]](#) Zaccur the son of Imri built.

<sup>3</sup>†The sons of Hassenaah built the Fish Gate. They laid its beams and set its doors, its bolts, and its bars. <sup>4</sup>And next to them Meremoth the son of Uriah, son of Hakkoz repaired. And next to them Meshullam the son of Berechiah, son of Meshezabel repaired. And next to them Zadok the son of Baana repaired. <sup>5</sup>†And next to them the Tekoites repaired, but their nobles would not stoop to serve their Lord. [\[2\]](#)

<sup>6</sup>†Joiada the son of Paseah and Meshullam the son of Besodeiah repaired the Gate of Yeshanah. [\[3\]](#) They laid its beams and set its doors, its bolts, and its bars. <sup>7</sup>And next to them repaired Melatiah the Gibeonite and Jadon the Meronothite, the men of Gibeon and of Mizpah, the seat of the governor of the province Beyond the River. <sup>8</sup>†Next to them Uzziel the son of Harhaiah, goldsmiths, repaired. Next to him Hananiah, one of the perfumers, repaired, and they restored Jerusalem as far as the Broad Wall. <sup>9</sup>Next to them Rephaiah the son of Hur, ruler of half the district of [\[4\]](#) Jerusalem, repaired. <sup>10</sup>Next to them Jedaiah the son of Harumaph repaired opposite his house. And next to him Hattush the son of Hashabneiah repaired. <sup>11</sup>†Malchijah the son of Harim and Hasshub the son of Pahath-moab repaired another section and the Tower of the Ovens. <sup>12</sup>Next to him Shallum the son of Hallohesh, ruler of half the district of Jerusalem, repaired, he and his daughters.

<sup>13</sup>†Hanun and the inhabitants of Zanoah repaired the Valley Gate. They rebuilt it and set its doors, its bolts, and its bars, and repaired a thousand cubits [\[5\]](#) of the wall, as far as the Dung Gate.

<sup>14</sup>Malchijah the son of Rechab, ruler of the district of Beth-haccherem, repaired the Dung Gate. He rebuilt it and set its doors, its bolts, and its bars.

<sup>15</sup>†And Shallum the son of Col-hozeh, ruler of the district of Mizpah, repaired the Fountain Gate. He rebuilt it and covered it and set its doors, its bolts, and its bars. And he built the wall of the Pool of Shelah of the king's garden, as far as the stairs that go down from the city of David. <sup>16</sup>† After him Nehemiah the son of Azbuk, ruler of half the district of Beth-zur, repaired to a point opposite the tombs of David, as far as the artificial pool, and as far as the house of the mighty men. <sup>17</sup> After him the Levites repaired: Rehum the son of Bani. Next to him Hashabiah, ruler of half the district of Keilah, repaired for his district. <sup>18</sup> After him their brothers repaired: Bavvai the son of Henadad, ruler of half the district of Keilah. <sup>19</sup>† Next to him Ezer the son of Jeshua, ruler of Mizpah, repaired another section opposite the ascent to the armory at the buttress. [6] <sup>20</sup> After him Baruch the son of Zabbai repaired another section from the buttress to the door of the house of Eliashib the high priest. <sup>21</sup> After him Meremoth the son of Uriah, son of Hakkoz repaired another section from the door of the house of Eliashib to the end of the house of Eliashib. <sup>22</sup> After him the priests, the men of the surrounding area, repaired. <sup>23</sup> After them Benjamin and Hasshub repaired opposite their house. After them Azariah the son of Maaseiah, son of Ananiah repaired beside his own house. <sup>24</sup> After him Binnui the son of Henadad repaired another section, from the house of Azariah to the buttress <sup>25</sup> and to the corner. Palal the son of Uzai repaired opposite the buttress and the tower projecting from the upper house of the king at the court of the guard. After him Pedaiiah the son of Parosh <sup>26</sup>† and the temple servants living on Ophel repaired to a point opposite the Water Gate on the east and the projecting tower. <sup>27</sup> After him the Tekoites repaired another section opposite the great projecting tower as far as the wall of Ophel.

<sup>30</sup> After him Hananiah the son of Shelemiah and Hanun the sixth son of Zalaph repaired another section. After him Meshullam the son of Berechiah repaired opposite his chamber. <sup>31</sup>† After him Malchijah, one of the goldsmiths, repaired as far as the house of the temple servants and of the merchants, opposite the Muster Gate, [7] and to the upper chamber of the corner. <sup>32</sup>† And between the upper chamber of the corner and the Sheep Gate the goldsmiths and the merchants repaired.

Opposition to the Work

NEHEMIAH 4 ¶ [\[1\]](#) Now when Sanballat heard that we were building the wall, he was angry and greatly enraged, and he jeered at the Jews. ¶<sup>2</sup> And he said in the presence of his brothers and of the army of Samaria, “What are these feeble Jews doing? Will they restore it for themselves? [\[2\]](#) Will they sacrifice? Will they finish up in a day? Will they revive the stones out of the heaps of rubbish, and burned ones at that?” <sup>3</sup>Tobiah the Ammonite was beside him, and he said, “Yes, what they are building—if a fox goes up on it he will break down their stone wall!” ¶<sup>4</sup> Hear, O our God, for we are despised. Turn back their taunt on their own heads and give them up to be plundered in a land where they are captives. <sup>5</sup>Do not cover their guilt, and let not their sin be blotted out from your sight, for they have provoked you to anger in the presence of the builders.

<sup>6</sup>So we built the wall. And all the wall was joined together to half its height, for the people had a mind to work.

¶ [\[3\]](#) But when Sanballat and Tobiah and the Arabs and the Ammonites and the Ashdodites heard that the repairing of the walls of Jerusalem was going forward and that the breaches were beginning to be closed, they were very angry. <sup>8</sup>And they all plotted together to come and fight against Jerusalem and to cause confusion in it. ¶<sup>9</sup> And we prayed to our God and set a guard as a protection against them day and night.

¶<sup>10</sup> In Judah it was said, [\[4\]](#) “The strength of those who bear the burdens is failing. There is too much rubble. By ourselves we will not be able to rebuild the wall.” ¶<sup>11</sup> And our enemies said, “They will not know or see till we come among them and kill them and stop the work.” <sup>12</sup>At that time the Jews who lived near them came from all directions and said to us ten times, “You must return to us.” [\[5\]](#) ¶<sup>13</sup> So in the lowest parts of the space behind the wall, in open places, I stationed the people by their clans, with their swords, their spears, and their bows. <sup>14</sup>And I looked and arose and said to the nobles and to the officials and to the rest of the people, “Do not be afraid of them. Remember the Lord, who is great and awesome, and fight for your brothers, your sons, your daughters, your wives, and your homes.”

The Work Resumes

<sup>15</sup>When our enemies heard that it was known to us and that God had frustrated their plan, we all returned to the wall, each to his work. <sup>16</sup>‡From that day on, half of my servants worked on construction, and half held the spears, shields, bows, and coats of mail. And the leaders stood behind the whole house of Judah, <sup>17</sup>who were building on the wall. Those who carried burdens were loaded in such a way that each labored on the work with one hand and held his weapon with the other. <sup>18</sup>‡And each of the builders had his sword strapped at his side while he built. The man who sounded the trumpet was beside me. <sup>19</sup>And I said to the nobles and to the officials and to the rest of the people, “The work is great and widely spread, and we are separated on the wall, far from one another. <sup>20</sup>In the place where you hear the sound of the trumpet, rally to us there. Our God will fight for us.”

<sup>21</sup>So we labored at the work, and half of them held the spears from the break of dawn until the stars came out. <sup>22</sup>I also said to the people at that time, “Let every man and his servant pass the night within Jerusalem, that they may be a guard for us by night and may labor by day.” <sup>23</sup>So neither I nor my brothers nor my servants nor the men of the guard who followed me, none of us took off our clothes; each kept his weapon at his right hand. [6]

Nehemiah Stops Oppression of the Poor

NEHEMIAH 5 ¶¶ Now there arose a great outcry of the people and of their wives against their Jewish brothers. <sup>2</sup>For there were those who said, “With our sons and our daughters, we are many. So let us get grain, that we may eat and keep alive.” <sup>3</sup>There were also those who said, “We are mortgaging our fields, our vineyards, and our houses to get grain because of the famine.” <sup>4</sup>And there were those who said, “We have borrowed money for the king's tax on our fields and our vineyards. <sup>5</sup>Now our flesh is as the flesh of our brothers, our children are as their children. Yet we are forcing our sons and our daughters to be slaves, and some of our daughters have already been enslaved, but it is not in our power to help it, for other men have our fields and our vineyards.”

<sup>6</sup>I was very angry when I heard their outcry and these words. <sup>7</sup>¶ I took counsel with myself, and I brought charges against the nobles and the officials. I said to them, “You are exacting interest, each from his brother.” And I held a great assembly against them <sup>8</sup>¶ and said to them, “We, as far as we are able, have bought back our Jewish brothers who have been sold to the nations, but you even sell your brothers that they may be sold to us!” They were silent and could not find a word to say. <sup>9</sup>So I said, “The thing that you are doing is not good. Ought you not to walk in the fear of our God to prevent the taunts of the nations our enemies? <sup>10</sup>¶ Moreover, I and my brothers and my servants are lending them money and grain. Let us abandon this exacting of interest. <sup>11</sup>¶ Return to them this very day their fields, their vineyards, their olive orchards, and their houses, and the percentage of money, grain, wine, and oil that you have been exacting from them.” <sup>12</sup>¶ Then they said, “We will restore these and require nothing from them. We will do as you say.” And I called the priests and made them swear to do as they had promised. <sup>13</sup>¶ I also shook out the fold [\[1\]](#) of my garment and said, “So may God shake out every man from his house and from his labor who does not keep this promise. So may he be shaken out and emptied.” And all the assembly said “Amen” and praised the LORD. And the people did as they had promised.

Nehemiah's Generosity

<sup>14</sup>¶ Moreover, from the time that I was appointed to be their governor in the land of Judah, from the twentieth year to the thirty-second year of Artaxerxes the king, twelve years, neither I nor my brothers ate the food allowance of the governor. <sup>15</sup>¶ The former governors who were before me laid heavy burdens on the people and took from them for their daily ration [2] forty shekels [3] of silver. Even their servants lorded it over the people. But I did not do so, because of the fear of God. <sup>16</sup>†I also persevered in the work on this wall, and we acquired no land, and all my servants were gathered there for the work. <sup>17</sup>Moreover, there were at my table 150 men, Jews and officials, besides those who came to us from the nations that were around us. <sup>18</sup>†Now what was prepared at my expense [4] for each day was one ox and six choice sheep and birds, and every ten days all kinds of wine in abundance. Yet for all this I did not demand the food allowance of the governor, because the service was too heavy on this people. <sup>19</sup>†Remember for my good, O my God, all that I have done for this people.

Conspiracy Against Nehemiah

NEHEMIAH 6 †Now when Sanballat and Tobiah and Geshem the Arab and the rest of our enemies heard that I had built the wall and that there was no breach left in it (although up to that time I had not set up the doors in the gates), <sup>2</sup>†Sanballat and Geshem sent to me, saying, “Come and let us meet together at Hakkephirim in the plain of Ono.” But they intended to do me harm. <sup>3</sup>†And I sent messengers to them, saying, “I am doing a great work and I cannot come down. Why should the work stop while I leave it and come down to you?” <sup>4</sup>And they sent to me four times in this way, and I answered them in the same manner. <sup>5</sup>†In the same way Sanballat for the fifth time sent his servant to me with an open letter in his hand. <sup>6</sup>†In it was written, “It is reported among the nations, and Geshem [1] also says it, that you and the Jews intend to rebel; that is why you are building the wall. And according to these reports you wish to become their king. <sup>7</sup>†And you have also set up prophets to proclaim concerning you in Jerusalem, ‘There is a king in Judah.’ And now the king will hear of these reports. So now come and let us take counsel together.” <sup>8</sup>Then I sent to him, saying, “No such things as you say have been done, for you are inventing them out of your own mind.” <sup>9</sup>For they all wanted to frighten us, thinking, “Their hands will drop from the work, and it will not be done.” But now, O God, [2] strengthen my hands.

<sup>10</sup>†Now when I went into the house of Shemaiah the son of Delaiah, son of Mehetabel, who was confined to his home, he said, “Let us meet together in the house of God, within the temple. Let us close the doors of the temple, for they are coming to kill you. They are coming to kill you by night.” <sup>11</sup>But I said, “Should such a man as I run away? And what man such as I could go into the temple and live? [3] I will not go in.” <sup>12</sup>And I understood and saw that God had not sent him, but he had pronounced the prophecy against me because Tobiah and Sanballat had hired him. <sup>13</sup>For this purpose he was hired, that I should be afraid and act in this way and sin, and so they could give me a bad name in order to taunt me. <sup>14</sup>Remember Tobiah and Sanballat, O my God, according to these things that they did, and also the prophetess Noadiah and the rest of the prophets who wanted to make me afraid.

The Wall Is Finished

<sup>15</sup>†So the wall was finished on the twenty-fifth day of the month Elul, in fifty-two days. <sup>16</sup>†And when all our enemies heard of it, all the nations around us were afraid and fell greatly in their own esteem, for they perceived that this work had been accomplished with the help of our God. <sup>17</sup>‡Moreover, in those days the nobles of Judah sent many letters to Tobiah, and Tobiah's letters came to them. <sup>18</sup>For many in Judah were bound by oath to him, because he was the son-in-law of Shecaniah the son of Arah: and his son Jehohanan had taken the daughter of Meshullam the son of Berechiah as his wife. <sup>19</sup>Also they spoke of his good deeds in my presence and reported my words to him. And Tobiah sent letters to make me afraid.

NEHEMIAH 7 Now when the wall had been built and I had set up the doors, and the gatekeepers, the singers, and the Levites had been appointed, <sup>2</sup>†I gave my brother Hanani and Hananiah the governor of the castle charge over Jerusalem, for he was a more faithful and God-fearing man than many. <sup>3</sup>†And I said to them, “Let not the gates of Jerusalem be opened until the sun is hot. And while they are still standing guard, let them shut and bar the doors. Appoint guards from among the inhabitants of Jerusalem, some at their guard posts and some in front of their own homes.” <sup>4</sup>The city was wide and large, but the people within it were few, and no houses had been rebuilt.

Lists of Returned Exiles

<sup>5</sup>††Then my God put it into my heart to assemble the nobles and the officials and the people to be enrolled by genealogy. And I found the book of the genealogy of those who came up at the first, and I found written in it: <sup>6</sup>†These were the people of the province who came up out of the captivity of those exiles whom Nebuchadnezzar the king of Babylon had carried into exile. They returned to Jerusalem and Judah, each to his town. <sup>7</sup>They came with Zerubbabel, Jeshua, Nehemiah, Azariah, Raamiah, Nahamani, Mordecai, Bilshan, Mispereth, Bigvai, Nehum, Baanah.

<sup>46</sup>The temple servants: the sons of Ziha, the sons of Hasupha, the sons of Tabbaoth, <sup>47</sup>the sons of Keros, the sons of Sia, the sons of Padon, <sup>48</sup>the sons of Lebana, the sons of Hagaba, the sons of Shalmal, <sup>49</sup>the sons of Hanan, the sons of Giddel, the sons of Gahar, <sup>50</sup>the sons of Reaiah, the sons of Rezin, the sons of Nekoda, <sup>51</sup>the sons of Gazzam, the sons of Uzza, the sons of Paseah, <sup>52</sup>the sons of Besai, the sons of Meunim, the sons of Nephushesim, <sup>53</sup>the sons of Bakbuk, the sons of Hakupha, the sons of Harhur, <sup>54</sup>the sons of Bazlith, the sons of Mehida, the sons of Harsha, <sup>55</sup>the sons of Barkos, the sons of Sisera, the sons of Temah, <sup>56</sup>the sons of Neziah, the sons of Hatipha.

<sup>60</sup>All the temple servants and the sons of Solomon's servants were 392.

<sup>61</sup>The following were those who came up from Tel-melah, Tel-harsha, Cherub, Addon, and Immer, but they could not prove their fathers' houses nor their descent, whether they belonged to Israel: <sup>62</sup>the sons of Delaiah, the sons of Tobiah, the sons of Nekoda, 642. <sup>63</sup>Also, of the priests: the sons of Hobaiah, the sons of Hakkoz, the sons of Barzillai (who had taken a wife of the daughters of Barzillai the Gileadite and was called by their name). <sup>64</sup>These sought their registration among those enrolled in the genealogies, but it was not found there, so they were excluded from the priesthood as unclean. <sup>65</sup>†The governor told them that they were not to partake of the most holy food until a priest with Urim and Thummim should arise.

Totals of People and Gifts

<sup>66</sup>The whole assembly together was 42,360, <sup>67</sup>besides their male and female servants, of whom there were 7,337. And they had 245 singers, male and female. <sup>68</sup>Their horses were 736, their mules 245, [\[1\]](#) <sup>69</sup>their camels 435, and their donkeys 6,720.

<sup>70</sup>Now some of the heads of fathers' houses gave to the work. The governor gave to the treasury 1,000 darics [2] of gold, 50 basins, 30 priests' garments and 500 minas [3] of silver. [4] <sup>71</sup>And some of the heads of fathers' houses gave into the treasury of the work 20,000 darics of gold and 2,200 minas of silver. <sup>72</sup>And what the rest of the people gave was 20,000 darics of gold, 2,000 minas of silver, and 67 priests' garments.

<sup>73</sup>+++So the priests, the Levites, the gatekeepers, the singers, some of the people, the temple servants, and all Israel, lived in their towns.

And when the seventh month had come, the people of Israel were in their towns.

Ezra Reads the Law

NEHEMIAH 8 † And all the people gathered as one man into the square before the Water Gate. And they told Ezra the scribe to bring the Book of the Law of Moses that the LORD had commanded Israel. <sup>2</sup> So Ezra the priest brought the Law before the assembly, both men and women and all who could understand what they heard, on the first day of the seventh month. <sup>3</sup> † And he read from it facing the square before the Water Gate from early morning until midday, in the presence of the men and the women and those who could understand. And the ears of all the people were attentive to the Book of the Law. <sup>4</sup> † And Ezra the scribe stood on a wooden platform that they had made for the purpose. And beside him stood Mattithiah, Shema, Anaiah, Uriah, Hilkiah, and Maaseiah on his right hand, and Pedaiah, Mishael, Malchijah, Hashum, Hashbaddanah, Zechariah, and Meshullam on his left hand. <sup>5</sup> † And Ezra opened the book in the sight of all the people, for he was above all the people, and as he opened it all the people stood. <sup>6</sup> † And Ezra blessed the LORD, the great God, and all the people answered, “Amen, Amen,” lifting up their hands. And they bowed their heads and worshiped the LORD with their faces to the ground. <sup>7</sup> † Also Jeshua, Bani, Sherebiah, Jamin, Akkub, Shabbethai, Hodiah, Maaseiah, Kelita, Azariah, Jozabad, Hanan, Pelaiah, the Levites, [\[1\]](#) helped the people to understand the Law, while the people remained in their places. <sup>8</sup> † They read from the book, from the Law of God, clearly, [\[2\]](#) and they gave the sense, so that the people understood the reading.

This Day Is Holy

<sup>9</sup> † And Nehemiah, who was the governor, and Ezra the priest and scribe, and the Levites who taught the people said to all the people, “This day is holy to the LORD your God; do not mourn or weep.” For all the people wept as they heard the words of the Law. <sup>10</sup> † Then he said to them, “Go your way. Eat the fat and drink sweet wine and send portions to anyone who has nothing ready, for this day is holy to our Lord. And do not be grieved, for the joy of the LORD is your strength.” <sup>11</sup> So the Levites calmed all the people, saying, “Be quiet, for this day is holy; do not be grieved.” <sup>12</sup> And all the people went their way to eat and drink and to send portions and to make great rejoicing, because they had understood the words that were declared to them.

Feast of Booths Celebrated

<sup>13</sup>†† On the second day the heads of fathers' houses of all the people, with the priests and the Levites, came together to Ezra the scribe in order to study the words of the Law. <sup>14</sup>† And they found it written in the Law that the LORD had commanded by Moses that the people of Israel should dwell in booths [3] during the feast of the seventh month, <sup>15</sup>† and that they should proclaim it and publish it in all their towns and in Jerusalem, “Go out to the hills and bring branches of olive, wild olive, myrtle, palm, and other leafy trees to make booths, as it is written.” <sup>16</sup>† So the people went out and brought them and made booths for themselves, each on his roof, and in their courts and in the courts of the house of God, and in the square at the Water Gate and in the square at the Gate of Ephraim. <sup>17</sup>† And all the assembly of those who had returned from the captivity made booths and lived in the booths, for from the days of Jeshua the son of Nun to that day the people of Israel had not done so. And there was very great rejoicing. <sup>18</sup>† And day by day, from the first day to the last day, he read from the Book of the Law of God. They kept the feast seven days, and on the eighth day there was a solemn assembly, according to the rule.

The People of Israel Confess Their Sin

NEHEMIAH 9 † Now on the twenty-fourth day of this month the people of Israel were assembled with fasting and in sackcloth, and with earth on their heads. <sup>2</sup>† And the Israelites separated themselves from all foreigners and stood and confessed their sins and the iniquities of their fathers. <sup>3</sup>† And they stood up in their place and read from the Book of the Law of the LORD their God for a quarter of the day; for another quarter of it they made confession and worshiped the LORD their God. <sup>4</sup>† On the stairs of the Levites stood Jeshua, Bani, Kadmiel, Shebaniah, Bunni, Sherebiah, Bani, and Chenani; and they cried with a loud voice to the LORD their God. <sup>5</sup> Then the Levites, Jeshua, Kadmiel, Bani, Hashabneiah, Sherebiah, Hodiah, Shebaniah, and Pethahiah, said, “Stand up and bless the LORD your God from everlasting to everlasting. Blessed be your glorious name, which is exalted above all blessing and praise.

<sup>6</sup>† [1] “You are the LORD, you alone. You have made heaven, the heaven of heavens, with all their host, the earth and all that is on it, the seas and all that is in them; and you preserve all of them; and the host of heaven worships you. <sup>7</sup> You are the LORD, the God who chose Abram and brought him out of Ur of the Chaldeans and gave him the name Abraham. <sup>8</sup>† You found his heart faithful before you, and made with him the covenant to give to his offspring the land of the Canaanite, the Hittite, the Amorite, the Perizzite, the Jebusite, and the Girgashite. And you have kept your promise, for you are righteous.

<sup>9</sup>† “And you saw the affliction of our fathers in Egypt and heard their cry at the Red Sea, <sup>10</sup>† and performed signs and wonders against Pharaoh and all his servants and all the people of his land, for you knew that they acted arrogantly against our fathers. And you made a name for yourself, as it is to this day. <sup>11</sup> And you divided the sea before them, so that they went through the midst of the sea on dry land, and you cast their pursuers into the depths, as a stone into mighty waters. <sup>12</sup> By a pillar of cloud you led them in the day, and by a pillar of fire in the night to light for them the way in which they should go. <sup>13</sup>† You came down on Mount Sinai and spoke with them from heaven and gave them right rules and true laws, good statutes and commandments, <sup>14</sup> and you made known to them your holy Sabbath and commanded them commandments and statutes and a law by Moses your servant. <sup>15</sup> You gave them bread from heaven for their hunger and brought water for them out of the rock for their thirst, and you told them to go in to possess the land that you had sworn to give them.

<sup>16</sup>“But they and our fathers acted presumptuously and stiffened their neck and did not obey your commandments. <sup>17</sup>†They refused to obey and were not mindful of the wonders that you performed among them, but they stiffened their neck and appointed a leader to return to their slavery in Egypt. But you are a God ready to forgive, gracious and merciful, slow to anger and abounding in steadfast love, and did not forsake them. <sup>18</sup>Even when they had made for themselves a golden [2] calf and said, ‘This is your God who brought you up out of Egypt,’ and had committed great blasphemies, <sup>19</sup>†you in your great mercies did not forsake them in the wilderness. The pillar of cloud to lead them in the way did not depart from them by day, nor the pillar of fire by night to light for them the way by which they should go. <sup>20</sup>You gave your good Spirit to instruct them and did not withhold your manna from their mouth and gave them water for their thirst. <sup>21</sup>†Forty years you sustained them in the wilderness, and they lacked nothing. Their clothes did not wear out and their feet did not swell.

<sup>22</sup>††“And you gave them kingdoms and peoples and allotted to them every corner. So they took possession of the land of Sihon king of Heshbon and the land of Og king of Bashan. <sup>23</sup>†You multiplied their children as the stars of heaven, and you brought them into the land that you had told their fathers to enter and possess. <sup>24</sup>†So the descendants went in and possessed the land, and you subdued before them the inhabitants of the land, the Canaanites, and gave them into their hand, with their kings and the peoples of the land, that they might do with them as they would. <sup>25</sup>And they captured fortified cities and a rich land, and took possession of houses full of all good things, cisterns already hewn, vineyards, olive orchards and fruit trees in abundance. So they ate and were filled and became fat and delighted themselves in your great goodness.

<sup>26</sup>††“Nevertheless, they were disobedient and rebelled against you and cast your law behind their back and killed your prophets, who had warned them in order to turn them back to you, and they committed great blasphemies. <sup>27</sup>Therefore you gave them into the hand of their enemies, who made them suffer. And in the time of their suffering they cried out to you and you heard them from heaven, and according to your great mercies you gave them saviors who saved them from the hand of their enemies. <sup>28</sup>But after they had rest they did evil again before you, and you abandoned them to the hand of their enemies, so that they had dominion over them. Yet when they turned and cried to you, you heard from heaven, and many times you delivered them according to your mercies. <sup>29</sup>And you warned them in order to turn them back to your law. Yet they acted presumptuously and did not obey your commandments, but sinned against your rules, which if a person does them, he shall live by them, and they turned a stubborn shoulder and stiffened their neck and would not obey. <sup>30</sup>Many years you bore with them and warned them by your Spirit through your prophets. Yet they would not give ear. Therefore you gave them into the hand of the peoples of the lands.

<sup>31</sup>Nevertheless, in your great mercies you did not make an end of them or forsake them, for you are a gracious and merciful God.

<sup>32</sup>†“Now, therefore, our God, the great, the mighty, and the awesome God, who keeps covenant and steadfast love, let not all the hardship seem little to you that has come upon us, upon our kings, our princes, our priests, our prophets, our fathers, and all your people, since the time of the kings of Assyria until this day.

<sup>33</sup>Yet you have been righteous in all that has come upon us, for you have dealt faithfully and we have acted wickedly. <sup>34</sup>Our kings, our princes, our priests, and our fathers have not kept your law or paid attention to your commandments and your warnings that you gave them. <sup>35</sup>Even in their own kingdom, and amid your great goodness that you gave them, and in the large and rich land that you set before them, they did not serve you or turn from their wicked works. <sup>36</sup>†Behold, we are slaves this day; in the land that you gave to our fathers to enjoy its fruit and its good gifts, behold, we are slaves. <sup>37</sup>†And its rich yield goes to the kings whom you have set over us because of our sins. They rule over our bodies and over our livestock as they please, and we are in great distress.

<sup>38</sup>†† [3] “Because of all this we make a firm covenant in writing; on the sealed document are the names of [4] our princes, our Levites, and our priests.

The People Who Sealed the Covenant

The Obligations of the Covenant

<sup>28</sup>‡ “The rest of the people, the priests, the Levites, the gatekeepers, the singers, the temple servants, and all who have separated themselves from the peoples of the lands to the Law of God, their wives, their sons, their daughters, all who have knowledge and understanding, <sup>29</sup>‡ join with their brothers, their nobles, and enter into a curse and an oath to walk in God's Law that was given by Moses the servant of God, and to observe and do all the commandments of the LORD our Lord and his rules and his statutes. <sup>30</sup>‡ We will not give our daughters to the peoples of the land or take their daughters for our sons. <sup>31</sup>And if the peoples of the land bring in goods or any grain on the Sabbath day to sell, we will not buy from them on the Sabbath or on a holy day. And we will forego the crops of the seventh year and the exaction of every debt.

<sup>32</sup>‡‡ “We also take on ourselves the obligation to give yearly a third part of a shekel [3] for the service of the house of our God: <sup>33</sup>for the showbread, the regular grain offering, the regular burnt offering, the Sabbaths, the new moons, the appointed feasts, the holy things, and the sin offerings to make atonement for Israel, and for all the work of the house of our God. <sup>34</sup>‡ We, the priests, the Levites, and the people, have likewise cast lots for the wood offering, to bring it into the house of our God, according to our fathers' houses, at times appointed, year by year, to burn on the altar of the LORD our God, as it is written in the Law.

<sup>35</sup>⚡⚡ We obligate ourselves to bring the firstfruits of our ground and the firstfruits of all fruit of every tree, year by year, to the house of the LORD; <sup>36</sup>also to bring to the house of our God, to the priests who minister in the house of our God, the firstborn of our sons and of our cattle, as it is written in the Law, and the firstborn of our herds and of our flocks; <sup>37</sup>and to bring the first of our dough, and our contributions, the fruit of every tree, the wine and the oil, to the priests, to the chambers of the house of our God; and to bring to the Levites the tithes from our ground, for it is the Levites who collect the tithes in all our towns where we labor. <sup>38</sup>And the priest, the son of Aaron, shall be with the Levites when the Levites receive the tithes. And the Levites shall bring up the tithe of the tithes to the house of our God, to the chambers of the storehouse. <sup>39</sup>For the people of Israel and the sons of Levi shall bring the contribution of grain, wine, and oil to the chambers, where the vessels of the sanctuary are, as well as the priests who minister, and the gatekeepers and the singers. We will not neglect the house of our God.”

The Leaders in Jerusalem

NEHEMIAH 11 †††Now the leaders of the people lived in Jerusalem. And the rest of the people cast lots to bring one out of ten to live in Jerusalem the holy city, while nine out of ten [\[1\]](#) remained in the other towns. <sup>2</sup>And the people blessed all the men who willingly offered to live in Jerusalem.

<sup>3</sup>†These are the chiefs of the province who lived in Jerusalem; but in the towns of Judah everyone lived on his property in their towns: Israel, the priests, the Levites, the temple servants, and the descendants of Solomon's servants. <sup>4</sup>And in Jerusalem lived certain of the sons of Judah and of the sons of Benjamin. Of the sons of Judah: Athaiah the son of Uzziah, son of Zechariah, son of Amariah, son of Shephatiah, son of Mahalalel, of the sons of Perez; <sup>5</sup>and Maaseiah the son of Baruch, son of Col-hozeh, son of Hazaiah, son of Adaiah, son of Joiarib, son of Zechariah, son of the Shilonite. <sup>6</sup>All the sons of Perez who lived in Jerusalem were 468 valiant men.

<sup>7</sup>And these are the sons of Benjamin: Sallu the son of Meshullam, son of Joed, son of Pedaiah, son of Kolaiah, son of Maaseiah, son of Ithiel, son of Jeshaiiah, <sup>8</sup>and his brothers, men of valor, 928. [\[2\]](#) <sup>9</sup>Joel the son of Zichri was their overseer; and Judah the son of Hassenuah was second over the city.

<sup>10</sup>Of the priests: Jedaiah the son of Joiarib, Jachin, <sup>11</sup>Seraiah the son of Hilkiah, son of Meshullam, son of Zadok, son of Meraioth, son of Ahitub, ruler of the house of God, <sup>12</sup>and their brothers who did the work of the house, 822; and Adaiah the son of Jeroham, son of Pelaliah, son of Amzi, son of Zechariah, son of Pashhur, son of Malchijah, <sup>13</sup>and his brothers, heads of fathers' houses, 242; and Amashsai, the son of Azarel, son of Ahzai, son of Meshillemoth, son of Immer, <sup>14</sup>and their brothers, mighty men of valor, 128; their overseer was Zabdiel the son of Haggadolim.

<sup>15</sup>And of the Levites: Shemaiah the son of Hasshub, son of Azrikam, son of Hashabiah, son of Bunni; <sup>16</sup>and Shabbethai and Jozabad, of the chiefs of the Levites, who were over the outside work of the house of God; <sup>17</sup>and Mattaniah the son of Mica, son of Zabdi, son of Asaph, who was the leader of the praise, [\[3\]](#) who gave thanks, and Bakbukiah, the second among his brothers; and Abda the son of Shammua, son of Galal, son of Jeduthun. <sup>18</sup>All the Levites in the holy city were 284.

<sup>19</sup>‡The gatekeepers, Akkub, Talmon and their brothers, who kept watch at the gates, were 172. <sup>20</sup>And the rest of Israel, and of the priests and the Levites, were in all the towns of Judah, every one in his inheritance. <sup>21</sup>‡But the temple servants lived on Ophel; and Ziha and Gishpa were over the temple servants.

<sup>22</sup>The overseer of the Levites in Jerusalem was Uzzi the son of Bani, son of Hashabiah, son of Mattaniah, son of Mica, of the sons of Asaph, the singers, over the work of the house of God. <sup>23</sup>For there was a command from the king concerning them, and a fixed provision for the singers, as every day required. <sup>24</sup>And Pethahiah the son of Meshezabel, of the sons of Zerah the son of Judah, was at the king's side [4] in all matters concerning the people.

Villages Outside Jerusalem

<sup>25</sup>‡And as for the villages, with their fields, some of the people of Judah lived in Kiriath-arba and its villages, and in Dibon and its villages, and in Jekabzeel and its villages, <sup>26</sup>and in Jeshua and in Moladah and Beth-pelet, <sup>27</sup>in Hazar-shual, in Beersheba and its villages, <sup>28</sup>in Ziklag, in Meconah and its villages, <sup>29</sup>in En-rimmon, in Zorah, in Jarmuth, <sup>30</sup>Zanoah, Adullam, and their villages, Lachish and its fields, and Azekah and its villages. So they encamped from Beersheba to the Valley of Hinnom. <sup>31</sup>The people of Benjamin also lived from Geba onward, at Michmash, Aiya, Bethel and its villages, <sup>32</sup>Anathoth, Nob, Ananiah, <sup>33</sup>Hazor, Ramah, Gittaim, <sup>34</sup>Hadid, Zeboim, Neballat, <sup>35</sup>Lod, and Ono, the valley of craftsmen. <sup>36</sup>And certain divisions of the Levites in Judah were assigned to Benjamin.

Priests and Levites

<sup>8</sup>And the Levites: Jeshua, Binnui, Kadmiel, Sherebiah, Judah, and Mattaniah, who with his brothers was in charge of the songs of thanksgiving. <sup>9</sup>And Bakbukiah and Unni and their brothers stood opposite them in the service. <sup>10</sup>† And Jeshua was the father of Joiakim, Joiakim the father of Eliashib, Eliashib the father of Joiada, <sup>11</sup>Joiada the father of Jonathan, and Jonathan the father of Jaddua.

<sup>22</sup>† In the days of Eliashib, Joiada, Johanan, and Jaddua, the Levites were recorded as heads of fathers' houses; so too were the priests in the reign of Darius the Persian. <sup>23</sup>† As for the sons of Levi, their heads of fathers' houses were written in the Book of the Chronicles until the days of Johanan the son of Eliashib. <sup>24</sup>And the chiefs of the Levites: Hashabiah, Sherebiah, and Jeshua the son of Kadmiel, with their brothers who stood opposite them, to praise and to give thanks, according to the commandment of David the man of God, watch by watch. <sup>25</sup>Mattaniah, Bakbukiah, Obadiah, Meshullam, Talmon, and Akkub were gatekeepers standing guard at the storehouses of the gates. <sup>26</sup>These were in the days of Joiakim the son of Jeshua son of Jozadak, and in the days of Nehemiah the governor and of Ezra, the priest and scribe.

Dedication of the Wall

<sup>27</sup>‡‡ And at the dedication of the wall of Jerusalem they sought the Levites in all their places, to bring them to Jerusalem to celebrate the dedication with gladness, with thanksgivings and with singing, with cymbals, harps, and lyres. <sup>28</sup> And the sons of the singers gathered together from the district surrounding Jerusalem and from the villages of the Netophathites; <sup>29</sup> also from Beth-gilgal and from the region of Geba and Azmaveth, for the singers had built for themselves villages around Jerusalem. <sup>30</sup> † And the priests and the Levites purified themselves, and they purified the people and the gates and the wall.

<sup>31</sup> † Then I brought the leaders of Judah up onto the wall and appointed two great choirs that gave thanks. One went to the south on the wall to the Dung Gate.

<sup>32</sup> And after them went Hoshaiah and half of the leaders of Judah, <sup>33</sup> and Azariah, Ezra, Meshullam, <sup>34</sup> Judah, Benjamin, Shemaiah, and Jeremiah, <sup>35</sup> and certain of the priests' sons with trumpets: Zechariah the son of Jonathan, son of Shemaiah, son of Mattaniah, son of Micaiah, son of Zaccur, son of Asaph; <sup>36</sup> † and his relatives, Shemaiah, Azarel, Milalai, Gilalai, Maai, Nethanel, Judah, and Hanani, with the musical instruments of David the man of God. And Ezra the scribe went before them. <sup>37</sup> † At the Fountain Gate they went up straight before them by the stairs of the city of David, at the ascent of the wall, above the house of David, to the Water Gate on the east.

<sup>38</sup> † The other choir of those who gave thanks went to the north, and I followed them with half of the people, on the wall, above the Tower of the Ovens, to the Broad Wall, <sup>39</sup> † and above the Gate of Ephraim, and by the Gate of Yeshanah, [\[1\]](#) and by the Fish Gate and the Tower of Hananel and the Tower of the Hundred, to the Sheep Gate; and they came to a halt at the Gate of the Guard. <sup>40</sup> So both choirs of those who gave thanks stood in the house of God, and I and half of the officials with me; <sup>41</sup> and the priests Eliakim, Maaseiah, Miniamin, Micaiah, Elioenai, Zechariah, and Hananiah, with trumpets; <sup>42</sup> and Maaseiah, Shemaiah, Eleazar, Uzzi, Jehohanan, Malchijah, Elam, and Ezer. And the singers sang with Jezrahiah as their leader. <sup>43</sup> † And they offered great sacrifices that day and rejoiced, for God had made them rejoice with great joy; the women and children also rejoiced. And the joy of Jerusalem was heard far away.

Service at the Temple

<sup>44</sup> † On that day men were appointed over the storerooms, the contributions, the firstfruits, and the tithes, to gather into them the portions required by the Law for the priests and for the Levites according to the fields of the towns, for Judah rejoiced over the priests and the Levites who ministered. <sup>45</sup>†And they performed the service of their God and the service of purification, as did the singers and the gatekeepers, according to the command of David and his son Solomon. <sup>46</sup>For long ago in the days of David and Asaph there were directors of the singers, and there were songs [2] of praise and thanksgiving to God. <sup>47</sup>†And all Israel in the days of Zerubbabel and in the days of Nehemiah gave the daily portions for the singers and the gatekeepers; and they set apart that which was for the Levites; and the Levites set apart that which was for the sons of Aaron.

Nehemiah's Final Reforms

NEHEMIAH 13 ‡‡On that day they read from the Book of Moses in the hearing of the people. And in it was found written that no Ammonite or Moabite should ever enter the assembly of God, ‡for they did not meet the people of Israel with bread and water, but hired Balaam against them to curse them—yet our God turned the curse into a blessing. ‡As soon as the people heard the law, they separated from Israel all those of foreign descent.

‡Now before this, Eliashib the priest, who was appointed over the chambers of the house of our God, and who was related to Tobiah, ‡prepared for Tobiah a large chamber where they had previously put the grain offering, the frankincense, the vessels, and the tithes of grain, wine, and oil, which were given by commandment to the Levites, singers, and gatekeepers, and the contributions for the priests. ‡While this was taking place, I was not in Jerusalem, for in the thirty-second year of Artaxerxes king of Babylon I went to the king. And after some time I asked leave of the king ‡and came to Jerusalem, and I then discovered the evil that Eliashib had done for Tobiah, preparing for him a chamber in the courts of the house of God. ‡And I was very angry, and I threw all the household furniture of Tobiah out of the chamber. ‡Then I gave orders, and they cleansed the chambers, and I brought back there the vessels of the house of God, with the grain offering and the frankincense.

‡‡I also found out that the portions of the Levites had not been given to them, so that the Levites and the singers, who did the work, had fled each to his field. ‡So I confronted the officials and said, “Why is the house of God forsaken?” And I gathered them together and set them in their stations. ‡Then all Judah brought the tithe of the grain, wine, and oil into the storehouses. ‡And I appointed as treasurers over the storehouses Shelemiah the priest, Zadok the scribe, and Pedaiah of the Levites, and as their assistant Hanan the son of Zaccur, son of Mattaniah, for they were considered reliable, and their duty was to distribute to their brothers. ‡Remember me, O my God, concerning this, and do not wipe out my good deeds that I have done for the house of my God and for his service.

‡In those days I saw in Judah people treading winepresses on the Sabbath, and bringing in heaps of grain and loading them on donkeys, and also wine, grapes, figs, and all kinds of loads, which they brought into Jerusalem on the Sabbath day. And I warned them on the day when they sold food. <sup>16</sup>†Tyrians also, who lived in the city, brought in fish and all kinds of goods and sold them on the Sabbath to the people of Judah, in Jerusalem itself! <sup>17</sup>Then I confronted the nobles of Judah and said to them, “What is this evil thing that you are doing, profaning the Sabbath day? <sup>18</sup>†Did not your fathers act in this way, and did not our God bring all this disaster [1] on us and on this city? Now you are bringing more wrath on Israel by profaning the Sabbath.”

<sup>19</sup>†As soon as it began to grow dark at the gates of Jerusalem before the Sabbath, I commanded that the doors should be shut and gave orders that they should not be opened until after the Sabbath. And I stationed some of my servants at the gates, that no load might be brought in on the Sabbath day. <sup>20</sup>Then the merchants and sellers of all kinds of wares lodged outside Jerusalem once or twice. <sup>21</sup>But I warned them and said to them, “Why do you lodge outside the wall? If you do so again, I will lay hands on you.” From that time on they did not come on the Sabbath. <sup>22</sup>Then I commanded the Levites that they should purify themselves and come and guard the gates, to keep the Sabbath day holy. Remember this also in my favor, O my God, and spare me according to the greatness of your steadfast love.

<sup>23</sup>††In those days also I saw the Jews who had married women of Ashdod, Ammon, and Moab. <sup>24</sup>And half of their children spoke the language of Ashdod, and they could not speak the language of Judah, but only the language of each people. <sup>25</sup>And I confronted them and cursed them and beat some of them and pulled out their hair. And I made them take oath in the name of God, saying, “You shall not give your daughters to their sons, or take their daughters for your sons or for yourselves. <sup>26</sup>Did not Solomon king of Israel sin on account of such women? Among the many nations there was no king like him, and he was beloved by his God, and God made him king over all Israel. Nevertheless, foreign women made even him to sin. <sup>27</sup>Shall we then listen to you and do all this great evil and act treacherously against our God by marrying foreign women?”

<sup>28</sup>†And one of the sons of Jehoiada, the son of Eliashib the high priest, was the son-in-law of Sanballat the Horonite. Therefore I chased him from me.

<sup>29</sup>†Remember them, O my God, because they have desecrated the priesthood and the covenant of the priesthood and the Levites.

<sup>30</sup>Thus I cleansed them from everything foreign, and I established the duties of the priests and Levites, each in his work; <sup>31</sup>†and I provided for the wood offering at appointed times, and for the firstfruits.

Remember me, O my God, for good.

Study Notes

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 1:1–7:73a Nehemiah returns to Jerusalem and successfully leads a 52-day “rebuilding of the wall” project (cf. 6:15).

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 1:1–2:20 This section details how Nehemiah became the governor of Judah (cf. 5:14; 8:9; 10:1; 12:26).

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 1:1 The words of Nehemiah. The personal records of this famous royal cupbearer, whose name means “Jehovah comforts” (cf. 3:16; 7:7; 8:9; 10:1; 12:26, 47), contribute greatly to this book. Unlike Esther and Mordecai, named after Mesopotamian deities Ishtar and Marduk, Nehemiah was given a Hebrew name. Hacaliah. Nehemiah’s father is mentioned again in Neh. 10:1, but nowhere else in the OT. Chislev. This is in November/December 446 B.C., four months before Nisan (March/April), when Nehemiah came before the king to get permission to go to Jerusalem (2:1). twentieth year. The twentieth year (c. 446/445 B.C.) in the reign of Persian king Artaxerxes (c. 464–423 B.C.; cf. 2:1). Susa. Also known as Shushan, this city was situated east of Babylon, about 150 miles north of the Persian Gulf. Susa was one of the Medo-Persian strongholds, a wintering city for many officials, and the setting of Esther.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 1:2 Hanani. Apparently a sibling of Nehemiah (cf. 7:2), he had gone to Jerusalem in the second return under Ezra’s leadership (c. 458 B.C.). Jews . . . Jerusalem. Nehemiah was deeply concerned about the people and the city, especially during the previous 13 years, since the second return under Ezra (458 B.C.).

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 1:3 wall of Jerusalem . . . gates. The opposition had successfully thwarted the Jews’ attempts to reestablish Jerusalem as a distinctively Jewish city capable of withstanding its enemies’ assaults, which could possibly lead to another destruction of the newly rebuilt temple (c. 516 B.C.; cf. Ezra 4:7–23).

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 1:4 sat down and wept and mourned for days. Although Nehemiah was neither a prophet nor a priest, he had a deep sense of Jerusalem’s significance to God and was greatly distressed that affairs there had not advanced the cause and glory of God.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 1:5–11 This prayer represents one of the Scripture’s most moving confessions and intercessions before God (cf. Ezra 9:6–15; Dan. 9:4–19).

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 1:5 keeps covenant and steadfast love with those who love him. After 70 years of captivity in Babylon, God kept his promise to restore his people to the Promised Land. The promise appeared to be failing, and Nehemiah appealed to God’s character and covenant as the basis by which he must intervene and accomplish his pledges to his people.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 1:6 we have sinned against you. Nehemiah may have believed that the sins of the returnees (cf. Ezra 9–10) had prompted God to change his mind and withhold his favor from the Jews.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 1:7 commandments . . . statutes . . . rules. Those which are recorded in Exodus, Leviticus, Numbers, and Deuteronomy.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 1:8 Remember. Not a reminder to God as if he had forgotten, but a plea to activate his word.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 1:8–9 the word . . . Moses. This represents a summary of various Mosaic writings. On “scatter” (v. 8) see Deut. 4:25–28 and 28:63–65. On “gather” see Deut. 4:29–31 and 30:1–5.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 1:10 redeemed by your great power and by your strong hand. His allusion to the exodus redemption recalled the faithful and strong hand of God that had brought Israel out of bondage once before and grounded his confidence in God’s power as the basis of his appeal for a second deliverance that will be as successful as the first.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 1:11 who delight to fear your name. Nehemiah alluded to the fact that Israel was the place that God had chosen for his name to dwell (v. 9); the people desired to fear his name and, thus, were praying for God’s intervention. in the sight of this man. The reference to King Artaxerxes anticipated the discussion in 2:1ff. cupbearer to the king. As an escort of the monarch at meals, the cupbearer had a unique advantage to petition the king. Not only did the king owe him his life, since the cupbearer tested all the king’s beverages for possible poison, thus putting his own life at risk, but he also became a close confidant. God sovereignly used this relationship between a Gentile and Jew to deliver his people, such as he did with Joseph, Daniel, Esther, and Mordecai.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 2:1 Nisan. March/April 445 B.C. twentieth year. See note on 1:1. wine was before him. Since the act of tasting wine to ensure it was not dangerous to the king strengthened the trust between king and cupbearer, this was the appropriate time for Nehemiah to win Artaxerxes’ attention and approval. Not surprisingly, kings often developed so much trust in their cupbearers that the latter became counselors to the kings. Now I had not been sad. Sadness was a dangerous emotion to express in the king’s presence. The king wanted his subjects to be happy, since this reflected the well-being brought about by his administrative prowess.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 2:2 very much afraid. He feared that either his countenance, his explanation, or his request would anger the king and thus lead to his death (cf. Est. 4:11 with 5:1–3).

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 2:3 graves . . . gates. Nehemiah's deep concern and sadness over the condition of Jerusalem and his people was expressed in his reference to tombs and gates. A tomb was a place to show respect for dead community members who birthed the living generation and passed on their spiritual values to them. Tombs were also the place where the present generation hoped to be honored by burial at death. Gates were emblematic of the life of the city, since the people gathered for judicial procedure or basic social interaction near the gates. The burned gates represented the death of social life, i.e., the end of a community of people.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 2:4 What are you requesting? The king rightly interpreted Nehemiah's sad countenance as a desire to take action on behalf of his people and homeland. His immediate response to the king's question illustrates how continual his prayer life was (cf. 1:6). God of heaven. See note on Ezra 1:2.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 2:5 that I may rebuild it. The request undeniably referred to the city walls, for there could be no permanence without walls, but it also may have included political and administrative rebuilding as well.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 2:6 the queen. Since Esther was the queen of the previous king Ahasuerus (Xerxes) c. 486–464 B.C. and the stepmother of Artaxerxes, it could be that she had previously influenced the present king and queen to be favorably disposed to the Jews. return. This presupposes that Nehemiah was being dispatched on his desired mission and upon its completion would return to Persia (cf. Neh. 13:6).

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 2:7 let letters be given me. Official letters transferred a portion of the king's authority to Nehemiah. In this context, he needed to pass through the lands of Judah's enemies who could harm him or prevent him from rebuilding Jerusalem. The roads upon which messengers, ambassadors, and envoys of all sorts traveled had stations where such letters could be inspected for passage. Three months of travel from Susa to Jerusalem was long, dangerous, and ridden with protocol where letters were required for passage. The danger associated with the passage, but particularly the administrative authority which Nehemiah carried in the letters, led Artaxerxes to send captains of the army and horsemen with Nehemiah for protection (2:9). See notes on Ezra 1:11 and 7:8–9.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 2:8 and a letter to Asaph, the keeper of the king’s forest. Lumber was a very precious commodity. This is illustrated in a document from one ancient city in Mesopotamia in which a forest official is taken to court for cutting down a tree. Forests were carefully guarded, and written permission from the king would assure Nehemiah of the lumber he would need to build the citadel, wall reinforcements, and his own residence from which he would administrate the reconstruction. fortress. This edifice located next to the temple on the northwest side was a fortified building for the purpose of guarding the temple. It was subsequently rebuilt by Herod and named Antonia. the good hand of my God was upon me. This refrain is common to both Ezra and Nehemiah. It is a frequent reminder in these inspired books that God works through his servants to accomplish his will (cf. Ezra 1:5; 7:6).

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 2:9–3:1 The journey from Persia to Jerusalem and the preparation period was to be three to four months (cf. 2:1 with 6:15).

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 2:9 I came to the governors. Nehemiah’s encroachment upon their provincial control posed a tremendous threat to these officials. If handled improperly, disregard for the other local officials would have put Nehemiah’s life and the lives of those in Jerusalem in jeopardy. To prevent such a reaction, God had moved the Persian king to dispatch royal army captains and horsemen to accompany Nehemiah and to guard against such attacks.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 2:10 Sanballat . . . Tobiah. These men were probably also behind the opposition described in Ezra 4:7–23 which stopped the work in Jerusalem. Sanballat served as governor of Samaria (Horonaim being a town in Moab, he was probably a Moabite) and Tobiah of the region east of the Jordan. These district magistrates were leaders of Samaritan factions (see Neh. 6) to the north and east. They had lost any recourse to prevent Judah from rebuilding since God’s people were authorized to fortify their settlement against attack from enemies such as these two officials. To overtly attack or oppose the Jews would be to oppose the Persian king.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 2:11–16 Nehemiah spent three days discerning what course to follow before informing anyone of his plan; then, he wisely viewed the terrain in secret and surveyed the southern end of the city, noting the broken and burnt conditions of the walls and gates.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 2:13, 15 Valley Gate. Nehemiah began and ended his trip at the same spot (cf. 3:13) on the west side.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 2:13 Dragon Spring. The exact location is unknown, although it is somewhere in the southern section of Jerusalem. Dung Gate. At the southern tip of the city (cf. 3:13; 12:31) a common sewer ran to the Kidron Brook into the Valley of Hinnom.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 2:14 Fountain Gate. The exact location is unknown, although it was somewhere in the southern section of Jerusalem, probably on the east side. King's Pool. Possibly the pool of Siloam (cf. 3:15).

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 2:15 the valley. The Kidron Valley, running north and south to the east of the temple mount.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 2:17 we may no longer suffer derision. The destruction of the city by Nebuchadnezzar brought great reproach upon Israel, but particularly upon their God. Nehemiah assured the Jews (v. 20) that because God would prosper them in this endeavor for his glory, they should move ahead.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 2:18 The sight of Nehemiah's credentials and his motivating message revived their drooping spirits to begin the building despite the bitter taunts of influential men (vv. 19–20).

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 2:19 Sanballat . . . Tobiah. See note on 2:10. Geshem the Arab. This ruler most likely officiated to the south of Jerusalem.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 2:20 God of heaven. Cf. Neh. 1:5 and see note on Ezra 1:2. Not only did Nehemiah have the king's permission and was not rebelling, but he had God's protection. Those enemies who tried to intimidate against the work had neither, since they were not commissioned by God or the king.

Jerusalem at the Time of Nehemiah

c. 445 B.C.

Though Nehemiah gives a careful listing of the sections of Jerusalem's walls that were rebuilt, it is difficult to be certain exactly which walls and gates he was referring to. The city had extended beyond the city of David and the Temple Mount by the time of Hezekiah, but it appears that only the Temple Mount and the city of David were enclosed within Nehemiah's walls. An ambitious project nonetheless, it was completed in only 52 days, providing Jerusalem with some measure of protection from its enemies.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 3:1–7:3 A detailed account of rebuilding the wall is given.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 3:1 Eliashib the high priest. The grandson of Jeshua the high priest in Zerubbabel's era (cf. Neh. 12:10). built. On the fourth of Ab, (July/August) 445 B.C. (cf. 6:15). Sheep Gate. This is located in the northeast section of Jerusalem (cf. 3:32; 12:39). The narrative moves around the perimeter of Jerusalem in a counterclockwise direction. Tower of the Hundred . . . Tower of Hananel. This northern section of Jerusalem opened up to the central Benjamin plateau where enemy forces could attack most easily from the north. The rest of the perimeter of the city was protected by the natural valley topography.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 3:3 Fish Gate. So named because merchants sold fish on the northern side of Jerusalem. Men of Tyre and other coastal towns routinely brought fish to sell (cf. 12:39; 13:16).

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 3:5 nobles would not stoop to serve their Lord. One explanation, beyond just the laziness of the rich, is that these nobles had been pledged to Tobiah for personal gain (6:17–19).

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 3:6 Gate of Yeshanah. Believed to be in the northwest corner of Jerusalem (cf. 12:39).

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 3:8 Broad Wall. On the western side of the northern sector (cf. 12:38).

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 3:11 Tower of the Ovens. On the western side of Jerusalem (cf. 12:38).

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 3:13 Valley Gate. See note on 2:13, 15. Dung Gate. See note on 2:13.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 3:15 Pool of Shelah. See note on 2:14. king's garden. In the southeast sector.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 3:16 tombs of David. Cf. 2:5. Presumably in the southeast sector. house of the mighty men. This location is probably associated with David's mighty men (cf. 2 Sam. 23:8–39).

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 3:19 the armory. Located on the eastern side of Jerusalem.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 3:26 Ophel. An area south of the temple mount, near the Water Gate, where the temple servants lived (cf. 2 Chron. 27:3; 33:14; Neh. 11:21). Water Gate. Near the Gihon Spring on the east side of Jerusalem (cf. 8:16; 12:37).

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 3:28 Horse Gate. In the northeast sector.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 3:29 East Gate. Possibly located to the east of the temple mount.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 3:31 Muster Gate. In the northeast sector.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 3:32 Sheep Gate. Having traveled around Jerusalem in a counterclockwise direction, the narrative ends where it began (cf. 3:1; 12:39).

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 4:1–23 This section describes the intimidation and opposition to the project.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 4:2 the army of Samaria. While it is a possibility that his intentions were to provoke the Samaritans to action, which would have brought the Persian overlord down on Samaria swiftly, harassment and mockery (v. 3) became the primary strategy to prevent the reconstruction of the walls.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 4:4–5 Nehemiah's dependence on his sovereign God is never more evident than in his prayer (cf. 1:5–11; 2:4).

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 4:7–8 the Ashdodites. Added to the list of enemies already given are the dwellers of Ashdod, one of the former Philistine cities to the west of Jerusalem. Apparently they came to the point where they were at least contemplating a full-scale attack on Jerusalem because of the rapid progress of the wall.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 4:9 The Jews exhibited a balance between faith in God and readiness, employing some of the wall builders as guards.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 4:10 much rubble. Lit., “dust,” the term refers to the rubble or ruins of the prior destruction (586 B.C.), which they had to clear away before they could make significant progress on the rebuilding of the walls.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 4:11–12 Part of the strategy of the enemy coalition was to frighten and intimidate the Jews by making them think their army would soon surprise them with a massive force that would quickly engulf them.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 4:13–15 stationed the people. Nehemiah and the others had received word that Sanballat had mustered the army of Samaria (4:2). In fact, God made sure the strategy was known by letting the nearby Jews know, so they would report it to Judah's leaders. Though vigilant, armed, and ready, Nehemiah and those he led consistently gave God the glory for their victories and construction successes.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 4:16-18a The threats cut the work force in half, and even those who worked carried weapons in case of attack (cf. v. 21).

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 4:18b-20 trumpet. Among other functions, trumpets were used to sound an alarm in the event of danger or to summon soldiers to battle. Nehemiah kept a trumpeter at his side always, so that the alarm could be sounded immediately. His plan also included perpetual diligence (vv. 22-23).

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 5:1-13 Enemy opposition and difficult times in general had precipitated economic conditions that had a devastating effect on Judah's fragile life. The effect of this extortion on the morale of the returnees was worse than the enemy opposition.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 5:1-5 Jewish brothers. Perhaps this refers again to the nobles who would not work and had alliances with the enemies (see note on 3:5). The people were fatigued with hard labor, drained by the relentless harassment of enemies, poor and lacking the necessities of life, lacking tax money and borrowing for it, and working on the wall in the city rather than getting food from the country. On top of this came complaints against the terrible exploitation and extortion by the rich Jews who would not help, but forced people to sell their homes and children, while having no ability to redeem them back. Under normal conditions, the law offered the hope of releasing these young people through the remission of debts which occurred every seven years or in the fiftieth year of jubilee (Lev. 25). The custom of redemption made it possible to “buy back” the enslaved individual at almost any time, but the desperate financial situation of those times made that appear impossible.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 5:7 I brought charges against the nobles and the officials. The commitment of the nobles and rulers to the reconstruction project was negligible (cf. 3:5), while their loyalty to Tobiah and others in opposition added to their opportunistic attitudes, placing them close to the status of opposition. They had become the enemy from within. exacting interest. This can refer to normal interest or it can signify excessive interest, i.e., usury. According to Mosaic law, the Jews were forbidden to take interest from their brothers on the loan of money, food, or anything else. If the person was destitute, they should consider it a gift. If they could pay it back later, it was to be without interest (see Lev. 25:36–37; Deut. 23:19–20). Such generosity marked the godly (see Ps. 15:5; Jer. 15:10; cf. Prov. 28:8). Interest could be taken from foreigners (Deut. 23:20). Interest loans were known to exceed 50 percent at times in ancient nations. Such usury took advantage of people’s desperation and was virtually impossible to repay, consuming their entire family assets and reducing the debtors to permanent slavery. See notes on Deut. 23:19–20 and 24:10–13.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 5:8 We . . . have bought back. Nehemiah denounced with just severity the evil conduct of selling a brother by means of usury. He contrasted it with his own action of redeeming with his own money some of the Jewish exiles, who through debt had lost their freedom in Babylon.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 5:10 Moreover, I. Nehemiah set the example again by making loans, but not in exacting usury.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 5:11 Return to them. To remedy the evil that they had brought, those guilty of usury were to return the property they had confiscated from those who couldn’t pay the loans back, as well as returning the interest they had charged (see notes on Luke 19:2–10).

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 5:12 swear. The consciences of the guilty were struck by Nehemiah’s words, so that their fear, shame, and contrition caused them to pledge the release of their loans and restore property and interest, including setting slaves free. This cancellation of debt had a profoundly unifying effect on both sides of the indebtedness. The proceedings were formally consummated with the people binding themselves by a solemn oath from the priests (with them as administrators) that they would be faithful to the pledge.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 5:13 shook out the fold. This curse rite from the governor, Nehemiah, called down God's wrath upon anyone who would not follow through with his commitment to release debts. The people agreed and did as they had promised.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 5:14 twentieth year. See note on 1:1. thirty-second year. The year Nehemiah returned to Artaxerxes in Persia (c. 433 B.C.; cf. 13:6). ate the food allowance of the governor. This refers to the provisions from the Persian administration, but from which he had chosen not to partake because it would have to come from taxing his poverty-stricken people (5:15). The statement is testimony to the wealth of Nehemiah gained as the king's cupbearer in Persia. Verses 17–18 record that he supported 150 men with abundant provisions who ruled with him (and their families), indicating the personal wealth he had brought from Babylon.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 5:15 forty shekels. Approximately one pound of silver. because of the fear of God. Nehemiah would not exact usury from his fellow countrymen as his predecessors had, because he viewed it as an act of disobedience toward God.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 5:16 we acquired no land. Even though the time to purchase property from those forced to sell couldn't have been better, Nehemiah maintained a consistent personal policy not to take advantage of another's distress. He worked on the wall rather than spending his time building personal wealth.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 5:18 the food allowance of the governor. See note on 5:14. In the ancient Near East, it was customary to calculate the expense of a king's establishment, not by the quantity of money, but by the quantity of his provisions (cf. 1 Kings 4:22; 18:19; Eccles. 5:11).

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 5:19 Remember for my good. The first of four such prayers (cf. 13:14, 22, 31).

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 6:1 Sanballat and Tobiah and Geshem. See notes on 2:10, 19.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 6:2 sent to me. This suggests either a letter or an oral message delivered by messenger to Nehemiah. Satisfied that they could not prevent Nehemiah's project from succeeding by open military engagement (see note on 4:13–15), they decided to overcome him by deception. plain of Ono. Located south of Joppa on the western extremity of Judah along the seacoast.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 6:3 And I sent messengers. Because he knew they were luring him into a trap, he sent representatives, who themselves might have been killed or imprisoned for ransom.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 6:5 open letter. Official letters were typically rolled up and sealed with an official signet by the letter's sender or one of his assisting officials. An open or unsealed letter was not only a sign of disrespect and open criticism, but also suggested the information therein was public knowledge. The goal of this document was to intimidate Nehemiah into stopping the work.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 6:6 It is reported among the nations. The letter suggested that Nehemiah's intent to revolt was common knowledge which would get back to the king of Persia if he didn't come to the requested conference. you and the Jews intend to rebel. This information would have brought Persian troops against the Jews had it been true. Even though Judah had a reputation for breaking its allegiances with its overlord kings, on this occasion that was not the case. building the wall . . . become their king. Artaxerxes had commissioned the rebuilding of the wall based on his relationship of trust with Nehemiah. Once the project was accomplished, the king expected Nehemiah to return to Susa. Allegations that Nehemiah was fortifying the city so that he might be made king would seriously violate the Persian king's trust, if not create a war. The plot was an attempt to intimidate Nehemiah with the idea that a wedge was to be driven between Nehemiah and Artaxerxes so that Nehemiah would come to the meeting with those enemies—a meeting that would have featured his death.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 6:7 set up prophets to proclaim. If there were such prophets, Sanballat actually hired them to feed incorrect information generating the false rumor (cf. 6:10–14). By dispatching such prophets to make public proclamations that Nehemiah had made himself king, the Persian imperial rule would have appeared to be supplanted.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 6:10 Shemaiah. When the open letter failed to intimidate Nehemiah into stopping the work and coming to a meeting, his enemies decided to try intimidation from within. They hired a false prophet (v. 12), Shemaiah, to lure Nehemiah into the Holy Place in the temple for refuge from a murder plot. To enter and shut himself in the Holy Place would have been a desecration of the house of God and would have caused people to question his reverence for God. Shemaiah was the son of a priest who was an intimate friend of Nehemiah. This plan would give them grounds to raise an evil report against Nehemiah, who was not a priest and had no right to go into the Holy Place (cf. 6:13). It could also make the people question his courage (6:11). Other disloyal Jews included: 1) the nobles (3:5; 6:17); 2) Jews who lived near Sanballat (4:12); 3) Noadiah (6:14); 4) Meshullam (6:17–19); 5) Eliashib (13:4, 7); and 6) the high priest's grandson (13:28). the house of God. This is a frequently used name for the temple (cf. 8:16; 10:32–39; 11:11, 16, 22; 12:40; 13:4, 7, 9, 11, 14).

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 6:15 Elul. August/September, 445 B.C. Knowing that the project lasted 52 days, it commenced on the fourth of Ab (July/August) 445 B.C.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 6:16 this work had been accomplished with the help of our God. While modern readers might be tempted to exalt the leadership qualities that brought the work to completion, Nehemiah's conclusion was seen through the eyes of his enemies, i.e., God works through faithful people, but it is God who works. This is a change from the attitudes indicated in 4:1 and 5:9.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 6:17–19 many letters to Tobiah. Nehemiah added a footnote that in the days of building the wall, the nobles of Judah who refused to work (3:5) were in alliance and correspondence with Tobiah because, although his ancestors were Ammonites (2:19), he had married into a respectable Jewish family. Shemaiah was from the family of Arah (Ezra 2:5); his son Jehohanan was the son-in-law of Meshullam who shared in the work of building (Neh. 3:4, 30). According to 13:4, the high priest, Eliashib, was related to Tobiah (which is a Jewish name). The meddling of these nobles, by trying to play both sides through reports to Tobiah and to Nehemiah (6:19), only widened the breach as Tobiah escalated efforts to frighten the governor.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 7:2 Hanani. Cf. 1:2. the castle. See note on 2:8.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 7:3 In the ancient Near East, it was customary to open the city gates at sunrise and close them at sunset. Nehemiah recommended that this not be done, because of the hostility of the enemies. Rather the gates were to be kept shut until well into the heat of the morning when everyone was up and active. When the gates were shut, they were to be guarded by sentinels at watch stations and in front of their own vulnerable homes (v. 4).

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 7:5a my God put it into my heart. Throughout the book, Nehemiah claimed the hand of God was at work in all circumstances (cf. 2:8, 18:6:16).

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 7:5b–6 I found the book of the genealogy. Nehemiah discovered a record of the people made by Ezra in Babylon before the first group returned, a listing of the people who had come with Zerubbabel.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 7:6–73a Nehemiah gave the list of those in the first return from Persia to Jerusalem under Zerubbabel in 538 B.C. See notes on Ezra 2:1–70. Minor discrepancies are possibly due to Ezra listing those who intended to depart, while Nehemiah listed those who actually arrived; or some other unknown reason.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 7:65 Urim and Thummim should arise. One of the methods used to discern the will of God on a specific matter. See note on Ex. 28:30.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 7:73b–10:39 God gave revival under Ezra's spiritual leadership.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 7:73b–8:12 The revival began with an exposition of God's word.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 7:73b seventh month. The month of Tishri (September/October), 445 B.C., less than one week after completing the walls (cf. 6:15). The Feast of Booths, or Tabernacles, usually began on the fifteenth day (cf. 6:14 with Lev. 23:33–44), but here it began on the second (cf. Neh. 8:13), and it was a feast to which the whole nation was called. Usually the Feast of Trumpets occurred on the first day (cf. Lev. 23:23–25).

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 8:1–2 the Book of the Law. In response to the people's request, Ezra brought the law of the Lord, which he had set his heart to study, practice, and teach to the people (cf. Ezra 7:10). At this time, the law was a scroll, as opposed to a text consisting of bound pages. Such a reading was required every seven years at the Feast of Booths, or Tabernacles (cf. Deut. 31:10–13), even though it had been neglected since the Babylonian captivity until this occasion.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 8:1 Water Gate. See note on 3:26. Ezra. This is the first mention of Ezra in the book of Nehemiah, though he had been ministering in Jerusalem since 458 B.C. (cf. Ezra 7:1–10:44).

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 8:3 read . . . understand. Here is the general summary of the event of reading and explaining the Scripture from daybreak to noon, a period of at least six hours (more detail is added in vv. 4–8).

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 8:4 platform . . . beside him. The platform was big enough to hold 14 people for the long hours of reading and explaining (v. 8). The men, probably priests, stood with Ezra to show agreement.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 8:5 stood. In respect at the reading of God’s word, as though they were in the presence of God himself, the people stood for all the hours of the exposition.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 8:6 blessed the Lord. A praise befitting the reading. In a synagogue, the reading is preceded by a benediction. The response of “Amen, Amen” was an affirmation of what Ezra prayed.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 8:7–8 Some of the Levites assisted Ezra with the people’s understanding of the Scripture by reading and explaining it.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 8:8 gave the sense. This may have involved translation for people who were only Aramaic speakers in exile, but more likely it means “to break down” the text into its parts so that the people could understand it. This was an exposition or explanation of the meaning and not just translation. so that the people understood the reading. In this act of instruction, Ezra’s personal commitment to study the law, practice it in his own life, and then teach it (Ezra 7:10) was reflected.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 8:9 governor. See note on 5:14. Ezra the priest. Cf. Ezra 7:11–12, 21; 10:10, 16. wept as they heard the words of the Law. When they heard and understood God’s law, they understood their violations of it. Not tears of joy, but penitent sorrow (Neh. 8:10) came forth as they were grieved by conviction (8:11) over the distressing manifestations of sin in transgressing the Lord’s commands and the consequent punishments they had suffered in their captivity.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 8:10–12 the joy of the Lord is your strength. The event called for a holy day of worship to prepare them for the hard days ahead (cf. 12:43), so they were encouraged to rejoice. The words they had heard did remind them that God punishes sin, but also that God blesses obedience. That was reason to celebrate. They had not been utterly destroyed as a nation, in spite of their sin, and were, by God's grace, on the brink of a new beginning. That called for celebration.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 8:13–9:37 The Jews celebrated the Feast of Booths, or Tabernacles, and confessed their history of sins.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 8:13 in order to study the words of the Law. The smaller group that gathered to Ezra consisted of those who had teaching responsibilities: the heads of the fathers' houses to their families, and the priests and Levites to the general population in the community (Mal. 2:6–7).

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 8:14 Cf. Ex. 23:16; Lev. 23:33–44; Num. 29:12–38; Deut. 16:13–17 for details on the Feast of Booths, or Tabernacles.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 8:15–16 they should proclaim it and publish it. Proclamations such as this carried the authority of the administration represented by leaders such as Nehemiah, who was the governor, and Ezra, the priest and scribe (8:9) who had been used to reestablish the city, its worship, and its social life. The people responded to their directive.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 8:16 Water Gate. See notes on 3:26 and 12:37. Gate of Ephraim. This is believed to have been near the Old Gate (cf. 3:6; 12:39).

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 8:17 from the days of Jeshua . . . great rejoicing. The Feast of Booths, or Tabernacles, had been celebrated since Joshua (2 Chron. 7:8–10; Ezra 3:4), but not with such joy.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 8:18 This was more than was required and arose from the exuberant zeal of the people.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 9:1 this month. Tishri (September/October), 445 B.C. (cf. 7:73b; 8:2). with fasting and in sackcloth, and with earth. The outward demonstration of deep mourning and heaviness of heart for their iniquity seems to have been done in the spirit of the Day of Atonement which was normally observed on the tenth day of the seventh month (cf. Lev. 16:1–34; 23:26–32).

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 9:2 separated themselves from all foreigners. This call for divorcing all lawful wives taken from among the heathen was needed, since the last time, prompted 13 years before by Ezra (see notes on Ezra 10) had only been partially successful. Many had escaped the required action of divorce and kept their pagan wives. Perhaps new defaulters had appeared also, and were confronted for the first time with this necessary action of divorce. Nehemiah's efforts were successful in removing this evil mixture.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 9:3 they stood . . . read . . . made confession and worshiped. The succession of events helped to reestablish the essential commitment of Israel to God and his law. They read for three hours about the sins of their fathers and for three more hours confessed that they had been partakers of similar evil deeds. In response to all of this, they worshiped.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 9:4–37 This long confession of sin in the context of the recitation of God's mighty redemptive acts on Israel's behalf is an expression of worship (v. 3) that recalls some of the psalms in their theme and worshipful purpose. This season of national humiliation centered on adoring God for his great mercy in the forgiveness of their multiplied iniquities, in delivering them from judgment, protecting them, and blessing them graciously. Apparently, this great prayer of worship offered to God was recited by a group of Levites (vv. 4–5) indicating it had been prepared and adopted beforehand, probably by Ezra. This prayer initiated the three hours of confession and worship (v. 3), which led to a national promise of obedience to God in the future (v. 38).

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 9:6 have made heaven. The recitation was ordered historically, although themes of promise and judgment are traced through Israel's history with God. The first feature is the celebration of God's greatness as Creator (cf. Gen. 1–2). the host of heaven worships you. The praise that Israel offered on earth was also echoed in the heavens by angelic hosts.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 9:8 found his heart faithful before you. The Abrahamic Covenant (Gen. 12:1–3; 15:4–7; 17:1–9) was based on God's faithfulness to his word and given to a man who was faithful to him. See notes on Gen. 15:6 and Rom. 4, where the faithful heart of Abraham is discussed. made with him the covenant to give to his offspring the land. The covenant was a covenant of salvation, but also involved the Promised Land. The people, having just returned from captivity, understandably emphasized that feature of the covenant, since God had returned them to the land.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 9:9–12 This section of the prayer of praise and confession recounts the exodus (see Ex. 2–15).

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 9:10 made a name for yourself. God established his righteous reputation over the powers of Egypt by the miracles of immense power performed in Egypt.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 9:13–19 The months at Sinai are remembered (see Ex. 19–40).

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 9:17 they . . . appointed a leader. The Hebrew of this statement is almost a repeat of Num. 14:4, which records the discontent of the people with God’s plan and Moses’ leadership.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 9:19–21 This section remembers the 38 years of wandering in the wilderness (cf. Num. 9–19).

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 9:21 they lacked nothing. The same word is used in Ps. 23:1, “I shall not want.” Even during the long season of chastisement, God miraculously cared for their every need.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 9:22–25 These verses encompass the period of possessing the Promised Land, as recorded in Num. 20–Josh. 24.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 9:22 gave them kingdoms and peoples. Canaan was comprised of a number of politically semi-autonomous groups all loosely connected under the waning authority of Egypt. The Lord divided Canaan into tribal districts, thus apportioning the land for Israel’s possession.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 9:23 multiplied their children. A nation of offspring was another aspect of the promise made to Abraham (Gen. 12:1–3). God told Abraham that his descendants would be like the stars of heaven (Gen. 15:5) and Ex. 1:1–3 reminded Israel that their multiplication in Egypt was nothing short of miraculous.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 9:24 subdued before them. Moses said in Ex. 15:3, “The Lord is a man of war.” As Israel’s military leader and king, he led them into battle to defeat their enemies and take the land.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 9:26–31 This section summarizes the period from the judges to the Assyrian deportation (722 B.C.) and Babylonian exile (586 B.C.). See 2 Kings 17–25.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 9:26 who had warned them. God’s prophets brought them to God’s court to be judged by his law. This theme is repeated throughout the message (vv. 29–30, 34).

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 9:32 Now, therefore. Having reviewed the faithfulness of God to the Abrahamic Covenant (vv. 7–8) throughout Israel’s national history, the prayer picks up with the present time confessing their unfaithfulness to (vv. 33–35) and renewed commitment to the Mosaic Covenant (vv. 36–38). kings of Assyria until this day. This statement sweeps across a summary of Assyrian, Babylonian, and Persian domination of the nation for almost four centuries up to that time.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 9:36–37 in the land . . . over our bodies. The praise prayer rejoices that the Jews have been returned to the land, but grieves that Gentiles still rule over them.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 9:37 rich yield goes to the kings. Because God’s people continued in widespread sin, enemy kings enjoyed the bounty that would have been Israel’s.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 9:38–10:39 The nation makes a New Covenant with God to keep the Mosaic law. Though well intended, as they had been in Ex. 24:1–8, their failure was forthcoming (see note on Neh. 13:10–13).

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 9:38 Because of all this. The history of God’s faithfulness, in spite of Israel’s unfaithfulness, is the ground of a pledge and promise that the people make to obey God and not repeat the sins of their fathers. we make a firm covenant in writing. An agreement, or covenant, was a binding contract between two parties. In short, it was a formalized relationship with commitments to loyalty. In this case, the nation initiated this covenant with God.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 10:1–27 The list of sealed signatures on the covenant was from the leaders. Surprisingly, Ezra’s name is not listed.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 10:28 temple servants. See note on Ezra 2:43–54. who have separated themselves. These are those who 1) had followed the demand of Ezra and Nehemiah to divorce pagan spouses or 2) had been left in the land but never joined themselves to any heathen, thus remaining separate. Intermarriage with the nations had previously precipitated an influence in Israel that had culminated in Babylonian slavery, thus playing a major role in Israel’s unfaithfulness to the covenant.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 10:29 a curse and an oath. Covenants characteristically were ratified by an oath ceremony in which the parties swore to the terms of the covenant. A curse rite was often included wherein the slaughtering of an animal indicated similar consequences for the covenant breaker. Israel’s pledged adherence to the law was thus solemnly affirmed.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 10:30 not give our daughters . . . or take their daughters. Parents controlled marriages, so this part of the covenant came from them. Again, it stressed the serious matter of marrying a heathen from an idolatrous people (see Ezra 10).

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 10:32–39 The remainder of the conditions the people made in their covenant involved matters of the temple.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 10:32–33 We also take on ourselves the obligation. What the people were committing themselves to do by covenant turned into law requiring a one-third shekel temple tax. The Mosaic ordinance required one-half of a shekel (see Ex. 30:11–16), but the severe economic straits of the time led to the reduced amount. By the time of Christ, the people had returned to the Mosaic stipulation of one-half of a shekel. See note on Matt. 17:24.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 10:34 The carrying of the wood for the constantly burning altar (Lev. 6:12 ff.) had formerly been the duty of the temple servants, but few of them had returned from Babylon (Neh. 7:60) so more people were chosen to assist in this task.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 10:35–39 Laws for all the offerings and tithes were reinstated so as not to “neglect the house of our God” (v. 39).

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 10:35–37 firstfruits . . . firstborn . . . firstborn. These laws required the firstfruits of the ground (see Ex. 23:19; 34:26; Deut. 26:2), the firstfruits of the trees (see Lev. 19:24; Num. 18:13), the firstborn sons redeemed by the estimated price of the priest (see Num. 18:15), and the firstborn of the herds and flocks (see Ex. 13:12; Num. 18:15–17). All of this was kept at the storehouses near the temple and distributed for the support of the priests and Levites. The Levites then gave a tenth of what they received to the priests (cf. Num. 18:26).

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 11:1–13:31 Details of Nehemiah exercising his governorship are given in this section.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 11:1–12:26 Jerusalem and Judah are resettled.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 11:1 cast lots. A method of decision-making that God honored (Prov. 16:33). Nehemiah redistributed the population so that one out of every 10 Jews lived in Jerusalem. The other nine were free to reestablish their family heritage in the land.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 11:3–24 The people who dwelt in Jerusalem are identified.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 11:21 Ophel. See note on 3:26.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 11:25–36 These are the places where 90 percent of the people dwelt outside of Jerusalem (cf. Ezra 2:21–23, 27, 34).

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 12:1–26 Originally there were 24 courses of priests, each course serving in the temple for a period of two weeks per year or for one month biannually (see 1 Chron. 24:1–20). Only four of those courses returned from Babylon (see Neh. 7:39–42; Ezra 2:36–39) but these were divided into 24 courses of which 22 are listed here. Perhaps two are omitted because their families had become extinct, because no sons were born since the time Zerubbabel originally named them. This then is a selective rather than exhaustive listing of priests and Levites from the time of Zerubbabel and Jeshua, recording the key priests and Levites through three generations of high priests: 1) Jeshua who came in the initial return with Zerubbabel c. 538 B.C. (Neh. 12:1–11); 2) Joiakim, the son of Jeshua (vv. 12–21); 3) Eliashib (cf. 3:1) the son of Joiakim (12:22–23); 4) a miscellaneous group who served in the days of Joiakim (vv. 24–26).

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 12:1 Zerubbabel . . . Jeshua. See note on Ezra 2:2.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 12:10–11 This record lists six generations of high priests beginning with Jeshua. The Jonathan of v. 11 is the Johanan of v. 22.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 12:12–21 Each of the 22 families in vv. 1–7 is repeated, except one (cf. Hattush; v. 2). Perhaps by the time of Joiakim's high priesthood, this family had become extinct, the fathers having no male offspring.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 12:22 Darius the Persian. This refers to Darius II, c. 423–404 B.C.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 12:23 Book of the Chronicles. Lit., “were written on the scroll of the matters of the days.” This involved precise genealogical records kept in the administrative archives of Judah.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 12:27–13:3 The walls were dedicated.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 12:27–43 the dedication of the wall. In the same manner marking the dedications of the temple in Solomon's day (2 Chron. 5–7) and the rebuilt temple several decades earlier (Ezra 6:16–18), the rebuilt walls were dedicated with the music of thanksgiving (most likely shortly after the events of Neh. 9).

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 12:30 purified. See Lev. 16:30 for the sense of moral purity in this symbolic act.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 12:31–40 They probably assembled at the Valley Gate on the west. One of the choirs was led by Ezra (v. 36), the other accompanied by Nehemiah (v. 38). Moving in different directions (v. 38), they assembled together in the temple area (v. 40).

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 12:31 Dung Gate. See notes on 2:13 and 3:13.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 12:36 the musical instruments of David. This phrase could refer to the same kind of instruments David's musicians used or the actual instruments constructed in David's time, now being used centuries later. Cf. 1 Chron. 15:16; 23:5; 2 Chron. 29:26; Ezra 3:10. the man of God. See note on Deut. 33:1; cf. Acts 13:22.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 12:37 Fountain Gate. See note on 2:14. Water Gate. See notes on 3:26 and 8:16.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 12:38 to the north. This second choir marched clockwise to the north (cf. 12:31). Tower of the Ovens. See note on 3:11.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 12:39 Gate of Ephraim. See note on 8:16. Gate of Yeshanah. See note on 3:6. Fish Gate. See note on 3:3. Tower of Hananel. See note on 3:1. Tower of the Hundred. See note on 3:1. Sheep Gate. See notes on 3:1, 32. Gate of the Guard. Located in the northeast section of Jerusalem.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 12:43 for God had made them rejoice with great joy. The God of all joy (cf. 1 Chron. 12:40; Neh. 8:10; Ps. 16:11; 33:1; 43:4; Gal. 5:22) activated their inner joy which brought corporate celebration. Though these may have been few and far between, moments like this characterized the life of obedience and blessing that God had set before Israel.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 12:44–47 A listing of miscellaneous temple activities is given.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 12:44 required by the Law. Cf. Lev. 7:34–36 and Deut. 18:1–5.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 12:45 the command of David . . . Solomon. Cf. 1 Chron. 25–26.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 12:47 the sons of Aaron. The priests.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 13:1–31 Nehemiah left Jerusalem in the thirty-second year of Artaxerxes c. 433 B.C. (cf. 5:14; 13:6) and returned to Persia as he promised (cf. 2:6). During his absence, the people returned to their former ways, led by the high priest Eliashib (13:4–5). Such a defection called for the needed reforms of vv. 1–3 and 10–30. It was during Nehemiah's absence that Malachi also wrote his prophetic book indicting both priests and people for their sinful defection. Possibly having heard of Eliashib's evil, Nehemiah returned (vv. 4–7). Nehemiah 13 was the last portion of the OT to be written.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 13:1–2 On that day they read from the Book of Moses. Not surprisingly, as they read on the regular calendar cycle, they were confronted with areas in which their thinking and practice had wavered from the Scriptures, specifically with regard to the requirements of Deut. 23:3–6.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 13:2 Balaam. See Num. 22–24.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 13:3 This was done in compliance with their recent pledge (cf. 10:26–29) before Nehemiah left for Persia.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 13:4 Tobiah. See note on 2:10. Eliashib had allied with Israel's enemy for some personal gain and taken it to such an extreme as to desecrate the house of God.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 13:6 I went to the king. Nehemiah returned to Persia as he promised (cf. 2:6) c. 433 B.C., in the thirty-second year of Artaxerxes (cf. 5:14). It is unknown exactly how long Nehemiah remained in Persia, perhaps until c. 424 B.C., but in that interval the disobedience developed.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 13:7–9 Nehemiah's response to the desecration of the temple was similar to Christ's almost five centuries later (cf. Matt. 21:12–13; John 2:13–17).

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 13:9 vessels of the house of God. In order to accommodate Tobiah, they had moved the utensils of the house of God from their rightful place and put idols in the temple courts.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 13:10–13 In Nehemiah's absence, the Jews violated their previous covenant with God regarding offerings (cf. 10:35–39) as reported by Mal. 1:6–14 and 3:8–12. In his presence, it was immediately restored (see notes on Neh. 9:38–10:39).

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 13:10 had fled each to his field. By neglecting the tithe, the people failed to support the Levites. Consequently, they had to abandon their responsibilities in the house of God and perform field labor in order to survive.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 13:14 Remember me. This refrain is used three times here, once after each rebuke (cf. 13:22–31).

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 13:15–17 They went against their previous agreement by violating the Sabbath (cf. 10:31).

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 13:16 Tyrians. A Phoenician coastal town 20 miles south of Sidon.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 13:18 Jeremiah had rebuked their fathers for the same things (see Jer. 17:21ff.). By such acts their fathers had brought the misery of exile and oppression, and they were doing the same—increasing God’s wrath against them.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 13:19–22 Nehemiah had to force compliance with threats.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 13:23–29 Both the priests and the people had married pagans of the land in violation of the Mosaic law (cf. Ex. 34:15–16; Deut. 7:3), the earlier reforms of Ezra (cf. Ezra 9–10), and their own covenant (cf. Neh. 10:30). Malachi spoke against this sin (Mal. 2:10–16).

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 13:23 Ashdod. See note on 4:7–8. Ammon, and Moab. Neighboring countries east of the Jordan whose beginnings were by Lot’s incestuous relationship with his two daughters (cf. Gen. 19:30–38).

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 13:28 Even the grandson of the high priest (cf. 12:10) sinfully married a daughter of Sanballat (see note on 2:10).

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 13:29–30 Malachi 2:1–8 recognizes the uncleanness within the priesthood.

NEHEMIAH—NOTE ON 13:31 Remember me. Nehemiah prayed this for the third time (cf. 13:14, 22), desiring God’s blessing on his obedient efforts.

Introduction to Esther

Title

“Esther” serves as the title without variation through the ages. This book and the book of Ruth are the only OT books named after women. As with Song of Solomon, Obadiah, and Nahum, the NT does not quote or allude to Esther.

“Hadassah” (2:7), meaning “myrtle,” was the Hebrew name of Esther, which came either from the Persian word “star” or possibly from the name of the Babylonian love goddess, Ishtar. As the orphaned daughter of her father Abihail, Esther grew up in Persia with her older cousin, Mordecai, who raised her as if she were his own daughter (2:7, 15).

Author and Date

The author remains unknown, although Mordecai, Ezra, and Nehemiah have been suggested. Whoever penned Esther possessed a detailed knowledge of Persian customs, etiquette, and history, plus particular familiarity with the palace at Susa (1:5–7). He also exhibited intimate knowledge of the Hebrew calendar and customs, while additionally showing a strong sense of Jewish nationalism. Possibly a Persian Jew, who later moved back to Israel, wrote Esther.

Esther appears as the seventeenth book in the literary chronology of the OT and closes the OT historical section. Only Ezra 7–10, Nehemiah, and Malachi report later OT history than Esther. The account in Esther ends in 473 B.C. before Ahasuerus died by assassination (c. 465 B.C.). Esther 10:2 speaks as though Ahasuerus’s reign has been completed, so the earliest possible writing date would be after his reign around mid-fifth century B.C. The latest reasonable date would be prior to 331 B.C. when Greece conquered Persia.

Background and Setting

Esther occurred during the Persian period of world history, c. 539 B.C. (Dan. 5:30–31) to c. 331 B.C. (Dan. 8:1–27). Ahasuerus ruled from c. 486 to 465 B.C.; Esther covers the 483–473 B.C. portion of his reign. The name Ahasuerus represents the Hebrew transliteration of the Persian name “Khshayarsha,” while “Xerxes” represents his Greek name.

The events of Esther occurred during the wider time span between the first return of the Jews after the 70-year captivity in Babylon (Dan. 9:1–19) under Zerubbabel c. 538 B.C. (Ezra 1–6) and the second return led by Ezra c. 458 B.C. (Ezra 7–10). Nehemiah’s journey (the third return) from Susa to Jerusalem (Neh. 1–2) occurred later (c. 445 B.C.).

Esther and Exodus both chronicle how vigorously foreign powers tried to eliminate the Jewish race and how God sovereignly preserved his people in accordance with his covenant promise to Abraham c. 2100–2075 B.C. (Gen. 12:1–3; 17:1–8). As a result of God’s prevailing, Est. 9–10 records the beginning of Purim—a new annual festival in the twelfth month (February/March) to celebrate the nation’s survival. Purim became one of two festivals given outside of the Mosaic legislation to still be celebrated in Israel (Hanukkah, or the Festival of Lights, is the other, cf. John 10:22).

Historical and Theological Themes

All 167 verses of Esther have ultimately been accepted as canonical, although the absence of God’s name anywhere has caused some to unnecessarily doubt its authenticity. The Greek Septuagint (LXX) added an extra 107 apocryphal verses that supposedly compensated for this lack. Along with Song of Solomon, Ruth, Ecclesiastes, and Lamentations, Esther stands with the OT books of the Megilloth, or “five scrolls.” Rabbis read these books in the synagogue on five special occasions during the year—Esther being read at Purim (cf. 9:20–32).

The historical genesis for the drama played out between Mordecai (a Benjamite descendant of Saul—2:5) and Haman (an Agagite—3:1, 10; 8:3, 5; 9:24) goes back almost 1,000 years when the Jews exited from Egypt (c. 1445 B.C.) and were attacked by the Amalekites (Ex. 17:8–16), whose lineage began with Amalek, grandson of Esau (Gen. 36:12). God pronounced his curse on the Amalekites, which resulted in their total elimination as a people (Ex. 17:14; Deut. 25:17–19). Although Saul (c. 1030 B.C.) received orders to kill all the Amalekites, including their king Agag (1 Sam. 15:2–3), he disobeyed (1 Sam. 15:7–9) and incurred God’s displeasure (1 Sam. 15:11, 26; 28:18). Samuel finally hacked Agag into pieces (1 Sam. 15:32–33). Because of his lineage from Agag, Haman carried deep hostility toward the Jews.

The time of Esther arrived 550 years after the death of Agag, but in spite of such passage of time, neither Haman the Agagite nor Mordecai the Benjamite had forgotten the tribal feud that still smoldered in their souls. This explains why Mordecai refused to bow down to Haman (Est. 3:2–3) and why Haman so viciously attempted to exterminate the Jewish race (3:5–6, 13). As expected, God’s prophecy to extinguish the Amalekites (Ex. 17:14; Deut. 25:17–19) and God’s promise to preserve the Jews (Gen. 17:1–8) prevailed.

Because of God’s faithfulness to save his people, the festival of Purim (named after the Akkadian word for “lot”—Est. 3:7; 9:26), an annual, two-day holiday of feasting, rejoicing, sending food to one another, and giving gifts to the poor (9:21–22), was decreed to be celebrated in every generation, by every family, in every province and city (9:27–28). Esther later added a new feature of fasting with lamentation (9:31). Purim is not biblically mentioned again, although it has been celebrated throughout the centuries in Israel.

Esther could be compared to a chess game. God and Satan (as invisible players) moved real kings, queens, and nobles. When Satan put Haman into place, it was as if he announced “Check.” God then positioned Esther and Mordecai in order to put Satan into “Checkmate!” Ever since the fall of man (Gen. 3:1–19), Satan has attempted to spiritually sever God’s relationship with his human creation and disrupt God’s covenant promises with Israel. For example, Christ’s line through the tribe of Judah had been murderously reduced to Joash alone, who was rescued and preserved (2 Chron. 22:10–12). Later, Herod slaughtered the infants of Bethlehem, thinking Christ was among them (Matt. 2:16). Satan tempted Christ to denounce God and worship him (Matt. 4:9). Peter, at Satan’s insistence, tried to block Christ’s journey to Calvary (Matt. 16:22). Finally, Satan entered into Judas who then betrayed Christ to the Jews and Romans (Luke 22:3–6). While God was not mentioned in Esther, he was everywhere apparent as the One who opposed and foiled Satan’s diabolical schemes by providential intervention.

In Esther, all of God’s unconditional covenant promises to Abraham (Gen. 17:1–8) and to David (2 Sam. 7:8–16) were jeopardized. However, God’s love for Israel is nowhere more apparent than in this dramatic rescue of his people from pending elimination. “Behold, he who keeps Israel will neither slumber nor sleep” (Ps. 121:4).

Interpretive Challenges

The most obvious question raised by Esther comes from the fact that God is nowhere mentioned, as in Song of Solomon. Nor does the writer or any participant refer to the law of God, the Levitical sacrifices, worship, or prayer. The skeptic might ask, “Why would God never be mentioned when the Persian king receives over 175 references? Since God’s sovereignty prevailed to save the Jews, why does he then not receive appropriate recognition?”

It seems satisfying to respond that if God desired to be mentioned, he could just as sovereignly have moved the author to write of him as he acted to save Israel. This situation seems to be more of a problem at the human level than the divine, because Esther is the classic illustration of God’s providence as he, the unseen power, controls everything for his purpose. There are no miracles in Esther, but the preservation of Israel through providential control of every event and person reveals the omniscience and omnipotence of Jehovah. Whether he is named is not the issue. He is clearly the main character in the drama.

Second, “Why were Mordecai and Esther so secular in their lifestyles?” Esther (2:6–20) does not seem to have the zeal for holiness like Daniel (Dan. 1:8–20). Mordecai kept his and Esther’s Jewish heritage secret, unlike Daniel (Dan. 6:5). The law of God was absent in contrast to Ezra (Ezra 7:10). Nehemiah had a heart for Jerusalem that seemingly eluded the affections of Esther and Mordecai (Neh. 1:1–2:5).

The following observations help to shed some light on these issues. First, this short book does not record everything. Perhaps Mordecai and Esther actually possessed a deeper faith than becomes apparent here (cf. Est. 4:16). Second, even godly Nehemiah did not mention his God when talking to King Artaxerxes (Neh. 2:1–8). Third, the Jewish festivals, which provided structure for worship, had been lost long before Esther, e.g., Passover (2 Kings 23:22) and Booths (Neh. 8:17). Fourth, possibly the anti-Jewish letter written by the Samaritans to Ahasuerus several years earlier had frightened them (c. 486 B.C.; Ezra 4:6). Fifth, the evil intentions of Haman did not just first surface when Mordecai refused to bow down (Est. 3:1–2). Most likely they were long before shared by others, which would have intimidated the Jewish population. Sixth, Esther did identify with her Jewish heritage at a most appropriate time (7:3–4). And yet, the nagging question of why Esther and Mordecai did not seem to have the same kind of open devotion to God as did Daniel remains. Further, Nehemiah’s prayer (Neh. 1:5–11, esp. v. 7) seems to indicate a spiritual lethargy among the Jewish exiles in Susa. So this issue must ultimately be resolved by God, since he alone knows human hearts.

Esther

The King's Banquets

ESTHER 1 †Now in the days of Ahasuerus, the Ahasuerus who reigned from India to Ethiopia over 127 provinces, 2 †in those days when King Ahasuerus sat on his royal throne in Susa, the capital, [\[1\]](#) 3 †in the third year of his reign he gave a feast for all his officials and servants. The army of Persia and Media and the nobles and governors of the provinces were before him, 4 while he showed the riches of his royal glory and the splendor and pomp of his greatness for many days, 180 days. 5 And when these days were completed, the king gave for all the people present in Susa, the citadel, both great and small, a feast lasting for seven days in the court of the garden of the king's palace. 6 There were white cotton curtains and violet hangings fastened with cords of fine linen and purple to silver rods [\[2\]](#) and marble pillars, and also couches of gold and silver on a mosaic pavement of porphyry, marble, mother-of-pearl and precious stones. 7 Drinks were served in golden vessels, vessels of different kinds, and the royal wine was lavished according to the bounty of the king. 8 And drinking was according to this edict: “There is no compulsion.” For the king had given orders to all the staff of his palace to do as each man desired. 9 †Queen Vashti also gave a feast for the women in the palace that belonged to King Ahasuerus.

Queen Vashti's Refusal

10 On the seventh day, when the heart of the king was merry with wine, he commanded Mehuman, Biztha, Harbona, Bigtha and Abagtha, Zethar and Carkas, the seven eunuchs who served in the presence of King Ahasuerus, 11 to bring Queen Vashti before the king with her royal crown, [\[3\]](#) in order to show the peoples and the princes her beauty, for she was lovely to look at. 12 †But Queen Vashti refused to come at the king's command delivered by the eunuchs. At this the king became enraged, and his anger burned within him.

13 Then the king said to the wise men who knew the times (for this was the king's procedure toward all who were versed in law and judgment, 14 †the men next to him being Carshena, Shethar, Admatha, Tarshish, Meres, Marsena, and Memucan, the seven princes of Persia and Media, who saw the king's face, and sat first in the kingdom): 15 “According to the law, what is to be done to Queen Vashti, because she has not performed the command of King Ahasuerus delivered by the eunuchs?”<sup>16</sup> Then Memucan said in the presence of the king and the officials, “Not only against the king has Queen Vashti done wrong, but also against all the officials and all the peoples who are in all the provinces of King Ahasuerus.<sup>17</sup> For the queen's behavior will be made known to all women, causing them to look at their husbands with contempt, since they will say, ‘King Ahasuerus commanded Queen Vashti to be brought before him, and she did not come.’<sup>18</sup> This very day the noble women of Persia and Media who have heard of the queen's behavior will say the same to all the king's officials, and there will be contempt and wrath in plenty.<sup>19</sup> †If it please the king, let a royal order go out from him, and let it be written among the laws of the Persians and the Medes so that it may not be repealed, that Vashti is never again to come before King Ahasuerus. And let the king give her royal position to another who is better than she.<sup>20</sup> So when the decree made by the king is proclaimed throughout all his kingdom, for it is vast, all women will give honor to their husbands, high and low alike.”<sup>21</sup> This advice pleased the king and the princes, and the king did as Memucan proposed.<sup>22</sup> †He sent letters to all the royal provinces, to every province in its own script and to every people in its own language, that every man be master in his own household and speak according to the language of his people.

Esther Chosen Queen

ESTHER 2 †After these things, when the anger of King Ahasuerus had abated, he remembered Vashti and what she had done and what had been decreed against her. <sup>2</sup>Then the king's young men who attended him said, “Let beautiful young virgins be sought out for the king. <sup>3</sup>And let the king appoint officers in all the provinces of his kingdom to gather all the beautiful young virgins to the harem in Susa the capital, under custody of Hegai, the king's eunuch, who is in charge of the women. Let their cosmetics be given them. <sup>4</sup>And let the young woman who pleases the king be queen instead of Vashti.” This pleased the king, and he did so.

<sup>5</sup>†Now there was a Jew in Susa the citadel whose name was Mordecai, the son of Jair, son of Shimei, son of Kish, a Benjaminite, <sup>6</sup>†who had been carried away from Jerusalem among the captives carried away with Jeconiah king of Judah, whom Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon had carried away. <sup>7</sup>†He was bringing up Hadassah, that is Esther, the daughter of his uncle, for she had neither father nor mother. The young woman had a beautiful figure and was lovely to look at, and when her father and her mother died, Mordecai took her as his own daughter. <sup>8</sup>†So when the king's order and his edict were proclaimed, and when many young women were gathered in Susa the citadel in custody of Hegai, Esther also was taken into the king's palace and put in custody of Hegai, who had charge of the women. <sup>9</sup>†And the young woman pleased him and won his favor. And he quickly provided her with her cosmetics and her portion of food, and with seven chosen young women from the king's palace, and advanced her and her young women to the best place in the harem. <sup>10</sup>†Esther had not made known her people or kindred, for Mordecai had commanded her not to make it known. <sup>11</sup>And every day Mordecai walked in front of the court of the harem to learn how Esther was and what was happening to her.

<sup>12</sup>Now when the turn came for each young woman to go in to King Ahasuerus, after being twelve months under the regulations for the women, since this was the regular period of their beautifying, six months with oil of myrrh and six months with spices and ointments for women— <sup>13</sup>when the young woman went in to the king in this way, she was given whatever she desired to take with her from the harem to the king's palace. <sup>14</sup>†In the evening she would go in, and in the morning she would return to the second harem in custody of Shaashgaz, the king's eunuch, who was in charge of the concubines. She would not go in to the king again, unless the king delighted in her and she was summoned by name.

<sup>15</sup>†When the turn came for Esther the daughter of Abihail the uncle of Mordecai, who had taken her as his own daughter, to go in to the king, she asked for nothing except what Hegai the king's eunuch, who had charge of the women, advised. Now Esther was winning favor in the eyes of all who saw her. <sup>16</sup>†And when Esther was taken to King Ahasuerus, into his royal palace, in the tenth month, which is the month of Tebeth, in the seventh year of his reign, <sup>17</sup>the king loved Esther more than all the women, and she won grace and favor in his sight more than all the virgins, so that he set the royal crown [1] on her head and made her queen instead of Vashti. <sup>18</sup>†Then the king gave a great feast for all his officials and servants; it was Esther's feast. He also granted a remission of taxes to the provinces and gave gifts with royal generosity.

Mordecai Discovers a Plot

<sup>19</sup>†Now when the virgins were gathered together the second time, Mordecai was sitting at the king's gate. <sup>20</sup>Esther had not made known her kindred or her people, as Mordecai had commanded her, for Esther obeyed Mordecai just as when she was brought up by him. <sup>21</sup>†In those days, as Mordecai was sitting at the king's gate, Bigthan and Teresh, two of the king's eunuchs, who guarded the threshold, became angry and sought to lay hands on King Ahasuerus. <sup>22</sup>And this came to the knowledge of Mordecai, and he told it to Queen Esther, and Esther told the king in the name of Mordecai. <sup>23</sup>†When the affair was investigated and found to be so, the men were both hanged on the gallows. [2] And it was recorded in the book of the chronicles in the presence of the king.

Haman Plots Against the Jews

ESTHER 3 †After these things King Ahasuerus promoted Haman the Agagite, the son of Hammedatha, and advanced him and set his throne above all the officials who were with him. <sup>2</sup>†And all the king's servants who were at the king's gate bowed down and paid homage to Haman, for the king had so commanded concerning him. But Mordecai did not bow down or pay homage. <sup>3</sup>Then the king's servants who were at the king's gate said to Mordecai, "Why do you transgress the king's command?" <sup>4</sup>†And when they spoke to him day after day and he would not listen to them, they told Haman, in order to see whether Mordecai's words would stand, for he had told them that he was a Jew. <sup>5</sup>And when Haman saw that Mordecai did not bow down or pay homage to him, Haman was filled with fury. <sup>6</sup>†But he disdained to lay hands on Mordecai alone. So, as they had made known to him the people of Mordecai, Haman sought to destroy all the Jews, the people of Mordecai, throughout the whole kingdom of Ahasuerus.

<sup>7</sup>†In the first month, which is the month of Nisan, in the twelfth year of King Ahasuerus, they cast Pur (that is, they cast lots) before Haman day after day; and they cast it month after month till the twelfth month, which is the month of Adar. <sup>8</sup>†Then Haman said to King Ahasuerus, "There is a certain people scattered abroad and dispersed among the peoples in all the provinces of your kingdom. Their laws are different from those of every other people, and they do not keep the king's laws, so that it is not to the king's profit to tolerate them. <sup>9</sup>†If it please the king, let it be decreed that they be destroyed, and I will pay 10,000 talents [1] of silver into the hands of those who have charge of the king's business, that they may put it into the king's treasuries." <sup>10</sup>††So the king took his signet ring from his hand and gave it to Haman the Agagite, the son of Hammedatha, the enemy of the Jews. <sup>11</sup>And the king said to Haman, "The money is given to you, the people also, to do with them as it seems good to you."

<sup>12</sup>†Then the king's scribes were summoned on the thirteenth day of the first month, and an edict, according to all that Haman commanded, was written to the king's satraps and to the governors over all the provinces and to the officials of all the peoples, to every province in its own script and every people in its own language. It was written in the name of King Ahasuerus and sealed with the king's signet ring. <sup>13</sup>†Letters were sent by couriers to all the king's provinces with instruction to destroy, to kill, and to annihilate all Jews, young and old, women and children, in one day, the thirteenth day of the twelfth month, which is the month of Adar, and to plunder their goods. <sup>14</sup>†A copy of the document was to be issued as a decree in every province by proclamation to all the peoples to be ready for that day. <sup>15</sup>†The couriers went out hurriedly by order of the king, and the decree was issued in Susa the citadel. And the king and Haman sat down to drink, but the city of Susa was thrown into confusion.

Esther Agrees to Help the Jews

ESTHER 4 †When Mordecai learned all that had been done, Mordecai tore his clothes and put on sackcloth and ashes, and went out into the midst of the city, and he cried out with a loud and bitter cry. <sup>2</sup>He went up to the entrance of the king's gate, for no one was allowed to enter the king's gate clothed in sackcloth. <sup>3</sup>And in every province, wherever the king's command and his decree reached, there was great mourning among the Jews, with fasting and weeping and lamenting, and many of them lay in sackcloth and ashes.

<sup>4</sup>†When Esther's young women and her eunuchs came and told her, the queen was deeply distressed. She sent garments to clothe Mordecai, so that he might take off his sackcloth, but he would not accept them. <sup>5</sup>†Then Esther called for Hathach, one of the king's eunuchs, who had been appointed to attend her, and ordered him to go to Mordecai to learn what this was and why it was. <sup>6</sup>Hathach went out to Mordecai in the open square of the city in front of the king's gate, <sup>7</sup>†and Mordecai told him all that had happened to him, and the exact sum of money that Haman had promised to pay into the king's treasuries for the destruction of the Jews. <sup>8</sup>Mordecai also gave him a copy of the written decree issued in Susa for their destruction, that he might show it to Esther and explain it to her and command her to go to the king to beg his favor and plead with him on behalf of her people. <sup>9</sup>And Hathach went and told Esther what Mordecai had said. <sup>10</sup>Then Esther spoke to Hathach and commanded him to go to Mordecai and say, <sup>11</sup>†“All the king's servants and the people of the king's provinces know that if any man or woman goes to the king inside the inner court without being called, there is but one law—to be put to death, except the one to whom the king holds out the golden scepter so that he may live. But as for me, I have not been called to come in to the king these thirty days.”

<sup>12</sup>And they told Mordecai what Esther had said. <sup>13</sup>Then Mordecai told them to reply to Esther, “Do not think to yourself that in the king's palace you will escape any more than all the other Jews. <sup>14</sup>†For if you keep silent at this time, relief and deliverance will rise for the Jews from another place, but you and your father's house will perish. And who knows whether you have not come to the kingdom for such a time as this?” <sup>15</sup>Then Esther told them to reply to Mordecai, <sup>16</sup>†“Go, gather all the Jews to be found in Susa, and hold a fast on my behalf, and do not eat or drink for three days, night or day. I and my young women will also fast as you do. Then I will go to the king, though it is against the law, and if I perish, I perish.”<sup>17</sup> Mordecai then went away and did everything as Esther had ordered him.

Esther Prepares a Banquet

ESTHER 5 On the third day Esther put on her royal robes and stood in the inner court of the king's palace, in front of the king's quarters, while the king was sitting on his royal throne inside the throne room opposite the entrance to the palace. <sup>2</sup>† And when the king saw Queen Esther standing in the court, she won favor in his sight, and he held out to Esther the golden scepter that was in his hand. Then Esther approached and touched the tip of the scepter. <sup>3</sup>†† And the king said to her, “What is it, Queen Esther? What is your request? It shall be given you, even to the half of my kingdom.” <sup>4</sup>† And Esther said, “If it please the king, let the king and Haman come today to a feast that I have prepared for the king.” <sup>5</sup> Then the king said, “Bring Haman quickly, so that we may do as Esther has asked.” So the king and Haman came to the feast that Esther had prepared. <sup>6</sup> And as they were drinking wine after the feast, the king said to Esther, “What is your wish? It shall be granted you. And what is your request? Even to the half of my kingdom, it shall be fulfilled.” <sup>7</sup> Then Esther answered, “My wish and my request is: <sup>8</sup> If I have found favor in the sight of the king, and if it please the king to grant my wish and fulfill my request, let the king and Haman come to the feast that I will prepare for them, and tomorrow I will do as the king has said.”

Haman Plans to Hang Mordecai

<sup>9</sup> And Haman went out that day joyful and glad of heart. But when Haman saw Mordecai in the king's gate, that he neither rose nor trembled before him, he was filled with wrath against Mordecai. <sup>10</sup> Nevertheless, Haman restrained himself and went home, and he sent and brought his friends and his wife Zeresh. <sup>11</sup>† And Haman recounted to them the splendor of his riches, the number of his sons, all the promotions with which the king had honored him, and how he had advanced him above the officials and the servants of the king. <sup>12</sup> Then Haman said, “Even Queen Esther let no one but me come with the king to the feast she prepared. And tomorrow also I am invited by her together with the king. <sup>13</sup>† Yet all this is worth nothing to me, so long as I see Mordecai the Jew sitting at the king's gate.” <sup>14</sup>† Then his wife Zeresh and all his friends said to him, “Let a gallows [1] fifty cubits [2] high be made, and in the morning tell the king to have Mordecai hanged upon it. Then go joyfully with the king to the feast.” This idea pleased Haman, and he had the gallows made.

The King Honors Mordecai

ESTHER 6 †On that night the king could not sleep. And he gave orders to bring the book of memorable deeds, the chronicles, and they were read before the king. <sup>2</sup>And it was found written how Mordecai had told about Bigthana and Teresh, two of the king's eunuchs, who guarded the threshold, and who had sought to lay hands on King Ahasuerus. <sup>3</sup>And the king said, "What honor or distinction has been bestowed on Mordecai for this?" The king's young men who attended him said, "Nothing has been done for him." <sup>4</sup>†And the king said, "Who is in the court?" Now Haman had just entered the outer court of the king's palace to speak to the king about having Mordecai hanged on the gallows [1] that he had prepared for him. <sup>5</sup>And the king's young men told him, "Haman is there, standing in the court." And the king said, "Let him come in." <sup>6</sup>†So Haman came in, and the king said to him, "What should be done to the man whom the king delights to honor?" And Haman said to himself, "Whom would the king delight to honor more than me?" <sup>7</sup>And Haman said to the king, "For the man whom the king delights to honor, <sup>8</sup>†let royal robes be brought, which the king has worn, and the horse that the king has ridden, and on whose head a royal crown [2] is set. <sup>9</sup>†And let the robes and the horse be handed over to one of the king's most noble officials. Let them dress the man whom the king delights to honor, and let them lead him on the horse through the square of the city, proclaiming before him: 'Thus shall it be done to the man whom the king delights to honor.'" <sup>10</sup>†Then the king said to Haman, "Hurry; take the robes and the horse, as you have said, and do so to Mordecai the Jew, who sits at the king's gate. Leave out nothing that you have mentioned." <sup>11</sup>So Haman took the robes and the horse, and he dressed Mordecai and led him through the square of the city, proclaiming before him, "Thus shall it be done to the man whom the king delights to honor."

<sup>12</sup>†Then Mordecai returned to the king's gate. But Haman hurried to his house, mourning and with his head covered. <sup>13</sup>†And Haman told his wife Zeresh and all his friends everything that had happened to him. Then his wise men and his wife Zeresh said to him, "If Mordecai, before whom you have begun to fall, is of the Jewish people, you will not overcome him but will surely fall before him."

Esther Reveals Haman's Plot

<sup>14</sup>†While they were yet talking with him, the king's eunuchs arrived and hurried to bring Haman to the feast that Esther had prepared.

ESTHER 7 So the king and Haman went in to feast with Queen Esther. <sup>2</sup>†And on the second day, as they were drinking wine after the feast, the king again said to Esther, “What is your wish, Queen Esther? It shall be granted you. And what is your request? Even to the half of my kingdom, it shall be fulfilled.” <sup>3</sup>†Then Queen Esther answered, “If I have found favor in your sight, O king, and if it please the king, let my life be granted me for my wish, and my people for my request. <sup>4</sup>†For we have been sold, I and my people, to be destroyed, to be killed, and to be annihilated. If we had been sold merely as slaves, men and women, I would have been silent, for our affliction is not to be compared with the loss to the king.” <sup>5</sup>Then King Ahasuerus said to Queen Esther, “Who is he, and where is he, who has dared [1] to do this?” <sup>6</sup>†And Esther said, “A foe and enemy! This wicked Haman!” Then Haman was terrified before the king and the queen.

Haman Is Hanged

<sup>7</sup>And the king arose in his wrath from the wine-drinking and went into the palace garden, but Haman stayed to beg for his life from Queen Esther, for he saw that harm was determined against him by the king. <sup>8</sup>†And the king returned from the palace garden to the place where they were drinking wine, as Haman was falling on the couch where Esther was. And the king said, “Will he even assault the queen in my presence, in my own house?” As the word left the mouth of the king, they covered Haman's face. <sup>9</sup>†Then Harbona, one of the eunuchs in attendance on the king, said, “Moreover, the gallows [2] that Haman has prepared for Mordecai, whose word saved the king, is standing at Haman's house, fifty cubits [3] high.” <sup>10</sup>†And the king said, “Hang him on that.” So they hanged Haman on the gallows that he had prepared for Mordecai. Then the wrath of the king abated.

Esther Saves the Jews

ESTHER 8 †On that day King Ahasuerus gave to Queen Esther the house of Haman, the enemy of the Jews. And Mordecai came before the king, for Esther had told what he was to her. <sup>2</sup>And the king took off his signet ring, which he had taken from Haman, and gave it to Mordecai. And Esther set Mordecai over the house of Haman.

<sup>3</sup>Then Esther spoke again to the king. She fell at his feet and wept and pleaded with him to avert the evil plan of Haman the Agagite and the plot that he had devised against the Jews. <sup>4</sup>When the king held out the golden scepter to Esther, <sup>5</sup>†Esther rose and stood before the king. And she said, “If it please the king, and if I have found favor in his sight, and if the thing seems right before the king, and I am pleasing in his eyes, let an order be written to revoke the letters devised by Haman the Agagite, the son of Hammedatha, which he wrote to destroy the Jews who are in all the provinces of the king. <sup>6</sup>For how can I bear to see the calamity that is coming to my people? Or how can I bear to see the destruction of my kindred?” <sup>7</sup>Then King Ahasuerus said to Queen Esther and to Mordecai the Jew, “Behold, I have given Esther the house of Haman, and they have hanged him on the gallows, [1] because he intended to lay hands on the Jews. <sup>8</sup>But you may write as you please with regard to the Jews, in the name of the king, and seal it with the king's ring, for an edict written in the name of the king and sealed with the king's ring cannot be revoked.”

<sup>9</sup>†The king's scribes were summoned at that time, in the third month, which is the month of Sivan, on the twenty-third day. And an edict was written, according to all that Mordecai commanded concerning the Jews, to the satraps and the governors and the officials of the provinces from India to Ethiopia, 127 provinces, to each province in its own script and to each people in its own language, and also to the Jews in their script and their language. <sup>10</sup>And he wrote in the name of King Ahasuerus and sealed it with the king's signet ring. Then he sent the letters by mounted couriers riding on swift horses that were used in the king's service, bred from the royal stud, <sup>11</sup>†saying that the king allowed the Jews who were in every city to gather and defend their lives, to destroy, to kill, and to annihilate any armed force of any people or province that might attack them, children and women included, and to plunder their goods, <sup>12</sup>on one day throughout all the provinces of King Ahasuerus, on the thirteenth day of the twelfth month, which is the month of Adar. <sup>13</sup>A copy of what was written was to be issued as a decree in every province, being publicly displayed to all peoples, and the Jews were to be ready on that day to take vengeance on their enemies. <sup>14</sup>So the couriers, mounted on their swift horses that were used in the king's service, rode out hurriedly, urged by the king's command. And the decree was issued in Susa the citadel.

<sup>15</sup>† Then Mordecai went out from the presence of the king in royal robes of blue and white, with a great golden crown [2] and a robe of fine linen and purple, and the city of Susa shouted and rejoiced. <sup>16</sup>The Jews had light and gladness and joy and honor. <sup>17</sup>† And in every province and in every city, wherever the king's command and his edict reached, there was gladness and joy among the Jews, a feast and a holiday. And many from the peoples of the country declared themselves Jews, for fear of the Jews had fallen on them.

The Jews Destroy Their Enemies

ESTHER 9 †Now in the twelfth month, which is the month of Adar, on the thirteenth day of the same, when the king's command and edict were about to be carried out, on the very day when the enemies of the Jews hoped to gain the mastery over them, the reverse occurred: the Jews gained mastery over those who hated them. <sup>2</sup>The Jews gathered in their cities throughout all the provinces of King Ahasuerus to lay hands on those who sought their harm. And no one could stand against them, for the fear of them had fallen on all peoples. <sup>3</sup>†All the officials of the provinces and the satraps and the governors and the royal agents also helped the Jews, for the fear of Mordecai had fallen on them. <sup>4</sup>For Mordecai was great in the king's house, and his fame spread throughout all the provinces, for the man Mordecai grew more and more powerful. <sup>5</sup>The Jews struck all their enemies with the sword, killing and destroying them, and did as they pleased to those who hated them. <sup>6</sup>†In Susa the citadel itself the Jews killed and destroyed 500 men, <sup>7</sup>and also killed Parshandatha and Dalphon and Aspatha <sup>8</sup>and Poratha and Adalia and Aridatha <sup>9</sup>and Parmashta and Arisai and Aridai and Vaizatha, <sup>10</sup>†the ten sons of Haman the son of Hammedatha, the enemy of the Jews, but they laid no hand on the plunder.

<sup>11</sup>That very day the number of those killed in Susa the citadel was reported to the king. <sup>12</sup>†And the king said to Queen Esther, “In Susa the citadel the Jews have killed and destroyed 500 men and also the ten sons of Haman. What then have they done in the rest of the king's provinces! Now what is your wish? It shall be granted you. And what further is your request? It shall be fulfilled.” <sup>13</sup>†And Esther said, “If it please the king, let the Jews who are in Susa be allowed tomorrow also to do according to this day's edict. And let the ten sons of Haman be hanged on the gallows.” [1] <sup>14</sup>So the king commanded this to be done. A decree was issued in Susa, and the ten sons of Haman were hanged. <sup>15</sup>††The Jews who were in Susa gathered also on the fourteenth day of the month of Adar and they killed 300 men in Susa, but they laid no hands on the plunder.

<sup>16</sup>†Now the rest of the Jews who were in the king's provinces also gathered to defend their lives, and got relief from their enemies and killed 75,000 of those who hated them, but they laid no hands on the plunder. <sup>17</sup>This was on the thirteenth day of the month of Adar, and on the fourteenth day they rested and made that a day of feasting and gladness. <sup>18</sup>†But the Jews who were in Susa gathered on the thirteenth day and on the fourteenth, and rested on the fifteenth day, making that a day of feasting and gladness. <sup>19</sup>Therefore the Jews of the villages, who live in the rural towns, hold the fourteenth day of the month of Adar as a day for gladness and feasting, as a holiday, and as a day on which they send gifts of food to one another.

The Feast of Purim Inaugurated

<sup>20</sup>‡And Mordecai recorded these things and sent letters to all the Jews who were in all the provinces of King Ahasuerus, both near and far, <sup>21</sup>obliging them to keep the fourteenth day of the month Adar and also the fifteenth day of the same, year by year, <sup>22</sup>as the days on which the Jews got relief from their enemies, and as the month that had been turned for them from sorrow into gladness and from mourning into a holiday; that they should make them days of feasting and gladness, days for sending gifts of food to one another and gifts to the poor.

<sup>23</sup>So the Jews accepted what they had started to do, and what Mordecai had written to them. <sup>24</sup>For Haman the Agagite, the son of Hammedatha, the enemy of all the Jews, had plotted against the Jews to destroy them, and had cast Pur (that is, cast lots), to crush and to destroy them. <sup>25</sup>But when it came before the king, he gave orders in writing that his evil plan that he had devised against the Jews should return on his own head, and that he and his sons should be hanged on the gallows. [2] <sup>26</sup>‡Therefore they called these days Purim, after the term Pur. Therefore, because of all that was written in this letter, and of what they had faced in this matter, and of what had happened to them, <sup>27</sup>the Jews firmly obligated themselves and their offspring and all who joined them, that without fail they would keep these two days according to what was written and at the time appointed every year, <sup>28</sup>that these days should be remembered and kept throughout every generation, in every clan, province, and city, and that these days of Purim should never fall into disuse among the Jews, nor should the commemoration of these days cease among their descendants.

<sup>29</sup>‡Then Queen Esther, the daughter of Abihail, and Mordecai the Jew gave full written authority, confirming this second letter about Purim. <sup>30</sup>Letters were sent to all the Jews, to the 127 provinces of the kingdom of Ahasuerus, in words of peace and truth, <sup>31</sup>that these days of Purim should be observed at their appointed seasons, as Mordecai the Jew and Queen Esther obligated them, and as they had obligated themselves and their offspring, with regard to their fasts and their lamenting. <sup>32</sup>‡The command of Queen Esther confirmed these practices of Purim, and it was recorded in writing.

The Greatness of Mordecai

ESTHER 10 †King Ahasuerus imposed tax on the land and on the coastlands of the sea. <sup>2</sup>And all the acts of his power and might, and the full account of the high honor of Mordecai, to which the king advanced him, are they not written in the Book of the Chronicles of the kings of Media and Persia? <sup>3</sup>†For Mordecai the Jew was second in rank to King Ahasuerus, and he was great among the Jews and popular with the multitude of his brothers, for he sought the welfare of his people and spoke peace to all his people.

Study Notes

ESTHER—NOTE ON 1:1 Ahasuerus. See Introduction: Background and Setting. reigned . . . over 127 provinces. The kingdom comprised 20 regions (3:12; 8:9; 9:3), which were further divided into provinces ruled over by governors (3:12). India to Ethiopia. Ethiopia, not Asia Minor, is mentioned as representing the western edge of the kingdom to avoid any remembrance of the king's previous defeat by the Greeks c. 481–479 B.C. (cf. 8:9). This description also avoided any confusion with the Ahasuerus of Dan. 9:1.

ESTHER—NOTE ON 1:2 his royal throne in Susa. Susa, the winter residence, was one of four capital cities; the other three included Babylon, Ecbatana (Ezra 6:2), and Persepolis. The citadel refers to the fortified palace complex built above the city for protection.

ESTHER—NOTE ON 1:3 the third year. C. 483 B.C. This probably included the planning phase for Ahasuerus's later campaign against Greece in which the king suffered a humiliating defeat (c. 481–479 B.C.). Persia and Media. Cyrus the Persian inherited Media and thus the name Media became just as prominent as Persia (c. 550 B.C.).

ESTHER—NOTE ON 1:9 Queen Vashti. Greek literature records her name as Amestris. She gave birth (c. 483 B.C.) to Ahasuerus's third son, Artaxerxes, who later succeeded his father Ahasuerus on the throne (Ezra 7:1).

ESTHER—NOTE ON 1:12 Vashti refused. Her reason is not recorded, although suggestions have included 1) that her appearance would have involved lewd behavior before drunken men, or 2) that she was still pregnant with Artaxerxes.

ESTHER—NOTE ON 1:14 the seven princes. These highest ranking officials (cf. Ezra 7:14) were perhaps equivalent to the magi of Dan. 1:20.

ESTHER—NOTE ON 1:19 may not be repealed. The irrevocable nature of Persian law (cf. Dan. 6:8, 12, 15) played an important role in how the rest of Esther concluded (cf. 8:8).

ESTHER—NOTE ON 1:22 letters. The efficient Persian communication network (a rapid relay by horses) played an important role in speedily publishing kingdom edicts (cf. 3:12–14; 8:9–10, 14; 9:20, 30).

ESTHER—NOTE ON 2:1 After these things. Most likely during the latter portion of the king’s ill-fated war with Greece (c. 481–479 B.C.), he remembered Vashti. The king was legally unable to restore Vashti (cf. 1:19–22), so the counselors proposed a new plan with promise.

ESTHER—NOTE ON 2:5 Mordecai. See Introduction: Historical and Theological Themes. He was among the fourth generation of deported Jews. Kish, Mordecai’s great grandfather who actually experienced the Babylonian deportation. After Babylon fell to Medo-Persia (c. 539 B.C.), Jews were moved to other parts of the new kingdom. Kish represents a Benjamite family name that could be traced back (c. 1100 B.C.) to Saul’s father (1 Sam. 9:1).

ESTHER—NOTE ON 2:6 Jeconiah. Former king of Judah (also known as Jehoiachin and Coniah) who was deported c. 597 B.C. (cf. 2 Kings 24:14–15; 2 Chron. 36:9–10). Due to his disobedience, the Lord removed his descendants from the line of David to Christ (Jer. 22:24–30). The family of Mordecai and Esther were part of the good figs in Jer. 24:1–7.

ESTHER—NOTE ON 2:7 Esther. See Introduction: Title.

ESTHER—NOTE ON 2:8 Esther . . . was taken. It is impossible to tell if Esther went voluntarily or against her will.

ESTHER—NOTE ON 2:9 pleased him. That she pleased Hegai points to God’s providential control.

ESTHER—NOTE ON 2:10 not made known her people. Possibly because of the hostile letter mentioned in Ezra 4:6 or the anti-Semitic sentiments of Haman and other like-minded people.

The Historical Chronology of Esther

ESTHER—NOTE ON 2:14 the second harem. The place of concubines.

ESTHER—NOTE ON 2:15 was winning favor. According to the Lord's providential plan.

ESTHER—NOTE ON 2:16 Tebeth. The tenth month corresponding to December/January the seventh year. C. 479–478 B.C. Four years had elapsed since Vashti's fall from favor.

ESTHER—NOTE ON 2:18 granted a remission of taxes. The Hebrew phrase may also indicate release from military service.

ESTHER—NOTE ON 2:19 the second time. Perhaps the king intended to add the second best to his concubine collection.

ESTHER—NOTE ON 2:21 the king's gate. Indicates the strong possibility that Mordecai held a position of prominence (cf. 3:2; Dan. 2:49). became angry. Perhaps in revenge over the loss of Vashti.

ESTHER—NOTE ON 2:23 hanged on the gallows. The Persian execution consisted of being impaled (cf. Ezra 6:11). It is likely that they were the inventors of crucifixion. book of the chronicles. The king would five years later (Ahasuerus's twelfth year) read these Persian records as the turning point in Esther \(6:1–2\).

ESTHER—NOTE ON 3:1 After these things. Sometime between the seventh (2:16) and twelfth year (3:7) of the king's reign. Haman the Agagite. See Introduction:

Historical and Theological Themes.

ESTHER—NOTE ON 3:2 did not bow down. There is a question as to whether Esther and Mordecai were inclined to obey the Mosaic law. This refusal may be more likely grounded in the family feud between the Benjamites and the Agagites (see Introduction: Historical and Theological Themes), than Mordecai's allegiance to the second commandment (Ex. 20:4–6).

ESTHER—NOTE ON 3:4 he was a Jew. It seems evident from Haman's fury and attempted genocide, that there were strong anti-Semitic attitudes in Susa, which seems to explain Mordecai's reluctance to reveal his true ethnic background.

ESTHER—NOTE ON 3:6 the people of Mordecai. Haman was being satanically used to target the entire Jewish race in an unsuccessful attempt to change the course of redemptive history and God's plans for Israel.

ESTHER—NOTE ON 3:7 Nisan. The time period March/April. Ironically, the Jews should have been celebrating the Passover to remind them of a former deliverance. twelfth year. C. 474 B.C. Pur . . . lots. A lot would be like modern dice, which were cast to determine future decisions (cf. the Hebrew lot, 1 Chron. 26:14; Neh. 10:34; Jonah 1:7). Proverbs 16:33 states that God providentially controlled the outcome of the lot. Adar. February/March. There would have been an 11-month interval between Haman's decree and its expected fulfillment.

ESTHER—NOTE ON 3:8 a certain people. Haman never divulged their identity.

ESTHER—NOTE ON 3:9 10,000 talents. The exact dollar amount is uncertain, but reportedly it would have weighed 375 tons and equaled almost 70 percent of the king's annual revenue. Since this sum would have been derived from the plunder of the Jews, it indicates that they had grown prosperous.

ESTHER—NOTE ON 3:10–11 The king would have easily been eager to eliminate any rebellion against his authority (cf. 3:8), although he did not seem to be interested in the money.

ESTHER—NOTE ON 3:10 the enemy of the Jews. Cf. 7:6; 8:1; 9:10, 24.

ESTHER—NOTE ON 3:12 sealed . . . king's signet ring. This would be equivalent to the king's signature. The date has been calculated by historians to be April 7, 474 B.C.

ESTHER—NOTE ON 3:13 to annihilate. An ambitious plot to annihilate the Jews in just one day. Historians have calculated the date to be March 7, 473 B.C. The king had unwittingly approved this provision that would kill his own queen.

ESTHER—NOTE ON 3:14 as a decree. It would be irrevocable (cf. 1:19; 8:5–8).

ESTHER—NOTE ON 3:15 into confusion. No specific reason is stated. Most likely even this pagan population was puzzled at the extreme and deadly racism of the king and Haman.

ESTHER—NOTE ON 4:1 sackcloth and ashes. An outward sign of inward distress and humiliation (cf. Jer. 6:26; Dan. 9:3; Matt. 11:21). Mordecai realized that he had prompted this genocidal retaliation by Haman.

ESTHER—NOTE ON 4:4 She sent garments. Mordecai could then enter the king's gate (cf. 4:2) and talk with Esther directly (cf. Neh. 2:2).

ESTHER—NOTE ON 4:5 Hathach. A trusted eunuch who knew of Esther's Jewish background.

ESTHER—NOTE ON 4:7–8 That Mordecai possessed this specific knowledge and a copy of the edict further evidences his prominent position in Persia.

ESTHER—NOTE ON 4:11 golden scepter. In order to protect the king's life from would-be assassins, this practice prevailed. Seemingly, the king would extend the scepter (a sign of kingly authority) only to those whom he knew and from whom he welcomed a visit (cf. 5:2; 8:4). these thirty days. Perhaps Esther feared she had lost favor with the king since he had not summoned her recently.

ESTHER—NOTE ON 4:14 relief and deliverance. Mordecai exhibited a healthy faith in God's sovereign power to preserve his people. He may have remembered the Lord's promise to Abraham (cf. Gen. 12:3; 17:1–8). you . . . will perish. Mordecai indicated that Esther would not escape the sentence or be overlooked because of her prominence (cf. Est. 4:13). such a time as this. Mordecai indirectly appealed to God's providential timing.

ESTHER—NOTE ON 4:16 fast. The text does not mention prayer being included such as was Daniel's practice (Dan. 9:3), though it surely was. perish. Esther's heroic willingness to die for the sake of her fellow Jews is commendable.

ESTHER—NOTE ON 5:2 she won favor. This actually means that Esther first found favor with the God of Israel (cf. Prov. 21:1).

ESTHER—NOTE ON 5:3 What is your request? Esther deferred her real wish until 7:2–3.

ESTHER—NOTE ON 5:3, 6 even to the half of my kingdom. Royal hyperbole that was not intended to be taken at face value (cf. Mark 6:22–23).

ESTHER—NOTE ON 5:4 a feast. The first of two (cf. 5:4–8; 6:14–7:1) that Esther prepared. God would providentially intervene between the two (6:1–2).

ESTHER—NOTE ON 5:11 the number of his sons. At least 10 sons were fathered by Haman (cf. 9:13), who personified sinful pride (cf. Prov. 16:18; 1 Cor. 10:12; Gal. 6:3).

ESTHER—NOTE ON 5:13 this is worth nothing to me. Haman expressed raging fixation on killing Mordecai.

ESTHER—NOTE ON 5:14 gallows. A stake on which a human would be impaled to death and/or displayed after death (cf. 2:23). fifty cubits. Approximately 75 feet or almost 8 stories high. Perhaps the gallows involved displaying a shorter stake atop a building or wall to attain this height.

ESTHER—NOTE ON 6:1 the book. Five years (cf. 2:16 with 3:7) had intervened since Mordecai's loyal, but as yet unrewarded, act (cf. 2:23). At exactly the proper moment, God providentially intervened so that the king suffered insomnia, called for the book of records, read of Mordecai's unrewarded deeds five years past, and then desired to reward him (cf. Dan. 6:18).

ESTHER—NOTE ON 6:4 Who is in the court? The drama intensified as Haman arrived at just the wrong time and for just the wrong reason.

ESTHER—NOTE ON 6:6–7 Haman ironically defined the honor to be given to Mordecai at Haman's expense. To his potential wealth from the Jewish plunder, he thought public acclaim would be added.

ESTHER—NOTE ON 6:8 royal robes . . . royal crown. An honor which involved being treated as though the recipient were the king himself (cf. 8:15). This is reminiscent of Joseph in Egypt (Gen. 41:39–45). History affirms that horses were adorned with the royal crown.

ESTHER—NOTE ON 6:9 the square of the city. Whereas Mordecai had been there the day before in sackcloth and ashes (4:1, 6), he arrived with royal honor.

ESTHER—NOTE ON 6:10 Mordecai the Jew. Cf. 8:7; 9:29, 31; 10:3. Why the king did not remember Haman's edict against the Jews remains unknown.

ESTHER—NOTE ON 6:12 mourning. Deservedly, Haman has inherited Mordecai's distress (cf. 4:1–2). What a difference a day makes! His imagined honors had quickly turned to unimaginable humiliation. his head covered. An extreme sign of shame (cf. 2 Sam. 15:30; Jer. 14:3–4).

ESTHER—NOTE ON 6:13 you have begun to fall. Neither divine prophecy (Ex. 17:14) nor biblical history (1 Sam. 15:8–9) stood in Haman's favor. Haman's entourage seemed to have some knowledge of this biblical history.

ESTHER—NOTE ON 6:14 Haman to the feast. Like a lamb led to slaughter, Haman was escorted off to his just due.

ESTHER—NOTE ON 7:2 second day. The first-day reference point included the first banquet. This refers to the second banquet on the second day (cf. 5:8). What is your wish . . . ? This was the third time that the king inquired (cf. 5:3, 6).

ESTHER—NOTE ON 7:3 my people. This plea paralleled God's message through Moses to Pharaoh, "Let my people go," almost 1,000 years earlier (Ex. 7:16).

ESTHER—NOTE ON 7:4 sold. Refers back to Haman's bribe (cf. 3:9; 4:7). destroyed . . . killed . . . annihilated. Esther recounted the exact language of Haman's decree (cf. 3:13).

ESTHER—NOTE ON 7:6 This wicked Haman! Similar to Nathan's famous accusation against King David, "You are the man" (2 Sam. 12:7). Haman's honor had quickly turned to humiliation, and then to horror.

ESTHER—NOTE ON 7:8 assault the queen. Blinded by anger, Ahasuerus interpreted Haman's plea to be an act of violence against Esther rather than a plea for mercy.

ESTHER—NOTE ON 7:9 Harbona. Cf. 1:10. Moreover. Because the place prepared by Haman for Mordecai's execution towered above the city, it became the obvious spot for Haman's death. Mordecai whose word saved. Haman heard the third capital offense charged against him. One, he manipulated the king in planning to kill the queen's people. Two, he was perceived to accost the queen. Three, he planned to execute a man whom the king had just greatly honored for extreme loyalty to the kingdom.

ESTHER—NOTE ON 7:10 they hanged Haman. The ultimate expression of justice (cf. Ps. 9:15–16).

ESTHER—NOTE ON 8:1 the house of Haman. Property of a traitor by Persian custom returned to the king. In this case, he gave it to his queen, Esther, who put Mordecai over it (8:2). The outcome for Haman's wife Zeresh and his wise men is unknown (5:14; 6:12–13). Haman's 10 sons later died (9:7–10).

ESTHER—NOTE ON 8:5 to revoke. This proved to be impossible in light of the inflexible nature of the king's edicts (1:19). However, a counter-decree was possible (cf. 8:8, 11–12).

ESTHER—NOTE ON 8:9 Sivan. Refers to the period May/June. It had been two months and 10 days since Haman's decree (cf. 3:12); eight months and 20 days remained until both decrees became simultaneously effective (cf. 3:13).

ESTHER—NOTE ON 8:11 the king allowed. Just as the king had permitted Haman, so he allowed the Jews to defend themselves and to plunder their spoil (cf. 9:10, 15–16).

ESTHER—NOTE ON 8:15 Mordecai went out. This second reward exceeded the first (cf. 6:6–9). Blue and white were the royal colors of the Persian Empire.

ESTHER—NOTE ON 8:17 many . . . peoples . . . Jews. The population realized that the God of the Jews greatly exceeded anything that the pantheon of Persian deities could offer (cf. Ex. 15:14–16; Ps. 105:38; Acts 5:11), especially in contrast to their recent defeat by the Greeks.

ESTHER—NOTE ON 9:1 twelfth month. During the period February/March. Here is a powerful statement with regard to God's providential preservation of the Jewish race in harmony with God's unconditional promise to Abraham (Gen. 17:1–8). This providential deliverance stands in contrast to God's miraculous deliverance of the Jews from Egypt; yet in both cases the same end had been accomplished by the supernatural power of God.

ESTHER—NOTE ON 9:3 the fear of Mordecai. Pragmatically, the nation had a change of heart toward the Jews, knowing that the king, the queen, and Mordecai were the ranking royal officials of the land. To be pro-Jewish would put one in favor with the king and his court and put one on the side of God, the ultimate King (cf. Rev. 19:16).

ESTHER—NOTE ON 9:6–7 Five hundred men died in Susa.

ESTHER—NOTE ON 9:10 laid no hand. Unlike Saul, who did take the plunder (cf. 1 Sam. 15:3 with 15:9), the Jews focused only on the mission at hand, i.e., to preserve the Jewish race (cf. Est. 9:15–16), even though the king's edict permitted this (8:11).

ESTHER—NOTE ON 9:12 further is your request? Even this pagan king served the cause of utterly blotting out the Amalekites in accord with God's original decree (Ex. 17:14) by allowing for a second day of killing in Susa to eliminate all Jewish enemies.

ESTHER—NOTE ON 9:13 be hanged. I.e., be publicly displayed.

ESTHER—NOTE ON 9:15–16 Over 1,500 years earlier God had promised to curse those who curse Abraham's descendants (Gen. 12:3).

ESTHER—NOTE ON 9:15 fourteenth day. Another 300 men died the second day of killing in Susa, bringing the total dead in Susa to 810.

ESTHER—NOTE ON 9:16 killed. Outside of Susa, only one day of killing occurred, in which 75,000 enemies died.

ESTHER—NOTE ON 9:18–19 This section recounted why Purim would be celebrated for two days rather than one.

ESTHER—NOTE ON 9:20–25 A brief summary of God's providential intervention on behalf of the Jews.

ESTHER—NOTE ON 9:26 Purim. The first and last biblically revealed, non-Mosaic festival with perpetual significance.

ESTHER—NOTE ON 9:29 second letter. An additional letter (cf. v. 20 for the first letter), which added “fasting” and “lamentations” to the prescribed activity of Purim.

ESTHER—NOTE ON 9:32 recorded in writing. This could be the chronicle referred to in 10:2, or another archival type document. It certainly does not hint that Esther wrote this canonical book.

ESTHER—NOTE ON 10:1–3 Apparently a postscript.

ESTHER—NOTE ON 10:3 Mordecai . . . was second. Mordecai joined the top echelon of Jewish international statesmen like Joseph, who ranked second in the Egyptian dynasty (Gen. 41:37–45), and Daniel, who succeeded in both the Babylonian (Dan. 2:46–49; 5:29) and Medo-Persian Empires (Dan. 6:28). sought the welfare. Less than 10 years later (c. 465 B.C.), Ahasuerus was assassinated. There are no further details concerning Esther and Mordecai. What Mordecai did for less than a decade on behalf of Israel, Jesus Christ will do for all eternity as the Prince of Peace (Isa. 9:6–7; Zech. 9:9–10)

Introduction to Job

Title

As with other books of the Bible, Job bears the name of the narrative's primary character. This name might have been derived from the Hebrew word for "persecution," thus meaning "persecuted one," or from an Arabic word meaning "repent," thus bearing the name "repentant one." The author recounts an era in the life of Job, in which he was tested and the character of God was revealed. New Testament writers directly quote Job two times (Rom. 11:35; 1 Cor. 3:19), plus Ezek. 14:14, 20 and James 5:11 show Job was a real person.

Author and Date

The book does not name its author. Job is an unlikely candidate because the book's message rests on Job's ignorance of the events that occurred in heaven as they related to his ordeal. One Talmudic tradition suggests Moses as author since the land of Uz (1:1) was adjacent to Midian where Moses lived for 40 years, and he could have obtained a record of the story there. Solomon is also a good possibility due to the similarity of content with parts of the book of Ecclesiastes, as well as the fact that Solomon wrote the other Wisdom books (except Psalms, and he did author Ps. 72; 127). Though he lived long after Job, Solomon could have written about events that occurred long before his own time, in much the same manner as Moses was inspired to write about Adam and Eve. Elihu, Isaiah, Hezekiah, Jeremiah, and Ezra have also been suggested as possible authors, but without support.

The date of the book's writing may be much later than the events recorded therein. This conclusion is based on: 1) Job's age (42:16); 2) his life span of nearly 200 years (42:16), which fits the patriarchal period (Abraham lived 175 years; Gen. 25:7); 3) the social unit being the patriarchal family; 4) the Chaldeans who murdered Job's servants (Job 1:17) were nomads and had not yet become city dwellers; 5) Job's wealth being measured in livestock rather than gold and silver (1:3; 42:12); 6) Job's priestly functions within his family (1:4-5); and 7) a basic silence on matters such as the covenant of Abraham, Israel, the exodus, and the law of Moses. The events of Job's odyssey appear to be patriarchal. Job, on the other hand, seemed to know about Adam (31:33) and the Noahic flood (12:15). These cultural/historical features found in the book appear to place the events chronologically at a time probably after Babel (Gen. 11:1–9) but before or contemporaneous with Abraham (Gen. 11:27ff.).

Background and Setting

This book begins with a scene in heaven that explains everything to the reader (1:6–2:10). Job was suffering because God was contesting with Satan. Job never knew that, nor did any of his friends, so they all struggled to explain suffering from the perspective of their ignorance, until finally Job rested in nothing but faith in God's goodness and the hope of his redemption. That God vindicated his trust is the culminating message of the book. When there are no rational or even theological explanations for disaster and pain, trust God.
