22. v.4 Other: diddest.

I declare thy name unto my brethren, in the midst of the congregation will I praise thee. O praise the LORD ye that fear him: Magnify him all ye seed of Jacob, and let all the seed of Israel fear him. For he hath not despised nor abhorred the miserable estate of the poor: he hath not hid his face from me, but when I called unto him, he heard me. I will praise thee in the great congregation, and perform my vows in the sight of all them that fear thee. The poor shall eat and be satisfied: they that seek after the LORD shall praise him: our heart shall live for ever. All the ends of the world shall remember themselves, and be turned unto the LORD: and all the generations of the Heathen shall worship before him. For the kingdom is the LORD's, and he shall be the governour of the Heathen. All such as be fat upon earth, shall eat also and worship. All they that lie in the dust, and live so hardly, shall fall down before him. The seed shall serve him, and preach of the Lord forever. They shall come, and declare his righteousness: unto a people that shall be born, whom the Lord hath made.

(A Psalm of David.) The LORD is my shepherd, I can want nothing. He feedeth me in a green pasture, and leadeth me to a fresh water. He quickeneth my soul, and bringeth me forth in the way of righteousness for his name's sake. Though I should walk now in the valley of the shadow of death, yet I fear no evil, for thou art with me: thy staff and thy sheephook comfort me. Thou preparest a table before me against mine enemies: thou anointest my head with oil, and fillest my cup full. Oh let thy loving-kindness and mercy follow me all the days of my life, that I may dwell in the house of the LORD for ever. XXIII

(A Psalm of David.) The earth is the LORD's, and all that therein is: the compass of the world, and all that dwell therein. For he hath founded it upon the seas, and builded it upon the floods. Who shall go up in to the hill of the LORD? Or, who shall remain in his holy place? Even he that hath innocent hands, and a clean heart: which lifteth not up his mind unto vanity, and swear not to deceive. He shall receive the blessing from the LORD, and mercy from God his saviour. This is the generation of them that seek him, of them that seek thy face, O Jacob. Selah; Open your gates (O ye princes) let the everlasting doors be open, that the King of glory may come in. Who XXIV is this King of glory? It is the LORD strong and mighty, even 9 the LORD mighty in battle. Open your gates (O ye princes) let the everlasting doors be open, that the King of glory may come 10 in. Who is this King of glory? It is the LORD of Hosts, he is the King of glory. Selah.

XXV, 2 (Of David) Unto thee, (O LORD) I lift up my soul. My God,
 I trust in thee: Oh let me not be confounded, lest mine enemies 3 triumph over me. For all they that hope in thee shall not be ashamed: but such as be scornful dispisers without a cause, 4 they shall be put to confusion. Shew me thy ways, O LORD, 5 and teach me thy paths. Lead me in thy truth, and learn me, for thou art the God of my health, and in thee is my hope all the 6 day long. Call to remembrance, O LORD, thy tender mercies 7 and thy lovingkindnesses, which have been ever of old. Oh remember not the sins and offenses of my youth, but according 8 unto thy mercy think upon me, O LORD, for thy goodness. O how friendly and righteous is the LORD, therefore will he teach 9 sinners in the way. He leadeth the simple a right, and such as 10 be meek them learneth he his ways. All the ways of the LORD are mercy and faithfulness, unto such as keep his testament 11 and covenant. For thy name's sake, O LORD, be merciful unto 12 my sin, for it is great. Whatsoever he be that feareth the 13 LORD, he shall shew him the way that he hath chosen. His soul shall dwell at ease, and his seed shall possess the land.
 14 The secret of the LORD is among them that fear him, and he 15 sheweth them his covenant. Mine eyes are ever looking unto 16 the LORD, for he shall pluck my feet out of the net. Turn thee unto me and have mercy upon me, for I am desolate and in 17 misery. The sorrows of my heart, are great, O bring me out 18 of my troubles. Look upon mine adversity and misery, and 19 forgive me all my sins. Consider how mine enemies are many, 20 and bear a malicious hate against me. O keep my soul, and deliver me: let me not be confounded, for I have put my trust 21 in thee. Let innocency and righteous dealing wait upon me, 22 for my hope is in thee. Deliver Israel, O God, out of all his trouble.

XXVI (Of David) Be thou my Judge, O LORD, for I walk inno-2 cently: my trust is in the LORD, therefore shall I not fall. Examine me, O LORD, and prove me: try out my reins and my 3 heart. For thy loving-kindness is before mine eyes, and I walk in thy truth. I sit not among vain persons, and have no fellow- 4 ship with the deceitful. I hate the congregation of the wicked, 5 and will not sit among the ungodly. I wash my hands with in- 6 nocency, O LORD, and so go I to thine altar. That I may shew 7 the voice of thy praise and tell of all thy wonderous works. 8 LORD, I love the habitation of thy house, and the place where 8 thy honour dwelleth. O destroy not my soul with the sinners, 9 nor my life with the bloodthirsty. In whose hands is wicked- 10 ness, and their right hand is full of gifts. But as for me, I will 11 walk innocently: O deliver me, and be merciful unto me. My 12 foot standeth right: I will praise thee (O LORD) in the congregations.

(Of David) The LORD is my light and my health: whom XXVII then should I fear? the LORD is the strength of my life, for whom then should I be afraid? Therefore when the wicked, 2 even mine enemies and my foes, came upon me, to eat up my flesh, they stumbled and fell. Though an host of men were 3 laid against me, yet shall not my heart be afraid: and though there rose up war against me, yet will I put my trust in him.
 One thing have I desired of the LORD, which I will require: 4 namely, that I may dwell in the house of the LORD all the days of my life, to behold the fair beauty of the LORD, and to visit his temple. For in the time of trouble he hath hid me in his 5 tabernacle, yea in the secret place of his dwelling hath he kept and set me up upon a rock of stone. And now hath he lift 6 up my head above mine enemies, that compassed me round about. Therefore will I offer in his dwelling, the oblation of thanksgiving: I will* sing and speak praises unto the LORD.
 Harken unto my voice, O LORD, when I cry unto thee: have 7 mercy upon me, and hear me. My heart speaketh unto thee, 8 my face seeketh thee, yea LORD, thy face will I seek. O hide 9 not thou thy face from me, cast not thy servant off in displeasure. Thou art my succour, leave me not, neither forsake me, O God my Saviour. For my father and my mother have for- 10 saken me, but the LORD hath taken me up. Shew me thy way, 11 O LORD, and lead me in the right path, because of mine enemies. Deliver me not into the wiles of mine adversaries, for 12 there are false witnesses risen up against me, and they imagine mischief. Nevertheless I believe verily to see the goodness 13

14 of the LORD in the land of the living. O tarry thou the LORD's leisure, be strong, let thine heart be of good comfort, and wait thou still for the LORD.

XXVIII (Of David) Unto thee will I cry, O my strong defense: think no scorn of me, lest, if thou make thee as though thou heardest 2 not, I be come like them, that go down into the pit. Hear the voice of my humble petition, when I cry unto thee, and hold 3 up my hands toward thy holy temple. O pluck me not away among the ungodly and wicked doers, which speak friendly to 4 their neighbours, but imagine mischief in their hearts. Reward them according to their deeds and wickedness of their own inventions. Recompense them after the works of their 5 hands, pay them that they have deserved. For they regard not the works of the LORD, nor the operation of his hands:
therefore shall he break them down, and not build them up.
6 Praised be the LORD, for he hath heard the voice of my humble 7 petition. The LORD is my strength and my shield: my heart hoped in him, and I am helped: therefore my heart danceth for 8 joy, and I will sing praises unto him. The LORD is the strength of his people, he is the defender and Saviour of his anointed.
9 O help thy people, give thy blessing unto thine inheritance:
feed them, and set them up for ever.

XXIX (A Psalm of David.) Ascribe unto the LORD, O ye mighty, 2 ascribe unto the LORD worship and strength. Give the LORD the honour of his name, bow yourselves to the holy majesty of 3 the LORD. It is the LORD that commandeth the waters: It is the glorious God that maketh the thunder: it is the LORD 4 that ruleth the sea. The voice of the LORD is mighty in op-5 eration, the voice of the LORD is a glorious voice. The voice of the LORD breaketh the cedar trees: yea the LORD breaketh 6 the Cedars of Lebanon. He maketh them to skip like a calf: 7 Lebanon and Sirion like a young unicorn. The voice of the 8 LORD divideth the flames of fire: the voice of the LORD shaketh the wilderness, yea the LORD shaketh the wilderness of Cades.
9 The voice of the LORD moveth the hinds and discovereth the thick bushes: in his temple shall every man speak of his hon-10 our. The LORD stilleth the water flood, and the LORD re-11 maineth a King for ever. The LORD shall give power unto his people, the LORD shall give his people the blessing of peace.

XXX (A Psalm and song of the dedication of the house, of David.)

I will magnify thee, O LORD, for thou hast set me up, and not suffered my foes to triumph over me. O LORD my God, I cried 2 unto thee, and thou hast healed me. Thou LORD hast brought 3 my soul out of hell: thou hast kept my life, where as they go down to the pit. Sing praises unto the LORD, (O ye saints of 4 his) give thanks unto him for a remembrance of his holiness.
 For his wrath endureth but the twinkling of an eye, and his 5 pleasure is in life: heaviness may well endure for a night, but joy cometh in the morning. As for me, when I was in prosper- 6 ity I said: Tush, I shall never fall more. And why? thou LORD, of thy goodness hadst made my hill so strong. But as 7 soon as thou turnedest thy face from me, I was brought in fear.
 Then cried I unto thee, O LORD, yea unto the LORD made I 8 my prayer. What profit is there in my blood, if I go down to 9 corruption? May the dust give thanks unto thee? Or shall it declare thy faithfulness? Hear, O LORD, and have mercy upon 10 me: LORD, be thou my helper. And so thou hast turned my 11 heaviness into joy: thou hast put off my sackcloth, and girded me with gladness; That mine honor might sing praises unto 12 thee without ceasing: O LORD my God, I will give thanks unto thee for ever.

(To the chanter a Psalm of David.) In thee, O LORD, is my XXXI trust: let me never be put to confusion, but deliver me in thy righteousness. Bow down thine ear to me, make haste to de- 2 liver me: be thou my strong rock, and a house of defense, that thou mayest save me. For thou art my stronghold and my 3 castle: O be thou my guide, and lead me for thy name's sake.
 Draw me out of the net that they have laid privily for me, for 4 thou art my strength. In to thy hands I comend my spirit: 5 thou hast delivered me O LORD thou God of truth. I hate 6 them that hold of vanities, and my trust is in the LORD. I 7 will be glad and rejoice in thy mercy: for thou hast considered my trouble, thou hast known my soul in adversity; Thou hast 8 not delivered me over in to the hands of the enemy, but hast set my feet in a large room. Have mercy upon me, O LORD, 9 for I am in trouble mine eye is consumed for very heaviness, yea my soul and my body. My life is waxen old with heav- 10 iness, and my years with mourning. My strength faileth me because of mine adversity, and my bones are corrupt. I am 11 become a very reproof among all mine enemies, my neighbours and they of mine own acquaintance are afraid of me: they that 12 see me in the street, convey themselves from me. I am clean forgotten and out of mind, as a dead man: I am become like a 13 broken vessel. For I have heard the blasphemy of the multitude: every man abhorreth me: they have gathered a counsel together against me: and are purposed to take away my life.

 14 But my hope is in the* LORD, and I say: thou art my God.
 15 My time is in thy hand: deliver me from the hand of mine ene-16 mies, and from them that persecute me. Shew thy servant the 17 light of thy countenance, help me for thy mercies' sake. Let me not be confounded, O LORD, for I call upon thee: let the ungodly rather be put to confusion, and brought unto the hell.
 18 Let the lying lips be put to silence, which cruelly, disdainfully* 19 and despitefully speak against the righteous. O how great and manifold is thy good, which thou haste hid for them that fear thee? O what things bringest thou to pass for them, that 20 put their trust in thee, even before the sons of men? Thou hidest them privily by thine own presence from the proud men, thou keepest them secretly in thy tabernacle, from the strife of 21 tongues. Thanks be to the LORD, for he hath shewed me mar-22 velous great kindness in a strong city. For when the sudden fear came upon me, I said: I am cast out of thy sight. Nevertheless, thou heardest mine humble prayer, when I cried unto 23 thee. O love the LORD, (all ye his saints) for the LORD preserveth the faithful, and plenteously rewardeth he the proud 24 doer. Be strong therefore and take a good heart unto you, all ye that put your trust in the LORD.

XXXII

(An Instruction of David.) Blessed are they, whose unright-2 teousness is forgiven, and whose sins are covered. Blessed is the man, unto whom the LORD imputeth no sin, in whose 3 spirit there is no guile. For while I held my tongue, my bones 4 consumed away thorow my daily complainings. And because thy hand was so heavy on me both day and night, my moisture 5 was like the drought in Summer. Selah. Therefore I confessed my sin unto thee, and hid not mine unrighteousness. I said: I will knowledge my offense, and accuse my self unto the LORD, 6 and so thou forgavest me the wickedness of my sin. Selah. For this shall every saint make his prayer unto thee in due season, 7 therefore shall not the great water floods come nye him. Thou art my defense in the trouble that is come about me, O compass thou me about also with the joy of deliverance. Selah. I will 8 enform thee, and shew thee the way wherein thou shalt go: I will fasten mine eyes upon thee. Be not ye now like horses 9 and mules, which have no understanding. Whose mouths thou must hold with bit and bridle, if they will not obey thee. Great 10 plagues shall the ungodly have, but who so putteth his trust in the LORD, mercy shall compass him on every side. Be glad, O 11 ye righteous, and rejoyce in the LORD, be joyful all ye that are true of heart.

Rejoyce in the LORD, O ye righteous, for it becometh well the XXXIII just to be thankful. Praise the LORD with harp: sing psalms 2 unto him with the lute and instrument of ten strings. Sing 3 him a new song, yea sing lustily unto him, and with a good courage. For the word of the LORD is true, and all his works 4 are faithful. He loveth mercy and judgment, the earth is full 5 of the goodness of the LORD. By the word of the LORD were 6 the heavens made, and all the Hosts of them by the breath of his mouth. He gathereth the waters together as it were in 7 a bottle, and layeth up the deep in secret. Let all the earth 8 fear the LORD, and let all them that dwell in the world, stand* in awe of him. For look what he sayeth, it is done: and look 9 what he commandeth, it standeth fast. The LORD bringeth 10 the counsel of the Heathen to naught, and turneth the devices of the people. But the counsel of the LORD endureth, and the 11 thoughts of his heart from generation to generation. Blessed 12 are the people that hold the LORD for their God, and blessed are the folk whom he hath chosen to be his heritage. The 13 LORD looketh down from heaven, and beholdeth all the children of men: from his strong seat he considereth all them 14 that dwell in the world. He only hath fashioned all the hearts 15 of them, and knoweth all their works. A king is not helped by 16 his own great host, neither is a giant saved thorow the might of his own strength. A horse is but a vain thing to save a man, 17 it is not the power of his strength that can deliver him. Be- 18 hold, the eye of the LORD looketh unto them that fear him, and put their trust in his mercy. That he may deliver their souls 19 from death, and to feed them in the deare time. Let our soul 20 patiently abide the LORD, for he is our help and shield. So 21 shall our heart rejoice in him, because we have hoped in his 22 holy name. Let thy merciful kindness, O LORD, be upon us, like as we put our trust in thee.

XXXIV (Of David, when he fained him self to be made before Abimelech: which drove him away, and he departed.) I will al-way give thanks unto the LORD, his praise shall ever be in 2 my mouth. My soul shall make her boast in the LORD: the 3 humble* shall hear thereof, and be glad. O praise the LORD 4 with me, and let us magnify his name together. I sought the LORD, and he heard me, yea he delivered me out of all my 5 fear. They that have a eye unto him, shall be lightened, and 6 their faces shall not be ashamed. This poor man cried unto the LORD, and he heard him, yea and delivered him out of all 7 his troubles. The Angel of the LORD pitcheth his tent round 8 about him* that fear him, and delivereth them. O taste and see how friendly the LORD is, blessed is the man that trusteth 9 in him. O fear the LORD, ye that be his saints: for they that 10 fear him, lack nothing. The rich shall want and suffer hunger, but they which seek the LORD, shall want no manner of thing, 11 that is good. Come hither, O ye children, hearken unto me, I 12 will teach you the fear of the LORD. Who so listeth to live, and 13 would fain see good days. Let him refrain his tongue from evil, 14 and his lips that they speak no guile. Let him eschew evil, and 15 do good: Let him seek peace and ensue it. For the eyes of the LORD are over the righteous, and his ears are open unto their 16 prayers. But the face of the LORD beholdeth them that do evil, 17 to destroy the remembrance of them out of the earth. When the righteous cry, the LORD heareth them, and delivereth them 18 out of all their troubles. The LORD is nye unto them that are contrite in heart, and will help such as be of an humble spirit.
 19 Great are the troubles of the righteous, but the LORD deliv-20 ereth them out of all. He keepeth all their bones, so that not 21 one of them is broken. But misfortune shall slay the ungodly, 22 and they that hate the righteous shall be guilty. The LORD delivereth the souls of his servants, and all they that put their trust in him, shall not offend.

XXXV (Of David.) Strive thou with them, O LORD, that strive with 2 me, fight thou against them that fight against me. Lay hand
 3 upon the shield and spear, and stand up to help me. Draw

34. v.2 Other: poor oppressed. v.7 Other: them.

out thy sword, and stop* the way against them that persecute me, say unto my soul: I am thy help. Let them be confounded 4 and put to shame, that seek after my soul: let them be turned back and brought to confusion, that imagine mischief for me.
 Let them be as the dust before the wind, and the angel of the 5 LORD scattering them. Let their way be dark and slippery, 6 and the angel of the LORD to persecute them. For they have 7 privily laid their net to destroy me without cause, yea, and made a pit for my soul, which I never deserved. Let a sud- 8 den destruction come upon him unawares, and the net that he hath laid privily, catch himself, that he may fall into his own mischief. But let my soul be joyful in the LORD, and rejoice in 9 his help. All my bones shall say: LORD, who is like unto thee? 10 which deliverest the poor from those that are too strong for him, yea, the poor and the needy from his robbers. False wit- 11 nesses are risen up, and lay to my charge things that I know not. They reward me evil for good, to the great discomforth 12 of my soul. Nevertheless, when they were sick, I put on a 13 sackcloth: I humbled my soul with fasting, and my prayer returned into mine own bosom. I behaved myself as though it 14 had been my friend or my brother, I went heavily, as one that mourneth for his mother. But in mine adversity they rejoice, 15 and gather them together: Yea, the very lame come together against me unawares, making mowes at me, and cease not.
 With the greedy and scornful hypocrites, they gnashed upon 16 me with their teeth. Lord, when wilt thou look upon this? O 17 restore my soul from the wicked rumour of them, my darling from the lions. So will I give thee thanks in the great 18 congregation, and praise thee among much people. O let them 19 not triumph over me, that are mine enemies for naught: O let them not wink with their eyes, that hate me without a cause.
 And why? their communing* is not for peace, but they imagine 20 false words against the outcasts of the land. They gape upon 21 me with their mouths, saying: there there: we see it with our eyes. This thou seest, O LORD: hold not thy tongue then, go 22 not far from me, O Lord. Awake Lord, and stand up: avenge 23 thou my cause, my God, and my Lord. Judge me, O LORD 24 my God, according to thy righteousness, that they triumph not over me. O let them not say in their hearts: there there, so 25 would we have it: O let them not say: we have overcome him.

- 26 Let them be put to confusion and shame, that rejoice at my trouble: let them be clothed with rebuke and dishonour, that 27 boast themselves against me. Let them also be glad and rejoice, that favour my righteous dealing: yea let them say alway: blessed be the LORD, which hath pleasure in the prosperity of 28 his servant. And as for my tongue, it shall be talking of thy righteousness and of thy praise, all the day long.

XXXVI (To the Chanter, of David the servant of the LORD) My heart sheweth me the wickedness of the ungodly, that there is no fear 2 of God before his eyes. For he dissembleth before his face, so 3 long till his abominable sin be found out. The words of his mouth are unrighteousness and deceit, he will not be learned 4 to do good. He imagineth mischief upon his bed, he will come 5 in no good way, nor refuse the thing that is evil. Thy mercy, O LORD, reacheth unto the heaven, and thy faithfulness unto 6 the clouds. Thy righteousness standeth like the strong mountains, and thy judgment like the great deep. Thou LORD pre-7 servest both men and beasts. How precious is thy mercy, O God, that the children of men may put their trust under the 8 shadow of thy wings. They shall be satisfied with the plen-teousness of thy house, and thou shalt give them drink of the 9 river of thy pleasures. For by thee is the well of life, and in thy 10 light, shall we see light. O spread forth thy loving-kindness unto them that know thee, and thy righteousness unto them 11 that are true of heart. O let not the foot of pride overtake me, 12 O let not the hand of the ungodly cast me down. As for wicked doers, they fall, they are cast down, and are not able to stand.*

XXXVII (A Psalm of David.) Fret not thyself at the ungodly, be not 2 thou envious against the evil doers. For they shall soon be cut down like the grass, and be withered even as the green 3 herb. Put thou thy trust in the LORD, and be doing good: so shalt thou dwell in the land, and verily it shall feed thee.
4 Delight thou in the LORD, and he shall give thee thy heart's 5 desire. Commit thy way unto the LORD, set thy hope in him, 6 and he shall bring it to pass. Yea He shall make thy righteousness as clear as the light, and thy just dealing as the noonday.
7 Hold thee still in the LORD, and abide patiently upon him: but grieve not thyself at one that hath prosperity, and liveth in abomination. Leave off from wrath, let go displeasure, let not thy jealousy move thee also to do evil. For wicked doers shall be rooted out, but they that patiently abide the LORD, shall inherit* the land. Suffer yet a little while, and the ungodly shall be clean gone: thou shalt look after his place, and he shall be away. But the meek spirited shall possess the earth, and have pleasure in much rest. The ungodly layeth wait for the just, and gnasheth upon him with his teeth. But the Lord laugheth him to scorn, for he seeth that his day is coming.

 The ungodly draw out the sword and bend their bow, to cast down the simple and poor, and to slay such as go the right way.
 Nevertheless, their sword shall go thorow their own heart, and their bow shall be broken. A small thing that the righteous hath, is better than the great riches of the ungodly. For the arms of the ungodly shall be broken, but the LORD upholdeth the righteous. The LORD knoweth the days of the godly, and their inheritance endureth for ever. They shall not be confounded in the perilous time, and in the days of dearth they shall have enough. As for the ungodly, they shall perish: and when the enemies of the LORD are in their flourish,* they shall consume, yea even as the smoke shall they consume away.
 The ungodly borroweth, and payeth not again, but the righteous is merciful and liberal. Such as be blessed of him, shall possess the land: and they whom he curseth, shall be rooted out. The LORD ordereth a good man's going, and hath pleasure in his way. Though he fall, he shall not be hurt, for the LORD upholdeth him with his hand. I have been young, and now am old: yet saw I never the righteous forsaken, nor his seed to seek their bread. The righteous is ever merciful, and lendeth gently, therefore shall his seed be blessed. Flee from evil, and do the thing that is good, so shalt thou dwell forever.
 For the LORD loveth the thing that is right, he forsaketh not his saints, but they shall be preserved for evermore: as for the seed of the ungodly, it shall be rooted out. Yea, the righteous shall possess the land, and dwell therein for ever. The mouth of the righteous is exercised in wisdom, and his tongue talketh of judgment. The law of his God is in his heart, therefore shall not his footsteps slide. The ungodly seeth the righteous, and goeth about to slay him. But the LORD will not leave him in

37. v.9 Other: enherit. v.20 Other: flouris, flurries.

34 his hands, nor condemn him when he is judged. Hope thou in the LORD, and keep his way. And he shall so promote thee, that thou shalt have the land by inheritance, and see, when 35 the ungodly shall perish. I myself have seen the ungodly in 36 great power, and flourishing like a green bay tree: but when I went by, lo, he was gone: I sought him, but he could no where 37 be found. Keep innocency, and take heed unto the thing that 38 is right, for that shall bring a man peace at the last. As for the transgressors, they shall perish together, and the ungodly shall 39 be rooted out at the last. The help of the righteous cometh of 40 the LORD, he is their strength in the time of trouble. The LORD shall stand* by them, and save them: he shall deliver them from the ungodly, and help them, because they put their trust in him.

XXXVIII

(To the Chanter, to bring to remembrance) Put me not to rebuke (Oh LORD) in thy anger: Oh chasten me not in thy heavy 2 displeasure. For thine arrows stick fast in me, and thy hand 3 presseth me sore. There is no whole part in my body, because of thy displeasure: there is no rest in my bones, by reason of 4 my sins. For my wickednesses are gone over my head, and 5 are like a sore burthen, too heavy for me to bear. My wounds 6 stink and are corrupt, thorow my foolishness. I am brought into so great trouble and misery, that I go mourning all the day 7 long. For my loins are clean dried up, and there is no whole 8 part in my body. I am feeble and sore smitten, I roar for the 9 very disquietness of my heart. Lord, thou knowest all my de-10 sire, and my groaning is not hid from thee. My heart panteth, my strength hath failed me, and the light of mine eyes is gone 11 from me. My lovers and friends stand looking upon my trou-12 ble, and my kinsmen are gone afar off. They that sought after my life, and to do me evil, spake of lies and imagined deceit* all 13 the day long. As for me, I was like a deaf man and heard not:
 14 as one that were dumb, not opening his mouth. I am become as a man that heareth not: and that can make no resistance 15 with his mouth. For in thee, O LORD, is my trust, thou shalt 16 hear me, O Lord my God. My desire is, that mine enemies triumph not over me: for if my foot slip, they rejoyce greatly 17 against me. I am ready to suffer trouble, and my heaviness 18 is ever in my sight. For I confess my wickedness, and my sin grieveth me. But mine enemies live, and are mighty: and they 19 that hate me without a cause, are many in number. They that 20 reward me evil for good, speak evil of me, because I follow the thing that good is. Forsake me not (O LORD my God) O go not 21 far from me. Haste thee to help me, O Lord my succour. 22

(To the Chanter for Iduthun, a Psalm of David.)* I said: I XXXIX will keep my ways that I offended not in my tongue. And so I shut my mouth, while the ungodly laid wait for me. I held 2 my tongue, I was dumb, I kept silence, yea even from good words, but it was pain and grief to me. My heart was hot 3 within me, and while I was thus musing, the fire kindled: so that I spake with my tongue: LORD, let me know mine end, 4 and the number of my days: that I may be certified what I want. Behold, thou hast made my days a span long, and my 5 life as it were nothing before thee. O how vain are all men living? Selah Yea every man walketh as it were a shadow, 6 and disquieteth himself in vain: he heapeth up riches, and can not tell to whom he gathereth them. And now Lord wherein 7 shall I comfort me? my hope is in thee. Deliver me from all 8 mine offenses, and make me not a scorn unto the foolish. I 9 keep silence, and open not my mouth, for thou hast done it.
 Turn thy plagues away from me, for I am consumed thorow 10 the fear of thy hand. When thou punishest man for sin, thou 11 chastenest him: so that his beauty consumeth away, like as it were a moth. O how vain are all men. Selah. Hear my prayer 12 O LORD, and consider my calling: shew not thyself as though thou sawest not my tears. For I am a stranger and pilgrim with thee, as all my forefathers were. Oh spare me a little that I 13 may refresh myself, before I go hence, and be no more seen.

(To the chanter, a Psalm of David.) I waited patiently for the XL
 LORD, which inclined* himself unto me: and heard my calling.
 He brought me out of the horrible pit, out of the mire and clay: 2 he set my feet upon the rock, and ordered my goings. He hath 3 put a new song in my mouth, even a thanksgiving unto our God. Many men seeing this, shall fear the LORD, and put their trust in him. Blessed is the man that setteth his hope in the 4 LORD, and turneth not unto the proud, and to such as go about with lies. O LORD my God, great are thy wonderous works 5 which thou hast done: and in thy thoughts toward us there may none be likened unto thee. I would declare them, and speak of them: but they are so many, that they can not be told.

 6 Sacrifice and offering thou wouldest not have, but a body hast thou ordained me: burnt offering and sacrifice for sin thou hast 7 not allowed. Then said I: Lo, I come. In the beginning of the 8 book it is written of me, that I should fulfill thy will O my God, 9 and that am I content to do: yea thy law is within my heart. I will preach of thy righteousness in the great congregation: Lo, I will not refrained my lips, O LORD, and that thou knowest.
 10 I do not hide thy righteousness in my heart, my talking is of thy truth and saving health: I keep not thy loving mercy and 11 faithfulness back from the great congregation. Turn not thou thy mercy from me, O LORD, but let thy loving-kindness and 12 truth alway preserve me. For innumerable troubles are come about me: my sins have taken such hold upon me, that I am not able to look up: yea they are more in number than the hairs 13 of my head, and my heart hath failed me. O LORD, let it be thy pleasure to deliver me, make haste (O LORD) to help me.
 14 Let them be ashamed and confounded, that seek after my soul, to destroy it: let them fall backward and be put to confusion, that wish me evil. Let them soon be brought to shame, that 15 cry over me: there there. But let all those that seek thee, be joyful and be glad in thee: and let all such as delight in thy 16 saving health, say alway: The LORD be praised. As for me, I am poor and in misery, but the Lord careth for me. Thou art my helper and redeemer, make no long tarrying, O my God.

XLI (To the chanter, a Psalm of David.) Blessed is he, that considereth the poor: the LORD shall deliver him in the time of 2 trouble. The LORD shall preserve him, and keep him alive: he shall make him to prosper upon earth, and shall not deliver 3 him into the will of his enemies. The LORD shall refresh him, when he lieth sick upon his bed, yea thou makest his bed in all 4 his sickness. I said: LORD be merciful unto me, heal my soul, for I have sinned against thee. Mine enemies speak evil upon 5 me: when shall he die, and his name perish? Though he came in to see, yet meant he falsity* in his heart, heaping mischief
 7 upon himself. All they that hate me, run together against me, and imagine evil against me. They have given a wicked sen-
 8 tence upon me: when he lieth, he shall rise up no more. Yea

41. v.6 Other: falsede.

even mine own familiar friend, whom I trusted, which did eat my bread, hath lift up his heel against me. But be thou merciful unto me (O LORD) raise thou me up, and I shall reward them. By this I know thou favourest me, that my enemy shall not triumph over me. Thou hast upholden me because of my innocency, and set me before thy face for ever. O blessed be the LORD God of Israel, from hence forth and for evermore. Amen. Amen.

(To the Chanter, a monition of the sons of Korah) Like as the hart desireth the water brooks, so longeth my soul after thee, O God.
 My soul is a thirst for God, yea even for the living God: when shall I come, and behold the face of God? My tears are my meat day and night, while it is daily said unto me: Where is now thy God? Now when I think there upon, I pour out my heart by myself: for I would fain go hence with the multitude, and pass over with them unto the house of God, in the voice of praise and thanksgiving, among such as keep holy day. Why art thou so full of heaviness (O my soul) and why art thou so unquiet within me? O put thy trust in God, for I will yet give him thanks, for the help of his countenance. My God, my soul is vexed within me: therefore I remember the land of Jordan, and the little hill of Hermonim.
 One deep calleth another with the voice of thy whistles, all thy waves* and water floods are gone over me. The LORD hath promised his loving-kindness daily, therefore will I praise him in the night season, and make my prayer unto the God of my life.
 I will say unto God my stony rock; Why hast thou forgotten me? why go I thus heavily, while the enemy oppresseth me? While my bones are broken, and while mine enemies cast me in the teeth, daily saying unto me: Where is now thy God? Why art thou so heavy (O my soul) and why art thou so disquieted within me?
 O put thy trust in God, for I will yet thank him for the help of his countenance, and because he is my God.

Give sentence upon me (O God) and defend my cause against the unholy people: Oh deliver me from the deceitful, and wicked man.
 For thou (O God) art my strength: why hast thou shot me from thee?
 Why go I then so heavily, while the enemy oppresseth me? Oh send out thy light and thy truth, that they may lead me and bring me unto thy holy hill, and to thy

42. v.7 Other: wawes.

4 dwelling. That I may go in to the altar of God, even unto the God which is my joy and pleasure, and upon the harp to give 5 thanks unto thee, O God, my God. Why art thou so heavy (O my soul) and why art thou so disquieted within me? O put thy trust in God, for I will yet give him thanks for the help of his countenance, and because he is my God.

XLIV

(To the Chanter, an instruction of the sons of Korah) We have heard with our ears, (O God) our fathers have told us, what 2 thou hast done in their time of old. How thou hast driven out the Heathen with thy hand, and planted them in: how 3 thou hast destroyed the nations and cast them out. For they gat not the land in possession thorow their own sword, neither was it their own arm that helped them. But thy right hand, thine arm and the light of thy countenance, because thou hadst 4 a favour unto them. Thou art the King and my God, thou 5 sendest help unto Jacob. Thorow thee, will we overthrow our enemies: and in thy name will we tread them under, that rise 6 up against us. For I will not trust in my bow, it is not my 7 sword that shall help me. But it is thou that savest us from 8 our enemies, and putttest them to confusion that hate us. We will always make our boast of God, and praise thy name for 9 ever. Selah. But now thou forsakest us, and putttest us to 10 confusion, and goest not forth with our Hosts. Thou makest us to turn our backs upon our enemies, so that they which hate 11 us, spoil our goods. Thou lettest us be eaten up like sheep, 12 and scatterest us among the Heathen. Thou sellest thy people 13 for naught, and takest no money for them. Thou makest us to be rebuked of our neighbours, to be laughed to scorn and 14 had in derision, of them that are round about us. Thou hast made* us, a very byword among the Heathen, and that the 15 people shake their heads at us. My confusion is daily before 16 me, and the shame of my face covereth me. For the voice of the 17 slanderer* and blasphemer, for the enemy and avenger. All this is come upon us, and yet have we not forgotten thee, nor 18 behaved our selves unfaithfully in thy covenant. Our heart is 19 not turned back, neither our steps gone out of thy way. For thou hast smitten us in the place of dragons, and covered us 20 with the shadow of death.* If we had forgotten the name of

44. v.14 Other: makest. v.16 Other: sclaunderer. v.19 Other: That thou smytest us so in the place of the serpet, & coverest us with ye shadowe of death.

our God, and hold up our hands to any strange God. Should 21 not God find it out? for he knoweth the very secrets of the heart. But for thy sake we are killed all the day long, and 22 are counted as sheep appointed to be slain. Up Lord, why 23 sleepest thou; Awake, and cast us not off for ever. Wherefore 24 hidest thou thy face? wilt thou clean forget our misery and oppression? For our soul is brought low even unto the dust, 25 and our belly cleaveth unto the ground. Arise O Lord, help 26 us, and deliver us for thy mercy sake.

(To the Chanter, upon Sosanim, an instruction of the chil- XLV dren of Korah, a song of love.) My heart is inditing of a good matter, I speak of that, which I have made of the king: My tongue is the pen of a ready writer. Thou art the fairest among 2 the children of men, full of grace are thy lips, therefore God blesseth thee for ever. Gird thee with thy sword upon thy 3 thigh, (O thou mighty) with worship and renown. Good luck 4 have thou with thine honour, ride on with the truth, meekness and righteousness: and thy right hand shall teach thee won- 5 derful things. Thy arrows are sharp, the people shall be subdued unto thee, even in the midst among the king's enemies.
 Thy seat (O God) endureth for ever: the scepter of thy kingdom 6 is a right scepter. Thou hast loved righteousness, and hated 7 iniquity: wherefore God (which is thy God) hath anointed thee with the oil of gladness above thy fellows. All thy garments 8 are like myrrh, Aloes and Cassia, when thou comest out of thine ivory palaces in thy beautiful glory. Kings' daughters 9 go in thy goodly array, and upon thy right hand standeth the queen in a vesture of the most fine gold. Hearken (O daugh- 10 ter) consider, and incline thine ear: forget thine own people, and thy father's house. So shall the king have pleasure in thy 11 beauty, for he is thy Lord, and thou shalt worship him. The 12 daughters of Tyre shall be there with gifts, the rich among the people shall make their supplication before thee. The king's 13 daughter is all glorious within, her clothing is of wrought gold.
 She shall be brought unto the king in raiment of needlework, 14 and maidens after her: such as be next her shall be brought unto thee. With joy and gladness shall they be brought, and 15 go into the king's palace. In stead of thy fathers thou hast got- 16 ten children, whom thou shalt make princes in all lands. I will 17 remember thy name from one generation to another: therefore shall the people give thanks unto thee, world without end.

XLVI (To the Chanter, a song of the children of Korah upon al-muth.) In our troubles and adversity, we have found, that 2 God is our refuge, our strength and help. Therefore will we 3 not fear, though the earth fell, and though the hills were car-4 ried into the midst of the sea. Though the waters of the 5 sea raged and were never so troublous, and though the moun-6 tains shook at the tempest of the same. Selah. For there is a 7 flood, which with his rivers rejoiceth the city of God, the holy 8 dwelling of the most highest. God is in the midst of her, 9 therefore shall she not be removed: for God helpeth her, and 10 that right early. The Heathen are mad, the kingdoms make 11 much ado: but when he sheweth his voice, the earth melteth away. The LORD of Hosts is with us, the God of Jacob is our defense. Selah. O come hither, and behold the works of the LORD, what destructions he hath brought upon the earth. He hath made wars to cease in all the world: he hath broken the bow, he hath knapped the spear in sunder, and brent the char-iots in the fire. Be still then and confess that I am God: I will be exalted among the Heathen, I will be exalted upon earth.
 The LORD of Hosts is with us, the God of Jacob is our defense.
 Selah.

XLVII (To the Chanter, a Psalm of the children of Korah) O clap your hands together (all ye people) O sing unto God with the 2 voice of thanksgiving. For the LORD the most highest* is to be 3 feared, and he is the great King upon all the earth. He shall 4 subdue the people under us, and the Heathen under our feet.
 5 He chooseth us for an heritage, the beauty of Jacob whom he 6 loved. Selah. God is gone up with a merry noise, and the 7 LORD with the sound of the trumpet. O Sing praises, sing 8 praises unto God: O sing praises, sing praises unto our King.
 9 For God is King of all the earth, O sing praises unto him with understanding. God is king over the Heathen, God sitteth in his holy seat. The princes of the people are gathered together unto the God of Abraham: for God is far higher* exalted, then the mighty lords of the earth.

XLVIII (A song of a Psalm of the children of Korah) Great is the LORD, and highly to be praised, in the city of our God, even 2 upon his holy hill. The hill of Sion is like a fair plant, whereof 47. v.2 Other: hyst. v.9 Other: farre farre hyer.

all the land rejoiceth: upon the north side lieth the city of the great King. God is well known in her palaces, that he is the defense of the same. For lo, kings are gathered, and gone by together. They marveled, to see such things: they were astonied, and suddenly cast down. Fear came there upon them, and sorrow as upon a woman in her travail. Thou shalt break the ships of the sea, thorow the east wind. Like as we have heard, so see we in the city of the LORD of Hosts, in the city of our God. God upholdeth the same forever. Selah. We wait for thy loving-kindness (O God) in the midst of thy temple. O God, according to thy name, so is thy praise unto the world's end: thy right hand is full of righteousness. Oh let the mount Sion rejoice, and the daughters of Judah be glad, because of thy judgments. Walk about Sion, go round about her, and tell her towers. Mark well her walls, set up her houses, that it may be told them that come after. For this God is our God for ever and ever, and he shall always be our guide.

(To the Chanter, a Psalm of the children of Korah) O Hear XLIX this, all ye people: ponder it well, all ye that dwell upon the earth. High and low, rich and poor, one with another. My mouth shall speak of wisdom, and my heart shall muse of understanding. I will incline mine ear to the parable, and shew my dark speech upon the harp. Wherefore should I fear the evil days, when the wickedness of my heels compasseth me round about? They that put their trust in their good, and boast* themselves in the multitude of their riches. No man may deliver his brother, nor make agreement unto him for God.* For it costeth more to redeem their souls, so that he must let that alone for ever. Yea, though he live long, and see not the grave. For it shall be seen, that such wise men shall die and perish together, as well as the ignorant and foolish, and leave their goods for other. Look what is in their houses, it continueth still: their dwelling places endure from one generation to another, and are called after their own names upon the earth. Nevertheless man abideth not in such honor, but is compared unto the brute beasts, and becometh like unto them. This way of theirs is very foolishness, and yet their posterity praise it with their mouth. Selah. They lie in the hell like sheep, death shall gnaw upon them, and the righteous

49. v.6 Other: boost. v.7 Other: for him unto God.

shall have domination of them in the morning by times, their 15 strength shall consume, and hell shall be their dwelling. But God shall deliver my soul from the power of hell, when he re-16 ceiveth me. Selah. O be not thou afraid, when one is made 17 rich, and the glory of his house increased. For he shall carry nothing away with him when he dieth, neither shall his pomp 18 follow him. While he liveth, he is counted an happy man: and 19 so long as he is in prosperity, men speak good of him. But when he followeth his fathers' generation, he shall never see 20 light any more. When a man is in honour and hath no understanding, he is compared unto the brute beasts, and becometh like unto them.

L (The Psalm of Asaph) The LORD even the mighty God hath spoken, and called the world from the rising up of the son unto 2 the going down of the same. Out of Sion appeareth the glori-3 ous beauty of God. Our God shall come, and not keep silence: there goeth before him a consuming fire, and a mighty tempest 4 round about him. He shall call the heavens from above, and 5 the earth, that he may judge his people. Gather my saints together unto me, those that set more by the covenant than 6 by any offering. And the heavens shall declare his righteous-7 ness, for God is judge himself. Selah. Hear, O my people: let me speak, let me testify among you, O Israel: I am God, 8 even thy God. I reprove thee not because of thy sacrifice, thy 9 burntofferings are alway before me. I will take no bullocks 10 out of thy house, nor goats out of thy folds. For all the beasts 11 of the field are mine, and thousands of cattle upon the hills. I know all the fowls upon the mountains, and the wild beasts of 12 the field are in my sight. If I be hungry, I will not tell thee: 13 for the whole world is mine, and all that therein is. Thinkest thou, that I will eat the flesh of oxen, or drink the blood of 14 goats? Offer unto God praise and thanksgiving, and pay thy 15 vows unto the most highest. And call upon me in the time of 16 trouble, so will I hear thee, that thou shalt thank me. But unto the ungodly sayeth God: Why doest thou preach my laws, 17 and takest my covenant in thy mouth? Where as thou hatest 18 to be reformed, and castest my words behind thee? If thou seest a thief, thou runnest with him, and art partaker with the 19 advouterers. Thou lettest thy mouth speak wickedness, and 20 thy tongue painteth deceit. Thou sittest and speakest against thy brother, yea and slanderest* thine own mother's son. This thou doest, while I hold my tongue: and thinkest me to be even such one as thyself: but I will reprove thee, and set myself against thee. O consider this, ye that forget God: lest I pluck you away, and there be none to deliver you. Whoso offereth me thanks and praise, he honoureth me: and this is the way, whereby I will shew him the saving health of God.

(To the chanter, a Psalm of David, when the Prophet Nathan came unto him, after he was gone in to Bethsabe.) LI
 Have mercy upon me (O God) after thy goodness, and according unto thy great mercies, do away mine offenses. Wash me well from my wickedness, and cleanse me from my sin. For I knowledge my faults, and my sin is ever before me. Against thee only, against thee have I sinned, and done evil in thy sight: that thou mightest be justified in thy sayings, and shouldest overcome when thou art judged. Behold, I was born in wickedness, and in sin hath my mother conceived me. But lo, thou hast a pleasure in the truth, and hast shewed me secret wisdom. O purge* me with Isope, and I shall be clean: wash thou me, and I shall be whiter than snow. Oh let me hear of joy and gladness, that the bones which thou hast broken, may rejoice. Turn thy face from my sins, and put out all my misdeeds. Make me a clean heart, O God, and renew a right spirit within me. Cast me not away from thy presence, and take not thy holy spirit from me. O give me the comfort of thy help again, and establish me with thy free spirit. Then shall I teach thy ways unto the wicked, that sinners may be converted unto thee. Deliver me from bloodguiltiness O God, thou that art the God of my health, that my tongue may praise thy righteousness. Open my lips, O Lord, that my mouth may shew thy praise. For if thou hadst pleasure in sacrifice, I would give it thee: but thou delightest not in burntofferings. The sacrifice of God is a troubled spirit, a broken and a contrite heart, O God, shalt thou not despise. O be favourable and gracious unto Sion, that the walls of Jerusalem may be builded. For then shalt thou be pleased with the sacrifice of righteousness, with the burntofferings and oblations: then shall they lay bullocks upon thine altar.

(To the chanter, an exhortation of David when Doeg the Edomite) LII

came to Saul, and shewed him, saying: David is come to the house of Abimelech.) Why boastest thou thyself, thou Tyrant, that thou canst do mischief? Where as the goodness of God endureth yet daily. Thy tongue imagineth wickedness, and with lies it cutteth like a sharp razor.* Thou lovest ungraciousness more than good, to talk of lies more than righteousness. Selah. Thou lovest to speak all words that may do hurt, O thou false tongue. Therefore shall God clean destroy thee, smite thee in pieces, pluck thee out of thy dwelling, and root thee out of the land of the living. Selah. The righteous shall see this, and fear, and laugh him to scorn. Lo, this is the man, that took not God for his strength, but trusted unto the multitude of his riches, and was mighty in his wickedness. As for me, I am like a green olive tree in the house of God, my trust is in the tender mercy of God for ever and ever. I will alway give thanks unto thee, for that thou hast done: and will hope in thy name, for thy saints like it well.

LIII (To the chanter upon Mahalath, an instruction of David.) The foolish bodies say in their hearts: Tush, there is no God. Corrupt are they, and become abominable in their wickednesses, there is not one that doth good. God looked down from heaven upon the children of men, to see if there were any that would understand, or seek after God. But they are all gone out of the way, they are all become unprofitable: there is none that doth good, no not one. How can they have understanding, that are the workers of wickedness, eating up my people as it were bread, and call not upon God. They are afraid, where no fear is: for God breaketh the bones of them that besiege thee: thou putteth them to confusion, for God despiseth them. Oh that the saving health were given unto Israel out of Sion: Oh that the Lorde would deliver his people out of captivity. Then should Jacob rejoyce, and Israel should be right glad.

LIV (To the chanter in Neginoth, an instruction of David when the Zephites came and said unto Saul: David is hid among us.) Help me (O God) for thy name's sake, and deliver me in thy strength. Hear my prayer, (O God) consider the words of my mouth. For strangers are risen up against me, and the mighty (which have not God before their eyes) seek after my soul. Selah. But lo, God is my helper: it is he that upholdeth my soul. He shall reward evil unto mine enemies: and in thy truth shalt thou destroy them. A free will offering will I give thee, and praise thy name, O LORD, because it is so comfortable. For thou hast delivered me out of all my trouble, so that mine eye seeth his desire upon mine enemies.

(To the chanter in Neginoth, an instruction of David.) Hear my prayer, O God, and hide not thyself from my petition. Take heed unto me, and hear me, how piteously I mourn and complain. The enemy crieth so, and the ungodly cometh on so fast: for they are minded to do me some mischief, so maliciously are they set against me. My heart is heavy within me, and the fear of death is fallen upon me. Fearfulness and trembling are come upon me, and an horrible dread hath overwhelmed me. And I said: O that I had wings like a dove, that I might flee somewhere, and be at rest. Lo, then would I get me away far off, and remain in the wilderness. Selah. I would make haste to escape, from the stormy wind and tempest. Destroy their tongues (O Lord) and divide them, for I see unrighteousness and strife in the city. This goeth day and night about the walls, mischief and vice are in the midst of it. Wickedness is therein, deceit and guile go not out of her streets. If it were mine enemy that reviled me, I could bear it: or if one that ought me evil will did threaten me, I would hide myself from him. But it is thou my companion, my guide and mine own familiar friend. We had sweet and secret communication together* in the house of God. Let death come hastily upon them, and let them go down quick into hell, for wickedness is among them in their dwellings. As for me, I will call unto God, and the LORD shall help me. In the evening, morning and at noon day will I mourn and complain: and he shall hear my voice. It is he that delivereth my soul in peace, from them that lay wait for me: for they are many against me. Yea even God that endureth forever, shall hear me, and bring them down, Selah. For they will not turn: and why? they fear not God. Yea they lay hands upon such as be at peace with him, and so they break his covenant. Their mouths are softer than butter, and yet have they battle in their mind: their words are smoother than oil, and yet be they very swords. O cast thy burthen, or care, upon the LORD, he shall nourish thee, and not leave the

55. v.14 Other: and lovingly walked we together.

23 righteous in unquietness. But as for them, thou (O God) shalt cast* down into the pit of destruction. The bloodthirsty and deceitful shall not live out half their days. Nevertheless my trust is in thee.

LVI (To the chanter, upon the domme stock downe: which flyeth far off, Michtam of David, when the Philistines took him in Geth.) Be merciful unto me (O God) for men will tread me 2 down: they are daily fighting and troubling me. Mine enemies tread me daily under their feet, for they be many, that 3 proudly fight against me. Nevertheless, when I am afraid, I 4 put my trust in thee. I will comfort myself in God's word, yea I will hope in God, and not fear: What can flesh then do unto 5 me. They vex me daily in my words: all that they imagine, 6 is to do me evil. They hold all together, and keep themselves 7 close: they mark my steps, how they may catch my soul. But in vain, for it shall escape them: and why? thou (O God) in 8 thy displeasure shall cast down such people. Thou tellest my flittings, thou putttest my tears in thy bottle, and numberst 9 them. Whensoever I call upon thee, mine enemies are put to 10 flight: whereby I know that thou art my God. In God's word 11 will I rejoyce, in the LORD's word will I comfort me. Yea in God do I trust, and am not afraid: what can man then do unto 12 me? Unto thee (O God) will I pay my vows, unto thee will I 13 give thanks and praise. For thou hast delivered my soul from death, and my feet from falling, that I may walk before God in the light of the living.

LVII (To the Chanter, destroy not Michtam of David, when he fled from Saul into the cave.) Be merciful unto me, O God, be merciful unto me, for my soul trusteth in thee: and under the shadow of thy wings shall be my refuge, until wickedness be 2 overpast. I call unto God the most highest, even to the God
 3 that shall help me up again. He shall send from heaven, and save me from the reproof of him that would swallow me up. Selah. This shall God send, for his mercy and faithfulness' 4 sake. I lie with my soul among the cruel lions: even among the children of men, whose teeth are spears and arrows, and 5 their tongue a sharp sword. Set up thyself, O God, above the 6 heavens, and thy glory above all the earth. They have laid a net for my feet, and pressed down my soul: they have digged v.23 Other: them.

a pit before me, and are fallen into it themselves. Selah. My heart is ready, O God, my heart is ready to sing and give praise. Awake, O my glory, awake lute and harp, I myself will awake right early. I will give thanks unto thee, O Lord, among the people, I will sing praises unto thee among the Heathen. For the greatness of thy mercy reacheth unto the heavens, and thy faithfulness unto the clouds. Set up thyself, O God, above the heavens, and thy glory above all the earth.

(To the Chanter Destroy not Michtam of David) If your minds be upon righteousness in deed, then judge the thing that is right, O ye sons of men. But ye imagine mischief in your hearts, and your hands deal with wickedness. The ungodly are froward, even from their mother's womb: as soon as they be born, they go astray and speak lies. They are as furious as the serpent, even like the deaf Adder that stoppeth her ears. That she should not hear the voice of the charmer, charm he never so wisely. Break their teeth (O God) in their mouths, smite the chaff bones of the lions' whelps in sonder, O LORD. That they may fall away, like water that runneth a pace: and that when they shoot their arrows, they may be broken. Let them consume away like a snail, and like the untimely fruit of a woman, and let them not see the sunne.* Or ever your thorns be sharp, that wrath shall take them away quick, like a stormy wind. The righteous shall rejoyce when he seeth the vengeance, and shall wash his feet in the blood of the ungodly. So that men shall say, verily there is a reward for the righteous: doubtless, there is a God that judgeth the earth. LVIII

(To the Chanter, destroy not Michtam of David, when Saul sent to watch the house, to the intent to kill him.) Deliver me from mine enemies (O my God) and defend me from them that rise up against me. O deliver me from the wicked doers, and save me from the bloodthirsty men. For lo, they lie in waiting for my soul: the mighty men are gathered together against me, without any offense or fault of me, O LORD. They run, and prepare themselves, without my fault: Arise, come thou help me, and behold. Stand* up O LORD God of Hosts, thou God of Israel to visit all Heathen: be not merciful unto them that offend of malicious wickedness. Selah. Let them go to and fro, and run about the city, howling* like dogs. Behold, they speak LIX

58. v.8 Other: Sonne. 59. v.5 Other: Stode. v.6 Other: yowling.

(against me) with their mouth, swords are under their lips, for 8 who reproveth them? But thou (O LORD) shalt have them in 9 derision, thou shalt laugh all Heathen to scorn. My strength 10 do I ascribe unto thee, for thou (O God) art my defender. God sheweth me his goodness plentifully, God letteth me see my 11 desire upon mine enemies. Slay them not, lest my people forget it: but scatter them abroad with thy power, and put them 12 down, O Lord my* defense. For the sin of their mouth, for the words of their lips, and because of their pride, let them be 13 taken: and why? their preaching is of cursing and lies. Consume them in thy wrath, consume them that they may perish, and know that it is God, which ruleth in Jacob and in all the 14 world. Selah. Let them go to and fro, and run about the city, 15 howling* like dogs. Let them run here and there for meat, 16 and grudge when they have not enough. As for me, I will sing of thy power, and praise thy mercy by times* in the morning:
 for thou art my defense and refuge in the time of my trouble.
 17 Unto thee (O my strength) will I sing, for thou (O God) art my defense, and my merciful God.

LX (To the chanter, upon the rose of witness, Michtam of David, for to teach: when he fought against Syria of Mesopotamia, and Syria of Zoba: and when Joab turned back, and slew twelve thousand Edomites, in the valley of Salt.) O God, thou hast cast us out and scattered us abroad, thou that hast been so sore
 2 displeased at us, comfort us again. Thou that hast removed the land and divided it, heal the sores thereof, for it shaketh.
 3 Thou hast shewed thy people heavy things, thou hast given us 4 a drink of wine that we slombre with all. Yet hast thou given a token, for such as fear thee, that they may be cast up in the 5 truth. Selah. That thy beloved might be delivered, help them 6 with thy right hand, and hear me. God hath spoken in his Sanctuary (which thing rejoiceth me) I will divide Sichem, and 7 mete out the valley of Suchoth. Gilead is mine, and Manasses is mine, Ephraim is the strength of mine head, Judah is my 8 Captain. Moab is my washpot, over Edom will I stretch out 9 my shoe, Philistea, shall be glad of me. Who will lead me into the strong city? Who will bring me into Edom? Shall not thou 10 do it, O God, thou that hast cast us out: thou God, that wentest 11 not out with our hosts? O be thou our help in trouble, for vain v.11 Other: our. v.14 Other: yowling. v.16 Other: betimes.

is the help of man. Thorow God we shall do great acts, for it 12 is he that shall tread down our enemies.

(To the chanter upon Neginoth, of David.) Hear my crying LXI (O God) give heed unto my prayer. From the ends of the earth 2 will I call unto thee, when my heart is in trouble: Oh set me 3 up upon an high rock. For thou art my hope, a strong tower for me against the enemy. I will dwell in thy tabernacle for ever, 4 that I may be safe under the covering of thy wings. Selah. For 5 thou, O Lorde, hast heard my desires, thou hast given an heritage unto those that fear thy name. Thou shalt grant the 6 king a long life, that his years may endure thorowout all generations. That he may dwell before God for ever: Oh let thy 7 loving mercy and faithfulness preserve him. So will I allway 8 sing praises unto thy name, that I may daily perform my vows.

(To the chanter, for by Iduthun a Psalm of David.) My soul LXII waiteth only upon God, for of him cometh my help. He only 2 is my strength, my salvation, my defense, so that I shall not greatly fall. How long will ye imagine mischief against every 3 man? ye shall be slain all of the sort of you: yea as a tottering wall shall ye be, and like a broken hedge. Their device is only 4 how to put him out, their delight is in lies: they give good words with their mouth, but curse with their heart. Selah. Never- 5 theless, my soul abideth only upon God, for he is my God. He 6 only is my strength, my salvation, my defense: so that I shall not fall. In God is my health, my glory, my might and in God 7 is my trust. O put your trust in him alway, (ye people) pour 8 out your hearts before him, for God is our hope. Selah. As 9 for men they are but vain, men are deceitful: upon the weights they are altogether lighter than vanity it self. O trust not in 10 wrong or robbery, give not yourselves unto vanity: if riches increase, set not your heart upon them. God spake once a word, 11 twice have I heard the same, that power belongeth unto God.
That thou Lord art merciful, and that thou rewardest every 12 man according to his works.

(A Psalm of David, when he was in the wilderness of Juda.) LXIII
O God, thou art my God, early will I seek thee, my soul thursteth for thee, my flesh longeth after thee in a barren and dry land, where no water is. Thus do I look for thee in thy Sanctu- 2 ary, that I might behold thy power and glory. For thy loving- 3 kindness is better than life, my lips shall praise thee. As long 4 as I live will I magnify thee and lift up my hands in thy name.

 5 My soul is satisfied even as it were with marry and fatness, 6 when my mouth praiseth thee with joyful lips. In my bed will I remember thee, and when I wake my talking shall be of thee.
 7 For thou hast been my helper, and under the shadow of thy 8 wings will I rejoyce. My soul hangeth upon thee, thy right 9 hand upholdeth me. They seek after my soul, but in vain, for 10 they shall go under the earth. They shall fall into the sword, 11 and be a portion for foxes. But the king shall rejoyce in God: all they that swear by him, shall be commended, for the mouth of liars shall be stopped.

LXIV (To the chanter a Psalm of David.) Hear my voice, O God, in 2 my complaint, preserve my life from fear of the enemy. Hide me from the gathering together of the froward, from the heap 3 of wicked doers. Which whet their tongues like a sword, and 4 shoot with venomous words like as with arrows. That they may privy hurt the innocent, and suddenly hit him without 5 any fear. They have devised mischief, and communed among themselves, how they may lay snares: tush (say they) Who 6 shall see them? They imagine wickedness, and keep it secret among themselves, every man in the deep of his heart.
 7 But God shall suddenly shoot with an arrow, that they shall be 8 wounded. Yea their own tongues shall make them fall, in so 9 much that who so seeth them, shall laugh them to scorn. And all men that see it, shall say: this hath God done, for they shall 10 perceive that it is his work. The righteous shall rejoyce in the LORD, and put his trust in him: and all they that are true of heart, shall be glad thereof.

LXV (To the chanter, a Psalm and song of David.) Thou, O God, 2 art praised in Sion, and unto thee is the vow performed. Thou 3 hearest the prayer, therefore cometh all flesh unto thee. Our misdeeds prevail against us, oh be thou merciful unto our sins.
 4 Blessed is the man whom thou chooseth and receivest unto thee, that he may dwell in thy court: he shall be satisfied with 5 the pleasures of thy house, even of thy holy temple. Hear us, according unto thy wonderful righteousness, O God our salvation: thou that art the hope of all the ends of the earth, and of 6 the broad sea. Which in his strength setteth fast the moun-7 tains, and is girded about with power: Which stilleth the raging of the sea, the roaring of his waves, and the woodness of the people. They that dwell in the uttermost* parts are afraid 8 at thy tokens, thou makest both the morning and evening stars 9 to praise thee. Thou visitest the earth, thou waterest it, and 9 makest it very plenteous. The river of God is full of waters, 10 thou prearest man his corn, and thus thou providest for the 10 earth. Thou waterest her furrows, thou breakest the hard 11 clots thereof, thou makest it soft with the drops of rain, and 11 blessest the increase of it. Thou crownest the year with thy 12 good, and thy footsteps drop fatness. The dwellings of the 13 wilderness are fat also, that they drop down withal: and the lit- 13 tle hills are pleasant on every side. The folds are full of sheep, the valleys stand so thick with corn that they laugh and sing.

(To the chanter, a Psalm of David.) O be joyful in God, all LXVI ye lands, sing praises unto the honor of his name, make his 2 praise to be glorious. Say unto God: O how wonderful are 3 thy works? thorow the greatness of thy power shall thine ene- 3 mies be confounded. O that all the world would worship thee, 4 sing of thee, and praise thy name. Selah. O come hither 5 and behold the works of God, which is so wonderful in his do- 5 ings among the children of men. He turned the sea into dry 6 land, so that they went thorow the water on foot: therefore 6 will we rejoyce in him. He ruleth with his power for ever, his 7 eyes behold the people: the runagates shall not be able to ex- 7 alt themselves. Selah. O magnify our God, ye people, make 8 the voice of his praise to be heard. Which holdeth our soul 9 in life, and suffereth not our feet to slip. For thou, O God, 9 hast proved us, thou hast tried us like as silver is tried. Thou 11 hast brought us into captivity, and laid trouble upon our loins. 11 Thou hast suffered men to ride over our heads, we went thorow 12 fire and water, but thou hast brought us out, and refreshed us. 12 Therefore will I go into thy house with brent offerings, to pay 13 thee my vows, which I promised with my lips, and spake with 14 my mouth, when I was in trouble. I will offer unto thee fat 15 brentsacrifices with the smoke of rams, I will offer bullocks 15 with goats. Selah. O come hither and harken, all ye that 16 fear God, I will tell you, what he hath done for my soul. I 17 called unto him with my mouth, and gave him praises with my 17 tongue. If I incline unto wickedness with my heart, the Lord 18 will not hear me. Therefore God hath heard me, and consid- 19 20 ered the voice of my prayer. Praised be God, which hath not cast out my prayer, nor turned his mercy from me.

LXVII (To the chanter, in Neginoth, a Psalm and song.) God be merciful unto us, bless us, and shew the light of his countenance 2 upon us. Selah. That we may know thy way upon earth, thy 3 saving health among all Heathen. Let the people praise thee, 4 O God, yea let all people praise thee. O let the people rejoice and be glad, that thou judgest the folk righteously, and gov-5 ernest the nations upon earth. Let the people praise thee, O 6 God, let all people praise thee. God, even our own God, give us his blessings, that the earth may bring forth her increase.
7 God bless us, and let all the ends of the world fear him.

LXVIII (To the chanter, a Psalm and song of David.) Let God arise, so shall his enemies be scattered, and they that hate him, shall 2 flee before him. Like as the smoke vanisheth, so shalt thou drive them away: and like as wax melteth at the fire, so shall 3 the ungodly perish at the presence of God. But the righteous shall be glad and rejoice before God, they shall be merry and 4 joyful. Oh sing unto God, sing praises to his name: magnify him that rideth above the heavens (whose name is the 5 LORD) and rejoice before him. He is a father of the fatherless, he is a defender of widows: even God in his holy habitation.
6 He is the God that maketh men to be of one mind in a house, and bringeth the prisoners out of captivity in due season, 7 but letteth the runagates continue in scarceness. O God, when thou wentest forth before the* people, when thou wentest 8 thorow the wilderness. Selah: The earth shook, and the heavens dropped at the presence of God in Sinai, at the presence of God, 9 which is the God of Israel. Thou, O God sendest a gracious rain, upon thine inheritance, and refreshest it, when 10 it is dry. That thy beasts may dwell therein, which thou of thy goodness hast prepared for the poor. The Lord shall give 11 the word, with great hosts of Evangelists. Kings with their armies shall flee, and they of the household shall divide the 12 spoil. If so be that ye lie among the pales, the dove's feathers shall be covered with silver, and her wings the color of gold.
13 When the Almighty setteth kings upon the earth, it shall be clear even in the darkness. The hill of Basan is God's hill, 14 the hill of Basan is a plenteous hill. Why hop ye so, ye great 15
16

68. v.7 Other: thy.

hills? It pleaseth God to dwell upon this hill, yea the LORD will abide in it for ever. The chariots of God are many thousand 17 times a thousand, the Lord is among them in the holy Sinai.
 Thou art gone up on high, * thou hast led captivity captive, and 18 received gifts for men: yea even for thine enemies, that they might dwell with the LORD God. Praised be the Lord daily, 19 even the God which helpeth us, and poureth his benefits upon us. Selah. The God that is our Saviour, even GOD the Lord by 20 whom we escape death. The God that smiteth the* enemies 21 upon the heads and upon the hairy scalps: such as go on still in their wickedness. The Lord hath said: some will I bring away 22 from Basan, some will I bring again from the deep of the sea.
 That thy foot may be dipped in the blood of thine enemies, and 23 that thy dogs may lick it up. It is well seen, O God, how thou 24 goest, how thou my God and King goest in the Sanctuary. The 25 singers go before, and then the minstrels among the maidens with the tumbrels. O give thanks unto God the LORDE in the 26 congregation, for the wells of Israel. There little Benjamin, 27 the princes of Judah, the princes of Zabulon, and the princes of Nephtali bear rule among them. Thy God hath committed 28 strength unto thee, stablish the thing, O God, that thou hast wrought in us. For thy temple's sake at Jerusalem shall 29 kings bring presents unto thee. Reprove the beasts among 30 the reeds, the heap of bulls with the calves: those that drive for money. Oh scatter the people that delight in battle. The 31 princes shall come out of Egypt, the Morians land shall stretch out her hands unto God. Sing unto God, O ye kingdoms of the 32 earth: O sing praises unto the Lord. Selah. Which setteth in 33 the heavens over all from the beginning: Lo, he shall send out his voice, yea and that a mighty voice. Ascribe ye the power 34 unto God, his glory is in Israel, and his might in the clouds.
 God is wonderful in his Sanctuary, he is the God of Israel, he 35 will give strength and power unto his people. Blessed be God.

(To the chanter upon Sosanim of David.) Help me, O God, LXIX for the waters are come in, even unto my soul. I stick fast in 2 the deep mire, where no ground is, I am come into deep waters, and the floods will drown me. I am weary of crying, my throat 3 is dry, my sight faileth me, for waiting so long upon my God.
 They that hate me without a cause, are more than the hairs 4 of my head, they that are mine enemies and would destroy me guiltless are mighty: I am fain to pay the things that I never 5 took. God thou knowest my simpleness, and my faults are not 6 hid from thee. Let not them that trust in thee, O Lord GOD of Hosts, be ashamed for my cause: let not those that seek 7 thee, be confounded thorow me, O God of Israel. And why?

8 for thy sake do I suffer reproof, shame covereth my face. I am become a stranger unto my brethren, and an alien unto my 9 mother's children. For the zeal of thine house hath even eaten me, and the rebukes of them that rebuked thee, is fallen upon 10 me. I wept and chastened myself with fasting, and that was 11 turned to my reproof. I put on a sackcloth, and therefore they 12 jested upon me. They that sat in the gate, spake against me, 13 and the drunkards made songs upon me. But LORD I made my prayer unto thee in an acceptable time. Hear me, O God, 14 with thy great mercy and sure help. Take me out of the mire, that I sink not: Oh let me be delivered from them that hate 15 me, and out of the deep waters. Lest the water flood drown me, that the deep swallow me not up, and that the pit shut 16 not her mouth upon me. Hear me, O LORD, for thy loving-kindness is comfortable: turn thee unto me according unto thy 17 great mercy. Hide not thy face from thy servant, for I am in trouble: O haste thee to help me. Draw nye unto my soul, 19 and save it: Oh deliver me because of mine enemies. Thou knowest my reproof, and my shame and my dishonor: mine ad-20 versaries are all in thy sight. The rebuke breaketh my heart, and maketh me heavy: I look for some to have pity upon me, but there is no man: and for some to comfort me, but I find 21 none. They gave me gall to eat, and when I was thirsty they 22 gave me vinegar to drink. Let their table be made a snare to take themselves withal, an occasion to fall and a reward unto 23 them. Let their eyes be blinded, that they see not: and ever 24 bow down their backs. Pour out thine indignation upon them, 25 and let thy wrathful displeasure take hold of them. Let their 26 habitation be void, and no man to dwell in their tents. For they persecute him whom thou hast smitten, and beside thy 27 wounds they have given him more. Let them fall from one wickedness to another, and not come into thy righteousness.
28 Let them be wiped out of the book of the living, and not be 29 written among the righteous. As for me, I am poor and in heaviness, let thy help defend me, O God. That I may praise 30 the name of God with a song, and magnify it with thanksgiv- 31

 ing. This shall please the LORD better than a bullock, that 32 hath horns and hoofs. O consider this and be glad (ye that 33 be in adversity) seek after God and your soul shall live. For 34 the LORD heareth the poor, and despiseth not his prisoners. 35 Let heaven and earth praise him, the sea, and all that moveth 36 therein. For God will save Sion, and build the cities of Judah, that men may dwell there, and have them in possession.
 The seed of his servants shall inherit it, and they that love his name shall dwell therein.

(To the chanter, of David to bring to remembrance.) Haste LXX thee, O God, to deliver me, and to help me, O LORD. Let them 2 be shamed and confounded that seek after my soul: let them be 3 turned backward, and put to confusion, that wish me evil. Let 3 them soon be brought to shame, that cry over me, there there.
 But let all those that seek thee, be joyful and glad in thee: 4 and let all such as delight in thy saving health, say alway: the 4 Lorde be praised. As for me, I am poor and in misery, haste 5 thee God for to help me. Thou art my help, my redeemer, and my GOD: oh make no long tarrying.

In thee, O LORD, is my trust, let me never be put to confu- LXXI sion, but rid me and deliver me thorow thy righteousness: in- 2 cline thine ear unto me, and help me. Be thou my stronghold, 3 (whereunto I may alway flee) thou that hast promised to help me: for thou art my house of defense and my castle. Deliver 4 me, O my God, out of the hand of the ungodly, out of the hand of the unrighteous and cruel man. For thou, O Lord GOD, art 5 the thing that I long for, thou art my hope even from my youth.
 I have leaned upon thee ever since I was born, thou art he that 6 took me out of my mother's womb, therefore is my praise al-way of thee. I am become a wonder unto the multitude, but 7 my sure trust is in thee. Oh let my mouth be filled with thy 8 praise and honour all the day long. Cast me not away in mine 9 old age, forsake me not when my strength faileth me. For 10 mine enemies speak against me, and they that lay wait for my soul, take their counsel together, saying: God hath forsaken 11 him, persecute him, take him, for there is none to help him.
 Go not far from me, O God: my God, haste thee to help me. 12
 Let them be confounded and perish, that are against my soul: 13

14 let them be covered with shame and dishonour, that seek to 15 do me evil. As for me, I will patiently abide away, and will 16 ever increase thy praise. My mouth shall speak of thy righ-17 teousness and saving health all the day long, for I know no end 18 thereof. Let me go in (O Lord GOD) and I will make men-19 tion of thy power and righteousness only. Thou, O God, hast 20 learned me from my youth up until now, therefore will I tell 21 of thy wonderous works. Forsake me not, O God, in mine old 22 age, when I am grey headed: until I have shewed thy arm unto 23 children's children, and thy power to all them that are yet for to 24 come. Thy righteousness, O God, is very high, thou that doest great things: O God, who is like unto thee? O what great troubles and adversities hast thou shewed me? and yet didst thou turn and refresh me: yea and broughtest me from the deep of the earth again. Thou hast brought me to great honour, and comforted me on every side. Therefore will I praise thee and thy faithfulness, O God, playing on the lute, unto thee will I sing upon the harp, O thou holy one of Israel. My lips would fain sing praises unto thee: and so would my soul whom thou hast delivered. My tongue talketh of thy righteousness all the day long, for they are confounded and brought unto shame, that sought to do me evil.

LXXII

(Of Solomon) Give the king thy judgments, O God, and thy 2 righteousness unto the king's son. That he may govern thy 3 people according to right, and defend thy poor. That the moun-4 tains may bring peace, and the little hills righteousness unto 5 the people. He shall keep the simple folk by their right, de-6 fend the children of the poor, and punish the wrongous doer.
 7 Thou shalt be feared as long as the sun and moon endureth, 8 from one generation to another. He shall come down like the 9 rain in to a fleece of wool, and like the drops that water the 10 earth. In his time shall righteousness flourish, yea and abun-11 dance of peace, so long as the moon endureth. His dominion 12 shall be from the one sea to the other, and from the flood unto 13 the worlds end. They that dwell in the wilderness shall kneel before him, and his enemies shall lick the dust. The kings of the sea and of the isles shall bring presents, the kings of Araby and Saba shall offer gifts. All kings shall worship him, all Heathen shall do him service. For he shall deliver the poor when he crieth, and the needy that hath no help. He shall be favorable to the simple and poor, he shall preserve the souls of such as be in adversity. He shall deliver their souls from 14 extortion and wrong, and dear shall their blood be in his sight.

He shall live, and unto him shall be given of the gold of Ara- 15 bia: prayer shall be made ever unto him, and daily shall he be praised. There shall be an heap of corn in the earth high 16 upon the hills, his fruit shall shake like Libanus, and shall be green in the city, like grass upon the earth. His name shall 17 endure forever, his name shall remain under the sun among the posterities, which shall be blessed thorow him, and all the Heathen shall praise him. Blessed be the LORD God, even the 18 God of Israel, which only doth wonderous things. And blessed 19 be the name of his majesty forever, and all the lands be fulfilled with his glory. Amen, Amen. Here end the prayers of David 20 the son of Jesse.

(A Psalm of Asaph.) O How loving is God unto Israel, to LXXIII such as are of a clean heart? Nevertheless my feet were al- 2 most gone, my treadings had well nye slipped. And why? I 3 was grieved at the wicked, to see the ungodly in such prosper- 4 ity. For they are in no peril of death, but stand fast like a 5 palace. They come in no misfortune like other folk, neither 6 are they plagued like other men. And this is the cause that 7 they be so puffed* up in pride, and overwhelmed with cruelty and unrighteousness. Their eyes swell for fatness, they do 8 even what they list. Corrupt are they, and speak blasphemies 9 maliciously, proud and presumptuous are their words. They 10 stretch forth their mouth unto the heaven, and their tongue goeth thorow the world. Therefore fall the people unto them, 11 and there out suck they no small advantage. Tush (say they) How should God perceive it? is there knowledge in the most 12 highest? Lo, these are the ungodly, these prosper in the world, these have riches in possession. Should I then cleanse my 13 heart in vain, (thought I) and wash my hands in innocency?
Wherefore should I be then punished daily, and be chastened 14 every morning? Yea I had almost also said even as they do: 15 but lo, then should I have condemned the generation of thy children. Then thought I to understand this, but it was too 16 hard for me. Until I went into the Sanctuary of God, and con- 17 sidered the end of these men. Namely how thou hast set them 18 in a slippery place, that thou mayest cast them down headlong* 19 and destroy them. O how suddenly do they consume, perish 20 and come to a fearful end. Yea even like as a dream when one awaketh, so makest thou their image to vanish out of the 21 city. Thus my heart was grieved, and it went even thorow my 22 reins. So foolish was I and ignorant, and as it were a beast 23 before thee. Nevertheless I am alway by thee, thou holdest 24 me by my right hand. Thou leadest me with thy counsel, and 25 afterward receivest me unto glory. O what is there prepared for me in heaven? there is no thing upon earth, that I desire in 26 comparison of thee. My flesh and my heart faileth, but God is 27 the strength of my heart, and my portion for ever. For lo, they that forsake thee shall perish: thou destroyest all them that 28 commit fornication against thee. But it is good for me, to hold me fast by God, to put my trust in the Lord GOD, and to speak of all thy works.

LXXIV

(An instruction of Asaph) O God, wherefore doest thou cast us so clean away? Why is thy wrath so hot against the sheep of 2 thy pasture? O think upon thy congregation, whom thou hast purchased from the beginning: the staff of thine inheritance, whom thou hast redeemed, even this hill of Sion wherein thou 3 dwellest. Tread upon them with thy feet, and cast them down to the ground, for the enemy hath destroyed alltogether in the 4 Sanctuary. Thine adversaries roar in thy houses, and set up 5 their banners for tokens. Men may see the axes glister above, 6 like as those that hewn in the wood. They cut down all the 7 ceiling work of the Sanctuary with bills and axes. They have set fire upon the* Sanctuary, they have defiled the dwelling 8 place of thy name, even to the ground. Yea they say in their hearts: Let us spoil them all together, thus have they brent up 9 all the houses of God in the land. We see our tokens no more, there is not one Prophet more, no not one that understandeth 10 anymore. Oh God, how long shall the adversary do this dishonour? How long shall the enemy blaspheme thy name? for 11 ever? Why withdrawest thou thy hand? Why pluckest thou not thy right hand out of thy bosom, to consume thy enemies?
 12 But God is my King of old, the help that is done upon earth, 13 he doth it himself. Thou dividest* the sea thorow thy power, 14 thou breakest the heads of the dragons in the waters. Thou smitest the heads of Leviathan in pieces, and givest him to be meat for the people in the wilderness. Thou diggest up wells 15 and brooks, thou driest up mighty rivers. The day is thine, 16 the night is thine: thou hast prepared the lights and the sun.*

 Thou hast set all the borders of the earth, thou hast made both 17 summer and winter. Remember this, O LORD, how the enemy 18 rebuketh, and how the foolish people blaspheme thy name. O 19 deliver not the soul of thy turtle dove unto the beasts, and forget not the congregation of the poor for ever. Look upon the 20 covenant, for the dark houses of the earth are full of wickedness. O let not the simple go away ashamed: for the poor and 21 needy give praises unto thy name. Arise, O God, and maintain 22 thine own cause, remember how the foolish man blasphemeth thee daily. Forget not the voice of thine enemies, for the pre- 23 sumption of them that hate thee, increaseth ever more and more.

(To the chanter destroy not, a Psalm and song of Asaph.) LXXV

Unto thee, O God, will we give thanks, yea unto thee will we give thanks, and seeing thy name is so nye, we will tell of thy wonderous works. When I may get a convenient time, I shall 2 judge according unto right. The earth is weak and all that is 3 therein, but I bear up her pillars. Selah. I said unto the mad 4 people, deal not so madly and to the ungodly set not up your horns. Set not up your horns on high,* and speak not with a 5 stiff neck. For promotion cometh neither from the East, nor 6 from the West, nor yet from the wilderness. And why? God is 7 the judge: he putteth down one, and setteth up another. For 8 in the hand of the LORD there is a cup full of strong wine, and he poureth out of the same. As for the dregs thereof, all the ungodly of the earth shall drink them, and suck them out.
 But I will talk of the God of Jacob, and praise him forever. 9
 All the horns of the ungodly will I break, and the horns of the 10 righteous shall be exalted.

(To the chanter, in Neginoth, a Psalm and song of Asaph.) LXXVI

In Judah is God known, his name is great in Israel. At Salem 2 is his tabernacle, and his dwelling in Sion. There breaketh 3 he the arrows of the bow, the shield, the sword, and the whole battle. Selah. Thou art of more honour and might than the 4 hills of robbers. The proud shall be robbed and sleep their 5 sleep, and the mighty shall be able to do nothing with their 6 hands. When thou rebukest them, O God of Jacob, both the 7 chariots and horsemen shall fall on sleep. Thou art fearful, for 8 who may abide in thy sight, when thou art angry? When thou lettest thy judgment be heard from heaven, the earth trem-9 bleth and is still. Yea when God ariseth to give judgment, and to help all them that be in adversity upon earth. Selah.

 10 When thou punishest one man, he must know that thou 11 art ready to punish other more. Look what ye promise unto the LORD your God, see that ye keep it, all yea that be round about him: bring presents unto him that ought to be feared.
 12 Which taketh away the breath of princes, and is wonderful among the kings of the earth.

LXXVII

(To the chanter, for Iduthun a Psalm of Asaph.) I cried unto God with my voice, yea* unto God cried I with my voice, and 2 he heard me. In the time of my trouble I sought the Lord, I held up mine hands to him in the night season, for my soul 3 refused all other comfort. When I was in heaviness, I thought upon God: when my heart was vexed, then did I speak. Selah.
 4 Thou heldest mine eyes waking, I was so feeble, that I could 5 not speak. Then remember I the times of old, and the years 6 that were past. I called to remembrance my song in the night, I communed with mine own heart, and sought out my spirit.
 7 Will the Lord cast out forever? Will he be no more intreated?
 8 Is his mercy clean gone? Is his promise come utterly to an 9 end for evermore? Hath The Lorde forgotten to be gracious?
 Or, hath he shut up his loving-kindness in displeasure? Selah.
 10 At the last, I came to this point, that I thought: O why art thou so foolish? the right hand of the most highest* can change 11 all. Therefore will I remember the works of the LORD, and 12 call to mind thy wonders of old time. I will speak of all thy 13 works, and my talking shall be of thy doings. Thy way, O God, 14 is holy: who is so great and mighty as God? Thou art the God that doth wonders, thou hast declared thy power among 15 the people. Thou with thine arm hast delivered thy people, 16 even the sons of Jacob and Joseph. Selah. The waters saw thee, O God, the waters saw thee, and were afraid, the depths 17 were moved. The thick clouds poured out water, the clouds 18 thundered, and thine arrows went abroad. Thy thunder was

77. v.1 Other: even. v.10 Other: hyst.

heard round about, the lightnings shone upon the ground, the earth was moved and shook withall. Thy way is in the sea, 19 and thy paths in the great waters, yet could no man know thy footsteps. Thou ledest thy people like a flock of sheep, by the 20 hand of Moses and Aaron.

(An instruction of Asaph.) Hear my law, O my people, in- LXXVIII cline your ears to the words of my mouth. I will open my 2 mouth in parables, and speak of things of old. Which we have 3 heard and known, and such as our fathers have told us. That 4 we should not hide them from the children of the generations to come: but to shew the honour of the LORD, his might and wonderful works that he hath done. He made a covenant with 5 Jacob, and gave Israel a law, which he commanded our forefathers to teach their children. That their posterity might know 6 it, and the children which were yet unborn. To the intent that when they came up, they might shew their children the same. That they also might put their trust in God, and not to forget 7 what he had done, but to keep his commandments. And not to 8 be as their forefathers, a froward and overthwart generation, a generation that set not their heart a right, and whose spirit was not true toward God. Like as the children of Ephraim, 9 which being harnessed and carrying bows, turned themselves back in the time of battle. They kept not the covenant of God, 10 and would not walk in his law. They forgot what he had done, 11 and the wonderful works that he had shewed for them. Marvelous things did he in the sight of our* fathers in the land of Egypt, even in the field of Zoan. He divided the sea, and let 13 them go thorow it, and made the waters to stand like a wall. In the daytime he led them with a cloud, and all the night 14 thorow with a light of fire. He clave the hard rocks in the wilderness, and gave them drink thereof, as it had been out 15 of the great depth. He brought waters out of the stony rock, 16 so that they gushed out like the rivers. Yet for all this they 17 sinned against him, and provoked the most highest* in the wilderness. They tempted God in their hearts, and required 18 meat for their lust. For they spake against God, and said: Yea 19 yea, God shall prepare a table in the wilderness, shall he? Lo, 20 he smote the stony rock, that the watery streams gushed out, and the streams flowed withal: but how can he give bread and

78. v.12 Other: their. v.17 Other: hiest.

21 provide flesh for his people? When the LORD heard this, he 22 was wroth: so the fire was kindled in Jacob, and heavy displea-23 sure against Israel. Because they believed not in God, and put 24 not their trust in his help. So he commanded the clouds above, 25 and opened the doors of heaven. He rained down manna upon 26 them for to eat, and give them bread from heaven. Then ate 27 they angels' food, for he sent them meat enough. He caused 28 the East wind to blow under the heaven, and throw his power 29 he brought in the south wind. He made flesh to rain upon 30 them as thick as dust, and feathered fowls like as the sand 31 of the sea: He let it fall among their tents round about their 32 habitations. So they ate, and were filled, for he gave them 33 their own desire. And they were not disappointed* of their 34 lust. But while their meat was yet in their mouths: the heavy 35 wrath of God came upon them, slew the wealthiest of them, 36 and smote down the chosen men of Israel. But for all this 37 they sinned yet more, and believed not his wonderous works.
38 Therefore their days were consumed in vanity, and suddenly 39 their years were gone. When he slew them, they sought him, 40 and turned them early unto God. They thought then that God 41 was their succour, and that the high God was their redeemer.
42 Nevertheless they did but flatter him with their mouths, and 43 dissembled with him in their tongues. For their heart was 44 not whole with him, neither continued they in his covenant.
45 But he was so merciful, that he forgave their misdeeds, and 46 destroyed them not. Yea, many a time turned he his wrath 47 away, and would not suffer his whole displeasure to arise. For 48 he considered that they were but flesh: even a wind that pas-49 seth away, and cometh not again. O how oft have they grieved 50 him in the wilderness? How many a time have they provoked 51 him in the desert? They turned back, and tempted God, and 52 moved the holy one in Israel. They thought not of his hand, in 53 the day when he delivered them from the hand of the enemy.
54 How he had wrought his miracles in Egypt, and his wonders 55 in the land of Zoan. How he turned their waters into blood, 56 so that they might not drink of the rivers. How he sent lice 57 among them, to eat them up, and frogs to destroy them. How 58 he gave their fruits unto the caterpillar, and their labour unto 59 the grasshopper. How he beat* down their vineyards with v.30 Other: disappointed. v.47 Other: bet.

hail stones, and their mulberry trees with the frost. How he smote their cattle with hail stones, and their flocks with hot thunderbolts. How he sent upon them the furiousness of his wrath, anger and displeasure: with trouble and falling in of evil angels. When he made a way to his fearful indignation, and spared not their souls from death, yea and gave their cattle over to the pestilence. When he smote all the firstborn in Egypt, the most principal and mightest in the dwellings of Ham. But as for his own people, he led them forth like sheep, and carried them in the wilderness like a flock. He brought them out safely, that they should not fear, and overwhelmed their enemies with the sea. He carried them unto the borders of his Sanctuary: even in to this hill, which he purchased with his right hand. He did cast out the Heathen before them, caused their land to be divided among them for an heritage, and made the tribes of Israel to dwell in their tents. For all this they tempted and displeased the most high God, and kept not his covenant. But turned their backs, and fell away like their forefathers, starting aside like a broken bow. And so they grieved him with their high places, and provoked him with their images. When God heard this, he was wroth, and took sore displeasure at Israel. So that he forsook the Tabernacle in Silo, even his habitation wherein he dwelt among men. He delivered their power into captivity, and their glory into the enemy's hand. He gave his people over into the sword, for he was wroth with his heritage. The fire consumed their young men, and their maidens were not given to marriage. Their priests were slain with the sword, and there were no widows to made lamentation. So the Lord awakened as one out of sleep, and like a giant refreshed with wine. He smote his enemies in the hinder parts, and put them to a perpetual shame. He refused the Tabernacle of Joseph, and chose not the tribe of Ephraim. Nevertheless, he chose the tribe of Judah, even the hill of Sion which he loved. And there he builded his temple on high,* and laid the foundation of it like the ground, that it might perpetually endure. He chose David also his servant, and took him away from the sheepfolds. As he was following the ewes great with young, he took him, that he might feed Jacob his people, and Israel his inheritance. So he fed them with

v.69 Other: hye.

a faithful and true heart, and ruled them with all the diligence of his power.

LXXIX

(A Psalm of Asaph.) O God, the Heathen are fallen into thine heritage: the holy temple have they defiled, and made 2 Jerusalem an heap of stones. The dead bodies of thy servants 3 have they given unto the fowls of the air to be devoured, and 4 the flesh of thy saints unto the beasts of the land. Their blood 5 have they shed like water on every side of Jerusalem, and there 6 was no man to bury them. We are become an open shame 7 unto our enemies, a very scorn and derision unto them that 8 are round about us. LORD, how long wilt thou be angry? shall 9 thy jealousy burn like fire for ever? Pour out thy indignation 10 upon the Heathen that know thee not, and upon the kingdoms 11 that call not upon thy name. For they have devoured Jacob, 12 and laid waste his dwelling place. O remember not our old 13 sins, but have mercy upon us, and that soon, for we are come to great misery. Help us, O God our saviour, for the glory of thy name: O deliver us, and forgive us our sins for thy name's sake. Wherefore shall the Heathen say: Where is now their God? O let the vengeance of thy servant's blood that is shed, be openly shewed upon the Heathen in our sight. O let the sorrowful sighing of the prisoners come before thee, and according unto the power of thy arm, preserve those that are appointed to die. And for the blasphemy wherewith our neighbours have blasphemed thee, reward them, O Lord, seven fold into their bosom. So we that be the people and sheep of thy pasture, shall give thee thanks forever, and will alway be shewing forth thy praise more and more.

LXXX

(To the chanter, upon Sosanim, a Psalm of Asaph.) Hear O thou shepherd of Israel, thou that ledest Jacob like a flock of sheep: shew thyself, thou that sittest upon the Cherubins.
 2 Before Ephraim, Benjamin, and Manasses: stir up thy power, 3 and come help us. Turn us again, O God, shew the light 4 of thy countenance, and we shall be whole. O LORD God of 5 Hosts, how long wilt thou be angry over the prayer of thy peo-6 ple? Thou hast fed them with the bread of tears, yea thou 7 hast given them plenteousness of tears to drink. Thou hast 8 made us a very strife unto our neighbours, and our enemies laugh us to scorn. Turn us again, thou God of Hosts, shew the light of thy countenance, and we shall be whole. Thou hast brought a vineyard out of Egypt, thou didst cast out the Heathen, and plant it. Thou madest room for it, and caused 9 it to take root, so that it filled the land. The hills were cov- 10 ered with the shadow of it, and so were the strong Cedar trees with the bows thereof. She stretched out her branches unto 11 the sea, and her bows unto the water. Why hast thou then 12 broken down her hedge, that all they which go by, pluck off her grapes? The wild boar out of the wood hath rooted it up, 13 and the beasts of the field have devoured it. Turn thee again, 14 thou God of Hosts, look down from heaven, behold and visit this vine yard. Maintain it, that thy right hand hath planted, 15 and the son whom thou madest so much of for thyself. For 16 why? it is brent with fire, and lyeth waste: O let them perish at the rebuke of thy wrath. Let thy hand be upon the man of 17 thy right hand, and upon the man whom thou madest so much of for thine own self. And so will not we go back from thee: oh 18 let us live, and we shall call upon thy name. Turn us again, O 19 LORD God of Hosts, shew the light of thy countenance, and we shall be whole.

(To the chanter upon Githith, of Asaph.) Sing merrily unto LXXXI God which is our strength, make a cheerful noise unto the God of Jacob. Take the Psalm, bring hither the taboret, the merry 2 harp and lute. Blow up the trumpets in the new moon, upon 3 our solempne feast day. For this is the use in Israel, and a 4 law of the God of Jacob. This he ordained in Joseph for a tes- 5 timony, when he came out of Egypt, and had heard a strange language. When he eased his shoulder from the burthen, and 6 when his hands were delivered from the pots. When thou 7 calledest upon me in trouble, I helped thee, and heard thee, what time as the storm fell upon thee, I proved thee also at the water of strife. Selah. Hear, O my people, for I assure thee, O 8 Israel, if thou wilt hearken unto me: There shall no strange 9 God be in thee, neither shalt thou worship any other God. I 10 am the LORD thy God, which brought thee out of the land of Egypt, open thy mouth wide, and I shall fill it. But my people 11 would not hear my voice, and Israel would not obey me. So I 12 gave them up unto their own hearts' lust, and let them follow their own imaginations. O that my people would obey me, for 13 if Israel would walk in my ways: I should soon put down their 14 enemies, and turn my hand against their adversaries. The 15 haters of the LORD should miss Israel, but their time should 16 endure for ever. He should feed them with the finest wheat flour, and satisfy them with honey out of the stony rock.

LXXXII (A Psalm of Asaph) God standeth in the congregation of the 2 Gods,* and is a Judge among the Judges. How long will ye give wrong judgement, and accept the persons of the ungodly?
 3 Selah. Defend the poor and fatherless, see that such as be in 4 need and necessity have right. Deliver the outcast and poor, 5 and save him from the hand of the ungodly. Nevertheless, they will not be learned and understand, but walk on still in darkness: therefore must all the foundations of the land be 6 moved. I have said: ye are gods, ye all are the children of the 7 most highest.* But ye shall die like men, and fall like one of 8 the tyrants. Arise, O God, and judge thou the earth, for all the Heathen are thine by inheritance.

LXXXIII (A song and Psalm of Asaph.) Hold not thy tongue, O God, 2 keep not still silence, refrain not thyself O God. For lo, thine enemies make a murmuring, and they that hate thee, lift up 3 their head. They imagine craftily against thy people, and 4 take counsel* against thy secret ones. Come (say they) let us root them out from among the people, that the name of Is-5 rael may be put out of remembrance. For they have cast their heads together with one consent, and are confederate against 6 thee. The tabernacles of the Edomites, and Ishmaelites, the 7 Moabites, and the Hagarenes. Gebal, Ammon, and Amalech: 8 the Philistines with them that dwell at Tyre. Assur also is 9 joined unto them, and help the children of Loth. Selah. But do thou to them as unto the Madianites, unto Sisera, and unto 10 Jabin by the brook of Kison.* Which perished at Endor, and 11 became as the dung of the earth. Make their princes like Oreb and Zeb. Yea, make all their princes like as Zebea and 12 Salmana. Which say: we will have the houses of God in pos-13 session. O my God, make them like unto a wheel, and as the 14 stubble before the wind. Like as a fire that burneth up the 15 wood, and as the flame that consumeth the mountains. Persecute them even so with thy tempest, and make them afraid 16 with thy storm. Make their faces ashamed, O LORD, that they 17 may seek thy name. Let them be confounded and vexed ever

82. v.1 Other: goddess. v.6 Other: hyst. 83. v.3 Other: counsayll. v.9 Other: Cyson.

more and more: let them be put to shame and perish. That 18 they may know, that thou art alone, that thy name is the LORD, and that thou onely art the most highest* over all the earth.

(Upon Githith, a Psalm of the sons of Corah.) O how amiable LXXXIV are thy dwellings, thou LORD of Hosts? My soul hath a desire 2 and longing, for the court of the LORD, my heart and my flesh rejoyce in the living God. For the sparrow hath found her an 3 house, and the swallow a nest, where she may lay her young: even thine altars, O LORD of Hosts, my King, and my God. O 4 how blessed are they that dwell in thy house, they are always praising thee. Selah. Blessed are the men whose strength is 5 in thee, in whose heart are thy* ways. Which going thorow 6 the vale of misery, use it for a well, and the pools are filled with water. They go from strength to strength, and so the 7 God of Gods appeareth unto them in Sion. O LORD God of 8 Hosts, hear my prayer: harken O God of Jacob. Behold, O 9 God our defense, look upon the face of thine anointed. For 10 one day in thy court is better than a thousand. I had rather be a doorkeeper in the house of my God, then to dwell in the tents of the ungodly. For the LORD God is a light and defense, 11 the LORD will give grace and worship, and no good thing shall he withhold from them that live a godly life. O LORD God of 12 Hosts, blessed is the man that putteth his trust in thee.

(To the chanter, a Psalm of the sons of Corah.) LORD, thou LXXXV barest a love unto thy land, thou didst bring again the captivity of Jacob. Thou didst forgive the offense of thy people, 2 and coverdest all their sins. Selah. Thou takest* away all thy 3 displeasure, and turnedest thyself from thy wrathful indignation. Turn us then, O God our Saviour, and let thine anger 4 cease from us. Wilt thou be displeased at us for ever? Wilt 5 thou stretch out thy wrath from one generation to another?
 Wilt thou not turn again and quicken us, that thy people may 6 rejoyce in thee? Shew us thy mercy, O LORD: and grant us 7 thy salvation. I will harken what the LORD God will say, for 8 he shall speak peace unto his people, and to his saints, that they turn not themselves unto foolishness. For his salvation 9 is nye them that fear him, so that glory shall dwell in our land. Mercy and truth are met together, righteousness and 10 peace kiss each other. Truth shall rise out of the earth, and 11 12 righteousness shall look down from heaven. And why? the LORD shall shew loving-kindness, and our land shall give her 13 increase. Righteousness shall go before him, and prepare the way for his coming.

LXXXVI

(A prayer of David) Bow down thine ear, O LORD, and hear 2 me, for I am comfortless and poor. O keep my soul, for I am holy: my God, help thy servant that putteth his trust in thee.
 3, 4 Be merciful unto me, O Lord, for I call daily upon thee. Comfort the soul of thy servant, for unto thee, O Lord, do I lift up 5 my soul. For thou Lord, art good and gracious, and of great 6 mercy unto all them that call upon thee. Give ear, O LORD 7 unto my prayer, and ponder my humble desire. In the time 8 of my trouble I call upon thee, for thou hearest me. Among the Gods* there is none like unto thee O Lord, there is not one 9 that can do as thou doest. All nations whom thou hast made, shall come and worship before thee, O Lord, and shall glorify 10 thy name. For thou art great, thou doest wonderous things, 11 thou art God alone. Lead me in thy way, O LORD, that I may walk in thy truth: O let my heart delight in fearing thy name.
 12 I thank thee, O Lord my God, and will praise thy name for 13 ever. For great is thy mercy toward me, thou hast delivered 14 my soul from the nethermost hell. O God, the proud are risen against me, and the congregation of the mighty seeketh after 15 my soul, and set not thee before their eyes. But thou, O Lord God, art full of compassion and mercy, longsuffering, great in 16 goodness and truth. O turn thee then unto me, have mercy upon me: give thy strength unto thy servant, and help the son 17 of thine handmaid. Shew some token upon me for good, that they which hate me, may see it, and be ashamed: because thou, LORD, hast helped me, and comforted me.

LXXXVII

(A Psalm and song of the sons of Corah.) Her foundations
 2 are upon the holy hills: the LORD loveth the gates of Sion 3 more, than all the dwellings of Jacob. Very excellent things 4 are spoken of thee, thou city of God. Selah. I will think upon Rahab and Babylon, so that they shall know me. Yea the Philistines also, and they of Tyre, with the Morians. Lo there 5 was he born. And of Sion it shall be reported, that he was born in her, even the most highest* which hath builded her.
 6 The LORD shall cause it to be preached and written among the people, that he was born there. Selah. Therefore the dwelling 7 of all singers and dancers is in thee.

(A Psalm and song of the sons of Corah, to the chanter upon LXXXVIII

Mahelath, for the affliction, and instruction of Heman the Ezra-hite.) Oh LORD God my Savior, I cry day and night before thee, Oh let my prayer enter into thy presence, incline thine ear unto 2 my calling. For my soul is full of trouble, and my life draweth 3 nye unto hell. I am counted as one of them that go down 4 into the pit, I am even as a man that hath no strength. Free 5 among the dead, like unto them that lie in the grave, which be out of remembrance, and are cut away from thy hand. Thou 6 hast laid me in the lowest pit, in the darkness and in the deep.
Thy indignation lieth hard upon me, and thou vexest me with 7 all thy floods. Selah. Thou hast put away mine acquaintance 8 far from me, and made me to be abhorred of them: I am so fast in prison, that I can not get forth. My sight faileth for 9 very trouble: LORD, I call daily upon thee, and stretch out my hands unto thee. Doest thou shew wonders among the 10 dead? Can the Physicians raise them up again, that they may praise thee? Selah. May thy loving-kindness be shewed in the 11 grave? or thy faithfulness in destruction? May thy wonderous 12 works be known in the dark? or thy righteousness in the land where all things are forgotten? Unto thee I cry, O LORD, and 13 early cometh my prayer before thee. LORD, why putttest thou 14 away my soul? Wherefore hidest thou thy face from me? My 15 strength is gone for very sorrow and misery, with fearfulness do I bear thy burthens. Thy wrathful* displeasure goeth over 16 me; the fear of thee oppresseth me. They came round about 17 me daily like water, and compass me together on every side.
My lovers and friends hast thou put away from me, and turned 18 away mine acquaintance.

(An instruction of Ethan the Ezrahite.) My song shall be al- LXXXIX way of the loving-kindness of the LORD, with my mouth will I ever be shewing my faithfulness from one generation to another. For I have said: Mercy shall be set up for ever, thy 2 faithfulness shalt thou stablish in the heavens. I have made 3 a covenant with my chosen, I have sworn unto David my servant. Thy seed will I stablish forever, and set up thy throne 4 from one generations to another. Selah. O LORD the very 5

88. v.16 Other: wroth full.

heavens shall praise thy wonderous works, yea and thy faith-6 fulness in the congregation of the saints. For who is he among the clouds, that may be compared unto the LORD? Yea what 7 is he among the gods,* that is like unto the LORD? God is greatly to be feared in the council of the saints, and to be had 8 in reverence of all them that are about him. O LORD God of Hosts, who is like unto thee in power? thy truth is round about 9 thee. Thou rulest the pride of the sea, thou fillest the waves 10 thereof, when they arise. Thou breakest the proud, like one that is wounded, thou scatterest thine enemies abroad with 11 thy mighty arm. The heavens are thine, the earth is thine: thou hast laid the foundation of the round world and all that 12 therein is. Thou hast made the north and the south, Tabor 13 and Hermon shall rejoice in thy name. Thou hast a mighty 14 arm, strong is thy hand, and high is thy right hand. Righteousness and equity is the habitation of thy seat, mercy and 15 truth go before thy face. Blessed is the people, O LORD, that can rejoice in thee, and walketh in the light of thy countenance.
 16 Their delight is in thy name all the day long, and thorow thy 17 righteousness they shall be exalted. For thou art the glory of their strength, and thorow thy favour shalt thou lift up our 18 horns. The LORD is our defence, and the holy one of Israel is 19 our king. Thou spakest sometime in visions unto thy saints, and saidst: I have laid help upon one that is mighty, I have 20 exalted one chosen out of the people. I have found David my 21 servant, with my holy oil have I anointed him. My hand shall 22 hold him fast, and mine arm shall strengthen him. The enemy shall not overcome him, and the son of wickedness shall 23 not hurt him. I shall smite down his foes before his face, and 24 plague them that hate him. My truth also my mercy shall be 25 with him, and in my name shall his horn be exalted. I will 26 set his hand in the sea, and his right hand in the floods. He shall call me: Thou art my father, my God, and the strength of 27 my salvation. And I will make him my firstborn, higher than 28 the kings of the earth. My mercy will I keep for him for ev-29 ermore, and my covenant shall stand fast with him. His seed will I make to endure for ever, yea and his throne as the days 30 of heaven. But if his children forsake my law, and walk not 31 in my judgements. If they break mine ordinances, and keep

89. v.6 Other: goddess.

not my commandments. I will visit their offenses with the 32 rod, and their sins with scourges. Nevertheless, my loving- 33 kindness will I not utterly take from him, nor suffer my truth to fail. My covenant will I not break, nor disannull the thing 34 that is gone out of my lips. I have sworn once by my holi- 35 ness, that I will not fail David. His seed shall endure forever, 36 and his seat also like as the sun* before me. He shall stand 37 fast for evermore as the moon, and as the faithful witness in heaven. Selah. But now thou forsakest and abhorrest thine 38 annointed, and art displeased at him. Thou hast turned back 39 the covenant of thy servant, and cast his crown to the ground.
Thou hast overthrown all his hedges, and broken down his 40 strongholds. All they that go by, spoil him, he is become a 41 rebuke to his neighbours. Thou settest up the right hand of 42 his enemies, and makest all his adversaries to rejoice. Thou 43 hast taken away the strength of his sword, and givest him not victory in the battle. Thou hast put out his glory, and cast his 44 Throne down to the ground. The days of his youth hast thou 45 shortened, and covered him with dishonour. Selah. LORD, 46 how long wilt thou hide thyself? for ever? shall thy wrath burn like fire? O remember how short my time is, hast thou made 47 all men for naught? What man is he that liveth, and shall not 48 see death? May a man deliver his own soul from the hand of hell? Selah. Lord, where are thy old loving-kindnesses, which 49 thou swore unto David in thy truth? Remember Lord the re- 50 buke that the multitude of the people do unto thy servants, and how I have borne it in my bosom. Wherewith* thine enemies 51 blaspheme thee,* and slander* the footsteps of thine anointed.
Thanks be to the LORD for evermore: Amen: Amen. 52

(A prayer of Moses the man of God) Lord, thou art our refuge XC from one generation to another. Before the mountains were 2 brought forth, or ever the earth and the world were made, thou art God from everlasting and world without end. Thou 3 turnest man to destruction; Again, thou sayest: come again ye children of men. For a thousand years in thy sight are but 4 as yesterday that is past, and like as it were a night watch.
As soon as thou scatterest them, they are even as asleep, and 5 fade away suddenly like the grass. In the morning it is green 6 v.36 Other: Sonne. v.51 Other: O LORD. v.51 Other: blasphemethe. v.51 Other: sclaunders.

and groweth up, but in the evening it is cut down and withered. For we consume away in thy displeasure, and are afraid at thy wrathful indignation. Thou settest our misdeeds before thee, and our secret sins in the light of thy countenance. For when thou art angry, all our days are gone, we bring our years to an end, as it were a tale that is told. The days of our age are threescore years and ten: and though men be so strong that they come to fourscore years, yet is their strength then but labour and sorrow: so soon passeth it away, and we are gone. But who regardeth the power of thy wrath, thy fearful and terrible displeasure. O teach us to number our days, that we may apply our hearts unto wisdom. Turn thee again (O LORD) at the last, and be gracious unto thy servants. O satisfy us with thy mercy, and that soon: so shall we rejoice and be glad all the days of our life. Comfort us again, now after the time that thou hast plagued us, and for the years wherein we have suffered adversity. Shew thy servants thy work, and their children thy glory. And the glorious majesty of the LORD our God be upon us: O prosper thou the work of our hands upon us. O prosper thou our handy work.

XCI Who so dwelleth under the defense of the most highest, and abideth under the shadow of the Almighty. He shall say unto the LORD: O my hope, and my stronghold, my God, in whom I will trust. For he shall deliver thee from the snare of the hunter, and from the noisome pestilence. He shall cover thee under his wings, that thou mayest be safe under his feathers: his faithfulness and truth shall be thy shield and buckler. So that thou shalt not need to be afraid for any bugs by night, nor for arrow that flieth by day. For the pestilence that creepeth in the darkness, nor for the sickness that destroyeth in the noon-day. A thousand shall fall beside thee, and ten thousand at thy right hand, but it shall not come nye thee. Yea with thine eyes shalt thou behold, and see the reward of the ungodly. For thou LORD art my hope, thou hast set thine house of defense very high.* There shall no evil happen unto thee, neither shall any plague come nye thy dwelling. For he shall give his angels charge over thee, to keep thee in all thy ways. They shall bear thee in their hands, that thou hurt not thy foot against a stone. Thou shalt go upon the Lion and Adder, the young Lion and the Dragon shalt thou tread under thy feet. Because he 14 hath set his love upon me, I shall deliver him: I shall defend him, for he hath known my name. When he calleth upon me, 15 I shall hear him: Yea I am with him in his trouble, whereout I will deliver him, and bring him to honour. With long life will 16

91. v.9 Other: hye.

 I satisfy him, and shew him my salvation.

(A Psalm of the song for the Sabbath day.) It is a good thing XCII to give thanks unto the LORD, and to sing praises unto thy name, O most highest. To tell of thy loving-kindness early 2 in the morning, and of thy truth in the night season. Upon 3 an instrument of ten strings, upon the lute and with a song upon the harp. For thou LORD hast made me glad thorow 4 thy works, and I will rejoyce over the operation of thy hands.
 O LORD, how glorious are thy works, thy thoughts are very 5 deep. An unwise man will not know this, and a fool will not 6 understand it. That the ungodly are green as grass, and that 7 all the works of wickedness do flourish to be destroyed for ever.
 But thou LORD O most highest,* abidest world without end. 8
 For, lo, thine enemies, O LORD, lo, thine enemies shall perish, 9 and all the workers of wickedness shall be scattered abroad.
 But my horn shall be exalted like the horn of an Unicorn, and 10 shall be anointed with fresh oil. Mine eye also shall see his 11 lust of mine enemies, and mine ear shall hear his desire of the wicked that rise up against me. The righteous shall flourish 12 like a palm tree, and grow like a Cedar of Lebanon. Such as 13 be planted in the house of the LORD, be fruitful, plenteous and green. (They shall also bring forth more fruit in their age, and 14 shall be fat and well liking.) That they may shew, how true 15 the LORD my strength is, and that there is no unrighteousness in him.

The LORD is king, and hath put on glorious apparel, the XCIII
 LORD hath put on his apparel, and girded himself with strength:
 he hath made the round world so sure, that it can not be moved.
 From the time forth hath thy seat been prepared, thou art from 2 everlasting. The floods arise (O LORD) the floods lift up their 3 noise, the floods lift up their waves. The waves of the sea are 4 mighty, and rage horribly: but yet the LORD that dwelleth on high,* is mightier. Thy testimonies, O LORD, are very sure, 5 holiness becometh thine house for ever.

XCIV O LORD God, to whom vengeance belongeth: thou God to 2 whom vengeance belongeth, shew thyself. Arise thou judge of the world, and reward to the proud after their deserving.
 3 LORD, how long shall the ungodly, how long shall the ungodly 4 triumph? How long shall all wicked doers speak so disdainfully,* 5 and make such proud boasting? They smite down thy peo-6 ple, O LORD, and trouble thine heritage. They murder* the 7 widow and the stranger, and put the fatherless to death. And yet they say: Tush, the LORD seeth not, the God of Jacob re-8 gardeth it not. Take heed, ye unwise among the people: O ye 9 fools, when will ye understand? He that planted the ear, shall 10 he not hear? he that made the eye, shall not he see? He that nurtureth the Heathen, and teacheth a man knowledge, shall 11 not he punish? The LORD knoweth the thoughts of men, that 12 they are but vain. Blessed is the man, whom thou learnest, 13 (O LORD) and teachest him in thy law. That thou mayest give him patience in time of adversity, until the pit be digged up 14 for the ungodly. For the LORD will not fail his people, neither 15 will he forsake his inheritance. And why? judgment shall be turned again unto righteousness, and all such as be true 16 of heart shall follow it. Who riseth up with me against the 17 wicked? who taketh my part against the evil doers? If the LORD had not helped me, my soul had almost been put to si-18 lence. When I said: My foot hath slipped, thy mercy (O LORD) 19 held me up. In the multitude of the sorrows that I had in my 20 heart, thy comforts have refreshed my soul. Wilt thou have anything to do with the stool of wickedness, which imagineth 21 mischief in the law? They gather them together against the 22 soul of the righteous, and condemn the innocent blood. But the LORD is my refuge, my God is the strength of my confi-23 dence. He shall recompense them their wickedness, and destroy them in their own malice: yea the LORD our God shall destroy them.

XCv (An exhortation to the earnest praisinge of God.) O COME let us praise the LORD, let us heartily rejoyce in the strength of 2 our salvation. Let us come before his presence with thanks-3 giving, and shew ourself glad in him with Psalms. For the 4 LORD is a great God, and a great King above all gods.* In his hand are all the corners of the earth, and the strength of the hills is his also. The sea is his, for he made it, and his hands prepared the dry land. O come, let us worship and bow down ourselves: Let us kneel before the LORD our maker. For he is our God: and* we are the people of his pasture, and the sheep of his hands. Today if ye will hear his voice, harden not your hearts, as when ye provoked in the time of temptation in the wilderness. Where your fathers tempted me, proved me, and saw my works. Forty years long was I grieved with that generation, and said: they ever err in their hearts, they verily have not known my ways. Therefore I said* unto them in my wrath, that they should not enter into my rest.

94. v.4 Other: disdaynedly. v.6 Other: murthur. 95. v.3 Other: goddes.

O sing unto the LORD a new song, sing unto the LORD all the whole earth. Sing unto the LORD, and praise his name, be telling of his salvation from day to day. Declare his honour among the Heathen, and his wonders among all people. For the LORD is great, and can not worthily be praised: he is more to be feared than all gods. As for all the gods of the Heathen, they be but Idols, but it is the LORD that made the heavens. Thanksgiving and worship are before him, power and honour are in his Sanctuary. Ascribe unto the LORD (O ye kindreds of the Heathen) ascribe unto the LORD worship and strength. Ascribe unto the LORD the honour of his name, bring presents, and come into his court. O worship the LORD in the beauty of holiness, let the whole earth stand in awe of him. Tell it out among the Heathen, that the LORD is king: and that it is he, which hath made the round world so fast, that it can not be moved, and how that he shall judge the people righteously. Let the heavens rejoyce, and let the earth be glad: let the sea make a noise, yea and all that therein is. Let the field be joyful, and all that is in it, let all the trees of the wood leap for joy. Before the LORD, for he cometh: for he cometh to judge the earth: yea with righteousness shall he judge the world, and the people with his truth.

The LORD is king, the earth may be glad thereof: yea the multitude of the Isles may be glad thereof. Clouds and darkness are round about him, righteousness and judgment are the habitation of his seat. There goeth a fire before him, to burn up his enemies on every side. His lightnings give shine unto the world, the earth seeth it and is afraid. The hills melt like v.7 Other: as for us. v.11 Other: sware.

wax at the presence of the LORD, at the presence of the Lord 6 of the whole earth. The very heavens declare his righteous-7 ness, and all people see his glory. Confounded be all they that worship images, and delight in their Idols: worship him all ye 8 gods. Sion heareth of it and rejoiceth: yea and the daughters 9 of Judah are glad because of thy judgments, O LORD. For thou LORD art the most highest* over all the earth, thou art 10 exalted far above all gods. O ye that love the LORD, see that ye hate the thing which is evil: the LORD preserveth the souls of his saints, he shall deliver them from the hand of the un-11 godly. There is sprung up a light for the righteous, and a 12 joyful gladness for such as be true hearted. Rejoice therefore in the LORD, ye righteous: and give thanks for a remembrance of his holiness.

XCVIII (A Psalm.) O sing unto the LORD a new song, for he hath done marvelous things. With his own right hand and with 2 his holy arm hath he gotten the victory. The LORD hath declared his saving health, and his righteousness hath he openly 3 shewed in the sight of the Heathen. He hath remembered his mercy and truth toward the house of Israel: so that all the 4 ends of the world see the saving health of our God. Shew your self joyful unto the LORD all ye lands, sing, rejoice, and give 5 thanks. Praise the LORD upon the harp, sing to the harp with 6 a psalm of thanksgiving. With trumpets also and shawmes: 7 O shew yourselves joyful before the LORD the King. Let the sea make a noise and all that therein is, yea the whole world, 8 and all that dwell therein. Let the floods clap their hands, 9 and let all the hills be joyful together: Before the LORD, for he is come to judge the earth. Yea with righteousness shall he judge the world, and the people with equity.

XCIX The LORD is king, be the people never so impatient: he sit-2 teth upon the Cherubins, be the earth never so unquiet. The 3 LORD is great in Sion, and high above all people. O let men give thanks unto thy great and wonderful name, for it is holy.
 4 The king's power loveth judgment, thou preparest equity, thou 5 executest judgment and righteousness in Jacob. O magnify the LORD our God, fall down before his footstool, for he is holy.
 6 Moses and Aaron among his priests, and Samuel among such as call upon his name: these called upon the LORD, and he

97. v.9 Other: hyst.

heard them. He spake unto them out of the cloudy pillar, 7 for they kept his testimonies, and the law that he gave them.
 Thou heardest them (O LORD our God) thou forgavest them 8
 O God, and punishedst their own inventions. O magnify the 9 LORD our God, and worship him upon his holy hill, for the LORD our God is holy.

(A Psalm of Praise.) O be joyful in GOD (all ye lands). And C, 2 serve the LORD with gladness, come before his presence with joy. Be ye sure, that the LORD he is God: It is he that hath 3 made us, and not we ourselves: we are but his people, and the sheep of his pasture. O go your way into his gates then with 4 thanksgiving, and into his courts with praise, be thankful unto him, and speak good of his name. For the LORD is gracious, 5 his mercy is everlasting, and his truth endureth from generation to generation.

(A Psalm of David) My song shall be of mercy and judg- CI ment, yea unto thee (O LORD) will I sing. Oh let me have un- 2 derstanding in the ways of Godliness, until the time that thou come unto me: and so shall I walk in my house with an inno- 3 cent heart. I will take no wicked thing in hand, I hate the sin 3 of unfaithfulness, it shall not cleave unto me. A froward heart 4 shall depart from me I will not know a wicked person. Who 5 so privily slandereth* his neighbour, him will I destroy: who so hath a proud look and an high* stomach, I may not away with 6 him. Mine eyes shall look for such as be faithful in the land, 6 that they may dwell with me: and who so leadeth a godly life, shall be my servant. There shall no deceitful person dwell in 7 my house, he that telleth lies shall not tarry in my sight. I 8 shall soon destroy all the ungodly of the land, that all wicked doers may be rooted out of the city of the LORD.

(*A prayer of the afflicted, when he was in woe, and poured CII out his complaint before the LORD.) Hear my prayer, O LORD, and let my crying come unto thee. Hide not thy face from me 2 in the time of my trouble incline thine ears unto me when I call, O hear me and that right soon. For my days are consumed 3 away like smoke, and my bones are brent up as it were a fire brand. My heart is smitten down and withered like grass, so 4 that I forget to eat my bread. For the voice of my groaning, my 5 bone will scarce cleave to my flesh. I am become like a pelican 6

101. v.5 Other: sclaudereth. v.5 Other: hye.

7 in the wilderness, and like an owl in a broken wall. I wake, and am even as it were a sparrow sitting alone upon the house 8 top. Mine enemies revile me all the day long, they laugh me to 9 scorn, and are sworn together against me. I eat ashes with my 10 bread, and mingle my drink with weeping; And that because of thine indignation and wrath, for thou hast taken me up, 11 and cast me away. My days are gone like a shadow, and I am 12 withered like grass. But thou, O LORD, endurest for ever, and 13 thy remembrance thorowout all generations. Arise therefore and have mercy upon Sion, for it is time to have mercy upon 14 her, yea, the time is come. And why? thy servants have a love to her stones, and it pitieth them to see her in the dust.
15 The Heathen shall fear thy name, O LORD, and all the kings of 16 the earth thy majesty. For the LORD shall build up Sion, and 17 shall appear in his glory. He turneth him to the prayer of the 18 poor destitute, and despiseth not their desire. This shall be written for those that come after, that the people which shall 19 be born, may praise the LORD. For he looketh down from his Sanctuary, out of the heaven doth the LORD behold the earth.
20 That he may hear the mournings of such as be in captivity, and 21 deliver the children of death. That they may preach the name 22 of the LORD in Sion, and his worship at Jerusalem. When the people are gathered together, and the kingdoms also to serve 23 the LORD. He hath brought down my strength in my journey, 24 and shortened my days. Yet will I say: O my God, take me not away in the midst of my age: as for thy years, they endure 25 thorowout all generations. Thou LORD in the beginning hast laid the foundation of the earth, and the heavens are the works 26 of thy hands. They shall perish, but thou shalt endure: they all shall wax old as doth a garment, and as a vesture shalt 27 thou change them, and they shall be changed. But thou art 28 the same, and thy years shall not fail. The children of thy servants shall continue, and their seed shall prosper in thy sight.

CIII (Of David.) Praise the LORD, O my soul, and all that is 2 within me praise his holy name. Praise the LORD, O my 3 soul, and forget not all his benefits. Which forgiveth all thy 4 sins, and healeth all thy infirmities. Which saveth thy life from destruction, and crowneth thee with mercy, and loving-5 kindness. Which satisfieth thy desire with good things, making thee young and lusty as an Aegle. The LORD executeth 6 righteousness and judgment, for all them that suffer wrong. 7 He shewed his ways unto Moses, and his works unto the chil- 7 dren of Israel. The LORD is full of compassion and mercy, 8 longsuffering, and of great goodness. He will not alway be 9 chiding, neither will he keep his anger forever. He hath not 10 dealt with us after our sins, nor rewarded us according to our 11 wickedness. For look how high* the heaven is in comparison 11 of the earth, so great is his mercy also toward them that fear 12 him. Look how wide the east is from the west, so far hath he 12 set our sins from us. Yea like as a father pitieth his own chil- 13 dren, even so is the LORD merciful unto them that fear him. 13 For he knoweth whereof we be made, he remembereth that we 14 are but dust. That a man in his time is but as grass, and 15 flourisheth as a flower of the field. For as soon as the wind 16 goeth over it, it is gone, and the place thereof knoweth it no 16 more. But the merciful goodness of the LORD endureth for 17 ever and ever, upon them that fear him, and his righteousness 17 upon their children's children. Such as keep his covenant, 18 and think upon his commandments to do them. The LORD 19 hath prepared his seat in heaven, and his kingdom ruleth over 19 all. O praise the LORD ye angels of his, ye that be mighty in 20 strength, fulfilling his commandment that men may hear the 20 voice of his words. O praise the LORD all ye his Hosts, ye ser- 21 vants of his, that do his pleasure. O speak good of the LORD 22 all ye works of his, in every place of his dominion: praise thou 22 the LORD, O my soul.

Praise the LORD O my soul: O LORD my God, thou art be- CIV come exceedingly glorious, thou art clothed with majesty and honour. Thou deckest thyself with light, as it were with a 2 garment, thou spreadest out the heaven like a curtain. Thou 3 boltest it above with waters, thou makest the clouds thy char- 3 iot, and goest upon the wings of the wind. Thou makest thine 4 angels spirits, and thy ministers flames of fire. Thou hast 5 laid the earth upon her foundation, that it never moveth at 5 any time. Thou coveredst it with the deep like as with a gar- 6 ment, so that the waters stand above the hills. But at thy 7 rebuke they flee, at the voice of thy thunder they are afraid. 7 (Then are the hills seen aloft, and the valleys beneath in their 8 9 place which thou hast appointed for them) Thou hast set them their bounds, which they may not pass, that they turn not 10 again to cover the earth. Thou causest the wells to spring up among the valleys, and the waters to run among the hills.

11 That all the beasts of the field may have drink, and that the 12 wild asses may quench their thirst. Above upon the hills have the fowls of the air their habitation, and sing among the 13 branches. Thou waterest the hills from above, the earth is 14 filled with the fruits of thy works. Thou bringest forth grass 15 for the cattle, and green herbs for the service of men. Thou bringest food out of the earth: wine to make glad the heart of man, oil to make him a cheerful countenance and bread to 16 strengthen man's heart. The trees of the LORD are full of 17 sap, even the trees of Lebanon which he hath planted. There make the birds their nests, and the fir hills* are a dwelling for 18 the stork. The hills are a refuge for the wild goats, and so 19 are the stony rocks for the conies. Thou hast appointed the Moon for certain seasons, the sun* knoweth his going down.
20 Thou makest darkness, that it may be night, wherein all the 21 beasts of the forest do move. Yea the young lions which roar 22 after their prey, and seek their meat at God. But when the sun* ariseth, they get them away together, and lie them down 23 in their dens. Then goeth forth man to his work, and to till 24 his land until the evening. O LORD, how manifold are thy works, right wisely hast thou made them all: yea the earth is 25 full of thy riches. So is this great and wide sea also, wherein are things creeping innumerable, both small and great beasts.
26 There go the ships over, and there is that Leviathan, whom 27 thou hast made, to take his pastime therein. They wait all upon thee, that thou mayest give them meat in due season.
28 When thou givest it them, they gather it: when thou openest 29 thine hand, they are filled with good. But when thou hidest thy face, they are sorrowful: if thou takest away their breath, 30 they die, and are turned again to their dust. Again, when thou lettest thy breath go forth, they are made, and so thou 31 renewest the face of the earth. The glorious majesty of the LORD endureth for ever, and the LORD rejoiceth in his works.
32 The earth trembleth at the look of him, he doth but touch the 33 hills and they smoke. I will sing unto the LORD as long as I live, I will praise my God while I have my being. O that my words might please him, for my joy is in the LORD. As for the sinners, they shall be consumed out of the earth, and the ungodly shall come to an end: but praise thou the LORD, O my soul. Praise the everlasting.*

O give thanks unto the LORD, and call upon his name: tell the people what things he hath done. O let your songs be of him: praise him, and let your talking be of all his wonderful works. Give his holy name a good report, let their hearts rejoice that seek the LORD. Seek the LORD, and his strength, seek his face evermore. Remember the marvelous works that he hath done, his wonders and the judgments of his mouth. O ye seed of Abraham his servant, ye children of Jacob his chosen. He is the LORD our God, whose punishments are thorowout all the world. He is alway mindful of his covenant, and promise that he made to a thousand generations. Yea the covenant that he made with Abraham, and the oath that he sware unto Isaac. And appointed the same unto Jacob for a law, and to Israel for an everlasting testament. Saying: Unto thee will I give the land of Canaan, the lot of your heritage. When there was yet but a few of them, and the strangers therein. What time as they went from one nation to another, from one kingdom to another. He suffered no man to hurt them, but reproved even kings for their sakes. Touch not mine anointed, do my prophets no harm. Moreover he called for a darth upon the land, and destroyed all the provision of bread. But he had sent a man before them, even Joseph which was sold to be a bond servant. They hurt his feet in the stocks, the iron pierced his heart. Until the time that his word came, and until the word of the LORD had tried him. Then sent the king and caused him to be delivered, the prince of the people had let him go. He made him lord of his house, and ruler of all his substance. That he might enforme his princes after his will, and teach his Senators wisdom. Israel also came into Egypt, and Jacob was a stranger in the land of Ham. But he increased his people exceedingly, and made them stronger than their enemies. Whose heart turned, so that they hated his people, and dealt untruly with his servants. Then sent he Moses his servant, and Aaron whom he had chosen. These did 28 his tokens among them, and wonders in the land of Ham. He 29 sent darkness and it was dark, for they were not obedient unto 30 his word. He turned their waters into blood, and slew their 31 fish. Their land brought forth frogs, yea even in their king's 32 chambers. He spake the word, and there came all manner of 33 flies and lice in all their quarters. He gave them hail stones 34 for rain, and flames of fire in their land. He smote their vine-35 yards and fig trees, and destroyed the trees that were in their 36 coasts. He spake the word, and there were* grasshoppers and 37 caterpillars innumerable. These ate up all the grass in their 38 land, and devoured the fruits of their ground. He smote all 39 the firstborn in their land, even the chief of all their substance.

 40 He brought them forth with silver and gold, there was not one 41 feeble person among their tribes. Egypt was glad of their de-42 parting: for they were afraid of them. He spread out a cloud 43 to be a covering, and fire to give light in the night season. At 44 their desire, there came quails, and he filled them with the 45 bread of heaven. He opened the rock of stone, and the waters 46 flowed out: so that rivers ran in the wilderness: For why? He 47 remembered his holy promise which he had made to Abraham 48 his servant. Thus he brought forth his people with joy, and 49 his chosen with gladness. And gave them the lands of the 50 Heathen, where they took the labours of the people in posses-51 sion. That they might keep his statutes, and observe his laws.
 (Praise the everlasting.) *

CVI (Praise the everlasting.) * O give thanks unto the LORD, for 2 he is gracious, and his mercy endureth for ever. Who can ex-3 press the noble acts of the LORD, or shew forth all his praise?
 4 Blessed are they that alway keep judgment, and do righteous-5 ness. Remember us, O LORD, according to the favour that 6 thou bearest unto thy people: O visit us with thy saving health.
 7 That we might see the pleasure of thy chosen, that we might 8 rejoice in the gladness of thy people, and give thanks with 9 thine inheritance. We have sinned with our fathers, we have 10 done amiss, we have dealt wickedly. Our fathers regarded not 11 thy wonders in Egypt, they kept not thy great goodness in re-12 membrance: but were disobedient at the sea,* even at the reed 13 sea.* Nevertheless, he helped them for his name's sake, that v.34 Other: came. v.45 Other: Halleluya. 106. v.1 Other: Halleluya. v.7 Other: see. v.7 Other: see.

he might make his power to be known. He rebuked the reed 9 sea,* and it was dried up: so he led them thorow the deep as 10 in a wilderness. Thus he saved them from the hand of the 10 hater, and delivered them from the hand of the enemy. As 11 for those that troubled them, the waters overwhelmed them, there was not one of them left. Then believed they in his 12 word, and sang praise unto him. But within a while they for- 13 got his works, and would not abide his counsel. A lust came 14 upon them in the wilderness, so that they tempted God in the desert. Yet he gave them their desire, and sent them enough 15 at their wiles. They angered Moses in the tents, and Aaron 16 the saint of the LORD. So the earth opened and swallowed 17 up Dathan, and covered the congregation of Abiram. The fire 18 was kindled in their company, the flame brent up the ungodly.
They made a calf in Horeb, and worshipped the molten im- 19 age. Thus they turned their* glory into the similitude of a 20 calf, that eateth hay. They forgot God their Savior, which had 21 done so great things in Egypt. wonderous works in the land 22 of Ham, and fearful things in the reed sea. So he said he 23 would have destroyed them, had not Moses his chosen stood before him in that gap: to turn away his wrathful indignation, lest he should destroy them. Yea they thought scorn of that 24 pleasant land, and gave no credence unto his word. But mur- 25 mured in their tents, and hearkened not unto the voice of the LORD. Then lift he up his hand against them, to overthrow 26 them in the wilderness. To cast out their seed among the 27 nations, and to scatter them in the lands. They joined them- 28 selves unto Baal Peor, and ate the offering of the dead. Thus 29 they provoked him unto anger with their own inventions, and the plague was great among them. Then stood up Phinehas, 30 and executed justice, and so the plague ceased. And that was 31 counted unto him for righteousness, among all posterities for evermore. They angered him also at the waters of strife, so 32 that Moses was punished for their sakes. Because they pro- 33 voked his spirit, and he told them plainly with his lips. Nei- 34 ther destroyed they the Heathen, as the LORD commanded them. But were mingled among the Heathen, and learned 35 their works. In so much that they worshipped their images, 36 which turned to their own decay. Yea they offered their sons 37

38 and their daughters unto devils. And shed the innocent blood of their sons and of their daughters, whom they offered unto the images of Canaan, so that the land was defiled with blood.
39 Thus were they stained with their own works, and went awhor-40 ing with their own inventions. Therefore was the wrath of the LORD kindled against his people, insomuch that he abhorred 41 his own inheritance. And gave them over into the hand of the Heathen, and they that hated them, were lords over them.
42 Their enemies oppressed them, and had them in subjection.
43 Many a time did he deliver them, but they provoked him with their own inventions, and were brought down for their wicked-44 ness. Nevertheless when he saw their adversity, he heard 45 their complaint. He thought upon his covenant, and pitied 46 them, according unto the multitude of his mercies. Yea he made all those that had led them away captive, to pity them.
47 Deliver us, O LORD our God, and gather us from among the Heathen: that we may give thanks unto thy holy name, and 48 make our boast of thy praise. Blessed be the LORD God of Israel from everlasting and world without end, and let all people say: Amen, Amen. Praise the everlasting.*

CVII O give thanks unto the LORD, for he is gracious and his 2 mercy endureth for ever. Let them give thanks whom the LORD hath redeemed, and delivered from the hand of the en-3 emy. And gathered them out of the lands, from the East, from 4 the West, from the North and from the South. They went astray in the wilderness in an untrodden way, and found no 5 city to dwell in. Hungry and thirsty, their soul fainted in 6 them. So they cried unto the LORD in their trouble, and he 7 delivered them from their distress. He led them forth by the right way, that they might go to the city where they dwelt.
8 O that men would praise the goodness of the LORD, and the 9 wonders that he doth for the children of men. For he satisfied the empty soul, and filled the hungry soul with good.
10 Such as sat in darkness and in the shadow of death, being fast 11 bound in misery and iron. Because they were not obedient to the commandments of God, but lightly regarded the counsel 12 of the most highest. Their heart was vexed with labor, they 13 fell down, and there was none to help them. So they cried unto the LORD in their trouble, and he delivered them out of their distress. He brought them out of darkness and out of 14 the shadow of death, and brake their bonds in sunder. O that 15 men would praise the goodness of the LORD, and the wonders that he doth for the children of men. For he hath broken the 16 gates of brass, and smitten the bars of Iron in sunder. Fool- 17 ish men were plagued for their offense, and because of their wickedness. Their soul abhorred all manner of meat, they 18 were even hard at death's door. So they cried unto the LORD 19 in their trouble, and he delivered them out of their distress.

He sent his word and healed them, and saved them from de- 20 struction. O that men would praise the goodness of the LORD, 21 and the wonders that he doth for the children of men. That 22 they would offer unto him the sacrifice of thanksgiving, and tell out his works with gladness. They that go down to the sea in 23 ships, and occupy their business in great waters. These men 24 see the works of the LORD, and his wonders in the deep. For 25 at his word, the stormy wind ariseth, and lifteth up the waves thereof. They are carried up to the heaven, and down again 26 to the deep, their soul melteth away in the trouble. They reel 27 to and fro, they stagger like a drunken man, and are at their wits' end. So they cry unto the LORD in their trouble, and he 28 delivereth them out of their distress. He maketh the storm to 29 cease, so that the waves are still. Then are they glad because 30 they be at rest, and so he bringeth them unto the haven where they would be. O that men would praise the goodness of the 31 LORD, and the wonders that he doth for the children of men.
That they would exalt him in the congregation of the people, 32 and love him in the seat of the elders. Which turneth floods 33 into dry land, and dryeth up the water springs. A fruitful 34 land maketh he barren, for the wickedness of them that dwell therein. Again, he maketh the wilderness a standing water, 35 and water springs of a dry ground. There he setteth the hun- 36 gry, that they may build them a city to dwell in. That they 37 may sow their ground, plant vineyards, to yield the fruits of increase. He blesseth them, so that they multiply exceedingly, 38 and suffereth not their cattle to decrease. When they are min- 39 ished and brought low thorow oppression, thorow any plague or trouble. Though he suffer them to be evil intreated thorow 40 tyrants, or let them wander out of the way in the wilderness.
Yet helpeth he the poor out of misery, (at the last) and maketh 41 42 him an household like a flock of sheep. The righteous will consider this and rejoyce, the mouth of all wickedness shall be 43 stopped. Who so is wise, and pondereth these things well, shall understand the loving-kindness of the LORD.

CVIII (A song of Psalm of David.) O God, my heart is ready to sing, 2 and to give praise. Awake, O my glory, awake lute and harp, I 3 myself will awake right early. I will give thanks unto thee, O LORD, among the people, I will sing praises unto thee among 4 the Heathen. For the greatness of thy mercy is higher then the heavens, and thy faithfulness reacheth unto the clouds.
 5 Set up thyself, O God, above the heavens, and thy glory above 6 all the earth. That thy beloved may be delivered: help then 7 with thy right hand, and hear me. God hath spoken in his Sanctuary, which thing rejoiceth me. I will divide Shechem, 8 and mete out the valley of Succoth. Gilead is mine, Manasses 9 is mine, Ephraim is the strength of mine head, Judah is my captain. Moab is my washpot; over Edom will I stretch out my 10 shoe, Philistia shall be glad of me. Who will lead me into the 11 strong city? Who will bring me into Edom? Shalt not thou do it (O God) which hast cast us out: thou God, that wentest not 12 forth with our Hosts? O be thou our help in trouble, for vain 13 is the help of man. Thorow God we shall do great acts, for it is he that shall tread down our enemies.

CIX (To the chanter, a Psalm of David.) Hold not thy tongue, O 2 God of my praise. For the mouth of the ungodly, yea and the mouth of the deceitful is opened upon me, and speak against 3 me with false tongues. They compass me about with words 4 of hatred, and fight against me without a cause. For the love that I had unto thee, they take now my contrary part, but I give 5 myself unto prayer. Thus they reward me evil for good, and 6 hatred for my good will. Set an ungodly man to be ruler over 7 him, and let Satan stand at his right hand. When sentence is given upon him, let him be condemned, and let his prayer 8 be turned into sin. Let his days be few, and his bishopric let 9 another take. Let his children be fatherless, and his wife a 10 widow. Let his children be vagabonds, and beg their bread: let 11 them seek it, as they that be destroyed. Let the extortioner consume all that he hath, and let strangers spoil his labour.
 12 Let there be no man to pity, nor to have compassion on his fa-13 therless children. Let his end be destruction, and in the next generation let his name be clean put out. Let the wickedness 14 of his fathers be had in remembrance in the sight of LORD, and let not the sin of his mother be done away. Let them be always 15 before the LORD, but as for the memorial of them selves, let it perish from out of the earth. And that because his mind 16 was not to do good, but persecuted the poor helpless, and him that was vexed at the heart, to slay him. His delight was 17 in cursing, and therefore shall it happen unto him: he loved not blessing, and that shall be far from him. He clothed him- 18 self with cursing like as with a raiment: yea it went into his bowels like water, and like oil into his bones. Let it be unto 19 him as the cloak that he hath on him, and as the girdle that he is girded withal. Let it thus happen from the LORD unto 20 mine enemies, and to those that speak evil against my soul.

 But deal thou with me, O Lord GOD, according unto thy name, 21 for sweet is thy mercy. O deliver me, for I am helpless and 22 poor, and my heart is wounded within me. I go hence like the 23 shadow that departeth, and am driven away as the grasshoppers. My knees are weak thorow fasting, my flesh is dried up 24 for want of fatness. I am become a rebuke unto them, they 25 look upon me and shake their heads. Help me, O LORD my 26 God, oh save me for thy mercies' sake. That they may know, 27 how that this is thy hand, and that thou hast done it. Though 28 they curse, yet bless thou: and let them be confounded, that rise up against me, but let thy servant rejoice. Let mine ad- 29 versaries be clothed with their own shame, as with a cloak. As 30 for me, I will give thanks unto the LORD with my mouth, and praise him among the multitude. For he standeth at the right 31 hand of the poor, to save him from such as condemn his soul.

(A Psalm of David.) The LORD said unto my Lord: Sit thou CX on my right hand, until I make thine enemies thy footstool.
 The LORD shall send the rod of thy power out of Sion, be thou 2 ruler even in the midst among thine enemies. In the day 3 of thy power shall thy people offer the freewill offerings with an holy worship, the dew of thy birth is of the womb of the morning. The LORD sware, and will not repent: Thou art a 4 priest forever after the order of Melchizedek. The Lord upon 5 thy right hand, shall smite even kings in the day of his wrath.
 He shall be judge among the Heathen, he shall fill them with 6 dead bodies, and smite in sunder the heads over divers coun-

7 tries. He shall drink of the brook in the way, therefore shall he lift up his head.

CXI (Praise the everlasting.) I will give thanks unto the LORD with my whole heart: secretly* among the faithful, and in the congregation. The works of the LORD are great, sought out of all them that have pleasure therein. His work is worthy to be praised and had in honour, and his righteousness endureth for ever. The merciful and gracious LORD hath so done his marvelous works, that they ought to be had in remembrance. He giveth meat unto them, that fear him, he is ever mindful of his covenant. He sheweth his people the power of his works, that he may give them the heritage of the Heathen. The works of his hands are verity and judgment, all his commandments are true. They stand fast for ever and ever, and are done in truth and equity. He sent redemption unto his people, he hath commanded his covenant for ever, holy and reverent is his name. 10 The fear of the LORD is the beginning of wisdom; a good understanding have all they that do thereafter: the praise of it endureth for ever.

CXII (Praise the everlasting.) Blessed is the man that feareth the LORD, and hath great delight in his commandments. His seed shall be mighty upon earth, the generation of the faithful shall be blessed. Riches and plentiousness shall be in his house, and his righteousness endureth for ever. Unto the godly there ariseth up light in the darkness: he is merciful, loving and righteous. Well is he* that is merciful, and lendeth gladly, and pondereth his words with discretion. For he shall never be moved, the righteous shall be had in an everlasting remembrance. He will not be afraid for any evil tidings, his heart standeth fast, and believeth in the LORD. His heart is stablished, he will not shrink, until he sees his desire upon his enemies. He hath sparsed abroad, and given to the poor, his righteousness remaineth for ever, his horn shall be exalted with honor. The ungodly shall see it, and it shall grieve him: he shall gnash with his teeth, and consume away, and the desire of the ungodly shall perish.

CXIII (Praise the everlasting.) Praise the LORD (O ye servants) O praise the name of the LORD.* Blessed be the name of the LORD from this time forth for evermore. The LORD's name is worthy to be praised, from the rising up of the sun* unto the going down of the same. The LORD is high above all Hea- 4 then, and his glory above the heavens. Who is like unto the 5 LORD our God, that hath his dwelling so high,* which hum- 6 bleth himself, to behold that is in heaven and earth. Which 7 taketh up the simple out of the dust, and lifteth the poor out 8 of the mire. That he may set him among the princes, even 8 among the princes of his people. Which maketh the barren 9 woman to keep house, and to be a joyful mother of children.

*(Praise the everlasting.)

When Israel came out of Egypt, and the house of Jacob from CXIV among that strange people. Judah was his sanctuary, Israel 2 his dominion. The sea saw that, and fled, Jordan turned 3 back. The mountains skipped like rams, and the little hills 4 like young sheep. What ailed thee, O thou sea, that thou fled- 5 dest? and thou Jordan, that thou turnest back? Ye mountains, 6 that ye skipped like rams: and ye little hills, like young sheep?
 The earth trembled at the presence of the Lord, at the pres- 7 ence of the God of Jacob. Which turned the hard rock into a 8 standing water, and the flint stone into a springing well.

Not unto us, O LORD, not unto us, but unto thy name give CXV the praise, for thy loving mercy and faithfulness. Where- 2 fore shall the Heathen say: Where is now their God? As for 3 our God, he is in heaven, he doth whatsoever it pleaseth him.
 Their images are but silver and gold, even the work of men's 4 hands. They have mouths, and speak not: eyes have they, but 5 they see not. They have ears, and hear not: noses have they, 6 but they smell not. They have hands and handle not, feet 7 have they, but they can not go, neither can they speak thorow their throat. They that make them, are like unto them, and so 8 are all such as put their trust in them. But let Israel trust in 9 the LORD, for he is their succour and defense. Let the house 10 of Aaron put their trust in the LORD, for he is their succour and defense. They that fear the LORD, let them put their 11 trust in the LORD, for he is their succour and defense. The 12 LORD is mindful of us, and blesseth us: he blesseth the house of Israel, he blesseth the house of Aaron. Yea he blesseth all 13 them that fear the LORD, both small and great. The LORD 14 increase you more and more: you and your children. For ye 15 are the blessed of the LORD, which made heaven and earth.

 16 All the whole heavens are the LORD's, but the earth hath he 17 given unto the children of men. The dead praise not thee (O 18 LORD) neither all they that go down into silence. But we will praise thee LORD, from this time forth for evermore. Praise the everlasting.*

CXVI I am well pleased, that the LORD hath heard the voice of 2 my prayer. That he hath inclined* his ear unto me, therefore 3 will I call upon him as long as I live. The snares of death compassed me round about, the pains of hell gat hold upon me, 4 I found trouble and heaviness. Then called I upon the name 5 of the LORD: O LORD deliver my soul. Gracious is the LORD, 6 and righteous, yea our God is merciful. The LORD preserveth 7 the simple, I was brought down and he helped me. Turn again then unto thy rest, O my soul, for the LORD hath given thee 8 thy desire. And why thou hast delivered my soul from death, 9 mine eyes from tears, and my feet from falling. I will walk 10 before the LORD, in the land of the living. I believed, and 11 therefore have I spoken, but I was sore troubled. I said in 12 my haste: All men are liars. What reward shall I give unto 13 the LORD, for all the benefits that he hath done unto me? I will receive the cup of salvation, and call upon the name of the 14 LORD. I will pay my vows in the presence of all his people, 15 right dear in the sight of the LORD is the death of his saints.
 16 O LORD, I am thy servant, I am thy servant, and the son of thy 17 handmaid, thou hast broken my bonds in sonder. I will offer to thee, the sacrifice of thanksgiving, and will call upon the 18 name of the LORD. I will pay my vows unto the LORD in the 19 sight of all his people, in the courts of the LORD's house, even in the midst of thee, O Jerusalem. Praise the everlasting.*

CXVII O Praise the LORD all ye Gentiles, laude him all ye peo-2 ple. For his merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the LORD endureth for ever. Praise the everlasting.*

CXVIII O give thanks unto the LORD, for he is gracious, and his 2 mercy endureth for ever. Let Israel now confess, that his 3 mercy endureth for ever. Let the house of Aaron now confess, 4 that his mercy endureth forever. Yea let them now that fear

115. v.18 Other: Halleluya. 116. v.2 Other: enclined. v.19 Other: Halleluya.
 117. v.2 Other: Halleluya.

the LORD confess, that his mercy endureth forever. I called 5 upon the LORD in trouble, and the LORD heard me at large.
 The LORD is my helper, I will not fear what man doeth unto 6 me. The LORD is my helper, and I shall see my desire upon 7 mine enemies. It is better to trust in the LORD, than to put 8 any confidence in man. It is better to trust in the LORD, than 9 to put any confidence in princes. All Heathen compassed me 10 round about, but in the name of the LORD will I destroy them.
 They keep* me in on every side, but in the name of the LORD 11
 I will destroy them. They came about me like bees, and were 12 as hot as the fire in the thorns, but in the name of the LORD I will destroy them. They thrust at me, that I might fall, but 13 the LORD was my help. The LORD is my strength, and my 14 song, and is become my salvation. The voice of joy and mirth 15 is in the dwellings of the righteous, for the right hand of the LORD hath gotten the victory. The right hand of the LORD 16 hath the preeminence, the right hand of the LORD hath gotten the victory. I will not die, but live, and declare the works 17 of the LORD. The LORD hath chastened and correct me, but 18 he hath not given me over unto death. Open me the gates of 19 righteousness, that I may go in there thorow, and give thanks unto the LORD. This is the door of the LORD, the righteous 20 shall enter in thorow it. I thank thee, that thou hast heard 21 me, and art become my salvation. The same stone which the 22 builders refused, is become the head stone in the corner. This 23 was the LORD's doing, and it is marvelous in our eyes. This is 24 the day which the LORD hath made, let us rejoyce and be glad in it. Help now O LORD, O LORD, send us now prosperity. 25 Blessed be he that cometh in the name of the LORD, we wish 26 you good luck, ye that be of the house of the LORD. God is the 27 LORD, and hath shewed us light: O garnish the solempne feast with green branches, even unto the horns of the altar. Thou 28 art my God, and I will thank thee: thou art my God, and I will praise thee. O give thanks unto the LORD, for he is gracious, 29 and his mercy endureth for ever.

(Aleph.) Blessed are those that be undefiled in the way, CXIX which walk in the law of the LORD. Blessed are they that 2 keep his testimonies, and that seek him with their whole heart.
 Which walk in his ways, and do no wickedness. Thou hast 3, 4 5 given straight charge to keep thy commandments. O that 6 my ways were stablished to keep thy statutes. So should I not be confounded, while I have respect unto all thy command-7 ments. I will thank thee with an unfained heart, because I am 8 learned in the judgements of thy righteousness. I will keep 9 thy statutes, O forsake me not utterly. (Beth.) Wherewithal shall a young man cleanse his way? Even by ruling himself 10 after thy word. With my whole heart do I seek thee, O let me 11 not go wrong out of thy commandments. Thy words have I hid 12 within my heart, that I should not sin against thee. Praised 13 be thou O LORD, O teach me thy statutes. With my lips will I 14 be telling out all the judgments of thy mouth. I have as great delight in the way of thy testimonies, as in all manner of riches.

15 I will exercise myself in thy commandments, and have respect 16 unto thy footpaths. My delight shall be in thy statutes, I will 17 not forget thy words. (Gimel.) O do well unto thy servant, that 18 I may live, and keep thy words. Open thou mine eyes, and so 19 shall I spy out wonderous things in thy law. I am a stranger 20 upon earth, O hide not thy commandments from me. My soul breaketh out, for the very fervent desire that I have alway unto 21 thy judgments. Thou rebukest the proud, cursed are they that 22 depart from thy commandments. O turn from me shame and 23 rebuke, for I keep thy testimonies. Princes also sit and speak 24 against me, but thy servant is occupied in thy statutes. In thy 25 testimonies is my delight, they are my counsellors. (Daleth.) My soul cleaveth unto the dust, O quicken thou me according 26 to thy word. I knowledged my ways, and thou heardest me, O 27 teach me then thy statutes. Make me to understand the way of thy commandments, and so shall I talk of thy wonderous 28 works. My soul melteth away for very heaviness, O set me up 29 according unto thy word. Take from me the way of lying, and 30 grant me thy law. I have chosen the way of truth, thy judg-31 ments have I laid before me. I stick unto thy testimonies, O 32 LORD, confound me not. I will run the way of thy command-33 ments, when thou hast comforted my heart. (He.) Teach me O LORD the way of thy statutes, and I shall keep it unto the 34 end. O give me understanding, and I shall keep thy law, yea 35 I shall keep it with my whole heart. Lead me in the path of 36 thy commandments, for that is my desire. Incline mine heart 37 unto thy testimonies, and not to covetousness. O turn away mine eyes, lest they behold vanity, and quicken me in thy way.

O stablish thy word in thy servant, that I may fear thee. Take 38, 39 away the rebuke that I am afraid of, for thy judgments are amiable. Behold, my delight is in thy commandments, O quicken 40 me in thy righteousness. (Vav.) Let thy loving mercies come 41 unto me, O LORD, and thy saving health according to thy word.
That I may give answer unto my blasphemers, for my trust is 42 in thy word. O take not the word of truth utterly out of my 43 mouth, for my hope is in thy judgments. So shall I alway keep 44 thy law, yea for ever and ever. And I will walk at liberty, for 45 I seek thy commandments. I will speak of thy testimonies 46 even before kings, and will not be ashamed. My delight shall 47 be in thy commandments, which I love. My hands also will I 48 lift up unto thy commandments which I love, and my talking shall be of thy statutes, (Zain.) O think upon thy servant as 49 concerning thy word, wherein thou hast caused me to put my trust. For it is my comfort in my trouble, yea thy word quick- 50 eneth me. The proud have me greatly in derision, yet shrink 51 not I from thy law. I remember thine everlasting judgments, 52 O LORD, and am comforted. I am horribly afraid for the un- 53 godly, that forsake thy law. Thy statutes are my songs in the 54 house of my pilgrimage. I think upon thy name, O LORD, in 55 the night season, and keep thy law. It is mine own, for I keep 56 thy commandments. (Heth.) Thou art my portion, O LORD, I 57 am purposed to keep thy law. I make mine humble petition 58 in thy presence with my whole heart, O be merciful unto me according unto thy word. I call mine own ways to remember- 59 ance, and turn my feet into thy testimonies. I make haste, and 60 prolong not the time, to keep thy commandments. The congreg- 61 ations of the ungodly have robbed me, but I forget not thy law.
At midnight stand I up, to give thanks unto thee, for the judge- 62 ments of thy righteous. I am a companion of all them that fear 63 thee, and keep thy commandments. The earth, O LORD, is full 64 of thy mercy. O teach me thy statutes. (The.) O LORD, thou 65 hast dealt friendly with thy servant, according unto thy word.
O learn me thy kindness, nurture and knowledge, for I believe 66 thy commandments. Before I was troubled, I went wrong, but 67 now I keep thy word. Thou art good and friendly, O teach me 68 thy statutes. The proud imagine lies upon me, but I keep thy 69 commandments with my whole heart. Their heart is as fat as 70

71 brawne, but my delight is in thy law. It is good for me that I 72 have been in trouble, that I may learn thy statutes. The law of thy mouth is dearer unto me, than thousands of gold and 73 silver. (Yod.) Thy hands have made me and fashioned me, O give me understanding, that I may learn thy commandments.
 74 They that fear thee, will be glad when they see me, because 75 I put my trust in thy word. I know, O LORD, that thy judgments are right, and that thou of very faithfulness hast caused 76 me to be troubled. O let thy merciful kindness be my comfort, according to the promise that thou hast made unto thy 77 servant. O let thy loving mercies come unto me, that I may 78 live, for thy law is my delight. Let the proud be confounded, 79 which handle me so falsely.* But let such as fear thee, and 80 know thy testimonies, be turned unto me. O let my heart 81 be undefiled in thy statutes that I be not ashamed. (Caph.) My soul longeth for thy saving health, for my trust is in thy 82 word. Mine eyes long sore for thy word, saying: oh when wilt 83 thou comfort me? For I am become like a bottle in the smoke, 84 yet do not I forget thy statutes. How many are the days of thy servant? When wilt thou be avenged of mine adversaries?
 85 The proud have digged pits for me, which are not after thy law.
 86 All thy commandments are true, they persecute me falsely, O 87 be thou my help. They have almost made an end of me upon 88 earth, but I forsake not thy commandments. O quicken me after thy loving-kindness, and so shall I keep the testimonies of 89 thy mouth. (Lamed.) O LORD, thy word endureth forever 90 in heaven. Thy truth also remaineth from one generation to another: thou hast laid the foundation of the earth, and it 91 abideth. They continue this day according to thine ordinance, 92 for all things serve thee. If my delight were not in thy law, I 93 should perish in my trouble. I will never forget thy command-94 ments, for with them thou quickenest me. I am thine, oh help 95 me, for I seek thy commandments. The ungodly lay wait for 96 me to destroy me, but I consider thy testimonies. I see that all things come to an end, but thy commandment is exceeding 97 broad. (Mem.) O what* love have I unto thy law? all the day 98 long is my talking of it. Thou thorow thy commandment hast 99 made me wiser than mine enemies, for it is ever by me. I have more understanding than all my teachers, for thy testi-

119. v.78 Other: so falsely against me. v.97 Other: a.

monies are my study. Yea I am wiser than the aged, for I keep 100 thy commandments. I refrain my feet from every evil way, 101 that I may keep thy words. I shrink not from thy judgments, 102 for thou teachest me. O how sweet are thy words unto my 103 throat? Yea, more than honey unto my mouth. Thorow thy 104 commandments I get understanding, therefore I hate all false ways. (Nun.) Thy word is a lantern unto my feet and a light 105 unto my paths. I have sworn and am steadfastly purposed, 106 to keep the judgements of thy righteousness. I am troubled 107 above measure, quicken me, O LORD, according unto thy word.
 Let the freewill offerings of my mouth please thee, O LORD, 108 and teach me thy judgments. My soul is always in my hand, 109 yet do not I forget thy law. The ungodly have laid a snare for 110 me, but yet swerve not I from thy commandments. Thy testi- 111 monies have I claimed as my heritage for ever: and why? they are the very joy of my heart. I apply mine heart to fulfill thy 112 statutes alway, even unto the end. (Samech.) I hate the un- 113 godly, but thy law do I love. Thou art my defense and shield, 114 my trust is in thy word. Away from me ye wicked, I will keep 115 the commandments of my God. O stablish me according unto 116 thy word, that I may live, and let me not be disappointed of my hope. Hold thou me up, and I shall be safe: yea I shall ever 117 be talking of thy statutes. Thou treadest down all them that 118 depart from thy statutes, for they imagine but deceit. Thou 119 putttest away all the ungodly of the earth like dross, therefore I love thy testimonies. My flesh trembleth for fear of thee, and 120 I am afraid of thy judgments. (Ain.) I deal with the thing that 121 is lawful and right, O give me not over unto mine oppressors.
 Be thou surety for thy servant to do him good, that the proud 122 do me no wrong. Mine eyes are wasted away with looking for 123 thy health, and for the word of thy righteousness. O deal with 124 thy servant according unto thy loving mercy, and teach me thy statutes. I am thy servant, O grant me understanding, that 125 I may know thy testimonies. It is time for thee (O LORD) to 126 lay to thine hand, for they have destroyed thy law. For I love 127 thy commandments above gold and precious stone. Therefore 128 hold I straight all thy commandments, and all false ways I utterly abhor. (Phe.) Thy testimonies are wonderful, therefore 129 doth my soul keep them. When thy word goeth forth, it giveth 130 light and understanding, even unto babes. I open my mouth 131

132 and draw in my breath, for I desire thy commandments. O 133 look thou upon me, and be merciful, as thou usest to do unto 134 those that love thy name. Order my goings after thy word 135 that no wickedness reign in me. O deliver me from the wron-136 geous dealings of men, and so shall I keep thy commandments.
 137 Shew the light of thy countenance unto thy servant, and learn 138 me thy statutes. Mine eyes gush out with water, because men 139 keep not thy law. (Zade.) Righteous art thou, O LORD, and 140 true is thy judgment. The testimonies that thou hast com-141 manded are exceeding, righteous and true. My zeal hath even 142 consumed me, because mine enemies have forgotten thy words.
 143 Thy word is tried to the uttermost, and thy servant loveth it.
 144 I am small and of no reputation, yet do not I forget thy com-145 mandments. Thy righteousness is an everlasting righteous-146 ness, and thy law is true. Trouble and heaviness have taken 147 hold upon me, yet is my delight in thy commandments. The 148 righteousness of thy testimonies is everlasting, O grant me un-149 derstanding, and I shall live. (Koph.) I call with my whole 150 heart, hear me, O LORD, I will keep thy statutes. Yea even 151 upon thee do I call, help me, and I shall keep thy testimonies.
 152 Early in the morning do I cry unto thee, for in thy word is my 153 trust. Mine eyes prevent the night watches, that I might be 154 occupied in thy words. Hear my voice, O LORD, according 155 unto thy loving-kindness, quicken me according as thou art 156 wont.* They draw nye that of malice persecute me, and are 157 far from thy law. Be thou nye at hand also, O LORD, for thy 158 promises are faithful. As concerning thy testimonies, I have 159 known ever since the beginning, that thou hast grounded them 160 for ever. (Res.) O consider mine adversity, and deliver me, for I 161 do not forget thy law. Maintain thou my cause and defend me, 162 quicken me according unto thy word. Health is far from the 163 ungodly, for they regard not thy statutes. Great is thy mer-164 cies, O LORD, quicken me as thou art wont. Many there are 165 that trouble me, and persecute me, yet do not I swerve from 166 thy testimonies. It grieveth me, when I see, that the trans-167 gressors keep not thy law. Consider, O LORD, how I love thy 168 commandments, O quicken me with thy loving-kindness. Thy 169 word is true from everlasting, all the judgments of thy righ-170 teousness endure for evermore. (Sin.) The princes persecute v.149 Other: wot.

me without cause, but my heart standeth in awe of thy words.
 I am as glad of thy word, as one that findeth great spoils. As 162, 163 for lies, I hate and abhor them, but thy law do I love. Seven 164 times a day do I praise thee, because of thy righteous judgments. Great is the peace that they have which love thy law, 165 and they are not offended at it. LORD, I look for thy saving 166 health, and do after thy commandments. My soul keepeth 167 thy testimonies, and loveth them exceedingly. I keep thy com- 168 mandments and testimonies, for all my ways are before thee.
(Thau.) Let my complaint come before thee, O LORD, give me 169 understanding, according unto thy word. Oh let my suppli- 170 cation come before thee, deliver me according to thy promise.
 My lips shall speak of thy praise, seeing thou hast taught me 171 thy statutes. Yea my tongue shall sing of thy word, for all thy 172 commandments are right. Let thine hand help me, for I have 173 chosen thy commandments. I long for thy saving health, o 174 LORD, and in thy law is my delight. Oh let my soul live and 175 praise thee, that thy judgments may help me. I go astray, like 176 a sheep that is lost: Oh seek thy servant, for I do not forget thy commandments. 176

(The song of the stairs) When I am in trouble, I call upon the CXX LORD, and he answereth me. Deliver my soul, O LORD, from 2 lying lips, and from a deceitful tongue. What reward shall 3 be given or done unto thee, thou false tongue? Even mighty 4 and sharp arrows, with hot burning coals. Who is me that 5 my banishment endureth so long: I dwell in the tabernacles of the sorrowful. My soul hath long dwelt among them, that be 6 enemies unto peace. I laboured for peace, but when I spake 7 thereof, they made them to battle. 7

(The song of the stairs.) I lift up mine eyes unto the hills, CXXI from whence cometh my help. My help cometh even from the 2 LORD which hath made heaven and earth. He will not suffer 3 thy foot to be moved, and he that keepeth thee, sleepeth not.
 Behold, he that keepeth Israel, doth neither slumber nor sleep. 4
 The LORD himself is thy keeper, the LORD is thy defense upon 5 thy right hand. So that the sun* shall not burn thee by day, 6 neither the moon by night. The LORD preserveth thee from 7 all evil, yea it is the LORD that keepeth thy soul. The LORD 8 preserveth thy going out and thy coming in, from this time forth for evermore.

CXXII (The song of the stairs.) I was glad when they said unto me:
 2 We will go in to the house of the LORD. Our feet shall stand 3 in thy gates, O Jerusalem. Jerusalem is builded as a city, that 4 is at unity in itself. For there the tribes go up, even the tribes 5 of the LORD: to testify unto Israel, to give thanks unto the 6 name of the LORD. For there is the seat of judgment, even the 7 seat of the house of David. O pray for the peace of Jerusalem, 8 they shall prosper that love thee. Peace be within thy walls, 9 and plenteousness within thy palaces. For my brethren and companions' sakes, I will wish thee prosperity. Yea because of the house of the LORD our God, I will seek to do thee good.

CXXIII (The song of the stairs.) Unto thee lift I up mine eyes, thou 2 that dwellest in the heavens. Behold, even as the eyes of servants look unto the hands of their masters: and as the eyes of a maiden unto the hands of her mistress, even so our eyes wait 3 upon the LORD our God, until he have mercy upon us. Have mercy upon us, O LORD, have mercy upon us, for we are ut-4 terly despised. Our soul is filled with the scornful reproof of the wealthy, and with the despitefulness of the proud.

CXXIV (The song of the stairs.) If it the LORD had not been of our 2 side (now may Israel say) If the LORD had not been of our 3 side, when men rose up against us. They had swallowed us 4 up quick, when they were so wrathfully displeased at us. Yea the waters had drowned us, the stream had gone over our soul.
 5 The deep waters of the proud had gone even unto our soul.
 6 But praised be the LORD, which hath not given us over for a 7 prey unto their teeth. Our soul is escaped, even as a bird out of the snare of the fowler: the snare is broken and we are 8 delivered. Our help standeth in the name of the LORD, which hath made heaven and earth.

CXXV (The song of the stairs.) They that put their trust in the LORD, are even as the mount Sion, which may not be removed,
 2 but standeth fast for ever. The hills stand about Jerusalem, even so standeth the LORD round about his people, from this 3 time forth for evermore. That the rod of the ungodly come not into the lot of the righteous, lest the righteous put their 4 hand unto wickedness. Do well, O LORD, unto those that be 5 good and true of heart. As for such as turn back unto their own wickedness, the LORD shall lead them forth with the evil doers: but peace be upon Israel.

(The song of the stairs.) When the LORD turneth again the captivity of Sion, then shall we be like unto them that dream. Then shall our mouth be filled with laughter, and our tongue 2 with joy. Then shall it be said among the Heathen: The LORD hath done great things for them. Yea the LORD hath done 3 great things for us already, whereof we rejoyce. Turn our captivity, O LORD, as the rivers in the south. They that sow in 4 tears, shall reap in joy. He that now goeth in his way weeping and beareth forth good seed, shall come again with joy, and 5 bring his sheaves with him. 6

CXXVI

(The song of the stairs.) Except the LORD build the house, the labour is but lost that build it. Except the LORD keep the city, the watchman waketh but in vain. It is but lost labour 2 that ye rise up early, and take no rest, but eat the bread of carefulness: for look to whom it pleaseth him, he giveth it in 3 sleep. Lo, children and the fruit of the womb are an heritage and gift, that cometh of the LORD: Like as the arrows in the 4 hand of the giant, even so are the young children. Happy is 5 the man, that hath his quiver full of them: they shall not be ashamed, when they speak with their enemies in the gate.

CXXVII

(The song of the stairs.) Blessed are all they that fear the LORD, and walk in his ways. For thou shalt eat the labours 2 of thine own hands: O well is thee, happy art thou. Thy wife shall be as the* fruitful vine upon the walls of thy house. Thy 3 children like the Olive branches, round about thy table. Lo, thus shall the man be blessed, that feareth the LORD. The 4 LORD shall so bless thee out of Sion, that thou shalt see Jerusalem in prosperity all thy life long. Yea that thou shalt see 5 thy children's children, and peace upon Israel. 6

CXXVIII

(The song of the stairs.) Many a time have they fought against me from my youth up, (may Israel now say.) Yea many 2 a time have they fought against me from my youth up, but they have not overcome me. The plowers plowed upon my back, 3 and made long furrows. But the righteous LORD hath hewn the yoke of the ungodly in pieces. Let them be confounded and 4 turned backward, as many as have evil will at Sion. Let them be even as the hay upon the house tops, which withereth afore 5 it be plucked* up. Whereof the mower filleth not his hand, 6 7

CXXIX

8 neither he that bindeth up the sheaves, his bosom. So that they which go by, say not so much as: the LORD prosper you, we wish you good luck in the name of the LORD.

CXXX (The song of the stairs.) Out of the deep call I unto thee O
2 LORD, Lord hear my voice. Oh let thine ears consider well 3 the voice of my complaint. If thou, LORD wilt be extreme to 4 mark what is done amiss, Oh Lord who may abide it? But 5 there is mercy with thee, that thou mayest be feared. I look for the LORD, my soul doth wait for him, and in his word is 6 my trust. My soul doth patiently abide the Lord, from the one 7 morning to the other. Let Israel trust in the LORD, for with 8 the LORD there is mercy and plenteous redemption. And he shall redeem Israel from all his sins.

CXXXI (The song of the stairs.) LORD, I am not high minded, I have no proud looks. I do not exercise myself in great matters, 2 which are too high for me. But I refrain my soul and keep it low, like as a child that is weaned* from his mother: Yea my 3 soul is even as a weaned* child. Let Israel trust in the LORD, from this time forth for evermore.

CXXXII (The song of the stairs.) LORD, remember David and all his 2 trouble. How he swore unto the LORD, and vowed a vow unto 3 the allmighty one of Jacob: I will not come within the taber-4 nacle of my house, nor climb up in* my bed. I will not suffer 5 mine eyes to sleep, nor mine eyelids to slumber. Until I find out a place for the LORD, an habitation for the mighty one of 6 Jacob. Lo, we heard of the same at Ephrata, and found it in 7 the wood. We will go into his tabernacle, and fall down before 8 his footstool. Arise, O LORD, into thy resting place, thou and 9 the ark of thy strength. Let thy Priests be clothed with righ-10 teousness, and let thy saints rejoice. For thy servant David's 11 sake turn not away the presence of thine anointed. The LORD hath made a faithful oath unto David, and he shall not shrink 12 from it: Of the fruit of the body shall I set upon thy seat. If thy children will keep my covenant, and my testimony that I shall learn them: their children also shall sit upon thy seat for 13 evermore. For the LORD hath chosen Sion, to be an habita-14 tion for himself hath he chosen her. This shall be my rest, 15 here will I dwell, for I have a delight therein. I will bless her 16 vitailles with increase, and will satisfy her poor with bread. I

131. v.2 Other: weened. v.2 Other: weened. 132. v.3 Other: i to.

will deck her Priests with health, and her saints shall rejoice and be glad. There shall I make the horn of David to flourish, 17 I have ordained a lantern for mine anointed. As for his ene- 18 mies, I shall clothe them with shame, but upon himself shall his crown flourish.

(The song of the stairs of David.) Behold, how good and joy- CXXXIII ful a thing it is, brethren to dwell together in unity. It is like 2 the* precious ointment upon the head, that ran down unto the beard: even unto Aaron's beard, and went down to the skirts of his clothing. Like the dew of Hermon, which fell upon the 3 hill of Zion. For there the LORD promised his blessing, and life forevermore.

(The song of the stairs.) Behold, O praise the LORD, all ye CXXXIV servants of the LORD, ye that by night stand* in the house of the LORD. O lift up your hands in the Sanctuary, and praise 2 the LORD. The LORD that made heaven and earth bless thee 3 out of Zion.

(Praise the everlasting.) O Praise the name of the LORD, CXXXV praise it O ye servants of the LORD. Ye that stand* in the 2 house of the LORD, in the courts of the house of our God. O 3 praise the LORD, for the LORD is gracious: O sing praises unto his name, for it is lovely. For why the LORD hath chosen Jacob 4 unto himself, and Israel for his own possession. For I know 5 that the LORD is great, and that our Lord is above all gods.*
Whatsoever the LORD pleaseth that doth he in heaven and in 6 earth, in the sea, and in all deep places. He bringeth forth 7 the clouds from the ends of the world, he turneth the lightnings unto rain, bringing the winds out of their treasures.
Which smote the firstborn of Egypt, both of man and of beast. 8
He hath sent tokens and wonders into the midst of thee, O 9 thou land of Egypt, upon Pharaoh and all his servants. Which smote divers nations, and slew mighty kings. Sehon king of 10 the Amorites, Og the king of Bashan, and all the kingdoms of Canaan. And gave their land for an heritage, for an heritage 12 unto Israel his people. Thy name, O LORD, endureth for ever, so doth thy memorial, O LORD, from one generation to another. 13
For the LORD will avenge his people, and be gracious unto his 14 servants. As for the images of the Heathen, they are but sil- 15

133. v.2 Other: that. 134. v.1 Other: stode. 135. v.2 Other: stode. v.5 Other: goddess.

16 ver and gold, the work of men's hands. They have mouths, 17 and speak not: eyes have they, but they see not. They have ears, and yet they hear not, neither is there any breath in their 18 mouths. They that make them, are like unto them, and so are 19 all they that put their trust in them. Praise the LORD, ye 20 house of Israel, praise the LORD ye house of Aaron. Praise the LORD, ye house of Levi, ye that fear the LORD, praise the 21 LORD. Praised be the LORD out of Sion, which dwelleth at Jerusalem. (Praise the everlasting.) *

CXXXVI

O give thanks unto the LORD, for he is gracious, and his 2 mercy endureth forever. O give thanks unto the God of all 3 gods,* for his mercy endureth forever. O thank the Lord of all 4 lords, for his mercy endureth forever. Which only doth great 5 wonders, for his mercy endureth forever. Which by his wis-6 dom made the heavens, for his mercy endureth forever. Which laid out the earth above the waters, for his mercy endureth for-7 ever. Which hath made great lights, for his mercy endureth 8 for ever. The sun* to rule the day, for his mercy endureth 9 for ever. The moon and the stars to govern the night, for his 10 mercy endureth forever. Which smote Egypt with their first-11 born, for his mercy endureth forever. And brought out Israel 12 from among them, for his mercy endureth forever. With a mighty hand and stretched out arm, for his mercy endureth 13 forever. Which divided the reed sea into parts, for his mercy 14 endureth forever. And made Israel to go thorow the middest 15 of it, for his mercy endureth forever: But as for Pharaoh and his host, he overthrew them in the reed sea, for his mercy en-16 dureth forever. Which led his people thorow the wilderness, 17 for his mercy endureth forever. Which smote great kings, for 18 his mercy endureth forever. Yea and slew mighty kings, for 19 his mercy endureth forever. Sehon king of the Amorites, for 20 his mercy endureth forever. And Og the king of Bashan, for 21 his mercy endureth forever. And gave away their land for an 22 heritage, for his mercy endureth forever. Even for an heritage unto Israel his servant, for his mercy endureth forever.
 23 Which remembereth us, when we are in trouble, for his mercy 24 endureth forever. (And hath delivered us from our enemies: 25 for his mercy endureth for ever.) Which giveth food unto all 26 flesh, for his mercy endureth forever. O give thanks unto the God of heaven, for his mercy endureth forever.

By the waters of Babylon we sat down and wept, when we remembered Sion. As for our harps, we hanged them up upon the trees, that are therein. Then they that led us away captive, required of us a song and melody in our heaviness: sing us one of the songs of Sion. How shall we sing the LORD's song in a strange land? If I forget thee, O Jerusalem, let my right hand be forgotten. If I do not remember thee, let my tongue cleave to the roof of my mouth: yea if I prefer not Jerusalem in my mirth. Remember the children of Edom, O LORD, in the day of Jerusalem, how they said: down with it, down with it: even to the ground. O daughter of Babylon, thou shalt come to misery thy self: yea happy shall he be, that rewardeth thee as thou hast served us. Blessed shall he be, that taketh thy children, and throweth them against the stones.

CXXXVII

(Of David) I will give thanks unto thee, O Lord, with my whole heart, even before the gods, will I sing praises unto thee. I will worship toward thy holy temple, and praise thy name, because of thy loving-kindness and truth, for thou hast magnified thy word, according unto thy great name. When I call upon thee, thou hearest me, and endwest my soul with much strength. All the kings of the earth shall praise thee, O LORD, when they hear the words of thy mouth. Yea, they shall sing in the ways of the LORD, that great is the glory of the LORD. For though the LORD be high, yet hath he respect unto the lowly, as for the proud, he beholdeth them* afar off. Though I walk in the midst of trouble, yet shalt thou refresh me: thou shalt stretch forth thine hand upon the furriousness of mine enemies, and thy right hand shall save me. The LORD shall make good for me, yea thy mercy, O LORD, endureth forever: despise not then the works of thine own hands.

CXXXVIII

(To the chanter, a Psalm of David.) O LORD, thou searchest me out, and knowest me. Thou knowest my down sitting and mine uprising, thou understandest my thoughts afar off. Thou art about my path and about my bed, and spiest out all my ways. For lo, there is not a word in* my tongue, but thou, O LORD, knowest it altogether. Thou hast fashioned me behind and before, and laid thine hand upon me. Such knowledge is too wonderful and excellent for me, I can not attain unto it.

CXXXIX

7 Whither shall I go then from thy spirit? or, whither shall I go 8 then * from thy presence? If I climb up into heaven, thou art 9 there: if I go down to hell, thou art there also. If I take the wings of the morning, and remain in the uttermost* part of the 10 sea: Even there also shall thy hand lead me, and thy right 11 hand shall hold me. If I say: peradventure the darkness shall 12 cover me, then shall my night be turned to day. Yea the dark-13 ness is no darkness with thee, but the night is as clear as the day, the darkness and light are both alike. For my reins are 14 thine, thou hast covered me in my mother's womb. I will give thanks unto thee, for I am wonderfully made: marvelous are 15 thy works, and that my soul knoweth right well. My bones are not hid from thee, though I be made secretly, and fashioned be-16 neath in the earth. Thine eyes see mine unperfectness, they stand all written in thy book: my days were fashioned, when as 17 yet there was not one of them. How dear are thy counsels unto 18 me, O God? O how great is the sum of them. If I tell them, they are more in number than the sand: when I wake up, I 19 am present with thee. Wilt thou not slay the wicked (oh God) 20 that the bloodthirsty might depart from me? For they speak unright of thee, thine enemies exalt themselves presumptu-21 ously. I hate them, O LORD, that hate thee: and I may not 22 away with those that rise up against thee? Yea I hate them 23 right sore, therefore are they mine enemies. Try me, O God, and seek the ground of mine heart: prove me, and examine my 24 thoughts. Look well if there be any way of wickedness in me, and lead me in the way everlasting.

CXL (To the chanter, a Psalm of David.) Deliver me, o LORD, 2 from the evil men, oh preserve me from the wicked men. Which imagine mischief in their hearts, and stir up strife all the day 3 long. They sharpen their tongues like a serpent: adders' poi-4 son is under their lips. Selah. Keep me, O LORD, from the hand of the ungodly: preserve me from the wicked men, which 5 are purposed to overthrow my goings. The proud have laid a snare for me, and spread a net abroad with cords, yea and 6 set traps in my way. Selah. But my saying is unto the LORD:
 7 Thou art my God, hear the voice of my prayer, O LORD. O Lord GOD, thou strength of my health, thou hast covered my 8 head in the day of battle.* Let not the ungodly have his desire, O LORD, let him not have his purpose, lest they be too proud. Selah. Let the mischief of their own lips fall upon the head of them, that compass me about. Let hot burning coals fall upon them, let them be cast into the fire, and into the pit, that they never rise up again. A man full of words shall not prosper upon the earth: a malicious and wicked person shall be hunted away, and destroyed. Sure I am, that the LORD will avenge the poor, and maintain the cause of the helpless. The righteous also shall give thanks unto thy name, and the just shall continue in thy sight.

(A Psalm of David.) LORD, I call upon thee: haste thee unto me, and consider my voice, when I cry unto thee. Let my prayer be set forth in thy sight as the incense, and let the lifting up of my hands be an evening sacrifice. Set a watch, O LORD, before my mouth, yea a watch at the door of my lips. O let not mine heart be inclined* to any evil thing, to be minded as the ungodly or wicked men, lest I eat of such things as please them. Let the righteous rather smite me friendly, and reprove me: so will I take it as though he had poured oil on my head: it shall not hurt my head, yea I will pray yet for their wickedness. Their judges stumble at the stone, yet hear they my words, that they be joyful. Our bones lie scattered before the pit, like as when one graveth and diggeth up the ground. But mine eyes look unto thee, O Lord GOD: in thee is my trust, oh cast not out my soul. Keep me from the snare which they have laid for me, and from the traps of the wicked doers. Let the ungodly fall into their own nets together, until I be gone by them. CXLI

(The Instruction of David, a prayer when he was in the cave.) I cry unto the LORD with my voice, yea even unto the LORD do I make my supplication. I pour out my complaint before him, and shew him of my trouble. When my spirit is in heaviness, for thou knowest my path: in the way wherein I walk have they privily laid a snare for me. I look upon my right hand, and see, there is no man that will know me. I have no place to flee unto, no man careth for my soul. Therefore do I cry unto thee, O LORD, and say: Thou art my hope and my portion in the land of the living. Consider my complaint, for I am brought very low. Oh deliver me from my persecutors, for they CXLII

141. v.4 Other: enclined.

7 are too strong for me. Bring my soul out of prison, that I may give thanks unto thy name: which thing if thou wilt grant me, then shall the righteous resort unto my company.

CXLIII (A Psalm of David.) Hear my prayer, O LORD, consider my desire: answer me for thy truth and righteousness' sake.
 2 And enter not into judgment with thy servant, for in thy sight
 3 shall no man living be justified. For the enemy persecuteth my soul, he smiteth my life down to the ground, he layeth me
 4 in the darkness, as the dead men of the world. Therefore is my spirit vexed within me, and my heart within me is desolate.
 5 Yet do I remember the times past, I muse upon all thy works; Yea I exercise myself in the works of thy hands. I stretch forth my hands unto thee, my soul cryeth unto thee out 7 of the thirsty land. Selah. Hear me, O LORD, and that soon, for my spirit waxeth faint: hide not thy face from me, lest I be 8 like unto them that go down into the grave. Oh let me hear thy loving-kindness by times in the morning, for in thee is my trust: shew thou me the way that I should walk in, for I lift up
 9 my soul unto thee. Deliver me, O LORD, from mine enemies, for I resort unto thee. Teach me to do the thing that pleaseth thee, for thou art my God: let thy loving spirit lead me forth 11 unto the land of righteousness. Quicken me, O LORD, for thy name's sake, and for thy righteousness' sake bring my soul out 12 of trouble. And of thy goodness scatter mine enemies abroad, and destroy all them that vex my soul, for I am thy servant.

CXLIV (Of David.) Blessed be the LORD my refuge, which teacheth
 2 my hands to war, and my fingers to fight. My hope and my castle, my defense and my deliverer, my shield in whom I trust, 3 which governeth the people that is under me. LORD, what is man, that thou hast such respect unto him? Or the son of man, 4 that thou so regardest him? Man is like a thing of naught, his time passeth away like a shadow. Bow thy heavens, O
 5 LORD, and come down, touch the mountains, that they may smoke withal. Send forth the lightning, and scatter them, 7 shoot out thine arrows, and consume them. Send down thine hand from above, deliver me, and take me out of the greatwaters, from the hand of strange children. Whose mouth talketh 8 of vanity, and their right hand is a right hand of falsity.* That I may sing a new song unto thee, O God, and sing praises unto thee upon a ten stringed lute. Thou that givest victory unto 10 kings, and hast delivered David thy servant from the peril of the sword. Save me, and deliver me from the hand of strange 11 children, whose mouth talketh of vanity, and their right hand is a right hand of falsity. That our sons may grow up as the 12 young plants, and that our daughters may be as the polished corners of the temple. That our garners may be full and plen- 13 teous with all manner of store: that our sheep may bring forth thousands and hundredth thousands in our villages. That our 14 oxen may be strong to labour, that there be no mischance, no decay, and no complaining in our streets. Happy are the peo- 15 ple that be in such a case: yea blessed are the people, which have the LORD for their God.

(A praise of David.) I will magnify thee, O God my king, CXLV
 I will praise thy name forever and ever. Every day will I 2 give thanks unto thee, and praise thy name forever and ever.
 Great is the LORD, and marvelous worthy to be praised, there 3 is no end to his greatness. One generation shall praise thy 4 works unto another, and declare thy power. As for me I will 5 be talking of thy worship, thy glory, thy praise, and wonderous works. So that men shall speak of the might of thy marvelous 6 acts, and tell of thy greatness. The memorial of thy abundant 7 kindness shall be shewed, and men shall sing of thy righteousness. The LORD is gracious and merciful, long suffering and 8 of great goodness. The LORD is loving unto every man, and 9 his mercy is over all his works. All thy works praise thee, O 10 LORD, and thy saints give thanks unto thee. They shew the 11 glory of thy kingdom, and talk of thy power. That thy power, 12 thy glory and mightiness of thy kingdom might be known unto men. Thy kingdom is an everlasting kingdom, and thy do- 13 minion endureth thorowout all ages. The LORD upholdeth all 14 such as should fall, and lifteth up all those that be down. The 15 eyes of all wait upon thee, and thou givest them their meat in due season. Thou openest thine hand, and fillest all things 16 living with plenteousness. The LORD is righteous in all his 17 ways, and holy in all his works. The LORD is nye unto * them 18 that call upon him, yea all such as call upon him faithfully. He 19 fulfilleth the desire of them that fear him, he heareth their cry, and helpeth them. The LORD preserveth all them that love 20 21 him, but scattereth abroad all the ungodly. My mouth shall speak the praise of the LORD, and let all flesh give thanks unto his holy name for ever and ever. (Praise the everlasting.) *

CXLVI, 2 (Praise the everlasting.) Praise the LORD, O my soul: while I live will I praise the LORD: yea as long as I have any being, I 3 will sing praises unto my God. O put not your trust in princes, 4 nor in any child of man, for there is no help in them. For when the breath of man goeth forth, he shall turn again to his earth, 5 and so all his thoughts perish. Blessed is he that hath the God of Jacob for his help, and whose hope is in the LORD his 6 God. Which made heaven and earth, the sea, and all that 7 therein is, which keepeth his promise forever. Which helpeth them to right that suffer wrong, which feedeth the hungry. The 8 LORD lowseth men out of prison, the LORD giveth sight to the blind. The LORD helpeth them up that are fallen, the LORD
9 loveth the righteous. The LORD careth for the strangers, he defendeth the fatherless and widow: as for the way of the un-10 godly, he turneth it upside down. The LORD thy God, O Sion, is king for evermore, and throwout all generations. (Praise the everlasting.) *

CXLVII (Praise the everlasting.) Praise ye the LORD, for it is a good thing to sing praises unto our God: yea a joyful and pleasant
2 thing is it to be thankful. The LORD shall build up Jerusa-3 lem, and gather together the outcasts of Israel. He healeth the contrite in heart, and bindeth up their wounds. He telleth the number of the stars, he calleth them all by their names.
4 Great is our Lord, and great is his power: yea, his wisdom is 5 infinite. The LORD setteth up the meek, and bringeth the un-6 godly down to the ground. O sing unto the LORD with thanks-7 giving, sing praises upon the harp unto our God. Which covereth the heaven with clouds, prepareth rain for the earth, and 8 maketh the grass to grow upon the mountains. Which giveth fodder unto the cattle, and feedeth the young ravens that call 9 upon him. He hath no pleasure in the strength of an horse, 10 neither delighteth he in any man's legs. But the LORD delight is in them that fear him, and put their trust in his mercy.
11 12, 13 Praise the LORD, O Jerusalem, praise thy God O Sion. For he maketh fast the bars of thy gates, and blesseth the children 14 within thee. He maketh peace in thy borders, and filleth thee with the flour of wheat. He sendeth forth his commandment upon earth, his word runneth swiftly. He giveth snow like wool, and scattereth the hoarfrost like ashes. He casteth forth his ice like morsels, who is able to abide his frost? He sendeth out his word and melteth them, he bloweth with his wind, and the waters flow. He sheweth his word unto Jacob, his statutes and ordinances unto Israel. He hath not dealt so with all the Heathen, neither have they knowledge of his laws. (Praise the everlasting.) *

(Praise the everlasting.) O PRAISE the LORD of heaven, praise him in the height. Praise him all ye angels of his, praise him all his host. Praise him Sun and Moon, praise him all ye stars and light. Praise him all ye heavens, and ye waters that be under the heavens. Let them praise the name of the LORD, for he commanded and they were made. He hath made them fast for ever and ever, he hath given them a law which shall not be broken. Praise the LORD upon earth, ye whalefishes, and all deeps. Fire and hail, snow and vapors, wind and storm, fulfilling his word. Mountains and all hills, fruitful trees, and all Cedars. Beasts and cattle, worms and feathered fowls. Kings of the earth and all people, princes and all judges of the world. Young men and maidens, old men and children: let them praise the name of the LORD, for his name only is excellent, and his praise above heaven and earth. He exalteth the horn of his people, all his saints shall praise him, the children of Israel, even the people that serveth him. (Praise the everlasting.) *

CXLVIII

(Praise the everlasting.) * O sing unto the LORD a new song, and let the congregation of saints praise him. Let Israel rejoice in him that made him, and let the children of Sion be joyful in their King. Let them praise his name in the dance, let them sing praises unto him with tabretts and harps. For the LORD hath pleasure in his people, and helpeth the meek hearted. Let the saints be joyful with glory, let them rejoice in their beds. Let the praises of God be in their mouth, and sharp swords in their hands. To be avenged of the Heathen, and to rebuke the people. To bind their kings in chains, and their nobles with links of iron. That they may be avenged of them, as it is written, such honour have all his saints. (Praise

CXLIX

the everlasting.) *

CL (Praise ye the everlasting.) * O PRAISE the LORD in his 2 Sanctuary, praise him in the firmament of his power. Praise him in his noble acts, praise him in his excellent greatness.
 3 Praise him in the sound of the trumpet, praise him upon the 4 lute and harp. Praise him in the cymbals and dance, praise 5 him upon the strings and pipe. Praise him upon the well 6 tuned cymbals, praise him upon the loud cymbals. Let every thing that hath breath, praise the LORD. (Praise the everlasting.) *

The end of the Psalter.

The Proverbs.

She* proverbs of Solomon the son of David king of Is- I rael: To learn wisdom, instruction,* understanding, 2 prudence, righteousness, judgment and equity. That 3, 4 the very babes might have wit, and that young men might have knowledge and understanding. By hearing, the 5 wise man shall come by more wisdom: and by experience he 6 shall be more apt to understand a parable, and the interpretation thereof, the words of the wise, and the dark speeches of the same. The fear of the LORD is the beginning of wis- 7 dom. But fools despise wisdom and instruction.* My son, hear 8 thy father's doctrine, and forsake not the law of thy mother: for that shall bring grace unto thy head, and shall be a chain 9 about thy neck. My son, consent not unto sinners, if they en- 10, 11 tice thee, and say: Come with us, let us lay wait for blood, and lurk privily for the innocent without a cause: Let us swallow 12 them up like the hell, let us devour them quick and whole, as those that go down into the pit. So shall we find all manner 13 of costly riches, and fill our houses with spoils. Cast in thy lot 14 among us, we shall have all one purse. My son, walk not thou 15 with them, refrain thy foot from their ways. For their feet run 16 to evil, and are hasty to shed blood. But in vain is the net 17 laid forth before the bird's eyes. Yea they themselves lay wait 18 one for another's blood, and one of them would slay another.
These are the ways of all such as be covetous, that one would 19 ravish another's life. Wisdom crieth without and putteth forth 20 her* voice in the streets. She calleth before the congregation 21 in the open gates, and sheweth her words throw the city, saying: O ye children, how long will ye love childishness? how 22 long will the scorners delight in scorning, and the unwise be enemies unto knowledge? O turn you unto my correction: lo, 23 I will express my mind unto you, and make you understand my words. Seeing then that I have called, and ye refused it: I 24 have stretched out my hand, and no man regarded it, but all 25 my counsels have ye despised and set my corrections to naught.
Therefore shall I also laugh in your destruction, and mock you, 26

1. v.1 Other: These are the. v.2 Other: nurture. v.7 Other: nurture. v.20 Other:
hir.

27 when the thing that ye fear cometh upon you: even when the thing that ye be afraid of, falleth in suddenly like a storm, and your misery like a tempest: yea when trouble and heaviness 28 cometh upon you. Then shall they call upon me, but I will not 29 hear: they shall seek me early, but they shall not find me: And that because they hated knowledge, and received not the fear 30 of the LORD, but abhorred my counsel, and despised my cor-31 rection. Therefore shall they eat the fruits of their own way, 32 and be filled with their own counsels: for the turning away of the unwise shall slay them, and the prosperity of fools shall be 33 their own destruction. But who so hearkeneth unto me shall dwell safely, and have enough without any fear of evil.

II My son, if thou wilt receive my words, and keep my com-2 mandments by thee, that thine ear may hearken unto wis-3 dom, apply thine heart then to understanding. For if thou 4 criest after wisdom, and callest after knowledge: If thou seek-est after her as after money, and diggest for her as for trea-5 sures: then shalt thou understand the fear of the LORD, and 6 find the knowledge of God. For it is the LORD that giveth wisdom, out of his mouth cometh knowledge and understand-7 ing. He preserveth the welfare of the righteous, and defend-8 eth them that walk innocently: He keepeth them in the right 9 path, and preserveth the way of his saints. Then shalt thou understand righteousness, judgment and equity, yea and ev-10 ery good path. If wisdom enter into thine heart, and thy 11 soul delight in knowledge: then shall counsel preserve thee, 12 and understanding shall keep thee. That thou mayest be delivered from the evil way, and from the man that speaketh 13 froward things. From such as leave the high street, and walk 14 in the ways of darkness: Which rejoyce in doing evil, and de-15 light in wicked things: Whose ways are crooked, and their 16 paths slanderous.* That thou mayest be delivered also from the strange woman, and from her that is not thine own: which 17 giveth sweet words, forsaketh the husband of her youth, and 18 forgeteth the covenant of her God. For her house is inclined 19 unto death, and her paths into hell. All they that go in unto her, come not again, neither take they hold of the way of life.
 20 That thou mayest walk in the good way, and keep the paths of 21 the righteous. For the just shall dwell in the land, and the

2. v.15 Other: sclauderous.

innocent shall remain in it. But the ungodly shall be rooted 22 out of the land, and the wicked doers shall be taken out of it.

My son, forget not my law, but see that thine heart keep my III commandments. For they shall prolong the days and years 2 of thy life, and bring thee peace. Let mercy and faithfulness 3 never go from thee: bind them about thy neck, and write them in the tables of thine heart. So shalt thou find favor and good 4 understanding in the sight of God and men. Put thy trust in 5 the LORD with all thine heart, and lean not unto thine own understanding. In all thy ways have respect unto him, and 6 he shall order thy goings. Be not wise in thine own conceit, 7 but fear the LORD, and depart from evil: so shall thy navel be 8 whole, and thy bones strong. Honour the LORD with thy sub- 9 stance, and with the firstlings of all thine increase: So shall 10 thy barns be filled with plenteousness, and thy presses shall flow over with sweet wine. My son, despise not the chastening 11 of the LORD, neither faint when thou are rebuked of him. For 12 whom the LORD loveth, him he chasteneth: and yet delighteth in him even as a father in his own son. Well is him that find- 13 eth wisdom, and obtaineth understanding, for the getting of it 14 is better than any merchandise of silver, and the profit of it is better than gold. Wisdom is more worth than precious stones, 15 and all the things that thou canst desire, are not to be compared unto her. Upon her right hand is long life, and upon 16 her left hand is riches and honour. Her ways are pleasant 17 ways, and all her paths are peaceable. She is a tree of life to 18 them that lay hold upon her, and blessed are they that keep her fast. With wisdom hath the LORD laid the foundation of 19 the earth, and thorow understanding hath he stablished the heavens. Thorow his wisdom the depths break up, and the 20 clouds drop down of the dew. My son, let not these things de- 21 part from thine eyes, but keep my law and my counsel: So 22 shall it be life unto thy soul, and grace unto thy mouth. Then 23 shalt thou walk safely in thy way, and thy foot shall not stumble. If thou sleepest thou shalt not be afraid, but shall take 24 thy rest and sleep sweetly. Thou needest not to be afraid of 25 any sudden fear, neither for the violent rushing of the ungodly, when it cometh. For the LORD shall be beside thee, and keep 26 thy foot that thou be not taken. Refuse not to do good unto 27 him that should have it, so long as thine hand is able to do it.

28 Say not unto thy neighbour: Go thy way and come again, to-29 morrow will I give thee: where as thou hast now to give him.
 Intend no hurt unto thy neighbour, seeing he hopeth to dwell 30 in rest by thee. Strive not lightly with any man, where as he 31 hath done thee no harm. Follow not a wicked man, and choose 32 none of his ways: for the LORD abhorreth the froward, but his 33 secret is among the righteous. The curse of the LORD is in the house of the ungodly, but he blesseth the dwellings of the righ-34 teous. As for the scornful, he shall laugh them to scorn, but he 35 shall give grace unto the lowly. The wise shall have honour in possession, but shame is the promotion that fools shall have.

IV Hear, O ye children, the fatherly exhortation, and take good 2 heed, that ye may learn wisdom. Yea I shall give you a good 3 reward, if ye will not forsake my law. For when I my self was 4 my father's dear son, and tenderly beloved of my mother, he taught me also, saying: Let thine heart receive my words, keep 5 my commandments, and thou shalt live. Get thee wisdom, get thee understanding, forget not the words of my mouth, and 6 shrink not from them. Forsake her not, and she shall pre-7 serve thee: love her, and she shall keep thee. The chief point of wisdom is, that thou be willing to obtain wisdom, and before 8 all thy goods to get the understanding. Make much of her and she shall promote thee: Yea if thou embracest her, she shall 9 bring thee unto honour. She shall make thee a gracious head, and garnish thee with a* crown of glory. Hear, my son, and 10 receive my words, that the years of thy life may be many. I will shew thee, the way of wisdom, and lead thee in the right 11 paths. So that if thou goest therein, there shall no straitness 12 hinder thee: and when thou runnest, thou shalt not fall. Take fast hold of doctrine, let her not go: keep her, for she is thy life.
 13 Come not in the path of the ungodly, and walk not in the way of the wicked. Eschew it, and go not therein: depart aside, and 14 pass over by it. For they can not sleep, except they have first done some mischief: neither take they any rest, except they 15 have first done some harm. For they eat the bread of wicked-16 ness, and drink the wine of robbery. The path of the righteous shineth as the light, and is ever brighter and brighter unto the 17 perfect day. But the way of the ungodly is as the darkness, 18 wherein men fall, or they be aware.* My son, mark my words, 19 20

4. v.9 Other: the. v.19 Other: awarre.

and incline thine ear unto my sayings. Let them not depart 21 from thine eyes, keep them even in the midst of thine heart.
 For they are life unto all those that find them, and health unto 22 all their bodies. Keep thine heart with all diligence, for there 23 upon hangeth life. Put away from thee a froward mouth, and 24 let the lips of slander* be far from thee. Let thine eyes behold 25 the thing that is right, and let thine eyelids look straight before thee. Ponder the path of thy feet, so shall all thy ways be 26 sure. Turn not aside, neither to the right hand nor to the left, 27 but withhold thy foot from evil.

My son, give heed unto my wisdom, and bow thine ear to V my prudence: that thou mayest regard good counsel, and that 2 thy lips may keep nurture. For the lips of an harlot are a 3 dropping honeycomb, and her throat is softer than oil. But 4 at the last she is as bitter as wormwood, and as sharp as a 5 two edged sword. Her feet go down unto death, and her steps 6 pierce thorow unto hell. She regardeth not the path of life, 7 so unsteadfast are her ways, that thou canst not know them.
 Hear me therefore, (O my son) and depart not from the words 8 of my mouth. Keep thy way far from her, and come not nye the 9 doors of her house. That thou give not thine honour unto another, and thy years to the cruel. That other men be not filled 10 with thy goods, and that thy labours come not in a strange house. Yea that thou mourn not at the last, (when thou hast 11 spent thy body and goods) and then say: Alas, why hated I 12 nurture? why did my heart despise correction? Wherefore 13 was not I obedient unto the voice of my teachers, and hearken not unto them that informed me? I am come almost into all 14 misfortune, in the midst of the multitude and congregation.
 Drink of the water of thine own well, and of the rivers that 15 run out of thine own springs. Let thy wells flow out abroad, 16 that there may be rivers of water in the streets: but let them 17 be only thine own, and not strangers' with thee. Let thy well 18 be blessed, and be glad with the wife of thy youth. Loving is 19 the hind, and friendly is the Roo: let her breasts alway satisfy thee, and hold thee ever content with her love. My son, why 20 wilt thou have pleasure in an harlot, and embrace the bosom of another woman? For every man's ways are open in the sight 21 of the LORD, and he pondereth all their goings. The wicked- 22

v.24 Other: sclaunder.

ness of the ungodly shall catch himself, and with the snares of 23 his own sins shall he be trapped. Because he would not be reformed, he shall die: and for his great foolishness he shall be destroyed.

VI My son, if thou be surety for thy neighbour, thou hast fast-2 tened thine hand with another man: yea thou art bound with 3 thine own words, and taken with thine own speech. Therefore my son, do this: discharge thyself, for thou art come into thy neighbour's danger. Go thy way then soon, and entreat thy 4 neighbour: let not thine eyes sleep, nor thine eyelids slumber.
5 Save thyself as a doe from the hand, and as a bird from the 6 hand of the fowler. Go to the Emmet (thou sluggard) con-7 sider her ways, and learn to be wise. She hath no guide, 8 no teacher, no leader: yet in the Summer she provideth her 9 meat, and gathereth her food together in the harvest. How long wilt thou sleep, thou sluggish man? When wilt thou arise 10 out of thy sleep? Yea sleep on still a little, slumber a little, fold thy hands together yet a little, that thou mayest sleep: 11 so shall poverty come unto thee as one that travaileth by the 12 way, and necessity like a weaponed man. A dissembling per-13 son, a wicked man goeth with a froward mouth, he winketh with his eyes, he tokeneth with his feet, he pointeth with his 14 fingers, he is ever imagining mischief and frowardness in his 15 heart, and causeth discord. Therefore shall his destruction come hastily upon him, suddenly shall he be all broken, and 16 not healed. There be six things which the LORD hateth, and 17 the seventh he utterly abhorreth: A proud look, a dissembling 18 tongue, hands that shed innocent blood, an heart that goeth about with wicked imaginations, feet that be swift in renning 19 to do mischief, a false witness that bringeth up lies, and such 20 one as soweth discord among brethren. My son, keep thy father's commandments, and forsake not the law of thy mother.
21 Put them up together in thine heart, and bind them about thy 22 neck. That they may lead thee where thou goest, preserve thee when thou art asleep, and that when thou awakest, thou 23 mayest talk of them. For the commandment is a lantern, and the law a light: yea chastening and nurture is the way of life: 24 that they may keep thee from the evil woman, and from the 25 flattering tongue of the harlot: that thou lust not after her beauty in thine heart, and lest thou be taken with her fair looks. An Harlot will make a man to beg his bread, but a married woman will hunt for the precious life. May a man take fire in his bosom, and his clothes not be brent? Or can one go upon hot coals, and his feet not be hurt? Even so, whosoever goeth in to his neighbour's wife, and toucheth her, can not be unguilty. Men do not utterly despise a thief, that stealeth to satisfy his soul, when he is hungry: But if he may be gotten, he restoreth again seven times as much, or else he maketh recompense with all the goods of his house. But whoso committeth advoutry with a woman, he is a fool, and bringeth his life to destruction. He getteth himself also shame and dishonour, such as shall never be put out. For the jealousy and wrath of the man will not be intreated, no though thou wouldest offer him great gifts to make amends, he will not receive them.

My son, keep my words, and lay up my commandments by thee. Keep my commandments and my law, even as the apple of thine eye, and thou shalt live. Bind them upon thy fingers, write them in the table of thine heart. Say unto wisdom: Thou art my sister, and call understanding thy kinswoman: That she may keep thee from the strange woman, and from the harlot which giveth sweet words. For out of the window of my house I looked thorow the trellis, and beheld the simple people: and among other young folks I spied one young fool going over the streets, by the corner in the way toward the harlots house in the twilight of the evening, when it began now to be night and dark. And behold, there met him a woman in an harlot's apparel (a deceitful, wanton and an unsteadfast woman: whose feet could not abide in the house, now is she without, now in the streets, and lurketh in every corner.) She caught the young man, kissed him, and was not ashamed, saying: I had a vow to pay, and this day I perform it. Therefore came I forth to meet thee, that I might seek thy face, and so I have found thee. I have decked my bed with coverings and clothes of Egypt. My bed have I made to smell of Myrrh, Aloes, and Cinnamon. Come, let us lie together, and take our pleasure till it be day light. For the goodman is not at home, he is gone far off. He hath taken the bag of money with him: who can tell when he cometh home? Thus with many sweet words she overcome him, and with her flattering lips she wanne him. Immediately he followeth her, as it were an ox to the slaughter

VII

2

3

4

5

6

7

8

9

10

11

12

13

14, 15

16

17

18

19 20

21

22

23 (and like as it were to the stocks, where fools are punished) so long till she hath wounded his liver with her dart: like as if a bird hasted to the snare, not knowing that the peril of his 24 life lieth thereupon. Hear me now therefore, O my son, and 25 mark the words of my mouth. Let not thine heart wander in 26 her ways, and be not thou deceived in her paths. For many one hath she wounded and cast down, yea many a strong man 27 hath she slain. Her houses is the way to hell, where men go down into the chambers of death.

VIII

Doth not wisdom cry? doth not understanding put forth her 2 voice? Standeth she not in the high* places in the streets and 3 ways? Doth she not cry before the whole city, and in the gates 4 where men go out and in? It is you, O ye men, (sayeth she) whom I call? Unto you (O ye children of men) lift I up my voice.
 5 Take heed unto knowledge O ye ignorant, be wise in heart O 6 ye fools. Give ear, for I will speak of great matters, and open 7 my lips to tell things that be right. For my throat shall be 8 talking of the truth, and my lips abhor ungodliness. All the words of my mouth are righteous, there is no frowardness nor 9 falsity therein. They are all plain to such as will understand, 10 and right to them that find knowledge. Receive my doctrine therefore, and not silver: and my knowledge, more than fine 11 gold. For wisdom is more worth than precious stones, yea all the things that thou canst desire, are not to be compared unto 12 it. I wisdom have my dwelling with knowledge, and prudent 13 counsel is mine own. With me is the fear of the LORD, and the eschewing of evil. As for pride, disdain, and evil way, and 14 a mouth that speaketh wicked things, I utterly abhor them. I can give counsel, and be a guide: I have understanding, I have 15 strength. Thorow me, kings reign: thorow me, princes make 16 just laws. Thorow me, lords bear rule, and all judges of the 17 earth execute judgement. I am loving unto those that love me, 18 and they that seek me early, shall find me. Riches and honour 19 are with me, yea excellent goods and righteousness. My fruit is better than gold, and precious stone, and mine increase more 20 worth than fine silver. I walk in the way of righteousness, and 21 in the street of judgment. That I may send prosperity to those 22 that love me, and to increase their treasure. The LORD himself had me in possession in the beginning of his ways, or ever

8. v.2 Other: hye.

he began his works afore time. I have been ordained from everlasting, and from the beginning or ever the earth was made. When I was born, there were neither depths nor springs of water. Before the foundations of the mountains were laid, yea before all hills was I born. The earth and all that is upon the earth was not yet made, no not the ground itself. For when he made the heavens, I was present: when he set up the depths in order: when he hanged the clouds above: when he fastened the springs of the deep: When he shut the sea within certain bounds, that the waters should not go over their marks. When he laid the foundations of the earth I was with him, ordering all things, delighting daily, and rejoicing all way before him. As for the round compass of his world, I make it joyful: for my delight is to be among the children of men. Therefore harken unto me, O ye children, for blessed are they that keep my ways. O give ear unto nurture, be wise, and refuse it not. Blessed is the man that heareth me, watching daily at my gates, and giving attendance at the posts of my doors. For whoso findeth me, findeth life, and shall obtain favour of the LORD. But whoso offendeth against me, hurteth his own soul. All they that hate me, are the lovers of death.

Wisdom hath builded herself an house, and hewn out seven IX pillars: She hath killed her vitailles,* poured out her wine, and prepared her table. She hath sent forth her maidens to cry upon the highest* place of the city: Who so is ignorant, let him come hither. And to the unwise she said: O come on your way, eat my bread, and drink my wine, which I have poured out for you. Forsake ignorance, and ye shall live: and see that ye go in the way of understanding. Who so reproveth a scornful person, getteth himself dishonour: and he that rebuketh the ungodly, staineth himself. Reprove not a scorner, lest he owe thee evil will: but rebuke a wise man, and he will love thee. Give a discrete man but an occasion, and he will be the wiser, teach a righteous man, and he will increase. The fear of the LORD is the beginning of wisdom, and the knowledge of holy things is understanding. For thorow me thy days shall be prolonged, and the years of thy life shall be many. If thou be wise, thy wisdom shall do thyself good: but if thou thinkest scorn thereof, it shall be thine own harm. A foolish restless

9. v.2 Other: slaughtered. v.3 Other: hyst.

14 woman, full of words, and such one as hath no knowledge, sitteth in the doors of her house upon a stool above in the city, 15, 16 to call such as go by, and walk straight in their ways. Who so is ignorant (sayeth she) let him come hither, and to the un-17 wise she sayeth: stolen waters are sweet, and the bread that 18 is privily eaten, hath a good taste. But they consider not that death is there, and that her guests go down to hell.

X The Parables* of Solomon. A wise son maketh a glad father, 2 but an indiscreet son is the heaviness of his mother. Treas-3 ures that are wickedly gotten, profit nothing, but righteous-4 ness delivereth from death. The LORD will not let the soul of the righteous suffer hunger, but he putteth the ungodly from 4 his desire. An idle hand maketh poor, but a quick laboring 5 hand maketh rich. Who so gathereth in summer is wise: but he that is sluggish in harvest, bringeth himself to confusion.
 6 Loving and favorable is the face of the righteous, but the fore-7 head of the ungodly is past shame, and presumptuous. The memorial of the just shall have a good report, but the name of 8 the ungodly shall stink. A wise man will receive warning, but 9 a fool will sooner be smitten in the face. He that leadeth an innocent life, walketh surely: but who so goeth a wrong way, 10 shall be known. He that winketh with his eye, will do some 11 harm: but he that hath a foolish mouth shall be beaten. The mouth of a righteous man is a well of life, but the mouth of the 12 ungodly is past shame, and presumptuous. Evil will stirreth 13 up strife, but love covereth the multitude of sins. In the lips of him that hath understanding a man shall find wisdom, but 14 the rod belongeth to the back of the foolish. Wise men lay up knowledge, but the mouth of the foolish is nye destruction.
 15 The rich man's goods are his stronghold, but poverty oppres-16 seth the poor. The righteous laboureth to do good, but the un-17 godly useth his increase unto sin. To take heed unto the chastening of nurture, is the way of life: but he that refuseth to be 18 reformed, goeth wrong. Dissembling lips keep hatred secretly, 19 and he that speaketh any slander, is a fool. Where much babbling is, there must needs be offense: he that refraineth his 20 lips is wisest of all. An innocent tongue is a noble treasure, 21 but the heart of the ungodly is nothing worth. The lips of the righteous feed a whole multitude, but fools shall die in their

10. v.1 Other: These are proverb sayings.

own folly. The blessing of the LORD, maketh rich men, as for 22 careful travail, it doth nothing thereto. A fool doth wickedly 23 and maketh but a sport of it: nevertheless it is wisdom for a man to beware of such. The thing that the ungodly are afraid 24 of, shall come upon them, but the righteous shall have their desire. The ungodly is like a tempest that passeth over, and 25 is no more seen, but the righteous remaineth sure forever. As 26 vinegar is to the teeth, and as smoke is to the eyes, even so is a sluggish person to them that send him forth. The fear of the 27 LORD maketh a long life, but the years of the ungodly shall be shortened. The patient abiding of the righteous shall be 28 turned to gladness, but the hope of the ungodly shall perish.
 The way of the LORD giveth a courage unto the godly, but it 29 is a fear for wicked doers. The righteous shall never be over- 30 thrown, but the ungodly shall not remain in the land. The 31 mouth of the just will be talking of wisdom, but the tongue of the froward shall perish. The lips of the righteous are occu- 32 pied in acceptable things, but the mouth of the ungodly taketh them to the worst.

A false balance is an abomination to the LORD, but a true XI weight pleaseth him. Where pride is, there is shame also and 2 confusion: but where as is lowliness, there is wisdom. The 3 innocent dealing of the just shall lead them, but the unfaith-fulness of the despisers shall be their own destruction. Riches 4 help not in the day of vengeance, but righteousness delivereth from death. The righteousness of the innocent ordereth his 5 way, but the ungodly shall fall in his own wickedness. The 6 righteousness of the just shall deliver them, but the dispisers shall be taken in their own ungodliness. When an un- 7 godly man dieth, his hope is gone, the confidence of riches shall perish. The righteous shall be delivered out of trouble, and 8 the ungodly shall come in his stead. Thorow the mouth of 9 the dissembler is his neighbour destroyed, but thorow knowledge shall the just be delivered. When it goeth well with 10 the righteous, the city is merry: and when the ungodly perish, there is gladness. When the just are in wealth, the city 11 prospereth: but when the ungodly have the rule, it decayeth.
 A fool bringeth up a slander* of his neighbour, but a wise man 12 will keep it secret. A dissembling person will discover privy 13

11. v.12 Other: sclauder.

things, but he that is of a faithful heart, will keep counsel.
 14 Where no good counsel is there the people decay: but where as 15 are many that can give counsel, there is wealth. He that is 16 surety for a stranger, hurteth himself: but he that meddleth 17 not with suretyship, is sure. A gracious woman maintaineth 18 honesty, as for the mighty, they maintain riches. He that 19 hath a gentle liberal stomach is merciful: but who so hurteth 20 his neighbour, is a tyrant. The labour of the ungodly prospereth not, but he that sheweth righteousness, shall receive 21 a sure reward. Like as righteousness bringeth life: even so 22 to cleave unto evil, bringeth death. The LORD abhorreth a 23 fained heart, but he hath pleasure in them that are undefiled.
 24 It shall not help the wicked, though they lay all their hands 25 together, but the seed of the righteous shall be preserved. A 26 fair woman without discreet manners, is like a ring of gold in 27 a swine's snout. The just labour for peace and tranquility, but 28 the ungodly for disquietness. Some man giveth out his goods, 29 and is richer, but the niggard (having enough) will depart from 30 nothing, and yet is ever in poverty. He that is liberal in giving, 31 shall have plenty: and he that watereth, shall be watered also himself. Who so hordeth up his corn, shall be cursed among the people: but blessing shall light upon his head that selleth it. He that laboureth for honesty findeth his desire: but who so seeketh after mischief, it shall happen unto him. He that trusteth in his riches shall have a fall, but the righteous shall flourish as the green leaf. Who so maketh disquietness in his own house, he shall have wind for his heritage, and the fool shall be servant to the wise. The fruit of the righteous is as the tree of life; a wise man also winneth men's souls. If the righteous be recompensed upon earth, how much more then the ungodly and the sinner?

XII Whoso loveth wisdom, will be content to be reformed: but 2 he that hateth to be reproved, is a fool. A good man is accept-3 able unto the LORD: but the wicked will he condemn. A man 4 can not endure in ungodliness, but the root of the righteous 5 shall not be moved. A steadfast woman is a crown unto her 6 husband: but she that behaveth herself dishonestly is a corruption in his bones. The thoughts of the righteous are right, but the imagination of the ungodly are deceitful. The talking of the ungodly is how they may lay wait for blood, but the mouth of the righteous will deliver them. Or ever thou canst turn 7 thee about, the ungodly shall be overthrown: but the house 8 of the righteous shall stand.* A man shall be commended for 8 his wisdom, but a fool shall be despised. A simple man which 9 laboureth and worketh, is better than one that is gorgeous and 9 wanteth bread. A righteous man regardeth the life of his cat- 10 tle, but the ungodly have cruel hearts. He that tilleth his 11 land, shall have plenteousness of bread: but he that followeth 12 idleness, is a very fool. The desire of the ungodly hunteth af- 12 ter mischief, but the root of the righteous bringeth forth fruit.

 The wicked falleth into the snare thorow the malice of his own 13 mouth, but the just shall escape out of peril. Every man shall 14 enjoy good according to the innocency of his mouth, and after the works of his hands shall he be rewarded. Look what a fool 15 taketh in hand, he thinketh it well done: but he that is wise, will be counseled. A fool uttereth his wrath in all the haste, 16 but a discreet man forgiveth wrong. A just man will tell the 17 truth, and shew the thing that is right: but a false witness deceiveth. A scanderlous person pricketh like a sword, but a 18 wise man's tongue is wholesome. A true mouth is ever con- 19 stant, but a dissembling tongue is soon changed. They that 20 imagine evil in their mind, will deceive: but the counselors of peace shall have joy following them. There shall no mis- 21 fortune happen unto the just, but the ungodly shall be filled with misery. The LORD abhorreth deceitful lips, but they that 22 labour for truth please him. He that hath understanding can 23 hide his wisdom: but an indiscreet heart telleth out his foolishness. A diligent hand shall bear rule, but the idle shall be 24 under tribute. Heaviness discourageth the heart of man, but a 25 good word maketh it glad again. The righteous is liberal unto 26 his neighbour, but the way of the ungodly will deceive themselves. A deceitful man shall find no vantage, but he that is 27 content with that he hath, is more worth than gold. In the 28 way of righteousness there is life, as for any other way it is the path unto death.

A wise son will receive his father's warning, but he that is XIII scornful, will not hear when he is reprov'd. A good man shall 2 enjoy the fruit of his mouth, but he that hath a froward mind, shall be spoiled. He that keepeth his mouth, keepeth his life: 3 4 but who so speaketh unadvised, findeth harm. The sluggard would fain have, and can not get his desire: but the soul of 5 the diligent shall have plenty. A righteous man abhorreth lies, 6 but the ungodly shameth both other and himself. Righteousness keepeth the innocent in the way, but ungodliness shall 7 overthrow the sinner. Some men are rich, though they have 8 nothing: again some men are poor having great riches. With goods every man delivereth his life, and the poor will not be 9 reprov'd. The light of the righteous maketh joyful, but the 10 candle of the ungodly shall be put out. Among the proud there is ever strife, but among those that do all things with advise-11 ment, there is wisdom. Hastily gotten goods are soon spent, but they that be gathered together with the hand, shall in-12 crease. Long tarring for a thing that is deferred, grieveth the 13 heart: but when the desire cometh, it is a tree of life. Whoso despiseth the word, destroyeth himself: but he that feareth the 14 commandment shall have peace. The law is a well of life unto 15 the wise, that it may keep him from the snares of death. Good understanding giveth favour, but hard is the way of the despis-16 ers. A wise man doth all things with discretion, but a fool will 17 declare his folly. An ungodly messenger bringeth mischief, 18 but a faithful ambassador is wholesome. He that thinketh scorn to be reformed, cometh to poverty and shame: but who 19 so receiveth correction, shall come to honour. When a desire is brought to pass, it delighteth the soul: but fools abhor him 20 that eschewth evil. He that goeth in the company of wise men, shall be wise: but who so is a companion of fools shall be hurt.

 21 Mischief followeth upon sinners, but the righteous shall have 22 a good reward. Which their children's children shall have in possession, for the riches of the sinner is laid up for the just.
 23 There is plenteousness of food in the fields of the poor, and 24 shall be increased out of measure. He that spareth the rod, hateth his son: but who so loveth him, holdeth him ever in 25 nurture. The righteous eateth, and is satisfied, but the belly of the ungodly hath never enough.

XIV A wise woman upholdeth her house, but a foolish wife pluck-2 eth it down. Who so feareth the LORD, walketh in the right path: and regardeth not him that abhorreth the ways of the 3 LORD. In the mouth of the foolish is the boasting* of lord-

14. v.3 Other: boasting.

ship, but the lips of the wise will be ware* of such. Where no oxen are, there the crib is empty: but where the oxen labour there is much fruit. A faithful witness will not dissemble, but a false record will make a lie. A scornful body seeketh wisdom, and findeth it not: but knowledge is easy to come by, unto him that will understand. See that thou meddle not with a fool, and do as though thou hadst no knowledge. The wisdom of him that hath understanding is, to take heed unto his way, but the foolishness of the unwise deceiveth. Fools make but a sport of sin, but there is favourable love among the righteous. The heart of him that hath understanding will neither despair for any sorrow, nor be too presumptuous for any sudden joy. The houses of the ungodly shall be overthrown, but the tabernacles of the righteous shall flourish. There is a way which some men think to be right, but the end thereof leadeth unto death. The heart is sorrowful even in laughter, and the end of mirth is heaviness. An unfaithful person shall be filled with his own ways, but a good man will beware of such. An ignorant body believeth all things, but who so hath understanding, looketh well to his goings. A wise man feareth, and departeth from evil, but a fool goeth on presumptuously. An impatient man handleth foolishly, but he that is well advised, doth other ways. The ignorant have foolishness in possession, but the wise are crowned with knowledge. The evil shall bow themselves before the good, and the ungodly shall wait at the doors of the righteous. The poor is hated even of his own neighbours, but the rich hath many friends. Who so despiseth his neighbour, doth amiss: but blessed is he that hath pity of the poor. They that imagine wickedness, shall be disappointed: but they that muse upon good things, unto such shall happen mercy and faithfulness. Diligent labour bringeth riches, but where many vain words are, truly there is scarceness. Riches are an ornament unto the wise, but the ignorance of fools is very foolishness. A faithful witness delivereth souls, but a liar deceiveth them. The fear of the LORD is a stronghold, for unto his he will be a sure defense. The fear of the LORD is a well of life, to avoid the snares of death. The increase and prosperity of the commons is the king's honour, but the decay of the people is the confusion of the prince. Patience is a to-

v.3 Other: wilbe warre.

ken of wisdom, but wrath and hasty displeasure is a token of 30 foolishness. A merry heart is the life of the body, but rancor 31 consumeth away the bones. He that doth a poor man wrong, blasphemeth his maker: but who so hath pity of the poor, doth 32 honour unto God. The ungodly is afraid of every peril, but the 33 righteous hath a good hope even in death. Wisdom resteth in the heart of him that hath understanding, and he will teach 34 them that are unlearned. Righteousness setteth up the peo-35 ple, but wickedness bringeth folk to destruction. A discreet servant is a pleasure unto the king, but one that is not honest provoketh him unto wrath.

XV A soft answer putteth down displeasure, but froward words 2 provoke unto anger. A wise tongue commendeth knowledge, a 3 foolish mouth babbleth out nothing but foolishness. The eyes of the LORD look on every place, both upon the good and bad.
 4 A wholesome tongue is a tree of life, but he that abuseth it, 5 hath a broken mind. A fool despiseth his father's correction, but he that taketh heed when he is reprov'd, shall have the 6 more understanding. In the house of the righteous are great 7 riches, but in the increase of the ungodly there is disorder.* A wise mouth poureth out knowledge, but the heart of the foolish 8 doth not so. The LORD abhorreth the sacrifice of the ungodly, 9 but the prayer of the righteous is acceptable to him. The way of the ungodly is an abomination unto the LORD, but who so 10 followeth righteousness, him he loveth. He that forsaketh the right street, shall be sore punished: and who so hateth correc-11 tion, falleth into death. The hell with her pain is known to the 12 LORD, how much more then the hearts of men? A scornful body loveth not one that rebuketh him, neither will he come 13 among the wise. A merry heart maketh a cheerful counte-14 nance, but an unquiet mind maketh it heavy. A wise heart will seek after knowledge, but the mouth of fools meddle with 15 foolishness. All the days of the poor are miserable, but a quiet 16 heart is as a continual feast. Better is a little with the fear of the LORD than great treasure, for they are not without sorrow.
 17 Better is a mess of pottage with love, than a fat ox with evil 18 will. An angry man stirreth up strife, but he that is patient 19 stilleth discord. The way of the slothful is full of thorns, but 20 the street of the righteous is well cleansed. A wise son maketh

15. v.6 Other: misordre.

a glad father, but an indiscreet body shameth his mother. A fool rejoiceth in foolish things, but a wise man looketh well to his own goings. Unadvised thoughts shall come to naught, but where as are men that can give counsel, there is stead-fastness. O how joyful a thing is it, a man to give a convenient answer? O how pleasant is a word spoken in due season.
 The way of life leadeth unto heaven, that a man should beware of hell beneath. The LORD will break down the house of the proud, but he shall make fast the borders of the widow.
 The LORD abhorreth the imaginations of the wicked, but pure words are pleasant to him. The covetous man rooteth* up his own house, but who so hateth rewards, shall live. A righteous man museth in his mind how to do good, but the mind of the ungodly imagineth, how he may do harm. The LORD is far from the ungodly, but he heareth the prayer of the righteous. Like as the clearness of the eyes rejoiceth the heart, so doth a good name feed the bones. The ear that harkeneth unto wholesome warning, and enclineth thereto, shall dwell among the wise. He that refuseth to be reformed, despiseth his own soul: but he that submitteth himself to correction, is wise. The fear of the LORD is the right science of wisdom, and lowliness goeth before honour.

A man may well purpose a thing in his heart, but the answer of the tongue cometh of the LORD. A man thinketh all his ways to be clean, but it is the LORD that fashioneth the minds. Commit thy works unto the LORD, and look what thou devisest, it shall prosper. The LORD doth all things for his own sake, yea and when he keepeth the ungodly for the day of wrath. The LORD abhorreth all presumptuous and proud hearts, there may neither strength nor power escape. With loving mercy and faithfulness sins be forgiven, and who so searcheth the LORD eschewth evil. When a man's ways please the LORD, he maketh his very enemies to be his friends. Better is it to have a little thing with righteousness, than great rents wrongously gotten. A man deviseth a way in his heart, but it is the LORD that ordereth his goings. When the prophecy is in the lips of the king, his mouth shall not go wrong in judgement. A true measure and a true balance are the LORD's, he maketh all weights. It is a great abomination v.27 Other: wrutteth.

XVI

when kings are wicked, for a king's seat should be holden up 13 with righteousness. Righteous lips are pleasant unto kings, 14 and they love him that speaketh the truth. The king's displeasure is a messenger of death, but a wise man will pacify 15 him. The cheerful countenance of the king is life, and his lov-16 ing favor is as the evening dew. To have wisdom in possession is better than gold, and to get understanding is more worth 17 than silver. The path of the righteous eschewth evil, and who 18 so looketh well to his ways, keepeth his own soul. Presumptuousness goeth before destruction, and after a proud stomach 19 there followeth a fall. Better it is to be of humble mind with 20 the lowly, than to divide the spoils with the proud. He that handleth a matter wisely, obtaineth good: and blessed is he, 21 that putteth his trust in the LORD. Who so hath a wise understanding is called to counsel: but he that can speak fair, 22 getteth more riches. Understanding is a well of life unto him that hath it, as for the chastening of fools, it is but foolishness.
 23 The heart of the wise enformeth his mouth, and amendeth the 24 doctrine in his lips. Fair words are an honeycomb, a refresh-25 ing of the mind, and health of the bones. There is a way that men think to be right, but the end thereof leadeth unto death.
 26 A troublous soul disquieteth herself, for her own mouth hath 27 brought her thereto. An ungodly person stirreth up evil, and 28 in his lips he is as an hot* burning fire. A froward body causeth strife, and he that is a babble of his tongue, maketh di-29 vision among princes. A wicked man beguileth his neighbour, 30 and leadeth him the way that is not good. He that winketh with his eyes, imagineth mischief: and he that biteth his lips, 31 will do some harm. Age is a crown of worship, if it be found in 32 the way of righteousness. A patient man is better than one* strong: and he that can rule himself, is more worth than he 33 that winneth a city. The lots are cast into the lap, but their fall standeth in the LORD.

XVII Better is a dry morsel with quietness, than a full house 2 and many fat cattle with strife. A discreet servant shall have more rule than the sons that have no wisdom, and shall have 3 like heritage with the brethren. Like as silver is tried in the fire and gold in the furnace, even so doth the LORD prove the 4 hearts. A wicked body holdeth much of false lips, and a dissembling person giveth ear to a deceitful tongue. Who so laugheth the poor to scorn, blasphemeth his maker: and he that is glad of another man's hurt, shall not be unpunished.

Children's children are a worship unto the elders, and the fa- 6 thers are the honour of the children. An eloquent speech 7 becometh not a fool, a dissembling mouth also becometh not a prince. Liberality is a precious stone unto him that hath 8 it, for wheresoever he becometh, he prospereth. Who so cov- 9 ereth another man's offense, seeketh love: but he that disclos-eth the fault, setteth friends at variance. One reproof only 10 doth more good to him that hath understanding, than an hundredth stripes unto a fool. A sedicious person seeketh mis- 11 chief, but a cruel messenger shall be sent against him. It were 12 better to come against a she Bear robbed of her whelps, then against a fool in his foolishness. Who so rewardeth evil for 13 good, the plague shall not depart from his house. He that 14 soweth discord and strife, is like one that diggeth up a water brook: but an open enemy is like the water that breaketh out and runneth* abroad. The LORD hateth as well him that 15 justifieth the ungodly, as him that condemneth the innocent.
What helpeth it to give a fool money in his hand, where as 16 he hath no mind to buy wisdom? He is a friend that alway 17 loveth, and in adversity a man shall know who is his brother.
Who so promiseth by the hand, and is surety for another, he 18 is a fool. He that loveth strife, delighteth in sin: and who 19 so setteth his door too high,* seeketh after a fall. Who so 20 hath a froward heart obtaineth no good: and he that hath an overthwart tongue, shall fall into mischief. An unwise body 21 bringeth himself in to sorrow, and the father of a fool can have no joy. A merry heart maketh a lusty age, but a sorrowful 22 mind drieth up the bones. The ungodly taketh gifts out of 23 the bosom, to wrest the ways of judgment. Wisdom shineth 24 in the face of him that hath understanding, but the eyes of fools wander thorowout all lands. An indiscreet son is a grief 25 unto his father, and an heaviness unto his mother that bare him. To punish the innocent, and to smite the princes that 26 give true judgement, are both evil. He is wise and discreet 27 that tempereth his words: and he is a man of understanding, that maketh much of his spirit. Yea a very fool (when he hold- 28

17. v.14 Other: reneth. v.19 Other: to hye.

eth his tongue) is counted wise, and to have understanding, when he shutteth his lips.

XVIII

Who so hath pleasure to sow discord, picketh a quarrel in every thing. A fool hath no delight in understanding, but only in those things wherein his heart rejoiceth. Where ungodliness is, there is also disdain: and so there followeth shame and dishonour. The words of a man's mouth are like deep waters, and the well of wisdom is like a full stream. It is not good to regard the person of the ungodly, or to put back the righteous in judgment. A fool's lips are ever brawling, and his mouth provoketh unto battle. A fool's mouth is his own destruction, and his lips are the snare for his own soul. The words of a slanderer are very wounds, and go thorow unto the inmost parts of the body. Who so is slothful and slack in his labor, is the brother of him that is a waster. The name of the LORD is a strong castle, the righteous flyeth unto it, and shall be saved. But the rich man's goods are his stronghold, yea he taketh them for an high wall round about him. After pride cometh destruction, and honour after lowliness. He that giveth sentence in a matter before he hear it, is a fool, and worthy to be confounded. A good stomach driveth away a man's disease, but when the spirit is vexed, who may abide it? A wise heart laboureth for knowledge, and a prudent ear seeketh understanding. Liberality bringeth a man to honour and worship, and setteth him among great men. The righteous accuseth himself first of all, if his neighbour come, he shall find him. The lot pacifieth the variance, and parteth the mighty asunder. The unity of brethren is stronger than a castle, and they that hold together are like the bar of a palace. A man's belly shall be satisfied with the fruit of his own mouth, and with the increase of his lips shall he be filled. Death and life stand in the power of the tongue, he that loveth it, shall enjoy the fruit thereof. Whoso findeth a wife findeth a good thing, and receiveth an wholesome benefit of the LORD. The poor maketh supplication and prayeth meekly, but the rich giveth a rough answer. A friend that delighteth in love, doth a man more friendship, and sticketh faster unto him than a brother.

XIX

Better is the poor that liveth godly, than the blasphemers that is but a fool. Where no discretion is, there the soul is not well: and who so is swift on foot, stumbleth hastily. Foolishness maketh a man to go out of his way, and then is his heart unpatient against the LORD. Riches make many friends, but 4 the poor is forsaken of his own friends. A false witness shall 5 not remain unpunished, and he that speaketh lies shall not escape. The multitude hangeth upon great men, and every 6 man favoureth him that giveth rewards. As for the poor, he is 7 hated among all his brethren: yea his own friends forsake him, and he that giveth credence unto words, getteth nothing. He 8 that is wise loveth his own soul: and who so hath understanding, shall prosper. A false witness shall not remain unpun- 9 ished, and he that speaketh lies shall perish. Delicate ease 10 becometh not a fool, much more unseemly is it, a bond man to have the rule of princes. A wise man putteth off displeasure, 11 and it is his honour to let some faults pass. The king's dis- 12 favour is like the roaring of a Lion, but his friendship is like the dew upon the grass. An indiscreet son is the heaviness 13 of his father, and a brauling wife is like the top of an house, where thorow it is ever dropping. House and riches may a 14 man have by the heritage of his elders, but a discreet woman is the gift of the LORD. Slothfulness bringeth sleep, and an idle 15 soul shall suffer hunger. Who so keepeth the commandment, 16 keepeth his own soul: but he that regardeth not his way, shall die. He that hath pity upon the poor, lendeth unto the LORD: 17 and look what he layeth out, it shall be paid him again. Chas- 18 ten thy son while there is hope, but let not thy soul be moved to slay him. For great wrath bringeth harm, therefore let him 19 go, and so mayest thou teach him more nurture. O give ear 20 unto good counsel, and be content to be reformed, that thou mayest be wise here after. There are many devices in a man's 21 heart, nevertheless the counsel of the LORD shall stand.* It 22 is a man's worship to do good, and better it is to be a poor man, than a dissembler. The fear of the LORD preserveth the 23 life, yea it giveth plenteousness, without the visitation of any plague. A slothful body shuteth his hand into his bosom, so 24 that he can not put it to his mouth. If thou smitest a scornful 25 person, the ignorant shall take better heed: and if thou reprovest one that hath understanding, he will be the wiser. He 26 that hurteth his father or shooteth out his mother, is a shameful and an unworthy son. My son heareth no more the doc- 27 trine that leadeth thee away from the words of understanding.

28 A false witness laugheth judgement to scorn, and the mouth of 29 the ungodly eateth up wickedness. Punishments are ordained for the scornful, and stripes for fools' backs.

XX Wine is a voluptuous thing, and drunkenness causes sedi-2 tion: whoso delighteth therein, shall never be wise. The king ought to be feared as the roaring of a lion, whoso provoketh 3 him unto anger, offendeth against his own soul. It is a man's honour to keep himself from strife, but they that have pleasure 4 in brawling, are fools every one. A slothful body will not go to plow for cold, therefore shall he go a begging in Summer and 5 have nothing. Wise counsel in the heart of man is like a water in the deep of the earth, but he that hath understanding 6 bringeth it forth. Many there be that are called good doers, 7 but where shall one find a true faithful man? Who so leadeth a godly and an innocent life, happy shall his children be whom 8 he leaveth behind him. A king that sitteth in judgment, and 9 looketh well about him, driveth away all evil. Who can say: 10 my heart is clean, I am innocent from sin? To use two manner of weights, or two manner of measures, both these are abom-11 inable unto the LORD. A child is known by his conversation, 12 whether his works be pure and right. As for the hearing of the ear and the sight of the eye, the LORD hath made them 13 both. Delight not thou in sleep, lest thou come to poverty: 14 but open thine eyes, and thou shalt have bread enough. It is naught; It is naught, (say men) when they have it, but when 15 it is gone, they give it a good word. A mouth of understanding is more worth than gold, many precious stones, and costly 16 Jewels. Take his garment that is surety for a stranger, and 17 take a pledge of him for the unknown man's sake. Every man liketh the bread that is gotten in deceit, but at the last his 18 mouth shall be filled with gravel. Thorow counsel the things that men devise go forward: and with discretion ought wars to 19 be taken in hand. Meddle not with him that bewrayeth se-20 crets, and is a slanderer,* and deceiveth with his lips. Who so curseth his father and mother, his light shall be put out in the 21 midst of darkness. The heritage that cometh too hastily at 22 the first, shall not be praised at the end. Say not thou: I will recompense evil, but put thy trust in the LORD, and he shall

20. v.19 Other: sclauderer.

defend thee. The LORD abhorreth two manner of weights, and 23 a false balance is an evil thing. The LORD ordereth every 24 man's goings, for what is he, that understandeth his own way?
 It is a snare for a man to blaspheme that which is holy, and 25 then to go about with vows. A wise king destroyeth the un- 26 godly, and bringeth the wheel over them. The lantern of the 27 LORD is the breath of man, and goeth thorow all the inward parts of the body. Mercy and faithfulness preserve the king, 28 and with loving-kindness his seat is holden up. The strength 29 of young men is their worship, and a grey head, is an honour unto the aged. Wounds drive away evil, and so do stripes the 30 inward parts of the body.

The king's heart is in the hand of the LORD, like as are the XXI rivers of water: he may turn it whither soever he will. Every 2 man thinketh his own way to be right, but the LORD judgeth the hearts. To do righteousness and judgment is more accept- 3 able to the LORD than sacrifice. An presumptuous look, a 4 proud stomach, and the lantern of the ungodly is sin. The 5 devices of one that is diligent, bring plenteousness: but he that is unadvised, cometh to poverty. Who so hordeth up riches 6 with the deceitfulness of his tongue, he is a fool, and like unto them that seek their own death. The robberies of the ungodly 7 shall be their own destruction, for they would not do the thing that was right. The ways of the froward are strange, but the 8 works of him that is clean, are right. It is better to dwell in 9 a corner under the housetop, than with a brawling woman in a wide house. The soul of the ungodly wisheth evil, and hath 10 no pity upon his neighbour. When the scornful is punished, 11 the ignorant take the better heed: and when a wise man is warned, he will receive the more understanding. The righ- 12 teous enformeth the house of the ungodly, but the ungodly go on still after their own wickedness. Whoso stoppeth his ear at 13 the crying of the poor, he shall cry himself and not be heard.
 A privy reward pacifieth displeasure, and a gift in the bosom 14 stilleth furriousness. The just delighteth in doing the thing 15 that is right, but the workers of wickedness abhor the same.
 The man that wandereth out of the way of wisdom, shall re- 16 main in the congregation of the dead. He that hath pleasure 17 in banquets,* shall be a poor man: Who so delighteth in wine

21. v.17 Other: banckettes.

18 and delicates, shall not be rich. The ungodly shall be given for 19 the righteous, and the wicked for the just. It is better to dwell 20 in a wilderness, than with a chiding and an angry woman. In a wise man's house there is great treasure and plenteousness, 21 but a foolish body spendeth up all. Who so followeth righteousness and mercy, findeth both life, righteousness and hon-22 our. A wise man winneth the city of the mighty, and as for 23 the strength that they trust in, he bringeth it down. Who so keepeth his mouth and his tongue, the same keepeth his soul 24 from troubles. He that is proud and presumptuous, is called 25 a scornful man, which in wrath dare work maliciously. The voluptuousness of the slothful is his own death, for his hands 26 will not labour. He coveteth and desireth all the day long, but 27 the righteous is alway giving and keepeth nothing back. The sacrifice of the ungodly is abomination, for they offer the thing 28 that is gotten with wickedness. A false witness shall perish, but he that will be content to hear, shall alway have power to 29 speak himself. A ungodly man goeth forth rashly, but the just 30 reformeth his own way. There is no wisdom, there is no un-31 derstanding, there is no counsel against the LORD. The horse is prepared against the day of battle, but the LORD giveth the victory.

XXII A good name is more worth than great riches, and loving 2 favour is better than silver and gold. Whether riches or poverty 3 do meet us, it cometh all of GOD. A wise man seeth the plague and hideth himself, but the foolish go on still and are pun-4 ished. The end of lowliness and the fear of GOD, is riches, 5 honour, prosperity and health. Spears and snares are in the way of the froward, but he that will keep his soul, let him flee 6 from such. If thou teachest a child in his youth what way he 7 should go, he shall not leave it when he is old. The rich ruleth 8 the poor, and the borrower is servant to the lender. He that soweth wickedness shall reap sorrow, and the rod of his plague 9 shall destroy him. A loving eye shall be blessed, for he giveth 10 of his bread unto the poor. Cast out the scornful man, and so shall strife go out with him, yea variance and slander* shall 11 cease. Who so delighteth to be of a clean heart and of gra-12 cious lips, the king shall be his friend. The eyes of the LORD preserve knowledge, but as for the words of the despiteful, he

22. v.10 Other: sclaunder.

bringeth them to naught. The slothful body sayeth: There 13 is a lion* without, I might be slain in the street. The mouth 14 of an harlot is a deep pit, wherein he falleth that the LORD is angry withal. Foolishness sticketh in the heart of the lad, 15 but the rod of correction driveth it away. Who so doth a poor 16 man wrong to increase his own riches, giveth (commonly) unto the rich, and at the last cometh to poverty himself. My son, 17 bow down thine ear, and harken unto the words of wisdom, ap- 18 ply thy mind unto my doctrine: for it is a pleasant thing if 19 thou keep it in thine heart, and practice it in thy mouth: that 20 thou mayest alway put thy trust in the LORD. Have not I 21 warned thee very oft with counsel and learning? That I might 22 shew thee the truth and that thou with the verity mightest answer them that lay anything against thee? See that thou rob 22 not the poor because he is weak, and oppress not the simple in judgement: for the LORD himself will defend their cause, 23 and do violence unto them that have used violence. Make no 24 friendship with an angry willful man, and keep no company with the furious: lest thou learn his ways, and receive hurt 25 unto thy soul. Be not thou one of them that bind their hand 26 upon promise, and are surety for debt: for if thou hast nothing to pay, they shall take away thy bed from under thee. Thou 27 shalt not remove the landmark, which thy fore elders have set. 28 Seest thou not, that they which be diligent in their business stand before kings, and not among the simple people? 29

When thou sittest at the table to eat with a lord, order thy- XXIII self mannerly with the things that are set before thee. Mea- 2 sure thine appetite: and if thou wilt rule thy own self, be 3 not over greedy of his meat, for meat beguileth and deceiveth.
 Take not over great travail and labour to be rich, beware of 4 such a purpose. Why wilt thou set thine eye upon the thing, 5 which suddenly vanisheth away? For riches make themselves wings, and take their flight like an Aegle into the air. Eat 6 not thou with the envious, and desire not his meat, for he 7 hath a marvelous heart. He sayeth unto thee: eat and drink, whereas his heart is not with thee. Yea the morsels that thou 8 hast eaten shalt thou perbreak and loose* those sweet words.
 Tell nothing into the ears of a fool, for he will despise the wis- 9 dom of thy words. Remove not the old landmark, and come 10 11 not within the field of the fatherless. For he that delivereth them is mighty, even he shall defend their cause against thee.

 12 Apply thine heart unto learning, and thine ear to the words 13 of knowledge. Withhold not correction from the child, for if 14 thou beatest him with the rod, he shall not die thereof. Thou smitest him with the rod, but thou deliverest his soul from 15 hell. My son, if thy heart receive wisdom, my heart also shall 16 rejoice: yea my reins shall be very glad, if thy lips speak the 17 thing that is right. Let not thine heart be jealous to follow sinners, but keep thee still in the fear of the LORD all the day 18 long: For the end is not yet come and thy patient abiding shall 19 not be in vain. My son, give ear and be wise, so shall thine 20 heart prosper in the way. Keep no company with winebib-21 bers and riotous eaters of flesh: for such as be drunkards and riotous shall come to poverty, and he that is given to much 22 sleep, shall go with a ragged coat. Give ear unto thy father that begat thee, and despise not thy mother when she is old.
 23 Labour for to get the truth: sell not away wisdom, nurture and 24 understanding, for a righteous father is marvelous glad of a 25 wise son, and delighteth in him, so shall thy father be glad, 26 and thy mother that bare thee, shall rejoice. My son, give me 27 thine heart, and let thine eyes have pleasure in my ways. For 28 an whore is a deep grave, and an harlot is a narrow pit. She lurketh like a thief, and those that be not aware* she bringeth 29 unto her. Where is woe? where is sorrow? where is strife? where is brawling? where are wounds without cause? where 30 be reed eyes? Even among those that be ever at the wine, and 31 seek out where the best is. Look not thou upon the wine, how 32 red it is, and what a color it giveth in the glass. It goeth down softly, but at the last it biteth like a serpent, and stingeth as 33 an adder. So shall thine eyes look unto strange women, and 34 thine heart shall muse upon froward things. Yea thou shalt be as though thou slept in the midst of the sea, or on the top 35 of the mast. They wounded me (shalt thou say) but it hath not hurt me, they smote me, but I felt it not. When I am well awakened, I will go to the drink again.

XXIV Be not thou jealous over wicked men, and desire not thou 2 to be among them. For their heart imagineth to do hurt, and 3 their lips talk of mischief. Thorow wisdom an house shall be v.28 Other: awarre.

builded, and with understanding it shall be set up. Thorow 4 discretion shall the chambers be filled with all costly and pleas- 5 ant riches. A wise man is strong, yea a man of understanding 5 is better than he that is mighty of strength. For with dis- 6 cretion must wars be taken in hand, and where as are many 6 that can give counsel, there is the victory. Wisdom is an high 7 thing, yea even to the fool, for he dare not open his mouth in 7 the gate. He that imagineth mischief, may well be called an 8 ungracious person. The thought of the foolish is sin, and the 9 scornful is an abomination unto men. If thou be oversene and 10 negligent in time of need, then is thy strength but small. De- 11 liver them that go unto death, and are led away to be slain, 11 and be not negligent therein. If thou wilt say: I knew not of 12 it; Thinkest thou that he which made the hearts, doth not con- 12 sider it? And that he which regardeth thy soul, seeth it not?
 Shall not he recompense every man according to his works?
 My son, thou eatest honey and the sweet honeycomb, because 13 it is good and sweet in thy mouth. Even so shall the knowl- 14 edge of wisdom be unto thy soul, as soon as thou hast gotten it.
 And there is good hope, yea thy hope shall not be in vain. Lay 15 no privy wait wickedly upon the house of the righteous, and 15 disquiet not his resting place. For a just man falleth seven 16 times, and riseth up again, but the ungodly fall into wicked- 16 ness. Rejoice not thou at the fall of thine enemy, and let not 17 thine heart be glad when he stumbleth. Lest the LORD when 18 he seeth it, be angry, and turn his wrath from him unto thee.
 Let not thy wrath and jealousy move thee, to follow the wicked 19 and ungodly. And why? the wicked hath nothing to hope for, 20 and the candle of the ungodly shall be put out. My son, fear 21 thou the LORD and the king, and keep no company with the slanderous.* For their destruction shall come suddenly, and 22 who knoweth the fall of them both? These are also the say- 23 ings of the wise. It is not good to have respect of any person in judgment. He that sayeth unto the ungodly: Thou art righ- 24 teous, him shall the people curse, yea the comity shall abhor him. But they that rebuke the ungodly shall be commended, 25 and a rich blessing shall come upon them. He maketh himself 26 to be well loved, that giveth a good answer. First make up thy 27 work that is without, and look well unto that which thou hast

24. v.21 Other: sclauderous.

28 in the field, and then build thine house. Be no false witness 29 against thy neighbour, and hurt him not with thy lips. Say not: I will handle him, even as he hath dealt with me, and will 30 reward every man according to his deeds. I went by the field 31 of the slothful, and by the vineyards of the foolish man. And lo, it was all covered with nettles, and stood full of thistles, and 32 the stone wall was broken down. This I saw, and considered 33 it well: I looked upon it, and took it for a warning. Yea sleep on still a little, slumber a little, fold thine hands together yet a 34 little: so shall poverty come unto thee as one that travaileth by the way, and necessity like a weaponed man.

XXV These also are the sayings* of Solomon, which the men of 2 Hezekiah king of Judah gathered together. It is the honour of God to keep a thing secret, but the king's honour is to search 3 out a thing. The heaven is high, the earth is deep, and the 4 kings' heart is unsearchable. Take the dross from the silver, 5 and there shall be a clean vessel thereof. Take away ungodliness from the king, and his seat shall be stablished with righ-6 teousness. Put not forth thyself in the presence of the king, 7 and prease not into the place of great men. Better it is that it be said unto thee: Come up hither, than thou to be set down in the presence of the prince whom thou seest with thine eyes.
 8 Be not hasty to go to the law, lest happily thou order thyself so 9 that at the last, that thy neighbour put thee to shame. Handle thy matter with thy neighbour himself, and discover not 10 another man's secret: lest when men hear thereof, it turn to 11 thy dishonour, and lest thine evil name do not cease. A word spoken in due season, is like apples of gold in a silver dish.
 12 The correction of the wise is to an obedient ear, a golden chain 13 and a Jewel of gold. Like as the winter cool in the harvest, so is a faithful messenger to him that sent him, and refresheth his 14 master's mind. Whoso maketh great boasts and giveth noth-15 ing, is like clouds and wind without rain. With patience may a prince be pacified, and with a soft tongue may rigorousness be 16 broken. If thou findest honey, eat so much as is sufficient for 17 thee: lest thou be over full, and perbreak it out again. Withdraw thy foot from thy neighbour's house, lest he be weary of 18 thee, and so abhor thee. Who so beareth false witness against his neighbour, he is a very spear, a sword, and a sharp arrow.

25. v.1 Other: proverbs.

The hope of the ungodly in time of need, is like a rotten tooth 19 and a slippery foot. Who so singeth a song to a wicked heart, 20 clotheth him with rags in the cold, and poureth vinegar upon chalk. If thine enemy hunger, feed him: if he thirst, give him 21 drink: For so shalt thou heap coals of fire upon his head, and 22 the LORD shall reward thee. The north wind driveth away the 23 rain, even so doth an earnest sober countenance a backbiter's tongue. It is better to sit in a corner under the roof, than with 24 a brawling woman in a wide house. A good report out of a far 25 country, is like cold water to a thirsty soul. A righteous man 26 falling down before the ungodly, is like a troubled well and a spring that is destroyed. Like as it is not good to eat too much 27 honey, even so he that will search out high things, it shall be too heavy for him. He that can not rule himself, is like a city 28 which is broken down, and hath no walls.

Like as snow is not mete in summer, nor rain in harvest: XXVI even so is worship unseemly for a fool. Like as the bird, and 2 the swallow take their flight and flee here and there, so the curse that is given in vain, shall not light upon a man. Unto 3 the horse belongeth a whip, to the Ass a bridle, and a rod to the fool's back. Give not the fool an answer after his foolish- 4 ness, lest thou become like unto him: but make the fool an 5 answer to his foolishness, lest he be wise in his own conceit.
 He is lame of his feet, yea drunken is he in vanity, that com- 6 mitteth anything to a fool. Like as it is an unseemly thing 7 to have legs and yet to halt, even so is a parable in the fool's mouth. He that setteth a fool in high dignity, that is even as 8 if a man did cast a precious stone upon the galous. A parable 9 in a fools mouth is like a thorn that pricketh a drunken man in the hand. A man of experience discerneth all things well, 10 but whoso hireth a fool, hireth such one as will take no heed.
 Like as the dog turneth again to his vomit, even so a fool be- 11 ginneth his foolishness again afresh. If thou seest a man that 12 is wise in his own conceit, there is more hope in a fool than in him. The slothful sayeth: There is a leopard in the way, 13 and a lion in the midst of the streets. Like as the door tur- 14 neth about upon the threshold, even so doth the slothful welter himself in his bed. The slothful body thrusteth his hand into 15 his bosom, and it grieveth him to put it again to his mouth.
 The sluggard thinketh himself wiser, then seven men that sit 16

17 and teach. Who so goeth by and meddleth with other men's 18 strife, he is like one that taketh a dog by the ears. Like as one shooteth deadly arrows and darts out of a privy place, even so 19 doth a dissembler with his neighbour. And then sayeth he:
 20 I did it but in sport. Where no wood is, there the fire goeth out: and where the backbiter is taken away, there the strife 21 ceaseth. Coals kindle heat, and wood the fire: even so doth a 22 brawling fellow stir up variance. A slanderer's words are like 23 flattery, but they pierce the inward parts of the body. Venomous lips and a wicked heart are like a potsherd covered with 24 silver dross. An enemy dissembleth with his lips, and in the 25 mean season he imagineth mischief: but when he speaketh fair, believe him not, for there are seven abominations in his 26 heart. Who so keepeth evil will, secretly to do hurt, his mal-27 ice shall be shewed before the whole congregation. Who so diggeth up a pit, shall fall therein: and he that weltereth a 28 stone, shall stumble upon it himself. A dissembling tongue hateth one that rebuketh him, and a flattering mouth worketh mischief.

XXVII Make not thy boast* of to morrow, for thou knowest not what 2 may happen to day. Let another man praise thee, and not 3 thine own mouth: yea other folk's lips and not thine. The stone is heavy, and the sand weighty: but a fool's wrath is heav-4 ier than they both. Wrath is a cruel thing, and furiousness 5 is a very tempest: yea who is able to abide envy? An open 6 rebuke is better than secret love. Faithful are the wounds of a 7 lover, but the kisses of an enemy are deceitful. He that is full, abhorreth an honeycomb: but unto him that is hungry, every 8 sour thing is sweet. He that oft times flitteth, is like a bird 9 that forsaketh her nest. The heart is glad of a sweet ointment and savour, but a stomach that can give good counsel, rejoiceth 10 a man's neighbour. Thine own friend, and thy father's friend, see thou forsake not, but go not into thy brother's house in time of thy trouble. Better is a friend at hand than a brother far off.
 11 My son, be wise, and thou shalt make me a glad heart: so that I 12 shall make answer unto my rebukers. A wise man seeing the plague will hide himself, as for fools they go on still, and suffer 13 harm. Take his garment that is surety for a stranger, and take 14 a pledge of him for the unknown man's sake. He that is too

27. v.1 Other: boost.

hasty to praise his neighbour above measure, shall be taken as one that giveth him an evil report. A brawling woman and 15 the roof of the house dropping in a rainy day, may well be compared together. He that refraineth her, refraineth the wind, 16 and holdeth oil fast in his hand. Like as one iron wheteth another, so doth one man comfort another. Who so keepeth his 17 fig tree, shall enjoy the fruits thereof: he that waiteth upon his master, shall come to honour. Like as in one water there ap- 18 pear divers faces, even so divers men have divers hearts. Like as hell and destruction are never full, even so the eyes of men 19 can never be satisfied. Silver is tried in the mould, and gold 20 in the furnace, and so is a man, when he is openly praised to his face. Though thou shouldest bray a fool with a pedestal in 22 a mortar like oatmeal, yet will not his foolishness go from him.
 See that thou know the number of thy cattle thy self, and look 23 well to thy flocks. For riches abide not away, and the crown 24 endureth not for ever. The hay groweth, the grass cometh up, 25 and herbs are gathered in the mountains. The lambs shall 26 clothe thee, and for the goats thou shalt have money to thy husbandry. Thou shalt have goats' milk enough to feed thee, 27 to uphold thy household, and to sustain thy maidens.

The ungodly fleeth* no man chasing him, but the righteous XXVIII standeth stiff as a lion. Because of sin the land doth oft change 2 her prince: but thorow men of understanding and wisdom a realm endureth long. One poor man oppressing another by vi- 3 olence, is like a continual rain that destroyeth the fruit. They 4 that forsake the law, praise the ungodly: but such as keep the law, abhor them. Wicked men discern not the thing that is 5 right, but they that seek after the LORD, discuss all things. A 6 poor man leading a godly life, is better than the rich that goeth in froward ways. Whoso keepeth the law, is a child of under- 7 standing: but he that feedeth riotous men, shameth his father.
 Who so increaseth his riches by vantage and winning, let him 8 gather them to help the poor withal. He that turneth away his 9 ear from hearing the law, his prayer shall be abhorred. Who 10 so leadeth the righteous in to an evil way, shall fall into his own pit, but the just shall have the good in possession. The rich 11 man thinketh himself to be wise, but the poor that hath understanding, can perceive him well enough. When righteous 12

28. v.1 Other: flyeth.

men are in prosperity, then doth honour flourish: but when the 13 ungodly come up, the state of men changeth. He that hideth his sins, shall not prosper: but who so knowledgeth them and 14 forsaketh them, shall have mercy. Well is him that standeth alway in awe: as for him that hardeneth his heart, he shall 15 fall into mischief. Like as a roaring lion and an hungry bear, 16 even so is an ungodly prince over the poor people. Where the prince is without understanding, there is great oppression and wrong: but if he be such one as hateth covetousness, he shall 17 long reign. He that by violence sheddeth any man's blood, shall be a runagate unto his grave, and no man shall be able to 18 succor him. Who so leadeth a godly and an innocent life, shall be safe: but he that goeth froward ways, shall once have a fall.
 19 He that tilleth his land, shall have plenteousness of bread: but 20 he that followeth idleness, shall have poverty enough. A faithful man is greatly to be commended, but he that maketh too 21 much haste for to be rich, shall not be unguilty. To have respect of persons in judgement is not good: And why? he will 22 do wrong, yea even for a piece of bread. He that will be rich all too soon, hath an evil eye, and considereth not that poverty 23 shall come upon him. He that rebuketh a man, shall find more 24 favour at the last, than he that flattereth him. Who so robbeth his father and mother, and sayeth it is no sin: the same is like 25 unto a murderer. He that is of a proud stomach, stirreth up strife: but he that putteth his trust in the LORD, shall be well 26 fed. He that trusteth in his own heart, is a fool: but he that 27 dealeth wisely, shall be safe. He that giveth unto the poor, shall not want: but he that turneth away his eyes from such 28 as be in necessity, shall suffer great poverty himself. When the ungodly are come up, men are fain to hide themselves: but when they perish, the righteous increase.

XXIX

He that is stiff necked and will not be reformed, shall sud-2 denly be destroyed without any help. Where the righteous have the over hand, the people are in prosperity: but where 3 the ungodly beareth rule, there the people mourn. Who so loveth wisdom, maketh his father a glad man: but he that 4 keepeth harlots, spendeth away that he hath. With true judgment the king setteth up the land, but he be a man that taketh 5 gifts, he turneth it upside down. Who so flattereth his neigh-6 bour, layeth a net for his feet. The sin of the wicked is his own snare, but the righteous shall be glad and rejoice. The 7 righteous considereth the cause of the poor, but the ungodly 8 regardeth no understanding. Wicked people bring a city in 8 decay, but wise men set it up again. If a wise man go to law 9 with a fool (whether he deal with him friendly or roughly) he 9 getteth no rest. The bloodthirsty hate the righteous, but the 10 just seek his soul. A fool poureth out his spirit altogether, but 11 a wise man keepeth it in till afterward. If a prince delight 12 in lies, all his servants are ungodly. The poor and the lender 13 meet* together, the LORD lighteneth both their eyes. The seat 14 of the king that faithfully judgeth the poor, shall continue sure 14 for ever more. The rod and correction minister wisdom, but 15 if a child be not looked unto, he bringeth his mother to shame.

 When the ungodly come up, wickedness increaseth: but the 16 righteous shall see their fall. Nurture thy son with correc- 17 tion, and he shall comfort thee, yea he shall do the good at 17 thine heart. Where no Prophet is, there the people perish: 18 but well is him that keepeth the law. A servant will not be 19 the better for words, for though he understand, yet will he not 19 regard them. If thou seest a man that is hasty to speak un- 20 advised, thou mayest trust a fool more than him. He that deli- 21 cately bringeth up his servant from a child, shall make him 21 his master at length. An angry man stirreth up strife, and 22 he that beareth evil will in his mind, doth much evil. Af- 23 ter pride cometh a fall, but a lowly spirit bringeth great wor- 23 ship. Who so keepeth company with a thief, hateth his own 24 soul: he heareth blasphemies, and telleth it not forth. He that 25 feareth men, shall have a fall: but whoso putteth his trust in 25 the LORD shall come to honour. Many there be that seek the 26 prince's favour, but every man's judgement cometh from the 26 LORD. The righteous abhorreth the ungodly: but as for those 27 that be in the right way, the wicked hate them.

The words of Agur the son of Jakeh. The prophecy of a XXX true faithful man, whom God hath helped, whom God had* comforted and nourished. For though I am the least of all, 2 and have no man's understanding (for I never learned wis- 3 dom) yet have I understanding, and am well informed in godly 3 things. Who hath climbed up into heaven? Who hath come 4 down from thence? Who hath holden the wind fast in his hand? 4

Who hath comprehended the waters in a garment? Who hath set all the ends of the world? What is his name, or his son's name? Canst thou tell? All the words of God are pure and clean, for he is a shield unto all them that put their trust in him. Put thou nothing therefore unto his words, lest he reprove thee, and thou be found as a liar. Two things I require of thee, that thou will not deny me before I die. Remove from me vanity and lies: give me neither poverty nor riches, only grant me a necessary living. Lest I be so full, I deny thee, and say: What fellow is the LORD? And lest I being constrained thorow poverty, fall unto stealing, and foreswear the name of my God. Accuse not a servant unto his master, lest he speak evil of thee also, and thou be hurt. He that bringeth up an evil report upon the generation of his father and mother, is not worthy to be commended. The generation that think themselves clean, shall not be cleansed from their filthiness. There are people that have a proud look, and cast up their eyelids. This peoples teeth are swords, and with their chaff bones they consume and devour the simple of the earth, and the poor from among men. This generation which is like an horseleach, hath two daughters: the one is called fetch hither, and the other bring hither. There be three things that are never satisfied, and the fourth sayeth never hoo. The hell, a woman's womb, and the earth hath never water enough. As for fire, it sayeth never, hoo. Who so laugheth his father to scorn, and setteth his mother's commandment at naught: the ravens pick out his eyes in the valley, and devoured be he of the young Aegles. There be three things too high for me, and as for the fourth, it passeth my knowledge. The way of an Aegle in the air, the way of a serpent over a * stone, the way of a ship in the sea, and the way of a man with a young woman. Such is the way also of a wife that breaketh wedlock, which wipeth her mouth like as when she hath eaten, and sayeth: As for me, I have done no harm. Thorow three things the earth is disquieted, and the fourth may it not bear: thorow a servant that beareth rule, thorow a fool that hath great riches, thorow an idle housewife, and thorow an handmaiden that is heir to her mistress. There be four things in the earth, the which are very little: but in wisdom they exceed the wise. The

v.19 Other: the.

Emmettes are but a weak people, yet gather they their meat together in the harvest. The conies are but a feeble folk, yet 26 make they their couches among the rocks. The grasshoppers 27 have not a guide, yet go they forth together by heaps. The 28 spider laboureth with her hands, and that in the kings' palace.
 There be three things that go stiffly, but the going of the fourth 29 is the goodliest of all. A Lion which is king of beasts, and 30 giveth place to no man: A cock ready to fight: A ram: and 31 a king that goeth forth with his people. If thou be so foolish 32 to magnify thyself, or meddlest with any such thing, then lay thine hand upon thy mouth. Who so churneth milk, maketh 33 butter: he that rubbeth his nose, maketh it bleed: and he that causeth wrath, bringeth forth strife.

The* words of king Lemuel, and the Prophecy* that his mother XXXI taught him. My son, thou son of my body: O my dear beloved 2 son, give not over thy substance and mind unto women, which 3 are the destruction even of kings. O Lamuel, give kings no 4 wine, give kings and princes no strong drink: Lest they be- 5 ing drunken forget the law, and regard not the cause of the poor, and of all such as be in adversity. Give strong drink 6 unto such as are condemned to death, and wine unto those that mourne: that they may drink it, and forget their mis- 7 ery and adversity. Be thou an advocate and stand in judge- 8 ment thyself, to speak for all such as be dumb and sucour-less. With thy mouth defend the thing that is lawful and right, 9 and the cause of the poor and helpless. (Aleph) Who so find- 10 eth an honest faithful woman, she is much more worth than pearls.* (Beth) The heart of her husband may safely trust in 11 her, so that he shall have no need of spoils.* (Gimel) She will 12 do him good and not evil all the days of her life.* (Daleth) 13 She occupieth wool and flax, and laboureth gladly with her hands.* (He) She is like the merchants' ship, that bringeth 14 her vitailles from afar.* (Vav) She is up in the night season, 15 to provide meat for her household, and food for her maidens.*

31. v.1 Other: These are the. v.1 Other: lesson. v.10 Other: A woman of power and verity, if a man could find: the value of her were far above pearls. v.11 Other: The heart of her husband trusteth in her, that he needeth not spoils. v.12 Other: She rendereth him good and not evil all the days of her life. v.13 Other: She sought wool and flax and did as her hands served her. v.14 Other: She is like a merchant's ship that bringeth her vitailles from far. v.15 Other: She riseth ere day and giveth meat to her household, and food to her maidens.

16 (Zain) She considereth land, and buyeth it, with the fruit of her 17 hands she planteth a vineyard.* (Heth) She girdeth her loins 18 with strength, and courageth her arms.* (Teth) And if she 19 perceiveth that her housewifery doth good, her candle goeth 20 not out by night.* (Yod) She layeth her fingers to the spindle, 21 and her hand taketh hold of the rock.* (Caph) She openeth 22 her hand to the poor, yea she stretcheth forth her hands to 23 such as have need.* (Lamed) She feareth not that the cold 24 of winter shall hurt her house, for all her household folks are 25 double clothed.* (Mem) She maketh herself fair ornaments, 26 her clothing is white silk and purple.* (Nun) Her husband is 27 much set by in the gates, when he sitteth among the rulers of 28 the land.* (Samech) She maketh cloth of silk and selleth it, 29 and delivereth a girdle unto the merchant.* (Ain) Strength 30 and honour is her clothing, and in the latter day she shall 31 rejoice.* (Phe) She openeth her mouth with wisdom, and in her tongue is the law of grace.* (Zade) She looketh well to the ways of her household, and eateth not her bread with idleness.*
 (Koph) Her children arise, and call her blessed: and her husband maketh much of her.* (Res) Many daughters there be that gather riches together, but thou goest above them all.*
 (Sin) As for favor, it is deceitful, and beauty is vain thing: but a woman that feareth the LORD, she is worthy to be praised.*
 (Thau) Give her of the fruit of her hands, and let her own works praise her in the gates.

v.16 Other: She considered a ground and bought it, and of the fruit of her hands planted a vine. v.17 Other: She girt her loins with strength and couraged her arms.

v.18 Other: She perceived that her housewifery was profitable, and therefore did not put out her candle by night. v.19 Other: She set her fingers to the spindle, and her hands caught hold on the distaff. v.20 Other: She opened her hand to the poor, and stretched out her hands to the needy. v.21 Other: She feared not lest the cold of snow should hurt her house, for all her household were double-clothed. v.22 Other: She made her gay ornaments, of byss and purple was her apparel. v.23 Other: Her husband was had in honour in the gates, as he sat with the elders of the land. v.24 Other: She made linen and sold it, and delivered a girdle to the merchant. v.25 Other: Strength and glory were her raiment, and she laughed in the latter days. v.26 Other: She opened her mouth with wisdom, and the law of righteousness was on her tongue. v.27 Other: She had an eye to her household and ate not bread idly. v.28 Other: Her children arose and blessed her, and her husband commended her. v.29 Other: Many daughters have done excellently but thou hast passed them all. v.30 Other: Favour is a deceivable thing, and beauty is vanity. But a woman that feareth GOD, she shall be praised.

The end of the Proverbs of Salomon.

Ecclesiastes;

or, the preacher.

I  hese are the words of the Preacher, the son of David,
2  king of Jerusalem. All is but vanity (sayeth the Preacher) 3 all is but plain vanity. For what else hath a man, of 4 all the labor that he taketh under the Sun? One gener-5 ation passeth away, another cometh, but the earth abideth 6 still. The Son ariseth, the son goeth down, and returneth to 7 his place, that he may there rise up again. The wind goeth 8 toward the South, and fetcheth his compass about unto the 9 North, and so turneth in to himself again. All floods run into 10 the sea, and yet the sea is not filled: for look unto what place 11 the waters run, thence they come again. All things are so 12 hard, that no man can express them. The eye is not satisfied 13 with sight, the ear is not filled with hearing. The thing that 14 hath been, cometh to pass again: and the thing that hath been 15 done, is done again, there is no new thing under the Sun. Is 16 there any thing, whereof it may be said: Lo, this is new? For it 17 was long ago in the times that have been before us. The thing 18 that is past, is out of remembrance: Even so the things that are for to come, shall no more be thought upon among them that come after. I myself the Preacher, being king of Israel and Jerusalem, applied my mind to seek out and search for the knowledge of all things that are done under heaven. Such travail and labor hath God given to the children of men, to exercise themselves therein. Thus I have considered all the things that come to pass under the Sun, and lo, they are all but vanity and vexation of mind. The crooked can not be made straight, and the faults can not be numbered. I communed* with mine own heart, saying: Lo, I am come to a great estate, and have gotten more wisdom, than all they that have been before me in Jerusalem. Yea, my heart had great experience of wisdom and knowledge, for there unto I applied my mind: that I might know what were wisdom and understanding, what were error and foolishness. And I perceived that this also was but a vexation of mind: For where much wisdom is, there is also great travail and disquietness: and the more knowledge a man hath,

1. v.16 Other: comoned.

the more is his care.

Then said I thus in my heart: Now go to, I will take mine II ease and have good days. But lo, that was vanity also: in so 2 much that I said unto laughter: thou art mad, and to mirth: What doest thou? So I thought in my heart, to withdraw my 3 flesh from wine, to apply my mind unto wisdom, and to comprehend foolishness until the time that among all the things which are under the Sun, I might see what were best for men to do, so long as they live under heaven. I made gorgeous 4 fair works. I builded me houses, and planted vineyards. I 5 made me orchards and gardens of pleasure, and planted trees in them of all manner fruits. I made pools of water, to wa- 6 ter the green and fruitful trees withal. I bought servants and 7 maidens, and had a great household. As for cattle and sheep, I had more substance of them, then all they that were before me in Jerusalem. I gathered silver and gold together, even a 8 treasure of kings and lands. I provided me singers and women which could play of instruments, to make man mirth and pastime. I gat me drinking cups also and glasses. Shortly, I was 9 greater and in more worship, than all my predecessors in Jerusalem. For wisdom remained with me: And look whatsoever 10 mine eyes desired, I let them have it: and wherein soever my heart delighted, or had any pleasure, I withheld it not from it. Thus my heart rejoiced in all that I did, and this I took for the portion of all my travail. But when I considered all 11 the works that my hands had wrought, and all the labours that I had taken therein: Lo, all was vanity and vexation of mind, and nothing of any value under the Sun. Then turned 12 I me to consider wisdom, error and foolishness, for what is he among men, that might be compared to me the king in such work? And I saw that wisdom excelleth foolishness, as far as 13 light doth darkness. For a wise man beareth his eyes about in 14 his head, but the fool goeth in the darkness. I perceived also that they both had one end. Then thought I in my mind: If 15 it happeneth unto the fool as it doth unto me, what needeth me then to labour any more for wisdom? So I confessed within my heart, that this also was but vanity. For the wise are ever 16 as little in remembrance as the foolish, and all the days for to come shall be forgotten, yea the wise man dieth as well as the fool. Thus began I to be weary of my life, in so much that I 17 could away with nothing that is done under the Sun, for all 18 was but vanity and vexation of mind: Yea I was weary of all my labour, which I had taken under the Sun, because I should be fain to leave them unto another man, that cometh after me 19 for who knoweth, whether he shall be a wise man or a fool?

And yet shall he be lord of all my labours, which I with such wisdom have taken under the Sun. Is not this a vain thing?
20 So I turned me to refrain my mind from all such travail, as I 21 took under the Sun: For so much as a man should weary himself with wisdom, with understanding and opportunity, and yet be fain to leave his labours unto another, that never sweat for 22 them. This is also a vain thing and a great misery. For what getteth a man of all the labor and travail of his mind, that he 23 taketh under the Sun, but heaviness, sorrow and disquietness all the days of his life? In so much that his heart can not rest 24 in the night. Is not this also a vain thing? Is it not better then for a man to eat and drink, and his soul to be merry in 25 his labour? Yea I saw that this also was a gift of God: For who may eat, drink, or bring anything to pass without him? And 26 why? He giveth unto man, what it pleaseth him: whether it be wisdom, understanding, or gladness. But unto the sinner he giveth weariness and sorrow, that he may gather and heap together the thing, that afterward shall be given unto him whom it pleaseth God. This is now a vain thing, yea a very disquietness and vexation of mind.

III Every thing hath a time, yea all that is under the heaven, 2 hath his convenient season. There is a time to be born, and a time to die. there is a time to plant, and a time to pluck up 3 the thing, that is planted: A time to slay, and a time to make 4 whole: A time to break down, and a time to build up: A time to weep, and a time to laugh: A time to mourn, and a time 5 to dance: A time to cast away stones, and a time to gather stones together: A time to embrace, and a time to refrain from 6 embracing: A time to win, and a time to lese: A time to spare, 7 and a time to spend: A time to cut in pieces, and a time to 8 sew together: A time to keep silence, and a time to speak: A time to love, and a time to hate: A time of war, and a time of 9 peace. What hath a man else (that doth anything) but weariness 10 and labour? For as touching the travail and carefulness which God hath given unto men, I see that he hath given it them, to be exercised in it. All this hath he ordained marvelous goodly, to every thing his due time. He hath planted* ignorance also in the hearts of men, that they should not find out the ground of his works, which he doth from the beginning to the end. So I perceived, that in these things there is nothing better for a man, then to be merry and to do well so long as he liveth. For all that a man eateth and drinketh, yea what soever a man enjoyeth of all his labor, the same is a gift of God. I considered also that whatsoever God doth, it continueth for ever, and that nothing can be put unto it, nor taken from it: And that God doth it to the intent, that men should fear him. The thing that hath been, is now: and the thing that is for to come, hath been afore time, for God restoreth again the thing that was past. Moreover, I saw under the sun ungodliness in the stead of judgment, and iniquity in stead of righteousness. Then thought I in my mind: God shall separate the righteous from the ungodly, and then shall be the time and judgement of all counsels and works. I communed* with mine own heart also concerning the children of men: how God hath chosen them, and yet letteth them appear as though they were beasts: For it happeneth unto men as it doth unto beasts, and as the one dieth, so dieth the other: yea they have both one manner of breath, so that (in this) a man hath no preeminence above a beast, but all are subdued unto vanity. They go all unto one place, for as they be all of dust, so shall they all turn unto dust again. Who knoweth the spirit of man that goeth upward, and the breath of the beast that goeth down into the earth? Wherefore I perceive, that there is nothing better for a man, than to be joyful in his labour, for that is his portion. But who will bring him to see the thing that shall come after him?

So I turned me, and considered all the violent wrong that is done under the Sun: and behold the tears of such as were oppressed, and there was no man to comfort them or that would deliver and defend them from the violence of their oppressors. Wherefore I judged those that are dead, to be more happy than such as be alive: Yea him that is yet unborn to be better at ease then they both, because he seeth not the miserable works that are done under the Sun. Again, I saw that all travail and diligence of labour was hated of every man. This is also a

3. v.11 Other: plated. v.18 Other: comoned.

5 vain thing, and a vexation of mind. The fool foldeth his hands 6 together, and eateth up his own flesh. One handful (sayeth he) is better with rest, then both the hands full with labor and 7 travail. Moreover, I turned me, and behold yet another vanity 8 under the Son. There is one man, no more but himself alone, having neither child nor brother: yet is there no end of his careful travail, his eyes can not be satisfied with riches, (yet doth he not remember himself, and say:) For whom do I take such travail? For whose pleasure do I thus consume away my life?
9 This is also a vain and miserable thing. Therefore two are better than one, for they may well enjoy the profit of their labour.
10 If one of them fall, his companion helpeth him up again: But woe is him that is alone, for if he fall, he hath not another to 11 help him up. Again, when two sleep together, they are warm: 12 but how can a body be warm alone? One may be overcome, but two may make resistance: A threefold cable is not lightly 13 broken. A poor child being wise, is better than an old king, 14 that doteth, and can not beware in time to come. Someone cometh out of prison, and is made a king: and another which 15 is born in the kingdom, cometh unto poverty. And I perceived, that all men living under the Son, go with the second child, 16 that cometh up in the stead of the other. As for the people that have been before him, and that come after him, they are innumerable: yet is not their joy the greater thorow him. This is also a vain thing and a vexation of mind.

V When thou comest into the house of God, keep thy foot* and draw nye,* that thou mayest hear: that is better then the of-2 ferings of fools, for they know not what evil they do. Be not hasty with thy mouth, and let not thine heart speak anything rashly before God. For God is in heaven, and thou upon earth, 3 therefore let thy words be few. For where much carefulness is, there are many dreams: and where many words are, there 4 men may hear fools. If thou make a vow unto God, be not slack to perform it. As for foolish vows, he hath no pleasure in 5 them. If thou promise anything, pay it: for better it is that thou make no vow than that thou shouldest promise, and not 6 pay. Use not thy mouth to cause thy flesh for to sin, that thou sayest not before the angel: my foolishness is in the fault.

5. v.1 Other: Some read. For he is readier to hear (understand thy word) than to receive the sacrifices that fools give. v.1 Other: Some read: rather to hear, then to give, as fools offering sacrifice.

For then God will be angry at thy voice, and destroy all the works of thine hands. And why? Where as are many dreams 7 and many words, there are also divers vanities: but look that thou fear God. If thou seest the poor to be oppressed and 8 wrongously dealt withal, so that equity and the right of the law is wrasted in the land: marvel not thou at such judgement, for one great man keepeth touch with another, and the mighty help themselves together. The whole land also with 9 the fields and all that is therein, is in subjection and bondage unto the king. He that loveth money, will never be satisfied 10 with money: and whoso delighteth in riches, shall have no profit thereof. Is not this also a vain thing? Where as many 11 riches are, there are many also that spend them away. And what pleasure more hath he that possesseth them, saving that he may look upon them with his eyes? A labouring man sleep- 12 eth sweetly, whether it be little or much that he eateth: but the aboundance of the rich will not suffer him to sleep. Yet is 13 there a sore plague, which I have seen under the sun, (namely) riches kept to the hurt of him that hath them in possession.
 For oft times they perish with his great misery and trouble: 14 and if he have a child it getteth nothing. Like as he came 15 naked out of his mother's womb, so goeth he thither again, and carryeth nothing away with him of all his labour. This is a 16 miserable plague, that he shall go away even as he came. What helpeth him then, that he hath labored in the wind? All the 17 days of his life also must he eat in the dark, with great careful-ness, sickness and sorrow. Therefore me think it a better and 18 fairer thing, a man to eat and drink, and to be refreshed of all his labour, that he taketh under the Sun all the days of his life, which God giveth him, for this is his portion. For unto whom 19 soever God giveth riches, goods and power, he giveth it him to enjoy it, to take it for his portion, and to be refreshed of his labour: this is now the gift of God. For he thinketh not much 20 how long he shall live, for so much as God filleth his heart with gladness.

There is yet a plague under the Sun, and it is a general VI thing among men: When God giveth a man riches, goods and 2 honour, so that he wanteth nothing of all that his heart can desire: and yet God giveth him not leave to enjoy the same, but another man spendeth them. This is a vain thing and a 3 miserable plague. If a man beget an hundredth children, and live many years, so that his days are many in number, and yet can not enjoy his good, neither be buried: as for him I say, that 4 an untimely birth is better than he. For he cometh to naught, and goeth his way into darkness, and his name is forgotten.

 5 Moreover, he seeth not the Son, and knoweth of no rest neither 6 here nor there: Yea though he lived two thousand years, yet 7 hath he no good life. Come not all to one place? All the labour that man taketh, is for himself, and yet his desire is never 8 filled after his mind. For what hath the wise more than the fool? What helpeth it the poor, that he knoweth to walk before 9 the living? The sight of the eyes is better, then that the soul should so depart away. Howbeit this is also a vain thing and a 10 disquietness of mind. What is more excellent than man? Yet can he not in the law get the victory of him that is mightier 11 than he: A vain thing is it to cast out many words, but what 12 hath a man else? For who knoweth what is good for man living, in the days of his vain life, which is but a shadow? Or, who will tell a man, what shall happen after him under the Son?

VII A good name is more worth than a precious ointment, and 2 the day of death is better than the day of birth. It is better to go into an house of mourning, than into a banquet* house.
 For there is the end of all men, and he that is living, taketh 3 it to heart. It is better to be sorry than to laugh, for when 4 the countenance is heavy, the heart is joyful. The heart of the wise is in the mourning house, but the heart of the foolish is in 5 the house of mirth. It is better to give ear to the chastening of 6 a wise man, than to hear the song of fools. For the laughing of fools is like the crackling of thorns under a pot. And that is 7 but a vain thing. Who so doeth wrong, maketh a wise man to 8 go out of his wit, and destroyeth a gentle heart. The end of a thing is better than the beginning. The patient of spirit is bet-9 ter than the high minded. Be not hastily angry in thy mind, 10 for wrath resteth in the bosom of a fool. Say not thou: What is the cause that the days of the old time were better, than they 11 that be now? For that were no wise question. Wisdom is bet-12 ter than riches, yea much more worth than the eyesight. For wisdom defendeth as well as money, and the excellent knowl-

7. v.2 Other: banquet.

edge and wisdom giveth life to him that have it in possession. 13 Consider the work of God, how that no man can make the thing 14 straight, which he maketh crooked. Use well the time of prosper- 14 ity and remember the time of misfortune: For God maketh 14 one by the other, so that a man can find nothing else. These 15 two things also have I considered in the time of vanity: that 15 the just man perisheth for his righteousness' sake, and the un- 15 godly liveth in his wickedness. Therefore be thou neither too 16 righteous nor over wise, that thou perish not: be neither too 17 unrighteous also nor too foolish, lest thou die before thy time. 17
 It is good for thee to take hold of this, and not to let that go 18 out of thy hand. For he that feareth God shall escape them all. 18 Wisdom giveth more courage unto the wise, than ten mighty 19 men of the city. For there is not one just upon earth, that doth 20 good, and sinneth not. Take not heed unto every word that is 21 spoken, lest thou hear thy servant curse thee: For thine own 22 heart knoweth, that thou thyself also hast oft times spoken evil 22 by other men. All these things have I proved because of wis- 23 dom: For I thought to be wise, but she went farther from me 23 than she was before, yea and so deep that I might not reach 24 unto her. I applied my mind also to knowledge, and to seek out 25 science, wisdom and understanding: to know the foolishness of 25 the ungodly, and the error of doting fools. And I found, that a 26 woman is bitterer than death: for she is a very angle, her heart 26 is a net, and her hands are chains. Who so pleaseth God shall 26 escape from her, but the sinner will be taken with her. Behold 27 (sayeth the preacher) this have I diligently searched out and 27 proved, that I might come by knowledge: which as yet I seek, 27 and find it not. Among a thousand men I have found one, but 28 not one woman among all. Lo, this onely have I found, that 29 God made man just and right, but they seek divers sotylties,* 29 where as no man hath wisdom and understanding, to give VIII answer there unto. Wisdom maketh a man's face to shine, but malice putteth it out of favour. Keep the king's command- 2 ment (I warn thee) and the oath that thou hast made unto 2

 God. Be not hasty to go out of his sight, and see thou continue 3 in no evil thing: for whatsoever it pleaseth him, that doeth 3 he. Like as when a king giveth a charge, his commandment 4 is mighty: Even so whom may say unto him: What doest thou? 4

v.29 Other: subtleties or sodalities.

5 Whoso keepeth the commandment, shall feel no harm: but a 6 wise man's heart discerneth time and manner: For everything will have opportunity and judgment, and this the thing that 7 maketh men full of carefulness and sorrow. And why? A man 8 knoweth not what is for to come, for who will tell him? Neither is there any man that hath power over the spirit, to keep still the spirit, nor to have any power in the time of death: it is not he also that can make an end of the battle, neither may un-9 godliness deliver him that meddleth withall. All these things have I considered, and applied my mind unto every work that is under the Son: how one man hath lordship upon another to 10 his own harm. For I have oft seen the ungodly brought to their graves, and fallen down from the high and glorious place: insomuch that they were forgotten in the city, where they were had 11 in so high and great reputation. This is also a vain thing. Because now that evil works are not hastily punished, the heart 12 of man giveth himself over unto wickedness. But though an evil person offend an hundredth times, and have a long life: yet am I sure, that it shall go well with them that fear God, 13 because they have him before their eyes. Again, as for the ungodly, it shall not be well with him, neither shall he prolong his days: but even as a shadow, so shall he be that feareth not 14 God. Yet is there a vanity upon earth: there be just men, unto whom it happeneth, as though they had the works of the un-godly: Again, there be ungodly, with whom it goeth as though they had the works of the righteous. This me think also a vain 15 thing. Therefore I commend gladness, because a man hath no better thing under the Son, than to eat and to drink, and to be merry: for that shall he have of his labour all the days of his 16 life, which God giveth him under the Son. When I applied my mind to learn wisdom, and to know the travail that is in the world (and that of such a fashion, that I suffered not my eyes 17 to sleep neither day nor night) I understood of all the works of God, that it is not possible for a man, to attain unto works that are done under the Son: and though he bestow his labour to seek them out, yet can he not reach unto them: yea though a wise man would undertake to know them, yet might he not find them.

IX For all these things purposed I in my mind to seek out. The righteous and wise, yea and their works* also are in the hand of God: and there is no man that knoweth either the love or hate of the thing that he hath before him.* It happeneth unto 2 one as unto another: It goeth with the righteous as with the ungodly: with the good and clean as with the unclean: with him that offereth as with him that offereth not: like as it goeth with the virtuous, so goeth it also with the sinner: As it happeneth unto the perjured, so happeneth it also unto him that is afraid to be foresworn.* Among all things that come to pass 3 under the Son, this is a mystery, that it happeneth unto all alike. This is the cause also that the hearts of men are full of wickedness, and mad foolishness is in their hearts, as long as they live, until they die. And why? As long as a man liveth, 4 he is careless: for a quick dog (say they) is better than a dead lion: for they that be living, know that they shall die: but 5 they that be dead, know nothing, neither deserve they anymore. For their memorial is forgotten, so that they be neither 6 loved, hated nor envied: neither have they anymore part in the world, in all that is done under the Son. Go thou thy way then, 7 eat thy bread with joy, and drink thy wine with gladness, for thy works please God. Let thy garments be alway white, and 8 let thy head want none ointment. Use thy self to live joyfully 9 with thy wife whom thou lovest, all the days of thy life, which is but vanity, that God hath given thee under the Son, all the days of thy vanity: for that is thy portion in this life, of all thy labor and travail that thou takest under the Son. Whatso- 10 ever thou takest in hand to do, that do with all thy power: for among the dead, where thou goest unto, there is neither work, counsel, knowledge nor wisdom. So I turned me unto other 11 things under the Son, and I saw, that in running, it helpeth not to be swift: in battle, it helpeth not to be strong: to feeding, it helpeth not to be wise: to riches, it helpeth not to be subtle: to be had in favour, it helpeth not to be cunning: but that all lieth in time and fortune. For man knoweth not his time, but 12 like as the fish are taken with the angle and as the birds are caught with the snare: Even so are men taken in the perilous time, when it cometh suddenly upon them. This wisdom have 13

 I seen also under the Son, and me thought it a great thing.
 There was a little city, and a few men within it: so there came 14

9. v.1 Other: servants. v.1 Other: which is albefore him. v.2 Other: man sworn.

a great king and besieged it, and made great bulwarks against it. And in the city there was found a poor man, (but he was wise) which with his wisdom delivered the city: yet was there no body, that had any respect for such a simple man. Then said I: Wisdom is better than strength. Nevertheless, a simple man's wisdom is despised, and his words are not heard. A wise man's counsel that is followed in silence, is far above the crying of a captain among fools. For wisdom is better than harness: but one unthrifty alone destroyeth much good.

X Dead flies that corrupt sweet ointment and make it to stink, are something more worth then the wisdom and honor of a fool.

2 A wise man's heart is upon the right hand, but a fool's heart is 3 upon the left. A doting fool thinketh, that every man doth as 4 foolishly as himself. If a principal spirit be given thee to bear 5 rule, be not negligent then in thine office: for so shall great 6 wickedness be put down, as it were with a medicine. Another 7 plague is there, which I have seen under the son: namely, the 8 ignorance that is commonly among princes: in that a fool set-9 teth in great dignity, and the rich are sit down beneath: I see 10 servants ride upon horses, and princes going upon their feet 11 as it were servants. But he that diggeth up a pit, shall fall 12 therein himself: and whoso breaketh down the hedge, a ser-13 pent shall bite him. Whoso removeth stones shall have tra-14 vail withal: and he that heweth wood, shall be hurt therewith.

15 When an iron is blunt, and the point not sharpened, it must be 16 whet again, and that with might: Even so doth wisdom follow 17 diligence. A babbler of his tongue is no better than a serpent 18 that stingeth without hissing. The words out of a wise man's 19 mouth are gracious, but the lips of a fool will destroy himself.

20 The beginning of his talking is foolishness, and the last word 21 of his mouth is great madness. A fool is so full of words, that 22 a man can not tell what end he shall make: who will then 23 warn him to make a conclusion? The labour of the foolish is 24 grievous unto them, while they know not how to go in to the 25 city. Woe be unto thee (O thou realm and land) whose king is 26 but a child, and whose princes are early at their banquettes.
27 But well is thee (O thou realm and land) whose king is come 28 of nobles, and whose princes eat in due season, for strength 29 and not for lust. Thorow slothfulness the balks fall down, and 30 thorow idle hands it raineth in at the house. Meat maketh men to laugh, and wine maketh them merry: but unto money are all things obedient. Wish the king no evil in thy thought, 20 and speak no hurt of the rich in thy privy chamber: for a bird of the air shall betray thy voice, and with her feathers shall she betray thy words.

Send thy vitailles* over the waters, and so shalt thou find XI them after many years. Give it away among seven or eight, for 2 thou knowest not what misery shall come upon earth. When 3 the clouds are full, they pour out rain upon the earth. And when the tree falleth (whether it be toward the South or North) in what place soever it fall, there it lieth. He that regardeth 4 the wind, shall not sow: and he that hath respect unto the clouds, shall not reap. Now like as thou knowest not the way 5 of the wind, nor how the bones are filled in a mother's womb: Even so thou knowest not the works of God, which is the work-master of all. Cease not thou therefore with thy hands to sow 6 thy seed, whether it be in the morning or in the evening: for then knowest not whether this or that shall prosper, and if they both take, it is the better. The light is sweet, and a pleasant 7 thing is it for the eyes to look upon the Sun. If a man live 8 many years, and be glad in them all, let him remember the days of darkness, which shall be many: And when they come, all things shall be but vanity. Be glad then (O thou young 9 man) in thy youth, and let thine heart be merry in thy young days: follow the ways of thine own heart, and the lust of thine eyes: but be thou sure, that God shall bring thee into judgment for all these things. Put away displeasure out of thine heart, 10 and remove evil from thy body: for childhood and youth is but vanity.

Remember thy maker in thy youth, or ever the days of ad- XII versity come, and or the years draw nye, when thou shalt say: I have no pleasure in them before the sun, the light, the moon 2 and stars be darkened, and or the clouds turn again after the rain: when the keepers of the house shall tremble, and when 3 the strong men shall bow themselves: when the millers stand still, because they be so few, and when the sight of the windows shall wax dim: when the doors in the streets shall be shut, 4 and when the voice of the miller shall be laid down: when men shall rise up at the voice of the bird, and when all the daugh-

11. v.1 Other: victuals.

5 ters of music shall be brought low: When men shall fear in high places, and be afraid in the streets: when the Almond tree shall be despised, the grasshopper born out, and when great poverty shall break in: when man goeth to his long home, and 6 the mourners go about the streets. Or ever the silver lace be taken away, and or the golden band be broken: or the pot be 7 broken at the well, and the wheel upon the cistern: Or dust be turned again unto earth from whence it came, and or the spirit 8 return unto God, which gave it. All is but vanity (sayeth the 9 preacher) all is but plain vanity. The same preacher was not wise alone, but taught the people knowledge also: he gave good 10 heed, sought out the ground and set forth many parables. His diligence was to find out acceptable words, right scripture, and 11 the words of truth. For the words of the wise are like pricks and nails that go thorow, wherewith men are kept together: 12 for they are given of one shepherd onely. Therefore beware (my son) that above these thou make them not many and innumerable books, nor take divers doctrines in hand, to weary 13 thy body withal. Let us hear the conclusion of all things: Fear God, and keep his commandments, for that toucheth all men: 14 For God shall judge all works and secret things, whether they be good or evil.

The end of the book of the Preacher, otherwise called Ecclesiastes.

Ballett Of Solomon.

She Ballet of Ballets of Salomon: O that thy mouth I, 2 would give me a kiss, for thy breasts are more pleasant than wine, and that because of the good and 3 pleasant savour. Thy name is sweet smelling ointment, therefore do the maidens love thee: Yea that same moveth me also to run* after thee. The king hath brought me in to his private chamber. We will be glad and rejoyce in thee, we think more of thy breasts then of wine: well is them that love thee. 5 I am black (O ye daughters of Jerusalem) like as the tents of the Cedarenes, and as the hangings of Solomon: but yet am I fair 6 and well favoured withal. Marvel not at me that I am so black:
And why? the sun hath shined upon me. For when my mother's children had evil will at me, they made me the keeper of the vineyard. Thus was I fain to keep a vineyard, which was not mine own. Tell me, (O thou whom my soul loveth) where thou 7 feedest, where thou restest at the noon day: lest I go wrong, and come into the flocks of thy companions. If thou know not 8 thyself (O thou fairest among women) then go thy way forth after the footsteps of the sheep, as though thou wouldest feed thy goats beside the shepherds' tents. There will I tarry for 9 thee (my love) with mine host and with my chariots, which shall be no fewer than Pharaoh's. Then shall thy cheeks and 10 thy neck be made fair, and hanged with spangles and goodly jewels: a neck band of gold will we make thee with silver buttons. When the king sitteth at the table, he shall smell my 12 Nardus: for a bundle of Myrre (O my beloved) lieth betwixt 13 my breasts. A cluster of grapes of Cypers, or of the vineyards 14 of Engaddi art thou unto me, O my beloved. O how fair art 15 thou (my love) how fair art thou? thou hast doves' eyes. O 16 how fair art thou (my beloved) how well favored art thou? Our bed is decked with flowers, the ceilings of our house are of 17 Cedar tree, and our balks of Cypress.

I am the flower of the field, and lily of the valleys: as the II, 2 rose among the thorns, so is my love among the daughters.
Like as the apple tree among the trees of the wood, so is my 3 beloved among the sons. My delight is to sit under his shadow,

I. v.4 Other: renne.

4 for his fruit is sweet to my throat.* He bringeth me in to his 5 wine cellar, and loveth me specially well.* Refesheth me with 6 grapes, comfort me with apples, for I am sick of love. His left hand lieth under my head, and his right hand embraceth 7 me. I charge you, (O ye daughters of Jerusalem) by the Roes and hinds of the field, that ye wake not up my love nor touche 8 her, till she be content herself. Me think I hear the voice of my beloved: lo, there cometh he hopping upon the mountains, 9 and leaping over the little hills. My beloved is like a Roe or a young hart. Behold, he standeth behind our wall, he looketh 10 in at the window, and peepeth thorow the grate. My beloved answered and said unto me: O Stand* up my love, my dove, 11 my beautiful, and come: For lo, the winter is now past, and the rain is away and gone. The flowers are come up in the 12 field, the twisting time is come, and the voice of the turtle dove 13 is heard in our land. The fig tree bringeth forth her figs, the 14 vines bear blossoms, and have a good smell.* O Stand* up my love, my beautiful, and come (O my dove) out of the caves of the rocks, out of the holes of the wall: O let me see thy countenance and hear thy voice, for sweet is thy voice, and fair is 15 thy face.* Get us the foxes, yea the little foxes, that hurt the 16 vines, for our vines bear blossoms. My love is mine, and I am 17 his, which feedeth among the lilies, until the day break, and till the shadows be gone. Come again privily (O my beloved) like as a Roe or a young hart unto the mountains.

III By night in my bed I sought him, whom my soul loveth: yea
 2 diligently sought I him, but I found him not. I will get up (thought I) and go about the city, upon the market and in all the streets will I seek him whom my soul loveth: but when I 3 sought him, I found him not. The watchmen that go about the 4 city found me. Saw ye not him whom my soul loveth? So when I was a little past them, I found him whom my soul loveth.
 I have gotten hold upon him, and will not let him go, until I bring him into my mother's house, and in to her chamber 5 that bare me. I charge you, O ye daughters of Jerusalem, by

2. v.3 Other: in his shadow was my desire to sit, for his fruit was sweet to my mouth. v.4 Other: He brought me into his wine cellar: and his behaviour to me ward was lovely. v.10 Other: stode. v.13 Other: and the vine blossoms give a savour. v.14 Other: stode. v.14 Other: Up, haste my love, my dove, in the holes of the rock and secret places of the walls. Shew me thy face and let me hear thy voice, for thy voice is sweet and thy fashion beautiful.

the Roes, and Hinds of the field, that ye wake not up my love nor touche her, till she be content herself. Who is this, that 6 cometh out of the wilderness like pillars of smoke, as it were a smell of Myrre, frankincense and all manner spices of the Apothecary? Behold, about Solomon's bedstead there stand 7 sixty valiant men of the mighty in Israel. They hold swords 8 every one, and are expert in war. Every man hath his sword upon his thigh, because of fear in the night. King Solomon 9 hath made himself a bedstead of the wood of Libanus, the 10 pillars are of silver, the covering of gold, the seat of purple, the ground pleasantly paved for the daughters of Jerusalem. Go 11 forth (O ye daughters of Sion) and behold king Solomon in the crown, wherewith his mother crowned him in the day of his marriage, and in the day of the gladness of his heart.

O how fair art thou (my love) how fair art thou? thou hast IV doves' eyes, beside that which lieth hid within. Thy hairy 2 locks are like a flock of sheep that be clipped, which go first up from the washing place: where every one beareth two twins, and not one unfruitful among them. Thy lips are like a rose 3 coloured ribbon, thy words are lovely: thy cheeks are like a piece of a pomegranate, besides that which lyeth hid within.
 Thy neck is like the tower of David builded with bulwarks, 4 where upon there hang a thousand shields, yea all the weapons of the giants. Thy two breasts are like two twins of young 5 roes, which feed among the lilies. O that I might go to the 6 mountain of Myrre, and to the hill of frankincense: till the day break, and till the shadows be past away. Thou art all fair, 7 O my love, and no sport is there in thee. Come to me from 8 Libanus, O my spouse, and come to me from Liban: come soon the next way from the top of Amana, from the top of Sanir and Hermon, from the lions' dens, and from the mountains of the leopards. Thou hast wounded my heart, O my sister, my 9 spouse, thou hast wounded my heart, with one of thine eyes, and with one chain of thy neck. O how fair and lovely are thy 10 breasts, my sister, my spouse? Thy breasts are more pleasant than wine, and the smell of thine ointments passeth all spices.
 Thy lips, O my spouse, drop as the honeycomb, yea milk and 11 honey is under thy tongue, and the smell of thy garments is like the smell of frankincense. Thou art a well kept garden, O 12 my sister, my spouse, thou are a well kept watering spring, a 13 sealed well. The fruits that sprout in thee, are like a very Par-14 adise of pomegranates with sweet fruits: as Cypress, Nardus, Saffron, Calmus, and all the trees of Libanus: Myrre, Aloes, 15 and all the best spices. Thou art a well of gardens, a well of 16 living waters, which run* down from Libanus. Up thou north-wind, come thou southwind, and blow upon my garden, that the smell thereof may be carried on every side: yea that my beloved may come into my garden, and eat of the fruits and apples that grow therein.

V Come into my garden O my sister, my Spouse: I have gathered my Myrre with my spice. I will eat my honey and my honeycomb, I will drink my wine and my milk. Eat, O ye 2 friends, drink and be merry, O ye beloved. As I was asleep, and my heart waking, I heard the voice of my beloved, when he knocked. Open to me (said he) O my sister, my love, my dove, my dearling: for my head is full of dew, and my locks of 3 my hair are full of the night drops. I have put off my coat: how can I do it on again? I have washed my feet, how shall 4 I file them again? But when my love put in his hand at the 5 hole, my heart was moved toward him: so that I stood up to open unto my beloved. My hands dropped with Myrre, and the 6 Myrre ran down my fingers upon the lock. Nevertheless when I had opened unto my beloved, he was departed and gone his way. Now like as afore time when he spake, my heart could not longer refrain: Even so now I sought him, but I could not find him: I cried upon him, nevertheless he gave me no answer.
 7 So the watchmen that went about the city found me, smote me, and wounded me: Yea they that kept the walls, took away my 8 garment from me. I charge you therefore, O ye daughters of Jerusalem, if ye find my beloved, that ye tell him how that I 9 am sick for love. Who is thy love above other lovers, O thou fairest among women? Or what can thy love do, more than 10 other lovers, that thou chargest us so straightly? As for my loved, he is white and red colored, a singular person among 11 many thousands: His head is the most fine gold, the locks of 12 his hair are bushed, brown as the evening: His eyes are as the eyes of doves by the water brooks, washened with milk, 13 and remaining in a plenteous place: His cheeks are like a garden bed, wherein the Apothecaries plant all manner of sweet

4. v.15 Other: renne.

things: His lips drop as the flowers of the most principal Myrre, 14 his hands are full of gold rings and precious stones. His body 14 is as the pure ivory, decked over with Sapphires: His legs are 15 as the pillars of Marble, set upon sockets of gold: His face is 15 as Libanus, and as the beauty of the Cedar trees: His throat 16 is sweet, yea he is altogether lovely. Such one is my love, O ye 16 daughters of Jerusalem, such one is my love.

Whither is thy love gone then (O thou fayrest among women) VI whither is thy love departed, that we may seek him with thee?
 My love is gone down into his garden, unto the sweet smelling 2 beds, that he may refresh himself in the garden, and gather 2 flowers. My love is mine, and I am his, which feedeth among 3 the lilies. Thou art pleasant (O my love) even as loveliness it 4 self, thou art fair as Jerusalem, glorious as an army of men, 4 with their banners. (Turn away thine eyes from me, for they 5 make me proud) Thy hairy locks are like a flock of goats upon 5 the mount of Galead. Thy teeth are like a flock of sheep that 6 be clipped, which go out of the washing place: where every 6 one beareth two twins, and not one unfruitful among them.
 Thy cheeks are like a piece of a pomegranate, besides that 7 which lieth hidden within. There are threescore Queens, and 8 fourscore concubines, and young women without number. But 9 one is my dove, my dearling. She is the onely beloved of her 9 mother, and dear unto her that bare her. When the daughters saw her, they said, she was blessed: Yea the Queens and concubines praised her. What is she this, that peepeth out 10 as the morning? fair as the moon, excellent as the sun, glorious as an army of men with their banners. I went down into 11 the nut garden, to see what grew by the brooks, to look if the vineyard flourished, and if the pomegranates were shot forth.
 Then the chariots of the prince of my people made me suddenly 12 afraid. Turn again, turn again, O thou Sulamite, turn again, 13 turn again, that we may look upon thee. What pleasure have ye more in the Sulamite, than when she danceth among the men of war?

O how pleasant are thy treadings, with thy shoes, thou prince VII daughter? Thy thighs are like a fair jewel, which is wrought by a cunning work master: Thy navel is like a round gob- 2 let, which is never without drink: thy womb is like an heap of wheat, set about with lilies: Thy two breasts are like two 3 4 twins of young roes: Thy neck is as it were a tower of ivory: thine eyes are like the water pools in Hesebon, by the port of Bathrabbim: thy nose is like the tower of Libanus, which 5 looketh toward Damascus: That head that standeth upon thee is like Carmel: the hair of thy head is like the kings purple 6 folden up in plates. O how fair and lovely art thou, my dear-7 ling, in pleasures? Thy stature is like a date tree, and thy 8 breasts like the grapes. I said: I will climb up the date tree, and take hold of his branches. Thy breasts also shall be as the vine grapes, the smell of thy nostrils like the smell of ap-9 ples, and thy throat like the best wine. This shall be pure and clear for my love, his lips and teeth shall have their pleasure.

 10 There will I turn me unto my love, and he shall turn him unto 11 me. O come on my love, let us go forth into the field, and 12 take our lodging in the villages. In the morning will we rise by times, and go see the vineyard: if it be sprung forth, if the grapes be grown, and if the pomegranates be shot out. There 13 will I give thee my breasts: there shall the mandragoras give their smell beside our doors: there O my love, have I kept unto thee all manner of fruits, both new and old.

VIII O that I might find thee without, and kiss thee, whom I love as my brother which sucked* my mother's breasts: and 2 that thou wouldest not be offended, if I took thee, and brought thee in to my mother's house: that thou mightest teach me, and that I might give thee drink of spiced wine and of the sweet sap 3 of my pomegranates. His left hand lieth under my head, and 4 his right hand embraceth me. I charge you, O ye daughters of Jerusalem, that ye wake not up my love, nor touch her, till 5 she be content herself. What is she this, that cometh up from the wilderness, and leaneth upon her love? I am the same that waked thee up among the apple trees, where thy mother bear 6 thee, where thy mother brought thee in to the world. O set me as a seal upon thine heart, and as a seal upon thine arm: for love is mighty as the death, and jealousy as the hell. Her 7 coals are of fire, and a very flame of the LORD: so that many waters are not able to quench love, neither may the streams drown it. Yea if a man would give all the good of his house for 8 love, he should count it nothing. When our love is told our young sister, whose breasts are not yet grown, what shall we do unto her? If she be a wall, we shall build a silver bulwark 9 there upon: if she be a tower, we shall fasten her with borders of Cedar tree. If I be a wall, and my breasts like towers, then 10 am I as one that hath found favour in his sight. Solomon had 11 a vineyard at Baal Hamon, this vineyard delivered he unto the keepers: that every one for the fruit thereof should give him a thousand pieces of silver. But my vineyard, O Solomon, 12 giveth thee a thousand, and two hundredth to the keepers of the fruit. Thou that dwellest in the gardens, O let me hear 13 thy voice, that my companions may harken to the same. O 14 get thee away, my love, as a roe or a young hart unto the sweet smelling mountains.

8. v.1 Other: suckte.

The end of the Ballet of Ballettel of Salomon, called in Latin Canticum Canticorum.

The Book Of The Prophet Esay.

1 The^{*} prophesy of Esay the son of Amos, which he shewed 2 upon Juda and Jerusalem in the time of Oziah, Joatham, 3 Ahaz, and Jehezekiah, kings of Juda. Hear O heaven
4 hearken O earth, for the LORD speaketh: I have nour-5 ished and brought up children, and they are fallen away from 6 me. An ox knoweth his lord, and an Ass his master's stall, 7 but Israel knoweth nothing, my people hath no understand-8 ing. Alas for this sinful people, which are expert in blas-9 phemies, a froward generation, unnatural children. They have 10 forsaken the LORD, they have provoked the holy one of Israel 11 unto anger, and are gone backward. Wherefore should ye be 12 plagued any more? For ye are ever falling away. The whole 13 head is sick, and the heart is very heavy. From the sole of 14 the foot unto the head, there is no whole part in all your body: 15 but all are wounds, botches, sores and stripes, which can neither be helped, bound up, molified, nor eased with any ointment. Your land lieth waste, your cities are brent up, your enemies devour your land, and ye must be fain to stand, and look upon it: and it is desolate, as it were with enemies in a battle. Moreover the daughter of Sion is left alone like a cottage in a vineyard, like a watch house in time of war, like a besieged city. And except the LORD of Hosts had left us a few alive: we should have been as Sodoma, and like unto Gomorra.
Hear the word of the LORD ye tyrants of Sodoma: and hearken unto the law of our God, thou people of Gomorra. Why offer ye so many sacrifices unto me? I am discontent for the brentofferings of wethers, and with the fatness of fed beasts.
I have no pleasure in the blood of bullocks, lambs, and goats.
When ye appear before me, who requireth you to tread within my porches? Offer me no more oblations, for it is but lost labour. I abhor your incense. I may not away with your new moons, your Sabbaths and solempne days. Your fastings are also in vain. I hate your new holy days and fastings, even from my very heart. They make me weary, I can not abide them. Though ye hold out your hands, yet turn I my eyes from you. And though ye make many prayers, yet hear I noth-

1. v.1 Other: This is the.

ing at all, for your hands are full of blood. Wash you, make you 16 clean, put away your evil thoughts out of my sight, cease from doing of evil and violence.* Learn to do right, apply yourselves 17 to equity, deliver the oppressed, help the fatherless to his right, let the widows complaint come before you.* Now go to (sayeth 18 the LORD) we will walk together. Is it not so? Though your sins be as red as scarlet, shall they not be whiter than snow?
 And though they were like purple, shall they not be like white wool? * Is it not so? If ye be loving and obedient, ye shall 19 enjoy the best thing that groweth in the land.* But if ye be 20 obstinate and rebellious, ye shall be devoured with the sword: for thus the LORD hath promised with his own mouth. How 21 happeneth it then that the righteous city (which was full of equity) is become unfaithful as an whore? righteousness dwelt in it, but now murder. Thy silver is turned to dross, and thy 22 wine mixt with water. Thy princes are traitors and compan- 23 ions of thieves. They love gifts altogether, and follow rewards.
 As for the fatherless, they help him not to his right, neither will they let the widows causes come before them. Therefore 24 speaketh the Lord GOD of Hosts the mighty one of Israel: Ah, I must ease me of mine enemies, and avenge me upon them.
 And therefore shall I lay my hand upon thee, and burn out thy 25 dross from the finest and purest, and put out all thy lead, and 26 set thy judges again as they were sometime, and thy Senators as they were from the beginning. Then shalt thou be called the righteous city, the faithful city. But Sion shall be redeemed 27 with equity, and her captivity with righteousness. For the 28 transgressors and ungodly, and such as are become unfaithful unto the LORD, must altogether be utterly destroyed. And 29 except ye be ashamed of the oak trees wherein ye have so delighted, and of the gardens that ye have chosen: Ye shall be as 30 an oak whose leaves are fallen away, and as a garden that hath no moistness. And as for the glory of these things, it shall be 31 turned to dry straw, and he that made them to a spark. And v.16 Other: Wash and be clean: put away the wickedness of your imaginations out of my sight. Cease to do evil and learn to do well. v.17 Other: Study to do righteously and help the oppressed. Avenge the fatherless and defend the cause of widows.

v.18 Other: Come let us shew each his grief to other and make an atonement saith the LORD. And so though your sins be like to purple, they shall be made as white as snow, and though they be as red as scarlet, they shall be made like white wool. v.19 Other: If ye will agree and hearken, ye shall eat the best of the land saith the Lord God.

they shall both burn together, so that no man shall be able to quench them.

II Moreover this was the word that was opened unto Esay the 2 son of Amos, upon Juda and Jerusalem.* It will be also in process of time: That the hill where the house of the LORD is builded, shall be the chief among the hills, and exalted above all little hills. And all the Heathen shall prease unto him. And 3 the multitude of people shall go unto him,* speaking thus one unto another: up, let us go to the hill of the LORD, and to the house of the God of Jacob: that he may shew us his way, and that we may walk in his paths. For the law shall come out of 4 Sion, and the word of God from Jerusalem,* and shall give sentence among the Heathen, and shall reform the multitude of people: So that they shall break their swords and spears, to make scythes, sicles and saws thereof. From that time forth shall not one people lift up weapon against another, neither 5 shall they learn to fight from thenceforth.* It is to thee that I cry (O house of Jacob) up, let us walk in the light of the LORD.*
 6 But thou art scattered abroad with thy people (O house of Jacob) for ye go far beyond your fathers, whether it be in Sorcerers (who ye had as the Philistines had) or in calkers of men's 7 births, whereof ye have too many. As soon as your land was full of silver and gold, and no end of your treasure: so soon as your land was full of strong horses and no end of your chariots: 8 Immediately was it full of Idols also, even works of your own hands, which ye yourselves have fashioned, and your fingers 9 have made. There kneeleth the man, there falleth the man down before thee, so that thou canst not bring him away from 10 thence. And therefore get thee soon in to some rock, and hide thee in the ground from the sight of the fearful judge, and from 11 the glory of his Majesty: Which casteth down the high looks

2. v.1 Other: The word that Isaiah the son of Amoz saw in a vision, concerning Judah and Jerusalem. v.2 Other: It shall come to pass in the last days that the mount of the house of the LORD, shall be set in the top of the mountains, and shall be lifted up above the hills: and all nations shall resort thereto. v.3 Other: And much people shall go and say: come and let us go up to the hill of the LORD and unto the house of the God of Jacob: that he may teach us his ways, and that we may walk in his paths. For out of Sion shall come the law, and the word of God out of Jerusalem. v.4 Other: And he shall be judge among the heathen and tell many nations their faults. And they shall turn their swords into mattocks and their spears into scythes. One nation shall not lift up a sword against another, neither shall they teach to war any more. v.5 Other: O house of Jacob come and let us walk in the light of the LORD.

of presumptuous persons, and bringeth low the pride of man, and he only shall be exalted in the day. For the day of the LORD of Hosts shall go over all pride and presumption, upon 12 all them that exalt themselves, and shall bring them all down: upon all high stout Cedar trees of Libanus, and upon all the 13 oaks of Basan, upon all high hills, and upon all stout moun-14 tains, upon all costly towers, and upon all strong walls, upon 15, 16 all ships of the sea, and upon everything that is glorious and pleasant to look upon. And it shall bring down the pride of 17 man, and lay man's presumptuousness full low, and the LORD shall only have the victory in that day. But the Idols shall 18 utterly be rooted out. Men shall creep into holes of stone, and 19 into caves of the earth, from the sight of the fearful judge, and from the glory of his majesty: what time as he shall make him up to shake the earth. Then, then shall man cast away his 20 gods of silver and gold, (which he nevertheless had made to honour them) unto Moles and Backes,* that he may the bet-21 ter creep into the caves and rocks, and into the cliffs of hard stones, from the sight of the fearful judge and from the glory of his Majesty. Every man can eschew a person moved in anger, 22 for what doth he wisely?

Even so shall the LORD of Hosts take away from Jerusalem III and Juda, all possessions and power, all meat and drink, the 2 captain and the soldier, the judge and the prophet, the wise and the aged man, the worshipful of fifty year old, and the 3 honorable: the Senators, and men of understanding: the masters of crafts and orators. And I shall give you children to 4 be your princes, (sayeth the LORD) and babes shall have the rule of you. One shall ever be doing violence and wrong to an-5 other. The boy shall presume against the elder, and the vile person against the honorable. Yea one shall take a friend 6 of his own kindred by the bosom, and say: Thou hast clothing, thou shalt be our head, for thou mayest keep us from this fall and peril. Then shall he swear and say: I can not help 7 you. Moreover, there is neither meat nor clothing in my house, make me no ruler of the people. For Jerusalem and Juda must 8 decay, because that both their words and counsels are against the LORD, they provoke the presence of his Majesty unto anger.
 The changing of their countenance betrayeth them, yea they 9

v.20 Other: bats.

declare their own sins themselves, as the Sodomites, and hide them not. Woe be unto their souls, for they shall be heavily re-10 warded. Then shall they say: O happy are the godly, for they 11 may enjoy the fruits of their studies. But woe be unto the un-godly and unrighteous for they shall be rewarded after their 12 works. O my people, ribaudes oppress thee, and women have rule of thee. O my people, thy leaders deceive thee, and tread 13 out the way of thy footsteps. The LORD is here to commune* of the matter, and standeth to give judgement with the people.
 14 The LORD shall come forth to reason with the Senators and princes of his people, and shall say thus unto them: It is ye that have burnt up my vineyard, the robbery of the poor is in your 15 house. Wherefore do ye oppress my people, and marred the faces of the innocents? thus shall the Lord GOD of Hosts revile 16 them. Moreover thus sayeth the LORD: Seeing the daughters of Sion are become so proud, and come in with stretched out necks, and with vain wanton eyes: seeing they come in tripping 17 so nicely with their feet: Therefore shall the Lord shave the heads of the daughters of Sion, and make their beauty bare in 18 that day. In that day shall the Lord take away the gorge-19 ousness of their apparel, and spangles, chains, partlets, and col-20 lars, bracelets and hooves, the goodly flowered wide and broi-21 dered raiment, brushes and headbands, rings and garlands, 22, 23 holy day clothes and vails, kerchiefs and pins, glasses and 24 smocks, bonnets and taches. And instead of good smell there shall be stink among them. And for their girdles there shall be lowse bands.* And for well set hair there shall be baldness.
 Instead of a stomacher, a sackcloth, and for their beauty with-25 erdness and sunburning. Their husbands and their mighty 26 men shall perish with the sword in battle. At that time shall their gates mourn and complain, and they shall sit as desolate folk upon the earth.

IV Then shall seven wives take hold of one man, and say: We will lay all our meat and clothing together in common, only that we may be called thy wives, and that this shameful re-2 proof may be taken from us. After that time shall the branch of the LORD be beautiful and mighty, and the fruit of the earth shall be fair and pleasant for those Israelites that shall spring 3 thereof. Then shall the remnant in Sion and the remnant

3. v.13 Other: comon. v.24 Other: bonds.

at Jerusalem be called holy: namely all such as are written among the living at Jerusalem: What time as the Lord shall wash away the desolation of the daughters of Sion, and purge the blood out from Jerusalem with the wind of his smoke and fire. Moreover upon all the dwellings of the hill of Sion and upon their whole congregation, shall the LORD provide a cloud and smoke by day, and the shining of a flaming fire by night: for all their glory shall be preserved. And Jerusalem shall be a tabernacle for a shadow because of heat in the day time, and place and refuge where a man may keep him for weather and rain.

Now well then, I will sing my beloved friend a song of his V vineyard. My beloved friend hath a vineyard in a very fruitful plenteous ground. This he hedged, this he walled round about, and planted it with goodly grapes. In the midst of it builded he a tower, and made a wine press therein. And afterward when he looked that it should bring him grapes, it brought forth thorns. I shew you now my cause (O ye Citizens of Jerusalem and whole Juda:) Judge, I pray you, betwixt me: and my vineyard. What more could have been done for it, that I have not done? Wherefore than hath it given thorns, where I looked to have had grapes of it? Well, I shall tell you how I will do with my vineyard: I will take the hedge from it, that it may perish, and break down the wall, that it may be trodden under foot. I will lay it waste, that it shall neither be twisted nor cut, but bear thorns and briars. I will also forbid the clouds, that they shall not rain upon it. As for the vineyard of the LORD of Hosts it is the house of Israel, and whole Juda his fair planting. Of these he looked for equity, but see there is wrong: for righteousness; Lo; It is but misery. Woe be unto you that join one house to another, and bring one land so nigh unto another, till ye can get no more ground. Will ye dwell upon the earth alone? The LORD of Hosts roundeth me thus in mine ear: shall not many greater and more gorgeous houses be so waste, that no man shall dwell in them? And ten acres of vines shall give but a Quart, and thirty bushels of seed shall give but three. Woe unto them that rise up early to use themselves in drunkenness, and yet at night are more superfluous with wine. In those companies are harps and lutes, tabrets and pipes, and wine. But they regard not the work of the LORD, and consider not the operation of his hands.

13 Therefore cometh my folk also in captivity, because they have no understanding. Their glory shall be mixt with hunger, and 14 their pride shall be marred for thirst. Therefore gapeth hell, and openeth her mouth marvelous wide: that pride boasting* and wisdom, with such as rejoyce therein, may descend into it.
15 Thus shall man have a fall, he shall be brought low, and the 16 high looks of the proud laid down. But the LORD of Hosts, that holy God: shall be exalted and untouched, when he shall 17 declare his equity and righteousness after this manner: Then shall the lambs eat their appointed fodder, and shall feed plen-18 tiously in the mountains. Woe be unto vain persons, that draw wickedness unto them, as it were with a cord: and sin, as it 19 were with a cart rope. Which use to speak on this manner: Let him make haste now, and go forth with his work, that we may see it. Let that counsel of the holy one of Israel come, and 20 draw nye, that we may know it. Woe be unto them that call evil good, and good evil: which make darkness light, and light 21 darkness, that make sour sweet, and sweet sour. Woe be unto them that are wise in their own sight, and think themselves to 22 have understanding. Woe be unto them that are cunning men 23 to sup out wine and expert to set up drunkenness. These give sentence with the ungodly for rewards, but condemn the just 24 cause of the righteous. Therefore like as fire licketh up the straw, and as the flame consumeth the stubble: Even so (when their root is full) their blossom shall vanish away like dust or 25 smoke: for they despise the law of the LORD of Hosts, and blaspheme the word of the holy maker of Israel. Therefore is the wrath of the LORD kindled also against his people, and he shaketh his hand at them: yea he shall smite so, that the hills shall tremble. And their carcasses shall lie in the open streets, like mire. After all this, the wrath of God shall not 26 cease, but he shall stretch his hand wider. And he shall give a token unto a strange people, and call unto them in a far coun-27 try: and behold, they shall come hastily with speed. There is not one faint or feeble among them, no not a sluggish nor slippery person. There shall not one of them put off the girdle from 28 his loins, nor loose* the latchet of his shoe. Their arrows are sharp, and their bows bent. Their horses' hoofs are like flint,

5. v.14 Other: boasting. v.27 Other: lowse.

and their cart wheels like a stormy wind. Their cry is as it were of a lion, and the roaring of them like lion's whelps. They shall roar, and haunch up the prey, and no man shall recover it or get it from them. In that day they shall be so fierce upon them, as the sea. And if we look unto the land, behold, it shall be all darkness and sorrow. If we look to heaven: behold, it shall be dark with careful desperation. 29 30

In the same year that king Uzziah died, I saw the Lord sitting upon an high and glorious seat, and his train filled the palace. From above flaked the Seraphins, where of every one had six wings. With twain each covered his face, with twain his feet, and with twain did he fly. They cried also each one to other on this manner: holy, holy, holy, is the LORD of Hosts. The whole world is full of his glory. Yea the joists* and doorcheecks* moved at their crying, and the house was full of smoke. Then I said: O woe is me. For I am astonished: that I (which am a man of unclean lips, and dwell among people that hath unclean lips also) should see the King and LORD of Hosts with mine eyes. Then flew one of the Seraphins unto me, having a hot coal in his hand, which he had taken from the altar with the tongs, and touched my mouth, and said: Lo, this hath touched thy mouth, and thine unrighteousness is taken away, and thy sin is forgiven. After this I heard the voice of the Lord taking advisement on this manner: Whom shall I send, and who will be our messenger? Then I said: Here am I, send me. And so he said: Go, and tell this people: Ye shall hear indeed, but ye shall not understand, ye shall plainly see, and not perceive. Harden the heart of this people, stop* their ears, and shut their eyes, that they see not with their eyes, hear not with their ears, and understand not with their heart, and convert and be healed. Then spake I: Lord, how long? And he answered: Until the cities be utterly without inhabitants, and the houses without men, till the land be also desolate, and lie unbuilted. For the LORD shall take the men far away, so that the land shall lie waste. Nevertheless, the tenth part shall remain therein, for it shall convert and be fruitful. And likewise as the Terebintes and Oak trees bring forth their fruits, so shall the holy seed have fruit. VI

It happened in the time of Ahaz the son of Joatham, which VII

6. v.4 Other: geastes. v.4 Other: doorcheekes. v.10 Other: stoppe.

was the son of Oziah, king of Juda: that Razin the king of Syria, and Phakeh the son of Romeliah, king of Israel: went 2 up toward Jerusalem to besiege it, but wanne it not. Now when the house of David (that is Ahaz) heard word thereof, that Syria and Ephraim were confederate together: His heart quaked (yea and the hearts also of his people) like as a tree 3 in the field, that is moved with the wind. Then said GOD unto Esay: Go meet Ahaz, (thou, thy son Sear Jasub) at the head of the over pole, in the foot path by the fuller's ground, 4 and say unto him, take heed to thyself and be still, but fear not, neither be fainthearted, for these two tails: that is: for these two smoking firebrands, the wrath and furriousness of 5 Rezin the Sirian and Romelies' son: because that the king of Siria, Ephraim, and Romelies' son have wickedly conspired 6 against thee, saying: We will go down into Juda, vex them, and bring them under us, and set a king there, even the son 7 of Tabeel. For thus sayeth the Lord GOD there to; It shall 8 not so go forth, neither come so to pass: For the head city of the Sirians is Damascus, but the head of Damascus is Razin.
 And after five and threscore year, shall Ephraim be no more 9 a people. And the chief city of Ephraim is Samaria, but the head of Samaria is Remaliah's son. And if ye believe not, there 10 shall no promise be kept with you. Moreover, GOD spake unto 11 Ahaz, saying: require a token of the LORD thy God, whether it be toward the depth beneath or toward the height above.*
 12 Then said Ahaz: I will require none, neither will I tempt the 13 LORD.* The Lord answered: Then hear to, ye of the house of David: Is it not enough for you, that ye be grievous unto 14 men, but ye must grieve my God also? * And therefore the Lord shall give you a token of himself: Behold, a virgin shall conceive and bear a son, and shall call his name Emmanuel.*
 15 Butter and honey shall he eat, that he may know the evil, and 16 choose the good.* But or ever the child come to knowledge, to

7. v.11 Other: Ask thee a sign of the LORD thy God, from alow beneath, or from on high above. v.12 Other: But Ahaz answered I will not ask, neither will tempt the LORD. v.13 Other: Wherefore the LORD said: Hearken ye of the house of David: Is it so small a thing for you, to be grievous to men, but that ye should also be painful unto God?. v.14 Other: neverthelater yet the Lord, he will give you a sign. Behold a virgin shall be with child, and shall bear a son, and shall call his name Immanuel. v.15 Other: He shall eat butter and honey, that he may have understanding to refuse the evil and to choose the good.

eschew the evil and chose the good: The land (that thou art so afraid for) shall be desolate of both her kings. The LORD also 17 shall send a time upon thee, upon thy people, and upon thy father's house, (such as never came since the time that Ephraim departed from Juda) thorow the king of the Assyrians. For 18 at the same time shall the LORD whistle for the flies that are about the water of Egypt, and for the Bees in the Assirian land.
 These shall come, and shall light all in the valleys, and in the 19 vaults* of stone, upon all green things, and in all corners. At 20 the same time shall the Lord shave the hair of the head and the feet and the beard clean off, with the razor that he shall pay them withal beyond the water: namely, with the king of the Assirians. At the same time shall a man live with a cow, and 21 two sheep. Then because of the abundance of milk, he shall 22 make butter and eat it. So that every one which remaineth in the land, shall eat butter and honey. At the same time all 23 vineyards (though there be a thousand vines in one, and were sold for a thousand silverlings) shall be turned to briers and thorns. Like as they shall come into the land with arrows 24 and bows, so shall all the land become briers and thorns. And 25 as for all hills that now are hewn down, thou shalt not come upon them, for fear of briers and thorns. But the cattle shall be driven thither, and the sheep shall feed there.

Moreover the LORD said unto me: Take thee a great leaf, VIII and write in it, as men do with a pen, that he speed him to rob, and haste him to spoil. And immediately I called unto 2 me faithful witnesses, Uriah the priest, and Zachariah the son of Barachiah. After that went I unto the Prophetess, that now 3 had conceived and born a son. Then said the LORD to me: give him this name: Maherschallal hashbas, that is: (a speedy ro- 4 ber: an hasty spoiler). For why, or ever the child shall have knowledge to say: Abi and Im, (that is father, and mother): shall the riches of Damascus and the substance of Samaria be taken away, thorow the king of the Assirians. The LORD 5 spake also unto me, saying: For so much as the people re- 6 fuseth the still running water of Silo, and put their delight in Razin and Romelie's son: Behold the Lord shall bring mighty 7 and great floods of water upon them: namely, the king of the Assirians with all his power. Which shall pour out his furriousv.19 Other: vowtes.

8 ness upon every man, and run* over all their banks. And shall break in upon Juda, increasing in power, till he get him by the throat. He shall fill also the wideness of thy land with his 9 broad wings, O Emmanuel. Go together ye people, and gather you, hearken to all ye of far countries. Muster you, and gather 10 you: muster you and gather you, take your counsel together, yet must your counsel come to nought: go in hand withal, yet shall it not prosper. Except Emmanuel: (that is God) be with 11 us. For the LORD chastised me, and took me by the hand, and warned me, saying unto me: that I should not walk in the ways 12 of this people. He said moreover: round with none of them, whosoever say: yonder people are bound together. Neverthe-13 less fear them not, neither be afraid of them, but sanctify the LORD of Hosts, let him be your fear and dread. For he is the 14 sanctifying, and stone to stumble at, the rock to fall upon, a snare and net to both the houses: to Israel, and the inhabitants 15 of Jerusalem. And many shall stumble, fall, and be broken 16 upon him: yea they shall be snared and taken. Now lay the witness together (said the Lord) and seal the law with my dis-17 ciples. Thus I wait upon the LORD that hath turned his face 18 from the house of Jacob, and I look unto him. But lo, as for me, and the children which the LORD hath given me: we are a token and a wonder in Israel, for the LORD of Hosts' sake, which 19 dwelleth upon the hill of Sion. And therefore if they say unto you: ask counsel at the soothsayers, witches, charmers and conjurers, then make them this answer: Is there a people any where, that asketh not counsel at his God: whether it be con-20 cerning the dead, or the living? If any man want light, let him look upon the law and the testimony whether they speak not 21 after this meaning. If he do not this he stumbleth and suffereth hunger. And if he suffer hunger, he is out of patience, and blasphemeth his king and his God. Then looketh he upward, 22 and downward to the earth, and behold, there is trouble and darkness vexation is round about him, and the cloud of error.
 And out of such adversity, shall he not escape.

IX Even like as in time past it hath been well seen, that the land of Zabulon and the land of Nephtali (where thorow the sea way goeth over Jordan in to the land of Galilee) was at the 2 first in little trouble, but afterward sore vexed. Nevertheless

8. v.7 Other: renne.

the people that have dwelt in darkness, shall see a great light. As for them that dwell in the land of the shadow of death, upon them shall the light shine. Shalt thou multiply the people, 3 and not increase the joy also? They shall rejoice before thee even as men make merry in harvest, and as men that have gotten the victory, when they deal the spoil. For thou shalt 4 break the yoke of the people's burthen: the staff of his shoulder and the rod of his oppressor, as in the day of* Madian. More- 5 over all temerarious and seditious power (yea where there is but a coat filled with blood) shall be burnt, and fed the fire. For unto us a child shall be born, and unto us a son shall be 6 given. Upon his shoulders shall the kingdom lie, and he shall be called with his own name: the wonderous giver of counsel, the mighty God, the everlasting father, the Prince of peace, he shall make no end to increase the kingdom and peace, and 7 shall sit upon the seat of David and in his kingdom, to set up the same, to stablish it with equity and righteousness, from thence forth for evermore. This shall the jealousy of the LORD of hoostes bring to pass. The Lord sent a word in to Jacob, 8 the same is come in to Israel. And the people also of Ephraim, and they that dwell in Samaria, can say with pride and high stomachs, on this manner: The tile work is fallen down, 10 but we will build it with harder stones. The Mulberry timber is broken, but we shall set it up again with Cedar. Nevertheless, 11 the LORD shall prepare Razin the enemy against them, and so order their adversaries, that the Sirians shall lay hold upon them before, and the Philistines behind, and so devour Israel with open mouth. After all this, the wrath of the Lord shall 13 not cease, but yet his hand shall be stretched out still. For the people turneth not unto him, that chastiseth them, neither do they seek the LORD of Hosts. Therefore the LORD shall root 14 out of Israel both head and tail, branch and twig in one day. By the head, is understand* the Senator and honorable man, 15 and by the tail, the Prophet that preacheth lies. For all they which enforme the people that they be in a right cause, such be 16 deceivers. Such as men think also to be perfect among these, are but cast away. Therefore shall the Lord have no pleasure 17 in their young men, neither favour their fatherless and widows. For they are all together hypocrites and wicked, and all

9. v.4 Other: at. v.15 Other: understonde.

their mouths speak folly. After all this shall not the Lord's 18 wrath cease, but yet his hand shall be stretched out still. For the ungodly burn, as a fire in the briers and thorns: And as it were out of a fire in a wood or a red* bush, so ascendeth the 19 smoke of their pride. For this cause shall the wrath of the LORD of Hosts fall upon the land, and the people shall be con-20 sumed, as it were with fire, no man shall spare his brother. If a man do turn him to the right hand, he shall famish, or to the left hand to eat, he shall not have enough. Every man shall 21 eat the flesh of his own arm: Manasses shall eat Ephraim and Ephraim Manasses, and they both shall eat Juda. After all this shall not the Lord's wrath cease, but yet shall his hand be stretched out still.

X Woe be unto you that make unrighteous laws, and devise 2 things, which be too hard for to keep: wherethorow the poor are oppressed, on every side, and the innocents of my people are therewith robbed of judgement: that widows may be your 3 prey, and that ye may rob the fatherless. What will ye do in time of the visitation and destruction, that shall come from far? To whom will ye run* for help? Or to whom will ye give 4 your honour, that he may keep it? That ye come not among the prisoners, or lie among the dead? After all this shall not the wrath of the Lord cease, but yet shall his hand be stretched 5 out still. Woe be also unto Assur, which is a staff of my wrath, 6 in whose hand is the rod of my punishment. For I shall send him among those hypocritical* people, among the people that have deserved my disfavour shall I send him: that he may utterly rob them, spoil them, and tread them down like the mire 7 in the street. Howbeit, his meaning is not so, neither thinketh his heart of this fashion. But he imagineth only, how he may 8 overthrow and destroy much people, for he sayeth: Are not 9 my princes all kings? Is not Calno as easy to win, as Charchamis? Is it harder to conquer Antiochia then Arphad? or is 10 it lighter to overcome Damascus then Samaria? As who say:
 I were able to win the kingdom of the Idolaters and their gods, 11 but not Jerusalem and Samaria. Shall I not do unto Jerusalem and their Images, as I did unto Samaria and their Images?
 12 Wherefore the Lord sayeth: As soon as I have performed my whole work upon the hill of Sion and Jerusalem, then will I v.18 Other: read. 10. v.3 Other: renne. v.6 Other: ypocritish.

also visit the noble and stout king of Assiria, with his wisdom and pride. For he standeth thus in his own conceit: This do I, 13 thorow the power of my own hand, and thorow my wisdom: For I am wise, I am he that remove the lands of the people, I rob their princes: and (like one of the worthies) I drive them from their high seats. My hand hath found out the Hosts of the 14 people, as it were a nest. And like as eggs, that were laid here and there, are gathered together: So do I gather all countries.
And there is no man, that dare be so bold, as to touch a feather, that dare open his mouth, or once whisper. But doth the axe 15 boost itself, against him that heweth therewith? or doth the saw make any cracking, against him that ruleth it? That were even like, as if the rod did exalt itself against him that beareth it: or as though the staff should magnify itself, as who say: it were not wood. Therefore shall the LORD of Hosts send him 16 poverty in his riches, and burn up his power, as it were with a fire. But the light of Israel shall be that fire, and his Sanctuary shall be the flame, and it shall kindle, and burn up his thorns and briars in one day. Yea all the glory of his woods and 18 fields shall be consumed with body and soul. As for himself, he shall be as one chased away. The trees also of his field shall 19 be of such a number that a child may tell them. After that 20 day shall the remnant of Israel, and such as are escaped out of the house of Jacob, seek no more comfort at him that smote them, but shall comfort themselves with faithfulness and truth in the LORD, the holy one of Israel. The remnant, yea and the 21 Posterity of Jacob, shall convert unto God the mighty one. For 22 though thy people (O Israel) be as the sand of the sea, yet shall but the remnant of them only convert unto him. Perfect is the judgement of him that floweth in righteousness, and there- 23 fore the LORD of Hosts shall perfectly fulfil the thing, that he hath determined in the midst of the whole world. There- 24 fore thus sayeth the Lord GOD of Hosts: Thou my people, that dwellest in Sion, be not afraid for the king of the Assirians: He shall wag his staff at thee, yea and beat thee with the rod, as the Egyptians did some time: But soon after, shall my wrath 25 and mine indignation be fulfilled against their blasphemies.
Moreover the LORD of Hosts shall prepare a scourge for him, 26 like as was the punishment of Madian upon the mount of Oreb.
And he shall lift up his rod over the sea, as he did sometime 27 over the Egyptians. Then shall his burthen be taken from thy shoulders, and his yoke from thy neck, yea the same yoke 28 shall be corrupt for very fatness. He shall come to Aiath, and go thorow toward Migron. But at Machmas shall he muster 29 his Host, and go over the fiord. Gabaah shall be their resting place, Rhamah shall be afraid, Gabaah Saul shall flee away.

 30 The voice of the noise of thy horses, (O daughter of Gallim) shall be heard unto Laish and to Anathoth, which also shall be 31 in trouble. Madmena shall tremble for fear, but the citizens of 32 Gabin are manly, yet shall he remain at Nob that day. After that, shall he lift up his hand against the mount Sion, against 33 the hill of Jerusalem. But see, the Lord GOD of Hosts shall take away the proud from thence, with fear. He shall hew down 34 the proud, and fell the high minded. The thorns of the wood shall be rooted out with iron, and Libanus shall have a mighty fall.

XI After this there shall come a rod forth of the Kindred of 2 Jesse, and a blossom out of his root.* The spirit of the LORD shall light it: the spirit of wisdom, and understanding: the spirit of counsel, and strength: the spirit of knowledge, and 3 of the fear of God:* and shall make him fervent in the fear of GOD. For he shall not give sentence, after the thing that shall be brought before his eyes, neither reprove a matter at 4 the first hearing:* but with righteousness shall he judge the poor, and with holiness shall he reform the simple of the world.
 He shall smite the world with the staff of his mouth, and with 5 the breath of his mouth shall he slay the wicked.* Righteousness shall be the girdle of his loins, truth and faithfulness, the 6 girding up of his reins.* Then shall the wolf dwell with the lamb, and the Leopard shall lie down by the goat. Bullocks, Lions and cattle shall keep company together, so that a lit-7 tle child shall drive them forth. The cow and the Bear shall

11. v.1 Other: There shall come a rod out of the stock of Jesse, and a branch shall spring out of his root. v.2 Other: And on him shall light the spirit of the LORD: the spirit of wisdom and of understanding, the spirit of counsel and of strength, the spirit of knowledge and of reverence, and it shall make him savour of the fear of the Lord. v.3 Other: And he shall not judge after the sight of his eyes: neither shall rebuke after the hearing of his ears. v.4 Other: But he shall judge the causes of the poor with righteousness, and shall rebuke with equity for the humble of the earth. And he shall smite the earth with the rod of his mouth, and with the breath of his lips shall slay the wicked. v.5 Other: And righteousness shall be the girdle of his loins, and faithfulness the girdle of his reins.

feed together, and their young ones shall lie together. The Lion shall eat straw like the ox, or the cow. The child while he sucketh, shall have a desire to the serpents nest, and when he is weaned, he shall put his hand in to the Cockatrice' den. No man shall do evil to another, no man shall destroy another, in all the hill of my Sanctuary. For the earth shall be full of the knowledge of the LORD, even as though the water of the sea flowed over the earth. Then shall the Gentiles enquire after the root of Jesse, (which shall be set up for a token unto the Gentiles) for his dwelling shall be glorious. At the same time shall the Lord take in hand again, to conquer the remnant of his people, (which are left alive) From the Assirians, Egyptians, Arabians, Morians, Elamites, Caldeies, Antiochians and Islands of the sea. And he shall set up a token among the Gentiles, and gather together the dispersed of Israel, yea and the outcasts of Juda from the four corners of the world. The hatred of Ephraim and the enmity of Judah shall be clean rooted out. Ephraim shall bear no evil will to Judah, and Judah shall not hate Ephraim: but they both together shall fly upon the shoulders of the Philistines toward the West: and spoil them together that dwell toward the East. The Idumites and the Moabites shall let their hands fall, and the Ammonites shall be obedient unto them. The LORD also shall cleave the tongues of the Egyptian's sea, and with a mighty wind shall he lift up his hand over Nilus, and shall smite his seven streams and make men go over dry shod. And thus shall he make a way for his people, that remaineth from the Assirians, like as it happened to the Israelites, what time they departed out of the land of Egypt.

So that then thou shalt say: O LORD, I thank thee, for thou wast displeased at me, but thou hast refrained thy wrath, and hast mercy upon me.* Behold, God is my health, in whom I trust, and am not afraid. For the LORD GOD is my strength, and my praise, he also shall be my refuge.* Therefore with joy shall ye draw water out of the wells of the Savioure,* and then shall ye say: Lets us give thanks unto the LORD, and call

12. v.1 Other: I will praise thee O LORD, that though thou were angry with me, yet thine anger is turned, and thou hast comfort me. v.2 Other: Behold God is my salvation: I will be bold therefore and not fear. For the LORD GOD is my strength and my praise whereof I sing: and is become my saviour. v.3 Other: And ye shall draw water in gladness out of the wells of salvation.

upon his name, and declare his counsels among the people, and 5 keep them in remembrance, for his name is excellent.* O sing praises unto the LORD, for he doth great things, as it is known 6 in all the world.* Cry out, and be glad, thou that dwellest in Sion, for great is thy prince: the holy one of Israel.*

XIII

This is the heavy burthen of Babylon, which Esay the son 2 of Amos did see. Make some tokens to the high hills, call unto them, hold up your hand, that the princes may go in at the 3 door. For I will send for my deputies and my giants (sayeth the LORD) and in my wrath I will call for such, as triumph in 4 my glory. With that, me thought I heard in the mountains, a noise, like as it had been of a great people: and a rushing, as though the kingdoms of all nations had come together. (And 5 the LORD of Hosts was the Captain of the whole army) As they had come not only out of far countries, but also from the ends of the heavens: Even the LORD himself with the ministers of 6 his wrath, to destroy the whole land. Mourn therefore, for the day of the LORD is at hand, and cometh as a destroyer from the 7 Almighty. Then shall all hands be letten down, and all men's 8 hearts shall melt away, they shall stand in fear, carefulness and sorrow shall come upon them, and they shall have pain, as a woman that travaileth with child. One shall ever be abashed 9 of another, and their faces shall burn like the flame. For lo, the day of the LORD shall come, terrible, full of indignation and wrath: to make the land waste, and to root out the sin thereof.
 10 For the stars and planets of heaven shall not give their light, the sun shall be quenched in the rising, and the moon will not 11 shine with his light. And I will punish the wickedness of the world, and the sins of the ungodly, sayeth the LORD. The high stomachs of the proud will I take away, and will lay down the 12 boasting* of tyrants. I will make a man dearer than fine gold, and a man to be more worth, than a golden wedge of Ophir.
 13 Moreover I will so shake the heaven, that the earth shall remove out of her place. Thus shall it go with Babylon in the wrath of the LORD of Hosts in the day of his fearful indigna-14 tion. And Babylon shall be as an hunted or chased doe, and v.4 Other: And ye shall say in that day: give thanks unto the LORD: call on his name: make his deeds known among the heathen: remember that his name is high.

v.5 Other: Lift up. Sing unto the LORD, for he hath done excellently, and that is known thorowout all the world. v.6 Other: Cry and shout thou inhabiter of Sion, for great among you is the holy of Israel. 13. v.11 Other: boasting.

as a flock without a shepherd. Every man shall turn to his own people, and flee each one into his own land. Who so is found 15 alone, shall be shot thorow: And who so gather together, shall be destroyed with the sword. Their children shall be slain be- 16 fore their eyes, their houses spoiled, and their wives ravished.
 For lo, I shall bring up the Medes against them, which shall 17 not regard silver, nor be desirous of gold. Then shall young 18 men's bows be knapped asunder. The Medes shall have no pity upon women with child, and their faces shall not spare the children. And Babylon (that glory of kingdoms and beauty of 19 the Caldees' honor) shall be destroyed, even as God destroyed Sodom and Gomorra. It shall never be more inhabited, nei- 20 ther shall there be any more dwelling there, from generation to generation. The Arabians shall make no more tents there, neither shall the shepherds make their folds there any more: but wild beasts shall lie there, and the houses shall be full of 21 great Owls. Ostriches shall dwell there, and apes shall dance there: the little owls shall cry in the palaces, one after an- 22 other, and Dragons shall be in their pleasant parlors. And as for Babylon's time, it is at hand, and her days may not be long absent:

But the LORD will be merciful unto Jacob, and will take up XIV Israel again, and set them in their own land. Strangers shall cleave unto them, and get them to the house of Jacob. They 2 shall take the people, and carry them home with them. And the house of Israel shall have them in possession for servants and maidens in the land of the LORD. They shall take those prisoners, whose captives they had been afore: and rule those 3 that had oppressed them. When the LORD now shall bring thee to rest, from the travail, fear, and hard bondage that thou 4 wast laden with all: Then shalt thou use this mockage upon the king of Babylon, and say: How happeneth that the oppres- 4 sor leaveth off? Is the gold tribute come to an end? Doubtless 5 the LORD hath broken the staff of the ungodly, and the scepter of the lordly. Which when he is wroth, smiteth the people with 6 durable strokes, and in his wonders he persecuteth them, and tameth them continually. And therefore the whole world is 7 at rest and quietness, and men sing for joy. Yea even the fir 8 trees and Cedars of Libanus rejoice at thy fall, saying: Now that thou art laid down, there come no more up to destroy us.

9 Hell also trembleth at thy coming, all mighty men and princes of the earth, step forth before thee. All kings of the earth stand 10 up from their seats, that they may all (one after another) sing and speak unto thee. Art thou wounded also as we? art thou 11 become like unto us? Thy pomp and thy pride is gone down to hell: Moths shall be laid under thee, and worms shall be thy 12 covering. How art thou fallen from heaven, (O Lucifer) thou fair morning child? hast thou gotten a fall even to the ground, 13 thou that (notwithstanding) didst subdue the people? And yet thou thoughtest in thine heart: I will climb up into heaven, and make my seat above the stars of God, I will sit upon the 14 glorious mount toward the North, I will climb up above the 15 clouds, and will be like the highest of all. Yet dare I lay, that 16 thou shalt be brought down to the deep of hell. They that see thee, shall narrowly look upon thee, and think in themselves, saying: Is this the man, that brought all lands in fear, and 17 made the kingdoms afraid: Is this he that made the world in a manner waste, and laid the cities to the ground, which 18 let not his prisoners go home? How happeneth it, that the kings of all people lie, every one at home in his own palace, 19 with worship, and thou art cast out of thy grave like a wild branch: like as dead men's raiment that are shot thorow with the sword: as they that go down to the stones of the deep: as 20 a dead corpse* that is trodden under feet: and art not buried with them? Even because that thou hast wasted thy land, and destroyed thy people. For the generation of the wicked shall be 21 without honour, forever. There shall a way be sought to destroy their children, for their fathers' wickedness: They shall not rise up again to possess the land, and fill the world full of 22 castles and towns. I will stand up against them, (sayeth the LORD of Hosts) and root out the name and generation of Baby-23 lon (sayeth the LORD) and will give it to the Otters, and will make water puddles of it. and I will sweep them out with the 24 besom of destruction, sayeth the LORD of Hosts. The LORD of Hosts hath sworn an oath, saying: It shall come to pass as I have determined: and shall be fulfilled as I have devised.
 25 The Assyrians shall be destroyed in my land, and upon my mountains* will I tread them under foot. Where thorow his yoke shall come from you, and his burthen shall be taken from 14. v.19 Other: coarse. v.25 Other: mountaytaines.

your shoulders. This device hath God taken thorow the whole 26 world, and thus is his hand stretched out over all people. For 27 if the LORD of Hosts determine a thing, who will disannul it?
 And if he stretch forth his hand, who will hold it in again?
 The same year that king Ahaz died, God threatened by Esay 28 on this manner: Rejoice not (thou whole Palestina) as though 29 the rod of him that beateth thee were broken: For out of the serpent's root, there shall wax a cockatrice, and the fruit shall be a fiery worm. But the poor shall feed of the best things, 30 and the simple shall dwell in safety. Thy roots will I destroy with hunger, and it shall slay thy remnant. Mourn ye ports, 31 weep ye cities, and fear thou (O whole Palestina) for there shall come from the North a smoke, whose power no man may abide.
 Who shall then maintain the messages of the Gentiles? But 32 the LORD stablisheth Sion, and the poor of my people shall put their trust in him.

This is the heavy burthen upon Moab: Ar of Moab was de- XV stroyed (as me thought) in the night season: The walls of Moab perished in the night, and vanished away: They went to Ba- 2 jth, and Dibon in the high places, for to weep: Moab did mourn from Nebo to Medba: All their heads were polled, and all their beards shaven. In their streets were they girded about with 3 sackcloth. In all the tops of their houses and streets was there nothing, but mourning and weeping. Hesebon and Eleale 4 cried, that their voice was heard unto Jahaz. The worthies also of Moab bleared and cried for very sorrow of their minds: Woe 5 is my heart for Moab's sake. They fled unto the city of Zoar, which is like a fair fruitful bullock, they went up to Luhith, weeping. The way toward Horonaim was full of lamentation for the hurt. The waters of Nimrim were dried up, the grass was 6 withered, and the herbs destroyed, and what necessary green thing there was beside. In like manner the thing that was 7 left them of their substance, they carried it by water to Araby.
 The cry went over the whole land of Moab: from Eglaim unto 8 Beer, was there nothing but mourning. The waters of Dimon 9 were full of blood, for the enemy had sent thither a bond of men, which as a lion lay await for the remnant of the land, and for them that were escaped.

Then sent the lords of the land a man of war, from the XVI rock that lieth toward the desert, unto the hill of the daugh-

2 ter Sion. (For as for the daughters of Moab, they were as it had been a trembling bird, that is put out of her nest, by the 3 fury of Arnon.) which messenger said: gather your counsel, come together, cover us with your shadow in the midday, as the night doth: hide the chased, and bewray not them that 4 are fled, let the persecuted Moabites dwell among you, be our open refuge against the destroyer: for the adversary oppresseth us, the robber undoeth us, and the tyrant driveth us out 5 of our land. But the throne of your kingdom is full of grace, therefore he that sitteth upon it with faithfulness and truth in the house of David, know the thing, and do his diligence to help 6 shortly, according to equity and righteousness. As for Moab's pride (shall they answer) it is well known. And all thought they be excellent proud, arrogant and high minded: yet is their 7 strength nothing like. And therefore Moab complaineth unto Moab, where thorow they come all to mourn: and now that they be smitten, they take their device beneath by the brick 8 wall, and make their complaint. The suburbs also of Hesebon were made waste, and the princes of the Gentiles hewed down the vineyards of Sibma, which were planted with noble grapes, and spread unto Jazer, and went unto the end of the desert, whose branches stretched their fellows forth beyond the sea.
 9 Therefore I mourned for Jazer, and for the vineyards of Sibma with great sorrow. I poured my tears upon Hesebon and Eleale, for all their songs were laid down, in their harvest and gather-10 ing of their grapes: Mirth and cheer was gone out of the field and vineyards, in so much, that no man was glad nor sung.
 There went no treader into the winepress, their merry cheer 11 was laid down. Wherefore my belly rumbled (as it had been a lute) for Moab's sake, and mine inward members, for the brick 12 wall's sake. For it happened thus also: when Moab saw that she was turned upside down: she went up an high in to her Sanctuary, to make her prayer there, but she might not be 13 helped. This is the device, which the LORD took in hand at 14 the time against Moab. But now the LORD sayeth thus: In three years shall the power of Moab with their pomp* (which is great) be minished, like as the burthen of a hired servant.
 And as for the remnant of them, they shall be less than a few,
 and not reckoned much worth.

16. v.14 Other: pope.

This is the heavy burthen upon Damascus: Behold, Damascus shall be no more a city, but a heap of broken stones. The cities of Aroer shall be waste: the cattle shall lie there, and no man shall fraye them away. Ephraim shall no more be strong, and Damascus shall no more be a kingdom. And as for the glory of the remnant of the Syrians, it shall be as the glory of the children of Israel, sayeth the LORD of Hosts. At that time also shall the glory of Jacob be very poor, and his fatness lean. It shall happen to them, as when one sheareth in the harvest, which cutteth his handfull with the sickle, and when one gathereth the sheaves together in the valley, of Raphaim, there remaineth yet some ears over: Or as when one shaketh an olive tree, which sendeth but two or three olive berries above in the top, and four or five in the branches. Thus the LORD God of Israel hath spoken. Then shall man convert again unto his maker, and turn his eyes to the holy one of Israel. And shall not turn to the altars that are the work of his own hands, neither shall he look upon groves and images, which his fingers have wrought. At the same time shall their strong cities be desolate, like as were once the forsaken plows and corn, which they forsook, for fear of the children of Israel. So shalt thou (O Damascus) be desolate, because thou hast forgotten God thy Saviour, and hast not called to remembrance the rock of thy strength. Wherefore thou hast also set a fair plant, and grafted a strange branch. In the day when thou didst plant it, it was great, and gave soon the fruit of thy seed: But in the day of harvest, thou shalt reap an heap of sorrows and miseries. Woe be to the multitude of much people, that rush in like the sea, and to the heap of folk, that run* over all like great waters. For though so many people increase as the flowing waters and though they be armed, yet they flee far off, and vanish away like the dust with the wind upon an hill, and as the whirlwind thorow a storm. Though they be fearful at night, yet in the morning it is gone with them. This is their portion, that do us harm, and heritage of them, that rob us.

XVII

2

3

4

5

6

7

8

9

10

11

12

13

14

Woe be unto the land of flying ships, which is of this side the flood of Ethiopia: which sendeth her message over the sea in ships of reeds upon the water: and sayeth: go soon, and do your message unto a strange and hard folk: to a fearful people, and to a people that is further than this: to a desperate and pilled 3 folk, whose land is divided from us with rivers of water. Yea all ye that sit in the compass of the world, and dwell upon the earth: when the token shall be given upon the mountains, then 4 look up: and when the horn bloweth, then harken to, for thus hath the LORD said unto me. I laid me down, and pondered the matter in my house, at the Noon day when it was hot: And there fell a misling shower, like a dew, as it happeneth in Har-5 vest. But the fruits were not yet ripe cut off, and the grapes were but young and green. Then one smote off, the grapes with an hook, yea he hewed down also the boughs and the branches, 6 and did cast them away. And thus they were laid waste, for the fowls of the mountains, and for the beasts of the earth together. So that the fowls sat there upon, and the beasts of the 7 earth wintered there. Then shall there be a present brought to the LORD of Hosts: even that hard folk, that fearful folk, and that further is than this: that desperate and pilled folk (whose land is divided from us with floods of water) unto the place of the name of the LORD of Hosts: even unto the hill of Sion.

XVIII

2

XIX This is the heavy burthen upon Egypt: Behold, the LORD will ride upon a swift cloud, and come into Egypt. And the gods of Egypt shall tremble at his coming, and the heart of 2 Egypt shall quake within her. For thus sayeth the LORD: I will stir up the Egyptians one against another among themselves, so that one shall be ever against his brother and neighbour, yea one city against another, and one kingdom against 3 another. And Egypt shall be choked in herself. When they ask counsel at their gods, at their prophets, at their soothsay-4 ers and witches: then will I bring their counsel to naught. I will deliver Egypt also into the hands of grievous rulers, and 5 a cruel king shall have the rule of them.* The water of the sea shall be drawn out, Nilus shall sink away, and be drunk 6 up. The rivers also shall be drawn out, the wells shall de-7 crease and dry away. Reed and rush shall fail, the grass by the waters side or upon the river bank, yea and whatsoever is sown by the waters, shall be withered, destroyed, and brought 8 to naught. The fishers shall mourn, all such as cast angles in the water, shall complain, and they that spread their nets

19. v.4 Other: utters the Lord Iehouah of Hosts.

in the water, shall be faint hearted. Such as labour upon flax 9 and silk, shall come to poverty, and they also that weave fine works. All the pounds of Egypt, all the policy of their Moats 10 and ditches shall come to naught. Yea the indiscreet princes of 11 Zoan, the counsel of the wise Senators of Pharaoh, shall turn to foolishness: Those that dare boast and say of Pharaohs behalf: I am come of wise people, I am come of the old regal 12 Progeny. But where are now thy wise men? Let them tell thee and shew thee, what the LORD of Hosts hath taken in hand against Egypt. Fools are those princes of Zoan, and proud are 13 the princes of Noph: yea they deceive Egypt with their nobility of their stock. For the LORD hath made Egypt drunken with 14 the spirit of error, and they shall use it in all matters: even like as a drunken man goeth spewing about. For Egypt shall lack 15 good counsel, so that they shall know not what to do, neither beginning nor end, neither upon the land nor water. Then 16 shall the Egyptians be like unto women, afraid and astounded, at the lifting up of the head, which the LORD of Hosts shall lift up over them. The land of Juda also shall make the Egypt- 17 ians afraid, who so doth but speak upon it, shall put them in fear: And that because of the counsel, which the LORD of Hosts hath devised against them. Then shall the five cities of Egypt 18 speak with the Canaanites tongue, and swear by the LORD of Hosts, and Heliopolis shall be one of them. At the same time 19 shall the LORD of Hosts have an altar in the midst of the land of Egypt, with this title thereby: Unto the LORD. This 20 shall be a token or testimony unto the LORD of Hosts in the land of Egypt, when they shall cry unto him, because of those that oppress them: that he shall send them a Captain and a Saviour to deliver them. Moreover, Egypt shall be brought 21 unto the LORD, and the Egyptians also shall know the LORD at the same time: they shall do him reverence with peace offerings, and with meat offerings: they shall promise him offerings: yea and pay him also. Thus the LORD shall smite Egypt, 22 and heal it again: and so shall they turn to the LORD, and he also shall have mercy upon them, and save them. Then shall 23 there be a common way out of Egypt into Assyria. The Assyrians shall come into Egypt, and the Egyptians into Assyria. The Egyptians also and the Assyrians shall both have one God's service. Then shall Israel with honour be the third to Egypt 24

25 and Assur. And the LORD of Hosts shall bless them, saying: Blis-26 sed is my people of the Egyptians, Assur is the work of my hands, but Israel is mine inheritance.

XX In the same year that Tharthan came unto Asdod, where Sargon the king of the Assyrians sent him, what time as he 2 also besieged Asdod, and wan it the same season: Then spake the LORD unto Esay the son of Amoz, saying: Go and loose * that sackcloth from thy loins, and put off thy shoes from thy 3 feet. And so he did, going naked and barefoot. Then said the LORD: where as my servant Esay goeth naked and barefoot, it is a token and signifying of the thing, that after three years 4 shall come upon Egypt and Ethiopia. For even thus shall the king of the Assyrians drive both young and old, as prisoners naked and barefoot, out of Egypt and Ethiopia. And shall dis-5 cover the shame of Egypt. They shall be also at their wits end, and ashamed one of another: the Egyptians of the Morians, and the Morians of the Egyptians, at the sight of their 6 glory. Moreover they that dwell in the Isles shall see even the same day: behold, this is our hope, to whom we fled to seek help, that we might be delivered from the king of the Assyrians. How will we escape?

XXI This is the heavy burthen of the waste sea: A grievous vision was shewed unto me, like as when a storm of wind and 2 rain rusheth in from the wilderness, that terrible land. Who so may deceive (said the voice) let him deceive: Who so may destroy, let him destroy. Up Elam, besiege it O Madai, for I 3 well still all their groanings. With this, the reins of my back were full of pain: Pangs came upon me, as upon a woman in her travail. When I heard it, I was abashed: and when I looked 4 up, I was afraid. Mine heart panted, I trembled for fear. The 5 darkness made me fearful in my mind. Yet soon make ready the table, (said this voice) keep the watch, eat and drink: Up 6 ye Captains, take you to your shield, for thus the Lord hath charged me: Go thy way, and set a watchman, that he may 7 tell what he seeth. And when he had waited diligently, he saw two horsemen: the one riding upon an Ass, the other upon 8 a camel. And the lion cried: lord, I have stand waiting all 9 the whole day, and have kept my watch all the night. With that came there one riding upon a chariot, which answered,

20. v.2 Other: lowse.

and said: Babylon is fallen, she is turned upside down, and all the images of her gods are smitten to the ground. This (O 10 my fellow threshers and fanners) have I heard of the LORD of Hosts, the God of Israel, to shew it unto you. The heavy bur- 11 then of Dumah. One of Seir, cried unto me: watchman what hast thou espyed by night? Watchman, what hast thou espyed by night? The watchman answered: The day breaketh on, 12 and the night is coming: If your request be earnest, then ask and come again. The heavy burthen upon Arabia. At even ye 13 shall abide in the wood, in the way toward Dedanim. Meet 14 the thirsty with water (o ye citizens of Hema) meet* those with bread that are fled. For they shall run away from the weapon, 15 from the drawn sword, from the bent bow, and from the great battle. For thus hath the Lord spoken unto me, over a year 16 shall all the power of Cedar be gone, like as when the office of an hired servant goeth out: And the remnant of the good 17 Archers of Cedar, shall be very few: For the LORD God of Israel hath spoken it.

The heavy burthen upon the valley of visions. What hast XXII thou there to do, that thou climbest up in to the house top, O 2 thou city of miracles, seditious and willful: seeing, thy slain men are neither killed with sword, nor dead in battle? For 3 all thy Captains gat them to their horses from the ordinance, yea they are all together ridden away, and fled far off. When I 4 perceived that, I said: away from me, that I may weep bitterly.
 Take no labour for to comfort me, as touching the destruction of my people. For this is the day of the LORD of Hosts, where in 5 he will plague, tread down, and weed out the valley of visions, and break down the walls, with such a crack, that it shall give a sound in the mountains. I saw the Elamites take the quivers 6 to cart and to horse, and that the walls were bare from harness. Thy goodly valleys were full of chariots, and the horse 7 men made them soon to besiege the gates. Then was the cov- 8 ering of Judah put from thence, and then was seen the siege of the timber house. There shall ye see the rifts in the walls of 9 the city of David, whereof there shall be many. Ye shall gather together the waters of the lower pool, and tell the houses of Je- 10 rusalem, and break of some of them to keep the walls. And ye 11 shall make a pit betwixt the twain walls of the water of the old

21. v.14 Other: mete.

pool, and nothing regard him, that took it in hand, and made 12 it. And at the same time shall the LORD of Hosts call men to weeping, mourning, to baldness and a putting on of sackcloth.
 13 But they to fulfill their lust and willfulness, slaughter oxen: they kill sheep, they eat costly meat, and drink wine, let us eat 14 and drink, to morrow we shall die. Nevertheless, when the LORD of Hosts heard of it, he said: yea, if this wickedness of yours shall be remitted, ye must die for it. This hath the Lord 15 GOD of Hosts spoken. Thus sayeth the Lord GOD of Hosts:
 Go in to the treasury unto Sobna the governor, and say to him: 16 What hast thou here to do? and from whence comest thou? that thou hast made thee a grave here? For he had caused a costly tomb of stone to be made for himself, and a place to lie in 17 to be hewn out of a rock. Behold, the LORD shall cast thee out by violence, he will deck thee of another fashion, and put upon 18 thee a strange cloth. He shall carry thee into a far country, like a ball with his hands. There shalt thou die, there shall the pomp of thy chariots have an end: thou villain of the house 19 of thy lord: I will shoot* thee out of thine office, and put thee 20 from thine estate. After this will I call my servant Eliakim 21 the son of Helkiah, and array him with thy coat, and gird him with thy girdle, and I will give thy power in to his hand. He shall be a father of the citizens of Jerusalem, and of the kin-22 dred of Judah. I will also lay the key of David's house upon his shoulders, and if he open, no man shall shut: and if he do 23 shut, no man shall open. I will fasten him to a nail in the place of the most high* faithfulness, and he shall be upon the 24 glorious throne of his father's house. They shall hang upon him all the glory of his father's house, of the children and children's children, all apparel small and great, all instruments 25 of measure and music. This shall come to pass (sayeth the LORD of Hosts) when the nail that is fastened to the place of the highest faithfulness, shall be plucked* off. And when the weight that hangeth upon it, shall fall, be broken, and hewn in pieces. For the LORD himself hath said it.

XXIII

An heavy burthen upon Tyrus. Mourn ye ships of Tharsis, for she is thrown down to the ground, and conquered of them 2 that are come from Cethim. The indwellers of the Islands, the merchants of Sidon, and they that occupied the sea, (of whom thou wast full sometime) are at a point. For by sea were there 3 fruits brought unto thee, and all manner of corn by water. Thou wast the common market of all people. Sidon is sorry for it, 4 yea and all the power of the sea complaineth, and sayeth: O that I had never traveled with child, that I had never born any, that I had neither nourished boy, nor brought up daughter. As 5 soon as Egypt perceiveth it, she will be as sorry as Tyrus it self.

 Go over the sea, mourn ye that dwell in the Isles. Is not that 6, 7 the glorious city, which hath been of long antiquity? Whose natives dwelling far off, commend her so greatly? Who hath 8 devised such things upon Tyrus the crown of all cities, whose merchants and Captains were the highest and principal of the world? Even the LORD of Hosts hath devised it, that he may 9 put down all pomp, and minish all the Glory of the world. Go 10 thorow thy land (O thou daughter of the sea) as men go over the water, and there is not a girdle more. Thus the LORD 11 that removeth the kingdoms, hath taken in hand against that mighty Canaan to root* it out: hath stretched out his hand over the sea, and said: From hence forth shalt thou make no more 12 mirth, O thou daughter of Sidon: for thou shalt be put down of the Cethens. Stand up therefore, and go where the enemy will carry thee, where thou shalt also have no rest. Behold, (for 13 thine example) The Chaldees were such a people, that no man was like them, Assur builded them: he set up his castles and palaces, and broke them down again. And therefore mourn 14 (ye ships of the sea) for your power shall be thrown down. Af- 15 ter that, shall the seventy years of Tyrus, even as long as their kings life was) be forgotten. And after seventy years, it shall happen to Tyrus as with an harlot that playeth upon a lute.
 Take thy lute (say men to her) and go about the city, thou art 16 yet an unknown wench, make pastime with divers ballads,* whereby thou mayest come into acquaintance. Thus shall it 17 happen after seventy years. The LORD shall visit the city of Tyrus, and it shall come again to her merchandise, and shall occupy with all the kingdoms that be in the world. But all her 18 occupying and wining shall be hallowed unto the LORD. For then shall they lay up nothing behind them nor upon heaps:
 but the merchandise of Tirus shall belong to the citizens of the LORD, to the feeding and sustaining of the hungry, and to the clothing of the aged.

XXIV

Behold, the LORD shall waste and plague the world, he shall make the face of the earth desolate, and scatter abroad
 2 the inhabitants thereof. Then shall the priest be as the people, the master as the servant, the dame like the maid, the seller like the buyer, he that lendeth upon usury, like him that bor-
 3 roweth upon usury, the creditor, as the debtor. Yea miserably shall the world be wasted and clean destroyed. For the LORD
 4 hath so determined in himself. The earth shall be heavy and decay: The face of the earth shall perish and fall away, the 5 proud people of the world shall come to naught. For the earth is corrupt of her indwellers. For why they have offended the law, changed the ordinances, and made the everlasting testa-
 6 ment of none effect. And therefore shall the curse devour the earth: for they that dwell thereon, have sinned, wherefore they shall be brent also, and those that remain, shall be very few.
 7 The sweet wine shall mourn, the grapes shall be weak, and 8 all that have been merry in heart, shall sigh. The mirth of tabrets shall be laid down, the cheer of the joyful shall cease, 9 and the pleasure of lutes shall have an end: there shall no more wine be drunk with mirth, the beer shall be bitter to 10 them that drink it, the wicked cities shall be broken down, 11 all houses shall be shut, that no man may come in. In the streets shall there be lift up a cry because of wine, all men's cheer shall vanish away, and all joy of the earth shall pass.
 12 Desolation shall remain in the cities, and the gates shall be smitten with wasteness. For it shall happen unto all lands 13 and to all people, like as when a man smiteth down the olives, that are left upon the tree: or seeketh after grapes, when the 14 wine gathering is out. And those same (that remain) shall lift up their voice, and be glad, and shall magnify the glory of the 15 LORD, even from the sea and praise the name of the LORD 16 God of Israel in the valleys and Islands. We heard songs sung to the praise of the righteous, from all the ends of the world. Therefore I must speak: O mine unfruitfulness, O my poverty. Woe is me, all is full of sinners, which offend of purpose and 17 malice. And therefore (O thou that dwellest upon the earth) 18 there is at hand for thee, fear, pit and snare. Who so escapeth the terrible cry, shall fall in to the pit. And if he come out of the pit, he shall be taken with the snare. For the windows above shall be opened, and the foundation of the earth shall move. The earth shall give a great crack, it shall have a sore 19 ruin, and take an horrible fall. The earth shall stagger* like 20 a drunken man, and be taken away like a tent. Her* misdeeds shall lie so heavy upon her, that she must fall, and never rise up again. At the same time shall the LORD muster together 21 the high* host above, and the kings of the world upon the earth.

 These shall be coupled together as prisoners be, and shall be 22 shut in one ward and punished innumerable days. The Moon 23 and the Sun shall be ashamed, when the LORD of Hosts shall rule them at Jerusalem upon the mount Sion, before and with his excellent counsel.

O LORD, thou art my God, I will praise thee, and magnify XXV thy name: For thou bringest marvelous things to pass, according to thine old counsels, truly and steadfastly. Thou makest 2 of towns, heap of stone: and of head cities, broken walls: The palaces of the wicked destroyest thou out of the city, that they shall never be builded again. Therefore the very rude people 3 must magnify thee, and the cities of the cruel Heathen must fear thee. For thou art the poor man's help, and strength for 4 the needful in his necessity. Thou art a defense against evil weather, a shadow against the heat. But unto the presumptuous, thou art like a strong whirl wind, that casteth down the boasting* of the ungodly: thou keepest men from heat, 5 with the shadow of thy clouds, thou cuttest off the branches of tyrants. Moreover, the LORD of Hosts shall once prepare a 6 feast for all people upon the hill: A plenteous, costly, pleasant feast, of fat and well fed beasts, of sweet and most pure things.
 Upon the hill shall he take away the side vale that hangeth 7 before the face of all people, and the covering wherewith all Gentiles are covered. As for death he shall utterly consume 8 it. The Lord GOD shall wipe away the tears from all faces, and take away the confusion of his people thorow the whole world. For the LORD himself hath said it. At the same time 9 shall it be said: Lo, this is our God in whom we put our trust, and he hath healed us. This is the LORD that we have waited for: Let us rejoyce and delight in his health. For the hand of 10 the LORD ceaseth upon this hill. But Moab shall be threshed 24. v.20 Other: stacker. v.20 Other: His. v.21 Other: hie. 25. v.4 Other: boosting.

down under him, like as the straw is trodden under feet in a 11 dung hill. For he shall stretch out his hands upon him, like as a swimmer doth to swim. And with the power of his hands 12 shall he cast down his high pomp. As for his strongholds and high walls: he shall bow them, cast them down, and sell them to the ground in to dust.

XXVI Then shall this song be sung in the land of Judah. We have 2 a strong city, the walls and the ordinance shall keep us. Open the gates, that the good people may go in, which laboureth for 3 the truth. And thou, which art the doer and hast the matter in hand: shall provide for peace, even the peace that men hope for 4 in thee. Hope still in the LORD, for in the LORD GOD is ever-5 lasting strength. For why? It is he, that bringeth low the high minded citizens, and casteth down the proud cities. He casteth 6 them to the ground, yea even in to the mire, that they may be trodden under the feet of the simple, and with the steps of 7 the poor. Thou (LORD) considerest the path of the righteous, whether it be right, whether the way of the righteous be right.
8 Therefore (LORD) we have a respect unto the way of thy judge-9 ments, thy name and thy remembrance rejoice the soul. My soul lusteth after thee all the night long, and my mind hasteth freely to thee. For as soon as thy judgment is known to the world, then the inhabitants of the earth learn righteousness.
10 But the ungodly (though he have received grace) yet learneth he not righteousness, but in that place where he is punished, 11 he offendeth, and feareth not the glory of the LORD. LORD, they will not see thine high hand, but they shall see it, and be confounded: when thou shalt devour them with the wrath of 12 the people, and with the fire of thine enemies. But unto us, O LORD, provide for peace: for thou workest in us all our works.
13 O LORD our God, though such lords have domination upon us as know not thee: yet grant that we may only hope in thee, and 14 keep thy name in remembrance. The malicious tyrants when they die, are neither in life nor in the resurrection, for thou vis-itest them and rootest them out, and destroyest all the memo-15 rial of them. Again, thou increasest the people, O LORD, thou increasest the people thou shalt be praised and magnified in all 16 the ends of the world. The people that seek unto thee in trouble, that same adversity which they complain of is unto them 17 a chastening before thee. Like as a wife with child (when her travail cometh upon her) is ashamed, cryeth and suffereth the pain: Even so are we, O LORD, in thy sight. We are with child, 18 we travail, and bear, and with the spirit we bring forth health, where thorow the earth is undestroyed, and the inhabitants of the world perish not. But as for thy dead men and ours, that 19 be departed, they are in life and resurrection. They lie in the earth, they wake, and have joy: for thy dew is a dew of life and light. But the place of the malicious Tyrants is fallen away.

 So go now my people into thy chamber, and shut the door to 20 thee, and suffer now the twinkling of an eye, till the wrath be overpast. For behold, the LORD will go out of his habitation, 21 and visit the wickedness of them that dwell upon earth. He will discover the blood that she hath devoured, she shall never hide them, that she hath murdered.

Then the LORD with his heavy, great, and long sword shall XXVII visit Leviathan that invincible serpent: even Leviathan that crooked serpent, and shall slay the whalfish in the sea. At 2 the same time shall men sing of the vineyard of Muscatel. I 3 the LORD keep it, and water it in due season. I watch day and night, that no man break into it. I hear no evil will in my mind. Who will compel me, that I greatly forgetting all faith- 4 fulness, should burn it up at once with thorns and bushes? Or 5 who will enforce me to keep or make peace? It will come to 6 this point, that Jacob shall be rooted again, and Israel shall be green, and bear flowers, and they shall fill the whole world with their fruit. Smiteth he not his smiter, as even as he is 7 smitten himself: Destroyeth he not the murderers, as he is murdered? Every man recompenseth with the measure that 8 he receiveth: He museth upon his sore wind, as upon the days of extreme heat. And therefore shall the iniquity of Jacob be 9 thus reconciled. And so shall he take away all the fruit of his sins. As for altar stones, he shall make them all as stones beaten to powder: the groves and Idols shall not stand. The 10 strong cities shall be desolate, and the fair cities shall be left like a wilderness. The cattle shall feed and lie there, and the sheep shall eat it up. Their harvest shall be brent, their wives 11 which were their beauty, when they came forth: shall be defiled. For it is a people without understanding, and therefore he that created them, shall not favour them and he that made them shall not be merciful to them. In that time shall the 12

LORD shoot from the swift water of Euphrates, unto the river of Egypt. And there shall the children be chosen out one by one. Then shall the great trumpet be blown, so that those which have been destroyed in the Assirians land, and those that be scattered abroad in Egypt: shall come and worship the LORD at Jerusalem, upon the holy mount.

XXVIII

Woe be to the crown of pride, to the drunken Ephraimites, and to the fading flower, to the glory of his pomp, * that is upon the top of the plentious valley: which men be overladen with wine. Behold, the strength and power of the Lord shall break into the land on every side, like a tempest of hail, * that beareth down strongholds, and like an horrible, mighty and overflowing water. And the proud crown of the drunken Ephraimites, shall be trodden under foot. And as for the fading flower, the glory of his pomp, which is upon the top of the plentious valley: it shall happen unto him, as to an untimely fruit before the harvest come. Which as soon as it is seen, is by and by devoured, or ever it come well in a man's hand. And then shall the LORD of Hosts be a joyful crown, and a glorious garland unto the remnant of his people. Unto the lowly, he shall be a spirit of judgement, and unto them that drive away the enemies from the gates, he shall be a spirit of strength. But they go wrong by the reason of wine, they fall and stacker because of strong drink. Yea even the priests and prophets themselves go amiss, they are drunken with wine, and weak brained throw strong drink. They err in seeing, and in judgement they fail. For all tables are so full of vomit and filthiness, that no place is clean. What is he among them, that can teach, instruct or inform the children, which are weeded from suck or taken from the breasts: of any other fashion then: Command that may be commanded, bid that may be bidden, forbid that may be forbidden, keep back that may be kept back, here a little, there a little. And therefore the LORD also shall speak with lispings lips and with a strange language unto this people, to whom he spake afore of this manner: This shall bring rest, if one refresh the weary, yea this shall bring rest. But they had no will to hear. And therefore the LORD shall answer their stubbornness. * (Command that may be commanded, bid that may be bidden, forbid that may be forbidden, keep back that may be kept back, here a little, there a little.) That they may go forth, fall backward, be bruised, snared, and taken. Wherefore hear 14 the word of the LORD, ye mockers that rule the Lord's people, which is at Jerusalem. For ye comfort yourselves thus: 15 Tush, death and we are at point, and as for hell, we have made a condition with it, that though there break out any sore plague, it shall not come upon us. For with deceit will we escape, and with nimbleness will we defend ourselves. There- 16 fore thus sayeth the Lord GOD: Behold, I will lay a stone in Sion, a great stone, a costly corner stone, for a sure foundation: that who so putteth his trust in him, shall not be confounded. Righteousness will I set up again in the balance, 17 and judgement in the weights. The tempest of hail shall take away your refuge, that ye have to deceive withal: and the overflowing waters shall break down your strongholds of dissimulation. Thus the appointment that ye have made with death, 18 shall be done away: and the condition that ye made with hell, shall not stand.* When the great destruction goeth thorow, it shall all to tread you. It shall take you quite away before it.

 For it shall go forth early in the morning, and continue only 19 that day and that night. And the very fear only shall teach you, when ye hear it. For the bed shall be so narrow that a 20 man can not lie upon it: And the covering too small, that a man may not wind himself therein. For the LORD shall step 21 forth as he did upon the mount Perazim, and shall take on as he did upon the dale of Gabaon: that he may bring forth his device, his strange device: and fulfill his work, his wonderful work. And therefore make no mocks at it, that your captivity 22 increase not: for I have heard the Lord GOD of Hosts say, that there shall come a sudden destruction and plague upon the whole earth. Take heed, and hear my voice, ponder and mark 23 my words well. Goeth not the husbandman ever in due season earnestly to his land? He moweth and ploweth his ground 24 to sow. And when he hath made it plain, he soweth it with fetches or comin. He soweth the wheat and Barley in their 25 place, Milium and Rye also in their place. And that he may do it right, his God teacheth him and sheweth him. For he 26 treadeth not the fitches out with a waine, neither bringeth he the cart here and there over the comin, but he thresheth the 27

v.18 Other: stode.

28 fitches out with a flayle, and the comin with a rod. As for the wheat, he grindeth it to make bread thereof; In as much as he can not bring it to pass with treading out. For neither the bruising that the cart wheels make, nor his beasts can grind 29 it. This and such like things come of the LORD of Hosts which is marvelous in counsel, and great in righteousness.

XXIX

Woe be unto thee O Ariel, thou city that David wan. Take ye 2 yet some years, and let some feasts yet pass over: then shall Ariel be besieged, so that she shall be heavy and sorrowful, 3 and shall be unto me even as a lion. For I will lay siege to thee round about, and keep thee in with towers, and grave up dikes 4 against thee. And thou shalt be brought low, and speak out of the earth, and thy words shall go humbly out of the ground.
 5 Thy voice shall come out of the earth, like the voice of a witch, and thy talking shall groan out of the mire. For the multitude of thine enemies shall be like meal dust. And the number of Tyrants shall be as the dust that the wind taketh away sud-6 denly. Thou shalt be visited of the LORD of Hosts with thunder, earthquake, and with a great crack, with the whirl wind, 7 tempest, and with the flame of a consuming fire. But now the multitude of all the people, that went out against Ariel: the whole host, the strongholds, and siege: is like a dream 8 which appeareth in the night. It is like as when an hungry man dreameth that he is eating, and when he awaketh, he hath nothing: like as when a thirsty man dreameth that he is drinking, and when he awaketh he is faint, and his soul unpaitient. So is the multitude of all people that muster themselves 9 against the hill of Sion. But ye shall be at your wits end, ye shall be abashed: ye shall stagger, and reel to and fro. Ye shall be drunken, but not of wine. Ye shall fall, but not thorow 10 drunkenness: For the LORD shall give you an hard sleeping spirit, and hold down your eyes: namely your Prophets and 11 heads which should see, them shall he cover. And all visions shall be unto you, as the words that stand in a sealed letter, when one offereth it to a man that is learned, and sayeth: read us this letter. Then he answereth: I can not read it, for it is 12 shut. But if it be given to one that is not learned, or say unto 13 him: read this letter: Then sayeth he I can not read. Therefore thus sayeth the Lord: For so much as this people draweth nye me with their mouth, and praiseth me highly with their lips, where as their heart nevertheless is far from me, and the fear which they owe unto me, that turn they to men's laws and doctrines, therefore will I also shew unto this people a 14 marvelous, terrible, and great thing (Namely this:) I will destroy the wisdom of their wise, and the understanding of their learned men shall perish. Woe be unto them that seek so deep, 15 to hide their imagination before the LORD, which rehearse their counsels in the darkness, and say: who seeth us, or who knoweth us? Which imagination of yours is even as when the 16 potter's clay taketh advisement, as though the work might say to the workmaster: make me not, or as when an earthen vessel sayeth of the potter: he understandeth not. See ye not that 17 it is hard by, that Libanus shall be turned in to Charmel, and that Charmel shall be taken as a wood? Then shall deaf men 18 understand the words of the book, and the eyes of the blind shall see without any cloud or darkness. The oppressed shall 19 hold a merry feast in the LORD, and the poor people shall rejoice in the holy one of Israel. Then shall the furious people 20 cease, and the mockers shall be put away, and all they that do wrong shall be plucked* out, such as labour to draw men 21 unto sin: and that deceive him, which reproveth them in the gate, and such as turn good persons to vanity. And therefore 22 the LORD (even the defender of Abraham) sayeth thus unto the house of Jacob: Now shall not Jacob be ashamed, nor his face confounded, when he seeth among his children (whom my 23 hands have made) such as hallow my name among them: that they may sanctify the holy one of Jacob, and fear the God of Israel. And that they which afore time were of an erroneous 24 spirit, have now understanding, and that such as before could not speak, are now learned in my law.

Woe be unto those shrinking children (sayeth the LORD) XXX which seek counsel, but not at me: which take a web in hand, but not after my will: that they may heap one sin upon another. They go down into Egypt, (and ask me no counsel) to 2 seek help at he power of Pharaoh, and comfort in the shadow of the Egyptians. But Pharaoh's help shall be your confusion, 3 and the comfort in the Egyptian's shadow shall be your own shame. Your rulers have been at Zoan, and your messengers 4 came unto Hanes. But ye shall all be ashamed of the people 5 that may not help you, which shall not bring you strength or 6 comfort, but shame and confusion. Your beasts have born burthens upon their backs toward the South, thorow the way that is full of peril and trouble, because of the lion and lioness,* of the Cockatrice and shooting* dragon. Yea the Mules bare your substance, and the Camels brought your treasure upon their 7 crooked backs, unto a people that can not help you. For the Egyptian's help shall be but vain and lost. Therefore I told you 8 also that your pride should have an end. Wherefore go hence and write them this in their tables, and note it in a book: that 9 it may remain by their posterity, and be still kept. For it is an obstinate people, unfaithful children, children that will not 10 hear the law of the LORD. They dare say to the Prophets: In-tromit yourselves with nothing, and unto the Soothsayers: tell us of nothing for to come, but speak friendly words unto us, 11 and preach us false things. Tread out of the way, go out of 12 the path, turn the holy one of Israel from us. Therefore thus sayeth the holy one of Israel: In so much as ye have cast off your beauty, and comforted yourselves with power and nim-13 bleness, and put your confidence therein: therefore shall ye have this mischief again for your destruction and fall, like as an high wall, that falleth because of some rift (or blast) whose 14 breaking cometh suddenly. And your destruction shall be like as an earthen pot, which breaketh no man touching it, yea and breaketh so sore, that a man shall not find a shever of it to fetch 15 fire in, or to take water withal out of the pit. For the Lord GOD, even the holy one of Israel hath promised this: With still sitting and rest shall ye be healed, in quietness and hope shall 16 your strength lie. Notwithstanding ye regard it not, but ye will say: No, for thus are we constrained to flee upon horses.

And therefore shall ye flee, we must ride upon swift beasts, 17 and therefore your persecutors shall yet be swifter. A thousand of you shall flee for one, or at the most for five, which do but only give you evil words: until ye be desolate, as a ship mast upon an high mountain, and as a beacon upon an hill.
18 Yet standeth the LORD waiting, that he may have mercy upon you, and lifteth himself up, that he may receive you to grace.
For the LORD God is righteous. Happy are all they that wait for 19 him. For thus (O thou people of Sion and ye citizens of Jerusalem) shall ye never be in heaviness, for doubtless he will have mercy upon thee. As soon as he heareth the voice of thy cry, he will help thee. The Lord giveth you the bread of adversity, and the water of trouble. But thine instructor flyeth not far from thee, if thine eyes look unto thine instructor, and thine ears harken to his word, that cryeth after thee and sayeth: this is the way, go this, and turn neither to the right hand nor to the left. Moreover, if ye destroy the silver works of your Idols, and cast away the golden coapes that ye deck them withal (as filthiness) and say get you hence: Then will he give rain to the seed, that ye shall sow in the earth, and give you bread of the increase of the earth, so that all shall be plenteous and abundant. Thy cattle also shall he feed in the broad meadows, yea thine oxen and Mules that till the ground, shall eat good fodder, which is purged with the fan. Goodly rivers shall flow out of all his mountains and hills. In the day of the great slaughter when the towers shall fall, the moon shall shine as the sun, and the sunshine shall be seven fold, and have as much shine, as in seven days beside. In that day shall the LORD bind up the bruised sores of his people, and heal their wounds. Behold, the glory of the LORD shall come from far, his face shall burn, that no man shall be able to abide it, his lips shall wag for very indignation, and his tongue shall be as a consuming fire. His breath like a vehement flood of water, which goeth up to the throat. That he may take away the people, which have turned themselves unto vanity, and the bridle of error, that lieth in other folks chaws. But ye shall sing, as the use is in the night of the holy solempnite. Ye shall rejoice from your heart, as they that come with the pipe, when they go up to the mount of the LORD, unto the rock of Israel. The LORD also shall set up the power of his voice, and declare his terrible arm, with his angry countenance, yea and the flame of the consuming fire, with earthquake, tempest of wind, and hailstones. Then shall the Assyrians* fear also because of the voice of the LORD, which shall smite him with the rod. And the same rod which the LORD will send upon him, shall move the whole foundation: with trumpet, with noise of war and battle to destroy. For he hath prepared the fire of pain from the beginning, yea even for kings also. This hath he made deep and wide, the nourishing v.31 Other: Assirian.

thereof is fire and wood innumerable which the breath of the* LORD kindleth, as it were a match of brimstone.

XXXI

Woe be unto them that go down in to Egypt for help, and trust in horses, and comfort themselves in chariots, because they be many, and in horsemen because they be lusty and strong. But they regard not the holy one of Israel, and they ask 2 no question at the LORD. Whereas he nevertheless plagueth the wicked, and yet goeth not from his word, when he step-peth forth, and taketh the victory against the household of the 3 froward, and against the help of evil doers. Now the Egyptians are men, and not God, and their horses flesh, and not spirit. And as soon as the LORD stretcheth out his hand, then shall the helper fall, and he that should have been helped, and 4 shall all together be destroyed. For thus hath the LORD spoken unto me: Like as the lion or lion's whelps roareth upon the prey that he hath gotten, and is not afraid, though the multitude of shepherds cry out upon him, neither abashed for all the heap of them: So shall the LORD of Hosts come down from the 5 mount Sion, and defend his hill. Like as birds flutter about their nests, so shall the LORD of Hosts keep, save, defend and 6 deliver Jerusalem. Therefore, O ye children of Israel, turn 7 again, like as ye have exceeded in your going back. For in that day every man shall cast out his Idols of silver and gold, 8 which ye have made with your sinful hands. Assur also shall be slain with the sword, not with a man's sword. A sword shall devour him, but not a man's sword. And he shall flee from the 9 slaughter, and his servants shall be taken prisoners. He shall go for fear to his strongholds, and his princes shall flee from his badge. This hath the LORD spoken, whose light burneth in Sion, and his fire in Jerusalem.

XXXII

Behold, the king shall govern after the rule of righteousness, and the princes shall rule according to the balance of equity. He shall be unto men, as a defense for the wind, and as a refuge for the tempest, like as a river of water in a thirsty 2 place, and the shadow of a great rock in a dry land. The eyes of the seeing shall not be dim, and the ears of them that hear, 3 shall take diligent heed. The heart of the unwise, shall attain to knowledge, and the unperfect tongue shall speak plainly 4 and distinctly. Then shall the nigarde be no more called gen-5 tle, nor the churle liberal. But the churle will be churlishly 6 minded, and his heart will work evil and play the hypocrite, and imagine abominations against GOD, to make the hungry lean, and withhold drink from the thirsty: These are the 7 perilous weapons of the covetous, these be his shameful counsels: that he may beguile the poor with deceitful works, yea even 8 there as he should give sentence with the poor. But the liberal person imagineth honest things, and cometh up with hon- 9 esty. Up (ye rich and idle cities) harken unto my voice. Ye careless cities, mark my words. After years and days shall 10 ye be brought in fear, O ye careless cities. For Harvest shall be out, and the grape gathering shall not come. O ye rich 11 idle cities ye that fear no peril, ye shall be abashed and removed: when ye see the bareness, the nakedness and preparing to war. Ye shall knock upon your breasts, because of the 12 pleasant field, and because of the fruitful vineyard. My peo- 13 ple's field shall bring thorns and thistles, for in every house is voluptuousness, and in the cities, wilfulness. The palaces also 14 shall be broken, and the greatly occupied cities desolate. The towers and bulwarks shall be become dens for evermore, the pleasure of Mules shall be turned to pasture for sheep: unto 15 the time that the spirit be poured upon us from above. Then shall the wilderness be a fruitful field, and the plenteous field shall be reckoned for a wood. Then shall equity dwell in the 16 desert, and righteousness in a fruitful land. And the reward 17 of righteousness shall be peace, and her fruit rest and quietness for ever. And my people shall dwell in the inns of peace, 18 in my tabernacle and pleasure where there is enough in them all. And when the hail falleth, it shall fall in the wood and in 19 the city. O how happy shall ye be, when ye shall safely sow 20 your seed beside all waters, and drive thither the feet of your oxen and asses.

Therefore woe be unto thee (O robber) shalt not thou be XXXIII robbed also? and unto thee that layest wait, as who say there should no wait be laid for thee: Woe unto thee which doest hurt, even so shalt thou be hurt also. And as thou layest wait, so shall wait be laid for thee also. LORD be merciful unto us, 2 we wait for thee. Thine arm is at a point to visit us, but be thou our health in the time of trouble. Grant that the people may 3 flee at the anger of thy voice, and that at thine upstanding the 4 Gentiles may be scattered abroad, and that their spoil may be gathered, as the grasshoppers are commonly gathered together 5 in to the pit. Stand up LORD, thou that dwellest on high:* Let 6 Sion be filled with equity and righteousness. Let truth and faithfulness be in her time: power, health, wisdom, knowledge 7 and the fear of GOD are her treasure. Behold, their angels cry 8 without, the messengers of peace weep bitterly. The streets are waste, there walketh no man therein, the appointment is 9 broken, the cities are dispised, they are not regarded, the desolate earth is in heaviness. Libanus taketh it but for a sport, that it is hewn down: Saron is like a wilderness: Basan and 10 Carmel are turned upside down. And therefore sayeth the 11 LORD. I will up, now will I get up, now will I arise. Ye shall conceive stubble, and bear straw, and your spirit shall be the 12 fire, that it may consume you: and the people shall be burnt like lime, and as thorns burn that are hewn off, and cast in the 13 fire. Now hearken to, ye that are far off, how I do with them, 14 and consider my glory, ye that be at hand. The sinners at Sion are afraid, and* sudden fearfulness is come upon the hypocrites. What is he among us (say they) that will dwell by that consuming fire? Which of us may abide that everlasting heat?

15 He that leadeth a godly life (say I) and speaketh the truth: He that abhorreth to do violence and deceit: he that keepeth his hand that he touch no reward: which stoppeth his ears, that he hear no counsel against the innocent: which holdeth down his 16 eyes, that he see none evil. He it is, that shall dwell on high* whose safeguard shall be in the true rock, to him shall be given 17 the right true meat and drink. His eyes shall see the king in 18 his glory: and in the wide world, and his heart shall delight in the fear of God. What shall then become of the scribe? of 19 the Senator? what of him that teacheth children? There shalt thou not see a people of a strange tongue to have so diffused a language, that it may not be understood: neither so strange 20 a speach but it shall be perceived. There shall Sion be seen, the head city of our solempne feasts. There shall thine eyes see Jerusalem that glorious habitation: the tabernacle that never shall remove, whose nails shall never be taken out world with-21 out end, whose coardes everychone shall never corrupt: for the glorious Majesty of the LORD shall there be present among us. In that place, where fair broad rivers and streams are, shall neither Galley row, nor great ship sail. For the LORD 22 shall be our captain, the LORD shall be our law giver. The LORD shall be our king, and he himself shall be our Saviour.

 There are the coards so laid abroad, that they can not be bet- 23 ter: The mast set up of such a fashion, that no banner nor sail hangeth thereon: but there is dealed great spoil, yea lame men run after the prey; There lieth no man that sayeth: I am sick, 24 but all evil is taken away from the people, that dwell there.

Come ye heathen and hear, take heed ye people. Hearken XXXIV thou earth and all that is therein: thou round compass and 2 all that groweth there upon, for the LORD is angry with all people, and his displeasure is kindled against all the multi- 3 tude of them, to curse them, and to slay them. So that their slain shall be cast out, and their bodies stink: that even the 4 very hills shall be wet with the blood of them. All the stars of heaven shall be consumed, and the heaven shall fold together 4 like a roll, and all the stars thereof shall fall, like as the leaves fall from the vines and fig trees. For my sword (sayeth he) 5 shall be bathed in heaven, and shall immediately come down upon Idumea, and upon the people which I have cursed for my vengeance. And the LORD's sword shall be full of blood, and 6 be rusty with the fatness and blood of lambs and goats, with the fatness of the kidneys of wethers. For the LORD shall kill a great offering in Bosra. and in the land of Idumea. There 7 shall the Unicorns fall with the Bulls, (that is with the giants) and their land shall be washed with blood, and their ground corrupt with fatness. Unto thee also (O Sion) shall come the 8 day of the vengeance of GOD, and the year when* thine own judgements shall be recompensed. Thy floods shall be turned 9 to pitch, and thine earth to brimstone, and therewith shall the land be kindled, so that it shall not be quenched day nor 10 night: But smoke evermore, and so forth to lie waste. And no man shall go thorow thy land forever: But Pelicans, Storcks, 11 great Owls, and Ravens shall have it in possession, and dwell therein. For God shall spread out the line of desolation upon it, and weight it with the stones of emptiness. When kings 12 are called upon, there shall be none, and all princes shall be away. Thorns shall grow in their palaces, nettles and thistles 13

34. v.8 Other: as.

in their strongholds, that the dragons may have their pleasure 14 therein, and that they may be a court for Ostriches. There shall strange visures and monstrous beasts meet one another, and the wild keep company together. There shall the lamya lie, 15 and have her lodging. There shall the hedgehog build, dig, be there at home, and bring forth his young ones. There shall 16 the kites come together, each one to his like. Seek thorow the scripture of the LORD and read it. There shall none of these things be left out, there shall not one (nor such like) fail. For what his mouth commandeth, that same doth his spirit gather 17 together (or fulfilleth). Upon whomsoever the lot falleth, or to whom he dealeth it with the line: those shall possess the inheritance from generation to generation, and dwell therein.

XXXV

But the desert and wilderness shall rejoice, the waste ground 2 shall be glad, and flourish as the lily. She shall flourish pleasantly, and be joyful, and ever be giving thanks more and more.
 For the glory of Libanus, the beauty of Carmel and Saron shall be given her. These shall know the honour of the LORD, and 3 the majesty of our God. And therefore strengthen the weak 4 hands, and comfort the feeble knees. Say unto them that are of a fearful heart: Be of good cheer, and fear not. Behold, your God cometh, to take vengeance, and to reward, God cometh his 5 own self, and will deliver you. Then shall the eyes of the blind 6 be lightened, and the ears of the deaf opened. Then shall the lame man leap as an hart and the dumb man's tongue shall give thanks. In the wilderness also there shall wells spring, 7 and floods of water in the desert. The dry ground shall turn to rivers, and the thirsty to springs of water. Where as dragons dwelt afore, there shall grow sweet flowers and green rushes.
 8 There shall be foot paths and common streets, this shall be called the holy way. No unclean person shall go thorow it, for the Lord himself shall go with them that way, and the igno-9 rant shall not err; There shall be no lion, and no ravishing beast shall come therein, nor be there, but men shall go there 10 free and safe. And the redeemed of the LORD shall convert, and come to Sion with thanksgiving. Everlasting joy shall they have, pleasure and gladness shall be among them. And as for all sorrow and heaviness, it shall vanish away.

XXXVI

In the fourteenth year of king Hezekiah, came Sennaherib king of the Assyrians down, to lay siege unto all the strong cities of Judah. And the king of the Assyrians sent Rabsakeh 2 from Lachis toward Jerusalem, against king Hezekiah, with a grievous Host, which set him by the conduit of the over pool, in the way that goeth thorow the fuller's land. And so there came 3 forth unto him Eliakim, Helkiah's son, the President, Sobna the scribe, and Joah, Asaph's son the Secretary. And Rab- 4 sakeh said unto them: Tell Hezekiah, that the great king of Assyria sayeth thus unto him: What presumption is this, that thou trustest unto? Thou thinkest (peradventure) that thou 5 hast counsel and power enough to maintain this war: or else where to trustest thou, that thou castest thy self off from me?

Lo, thou putttest thy trust in a broken staff of reed (I mean 6 Egypt) which he that leaneth upon, it goeth into his hand and shooteth him thorow. Even so is Pharaoh the king of Egypt, unto all them that trust in him. But if thou wouldest say 7 unto me: We trust in the LORD our God: A goodly God in deed: whose High places and altars Hezekiah took down, and commanded Judah and Jerusalem, to worship only before the altar.
Abide thee, thou hast made a condition with my lord the king 8 of the Assyrians, that he should give thee two thousand horses: art thou able to set men there up? Seeing now that thou canst 9 not resist the power of the smallest prince that my lord hath, how darest thou trust in the chariots and horsemen of Egypt?
Moreover, thinkest thou that I am come down hither, to de- 10 stroy this land without the LORD's will? The LORD said unto me, go down into the land, that thou mayest destroy it. Then 11 said Eliakim, Sobna and Joah unto Rabsakeh: Speak to us thy servants (we pray thee) in the Syrians language, for we understand it well: And speak not to us in the Jews' Tongue, lest the folk hear, which lieth upon the wall. Then answered Rab- 12 sakeh: Think ye, that the king sent me to speak this only unto you? Hath he not sent me to them also, that lie upon the wall? that they be not compelled to eat their own dung, and drink their own stale with you? And Rabsakeh stood stiff, and cried 13 with a loud voice in the Jews' tongue, and said: Now take heed, how the great king of the Assyrians giveth you warning. Thus 14 sayeth the king: Let not Hezekiah deceive you, for he shall not be able to deliver you. Moreover, let not Hezekiah comfort you 15 in the LORD, when he sayeth: The LORD with out doubt shall defend us, and shall not give over this city into the hands of 16 the king of the Assyrians, believe him not. But thus sayeth the king of Assyria: obtain my favour, incline to me: so may every man enjoy his vineyards and fig trees, and drink the wa-17 ter of his cistern: Unto the time that I come myself, and bring you into a land, that is like your own: wherein is wheat and wine, which is both sown with seed, and planted with vine-18 yards. Let not Hezekiah deceive you, when he sayeth unto you: The LORD shall deliver us. Might the gods of the Gentiles keep every man's land, from the power of the king of the Assy-19 rians? Where is the God of hemath and Arphad? Where is the God of Sepharuaim? And who was able to defend Samaria out 20 of my hand? Or which of all the Gods of the lands, hath delivered their country out of my power, so that the LORD should 21 deliver Jerusalem from my hand? Unto this Hezekiahs messengers held their tongues, and answered not one word: for the king had charged them, that they should give him none 22 answer. So came Eliakim, Helkiah's son the President, Sobna the Scribe, and Joah Asaph's son the Secretary, unto Hezekiah with rent clothes, and told him the words of Rabshakeh.

XXXVII

When Hezekiah heard that, he rent his clothes, put on sack-2 cloth, and went in to the temple of the LORD. But he sent Eliakim the President, Sobna the Scribe, with the eldest priests clothed in sackcloth, unto the Prophet Esay the son of Amoz, 3 and they said unto him: Thus sayeth Hezekiah: This is the day of trouble, of plague, and of wrath: like as when a child cometh to the birth, but the woman hath no power to bring it 4 forth. The LORD thy God (no doubt) hath well considered the words of Rabsakeh, whom his lord the king of the Assyrians hath sent, to defy and blaspheme the living God: with such words as the LORD thy God hath heard right well. And there-5 fore lift up thy prayer for the remnant, that yet are left. So 6 the servants of king Hezekiah came to Esay. And Esay gave them this answer: say thus unto your lord: Thus sayeth the LORD: Be not afraid of the words that thou hast heard, wherewith the king of the Assyrians' servants have blasphemed me.
 7 Behold, I will cause a wind go over him, as soon as he heareth it, he shall go again into his country, there will I destroy him 8 with the sword. Now when Rabsakeh returned, he found the king of Assyria laying siege to Lobnah, for he had understand, 9 that he was departed from Lachis. For there came a rumour, that Tharhakah king of Ethiopia was come forth to war against him. And when the king of Assyria heard that, he sent other messengers to king Hezekiah with this commandment: Say thus to Hezekiah king of Judah: Let not thy God deceive thee, in whom thou hopest, and sayest: Jerusalem shall not be given into the hands of the king of Assyria. For thou knowest well how the kings of Assyria have handled all the lands that they have subverted, and hopest* thou to escape? Were the people of the Gentiles (whom my progenitors conquered) delivered at any time thorow their gods? As namely, Gozan, Haran, Rezeph, and the children of Eden, which dwell at Thalassar. Where is the king of Hemah, and the king of Arphad, and the king of the city Separvaim, Ena, and Ava? Now when Hezekiah had received the letter off the messengers, and read it, he went up into the house of the LORD, and opened the letter before the LORD. And Hezekiah prayed before the LORD on this manner: O LORD of Hosts, thou God of Israel, which dwellest upon Cherubin; Thou art the God, that only is God of all the kingdoms of the world, for thou only hast created heaven and earth. Incline thine ear LORD, and consider, open thine eyes, O LORD, and see, and ponder all the words of Sennacherib, which hath sent his embassage to blaspheme the living God. It is true, O LORD, that the kings of Assyria have conquered all kingdoms and lands, and cast their gods in the fire. Notwithstanding, those were no gods* but the works of men's hands, of wood or stone, therefore have they destroyed them. Deliver us then, O LORD our God, from the hands of Sennacherib, that all kingdoms of the earth may know, that thou only art the LORD. Then Esay the son of Amoz sent unto Hezekiah, saying: Thus sayeth the LORD God of Israel: Whereas thou hast made thy prayer unto me, as touching Sennacherib, this is the answer, that the LORD hath given concerning him: Despised art thou, and mocked, O daughter of Sion, he hath shaken his head at thee, O daughter of Jerusalem. But thou Sennacherib, whom hast thou defied and* blasphemed? And against whom hast thou lifted up thy voice, and exalted thy proud looks? even against the holy one of Israel. Thou with thy servants hast blasphemed the Lord, and thus holdest thou of thyself: I cover the high mountains, and sides of Libanus with my horsemen.

37. v.11 Other: hapest. v.19 Other: goddes. v.23 Other: or.

And there will I cut down the high Cedar trees and the fairest Fir trees. I will up into the height of it, and into the chiefest of his timber woods. If there be no water, I will grave and drink. And as for waters of defense, I shall dry them up with the feet of mine Host. Yea (sayest thou) hast thou not heard, what I have taken in hand, and brought to pass of old time? That same will I do now also: waste, destroy, and bring the strong cities into heaps of stones. For their inhabitants shall be like lame men, brought in fear and confounded. They shall be like the grass and green herbs in the field, like the hay upon house-tops, that withereth afore it be grown up. I know thy ways, thy going forth and thy coming home, yea and thy madness against me. Therefore thy furriousness against me, and thy pride is come before me. I will put a ring in thy nose, and a bridle bit in the chaws of thee, and turn thee about, even the same way thou camest. I will give thee also this token, (O Hezekiah) this year shalt thou eat that is kept in store, and the next year such as groweth of himself, and in the third year ye shall sow and reap, yea ye shall plant vineyards, and enjoy the fruits thereof. And such of the house of Judah as are escaped, shall come together, and the remnant shall take root beneath, and bring forth fruit above. For the escaped shall go out of Jerusalem, and the remnant from the mount Sion. And this shall the jealousy of the LORD of Hosts bring to pass. Therefore thus sayeth the LORD, concerning the king of the Assyrians: He shall not come into the city, and shall shoot no arrow into it, there shall no shride hurt it, neither shall they grave about it. The same way that he came, shall he return, and not come at this city, sayeth the LORD. And I will keep and save the city, sayeth he, for mine own, and for my servant David's sake. Thus the angel went forth, and slew of the Assyrians host, an hundredth and eighty five thousand. And when men arose up early (at Jerusalem:) Behold, all lay full of dead bodies. So Sennacherib the king of the Assyrians brake up, and dwelt at Nineve. Afterward it chanced, as he prayed in the temple of Nesrah his god, that Adramalech and Sarazer his own sons slew him with the sword, and fled into the land of Ararat. And Asarhadon his son reigned after him.

XXXVIII

Not long afore this, was Hezekiah sick unto death: And the Prophet Esay the son of Amoz came unto him, and said: Thus commandeth the LORD: Set thine house in order: for thou must die, and shall not escape. Then Hezekiah turned his face toward the wall, and prayed unto the LORD, and said: Remember (O LORD) that I have walked before thee in truth and a steadfast heart, and have done the thing that is pleasant to thee. And Hezekiah wept sore. Then said GOD unto Esay: Go and speak unto Hezekiah: The LORD God of David thy father sendeth thee this word: I have heard thy prayer, and considered thy tears: behold, I will put fifteen years more unto thy life, and deliver thee and the city also, from the hand of the king of Assyria, for I will defend the city. And take thee this token of the LORD, that he will do it, as he hath spoken: Behold, I will return the shadow of Ahaz dial, that now is laid out with the Sun and bring it ten degrees backward. So the Sun turned ten degrees backward, the which he was desended afore. A thanksgiving, which Hezekiah king of Juda wrote, when he had been sick, and was recovered. I thought I should have gone to the gates of hell in my best age, and have wanted the residue of my years. I spake within myself: I shall never visit the LORD GOD in this life: I shall never see man among the dwellers of the world. Mine age is folden up together, and taken away from me, like a shepherd's cottage: my life is hewn off, like as a weaver cutteth off his web. While I was yet taking my rest, he hewd me off, and made an end of me in one day. I thought I would have lived unto the morrow, but he bruised my bones like a lion, and made an end of me in one day. Then chattered I like a swallow, and like a crane, and mourned as a dove. I lift up mine eyes to the height: O LORD (say I) violence is done unto me, be thou surety for me. What shall I speak or say, that he may this do? that I may live out all my years, yea in the bitterness of my life? Verily (Lord) men must live in bitterness, and all my life must I pass over therein: For thou raisest me up, and wakest me. But lo, I will be well content with this bitterness. Nevertheless my conversation hath so pleased thee, that thou wouldest not make an end of my life: so that thou hast cast all my sins behind thy back. For hell praiseth not thee, death doth not magnify thee. They that go down into the grave, praise not thy truth: but the living, yea the living acknowledge thee, like as I do this day. The father telleth his children of thy faithfulness. Deliver us (O LORD) and we will sing praises in thy house, all the days of our life.

- 21 And Esay said: take a plaster of figs, and lay it upon the sore, 22 so shall it be whole. Then said Hezekiah: O what a great thing is this, that I shall go up in to the house of the LORD.

XXXIX

- At that same time Merodach Baladam, Baladam's son king of Babylon, sent letters and presents to Hezekiah. For he understood how that he had been sick, and was recovered again.
 2 And Hezekiah was glad thereof, and shewed them the commodities of his treasure, of silver, of gold, of spices and roots, of precious oils, and all that was in his cupboards and treasure houses. There was not one thing in Hezekiahs house, and so 3 thorowout all his kingdom, but he let them see it. Then came Esay the Prophet to king Hezekiah, and said unto him: What have the men said, and from whence came they unto thee? Hezekiah answered: They came out of a far country unto me, out 4 of Babylon. Esay said: What have they looked upon in thine house? Hezekiah answered: All that is in mine house have they seen: and there is nothing in my treasure, but I shewed it 5 them. Then said Esay unto Hezekiah: Understand the word 6 of the LORD of Hosts: Behold, the time will come, that everything which is in thine house, and all that thy progenitors have laid up in store unto this day, shall be carried to Babylon, 7 and nothing left behind. Thus sayeth the LORD. Yea and part of thy sons, that shall come of thee, and whom thou shalt get, shall be carried hence, and become gelded chamberlains in the 8 king of Babylon's court. Then said Hezekiah to Esay: Now GOD prosper his own counsel, which thou hast told me. He said moreover: So that there be peace and faithfulness in my time.

XL

- Be of good cheer my people, be of good cheer, (sayeth your 2 God) Comfort Jerusalem, and tell her, that her travail is at an end, that her offense is pardoned, that she hath received of 3 the LORD's hand sufficient correction for all her sins. A voice crieth: Prepare the way for the LORD in the wilderness, make 4 straight the path for our God in the desert. Let all valleys be exalted, and every mountain and hill be laid low. What so is crooked, let it be made straight, and let the rough places 5 be made plain fields. For the glory of the LORD shall appear, and all flesh shall see it. For why? The mouth of the LORD 6 hath spoken it. The same voice spake: Now cry. And I said:

What shall I cry? Then spake it: That all flesh is grass, and that all the beauty thereof, is as the flower of the field. When 7 the grass is withered, the flower falleth away. Even so is the people as grass, when the breath of the LORD bloweth upon them. Nevertheless whether the grass wither, or the flower 8 fade away: Yet the word of our God endureth forever. More- 9 over the voice cried thus: Go up unto the hill (O Sion) thou that bringest good tidings, lift up thy voice with power, O thou preacher Jerusalem. Lift it up without fear, and say unto the cities of Judah: Behold, your God, behold the LORD, even 10 the Almighty shall come with power, and bear rule with his arm. Behold, he bringeth his treasure with him, and his works 11 go before him. He shall feed his flock like an herdman. He shall gather the lambs together with his arm, and carry them in his bosom, and shall kindly intreat those that bear young.
Who hath holden the waters in his fist? Who hath measured 12 heaven with his span, and hath comprehended all the earth of the world in three fingers? Who hath weighed the mountains and hills? Who hath reformed the mind of the LORD? Or 13 who is of his counsel to teach him? At whom hath he asked counsel, to make him understand, and to learn him the way 14 of judgement: to teach him science: and to instruct him in the way of understanding. Behold, all people are in comparison 15 of him, as a drop to a bucket full, and are counted as the least thing that the balance weigheth. Behold, the Isles are in com- 16 parison of him, as the shadow of the son beam. Libanus is not sufficient to minister fire for his offering, and all the beasts thereof are not enough to one sacrifice. All people in com- 17 parison of him are reckoned as nothing, yea vain vanity and emptiness. To whom then will ye liken God? or what simil- 18 itude will ye set up unto him? Shall the carver make him a 19 carved image? and shall the goldsmith cover him with gold, or cast him into a form of silver plates? Moreover shall the 20 image maker, that the poor man which is disposed, may have something to set up also, seek out and choose a tree, that is not rotten, and carve thereout an image, that moveth not? Know 21 ye not this? Heard ye never of it? Hath it not been preached unto you since the beginning? Have ye not been enformed of this since the foundation of the earth was laid: That he sit- 22 teth upon the Circle of the world, and that all the inhabitants of the world are in comparison of him, but as grasshoppers: That he spreadeth out the heavens as a covering, that he stretcheth 23 them out, as a tent to dwell in: That he bringeth princes to 24 nothing, and the judges of the earth to dust: so that they be not planted, nor sown again, neither their stock rooted again in the earth? For as soon as he bloweth upon them, they wither 25 and fade away, like the straw in a whirlwind. To whom now will ye liken me, and whom shall I be like, sayeth the holy one?

 26 Lift up your eyes on high,* and consider. Who hath made those things, which come out by so great heaps? and he can call them all by their names. For there is nothing hid unto the greatness 27 of his power, strength, and might. How may then Jacob think, or how may Israel say: My ways are hid from the LORD, and 28 my God knoweth not of my judgments. Knowest thou not, or hast thou not heard, that the everlasting God, the LORD, which made all the corners of the earth, is neither weary nor 29 faint: and that his wisdom can not be comprehended? but that he giveth strength unto the weary, and power unto the faint?
 30, 31 Children are weary and faint, and the strongest men fall: But unto them that have the LORD before their eyes, shall strength be increased, Aegles wings shall grow upon them: When they run, they shall not fall: and when they go, they shall not be weary.

XLI Be still (ye Islands) and harken unto me. Be strong ye people; Come hither, and shew your cause, we will go to the law 2 together. Who raiseth up the just from the rising of the Sun,* and calleth him to go forth? Who casteth down the people, and subdueth the kings before him: that he may throw them all to the ground with his sword, and scatter them like stub-3 ble with his bow. He followeth upon them, and goeth safely 4 himself, and cometh in no foot path with his feet. Who hath made, created, and called the generations from the beginning?
 5 Even I the LORD, which am the first, and with the last. Behold ye Isles? that ye may fear, and ye ends of the earth, that 6 ye may be abashed, draw nye, and come hither. Every man hath exhorted his neighbour, and brother, and bidden him be 7 strong. The Smith comforted the molder, and the Ironsmith the hammer man, saying: It shall be good, that we fasten this cast work: and then they fastened it with nails, that it should not be moved. And thou Israel, my servant: Jacob 8 my elect seed of Abraham my beloved, whom I led from the 9 ends of the earth by the hand: For I called thee from far, and said unto thee: Thou shalt be my servant: I have chosen thee, and will not cast thee away: be not afraid, for I will be with 10 thee. Look not behind thee, for I will be thy God, to strengthen thee, help thee, and to keep thee with this right hand of mine.

 Behold, all they that resist thee, shall come to confusion and 11 shame: and thine adversaries shall be destroyed and brought to naught. So that who so seeketh after them, shall not find 12 them. Thy destroyers shall perish, and so shall they that undertake to make battle against thee. For I thy LORD and God, 13 will strengthen thy right hand. Even I that say unto thee: Fear not. I will help thee. Be not afraid thou little worm Ja- 14 cob, and thou despised Israel for I will help thee, sayeth the LORD, and the holy one of Israel thine avenger. Behold, I will 15 make thee a treading cart and a new flayle, that thou mayest thresh* and grind the mountains, and bring the hills to pow- 16
 der. Thou shalt fan them, and the wind shall carry them away, and the whirlwind shall scatter them. But thou shalt rejoice in the LORD, and shall delight in praising the holy one of Israel.
 When the thirsty and poor seek water, and find none, and when 17 their tongue is dry of thirst: I give it them sayeth the LORD.
 I the God of Israel forsake them not. I bring forth floods in 18 the hills, and wells in the plain fields. I turn the wilderness to rivers, and the dry land to conduites* of water. I plant in 19 the waste ground trees of Cedar, Box, Mire and Olives. And in the dry I set Fir trees, Elms, and Hawthorns together. All 20 this do I, that they altogether may see a mark, perceive with their hearts and consider, that the hand of the LORD maketh these things, and that the holy one of Israel bringeth them to pass. Stand at your cause (sayeth the LORD) and bring forth 21 your strongest ground, counseleth the King of Jacob. Let the gods come forth themselves, and shew us the things that are 22 past, what they be: let them declare them unto us, that we may take them to heart, and know them hereafter. Either, let them 23 shew us things for to come, and tell us what shall be done hereafter: so shall we know, that they be gods. Shew something, either good or bad: so will we both knowledge the same, and v.15 Other: throsh. v.18 Other: condites.

24 tell it out. Behold, ye gods are of naught, and your making 25 is of naught, but abomination hath chosen you. Nevertheless, I have waked up one from the North, and he shall come. And another from the East, which shall call upon my name, and shall come to the princes, as the Potter to his clay, and as the 26 Potter treadeth down the mire. Who told that afore? So will we confess and say, that he is righteous. But there is none that sheweth or declareth anything, there is none also that heareth 27 your words. Behold, I will first grant them of Sion and Jeru-28 salem to be Evangelists. But when I consider: there is not one among them that prophesieth, neither (when I ask him) 29 that answereth one word; Lo, wicked are they and vain, with the things also that they take in hand: yea wind are they, and emptiness, with their images together.

XLII

Behold now therefore, this is my servant whom I will keep to myself: mine elect; In whom my soul shall be pacified. I will give him my spirit, that he may shew forth judgement and eq-2 uity among the Gentiles. He shall not be an outcrier, nor an high minded person. His voice shall not be heard in the streets.
 3 A bruised reed shall he not break, and the smoking flax shall he not quench: but faithfully and truly shall he give judge-4 ment. He shall neither be overseen nor hasty, that he may restore righteousness unto the earth: and the Gentiles also shall 5 keep his laws. For thus sayeth God the LORD unto him (even he that made the heavens, and spread them abroad, and set forth the earth with her increase: which giveth breath unto the 6 people that is in it, and to them that dwell therein) I the LORD have called thee in righteousness, and led thee by the hand.
 Therefore will I also defend thee, and give thee for a covenant 7 of the people, and to be the light of the Gentiles. That thou mayest open the eyes of the blind, let out the prisoners, and 8 them that sit in darkness, out of the dungeon house. I my self, whose name is the LORD, which give my power to none other, 9 neither mine honour to the gods: Shew you these new tidings, and tell you them or they come, for old things also are come to 10 pass. Sing therefore unto the LORD, a new song of thanks giving, blow out his praise unto the end of the world. They that be upon the sea, and all that is therein, praise him, the Isles and 11 they that dwell in them. Let the wilderness with her cities lift up her voice, the towns also that be in Cedar. Let them be glad that sit upon rocks of stone, and let them cry down from the high mountains: ascribing almightiness unto the LORD, and magnifying him among the Gentiles. The LORD shall come forth as a giant, and take a stomach to himself like a fresh man of war. He shall roar and cry, and overcome his enemies. I have long time holden my peace, (sayeth the LORD) should I therefore be still, and keep silence for ever? I will cry like a travailing woman, and once will I destroy, and devour. I will make waste both mountain and hill, and dry up every green thing that groweth thereon. I will dry up the floods of water, and drink up the rivers. I will bring the blind into the street, that they know not: and lead them in to a foot path, that they are ignorant in. I shall make darkness light before them, and the thing that is crooked to be straight. These things will I do, and not forget them. And therefore let them convert, and be ashamed earnestly, that hope in Idols, and say to fashioned images: ye are our gods. Hear, O ye deaf men, and sharpen your sights to see (O ye blind) But who is blinder, than my servant? Or so deaf, as my messengers, whom I send unto thee? For who is so blind as my people, and they that have the rule of them? * They are like, as if thou understoodest much, and keptest nothing: or if one heard well, but were not obedient. The LORD be merciful unto them for his righteousness' sake, that his word might be magnified and praised. But it is a mischevious and wicked people. Their young men belong all to the snare, and shall be shut into prison houses. They shall be carried away captive, and no man shall loosen * them. They shall be trodden under foot, and no man shall labour to bring them again. But who is he among you, that pondereth this in his mind, that considereth it, and taketh it for a warning in time to come? Who suffered Jacob to be trodden under foot, and Israel to be spoiled? Did not the LORD? Now have we sinned against him, and have had no delight to walk in his ways, neither been obedient unto his law. Therefore hath he poured upon us his wrathful displeasure, and strong battle, which maketh us have to do on every side, yet will we not understand: He burneth us up, yet sinketh it not in to our hearts.

But now, the LORD that made thee O Jacob, and he that XLIII

42. v.19 Other: For who is so blind (fay they) as the perfect man and so blind as the LORD's servant?. v.22 Other: lowse.

fashioned thee O Israel, sayeth thus: Fear not, for I will defend thee. I have called thee by thy name, thou art mine own.

2 When thou wentest in the water, I was by thee, that the strong floods should not pluck thee away. When thou walkest in the fire, it shall not burn thee, and the flame shall not kindle upon thee.

3 For I am the LORD thy God, the holy one of Israel, thy Saviour. I gave Egypt for thy deliverance, the Morians and the Sabees for thee: because thou wast dear in my sight, and because I set by thee, and loved thee. I pilled all men for thee, and delivered up all people for thy sake, that thou shouldest not fear, for I was with thee. I will bring thy seed from the East, and gather thee together from the West. I will say to the North, let go. And to the South, keep not back: but bring me my sons from far, and my daughters from the ends of the world: Namely, all those that be called after my name: For them have I created, fashioned, and made for mine honour.

8 Bring forth that people, whether they have eyes, or be blind, deaf or have ears. All nations shall come in one, and be gathered in one people. But which among yonder gods shall declare such things, and tell us what is to come? Let them bring their witnesses, so shall they be free: for then men shall hear it, and say, it is truth. But I bring you witnesses (sayeth the LORD) even those that are my servants, whom I have chosen: to the intent that ye might be certified and give me faithful credence: yea and to consider, that I am he, before whom there was never any God, and that there shall be none after me. I am only the LORD, and without me is there no Saviour. I give warning, I make whole, I teach you that there should be no strange God among you. And this record must ye bear me yourselves, (sayeth the LORD) that I am God. And even he am I from the beginning, and there is none that can take any thing out of my hand. And what I do, can no man change. Thus sayeth the LORD the holy one of Israel your redeemer: For your sake I will send to Babylon, and bring all the strongest of them from hence: Namely, the Chaldees that boost them of their ships: Even I the LORD your holy one, which have made Israel, and am your King. Moreover, thus sayeth the LORD, (even he that maketh a way in the sea, and a footpath in the mighty waters: Which bringeth forth the chariots and horses, the host and the power, that they may fall asleep and never rise, and be extinct, like as towe is quenched. Ye remember not things of old, and 18 regard nothing that is past. Therefore behold, I shall make 19 a new thing, and shortly shall it appear: ye shall well know it, I told it you afore, but I will tell it you again. I will make streets in the desert, and rivers of water in the wilderness.

 The wild beasts shall worship me: the dragon, and the Os- 20 trich. For I shall give water in the wilderness, and streams in the desert: that I may give drink to my people, whom I choose.
 This people have I made for myself, and they shall shew forth 21 my praise. For thou (Jacob) wouldest not call upon me, but 22 thou hadst an unlust toward me, O Israel. Thou gavest me 23 not thy young beasts for burnt offerings, neither didst honour me with thy sacrifices. Though boughtest me no dear spice with thy money, neither pourest the fat of thy sacrifices upon me. Howbeit I have not been chargeable unto thee in offerings, neither grievous in incense. But thou hast laden me 24 with thy sins, and wearied me with thine ungodliness. Where 25 as I yet am even he only, that for mine own self's sake do away thine offenses, and forget thy sins: so that I will never think upon them. Put me now in remembrance, for we will 26 reason together, and shew what thou hast for thee, to make thee quite. Thy first father offended sore, and thy rulers have 27 sinned against me. Therefore I either suspended, or slew the 28 chieftest princes: I did curse Jacob, and gave Israel into reproof.

So hear now, O Jacob my servant, and Israel whom I have XLIV chosen. For thus sayeth the LORD, that made thee, fashioned 2 thee, and helped thee, even from thy mother's womb: Be not afraid, O Jacob my servant, thou righteous, whom I have chosen. For I shall pour water upon the dry ground, and rivers 3 upon the thirsty. I shall pour my spirit upon thy seed, and mine increase upon thy stock. They shall grow together, like as the 4 grass, and as the Willies by the water's side. One will say: 5
 I am the LORD's. Another will call under the name of Jacob.
 The third shall describe* with his hand unto the LORD, and give himself under the name of Israel. Moreover, thus hath 6 the LORD spoken: even the King of Israel, and his avenger, the LORD of Hosts: I am the first and the last, and without me is there no God. For what is he, that ever was like me, 7 which am from everlasting? Let him shew his name, and do where thorow he may be likened unto me. Let him tell you 8 forth plainly things, that are past, and for to come: yea and that without any fear or stop.* For have not I ever told you hitherto, and warned you? Ye can bear me record yourselves.

Is there any God except me? or any maker, that I should not 9 know him? Wherefore all carvers of Idols are but vain, and their labour lost. They must bear record themselves, that (seeing they can neither see nor understand) they shall be con-10 founded. Who should now make a God, or fashion an Idol, 11 that is profitable for nothing? Behold, all the fellowship of them must be brought to confusion. Let all the workmasters of them come and stand together from among men: they must be 12 abashed and confounded one with another. The smith taketh iron, and tempereth it with hot coals, and fashioneth it with hammers, and maketh it with all the strength of his arms: yea sometime he is faint for very hunger, and so thirsty, that he 13 hath no more power. The carpenter (or image carver) taketh meat of the timber: and spreadeth forth his line: he marketh it with some colour: he planeth it, he ruleth it, and squareth it, and maketh it after the image of a man, and according to the 14 beauty of a man: that it may stand in the temple. Moreover, he goeth out to hew down Cedar trees: He bringeth home Elms and Oaks, and other timber of the wood. Or else the Fir trees which he planted himself, and such as the rain hath swelled, 15 which wood serveth for men to burn. Of this he taketh and warmeth himself withal: he maketh a fire of it to bake bread.
And afterward maketh a God thereof, to honour it: and an Idol 16 to kneel before it. One piece he burneth in the fire, with another he roasteth flesh, that he may eat roast his belly full: with the third he warmeth himself, and sayeth: Aha, I am well 17 warmed, I have been at the fire. And of the residue he maketh him a God, and an Idol for himself. He kneeleth before it, he worshippeth it, he prayeth unto it, and sayeth: deliver me, for 18 thou art my God. Yet men neither consider nor understand, because their eyes are stopped, that they can not see: and their 19 hearts, that they can not perceive. They ponder not in their minds, for they have neither knowledge nor understanding, to think thus: I have brent one piece in the fire: I have baked bread with the coals thereof, I have roasted flesh withal, and

v.8 Other: stoppe.

eaten it: shall I now of the residue make an abomination, and fall down before a rotten piece of wood? The keeping of dust, 20 and foolishness of heart hath turned them aside: so that none of them can have a free conscience to think: may not I err?
 Consider this (O Jacob and Israel) for thou art my servant. I 21 have made thee, that thou mightest serve me. O Israel, forget me not. As for thine offenses, I drive them away like the 22 clouds, and thy sins as the mist. Turn ye again unto me, and I will deliver thee. Be glad ye heavens, whom the LORD hath 23 made, let all that is here beneath upon the earth, be joyful.
 Rejoice ye mountains and woods, with all the trees that are in you: for the LORD shall redeem Jacob, and shew his glory upon Israel. For thus sayeth the LORD thy redeemer, even he 24 that fashioned thee from thy mother's womb: I am the LORD, which do all things myself alone. I only have spread out the heavens, and I only have laid the foundation of the earth. I 25 destroy the tokens of witches, and make the Soothsayers go wrong. As for the wise, I turn them backward, and make their cunning foolishness. But I set up the purpose of my servants, 26 and fulfill the counsel of my messengers. I say unto Jerusalem: turn again: And to the cities of Juda, be ye builded again: and I repair their decayed places. I say to the ground: be dry. And 27
 I dry up thy water floods. I say to Cyrus: thou art mine herd 28 man: so that he shall fulfill all things after my will. I say unto Jerusalem: be thou builded, and to the temple: be thou fast grounded.

Thus sayeth the LORD unto Cyrus his anointed, whom he XLV leadeth by the right hand: that the people may fall down before him: I will loose* the girdles of kings: that they shall open the gates before thy face, and not to shut their doors. I will go 2 before thee, and make the crooked straight. I shall break the brazen doors, and burst the iron bars. I shall give thee the 3 hid treasure and the thing which is secretly kept: that thou mayest know, that I the God of Israel have called thee by thy name: and that for Jacob my servant's sake, and for Israel 4 my chosen. For I called thee by name, and ordained* thee, or ever thou knewest me: Even I the LORD, before whom there 5 is none other: for without me there is no God. I have prepared the or ever thou knewest me: that it might be known from 6

45. v.1 Other: lowse. v.4 Other: ordered.

the rising of the sun to the going down of the same, that all is nothing without me. For I am the LORD, and there is else none.

7 It is I that created the light, and darkness, I make peace, and 8 trouble: yea even I the LORD do all these things. The heavens above shall drop down, and the clouds shall rain righteousness.
The earth shall open itself, and bring forth health, and thereby shall righteousness flourish. Even I the LORD shall bring it 9 to pass. Woe be unto him that chideth with his maker, the potsherd with the potter: Sayeth the clay to the potter: What 10 makest thou? or thy work serveth for nothing? Woe be unto him, that sayeth to his father: Why begetteth thou? And to his 11 mother: Why bearest thou? Thus sayeth the LORD, even the holy one and maker of Israel: Ask me of things for to come, concerning my sons: and put me in remembrance, as touching 12 the works of my hands: I have made the earth, and created man upon it. With my hands have I spread forth heaven, and 13 given a commandment for all the Host thereof. I shall wake him up with righteousness, and order all his ways. He shall build my city, and let out my prisoners: and that neither for 14 gifts or rewards, sayeth the LORD of Hosts. The LORD hath said moreover: The occupiers of Egypt, the merchants of the Moriens and Sabees, shall come unto thee with tribute, they shall be thine, they shall follow thee, and go with chains upon their feet. They shall fall down before thee, and make supplication unto thee. For God (without whom there is none other 15 God) shall be with thee. O how profound art thou O God, 16 thou God and Saviour of Israel? Confounded be ye, and put to dishonour: go hence together with shame, all ye that be work-17 masters of error: (that is worshipers of Idols) But Israel shall be saved in the LORD, which is the everlasting salvation: They 18 shall not come to shame nor confusion, world without end. For thus sayeth the LORD: even he that created heaven, the God that made the earth, that fashioned it, and set it forth: I have not made it for naught, but I made it to be inhabited. Even I 19 the LORD, without whom there is none other. I have not spoken secretly, neither in dark places of the earth. It is not for naught, that I said unto the seed of Jacob: Seek me. I am the LORD, which when I speak, declareth the thing that is righ-20 teous and true. Let them be gathered and come together, let them draw nye hither, that are escaped of the people: Have they any understanding, that set up the stocks of their Idols, and praise unto a God, that can not help them? Let men draw nye, let them come hither, and ask counsel one at another, and shew forth: What is he, that told this before? or, who spake of it, ever since the beginning? Have not I the LORD done it: without whom there is none other God? the true God and Saviour, and there is else none but I: And therefore turn you unto me (all ye ends of the earth) so shall ye be saved, for I am God, and there is else none. I swear by myself: out of my mouth cometh the word of righteousness, and that may no man turn: but all knees shall bow unto me, and all tongues shall swear by me, saying: Verily in the LORD is my righteousness and strength. To him shall men come: but all they that think scorn of him, shall be confounded. And the whole seed of Israel shall be justified, and praised in the LORD.

Nevertheless, Bel shall fall, and Nebo shall be broken: whose images are a burthen for the beasts and cattle, to overladen them, and to make them weary. They shall sink down, and fall together: for they may not ease them of their burthen, therefore must they go into captivity. Hearken unto me, O house of Jacob, and all ye that remain yet of the household of Israel: whom I have borne from your mother's womb, and brought you up from your birth, till ye were grown: I, I which shall bear you unto your last age: I have made you, I will also nourish you, bear you and save you. Whom will ye make me like, in fashion or image, that I may be like him? Ye fools (no doubt) will take out silver and gold out of your purses, and weigh it, and hire a goldsmith to make a God of it, that men may kneel down and worship it. Yet must he be taken on men's shoulders and borne, and set in his place, that he may stand and not move. Alas that men should cry unto him, which giveth no answer: and delivereth not the man that calleth upon him, from his trouble. Consider this well, and be ashamed. Go into your own selves (O ye runagates) Remember the things which are past, since the beginning of the world: that I am God, and that there is else no God, yea and that there is nothing like unto me. In the beginning of a thing, I shew the end thereof: and I tell before, things that are not yet come to pass. With one word is my device accomplished, and fulfilleth all my pleasure. I call a bird out of the East, and all that I take in hand, out of XLVI far countries, as soon as I command, I bring it hither: as soon 12 as I think to devise a thing, I do it. Hear me, O ye that are 13 of an high stomach, but far from righteousness, I shall bring forth my righteousness. It is not far, and my health shall not tarry long away. I will lay health in Sion, and give Israel my glory.

XLVII

But as for thee (O daughter, thou virgin Babylon) thou shalt sit in the dust. Thou shalt sit upon the ground, and not in a throne, (O thou maiden of Chaldea) Thou shalt no more be 2 called tender and pleasant. Thou shalt bring forth the quern and grind meal, put down thy stomacher make bare thy knees, 3 and shalt wade thorow the water rivers. Thy shame shall be discovered, and thy previties shall be seen. For I will avenge 4 me of thee, and no man shall let me: sayeth our redeemer, 5 which is called the LORD of Hosts, the holy one of Israel. Sit still, hold thy tongue, and get thee into some dark corner, O daughter Chaldea, for thou shalt no more be called lady of 6 kingdoms. I was so wroth with my people, that I punished mine inheritance, and gave them into thy power. Nevertheless, thou shewedst them no mercy, but even the very aged men of 7 them, didst thou oppress right sore with thy yoke, and thou thoughtest thus. I shall be lady for ever. And beside all that, thou hast not regarded these things, neither cast, what should 8 come after. Hear now therefore, thou willful, that sittest so careless, and speakest thus in thine heart: I am alone, and without me is there none: I shall never be widow, nor desolate 9 again. And yet both these things shall come to thee upon one day in the twinkling of an eye: Namely widowhood, and desolation. They shall mightily fall upon thee, for the multitude of 10 thy witches, and for the great heap of thy conjurers. For thou hast comforted thyself in thy deceitfulness, and hast said: No man seeth me. Thine own wisdom and cunning hath deceived thee. In that thou hast said: I am alone, and without me there 11 is none. Therefore shall trouble come upon thee, and thou shalt not know, from whence it shall arise. Mischief shalt fall upon thee, which thou shalt not be able to put off. A sudden* 12 misery shall come upon thee, or ever thou be aware.* Now go to thy conjurers, and to the multitude of thy witches (whom thou hast been acquainted withal from thy youth) if they may help thee, or strengthen thee. Thou hast hither to had many counsels of them, so let the heaven gazers and the beholders of stars come on now and deliver thee: yea and let them shew, when these new things shall come upon thee. Behold, they shall be like straw, which if it be kindled with fire, no man may rid it for the vehemence of the flame: And yet it giveth no cinders to warm a man by, nor clear fire to sit by. Even so shall they be unto thee whom thou hast used and occupied from thy youth. Every one shall shew thee his erroneous way, yet shall none of them defend thee.

47. v.11 Other: sodane. v.11 Other: awarre.

Hear this, O thou house of Jacob: ye that are called by the name of Israel, and are come out of one stock with Judah: which swear by the name of the LORD, and bear witness by the God of Israel (but not with truth and right) which are called free men of the holy city, as they that look for comfort in the God of Israel, whose name is the LORD of Hosts. The things that I shewed you ever since the beginning: Have I not brought them to pass, immediately as they came out of my mouth, and declared them? And they are come? Howbeit I knew that thou art obstinate, and that thy neck hath an iron vein, and thy brow is of brass. Nevertheless, I have ever since the beginning shewed thee of things for to come, and declared them unto thee, or ever they came to pass: that thou shouldest not say: mine Idol hath done it, my carved or cast image hath shewed it: Hear and consider all these things whether it was ye that prophesied them: But as for me, I told thee before at the beginning, new and secret things that thou knewest not of: And some done now not of old time, whereof thou never heardest, before they were brought to pass: that thou can not say: I knew of them. Moreover there be some whereof thou hast neither heard nor know, neither have they been open unto thine ears afore time. For I know that thou wouldest maliciously offend, therefore have I called thee a transgressor, even from thy mother's womb. Nevertheless for my name's sake, I have withdrawn my wrath, and for mine honour's sake I have overseen thee, so that I have not rooted thee out. Behold, I have purged thee, and not for money. I have chosen thee in the fire of poverty; And that only for mine own sake, for I give mine honour to none other, that thou shouldest not despise me. Harken unto me O Jacob, and Israel whom I have called. I

XLVIII

13 am even he that is, I am the first and the last. My hand is the foundation of the earth, and my right hand spanneth over the 14 heavens. As soon as I called them they were there. Gather you all together, and hearken: Which of yonder gods hath declared this, that the LORD will do by the king of Babylon (whom he 15 loveth and favoureth) and by the Chaldees his arm? I myself alone have told you this before. Yea I shall call him and 16 bring him forth, and give him a prosperous journey. Come nye and hear this: have I spoken anything darkly since the beginning? when a thing begineth, I am there. Wherefore the 17 Lord GOD with his spirit hath sent me; And thus sayeth the LORD God thine avenger, the holy one of Israel: I am the LORD thy God, which teach thee profitable things, and lead thee the 18 way, that thou shouldest go. If thou wilt now regard my commandment, thy wealthiness shall be as the water stream: and 19 thy righteousness as the waves flowing in the sea. Thy seed shall be like as the sand in the sea, and the fruit of thy body, like the gravel stones thereof: Thy name shall not be rooted 20 out, nor destroyed before me. Ye shall go away from Babylon, and escape the Chaldees with a merry voice. This shall be spoken of, declared abroad, and go forth unto the end of the world: so that it shall be said: The LORD hath defended his servant 21 Jacob, that they suffered no thirst, when they travailed in the wilderness. He clave the rocks a sunder, and the water gushed 22 out. As for the ungodly, they have no peace, sayeth the LORD.

XLIX Ye Isles, hearken unto me, and take heed ye people from far:
 The LORD hath called me from my birth, and made mention of 2 my name from my mother's womb: * he hath made my mouth like a sharp sword, under the shadow of his hand hath he de-3 fended me, and hid me in his quiver, as a good arrow,* and said unto me: Thou art my servant Israel, I will be honoured 4 in thee.* Then answered I: I shall loose* my labour, I shall spend my strength in vain. Nevertheless, I will commit my 5 cause and my work unto the LORD my God.* And now sayeth

49. v.1 Other: Hearken ye isles unto me, and give heed ye people that are afar. The LORD called me out of the womb and made mention of my name, when I was in my mother's bowels. v.2 Other: And he made my mouth like a sharp sword. In the shadow he led me with his hand. And he made me as an excellent arrow, and hid in his quiver. v.3 Other: And he said to me: thou art my servant O Israel, in whom I will be glorified. v.4 Other: lese. v.4 Other: And I said: I labour in vain and spend my strength for nought, and unprofitably. Howbeit my cause I commit to the LORD and my travail unto my God.

the LORD, even he that fashioned me from my mother's womb to be his servant, that I may bring Jacob again unto him: Howbeit, Israel will not be gathered unto him again. In whose sight I am great, which also is my LORD, my God and my strength.*
 Let it be but a small thing, that thou art my servant, to set 6 up the kindreds of Jacob, and to restore the destruction of Israel: If I make thee not also the light of the Gentiles, that thou mayest be my health unto the end of the world.* More- 7 over, thus sayeth the LORD the avenger and holy one of Israel, because of the abhorring and despising among the Gentiles, concerning the servant of all them that bear rule: Kings and Princes shall see, and arise and worship, because of the LORD that he is faithful: and because of the holy one of Israel, which hath chosen thee. And thus sayeth the LORD: In the time ap- 8 pointed will I be present with thee. And in the hour of health will I help thee, and deliver thee. I will make thee a pledge for the people, so that thou shalt help up the earth again, and challenge again the scattered heritages: That thou mayest 9 say to the prisoners: Go forth, and to them that are in darkness: come into the light, that they may feed in the high ways, and get their living in all places. There shall neither hunger 10 nor thirst, heat nor Sun hurt them. For he that favoureth them shall lead them, and give them drink of the spring wells. I will 11 make ways upon all my mountains, and my foot paths shall be exalted. And behold, they shall come from far: lo, some from 12 the north and west, some from the south. Rejoice ye heavens, and sing praises thou earth: Talk of joy ye hills, for GOD 13 will comfort his people, and have mercy upon his, that be in trouble. Then shall Sion say: GOD hath forsaken me, and 14 the Lord hath forgotten me. Doth a wife forget the child of her womb, and the son who she hath born? And though she 15 do forget, yet will not I forget thee. Behold, I have written 16 thee up upon my hands, thy walls are ever in my sight. They 17 that have broken thee down, shall make haste to build thee up again: and they that made thee waste, shall dwell in thee.
 Lift up thine eyes, and look about thee: all these shall gather 18

v.5 Other: And now saith the LORD that formed me in the womb, to be his servant and to turn Jacob unto him:. v.6 Other: Behold I have made thee a light, that thou shouldest be salvation, even unto the end of the world. Kings shall see, and rulers shall stand up and shall worship, because of the LORD which is faithful, and the holy of Israel hath chosen thee.

them together, and come to thee. As truly as I live (sayeth the LORD) thou shalt put them all upon thee, as an apparel, and gird them to thee, as an bride doth her jewels. As for thy land that lieth desolate, wasted and destroyed: it shall be too narrow for them, that shall dwell in it. And they that would devour thee, shall be far away. Then the child whom the barren shall bring forth unto thee, shall say in thine ear: This place is too narrow, sit nye together, that I may have room. Then shalt thou think by thyself: Who hath begotten me these? seeing I am barren and alone, a captive and an outcast? And who hath nourished them up for me? I am desolate and alone, but from whence come these? And therefore thus sayeth the Lord GOD: Behold, I will stretch out mine hand to the Gentiles, and set up my token to the people. They shall bring thy sons in their laps, and carry thy daughters unto thee upon their shoulders. For kings shall be thy nursing fathers, and Queens shall be thy nursing mothers. They shall fall before thee with their faces flat upon the earth, and lick up the dust of thy feet: that thou mayest know, how that I am the LORD. And who so putteth his trust in me, shall not be confounded. Who spoileth the giant of his praye? or who taketh the prisoners from the mighty? And therefore thus sayeth the LORD: The prisoners shall be taken from the giant, and the spoil delivered from the violent: for I will maintain thy cause against thine adversaries, and save thy sons. And will feed thine enemies with their own flesh, and make them drink of their own blood, as of sweet wine. And all flesh shall know (O Jacob) that I am the LORD thy Saviour, and strong avenger.

L Thus sayeth the LORD; Where is the bill of your mother's divorcement, that I sent unto her or who is the usurer, to whom I sold you? Behold, for your own offenses are ye sold: and because of your transgression, is your mother forsaken. For why would no man receive me, when I came? and when I called, no man gave me answer. Was my hand clean smitten off, that it might not help? or had I not power to deliver? Lo, at a word I drink up the sea, and of water floods I make dry land: so that for want of water, the fish corrupt and die of thirst. As for heaven, I clothe it with darkness, and put a sack upon it. The Lord GOD hath given me a well learned tongue, so that I can comfort them which are troubled, yea and that in due season.

He waked mine ear up by times in the morning (as schoolmasters do) that I might hark. The Lord GOD hath opened mine 5 ear, therefore can I not say nay, nor withdraw myself, but I 6 offer my back unto the smiters, and my cheeks to the nippers.
 I turn not my face from shame and spitting, for the Lord GOD 7 helpeth me, therefore shall I not be confounded. I have hardened my face like a flint stone, for I am sure, that I shall not 8 come to confusion. Mine advocate speaketh for me, who will then go with me to law? Let us stand* one against another: if there be any that will reason with me, let him come here forth to me. Behold, the Lord GOD standeth by me, what is he that 9 can condemn me? Lo, they shall be all like as an old cloth, which the moths shall eat up. Therefore who so feareth the 10 LORD among you, let him hear the voice of his servant. Who so walketh in darkness, and no light shineth upon him, let him hope in the LORD and hold him by his God. But take heed, ye 11 have all kindled a fire, and girded yourselves with the flame: Ye walk in the glistening of your own fire, and in the flame that ye have kindled. This cometh unto you from my hand, namely that ye shall sleep in sorrow.

Hearken to me, ye that hold of righteousness, ye that seek LI the LORD: Take heed unto the stone, whereout ye are hewn, and to the grave whereout ye are digged.* Consider Abra- 2 ham your father, and Sara that bare you: how that I called him alone, and prospered him well, and increased him:* how 3 the LORD comforted Sion, and repaired all her decay: making her desert as a Paradise, and her wilderness as the garden of the LORD. Mirth and joy was there, thanksgiving, and the voice of praise.* Have respect unto me then, O my peo- 4 ple, and lay thine ear to me: for a law, and an ordinance shall go forth from me, to lighten the Gentiles.* It is hard by, that 5 my health and my righteousness shall go forth, and the peo-

50. v.8 Other: stode. 51. v.1 Other: Hearken unto me, ye that follow righteousness and seek the LORD. Look unto the rock ye were cut out, and to the cave and pit ye were digged out. v.2 Other: Look unto Abraham your father and unto Sarah that bare you: how I called him only, and blessed him and multiplied him. v.3 Other: For the Lord hath compassion on Sion and hath compassion on all that is decayed therein, and will make her wilderness as paradise, and her desert as the garden of the LORD. Joy and gladness shall be found therein, with thanksgiving and the voice of praise. v.4 Other: Hearken unto me my people, and turn your ears to me my folk. There shall a law go out from me, and my judgement will I stablish to be a light unto nations.

ple shall be ordered with mine arm. The Islands (that is the Gentiles) shall hope in me, and put their trust in mine arm.*

6 Lift up your eyes toward heaven, and look upon the earth beneath. For the heavens shall vanish away like smoke, and the earth shall tear like a cloth, and they that dwell therein, shall perish in like manner. But my health endureth for ever, and

7 my righteousness shall not cease.* Therefore hearken unto me, ye that have pleasure in righteousness, thou people that bearest my law in thine heart. Fear not the curse of men, be

8 not afraid of their blasphemies and revilings:.* For worms and moths shall eat them up like cloth and wool. But my righteousness shall endure for ever, and my saving health from generation to generation.* Wake up, wake up, and be strong: O thou

9 arm of the LORD: wake up, like as in times past, ever and 10 since the world began. Art not thou he, that hast wounded that proud lucifer, and hewn the dragon in pieces? Art not thou even he, which hast dried up the deep of the sea, which hast made plain the sea ground, that the delivered might go

11 thorow? That the redeemed of the LORD, which turned again, might come with joy unto Sion, there to endure for ever? That mirth and gladness might be with them: that sorrow and woe

12 might flee from them? Yea I, I am even he, that in all things giveth you consolation. What art thou then, that fearest a mortal man, the child of man, which goeth away as doeth the flour?

13 And forgetest the LORD that made thee, that spread out the heavens, and laid the foundation of the earth. But thou art ever afraid for the sight of thine oppressor, which is ready to

14 do harm: Where is the wrath of the oppressor? It cometh on fast, it maketh haste to appear: It shall not perish, that it should not be able to destroy, neither shall it fail for fault of 15 nourishing. I am the LORD thy God, that make the sea to be

16 still, and to rage: whose name is the LORD of Hosts. I shall

v.5 Other: My righteousness is nye, and my salvation shall go out, and mine arms shall judge nations, and islands shall look for me and shall tarry after mine arm.

v.6 Other: Lift up your eyes to heaven and behold the earth beneath. For heaven shall vanish away as smoke, and the earth shall wear away as a vesture, and the inhabitants thereof shall perish away after the same manner, but my salvation shall endure ever, and my righteousness shall not perish. v.7 Other: Hearken unto me ye that know righteousness and so let the people that have my law in their hearts. Fear not the rebukes of man neither faint for their blasphemies. v.8 Other: For worms shall eat them as a garment, and moths shall devour them as it were wool. By my righteousness shall continue ever, and my salvation from generation to generation.

put my word also in thy mouth, and defend thee with the turning of my hand: that thou mayest plant the heavens, and lay the foundations of the earth, and say unto Sion: Thou art my people. Awake, awake, and stand up, O Jerusalem, thou that 17 from the hand of the LORD, hast drunken out the cup of his wrath: thou that hast supped of, and sucked out the slumbering cup to the bottom. For among all the sons whom thou hast 18 begotten, there is not one that may hold thee up: and not one to lead thee by the hand, of all the sons that thou hast nourished. Both these things are happened unto thee, but who 19 is sorry for it. Yea, destruction, wasting, hunger and sword: but who hath comforted thee? Thy sons lie comfortless at the 20 head of every street like a taken venison, and are full of the terrible wrath of the LORD, and punishment of thy God. And 21 therefore thou miserable and drunken (howbeit not with wine) Hear this: Thus sayeth thy Lord: thy LORD and God, the 22 defender of his people: Behold, I will take the slumbering cup out of thy hand, even the cup with the dregs of my wrath: that 23 from hence forth thou shalt never drink it more, and will put it in their hand that trouble thee: which have spoken to thy soul: stoop down, that we may go over thee: make thy body even with the ground, and as the street to go upon.

Up Sion up, take thy strength unto thee: put on thy honest raiment O Jerusalem, thou city of the holy one. For from LII this time forth, there shall no uncircumcised nor unclean person come in thee. Shake thee from the dust, arise and stand 2 up, O Jerusalem. Pluck out thy neck from the bond, O thou captive daughter Sion. For thus sayeth the LORD: Ye are 3 sold for naught, therefore shall ye be redeemed also without any money. For thus hath the LORD said: My people went 4 down aforetime into Egypt, there to be strangers. Afterward did the king of the Assyrians oppress them, for naught. And 5 now what profit is it to me (sayeth the LORD) that my people is freely carried away, and brought into heaviness by their rulers, and my name ever still blasphemed? Sayeth the LORD. 6
 But that my people may know my name, I myself will speak in that day. Behold, here am I. O how beautiful are the feet 7 of the Ambassador, that bringeth the message from the mountain, and proclaimeth peace: That bringeth the good tidings, and preacheth health, and sayeth unto Sion: Thy God is the 8 king. Thy watchmen shall lift up their voice, with loud voice shall they preach of him: for they shall see him present, when 9 the LORD shall come again to Sion. Be glad, O thou desolate Jerusalem, and rejoice together: for the LORD will comfort his 10 people, he will deliver Jerusalem. The LORD will make bare his holy arm, and shew it forth in the sight of all the Gentiles, and all the ends of the earth shall see the saving health 11 of our God. Away, away, get you out from thence and touch no unclean thing. Go out from among such. And be clean ye 12 that bear the vessel of the LORD. But ye shall not go out with sedition nor make haste as they that flee away: for the LORD shall go before you, and the God of Israel shall keep the 13 watch. Behold, my servant shall deal wisely, therefore shall 14 he be magnified, exalted and greatly honoured. Like as the multitude shall wonder upon him, because his face shall be so deformed and not as a man's face, and his beauty like no man:

 15 Even so shall the multitude of the Gentiles look unto him, and the kings shall shut their mouths before him. For they that have not been told of him, shall see him, and they that heard nothing of him, shall behold him.

LIII But who giveth credence unto our preaching? Or to whom is 2 the arm of the LORD known? * He shall grow before the Lord like as a branch, and as a root in a dry ground, he shall have neither beauty nor favour. When we look upon him, there shall 3 be no fairness: we shall have no lust unto him.* He shall be the most simple, and despised of all, which yet hath good experience of sorrows and infirmities. We shall reckon him so simple
 4 and so vile, that we shall hide our faces from him.* How be it (of a truth) he only taketh away our infirmity, and beareth our pain: Yet we shall judge him, as though he were plagued 5 and cast down of God:* where as he (notwithstanding) shall be wounded for our offenses, and smitten for our wickedness. For the pain of our punishment shall be laid upon him, and with

53. v.1 Other: Who believeth our sayings, and the arm of the LORD, to whom is it opened?. v.2 Other: He came up as a spray before him, and as a root out of a dry land. There was neither fashion or beauty on him. And when we looked on him, there was no godliness that we should lust after him. v.3 Other: He was despised and cast out of men's company, and one that had suffered sorrow, and had experience of infirmity: and we were as one that had hid his face from him. v.4 Other: He was so despicable, that we esteemed him not. Truly he took upon him our diseases, and bare our sorrows. And yet we counted him plagued, and beaten and humbled of God.

his stripes shall we be healed.* As for us, we go all astray (like 6 sheep) everyone turneth his own way. But thorow him, the LORD pardoneth all our sins.* He shall be pained and trou- 7 bled, and shall not open his mouth. He shall be led as a sheep to be slain, yet shall he be as still as a lamb before the shearer, and not open his mouth.* He shall be had away, his cause not 8 heard, and with out any judgement: Whose generation yet no man may number, when he shall be cut off from the ground of the living: Which punishment shall go upon him, for the transgression of my people.* His grave shall be given him with the 9 condemned, and his crucifying with the thieves. Where as he did never violence nor unright, neither hath there been any deceitfulness in his mouth.* Yet hath it pleased the LORD to 10 smite him with infirmity, that when he had made his soul an offering for sin, he might see* long lasting seed. And this device of the LORD shall prosper in his hand.* With travail and 11 labour of his soul, shall he obtain great riches. My righteous servant shall with his wisdom justify and deliver the multitude, for he shall bear away their sins.* Therefore will I give 12 him the multitude for his part, and he shall divide the strong spoil because he shall give over his soul to death, and shall be reckoned among the transgressors, which nevertheless shall take away the sins of the multitude, and make intercession for the misdoers.*

Therefore be glad now, thou barren that bearest not. Re- LIV

v.5 Other: He was wounded for our transgression, and bruised for our iniquities. The correction that brought us peace was on him, and with his stripes we were healed.
v.6 Other: And we went astray as sheep, and turned every man his way: and the Lord put on him the wickedness of us all. v.7 Other: He suffered wrong and was evil entreated, and yet opened not his mouth: he was as a sheep led to be slain: and as a lamb before his shearer, he was dumb and opened not his mouth. v.8 Other: By the reason of the affliction, he was not esteemed: and yet his generation who can number? When he is taken from the earth of living men: for my people's transgression he was plagued. v.9 Other: He put his sepulchre with the wicked, and with the rich in his death: because he did none iniquity, neither was guile found in his mouth. v.10 Other: a. v.10 Other: And yet the LORD determined to bruise him with infirmities. His soul giving herself for transgression, he shall see seed of long continuance, and the will of the LORD shall prosper in his hand. v.11 Other: Because of the labour of his soul, he shall see and be satisfied. With his knowledge, he being just, shall justify my servants and that a great number: and he shall bear their iniquities. v.12 Other: Therefore I will give him his part in many and the spoil of the rich he shall divide: because he gave his soul to death, and was numbered with the trespassers, and he bare the sin of many, and made intercession for transgressors.

joyce, sing and be merry, thou that art not with child: For the desolate hath more children, then the married wife, sayeth the 2 LORD. Make thy tent wider, and spread out the hangings of thine habitation: spare not, lay forth thy coards, and make fast 3 thy stakes: for thou shalt break out on the right side and on the left, and thy seed shall have the Gentiles in possession, 4 and dwell in the desolate cities. Fear not, for thou shalt not be confounded: Be not ashamed, for thou shalt not come to confusion. Yea thou shalt forget the shame of thy youth, and 5 shalt not remember the dishonour of thy widowhood.* For he that made thee, shall be thy LORD and husband (whose name is the LORD of Hosts) and thine avenger shall be even the holy 6 one of Israel, the LORD of the whole world. For the LORD shall call thee, being as a desolate sorrowful woman, and as a 7 young wife that hath broken her wedlock: sayeth thy God. A little while have I forsaken thee, but with great mercifulness 8 shall I take thee up unto me. When I was angry, I hid my face from thee for a little season, but thorow everlasting good-9 ness shall I pardon thee, sayeth the LORD thine avenger. And this must be unto me as the water of Noe: for like as I have sworn that I will not bring the water of Noe any more upon the world: so have I sworn, that I will never be angry with thee, 10 nor reprove thee: The mountains shall remove, and the hills shall fall down: but my loving-kindness shall not move, and the bond of my peace shall not fall down from thee, sayeth the 11 LORD thy merciful lover. Behold thou poor, vexed, and despised: I will make thy walls of precious stones, and thy foun-12 dation of Sapphires, thy windows of Crystal, thy gates of fine clear stone, and thy borders of pleasant stones. Thy children 13 shall all be taught of GOD, and I will give them plenteousness of peace. In righteousness shalt thou be grounded, and be far 14 from oppression: for the which thou needest not be afraid, nei-15 ther for hinderance, for it shall not come nye thee. Behold, the alien* that was far from thee, shall dwell with thee: and he that was sometime a stranger unto thee, shall be joined with 16 thee: Behold, I make the smith that bloweth the coals in the fire, and he maketh a weapon after his handy work. I make 17 also the waster to destroy: but all the weapons that are made against thee, shall not prosper. And as for all tongues, that

54. v.4 Other: wedowhead. v.15 Other: aleaunt.

shall resist thee in judgment, thou shalt overcome them, and condemn them. This is the heritage of the LORD's servants, and the righteousness that they shall have of me, sayeth the LORD.

Come to the waters all ye, that be thirsty, and ye that have LV no money. Come, buy, that ye may have to eat. Come, buy wine and milk, without any money, or money worth. Where- 2 fore do ye lay out your money, for the thing that feedeth not,
 and spend your labour about the thing that satisfieth you not.
 But hearken rather unto me, and ye shall eat of the best, and your soul shall have her pleasure in plenteousness. Incline 3 your ears, and come unto me, take heed, and your soul shall live. For I will make an everlasting covenant with you, even the sure mercies of David. Behold, I shall give him for a wit- 4 ness among the folk, for a Prince and Captain unto the people.
 Lo, thou shalt call an unknown people: and a people that had 5 no knowledge of thee, shall run unto thee: because of the LORD thy God, the holy one of Israel, which glorifieth thee. Seek the 6 LORD, while he may be found, and call upon him while he is nye. Let the ungodly man forsake his ways and the unright- 7 eous his imaginations, and turn again unto the LORD: so shall he be merciful unto him: and to our God, for he is ready to forgive. For thus sayeth the LORD: my thoughts are not your 8 thoughts, and your ways are not my ways, but as far as the heavens are higher than the earth, so far do my ways exceed 9 yours, and my thoughts yours. And like as the rain and snow 10 cometh down from heaven, and returneth not thither again, but watereth the earth, maketh it fruitful and green, that it may give corn and bread unto the sower: So the word also that 11 cometh out of my mouth shall not turn again void unto me, but shall accomplish my will and prosper in the thing, whereto I sent it. And so shall ye go forth with joy, and be lead with 12 peace. The mountains and hills shall sing with you for joy, and all the trees of the field shall clap their hands. For thorns, 13 there shall grow Fir trees, and the Myrtle tree in the stead of briars. And this shall be done to the praise of the LORD, and for an everlasting token, that shall not be taken away.

Thus sayeth the LORD: Keep equity, and do right, for my LVI saving health shall come shortly, and my righteousness shall be opened. Blessed is the man that doth this, and the man's 2 child which keepeth the same. He that taketh heed, that he unhallow not the Sabbath (that is) he that keepeth himself that he do no evil. Then shall not the stranger, which cleaveth to the LORD, say: Alas the LORD hath shut me clean out from his people. Neither shall the gelded man say: Lo, I am a dried tree. For thus sayeth the LORD, first unto the gelded that keepeth my Sabbath: Namely: that holdeth greatly of the thing that pleaseth me, and keepeth my covenant: Unto them will I give in my household and within my walls, a better heritage and name then if they had been called sons and daughters. I will give them an everlasting name, that shall not perish. Again, he sayeth unto the strangers that are disposed to stick to the LORD, to serve him, and to Love his name: That they shall be no bondman. And all they, which keep themselves, that they unhallow not the Sabbath, namely, that they fulfil my covenant: Them will I bring to my holy mountain, and make them joyful in my house of prayer. Their burnt offerings and sacrifices shall be accepted upon mine altar. For my house shall be an house of prayer for all people. Thus sayeth the Lord GOD which gathereth together the scattered of Israel: I will bring yet another congregation to him. All the beasts of the field, and all the beasts of the wood, shall come to devour him. For his watchmen are all blind, they have altogether no understanding, they are all dumb dogs, no being able to bark, they are sleepery: sluggish are they, and lie snorting: they are shameless dogs, that be never satisfied. The shepherds also in like manner have no understanding, but every man turneth his own way, everyone after his own covetousness, with all his power. Come (say they) I will fetch wine, so shall we fill ourselves, that we may be drunken. And do tomorrow, like as today, yea and much more.

LVII But in the mean season the righteous perisheth, and no man regardeth it in his heart; Good godly people are taken away, and no man considereth it. Namely: that the righteous is conveyed away thorow the wicked: that he himself might be in rest, lie quietly upon his bed, and live after his own pleasure. Come hither therefore ye charmer's children, ye sons of the advoutrer, and the whore: Wherein take ye your pleasure? Upon whom gape ye with your mouth, and blear out your tongue? Are ye not children of advoutry, and a seed of dissimulation? Ye take your pleasure under the oaks, and under all green trees, the child being slain in the valleys, and dens of stone. Thy part shall be with the stony rocks by the river: Yea even these shall be thy part. For there thou hast poured meat and drink offerings unto them. Should I oversee that? Thou hast made thy bed upon high mountains, thou wentest up thither, and there hast thou slain sacrifices. Behind the doors and posts, hast thou set up thy remembrance. When thou hast discovered thyself to another then me, when thou wentest down and made thy bed wider (that is) when thou didst carve the certain of yonder Idols, and lovedest their couches, where thou sawest them. Thou wentest straight to kings with oil and divers ointments (that is) thou hast sent thy messengers far off, and yet art thou fallen into the pit thereby. Thou hast had trouble for the multitude of thine own ways, yet saidest thou never: I will leave off. Thou thinkest to have life (or health) of thy self, and therefore thou believest not that thou art sick. For when wilt thou be abashed or fear, seeing thou hast broken thy promise, and rememberest not me, neither hast me in thine heart? Thinkest thou, that I also will hold my peace (as afore time) that thou fearest me not? Yea verily I will declare thy goodness and thy works, but they shall not profit thee when thou cryest, let thy chosen heap deliver thee. But the wind shall take them all away, and carry them in to the air. Nevertheless, they that put their trust in me, shall inherit the land, and have my holy hill in possession. And therefore thus he sayeth: Make ready, make ready, and clean the street, take up what ye can out of the way that leadeth to my people. For thus sayeth the high* and excellent, even he that dwelleth in everlastingness, whose name is the holy one: I dwell high above and in the sanctuary, and with him also, that is of a contrite and humble spirit: that I may heal a troubled mind, and a contrite heart. For I chide not ever, and am not wroth without end. But the blasting goeth from me, though I make the breath. I am wroth with him for his covetousness and lust, I smite him, I hide me, and am angry, when he turneth himself, and followeth the byway of his own heart. But if I may see his right way again, I make him whole, I lead him and restore him unto them whom he maketh joyful, and that 19 were sorry for him. I make the fruits of thanksgiving. I give peace unto them that are far off, and to them that are nye, say I 20 the LORD, that make him whole. But the wicked are like the raging see, that can not rest, whose water foameth with the 21 mire and gravel. Even so the wicked have no peace, sayeth my God.

LVIII

And therefore cry now, as loud as thou canst. Leave not off, lift up thy voice like a trumpet, and shew my people their of-2 fenses, and the house of Jacob their sins.* For they seek me daily, and will know my ways, even as it were a people that did right, and had not forsaken the statutes of their God. They argue with me concerning right judgement, and will pleate at 3 the law with their God.* Wherefore fast we (say they) and thou seest it not? we put our lives to straightness, and thou 4 regardest it not? * Behold, when ye fast, your lust remaineth still: for ye do no less violence to your debtors: Lo, ye fast for strife and debate, and to smite him with your fist that speaketh unto you. Ye fast not (as some time) that your voice 5 might be heard above.* Think ye this fast pleaseth me, that a man should chasten himself for a day, and to wring his head about like an hook in an hairy cloth, and to lie upon the earth?
 Should that be called fasting, or a day that pleaseth the LORD?
 6 * But this fasting pleaseth not me, till the time be thou lowse him out of bondage, that is in thy danger: that thou break the oath of wicked bargains, that thou let the oppressed go free, 7 and take from them all manner of burthens.* It pleaseth not me, till thou deal thy bread to the hungry, and bring the poor fatherless home into thy house, when thou seest the naked

58. v.1 Other: Cry with the throat and spare not. Lift up thy voice as a trumpet, and tell my people their offences and the house of Jacob their sins. v.2 Other: For me they seek day by day, and will know my ways, as a people that doth righteousness, and hath not forsaken the equity of their God. v.3 Other: They seek of me righteous judgements, and will draw nye unto God. Why have we fasted and thou hast not looked upon it, have humbled our souls, and thou wouldest not wit it. v.4 Other: Behold when ye fast, ye can find your own lusts, and can call cruelly on all your debtors. Ye fast to law and strive and to smite with fist wickedly. Fast not as ye now do, to make your voice to be heard upon high. v.5 Other: Should it be such a manner of fast that I should chose, a day that a man should hurt his soul in? Or to bow down his head like a bulrush? Or to spread sack cloth and ashes under him? Shouldest thou call this a fast, and a day acceptable unto the LORD?. v.6 Other: Or is not this rather the fast that I have chosen? To loose wicked bonds and to unbind bundles of oppression? And to let the bruised go free? And that ye should break all manner yokes?.

that thou cover him, and hide not thy face from thine own flesh.* Then shall thy light break forth as the morning, and thy health flourish right shortly: thy righteousness shall go be- 8 fore thee, and the glory of the LORD shall embrace thee.* Then 9 if thou callest, the LORD shall answer thee: if thou cryest, he shall say: Here I am.* Yea If thou layest away thy burthens, and holdest thy fingers, and ceasest from blasphemous talking, if thou hast compassion upon the hungry, and refreshest 10 the troubled soul: Then shall thy light spring out in the darkness, and thy darkness shall be as the noon day. The LORD 11 shall ever be thy guide, and satisfy the desire of thine heart, and fill thy bones with marry. Thou shalt be like a fresh watered garden, and like the fountain of water, that never leaveth running. Then the places that have ever been waste, shall be 12 builded of thee: there shalt thou lay a foundation for many kindreds. Thou shalt be called the maker up of hedges, and the builder again of the way of the Sabbath. Yea if thou turn 13 thy feet from the Sabbath, so that thou do not the thing which pleaseth thy self in my holy day: then shalt thou be called unto the pleasant, holy, and glorious Sabbath of the LORD, where thou shalt be in honor: so that thou do not after thine own imagination, neither seek thine own will, nor speak thine own words. Then shalt thou have thy pleasure in the LORD, which 14 shall carry thee high above the earth, and feed thee with the heritage of Jacob thy father: for the LORD's own mouth hath so promised.

Behold, the LORD's hand is not so shortened that it can not LIX help, neither is his ear so stopped that it may not hear. But 2 your misdeeds have separated you from your God, and your sins hide his face from you, that he heareth you not. For 3 your hands are defiled with blood, and your fingers with unrighteousness: Your lips speak leasings, and your tongue setteth out wickedness. No man regardeth righteousness, and 4 no man judgeth truly. Every man hopeth in vain things, and v.7 Other: yea and to break the bread to the hungry, and to bring the poor that are harbourless unto house, and when thou seest a naked, that thou clothe him and that thou shouldest withdraw thyself from helping thine own flesh?. v.8 Other: Then should the light break out as doth the dayspring, and then health should shortly bud out. And thy righteousness shall go before thee, and the glory of the Lord would come upon thee. v.9 Other: Then shouldest thou call, and the LORD answer, then shouldest thou cry, and he shall say: lo here am I. For I the LORD thy God am merciful.

imagineth deceit, conceiveth weariness, and bringeth forth evil.
5 They breed cockatrice' eggs, and weave the spider's web. Whoso eateth of their eggs dieth. But if one treadeth upon them, there 6 cometh up a serpent. Their web maketh no cloth and they may not cover themselves with their labours. Their deeds are the deeds of wickedness, and the work of robbery is in their 7 hands. Their feet run to evil, and they make haste to shed innocent blood. Their counsels are wicked counsels, harm and 8 destruction are in their ways. But the way of peace they know not. In their goings is no equity, their ways are so crooked that 9 whosoever goeth therein, knoweth nothing of peace. And this is the cause that equity is so far from us, and that righteousness cometh not nye us. We look for light, lo, it is darkness: for 10 the morning shine, see, we walk in the dark. We grope like the blind upon the wall, we grope even as one that hath none eyes.
We stumble at the noon day, as though it were toward night: 11 in the falling places, like men that are half dead. We roar all like Bears, and mourn still like doves. We look for equity, but 12 there is none: for health, but it is far from us. For our offenses are many before thee, and our sins testify against us. Yea we must confess that we offend and knowledge, that we do amiss: 13 Namely transgress and dissemble against the LORD, and fall away from our God: using presumptuous and traitorous imag-14 inations, and casting false matters in our hearts. And therefore is equity gone aside, and righteousness standeth far off:
truth is fallen down in the street, and the thing that is plain 15 and open, may not be shewed. Yea the truth is laid in prison, and he that refraineth him self from evil, must be spoiled.
When the LORD saw this, it displeased him sore, that there 16 was no where any equity. He saw also, that there was no man, which had pity thereof, or was grieved at it. And he held him by 17 his own power, and cleaved to his own righteousness. He put righteousness upon him for a breast plate, and set the helmet of health upon his head. He put on wrath in stead of cloth-18 ing, and took jealousy about him for a cloak: (like as when a man goeth forth wrathfully to recompense his enemies, and to be avenged of his adversaries.) Namely, that he might rec-19 ompense and reward the Islands, where thorow the name of the LORD might be feared, from the rising of the Sun: * and his majesty, unto the going down of the same. For he shall come as a violent water stream, which the wind of the LORD hath moved. But unto Sion there shall come a redeemer, and unto them in Jacob that turn from wickedness, sayeth the LORD. I will make this covenant with them, (sayeth the LORD): My spirit that is come upon thee, and the words which I have put in thy mouth, shall never go out of thy mouth, nor out of the mouth of thy children, nor out of the mouth of thy children's children, from this time forth for evermore.

And therefore get thee up by times, for thy light cometh, LX and the glory of the LORD shall rise up upon thee.* For lo, 2 while the darkness and cloud covereth the earth and the people, the LORD shall shew the light, and his glory shall be seen in thee.* The Gentiles shall come to thy light, and kings to the brightness that springeth forth upon thee.* Lift up thine eyes, 4 and look round about thee: All these gather themselves, and come to thee. Sons shall come unto thee from far, and daughters shall gather themselves to thee on every side.* When 5 thou seest this thou shalt marvel exceedingly, and thine heart shall be opened: when the power of the sea shall be converted unto thee (that is) when the strength of the Gentiles shall come unto thee.* The multitude of Camels shall cover thee, 6 the dromedaries of Madian and Epha. All they of Saba shall come, bringing gold and incense, and shewing the praise of the LORD.* All the cattle of Cedar shall be gathered unto thee, the 7 rams Nabaioth shall serve thee, to be offered upon mine altar, which I have chosen, and in the house of my glory which I have garnished. But what are these that flee here like clouds, 8 and as the doves flying to their windows? The isles also shall 9 gather them unto me, and specially the ships of the sea: that

60. v.1 Other: Up and receive light Jerusalem: for thy light is come, and the glory of the LORD is up over thee. v.2 Other: For behold, darkness shall cover the earth, and a thick mist the nations. But the LORD shall rise as the sun over thee, and his glory shall be seen upon thee. v.3 Other: And the heathen shall walk in thy light, and the kings in the brightness that is risen over thee. v.4 Other: Lift up thine eyes round about and see. All these are gathered together and are come unto thee. Thy sons shall come from far, and thy daughters shall be ever by thy side. v.5 Other: Then thou shalt see, and shalt have plenty: thine heart shall wonder and break out in joy, when the multitude of the sea are turned to thee, and the armies of the heathen are come unto thee. v.6 Other: The abundance of camels shall cover thee, and the dromedaries of Midian and Ephah shall come all of them from Sheba, and bring gold and frankincense, and shall preach the praise of the LORD.

they may bring the sons from far, and their silver and their gold with them, unto the name of the LORD thy God, unto the 10 holy one of Israel, that hath glorified thee. Strangers shall build up thy walls, and their kings shall do thee service. For when I am angry, I smite thee: and when it pleaseth me, I pardon 11 thee. Thy gates shall stand open still both day and night, and never be shut: that the house of the Gentiles may come, 12 and that their kings may be brought unto thee. For every people and kingdom that serveth not thee, shall perish, and be 13 destroyed with the sword. The glory of Libanus shall come unto thee: The fir trees, Boxes and Cedars together, to garnish the place of my Sanctuary, for I will glorify the place of my feet.
14 Moreover those shall come kneeling unto thee, that have vexed thee: and all they that despised thee, shall fall down at thy foot. Thou shalt be called the city of the LORD, the holy Sion of 15 Israel. Because thou hast been forsaken and hated, so that no man went thorow thee: I will make thee glorious for ever and 16 ever, and joyful thorowout all posterities. Thou shalt suck the milk of the Gentiles, and kings' breasts shall feed thee.
And thou shalt know that I the LORD am thy Saviour and de-17 fender, the mighty one of Jacob. For brass will I give thee gold, and for iron silver: for wood brass, and for stones iron. I 18 will make peace thy ruler, and righteousness thine officer. Violence and robbery shall never be heard of in thy land, neither harm and destruction within thy borders. Thy walls shall be 19 called health, and thy gates the praise of God. The Sun shall never be thy day light, and the light of the Moon shall never shine unto thee: but the LORD himself shall be thine everlast-20 ing light, and thy God shall be thy glory. Thy Sun shall never go down, and thy Moon shall not be taken away, for the LORD himself shall be thine everlasting light, and thy sorrowful days 21 shall be rewarded thee. Thy people shall be all godly and possess the land for ever: the flower of my planting, the work of 22 my hands whereof I will rejoyce. The youngest and least shall grow into a thousand, and the simplest into a strong people. I the LORD shall shortly bring this thing to pass in his time.

LXI The spirit of the Lord GOD is with me, for the LORD hath anointed me, and sent me to preach good tidings unto the poor, that I might bind up the wounded hearts, that I might preach deliverance to the captive, and open the prison to them that are bound: That I might declare the acceptable year of the LORD, 2 and the day of the vengeance of our God: that I might com- 3 fort all them that are in heaviness. That I might give unto 3 them that mourn in Sion, beauty in the stead of ashes, joyful ointment for sighing, pleasant raiment for an heavy mind:

 That they might be called excellent in righteousness, a planting of the LORD for him to rejoice in. They shall build the 4 long rough wildernesses, and set up the old desert. They shall repair the waste places, and such as have been void thorowout many generations; Strangers shall stand* and feed your cat- 5 tle, and the Aliens shall be your plowmen and reapers. But 6 ye shall be named the priests of the LORD, and men shall call you the servants of our God. Ye shall enjoy the goods of the Gentiles and triumph in their substance. For your great re- 7 proof and shame, shall they have joy, that ye may have part with them. For they shall have double possession in their land and everlasting joy shall be with them. For I the LORD, which 8 love right and hate robbery (though it were offered me) shall make their works full of faithfulness, and make an everlasting covenant with them. Their seed also and their generation 9 shall be known among the Gentiles, and among the people. All they that see them, shall know that they are the blessed seed of the LORD. And therefore I am joyful in the LORD, and my 10 soul rejoiceth in my God. For he shall put upon me the garment of health, and cover me with the mantle of righteousness. He shall deck me like a bridegroom, and as a bride that hath her apparel upon her. For like as the ground bringeth forth fruit, 11 and as the garden shooteth forth seed: So shall the Lord GOD cause righteousness, and the fear of God to flourish forth before all the Heathen.

For Sion's sake therefore will I not hold my tongue, and for LXII Jerusalem's sake I will not cease: until their righteousness break forth as a shining light, and their health as a burning lamp. Then shall the Gentiles see thy righteousness, and all 2 kings thy glory. Thou shalt be named with a new name, which the mouth of the LORD shall shew. Thou shalt be a crown in 3 the hand of the LORD, and a glorious garland in the hand of thy God. From this time forth thou shalt never be called the 4 forsaken, and thy land shall no more be called the wilderness.

61. v.5 Other: stode.

But thou shalt be called Hephzibah,* and thy land Beula:* for 5 the LORD loveth thee, and thy land shall be inhabited. And like as a young man taketh a daughter to marriage, so shall God marry himself unto thy sons. And as a bridegroom is 6 glad of his bride, so shall God rejoice over thee. I will set watchmen upon thy walls, (O Jerusalem) which shall neither cease day or night to preach the LORD. And ye also shall not 7 keep him close,* nor leave to speak of him, until Jerusalem 8 be set up, and made the praise of the world.* The LORD hath sworn by his right hand and by his strong arm, that from hence forth he will not give thee corn to be meat for thine enemies, nor thy vine (wherein thou hast laboured) to be drink for the 9 strangers.* But they that have gathered in the corn, shall eat it, and give thanks to the LORD: and they that have born in the 10 vine, shall drink it in the court of my Sanctuary.* Stand* back, and depart a sunder, ye that stand under the gate: make room ye people, repair the street, and take away the stones, and set 11 out a token for the people.* Behold, the LORD proclaimeth in the ends of the world: Tell the daughter Sion: see, thy salvation cometh, behold, he bringeth his treasure with him, and 12 his works go before him.* For they whom the LORD delivereth, shall be called the holy people: and as for thee, thou shalt be named the greatly occupied, and not the forsaken.*

LXIII

What is he this, that cometh from Edom, with stained red clothes of Bosra: (which is so costly cloth) and cometh in so nimbly with all his strength: I am he that teacheth righteous-2 ness, and am of power to help. Wherefore then is thy clothing

62. v.4 Other: that is my beloved. v.4 Other: that is a married woman. v.6 Other: upon the walls of Jerusalem, I have set keepers which shall never cease, neither by day nor yet by night. v.7 Other: And ye that stir up the remembrance of the Lord, see that ye pause not, neither let him have rest until he have prepared and made Jerusalem glorious in the earth. v.8 Other: The Lord hath sworn by his right hand and by his strong arm, that he will not give thy corn any more to be eaten of thine enemies: and that aliens shall not drink thy new wine wherefore thou hast laboured. v.9 Other: But they that made it shall eat it and shall praise the LORD: and they that gathered it, shall drink it in the court of my holy temple. v.10 Other: stode. v.10 Other: Go from gate to gate, and prepare the way for the people, cast up gravel, and make the way high and cleanse it of stones, and set up a banner for the people. v.11 Other: Behold the LORD will make it known unto the ends of the world. And say ye unto the daughter of Sion: behold he that is thy saviour cometh and his reward with him and his work before him. v.12 Other: And they shall be called a people of holiness redeemed of the LORD. And thou shalt be called an haunted city and not forsaken.

red, and thy raiment like his that treadeth in the winepress?
 I have trodden the press myself alone, and of all people, there 3 was not one with me. Thus have I trodden down mine enemies in my wrath, and set my feet upon them in my indignation:
 And their blood sprang upon my clothes, and so have I stained all my raiment. For that day of vengeance that I have taken in 4 hand, and the year of my deliverance is come. I looked about 5 me, and there was no man to shew me any help, I fell down, and no man held me up. Then I held me by mine own arm, and my ferventness sustained me: and thus have I trodden 6 down the people in my wrath, and bathed them in my displeasure: In so much that I have shed their blood upon the earth.
 I will declare the goodness of the LORD, yea and the praise of 7 the LORD for all that he hath given us, for the great good that he hath done for Israel: which he hath given them of his own favour, and according to the multitude of his loving kindnesses.
 For he said: These no doubt will be my people, and no shrink- 8 ing children, and so he was their Saviour. In their troubles 9 he forsook them not, but the angel that went forth from his presence delivered them: Of very love and kindness that he had unto them, redeemed he them: He hath born them, and carried them up even, since the world began. But after they 10 provoked him to wrath and vexed his holy mind, he was their enemy, and fought against them himself. Yet remembered he 11 the old time of Moses and his people: How he brought them from the water of the sea, as a shepherd doth with his sheep: how he had given his holy spirit among them: how he had led 12 Moses by the right hand with his glorious arm: how he had divided the water before them (whereby he gat himself an everlasting name) how he led them in the deep, as an horse is 13 led in the plain, that they should not stumble. The spirit of 14 the LORD led them as a tame beast goeth in the field. Thus (O God) hast thou led thy people, to make thyself a glorious name withal. Look down then from heaven, and behold the 15 dwelling place of thy Sanctuary and thy glory. How is it, that thy jealousy, thy strength, the multitude of thy mercies and thy loving-kindness, will not be entreated of us.* Yet art thou 16 our father: For Abraham knoweth us not, neither is Israel acquainted with us. But thou LORD art our father and redeemer, 17 and thy name is everlasting. O LORD wherefore hast thou led us out of thy way? Wherefore hast thou hardened our hearts, that we fear thee not? Be at one with us again, for thy ser-18 vants' sake that are of the generation of thine heritage. Thy people hath had but little of thy Sanctuary in possession, for 19 our enemies have taken it in: And we are become even as we were from the beginning: but thou art not their Lord, for they have not called upon thy name.

LXIV O that thou wouldest cleave the heaven in sunder, and come down: that the mountains might melt away at thy presence, 2 like as at an hot fire that the malicious might boil, as the water doth upon the fire: Whereby thy name might be known among thine enemies, and that the Gentiles might tremble be-3 fore thee. That thou mightest come down with thy wonderous 4 strange works, then should the hills melt at thy presence. For since the beginning of the world there was none (except thou O God) that heard or perceived, neither hath any eye seen what 5 thou doest for them, that put their trust in thee. Thou helpst him that doth right with cheerfulness, and them that think upon thy ways. But lo, thou art angry, for we offend, and have 6 been ever in sin, and there is not one whole. We are all as an unclean thing, and all our righteousnesses are as the clothes stained with the flours of a woman: we fall every each one as 7 the leaf, for our sins carry us away like the wind. There is no man that calleth upon thy name, that standeth up to take hold by thee. Therefore hidest thou thy face from us and con-8 sumest us, because of our sins. But now O LORD, thou father of ours: we are the clay, and thou art our potter, and we all are 9 the work of thy hands. Be not too sore displeas'd (O LORD) and keep not our offenses too long in thy remembrance, but 10 consider that we all are thy people. The cities of thy Sanctuary lie waste, Sion is a wilderness, and Jerusalem a desert.
 11 Our holy house which is our beauty, where our fathers praised thee, is brent up: yea all our commodities and pleasures are 12 wasted away. Wilt thou not be intreated (LORD) for all this?
 Wilt thou hold thy peace, and scourge us so sore?

LXV They shall seek me, that hitherto have not asked for me, they shall find me, that hitherto have not sought me. Then shall I say immediately to the people that never called upon 2 my name: I am here, I am here. For thus long have I ever holden out my hands to an unfaithful people, that go not the right way, but after their own imaginations: To a people that 3 is ever defying me to my face. They make their oblations in gardens, and their smoke upon altars of brick, they lurk among 4 the graves, and lie in the dens all night. They eat swine flesh, and unclean broth is in their vessels. If thou comest nye them, 5 they say: touch me not, for I am holier than thou. All these men when I am angry, shall be turned to smoke and fire, that shall burn for ever. Behold, it is written before my face, and 6 shall not be forgotten, but recompensed. I shall reward it them into their bosom: I mean your misdeeds, and the misdeeds 7 of your fathers together (sayeth the LORD) which have made their smokes upon the mountains, and blasphemed me upon the hills: therefore will I measure their old deeds into their bosom again. Moreover thus sayeth the LORD: like as when one 8 would gather holy grapes, men say unto him: break it not off, for it is holy: even so will I do also for my servants' sakes, that I will not destroy them all. But I will take a seed out of Jacob, 9 and out of Judah one, to take possession of my hill. My chosen shall possess these things, and my servants shall dwell there.

Saron shall be a sheepfold, and the valley of Achor shall give 10 the stalling for the cattle of my people, that fear me. But as 11 for you, ye are they, that have forsake the LORD, and forgotten my holy hill. Ye have set up an altar to fortune, and given rich drink offerings unto treasure. Therefore will I number 12 you with the sword, that ye shall be destroyed all together. For when I called, no man gave me answer: when I spake, ye hearkened not unto me, but did wickedness before mine eyes, and chose the thing that pleased me not. Therefore thus sayeth 13 the Lord GOD: Behold, my servants shall eat, but ye shall have hunger. Behold, my servants shall drink, but ye shall suffer thirst. Behold, my servants shall be merry, but ye shall be confounded. Behold, my servants shall rejoice for very quietness 14 of heart: But ye shall cry for sorrow of heart, and complain for vexation of mind. Your name shall not be sworn by among my 15 chosen, for GOD the Lord shall slay you, and call his servants by another name. Whoso rejoiceth upon earth, shall rejoice in 16 the true God: And whoso sweareth upon earth, shall swear in the true God. For the old enmity shall be forgotten, and taken away out of my sight. For lo, I shall make a new heaven, and 17 a new earth. And as for the old, they shall never be thought 18 upon, nor kept in mind: but men shall be glad and evermore rejoice, for the things, that I shall do. For why: Behold, I shall 19 make a joyful Jerusalem, yea I myself will rejoice with Jerusalem, and be glad with my people: And the voice of weeping 20 and wailing shall not be heard in her from thence forth. There shall never be child nor old man, that have not their full days.

 But when the child cometh to an hundredth year old, it shall die. And if he that is an hundredth year of age do wrong, he 21 shall be cursed. They shall build houses, and dwell in them: 22 they shall plant vineyards, and eat the fruit of them. They shall not build, and another possess: they shall not plant, and another eat: But the life of my people shall be like a tree, and 23 so shall the work of their hands. My chosen shall live long, they shall not labour in vain, nor beget with trouble: for they are the high* blessed seed of the LORD, and their fruits with 24 them. And it shall be, that or ever they call, I shall answer them. While they are yet but thinking how to speak, I shall 25 hear them. The wolf and the lamb shall feed together, and the lion shall eat hay like the bullock. But earth shall be the serpent's meat. There shall no man hurt nor slay another, in all my holy hill, sayeth the LORD.

LXVI Thus sayeth the LORD: Heaven is my seat, and the earth is my footstool. Where shall now the house stand, that ye build unto me? And where shall be the place, that I will dwell in?
 2 As for these things, my hand hath made them all, and they are all created, sayeth the LORD. Which of them shall I then regard? Even him that is of a lowly troubled spirit, and standeth 3 in awe of my works. For who so slayeth an ox for me, doth me so great dishonour, as he that killeth a man. He that killeth a sheep for me, choketh a dog. He that bringeth me meat offerings, offereth swine's blood: Who so maketh me a memorial of incense, praiseth the thing that is unright. Yet take they such ways in hand, and their soul delighteth in these abomina-4 tions. Therefore will I also have pleasure in laughing them to scorn, and the thing that they fear, will I bring upon them. For when I called no man gave answer: when I spake, they would not hear: But did wickedness before mine eyes, and chose the 5 things that displease me. Hear the word of God all ye, that fear the thing which he speaketh. Your brethren that hate you, and cast you out for my name's sake, say: Let the LORD magnify himself, that we may see your gladness: and yet they shall be confounded. For as touching the city and the temple, I hear 6 the voice of the LORD, that will reward, and recompense his enemies: like as when a wife bringeth forth a man child, or 7 ever she suffer the pain of the birth and anguish of the travail. Who ever heard or saw such things? doth the ground bear in 8 one day? or are the people born all at once, as Sion beareth her* sons? For thus sayeth the LORD: Am I he that maketh 9 other to bear, and bear not myself? Am not I he that beareth, and maketh barren? sayeth thy God. Rejoice with Jerusa- 10 lem, and be glad with her, all ye that love her. Be joyful with her, all ye that mourned for her. For ye shall suck comfort 11 out of her breasts, and be satisfied. Ye shall taste, and have delight in the plenteousness of her power. For thus sayeth the 12 LORD: behold, I will let peace into her, like a water flood, and the might of the Heathen like a flowing stream. Then shall ye suck, ye shall be born upon her sides, and be joyful upon her knees. For like as a child is comforted of his mother, so 13 shall I comfort you, and ye shall be comforted in Jerusalem. And when ye see this, your heart shall rejoice, and your bones 14 shall flourish like an herb. Thus shall the hand of the LORD be known among his servants, and his indignation among his enemies. For behold, the LORD shall come with fire, and his 15 chariot shall be like a whirlwind, that he may recompense his vengeance in his wrath, and his indignation with the flame of fire. For the LORD shall judge all flesh with the fire and with 16 his sword, and there shall be a great number slain of the LORD. Such as have made themselves holy and clean in the gardens, 17 and those that have eaten swine's flesh, mice, and other abominations, shall be taken away together, sayeth the LORD. For 18

I will come to gather all people and tongues with their works and imaginations: these shall come, and see my glory. Unto 19 them shall I give a token, and send certain of them (that be delivered) among the Gentiles: into Celicia, Africa and Lidia (where men can handle bows) into Italy also and Greekland. The isles far off, that have not heard speak of me, and have not seen my glory, shall preach my praise among the Gentiles and 20

66. v.8 Other: his.

shall bring all your brethren for an offering unto the LORD, out of all people, upon horses, chariots and horse litters, upon Mules and carts to Jerusalem my holy hill (sayeth the LORD) like as the children of Israel bring the offering in clean vessels, to the house of the LORD. And I shall take out certain 21 of them for to be priests and levites, sayeth the LORD. For 22 like as the new heaven and the new earth which I will make, shall be fast established by me: (sayeth the LORD) So shall 23 your seed and your name continue, and there shall be a new Moon for the other, and a new Sabbath for the other, and all 24 flesh shall come to worship before me (sayeth the LORD.) And they shall go forth and look upon the carrions of them that have transgressed against me. For their worms shall not die, neither shall their fire be quenched, and all flesh shall abhor them.

The end of the book of the Prophete Esai.

The Book Of The Prophet Jeremy.

These are the Sermons of Jeremy the son of Helkiah I the Priest, one of them that dwelt at Anathoth in the land of Ben Jamin: when the LORD had first spoken 2 with him, in the time of Josiah the son of Amon king of Judah, in the thirteenth year of his kingdom: and so dur- 3 ing unto the time of Jehoakim the son of Josiah king of Judah, and unto the eleven years of Zedekiah the son of Josiah king of Judah were ended: when Jerusalem was taken, even in the fifth Month. The word of the LORD spake thus unto me: Be- 4, 5 fore I fashioned thee in thy mother's womb, I did know thee:
And or ever thou wast born, I sanctified thee, and ordained thee, to be a Prophet unto the people. Then said I: Oh Lord 6 GOD, I am unmete, for I am yet but young. And the LORD 7 answered me thus: Say not so, I am too young: For thou shalt go to all that I shall send thee unto, and whatsoever I command thee, that shalt thou speak. Be not afraid of their faces, 8 for I will be with thee, to deliver thee, sayeth the LORD. And 9 with that, the LORD stretched out his hand, and touched my mouth, and said moreover unto me. Behold I put my words in thy mouth, and this day do I set thee over the people and 10 kingdoms: that thou mayest root out, break off, destroy, and make waste: and that thou mayest build up and plant. Af- 11 ter this, the LORD spake unto me saying: Jeremy, what seest thou? And I said: I see a waking rod. Then said the LORD: 12 thou hast seen right, for I will watch diligently upon my word, to perform it. It happened afterward, that the LORD spake to 13 me again, and said: What seest thou? And I said: I do see a seething pot, looking out of the north hitherward. Then said 14 the LORD unto me: Out of the north shall come a plague upon all the dwellers of the land. For lo, I will call all the officers 15 of the kingdoms of the north (sayeth the LORD) And they shall come, and every one shall set his seat in the gates of Jerusalem, and in all their walls round about and thorow all the cities of Judah. And thorow them shall I declare my judgment, upon 16 all the wickedness of those men that have forsaken me: that have offered unto strange gods, and worshipped the works of their own hands. And therefore gird up thy loins, arise, and 17 tell them all, that I give thee in commandment. Fear them not, 18 I will not have thee to be afraid of them. For behold, this day do I make thee a strong fenced town, an iron pillar, and a wall of steel against the whole land, against the kings and mighty 19 men of Judah, against the priests and people of the land. They shall fight against thee, but they shall not be able to overcome thee: for I am with thee, to deliver thee, sayeth the LORD.

II, 2 Moreover, the word of the LORD commanded me thus: Go thy way, cry in the ears of Jerusalem, and say: Thus sayeth the LORD: I remember thee for the kindness of thy youth, and because of thy steadfast love: in that thou followedst me thorow 3 the wilderness, in an untilled land. Thou Israel wast hallowed unto the LORD, and so was his firstfruits. All they that devoured Israel, offended: misfortune fell upon them, sayeth the 4 LORD. Hear therefore the word of the LORD, O thou house 5 of Jacob, and all the generation of the house of Israel. Thus sayeth the LORD unto you. What unfaithfulness found your fathers in me, that they went so far away from me, falling 6 to lightness, and being so vain? They thought not in their hearts: Where have we left the LORD, that brought us out of the land of Egypt, that led us thorow the wilderness, thorow a desert and rough land, thorow a dry and deadly land, yea a land that no man had gone thorow, and wherein no man 7 had dwelt. And when I had brought you into a pleasant well builded land, that ye might enjoy the fruits and all the commodities of the same: ye went forth and defiled my land, and 8 brought mine heritage to abomination. The priests themselves said not once: Where is the LORD? They that have the law in their hands, know me not: The shepherds offend against me. The Prophets do service unto Baal, and follow such things 9 as shall bring them no profit. Wherefore I am constrained (sayeth the LORD) to make my complaint upon you, and upon 10 your children. Go into the Isles of Cethim, and look well: and send unto Cedar, take diligent heed: and see, whether such 11 things be done there, whether the Gentiles themselves deal so falsely and untruly with their gods, (which yet are no gods in deed) But my people hath given over their high honour, for 12 a thing that may not help them. Be astonished (O ye heavens) be afraid, and abashed at such a thing, sayeth the LORD.
13 For my people hath done two evils. They have forsaken me the well of the water of life, and digged them pits, yea vile and broken pits, that hold no water. Is Israel a bond servant, or 14 one of the household? Why is he then so spoiled? Why do 15 they roar and cry then upon him, as a lion? They have made his land waste, his cities are so brent up, that there is no man dwelling in them. Yea the children of Noph and Taphnes have 16 defiled thy neck. Cometh not this unto thee, because thou 17 hast forsaken the LORD thy God, ever since he led thee by the way? And what hast thou now to do in the street of Egypt? 18 to drink foul water? Either, what makest thou in the way to Assiria? To drink water of the flood? Thine own wickedness 19 shall reprove thee, and thy turning away shall condemn thee:

that thou mayest know and understand, how evil and hurtful a thing it is, that thou hast forsaken the LORD thy God, and not feared him, sayeth the Lord GOD of Hosts. I have 20 ever broken thy yoke of old, and bursten thy bonds: yet sayest thou, I will no more serve, but (like an harlot) thou runnest about upon all high hills, and among all green trees where as 21 I planted thee out of noble grapes and good roots. How art thou turned then into a bitter, unfruitful, and strange grape? Yea 22 and that so sore: that though thou washest thee with Nitrus and makest thyself to savour with that sweet smelling herb of Borith: yet in my sight thou art stained with thy wickedness, sayeth the Lord thy GOD. Say not now: I am not unclean, 23 and I have not followed the gods. Look upon thy own ways in the woods, valleys and dens: so shalt thou know, what thou hast done. Thou art like a swift Dromedary, that goeth easily his way: and thy wantonness is like a wild Ass, that useth the 24 wilderness, and that snuffeth and bloweth at his will. Who can tame thee? All they that seek thee, shall not fail, but find thee in thy own uncleanness. Thou keepest thy foot from naked- 25 ness, and thy throat from thirst, and thinkest thus in thyself: tush: I will take no sorrow, I will love the strange gods, and hang upon them. Like as a thief that is taken with the deed 26 cometh to shame, even so is the house of Israel come to confusion: the common people, their kings and rulers, their priests and prophets. For they say to a stock, thou art my father, 27 and to a stone: thou hast begotten me, yea they have turned their back upon me, and not their face. But in the time of their trouble, when they say: stand up, and help us, I shall answer 28 them: Where are now thy gods, that thou hast made thee? bid them stand up, and help thee in the time of need? For look how many cities thou hast (O Judah) so many gods hast thou also.

29 Wherefore then will ye go to law with me, seeing ye all are sinners against me? sayeth the LORD. It is but lost labour, that I smite your children, for they receive not my correction. Your

30 own sword destroyeth your prophets, like a devouring lion. If ye be the people of the LORD, then hearken unto his word: Am I then become a wilderness unto the people of Israel? or a land that hath no light? Wherefore sayeth my people then:

31 we are fallen off, and we will come no more unto thee? Doth a maiden forget her raiment, or a bride her stomacher? And doth

32 my people forget me so long? Why boastest* thou thy ways so highly (to obtain favour there thorow) when thou hast yet

33 stained them with blasphemies? Upon thy wings is found the blood of poor and innocent people, and that not in corners and

34 holes only, but openly in all these places. Yet darest thou say: I am guiltless: Tush, his wrath can not come upon me. Behold, I will reason with thee because thou darest say: I have not of-

35 fended. O how evil will it be for thee, to abide it: when it shall be known, how oft thou hast gone backward? For thou shalt

36 be confounded, as well of Egypt, as of the Assirians: Yea thou shalt go thy way from them, and smite thine hands together upon thy head. Because the LORD shall bring that confidence and hope of thine to naught, and thou shalt not prosper with 37 all.

III Commonly, when a man putteth away his wife, and she goeth from him, and marrieth with another, then the question is: should he resort unto her any more after that? Is not this field then defiled and unclean? But as for thee, thou hast played the harlot with many lovers, yet turn again to me,

2 sayeth the LORD. Lift up thine eyes on every side, and look, if thou be not defiled. Thou hast waited for them in the streets, and as a murderer in the wilderness. thorow thy whoredoms

3 and shameful blasphemies, is the land defiled. This is the cause, that the rain and evening dew hath ceased. Thou hast gotten thee an whore's forehead, and canst not be ashamed.

4 Else wouldest thou say unto me: O my father, thou art he that

5 hast brought me up, and led me from my youth: Wilt thou

2. v.33 Other: boostest.

then put me away and cast me off for ever? Or wilt thou withdraw thyself clean from me? Nevertheless, thou speakest such words, but thou art ever doing worse and worse. The LORD 6 said also unto me: in the time of Josiah the king: Hast thou seen what that shrinking Israel hath done? how she hath run up upon all high hills, and among all thick trees, and there played the harlot: hast thou seen also (when she had done 7 all this) how I said unto her: that she should turn again unto me, and yet she is not returned? Judah that unfaithful sister of hers also saw this: Namely, that after I had well seen 8 the advoury of the shrinking harlot Israel, I put her away, and gave her a bill of divorcement. For all this, her unfaithful sister Judah was not ashamed, but went back and played the whore also. Yea and the noise of her whoredom hath defiled the whole land. For she hath committed her advoury with stones and stocks. Nevertheless, her unfaithful sister Judah is not turned unto me again with her whole heart, but feignedly, sayeth the LORD. And the LORD said unto me. The backslider Israel is more righteous, then the unfaithful Judah: and therefore go preach these words toward the north, and say: 12 Thou shrinking Israel, turn again (sayeth the LORD) and I will not turn my face from you, for I am merciful, sayeth the LORD, and I will not alway bear displeasure against thee: but on this 13 condition, that thou know thy great blasphemy: Namely, that thou hast unfaithfully forsaken the LORD thy God, and hast made thyself partaker of strange gods under all green trees, but hast had no will to hear my voice, sayeth the LORD. O 14 ye shrinking children, turn again, sayeth the LORD: and I will be married with you. For I will take one out of the city, and two out of one generation from among you, and bring you out of Sion: and I will give you herdmen after mine own mind, 15 which shall feed you with learning and wisdom. Moreover, 16 when ye be increased and multiplied in the land, then (sayeth the LORD) there shall no more boast be made of the ark of the LORD's Testament: No man shall think upon it, neither shall any man make mention of it: for from thence forth it shall neither be visited, nor honoured with gifts. Then shall Jerusalem 17 be called the LORD's seat, and all Heathen shall be gathered unto it, for the name of the LORD's sake, which shall be set up at Jerusalem. And from that time forth, they shall follow no 18 more the imagination of their own froward heart. Then those that be of the house of Judah shall go into the house of Israel: and they shall come together out of the North, into the same 19 land that I have given your fathers. I have shewed also, how I took thee up being but a child, and gave thee a pleasant land for thine heritage, yea and a goodly Hosts of the Heathen: and how I commanded thee, that thou shouldest call me father only, 20 and not to shrink from me. But like as a woman faileth her lover, so are ye unfaithful unto me (O ye house of Israel) sayeth 21 the LORD. And therefore the voice of the children of Israel was heard on every side, weeping and wailing: for they have 22 defiled their way, and forgotten God their LORD. O ye shrinking children, turn again (saying: lo, we are thine, for thou art the LORD our God:) And so shall I heal your backturnings.

23 The hills fall, and all the high pride of the mountains, but the 24 health of Israel standeth only upon God our LORD. Confusion hath devoured our fathers' labour from our youth up: yea their 25 sheep and bullocks, their sons and daughters. So do we also sleep in our confusion, and shame covereth us: for we and our fathers from our youth up unto this day have sinned against the LORD our God, and have not obeyed the voice of the LORD our God.

IV O Israel, if thou wilt turn thee, then turn unto me, sayeth the LORD. And if thou wilt put away thine abominations out 2 of my sight, thou shalt not be moved: And shalt swear: The LORD liveth: in truth, in equity and righteousness: and all 3 people shall be fortuable and joyful in him. For thus sayeth the LORD, to all Judah and Jerusalem: plow your land, and 4 sow not among the thorns. Be circumcised in the LORD, and cut away the foreskins of your heart, all ye of Judah, and all the indwellers of Jerusalem: that my indignation break not out like fire and kindle, so that no man may quench it, because of 5 the wickedness of your imaginations. Preach in Judah and Jerusalem, cry out and speak: Blow the trumpets in the land, cry that every man may hear, and say: Gather you together, and 6 we will go into strong cities. Set up the token in Sion, speed you, and make no tarrying: for I will bring a great plague, and 7 a great destruction from the north. For the spoiler of the Gentiles is broken up from his place, as a lion out of his den, that he may make the land waste, and destroy the cities, so that no man may dwell therein. Wherefore gird yourselves about with sackcloth, mourn, and weep, for the fearful wrath of the LORD shall not be withdrawn from you. At the same time (sayeth the LORD) the heart of the kings and of the princes shall be gone, the priests shall be astonished, and the prophets shall be sore afraid. Then said I, O Lord GOD, hast thou then deceived this people and Jerusalem, saying: Ye shall have peace, and now the sword goeth thorow their lives? Then shall it be said to the people and to Jerusalem: there cometh a warm wind from the north thorow the way of my people, but neither to fan, nor to cleanse. After that shall there come unto me a strong wind, and then will I also give sentence upon them. For lo, he cometh down like as a cloud, and his chariots are like a stormy wind: his horsemen are swifter than the Aegle. Woe unto us, for we are destroyed. O Jerusalem, wash thine heart from wickedness, that thou mayest be helped. How long shall thy noisesome thoughts remain with thee? For a voice from Dan and from the hill of Ephraim speaketh out, and telleth of a destruction. Behold the Heathen give Jerusalem warning, and preach unto her, that her destroyers are coming from far countries. They tell the cities of Juda the same also, they shall give them warning in every place, like as the watchmen in the field. For they have provoked me to wrath, sayeth the LORD. Thy ways and thy thoughts, have brought thee unto this, this is thy own wickedness and disobedience, that hath possessed thine heart: Ah my belly; Ah my belly (shalt thou cry) how is my heart so sore? my heart panteth within me, I can not be still, for I have heard the crying of the trumpets, and peals of war. They cry murder upon murder, the whole land shall perish. Immediately my tents were destroyed, and my hangings, in the twinkling of an eye. How long shall I see the tokens of war, and hear the noise of the trumpets. Nevertheless this shall come upon them because my people is become foolish, and hath utterly no understanding. They are the children of foolishness, and without any discretion. To do evil, they have wit enough: but to do well, they have no wisdom. I have looked upon the earth, and see, it is waste and void. I looked toward heaven, and it had no shine. I beheld the mountains, and they tremble, and all the hills were in a fear. I looked about me, and there was nobody, and all the birds of the air 26 were away. I marked well, and the plowed field was become waste: yea all their cities were broken down at the presence 27 of the LORD, and indignation of his wrath. For thus hath the LORD said: The whole land shall be desolate, yet will I not 28 then have done. And therefore let the earth mourn, and let the heaven be sorry above: for the things that I have purposed and taken upon me to do, shall not repent me, and I will not go 29 from it. The whole land shall flee, for the noise of the horsemen and bowmen: they shall run into dens in to woods, and climb up the stony rocks. All the cities shall be void, and no 30 man dwelling therein. What wilt thou now do, thou being destroyed? For though thou clothest thyself with scarlet, and deckest thee with gold: though thou paintest thy face with colors, yet shalt thou trim thyself in vain. For those that hitherto have been thy great favourers, shall abhor thee, and go about 31 to slay thee. For (me think) I hear a noise, like as it were of a woman travailing, or one labouring of her first child: Even the voice of the daughter Sion, that casteth out her arms, and sorroweth,* saying: Ah woe is me, how sore vexed and faint is my heart, for them that are slain?

V Look thorow Jerusalem, behold and see: Seek thorow her streets also within, if ye can find one man, that doth equal and right, or that laboureth to be faithful: and I shall spare him 2 (sayeth the LORD) For though they can say: the LORD liveth, 3 yet do they swear to deceive: Where as thou (O LORD) look-est only upon faith and truth. Thou hast scourged them, but they took no repentance: thou hast corrected them for amendment, but they refused thy correction. They made their faces 4 harder than stone, and would not amend. Therefore thought I in myself: peradventure they are so simple and foolish, that they understand nothing of the LORD's way, and judgments of 5 our God. Therefore will I go unto their heads and rulers, and talk with them: if they know the way of the LORD, and the judgments of our God. But these (in like manner) have broken 6 the yoke, and burst the bonds in sunder. Wherefore a lion out of the wood shall hurt them, and a wolf in the evening shall destroy them. The cat of the mountain shall lie lurking by their cities, to tare in pieces all them, that come thereout. For their 7 offenses are many, and their departing away is great. Should

4. v.31 Other: swooneth, souneth.

I then for all this have mercy upon thee? Thy children have forsaken me, and sworn by them that are no gods. And albeit they were bound to me in marriage, yet they fell to advoutry, and hunted harlots' houses. In the desire of uncleanly lust 8 they are become like the stoned horse, every man neigheth at his neighbour's wife: Should I not correct this? sayeth the 9 LORD. Should I not be avenged of every people, that is like unto this? Climb up upon their walls, beat them down, but 10 destroy them not utterly: cut off their branches because they are not the LORD's. For unfaithfully hath the house of Is- 11 rael and Judah forsaken me, sayeth the LORD. They have 12 denied the LORD, and said: It is not he. Tush, there shall no misfortune come upon us, we shall see neither sword nor 13 hunger. As for the warning of the Prophets, they take it but for wind, yea there is none of these, which will tell them, that 14 such things shall happen unto them. Wherefore thus sayeth the LORD God of Hosts: Because ye speak such words, behold: 15 The words that are in thy mouth will I turn to fire, and make the people to be wood, that it may consume them. Lo, I will 16 bring a people upon you from far, O house of Israel, (sayeth the LORD) a mighty people, an old people, a people whose speech 17 thou knowest not, neither understandest what they say. Their arrows are sudden death, yea they themselves be very giants. 18 This people shall eat up thy fruit and thy meat, yea they shall devour thy sons and thy daughters, thy sheep and thy bul- 19 locks. They shall eat up thy grapes and figs. As for thy strong and well fenced cities, wherein thou didst trust, they shall de- 20 stroy them with the sword. Nevertheless I will not then have done with you, sayeth the LORD. But if they say: wherefore 21 doth the LORD our God all this unto us? Then answer them: because, that like as ye have forsaken me, and served strange 22 gods in your own land, even so shall ye serve other gods also in a strange land. Preach this unto the house of Jacob, and 23 cry it out in Judah, and say thus: Hear this (thou foolish and undiscrete people) ye have eyes, but ye see not: ears have ye, but ye hear not. Fear ye not me? sayeth the LORD: Are ye not ashamed, to look me in the face? which bind the sea with the sand, so that it can not pass his bounds: for thou it rage, yet can it do nothing, and though the waves thereof do swell, yet may they not go over. But this people hath a false and an obstinate heart, they are departed and gone away 24 from me. They think not in their hearts: O let us fear the LORD our God, that giveth us rain, early and late, when need 25 is: which keepeth ever still the harvest for us yearly. Nevertheless your misdeeds have turned these from you, and your 26 sins have robbed you hereof. For among my people are found wicked persons, that privily lay snares and wait for me, to take 27 them and destroy them. And like as a net is full of birds, so are their houses full of that which they have gotten with falsity and deceit. Hereof cometh their great substance and riches, 28 hereof are they fat and wealthy, and are run away from me with shameful blasphemies. They minister not the law, they make no end of the fatherless cause, they judge not the poor 29 according to equity. Should I not punish these things? sayeth the LORD: should I not be avenged of all such people, as these 30, 31 be? Horrible and grievous things are done in the land. The Prophets teach falsely, and the priests follow them, and my people hath pleasure therein. What will come thereof at the last.

VI Come out of Jerusalem, ye strong children of Ben Jamin: blow up the trumpets ye Tecuities, set up a token unto Bethcarem, for a plague and a great misery peepeth out from the 2 North. I will liken the daughter of Sion to a fair and tender woman, and to her shall come the shepherds with their flocks.
 3 Their tents shall they pitch round about her, and every one 4 shall feed them that are under his hand.* Make battle against her (shall they say:) Arise, let us go up, while it is yet day. Alas 5 the day goeth away, and the night shadows fall down: Arise, 6 let us go up by night, and destroy her strongholds, for thus hath the LORD of Hosts commanded. Hew down her trees, and set up bulwarks against Jerusalem. This is the city that must 7 be punished, for in her is all maliciousness. Like as a conduit aboundeth in water, even so this city aboundeth in wickedness. Robbery and unrighteousness is heard in her, sorrow and 8 wounds are ever there in my sight. Amend thee (O Jerusalem) lest I withdraw my heart from thee, and make thee desolate: 9 and thy land also, that no man dwell in it. For thus sayeth the LORD of Hosts: The residue of Israel shall be gathered, as the remanent of grapes. And therefore turn thine hand again

6. v.3 Other: feed his place (part) with his hand.

into the basket, like the grape gatherer. But unto whom shall I speak, whom shall I warn, that he may take heed? Their ears are so uncircumcised, that they may not hear. Behold, they take the word of GOD but for a scorn, and have no lust thereto. And therefore I am so full of thine indignation (o LORD) that I may suffer no longer. Shed out thy wrath upon the children that are without, and upon all young men. Yea the man must be taken prisoner with the wife, and the aged with the cripple. Their houses with their lands and wives shall be turned unto strangers, when I stretch out mine hand upon the inhabitants of this land, sayeth the LORD. For from the least unto the most, they hang all upon covetousness: and from the prophet unto the priest, they go all about with falsity and lies. And beside that, they heal the hurt of my people with sweet words, saying: peace, peace, when there is no peace at all. Therefore they must be ashamed, for they have committed abomination. But how should they be ashamed, when they know nothing, neither of shame nor good nurture? And therefore they shall fall among the slain, and in the hour when I shall visit them, they shall be brought down, sayeth the LORD. Thus sayeth the LORD: go into the streets, consider and make inquisition for the old way: and if it be the good and right way: then go therein, that ye may find rest for your souls. But they say: we will not walk therein, and I will set watchmen over you, and therefore take heed unto the voice of the trumpet. But they say: we will not take heed. Hear therefore ye Gentiles, and thou congregation shalt know, what I have devised for them. Hear thou earth also: behold, I will cause a plague come upon this people, even the fruit of their own imaginations. For they have not been obedient unto my words and to my law, but abhorred them. Wherefore bring ye me incense from Saba, and sweet smelling Calamus from far countries? Your burnt offerings displease me, and I rejoyce not in your sacrifices. And therefore thus sayeth the LORD: Behold, I will make this people fall, and there shall fall from among them the father with the children, one neighbour shall perish with another. Moreover thus sayeth the LORD: Behold, there shall come a people from the North, and a great people shall arise from the ends of the earth, with bows and with darts shall they be weaponed: It is a rough and fierce people, an unmerciful people: their voice roareth like the sea, they ride upon horses well appointed 24 to the battle against thee, O daughter Sion. Then shall this cry be heard: Our arms are feeble, heaviness and sorrow is 25 come upon us, as upon a woman travailing with child. No man go forth in to the field, no man come upon the high street: for the sword and fear of the enemy shall be on every side.

 26 Wherefore, gird a sackcloth about thee (O daughter of my people) sprinkle thyself with ashes, mourn and weep bitterly, as upon the only beloved son: for the destroyer shall suddenly 27 fall upon us. Thee have I set for a prover of my hard people, to 28 seek out and to try their ways. For they are all unfaithful and fallen away, they hang upon filthy* lucre, they are clean brass 29 and iron, for they hurt and destroyed every man. The bellows are brent in the fire, the lead is consumed, the melter melteth 30 in vain, for the evil is not taken away from them. Therefore shall they be called naughty silver, because the LORD hath cast them out.

VII, 2 These are the words that GOD spake unto Jeremy: Stand under the gates of the LORD's house, and cry out these words there, with a loud voice, and say: Hear the word of the LORD all ye of Judah, that go in at this door, to honour the LORD.
 3 Thus sayeth the LORD of Hosts the God of Israel. Amend your ways and your counsels, and I will let you dwell in this place.
 4 Trust not in false lying words, saying: here is the temple of the LORD, here is the temple of the LORD, here is the temple 5 of the LORD. For if ye will amend your ways and counsels, 6 if ye will judge right betwixt a man and his neighbour: If ye will not oppress the stranger, the fatherless and the widow: if ye will not shed innocent blood in this place: if ye will not 7 cleave to strange gods to your own destruction: then will I let you dwell in this place, yea in the land that I gave afore time 8 unto your fathers for ever. But take heed, ye trust in coun-9 sels, that beguile you and do you no good. For when ye have stolen, murdered, committed advoutry, and penury: When ye have offered unto Baal, following strange and unknown gods: 10 Then come ye, and stand before me in this house, which hath my name given unto it, and say: Tush, we are absolved quite, 11 though we have done all these abominations. What? Think you this house that beareth my name, is a den of thieves? And v.28 Other: shameful.

these things are not done privily, but before mine eyes, sayeth the LORD. Go to my place in Siloh, where unto I gave my name afore time, and look well what I did to the same place for the wickedness of my people of Israel. And now, though ye have done all these deeds (sayeth the LORD) and I myself rose up ever by times to warn you and to commune* with you, yet would ye not hear me: I called, ye would not answer. And therefore even as I have done to Siloh, so will I do to this house, that my name is given unto (and that ye put your trust in) ye unto the place that I have given to you and your fathers. And I shall thrust you out of my sight, as I have cast out all your brethren the whole seed of Ephraim. Therefore thou shalt not pray for this people, thou shalt neither give thanks, nor bid prayer for them: thou shalt make no intercession to me for them for in no wise will I hear thee. Seest thou not what they do in the cities of Juda, and without Jerusalem? The children gather sticks, the fathers kindle the fire, the mothers knead the dough, to make cakes for the queen of heaven. They pour out drink offerings unto strange gods, to provoke me unto wrath: How be it they hurt not me (sayeth the LORD) but rather confound, and shame themselves. And therefore thus sayeth the Lord GOD: Behold, my wrath and my indignation shall be poured out upon this place, upon men and cattle, upon the trees in the field and all fruit of the land, and it shall burn so, that no man may quench it. Thus sayeth the LORD of Hosts, the God of Israel: Yea heap up your burntofferings with your sacrifices, and eat the flesh. But when I brought your fathers out of Egypt, I spake no word unto them of burntofferings and sacrifices: but this I commanded them, saying: hearken and obey my voice, and I shall be your God, and ye shall be my people: so that ye walk in all the ways, which I have commanded you, that ye may prosper. But they were not obedient, they inclined not their ears there unto, but went after their own imaginations and after the motions of their own wicked heart, and so turned themselves away, and converted not unto me. And this have they done, from the time that your fathers came out of Egypt, unto this day. Nevertheless, I sent unto them my servants all the prophets: I rose up early and sent them word, yet would they not hearken, nor offer

7. v.13 Other: common.

me their ears, but were obstinate and worse than their fathers.
27 And thou shalt now speak all these words unto them, but they shall not hear thee: thou shalt cry upon them, but they shall 28 not answer thee. Therefore shalt thou say unto them: this is the people, that neither heareth the voice of the LORD their God, nor receiveth his correction. Faithfulness and truth is 29 clean rooted out of their mouth. Wherefore cut off thine hair, and cast it away, take up a complaint in the whole land: for the LORD shall cast away, and scatter the people, that he is 30 displeased withal. For the children of Judah have done evil in my sight, sayeth the LORD. They have set up their abominations, in the house that hath my name, and have defiled it.
31 They have also builded an altar at Topheth, which is in the valley of the children of Hennom: that they might burn their sons and daughters, which I never commanded them, neither 32 came it ever in my thought. And therefore behold, the days shall come (sayeth the LORD) that it shall no more be called Topheth, or the valley of the children of Hennom, but the valley of the slain, for in Topheth, they shall be buried, because 33 they shall else have no room. Yea the dead bodies of this people shall be eaten up of the fowls of the air and the wild beasts 34 of the earth, and no man shall fraie them away. And as for the voice of mirth and gladness of the cities of Judah, and Jerusalem the voice of the bridegroom and of the bride: I will make them cease, for the land shall be desolate.

VIII

At the same time, sayeth the LORD: the bones of the kings of Judah, the bones of his princes, the bones of the priests, and prophets, yea and the bones of the citizens of Jerusalem, 2 shall be brought out of their graves and laid against the Sun, the Moon and all the heavenly host: whom they loved, whom they served, whom they ran after, whom they sought and worshipped. They shall neither be gathered together nor buried, but shall lie upon the earth, to their shame and despising.
3 And all they that remain of this wicked generation, shall desire rather to die than to live: wheresoever they remain, and 4 where as I scatter them, sayeth the LORD of Hosts. This shalt thou say unto them also: Thus sayeth the LORD: Do men fall also, that they arise not up again? And turn they so far away, 5 that they never convert? Wherefore then is this people and Jerusalem gone so far back, that they turn not again. They are ever the longer the more obstinate, and will not be converted. For I have looked, and considered: but there is no man that speaketh a good word: there is no man that taketh repentance for his sin, that will so much as say: wherefore have I done this? But every man (as soon as he is turned back) runneth forth still, like a wild horse in a battle. The Stork knoweth his appointed time, the Turtledove, the Swallow and the Crane consider the time of their travail: but my people will not know the time of the punishment of the LORD. How dare ye say then: we are wise, we have the law of the LORD among us? Behold, the deceitful pen of the scribes, setteth forth lies: therefore shall the wise be confounded, they shall be afraid and taken: for lo, they have cast out the word of the LORD: what wisdom can then be among them? Wherefore, I will give their wives unto aliens, and their fields to destroyers. For from the lowest to the highest,* they follow all filthy* lucre: and from the Prophet unto the priest, they deal all with lies. Nevertheless, they heal the hurt of my people with sweet words, saying: peace, peace, where there is no peace at all. Fie for shame, how abominable things do they? and yet they be not ashamed, yea they know of no shame. Wherefore in the time of their visitation, they shall fall among the dead bodies, sayeth the LORD. Moreover I will gather them in (sayeth the LORD) so that there shall not be one grape upon the vine, neither one fig upon the fig tree, and the leaves shall be plucked off. Then will I cause them to depart, and say: why prolong we the time? Let us gather ourselves together, and go into the strong city, there shall we be in rest: for the LORD our God hath put us to silence, and given us water mixt with gall, to drink: because we have sinned against him. We looked for peace, and we fair not the better, we waited for the time of health, and lo, here is nothing but trouble. Then shall the noise of his horses be heard from Dan, the whole land shall be afraid at the neigh of his strong horses: for they shall go in, and devour the land, with all that is in it: the cities, and those that dwell therein. Moreover, I will send Cockatrices and serpents among you (which will not be charmed) and they shall bite you, sayeth the LORD. Sorrow is come upon me, and heaviness vexeth my heart: for lo, the voice of the crying of my people is heard from a far country: Is not the LORD in Sion? Is not the* king in her? Wherefore then have they grieved me (shall the LORD say) with their images and foolish strange fashions? The harvest is gone, the Summer hath an end, and we are not helped. I am sore vexed, because of the hurt of my people: I am heavy and abashed, for there is no more Tryacle at Galaad, and there is no Physician, that can heal the hurt of my people.

8. v.10 Other: hyst. v.10 Other: shameful.

IX O Who will give my head water enough, and a well of tears for mine eyes: that I may weep night and day, for the slaughter of my people? Would God that I had a cottage some where far from folk, that I might leave my people, and go from them: for they be all advoutrers and a shrinking sort. They bend their tongues like bows, to shoot out lies: As for the truth, they may nothing away with all in the world. For they go from one wickedness to another, and hold nothing of me, sayeth the LORD. Yea one must keep himself from another, no man may safely trust his own brother: for one brother undermineth another, and one neighbour begileth another. Yea one dissembleth with another, and they deal with no truth. They have practiced their tongues to lie, and taken great pains to do mischief. They have set their stole in the midst of deceit, and for very dissembling falsity they will not know me, sayeth the LORD. Therefore thus sayeth the LORD of Hosts: behold, I will melt them, and try them, for what should I else do to my people? Their tongues are like sharp arrows, to speak deceit. With their mouth they speak peaceably to their neighbour, but privily they lay wait for him. Should I not punish them for these things? sayeth the LORD: Or should I not be avenged of any such people as this? Upon the mountains will I take up a lamentation and sorrowful cry, and a mourning upon the fair plains of the wilderness: Namely, how they are so brent up, that no man goeth there any more: Yea a man shall not hear one beast cry there. Birds and cattle are all gone from thence. I will make Jerusalem also an heap of stones, and a den of venomous worms. And I will make the cities of Judah so waste, that no man shall dwell therein. What man is so wise, as to understand this? Or to whom hath the LORD spoken by mouth, that he may shew this, and say: O thou land, why perishest thou so? Wherefore art thou so brent up, and like a

v.19 Other: he.

wilderness, that no man goeth thorow? Yea the LORD himself 13 told the same unto them, that forsook his law, and kept not the thing that he gave them in commandment, neither lived thereafter: but followed the wickedness of their own hearts, and 14 served strange gods, as their fathers taught them. Therefore, 15 thus sayeth the LORD of Hosts, the God of Israel: Behold, I will feed this people with wormwood, and give them gall to drink. I will scatter them also among the heathen, whom 16 neither they nor their fathers have known: and I will send a sword among them, to persecute them, until I bring them to naught. Moreover, thus sayeth the LORD of Hosts: look that 17 ye call for mourning wives, and send for wise women: that they come shortly, and sing a mourning song of you: that the tears 18 may fall out of our eyes, and that our eye lids may gush out of water. For there is a lamentable noise heard of Sion: O 19 how are we so sore destroyed? O how are we so piteously confounded? We must forsake our own natural country, and we are shot out of our own lodgings. Yet hear the word of the 20 LORD (O ye women) and let your ears regard the words of his mouth: that ye may learn your daughters to mourn, and that every one may teach her neighbour, to make lamentation.
Namely thus: Death is climbing up in at our windows, he is 21 come into our houses, to destroy the child before the door, and the young man in the street. But tell thou plainly, thus sayeth 22 the LORD: The dead bodies of men shall lie upon the ground, as the dung upon the field, and as the hay after the mower, and there shall be no man to take them up. Moreover, thus 23 sayeth the LORD: Let not the wise man rejoice in his wisdom, nor the strong man in his strength, neither the rich man in his riches: But who so will rejoice, let him rejoice in this, that he 24 understandeth, and knoweth me: for I am the LORD, which do mercy, equity and righteousness upon the earth. Therefore have I pleasure in such things, sayeth the LORD. Behold, 25 the time cometh, (sayeth the LORD) that I will visit all them, whose foreskin is uncircumcised. The Egyptians, the Jews, 26 the Edomites, the Ammonites, the Moabites, and the shaven Madianites, that dwell in the wilderness. For all the Gentiles are uncircumcised in the flesh, but all the house of Israel are uncircumcised in the heart.

Hear the word of the LORD, that he speaketh unto thee, X

2 O thou house of Israel: Thus sayeth the LORD: Ye shall not learn after the manner of the Heathen, and ye shall not be afraid for the tokens of heaven: for the Heathen are afraid of 3 such: Yea all the customs and laws of the Gentiles are nothing, but vanity. They hew down a tree in the wood with the 4 hands of the workman, and fashion it with the axe: they cover it over with gold or silver, they fasten it with nails* and ham-5 mers, that it move not. It standeth as still as the palm tree, it can neither speak nor go, but must be borne. Be not ye afraid of 6 such, for they can do neither good nor evil. But there is none like unto thee, O LORD, thou art great, and great is the name 7 of thy power. Who would not fear thee? Or what King of the Gentiles would not obey thee? For among all the wise men of the Gentiles, and in all their kingdoms, there is none that may 8 be likened unto thee. They are all together unlearned and 9 unwise. All their cunning is but vanity: namely, wood, silver, which is brought out of Tharsis, and beaten to plates: and gold from Ophir, a work that is made with the hand of the craftsman and the caster, clothed with yellow silk and scarlet: even 10 so is the work of their wise men altogether. But the LORD is a true God, a living God, and an everlasting king. If he be wroth, the earth shaketh: all the Gentiles may not abide his indigna-11 tion. As for their gods, it may well be said of them: they are gods, that made neither heaven nor earth: therefore shall they 12 perish from the earth, and from all things under heaven. But (as for our God) he made the earth with his power, and with his wisdom hath he finished the whole compass of the world, with 13 his discretion hath he spread out the heavens. At his voice the waters gather together in the air, he draweth up the clouds from the utmost parts of the earth: he turneth lightning to 14 rain, and bringeth forth the winds out of their treasures: His wisdom maketh all men fools. And confounded be all casters of images, for that they cast, is but a vain thing, and hath no 15 life. The vain craftsmen with their works, that they in their vanity hath made, shall perish one with another in the time 16 of visitation. Nevertheless, Jacobs portion is not such: but it is he, that hath made all things, and Israel is the rod of his 17 inheritance: The LORD of Hosts is his name. Put away thine uncleanness out of the land, thou that art in the strong cities.

10. v.4 Other: nales.

For thus sayeth the LORD: Behold, I will now thrust out the 18 inhabitants of this land a great way off, and trouble them of such a fashion, that they shall no more be found. Alas how 19 am I hurt? Alas, how painful are my scourges unto me? For I consider this sorrow by myself, and I must suffer it. My taber- 20 nacle is destroyed, and all my coards are broken. My children are gone from me, and can no where be found. Now have I none to spread out my tent, or to set up my hangings. For the herd- 21 men have done foolishly, that they have not sought the LORD.
 Therefore have they dealt unwisely with their cattle, and all are scattered abroad. Behold, the noise is hard at hand, and 22 great sedition out of the north: to make the cities of Juda a wilderness, and a dwelling place for dragons. Now I know (O 23 LORD) that it is not in man's power to order his own ways, or to rule his own steps and goings. Therefore chasten thou us, 24 O LORD, but with favour and not in thy wrath, bring us not utterly to naught. Pour out thine indignation rather upon the 25 Gentiles, that know thee not, and upon the people that call not on thy name: And that because they have consumed, devoured and destroyed Jacob, and have rooted out his glory.

This is another Sermon, which the LORD commanded Jeremy XI for to preach, saying: Hear the words of the covenant, and 2 speak unto all Judah, and to all them that dwell at Jerusalem.
 And say thou unto them: Thus sayeth the LORD God of Israel: 3 Cursed be every one that is not obedient unto the words of this covenant: which I commanded unto your fathers, what time 4 as I brought them out of Egypt, from the iron furnace, saying: Be obedient unto my voice, and do according to all that I commanded you: so shall ye be my people, and I will be your 5 God, and will keep my promise, that I have sworn unto your fathers: Namely, that I would give them a land which floweth with milk and honey, as ye see, it is come to pass unto this day. Then answered I, and said: Amen. It is even so O LORD, as thou sayest. Then the LORD said unto me again: preach 6 this in the cities of Juda and round about Jerusalem, and say: Hear the words of this covenant, that ye may keep them. For I 7 have diligently exhorted your fathers, ever since the time that I brought them out of the Land of Egypt unto this day. I gave them warning by times, saying: hearken unto my voice: Nev- 8 ertheless, they would not obey me, nor inclined their ears unto me, but followed the wicked imaginations of their own hearts. And therefore have I accused them as transgressors of all the words of this covenant, that I gave them to keep, which they 9 (not with understanding) have not kept. And the LORD said unto me: It is found out, that whole Israel and all these citizens 10 of Jerusalem are gone back. They have turned themselves to the blasphemies of their forefathers, which had no lust to hear my word. Even likewise have these also followed strange gods, and worshiped them. The house of Israel and Juda have broken 11 my covenant, which I made with their fathers. Therefore thus sayeth the LORD: Behold, I will send a plague among you, which ye shall not be able to escape: and though ye cry unto 12 me, I will not hear you. Then shall the towns of Judah and the citizens of Jerusalem go, and call upon their gods, unto whom they made their oblations: but they are not able to help them 13 in time of their trouble. For as many cities as thou hast, O Judah, so many gods hast thou also: And look how many streets there be in thee (O Jerusalem) so many shameful altars have 14 ye set up, to offer upon them unto Baal. But pray not thou for this people, bid neither praise nor prayer for them, for though 15 they cry unto me in their trouble, yet will I not hear them. O thou beloved, why doest thou so shameful great blasphemies in my house? even as though that holy flesh might absolve thee, specially when thou hast made thy boast* of thy wickedness.

16 The LORD called thee a green olive tree, a fair one, a fruitful one, a goodly one: but now that there is a contrary report of thee abroad, he will burn thee up, and destroy thy branches.
17 For the LORD of Hosts that planted thee hath devised a plague for thee (O thou house of Israel and Judah) for the evil that ye have done to provoke him to wrath, in that ye did service unto 18 Baal. This (O LORD) have I learned of thee, and understand 19 it, for thou hast shewed me their imaginations. But I (as a meek lamb) was carried away to be slain: not knowing, that they had devised such a counsel against me saying: We will destroy his meat with wood, and drive him out of the land of 20 the living: that his name shall never be thought upon. Therefore I will beseech thee now (O LORD of Hosts) thou righteous judge, thou that tryest the reins and the hearts: let me see the avenged of them, for unto thee have I committed my cause.

11. v.15 Other: boost.

The LORD therefore spake thus of the citizens of Anathoth, 21 that sought to slay me, saying: Preach not unto us in the name of the LORD, or else thou shalt die of our hands. Thus (I say) 22 spake the LORD of Hosts: Behold, I will visit you. Your young men shall perish with the sword, your sons and your daughters shall utterly die of hunger, so that none shall remain. 23 For upon the citizens of Anathoth will I bring a plague, and the year of their visitation.

O LORD, thou art more righteous, then that I should dispute XII with thee: Nevertheless, let me talk with thee in things reasonable. How happeneth it, that the way of the ungodly is so prosperous? and that it goeth so well with them, which (without any shame) offend and live in wickedness? Thou plantest 2 them, they take root, they grow, and bring forth fruit. They boast much of thee, yet doest thou not punish them. But thou 3 LORD (to whom I am well known) thou that hast seen, and proved my heart, take them away, like as a flock is carried to the slaughter house, and appoint them for the day of slaughter.
 How long shall the land mourn, and all the herbs of the field 4 perish, for the wickedness of them that dwell therein? The cattle and the birds are gone, yet say they: tush, God will not destroy us utterly. Seeing thou art weary in running with the 5 footmen, how wilt thou then run with the horses? In a peaceable sure land thou mayest be safe, but how wilt thou do in the furious pride of Jordan? For thy brethren and thy kin- 6 dred have all together despised thee, and cried out upon thee in thine absence. Believe them not, though they speak fair words to thee. As for me (say I) I have forsaken mine own 7 dwelling place, and left mine heritage. My life also that I love so well, have I given into the hands of mine enemies. Mine 8 heritage is become unto me, as a Lion in the wood. It cried out upon me, therefore have I forsaken it. Mine heritage is unto 9 me, as a speckled bird, a bird of divers colors is upon it. Go hence, and gather all the beasts of the field together, that they may eat it up. Divers herdmen have broken down my vine- 10 yard, and trodden upon my portion. Of my pleasant portion, they have made a wilderness and desert. They have laid it 11 waste: and now that it is waste, it sigheth unto me. Yea the whole land lieth waste, and no man regardeth it. The destroy- 12 ers come over the heeth every way, for the sword of the LORD shall consume from the one end of the land to the other, and no 13 flesh shall have rest. They shall sow wheat, and reap thorns.

They shall take heritage in possession, but it shall do them no good. And ye shall be confounded of your own winnings, be-14 cause of the great wrath of the LORD. Thus sayeth the LORD upon all mine evil neighbours, that lay hand on mine heritage, which I have given my people of Israel: Behold, I will pluck them (namely Israel) out of their land, and put out the house 15 of Juda from among them. And when I have rooted them out, I will be at one with them again, and will have mercy upon them: and bring them again, every man to his own heritage, 16 and in to his land. And if they (namely that trouble my people) will learn the ways of them, to swear by my name: The LORD liveth (like as they learned my people to swear by Baal) 17 then shall they be reckoned among my people. But if they will not obey, then will I root out the same folk, and destroy them, sayeth the LORD.

XIII Moreover, thus said the LORD unto me: go thy way, and get thee a linen breech, and gird it about thy loins, and let it not 2 be wet. Then I got me a breech, according to the command-3 ment of the LORD, and put it about my loins. After this, the 4 LORD spake unto me again: Take the breech that thou hast prepared and put it about thee, and get thee up, and go unto 5 Euphrates, and hide it in a hole of the rock. So went I, and 6 hid it, as the LORD commanded me. And it happened long after this, that the LORD spake unto me: Up, and get thee to Euphrates, and fet the breech from thence, which I com-7 manded thee to hide there. Then went I to Euphrates, and dugged up, and took the breech from the place where I had hid it: and, behold, the breech was corrupt, so that it was profitable 8,9 for nothing. Then said the LORD unto me: Thus sayeth the LORD: Even so will I corrupt the pride of Judah, and the high 10 mind of Jerusalem. This people is a wicked people, they will not hear my word, they follow the wicked imaginations of their own heart, and hang upon strange gods, them have they served and worshiped: and therefore they shall be as this breech, that 11 serveth for nothing. For as straightly as a breech lieth upon a man's loins, so straightly did I bind the whole house of Israel, and the whole house of Juda unto me, sayeth the LORD: that they might be my people: that they might have a glorious name: that they might be in honour: but they would not obey me. Therefore lay this riddle before them, and say: Thus 12 sayeth the LORD God of Israel: Every pot shall be filled with wine. And they shall say: thinkest thou we know not, that every pot shall be filled with wine? Then shalt thou say unto 13 them: Thus sayeth the LORD: Behold, I shall fill all the inhabiters of this land with drunkenness, the kings that sit upon David's stool, the Priests and Prophets, with all that dwell at Jerusalem. And I will shoot* them one against another, yea 14 the fathers against the sons, sayeth the LORD. I will not pardon them, I will not spare them, nor have pity upon them: but destroy them. Be obedient, give ear, take no disdain at it, 15 for it is the LORD himself that speaketh. Honour the LORD 16 your God herein, or he take his light from you, and or ever your feet stumble in darkness at the hill: lest when ye look for the light, he turn it into the shadow and darkness of death.

But if ye will not hear me, that give you secret warning, I will 17 mourn from my whole heart for your stubbornness. Piteously will I weep, and the tears shall gush out of mine eyes. For the LORD's flock shall be carried away captive. Tell the king 18 and the rulers: Humble yourselves, set you down low, for the crown of your glory shall fall from your head. The cities to- 19 ward the south shall be shut up, and no man shall open them.
All Juda shall be carried away captive, so that none shall remain. Lift up your eyes, and behold them, that come from the 20 North: Like a fat flock shall they fall upon thee. To whom 21 will thou make thy moan, when they come upon thee? for thou hast taught them thy self, and made them masters over thee.
Shall not sorrow come upon thee, as on a woman travailing with child? And if thou wouldest say then in thine heart: 22 Wherefore come these things upon me? Even for the multitude of thy blasphemies, shall thy hinder parts and thy feet be discovered. For like as the man of Inde may change his skin, 23 and the cat of the mountains her spots: so may ye that be exercised in evil, do good. Therefore will I scatter you, like as the 24 stubble that is taken away with the south wind. This shall be 25 your portion, and the portion of your measure, where with ye shall be rewarded of me, sayeth the LORD: because ye have forgotten me, and put your trust in deceitful things. Therefore 26

13. v.14 Other: shute.

shall I turn thy clothes over thy head, and discover thy thighs, 27 that thy privates* may be seen, thy advoutry, thy deadly malice, thy beastliness, and thy shameful whoredom. For upon the fields and hills I have seen thy abominations. Woe be unto thee (O Jerusalem) when wilt thou ever be cleansed any more?

XIV The word of the LORD shewed unto Jeremy, concerning the 2 dearth of the fruits. Judah shall mourn, men shall not go much more throw his gates: the land shall be no more had 3 in reputation, and the cry of Jerusalem shall break out. The lords shall send their servants to fetch water, and when they come to the wells, they shall find no water, but shall carry their vessels home empty. They shall be ashamed and confounded, 4 and shall cover their heads. For the ground shall be dried up, because there cometh no rain upon it. The plowmen also 5 shall be ashamed, and shall cover their heads. The Hind shall forsake the young fawn, that he bringeth forth in the field be-6 cause there shall be no grass. The wild Asses shall stand in the Moss, and draw in their wind like the Dragons, their eyes 7 shall fail for want of grass. Doubtless our own wickedness reward us: But LORD do thou according to thy name, though 8 our transgressions and sins be many. For thou art the comfort and help of Israel in the time of trouble. Why wilt thou be as a stranger in the Land, and as one that goeth over the field, and 9 cometh in only to remain for a night? Why wilt thou make thyself a coward, and as it were a giant that yet may not help?
 For thou art ours (O LORD) and we bear thy name, therefore 10 forsake us not. Then spake the LORD, concerning this people that have pleasure to go so nimbly with their feet, and leave not off, and therefore displease the LORD: in so much, that he will now bring again to remembrance all their misdeeds, and 11 punish all their sins. Yea even thus said the LORD unto me: 12 Thou shalt not pray to do this people good. For though they fast, I will not hear their prayers. And though they offer burnt offerings and sacrifices, yet will not I accept them. For I will 13 destroy them with the sword, hunger, and pestilence. Then answered I: O Lord GOD, the prophets say unto them: Tush, ye shall see no sword, and no hunger shall come upon you, but 14 the Lord shall give you continual rest in this place. And the LORD said unto me: The prophets preach lies unto them in my v.26 Other: privities.

name. I have not spoken with them, neither gave I them any charge, neither did I send them: yet they preach unto you false visions, charming vanity, and deceitfulness of their own heart. Therefore thus sayeth the LORD: As for those prophets that 15 preach in my name, (whom I nevertheless have not sent) and that say: Tush, there shall neither battle, nor hunger be in this land: With sword and with hunger shall those prophets perish, and the people to whom they have preached shall be cast 16 out of Jerusalem, die of hunger, and be slain with the sword (and there shall be no man to bury them) both they and their wives, their sons and their daughters. For thus will I pour their wickedness upon them. This shalt thou say also unto them: 17 Mine eyes shall weep without ceasing day and night. For my people shall be destroyed with great harm, and shall perish with a great plague. For if I go into the field, lo, it lieth all full 18 of slain men: If I come into the city, lo, they be all famished of hunger. Yea their prophets also and priests shall be lead in to an unknown land. Hast thou then utterly forsaken Juda? 19 (said I) Doest thou so abhor Sion? Or hast thou so plagued us, that we can be healed no more? We looked for peace, and there cometh no good: for the time of health, and lo, here is nothing but trouble. We knowledge (O LORD) all our misdeeds, and 20 the sins of our fathers, that we have offended thee. Be not displeased, O LORD, for thy name's sake, forget not thy loving-kindness: Remember the throne of thine honour, break not the covenant, that thou hast made with us. Are there any among 22 the gods of the Gentiles, that send rain or give the showers of heaven? Dost not thou it O LORD our God, in whom we trust? Yea LORD, thou dost all these things.

Then spake the LORD unto me, and said: Though Moses XV and Samuel stood before me, yet have I no heart to this people. Drive them away, that they may go out of my sight. And 2 if they say unto thee: Whither shall we go? Then tell them: The LORD giveth you this answer: Some unto death, some to the sword, some to hunger, some into captivity. For I will 3 bring four plagues upon them sayeth the LORD. The sword shall strangle them, the dogs shall devour them, the fowls of the air, and beasts of the earth shall eat them up, and destroy them. I will scatter them about also in all kingdoms and lands 4 to be plagued, because of Manasseh the son of Hezekiah king

5 of Juda, for the things that he did in Jerusalem. Who shall then have pity upon thee, O Jerusalem? Who shall be sorry for thee? Or who shall make intercession, to obtain peace for thee?
 6 seeing thou goest from me, and turnest backward? sayeth the LORD: Therefore I will stretch out mine hand against thee, to 7 destroy thee, and I will not be intreated. I will scatter thee abroad with the fan on every side of the land: I will waste my people and destroy them, for they have had no lust to turn from 8 their own ways. I will make their widows more in number, then the sands of the sea. Upon the mothers of their children, I shall bring a destroyer in the noon day. Suddenly and un-9 awares, shall I send a fear upon their cities. She that hath born seven children, shall have none, her heart shall be full of sorrow. The Sun shall fail her in the clear day, when she shall be confounded and faint for very heaviness. As for those that remain, I will deliver them unto the sword of their enemies, 10 sayeth the LORD. O mother, alas that ever thou didst bear me, an enemy and hated of the whole land: Though I never lent nor received upon usury, yet all* men speak evil upon me.
 11 And the LORD answered me: Lead not I thee then unto good?
 Come not I to thee, when thou art in trouble: and help thee, 12 when thine enemy oppresseth thee? Doth one iron hurt an-13 other, or one metal that cometh from the North, another? As for your riches and treasure, I will give them out in to a pray, not for any money, but because of all your sins, that ye have 14 done in all your coasts. And I will bring you with your enemies in to a land, that ye know not: for the fire that is kindled 15 in my indignation, shall burn you up. O LORD (said I then) thou knowest all things, therefore remember me, and visit me, deliver me from my persecutors: Receive not my cause in thy long wrath, yet thou knowest, that for thy sake I suffer re-16 buke. When I had found thy words, I ate them up greedily: they have made my heart joyful and glad for I call upon thy 17 name, O LORD God of Hosts. I dwell not among the* scorners, neither is my delight therein: but I dwell only in the fear of thy 18 hand, for thou hast filled me with bitterness. Shall my heaviness endure forever? Are my plagues then so great, that they may never be healed? Wilt thou be as a water, that falleth, 19 and can not continue? Upon these words, thus said the LORD

15. v.10 Other: every. v.17 Other: council of

unto me: If thou wilt turn again, I shall set thee in my service: and if thou wilt take out the thing that is precious from the vile, thou shalt be even as mine own mouth. They shall convert unto thee, but turn not thou unto them: and so shall I make thee a strong wall of steel against this people. They shall fight against thee, but they shall not prevail. For I myself will be with thee, to help thee, and deliver thee, sayeth the LORD. And I will rid thee out of the hands of the wicked, and deliver thee out of the hand of Tyrants.

Moreover, thus sayeth the LORD unto me: Thou shalt take thee no wife, nor beget children in this place. For of the children that are born in this place, of their mothers that have borne them, and of their fathers that have begotten them in this land; Thus sayeth the LORD: They shall die an horrible death: and no man shall mourn for them, nor bury them, but they shall lie as dung upon the earth: They shall perish thorow the sword, and hunger, and their bodies shall be meat for the fowls of the air, and beasts of the earth. Again, thus sayeth the LORD: Go not unto them that come together for to mourn and weep: for I have taken my peace from this people (sayeth the LORD) yea my favour and my mercy. And in this land shall they die, old and young, and shall not be buried: no man shall bewep them, no man shall clip or shave himself for them. There shall not one visit another, to mourn with them for their dead, or to comfort them. One shall not offer another the cup of consolation, to forget their heaviness for father and mother. Thou shalt not go into their feast house, to sit down, much less to eat or drink with them. For thus sayeth the LORD of Hosts the God of Israel: Behold, I shall take away out of this place, the voice of mirth and gladness, the voice of the bridegroom and of the bride: yea and that in your days, that ye may see it. Now when thou shewest this people all these words, and they say unto thee: Wherefore hath the LORD devised all this great plague for us? Or what is the offense and sin, that we have done against the LORD our God? Then make thou them this answer: Because your fathers have forsaken me, (sayeth the LORD) and have cleaved unto strange gods, whom they have honoured and worshiped: but me have they forsaken, and have not kept my law. And ye with your shameful blasphemies, have exceeded the wickedness of your fathers.

XVI, 2

3

4

5

6

7

8

9

10

11

12

For every one of you followeth the froward and evil imagination of his own heart, and is not obedient unto me. Therefore will I cast you out of this land in to a land that ye and your fathers know not: and there shall ye sever strange gods day and night, there will I shew you no favour. Behold therefore (sayeth the LORD) the days are come, that it shall no more be said: The LORD liveth, which brought the children of Israel out of the land of Egypt: but it shall be said, the LORD liveth, that brought the children of Israel from the North, and from all lands where I had scattered them. For I will bring them again in to the land, that I gave unto their fathers. Behold, (sayeth the LORD) I will send out many fishers to take them, and after that will I send out many hunters to hunt them out, from all mountains and hills and out of the caves of stones. For mine eyes behold all their ways, and they can not be hid from my face, neither can their wicked deeds be kept close out of my sight. But first will I sufficiently reward their shameful blasphemies and sins, wherewith they have defiled my land: Namely, with their stinking Idols and abominations, wherewith they have filled mine heritage. O LORD, my strength, my power, and refuge in time of trouble. The Gentiles shall come unto thee from the ends of the world, and say: Verily our fathers have cleaved unto lies, their Idols are but vain and unprofitable. How can a man make those his gods, which are not able to be gods. And therefore I will once teach them, sayeth the LORD, I will shew them my hand and my power, that they may know, that my name is the LORD.

XVII Your sin (O ye of the tribe of Judah) is written in the table of your hearts, and graven so upon the edges of your altars with a pen of iron and with an adamant claw: that your children also may think upon your altars, woods, thick trees, high hills, mountains and fields. Wherefore, I will make all your substance and treasure be spoiled, for the great sin that ye have done upon your high places thorowout all the coasts of your land. Ye shall be cast out also from the heritage, that I gave you. And I will subdue you under the heavy bondage of your enemies, in a land that ye know not. For ye have ministered fire to my indignation, which shall burn evermore. Thus sayeth the LORD: Cursed be the man that putteth his trust in man, and that taketh flesh for his arm: and he, whose heart departeth from the LORD. He shall be like the heeth that 6 groweth in the wilderness. As for the good thing that is for to come, he shall not see it: but dwell in a dry place of the wilderness, in a salt and unoccupied land. O Blisded is the 7 man, that putteth his trust in the LORD, and whose hope the LORD is himself. For he shall be as a tree, that is planted by 8 the water side: which spreadeth out the root unto moistness, whom the heat can not harm, when it cometh, but his leaves are green. And though there grow but little fruit because of drought, yet is he not careful, but he never leaveth off to bring forth fruit. Among all things living, man hath the most deceit- 9 ful and unsearchable heart. Who shall then know it? Even I 10 the LORD search* out the ground of the heart, and try* the reins, and reward every man according to his ways, and according to the fruit of his counsels. The deceitful maketh a 11 nest, but bringeth forth no young: He cometh by riches, but not righteously. In the midst of his life must he leave them behind him, and at the last be found a very fool. But thou 12 (O LORD) whose throne is most glorious, excellent and of most antiquity, which dwellest in the place of our holy rest: Thou 13 art the comfort of Israel. All they that forsake thee, shall be confounded: all they that depart from thee, shall be written in earth, for they have forsaken the LORD the very conduit* of the waters of life.* Heal me, O LORD, and I shall be whole: save 14 thou me, and I shall be saved, for thou art my praise.* Behold, 15 these men say unto me: Where is the word of the LORD? Let it come.* Where as I nevertheless leading the flock in thy ways, 16 have compelled none by violence. For I never desired any man's death, this knowest thou well. My words also are right before thee.* Be not now terrible unto me, O LORD, for thou art he 17 in whom I hope, when I am in peril.* Let my persecutors be 18 confounded, but not me: let them be afraid, and not me. Thou

17. v.10 Other: ripe. v.10 Other: search. v.13 Other: condite. v.13 Other: All that forsake thee, shall be ashamed. And they that depart from thee shall be written in the earth. For they have lost the LORD that is the fountain of the water of life. v.14 Other: Heal me LORD, and I shall be whole: save me LORD, and I shall be safe, for thou art he that I praise. v.15 Other: Behold they say unto me: where is the word of the LORD? Let it come to pass. v.16 Other: and I enforced no to be a shepherd that should not follow thee: and the day of destruction have I not desired, thou knowest. And that proceeded out of my mouth was right in thy sight. v.17 Other: Be not terrible unto me LORD: for thou art my trust in the evil day.

shalt bring upon them the time of their plague, and shall destroy them right sore.* Again, thus hath the LORD said unto me: Go stand under the gate, where thorow the people and the kings of Juda go out and in, yea under all the gates of Jerusalem, and say unto them: Hear the word of the LORD, ye kings of Juda, and all thou people of Juda, and all ye citizens of Jerusalem, that go thorow this gate: Thus the LORD commandeth: Take heed for your lives, that ye carry no burthen upon you in the Sabbath, to bring it thorow the gates of Jerusalem: ye shall bear no burthen also out of your houses in the Sabbath: Ye shall do no labour there in, but hallow the Sabbath, as I commanded your fathers. How be it they obeyed me not, neither hearkened they unto me: but were obstinate and stubborn, and neither obeyed me, nor received my correction. Nevertheless, if ye will hear me (sayeth the LORD) and bear no burthen in to the city thorow this gate upon the Sabbath: If ye will hallow the Sabbath, so that ye do no work therein: then shall there go thorow the gates of this city, kings and princes, that shall sit upon the stool of David: They shall be carried upon chariots, and ride upon horses, both they and their princes. Yea whole Juda and all the citizens of Jerusalem shall go here thorow, and this city shall ever be the more and more inhabited. There shall come men also from the cities of Judah, from about Jerusalem, and from the land of Ben Jamin, from the plain fields, from the mountains and from the wilderness: which shall bring burntofferings, sacrifices, oblations, and incense, and offer up thanksgiving in the house of the LORD. But if ye will not be obedient unto me, to hallow the Sabbath: so that ye will bear your burthens thorow the gates of Jerusalem upon the Sabbath: Then shall I set fire upon the gates of Jerusalem, and it shall burn up the houses of Jerusalem, and no man shall be able to quench it.

XVIII This is another communication, that GOD had with Jeremy, saying: Arise, and go down in to the Potter's house, and there shall I tell thee more of my mind: Now when I came to the Potter's house, I found him making his work upon a wheel. The vessel that the Potter made of clay, brake among his hands: So he began anew, and made another vessel, according to his

v.18 Other: Let them that persecute me be confounded, and let not me be confounded. Let their hearts fail them, and not mine heart fail. Bring upon them an evil day, and bruise them again and again.

mind. Then said the LORD thus unto me: May not I do with 5, 6 you, as this Potter doth, O ye house of Israel? sayeth the LORD.
 Behold, ye house of Israel: ye are in my hand, even as the clay in the Potter's hand. When I take in hand to root out, to de- 7 stroy, or to waste away any people or kingdom: if that people 8 (against whom I have thus devised) convert from their wickedness: Immediately, I repent of the plague, that I devised to bring upon them. Again. When I take in hand, to build, or 9 to plant a people or a kingdom: if the same people do evil be- 10 fore me, and hear not my voice: Immediately, I repent of the good, that I devised to do for them. Speak now therefore unto 11 whole Juda, and to them that dwell at Jerusalem: Thus sayeth the LORD: Behold, I am devising a plague for you, and am taking a thing in hand against you. Therefore let every man turn from his evil way, take upon you the thing that is good, and do right. But they say: No more of this, we will follow our own 12 imaginations, and do every man according to the wilfulness of his own mind. Therefore thus sayeth the LORD: Ask among 13 the Heathen, if any man hath heard such horrible things, as the Daughter of Sion hath done. Shall not the snow (that 14 melteth upon the stony rocks of Libanus) moisten* the fields?
 Or may the springs of waters be so graven away, that they run no more, give moistness, nor make fruitful? But my people 15 hath so forgotten me, that they have made sacrifice unto vain gods. And while they followed their own ways they are come out of the high street, and gone in to a foot way not used to be trodden. Where thorow they have brought their land into 16 an everlasting wilderness and scorn: So that whosoever traveleth thereby, shall be abashed, and wag their heads. With an 17 East wind will I scatter them, before their enemies. And when their destruction cometh, I will turn my back upon them, but not my face. Then said they: come, let us imagine something 18 against this Jeremy. Yea this did even the priests, to whom the law was committed: the Senators, that were the wisest: and the prophets, which wanted not the word of God. Come (say they) let us cut out his tongue, and let us not regard his words.
 Consider me, O LORD, and hear the voice of mine enemies. 19
 Do they not recompense evil for good, when they dig a pit for 20 my soul? Remember, how that I stood before thee, to speak for 18. v.14 Other: moisture.

21 them, and to turn away thy wrath from them. Therefore let their children die of hunger, and let them be oppressed with the sword. Let their wives be robbed of their children, and be-22 come widows: let their husbands be slain, let their young men be killed with the sword in the field. Let the noise be heard out of their houses, when the murderer cometh suddenly upon them: For they have digged a pit to take me, and laid snares 23 for my feet. Yet LORD, thou knowest all their counsel, that they have devised, to slay me. And therefore forgive them not their wickedness, and let not their sin be put out of thy sight: but let them be judged before thee as the guilty: This shalt thou do unto them in the time of thy indignation.

XIX Moreover, thus said the LORD unto Jeremy. Go thy way, and buy thee an earthen pitcher, and bring forth the Senators, and 2 the chief priests in to the valley of the children of Hennom, which lieth before the port that is made of brick, and shew 3 them there the words, that I shall tell thee, and say thus unto them: Hear the word of the LORD, ye kings of Judah, and ye citizens of Jerusalem: Thus sayeth the LORD of Hosts the God of Israel: Behold, I will bring such a plague upon this place, 4 that the ears of all that hear it, shall glow. And that because they have forsaken me, and unhallowed this place, and have offered in it unto strange gods: whom neither they, their fathers, nor the kings of Judah have known. They have filled 5 this place also with the blood of innocents, for they have set up an altar unto Baal, to burn their children for a burntoffering unto Baal, which I neither commanded, nor charged them, 6 neither thought once thereupon. Behold therefore, the time cometh (sayeth the LORD) that this place shall no more be called Topheth, nor the valley of the children of Hennom, but 7 the valley of slaughter. For in this place will I slay the Senators of Juda and Jerusalem, and kill them down with the sword in the sight of their enemies, and of them that seek their lives.
And their dead carcasses will I give to be meat for the fowls 8 of the air, and beasts of the field. And I will make this city so desolate, and despised: that whoso goeth thereby, shall be 9 abashed and jest upon her, because of all her plagues. I will feed them also with the flesh of their sons and their daughters. Yea every one shall eat up another in the besieging and straightness, wherewith their enemies (that seek their lives)

shall keep them in. And the pitcher shalt thou break in the sight of the men, that shall be with thee, and say unto them: Thus sayeth the LORD of Hosts: Even so will I destroy this people and city: as a Potter breaketh a vessel, that can not be made whole again. In Topheth shall they be buried, for they shall have none other place. Thus will I do unto this place also, sayeth the LORD, and to them that dwell therein: yea I will do to this city as unto Topheth. For the houses of Jerusalem, and the houses of the kings of Judah are defiled, like as Topheth, because of all the houses, in whose parlors they did sacrifice unto all the host of heaven, and poured out drink offerings unto strange gods. And so Jeremy came from Topheth, where the LORD had sent him to prophesy, and stood in the court of the house of the LORD, and spake to all the people: Thus sayeth the LORD of Hosts the God of Israel: Behold, I will bring upon this city and upon every town about it, all the plagues that I have devised against them: for they have been obstinate, and would not obey my warnings.

When Phashur the priest, the son of Emer, chief in the house of the LORD, heard Jeremy preach so steadfastly: he smote Jeremy, and put him in the stocks, that are by the high gate of Ben Jamin, in the house of the LORD. The next day following, Phashur brought Jeremy out of the stocks again. Then said Jeremy unto him: The LORD shall call thee no more Phashur (that is excellent and increasing) but Magor (that is fearful and afraid) everywhere. For thus sayeth the LORD: behold, I will make thee afraid, thee thy self and all that favour thee: which shall perish with the sword of their enemies, even before thy face. And I will give whole Judah under the power of the king of Babylon, which shall carry some unto Babylon prisoners, and slay some with the sword. Moreover, all the substance of this land, all their precious and gorgeous works, all costliness, and all the treasure of the kings of Judah: will I give in to the hands of their enemies, which shall spoil them, and carry them unto Babylon. But as for thee (O Phashur) thou shalt be carried unto Babylon with all thine household, and to Babylon shalt thou come, where thou shalt die, and be buried: thou and all thy favourers, to whom thou hast preached lies. O LORD, thou makest me weak, but thou refreshest me, and makest me strong again. All the day long am I despised, and 8 laughed to scorn of every man: because I have now preached long against malicious Tyranny, and shewed them of destruction. For the which cause they cast the word of the LORD in my 9 teeth, and take me ever to the worst. Wherefore, I thought from hence forth, not to speak of him, nor to preach any more in his name. But the word of the LORD was a very burning fire in my heart and in my bones, which when I would have 10 stopped, I might not. For why, I heard so many derisions and blasphemies, yea even of my own companions, and such as were conversant with me: which went about, to make me afraid, saying: upon him, let us go upon him, to fear him, and make him hold his tongue: that we may overcome him, and be 11 avenged of him. But the LORD stood by me, like a mighty giant: therefore my persecutors fell, and could do nothing. They shall be sore confounded, for they have done unwisely, they 12 shall have an everlasting shame. And now, O LORD of Hosts, thou righteous searcher (which knowest the reins and the very hearts:) let me see them punished, for unto thee I commit my 13 cause. Sing unto the LORD, and praise him, for he hath delivered the soul of the oppressed, from the hand of the violent.

14 Cursed be the day, wherein I was born: unhappy be the day, wherein my mother brought me forth. Cursed be the man, 15 that brought my father the tidings, to make him glad, saying: thou hast gotten a son. Let it happen unto that man, as to the cities which the LORD turned upside down (when he had 16 long heard the wicked rumour of them) because he slew me not, as soon as I came out of my mother's womb, and because my mother was not my grave herself, that the birth might not 17 have come out, but remained still in her. Wherefore came I forth of my mother's womb? To have experience of labour and sorrow? and to lead my life with shame?

XXI These are the words that the LORD spake unto Jeremy, what time as king Zedekiah sent unto him Pashur the son of Melchiah, and Sophaniah the son of Maasiah priest, saying: Ask counsel at the LORD (we Pray thee) of our behalf, for Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon beseigeth us, if the LORD (peradventure) will deal with us, according to his marvelous power, and take him from us. Then spake Jeremy. Give 2 Zedekiah this answer. Thus sayeth the LORD God of Israel: behold, I will turn back the weapons, that ye have in your hands, wherewith ye fight against the king of Babylon and the Caldees, which besiege you round about the walls, and I will bring them together into the midst of this city, and I myself will fight against you, with an outstretched hand, and with a mighty arm, in great displeasure and terrible wrath: and will smite them, that dwell in this city, yea both man and cattle shall die of the pestilence. And after this (sayeth the LORD) I shall deliver Zedekiah the king of Judah, and his servants, his people, (and such as are escaped in the city, from the pestilence, sword, and hunger) into the power of Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon: yea into the hands of their enemies, into the hands of those that follow upon their lives, which shall smite them with the sword: they shall not pity them, they shall not spare them, they shall have no mercy upon them. And unto this people thou shalt say: Thus sayeth the LORD: behold, I lay before you the way of life and death. Whoso abideth in this city, shall perish: either with the sword, with hunger, or with pestilence. But whoso goeth out to hold on the Caldees part, that besiege it, he shall save his life, and shall win his soul for a prey. For I have set my face against this city (sayeth the LORD) to plague it, and to do it no good. It must be given into the hand of the king of Babylon, and be brent with fire. And unto the house of the king of Judah, say thus: Hear ye the word of the LORD: (O house of David) for thus sayeth the LORD: Minister righteousness, and that soon, deliver the oppressed from violent power: or ever my terrible wrath break out like a fire, and burn so, that no man may quench it, because of the wickedness of your imaginations. Behold, (sayeth the LORD) I will come upon you that dwell in the valleys, rocks and fields, and say: Tush, who will make us afraid? or who will come into our houses? For I will visit you (sayeth the LORD) because of the wickedness of your inventions, and will kindle such a fire in your wood, as shall consume all, that is about you.
3
4

Thus said the LORD also: Go down in to the house of the king of Judah, and speak there these words, and say: Hear the word of the LORD, thou king of Judah that sittest in the kingly seat of David: thou, and thy servants, and thy* people, that go in and out at this gate. Thus the LORD commandeth: Keep equity and righteousness, deliver the oppressed from the power of the violent: do not grieve nor oppress the stranger, the fatherless, nor the widow, and shed no innocent blood in this 4 place. And if ye keep these things faithfully, then shall there come in at the door of this house kings, to sit upon David's seat: they shall be carried in Chariots and ride upon horses, 5 both they and their servants, and their people. But if ye will not be obedient unto these commandments, I swear by mine 6 own self (sayeth the LORD) this house shall be waste. For thus hath the LORD spoken upon the king's house of Judah: Thou art the head, as Gilead is in Libanus: What wilt thou lay of it, if I make thee not so waste (and thy cities also) that no 7 man shall dwell therein? I will prepare a destroyer with his weapons for thee, to hew down thy special Cedar trees, and to 8 cast them in the fire. And all the people that go by this city, shall speak one to another: Wherefore hath the LORD done 9 thus unto this noble city? Then shall it be answered: because they have broken the covenant of the LORD their God, and 10 have worshipped and served strange gods. Mourn not over the dead, and be not woe for them, but be sorry for him that departeth away: for he cometh not again, and seeth his na-11 tive country no more. For thus sayeth the LORD, as touching Selum the son of Josiah king of Judah, which reigned after his father, and is carried out of this place: He shall never come 12 hither again, for he shall die in the place, where unto he is led captive, and shall see this land no more. Woe worth him, 13 that buildeth his house with unrighteousness, and his parlors with the good that he hath gotten by violence: which never recompenceth his neighbour's labour, nor payeth him his hire.

XXII

14 He thinketh in himself: I will build me a wide house, and gorgeous parlors: He causeth windows to be hewn therein, and the ceilings and joists* maketh he of Cedar, and painteth them 15 with Zenober. Thinkest thou to reign, now that thou provokest me to wrath with the* Cedar trees? Did not thy father eat and drink, and prosper well, as long as he dealt with eq-16 uity and righteousness? Yea when he helped the oppressed and poor to their right, then prospered he well. From whence came this, but only because he had me before his eyes, sayeth 17 the LORD. Nevertheless, as for thine eyes and thine heart, they look upon covetousness, to shed innocent blood, and to v.14 Other: geastes. v.15 Other: thy.

do wrong and violence. And therefore, thus sayeth the LORD 18 against Jehoakim, the son of Josiah king of Judah: They shall not mourn for him (as they use to do) alas brother, alas sister: Neither shall they say unto him: Alas sir, alas for that noble prince. But as an Ass shall he be buried, corrupt and be cast 19 without the gates of Jerusalem. Climb up the hill of Libanus 20 (O thou daughter Sion) lift up thy voice upon Basan, cry from all parts: for all thy lovers are destroyed. I gave thee warn- 21 ing, while thou wast yet in prosperity. But thou saidst: I will not hear. And this manner hast thou used from thy youth, that thou wouldest never hear my voice. All thy herdmen shall be 22 driven with the wind, and thy dearlings shall be carried away into captivity: Then shalt thou be brought to shame and confu- 23 sion, because of all thy wickedness: thou that dwellest upon Libanus, and makest thy nest in the Cedars trees. O how great shall thy mourning be, when thy sorrows come upon thee, as a woman travailing with child? As truly as I live (sayeth the 24 LORD) Though Jechoniah the son of Jehoakim king of Judah were the signet of my right hand, yet will I pluck him off: And 25 I will give thee into the power of them that seek to slay thee, and into the power of them that thou fearest: into the power of Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon, and into the power of 26 the Caldees. Moreover, I will send thee, and thy mother that bare thee, into a strange land, where ye were not born, and there shall ye die. But as for the land that ye will desire to 27 return unto, ye shall never come at it again. This man Jechon- 28 niah shall be like an image robbed and torn in pieces, which pleaseth no man, for all his apparel. Wherefore both he and his seed shall be sent away, and cast out into a land, that they know not. O thou earth, earth, earth: hear the word of the 29 LORD. Write this man among the outlaws, for no prosperity 30 shall this man have all his life long. Neither shall any of his seed be so happy, as to sit upon the seat of David, and to bear rule in Juda.

Woe be unto the shepherds, that destroy, and scatter my XXIII flock, sayeth the LORD. Wherefore, this is the commandment 2 of the LORD God of Israel, unto the shepherds that feed my people: Ye scatter and thrust out my flock, and look not upon them. Therefore now will I visit the wickedness of your imaginations, sayeth the LORD: And will gather together the rem- 3 nant of my flock, from all lands that I had driven them unto, and will bring them again to their pastures, that they may 4 grow and increase. I will set shepherds also over them, which shall feed them. They shall no more fear and dread, for there

5 shall none of them be lost, sayeth the LORD. Behold, the time cometh, sayeth the LORD, that I will raise up the righteous Branch of David, which shall bear rule, and discuss matters with wisdom, and shall set up equity and righteousness again
6 in the earth. In his time shall Judah be saved and Israel shall dwell without fear. And this is the name that they shall call 7 him: even the LORD our righteous maker. And therefore behold, the time cometh, sayeth the LORD, that it shall no more be said: the LORD liveth, which brought the children of Israell 8 out of the land of Egypt: But the LORD liveth, which brought forth, and led the seed of the house of Israel, out of the North land, and from all countries where I had scattered them, and 9 they shall dwell in their own land again. My heart breaketh in my body because of the false prophets, all my bones shake: I am become like a drunken man (that by the reason of wine can take no rest) for very fear of the LORD, and of his holy 10 words: Because the land is full of advouters, where thorow it is destroyed and mourneth, and the pleasant pastures of the desert are dried up. Yea the way that men take, is wicked, and their governance is nothing like the holy word of the LORD.
11 For the prophets and the priests themselves are polluted hypocrites, and their wickedness have I found in my house, sayeth the LORD. Wherefore, their way shall be slippery in the darkness, wherein they may stagger and fall. For I will bring a plague upon them, even the year of their visitation, sayeth the 12 LORD. I have seen folly among the Prophets of Samaria, that they preached for Baal, and deceived my people of Israel. I have seen also among the Prophets of Jerusalem foul advoutry, and presumptuous lies. They take the most shameful men by the hand, flattering them, so that they can not return from their wickedness. All these with their citizens are unto me, 13 as Sodom, and as the inhabitors of Gomorre. Therefore thus sayeth the LORD of Hosts concerning the prophets: Behold, I will feed them with wormwood, and make them drink the water of gall. For from the prophets of Jerusalem is the sickness 14 of hypocrisy come in to all the land. And therefore the LORD 15
16

of Hosts giveth you this warning: Hear not the words of the prophets, that preach unto you, and deceive you: for they speak the meaning of their own heart, and not out of the mouth of the LORD. They say unto them, that despise me: The LORD hath spoken it: Tush, ye shall prosper right well. And unto all them, that walk after the lusts of their own heart, they say: Tush, there shall no misfortune happen you. For who hath sitten in the council* of the LORD, that he hath heard and understand, what he is about to do? Who hath marked his device, and heard it? Behold, the stormy weather of the LORD, that is, his indignation, shall go forth, and shall fall down upon the head of the ungodly. And the wrath of the LORD shall not turn away again, until he perform and fulfil the thought of his heart. And in the latter days ye shall know his meaning. I have not sent these Prophets (sayeth the LORD) and yet they ran. I have not spoken to them, and yet they preached. But if they had continued in my counsel* and heard my words: they had turned my people from their evil ways and wicked imaginations. Am I then God that seeth but the thing, which is nye at hand, and not that is afar off? sayeth the LORD. May any man hide himself so, that I shall not see him? sayeth the LORD. Do not I fulfill heaven and earth? sayeth the LORD. I have heard well enough, what the prophets say, that preach lies in my name, saying: I have dreamed, I have dreamed. How long will this continue in the prophets hearts, to tell lies, and to preach the crafty subtlety of their own heart? Whose purpose is (with the dreams that everyone tell) to make my people forget my name, as their forefathers did, when Baal came up. The prophet that hath a dream, let him tell it: and he that understandeth my word, let him shew it faithfully. For what hath chaff and wheat to do together? sayeth the LORD. Is not my word like a fire? sayeth the LORD, and like an hammer, that breaketh the hard stone? Therefore, thus sayeth the LORD: behold, I will upon the prophets, that steal my word privily from every man. Behold, here am I (sayeth the LORD) against the prophets, that take upon their tongues to speak: The LORD hath said it. Behold here am I (sayeth the LORD) against those prophets, that dare prophesy lies, and deceive my people with their vanities, and miracles, whom I never sent, nor commanded them. They

33 shall do this people great harm, sayeth the LORD. If this people, either any prophet or priest ask thee, and say: What is the burthen of the LORD? Thou shalt say unto them: What burthen? Therefore will I cast you from me (sayeth the LORD)
34 because ye yourselves are a burthen. And the prophet, priest, or people, that useth this term (the burthen of the LORD) him 35 will I visit, and his house also. But thus shall ye say, every one to another: What answer hath the LORD given? or what 36 is the LORD's commandment? And as for the burthen of the LORD, ye shall speak no more of it: for every man's own word is his burthen, because ye have altered the words of the living 37 God the LORD of Hosts our God. Thus shall every man say to the Prophets: what answer hath the LORD given thee? Or,
38 what sayeth the LORD? And not once to name the burthen of the LORD. Therefore thus sayeth the LORD: For so much as ye have used this term (the burthen of the LORD) where as I notwithstanding sent unto you, and forbade you to speak of 39 the LORD's burthen. Behold therefore, I will repute you as a burthen, and will cast you out of my presence: yea and the 40 city also, that I gave you and your fathers: and will bring you to an everlasting confusion, and in to such a shame, as shall never be forgotten.

XXIV The LORD shewed me a vision; Behold, there stood two maundes of figs before the Temple of the LORD, after that Nebuchodonosor king of Babylon had led away captive Jehoniah the son of Jehoakim king of Judah, the mighty men also of Judah, with the workmasters, and cunning men of Jerusalem, unto Babylon. In the one maunde were very good figs, even like as those that be first ripe. In the other maunde were very naughty figs, which might not be eaten, they were so evil.
3 Then said the LORD unto me: What seest thou Jeremy? I said: figs, whereof some be very good, and some so evil, that no man 4 may eat them. Then came the word of the LORD unto me, 5 after this manner: Thus sayeth the LORD the God of Israel: like as thou knowest the good figs, so shall I know the men led away, whom I have sent out of this place into the land of the 6 Caldees, for their profit: and I will set mine eyes upon them for the best, for I will bring them again in to this land: I will build them up, and not break them down: I will plant them, 7 and not root them out. And I will give them an heart, to know, how that I am the LORD. They shall be my people, and I will be their God, for they shall return unto me with their whole heart. And like as thou knowest the naughty figs, which may not be eaten, they are so evil: Even so will I (sayeth the LORD) let Zedekiah the king of Judah, (yea and all his princes, and the residue of Jerusalem that remain over in this land, and them also that dwell in Egypt) to be vexed and plagued in all kingdoms and lands. And will make them to be a reproof, a common byword, a laughing stock and shame, in all the places, where I shall scatter them. I will send the sword, hunger and pestilence among them, until I have clean consumed them out of the land, that I gave unto them and their fathers.

A Sermon that was given unto Jeremy, upon all the people of Judah: In the fourth year of Jehoakim the son of Josiah king of Judah, that was, in the first year of Nebuchodonosor king of Babylon. Which sermon, Jeremy the prophet made unto all the people of Judah, and to all the inhabitants of Jerusalem, on this manner. From the thirteenth year of Josiah the son of Amon king of Judah, unto this present day, (that is even twenty third year) the word of the LORD hath been committed unto me. And so I have spoken to you, I have risen up early, I have given you warning in season, but ye would not hear me. Though the LORD hath sent his servants, all the prophets unto you in season: Yet would ye not obey, ye would not incline your ears to hear. He said: turn again every man from his evil way, and from your wicked imaginations, and so shall ye dwell for ever in the land, that the LORD promised you and your forefathers: And go not after strange gods, serve them not, worship them not, and anger me not with the works of your hands: then will not I punish you. Nevertheless, ye would not hear me (sayeth the LORD) but have defiled me with the works of your hands, to your own great harm. Wherefore thus sayeth the LORD of Hosts: Because, ye have not hearkened unto my word; Lo, I will send out, and call for all the people, that dwell in the North, sayeth the LORD, and will prepare* Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon my servant, and will bring them upon this land, and upon all that dwell therein, and upon all the people that are about them, and will utterly root them out. I will make of them a wilderness, a mockage, and a continual desert.

25. v.9 Other: prepayre.

10 Moreover, I will take from them the voice of gladness and solace, the voice of the bridegroom, and the bride, the voice of the 11 anointed, with the cressets: and this whole land shall become a wilderness, and they shall serve the said people and the king 12 of Babylon, three score years and ten. When the seventy years are expired, I will visit also the wickedness of the king of Babylon and his people sayeth the LORD: yea and the land of the 13 Caldees, and will make it a perpetual wilderness, and will fulfil all my words upon that land which I have devised against it: yea all that is written in this book, which Jeremy hath prophesied 14 of all people: so that they also shall be subdued unto divers nations and great kings, for I will recompense them, ac-15 cording to their deeds and works of their own hands. For thus hath the LORD God of Israel spoken unto me: Take this wine cup of indignation from my hand, that thou mayest cause all 16 the people, to whom I send thee, for to drink of it: that when they have drunken thereof, they may be mad, and out of their wits, when the sword cometh, that I will send among them.
17 Then took I the cup from the LORD's hand, and made all the people drink thereof, unto whom the LORD had sent me. But 18 first the city of Jerusalem, and all the cities of Judah, their kings and princes: to make them desolate, waste, despised and 19 cursed according as it is come to pass this day. Yea and Pharaoh the king of Egypt, his servants, his princes and his people al-20 together one with another and all kings of the land of Huz, all the kings of the Philistine's land, Ascalon, Azah,* Accaron 21 and the remnant of Asood, the Edomites, the Moabites, and the Ammonites: all the kings of Tirus, and Sidon: the kings 22 of the Isles, that are beyond the sea, Dedan, Thema, Buz and the shaven Ismaelites: all the kings of Araby, and (generally) 23 all the kings that dwell in the desert: all the kings of Zamri, 24 all the kings of Elam, all the kings of the Meedes, all kings toward the north, whether they be far or nye, everyone with his neighbours: Yea and all the kingdoms that are upon the 25 whole earth. The king of Sezach, said he, shall drink with 26 them also. And say thou unto them: This is the commandment of the LORD of Hosts the God of Israel: Drink and be drunken, spew and fall, that ye never rise: and that throw 27 the sword, which I will send among you. But if they will no 28

v.20 Other: Gaza.

receive the cup of thy hand, and drink it, then tell them: Thus doth the LORD of Hosts threaten you: drink it ye shall, and that shortly. For lo, I begin to plague the city, that my name is given unto: think ye then, that I will leave you unpunished? Ye shall not go quite. For why, I call for a sword upon all the inhabitants of the earth, sayeth the LORD of Hosts. Therefore tell them all these words, and say unto them: The LORD shall cry from above, and let his voice be heard from his holy habitation. With a great noise shall he cry from his court regal. He shall give a great voice (like the grape gatherers) and the sound thereof shall be heard unto the ends of the world. For the LORD hath a judgement to give upon all people, and will hold his court of justice with all flesh and punish the ungodly, sayeth the LORD. For thus sayeth the LORD of Hosts: Behold, a miserable plague shall go from one people to another, and a great stormy water shall arise from all the ends of the earth. And the same day shall the LORD himself slay them, from one end of the earth to another. There shall no moan be made for any of them, none gathered up, none buried: but shall lie as dung upon the ground. Mourn (O ye shepherds) and cry: sprinkle yourselves with ashes, O ye rams of the flock: for the time of your slaughter is fulfilled, and ye shall fall like vessels cunningly made for pleasure. The shepherds shall have no way to flee, and the rams of the flock shall not escape. Then shall the shepherds cry horribly, and the rams of the flock shall mourn: for the LORD shall consume their pasture, and their best fields shall lie dead because of the horrible wrath of the LORD. They shall forsake their folds like as a lion: for their lands shall be waste, because of the wrath of the destroyer, and because of his fearful indignation.

XXVI
 In the beginning of the reign of Jehoakim the son of Josiah king of Judah, came this word from the LORD, saying: Thus sayeth the LORD: Stand in the court of the LORD's house, and speak unto all them which (out of the cities of Juda) come to do worship in the LORD's house, all the words that I command thee to say. Look that thou keep not one word back, if (peradventure) they will hearken, and turn every man from his wicked way: that I may also repent of the plague, which I have determined to bring upon them, because of their wicked inventions. And after this manner shalt thou speak unto them:

Thus sayeth the LORD: If ye will not obey me, to walk in my 5 laws, which I have given you, and to hear the words of my servants the prophets, whom I sent unto you, rising up timely, 6 and still sending: If ye will not follow them (I say) then will I do to this house, as I did unto Siloh, and will make this city to 7 be abhorred of all the people of the earth. And the priests, the prophets and all the people heard Jeremy preach these words, 8 in the house of the LORD. Now when he had spoken out all the words, that the LORD commanded him to preach unto all the people, then the priests, the prophets and all the people took 9 hold upon him, and said: Thou shalt die. How darest thou be so bold, as to say in the name of the LORD: it shall happen to this house as it did unto Siloh? And this city shall be 10 so waste, that no man shall dwell therein? And when all the people were gathered about Jeremy in the house of the LORD, the princes of Judah heard of this rumour, and they came soon out of the king's Palace in to the house of the LORD, and sat 11 them down before the new door of the LORD. Then spake the priests and the prophets unto the rulers and to all the people, these words: This man is worthy to die, for he hath preached against this city, as ye yourselves have heard with your ears.
12 Then said Jeremy unto the rulers and to all the people: The LORD hath sent me to preach against this house and against 13 this city all the words that ye have heard. Therefore amend your ways, and your advisements, and be obedient unto the voice of the LORD your God: so shall the LORD repent of the 14 plague, that he had devised against you. Now as for me: I am in your hands, do with me, as ye think expedient and good.
15 But this shall ye know: if ye put me to death, ye shall make yourselves, this city and all the inhabitants thereof, guilty of innocent blood. For this is of a truth: that the LORD hath sent 16 me unto you, to speak all these words in your ears. Then said the rules and the people unto the priests and prophets: This man may not be condemned to death, for he hath preached 17 unto us in the name of the LORD our God. The Elders also of the land stood up, and said thus unto all the people: Micheah 18 the Morasthite, which was a prophet under Ezekiah king of Judah, spake to all the people of Judah; Thus sayeth the LORD of Hosts: Sion shall be plowed like a field, Jerusalem shall be an heap of stones, and the hill of the Lord's house shall be turned to an high* wood. Did Ezekiah king of Judah and the people 19 of Judah put him to death for this? No verily, but rather feared the LORD, and made their prayer unto him. For the which cause also the LORD repented of the plague, that he had devised against them. Should we then do such a shameful deed against our souls? There was a prophet also, that preached 20 stiffly in the name of the LORD, called Urijah the son of Se-meiah of Cariathiarim: this man preached also against this city and against this land, according to all as Jeremy sayeth.

Now when Jehoakim the king with all the estate and princes 21 had heard his words, the king went about to slay him. When Uriah perceived that, he was afraid, and fled, and departed into Egypt. Then Jehoakim the king sent servants in to the 22 land of Egypt; Namely, Elnathan the son of Achabor, and certain men with him into Egypt. Which fetched Uriah out of 23 Egypt, and brought him unto king Jehoakim that slew him with the sword, and cast his dead body into the common people's grave. But Ahikam the son of Saphan helped Jeremy, 24 that he came not into the hands of the people to be slain.

In the beginning of the reign of Jehoakim the son of Josiah XXVII king of Judah, came this word unto Jeremy from the LORD, which spake thus unto me: Make thee bonds and chains, and 2 put them about thy neck, and send them to the king of Edom, 3 the king of Moab, the king of Ammon, the king of Tyrus, and to the king of Sidon: and that by the messengers, which shall 4 come to Jerusalem unto Zedekiah the king of Judah, and bid them say unto their masters: Thus sayeth the LORD of Hosts 5 the God of Israel, speak thus unto your masters: I am he that made the earth, the men, and the cattle that are upon 6 the ground, with my great power and outstretched arm, and have given it unto whom it pleased me. And now will I deliver 6 all these lands into the power of Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon, my servant. The beasts also of the field shall I give him to do him service. And all people shall serve him, and his 7 son, and his child's children, until the time of the same land be come also: Yea many people and great kings shall serve 8 him. Moreover, that people and kingdom which will not serve Nabuchodonosor, and that will not put their necks under the yoke of the king of Babylon, the same people will I visit* with the sword, with hunger, with pestilence, until I have consumed 9 them in his hands, sayeth the LORD. And therefore follow not your Prophets, soothsayers, expounders of dreams, charmers and witches, which say unto you: Ye shall not serve the king of 10 Babylon. For they preach you lies: to bring you far from your 11 land, and that I might cast you out, and destroy you. But the people that put their necks under the yoke of the king of Babylon, and serve him, those I will let remain still in their own 12 land (sayeth the LORD) and they shall occupy it, and dwell therein. All these things told I Zedekiah the king of Judah, and said: Put your necks under the yoke of the king of Baby-13 lon, and serve him and his people, that ye may live. Why wilt thou and thy people perish with the sword, with hunger, with pestilence: like as the LORD hath devised for all people, 14 that will not serve the king of Babylon? Therefore give no ear unto those Prophets (that tell you: Ye shall not serve the 15 king of Babylon?) for they preach you lies, neither have I sent them, sayeth the LORD: how be it they are bold, falsely for to prophesy in my name: that I might the sooner drive you 16 out, and that ye might perish with your preachers. I spake to the Priests also, and to all the people: Thus sayeth the LORD: Hear not the words of those Prophets, that preach unto you, and say: Behold, the vessels of the LORD's house shall shortly 17 be brought hither again from Babylon: For they prophesy lies unto you. Hear them not, but serve the king of Babylon, that ye may live. Wherefore will ye make this city to be destroyed?

18 But if they be true Prophets in very deed, and if the word of the LORD be committed unto them, then let them pray the LORD of Hosts, that the remnant of the ornaments (which are in the house of the LORD, and remain yet in the house of the king of 19 Judah and at Jerusalem) be not carried to Babylon also. For thus hath the LORD of Hosts spoken concerning the pillars, the laver, the seat and the residue of the ornaments that yet re-20 main in this city, which Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon took not, when he carried away Jechoniah the son of Jehoakim king of Judah, with all the power of Juda and Jerusalem, from 21 Jerusalem unto Babylon, captive. Yea thus hath the LORD of Hosts the God of Israel spoken, as touching the residue of the ornaments of the LORD's house of the king of Judah's house, 22 and of Jerusalem: They shall be carried unto Babylon, and there they shall remain, until I visit them, sayeth the LORD. Then will I bring them hither again.

And this was done in the same year: even in the beginning XXVIII of the reign of Zedekiah king of Juda. But in the fourth year of the reign of Zedekiah king of Judah, in the fifth Month; It happened, that Hananiah the son of Assur the prophet of Gabaon, spake to me in the house of the LORD, in the presence of the priests and of all the people, and said: Thus sayeth the LORD ² of Hosts the God of Israel: I have broken the yoke of the king of Babylon, and after two year will I bring again into this place, ³ all the ornaments of the LORD's house, that Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon carried away from this place unto Babylon.
Yea I will bring again Jeconiah the son of Jehoiakim the king ⁴ of Judah himself, with all the prisoners of Judah (that are carried unto Babylon) even into this place, sayeth the LORD, for I will break the yoke of the king of Babylon. Then the ⁵ prophet Jeremy gave answer unto the prophet Hananiah, before the priests and before all the people that were present in the house of the LORD. And the prophet Jeremy said: Amen, ⁶ the LORD do that, and grant the thing, which thou hast prophesied: that he may bring again all the ornaments of the LORD's house, and restore all the prisoners from Babylon in to this place. Nevertheless, hearken thou also, what I will say, that ⁷ thou and all the people may hear: The prophets that were before us in times past, which prophesied of war, or trouble, or ⁸ pestilence either of peace, upon many nations and great kingdoms, were proved by this (if GOD had sent them in very deed) ⁹ when the thing came to pass, which that prophet told before.
And Hananiah the prophet took the chain from the prophet ¹⁰ Jeremias' neck, and brake it and with that said Hananiah, ¹¹ that all the people might hear: Thus hath the LORD spoken: Even so will I break the yoke of Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon, from the neck of all nations, yea and that within this two year. And so the prophet Jeremy went his way. Now after that ¹² Hananiah the prophet had taken the chain from the prophet Jeremias' neck, and broken it: The word of the LORD came unto the prophet Jeremy saying: Go, and tell Hananiah these ¹³ words: Thus sayeth the LORD: Thou hast broken the chain of wood, but in stead of wood thou shalt make chains of iron. For ¹⁴ thus sayeth the LORD of Hosts the God of Israel: I will put a yoke of iron upon the neck of all this people, that they may serve Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon, yea and so shall they do. And I will give him the beasts in the field. Then said the prophet Jeremy unto the prophet Hananiah: Hear me (I pray thee) Hananiah: The LORD hath not sent thee, but thou bringest this people into a false belief. And therefore thus sayeth the LORD: behold, I will send thee out of the land, and within a year thou shalt die because thou hast falsely spoken against the LORD. So Hananiah the prophet died the same year in the seventh Month.

XXIX

This is the Copy of the letter, that Jeremy the prophet sent from Jerusalem unto the prisoners: the Senators, priests, prophets, and all the people, whom Nabuchodonosor had led unto Babylon: after the time that king Jechoniah, and his Queen, his chamberlains the princes of Judah and Jerusalem the workmasters of Jerusalem were departed thither. Which letter Elasah the son of Saphan and Gamariah the son of Helkiah did bear, whom Zedekiah the king of Judah sent unto Babylon to Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon: These were the words of Jeremias' letter: Thus hath the LORD of Hosts the God of Israel spoken unto all the prisoners, that were led from Jerusalem unto Babylon: Build you houses to dwell therein: plant you gardens, that ye may enjoy the fruits thereof: take you wives, to bear you sons and daughters: provide wives for your sons, and husbands for your daughters, that they may get sons and daughters, and that ye may multiply there. Labour not to be few, but seek after peace and prosperity of the city, wherein ye be prisoners, and pray unto GOD for it. For in the peace thereof, shall your peace be. For thus sayeth the LORD of Hosts the God of Israel: Let not those prophets and soothsayers that be among you deceive you: and believe not your own dreams. For why, they preach you lies in my name, and I have not sent them, sayeth the LORD. But thus sayeth the LORD: When ye have fulfilled seventy years at Babylon, I will bring you home, and of mine own goodness I will carry you hither again to this place. For I know what I have devised for you sayeth the LORD. My thoughts are to give you peace, and not trouble (which I give you all ready) and that ye might have hope again. Ye shall cry unto me, ye shall go and call upon me, and I shall hear you. Ye shall seek me, and find me: Yea, if so be that ye seek me with your whole heart, I 14 will be found of you, (sayeth the LORD) and will deliver you out of prison, and gather you together again out of all places, wherein I have scattered you, sayeth the LORD: and will bring you again to the same place, from whence I caused you to be carried away captive. But where as ye say, that GOD hath 15 raised you up prophets at Babylon: Thus hath the LORD spo- 16 ken (concerning the king that sitteth in the stool of David, and all the people that dwell in this city, your brethren that are not gone with you into captivity) Thus (I say) speaketh the LORD 17 of Hosts: Behold, I will send a sword, hunger and pestilence upon them, and will make them like untimely figs, that may not be eaten for bitterness. And I will persecute them with 18 the sword, with hunger and death. I will deliver them up to be vexed of all kingdoms, to be cursed, abhorred, laughed to scorn, and put to confusion of all the people, among whom I have scattered them: and that because they have not been 19 obedient unto my commandments. (sayeth the LORD) which I sent unto them by my servants the prophets. I stood up early, and sent unto them, but they would not hear, sayeth the LORD.

Hear therefore the word of the LORD, all ye prisoners, whom 20
I sent from Jerusalem unto Babylon: Thus hath the LORD of 21 Hosts the God of Israel spoken, of Ahab the son of Colaiah, and of Zedekiah the son of Maasiah, which prophesy lies unto you in my name: Behold, I will deliver them into the hand of Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon, that he may slay them before your eyes. And all the prisoners of Judah that are in 22 Babylon, shall take upon them this term of cursing, and say:
Now GOD do unto thee, as he did unto Zedekiah and Ahab, whom the king of Babylon roasted in the fire; Because they 23 sinned shamefully in Israel. For they have not onely defiled their neighbours' wives, but also preached lying words in my name, which I have not commanded them. This I testify, and assure, sayeth the LORD. But as for Semaiah the Nehelamite 24 thou shalt speak unto him: Thus sayeth the LORD of Hosts 25 the God of Israel: Because thou hast sealed letters under thy name unto all the people that is at Jerusalem, and to Sopho-niah the son of Maasaih the priest, yea and sent them to all the priests: wherein thou writest thus unto him: The LORD 26 hath ordained* thee to be priest instead of Jehoiada the priest, that thou shouldest be the chief in the house of the LORD above all prophets, and preachers, and that thou mightest put them 27 in prison, or in the stocks. How happeneth it then, that thou hast not reprov'd Jeremy of Anathoth, which never leaveth of 28 his prophesying.* And beside all this, he hath sent us word unto Babylon, and told us plainly, that our captivity shall long endure: that we should build us houses to dwell therein, and to plant us gardens, that we might enjoy the fruit thereof.

 29 Which letter Sophoniah the priest did read, and let Jeremy 30 the prophet hear it. Then came the word of the LORD unto 31 Jeremy, saying: Send word to all them that be in captivity, on this manner: Thus hath the LORD spoken concerning Semeiah the Nehelamite: Because that Semeiah hath prophesied unto you without my commission, and brought you into a false 32 hope, therefore thus the LORD doth certify you: Behold, I will visit Semeiah the Nehelamite, and his seed: so that none of his shall remain among this people, and none of them shall see the good, that I will do for this people, sayeth the LORD. For he hath preached falsely of the LORD.

XXX

These are the words that the LORD shewed unto Jeremy,
 2 saying: Thus sayeth the LORD God of Israel: Write up diligently all the words, that I have spoken unto thee, in a book.
 3 For lo, the time cometh (sayeth the LORD) that I will bring again the prisoners of my people of Israel and Judah, sayeth the LORD: For I will restore them unto the land, that I gave 4 to their fathers, and they shall have it in possession. Again, these words spake the LORD, concerning Israel and Judah:
 5 Thus sayeth the LORD: We hear a terrible cry, fear and disquietness. For what else doth this signify, that I see? Namely, that all strong men smite, every man his hand upon his loins, as a woman in the pain of her travail. Who ever saw a man travail with child? Enquire thereafter, and see. Yea all their 7 faces are marvelous pale. Alas for this day, which is so dreadful, that none may be likened unto it: and alas for the time of Jacob's trouble, from the which he shall yet be delivered.
 8 For in that day, sayeth the LORD, I will take his yoke from off thy neck, and break thy bonds. They shall no more serve 9 strange gods under him, but they shall do service unto God their LORD, and to David their king, whom I will raise up unto them. And as for thee, O my servant Jacob, fear not (sayeth 10 the LORD) and be not afraid, O Israel. For lo, I will help thee also from far, and thy seed from the land of their captivity. And Jacob shall turn again, he shall be in rest, and have a prosperous life, and no man shall make him afraid. For I am with 11 thee, to help thee, sayeth the LORD. And though I shall destroy all the people, among whom I have scattered thee, yet will I not destroy thee, but correct thee, and that with discretion. For I know, that thou art in no wise without fault.* Therefore thus 12 sayeth the LORD: I am sorry for thy hurt and wounds. There 13 is no man to meddle with thy cause: or to bind up thy wounds: there may no man help thee. All thy lovers have forgotten 14 thee, and care nothing for thee. For I have given thee a cruel stroke, and chastened thee roughly: and that for the multitude of thy misdeeds, for thy sins have had the over hand.

Why makest thou moan for thy harm? I myself have pity of 15 thy sorrow, but for the multitude of thy misdeeds and sins, I have done this unto thee. And therefore all they that devour 16 thee, shall be devoured, and all thine enemies shall be led in to captivity. All they that make thee waste, shall be wasted themselves: and all those that rob thee, will I make also to be robbed. For I will give thee thy health again and make thy 17 wounds whole, sayeth the LORD: because they reviled thee, as one cast away and despised, O Sion. For thus sayeth the 18 LORD: Behold, I will set up Jacob's tents again, and defend his dwelling place. The city shall be builded in her old estate, and their houses shall have their right foundation. And out of 19 them shall go thanksgiving, and the voice of joy. I will multiply them, and they shall not minish: I shall endue them with honour, and no man shall subdue them. Their children shall be as 20 aforetime, and their congregation shall continue in my sight.
And all those that vex them, will I visit. A captain also shall 21 come of them, and a prince shall spring out from the midst of them: him will I challenge to myself, and he shall come unto me. For what is he, that giveth over his heart to come unto 22 me? sayeth the LORD. Ye shall be my people also, and I will 23 be your God. Behold, on the other side shall the wrath of the LORD break out as a stormy water, as a mighty whirl wind:

30. v.11 Other: faute.

24 and shall fall upon the heads of the ungodly. The terrible displeasure of the LORD shall not leave off, until he have done, and performed the intent of his heart, which in the latter days ye shall understand.

XXXI

At the same time (sayeth the LORD) shall I be the God of all 2 the generations of Israel, and they shall be my people. Thus sayeth the LORD: The people of Israel which escaped in the wilderness from the sword, found grace to come in to their
3 rest. Even so shall the LORD now also appear unto me from far, and say: I love thee with an everlasting love, therefore 4 do I spread my mercy before thee. I will repair thee again (O thou daughter of Israel) that thou mayest be fast and sure. Thou shalt take thy tabrets again, and go forth with them, that 5 lead the dance. Thou shalt plant vines again upon the hills of 6 Samaria, and the grape gathers shall plant and sing. And when it is time, the watchmen upon the mount of Ephraim 7 shall cry: Arise, let us go up unto Sion to our LORD God, for thus sayeth the LORD: Rejoice with gladness because of Jacob, cry unto the head of the Gentiles: speak out, sing, and say: the LORD shall deliver his people, the remnant of Israel, and make
8 them whole. Behold, I will bring them again from out of the north land, and gather them from the ends of the world, with the blind and lame that are among them, with the women that be great with child, and such as be also delivered: and the company of them that come again, shall be great. They departed 9 from hence in heaviness, but with joy will I bring them hither again. I will lead them by the rivers of water in a straight way, where they shall not stumble: For I will be Israel's father, and 10 Ephraim shall be my firstborn. Hear the word of the LORD, O ye Gentiles, preach in the Isles, that lie far off, and say: He that hath scattered Israel, shall gather him together again, 11 and shall keep him as a shepherd doth his flock. For the LORD shall redeem Jacob, and rid him from the hand of the violent.
12 And they shall come, and rejoyce upon the hill of Sion, and shall have plenteousness of goods, which the LORD shall give them: Namely, wheat, wine, oil, young sheep and calves. And their conscience shall be as a well watered garden, for they shall no 13 more be hungry. Then shall the maid rejoyce in the dance, yea both young and old folks. For I will turn their sorrow into gladness, and will comfort them and make them joyful, even from their hearts. I will pour plenteousness upon the hearts of 14 the priests, and my people shall be satisfied with good things, sayeth the LORD. Thus sayeth the LORD: The voice of heavi- 15 ness, weeping and lamentation came up in to heaven: even of Rachel mourning for her children, and would not be comforted, because they were away. But now sayeth the LORD: Leave 16 off from weeping, and crying, withhold thine eyes from tears, for thy labour shall be rewarded, sayeth the LORD. And they shall come again out of the land of their enemies: Yea even 17 thy posterity shall have consolation in this (sayeth the LORD) that thy children shall come again into their own land. More- 18 over I heard Ephraim, that was led away captive, complain on this manner: O LORD, thou hast corrected me, and thy chastening have I received, as an untamed calf. Convert thou me, and I shall be converted, for thou art my LORD God. Yea as 19 soon as thou turnest me, I shall reform myself: and when I understand, I shall smite upon my thigh. For verily I have committed shameful things: O let my youth bear this reproof and confusion. Upon this complaint, I thought thus by my self: Is 20 not Ephraim my dear son? Is he not the child, with whom I have had all mirth and pastime? for since the time that I first communed* with him, I have him ever in remembrance: therefore my very heart driveth me unto him, gladly and lovingly will I have mercy upon him, sayeth the LORD. Get the watch- 21 man, provide teachers for thee: set thine heart upon the right way, that thou shouldest walk, and turn again (O thou daughter of Israel) turn again to these cities of thine. How long 22 wilt thou go astray, O thou shrinking daughter? For the LORD will work a new thing upon earth: A woman shall compass a 23 man. For thus sayeth the LORD of Hosts the God of Israel: It will come thereto, that when I have brought Juda out of captivity, these words shall be heard in the land and in his cities:

 The LORD, which is the fair bridegroom of righteousness, make thee fruitful O thou holy hill: And there shall dwell Juda, and 24 all her cities, the shepherds and husbandmen: For I shall feed 25 the hungry soul, and refresh all faint hearts. When I hear this 26 I came again to myself, and mused, like as I had been waked out of a sweet sleep. Behold (sayeth the LORD) the days come, 27 that I will sow the house of Israel and the house of Juda with

31. v.20 Other: comoned.

28 men and with cattle. Yea it shall come thereto, that like as I have gone about in times past to root them out, to scatter them, to break them down, to destroy them and chasten them: Even so will I also go diligently about, to build them up again, 29 and to plant them, sayeth the LORD. Then shall it no more be said: the fathers have eaten a sour grape, and the children's 30 teeth are set on edge: for every one shall die for his own misdeed, so that who so eateth a sower grape, his teeth shall be
31 set on edge. Behold, the days come (sayeth the LORD) that I will make a new covenant with the house of Israel and with 32 the house of Judah: not after the covenant that I made with their fathers, when I took them by the hand, and led them out of the land of Egypt: which covenant they brake, wherefore I 33 punished them sore, sayeth the LORD: But this shall be the covenant that I will make with the house of Israel after those days, sayeth the LORD: I will plant my law in the inward parts of them, and write it in their hearts, and will be their God, and 34 they shall be my people. And from thence forth shall no man teach his neighbour or his brother, and say: Know the LORD: But they shall all know me, from the lowest unto the highest, sayeth the LORD. For I will forgive their misdeeds, and will 35 never remember their sins any more. Thus sayeth the LORD which gave the sun to be a light for the day, and the moon and stars to shine in the night: which moveth the sea, so that the 36 floods thereof wax fierce: his name is the LORD of Hosts. Like as this ordinance shall never be taken out of my sight, sayeth the LORD: So shall the seed of Israel never cease, but all way 37 be a people before me. Moreover, thus sayeth the LORD: like as the heaven above can not be measured, and as the foundations of the earth beneath may not be sought out: So will I also not cast out the whole seed of Israel, for that they have 38 committed, sayeth the LORD. Behold, the days come sayeth the LORD, that the city of the LORD shall be enlarged from the 39 tower of Hananeel, unto the gate of the corner wall. From thence shall the right measure be taken before her unto the 40 hill top of Gareb, and shall come about Gaath, and the whole valley of the dead carcasses, and of the ashes, and all Ceremoth unto the brook of Cedron: and from thence unto the corner of the horse gate toward the East, whereas the Sanctuary of the LORD also shall be set. And when it is now builded, and set up of this fashion it shall never be broken, nor cast down any more.

These words spake the LORD unto Jeremy, in the tenth year of Zedekiah king of Judah, which was the eighteenth year of Nabuchodonosor, what time as the king of Babylon's Host laid siege unto Jerusalem. But Jeremy the prophet lay bound in the court of the prison, which was in the king of Judah's house: where Zedekiah the king of Judah caused him to be laid, because he had prophesied of this manner: Thus sayeth the LORD: Behold, I will deliver this city into the hands of the king of Babylon, which shall take it. As for Zedekiah the king of Judah, he shall not be able to escape the Caldees, but surely he shall come into the hands of the king of Babylon: which shall speak with him mouth to mouth, and one of them shall look another in the face. And Zedekiah shall be carried unto Babylon, and there shall he be, until the time that I visit him, sayeth the LORD. But if thou takest in hand to fight against the Caldees, thou shalt not prosper. And Jeremy said: Thus hath the LORD spoken unto me: Behold, Hananeel the son of Selum thine Uncle's son shall come unto thee, and require thee to redeem the land, that lieth in Anathoth unto thyself: for by reason of kindred it is thy part to redeem it, and to buy it out. And so Hananeel mine uncle's son came to me in the court of the prison (according to the word of the LORD) and said unto me: Buy my land (I pray thee) that lieth in Anathoth in the country of Ben Jamin: for by heritage thou hast right to loose* it out for thyself, therefore redeem it. Then I perceived, that this was the commandment of the LORD, and so I loosed* the land from Hananeel of Anathoth, mine Uncle's son, and weighed him there the money: even seven sicles, and ten silver pens. I cause him also to make me a writing, and to seal it, and called record thereby, and weighed him there the money upon the weights. So I took the evidence with the copy (when it was orderly sealed and read over) and I gave the evidence unto Baruch the son of Neriah, the son of Maa-seiah, in the sight of Hananeel my cousin, and in the presence of the witnesses, that be named in the evidence, and before all the Jews that were thereby in the court of the prison. I charged Baruch also before them, saying: The LORD of Hosts the God of Israel commandeth thee, to take this sealed evidence with the copy, and to lay it in an earthen vessel, that it 15 may long continue. For the LORD of Hosts of the God of Israel hath determined, that houses, fields and vineyards shall 16 be possessed again in this land. Now when I had delivered the evidence unto Baruch the son of Neriah, I besought the LORD, 17 saying: O Lord GOD; It is thou that hast made heaven and earth with thy great power and high arm, and there is nothing 18 too hard for thee. Thou shewest mercy upon thousands, thou recompensest the wickedness of the fathers, into the bosom of the children that come after them. Thou art the great 19 and mighty God, whose name is the LORD of Hosts: great in counsel, and infinite in thought: Thine eyes look upon all the ways of men's children, to reward every one after his way, and 20 according to the fruits of his inventions: Thou hast done great tokens and wonders in the land of Egypt, (as we see this day) upon the people of Israel and upon those men: to make thy 21 name great, as it is come to pass this day: Thou hast brought thy people of Israel out of the land of Egypt, with tokens, with wonders, with a mighty hand, with a stretched out arm and 22 with great terribleness: and hast given them this land, like as thou hadst promised unto their fathers: Namely, that thou wouldest give them a land, that floweth with milk and honey.

23 Now when they came therein, and possessed it, they followed not thy voice, and walked not in thy law: but all that thou commandedst them to do, that have they not done, and therefore 24 come all these plagues upon them. Behold, there are bulwarks made now against the city, to take it: and it shall be won of the Caldees that besiege it, with sword, with hunger and death, and look what thou hast spoken, that same shall come 25 upon them. For lo, all things are present unto thee: Yet sayest thou unto me (O Lord GOD) and commandest me, that I shall loose a piece of land unto myself, and take witness thereto: and yet in the mean season the city is delivered in to the power 26 of the Caldees. Then came the word of the LORD unto me, 27 saying: Behold, I am the LORD God of all flesh, is there any thing then too hard for me? Therefore thus said the LORD: 28 behold, I shall deliver this city into the power of the Caldees, and into the power of Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon, 29 they shall take it in: For the Caldees shall come, and win this city, and set fire upon it, and burn it: with the gorgeous houses, in whose parlors they have made sacrifice unto Baal, and poured drink offerings unto strange gods, to provoke me unto wrath. For seeing the children of Israel, and the children 30 of Judah have wrought wickedness before me ever from their youth up, what have they else done, but provoked me with the works of their own hands? sayeth the LORD. Or, what hath 31 this city been else, but a provoking of my wrath, ever since the day that I builded it, unto this hour? Wherein I cast it out of my sight, because of the great blasphemies of the children of 32 Israel and Judah, which they have done to provoke me: yea they, their kings, their princes, their Priests, their Prophets, whole Judah, and all the citizens of Jerusalem. When I stood 33 up early, and taught them and instruct them, they turned their backs to me, and not their faces. They would not hear, to be 34 reformed and correct. They have set their gods in the house, that is hallowed unto my name, to defile it. They have builded 35 high places for Baal in the valley of the children of Hennom, to vow their sons and daughters unto Molech: which I never commanded them, neither came it ever in my thought, to make Judah sin with such abomination. Moreover thus hath the 36 LORD God of Israel spoken, concerning this city, which (as ye yourselves confess) shall be delivered into the hand of the king of Babylon, when it is won with the sword, with hunger and with pestilence. Behold, I will gather them together from all 37 lands, wherein I have scattered them in my wrath, in my fearful and great displeasure: and will bring them again unto this place, where they shall dwell safely. And they shall be my people, 38 and I will be their God. And I will give them one heart, 39 and one way, that they may fear me all the days of their life, that they and their children after them may prosper. And I 40 will set up an everlasting covenant with them; Namely: that I will never cease to do them good, and that I will put my fear in their hearts, so that they shall not run away from me. Yea 41 I will have a lust and pleasure to do them good, and faithfully to plant them in this land, with my whole heart, and with all my soul. For thus sayeth the LORD: Like as I have brought 42 all this great plague upon this people: so will I also bring upon them all the good, that I have promised them. And men shall 43 have their possessions in this land, whereof ye say now, that it shall neither be inhabited of people nor of cattle, but be delivered into the hands of the Caldees. Yea land shall be bought for money, and evidences made there upon and sealed before witnesses in the country of Ben Jamin, and round about Jerusalem: in the cities of Judah, in the cities that are upon the mountains, and in them that lie beneath, yea and in the cities that are in the desert. For I will bring their prisoners hither again, sayeth the LORD.

XXXIII

Moreover the word of the LORD came unto Jeremy on this manner, when he was yet bound in the court of the prison:

2 Thus sayeth the LORD, which fullfilleth the thing that he speaketh, the LORD which performeth the thing that he taketh in hand:

3 even he, whose name is the LORD: thou hast cried unto me, and I have heard thee: I have shewed great and high things,

4 which were unknown unto you. Thus (I say) spake the LORD God of Israel, concerning the houses of this city, and the houses of the kings of Judah: that they shall be broken thorow the

5 ordinance and weapons, when the Caldees come to besiege them: and they shall be filled with the dead carcasses of men, whom I will slay in my wrath and displeasure: when I turn

6 my face from this city, because of all her wickedness. Behold, (sayeth the LORD) I will heal their wounds and make them whole: I will open them the treasure of peace and truth.

7 And I will return the captivity of Judah and Israel: and will

8 set them up again as they were afore. From all misdeeds (wherein they have offended against me) I will cleanse them: And all their blasphemies which they have done against me,

9 when they regarded me not, I will forgive them. And this shall get me a name, and praise and honour, among all people of the earth, which shall hear all the good, that I will shew unto them: Yea they shall be afraid and astonied at all the

10 good deeds and benefits, that I will do for them. Moreover thus sayeth the LORD: In this place, whereof ye say that it shall be a wilderness, wherein neither people nor cattle shall dwell: in like manner in the cities of Judah and without Jerusalem (which also shall be so void, that neither people nor 11 cattle shall dwell there) Shall the voice of gladness be heard again, the voice of the Bridegroom and of the bride, the voice of them that shall sing: Praise the LORD of Hosts, for he is loving and his mercy endureth for ever, and the voice of them that shall offer up gifts in the house of the LORD. For I will restore the captivity of this land, as it was afore, sayeth the LORD. Thus sayeth the LORD of Hosts: It shall come yet thereto, that 12 in this land, which is void from men and cattle, and in all the cities of the land, there shall be set up shepherds cottages: in 13 the cities upon the mountains: and in the cities that lie upon the plain, and in the desert. In the land of Ben Jamin, in the fields of Jerusalem, and in the cities of Judah shall the sheep be numbered again, under the hand of him, that telleth them, sayeth the LORD. Behold, the time cometh, sayeth the LORD, 14 that I will perform the good thing, which I have promised unto the house of Israel and to the house of Judah. In those days, 15 and at the same time, I will bring forth unto David the branch of righteousness, and he shall do equity and righteousness in the land.* In those days shall Judah be helped, and Jerusalem shall dwell safe, and he that shall call her is even GOD our righteous maker.* For thus the LORD promiseth: David shall never want one, to sit upon the stool of the house of Israel: neither shall the priests and Levites want one to offer 18 always before me burnt offerings, to kindle the meat offerings, and to prepare the sacrifices. And the word of the LORD came 19 unto Jeremy after this manner: Thus sayeth the LORD: May the covenant which I have made with day and night be broken, that there should not be day and night in due season? Then 21 may my covenant also be broken, which I made with David my servant, and so he not to have a son to reign in his Throne. So shall also the priests and Levites never fail, but serve me. For 22 like as the stars of heaven may not be numbered, neither the sand of the sea measured: so will I multiply the seed of David my servant, and of the Levites my ministers. Moreover, the 23 word of the LORD came to Jeremy, saying: Considerest thou 24 not what this people speaketh? Two kindreds (say they) had the LORD chosen, and those same two hath he cast away. For

33. v.15 Other: Behold, the days will come saith the LORD, that I will stir up unto David a righteous branch, and he shall reign a king, and shall be wise, and shall do equity and justice in the earth. v.16 Other: And in his days Judah shall be safe, and Israel shall dwell without fear. And this is the name that they shall call him: the LORD our righteousness. Wherefore the days will come saith the LORD, that they shall say no more, the Lord liveth that brought the children of Israel out of the land of Egypt. But the LORD liveth which delivered and brought the seed of the house of Israel, out of the land of the north and from all lands whether I thrust them. And they shall dwell in their own land saith the LORD God almighty.

so far is my people come, that they have no hope to come together any more, and to be one people again. Therefore thus sayeth the LORD: If I have made no covenant with day and night, and given no statute unto heaven and earth: then will I also cast away the seed of David my servant: so that I will take no prince out of his seed, to rule the posterity of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob. But yet I will turn again their captivity, and be merciful unto them.

XXXIV

These are the words which the LORD spake unto Jeremy, what time as Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon, and all his Hosts (out of all the kingdoms that were under his power) and all his people, fought against Jerusalem, and all the cities thereof. Thus sayeth the LORD God of Israel: Go, and speak to Zedekiah the king of Judah, and tell him: The LORD sendeth thee this word: Behold, I will deliver this city in to the hand of the king of Babylon, he shall burn it, and thou shalt not escape his hands, but shalt be led away prisoner, and delivered into his power. Thou shalt look the king of Babylon in the face and he shall speak with thee mouth to mouth, and then shalt thou go to Babylon. Yet hear the word of the LORD, O Zedekiah thou king of Judah: Thus sayeth the LORD unto thee: Thou shalt not be slain with the sword, but shalt die in peace. Like as thy forefathers the kings, thy progenitors, were brent: so shalt thou be brent also, and in the mourning they shall say: Oh lord. For thus have I determined, sayeth the LORD. Then spake Jeremy the prophet all these words unto Sedekiah king of Judah in Jerusalem: what time as the king of Babylon's host besieged Jerusalem, and the remnant of the cities: Namely, Lachis and Azecah, which yet remained of the strong defended cities of Judah. These are the words that the LORD spake unto Jeremy the prophet, when Sedekiah was agreed with all the people at Jerusalem, that there should be proclaimed a liberty: so that every man should let his servant and handmaid go free, Hebrue and Hebruess, and no Jew to hold his brother as a bond man. Now as they had consented, even so they were obedient, and let them go free. But afterward they repented, and took again the servants and the hand maidens, whom they had let go free, and so made them bond again. For the which cause the word of the LORD came unto Jeremy from the LORD himself, saying: Thus sayeth the LORD God of Israel: I made a covenant with your fathers, when I brought them out of Egypt, (that they should no more be bondmen) saying: When seven years are out, every man shall let his bought servant an Hebrue go free, if he have served him six years. But your fathers obeyed me not and hearkened not unto me. As for you, ye were now turned, and did right before me, in that ye proclaimed, every man to let his neighbour go free, and in that ye made a covenant before me, in the temple that beareth my name: But yet ye have turned yourselves again, and blasphemed my name: In this, that every man hath required his servant and handmaid again, whom ye had letten go quite and free, and compelled them to serve you again, and to be your bond men. And therefore thus sayeth the LORD: Ye have not obeyed me, every man to proclaim freedom unto his brother and neighbour: wherefore, I will call you unto a freedom, sayeth the LORD: even unto the sword, to the pestilence, and to hunger, and will make you to be plagued in all the kingdoms of the earth. Yea those men that have broken my covenant, and not kept the words of the appointment, which they made before me: when they hewed the calf in two, and when there went thorow the two halves thereof: The princes of Judah, the princes of Jerusalem, the gelded men, the Priests and all the people of the land, which went thorow the two sides of the calf. Those men will I give into the power of their enemies, and in to the hands of them that follow upon their lives. And their dead bodies shall be meat for the fowls of the air, and beasts of the field. As for Zedekiah the king of Judah and his princes, I will deliver them into the power of their enemies, and of them that desire to slay them, and into the hand of the king of Babylon's host, which now is departed from you. But thorow my commandment (sayeth the LORD) they shall come again before this city, they shall fight against it, win it, and burn it. Moreover I will lay the cities of Judah so waste, that no man shall dwell therein.

The words which the LORD spake unto Jeremy, in the reign of Jehoakim the son of Josiah king of Judah, are these: Go unto the house of the Rechabites, and call them out, and bring them to the house of the LORD in to some commodious place, and give them wine to drink. Then took I Jazaniah the son of Jeremy the son of Habaziniah, and his brethren and all his

XXXV

2

3

4 sons, and the whole household of the Rechabites: and brought them to the house of the LORD, in to the closet of the children of Hanan the son of Iegedaliah the man of God: which was by the closet of the princes, that is above the closet of Maasiah the 5 son of Selum, which is the chief of the treasury. And before the sons of the kindred of the Rechabites, I set pots full of wine, 6 and cups, and said unto them: Drink wine. But they said: We drink no wine, for Jonadab the son of Rechab our father commanded us, saying: Ye and your sons shall never drink wine, 7 build no houses, sow not seed, plant no vines, yea ye shall have no vineyards: but for all your time ye shall dwell in tents, that ye may live long in the land, wherein ye be strangers.
8 Thus have we obeyed the commandment of Jonadab the son of Rechab our father, in all that he hath charged us, and so we drink no wine all our life long: we, nor our wives, our sons, and 9 our daughters. Neither build we any house to dwell therein, we have also among us neither vineyards, nor corn land to 10 sow: but we dwell in tents, we obey, and do according unto all, 11 that Jonadab our father commanded us. But now that Nabu-chodonosor the king of Babylon came up into the land, we said come, let us go to Jerusalem, that we may escape the host of the Caldees and the Assyrians: and so we dwell now at Jeru-12 salem. Then came the word of the LORD unto Jeremy saying: 13 Thus sayeth the LORD of Hosts the God of Israel: Go and tell whole Judah and all the inhabitants of Jerusalem: Will ye not 14 be reformed, to obey my words? sayeth the LORD. The words which Jonadab the son of Rechab commanded his sons, that they should drink no wine, are fast and surely kept: for unto this day they drink no wine but obey their father's commandment. But as for me, I have stand* up early, I have spoken unto you, and given you earnest warning: and yet have ye not 15 been obedient unto me. Yea I have sent my servants, all the prophets unto you, I rose up early, and sent you word, saying: O turn you, every man from his wicked way: amend your lives, and go not after strange gods, to worship them: that ye may continue in the land, which I have given unto you and your 16 fathers, but ye would neither hear me, nor follow me. The children of Jonadab Rachab's son have steadfastly kept their father's commandment, that he gave them, but this people is not obedient unto me. And therefore thus sayeth the LORD of Hosts the God of Israel: Behold, I will bring upon Judah and upon everyone that dwelleth in Jerusalem, all the trouble that I have devised against them. For I have spoken unto them, but they would not follow: I have called unto them, nevertheless they would give me no answer. Jeremy also spake unto the household of the Rechabites: Thus sayeth the LORD of Hosts the God of Israel: For so much as ye have obeyed the commandment of Jonadab your father, and kept all his precepts, and done according unto all that he hath bidden you: Therefore thus sayeth the LORD of Hosts, the God of Israel: Jonadab the son of Rechab shall not fail, but have one out of his stock, to stand* always before me.

35. v.14 Other: stode.

In the fourth year of Jehoakim the son of Josiah king of Judah, came the word of the LORD unto Jeremy, saying: Take a book, and write therein all the words, that I have spoken to thee, to Israel, to Judah, and to all the people, from the time that I began for to speak unto thee (in the reign of Josiah) unto this day. That when the house of Judah heareth of the plague, which I have devised for them, they may peradventure turn, every man from his wicked way, that I may forgive their offenses and sins. Then did Jeremy call Baruch the son of Neriah, and Baruch wrote in the book at the mouth of Jeremy, all the words of the LORD, which he had spoken unto him. And Jeremy commanded Baruch, saying: I am in prison, so that I may not come into the house of the LORD: therefore go thou thither, and read the book, that thou hast written at my mouth: Namely, the words of the LORD, and read them in the LORD's house upon the fasting day: that the people, whole Judah, and all they that come out of the cities, may hear. Peradventure they will pray meekly before the face of LORD, and turn, every one from his wicked way. For great is the wrath and displeasure, that the LORD hath taken against this people. So Baruch the son of Neriah did, according unto all that Jeremy the Prophet commanded him, reading the words of the LORD out of the book in the LORD's house. And this was done in the fifth year of Jehoakim the son of Josiah king of Judah, in the ninth month when it was commanded, that all the people of Jerusalem should fast before the LORD, and they also that

v.19 Other: stode.

10 were come from the cities of Judah unto Jerusalem. Then read Baruch the words of Jeremy out of the book within the house of the LORD, out of the treasury of Gamariah the son of Saphan the Scribe, which is beside the higher loft of the new door of the LORD's house: that all the people might hear.

11 Now when Micheah the son of Gamariah the son of Saphan 12 had heard all the words of the LORD out of the book, he went down to the king's palace into the Scribe's chamber, for there all the princes were set: Elisama the Scribe, Dalaiah the son of Semei, Elnathan the son of Acabor, Gamariah the son of Saphan, Zedekiah the son of Hananiah, with all the princes.

13 And Micheah told them all the words, that he heard Baruch 14 read out of the book before the people. Then all the princes sent Jehudi the son of Nathaniah, the son of Selamiah, the son of Chusi, unto Baruch, saying: Take in thine hand the book, whereout thou hast read before all the people, and come.
So Baruch the son of Neriah took the book in his hand, and 15 came unto them. And they said unto him: Sit down, and read the book that we may hear also. So Baruch read, that 16 they might hear. Now when they had heard all the words, they were abashed one upon another, and said unto Baruch: 17 We will certify the king of all these words. And they examined Baruch, saying: Tell us, how didst thou write all these 18 words out of his mouth? Then Baruch answered them: He spake all these words unto me with his mouth, and I alone 19 was with him, and wrote them in the book. Then said the princes unto Baruch: Go thy way, and hide thee with Jeremy, 20 so that no man know where ye be. And they went in to the king to the court. but they kept the book in the chamber of Elisama the Scribe, and told the king all the words that he 21 might hear. So the king sent Jehudi to fetch him the book, which he brought out of Elisama the Scribe's chamber. And Jehudi read it, that the king and all the princes, which were 22 about him might hear. Now the king sat in the winter house, for it was in the ninth Month, and there was a good fire be-23 fore him. And when Jehudi had read three or four leaves thereof, he cut the book in pieces with a pen knife, and cast it into the fire upon the hearth, until the book was all brent 24 in the fire upon the hearth. Yet no man was abashed thereof, or rent his clothes: neither the king himself, nor his servants, though they heard all these words. Nevertheless Elnathan, 25 Dalaiah, and Gamariah besought the king, that he would not burn the book: notwithstanding the king would not hear them, but commanded Jerahmeel the son of Amalech, and Saraiah 26 the son of Ezriel and Selamiah the son of Abdiel, to lay hands on Baruch the Scribe, and upon Jeremy the Prophet: but the LORD kept them out of sight. After now that the king had 27 brent the book, and the sermons which Baruch wrote at the mouth of Jeremy: The word of the LORD came unto Jeremy, saying: Take another book, and write in it all the foresaid 28 sermons: that were written in the first book, which Jehoakim the king of Judah hath brent. And tell Jehoakim king of Ju- 29 dah: Thus sayeth the LORD: Thou hast brent the book, and thou thoughtest within thyself: Why hast thou written therein, that the king of Babylon shall come, and make this land waste, so that he shall make both people and cattle to be out of it?

 Therefore thus the LORD sayeth, of Jehoakim the king of Ju- 30 dah: There shall none of his generation sit upon the throne of David. His dead corse shall be cast out, that the heat of the day, and the frost of the night may come upon him. And I will 31 visit the wickedness of him, of his seed, and of his servants.
 Moreover all the evil that I have promised them (though they heard me not) will I bring upon them, upon the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and upon all Judah. Then took Jeremy another 32 book, and gave it Baruch the Scribe, the son of Neriah, which wrote therein out of the mouth of Jeremy: all the sermons that were in the first book, which Jehoakim the king of Judah did burn. And there were added unto them many more sermons, then before.

Zedekiah the son of Josiah, which was made king thorow XXXVII Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon, reigned in the land of Juda, 2 in the stead of Cononiah the son of Jehoakim. But neither he, nor his servants, nor the people in the land would obey the words of the LORD, which he spake by the Prophet Jeremy.
 Nevertheless Zedekiah the king sent Jehucal the son of Se- 3 lamiah and Sophoniah the son of Maasiah the Priest to the Prophet Jeremy, saying: O pray thou unto the LORD our God for us. Now Jeremy walked free among the people at that 4 time, and was not put in prison as yet. Pharaoh's host also 5 was come out of Egypt: which when the Caldees that besieged 6 Jerusalem perceived, they departed from thence. Then came 7 the word of the LORD unto Jeremy the Prophet, saying: Thus sayeth the LORD God of Israel; This answer shall ye give to the king of Judah, that sent you unto me for counsel: Behold, Pharaoh's host which is come forth to help you, shall return to 8 Egypt in to his own land: but the Caldees shall come again, 9 and fight against this city, win it, and set fire upon it. For thus sayeth the LORD: Deceive not your own minds, thinking on this manner: Tush, the Caldees go now their way from us: 10 No, they shall not go their way. For though ye had slain the whole host of the Caldees, that besiege you, and every one of the slain lay in his tent, yet should they stand up, and set fire 11 upon this city. Now when the Host of the Caldees was broken 12 up from Jerusalem for fear of the Egyptian's army, Jeremy went out of Jerusalem toward the land of Ben Jamin, to do 13 certain business there among the people. And when he came under Ben Jamin's port, there was a porter, called Jeriah, the son of Selemiah, the son of Hananiah, which fell upon him, and 14 took him, saying: Thy mind is to run to the Caldees. Then said Jeremy: It is not so, I go not to the Caldees. Nevertheless Jeriah would not believe him, but brought Jeremy bound before 15 the princes. Wherefore the princes were angry with Jeremy, causing him to be beaten, and to be laid in prison in the house of Jonathas the scribe. For he was the ruler of the prison.

16 Thus was Jeremy put into the dungeon and prison, and so lay there a long time. Then Zedekiah the king sent for him and called him, and asked him quietly in his own house, saying: thinkest thou this business (that now is in hand) cometh of the LORD? Jeremy answered: yea that it doth: and thou (said he) 18 shalt be delivered in to the king of Babylon's power. Moreover, Jeremy said unto king Zedekiah: What have I offended against thee, against thy servants or against this people, that ye have 19 caused me to be put in prison? Where are your prophets which have prophesied unto you, and said, that the king of Babylon 20 should not come against you and this land? And therefore hear now, O my lord the king: let my prayer be accepted before thee, and send me no more into the house of Jonathas 21 the Scribe, that I die not there. Then Zedekiah the king commanded to put Jeremy in the fore entry of the prison, and daily to be given him a cake of bread, and else no dight meat, until all the bread in the city was eaten up. Thus Jeremy remained in the fore entry of the prison.

Saphatiah the son of Mathan, Godoliah the son of Phashur, XXXVIII and Jucal the son of Selemiah, and Phashur the son of Melchiah, perceived the words, that Jeremy had spoken unto all the people, namely on this manner: Thus sayeth the LORD: Who so 2 remaineth in this city, shall perish, either with the sword, with hunger or with pestilence: But who so falleth unto the Caldees, shall escape, winning his soul for a pray, and shall live. For 3 thus sayeth the LORD. This city (no doubt) must be delivered into the power of the king of Babylon, and he also shall win it. Then said the princes unto the king: Sir, we beseech you let 4 this man be put to death; For thus he discourageth the hands of the soldiers that be in this city, and the hands of all the people, when he speaketh such words unto them. This man verily 5 laboureth not for peace of the people, but mischief. Zedekiah the king answered and said: Lo, he is in your hands, for the king may deny you nothing. Then took they Jeremy, and cast 6 him into the dungeon of Melchiah the son of Hamelech, that dwelt in the fore entry of the prison. And they let down Jeremy with cords into a dungeon, where there was no water, but mire. So Jeremy stack fast in the mire. Now when Abedmelech the 7 Morian being a chamberlain in the king's court, understood, that they had cast Jeremy in to the dungeon: he went out of 8 the king's house, and spake to the king, (which then sat under the port of Ben Jamin) these words: My lord the king, 9 where as these men meddle with Jeremy the prophet, they do him wrong: Namely, in that they have put him in prison, there to die of hunger for there is no more bread in the city. Then 10 the king commanded Abedmelech the Morian and said: Take from hence thirty men whom thou wilt, and draw up Jeremy the prophet out of the dungeon, before he die. So Abedmelech 11 took the men with him, and went to the house of Amalech, and there under an almery he gat old rags and worn clothes, and let them down by a cord, into the dungeon to Jeremy. And Abed- 12 melech the Morian said unto the prophet Jeremy: O put these rags and clothes under thine arm holes, betwixt them and the cords: And Jeremy did so. So they drew up Jeremy with cords 13 and took him out of the dungeon, and he remained in the fore entry of the prison. Then Zedekiah the king sent and caused 14

Jeremy the prophet be called unto him, into the third entry, that was by the house of the LORD. And the king said unto Jeremy: I will ask thee somewhat but hide nothing from me.

15 Then Jeremy answered Zedekiah: If I be plain unto thee, thou wilt cause me suffer death: If I give thee counsel, thou wilt not 16 follow me. So the king swore an oath secretly unto Jeremy, saying: As truly as the LORD liveth, that made us these souls, I will not slay thee, nor give thee in to the hands of them that 17 seek after thy life. Then said Jeremy unto Zedekiah: Thus sayeth the LORD of Hosts the God of Israel: If cause be, that thou wilt go forth unto the king of Babylon's princes, thou shalt save thy life, and this city shall not be brent, yea both thou and 18 thy household shall escape with your lives. But if thou wilt not go forth to the king of Babylon's princes, then shall this city be delivered into the hands of the Caldees which shall set 19 fire upon it, and thou shalt not be able to escape them. And Zedekiah said unto Jeremy: I am afraid for the Jews, that are fled unto the Caldees, lest I come in their hands, and so they to 20 have me in derision. But Jeremy answered: No, they shall not betray thee: O hearken unto the voice of the LORD (I beseech thee) which I speak unto thee, so shalt thou be well, and save 21 thy life. But if thou wilt not go forth, the LORD hath told me 22 this plainly: Behold, all the women that are left in the king of Judah's house, shall go out to the king of Babylon's princes. For they think, that thou art deceived: and that the men in whom thou didst put thy trust, have gotten thee under, and set thy 23 feet fast in the mire, and gone their way from thee. Therefore all thy wives with their children shall flee unto the Caldees, and thou shalt not escape their hands, but shalt be the king 24 of Babylon's prisoner, and this city shall be brent. Then said Zedekiah unto Jeremy: Look that no body know of these words, and thou shalt not die. But if the princes perceive, that I have 25 talked with thee, and come unto thee, saying: O speak, what said the king to thee? hide it not from us, and we will not put thee to death. Tell us (we pray thee) what said the king to thee?
26 See thou give them this answer: I have humbly besought the king, that he will let me lie no more in Jehonathan's house, that I die not there. Then came all the princes unto Jeremy, 27 and asked him. And he told them, after the manner as the king bade him. Then they held their peace, for they perceived nothing. So Jeremy abode still in the fore entry of the prison, 28 until the day that Jerusalem was won.

Now when the city of Jerusalem was taken (for in the ninth XXXIX year of Zedekiah king of Judah, in the tenth Month, came Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon and all his Host, and besieged Jerusalem. And in the eleventh year of Zedekiah in the 2 fourth Month the ninth day of that Month, he brake in to the city) Then all the princes of the king of Babylon, came in, and 3 sat them down under the port: Nerergel, Sarsezer, Samegar-nabo, Sarsechim, Rabsaris, Nergel, Sarsezer, Rabmag, with all the other princes of the king of Babylon. And when Zedekiah 4 the king of Judah with his soldiers saw them, they fled, and departed out of the city by night thorow the king's garden, and thorow the port that is between the two walls, and so they went toward the wilderness. But the Caldees' Host followed 5 fast after them, and took Zedekiah in the field of Jericho, and brought him prisoner to Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon unto Reblath, that lieth in the land of Hemath where he gave judgment upon him. So the king of Babylon caused the chil- 6 dren of Zedekiah and all the nobles of Judah be slain, before his face at Reblah. And made Zedekiah's eyes to be put out, 7 and bound him with chains, and sent him to Babylon. More- 8 over, the Caldees brent up the king's palace, with the other houses of the people, and brake down the walls of Jerusalem.
As for the remnant of the people that were in the city, and 9 such as were come to help them (whatsoever was left of the common sort) Nabuzaradan the chief captain carried them to Babylon. But Nabuzaradan the chief captain let the rascall 10 people (and those that had nothing) dwell still in the land of Judah, and gave them vineyards and corn fields at the same time. Nabuchodonosor also the king of Babylon gave Nabu- 11 zaradan the chief captain a charge, concerning Jeremy, saying: Take and cherish him, and make much of him: see thou do 12 him no harm, but intreat him after his own desire. So Na- 13 buzaradan the chief captain, Nabusasban the chief chamberlain, Nergalsarezer the treasurer and all the king of Babylon's lords, sent for Jeremy, and caused him be fet out of the fore 14 entry of the prison, and committed him unto Godoliah the son of Ahikam the son of Saphan: that he should carry him home, and so he dwelt among the people. Now while Jeremy lay yet 15 bound in the fore entry of the prison, the word of the LORD 16 came unto him, saying: Go and tell Abedmelech the Morian: Thus sayeth the LORD of Hosts the God of Israel: Behold, the cruel and sharp plague that I have devised for this city, will 17 I bring upon them, that thou shalt see it: but I will deliver thee (sayeth the LORD) and thou shalt not come in the hands 18 of those men, whom thou fearest. For doubtless I will save thee, so that thou shalt not perish with the sword: but thy life shall be saved, and that because thou hast put thy trust in me, sayeth the LORD.

XL This is the manner how the LORD intreated Jeremy, when Nabuzaradan the chief Captain had let him go free from Raniah, whither he had led him bound among all the prisoners, that were carried from Jerusalem and Judah unto Babylon.
 2 The chief Captain called for Jeremy, and said unto him: The LORD thy God spake mightily before of the misery upon this 3 place: Now the LORD hath sent it, and performed it as he had promised: For ye have sinned against the LORD, and have not been obedient to his voice, therefore cometh this plague upon 4 you. Behold, I loose* the bounds from thy hands this day: if thou wilt now go with me unto Babylon, up then: for I will see to thee, and provide for thee: But if thou wilt not go with me to Babylon, then remain here. Behold, all the land is at thy will, look where thou thinkest convenient and good for thee 5 to abide, there dwell. If thou canst not be content to dwell alone, then remain with Godoliah the son of Ahicam, the son of Saphan: whom the king of Babylon hath made governor over the cities of Judah, and dwell with him among the people, or remain wheresoever it pleaseth thee. So the chief Captain of the guard gave him his expenses with a reward, and let him 6 go. Then went Jeremy unto Godoliah the son of Ahikam to Mazpah, and dwelt there with him among the people that 7 were left in the land. Now when the captains of the Host of Juda (which with their fellows were scattered abroad on every side in the land) understood that the king of Babylon had made Godoliah the son of Ahicam governor in the land, and that man, wife and child, yea and the poor men in the land (that were not led captive to Babylon) should be under his Jurisdic-8 tion: They came to Godoliah unto Mazpah: Namely, Ishmael

40. v.4 Other: lowse.

the son of Nathaniah, and Johanan and Jonathah the sons of Careah, and Saraiah the son of Thanhometh, and the sons of Ophai the Netophathite, and Jesaniah the son of Maachati, with their companions. And Godoliah the son of Ahicam, the son of Saphan, swore unto them and their fellows on this manner: Be not afraid to serve the Caldees, dwell in the land, and do the king of Babylon service, so shall ye prosper. Behold, I dwell at Mazphah to be an officer in the Caldees behalf, and to satisfy such as come to us. Therefore gather you wine, corn and oil, and keep them in your ware houses, and dwell in your cities that ye have in keeping. Yea all the Jews also that dwelt in Moab, under the Ammonites, in Idumea and in all the countries, when they heard, that the king of Babylon had made Godoliah the son of Ahicam the son of Saphan, governor upon them that were left in Juda: All the Jews (I say) returned out of all places where they* fled unto: and came in to the land of Judah, to Godoliah unto Mazphah, and gathered wine and other fruits, and that very much. Moreover Johanan the son of Careah and all the captains of the Host, that were scattered on every side in the land, came to Godoliah to Mazphah, and said unto him: knowest thou not that Baalis king of the Ammonites hath sent Ismael the son of Nathaniah, to slay thee? But Godoliah the son of Ahicam believed them not. Then said Johanan the son of Careah unto Godoliah in Mazphah these words secretly: Let me go, I pray thee, and I will slay Ismael the son of Nathaniah, so that no body shall know it. Wherefore will he kill thee, that all the Jews which resort unto thee, might be scattered, and the remnant in Judah perish? Then said Godoliah the son of Ahicam to Johanan the son of Careah: Thou shalt not do it, for they are but lies, that men say of Ismael.

But in the seventh Month it happened, that Ismael the son of Nathaniah the son of Elisama (one of the king's blood) came with them that were greatest about the king, and ten men that were sworn with him: unto Godoliah the son of Ahicam to Mazphah, and ate there together. And Ismael the son of Nathaniah, with those ten men that were sworn to him, start up, and smote Godoliah the son of Ahicam the son of Saphan with the sword, and slew him, whom the king of Babylon had

v.12 Other: were.

3 made governor of the land. Ismael also slew all the Jews that were with Godoliah at Mazpah, and all the Caldees that he 4 found there waiting upon him. The next day after that he had 5 slain Godoliah (the matter was yet unknown) there came certain men from Sichem, from Siloh and Samaria, to the number of eighty, which had shaven their beards, rent their clothes, and were all heavy, bringing meat offerings, and incense in 6 their hands, to offer it in the house of the LORD. And Ismael the son of Nathaniah went forth of Mazpah weeping, to meet them. Now when he met them, he said: Go your way to Godo-7 liah the son of Ahicam. And when they came in the midst of the city, Ismael the son of Nathaniah (with them that were sworn unto him) slew them, even at the midst of the pit.
8 Among these eighty men there were ten, that said unto Ismael: Oh slay us not, for we have yet a great treasure in the field, of wheat, barley, oil and honey. So he spared them, and slew them 9 not with their brethren. Now the pit wherein Ismael did cast the dead bodies of the men (whom he slew because of Godoliah) had king Asa caused to be made, for fear of Baasa the king of 10 Israel, and the same pit did Ismael fill with slain men. As for the remnant of the people, the king's daughters and all the people that were yet left at Mazpah, upon whom Nabusaradan the chief Captain had made Godoliah the son of Ahicam gov-11 oners toward the Ammonites. But when Johanan the son of Careah, and all they which had been captains over the king's Host with him, heard of all the wickedness that Ismael the 12 son of Nathaniah had done: they took their companions, and went out for to fight with Ismael the son of Nathaniah, and 13 found him by the waters of Rabim in Gabaon. Now when all the people, whom Ismael led captive, saw Johanan the son of Careah and all the other Captains of the Host, they were glad.
14 So all the people that Ismael had carried away from Mazpah, were brought again. And when they returned, they came to 15 Johanan the son of Careah. But Ismael the son of Nathaniah fled from Johanan with eight of his sworn companions, and 16 went to the Ammonites. Then Johanan the son of Careah, and all the captains of the Host that were with him, took the remnant of the people, whom Ismael the son of Nathaniah had led away (when he had slain Godoliah the son of Ahicam) whom they also had rescued from him: fighting men, women and children, and gelded men, whom they brought again from Gabaon: and went from thence, and sat them down at Geruth Camaam, 17 which lieth beside Bethlehem, that they might go into Egypt for fear of the Caldees: of whom they were afraid, because 18 that Ismael the son of Nathaniah had slain Godoliah Ahikam's son, whom the king of Babylon had made governor in the land.

So all the rulers, and Johanan the son of Kareah, Jezaniah XLII the son of Osaiah came with all the people from the least unto the most, and said unto Jeremy the prophet: O hear our petition, that thou mayest pray for us unto the LORD thy God, and for the remnant, whereof there be very few left of many, as thou seest us: that the LORD thy God may shew us a way 3 to go in, and tell us, what we should do. Then Jeremy the 4 Prophet said unto them: I have heard you. Behold, I will pray unto God your LORD, as ye have required me: and look what answer the LORD giveth you, I shall certify you thereof, and keep nothing back from you. And they said to Jeremy: The 5 LORD of truth and faithfulness be our record, that we will do all, that the LORD thy God commandeth us, whether it be 6 good or evil. We will hearken unto the voice of our LORD God to whom we send thee that we may prosper, when we have followed the voice of the LORD our God. And after ten days, 7 came the word of the LORD unto Jeremy. Then called he Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the captains of the people that were with him: Yea and all the people from the least to the most, and said unto them: Thus sayeth the LORD God of 9 Israel unto whom ye sent me, to lay forth your prayers before him: If ye will dwell in this land, I shall build you up, and not break you down: I shall plant you, and not root you out: for I am pacified, as concerning the trouble that I have done to you. Fear not the king of Babylon, of whom ye stand in awe: O be 11 not afraid of him, sayeth the LORD: for I will be with you, to help you, and deliver you from his hand. I will pardon you, I 12 will have mercy upon you, and bring you again into your own land. Nevertheless, if ye purpose not to dwell in this land, nor 13 to follow the voice of the LORD your God: but will say thus, 14 we will not dwell here, but go into Egypt: where we shall neither see war, hear the noise of battle, nor suffer hunger, there will we dwell. Wherefore hear now the word of the LORD, 15

O ye remnant of Judah. Thus sayeth the LORD of Hosts the God of Israel: If ye be wholly purposed to go into Egypt, and to 16 be there as strangers: the sword that ye fear, shall overtake you in Egypt: and the hunger whereof ye be here afraid, shall 17 hang upon you into Egypt and there ye shall die. For all they, that of set purpose undertake to go into Egypt, there to ease themselves of their misery, shall perish with the sword, with hunger and pestilence: not one of them shall remain, there 18 shall none escape the plague, that I will bring upon them. For thus sayeth the LORD of Hosts the God of Israel: Like as my wrath and indignation is come upon the inhabitants of Jerusalem, so shall my displeasure go forth upon you also, if ye go into Egypt: For there ye shall be reviled, abhorred, brought to shame and confusion: and as for this place, ye shall never see 19 it more. The LORD forbideth you (O ye remnant of Juda) that ye shall not go in to Egypt. And forget not that I have warned 20 you earnestly this day else shall ye beguile yourselves. For ye sent me unto the LORD your God and said: O pray thou the LORD our God for us: and look what answer the LORD our God giveth thee, that bring us again, and we shall do there-21 after. Now have I shewed, and declared unto you the voice of the LORD your God, for the which cause he hath sent me to 22 you. If ye will not follow it be sure that ye shall perish with the sword, with hunger and pestilence: even in the same place, where your lust was to go, and dwell.

XLIII Now when Jeremy had ended all the words of the LORD God unto the people (for their sakes to whom God had sent him) 2 Azariah the son of Osaiah, and Johanan the son of Kareah with all the proud persons, said unto Jeremy: Thou liest, the LORD our God hath not sent thee to speak unto us, that we should 3 not go into Egypt, and dwell there: But Baruch the son of Neriah provoketh thee against us, that he might bring us into the captivity of the Caldees: that they might slay us, and carry us 4 away prisoners unto Babylon. So Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the captains of the host, and all the people followed not the commandment of the LORD: Namely, to dwell in the land of 5 Judah: But Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the captains of the host, carried away all the remnant in Judah, that were come together again from the Heathen (among whom they had 6 been scattered) to dwell in the land of Judah: Men, women, children, the king's daughters: all those that Nabuzaradan the chief captain had left with Godoliah the son of Ahikam: They carried away also the prophet Jeremy, Baruch the son of Neriah, and so came in to Egypt: for they were not obedient, 7 unto the commandment of GOD. Thus came they to Thaphnis. And in Thaphnis the word of the LORD happened unto Jeremy, 8 saying: Take great stones in thine hand, and hide them in the brick wall, under the door of Pharaoh's house in Thaphnis, 9 that all the men of Judah may see, and say unto them: Thus sayeth the LORD of Hosts the God of Israel: Behold, I will send 10 and call for Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon my servant, and will set his seat upon these stones that I have hid, and he shall spread his tent over them. And when he cometh, he 11 shall smite the land of Egypt with slaughter, with prisonment, and with the sword. He shall set fire upon the temples of the 12 Egyptian gods, and burn them up, and take themselves prisoners. Moreover he shall array himself with the land of Egypt, like as a shepherd putteth on his coat, and shall depart his way from thence in peace. The pillars also of the temple of 13 the Sunne that is in Egypt: shall he break in pieces, and burn the temples of the Egyptian's gods.

This is the word that was shewed to Jeremy concerning all XLIV the Jews, which dwelt in Egypt: at Magdal, at Thaphnis, at Memphis, and in the land of Patures. Thus sayeth the LORD 2 of Hosts the God of Israel: Ye have seen all the misery that I have brought upon Jerusalem, and upon all the cities of Judah: so that this day they are desolate, and no man dwelling therein: and that because of the great blasphemies, which 3 they committed, to provoke me unto anger: In that they went back to do sacrifice, and worship unto strange gods: whom neither they, nor ye, nor your fathers have known. How be it, I 4 sent unto them my servants all the prophets: I rose up early, I sent unto them, and gave them warning: O do no such abominable things, and things that I hate. But they would not 5 follow nor hearken, to turn from their wickedness, and to do no more sacrifice unto strange gods. Wherefore mine indignation and wrath was kindled, and it brent up the cities of 6 Judah, the fields with the streets of Jerusalem, so that they were made waste and desolate, as it is come to pass this day. Now therefore thus sayeth the LORD of Hosts the God of Is- 7

rael: How happeneth it, that ye do so great evil unto your own souls, thus to destroy the men and women, children and babes 8 of Judah? so that none of you is left, because ye provoke me unto wrath with the works of your own hands: when ye offer unto strange gods in the land of Egypt where as ye be gone to dwell: That ye might utterly perish, and that ye might be re-9 viled and shamefully intreated of all nations. Or have ye now forgotten the wickedness of your forefathers, the wickedness of the kings of Judah and their wives, the wickedness that ye yourselves and your wives have done in the land of Judah, in 10 the city and in the land of Jerusalem? Yet are ye not sorry this day, ye fear not, neither walk ye in my law and my commandments, that I have given unto you and your forefathers.
11 Therefore thus sayeth the LORD of Hosts the God of Israel: I am steadfastly advised and determined, to punish you, and to 12 root out all Judah. As for the remnant of Judah that purposely went into Egypt, there to ease them of their misery: I will take them and they shall all be destroyed. In the land of Egypt shall they perish, being consumed with the sword and with hunger. For from the least unto the most, they shall perish with the sword and with hunger. More over they shall be 13 reviled, abhorred, shamed and confounded. For I will visit* them that dwell in Egypt, as I have visited Jerusalem: with 14 the sword, with hunger and with pestilence: So that none of the remnant of Judah, which are gone to dwell in Egypt shall be left to come again into the land of Judah all though they think to come thither again, and to dwell there. For none shall 15 come again, but such as are fled away. Then all the men which knew that their wives had offered unto strange gods, and a great sort of wives that stood there, yea and all the people that dwelt there in Egypt in the city of Patures, answered Jeremy, 16 and said: As for the words that thou hast spoken unto us in 17 the name of the LORD, we will in no wise hear them: But whatsoever goeth out of our own mouth, that will we do: We will do sacrifice, and offer oblations unto the Queen of heaven: like as we and our forefathers, our kings and our heads have done in the cities of Judah, and in the streets and fields of Jerusalem. For then had we plenteousness of vitailles, then were 18 we in prosperity, and no misfortune came upon us. But since

44. v.13 Other: upset.

we left,* to offer, and to do sacrifice unto the Queen of heaven, we have had scarceness of all things, and perish with the sword and hunger. Last of all, when we women did sacrifice and offered unto the Queen of heaven, did we make her cakes and pour unto her drink offerings, to do her service, without our husbands' wills? Then said Jeremy unto all the people, to the men, to the women, and to all the folk, which had given him that answer: Did not the LORD remember the sacrifices that ye, your forefathers, your kings and rulers (with all the people) have offered in the cities of Judah, in the streets and land of Jerusalem? and hath he not considered this in his mind? In so much, that the LORD might no longer suffer the wickedness of your inventions, and the abominable things which ye did?
Is not your land desolate and void, yea and abhorred, so that no man dwelleth therein any more, as it is come to pass this day? Did not all this happen unto you, because ye made such sacrifice, and sinned against the LORD? Ye have not followed his voice, to walk in his law, in his ordinances and statutes.
Yea this is the cause, that all misfortune happened unto you, as it is come to pass this day. Moreover, Jeremy spake unto all the people and to all the women: Hear the word of the LORD all Judah, ye that be in the land of Egypt: Thus sayeth the LORD of Hosts the God of Israel: Ye and your wives have spoken with your own mouth, the thing that ye have fulfilled in deed: Yea thus have ye said: We will not fail, but do the thing that pleaseth us: we will do sacrifice and pour out drink offerings to the Queen of heaven. Purposely have ye set up your own good meanings, and hastily have ye fulfilled your own intent. And therefore, hear the word of the LORD all Judah, ye that dwell in the land of Egypt. Behold, I have sworn by my great name, sayeth the LORD, that my name shall not be rehearsed thorow any man's mouth of Juda, in all the land of Egypt: to say: The Lord GOD liveth, for I will watch, to plague them, and not for their wealth. And all the men of Judah that be in the land of Egypt, shall perish with the sword and with hunger, until they be utterly destroyed. Nevertheless, those that fled away for the sword, shall come again into the land of Judah, but there shall be very few of them. And all the remnant of Judah, that are gone into Egypt, there to dwell, shall v.18 Other: left off.

29 know whose words shall be found true: theirs or mine. Take this for a token, that I will visit you in this place, sayeth the LORD, and that ye may know, how that I (without doubt) will 30 perform my purpose upon you to punish you. Behold, sayeth the LORD, I will deliver Pharaoh Hophra king of Egypt into the hands of his enemies, that seek after his life: even as I gave Zedekiah the king of Judah into the hands of Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon, which sought after his life.

XLV These are the words that Jeremy the prophet spake unto Baruch the son of Neriah, after that he had written these Sermons into a book at the mouth of Jeremy; In the fourth year 2 of Jehoakim the son of Josiah king of Judah. Thus sayeth 3 the LORD God of Israel unto thee, O Baruch: In so much as thou thoughtest thus, when thou wast writing: Woe is me, the LORD hath given me pain for my travail: I have wearied my-4 self with sighing, and shall I find no rest? Therefore tell him, O Jeremy that the LORD sayeth thus: Behold; The thing that I have builded, will I break down again, and root out the thing, 5 that I have planted, yea this whole land. And seekest thou yet promotion? Look not for it, and desire it not. For I will bring a miserable plague upon all flesh sayeth the LORD. But thy life will I give thee for a prey, wheresoever thou goest.

XLVI Here follow the words of the LORD to the prophet Jeremy 2 which he spake unto the Gentiles. These words following preached he to the Egyptians concerning the Host of Pharaoh Necho king of Egypt, when he was in Carcamis beside the water of Euphrates: what time as Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon slew him; In the fourth year of Jehoakim the son of 3 Josiah king of Judah. Ye make ready buckler and shield, ye go 4 forth to fight: Ye harness your horses, and set yourselves upon them: Ye set your salettes fast on, ye bring forth your spears, 5 ye scour your swords, and put on your breastplates. But alas, how happeneth it, that I see you so afraid? why shrink ye back?
Wherefore are your worthies slain: Yea they run so fast away, that none of them looketh behind him. Fearfulness is fallen 6 upon every one of them, sayeth the LORD. The lightest of foot shall not flee away, and the worthies shall not escape. Toward the north by the water of Euphrates, they shall stumble and 7 fall. But what is he this, that swelleth up, as it were a flood, 8 roaring and raging like the streams of water? It is Egypt that riseth up like a flood, and casteth out the waters with so great noise. For they say: We will go up, and will cover the earth: we will destroy the cities, with them that dwell therein. Get you 9 to horse back roll forth the Chariots, come forth ye worthies: ye Morians, ye Libeans with your bucklers, ye Libeans with your bows: So shall this day be unto the Lord GOD of Hosts, 10 a day of vengeance, that he may avenge him of his enemies.

 The sword shall devour, it shall be satisfied and bathed in their blood: For the Lord GOD of Hosts shall have a slain offering toward the North, by the water of Euphrates. Go up, (O Gilead) 11 and bring triacle unto the daughter of Egypt: But in vain shalt thou go to surgery, for thy wound shalt not be stopped. The 12 Heathen shall hear of thy shame, and the land shall be full of thy confusion: for one strong man shall stumble upon another, how then should they not fall both together? These are the 13 words that the LORD spake to the prophet Jeremy, concerning the host of Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon, which was sent to destroy the land of Egypt. Preach out thorow the land 14 of Egypt, and cause it be proclaimed at Magdal, Memphis, and Thaphnis, and say: Stand still, make thee ready, for the sword shall consume thee round about. How happeneth it that thy 15 mighty worthies are fallen? why stood they not fast? Even because the LORD thrust them down. The slaughter was great, 16 for one fell ever still upon another. One cried upon another: Up, let us go again to our own people, and to our own natural country, from the sword of our enemy. Cry even there: O 17 Pharao king of Egypt, the time will bring sedition. As truly 18 as I live (sayeth the King, whose name is the LORD of Hosts) it shall come as the mount of Thabor, and as Libanus if it stood in the sea. O thou daughter of Egypt make ready thy gear to flit. 19 For Memphis shall be void desolate, so that no man shall dwell therein. The land of Egypt is like a goodly fair calf, but one 20 shall come out of the north to prick* her forward. Her waged soldiers that be with her, are like fat calves. They also shall flee away together, and not abide: for the day of their slaughter and the time of their visitation shall come upon them. The 22 cry of their enemies shall make a noise, as the blast of a trumpet. For they shall enter in with their host, and come with axes, as it were hewers down of wood. And they shall cut 23

46. v.20 Other: drive.

down her wood, sayeth the LORD, without any discretion. For they shall be more in number than the grasshoppers, so that no 24 man shall be able to tell them. The daughter of Egypt shall be confounded when she shall be delivered into the hands of 25 the people of the north. Moreover sayeth the LORD of Hosts the God of Israel: Behold I will visit that restless people of Alexandria, Pharao and Egypt, yea both their gods and their kings: even Pharao, and all them that put their trust in* him.
 26 Yea I will deliver them into the hands of those, that seek after their lives: Namely, into the power of Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon, and in to the power of his servants. And after all these things, it shall be inhabited as afore time, sayeth the 27 LORD. But be not thou afraid (O my servant Jacob) fear not thou, O Israel. For lo, I will help thee from far, and thy seed from the land of thy captivity. Jacob also shall come again, and be in rest: he shall be rich, and no man shall do him harm.
 28 Fear thou not, (O Jacob my servant) sayeth the LORD, for I am with thee: and will destroy all nations, among whom I have scattered thee. Nevertheless I will not consume thee, but chasten thee and correct thee: yea and that with discretion: neither will I spare thee as one that were faultless.

XLVII

These are the words, that the LORD spake unto Jeremy the prophet against the Philistines, before that Pharao smote the 2 city of Aza.* Thus sayeth the LORD: Behold, there shall waters arise out of the North: And shall grow to a great flood, running over and covering the land, the cities, and them that dwell therein. And the men shall cry, and all they that dwell
 3 in the land, shall mourn at the noise and stamping of their strong barbed horses, at the shaking of their chariots and at the rumbling of the wheels. The fathers shall not look to their 4 children, so feeble and weary shall their hands be: at the same time, when he shall be there, to destroy the whole land of the Philistines. He shall make waste both Tirus and Sidon and all other that are sworn unto them. For the LORD will destroy all Philistina,* and the other Isles, that be divided from 5 the country. Baldness is come upon Azah,* Ascalon with her 6 other valleys shall keep her peace. How long wilt thou slay, O thou sword of the LORD? Turn again unto thy* sheath, rest, v.25 Other: listen unto. 47. v.1 Other: Gaza. v.4 Other: Palestina. v.5 Other: Gaza. v.6 Other: the.

and leave off. But how can it cease, when the LORD himself 7 hath given him* a charge against Ascalon, and raised it up against the cities of the sea coast?

Thus sayeth the LORD of Hosts, the God of Israel against XLVIII Moab: Woe be to the city of Nabo, for it shall be laid waste, brought to confusion and taken. Yea the strong city of Kariathiarim shall be brought to shame, and afraid: Moab shall no more be 2 had in honour: Wicked counsel shall be taken upon Hesebon.
Come, (shall they say) let us root them out, that they may be no more among the number of the Gentiles, yea that they may no more be thought upon: Thus the sword shall persecute thee:
A voice shall cry from Horonaim; With great wasting and de- 3 struction, is Moab made desolate. And this cry shall be heard 4 in all her cities. At the going up unto Luith there shall arise a 5 lamentation: and down toward Horonaim, there shall be heard a cruel and deadly cry: Get you away, save your lives and be 6 like unto the heeth in the wilderness. For because thou hast 7 trusted in thy strongholds and treasure, thou shalt be taken Chamos with his priests and princes shall go away into captivity. The destroyer shall come upon all cities, none shall 8 escape. The valleys shall be destroyed, and the fields shall be laid waste: like as the LORD hath determined. Make a token 9 unto Moab, that she get her away speedily: for her cities shall be made so desolate, that no man shall dwell therein. Cursed 10 be he that doth the work of the LORD negligently, and cured be he that keepeth back his sword from shedding of blood. Moab 11 hath ever been rich and careless from her youth up, she hath sitten and taken her ease with her treasure. She was never yet put out of one vessel into another, that is, she never went away in to captivity, therefore her taste remaineth, and her savour is not yet changed. But lo, the time cometh, sayeth the LORD, 12 that I shall send her trussers to truss her up, to prepare and season her vessels: yea her tankards rattle and shake to and fro. And Moab shall be ashamed of Chamos, like as Israel was 13 ashamed of Bethel, wherein she put her trust. Wherefore do 14 ye think thus: We are mighty, and strong men of war? Moab 15 shall be destroyed, her cities brent up: her chosen young men shall be slain, sayeth the King, whose name is the LORD of Hosts. The destruction of Moab cometh on a pace, and her fall 16 v.7 Other: it.

17 is at hand. All her neighbours shall mourn for her, and all they that know her name, shall say: O how happeneth it, that 18 the strong staff and the goodly rod is thus broken? And thou daughter Dibon, come down from thy glory, and sit in poverty.
For he that destroyeth Moab, shall come up to thee also, and 19 break down thy strong holds. And thou that dwellest in Aroer, get thee to the street, and look about thee: ask them that are 20 fled and escaped, and say: What thing is happened? O Moab is confounded and overcome. Mourn and cry, tell it out at Ar-21 mon, that Moab is destroyed. And misery shall come upon the plain land: Namely, upon Holon, and Jahazah, upon Mephaath 22, 23 and Dibon, upon Nabo, and the house of Deblathaim, upon 24 Cariathiarim and Bethgamul, upon Bethmaon and Carioth, upon Bozrah and all the cities of the land of Moab, whether 25 they lie far or near. The horn of Moab shall be smitten down, 26 and her arm broken, sayeth the LORD. Make her drunken, for she magnified herself above the LORD, that men may clap their hands at her vomit, and that she also may be laughed 27 into scorn. O Israel, shalt thou not laugh him to scorn, when he is taken among thieves? Yea because of thy words that 28 thou hast spoken against him, thou shalt be driven away. Ye Moabites shall leave the cities, and dwell in rocks of stone, 29 and become like doves, that make their nests in holes. As for Moab's pride, we have heard of it, she is very high minded. I know her stoutness, her boasting,* her arrogancy and the pride 30 of her stomach, sayeth the LORD. For her furrriousness may 31 neither uphold her with strength nor deed. Therefore shall their mourning be made for Moab, and every man shall cry for Moab's sake: a lamentation shall be made to the men that 32 stand upon the wall. So will I mourn for thee also O Jazer, and for thee, O thou vineyard of Sabamah. Thy wine branches shall come over the sea, and the branches of Jazer but unto the sea: the destroyer shall break into thy harvest and grape 33 gathering: Mirth and cheer shall be taken away from the timber field, and from the whole land of Moab. There shall be no sweet wine in the press, the treader shall have no stomach to 34 cry, yea there shall be none to cry unto him: which afore time were heard from Hesebon to Eleale, and Jahaz, which lifted up their voice from Zoar unto Horonaim, that bullock of three year

48. v.29 Other: boasting.

old. The waters also of Nemrim shall be dried up. Moreover 35 I will make Moab cease (sayeth the LORD) from the offerings and censuring that she hath made unto her gods in high places.
 Wherefore my heart mourneth for Moab, like a crowd playing 36 an heavy song: and for the men's sake of the brick wall my heart mourneth also, even as a pipe that pipeth a doleful song: for they shall be very few, and destroyed. All heads shall be 37 shaven, and all beards clipped off: all hands bound, and all loins girded about with sack cloth. Upon all the housetops 38 and streets of Moab, there shall be mourning: For I will break Moab like an unprofitable vessel sayeth the LORD. O how 39 fearful is she? O how mourneth she? O how doth Moab hang down her head, and is ashamed? Thus shall Moab be a laughing stock, and had in derision of all them, that be round about her. For thus sayeth the LORD: Behold, the enemy shall come 40 flying as an Aegle, and spread his wings upon Moab. They 41 shall climb over the walls, and win the strongholds. Then the mighty men's hearts in Moab shall be like the heart of a woman travailing with child. And Moab shall be made so desolate, 42 that she shall no more be a people, because she hath set up herself against the LORD. Fear, pit, and snare shall come 43 upon thee (O Moab) sayeth the LORD. Who so escapeth the 44 fear, shall fall in the pit: and who so getteth out of the pit, shall be taken in the snare. For I will bring a year of visitation upon Moab, sayeth the LORD. They that are able to flee, shall 45 stand under the shadow of Hesebon. For there shall go a fire out of Heshbon, and a flame from Sion, and shall burn up that proud people of Moab, both before and behind. Woe be unto 46 thee, (O Moab) for thou people of Chamos shall perish: Yea thy sons and daughters shall be led away captive. Yet at the 47 last will I bring Moab out of captivity again, sayeth the LORD.
 Thus far of the plague of Moab.

As concerning the Ammonites, thus the LORD sayeth: Hath XLIX Israel no children, or is he without an heir? Why hath your king then taken Gad in? Wherefore doth his people dwell in his cities? Behold therefore, the time cometh (sayeth the LORD) 2 that I will bring a noise of war into Rabah of the Ammonites.
 Lahel shall be desolate, and her cities brent up: and the Israelites shall be lords over those that had them in possession afore, sayeth the LORD. Hesebon shall mourn, for it shall be 3 rooted* out of the ground, sayeth the LORD. The cities of Rabah shall cry out, and gird themselves with sackcloth: they shall mourn, and run about the walls: for their king shall be led 4 away prisoner: yea his priests and princes with him. Wherefore trustest thou in the water streams, that flow to and fro, O thou fierce daughter: and thinkest thou art so safe (by reason of thy treasure) that no man shall come to thee? Behold, 5 I will bring a fear upon thee, sayeth the Lord GOD of Hosts, from all those that be about thee: so that ye shall be scattered every man from another, and no man shall gather them

 6 together again that be fled. But after that, I will bring the Ammonites also out of captivity again. Upon the Edomites 7 hath the LORD of Hosts spoken on this manner: Is there no wisdom in Thema? Is there no more good counsel among his 8 people? Is their wisdom then turned clean to naught? Get you hence, turn your backs, creep down into the deep, O ye citizens of Dedan. For I will bring destruction upon Esau, ye 9 and the day of his visitation. If the grape gathers come upon thee, should they not leave some grapes? If the night robbers came upon thee, should they not take so much as they thought 10 were enough? But I will make Esau bare, and discover his secrets, so that he shall not be able to hide them. His seed shall be wasted away, yea his brethren and his neighbours, and he 11 himself shall not be left behind. Thou shalt leave thy fatherless children behind thee, and I will keep them and thy widows shall take their comforth in me. For thus hath the LORD spoken: Behold, they that men thought were unmete to drink of 12 the cup, have drunken with the first: and thinkest thou then to be free? No, no: thou shalt neither be quite nor free, but thou must drink also: For why, I have sworn by myself (sayeth the 13 LORD) that Bozrah shall become a wilderness, an open shame, a laughing stock and cursing: and her cities shall be a continual desert. For I am perfectly informed of the LORD, that 14 he hath sent a message all ready unto the Heathen. Gather you together, and go forth against them: make you ready to the battle, for lo: I will make thee but small among the 15 Heathen, and little regarded among men. Thy high* stomach and the pride of thy heart have deceived thee; Because thou wilt dwell in the holes of stony rocks, and have the high mountains in possession. Nevertheless though thy nest were as high as the Aegles, yet will I cast thee down, sayeth the LORD. More- 17 over Idumea shall be a wilderness: who so goeth by it, shall be abashed, and wonder at all her miserable plagues. Like 18 as Sodom, Gomor, and the cities that lay there about, were turned up side down (sayeth the LORD) so shall no body dwell in Idumea, and no man shall have his habitation there. Be- 19 hold, like as the Lion cometh up from the pleasant meadows of Jordan unto the green pastures of Etham, so will I drive him, and make him run against her. But who is the young man that I will ordain thereto? Who is like unto me? What is he that will strive with me? What shepherd may stand in my hands?

Therefore hear the counsel of the LORD, that he hath taken 20 upon Idumea: and his purpose, that he hath devised upon the citizens of Theman: The least of the flock shall tear them in pieces, and look what fair thing they have, they shall make it waste, and themselves also. At the noise of their fall, the 21 earth shall quake, the cry of their voice shall be heard to the red sea. Behold, the enemy shall come and flee up hither, like 22 as it were an Aegle and spread his wings upon Bozrah. Then shall the hearts of the worthies in Edom be as the heart of a woman travailing of child. Upon Damascus, Hamath and 23 Arphad shall come confusion, for they shall hear evil tidings:
they shall be tossed to and fro like the sea that can not stand still. Damascus shall be sore afraid, and shall flee, trembling 24 shall come upon her. Sorrow and pain shall over take her as a woman travailing of child. But how should so worshipful 25 and glorious a city be forsaken? Hear therefore: her young 26 men shall fall in the streets, and all her men of war shall be taken away in that time, sayeth the LORD of Hosts. I will 27 kindle a fire in the walls of Damascus, which shall consume the palace of Benhadad. As for Cedar and the kingdom of Ha- 28 zor, whom Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon smote down, the LORD hath spoken thus upon them: Arise, and get you up unto to Cedar, and destroy the people toward the east. Their 29 tents and their flocks shall they take away, yea their hangings and their vessel. Their Camels also shall they carry away with them. They shall come about them on every side with a fearful cry. Flee, get you soon away, creep into caves, that ye 30 may dwell there: O ye inhabitors of Hazor, sayeth the LORD.

For Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon hath holden a counsel 31 concerning you, and concluded his device against you. Arise, and get you up against yonder rich and careless people (sayeth the LORD) which have neither gates nor door bars, and that 32 dwell not together. Their camels shall be stolen, and the droves of their cattle driven away. Moreover, these that be shaven will I scatter toward all the winds, and bring them to destruction: yea and that thorow their own familiars, sayeth 33 the LORD. Hazor also shall be a dwelling for Dragons, and an everlasting wilderness: so that no body shall dwell there, 34 and no man shall have there his habitation. These are the words, that the LORD spake to the prophet Jeremy concerning Elam, in the beginning of the reign of Zedekiah king of Ju-35 dah. Thus sayeth the LORD of Hosts: Behold, I will break the bow of Elam, and take away their strength: and upon Elam 36 I will bring the four winds from the four quarters of heaven, and will scatter them against the same four winds: And there 37 shall be no people, but some of Elam shall flee unto them. For I will cause Elam to be afraid of their enemies, and of them that seek their lives: and will bring upon them the indignation of my wrath, sayeth the LORD. And I will persecute them with 38 the sword so long till I have brought them to naught. I will set my stool in Elam, I will destroy both the king and the princes 39 from thence, sayeth the LORD. But in process of time, I will bring Elam out of captivity again, sayeth the LORD.

L The words that the LORD spake unto the prophet Jeremy, 2 concerning Babylon, and the land of the Caldees: preach among the Gentiles, let your voice be heard, make a token: cry out, keep no silence, but say Babylon shall be won, Bel shall be confounded, and Merodach shall be overcome. Yea their gods shall 3 be brought to shame and their images shall stand in fear. For out of the north there shall come a people against her, which shall make her land so waste, that no body shall dwell therein: neither man nor beast, for they shall flee and depart from 4 thence. In those days, and at that time, sayeth the LORD, the children of Israel shall come, they and the children of Judah, weeping and making haste, and shall seek the LORD their 5 God. They shall ask the way to Sion, thither shall they turn their faces, and come and hang upon thee, in a covenant that 6 never shall be broken. My people hath been a lost flock, my shepherds have deceived them, and have made them go astray upon the hills. They have gone from the mountains to the little hill, and forgotten their fold. All they that came upon them, 7 have devoured them: and their enemies said: We have made no fault against them, for they have displeased the LORD, yea even the LORD which is the beauty of their righteousness, and that defended their fathers. Yet shall ye flee from Babylon, 8 and depart out of the land of the Caldees, and ye shall be as the rams that go before the flock. For lo, I will make up an host of 9 people from the northern land, and bring them upon Babylon: these shall lay siege to it, and win it: Their arrows shall not miss, like as a cunning archer shooteth * not wrong. And the 10 Chaldees shall be spoiled, and all they that spoil them, shall be satisfied, sayeth the LORD. Because ye were so cheerful and 11 glad, to tread down mine heritage, and fulfill your pleasures, as the calves in the grass: And triumphed over them like the bulls, when ye had gotten the victory. Your mothers shall be 12 sore confounded, and they that bare you, shall come to shame. She shall be the least set by among the nations, void, waste, and dried up. No man shall be able to dwell there, for the fear 13 of the LORD, but she shall be whole desolate. All they that go by Babylon, shall stand still, and be abashed, and shall wonder at all her plagues. Go forth in your array against Babylon 14 round about, all ye that can handle bows: shoot at her, spare no arrows, for she hath sinned against the LORD. Cry out: upon 15 her, upon her, against her round about: she shall yield herself, her foundations shall fall, and her walls shall come down, for it shall be the vengeance of the LORD. Yea vengeance shall be taken of her, and as she hath done, so shall she be dealt withal. They shall root out the sower from Babylon, and him that handleth the sickle in Harvest. For fear of the sword of the enemy, every man shall get him to his own people, and every man shall flee to his own land. Israel is a scattered flock, the Lions 17 have dispersed them. First the king of the Assyrians devoured them, last of all this Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon hath bruised all their bones. Therefore thus sayeth the LORD of 18 Hosts the God of Israel: Behold, I will visit the king of Babylon and his kingdom, as I have visited the king of the Assyrians. And will bring Israel again to his pleasant pasture, that he 19 may feed upon Carmel and Bashan, and be satisfied upon the 20 mount of Ephraim and Gilead. In those days and at the same time (sayeth the LORD) if the offense of Israel be sought for, there shall none be found: If men enquire for the sin of Judah, there shall be none: for I will be merciful unto them, whom I 21 suffer to remain over. Go down (O thou avenger) in to the enemies land, and visit them that dwell therein: down with them, and smite them upon the backs, sayeth the LORD: do accord-22 ing to all, that I have commanded thee. There is gone about the land a cry of a slaughter and great murder, namely on this 23 manner: How happeneth it, that the hammer of the whole world is thus broken and bruised in sunder? How chanceth it, that Babylon is become a wilderness among the Heathen on 24 this manner? I myself have laid wait for thee, and thou art taken: unawares art thou trapped and snared: for why, thou 25 hast provoked the LORD unto anger: The LORD hath opened his house of ordinance, and brought forth the weapons of his wrath. For the thing that is done in the land of the Caldees, 26 it is the LORD of Hosts' work. These things shall come upon her at the last, they shall break into her privy chambers, they shall leave her as bare as stones, that be laid together upon heaps. They shall so destroy her, that nothing shall be left.

27 They shall slay all her mighty soldiers, and put them to death.
Woe be unto them, for the day and the time of their visitation 28 is at hand. Me think I hear all ready a cry, of them that be fled and escaped out of the land of Babylon, which shew in Sion the vengeance of the LORD our God, the vengeance of his tem-29 ple: Yea a voice of them, that cry against Babylon: Call up all the archers against Babylon, pitch your tents round about her, that none escape. Recompense her, as she hath deserved: and according as she hath done, so deal with her again: for she hath set up herself against the LORD, against the holy one of 30 Israel. Therefore shall her young men fall down in the streets, and all her men of war shall be rooted out in that day, sayeth 31 the LORD. Behold, I speak unto thee (O thou proud) sayeth the Lord GOD of Hosts: for thy day shall come, even the time 32 of thy visitation. And the proud shall stumble and fall, and no man shall help him up. I will burn up his cities with fire, 33 and it shall consume all that is round about him. Thus sayeth the LORD of Hosts: The children of Israel and Judah suffer violence together. All they that have them in captivity, keep them fast, and will not let them go: but their avenger and redeemer 34 is mighty, whose name is the LORD of Hosts: he shall maintain their cause, he shall make the land shake, and judge them that dwell therein, one with another. The sword shall come upon 35 the Caldees, sayeth the LORD, upon them that dwell in Babylon, upon their princes, and upon their wise men: The sword 36 upon their soothsayers, as for those (they shall become fools)

The sword upon their worthies, so that they shall stand in fear:
The sword upon their horsemen and chariots, and upon all the 37 common people that dwell under them: so that they all shall become like women: The sword upon their treasure, so that it shall be stolen away: The sword upon their waters, so that 38 they shall be dried up: For the land worshippeth images, and delighteth in strange wonderful things. Therefore shall wild 39 beasts, Apes, and Ostriches dwell therein: for there shall never man dwell there, neither shall any man have his habitation there for evermore. Like as God destroyed Sodome and Go- 40 morre, with the cities that lay there about, sayeth the LORD:
So shall no man dwell there also, neither shall any man have there his habitation. Behold, there shall come a people from 41 the North, with a great bound of men, and many kings shall stand up from the ends of the earth: They bear bows and 42 bucklers, cruel are they and unmerciful. Their voice roareth like the raging sea, they ride upon horses, and come weaponed to fight against thee: O Babylon. As soon as the king of Baby- 43 lon heareth tell of them, his hands shall wax feeble: Sorrow and heaviness shall come upon him, as a woman travailing with child. Behold, like as the Lion cometh up from the pleas- 44 ant meadows of Jordan unto the green pastures of Ethan, so will I drive them forth, and make them run against her. But whom shall I choose out, and ordain to such a thing? For who is like me, or who will strive with me? or what shepherd may stand against me? Therefore hear the counsel that the LORD 45 hath given upon Babylon, and the device that he hath taken upon the land of the Caldees. The least among the people shall tear them in pieces, and look what pleasant thing they have:
they shall lay it waste. The noise at the winning of Babylon 46 shall move the earth, and the cry shall be heard among the Gentiles.

LI Thus hath the LORD said: Behold, I will raise up a perilous wind against Babylon and her citizens, that bear evil will 2 against me. I will send also into Babylon fanners, to fan her out, and to destroy her land: for in the day of her trouble they 3 shall be about her on every side: Moreover, the Lord hath said unto the bow men, and to them that climb over the walls in breast plates: He shall not spare her young men, kill down 4 all her host. Thus the slain shall fall down in the land of the 5 Caldees, and the wounded in the streets. As for Israel and Juda, they shall not be forsaken of their God, of the LORD of Hosts, of the holy one of Israel: no, though they have filled
6 all their land full of sin. Fly* away from Babylon, every man save his life. Let no man hold his tongue to her wickedness, for the time of the LORD's vengeance is come, yea he shall reward
7 her again. Babylon hath been in the LORD's hand a golden cup, that maketh all lands drunken. Of her wine have all people 8 drunken, therefore are they out of their wits. But suddenly is Babylon fallen and destroyed. Mourn for her, bring plasters for her wounds, if she may peradventure be healed 9 again. We would have made Babylon whole (say they) but she is not recovered. Therefore will we let her alone, and go every man into his own country. For her judgment is come in 10 to heaven, and is gone up to the clouds. And therefore come 11 on, we will shew Sion the work of the LORD our God. Make sharp the arrows, and fill the quivers: for the LORD shall raise up the spirit of the king of the Meedes, which hath already a desire to destroy Babylon. This shall be the vengeance of the 12 LORD's, and the vengeance of his temple. Set up tokens upon the walls of Babylon, make your watch strong, set your watchmen in array, yea hold privy watches: and yet for all that shall the LORD go forth with the device, which he hath taken upon 13 them that dwell in Babylon. O thou that dwellest by the great waters, O thou that hast so great treasure and riches, thine 14 end is come: and the reckoning of thy winnings. The LORD of Hosts hath sworn by himself, that he will over whelm thee with men like grasshoppers in number, which with courage 15 shall cry Alarum, Alarum against thee. Yea even the LORD of Hosts, that with his power made the earth, with his wisdom prepared* the round world, and with his discretion spied

51. v.6 Other: flee. v.15 Other: prepayred.

out the heavens. As soon as he letteth his voice be heard, the waters in the air wax fierce: He draweth up the clouds from the ends of the earth. He turneth the lightnings to rain, he bringeth the winds out of their secret places. By the reason of wisdom, all men are become fools. Confounded be all the casters of images: for the thing that they make is but deceit, and hath no breath. Vain is it and worthy to be laughed at: and in the time of visitation it shall perish. Nevertheless, the portion of Jacob is none such: but he that made all things, whose name is the LORD of Hosts, he is the rod of his inheritance. Thou breakest my weapons of war, and yet thorow thee I have scattered the nations and kingdoms: thorow thee have I scattered horse and horse man, yea the chariots, and such as sat upon them: thorow thee I have scattered man and woman, old and young, bachelor and maiden. Thorow thee I have scattered the shepherd and his flock, the husband man and his cattle, the princes and the rulers. Therefore will I reward the city of Babylon and all her* citzens the Caldees, with all the evil which they have done unto Sion: Yea that ye yourselves shall see it, sayeth the LORD. Behold, I come upon thee (thou noisesome hill) sayeth the LORD, thou that destroyest all lands. I will stretch out my hand over thee, and cast thee down from the stony rocks: and will make thee a brent hill, so that neither corner stones, nor pinnacles, nor foundation stones shall be taken any more out of thee, but waste and desolate shalt thou lie for evermore, sayeth the LORD. Set up a token in the land, blow the trumpets among the Heathen, provoke the nations against her, call the kingdoms of Ararat, Menni, and Ascanes against her: number out Taphsar against her, bring as great a sort of horses against her, as if they were grasshoppers. Prepare against them the people of the Meedes with their kings, princes and all their chief rulers, yea and the whole land that is under them. The land also shall shake and be afraid, when the device of the LORD shall come forth against Babylon: to make the land of Babylon so waste, that no man shall dwell any more therein. The Worthies of Babylon shall leave the battle, and keep themselves in strongholds, their strength hath failed them, they shall be like women. Their dwelling places shall be brent up, their bars

v.24 Other: his.

31 shall be broken. One pursuant shall meet another, yea one 32 post shall come by another, to bring the king of Babylon tid-33 ings: that his city is taken in on every side, the fords* occu-34 pied, the fens* brent up, and the soldiers sore afraid. For thus sayeth the LORD of Hosts the God of Israel: The daughter of 35 Babylon hath been in her time like as a threshing floor, but 36 shortly shall her harvest come. Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon hath devoured and destroyed me, he hath made me an empty vessel. He swallowed me up like a dragon, and filled 37 his belly with my delicates: he hath cast me out. He hath taken my substance away and the thing that was left me hath he carried unto Babylon, sayeth the daughter that dwelleth in 38 Sion: Yea and my blood also, unto the Caldees, sayeth Jeru-39 salem. Therefore thus sayeth the LORD: Behold, I will defend thy cause, and avenge thee: I will drink up her sea, and dry up her water springs. Babylon shall become an heap of 40 stones a dwelling place for dragons, a fearfulness and wonder-41 ing, because no man dwelleth there. They shall roar together like lions, and as the young lions when they be angry, so shall 42 they bend them selves. In their heat I shall set drink be-43 fore them, and they shall be drunken for joy: Then shall they sleep an everlasting sleep, and never wake, sayeth the LORD.
44 I shall carry them down to be slain like sheep, like whethers and goats. O how was Sesach won? O, how was the glory of the whole land taken? how happeneth it, that Babylon is so 45 wondered at among the Heathen? The sea is risen over Baby-46 lon, and hath covered her with his great waves. Her cities are laid waste, the land lieth unbuilted and void: it is a land where no man dwelleth, and where no man traveleth thorow.
47 Moreover, I will visit Bel at Babylon: and the thing that he hath swallowed up, that same shall I pluck out of his mouth.
The Gentiles also shall run no more unto him, yea and the 48 walls of Babylon shall fall. O My people, come out of Baby-49 lon, that every man may save his life, from the fearful wrath of the LORD. Be not faint hearted, and fear not at every rumour that shall be heard in the land: for every year bringeth 50 new tidings, yea strange wickedness and lordship. And lo, the time cometh that I will visit the images of Babylon, and the whole land shall be confounded, yea and her slain shall v.32 Other: foordes. v.32 Other: fennes.

lie in the midst of her. Heaven and earth with all that is 48 therein, shall rejoice over Babylon, when the destroyers shall come upon her from the North, sayeth the LORD. Like as 49 Babylon hath beaten down and slain many out of Israel, so shall there fall many, and be slain in all her kingdom. Ye that 50 have escaped the sword, haste you, stand* not still, remember the LORD afar off: and think upon Jerusalem, for we were 51 ashamed to hear the blasphemies: our faces were covered with shame, because the strange aliens came into the Sanctuary of the LORD. Wherefore, behold, (sayeth the LORD) the time 52 cometh, that I will visit the images of Babylon, and throw the whole land they shall mourn and fall. Though Babylon 53 climbed up into heaven, and kept her power an high: yet shall I send her destroyers, sayeth the LORD. A piteous cry shall 54 be heard from Babylon, and a great misery from the land of the Caldees: when the LORD destroyeth them, and when he 55 driveth out the high* stomach and proud boasting,* wherewith they have been as furious as the waves of great water floods, and made great crakes with their words. For the destroyers 56 shall come upon her (even upon Babylon) which shall take her worthies, and brake their bows: for GOD is disposed to avenge himself upon them, and sufficiently to recompense them. Yea 57 (sayeth the LORD) I will make their princes, their wise men, their chief rulers and all their worthies, drunken: so that they shall sleep an everlasting sleep, and never wake: Thus sayeth the King, whose name is the LORD of Hosts. Moreover, thus 58 sayeth the LORD of Hosts: The thick wall of Babylon shall be broken, and her proud gates shall be brent up. And the thing that the Gentiles and the people have wrought with great travail and labour, shall come to naught and be consumed in the fire. This is the charge that Jeremy gave unto Saraiah the 59 son of Neriah, the son of Maasiah, when he went toward Babylon with Zedekiah the king of Judah, in the fourth year of his reign. Now this Saraiah was a peaceable prince. Jeremy 60 wrote in a book all the misery that should come upon Babylon, yea and all these sermons that be written against Babylon, and gave Saraiah this charge: When thou comest unto Baby- 61 lon, see that thou read all these words, and say: O LORD, 62 thou art determined to root out this place, so that neither peo-v.50 Other: stode. v.55 Other: hie. v.55 Other: boasting.

ple nor cattle shall dwell there any more, but to lie waste for 63 ever: and when thou hast read out the book, bind a stone to 64 it, and cast it in the midst of Euphrates, and say: Even thus shall Babylon sink, and be thrust down with the burthen of trouble, that I will bring upon her: so that she shall never come up again. Thus far are the preachings of Jeremy.

LII Zedekiah was twenty one year old, when he was made king, and he reigned eleven year in Jerusalem. His mother's name 2 was Hamutal, Jeremy's daughter of Lobnah. He lived wickedly 3 before the LORD even as Jehoakim did. Wherefore the LORD was angry at Jerusalem and Judah, so long till he had cast them out of his presence. And Zedekiah fell from the king 4 of Babylon. But in the ninth year of his reign; In the tenth Month, the tenth day of the Month it happened, that Nabu-chodonosor king of Babylon with all his Host came before Jerusalem, and besieged it, and made them bulwarks round about 5 it. And this besieging of the city endured unto the eleventh 6 year of king Zedekiah. And in the fourth Month, the ninth day of the Month, there was so great hunger in the city: that 7 there were no more vitailles for the people of the land. So all the soldiers brake away, and fled out of the city by night thorow the way of the port between the two walls by the king's garden. Now the Caldees had compassed the city round about, 8 yet went these men their way toward the wilderness. And so the Caldees followed upon them, and took Zedekiah the king 9 in the field of Jericho, when his host was run from him. So they carried the king away prisoner to Riblah, unto the king of Babylon in the land of Hemath, where he gave judgment upon 10 him. The king of Babylon also caused Zedekiah's sons to be slain before his face, yea and put all the princes of Judah to 11 death at Reblath. Moreover he put out the eyes of Zedekiah, caused him to be bound with chains, to be carried unto Baby-12 lon: and let him live in prison, till he died. Now the tenth day of the fifth Month, in the nineteenth year of Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon, Nabuzaradan the chief captain and the king 13 of Babylon's servants came unto Jerusalem, and brent up the house of the LORD. He brent up also the king's palace, all 14 the houses and all the gorgeous buildings in Jerusalem. And the whole Host of the Caldees that were with the chief Cap-15 tain, brake down all the walls of Jerusalem round about. As for the poor people and such folk as yet was left in the city, which also were fallen to the king of Babylon, yea and what people as yet remained: Nabuzaradan the chief Captain carried them away prisoners. But the poor people of the country, 16 did Nabuzaradan the chief Captain leave in the land, to occupy the vineyards and fields. The Caldees also brake the brasen 17 pillars that were in the house of the LORD, yea the seat and the brasen laver that was in the house of the LORD: and carried all the metal of them unto Babylon. They took away also 18 the Caldrons, shovels, flesh hooks, sprinklers, spoons, and all the brasen vessel that was occupied in the service: with the 19 basins, coal pans, sprinklers, pots, candlesticks, spoons and cups: whereof some were of gold, and some of silver. The chief 20 Captain took also the two pillars, the laver, and the twelve brasen bullocks that stood under the seat, which king Solomon made in the house of the LORD: and all the vessel contained so much metal, that it might not be weighed. For every pillar 21 was eighteen cubits high, and the rope that went about it, was twelve cubits, and four fingers thick and round: Now upon 22 the rope were brasen knoppes, and every knop was five cubits high: and upon the knops were whopes, and pomegranates round about of clean brass. After this manner were both the 23 pillars fashioned with the pomegranates, whereof there were an hundredth and ninety six, which hanged upon the hoops round about. The chief Captain also took Sariah the high* 24 priest, and Sophoniah that was chief next him, and the three keepers of the treasury. He took out of the city a chamberlain 25 which was a captain of the soldiers, and seven men that were the king's servants, which were found in the city: and Sepher a captain that used to muster the men of war: with sixty men of the country that were taken in the city. These Nabuzaradan the chief Captain took, and carried them to the king of 26 Babylon unto Reblath: and the king of Babylon caused them to be put to death at Reblath in the land of Hemath. And thus 27 Judah was lead away captive, out of his own land. This is the sum of the people, whom Nabuchodonosor lead away captive. In the seventh year of his reign, he carried away of the 28 Jews, three thousand and three and twenty. In the eighteenth year Nabuchodonosor carried away from Jerusalem eight hun- 29

30 dredth thirty two persons. In the twenty third year of Nabu-chodonosor Nabuzaradan the chief Captain, took away seven hundredth forty five Jews prisoners. The whole sum of all the 31 prisoners, is four thousand and six hundredth. In the thirty seventh year after that Jehoacin the king of Judah was carried away in the twenty fifth day of the twelfth Month, Evilmerodach king of Babylon (the same year that he reigned) gave Jehoacin the king of Judah his pardon, and let him out of 32 prison, and spake lovingly to him. And set his throne above the thrones of the other kings that were with him in Babylon.
33 He changed also the clothes of his prison, yea and he ate with 34 him all his life long. And he had a continual living given him of the king of Babylon, every day a certain thing allowed him all the days of his life, until he died.

The end of the book of the Prophete Jeremie.

The Lamentation^s Of Jeremp.

Jeph. Alas, how sitteth the city so desolate, that some I time was full of people? How is she become like a widow, which was the lady of all nations? How is she brought under tribute, that ruled all lands. (Beth.) 2
She weepeth sore in the night, so that the tears run down her cheeks: for among all her lovers, there is none that giveth her any comfort: yea her next friends abhor her, and are become her enemies. (Gimel.) Judah is taken prisoner, because 3 she was defiled: and for serving so many strange gods, she dwelleth now among the heathen. She findeth no rest: all they that persecuted her, took her, and so she dwelleth among her enemies. (Daleth.) The streets of Sion mourn, because no 4 man cometh to the solempne feasts. All her gates are desolate, her priests make lamentation, her maidens are careful, and she herself is in great heaviness. (He.) Her enemies are 5 fallen upon her head, and have put her to shame: because the LORD hath chastened her for her great wickedness: her children are lead away captive before their enemy. (Vau.) All the 6 beauty of the daughter of Sion is away, her princes are become like wethers that find no pasture. They are driven away before their enemy, so that they have no more power. (Zain.) Now 7 doth Jerusalem remember the time of her misery and disobedience, yea the joy and pleasure that she hath had in times past: seeing her people is brought down thorow the power of their enemy, and there is no man for to help her: her enemies stand* looking at her and laughing her Sabbath days to scorn.
(CHeth.) Jerusalem sinned ever more and more, therefore is 8 she come in decay. All they that had her in honour, despise her: for they have seen her filthiness. Yea she sigheth, and is a shamed of herself. (Teth.) Her skirts are defiled, she remem- 9 bred not what would follow: therefore is her fall so great, and there is no man to comfort her. O LORD, consider my trouble, for my enemy hath the upper hand. (Iod.) The enemy hath 10 put his hand to all the precious things that she had, yea even before her eyes came the Heathen in and out of the Sanctuary: whom thou (nevertheless) hast forbidden to come within thy

1. v.7 Other: stode.

11 congregation. (Caph.) All her people seek their bread with heavens, and look what precious things every man hath, that giveth he for meat, to save his life. Consider, O LORD, and see, 12 how vile I am become. (Lamed.) O ye all that go fore by, behold and see, if there be any sorrow like unto mine. wherewith the LORD hath troubled me, in the day of his fearful wrath.
 13 (Mem.) From above hath he sent down a fire into my bones and chastened me: he hath laid a net for my feet, and thrown me wide open: he hath made me desolate, so that I must ever 14 be mourning. (Nun.) The yoke of my transgression is come at the last, with his hand hath he taken it up, and put it about my neck. My strength is gone: the Lord hath delivered me 15 into those hands, whereout I can not quite my self. (Samech.)
 The Lord hath destroyed all the mighty men, that were in me.
 He hath proclaimed a feast, to slaughter all my best men. The Lord hath troden down the daughter of Juda, like as it were in 16 a wine press. (Ain.) Therefore do I weep, and mine eyes gush out of water: for the comforter that should quicken me, is far from me. My children are driven away, for why? the enemy 17 hath gotten the over hand. (Phe.) Sion casteth out her hands, and there is no man to comfort her. The LORD hath laid the enemies round about Jacob, and Jerusalem is as it were a men-18 struous woman, in the midst of them. (Zade.) The LORD is righteous, for I provoked his countenance unto anger. O take heed all ye people, and consider my heaviness: My maidens 19 and my young men are lead away in to captivity. (Koph.) I called for my lovers (but they beguiled me) for my Priests and counselors, but they perished: even while they sought for meat, 20 to save their lives. (Res.) Consider (O LORD) how I am troubled, my womb is disquieted, my heart turneth about in me, and I am full of heaviness. The sword hurteth me without, and 21 within I am like unto death. (Sin.) They hear my mourning, but there is none that will comfort me. All my enemies have heard of my trouble, and are glad thereof, because thou hast done it. But thou shalt bring forth the time, when they 22 also shall be like unto me. (Thau.) From thee shall come all their adversity: thou shalt pluck them away, even as thou hast plucked me, because of all my wickedness. For my sorrow is very great, and my heart is heavy.

II (Aleph.) Alas, how hath the Lord darkened the daughter of Sion so sore in his wrath? As for the honour of Israel, he hath casten it down from heaven: How happeneth it, that he remembered not his own foot stool when he was angry? (Beth.) 2

The Lord hath cast down all the glory of Jacob without any favour: all the strong places of the daughter Juda hath he broken in his wrath, and thrown them down to the ground: her kingdom and her princes hath he suspended. (Gimel.) In 3 the wrath of his indignation he hath broken all the horn of Israel: he hath withdrawn his right hand from the enemy: yea a flame of fire is kindled in Jacob, and hath consumed up all round about. (Daleth.) He hath bent his bow like an enemy, 4 he hath fastened his right hand as an adversary: and every-thing that was pleasant to see, he hath smitten it down. He hath poured out his wrath like a fire, into the tabernacle of the daughter of Sion. (He.) The Lord is become, like as it were 5 an enemy, he hath cast down Israel and all his places: yea all his strongholds hath he destroyed, and filled the daughter of Juda with much sorrow and heaviness. (Vau.) Her tabernacle (which was like a garden of pleasure) hath he destroyed: her high* solempne feasts hath he put down. The LORD hath brought it so to pass, that the high solempne feasts and Sabbaths in Sion, are clean forgotten. In his heavy displeasure hath he made the king and priests to be despised. (Zain.) The 7 Lord hath forsaken his own alter, and is wroth with his own sanctuary, and hath given the walls of their towers into the hands of the enemy. Their enemies made a noise in the house of the LORD, as it had been in a solempne feast day. (CHeth.) 8
The LORD thought to break down the walls of the daughter Sion, he spread out his line, and drew not in his hand, till he had destroyed them. Therefore mourn the turrets and the broken walls together. (Teth.) Her ports are cast down to the 9 ground, her bars are broken and smitten in sunder: her king and princes are carried away to the gentiles. They have neither law nor Prophets, nor yet any vision from the LORD. (Iod.) 10
The Senators of the daughter Sion sit upon the ground in silence: they have strowed ashes upon their heads, and girded themselves with sack cloth. The maidens of Jerusalem hang down their heads to the ground. (Caph.) Mine eyes begin 11 to fail me thorow weeping, my body is disquieted, my lever is poured upon the earth, for the great hurt of my people, seeing the children and babes did swoon in the streets of the city.

12 (Lamed.) Even when they spake to their mothers: where is meat and drink? for while they so said, they fell down in the streets of the city, like as they had been wounded, and some 13 died in their mothers' bosom. (Mem.) What shall I say of thee, O thou daughter Jerusalem, to whom shall I liken thee? To whom shall I compare thee, O thou daughter Sion, to comfort thee withal? Thy hurt is like a main sea, who may heal thee?

14 (Nun.) Thy prophets have looked out vain and foolish things for thee, they have not shewed thee of thy wickedness, to keep thee from captivity: but have overladen thee, and thorow falsity scattered thee abroad. (Samech.) All they that go by thee, clap their hands at thee: hissing and wagging their heads upon the daughter Jerusalem, and say: is this the city that men call

16 so fair, wherein the whole land rejoiceth? (Ain.) All thine enemies gape upon thee, whispering and biting their teeth, saying: let us devour, for the time that we looked for, is come: we

17 have found and seen it. (Phe.) The LORD hath fulfilled the thing, that he was purposed to do: and performed that he had devised long ago: he hath destroyed, and not spared. He hath caused thine adversary to triumph over thee, and set up the

18 horn of thine enemy. (Zade.) Let thine heart cry unto the Lord, O thou city of the daughter Sion: let thy tears run down like a river day and night: rest not, and let not the apple of

19 thine eye leave off. (Koph.) Stand up and make thy prayer in the first watch of the night, pour out thine heart like water before the Lord: lift up thine hands for the lives of thy young

20 children, that die of hunger in the streets. (Res.) Behold, O LORD, and consider, why hast thou gathered me up so clean: Shall the women then eat their own fruit, even children of a spanne long: Shall the priests and prophets be slain thus in

21 the Sanctuary of the Lord? (Sin.) Young and old lie behind the streets upon the ground, my maidens and young men are slain with the sword: whom thou in the day of thy wrothful indignation hast put to death: Yea even thou hast put them to 22 death, and not spared them. (Thau.) My neighbours that are round about me, hast thou called, as it were to a feast day: so that in the day of the LORD's wrath none escaped, neither was any left behind. Those that I had brought up and nourished, hath mine enemy destroyed.

(Aleph.) I am the man, that (thorow the rod of his wrath) III have experience of misery. He drove me forth, and led me: 2 yea into darkness, but not in to light. Against me only he tur- 3 neth his hand, and layeth it ever upon me. (Beth.) My flesh 4 and my skin hath he made old, my bones hath he bruised. He 5 hath builded round about me, and closed me in with gall and 6 travail. He hath set me in darkness, as they that be dead for 6 ever. (Gimel.) He hath so hedged me in, that I can not get 7 out, and hath laid heavy links upon me. Though I cry and call 8 piteously, yet heareth he not my prayer. He hath stopped up 9 my ways with four square stones, and made my paths crooked.
 (Dalet.) He layeth wait for me like a Bear, and as a lion in 10 a hole. He hath marred my ways, and broken me in pieces: 11 he hath laid me waste altogether. He hath bent his bow, and 12 made me as it were a mark to shoot at. (He.) The arrows of 13 his quiver hath he shot, even into my reins. I am laughed to 14 scorn of all my people, they make songs upon me all the day 15 long. He hath filled me with bitterness, and given me worm- 15 wood to drink. (Vau.) He hath smitten my teeth in pieces, and 16 rolled me in the dust. He hath put my soul out of rest, I forget 17 all good things. I thought in myself: I am undone, there is no 18 hope for me in the LORD. (Zain.) O remember yet my misery 19 and my trouble, the wormwood and the gall. Yea thou shalt 20 remember them, for my soul melteth away in me. While I con- 21 sider these things in my heart, I get a hope again. (CHeth.) 22 Namely, that the mercies of the LORD are not clean gone, and 23 that his loving-kindness ceaseth not. His faithfulness is great 23 and reneweth it self as the morning. The LORD is my portion, 24 sayeth my soul, therefore will I hope in him. (Teth.) O how 25 good is the LORD unto them that put their trust in him, and to 26 the soul that seeketh after him? O how good is it with stillness 26 to wait and tarry, for the health of the LORD. O how good is it 27 for a man, to take the yoke upon him from his youth up. (Iod.) 28 He sitteth alone, he holdeth him still, and dwelleth quietly by 29 himself. He layeth his face upon the earth, if (percase) there 30 happen to be any hope. He offereth his cheek to the smiter, he 30 will be content with reproves. (Caph.) For the Lord will not 31 forsake for ever. But though he do cast off, yet according to 32 the multitude of his mercies, he receiveth to grace again. For 33 he doth not plague, and cast out the children of men from his 34 heart. (Lamed.) To tread all the prisoners of the earth un-35 der his feet. To move the judgement of man before the most 36 highest. To condemn a man in his cause; The Lord hath no 37 pleasure in such things. (Mem.) What is he then that sayeth: there should something be done without the Lord's command-38 ment: Out of the mouth of the most Highest goeth not evil and 39 good? Wherefore then murmureth the living man: let him 40 murmur at his own sin. (Nun.) Let us look well upon our own ways, and remember ourselves, and turn again to the LORD.

41 Let us lift up our heart with our hands unto the Lorde that is 42 in heaven. We have been dissemblers, and have offended, will 43 thou therefore not be intreated? (Samech.) Thou hast covered us in thy wrath, and persecuted us, thou hast slain us, without 44 any favour. Thou hast hid thyself in a cloud, that our prayer 45 should not go thorow. Thou hast made us outcasts, and to 46 be despised among the Heathen. (Ain.) All our enemies gape 47 upon us. Fear and snare is come upon us, despite and destruc-48 tion. Whole rivers of water gush out of mine eyes, for the great 49 hurt of my people. (Phe.) Mine eyes run, and can not cease, 50 for there is no rest. O LORD, when will thou look down from 51 heaven, and consider. Mine eye breaketh my heart, because of 52 all the daughters of my city. (Zade.) Mine enemies hunted me 53 out sharply, like a bird, yea and that without a cause. They have put down my life into a pit, and laid a stone upon me.
54 They poured water upon my head, then thought I: now am I 55 undone. (Koph.) I called upon thy name, O LORD, out of the 56 deep pit. Thou hast heard my voice, and hast not turned away 57 thine ears from my sighing and crying. Thou hast inclined thy self unto me, when I called upon thee, and haste said: fear 58 not. (Res.) Thou (O Lord), hast maintained the cause of my 59 soul, and hast redeemed my life. O LORD, thou hast seen 60 my blasphemers, take thou my cause upon thee. Thou hast well considered how they go about to do me harm, and that 61 all their counsels are against me. (Sin.) Thou hast heard their despitiful words (O LORD), yea and all their imagina-62 tions against me. The lips of mine enemies, and their devices 63 that they take against me, all the day long. Thou seest also their sitting down and their rising up, they make their songs of 64 nothing but me. (Thau.) Reward them, (O LORD), according to the work of their hands. Give them the thing, that their own heart is afraid of: even thy curse. Persecute them (O LORD) with thine indignation, and root them out from under the heaven.

(Aleph.) O how is the gold become so dim? How is the goodly colour of it so sore changed? and the stones of the sanctuary thus scattered in the corner of every street? (Beth.) The children of Sion that were alway in honour, and clothed with the most precious gold: how are they now become like the earthen vessels which be made with the potters hand. (Gimel.) The Lamies give their young ones suck with bare breasts: but the daughter of my people is cruel, and dwelleth in the wilderness: like the Ostriches. (Daleth.) The tongues of the sucking children, cleave to the roof of their mouths for very thirst. The young children ask bread, but there is no man, that giveth it them. (He.) They that were wont to fair delicately, perish in the streets: they that afore were brought up in purple, make now much of dung. (Vau.) The sin of the daughter of my people is become greater than the wickedness of Sodom, that suddenly was destroyed, and not taken with hands. (Zain.) Her abstainers (or Nazarees) were whiter than the snow or milk: their colour was fresh red as the Corall, their beauty like the Sapphire. (CHeth.) But now their faces are very black: In so much, that thou shouldest not know them in the streets. Their skin cleaveth to their bones; It is withered, and become like a dry stock. (Teth.) They that be slain with the sword, are happier than such as die of hunger, and perish away famishing for the fruits of the field. (Iod.) The women (which of nature are pitiful) have sodden their own children with their hands that they might be their meat, in the miserable destruction of the daughter of my people. (Caph.) The LORD hath performed his heavy wrath: he hath poured out the furiousness of his displeasure. He hath kindled a fire in Sion, which hath consumed the foundations thereof. (Lamed.) Neither the kings of the earth, nor all the inhabitors of the world, would have believed that the enemy and adversary should have come in at the gates of the city of Hierusalem. (Mem.) Which nevertheless is come to pass for the sins of her prophets, and for the wickedness of her priests that have shed innocents blood within her. (Nun.) So that these blind men went stumbling

IV

2

3

4

5

6

7

8

9

10

11

12

13

14 in the streets, and stained themselves with blood, which else 15 would touch no bloody cloth. (Samech.) But they cried unto every man: flee the staining, away, get you hence, touch it not.

 Yea (say they) ye must be brent, ye must dwell among the Gen-16 tiles, and bide no longer here. (Ain.) The countenance of the LORD hath banished them, and shall never look more upon them: For they themselves neither regarded the priests, nor 17 pitied the elders. (Phe.) Wherefore yet our eyes fail us, while we look for vain help: seeing we be ever waiting upon a people, 18 that can do us no good. (Zade.) They lay so sharp wait for us, that we can not go safe upon the streets: for our end is come, 19 our days are fulfilled, our end is here. (Koph.) Our persecutors are swifter then the Aegles* of the air, they followed upon us over the mountains, and laid wait for us in the wilderness.
 20 (Res.) The very breath of our mouth: even the anointed LORD himself shall be taken in our sins, of whom we say: Under his 21 shadow we shall be preserved among the Heathen. (Sin.) And thou (O daughter Edom) that dwellest in the land of Huz, be glad and rejoice: for the cup shall come unto thee also, which 22 when thou suppest of thou shalt be drunk. (Thau.) Thy sin is well punished (O thou daughter Sion) he shall not suffer thee to be carried away any more. But thy wickedness (O daughter Edom) shall he visit, and for thy sins' sake, he shall lead thee into captivity.

V * Call to remembrance, (O LORD) what we have suffered, 2 consider and see our confusion. Our inheritance is turned to 3 the strangers, and our houses to the aliens. We are become 4 careful and fatherless, and our mothers are as the widows. We are fain to drink our own water for money, and our own wood 5 must we buy with money. Our necks are under persecution, 6 we are weary, and have no rest. Afore time we yielded our selves to the Egyptians, and now to the Assyrians, only that 7 we might have bread enough. Our fathers (which now are 8 gone) have sinned, and we must bear their wickedness. Servants have the rule of us, and no man delivereth us out of their 9 hands. We must get our living with the peril of our lives be-10 cause of the drouth of the wilderness. Our skin is as it had 11 been brent in an oven, for very sore hunger. The wives are 12 ravished in Sion, and the maidens in the cities of Judah. The

4. v.19 Other: eagles. 5. v.1 Other: The prayer of Jeremy.

princes are hanged up with the hand of the enemies, they have not spared the old sage men, they have taken young men's 13 lives from them, and the boys are hanged up upon trees. The 14 elders sit no more under the gates, and the young men use no more the playing of Music. The joy of our heart is gone, 15 our merry query is turned into mourning. The garland of our 16 head is fallen: alas, that ever we sinned so sore. Therefore our 17 heart is full of heaviness, and our eyes dim: because of the hill 18 of Sion that is destroyed. In so much, that the foxes run upon it. But thou, O LORD, that remainest for evermore, and thy 19 seat world without end: Wherefore wilt thou still forget us, 20 and forsake us so long? O LORD, turn thou us unto thee, and 21 so shall we be turned. Renew our days as in old time, for 22 thou hast now banished us long enough, and hast been sore displeased at us.

The end of the Lamentations of Jeremie.

The Book Of The Prophet Ezechiel.

I t chanced in the thirtieth year the fifth day of the fourth Month, that I was among the prisoners by the river of Cobar: where the heavens opened, and I saw a vision of God. Now the fifth day of the Month, made out the fifth year of king Joachim's captivity. At the same time came the word of the LORD unto Ezechiel the son of Buzi the priest, in the land of the Caldees by the water of Cobar, where the hand of the LORD came upon him. And I looked, and behold, a stormy wind came out of the North with a great cloud full of fire, which with his glistre lightened all round about. And in the midst of the fire it was all clear, and as it were the likeness of four beasts, which were fashioned like a man:* saving, that every one had four faces and four wings. Their legs were straight; But their feet were like bullock's feet, and they glistered, as it had been fair scoured metal. Under their wings upon all the four corners they had men's hands. Their faces and their wings were toward the four corners: yet were the wings so, that one ever touched another. When they went, they turned them not about: but each one went straight forward. Upon the right side of these four, their faces were like the faces of a man, and the face of a Lion: But upon the left side, they had the face of an ox, and the face of an Aegle. Their faces also and their wings were spread out above: so that two wings of one touched ever two wings of another, and with the other* they covered their body. Every one when it went, it went straight forward. Where as the spirit led them, thither they went, and turned not about in their going. The fashion and countenance of the beasts was like hot coals of fire, even as though burning cressettes had been among the beasts: and the fire gave a glister, and out of the fire there went

1. v.5 Other: The similitude of the faces of the four beasts: the face of a man and the face of a lion on the right hand of the four of them. And the face of an eagle above them four. And their faces and their wings stretched out above on high. Each had two wings coupled together and two that covered their bodies. And they went all straight forward. And whither they had lust to go, thither they went, and turned not back again in their going. v.11 Other: two.

lightning.* When the beasts went forward and backward, one 14 would have thought it had lightened. Now when I had well 15 considered the beasts, I saw a work of wheels upon the earth with four faces also like the beasts. The fashion and the work 16 of the wheels was like the sea. The four wheels were joined and made (to look upon) as it had been one wheel in another.
When one went forward, they went all four, and turned them 17 not about in their going. They were large, great and horri- 18 ble to look upon. Their bodies were full of eyes round about them all four. When the beasts went, the wheels went also with them: And when the beasts lift themselves up from the 19 earth, the wheels were lift up also. Whither soever the spirit 20 went, thither went they also, and the wheels were lift up, and followed them: for the spirit of life was in the wheels. When 21 the beasts went forth, stood still, or lift themselves up from the earth: then the wheels also went, stood still, and were lift 22 up, for the breath of life was in the wheels. Above over the heads of the beasts there was a firmament, which was fash- 23 ioned as it had been of the most pure Crystal, and that was spread out above upon their heads: under the same firma- 24 ment were their wings laid abroad, one toward another, and two wings covered the body of every beast. And when they 25 went forth I heard the noise of their wings, like the noise of great waters, as it had been the voice of the great God, and a rushing together as it were of a host of men. And when they 26 stood still, they let down their wings. Now when they stood still, and had let down their wings, it thundered in the firma- 27 ment that was above their heads. Above the firmament that was over their heads, there was the fashion of a seat, as it had been made of Sapphire. Upon the seat there sat one like a man.
I beheld him, and he was like a clear light, as it had been all of 28 fire within from his loins upward. And beneath when I looked upon him under the loins, me thought he was like a shining fire, that giveth light on every side. Yea the shine and glister that lightened round about, was like a rainbow, which in a rainy day appeareth in the clouds. Even so was the similitude, wherein the glory of the LORD appeared. When I saw it, I fell v.13 Other: And the similitude of the beasts and the fashion of them was as burning coals of fire and as fire brands, walking between the beasts. And the fire did shine, and out of the fire proceeded lightning. And the beasts ran and returned after the fashion of lightning.

upon my face, and hearkened unto the voice of him that spake.

II And then said he unto me: Stand up upon thy feet (O thou 2 son of man) and I will talk with thee. And as he was communing with me, the spirit came in to me, and set me up upon my feet: so that I marked the thing, that he said unto me.
 3 And he said: Behold, thou son of man: I will send thee to the children of Israel, to those runagates and obstinate people: for they have taken part against me, and are run away from me: 4 both they and their forefathers unto this day. Yea I will send thee unto a people that have rough visages an stiff stomachs: unto whom thou shalt say on this manner: This the Lord GOD 5 himself hath spoken, that whether they be obedient or no (for it is a froward household) they may know yet that there hath 6 been a Prophet among them. Therefore (thou son of man) fear them not, neither be afraid of their words: for they shall rebel against thee, and despise thee. Yea thou shalt dwell among scorpions: but fear not their words, be not abashed at their 7 looks, for it is a froward household. See that thou speak my words unto them, whether they be obedient or not, for they are 8 obstinate. Therefore, thou son of man, obey thou all things, that I say unto thee, and be not thou stiffnecked, like as they are a stiffnecked household. Open thy mouth, and eat that I 9 give thee. So as I was looking up, behold, there was sent unto 10 me an hand, wherein was a closed book: and the hand opened it before me, and it was written within and without, full of careful mournings: alas, and woe.

III After this* said he unto me: Thou son of man, eat that, whatsoever it be: Yea eat that closed book, and go thy way, 2 and speak unto the children of Israel. So I opened my mouth, 3 and he gave me the book for to eat, and said unto me: Thou son of man, thy belly shall eat, and thy bowels shall be filled with the book, that I give thee. Then did I eat the book, and 4 it was in my mouth sweeter than honey. And he said unto me: thou son of man, get thee soon unto the house of Israel, 5 and shew them the words that I command thee: For I send thee not to the* people that hath a strange, unknown, or hard 6 speech, but unto the house of Israel; Not to many nations, which have divers speeches and hard languages, whose words thou understandest* not. Nevertheless, if I sent thee to those

3. v.1 Other: Then. v.5 Other: a. v.6 Other: understandest.

people, they would follow thee: But the house of Israel will not 7 follow thee, for they will not follow me: Yea all the house of Is- 8 rael have stiff foreheads, and hard hearts. Behold, therefore, I 8 will make thy face prevail against their faces, and harden thy 9 forehead against their foreheads: so that thy forehead shall 9 be harder than an Adamant or flint stone: that thou mayest 10 fear them the less, and be less afraid of them, for they are a 10 froward household. He said moreover unto me: thou son of 10 man, take diligent heed with thine ears, to the words that I 11 speak unto thee, fasten them in thine heart: and go to the 11 prisoners of thy people, speak unto them, and say on this man- 11 ner: Thus the Lord GOD hath spoken: whether ye hear, or hear 12 not. With that, the spirit took me up. And I heard the noise of 12 a great rushing and removing of the most blissted glory of the 13 LORD out of his place. I heard also the noise of the wings of 13 the beasts, that rushed one against another, yea and the rat- 13 tling of the wheels, that were by them, which rushing and noise 14 was very great. Now when the spirit took me up, and carried 14 me away, I went with an heavy and sorrowful mind, but the 15 hand of the LORD comforted me right soon. And so in the be- 15 ginning of the Month Abib, I came to the prisoners, that dwelt 15 by the water of Cobar, and remained in that place, where they 16 were: And so continued I among them seven days, being very 16 sorry. And when the seven days were expired, the LORD said 16 unto me: Thou son of man, I have made thee a watchman unto 17 the house of Israel: therefore take good heed to the words, and 17 give them warning at my commandment. If I say unto thee, 18 concerning the ungodly man, that (without doubt) he must die, 18 and thou givest him not warning, nor speakest unto him, that 18 he may turn from his evil way, and so to live: Then shall the 19 same ungodly man die in his own unrighteousness: but his 19 blood will I require of thine hand. Nevertheless, if thou give 19 warning unto the wicked, and he yet forsake not his ungodli- 19 ness: then shall he die in his own wickedness, but thou hast 20 discharged thy soul. Now if a righteous man go from his righ- 20 teousness, and do the thing that is evil: I will lay a stumbling 20 block before him, and he shall die, because thou hast not given 21 him warning: Yea die shall he in his own sin, so that the virtue, 21 which he did before, shall not be thought upon: but his blood 21 will I require of thine hand. Nevertheless, if thou exhortest 21 the righteous, that he sin not, and so the righteous do not sin: then shall he live, because he hath received thy warning, and 22 thou hast discharged thy soul. And there came the hand of the LORD upon me, and he said unto me: Stand up, and go 23 into the field, that I may there talk with thee. So when I had risen up, and gone forth into the field: Behold, the glory of the LORD stood there, like as I saw it afore, by the waters of Co-24 bar. Then fell I down upon my face, and the spirit came in to me, which set me up upon my feet, and said thus unto me: Go 25 thy way, and sparre thyself in thine house. Behold, (O thou son of man) there shall changes be brought for thee, to bring 26 thee withal, so that thou shalt not escape out of them. And I will make thy tongue cleave so to the roof of thy mouth, that thou shalt be dumb, and not be as a chider with them: for it 27 is an obstinate household. But when I speak unto thee, then open thy mouth, and say: Thus sayeth the Lord GOD: who so heareth, let him hear: who so will not, let him leave: for it is an obstinate* household.

IV Thou son of man, take a tile stone, and lay it before thee, 2 and describe upon it the city of Jerusalem, how it is besieged, how bulwarks and strong ditches are graven on every side of it: describe also the tents, and an host of men round about it.
3 Moreover, take an iron pan, and set it betwixt thee and the city, instead of an iron wall. Then set thy face toward it, besiege it, and lay ordinance against it, to win it. This shall be a 4 token unto the house of Israel. But thou shalt sleep upon thy left side, and lay the sin of the house of Israel upon thee. Certain days appointed, thou shalt sleep upon that side, and bear
5 their sins. Nevertheless, I will appoint thee a time (to put out their sins) and the number of the days: Three hundredth and ninety days must thou bear the wickedness of the house of Is-
6 rael. When thou hast fulfilled these days, lie down again, and sleep upon thy right side forty days, and bear the sins of the house of Judah. A day for a year, a day (I say) for a year will 7 I ever lay upon thee. Therefore set now thy face against that besieged Jerusalem, and discover thine arm, that thou mayest 8 prophesy against it. Behold, I will lay chains upon thee, that thou shalt not turn thee from one side to another, till thou hast 9 ended the days of thy siege. Wherefore, take unto thee wheat, v.27 Other: froward.

barley, beans, growell seed, Millium and fitches: and put these together in a vessel, and make thee loaves of bread thereof, according to the number of the days that thou must lie upon thy side: that thou mayest have bread to eat, for three hundredth and ninety days. And the meat that thou eatest, shall have 10 a certain weight appointed: namely twenty shekels every day. This appointed meat shalt thou eat daily, from the beginning to the end. Thou shalt drink also a certain measure of water: 11 Namely, the sixth part of an Hin shalt thou drink daily from the beginning to the end. Barley cakes shalt thou eat, yet 12 shalt thou first strike them over with man's dung, that they may see it. And with that said the LORD: Even thus shall 13 the children of Israel eat their defiled bread in the midst of the Gentiles, among whom I will scatter them. Then said I: 14 Oh Lord GOD. Behold, my soul was yet never stained: for from my youth up to this hour. I did never eat of a dead carcass, or that which was slain of wild beasts, neither came there ever any unclean flesh in my mouth. Where unto he answered me, 15 and said: Well then, I will grant thee to take cow's dung, for the dung of a man, and to strike the bread over with all, before them. And he said unto me: Behold thou son of man, I will 16 minish all the provision of bread in Jerusalem, so that they shall weigh their bread, and eat it with scarceness. But as for water, they shall have a very little measure thereof, to drink. And when they have no more bread nor water, one shall be 17 destroyed with another, and famish away for their wickedness.

O Thou son of man, take thee then a sharp knife, namely, V a razor. Take that, and shave the hair of thy head and beard: Then take the scales and weight, and divide the hair asunder. And burn the third part thereof in the fire in the midst of 2 the city, and cut the other third part in pieces with a knife. As for the third part that remaineth, cast it in the wind, and then shew the bare knife. Yet afterward take a little of the same, 3 and bind it in thy coat lap. Then take a curtesy of it, and cast 4 it in the midst of the fire: and burn it in the fire. Out of the same fire shall there go a flame, upon the whole house of Israel. Moreover, thus said the Lord GOD: This same is 5 Jerusalem. I set her in the midst of the Heathen and nations: that are round about her, but she hath despised my judge- 6 ments more than the Gentiles themselves, and broken my commandments more than the nations, that lie round about her: For they have cast out mine ordinances, and not walked in my 7 laws. Therefore, thus sayeth the Lord GOD: For so much as ye with your wickedness far exceed the Heathen, that dwell round about you: (For ye have not walked in my laws, nei-8 ther have ye kept mine ordinances) Therefore thus sayeth the Lord GOD. I will also come upon thee, for in the midst of 9 thee will I sit in judgement, in the sight of the Heathen, and will handle thee of such a fashion, as I never did before, and as I never will do from that time forth, and that because of all 10 thine abominations. For in the the fathers shall be fain to eat their own sons, and the sons their own fathers. Such a court will I keep in thee, and the whole remnant will I scatter in to 11 all the winds. Wherefore as truly as I live (sayeth the Lord GOD) seeing thou hast defiled my Sanctuary, with all manner of abominations and with all thy shameful offenses: For this cause will I also destroy thee. Mine eye shall not oversee thee, 12 neither will I spare thee. One third part within thee, shall die of the pestilence and of hunger: Another third part shall be slain down round about thee, with the sword: The other third part that remaineth, will I scatter abroad toward all the 13 winds, and draw out the sword after them. Thus will I perform my indignation and set my wrath against them, and ease myself. So that when I have fulfilled mine anger against them, they shall know that I am the LORD, which with a fervent jeal-

14 ously have spoken it. Moreover I will make thee waste and abhorred, before all the Heathen that dwell about thee, and in the sight of all them, that go by thee: so that when I punish thee in my wrath, in mine anger, and with the plague of my hot displeasure: thou shalt be a very abomination, shame, a gas-15 ing and wondering stock, among the Heathen, that lie about thee. Even I the LORD have spoken it, and it shall come to 16 pass, when I shoot among them the perilous darts of hunger, which shall be but death: Yea therefore shall I shoot them, because I will destroy you. I will increase hunger, and minish all 17 the provision of bread among you. Plagues and misery will I send you, yea and wild beasts also to destroy you. Pestilence and bloodshedding shall come upon you, and the sword will I bring over you. Even I, the LORD, have said it.

VI, 2 And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying: thou son of man, turn thy face to the mountains of Israel, that thou mayest prophesy* unto them, and say: Hear the word of the Lord GOD, O ye mountains of Israel: Thus hath the Lord GOD spoken to the mountains, hills, rivers, valleys and dales. Behold, I will bring a sword over you, and destroy your high places. I will cast down your alters, and break down your temples. Your slain men will I lay before your gods. And the dead carcasses of the children of Israel will I cast before their images, your bones will I destroy* round about your altars, and dwelling places. The cities shall be desolate, the hill chapels laid waste: your alters destroyed, and broken: your gods cast down, and taken away, your temples laid even with the ground, your own works clean rooted out. Your slain men shall lie among you, that ye may learn to know, how that I am the LORD. Those that among you have escaped the sword, will I leave among the Gentiles, for I will scatter you among the nations. And they that escape from you, shall think upon me among the Heathen, where they shall be in captivity. As for that whorish and unfaithful heart of theirs, wherewith they run away from me, I will break it: yea and put out those eyes of theirs, that committed fornication with their Idols. Then shall they be ashamed, and displeased with their selves, for the wickedness and abominations, which they have done: and shall learn to know, how that it is not in vain, that I the LORD spake, to bring such misery upon them. The LORD said moreover unto me: Smite thy hands together, and stamp with thy feet, and say: Woe worth all the abominations and wickednesses of the house of Israel, for because of them, they shall perish with the sword, with hunger and with pestilence. Who so is far off, shall die of the pestilence: he that is nye at hand, shall perish with the sword: and the other that are besieged, shall die of hunger. Thus will I satisfy my wrothful displeasure upon them. And so shall ye learn to know, that I am the LORD, when your slain men lie among your gods, and about your alters: upon all high hills and tops of mountains, among all green trees, among all thick oaks: even in the places, where they did sacrifice to all their Idols. I will stretch mine hand out upon them, and will make the land waste: So that it shall lie desolate and void, from the wilderness of Deblathah forth, thorow all their habitations: to learn them for to know, that I am the LORD.

VII, 2 The word of the LORD came unto me on this manner: Thee I call, O thou son of man. Thus sayeth the Lord GOD unto the land of Israel: The end cometh, yea verily the end cometh 3 upon all the four corners of the earth. But now shall the end come upon thee: For I will send my wrath upon thee, and will punish thee: according to thy ways, and reward thee after all 4 thy abominations. Mine eye shall not oversee thee, neither will I spare thee: but reward thee according to thy ways, and declare thy abominations. Then shall ye know, that I am the 5 LORD. Thus sayeth the Lord GOD: Behold, one misery and 6 plague shall come after another: the end is here. The end (I 7 say) that waiteth for thee, is come already, the hour is come against thee, that dwellest in the land. The time is at hand, the day of sedition is hard by, and no glad tidings upon the moun-
8 tains. Therefore, I will shortly pour out my sore displeasure over thee, and fulfill my wrath upon thee, I will judge thee af-
9 ter thy ways, and recompense thee all thy abominations. Mine eye shall not oversee thee, neither will I spare thee: but reward thee after thy ways, and shew thy abominations, to learn you 10 for to know, how that I am the LORD that smiteth. Behold, the day is here, the day is come, the hour is run out, the rod flourisheth, willfulness waxeth green, malicious violence is grown up, and the ungodly waxen to a staff. Yet shall there no complaint be made for them, nor for the trouble that shall come of 12 these things. The time cometh, the day draweth nye: Who so buyeth let him not rejoice: he that selleth, let him not be sorry:
13 for why? Trouble shall come in the midst of all rest: so that the seller shall not come again to the buyer, for neither of them both shall live. For the vision shall come so greatly over all, that it shall not be hindered: No man also with his wicked-
14 ness shall be able to save his own life. The trumpets shall ye blow, and make you all ready, but no man shall go to the battle, for I am wroth with all the whole multitude. The sword shall be without, pestilence and hunger within: so that who so is in the field, shall be slain with the sword: and he that is in 15 the city, shall perish with hunger and pestilence. And such as escape and flee from among them, shall be upon the hills, like as the doves in the field: every one shall be afraid, because of his own wickedness. All hands shall be let down, and 17 all knees shall be weak as the water: they shall gird them- 18 selves with sack cloth, fear shall fall upon them. Their faces shall be confounded, and their heads bald: their silver shall 19 lie in the streets, and their gold shall be despised. Yea their silver and gold may not deliver them, in the day of the fearful wrath of the LORD. They shall not satisfy their hungry souls, neither fill their empty bellies therewith: For it is be- 20 come their own decay thorow their wickedness: because they made thereof not only costly Jewels for their pomp and pride, but also abominable images and Idols. For this cause will I 21 make them to be abhorred. Moreover, I will give it into the hands of the strangers to be spoiled: and to the wicked for to 22 be robbed, and they shall destroy it. My face will I turn from them, my treasury shall be defiled: for the thieves shall go into it, and suspend it. I will make clean riddance, for the land 23 is whole defiled with unrighteous judgement of innocent blood, and the city is full of abominations. Wherefore, I will bring 24 the most cruel tyrants from among the Heathen, to take their houses in possession. I will make the pomp of the proud to cease, and they shall take in their Sanctuary. When this trou- 25 ble cometh, they shall seek peace, but they shall have none.

 One mischief and sorrow shall follow another, and one rumour 26 shall come after another: Then shall they seek visions in vain at their Prophets. The law shall be gone from the priests, and wisdom from the elders. The king shall mourn, the princes 27 shall be clothed with heaviness, and the hands of the people in the land shall tremble for fear. I will do unto them after their own ways, and according to their own judgements will I judge them: to learn them for to know, that I am the LORD.

It happened that in the sixth year, the fifth day of the sixth VIII Month, I sat in my house, and the lords of the counsel of Judah with me: and the hand of the Lord GOD fell even there upon 2 me. And as I looked up, I saw as it were a likeness of fire from his loins downward, and from his loins upward it shined marvelous clear. This similitude stretched out an hand, and 3 took me by the hairy locks of my head, and the spirit lift me up betwixt heaven and earth: And God brought me in a vision to Jerusalem, into the entry* of the inner* port that lieth

8. v.3 Other: court. v.3 Other: inward.

toward the north: there stood an image, with whom he that 4 hath all things in his power, was very wroth. And behold, the glory of the God of Israel was in the same place: even as 5 I had seen it afore in the field. And he said unto me: Thou son of man, O lift up thine eyes, and look toward the north.
Then lift I up mine eyes toward the north, and behold: beside the port northward, there was an alter made unto the image of 6 provocation in the very entering in. And he said furthermore unto me: Thou son of man, seest thou what these do? Seest thou the great abominations that the house of Israel commit in this place? which ought not to be done in my sanctuary: But turn thee about, and thou shalt see yet greater abominations.
7 And with that brought he me to the court gate: and when I 8 looked, behold, there was an hole in the wall. Then said he unto me: Thou son of man, dig thorow the wall. And when 9 I digged thorow the wall, behold there was a door. And he said unto me: Go thy way in, and look what wicked abomina-10 tions they do there. So I went in, and saw: and behold, there were all manner of images of worms and beasts, all Idols and abominations of the house of Israel painted everychone round 11 about the wall. There stood also before the images. Seventy lords of the counsel* of the house of Israel: and in the middest of them stood Jaazaniah the son of Saphan: And every one of them had a censor in his hand, and out of the incense, 12 there went a smoke, as it had been a cloud. Then said he unto me: Thou son of man, hast thou seen what the Senators of the house of Israel do secretly, everyone in his chamber: For they say; Tush, the LORD seeth us not, the LORD regardeth not the 13 world. And he said unto me: Turn thee yet again, and thou 14 shalt see the great abominations that they do. And with that he brought me to the door of the port of the LORD's house, toward the north. And behold, there sat women mourning for 15 Thamus. Then said he unto me: hast thou seen this, thou son of man? Turn ye about, and thou shalt see yet greater abom-16 inations. And so he brought me into the inward court of the LORD's house: And behold at the port of the LORD's house, betwixt the fore entry and the altar, there were five and twenty 17 men, that turned their backs on the temple of the LORD, and their faces toward the east, and these worshiped the son. And v.11 Other: councill.

he said unto me: hast thou seen this thou son of man? Thinketh the house of Israel, that it is but a trifle, to do these abominations here? Should they fill the land full of wickedness, and undertake to provoke me unto anger: Yea and purposely to cast up their noses upon me? Therefore will I also do something 18 in my wrothfull displeasure, so that mine eye shall not oversee them, neither will I spare them. Yea and though they cry in mine ears with loud voice, yet will I not hear them.

He cried also with a loud voice in mine ears, saying: Come IX her ye rulers of the city, every man with his weaponed hand to the slaughter. Then came there six men out of the street 2 of the upper port toward the north, and every man a weapon in his hand to the slaughter. There was one amongst them, that had on him a linen* rayment, and a writer's inkhorn by his side. These went in, and stood beside the brazen alter: for 3 the glory of the Lorde was gone away from the Cherub, and was come down to the threshold of the house, and he called the man that had the linen* rayment upon him, and the writer's inkhorn by his side, and the LORD said unto him: Go thy way 4 thorow the city of Jerusalem, and set this mark* Thau upon the foreheads of them, that mourn and are sorry for all the abominations, that be done therein. And to the other, he said 5 that I might hear: Go ye after him thorow the city, slay, oversee none, spare none: kill and destroy both old man and young, 6 maidens, children and wives. But as for those, that have this mark* Thau upon them: see that ye touch them not, and begin at my Sanctuary. Then they began at the elders, which were in the temple, for he had said unto them: When ye have defiled 7 the temple, and filled the court with the slain, then go your way forth. So they went out, and slew down thorow the city.
 Now when they had done the slaughter, and I yet escaped: I 8 fell down upon my face, and cried saying: O LORD, wilt thou then destroy all the residue of Israel, in thy sore displeasure, that thou hast poured upon Jerusalem? Then said he unto 9 me: The wickedness of the house of Israel and Juda is very great: so that the land is full of blood, and the city full of unfaithfulness: For they say: Tush, the LORD regardeth not the earth, he seeth us not. Therefore will I upon them, mine eye 10 shall not oversee them, neither will I spare them, but will rec-

9. v.2 Other: lining. v.3 Other: lining. v.4 Other: Hebrew: t. v.6 Other: Hebrew:
 t.

11 ompense their wickedness upon their heads. And behold, the man that had the linen* rayment upon him, and the writers inkhorn by his side: told all the matter how it happened, and said: Lord, as thou hast commanded me, so have I done.

X And as I looked, behold, in the firmament that was above the cherubins there appeared the similitude of a stole of sapphire upon them: Then said he that sat therein, to him that had the linen* rayment upon him: Creep in between the wheels that are under the Cherubins, and take thine hand full of hot coals out from between the Cherubins, and cast them over the city. And he crept in, that I might see. Now the Cherubins stood upon the right side of the house, when the man went in, and the cloud filled the innermer court. But the glory of the LORD removed from the Cherubins, and came upon the threshold of the house: so that the temple was full of clouds, and the court was full of the shine of the LORD's glory. Yea and the sound of the Cherubins' wings was heard into the fore court, like as it had been the voice of the almighty God, when he speaketh. Now when he had bidden the man that was clothed in linen,* to go and take the hot coals from the midst of the wheels, which were under the Cherubins: he went and stood beside the wheels. Then the one Cherub reached forth his hand from under the Cherubins, unto the fire that was between the Cherubins, and took thereof, and gave it unto him that had on the linen* raiment in his hand: which took it, and went out. And under the wings of the Cherubins, there appeared the likeness of a man's hand: I saw also four wheels beside the Cherubins, so that by every Cherib there stood a wheel. And the wheels were (to look upon) after the fashion of the precious stone of Tharsis: yet (unto the sight) were they fashioned and like, as if one wheel had been in another. When they went forth, they went all four together, not turning about in their going: But where the first went, thither went they after also, so that they turned not about in their going. Their whole bodies, their backs, their hands and wings, yea and the wheels also, were all full of eyes round about them all four. And I heard him call the wheels, Gilgal (that is) a round boule. Every one of them had four faces: so that the one face was the face of a Cherub, the second of a man, the third of a lion, the fourth of an Aegle, and they were lifted up above. This is the 15 beast, that I saw at the water of Cobar. Now when the Cheru- 16 bins went, the wheels went with them, and when the Cheru-bins shook their wings to lift themselves upward, the wheels remained not behind, but were with them also. Shortly, when 17 they stood, these stood also: And when they were lift up, the wheels were lift up also with them, for the spirit of life was in the wheels. Then the glory of the LORD was lift up from the 18 threshold of the temple, and remained upon the Cherubins:

 And the Cherubins flackered with their wings, and lift them- 19 selves up from the earth: so that I saw when they went, and the wheels with them. And they stood at the east side of the port that is in the house of the LORD. So the glory of the LORD was upon them. This is the beast that I saw under the God 20 of Israel, by the water of Cobar. And I perceived, that it was the Cherubins. Every one had four faces, and every one four 21 wings, and under their wings, as it were men's hands. Now 22 the figure of their faces was, even as I had seen them, by the water of Cobar, and so was the countenance of them: Every one in his going went straight forward.

Moreover, the spirit of the LORD lift me up, and brought me XI unto the east port of the LORD's house. And behold, there were twenty five men under the door: among whom I saw Jaazaniah the son of Azur, and Pheltiah the son of Bananiah, the rulers of the people. Then said the LORD unto me: Thou son of man: 2 these men imagine mischief, and a wicked counsel take they in this city, saying: Tush, there is no destruction at hand, 3 let us build houses: this Jerusalem is the cauldron, and we be the flesh. Therefore shalt thou prophesy unto them, yea 4 prophesy shalt thou unto them, O son of man. And with that 5 fell the spirit of the LORD upon me, and said unto me: Speak, thus sayeth the LORD: On this manner have ye spoken (O ye house of Israel) and I know the imaginations of your hearts.
 Many one have ye murdered in this city, and filled the streets 6 full of the slain. Therefore, thus sayeth the Lord GOD: The 7 slain men that ye have laid on the ground in this city, are the flesh, and this city is the cauldron: But I will bring you out of it: ye have drawn out the sword, even so will I also bring 8 a sword over you, sayeth the Lord GOD. I will drive you out 9 of this city and deliver you into your enemies hand, and will 10 condemn you. Ye shall be slain in all the coasts of Israel, I will be avenged of you: to learn you for to know, that I am the 11 LORD. This city shall not be your cauldron, neither shall ye be the flesh therein: but in the coasts of Israel will I punish 12 you, that ye may know, that I am the LORD, in whose commandments ye have not walked, nor kept his laws: but have done after the customs of the Heathen, that lie round about 13 you. Now when I preached, Pheltiah the son of Bananiah died. Then fell I down upon my face, and cried with a loud voice: O Lord GOD, wilt thou then utterly destroy all the rem-14 nant in Israel? And so the word of the LORD came to me on 15 this manner: thou son of man: thy brethren, thy kinsfolk, and the whole house of Juda, which dwell at Jerusalem, say: They be gone far from the LORD, but the land is given us in pos-16 session. Therefore tell them thus sayeth the Lord GOD: I will send you far off among the Gentiles, and scatter you among the nations, and I will hallow you but a little, in the lands where 17 ye shall come. Tell them also, thus sayeth the Lord GOD: I will gather you again out of the nations, and bring you from the countries were ye be scattered, and will give you the land 18 of Israel again: And thither shall ye come. And as for all impediments, and all your abominations: I will take them away.

19 And I will give you one heart, and will plant a new spirit within your bowels. That stoney heart will I take out of your body, and 20 give you a fleshly heart: that ye may walk in my commandments, and keep mine ordinances, and do them: that ye may 21 be my people, and I your God. But look whose hearts are disposed to follow their abominations and wicked livings: those men's deeds will I bring upon their own heads, sayeth the Lord 22 GOD. After this did the Cherubins lift up their wings, and the wheels went with them, and the glory of the Lorde was upon 23 them. So the glory of the LORD went up from the midst of the city, and stood upon the mount of the city toward the east.
24 But the wind took me up, and in a vision (which came by the spirit of God) it brought me again into the Caldea among the prisoners. Then the vision that I had seen, vanished away from 25 me. So I spake unto the prisoners, all the words of the LORD, which he had shewed me.

XII, 2 The word of the LORD came unto me, saying: Thou son of man, thou dwellest in the midst of a froward household: which have eyes to see, and yet see not: ears have they to hear, and yet hear they not, for they are an obstinate household. Therefore, (O thou son of man), make thy gear ready to flit, 3 and go forth by fair daylight, that they may see. Yea even in their sight shalt thou go from thy place to another place: if peradventure they will consider, that they be an unobedient household. Thy gear that thou hast made ready to flit withal, 4 shalt thou bear out by fair day light, that they may see: and thou thyself shalt go forth also at even in their sight, as a man doth when he fliteth. Dig thorow the wall, that they may see: 5 and bear thorow it the same thing, that thou tookest up in their sight. As for thyself, thou shalt go forth in the dark. 6 Hyde thy face that thou see not the earth, for I have made thee a shew token unto the house of Israel. Now as the Lord com- 7 manded me, so I did: the gear that I had made ready, brought I out by day. At even I brake down an hole thorow the wall with my hand: and when it was dark, I took the gear upon my shoulders and bare them out in their sight. And in the morn- 8 ing, came the word of the LORD unto me, saying: Thou son of 9 man, if Israel that froward household ask thee and say: What doest thou there? Then tell them: Thus sayeth the Lord GOD: 10 This punishment toucheth the chief rulers at Jerusalem, and all the house of Israel, that dwell among them. Tell them I 11 am your shew token: like as I have done, so shall it happen unto you: Flit shall ye also, and go into captivity. The chiefest 12 that is among you, shall lade his shoulders in the dark, and get him away. He shall break down the wall, to carry stuff there thorow: he shall cover his face, that he see not the ground, 13 with his eyes. My line will I spread out upon him, and catch him in my net, and carry him to Babylon, in the land of the Chaldees: which he shall not see, and yet shall he die there. As for all his helpers, and all his Hosts, that be about him, I 14 will scatter them toward all the winds, and draw out a sword after them. So when I have scattered them among the Hea- 15 then, and strowed them in the lands, they shall know, that I am the LORD. But, I will leave a little number of them from 16 the sword, hunger and pestilence: to tell all their abominations among the Heathen, where they come: that they may know, how that I am the LORD. Moreover, the word of the 17

18 LORD came unto me saying: Thou son of man: with a fearful trembling shalt thou eat thy bread, with carefulness and sor-19 row shalt thou drink thy water. And unto the people of the land, speak thou on this manner: Thus sayeth the Lord GOD, to them that dwell in Jerusalem, and to the land of Israel: Ye shall eat your bread with sorrow, and drink your water with heaviness: Yea the land with the fulness thereof shall be laid 20 waste, for the wickedness of them that dwell therein. And the cities that now be well occupied, shall be void, and the land 21 desolate: that ye may know, how that I am the LORD. Yet 22 came the word of the LORD unto me again, saying: Thou son of man, what manner of byword is that, which ye use in the land of Israel, saying: Tush, seeing that the days are so slack 23 in coming, all the visions are of none effect: Tell them therefore, thus sayeth the Lord GOD: I will make that byword to cease, so that it shall no more be commonly used in Israel.
But say this unto them: The days are at hand, that everything 24 which hath been prophesied, shall be fulfilled. There shall no vision be in vain, neither any prophecy fail among the children 25 of Israel: For it is I the LORD that speak it: and whatsoever, I the LORD speak, it shall be performed, and not be slacken in coming. Yea even in your days (O ye froward household) will I devise something, and bring it to pass, sayeth the Lord GOD.
26, 27 And the word of the LORD came unto me saying: Behold, thou son of man: The house of Israel say in this manner: Tush, as for the vision that he hath seen, it will be many a day or it come 28 to pass: Is it far off yet, the thing that he prophesieth. Therefore say unto them: Thus sayeth the LORD: All my words shall no more be slack: Look what I speak, that same shall come to pass, sayeth the LORD.

XIII, 2 The word of the LORD came unto me, saying: Thou son of man, speak prophecy against those prophets, that preach in Israel: and say thou unto them that prophesy out of their own 3 hearts: Hear ye the word of the LORD, thus sayeth the Lord GOD: Woe be unto those foolish prophets, that follow their 4 own spirit, and speak where they see nothing. O Israel, thy 5 prophets are like the foxes upon the dry field: For they stand not in the gaps, neither made they an hedge for the house of Israel, that men might abide the peril in the day of the LORD.
6 Vain things they see, and tell lies, to maintain their preachings withal. The LORD (say they) hath spoke it, when in very deed the LORD hath not sent them. Vain visions have ye seen, 7 and spoken false prophesies, when ye say: the LORD hath spoken it where as I never said it. Therefore, thus sayeth the 8 Lord GOD: Because your words be vain, and ye seek out lies: Behold, I will upon you, sayeth the LORD. Mine hands shall 9 come upon the prophets, that look out vain things, and preach lies: they shall not be in the council of my people, nor written in the book of the house of Israel, neither shall they come in the land of Israel: that ye may know, how that I am the Lord GOD.

And that for this cause: they have deceived my people, and 10 told them of peace, where no peace was. One setteth up a wall, and they daub it with loose* clay. Therefore tell them which 11 daub it with untempered mortar, that it shall fall. For there shall come a great shewer of rain, great stones shall fall upon it, and a sore storm of wind shall break it, so shall the wall 12 come down. Shall it not then be said unto you: where is now the mortar, that ye daubed it withal? Therefore thus sayeth 13 the Lord GOD: I will break out in my wrothfull displeasure with a stormy wind, so that in mine anger there shall come a mighty shewer of rain, and hailstones in my wrath, to destroy withal. As for the wall, that ye have daubed with untempered 14 mortar, I will break it down, make it even with the ground: so the foundation thereof shall remove, and it shall fall, yea and ye yourselves shall perish in the midst thereof: to learn you for to know, that I am the LORD. Thus will I perform my 15 wrath upon this wall, and upon them that have daubed it with untempered mortar, and then will I say unto you: The wall is gone, and the daubers are away. These are the prophets 16 of Israel, which prophesy unto the city of Jerusalem, and look out visions of peace for them, where as no peace is, sayeth the Lord GOD. Wherefore (O thou son of man) set thy face against 17 the daughters of thy people, which prophesy out of their own hearts: and speak thou prophecy against them, and say: Thus 18 sayeth the Lord GOD: Woe be unto you, that sew* pillows under all armholes, and bolsters under the heads both of young and old, to catch souls withal. For when ye have gotten the souls of my people in your captivity, ye promise them life, and 19 dishonour me to my people, for an handful of barley, and for a piece of bread: when ye kill the souls of them, that die not, and promise life to them, that live not: Thus ye dissemble with 20 my people, that believeth your lies. Wherefore thus sayeth the Lord GOD: Behold, I will also upon the pillows, wherewith ye catch the souls in flying: them will I take from your arms, 21 and let the souls go, that ye catch in flying. Your bolsters also will I tear in pieces, and deliver my people out of your hand: so that they shall come no more in your hands to be spoiled, and 22 ye shall know, that I am the LORD. Seeing that with your lies ye discomfort the heart of the righteous, whom I have not comforted: Again: For so much as ye courage the hand of the wicked, so that he may not turn from his wicked way, and live: 23 therefore shall ye spy out no more vanity, nor prophesy your own guessings: for I will deliver my people out of your hand, that ye may know, how that I am the LORD.

XIV There resorted unto me certain of the elders of Israel, and 2 sat down by me. Then came the word of the LORD unto me, 3 saying: Thou son of man, these men bear their idols in their hearts, and go purposely upon the stumbling block of their own 4 wickedness: how dare they then ask counsel at me? Therefore speak unto them, and say: thus sayeth the Lord GOD: Every man of the house of Israel that beareth his Idols in his heart, purposing to stumble in his own wickedness, and cometh to a prophet, to enquire anything at me by him: unto that man will I the LORD myself give answer, according to the multi-5 tude of his idols: that the house of Israel may be snared in their own hearts, because they be clean gone from me, for their 6 Idols' sakes. Wherefore, tell the house of Israel: thus sayeth the Lord GOD: Be converted, forsake your idols, and turn your 7 faces from all your abominations. For every man, (whether he be of the house of Israel or a stranger, that sojourneth in Israel) which departeth from me, and carrieth idols in his heart, purposing to go still stumbling in his own wickedness, and cometh to a Prophet, for to ask counsel at me thorow him: unto that 8 man will I the LORD give answer, by mine own self. I will set my face against that man. And will make him to be an example for other, yea and a common byword: and will root him out of 9 my people, that he may know, how that I am the LORD. And if that Prophet be deceived, when he telleth him a word: then I the LORD myself have deceived that Prophet, and will stretch forth mine hand upon him, to root him out of my people of Israel: and they both shall be punished for their wickedness. 10 According to the sin of him that asketh, shall the sin of the Prophet be: that the house of Israel be led no more from me 11 thorow error, and be no more defiled in their wickedness: but that they may be my people, and I their God, sayeth the Lord GOD. And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying: 12, 13 Thou son of man, when the land sinneth against me, and goeth forth in wickedness: I will stretch out mine hand upon it, and destroy all the provision of their bread, and send dearth upon them, to destroy man and beast in the land. And though Noe, 14 Daniel and Job these three men were among them, yet shall they in their righteousness deliver but their own souls, sayeth the Lord GOD. If I bring noisome beasts into the land, to 15 waste it up, and it be so desolate, that no man may go therein for beasts: if these three men also were in the land, as truly 16 as I live, (sayeth the Lord GOD) they shall save neither sons nor daughters, but be only delivered themselves: and as for the land, it shall be waste. Or if I bring a sword into the 17 land, and charge it to go thorow the land: so that, I slay down man and beast in it, and if these three men were therein: As 18 truly as I live, (sayeth the Lord GOD) they shall deliver neither sons nor daughters, but only be saved themselves. If I 19 send a pestilence into the land, and pour out my sore indignation upon it in blood, so that I root out of it both man and beast, and if Noe, Daniel and Job, were therein: as truly as 20 I live, (sayeth the Lord GOD) they shall deliver neither sons nor daughters, but save their own souls in their righteousness.

 Moreover, thus sayeth the Lord GOD: Though I send my four 21 troublous plagues upon Jerusalem: the sword, hunger, perilous beasts, and pestilence, to destroy man and beast out of it: yet 22 shall there be a remnant saved therein, which shall bring forth their sons and daughters. Behold, they shall come forth unto you, and ye shall see their way, and what they take in hand, and ye shall be comforted, as touching all the plagues that I have brought upon Jerusalem, they shall comfort you, when 23 ye see their way and works: and ye shall know, how that it is not without a cause, that I have done so against Jerusalem, as I did, sayeth the Lord GOD.

The word of the LORD came unto me, saying: Thou son XV, 2 of man: What cometh of the vine among all other trees? And 3 of the vine stock among all other timber of the groove? Do men take wood of it, to make any work withal? Or may there 4 a nail be made of it, to hang anything upon? Behold, it is cast into the fire to be brent, the fire consumeth both the ends of it, the middest is brent to ashes. Is it mete then for any 5 work? No. Seeing then, that it was mete for no work, being whole: much less may there anything be made of it, when the 6 fire hath consumed and brent it. And therefore thus sayeth the Lord GOD: Like as I cast the vine into the fire for to be brent, as other trees of the wood: Even so will I do with them 7 that dwell in Jerusalem, and set my face against them: they shall go out from the fire, and yet the fire shall consume them.

 Then shall ye know, that I am the LORD, when I set my face 8 against them, and make the Land waste: because they have sore offended, sayeth the Lord GOD.

XVI, 2 Again, the word of the LORD spake unto me, saying: Thou son of man, shew the city of Jerusalem their abominations, 3 and say: thus sayeth the Lord GOD unto Jerusalem: Thy progeny and kindred came out of the land of Canaan, thy father was 4 an Amorite, thy mother a Cethite. In the day of thy birth when thou wast born, the string of thy navel was not cut off: thou wast not bathed in water to make thee clean: thou wast 5 neither rubbed with salt, nor swaddled in clouts: No man regarded that so much, as to do any of these things for thee, or to shew thee such favour, but thou wast utterly cast out upon the field, yea despised wast thou in the day of thy birth.
 6 Then came I by thee, and saw thee trodden down in thine own blood, and said unto thee: thou shalt be purged from thine own blood, from thine own blood (I say) shalt thou be cleansed.
 7 So I planted thee, as the blossom of the field: thou art grown up, and waxen great: thou hast gotten a marvelous pleasant beauty, thy breasts are come up, thy hair is goodly grown, 8 where as thou wast naked and bare afore. Now when I went by thee, and looked upon thee: behold, thy time was come, yea even the time to vow* thee. Then spread I my clothes over thee, to cover thy dishonesty: Yea I made an oath unto thee, and married myself with thee (sayeth the Lord GOD) and so 9 thou becamest mine own. Then washed I thee with water, and

16. v.8 Other: wow.

purged thy blood from thee, I anointed thee with oil, I gave thee change of rayments, I made thee shoes of Taxus' * leather: I girted thee about with white silk, I clothed thee with kerchues, I decked thee with costly apparel, I put rings upon thy fingers: a chain about thy neck, spangles upon thy forehead, ear rings upon thine ears, and set a beautiful crown upon thine head. Thus wast thou decked with silver and gold, and thy raiment was of fine white silk, of needle work and divers colors. Thou didst eat nothing but simnels, honey and oil: marvelous goodly wast thou and beautiful, yea even a very Queen wast thou. In so much, that thy beauty was spoken of among the Heathen, for thou wast excellent in my beauty, which I put upon thee, sayeth the Lord GOD. But thou hast put confidence in thine own beauty, and played the harlot, when thou hadst gotten thee a name. Thou hast committed whoredom, with all that went by thee, and hast fulfilled their desires: Yea thou hast taken thy garments of divers colors, and decked thine alters therewith, where upon thou mightest fulfill thine whoredom, of such a fashion, as never was done, nor shall be. The goodly ornaments and Jewels which I gave thee of mine own gold and silver, hast thou taken, and made thee men's images thereof, and committed whoredom withal. Thy garments of divers colors hast thou taken, and decked them therewith: mine oil and incense hast thou set before them. My meat which I gave thee, as simnels, oil and honey: (to feed thee withal) that hast thou set before them, for a sweet saviour. And this came also to pass, sayeth the Lord GOD: Thou hast taken thine own sons and daughters, whom thou hast* begotten unto me: and these hast thou offered up to them, to be their meat. Is this but a small whoredom of thine (thinkest thou) that thou slayest my children, and givest them over, to be brent unto them? And yet in all thy abominations and whoredom, thou hast not remembered the days of thy youth, how naked and bare thou wast at that time, and trodden down in thine own blood. After all these thy wickednesses (woe, woe unto thee, sayeth the LORD) thou hast builded thy stewes and brodel houses in every place: yea at the head of every street hast thou builded thee an alter. Thou hast made thy beauty to be abhorred, thou hast laid out thy legs to every one that

v.10 Other: tahas. v.20 Other: haddest.

26 came by, and multiplied thine whoredom. Thou hast committed fornication with the Egyptians thy neighbours, which had much flesh: and thus hast thou used thine whoredom, to 27 anger me. Behold, I will stretch out mine hand over thee, and will minish thy store of food, and deliver thee over into the wiles of the Philistines thine enemies, which are ashamed of 28 thy abominable way. Thou hast played the whore also with the Assirians, which might not satisfy thee: Yea thou hast 29 played the harlot, and not had enough. Thus hast thou still committed thy fornication from the land of Canaan unto the 30 Caldees, and yet thy lust not satisfied. How should I circumcise thine heart (sayeth the Lord GOD) seeing thou doest all 31 these things, thou precious whore: building thy stewes at the head of every street, and thy brodel houses in all places? Thou hast not been as another whore, that maketh boost of her win-32 ning but as a wife that breaketh wedlock, and taketh other instead of her husband. Gifts are given to all other whores, 33 but thou givest rewards unto all thy lovers: and offerest them gifts, to come unto thee out of all places, and to commit forni-
34 cation with thee. It is come to pass with thee in thy whoredoms contrary to the use of other women: yea there hath no such fornication been committed after thee, seeing that thou profferest gifts unto other, and no regard is given thee: this 35 is a contrary thing. Therefore hear the word of the LORD, O thou harlot: thus sayeth the Lord GOD: For so much as thou 36 hast spent thy money, and discovered thy shame, thorow thy whoredom with all thy lovers, and with all the Idols of thy abominations in the blood of thy children, whom thou hast given 37 them: Behold therefore, I will gather together all thy lovers, unto whom thou hast made thy self common: yea and all them whom thou favourest, and euery one that thou hatest: and will discover thy shame before them, that they all maye see thy 38 filthiness. Moreover, I will judge thee as a breaker of wedlock and a murderer, and recompense thee thine own blood in 39 wrath and jealousy. I will give thee over in to their power, that shall break down thy stewes, and destroy thy brodel houses: they shall strip thee out of thy clothes, all thy fair and beautiful Jewels shall they take from thee, and so let thee sit naked 40 and bare: Yea they shall bring the common people upon thee, which shall stone thee, and slay thee down with their swords.

They shall burn up thy houses, and punish thee in the sight 41 of many women. Thus will I make thy whoredom to cease, so that thou shalt give out no more* rewards. Should I make 42 my wrath to be still, take my jealousy from thee, be content, and no more to be displeased? Seeing thou rememberest not 43 the days of thy youth, but hast provoked me to wrath in all these things? Behold therefore, I will bring thine own ways upon thine head, sayeth the Lord GOD: how be it, I never did unto thee, according to thy wickedness and all thy abominations. Behold, all they that use common proverbs, shall use 44 this proverb also against thee: such a mother, such a daughter.
Thou art even thy mother's own daughter, that hath cast off 45 her husband and her children: Yea thou art the sister of thy sisters, which forsook their husbands and their children. Your mother is a Cethite, and your father an Amorite. Thine eldest 46 sister is Samaria, she and her daughters that dwell upon thy left hand. But thy youngest sister that dwelleth on thy right hand, is Sodoma and her daughters. Yet hast thou not walked 47 after their ways, nor done after their abominations: but in all thy ways thou hast been more corrupt than they. As truly 48 as I live, sayeth the Lord GOD, Sodoma thy sister with her daughters hath not done so evil, as thou and thy daughters.
Behold, the sins of thy sister Sodoma, were these: Pride, ful- 49 ness of meat, abundance and Idleness: these things had she and her daughters. Besides that they reached not their hand to the poor and needy, but were proud, and did abominable 50 things before me: therefore I took them away, when I had seen it. Neither hath Samaria done half of thy sins, yea thou hast 51 exceeded them in wickedness: In so much that in comparison of all the abominations which thou hast done, thou hast made thy sisters good women. (Therefore bear thine own shame, 52 thou that in sin hast overcome thy sisters: seeing thou hast done so abominably, that they were better then thou. Be ashamed therefore (I say) and bear thine own confusion, thou that makest thy sisters good women.) As for their captivity, namely 53 the captivity of Sodoma and her daughters: the captivity of Samaria and her daughters: I will bring them again, so will I also bring again thy captivity among them: that thou mayest 54 take thine own confusion upon thee, and be ashamed of all v.41 Other: mo.

55 that thou hast done, and to comfort them. Thus thy sisters (namely) Sodoma and her daughters: Samaria and her daughters 56, 57 with thy self and thy daughters, shall be brought again to your old estate. When thou wast in thy pride, and before thy wickedness came to light: thou wouldest not hear speak of thy sister Sodoma, until the time that the Syrians with all their towns, and the Philistines, with all that lie round about them, 58 brought thee to shame and confusion: that thou mightest bear 59 thine own filthiness and abomination, sayeth the LORD. For thus sayeth the Lord GOD: I should (by right) deal with thee, as thou hast done. Thou hast despised the oath, and broken the 60 covenant. Nevertheless, I will remember the covenant that I made with thee in thy youth, in so much that it shall be an 61 everlasting covenant: So that thou also remember thy ways, and be ashamed of them: then shalt thou receive of me thy elder and younger sisters, whom I will make thy daughters, and 62 that beside thy covenant. And so I will renew my covenant 63 with thee, that thou mayest know that I am the LORD: That thou mayest think upon it, be ashamed, and excuse thine own confusion no more: when I have forgiven thee, all that thou hast done, sayeth the Lord GOD.

XVII, 2 The word of the LORD came unto me, saying: Thou son of man: put forth a dark speaking and a parable, unto the house 3 of Israel; And say: Thus sayeth the Lord GOD: There came a great Aegle with great wings, yea with mighty long wings, full of feathers, of divers colours, upon the mount of Libanus, and 4 took a branch from a Cedar tree, and brake off the top of his twig, and carried it into the land of Canaan, and set it in a city 5 of merchants. He took also a branch of the land, and planted it in a fruitful ground, he brought it unto great waters, and set 6 it as a willow tree thereby. Then did it grow, and was a great vine stock, but low by the ground: thus there came of it a vine, 7 and it brought forth blossoms, and spread out branches. But there was another Aegle, a great one, which had great wings and many feathers: and behold, the roots of this vine had an hunger after him, and spread out his branches toward him, 8 to water his fruits: Nevertheless it was planted upon a good ground beside great waters: so that (by reason) it should have brought out branches and fruit, and have been a goodly vine.
9 Speak thou therefore, thus sayeth the Lord GOD: Shall this vine prosper? Shall not his roots be plucked out, his fruit be broken off, his green branches wither and fade away? Yea without either strong armies or many people, shall it be plucked up by the roots. Behold, it was planted: shall it prosper therefore? Shall it not be dried up and withered, yea even in the shooting out of his blossoms, as soon as the east wind bloweth? Moreover the word of the LORD came unto me saying: Speak to that froward household: Know ye not, what these things do signify? Tell them: Behold, the king of Babylon came to Jerusalem, and took the king and his princes, and led them to Babylon. He took of the king's seed, and made a covenant with him, and took an oath of him: The princes of the land toke he with him also, that the land might be held in subjection, and not to rebel, but keep the covenant, and fulfill it. But he fell from him, and sent his Embassadors into Egypt that he might have horses and much people. Should that prosper? Should he be kept safe, that doth such things? Or should he escape, that breaketh his covenant? As truly as I live, sayeth the Lord GOD: He shall die at Babylon, in the place where the king dwelleth, that made him king: whose oath he hath despised, and whose covenant he hath broken. Neither shall Pharaoh with his great host and multitude of people, maintain him in the war: when they cast up ditches, and set up bulwarks to destroy much people. For seeing he hath despised the oath, and broken the covenant, (where as he yet gave his hand thereupon) and done all these things, he shall not escape. Therefore thus sayeth the Lord GOD: As truly as I live, I will bring mine oath that he hath despised, and my covenant that he hath broken, upon his own head. I will cast my net about him, and catch him in my yarn. To Babylon will I carry him, there will I punish him, because of the great offense that he made me. As for those that flee from him out of the host, they shall be slain with the sword. The residue shall be scattered toward all the winds: and ye shall know, that I the LORD have spoken it. Thus sayeth the Lord GOD: I will also take a branch from an high Cedar tree, and will set it, and take the uppermost twig, that yet is but tender, and plant it upon an high hill: Namely, upon the high hill of Sion will I plant it: that it may bring forth twigs, and give fruit, and be a great Cedar tree: so that all manner of fowls may bide in it, and 24 make their nests under the shadow of his branches. And all the trees of the field shall know, that I the LORD have brought down the high tree, and set the low tree up: that I have dried up the green tree, and made the dry tree to flourish: Even I the LORD that spake it, have also brought it to pass.

XVIII, 2 The word of the LORD came unto me, on this manner: what mean ye by this common proverb, that ye use in the land of Israel, saying: The fathers have eaten sour grapes, and the children's teeth are set on edge? As truly as I live, sayeth the Lord GOD, ye shall use this byword no more in Israel. Behold, all souls are mine. Like as the father is mine, so is the son mine also. The soul that sinneth, shall die. If a man be godly, and do the thing that is equal and right, he eateth not upon the hills: he lifteth not his eyes up to the Idols of Israel, he defileth not his neighbour's wife: he meddleth with no menstruous woman: he grieveth nobody: he giveth his debtor his pledge again, he raketh none other man's goods by violence: he parteth his mete with the hungry: he clotheth the naked: he lendeth nothing upon usury: he taketh nothing over: he withdraweth his hand from doing wrong: he handleth faithfully betwixt man and man: he walketh in my commandments, and keepeth my laws, and performeth them faithfully:) This is a righteous man, he shall surly live, sayeth the Lord GOD. If he now get a son, that is a murderer, a shedder of blood: if he do one of these things (though he do not all) he eateth upon the hills: he defileth his neighbour's wife: he grieveth the poor and needy: he robbeth and spoileth: he giveth not the debtor his pledge again, he lifteth up his eyes unto Idols, and meddle with abominable things: he lendeth upon usury, and taketh moreover. Shall this man live? He shall not live. Seeing he hath done all these abominations, he shall die: his blood shall be upon him. Now if this man get a son also, that seeth all his father's sins, which he hath done: and feareth, neither doth such like: Namely, he eateth not upon the mountains: he lifteth not his eyes up to the Idols of Israel: he defileth not his neighbour's wife: he vexeth no man: he keepeth no man's pledge, he neither spoileth, nor robbeth any man: he dealeth his meat with the hungry: he clotheth the naked: he opreseth not the poor: he receiveth no usury, nor anything over: he keepeth my laws, and walketh in my comandments: this man shall not die in his father's sin, but shall live without fail. As 18 for his father: because he oppressed and spoiled his brother, and did wickedly among his people: Lo, he is dead in his own sin. And yet say ye: Wherefore then should not this son bear 19 his father's sin? Therefore: because the son hath done equity and right, hath kept all my commandments, and done them: therefore, shall he live in deed. The same soul that sinneth, 20 shall die. The son shall not bear the father's offense, neither shall the father bear the son's offence. The righteousness of the righteous shall be upon him, and the wickedness of the wicked shall be upon him self also.* But if the ungodly will 21 turn away from all his sins that he hath done, and keep all my comandments, and do the thing that is equal and right: doubtless he shall live, and not die.* As for all his sins that he did 22 before, they shall not be thought upon: but in his righteousness that he hath done, he shall live.* For have I any pleasure 23 in the death of a sinner? sayeth the Lord GOD: but rather that he convert and live.* Again: If the righteous turn away 24 from his righteousness, and do iniquity, according to all the abominations, that the wicked man doth, shall he live? All the righteousness that he hath done, shall not be thought upon: but in the fault that he offended withal and in the sin that he hath done, he shall die.* And yet ye say: Tush, the way of 25 the Lord is not indifferent. Hear therefore ye house of Israel:

 Is not my way right? Or, are not your ways rather wicked? *
 When a righteous man turneth away from his righteousness, 26 and meddleth with ungodliness: he must die therein: Yea for the unrighteousness that he hath done, must he die.* Again: 27

18. v.20 Other: The soul that sinneth, she shall die. The son shall not bear part of the father's wickedness. The righteousness of the right shall be upon him, and the wickedness of the wicked shall be on him. v.21 Other: And yet the wicked if he turn from all his sins which he did, and keep all mine ordinances, and do justly and righteously, he shall live and not die. v.22 Other: None of the sins that he hath done shall be reckoned unto him: In the righteousness that he hath done, he shall live. v.23 Other: For I desire not the death of a sinner (saith the Lord Iehouah) but rather that he should turn from his way, and live. v.24 Other: And so if a righteous turn from his righteousness and do wickedness, and shall do like unto all the abominations which a wicked doth, shall he live? No, none of those righteousness that he did shall be remembered. But in the wickedness which he wrought, and in the sin which he did, in them shall he die. v.25 Other: But you will say, the way of the Lord is not equal. Here I pray you ye house of Israel. Is not my way equal?. v.26 Other: If a righteous turn from his righteousness and do wickedly, and die therefore: in the wickedness which he did he shall die.

when the wicked man turneth away from his wickedness, that he hath done, and doth the thing which is equal and right: he shall save his soul alive.* For in so much as he remembereth himself, and turneth him from all the ungodliness, that he had used, he shall live, and not die.* And yet sayeth the house of Israel: Tush, the way of the Lord is not equal. Are my ways unright, O ye house of Israel: Are not your ways rather unequal? As for me, I will judge every man, according to his ways, O ye house of Israel, sayeth the Lord GOD. Wherefore be converted, and turn you clean from all your wickedness, so shall there no sin do you harm. Cast away from you all your ungodliness, that ye have done: make you new hearts and a new spirit. Wherefore will ye die, O ye house of Israel? seeing I have no pleasure in the death of him that dieth, sayeth the Lord GOD. Turn you then, and ye shall live.

XIX, 2 But mourn thou for the princes of Israel, and say: Wherefore lay thy mother that lioness among the lions, and nourished her young ones among the lion's whelps? One of her whelps she brought up, and it became a lion: it learned to spoil, and to devour folk. The heathen heard of him, and took him in their nets, and brought him with chains unto the land of Egypt. Now when the dame saw, that all her hope and comfort was away, she took another of her whelps, and made a lion of him: which went among the lions, and became a fierce lion: learned to spoil, and to devour folk: he destroyed their palaces, and made their cities waste. In so much that the whole land and every thing therein, were utterly desolate, thorow the very voice of his roaring. Then came the heathen together on every side out of all countries against him, laid their nets for him, and took him in their pit. So they bound him with chains, and brought him to the king of Babylon: which put him in prison, that his voice should no more be heard upon the mountains of Israel. As for thy mother, she is like a vine in thy blood, planted by the water side: her fruits and branches are grown out of many waters, her stalks were so strong, that men might have made staves thereof for officers: she grew so high in her stalks. So when men saw that she exceeded the v.27 Other: And when a wicked turneth from his wickedness and doth justly and righteously, he shall save his soul. v.28 Other: because he feared and turned from all his wickedness which he did, he shall live and not die, saith the Lord almighty.

height and multitude of her branches, she was rooted out in displeasure, and cast down to the ground. The East wind dried up her fruit, her strong stalks were broken off, withered and brent in the fire. But now she is planted in the wilderness, in a dry and thirsty ground. And there is a fire gone out of her stalks, which hath brent up her branches and her fruit: so that she hath no more strong stalks, to be staves for officers. This is a piteous and miserable thing.

In the seventh year, the tenth day of the fifth Month, it XX happened, that certain of the elders of Israel came unto me, for to ask counsel at the LORD, and sat them down by me. Then came the word of the LORD unto me on this manner: 2 Thou son of man: speak unto the elders of Israel, and say unto 3 them: Thus sayeth the Lord GOD: Are ye come hither to ask 4 anything at me? As truly as I live, (sayeth the Lord GOD) I 4 will give you no answer. Wilt thou not reprove them (thou son 5 of man) wilt thou not reprove them? Shew them the abomi- 5 nations of their forefathers: and tell them: Thus sayeth the 5 Lord GOD: In the day when I chose Israel, and lift up mine 6 hand upon the seed of the house of Jacob, and shewed myself 6 unto them in the land of Egypt; Yea when I lift up mine hand 6 over them, and said: I am the LORD your God, even in the 6 day that I lift up mine hand over them, to bring them out of 6 the land of Egypt, into a land that I have provided for them, 7 which floweth with milk and honey, and it is a pleasant land 7 among all other: Then said I unto them: Cast away every man 7 the abominations that he hath before him, and defile not your- 8 selves with the Idols of Egypt, for I am the LORD your God. 8
But they rebelled against me, and would not follow me: to cast 8 away every man the abominations of his eyes, and to forsake 8 the Idols of Egypt. Then I made me to pour my indignation 9 over them, and to satisfy my wrath upon them: Yea even in 9 the midst of the land of Egypt. But I would not do it, for 9 my name's sake: that it should not be unhallowed before the 9 Heathen, among whom they dwelt, and among whom I shewed 9 my self unto them, that I would bring them out of the land 10 of Egypt. Now when I had carried them out of the land of 10 Egypt, and brought them into the wilderness. I gave them 11 my comandments, and shewed them my laws: which who so 11 keepeth shall live in them. I gave them also my holy days, 12 to be a token betwixt me and them, and thereby to know, that 13 I am the LORD, which halloweth them. And yet the house of Israel rebelled against me in the wilderness, they would not walk in my comandments, they have cast away my laws (which whoso keepeth should live in them) and my Sabbath days have they greatly unhallowed. Then I made me to pour out my indignation upon them, and to consume them in the wilderness; 14 Yet I would not do it, for my name's sake: lest it should be dishonoured before the Heathen, from the which I had carried 15 them away. But I swore unto them in the wilderness, that I would not bring them into the land, which I gave them: a land that floweth with milk and honey, and is a pleasure of all 16 lands: and that because they refused my laws, and walked not in my comandments, but had unhallowed my Sabbaths, for 17 their heart was gone after their Idols. Nevertheless mine eye spared them, so that I would not utterly slay them, and con-18 sume them in the wilderness. Moreover, I said unto their sons in the wilderness: walk not in the statutes of your forefathers, keep not their ordinances, and defile not yourselves with their 19 idols, for I am the LORD your God. But walk in my statutes, 20 keep my laws and do them, hallow my Sabbaths: for they are a token betwixt me and you, that ye may know, how that I am 21 the LORD. Notwithstanding, their sons rebelled against me also: they walked not in my statutes, they kept not my laws to fulfill them (which he that doth shall live in them) neither hallowed they my Sabbath days. Then I made me again to pour out my indignation over them, and to satisfy my wrath 22 upon them in the wilderness. Nevertheless, I withdrew my hand for my name's sake, lest it should be unhallowed among 23 the Heathen, before whom I had brought them forth. I lift up mine hand over them also in the wilderness, that I would scatter them among the Heathen, and strow them among the 24 nations: because they had not kept my laws, but cast aside my comandments, unhallowed my Sabbaths, and lift up their 25 eyes to their fathers' Idols. Wherefore I gave them also co-mandments not good, and laws thorow the which they should 26 not live, and I unhallowed them in their own gifts (when I appointed for my self all their firstborn) to make them deso-27 late: that they might know, how that I am the LORD. Therefore (O thou son of man) tell the house of Israel, thus sayeth the Lord GOD: Beside all this, your forefathers have yet blas-phemed me more, and greatly offended against me: For after I 28 had brought them into the land, that I promised to give them, when they saw every high hill, and all the thick trees: they made* their offerings, and provoked me with their oblations, making sweet saviours there, and poured out their drink offerings. Then I ask them; What have ye to do with all, that ye 29 go thither? And therefore is it called the high place unto this day. Wherefore, speak unto the house of Israel: Thus sayeth 30 the Lord GOD: Ye are even as unclean as your forefathers, and commit whoredom also with their abominations. In all your 31 idols, where unto ye bring your oblations, and to whose honour ye burn your children: ye defile your selves, even unto this day: how dare ye then come, and ask any question at me? O ye household of Israel? As truly as I live (sayeth the Lord GOD) ye get no answer of me: and as for the thing that ye go about, 32 it shall not come to pass, where as ye say: we will be as the Heathen, and do as other people in the land, wood and stone will we worship. As truly as I live, sayeth the Lord GOD, I 33 myself will rule you with a mighty hand, with a stretched out arm, and with indignation poured out over you: and will bring 34 you out of the nations and lands, wherein ye are scattered: and gather you together with a mighty hand, with a stretched out arm and with indignation poured out upon you: and will bring 35 you into the wilderness of the people, and there I will reason with you face to face. Like as I punished your forefathers in 36 the wilderness, so will I punish you also, sayeth the Lord GOD.

 I will bring you under my jurisdiction, and under the bond of 37 the covenant. The forsakers also and the transgressors will I 38 take from among you, and bring them out of the land of your habitations: As for the land of Israel, they shall not come in it: that they may know, how that I am the LORD. Go now then 39 (sayeth the Lord GOD) ye house of Israel, cast away, and destroy every man his Idols: then shall ye hear me, and no more blaspheme my holy name with your offerings and Idols. But 40 upon my holy hill, even upon the high hill of Israel shall all the house of Israel and all that is in the land, worship me: and in the same place will I favour them, and there will I require your heave offerings, and the firstlings of your oblations, with 41 all your holy things. I will accept your sweet savour, when I bring you from the nations, and gather you together out of the lands, wherein ye be scattered: that I may be hallowed in 42 you before the Heathen. And that ye may know, that I am the LORD, which have brought you into the land of Israel: Yea into the same land, that I swore to give unto your forefathers.

 43 There shall ye call to remembrance your own ways and all your imaginations, wherein ye have been defiled: and ye shall be displeased with your own selves, for all your wickedness, that 44 ye have done. And ye shall know, that I am the LORD: when I entreat you after my name, not after your wicked ways, nor according to your corrupt works: O ye house of Israel, sayeth the 45 LORD. Moreover, the word of the LORD came unto me, saying: 46 Thou son of man, set thy face toward the south, and speak to 47 the south wind, and say to the wood toward the south: Hear the word of the LORD, thus sayeth the Lord GOD: Behold, I will kindle a fire in thee, that shall consume thee green trees with the dry. No man shall be able to quench his flame, but all that looketh from the south to the north shall be brent therein.
 48 And all flesh shall see, that I the LORD have kindled it, so that 49 no man may quench it. Then said I: O LORD, they will say of me: Tush, they are but fables that he telleth.

XXI, 2 The word of the LORD came to me, saying: Thou son of man, set thy face toward Jerusalem, speak against the Sanctuary, and prophesy against the land of Israel, say to the land 3 of Israel: Thus sayeth the LORD God: Behold, I will upon thee, and will draw my sword out of the sheath, and root out 4 of thee both the righteous and the wicked; Seeing then that I will root out of thee both the righteous and wicked, therefore shall my sword go out of his sheath against all flesh from the 5 north to the south: that all flesh may know* that I the LORD have drawn my sword out of the sheath, and it shall not be 6 put in again. Mourn therefore (O thou son of man) that thy 7 loins crack withal, yea mourn bitterly for them: And if they say, wherefore mournest thou? Then tell them: for the tidings that cometh, at the which all hearts shall melt, all hands shall be letten down, all stomachs shall faint, and all knees shall wax feeble. Behold, it cometh, and shall be fulfilled, sayeth the 8 Lord GOD. Again, the word of the LORD came unto me, say-

21. v.5 Other: how.

ing: Thou son of man, prophesy and speak: Thus sayeth the LORD God: speak, the sword is sharpened and well scoured. Sharpened is it for the slaughter, and scoured that it may be bright. O, the destroying staff of my son, shall bring down all wood. He hath put his sword to the dighting, that good hold may be taken of it. This sword is sharpened and dight, that it may be given into the hand of the manslayer. Cry (O thou son of man) and howl, for this sword shall smite my people, and all the rulers in Israel, which with my people shall be slain down to the ground thorow this sword. Smite thou upon thy thigh, For wherefore should not the plague and staff of judgement come? * Prophesy thou son of man, and smite thine hands together: make the sword two edged, yea make it three edged, that manslayer's sword, that sword of the great slaughter, which shall smite them, even in their privy chambers: to make them abashed and faint at the hearts, and in all gates to make some of them fall. O how bright and sharp is it, how well dight and mete for the slaughter. Get thee to some place alone, either upon the right hand or on the left, wither soever thy face turneth. I will smite my hands together also and satisfy my wrothfull indignation: Even I the LORD have said it. The word of the LORD came yet unto me again saying: Thou son of man, make thee two streets, that the sword of the king of Babylon may come. Both these streets shall go out of one land. He shall set him up a place, at the head of the street shall he choose him out a corner. Make thee a street, that the sword may come toward Kabbath of the Ammonites, and to the strong city of Jerusalem. For the king of Babylon shall stand in the turning of the way, at the head of the two trees: to ask counsel at the soothsayers, casting the lots with his arrows, to ask counsel at the Idols, and to look in the liver. But the soothsaying shall point to the right side upon Jerusalem, that he may set men of war, to smite it with a great noise, to cry out Alarum, to set battle rams against the gates, to grave up ditches, and to make bulwarks. Nevertheless, as for the soothsaying, they shall hold it but for vanity, even as though a jest were told them: Yea and they themselves remember their wickedness, so that by right they must be taken and v.13 Other: Smite therefore thou upon thy thigh, for it is gone forth to make a trial. And what a trial shall this be, when even my scepter shall be reprov'd? That shall not be sayeth the Lord GOD.

24 won. Therefore sayeth the Lord GOD: for so much as ye yourselves shew your offense, and have opened your wickedness, so that in all your works men may see your sins: Yea in so much (I say) that ye yourselves have made mention thereof, ye shall 25 be taken by violence. O thou shameful wicked guide of Israel whose day is come: even the time that wickedness shall have 26 an end: Thus sayeth the Lord GOD: take away the mitre, and put off the crown, and so is it away: the humble is exalted, 27 and the proud brought low. Punish, punish, yea punish them will I, and destroy them: and that shall not be fulfilled till he come, to whom the judgement belongeth, and to whom I have 28 given it. And thou (O son of man) prophesy, and speak: Thus sayeth the Lord GOD to the children of Ammon, and to their blasphemy, speak thou: The sword, the sword is drawn forth 29 already to the slaughter, and scoured that it glistereth (because thou hast looked thee out vanities, and prophesied lies) that it may come upon thy neck, like as upon the other ungodly, which be slain: whose day came, when their wickedness 30 was full. Though it were put up again into the sheath, yet will I punish thee, in the land where thou wast nourished and 31 born, and pour my indignation upon thee, and will blow upon thee in the fire of my wrath, and deliver thee unto cruel people, 32 which are learned to destroy. Thou shalt feed the fire and thy blood shall be shed in the land, that thou mayest be put out of remembrance. Even I the LORD have spoken it.

XXII

Moreover, the word of the LORD came unto me, and said:
2 Thou son of man, wilt thou not reprove this bloodthirsty city?
3 Shew them their abominations, and tell them: Thus sayeth the Lord GOD: O thou city, that sheddest blood in the midst of thee, that thy time may come also: and makest the Idols to 4 defile thee withal. Thou hast made thy self guilty in the blood that thou hast shed, and defiled thee in the Idols, which thou hast made. Thou hast caused thy days to draw nye, and made the time of thy years to come. Therefore will I make thee to be confounded among the heathen, and to be despised in all the 5 lands, whether they be nye or far from thee: they shall laugh thee to scorn, thou that hast gotten thee so foul a name, and 6 art full of mischief. Behold, the rulers of Israel have brought 7 every man his power, to shed blood in thee. In thee have they despised father and mother, in thee have they oppressed the stranger, in thee have they vexed the widow and the fatherless. Thou hast despised my Sanctuary, and unhallowed 8 my Sabbath. Murderers are there in thee, that shed blood, 9 and eat upon the hills, and in thee they use unhappiness. In 10 thee have they discovered their fathers' shame, in thee have they vexed women in their sickness. Every man hath dealt 11 shamefully with his neighbour's wife, and abominably defiled his daughter-in-law. In thee hath every man forced his own sister, even his father's daughter. Yea gifts have been received 12 in thee, to shed blood. Thou hast taken usury and increase, thou hast oppressed thy neighbours by extortion, and forgotten me, sayeth the Lord GOD. Behold, I have smitten my hands 13 upon thy covetousness, that thou hast used, and upon the blood which hath been shed in thee. Is thy heart able to endure it, 14 or may thy hands defend themselves, in the time that I shall bring upon thee? Even I the LORD that speak it, will bring it also to pass. I will scatter thee among the heathen, and 15 strow thee about in the lands, and will cause thy filthiness to cease out of thee. Yea and I will have thee in possession in the sight of the Heathen, that thou mayest know that I am the LORD. And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying: 17 Thou son of man, the house of Israel is turned to dross. All they that should be brass, tin, iron and lead, are in the fire become dross. Therefore, thus sayeth the Lord GOD: for so much as 19 ye all are turned into dross, behold: I will bring you together unto Jerusalem, like as silver, and brass, iron, tin, and lead, 20 are put together in the furnace and the fire blown there under to melt them: Even so will I gather you, put you in together, and melt you in my wrath and indignation. I will bring you together, and kindle the fire of my cruel displeasure under you, that ye may be melted therein. Like as the silver is melted 22 in the fire, so shall ye also be melted therein: that ye may know, how that I the LORD have poured my wrath upon you. And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying: Thou son of 23, 24 man, tell her: Thou art an unclean land, which is not rained upon in the day of the cruel wrath: thy Prophets that are 25 in thee, are sworn together to devour souls, like as a roaring Lion, that liveth by his prey. They receive riches and good, and make many widows in thee. Thy priests break my law, and 26 defile my Sanctuary. They put no difference between the holy and unholy, neither discern between the clean and unclean: they turn their eyes from my Sabbaths, and I am unhallowed 27 among them. Thy rulers in thee are like ravishing wolves, to shed blood, and to destroy souls, for their own covetous lucre.

28 As for thy Prophets, they daub with untempered clay, they see vanities, and prophesy lies unto thee, saying: the Lord GOD 29 sayeth so, where as the LORD hath not spoken. The people in the land useth wicked extortion and robbery. They vex the 30 poor and needy and oppress the stranger against right. And I sought in the land for a man, that would make up the hedge, and set himself in the gap before me in the lands behalf, that I 31 should not utterly destroy it: but I could find none. Therefore will I poured out my cruel displeasure upon them, and burn them in the fire of my wrath: their own ways will I recompense upon their heads, sayeth the Lord GOD.

XXIII, 2 The word of the LORD came unto me, saying: Thou son 3 of man, there were two women, that had one mother: These (when they were young) began to play the harlots in Egypt. There were their breasts bruised, and the pappes of their maidenhead destroyed. The eldest of them was called Oholah and 4 her youngest sister Oholibah. These two were mine, and bare sons and daughters. Their names were, Samaria, and that was 5 Oholah: and Jerusalem, that was Oholibah: As for Oholah she began to go a whoring, when I had taken her to me. She was 6 set on fire upon her lovers the Assirians, which had to do with her: even the princes and lords, that were decked in costly array: fair young men, lusty riders of horses. Thus thorow her 7 whoredom, she cleaved unto all the young men of Assyria: Yea she was mad upon them, and defiled herself with all their Idols.
8 Neither ceased she from the fornication, that she used with the Egyptians: for in her youth they lay with her, they bruised the breasts of her maidenhead, and poured their whoredom upon 9 her. Wherefore, I delivered her into the hands of her lovers, even the Assyrians, whom she so loved. These discovered 10 her shame, took her sons and daughters, and slew her with the sword: An evil name gat she of all people, and they punished her. Her sister Aholibah saw this, and destroyed herself with inordinate love, more than she, and exceeded her sister 11 in whoredom: she loved the Assyrians, (which also lay with her) namely, the princes and great lords, that were clothed with all manner of gorgeous apparel, all lusty horsemen and fair young persons. Then I saw, that they both were defiled 13 a like. But she increased still in whoredom: for when she 14 saw men painted upon the wall, the images of the Chaldees set forth with fresh colours, with fair girdles about them, and 15 goodly bonnets upon their heads, looking all like princes (after the manner of the Babylonians and Chaldees in their own land, where they be born) immediatley, as soon as she saw 16 them, she brent in love upon them, and sent messengers for them into the land of the Chaldees. Now when the Babylo- 17 nians came to her, they lay with her, and defiled her with their whoredom, and so was she polluted with them. And when her lust was abated from them, her whoredom and shame 18 was discovered and seen: then my heart forsook her, like as my heart was gone from her sister also. Nevertheless, she 19 used her whoredome ever the longer the more, and remembered the days of her youth, wherein she had played the harlot in the land of Egypt: she brent in lust upon them, whose 20 flesh was like the flesh of Asses, and their seed like the seed of horses. Thus thou hast renewed the filthiness of thy youth, 21 when thy lovers bruised thy paps, and marred thy breasts in Egypt. Therefore (O Oholibah) thus sayeth the Lord GOD. 22 I will raise up thy lovers (with whom thou hast satisfied thy lust) against thee, and gather them together round about thee: Namely, the Babylonians, and all the Chaldees: Pecod, Schoa, 23 and Coa, with all the Assyrians: all young and fair lovers: princes and lords, knights and gentlemen, which be all good horsemen: These shall come upon thee with horses, chari- 24 ots, and a great multitude of people: which shall be harnessed about thee on every side, with breastplates, shields and helmets. I will punish thee before them, yea they themselves shall punish thee, according to their own judgement. I will put my 25 jealousy upon thee, so that they shall deal cruelly with thee.

They shall cut off thy nose and thine ears, and the remnant shall fall thorow the sword. They shall carry away thy sons and daughters, and the residue shall be brent in the fire. They 26 shall strip thee out of thy clothes, and carry thy costly jewels away with them. Thus will I make an end of thy filthiness 27 and whoredom, which thou hast brought out from the land of Egypt: so that thou shalt turn thine eyes no more after them,

28 and cast thy mind no more upon Egypt. For thus sayeth the LORD: behold, I will deliver thee into the hands of them, whom thou hatest: yea even into the hands of them, with whom thou 29 hast fulfilled thy lust, which shall deal cruelly with thee: All thy labour shall they take with them, and leave thee naked and bare, and thus the shame of thy filthy whoredom shall 30 come to light. All these things shall happen unto thee, because of thy whoredom, which thou hast used among the Gentiles, with whose Idols thou hast defiled thy self. Thou hast 31 walked in the way of thy sister, therefore will I give thee her cup in thy hand. Thus sayeth the Lord GOD: Thou shalt drink of thy sister's cup, how deep and far* soever it be to the bottom. Thou shalt be laughed to scorn, and had as greatly inderision, 32 as is possible. Thou shalt be full of drunkenness and sorrow, for the cup of thy sister Samaria is a cup of destruction and 33 wasting: The same shalt thou drink, and sup it out even to the dregs; Yea thou shalt eat up the broken pieces of it, and so tear thine own breasts: for even I have spoken it, sayeth the Lord GOD. Therefore thus sayeth the Lord GOD: For so 34 much as thou hast forgotten me, and cast me aside, so bear now thy own filthiness and whoredom. The LORD said moreover unto me: Thou son of man, wilt thou not reprove Oholah and 35 Oholibah? Shew them their abominations: namely, that they have broken their wedlock, and stained their hands with blood: yea even with their idols have they committed advoutry, and offered them their own children (to be devoured) whom they 36 have born unto me. Yea and this have they done unto me also: they have defiled my Sanctuary in that same day, and have unhallowed my Sabbath. For when they had slain their children for their idols, they came the same day into my Sanctuary to 37 defile it. Lo, this have they done in my house. Beside all this, thou hast sent thy messengers for men out of far countries: and when they came, thou hast bathed, trimmed and set forth 38 thy self of the best fashion: thou satest upon a goodly bed, and a table spread before thee: whereupon thou hast set mine 39 incense and mine oil. Then was there great cheer with her: and the men that were sent from far countries over the desert, unto these they gave bracelets upon their hands, and set glorious crowns upon their heads: Then thought I: no doubt, these 40
41 42
43

23. v.32 Other: farre.

will use their harlotry also with yonder old whore. And they 44 went into her, as unto a common harlot: Even so went they also to Oholah and Oholibah those filthy women. O ye all that 45 love virtue and righteousness, judge them, punish them: as advourtrers and murderers ought to be judged and punished. For they are breakers of wedlock, and the blood is in their hands.
 Wherefore thus sayeth the Lord GOD: bring a great multitude 46 of people upon them, and make them be scattered and spoiled: these shall stone them and gore them with their swords. They 47 shall slay their sons and daughters and burn up their houses with fire. Thus will I destroy all such filthiness out of the land, 48 that all women may learn, not to do after your uncleanness.
 And so they shall lay your filthiness upon your own selves, and 49 ye shall be punished for the sins, that ye have committed with your Idols: and ye shall know that I am the LORD.

In the ninth year, in the tenth Month, the tenth day of the XXIV Month, came the word of the LORD unto me, saying: O thou 2 son of man, write up the name of this day, yea even the hour of this present day: when the king of Babylon set himself against Jerusalem. Shew that obstinate household a parable, and 3 speak unto them: Thus sayeth the Lord GOD: Get thee a pot, set it on, and pour water into it: put all the pieces together 4 in it, all the good pieces: the loin and the shoulder, and fill it with the best bones. Take one of the best sheep, and an 5 heap of bones withal: let it boil well, and let the bones seethe well therein. With that, said the Lord GOD on this manner: 6 Woe be unto the bloody city of the pot, where upon the rustiness hangeth, and is not yet scoured away. Take out the pieces that are in it, one after another: there need no lots be cast therefore, for the blood is yet in it. Upon a plain dry stone 7 hath she poured it, and not upon the ground, that it might be covered with dust. And therefore have I letten her pour 8 her blood upon a plain dry stony rock, because it should not be hid, and that I might bring my wrothfull indignation and vengeance upon her. Wherefore, thus sayeth the Lord GOD: 9 O woe be unto that bloodthirsty city; For whom I will prepare a heap of wood: bear thou the bones together, kindle thou 10 the fire, seeth the flesh, let all be well sodden, that the bones may be sucked* out. Moreover, set the pot empty upon the 11

24. v.10 Other: suckte.

coals, that it may be warm and the metal hot: that the filth 12 and rustiness may be consumed. But it will not go off, there 13 is so much of it: the rustiness must be brent out. Thy filthiness is abominable, for I would have cleansed thee, but thou wouldest not be cleansed. Thou canst not be purged from thine uncleanness, till I have poured my wrothfull indignation upon 14 thee. Even I the LORD have so devised: Yea it is come thereto already, that I will do it. I will not go back, I will not spare, I will not be intreated: but according to thy ways and imagi-15 nations, thou shalt be punished, sayeth the Lord GOD. And 16 the word of the LORD came unto me saying: Thou son of man, behold, I take away the pleasure of thine eyes with a plague:
yet shalt thou neither mourn, nor weep, nor water thy cheeks 17 therefore: thou mayest mourn by thy self alone, but use no deadly lamentation. Hold on thy bonnet, and put on thy shoes upon thy feet, cover not thy face, and eat no mourners bread.
18 So I spake unto the people by times in the morning, and at even my wife died: then upon the next morrow, I did as I was 19 commanded. And the people said unto me: Wilt thou not tell 20 us, what that signifieth, which thou doest? I answered them, 21 the word of the LORD came unto me, saying: Tell the house of Israel, thus sayeth the Lord GOD: behold, I will suspend my sanctuary: even the glory of your power, that pleasure of your eyes, and the thing that ye love: your sons and daugh-22 ters whom ye have left, shall fall thorow the sword. Like as I have done, so shall ye do also: Ye shall not hide your faces, ye 23 shall eat no mourners bread: your bonnets shall ye have upon your heads, and shoes upon your feet. Ye shall neither mourn nor weep, but in your sins ye shall be sorrowful, and one re-24 pent with another. Thus Ezekiel is your shewtoken. For look as he hath done, so (when this cometh) ye shall do also: that 25 ye may learn to know, that I am the Lord GOD. But behold, O thou son of man: In the day when I take from them their power, their joy and honour, the lust of their eyes, the burthen 26 of their bodies: namely, their sons and daughters: Then shall 27 there one escape, and come unto thee, for to shew thee. In that day shall thy mouth be opened to him, which is escaped, that thou mayest speak, and be no more dumb: Yea and thou shalt be their shewtoken, that they may know, how that I am the LORD.

The word of the LORD came unto me, saying: Thou son of XXV, 2 man, set thy face against the Ammonites, prophesy upon them, and say unto the Ammonites: hear the word of the Lord GOD: 3 Thus sayeth the Lord GOD: For so much as thou speakest over my Sanctuary. A ha, I trow it be now suspended: and over the land of Israel, I trow it be now desolate: yea and over the house of Judah, I trow they be now led away prisoners: Behold, I will 4 deliver thee to the people of the east, that they may have thee in possession: these shall set their castles and houses in thee.
They shall eat thy fruit, and drink up thy milk. As for Rab- 5 bah, I will make of it a stall for camels, and of Ammon a sheep-fold: and ye shall know, that I am the LORD. For thus sayeth 6 the Lord GOD: In so much as thou hast clapped with thine hands, and stamped with thy feet, yea rejoiced in thine heart over the land of Israel with despite: behold, I will stretch out 7 mine hand over thee also, and deliver thee, to be spoiled of the Heathen, and root thee out from among the people, and cause thee to be destroyed out of all lands: yea I will make thee be laid waste, that thou mayest know, that I am the LORD. Thus 8 sayeth the Lord GOD: For so much as Moab and Seir do say:
As for the house of Judah, it is but like as all other Gentiles be:
Therefore, behold, I will make the cities of Moab weaponless, 9 and taken away their strength: their cities and chief coasts of their land, which are the pleasures of the country: As namely.
Bethiesimoth, Baalmeon, and Cariathaim: These will I open 10 unto them of the east, that they may fall upon the Ammonites: and will give it them in possession: so that the Ammonites shall no more be had in remembrance among the Heathen.
Even thus will I punish Moab also, that they may know, how 11 that I am the LORD. Moreover, thus sayeth the Lord GOD: 12 Because that Edom hath avenged and eased himself upon the house of Judah, therefore thus sayeth the LORD: I will reach 13 out mine hand upon Edom, and take away man and beast out of it. From Theman unto Dedan will I make it desolate, they shall be slain with the sword. Thorow my people of Israel will 14 I avenge me again upon Edom: they shall handle him, according to my wrath and indignation, so that they shall know my vengeance, sayeth the Lord GOD. Thus sayeth the Lord GOD: 15 For so much as the Philistines have done this: namely taken vengeance with despiteful stomachs, and of an old evil will set

16 themselves to destroy: Therefore thus sayeth the Lord GOD: Behold, I will stretch out mine hand over the Philistines, and destroy the destroyer, and cause all the remnant of the sea 17 coast to perish. A great vengeance will I take upon them, and punish them cruelly: that they may know, how that I am the LORD, which have avenged me of them.

XXVI

It happened, that in the eleventh year, and the first day of the Month, the word of the LORD came unto me, saying: 2 Thou son of man, because that Tyre hath spoken upon Jerusalem: Aha, now I trow the ports of the people be broken, and 3 she turned unto me, for I have destroyed my belly full. Yea therefore sayeth the Lord GOD: Behold O Tyre, I will upon thee, I will bring a great multitude of people against thee, like 4 as when the sea ariseth with his waves: These shall break the walls of Tyre, and cast down her towers: I will scrape the 5 ground from her, and make her a bare stone: Yea as the drying place, where the fishers hang up their nets by the sea side.
Even I have spoken it, sayeth the Lord GOD. The Gentiles 6 shall spoil her: her daughters upon the field shall perish with 7 the sword, that they may know, how that I am the LORD. For thus sayeth the Lord GOD: Behold, I will bring hither Nabu-chodonosor (which is the king of Babylon and a king of kings) from the North upon Tyre, with horses, chariots, horsemen, 8 and with a great multitude of people. Thy daughters that are in the land, shall he slay with the sword: but against thee, he shall make bulwarks and grave up ditches about thee, and lift 9 up his shield against thee. His slings and batterrams shall he prepare for thy walls, and with his weapons break down thy 10 towers. The dust of his horses shall cover thee, they shall be so many: thy walls shall shake at the noise of the horsemen, chariots and wheels: when he cometh to thy ports, as men do 11 into an open city. With the hoofs of his horse's feet, shall he tread down all thy streets. He shall slay thy people with the 12 sword, and break down the pillars of thy strength. They shall waste away thy riches, and spoil thy merchandise. Thy walls shall they break down, and destroy thy houses of pleasure. Thy stones, thy timber and foundations shall they cast in the wa-13 ter. Thus will I bring the melody of thy songs, and the voice of thy minstrelsy to an end, so that they shall no more be heard.
14 I will make a bare stone of thee, yea a drying place for nets, an shall never be builded again: For even I the LORD have spoken it, sayeth the Lord GOD: Thus hath the Lord GOD 15 spoken concerning Tyre; The isles shall be moved at the noise of thy fall, and at the cry of the slain, that shall be murdered in thee. All kings of the sea shall come down from their seats 16 regal: they shall lay away their robes, and put off their costly clothing: Yea with trembling shall they be clothed, they shall sit upon the ground: they shall be afraid at thy sudden fall, and be abashed at thee. They shall mourn for thee, and say unto 17 thee: O thou noble city, that hast been so greatly occupied of old, thou that hast been the strongest upon the sea with thine inhabitants of whom all men stood in fear: How art thou now so utterly destroyed? Now at the time of thy fall the inhabitants 18 of the Isles; Yea and the Isles themselves, shall stand in fear at thine end. For thus sayeth the Lord GOD: when I make 19 thee a desolate city, (as other cities be, that no man dwell in) and when I bring the deep upon thee, that great waters may cover thee: Then will I cast thee down unto them, that de- 20 scend into the pit, unto a people that hath been long dead, and set thee in a land that is beneath, like the old wilderness, with them which go down to their graves, so that no man shall dwell more in thee. And I will make thee to be no more in honor, in the land of the living. I will make an end of thee, and thou 21 shalt be gone. Though thou be sought for, yet shalt thou not be found for evermore, sayeth the Lord GOD.

The word of the LORD came unto me, saying: O thou son of XXVII, 2 man, make a lamentable complaint upon Tyre, and say unto 3 Tyre, which is a port of the sea, that occupieth with much people, and many Isles: Thus speaketh the Lord GOD: O Tyre 4 thou hast said: what, I am a noble city: thy borders are in the midst of the sea, and thy builders have made thy marvelous 5 goodly. All thy tables have they made of Cypress trees of the mount Sanir. From Libanus have they taken Cedar trees, to make the masts: and the Oaks of Basan to make the row- 6
 ers. Thy boards have they made of ivory, and of costly wood out of the Isle of Cethim. Thy sail was of white small nee- 7 dle work out of the land of Egypt, to hang upon thy mast: and thy hangings of yellow silk and purple, out of the Isles of Elisah. They of Sidon and Arnad were thy mariners, and the 8 wisest in Tyre were thy shipmasters. The eldest and wisest at 9

Gebal were they, that mended and stopped thy ships. All ships of the sea with their shipment occupied their merchandise in thee. The Perses, Lidians and Libians were in thine host, and helped thee to fight: these hanged up their shields and helmets with thee, these set forth thy beauty. They of Arnad were with thine host round about thy walls, and were thy watchmen upon thy towers, these hanged up their shields round about thy walls, and made thee marvelous goodly. Tharsis occupied with thee in all manner of wares, in silver, iron, tin and lead, and made thy market great. Javan, Tubal and Mesech were thy merchants, which brought the men, and ornaments of metal for thy occupying. They of the house of Thogarma brought unto thee at the time of thy mart, horse, horsemen and mules. They of Dedan were thy merchants: and many other Isles that occupied with thee, brought thee wethers, elephant bones and Paycockes for a present. The Syrians occupied with thee, because of thy divers works, and increased thy merchandise, with Smaragdes, with scarlet, with needle work, with white linen* cloth, with silk and with Crystal. Judah and the land of Israel occupied with thee, and brought unto thy markets, wheat, balm, honey, oil and triacle. Damascus also used merchandises with thee, in the best wine and white wool: because thy occupying was so great, and thy wares so many. Dan, Javan, and Mevsall have brought unto thy markets, iron ready made, with Casia, and Calamus, according to thine occupying. Dedan occupied with thee, in fair tapestry work and quishins. Arabia and all the princes of Cedar have occupied with thee, in sheep, wethers, and goats. The merchants of Sheba and Rema have occupied also with thee, in all costly spices, in all precious stones and gold, which they brought unto thy markets. Haran, Chenne, and Eden, the merchants of Saba, Assiria, and Chelmad, were all doers with thee and occupied with thee: In costly raiment, of yellow silk and needle work (very precious, and therefore packed* and bound together with ropes) Yea and in Cedar wood, at the time of thy markets. The ships of Tharsis were the chief of thy occupying. Thus thou art full, and in great worship, even in the midst of the sea. Thy mariners were ever bringing unto thee out of many waters. But the east wind shall over bear thee into the midst of the sea: so that thy wares, thy merchandise, thy riches, 27 thy mariners, thy shipmasters, thy helpers, thy occupiers (that brought the things necessary) the men of war that are in thee: Yea and all thy commons shall perish in the midst of the sea, in the day of thy fall. The suburbs shall shake at the loud 28 cry of thy shipmen. All whirry men, and all mariners upon 29 the sea, shall leap out of their boats, and set themselves upon the land. They shall lift up their voice because of thee, and 30 make a lamentable cry. They shall cast dust upon their heads, and lie down in the ashes. They shall shave themselves, and 31 put sackcloth upon them for thy sake. They shall mourn for thee with heartfull sorrow, and heavy lamentation, yea their 32 children also shall weep for thee. Alas, what city hath so been destroyed in the sea, as Tyre is? When thy wares and mer- 33 chandise came from the seas, thou gavest all people enough.

 The kings of the earth hast thou made rich, thorow the multitude of thy wares and occupying: But now art thou cast down 34 in to the deep of the sea, all thy resort of people is perished with thee. All they that dwell in the Isles are abashed at thee, and 35 all their kings are afraid, yea their faces have changed colour.
 The merchants of the nations wonder at thee. In that thou art 36 so clean brought to naught, and comest no more up.

The word of the LORD came unto me saying: Thou son of XXVIII, 2 man; Tell the prince of Tyre: Thus sayeth the Lord GOD, because thou hast a proud heart and hast said: I am a God, I have my seat in the midst of the sea like a God: where as thou art but a man, and not God, and yet standest in thine own conceit, that thou art God: Behold, thou thinkest thy- 3 self wiser than Daniel, that there is no secrets hid from thee.
 With thy wisdom and thy understanding, thou hast gotten thee 4 great wealthiness, and gathered treasure of silver and gold.
 With thy great wisdom and occupying, hast thou increased thy 5 power, and because of thy great riches, thy heart is proud.
 Therefore thus sayeth the Lord GOD: For so much as thou 6 hast lift up thine heart, as though thou were God: behold, 7 I will bring enemies upon thee, even the tyrants of the Heathen: These shall draw out their swords upon thy beauty and wisdom, and shall defile thy glory. They shall cast thee down 8 to the pit, so that thou shalt die in the midst of the sea, as 9 they that be slain. Let see, if thou wilt say then (before them that slay thee) I am God: where as thou art but a man and not 10 God, in the hands of them that slayeth thee. Die shalt thou, even as the uncircumcised in the hands of the enemies: for I 11 myself have spoken it, sayeth the Lord GOD. Moreover, the 12 word of the LORD came unto me, saying: Thou son of man, make a lamentable complaint over the king of Tyre, and tell him: Thus sayeth the Lord GOD: Thou art a seal of a like-13 ness, full of wisdom and excellent beauty. Thou hast been in the pleasure garden of God: thou art decked with all manner of precious stones: with Ruby, Topas, Crystal, Jacinth, Onyx, Jaspis, Sapphire, Smaragde, Carbuncle, and gold. Thy beauty and the holes that be in thee were set forth in the day of thy 14 creation. Thou art a fair Cherub, stretched wide out for to cover. I have set thee upon the holy mount of God, there hast 15 thou been, and walked among the fair glistening stones. From the time of thy creation thou hast been right excellent, till 16 wickedness was found in thee. Because of thy great merchandise, thy heart is full of wickedness, and thou hast offended.

Therefore will I cast thee from the mount of God (O thou covering Cherub) and destroy thee among the glistening stones.
17 Thy heart was proud in thy fair beauty, and thorow thy beauty thou hast destroyed thy wisdom. I will cast thee down to the 18 ground, and that in the sight of kings. Thou hast defiled thy Sanctuary, with the great wickedness of thy unrighteous occupying. I will bring a fire from the midst of thee, to consume thee: and will make thee to ashes, in the sight of all them that 19 look upon thee. All they that have been acquainted with thee among the Heathen, shall be abashed at thee: seeing thou art 20 so clean brought to naught, and comest no more up. And the 21 word of the LORD came unto me, saying: Thou son of man, set 22 thy face against Sidon. Prophecy upon it, and speak: Thus sayeth the Lord GOD: Behold O Sidon, I will upon thee, and get me honour in thee: that it may be known, how that I am 23 the LORD, when I punish her, and get me honour in her. For I will send pestilence and blood shedding into her streets, so that those which be slain with the sword, shall lie round about in the midst of her: and they shall know, that I am the LORD.
24 She shall no more be a pricking thorn, and an hurting brier unto the house of Israel, nor unto them that lie round about her and hate her: and they shall know, that I am the LORD.

Thus sayeth the Lord GOD: When I gather the household of Israel together again from the nations among whom they be scattered: then shall I be sanctified in them, in the sight of the Gentiles, and they shall dwell in the land, that I gave to my servant Jacob. They shall dwell safely therein, build houses, and plant vineyards: Yea safely shall they dwell therein, when I have punished all those, that despise them round about: and then shall they know, that I am the LORD their God.

In the tenth year, upon the twelfth day of the tenth Month, XXIX the word of the LORD came unto me, saying: O thou son of man, set now face against Pharaoh the king of Egypt, Prophecy against him and against the whole land of Egypt: Speak, and tell him, thus sayeth the Lord GOD: behold, O Pharaoh thou king of Egypt, I will upon thee, thou great dragon, * that liest in the* waters: thou that sayest: the water is mine. I have made it myself. I will put an hook in thy chaws, and hang all the fish in thy waters upon thy scales. after that I will draw thee out of thy waters, yea and all the fish of the waters that hang upon thy scales. I will cast thee out upon the dry land with the fish of thy waters, so that thou shalt lie upon the field. Thou shalt not be gathered nor taken up: but shall be meat for the beasts of the field, and for the fowls of the air: that all they which dwell in Egypt, may know, that I am the LORD: because thou hast been a staff of rede to the house of Israel. When they took hold of thee with their hand thou breakest and prickest them on every side: and if they leaned upon thee, thou brakest and hurtest the reynes of their backs. Therefore, thus sayeth the Lord GOD: behold, I will bring a sword upon thee, and root out of thee both man and beast. Yea the land of Egypt shall be desolate and waste, and they shall know, that I am the LORD: Because he said: The water is mine, I myself have made it. Behold therefore, I will upon thee, and upon thy waters: I will make the land of Egypt waste and desolate, from the tower of Syenes unto the borders of the Morians land: so that in forty years there shall no foot of man walk there, neither foot of cattle go there, neither shall it be inhabited. I will make the land of Egypt to be desolate, among other waste countries, and her cities to lie void forty years, among other void cities: And I will scatter the Egyptians among the Heathen and nations.

13 Again, thus sayeth the Lord GOD: When the forty years are 14 expired I will gather the Egyptians together again, out of the 15 nations, among whom they were scattered, and will bring the 16 prisoners of Egypt again into the land of Pathures their own 17 native country, that they may be there a lowly small kingdom:
 18 Yea they shall be the smallest among the other kingdoms, lest 19 they exalt themselves above the Heathen, for I will so minish 20 them, that they shall no more rule the Heathen. They shall 21 no more be an hope unto the house of Israel, neither provoke them any more to wickedness, to cause them turn back, and follow them: and they shall know, that I am the Lord GOD. In the twenty seventh year, the first day of the first Month, came the word of the LORD unto me, saying: O thou son of man, Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon hath made his host, with great travail and labour to come before Tyre: that every head may be bald, and every shoulder bare. Yet hath Tyre given neither him nor his host any reward, for the great travail that he hath taken there. Therefore thus sayeth the Lord GOD: behold, I will give the land of Egypt unto Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon, that he may take away all her substance, rob her robberies, and spoil her spoils, to pay his host their wages withal. I will give him the land of Egypt for his labour, that he took for me before Tyre.* At the same time will I cause the horn of the house of Israel to grow forth, and open thy mouth again among them: that they may know, how that I am the LORD.

XXX, 2 The word of the LORD came moreover unto me, saying: thou son of man, prophesy and speak: thus sayeth the Lord GOD: 3 Mourn, woe worth this day, for the day is here, the day of 4 the LORD is come: the dark day of the Heathen, the hour is 5 at hand, the sword cometh upon Egypt. When the wounded 6 men fall down in Egypt, when her people are taken away, and when her foundations are destroyed, the Morians land shall be afraid, yea the Morians land, Libia and Lydia, all their common people, and Chub, and all that be confederate unto them, shall fall with them thorow the sword. Thus sayeth the LORD:
 The maintainers of the land of Egypt shall fall, the pride of her power shall come down: even unto the tower of Syenes v.20 Other: For the work which he wrought about it, I have given him the land of Egypt, because they wrought for me, sayth the Lord GOD.

shall they be slain down with the sword, sayeth the Lord GOD: among other desolate countries they shall be made desolate, 7 and among other waste cities they shall be wasted. And they 8 shall know that I am the LORD, when I kindle a fire in Egypt, and when all her helpers are destroyed. At that time, shall 9 their messengers go forth from me in ships, to make the careless Moryans afraid, and sorrow shall come upon them in the day of Egypt for doubtless it shall come. Thus sayeth the Lord 10 GOD: I will make an end of the people of Egypt thorow the hand of Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon. He and his people 11 with him; Yea and the cruel tyrants of the Heathen shall be brought to destroy the land. They shall draw out their swords upon Egypt and fill the land full of slain men. I will dry up 12 their floods of water, and sell the land into the hands of wicked people. The land and all that is therein, will I destroy thorow the enemies. Even I the LORD have said it. An thus sayeth 13 the Lord GOD: I will destroy the Idols, and bring the images of Noph to an end. There shall no more be a prince of Egypt, and a fearfulness will I send into the Egyptians land. As for 14 Pathures, I will make it desolate, and kindle a fire in Zoan. Alexandria will I punish and pour my wrothful indignation 15 upon Sin which is the strength of Egypt. All the substance of Alexandria will I destroy, and kindle a fire in Egypt. Sin 16 shall be in great heaviness, Alexandria shall be rooted out, and Noph shall have daily sorrow. The best men of Heliopolis and 17 Bubasto shall be slain with the sword, and carried away captive. At Taphnis the day shall be dark, when I break there the 18 scepter of the land of Egypt, and when the pomp of her power shall have an end. A cloud shall cover her, and her daughters shall be led away into captivity. Thus will I punish Egypt, 19 that they may know, how that I am the LORD. It happened 20 in the eleventh year, upon the seventh day of the first Month, that the LORD's word came unto me, saying: Behold, thou son 21 of man, I will brake the arm of Pharaoh king of Egypt: and lo, it shall not be bound up to be healed, neither shall any plaster be laid upon it, for to ease it, or to make it so strong, as to hold a sword. Therefore, thus sayeth the Lord GOD: Behold, I will 22 upon Pharaoh the king of Egypt, and bruise his strong arm (yet is it but a broken one) and will smite the sword out of his hand. As for the Egyptians, I will scatter them among the Heathen, 23

24 and strow them in the lands about. Again I will strengthen the arm of the king of Babylon, and give him my sword in his hand: but I will break Pharaoh's arm, so that he shall hold it 25 before him piteously, like a wounded man. Yea I will stablish the king of Babylon's arm, and the armies of Pharaoh shall fall down: that it may be known, that I am the LORD, which give the king of Babylon my sword in his hand, that he may draw it 26 out upon the land of Egypt: and that when I scatter the Egyptians among the Gentiles, and strow them in the lands about, they may know, that I am the LORD.

XXXI

Moreover, it happened in the eleventh year, the first day of the third Month, that the word of the LORD came unto me, say-2 ing: Thou son of man speak unto Pharaoh king of Egypt, and 3 to all his people: Whom art thou like in thy greatness? Behold, Assur was like a Cedar tree upon the mount of Libanus, with fair branches: so thick, that he gave shadows, and shot 4 out very high. His top reached into the clouds. The waters made him great, and the deep set him up on high.* Round about the roots of him ran there floods of water, he sent out 5 his little rivers unto all the trees of the field. Therefore was he higher than all the trees of the field, and thorow the multitude of waters that he sent from him, he obtained many and 6 long branches. All fowls of the air made their nests in his branches, under his boughs gendered all these beasts of the 7 field and under his shadow dwelt all people. Fair and beautiful was he in his greatness and in the length of his branches, 8 for his root stood beside great waters, no Cedar tree might hide him. In the pleasant garden of God, there was no fir tree like his branches, the plain trees were not like the boughs* of him. All the trees in the garden of God might not be compared 9 unto him in his beauty: So fair and goodly had I made him with the multitude of his branches: In so much, that all the 10 trees in the pleasant garden of God, had envy at him. Therefore, thus sayeth the Lord GOD: For so much as he hath lift up himself so high, and stretched his top into the clouds, and see-11 ing his heart is proud in his highness: I will deliver him into the hands of the mightiest among the Heathen, which shall root him out. According to his wickedness will I cast him away, 12 the enemies shall destroy him, and the mighty men of the Hea-

31. v.4 Other: an hye. v.8 Other: bowes.

then shall so scatter him, that his branches shall lie upon all mountains and in all valleys: his boughs* shall be broken down to the ground thorowout the land. Then all the people of the land shall go from his shadow, and forsake him. When he is fallen, all the fowls of the air shall sit upon him, and all wild beasts of the field shall go about among his branches: so that from henceforth, no tree in the water shall attain to his highness, nor reach his top unto the clouds, neither shall any tree of the water stand so high, as he hath done. For unto death shall they all be delivered under the earth, and go down to the grave, like other men. Moreover, thus sayeth the Lord GOD: In the day when he goeth down to the grave, I will cause a lamentation to be made, I will cover the deep upon him, I will staunch his floods, and the great waters shall be restrained. I shall cause Libanus to be sorrowful for his sake, and all the trees of the field shall be smitten. I will make the Heathen shake at the sound of his fall, when I cast him down to hell, with them that descend into the pit. All the trees of Eden, with all the chosen and best trees of Libanus, yea and all they that are planted upon the waters, shall mourn with him also in the lower habitations: for they shall go down to hell with him, unto them that be slain with the sword, which dwelt afore under the shadow of his arm among the Heathen. To whom shalt thou be likened, that art so glorious and great, among the trees of Eden? Yet art thou cast down under the earth (among the trees of Eden) where thou must lie among the uncircumcised, with them that be slain with the sword. Even thus is it with Pharaoh and all his people, sayeth the Lord GOD.

In the twelfth year, the first day of the twelfth Month, the word of the LORD came unto me, saying: thou son of man, take up a lamentation upon Pharaoh the king of Egypt, and say unto him: Thou art reputed as a Lion of the Heathen, and as a whalefish in the sea. Thou castest thy waters about thee, thou troublest the waters with thy feet, and stamest in their floods. Thus sayeth the Lord GOD: I will spread my net over thee, namely, a great multitude of people: these shall drive thee into my yarn, for I will cast thee upon the land, I let thee lie upon the field, that all the fowls of the air may sit upon thee: I will give all the beasts of the field enough of thee. Thy flesh

XXXII

v.12 Other: bowes.

will I cast upon the hills, and fill the valleys with thy high-6 ness. I will water the land with the abundance of thy blood even to the mountains, and the valleys shall be full of thee.
7 When thou art put out, I will cover the heaven, and make his stars dim. I will spread a cloud over the Sun, and the moon 8 shall not give her light. All the lights of heaven will I put out over thee, and bring darkness upon thy land, sayeth the Lord 9 GOD. I will trouble the hearts of many people, when I bring thy destruction among the Heathen and countries, whom thou 10 knowest not. Yea I will make many people with their kings so afraid thorow thee, that their hair shall stand up, when I shake my sword at their faces. Suddenly shall they be as-11 tonied, every man in himself, at the day of thy fall. For thus sayeth the Lord GOD: the king of Babylon's sword shall come 12 upon thee, with the swords of the worthies will I smite down thy people. All they that be mighty among the Gentiles, shall waste the proud pomp of Egypt, and bring down all her peo-13 ple. All the cattle also of Egypt will I destroy, that they shall come no more upon the waters: so that neither man's foot nor 14 beasts claw, shall steer them any more. Then will I make their waters clear, and cause their floods to run like oil, sayeth the 15 Lord GOD: when I make the land of Egypt desolate, and when the country with all that is therein, shall be laid waste: and when I smite all them which dwell in it, that they may know, 16 that I am the LORD. This is the mourning that the daughters of the Heathen shall make: Yea and sorrow and lamentation shall they take up, upon Egypt, and all her people, sayeth 17 the Lord GOD. In the twelfth year, the fifteenth day of the 18 Month, came the word of the LORD unto me, saying: Thou son of man. Take up a lamentation upon the people of Egypt, and cast them down, yea and the mighty people of the Heathen also, even with them that dwell beneath: and with them 19 that go down into the grave. Down (how fair soever thou be) 20 and lay thee with the uncircumcised. Among those that be slain with the sword, shall they lie. The sword is given al-21 ready, he shall be drawn forth and all his people. The mighty worthies and his helpers, that be gone down and lie with the uncircumcised and with them that be slain with the sword: 22 shall speak to him out of the hell. Asshur is there also with his company, and their graves round about, which were slain and fell all with the sword, whose graves lie beside him in the low pit. His commons are buried round about his grave: all together wounded and slain with the sword, which men afore time brought fear in to the land of the living. There is Elam also with all his people, and their graves round about: which all being wounded and slain with the sword, are gone down uncircumcised under the earth, which nevertheless sometime brought fear into the land of the living: for the which they bear their shame, with the other that be gone down to the grave. Their burial is given them and all their people, among them that be slain. Their graves are round about all them, which be uncircumcised, and with them that be slain thorow the sword: for seeing that in times past they made the land of the living afraid, they must now bear their own shame, with them that go down to the pit, and lie among them, that be slain. There is Mesech also and Tubal, and their people, and their graves round about. These all are among the uncircumcised, and them that be slain with the sword, because afore time they made the land of the living afraid. Should not they then lie also among the worthies, and uncircumcised Giants? which with their weapons are gone down to hell: whose swords are laid under their heads, whose wickedness is upon their bones: because that as worthies, they have brought fear in to the land of the living: Yea among the uncircumcised shalt thou be destroyed, and sleep with them, that perish thorow the sword. There is the land of Edom with her kings and princes also, which with their strength are laid by them that were slain with the sword; Yea among the uncircumcised, and them which are gone down in to the pit. Moreover, there be all the princes of the north, with all of the Sidonians, which are gone down to the slain. With their fear and strength they are come to confusion, and lie there uncircumcised, among those that be slain with the sword: and bear their own shame, with them that be gone down to the pit. Now when Pharaoh seeth this, he shall be comforted over all his people, that is slain with the sword: both Pharo and all his host, sayeth the Lord GOD. For I have given my fear in the land of the living. But Pharo and all his people shall lie among the uncircumcised, and among them that be slain with the sword, sayeth the Lord GOD.

Again, the word of the LORD came unto me, saying: Thou XXXIII, 2 son of man, Speak to the children of thy people, and tell them: When I send a sword upon a land, if the people of the land take a man of their country, and set him to be their watchman:

3 The same man (when he seeth the sword come upon the land) 4 shall blow the trumpet, and warn the people. If a man now hear the noise of the trumpet and will not be warned, and the 5 sword come and take him away: his blood shall be upon his own head: For he heard the sound of the trumpet, and would 6 not take heed, therefore his blood be upon him. But if he will receive warning, he shall save his life. Again, if the watchman 7 see the sword come, and shew it not with the trumpet, so that the people is not warned: if the sword come then, and take any 8 man from among them: the same shall be taken away in his own sin, but his blood will I require of the watchman's hand.

9 And now (O thou son of man) I have made thee a watchman unto the house of Israel: that where as thou hearest anything 10 out of my mouth, thou mayest warn them on my behalf. If I say unto the wicked: thou wicked, thou shalt surely die: and thou givest him not warning, that he may beware of his un-godly way: then shall the wicked die in his own sin, but his 11 blood will I require of thy hand. Nevertheless if thou warn the wicked of his way, to turn from it, where as he yet will not be turned from it, then shall he die because of his sin, but thou 12 hast delivered thy soul. Therefore (O thou son of man) speak unto the house of Israel. Yea say thus: Our offenses and sins lie upon us, and we be corrupt in them: how should we then 13 be restored unto life? Tell them: As truly as I live, sayeth the Lord GOD, I have no pleasure in the death of the wicked, but much rather that the wicked turn from his way and live. Turn you, turn you from your ungodly ways, O ye of the house of Is-14 rael. Oh, wherefore will ye die? Thou son of man, tell the children of thy people: The righteousness of the righteous shall not save him, whensoever he turneth away unfaithfully: Again, the wickedness of the wicked shall not hurt him, when soever he converteth from his ungodliness. And the righteousness of the righteous, shall not save his life, when soever he sinneth.

13 If I say unto the righteous, that he shall surely live, and so he trust to his own righteousness, and do sin: then shall his righteousnesses be no more thought upon, but in the wicked-14 ness that he hath done he shall die. Again; If I say unto the wicked: Thou shalt surely die: and so he turn from his sins, and do the thing that is lawful and right: In so much that the same wicked man giveth the pledge again, restoreth that he had taken away by robbery, walketh in the commandments of life, and doth no wrong: Then shall he surely live, and not die. Yea the sins that he hath done, shall never be thought upon: For in so much as he doth now the thing that is lawful and right, he shall live. And yet the children of thy people say: Tush, the way of the Lord is not right, where as their own way is rather unright. When the righteous turneth from his righteousness, and doeth the thing that is wicked, he shall die therefore. But if the wicked turn from his wickedness, doing the thing that is lawful and right, he shall live therefore. Yet ye say: The way of the Lord is not equal. O ye house of Israel, I will judge every one of you after his ways. In the twelfth year, the fifth day of the tenth Month of our captivity, it happened, that one which was fled out of Jerusalem, came unto me, and said: the city is destroyed. Now the hand of the LORD had been upon me the evening afore this man (which was escaped) came unto me, and had opened my mouth, until the morning that he came to me: yea he opened my mouth, so that I was no more dumb. Then the word of the LORD came unto me, said: Thou son of man, these that dwell in the wasted land of Israel, say: Abraham was but one man, and he had the land in possession: now are we many, and the land is given us to possess also. And therefore tell them: Thus sayeth the LORD: In the blood have ye eaten, your eyes have ye lift up to Idols, and have shed blood: shall ye then have the land in possession? Ye lean upon your swords, ye work abominations, every one defileth his neighbour's wife: and shall ye then possess the land? Say thou these words unto them: Thus sayeth the Lord GOD: As truly as I live, all ye that dwell in this wilderness, shall be slain with the sword: what so ever is upon the field, will I give unto the beasts to be devoured: those that be in strongholds and dens, shall die of the pestilence. For I will make the land desolate and waste, and the pomp* of her strength shall come to an end. The mountains in Israel shall be so waste that no man shall travel thereby. Then shall they learn to know, that I am the LORD, when I make the land waste and desolate, because

33. v.28 Other: pope.

30 of all their abominations, that they have wrought. And thou son of man, the children of thy people that talk of thee, by the walls and in the doors of their houses, saying one to another: Come, let us hear, what word is gone forth from the LORD: 31 These come unto thee, after the manner of a great people: yea my people sit down before thee, and hear thy words, but they do not thereafter: for in their mouths they shew themselves, as though they were fervent, but their heart goeth after their own 32 covetous lucre. And as a ballet that hath a sweet tune, and is pleasant to sing, so shalt thou be unto them: thy words shall 33 they hear, but they will not do thereafter. When this cometh to pass, (for lo, it cometh in deed) then shall they know, that there hath been a prophet among them.

XXXIV, 2 And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying: Thou son of man, prophesy against the shepherds of Israel, prophesy and speak unto them: Thus sayeth the Lord GOD: Woe be unto the shepherds of Israel, that feed themselves. Should not 3 the shepherds feed the flocks? Ye have eaten up the fat, ye have clothe you with the wool: the best fed have ye slain, but 4 the flock have ye not nourished. The weak have ye not holden up, the sick have ye not healed: the broken have ye not bound together, the outcasts have ye not brought again: the lost have ye not sought, but churlishly and cruelly have ye ruled them.
5 Thus are they scattered here and there without a shepherd: yea all the beasts of the field devour them, and they go astray.
6 My sheep go wandering upon all mountains, and upon every high hill. Yea they be scattered abroad in all fields, and there 7 is no man, that careth for them, or seeketh after them. There-8 fore O ye shepherds, hear the word of the LORD. Thus sayeth the Lord GOD: As truly as I live, for so much as my sheep are robbed, and devoured of all the wild beasts of the field, having no shepherd: and seeing that my shepherds take no regard of 9 my sheep, but feed themselves only, and not my sheep: There-10 fore hear the word of the LORD, O ye shepherds: Thus sayeth the Lord GOD: Behold, I myself will upon the shepherds, and require my sheep from their hands, and make them cease from feeding of my sheep: Yea the shepherds shall feed themselves no more: For I will deliver my sheep out of their mouths, so 11 that they shall not devour them after this. For thus sayeth the Lord GOD: Behold, I will look to my sheep myself, and seek them. Like as a shepherd among the flock seeketh after 12 the sheep that are scattered abroad, even so will I seek after my sheep, and gather them together out of all places, where they have been scattered in the cloudy and dark day. I will 13 bring them out from all people, and gather them together out of all lands, I will bring them into their own land, and feed them upon the mountains of Israel, by the rivers, and in all the places of the country. I will feed them in right good pas- 14 tures, and upon the high mountains of Israel shall their folds be. There shall they lie in a good fold, and in a fat pasture shall they feed: even upon the mountains of Israel. I will feed 15 my sheep myself, and bring them to their rest, sayeth the Lord GOD. Such as be lost, will I seek: such as go astray, will I 16 bring again: such as be wounded, will I bind up: such as be weak, will I make strong, such as be fat and well liking, those will I preserve, and feed them with the thing that is lawful.

And as for you (O my sheep) sayeth the Lord GOD: I will put a 17 difference among the sheep, among the wethers and the goats.
Was it not enough for you, to eat up the good pasture, but ye 18 must tread down the residue of your pastures with your feet also? Was it not enough for you to drink clear water, but ye must trouble the residue also with your feet? Thus my sheep 19 must be fain to eat the thing, that ye have trodden down with your feet, and to drink it, that ye with your feet have defiled.
Therefore, thus sayeth the Lord GOD unto them: Behold, I will 20 sever the fat sheep from the lean: for so much as ye have shot the weak sheep upon the sides and shoulders, and run upon 21 them with your horns, so long till ye have utterly scattered them abroad. I will help my sheep, so that they shall no more 22 be spoiled: yea I will discern one sheep from another. I will raise up to them one only shepherd: even my servant David, he 23 shall feed them, and he shall be their shepherd. I the LORD 24 will be their God, and my servant David shall be their prince: Even I the LORD have spoken it. Moreover, I will make a 25 covenant of peace with them, and drive all evil beasts out of the land: so that they may dwell safely in the wilderness, and sleep in the woods. Good fortune and prosperity will I give 26 them, and unto all that be round about my hill. A prosperous shewer and rain will I send them in due season, that the trees 27 in the wood may bring forth their fruits, and the ground her increase. They shall be safe in their land, and shall know, that I am the LORD. which have broken their yoke, and delivered them out of the hands of those, that held them in subjection.

28 They shall no more be spoiled of the Heathen, nor devoured with the beasts of the land: but safely shall they dwell, and

29 no man shall fraye them. I will set up an excellent plant for them, so that they shall suffer no more hunger in the land,

30 neither bear the reproof of the Heathen any more. Thus shall they understand, that I the LORD their God am with them, and that they (even the house of Israel) are my people, sayeth

31 the Lord GOD. Ye men are my flock, ye are the sheep of my pasture: and I am your God, sayeth the Lord GOD.

XXXV, 2 Moreover, the word of the LORD came unto me, saying: Thou son of man, turn thy face toward the mount Seir, prophesy

3 upon it, and say unto it: Thus sayeth the Lord GOD: Behold (O thou mount Seir) I will upon thee, I will reach out mine hand over thee, yea waste and desolate will I make thee.

4 Thy cities will I break down, and thou shalt lie void: that thou

5 mayest know, how that I am the LORD. For so much as thou bearest an old enemy against the children of Israel, and with a cruel hand hast made them afraid, what time as they were

6 troubled and punished for their sin: Therefore, as truly as I live, sayeth the Lord GOD, I will prepare thee unto blood, yea blood shall follow upon thee: seeing thou layest wait for blood,

7 therefore shall blood persecute thee. Thus will I make the mount Seir desolate and waste, and bring to pass, that there

8 shall no man go thither, nor come from thence. His mountains will I fill with his slain men: thy hills, dales and valleys shall

9 lie full of them, that are slain with the sword. I will make thee a perpetual wilderness, so that no man shall dwell in thy

10 cities: that ye may know, how that I am the LORD. And because thou hast said: what, both these nations and both these lands must be mine, and I will have them in possession, where

11 as the LORD was there. Therefore thus sayeth the Lord GOD: As truly as I live, I will handle thee according to thy wrath and jealousy, like as thou hast dealt cruelly with them: that I

12 may be known among them, how I have punished thee. Yea and that thou also mayest be sure, that I the LORD have heard all thy despiteful words, which thou hast spoken against the mountains of Israel, saying: Lo, they are made waste, and given us to devour. Thus with your mouths ye have made your boost against me, yea and multiplied your proud words against me, which I have heard altogether. Where unto, thus sayeth the Lord GOD: when the whole world is in wealth, then will I make thee waste. And like as thou (O mount Seir) wast glad, because the heritage of the house of Israel was destroyed: even so will I do unto thee also, that thou and whole Edom shall be destroyed, and know, that I am the LORD.

Thou son of man, prophesy* upon the mountains of Israel, XXXVI and speak: Hear the word of the LORD, O ye mountains of Israel: Thus sayeth the Lord GOD: Because your enemy hath said upon you: Aha, the high everlasting places are now become ours: prophesy* therefore, and speak: thus sayeth the Lord GOD: Seeing ye be wasted and trod down on every side, and become a possession unto the residue of the Gentiles, which have brought you into men's mouths and unto an evil name among the people: Therefore, hear the word of the Lord GOD, O ye mountains of Israel: Thus sayeth the Lord GOD unto the mountains, and hills, valleys and dales, to the void wilderness and desolate cities, which are spoiled, and had in derision on every side, among the residue of the Heathen: Yea even thus sayeth the Lord GOD: In the fire of my jealousy have I taken a device, against the residue of the Gentiles, and against all Edom: which have taken in my land unto themselves for a possession: which also rejoiced from their whole heart with a despiteful stomach, to waste it, and to spoil it. Prophecy therefore upon the land of Israel, speak unto the mountains and hills, to valleys and dales, thus sayeth the Lord GOD: Behold, this have I devised in my jealousy and terrible wrath: For so much as yea have suffered reproof of the Heathen, therefore thus sayeth the Lord GOD: I have sworn, that the Gentiles which lie about you, shall bear your confusion themselves.
 And as for you (O mountains of Israel) ye shall shoot out your branches, and bring forth your fruit to my people of Israel, for it is hard by, that it will come. Behold, I come unto you, and unto you will I turn me, that ye may be tilled and sown. I will send you much people, which shall be all of the house of Israel: the cities shall be inhabited, and the decayed places shall be repaired again. I will provide you with much people and cattle, which shall increase and bring fruit. I will restore you also to your old estate, and shew you more kindness than ever ye had 12 before: whereby ye shall know, that I am the LORD. Yea people will I send unto you (O my folk of Israell) which shall have thee in possession, and thou shalt be their inheritance, so that 13 thou shalt no more be without them. Again, thus sayeth the Lord GOD: For so much as they say unto you: thou art an eater 14 up of men, and a waster of thy people: therefore thou shalt eat no more men. neither destroy thy people any more, sayeth the 15 Lord GOD. And I will not suffer thee, for to hear thine own confusion among the Gentiles from henceforth. Thou shalt not bear the reproof of the nations, nor cast out thine own people any more, sayeth the Lord GOD. Moreover, the word of 17 the LORD came unto me, saying: O thou son of man, when the house of Israel dwelt upon their own ground, they defiled themselves with their own ways and imaginations: so that in my sight their way was like the uncleanness of a menstruous 18 woman. Wherefore I poured my wrothfull displeasure upon them, because of the blood that they had shed in the land, and because of their Idols, wherewith they had defiled themselves.

19 I scattered them also among the Heathen, so that they were strowed about in the lands. According to their ways and after 20 their own inventions, so did I punish them. Now when they were gone unto the Heathen, and come in among them they dishonoured my holy name: so that it was said of them: Are these the people of GOD, and must go out of their own land?
21 Then spared I my holy name, which the house of Israel had dishonoured among the Gentiles, to whom they came. Therefore tell the house of Israell: Thus sayeth the Lord GOD: I do not 22 this for your sakes (O house of Israel) but for my holy name's sake, which ye dishonoured among the Heathen, when ye came 23 to them.* Therefore, I will hallow my great name again, which among the Gentiles is evil spoken of: for ye yourselves have dishonoured it among them. And the Gentiles shall know, that I am the LORD, when I am honoured in you before their eyes, 24 sayeth the Lord GOD.* As for you, I will take you from among the Heathen, and gather you together out of all countries, and v.22 Other: Thus saith the LORD: I will sanctify my name that is defiled among the heathen. Which ye have defiled among them:. v.23 Other: that the heathen may know that I am the LORD (saith the Lord Iehouah) when I am sanctified upon you in their sight.

bring you again into your own land.* Then will I pour clean 25 water upon you, and ye shall be clean: Yea from all your un-cleanness and from all your Idols shall I cleanse you.* A new 26 heart also will I give you, and a new spirit will I put into you:
 As for that stoney heart, I will take it out of your body, and give you a fleshly heart.* I will give my spirit among you, and 27 cause you to walk in my commandments, to keep my laws, and to fulfill them.* And so ye shall dwell in the land, that I gave 28 to your forefathers, and ye shall be my people, and I will be your God.* I will help you out of all your uncleannesses. I 29 will call for the corn, and will increase it, and will let you have no hunger. I will multiply the fruits of the trees, and the in- 30 crease of the field for you, so that ye shall bear no more reproof of hunger among the Heathen. Then shall ye remember your 31 own wicked ways, and your imaginations, which were not good: so that ye shall take displeasure at your own selves, by reason of your sins and abominations. But I will not do this for your 32 sakes (sayeth the Lord GOD) be ye sure of it. Therefore, O ye house of Israel, be ashamed of your sins. Moreover, thus 33 sayeth the Lord GOD: what time as I shall cleanse you from all your offenses, then will I make the cities to be occupied again, and will repair the places that be decayed. The desolate land 34 shall be builded again, which afore time lay waste in the sight of all them that went by. Then shall it be said: this waste 35 land is become like a garden of pleasure, and the void, desolate and broken down cities, are now strong, and fenced again.
 Then the residue of the Heathen that lie round about you, shall 36 know, that I am the LORD, which repair that was broken down, and plant again, that was made waste. Even I the LORD have spoken it, and will do it in deed. Thus sayeth the Lord GOD: I 37 will yet once be found again of the house of Israel, and do this for them: I shall increase them as a flock of men. Like as the 38 holy flock and the flock of Jerusalem are in the high solempne v.24 Other: And I will take you from the heathen, and will gather you out from all lands and will bring you out of your own country. v.25 Other: And I will pour pure water upon you, and ye shall be cleansed from all uncleanness, and from all your idols. I will cleanse you. v.26 Other: And I will give you a new heart, and will put a new spirit in you. And will take away that stony heart out of your flesh, and give you a fleshly heart. v.27 Other: And I will put my spirit in you, and will make that ye shall walk in mine ordinances and keep my laws and do them. v.28 Other: And ye shall dwell in the land which I gave your fathers. And ye shall be my people, and I will be your God.

feasts: so shall also the wild wasted cities be filled with flocks of men: and they shall know, that I am the LORD.

XXXVII

The hand of the LORD came upon me, and carried me out in the spirit of the LORD, and let me down in a plain field, that 2 lay full of bones, and he led me round about by them: and behold, the bones that lay upon the field, were very many, and 3 marvelous dry also. Then said he unto me: Thou son of man: thinkest thou these bones may live again? And I answered:
4 O Lord GOD, thou knowest. And he said unto me: Prophecy thou upon these bones, and speak unto them: Ye dry bones, 5 hear the word of the LORD. Thus sayeth the Lord GOD unto these bones: Behold, I will put breath into you, that ye may 6 live: I will give yow sinowes, and make flesh grow upon you, and cover you over with skin: and so give you breath, that ye 7 may live, and know, that I am the LORD. So I prophesied, as he had commanded me: and as I was prophesying, there came 8 a noise and a great motion, so that the bones ran every one to another. Now when I had looked, behold, they had sinews, 9 and flesh grew upon them: and above they were covered with skin, but there was no breath in them. Then said he unto me:
10 Thou son of man, prophesy thou toward the wind: prophesy, and speak to the wind: Thus sayeth the Lord GOD: Come (O thou air) from the four winds, and blow upon these slain, that 11 they may be restored to life. So I prophesied, as he had commanded me: then came the breath into them and they received 12 life, and stood up upon their feet, a marvelous great sorte. Moreover, he said unto me: Thou son of man, these bones are 13 the whole house of Israel. Behold, they say: Our bones are dried up, our hope is gone, we are clean cut off. Therefore 14 prophesy thou, and speak unto them: thus sayeth the Lord GOD: Behold, I will open your graves (O my people) and take 15 you out of your sepulchers, and bring you into the land of Israel again. So shall ye know that I am the LORD, when I open 16 your graves, and bring you out of them. My spirit also will I put in you, and ye shall live: I will set you again in your own land, and ye shall know, that I am the LORD which have said it, and fulfilled it in deed. The word of the LORD came unto me, saying: Thou son of man, take a stick and write upon it: Unto Judah and to the children of Israel his companions. Then take another stick, and write upon it: Unto Joseph the stock of Ephraim, and to all the household of Israel his companions. And then take both these together in thine hand, so shall there be one stick thereof. Now if the children of thy people say unto thee: wilt thou not shew us, what thou meanest by these? Then give them this answer: Thus sayeth the Lord GOD: behold, I will take the stock of Joseph, which is in the hand of Ephraim and the tribes of Israel his fellows, and will put them to the stock of Judah, and make them one stock, and they shall be one in my hand. And the two sticks where upon thou writest, shalt thou have in thine hand, that they may see, and shalt say unto them: Thus sayeth the Lord GOD: behold, I will take away the children of Israel from among the Heathen, unto whom they be gone, and will gather them together on every side, and bring them again into their own land: Yea I will make one people of them in the land, upon the mountains of Israel, and they all shall have but one king. They shall no more be two peoples from hence forth, neither be devided in to two kingdoms: they shall also defile themselves no more with their abominations, Idols, and all their wicked doings. I will help them out of all their dwelling places, wherein they have sinned: and will so cleanse them, that they shall be my people, and I their God. David my servant shall be their king, and they all shall have one shepherd only. They shall walk in my laws, and my commandments shall they both keep and fulfill. They shall dwell in the land, that I gave unto Jacob my servant, where as your fathers also have dwelt. Yea even in the same land shall they, their children, and their children's children dwell for evermore: and my servant David shall be their everlasting prince. Moreover, I will make a bond of peace with them, which shall be unto them an everlasting covenant. I will satle them also, and multiply them, my Sanctuary will I set among them for evermore. My dwelling shall be with them, yea I will be their God, and they shall be my people. Thus the Heathen also shall know, that I the LORD am the holy maker of Israel: when my Sanctuary shall be among them for ever more.

And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying: Thou son of man, turn thy face toward Gog in the land of Magog, which is the chief prince of Mesech and Tubal: prophesy against him,

XXXVIII. 2

3 and say: Thus sayeth the Lord GOD: O Gog thou chief prince* 4 Mesech and Tubal: behold, I will upon thee, and will turn thee about, and put a bit in thy chaws: I will bring thee forth and all thine host, both horse and horsemen, which be all weaponed 5 spears, shields, and swords: The Perses, Moryans, and with 6 them the Lybians which all bear shields and helmets: Gomer and all his hosts: the house of Thogorma out of the north quar-7 ters, and all his hosts, yea and much people with thee. Therefore prepare thee, set thyself in array with all thy people, that 8 are come unto thee by heaps, and be thou their defense. After many days thou shalt be visited, and in the latter years thou shalt come into the land, that hath been destroyed with the sword, and now is replenished again with divers people upon the mountains of Israel, which have long lien waste. Yea they 9 be brought out of the nations, and dwell all safe. Thou shalt come up like a stormy wether, to cover the land, and as it were a dark cloud: thou with all thine hosts, and a great multitude 10 of people with thee. Moreover, thus sayeth the Lord GOD:
At the same time shall many things come into thy mind, so 11 that thou shalt imagine mischief, and say: I will up to yonder plain land, seeing they sit at ease, and dwell so safely (for they dwell all without any walls, they have neither bars nor 12 doors) to spoil them, to rob them, to lay hand upon their so well inhabited wildernesses: against that people, that is gathered together from among the Heathen, which have gotten cat-13 tle and good, and dwell in the midst of the land. Then shall Saba, and Dedan, and the merchants of Tharsis with all their worthies, say unto thee: Art thou come to rob? Hast thou gathered thy people together, because thou wilt spoil? to take silver and gold: to carry away cattle and goods: and to have a great 14 prey? Therefore, O thou son of man, thou shalt prophesy, and say unto Gog: Thus sayeth the Lord GOD: In that day thou 15 shalt know, that my people of Israel dwelleth safe: and shalth come from thy place out of the north parts: thou and much people with thee, which ride upon horses, whereof there is a great 16 multitude and an innumerable sorte. Yea thou shalt come upon my people of Israel, as a cloud to cover the land. This shall come to pass in the latter days: I will bring thee up into my land, that the Heathen may know me, when I get me honour upon thee; O Gog, before their eyes. Thus sayeth the Lord GOD: Thou art he, of whom I have spoken afore time, by my servants the prophets of Israel, which prophesied in those days and years, that I should bring thee upon them. At the same time, when Gog cometh up in to the land of Israel, (sayeth the Lord GOD) shall my indignation go forth in my wrath. For in my jealousy and hot displeasure I have devised, that there shall be a great trouble in the land of Israel at that time. The very fishes in the sea, the fowls of the air, the beasts of the field, and all the men that are upon the earth, shall tremble for fear of me. The hills also shall be turned upside down, the stairs of stone shall fall, and all walls shall sink to the ground: I will call for a sword upon them in all my mountains, sayeth the Lord GOD: so that every man's sword shall be upon another. With pestilence and blood will I punish him: stormy rain and hail stones, fire and brimstone, will I cause to rain upon him and all his heap, yea and upon all that great people that is with him. Thus will I be magnified, honoured, and known among the Heathen: that they may be sure, how that I am the LORD.

Therefore O thou son of man, prophesy* against Gog, and speak: Thus sayeth the Lord GOD: Behold, O Gog: thou chief prince at Mesech and Tubal, I will upon thee, and turn thee about, and carry thee forth, and lead thee from the north parts, and bring thee up to the mountains of Israel. As for thy bow, I will smite it out of thy left hand, and cast thine arrows out of thy right hand. Thou with all thine heap, and all the people that is with thee, must fall upon the mountains of Israel. Then will I give thee unto the fowls and wild beasts of the field, to be devoured: there must thou lie upon the field: for even I the LORD have spoken it, sayeth the Lord GOD. In to Magog, and among those that sit so carelessly in the isles: will I send a fire, and they shall know, that I am the LORD. I will make also the name of my holiness to be known among my people of Israel: and I will not let my holy name be evil spoken of any more: but the very Heathen also shall know, that I am the LORD, the holy one of Israel. Behold, it cometh, and shall be fulfilled in deed, sayeth the Lord GOD. This is the day whereof I have spoken: They that dwell in the cities of Israel, shall go forth and 39. v.1 Other: prophecie.

XXXIX

set fire upon the weapons, and burn them: shields and spears, 10 bows and arrows, bills and clubs: seven years shall they be burning thereof, so that they shall else bring no sticks from the field, neither have need to hew down any out of the wood: For they shall have weapons now to burn. They shall rob those that robbed them, and spoil those that spoiled them, sayeth the 11 Lord GOD. At the same time will I give unto Gog, a place to be buried in, in Israel: even the valley, where thorow men go from the east to the seaward: Those that travel* thereby, shall abhor it. There shall Gog and all his people be buried: and it shall be 12 called the valley of the people of Gog. Seven months long shall the house of Israel be burying of them, that they may cleanse 13 the land. Yea all the people of the land shall bury them. O it shall be a glorious day, when I get me that honour, sayeth the 14 Lord GOD. They shall ordain men also to be dead buryers, ever going thorow the land, and appoint them certain places to bury those in, which remain upon the field, that the land may be cleansed. From end to end shall they seek, and that seven 15 months long. Now those that go thorow the land, where they see a man's bone, they shall set up a token by it, till the dead buryers have buried it also, in the valley of the people of Gog.
16 And the name of the city shall be called, Hamonah. Thus shall 17 they make the land clean. And thou son of man: thus sayeth the Lord GOD: Speak unto all the fowls and every bird, yea and to all the wild beasts of the field: heap you together and come, gather you round about upon my slaughter, that I have slain for you: even a great slaughter upon the mountains of 18 Israel: eat flesh and drink blood. Ye shall eat the flesh of the worthies, and drink the blood of the princes of the land: of the wethers, of the lambs, of the goats, and of the oxen that be all 19 slain at Bashan. Eat the fat your belly full, and drink blood till ye be drunken of the slaughter, which I have slain unto 20 you. Fill you at my table, with horses and strong horsemen: 21 with captains and all men of war, sayeth the Lord GOD. I will bring my glory also among the Gentiles, that all the Heathen may see my judgment, that I have kept, and my hand which I 22 have laid upon them: that the house of Israel may know, how 23 that I am the LORD their God, from that day forth. And the Heathen shall know, that where as the house of Israel were led v.11 Other: travayle.

into captivity: it was for their wickedness' sake, because they offended me. For the which cause I hid my face from them, and delivered them into the hands of their enemies, that they might all be slain with the sword. According to their unclean- 24 ness and unfaithful dealings, so have I entreated them, and hid my face from them. Therefore thus sayeth the Lord GOD; 25 Now will I bring again the captives of Jacob, and have mercy upon the whole house of Israel, and be jealous for my holy name's sake. All their confusion and offense that they have 26 done against me, shall be taken away: and so safely shall they dwell in their land, that no man shall make them afraid. And 27 when I have brought them again from among the people, when I have gathered them together out of their enemies' lands, and am praised in them before many Heathen: then shall they 28 know, that I am the LORD their God, which suffered them to be led into captivity among the Heathen, but now have brought them again into their own land, and not left one of them yonder. After that, will I hide my face no more from them, but 29 will pour out my spirit upon the house of Israel, sayeth the Lord GOD.

In the twenty fifth year of our captivity, in the beginning of XL the year, the tenth day of the month: that is the fourteenth year, after that the city was smitten down: the same day came the hand of the LORD upon me, and carried me forth: even 2 into the land of Israel brought he me in the visions of God: and set me down upon a marvelous high mountain, where upon there was a building (as it had been of a city) toward the north.
 Thither he carried me, and behold, there was a man, whose 3 similitude was like brass, which had a thread of flax in his hand, and a meterod also. He stood in the door, and said unto 4 me: mark well with thine eyes, harken to with thine ears, and fasten it in thine heart, whatsoever I shall shew thee, for to the intent that they might be shewed thee, therefore art thou brought hither. A whatsoever thou seest, thou shalt certify the house of Israel thereof. Behold, there was a wall on the out- 5 side round about the house: the meterod that he had in his hand, was six cubits long and a span. So he measured the breadth of the building, which was a meterod, and the height also a meterod; Then came he unto the east door, and went 6 up the stairs, and measured the posts of the door, whereof every one was a meterod thick. Every chamber was a meterod 7 long and broad: between the chambers were five cubits. The 8 post of the door within the porch, was one meterod. He mea-9 sured also the porche of the innermer door which contained a 10 meterod. Then measured he the entry of the door, that con-11 tained eight cubits, and his pillars two cubits: and this entry 12 stood inward. The chambers of the door eastward, were three 13 on every side: alike broad and long. The pillars also that stood 14 of both the sides, were of one measure. After this, he mea-15 sured the wideness of the door, which was ten cubits, and the 16 height of the door thirteen cubits. The edge before the cham-17 bers was one cubit broad upon both the sides, and the cambers 18 six cubits wide of either side. He measured the door from the 19 rigge of one chamber to another, whose wideness was twenty 20 five cubits, and one door stood against another. He made pil-21 lars also sixty cubits high, round about the court door. Be-22 fore the inward part unto the fore entry of the innermer door, 23 were fifty cubits. The chambers and the pillars within, round 24 about unto the door, had side windows: So had the fore entries also, whose windows went round about within. And upon the pillars there stood date trees. Then brought he me into the fore court, where as were chambers and paved works, made in the fore court round about: Thirty chambers upon one paved work. Now the paved work was a long beside the doors, and that was the lower paved work. After this, he measured the breadth from the lower door, unto the innermer court of the outside, which had an hundredth cubits upon the east and the north part. And the door in the uttermost* court toward the north, measured he after the length and breadth: his three chambers also on either side, with his pillars and fore entries: which had even the measure of the first door. His height was fifty cubits, the breadth twenty five cubits: his windows and porches with his date trees, had even like measure as the door toward the east: there were seven steps to go up upon, and their porch before them. Now the door of the innermer court stood straight over against the door, that was toward the north east. From one door to another, he measured an hundredth cubits. After that, he brought me to the south side, where there stood a door toward the south: whose pillars and porches he

40. v.20 Other: utmost.

measured, these had the first measure, and with their porches 25 they had windows round about, like the first windows. The height was fifty cubits, the breadth twenty five, with steps to 26 go up upon: his porch stood before him, with his pillars and date trees on either side. And the door of the innermer court 27 stood toward the south, and he measured from one door to another an hundredth cubits. So he brought me in to the inner- 28 mer court, thorow the door of the south side: which he measured, and it had the measure afore said. In like manner, his 29 chambers, pillars, and fore entries, had even the fore said measure also. And he had with his porches round about, windows of fifty cubits high, and twenty five cubits broad. The porches 30 round about were twenty five cubits long, and five cubits broad: and his porch reached unto the uttermost* court: upon his pil- 31 lars there were date trees, and eight steps to go up upon. He 32 brought me also in to the inmost court upon the east side, and measured the door, according to the measure afore said. His 33 chambers, pillars, and porches had even the same measure, as they first had: and with his porches he had windows round about. The height was fifty cubits, the breadth twenty five cu- 34 bits: His porches reached unto the uttermost* court: his pillars also had date trees on either side, and eight steps to go up 35 upon. And he brought me to the north door, and measured it, which also had the foresaid measure. His chambers, pillars, 36 and porches had windows round about: whose height was fifty cubits, and the breadth twenty five. His pillars stood toward 37 the uttermost* court, and upon them both were date trees, and eight steps to go up upon. There stood a chamber also, whose 38 entrance was at the door pillars, and there the burnt offerings were washed. In the door porch, there stood on either side 39 two tables for the slaughtering; to slay the brent offerings, sin offerings, and trespass offerings thereupon. And on the out 40 side as men go forth to the north door, there stood two tables.
Four tables stood on either side of the door, that is eight ta- 41 bles, where upon they slaughtered. Four tables were of hewn 42 stone for the burnt offerings, of a cubit and a half long and broad, and one cubit high: where upon were laid the vessels and ornaments, which were used to the burnt and the slain of- 43 ferings, when they were slaughtered. And within there were v.31 Other: utmost. v.34 Other: utmost. v.37 Other: utmost.

hooks four fingers broad, fastened round about, to hang flesh 44 upon, and upon the tables was laid the offering flesh. On the outside of the innermer door were the singers chambers in the inward court beside the North door over against the South.
 45 There stood one also, beside the east door northward. And he said unto me: This chamber on the South side belongeth 46 to the priests, that keep the habitation: and this toward the North, is the priests that wait upon the alter: which be the sons of Sadoch, that do service before the LORD instead of the 47 children of Levi. So he measured the fore court, which had in length an hundredth cubits, and as much in breadth by the 48 four corners. Now the altar stood before the house: And he brought me to the fore entry of the house, and measured the walls by the entry door: which were five cubits long on either side. The thickness also of the door on either side, was three 49 cubits. The length of the porch was twenty cubits, the breadth eleven cubits, and upon steps went men up to it: by the walls also were pillars, on either side one.

XLI After this he brought me to the temple, and measured the posts: which were of both the sides six cubits thick, according 2 to the wideness of the tabernacle. The breadth of the door was ten cubits and the walls of the door on either side five cubits. He measured the length thereof, which contained forty 3 cubits, and the breadth twenty. Then went he in, and measured the door posts, which were two cubits thick: but the door it self was six cubits, and the breadth of the door was seven 4 cubits. He measured the length and breadth thereof, which were every one twenty cubits, before the temple: And he said 5 unto me: this is the holiest of all. He measured also the wall of the house, which was six cubits. The chambers that stood 6 round about the house, were every one four cubits wide, and one stood hard upon another, whereof there were thirty three.
 And there stood posts beneath by the walls round about the house, to bear them up: but in the wall of the house they were 7 not fastened: The side chambers were the higher the wider, and had steps thorow them round about the house. Thus was it wider above, that from the lowest men might go to the highest* 8 and mid chambers. I saw also that the house was very high round about. The foundation of the side chambers was a me-

41. v.7 Other: hyst.

terod (that is six cubits) broad. The thickness of the side wall 9 without, contained five cubits, and so did the outwall, of the 10 chambers in the house. Between the chambers, was the wide- 10 ness of twenty cubits round about the house. The chamber 11 doors stood over against the outwall, the one door was toward the north, the other toward the South: and the thickness of the 12 outwall was five cubits round about. Now the building that 12 was separated toward the west, was seventy cubits wide: the wall of the building was five cubits thick round about, and the 13 length four score cubits and ten. So he measured the house 13 which was an hundredth cubits long, and the separated building with the wall were an hundredth cubits long also. The 14 wideness before the house and of it that was separated toward the East, was an hundredth cubits. And he measured 15 the length of the building before and behind with the chambers upon both the sides: and it contained an hundredth cu- 16 bits. The innermer temple, the porch of the fore court, the side posts, these three had side windows, and pillars round about over against the posts, from the ground up to the windows: The windows themselves were sealed* over with boards: and thus was it above the door, unto the inmost house, and 17 without also: Yea the whole wall on every side both within and without was silled over with great boards. There were Cheru- 18 bins and date trees made also, so that one date tree stood ever betwixt two Cherubins: One Cherub had two faces, the face of 19 a man looking aside toward the date tree, and a lions face on the other side. Thus was it made round about in all the house; Yea the Cherubins and date trees were made from the ground 20 up above the door, and so stood they also upon the wall of the temple. The byposts of the temple were four squared, and the 21 fashion of the Sanctuary was even as it appeared unto me afore in the vision. The table was of wood, three cubits high and two 22 cubits long: his corners, the length and the walls were of wood.
And he said unto me: This is the table, that shall stand before the LORD. The temple and the holiest of all had either of 23 them two doors and every door had two little wickettes which 24 were folden in one upon another, on every side two. And upon 25 the doors of the temple there were made Cherubins and date trees, like as upon the walls: and a great thick balke of wood v.16 Other: syled.

26 was before on the outside of the porch. Upon both the sides of the walls of the porch there were made deep windows and date trees, having beams and balkes, like as the house had.

XLII Then carried he me out into the fore court toward the north, and brought me into the chamber that stood over against the back building northward, which had the length of an hundredth 2 cubits whose door turned toward the north. The wideness
 3 contained fifty cubits: over against the twenty cubits of the innermer court, and against the paved work that was in the fore court. Beside all these three, there stood pillars, one over 4 against another: And before this chamber there was a walking place of ten cubits wide, and within was a way of one cubit 5 wide, and their doors toward the north. Thus the highest* chambers were alway narrower then the lowest and middle 6 most of the building: for they bare chamber upon chamber, and stood tree together one upon another not having pillars like the fore court: therefore were they smaller then those beneath and in the midst, to reken from the ground upward.
 7 The wall without that stood by the chambers toward the utmost court upon the fore side of the chambers, was fifty cubits
 8 long: for the length of the utmost chambers in the fore court was fifty cubits also: but the length thereof before the temple
 9 was an hundredth cubits. These chambers had under them an entrance of the east side, where by a man might go into them 10 out of the fore court, thorow the thick wall of the fore court toward the east, right over against the separated building. Before the same building upon this side there were chambers also 11 which had a way unto them, like as the chambers on the north side of the same length and wideness. Their entrance, fashion 12 and doors were also* of the same manner. Yea even like as the other chamber doors were, so were those also of the south side. And before the way toward the singers steps on the east 13 side, there stood a door to go in at. Then said he unto me: The chambers toward the north and the south which stand* before the back building: those be holy habitations, where in the priests that do service before the LORD, must eat the most holy offerings: and there must they lay the most holy offerings: meat offerings, sin offerings and the trespass offerings, 14 for it is an holy place. When the priests come therein, they

42. v.5 Other: hyst. v.11 Other: all. v.13 Other: stode.

shall not go out in to the fore court: but (seeing they be holy) they shall leave their clothes of their ministration, and put on other garments, when they have any thing to do with the people. Now when he had measured all the innermer house, he brought me forth thorow the east port, and measured the same round about. He measured the east side with the meterod, which round about contained five hundredth meterods. And the north side measured he, which contained round about even so much. The other two sides also toward the south and the west (which he measured) contained either of them five hundredth meterods. So he measured all the four sides where there went a wall round about five hundredth meterods long, and as broad also which separated the holy from the unholy.

So he brought me to the door, that turneth toward the east. XLIII Behold, then came the glory of the God of Israel from out of the east, whose voice was like a great noise of waters, and the earth was lightened with his glory. His sight to look upon was like the first, that I saw, when I went in, what time as the city should have been destroyed: and like the vision that I saw by the water of Cobar. Then fell I upon my face, but the glory of the LORD came into the house thorow the East door. So a wind took me up, and brought me into the innermer court: and behold, the house was full of the glory of the LORD. I heard one speaking unto me out of the house, and there stood one by me, that said unto me: O thou son of man, this rowme is my seat, and the place of my foot steps: where as I will dwell among the children of Israel for evermore: so that the house of Israel shall no more defile my holy name: neither they, nor their kings, thorow their whoredom, thorow their high places, and thorow the dead bodies of their kings: which have builded their thresholds in manner hard upon my thresholds, and their posts almost at my posts: so that there is but a bare wall betwixt me and them. Thus have they defiled my holy name with their abominations, that they have committed. Wherefore I have destroyed them in my wrath: But now they shall put away their whoredom, and the dead bodies of their kings out of my sight, that I may dwell among them for evermore. Therefore (O thou son of man) shew thou the household of Israel a temple, that they may be ashamed of their wickedness, and measure themselves an example thereat. And when they be ashamed of all their works, then shew them the form and fashion of the temple: the coming in, the going out, all the manner and description thereof, yea all the uses and ordinances of it, that they may keep and fulfill all the fashions and customs thereof. This is the description of the house: Above upon the mount round about all the corners, it shall be the holiest of all. Behold, that is the description and fashion of the house. This is the measure of the altar (after the true cubit: which is a span longer then another cubit) his bottom in the midst was a cubit long and wide, and the ledge that went round about it, was a span broad. This is the height* of the altar: from the ground to the lower steps the length is two cubits, and the breadth one cubit: and from the lower steps to the higher are four cubits, and the breadth but one cubit. The altar was four cubits high, and from the altar upward stood four horns, and it was twelve cubits long and twelve cubits broad, upon the four corners: the covering of the altar was fourteen cubits long and broad upon the four corners, and the ledge that went round about, had half a cubit: and the bottom thereof round about one cubit: his steps stood toward the East. And he said unto me: Thou son of man, thus sayeth the Lord GOD: These are the ordinances and laws of the altar, in the day when it is made to offer burnt offerings, and to sprinkle blood there upon. To the priests, to the Levites that be of the seed of Sadoch, and tread before me to do me service, sayeth the Lord GOD: Unto these give thou a young bullock, for a sin offering: and take the blood of him and sprinkle his four horns withal and the four corners of the altar covering, with the ledge that goeth round about: here with shalt thou cleanse it, and reconcile it. Thou shalt take the bullock also of the sin offering, and burn him in a several place without the Sanctuary. The next day, take a gootbuck without blemish for a sin offering, to reconcile the altar withal: like as it was reconciled with the bullock. Now when thou hast made it clean, then offer a young bullock without blemish, and a ram out of the flock without blemish also. Offer them before the LORD, and let the priest cast salt thereupon, and give them so unto the LORD for a burnt offering. Seven days shalt thou bring, every day a gootbuck. A young bullock, and a ram of the flock (both without blemish)

43. v.13 Other: heyth.

shall they offer. Seven days shall they reconcile and cleanse 26 the altar, and offer upon it. When these days are expired, then 27 upon the eighth day and so forth, the priests shall offer their burnt offerings and health offerings upon the altar, so will I be merciful unto you, sayeth the Lord GOD.

After this, he brought me again to the outward door of the XLIV Sanctuary on the East side, and that was shut. Then said the 2 LORD unto me: This door shall be still shut, and not opened for any man to go thorow it, but only for the LORD God of Is- 3 rael: Yea he shall go thorow it, else shall it be shut still. The 3 prince himself shall come thorow it, that he may eat bread before the LORD. At the porch shall he come in, and there shall 4 he go out again. Then brought he me to the door, upon the 4 North side of the house. And as I looked about me, behold, the glory of the LORD filled the house: and I fell down upon 5 my face. So the LORD spake unto me: O thou son of man, 5 fasten this to thine heart, behold, and take diligent heed to all that I will say unto thee, concerning all the ordinances of 6 the LORD and all his laws: ponder well with thine heart the coming in of the house and the going forth of the Sanctuary:
 And tell that obstinate household of Israel: Thus sayeth the 6 Lord GOD: O house of Israel: yea have now done enough with 7 all your abominations, seeing that ye have brought into my 7 Sanctuary strangers, having uncircumcised hearts, and flesh, where thorow my Sanctuary is defiled, when ye offer me bread, fat, and blood. Thus with all your abominations ye have bro- 8 ken my covenant, and not kept the holy ordinances of my 8 Sanctuary, but set keepers of my Sanctuary, even after your own mind. Therefore thus sayeth the Lord GOD: Of all the 9 strangers that dwell among the children of Israel, no stranger, (whose heart and flesh is not circumcised) shall come within 9 my Sanctuary: No nor* the Levites that are gone back from 10 me, and have deceived the people of Israel with errors, going after their idols: therefore shall they bear their own wickedness. Should they be set and ordained to minister under the 11 doors of the house of my Sanctuary? And to do service in the house: to slay burnt offerings and sacrifices for the people: to stand* before them, and to serve them: seeing the service that 12 they do them, is before their Idols, and cause the house of Israel to stumble thorow wickedness? For the which cause I have plucked out mine hand over them, (sayeth the Lord GOD) so 13 that now they must bear their own iniquity, and not to come nye me, to serve me with their priesthead, in my Sanctuary, and most holiest of all: that they may bear their own shame 14 and abominations, which they have done. Should I use them to be porters of the house, and to all the service that is done 15 therein? But the Priests the Levites the sons of Sadoch, that kept the holy ordinances of my Sanctuary, when the children of Israel were gone from me: shall come to me, to do me service, to stand before me, and to offer me the fat and the blood, 16 sayeth the Lord GOD. They shall go into my Sanctuary, and tread before my table, to do me service, and to wait upon mine 17 ordinances. Now when they go in at the doors of the innermer court: they shall put on linen* clothes, so that no woollen come upon them, while they do service under the doors of the inner-18 mer court, and within. They shall have fair linen* bonnets upon their heads, and linen* breeches upon their loins, which 19 in their labour they shall not put about them: And when they go forth to the people in to the outward court, they shall put off their clothes, wherein they have ministered, and lay them in the habitation of the Sanctuary, and put on other apparel, 20 lest they unhallow the people with their clothes. They shall not shave their heads, nor nourish the bush of their hair, but 21 round their heads only. All the priests that go in to the in-22 most court, shall drink no wine. They shall marry no widow, neither one that is put from her husband: but a maiden of the seed of the house of Israel, or a widow, that hath had a priest 23 before. They shall shew my people the difference between the 24 holy and unholy, betwixt the clean and unclean. If any discord arise, they shall discern it, and give sentence after my judgements. My solempne feasts, my laws and ordinances shall they 25 keep, and hallow my Sabbaths. They shall come at no dead person, to defile themselves (except it be father or mother, son or daughter, brother or sister that hath had yet no husband) 26 in such they may be defiled. And when he is cleansed, there shall be reckoned unto him seven days: and if he go in to the 27 Sanctuary again to do service, he shall bring a sin offering, 28 sayeth the Lord GOD. They shall have an heritage, yea I my-v.17 Other: lining. v.18 Other: lining. v.18 Other: lining.

self will be their heritage: else shall ye give them no possession in Israel, for I am their possession. The meat offering, sin offering, and trespass offering shall they eat, and every dedicate thing in Israel, shall be theirs. The firstlings of all the first-fruits, and all free will offerings shall be the priest's. Ye shall give unto the priest also the firstlings of your dough,* that God may prosper the residue. But no dead carrion shall the priest eat, nor such as is devoured of wild beasts, fowls or cattle.

When ye divide the land by the lot, ye shall put aside one part for the LORD, to be holy from other lands: namely twenty five thousand meterods long, and ten thousand broad. This shall be holy, as wide as it is round about. Of this part there shall belong unto the Sanctuary, five hundredth meterods in all the four corners, and fifty cubits wide round about to the suburbs. And from this measure, namely of twenty five thousand meterods long, and ten thousand broad, thou shalt measure, wherein the Sanctuary and the holiest of all may stand. The residue of that holy ground shall be the priests, which do service in the Sanctuary of the LORD, and go in before the LORD to serve him, that they may have room to dwell in. As for the Sanctuary, it shall stand for itself: and to the Levites that serve in the house, there shall be given twenty habitations, of the twenty five thousand length and ten thousand breadth: ye shall give also unto the city a possession of five thousand meterods broad, and twenty five thousand long, beside the part of the Sanctuary: that shall be for the whole house of Israel. Upon both the sides of the Sanctuary's part, and by the city, there shall be given unto the prince, whatsoever lieth over against the city, as far as reacheth westward and eastward: which shall be as long as one part, from the west unto the east. This shall be his own land in Israel, that my princes be no more chargeable unto my people. And such as remaineth yet over in the land, shall be given unto the house of Israel according to their tribes. Thus sayeth the Lord GOD: O ye princes, ye have now oppressed and destroyed enough: now leave off, handle now according to the thing, that is equal and lawful: and thrust out my people no more, sayeth the Lord GOD. Ye shall have a true weight, and a true Ephah, and a true Bath. The Ephah and the Bath shall be alike. One Bath shall con-v.30 Other: dow.

tain the tenth part of an Homer, and so shall one Ephah do: 12 their measure shall be after the Homer. One Sicle maketh twenty Geras. So twenty Sicles, and twenty five and fifteen 13 Sicles make a pound. This is the heave offering, that ye shall give to be heaved: namely, the sixteenth part of an Ephah, out of an Homer of wheat: and the sixteenth part of an Ephah, out 14 of an Homer of barley. The oil shall be measured with the Bath: even the tenth part of one Bath out of a Cor. Ten baths 15 make one Homer: for one Homer filleth* ten Baths. And one lamb from two hundredth sheep out of the pasture of Israel, for a meatoffering, burnt offering and health offering, to rec-16 oncile them, sayeth the Lord GOD. All the people of the land shall give this heave offering with a free will. Again, it shall 17 be the prince's part to offer burnt offerings, meat offerings, and drink offerings unto the LORD, in the holy days, new Moons, Sabbaths, and in all the high feasts of the house of Israel. The sin offering, meat offering, brent offering and health offering 18 shall he give, to reconcile the house of Israel. Thus sayeth the Lord GOD: The first day of the first month thou shalt take a 19 young bullock without blemish, and cleanse the Sanctuary. So the priest shall take of the blood of the sin offering, and sprinkle it upon the posts of the house, and upon the four corners 20 of the altar, with the door posts of the innermer court. And thus shalt thou do also the seventh day of the month, for such as have sinned of ignorance, or being deceived, to reconcile the 21 house withal. Upon the fourteenth day of the first month ye shall keep Easter. Seven days shall the feast continue, wherein 22 there shall no sour nor leavened bread be eaten. Upon the same day shall the prince give for himself and all the people 23 of the land, a bullock for a sin offering. And in the feast of the seven days he shall offer every day a bullock and a ram, that are without blemish, for a burnt offering unto the LORD: 24 and an he goat daily for a sin offering. For the meat offerings, he shall give ever an Ephah to a bullock, an Ephah to a 25 ram, and an Hin of oil to an Ephah. Upon the fifteenth day of the seventh month, he shall keep the seven days holy one after another, even as the other seven days: with the sin offering, burnt offering, meat offering, and with the oil.

XLVI Thus sayeth the Lord GOD: the door of the innermer court

45. v.14 Other: maketh.

toward the East, shall be shut the six working days: but in the Sabbath and in the day of the new Moon, it shall be opened. Then shall the prince come under the door porch, and stand 2 still without by the door check. So the priests shall offer up his burnt and health offerings. And he shall worship at the door post, and go his way forth again: but the door shall no more be shut till the evening. On the same manner shall the peo- 3 ple of the land also do their worship before the LORD, without this door upon the Sabbaths and new Moons. This is now the 4 burnt offering, that the prince shall bring unto the LORD upon the Sabbath: six lambs without blemish, and a ram without blemish, and an Ephah for a meatoffering, with the ram. As 5 for the lambs, he may give as many meatofferings to them, as he will, and an Hin of oil to an Ephah. In the day of the new 6 month, it shall be a young bullock without blemish, six lambs and a ram also without blemish. With the bullock he shall 7 give an Ephah, and with the ram an Ephah also for a meat offering: but to the lambs, what he may come by: And ever an Hin of oil to an Ephah. When the prince cometh, he shall go 8 under the door porch, and even there depart forth again. But 9 when the people of the land come before the LORD in the high solempne feast, as many as come in by the North door to do worship, shall go out again at the South door. And they that come in at the South door shall go forth again at the North door. There shall none go out at the door where he came in, but shall go forth right over on the other side, and the prince 10 shall go in and out among them. Upon the solempne and high feast days, this shall be the meat offering: an Ephah to a bullock and an Ephah to a ram, and to the lambs: as many as he will, but ever an Hin of oil to an Ephah. Now when the prince 12 bringeth a burnt offering or an health offering with a free will unto the LORD, the East door shall be opened unto him, that he may do with his burnt and health offerings, as he doth upon the Sabbath, and when he goeth forth, the door shall be shut after him again. He shall daily bring unto the LORD a lamb of 13 a year old without blemish for a burnt offering: this shall he do every morning. And for a meat offering he shall give the sixth 14 part of an Ephah, and the third part of an Hin of oil (to mingle with the cakes) every morning. Yea this shall be a daily meat offering unto the LORD, for an everlasting ordinance: And thus 15

shall the lamb, the meatoffering and oil be given every morning, for a daily burnt offering. Moreover, thus sayeth the Lord GOD: If the prince give a gift unto any of his sons, then shall it be his sons' heritage perpetual, that he may possess it. But if he will give one of his servants some of his heritage, it shall be his to the free year, and then to return again unto the prince: for his heritage shall be his sons' only. The prince also shall take none of the people's inheritance, nor put them from their possession: but to his own sons shall he give his possession, that my people be not scattered abroad, but that every man may have his own. And he brought me thorow the entrance at the side of the door to the habitation of the Sanctuary, that belongeth to the priests and stood toward the north, and behold, there was a place upon the west side, then said he unto me: This is the place, where the priests shall dight the trespass and sinofferings, and bake the meatofferings: that they need not bear them in to the outward court, and so to unhallow the people. So he brought me into the utmost court, round about all the four corners. Behold, in every corner of the fore court, there was yet a little court. Yea in all the four corners of the court, there was made a little court of forty cubits long, and thirty broad: these four little courts were of one like measure, and there went a rigge wall round about them all four, under the which there were hearths made round about. Then said he unto me: This is the kitchen, where the ministers of the house shall dight the slain offerings of the people.

XLVII After this he brought me again before the door of the house: and behold, there gushed out waters from under the posts of the house eastward (for the house stood toward the east) that ran down upon the right side of the house, which lieth to the altar southward. Then carried he me out to the north door, and brought me forth there round about by the utmost door that turneth east ward. Behold, there came forth the water upon the right side. Now when the man that had the meterod in his hand went* unto the east door, he measured a thousand cubits, and then he brought me thorow the water, even to the ankles: so he measured yet a thousand, and brought me thorow the water again unto the knees: yet measured he a thousand, and brought me thorow the waters unto the loins.

47. v.3 Other: out.

After this he measured a thousand again, then was it such a 5 river, that I might not wade thorow it: The water was so deep, that it was needful to have swimm'd, for it might not be waded over. And he said unto me: hast thou seen this, O thou son of 6 man? And with that, he brought me to the river bank again.
Now when I came there, there stood many trees upon either 7 side of the river bank. Then said he unto me: This water that 8 floweth out toward the East, and runneth down into the plain field, cometh into the sea: and from the sea it runneth out, and maketh the waters whole. Yea all that live and move, where 9 unto this river cometh, shall recover. And where this water cometh, there shall be much* fish; For all that cometh to this water, shall be lusty and whole. By this river shall the fish- 10 ers stand from Engadi unto En Eglaim, and there spread out their nets: for there shall be great heaps of fish, like as in the main sea. As for his clay and pits, they shall not be whole, 11 for why, it shall be occupied for salt. By this river upon both 12 the sides of the shore, there shall grow all manner of fruitful trees, whose leaves shall not fall off, neither shall their fruit perish: but ever be ripe at their months, for their water runneth out of the Sanctuary. His fruit is good to eat, and his leaf 13 profitable for medicine. Thus sayeth the Lord GOD: Let this be the border, wherein ye shall divide the land unto the twelve 14 tribes of Israel, with the line. Part it indifferently unto one as unto another: of the which land I swore unto your fathers, that it should fall to your inheritance. This is the border of 15 the land upon the north side, from the main sea, as men go to Zadada: namely Hemath, Berotha, Sabarim: from the bor- 16 ders of Damascus and Hemath unto Hazar Tichon, and that lieth upon the coasts of Haueran. Thus the borders from the 17 sea forth, shall be Hazar Euan, the border of Damascus the North, and the borders of Hemath. That is the north part.
The east side shall ye measure from Haueran and Damascus, 18 from Gilead and the land of Israel by Jordan and so forth, from the sea coast, that lieth eastward. And this is the East part.
The south side is, from Thamar forth to the waters of strife 19 unto Cades, the river, to the main sea: and that is the south part. The west part: namely the great sea from the borders 20 thereof, till a man come unto Hemath: this is the west part.

v.9 Other: many.

21 This land shall ye part among you, according to the tribes of 22 Israel, and divide it to be an heritage for you, and for the strangers that dwell among you, and begotten children. For ye shall take them among the children of Israel, like as though they were of your own household and country, and they shall 23 have heritage with you among the children of Israel. Look in what tribe the stranger dwelleth, in the same tribe shall ye give him his heritage, sayeth the Lord GOD.

XLVIII

These are the names of the tribes that lie upon the north side, by the way of Hetlon, till thou comest unto Hemath and Hazar Enam, the borders of Damascus toward the north beside Hamath: Dan shall have his portion from the east quarter 2 unto the west. Upon the borders of Dan from the east side 3 unto the west, shall Asser have his portion. Upon the borders of Asher from the east part unto the west shall Nephthali 4 have his portion. Upon the borders of Nephthali from the east quarter unto the west, shall Manasses have his portion.
 5 Upon the borders of Manasses from the east side unto the west, 6 shall Ephraim have his portion. Upon the borders of Ephraim from the east part unto the west, shall Ruben have his portion.
 7 Upon the borders of Reuben from the east quarter unto the 8 west shall Judah have his portion. Upon the borders of Judah from the east part unto the west, ye shall set a side one portion of twenty five thousand meterods long and broad (like as another portion from the east side unto the west) wherein 9 the Sanctuary shall stand.* As for the portion, that ye shall separate out for the LORD, it shall be twenty five thousand me-10 terods long, and ten thousand broad. Which separated holy portion shall belong unto these: namely to the priests, toward the north twenty five thousand and toward the west ten thousand broad, toward the east ten thousand broad also, and toward south twenty five thousand long, wherein the Sanctuary 11 of the LORD shall stand. Yea this same place shall be the priests, that are of the children of Sadock, and have kept my holy ordinance: which went not astray in the error of the chil-12 dren of Israel, like as the Levites are gone astray: and this separated piece that they have of the land, shall be the most 13 holy, hard upon the borders of the Levites. And next unto the priests, shall the Levites have twenty five thousand long,

48. v.8 Other: stode.

and ten thousand broad. This shall be on every side twenty five thousand long, and ten thousand broad. Of this portion 14 they shall sell nothing, nor make any permutation there of, lest the chief of the land fall unto other, for it is hallowed unto the LORD. The other five thousand after the breadth that lieth by 15 the twenty five thousand shall be common: it shall belong to the city and to the suburbs for habitations, and the city shall stand in the midst thereof. Let this be the measure: toward 16 the north part five hundredth and four thousand toward the south part five hundredth and four thousand, toward the east part five hundredth and four thousand, toward the west part five hundredth and four thousand. The suburbs hard upon 17 the city, shall have toward the north fifty and two hundredth, and toward the south fifty and two hundredth, and toward the east fifty and two hundredth, and toward the west also fifty and two hundredth. As for the residue of the length, that 18 lieth hard upon the separated holy ground: namely ten thousand toward the east, and ten thousand toward the west, next unto the holy portion: it and the increase thereof shall serve for their meat, that labour in the city. They that labour for the 19 wealth of the city, shall maintain this also, out of what tribe soever they be in Israel. All that is separated of the twenty 20 five thousand long and twenty five thousand broad on the four parts, that shall ye put aside for the separated portion of the Sanctuary, and for the possession of the city. The residue upon 21 both the sides of the Sanctuary and possession of the city, shall belong to the prince, before the place of the twenty five thousand unto the east end, and before the place of the twenty five thousand westward, unto the borders of the city: this shall be the princes portion. This shall be the holy place, and the house 22 of the Sanctuary shall stand in the midst. Moreover, from the Levites and the cities possession, that lie in the midst of the princes part: look what remaineth betwixt the border of Judah and the border of Benjamin, it shall be the prince's.
Now of the other tribes. From the east part unto the west, 23 shall Benjamin have his portion. Upon the borders of Ben- 24 jamin from the east side unto the west, shall Simeon have his portion. Upon the borders of Simeon from the east part unto 25 the west, shall Izakar have his portion. Upon the borders of 26 Izakar from the east side unto the west, shall Sabulon have his 27 portion. Upon the borders of Sabulon from the east part unto 28 the west, shall Gad have his portion. Upon the borders of Gad southward, the coasts shall reach from Thamar forth unto the waters of strife to Cades, and to the flood, even to the main 29 sea. This is the land with his portions, which ye shall dis-30 tribute unto the tribes of Israel, sayeth the Lord GOD. Thus wide shall the city reach: upon the north part five hundredth 31 and four thousand measures. The ports of the city, shall have the names of the tribes of Israel. Three ports of the north side: 32 one Ruben, another Judah, the third Levi. Upon the east side five hundredth and four thousand measures, with three ports: 33 the one Joseph, another Benjamin, the third Dan. Upon the south side five hundredth and four thousand measures, with three ports: the one Simeon, another Izakar, the third Sabu-34 lon. And upon the west side five hundredth and four thousand measures, with three ports also, the one Gad, another Asser, 35 the third Nephthali. Thus shall it have eighteen thousand measures round about. And from that time forth, the name of the city shall be: the LORD is there.

The end of the Prophecy of Ezechiel.

The Book Of Daniel.

In the third year of the reign of Jehoakim king of Judah, came Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon unto Jerusalem, and besieged it: and the Lord delivered Jehoakim the king of Judah into his hand, with certain ornaments of the house of God, which he carried away into the land of Sennar, to the house of his god, and there brought them into his gods treasury. And the king spake unto Asphanaz the chief chamberlain, that he should bring him certain of the children of Israel, that were come of the king's seed and of princes, young springalds without any blemish, but fair and well favoured, instructed in all wisdom, cunning and understanding: which were able to stand in the king's palace, to read and to learn for to speak Caldeish. Unto these the king appointed a certain portion of his own meat, and of the wine, which he drank himself, so to nourish them three years: that afterward they might stand before the king. Among these now were certain of the children of Judah: namely Daniel, Ananias, Misael, and Azarias. Unto these the chief chamberlain gave other names, and called Daniel, Balthasar: Ananias, Sidrach: Misael, Misach, and Asarias, Abednago. But Daniel was at a point with himself, that he would not be defiled thorow the king's meat, nor the wine which he drunk. And this he desired of the chief chamberlain, lest he should defile himself. So God gave Daniel favour and grace before the chief chamberlain, that he said unto him: I am afraid of my lord the king, which hath appointed you your meat and drink: lest he spy your faces to be worse liking then the other springalds of your age, and so ye shall make me lose* my head unto the king. Then Daniel answered Melassar, whom the chief chamberlain had set over Daniel, Ananias, Misael, and Asarias, and said: O prove but ten days with thy servants, and let us have pottage to eat, and water to drink: Then look upon our faces, and theirs that eat of the king's meat. And as thou seest, so deal with thy servants. So he consented to them in this matter, and proved them ten days. And after the ten days, their faces were better liking and fatter, then all the young springalds,

1. v.10 Other: loose.

16 which ate of the king's meat. Thus Melassar took away their 17 meat and wine, and gave them pottage therefore. God gave now these four springalds cunning and learning in all scripture and wisdom: but unto Daniel specially, he gave understanding 18 of all visions and dreams. Now when the time was expired, that the king had appointed to bring in these young springalds unto him: the chief chamberlain brought them before Nabu-19 chodonosor, and the king communed with them. But among them all were found none such as Daniel, Ananias, Misael, 20 and Asarias. Therefore stood they before the king which in all wisdom and matters of understanding, that he enquired of them, found them ten times better, then all the soothsayers 21 and charmers, that were in all his realm. And Daniel abode still, unto the first year of king Cyrus.

II In the second year of the reign of Nabuchodnosor, had Nabuchodnosor a dream, where thorow his spirit was vexed, and his 2 sleep brake from him. Then the king commanded to call together all the soothsayers, charmers, witches and Caldees, for to shew the king his dream. So they came, and stood before the 3 king. And the king said unto them: I have dreamed a dream, and my spirit was so troubled therewith, that I have clean for-4 gotten, what I dreamed. Upon this the Caldees answered the king in the Syrians speech: O king, God save thy life forever.
 Shew thy servants the dream, and we shall shew thee, what it 5 meaneth. The king gave the Caldees their answer, and said: It is gone from me: If ye will not make me understand the dream with the interpretation thereof, ye shall die, and your 6 houses shall be prised. But if ye tell me the dream and the meaning thereof, ye shall have of me gifts, rewards and great honour: only, shew me the dream, and the signification of it.
 7 They answered again, and said: the king must shew his servants the dream, and so shall we declare what it meaneth.
 8 Then the king answered, saying: I perceive of a truth, that ye do but prolong the time: for so much as ye see, that the thing 9 is gone from me. Therefore, if ye will not tell me the dream, ye shall all have one judgement: But ye feign* and dissemble with vain words, which ye speak before me, to put off the time. Therefore tell me the dream, and so shall I know, if ye 10 can shew me, what it meaneth. Upon this, the Caldees gave

2. v.9 Other: fayne.

answer before the king, and said: There is no man upon earth, that can tell the thing, which the king speaketh of: Yea there is neither king, prince, nor lord, that ever asked such things at a soothsayer, charmer, or Caldeer: for it is a very hard matter, that the king requireth. Neither is there any, that can certify the king thereof, except the Gods: whose dwelling is not among the creatures. For the which cause the king was wroth with great indignation, and commanded to destroy all the wise men at Babylon: and the proclamation went forth, that the wise men should be slain. They sought also to slay Daniel with his companions. Then Daniel enquired Arioch the king's steward, of the judgement and sentence, that was gone forth already to kill such as were wise at Babylon. He answered, and said to Arioch being then the king's deputy: * Why hath the king proclaimed so cruel a sentence? So Arioch told Daniel the matter. Upon this, went Daniel up, and desired the king, that he might have leisure, to shew the king the interpretation: and then came he home again and shewed the thing unto Ananias, Misael, and Asarias his companions: that they should beseech the God of heaven for grace in this secret, that Daniel and his fellows with others such as were wise in Babylon, perished not. Then was the mystery shewed unto Daniel in a vision by night. And Daniel praised the God of heaven. Daniel also cried aloud, and said: O that the name of God might be praised for ever and ever, for wisdom and strength are his own: he changeth the times and ages: he putteth down kings, he setteth up kings: he giveth wisdom unto the wise, and understanding to those that understand, he openeth the deep secrets: he knoweth the thing that lieth in darkness, for the light dwelleth with him. I thank thee, and pray thee, O thou God of my fathers, that thou hast lent me wisdom and strength, and hast shewed me the thing, that we desired of thee, for thou hast opened the king's matter unto me. Upon this went Daniel in unto Arioch, whom the king had ordained to destroy the wise at Babylon: he went unto him, and said: destroy not such as are wise in Babylon, but bring me in unto the king, and I shall shew the king the interpretation. Then Arioch brought Daniel into the king in all the haste, and said unto him: I have found a man among the pris-

v.15 Other: debite.

oners of Judah, that shall shew the king the interpretation.
26 Then answered the king, and said unto Daniel, whose name was Balthasar: Art thou he, that canst shew me the dream, 27 which I have seen, and the interpretation thereof? Daniel answered the king to his face, and said: As for this secret, for the which the king maketh inquisition: it is neither the wise, the sorcerer, the charmer nor the devil conjurer, that can cer-28 tify the king of it: Only God in heaven can open secrets, and he it is, that sheweth the king Nabuchodnosor, what is for to come in the latter days. Thy dream, and that which thou hast 29 seen in thine head upon thy bed, is this: O king, thou didst cast in thy mind, what should come hereafter: So he that is the 30 opener of mysteries, telleth thee, what is for to come. As for me, this secret is not shewed me, for any wisdom that I have, more than any other living: but only that I might shew the king the interpretation, that he might know the thoughts of 31 his own heart. Thou king sawest, and behold: there stood before thee a great Image, whose figure was marvelous great, and 32 his visage grim. The image head was of fine gold, his breast 33 and arms of silver, his body and loins were of copper, his legs 34 were of iron, his feet were part of iron, and part of earth. This thou sawest, till the time that (without any hands) there was hewn of a stone which smote the image upon the feet, that 35 were both of iron and earth, and brake them to powder.* Then was the iron, the earth, the copper, the silver and gold broken altogether in pieces: and became like the chaff of corn, that the wind bloweth away from the summer floors, that they can no more be found. But the stone that smote the Image, be-36 came a great mountain, which fulfilleth the whole earth: This is the dream. And now will we shew before the king, what 37 it meaneth. O king, thou art a king of kings: For the God of heaven hath given thee a kingdom, riches, strength, and 38 majesty: And hath delivered thee all things, that are among the children of men: the beasts of the field, and the fowls under the heaven, and given thee dominion over them all. Thou art 39 that golden head. After thee there shall arise another kingdom, which shall be less than thine. The third kingdom shall 40 be like copper, and have domination in all lands. The fourth kingdom shall be as strong as iron. For like as iron bruisseth v.34 Other: poulder.

and breaketh all things: Yea even as iron beateth everything down, so shall it beat down and destroy. Where as thou sawest 41 the feet and toes, part of earth and part of iron: that is a divided kingdom, which nevertheless shall have some of the iron ground mixt with it, for so much as thou hast seen the iron mixt with the clay. The toes of the feet that were part of iron 42 and part of clay, signifieth: that it shall be a kingdom partly strong and partly weak. And whereas thou sawest iron mixt 43 with clay: they shall mingle themselves with the seed of simple people: and yet not continue one with another, like as iron will not be soldered with a potsherd. In the days of these kings, 44 shall the God of heaven set up an everlasting kingdom, which shall not perish, and his kingdom shall not be given over to another people: Yea the same shall break and destroy all these kingdoms, but it shall endure for ever. And where as thou 45 sawest, that without any hands there was cut out of the mount a stone, which brake the iron, the copper, the earth, the silver and gold in pieces: by that hath the great God shewed the king, what will come after this. This is a true dream, and the interpretation of it is sure. Then the king Nabuchodnosor fell 46 down upon his face, and bowed himself unto Daniel, and commanded that they should offer meatofferings and sweet odours unto him. The king answered Daniel, and said: Yea of a truth 47 your God is a God above all gods, and Lord above all kings, and an opener of secrets: seeing thou canst discover this mystery.
So the king made Daniel a great man, and gave him many and 48 great gifts. He made him ruler of all the countries of Babylon, and lord of all the nobles, that were at Babylon. Now Daniel 49 intreated the king for Sidrach, Misach, and Abednago, so that he made them rulers over all the offices in the land of Babylon:
But Daniel himself remained still in the court by the king.

Nabuchodonosor the king caused a golden Image to be made, III which was sixty cubits high, and six cubits thick. This he made to be set up in the field of Dura, in the land of Babylon and sent out to gather together the dukes, lords and nob- 2 les, the judges and officers, the deputies* and shreves, with all the rulers of the land: that they might come to the dedication of the Image which Nabuchodonosor the king had set up. So the dukes, lords and nobles, the judges and officers, 3

3. v.2 Other: debites.

deputies* and shreves with all the rulers of the land gathered them together, and came unto the dedicating of the Image that Nabuchodonosor the king had set up. Now when they stood 4 before the Image, which Nabuchodonosor had set up, the bedel cried out with all his might: O ye people, kindreds and 5 tongues, to you be it said: that when ye hear the noise of the trumpets, which shall be blown, with harps, shawmes Psalteries, Symphonies and all manner of Music: ye fall down and worship the golden Image, that Nabuchodonosor the king hath 6 set up. Who so then falleth not down and boweth himself, shall even the same hour be cast in to an hot burning oven.
7 Therefore, when all the folk heard the noise of the trumpets, that were blown, with the harps, shawmes, Psalteries, Symphonies and all kind of Melody: then all the people, kindreds and nations fell down, and bowed themselves unto the golden 8 Image, that Nabuchodonosor the king had set up. Now were there certain men of the Caldees, that went even then and accused the Jews, and said unto the king Nabuchodonosor: O 9 king, God save thy life for ever. Thou being king hast given a commandment, that all men when they hear noise of the trumpets, harps, shawmes psalteries, symphonies and all the other melodies: shall fall down and bow themselves toward 11 the golden Image: whoso then fell not down and worshipped not, that he should be cast in to an hot burning oven. Now 12 are there certain Jews, whom thou hast set over the offices of the land of Babylon: namely, Sidrach, Misach, and Abednago. These men, (O king) regard not thy commandment, yea they will not serve thy Gods, nor bow themselves to the golden Image, that thou hast set up. Then Nabuchodonosor in a cruel 13 wrath and displeasure, commanded that Sidrach, Misach, and Abednago should be brought unto him. So these men were 14 brought before the king. Then Nabuchodonosor spake unto them, and said: what? O Sidrach, Misach, and Abednago, will not ye serve my Gods? nor bow yourselves to the golden Image, that I have set up? well, be ready hereafter, when ye 15 hear the noise of the trumpets blow with the harps, shawmes psalteries, symphonies and all the other melodies: that ye fall down, and worship the Image which I have made. But if ye worship it not, ye shall be cast immediately in to an hot burn-

v.3 Other: debites.

ing oven. Let see, what God is there, that may deliver you out of my hands? Sidrach, Misach, and Abednago, answered the 16 king, an said: O Nabuchodonosor, we ought not to consent unto thee in this matter, for why: our God whom we serve, is able 17 to keep us from the hot burning oven (O king) and can right well deliver us out of thy hands: And though he will not, yet 18 shalt thou know (O king) that we will not serve thy Gods, nor do reverence to the Image, which thou hast set up. Then was 19 Nabuchodonosor full of indignation, so that the countenance of his face changed upon Sidrach, Misach, and Abednago. Therefore he charged and commanded, that the oven should be made seven times hotter, then it was wont to be: and spake unto the 20 strongest worthies that were in his house, for to bind Sidrach, Misach, and Abednago, and to cast them in to the hot burning oven. So these men were bound in their coats, hosen, shoes 21 with their other garments, and cast in to the hot burning oven.
For the king's commandment was so straight, and the oven was 22 exceeding hot. As for the men that put in Sidrach, Misach, and Abednago, the flame of the fire destroyed them. And these 23 three men, Sidrach, Misach, and Abednago fell down in the hot burning oven, being fast bound. Then Nabuchodonosor 24 the king marveled, and stood up in all haste: he spake unto his counsel and said: did not ye cast these three men bound into the fire? They answered, and said unto the king: Yea O 25 king. He answered and said: Lo, for all that, yet do I see four men going loose* in the midst of the fire, and nothing corrupt: and the fourth is like an angel* to look upon. Upon this 26 went Nabuchodonosor unto the mouth of the hot burning oven: he spake also, and said: O Sidrach, Misach, and Abednago, ye servants of the high* God: go forth, and come hither. And so Sidrach, Misach, and Abednago, went out of the fire. Then the 27 dukes, lords and nobles, and the king's counsel came together to see these men, upon whom the fire had no manner of power in their bodies: in so much that the very hair of their head was not burnt, and their clothes unchanged: Yea there was no smell of fire felt upon them. Then spake Nabuchodonosor, and said: 28 Blessed be the God of Sidrach, Misach, and Abednago: which hath sent his angel, and defended his servants, that put their trust in him: that have altered the king's commandment: and v.25 Other: lowse. v.25 Other: the son of God. v.26 Other: hye.

jeopardy their bodies there upon: rather than they would serve 29 or worship any other god, except their own God only. Therefore I will and command, that all people, kindreds and tongues, which speak any blasphemy against the God of Sidrach, Misach, and Abednago, shall die and their houses shall be prised: 30 Because, there is no God that may save, as this. So the king promoted Sidrach, Misach, and Abednago, in the land of Babylon.

IV Nabuchodonosor king, unto all people, kindreds and tongues that dwell upon the whole earth: peace be multiplied among 2 you, I thought it good to shew the tokens and marvelous works, 3 that the high God hath wrought upon me. O how great are his tokens, and how mighty are his wonders? His kingdom is an everlasting kingdom, and his power lasteth for ever and ever.
 4 I Nabuchodonosor being at rest in mine house, and flourish-5 ing in my palace, saw a dream, which made me afraid: and the thoughts that I had upon my bed, with the visions of mine 6 head, troubled me. Then sent I out a commission, that all they which were of wisdom at Babylon should be brought be-7 fore me, to tell me the interpretation of the dream. So there came the soothsayers, charmers, Caldees and conjurers of devils: to whom I told the dream, but what it be tokened, they 8 could not shew me: till at the last, there came one Daniel (other wise called Balthasar, according to the name of my God) which hath the spirit of the holy Gods, in him: to whom I told 9 the dream, saying: O Balthasar, thou prince of southsayers:*
 For so much as I know, that thou hast the spirit of the holy Gods,* and no secret is hid from thee: tell me therefore, what 10 the vision of my dream (that I have seen) may signify. I saw a vision in my head upon my bed: and behold, there stood a tree 11 upon the ground, which was very high, great and mighty: the height* reached unto the heaven, and the breadth extended to 12 all the ends of the earth: his leaves were fair, he had very much fruit, so that every man had enough to eat therein. The beasts of the field had shadows under it, and the fowls of the air dwelt in the boughs thereof. Shortly, all creatures fed of 13 it. I saw in my head a vision upon my bed: and behold, a 14 watcher* came down from heaven, and cried mightily, saying:

4. v.9 Other: saythsayyers. v.9 Other: goddes. v.11 Other: highth. v.13 Other translation: even an holy angel.

Hew down the tree, break off his branches, shake off his leaves, and scatter his fruit abroad: that all the beasts may get them away from under him, and the fowls from his branches. Nevertheless leave the ground of his root still in the earth, and bind him upon the plain field, with chains of iron and steel. With the dew of heaven shall he be wet, and he shall have his part in the herbs of the ground with other wild beasts. That man's heart of his shall be taken from him, and a beast's heart shall be given him, till seven years be come and gone upon him. This errand of the watcher, is a commandment grounded and sought out in the counsel of him, that is most holy: to learn men for to understand, that the highest* hath power over the kingdoms of men, and giveth them, to whom it liketh him, and bringeth the very outcasts of men over them. This is the dream, that I king Nabuchodonosor have seen. Therefore O Balthasar, tell thou me what it signifieth: for so much as all the wise men of my kingdom are not able to shew me, what it meaneth. But thou canst do it, for the spirit of the holy Gods is in thee. Then Daniel (whose name was Balthasar) held his peace by the space of an hour and his thoughts troubled him. So the king spake, and said: O Balthasar, let neither the dream nor the interpretation thereof fear thee. Balthasar answered saying: O my lord, this dream happen to thine enemies, and the interpretation to thine adversaries. As for the tree that thou sawest which was so great and mighty, whose height reached unto the heaven, and his breadth in to all the world: whose leaves were fair, and the fruit much: under the which the beasts of the field had their habitation, and upon whose branches the fowls of the air did sit. Even thou (O king) art the tree, great and strong. Thy greatness increaseth, and reacheth unto the heaven, so doth thy power to the ends of the earth. But where as the king saw a watcher even an holy angel, that came down from heaven, and said: hew down the tree, and destroy it: yet leave the ground of the root in the earth: and bind him upon the plain field with chains of iron and steel: He shall be wet with the dew of heaven, and his part shall be with the beasts of the field, till seven years be come and gone upon him: This (O king) is the interpretation, yea it is the very device of him, that is highest of all, and it toucheth

v.17 Other: hyst.

25 my lord the king. Thou shalt be cast out from men, and thy dwelling shall be with the beasts of the field: with grass shalt thou be fed like an ox. Thou must be wet with the dew of the heaven: yea seven years shall come, and go upon thee, till thou know, that the highest hath power upon the kingdoms of men, 26 and giveth them to whom he list. Moreover, where as it was said, that the root of the tree should be left still in the ground: it betokeneth, that thy kingdom shall remain whole unto thee, after thou hast learned to know, that the power cometh from 27 heaven. Wherefore, O king, be content with my counsel, that thou mayest lose* thy sins with righteousness, and thine offenses with mercy to poor people: for such things shall prolong 28 thy peace. All these things touche the king Nabuchodonosor. So after twelve months, the king walked up and down in the 29 palace of the kingdom of Babylon, and said: This is the great city of Babylon, which I myself (with my power and strength)
30 have made a king's court, for the honour of my majesty. While these words were yet in the king's mouth, there fell a voice from heaven, saying: O king Nabuchodonosor, to thee be it spoken: Thy kingdom is departed from thee, thou shalt be cast 31 out of men's company: thy dwelling shall be with the beasts of the field, so that thou shalt eat grass like as an ox, till seven years be come and gone over thee: even until thou knowest, that the highest* hath power upon the kingdoms of men, and 32 that he may give them, unto whom it pleaseth him. The very same hour was this matter fulfilled upon Nabuchodonosor: so that he was cast out of men's company, and ate grass like an ox; His body was wet with the dew of heaven, till his hairs were as 33 great as Aegles' feathers, and his nails like birds' claws. When this time was past, I Nabuchodonosor lift up mine eyes unto heaven, and mine understanding was restored unto me again. Then gave I thanks to the highest. I magnified and praised him that liveth for evermore, whose power endureth alway, and his 34 kingdom from one generation to another: in comparison of whom all they that dwell upon the earth, are to be reputed as nothing. He handleth according to his will, among the powers of heaven and among the inhabitants of the earth: and there is 35 none that may resist his hand, or say: what doest thou? At the same time was mine understanding given me again, and I 36

v.27 Other: lowse. v.32 Other: hyst.

was restored to the honour of my kingdom, to my dignity, and to my own shape again. My great estates and princes sought unto me, and I was set in my kingdom again, so that I had yet greater worship. Then did I Nabuchodonosor, love, magnify and praise the King of heaven: for all his works are true, and his ways right. As for those that go on proudly, he is able to bring them down. 37

King Balthazar made a great banquet to his thousand lords: with all these thousand he made great cheer, and when he was drunken with wine, he commanded to bring him the golden and silver vessels, which his father Nabuchodonosor had taken out of the temple at Jerusalem: that the king and his lords with his queen and concubines might drink thereout. So they brought the golden vessel, that was taken out of the temple of the Lord's house at Jerusalem. Then the king and his lords with his queen and concubines drunk out of them. They drunk wine, and praised their Idols of gold, silver, copper, iron, wood and stone. In the very same hour there appeared fingers, as it had been of a man's hand writing, right over against the candlestick upon the plain wall in the king's palace: and the king saw the palm of the hand that wrote. Then changed the king his countenance, and his thoughts troubled him, so that the joints of his body shook, and his knees smote one against another. Wherefore the king cried mightily, that they should bring him the charmers, Caldees and the conjurers of devils. The king spake also to the wise men of Babylon, and said: Who so can read this writing, and shew me the plain meaning thereof: shall be clothed with purple, have a chain of gold about his neck, and rule the third part of my kingdom. Upon this, came all the king's wise men: but they could neither read the writing, nor shew the king what it signified. Then was the king sore afraid in so much, that his color changed, and his lords were sore vexed. So by reason of this matter, that had happened to the king and his lords, the queen went up herself into the banquet house, and spake unto the king, saying: O king, God save thy life forever: Let not the* thoughts trouble thee, and let not thy countenance be changed. For why: there is a man in thy kingdom, that hath the spirit of the holy gods within him, as it was seen in thy father's days. He hath 11

5. v.10 Other: yi.

understanding and wisdom like the gods; Yea the king Nabuchodonosor thy father made this man chief of the soothsayers, charmers, Caldees and devil conjurers: because that such an abundant spirit, knowledge and wisdom, to expound dreams, open secrets, and to declare hard doubts, was found in him: Yea even in Daniel, whom the king named Balthazar. Let this same Daniel be sent for, and he shall tell, what it meaneth.

Then was Daniel brought before the king. So the king spake unto Daniel, and said: Art thou that Daniel, one of the prisoners of Juda whom my father the king brought out of Jewry? I have heard speak of thee, that thou hast the spirit of the holy gods, experience and understanding, and that there hath been great wisdom found in thee. Now have there been brought me, wise and conjuring charmers, to read this writing, and to shew me the meaning thereof: but they could not tell me, what this matter signified. Then heard I say, that thou can expound dark things, and declare hard doubts. Well then, if thou can read this writing, and shew me the meaning thereof: thou shalt be clothed with purple, have a chain of gold about thy neck, and rule the third part of my kingdom. Daniel answered, and said before the king: As for thy rewards, keep them to thyself, or give thy rich gifts to another: yet not the less, I will read the writing unto the king, and shew him the interpretation thereof. O king, God the highest* gave unto Nabuchodonosor thy father, the dignity of a king, with worship and honor: So that all people, kindreds and tongues stood in awe and fear of him, by reason of the high estate, that he had sent him. For why: he slew whom he would: he smote, whom it pleased him. Again: whom he would he set up: and whom he list, he put down. But because his heart was so proud, and his stomach set so fast unto wilfulness: he was deposed from his kingly throne, and his majesty was taken from him. He was shot out from among men, his heart was like a beasts heart, and his dwelling was with the wild asses: he was fain to eat grass like an ox, and his body was wet with the dew of heaven: till he knew, that the highest* had power upon the kingdoms of men, and setteth over them, whom he list. And thou his son (O Balthazar) for all this, hast not submitted thine heart, though thou knewest all these things: but hast magni-v.18 Other: hyst. v.21 Other: hyst.

fied thyself above the Lord of heaven, so that the vessels of his house were brought before thee: that thou, and thy lords, with thy queen and concubines, might drink wine thereout: and hast praised the Idols of silver and gold, copper and iron, of wood and stone: As for the God in whose hand consisteth thy breath and all thy ways: thou hast not loved him. Therefore 24 is the palm of this hand sent hither from him, to token up this writing. And this is the scripture, that is written up: Mane, 25 Thetel, Phares. Now the interpretation of the thing is this: 26 Mane, God hath numbered the* kingdom, and brought it to an end: Thetel, thou art weighed in the balance, and art found 27 to light: Phares, thy kingdom is dealt in parts, and given to 28 the Medes and Perses. Then commanded Balthazar, to clothe 29 Daniel with purple, to hang a chain of gold about his neck, and to make a proclamation concerning him: that he should be the ruler of the third part of his kingdom. The very same night 30 was Balthazar the king of the Caldees slain, and Darius out 31 of Medea took in the kingdom, being sixty two year of age.

It pleased Darius to set over his kingdom an hundredth VI and twenty lords, which should be in all his kingdom about. 2 Above these he set three princes (of whom Daniel was one) 2 that the lords might give accomptes unto them, and the king to be undiseased. But Daniel exceeded all these princes and 3 lords, for the spirit of God was plenteous in him: so that the king was minded to set him over the whole realm. Where- 4 fore the princes and lords sought, to pick out in Daniel some quarrel against the kingdom: yet could they find none occasion nor fault upon him. For why: he was so faithful, that there was no blame nor dishonesty found in him. Then said these 5 men: we will get no quarrel against this Daniel, except it be in the law of his God. Upon this, went the princes and lords 6 together unto the king, and said thus unto him: King Darius God save thy life forever; All the great estates of the realm: as 7 the princes, dukes, senators and judges, are determined to put out a commandment of the king, and to make a sure statute: namely, that who so desireth any petition, either of any god or man (within this thirty days) except it be only of thee, O king: the same person may be cast into the lions' den. Wherefore, O 8 king, confirm thou this statute, and make a writing: that the

v.26 Other: thy.

thing which the Medes and Perses have ordained* be not altered nor broken. So Darius made the writing, and confirmed it. Now when Daniel understood that the writing was made, he went into his house: and the windows of his hall toward Jerusalem stood open. There kneeled he down upon his knees, three times a day: there he made his petition, and praised his God, like as his manner was to do afore time. Then these men made search, and found Daniel making his petition and praying unto his God. So they came to the king, and spake before him concerning his commandment, saying: O king, hast thou not subscribed the statute, that within thirty days who so requireth his petition of any god or man, but only of thyself, O king, he shall be cast into the den of the lions? The king answered, and said: it is true. It must be as a law of the Medes and Perses, that may not be broken. Then answered they, and said unto the king: Daniel one of the prisoners of Judah, O king, regardeth neither thee nor thy statute, that thou hast made, but maketh his petition three times a day. When the king heard these words, he was sore grieved, and would have excused Daniel, to deliver him, and put off the matter, unto the Sun went down, to the intent that he might save him. These men perceiving the king's mind, said unto him: know this (O king) that the law of the Medes and Perses is, that the commandment and statute which the king maketh, may not be altered. Then the king had then bring Daniel, and cast him into the Lions' den. The king also spake unto Daniel, and said: thy God whom thou alway servest, even he shall defend thee. And there was brought a stone, and laid upon the hole of the den: this the king sealed with his own ring, and with the signet of his princes: that the king's commandment concerning Daniel, should not be broken. So the king went in to his palace, and kept him sober all night, so that there was no table spread before him, neither could he take any sleep. But by times in the morning, at the break of the day, the king arose, and went in all haste unto the den of the Lions. Now as he came nye unto the den, he cried with a piteous voice unto Daniel: Yea the king spake, and said to Daniel: O Daniel, thou servant of the living God, is not thy God, whom thou alway servest, able to deliver thee from the lions? Daniel said unto the king: O

6. v.8 Other: ordeyned.

king, God save thy life for ever. My God hath sent his angel, 22 which hath shut the lions' mouths, so that they might not hurt me. For why: mine unguiltiness is found out before him. And as for thee, O king, I never offended thee. Then was the king 23 exceeding glad, and commanded to take Daniel out of the den.
 So Daniel was brought out of the den, and no manner of hurt was found upon him; For he put his trust in his God. And as 24 for those men which had accused Daniel, the king commanded to bring them, and to cast them in the Lions' den: them, their children, and their wives. So the Lions had the mastery of them, and brake all their bones asunder, or ever they came at the ground. After this, wrote king Darius unto all people kin- 25 dreds and tongues, that dwelt in all lands: peace be multiplied with you. My commandment is, in all my dominion and king- 26 dom, that men fear and stand in awe of Daniels God. For he is the living God, which abideth ever: his kingdom shall not fail and his power is everlasting. It is he that delivereth and 27 saveth: he doth wonders and marvelous works, in heaven and in earth: he hath preserved Daniel from the power of the Lions. This Daniel prospered in the reign of Darius and Cyrus 28 of Persia.

In the first year of Balthazar king of Babylon, saw Daniel VII a dream, and a vision was in his head upon his bed. Which dream he wrote, and the sum of the matter is this: Daniel 2 spake and said: I saw in my vision by night, and behold, the four winds of the heaven strove upon the sea, and four great 3 beasts came up from the sea, one unlike another. The first 4 was as a lion, and yet had he Aegle's wings. I saw, that his wings were plucked from him, and he taken away from the earth: that he stood upon his feet as a man, and that there was given him a man's heart. Behold, the second beast was 5 like a bear, and stood upon the one side. Among his teeth in his mouth he had three great long teeth, and it was said unto him: Arise, eat up, much flesh. Then I looked, and behold, 6 there was another like unto a leopard: this had wings as a fowl, even four upon the back. This beast had four heads, and there was power given him. After this I saw in a vision by 7 night, and behold, the fourth beast was grim and horrible, and marvelous strong. It had great iron teeth, it devoured and destroyed, and stamped the residue under feet. It was far unlike the other beasts that were before it: for it had ten horns, 8 whereof I took good heed. And behold, there came up among them, another like horn, before whom there were three of the first horns plucked away. Behold, this horn had eyes like a 9 man, and a mouth speaking presumptuous things. I looked till the seats were prepared, and till the old aged sat him down.

His clothing was white as snow, and the hairs of his head like the pure wool. His throne was like the fiery flame, and his 10 wheels as the burning fire. There drew forth a fiery stream, and went out from him. A thousand times a thousand served him. Ten thousand times ten thousand stood before him. The 11 judgment was set, and the books opened. Then took I heed there unto, because of the voice of the proud words, which the* horn spake. I beheld, till the beast was slain, and his body 12 destroyed, and given over to be brent in the fire. As for the power of the other beasts also, it was taken away, but their 13 lives were prolonged for a time and season. I saw in a vision by night, and behold, there came one in the clouds of heaven like the son of a man, which went unto the old aged, before 14 whom they brought him: Then gave he him power and dignity regal, that all people, tribes and tongues should serve him: His power is an everlasting power, which shall never be put down: 15 and his kingdom endureth uncorrupt. My heart was vexed, and I Daniel had a troubled spirit within me, and the visions 16 of my head made me afraid: till I gat me to one of them that stood by, to know the truth, concerning all these things. So he told me, and made me understand the interpretation of these 17 things. These four great beasts, are four kings which shall 18 arise out of the earth. These shall take in the kingdom of the saints of the most highest, and possess it still more and more 19 for a long season. After this I required diligently to know the truth, concerning the fourth beast, which was so far unlike the other beasts, and so horrible: whose teeth were of iron, and his nails of brass: which devoured and destroyed, and stamped 20 the residue under his feet. I desired also to know the truth, as touching the ten horns that he had upon his head, and this other which came up afterward, before whose face there fell down three: which horn had eyes and a mouth that spake presumptuous things, and looked with a grimmer visage than his

7. v.11 Other: that.

fellows. I beheld, and the same horn made battle against the 21 saints, yea and gat the victory of them till the time that the 22 old aged came, that the judgement was given to the chiefest saints: and till the time, that the saints had the kingdom in possession. He gave me this answer: That fourth beast shall 23 be the fourth kingdom upon earth: it shall be more than all other kingdoms, it shall devour, tread down, and destroy all other lands. The ten horns, are ten kings that shall arise 24 out of that kingdom, after whom there shall stand up another, which shall be greater than the first. He shall subdue three 25 kings, and shall speak words against the highest* of all: he shall destroy the saints of the most highest,* and think, that he may change times and laws. They shall be given under his power, until a time, two times, and a half a time. But the 26 judgement shall be kept, so that his power shall be taken from him, for he shall be destroyed, and perish at the last. As for 27 the kingdom, power and all might that is under the heaven: it shall be given to the holy people of the most highest, whose kingdom is everlasting, yea all powers shall serve and obey him. Thus far extend the words. Nevertheless, I Daniel was 28 so vexed in my thoughts, that my countenance changed, but the words I kept still in my heart.

In the third year of the reign of king Balthazar, there appeared VIII a vision unto me Daniel, after that I had seen the first.
 I saw in a vision, and when I saw it, I was at Susis in the 2 chief city, which lieth in the land of Elam, and in the vision me thought I was by the river of Ulai. Then I looked up, and 3 saw, and behold, there stood before the river, a ram, which had horns: and these horns were high, but one was higher then another, and the highest* came up last. I saw that this ram 4 pushed with his horns, against the west, against the north and against the south: so that no beasts might stand before him, nor defend them from his power: but he did as him listed, and waxed greatly. I took heed unto this, and then came there an 5 he goat from the west over the whole earth, and touched not the ground. This goat had a marvelous goodly horn betwixt his eyes, and came unto the ram, that had the two horns (whom 6 I had seen afore by the river side) and ran fiercely upon him with his might. I saw him draw nye unto the ram, being very 7 fierce upon him: yea he gave him such a stroke, that he brake his two horns: Neither had the ram so much strength as to stand before him: but he cast* him down, trod him under his feet: and no man was able to deliver the ram out of his power.

8 The goat waxed exceedingly great, and when he was at the strongest, his great horn was broken also. Then grew there other four such like in the stead, toward the four winds of the 9 heaven. Yea out of one of the least of these horns, there came up yet another horn, which waxed marvelous great: toward the 10 south, toward the east, and toward the fair pleasant land. It grew up to the host of heaven, whereof it did cast some down to the ground, and of the stars also, and trod them under feet.

11 Yea it grew up unto the prince of the host, from whom the daily offering was taken, and the place of his Sanctuary casten down. And a certain season was given unto it, against the daily offering (because of wickedness) that it might cast down the verity to the ground, and so to prosper in all things,

12 that it went about. Upon this I heard one of the saints speaking, which saint said unto one that asked this question: How long shall this vision of the daily sacrifice and of the wasting abomination endure: that the Sanctuary and the power shall

13 so be trodden under foot? And he answered him: Unto the evening and the morning, even two thousand and three hundredth days: then shall the Sanctuary be cleansed again. Now when I Daniel had seen this vision, and sought for the understanding of it: behold, there stood before me a thing like unto

14 a man. And I heard a man's voice in the river of Ulai, which cried, and said: O Gabriel, make this man understand the vision. So he came, and stood by me. But I was afraid at his coming, and fell down upon my face. Then said he unto me: O thou son of man, mark well, for in the last time shall this vision

15 be fulfilled. Now as he was speaking unto me, I waxed faint, so that I sunk down to the ground. But he took hold upon me, and set me up again, saying: Behold I will shew thee, what shall happen in the last wrath: for in the time appointed it shall be fulfilled. The ram which thou sawest with the two

16 horns, is the king of the Medes and Perses: but the goat is the king of Greek land: the great horn that stood betwixt his

17 eyes, that is the principal king. But where as it brake, and 18 19 20 21 22

v.7 Other: kest.

four other rose up in the stead: it signifieth, that out of this people shall stand up four kingdoms, but not so mighty as it. After these kingdoms (while ungodliness is a growing) there shall arise a king of an unshamefast face, which shall be wise in dark speakings. He shall be mighty and strong, but not in his own strength. He shall destroy above measure, and all that he goeth about, shall prosper: he shall slay the strong and holy people. And thorow his craftiness, falsity shall prosper in his hand, his heart shall be proud, and many one shall be* put to death in his wealthiness: He shall stand up against the Prince of Princes, but he shall be destroyed without hand. And this vision that is shewed unto thee, is as sure as the evening and the morning. Therefore write thou upon this sight, for it will be long or it come to pass. Upon this was I Daniel very faint, so that I lay sick certain days: but when I rose up, I went about the king's business, and marveled at the vision, nevertheless no man knew of it.

In the first year of Darius the son of Ahasuerus, which was of the seed of the Medes, and was made king over the realm of the Caldees: Yea even in the first year of his reign, I Daniel desired to know the yearly number out of the books, whereof the LORD spake unto Jeremy the Prophet: that Jerusalem should lie waste seventy years: and I turned me unto God the Lord, for to pray and make mine intercession, with fasting, sack cloth and ashes, I prayed before the LORD my God, and knowledged, saying: O Lord, thou great and fearful God, thou that keepest covenant and mercy with them, which love thee, and do thy commandments: We have sinned, we have offended, we have been disobedient and gone back: yea we have departed from all thy precepts and judgments. We would never follow thy servants the Prophets, that spake in thy name to our kings and princes, to our forefathers, and to all the people of the land. O Lord, righteousness belongeth unto thee, unto us pertaineth nothing but open shame: as it is come to pass this day unto every man of Judah, and to them that dwell at Jerusalem: Yea unto all Israel, whether they be far or nye: thorowout all lands: wherein thou hast strowed them, because of the offenses that they had done against thee. Yea O Lord, unto us, to our kings and princes, to our forefathers: even to

v.25 Other: he.

9 us all, that have offended thee, belongeth open shame. But unto thee O Lord our God, pertaineth mercy and forgiveness.
10 As for us, we are gone back from him, and have not obeyed the voice of the LORD our God, to walk in his laws, which he laid 11 before us by his servants the Prophets: Yea all Israel have transgressed, and gone back from thy law, so that they have not hearkened unto thy voice. Wherefore the curse and oath, that is written in the law of Moses the servant of God (against 12 whom we have offended) is poured upon us. And he hath performed his words, which he spake against us, and against our judges that judged us: to bring upon us such a great plague, as never was under heaven, like as it is now come to pass in 13 Jerusalem. Yea all this plague, as it is written in the law of Moses, is come upon us. Yet made we not our prayer before the LORD our God, that we might turn again from our wickedness, 14 and to be learned in thy verite. Therefore hath the LORD made haste, to bring this plague upon us: for the LORD our God is righteous, in all his works which he doth: for why, we 15 would not hearken unto his voice. And now, O Lord our God, thou that with a mighty hand hast brought thy people out of Egypt, to get thyself a name, which remaineth this day: we 16 have sinned, O Lord, and done wickedly against all thy righteousness: Yet let thy wrathful displeasure be turned away (I beseech thee) from thy city Jerusalem, thy holy hill. And why? for our sins' sake, and for the wickedness of our forefathers is Jerusalem and thy people abhorred, of all them that are about 17 us. Now therefore, O our God, hear the prayer of thy servant, and his intercession. O let thy face shine over thy Sanctuary, 18 that lieth waste. O my God, incline* thine ear, and hearken (at the least for thine own sake) open thine eyes: behold, how we be desolated, yea and the city also, which is called after thy name: for we do not cast our prayers before thee in our own 19 righteousnesses, no, but only in thy great mercies. O Lord, hear: O forgive Lord, O Lord consider, tarry not over long: but for thine own sake do it. O my God: for thy city and thy people 20 is called after thy name. As I was yet speaking at my prayers, knowledging mine own sins, and the sins of my people, making so mine intercession before the LORD my God, for the holy hill's 21 sake of my God: Yea while I was yet speaking in my prayer,

9. v.18 Other: encllyne.

behold, the man Gabriel, (whom I had seen afore in the vision) came flying to me, and touched me about the offering time in the evening. He informed me, and spake unto me: O Daniel 22 said he, I am now come, to make thee understand it: For as 23 soon as thou beganest to make thy prayer, it was so devised, and therefore am I come to shew thee. And why? For thou art a man greatly beloved. Wherefore, ponder the matter well, that thou mayest learn, to understand the vision. Seventy 24 weeks are determined over thy people, and over the holy city: that the wickedness may be consumed, that the sin may have an end, that the offense may be reconciled, and to bring in everlasting righteousness, to fulfill the visions and the Prophets, and to anoint the most holy one. Understand this then, and 25 mark it well: that from the time it shall be concluded, to go and repair Jerusalem again, unto Christ (or the anointed) Prince: there shall be seven weeks. Then shall the streets and walls be builded again sixty two weeks, but with hard troublous time. After these sixty two weeks, shall Christ be slain, and they 26 shall have no pleasure in him. Then shall there come a people with the prince, and destroy the city and the Sanctuary: and his end shall come as the water flood. But the desolation shall continue till the end of the battle. He shall make a strong 27 bond with many, for the space of a week: and when the week is half gone, he shall put down the slain and meat offering. And in the temple there shall be an abominable desolation, till it have destroyed all. And it is concluded, that this wasting shall continue unto the end.

In the third year of king Cyrus of Persia, there was shewed X unto Daniel (otherwise called Balthasar) a matter, yea a true matter, but it is yet along time unto it. He understood the matter well, and perceived what the vision was. At the same 2 time, I Daniel mourned for the space of three weeks, so that 3 I had no lust to eat bread: as for flesh and wine, there came none within my mouth: No, I did not once anoint myself, till the whole three weeks were out. Upon the twenty fourth day 4 of the first month, I was by the great flood called Tigris: I lift 5 up mine eyes, and looked: and behold, a man clothed in linen,* whose loins were girded up with fine gold of Araby: His body 6 was like the Chrisolite stone, his face (to look upon) was like 10. v.5 Other: lining.

lightning, his eyes as the flame of fire, his arms and feet were like fair glistening metal, but the voice of his words was like 7 the voice of a multitude. I Daniel alone saw this vision, the men that were with me, saw it not: but a great fearfulness 8 fell upon them, so that they fled away, and hid themselves. I was left there myself alone, and saw this great vision, so long till there remained no more strength within me: Yea I lost my 9 colour clean, I wasted away, and my strength was gone. Yet heard I the voice of his words: and as soon as I heard it, faintness came upon me, and I fell down flat to the ground upon 10 my face. And behold an hand touched me, which set me up 11 upon my knees and upon the palms of my hands, saying unto me: O Daniel, thou well beloved man: take good heed of the words, that I shall say unto thee, and stand* right up, for unto thee am I now sent. And when he had said these words, I 12 stood up trembling. Then said he unto me: fear not, Daniel: for why since the first day that thou set thine heart to understand, and didst chasten thyself before thy God: thy words have been heard. And I had come unto thee, when thou beganest to speak had not the prince over the kingdom of the 13 Perses withstand me twenty one days. But lo, Michael, one of the chief princes, came to help me, him have I left by the king 14 of Persia, and am come to shew thee, what shall happen unto thy people in the latter days: For it will be long yet or the vision be fulfilled. Now when he had spoken these words unto 15 me, I cast* down my head to the ground and held my tongue.
16 Behold, there touched my lips one very like unto a man. Then opened I my mouth, and said unto him, that stood before me: O my lord, my joints are lowsed in the vision, and there is no 17 more strength within me: How may my lord's servant then talk with my lord? seeing there is no strength in me, so that I 18 can not take my breath? Upon this there touched me again, 19 one much like a man, and comforted me, saying: O thou man so well beloved, fear not: be content, take a good heart unto thee, and be strong. So when he had spoken unto me, I recovered, and said: Speak on my lord, for thou hast refreshed me.
20 Then said he: knowest thou wherefore I am come unto thee? now will I go again to fight with the prince of the Perses: As 21 soon as I go forth, lo, the prince of Greklende shall come. Nevertheless, I will shew thee the thing, that is fast noted in the scripture of truth. And as for all yonder matters, there is none that helpeth me in them, but Michael your prince.

And in the first year of Darius of Medea, I stood by him, to XI comfort him and to strength him, and now will I shew thee 2 the truth. Behold, there shall stand up yet three kings in Persia, but the fourth shall be far richer than they all. And when he is in the chiefest power of his riches, he shall provoke every man against the realm of Greekland. Then shall there arise 3 yet a mighty king, that shall rule with great dominion, and do what him list. And as soon as his kingdom cometh up, it shall 4 be destroyed, and divided toward the four winds of the heaven.
 They that come after him, shall not have such power and dominion as he: but his kingdom shall be scattered, yea even among other than those. And the king of the south shall be 5 mightier, then his other princes. Against him there shall one make himself strong, and shall rule his dominion with great power. But after certain years they shall be joined together, 6 and the king's daughter of the south shall come to the king of the North, for to make friendship, but she shall not obtain the power of that arm, neither shall she be able to endure thorow his might: but she, and such as brought her, yea and he that begat her, and comforted her for his time, shall be delivered up.
 Out of the branches of her root, there shall stand one up in his 7 stead: which with power of armies shall go thorow the king's land of the north, and handle him according to his strength. As for their Idols and princes, with their costly Jewels of gold and silver, he shall carry them away captives into Egypt, and he 8 shall prevail against the king of the north certain years. And 9 when he is come into the king's realm of the south, he shall be fain to turn again in to his own land. Wherefore his sons 10 shall be displeased, and shall gather together a mighty great host of people: and one of them shall come, and go thorow like a water flood:* then shall he return, and go forth with defying and boasting* unto his own land. Then the king of the south 11 shall be angry, and shall come forth to fight against the king of the north: Yea he shall bring a great multitude of people together, and a great heap shall be given into his hand. These 12 shall he carry away with great pride, for so much as he hath

11. v.10 Other: flowed. v.10 Other: boosting.

cast down so many thousands, nevertheless he shall not prevail. For the king of the north shall gather (of the new) a greater heap of people than afore, and come forth (after a certain time and years) with a mighty host and exceeding great good. At the same time there shall many stand up against the king of the south, so that the wicked children of thy people also shall exalt themselves (to fulfill the vision) and then fall. So the king of the north shall come to lay siege, and to take the strong fenced cities: And the power of them of the south shall not be able to abide him, and the best men of the people shall not be so strong, as to resist him. Shortly, when he cometh, he shall handle him as he list, and no man shall be so hardy as to stand against him. He shall stand* in the pleasant country, which thorow him shall be destroyed. He shall set his face with all his power to obtain his kingdom, and to be like it. Yea that shall he do, and give him unto the daughters among women, to destroy him. But he shall fail, neither shall he obtain his purpose. After this shall he set his face unto the Isles, and take many of them. A prince shall stop* him, to do him a shame, beside the confusion that else shall come unto him. Thus shall he turn again to his own land, stumble, and fall, and be no more found: so that he that came upon him and did him violence, shall stand in his place, and have a pleasant kingdom: and after few days he shall be destroyed, and that neither in wrath, nor in battle. In his stead there shall arise a vile person, not holden worthy of a king's dignity: this shall come in craftily, and obtain the kingdom with fair words: he shall fight against the armies of the mighty (and destroy them) yea and against the prince of the covenant. So after that he hath take truce with him, he shall handle deceitfully: that he may get up, and overcome him with a small flock: and so with craftiness to get him to the fattest place of the land, and to deal otherwise, then either his fathers or grandfathers did. For he shall destroy the thing, that they had robbed and spoiled, yea and all their substance: imagining thoughts against the strong holds, and that for a time. His power and heat shall be stirred up with a great army against the king of the south: where thorow the king of the south shall be moved then unto battle, with a great mighty host also. Nevertheless,

v.16 Other: stode. v.18 Other: stoppe.

he shall not be able to stand, for they shall conspire against him. Yea they that eat of his meat, shall hurt him: so that 26 his host shall fall, and many be slain down. These two kings 27 shall be minded to do mischief, and talk of deceit at one table: but they shall not prosper: for why, the end shall not come yet, unto the time appointed. Then shall he go home again 28 into his own land with great good, and set his heart against the holy covenant, he shall be busy against it, and then return home. At the time appointed he shall come again, and 29 go toward the south: So shall it happen otherwise then at the first, yet once again. And why? the ships of Cithum shall 30 come upon him, that he may be smitten and turn again: that he may take indignation against the covenant of holiness, to meddle against it. Yea he shall turn him, and draw such unto him, as leave the holy covenant. He shall set mighty men to 31 unhallow the Sanctuary of strength, and to put down the daily offering, and to set up the abominable desolation. And such 32 as break the covenant shall he flatter with fair words. But the people that will know their God, shall have the overhand and prosper. Those also that have understanding among the peo- 33 ple shall inform* the multitude: and for a long season, they shall be persecuted with sword, with fire, with captivity and with the taking away of their goods. Now when they fall, they 34 shall be set up with a little help: but many shall cleave unto them fainedly. Ye some of those which have understanding 35 shall be persecuted also: that they may be tried, purified, and cleansed, till the time be out: for there is yet another time appointed. The king shall do what him list, he shall exalt and 36 magnify himself against all, that is God. Yea he shall speak marvelous things against the God of all gods, wherein he shall prosper, so long till the wrath be fulfilled, for the conclusion is devised already. He shall not regard the God of his fathers, 37 but his lust shall be upon women: Yea he shall not care for any God, for he shall magnify himself above all. In his place shall 38 he worship the mighty Idols: and the God whom his fathers knew not, shall he honour with gold and silver, with precious stones and pleasant jewels. This shall he do, seeking help and 39 succour at the mighty Idols and strange gods. Such as receive him, and take him for God, he shall give them great worship

v.33 Other: enfourme.

and power: yea and make them lords of the multitude, and 40 give them the land with rewards. In the latter time, shall the king of the south strive with him: and the king of the north in like manner shall come against him with chariots, horsemen and with a great navy of ships. He shall come into the lands, 41 destroy and go thorow: he shall enter also in to the fair pleasant land. Many cities and countries shall decay, except Edom, Moab and the best of the children of Ammon, which shall es-42 cape from his hand. He shall stretch forth his hands upon the 43 countries, and the land of Egypt shall not escape him. For thorow his going in, he shall have dominion over the treasures of silver and gold, and over all the precious jewels of Egypt, 44 Lybia and Ethiopia. Nevertheless the tidings out of the East and the north shall trouble him, for the which cause he shall 45 go forth to destroy and curse a great multitude. The tents of his palace shall he pitch betwixt the two seas, upon the hill of the noble Sanctuary, for he shall come to the end of it, and then shall no man help him.

XII The time will come also, that the great prince Michael, which standeth on thy people side, shall arise up, for there shall come a time of trouble, such as never was, since there began to be any people, unto that same time. Then shall thy people be de-2 livered, yea all those that be found written in the book. Many of them that sleep in the dust of the earth, shall awake, some 3 to everlasting life, some to perpetual shame and reproof. The wise (such as have taught other) shall glister, as the shining of heaven: and those that have instruct the multitude unto God-4 liness, shall be as the stars, world without end. And thou O Daniel, shut up these words, and seal the book, till the last time. Many shall go about here and there, and then shall 5 knowledge increase. So I Daniel looked, and behold, there stood other two: one upon this shore of the water, the other 6 upon yonder side. And one of them said unto him, which was clothed in linen,* and stood above upon the waters of the flood;
 How long shall it be to the end of these wonderous works?
 7 Then heard I the man with the linen* clothes, which stood above upon the waters of the flood: when he held up his right and left hand unto heaven, and sware by him which liveth for ever: that it shall tarry for a time, two times and half a time:

12. v.6 Other: lining. v.7 Other: lining.

when the power of the holy people is clean scattered abroad, then shall all these things be fulfilled. I heard it well, but I 8 understood it not. Then said I: O my Lord, what shall happen after that? He answered: Go thy way Daniel, for the words 9 shall be closed up and sealed, till the last time: and many 10 shall be purified, cleansed and tried. But the ungodly shall live wickedly, and those wicked (as many as they be) shall have no understanding. As for such as have understanding, they shall regard it. And from the time forth that the daily offering shall 11 be put down and the abominable desolation set up, there shall be a thousand two hundredth and ninety days. O well is him, 12 that waiteth, and cometh to the thousand three hundredth and thirty five days. Go thou thy way now, till it be ended: take 13 thy rest, and bide in thy lot, till the days have an end.

The end of the Prophecy of Daniel.

Oseas.

I his is the word of the LORD, that came unto Oseas the son of Beeri, in the days of Oseas, Joathan, Ahaz, and Jezekiah kings of Judah: and in the time of Jeroboam the son of Joas king of Israell. First, when the LORD spake unto Oseas, he said unto him: Go thy way, take an harlot to thy wife, and get children by her: for the land hath committed great whoredom against the LORD. So he went, and took Gomer the daughter of Deblaim: which conceived, and brought forth a son. And the LORD said unto him: Call his name Iesrael, for I will shortly avenge the blood of Iesrael upon the house of Jehu,* and will bring the kingdom of the house of Israell to an end. Then will I break the bow of Israell in the valley of Iesrael. She conceived yet again, and bare a daughter. And he said unto him: Call her name Loruhamah (that is, not obtaining mercy) for I will have no pity upon the house of Israell, but forget them, and put them clean out of remembrance. Nevertheless I will have mercy upon the house of Judah, and will save them even thorow the LORD their God. But I will not deliver them thorow any bow, sword, battle, horses, or horsemen. Now when she had weaned Loruhamah, she conceived again, and bare a son. Then said he: call his name Lo amy. For why? ye are not my people, therefore will not I be yours. And though the number of the children of Israell be as the sand of the sea, which can neither be measured nor told: yet in the place where it is said unto them; Ye be not my people: even there shall it be thus reported of them: they be the children of the living God. Then shall the children of Judah* and the children of Israel be gathered together again, and chose themselves one head, and then depart out of the land: for great shall be the day of Israel.

II Tell your brethren, that they are my people: and your sistren, that they have obtained* mercy. As for your mother, ye shall chide with her, and reprove her: for she is not my wife, neither am I her husband, unless she put away her whoredoms out of my sight, and her advoutry from her breasts. If no, I shall strip her naked, and set her, even as she came into the

1. v.4 Other: Iehu. v.11 Other: Iuda. 2. v.1 Other: optayned.

world: Yea I shall lay her waste, and make her like a wilderness, and slay her for thirst. I shall have no pity also upon her 4 children, for they be the children of fornication. Their mother 5 hath broken her wedlock, and she that bare them, is come to confusion. For she said: I will go after my lovers, that give me my water and my bread, my wool* and my flax, my oil and my drink. But I will hedge her way with thorns, and stop* it, that 6 she shall not find her footsteps: and though she run after her 7 lovers, yet shall she not get them: she shall seek them, but not find them. Then shall she say: well, I will go turn again to my first husband, for at that time was I better at ease, then now.
But this would she not know, where as I yet gave her corn, 8 wine, oil, silver and gold, which she hath hanged upon Baal.
Wherefore now will I go take my corn and wine again in their 9 season, and fet again my wool and my flax, which I gave her to cover her shame. And now will I discover her foolishness, 10 even in the sight of her lovers, and no man shall deliver her out of my hands. Moreover, I will take away all her mirth, her 11 holy days, her new moons, her Sabbaths, and all her solempne feasts: I will destroy her vineyards and fig trees, though she 12 sayeth: lo, here are my rewards, that my lovers have given me.
I will make it a wood, and the wild beasts shall eat it up. I 13 will punish her also for the days of Baal, wherein she censured him, decking him with her earrings and chains: when she followed her lovers, and forgat me, sayeth the LORD. Wherefore 14 behold, I will call her again bring her into a wilderness, and speak friendly unto her: there will I give her, her vineyards 15 again, yea and the valley of Achor also, to shew her hope and comfort. Then shall she sing there as in the time of her youth, and like as in the day when she came out of the land of Egypt.
Then (sayeth the LORD) she shall say unto me: O my husband, 16 and shall call me no more Baal: for I will take away those 17 names of Baal from her mouth, yea she shall never remember their names any more. Then will I make a covenant with 18 them, with the wild beasts, with the fowls of the air, and with everything that creepeth upon the earth. As for bow, sword and battle, I will destroy such out of the land, and will make them to sleep safely. Thus will I marry thee unto mine own 19 self forevermore: yea even to myself will I marry thee, in righ-v.5 Other: woll. v.6 Other: stoppe.

20 teousness, in equity, in loving-kindness, and mercy. In faith also will I marry thee, unto myself, and thou shalt know the 21 LORD. At the same time will I shew myself friendly and gracious unto the heavens, sayeth the LORD: and the heavens 22 shall help the earth, and the earth shall help the corn, wine, 23 and oil, and they shall help Iesrael. I will sow them upon earth, for a seed to mine own self, and will have mercy upon her, that was without mercy. And to them which were not my people, I will say: Thou art my people. And he shall say: thou art my God.

III Then said the LORD to me: Go yet thy way and vow* an advoutrous woman, whom thy neighbour loveth, as the LORD doth the children of Israell: how be it they have respect to 2 strange gods, and love the wine cans. So I gat her for fif-3 teen silverlings, and for an homer and an half of barley, and said unto her: Thou shalt bide with me a long season, but see that thou playest not the harlot, and look thou meddle with 4 none other man, and then will I keep my self for thee. Thus the children of Israel shall sit a great while without king and prince, without offering and alter, without priest and revela-5 tion. But afterward shall the children of Israel convert, and seek the LORD their God, and David their king: and in the latter days they shall worship the LORD, and his loving-kindness.

IV Hear the word of the LORD, O ye children of Israel: For the LORD must punish them, that dwell in the land. And why?
 There is no faithfulness, there is no mercy, there is no knowl-2 edge of God in the land: but swearing, lying, manslaughter, theft, and advoutry have gotten the overhand, and one blood-3 guiltyness followeth another. Therefore shall the land be in a miserable cause, and all they that dwell therein, shall mourn.
 The beasts in the field, the fowls in the air, and the fishes in 4 the sea shall die. Yet is there none, that will chasten nor reprove another. The priests which should reform other men, are 5 become like the people. Therefore stumblest thou in the daytime and the prophet with them in the night. I will bring thy 6 mother to silence, and why? my people perish, because they have no knowledge. Seeing then that thou hast refused understanding, therefore will I refuse thee also: so that thou shalt no more be my priest. And for so much as thou hast forgotten

3. v.1 Other: wow.

the law of thy God, I will also forget thy children. The more 7 they increased in multitude, the more they sinned against me, therefore will I change their honour into shame. They eat 8 up the sins of my people, and courage them in their wickedness. Thus the priest is become like the people. Wherefore I 9 will punish them for their wicked ways, and reward them according to their own imaginations. They shall eat, and not 10 have enough: they have used whoredom, therefore shall they not prosper: and why? they have forsaken the LORD, and not regarded him. Whoredom, wine and drunkenness take the 11 heart away. My people ask counsel at their stocks, their staff 12 must tell them. For an whorish mind hath deceived them, so that they commit fornication against their God. They make 13 sacrifices upon the high mountains, and burn their incense upon the hills, yea among the oaks, groves and bushes, for there are good shadows. Therefore your daughters are become harlots, and your spouses have broken their wedlock, I will 14 not punish your daughters for being defiled, and your brides that became whores: seeing the fathers themselves have meddled with harlots, and offered with unthriftiness: but the people that will not understand must be punished. Though thou 15 Israel are disposed to play the harlot, yet shouldest not thou have offended, O Juda: thou shouldest not have run to Gilgal,* nor gone up to Bethhaven, nor have sworn, the LORD liveth.
For Israel is gone back like a wanton cow. The LORD there- 16 fore shall make her feed, as the lamb that goeth astray. And 17 whereas Ephraim is become partaker of Idols, well, let him go.
Their drunkenness hath put them back, and brought them to 18 whoredom. Their rulers love rewards, bring (say they) to their own shame. A wind shall take hold of their feathers, and they 19 shall be confounded in their offerings.

V O ye priests: hear this, take heed, O thou household of Israel: give ear, O thou kingly house: for this punishment will come upon you, that are become a snare unto Mizpah, and a spread net unto the mount of Thabor. They kill sacrifices by 2 heaps, to beguile the people therewith: therefore will I punish them all. I know Ephraim well enough, and Israell is not hid 3 from me: for Ephraim is become an harlot: and Israel is defiled. They are not minded to turn unto their God, for they 4 4. v.15 Other: Galgala.

have an whorish heart, so that they can not know the LORD.
5 But the pride of Israel will be rewarded him in his face, yea both Israel and Ephraim shall fall for their wickedness, and 6 Judah with them also. They shall come with their sheep and bullocks to seek the LORD, but they shall not find him, for he is 7 gone from them. As for the LORD, they have refused him, and brought up bastard children: a month therefore shall devour 8 them with their portions. Blow with the shawmes at Gabea, and with the trumpet in Ramah, cry out at Bethaven upon the 9 yon-side of BenJamin. In that time of the plague shall Eph-raim be laid waste, therefore did I faithfully warn the tribes of 10 Israel. Yet are the princes of Juda become like them, that remove the landmarks, therefore will I pour out my wrath upon 11 them like water. Ephraim is oppressed, and can have no right 12 of the law: for why? they follow the doctrines of men. Therefore will I be unto Ephraim as a moth, and to the house of 13 Juda as a caterpillar. When Ephraim saw his sickness, and Judah his disease: Ephraim went unto Assur, and sent unto king Jareb: yet could not he help you, nor ease you of your 14 pain. I am unto Ephraim as a lion, and as a lion's whelp to the house of Judah. Even I, I will spoil them, and go my way. I 15 will take them with me, and no man shall rescue them. I will go, and return to my place, till they wax faint, and seek me.

VI In their adversity they shall seek me, and say: come, let us turn again to the LORD: for he hath smitten us, and he 2 shall heal us: He hath wounded us, and he shall bind us up again: after two days shall he quicken us, in the third day he 3 shall raise us up, so that we shall live in his sight. Then shall we have understanding, and endeavor ourselves to know the LORD. He shall go forth as the spring of the day, and come 4 unto us as the evening and morning rain upon the earth. O Ephraim, what shall I do unto thee? O Judah, how shall I entreat thee? seeing your love is like a morning cloud, and like 5 a dew that goeth early away. Therefore have I cut down the prophets, and let them be slain for my words' sake: so that thy 6 punishment shall come to light. For I have pleasure in loving-kindness, and not in offering: Yea in the knowledge of God, 7 more then in burnt sacrifice. But even like as Adam did, so 8 have they broken my covenant, and set me at naught. Gilead is a city of wicked doers, of malicious people and bloodshed-ders. The multitude of the priests is like an heap of thieves, 9 murderers and bloodthirsty: for they have wrought abomina- 10 tion. Horrible things have I seen in the house of Israel, there 11 playeth Ephraim the harlot, and Israell is defiled: but Judah shall have an harvest for himself, when I return the captivity of my people.

When I undertake to make Israel whole, then the ungraciousness of Ephraim and the wickedness of Samaria cometh VII to light: then go they about with lies. At home, they be thieves: and without they fall to robbing. They consider not in their 2 hearts that I remember all their wickedness. They go about 3 with their own inventions, but I see them well enough. They 3 make the king and the princes, to have pleasure in their wickedness and lies. All these burn in advoutry, as it were an oven 4 that the baker heateth, when he hath left kneading, till the 4 dough be leavened. Even so goeth it this day with our kings 5 and princes, for they begin to be wood drunken thorow wine: they use familiarity with such as deceive them. They with 6 the imagination of their heart are like an oven, their sleep is all night like the sleep of a baker, in the morning is he as hot as the flame of fire: they are altogether as hot as an oven. They 7 have devoured their own judges, all their kings are fallen: yet is there none of them that calleth upon me. Therefore must 8 Ephraim be mixt among the Heathen. Ephraim is become like a cake, that no man turneth: Strangers have devoured his 9 strength, yet he regardeth it not: he waxeth full of gray hairs, yet will he not know it: And the pride of Israel is cast down 10 before their face, yet will they not turn to the LORD their God, nor* seek him for all this. Ephraim is like a dove, that is 11 beguiled, and hath no heart. Now call they upon the Egyptians, now go they to the Assyrians: but while they be going 12 here and there, I shall spread my net over them, and draw them down as the fowls of the air: and according as they have been warned, so will I punish them; Woe be unto them, for 13 they have forsaken me. They must be destroyed, for they have set me at naught. I am he that have redeemed them, and yet they dissemble with me. They call not upon me with their 14 hearts, but lie howling* upon their beds. Where as they come together, it is but for meat and drink, and me will they not

7. v.10 Other: ner. v.14 Other: yowling.

15 obey. I have taught them, and defended their army, yet do 16 they imagine mischief against me. They turn themselves, but not a right, and are become as a broken bow. Their princes shall be slain with the sword, for the malice of their tongues, such blasphemies have they learned in the land of Egypt.

VIII Set the horn to thy mouth, and blow: get thee swiftly (as an Aegle) into the house of the LORD: for they have broken 2 my covenant, and transgressed my law. Israel can say unto 3 me: thou art my God, we know thee: but he hath refused the thing that is good, therefore shall the enemy follow upon him.
 4 They have ordained kings, but not thorow me: they have made princes, and I must not know of it. Of their silver and gold have they made them images, to bring them selves to destruc-5 tion. Thy calf, O Samaria, shall be taken away, for my wrothfull indignation is gone forth against thee. How long will it be, 6 or they can be cleansed? For the calf came from Israel, the workman made it therefore can it be no God, but even to a spi-7 ders web shall the calf of Samaria be turned. They have sown wind, therefore shall they reap a storm. Their seed shall bear no corn, there shall no meal be made of their increase: though 8 they reap,* yet shall strangers devour it up. Israel shall per-9 ish, the Gentiles shall entreat him as a foul vessel. Since they went up to the Assyrians, they are become like a wild ass 10 in the desert. Ephraim giveth rewards to get lovers. Therefore are they scattered among the Heathen; There will I gather them up. They shall soon be weary of the burthen of king 11 and princes. Ephraim hath made many altars to do wicked-12 ness, therefore shall the altars turn to his sin. Though I shew them my law never so much, they count it but strange doctrine.
 13 Where as they do sacrifice, offering the flesh and eating it: The LORD will have no pleasure therein: but will remember their wickedness, and punish their sins. Israel turneth again into 14 Egypt, they have forgotten him that made them, they build churches, and Juda maketh many strong cities: therefore will I send a fire into their cities, and it shall consume their places.

IX Do not thou triumph, O Israel make no boasting* more then the Heathen, for thou hast committed advoutry against thy God: strange rewards hast thou loved, more than all the corn 2 floors. Therefore shall they no more enjoy the corn floors and

8. v.7 Other: yer be. 9. v.1 Other: boasting.

winepresses, and their sweet wine shall fail them. They will 3 not dwell in the LORD's land, but Ephraim turneth again into 4 Egypt, and eateth unclean things among the Assyrians. They 4 pour out no wine for a drink offering unto the LORD, neither give they him their slain offerings: but they be unto them as mourners meats, wherein all they that eat them, are defiled.
For the bread that they have such lust unto, shall not come into the house of the LORD. What will ye do then in the 5 solempne days, and in the feast of the LORD? Lo, they shall 6 get them away for the destruction? Egypt shall receive them, and Noph shall bury them. The nettles shall overgrow their pleasant goods, and burrs shall be in their tabernacles. Be ye 7 sure (O Israel) the time of visitation is come, the days of rec-ompensing are at hand. As for the prophet, ye hold him for a fool: and him that is rich in the spirit, for a mad man: so great is your wickedness and malice. Ephraim hath made himself 8 a watchman of my God, a prophet that is become a snare to do hurt in every street, and abomination in the house of his God.
They be gone too far, and have destroyed themselves, like as 9 they did afore time at Gabaa. Therefore their wickedness shall be remembered, and their sins punished. I found Israel like 10 grapes in the wilderness, and saw their fathers as the first figs in the top of the fig tree. But they are gone to Baal Peor, and run away from me to that shameful Idol, and are become as abominable as their lovers. Ephraim flyeth like a bird, so 11 shall their glory also: In so much, that they shall neither beget, conceive nor bear children. And though they bring up any, yet 12 will I make them childless among men. Yea woe shall come to them, when I depart from them. Ephraim (as me think) is 13 planted in wealthiness, like as Tyrus, but now must she bring her own children forth to the manslayer. O LORD thou shalt 14 give them: what shalt thou give them? give them an unfruitful womb and dry breasts. All their wickedness is done at Gilgal, 15 there do I abhor them. For the ungraciousness of their own inventions, I will drive them out of my house. I will love them no more, for all their princes are unfaithful. Ephraim is hewn 16 down, their root is dried up, so that they shall bring no more fruit: yea and though they bring forth any, yet will I slay even the best beloved fruit of their body. My God shall cast them 17 away, for they have not been obedient unto him, therefore shall they go astray among the Heathen.

X Israell was a goodly vine, but he hath brought forth unprofitable fruit: yea the more fruit he had the more alters he made: the more good I did to their land, the more friendship 2 shewed they to their Images. Their heart is divided, therefore will they be destroyed. The LORD shall break down their Images, he shall destroy their altars. Then shall they say: we 3 have no king, for why? we have not feared the LORD. And what shall then the king do to us? They commune* together, 4 and swear vain oaths: they be confederate together, therefore groweth their punishment, as the weeds in the furrows of the 5 land. They that dwell in Samaria have worshiped the calf of Bethaven: therefore shall the people mourn over them, yea and the priests also, that in their wealthiness rejoiced with 6 them: and why? it shall pass away from them. It shall be brought to the Assyrian for a present unto king Jareb. Ephraim shall receive full punishment: Israel shall be confounded 7 for his own imaginations, Samaria with his king shall vanish away, as the scum in* the water. The high places of Aven, where Israel do sin, shall be cast down: thistles and thorns shall grow upon their alters. Then shall they say to the mountains: cover us, and to the hills: fall upon us. O Israel, thou hast sinned as Gabaa did afore time, where they remained: should not the battle then come upon the wicked children, as 9 well as upon the Gabaonites? I will chasten them, even after mine own desire, the people shall be gathered together over them, when I punish them for their great wickedness. Ephraim was unto me, as a cow that is used to go to plow, therefore I loved him, and fell upon his fair neck. I drove Ephraim, Juda 12 plowed, and Jacob played the husbandman: that they might sow unto righteousness, and reap the fruits of well doing: that they might plow up their fresh land and seek the LORD, till 13 he came, and learned them righteousness. But now they have plowed them wickedness, therefore shall they reap sin, and eat the fruit of lies. Seeing thou putttest thy confidence in thine 14 own ways, and leanest to the multitude of thy worthies: there shall grow a sedition among thy people. All thy strong cities shall be laid waste, even as Salmana was destroyed with his familiars, thorow him that was avenged of Arbel,* in the day of battle where the mother perished with her children. Even 15 so shall it go with you (O Bethel) because of your malicious wickedness. Like as the morning goeth away, so shall the king of Israel pass.

10. v.4 Other: comon. v.7 Other: scomme upon. v.14 Other: Baal.

When Israel was young, I loved him: and called my son out XI of the land of Egypt. But the more they were called, the more 2 they went back, offering unto Idols, and censuring Images. I 3 learned Ephraim to go, and bare them in mine arms, but they regarded not me, that would have helped them. I led them 4 with cords of friendship, and with bands of love. I was even he, that laid the yoke upon their necks. I gave them their fodder myself, that they should not go again into Egypt. And now is 5 Assur their king: for they would not turn unto me. Therefore 6 shall the sword begin in their cities, the store that they have laid up,* shall be destroyed and eaten:* and that because of their own imaginations. My people hath no lust to turn unto 7 me, their prophets lay the yoke upon them, but they ease them not of their burthen. What great things have I given thee, O 8 Ephraim? how faithfully have I defended thee, O Israel? have I dealt with thee as with Adam? or have I entreated thee like Seboim? No, my heart is otherwise minded. Yea my mercy is to fervent: therefore have I not turned me to destroy Ephraim 9 in my wrathful displeasure. For I am God, and no man, I am even that holy one in the midst of thee, though I came not within the city. The LORD roareth like a lion, that they may 10 follow him: yea as a lion roareth he, that they may be afraid like the children of the sea: that they may be scattered* away 11 from Egypt, as men scare birds: and frayed away (as doves use to be) from the Assirian's land: and that because I would have them tarry at home, sayeth the LORD. But Ephraim goeth 12 about me with lies, and the house of Israel dissembleth. Only Juda holdeth him with God, and with the true holy things.

Ephraim keepeth the air, and followeth after the east wind: XII he is ever increasing lies and destruction. They be confederate with the Assyrians, their oil is carried into Egypt. The 2 LORD hath a court to hold with Judah, and will punish Jacob:
 After their own ways and according to their own inventions, shall he recompense them. He took his brother by the heel, 3 when he was yet in his mother's womb: and in his strength

11. v.6 Other: likened unto. v.6 Other: up:. v.11 Other: scarred.

4 he wrestled with God. He strove with the angel, and gat the victory: so that he prayed and desired him. He found* him at 5 Bethel, and there he talked with us. Yet the LORD God of 6 hosts, even the LORD him self remembered him: Then turn to thy God, keep mercy and equity, and hope still in thy God.
 7 But the merchant hath a false weight in his hand, he hath a 8 pleasure to occupy extortion. Ephraim thinketh thus: Tush,
 I am rich, I have good enough: In all my works shall not one 9 fault be found, that I have offended. Yet am I the LORD thy God, even as when I brought thee out of the land of Egypt, and 10 set thee in thy tents, and as in the high feast days. I have spoken thorow the prophets, and shewed divers visions, and 11 declared myself by the ministration of the prophets. But at Gilead is the abomination, they are fallen to vanity. At Gilgal they have slain oxen: and as many heaps of stones as they had 12 in their land furrows, so many alters have they made. Jacob fled into the land of Syria, and Israell served for a wife, 13 and for a wife he kept sheep. By a prophet the LORD brought them out of Egypt, and by a prophet he preserved them. But 14 Ephraim hath provoked him to displeasure thorow his abomi-nations; therefore shall his blood be poured upon himself, and the Lord his God shall reward him his blasphemies.

XIII The abomination of Ephraim is come also into Israel. He is 2 gone back to Baal, therefore must he die. And now they sin more and more: of their silver, they make them molten Images, like the idols of the Heathen, and yet all is nothing but the work of the craftsmen. Notwithstanding they preach of the 3 same: who so will kiss the calves, offereth to men. Therefore they shall be as the morning cloud, and as the dew that early passeth away, and like as dust that the wind taketh away from 4 the floor, and as smoke that goeth out of the chimney. I am the LORD thy God, which brought thee out of the land of Egypt: that thou shouldest know no God but me only, and that thou 5 shouldest have no Saviour but only me. I took diligent heed 6 of thee in the wilderness, that dry land. But when they were well fed and had enough, they waxed proud, and forgot me.
 7 Therefore will I be unto them as a lion, and as a leopard in the 8 way to the Assirians. I will come upon them as a she bear, that is robbed of her whelps, and I will break that stubborn 12. v.4 Other: fande.

heart of theirs. There will I devour them as a lion: yea the wild beast shall tear them. O Israel, thou doest but destroy 9 thyself; In me only is thy help. Where are thy kings now, that 10 shouldest help thee in all thy cities? Yea and thy judges, of whom thou sayest: give me a king and princes? well, I gave 11 thee a king in my wrath, and in my displeasure will I take him from thee again. The wickedness of Ephraim is bound 12 together, and his sin lieth hid. Therefore shall sorrows come 13 upon him, as upon a woman that travaileth. An undiscrete son is he: for he considereth not, that he should not have been able to have endured in the time of his birth, had not I defended 14 him from the grave, and delivered him from death. O death, I will be thy death: O hell, I will be thy sting. Yet can I see no 15 comforth, for when he is now the goodliest among the brethren, the East wind (even the wind of the LORD) shall come down from the wilderness, and dry up his conduits,* and drink up his wells: he shall spoil the treasure of all pleasant vessels.
 As for Samaria, they shall be made waste, and why? they are 16 disobedient unto their God. They shall perish with the sword, their children shall be slain, and their women great* with child shall be ripped* up.

O Israel, turn thee now, unto the LORD thy God, for thou XIV hast taken a great fall thorow thy wickedness.* Take these 2 words with you, when ye turn to the LORD, and say unto him: O forgive us all our sins, receive us graciously, and then will we offer thee bullocks of our lips unto thee.* Assur shall be 3 no more our helper, neither will we ride upon horses any more.
 As for the works of our hands, we will no more call upon them: for it is thou that art our God, thou shewest ever mercy unto the fatherless.* O (if they would do this) I should heal their 4 sores: yea with all my heart would I love them: so that my wrath should clean be turned away from them:* Yea I would 5 be unto Israel as the dew, and he should grow as the lily, and

13. v.15 Other: condytes. v.16 Other: bygg. v.16 Other: rypte. 14. v.1 Other: Turn Israel unto the LORD thy God: For thou art fallen for thy wickednesses' sake. v.2 Other: Take words with you and turn unto the Lord. And say unto him: remit all wickedness and given things, and we will pay thee openly that we have promised with our lips. v.3 Other: Asshur shall not save us, neither will we ride on horses: neither will we say to the works of our own hands, ye are our Gods, for thou hast compassion on the friendless. v.4 Other: I will heal their obedience and will love them of mine own accord: for my wrath is ceased from them.

6 his root should break out as Libanus.* His branches should spread out abroad, and be as fair as the olive tree, and smell 7 as Libanus.* They that dwell under his shadow, should come again, and grow up as the corn, and flourish as the vine: he 8 should have as good a name, as the wine of Libanus.* O Eph-raim what have I to do with Idols any more? I will graciously hear him, and lead him forth. I will be unto thee as a green fir 9 tree, upon me shalt thou find thy fruit.* Who so is wise, shall understand this: and he that is right instruct, will regard it.
 For the ways of the LORD are righteous, such as be godly will walk in them: As for the wicked, they will stumble therein.*

The end of the prophete of Oseas.

v.5 Other: I will be as dew to Israel, and he shall flourish as a lily, and stretch out his roots as Lebanon. v.6 Other: His branches shall run out, and as an olive tree shall his glory be, and his savour as Lebanon. v.7 Other: They that shall turn and sit in his shadow, shall live with corn, and flourish as vines. His renown shall be as the wine of Lebanon. v.8 Other: Ephraim, what have ye any more to do with idols? I have healed him and looked on him. I will be as a great fir tree, and of me shall thy fruit be found. v.9 Other: Who is wise to understand these things and hath wit to perceive them? For the ways of the LORD are straight, and the righteous shall walk in them: but the wicked shall tumble in them.

Joel.

This is the word of the LORD, that came to Joel the son I of Phatuel: Hear O ye elders: ponder this well, all 2 ye that dwell in the land: if ever there happened such a thing in your days, or in the days of your fathers.
Tell your childern of it, and let them shew it to their children, 3 and so they to certify their posterity thereof. Look what the 4 caterpillar hath left, that hath the grasshopper eaten up: what the grasshopper left, that hath the locust eaten up: and what the locust hath left, that hath the blasting consumed. Wake 5 up ye drunkards, and weep: mourn all ye wine sippers because of your sweet wine, for it shall be taken away from your mouth.
Yea a mighty and an innumerable people shall come up into 6 my land: these have teeth like the teeth of Lyons, and chaft-bones like the lioness. They shall make my vineyard waste, 7 they shall pull off the bark of my fig trees, strip them bare, cast them away, and make the branches white. Make thy 8 moan as a virgin doth that girdeth herself with sack, because of her bride groom. For the meat and drink offering shall be 9 taken away from the house of the LORD: and the priests the LORD's ministers shall mourn. The field shall be wasted, the 10 land shall be in a miserable cause: for the corn shall be destroyed, the sweet wine shall come to confusion, and he oil utterly desolate. The husband men and the wine garden- 11 ers shall look piteously and make lamentation, for the wheat, wine and barley, and because the harvest upon the field is so clean destroyed. The grape gathers shall make great moan, 12 when the vineyard and fig trees be so utterly wasted. Yea all the pomegranates, palm trees, apple trees, and the other trees of the field shall wither away. Thus the merry cheer of the childern of men shall come to confusion. Gird you, and make 13 your moan, O ye priests: mourn ye ministers of the alter: go your way in, and sleep in sack cloth, O ye officers of my God: for the meat and drink offering shall be taken away from the house of your God. Proclaim a fasting, call the congregation, 14 gather the elders and all the inhabiteurs of the land together in to the house of the LORD your God, and cry unto the LORD: alas, alas for this day. And why? the day of the LORD is at 15 16 hand, and cometh as a destroyer from the Almighty. Shall not the meats be taken away before our eyes, the mirth also and 17 joy from the house of our God? The seed shall perish in the ground, the garners shall lie waste, the floors shall be broken 18 down, for the corn shall be destroyed. O what a fighting make the cattle? the bullocks are very evil liking, because they have 19 no pasture: and the sheep are famished away. O LORD, to thee will I cry: for the fire hath consumed the goodly pastures of the wilderness, and the flame hath brent up all the trees of 20 the field. Yea the wild beasts cry also unto thee, for the water rivers are dried up, and the fire hath consumed the pastures of the wilderness.

II Blow out the trumpet in Sion, and cry upon my holy hill, that all such as dwell in the land, may tremble at it: for the 2 day of the LORD cometh, and is hard at hand: a dark day, a glooming day, a cloudy day, yea and a stormy day, like as the morning spreadeth out upon the hills: Namely, a great and mighty people: such as have not been since the beginning, nei-3 ther shall be after them for evermore. Before him shall be a consuming fire, and behind him a burning flame. The land shall be as a garden of pleasure before him, but behind him shall it be a very waste wilderness, and there is no man, that 4 shall escape him. They are to look upon like bairded horses, 5 and run like horse men. They skipped up upon the hills, as it were the sound of chariots: as the flame of fire that consumeth 6 the straw, and as a mighty people ready to the battle. The folk shall be afraid of him, all faces shall be as black as a pot.
7 These shall run like giants, and leap over the walls like men of war. Every man in his going will keep his array, and not go out 8 of his Path. There shall not one drive another, but each shall keep his own way. They shall break in at the windows, and 9 not be hurt: They shall come in to the city, and run upon the walls: They shall climb up upon the houses, and slip in at the 10 windows like a thief. The earth shall quake before him, yea the heavens shall be moved: The Sun and Moon shall be dark-11 ened, and the stars shall withdraw their shine. The LORD shall shew his voice before his host, for his host is great, strong and mighty to fulfill his commandment. This is that great and marvelous fearful day of the LORD: And who is able to abide 12 it. Now therefore sayeth the LORD: Turn you unto me with all your hearts, with fasting, weeping and mourning,* rent 13 your hearts, and not your clothes. Turn you unto the LORD your God, for he is gracious and merciful, long suffering and of great compassion: and ready to pardon wickedness.* Then (no 14 doubt) he also shall turn, and forgive: and after his chastening, he shall let your increase remain, for meat and drink offerings unto the LORD your God:* Blow out with the trumpet in Sion, 15 proclaim a fasting, call the congregation,* and gather the peo- 16 ple together: warn the congregation, gather the elders, bring the children and sucklings together. Let the bridegroom go forth of his chamber, and the bride out of her closet.* Let the 17 priests serve the LORD betwixt the porch and the altar, weeping and saying: be favourable O LORD, be favourable unto thy people: let not thine heritage be brought to such confusion, lest the Heathen be lords thereof. Wherefore should they say among the Heathen: where is now their God? * Then shall 18 the LORD be jealous over his land, and spare his people:* yea 19 the LORD shall answer, and say unto his people: Behold, I will send you corn, wine, and oil, so that ye shall have plenty of them: And I will no more give you over to be a reproof among the Heathen.* Again, as for him of the North, I shall drive him 20 far from you: and shoot him out in to a dry and waste land, his face toward the east sea, and his hinder parts toward the utmost sea. The stink of him shall go up, and his filthy corruption shall fall upon himself, because he hath dealt so proudly.

 Fear not (O land) but be glad and rejoice, for the LORD will do 21 great things. Be not ye afraid neither (O ye beasts of the field) 22 for the pastures shall be green and the trees shall bear their

2. v.12 Other: And now therefore saith the LORD: Turn to me with all your hearts, in fasting and lamentation. v.13 Other: And tear your hearts and not your garments, and turn unto the LORD your God. v.14 Other: Who can tell whether the Lord will turn and have compassion and shall leave after him a blessing? Sacrifice and drink offering unto the LORD your God. v.15 Other: Blow a trumpet in Sion, proclaim fasting and call a congregation. v.16 Other: Gather the people together, bring the elders to one place, gather the young children and they that suck the breasts, together. Let the bridegroom come out of his chamber and the bride out of her parlour. v.17 Other: Let the priests that minister unto the LORD, weep between the porch and the altar, and say: spare (Lord) thy people and deliver not thine heritage unto rebuke that the heathen should reign over them. Why should they say: among the nations, where is their God?. v.18 Other: And the LORD envied for his land's sake and had compassion on his people. v.19 Other: And the LORD answered and said unto his people Behold, I sent you corn, new wine and oil, that ye shall be satisfied therewith. Neither will I deliver you any more unto the heathen.

23 fruit: the fig trees and vineyards shall give their increase. Be glad then (O ye children of Sion) and rejoice in the LORD your God, for he hath given you a * teacher of righteousness: and he it is that shall send you down showers of rain, early and 24 late in the first month:* so that the garners shall be full of 25 corn, and the presses plenteous in wine and oil.* And as for the years that the grasshopper, locust, blasting, and caterpillar (my great host, which I sent among you) have eaten up, I 26 shall restore them to you again:* so that ye shall have enough to eat, and be satisfied: and praise the name of the LORD your God, that so marvelously hath dealt with you. And my people 27 shall never be confounded anymore.* Ye shall well know, that I am in the midst of Israel, and that I am your GOD: yea and that there is none other, and my people shall no more 28 be brought to confusion.* After this, will I pour out my spirit upon all flesh: and your sons and your daughters shall prophesy: your old men shall dream dreams, and your young men 29 shall see visions: Yea in those days I will pour out my spirit upon servants and maidens. I will shew wonders in heaven 30 above, and tokens in the earth beneath: blood and fire, and the vapour of smoke. The sun * shall be turned into darkness, and 31 the moon into blood: before the * great and notable day of the LORD come. And the time shall come: that whosoever calleth upon the name of the LORD, shall be saved. For upon the

v.23 Other: the. v.23 Other: Children of Sion be glad and rejoice in the LORD your God. For he hath given you a teacher of righteousness, and will make descend unto you the first rain and the later, as at the beginning. v.24 Other: And the barns shall be full of corn, and the wine presses flow with wine and oil. v.25 Other: And I will restore you again with my great power which I have sent unto you, the years which the locusts and caterpillars have devoured. v.26 Other: And ye shall eat and have enough and praise the name of the LORD your God, which hath wrought wonders with you. And my people shall not be in shame for ever. v.27 Other: And ye shall know that I am in the midst of Israel, and that I am the LORD your God, and that there is no more. And my people shall not be in shame for ever. And ye shall know that I the LORD your God, dwell in Sion my holy mount. And Jerusalem shall be holy, and there shall no stranger pass thorow there any more. And at that day the mountains shall drop sweet wine, and the hills shall flow with milk, and all the brooks of Judah shall run with water. And a fountain, shall go out of the house of the Lord and water the river of Shittim. Egypt shall go to ruin, and Edom shall be a desert and a wilderness, which oppressed the children of Israel, and which shed innocent blood in their land. And Judah shall continue ever, and Jerusalem from generation to generation. And I will cleanse their blood which I have not cleansed. And the Lord shall dwell in Sion. v.31 Other: Sonne. v.31 Other: yt.

mount Sion and at Jerusalem, there shall be a salvation, like as the LORD hath promised: yea and among the other remnant, whom the LORD shall call.

For take heed: in those days and at the same time, when I III turn again the captivity of Juda and Jerusalem: I shall gather 2 all people together, and bring them in* the valley of Josaphat: and there will I reason with them: because of my people and heritage of Israel: whom they have scattered about in the na- 3 tions, and parted my land: yea they have cast lots for my people, the young men have they set in the bordel house, and sold the damsels for wine, that they might have to drink. Thou 4 Tirus and Sidon and all the borders of the Philistines: what have ye to do with me? Will ye defy me? well, if ye will needs defy me, I shall recompense you, even upon your head, and that right shortly: for ye have taken away my silver and gold, 5 my fair and goodly jewels, and brought them into your gods' houses. The children also of Juda and Jerusalem have ye sold 6 unto the Greeks, that ye might bring them the far from the borders of their own countries. Behold therefore, I will raise them 7 out of the place, where ye have sold them, and will reward you even upon your head. Your sons and your daughters will I sell 8 thorow the hands of the children of Juda, and so they shall give them forth to sell, unto them of Saba, a people of a far country: for the LORD himself hath said it. Cry out these things among 9 the Gentiles, proclaim war, wake up the giants, let them draw nye, let them come up all the lusty warriors of them. Make 10 you swords of your plowshares, and spears of your sickles and scythes. Let the weak man say: I am strong. Muster you, and 11 come, all ye Heathen round about: gather you together, there shall the LORD lay all thy giants to the ground. Let the people 12 arise, and get them to the valley of Josaphat: for there will I sit, and judge all Heathen round about. Lay to your scythes, for 13 the harvest is ripe: come, get you down: the winepress is full, yea the winepresses run over, for their wickedness is waxen great. In the valley appointed, there shall be many, many 14 people: for the day of the LORD is nye in the valley appointed.
 The sun and moon shall be darkened, and the stars shall with- 15 draw their light. The LORD shall roar out of Sion, a cry out of 16 Jerusalem, that the heavens and the earth shall quake withal.

3. v.2 Other: to.

But the LORD shall be a defense to his own people, and an 17 refuge for the children of Israel. Thus shall ye know, that I the LORD your God dwell upon my holy mount of Sion. Then shall Jerusalem be holy, and there shall no strangers go thorow 18 her any more. Then shall the mountains drop sweet wine, and the hills shall flow with milk. All the rivers of Juda shall have water enough, and out of the LORD's house, there shall flow a 19 spring, to water the broke of Sitim: but Egypt shall be laid waste, and Edom shall be desolate: because they have dealt so cruelly with the children of Juda, and shed innocent blood in 20 their land. Again, Juda shall be inhabited for evermore, and 21 Jerusalem from generation to generation: for I will not leave their blood unavenged. And the LORD shall dwell in Sion.

The end of the prophecy of Joel.

Amol.

These are the sermons that were shewed unto Amos I (which was one of the shepherds at Thecua) upon Israel, in the time of Osiah king of Judah, and in the time of Jeroboam the son of Joah king of Israel, two year before the earthquake. And he said: The LORD shall 2 roar out of Sion, and shew his voice from Jerusalem: so that the pastures of the shepherds shall be in a miserable case, and the top of Charmel dried up. Thus sayeth the LORD: for three 3 and four wickednesses of Damascus, I will not spare her: because they have threshed Gilead with iron stales: But I will 4 send a fire into the house of Hazael, the same shall consume the palaces of Benadab. Thus will I break the bars of Dam- 5 ascus, and root out the inhabiter from the field of Aven, and him that holdeth the scepter, out of the pleasant house: so that the people shall be driven out of fair Syria, sayeth the LORD.
Thus sayeth the LORD: For three and four wickednesses of 6 Gaza, I will not spare her: because they make the prisoners yet more captive, and have driven them into the land of Edom.
Therefore will I send a fire in to the walls of Gaza, which shall 7 devour her* houses. I will root out them that dwell at Asdod, 8 and him that holdeth the scepter of Ascalon, and stretch out mine hand over Accaron, that the remnant of the Philistines shall perish, sayeth the LORD. Thus sayeth the LORD: For 9 three and four wickednesses of the city of Tire, I will not spare her: because they have increased the captivity of the Edomites, and have not remembered the brotherly covenant. Therefore 10 will I send a fire into the walls of Tire, that shall consume her palaces. Thus sayeth the LORD: For three and four wicked- 11 nesses of Edom, I will not spare him, because he persecuted his brother with the sword, destroyed his mother's womb, bare hatred very long, and so kept indignation alway by him. There- 12 fore will I send a fire into Theman, which shall devour the palaces of Bosra. Thus sayeth the LORD: For three and four 13 wickednesses of the children of Ammon, I will not spare them: because they ripped* up the women great with child in Gilead, to make the borders of their lands the wider. Therefore I will 14 kindle a fire in the walls of Rabbath, that shall consume her palaces: with a great cry, in the day of battle, in tempest and 15 in the day of storm: So that their king shall go into captivity, he and his princes together, sayeth the LORD.

II Thus sayeth the LORD: For three and four wickednesses of Moab, I will not spare him: because he brent the bones of the 2 king of Edom to ashes. Therefore will I send a fire into Moab, which shall consume the palaces of Carioth: so that Moab shall 3 perish with a noise and the sound of a shawme: I will root out the judge from among them, and slay all his princes with 4 him, sayeth the LORD. Thus sayeth the LORD: For three and four wickednesses of Judah, I will not spare him: because he hath cast aside the law of the LORD, and not kept his commandments: for why, they would needs be deceived with the 5 lies, that their forefathers followed. Therefore will I send a fire into Judah, which shall consume the palaces of Jerusalem.
6 Thus sayeth the LORD: For three and four wickednesses of Israel, I will not spare him: because he hath sold the righteous 7 for money, and the poor for shoes. They tread upon poor men's heads, in the dust of the earth, and crook the ways of the meek.
The son and the father go to the harlot, to dishonour my holy 8 name, they lie beside every alter upon clothes taken to pledge, and in the house of their gods they drink the wine of the op-
9 pressed. Yet destroyed I the Amorite before them, that was as high as the Cedar trees, and as strong as the oaks: notwithstanding I destroyed his fruit from above and his root from 10 under. Again: I brought you out of the land of Egypt, and led you forty years thorow the wilderness, that ye might have 11 the Amorites land in possession. I raised up prophets among your children, and abstainers among your young men. Is it not 12 so, O ye children of Israel? sayeth the LORD. But ye gave the abstainers wine to drink, yea ye commanded the prophets, 13 saying: Prophesy not. Behold, I will crash you in sunder, like 14 as a wain crasheth, that is full of sheaves: so that the swift shall not escape, neither the strong be able to do anything: no, 15 the giant shall not save his own life. The archer shall not abide, and the swift of foot shall not escape. The horseman 16 shall not save his life, and he that is as manly of stomach as a giant, shall in that day be fain to run his way naked, sayeth the LORD.

Hear, what the LORD speaketh unto you (O ye children of Israel) namely, unto all the tribes, whom I brought out of Egypt, and said: You only have I accepted from all the generations of the earth: therefore will I visit you in all your wickednesses. May twain walk together except they be agreed among themselves? Doth a lion roar in the woods, except he have prey? Or crieth a Lion's whelp out of his den, except he have gotten something? Doth a bird fall in a snare upon the earth where no fouler is? Taketh a man his snare up from the ground, afore he catch somewhat? Cry they out Alarum with the trumpet in the city, and the people not afraid? Cometh there any plague in a city without it be the LORD's doing? Now doth the Lord GOD no manner of thing, but he telleth his secret before unto his servants the prophets. When a lion roareth, who will not be afraid? Seeing then that the Lord GOD himself speaketh, who will not prophesy? Preach in the palaces at Asded, and in the palaces of the land of Egypt, and say: Gather you together upon the mountains of Samaria, so shall ye see great murder and violent oppression among them, for why, they regard not the thing that is right, sayeth the LORD: they gather together evil gotten goods, and lay up robbery in their houses. Therefore thus sayeth the Lord GOD: This land shall be troubled and besieged round about, thy strength shall be plucked* from thee, and thy palaces robbed. Thus sayeth the LORD: like as an herdman taketh two legs or a piece of an ear out of the lion's mouth: Even so shall the children of Israel (that dwell in Samaria having their couches in the corner, and the beds at Damascus) shall be plucked* away. Hear, and bear record in the house of Jacob (sayeth the Lord GOD of hosts) That when I begin to visit the wickedness of Israel, I will visit the alters at Bethel also: so that the horns of the alter shall be broken off, and fall to the ground. As for the winter house and summer house, I will smite them down: and the houses of Ivory, yea and many other houses shall perish, and be destroyed, sayeth the LORD.

O hear this word, ye fat kine, that be upon the hill of Samaria, yea that do poor men wrong, and oppress the needy, yea that say to your lords: bring hither, let us drink. Therefore the LORD hath sworn by his holiness: The days shall come upon

3. v.11 Other: plucte. v.12 Other: plucte.

you, that ye shall be lift up upon spears, and your posterity 3 carried away in fisher's paniers. Ye shall get you out at the gaps one after another, and in Armon shall ye be cast away, 4 sayeth the LORD. Ye came to Bethell for to work ungraciousness, and have increased your sins at Gilgal: ye brought your sacrifices in the morning, and your tithes unto the third day.
5 Ye made a thank offering of leaven, ye promised free will offerings, and proclaimed them. Such lust had ye, O ye children 6 of Israel, sayeth the Lord GOD. Therefore have I given you idle teeth in all your cities, and scarceness of bread in all your 7 places: yet will ye not turn unto me, sayeth the LORD. When there were but three months unto the harvest, I withheld the rain from you: yea I rained upon one city, and not upon another, one piece of ground was moistured with rain, and the 8 ground that I rained not upon, was dry. Wherefore two, yea three cities came unto one, to drink water: but they were not 9 satisfied, yet will ye not turn unto me, sayeth the LORD. I have smitten you with drouht and blasting: and look how many orchards, vineyards, fig trees, and olive trees ye had: the caterpillar hath eaten them up. But yet will ye not turn unto 10 me, sayeth the LORD. Pestilence have I sent among you, as I did in Egypt: your young men have I slain with the sword, and caused your horses be taken captive: I made the stinking savour of your tents to come up into your nostrils: yet will 11 ye not turn unto me, sayeth the LORD. Some of you have I overthrown as I overthrew Sodom and Gomorrah: so that ye were as a brand plucked* out of the fire. yet will ye not turn 12 unto me, sayeth the LORD. Therefore thus will I handle thee again, O Israel, yea even thus will I handle thee. Make thee 13 ready then to meet thy God, O Israel. For lo, he maketh the mountains, he ordaineth* the wind, he sheweth man what he is about to do: he maketh the morning and the darkness, he treadeth upon the high places of the earth: the LORD God of hosts is his name.

V Hear this word, O ye house of Israel, and why? I must make 2 this moan for you: The virgin Israel shall fall, and never rise up again: she shall be cast down upon her own ground, and no 3 man shall help her up. For thus sayeth the Lord GOD: Where as there dwelt a thousand in one city, there shall be left scarce

4. v.11 Other: plucte. v.13 Other: ordeneth.

an hundredth therein: and where yer dwelt an hundredth, there shall scarce ten be left for the house of Israel. Nevertheless, thus sayeth the LORD unto the house of Israel: Seek after me, and ye shall live, but seek not after Bethel. come not at Gilgal, and go not to Bersaba: for Gilgal shall be carried away captive, and Bethel shall come to naught. Seek the LORD, that ye may live: lest the house of Joseph be brent with fire and consumed, and lest there be none to quench Bethel. Ye turn the law to wormwood, and cast down righteousness into the ground. The LORD maketh the seven stars and the Orions, he turneth the night into day, and of the day he maketh darkness. He calleth the waters of the sea, and poureth them out upon the plain ground: the LORD is his name. He raiseth destruction upon the mighty people, and bringeth down the strong hold: but they owe him evil will, that reproveth them openly: and who so telleth them the plain truth, they abhor him. For so much then as ye oppress the poor, and rob him of his best sustenance: therefore, where as ye have builded houses of square stone, ye shall not dwell in them. Marvelous pleasant vineyards shall ye plant, but the wine of them shall ye not drink: and why? as for the multitude of your wickednesses and your stout sins, I know them right well. Enemies are ye of the righteous, ye take rewards, ye oppress the poor in judgement. Therefore the wise must now be fain to hold his tongue, so wicked a time is it. Seek after the thing that is good, and not evil, so shall ye live: yea the LORD God of hosts shall be with you, according to your own desire. Hate the evil, and love the good: set up right again in the port: and (no doubt) the LORD God of hosts shall be merciful unto the remnant of Joseph. If no (sayeth the LORD God, the God of hosts) there shall be mourning in all streets, yea they shall say in every street: alas, alas. They shall call the husband man to lamentation, and such as can mourn, to mourning. In all vineyards there shall be heaviness, for I will come among you, sayeth the LORD. Woe be unto them that desire the day of the LORD: Wherefore would ye have it? As for that day of the LORD, it shall be dark and not clear: Yea like as when a man runneth from a lion, and a bear meeteth* with him: or when he cometh into the house, and leaneth his hand upon the wall, a serpent

5. v.19 Other: meteth.

20 biteth him. Shall not the day of the LORD be dark, and not 21 clear? shall it not be cloudy, and no shine in it? I hate and abhor your holy days, and where as ye cense me when ye come 22 together I will not accept it. And though ye offer me brentof-ferings and meatofferings, yet have I no pleasure therein. As 23 for your fat thankofferings, I will not look upon them. Away with that noise of thy songs, I will not hear thy plays of music: 24 but see that equity flow as the water, and righteousness as a 25 mighty stream. O ye house of Israel, gave ye me offerings and 26 sacrifices those forty years long in the wilderness? Yet have ye set up tabernacles to your Moloch, and images of your Idols, yea and the star of your God Rempha, figures which ye made 27 to worship them. Therefore will I cause you be carried away beyond Damascus, sayeth the LORD, whose name is the God of Hosts.

VI O WOE be to the proud wealthy in Sion, to such as think them so sure upon the mount of Samaria: which hold them selves for the best of the world, and rule the house of Israel, 2 even as they list. Go unto Calne, and see: and from thence get you to Hemath the great city, and so go down to Gath of the Philistines: be they better at ease than these kingdoms, 3 or the border of their land wider than yours? Ye are taken out for the evil day, even ye that sit in the stole of willfulness: 4 Ye that lie upon beds of ivory, and use your wantonness upon your couches: ye that eat the best lambs of the flock, and the 5 fattest calves of the droave: ye that sing to the lute, and in 6 playing of instruments compare your selves unto David: ye that drink wine out of goblets, and anoint your selves with the 7 best oil, but no man is sorry for Joseph's hurt. Therefore now shall ye be the first of them, that shall be led away captive, 8 and the lusty cheer of the willful shall come to an end. The Lord GOD hath sworn even by himself (sayeth the LORD God of hosts), I hate the pride of Jacob, and I abhor his palaces: and 9 I will give over the city, with all that is therein: so that though 10 there remain ten men in one house, they shall die. So their next kinfolks and the dead buryers shall take them, and carry away their bones, and say unto him, that is in the innermer house: is there yet any more by thee? And he shall answer: they are all gone, hold thy tongue (shall he say) for they would 11 not remember the name of the LORD. Behold, the LORD is minded to smite the great houses, so that they shall decay: and the little houses, that they shall cleave a sunder. Who can run with horses, or plow with oxen upon the hard rocks of stone? For why, ye have turned true judgement into bitterness, and the fruit of righteousness into wormwood: Yea even ye, that rejoice in vain things: ye that say: have not we obtained horns in our own strength? Well, take heed, O ye house of Israel, sayeth the LORD God of hosts: I will bring a people upon you, which shall trouble you, from the way that goeth toward Hemath, unto the brook in the meadow.

The Lord GOD shewed me such a vision: behold, there stood one that made grasshoppers, even when the corn was shooting forth, after the king had clipt his sheep. Now when they undertook to eat up all the green things in the land, I said: O Lord GOD, be merciful, I beseech thee: who should else help up Jacob that is brought so low? So the LORD was gracious therein, and the LORD said: Well, it shall not be. Again, the LORD shewed me this vision: behold, the Lord GOD called the fire to punish withal, and it devoured the great deep: yea it consumed a part already. Then said I: O Lord GOD, hold thine hand: who should else help up Jacob that is brought so low? So the LORD was merciful therein, and the Lord GOD said: well, it shall not be. Moreover, he shewed me this vision: behold, the Lord stood upon a plastered wall, and a mason's trowel in his hand. And the LORD said unto me: Amos, what seest thou? I answered: a mason's trowel. Then said the Lord: behold, I will lay the trowel among my people of Israel, and will no more oversee them: but the high hill chapels of Isaac must be laid waste, and the churches of Israel made desolate: and as for the house of Jeroboam, I will stand up against it with the sword. Upon this sent Amasiah the priest to Bethel unto Jeroboam the king of Israel saying: Amos maketh the house of Israel to rebel against thee, the land can not away with his words. For Amos sayeth, Jeroboam shall die with the sword, and Israel shall be led away, captive out of their own land. And Amasiah said unto Amos: Get thee hence (thou that canst* see so well) and flee into the land of Juda: get thee there thy living, and prophesy there: and prophesy no more at Bethel, for it is the king's chapel, and the king's court. Amos answered, and said to Amasiah: As for me I am neither prophet, nor prophet's son: but a keeper of cattle. Now as I was breaking down mulberries, and going after the cattle, the LORD took me, and said unto me: Go thy way, and prophesy unto my people of Israel. And therefore, bear thou now the word of the LORD: Thou sayest: prophesy not against Israel, and speak nothing against the house of Isaac. Wherefore thus sayeth the LORD: Thy wife shall be defiled in the city, thy sons and daughters shall be slain with the sword, and thy land shall be measured out with the line. Thou thy self shall die in an unclean land, and Israel shall be driven out of his own country.

7. v.12 Other: cast.

VIII The Lord GOD shewed me this vision: and behold, there was a maunder with summer fruit. And he said: Amos, what seest thou? I answered: a maunder with summer fruit. Then said the LORD unto me: the end cometh upon my people of Israel, I will no more oversee them. In that day shall the songs of the temple be turned in to sorrow, sayeth the Lord GOD. Many dead bodies shall lie in every place, and be cast forth secretly. Hear this, O ye that oppress the poor, and destroy the needy in the lands, saying: When will the new month be gone, that we may sell vitaille, and the Sabbath, that we may have scarceness of corn: to make the bushel less, and the Sicle greater? We shall set up false weights, that we may get the poor under us with their money, and the needy also for shoes: yea let us sell the chaff for corn. The LORD hath sworn against the pride of Jacob: these works of theirs will I never forget. Shall not the land tremble, and all they that dwell therein, mourn for this? Shall not their destruction come upon them like a water stream, and flow over them, as the flood of Egypt? At the same time (sayeth the Lord GOD) I shall cause the sun* to go down at noon, and the land to be dark in the clear day. Your high feasts will I turn to sorrow, and your songs to mourning: I will bring sack cloth upon all backs, and baldness on every head: yea such a mourning will I send them, as is made upon an only begotten son, and they shall have a miserable end. Behold the time cometh (sayeth the Lord GOD) that I shall send an hunger into the earth: not the hunger of bread, nor the thirst of water: but an hunger to hear the word of the LORD: so that they shall go from the one sea to the other, yea

8. v.9 Other: Sone.

from the north unto the east, running about to seek the word of the LORD, and shall not find it. In that time, shall the fair 13 virgins and the young men perish for thirst, yea even they 14 that swear in the offense of Samaria, and say: as truly as thy God liveth at Dan, and as truly as thy* God liveth at Bersaba.
These shall fall, and never rise up again.

I saw the Lord standing upon the alter, and he said: smite IX the door check, that the posts may shake withal. For their cov-etousness shall fall upon all their heads, and their posterity shall be slain with the sword. They shall not flee away, there shall not one of them escape, nor be delivered. Though they 2 were buried in the hell, my hand shall fetch them from thence:
though they climb up to heaven, yet shall I cast them down: though they hide themselves upon the top of Carmel, yet shall I 3 seek them out, and bring them from thence: Though they creep down from my sight in to the deep of the sea, I shall command the serpent, even there to bite them. If they go away before 4 their enemies in to captivity, then shall I command the sword, there to slay them. Thus will I set mine eyes upon them, for their harm and not for their wealth. For when the Lord GOD 5 of hosts toucheth a land, it consumeth away, and all they that dwell therein, must needs mourn: And why? their destruction shall arise as every stream and run over them, as the flood in Egypt. He that hath his dwelling in Heaven, and groundeth 6 his tabernacle in the earth: He that calleth the waters of the sea, and poureth them out upon the plain ground: his name is the LORD. O ye children of Israel, are ye not unto me, even 7 as the Morians, sayeth the LORD: have not I brought Israel out of the land of Egypt, the Philistines from Caphtor, and the Syrians from Kir? Behold, the eyes of the LORD are upon the 8 realm that sinneth, to root it clean out of the earth: Nevertheless I will not utterly destroy the house of Jacob, sayeth the LORD. For lo, this I promise: though I sift the house of Israel 9 among all nations (like as they use to sift in a sieve) yet shall not the smallest gravel stone fall upon the earth: But all the 10 wicked doers of my people, that say: Tush, the plague is not so nye, to come so hastily upon us: those shall perish with the sword. At that time will I build again the tabernacle of David, 11 that is fallen down, and hedge up his gaps: and look what is

v.14 Other: the.

broken, I shall repair it: Yea I shall build it again, as it was 12 a fore time, that they may possess the remnant of Edom, yea and all such people as call upon my name with them, sayeth 13 the LORD, which doth these things. Behold, the time cometh (sayeth the LORD) that the plowman shall overtake the mower, and the treader of grapes, him that soweth seed. The mountains shall drop sweet wine, and the hills shall be fruitful,* 14 and I will turn the captivity of my people of Israel: they shall repair the waste cities, and have them in possession: they shall plant vineyards, and drink the wine thereof: they shall make 15 gardens, and enjoy the fruits of them.* And I will plant them upon their own ground, so that I will never root them out again from their land which I have given them sayeth the LORD thy God.*

The end of the Prophecy of Amos.

9. v.13 Other: Behold the days will come saith the LORD, that the earer shall overtake the reaper, and treader of grapes the sower of seed. And the mountains shall drop sweetness, and the hills shall be earable. v.14 Other: And I will turn the captivity of my people Israel: and they shall build the cities that are fallen in decay, and shall inhabit them, and shall plant vines and drink wine, and shall make gardens and eat the fruit of them. v.15 Other: And I will plant them their own land, and they shall not be any more plucked out of their land which I have given them saith the LORD thy God.

Abdy.

This is the vision that was shewed unto Abdy: Thus I hath the Lord GOD spoken upon Edom: We have heard of the LORD that there is an embassage sent among the Heathen: Up, let us arise, and fight against them. Behold, I will make thee small among the Heathen, 2 so that thou shalt be utterly despised. The pride of thine 3 heart hath lift thee up, thou that dwellest in the strong holds of stone, and hast made thee an high seat: Thou sayest in thine heart: who shall cast me down to the ground? But 4 though thou wentest up as high as the Aegle, and madest thy nest above among the stars: yet would I pluck thee down from thence. If the thieves and robbers came to thee by night, thou 5 taking thy rest: should they not steal, till they had enough? If the grape gatherers came upon thee, would they not leave thee some grapes? But how shall they rip Esau, and seek out 6 his treasures? Yea the men that were sworn unto thee, shall 7 drive thee out of the borders of thine own land. They that be now at one with thee, shall deceive thee, and overcome thee: Even they that eat thy bread, shall betray thee, or ever thou 8 perceive it. Shall not I at the same time destroy the wise men of Edom, and those that have understanding, from the mount 9 of Esau? Thy giants (O Theman) shall be afraid, for thorow the slaughter they shall be all overthrown upon the mount of Esau. Shame shall come upon thee, for the malice that thou 10 shewedest to thy brother Jacob: yea for evermore shalt thou perish, and that because of the time, when thou didst set thy 11 self against him, even when the enemies carried away his host, and when the aliens* came in at his ports, and cast lots upon Jerusalem, and thou thyself wast as one of them. Thou shalt 12 no more see the day of thy brother, thou shalt no more behold the time of his captivity: thou shalt no more rejoyce over the children of Juda, in the day of their destruction, thou shalt triumph no more in the time of their trouble. Thou shalt no 13 more come in at the gates of my people, in the time of their decay: thou shalt not see their misery in the day of their fall. Thou shalt send out no man against their host, in the day of

1. v.11 Other: aleauntes.

14 their adversity: neither shalt thou stand* waiting anymore at the corners of the streets, to murder such as are fled, or to take them prisoners, that remain in the day of their trou-15 ble. For the day of the LORD is hard by upon all Heathen.
Like as thou hast done, so shalt thou be dealt withal, yea thou 16 shalt be rewarded even upon thine head. For like wise as ye have drunken upon mine holy hill, so shall all Heathen drink continually: yea drink shall they, and swallow up, so that ye 17 shall be, as though ye had never been. But upon the mount Sion, there shall a remnant escape: these shall be holy, and the house of Jacob shall possess even those, that had them selves 18 afore in possession. Moreover, the house of Jacob shall be a fire, the house of Joseph a flame, and the house of Esau the straw: which they shall kindle and consume, so that nothing shall be left of the house of Esau, for the LORD himself hath 19 said it. They of the South shall have the mount of Esau in possession: and look what lieth upon the ground, that shall the Philistines have: the plain fields shall Ephraim and Samaria possess: and the mountains of Gilead shall Benjamin have.
20 And this host shall be the children of Israel's prisoners: Now what so lieth from Canaan unto Zareptah, and in Sepharad, that shall be under the subjection of Jerusalem: and the cities 21 of the south shall inherit it. Thus they that escape upon the hill of Sion, shall go up to punish the mount of Esau, and the kingdom shall be the LORD's.

The end of the book of the Prophecy of Abdij.

Jonas.

The word of the lord came unto the prophet Jonas the I son of Amithai saying: rise and get thee to Nineve 2 that great city and preach unto them, how that their wickedness is come up before me. And Jonas made 3 him ready to flee to Tharsis from the presence of the lord, and gat him down to Joppe, and found there a ship ready to go to Tharsis, and paid his fare, and went aboard, to go with them to Tharsis from the presence of the lord. But the lord hurled 4 a great wind in to the sea, so that there was a mighty tempest in the sea: in so much that the ship was like to go in pieces.
And the mariners were afraid and cried every man unto his 5 god, and cast out the goods that were in the ship in to the sea, to lighten it of them. But Jonas gat him under the hatches and laid him down and slumbered. And the master of the ship 6 came to him and said unto him, why slumberest thou? up! and call unto thy god, that God may think on us, that we perish not. And they said one to a nother, come and let us cast lots, 7 to know for whose cause we are thus troubled. And they cast lots. And the lot fell upon Jonas. Then they said unto him, 8 tell us for whose cause we are thus troubled: what is thine occupation, whence comest thou, how is thy country called, and of what nation art thou? And he answered them, I am an 9 Hebrew: and the lord God of heaven which made both sea and dry land, I fear. Then were the men exceedingly afraid and 10 said unto him, why didst thou so? For they knew that he was fled from the presence of the lord, because he had told them.
Then said they unto him, what shall we do unto thee, that the 11 sea may cease from troubling us? For the sea wrought and was troublous. And he answered them, take me and cast me in to 12 the sea, and so shall it let you be in rest: for I wot, it is for my sake, that this great tempest is come upon you. Nevertheless 13 the men assayed with rowing to bring the ship to land: but it would not be, because the sea so wrought and was so troublous against them. Wherefore they cried unto the lord and said: 14 O lord let us not perish for this man's death, neither* lay innocent blood unto our charge: for thou lord even as thy pleasure was,

1. v.14 Other: nether.

15 so thou hast done. And then they took Jonas, and cast him 16 into the sea, and the sea left raging. And the men feared the lord exceedingly: and sacrificed sacrifice unto the lord: and 17 vowed vows. But the lord prepared a great fish, to swallow up Jonas. And so was Jonas in the bowels of the fish three days and three nights.

II And Jonas prayed unto the lord his god out of the bowels of 2 the fish. And he said: in my tribulation I called unto the lord, and he answered me: out of the belly of hell I cried, and thou 3 heardest my voice. For thou hadst cast me down deep in the midst* of the sea: and the flood compassed me about: and all 4 thy waves and rolls of water went over me: and I thought that I had been cast away out of thy sight. But I will yet again look 5 toward thy holy temple. The water compassed me even unto the very soul of me: the deep lay about me: and the weeds 6 were wrapped about mine head. And I went down unto the bottom of the hills, and was barred in with earth on every side for ever. And yet thou lord my God broughtest up my life again 7 out of corruption. When my soul fainted in me, I thought on the lord: and my prayer came in unto thee, even into thy holy 8 temple. They that observe vain vanities, have forsaken him 9 that was merciful unto them. But I will sacrifice unto thee with the voice of thanksgiving, and will pay that that I have 10 vowed, that saving cometh of the lord. And the lord spake unto the fish: and it cast out Jonas again upon the dry land.

III Then came the word of the lord unto Jonas again saying:
 2 up, and get thee to Nineve that great city, and preach unto 3 them the preaching which I bade thee. And he arose and went to Nineve at the lordes commandment. Nineve was a great 4 city unto God, containing three days journey. And Jonas went to and entered in to the city even a days journey, and cried saying: There shall not pass forty days but Nineve shall be 5 overthrown. And the people of Nineve believed God, and proclaimed fasting, and arrayed themselves in sackcloth, as well 6 the great as the small of them. And the tidings came unto the king of Nineve, which arose out of his seat, and did his apparel off and put on sackcloth, and sat him down in ashes.
 7 And it was cried and commanded in Nineve by the authority of the king and of his lords saying: see that neither* man or

2. v.3 Other: middes. 3. v.7 Other: nether.

beast, ox or sheep taste ought at all, and that they neither* feed or drink water. And they put on sackcloth both man and 8 beast, and cried unto God mightily, and turned every man from his wicked way, and from doing wrong in which they were accustomed, saying: who can tell whether God will turn and 9 repent, and cease from his fierce wrath, that we perish not?
 And when God saw their works, how they turned from their 10 wicked ways, he repented on the evil which he said he would do unto them, and did it not.

Wherefore Jonas was sore discontent and angry. And he IV, 2 prayed unto the lord and said: O lord, was not this my saying when I was yet in my country? And therefore I hasted rather to flee to Tharsis: for I knew well enough that thou wast a merciful god, full of compassion, long yer thou be angry and of great mercy and repentest when thou art come to take punishment.
 Now therefore take my life from me, for I had lever die than 3 live. And the lord said unto Jonas, art thou so angry? And 4, 5 Jonas gat him out of the city and sat him down on the east side thereof, and made him there a booth and sat thereunder in the shadow, till he might see what should chance unto the city.
 And the lord prepared as it were a wild vine which sprang up 6 over Jonas, that he might have shadow over his head, to deliver him out of his pain. And Jonas was exceeding glad of the wild vine. And the lord ordained a worm against the spring 7 of the morrow morning which smote the wild vine that it withered away. And as soon as the son was up, God prepared a 8 fervent east wind: so that the son beat over the head of Jonas, that he fainted again and wished unto his soul that he might 9 die, and said, it is better for me to die than to live. And God 9 said unto Jonas, art thou so angry for thy wild vine? And he said, I am angry a good, even on to the death. And the lord 10 said, thou hast compassion on a wild vine, whereon thou be-stowedest no labour nor* madest it grow, which sprang up in one night and perished in a nother: and should not I have 11 compassion on Nineve that great city, wherein there is a multitude of people, even above an hundred thousand that know not their right hand from the left, besides much cattle?

The end of the prophecy of Jonal.

Micheal.

I his is the word of the LORD, that came to Micheas the Morastite, in the days of Jothan, Ahaz, and Jehzekiah, kings of Judah: which was shewed him 2 upon Samaria and Jerusalem. Hear all ye people, mark this well O earth, and all that therein is: Yea the Lord GOD himself be witness among you, even the Lord from his
3 holy temple. For why? behold, the LORD shall go out of his place, and come down, and tread upon the high things of the 4 earth. The mountains shall consume under him, and the valleys shall cleave asunder: like as wax consumeth at the fire, 5 and as the waters run downward. And all this shall be for the wickedness of Jacob, and the sins of the house of Israel. But what is the wickedness of Jacob? Is not Samaria? Which are 6 the high places of Judah? Is not Jerusalem? Therefore I shall make Samaria an heap of stones in the field, to lay about the vineyard: her stones shall I cast into the valley, and discover 7 her foundations. All her Images shall be broken down and all her winnings shall be brent in the fire: yea all her Idols will I destroy: for why, they are gathered out of the hire of an whore, 8 and in to an whores hire shall they be turned again. Wherefore I will mourn and make lamentation, bare and naked will I go: I must mourn like the dragons, and take sorrow as the 9 ostriches: For their wound is past remedy: And why? it is come in to Judah, and hath touched the port of my people 10 at Jerusalem already. Weep not, lest they at Geth perceive it. Thou at Betaphra, welter thyself in the dust and ashes.
11 Thou that dwellest at Sephir, get thee hence with shame. The proud shall boost no more for very sorrow: and why? her neighbour shall take from her what she hath. The rebellious city hopeth, that it shall not be so evil: but for all that, the plague shall come from the LORD, even in to the port of Jerusalem.
12 The great noise of the chariots shall fear them, that dwell at Lachis, which is an occasion of the sin of the daughter of Sion, 13 for in thee came up the wickedness of Israel. Yea she sent her coursers into the land of Geth. The houses of lies will deceive the kings of Israel. And as for thee (O thou that dwellest at 14 Morassa) I shall bring a possession upon thee, and the plague of Israel shall reach unto Odolla. Make thee bald, and shave thee, because of thy tender children: Make thee clean bald as an Aegle, for they shall be carried away captive from thee. 16

Woe unto them, that imagine to do harm, and devise ungraciousness upon their beds, to perform it in the clear day: for their power is against God. When they covet to have land, they take it by violence, they rob men of their houses. Thus they oppress a man for his house, and every man for his heritage. Therefore thus sayeth the LORD: Behold against this household have I devised a plague, whereout ye shall not pluck your necks: Ye shall no more go so proudly, for it will be a perilous time. In that day shall this term be used, and a mourning shall be made over you on this manner: We be utterly desolate, the portion of my people is translated. When will he part unto us the land, that he hath taken from us? Nevertheless there shall be no man to divide thee thy portion in the congregation of the LORD. Tush, hold your tongue (say they) It shall not fall on this people, we shall not come so to confusion, sayeth the house of Jacob. Is the spirit of the LORD so clean away? or is he so minded? Truth it is, my words are friendly unto them that live right: but my people doth the contrary, therefore must I take part against them: for they take away both coat and cloak from the simple. Yea have turned yourselves to fight, the women of my people have ye shot out from their good houses, and taken away my excellent gifts from their children. Up, get you hence, for here shall ye have no rest. Because of their Idolatry they are corrupt, and shall miserably perish. If I were a fleshly fellow, and a preacher of lies, and told them that they might sit bibbing and bolting, and be drunken: O that were a Prophet for this people. But I will gather thee indeed, O Jacob, and drive the remnant of Israel all together. I shall carry them one with another, as a flock in the fold, and as the cattle in their stalls, that they may be quieted of other men. Who so breaketh the gap, he shall go before. They shall break up the port, and go in and out at it. Their king shall go before them, and the LORD shall be upon the head of them. 11 12 13

Hear, O ye heads of the house of Jacob, and yea leaders of the house of Israel: Should not ye know, what were lawful and right? But ye hate the good, and love the evil: ye pluck off 2 3 men's skins, and the flesh from their bones: ye eat the flesh of my people, and flay of their skin: ye break their bones, ye chop them in pieces as it were in to a cauldron, and as flesh 4 into a pot. Now the time shall come, that when they call unto the LORD, he shall not hear them, but hide his face from them, because that thorow their own Imaginations they have dealt 5 so wickedly. And as concerning the prophets that deceive my people, thus the LORD sayeth against them: When they have any thing to bite upon, then they preach that all shall be well: but if a man put not some thing in to their mouths, they 6 preach of war against him. Therefore your vision shall be turned to night, and your prophesying to darkness. The Sun* shall go down over those prophets, and the day shall be dark 7 unto them. Then shall the vision seers be ashamed, and the soothsayers* confounded: yea they shall be fain,* all the pack of them, to stop* their mouths, for they have not God's word.

8 As for me, I am full of strength, and of the spirit of the LORD, full of judgment and boldness: to shew the house of Jacob their 9 wickedness, and the house of Israel their sin. O hear this ye rulers of the house of Jacob, and ye judges of the house of Israel: ye that abhor the thing that is lawful, and wrest* aside 10 the thing that is straight: Ye that build up Sion with blood, 11 and Jerusalem with doing wrong. O ye judges, ye give sentence for gifts,: O ye priests, ye teach for lucre: O ye prophets, ye prophesy for money. Yet will they be taken as those that hold upon God, and say: Is not the LORD among us? Tush, 12 there can no misfortune happen us. Therefore shall Sion (for your sakes) be plowed like a field: Jerusalem shall become an heap of stones, and the hill of the temple shall be turned to an high wood.*

IV But in the latter days it will come to pass, that the hill of the LORD's house shall be set up higher then any mountains or 2 hills: Yea the people shall prease unto it, and the multitude of the Gentiles shall haste them thither, saying: Come, let us go up to the hill of the LORD, and to the house of the God of Jacob: that he may teach us his way, and that we may walk in his paths. For the law shall come out of Sion, and the word of 3 God from Jerusalem; And shall give sentence among the mul-

3. v.6 Other: Sonne. v.7 Other: saythsayers. v.7 Other: fayne. v.7 Other: stoppe. v.9 Other: wraist. v.12 Other: hye wodde.

titude of the Heathen and reform the people of far countries: so that of their swords they shall make plowshares, and scythes of their spears. One people shall not lift up a sword against another, yea they shall no more learn to fight: but every man 4 shall sit under his vineyard and under his fig tree, and no man to fray him away: for the mouth of the LORD of Hosts hath spoken it. Therefore, where as all people have walked every man 5 in the name of his own god, we will walk in the name of our GOD for ever and ever. At the same time, sayeth the LORD, 6 will I gather up the lame and the outcasts, and such as I have chastened: and will give issue unto the lame, and make of the 7 outcasts a great people: and the LORD himself shall be their king upon the mount Sion, from this time forth for evermore.
 And unto thee (O thou tower of Eder, thou stronghold of the 8 daughter Sion) unto thee shall it come: even the first lordship and kingdom of the daughter Jerusalem. Why then art thou 9 now so heavy? is there no king in thee? are thy counselors away that thou art so pained, as a woman in her travail? And 10 now (O thou daughter Sion) be sorry, let it grieve thee as a wife labouring with child: for now must thou get thee out of the city, and dwell upon the plain field: Yea unto Babylon shalt thou go, there shalt thou be delivered, and there the LORD shall lowse thee from the hand of thine enemies. Now also are there many 11 people gathered together against thee, saying what, Sion is cursed, we shall see our lust upon her. But they know not the 12 thoughts of the LORD, they understand not his counsel, that shall gather them together as the sheaves in the barn. There- 13 fore get thee up, O thou daughter Sion, and thresh* out the corn: For I will make thy horn iron. and thy claws brass, that thou mayest grind many people: their goods shalt thou appropriate unto the LORD, and their substance unto the ruler of the whole world.

After that shalt thou be robbed thyself, O thou robber's daugh^V ter: they shall lay siege against us, and smite the judge of Israel with a rod upon the cheek. And thou Bethleem Ephrata, 2 art little among the thousands of Juda, Out of thee shall come one unto me, which shall be the governour in Israel: whose outgoing hath been from the beginning, and from everlasting. In 3 the mean while he plagueth them for a season, until the time

4. v.13 Other: throsch.

that she (which shall bear) have born: then shall the remnant 4 of his brethren be converted unto the children of Israell. He shall stand fast, and give food in the strength of the LORD, and in the victory of the name of the LORD his God: and when they be converted, he shall be magnified unto the farthest parts of 5 the world. Then shall there be peace, so that the Assirian may come in to our land, and tread in our houses. We shall bring 6 up seven shepherds and eight princes upon them: these shall subdue the land of Assur with the sword, and the land of Nimrod with their naked weapons. Thus shall he deliver us from the Assirian, when he cometh within our land, and setteth his 7 foot within our borders. And the remnant of Jacob shall be among the multitude of people, as the dew of the LORD, and as the drops upon the grass, that tarrieth for no man, and wait-8 eth of no body. Yea the residue of Jacob shall be among the gentiles and the multitude of people, as the lion among the beasts of the wood, and as the Lion's whelps among a flock of sheep: which (when he goeth thorow) treadeth down, teareth 9 in pieces, and there is no man that can help. Thine hand shall be lift up upon thine enemies, and all thine adversaries 10 shall perish. The time shall come also, sayeth the LORD, that I will take thine horses from thee, and destroy thy chariots.
11 I will break down the cities of thy land, and overthrow all thy strongholds. All witchcrafts will I root out of thine hand, there 12 shall no more soothsayings be within thee. Thine Idols and thine Images will I destroy out of thee so that thou shalt no 13 more bow thy self unto the works of thine own hands. Thy groves will I pluck up by the roots, and break down thy cities.
14 Thus will I be avenged also, upon all the Heathen that will not hear.
15

VI Harken now what the LORD sayeth: Up, reprove the moun-2 tains, and let the hills hear thy voice. O hear the punishment of the LORD, ye mountains, and ye mighty foundations of the earth: for the LORD will reprove his people, and reason with 3 Israel: O my people, what have I done unto thee? or wherein 4 have I hurt thee? give me answer. Because I brought thee from the land of Egypt, and delivered thee out of the house of bondage? Because I made Moses, Aaron, and Miriam to 5 lead thee? Remember (O my people) what Balach the king of Moab had imagined against thee, and what answer that Balaam the son of Beor gave him, from Sethim unto Gilgal, that ye may know the loving-kindness of the LORD. What accept- 6 able thing shall I offer unto the LORD? shall I bow my knee to the high God? Shall I come before him with brentofferings, and with calves of a year old? Hath the LORD a pleasure in 7 many thousand rams, or innumerable streams of oil? Or shall I give my firstborn for mine offenses, and the fruit of my body for the sin of my soul? I will shew thee, O man, what is good, 8 and what the LORD requireth of thee: Namely, to do right, to have pleasure in loving-kindness, to be lowly, and to walk with thy God: that thou mayest be called a city of the LORD, 9 and that thy name may be righteousness. Hear (O ye tribes) who would else give you such warning? Should I not be dis- 10 pleased, for the unrighteous good in the houses of the wicked and because the measure is minished? Or should I justify the 11 false balances and the bag of deceitful weights, among those 12 that be full of riches unrighteously gotten: where the citizens deal with falsity, speak lies, and have deceitful tongues in their mouths? Therefore I will take in hand to punish thee, and to 13 make thee desolate because of thy sins. Thou salt eat, and not 14 have enough: yea thou shalt bring thyself down. Thou shalt flee, but not escape: and those that thou wouldest save, will I deliver to the sword. Thou shalt sow, but not reap: thou shalt 15 press out olives, but oil shalt thou not have, to anoint thyself withal: thou shalt tread out sweet must, but shall drink no wine. Ye keep the ordinances of Amri, and all the customs of 16 the house of Ahab: Ye follow their pleasures, therefore will I make thee waste, and cause thy inhabiters to be abhorred, O my people: and thus shalt thou bear thine own shame.

VII
 Woe is me: I am become as one, that goeth a gleaning in the harvest. There are no more grapes to eat, yet would I fain (with all my heart) have of the best fruit. There is not a godly 2 man upon earth, there is not one righteous among men. They labour all to shed blood, and every man hunteth his brother to death: yet they say they do well when they do evil. As the 3 prince will, so sayeth the judge: that he may do him a pleasure again. The great man speaketh what his heart desireth: and the hearers allow him. The best of them is but as a thistle, 4 and the most righteous of them is but as a brier in the hedge.
 But when the day of thy preachers cometh, that thou shalt be 5 visited: then shall they be wasted away. Let no man believe his friend, nor put his confidence in a prince. Keep the port of 6 thy mouth, from her that lieth in thy bosom: for the son shall put his father to dishonour, the daughter shall rise against her mother, the daughter-in-law against her mother-in-law: and a 7 man's foes shall be even they of his own household. Nevertheless I will look up unto the LORD, I will patiently abide God my 8 saviour: my God shall hear me. O thou enemy of mine, rejoice not at my fall, for I shall get up again: and though I sit in dark-9 ness, yet the LORD is my light. I will bear the punishment of the LORD (for why, I have offended him) till he sit in judgement upon my cause, and see that I have right. He will bring me 10 forth to the light, and I shall see his righteousness. She that is mine enemy shall look upon it, and be confounded, which now sayeth. Where is thy LORD God? Mine eyes shall behold her, when she shall be trodden down, as the clay in the streets.

11 The time will come, that thy gaps shall be made up, and the law shall go abroad: and at that time shall they come unto 12 thee, from Assur unto the strong cities, and from the strong cities unto the river: from the one sea to the other, from the 13 one mountain to the other. Notwithstanding the land must be wasted, because of them that dwell therein, and for the 14 fruits of their own Imaginations. Therefore feed thy people with thy rod, the flock of thine heritage which dwell desolate in the wood: that they may be fed upon the mount of Charmell, 15 Basan and Gilead as afore time. Marvelous things will I shew them, like as when they came out of Egypt. This shall the 16 Heathen see, and be ashamed for all their power: so that they shall lay their hand upon their mouth, and stop* their ears.
17 They shall lick the dust like a serpent, as the worms of the earth, that tremble in their holes. They shall be afraid of the 18 LORD our God, and they shall fear thee. Where is there such a God as thou? that pardonest wickedness, and forgivest the offenses of the remnant of thine heritage? He keepeth not his wrath for ever. And why? his delight is to have compassion: 19 he shall turn again, and be merciful to us: he shall put down our wickednesses, and cast all our sins into the bottom of the 20 sea. Thou shalt keep thy trust with Jacob, and thy mercy for Abraham, like as thou hast sworn unto our fathers long ago.

7. v.16 Other: stoppe.

The end of the prophecy of Micheal.

Nahum.

1 I his is the heavy burthen of Ninive, which Nahum 2 of Elchos did write, as he saw it. The LORD is a jealous God, and a taker of vengeance: yea a taker of vengeance is the LORD, and wrothful. The LORD taketh vengeance of his enemies, and reserveth displeasure 3 for his adversaries. The LORD suffereth long, he is of great power, and so innocent that he leaveth no man faultless before him. The LORD goeth forth in tempest and stormy weather, 4 the clouds are the dust of his feet. When he reproveth the sea, he drieth it up, and turneth all the floods to dry land.
Basan is desolate, Charmel and the pleasure of Libnus wasteth 5 away. The mountains tremble for him, the hills consume. At the sight of him the earth quaketh: yea the whole world, and 6 all that dwell therein. Who may endure before his wrath? Or who is able to abide his grim displeasure? His anger taketh on like fire, and the hard rocks burst in sunder before him.
7 Full gracious is the LORD, and a strong hold in time of trouble, 8 he knoweth them that put their trust in him: when the flood runneth* over, and destroyeth the place, and when the dark-9 ness followeth still upon his enemies. What do ye imagine then against the LORD on this manner? (Tush, when he hath 10 once made an end, there shall come no more trouble) For like as the thorns that stick together, and as the dry straw, so shall the drunkards be consumed together, even when they be full.
11 There come out of thee such as Imagine mischief, and give un-12 gracious counsel against the LORD. Therefore thus sayeth the LORD: Let them be as well prepared, yea and as many as they can, yet shall they be hewn down, and pass away. And 13 as for thee, I will vex thee, but not utterly destroy thee; And now will I break his rod from thy back, and burst thy bonds 14 in sunder. But the LORD hath given a commandment concerning thee, that there shall come no more seed of thy name.
The carved and casten Images will I root out of the house of thy God. Thy grave shall I prepare for thee, and thou shalt 15 be confounded. Behold, upon the mountains come the feet of him, that bringeth good tidings, and preacheth peace. O Ju-

1. v.8 Other: renneth.

dah, keep thy holy days, perform thy promises: for Belial shall come no more in thee, he is utterly rooted out.

The scatterer shall come up against thee, and lay siege to II the castle. Look thou well to the streets, make thy loins strong, arm thyself with all thy might: for the LORD shall restore 2 again the glory of Jacob, like as the glory of Israel. The destroyers have broken them down, and marred the wine branches.
 The shield of his giants glistereth, his men of war are clothed 3 in purple. His chariots are as fire, when he maketh him forward, his archers are well decked* and trimmed. The chariots 4 roll upon the streets, and welter in the highways. They are to look upon like cressettes of fire, and go swiftly, as the lightning.
 When he doth but warn his giants, they all in their array, and 5 hastily they climb up the walls: yea the engines of the war are prepared already. The water ports shall be opened, and the 6 king's palace shall fall. The queen herself shall be led away 7 captive, and her gentlewomen shall mourn as the doves, and grown within their hearts. Ninive is like a pool full of water, 8 but then shall they be fain to flee. Stand, stand,* (shall they cry) and there shall not one turn back. Away with the sil- 9 ver, away with the gold: for here is no end of treasure. There shall be a multitude of all manner costly ornaments. Thus 10 must she be spoiled, emptied and clean stripped out: that their hearts may be melted away, their knees tremble, all their loins be weak, and their faces black as a pot. Where is now the 11 dwelling of the lions,* and the pasture of the lion's whelps? where the lion and the lioness went with the whelps, and no man frayed them away? But the lion spoiled enough for his 12 young ones, and devoured for his lioness: he filled his dens with his prey, and his dwelling place with that he had ravished. Behold, I will upon thee, sayeth the LORD of Hosts, 13 and will set fire upon thy chariots that they shall smoke with-all, and the sword shall devour the* young lions. I will make an end of thy spoiling from out of the earth, and the voice of thy messengers shall no more be heard.

Woe to the* bloodthirsty city, which is all full of lies and III robbery, and will not leave off from ravishing. There a man 2 may hear scourging, rushing, the noise of the wheels, the cry-

2. v.3 Other: deckte. v.8 Other: stode. v.11 Other: lyos. v.13 Other: thy.
3. v.1 Other: that.

3 ing of the horses, and the rolling of the chariots. There the horsemen get up with naked swords, and glistening spears:
There lieth a multitude slain, and a great heap of dead bod-4 dies: There is no end of dead coarses, yea men fall upon their bodies: And that for the great and manifold whoredom, of the fair and beautiful harlot: which is a mistress of witchcraft, yea and selleth the people thorow her whoredom, and the na-5 tions thorow her witchcraft. Behold, I will upon thee (sayeth the LORD of Hosts) and will pull thy clothes over thy head: that I may shew thy nakedness among the Heathen, and thy 6 shame among the kingdoms. I will cast dirt upon thee, to 7 make thee be abhorred, and a gasing stock: Yea all they that look upon thee, shall start back, and say: Ninive is destroyed.
Who will have pity upon thee: where shall I seek one to comfort 8 thee? Art thou better than the great city of Alexandria: that lay in the waters, and had the waters round about it: which 9 was strongly fenced and walled with the sea? * Ethiopia and Egypt were her strength, and that exceedingly great above 10 measure. Africa and Libya were her helpers, yet was she driven away, and brought into captivity: her young children were smitten down at the head of every street, the lots were cast for the most ancient men in her, and all her mighty men 11 were bound in chains. Even so shalt thou also be drunken, 12 and hide thyself, and seek some help against thine enemy. All thy strong cities shall be like fig trees with ripe figs: which when a man shaketh, they fall into the mouth of the eater.
13 Behold, thy people within thee are but women: the ports of thy land shall be open unto thine enemies, and the fire shall 14 devour thy barrs. Draw water now against thou be besieged, make up thy strongholds, go into the clay, temper the mortar, 15 make strong brick: yet the fire shall consume thee, the sword shall destroy thee, yea as the locust doth, so shall it eat thee up. It shall fall heavily upon thee as the locusts, yea right 16 heavily shall it fall upon thee, even as the grasshoppers. Thy merchants have been numbered with* the stars of heaven: but now shall they spread abroad as the locusts, and flee their way: 17 Thy lords are as the grasshoppers, and thy captains as the multitude of grasshoppers: which when they be cold, remain in the hedges: but when the Sun* is up, they flee away, and no man can tell where they are become. Thy shepherds are asleep (O 18 king of Assur) thy worthies are laid down: thy people is scattered abroad upon the mountains, and no man gathereth them together again. Thy wound can not be hid, thy plague is so 19 sore. All they that hear this of thee, shall clap their hands over thee. For what is he, to whom thou hast not alway been doing hurt.

The end of the Prophecy of Nahum.

Abacuk.

I his is the heavy burthen, which the Prophet Abacuk 2 did see. O LORD, how long shall I cry, and thou wilt 3 not hear? How long shall I complain unto thee, suffering wrong, and thou wilt not help? Why letttest thou me see weariness and labour? Tyranny and violence are before 4 me, power over goeth right: for the law is torn in pieces, and there can no right judgement go forth. And why? the ungodly 5 is more set by than the righteous: this is the cause, that wrong judgement proceedeth. Behold among the Heathen, and look 6 well: wonder at it, and be abashed: For I will do a thing in your time, which though it be told you, ye shall not believe. For lo, I will raise up the Cauldees, that bitter and swift people: which 7 shall go as wide as the land is, to take possession of dwelling places, that be not their own. A grim and boisterous people is 8 it, these shall sit in judgement and punish. Their horses are swifter than the cats of the mountain, and bite sorer than the 9 wolves in the evening. Their horsemen come by great heaps from far, they flee hastily to devour as the Aegle. They come 10 all to spoil: out of them cometh an east wind, which bloweth and gathereth their captives, like as the sand. They shall 11 mock the kings, and laugh the princes to scorn. They shall not set by any strong hold, for they shall lay ordinance against it, and take it. Then shall they take a fresh courage unto 12 them, to go forth and do more evil, and so ascribe that power unto their God. But thou O LORD my God, my holy one thou art from the beginning, therefore shall we not die. O LORD, 13 thou hast ordained* them for punishment, and set them to reprove the mighty. Thine eyes are clean, thou mayest not see evil, thou can not behold the thing that is wicked. Wherefore then doest thou look upon the ungodly, and holdest thy tongue, 14 when the wicked devoureth the man that is better than himself? Thou makest men as the fish in the sea, and like as the 15 creeping beasts, that have no guide. They take up all with their angle, they catch it in their net, and gather it in their 16 yarn: whereof they rejoyce and are glad. Therefore offer they unto their net, and do sacrifice unto their yarn: because that

1. v.12 Other: ordered.

thorow it their portions is become so fat, and their meat so plenteous. Wherefore they cast out their net again, and never cease to slay the people. 17

I stood upon my watch, and set me upon my bulwark, to look and see what he would say unto me, and what answer I should give him that reproveth me. But the LORD answered me, and said: Write the vision plainly upon thy tables, that who so cometh by, may read it: for the vision is yet far off for a time, but at the last it shall come to pass, and not fail. And though he tarry, yet wait thou for him, for in very deed he will come, and not be slack. Behold, who so will not believe, his soul shall not prosper: but the just shall live by his faith. Like as the wine deceiveth the drunkard, even so the proud shall fail and not endure. He openeth his desire wide up as the hell, and is as unsatiabable as death. All Heathen gathereth he to him, and heapeth unto him all people. But shall not all these take up a proverb against him, and mock him with a byword, and say: Woe unto him that heapeth up other men's goods? How long will he lade him self with thick clay? O how suddenly will they stand up, that shall bite thee, and awake, that shall tear thee in pieces? yea thou shalt be their prey. Seeing thou hast spoiled many Heathen, therefore shall the remnant of the people spoil thee: because of men's blood, and for the wrong done in the land, in the city and unto all them that dwell therein. Woe unto him, that covetously gathereth evil gotten goods into his house: that he may set his nest on high,* to escape from the power of misfortune. Thou hast devised the shame of thine own house, for thou hast slain too much people, and hast willfully offended: so that the very stones of the wall shall cry out of it, and the timber that lieth betwixt the joints of the building shall answer. Woe unto him, that buildeth the town with blood, and maintaineth the city with unrighteousness. Shall not the LORD of Hosts bring this to pass, that the labourers of the people shall be brent with a great fire, and that the thing where upon the people have wearied themselves, shall be lost? For the earth shall be full of knowledge of the LORD's honour, like as the waters that cover the sea. Woe unto him that giveth his neighbour drink, to get him wrothfull displeasure for his drunkenness: that he may II

2. v.9 Other: an hye.

16 see his privates.* Therefore with shame shalt thou be filled, in stead of honour. Drink thou also, till thou slumber withall: for the cup of the LORD's right hand shall compass thee about, 17 and shameful spewing instead of thy worship. For the wrong that thou hast done in Libanus, shall overwhelm thee, and the wild beasts shall make thee afraid: because of men's blood, and for the wrong done in the land, in the city, and to all such as 18 dwell therein. What help then will the Image do, whom the workman hath fashioned? Or the vain cast Image, wherein because the craftsmen putteth his trust, therefore maketh he 19 dumb Idols? Woe unto him, that sayeth unto a piece of wood: arise, and to a dumb stone: stand up. For what instruction may such one give? Behold, it is laid over with gold and silver, 20 and there is no breath in it. But the LORD in his holy temple is he, whom all the world should fear.

III, 2 A prayer of the prophet Abacuc for the ignoraunce.* O LORD, when I heard speak of thee, I was afraid. The work thou hast taken in hand, shalt thou perform in his time, O LORD: and when thy time cometh, thou shalt declare it. In thy very wrath 3 thou thinkest upon mercy. God cometh from Theman, and 4 the holy one from the mount of Pharan. Sela. His glory covereth the heavens, and the earth is full of his praise. His shine is as the sun,* and beams of light go out of his hands, there 5 is his power hid. Destruction goeth before him, and burning 6 cressettes go from his feet. He standeth, and measureth the earth. He looketh, and the people consume away, the mountains of the world fall down to powder, and the hills are fain 7 to bow themselves, for his goings are everlasting and sure. I saw, that the pavilions of the Morians and the tents of the land 8 of Madian were vexed for weariness. Wast thou not angry, O LORD, in the waters? was not thy wrath in the floods, and thy displeasure in the sea? Yes, when thou satest upon thine 9 horse, and when thy chariots had the victory. Thou shewedst thy bow openly, like as thou hadst promised with an oath unto the tribes. Selah. Thou didst divide the waters of the earth.
 10 When the mountains saw thee, they were afraid, the water stream went away: the deep made a noise at the lifting up 11 of thine hand. The Sun* and Moon remained still in their habitation. Thine arrows went out glistening, and thy spears v.15 Other: prevytees. 3. v.1 Other: ignoraunt. v.4 Other: sonne. v.11 Other: Sonne.

as the shine of the lightning. Thou trodest down the land in 12 thine anger, and didst throshe the Heathen in thy displeasure.
Thou camest forth to help thy people, to help thine anointed. 13 Thou smotest down the head in the house of the ungodly, and discoveredest his foundations, even unto the neck of him. Selah. Thou cursest his scepters, the captain of his men of war: 14 which come as a stormy wind to scatter me abroad, and are glad when they may eat up the poor secretly. Thou makest 15 a way for thine horses in the sea, even in the mud of great waters. When I hear this, my body is vexed, my lips trem- 16 ble at the voice thereof, my bones corrupt, I am afraid where I stand. O that I might rest in the day of trouble, that I might go up unto our people, which are already prepared. For the fig 17 trees shall not be green, and the vines shall bear no fruit. The labour of the olive shall be but lost, and the land shall bring no corn: the sheep shall be taken out of the fold, and there shall be no cattle in the stalls. But as for me, I will be glad in the 18 LORD, and will rejoice in God my Saviour. The LORD God is 19 my strength, he shall make my feet as the feet of harts: and he which giveth the victory, shall bring me to my high places, singing upon my psalms.

The end of the prophecy of Abacuc.

Sophony.

I his is the word of the LORD, which came unto Sophony the son of Chusi, the son of Gedoliah, the son of Amariah the son of Hezkiah: in the time of Josiah the son of Amon king of Judah. I will gather up all things in the land (sayeth the LORD) I will gather up man and beast: I will gather up the fowls in the air and the fish in the sea (to the great decay of the wicked) and will utterly destroy the men out of the land, sayeth the LORD. I will stretch out mine hand upon Judah, and upon all such as dwell at Jerusalem. Thus will I root out the remnant of Baal from this place, and the names of the Remurins and priests: yea and such as upon their house tops worship and bow them selves unto the host of heaven: which swear by the LORD, and by their Malchom also: which start back from the LORD, and neither seek after the LORD, nor regard him. Be still at the presence of the Lord GOD, for the day of the LORD is at hand: yea the LORD hath prepared a slain offering, and called his guests thereto. And thus shall it happen in the day of the LORD's a slain offering: I will visit the princes, the king's children, and all such as wear strange clothing. In the same day also will I visit all those, that tread over the threshold so proudly, which fill their lords' house with robbery and falsity. At the same time (sayeth the LORD) there shall be heard a great cry from the fish port and an howling from the other port, and a great murder from the hills. Howl ye that dwell in the mill, for all the merchant people are gone, and all they that were laden with silver, are rooted out. At the same time will I seek thorow Jerusalem with lanterns, and visit them that continue in their dregs, and say in their hearts: Tush, the LORD will do neither good nor evil. Their goods shall be spoiled, and their houses laid waste: They shall build houses, and not dwell in them: they shall plant vineyards, but not drink the wine thereof. For the great day of the LORD is at hand, it is heard by, and cometh on a pace. Horrible is the tidings of the LORD's day then shall the giant cry out: for that day is a day of wrath, a day of trouble and heaviness, a day of utter destruction and misery, a dark and gloomy day, a cloudy and stormy day, a day of the noise of trumpets and shawmes, against the strong cities and high towers. I will bring the people to such vexation, that they shall go about like blind men, because they have sinned against the LORD. Their blood shall be shed as the dust, and their bodies as the mire. Neither their silver nor their gold shall be able to deliver them in that wrathful day of the LORD, but the whole land shall be consumed thorow the fire of his jealousy: for he shall soon make clean riddance of all them that dwell in the land.

Come together and gather you, O* froward people: Or the thing go forth that is concluded, and or the time be passed away as the dust: or the fearful wrath of the LORD come upon you, yea or the day of the LORD's sore displeasure come upon you. Seek the LORD all ye* meek hearted upon earth, ye that work after his judgement: seek righteousness, seek lowliness: that ye may be defended in the wrothfull day of the LORD. For Gaza shall be destroyed, and Ascalon shall be laid waste. They shall cast out Asood at the noon day, and Accaron shall be plucked* up by the roots. Woe unto you that dwell upon the sea coast, ye murderous people: the word of the LORD shall come upon you. O Canaan thou land of the Phillistines, I will destroy thee, so that there shall no man dwell in thee any more: and as for the sea coast, it shall be herdmen's cottages and sheep folds: yea it shall be a portion for such as remain of the house of Juda, to feed there upon. In the houses of Ascalon shall they rest toward the night: for the LORD their God shall visit them, and turn away their captivity. I have heard the despite of Moab, and the blasphemies of the children of Ammon how they have shamefully intreated my people, and magnified themselves within the borders of their land. Therefore as truly as I live (sayeth the LORD of Hosts the God of Israel) Moab shall be as Sodom, and Ammon as Gomora: even dry thorn hedges, salt pits and perpetual wilderness. The residue of my folk shall spoil them, the remnant of my people shall have them in possession. This shall happen unto them for their pride, because they have dealt so shamefully with the LORD of Hosts' people, and magnified them selves above them. The LORD shall be grim* upon them, and destroy all the goods in the land. And all the Isles of the Heathen shall worship him,

2. v.1 Other: ye. v.3 Other: yea. v.4 Other: pluckte. v.11 Other: grimme.

12 every man in his place. Ye Morians also shall perish with my 13 sword: Yea he shall stretch out his hand over the north, and destroy Assur. As for Nivive, he shall make it desolate, dry and 14 waste. The flocks and all the beasts of the people shall lie in the midst of it, pelicans and storks shall abide in the upper posts of it, fowls shall sing in the windows, and ravens shall sit upon the balks, for the borders of Cedar shall be riven down.
15 This is the proud and careless city, that said in her heart: I am, and there is else none. O how is she made so waste, that the beasts lie therein? Who so goeth by, mocketh her, and pointeth at her with his finger.

III, 2 Woe to the abominable, filthy and cruel city: which will not hear, nor be reformed. Her trust is not in the LORD, neither 3 will she hold her to her God. Her rulers within her are as roaring lions: her judges are as wolves in the evening, which leave 4 nothing behind them till the morrow. Her prophets are light persons and unfaithful men: her priests unhallow the Sanctu-5 ary, and do wrong under the pretence of the law. But the just LORD that doth no unright, was among them, every morning shewing them his law clearly, and ceased not. But the ungodly 6 will not learn to be ashamed. Therefore will I root out this people, and destroy their towers: yea and make their streets so void, that no man shall go therein. Their cities shall be broken down, so that no body shall be left, nor dwell there any 7 more. I said unto them: O fear me, and be content to be reformed. That their dwelling should not be destroyed, and that there should happen unto them none of these things, wherewith I shall visit them. But nevertheless they stand up early, 8 to follow the filthiness of their own imaginations. Therefore ye shall wait upon me (sayeth the LORD) until the time that I stand up: for I am determind, to gather the people and to bring the kingdoms together, that I may pour out mine anger, yea all my wrothfull displeasure upon them. For all the world 9 shall be consumed with the fire of my jealousy. And then will I cleanse the lips of the people, that they may every each one call upon the name of the LORD, and serve him with one shoulder.
10 Such as I have subdued, and my children also whom I have scattered abroad, shall bring me presents beyond the waters 11 of Ethiopia. In that time shalt thou no more be confounded, because of all thy imaginations, where thorow thou hadst* offended me: for I will take away the proud boasters of thine honour from thee, so that thou shalt no more triumph because of my holy hill. In thee also will I leave a small poor simple 12 people, which shall trust in the name of the LORD. The rem- 13 nant of Israel shall do no wickedness, nor speak lies: neither shall there any deceitful tongue be found in their mouths: For they shall be fed, and take their rest, and no man shall make them afraid. Give thanks O daughter Sion, be joyful O Israel: 14 rejoice and be glad from thy whole heart, O daughter Jerusalem, for the LORD hath taken away thy punishment, and 15 turned back thine enemies. The king of Israel, even the LORD himself is with thee: so that thou needest no more to fear any misfortune. In that time it shall be said unto Jerusalem: fear 16 not, and to Sion: let not thine hands be slack, for the LORD 17 thy God is with thee, it is he that hath power to save: he hath a special pleasure in thee, and a marvelous love toward thee: yea he rejoiceth over thee with gladness. Such as have been 18 in heaviness, will I gather together, and take out of thy congregation: as for the shame and reproof that hath been laid upon thee, it shall be far from thee. And lo, in that time will I de- 19 stroy all those that vex thee: I will help the lame, and gather up the cast away: yea I will get them honour and praise in all lands, where they have been put to shame. At the same time 20 will I bring you in, and at the same time will I gather you. I will get you a name and a good report among all people of the earth, when I turn back your captivity before your eyes, sayeth

the LORD.

The end of the prophecy of Sophony.

Aggeus.

I  n the second year of king Darius, in the sixth month, the first day of the month, came the word of the LORD (by the Prophet Aggeus) unto Zorobabel the son of Salathiel the prince of Judah, and to Jesua the son of Josedech the high priest, saying: Thus speaketh the LORD of Hosts, and sayeth: This people doth say: The time is not yet come to build up the LORD's house. Then spake the LORD by the Prophet Aggeus, and said: Ye yourselves can find time to dwell in sealed* houses, and shall this house lie waste? Consider now your own ways in your hearts (sayeth the LORD of Hosts) ye sow much, but ye bring little in: Ye eat, but ye have not enough: ye drink, but ye are not filled: ye deck yourselves, but ye are not warm: and he that earneth any wage, putteth it in a broken purse. Thus sayeth the LORD of Hosts: Consider your own ways in your hearts, get you up to the mountain, fetch wood, and build up the house: that it may be acceptable unto me, and that I may shew mine honour, sayeth the LORD. Ye looked for much, and lo it is come to little: and though ye bring it home, yet do I blow it away. And why so, sayeth the LORD of Hosts? Even because that my house lieth so waste, and ye run* every man unto his own house. Wherefore the heaven is forbidden to give you any dew, and the earth is forbidden to give you increase. I have called for a drouth, both upon the land and upon the mountains, upon corn, upon wine, and upon oil, upon everything that the ground bringeth forth, upon men and upon cattle, yea and upon all handy labour. Now when Zorobabel the son of Salathiel, and Jesua the son of Josedech the high priest with the remnant of the people, heard the voice of the LORD their God, and the words of the Prophet Aggeus (like as the LORD their God had sent him) the people did fear the LORD. Then Aggeus the LORD's angel said in the LORD's message to the people: I am with you, sayeth the LORD. So the LORD waked up the spirit of Zorobabel the prince of Juda, and the spirit of Jesua the son of Josedech the high priest, and the spirit of the remnant of all the people: that they came and laboured, in the house of the LORD of Hosts

1. v.4 Other: syled. v.9 Other: renne.

their God. Upon the twenty fourth day of the sixth month, in 15 the second year of king Darius, the twenty first day of the seventh month, came the word II of the LORD by the Prophet Aggeus, saying: speak to Zorob- 2 abel the son of Salathiel prince of Juda, and to Jesua the son of Josedech the high priest, and to the residue of the people, and say: Who is left among you, that saw this house in her 3 first beauty? But what think ye now by it? Is it not in your eyes, even as though it were nothing? Nevertheless be of good 4 cheer, O Zorobabel (sayeth the LORD) be of good comfort, O Jesua thou son of Josedech, high priest: take good hearts unto you also, all ye people of the land, sayeth the LORD of Hosts 5 and do according to the word (for I am with you, sayeth the LORD of Hosts) like as I agreed with you, when ye came out of the land of Egypt: and my spirit shall be among you, fear ye not. For thus sayeth the LORD of Hosts: yet once more will I 6 shake heaven and earth, the sea, and the dry land: Yea I will 7 move all Heathen, and the comfort of all Heathen shall come, and so will I fill this house with honour, sayeth the LORD of Hosts. The silver is mine, the gold is mine, sayeth the LORD 8 of Hosts. Thus the glory of the last house shall be greater 9 than the first, sayeth the LORD of Hosts: and in this place will I give peace, sayeth the LORD of Hosts. The twenty fourth 10 day of the ninth month in the second year of king Darius, came the word of the LORD unto the Prophet Aggeus, saying: Thus 11 sayeth the LORD God of hosts: Ask the priests concerning the law, and say: if one bear holy flesh in his coat lape, and with 12 his lappe do touch the bread, potage, wine, oil or any other meat: shall he be holy also? The priests answered and said:

No. Then said Aggeus: Now if one being defiled with a dead 13 carcass, touch any of these: shall it also be unclean? The 14 Priests gave answer and said: yea, it shall be unclean. Then Aggeus answered, and said: even so is this people and this nation before me, sayeth the LORD: and so are all the works of their hands, yea and all that they offer, is unclean. And 15 now (I pray you) consider from this day forth, and how it hath gone with you afore: or ever there was laid one stone upon another in the temple of the LORD: that when ye came to a 16 corn heap of twenty bushels, there were scarce ten: and that when ye came to the wine press for to pour out fifty pots of 17 wine, there were scarce twenty. For I smote you with heat, blasting and hailstones in all the labours of your hands: yet was there none of you, that would turn unto me, sayeth the 18 LORD. Consider then from this day forth and afore, namely, from the twenty fourth day of the ninth month, unto the day that the foundation of the LORD's temple was laid: Mark it 19 well, is not the seed yet in the barn? have not the vines, the fig trees, the pomegranates and the olive trees been yet un-fruitful? but from this day forth, I shall make them to prosper.

20 Moreover the twenty fourth day of the month came the word of 21 the LORD unto Aggeus again saying: Speak to Zorobabel the prince of Juda, and say: I will shake both heaven and earth, 22 and overthrow the seat of the kingdoms, yea and destroy the mighty kingdom of the Heathen. I will overthrow the chariots, and those that sit upon them, so that both horse and man shall 23 fall down, every man thorow his neighbour's sword. And as for thee, O Zorobabel (sayeth the LORD of Hosts) thou son of Salathiel my servant: I will take thee (sayeth the LORD) at the same time, and make thee as a seal, for I have chosen thee, sayeth the LORD of Hosts.

The end of the prophecy of Aggeus.

Zachary.

In the eighth month of the second year of king Darius, I came the word of the LORD unto Zachary the son of Barachias, the son of Addo, the Prophet, saying: the LORD hath been sore displeased at your forefathers. And say thou unto them: thus sayeth the LORD of Hosts. Turn you unto me (sayeth the LORD of Hosts) and I will turn me unto you, sayeth the LORD of Hosts. Be not ye like your forefathers, unto whom the Prophets cried a fore time, saying: Thus sayeth the LORD God of hosts: Turn you from your evil ways, and from your wicked imaginations. But they would not hear, nor regard me, sayeth the LORD. What is now become of your forefathers and the prophets? are they yet still alive? But did not my words and statutes (which I commanded by my servants the Prophets) touch your forefathers? Upon this, they gave answer and said: like as the LORD of Hosts devised to do unto us, according to our ways and imaginations, even so hath he dealt with us. Upon the twenty fourth day of the eleventh month which is the month Sebat, in the second year of Darius, came the word of the LORD unto Zachary the son of Barachias, the son of Addo the Prophet, saying: I saw by night, and lo, there sat one upon a red horse, and stood still among the Myrtle trees, that were beneath upon the ground: and behind him were there red, speckled and white horses. Then said I: O my lord, what are these? And the angel that talked with me, said unto me: I will shew thee what these be. And the man that stood among the Myrtle trees, answered and said: These are they, whom the LORD hath sent to go thorow the world. And they answered the angel of the LORD, that stood among the myrtle trees, and said: We have gone thorow the world: and behold all the world dwell at ease, and are careless. Then the LORD's angel gave answer, and said: O LORD of Hosts, how long wilt thou be unmerciful to Jerusalem and to the cities of Juda, with whom thou hast been displeased now these seventy years. So the LORD gave a loving and comfortable answer unto the angel that talked with me. And the angel that communed with me, said unto me: Cry thou, and speak: Thus sayeth the LORD of Hosts: I am exceedingly jealous over Jeru-

15 salem and Sion, and sore displeased at the careless Heathen: for where as I was but a little angry, they did their best that I 16 might destroy them. Therefore thus sayeth the LORD: I will turn me again in mercy toward Jerusalem, so that my house shall be builded in it, sayeth the LORD of Hosts: yea and the plummet shall be laid abroad in Jerusalem, sayeth the LORD 17 of Hosts. Cry also, and speak: thus sayeth the LORD of Hosts:
 My cities shall be in good prosperity again, the LORD shall yet 18 comfort Sion, and choose Jerusalem. Then lift I up mine eyes 19 and saw, and behold, four horns. And I said unto the angel, that talketh with me: What be these? he answered me: These are the horses, which have scattered Juda, Israel, and Jerusa-20, 21 lem abroad. And the LORD shewed me four carpenters. Then said I: what will these do? He answered, and said: Those are the horns, which have so strowed Juda abroad, that no man durst lift up his head: But these are come to fraye them away, and to cast out the horns of the Gentiles, which lift up their horn over the land of Juda, to scatter it abroad.

II I lift up mine eyes again, and looked and behold, a man 2 with a measuring line in his hand. Then said I: Whither goest thou? And he said unto me: To measure Jerusalem, that I 3 may see how long and how broad it is. And behold, the angel that talked with me, went his way forth. Then went there out 4 another angel to meet* him, and said unto him: Run, speak to this young man, and say: Jerusalem shall be inhabited without any wall, for the very multitude of people and cattle, that shall 5 be therein: Yea I myself (sayeth the LORD) will be unto her 6 a wall of fire round about, and will be honoured in her. O get you forth, O flee from the land of the north, sayeth the LORD, ye whom I have scattered in to the four winds under 7 heaven, sayeth the LORD. Save thy self, O Sion, thou that 8 dwellest with the daughter of Babylon. For thus sayeth the LORD of Hosts: With a glorious power hath he sent me out to the Heathen, which spoiled you: for who so toucheth you, 9 shall touche the apple of his own eye. Behold, I will lift up mine hand over them: so that they shall be spoiled of those, which afore served them: and ye shall know, that the LORD of 10 Hosts hath sent me. Be glad, and rejoyce, O daughter of Sion: for, lo, I am come to dwell in the midst of thee, sayeth the

2. v.3 Other: mete.

LORD.* At the same time there shall many Heathen cleave to 11 the LORD, and shall be my people. Thus will I dwell in the midst of thee, and thou shalt know, that the LORD of Hosts hath sent me unto thee.* The LORD shall have Judah in his 12 possession for his part in the holy ground, and shall choose Jerusalem yet again.* Let all flesh be still before the LORD, 13 for he is risen out of his holy place.*

And he shewed me Jesua the high priest, standing before III the angel of the LORD, and Satan stood at his right hand to resist him. And the LORD said unto Satan: The LORD reprove 2 thee (thou Satan) yea the LORD that hath chosen Jerusalem, reprove thee. Is not this a brand taken out of the fire? Now 3 Jesua was clothed in unclean raiment, and stood before the angel: Which answered and said unto those, that stood before 4 him: take away the foul clothes from him. And unto him he said: Behold, I have taken away thy sin from thee, and will deck thee with change of raiment. He said more over: set a 5 fair mitre upon his head; So they set a fair mitre upon his head, and put on clothes upon him, and the angel of the LORD stood there. Then the angel of the LORD testified unto Jesua, and 6 spake, thus sayeth the LORD of Hosts: If thou wilt walk in my 7 ways, and keep my watch: thou shalt rule my house, and keep my courts, and I will give thee place among these that stand here. Hear O Jesua thou high priest, thou and thy friends 8 that dwell before thee, for they are wonderous people. Behold, I will bring forth the branch of my servant: for lo, the stone 9 that I have laid before Jesua: upon one stone shall be seven eyes. Behold, I will hew him out (sayeth the LORD of Hosts) and take away the sin of that land in one day. Then shall 10 every man call for his neighbour, under the vine and under the fig tree, sayeth the LORD of Hosts.

And the angel that talked with me, came again, and waked IV me up, as a man that is raised out of his sleep, and said unto 2 me: What seest thou? And I said: I have looked, and behold: a v.10 Other: Shout and be glad daughter of Sion for behold I come and dwell in the midst of thee saith the LORD. v.11 Other: And many nations shall cleave unto the Lord at that day and shall be my people. And I will dwell in the middle of thee, and thou shalt know that the LORD Sabaoth hath sent me unto thee. v.12 Other: And the Lord shall inherit Judah which is his part in the holy ground, and he shall choose Jerusalem yet again. v.13 Other: Let all flesh hold their peace before the Lord: for he is risen out of his holy temple.

candlestick all of gold, with a bowl upon it, and his seven lamps 3 therein, and upon every lamp seven stalks. And two olive trees thereby, one upon the right side of the bowl, and the other 4 upon the left side. So I answered, and spake to the angel that 5 talked with me, saying: O my lord what are these? The angel that talked with me answered and said unto me: knowest thou 6 not what these be? And I said; No, my lord. He answered, and said unto me: This is the word of the LORD unto Zorobabel, saying: Neither thorow an host of men, nor thorow strength, 7 but thorow my spirit, sayeth the LORD of Hosts. What art thou, thou great mountain, before Zorobabel? thou must be made even. And he shall bring up the first stone so that men 8 shall cry unto him: good luck, good luck. Moreover the word of 9 the LORD came unto me, saying: The hands of Zorobabel have laid the foundation of this house, his hands also shall finish it: that ye may know, how that the LORD of Hosts hath sent me 10 unto you. For he that hath been despised a little season, shall rejoice, when he seeth the tin weight in Zorobabel's hand. The seven eyes are the LORD's, which go thorow the whole world.
11 Then answered I, and said unto him: What are these two olive 12 trees upon the right and left side of the candlestick? I spake moreover, and said unto him: what be these two olive branches (which thorow the two golden pipes) empty themselves into the 13 gold? He answered me, and said: knowest thou not, what 14 these be? And I said: No, my lord. Then said he: These are the two olive branches, that stand before the ruler of the whole earth.

V So I turned me, lifting up mine eyes, and looked, and be-2 hold, a flying book. And he said unto me: what seest thou?
I answered: I see a flying book of twenty cubits long, and ten 3 cubits broad. Then said he unto me: This is the curse, that goeth forth over the whole earth: for all thieves shall be judged after this book, and all swearers shall be judged according to 4 the same, I will bring it forth (sayeth the LORD of Hosts) so that it shall come to the house of the thief, and to the house of him, that falsely sweareth by my name: and shall remain in his house, and consume it, with the timber and stones thereof.
5 Then the angel that talked with me, went forth, and said unto me: lift up thine eyes and see what this is that goeth forth.
6 And I said: what is it? He answered: this is a measure going out. He said moreover: Even thus are they (that dwell upon the whole earth) to look upon. And behold, there was lift up a 7 talent of lead: and lo, a woman sat in the midst of the measure. And he said: This is ungodliness. So he cast her into 8 the midst of the measure, and threw the lump of lead up in to an hole.* Then lift I up mine eyes, and looked: and behold, 9 there came out two women, and the wind was in their wings (for they had wings like the wings of a stork) and they lift up the measure betwixt the earth and the heaven. Then spake I 10 to the angel that talked with me: whither will these bear the measure? And he said unto me: in to the land of Sinear, to 11 build them an house: which when it is prepared, the measure shall be set there in his place.

Moreover I turned me, lifting up mine eyes, and looked: and VI behold, there came four chariots out from betwixt two hills, which hills were of brass: In the first chariot were red horse, 2 in the second chariot were black horse, in the third chariot 3 were white horse, in the fourth chariot were horses of divers colours and strong. Then spake I and said unto the angel that 4 talked with me: O lord, what are these? The angel answered, 5 and said unto me: These are the four winds of the heaven, which be come forth to stand* before the ruler of all the earth.
 That with the black horse went in to the land of the north, 6 and the white followed them, and the speckled horses went forth toward the south. These horses were very strong, and 7 went out: and sought to go and take their journey over the whole earth. And he said: get you hence, and go thorow the world. So they went thorowout the world. Then cried he upon 8 me, and spake unto me, saying: behold, these that go toward the north, shall still my wrath in the north country. And the 9 word of the LORD came unto me, saying: Take of the prison- 10 ers that are come from Babylon: namely, Heldai, Tobiah and Idaia: and come thou the same day, and go into the house of Josiah the son of Sophony. Then take gold and silver, and 11 make crowns thereof, and set them upon the head of Jesua the son of Josedeh, the high priest; And speak unto him: Thus 12 sayeth the LORD of Hosts: Behold the man whose name is the branch: and he that shall spring up after him, shall build up the temple of the LORD: Yea even he shall build up the tem- 13

5. v.8 Other: whole. 6. v.5 Other: stode.

ple of the LORD. He shall bear the praise, he shall sit upon the Lord's throne, and have the domination. A priest shall he be also upon his throne, and a peaceable counsel shall be betwixt them both. And the crowns shall be in the temple of the LORD, for a remembrance unto Heldai, Tobiah and Jedaia and Hen the son of Sophony. And such as be far off, shall come and build the temple of the LORD, that ye may know, how that the LORD of Hosts hath sent me unto you. And this shall come to pass, if ye will hearken diligently unto the voice of the LORD your God.

VII It happened also in the fourth year of king Darius, that the word of the LORD came unto Zachary in the fourth day of the ninth month, which is called Casleu: what time as Sarasar and Rogomelech and the men that were with them, sent unto Bethel for to pray before the LORD: and that they should say unto the priests, which were in the house of the LORD of Hosts, and to the prophets: Should I weep in the fifth month, and abstain, as I have done now certain years? Then came the word of the LORD of Hosts unto me, saying: Speak unto all the people of the land, and to the priests, and say: when ye fasted and mourned in the fifth and seventh month (now this seventy years) did ye fast unto me? When ye ate also and drank, did ye not eat and drink for your own selves? Are not these the words, which the LORD spake by his prophets afore time, when Jerusalem was yet inhabited and wealthy, she and the cities round about her: when there dwelt men, both toward the south and in the plain countries? And the word of the LORD came unto Zachary, saying: Thus sayeth the LORD of Hosts: Execute true judgment, and shew mercy and loving-kindness, every man to his brother. Do the widow, the fatherless, the stranger, and poor no wrong: and let no man imagine evil against his brother in his heart. Nevertheless they would not take heed, but turned their backs, and stopped their ears, that they should not hear: yea they made their hearts as an Adamant stone lest they should hear the law and words, which the LORD of Hosts sent in his holy spirit by the prophets afore time. Wherefore the LORD of Hosts was very wroth at them. And thus is it come to pass, that like as he spake and they would not hear: even so they cried, and I would not hear (sayeth the LORD of Hosts) but scattered them among all Gentiles, whom they knew not. Thus the land was made so desolate, that there traveled no man in it neither* to nor* fro, for that pleasant land was utterly laid waste.

So the word of the LORD came unto me, saying: Thus VIII, 2 sayeth the LORD of Hosts: I was in a great jealousy for Sion, yea I have been very jealous over her in great displeasure. Thus sayeth the LORD of Hosts: I will turn me again unto 3 Sion, and will dwell in the midst of Jerusalem: so that Jerusalem shall be called a faithful and true city, the hill of the LORD of Hosts, yea an holy hill.* Thus sayeth the LORD of 4 Hosts: There shall yet old men and women dwell again in the streets of Jerusalem: yea and such as go with staffs in their hands for very age.* The streets of the city also shall be full 5 of young boys and damsels, playing upon the streets.* Thus 6 sayeth the LORD of Hosts: If the residue of this people think it to be impossible in these days, should it therefore be un- 7 possible in my sight, sayeth the LORD of Hosts:* Thus sayeth 7 the LORD of Hosts: Behold, I will deliver my people from the land of the east and west,* and will bring them again: that 8 they may dwell at Jerusalem. They shall be my people, and I will be their God, in truth and righteousness.* Thus sayeth 9 the LORD of Hosts: let your hands be strong, ye that now hear these words by the mouth of the prophets which be in these days that the foundation is laid upon the LORD of Hosts' house, that the temple may be builded. For why? before these days, 10 neither men nor cattle could win anything, neither might any man come in and out in rest, for trouble: but I let every man go against his neighbour. Nevertheless I will now entreat the residue of this people no more as afore time, sayeth the LORD 11 of Hosts, but they shall be a seed of peace. The vineyard shall 12

7. v.14 Other: nether. v.14 Other: ner. 8. v.3 Other: Thus saith the LORD: I will return to Sion and will dwell in the middle of Jerusalem. And Jerusalem shall be called the city of truth and the hill of the LORD Sabaoth and an holy hill. v.4 Other: Thus saith the Lord Sabaoth: yet there shall sit both old men and old women in the streets of Jerusalem and men with staves in their hands for the multitude of days. v.5 Other: And the streets of the city shall be filled with boys and wenches playing in the streets thereof. v.6 Other: Thus saith the LORD Sabaoth, though it seem hard in the eyes of the remnant of this people, shall it seem hard in mine eyes saith the LORD Sabaoth. Thus saith the LORD Sabaoth:. v.7 Other: behold I will deliver my people from the east country and from the land of the going down of the sun. v.8 Other: and will bring them that they shall dwell in the midst of Jerusalem. And they shall be my people, and I will be their God in truth and righteousness.

give her fruit, the ground shall give her increase, and the heavens shall give their dew: and I shall cause the remnant of this 13 people, to have all these in possession. And it shall come to pass, that like as ye were a curse among the Heathen (O ye house of Juda and ye house of Israel) Even so will I deliver you, that ye shall be a blessing: fear not, but let your hands be 14 strong. For thus sayeth the LORD of Hosts: Like as I devised to punish you, what time as your fathers provoked me unto 15 wrath, sayeth the LORD of Hosts, and spared not. Even so am I determined now in these days, for to do well unto the house 16 of Juda and Jerusalem, therefore fear ye not. Now the things that ye shall do, are these: Speak every man the truth unto his neighbour, execute judgment truly, and peaceably within 17 your ports, none of you imagine evil in his heart against his neighbour, and love no false oaths: for all these are things that
18 I hate, sayeth the LORD. And the word of the LORD of Hosts came unto me, saying: thus sayeth the LORD of Hosts: The fast of the fourth month, the fast of the fifth, the fast of the seventh, and the fast of the tenth, shall be joy and gladness, and prosperous high* feasts unto the house of Juda: Only, love 20 the truth and peace. Thus sayeth the LORD of Hosts: There shall yet come people, and the inhabitants of many cities: and they that dwell in one city, shall go to another, saying: Up, let us go, and pray before the LORD, let us seek the LORD of 22 Hosts, I will go with you: Yea much people and mighty Heathen shall come and seek the LORD of Hosts at Jerusalem, and to pray before the LORD. Thus sayeth the LORD of Hosts: In that time shall ten men (out of all manner of languages of the Gentiles) take one Jew by the hem of his garment, and say: we will go with you, for we have heard, that God is among you.

IX The word of the LORD shall be received in Adrach, and Damascus shall be his offering: for the eyes of all men and of 2 the tribes of Israel shall look up unto the LORD. The borders of Hemath shall be hard thereby, Tyrus also and Sidon, for they 3 are very wise. Tyrus shall make herself strong, and heap up 4 silver as the sand, and gold as the clay of the streets. Behold, the Lord shall take her in, and have her in possession: he shall smite down her power in to the sea, and she shall be consumed 5 with fire. This shall Ascalor see, and be afraid. Gaza shall v.19 Other: hie.

be very sorry, so shall Accaron also, because her hope is come of confusion. For the king of Gaza shall perish, and at Ascalon shall no man dwell. Strangers shall dwell at Asdod, and as for 6 the pride of the Philistines, I shall root it out. Their blood will 7 I take away from their mouth, and their abominations from among their teeth; Thus they shall be left for our God, yea they shall be as a prince in Juda, and Accaron like as Jebusy. And 8 so will I compass my house round about with my men of war going to and fro: that no oppressor come upon them any more.
For that have I seen now with mine eyes. Rejoice thou greatly, 9 O daughter Sion be glad, O daughter Jerusalem. For low, thy King cometh unto thee, even the righteous and Saviour: Lowly and simple is he, he rideth upon an ass, and upon the foal of an ass I will root out the chariots from Ephraim and the horse 10 from Jerusalem, the battle bows shall be destroyed. He shall give the doctrine of peace unto the Heathen, and his dominion shall be from the one sea to the other, and from the floods to the ends of the world. Thou also thorow the blood of thy 11 covenant: shalt let thy prisoners out of the pit, wherein is no water. Turn you now to the strong hold, ye that be in prison, 12 and long sore to be delivered: And this day I bring the word, that I will reward thee double again. For Juda have I bent 13 out as a bow for me and Ephraim have I filled. Thy sons (O Sion) will I raise up against the Greeks, and make thee as a giant's sword: the LORD God shall be seen above them, and his 14 darts shall go forth as the lightning. The Lord GOD shall blow the trumpet, and shall come forth as a storm out of the south.
The LORD of Hosts shall defend them, they shall consume and 15 devour, and subdue them with sling stones. They shall drink and rage, as it were thorow wine. They shall be filled like the basins, and as the horns of the alter. The LORD their God 16 shall deliver them in the day, as the flock of his people: for the stones of his Sanctuary shall be set up in his land. O how 17 prosperous and goodly a thing shall that be: The corn shall make the young men cheerful, and the new wine the maidens.

Pray the LORD then by times to give you the latter rain, so X shall the LORD make clouds, and give you rain enough for all the increase of the field: For vain is the answer of Idols. The 2 soothsayers see lies, and tell but vain dreams: the comforth that they give, is nothing worth. Therefore go they astray like a flock of sheep, and are troubled, because they have no shepherd. My wrothful displeasure is moved at the shepherds, and I will visit the goats. For the LORD of Hosts will graciously visit his flock, the house of Juda, and hold them as a goodly fair horse in the battle. Out of Juda shall come the helmet, the nail, the battle bow, and all the princes together. They shall be as the giants, which in the battle tread down the mire upon the streets. They shall fight, for the LORD shall be with them, so that the horse men shall be confounded. I will comfort the house of Juda, and preserve the house of Joseph. I will turn them also, for I pity them, and they shall be like as they were, when I had not cast them off. For I the LORD am their God, and will hear them. Ephraim shall be as a giant, and their heart shall be cheerful as thorrow wine: Yea their children shall see it, and be glad, and their heart shall rejoice in the LORD. I will blow for them and gather them together, for I will redeem them. They shall increase, as they increased afore. I will sow them among the people, that they may think upon me in far countries: they shall live with their children, and turn again. I will bring them again also from the land of Egypt, and gather them out of Assiria. I will carry them into the land of Gilead and to Libanus and they shall want nothing. He shall go upon the sea of trouble, and smite the sea waves: so that all the deep floods shall be dried up. The proud boasting* of Assur shall be cast down, and the scepter of Egypt shall be taken away. I will comfort them in the LORD, that they may walk in his name, sayeth the LORD.

XI Open thy doors, O Libanus, that the fire may consume thy cedar trees. Howl ye Fir trees, for the cedar is fallen, yea all the proud are wasted away. Howl (O ye oak trees of Baasan) for the mighty strong wood is cut down. Men may hear the shepherds mourn, for their glory is destroyed. Men may hear the lion's whelps roar for the pride of Jordan is wasted away. Thus sayeth the LORD my God: feed the sheep of the slaughter, which shall be slain of those that possess them: yet they take it for no sin, but they that sell them, say: The LORD be thanked, I am rich: yea their own shepherds spare them not. Therefore will I no more spare those that dwell in the land (sayeth the LORD) but lo, I will deliver the people, every man into his

10. v.11 Other: boosting.

neighbour's hand, and in to the hand of his king: that they may smite the land, and out of their hands will not I deliver them. I my self feed the slaughter sheep (and poor flock verily) and took unto me two staffs: the one I called loving meekness, the other I called woe, and so I kept the sheep. Three shepherds destroyed I in one month, for I might not away with them, neither had they any delight in me. Then said I: I will feed you no more, the thing that dieth, let it die: and that will perish, let it perish, and let the remnant eat, every one the flesh of his neighbour. I took also my loving meek staff, and brake it, that I might disannul the covenant, which I made with all people. And so it was broken in that day. Then the poor simple sheep that had a respect unto me, knew thereby, that it was the word of the LORD. And I said unto them: if ye think it good, bring hither my price: if no, then leave. So they weighed down thirty silver pens, the value that I was prised at. And the LORD said unto me: cast it unto the potter (a goodly price for me to be valued at of them) and I took the thirty silver pens, and cast them to the potter in the house of the LORD. Then brake I my other staff also (namely woe) that I might lowse the brotherhead betwixt Juda and Israel. And the LORD said unto me: Take to thee also the staff of a foolish shepherd: for lo, I will raise up a shepherd in the land, which shall not seek after the things that be lost, nor care for such as go astray: he shall not heal the wounded, he shall not nourish the thing that is whole: but he shall eat the flesh of such as be fat, and tear their claws in pieces. O Idols shepherd, that leaveth the flock. The sword shall come upon his arm and upon his right eye. His arm shall be clean dried up, and his right eye shall be sore blinded.

The heavy burthen which the LORD hath devised for Israel. XII Thus sayeth the LORD, which spread the heavens abroad, laid the foundation of the earth, and giveth man the breath of life: Behold, I will make Jerusalem a cup of surfet, unto all the people that are round about her: Yea Juda himself also shall be in the siege against Jerusalem. At the same time will I make Jerusalem an heavy stone for all people, so that all such as lift it up, shall be torn and rent, and all the people of the earth shall be gathered together against it. In that day, sayeth the LORD, I will make all horses abashed, and those that ride upon them, to be out of their wits. I will open mine eyes upon the house of Judah, and smite all the horses of the people with 5 blindness. And the princes of Judah shall say in their hearts:

The inhabiters of Jerusalem shall give me consolation in the 6 LORD of Hosts their God. In that time will I make the princes of Judah like an hot burning oven with wood, and like a cresset of fire among the straw: so that they shall consume all the people round about them, both upon the right hand and the left. Jerusalem also shall be inhabited again: namely, in the 7 same place where Jerusalem standeth. The LORD shall preserve the tents of Judah, like as afore time: so that the glory of the house of David and the glory of the citizens of Jerusalem, shall be but little regarded, in comparison of the glory of Juda.
8 In that day shall the LORD defend the citizens of Jerusalem: so that the weakest then among them shall be as David: and the house of David shall be like as God's house, and as the 9 Angel of the LORD before them. At the same time will I go about to destroy all such people as come against Jerusalem.
10 Moreover, upon the house of David and upon the citizens of Jerusalem, will I pour out the spirit of grace and prayer, so that they shall look upon me, whom they have pierced: and they shall bewep him, as men mourn for their only begotten son: Yea and be sorry for him, as men are sorry for their first child.
11 Then shall there be a great mourning at Jerusalem, like as 12 the lamentation at Adremnon in the field of Maggadon. And the land shall bewail, every kindred by themselves: the kindred of the house of David themselves alone, and their wives 13 by themselves: The kindred of the house of Nathan themselves alone, and their wives by themselves: The kindred of the house of Levi themselves alone, and their wives by themselves: The kindred of the house of Semei themselves alone, 14 and their wives by themselves: In like manner, all the other generations, everyone by themselves alone, and there wives by themselves.

XIII

In that time shall the house of David and the citizens of Jerusalem have an open well, to wash of sin and uncleanness.
2 And then (sayeth the LORD of Hosts) I will destroy the names of Idols out of the land: so that they shall no more be put in remembrance. As for the false prophets also and the unclean 3 spirit, I shall take them out of the land: so that if any of them prophesy any more, his own father and mother that begat him, shall say unto him: Thou shalt die, for thou speakest lies under the name of the LORD: Yea his own father and mother that begat him, shall wound him, when he prophesieth. And 4 then shall those prophets be confounded, everyone of his vision when he prophesieth: neither shall they wear sack cloths any more, to deceive men withal. But he shall be fain to say: I 5 am no Prophet: I am an husband man, for so am I taught by Adam from my youth up. And if it be said unto him: How 6 came these wounds then in thine hands? He shall answer: Thus am I wounded in the house of mine own friends. Arise, 7 O thou sword, upon my shepherd, and upon the prince of my people, sayeth the LORD of Hosts: Smite the shepherd, and the sheep shall be scattered abroad, and so will I turn mine 8 hand to the little ones. And it shall come to pass (sayeth the LORD) that in all the land two parts shall be rooted out, but 9 the third part shall remain therein. And the same third part will I bring thorow the fire, and will cleanse them, as the silver is cleansed: Yea and try them, like as gold is tried. Then shall 10 they call upon my name, and I will hear them: I will say; It is my people. And they shall say; LORD, my God.

Behold, the day of the LORD cometh, that thou shalt be XIV spoiled and robbed: For I will gather together all the Hea- 2 then, to fight against Jerusalem: so that the city shall be won, the houses spoiled, and the women defiled. The half of the city shall go away into captivity, and the residue of the people shall not be carried out of the city. After that shall the LORD go 3 forth, to fight against those Heathen, as men use to fight in the day of battle. Then shall his feet stand* upon the mount 4 olivete, that lieth upon the east side of Jerusalem. And the mount olivete shall cleave in two, eastward and westward, so that there shall be a great valley: and the half mount shall remove toward the north, and the other half toward the south. 5 And ye shall flee unto the valley of my hills, for the valley of the hills shall reach unto Asia. Yea flee shall ye, like as ye fled for the earthquake in the days of Osiah king of Juda. And the LORD my God shall come, and all saints with him. In 6 that day shall it not be light, but cold and frost. This shall 7 be that special day which is known unto the LORD: neither day nor night, but about the evening time it shall be light. In 8

14. v.4 Other: stode.

that time shall there waters of life run out from Jerusalem: the half part of them toward the east sea, and the other half toward the uttermost* sea, and shall continue both summer 9 and winter. And the LORD himself shall be king over all the earth. At that time shall there be one LORD only, and his name 10 shall be but one. Men shall go about the whole earth, as upon a field: from Gibea to Remmon, and from the south to Jerusalem. She shall be set up, and inhabited in her place: from BenJamin's port, unto the place of the first port, and unto the corner port: and from the tower of Hananeel, unto the king's 11 wine presses. There shall men dwell, and there shall be no 12 more cursing, but Jerusalem shall be safely inhabited. This shall be the plague, wherewith the LORD will smite all people, that have fought against Jerusalem: Namely, their flesh shall consume away, though they stand upon their feet: their eyes shall be corrupt in their holes, and their tongue shall consume 13 in their mouth. In that day shall the LORD make a great sedition among them, so that one man shall take another by the hand, and lay his hands upon the hands of his neighbour.
14 Juda shall fight also against Jerusalem, and the goods of all the Heathen shall be gathered together round about: gold and 15 silver and a very great multitude of clothes. And so shall this plague go over horses, mules, camels, asses, and all the beasts 16 that shall be in the host, like as yonder plague was. Every one that remaineth then of all the people, which came against Jerusalem, shall go up yearly, to worship the King (even the 17 LORD of Hosts) and to keep the feast of tabernacles. And look what generation upon earth goeth not up to Jerusalem, for to worship the King (even the LORD of Hosts) upon the same 18 shall come no rain. If the kindred of Egypt go not up, and come not, it shall not rain upon them neither. This shall be the plague wherewith the LORD will smite all Heathen, that come 19 not up to keep the feast of tabernacles: Yea this shall be the sin plague of Egypt and the sin plague of all people, that go not 20 up to keep the feast of tabernacles. At that time shall the riding gear of the horses be holy unto the LORD, and the kettles in the LORD's house shall be like the basins before the altar: 21 yea all the kettles in Jerusalem and Juda, shall be holy unto the LORD of Hosts: and all they that slay offerings, shall come

v.8 Other: utmost.

and take of them, and dight them therein. And at that time there shall be no more Cananities in the house of the LORD.

The end of the prophesy of Zachary.

Malachi.

I  he heavy burthen, which the LORD sheweth against 2 Israel by Malachi. I have loved you, sayeth the LORD:
3 And yet ye say: wherein hast thou loved us? Was not 4 Esau Jacob's brother? sayeth the LORD: yet have I 5 loved Jacob, and hated Esau: Yea I have made his hills waste, 6 and his heritage a wilderness for dragons. And though Edom 7 said: well, we are destroyed, we will go build up again the 8 places that be wasted: yet (sayeth the LORD of Hosts) what 9 they builded, that brake I down: so that it was called a cursed 10 land, and people, whom the LORD hath ever been angry withal.
11 Your eyes have seen it, and ye your selves must confess, that 12 the LORD hath brought the land of Israel to great honour.
13 Should not a son honour his father, and a servant his master?
If I be now a father, where is mine honour? If I be the LORD, where am I feared? sayeth the LORD of Hosts. Now to you priests, that despise my name. And if ye say: wherein have we despised thy name? In this, that ye offer unclean bread upon mine altar. And if ye will say: wherein have we offered any unclean thing unto thee? In this that ye say: the altar of the LORD is not to be regarded. If ye offer the blind, is not that evil? And if ye offer the lame and sick, is not that evil? Yea offer it unto thy prince, shall he be content with thee, or accept thy person, sayeth the LORD of Hosts? And now make your prayer before God, that he may have mercy upon us: for such things have ye done. Shall he regard your persons, think ye, sayeth the LORD of Hosts? Yea what is he among you, that will do so much as to shut the doors, or to kindle the fire upon mine altar for naught? I have no pleasure in you, sayeth the LORD of Hosts: and as for the meatoffering, I will not accept it at your hand. For from the rising up of the son unto the going down of the same, my name is great among the Gentiles: Yea in every place shall there sacrifice be done, and a clean meatoffering offered up unto my name: for my name is great among the Heathen, sayeth the LORD of Hosts. But ye have unhallowed it, in that ye say, the altar of the LORD is not to be regarded, and the thing that is set thereupon, not worthy to be eaten. Now say ye: It is but labour and travail, and thus have ye thought scorn at it (sayeth the LORD of Hosts) offering robbery, yea the lame and the sick. Ye have brought me in a meatoffering, should I accept it of your hand? sayeth the LORD. Cursed be the dissembler, which hath in his flock one that is male, and when he maketh a vow, offereth a spotted one unto the Lord. For I am a great King (sayeth the LORD of Hosts) and my name is fearful among the Heathen. 14

And now (O ye priests) this commandment toucheth you: II
 If ye will not hear it, nor regard it, to give the glory unto my name, sayeth the LORD of Hosts, I will send a curse upon you, and will curse your blessings: yea curse them will I if ye do not take heed. Behold, I shall corrupt your seed, and cast dung in your faces: even the dung of your solempne feasts and it shall cleave fast upon you. And ye shall know that I have sent this commandment unto you: that my covenant which I made with Levi, might stand, sayeth the LORD of Hosts. I made a covenant of life and peace with him: this I gave him, that he might stand in awe of me: and so he did fear me, and had my name in reverence. The law of truth was in his mouth, and there was no wickedness found in his lips. He walked with me in peace and equity, and did turn many one away from their sins. For the priest's lips should be sure knowledge, that men may seek the law at his mouth, for he is a messenger of the LORD of Hosts. But as for you, ye are gone clean out of the way, and have caused the multitude to be offended at the law: ye have broken the covenant of Levi, sayeth the LORD of Hosts. Therefore will I also make you to be despised, and to be of no reputation among all the people: because ye have not kept my ways, but been partial in the law. Have we not all one father? Hath not one God made us? why doth every one of us then despise his own brother, and so break the covenant of our fathers? Now hath Judah offended: yea the abomination is done in Israel and in Jerusalem, for Judah hath defiled the Sanctuary of the LORD, which he loved, and hath kept the daughter of a strange God. But the LORD shall destroy the man that doth this, yea both the master and the scholar, out of the tabernacle of Jacob, with him that offereth up meatoffering unto the LORD of Hosts. Now have ye brought it to this point again, that the altar of the LORD is covered with tears weeping, and mourning: so that I will no more regard the meatoffering, neither 12 13

- 14 will I receive or accept anything at your hands. And yet ye say: wherefore? Even because that where as the LORD made a covenant betwixt thee and the wife of thy youth, thou hast despised her: Yet is she thine own companion and married wife.
- 15 So did not the one, and yet had he an excellent spirit. What did then the one? He sought the seed promised of God. Therefore look well to your spirit, and let no man despise the wife of his
- 16 youth. If thou hatest her, put her away, sayeth the LORD God of Israel and give her a clothing for the scorn, sayeth the LORD of Hosts. Look well then to your spirit, and despise her not.
- 17 Ye grieve the LORD with your words, and yet ye say: where-withall have we grieved him? In this, that ye say: All that do evil are good in the sight of God, and such please him. Or else where is the God that punisheth?

III Behold, I will send my messenger, which shall prepare the way before me: and the Lord whom ye would have, shall soon come to his temple, yea, even the messenger of the covenant whom ye long for. Behold, he cometh, sayeth the LORD of 2 Hosts.* But who may abide the day of his coming? Who shall be able to endure, when he appeareth? For he is like a gold-

3 smith's fire, and like washer's soap.* He shall sit him down to try and to cleanse the silver, he shall purge the children of Levi, and purify them like as gold and silver: that they may

4 bring meatofferings unto the LORD in righteousness.* Then shall the offering of Judah and Jerusalem be acceptable unto the LORD, like as from the beginning and in the years afore

5 time.* I will come and punish you, and I myself will be a swift witness against the witches, against the advouterers, against false swearers: yea and against those, that wrongfully* keep back the hirelings duty: which vex the widows and the fatherless, and oppress the stranger, and fear not me, sayeth the

6 LORD of Hosts. For I am the LORD that change not, and ye

3. v.1 Other: Behold, I send my messenger which shall prepare the way before me. And suddenly shall the Lord whom ye seek, come unto his temple, and the messenger of the covenant whom ye desire. Behold, he cometh saith the LORD Sabaoth.

v.2 Other: Who shall endure in the day of his coming, or who shall stand to behold him? For he is as trying fire and as the herb that fullers scour withal. v.3 Other: And he shall sit trying and purging silver, and shall purify the sons of Levi, and shall fine them as gold and silver. And they shall bring offering unto the LORD of righteousness. v.4 Other: And the sacrifice of Judah and of Jerusalem shall be delicious unto the LORD as in the old time and in the years that were at the beginning. v.5 Other: wrongeously.

(O children of Jacob) will not leave off: ye are gone away from mine ordinances, and since the time of your forefathers have ye not kept them. Turn you now unto me, and I will turn me unto you, sayeth the LORD of Hosts. Ye say: Wherein shall we turn? Should a man use falsity and deceit with God, as ye use falsity and deceit with me. Yet ye say wherein use we deceit with thee? In Tithes and heave offerings. Therefore are ye cursed with penury, because ye dissemble with me, all the sort of you. Bring every Tithe in to my barn, that there may be meat in mine house: and prove me withall (sayeth the LORD of Hosts) if I will not open the windows of heaven unto you, and pour you out a blessing with plenteousness. Yea, I shall reprove the consumer for your sakes, so that he shall not eat up the fruit of your ground, neither shall the vineyard be barren in the field, sayeth the LORD of Hosts: In so much that all people shall say, that ye be blessed, for ye shall be a pleasant land, sayeth the LORD of Hosts. Ye speak hard words against me, sayeth the LORD. And yet ye say: What have we spoken against thee? Ye have said: It is but lost labour, to serve God: What profit have we for keeping his commandments, and for walking humbly before the LORD of Hosts? Therefore may we say, that the proud are happy, and that they which deal with ungodliness, are set up: for they tempt God and yet escape. But they that fear God, say thus one to another: the LORD considereth and heareth it. Yea it is before him a memorial book, written for such as fear the LORD, and remember his name. And in the day that I will make (sayeth the LORD of Hosts) they shall be mine own possession: and I will favour them, like as a man favoureth his own son, that doth him service. Turn you therefore, and consider what difference is betwixt the righteous and ungodly: betwixt him that serveth God, and him that serveth him not.

For mark, the day cometh that shall burn as an oven: and all the proud, yea and all such as do wickedness, shall be straw: and the day that is for to come, shall burn them up (sayeth the LORD of Hosts) so that it shall leave them neither root nor branch. But unto you that fear my name, shall the Son of righteousnesse arise, and health shall be under his wings: ye shall go forth, and multiply as the fat calves. Ye shall tread down the ungodly: for they shall be like the ashes under the IV soles of your feet, in the day that I shall make, sayeth the LORD 4 of Hosts. Remember the law of Moses my servant, which I committed unto him in Oreb for all Israel, with the statutes 5 and ordinances. Behold, I will send you Elias the prophet: before the coming of the day of the great and fearful LORD.

6 He shall turn the hearts of the fathers to their children, and the hearts of the children to their fathers, that I come not and smite the earth with cursing.

The end of the Prophecy of Malachy; and consequently of all the Prophetes.

The Gospel According To St. Matthew.

This is the book of the generation of Jesus Christ the I son of David, the son also of Abraham. Abraham 2 begat Isaac: Isaac begat Jacob: Jacob begat Judas and his brethren: Judas begat Phares and Zaram 3 of Thamar: Phares begat Esrom: Esrom begat Aram: Aram 4 begat Aminadab: Aminadab begat Naasson: Naasson begat Salmon: Salmon begat Boos of Rahab: Boos begat Obed of 5 Ruth: Obed begat Jesse: Jesse begat David the king: David 6 the king begat Solomon, of her that was the wife of Ury: Solomon begat Roboam: Roboam begat Abia: Abia begat Asa: Asa be- 8 gat Josaphat: Josaphat begat Joram: Joram begat Osias: Os- 9 ias begat Joatham: Joatham begat Athas: Athas begat Ezechias: Ezechias begat Manasses: Manasses begat Amon: Amon be- 10 gat Josias: Josias begat Jechonias and his brethren about 11 the time of the captivity of* Babylon. * After they were led 12 captive* to Babylon, Jechonias begat Salathiel: Salathiel be- gat Zorobabel: Zorobabel begat Abiud: Abiud begat Eliachim: 13 Eliachim begat Azor: Azor begat Sadoc: Sadoc begat Achin: 14 Achin begat Eliud: Eliud begat Eleasar: Eleasar begat Matthan 15 Matthan begat Jacob: Jacob begat Joseph the husband of 16 Mary, of whom* was born that Jesus which* is called Christ. All the generations from Abraham to David are fourteen 17 generations. And from David unto the captivity of Babylon, are fourteen generations. And from the captivity of Babylon unto 18 Christ, are also fourteen generations. The birth of* Christ was on this wise, when his mother Mary was married* unto Joseph, before they came to dwell together, she was found with child by 19 the holy ghost. Then her husband Joseph being a perfect man, and loth to defame* her, was minded to put her away secretly. While he thus thought, behold, the angel of the Lord appeared 20 unto him in sleep* saying: Joseph the son of David, fear not to take unto thee, Mary thy wife. For that which is conceived in 21 her, is of the holy ghost. She shall bring forth a son, and thou shalt call his name Jesus.* For he shall save his people from 22 their sins. All this was done to fulfil that which was spoken 23 of the Lord, by the prophet saying: Behold a maid shall be with child, and shall bring forth a son, and they* shalt call his name Emmanuel, which is as much to say, by interpretation, 24 as God with us. * Joseph as soon as he awoke out of sleep, did as the angel of the Lord bade him, and took his wife unto him, 25 and knew her not, till she had brought forth her first son, and called his name Jesus.

1. v.11 Other: they were carried away to. v.12 Other: And. v.12 Other: brought. v.16 Other: which. v.16 Other: that. v.18 Other: Iesus. v.18 Other: betrothed. v.19 Other: make an example of. v.20 Other: a dream.

II When Jesus was born in* Bethlehem a town of* Jury,* in the time of king Herod. Behold, there came wise men from the 2 east* to Jerusalem saying: Where is he that is born king of the Jews? * We have seen his star in the east,* and are come 3 to worship him. Herod the king, after he had heard this,*
 4 was troubled, and all Jerusalem with him, and he sent for* all the chief priests and scribes of the people, and demanded* 5 of them where Christ should be born. * They said unto him: in Bethlehem a town of Jury. For thus it is written by the 6 prophet: And thou Bethlehem in the land of Jury, shalt not be the least as pertaining to* the princes of Juda. For out of thee shall come a* captain, which* shall govern my people Is-7 rael. Then Herod privily called the wise men, and diligently 8 enquired of them, the time of the star that appeared. And sent them to Bethlehem saying: when ye be come thither* search diligently for the child. And when ye have found him bring 9 me word, that I may come and worship him also. When they had heard the king, they departed, and lo the star which they saw in the east went before them, until* it came and stood 10 over the place where the child was. When they saw the star, 11 they were marvelously glad. And entered* into the house, and found the child with Mary his mother, and kneeled down and worshipped him, and opened their treasures, and offered 12 unto him gifts, gold, frankincense, and myrrh. And after they v.21 Other: Lat. Iesu, Heb. Yesua. v.23 Other: thou. v.24 Other: And.

 2. v.1 Other: at. v.1 Other: in. v.1 Other: Jury. v.1 Other: est. v.2 Other: Iewes?. v.2 Other: est. v.3 Other: When Herod the king had heard this, he. v.4 Other: gathered. v.4 Other: asked. v.5 Other: And. v.6 Other: concerning. v.6 Other: the.
 v.6 Other: that. v.8 Other: Go and. v.9 Other: till. v.11 Other: went.

were warned in their sleep,* that they should not go again to Herod, they returned into their own country another way. After that* they were departed, lo* the angel of the Lord appeared to Joseph in his sleep* saying: arise and take the child and his mother, and fly into Egypt, and abide there till I bring thee word. For Herod will seek the child to destroy him. Then he arose, and took the child and his mother by night, and departed into Egypt, and was there unto the death of Herod, to fulfil that which was spoken of the Lord, by the prophet, which saith: out of Egypt have I called my son. Then Herod perceiving that he was mocked of the wise men, was exceeding wroth, and sent forth and slew all the children that were in Bethlehem, and in all the coasts thereof, as many as were two year old and under, according to the time which he had diligently searched out of the wise men. Then was fulfilled, that which was spoken by the prophet Jeremy, saying: On the hills was a voice heard, mourning, weeping, and great lamentation. Rachel weeping for her children, and would not be comforted, because they were not. When Herod was dead, lo* an angel of the Lord appeared* unto Joseph in Egypt saying: arise and take the child and his mother, and go into the land of Israel. For they are dead, which sought the child's death.* Then he arose up, and took the child and his mother, and came into the land of Israel. But when he heard that Archelaus did reign in Jury, in the room of his father Herod, he was afraid to go thither. Notwithstanding after he was warned in his sleep,* he turned aside into the parts of Galilee, and went and dwelt in a city called Nazareth, to fulfil, that which was spoken by the prophets: He shall be called of Nazareth.*

In those days John the Baptist,* came and preached in the wilderness of Jury* saying: repent, the kingdom of heaven is at hand. This is he of whom it is spoken by the prophet Isay,* which saith: The voice of a crier in wilderness, prepare the Lord's way, and make his paths straight. This John had his garment of camel's hair, and a girdle of a skin about his loins. His meat was locusts and wild honey. Then went out to v.12 Other: of God in a dream. v.13 Other: when. v.13 Other: behold. v.13 Other: dream. v.19 Other: behold. v.19 Other: in a dream. v.20 Other: life. v.22 Other: of God in a dream. v.23 Other: a Nazarite. 3. v.1 Other: the Baptist. v.1 Other: Lewry. v.3 Other: Esai.

him Jerusalem, and all Jury,* and all the region round about 6 Jordan, and were baptised of him in Jordan, knowledging* 7 their sins. When he saw many of the pharisees and of the sadducees come to his baptism, he said unto them: O genera-8 tion of vipers, who hath taught you to flee from the vengeance 9 to come? Bring forth therefore the fruits belonging to repen-10 tance. And see that ye once think not to say in yourselves, we have Abraham to our father. For I say unto you, that God is 11 able of these stones, to raise up children unto Abraham. Even now is the axe put unto the root of the trees: so that every tree which bringeth not forth, good fruit, shall be* hewn down, and 12 cast into the fire. I baptise you in water, in token of repentance, but he that cometh after me, is mightier than I: whose shoes I am not worthy to bear. He shall baptise you with the 13 holy ghost, and with fire, which hath also his fan in his hand, and will purge his flour, and gather the wheat into his garner, and will burn the chaff with everlasting* fire. Then came Je-14 sus from Galilee into* Jordan to* John, for to be baptised of him. But John forbade him saying: I ought to be baptised 15 of thee: and comest thou to me? Jesus answered and said to him, let it be so now. For thus it becometh us, to fulfil all righ-16 teousness. Then he suffered him. And Jesus as soon as he was baptised, came straight out of the water. And lo heaven was open unto* him: and he* saw the spirit of God descend 17 like a dove, and light upon him. And lo there came a voice from heaven saying: this is that my dear* son, in whom is my delight.

IV Then was Jesus led away of the spirit in to a desert,* to 2 be tempted of the devil. And when he had fasted forty days 3 and forty nights, at the last he was* an hungered. Then came until* him the tempter, and said: If thou be the son of God, 4 command that these stones be made bread. He answered and said: It is written, man shall not live only by bread, but by 5 every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God. Then the devil took him up into the holy city, and set him on a pin-6 nacle of the temple, and said unto him: if thou be the son of God, cast thyself down. For it is written, he shall give his an-v.5 Other: Iewry. v.6 Other: confessing. v.10 Other: is. v.12 Other: unquenchable.

 v.13 Other: to. v.13 Other: unto. v.16 Other: over. v.16 Other: John. v.17 Other: beloved. 4. v.1 Other: wilderness. v.2 Other: afterward. v.3 Other: to.

gels charge over thee, and with their hands they shall stey* thee up, that thou dash not thy foot against a stone. * Jesus 7 said to him, it is written also: thou shalt not tempt thy Lord God. The devil took him up again and led him into an exceed- 8 ing high* mountain, and shewed him all the kingdoms of the world, and the beauty of them,* and said unto* him: all these 9 will I give thee, if thou wilt fall down and worship me. Then 10 said Jesus unto him, avoid Satan. For it is written, thou shalt worship thy Lord* God, and him only, shalt thou serve. Then 11 the devil left him, and lo* the angels came and ministered unto him. When Jesus had heard that John was taken, he departed 12 into Galilee, and left Nazareth, and went and dwelt in Capernaum, which is a city upon the sea, in the coasts of Zabulon 13 and Nephthalim, to fulfil that which was spoken by Esay the prophet, saying: Behold the land of Zabulon and Nephthalim, 14 the way of the sea beyond Jordan, Galilee of the Gentiles, the people which sat in darkness, saw great light. And to them 15 which sat in the region and shadow of death, light is sprong.* 16 From that time Jesus began to preach, and to say: Repent, for 17 the kingdom of heaven is at hand. As Jesus walked by the sea of Galilee, he saw two brethren: Simon which was called 18 Peter, and Andrew his brother, casting a net into the sea (for they were fishers) and he said unto them, follow me, and I 19 will make you (to become) fishers of men. And they straight- 20 way left their nets, and followed him. And he went forth from 21 thence, and saw other two brethren, James the son of Zebedee, and John his brother in the ship, with Zebedee their father, 22 mending their nets, and called them. And they without tar- 23 rying left the ship and their father and followed him. And Je- 24 sus went about all Galilee, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the gospel of the kingdom, and healing* all man- 25 ner of sickness, and all manner diseases among the people. And his fame spread abroad throughout all Syria. And they brought unto him all sick people, that were taken with divers diseases and gripings, and them that were possessed with devils, and those which were lunatic, and those that had the palsy. And he healed them. And there followed him a great number v.6 Other: hold. v.7 Other: And. v.8 Other: hye. v.8 Other: all the glory of them.

v.9 Other: to. v.10 Other: the. v.11 Other: behold. v.16 Other: begun to shine.
v.23 Other: healed.

rusalem, and from Jury,* and from the regions that lie beyond Jordan.

V When he saw the people he went up into a mountain, and 2 when he was set, his disciples came to him, and he opened 3 his mouth,* and taught them saying: Blessed are the poor 4 in spirit: for theirs is the kingdom of heaven. Blessed are 5 they that mourn: for they shall be comforted. Blessed are the 6 meek: for they shall inherit the earth. Blessed are they which hunger and thirst for righteousness: for they shall be filled.
 7, 8 Blessed are the merciful: for they shall obtain mercy. Blessed 9 are the pure in heart: for they shall see God. Blessed are the maintainers of peace:* for they shall be called the children of 10 God. Blessed are they which suffer persecution for righteous-11 ness' sake: for theirs is the kingdom of heaven. Blessed are ye when men shall revile you, and persecute you, and shall falsely say all manner of evil sayings against you for my sake.
 12 Rejoice, and be glad, for great is your reward in heaven. For so 13 persecuted they the prophets which were before your days. Ye are the salt of the earth: but and if the salt be once unsavory,* what can be salted there with? It is thence forth good for noth-14 ing, but to be cast out at the doors, and that men tread it 15 under feet.* Ye are the light of the world. A city that is set on an hill, cannot be hid, neither do men light a candle and put it under a bushel, but on a candlestick, and it lighteth all 16 them which* are in the house. See that* your light so shine before men, that they may see your good works, and glorify 17 your father which is in heaven. Ye shall not think,* that I am come to disannul* the law, other the prophets: no I am 18 not come to disannul* them, but to fulfil them. For truly
 I say unto you, till heaven and earth perish, one jot, or one 19 tittle of the law shall not scape, till all be fulfilled. Whosoever breaketh one of these least commandments, and teacheth men so, he shall be called the least in the kingdom of heaven.
 But whosoever shall observe* and teach them,* that person* 20 shall be called great in the kingdom of heaven. For I say unto you except your righteousness exceed the righteousness v.25 Other: Iewry. 5. v.2 Other: mought. v.9 Other: peacemakers:. v.13 Other: have lost hir saltiness. v.13 Other: and to be trodden under foot of men. v.15 Other: that. v.16 Other: Let. v.17 Other: Think not. v.17 Other: destroy. v.17 Other: destroy. v.19 Other: observeth. v.19 Other: teacheth. v.19 Other: the same.

of the scribes and pharisees, ye cannot enter into the kingdom of heaven. Ye have heard how it was said unto them of the 21 old time: Thou shalt not kill. Whosoever shall kill,* shall be in danger of judgement. But I say unto you, whosoever is angry 22 with his brother, shall be in danger of judgement. Whosoever shall say* unto his brother raca, shall be in danger of a council.
But whosoever say unto his brother* thou fool, shall be in danger of hell fire. Therefore when thou offerest thy gift at 23 the altar, and there rememberest that thy brother hath anything against thee: leave there thine offering before the altar, 24 and go thy way first and reconcile thyself* to thy brother, and then come and offer thy gift. Agree with thine adversary at 25 once,* whiles thou art in the way with him, lest thine* adversary deliver thee to the judge, and the judge deliver thee to the minister, and then thou be cast into prison. * I say unto thee 26 verily: thou shalt not come out thence till thou have paid the utmost farthing. Ye have heard how it was said to them of 27 old time, thou shalt not commit advoutry. But I say unto you, 28 that whosoever eyeth* a wife, lusting after her, hath committed advoutry with her already in his heart. Wherefore if thy 29 right eye offend thee, pluck him out, and cast him from thee.
Better it is for thee that one of thy members perish than that thy whole body should be cast into hell. Also if thy right hand 30 offend thee, cut him off and cast him from thee. Better it is that one of thy members perish, than that all thy body should, be cast in to hell. It is said, whosoever put away his wife, let 31 him give her a testimonial of her* divorcement. But I say unto 32 you: whosoever put away his wife, (except it be for fornication) causeth her to break matrimony. And whosoever marrieth her that is divorced, breaketh wedlock. Again ye have heard, how 33 it was said to them of old time, thou shalt not forswear thyself, but shalt perform thine oath to God. But I say unto you swear 34 not at all: neither by heaven, for it is God's seat: nor yet by the 35 earth, for it is his footstool: Neither by Jerusalem, for it is the city of that great King: neither shalt thou swear by thy head, 36 because thou canst not make one white hair, or black: But 37 your communication shall be, yea, yea: nay, nay. For whatsov.21 Other: killeth. v.22 Other: sayeth. v.22 Other: sayeth. v.24 Other: be reconciled. v.25 Other: quickly. v.25 Other: that. v.26 Other: Verily. v.28 Other: looketh on. v.31 Other: also of the.

38 ever is more than that, cometh of evil. Ye have heard how it 39 is said, an eye for an eye: a tooth for a tooth. But I say to you, that ye withstand* not wrong. But if a man* give thee a blow 40 on thy right cheek, turn to him the other. And if any man will sue thee at the law, and take* thy coat from thee, let him 41 have thy cloak also. And whosoever will compel thee to go a 42 mile, go with him twain. Give to him that asketh: and from 43 him that would borrow turn not away. Ye have heard how it is said: thou shalt love thine neighbor, and hate thine enemy.
 44 But I say unto you, love your enemies. Bless them that curse you. Do good to them that hate you. Pray for them which do 45 you wrong, and persecute you, that ye may be the children of your heavenly father:* for he maketh his sun to arise, on the evil, and on the good, and sendeth his rain on the just and un-46 just. For if ye shall love them, which love you: what reward 47 shall ye have? Do not the publicans even so? And if ye be friendly to your brethren only: what singular thing do ye? Do 48 not the publicans likewise? Ye shall therefore be perfect, even as your heavenly father* is perfect.

VI Take heed to your alms. That ye give it not in the sight of men, to the intent that ye would be seen of them. Or else ye 2 get no reward of your father* in heaven. Whensoever therefore thou givest thine alms, thou shalt not make a trumpet to be blown before thee, as the hypocrites do in the synagogues, and in the streets, for to be praised of men. Verily I say unto 3 you, they have their reward. But when thou doest thine alms, 4 let not thy left hand know, what thy right hand doth, that thine alms may be secret, and thy father which seeth in secret, 5 shall reward thee openly. And when thou prayest, thou shalt not be as the hypocrites are. For they love to stand and pray in the synagogues, and in the corners of the streets, because they would be seen of men. Verily I say unto you, they have their 6 reward. But when thou prayest, enter into thy chamber, and shut thy door to thee, and pray to thy father which is in secret: and thy father which seeth in secret, shall reward thee openly.
 7 But* when ye pray, babble not much, as the gentiles* do: for they think that they shall be heard, for their much babbling's v.39 Other: resist. v.39 Other: whosoever. v.40 Other: away. v.45 Other: that is in heaven:. v.48 Other: which is in heaven. 6. v.1 Other: which is. v.7 Other:

 And. v.7 Other: heathen.

sake. Be ye not like them therefore. For your father knoweth 8 whereof ye have need, before ye ask of him. After this manner 9 therefore pray ye. O our father, which art in heaven hallowed be thy name. Let thy kingdom come. Thy will be fulfilled, as 10 well in earth, as it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily 11 bread. And forgive us our trespasses, even as we forgive them 12 which trespass us.* * Lead us not in to temptation: but deli- 13 ver us from evil, (For thine is the kingdom and the power, and the glory for ever.) Amen. For and if ye shall forgive other 14 men their trespasses, your* father in heaven shall also forgive 15 you. (your trespasses) But and ye will not forgive men their 16 trespasses, no more shall, your father forgive your trespasses.
 Moreover when ye fast, be not sad as the hypocrites are. For 17 they disfigure their faces, that it* might appear unto men* that 18 they fast. Verily I say unto you, they have their reward. But 19 thou when thou fastest, anoint thine head, and wash thy face, that it appear not unto men how that thou fastest: but unto 20 thy father which is in secret: and thy father which seeth in secret, shall reward thee openly. * Gather not treasure together 21 on* earth, where rust and moths corrupt, and where thieves break through and steal. But gather ye treasures together in 22 heaven, where neither rust, nor yet moths corrupt: and where thieves neither break up, nor yet steal. For wheresoever your 23 treasure is, there are your hearts also.* The light of the body 24 is thine eye. Wherefore if thine eye be single, all thy body is* full of light. But and if thine eye be wicked, then is all thy 25 body* full of darkness. Wherefore if the light that is in thee, be darkness: how great is that darkness? No man can serve two 26 masters. For either he shall hate the one, and love the other: or else he shall lean to the one, and despise that* other. Ye cannot serve God and mammon. Therefore I say unto you, be not careful for your life what ye shall eat, or what ye shall drink, nor yet for your body, what raiment ye shall wear.* Is not the life more worth than meat? and the body more of value than raiment? Behold the fowls of the air: for they sow not, neither reap, nor yet carry into the barns, and yet your heavenly v.12 Other: our trespassers. v.13 Other: And. v.14 Other: heavenly. v.16 Other: they. v.16 Other: be seen of men how. v.19 Other: See that ye. v.19 Other: upon the. v.21 Other: there will your hearts be also. v.22 Other: all body shall be. v.23 Other: shall be. v.24 Other: the. v.25 Other: put on.

27 father feedeth them. Are ye not* better than they? Which of you (though he took thought therefore) could put one cubit unto 28 his stature? And why care ye then for raiment? Behold* the lilies of the field, how they grow. They labor not, neither spin.
 29 And yet for all that I say unto you, that even Solomon in all 30 his royalty, was not arrayed like unto one of these. Wherefore if God so clothe the grass, which is today in the field, and tomorrow shall be cast into the furnace: shall he not much more 31 do the same unto you, O ye of little faith? Therefore take no thought saying: what shall we eat, or what shall we drink, or 32 wherewith shall we be clothed? (After all these things seek the gentiles) For your heavenly father knoweth that ye have 33 need of all these things. But rather seek ye first the kingdom of heaven, and the righteousness thereof, and all these things 34 shall be ministered unto you. Care not therefore for the day following.* For the day following* shall care for itself. Each days trouble is sufficient for the same self day.*

VII Judge not lest ye be judged.* (condemn not and ye shall not 2 and be condemned) For as ye judge, so shall ye be judged. And with what measure ye mete, with the same shall it be mea-3 sured to you again. Why seest thou a mote in thy brother's 4 eye, and perceivest not the beam that is in thine own eye? Or why sayest thou to thy brother: (Brother) suffer me to pluck out a* mote out of thine eye, and behold a beam is in thine own 5 eye. Hypocrite, first cast out the beam out of thine own eye, and then shalt thou see clearly to pluck out the mote out of 6 thy brother's eye. Give not that which is holy to dogs, neither cast ye your pearls before swine, lest they tread them under 7 their feet, and the other turn again and all to rent you. Ask and it shall be given you: Seek and ye shall find, Knock and 8 it shall be opened unto you. For whosoever asketh receiveth, and he that seeketh findeth, and to him that knocketh, it shall 9 be opened. Is there any man among you which would proffer 10 his son a stone if he asked him bread? * Or if he asked fish, 11 would he proffer him a serpent? If ye then which are evil, can give to your children good gifts: how much more shall your fav.26 Other: much. v.28 Other: Consider. v.34 Other: morrow. v.34 Other: morrow.

 v.34 Other: Care not therefore then for the morrow, but let the morrow care of itself: for the day present hath ever enough of his own travail. 7. v.1 Other: Judge not, that ye be not judged. v.4 Other: the. v.9 Other: Is there any man among you which if his son asked him bread, would offer him a stone?.

ther, which is in heaven, give good things, to them that ask of him? Therefore whatsoever ye would that men should do to 12 you, even so do ye to them. This is the law and the prophets.
 Enter in at the strait gate: for wide is the gate, and broad is 13 the way that leadeth to destruction: and many there be, which go in thereat. For* strait is the gate, and narrow is the way, 14 which leadeth unto life: and few there be, that find it. Beware 15 of false prophets, which come to you, in sheeps' clothing, but inwardly they are ravening wolves. Ye shall know them by 16 their fruits. Do men gather grapes of thorns? Or figs of bri-ars? Even so every good tree, bringeth forth good fruit. But 17 a corrupt tree, bringeth forth evil fruit. A good tree cannot 18 bring forth bad fruit: nor yet a bad tree can bring forth good fruit. Every tree, that bringeth not forth good fruit, shall be 19 hewn down, and cast into the fire. Wherefore by their fruits 20 ye shall know them. Not all they that say unto me, master, master,* shall enter in to the kingdom of heaven: but he that fulfilleth* my father's will which is in heaven. (He shall enter in to the kingdom of heaven) Many will say to me in that day, 22 Master, master,* have we not in thy name prophesied? and in thy name have we not cast out devils? and in thy name have we not done many miracles.* And then will I knowledge 23 unto them, that I never knew them. Depart from me, ye workers of iniquity. Whosoever heareth of me these sayings, and 24 doeth the same, I will liken him unto a wise man, which built his house on a rock: and abundance of rain descended, and 25 the floods came, and the winds blew, and beat upon that same house, and it was not overthrown* because it was grounded on the rock. And whosoever heareth of me these sayings, 26 and doth* not the same, shall be likened unto a foolish man, which built his house upon the sand, and abundance of rain 27 descended, and the floods came, and the winds blew, and beat upon that house, and it was overthrown,* and great was the fall of it. And it came to pass, that when Jesus had ended 28 these sayings, the people were astonied at his doctrine. For 29 he taught them as one having power, and not as the scribes.
 (of them, and the Pharises)

v.14 Other: But. v.21 Other: Lord, Lord. v.21 Other: doeth. v.22 Other: Lord, Lord. v.22 Other: And in thy name have cast out devils? And in thy name have done many miracles?. v.25 Other: fell not. v.26 Other: them. v.27 Other: fell.

VIII

When Jesus* was come down from the mountain, much people followed him. And lo, there came a leper, and worshipped him saying: Master, if thou wilt, thou canst make me clean. He* put forth his hand and touched him saying: I will, be* clean, and immediately his leprosy was cleansed. And Jesus said unto him: See thou tell no man, but go and shew thyself to the priest and offer the gift, that Moses commanded to be offered in witness to them. When Jesus was entered into Capernaum, there came unto him a certain Centurion, beseeching* him, and saying: Master, my servant lieth sick at home of the palsy, and is grievously pained. And Jesus said unto him: I will come and cure* him. The Centurion answered and said: Sir, I am not worthy that thou shouldest come under the roof of my house,* but speak the word only, and my servant shall be healed. For I also myself am a man under power,* and have soldiers under me, and I say to one, go, and he goeth: and to another, come, and he cometh: and to my servant, do this, and he doeth it. When Jesus heard these sayings:* he marveled, and said to them that followed him: Verily I say unto you, I have not found so great faith: no, not in Israel. I say therefore unto you, that many shall come from the east and west, and shall rest with Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, in the kingdom of heaven: and the children of the kingdom shall be cast out into the utmost* darkness, there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth. Then Jesus said unto the Centurion, go thy way, and as thou believed* so be it unto thee. And his servant was healed that same* hour. And* Jesus went to Peter's house, and saw his wife's mother lying sick of a fever, and he touched her hand, and the fever left her: and she arose, and ministered unto them. When the even was come they brought unto him many that were possessed with devils, and he cast out the spirits with a word, and healed all that were sick, to fulfil that which was spoken by Esay the prophet saying: he took on him our infirmities, and bare our sicknesses. When Jesus saw much people about him, he commanded to go over the water. And there came a scribe and said unto him: Master, I will follow thee whithersoever thou goest. And Jesus said unto him:

8. v.1 Other: he. v.3 Other: Iesu. v.3 Other: thou. v.6 Other: and besought.
v.7 Other: heal. v.8 Other: my roof. v.9 Other: subject to the authority of another.
v.10 Other: that. v.12 Other: utter. v.13 Other: believest. v.13 Other: the self.
v.14 Other: then.

the foxes have holes, and the birds of the air have nests, but the son of the man hath not whereon to lay* his head. Another 21 that was one of his Disciples said unto him: Master suffer me first, to go and bury my father. But Jesus said unto him: fol- 22 low me, and let the dead bury their dead. And he entered into 23 a ship, and his Disciples followed him. And lo* there arose a 24 great storm* in the sea, insomuch,* that the ship was hid* with waves, and he was asleep. And his Disciples came unto him, 25 and awoke him, saying: Master, save us, we perish. And he 26 said unto them: Why are ye fearful, O ye endowed with* little faith? Then he arose, and rebuked the winds and the sea, and there followed a great calm. And* men marveled and said: 27 What man is this, that both winds and sea obey him? And 28 when he was come to the other side, into the country of the Gergesites, there met him two possessed of devils, which came out of the graves, and were out of measure fierce, so that no man might go by that way. And lo* they cried out saying: O 29 Jesu the son of God, what have we to do with thee? Art thou come hither to torment us before the time be come? * There 30 was a good way off from them a great herd of swine feeding.
 Then the devils besought him saying: if thou cast us out, suf- 31 fer us to go our way into the herd of swine. And he said unto 32 them: go your ways. Then went they out, and departed into the herd of swine. And lo, all the* herd of swine was carried with violence headlong into the sea, and perished in the water.
 Then the herdmen, fled and went their ways into the city, and 33 told everything, and what had fortunued unto them that were possessed of the devils. And lo,* all the city came out, and met 34 Jesus. And when they saw him they besought him, to depart out of their coasts.

And* he entered into a ship: and passed over and came into IX his own city. And lo, they brought unto him a man sick of 2 the palsy, lying in his bed. And when Jesus saw their faith,* he said to the sick of the palsy: son be of good cheer, thy sins be forgiven thee. And lo* certain of the scribes said in them- 3 selves, he* blasphemeth. And when Jesus saw their thoughts, 4 v.20 Other: rest. v.24 Other: behold. v.24 Other: tempest. v.24 Other: in so much. v.24 Other: covered. v.26 Other: of. v.27 Other: the. v.29 Other: behold. v.30 Other: And. v.32 Other: behold the whole. v.34 Other: behold. 9. v.1 Other:

 Then. v.2 Other: the faith of them. v.3 Other: behold. v.3 Other: this man.

5 he said: Wherefore think ye evil in your hearts? Whether is 6 easier to say, thy sins be forgiven thee, or to say: arise and 7 walk? That ye may know, that the son of man hath power to 8 forgive sins in earth, then said he unto the sick of the palsy: 9 arise, take up thy bed, and go home to thine house. And he 10 arose and departed to his* house. The people that saw it,* 11 marveled and glorified God, which had given such power to 12 men. And as Jesus passed forth from thence he saw a man sit 13 at the receipt* of custom named Matthew, and said to him: Fol-14 low me. And he arose and followed him. And it came to pass, 15 that Jesus* sat at meat in his* house. And lo,* many publicans 16 and sinners, came and sat down also with Jesus, and his disci-17 ples. When the pharisees had perceived* that, they said unto 18 his disciples: why eateth your master with publicans and sin-19 ners? When Jesus heard that, he said unto them: The whole 20 need not the physician, but they that are sick. Go and learn, 21 what that meaneth: I have pleasure in mercy, and not in offer-22 ing. For I am not come to call the righteous, but the sinners to repentance. Then came the disciples of John to him, saying:
 why do we and the pharisees fast oft, but thy disciples fast not?
 And Jesus said unto them: can the wedding children mourn as long as the bridegroom is with them? The time will come, when the bridegroom shall be taken from them, and then shall they fast. No man pieceth an old garment with a piece of new cloth. For then taketh he away the piece again from the garment, and the rent is made worse.* Neither do men put new wine, into old vessels: for then the vessels break, and the wine runneth out, and the vessels perish. But they pour new wine into new vessels, and so are both saved together. While he thus spake unto them, lo,* there came a certain ruler, and worshipped him saying: my daughter is dead already,* but come, and lay thy hand on her, and she shall live. And Jesus arose and followed him, with his disciples. And behold, a woman which was diseased with an issue of blood twelve year, came behind him and touched the hem of his vesture. For she said in herself: If I may touch but even his vesture only I shall be safe. * Jesus turned him about, and beheld her, saying:

v.7 Other: own. v.8 Other: And when the people saw it, they. v.9 Other: a receiving. v.10 Other: as he. v.10 Other: the. v.10 Other: behold. v.11 Other:
 saw. v.16 Other: greater. v.18 Other: behold. v.18 Other: even now deceased.
 v.22 Other: Then.

Daughter be of good comfort, thy faith hath made thee safe. And she was made whole even that same hour. And when Jesus came into the ruler's house, and saw the minstrels and the people wondering,* he said unto them: Get you hence, for the maid is not dead, but sleepeth. And they laughed him to scorn. As soon as the people were put forth adooors, he went in and took her by the hand, (and said: damsel, arise) and the maid arose. And this was noised throughout all that land. And as Jesus departed thence, two blind men followed him crying, and saying: O thou son of David, have mercy on us. And when he was come into the house,* the blind came to him. And Jesus said unto them believe ye that I am able to do this? * They said unto him: yea Master.* Then touched he their eyes saying: according to your faith, be it unto you. And their eyes were opened. And he* charged them, saying: See that no man know of it. But they as soon as they were departed, spread abroad his name through out all the land. As they went out, behold, they brought to him a dumb man possessed of a devil. And as soon as the devil was cast out, the dumb spake. And the people marveled, saying: it* never so appeared* in Israel. But the pharisees said: He casteth out devils, by the power of the chief devil. And Jesus went about all cities and towns, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the gospel* of the kingdom. And healing all manner sickness and disease among the people. But when he saw the people, he had pity* on them, because they were pined away, and scattered abroad even as sheep, having no shepherd. Then said he to his disciples: the harvest is great, but the laborers are few. Wherefore pray the harvest Lord,* to send forth laborers into his harvest.

And he called his twelve disciples unto him, and gave them X power against* unclean spirits, to cast them out, and to heal all manner of sicknesses, and all manner of diseases. The names of the twelve apostles are these. The first Simon which is called* Peter: and Andrew his brother. James the son of Zebedee, and John his brother. Philip and Bartholomew. Thomas and Matthew the publican. James the son of Alphe and Lebbeus, v.23 Other: raging. v.28 Other: home. v.28 Other: And. v.28 Other: yea Lord. v.30 Other: Iesu. v.33 Other: was. v.33 Other: seen. v.35 Other: glad tidings. v.36 Other: compassion. v.38 Other: Lord of the harvest. 10. v.1 Other: over. v.2 Other: also.

4 otherwise called Thaddeus. Simon of Chane, and Judas Iscar-5 iot, which also betrayed him. These twelve sent Jesus,* and commanded them saying: Go not into the ways that lead to the gentiles, and in to the cities of the Samaritans enter ye not:
 6, 7 But go rather to the lost sheep of the house of Israel. Go and 8 preach saying: how* the kingdom of heaven is at hand. Heal the sick, cleanse the lepers, raise the dead, cast out the dev-9 ils. Freely ye have received, freely give again. Possess not 10 gold, nor silver, neither* brass in your girdles, nor yet scrip towards your journey. Neither two coats, neither shoes, nor 11 yet a rod:* for the workman is worthy to have his meat. Into whatsoever city, or town ye shall come, enquire who is worthy 12 in it, and there abide till ye go thence. And when ye come 13 into an house greet* the same. And if the house be worthy, your peace shall come upon the same.* But if it be not worthy, 14 your peace shall return to you again. And whosoever shall not receive you, nor will hear your preaching, when ye depart out of that house, or that city, shake off the dust of your feet.
 15 Truly I say unto you, it shall be easier for the land of Sodom, 16 and Gomorra, in the day of judgement, than for that city. Lo*
 I send you forth, as sheep among wolves. Be ye therefore wise 17 as serpents, and innocent as doves. Beware of men, for they shall deliver you up to the councils, and shall scourge you in 18 their synagogues. And ye shall be brought to the head rulers and kings for my sake, in witness to them and to the gentiles.
 19 But when they put* you up, take no thought, how, or what ye shall speak, for it shall be given you even in that same hour, 20 what ye shall say. For it is not ye that speak, but the spirit of 21 your father which speaketh in you. The brother shall betray the brother to death, and the father the son. And the children shall arise against their fathers, and mothers, and shall put 22 them to death, and ye shall be hated of all men, for my name.
 But whosoever* shall continue* unto the end, shall be saved.
 23 When they persecute you in one city, fly into another. I tell you for a truth, ye shall not finish all the cities of Israel, till 24 the son of man be come. The disciple is not above his Master: 25 Nor yet the servant above his Lord. It is enough for the disci-

v.5 Other: did Iesus send. v.7 Other: that. v.9 Other: nor. v.10 Other: staff. v.12 Other: salute. v.13 Other: it. v.16 Other: behold. v.19 Other: deliver.
 v.22 Other: he that. v.22 Other: endureth.

ple to be as his Master is, and that the servant be as his Lord is. If they have called the Lord of the house beelzebub: how much more shall they call them of his household so? Fear them not therefore. There is nothing so close, that shall not be opened, and nothing so hid, that shall not be known. What I tell you in darkness, that speak ye in light. And what ye hear in the ear that preach ye on the house tops. And fear ye not them which kill the body, and be not able to kill the soul. But rather fear him, which is able to destroy both soul and body in hell. Are not two sparrows sold for a farthing? And none of them doth light on the ground, without your father. And now are all the hairs of your heads numbered. Fear ye not therefore, ye are of more value, than many sparrows. Whosoever therefore knowledgeth me before men, him will I knowledge before my father which is in heaven. But whosoever shall deny me before men, him will I also deny before my father which is in heaven. Think not, that I am come to send peace into the earth. I came not to send peace, but a sword. For I am come to set a man at variance against his father, and the daughter against her mother, and the daughter-in-law against her mother-in-law: And a man's foes shall be, they of his own household. He that loveth his father, or mother more than me, is not worthy of me.* And he that loveth his son, or daughter more than me, is not meet for me. And he that taketh not his cross and followeth me, is not meet for me. He that findeth his life, shall lose it: and he that loseth his life for my sake, shall find it. He that receiveth you, receiveth me: and he that receiveth me, receiveth him that sent me. He that receiveth a prophet in the name of a prophet, shall receive a prophet's reward. And he that receiveth a righteous man in the name of a righteous man, shall receive the reward of a righteous man. And whosoever shall give unto one of these little ones to, drink a cup of cold water only, in the name of a disciple: I tell you of a truth, he shall not lose his reward.

And it came to pass when Jesus had ended his precepts unto his disciples,* he departed thence,* to preach and teach in their cities. When John being in prison heard the works of Christ,

XI

2

v.28 Other: to. v.32 Other: shall knowledge. v.32 Other: also. v.37 Other: not meet for me. 11. v.1 Other: had made an end of commanding his twelve disciples, that. v.1 Other: to teach and.

3 he sent two of his disciples and said unto him. Art thou he 4 that shall come: or shall we look for another. Jesus answered and said unto them. Go and shew John what ye have heard 5 and seen. The blind see, the halt go, the lepers are cleansed:
 The deaf hear, the dead are raised up* again, and the gospel* 6 is preached to the poor. And happy is he that is not hurt* by 7 me. Even* as they departed, Jesus began to speak unto the people of John. What* went ye* for to see in* the wilderness?
 8 went ye out to see a reed wavering* with the wind? Other what went ye out for to see? Went ye to see a man clothed in soft raiment? Behold, they that wear soft clothing are in kings' 9 houses. But what went ye out for to see? Went ye out to see, 10 a prophet? Yea I say unto you, and more than a prophet. For this is he of whom it is written. Behold, I send my messenger 11 before thy face which shall prepare thy way before thee. Verify I say unto you, among the children of women arose there not a greater than John* baptist. Notwithstanding he that is 12 less in the kingdom of heaven, is greater than he. From the time of John baptist hitherto, the kingdom of heaven suffereth 13 violence, and they that make* violence pulleth* it to* them.
 For all the prophets, and the law prophesied unto the time of 14 John. * Also if ye will receive it, this is Helyas, which should 15, 16 come. He that hath ears to hear whithall, let him hear. But whereunto shall I liken this generation? it is like unto chil-17 dren, which sit in the market, and call unto their fellows, and say: We have piped unto you, and ye have not danced? We 18 have mourned unto you, and ye have not sorrowed. For John came, neither eating nor drinking, and they say, he hath the 19 devil. The son of man came eating and drinking, and they say, behold a glutton, and drinker of wine, and a friend unto publicans, and sinners. And* wisdom is justified of her chil-20 dren. Then began he to upbraid the cities, in which most of 21 his miracles were done, because they did not repent.* Woe be to thee Chorasin. Woe be to thee Bethsaida, for if the miracles which were shewed in you, had been done in Tyre and in Sidon: 22 they had repented long ago in sackcloth and ashes. Never-v.5 Other: rise. v.5 Other: glad tidings. v.6 Other: offended. v.7 Other: And.

 v.7 Other: To see what. v.7 Other: out. v.7 Other: to. v.7 Other: shaken.
 v.11 Other: the. v.13 Other: go to it with. v.13 Other: pluck. v.13 Other: unto.
 v.14 Other: And. v.19 Other: Neverthelater. v.20 Other: mended not.

theless I say to you, it shall be easier for Tyre and Sidon, at the day of judgement, than for you. And thou Capernaum, which art lift up unto heaven, shalt be thrust* down to hell. For if the miracles which have been done in thee, had been shewed in Sodom, they had remained to this day. Nevertheless I say unto you, it shall be easier* Sodom in the day of judgement, than for thee. Then* Jesus answered and said: I praise thee O father Lord of heaven and earth, because thou hast hid these things from the wise and prudent, and hast opened them unto babes, even so father, for so it pleased thee. All things are given unto me of my father. And no man knoweth the son, but thy father neither knoweth any man the father, save the son, and he to whom the son will open him. Come unto me all ye that labor, and are laden, and I will ease you. Take my yoke on you, and learn of me, for I am meek, and lowly in heart: and ye shall find ease* unto your souls. For my yoke is easy, and my burden is light.

In that time went Jesus on the Sabbath day thorow the corn, and his disciples were anhungered, and began to pluck the ears of corn, and to eat. When the pharisees had seen* that, they said unto him: Behold thy disciples do that which is not lawful (for them) to do upon the Sabbath day. He said unto them: Have ye not read what David did, when he was anhungered, and they also which were with him? How he entered into the house of God, and ate the hallowed loaves, which were not lawful for him to eat, neither for them which were with him, but only for the priests. Or have ye not read in the law, how that (on the Sabbath days) the priests in the temple break the Sabbath day, and yet are blameless? But I say unto you, that here is one greater than the temple. Wherefore if ye had wist, what this saying meaneth: I require mercy, and not sacrifice, ye would never have condemned innocents. For the son of man is Lord even of the Sabbath day. And he departed thence, and went into their synagogue, and behold, there was a man, which had his hand dried up. And they asked him saying: Is it lawful to heal upon the Sabbath day? * because they might accuse him. And he said unto them: which is he among you,* if he had a sheep fallen into a pit on the Sabbath day, that would

v.23 Other: brought. v.24 Other: the land of. v.25 Other: At that time. v.29 Other: rest. 12. v.2 Other: saw. v.10 Other: days. v.11 Other: which of you would it be.

12 not take him and lift him out? And how much is a man better then a sheep? Wherefore it is lawful to do a good deed on the 13 Sabbath day. Then said he to the man: stretch forth thy hand, and he stretched* forth, and it was again made even as whole 14 as* the other. Then the pharisees went forth,* and took* coun-15 cil against him, how they might destroy him. When Jesus knew that, he departed thence, and much people followed him, 16 and he healed them all; and charged them, that they should 17 not make him known, to fulfil that which was spoken by Esay 18 the prophet, which sayeth: Behold my son,* whom I have chosen, my darling,* in whom my soul hath had delight.* I will put my spirit on him, and he shall shew judgement to the gentiles.
 19 He shall not strive, he shall not cry, neither shall any man hear 20 his voice in the streets, a bruised reed, shall he not break, and flax that beginneth to burn he shall not quench, till he 21 send forth judgement unto victory, and in his name shall the 22 gentiles trust. Then was brought to him, one possessed with a devil which was both blind and dumb, and he healed him, insomuch that he which was blind and dumb, both spake and saw.
 23 And all the people were amazed, and said: Is not this the son of 24 David? * When the pharisees heard that, they said: He* driveth the devils no other wise out, but by the help of belzebug the 25 chief of the devils. But Jesus knew their thoughts, and said to them. Every kingdom divided with in itself shall be desolate.*
 Neither shall any city or household divided against itself, con-26 tinue. So if satan cast out satan, then is he divided against 27 him self. How shall then his kingdom endure? Also if I by the help of belzebug cast out devils: by whose help do your children 28 cast them out? therefore they shall be your judges: But if I cast out the devils by the spirit of God: then is the kingdom of 29 God come on you? Either how can a man enter into a mighty* man's house, and violently take away his goods, except he first 30 bind the strong man, and then spoil his house? He that is not with me, is against me: And he that gathereth not with me, 31 scattereth abroad. Wherefore I say unto you, all manner of sin and blasphemy shall be forgiven unto men, but the blasphemy v.13 Other: it. v.13 Other: like unto. v.14 Other: out. v.14 Other: held a. v.18 Other: child. v.18 Other: beloved. v.18 Other: delighteth. v.24 Other: But.

 v.24 Other: This fellow. v.25 Other: brought to nought. v.29 Other: strong.

against the holy ghost,* shall not be forgiven unto men. And 32 whosoever speaketh a word against the son of man, it shall be forgiven him: but whosoever speaketh against the holy ghost, it shall not be forgiven him: no, neither in this world, neither in the world to come. Either* make the tree good, and his fruit 33 good also, or else make the tree evil, and his fruit evil also. For the tree is known by his fruit. O generation of vipers, how can 34 ye say well, when ye yourselves are evil? For of the abundance of the heart, the mouth speaketh. A good man out of the good 35 treasure of his heart, bringeth forth good things. And an evil man out of his evil treasure, bringeth forth evil things. But I 36 say unto you, that of every idle word, that men shall have spoken, they shall give accounts at the day of judgement. For by 37 thy words thou shalt be justified: and by thy words thou shalt be condemned. Then answered certain of the scribes and of 38 the pharisees saying: Master, we would fain see a sign of thee.
 He answered them saying: the evil and advoutrous generation 39 seeketh a sign, but there shall no sign be given to them, but the sign of the prophet Jonas. For as Jonas was three days, 40 and three nights, in the whale's belly: so shall the son of man be three days and three nights in the heart of the earth. The 41 men of Nineveh shall rise at the day of judgement, with this nation, and condemn them: for they repented* at the preaching of Jonas. And behold a greater than Jonas is here. The 42 queen of the south shall rise at the day of judgement with this generation, and shall condemn them: for she came from the utmost parts of the world, to hear the wisdom of Solomon. And behold here is a greater than Solomon.* When the unclean 43 spirit is gone out of a man, he walketh throughout dry places, seeking rest, and findeth none. Then he sayeth: I will return 44 again into my house, from whence I came out. And when he is come, he findeth the house empty and swept, and garnished.
 Then he goeth his way, and taketh* seven* spirits worse then 45 him self, and so enter they in and dwell there. And the end of that man is worse than the beginning. Even so shall it be to* this froward* nation. While he yet talked to the people: 46 behold, his mother and his brethren stood without the doors, desiring to speak with him. Then one said unto him: Behold 47

v.31 Other: of the spirit. v.33 Other: Other. v.41 Other: amended. v.42 Other: is here. v.45 Other: unto him. v.45 Other: other. v.45 Other: with. v.45 Other: evil.

thy mother and thy brethren stand without, desiring to speak 48 with thee. He answered and said to him that told him: Who is 49 my mother? or who are my brethren? And he stretched forth his hand over his disciples, and said: Behold my mother and 50 my brethren. For whosoever fulfilleth* my fathers will which is in heaven, he* is my brother, my sister, and my mother.

XIII

The same day went Jesus out of the house, and sat by the 2 sea side, and much people resorted unto him, so greatly that he went, and sat in a ship, and all the people stood on the 3 shore. And he spake many things to them in similitudes, say-4 ing: Behold, the sower went forth to sow. And as he sowed, some fell by the ways side, and the fowls came, and devoured it 5 up. Some fell upon stony ground where it had not much earth, 6 and anon it sprong up, because it had no depth of earth: And when the sun was up, it caught heat, and for lack of rooting 7 withered away. Some fell among thorns, and the thorns arose* 8 and choked it. Part fell in good ground, and brought forth good fruit: some an hundred fold, some fifty* fold, some thirty 9, 10 fold. Whosoever hath ears to hear, let him hear. And his* disciples came, and said to him: Why speakest thou to them 11 in parables? He answered and said unto them: It is given unto you to know the secrets of the kingdom of heaven, but 12 to them it is not given. For whosoever hath, to him shall be given: and he shall have abundance. But whosoever hath not:
 from him shall be taken away even that same that he hath.
 13 Therefore speak I to them in similitudes. For though they see, they see not: and hearing they hear not: nether understand.
 14 And in them is fulfilled the prophecy of Esay, which prophecy saith: with your* ears ye shall hear, and shall not understand, 15 and with your* eyes ye shall see, and shall not perceive. For this people's heart is* waxed gross. And their ears were dull of hearing, and their eyes have they closed, lest they should see with their eyes, and hear with their ears, and should understand with their hearts, and should turn, that I might heal 16 them. But blessed are your eyes, for they see, and your ears, 17 for they hear. Verily I say unto you, that many prophets and perfect men have desired to see those things which ye see, and have not seen them: and to hear those things which ye hear, v.50 Other: doth. v.50 Other: the same. 13. v.7 Other: sprong up. v.8 Other: sixty. v.10 Other: the. v.14 Other: the. v.14 Other: the. v.15 Other: hearts are.

and have not heard them. Hear ye therefore the similitude 18 of the sower. When a man* heareth the word of the king- 19 dom, and understandeth it not, there cometh the evil man, and catcheth away that which was sown in his heart. And this is he which was sown by the way side. But he that was sown 20 in the stony ground, is he, which heareth the word of God, and anon with joy receiveth it, yet hath no roots in himself, 21 and therefore dureth but a season: for as soon as tribulation or persecution ariseth be cause of the word, by and by he falleth. He that was sown among thorns, is he, that heareth the 22 word of God, but the care of this world, and the deceitfulness of riches choke the word, and so is he made unfruitful. He 23 which is sown in the good ground, is he, that heareth the word and understandeth it, which also beareth fruit, and bringeth forth, some an hundred fold, some fifty* fold, and some thirty fold. Another similitude put he forth, unto them saying: The 24 kingdom of heaven is like unto a man which sowed good seed in his field. But while men slept, there came his foe, and 25 sowed tares among the wheat, and went his way. When the 26 blade was sprung up, and had brought forth fruit, then appeared the tares also. The servants* came to the householder, 27 and said unto him. Sir sowest not thou good seed in thy close, from whence then hath it tares? * He said to them, the en- 28 vious man hath done this. Then the servants said unto him: wilt thou then that we go and gather it? * and* he said, nay, 29 lest while ye go about to weed out the tares, ye pluck up also with them the wheat by the roots: let both grow together till 30 harvest come, and in time of harvest, I will say yea unto my* reapers, gather ye first the tares, and bind them in sheaves to be brent: but gather the wheat into my barn. Another para- 31 ble he put forth unto them saying: The kingdom of heaven is like unto a grain of mustard seed, which a man taketh and soweth in his field, which is the least of all seeds. But when 32 it is grown, it is the greatest among herbs, and* is a tree: so that the birds of the air come, and build in the branches of it.
Another similitude said he to them. The kingdom of heaven 33 is like unto leaven which a woman took* and hideth in three v.19 Other: Whosoever. v.23 Other: sixty. v.27 Other: then. v.28 Other: But.

v.28 Other: weed them out?. v.29 Other: but. v.30 Other: to the. v.32 Other: it. v.33 Other: taketh.

34 pecks of meal, till all was* leavened. All these things spake Jesus unto the people by similitudes, and with out similitudes 35 spake he nothing to them, to fulfil that which was spoken by the prophet saying: I will open my mouth in similitudes, and will speak forth things which have been kept secret from the 36 beginning of the world. Then sent Jesus the people away, and came to house,* and his disciples came unto him, saying: de-37 clare unto us the similitude of the tares of* the field: Then answered he and said to them. He that soweth the good seed, 38 is the son of man, * the field is the world.* The children of the kingdom* are the good seed.* The evil man's children are the 39 tares.* But* the enemy which* soweth it,* is the devil. The harvest is the end of the world, and the reapers be the an-40 gels. For even as the tares are gathered, and brent in the fire: 41 so shall it be in the end of this world. The son of man shall send forth his angels, and they shall gather out of his king-42 dom all things that do hurt,* and all them which do iniquity, and shall cast them into a furnace of fire. There shall be wail-43 ing and gnashing of teeth. Then shall the just men shine as bright as the son in the kingdom of their father. Whosoever 44 hath ears to hear, let him hear. Again the kingdom of heaven is like unto treasure hid in the field, the which a man found* and hid* it: and for joy thereof goeth and selleth all that he 45 hath, and buyeth that field. Again, the kingdom of heaven 46 is like unto a merchant, seeking* good pearls, which when he had found one precious pearl, went and sold all that he had, 47 and bought it. Again the kingdom of heaven is like unto a net 48 cast in to the sea, that gathereth of all kinds (of fishes): the which when it is full, men draw to land, and sit and gather the 49 good into their vessels, and cast the bad away. So shall it be at the end of the world. The angels shall come* and sever the 50 bad from the good, and shall cast them in to a furnace of fire, 51 there shall be wailing and gnashing of teeth. Jesus said unto them: Have ye understood* all these things? They said, yea 52 sir.* Then said he unto them: Therefore every scribe which is

v.33 Other: be. v.36 Other: home. v.36 Other: in. v.38 Other: and. v.38 Other: And. v.38 Other: they. v.38 Other: And. v.38 Other: And the tares are the children of the wicked. v.39 Other: And. v.39 Other: that. v.39 Other: them. v.41 Other: offend. v.44 Other: findeth. v.44 Other: hideth. v.45 Other: that seeketh. v.49 Other: out. v.51 Other: Understand ye. v.51 Other: ye Lorde.

conning* unto the kingdom of heaven, is like an householder, which bringeth forth, out of his treasure, things both new and old. And it came to pass when Jesus had finished these similitudes that he departed thence, and came in to his own country, and taught them in their synagogues, insomuch that they were astonished, and said: Whence came* all this wisdom and power unto him? Is not this the carpenter's son? Is not his mother called Mary? and his brethren be called, James and Joses and Simon and Judas? And are not his sisters all here with us? Whence hath he all these things. And they were hurt* by him. Then Jesus said unto them: there is no prophet* without honour, save in his own country, and among his own kin. And he did not many miracles there, for their unbelief's sake. 53 54 55 56 57 58

In* that time Herod the tetrarcha heard of the fame of Jesu, XIV and said unto his servants: This is John* baptist, he is risen again from death, and therefore his power is so great.* For Herod took* John and bound him, and put him in prison for Herodias' sake, his brother Philip's wife. For John said unto him: It is not lawful for thee to have her. And when he would have put him to death, he feared the people, because they counted him as a prophet. * When Herod's birth day was come the daughter of Herodias danced before them, and pleased Herod. Wherefore he promised with an oath, that he would give her whatsoever she would ask. And she being informed of her mother before, said give me here John baptist's head in a platter. And the King sorrowed: nevertheless for his oath's sake, and for their sakes which sat also at the table, he commanded it to be given her. And sent and beheaded John in the prison, and his head was brought in a platter, and given to the damsel, and she brought it to her mother. And his disciples came, and took up his body, and buried it: And went and told Jesus. When Jesus had heard that, he departed thence by ship into a desert place out of the way. And when the people had heard thereof, they followed him afoot out of their cities. And Jesus went forth and saw much people: and his heart did melt upon them, and he healed of them those that were sick. 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14

v.52 Other: taught. v.54 Other: cometh. v.57 Other: offended. v.57 Other: a prophet is not. 14. v.1 Other: At. v.2 Other: the. v.2 Other: therefore are such miracles wrought by him. v.3 Other: had taken. v.6 Other: But.

15 When even was come, his disciples came to him saying: This 16 is a desert place, and the day is spent, let the people depart 17 that they may go in to the towns, and buy them vitailles. But 18 Jesus said unto them: They have no need to go away: Give 19 ye them to eat. Then said they unto him: We have here but 20 five loaves, and two fishes. * He said: Bring them hither to 21 me. And he commanded, the people to sit down on the grass, 22 and took the five loaves, and the two fishes, and looked up to 23 heaven, and blessed, and brake, and gave the loaves to his dis-24 ciples, and the disciples gave them to the people. And they 25 all ate,* and were sufficed. And they gathered up of the gob-26 bets that remained twelve baskets full. * They that ate were 27 in number about five thousand men, besides women and chil-28 dren. And straight way Jesus made his disciples enter in to a 29 ship, and to go over before him, while he sent the people away.
30 And as soon as he had sent the people away, he went up into 31 a mountain alone to pray. And when night was come he was 32 there himself alone. And the ship was* in the midst of the 33 sea, and was tossed with waves, for it was a contrary wind.
34 In the fourth watch of the night Jesus came unto them, walk-35 ing on the sea: and when his disciples saw him walking on 36 the sea, they were amazed,* saying: it is some spirit, and cried out for fear. And straightway Jesus spake unto them saying: be of good cheer, it is I, be not afraid. Peter answered,* and said: Master, and* thou be he, bid me come unto thee on the water. And he said come. And when Peter was come down out of the ship, he walked on the water, to go to Jesus. But when he saw a mighty wind, he was afraid. And as he began to sink, he cried saying: Master save me. And immediately Jesus stretched forth his hand, and caught him, and said to him: O thou of little faith: wherefore didst thou doubt? And as soon as they were come into the ship, the wind ceased. Then they that were in the ship came and worshipped him, saying: Of a truth thou art the son of God. And when they were come over, they went in to the land of Genazareth. And when the men of that place had knowledge of him, they sent out into all that country round about, and brought unto him all that were sick, and besought him, that they might touch the border* of v.18 Other: And. v.20 Other: did all eat. v.21 Other: And. v.24 Other: now.

v.26 Other: troubled. v.28 Other: him. v.28 Other: if v.36 Other: hem.

his vesture only. And as many as touched it, were made safe.

Then came to Jesus: scribes and pharisees from Jerusalem, saying: Why do thy disciples transgress the traditions of the seniors? * for they wash not their hands, when they eat bread. He answered, and said unto them: why do ye also transgress the commandment of God, thorow your traditions? For God commanded, saying: honour thy father and mother, and he that speaketh evil against* his father or mother, shall suffer death. But ye say, every man shall say to his father or mother: whatsoever thing I offer, that same doth profit thee,* and so shall he not honour his father and* mother. And thus have ye made, that the commandment of God is with out effect, through your traditions. Hypocrites, well prophesied of you; Esay saying: This people draweth nye unto me with their mouths, and honoureth me with their lips, yet* their hearts are far from me: but in vain they worship me teaching doctrine,* which is* nothing but men's precepts. And he called the people unto him, and said to them: hear and understand. That which goeth in to the mouth, defileth not the man: but that which cometh out of the mouth, defileth the man. Then came his disciples, and said unto him: Perceivest thou,* how that the pharisees are offended* hearing this saying? He answered, and said: All plants which my heavenly father hath not planted, shall be plucked up by the roots. Let them alone, they be the blind leaders of the blind. If the blind lead the blind, both shall fall into the ditch. Then answered Peter and said to him: declare unto us this parable. Then said Jesus: Are ye yet withouten understanding: perceive ye not, that whatsoever goeth in at the mouth, descendeth down into the belly, and is cast out into the draught? But those things which proceed out of the mouth come from the heart, and they defile a* man. For out of the heart come evil thoughts, murder, breaking of wedlock, whoredom, theft, false witness bearing, blasphemy. These are the things which defile a man. But to eat with unwashen hands, defileth not a man. And Jesus went thence, and departed into the coasts of Tyre and Sidon. XV

15. v.2 Other: elders?. v.4 Other: curseth. v.5 Other: that which thou desirest of me to help thee with: is given God:. v.6 Other: or his. v.8 Other: howbeit. v.9 Other: doctrines. v.9 Other: are. v.12 Other: not. v.12 Other: in. v.18 Other: the.

22 And behold a woman which was a Canaanite came out of the same coasts, and cried unto him, saying: have mercy on me Lord the* son of David, my daughter is piteously vexed with a 23 devil. And he gave her never a word to answer. Then came to him his disciples, and besought him saying: Send her away, 24 for she followeth us crying. He answered, and said: I am not sent, but unto the lost sheep of the house of Israel. Then she 25 came and worshipped him, saying: Master succor* me. He answered and said: It is not good, to take the children's bread, 26 and to cast it to whelps.* She answered and said: It is truth,* nevertheless the whelps* eat of the crumbs, which fall from 27 their masters' table. Then Jesus answered and said unto her. O woman great is thy faith, be it to thee, even as thou desirest. And her daughter was made whole even at that same time.*
 28 Then Jesus went away from thence, and came nye unto the sea of Galilee, and went up in to a mountain, and sat down 29 there. And much people came unto him having with them, halt, blind, dumb, maimed, and other many: and cast them 30 down at Jesus' feet. And he healed them, insomuch that the people wondered, to see the dumb speak, the maimed whole, 31 and the halt to go, the blind to see, and* glorified the God of Israel. * Jesus called his disciples to him and said: I have 32 compassion on the people, because they have continued with me now three days, and have nothing* to eat: and I will not 33 let them depart fasting lest they perish in the way. And his disciples said unto him: whence should we get so much bread 34 in the wilderness as should suffice so great a multitude? And Jesus said unto them: how many loaves have ye? And they 35 said: Seven, and a few* fishes. And he commanded the people to sit down on the ground. And took the seven loaves, 36 and the fishes, and gave thanks, and brake them, and gave to his disciples, and his* disciples gave them to the people. And 37 they all ate,* and were sufficed. And they took up of the broken meat that was left seven baskets full. * They that ate 38 were four thousand men, beside women and children. And he sent away the people, and took ship and came into the parts of 39 Magdala.

v.22 Other: thou. v.25 Other: help. v.26 Other: dogs. v.27 Other: Lord.
 v.27 Other: dogs. v.28 Other: hour. v.31 Other: they. v.32 Other: Then.
 v.32 Other: nought. v.34 Other: little. v.36 Other: the. v.37 Other: did all eat. v.38 Other: And yet.

Then came to him the pharisees with the sadducees also, XVI and did tempt him, desiring that he would* shew them some sign from heaven. He answered and said unto them: At even 2 ye say, we shall have fair weather, and that because the sky is red: * In the morning: ye say, today shall be foul weather, and 3 that because the sky is tremulous* and red. O ye hypocrites, ye can discern the fashion of the sky: and can ye not discern the signs of the times? The froward nation, and advoutrous, 4 seeketh a sign:* there shall none other sign be given unto them, but the sign of the prophet Jonas. So left he them and departed. And when his disciples were come to the other side of 5 the water, they had forgotten to take bread with them. Then 6 Jesus said unto them: Take heed and beware of the leaven of the pharisees, and of the sadducees. * They thought among* 7 themselves saying:* we have brought no bread with us. When 8 Jesus understood that, he said unto them. O ye of little faith, why are your minds cumbered because ye have brought no bread? Do ye not yet perceive, neither remember those five 9 loaves, when there were five thousand men, and how many baskets took ye up? Neither the seven loaves, when there 10 were four thousand:* and how many baskets took ye up? Why 11 perceive ye not then, that I spake not unto you of bread, when I said, beware of the leaven of the pharisees and of the sadducees? Then understood they, how that he bade not them 12 beware of the leaven of bread: but of the doctrine of the pharisees, and of the sadducees. When Jesus came into the coasts 13 of the city which is called Cesarea Philippi, he asked his disciples saying: Whom do men say that I the son of man am?
 They said: Some say that thou art John baptist, some Helyas, 14 some Jeremias, or one of the prophets. He said unto them: 15
 But whom say ye that I am? Simon Peter answered, and said: 16 Thou art Christ the son of the living God. And Jesus answered 17 and said to him: Happy art thou Simon the son of Jonas, for flesh and blood have* not opened unto thee that, but my father which is in heaven. And I say also unto thee, that thou art Pe- 18 ter. And upon this rock I will build my congregation: and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it. And I will give unto 19 16. v.1 Other: him to. v.3 Other: And. v.3 Other: cloudy. v.4 Other: and.

v.7 Other: And. v.7 Other: in. v.7 Other: because. v.10 Other: iiii. M. v.17 Other:
 hath.

thee, the keys of the kingdom of heaven, and whatsoever thou bindest upon earth, it shall be bound in heaven: and whatsoever thou loosest* on earth, it shall be loosed* in heaven. Then he charged his disciples, that they should tell no man, that he was Jesus Christ. From that time forth, Jesus began to shew unto his disciples, how that he must go unto Jerusalem, and suffer many things of the seniors,* and of the high* priests, and of the scribes, and must be killed, and rise again the third day. * Peter took him aside, and began to rebuke him saying: Master favor thy self, this shall not come unto thee. Then turned he about, and said unto Peter: go* after me Satan, thou offendest me, because thou perceivest* not godly things: but worldly things. Jesus then said to his disciples. If any man will follow me, let him forsake himself, and take up his cross and follow me. For whosoever will save his life, shall loose it. And whosoever shall loose his life for my sake, shall find it.* What shall it profit a man, if* he should win all the whole world: so* he loose his own soul? Or else what shall a man give to redeem his soul again withal? For the son of man shall come in the glory of his father, with his angels, and then shall he reward every man according to his deeds. Verily I say unto you, some there be among them that here stand, which shall not taste of death, till they shall have seen the son of man come in his kingdom.

XVII And after six days Jesus took Peter and James and John his brother, and brought them up into an high mountain out of the way, and was transfigured before them: and his face did shine as the sun, and his clothes were as white as the light. And behold there appeared unto them Moses and Helyas talking with him. Then answered Peter, and said to Jesus: Master here is good being for us. If thou wilt, let us make here three tabernacles, one for thee, and one for Moses, and one for Helyas. While he yet spake, behold a bright cloud shadowed them. And lo* a voice out of the cloud said: * This is my dear son, in whom I delight, hear him. And when the disciples heard that, they fell on their faces, and were sore afraid.

v.19 Other: lowsest. v.19 Other: lowsed. v.21 Other: elders. v.21 Other: hye. v.22 Other: But. v.23 Other: come. v.23 Other: favourest or savourest. v.25 Other: loose, exact spelling; from the hebrew to open, may be also lose, or subdue. v.26 Other: though. v.26 Other: if. 17. v.5 Other: behold there came. v.5 Other: saying:.

And Jesus came and touched them, and said: Arise and be not afraid. Then lift they up their eyes, and* saw no man, but* Jesus only.* And as they came down from the mountain, he* charged them saying: See that ye shew this* vision to no man, til the son of man be risen again from death. And his disciples asked of him, saying: Why then say the scribes, that Helias must first come? Jesus answered, and said unto them: Helias shall first come, and restore all things. And I say unto you, that Helias is come already: And they knew him not, but have done unto him whatsoever they lusted. In likewise shall also the son of man suffer of them. Then his* disciples perceived, that he spake unto them of John baptist. And when they were come to the people, there came to him a certain man, and kneeled down to him saying:* Master have mercy on my son, for he is frantic,* and is sore vexed. And oftentimes* falleth in to the fire, and oft into the water. And I brought him to thy disciples, and they could not heal him. Jesus answered and said: O generation faithless, and crooked: how long shall I be with you? how long shall I suffer you? bring him hither to me. And Jesus rebuked the devil, and he came out.* And the child was healed even that same hour. Then came his* disciples* secretly and said: Why could not we cast him out?
 Jesus said unto them: Because of your unbelief. For I say verily unto you, if ye had faith as a grain of mustard seed, ye should say unto this mountain, remove hence to yonder place, and he should remove: Neither should any thing be unpossible for you to do. But* this kind, goeth not out but by prayer and fasting. While* they passed the time in Galilee, Jesus said unto them, the son of man shall be betrayed into the hands of men, and they shall kill him, and the third day he shall rise again. And they sorrowed greatly. * When they were come to Capernaum: They that were wont to gather poll money, came to Peter and said: Doth your Master pay tribute? He said:
 Yea. And when he was come into the house, Jesus spake first to him, saying: What thinkest thou Simon? of whom do the kings of the earth take tribute, or poll money? of their children, or v.8 Other: And when they looked up, they. v.8 Other: save. v.8 Other: onely. v.9 Other: Jesus. v.9 Other: the. v.13 Other: the. v.14 Other: and said.: v.15 Other: lunatic. v.15 Other: he. v.18 Other: of him. v.19 Other: the.

 v.19 Other: to Jesus. v.21 Other: Howbeit. v.22 Other: As. v.24 Other: And.

26 of strangers? Peter said unto him: Of strangers. Then said 27 Jesus unto him again: Then are the children free. Nevertheless, lest we should offend them: go to the sea and cast in thine angle, and take the fish that first cometh up: and when thou hast opened his mouth, thou shalt find a piece of twelve* pence that take and pay for me and thee.

XVIII

The same time the disciples came to Jesus saying: Who is 2 the greatest in the kingdom of heaven? Jesus called a child 3 unto him, and set him in the midst of them, and said: Verily I say unto you, except ye turn, and become as children, ye cannot 4 enter in to the kingdom of heaven. Whosoever therefore shall submit* him self as this child, he* is the greatest in the king-5 dom of heaven. And whosoever receiveth such a child in my 6 name, receiveth me. But whosoever offend one of these little ones, which believe in me: it were better for him, that a millstone were hanged about his neck, and that he were drowned 7 in the depth of the sea. Woe be unto the world because of evil occasions.* It is necessary that evil occasions* be given, nevertheless woe be to that* man, by whom evil occasion* cometh.
 8 Wherefore if thy hand, or thy foot, give thee an occasion of evil:* cut him off, and cast him from thee. It is better for thee to enter in to life halt or maimed, rather than thou shouldst having two hands or two feet, be cast in to everlasting fire.
 9 And if also thine eye offend thee, pluck him out and cast him from thee. It is better for thee, to enter in to life with one eye, 10 than having two eyes to be cast into hellfire. See that ye despise not one of these little ones. For I say unto you, that in heaven their angels* behold the face of my father, which is in 11 heaven. Yea, and the son of man is come to save that which 12 is lost. How think ye? If a man have an hundred sheep, and one of them should go* astray, will* he not leave ninety and nine in the mountains, and go and seek that one which is gone 13 astray? If it happen that he find him, verily I say unto you, he rejoiceth more of that sheep, then of the ninety and nine, which 14 went not astray. Even so hit is not the will of your father in 15 heaven, that one of these little ones should perish. More over v.27 Other: twenty. 18. v.4 Other: humble. v.4 Other: the same. v.7 Other: offenses. v.7 Other: How be it, it cannot be avoided but that offences shall. v.7 Other:

 the. v.7 Other: the offense. v.8 Other: offend thee. v.10 Other: always.
 v.12 Other: be gone. v.12 Other: doth.

if thy brother trespass against thee. Go and tell him his fault between him and thee alone. If he hear thee, thou hast won thy brother: But if he hear thee not, then take yet with thee one 16 or two, that in the mouth of two or three witnesses, all things may stand.* If he hear not them, tell it unto the congregation: 17 if he hear not the congregation, take him as an heathen man, and as a publican. Verily I say unto you whatsoever ye bind 18 on earth, shall be bound in heaven. And whatsoever ye loose* on earth, shall be loosed* in heaven. Again I say unto you 19 that if two of you shall agree in earth in* any manner thing whatsoever they shall desire: it shall be given them of my father which is in heaven. For where two or three are gathered 20 together in my name, there am I in the midst of them. Then came Peter to him, and said: Master, how oft shall my brother trespass against me, and I shall forgive him? * shall I forgive him seven times? Jesus said unto him: I say not unto 22 thee seven times: but seventy times seven times. Therefore is the kingdom of heaven likened unto a certain King, which would take accounts of his servants, and when he had begun 24 to reckon, one was brought unto him, which ought him ten thousand talents: but when* he had nought to pay, the Lord* 25 commanded him to be sold, and his wife, and his children: and all that he had, and payment to be made. The servant fell down and besought him saying: Sir, give me respite, and I will pay it every whit. Then had the Lord pity on that servant, 27 and loosed* him, and forgave him the debt. The same* servant 28 went out and found one of his fellows, which ought him an hundred pence. And laid hands on him, and took him by the throat, saying: pay* that thou owest. And his fellow fell 29 down, and besought him, saying: have patience with me, and I will pay thee all. And he would not, but went and cast him 30 in to prison, till he should pay the debt. When his other fellows saw what was done, they were very sorry, and came and told unto their Lord all that had happened. Then the* Lord 32 called him, and said unto him. O evil servant, I forgave thee all that debt, be cause thou praydest me: Was it not mete also, 33

v.16 Other: be established. v.18 Other: lowse. v.18 Other: lowsed. v.19 Other: upon. v.21 Other: how oft shall I forgive my brother, if he sin against me. v.25 Other: whom because. v.25 Other: his Master. v.27 Other: lowsed. v.28 Other: And the said. v.28 Other: me. v.32 Other: his.

that thou shouldest have had compassion on thy fellow, even 34 as I had pity on thee? And his Lord was wroth, and delivered him to the jailers, till he should pay all that was due to 35 him. So like wise shall your* heavenly father do unto you, if ye will not* forgive with your hearts, each one to his brother their trespasses.

XIX And it followed* when Jesus had finished those sayings, he gat him from Galilee, and came in to the coasts of Jewry be-2 yond Jordan, and much people followed him, and he healed 3 them there. Then came unto him the pharisees to tempt him, and said to him: Is it lawful for a man to put away his wife 4 for all manner of causes? He answered, and said unto them:
 Have ye not read, how that he which made man at the begin-5 ning, made them man and woman? and said: For this thing, shall a man leave father and mother, and cleave unto his wife, 6 and they twain shall be one flesh. Wherefore now are they not twain, but one flesh. Let not man therefore put asunder, 7 that which God hath coupled together. Then said they to him:
 Why did Moses command to give unto her a testimonial of di-8 vorcement, and to put her away? He said unto them: Moses be cause of the hardness of your hearts suffered you to put 9 away your wives: But from the beginning it was not so. I say therefore unto you, whosoever putteth away his wife (except it be for fornication) and marrieth another, breaketh wedlock.
 And whosoever marrieth her which is divorced, doth commit 10 advoutry. Then spake* his disciples to him: if the matter be 11 so between man and wife, then is it not good to marry. He said unto them: all men cannot away with that saying but* 12 they to whom it is given. There are chaste, which were so born out of their mother's belly. And there are chaste, which be made chaste of men. And there be chaste, which have made themselves chaste for the kingdom of heavens' sake. He that 13 can take it let him take it. Then were brought to him young children, that he should put his hands on them and pray. And 14 his* disciples rebuked them. * Jesus said unto them: suffer the children, and forbid them not to come to me, for unto* such 15 belongeth* the kingdom of heaven. And when he had put his 16 hands on them, he departed thence. And behold one came,

v.35 Other: my. v.35 Other: except ye. 19. v.1 Other: came to pass. v.10 Other: said. v.11 Other: save. v.13 Other: the. v.14 Other: But. v.14 Other: of. v.14 Other: is.

and said unto him: Good master, what good thing shall I do, that I may have eternal life? He said unto him: Why callest thou me good? there is none good but one, and that is God. But and* thou wilt enter in to life, keep the commandments. He* said: Which? And Jesus said: Thou shalt not kill: thou shalt not break wedlock. Thou shalt not steal: thou shalt not bear false witness. Honour father and mother: and thou shalt love thine neighbor as thyself. * The young man said unto him: I have observed all these things from my youth, what have I more to do? * * Jesus said unto him: if thou wilt be perfect, go and sell (all) that thou hast, and give it to the poor, and thou shalt have treasure in heaven, and come and follow me: When the young man heard that saying, he went away mourning. For he had great possessions. * Jesus said then unto his disciples: Verily I say unto you, a rich man shall with difficulty* enter into the kingdom of heaven. And moreover I say unto you: it is easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle, then for a rich man to enter into the kingdom of Heaven.* When his disciples heard that, they were exceedingly amazed, saying: Who then can be saved? Jesus beheld them, and said unto them: With men this is impossible, but with God all things are possible. Then answered Peter, and said to him: Behold we have forsaken all, and have followed thee: what shall we have therefore? Jesus said unto them: Verily I say unto you, that ye, which have followed me in the second generation (when the son of man shall sit in the seat of his majesty) shall sit also upon twelve seats, and judge the twelve tribes of Israel.* And whosoever forsaketh house,* or brethren, or sisters, other* father, or mother, or wife, or children, or livelihood,* for my name's sake, the same shall receive an hundred fold, and shall inherit everlasting life. Many that are first, shall be last and the last, shall be first.

 For the kingdom of heaven is like unto an householder which XX went out early in the morning to hire laborers into his vineyard. And he agreed with the laborers for a penny a day, and 2 v.17 Other: if. v.18 Other: The other. v.20 Other: And. v.20 Other: what lack I yet?. v.21 Other: And. v.23 Other: Then. v.23 Other: it is hard for a rich man to. v.24 Other: God. v.28 Other: verily I say to you: when the son of man shall sit in the seat of his majesty, ye which follow me in the second generation shall sit also upon twelve seats, and judge the twelve tribes of Israel. v.29 Other: houses. v.29 Other: or. v.29 Other: lands.

3 sent them in to his vineyard. And he went out about the third 4 hour, and saw other standing idle in the market place, and said unto them: go ye also into my vineyard, and whatsoever is 5 right, I will give you: and they went their way. Again he went 6 out about the sixth and ninth hour, and did likewise. And he went out about the eleventh hour and found other standing idle, and said unto them: Why stand ye here all the day idle?
7 They said unto him: Because no man hath hired us. He said to them: go ye also into my vineyard, and whatsoever shall be* 8 right, that shall ye receive. When even was come, the Lord of the vineyard, said unto his steward: call the laborers, and give them their hire, beginning at the last, till thou come to 9 the first. And they which were hired about the eleventh hour, 10 came and received every man a penny. Then came the first, supposing that they should receive more, and they like wise 11 received every man a penny. And when they had received it, they grudged* against the good man of the house, saying: 12 These last have wrought but one hour, and thou hast made them equal unto us which have borne the burden and heat of 13 the day. He answered to one of them, saying: Friend I do thee 14 no wrong: didst thou not agree with me for a penny? Take that which is thy duty, and go thy way. I will give unto this 15 last, as much as to thee. Is it not lawful for me to do as me listeth, with mine own? Is thine eye evil because I am good?
16 So the last shall be first, and the first shall be last. For many 17 are called, and few be chosen. And Jesus ascended to Jerusalem, and took the twelve disciples apart in the way, and said to 18 them: Lo* we go up to Jerusalem, and the son of man shall be betrayed unto the chief priests, and unto the scribes, and they 19 shall condemn him to death, and shall deliver him to the gentiles, to be mocked, to be scourged, and to be crucified: and the 20 third day he shall rise again. Then came to him the mother of Zebedee's children with her sons, worshipping him, and de-21 siring a certain thing of him. * He said unto her: What wilt thou have? She said unto him: Grant that these my two sons may sit,* one on thy right hand, and the other on thy left hand 22 in thy kingdom. Jesus answered, and said: Ye wot not what ye ask. Are ye able to drink of the cup that I shall drink of?

20. v.7 Other: is. v.11 Other: murmured. v.18 Other: Behold. v.21 Other: And.
v.21 Other: the.

And to be baptised with the baptism, that I shall be baptised with? They answered to him: That we are. * He said unto 23 them: Ye shall drink of my cup, and shall be baptised with the baptism that I shall be baptised with all. * But to sit on my right hand, and on my left hand, is not mine to give you: but to them for whom it is prepared of my father. And when the 24 ten heard this, they disdained at the two brethren. But Jesus 25 called them unto him, and said: Ye know, that the lords of the gentiles have domination over them. And they that are great, exercise power over them. It shall not be so among you: But 26 whosoever will be great among you, let him be your minister, and whosoever will be chief, let him be your servant. Even as 27, 28 the son of man came, not to be ministered unto, but to minister: and to give his life for the redemption of many. And as they 29 departed from Hiericho, much people followed him. And be- 30 hold, two blind men sitting by the wayside, when they heard, that Jesus passed by, cried saying: Master * the son of David have mercy on us. And the people rebuffed * them, because 31 they should hold their peace: But they cried the more, saying: have mercy on us master * which art the son of David. Then 32 Jesus stood still, and called them, and said: What will ye that I should do to you? They said unto him: Master, * that our eyes 33 may be opened. Jesus pitied * them, and touched their eyes. 34 And immediately their eyes received sight: And they followed him.

When they drew nye unto Jerusalem, and were come to XXI Bethphage, unto mount Olivet: then sent Jesus two of his disciples, saying to them: Go into the town that lieth over against 2 you, and anon ye shall find an ass bound, and her colt with her, loose them and bring them unto me. And if any man say 3 ought unto you, say ye that your master * hath need of them, and straight way he will let them go. All this was done, to ful- 4 fil that which was spoken by the prophet, saying: Tell ye the 5 daughter of Sion: behold thy King cometh unto thee meek, * sitting upon an ass and a colt, the foal of an ass used to the yoke.
 The disciples went, and did as Jesus commanded them, and 6, 7 brought the ass and the colt, and put on them their clothes, v.23 Other: And. v.23 Other: with. v.30 Other: Thou Lord. v.31 Other: rebuked. v.31 Other: thou Lord. v.33 Other: Lord. v.34 Other: had compassion on.

21. v.3 Other: the Lord. v.5 Other: and.

8 and set him there on. * Many of the people spread their garments in the way. Other cut down branches from the trees, 9 and strawed them in the way. Moreover the people that went before, and they also that came after cried saying: Hosianna to the son of David. Blessed be he that cometh in the name of 10 the Lord; Hosianna in the highest.* And when he was come in to Jerusalem, all the city was moved, saying: Who is this?
11 And the people said: This is Jesus the Prophet of Nazareth a city of Galilee. And Jesus went in to the temple of God, and 12 cast out all them that bought and sold in the temple, and overthrew the tables of the moneychangers, and the seats of them
13 that sold doves. And said to them: It is written, mine* house shall be called the house of prayer, but ye have made it a den of 14 thieves. And the blind and the halt came to him in the temple, and he healed them. When the chief priests and scribes saw 15 the marvels that he did, and the children crying in the temple and saying; Hosianna to the son of David, they disdained, and 16 said unto him: Hearst thou what these say? Jesus said unto them:* have ye never read, of the mouth of babes and sucklings 17 thou hast ordained praise? And he left them, and went out of the city unto Bethany, and passed the time* there. In the 18 morning as he returned into the city again, he hungered, and spied a fig tree in the way, and came to it, and found nothing 19 thereon, but leaves only, and said to it, never fruit grow on thee hence forwards. And anon the fig tree withered away. And 20 when his disciples saw that, they marveled saying: How soon is the fig tree withered away? Jesus answered, and said unto 21 them: Verily I say unto you, if ye shall have faith, and shall not doubt, ye shall not only do that which I have done to the 22 fig tree: but also if ye shall say unto this mountain, take thyself away, and cast thyself into the sea, it shall be done. And 23 whatsoever thing ye shall ask in your prayers if ye believe, ye shall receive it. And when he was come into the temple, the 24 chief priests and the seniors* of the people came unto him as he was teaching, and said: By what authority doest thou these things? and who gave thee this power? Jesus answered, and said unto them: I also will ask of you a certain question, which if ye assoil me, I in like wise will tell you by what authority v.8 Other: And. v.9 Other: hyest. v.13 Other: my. v.16 Other: yea. v.17 Other: had his abiding. v.23 Other: elders.

I do these things. Whence was the baptism of John? * from 25 heaven, or of men? And they thought in * themselves, saying:
 If we shall say, from heaven, he will say unto us: why did ye not then believe him? But and if we shall say of men, then 26 fear we the people. For all men held John as a prophet. And 27 they answered Jesus, and said: We cannot tell.* He likewise said unto them: neither tell I you by what authority I do these things. What say ye to this? A certain man had two sons, and 28 came to the elder saying:* go and work today in my vineyard.
 He answered and said, I will not: but afterward repented and 29 went. Then came he to the second, and said like wise, and 30 he answered and said: I will sir: yet went he not. Whether 31 of these two fulfilled their father's will? * And they said unto him: The first. Jesus said unto them: Verily I say unto you, that the publicans and the harlots shall come into the king- 32 dom of God before you. For John came unto you, in the way of righteousness, and ye believed him not. But the publicans and the whores* believed him. But* ye (though ye saw it) yet were not moved with repentance, that ye might afterward have believed him. Hearken another similitude. There was a cer- 33 tain householder, which set* a vineyard, and hedged it round about, and made a winepress in it, and built a tower, and let it out to husbandmen, and went into a strange country. And 34 when the time of the fruit drew near, he sent his servants to the husbandmen, to receive the fruits of it, and the husbandmen 35 caught his servants, and beat one, killed another, and stoned another. Again he sent other servants more than the first, 36 and they served them likewise. But last of all, he sent unto 37 them his own son, saying: they will fear my son. * When the 38 husbandmen saw his* son, they said among them selves: This is the heir, come on let us kill him, and let us take his inheri- 39 tance, to our selves. And they caught him and thrust him out of the vineyard, and slew him. When the Lord of the vineyard 40 cometh: what will he do with those husbandmen? They said 41 unto him: he will evil* destroy those evil persons, and will let out his vineyard unto other husbandmen, which shall deliver

v.25 Other: The baptime of John: whence was it? v.25 Other: Then they reasoned among. v.27 Other: And. v.28 Other: and said: son. v.31 Other: Whether of them twain did the will of the father?. v.32 Other: harlots. v.32 Other: And yet. v.33 Other: planted. v.38 Other: But. v.38 Other: the. v.41 Other: cruelly.

42 him his* fruit at times convenient. Jesus said unto them: did ye never read in the scriptures? The same stone which the builders refused,* is set in the principal part of the corner: this 43 was the Lord's doing, and it is marvelous in our eyes. Therefore say I unto you, the kingdom of God shall be taken from you, and shall be given to the Gentiles which shall bring forth 44 the fruits of it. And whosoever shall fall on this stone,* shall be also broken. And* whosoever this stone* shall fall upon, he 45 shall* grind him to powder. And when the chief priests and pharisees heard these similitudes they perceived that he spake 46 of them. And they went about to lay hands on him, but they feared the people, because they counted* him as a prophet.

XXII

And Jesus answered and spake unto them again, in similitudes, saying: The kingdom of heaven is like unto a certain 2 King, which married his son, and sent forth his servants, to call them that were bid to the wedding, and they would not
 3 come. Again he sent forth other servants, saying: tell them which are bidden: Lo* I have prepared my dinner, mine oxen and my fatlings are killed, and all things are ready, come unto 4 the marriage. * They made light of it, and went their ways:
 5 one to his firm place, another about his merchandise, the remnant took his servants, and intreated them ungodly, and slew
 6 them. When the King heard that, he was wroth, and sent forth his warriors and destroyed those murderers, and burnt 7 up their city. Then said he to his servants: The wedding was prepared: but they which were bidden thereto, were not worthy. Go ye therefore out into the high* ways, and as many 8 as ye find, bid them to the marriage. The servants went out into the* ways, and gathered together as many as they could find, both good and bad, and the wedding was furnished with 9 guests. * The King came in, to visit the guests, and spied there 10 a man which had not on a wedding garment, and said unto him: Friend, how* camest thou in hither, and * hast not on a wedding garment? and he was even speechless. *til here the text is from Tyndale's Cologne quarto fragment 1525; the text thereafter is from the octavo edition of 1526; also the whole

v.41 Other: the. v.42 Other: the same. v.44 Other: he. v.44 Other: but on. v.44 Other: it. v.44 Other: it will. v.46 Other: took. 22. v.4 Other: behold. v.5 Other: But. v.9 Other: hye. v.10 Other: hye. v.11 Other: Then. v.12 Other: fortun'd it that.

text includes revision variants of divers renderings. Then 13 said the King to his ministers: Take and bind him hand and 14 foot, and cast him into utter darkness, there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth. For many are called and few be 15 chosen. Then went the pharisees and took counsel, how they 16 might tangle him in his words. And* sent unto him their disciples with Herod's servants, saying: Master, we know that thou 17 art true, and that thou teachest the way of God truly, neither carest for any man, for thou considerest not men's estate. Tell 18 us therefore: how thinkest thou? is it lawful to give tribute unto Cesar, or not? Jesus perceived their wickedness, and 19 said: Why tempt ye me ye hypocrites? Let me see the tribute money. And they took him a penny. And he said unto 20 them: Whose is this image and superscription? They said 21 unto him: Cesar's. Then said he unto them: Give therefore to Cesar, that which is Cesar's: and give unto God, that which is God's. When they heard that they marveled, and left him 22 and went their way. The same day the sadducees came to him 23 (which say that there is no resurrection) and they asked him saying: Master, Moses bade, if a man die having no children, 24 that the brother marry his wife, and raise up seed unto his brother. There were with us seven brethren,* the first mar- 25 ried and died* without issue, and left his wife unto his brother.
 Likewise the second and the third, unto the seventh: Last of 26, 27 all the woman died also. Now in the resurrection whose wife shall she be of the seven? for all had her. Jesus answered 28 and said unto them: ye are deceived, and know* not what the scripture meaneth, nor yet the virtue* of God. For in the res- 29 urrection they neither marry nor are married: but are as the angels of God in heaven. As touching the resurrection of the 31 dead: have ye not read what is said unto you of God, which sayeth: I am Abraham's God, and Isaac's God, and the God of 32 Jacob? God is not the God of the dead: but of the living. And 33 when the people heard that, they were astonied at his doctrine.
 When the pharisees had heard, how that he had put the sad- 34 ducees to silence, they drew to gether, and one of them which 35 was a doctor of law asked him a question tempting him and saying: Master which is the great* commandment in the law? 36

v.16 Other: they. v.25 Other: and. v.25 Other: deceased. v.29 Other: understand. v.29 Other: power. v.36 Other: chief.

37 Jesus said unto him: Thou shalt love thy Lord God* with all 38 thine heart, with all thy soul, and with all thy mind. This is 39 the first and that great* commandment. And there is another 40 like unto this. Thou shalt love thine neighbor as thyself. In these two commandments, hang all the law and the prophets.
 41 While the pharisees were gathered together Jesus asked them 42 saying: What think ye of Christ? whose son is he? they said 43 unto him: The son of David. He said unto them: How then 44 doth David in spirit call him Lord, saying? The Lord said to my Lord, sit on my right hand: till I make thine enemies thy 45 footstool. If David call him Lord: How is he then his son?
 46 And none of them could answer him again one word. Neither durst any from that day forth, ask him any more questions.

XXIII. 2 Then spake Jesus to the people, and to his disciples, say-3 ing: The scribes and the pharisees sit in Moses' seat, * whatsoever they bid you observe, that observe and do: but after 4 their works do not: for they say, and do not. Yea and they bind heavy burdens and grievous to be borne, and lay them on men's shoulders: but they themselves will not heave* them 5 with one* finger.* All their works they do, for to be seen of men. They set abroad their phylacteries, and make large bor-6 ders on their garments, and love to sit uppermost at feasts, 7 and to have the chief seats in the synagogues, and greetings 8 in the markets and to be called of men Rabbi. But ye shall not suffer yourselves to be called Rabbi, for one is your master, 9 that is to wit Christ, and all ye are brethren. And call ye no man your father upon the earth, for one is* your father, and he 10 is in heaven. Be not called masters, for one is* your master, 11 and he is Christ. He that is greatest among you, shall be your 12 servant. But whosoever exalteth himself, shall be brought 13 low. And he that submiteth* himself, shall be exalted. Woe be unto you scribes and pharisees dissemblers,* for ye shut up the kingdom of heaven before men: ye yourselves go not in, neither 14 suffer ye them that come to enter in. Woe be unto you scribes and pharisees, for ye devour widows' houses, and that under a colour of praying long prayers, wherefore ye shall receive 15 greater damnation. Woe be unto you scribes and pharisees v.37 Other: Love the LORD thy God. v.38 Other: chief. 23. v.3 Other: All therefore.

 v.4 Other: at. v.4 Other: of their. v.4 Other: fingers. v.9 Other: for there is but one.
 v.10 Other: for there is but one. v.12 Other: humbly. v.13 Other: hypocrites.

hypocrites, for ye* compass sea and land, to bring one into your belief: and when ye have brought him* ye make him two fold more the child of hell, than ye yourselves are. Woe be unto you blind guides, for ye* say: whosoever swear by the temple, it is nothing: but whosoever swear by the gold of the temple, he is debtor.* Ye fools and blind? whether is greater, the gold, or the temple that sanctifieth the gold. And whosoever sweareth by the altar it is nothing: but whosoever sweareth by the offering that lieth on the altar is debtor.* Ye fools and blind: whether is greater the offering, or the altar which sanctifieth the offering? whosoever therefore sweareth by the altar, sweareth by it, and by all that thereon is. And whosoever sweareth by the temple sweareth by it, and by him that dwelleth therein. And he that sweareth by heaven, sweareth by the seat of God, and by him that sitteth thereon. Woe be to you scribes and pharisees dissemblers,* for ye* tithe mint, anise, and cummin, and leave the weightier matters of the law undone: judgement, mercy, and faith: these ought ye to have done, and not to have left the other undone. Ye blind guides, which strain out a gnat, and swallow a camel. Woe be to you scribes and pharisees hypocrites, for ye* make clean the outer side of the cup, and of the platter: but within they are full of bribery and excess. Thou blind pharisee, cleanse first, that which is within* the cup and the platter, that the outside* may also be clean. Woe be to you scribes, and pharisees hypocrites, for ye are like unto painted tombs which appear beautiful outwards: but are within full of dead men's bones and of all filthiness. So are ye, for outward ye appear righteous unto men, when within ye are full of dissimulation* and iniquity. Woe be unto you scribes and pharisees hypocrites, for ye build the tombs of the prophets, and garnish the sepulchers of just men,* and say: If we had been in our fathers' time,* we would not have been partners with them in the blood of the prophets. So are* ye be witnesses unto yourselves, that ye are the children of them, which killed the prophets. Fulfil ye likewise the measure of

v.15 Other: which. v.15 Other: he is brought. v.16 Other: which. v.16 Other: offendeth. v.18 Other: offendeth. v.23 Other: hypocrites. v.23 Other: which. v.25 Other: which. v.26 Other: the inside of. v.26 Other: of them. v.28 Other: hypocrisy. v.29 Other: righteous. v.30 Other: the days of our fathers. v.31 Other: then.

33 your fathers: ye serpents and generation of vipers, how shall* 34 ye scape the damnation of hell? Wherefore behold I send unto you, prophets wise men and scribes, and of them some shall ye kill and crucify, and some* shall ye scourge in your syn-35 agogues, and persecute from city to city, that all righteous blood may fall upon you, which* was shed upon the earth, from the blood of righteous Abel, unto the blood of Zacharias the son of Barachias, whom ye slew between the temple and the altar: 36 Verily I say unto you, all these things shall light upon this 37 generation. Hierusalem, Hierusalem which killest prophets, and stonest them which are sent to thee: how often would I have gathered thy children together, as the hen gathereth her 38 chickens under her wings? but ye would not? Behold your 39 habitation shall be left unto you desolate. For I say unto you, ye shall not see me henceforth, till that ye say: blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord.

XXIV

And Jesus went out and departed from the temple: and his disciples came to him, for to shew him the building of the tem-2 ple. Jesus said unto them: see ye not all these things? Verily I say unto you: There shall not be here left one stone upon 3 another, that shall not be destroyed.* And as he sat upon the mount Olivet, his disciples came unto him secretly saying: Tell us, when this* shall be? and what sign shall be of thy coming, 4 and of the end of the world? And Jesus answered, and said 5 unto them: take heed that no man deceive you; For many shall come in my name saying: I am Christ: and shall deceive 6 many. Ye shall hear of wars, and of the noise* of wars, but see that ye be not troubled, for all (these things) must come to 7 pass, but the end is not yet. For nation shall rise against nation, and realm against realm: and there shall be pestilence, 8 and hunger, and earthquakes in all quarters. All these are 9 the beginning of sorrows. Then shall they put you to trouble, and shall kill you, and ye shall be hated of all nations 10 for my name's sake: And then shall many fall,* and shall be-11 tray one another, and shall hate one the other. And many 12 false prophets shall arise, and shall deceive many. And because iniquity shall have the upper hand, the love of many v.33 Other: should. v.34 Other: of them. v.35 Other: upon you may come all the righteous blood that. 24. v.2 Other: cast down. v.3 Other: these things. v.6 Other: fame. v.10 Other: be offended.

shall abate. But he that endureth to the end* shall be safe. 13
 And this gospel* of the kingdom shall be preached in all the 14 world, for a witness unto all nations, and then shall the end come. When ye then* shall see the abomination and* desolation 15 (spoken of by Daniel the prophet) stand in the holy place: whosoever* readeth it, let him understand it. Then let them 16 which be in Jury fly into the mountains. And let him which 17 is on the housetop, not come down to take* anything out of his house. Neither let him which is in the field, return back to 18 fetch his clothes. Woe* be in those days to them that are with 19 child, and to them that give suck. But pray that your flight be 20 not in the winter, neither on the Sabbath day. For then shall 21 be great tribulation, such as was not from the beginning of the world to this time, nor* shall be. Yea and except those days 22 should be shortened,* should no flesh be saved: But for the chosens' sake those days shall be shortened. Then if any man 23 shall say unto you: lo, here is Christ, or there is Christ: believe it not: for there shall arise false christs, and false prophets 24 and shall give* great signs* and wonders. So greatly* that if it were possible, even the chosen* should be brought into error.*
 Take heed I have told you before. * If they shall say unto you: 25, 26 lo,* he is in the desert, go not forth: lo, he is in the secret places, believe not. For as the lightning cometh out of the east, and 27 shineth unto the west: so shall the coming of the son of man be. For wheresoever a dead body* is, even thither will the ea- 28 gles resort. Immediately after the tribulations of those days, 29 shall the sun be darkeneth:* and the moon shall not give her light, and the stars shall fall from heaven, and the powers of heaven shall move. And then shall appear the sign of the son 30 of man in heaven. And then shall all the kindreds of the earth mourn, and they shall see the son of man come in the clouds of heaven with power and great majesty:* And he shall send his 31 angels with the great voice of a trumpet, and they shall gather together his chosen from the four winds, and from the one end of the world to the other. Learn a similitude of the fig tree: 32

v.13 Other: the same. v.14 Other: glad tidings. v.15 Other: therefore. v.15 Other: that betokeneth. v.15 Other: let him that. v.17 Other: fetch. v.19 Other: shall. v.21 Other: ner. v.22 Other: there. v.24 Other: do. v.24 Other: miracles. v.24 Other: Insomuch. v.24 Other: the very elect. v.24 Other: deceived. v.26 Other: Wherefore. v.26 Other: behold. v.28 Other: carcass. v.29 Other: darkened. v.30 Other: glory.

when his branches are yet tender, and his leaves sprung, ye 33 know that summer is nye. So likewise* when ye see all these 34 things, be ye sure that it is near even at the doors. Verily I say unto you, that this generation shall not pass, till all* be 35 fulfilled. Heaven and earth shall perish: but my words shall 36 abide. But of that day and hour knoweth no man, no not the 37 angels of heaven, but my father only. As the time of Noe was, 38 so likewise shall the coming of the son of man be. For as in the days before the flood: they did eat and drink, marry, and were married, even unto the day that Noe entered in to the 39 ship, and knew of nothing till the flood came and took them 40 all away. So shall also the coming of the son of man be. Then two shall be in the fields, the one shall be received, and the 41 other shall be refused, two (women) shall be grinding at the mill: the one shall be received, and the other shall be refused.
 (Two in a bed; the one shall be received, and the other refused) 42 Wake therefore, because ye know not what hour your master 43 will come. Of this be sure, that if the good man of the house knew what hour the thief would come: he would surely watch, 44 and not suffer his house to be broken up. Therefore be ye also ready, for what* hour ye think least on, in the same shall* 45 the son of man come. Who is a* faithful servant and wise, whom his master hath made ruler over his household, for to 46 give them meat in season convenient? happy is that servant 47 whom his master (when he cometh) shall find so doing. Verily
 I say unto you, he shall make him ruler over all his goods.
 48 But and if that evil servant shall say in his heart, my master 49 will defer his coming, and begin to smite his fellows: ye and 50 to eat and to drink with the drunken: that servants master will come in a day when he looketh not for him: and in an hour 51 that he is not ware of, and will divide him, and give him his reward with hypocrites. There shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth.

XXV Then the kingdom of heaven shall be likened unto ten vir-gins, which took their lamps, and went to meet the bridegroom:
 2 (and the bride) five of them were foolish, and five were wise.
 3, 4 The foolish took their lamps, but took none oil with them. But the wise took oil with them in their vessels with their lamps v.33 Other: ye. v.34 Other: these. v.44 Other: in the. v.44 Other: ye think he would not: will. v.45 Other: If there be any.

also. While the bridegroom tarried, all slumbered and slept. 5
 And even at midnight, there was a cry made: behold, the bride- 6 groom cometh, go and meet* him. Then all those virgins arose, 7 and prepared their lamps. And the foolish said to the wise: 8 give us of your oil, for our lamps go out? But the wise an- 9 swered, saying: not so, lest there be not enough for us and you, but go rather to them that sell, and buy for yourselves. In 10 conclusion* while they went to buy, the bridegroom came: and they that were ready, went in with him to the wedding, and the gate was shut up. Afterwards came also the other virgins, 11 saying: master, master open to us. But he answered, and 12 said: verily I say unto you: I know you not: look that ye watch 13 therefore, for ye know neither the day nor yet the hour, when the son of man shall come. Likewise as a certain man ready 14 to take his journey to a strange country, called his servants to him, and delivered to them his goods. And unto one he gave 15 five talents, to another two and to another one: to every man after his ability, and straight way departed. Then he that had 16 received the five talents, went and bestowed them, and won other five.* Likewise he that received two gained other two. 17
 But he that received* one, went and digged a pit in the earth 18 and hid his master's money. After a long season the Lord of 19 those servants came, and reckoned with them. Then came 20 he that had received five talents, and brought other five* saying: master, thou deliveredst unto me five talents, lo* I have 21 gained with them five* more. * His master said unto him: well good servant and faithful; Thou hast been faithful in little, I will make thee ruler over much: enter in into thy master's joy. Also he that received two talents came, and said: 22 master, thou deliverdest unto me two talents: lo* I have won two other talents with them. * His master said unto him, well 23 good servant and faithful thou hast been faithful in little, I will make thee ruler over much, go in into thy master's joy. * He 24 which had received the one talent came also, and said: master, I considered that thou wast an hard man, which reapest where thou sowedst not, and gatherest where thou strawedst not, and was* afraid, and went and hid thy talent in the earth: 25

25. v.6 Other: go out against. v.10 Other: And. v.16 Other: talents. v.18 Other:
the. v.20 Other: talents. v.20 Other: behold. v.20 Other: talents. v.21 Other: Then. v.22 Other: behold. v.23 Other: And. v.24 Other: Then. v.25 Other:
therefore.

26 lo,* thou hast thine own. His master answered, and said unto him: * evil servant and slothful, thou knewest that I reap where 27 I sowed not, and gather where I strawed not: thou oughtest therefore to have had my money to the changers, and then at my coming should I have received my money* with vantage.
 28 Take therefore the talent from him, and give it unto him which 29 hath ten talents. For unto every man that hath shall be given, and he shall have abundance. And from him that hath not, 30 shall be taken away, even that he hath. And cast that unprofitable servant into utter darkness, there shall be weeping 31 and gnashing of teeth. When the son of man shall come* in his majesty,* and all his* holy angels with him, then shall he 32 sit upon the seat of his majesty,* and before him shall be gathered all nations. And he shall sever* them one from another, as 33 a shepherd putteth asunder* the sheep from the goats. And he shall set the sheep on his right hand, and the goats on the 34 left hand. Then shall the King say to them on his right hand: Come ye blessed children of my father, inherit ye the kingdom 35 prepared for you from the beginning of the world. For I was an hungered, and ye gave me meat. I thirsted, and ye gave me drink. I was harborless, and ye lodged me. I was naked and 36 ye clothed me: I was sick and ye visited me. I was in prison 37 and ye came unto me. Then shall the just* answer him saying: master, when, saw we thee an hungered, and fed thee?
 38 or a thirst, and gave thee drink? when saw we thee harbor-39 less, and lodged thee? or naked and clothed thee? or when 40 saw we thee sick, or in prison and came unto thee? And the King shall answer and say unto them: verily I say unto you: inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these my 41 brethren: ye have done it to me. Then shall the King say unto them that shall be on the left hand: depart from me ye cursed, into everlasting fire, which is prepared for the devil and his 42 angels. For I was an hungered, and ye gave me no meat. I thirsted, and ye gave me no drink. I was harborless, and ye 43 lodged me not. I was naked, and ye clothed me not. I was sick 44 and in prison, and ye visited me not. Then shall they also answer him saying: master, when saw we thee an hungered, v.25 Other: Behold. v.26 Other: thou. v.27 Other: mine own. v.31 Other: cometh.

v.31 Other: glory. v.31 Other: the. v.31 Other: glory. v.32 Other: separate.
v.32 Other: divideth. v.37 Other: righteous.

or a thirst, or harborless, or naked, or sick, or in prison, and have not ministered unto thee? then shall he answer them, and say: Verily I say unto you, inasmuch as ye did it not to one of the least of these, ye did it not to me. And these shall go into everlasting pain: And the righteous into life eternal.

And it followed: * when Jesus had finished all these sayings, he said unto his disciples: Ye know that after two days shall be ester, and the son of man shall be delivered to be crucified. Then assembled together the chief priests and * scribes and seniors * of the people into the palace of the high priest, called Caiphaz: and held a counsel, how they might take Jesus by subtlety, and kill him; but they said, not on the holy day, lest any trouble * arise among the people. When Jesus was in Bethany, in the house of Simon the leper, there came unto him a woman, which had an alabaster box of precious ointment, and poured it on his head, as he sat at the board. When his disciples saw that, they had indignation saying: What needed this waste? This ointment might have been well sold, and given to the poor. When Jesus understood that, he said unto them: Why trouble ye the woman? she hath wrought a good work upon me. For ye shall have poor folk always with you: but me shall ye not have always. And in that she casted this ointment on my body, she did it to bury me withal. * Verily I say unto you, wheresoever this gospel shall be preached throughout all the world, there shall also this that she hath done, be told for a memorial of her. Then one of the twelve called Judas Iscariot went unto the chief priests, and said: What will ye give me, and I will deliver him unto you? And they appointed unto him thirty pieces of silver. And from that time he sought opportunity to betray him. The first day of unleavened * bread the disciples came to Jesus saying unto him: Where wilt thou that we prepare for thee to eat the ester * lamb? And he said: Go into the city, unto such a man, and say to him: the master saith, my time is almost come, * I will keep mine ester at thy house with my disciples. And the disciples did as Jesus had appointed them, and made ready the ester lamb. When the even was come, he sat down with the twelve.

XXVI

26. v.1 Other: came to pass. v.3 Other: the. v.3 Other: the elders. v.5 Other: uproar. v.12 Other: with all. v.17 Other: sweet. v.17 Other: paschal. v.18 Other: at hand.

21 And as they did eat, he said: Verily I say unto you, that one of 22 you shall betray me. And they were exceeding sorrowful, and 23 began every one of them to say unto him: Is it I master? He answered and said: He that dippeth his hand with me in the 24 dish,* shall betray me. The son of man goeth as it is written of him: but woe be to that man, by whom the son of man shall be betrayed. It had been good for that man, if he had never been 25 born. Then Judas which betrayed him, answered and said: Is 26 it I master? He said unto him: Thou hast said. As they did ate,* Jesus took bread and gave thanks, brake it, and gave it to 27 the disciples, and said: Take, eat, this is my body. And he took the cup, and gave thanks,* and gave it them, saying: Drink of 28 it every one. This is my blood of the new testament, which* 29 shall be shed for many, for the forgiveness of sins. I say unto you: I will not drink henceforth of this fruit of the vine tree, until that day, when I shall drink it new with you in my father's 30 kingdom. And when they had said grace, they went out into 31 mount olivet. Then said Jesus unto them: All ye shall fall this night because of me.* For it is written: I will smite the shep-32 herd, and the sheep of the flock shall be scattered abroad. But 33 after I am risen again, I will go before you into Galilee. Peter answered, and said unto him: Though all men should be hurt* 34 by thee, yet would I not be hurt.* Jesus said unto him: Verily
 I say unto thee, that this same night before the cock crow, 35 thou shalt deny me thrice. Peter said unto him: If I should die with thee, yet will* I not deny thee. Likewise also said all 36 the disciples. Then went Jesus with them into a place, which is called Gethsemane, and said unto his* disciples: Sit ye here 37 while I go and pray yonder. And he took with him Peter and the two sons of Zebede, and began to wax sorrowful and to be 38 in agony. Then said Jesus unto them: My soul is heavy even 39 unto the death. Tarry ye here: and watch with me. And he went away a little apart, and fell flat on his face, and prayed saying: O my father, if it possible, let this cup pass from me: 40 nevertheless, not as I will, but as thou wilt. And he came unto the disciples, and found them asleep, and said to Peter: What, 41 could ye not watch with me one hour? Watch and pray, that v.23 Other: the same. v.26 Other: eat. v.27 Other: thanked. v.28 Other: that. v.31 Other: all ye shall be offended by me this night. v.33 Other: offended. v.33 Other: never be offended. v.35 Other: would. v.36 Other: the.

ye fall not into temptation. The spirit is willing, but the flesh is weak. He went away once more, and prayed, saying: O my 42 father, if this cup cannot pass away from me, but that I drink of it, thy will be fulfilled. And he came, and found them asleep 43 again. For their eyes were heavy. And he left and went again, 44 and prayed the third time saying the same words. Then came 45 he to his disciples and said unto them: Sleep henceforth, and take your rest. Take heed the hour is at hand, and the son of man shall be betrayed into the hands of sinners. Rise, let us 46 be going,* he is at hand that shall betray me. While he yet 47 spake, lo, Judas one of the twelve came, and with him a great multitude with swords and staves, which were sent from the chief priests and seniors* of the people. * He that betrayed 48 him, gave them a token, saying: Whosoever I kiss, that* same is he, lay hands on him. And forthwith-all he came to Jesus, 49 and said: Hail master. And kissed him. And Jesus said unto 50 him: friend, wherefore art thou come? Then came they and laid hands on Jesus and took him. And behold, one of them which 51 were with Jesus, stretched out his hand and drew his sword, and struck a servant of the high priest, and smote off his ear.
 Then said Jesus unto him: Put up thy sword into his sheath. 52 For all they that lay hands on the sword, shall perish with the sword. Either thinkest thou that I cannot now pray to my fa- 53 ther, and he shall give me (even now) more than twelve legions of angels? * How then should the scriptures be fulfilled, for 54 so must it be. The same time said Jesus to the multitude: Ye 55 be come out as it were unto a thief, with swords and staves for to take me: daily I sat among you teaching in the temple, and ye took me not. All this was done that the scriptures of 56 the prophets might be fulfilled. Then all the disciples forsook him and fled. And they took Jesus and led him to Caiphas 57 the high priest, where the scribes and the seniors* where assembled. * Peter followed him afar off, unto the high priest's 58 place: and went in, and sat with the servants to see the end.
 The chief priests, and the seniors,* and all the council, sought 59 false witness against Jesus, for to put him to death, and they* 60 found none: insomuch that when many false witnesses came, v.46 Other: behold., v.47 Other: elders. v.48 Other: And. v.48 Other: the.

 v.54 Other: But. v.57 Other: elders. v.58 Other: And. v.59 Other: elders.
 v.60 Other: but.

61 yet found they none. At the last came two false witnesses, and said: This fellow said: I can destroy the temple of God, and 62 build the same* in three days. And the chief priest arose, and said to him: Answerest thou nothing? How is it that these bear 63 witness against thee? But Jesus held his peace. And the chief priest answered, and said to him: I charge thee in the name of the living God, that thou tell us whether thou be Christ the son 64 of God. Jesus said to him: Thou hast said. Nevertheless I say unto you, hereafter shall ye see the son of man sitting on the 65 right hand of power, and come in the clouds of the sky. Then the high priest rent his clothes saying? He hath blasphemed: what need we of any more witnesses? Lo,* now have ye heard 66 his blasphemy: What think ye? They answered and said: He 67 is worthy to die. Then spat they in his face, and beat* him with their fists. And other smote him with the palm of their 68 hands on the face, saying: Areed to us* Christ, who is he that 69 smote thee? Peter sat without in the palace, and a damsel 70 came to him, saying: Thou also wast with Jesus of Galilee: *
 he denied before them all saying: I wot not what thou sayest.
 71 When he was gone out into the porch, another wench saw him, and said unto them that were there: This fellow was also with 72 Jesus of Nazareth: And again he denied with an oath,* and 73 said: I know not the man. And after a while came unto him they that stood by, and said unto Peter: Surely thou art even 74 one of them, for thy speech betrayeth thee. Then began he to curse and to swear, that he knew not the man. And immedi-75 ately the cock crew. And Peter remembered the words of Jesu, which he said unto him: before the cock crow, thou shalt deny me thrice: and went out at the doors and wept bitterly.

XXVII When the morning was come, all the chief priests and seniors* of the people held a counsel against Jesu, to put him to death, 2 and brought him bound and delivered him unto Pontius Pilate 3 the deputy. Then when Judas which betrayed him, saw that he was condemned, he repented himself, and brought again the 4 thirty plates of silver to the chief priests and seniors* saying: I have sinned betraying the innocent blood. And they said: What 5 is that to us? see thou to that. And he cast down the silver v.61 Other: it again. v.65 Other: Behold. v.67 Other: buffeted. v.68 Other: Tell us thou. v.70 Other: but. v.72 Other: that he knew the man. 27. v.1 Other: the elders. v.3 Other: elders.

plates in the temple, and departed, and went and hung himself. * The chief priests took the silver plates and said: It is not 6 lawful for to put them into the treasury, because it is the price 7 of blood. And they took counsel, and bought with them a pot- 8 ter's field to bury strangers in. Wherefore that field is called, 9 (Haceldema, that is) the field of blood, until this day. Then 10 was fulfilled, that which was spoken by Jeremy the prophet, 11 saying: And they took thirty silver plates, the value* of him 12 that was priced,* whom they bought of the children of Israel, 13 and they gave them for the potter's field, as the Lord appointed 14 me. Jesus stood before the deputy: and the deputy asked him, 15 saying: Art thou the King of the Jews? Jesus said unto him: 16, 17 Thou sayest. * When he was accused of the chief priests and 18 seniors,* he answered nothing. Then said Pilate unto him: 19 Hearest thou not how many things they lay against thee? and 20 he answered him to never a word: insomuch that the deputy 21 marveled very sore.* At that feast, the deputy was wont to 22 deliver unto the people a prisoner whom they would choose.* 23
He had then a notable prisoner called Barabbas. And when 24 they were gathered together, Pilate said unto them: Whether 25 will ye that I give loose unto you, Barabbas, or Jesus which is called Christ? For he knew well, that for envy they had delivered him. When he was set down to give judgement, his wife sent to him, saying: Have thou nothing to do with that just man, I have suffered many things this day in my sleep* about him. * The chief priests and the seniors* had persuaded the people, that they should ask Barabbas, and should destroy Jesus. * The deputy answered and said unto them: Whether of the twain will ye that I let loose unto you? And they said, Barabbas. Pilate said unto them: What shall I do then with Jesus, which is called Christ? They all said to him: Let him be crucified. Then said the deputy: What evil hath he done?
And they cried the more saying: Let him be crucified. When Pilate saw that he prevailed nothing, but that more business was made, he took water and washed his hands before the people saying: I am innocent of the blood of this just person, and that ye shall see. Then answered all the people, and said: His

v.6 Other: And. v.9 Other: price. v.9 Other: valued. v.12 Other: And. v.12 Other: elders. v.14 Other: greatly. v.15 Other: desire. v.19 Other: a dream. v.20 Other: But. v.20 Other: elders. v.21 Other: Then.

26 blood fall* on us, and on our children. Then let he Barabbas loose unto them, and scourged Jesus, and delivered him to be 27 crucified. Then the soldiers of the deputy took Jesus unto the 28 common hall, and gathered unto him all the company. And 29 they stripped him, and put on him a purple robe, and plaited a crown of thorns and put upon his head, and a reed in his right hand. And bowed their knees before him,* saying: Hail 30 King of the Jews, and spitted upon him, and took the reed 31 and smote him on the head. And when they had mocked him, they took the robe off him again, and put his own raiment on 32 him, and led him away to crucify him. And as they came out, they found a man of Cyren, named Simon: him they compelled 33 to bear his cross. And* came unto the place, which is called 34 Golgotha (that is to say a place of dead men's skulls) they gave him vinegar to drink mixt* with gall. And when he had 35 tasted thereof, he would not drink. When they had crucified him, they parted his garments, and did cast lots. To fulfil that was spoken by the prophet: They divided my garments among 36 them: and upon my vesture have* cast lots. And they sat and 37 watched him there. And they set up over his head the cause 38 of his death written: This is Jesus the King of the Jews. And there were two thieves crucified with him, one on the right 39 hand, and another on the left hand. They that passed by, 40 reviled him wagging their heads and saying: Thou that de-stroyest the temple of God, and buildest it in three days save thyself. If thou be the son of God, come down from the cross.
41 Likewise also the prelates* mocking him with the scribes and 42 seniors* said: He saved other, himself he cannot save. If he be the King of Israel: let him now come down from the cross, 43 and we will believe him. He trusted in God, let God* deliver him now if he will have him, for he said, I am the son of God.
44 That same also the thieves, which were crucified with him cast 45 in his teeth. From the sixth hour was there darkness over all 46 the land unto the ninth hour. And about the ninth hour Jesus cried with a loud voice, saying: Eli Eli lama sabathani.* That 47 is to say, my God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me? Some of them that stood there, when they heard that said: This man

v.25 Other: be. v.29 Other: and mocked him,. v.33 Other: when they. v.34 Other: mingled. v.35 Other: did. v.41 Other: hye priests. v.41 Other: elders. v.43 Other: him. v.46 Other: asbathani; or sabachthani.

calleth for Helias. And straightway one of them ran and took 48 a sponge and filled it full of vinegar, and put it on a reed, and gave him to drink. Other said let be, let us see whether Helias 49 will come and deliver him. Jesus cried again with a loud voice 50 and yielded up the ghost. And behold the veil of the temple 51 was* rent in twain from the top to the bottom, and the earth did quake, and the stones did rent, and graves did open, and 52 the bodies of many saints which slept, arose: and came out of 53 the graves after his resurrection, and came into the holy city, and appeared unto many. When the petty captain,* and they 54 that were with him watching Jesus, saw the earthquake and those things which happened, they feared greatly saying; Of a surety this was the son of God. And many women were there, 55 beholding him afar off, which followed Jesus from Galilee, ministering unto him: among the which was Mary Magdalen, and 56 Mary the mother of James and the mother of Joses, and the mother of Zebedee's children. When the even was come, there 57 came a rich man of Arimathia named Joseph, which same also was Jesus' disciple. He went to Pilate and begged the body of 58 Jesus. Then Pilate commanded the body to be delivered. And 59 Joseph took the body, and wrapped it in a clean linen cloth, and put it in his new tomb, which he had hewn out even in 60 the rock, and rolled a great stone to the door of the sepulchre and departed. And there was Mary Magdalene and the other 61 Mary sitting over against the sepulchre. The next day that 62 followeth good friday,* the high priests and pharisees got themselves to Pilate, and said: Sir, we remember, that this deceiver 63 said while he was yet alive. After three days I will arise again, command therefore that the sepulchre be made sure until the 64 third day, lest peradventure his disciples come, and steal him away, and say unto the people, he is risen from death: And then the last error shall be worse than the first was. Pilate 65 said unto them: Take watchmen: Go and make it as sure as ye can. * They went and made the sepulchre sure with watch- 66 men, and sealed the stone.

The Sabbath day at even which dawneth the morrow after XXVIII the Sabbath, Mary Magdalene and the other Mary came to see the sepulchre. And behold there was a great earthquake. For 2 v.51 Other: did. v.54 Other: centurion. v.62 Other: the day of preparing the Saboth.

 v.66 Other: And.

the angel of the Lord descended from heaven: and came and 3 rolled back the stone from the door, and sat upon it. His coun-4 tenance was like lightning, and his raiment white as snow. *
 For fear of him the keepers were astunned, and became as dead 5 men. The angel answered, and said to the women: Fear ye 6 not. I know well* ye seek Jesus which was crucified: he is not here: he is risen as he said. Come, and see the place where 7 the Lord was put. And go quickly and tell his disciples that he is risen from death. And behold, he will go before you into 8 Galilee, there ye shall see him. Lo I have told you. And they departed quickly from the sepulchre with fear and great Joy.
 9 And did run to bring his disciples word. And as they went to tell his disciples: behold, Jesus met them saying: God speed you.* They came and held him by the feet and worshipped him.
 10 Then said Jesus unto them: Be not afraid. Go and tell my brethren, that they go into Galilee, and there shall they see 11 me. When they were gone: behold, some of the keepers came in to the city, and shewed unto the prelates,* all the things 12 which had* happened. And they gathered them together with the seniors,* and took counsel, and gave large money unto the 13 soldiers, saying: Say that his disciples came by night, and 14 stole him away while ye slept. And if this come to the ruler's 15 ears, we will please him, and make you safe.* And they took the money and did as they were taught. And this saying is 16 noised among the jews unto this day. Then the eleven disciples went away into Galilee, into a mountain where Jesus had 17 appointed them. And when they saw him, they worshipped 18 him. But some of them doubted. * Jesus came and spake unto them, saying: All power is given unto me in heaven, and in 19 earth. Go therefore and teach all nations, baptising them in 20 the name of the father, and the son, and the holy ghost: Teaching them to observe all things, whatsoever I commanded you.
 And lo, I am with you alway even until the end of the world.

Here endeth the Gospell off S. Mathew.

28. v.4 Other: And. v.5 Other: that. v.9 Other: All hail. v.11 Other: hie priests. v.11 Other: that were. v.12 Other: elders. v.14 Other: save you harmless.
v.18 Other: And.

The Gospel According To St. Mark.

The beginning of the gospel of Jesu Christ the son of I God, as it is written in the prophets, behold I send 2 my messenger before thy face which shall prepare thy way before thee. The voice of one that crieth* in the 3 wilderness: prepare ye the way of the Lord, make his paths straight. John did baptise in the wilderness, and preach the 4 baptism of repentance, for the remission of sins. And all the 5 land of Jewry, and they of Jerusalem went out unto him, and were all baptised of him in the river Jordan, knowledging,* their sins. John was clothed with camel's hair, and with a 6 girdle of a beast's skin about his loins. And he ate* locusts and wild honey, and preached saying: a stronger then I cometh af- 7 ter me, whose shoe latchet I am not worthy to stoop down and unloose. I have baptised you with water: but he shall baptise 8 you with the holy ghost. And it came to pass in those days, 9 that Jesus came from Nazareth, a city of Galilee: and was baptised of John in Jordan. And immediately he came* out of 10 the water, and* saw the heavens open, and the holy ghost descending upon him like a dove. And there came a voice from 11 heaven: Thou art my dear son, in whom I delight. And immediately the spirit drove* him into a wilderness: and he was 13 there in the wilderness forty days, and was tempted of Satan, and was with wild beasts. And the angels ministered unto him.
After that John was taken, Jesus came into Galilee, preaching 14 the gospel of the kingdom of God, and saying: the time is ful come, and the kingdom of God is even at hand, repent and be- 15 lieve the gospel. As he walked by the sea of Galilee, he saw 16 Simon and Andrew his brother casting nets into the sea, for they were fishers. And Jesus said unto them: follow me, and 17 I will make you to be fishers of men. And they straightway 18 forsook their nets, and followed him. And when he had gone a 19 little further thence, he saw James the son of Zebede, and John

1. v.3 Other: a crier. v.5 Other: confessing. v.6 Other: did eat. v.10 Other: as soon as he was come. v.10 Other: John. v.12 Other: drove.

his brother, even as they were in the ship dressing* their nets.
 20 And anon he called them. And they left their father Zebede in the ship with his hired servants, and went their way after 21 him. And they entered into Capernaum, and straight way on the Sabbath days he entered into the synagogue and taught.
 22 And they marveled at his learning. For he taught them as one 23 which* had power with him, and not as the scribes did. And there was in the* synagogue, a man vexed with an unclean 24 spirit, and he* cried saying: let me alone:* what have we to do with thee* Jesus of Nazareth? Art thou come to destroy us? I know* what thou art, thou art* that holy man promised of God.
 25 And Jesus rebuked him, saying: hold thy peace and come out 26 of the man.* And the unclean spirit tare him,* cried out with a 27 loud voice, and came out of him. And they were all amazed, insomuch that they demanded one of another among themselves, saying: what thing is this? what new doctrine is this? for he commandeth the foul spirits with power, and they obey him.
 28 Anon* his name* spread abroad throughout all the region bor-29 dering on Galilee. And immediately* as soon as they were come out of the Synagogue, they entered into the house of Si-30 mon and Andrew with James and John. * Simon's mother-in-31 law lay sick of a fever, and anon they told him of her. And he came and took her by the hand and lifted her up, and the fever 32 forsook her by and by: And she ministered unto them. And at even when the sun* was down, they brought unto him all that were diseased, and them that were possessed with devils, 33, 34 and all the city gathered together at the door, and he healed many that were sick of divers diseases. And he cast out many devils and suffered not the devils* to speak, because they knew 35 him. And in the morning very early, Jesus arose and went out 36 into a solitary place, and there prayed. And Simon and they 37 that were with him followed after him. And when they had 38 found him, they said unto him: all men seek for thee. And he said unto them: let us go in to the next towns, that I may 39 preach there also: for truly I came out for that purpose. And he preached in their synagogues, throughout all Galilee, and v.19 Other: mending. v.22 Other: that. v.23 Other: their. v.23 Other: that.

 v.24 Other: be. v.24 Other: thou. v.24 Other: thee. v.24 Other: even. v.25 Other:
 him. v.26 Other: and. v.28 Other: And immediately. v.28 Other: fame. v.29 Other: forthwith. v.30 Other: And. v.32 Other: son. v.34 Other: them not.

cast* devils out. And there came a leper to him beseeching 40 him, and kneeled down unto him, and said unto him: if thou wilt, thou arte able to* make me clean. * Jesus had compas- 41 sion on him, and put forth his hand, touched him, and said unto him: I will, be* clean. And as soon as he had spoken, im- 42 mediately the leprosy departed from him, and he was cleansed.
 And he charged him and sent him away forthwith and said 43, 44 unto him: See that thou tell no* man, but get thee hence and shew thyself to the priest, and offer for thy cleansing, those things which Moses commanded, for a testimonial unto them.
 But he (as soon as he was departed) began to tell many things 45 and to publish the deed, insomuch that Jesus could no more openly enter into the city, but was without in desert places, and they came to him from every quarter.

After a few days he entered into Capernaum again, and it II was noised that he was in a house: And anon many gath- 2 ered together, insomuch that now there was no room to receive them: no, not in places* about the door. And he preached* unto 3 them. And there came unto him that brought one sick of the palsy, borne of four men: and because they could not come 4 nye unto him for press: They opened* the roof of the house where he was. And when they had broken it open, they let down the bed wherein the sick of the palsy lay. When Jesus 5 saw their faith, he said to the sick of the palsy, son thy sins are forgiven thee. * There were certain of the scribes sitting,* and 6 reasoning in their hearts: how doth this fellow so blaspheme?
 Who can forgiven sins, but God only? And immediately when 8 Jesus perceived in his spirit, that they so reasoned in themselves, he said unto them: why think ye such things in your hearts? Whether is it easier to say to the sick of the palsy, 9 thy sins are forgiven thee: or to say, arise, take up thy bed and walk? That ye may know that the son of man hath power in 10 earth to forgive sins, he spake unto the sick of the palsy: I say unto thee, arise and take up thy bed, and get thee hence into thine own house. And by and by he arose, took up his* bed, 12 and went forth before them all: insomuch that they were all amazed, and glorified God saying: we never saw it on this fashv.39 Other: the. v.40 Other: canst. v.41 Other: And. v.41 Other: thou. v.44 Other:

 say nothing to any. 2. v.2 Other: not so much as. v.2 Other: the word. v.4 Other: uncovered. v.6 Other: And. v.6 Other: there. v.12 Other: the.

13 ion. And he went out again unto the sea, and all the people 14 resorted unto him, and he taught them. And as Jesus passed by, he saw Levi the son of Alphey, sit at the receipt of custom and said unto him: follow me. And he arose and followed him.
15 And it came to pass, as Jesus sat at meat in his house, many publicans and sinners sat at meat also with Jesus and his dis-16 ciples. For there were many that followed him. And when the scribes and pharisees saw him eat with publicans and sinners, they said unto his disciples: how is it, that he eateth and drin-17 keth with publicans and sinners? When Jesus heard that, he said unto them. The whole have no need of the Physician: but the sick. I came to call the sinners to repentance, and not the 18 just.* And the disciples of John and of the pharisees did fast, and they* came and said unto him: Why do the disciples of 19 John and of the pharisees fast, and thy disciples fast not. And Jesus said unto them: can the children of a wedding fast, while the bridegroom is with them? As long as they have the bride-20 groom with them, they cannot fast. But the days will come when the bridegroom shall be taken from them and then shall 21 they fast in those days. Also no man soweth a piece of new cloth unto an old garment, for then taketh he away the new 22 piece from the old, and so is the rent worse. In like wise, no man poureth new wine into old vessels, for if he do the new wine breaketh the vessels, and the wine runneth out, and the vessels are marred. But new wine must be poured into new 23 vessels. And it chanced (again) that he went thorow the corn fields on the Sabbath day, and his disciples as they went on 24 their way, began to pluck the ears of corn. And the pharisees said unto him: Take heed* why do they on the Sabbath day 25 that which is unlawful? * And he said to them: have ye never read what David did, when he had need, and was an hungered 26 both he and they that were with him? How they* went into the house of God in the days of Abiathar the high priest, and ate* the hallowed loaves, which is not lawful but for the priests 27 only to eat: and gave also to them which were with him? And he said to them: the Sabbath day was made for man, and not 28 man for the Sabbath day. Wherefore is the son of man* Lord v.17 Other: I came not to call the righteous, but the sinners to repentance.

v.18 Other: therefore. v.24 Other: behold. v.24 Other: not lawful?. v.26 Other:

he. v.26 Other: did eat. v.28 Other: is.

even of the Sabbath day.

And he entered again into the synagogue, and there was a III man* which had a withered hand: and they watched him to 2 see, if* he would heal him on the Sabbath day, that they might accuse him. And he said unto the man which had the with- 3 ered hand: arise and stand in the midst. And he said to them: 4 whether is it lawful to do a good deed on the Sabbath day, or an evil? to save a man's life, or to kill? But they held their 5 peace. And he looked round about on them angrily mourning on the blindness of their hearts. And said to the man: stretch forth thine hand. And he stretched it forth:* And the* hand was restored, even as whole as the other. * The phar- 6 isees departed, and straightway gathered a counsel with them that belonged to Herod against him, that they might destroy him. And Jesus avoided with his disciples to the sea: and 7 a great multitude followed him from Galilee and from Jewry, and from Hierusalem, and from Idumea, and from beyond Jor- 8 dan: and they that dwelled about Tyre and Sidon, a great multitude: which when they had heard what things he did, came unto him. And he commanded his disciples, that a ship should 9 wait on him, because of the people, lest they should throng him. For he had healed many, insomuch that they pressed 10 upon him, for to touch him, as many as had plagues. And 11 when the unclean spirits saw him, they fell down before him, and cried saying: thou art the son of God: And he straightly 12 charged them that they should not utter him. And he went 13 up into a mountain, and called unto him whom he would, and they came unto him. And he ordained the twelve that they 14 should be with him, and that he might send them to preach.
 And that they might have power to heal sicknesses and to cast 15 out devils. And he gave Simon, to name, Peter. And he called 16, 17 James the son of Zebedee, and John James brother, and gave them Bonargs to name, which is to say the sons of thunder.
 And Andrew, and Philip, and Bartelemew, and Matthew, and 18 Thomas, and James the son of Alphey, and Taddeus, and Simon of Cane, and Judas Iscarioth, which same also betrayed him. 19 And they came unto house, and the people assembled together 20 again, so greatly that they had not leisure so much as to eat

3. v.1 Other: there. v.2 Other: whether. v.5 Other: out. v.5 Other: his. v.6 Other: And.

21 bread. And when they that longed unto him heard of it, they 22 went out to hold him. For they said, he is too fervent.* And the scribes which came from Jerusalem, said: he hath Beelzebub, 23 and by the power of the chief devil, casteth out devils. And he called them unto him, and in similitudes said unto them.
 24 How can Satan drive out Satan? For if a realm be divided 25 against itself, that realm cannot endure. And* if a house be 26 divided against itself, that house cannot continue: So if Satan make insurrection against himself, and be divided, he cannot 27 continue, but hath* an end. No man can enter into a strong man's house, and take away his goods, except he first bind that 28 strong man and then spoil his house. Verily I say unto you all sins shall be forgiven unto men's children: and blasphemy, 29 wherewith they blaspheme: but he that blasphemeth the holy ghost, shall never have forgiveness: but is in danger of eternal 30, 31 damnation. For* they said, he had an unclean spirit. And there* came his mother and his brethren, and stood without, 32 and sent unto him and called him: And the people sat about him, and said unto him: behold thy mother and thy brethren 33 seek for thee without. And he answered them, saying: who is 34 my mother, and my brethren? And he looked round about on his disciples, which sat in compass about him, and said: behold 35 my mother, and my brethren: For whosoever doeth the will of God, he is my brother, my sister and mother.

IV And he began again to teach by the seaside. And there gathered together unto him much people, so greatly that he entered in to a ship, and sat in the sea, and all the people was 2 by the seaside on the shore: And he taught them many things
 3 in similitudes, and said unto them in his doctrine. Hearken 4 to. Behold; The sower went out to sow, and it fortun'd as he sowed, that some fell by the wayside, and the fowls of the air 5 came and devoured it up. Some fell on a stony ground: where it had not much earth: and by and by sprang up, because it 6 had not depth of earth: and* as soon as the sun was up it caught heat: and because it had not rooting it withered away.
 7 And some fell among the thorns, and the thorns grew up and 8 choked it, so that it gave no fruit. And some fell upon good ground: and did yield fruit that sprang and grew: and brought v.21 Other: For they thought he had been beside him self. v.25 Other: Or.

v.26 Other: is at. v.30 Other: because. v.31 Other: Then. 4. v.6 Other: but.

forth some thirty fold, some forty* fold, and some an hundred fold. And he said unto them: He that hath ears to hear, let 9 him hear. * When he was alone, they that were, about him 10 with the twelve asked him of the similitude. And he said unto 11 them: To you it is given to know the mystery of the kingdom of God: But unto them that are without, shall all things be done in similitudes: that when they see, they shall see, and not 12 discern: and when they hear they shall hear, and not understand: lest at any time they should turn, and their sins should be forgiven them. And he said unto them: Perceive ye not 13 this similitude. And how ye shall know all similitudes? * The 14 sower soweth the word. These be they which* are by the ways 15 side, where the word is sown,* to whom as soon as they have heard it, cometh* the devil* and taketh away the word that was sown in their hearts. And these also are* they that are sown 16 on the stony ground: which when they have heard the word, at once they receive it with joy,* yet have no root in themselves, 17 and so endure but for a season:* afterward as soon as any trouble or* persecution ariseth for the word's sake, anon* they fall.
 And these are they that are sown among the thorns, which* 18 hear the word of God, and the care of this world and the de-ceitfulness of riches, and the lusts of other things enter in, and choke the word, and it is made unfruitful. And these* that 20 were sown in good ground, are they that hear the word and receive it, and bring forth fruit, some thirty fold some sixty fold, some an hundred fold. And he said unto them: is the candle 21 lighted, to be put under a bushel, or under the bord:* is it not therefore* lighted that it should* be put on a candlestick? For 22 there is nothing so privy, that shall not be opened: neither so secret, but that it shall come abroad. If any man have ears to 23 hear, let him hear. And he said unto them: take heed what ye 24 hear. With what measure ye mete, with the same shall it be measured unto you again. And unto you that have* shall more be given. For unto him that hath, shall it be given: And unto* 25

v.8 Other: sixty. v.10 Other: And. v.13 Other: how then should ye understand all other similitudes?. v.15 Other: And they that. v.15 Other: are they to whom. v.15 Other: immediately. v.15 Other: satan. v.16 Other: And likewise. v.16 Other: gladness. v.17 Other: time: and anon. v.17 Other: and. v.17 Other: immediately. v.18 Other: are such as. v.20 Other: those. v.21 Other: table: and. v.21 Other: rather. v.21 Other: to. v.24 Other: hear. v.25 Other: from.

him that hath not, shall be taken away, even that he hath.
 26 And he said: so is the kingdom of God, even as if a man should 27 sow seed in the ground, and should sleep and rise up night and day: and the seed should spring, and grow up while he is 28 not ware. For the earth bringeth forth fruit of herself, first 29 the blade, then the ears, after that full corn in the ears. And as soon as the fruit is brought forth, anon he thrusteth in the 30 sickle because that harvest is come. And he said: whereunto shall we liken the kingdom of God? or with what comparison 31 shall we compare it? It is like a grain of mustard seed, which when it is sown in the earth, is the least of all seeds that be 32 in the earth: And* after that it is sown it groweth up, and is greatest of all herbs: and beareth great branches so that the 33 fowls of the air may dwell under the shadow of it. And with many such similitudes he preached the word unto them, af-34 ter as they might hear it. And without similitude spake he nothing unto them. But when they were apart, he expounded 35 all things to his disciples. And the same day when even was come he said unto them: let us pass over into* the other side.
 36 And they late the people depart* and took him even as he was 37 in the ship.* There were also with him other ships. And there arose a great storm of wind, and dashed the waves into the 38 ship, so that it was full. And he was in the stern asleep on a pillow. And they awoke him, and said to him: Master, carest 39 thou not that we perish? And he rose up and rebuked the wind, and said unto the sea: peace and be still. And the wind 40 allayed, and there followed a great calm: and he said unto them: why are ye* fearful? How is it that ye have no faith?
 41 And they feared exceedingly, and said one to another: what fellow is this? for both wind and sea obey him.

V And they came over to the other side of the sea into the 2 country of the Gaderens. And when he was come out of the ship, anon* met him out of the graves a man possessed of an 3 unclean spirit, which had his abiding among the graves. And 4 no man could bind him* with chains, because that when he was often bound with fetters and chains, he plucked the chains asunder, and brake the fetters in pieces: Neither could any 5 man tame him. And always both night and day he cried in v.32 Other: but. v.35 Other: unto. v.36 Other: left the people. v.36 Other: And.

v.40 Other: so. 5. v.2 Other: there. v.3 Other: no not.

the mountains and in the graves and beat himself with stones. When he had spied Jesus afar off, he ran, and worshipped him, 6 and cried with a loud voice and said: what have I to do, with 7 thee Jesus the son of the most highest God? I require thee in the name of God, that thou torment me not. For he had said 8 unto him: Come forth* of the man thou foul spirit. And he 9 asked him: what is thy name? and he answered him,* my name is Legion, for we are many. And he prayed him instantly, 10 that he would not send them away out of that region.*
* There was there nye unto the mountains a great herd of swine 11 feeding, and all the devils besought him saying: send us into 12 the herd of swine, that we may enter into them. And anon Je- 13 sus gave them leave; And the unclean spirits went out and entered into the swine. And the herd startled, and ran headlong into the sea. They were about two thousand swine, and they were drowned in the sea. And the swine herders fled, and told 14 it in the city, and in the country. And they came out for to see, what had happened; And they came out to Jesus, and they 15 saw him that was vexed with the fiend and had the Legion sit, both clothed and in his right mind, and were afraid. And they 16 that saw it told them, how it had happened unto him that was possessed with the devil: and also of the swine. And they be- 17 gan to pray him, that he would depart from their coasts. And 18 when he was come into the ship, he that had the devil prayed him that he might be with him. * Jesus would not suffer him 19 but said unto him: go home into thine own house and to thy friends, and shew them what* things the Lord hath done unto thee, and how he had compassion on thee. And he departed, 20 and began to publish in the ten cities, what* things Jesus had done unto him, and all men did marvel. And when Jesus was 21 come over again in the* ship unto the other side, much people gathered unto him, and he was nye unto the sea. And behold, 22 there came unto him one of the rulers of the Synagogue, whose name was Jairus: and when he saw him, he fell down at his feet, and besought him greatly saying: my daughter lieth at 23 point of death, I would thou wouldst come and lay thy hand on her, that she might be safe and live. And he went with him, 24

v.8 Other: out. v.9 Other: saying:. v.10 Other: the country. v.11 Other: And.
v.19 Other: Howbeit. v.19 Other: great. v.20 Other: great. v.21 Other: by.

25 and much people followed him, and thronged him. And there was a * woman, which was diseased of an issue of blood twelve 26 year, and had suffered many things of many physicians, and had spent all that she had, and felt none amendment at all: 27 But waxed worse and worse. When she had heard of Jesus:
she came into the press behind him, and touched his garment.
28 For she said: * If I may but touch his clothing, I shall be whole.
29 And straight way her fountain of blood was dried up, and she 30 felt in her body, that she was healed of the plague. And Jesus immediately felt in himself, the virtue that went out of him, and turned him round about in the press, and said: Who 31 touched my clothes? And his disciples said unto him: thou seest the people thrusting thee on every side, and yet sayest: * 32 who did touch me? And he looked round about, for to see her 33 that had done that thing. The woman feared and trembled, for she knew what was done within her. And she came and fell 34 down before him and told him the truth of everything. And he said unto her: Daughter, thy faith hath saved * thee, * go in 35 peace, and be whole of thy plague. While he yet spake, there came from the ruler of the synagogue's house, certain which said: thy daughter is dead: why diseasest thou the Master any 36 further? As soon as Jesus heard that word spoken, he said unto the ruler of the Synagogue: Be not afraid, only believe.
37 And he suffered no man to follow him more than Peter, and 38 James and John James brother. * And he came unto the house of the ruler of the Synagogue, and saw the wondering and them 39 that wept and wailed greatly; And he went in and said unto them: Why make ye this ado and weep? The maiden is not 40 dead, but sleepeth. And they laughed him to scorn. Then he put them all out, and took the father and the mother of the maiden, and them that were with him, and entered in where 41 the maiden lay; And took the maiden by the hand, and said unto her: Tabitha, cumi: which is by interpretation: maiden 42 I say unto thee, arise. And straight the maiden arose, and went on her feet. For she was of the age of twelve year. And 43 they were astonished at it out of measure. And he charged them straitly that no man should know of it. And commanded to give her meat.

v.25 Other: certain. v.28 Other: thought:. v.31 Other: asket:. v.34 Other: made.
v.34 Other: whole. v.37 Other: the brother of James.

And he departed thence, and came into his own country, VI and his disciples followed him. And when the Sabbath day ² was come, he began to teach in the synagogue. And many that heard him were astonied, and said: From whence hath he these things? and what wisdom is this that is given unto him? and such virtues that are wrought by his hands? ³ Is not this that carpenter Mary's son, the brother of James, and Joses and* Juda and Simon? and are not his sisters here with us? And they were hurt* by the reason of him. And Jesus said ⁴ unto them: a prophet is not despised but in his own country, and among his own kin, and among them that are of the same household. And he could there shew no miracles but laid his ⁵ hands upon a few sick folk and healed them. And he mar- ⁶ veled at their unbelief. And he went about by the towns that lie in circuit,* teaching. And he called the twelve, and began ⁷ to send them, two and two, and gave them power over unclean spirits. And commanded them, that they should take noth- ⁸ ing unto their Journey, save a rod only: Neither scrip, neither bread, neither money in their purses: but should be shod with ⁹ sandals. And that they should not put on two coats. And* said ¹⁰ unto them: wheresoever ye enter into an house, there abide till ye depart thence. And whosoever shall not receive you, nor ¹¹ hear you, when ye depart thence, shake off the dust that is under your feet, for a remembrance* unto them. I say verily unto you, it shall be easier for Sodom and Gomor, at the day of judgement, than for that city. And they went out and preached, that ¹² they should repent: and they cast out many devils. And they ¹³ anointed, many that were sick with oil and healed them. And ¹⁴ king Herod heard of him, for his name was spread abroad; And he said: John Baptist is risen again from death, and therefore miracles are wrought in* him. Other said, it is Helias: and ¹⁵ some said: it is a prophet, or as one of the prophets. But when ¹⁶ Herod heard of him, he said: it is John whom I beheaded, he is risen from death again. For Herod himself, had sent forth, ¹⁷ and had taken John, and bound him and cast him into prison for Herodias' sake which was his brother Philip's wife. For he had married her. John said unto Herod: It is not lawful for ¹⁸ thee to have thy brother's wife. Herodias laid wait for him, ¹⁹

6. v.3 Other: of. v.3 Other: offended. v.6 Other: lay on every side. v.10 Other: he. v.11 Other: witness. v.14 Other: by.

20 and would have killed him, but she could not. For Herod feared John, knowing that he was* just* and* holy, and gave him reverence; And when he heard him he did many things, 21 and heard him gladly. And* when a convenient day was come:
 Herod on his birthday made a supper to the lords, captains, 22 and chief estates of Galilee. And the daughter of the same* Herodias came in and danced, and pleased Herod and them that sat at board also. Then the king said unto the maiden: 23 ask of me what thou wilt, and I will give it thee. And he swore unto her, whatsoever thou shalt ask of me, I will give it 24 thee, even unto the one half of my kingdom. And she went forth and said to her mother: what shall I ask? And she said: 25 John baptist's head. And she came in straightway with haste unto the king, and asked saying: I will, that thou give me by 26 and by in a charger the head of John baptist. And the king was sorry yet for his oath's sake, and for their sakes which sat 27 at supper also, he would not put her beside her purpose. And immediately the king sent the hangman and commanded his 28 head to be brought in. And he went and beheaded him in the prison, and brought his head in a charger and gave it to 29 the maiden, and the maiden gave it to her mother. * When his disciples heard of it, they came and took up his body, and 30 put it in a tomb. And the apostles gathered themselves together to Jesus, and told him all things, both what they had 31 done, and what they had taught. And he said unto them: come ye apart into the wilderness, and rest awhile. For there were many comers and goers. And* they had no leisure was 32 for* to eat. And he went by ship aside out of the way into 33 a desert place. And* the people spied them when they departed: and many knew him, and they hasted* afoot thither out of every city,* and came thither before them; And came to-34 gether unto him. And Jesus went out and saw much people, and had compassion on them, because they were like sheep which had no shepherd. And he began to teach them many 35 things. And when the day was now far spent, his disciples came unto him saying: this is a desert place, and now the day 36 is far passed, let them depart, that they may go into the coun-v.20 Other: a. v.20 Other: man. v.20 Other: an. v.21 Other: But. v.22 Other: said. v.29 Other: And. v.31 Other: that. v.31 Other: so much as. v.33 Other:

 But. v.33 Other: ran. v.33 Other: all cities.

try round about, and into the towns, and buy them bread: for they have nothing to eat. He answered and said unto them: 37 give ye them to eat. And they said unto him: shall we go and buy two hundred pennyworth of bread, and give them to eat?
He said unto them: how many loaves have ye? Go and look. 38
And when they had searched, they said: five and two fishes.
And he commanded them to make them all sit down, by com- 39 panies upon the green grass. And they sat down here a row 40 and there a row, by hundreds and by fifties. And he took the 41 five loaves and the two fishes; And looked up to heaven and blest,* and brake the loaves, and gave them to his disciples to put before them, and the two fishes he divided among them all. And they all ate,* and were satisfied. And they took up 42, 43 twelve baskets full of the gobbets and of the fishes. And they 44 that ate were about five thousand men. And straightway he 45 caused his disciples to go into the ship, and to go over the water before unto Bethsaida, while he sent away the people. And as 46 soon as he had sent them away, he departed into a mountain to pray. And when even was come the ship was in the midst of 47 the sea, and he alone on the land, and he saw them troubled 48 in rowing, for the wind was contrary unto them. And about the fourth quarter of the night, he came unto them, walking upon the sea, and would have passed by them. When they 49 saw him walking upon the sea, they supposed it had been a spirit, and cried out: For they all saw him, and were afraid. 50 And anon he talked with them, and said unto them: be of good cheer, it is I, be not afraid. And he went up unto them into the 51 ship, and the wind ceased, and they were sore amazed in themselves beyond measure, and marveled. For they remembered 52 not of the loaves, because their hearts were blinded. And they 53 came over, and went into the land of Genazareth, and drew up into the haven. And as soon as they were come out of the 54 ship, straight they knew him, and ran forth throughout all 55 the region round a about, and began to carry about in beds all that were sick, when* they heard tell that he was there. And 56 whithersoever he entered into the towns, or cities, or villages, they laid their sick in the streets, and prayed him, that they might touch and it were but the edge of his vesture. And as many as touched him were safe.

v.41 Other: blessed. v.42 Other: did eat. v.55 Other: to the place where.

VII And the pharisees came together unto him, and divers of 2 the scribes which came from Jerusalem. And when they saw certain of his disciples eat bread with common hands (that is 3 to say, with unwashen hands) they complained. For the pharisees, and all the jews, except they wash their hands often, eat 4 not, observing the traditions of the seniors.* And when they come from the market, except they wash themselves they eat not. And many other things there be, which they have taken upon them to observe, as the washing of cups and cruses, and 5 of brazen vessels, and of tables. Then asked him the pharisees and scribes: why walk not thy disciples according to the tradi-6 tions of the seniors,* but eat bread with unwashen hands? He answered and said unto them: well prophesied hath Esaias of you hypocrites as it is written: This people honoureth me with 7 their lips, but their heart is far from me: In vain they worship me, teaching doctrines which are nothing but the command-8 ments of men, for ye lay the commandment of God apart, and ye observe the traditions of men as the washing of cruses and 9 of cups, and many other such like things ye do. And he said unto them: well, ye put away* the commandment of God, to 10 maintain your own traditions. For Moses said: Honour thy father and thy mother: and whosoever saith evil of his* father 11 or mother, let him die for it. But ye say: a man shall say to his father or mother Corban, that is, whatsoever thing I offer, that 12 same doeth profit thee.* And* ye suffer* no more that a man* 13 do anything* for his father or* mother, and thus have ye made the commandment* of God of none effect through your own traditions which ye have ordained. And many such things ye do.
 14 And he called all the people unto him, and said unto them: 15 Hearken unto me every one of you and understand: There is nothing with out a man that can defile him when it entereth into him, but those things which proceed out of him are those 16 which defile a* man. If any man have ears to hear, let him 17 hear. And when he came into a house away from the people, 18 his disciples asked him of the similitude, and he said unto them: Do ye than lack* understanding: Do ye not yet perceive,

7. v.3 Other: elders. v.5 Other: elders. v.9 Other: cast aside. v.10 Other: curseth. v.11 Other: which is: that thou desirest of me to help thee with is given God. v.12 Other: so. v.12 Other: him. v.12 Other: to. v.12 Other: ought. v.12 Other: his. v.13 Other: making the word. v.15 Other: the. v.18 Other: Are ye so without.

that whatsoever thing from without entereth into a man, it cannot defile him, because it entereth not into his heart, but into the belly: and goeth out into the draught that purgeth out all meats. And he said that defileth a man which cometh out of a man. For from within even out of the heart of men, proceed evil thoughts: advoutry, fornication, murder, theft, covetousness, wickedness, deceit, uncleanness, and a wicked eye, blasphemy, pride, foolishness: All these evil things, come from within, and defile a man. And from thence he rose and went into the borders of Tyre and Sidon, and entered into an house, and would that no man should have known of him: But he could not be hid. For a certain woman whose daughter had a foul spirit when she heard of him,* came and fell down at his feet. The woman was a greek out of Syrophenicia, and she besought him that he would cast out the devil out of her daughter. * Jesus said unto her: let the children first be fed.* It is not meet, to take the children's bread, and to cast it unto whelps. She answered and said unto him: even so Master, nevertheless, the whelps also eat under the table of the children's crumbs. And he said unto her: for this saying go thy way, the devil is gone out of thy daughter. And when she was come home to her house she found the devil departed, and her daughter lying on the bed. And he departed again from the coasts of Tyre and Sidon, and came unto the sea of Galilee thorow the midst of the coasts of the ten cities. And they brought unto him one that was deaf, and stammered in his speech, and prayed him to lay his hand upon him. And he took him aside from the people, and put his fingers in his ears, and did spit, and touched his tongue, and looked up to heaven and sighted, and said unto him: ephatha that is to say, be opened. And straightway his ears were opened, and the string of his tongue was loosed, and he spake plain. And he commanded them that they should tell no man. But the more he forbade them, so much the more a great deal they published it. And were beyond measure astonished, saying: He hath done all things well, and hath made both the deaf to hear and the dumb to speak.

In those days when there was a very great company, and VIII had nothing to eat, Jesus called his disciples to him and said unto them: My heart melteth* on this people, because they 2 v.25 Other: and. v.27 Other: And. v.27 Other: For. 8. v.2 Other: I have compassion.

have now been with me three days, and have nothing to eat: 3 And if I should send them away fasting to their own houses, they should faint by the way. For divers of them came from 4 far. And his disciples answered him: from whence might* a 5 man suffice them with* bread here in the wilderness? * And he asked them: how many loaves have ye? They said: seven.
 6 And he commanded the people to sit down on the ground. And he took the seven loaves, gave thanks, brake, and gave to his disciples, to set before them. And they* set them before the 7 people. And they had a few small fishes. And he blessed them 8 and commanded them also to be set before them. * They ate and were sufficed, and they took up of the broken meat that 9 was left, seven baskets full. * They that ate were in number 10 about four thousand. And he sent them away. And anon he took* ship with his disciples, and came into the parts of Dal-11 manutha. And the pharisees came forth, and began to dispute with him, and sought* of him a sign from heaven* tempting 12 him, and he sighed in his spirit and said: why doth this generation seek a sign? Verily I say unto you, there shall no sign 13 be given unto this generation. And he left them and went 14 into the ship again, and departed over the water. And they had forgotten to take bread with them, neither had they in the 15 ship with them more than one loaf. And he charged them saying: take heed,* beware of the leaven of the pharisees, and of 16 the leaven of Herod. And they reasoned among themselves 17 saying: we have no bread. And when Jesus knew that he said unto them: why take ye thought because ye have no bread? perceive ye not yet, neither understand? Have ye your hearts 18 yet blinded? Have ye eyes and see not? and have ye ears and 19 hear not? Do ye not remember? When I brake five loaves among five thousand men: How many baskets full of broken 20 meat took ye up? They said unto him, twelve. When I brake seven among four thousand how many baskets of the leavings 21 of broken meat took ye up? They said, seven. And he said 22 unto them: how is it that ye understand not? And he came to Bethsaida, and they brought a blind man unto him and de-23 sired him, to touch him. And he caught the blind by the hand, v.4 Other: where should. v.4 Other: have. v.4 Other: to satisfy these. v.6 Other:

did. v.8 Other: And. v.9 Other: And. v.10 Other: entered into a. v.11 Other: seeking. v.11 Other: and. v.15 Other: and.

and led him out of the town, and spat in his eyes and put his hands upon him, and asked him if* he saw anything,* and he 24 looked up and said: I see* men; For I see them walk as they were trees. After that he put his hands again upon his eyes, 25 and made him see. And he was restored to his sight, and saw every man clearly. And he sent him home to his own house 26 saying: neither go into the town, nor tell it any in the town.
 And Jesus went out and his disciples into the towns that long 27 to the city called Cesarea Philippi, and by the way he asked his disciples saying: whom do men say that I am? * They answered: 28 some say that thou art John Baptist: some say Helias, and some one of the prophets. And he said unto them: But 29 whom say ye that I am? Peter answered and said unto him: Thou art very Christ. And he charged them, that they should 30 tell no man of it. And he began to declare unto* them, how 31 that the son of man must suffer many things, and should be reprov'd of the seniors* and of the high priests and scribes, and should be killed, and after three days arise again. And 32 he spake that saying openly. And Peter took him aside, and began to chide him. * He turned about, and looked on his dis- 33 ciples, and rebuked Peter saying: Go after me Satan. For thou savourest not the things of God but the things of men. And 34 he called the people unto him, with his disciples also, and said unto them. Whosoever will follow me, let him forsake himself, and take up his cross, and follow me. For whosoever will save 35 his life, shall lose it. But whosoever shall lose his life for my sake and the gospel's, the same shall save it. What shall it 36 profit a man, if he should win all the world and lose his own soul? or else what shall a man give, to redeem his soul again? 37 Whosoever therefore shall be ashamed of me and of my words, 38 among this advoutrous and sinful generation: of him shall the son of man be ashamed, when he cometh in the glory of his father with the holy angels.

And he said unto them: Verily I say unto you: There be some IX of them that stand here, which shall not taste of death, till they have seen the kingdom of God come with power. And after six 2 days Jesus took Peter, James, and John and led them up into an high mountain out of the way alone, and he was transfig-v.23 Other: whether. v.23 Other: ought. v.24 Other: the. v.28 Other: And.

 v.31 Other: teach. v.31 Other: elders. v.33 Other: Then.

3 ured before them. And his raiment did shine, and was made very white, even as snow: so white as no fuller can make upon 4 the earth. And there appeared unto them Helias with Moses:
 5 and they talked with Jesu. And Peter answered and said to Jesu: Master, here is good being for us, let us make three taber-6 nacles, one for thee, one for Moses, and one for Helias. And 7 wist not what he said. For they were afraid. And there was a cloud that shadowed them. And a voice came out of the cloud 8 saying: This is my dear son, hear him. And suddenly, they looked round about them, and saw no man more, but* Jesus 9 only.* * As they came down from the hill, he charged them, that they should tell no man what they had seen, till the son of 10 man were risen from death again. And they kept that saying within them, and demanded one of another, what that rising 11 from death again should mean? And they asked him saying: 12 why then Say the scribes, that Helias must first come? He answered and said unto them: Helias* at his first coming, shall bring all things again into good order: And even so* is it written of the son of man, that he shall suffer many things, and 13 shall be set at nought. And* I say unto you, that Helias is come, and they have done unto him whatsoever pleased them, 14 as it is written of him. And he came to his disciples, and saw much people about them, and the scribes disputing with 15 them. And straightway all the people* beheld him and were 16 amazed, and ran to him, and saluted him. And he said unto 17 the scribes: What dispute ye with them? And one of the company answered and said: Master I have brought my son unto 18 thee, which hath a dumb spirit. And whensoever he taketh him, he teareth him, and he foameth, and gnasheth with his teeth, and pineth away. And I spake to thy disciples that they 19 should cast him out, and they could not. He answered him and said: O generation without faith, how long shall I be with 20 you. How long shall I suffer you? bring him unto me. And they brought him unto him. And as soon as the spirit saw him, he tare him. And he fell down on the ground wallowing: And 21 foaming. And he asked his father: how long is it ago, since 22 this hath happened him? And he said, of a child. And often times casteth him into the fire, and also into the water, to

9. v.8 Other: than. v.8 Other: with them. v.9 Other: And. v.12 Other: verily shall first come and restore. v.12 Other: also as. v.13 Other: Moreover. v.15 Other: when they.

destroy him. But if thou canst do anything, have mercy on us, and help us. * Jesus said unto him: ye if thou couldest believe, 23 all things are possible to him that believeth. And straight way 24 the father of the child cried with tears saying: Lord I believe, succor* mine unbelief. When Jesus saw that the people came 25 running together unto him, he rebuked the foul spirit, saying unto him: Thou dumb and deaf spirit, I charge thee come out of him, and enter no more into him. And the spirit cried, and 26 rent him sore and came out: And he was as one that had been dead, insomuch that many said, he is dead. But Jesus caught 27 his hand, and lift him up, and he rose. And when he was come 28 into the house, his disciples asked him secretly: why could not we cast him out? And he said unto them: this kind can by no 29 other means come forth, but by prayer and fasting. And they 30 departed thence, and took their journey thorow Galilee, and would not, that any man should have known it. For he taught 31 his disciples, and said unto them: The son of man shall be delivered into the hands of men, and they shall kill him, and after that he is killed he shall arise again the third day. But they 32 wist not what that saying meant, and were afraid to ask him.
 And he came to Capernaum, and when he was come to house, 33 he said to* them: what was it that ye disputed between you by the way? And they held their peace (for by the way they rea- 34 soned among themselves, who should be the chiefest) And he 35 sat down, and called the twelve unto him, and said to them: if any man desire to be first, the same shall be last of all, and servant unto all. And he took a child, and set him in the midst of 36 them, and took him in his arms and said unto them: Whoso- 37 ever receive any such a child in my name, receiveth me: And 38 whosoever receiveth me, receiveth not me, but him that sent me. John answered him, saying: Master, we saw one casting out devils in thy name, which followeth not us and we forbade him, because he followeth us not. But Jesus said: forbid him 39 not. For there is no man that shall do a miracle in my name, and* can speak lightly evil* of me. Whosoever is not against 40 you, is on your part. And whosoever shall give you a cup of 41 water to drink for my name's sake because ye are belonging to Christe, verily I say unto you, he shall not lose his reward.

v.23 Other: And. v.24 Other: help. v.33 Other: asked. v.39 Other: that.
 v.39 Other: can lightly speak evil.

42 And whosoever shall hurt* one of these little ones, that believe 43 in me, it were better for him, that a millstone were hanged 43 about his neck, and that he were cast into the sea. And* if thy hand offend thee, cut him off. It is better for thee, to enter into 44 life maimed, then to go, with* two hands into hell, into fire that 44 never shall be quenched, where their worm dieth not, and the 45 fire never goeth out. And* if thy foot offend thee, cut him off.*

It is better for thee to go halt into life, than with* two feet to be 46 cast into hell, into fire that never shall be quenched: where 47 their worm dieth not, and the fire never goeth out? And* if thine eye offend thee pluck him out. It is better for thee to go into the kingdom of God with one eye, than having two eyes 48 to be cast into hell fire: where their worm dieth not, and the 49 fire never goeth out. Every man therefore shall be salted with 50 fire: And every sacrifice shall be seasoned with salt. Salt is good. But if the salt be unsavoury: what shall ye salt therewith? See that ye have salt in yourselves. And have peace among yourselves, one with another.

X And he rose from thence, and went into the coasts of Jewry through the region that is beyond Jordan. And the people resorted unto him afresh: And as he was wont he taught them 2 again. And the pharisees came and asked him a question: whether it were lawful for a man to put away his wife: To prove 3 him. * He answered and said unto them: what did Moses bid 4 you do? And they said: Moses suffered to write a testimo-5 nial of her divorcement, and to put her away. And Jesus answered, and said unto them: For because* of your hard hearts 6 he wrote this precept unto you. But at the first creation, God 7 made them man and woman, saying: * For this thing's sake 8 shall man leave* father and mother, and bide by his wife, and, two* shall be made one flesh. So then are they now not twain, 9 but one flesh, therefore that which* God hath coupled, let not 10 man separate. And in the house his disciples asked him again 11 of that matter. And he said unto them: Whosoever putteth away his wife, and marrieth another, breaketh wedlock to her-12 ward. And if a woman forsake her husband, and be married v.42 Other: offend. v.43 Other: Wherefore. v.43 Other: having. v.45 Other: Likewise. v.45 Other: For. v.45 Other: having. v.47 Other: Even so. 10. v.3 Other:

 And. v.5 Other: the hardness. v.7 Other: And. v.7 Other: his. v.8 Other: they twain. v.9 Other: what.

to another, she committeth advoury. And they brought children to him that he should touch them. And his disciples chid* those that brought them. When Jesus saw that, he was displeased, and said to them: Suffer the children to come unto me and forbid them not. For unto* such belongeth* the kingdom of God. Verily I say to you, whosoever shall not receive the kingdom of God as a child, he shall not enter therein. And he took them up in his arms, and put his hands upon them, and blessed them. And when he was come out into the way, there came one running and kneeled to him, and asked him: Good Master, what shall I do, that I may inherit eternal life? Jesus said to him: why callest thou me good? there is no man good but one, which is God. Thou knowest the commandments: break not matrimony, kill not, steal not, bear no false witness, defraud no man, honour thy father and thy mother. He answered and said to him: master, all these I have observed from my youth. Jesus beheld him, and had a favour to him, and said unto him: One thing is lacking unto thee Go, and sell all that thou hast, and give it to the poor, and thou shalt have treasure in heaven, and come and follow me, and take* thy cross on thee. But he was discomforted with that saying, and went away mourning, for he had great possessions. And Jesus looked round about, and said unto his disciples: with what difficulty shall they* that have riches enter into the kingdom of God. * His disciples were astonished at his words.* Jesus answered again, and said unto them: children, how hard is it for them, that trust in their riches, to enter into the kingdom of God? It is easier for a camel to go thorow the eye of an needle, than for a rich man to enter into the kingdom of God. And they were astonished out of measure, saying between themselves: who then can be saved? Jesus looked upon them, and said: with men it is unpossible, but not with God: for with God all things are possible. And Peter began to say unto him: Lo, we have forsaken all, and have followed thee. Jesus answered and said: Verily I say unto you, there is no man that hath forsaketh house, or brethren, or sisters, or father, or mother, or wife, other children, or lands, for my sake and the gospel's, which shall not receive an hundred fold now in this

v.13 Other: rebuked. v.14 Other: of. v.14 Other: is. v.21 Other: up. v.23 Other: what an hard thing is it for them. v.24 Other: And. v.24 Other: But.

life, houses, and brethren, and sisters, and mothers and children, and lands with persecutions, and in the world to come 31 eternal life. Many that are first, shall be last. And the last 32 first. * They were in the way going up to Jerusalem. And Jesus went before them, and they were amazed, and as they followed, were afraid. And Jesus took the twelve again, and 33 began to tell them what things should happen unto him. Behold we go up to Jerusalem, and the son of man shall be delivered unto the high priests and unto the scribes: and they shall condemn him to death, and shall deliver him to the gentiles, and they shall mock him, and scourge him and spit upon 34 him, and kill him, and the third day he shall rise again. And* 35 James and John the sons of Zebedee, came unto him, saying: Master, we would that thou shouldest do for us whatsoever we 36 desire. He said unto them: what would ye I should do unto 37 you? They said to him: grant unto us that we may sit one on thy right hand, and the other on thy left hand, in thy glory.
38 But Jesus said unto them: Ye wot not what ye ask. Can ye drink of the cup, that I shall drink of? And be baptised in the 39 baptism that I shall be baptised in? And they said unto him: that we can. Jesus said unto them: ye shall drink of the cup that I shall drink of, and be baptised with the baptism that I 40 shall be baptised in: But to sit on my right hand and on my left hand, is not mine to give, but to them for whom it is prepared. And when the ten heard that, they began to disdain at 41 James and John. But Jesus called them unto him, and said to them: Ye know well that they which seem to bear rule among the gentiles, reign as lords over them. And they that be great 42 among them exercise authority over them. So shall it not be among you but whosoever of you will be great among you shall 43 be your minister. And whosoever will be chief, shall be servant unto all. For even the son of man came, not that other 44 should ministered unto him:* but to minister, and to give his 45 life for the redemption of many. And they came to Hiericho, and as he went out of Hiericho, with his disciples and a great number of people: Barthimeus the son of Thimeus which was 46 blind, sat by the highways side begging. And when he heard that it was Jesus of Nazareth, he began to cry and to say: Jesus the son of David, have mercy on me. And many rebuked 47
48

v.32 Other: And. v.35 Other: then. v.45 Other: not to be ministered unto.

him, because* he should hold his peace. But he cried the more a great deal, thou son of David have mercy on me. And Jesus 49 stood still, and commanded him to be called, and they called the blind, saying unto him: Be of good comfort rise he called thee. * He threw away his cloak, and rose and came to Jesus: 50
 And Jesus answered, and said unto him: what wilt thou that 51 I do unto thee? The blind said unto him: Master, that I might see. Jesus said unto him: go thy way, thy faith hath saved 52 thee: And by and by he received his sight, and followed Jesus in the way.

And when they came nye to Hierusalem, unto Bethphage, XI and Bethani, besides mount Olivete, he sent forth two of his disciples, and said unto them: Go your ways into the town 2 that is over against you. And as soon as ye be entered into it ye shall find a colt bound, whereon never man sat: loose him and bring him hither. And if any man say unto you: why do 3 ye so? say that the Lord hath need of him: and straightway he will send him hither. And they went their way, and found a 4 colt tied by the door without in a place where two ways met, and they loosed him. And divers of them that stood there, 5 said unto them: what do ye loosing the colt? And they said 6 unto them even as Jesus had commanded them. And they let them go. And they brought the colt to Jesus, and cast their 7 garments on him, and he sat upon him. And many spread 8 their garments in the way. Other cut down branches of the trees, and strawed them in the way. And they that went be- 9 fore and they that followed, cried, saying: Hosianna: blessed be he that cometh in the name of the Lord. Blessed be the 10 kingdom that cometh in the name of him that is Lord of our father David. Hosianna in the highest. And the Lord entered 11 into Hierusalem, and into the temple. And when he had looked round about upon all things, and now the eventide was come he went out unto Bethany with the twelve. And on the morrow 12 when they were come out from Bethany, he hungered, and he 13 spied a fig tree afar off, having leaves, and went to see whether he might find anything thereon: but when he came thereto, he found nothing but leaves. For the time of figs was not yet.
 And Jesus answered and said to it: never man eat fruit of thee 14 hereafter while the world standeth. And his disciples heard it.

15 And they came to Hierusalem, and Jesus went into the temple, and began to cast out them which sold and bought* in the tem-16 ple. And overthrew the tables of the money changers, and the stools of them that sold doves: and would not suffer that any 17 man carried a vessel thorow the temple. And he taught saying unto them, is it not written, how that mine* house shall be 18 called the house of prayer unto all nations? But ye have made it a den of thieves. And the scribes and high priests heard it and sought how to destroy him. For they feared him because 19 all the people marveled at his doctrine. And when even was 20 come, he went out of the city. And in the morning as they 21 passed by, they saw the fig tree dried up by the roots. And Peter remembered, and said unto him: master, behold, the fig 22 tree which thou cursedst, is withered away. And Jesus an-23 swered, and said unto them: Have confidence in God. Verily I say unto you, that whosoever shall say unto this mountain: take away thyself, and cast thyself into the sea, and shall not waver in his heart, but shall believe that those things which he sayeth shall come to pass, whatsoever he sayeth shall be 24 done to him. Therefore I say unto you, whatsoever ye desire when ye pray, believe that ye shall have it and it shall be done 25 unto you. And when ye stand and pray, forgive if ye have anything against any man: that your father also which is in 26 heaven, may forgive you your trespasses. (But if you do not forgive: neither will your father, which is in heaven, forgive you 27 your trespasses.) And they came again to Hierusalem, and as he walked in the temple, there came to him the high priests, 28 and the scribes, and the seniors,* and said unto him: by what authority doest thou these things? and who gave thee this au-29 thority, to do these things? Jesus answered, and said unto them: I will also ask of you a certain thing, and answer ye me, and I will tell you by what authority I do these things.
 30 Whether was the baptism of John* from heaven, or of men?
 31 Answer me. And they thought in themselves, saying: if we shall say, from heaven, he will say: why then did ye not believe 32 him? but if we shall say, of men, then fear we the people. For 33 all men counted John, that he was a very prophet. And they answered, and said unto Jesu: we cannot tell. And Jesus an-

11. v.15 Other: the sellers and buyers. v.17 Other: my. v.27 Other: elders. v.30 Other: The baptism of John, was it.

swered, and said unto them: neither will I tell you, by what authority I do these things.

And he began to speak unto them in similitudes. A certain man planted a vineyard, and compassed it with an hedge, and ordained a winepress, and built a tower in it, and let it out to hire unto husbandmen, and went into a strange country. And when the time was come he sent to the tenants a servant that he might receive of the tenants of the fruit of the vineyard. And they caught him and beat him and sent him again empty. And moreover he sent unto them another servant, and at him they cast stones and brake his head, and sent him again all to reviled. And again he sent another, and him they killed: and many other, beating some, and killing some. Yet had he one son whom he loved tenderly, him also sent he at the last unto them, saying: they will fear my son. But the tenants said within* themselves: This is the heir, come let us kill him and the inheritance shall be ours. And they took him and killed him, and cast him out of the vineyard. What shall then the Lord of the vineyard do? He will come and destroy the tenants, and let out the vineyard to other. Have ye not read this scripture? the stone which the builders did refuse, is made the chief stone in the corner: This was done of the Lord, and is marvelous in our eyes. And they went about to take him, but they feared the people. For they perceived that he spake that similitude against them. And they left him and went their way. And they sent unto him certain of the pharisees with Herod's servants, to take him in his words. And as soon as they were come, they said unto him: master, we know that thou art true, and carest for no man: For thou considerest not the degree of men, but teachest the way of God truly: Is it lawful to pay tribute to Cesar, or not? ought we to give, or ought we not to give? He knew* their dissimulation, and said unto them: Why tempt ye me? Bring me a penny, that I may see it. And they brought him one. And he said unto them: Whose is this image and superscription? And they said unto him, Cesar's. And Jesus answered, and said unto them: Then give to Cesar that which belongeth to Cesar: and give* God that which pertaineth to God. And they marveled at 12. v.7 Other: amongst. v.15 Other: understood. v.17 Other: to.

18 him. And* the sadducees came unto him, which say, there is 19 no resurrection. And they asked him saying: Master, Moses wrote unto us, if any man's brother die, and leave his wife, behind him, and leave no children: that then his brother should 20 take his wife, and raise up seed unto his brother. There were seven brethren and the first took a wife, and when he died left 21 no seed behind him. And the second took her, and died: nei-22 ther left he any seed, and the third likewise. And seven had her, and left no seed behind them. Last of all the wife died 23 also. In the resurrection then, when they shall rise again: whose wife shall she be of them? For seven had her to wife.
 24 Jesus answered, and said unto them: Are ye not therefore deceived because ye know* not the scriptures? Neither the power 25 of God? For when they shall rise again from death, they neither marry, nor are married: but are as the angels which are 26 in heaven. As touching the dead, that they shall rise again: have ye not read in the book of Moses, how in the bush God spake unto him saying: I am the God of Abraham, and the 27 God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob? He is not the God of the dead, but the God of the living, ye are therefore greatly de-28 ceived. And there came one of the scribes, and when he* had heard them disputing together, and perceived that he had answered them well, he* asked him: Which is the first of all the 29 commandments? Jesus answered him: the first of all the com-30 mandments is. Hear Israel, our* Lord God, is one Lord. And thou shalt love thy Lord God* with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind, and with all thy strength. This 31 is the first commandment. And the second is like unto this.
 Thou shalt love thy neighbor, as thy self. There is none other 32 commandment greater than these. And the scribe said unto him: well master, thou hast said the truth, that there is one 33 God, and that there is none but he. And to love him with all the heart, and with all the mind, and with all the soul, and with all the strength. And to love a man's neighbor as himself, 34 is a greater thing than all holocausts* and sacrifices. And when Jesus saw that he answered discreetly, he said unto him: Thou art not far from the kingdom of God. And no man after 35 that durst ask him any question. And Jesus answered, and v.18 Other: Then came. v.24 Other: and understand. v.28 Other: that. v.28 Other:

 and. v.29 Other: The. v.30 Other: the LORD thy God. v.33 Other: burnt offerings.

said teaching in the temple: how say the scribes, that Christ is the son of David? for David himself inspired with the holy 36 ghost said: The Lord said to my Lord, sit on my right hand till I make thine enemies thy foot stool. Then David himself 37 calleth him Lord, and by what means is he then his son? And much people heard him gladly. And he said unto them in his 38 doctrine: beware of the scribes which love to go in long, clothing: and love salutations in the market places, and the chief 39 seats in the synagogues, and to sit in the uppermost rooms at feasts, and devour widows' houses, and* under a colour pray 40 long prayers.* These shall have* greater damnation. And Je- 41 sus sat over against the treasury, and beheld how the people put money into the treasury. And many that were rich, cast in much. And there came a certain poor widow, and she threw in 42 two mites, which make a farthing. And he called unto him his 43 disciples, and said unto them: Verily I say unto you, that this poor widow hath cast more in, than all they which have cast into the treasury. For they all put* in of their superfluity: But 44 she of her poverty,* cast in all that she had, even all her living.

And as he went out of the temple, one of his disciples said XIII unto him: Master, see what stones, and what buildings are here. And Jesus answered, and said unto him: Seest thou 2 these great buildings? There shall not be left one stone upon another, that shall not be thrown down. And as he sat on 3 mount Olivet over against the temple, Peter and James and John and Andrew asked him secretly, tell us when these things 4 shall be? * And what is the sign, when all these things shall be fulfilled? And Jesus answered them, and began to say: take 5 heed lest any man deceive you. For many shall come in my 6 name saying: I am Christ, and shall deceive many. When ye 7 shall hear of war, and tidings of war, be ye not troubled. For such things must needs be. But the end is not yet. For there 8 shall nation arise against nation, and realm against realm.*
 And there shall be earthquakes, in all quarters, and famish-ment, and troubles. These are the beginning of sorrows. But 9 take ye heed to yourselves. For they shall bring you up to the councils and into the synagogues, and ye shall be beaten, and v.40 Other: that. v.40 Other: of long praying. v.40 Other: receive. v.44 Other: did cast. v.44 Other: did. 13. v.4 Other: when shall these things be?. v.8 Other: kingdom against kingdom.

ye shall be brought before rulers and kings, for my sake, for a 10 testimonial unto them. And the gospel must first be published 11 among all nations. But when they lead you and present you take no thought, aforehand what ye shall say, neither imagine: but whatsoever is given you at the same time, that speak. For 12 it shall not be ye that shall speak, but the holy ghost. Yea and the brother shall deliver the brother to death. And the father the son, and the children shall rise against their fathers 13 and mothers, and shall put them to death. And ye shall be hated of all men for my name's sake. But whosoever shall 14 endure unto the end* shall be safe. Moreover when ye see the abominable* desolation, whereof is spoken by Daniel the prophet, stand where it ought not, let him that readeth understand it. Then let them that be in Jewry,* flee to the mountains.
 15 And let him that is on the housetop, not descend down into the house, neither enter therein, to fetch anything out of his house.
 16 And let him that is in the field, not turn back again unto those things which he left behind him, for to take his clothes with 17 him. But woe is then to them that are with child, and to them 18 that give suck in those days. But pray, that your flight be not 19 in the winter. For there shall be in those days such tribulation, as was not from the beginning of creatures, which God 20 created, unto this time, neither shall be. And except that the Lord had shortened* those days, no man should be saved. But for the elects' sake, which he hath chosen, he hath shortened 21 those days. And then, if any man say to you: lo, here is Christ, 22 lo, he is there, believe not. For false christs shall arise, and false prophets; And shall shew miracles and wonders, to de-23 ceive if it were possible, even the elect. But take ye heed, 24 behold I have shewed you all things before. Moreover in those days after that tribulation, the sun shall wax dark, and the 25 moon shall not give her light, and the stars of heaven shall 26 fall; And the powers which are in heaven, shall move. And then shall they see the son of man coming in the clouds, with 27 great power and glory. And then shall he send his angels, and shall gather together his elect from the four winds, and from 28 the one end of the world to the other. Learn a similitude of the fig tree. When his branches are yet tender, and hath brought v.13 Other: the same. v.14 Other: abomination that betokeneth. v.14 Other: Iurie. v.20 Other: should shorten.

forth leaves, ye know, that summer is near. So in like manner 29 when ye see these things come to pass, understand, that it is 30 nye even at the doors. Verily I say unto you, that this gener- 31 ation shall not pass till all these things be done. Heaven and 32 earth shall pass, but my words shall not pass. But of the day 33 and the hour, knoweth no man: no not the angels which are in 34 heaven: neither the son himself, save the father only. Take 35 heed, watch, and pray, for ye know not when the time is. As 36 a man which is gone into a strange country and hath left his 37 house, and given authority to his servants, and to every man his work, and commanded the porter to watch. Watch therefore, for ye know not when the master of the house will come, whether at even, or at midnight, whether at the cock crowing, or in the dawning: lest if he come suddenly, he should find you sleeping. And that I say unto you, I say unto all men, watch.

After two days followed ester, and the days of sweet bread. XIV
 And the high priests and the scribes sought means, how they might take him by craft and put him to death. But they said: 2 not on* the feast day, lest any business arise among the peo- 3 ple. When he was in Bethania, in the house of Simon the 4 leper, even as he sat at meat, there came a woman having an alabaster box of ointment, called nard, that was pure and costly, and she brake the box and poured it on his head. And 5 there were some that disdained* in themselves, and said: what needed this waste of ointment? For it might have been sold for 6 more then two* hundred pence, and been given unto the poor.
 And they grudged against her. And Jesus said: let her be in 7 rest, why grieve* ye her? She hath done a good work on me.
 Yea, and* ye shall have poor with you always: and whensoever 8 ye will ye may do them good: but me ye shall not have always.
 She hath done that she could: she came aforehand to anoint my 9 body to his buryingward. Verily I say unto you: wheresoever this gospel shall be preached thorowout the whole world: this also that she hath done, shall be rehearsed in remembrance of her. And Judas Iscariot, one of the twelve, went away unto 10 the high priests, to betray him unto them. When they heard 11 that, they were glad, and promised that they would give him money. And he sought, how he might conveniently betray him.

14. v.2 Other: in. v.4 Other: were not content. v.5 Other: three. v.6 Other: trouble. v.7 Other: For.

12 And the first day of sweet bread, when men offer the paschal 13 lamb, his disciples said unto him: where wilt thou that we go 14 and prepare that thou mayest eat the ester lamb? And he sent 15 forth two of his disciples, and said unto them: Go ye into the 16 city, and there shall a man meet you bearing a pitcher of water, 17 follow him. And whithersoever he goeth in, say ye to the good 18 man of the house: the master asketh where is the guest cham-19 ber, where I shall eat the ester lamb with my disciples? And 20 he will shew you a great parlour, paved, and prepared: there 21 make ready for us. And his disciples went forth, and came 22 in to the city, and found as he had said unto them, and made 23 ready the ester lamb. And at even, he came with the twelve.
 24 And as they sat at board and ate, Jesus said: Verily I say unto 25 you: that one of you shall betray me, which eateth with me.
 26 And they began to mourn, and to say to him one by one: is it I?
 27 And another said: Is it I? he answered, and said unto them: It 28 is one of the twelve and the same dippeth with me in the plat-29 ter. The son of man goeth, as it is written of him: but woe be 30 to that man, by whom the son of man is betrayed. Good were it 31 for him, if that man had never been born. And as they ate, Je-32 sus took bread, gave thanks, * brake it and gave it to them and said: Take, eat; This is my body. And he took the cup, gave thanks, and gave it to them, and they drank all of it. And he said unto them: This is my blood of the new Testament, which shall be * shed for many. Verily I say unto you: I will drink no more of this fruit of the vine, until that day, that I shall drink it new in the kingdom of God. And when they had said grace, they went out into the mount olivet. And Jesus said unto them: All ye shall hurt* thorow me this night. For it is written: I will smite the shepherd, and the sheep shall be scattered. But after that I am risen again I will go into Galilee before you. Peter said unto him: And though all men should be hurt,* yet would not I. And Jesus said unto him: Verily I say unto thee this day even in this night, before the cock crow twice, thou shalt deny me thrice. And he spake bolder: no, if I should die with thee, I will not deny thee. Likewise also said they all. And they came into a place named Gethsemani. And he said to his disciples: Sit ye here while I go apart and pray.

v.22 Other: blessed and. v.24 Other: is. v.27 Other: be offended. v.29 Other: offended.

And he took with him Peter, James, and John, and he began to 33 wax abashed and to be in an agony. And said unto them: My 34 soul is very heavy even unto the death, tarry here and watch.
 And he went forth a little and fell down on the ground and 35 prayed: That if it were possible, the hour might pass from him.
 And he said: Abba father, all things are possible unto thee, 36 take away this cup from me. Nevertheless not that I will, but that thou wilt be done. And he came and found them sleep- 37 ing, and said to Peter: Simon sleepest thou? Coudest not thou watch with me one hour? watch ye, and pray, least ye enter 38 into temptation, the spirit is ready, but the flesh is weak. And 39 again he went away and prayed, and spake the same words.
 And he returned and found them asleep again, for their eyes 40 were heavy: neither could they tell* what they might answer to him. And he came the third time, and said unto them: sleep 41 hence forth and take your ease. It is enough. The hour is come; Behold the son of man shall be delivered into the hands of sinners. Rise up, let us go. Lo he that betrayeth me, is come 42 nye.* And immediately while he yet spake came Judas, one of 43 the twelve, and with him a great number of people with swords and staves from the high priests and scribes and seniors.* * He 44 that betrayed him, gave* them a general token, saying: whosoever I do kiss, he it is, take him, and lead him away warily.
 And as soon as he was come, he went straightway to him, and 45 said unto him: master, master, and kissed him. And they 46 laid their hands on him, and took him. And one of them that 47 stood by drew out a sword, and smote a servant of the high priest, and cut off his ear. And Jesus answered and said unto 48 them: ye came* out as unto a thief with swords and with staves for to take me; I was daily with you in the temple teaching, 49 and ye took me not, but that the scriptures should be fulfilled:
 And they all forsook him and ran away. And there was a cer- 50, 51 tain young man that followed him clothed in linen upon the bare, and the young men caught him, and he left his linen and 52 fled from them naked. And they led Jesus away to the high- 53 est priest of all, and to him came all the high priests and the seniors,* and the scribes. And Peter followed him a great way 54 off even into the palace of the high priest, and he was there and v.40 Other: wist. v.42 Other: at hand. v.43 Other: elders. v.44 Other: And.

 v.44 Other: had given. v.48 Other: be come. v.53 Other: elders.

55 sat with the servants, and warmed himself at the fire. And the high priests and all the council sought for witness against 56 Jesu, to put him to death; And they found none. Yet many bare false witness against him, but their witness agreed not 57 together. And there arose certain and brought false witness 58 against him, saying: We heard him say: I will destroy this temple made with hands, and within three days I will build 59 another, made without hands. And* their witness agreed not 60 together. And the highest priest stood up amongst them all, and asked Jesus saying: answerest thou nothing? How is it 61 that these bear witness against thee? And he held his peace, and answered nothing. Again the highest priest asked him, and said unto him: Art thou the Christ the son of the blessed?
 62 And Jesus said: I am. And ye shall see the son of man sit on the 63 right hand of power, and come in the clouds of heaven. Then the highest priest rent his clothes and said: what need we any 64 further* witness? ye have heard the blasphemy, what think ye? And they all gave sentence that he was worthy of death.
 65 And some began to spit at him, and to cover his face, and to beat him with their fists, and to say unto him, aread unto us.
 66 And the servants buffeted him on the face. And Peter was beneath in the palace, and there came one of the wenches of 67 the highest priest; And when she saw Peter warming himself, she looked on him, and said: was not thou also with Jesus of 68 Nazareth? And he denied it saying: I know him not, neither wot I what thou sayest: And he went out into the porch, and 69 the cock crew. And a damsel saw him, and again began to 70 say to them that stood by, this is one of them. And he denied it again. And anon after, again they that stood by, said* to Peter: surely thou art one of them, for thou art of Galilee, 71 and thy speech agreeth thereto. And he began to curse and to 72 swear, saying: I know not this man of whom ye speak. And again the cock crew. And Peter remembered the word that Jesus said unto him: before the cock crow twice, thou shalt deny me thrice, and began to weep.

XV And anon in the dawning held the high priests a council with the seniors* and the scribes; And also the whole congregation, and bound Jesus and led him away, and delivered him 2 to Pilate. And Pilate asked him: art thou the King of the Jews? And he answered, and said unto him: thou sayest it. And the high priests accused him of many things. * Pilate 3, 4 asked him again, saying: Answerest thou nothing? Behold how many things they lay unto thy charge. Jesus yet answered 5 never a word, so that Pilate marveled. At the* feast Pilate was 6 wont to deliver at their pleasure a prisoner: whomsoever they would desire. And there was one named Barabas, which lay 7 bound with them, that caused* insurrection, and in the insurrection committed murder. And the people called unto him, 8 and began to desire of him, according as he had ever done unto them. Pilate answered them, and said: Will ye that I loose 9 unto you the King of the Jews? For he knew that the high 10 priests had delivered him of envy. But the high priests had moved the people that he should rather deliver Barabas unto 11 them. * Pilate answered again, and said unto them: What will ye then that I do with him, whom ye call the King of the 12 Jews? And they cried again: crucify him. Pilate said unto 13, 14 them: What evil hath he done? And they cried the more fervently: Crucify him. * Pilate willing to content the people, 15 loosed* them Barabas; And delivered Jesus* scourged* for to be crucified. And the soldiers led him away into the com- 16 mon hall, and called together the whole multitude, and they 17 clothed him with purple, and they plaited a crown of thorns and crowned him withal; And began to salute him: Hail King 18 of the Jews. And they smote him on the head with a reed, 19 and spat upon him, and kneeled down and worshipped him. And when they had mocked him, they took the purple off him, 20 and put his own clothes on him, and led him out, to crucify him. And they compelled one that passed by, called Simon of 21 Cyrene (which came out of the field, and was father of Alexander and Rufus) to bear his cross. And they brought him to a 22 place named Golgotha (which is by interpretation, the place of dead men's skulls) and they gave him to drink wine mingled 23 with myrrh, but he received it not. And when they had crucified him, they parted his garments, casting lots for them, what 24 every man should have. And it was about the third hour, and 25 they crucified him. And the title of the* cause of his death 26 v.4 Other: Wherefore. v.6 Other: that. v.7 Other: made. v.12 Other: And.

 v.15 Other: And so. v.15 Other: lowsed. v.15 Other: when he had. v.15 Other:
him. v.26 Other: his.

27 was written: The King of the Jews. And they crucified with him two thieves: the one on his* right hand, and the other on 28 his left hand. And the scripture was fulfilled, which sayeth: 29 and he was counted among the wicked. And they that went by, railed on him: wagging their heads, and saying: A wretch, 30 that destroyest the temple and buildest it in three days. Save thyself, and come down from the cross. Likewise also mocked 31 him the high priests among themselves with the scribes, and said: He saved other men, himself he cannot save. Let Christ the King of Israel now descend from the cross, that we may see and believe. And they that were crucified with him, checked 32 him also. And when the sixth hour was come, darkness arose 33 over all the earth, until the ninth hour. And at the ninth hour Jesus cried with a loud voice, saying: Eloi, Eloi, lama sabaththani,* which is if it be interpreted: my God, my God, 34 why hast thou forsaken me? And some of them that stood by 35 when they heard that said: behold he calleth for Helias. And one ran, and filled a sponge full of vinegar, and put it on a reed, and gave it him to drink, saying: let him alone, let us 36 see whether Helias will come and take him down. But Jesus cried with a loud voice, and gave up the Ghost. And the veil of the temple did rent in two parts,* from the top to the bottom.
37 And when the undercaptain* which stood before him saw that he so cried and gave up the ghost, and he said: truly this man 38 was the son of God. There were also women a good way off beholding him: among whom was Mary Magdalen, and Mary the mother of James the little and of Joses, and Mary Salome: 41 which also when he was in Galilee, followed him and ministered unto him, and many other women which came up with 42 him to Hierusalem. And now when night was come (because 43 it was the even that goeth before the Sabbath) Joseph of Ari-mathia a noble senator* (which also looked for the kingdom of God) came; And went in boldly unto Pilate, and begged the 44 body of Jesu. * Pilate marveled that he was already dead, and called unto him the under captain,* and asked of him, whether 45 he had been any while dead. And when he knew the truth of 46 the under captain, he gave the body to Joseph. And he bought a linen cloth, and took him down and wrapped him in the linen v.27 Other: the. v.34 Other: lamaasbathani. v.38 Other: pieces. v.39 Other: centurion. v.43 Other: councillor. v.44 Other: And. v.44 Other: centurion.

cloth, and laid him in a tomb, that was hewn out of the rock. And rolled a stone unto the door of the sepulchre. And Mary 47 Magdalene and Mary Jose beheld where he was laid.

And when the Sabbath day was past, Mary Magdalen, and XVI Mary Jacobi, and Salome, bought ointments,* that they might come and anoint him. And early in the morning the next day 2 after the Sabbath day, they came unto the sepulchre, when the sun was risen. And they said one to another: who shall roll 3 us away the stone from the door of the sepulchre? And when 4 they beheld it,* they saw how the stone was rolled away. For it was a very great one, and they went into the sepulchre, 5 and saw a young man, sitting on the right side, clothed in a long white garment, and they were abashed. * He said unto 6 them, be not afraid, ye seek Jesus of Nazareth, which was crucified. He is risen, he is not here. Behold the place, where they put him. But go your way, and tell his disciples, and namely 7 Peter, that he is gone* before you into Galilee, there shall ye see him, as he said unto you. And they went out quickly and 8 fled from the sepulchre. For they trembled and were amazed.
Neither said they anything to any man, for they were afraid.
When Jesus was risen the morrow after the Sabbath day, he 9 appeared first to Mary Magdalen, out of whom he cast seven devils. And she went, and told them that were with him, as 10 they mourned and wept. And when* they heard, that he was 11 alive, and* had appeared to her: they believed it not. After 12 that, he appeared unto two of them in a strange figure, as he* walked, and went into the country. And they went, and told 13 it to the remnant. And they believed them neither. After that 14 he appeared unto the eleven as they sat at meat: and cast in their teeth their unbelief, and hardness of heart: because they believed not them which had seen him after his resurrection.
And he said unto them: Go ye into all the world, and preach 15 the gospel* to all creatures: Whosoever* believeth, and is bap- 16 tised, shall be safe.* And whosoever* that believeth not, shall be damned. And these signs shall fellow them that believe: In 17 my name they shall cast out devils, and shall speak with new

16. v.1 Other: odors. v.4 Other: looked. v.6 Other: And. v.7 Other: he will go. v.11 Other: though. v.11 Other: he. v.12 Other: they. v.15 Other: glad tidings. v.16 Other: He that. v.16 Other: saved. v.16 Other: But he.

18 tongues, and shall kill serpents. And if they drink any deadly thing, it shall not hurt them. They shall lay their hands on the 19 sick, and they shall recover. So then when the Lord had spoken unto them, he was received into heaven, and sat* on the 20 right hand of God. And they went forth, and preached everywhere. And the Lord wrought with them; And confirmed their preaching* with miracles that followed.

The end of the Gospell of S. Mark.

The Gospel According To St. Luke.

Soasmuch* as many have taken in hand to compile I a treatise of those things, which are surely known 2 among us, even as they declared them unto us, which from the beginning saw them with their eyes,* and were ministers at the doing: I determined also, as soon as 3 I had searched out diligently all things from the beggining, that then I would write unto thee, good Theophilus, that thou 4 mightest know the certainty of those things, whereof thou art informed. In the time of Herod* king of Jewry, there was a 5 certain priest named Zacharias, of the course of Abie. And his wife was of the daughters of Aaron: And her name was Elizabeth. Both were perfect before God, and walked in all 6 the laws and ordinances of the Lord that no man could find fault with them. And they had no child, because that Eliz- 7 abeth was barren; And both were well stricken in age. * It 8 came to pass, as he executed the priest's office, before God as his course came (according to the custom of the priest's of- 9 fice) his lot was to burn odoures.* And* went into the temple of the Lord, and all the* multitude of* people were without in 10 their prayers while the odoures were* a burning. * There ap- 11 peared unto him the Lord's angel,* standing on the right side of the altar of odoures.* And when Zacharias saw him, he was 12 abashed, and fear came on him. * The angel said unto him: 13 fear not Zacary, for thy prayer is heard: And thy wife Heliza-beth shall bear thee a son, and thou shalt call his name John:
And thou shalt have joy and gladness: And many shall rejoice 14 at his birth. For he shall be great in the sight of God,* and 15 shall neither drink wine nor* strong drink. And he shall be filled with the holy ghost, even in his mother's womb: and 16 many of the children of Israel shall he turn to their Lord God.

1. v.1 Other: For as much. v.2 Other: saw their selves. v.5 Other: the. v.8 Other: And. v.9 Other: incense. v.9 Other: he. v.10 Other: whole. v.10 Other: the. v.10 Other: the incense was. v.11 Other: And. v.11 Other: an angel of the lorde. v.11 Other: incense. v.13 Other: And. v.15 Other: the Lord. v.15 Other: ner.

17 And he shall go before him in the spirit and power of Helias to turn the hearts of the fathers to their children, and the un-18 believers to the wisdom of the just men: to make the people ready for the Lord. And Zacary said unto the angel: Whereby 19 shall I know this? seeing that I am old, and my wife well stricken in years. And the angel answered, and said unto him:
I am Gabriel that stand in the presence of God, and am sent to 20 speak unto thee: and to shew thee this* glad tidings. And take heed* thou shalt be dumb, and not able to speak until the time that these things be performed, because thou believedst not my 21 words, which shall be fulfilled in their season. And the people waited for Zacharias and marveled that he tarried in the tem-22 ple. * When he came out, he could not speak unto them. And* they perceived, that he had seen some vision in the temple.
23 And he beckoned unto them, and remained speechless. And it fortuned, as soon as the time of his office was out, he departed 24 home into his own house. And after those days, his wife Eliza-25 beth conceived, and hid herself five months, saying: This wise hath God dealt with me in the days when he looked on me, to 26 take from me the rebuke that I suffered among men. And in the sixth month the angel Gabriel was sent from God unto a 27 city of Galilee, named Nazareth, to a virgin spoused to a man, whose name was Joseph, of the house of David, and the virgin's 28 name was Mary. And the angel went in unto her, and said: Hail full of grace, the Lord is with thee: blessed art thou among 29 women. When she saw him, she was abashed at his saying: and cast in her mind what manner of salutation that should be.
30 And the angel said unto her: fear not Mary,* thou hast found 31 grace with God. Lo: thou shalt conceive in thy womb, and 32 shalt bear a child,* and shalt call his name Jesus. He shall be great, and shall be called the son of the highest. And the Lord 33 God shall give unto him the seat of his father David: And he shall reign over the house of Jacob for ever, and of his kingdom 34 shall be none end. Then said Mary unto the angel: How shall 35 this be, seeing I know not a man? And the angel answered, and said unto her: The holy ghost shall come upon thee, and the power of the highest shall overshadow thee. Therefore also that holy thing which shall be born, shall be called the son of v.19 Other: these. v.20 Other: behold. v.22 Other: And. v.22 Other: Whereby.

v.30 Other: for. v.31 Other: son.

God. And mark,* thy cousin Elizabeth,* hath also conceived a 36 son in her old age. And this is the* sixth month to her, which was* called barren, for with God shall* nothing be unpossi- 37
ble. * Mary said: behold the handmaiden of the Lord, be it 38 unto me even as thou hast said. And the angel departed from her. * Mary arose in those days, and went into the mountains 39 with haste into a city of Jewry,* and entered into the house 40 of Zachary, and saluted Elizabeth: And it fortuneth, as Eliza- 41 beth heard the salutation of Mary, the babe sprang in her belly.
And Elizabeth was filled with the holy ghost, and cried with a 42 loud voice, and said: Blessed art thou among the women, and blessed is the fruit of thy womb. And whence happeneth this 43 to me, that the mother of my Lord should come to me? * Lo, 44 as soon as the voice of thy salutation sounded in mine ears, the babe sprang in my belly for joy. And blessed art thou that be- 45 lievedst: For those things shall be performed which were told thee from the Lord. And Mary said: My soul magnifieth the 46 Lord. And my spirit rejoiceth in God my saviour: For he 47, 48 hath looked on the poor degree of his handmaiden. Behold now from hence forth shall all generations call me blessed. For he 49 that is mighty hath done to me great things, and blessed* is his name. And his mercy is always on them that fear him 50 thorowout all generations. He hath shewed* strength with 51 his arm, he hath scattered* them that are proud in the imagination of their hearts. He hath put* Down the mighty from 52 their seats, and hath exalted them of low degree. He hath 53 filled the hungry with good things: And hath sent* away the rich empty. He hath remembered* mercy: and hath holpen* 54 his servant Israel. Even as he promised to our fathers, Abra- 55 ham and to his seed for ever. And Mary abode with her about 56 a three months; And returned home again.* Elizabeth's time 57 was come that she should be delivered; And she brought forth a son. And her neighbours and her cousins heard tell how, 58 the Lord had magnified his* mercy upon her, and they rejoiced with her. And it fortuneth the eighth day: they came to circum- 59 v.36 Other: behold. v.36 Other: she. v.36 Other: her. v.36 Other: though she be. v.37 Other: can. v.38 Other: And. v.39 Other: And. v.39 Other: Iurie. v.44 Other: For. v.49 Other: holy. v.51 Other: sheweth. v.51 Other: scattereth. v.52 Other: putteth. v.53 Other: sendeth. v.54 Other: remembereth. v.54 Other: helpeth. v.56 Other: to her own house. v.58 Other: shewed great.

cise the child: and called his name Zacari after the name of his 60 father, and* his mother answered, and said: not so, but he 61 shall be called John. And they said unto her: There is none 62 of thy kin, that is named with this name. And they made 63 signs to his father, how he would have him called. And he asked for writing tables and wrote saying: his name is John.
 64 And they marveled all. And his mouth* was opened immedi-65 ately, and his tongue,* and he spake lauding God. And fear came on all them that dwelt nye:* And all these sayings were 66 noised abroad throughout all the hill country of Jewry:* and all they that heard them laid them up in their hearts, saying: What manner child shall this be? And the hand of God* was 67 with him. And his father Zacharias was filled with the holy 68 ghost, and prophesied saying: Blessed be the Lord God of Is-69 rael, for he hath visited and redeemed his people. And hath raised up an horn of salvation unto us, in the house of his ser-70 vant David. Even as he promised by the mouth of his holy 71 prophets which were since the world began. That we should be saved from our enemies: And from the hands of all that hate 72 us: To shew mercy towards* our fathers; And to remember his 73 holy promise.* That is to say* the oath, which he sware to our 74 father Abraham, for to give us. That we delivered out of the 75 hands of our enemies, might serve him without fear: all the days of our life, in such holiness and righteousness that are 76 accept before him. And thou child, shalt be called the prophet of the highest, for thou shalt go before the face of the Lord, to 77 prepare his ways: And to give knowledge of health* unto his 78 people, for the remission of sins: Through the tender mercy of our Lord,* wherewith hath visited us the day spring from 79 on high: To give light to them that sat in darkness, and in shadow of death, and to guide our feet into the way of peace.
 80 And the child increased* and waxed strong in spirit, and was in wilderness, till the day came, when he should shew himself unto the Israhelites.

II It followed* in those days: that there went out a commandment from August the Emperor, that all the world should be

v.60 Other: Howbeit. v.64 Other: mought. v.64 Other: also. v.65 Other: unto them. v.65 Other: Iurie. v.66 Other: the Lord. v.72 Other: To fulfil the mercy promised to. v.72 Other: covenant. v.73 Other: And to perform. v.77 Other: salvation. v.78 Other: God, whereby. v.80 Other: grew. 2. v.1 Other: And it chanced.

valued.* * This taxing was* first executed* when Syrenus was 2 leftenant in Syria. And every man went into* his own shire 3 town,* there to be taxed. And Joseph also ascended from 4 Galilee, out of a city called Nazareth, into Jewry:* into* the city of David, which is called Bethlehem, because he was of the house and lineage of David to be taxed with Mary his wedded* 5 wife, which was with child. And it fortun'd while they were 6 there, her time was come that she should be delivered. And 7 she brought forth her first begotten son. And wrapped him in swaddling clothes, and laid him in a manger, because there was no room for them within, in the hostry.* And there were in the 8 same region shepherds abiding in the field, and watching their flock by night. And lo: the angel of the Lord stood hard by 9 them, and the brightness of the Lord shone round about them, and they were sore afraid. And* the angel said unto them: Be 10 not afraid:* Behold I bring you tidings of great joy, that shall come to all the people: for unto you is born this day in the city 11 of David a saviour, which is Christ the Lord. And take this for 12 a sign: ye shall find the child swaddled, and laid in a manger.
And straight way there was with the angel a multitude of heav- 13 enly soldiers, lauding God, and saying: Glory to God on high, 14 and peace on the earth: and unto men rejoicing. And it for- 15 tuned, as soon as the angels were gone away* into heaven, the shepherds said one to another: let us go even unto Bethle- 16 hem, and see this thing that is happened, which the Lord hath shewed unto us. And they came with haste, and found Mary 17 and Joseph, and the babe laid in a manger. And when they 18 had seen it, they published abroad the saying, which was told them of that child. And all that heard it wondered, at those 19 things which were told them of the shepherds. But Mary kept 20 all those sayings, and pondered them in her heart. And the shepherds returned, praising and lauding God for all that they had heard and seen, even as it was told unto them. And when 21 the eighth day was come that the child should be circumcised, his name was called Jesus, which was named of the angel be- 22 fore he was conceived in the mother's womb. And when the time of their purification (after the law of Moses) was come v.1 Other: taxed. v.2 Other: And. v.2 Other: the. v.2 Other: and. v.3 Other: unto. v.3 Other: city. v.4 Other: Iurie:. v.4 Other: unto. v.5 Other: spoused.

v.7 Other: inn. v.10 Other: But. v.10 Other: For. v.15 Other: from them.

they brought him to Hierusalem, to present him to the Lord 23 (As it is written in the law of the Lord: every man child that 24 first openeth the matrix, shall be called holy to the Lord) and to offer (as it is said in the law of the Lord) a pair of turtle 25 doves, or two young pigeons. And behold there was a man in Hierusalem, whose name was Simeon. And the same man was just and feared God, and longed for the consolation of Israel, 26 and the holy ghost was in him. And an answer was given him of the holy ghost, that he should not see death, before he had 27 seen the Lord's Christ. And he came by inspiration into the temple. And as* the father and mother brought in the child 28 Jesus, to do for him after the custom of the law. Then took 29 he him up in his arms and said: Lord Now lettest thou thy 30 servant depart in peace according to thy promise. For mine 31 eyes have seen the saviour sent from thee: Which thou hast 32 prepared before the face of all people. A light to lighten the 33 gentiles, and the glory of thy people Israel. And his father and mother marveled at those things, which were spoken of him: 34 And Simeon blessed them, and said unto Mary his mother: behold, this child shall be the fall, and resurrection of many 35 in Israel: And a sign which shall be spoken against. And moreover the sword shall pierce the very heart of thee,* that 36 the thoughts of many hearts may be opened. And there was* Anna, a prophetess, the daughter of Phanuel of* tribe of Aser.
 And she* was of a great age, and had lived* with an husband 37 seven year from her virginity. And this* widow about four score and four year of age, which went never out of the temple, but served* there with fasting and prayer night and day.
 38 And she* came forth that same hour, and praised God,* and spake of him to all that looked for redemption in Hierusalem.
 39 And as soon as they had performed all things according to the law of the Lord, they returned into Galilee into* their own city 40 Nazareth. And the child grew and waxed strong in spirit, and was full of* wisdom, and the favour* of God was with him.
 41 And his father and mother went to Hierusalem every year at 42 the feast of ester. And when he was twelve year old, they 43 went up to Hierusalem after the custom of the feast. And v.27 Other: when. v.35 Other: thy soul. v.36 Other: one. v.36 Other: the.

 v.36 Other: which. v.37 Other: she had been a. v.37 Other: God. v.38 Other: the same. v.38 Other: the Lord. v.39 Other: to. v.40 Other: filled with. v.40 Other: grace.

when they had fulfilled the days, as they returned home, the child Jesus bode still in Hierusalem, unknowing to his father and mother. For they supposed he had been in the company. 44 They* came a day's journey, and sought him among their kinsfolk and acquaintance, and* found him not They went back 45 again to Hierusalem, and sought him. And it fortun'd after 46 three days,* they found him in the temple sitting in the midst of the doctors, both hearing them, and posing them. And all 47 that heard him marveled at his wit and answers. And when 48 they saw him, they were astonished. And his mother said unto him: son why hast thou thus dealt with us? Behold thy father and I have sorowed and sought thee.* And he said unto 49 them: how is it that ye sought me? wist ye not that I must go about my father's business? And they understood not the 50 saying that he spake to them. And he went with them, and 51 came to Nazareth, and was obedient to them.* His mother kept all these things in her heart. And Jesus increased in wisdom 52 and age, and in favour with God and man.

In the fifteenth year of the reign of Tiberius the Emperor, III Pontius Pilate being leftenant of Jewry,* and Herod being Tetrarch of Galilee, and his brother Philip Tetrarch in Iturea, and in the region of Traconitis, and Lysanias the Tetrarch of Abyline: When Anna and Cayphas were the high priests: The 2 commandment* of God was published* unto John the son of Zacharias in the wilderness. And he came into all the coasts 3 about Jordan, preaching the baptism of repentance for the remission of sins, as it is written in the book of the sayings 4 of Esayas the prophet, which sayeth: The voice of a crier in wilderness, prepare the way of the Lord, make his paths straight. Every valley shall be filled, and every mountain and hill shall 5 be brought low: And crooked things shall be made straight: and the rough ways shall be made smooth. And all flesh shall 6 see the saviour sent of God. Then said he to the people, that 7 were come to be baptised of him. O generation of vipers: who hath shewed the craft* to fly* from* wrath to come? Bring 8 forth due fruits of repentance; And begin not to say in yourselves, we have Abraham to our father. For I say unto you:

v.44 Other: and therefore. v.45 Other: when they. v.46 Other: that. v.48 Other: sorrowing. v.51 Other: But. 3. v.1 Other: Iurie. v.2 Other: word. v.2 Other: came. v.7 Other: taught you. v.7 Other: away. v.7 Other: the.

9 God is able of these stones to raise up children unto Abraham. Now also is the axe laid unto the root of the trees.*
 Every tree therefore, which bringeth not forth good fruit, shall 10 be hewn down, and cast into the fire. And the people asked 11 him, saying: What shall we do then. He answered and said unto them: He that hath two coats, let him part with him that 12 hath none: And he that hath meat, let him do likewise. Then came there publicans to be baptised, and said unto him: Mas-13 ter, what shall we do? He answered* unto them: require no 14 more than that, which is appointed unto you. The soldiers likewise demanded of him, saying: and what shall we do? And he said to them: Do violence to no man: neither trouble any 15 man wrongfully: And* be content with your wages. As the people were in a doubt, and all men disputed in their hearts 16 of John: Whether he were very Christ; John answered and said to them all: I baptise you with water, but a stronger then* cometh,* whose shoe latchet I am not worthy to unloose: he will 17 baptise you with the holy ghost, and with fire, which hath his fan in his hand, and will purge his floor, and will gather his* corn into his barn: And* the chaff will he burn with fire that 18 never shall be quenched. And many other things in his exhor-19 tation preached he unto the people. Then Herod the Tetrach (when he was rebuked of him for Herodias his brother Philip's 20 wife, and for all the evils which Herod had done) added this 21 above all, and laid John prison. And it fortun'd as all the people received baptism (And when Jesus was baptised and did 22 pray) that heaven was opened, and the holy ghost came down in a bodily shape like a dove upon him; And a voice came from heaven, saying: Thou art my dear son; In thee do I delight.
 23 And Jesus himself was about thirty year of age when he began, being as men supposed the son of Joseph: which Joseph 24 was the son of Heli: which was the son of Mathat: which was the son of Levi: which was the son of Melchi: which was the 25 son of Janna: which was the son of Joseph: which was the son of Matatthias: which was the son of Amos: which was the 26 son of Nahum: which was the son of Esli: which was the son of Nagge: which was the son of Maath: which was the son of Matathias: which was the son of Semei: which was the son v.9 Other: So that. v.13 Other: And he said. v.14 Other: but. v.16 Other: than I. v.16 Other: after me. v.17 Other: the. v.17 Other: but.

of Joseph: which was the son of Juda: which was the son of 27 Johanna: which was the son of Rhesya: which was the son of Zorobabel: which was the son of Salathiel: which was the son of Neri: which was the son of Melchi: which was the son of Addi: 28 which was the son of Cosam: which was the son of Helmadam: 29 which was the son of Her: which was the son of Jeso: which was the son of Helieser: which was the son of Joram: which was the son of Mattha: which was the son of Levi: which was 30 the son of Simeon: which was the son of Juda: which was the son of Joseph: which was the son of Jonam: which was the son of Heliacim: which was the son of Melea: which was the son 31 of Menam: which was the son of Matathan: which was the son of Nathan: which was the son of David: which was the son of 32 Jesse: which was the son of Obed: which was the son of Boos: which was the son of Salmon: which was the son of Naason: 33 which was the son of Aminadab: which was the son of Aram: which was the son of Esrom: which was the son of Phares: which was the son of Juda: which was the son of Jacob: which 34 was the son of Ysaac: which was the son of Abraham: which was the son of Tharra: which was the son of Nachor: which 35 was the son of Saruch: which was the son of Ragau: which was the son of Phalec: which was the son of Heber: which was the son of Sala: which was the son of Cainan: which was the son 36 of Arphaxad: which was the son of Sem: which was the son of Noe: which was the son of Lameth: which was the son of 37 Mathusala: which was the son of Enoch: which was the son of Jareth: which was the son of Malalehel: son of Cainan: which 38 was the son of Enos: which was the son of Seth: which was the son of Adam: which was the son of God.

Jesus then full of the holy ghost, returned from Jordan, and IV was carried of the spirit into a wilderness, and was forty days 2 tempted of the devil. And in those days ate he nothing: And when they were ended, he afterward hungered. And the devil 3 said unto him: if thou be the son of God, command this stone that he* be bread. And Jesus answered him, saying: It is 4 written: man shall not live by bread only, but by every word of God. And the devil took him up into an high mountain, 5 and shewed him all the kingdoms of the earth,* even in the twinkling of an eye. And the devil said unto him: all this 6

4. v.3 Other: it. v.5 Other: world.

power will I give thee every whit, and the glory of them (for 7 that is delivered to me, and to whosoever I will I give it) If 8 thou therefore wilt worship me, they shall be all thine. Jesus answered* and said unto him: hence from me Satan. For it is written. Thou shalt honour thy Lord God,* and him only 9 serve. And he carried him to Jerusalem, and set him on a pinnacle of the temple, and said unto him: If thou be the son 10 of God, cast thyself down from hence. For it is written, he 11 shall give his angels charge over thee, to keep thee, and with their hands they shall stay thee up, that thou hurt* not thy 12 foot against a stone. Jesus answered and said unto* him, it 13 is said, thou shalt not tempt thy Lord God.* And as soon as the devil had ended all his temptations, he departed from him 14 for a season. And Jesus returned by the power of the spirit into Galilee, and the fame of him went thorow out all the re-15 gion round about. And he taught in their synagogues, and 16 was commended of all men. And he came to Nazareth where he was nursed, and as his custom was, went into the syna-17 gogue on the Sabbath days, and stood up for to read. And there was delivered unto him the book of the prophet Esaias.
And when he had opened the book, he found the place, where 18 it was written: The spirit of the Lord upon me, because he hath anointed me; To preach the gospel to the poor he hath sent me; And to heal which are troubled in their hearts:* To preach deliverance to the captive; And sight to the blind; And 19 freely to set at liberty them that are bruised; And to preach 20 the acceptable year of the Lord. And he closed the book, and gave it again to the minister, and sat down. And the eyes of 21 all that were in the synagogue, were fastened on him. And he began to say unto them. This day is this scripture fulfilled 22 in your ears. And all they bare him witness, and wondered at the gracious words, which proceeded out of his mouth, and 23 said: Is not this Joseph's son? And he said unto them: Ye may very well say unto me this proverb. Physician, heal thyself.
Whatsoever we have heard done in Capernaum, do the same* 24 likewise in thine own country. And he said: Verily I say unto 25 you: No prophet is accepted in his own country. But I tell you of a truth, Many widows were in Israel in the days of Helyas, v.8 Other: him. v.8 Other: the LORD thy God. v.11 Other: dash. v.12 Other: to.

v.12 Other: the LORD thy God. v.18 Other: broken hearted. v.23 Other: here.

when heaven was shut three year and six months, when great famishment was throughout all the land; And unto none of 26 them was Helyas sent, save into Sarepta besides Sydon unto a woman that was a widow. And many lepers were in Israel 27 in the time of Heliseus the prophet, and yet none of them was healed, saving Naaman of Siria. And as many as were in the 28 synagogue when they heard that, were filled with wrath and 29 rose up, and thrust him out of the city, and led him even unto the edge of the hill, whereon their city was built, to cast him down headlong. But he went his way even thorow the midst of 30 them: and came into Capernaum a city of Galilee, and there 31 taught them on the Sabbath days. And they were astonied 32 at his doctrine: for his preaching was with power. And in 33 the synagogue there was a man, which had a foul spirit within him,* and cried with a loud voice, saying: let me alone, what 34 hast thou to do with us, thou Jesus of Nazareth? Art thou come to destroy us? I know thee what thou art, thou art* the holy 35 man of God. And Jesus rebuked him, saying: hold thy peace, and come out of him. And the devil threw him in the midst 36 of them and came out of him, and hurt him not. And fear came on them all; And they spake among themselves, saying: what manner a thing is this? For with authority and power he commandeth the foul spirits and they come out? And the 37 fame of him spread abroad thorow out all places of the country round about. And he rose up and came out of the synagogue, 38 and entered into Simon's house. And Simon's mother-in-law was taken with a great fever; And they made intercession to him for her. And he stood over her, and rebuked the fever: 39 and it left her. And immediately she* rose and ministered unto them. When the son was down, all they that had sick, taken 40 with divers diseases, brought them unto him: and he laid his hands on every one of them, and healed them. And devils also 41 came out of many of them, crying and saying: thou art Christ the son of God. And he rebuked them, and suffered them not to speak, for they knew that he was Christ. As soon as it 42 was day, he departed and went away into a desert place, and the people sought him and came to him, and kept him that he should not depart from them. And he said unto them: I must 43

v.33 Other: a spirit of an unclean devil. v.34 Other: even. v.39 Other: a.

to other cities also preach the word* of God, for therefore am I 44 sent. And he preached in the synagogues of Galilee.

V It came to pass as the people pressed upon him, to hear the 2 word of God, that he stood by the lake of Genazareth: and saw 3 two ships stand by the lakeside, for* the fishermen were gone 4 out of them, and were washing their nets. Jesus* entered into 5 one of the ships, which pertained to Simon, and prayed him, 6 that he would carry him* a little from the land. And he sat 7 down and taught the people out of the ship. When he had left 8 speaking, he said unto Simon: Carry us* into the deep, and 9 let slip thy net* to make a draught. And Simon answered, 10 and said to him: Master we have laboured all night, and have 11 taken nothing. Yet now* at thy word I will loose forth the net.
12 And when they had so done, they inclosed a great multitude of 13 fishes. And the* net brake: and* they made signs to their fel-14 lows which were in the other ship, that they should come and 15 help them. And they came, and they filled both the ships, that 16 they sunk again. When Simon Peter saw that, he fell down at Jesus' knees saying: Lord go from me, for I am a sinful man.
For he was utterly astonied, and all that were with him at the draught of fish which they took: and so was also James and John the sons of Zebedei, which were partakers* with Simon.
And Jesus said unto Simon: fear not, from henceforth thou shalt catch men. And they brought the ships to land, and forsook all, and followed him. And it fortun'd as he was in a certain city, and behold there was a man full of leprosy: and when he had spied Jesus, he fell on his face and besought him saying: Lord if thou wilt, thou canst make me clean. And he stretched forth his* hand, and touched him saying: I will, be thou clean. And immediately the leprosy departed from him. And he warn'd him, that he should tell no man: but that he should go and shew himself to the priest, and offer for his cleansing according as Moses commandment was, for a witness unto them. But his name* spread* the more abroad, and the* people came together to hear, and to be healed of him, of* infirmities. And he kept himself apart in the wildernesses, v.43 Other: kingdom. 5. v.2 Other: but. v.3 Other: And he. v.3 Other: thrust out.

v.4 Other: Launch out. v.4 Other: your nets. v.5 Other: Neverthelater. v.6 Other: their. v.7 Other: but. v.10 Other: partners. v.13 Other: the. v.15 Other: fame.
v.15 Other: so much. v.15 Other: much. v.15 Other: their.

and gave himself to prayer. And it happened on a certain day, 17 that he taught, and there sat the pharisees, and doctors of law, which were come out of all the towns of Galilee, Jewry,* and Jerusalem, and the power of the Lord was to heal them. And 18 behold, men brought a man lying in his bed, which was taken with a palsy, and they sought means to bring him in, and to lay him before him. And when they could not find by what way 19 they might bring him in, because of the press, they went up on the top of the house, and let him down thorow the tiling, bed and all in the midst before Jesus. When he saw their faith 20 he said unto him: man thy sins are forgiven thee. And the 21 scribes, and the pharisees, began to think saying: What fellow is this: which speaketh blasphemy? Who can forgive sins, but God only? When Jesus perceived their thoughts, he answered 22 and said unto them: What think ye in your hearts? Whether is easier to say, thy sins are forgiven thee, or to say: Rise and 23 walk? * That ye may know that the son of man hath power to forgive sins on earth, he said unto the sick of the palsy: I 24 say to thee, arise, take up thy bed and go home to thy house.
And immediately he rose up before them all, and took up his 25 bed whereon he lay, and departed to his own house praising God. And they were ail amazed, and they lauded God, and 26 were filled with fear, saying: We have seen strange things today. And after that he went forth, and saw a publican, named 27 Levi, sitting at the receipt of custom, and said unto him: follow me. And he left all, rose up, and followed him. And that 28, 29 same Levi made him a great feast at home in his own house.
And there was a great company of publicans, and of other that sat at meat with him. And the scribes and pharisees mur- 30 mured against his disciples, saying: Why eat ye and drink ye, with publicans and sinners? Jesus answered and said unto 31 them: They that are whole, need not of the physician: but they that are sick. I came not to call the righteous to repentance: 32 but the sinners.* * They said unto him: Why do the disciples of John fast often and pray: and the disciples of the pharisees 33 also: and thine eat and drink? To whom he said:* Can ye 34 make the Children of the wedding fast, as long as the bridegroom is present with them? The days will come, when the 35

v.17 Other: Iurie. v.24 Other: But. v.32 Other: to repentance. v.33 Other: Then.
v.34 Other: And he said unto them.

bridegroom shall be taken away from them, then shall they 36 fast in those days. * He spake unto them in a similitude: No man putteth a piece of a new garment, into an old vesture: for if he do, then breaketh he the new and the piece that was taken 37 out of the new, agreeth not with the old. Also no man poureth new wine into old vessels,* if he do, the new wine breaketh the 38 vessels, and runneth out itself, and the vessels perish: But new wine must be poured into new vessels, and both are pre-39 served. Also no man that drinketh old wine, straightway can away with new, for he sayeth: the old is pleasanter.

VI It happened on an after Sabbath, they* went thorow the corn field, and* his disciples plucked the ears of corn, and ate 2 them, and rubbed them in their hands. * Certain of the pharisees said unto them: Why do ye that which is not lawful to 3 be done on the Sabbath days? * Jesus answered them and said: Have ye not read what David did, when he himself was 4 an hungered, and they which were with him: how he went into the house of God, and took and ate the loaves of hallowed bread, and gave also to them which were with him: which was 5 not lawful to eat, but for the priests only. And he said unto 6 them: The son of man is Lord even of the Sabbath day. And it fortunued in another Sabbath also, that he entered into the synagogue and taught. And there was a man, whose right hand 7 was dried up. * The scribes, and pharisees watched him, to see whether he would heal on the Sabbath day or not, that 8 they might find an accusation against him. But he knew their thoughts, and said to the man which had the withered hand: Rise up, and stand forth in the midst.* He arose, and stepped 9 forth. Then said Jesus unto them: I will ask you a question:
 Whether is it lawful on the Sabbath days to do good, or to do 10 evil? to save life or for to destroy it? And he beheld them all in compass, and said unto the man: Stretch forth thy hand.* He did so, and his hand was restored, and made as whole as the 11 other. And they were filled full of madness, and communed 12 one with another, what they might do to Jesu. * It fortunued in those days,* he went out into a mountain for to pray, and con-13 tinued all night in prayer to God. And as soon as it was day, v.36 Other: Then. v.37 Other: For. 6. v.1 Other: that he. v.1 Other: that.

 v.2 Other: And. v.3 Other: And. v.7 Other: And. v.8 Other: And. v.10 Other:
And. v.12 Other: And. v.12 Other: that.

he called his disciples, and of them he chose twelve, which also he called his apostles. Simon, whom also he named Peter: 14 and Andrew his brother, James and John, Philip and Bartlemew; Matthew and Thomas, James the son of Alpheus and 15 Simon called Zelotes, and Judas James' son, and Judas Iscar-iot, which same was the traitor. And he came down with them 16 and stood in the plain field with the company of his disciples, and a great multitude of people out of all parts of Jury* and Jerusalem, and from the sea coast of Tyre and Sidon, which came to hear him, and to be healed of their diseases, and they 18 also that were vexed with foul spirits, and they were healed.
 And all the people pressed to touch him: for there went virtue 19 out of him, and healed them all. And he lifted up his eyes 20 upon the disciples, and said: Blessed are* ye poor: for yours is the kingdom of God. Blessed are ye that hunger:* for ye 21 shall be satisfied. Blessed are ye that weep:* for ye shall laugh.
 Blessed are ye when men hate you, and thrust you out of their 22 company, and rail on you, and abhor your name, as an evil thing, for the son of man's sake. Rejoice ye then, and be glad: 23 for behold your reward is great in heaven. After this manner their fathers entreated the prophets. But woe be to you 24 that are rich: for ye have therein your consolation. Woe be to 25 you that are full: for ye shall hunger. Woe be to you that now laugh: for ye shall wail, and weep. Woe be to you when all 26 men praise you: for so did their fathers to the false prophets.
 But I say unto you which hear: Love your enemies. Do good to 27 them which hate you. Bless them that curse you. And pray 28 for them which wrongfully trouble you. And unto him that 29 smiteth thee on the one cheek, offer also the other. And him that taketh away thy gown, forbid not to take thy coat also.
 Give to every man that asketh of thee. And if any man* that 30 take away thy goods, ask them not again. And as ye would that men should do to you: so do ye to them likewise. If ye 32 love them which love you: what thank are ye worthy of? seeing that* the very sinners love their lovers. And if ye do for them 33 which do for you: what thank are ye worthy of? For the very sinners do even the same. If ye lend to them of whom ye hope 34 to receive: what thank shall ye have: for the very sinners, lend v.17 Other: Iurie. v.20 Other: be. v.21 Other: now. v.21 Other: now. v.30 Other: of him that taketh. v.32 Other: For.

35 to sinners, to receive as much again. * Love ye your enemies, do good, and lend, looking for nothing again: and your reward shall be great, and ye shall be the children of the highest: for 36 he is kind unto the unkind, and to the evil. Be ye therefore 37 merciful, as your father is merciful. Judge not and ye shall not be judged. Condemn not: and ye shall not be condemned.
38 Forgive, and ye shall be forgiven. Give, and it shall be given unto you: good measure, pressed down, shaken together, and running over, shall men give into your bosoms. For with what measure ye mete, with the same shall men mete to you again.
39 And he put forth a similitude unto them: Can the blind lead 40 the blind? Do they not both then fall into the ditch? The disciple is not above his master. Every man shall be perfect, 41 even as his master is. Why seest thou a mote in thy brother's eye, and considerest not the beam that is in thine own eye?
42 Other* how canst thou say to thy brother: Brother let me pull out the mote that is in thine eye: when thou perceivest not the beam that is in thine own eye? Hypocrite, cast out the beam out of thine own eye first, and then shalt thou see perfectly, 43 to pull out the mote out of thy brother's eye. It is not a good tree that bringeth forth evil fruit: Neither is that an evil tree, 44 that bringeth forth good fruit. For every tree is known by his fruit. Neither of thorns gather men figs, nor of bushes gather 45 they grapes. A good man out of the good treasure of his heart bringeth forth that which is good. And the* evil man out of the evil treasure of his heart, bringeth forth that which is evil.
46 For of the abundance of the heart, the* mouth* speaketh. Why 47 call ye me Master, Master: and do not as I bid you? whosoever cometh to me, and heareth my sayings, and doth the same, I 48 will shew you to whom he is like. He is like a man which built an house: which* digged deep, and laid the foundation on a rock. When the waters arose, the flood beat upon that house, 49 and could not move it. For it was grounded upon a rock. But he that heareth and doth not, is like a man, that without foundation built an house upon the earth, against which, the flood* beat: and it fell by and by. And the fall of that house was great.

VII When he had ended all his sayings in the audience of the 2 people, he entered into Capernaum. And the servant of a cerv.35 Other: Wherefore. v.42 Other: Either. v.45 Other: an. v.45 Other: his.

v.45 Other: mought. v.48 Other: and. v.49 Other: did.

tain Centurion was sick, and ready to die, whom he made much of. And when he heard of Jesu, he sent unto him the seniors* 3 of the jews, beseeching him that he would come and heal his servant. And they came to Jesus and besought him instantly, 4 saying: He is worthy that thou shouldest do this for him. For 5 he loveth our nation, and hath built us a synagogue. And Je- 6 sus went with them. And when he was not far from the house, the Centurion sent to him his friends, saying unto him: Lord trouble not thyself, for I am not worthy that thou shouldest enter into my house.* Wherefore I thought not myself worthy 7 to come unto thee: but say the word and my servant shall be whole. For I likewise am a man under power, and have under 8 me soldiers, and I say unto one, go: and he goeth. And to another, come: and he cometh. And to my servant, do this: and he doeth it. When Jesus heard this, he marveled at him, and 9 turned him about and said to the people that followed him: I say unto you, I have not found so great faith, no not in Israel, certainly. And they that were sent, turned back home again, 10 and found the servant that was sick whole. And it fortun'd 11 after that,* he went into a city called Naym, and* his disciples went with him, and a great number of* people. When he came 12 nye to the gate of the city, behold, there was a dead man carried out, which was the only son of his mother, and she was a widow, and much people of the city was with her. And* the Lord saw 13 her, and* had compassion on her, and said unto her: weep not.
And* went and touched the coffin, and they that bare him stood 14 still. And he said: Young man, I say unto thee, arise. And the 15 dead sat up, and began to speak. And he delivered him to his mother. And there came a fear on them all. And they glorified 16 God saying: a great prophet is risen among us, and God hath visited his people. And this rumor of him went forth through- 17 out all Jewry,* and thorowout all the regions which lie round about. And unto John shewed his disciples* of all these things. 18
And John called unto him two of his disciples, and sent them to 19 Jesus saying: Art thou he that shall come: or shall we look for another? When the men were come unto him, they said: John 20 baptist sent us unto thee saying: Art thou he that shall come:

7. v.3 Other: elders. v.6 Other: under my roof. v.11 Other: that. v.11 Other: many of. v.11 Other: much. v.13 Other: when. v.13 Other: he. v.14 Other: he. v.17 Other: Iurie. v.18 Other: the disciples of John shewed him.

21 or shall we wait for another? * At that* same time, he cured many of their infirmities and plagues; And of evil spirits, and 22 unto many that were blind, he gave sight. And he* answered, and said unto them: Go your ways and shew John, what things ye have heard and seen: how that the blind see, the halt go, the lepers are cleansed, the deaf hear, the dead arise: To the poor is 23 the gospel* preached, and happy is he that falleth not, by rea-24 son of me.* When the messengers of John were departed, he began to speak unto the people of John: What went ye out for to see into the desert? * went ye to see a reed shaken with the 25 wind? But what went ye out for to see? A man clothed in soft raiment? Behold they which are gorgeously appavelled, and 26 live delicately, are in kings' courts. But what went ye forth to see? A prophet? Yea I say to you, and more than a prophet.
 27 This is he of whom it is written: Behold I send my messenger 28 before thy face, to prepare thy way before thee. * I say unto you: a greater prophet than John, among women's children, is there none. Nevertheless one that is less in the kingdom of 29 God, is greater than he. And all the people that heard, and the publicans justified God, which* were baptised in* the baptism 30 of John. But the pharisees and scribes despised the counsel of 31 God, against themselves, and were not baptised of him. And the Lord said: Whereunto shall I liken the men of this gener-32 ation, and what thing are they like? They are like unto children sitting in the market place, and crying one to another, and saying: We have piped unto you, and ye have not danced: We 33 have mourned to you, and ye have not wept. For John baptist came unto you neither* eating bread, nor* drinking wine, and 34 ye say: he hath the devil. The son of man is come and eateth and drinketh, and ye say: behold a man which is a glutton, and 35 a drinker of wine, the* friend of publicans and sinners. And* 36 wisdom justified of all her children. And one of the pharisees desired him that he would eat with him. And he went into 37 the pharisee's house, and sat down to meat. And behold a woman in that city, which was a sinner, as soon as she knew that Jesus sat at meat in the pharisee's house, she brought an v.21 Other: And. v.21 Other: the. v.22 Other: Iesu. v.22 Other: glad tid- ings. v.23 Other: is not offended by me. v.24 Other: wilderness?. v.28 Other:

For. v.29 Other: and. v.29 Other: with. v.33 Other: nether. v.33 Other: ner.
 v.34 Other: a. v.35 Other: Yet is.

alabaster box of ointment, and she stood at his feet behind 38 him weeping, and began to wash his feet, with tears, and did wipe them with the hairs of her head, and kissed his feet, and anointed them with ointment. When the pharisee which bade 39 him to his house, saw that, he spake within himself: saying:
 If this man were a prophet, he would surely have known who and what manner woman this is which toucheth him, for she is a sinner. And Jesus answered, and said unto him: Simon 40 I have somewhat to say unto thee. And he said: Master say on. There was a certain lender, which had two debtors, the 41 one ought five hundred pence, and the other fifty. When they 42 had nothing to pay, he forgave them both. Which of them tell me, will love him most? Simon answered, and said: I suppose 43 that he to whom he forgave most. And he said unto him: Thou hast truly judged. And he turned to the woman, and said 44 unto Simon: Seest thou this woman? I entered into thy house, and thou gavest me no water to my feet: but she hath washed my feet with tears, and wiped them with the hairs of her head.
 Thou gavest me no kiss: but she, since the time I came in, hath 45 not ceased to kiss my feet. Mine head with oil thou didst not 46 anoint: but she hath anointed my feet with ointment. Where- 47 fore I say unto thee: many sins are forgiven her, because* she loved much. To whom less is forgiven, the same doeth less love.
 And he said unto her thy sins are forgiven thee. And they that 48, 49 sat at meat with him, began to say within themselves: Who is this which forgiveth sins also? And he said to the woman: Thy faith hath saved thee; Go in peace. 50

And it fortun'd after that,* he himself went throughout cities VIII and towns, preaching, and shewing the kingdom of God, and the twelve with him. And also certain women, which were 2 healed of evil spirits, and infirmities: Mary called Magdalen, out of whom went seven devils, and Joanna the wife of Chusa, 3 Herod's steward; And Susanna; And many other: which ministered unto him* of their substance. When much people were 4 gathered together, and were come to him out of the* cities, he spake by a similitude: A sower went out to sow his seed, and 5 as he sowed, some fell by the way side, and it was trodden under feet, and the fowls of the air devoured it up. And some fell 6 on stone, and as soon as it was sprung up, it withered away, bev.47 Other: for. 8. v.1 Other: that. v.3 Other: them. v.4 Other: all.

7 cause it lacked moistness. And some fell among thorns, and 8 the thorns sprang up with it, and choked it. And some fell on good ground, and sprang up and bare fruit, an hundred fold.
 And as he said these things, he cried: He that hath ears to 9 hear, let him hear. And his disciples asked him, saying: what 10 manner similitude this should be.* And he said: unto you is it given to know the secrets of the kingdom of God: but to other in similitudes, that when they see, they should not see, and when 11 they hear they should not understand. The similitude is this.
 12 The seed is the word of God. Those that are beside the way, are they that hear, and afterward cometh the devil, and taketh away the word out of their hearts, lest they should believe and 13 be saved. They on the stones, are they which when they hear the word receive it* with joy. And* these have no roots, which 14 for a while believe, and in time of temptation go away. * That which fell among thorns, are they which hear, and go forth, and are choked with cares and* riches, and voluptuous living, and 15 bring forth no fruit. That in the good ground, are they which with a good and pure heart, hear the word, and keep it, and 16 bring forth fruit with patience. No man lighteth a candle, and covereth it under a vessel, neither putteth it under the table: but setteth it on a candlestick, that they that enter in, may 17 see* light. No thing is in secret, that shall not come abroad: Neither any thing hid, that shall not be known, and come to 18 light. Take heed therefore how ye hear. For whosoever hath, to him shall be given: And whosoever hath not, from him shall be taken, even that same which he supposeth that he hath.
 19 Then came to him his mother and his brethren, and could not 20 come at him for press. And they told him saying: Thy mother 21 and thy brethren, stand without, and would see thee. He answered, and said unto them: my mother and my brethren are 22 these which hear the word of God, and do it. * It chanced on a certain day that he went into a ship, and his disciples also, and he said unto them: Let us go over unto the other side of 23 the lake. And they launched forth. And as they sailed, he fell asleep, and there arose a storm of wind in the lake, and 24 they were filled with water, and were in jeopardy. And they went to him and awoke him, saying: Master, Master, we are

v.9 Other: is this?. v.13 Other: ,receive the word. v.13 Other: But. v.14 Other:
And. v.14 Other: with. v.16 Other: the. v.22 Other: And.

lost.* He arose and rebuked the wind, and the tempest of water, and they ceased, and it waxed calm. And he said unto them: where is your faith? They feared and wondered, saying one to another: what fellow is this? for he commandeth both the winds and water, and they obey him? And they sailed unto the region of the Gaderens, which is over against Galilee.

* As he went out of the ship to land, there met him a certain man out of the city, which had a devil long time, and ware no clothes, neither abode in any house: but among graves. When he saw Jesus, he cried, and fell down before him, and with a loud voice said: What have I to do with thee Jesus the son of the God most highest? I beseech thee torment me not. Then he commanded the foul spirit to come out of the man. For often times he caught him, and he was bound with chains, and kept with fetters: and he brake the bonds, and was carried of the fiend, into wilderness. * Jesus asked him saying: what is thy name? And he said: Legion, because many devils were entered into him. And they besought him, that he would not command them to go out into the deep. * There was there by an herd of many swine, feeding on an hill, and they prayed* him, that he would suffer them to enter into them. And he suffered them. Then went the devils out of the man, and entered into the swine: And the herd took their course, and ran headlong into the lake, and were choked. When the herdmen saw what had chanced, they fled, and told it in the city and in the villages. And they came out to see what was done. And came to Jesus, and found the man, out of whom the devils were departed, sitting at the feet of Jesus clothed, and in his right mind, and they were afraid. They also which saw it told them by what means he that was possessed of the devil, was healed. And all the whole multitude of the* Gaderens, besought him, that he would depart from them: for they were taken with great fear. And he gat him into the ship and returned back again. Then the man out of whom the devils were departed, besought him, that he might be with him: But Jesus sent him away, saying: Go home again into thine own house, and shew what* things God hath done to thee. And he went his way, and preached thorow out all the city what* things Jev.24 Other: Then. v.27 Other: And. v.30 Other: And. v.32 Other: And.

v.32 Other: besought. v.37 Other: country of the. v.39 Other: great. v.39 Other: great.

40 sus had done unto him. * It fortuned that when Jesus was come again,* the people received him. For they all longed* for 41 him. And behold there came a man named Jairus (and he was a ruler of the synagogue) and he fell down at Jesus' feet, 42 and besought him that he would come into his house, for he had but a daughter only, of* twelve year of age, and she lay a 43 dying.* As he went the people thronged him. And a woman having an issue of blood twelve year (which had spent all her substance among Physicians, neither could be helped of any) 44 came behind him, and touched the hem of his garment, and im-45 mediately her issue of blood stauched. And Jesus said: Who is it that touched me? when every man denied, Peter and they that were with him, said: Master, the people thrust thee and 46 vex thee: and thou sayest, who touched me? And Jesus said:
 Somebody touched me. For I perceive that virtue is gone out 47 of me. When the woman saw, that she was not hid from him, she came trembling, and fell at his feet, and told him before all the people, for what cause she had touched him, and how 48 she was healed immediately. And he said unto her: Daughter be of good comfort. Thy faith hath made the safe,* go in 49 peace. While he yet spake, there came one from the rulers of the synagogi's house, which said to him: Thy daughter is dead, 50 disease not the master. When Jesus heard that; He answered to the maidens father saying: Fear not, believe only, and she 51 shall be made whole. And when he came to the house, he suffered no man to go in with him, save Peter, James and John, 52 and the father and the mother of the maiden. Every body wept and sorrowed for her. And he said Weep not: for she is 53 not dead, but sleepeth. And they laughed him to scorn. For 54 they knew that she was dead. And he thrust them all out at the doors, and caught her by the hand, and cried saying: Maid 55 arise. And her spirit came again, and she rose straightway.
 56 And he commanded to give her meat. And the father and the mother of her were astonied. But he warned* that they should tell no man, what was done.

IX Then called he the twelve together, and gave them power, and authority, over all devils. And that they might heal dis-2 eases. And he sent them to preach the kingdom of God, and v.40 Other: And. v.40 Other: that. v.40 Other: waited. v.42 Other: upon a. v.42 Other: And. v.48 Other: whole. v.56 Other: them.

to cure the sick. And he said to them: Take no thing to suc- 3 cor you by the way: neither staff, nor scrip, neither bread nei- 4 ther money, neither have two coats. And whatsoever house 4 ye enter into there abide, and thence depart. And whosoever 5 will not receive you, when ye depart from* that city, shake off 5 the very dust from your feet, for a testimony against them. * 6 They went forth,* and went thorow the towns, preaching the 6 gospel, and healing everywhere. * Herod the tetrarch heard 7 of all that by him was done,* and doubted because that it was 7 said of some, that John was risen again from death. And of 8 some that Helias had appeared. And of other* that one of the 8 old prophets was risen again. And Herod said: John have I 9 beheaded: who* is this of whom I hear such things? And he 9 desired to see him. And the apostles returned, and told him 10 all that* they had done. And he took them and went aside into 10 a solitary place, nye to a city called Bethsaida. * The people 11 knew of it, and followed him. And he received them, and spake 11 unto them of the kingdom of God. And healed them that had 11 need to be healed. * The day began to wear away. Then came 12 the twelve, and said unto him: send the people away, that they 12 may go into the towns, and villages roundabout, and lodge, and 12 get meat, for we are here in a place of wilderness. Then said 13 he* unto them: Give ye them to eat. And they said: We have 13 no more but five loaves and two fishes, except we should go 13 and buy meat for all this people. And they were about a five 14 thousand men.* He said unto his disciples: Cause them to sit 14 down by fifties in a company. And they did so, and made them 15 all sit down. * He took the five loaves, and the two fishes, and 16 looked up to heaven, and blessed them, and brake, and gave to 16 his* disciples, to set before the people. And they all ate, and 17 were* satisfied. And there was taken up of that remained to 17 them, twelve baskets full of broken meat. * It fortun'd as he 18 was alone praying, his disciples were with him, and he asked 18 them saying: Who say the people that I am? They answered 19 and said: John baptist. Some say Helias. And some say, one of 9. v.5 Other: go out of. v.6 Other: And. v.6 Other: out. v.7 Other: And. v.7 Other: was done of him. v.8 Other: some. v.9 Other: then. v.10 Other: what great things. v.11 Other: And. v.12 Other: And when. v.13 Other: But he said. v.14 Other: And. v.16 Other: And. v.16 Other: the. v.17 Other: all. v.18 Other: And.

20 the old prophets is risen again. * He said unto them: Who say ye that I am? Peter answered and said: thou art the Christ of 21 God. * He warned and commanded them, that they should tell 22 no man that thing, saying: That the son of man must suffer many things, and be reprov'd of the seniors, * and of the high priests and scribes, and be slain, and the third day rise again.
 23 And he said to them all, if any man will come after me, let him deny himself, and take* his cross on him daily, and follow me.
 24 Whosoever will save his life, shall lose it. And whosoever shall 25 lose his life, for my sake, the same shall save it. For what shall it advantage a man, to win the whole world, if he lose himself: 26 or run in damage of himself? For whosoever is ashamed of me, and of my sayings: of him shall the son of man be ashamed, when he cometh in his own majesty,* and in the majesty* of his 27 father, and of the holy angels. * I tell you of a surety: Some there are* of them that here stand, which shall not taste of 28 death till they see the kingdom of God. And it followed about an eight days after those sayings,* he took Peter, James, and 29 John, and went up into a mountain to pray. And as he prayed, the fashion of his countenance was changed, and his garment 30 was white and shone. And behold, two men talked with him, 31 and they were Moses and Helias, which appeared gloriously, and spake of his departing, which he should end at Jerusalem.
 32 Peter and they that were with him, were heavy* asleep. And when they woke, they saw his majesty,* and two men standing 33 with him. And it chanced as they departed from him, Peter said unto Jesus: Master, it is good being here for us. Let us make three tabernacles, one for thee, and one for Moses, and 34 one for Helias. And wist not what he said. While he thus spake there came a cloud and shadowed them and they feared 35 when they entered into* the cloud. And there came a voice 36 out of the cloud saying: This is my dear son, hear him. And as soon as the voice was past, Jesus was found alone. And they kept it close: and told no man in those days any of those 37 things, which they had seen. * It chanced on the next day as they came down from the hill, much people came and met him.
 38 And behold a man of the company cried out saying: Master, I v.20 Other: And. v.21 Other: And. v.22 Other: elders. v.23 Other: up. v.26 Other: glory. v.26 Other: glory. v.27 Other: And. v.27 Other: be. v.28 Other: that. v.32 Other: with. v.32 Other: glory. v.34 Other: were come under. v.37 Other: And.

beseech thee behold my son, for he is all that I have: and see, a spirit taketh him, and suddenly he crieth, and he teareth him 39 that he foameth again, and uneth^{} departeth he from him, when he hath rent him: And I have besought thy disciples to 40 cast him out, and they could not. Jesus answered, and said: O 41 generation without faith, and crooked: how long shall I be with you? And shall suffer you? Bring thy son hither. As he yet was 42 a coming, the fiend rent him, and tare him. Jesus rebuked the unclean spirit, and healed the child, and delivered him to his father. And they were all amazed at the mighty power of God. 43 While they wondered every one at all things which he did: He said unto his disciples: Let these sayings sink down into your 44 ears. The time will come, when the son of man shall be delivered into the hands of men. But they wist not what that word 45 meant, and it was hid from them that they understood it not.
 And they feared to ask him of that saying. Then there arose a 46 disputation among them, who should be the greatest. When 47 Jesus perceived the thoughts of their hearts, he took a child, and set him hard by him, and said unto them: Whosoever receiveth 48 this child in my name, receiveth me. And whosoever receiveth me, receiveth him that sent me. For he that amongst you, is the least,* the same shall be great. * John answered 49 and said: Master we saw one casting out devils in thy name, and we forbade him, because he followeth not with us. And 50 Jesus said unto him: forbid ye him not. For he that is not against you,* is with you.* And it followed when the time was 51 come that he should be received up and that he determined himself* to go to Jerusalem: and sent messengers before him. 52 And they went, and entered into a city of the Samaritans to make ready for him. And* they would not receive him, be- 53 cause his face was as though he would go to Jerusalem. When 54 his disciples, James, and John, saw that, they said: Lord, wilt thou that we command, that fire come down from heaven, and consume them, even as Helias did? Jesus turned about, and 55 rebuked them saying: ye wot not what manner spirit ye are of. The son of man is not come to destroy men's lives, but 56 to save them. And they went to another town. * It chanced 57

v.39 Other: with much pain. v.42 Other: And. v.48 Other: For he that is least among you all. v.49 Other: And. v.50 Other: us. v.50 Other: us. v.51 Other: up, then he set his face. v.53 Other: But. v.57 Other: And.

as he went on their journey,* a certain man said unto him: I 58 will follow thee whithersoever thou go. Jesus said unto him: foxes have holes, and birds of the air have nests: but the son 59 of man hath not whereon to lay his head. And he said unto another: follow me. And the same said: Lord suffer me first 60 to go and bury my father. Jesus said unto him. Let the dead, bury their dead: but go thou and preach the kingdom of God.
 61 And another said: I will follow thee Lord: But let me first go 62 bid them farewell, which are at home at my house. Jesus said unto him: No man that putteth his hand to the plough, and looketh back, is apt to the kingdom of God.

X After that,* the Lord appointed other seventy (and two) also,
 and sent them, two and two, before his face,* into every city, 2 and place, whither he himself would come. And* said unto them: the harvest is great: but the laborers are few. Pray therefore the Lord of the harvest, to send forth laborers into 3 his harvest. Go your ways. Behold, I send you forth as lambs 4 among wolves. Bear no wallet, neither scrip, nor shoes, and 5 salute no man by the way. In* whatsoever house ye enter 6 in, first say: Peace be to this house. And if the son of peace be there, your peace shall rest upon him, if not, it shall re-7 turn to you again. And in the same house tarry still eating and drinking, such as they have. For the laborer is worthy of 8 his reward. Go not from house to house: and into whatsoever city ye enter, if they receive you, eat whatsoever is* set 9 before you, and heal the sick that are there, and say unto 10 them: the kingdom of God is come nye upon you. But into whatsoever city ye shall enter, if they receive you not, go your 11 ways out into the streets of the same, and say: even the very dust, which cleaveth on us of your city, we wipe off against you: Notwithstanding, mark this, that the kingdom of God was 12 come nye upon you. Yea and I say unto you: that it shall be 13 easier in that day, for Sodom than for that city. Woe be to thee Chorazin: woe be to thee Bethsaida. For if the miracles had been done in Tyre and Sidon, which have been done in you, they had a great while ago repented, sitting in hair and 14 ashes. Nevertheless it shall be easier for Tyre and Sidon, at 15 the judgement, than for you. And thou Capernaum which art

v.57 Other: in the way. 10. v.1 Other: these things. v.1 Other: him. v.2 Other: he. v.5 Other: to. v.8 Other: such things as are.

exalted to heaven, shalt be thrust down to hell; whosoever* 16 heareth you, heareth me: And whosoever* despiseth you, despiseth me. And he that despiseth me, despiseth him that sent me. * The seventy returned again with joy saying: Lord even 17 the very devils are subdued to us thorow thy name. And he 18 said unto them: I saw sathan, as it had been lightning, fall down from heaven. Behold I give unto you power to tread on 19 serpents, and scorpions, and upon* all manner power of the enemy, and nothing shall hurt you. Nevertheless, in this rejoyce 20 not, that the spirits are under your power: But rejoyce because your names are written in heaven. That same time rejoiced 21 Jesus in the spirit,* and said: I confess* thee father Lord of heaven and earth, because* thou hast hid these things from the wise and prudent, and hast opened them to the foolish.*
 Even so father, for so pleased it thee. All things are given me 22 of my father. And no man knoweth who the son is, but the father: neither who the father is, save the son, and he to whom the son will shew him. And he turned to his disciples, and said 23 secretly: Happy are the eyes, which see that ye see. For I tell 24 you that many prophets and kings have desired to see those things which ye see, and have not seen them: And to hear those things which ye hear, and have not heard them: And 25 mark;* A certain lawyer stood up, and tempted him saying: Master what shall I do, to inherit eternal life? He said unto 26 him: What is written in the law? How readest thou? And he 27 answered and said: Thou shalt love thy Lord God, with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy strength, and with all thy mind: and thy neighbor as thyself. And he said unto 28 him: Thou hast answered right. This do and thou shalt live.
 He willing to justify himself, said unto Jesus: Who is then 29 my neighbor? Jesus answered and said: A certain man de- 30 scended from Jerusalem* into Jericho;* And fell into the hands of thieves, which robbed him of his raiment and wounded him, and departed leaving him half dead. And it* chanced that 31 there came a certain priest that same way, and* saw him, and* passed by. And likewise a levite, when he was come nye to 32

v.16 Other: He that. v.16 Other: he that. v.17 Other: And. v.19 Other: over.
 v.21 Other: holy ghost. v.21 Other: unto. v.21 Other: that. v.21 Other: babes.
 v.25 Other: behold. v.30 Other: Ierusalem. v.30 Other: Herico. v.31 Other: by.
 v.31 Other: when he. v.31 Other: he.

33 the place, went and looked on him, and passed by. Then a certain Samaritan, as he journeyed, came nye unto him, and 34 beheld* him, and had compassion on him, and came* to him, and bound up his wounds, and poured in wine, and oil, and laid* him on his* beast, and brought him to a common hostry,* 35 and drest* him. And on the morrow when he departed, he took out two pence, and gave them to the host and said unto him: Take care of him, and whatsoever thou spendest above 36 this,* when I come again I will recompense thee. Which now of these three, thinkest thou was neighbor unto him that fell into 37 the thieves hands? And he answered:* he that shewed mercy on him. Then said Jesus unto him. Go and do thou likewise.
 38 It fortun'd as they went, that he entered into a certain town.
 And a certain woman named Martha, received him into her 39 house. And this woman had a sister called Mary, which sat at 40 Jesus' feet, and heard Jesus* preaching: * Martha was cumbered about much serving, and stood and said: Master, dost thou not care, that my sister hath left me to minister alone?
 41 Bid her therefore, that she help me. And Jesus answered, and said unto her: Martha, Martha, thou art busied,* and troublest 42 thyself,* about many things: verily one is needful, Mary hath chosen her a* good part, which shall not be taken away from her.

XI And it fortun'd as he was praying in a certain place: when he ceased, one of his disciples said unto him: Master teach us 2 to pray; As John taught his disciples. And he said unto them:
 When ye pray, say:* Our father which art in heaven, hallowed by thy name. Let thy kingdom come. Thy will, be fulfilled, even 3 in earth as it is in heaven. Our daily bread give us this day.*
 4 And forgive us our sins: For even we forgive every man that trespasseth us, and lead us not into temptation; But deliver us 5 from evil Amen. And he said unto them: which of you shall have a friend and shall* go to him at midnight, and say unto 6 him: friend lend me four* loaves for a friend of mine is come out of the way to me, and I have nothing to set before him:

v.33 Other: when he saw. v.34 Other: went. v.34 Other: put. v.34 Other: own.
 v.34 Other: inn. v.34 Other: made provision for. v.35 Other: more. v.37 Other: said:. v.39 Other: his. v.40 Other: And. v.41 Other: carest. v.41 Other: art troubled. v.42 Other: that. 11. v.2 Other: O. v.3 Other: evermore. v.5 Other: if any of you should have a friend, and should. v.5 Other: three.

And he within should answer and say: Trouble me not, now is 7 the door shut, and my servants are with me in the chamber, I cannot rise and give them to thee. I say unto you: though 8 he would not arise and give him, because he is his friend: Yet because of his importunity he would rise and give him as many as he needeth.* And I say unto you: ask, and it shall be given 9 you. Seek, and ye shall find. Knock, and it shall be opened unto you. For every one that asketh, receiveth: and he that 10 seeketh, findeth: and to him that knocketh shall it be opened.
If the son shall ask bread of any of you which* is his* father: 11 will he proffer* him a stone? Or if he ask fish, will he* give him a serpent? Or if he ask an egg: will he proffer* him a 12 scorpion? If ye then which are evil, know how to* give good gifts unto your children? How much more shall your* father celestial,* give a good* spirit to them, that desire it of him.
And he was a casting out a devil, which was dumb. And it fol- 14 lowed when the devil was gone out, the dumb spake, and the people wondered. * Some of them said: he casteth out devils 15 by the power of Belzebub, the chief of the devils. And other tempted him seeking of him a sign from heaven. * He knew 17 their thoughts, and said unto them: Every kingdom, at debate* within itself shall be desolate: and one house shall fall upon another. So if Satan be at variance* within himself: how shall 18 his kingdom endure? Be cause ye say that I cast out devils by the power of Belzebub? If I by the power of Belzebub cast 19 out devils: by whose power,* do your children cast them out?
Therefore shall they be your judges. But if I with the finger 20 of God cast out devils, no doubt, the kingdom of God is come upon you. When a strong man armed watcheth his house: 21 That he possesseth, is in peace. But when a stronger than he 22 cometh upon him, and overcometh him: he taketh from him, his harness, wherein he trusted, and divideth his goods. He 23 that is not with me is against me. And he that gathereth not with me scattereth. When the unclean spirit is gone out of a 24 man, he walketh through waterless places seeking rest. And when he findeth none, he sayeth: I will return again unto my

v.8 Other: needed. v.11 Other: that. v.11 Other: a. v.11 Other: give. v.11 Other: for a fish. v.12 Other: offer. v.13 Other: can. v.13 Other: the. v.13 Other: of heaven. v.13 Other: an holy. v.15 Other: But. v.17 Other: But. v.17 Other: divided. v.18 Other: divided. v.19 Other: whom.

25 house whence I came out. And when he cometh, he findeth it 26 swept and garnished. Then goeth he and taketh seven other spirits with* him worse than himself, and they enter in, and dwell there. And the end of that man, is worse than the be-27 ginning. * It fortun'd as he thus spake,* a certain woman of the company lifted up her voice, and said unto him: Happy is the womb that bare thee and the paps, which gave thee suck.
 28 But he said:* Happy are they that hear the word of God, and 29 keep it. When the people were gathered thick together: He began to say: This is an evil nation. They seek a sign, and there shall no sign be given them, but the sign of Jonas the 30 prophet. For as Jonas was a sign to the Ninivites, so shall the 31 son of man be to this nation. The queen of the south shall rise at the judgement, with the men of this generation, and condemn them. For she came from the end of the world, to hear the wisdom of Solomon: and behold a greater than Solomon is 32 here. The men of Nineveh shall rise at the judgement, with this generation, and shall condemn them: for they repented at the preaching of Jonas: And behold, a greater than Jonas 33 is here. No man lighteth a candle, and putteth it in a privy place, neither under a bushel: But on a candlestick, that they 34 that come in, may see the light. The light of thy body is the eye. Therefore, when thine eye is single: then is all thy body full of light. But if thine eye be evil: then shall all thy body also 35 be full of darkness. Take heed therefore that the light which is 36 in thee, be not darkness. For if all thy body shall be light, having no part dark: then shall all be full of light, even as when a 37 candle doeth light thee with his brightness. And as he spake, a certain pharisee besought him to dine with him: and Jesus* 38 went in, and sat down to meat. When the pharisee saw that 39 he marveled that he had not first washed before dinner. And the Lord said to him: Now do ye; O pharisees, make clean the outside of the cup, and of the platter: but your inward parts 40 are full of ravening and wickedness. Ye fools did not he that made that which is without: make that which is within also?
 41 Nevertheless ye give* of that ye have, and behold all is clean to 42 you. But woe be to you pharisees, for ye tithe the mint, and rue, and all manner herbs, and pass over judgement, and the v.26 Other: to. v.27 Other: And. v.27 Other: those things. v.28 Other: Ye.

 v.37 Other: he. v.41 Other: almose.

love of God. These ought ye to have done, and* not to have left the other undone. Woe be to you pharisees: for ye love the up- 43 permost seats in the synagogues, and greetings in the markets.
 Woe be to you scribes and pharisees hypocrites, for ye are as 44 graves which appear not; And* men that walk over them, are not ware of them. Then answered one of the lawyers, and said 45 unto him: Master, thus saying, thou puttest us to rebuke also.
 Then he said: Woe be to you also ye lawyers: for ye lade men 46 with burdens grievous to be born, and ye yourselves touch not the packs with one of your fingers. Woe be to you that build 47 the sepulchers of the prophets: for your fathers killed them: Truly ye bear witness, that ye allow the deeds of your fathers: 48 for they killed them, and ye build their sepulchers. There- 49 fore said the wisdom of God: I will send them prophets and apostles, and of them they shall slay and persecute: That the 50 blood of all prophets, which was shed from the beginning of the world, may be required of this generation, from the blood of 51 Abel unto the blood of Zacary, which perished between the altar and the temple. Verily I say unto you: it shall be required of this nation. Woe be to you lawyers: for ye have taken away 52 the key of knowledge, ye entered not in yourselves, and them that came in ye forbade. When he thus spake unto them, the 53 lawyers, and the pharisees, began to wax busy about him and to stop his mouth with many questions; Laying wait for him, 54 and seeking to catch something of his mouth,* whereby they might accuse him.

As there gathered to gether an innumerable multitude of XII people (insomuch that they trod one another) he began to say unto his disciples: First of all beware of the leaven of the phar- 2 isees, which is hypocrisy. For there is nothing covered, that shall not be uncovered: neither hid, that shall not be known.
 Wherefore* whatsoever ye have spoken in darkness: that same 3 shall be heard in light. And that which ye have spoken in the ear, even in secret places, shall be preached even on the top of the houses. I say unto you my friends: fear ye not* them 4 that kill the body, and after that have nothing* that he* can more do. * I will shew you, whom ye shall fear. Fear him 5 which after he hath killed, hath power to cast into hell. Yea v.42 Other: yet. v.44 Other: the. v.54 Other: mought. 12. v.3 Other: For.

 v.4 Other: Be not afraid of. v.4 Other: no more. v.4 Other: they. v.5 Other: But.

6 I say unto you, him fear. Are not five sparrows bought for 7 two farthings? and none* of them is forgotten of God. Yea* the very hairs of your heads are numbered. Fear not there-8 fore: Ye are more of value, than many sparrows. I say unto you: Whosoever confesseth me before men, even him shall the 9 son of man confess also before the angels of God. And he that denieth me before men: shall be denied before the angels of 10 God. And whosoever speaketh a word against the son of man it shall be forgiven him. But unto him that blasphemeth the 11 holy ghost, it shall not be forgiven. When they bring you unto their* synagogues, and unto their* rulers, and officers, take no thought how or what thing ye shall answer, or what ye shall 12 speak. For the holy ghost shall teach you in the same hour, 13 what ye ought to say. One of the company said unto him: 14 Master, bid my brother divide the inheritance with me. And he said unto him: Man, who made me a judge, or a divider over 15 you? Wherefore he said unto them: take heed, and beware of covetousness. For no man's life standeth in the abundance of 16 the things which he possesseth. And he put forth a similitude unto them saying: The lands* of a certain* man brought forth 17 fruits plenteously, and he thought in himself saying: what shall I do? because I have no room where to bestow my fruits?
 18 And he said: This will I do. I will destroy my barns, and build greater, and therein will I gather all my fruits, and my goods: 19 and I will say to my soul: Soul thou hast much goods laid up in store for many years, take thine ease: eat, drink and be merry.
 20 But God said unto him: Thou fool, this night will they fetch away thy soul again from thee. Then whose shall those things 21 be which thou hast provided? So is it with him that gathered 22 riches, and is not rich in God. And he spake unto his disciples: Therefore I say unto you: Take no thought for your life, what ye shall eat: Neither for your body, what ye shall put on.
 23 The life is more than meat, and the body is more than raiment.
 24 Mark well* the ravens, for they neither* sow, nor reap, which neither have storehouse nor* barn, and yet God feedeth them.
 25 How much are ye better then the fowls. Which of you with 26 taking thought can add to his stature one cubit? If ye then be v.6 Other: yet not one. v.7 Other: Also even. v.11 Other: the. v.11 Other: the.

 v.16 Other: ground. v.16 Other: rich. v.24 Other: Consider. v.24 Other: nether. v.24 Other: ner.

not able to do that thing which is least: why take ye thought for the remnant? Consider the lilies how they grow: They labor 27 not: They spin not: and* I say unto you,* Solomon in all his* royalty was not clothed like unto* one of these. If God then 28 so clothe the grass which is to day in the fields, and tomorrow shall be cast into the furnace:* how much more will he clothe you, o ye endued with little faith? And ask not what ye shall 29 eat, or what ye shall drink, neither climb ye up on high: for 30 all such things the heathen people of the world seek for. Your father knoweth that ye have need of such things. Wherefore 31 seek ye after the kingdom of heaven,* and all these things shall be ministered unto you. Fear not little flock, for it is your fa- 32 ther's pleasure, to give you a kingdom. Sell that ye have, and 33 give alms. And make you bags, which wax not old, and treasure that faileth not in heaven, where no thief cometh, neither moth corrupteth. For where your treasure is; There will your 34 hearts be also. Let your loins be girded about, and your lights 35 burning, and ye yourselves, like unto men, that watch* for 36 their master when he will return from a wedding: that as soon as he cometh and knocketh, they may open unto him. Happy 37 are those servants, which their lord, when he cometh, shall find walking; Verily I say unto you, he will gird himself about, and make them sit down to meat, and walk by them, and minister unto them. And if he come in the second watch, ye if 38 he come in the third watch, and shall find them so, happy are those servants. This shall ye understand, that if the good 39 man of the house, had known* what hour the thief would have come, he would surely have watched: and not have suffered* his house to have been* broken up. Be ye prepared therefore 40 for the son of man will come at an hour when ye think, not.
Then Peter said unto him: Master tellest thou this similitude 41 unto us, or to all men? And the Lord said: who is a* faithful 42 steward,* and a discreet,* whom his Lord shall make ruler over his household, to give them their duty of meat, at due season.
Happy is that servant, whom his master when he cometh shall 43 find so doing. Of a truth I say unto you: that he will make 44

v.27 Other: yet. v.27 Other: that. v.27 Other: this. v.27 Other: to. v.28 Other:
,God so clothe. v.31 Other: God. v.36 Other: wait. v.39 Other: knew. v.39 Other: suffer. v.39 Other: be. v.42 Other: If there be any. v.42 Other: servant.
v.42 Other: wise.

45 him ruler over all that he hath. But and if the evil servant shall say in his heart: My master will defer his coming, and shall begin to smite the servants, and maidens, and to eat and 46 drink, and to be drunken: the Lord of that servant will come in a day, when he thinketh not, and at an hour when he is not ware, and will divide him, and will give him his reward, with 47 the unbelievers. The servant that knew his master's will, and prepared not himself, neither did according to his will, shall be 48 beaten with many stripes. But he that knew not, and hath committed* things worthy of stripes, shall be beaten with few stripes. For unto whom much is given: of him shall be much required. And to whom men much commit, the more of him 49 will they ask. I am come to send fire on earth: and what is my 50 desire but that it were al ready kindled? Notwithstanding I must be baptised with a baptism. And how am I pained till it 51 be ended? Suppose ye that I am come to send peace on earth?
 52 I tell you, nay: but rather debate. For henceforth there shall be five in one house divided, three against two, and two against 53 three. The father shall be divided against the son, and the son against the father. The mother against the daughter, and the daughter against the mother. The mother-in-law against the* 54 daughter-in-law, and the daughter-in-law against the* mother-in-law. Then said he to the people: when ye see a cloud rise out of the west straightway ye say: we shall have a shower, and 55 so it is. And when ye se the south wind blow, ye say: we shall 56 have heat, and it cometh to pass. Hypocrites, ye can skill of the fashion of the earth, and of the sky: but what is the cause, that ye cannot skill of this time? Yea and why judge ye not of 57 yourselves, that which is rightwise? * While thou goest with thine adversary to the ruler: as thou art in the way, give diligence that thou mayest be delivered from him, least he bring thee to the judge, and the judge deliver thee to the jailer, and 58 the jailer cast thee into prison. I tell thee thou departest not 59 thence, till thou have made good the utmost farthing.*

XIII There were present at the same season, that shewed him of the Galileans, whose blood Pilate mingled with their own sacrifice. And Jesus answered, and said unto them: Suppose ye that these Galileans, were greater sinners then all the other v.48 Other: yet did commit. v.53 Other: her. v.53 Other: her. v.57 Other: what is right?. v.59 Other: mite.

Galileans because they suffered such punishment? I tell you 3 nay: but except ye repent, ye shall all* likewise perish. Or 4 think ye that those eighteen upon whom* the tower in Siloe fell and slew them,* were sinners above all men that dwell in Jerusalem? I tell you nay: But except ye repent, ye all shall 5 likewise perish. He put forth this similitude; A certain man 6 had a fig tree* in his vineyard, and he came and sought fruit thereon, and found none. Then said he to the dresser of his 7 vineyard: Behold this three year have I come and sought fruit in this fig tree, and find none, cut it down: why cumbereth it 8 the ground? And he answered and said unto him: Lord let it 8 alone this year also, till I dig round about it, and dung it, to 9 see whether it will bear fruit: * if* not, then after that, cut it down. * He taught in one of their synagogues on the Sabbath 10 days. And behold there was a woman which had a spirit of 11 infirmity eighteen years: and was bowed together, and could not well lift up herself.* When Jesus saw her, he called her to 12 him, and said to her: woman, thou art delivered from thy disease. And he laid his hands on her, and immediately she was 13 made straight, and glorified God. * The ruler of the synagogue 14 answered with indignation (because that Jesus had healed on the Sabbath day) And said unto the people: There are six days in the week, in which men ought to work, in them come and be healed, and not on the Sabbath day. Then answered him the 15 Lord and said: Hypocrite, doth not each one of you on the Sabbath day, loose his ox, or his ass, from the stall, and lead him to the water? And ought not this daughter of Abraham, be 16 loosed from this bond on the Sabbath day, whom Sathan hath bound lo, eighteen years? And when he thus said, all his ad- 17 versaries were ashamed, and all the people rejoiced on all the excellent deeds, that were done by him. Then said he: What 18 is the kingdom of God like? or whereto shall I compare it? It 19 is like a grain of mustard seed, which a man took and sowed in his garden: and it grew, and waxed a great tree, and the fowls of the air built* in the branches of it. And again he said: 20 whereunto shall I liken the kingdom of God? It is like leaven, 21 which a woman took, and hid in three bushels of flour, till all

13. v.3 Other: in. v.4 Other: which. v.4 Other: think ye that they. v.6 Other: planted. v.9 Other: and. v.9 Other: it bear. v.10 Other: And. v.11 Other: and could not lift up her self at all. v.14 Other: And. v.19 Other: made nests.

22 was thorow leavened. And he went thorow* cities and towns 23 teaching, and took his journey* towards Jerusalem. Then said one unto him: Lord, are there few that shall be saved? And 24 he said unto them: strive with your selves to enter in at the strait gate: For many I say unto you, will seek to enter in, and 25 shall not be able. When the goodman of the house is risen up, and hath shut fast* the door, and ye* begin to stand without, and to knock at the door saying: Lord, Lord, open unto us: and he shall answer and say unto you: I know* not whence ye are.
 26 Then shall ye begin to say: We have eaten, and drunk in thy 27 presence, and thou hast taught in our streets. And he shall say: I tell you, I know you not whence ye are: depart from me 28 all ye workers of iniquity. There shall be weeping, and gnashing of teeth: when ye shall see Abraham, and Isaac, and Jacob, and all the prophets in the kingdom of God, and yourselves 29 thrust out a doors. And they shall come from the east, and from the west, and from the north, and from the south, and 30 shall rest* in the kingdom of God. And behold, there are last, which shall be first: And there are first which shall be last.
 31 The same day there came certain of the pharisees, and said unto him: Get thee out of the way, and depart hence: for Herod 32 will kill thee. And he said unto them: Go ye and tell that fox, behold I cast out devils, and heal the people to day and tomor-33 row, and the third day I make an end. Nevertheless, I must walk today and tomorrow, and the day following: For it cannot be, that a prophet perish any other where, save at Jerusalem.
 34 O Jerusalem, Jerusalem, which killest prophets, and stonest them that are sent to thee: how often would I have gathered thy children together, as the hen* her nest under her wings, 35 but thou wouldest* not. Behold your habitation shall be left unto you desolate. For I tell you, ye shall not see me until the time come that ye shall say, blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord.

XIV And it chanced that he went into the house of one of the chief pharisees to eat bread, on a Sabbath day: and they watched 2 him. And behold there was a man before him, which had the 3 dropsy. And Jesus answered and spake unto the lawyers and 4 pharisees, saying: is it lawful to heal on the Sabbath day? And v.22 Other: all manner of. v.22 Other: journeying. v.25 Other: to. v.25 Other: shall. v.25 Other: you. v.29 Other: sit down. v.34 Other: gathereth. v.34 Other: ye would.

they held their peace.* He took the man* and healed him, and let him go: And answered them saying: which of you shall 5 have an ass, or an ox, fallen into a pit, and will not straightway pull him out on the Sabbath day? And they could not answer 6 him again to that. He put forth a similitude to the guests, 7 when he marked how they pressed to the highest rooms, and said unto them: When thou art bidden to a wedding of any 8 man, sit not down in the highest room, lest a more honorable man than thou be bidden of him, and he that bade both him 9 and thee, come and say to thee: give this man room. And thou then begin with shame to take the lowest room. But rather 10 when thou art bidden, go and sit in the lowest room, that when he that bade thee cometh, he may say unto thee: friend sit up higher. Then shalt thou have praise* in the presence of them that sit at meat with thee. For whosoever exalteth 11 himself, shall be brought low. And he that humbleth himself, shall be exalted. Then said he also to him that had desired to 12 him to dinner: When thou makest a dinner, or a supper: call not thy friends, nor thy brethren, neither thy kinsmen, nor yet rich neighbours: lest they bid thee again, and make thee recompense.* But when thou makest a feast, call the poor, the 13 maimed, the lame, and the blind, and thou shalt be happy: 14 For they cannot recompense thee. But thou shalt be recompensed at the resurrection of the just men. When one of them 15 that sat at meat also heard that, he said unto him: happy is he that eateth bread in the kingdom of God. Then said he to 16 him: A certain man ordained a great supper, and bade many, and sent his servant at supper time, to say to them that were 17 bidden, come: for all things are now ready. And they all at 18 once began to make excuse. The first said unto him: I have bought a farm, and I must needs go and see it, I pray thee have me excused. And another said: I have bought five yoke 19 of oxen, and I must go to prove them, I pray thee have me excused. The third said: I have married a wife, and therefore 20 I cannot come. And the servant went again, and brought his Master word thereof. Then was the good man of the house displeased, and said to his servant: Go out quickly into the streets and quarters of the city, and bring in hither the poor, and the maimed, and the halt, and the blind. And the servant said: 22

14. v.4 Other: And. v.4 Other: him. v.10 Other: worship. v.12 Other: and a recompense be made thee.

Lord it is done as thou commandedst, and yet there is room.
 23 And the Lord said to the servant: Go out into the highways and hedges, and compel them to come in, that my house may 24 be filled. For I say unto you, that none of those men which 25 were bidden, shall taste of my supper. There went a great 26 company with him, and he turned and said unto them: If a man come to me, and hate not his father and mother, and wife, and children, and brethren, and sisters, moreover and his own 27 life, he cannot be my disciple. And whosoever bear not his 28 cross, and come after me cannot be my disciple. Which of you is he that is disposed to build a tower, and sitteth not down before and counteth the cost: Whether he have sufficient to 29 perform it? lest after he hath laid the foundation, and is not 30 able to perform it, all that behold it, begin to mock him saying: This man began to build, and was not able to make an 31 end. * What king goeth to make battle against another king, and sitteth not down first, and casteth in his mind, whether he be able with ten thousand to meet him that cometh against 32 him with twenty thousand, or else while the other is yet a 33 great way off, he will send ambassadors, and desire peace. So likewise, none of you that forsaketh not all that he hath, can 34 be my disciple. Salt is good, but if salt be corrupt, * what shall 35 be seasoned therewith? It is neither good for the land, nor yet for the dunghill, * men cast it out at the doors. He that hath ears to hear, let him hear.

XV Then resorted unto him all the publicans and sinners, for to 2 hear him. And the pharisees, and scribes grudged* saying: He 3 received to his company sinners, and eateth with them. Then 4 put he forth this similitude to them saying: What man of you having an hundred sheep, if he lose one of them doth not leave ninety and nine in the wilderness, and go after him* which is 5 lost, until he find him? And when he hath found him, he put-6 teth him on his shoulders with joy: And as soon as he cometh home he calleth together his lovers, and neighbours saying unto them: rejoice with me for I have found my sheep which 7 was lost. I say unto you, that likewise joy shall be in heaven over one sinner that repenteth, more than over ninety and nine 8 just persons, which need no repentance. Other* what woman v.31 Other: Or. v.34 Other: have lost her saltiness. v.35 Other: but. 15. v.2 Other: murmured. v.4 Other: that. v.8 Other: Either.

having ten groats, if she lose one, doth not light a candle, and sweep the house, and seek diligently, till she find it? And 9 when she hath found it she calleth her lovers, and her neighbours saying: Rejoice with me, for I have found the groat which I had lost. Likewise I say unto you, joy shall be* in the presence of the angels of God over one sinner that repenteth. And 10 he said: a certain man had two sons, and the younger of them said to his father: father give me my part of the goods that to me belongeth. And he divided unto them his substance. And 11 not long after, the younger son gathered all that he had together, and took his journey into a far country, and there he wasted his goods with riotous living. And when he had spent 12 all that he had, there rose a great dearth thorowout all that same land. And he began to lack. And he went, and clave to a 13 citizen of that same country, which sent him to his field, to keep his swine. And he would fain have filled his belly with the 14 cods, that the swine ate: and no man gave him. Then he came to himself and said: how many hired servants at my father's have bread enough, and I die for hunger. I will arise, and go to 15 my father, and will say unto him: father, I have sinned against heaven and before thee, now* am I not* worthy to be called thy 16 son, make me as one of thy hired servants. And he arose, and came* to his father.* When he was yet a great way off, his father 17 saw him, and had compassion, and ran unto him, and fell on his neck, and kissed him. And the son said unto him: father 18
 I have sinned against heaven, and in thy sight, neither am I* worthy henceforth to be called thy son. Then said the father* 19 to his servants: bring forth that best garment, and put it on him, and put a ring on his hand, and shoes on his feet. And 20 bring hither that fatted calf, and kill him, and let us eat and be merry: for this my son was dead, and is alive again. He was 21 lost, and is now found. And they began to make good chear.* The elder brother was in the field, and when he came and drew 22 nye to the house, he heard minstrelsy, and dancing, and called one of his servants, and asked what those things meant. * He 23 said unto him: thy brother is come, and thy father had killed the fatted calf, because he hath received him safe and sound. 24 25
 26 27

v.10 Other: is made. v.19 Other: and. v.19 Other: no more. v.20 Other: went.
 v.20 Other: And. v.21 Other: and am no more. v.22 Other: But his father said.
 v.24 Other: be merry. v.27 Other: And.

28 And he was angry, and would not go in. Then came his father 29 out, and entreated him, he answered and said to his father: Lo these many years have I done thee service, neither brake at any time thy commandment, and yet gavest thou me never 30 so much as a kid to make merry with my lovers: but as soon as this thy son was come, which hath devoured thy goods with 31 harlots, thou hast for his pleasure killed the fatted calf. And he said unto him: Son, thou wast ever with me, and all that 32 I have is thine: it was meet that we should make merry and be glad: for this thy brother was dead, and is alive again: and was lost, and is found.

XVI * He said also unto his disciples. There was a certain rich man, which had a steward, that was accused unto him that 2 he had wasted his goods. And he called him, and said unto him: How is it, that I hear this of thee? Give accounts* of thy 3 stewardship. For thou mayest be no longer my steward. The steward said within himself: what shall I do? for my master will take away from me the stewardship. I cannot dig, and to 4 beg, I am ashamed. I wot what to do, that when I am put out of my* stewardship, they may receive me into their houses.
 5 Then called he all his master's debtors, and said unto the first: 6 how much owest thou unto my master? And he said: an hundred tuns of oil, and he said to him: take thy bill, and sit down 7 quickly, and write fifty. Then said he to another: what owest thou? And he said: an hundred quarters of wheat. He said to 8 him: Take thy bill, and write fourscore. And the Lord commended the unjust steward, because he had done wisely. For the children of this world, are in their kind, wiser then the 9 children of light. And I say also unto you: make you friends of the wicked mammon, that when ye shall have need* they may 10 receive you into everlasting habitations. He that is faithful 11 in that which is least: the same is faithful in much.* So then if ye have not been faithful in the wicked mammon? who will 12 believe you in that which is true? and if ye have not been faithful in another man's business: who shall give you your 13 own? No servant can serve two masters, for either he shall hate the one and love the other, or else he shall lean to the one, and despise the other. Ye cannot serve God, and mammon.

16. v.1 Other: And. v.2 Other: acomptes. v.4 Other: the. v.9 Other: depart.
v.10 Other: And he that is unfaithful in the least: is unfaithful also in much.

All these things heard the pharisees also which were covetous. 14
 And they mocked him, and he said unto them: Ye are they, 15 which justify yourselves before men: but God knoweth your hearts. For that which men magnify,* is abominable in the sight of God. The law, and the prophets reigned until the time 16 of John: * Since that time, the kingdom of God is preached, and every man striveth to go in. Sooner shall heaven and earth 17 perish, than one tittle of the law shall perish. Whosoever for- 18 saketh his wife, and marrieth another, breaketh matrimony.
 And every man which marrieth her that is divorced from her husband committeth advoutry also. There was a certain rich 19 man, which was clothed in purple, and fine rayons,* and fared deliciously every day. And there was a certain beggar, named 20 Lazarus, which lay at his gate full of sores desiring to be re- 21 freshed with the crumbs which fell from the rich man's board.
 (and no man gave unto him) Nevertheless, the dogs came, and licked his sores. And it fortun'd that the beggar died, and was 22 carried by the angels into Abraham's bosom: The rich man also died, and was buried in hell. When he lift up his eyes, as he 23 was in torments, he saw Abraham* afar off, and Lazarus in his bosom; And* cried and said: father Abraham, have mercy on 24 me, and send Lazarus that he may dip the tip of his finger in water, and cool my tongue, for I am tormented in this flame. * 25 Abraham said unto him: Son remember, that thou in thy lifetime receivedst thy pleasure, and contrariwise Lazarus pain.
 Now therefore is he comforted, and thou art punished. Be- 26 yond all this between you and us there is a great space set, so that they which would go from hence to you, cannot: neither from thence come hither.* And* he said: I pray thee there- 27 fore father, send him to my father's house. For I have five 28 brethren: for to warn them, lest they also come into this place of torment. Abraham said unto him: they have Moses and the 29 prophets, let them hear them. And he said: nay father Abra- 30 ham, but if one from the dead came unto them* they would repent. He said unto him: If they hear not Moses and the 31 prophets, neither will they believe, though one rose from death

v.15 Other: is highly esteemed among men. v.16 Other: and. v.19 Other: byss.
 v.23 Other: And being in hell in torments, he lift up his eyes and saw Abraham. v.24 Other: he. v.25 Other: But. v.26 Other: neither may come from thence to us.
 v.27 Other: Then. v.30 Other: but if one came unto them from the dead.

again.

XVII Then said he to his* disciples, it cannot be avoided, but that occasions of evil* come. Nevertheless woe be to him thorow 2 whom they come. It were better for him that a millstone were 3 hanged about his neck, and that he were cast into the sea, 4 rather then* he should offend one of these little ones. Take heed to your selves, if thy brother trespass against thee, re-5 buke him: and if he repent, forgive him. And though he sin against thee seven times in one* day, and seven times in a day 6 turn again to thee saying: it repenteth me, forgive him. And the apostles said unto the Lord: increase our faith. * The Lord said: if ye had faith like a grain of mustard seed, and should say unto this sycamine tree, pluck thyself up by the roots, and 7 plant thyself in the sea: he should obey you. Which* of you having* a servant a plowing, or feeding cattle,* would say unto him when he were come from the field: Go quickly and sit 8 down to meat. And rather sayeth not* to him, dress wherewith I may sup, and appoint* thyself and serve me, till I have eaten and drunk: and afterward, eat thou, and drink thou?
 9 Doeth he thank that servant because he did that which was 10 commanded unto him? I trow not. So likewise ye, when ye have done all those things which are commanded unto you: say, we are unprofitable servants. We have done that which 11 was our duty to do. And it chanced as he went to Jerusalem, 12 that he passed thorow Samaria and Galilee. And as he entered into a certain town, there met him ten men, that were 13 lepers, which stood afar off, and put forth their voices, and 14 said: Jesu master, have mercy on us. When he saw them, he said unto them: Go and shew yourselves to the priests. And it 15 chanced as they went, they were cleansed. And one of them, when he saw that he was cleansed, turned back again, and 16 with a loud voice praised God, and fell down on his face at his feet, and gave him thanks. And the same was a Samari-17 tan. * Jesus answered and said: Are there not ten cleansed?
 18 But where are those nine? There are not found that returned 19 again, to give God praise, save only this stranger. And he said

17. v.1 Other: the. v.1 Other: offenses will. v.2 Other: that. v.4 Other: a. v.6 Other: And. v.7 Other: Who is it. v.7 Other: if he had. v.7 Other: that.
 v.8 Other: would not rather say. v.8 Other: gird up. v.17 Other: And.

unto him: Arise, and go thy way, thy faith hath saved thee.*
 When he was demanded of the pharisees, when the kingdom of God should come: he answered them and said: The kingdom of 20 God cometh not with waiting for. Neither shall men say: Lo 21 here, lo there. For behold, the kingdom of God is within you.
 And he said unto the disciples: The days will come, when ye 22 shall desire to see one day of the son of man, and ye shall not see it. And they shall say to you: See here; See there. Go 23 not after them, nor follow them, for as the lightning that ap- 24 peareth out of the one part of the heaven, and shineth unto the other part of heaven. So shall the son of man be in his days.
 But first must he suffer many things, and be reproved* of this 25 nation. As it happened in the time of Noe So shall it be in 26 the time of the son of man. They ate, they drank, they mar- 27 ried wives and were married even unto the same day that Noe went into the ark, and the flood came, and destroyed them all.
 Likewise also, as it chanced in the days of Lot. They ate, they 28 drank, they bought, they sold, they planted, they built. And 29 even the same day that Lot went out of Zodom, it rained fire and brimstone from heaven, and destroyed them all. After 30 these ensamples, shall the day be,* when the son of man shall appear. At that day he that is on the house top, and his stuff 31 in the house: let him not come down to take it out. And likewise let not him that is in the fields, turn back again to that he left behind. Remember Lot's wife. Whosoever will go about 32, 33 to save his life, shall lose it: And whosoever shall lose his life, shall quicken* it. I tell you: In that night, there shall be two 34 in one bed, the* one shall be received, and the other shall be forsaken. Two shall be also a grinding together: the one shall 35 be received, and the other forsaken. (Two in the field, the one 36 shall be received, and the other forsaken.) And they answered, 37 and said to him: where Lord? And he said unto them: where-soever The body shall be, thither will the eagles resort.

He put forth a similitude unto them, signifying that men XVIII ought always to pray, and not to be weary, saying: There 2 was a Judge in a certain city, which feared not God neither regarded man. And there was a certain widow in the same 3 city, which came unto him saying: Avenge me of mine adver-

v.19 Other: made thee whole. v.25 Other: refused. v.30 Other: it be in the day.
 v.33 Other: save. v.34 Other: that.

4 sary. And a great while he would not.* * Afterward he said 5 unto himself: Though I fear not God, nor care for man, yet because this widow troubleth me, I will avenge her, lest at the 6 last she come, and rail* on me. And the Lord said: hear what 7 the unrighteous judge sayeth. And shall not God avenge his elect, which cry night and day unto him? Yea though he de-8 fer them: I tell you, he will avenge them, and that quickly.
 Nevertheless, when the son of man cometh, suppose ye, that 9 he shall find faith on* earth. And he put forth this similitude, unto certain which trusted in themselves, that they were per-10 fect, and despised other. Two men went up into the temple 11 to pray: the one a pharisee, and the other a publican. The pharisee stood and prayed thus with himself. God I thank thee that I am not as other* are, extortioners, unjust, advoutrers, 12 and even as the publican is.* I fast twice in the week.* I give 13 tithe of all that I possess. And the publican stood afar off, and would not lift up his eyes to heaven, but smote his breast, 14 saying: God be mercyfull to me a sinner. I tell you: this man departed home to his house justified more than the other. For every man that exalteth himself, shall be brought low: And he 15 that humbleth himself, shall be exalted. They brought unto him also babes, that he should touch them. When his* dis-16 ciples saw that, they rebuked them. But Jesus called them unto him, and said: Suffer children to come unto me, and forbid them not. For of unto such, belongeth the kingdom of God.
 17 Verily I say unto you: whosoever receiveth not the kingdom 18 of God, as a child: he shall not enter therein. And a certain ruler asked him: saying: Good Master: what ought I to do, to 19 obtain eternal life? Jesus said unto him: Why callest thou 20 me good? No man* is good, save God only. Thou knowest the commandments: Thou shalt not commit advoutry, thou shalt not kill, thou shalt not steal, thou shalt not bear false witness; 21 Honour thy father, and thy mother. And he said: All* these 22 have I kept from my youth. When Jesus heard that, he said unto him: Yet lackest thou one thing. Sell all that thou hast, and distribute it unto the poor, and thou shalt have treasure 23 in heaven, and come, and follow me. When he heard that, he

18. v.4 Other: And he would not for a while. v.4 Other: But. v.5 Other: hag.
 v.8 Other: the. v.11 Other: men. v.11 Other: or as this publican. v.12 Other: Sabbath. v.15 Other: the. v.19 Other: None. v.21 Other: of.

was heavy, for he was* rich. When Jesus saw him mourn, he 24 said: with what difficulty shall they that have riches, enter into the kingdom of God: Easier it is for a camel to pass* thorow 25 a needles eye, then for a rich man to enter into the kingdom of God. Then said they that heard that: And who shall then 26 be saved? * He said: Things which are impossible with men: 27 are possible with God. Then Peter said: Lo we have forsaken* 28 all, and have followed thee. * He said unto them: Verily I say 29 unto you, there is no man that forsaketh* house, other father and mother, other brethren, or wife, or children, for the kingdom of God's sake, which same shall not receive much more in 30 this world: and in the world to come, life everlasting. He took 31 unto him twelve, and said unto them: Lo* we go up to Jerusalem, and all shall be fulfilled that are written by the prophets 32 of the son of man. He shall be delivered unto the gentiles, and shall be mocked, and shall be despitefully entreated, and shall be spitted on: and when they have scourged him, they will 33 put him to death, and the third day, shall he arise again. * 34 They understood none of these things. And this saying was hid from them. And they perceived not the things which were spoken. * It came to pass, as they were* come nye unto Jericho,* 35 a certain blind man sat by the way side begging. And when 36 he heard the people pass by, he asked what it meant. * They 37 said unto him that Jesus of Nazareth, went* by. And he cried, 38 saying: Jesus the son of David, have* mercy on me. And they 39 which went before rebuked him, because* he should hold his peace. And* he much the more* cried; The* son of David, have mercy on me. * Jesus stood still, and commanded him, to be 40 brought unto him. And when he was come near, he asked him saying: What wilt thou, that I do unto thee? And he said: Lord, 41 that I may receive my sight. Jesus said unto him: Receive thy 42 sight: Thy faith hath saved thee. And immediately he saw, 43 and followed him, praising God. And all the people, when they saw it, gave laud to God.

And he entered in, and went thorow Jericho.* And behold, XIX, 2 v.23 Other: very. v.25 Other: go. v.27 Other: And. v.28 Other: left. v.29 Other: And.

 v.29 Other: leaveth. v.31 Other: Behold. v.34 Other: But. v.35 Other: And.
 v.35 Other: he was. v.35 Other: Hericho. v.37 Other: And. v.37 Other: passed. v.38 Other: thou. v.39 Other: that. v.39 Other: But. v.39 Other: so.
 v.39 Other: Thou. v.40 Other: And. 19. v.1 Other: Hericho.

there was a man named Zacheus, which was a ruler among the 3 publicans, and* rich also. And he made means to see Jesus, what he should be: and he could not for the press, because he 4 was of a low stature. And* he ran before, and ascended* up, into a sycomore tree,* to see him. For he would* come that 5 same way. And when Jesus came to the place, he looked up, and saw him, and said unto him: Zache, at* down at once, for 6 today I must abide at thy house. And hastily he came down, 7 and received him joyfully. And when they saw that, they all grudged saying: He is gone, into tarry with a man that is a sin-8 ner. * Zache stood forth and said unto the Lord: Behold Lord, the half of my goods I give to the poor, and if I have done any 9 man wrong, I will restore him four fold. * Jesus said to him:
 This day is health come unto this house, forasmuch as it* also 10 is become the child of Abraham. For the son of man is come 11 to seek, and to save that which was lost. As they heard these things, he added thereto a similitude, because he was nye to Jerusalem;* And because also, they thought that the kingdom 12 of God should shortly appear. He said therefore: A certain noble man, went into a far country, to receive* a kingdom, and 13 then to come again. * He called his ten servants, and delivered them ten pounds saying unto them: Buy and sell till I 14 come: But his citizens hated him, and sent messengers after 15 him, saying: We will not have this man to reign over us. And it came to pass, when he was come again and had received his kingdom, he commanded his* servants, to be called to him (to whom he gave his money) to wit what every man had done.
 16 Then came the first saying: Lord, thy pound hath increased ten 17 pounds. And he said unto him: Well good servant, because thou wast faithful in a very little thing; Take thou authority 18 over ten cities. And the other came saying: Lord thy pound, 19 hath increased five pounds. And to the same he said: And be 20 thou also ruler over five cities. And the third came, and said:
 Lord, behold here thy pound, which I have kept in a napkin, 21 for I feared thee, because thou art a strait man: thou takest up that thou laidst not down; And reapest that thou didst not sow.
 22 And he said unto him: Of thine own mouth judge I thee thou v.2 Other: was. v.4 Other: Wherefore. v.4 Other: climbed. v.4 Other: wild fig tree.

 v.4 Other: should. v.5 Other: come. v.8 Other: And. v.9 Other: And. v.9 Other:
 he. v.11 Other: Herusalem. v.12 Other: him. v.13 Other: And. v.15 Other:
 these.

evil servant. Knewest thou that I am a strait man, taking up that I laid not down, and reaping that I did not sow? Where- 23 fore then gavest not thou my money into the bank? And then * at my coming should I* have required mine own, with vantage.
 And he said to them that stood by: Take from him that pound, 24 and give it him that hath ten pounds. And they said unto him: 25 Lord he hath ten pounds. I say unto you, that unto all them 26 that have, it shall be given: (and he shall have abundance) and from him that hath not, even that he hath shall be taken away.*
 Moreover those mine enemies, which would not, that* should 27 reign over them, bring hither, and slay them before me. And 28 when he had thus spoken, he proceeded forth before them, and went* up to Jerusalem. And it fortun'd, when he was come 29 nye to Bethphage and Bethany, besides mount Olivete, he sent two of his disciples saying: Go ye in to the town which is over 30 against you. In the which as soon as ye are come, ye shall find a colt tied, whereon, yet never man sat. Loose him and bring him hither. And if any man ask you, why that ye loose him: 31 thus say unto him; The Lord hath need of him. They that 32 were sent went their way, and found, even as he had said unto them. And as they were a loosing the colt, the owners said 33 unto them: why loose ye the colt? And they said: for the Lord 34 hath need of him. And they brought him to Jesus. And they 35 cast their raiment on the colt, and set Jesus thereon. And as 36 he went they spread their clothes in the way. * When he was * 37 come where he should go down from the mount Olivete, the whole multitude of the disciples began to rejoyce, and to laud God with a loud voice, for all the miracles that they had seen, saying: Blessed be the King that cometh in the name of the 38 Lord: Peace in heaven, and glory in the highest. And some 39 of the pharisees of the company, said unto him: Master rebuke thy disciples. He answered, and said unto them: I tell you, 40 if these* hold their peace, the stones will* cry. And when he 41 was come near, he beheld the city, and wept on it saying: If 42 thou hadst known those things which belong unto thy peace, even at this day? * But now are they hid from thine eyes. For 43 the days shall come upon thee; And* thine enemies shall com-

v.23 Other: that. v.23 Other: might. v.26 Other: from him. v.27 Other: I. v.28 Other: ascending. v.37 Other: And. v.37 Other: now. v.40 Other: should.
 v.40 Other: would. v.42 Other: thy time?. v.43 Other: that thy.

pass thee about with a bank. And shall besiege thee round 44 about,* and keep thee in on every side; And make thee even with the ground, with thy children which are in thee. And they shall not leave in thee one stone upon another, because 45 thou knewest not the time of thy visitation. And he went into the temple, and began to cast out them that sold therein, and 46 them that bought saying unto them; It is written, my house is the house of prayer: But ye have made it a den of thieves.
 47 And he taught daily in the temple. The high priests and the scribes and the chief of the people, went about to destroy him: 48 But could not find what to do. For all the people stuck by him.
 And gave him audience.

XX And it fortun'd in one of those days; As he taught the people in the temple; And preached the gospel. The high priests and 2 the scribes came unto him with the seniors;* And spake unto him, saying: Tell us by what authority thou doest these things?
 3 Other* who is he that gave thee this authority? He answered and said unto them: I also will ask you a question, and answer 4, 5 me: was the baptism of John,* from heaven, or of men? *
 They thought within themselves saying: If we shall say from 6 heaven: he will say: Why then believed ye him not? But and if we shall say of men, all the people will stone us. For they 7 surely believe* that John was* a prophet. And they answered 8 that they could not tell whence it was. And Jesus said unto them: Neither tell I you by what authority I do these things.
 9 Then began he to put forth to the people, this similitude: A certain man planted a vineyard, and let it forth to farmers, and went himself into a strange country for a great season.
 10 And when the time came,* he sent a servant to his tenants that they should give him of the fruits, of the vineyard.* The 11 tenants* beat him: and sent him away empty. And* he ceased not thereby but sent yet another servant. And they* beat him, 12 and foul entreated him also, and sent him away empty. Moreover, he sent the third Also;* And him they wounded, and cast 13 him out. Then said the Lord of the vineyard: what shall I do? I will send my dear son, him peradventure they will reverv.43 Other: cast a bank about thee, and compass thee round. 20. v.1 Other: elders. v.2 Other: Either. v.4 Other: The baptism of John: was it. v.5 Other: And. v.6 Other: be persuaded. v.6 Other: is. v.10 Other: was come. v.10 Other: And. v.10 Other: did. v.11 Other: again. v.11 Other: did. v.12 Other: too.

ence, when they see him. * When the farmers saw him, they 14 thought in themselves, saying: this is the heir, come let us kill him, that the inheritance may be ours. And they cast him out 15 of the vineyard, and killed him. Now what shall the Lord of the vineyard do unto them? He will come and destroy those farm- 16 ers, and will let out his vineyard to other. When they heard that, they said: God forbid. * He beheld them and said: what 17 meaneth this then that is written: The stone that the builders refused,* is made the head cornerstone? whosoever stumble 18 at that stone, shall be bruised:* but on whosoever it fall,* it will also break him.* And the high priests and the scribes, the 19 same hour went about to lay hands on him, but they feared the people. For they perceived that he had spoken this similitude against them. And they watched him, and sent forth 20 spies, which should feign themselves perfect, to take him in his words, and to deliver him unto the power, and authority of the president.* And they asked him saying: Master, we know 21 that thou sayest, and teachest right, neither considerest thou any man's degree, but teachest the way of God truly. Is it 22 lawful for us to give Cesar tribute, or no? He perceived their 23 craftiness, and said unto them: Why tempt ye me? Shew me 24 a penny. Whose image and superscription hath it? They answered and said: Cesar's. And he said unto them: Give then 25 unto Cesar, that which belongeth unto Cesar: And to God, that which pertaineth to God. And they could not reprove his say- 26 ing before the people. And* they marveled at his answer, and held their peace. Then came to him certain of the sadducees 27 which deny that there is any resurrection. And they asked him saying: Master Moses wrote unto us, if any man's brother 28 die having a wife; And the same die without issue: that then his brother should take his wife, and raise up seed unto his brother. There were seven brethren, and the first took a wife, 29 and died without children. And the second took the wife, and 30 he died childless. And the third took her, and in like wise the 31 residue of the seven; And left no children behind them, and died. Last of all the woman died also. Now at the resur- 32, 33 rection whose wife of them shall she be? for seven had her to wife. Jesus answered and said unto them: The children of this 34 v.14 Other: But. v.17 Other: And. v.17 Other: the same. v.18 Other: broken.

 v.18 Other: upon. v.18 Other: grind him to powder. v.20 Other: debite. v.26 Other:
 But.

35 world marry wives, and are married, but they which shall be* worthy of* that world, and the resurrection from death, nei-36 ther marry wives, neither are married, nor yet can die any more. For they are equal unto the angels: and are the sons of God, inasmuch as they are the children of the resurrection.
 37 And that the dead shall rise again, even Moses signified besides the bush, when he said: the Lord God of Abraham, and 38 the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob. For he is not the God 39 of the dead, but of them which live. For all live in him. *
 Certain of the pharisees answered and said: Master, thou hast 40 well said. And after that durst they not ask him any ques-41 tion at all. Then said he unto them: how say they that Christ 42 is David's son? And David him self saith in the book of the Psalms: The Lord said unto my Lord: Sit on my right hand, 43, 44 till I make thine enemies thy foot stool. * David then calleth 45 him Lord: How is he also* his son? Then in the audience of all 46 the people, he said unto his disciples, beware of the scribes, which desire to go in long clothing: and love greetings in the markets, and the highest seats in the synagogues, and chief 47 rooms at feasts, which devour widows' houses, and pray long under a colour:* The same shall receive greater damnation.

XXI As he beheld, he saw the rich men, how they cast in their of-2 ferings into the treasury. * He saw also a certain poor widow, 3 which cast in thither two mites. And he said: of a truth I say unto you, this poor widow hath put in more than they all.
 4 For they all have of their superfluity added unto the offering of God: But she, of her penury, hath cast in all the substance that 5 she had. As some spake of the temple, how it was garnished 6 with goodly stones, and jewels, he said: The days will come, when of these things which ye see, shall not be left stone upon 7 stone that shall not be thrown down. And they asked him, saying: Master when shall these things be. And what signs 8 will there be, when such things shall come to pass. And he said: take heed, that ye be not deceived. For many will come in my name, saying of themselves, I am he. And the time draweth 9 near. Follow ye not them therefore. But when ye hear of war, and of dissension: be not afraid, for these things must first v.35 Other: made. v.35 Other: to enjoy. v.39 Other: Then. v.44 Other: Seeing.

 v.44 Other: then. v.47 Other: that under a colour of long praying:. 21. v.2 Other:
And.

come: but the end followeth not by and by. Then said he unto 10 them: Nation shall rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom, and great earthquakes shall be in all quarters, and 11 hunger, and pestilence, and fearful things. And great signs shall there be from heaven. But before all these, they shall 12 lay their hands on you, and persecute you, delivering you up, to the synagogues, and into prison, and bring you before kings:
And rulers for my name's sake. And this shall chance you for 13 a testimonial. Let it stick therefore fast in your hearts, not 14 once to study before, what ye shall answer for yourselves: For 15 I will give you a mouth and wisdom, where against, all your adversaries shall not be able to speak nor resist. Yea and 16 ye shall be betrayed of your fathers and mothers, and of your brethren, and kinsmen, and lovers. And some of you shall they put to death. And hated shall ye be of all men for my name's 17 sake. Yet there shall not one hair of your heads perish. With 18, 19 your patience, possess your souls. And when ye see Jerusalem 20 besieged with an host, then understand, that the desolation of the same is nye. Then let them which are in Jewry fly to the 21 mountains. And let them which are in the midst of it, depart out. And let not them that are in other countries, enter there in. For these be the days of vengeance, to fulfil all that are 22 written. But woe be to them that be with child, and to them 23 that give suck in those days, for there shall be great trouble in the land: and wrath over all this people. And they shall 24 fall on the edge of the sword. And they shall be led captive into all nations. And Jerusalem shall be trodden underfoot of the gentiles, until the time of the gentiles be fulfilled. And 25 there shall be signs, in the sun, and in the moon, and in the stars: and in the earth the people shall be in such perplexity, that they shall not tell which way to turn themselves. The sea and the waves* shall roar, and men's hearts shall fail them 26 for fear, and for looking after those things which shall come on the earth. For the powers of heaven shall move. And then 27 shall they see the son of man come in a cloud with power and great glory. When these things begin to come to pass: then 28 look up, and lift up your heads, for your redemption draweth nye. And he shewed them a similitude: behold the fig tree, 29 and all other trees, when they shoot forth their buds, ye see 30 v.25 Other: waters.

and know of your own selves that summer is then nye at hand.
 31 So likewise ye (when ye see these things come to pass) under-32 stand, that the kingdom of God is nye. Verily I say unto you: 33 this generation shall not pass, till all be fulfilled. Heaven and 34 earth shall pass: but my words shall not pass. Take heed to yourselves, lest your hearts be overcome, with surfeiting and drunkenness, and cares of this world: and that, that day come 35 on you unawares. For as a snare shall it come on all them 36 that sit on the face of the earth. Watch therefore continually and pray, that ye may scape* all this that shall come. And that 37 ye may stand before the son of man. In the day time taught he in the temple, and at night, he went out, and had abiding in 38 the mount Olivete. And all the people came in the morning to him in the temple, for to hear him.

XXII, 2 The feast of sweet bread drew nye which is called ester, and the high priests, and scribes sought how to kill Jesus,* but they 3 feared the people. Then entered Satan into Judas, whose surname was Iscariot (which was of the number of the twelve) 4 and he went his way, and communed with the high priests and 5 officers, how he would* betray him to them. And they were 6 glad: and promised to give him money. And he consented, and sought opportunity to betray him unto them, when the 7 people were away. Then came the day of sweet bread, when 8 of necessity the ester lamb must be offered. And he sent Peter, and John saying: Go and prepare us the ester lamb, that 9 we may eat. They said to him. Where wilt thou, that we pre-10 pare? And he said unto them. Behold as* ye be entered into the city, there shall a man meet you bearing a pitcher of water, 11 him follow into the same house that he entereth in, and ye shall say unto the good man of the house. The master sayeth:*
 Where is the guest chamber, where I shall eat mine ester lamb 12 with my disciples? And he shall shew you a great parlour 13 paved. There make ready. * They went and found, as he had 14 said unto them: and made ready the ester lamb. And when the hour came,* he sat down and the twelve apostles with him.
 15 And he said unto them: I have inwardly desired to eat this 16 ester lamb with you before that I suffer. For I say unto you:

v.36 Other: obtain grace to fly. 22. v.2 Other: him. v.4 Other: might. v.10 Other: when. v.11 Other: unto thee. v.13 Other: And. v.14 Other: was come.

henceforth, I will not eat of it any more, until it be fulfilled in the kingdom of God. And he took the cup, and gave thanks, 17 and said: Receive* this, and divide it among you. For I say 18 unto you: I will not drink of the fruit of the vine, until the kingdom of God be come. And he took bread, gave thanks, 19 and brake it, and gave it unto them, saying: This is my body which is given for you. This do in the remembrance of me. Likewise also, when they had supped, he took the cup saying: 20
 This is the cup,* the new testament, in my blood, which shall for you be shed. Yet behold, the hand of him that betrayeth 21 me, is with me on the table. And the son of man goeth as it is appointed: But woe be to that man by whom he is betrayed. 22
 And they began to enquire among themselves, which of them it should be, that should do that. And there was a strife among 23 them, which of them should seem* greatest. And he said unto them: The kings of the gentiles reign over them; And they that 24 bear rule over them, are called gracious lords. But ye shall not be so. But he that is greatest among you, shall be as the 25 youngest: And he that is chief, shall be as the minister. For 26 whether is greater, he that sitteth at meat: or he that serveth? Is not he that sitteth at meat? And I am among you, as he that 27 ministereth. Ye are they which have bidden with me in my temptations. And I appoint unto you a kingdom, as my father 28 hath appointed to me: that ye may eat, and drink at my table 29 in my kingdom and sit on seats, and judge the twelve tribes of Israel. And the Lord said: Simon, Simon, behold Satan hath 30 desired you, to sift you, as it were wheat: But I have prayed 31 for thee that thy faith fail not. And when thou art converted, strengthen thy brethren. And he said unto him. Lord, I am 32 ready to go with thee into prison, and to death. And he said: 33
 I tell thee Peter, the cock shall not crow this day, till thou have thrice denied that thou knewest me. And he said unto them: 34 when I sent you without wallet, and scrip, and shoes, lacked ye anything? And they said, nothing.* And he said to them: 35
 But now he that hath a wallet let him take it,* and likewise his scrip. And he that hath no sword, let him sell his coat and buy one. * I say unto you that yet, that which is writ- 36 ten must be performed in me (Even with the wicked was he 37 v.17 Other: Take. v.20 Other: This cup is. v.24 Other: be taken for the. v.35 Other: no. v.36 Other: up. v.37 Other: For.

numbered) for those things which are written of me have an 38 end. And they said: Lord, behold here are two swords. And 39 he said unto them: it is enough. And he came out, and went as he was wont to mount Olivete. And the disciples followed 40 him. And when he came to the place, he said to them: Pray 41 lest ye fall into temptation. And he gat himself from them, 42 about a stone's cast, and kneeled down, and prayed, saying:
 Father if thou wilt, withdraw this cup from me. Nevertheless, 43 not my will; But thine be fulfilled. And there appeared an 44 angel unto him from heaven, comforting him. And he was in agony, and prayed somewhat longer. And his sweat was like 45 drops of blood, trickling down to the ground. And he rose up from prayer, and came to his disciples, and found them sleep-46 ing for sorrow, and said unto them: Why sleep ye? Rise, and 47 pray lest ye fall into temptation. While he yet spake: behold, there came a company, and he that was called Judas, one of the twelve, went before them, and pressed nye unto Jesus to kiss 48 him. * Jesus said unto him: Judas betrayest thou the son of 49 man with a kiss? When they which were about him saw what would follow, they said unto him. Lord, shall we smite with a 50 sword. And one of them smote a servant of him which was 51 the chief* priest of all, and smote off his right ear. * Jesus answered and said: Suffer ye thus far forth. And he touched his 52 ear, and healed him. * Jesus said unto the high priests and rulers of the temple and the seniors* which were come to him.
 53 Be ye come out, as unto a thief with swords and staves? When I was daily with you in the temple, ye stretched not forth hands against me. But this is even your very hour, and the power of 54 darkness. Then took they him, and led him, and brought him 55 to the high priest's house. And Peter followed afar off. When they had kindled a fire in the midst of the palace, and were 56 set down together, Peter also sat down among them. And one of the wenches, as he sat, beheld him by the light* and set good eyesight on him, and said: This same was also with him.
 57, 58 Then he denied him saying: Woman I know him not. And after a little while, another saw him and said: Thou art also of 59 them. And Peter said: Man I am not. And about the space of an hour after another affirmed saying: Verily even this fellow v.48 Other: And. v.50 Other: hiest. v.51 Other: And. v.52 Other: Then.

 v.52 Other: elders. v.56 Other: fire.

was with him, for he is of Galilee; * Peter said: Man I wot not 60 what thou sayest. And immediately while he yet spake, the cock crew. And the Lord turned back and looked upon Peter. 61 And Peter remembered the words of the Lord, how he said unto him, before the cock crow thou shalt deny me thrice. And Pe- 62 ter went out, and wept bitterly. And the men that stood about 63 Jesus, mocked him, and smote him, and blindfolded him, and 64 smote his face. And asked him saying: Areed who it is that smote thee? And many other things despitefully said they 65 against him. And as soon as it was day, the seniors* of the 66 people, and the high priests and scribes, came together, and led him into their council saying: Art thou very Christ? tell 67 us. And he said unto them: if I shall tell you, ye will not believe. And if also I ask you, ye will not answer me. Neither* 68 let me go. Hereafter shall the son of man sit on the right hand 69 of the power of God. Then said they all: Art thou then the son 70 of God? He said:* ye say that I am. Then said they: What 71 need we any further witness? We ourselves have heard of his own mouth.

And the whole multitude of them arose, and led him unto XXIII Pilate. And they began to accuse him saying: We have found 2 his fellow, perverting the people, and forbidding to pay tribute to Cesar: And sayeth* that he is Christ a King. And Pilate 3 opposed him saying: Art thou the King of the Jews? He answered him, and said: thou sayest.* Then said Pilate to the 4 high priests, and to the people: I find no fault in this man.
 And they were the more fierce, saying: He moveth the peo- 5 ple teaching thorow out Jewry, and began at Galilee, even to this place. When Pilate heard mention of Galilee, he asked 6 whether the man were of Galilee. And as soon as he knew that 7 he was of Herod's jurisdiction, he sent him to Herod, which was at that time in Jerusalem also.* * When Herod saw Je- 8 sus, he was marvelously* glad. For he was desirous to see him of a long season, because he had heard many things of him, and trusted to have seen some miracle done by him. Then 9 questioned he with him of many things: But he answered him not one word. The high priests and scribes, stood forth and 10

v.60 Other: And. v.66 Other: elders. v.68 Other: or. v.70 Other: to them.
 23. v.2 Other: saying. v.3 Other: it. v.7 Other: which was also at Jerusalem in those days. v.8 Other: And. v.8 Other: exceedingly.

11 accused him straitly. And Herod, with his men of war, despised him, and mocked him; And arrayed him in white, and 12 sent him again to Pilate. And the same day Pilate, and Herod were made friends together. For before, they were at variance.
 13 * Pilate called together the high priests, and* rulers, and the 14 people, and said unto them: Ye have brought this man unto me, as one that perverted the people. And lo* I* examined him 15 before you, and have found no fault in this man, of those things 16 whereof ye accuse him. No nor yet Herod. For I sent you to 17 him: and lo no thing worthy of death is done to him. I will 18 therefore chasten him and let him loose. For of necessity, he 19 must have let one loose unto them at that feast. And all the 20 people cried at once, saying: away with him, and deliver to us 21 Barabbas. (which for insurrection made in the city, and murder, was cast into prison) Pilate spake again to them willing 22 to let Jesus loose. And they cried, saying: Crucify him; Crucify him. He said unto them the third time: What harm* hath 23 he done? I find no cause of death in him. I will therefore chasten him, and let him go loose. And they cried with loud voice, 24 and required that he might be crucified. And the crying* of 25 the high priests prevailed. And Pilate gave sentence that it 26 should be as they required, and let loose unto them, him that for insurrection, and murder was cast into prison, whom they 27 desired: and delivered Jesus to do with him what they would. And as they led him away, they caught one Simon of Syrene, 28 coming out of the field: And on him laid they the cross to bear it after Jesus. * There followed him a great company of people, 29 and of women, which women bewailed, and lamented him. * Jesus turned back unto them, and said: Daughters of Jerusalem, 30 weep not for me: but weep for yourselves, and for your children. For mark,* the days will come, when men shall say: 31 happy are the barren and the wombs that never bare, and the paps which never gave suck. Then shall they begin to say to 32 the mountains: fall on us; and to the hills cover us. For if they do this to a green tree: what shall be done, to the dry? * There 33 were two evil doers led with him to be slain. And when they were come to the place, which is called Calvary, there they cruv.13 Other: And. v.13 Other: the. v.14 Other: behold. v.14 Other: have.

 v.22 Other: evil. v.23 Other: voice of them and. v.27 Other: And. v.28 Other:
But. v.29 Other: behold. v.32 Other: And.

cified him, and the evil doers, one on right hand, and the other on the left hand. Then said Jesus: Father forgive them, for 34 they wot not what they do. And they parted his raiment, and cast lots. And the people stood and beheld. And the rulers 35 mocked him with them saying: He help other men, let him help himself if he be Christ the chosen of God. The soldiers 36 also mocked him, and came and gave him vinegar and said: if 37 thou be that King of the Jews, save thyself. * His superscrip- 38 tion was written over him, in greek, latin, and hebrew letters:
 This is the King of the Jews. The * one of the malefactors* 39 which hanged, railed on him, saying: If thou be Christ save thyself and us. The other answered and rebuked him saying: 40 Neither fearest thou God because thou art in the same damna-tion? We are righteously punished, for we receive according 41 to our deeds: But this man hath done no thing amiss. And 42 he said unto Jesus: Lord remember me when thou comest into thy kingdom. And Jesus said unto him: Verily I say unto thee, 43 today shalt thou be with me in paradise. And it was about the 44 sixth hour. And there came a darkness over all the land, until the ninth hour, and the sun was darkened. And the veil 45 of the temple* rent even thorow the midst. And Jesus cried 46 with a great voice and said: Father, into thy hands I commend my spirit. And when he thus had said, he gave up the ghost.
 When the Centurion saw, what had happened, he glorified God 47 saying: Of a surety this man was perfect. And all the people 48 that came together to that sight, beholding the things which were done: smote their breasts, and returned home. And 49 all his acquaintance stood afar off, and the women, which followed him from Galilee, beholding these things.* And behold 50 there was a man named Joseph a senator,* which* was a good man and a just; He* did not consent to their* counsel and 51 deed,* which was of Aramathia, a city of the jews. Which same also, waited for the kingdom of God: he went unto Pilate, and 52 begged the body of Jesus. And took it down, and wrapped it in 53 a linen cloth, and laid it in an hewn tomb, wherein was never man before laid. And that day was the Sabbath even; And 54

v.38 Other: And. v.39 Other: And. v.39 Other: evil doers. v.45 Other: did.
 v.49 Other: And all his acquaintance, and the women, that followed him from Galile, stood afar off beholding these things. v.50 Other: a councillor. v.50 Other: and.
 v.51 Other: and. v.51 Other: the. v.51 Other: of them.

55 the Sabbath drew on. The women that followed after which came with him from Galilee, beheld the sepulchre and how his 56 body was laid. And they returned, and prepared odours, and ointments; And* the Sabbath day they rested, according to the commandment.

XXIV

On the morrow after the Sabbath, early in the morning, they came unto the tomb and brought the odours which they 2 had prepared, and other women with them. And they found 3 the stone rolled away from the sepulchre, and went in: but 4 found not the body of the Lord Jesu. And it happened, as they were amazed thereat: lo* two men stood by them, in shin-5 ing vestures. And as they were afraid, and bowed down their faces to the earth: they said to them: why seek ye the living 6 among the dead? He is not here: but is risen. Remember how 7 he spake unto you, when he was yet with you in Galilee, saying: that the son of man must be delivered into the hands of 8 sinful men, and be crucified, and the third day rise again. And 9 they remembered his words, and returned from the sepulchre, 10 and told all these things unto the eleven, and to all other.* It was Mary Magdalene and Joanna, and Mary Jacobi; And other that were with them, which told these things unto the apostles, 11 and their words seemed unto them feigned things, neither be-12 lieved they them. Then arose Peter and ran unto the sepulchre, and stooped in; And saw the linen clothes laid by themself. And departed wondering in himself at that which had 13 happened. And behold, two of them went that same day to a town, which was from Jerusalem about three score furlongs, 14 called Emaus: and they talked together of all these things 15 that had happened. And it chanced, as they communed together, and reasoned, that Jesus himself drew near, and went 16 with them. But their eyes were holden, that they could not 17 know him. And he said unto them: What manner of communications are these that ye have one to another as ye walk, 18 and are sad? And the one of them named Cleopas, answered, and said unto him: art thou only a stranger in Jerusalem, and hast not known the things which have chanced therein in these 19 days? To whom he said: what things? And they said unto him: of Jesus of Nazareth which was a prophet, mighty in deed, 20 and word, before God, and all the people. And how the high v.56 Other: but rested. 24. v.4 Other: behold. v.9 Other: the remnant.

priests, and our rulers delivered him to be condemned to death: and have crucified him. * We trusted that it should have been he that should have delivered Israel. And as touching all these things, today is even the third day, that they were done. Yea and certain women also of our company made us astonished, which came early unto the sepulchre, and found not his body. And came saying, that they had seen visions* of angels which said that he was alive. And certain of them which were with us, went their way to the sepulchre, and found it even so as the women had said: but him they saw not. And he said unto them: O fools, and slow of heart to believe all that the prophets have spoken. Ought not Christ to have suffered these things, and to enter into his glory? And he began at Moses, and at all the prophets, and interpreted unto them, in all scriptures which were written of him. And they drew nye unto the town which they went to. And he made, as though he would have gone further. And* constrained him, saying: Abide with us for it draweth towards night, and the day is far passed. And he went in to tarry with them. And it came to pass as he sat at meat with them, he took bread and blessed it, and brake it and gave it unto them. And their eyes were opened. And they knew him. And he vanished out of their sight, and they said between themselves: did not our hearts burn within us, while he talked with us by the way, and* opened to us the scriptures? And they rose up the same hour, and returned again to Jerusalem, and found the eleven gathered together, and them that were with them, saying:* The Lord is risen in deed, and hath appeared to Simon. And they told what things was done in the way, and how they knew him, by the* breaking of bread. As they thus spake, Jesus himself stood in the midst of them, and said unto them: peace be with you. (It is I, fear not) And they were abashed, and afraid, supposing that they had seen a spirit. And he said unto them: Why are ye troubled? and why do thoughts arise in your hearts? Behold my hands and my feet. For* it is even I myself. Handle me and see. For spirits have not flesh and bones, as ye see me have. And when he had thus spoken, he shewed them his hands, and his feet. And while they yet believed not for joy, and wondered, he said

v.21 Other: But. v.23 Other: a vision. v.29 Other: But they. v.32 Other: as he. v.34 Other: which said:. v.35 Other: in. v.39 Other: that.

42 unto them: Have ye here any meat? and they gave him a 43 piece of a broiled fish, and of an honeycomb. And he took it, 44 and ate it before them. And he said unto them: These are the words, which I spake unto you, while I was yet with you: that all must be fulfilled which were written of me in the law of 45 Moses, and in the Prophets, and in the Psalms. Then opened 46 he their wits, that they might understand the scriptures, and said unto them: Thus is it written, and thus it behooved Christ 47 to suffer, and to rise again from death the third day. And that repentance, and remission of sins, should be preached in his name among all nations. And the beginning must be* at Jeru-48, 49 salem. And ye are witnesses of these things. And behold, I will send the promise of my father upon you. But tarry ye in the city of Jerusalem, until ye be endued with power from on 50 high. And he led them out into Bethany, and lift up his hands, 51 and blest* them. And it came to pass, as he blessed them, he 52 departed from them, and was carried up into heaven. And they worshipped him, and returned to Jerusalem with great 53 joy. And were continually in the temple, praising, and lauding God.*

Here endeth the Gospell off Saint Luke.

The Gospel According To St. John.

In the beginning was that* word, and that* word was I with god: and god was that word.* The same was in 2 the beginning with god. All things were made by it, 3 and without it, was made no thing, that made was.*
In it was life; And* life was the light of men; And the light 4, 5 shineth in the darkness, and* darkness comprehended it not.
There was a man sent from god, whose name was John. The 6, 7 same came as a witness, to bear witness of the light, that all men through him might believe. He was not that light: but to 8 bear witness of the light. That was a true light, which light- 9 eneth all men that come into the world. He was in the world, 10 and the world by him was made: and* the world knew him not.
He came among his own, and his* received him not. Unto* as 11, 12 many as received him,* gave he power to be the sons of god: in that they believed on his name: which were born not of blood 13 nor of the will of the flesh, nor yet of the will of man: but of god. And that* word was made flesh, and dwelt among us, 14 and we saw the glory of it, as the glory of the only begotten son of the father, which word was full of grace, and verity. John 15 bare witness of him* saying: This was he of whom I spake, he that cometh after me, was before me because he was yer then I. And of his fullness have all we received, even favour 16 for favour.* For the law was given by Moses, but favour* and 17 verity* came by Jesus Christ. No man saw* god at any time. 18
The only begotten son, which is in the father's bosom, hath declared him. And this is the record of John: When the jews sent 19 priests, and levites from Jerusalem, to ask him, what art thou?
And he confessed, and denied not, and said plainly: I am not 20 Christ. And they asked him: what then? art thou Helias? And 21 he said: I am not. Art thou a* prophet? And he answered no.

1. v.1 Other: the. v.1 Other: the. v.1 Other: and the word was God. v.3 Other: was made. v.4 Other: the. v.5 Other: but the. v.10 Other: yet. v.11 Other: own. v.12 Other: But. v.12 Other: to them. v.14 Other: the. v.15 Other: and cried. v.16 Other: grace for grace. v.17 Other: grace. v.17 Other: truth. v.18 Other: hath seen. v.21 Other: that.

22 Then said they unto him: what art thou? That we may give an 23 answer to them that sent us? what sayest thou of thy self? He said: I am the voice of a crier in the wilderness, make straight 24 the way of the Lord, as said the prophet Esayas. And they 25 which were sent, were of the pharisees. And they asked him, and said unto him: why baptisest thou then, if thou be not 26 Christ, nor Helias, neither a prophet? John answered them saying: I baptise with water: but one is come among you, whom 27 ye know not, he it is that cometh after me, which was before 28 me, whose shoe latchet I am not worthy to unloose. These things were done in Bethabara beyond Jordan, where John did 29 baptise. The next day, John saw Jesus coming unto him, and said: behold the lamb of god, which taketh away the sin of the 30 world. This is he of whom I spake: * After me cometh a man, 31 which was before me. For he was yer then I, and I knew him not: but that he should be declared to Israel, therefore came 32 I * baptising with water. And John bare record, saying: I saw the spirit descend from heaven, like unto a dove, and it abode * 33 upon him, and I knew him not: But he that sent me to baptise in water, * said unto me: Upon whom thou shalt see the spirit descend, and tarry still on him, the same is he which baptiseth 34 with the holy ghost. And I saw it, and bare record, that this 35 is the son of God. The next day after John stood again, and 36 two of his disciples, and he beheld Jesus as he walked by, and 37 said: behold the lamb of God. And the two disciples heard him 38 speak, and they followed Jesus. * Jesus turned about, and saw them follow, and said unto them: What seek ye? They said unto him: Rabbi (which is to say by interpretation, Master) where 39 dwellest thou? He said unto them: come and see. They came and saw where he dwelt: and abode with him that day. For it 40 was about the tenth hour. One of the two which heard John speak, and followed Jesus, was Andrew Simon Peter's brother.
41 The same found his brother Simon first, and said unto him: we have found Messias, which is by interpretation anointed: 42 And brought him to Jesus. And Jesus beheld him and said:
thou art Simon the son of Jonas, thou shalt be called Cephas: 43 which is by interpretation a stone. The day following Jesus would go into Galilee, and found Philip, and said unto him, fol-v.30 Other: said:. v.31 Other: am I come. v.32 Other: abide. v.33 Other: the same. v.38 Other: And.

low me. Philip was of Bethsaida the city of Andrew and Peter. 44
 * Philip found Nathanael, and said unto him: We have found 45 him of whom Moses wrote in the law, and the prophets.* Jesus the son of Joseph of Nazareth. And Nathanael said unto 46 him: Can there any good thing come out of Nazareth? Philip said to him: Come and see. Jesus saw Nathanael coming to 47 him, and said of him: Behold a right Israelite, in whom is no guile. Nathanael said unto him: From whence* knewest thou 48 me? Jesus answered and said unto him: Before that Philip called thee, when thou wast under the fig tree, I saw thee.
 Nathanael answered and said unto him: Rabbi, thou art the 49 son of God; Thou art the King of Israel. Jesus answered and 50 said unto him: Because I said unto thee, I saw thee under the fig tree, thou believest. Thou shalt see greater things than these. And he said unto him: Verily, verily, I say unto you: 51 hereafter shall ye see heaven open, and the angels of God ascending, and descending over the son of man.

And the third day, was there a marriage in Cana a city of II Galilee. And Jesus' mother was there. * Jesus was called 2 also and his disciples unto the marriage. And when the wine 3 failed, Jesus' mother said unto him: they have no wine. Jesus 4 said unto her: woman, what have I to do with thee? mine hour is not yet come. His mother said unto the ministers: what- 5 soever he sayeth unto you, do it. And there were standing* 6 six waterpots of stone after the manner of the purifying of the jews, containing two or three firkins apiece. * Jesus said unto 7 them: fill the water pots with water, and they filled them up to the hard brim. And he said unto them: Draw out now, and 8 bear unto the governor of the feast. And they bare it. When 9 the ruler of the feast had tasted the water that was turned unto wine, neither* knew* whence it was (But the ministers which drew the water knew) He called the bridegroom, and 10 said unto him: all men at the beginning set forth good wine; And when men be drunk, then that which is worse: But thou hast kept back the good wine hitherto.* This beginning of mir- 11 acles did Jesus in Cana of Galilee, and shewed his glory, and his disciples believed on him. After that descended he into Ca- 12 v.45 Other: And. v.45 Other: did write. v.48 Other: where. 2. v.2 Other: And.

 v.6 Other: there. v.7 Other: And. v.9 Other: and. v.9 Other: not. v.10 Other:
 until now.

pernaum, and his mother, and his brethren, and his disciples: 13 But continued not long* there. And the jews' ester was even 14 at hand; And Jesus went up to Jerusalem, and found sitting in the temple those that sold oxen and sheep, and doves, and 15 changers of money sitting. And he made a scourge of small cords, and drave them all out of the temple, both* sheep and oxen, and poured down* the changers' money, and overthrew 16 their* tables. And said unto them that sold doves: Have these things hence, and make not my father's house, an house of mer-17 chandise. * His disciples remembered, how that it was writ-18 ten: The zeal of thine house, hath even eaten me. Then answered the jews and said unto him: what token shewest thou 19 unto us, seeing that thou dost these things? Jesus answered, and said unto them: destroy this temple, and in three days I 20 will raise* it up again. Then said the jews: In forty six years this temple was built:* and wilt thou raise it up in three days?
 21, 22 But he spake of the temple of his body. As soon therefore as he was risen from death again, his disciples remembered that he thus said unto them. And they believed the scripture, and the 23 words which Jesus had said. When he was at Jerusalem, at ester in the feast, many believed on his name: when they saw 24 the signs* which he did: but Jesus put not himself in their 25 hands, because he knew all men, and needed not, that any man should testify of man.* For he knew what was in man.

III There was a man of the pharisees named Nicodemus a ruler 2 among the jews. He* came to Jesus by night, and said unto him: Master,* we know that thou art, a teacher which art come from God. For no man could do such miracles as thou doest, 3 except God were with him: Jesus answered, and said unto him: Verily, verily I say unto thee: except a man be born a new, 4 he cannot see the kingdom of God. Nicodemus said unto him: how can a man be born, when he is old? can he enter into his 5 mother's body* and be born again? Jesus answered: verily, verily I say unto thee: except that a man be born of water, and 6 of the spirit, he cannot enter into the kingdom of God. That which is born of the flesh, is flesh. And that which is born of v.12 Other: many days. v.15 Other: with the. v.15 Other: out. v.15 Other:

 the. v.17 Other: And. v.19 Other: rear. v.20 Other: was this temple a building:. v.23 Other: his miracles. v.25 Other: him. 3. v.2 Other: The same. v.2 Other: Rabbi. v.4 Other: womb.

the spirit, is spirit. Marvel not that I said to thee, ye must 7 be born a new. The wind bloweth where he listeth, and thou 8 hearest his sound: but canst not tell whence he cometh and whither he goeth. So is every man that is born of the spirit.
 And Nicodemus answered and said unto him: how can these 9 things be? Jesus answered and said unto him: Art thou a 10 master in Israel, and knowest not these things? Verily, verily 11 I say unto thee, we speak that we know, and testify that we have seen: And ye receive not our witness. If I have told* you 12 earthly things and ye have not believe: How should ye believe if I shall tell you of heavenly things? And no man ascendeth 13 up to heaven, but he that came down from heaven, that is to say, the son of man which is in heaven. And as Moses lift up 14 the serpent in the wilderness, even so must the son of man be lift up, that none which* believeth in him perish: but have 15 eternal life. * God so loved* the world, that he gave* his only 16 son for the intent, that none that believe in him, should perish: But should have everlasting life. For God sent not his 17 son into the world, to condemn the world: But that the world through him, might be saved. He that believeth on him shall 18 not be condemned. But he that believeth not, is condemned all ready, because he believeth not in the name of the only son of God. And this is the condemnation:* Light is come into the 19 world, and the men have loved darkness more than light, because their deeds were evil. For every man that evil doeth, 20 hateth the light: neither cometh to light, lest his deeds should be reproved. But he that doth truth, cometh to the light, that 21 his deeds might be known, how that they are wrought in God.
 After that* came Jesus and his disciples into the jews' land, 22 and there abode* with them and baptised, and John also bap- 23 tised in Enon besides Salim, because there was much water there, and they came, and were baptised. For John was not 24 yet cast into prison. * There arose a question between John's 25 disciples and the jews about purifying. And they came unto 26 John, and said unto him: Master,* behold he that was with thee beyond Jordan, to whom thou barest witness,* baptiseth, and all men come to him. John answered, and said: A man 27 v.12 Other: when I tell. v.15 Other: that. v.16 Other: For. v.16 Other: loveth. v.16 Other: hath given. v.19 Other: that. v.22 Other: these things. v.22 Other: he haunted. v.25 Other: And. v.26 Other: Rabbi. v.26 Other: behold the same.

can receive nothing at all except it be given him from heaven.
 28 Ye yourselves are witnesses, how that I said: I am not Christ: 29 but am sent before him. He that hath the bride is the bridegroom: But the friend of the bridegroom which standeth by and heareth him, rejoiceth greatly of the bridegroom's voice.
 30 Therefore this my joy is fulfilled. He must increase: and I 31 must decrease. He that cometh from on high is above all: he that is of the earth is of the earth,* and speaketh of the earth.
 32 He that cometh from heaven, is above all: And testifieth that he hath seen, and heard: and his testimony no man receiveth.*
 33 Whosoever receiveth his witness, the same hath sealed that 34 God is true.* For he whom God hath sent, speaketh the words 35 of God. For God giveth not the spirit by measure. The father 36 loveth the son, and hath given all things into his hand. He that believeth on the son, hath everlasting life. And he that beloveth* not the son, shall not see life, but the wrath of God abideth on him.

IV As soon as the Lord had knowledge, how that it was come to the ears of the pharisees,* that Jesus made and baptised 2 more disciples than John (though that Jesus himself baptised 3 not: but his disciples) he left Jewry, and departed again in to 4 Galilee. And it was so that he must needs go thorow Samaria.
 5 Then came he to a city of Samaria called Sichar besides the 6 possession that Jacob gave to his son Joseph, and there was Jacob's well. Jesus then wearied in his journey, sat thus on the 7 well.* It was about the sixth hour: * There came a woman of Samaria to draw water.* Jesus said unto her: Give me drink.
 8 (for his disciples were gone away unto the town to buy meat.) 9 * The woman of Samaria said unto him: how is it, that thou being a jew* askest drink of me, which am a Samaritan? (for the 10 jews meddle not with the Samaritans.) Jesus answered and said unto her: if thou knewest the gift of God, and who it is, that sayeth to thee give me drink: thou wouldest have asked of 11 him, and he would have given thee water of life. The woman said unto him: Sir thou hast no thing to draw it withal, and

v.31 Other: earthly. v.32 Other: and what he hath seen and heard: that he testifieth: but no man receiveth his testimony. v.33 Other: How be it, he that hath received his testimony hath set to his seal that God is true. v.36 Other: believeth. 4. v.1 Other: how the Pharisees had heard. v.6 Other: And. v.7 Other: And. v.7 Other: And. v.9 Other: Then. v.9 Other: iewe.

the well is deep: from whence then hast thou that water of life?
 Art thou greater then our father Jacob, which gave us the well, 12 and he himself drank thereof and his children and his cattle?
 Jesus answered and said unto her: whosoever drinketh of this 13 water, shall thirst again. But whosoever shall drink of the 14 water that I shall give him, shall never be more a thirst: But the water that I shall give him, shall be in him a well of water springing up into everlasting life. The woman said unto 15 him: Sir give me of that water, that I thirst not, neither come hither to draw. Jesus said unto her: Go and call thy husband, 16 and come hither. The woman answered and said to him: I 17 have no husband. Jesus said to her: Thou hast well said, I have no husband. For thou hast had five husbands, and he 18 whom thou now hast, is not thy husband. That saidst thou truly. The woman said unto him: Sir I perceive that thou art 19 a prophet. Our fathers worshipped in this mountain: and ye 20 say that in Jerusalem is the place where men ought to pray.*
 Jesus said unto her: woman trust* me; The hour cometh, when 21 ye shall neither in this mountain, nor yet at Jerusalem, worship the father. Ye worship ye wot nere* what: we know what 22 we worship. For salvation cometh of the jews. But the hour 23 cometh, and now is, when the true worshippers shall worship the father in spirit, and in verity.* For verily such the father requireth to worship him. God is a spirit, and they that wor- 24 ship him, must honour* him, in spirit and verity.* The woman 25 said unto him: I wot well Messias shall come, which is called Christ. When he is once come, he will tell us all things. Jesus 26 said unto her: I that speak unto thee, am he. And even at that 27 point, came his disciples, and marveled that he talked with the woman. Yet no man said unto him: what meanest thou, or why talkest thou with her? The woman* left her water pot behind 28 her, and went her way into the city, and said to the men there: Come see a man which told me all things that ever I did. Is not 29 he Christ? Then they went out of the city, and came unto him. 30

* In the meanwhile his disciples prayed him saying: Master 31 eat. He said unto them: I have meat to eat, that ye know 32 not of. Then said the disciples between themselves: hath any 33 v.20 Other: worship. v.21 Other: believe. v.22 Other: not. v.23 Other: trouthe: real fidelity of truth. v.24 Other: worship. v.24 Other: trouthe. v.28 Other: then.

 v.31 Other: And.

34 man brought him meat? Jesus said unto them: My meat is to fulfill* the will of him that sent me. And to finish his work.
35 Say not ye: There are yet four months, and then cometh harvest? Behold I say unto you, lift up your eyes, and look on 36 the regions: For they are white already unto harvest. And he that reapeth receiveth reward, and gathereth fruit unto life eternal: That both he that soweth, might rejoice also, and he 37 that reapeth.* And herein is the saying true, that one soweth; 38 And another reapeth. I sent you to reap that whereon ye bestowed no labor. Other men laboured; And ye are entered into 39 their labors. Many of the Samaritans of that city believed on him; For the woman's saying, which testified: He told me all 40 things that ever I did. Then when the Samaritans were come unto him; They besought him, that he would tarry with them.
41 And he abode there two days. And many more believed be-42 cause of his own words. And said unto the woman: Now we believe not because of thy saying: for we have heard him ourselves, and know that this is even indeed Christ the saviour of 43 the world. After two days, he departed thence, and went away 44 into Galilee. And Jesus himself testified, that a prophet hath 45 none honour in his own country. Then as soon as he was come into Galilee, the Galileans received him which had seen all* things, that he did at Jerusalem on* the feast. For they went 46 also unto the feast day. And Jesus came again into Cana of Galilee, where he turned water into wine. And there was a 47 certain ruler, whose son was sick at Capernaum. As soon as the same heard that Jesus was come out of Jewry into Galilee he went unto him, and besought him, that he would descend, 48 and heal his son: For he was even ready to die. Then said Jesus unto him: Except ye see signs and wonders, ye believe 49 not.* The ruler said unto him: Sir come away or ever that my 50 child die. Jesus said unto him go thy way, thy son liveth. And the man believed the words that Jesus had spoken unto him, 51 and went his way. And anon as he went on his way, his ser-52 vants met him, and told him, saying: thy child liveth; Then enquired he of them the hour when he began to amend. And they said unto him: Yesterday the seventh hour, the fever left 53 him. And the father knew that it was the same hour in which

v.34 Other: do. v.36 Other: and he that reapeth might rejoice together. v.45 Other: the. v.45 Other: at. v.48 Other: ye cannot believe.

Jesus said unto him: Thy son liveth. And he believed, and all his household. This is again the second miracle, that Jesus did, after he was come out of Jewry into Galilee. 54

After that there was a feast of the jews, and Jesus went up to Jerusalem. * There is at Jerusalem, by the slaughterhouse a pool called in the Hebrew tongue, bethesda, having five porches, in them* lay a great multitude of sick folk, of blind, halt, and withered, waiting for the moving of the water. For an angel went down at a certain season into the pool and stirred* the water. Whosoever then first after the stirring of the water stepped in, was made whole of whatsoever disease he had. And a certain man was there, which had been diseased thirty eight years. When Jesus saw him lie, and knew that he now long time had been diseased, he said unto him: Wilt thou be* whole? The sick answered him: Sir I have no man when the water is moved,* to put me into the pool. But in the mean time, while I am about to come, another steppeth down before me. * Jesus said unto him: rise, take up thy bed, and walk. And immediately the man was made whole, and took up his bed, and went. And the same day was the Sabbath day. The jews therefore said unto him that was made whole: It is the Sabbath day, it is not lawful for thee to carry thy bed. He answered them: he that made me whole, said unto me: Take up thy bed, and get thee hence. Then asked they him: what man is that which said unto thee, take up thy bed and walk? And he that was healed, wist not who it was. For Jesus had gotten himself away, because that there was press of people in the place. * After that, Jesus found him in the temple, and said unto him: Behold thou art made whole, see thou sin no more, lest a worse thing happen unto thee. The man departed, and told the jews that it was Jesus, the which had made him whole. And therefore the jews did persecute Jesus, and sought the means to slay him, because he had done these things on the Sabbath day. * Jesus answered them: My father worketh hitherto, and I work. Therefore the jews sought the more to kill him, not only because he had broken the Sabbath: but said also that God was his father and made himself equal with God. Then answered Jesus and said 19

5. v.2 Other: And. v.3 Other: which. v.4 Other: troubled. v.6 Other: made. v.7 Other: troubled. v.8 Other: And. v.14 Other: And. v.17 Other: And.

unto them: verily, verily, I say unto you: the son can do no thing of himself: but that he seeth the father do. For whatsoever he 20 doeth, that doeth the son also. For the father loveth the son, and sheweth him all things, whatsoever he himself doeth. And he will shew him greater works than these, because ye should 21 marvel. For likewise as the father raiseth up the dead, and quickeneth them, even so the son quickeneth whom he will.
 22 Neither judgeth the father any man: but hath committed all 23 judgement unto the son, because that all men should honour the son, even as they honour the father. He that honoureth not the son, the same honoureth not the father which hath sent 24 him. Verily, verily I say unto you: He that heareth my words; And believeth on him that sent me, hath everlasting life, and shall not come into damnation: but is scaped from death unto 25 life. Verily, verily I say unto you: the time shall come, and now is, when the dead shall hear the voice of the son of God.
 26 And they that hear, shall live. For as the father hath life in himself, so likewise hath he given to the son to have life in 27 himself. And hath given him power also to judge in that he 28 is the son of man. Marvel not at this, that the hour shall come, in the which all that are in the graves, shall hear his 29 voice, and shall come forth, they that have done good unto the resurrection of life. And they that have done evil, unto the 30 resurrection of damnation. I can of mine own self do nothing at all. As I hear I judge, and my judgement is just, because I seek not mine own will: But the will of the father which hath 31 sent me. If I bear witness of myself, my witness is not true.
 32 There is another that beareth witness of me. And I am sure 33 that the witness which he beareth of me is true. Ye sent unto 34 John, and he bare witness unto the truth: but I receive no* record of man. Nevertheless, these things I say, that ye might 35 be safe. He was a burning, and a shining light, and ye would 36 for a season have rejoiced in his light. But I have greater witness, than the witness of John. For the works which my* father hath given me to finish: the same works which* I do, 37 bear witness of me, that my* father sent me. And my* father himself,* which hath sent me, beareth witness of me. Ye have not heard his voice at any time; Nor yet* have seen his shape.*

v.34 Other: not the. v.36 Other: the. v.36 Other: that. v.36 Other: the.
 v.37 Other: the. v.37 Other: him self. v.37 Other: ye. v.37 Other: hysshape.

And* his words have ye not abiding in you: For ye believe not 38 him whom he hath sent.* Search the scriptures, for in them, 39 ye think ye have eternal life: And they are they which testify of me. And yet will ye not come to me that ye might have life. 40 I receive not praise of men: But I know you, that ye have not 41, 42 the love of God in you. I am come in my father's name, and 43 ye receive me not. If another shall come in his own name, him will ye receive. How can ye believe, which receive praise* one 44 of another, and seek not the praise which* cometh of God only?
 Suppose not,* that I will accuse you to my father. There is one 45 that accuseth you, verily* Moses in whom ye trust. For had 46 ye believed Moses, ye would have believed me: For he wrote of me. But when* ye believe not his writing: how shall ye believe 47 my words.

After that* went Jesus his way over the sea of Galilee nye VI to a city called Tiberias. And a great multitude followed him, 2 because they had seen his miracles that* he did on them that were diseased. * Jesus went up into a mountain, and there 3 he sat with his disciples. (And ester a feast of the jews, was 4 nye.) Then Jesus lift up his eyes, and saw a great company 5 come unto him, and said unto Philip: whence shall we buy bread that these might eat: This he said to prove him. For 6 he himself knew what he would do. Philip answered him, two 7 hundred pennyworth of bread are not sufficient for them, that every man have a little. Then said unto him, one of his dis- 8 ciples (Andrew Simon Peter's brother.) There is a lad here, 9 which hath five barley loaves, and two fishes: but what is that among so many? * Jesus said: Make the people to sit down. 10 (There was much grass in the place.) And the men sat down, in number, about five thousand. * Jesus took the bread, and 11 gave thanks, and gave to his* disciples, and his disciples, to them that were set down. And likewise of the fishes, as much 12 as they would. When they had eaten enough, he said unto his disciples: gather up the broken meat that remaineth: that nothing be lost. * They gathered it together, and filled twelve 13 baskets with the broken meat, of the five barley loaves, which

v.38 Other: thereto. v.38 Other: For whom he hath sent: him ye believe not.
 v.44 Other: honour. v.44 Other: honour that. v.45 Other: Do not think. v.45 Other: even. v.47 Other: seeing. 6. v.1 Other: these things. v.2 Other: which. v.3 Other:
 And. v.10 Other: And. v.11 Other: And. v.11 Other: the. v.13 Other: And.

14 broken meat remained unto them that had eaten. Then those men, when they had seen the miracle that Jesus did, said: This is of a truth the same prophet which shall* come into the world.

15 * Jesus knew well enough,* that they would come, and take him up, to make him King: and therefore departed he again, into a mountain, himself alone. * When even was come his disciples

16 went unto the sea, and entered into a ship. And went over the sea unto Capernaum. And anon it was dark, and Jesus was 17 not come to them. And the sea arose with a great wind.* *

18, 19 When they had rowed about a twenty five or a thirty furlongs, they saw Jesus walk on the sea, and to draw nye unto the ship, and they were afraid. And he said unto them: It is I, be not

20 afraid. Then would they have received him into the ship, and the ship was by and by at the land whither they went. The day following, the people which stood on the other side of the sea, saw that there was none other ship there save that one wherein his disciples were entered, and that Jesus went not in with his disciples into the ship: but that his disciples were gone

21 away alone. (Howbeit, There came other ships from Tiberias nye unto the place, where they ate bread, when the Lord had blessed.) Then when the people saw that Jesus was not there neither his disciples, they also took shipping and came to Capernaum seeking for Jesus. And when they had found him on the other side of the sea, they said unto him: Master* when

22 camest thou hither? Jesus answered them and said: verily, verily I say unto you: ye seek me, not because ye saw the miracles: but because ye ate of the loaves, and were filled. Labor not for the meat which perisheth, but for the meat that endureth unto everlasting life, which meat the son of man shall

23 give unto you. For him hath God the father sealed. Then said they unto him: what shall we do that we might work the works of God? Jesus answered and said unto them: This is the work of God, that ye believe on him, whom he hath sent.

24 They said unto him: what sign shewest thou then? that we may see and believe thee? What dost thou work? our fathers did eat manna in the desert, as it is written: He gave them

25 bread from heaven to eat. Jesus said unto them: verily, verily I say unto you: Moses gave you not bread* from heaven: but

v.14 Other: that should. v.15 Other: When. v.15 Other: perceived. v.16 Other: And. v.18 Other: that blew. v.19 Other: And. v.25 Other: Rabbi. v.32 Other: Moses gave you bread.

my father giveth you the true bread from heaven. For he is 33 the bread of God, which cometh down from heaven, and giveth life unto the world. Then said they unto him: Master* ever 34 more give us this bread. And Jesus said unto them: I am that 35 bread of life. He that cometh to me, shall not hunger: and he that believeth on me shall never thirst. But I said unto you: 36 that ye have seen me, and yet believe ye not. All that my* 37 father giveth me, cometh* to me: and him that cometh to me, cast I not out at the doors.* For I came down from heaven: not 38 to do mine own will: but his will which hath sent me. And 39 this is my* fathers will which hath sent me, that of all which he hath given me, I shall loose no thing:* but should raise it up again at the last day. And this is the will of him that sent 40 me: That every man which seeth the son; And believeth on him, have everlasting life. And I will raise him up at the last day. The jews* murmured at it,* because he said: I am that 41 bread (of life) which is come down from heaven. And they said: 42 Is not this Jesus the son of Joseph, whose father, and mother we know? How is it then that he sayeth, I came down from heaven? Jesus answered and said unto them. Murmur not 43 between yourselves. No man can come to me except my* fa- 44 ther which hath sent me, draw him. And I will raise him up at the last day. It is written in the prophets: And* they shall all 45 be taught of God. Every man which* hath heard, and* learned of the father, cometh unto me, not that any man hath seen 46 the father, save he which is of God. The same hath seen the father. Verily, verily I say unto you, he that believeth on me 47 hath everlasting life. I am that bread of life. Your fathers did 48, 49 eat manna in the wilderness, and are dead? This is that bread which cometh from heaven, that he which of it eateth, should also not die. I am that living bread which came down from 51 heaven. If any man eat of this bread, he shall live forever. And the bread that I will give, is my flesh, which I will give for the life of the world. * The jews strove among themselves saying: 52 How can this fellow give us his flesh to eat? * Jesus said unto 53 them: Verily, verily I say unto you, except ye eat the flesh of the v.34 Other: Lord. v.37 Other: the. v.37 Other: shall come. v.37 Other: away.

 v.39 Other: the. v.39 Other: should lose nothing:. v.41 Other: then. v.41 Other:
 him. v.44 Other: the. v.45 Other: that. v.45 Other: therefore that. v.45 Other: hath. v.52 Other: And. v.53 Other: Then.

son of man, and drink his blood, ye shall not have life in you.
 54 Whosoever eateth my flesh, and drinketh my blood, the same 55 hath eternal life: And I will raise him up at the last day. For 56 my flesh is meat indeed: and my blood is drink indeed. He that eateth my flesh and drinketh my blood, dwelleth in me 57 and I in him. As my^{} living father hath sent me, even so live 58 I by my father: and he that eateth me, shall live by me. This is the bread which came from heaven: not as your fathers have eaten manna and are dead. He that eateth of this bread, shall 59 live ever. These things said he in the synagogue as he taught 60 in Capernaum. Many^{} of his disciples, when they had heard this, said: this is an hard saying; Who can abide the hearing 61 of it? Jesus knew in himself, that his disciples murmured at 62 it, and said unto them: Doth this offend you? what and if ye 63 shall see the son of man ascend up where he was before? It is the spirit that quickeneth, the flesh profiteth nothing. The 64 words that I speak unto you are spirit and life. But there are some of you that believe not. For Jesus knew from the beginning, which they were that believed not. And who should 65 betray him. And he said: Therefore said I unto you: that no man can come unto me, except it were given unto him of my 66 father. From that time many of his disciples went away from 67 him,^{} and companied^{} no more with him. Then said Jesus to 68 the twelve: will ye also go away? ^{*} Simon Peter answered him: Master to whom shall we go? Thou hast the words of eternal 69 life; And we have believed, and known, that thou art Christ 70 the son of the living God. Jesus answered them: Have not I 71 chosen you twelve? And yet one of you is the devil? He spake it of Judas Iscariot the son of Simon. For he it was that should betray him, and was one of the twelve.

VII After that Jesus went about into Galilee, and would not go 2 about in Jewry, for the jews sought to kill him. The jews' 3 tabernacle feast was at hand. His brethren therefore said unto him: Get thyself^{} hence and go into Jewry that thy disci-4 ples may see thy works that thou doest. ^{} There is no man that doeth any thing secretly, and he himself seeketh to be known.
 5 If thou do such things, shew thyself to the world. For as yet 6 his brethren believed not in him. Then Jesus said unto them:

v.57 Other: the. v.60 Other: therefore. v.66 Other: back. v.66 Other: walked.
 v.68 Other: Then. 7. v.3 Other: thee. v.4 Other: For.

My time is not yet come, your time is alway ready. The world 7 cannot hate you. Me it hateth: Because I testify of it, that the 8 works of it are evil. Go ye up unto this feast, I will not go up 8 yet unto this feast, for my time is not yet full come. These 9 words he said unto them, and abode still in Galilee. * As soon 10 as his brethren were gone up, then went he also up unto the 10 feast, not openly: but as it were privily. Then sought him the 11 jews at the feast, and said: Where is he? And much mur- 12 muring was there of him among the people. Some said: He is 12 good. Other said nay, but he deceiveth the people. * No man 13 spake openly of him, for fear of the jews. In the midst of the 14 feast, Jesus went up into the temple, and taught. And the 15 jews marveled, saying: How knoweth he the scriptures? see- 15 ing that he never learned. Jesus answered them, and said: 16 My doctrine is not mine: but his that sent me. If any man 17 will do his will, he shall know of the doctrine, whether it be of 17 God: or whether I spake* of myself. He that speaketh of him- 18 self, seeketh his own praise. But he that seeketh his praise 18 that sent him, he* is true, and no unrighteousness is in him.
Did not Moses give you a law? And yet none of you keepeth 19 the law? Why go ye about to kill me? The people answered 20 and said: Thou hast the devil. Who goeth about to kill thee?
Jesus answered, and said unto them, I have done one work, 21 and ye all marvel. Moses therefore gave unto you circumci- 22 sion, not because it is of Moses, but of the fathers. And yet ye on the Sabbath day circumcise a man. If a man on the Sab- 23 bath day receive circumcision without breaking of the law of Moses: Disdain ye at me, because I have made a man every 24 whit whole on the Sabbath day? Judge not after the utter ap- 24 pearance: but judge righteous judgement. Then said some of 25 them of Jerusalem: Is not this he whom they go about to kill? behold he speaketh boldly, and they say nothing to him. Do 26 not our rulers* know in deed, that this is very Christ? But* 27 we know this man whence he is, but when Christ cometh, no man shall know whence he is. Then cried Jesus in the tem- 28 ple as he taught saying: And me ye know, and whence I am ye know: and* I am not come of myself. But he that sent me is true, whom ye know not. I know him: (And if I say that I 29 v.10 Other: But. v.13 Other: Howbeit. v.17 Other: speak. v.18 Other: the same.

v.26 Other: Do the rulers. v.27 Other: Howbeit. v.28 Other: yet.

know him not, I shall be a liar like unto you, but I know him) 30 For I am of him, and he hath sent me. Then sought the jews* to take him, but no man laid hands on him, because his time 31 was not yet come. Many of the people believed on him, and said: When Christ cometh: Will he do more miracles than this 32 man hath done? The pharisees heard that the people murmured such things about him: and* the pharisees and scribes* 33 sent ministers forth to take him. Then said Jesus unto them: Yet am I a little while with you, and then go I unto him that 34 sent me. Ye shall seek me, and shall not find me: And where 35 I am, thither can ye not come. Then said the jews between themselves: Whither will he go? that we shall not find him.
 Will he go among the gentiles, which are scattered all abroad, 36 and teach the gentiles? What manner of saying is this that he said: ye shall seek me, and shall not find me: And where I 37 am, thither can ye not come? In the last day, that great day of the feast: Jesus stood and cried saying: If any man thirst, 38 let him come unto me and drink. Whosoever* believeth on me, as sayeth the scripture, out of his belly shall flow rivers 39 of water of life. This spake he of the spirit, which they that believed on him should receive. For the holy ghost was not yet 40 there, because that Jesus was not yet glorified. Many of the people, when they heard this saying said: This is, no doubt,* a 41 Prophet. Other said: this is Christ. Some said: shall Christ 42 come out of Galilee? Saith not the scripture that Christ shall come of the seed of David: and out of the town of Bethlehem 43 where David was? So was there dissension among the people 44 for his sake.* And some of them would have taken him: but no 45 man laid hands on him. Then came the ministers to the high priests, and pharisees. And they said unto them: why have ye 46 not brought him? The servants answered: never man spake 47 as this man speaketh.* Then answered them the pharisees: 48 are ye also deceived? Doth any of the rulers, or of the phar-49 isees believe on him? But the common people which know 50 not the law are accursed. Nicodemus said unto them (He that 51 came to Jesus by night which* was one of them.) Doth our law judge any man, before it be heard,* and known, what he hath v.30 Other: they. v.32 Other: Wherefore. v.32 Other: hye priests. v.38 Other: He that. v.40 Other: of a truth. v.43 Other: about him. v.46 Other: doeth. v.50 Other: and. v.51 Other: hear him.

done? They answered, and said unto him: Art thou also of Galilee? Search and look, for out of Galilee ariseth no prophet. And every man went unto his own house.

* Jesus went unto mount olivet, and early in the morning came again into the temple, and all the people came unto him; And he sat down, and taught them. * The scribes and pharisees brought unto him a woman taken in advourty, and set her in the midst and said unto him: Master this woman was taken in advourty, even as the deed was a doing. Moses in the law commanded us that such should be stoned: What sayest thou therefore? And this they said to tempt him: that they might have, whereof to accuse him. Jesus stooped down, and with his finger wrote on the ground. And while they continued asking him, he lifted himself up; And said unto them: let him that is among you without sin, cast the first stone at her. And again he stooped down and wrote on the ground. * As soon as they heard that, they went out one by one the eldest first. And Jesus was left alone, and the woman standing in the midst. When Jesus had lifted up himself again, and saw no man, but the woman; He said unto her: Woman, where are those thine accusers? Hath no man condemned thee? She said: Sir no man. * * Jesus said: Neither do I condemn thee. Go hence and sin no more. Then spake Jesus again unto them saying: I am the light of the world. He that followeth me shall not walk in darkness: but shall have the light of life. The pharisees said unto him: thou bearest record of thyself, thy record is not true. Jesus answered and said unto them: And if* I bear record of myself,* my record is true for I know whence I come,* and whither I go.* Ye cannot tell whence I come, and whither I go. Ye judge after the flesh, I judge no man, and if* I judge, then* is my judgement true. For I am not alone: but I and my* father that sent me. It is also written in your law, that the testimony of two men is true. I am one that bear witness of myself, and my* father that sent me beareth witness of me. Then said they unto him: where is thy father? Jesus answered: ye neither know me, nor yet my father. If ye had known me, ye should have known my father also. These words spake Jesus in the treasury, as he taught in the temple.

8. v.1 Other: And. v.3 Other: And. v.9 Other: And. v.11 Other: No man Lorde. v.11 Other: And. v.14 Other: Though. v.14 Other: yet. v.14 Other: came. v.14 Other: But. v.16 Other: though. v.16 Other: yet. v.16 Other: the. v.18 Other: the.

 And no man laid hands on him; For his time was not yet come.
 21 Then said Jesus again unto them: I go my way, and ye shall seek me, and shall die in your sins. Whither I go thither can 22 ye not come. Then spake* the jews: will he kill himself, be-23 cause he saith: whither I go, thither can ye not come? And he said unto them: ye are from beneath, I am from above. Ye 24 are of this world, I am not of this world. I said therefore unto you, that ye shall die in your sins. For except ye believe that 25 I am he, ye shall die in your sins. Then said they unto him, who art thou? And Jesus said unto them: Even the very same 26 thing that I say unto you. I have many things to say, and to judge of you. But* he that sent me is true. And I speak in the 27 world, those things which I have heard of him. * They under-28 stood not that he spake of his father. Then said Jesus unto them: When ye have lift up on high* the son of man then shall ye know that I am he, and that I do nothing of myself; But as 29 my father hath taught me, even so I speak. And he that sent me is with me. My* father hath not left me alone; For I do al-30 ways those things that please him. As he spake these words, 31 many believed on him. Then said Jesus to those jews which believed on him: If ye continue in my saying,* then are ye my 32 very disciples: and ye shall know the truth: And the truth 33 shall make you free. They answered him: We be Abraham's seed, and were never bond to any man: why sayest thou then, 34 ye shall be made free? Jesus answered them: verily, verily I say unto you, that whosoever committeth sin, is the servant of 35 sin. And the servant abideth not in the house for ever: But 36 the son abideth ever. If the son therefore shall make you free, 37 then are ye free in deed. I know that ye are Abraham's seed: but ye seek means to kill me because my sayings have no place 38 in you. I speak that I have seen with my father: and ye do 39 that which ye have seen with your father. They answered and said unto him: Abraham is our father. Jesus said unto them.
 If ye were Abraham's children, ye would do the deeds of Abra-40 ham. But now ye go about to kill me, a man that have told you the truth, which I have heard of my father.* This did not 41 Abraham. Ye do the deeds of your father. Then said they unto v.22 Other: said. v.26 Other: Ye and. v.27 Other: Howbeit. v.28 Other: an hye. v.29 Other: the. v.31 Other: words. v.40 Other: God.

him: we were not born of fornication. We have one father that* is God. Jesus said unto them: if God were your father, then 42 would ye have loved me. For I proceeded forth and come from God. Neither came I of myself, but he sent me. Why do ye not 43 know my speech? * Because ye cannot abide the hearing of my words. Ye are of your father the devil, and the lusts of your 44 father, ye will follow: * He was a murderer from the beginning;
 And abode not in the truth, because there is no truth in him.
 When he speaketh a lie, then speaketh he of his own. For he is a liar, and the father thereof. And because I tell you the truth, 45 therefore believe ye not me. * Which of you can rebuke me of 46 sin? If I say the truth, why do not ye believe me? He that 47 is of God, heareth God's words. Ye therefore hear them not, because ye are not of God. Then answered the jews and said 48 unto him: Say we not well that thou art a Samaritan and hast the devil? Jesus answered: I have not the devil: but I honour 49 my father, and ye have dishonored me. I seek not mine own praise: * There is one that seeketh it and judgeth. Verily, verily 51 I say unto you, if a man keep my sayings, he shall never see death. Then said the jews to him: Now know we that thou 52 hast the devil. Abraham is dead, and also the prophets, and yet thou sayest: if a man keep my saying he shall never taste of death. Art thou greater then our father Abraham? which is 53 dead? and the prophets are dead. Whom makest thou thyself?
 Jesus answered: If I praise* myself, mine praise* is nothing 54 worth. It is my father that praiseth* me, which ye say is your God. And yet have ye not known him: but I know him. * And 55 if I should say, I know him not, I should be a liar like unto you; But I know him, and keep his saying. Your father Abra- 56 ham was glad to see my day, and he saw it and rejoiced. Then 57 said the jews unto him: Thou art not yet fifty year old, and hast thou seen Abraham? Jesus said unto them: Verily, verily 58 I say unto you: yer Abraham was I am. Then took they up 59 stones, to cast at him. But Jesus hid himself, and went out of the temple.

And as Jesus passed by, he saw a man which was blind from IX his birth; And his disciples asked him saying: Master, who 2 v.41 Other: which. v.43 Other: Even. v.44 Other: do. v.45 Other: therefore ye believe me not. v.50 Other: but. v.54 Other: honour. v.54 Other: honour.

 v.54 Other: honoureth. v.55 Other: your God, and ye have not known him.

did sin: this man, or his father and mother, that he was born 3 blind? Jesus answered: Neither this man hath sinned, nor yet his father and mother: but that the works of God should 4 be shewed on him. I must work the works of him that sent me, while it is day. The night cometh, when no man can work.
5, 6 As long as I am in the world, I am the light of the world. As soon as he had thus spoken, he spat on the ground, and made clay of the spittle, and rubbed the clay on the eyes of the blind, 7 and said unto him: Go wash thee in the pool of Siloe (which by interpretation, signifieth sent.) He went his way and washed, 8 and came again seeing. The neighbours, and they that had seen him before how that he was a beggar said: Is not this he 9 that sat and begged? Some said: this is he. Other said: he is 10 like him.* He himself said: I am even he. They said unto him: 11 How are thine eyes opened then? He answered and said: The man that is called Jesus, made clay, and anointed mine eyes, and said unto me: Go to the pool Siloe, and wash. I went and 12 washed and received my sight. They said unto him: where is 13 he? He said: I cannot tell. Then brought they to the pharisees, 14 him that a little before was blind. (for It was the Sabbath day 15 when Jesus made the clay, and opened his eyes.) Then again the pharisees also asked him how he had received his sight.
He said unto them: He put clay upon mine eyes; And I washed, 16 and I* see. Then said some of the pharisees: this man is not of God, because he keepeth not the Sabbath day. Other said: how can a man that is a sinner do such miracles? And there was 17 strife among them. Then spake they unto the blind again:
What sayest thou of him, because he hath opened thine eyes?
18 And he said: He is a prophet. * The jews did not believe of the fellow, how that he was blind, and received his sight: until they had called the father and mother of him that had received his 19 sight. And they asked them saying: Is this your son, whom 20 ye say was born blind? How doth he now see then? His father and mother answered them and said: we wot well that this is 21 our son, and that he was born blind: But by what means he now seeth, that can we not tell or who hath opened his eyes can we not tell. He is old enough, ask him, let him answer for 22 himself, of things that pertain to himself. Such words spake his father, and mother, because they feared the jews, for the jews had conspired already that if any man did confess that he was Christ, he should be excommunicate out of the Synagogue.

 Therefore said his father and mother: he is old enough, ask 23 him. Then again called they the man that was blind, and 24 said unto him: Give God the praise, we know that this man is a sinner. He answered and said: Whether he be a sinner 25 or no, I cannot tell: One thing I am sure of, that I was blind, and now I see. Then said they to him again: What did he to 26 thee? How opened he thine eyes? He answered them, I told 27 you yer-while; And ye did not hear. Wherefore would ye hear it again? Will ye also be his disciples? Then rated they him, and 28 said: Thou art his disciple. We are * Moses' disciples. We are 29 sure that God spake with Moses. This fellow we know not from whence he is. The man answered, and said unto them: this 30 is a marvelous thing that ye wot nere* whence he is, and yet hath* he opened mine eyes. We know well enough* that God 31 heareth no* sinners: But if any man be a worshipper of God: and do what his will is, him heareth he. Since the world began 32 was it not heard that any man opened the eyes of one that was born blind. If this man were not of God, he could have done no 33 thing. They answered and said unto him: thou art altogether 34 born in sin: and dost thou teach us? And they cast him out.
 Jesus heard that they had excommunicated him: and as soon 35 as he had found him he said unto him: dost thou believe on the son of God? He answered and said: And who is it Lord, 36 that I might believe on him? And Jesus said unto him: Thou 37 hast seen him, and he it is that talketh with thee. And he 38 said: Lord I believe: And worshipped him. Jesus said: I am 39 come unto judgement, into this world: that they which see not, might see, and they which see might be made blind. And some 40 of the pharisees which were with him, heard these words and said unto him: Are we then blind? Jesus said unto them, if 41 ye were blind, ye should have no sin: but now ye say we see, therefore your sin remaineth.

Verily, verily I say unto you: Whosoever* entereth not in by X the door, into the sheepfold, but climbeth up some other way: he* is a thief and a robber. He that goeth in by the door, is 2 v.28 Other: be. v.30 Other: not. v.30 Other: seeing. v.31 Other: For we be sure.

 v.31 Other: not. 10. v.1 Other: He that. v.1 Other: the same.

3 the shepherd of the sheep. To this man* the porter openeth the door, and the sheep hear his voice; And he calleth his own 4 sheep by name, and leadeth them out, and when he hath sent forth his own sheep, he goeth before them, and the sheep fol-5 low him: For they know his voice. A stranger they will not follow, but will fly from him. For they know not the voice of 6 strangers. This manner of saying* spake Jesus unto them.
 And* they understood not, what things they were, which he 7 spake unto them. Then said Jesus unto them again: Verily, 8 verily I say unto you: that I am the door of the sheep. All even as many as came before me, are thieves and robbers: but 9 the sheep did not hear them. I am the door: by me, if any man enter in, he shall be safe, and shall go in and out, and find 10 pasture. The thief cometh not but for to steal and kill, and destroy. I am come that they might have life, and have it more 11 abundantly. I am a* good* shepherd, a* good shepherd giveth 12 his life for his* sheep. An hired servant which is not the shepherd, neither the sheep are his own, seeth the wolf coming, and leaveth the sheep, and flyeth, and the wolf catcheth them, 13 and scattereth the sheep. The hired servant flyeth because he 14 is an hired servant, and careth not for the sheep. I am that good shepherd, and know my sheep,* and am known of mine.
 15 As my father knoweth me: even so know I my father. And I 16 give my life for my* sheep, and other sheep I have, which are not of this fold. Them also must I bring, that they shall* hear my voice. And* there shall* be one flock, and one shepherd.
 17 Therefore doth my father love me, because I put my life from 18 me, that I might take it again. No man taketh it from me: but I put it away of myself. I have power to put it from me, and power I have to take it again. This commandment have 19 I received of my father. Again* there was* dissension among 20 the jews for these sayings, and many of them said: He hath 21 the devil, and is mad: why hear ye him? other said, these are not the words of him that hath the devil: Can the devil 22 open the eyes of the blind? * It was at Jerusalem the feast 23 of the dedication, and it was the winter: And Jesus walked v.3 Other: to him. v.6 Other: similitude. v.6 Other: But. v.11 Other: the.

v.11 Other: amagoode. v.11 Other: The. v.11 Other: the. v.14 Other: mine.
v.15 Other: the. v.16 Other: may. v.16 Other: that. v.16 Other: may. v.19 Other:
 And. v.19 Other: a. v.22 Other: And.

in Solomon's hall.* Then came the jews round about him, and 24 said unto him: How long dost thou make us doubt? If thou 25 be Christ, tell us plainly. Jesus answered them: I told you 26 and ye believe not: The works that I do in my father's name,* 27 bear witness of me: but ye believe not, because ye are not 28 of my sheep. As I said unto you: my sheep, hear my voice, 29 and I know them, and they follow me, and I give unto them 30, 31 eternal life, and they shall never perish, neither shall any man 32 pluck them out of my hand. My father which gave them me, is 33 greater then all men, and no man is able to take them out of my 34 father's hand. And I and my father are one. Then the jews 35 again took up stones, to stone him withal. Jesus answered 36 them: many good works have I shewed you from my father: 37 for which of them will ye stone me? The jews answered him 38 saying: For thy good works' sake we stone thee not: but for thy 39 blasphemy, and because that thou being a man, makest thy- 40 self God. Jesus answered them: Is it not written in your law: 41 I have said,* ye are gods? If he called them gods unto whom 42 the word of God was spoken (and the scripture cannot be broken) say ye then to him, whom the father hath sanctified, and sent into the world: Thou blasphemest, because I said I am the son of God? If I do not the works of my father, believe me not. But* though ye believe not me, yet believe the works, that ye may know and believe that the father is in me, and I in him. Again they went about to take him, but he escaped out of their hands, and went away again beyond Jordan, into the place where John before had baptised, and there abode. And many resorted unto him, and said: John did no miracle: But all things that John spake of this man are true.. And there

A certain man was sick, named Lazarus of Bethania the XI town of Mary and her sister Martha. It was that Mary which 2 anointed Jesus with ointment, and wept* his feet with her hair, whose brother Lazarus was sick, and his sister* sent unto him 3 saying: Lord behold, he whom thou lovest is sick. When Je- 4 sus that heard he said: this infirmity is not unto death: But for the laud of God, that the son of God might be praised by the reason of it. Jesus loved Martha and her sister, and Lazarus. 5 v.23 Other: porch. v.25 Other: they. v.34 Other: say. v.38 Other: if I do.

11. v.2 Other: wiped. v.3 Other: sisters.

6 After he heard that he was sick, then abode he two days still 7 in the same place where he was. Then after that said he to 8 his disciples: let us go into Jewry again. His disciples said 9 unto him: Master, the jews lately sought means to stone thee, 10 and wilt thou go thither again? Jesus answered: are there 11 not twelve hours in the day? If a man walk in the day he 12 stumbleth not, because he seeth the light of this world. * If 13 a man walk in the night he stumbleth, because there is no 14 light in him. This said he. And after that he said unto them:
15 our friend Lazarus sleepeth, but I go to wake him out of sleep.
16 Then said his disciples: Lord if he sleep, then shall he do well 17 enough. * Jesus spake of his death: but they thought that he 18 had spoken of the natural sleep. Then said Jesus unto them 19 plainly, Lazarus is dead, and I am glad for your sakes, that I 20 was not there, because ye may believe. Nevertheless let us go 21 unto him. Then said Thomas (which is called Didymus,) unto 22 the disciples: let us also go, that we may die with him. Then 23 went Jesus, and found, that he had lain in his grave four days 24 already. Bethanie was nye unto Jerusalem, about fifteen fur-25 longs off; And many of the jews came * to Martha and Mary, to 26 comfort them over their brother. Martha as soon as she heard 27 that Jesus was coming, went and met him. * Mary sat still at 28 home. * Then said Martha unto Jesus: Lord if thou hadst been 29 here, my brother had not been dead: but nevertheless, I know 30 that whatsoever thou askest of God, God will give it thee. Jesus said unto her: Thy brother shall rise again. Martha said unto him: I know well, * he shall rise again in the resurrection at the last day. Jesus said unto her: I am the resurrection and the life. Whosoever* believeth on me; Yea though he were dead, yet shall he live: and whosoever liveth, and believeth on me, shall never die. Believest thou this? She said unto him: yea Lord: I believe that thou art Christ the son of God, which shall* come into the world. And as soon as she had so said she went her way, and called Mary her sister secretly saying: The master is come and calleth for thee. * She as soon as she heard that, arose quickly, and came unto him. Jesus was not yet come into the town: but was in the place where v.10 Other: But. v.13 Other: Howbeit. v.19 Other: were come. v.20 Other: But.

v.20 Other: in the house. v.24 Other: that. v.25 Other: He that. v.27 Other: should. v.29 Other: And.

Martha met him. The jews then which were with her in the 31 house, and comforted her (when they saw Mary that she rose up hastily, and went out) followed her saying: She goeth unto the grave, to weep there. Then when Mary was come, where 32 Jesus was and saw him she fell down at his feet, saying unto him: Lord if thou hadst been here, my brother had not been dead. When Jesus saw her weep, and the jews also weep, 33 which came with her. He groaned in the spirit, and vexed* himself and said: Where have ye laid him? They said unto 34 him: Lord come and see. And Jesus wept. Then said the 35, 36 jews: Behold how he loved him. * Some of them said: Could not he which opened the eyes of the blind, have made also, that this man should not have died? Jesus again groaned in 38 himself* came to the grave, it was a cave, and a stone laid on it. * Jesus said: Take ye away the stone. Martha (the sister of 39 him that was dead) said unto him: Lord by this time he stinketh. For he hath been dead four days. Jesus said unto her: 40 Said I not unto thee, that if thou didst believe, thou shouldest see the glory of God. Then they took away the stone from the 41 place where the dead was laid.* Jesus lift up his eyes and said: Father I give thee thanks* because that thou hast heard me;
 I knew well* that thou hearest me always:* but because of the 42 people that stand by I said it, that they might* believe, that thou hast sent me. And when he thus had spoken, he cried 43 with a loud voice, Lazarus come forth, and he that was dead, 44 came forth bound hand and foot, with* bonds after the manner as they were wont to bind their dead withall. And his face was bound with a napkin. Jesus said unto them: loose him, and let him go. Then many of the jews which came to Mary, and had 45 seen the things which Jesus did, believed on him. But some 46 of them went their ways to the pharisees, and told them what Jesus had done. Then gathered the high priests and the phar- 47 isees a council and said: what do we? This man doeth many miracles. If we let him scape thus all men will believe on him. 48 And the romans shall come and take away our country and* people. And one of them named Caiphaz: which was the high 49 priest that same year, said unto them: Ye perceive nothing at v.33 Other: was troubled in. v.37 Other: And. v.38 Other: and. v.39 Other: And.

 v.41 Other: And. v.41 Other: thank thee. v.42 Other: wot. v.42 Other: all ways:. v.42 Other: may. v.44 Other: grave. v.48 Other: the.

50 all nor yet consider that it is expedient for us, that one man 51 die for the people, and not that all the people perish. This spake he not of himself: but being high priest that same year, 52 prophesied he that Jesus should die for the people, and not for the people only: but that he should gather together in one 53 the children of God which were scattered abroad. From that 54 day kept* they* a counsel together for to put him to death. Jesus therefore walked no more openly among the jews: but went his way thence unto a country nye to a wilderness into a city 55 called Ephraim, and there haunted with his disciples. * The jews' ester was nye at hand, and many went out of the country 56 up to Jerusalem before the ester to purify themselves. Then sought they for Jesus, and spake between themselves as they stood in the temple: What think ye, seeing he cometh not to the 57 feast. The high priests and pharisees had given a commandment that if any man knew where he were, he should shew it that they might take him.

XII Then Jesus before six days of ester,* came to Bethany where Lazarus (which was dead) was, whom Jesus raised from death.
 2 There they made him a supper, and Martha served: but Lazarus 3 was one of them that sat at the table with him. Then took Mary a pound of ointment called nardus, perfect and precious, and anointed Jesus' feet, and wept* his feet with her hair, and 4 all the house smelled* of the savour of the ointment. Then said one of his disciples named Judas Iscariot, Simon's son, 5 which afterward betrayed him: why was not this ointment 6 sold for three hundred pence, and given to the poor? This said he, not that he cared for the poor: but because he was a thief, 7 and kept the bag, and bare that which was given. Then said Jesus: Let her alone, against the day of my burying she kept 8 it. The poor always* shall ye have with you, but me shall ye 9 not always* have. Much people of the jews had knowledge that he was there. And they came not for Jesus' sake only, but that they might see Lazarus also whom he raised from death.
 10 The high priests therefore held a council that they might put 11 Lazarus to death also, because that for his sake many of the 12 jews went away, and believed on Jesus. On the morrow much people that were come to the feast (when they heard that Jev.53 Other: forth. v.53 Other: held. v.55 Other: And. 12. v.1 Other: six days before ester. v.3 Other: wiped. v.3 Other: was filled. v.8 Other: all ways. v.8 Other:

 all ways.

sus should come to Jerusalem,) took branches of palm trees 13 and went and met him, and cried: Hosanna, blessed is he that in the name of the Lord cometh, King of Israel. * Jesus got a 14 young ass and sat thereon, according to that which was written: fear not daughter of Sion: behold thy King cometh sit- 15 ting on an ass's colt. These things understood not his disci- 16 ples at the first: but when Jesus was glorified, then remembered they that such things were written of him, and that such 17 things they had done unto him. The people that was with him, when he called Lazarus out of his grave, and raised him from death, bare record. Therefore met him the people, be- 18 cause they heard that he had done such a miracle. The phar- 19 isees therefore said among themselves: Ye see that* we prevail nothing: lo all the* world goeth away after him. There 20 were certain greeks among them, which* came to pray at the feast, the same came to Philip which was of Bethsaida a city 21 in Galilee, and desired him saying: Sir we would fain see Jesus. Philip came and told Andrew. And again Andrew and 22 Philip told Jesus. And Jesus answered them saying: the hour is come that the son of man must be glorified. Verily, verily 24 I say unto you, except the wheat corn fall into the ground and die, it bideth alone. If it die, it bringeth forth much fruit. He 25 that loveth his life shall destroy it: And he that hateth his life in this world, shall keep it unto life eternal. If any man minis- 26 ter unto me, let him follow me and where I am there shall also my minister be. And if any man minister unto me, him will my father honour. Now is my soul troubled, and what shall 27 I say? Father deliver me from this hour: but therefore came I unto this hour. Father glorify thy name. Then came there a 28 voice from heaven, I have glorified it, and will glorify it again.
 Then said the people that stood by and heard, it thundereth. 29
 Other said: an angel spake to him. Jesus answered and said: 30 this voice came not because of me: but for your sakes. Now is the judgement of this world: now shall the prince of this 32 world be cast out a doors. And I (if were lifted up from the earth,) will draw all men unto me. This said Jesus signify- 33 ing what death he should die. The people answered him: We 34 have heard* of the law that Christ bideth ever: and how sayest v.14 Other: And. v.19 Other: perceive ye how. v.19 Other: behold all the whole.

 v.20 Other: that. v.34 Other: out.

thou then that the son of man must be lifted up? who is that 35 son of man? Then Jesus said unto them: yet a little while is the light with you: walk while ye have light, lest the darkness come on you. He that walketh in the dark, wotteth not 36 whither he goeth. While ye have light, believe on the light that ye may be the children of light. These things spake Je-37 sus and departed, and hid himself from them. And though he had done so many miracles before them, yet believed not they 38 on him, that the saying of Esaias the prophet might be fulfilled, that he spake. Lord who shall believe our saying? And 39 to whom is the arm of the Lord declared? * Therefore could 40 they not believe, because that Esaias saith again: He hath blinded their eyes, and hardened their hearts, that they should not see with their eyes, and understand with their hearts, and 41 should be converted and I should heal them. Such things said 42 Esaias when he saw his glory, and spake of him. Nevertheless among the chief rulers many believed on him, but because of the pharisees they would not be a known of it, lest they should 43 be excommunicated. For they loved the praise that is given 44 of men, more than the praise, that cometh of God. * Jesus cried and said: he that believeth on me believeth not on me, 45 but on him that sent me. And he that seeth me, seeth him 46 that sent me. I am come a light into the world that whoso-47 ever believeth on me should not bide in darkness, and if any man hear my words and believe not, I judge him not. For I 48 came not to judge the world: but to save the world. He that putteth* me away, and receiveth not my words, hath one that judgeth him. The words that I have spoken* shall judge him in 49 the last day. For I have not spoken of myself: but the father which sent me* gave me a commandment what I should say, 50 and what I should speak. And I know well that his commandment is life everlasting. Whatsoever I speak therefore, even as my* father bade me, so I speak.

XIII Before the feast of ester when Jesus knew that his hour was come, that he should depart out of this world unto the father.
 When he loved his which were in the world, unto the end he 2 loved them. And when supper was ended, after that the devil had put in the heart of Judas Iscariot Simon's son, to betray v.38 Other: opened?. v.44 Other: And. v.48 Other: refuseth. v.48 Other: ,they.

 v.49 Other: ,he. v.50 Other: the.

him. Jesus knowing that the father had given all things into 3 his hands: And that he was come from God, and went to God, he rose from supper, and laid aside his upper garments, and 4 took a towel, and girt himself. After that poured he water 5 into a basin, and began to wash his disciples' feet, and to wipe them with the towel, wherewith he was gird. Then came he 6 to Simon Peter. And Peter said to him: Lord shalt thou wash my feet? Jesus answered and said unto him: what I do thou 7 wettest not now,* thou shalt know here after. Peter said unto 8 him: Thou shalt not wash my feet while the world standeth.
 Jesus answered him: if I wash not thy feet,* thou shalt have no part with me. Simon Peter said unto him: Lord not my feet 9 only: but also my hands and my head. Jesus said to him: he 10 that is washed, needeth not but* to wash his feet, but* is clean every whit. And ye are clean: but not all. For he knew his 11 betrayer. Therefore said he: ye are not all clean. After he had 12 washed their feet, and received his clothes, and was set down again, he said unto them: wot* ye what I have done to you? ye 13 call me master and Lord, and ye say well, for so am I. If I then 14 your Lord and master have washed your feet, ye also ought to wash one another's feet. For I have given you an example, 15 that ye should do as I have done to you. Verily, verily I say 16 unto you, the servant is not greater than his master. Neither the messenger greater than he that sent him. If ye under- 17 stand these things, happy are ye if ye do them. I speak not 18 of you all, I know whom I have chosen. But that the scripture be fulfilled: he that eateth bread with me; Hath lifted up his heel against me. Now tell I you before it come: that when it is 19 come to pass ye might believe that I am he. Verily, verily I say 20 unto you. He that receiveth whomsoever I send, receiveth me.
 And he that receiveth me, receiveth him that sent me. When 21 Jesus had thus said, he was troubled in the spirit, and testified saying: verily, verily I say unto you, that one of you shall betray me. * Then the disciples looked one on another doubt- 22 ing of whom he spake. There was one of his disciples which 23 leaned on Jesus' bosom, whom Jesus loved. To him beckoned 24 Simon Peter that he should ask who it was of whom he spake.
 He then as he leaned on Jesus' breast said unto him: Lord who 25

13. v.7 Other: but. v.8 Other: thee not. v.10 Other: save. v.10 Other: and.
v.12 Other: know. v.22 Other: And.

26 is it? Jesus answered, he it is to whom I give a sop, when I have dept* it. And he wet a sop, and gave it to Judas Iscariot 27 Simon's son. And after the sop Satan entered into him. Then 28 said Jesus unto him: that thou dost do quickly. That wist no 29 man at the table, for what intent he spake unto him. Some of them thought, because Judas had the bag, that Jesus had said unto him, buy those things that we have need of against the 30 feast: or that he should give something to the poor. As soon then as he had received the sop, he went immediately out. And 31 it was night. When he was gone out, Jesus said: now is the 32 son of man glorified. And God is glorified by him. If God be glorified by him, God shall also glorify him, in himself: and 33 shall straightway glorify him. Dear children, yet a little while am I with you. Ye shall seek me, and as I said unto the jews whither I go, thither can ye not come. Also to you say I now.
 34 A new commandment give I unto you, that ye love together, as 35 I have loved you, that even so ye love one another. By this shall all men know that ye are my disciples, if ye shall have 36 love one to another. Simon Peter said unto him: Lord whither goest thou? Jesus answered him: whither I go thou canst not 37 follow me now,* thou shalt follow me afterwards. Peter said unto him Lord why cannot I follow thee now? I will give my 38 life for thy sake. Jesus answered him: Wilt thou give thy life for my sake? Verily, verily I say unto thee, the cock shall not crow, till thou have denied me thrice.

XIV And he said unto his disciples: Let not your hearts be trou-2 bled, believe in God, and believe in me. In my father's house are many mansions. If it were not so, I would have told you. I 3 go to prepare a place for you. * I will come again, and receive you even unto myself, that where I am, there may ye be also.
 4, 5 And whither I go ye know, and the way ye know. Thomas said unto him: Lord we know not whither thou goest. Also how is it 6 possible for us to know the way? Jesus said unto him I am the way, the verity,* and* life.* No man cometh unto the father, but 7 by me. If ye had known me ye had known my father also. And 8 now ye know him. And ye have seen him. Philip said unto 9 him: Lord shew us thy* father and it sufficeth us. Jesus said unto him: have I been so long time with you: and yet hast thou

v.26 Other: dipped. v.36 Other: but. 14. v.3 Other: And if I go to prepare a place for you. v.6 Other: truth. v.6 Other: the. v.6 Other: And. v.8 Other: the.

not known me? Philip, he that hath seen me, hath seen the father. And how sayest thou then: shew us the father? Be- 10 lievest thou not that I am in the father, and the father in me?
 The words that I speak unto you, I speak not of myself: but the father dwelling* in me is he that doeth the works. Believe* 11 that I am in the father, and the father in me. At the least believe me for the very works' sake. Verily, verily I say unto 12 you whosoever* believeth on me, the works that I do, the same shall he do, and greater works then these shall he do, because I go unto my father. And whatsoever ye ask in my name, that 13 will I do, that the father might be glorified by the son. If ye 14 shall ask any thing in my name I will do it. If ye love me 15 keep my commandments, and I will pray the father, and he 16 shall give you another comforter, that he may bide with you ever, which is the spirit of truth whom the world cannot re- 17 ceive, because the world seeth him not, neither knoweth him.
 But ye know him. For he dwelleth with you, and shall be in
 you. I will not leave you comfortless: I* will come unto* you. 18
 It is yet a little while and the world seeth me no more: but 19 ye shall see me. For I live, and ye shall live. That day shall 20 ye know that I am in my father, and my father* in me, and I in you. He that hath my commandments and keepeth them, 21 the same is he that loveth me, and he that loveth me* shall be loved of my father, and I will love him, and will shew mine own self unto him. Judas said unto him (not Judas Iscarioth) Lord 22 what is the cause that thou wilt shew thyself unto us, and not unto the world? Jesus answered and said unto him: if a man 23 love me and will keep my sayings, my father also will love him, and we will come unto him, and will dwell with him. He that 24 loveth me not, keepeth not my sayings. And the words which ye hear are not mine, but my* father's, which sent me. This 25 have I spoken unto you being yet present with you. But that 26 comforter which is the holy ghost (whom my father will send in my name)* shall teach you all things, and bring all things to your remembrance whatsoever I have told you. Peace I leave 27 with you, my peace I give unto you. Not as the world giveth, give I unto you. Let not your hearts be grieved, neither fear ye.
 Ye have heard how I said unto you: I go and come again unto 28

v.10 Other: that dwelleth. v.11 Other: me. v.12 Other: he that. v.18 Other:
 but. v.18 Other: to. v.20 Other: you. v.21 Other: And he. v.24 Other: the.
 v.26 Other: he.

you. If ye loved me, ye would verily rejoice, because I said, I 29 go unto the father. For the father is greater then I. And now have I shewed you, before it come, that when it is come to pass, 30 ye might believe. Here after will I not talk many words unto you. For the chief ruler of this world cometh, and hath nought 31 in me. But that the world may know that I love my* father;
 And* as the father gave me commandment, even so do I. Rise let us go hence.

XV, 2 I am the true vine, and my father is an husbandman. Every branch that beareth not fruit in me; He will take away.
 And every branch that beareth fruit will he purge that it may 3 bring more fruit. Now are ye clean, be that means of* the 4 words which I have spoken unto you. Bide in me, and I* in you. As the branch cannot bear fruit of itself, except it bide in 5 the vine: no more can ye except ye abide in me. I am the vine, and ye are the branches. He that abideth in me, and I in him, the same bringeth forth much fruit. For without me can ye do 6 nothing. If a man bide not in me, he is cast forth as a branch, and is withered: and men gather them,* and cast them* into 7 the fire, and they* burneth. If ye bide in me, and my words also bide in you: ask what ye will, and it shall be given* you.
 8 Here in is my father glorified, that ye bear much fruit, and be 9 made my disciples. As the father hath loved me, even so have 10 I loved you. Continue in my love. If ye shall keep my commandments, ye shall bide in my love, even as I have kept my 11 father's commandments, and bide in his love. These things have I spoken unto you, that my joy might remain in you, and 12 that your joy might be full. This is my commandment, that ye 13 love together as I have loved you. Greater love than this hath 14 no man, than that a man bestow his life for his friends. Ye are 15 my friends, if ye do whatsoever I command you. Henceforth call I you not servants: For the servant knoweth not what his Lord doeth. But you have I called friends: For all things that 16 I have heard of my father, I have opened to you. Ye have not chosen me, but I have chosen you and ordained you that ye go, and bring forth fruit, and that your fruit remain, that whatsoever ye shall ask of my* father in my name he should give it v.31 Other: the. v.31 Other: Therefore. 15. v.3 Other: thorow. v.4 Other: let me bide. v.6 Other: it. v.6 Other: it. v.6 Other: it. v.7 Other: done to. v.16 Other:

 the.

you. This command I you, that ye love together. If the world 17, 18 hate you, ye know that he hated me before he hated you. If 19 ye were of the world, the world would love his own.* Because ye are not of the world, but I have chosen you out of the world, therefore hateth you the world. Remember the saying, that 20 I said unto you: the servant is not greater than the Lord. If they have persecuted me, so will they persecute you. If they have kept my saying, so will they keep yours. But all these 21 things will they do unto you for my name's sake, because they have not known him that sent me. If I had not come and spo- 22 ken unto them, they should have no sin:* but now have they nothing to cloak their sin withal. He that hateth me, hateth 23 my father. If I had not done works among them which none 24 other man did, they should be without* sin. But now have they seen, and yet have hated both me and my father: Even that 25 the saying might be fulfilled that is written in their law: they hated me without a cause. But when the comforter is come, 26 whom I will send unto you from the father, which is the spirit of verity,* which proceedeth of the father, he shall testify of me.
 And ye shall bear witness also, because ye have been with me 27 from the beginning.

These things have I said unto you be cause ye should not be XVI hurt in your faith.* They shall excommunicate you: yea the 2 time shall come, that whosoever killeth you, will think that he doth God true service. And such things will they do unto 3 you, because they have not known the father neither yet me.
 * These things have I told you, that when that hour is come, ye 4 might remember then, that I told you so. These things said I not unto you at the beginning, because I was present with you.
 But now go I my way to him that sent me, and none of you 5 asketh me: whither goest thou? but because I have said such 6 things unto you, your hearts are full of sorrow. Nevertheless 7 I tell you the truth it is expedient for you that I go away. For if I go not away, that comforter will not come unto you. But if I depart, I will send him unto you. And when he is come, 8 he will rebuke the world of sin, and of righteousness, and of judgement. Of sin, because they believe not on me: Of righ- 9, 10 teousness, because I go to my father, and ye shall see me no v.19 Other: Howbeit. v.22 Other: not have had sin:. v.24 Other: had not had.

v.26 Other: truth. 16. v.1 Other: because ye should not be offended. v.4 Other:
But.

11 more: And of judgement, because the chief ruler of this world, 12 is judged all ready. I have yet many things to say unto you:
 13 but ye cannot bear them away now. * When he is once come (I mean the spirit of verity,) * he will lead you into all truth.
 He shall not speak of himself: but whatsoever he shall hear, 14 that shall he speak, and he will shew you things to come. He shall glorify me, for he shall receive of mine, and shall shew 15 unto you. All things that my* father hath are mine. Therefore said I unto you that he shall take of mine and shew unto 16 you. After a while ye shall not see me, and again after a while 17 ye shall see me: For I go to my* father. Then said some of his disciples between themselves: what is this that he saith unto us, after a while ye shall not see me, and again after a while ye 18 shall see me: and that I go to my* father. They said therefore: what is this that he saith after a while? we cannot tell what 19 he saith. Jesus perceived, that they would ask him, and said unto them: This is it that ye enquire of between yourselves, that I said, after a while ye shall not see me, and again after 20 a while ye shall see me. Verily, verily I say unto you: ye shall weep and lament, and the world shall rejoice. Ye shall sorrow: 21 but your sorrow shall be turned to joy. A woman when she travaileth hath sorrow, because her hour is come: but as soon as she is delivered of her* child she remembereth no more the 22 anguish, for joy that a man is born into the world. And ye now are in sorrow: but I will see you again, and your hearts 23 shall rejoice, and your joy shall no man take from you. And in that day shall ye ask me no question. Verily, verily I say unto you, whatsoever ye shall ask the father in my name, he 24 will give it you. Hitherto have ye asked nothing in my name.
 25 Ask and ye shall receive it: that your joy may be full.* These things have I spoken unto you in proverbs. The time will come when I shall no more speak to you in proverbs: but I shall shew 26 you plainly from my father. At that day shall ye ask in mine name. And I say not unto you that I will speak unto my father 27 for you. For my* father himself loveth you, because ye have 28 loved me, and have believed that I came out from God. I went out from the father, and came into the world: and I leave the v.13 Other: Howbeit. v.13 Other: truth. v.15 Other: the. v.16 Other: the.

 v.17 Other: the. v.21 Other: the. v.24 Other: that our joy may be full. v.27 Other:
 the.

world again, and go to the father. His disciples said unto him: 29 lo now speakest thou plainly, and thou usest no proverb. Now 30 know we that thou understandest all things, and needest not that any man should ask thee any question. Therefore believe we that thou camest from God. Jesus answered them: Now 31 ye do believe. Behold the hour draweth nye, and is already 32 come, that ye shall be scattered every man his ways, and shall leave me alone. And yet am I not alone. For my * father is with me. These words have I spoken unto you that in me ye might 33 have peace.* In the world shall ye have tribulation: but be of good cheer, I have overcome the world.

These words spake Jesus and lift * up his eyes to heaven, XVII and said: father the hour is come glorify thy son that thy son may glorify thee. As thou hast given him power over all flesh, 2 that he should give eternal life to as many as thou hast given him. This is life eternal that they might know thee that only 3 very God: and whom thou hast sent Jesus Christ. I have glo- 4 rified thee on the earth. I have finished the work which thou gavest me to do. And now glorify me thou father in* thine 5 own presence,* with the glory which I had with thee yer* the world was. I have declared thy name unto the men which 6 thou gavest me out of the world. Thine they were, and thou gavest them me, and they have kept thy sayings. Now have 7 they known that all things whatsoever thou hast given me, are of thee. For I have given unto them the words which thou 8 gavest me, and they have received them, and know surely that I came out from thee: and do believe that thou didst send me.
 I pray for them.* I pray not for the world: but for them which 9 thou hast given me, for they are thine, and all mine are thine, 10 and thine are mine, and I am glorified in them. And now am I 11 no more in the world, but they are in the world, and I come to thee. Wholly* father keep in thine own name them which thou hast given me, that they may be one as we are. While I was 12 with them in the world, I kept them in thy name. Those that thou gavest me, have I kept, and none of them is lost, but that lost child, that the scripture might be fulfilled. Now come I 13 to thee, and these words speak I in the world, that they might have my joy full in them. I have given them thy doctrine,* and 14

v.32 Other: the. v.33 Other: For. 17. v.1 Other: lifted. v.5 Other: with.
 v.5 Other: self. v.5 Other: yerre. v.9 Other: ,and. v.11 Other: Holy. v.14 Other: words.

the world hath hated them, because they are not of the world, 15 even as I am not of the world. I desire not that thou shouldest take them out of the world: but that thou keep them from evil.
 16, 17 They are not of the world, as I am not of the world. Sanctify 18 them in* thy truth. Thy saying is verity.* As thou didst sent me into the world, even so have I sent them into the world; 19 And for their sakes sanctify I myself, that they also might be 20 sanctified thorow the truth. I pray not for them alone: but for them also which shall believe on me thorow their preaching, 21 that they all may be one, as thou father art in me, and I in thee, that they may be also one in us, that the world may be-22 lieve that thou hast sent me. And that glory that thou gavest 23 me, I have given them, that they may be one, as we are one. I am in them and thou art in me, that they may be made perfect in one, and that the world may know that thou hast sent me, 24 and hast loved them, as thou hast loved me. Father I will that they which thou hast given me, be with me where I am, that they may see my glory which thou hast given me. For thou 25 lovedest me before the making of the world. O righteous father the very world hath not known thee: but I have known 26 thee, and these have known that thou hast sent me. And I have declared unto them thy name, and will declare it, that the love wherewith thou hast loved me, be in them, and that I be in them.

XVIII When Jesus had spoken these words, he went forth with his disciples over the brook Cedron, where was a garden into 2 the which he entered with his disciples. (Judas also which betrayed him knew the place, for Jesus oftentimes resorted 3 thither with his disciples.) Judas then after he had received a bond of men, and ministers of the high priests, and of the pharisees came thither with lanterns, and firebrands, and weapons.
 4 Then Jesus knowing all things that should come on him, went 5 forth and said unto them: whom seek ye? They answered him: Jesus of Nazareth. Jesus said unto them: I am he. Ju-6 das also which betrayed him, stood with them. * As soon as he had said unto them I am he, they went backwards and fell 7 to the ground. And he asked them again: whom seek ye?
 8 They said: Jesus of Nazareth. Jesus answered, I said unto 9 you, I am he. If ye seek me, let these go their way. That the saying might be fulfilled which he spake: of them which thou gavest* have I not lost one. Simon Peter had a sword, and drew him out,* and smote the high priest's servant, and cut off his right ear. The servant's name was Malchus. Then said Jesus unto Peter: put up thy sword into the sheath: shall I not drink of the cup which my father had* given me? Then the company, and the Captain, and the ministers of the jews, took Jesus and bound him, and led him away to Anna first: For he was father-in-law unto Caiphas, which was the high priest that same year. Caiphas was he that gave counsel to the jews that it was expedient that one man should die for the people. * Simon Peter followed Jesus, and another disciple, that disciple was known of the high priest, and went in with Jesus into the palace of the high priest. But Peter stood at the door without. Then went out that other disciple which was known unto the high priest, and spake to the damsel that kept the door, and brought in Peter. Then said the damsel that kept the door unto Peter: Art not thou one of this man's disciples? He said: I am not. The servants and the ministers stood there, and had made a fire of coals. For it was cold, and they warmed themselves. Peter also stood among them and warmed himself. The high priest asked Jesus of his disciples, and of his doctrine. Jesus answered him: I spake openly in the world. I ever taught in the synagogue and in the temple whither all the jews resorted: and in secret have I said nothing: why askest thou me? Ask them which heard me what I said unto them. Behold they can tell what I said. When he had thus spoken, one of the ministers which stood by, smote Jesus on the face saying: Answerest thou the high priest so? Jesus answered him: If I have evil spoken, bear witness of the evil: if I have well spoken, why smitest thou me? * Annas sent him bound unto Caiphas the high priest. Simon Peter stood and warmed himself, and they said unto him: Art not thou also one of his disciples? He denied it, and said: I am not. One of the servants of the high priest (his cousin whose ear Peter smote off) said unto him: did not I see thee in the garden with him? Peter denied it again: and immediately the cock crew. Then led they Jesus from Caiphas into the hall of judgement. It was in the morning, and they themselves went not into the judge-

v.9 Other: me. v.10 Other: it. v.11 Other: hath. v.15 Other: And. v.24 Other: And.

ment house* lest they should be defiled, but that they might 29 eat Pascha.* Pilate then went out unto them and said: What 30 accusation bring ye against this man? They answered and said unto him: If he were not an evil doer, we would not have 31 delivered him unto thee. Then said Pilate unto them: take* him unto you, and judge him after your own law.* The jews said 32 unto him. It is not lawful for us to put any man to death. That the words of Jesus might be fulfilled which he spake, signify-33 ing what death he should die. Then Pilate entered into the judgement house* again, and called Jesus, and said unto him: 34 Art thou* King of the Jews? Jesus answered: sayest thou that 35 of thyself, or did other tell it thee of me? Pilate answered: Am I a jew? Thine own nation and high priests have delivered thee 36 unto me. What hast thou done? Jesus answered: my kingdom is not of this world. If my kingdom were of this world then would my ministers surely fight, that I should not be delivered 37 to the jews, but now is my kingdom not from hence. Pilate said unto him: Art thou a King then? Jesus answered: Thou sayest that I am a King. For this cause was I born, and for this cause came I into the world, that I should bear witness unto 38 the truth. And all that are of the truth hear my voice. Pilate said unto him: what is truth? * And when he had said that, he went out again unto the jews, and said unto them: I find 39 in him no cause at all. Ye have a custom among you, that I should deliver you one loose at ester. Will ye that I loose unto 40 you the King of the Jews. Then cried they all again saying:
 Not him, but Barabas.* Barabas was a robber.

XIX, 2 Then Pilate took Jesus and scourged him. And the soldiers wound a crown of thorns and put it on his head. And they did 3 on him a purple garment, (and came unto him) and said: hail 4 King of the Jews. And they smote him on the face. Pilate went forth again, and said unto them: behold I bring him forth 5 to you, that ye may know, that I find no fault in him. Then came Jesus forth wearing a crown of thorns and a robe of pur-6 ple. And Pilate said unto them: Behold the man. When the high priests and ministers saw him, they cried saying: crucify him, crucify him. Pilate said unto them. Take ye him and v.28 Other: hall. v.28 Other: the paschal lamb. v.31 Other: ye. v.31 Other: Then.

 v.33 Other: hall. v.33 Other: the. v.38 Other: what thinge is trueth?. v.40 Other:
that.

crucify him: For I find no cause in him. The jews answered 7 him. We have a law, and by our law he ought to die: because he made himself the son of God. When Pilate heard that say- 8 ing, he was the more afraid, and went again into the judge- 9 ment house,* and said unto Jesus: whence art thou? * Jesus gave him none answer. Then said Pilate unto him: Speak- 10 est thou not unto me? Knowest thou not that I have power to crucify thee, and have power to loose thee? Jesus answered: 11 Thou couldest have no power at all against me, except it were given unto thee from above. Therefore he that delivered me unto thee, is more in sin. And from thenceforth sought Pilate 12 means to loose him: but the jews cried saying: if thou let him go, thou art not Cesar's friend.* Whosoever maketh himself a King, is against Cesar. When Pilate heard that saying he 13 brought Jesus forth, and sat down to give sentence, in a place called the pavement: But in the Hebrew tongue, Gabbatha.
 (It was the Sabbath even which falleth in the ester feast, and 14 about the sixth hour) And he said unto the jews: Behold your King. They cried, away with him, away with him; Crucify 15 him. Pilate said unto them: Shall I crucify your King? The high priests answered: We have no King but Cesar. Then deli- 16 vered he him unto them to be crucified. And they took Jesus, and led him away. And he bare his cross, and went forth into 17 a place called the place of dead men's skulls (which is named in hebrew, Golgotha) where they crucified him. And with him 18 two other, on either side one, and Jesus in the midst. * Pi- 19 late wrote his title, and put it on the cross: The writing was, Jesus of Nazareth, King of the Jews. This title read many of 20 the jews. For the place where Jesus was crucified, was nye to the city. And it was written in hebrew, greek and latin. Then 21 said the high priests of the jews to Pilate: write not, King of the Jews, but that he said, I am King of the Jews. Pilate 22 answered: what I have written, that have I written. * The 23 soldiers, when they had crucified Jesus, took his garments and made four parts, to every soldier a part, and also his coat. The coat was without seam woven* upon thorow and thorow.* And 24 they said one to another: Let us not divide it: but cast lots who shall have it. That the scripture might be fulfilled which saith.

19. v.9 Other: hall. v.9 Other: But. v.12 Other: For. v.19 Other: And. v.23 Other: Then. v.23 Other: ,wrought. v.23 Other: thorow out.

They parted my raiment among them, and on my coat did cast 25 lots. And the soldiers did such things in deed. There stood by the cross of Jesus his mother, and his mother's sister, Mary 26 the wife of Cleophas, and Mary Magdalene. When Jesus saw his mother, and the disciple standing whom he loved, he said 27 unto his mother: Woman behold thy son. Then said he to the disciple: behold thy mother. And from that hour the disciple 28 took her for his own. After that when Jesus perceived that all things were performed, that the scripture might be fulfilled: 29 he said: I thirst. There stood a vessel full of vinegar by.* They filled a sponge with vinegar, and wound it about with hyssop, 30 and put it to his mouth. As soon as Jesus had received of the vinegar, he said: It is finished, and bowed his head, and 31 gave up the ghost. The jews then because it was the Sabbath even that the bodies should not remain upon the cross on the Sabbath day (For that Sabbath day was an high day) besought Pilate that their legs might be broken and that they might be 32 taken down. Then came the soldiers and brake the legs of 33 the first, and of the other which was crucified with Jesus. *
 When they came to Jesus and saw that he was dead already, 34 they brake not his legs: but one of the soldiers with a spear, thrust him into the side, and forthwith came there out blood 35 and water. And he that saw it bare record, and his record is true. And he knoweth that he saith true that ye might believe 36 also. These things were done that the scripture should be ful-37 filled: Ye shall not break a bone of him. And again another scripture saith: They shall look on him, whom they pierced.
 38 After that, Joseph of Arimathia (which was a disciple of Jesus: but secretly for fear of the jews) besought Pilate that he might take down the body of Jesus. And Pilate gave him li-39 cense. (he came therefore, and took the body of Iesus) And there came also Nicodemus which at the beginning came to Jesus by night, and brought of myrrh and aloes mingled together 40 about an hundred pound weight. Then took they the body of Jesu and wound it in linen clothes with those confections* 41 as the manner of the jews is to bury. * In the place where Jesus was crucified, was a garden, and in the garden a new 42 sepulchre, wherein was never man laid. There laid they Jesus because of the jews' Sabbath even, for the sepulchre was nye at hand.

The morrow after the Sabbath day came Mary Magdalene XX early when it was yet dark, unto the sepulchre, and saw the stone rolled* away from the tomb. Then she ran, and came 2 to Simon Peter, and to the other disciple whom Jesus loved, and said unto them: They have taken away the Lord out of the tomb and we cannot tell where they have laid him. Peter 3 went forth and that other disciple, and came unto the sepulchre. They ran both together, and that other disciple did out- 4 run Peter, and came first to the sepulchre. And he stooped 5 down and saw the linen clothes,* yet went he not in. Then 6 came Simon Peter following him, and went into the sepulchre, and saw the linen clothes lie, and the napkin that was about 7 his head not lying with the linen cloth, but wrapped together in a place by itself. Then went in also that other disciple which 8 came first to the sepulchre, and he saw and believed. For 9 as yet they knew not the scriptures, that he should rise again from death. And the disciples went away again unto their own 10 home. Mary stood without at the sepulchre weeping:* As she 11 wept, she bowed herself into the sepulchre and saw two angels 12 clothed in white sitting the one at the head, and the other at the feet, where they had laid the body of Jesus. * They said 13 unto her: woman why weepest thou? She said unto them:*
 They have taken away my Lord, and I wot not where they have laid him. When she had thus said, she turned herself 14 back and saw Jesus standing, and knew not that it was Jesus.
 Jesus said unto her: woman why weepest thou? Whom seek- 15 est thou? She supposing that he had been the gardener, said unto him: Sir if thou have borne him hence tell me where thou hast laid him, that I will take him away.* Jesus said unto her: 16 Mary. She turned herself, and said unto him: Rabboni which is to say master. Jesus said unto her: touch me not, for I have* 17 not yet ascended to my father. But go to my brethren and say unto them, I ascend unto my father, and your father:* my God and your God. Mary Magdalene came and told the disciples 18 that she had seen the Lord, and that he had spoken such things unto her. The same day at night, which was the morrow after 19 the Sabbath day, when the doors were shut (where the disciples

20. v.1 Other: taken. v.5 Other: lying. v.11 Other: And. v.13 Other: And.
v.13 Other: For. v.15 Other: that I may fetch him. v.17 Other: am. v.17 Other:
to.

were assembled together for fear of the jews,) came Jesus and 20 stood in the midst, and said to them: peace be with you. And when he had so said, he shewed unto them his hands and feet, and his side. Then were the disciples glad when they saw the 21 Lord. He* said unto them again: peace be with you. As my fa-22 ther sent me, even so send I you. And when he had said that, he blew* on them, and said unto them: Receive the holy ghost.
 23 Whosoever's sins ye remit, they are remitted unto them: And 24 whosoever's sins ye retain, they are retained. * Thomas one of the twelve, called Didymus, was not with them when Jesus 25 came. The other disciples said unto him: we have seen the Lord. And he said unto them: except I see in his hands the print of the nails, and put my finger in the holes of the nails, 26 and thrust my hand into his side, I will not believe. And after eight days again, his disciples were with in, and Thomas was with them. Jesus* came when the doors were shut, and 27 stood in the midst and said: peace be with you: Than* said he to Thomas: put in* thy finger here,* and see my hands, and put forth* thy hand and thrust him* into my side, and be not 28 without faith: but believe.* Thomas answered and said unto 29 him: my Lord, and my God. Jesus said unto him: Thomas, because thou hast seen me, therefore hast thou believed:* Happy 30 are they that have not seen, and yet believe. And many other signs did Jesus in the presence of his disciples, which are not 31 written in this book. These are written that ye might believe that Jesus is Christ the son of God. And that ye in believing ye might have life thorow his name.

XXI After that Jesus shewed himself again at the sea of Tiberias.
 2 And on this wise shewed he himself. There were together Simon Peter and Thomas, which is called Didymus: and Nathanael of Cana a city of Galilee, and the sons of Zebedee, and two other 3 of the disciples; Simon Peter said unto them: I go a fishing.
 They said unto him: we also will go with thee. They went their way and entered into a ship straightway, and that night caught 4 they nothing. * When the morning was now come, Jesus stood on the shore; Nevertheless the disciples knew not that it was

v.21 Other: Then Iesus. v.22 Other: breathed. v.24 Other: But. v.26 Other: then.
 v.27 Other: After that. v.27 Other: bring. v.27 Other: hither. v.27 Other: bring.
 v.27 Other: it. v.27 Other: not faithless, but believing. v.29 Other: believest:.
 21. v.4 Other: But.

Jesus. Jesus said unto them: Sirs, have ye any meat? They 5 answered him no. And he said unto them: cast out your* net 6 on the right side of the ship, and ye shall find. They cast out, and anon they were not able to draw it for the multitude of fishes. Then said the disciple whom Jesus loved unto Peter: It 7 is the Lord. When Simon Peter heard that it was the Lord, he gird* his mantle to him (for he was naked) and sprang into the sea. The other disciples came by ship: For they were not far 8 from land, but as it were two hundred cubits; And they drew the net with fishes. As soon as they were come to land, they 9 saw hot coals laid and fish laid there on, and bread. Jesus said 10 unto them: bring of the fishes which ye have now caught. Si- 11 mon Peter stepped forth and drew the net to land full of great fishes, an hundred and fifty three. And for all there were so many, yet was not the net broken. Jesus said unto them: come 12 and dine. And none of the disciples durst ask him: what art thou? For they knew that it was the Lord. Jesus then came 13 and took bread, and gave them, and fish likewise. And this is 14 now the third time that Jesus appeared to his disciples, after that he was risen again from death. When they had dined, Je- 15 sus said to Simon Peter: Simon Joanna, lovest thou me more than these? He said unto him: yea Lord, thou knowest, that 16 I love thee. He said unto him: feed my lambs. He said to him again the second time: Simon Joanna, lovest thou me? He said unto him: yea Lord thou knowest that I love thee. He said unto him: feed my sheep. He said unto him the third 17 time: Simon Joanna, lovest thou me? * Peter sorrowed because he said to him the third time, lovest thou me, and said unto him: Lord, thou knowest all things, thou knowest that I love thee. Jesus said unto him: feed my sheep. Verily, verily I say 18 unto thee, when thou wast young, thou girdedst thyself, and walkedst whither thou wouldest: but when thou art old, thou shalt stretch forth thy hands, and another shall gird thee, and lead thee whither thou wouldest not. That spake he signify- 19 ing by what death he should glorify God. And when he had said thus, he said to him: Follow me. Peter turned about, and saw 20 that disciple whom Jesus loved following (which also leaned on his breast at supper) and said: Lord which is he that shall betray thee? When Peter saw him, he said to Jesus: Lord what 21

- 22 shall he here do? Jesus said unto him: If I will have him to 23 tarry till I come, what is that to thee? follow thou me. Then went this saying abroad among the brethren, that that disciple should not die. And* Jesus said not to him, he shall not die: but if I will that he tarry till I come, what is that to thee?
24 The same disciple is he, which testifieth of these things, and wrote these things. And we know, that his testimony is true.
25 There are also many other things which Jesus did: the which if they should be written every one, I suppose the world could not contain the books that should be written.

Here endeth the Gospell off Saint John.

The Act Of The Apostles.

In my first* treatise (Dear friend Theophilus) I have written of all that Jesus began to do and teach, until the day in the which he was taken up, after that he thow the holy ghost, had given commandments unto the apostles, which he chose:* to whom also he shewed himself alive, after his passion by many tokens, appearing unto them forty days, and spake* of the kingdom of God, and gathered them together, and commanded them, that they should not depart from Jerusalem: but to wait for the promise of the father, whereof ye have heard of me. For John baptised with water but ye shall be baptised with the holy ghost, and that within this few days. When they were come together, they asked of him, saying: Master* wilt thou at this time restore again the kingdom to Israel? * He said unto them: It is not for you to know the times, or the seasons which the father hath put in his own power: but ye shall receive power of the holy ghost which shall come on you. And ye shall be witnesses unto me in Jerusalem, and in all Jewry, and in Samary, and even unto the world's end. And when he had spoken these things, while they beheld he was taken up, and a cloud received him up out of their sight. And as* they fastened their eyes in* heaven, as he went, lo* two men stood by them in white clothing,* which also said: ye men of Galilee, why stand ye gazing up into heaven?
This same Jesus which is taken up from you into heaven, shall so come, even as ye have seen him go into heaven. Then returned they unto Jerusalem from mount Olivete, which is nye to Jerusalem, containing a Sabbath day's journey. And when they were come in, they went up into a parlour, where abode both Peter and James, John and Andrew, Philip and Thomas, Bartlemew and Matthew, James the son of Alpheus, and Simon Zelotes, and Judas James' son. These all continued with one accord, in prayer, and supplication with the women, and Mary the mother of Jesu. And with his brethren. And in those days Peter stood up in the midst of the disciples and said

1. v.1 Other: the former. v.2 Other: had chosen:. v.3 Other: speaking. v.6 Other: Lord. v.7 Other: And. v.10 Other: while. v.10 Other: looked steadfastly up to. v.10 Other: behold. v.10 Other: apparel.

(The number of names were* about an hundred and twenty) 16 Ye men and brethren, this scripture must* needs be* fulfilled which the holy ghost thorow the mouth of David spake before 17 of Judas, which was guide to them that took Jesus. For he was now numbered with us and* obtained fellowship in this minist-18 tration. And the same hath now possessed a plot of ground with the reward of iniquity. And when he was hanged, burst 19 asunder in the midst, and all his bowels gushed out. And it is known unto all the inhabitors of Jerusalem. Insomuch that that field is called in their mother tongue, Acheldema, that is 20 to say the blood field. It is written in the book of psalms: His habitation be void, and no man be dwelling therein: and his 21 bishoprick let another take. Wherefore of these men which have companied with us (all the time that the Lord Jesus went 22 out and in among us, beginning at the baptism of John unto that same day that he was taken up from us) must one be or-23 dained to be a* witness with us of his resurrection. And they appointed two, Joseph called Barsabas (whose surname was 24 Justus) and Matthias. And they prayed saying: Thou Lord which knowest the hearts of all men, shew whether thou hast 25 chosen of these two, that the one may take the room of this ministration, and apostleship from the which Judas by trans-26 gression fell, that he might go to his own place. And they gave forth their lots, and the lot fell on Mathias. And he was counted with the eleven apostles.

II When the fiftieth day was come, they were all with one ac-2 cord gathered together in one place. And suddenly there came a sound from heaven as it had been the coming of a mighty 3 wind, and it filled all the house where they sat. And there appeared unto them cloven tongues,* as they had been fire, 4 and it sat upon each of them: and they were all filled with the holy ghost, and began to speak with other tongues, even 5 as the spirit gave them utterance. * There were dwelling at Jerusalem jews, devout men, which were of all nations under 6 heaven. When this was noised about, the multitude came together and were astonied, because that every man heard them 7 speak his own tongue. They wondered all, and marveled saying among themselves: Look,* are not all these which speak of v.15 Other: that were together, were. v.16 Other: have. v.16 Other: been.

v.17 Other: had. v.22 Other: bear. 2. v.3 Other: like. v.5 Other: And. v.7 Other: Behold.

Galilee? And how hear we every man his own tongue wherein 8 we were born? Parthians, Medes, and Elamites and the in- 9 habitants of Mesopotamia, of Jury,* Capadocia,* Ponthus, and of Asia; Phrigia, Pamphlia, and of Egypt, and of the parts of 10 Libia, which is beside Syrene; And strangers of Rome; Jews 11 and Proselytes,* Greeks and Arabians: We have heard them speak with our own tongues the great works of God. They 12 were all amazed, and wondered saying one to another: what meaneth this? Other mocked them saying: They are full of 13 new wine. * Peter stepped forth with the eleven, and lift up 14 his voice, and said unto them: Ye men of Jewry, and all ye that inhabit Jerusalem: be this known unto you, and with your ears hear my words. These are not drunken, as ye wene:* 15 For it is yet but the third hour of the day: but this is that 16 which was spoken by the prophet Joel: It shall be in the last 17 days (saith God) of my spirit I will pour out upon all flesh.
 And your sons, and your daughters shall prophesy,* your young men shall see visions. And your old men shall dream dreams.
 And on my servants, and on my hand maidens I will pour out 18 of my spirit in those days; And they shall prophesy. And I 19 will shew wonders in heaven above, and tokens in the earth beneath, blood and fire, and the vapour of smoke. The sun 20 shall be turned into darkness, and the moon into blood, before that great, and notable day of the Lord come. And the time 21 shall come* that whosoever shall call on the name of the Lord, shall be saved. Ye men of Israel, hear these words. Jesus of 22 Nazareth, a man approved of God among you with miracles and wonders, and signs which God did by him in the midst of you, as ye yourselves know: him have ye taken by the 23 hands of unrighteous persons, after he was delivered by the determinate counsel and foreknowledge of God, and have crucified and slain him, whom God hath raised up and loosed* 24 the sorrows of death, because it was impossible that he should be holden of it. * David speaketh of him: Aforehand, saw 25 I God always before me: For he is on my right hand, that I should not be moved. Therefore did my heart rejoyce, and my 26 tongue was glad. Moreover also, my flesh shall rest in hope v.9 Other: and of. v.9 Other: of. v.11 Other: converts. v.14 Other: But.

 v.15 Other: suppose. v.17 Other: and. v.21 Other: it shall be. v.24 Other: lowsed. v.25 Other: For.

27 because thou shalt* not leave my soul in hell, neither shalt* 28 suffer thy saint* to see corruption. Thou hast shewed me the ways of life; Thou* shalt make me full of joy with thy coun-29 tenance. Men and brethren, let me freely speak unto you of the patriarch David: For he is both dead and buried, and his 30 sepulchre remaineth with us unto his day. Therefore since* he was a prophet, and knew that God had sworn with an oath 31 to him, that the fruit of his loins should sit on his seat:* He saw before, and spake of the resurrection of Christ, that his soul should not be left in hell: neither his flesh should see cor-32 ruption. This Jesus hath God raised up, whereof we all are 33 witnesses. Since now that he by the right hand of God exalted is, and hath received of the father the promise of the holy Ghost, he hath shed forth that (gift) which ye now see and hear.
34 For David is not ascended into heaven, but he said: The Lord 35 said to my Lord sit on my right hand, until I make thy foes, 36 thy foot stool. So therefore let all the house of Israel know for a surety, that God hath made the same Jesus whom ye have 37 crucified, Lord and Christ. When they heard this, they were pricked in their hearts, and said unto Peter, and unto the other 38 apostles: Ye men and brethren, what shall we do? Peter said unto them: Repent and be baptised every one of you in the name of Jesus Christ; For the remission of sins, and ye shall 39 receive the gift of the holy ghost. For the promise was made unto you, and to your children, and to all that are afar, even as 40 many as our* Lord God shall call. And with many other words bare he witness, and exhorted them saying: Save yourselves 41 from this untoward generation. * They that gladly received his preaching were baptised; And the same day, there were 42 added unto them about a three thousand souls. And they continued in the Apostles' doctrine and fellowship, and in break-43 ing of bread, and in prayer. And fear came over every soul.
And many wonders and signs were shewed by the apostles. (at 44 Ierusalem. And great fear came upon all men) And all that believed gathered then* together, and had all things common.
45 And sold their possessions and goods, and departed them to 46 all men, as every man had need. And they continued daily v.27 Other: wilt. v.27 Other: wilt. v.27 Other: thine holy. v.28 Other: and.

v.30 Other: seeing. v.30 Other: (in that Christ should rise again in the flesh).
v.39 Other: the. v.41 Other: Then. v.44 Other: kept themselves.

with one accord in the temple, and brake bread in every house, and ate* their meat together with gladness, and singleness of heart praising God, and had favour with all the people, and the Lord added to the congregation daily them that* should be saved. 47

Peter and John went up together into the temple at the ninth hour of prayer: And there was a certain man halt from his mother's womb, whom they brought and laid at the gate of the temple called beautiful, to ask his alms of them that entered into the temple. * When he saw Peter and John, that they would into the temple, he desired to receive an alms; * Peter fastened his eyes on him with John and said: look on us, and he gave heed unto them, trusting to receive something of them. Then said Peter: Silver and gold have I none, such as I have give I thee. In the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth, rise up and walk. And he took him by the right hand, and lifted him up. And immediately his feet and anklebones received strength, and he sprang, stood, and also walked, and entered with them into the temple walking, and leaping, and lauding God. And all the people saw him walk and laud God. And they knew him, that it was he which sat and begged at the beautiful gate of the temple. And they wondered, and were sore astonied at that which had happened unto him. * As the halt which was healed held Peter and John, all the people ran amazed unto them in Solomon's hall.* When Peter saw that, he answered unto the people: Ye men of Israel, why marvel ye at this? Or why look ye so steadfastly on us, as though by our own power, or holiness we had made this man go? * God of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, the God of our fathers hath glorified his son Jesus, whom ye betrayed,* and denied in the presence of Pilate, when he had judged him to be loosed:* but ye denied the holy and just, and desired that he should give you a murderer,* and killed the Lord of life whom God hath raised from death, of the which we are witnesses: And his name thorow the faith of his name hath made this man sound whom ye see and know. And the faith which is by him, hath to this man* given this health, in the presence of you all. And now 17

v.46 Other: did eat. v.47 Other: such as. 3. v.3 Other: Which same. v.4 Other: And. v.11 Other: And. v.11 Other: porch. v.13 Other: The. v.13 Other: delivered. v.13 Other: lowsed. v.14 Other: and desired a murderer to be given you. v.16 Other: him.

brethren I wot well that thorow ignorance ye have done* it, 18 as did also your heads. But* God which* shewed before by the mouth of all his prophets* that Christ should suffer,* hath thus 19 wise fulfilled it. Repent ye therefore and turn that your sins may be done away when the time of comfort* cometh, which 20 we shall have of the presence of the Lord, and when God shall 21 send him, which before was preached unto you, that is to wit Jesus Christ, which must heaven receive* until the time that all things be restored again, which God hath spoken by the 22 mouth of all his holy prophets since the world began.* For Moses said unto the fathers: A prophet shall your* Lord* God raise up unto you, one* of your brethren, like unto me, him shall ye hear in all things whatsoever he shall say unto you.
 23 For the time will come, that every soul which shall not hear 24 that same prophet, shall be exiled* from* the people. Also all the prophets from Samuel, and thenceforth, as many as have 25 spoken, have in likewise told of these days. Ye are the children of the prophets, and to you pertaineth the testament that* God hath made unto our fathers saying to Abraham: Even in 26 thy seed shall all the kindreds of the earth be blessed. First unto you hath God raised up his son Jesus, and him he hath sent to bless you, that every one of you should turn from his* wickedness.

IV As they spake unto the people, the priests and the ruler 2 of the temple, and the sadducees came upon them, taking* grievously that they taught the people and preached in the 3 name of Jesus* the resurrection from death. And they laid hands on them, and put them in hold until the next day. For 4 it was now eventide. * Many of them which heard the words believed, and the number of the men was about five thousand.
 5 * It chanced on the morrow that their rulers, and seniors,* and 6 scribes, as Annas the chief priest, and Caiaphas, and John and Alexander, and as many as were of the kindred of the high 7 priest, were gathered together at Jerusalem, and set them in v.17 Other: did. v.18 Other: those things which. v.18 Other: had. v.18 Other: how.

 v.18 Other: he. v.19 Other: refreshing. v.21 Other: receive heaven. v.21 Other: ,be restored again. v.22 Other: the. v.22 Other: your. v.22 Other: even. v.23 Other: destroyed. v.23 Other: among. v.25 Other: and of the covenant, which. v.26 Other: your. 4. v.2 Other: it. v.2 Other: in Iesus. v.4 Other: Howbeit. v.5 Other: And.
 v.5 Other: elders.

the midst,* and asked by what power, or in what name have ye done this sirs? Then Peter full of the holy ghost said unto 8 them. Ye rulers of the people, and seniors* of Israel, if we 9 this day are examined of the good deed done to the sick man by what means he is made whole: be it known unto you all, 10 and to all the people of Israel, that in the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth, whom ye crucified, and whom God raised from death again, this man standeth* here present before you whole.
 This is the stone cast aside of you builders which is set in the 11 chief place of the corner. Neither is there health* in any other. 12 Nor yet also is there any other name given to men wherein we must be saved. When they saw the boldness of Peter and 13 John; And knew* that they were unlearned men and lay people, they marveled, and they knew them, that they were with Jesu: Seeing* also the man which was healed standing with 14 them, they could not say against it, but* commanded them to 15 go aside out of the council; And communed* among themselves saying: what shall we do to these men? For a manifest sign 16 is done by them, and is openly known to all them that dwell in Jerusalem, and we cannot deny it: But that it be noised 17 no farther among the people, let us threaten and charge them that they speak henceforth to no man in this name. And they 18 called them, and commanded them that in no wise they should speak or teach in the name of Jesu. But Peter and John an- 19 swered unto them and said: whether it be right in the sight of God to obey you more than God judge ye. For we cannot but 20 speak that which we have seen and heard. So threatened they 21 them and let them go; And found no thing how to punish them, because of the people: For all men lauded God for the miracle which was done. For the man was above forty year old, on 22 whom this miracle of healing was shewed. As soon as they 23 were let go they came to their fellows, and shewed all that the high priests and seniors* had said.* * When they heard that, 24 with one mind* they lift* up their voices to God and said: Lord, thou art God which hast made heaven and earth, the sea and all that in them is, which (in the holy ghost) by the mouth of 25

v.7 Other: set the other before them. v.8 Other: elders. v.10 Other: even by him doth this man stand. v.12 Other: salvation. v.13 Other: understood. v.14 Other: and beholding. v.15 Other: they. v.15 Other: counsell and counceled. v.23 Other: elders. v.23 Other: to them.: v.24 Other: And. v.24 Other: accord. v.24 Other: lifted.

thy servant David (our father) hast said: Why did the heathen 26 grudge,* and the people imagine vain things. The kings of the earth stood up and the rulers came together against the 27 Lord; And against his Christ. For of a truth against thy holy child Jesus, whom thou hast anointed, both Herod and also Pontius Pilate with the gentiles, and the people of Israel, gath-28 ered themselves to gether (in this city) for to do whatsoever 29 thy hand and thy counsel determined before to be done. And now Lord behold their threatenings, and grant unto thy ser-30 vants with all confidence to speak thy word. So that thou stretch forth thy* hand that healing, and signs, and wonders 31 be done by the name of thy holy child Jesus. And as soon as they had prayed, the place moved where they were assembled together, and they were all filled with the holy Ghost, and 32 they spake the word of God boldly. * The multitude of them that believed, were of one heart; And of one soul. Also none of them said, that any thing of those* which he possessed was his 33 own: But had all things common. And with great power gave the apostles witness of the resurrection of the Lord Jesu. And 34 great grace was with them all. Neither was there any among them that lacked. For as many as were possessors of lands or houses, sold them and brought the price of the things that 35 were sold, and laid it down at the apostles' feet. And distribu-36 tion was made unto every man according as he had need. And Joses which was also called of the apostles Barnabas (that is to say the son of consolation, being a Levite, and of the country of 37 Cipers) had land, and sold it, and laid the price down at the apostles' feet.

V A certain man named Ananias with Saphira his wife sold 2 a possession, and kept away part of the price (his wife also being of counsel) and brought a certain part, and laid it down 3 at the apostles' feet. Then said Peter: Ananias how is it that Satan hath filled thine heart, that thou shouldest lie unto the holy ghost, and keep away part of the price of thy* livelihood: 4 Pertained it not unto thee only? And after it was sold, was not the price in thine own power? How is it that thou hast conceived this thing in thine heart? Thou hast not lied unto men, 5 but unto God. When Ananias heard these words, he fell down v.25 Other: rage. v.30 Other: thine. v.32 Other: And. v.32 Other: of the things.

 5. v.3 Other: the.

and gave up the ghost. And great fear came on all them that these things heard. And the young men rose up, and put him 6 apart, and carried him out, and buried him. * It fortun'd as 7 it were about the space of three hours after, that his wife came in ignorant of that which was done. * Peter said unto her: Tell 8 me, sold* ye the land for so much? And she said: yea for so much. * Peter said unto her: why have ye agreed together, 9 to tempt the spirit of the Lord? Lo,* the feet of them which have buried thy husband are at the door, and shall carry thee out; Then she fell down straightway at his feet and yielded up 10 the ghost.* The young men came in and found her dead, and carried her out and buried her by her husband. And great 11 fear came on all the congregation. And on as many as heard it. By the hands of the apostles were many signs and wonders 12 shewed among the people. And they were all together with one accord in Solomon's hall.* And of other durst no man join 13 himself to them: but* the people magnified them. The number of them that believed in the Lord both of men and women grew more and more insomuch that they brought their* sick 15 into the streets, and laid them on beds and pallets, that at the least way the shadow of Peter when he came by, might shadow some of them. (and that they might all be delivered from their infirmities) There came also a multitude out of the 16 cities round about unto Jerusalem, bringing with them sick* and them which were vexed with unclean spirits. And they were healed every one. * The chief priest rose up and* they 17 that were with him (which is the sect of the sadducees) and were full of indignation, and laid hands on the apostles, and 18 put them in the common prison: but the angel of the Lord 19 by night opened the prison door,* and brought them forth, and said: go step forth, and speak in the temple to the people all 20 the words of this life. When they heard that, they entered 21 into the temple early in the morning and taught. The chief priest came and they that were with him and called a council together, and all the seniors* of the children of Israel, and sent to the prison to fetch them. When the ministers came and 22

v.7 Other: And. v.8 Other: And. v.8 Other: gave. v.9 Other: Then. v.9 Other: Behold. v.10 Other: And. v.12 Other: Salomons porch. v.13 Other: neverthelater. v.15 Other: the. v.16 Other: folks. v.17 Other: Then. v.17 Other: all. v.19 Other: doors. v.21 Other: elders.

23 found them not in the prison, they came again* and told saying: The prison found we shut with all diligence,* and the keepers standing without before the doors: but when we had opened 24 we found no man within. When the chief priest of all and the ruler of the temple, and the high priests heard these things, 25 they doubted of them, whereunto this would grow. Then came one and shewed them: Lo* the men that ye put in prison stand 26 in the temple, and preach to* the people. Then went the ruler of the temple with ministers, and brought them without violence. For they feared the people lest they should have been 27 stoned. And when they had brought them, they set them be-28 fore the council. And the chief priest asked them saying: did not we straitly command you that ye should not teach in this name? and behold ye have filled Jerusalem with your doctrine, 29 and ye intend to bring this man's blood upon us. Peter and the other apostles answered, and said: We ought more to obey 30 God than men. The God of our fathers raised up Jesus, whom 31 ye slew and hanged on tree. Him being a ruler and a saviour hath God exalted with his right hand,* for to give repentance to 32 Israel and forgiveness of sins. And we are his records as concerning these things: and also the holy ghost, whom God hath 33 given to them that obey him. When they heard that they clave 34 asunder, and sought means to slay them. Then stood there up one in the council, a pharisee named Gamaliel, a doctor of law, had in authority among* the people and commanded to put the 35 apostles aside a little space, and said unto them: Men of Israel take heed to yourselves what ye intend to do as touching these 36 men. Before these days rose up one Theudas boasting* himself, to whom resorted a number of men, about a four hundred, which was slain, and they all which believed him were scat-37 tered abroad, and brought to nought. After this man arose there up one Judas of Galilee, in the time when tribute began, and drew away much people after him. He also perished: and all even as many as harkened to him are scattered a broad.
 38 And now I say unto you: refrain yourselves from these men, let them alone: For if this* counsel or* work be of men, it will 39 come to nought: but and if it be of God, ye cannot destroy v.22 Other: returned. v.23 Other: as sure as was possible. v.25 Other: behold. v.25 Other: teach. v.31 Other: Him hath God lift up with his right hand, to be a ruler and a saviour. v.34 Other: all. v.36 Other: boosting. v.38 Other: the.

 v.38 Other: this.

it, lest haply ye be found to strive against God. And to him 40 they agreed, and called the apostles, and beat them, and commanded that they should not speak in the name of Jesu, and let them go. And they departed from the council rejoicing that 41 they were counted worthy to suffer rebuke for his name. And 42 daily in the temple, and in every house they ceased not, teaching and preaching Jesus Christ.

In those days as the number of the disciples grew, there VI arose a grudge among the greeks against the hebrews, because their widows were despised in the daily ministration. Then 2 the twelve called the multitude of the disciples together and said: it is not meet that we should leave the word of God and serve at the tables, wherefore brethren look ye out among you 3 seven men of honest report, and full of the holy ghost and wisdom, which we may appoint to this needful business: but we 4 will give ourselves continually to prayer, and to the ministration of the word. And the saying pleased the whole multi- 5 tude well. And they chose Stephen a man full of faith, and of the holy ghost, and Philip, and Prochorus, and Nichanor, and Timon, and Permenas, and Nicholas a proselyte* of Antioch, which they set before the apostles, and they prayed and laid 6 their hands on them. And the word of God increased, and the 7 number of the disciples multiplied in Jerusalem greatly. And a great company of the priests were obedient to the faith. * 8 Stephen full of faith and power did great wonders, and miracles among the people. Then there arose certain of the Syna- 9 gogue, which are called libertines, and Sirenens, and Alexandrians,* and Cilicilians,* and Asians,* and disputed with Steven. And 10 they could not resist the wisdom, and the spirit, with which he spake. Then sent they in men which said: we have heard him 11 speak blasphemous words against Moses, and against God, and they moved the people, and the seniors,* and the scribes: 12 and they came upon him and caught him, and brought him to the council, and brought forth false witnesses which said: 13 This man ceaseth not to speak blasphemous words against this holy place and the law, for we heard him say: This Jesus of 14 Nazareth shall destroy this place, and shall change the ordinances which Moses gave unto us. And all that sat in the 15

6. v.5 Other: convert. v.8 Other: And. v.9 Other: of Alexandria. v.9 Other: of Cilicia. v.9 Other: of Asia. v.12 Other: elders.

council looked steadfastly on him, and saw his face as it had been the face of an angel.

VII, 2 Then said the chief priest: is it even so? And he said: ye men, brethren, and fathers, hearken to. The God of glory appeared unto our father Abraham while he was yet in Mesopotamia, 3 before he dwelt in Charran, and said unto him: come out of thy country, and from thy kindred, and come into the land 4 which I shall shew unto thee. Then came he out of the land of Caldey,* and dwelt in Charran. And after that as soon as his father was dead, he brought him into this land, wherein* ye now 5 dwell, and he gave him none inheritance in it, no not one foot of ground.* And* promised that he would give it to him* and to 6 his seed after him, when as yet he had no child. God verily spake on this wise, thy* seed shall* be a dweller in a strange land, and* they shall put* them in bondage, and entreat them 7 evil four hundred years. And* the nation to whom they shall be in bondage, will I judge (said God) and after that shall they 8 come forth, and serve me in this place. And* gave him the testament* of circumcision, and he begat Isaac, and circumcised him the eighth day, and Isaac begat Jacob, and Jacob the 9 twelve patriarchs. And the patriarchs having indignation sold 10 Joseph into Egypt, and God was with him, and delivered him out of all his adversities, and gave him favour and wisdom in the sight of Pharaoh king of Egypt; And Pharaoh* made him 11 governor over Egypt, and over all his household. Then came there a dearth over all the land of Egypt, and Canaan, and 12 great affliction, that our fathers found no sustenance. * When Jacob heard that there was corn in Egypt, he sent our fathers 13 first, and when he had sent them the* second time, Joseph was known of his brethren, and Joseph's kindred was made 14 known unto Pharaoh. Then sent Joseph and caused his father to be brought and all his kin, three score and fifteen souls. 15 And Jacob descended into Egypt, and died both he and our fathers, 16 and were translated into Sichem, and were put in the sepulchre that Abraham bought for money of the sons of Emor, 17 at Sichem. When the time of the promise drew nye (which

7. v.4 Other: Chaldey. v.4 Other: in which. v.5 Other: the breadth of a foot. v.5 Other: :but. v.5 Other: to possess. v.6 Other: that this. v.6 Other: should. v.6 Other: that. v.6 Other: should keep. v.7 Other: But. v.8 Other: he. v.8 Other: covenant. v.10 Other: which. v.12 Other: But. v.13 Other: at.

God had promised with an oath* to Abraham) the people grew and multiplied in Egypt till another king arose which knew 18 not of Joseph. The same dealt subtly with our kindred, and 19 evil intreated our fathers, and made them to cast out their* children, that they should not remain alive. The same time 20 was Moses born, and was a proper child in the sight of God, which was nourished up in his father's house three months.
 When he was cast out Pharaoh's daughter took him up, and 21 nourished him up for her own son. And Moses was learned in 22 all manner wisdom of the Egyptians, and was mighty in deeds and in words. * When he was full forty year old, it came into 23 his heart to visit his brethren, the children of Israel. And 24 when he saw one of them suffer wrong, he defended him, and avenged his quarrel that had the harm done to him, and smote the Egyptian. For he supposed his brethren would have un- 25 derstood how that God by his hands should give them health:* but they understood not. And the next day he shewed him- 26 self unto them as they strove, and would have set them at one again saying: Sirs ye are brethren why hurt ye one another?
 But he that did his neighbour wrong, thrust him away saying: 27
 Who made thee a ruler and a judge among us? What wilt 28 thou kill me, as thou didst the Egyptian yesterday? Then fled 29 Moses at that word,* and was a stranger in the land of Madian;
 Where he begat two sons. * When forty years were expired, 30 there appeared to him in the wilderness of mount Sina the* angel of the Lord in a flame of fire in a bush. When Moses 31 saw it he wondered at the sight, and as he drew near to behold it. And the voice of the Lord came unto him: I am the God 32 of thy fathers, the God of Abraham, the God of Isaac and the God of Jacob. Moses trembled and durst not behold. Then 33 said the Lord to him put off thy shoes from thy feet, for the place where thou standest is holy ground. I have perfectly 34 seen the affliction of my people which is in Egypt, and I have heard their groaning, and am come down to deliver them. And now come and I will send thee into Egypt. The same* Moses 35 whom they forsook saying: who made the a ruler and a judge:* God sent both a ruler and a deliverer, by the hands of the an-v.17 Other: sworn. v.19 Other: young. v.23 Other: And. v.25 Other: save them. v.29 Other: saying. v.30 Other: And. v.30 Other: an. v.35 Other:

 This. v.35 Other: the same.

36 gel which appeared to him in the bush. This man* brought them out shewing wonders and signs in Egypt, and in the reed 37 sea, and in the wilderness forty years. This is that Moses which said unto the children of Israel: A prophet shall your* Lord God raise up unto you of your brethren like unto me, him 38 shall ye hear. This is he that was in the congregation, in the wilderness with the angel which spake to him in the mount Sina, and with our fathers. This man received the word of 39 life to give unto us, to whom our fathers would not obey: But cast it from them, and in their hearts turned back again into 40 Egypt, saying unto Aaron: Make us gods to go before us. For we wot not what is become of this Moses that brought us out 41 of the land of Egypt. And they made a calf in those days, and offered sacrifice unto the image, and rejoiced in the works of 42 their own hands. Then God turned himself, and gave them up, that they should worship the stars of the sky, as it is written in the book of the prophets: O ye of the house of Israel: have ye given unto me offerings or sacrifice,* by the space of 43 forty years in the wilderness? And ye took unto you the tabernacle of Moloch, and the star of your god Remphan, figures which ye made to worship them. And I will translate you be-44 yond Babylon. Our fathers had the tabernacle of testimony* in the wilderness, as he had appointed them speaking unto Moses, that he should make it according to the fashion that he 45 had seen, which tabernacle our fathers received, and brought it in with Josue into the possession of the gentiles, which gentiles God drave out before the face of our fathers unto the time 46 of David, which found favour before God, and desired that he might find* a tabernacle for the God of Jacob. And* Solomon 48 built him an house. But* he that is highest of all dwelleth not 49 in temples made with hands, as saith the prophet: Heaven is my seat, and earth is my foot stool, what house will ye build 50 for me saith the Lord? or what resting place? * hath not my 51 hand made all these things? Ye stiffnecked and of uncircumcised hearts and ears: ye have always* resisted the holy ghost: 52 as your fathers did, so do ye. Which of the prophets have

v.36 Other: And the same. v.37 Other: the. v.42 Other: gave ye to me sacrifices and meat offerings. v.44 Other: witness. v.46 Other: would faine have made. v.47 Other: But. v.48 Other: Howbeit. v.49 Other: or what place is it that I should rest in?. v.51 Other: all ways.

not your fathers persecuted? And they have slain them, which shewed before of the coming of that Just, whom ye have betrayed and murdered. And ye also have received a law by the ordinance of angels, and have not kept it. When they heard these things, their hearts clave asunder, and they gnashed on him with their teeth. * He being full of the holy ghost looked up* with his eyes into heaven and saw the majesty* of God, and Jesus standing on the right hand of God, and said: lo,* I see the heavens open, and the son of man stand* on the right hand of God. Then they gave a shout with a loud voice, and stopped their ears and all ran upon him at once, and cast him out of the city, and stoned him. And the witnesses laid down their clothes at a young man's feet named Saul. And they stoned Steven calling on and saying: Lord Jesu receive my spirit. And he kneeled down and cried with a loud voice: Lord impute not this sin unto them;* For they wot not what they do. And when he had thus spoken he fell asleep.

Saul had pleasure in his death.* At that time there was a great persecution against the congregation which was at Jerusalem, and they were all scattered abroad thorowout the regions of Jury and Samaria, except the apostles. Then devout men dressed Steven, and made great lamentation over him. * Saul made havoc of the congregation entering into every house, and drew out both man and woman, and thrust them into prison. * They that were scattered abroad went every where preaching the word. Then came Philip into a city of Samaria, and preached Christ unto them. And the people gave heed unto those things which Philip spake with one accord, in that they heard and saw the miracles which he did. For unclean spirits crying with loud voice, came out of many which* were possessed of them.* Many taken with palsies, and many that halted were healed. And there was great joy in that city. And there was a certain man called Simon, which beforetime in the same city, used witchcraft and bewitched the people,* saying that he was a man that could do great things. Whom they regarded, from the least to the greatest saying:

VIII

v.55 Other: But. v.55 Other: steadfastly. v.55 Other: glory. v.56 Other: behold. v.56 Other: standing. v.60 Other: lord lay not this sin to their charge. 8. v.1 Other: And. v.3 Other: But. v.4 Other: Howbeit. v.7 Other: that. v.7 Other: And. v.9 Other: of Samaria.

11 this is that power of God, which is called great.* * Him they set much by, because of long time with sorcery he had deluded* 12 their wits. * As soon as they believed Philip's preaching of the kingdom of God and of the name of Jesu Christ, they were bap-13 tised both men and women. Then Simon himself believed,* and was baptised. And continued with Philip, and wondered 14 beholding the miracles and signs, which were shewed. When the apostles which were at Jerusalem heard say that Samaria had received the word of God: they sent unto them Peter and 15 John, which when they were come, prayed for them, that they 16 might receive the holy ghost. For as yet he was come on none of them: But they were baptised only in the name of Christ 17 Jesu. Then laid they their hands on them, and they received 18 the holy ghost. When Simon saw that thorow laying on of the apostles' hands on them, the holy ghost was given: he offered 19 them money saying: Give me also this power, that on whom-20 soever I lay* hands, he may receive the holy ghost. Then said Peter unto him: Perish thou and thy money together.* For thou 21 wenest that the gift of God may be obtained with money? thou hast neither part nor fellowship in this business. For thy heart 22 is not right in the sight of God. Repent therefore of this thy wickedness, and pray God that the thought of thine heart may 23 be forgiven thee. For I perceive that thou art full of bitter 24 gall, and wrapped in iniquity. Then answered Simon and said:
 Pray ye to the Lord for me that none of these things which ye 25 have spoken fall on me. And they when they had testified, and preached the word of the Lord returned to* Jerusalem and 26 preached the gospel in many cities of the Samaritans. Then the angel of the Lord spake unto Philip saying: Arise and go towards midday unto the way which leadeth* from Jerusalem 27 unto Gaza, which is in the desert. * He arose and went on, and behold a man of Ethiopia which was gelded,* and of great authority with Candace queen of the Ethiopians, which* had 28 the rule of all her treasure, came to Jerusalem for to pray. * As he returned home again sitting in his chariot he read Esay the v.10 Other: this fellow is the great power of God. v.11 Other: And. v.11 Other: mocked. v.12 Other: But. v.13 Other: also. v.19 Other: put the. v.20 Other: thy money perish with thee, because thou. v.25 Other: toward. v.26 Other: that goeth down. v.27 Other: And. v.27 Other: a chamberlain. v.27 Other: and. v.28 Other:

 And.

prophet. * The spirit said unto Philip: Go near and join thy- 29 self to yonder chariot. * Philip ran to him, and heard him read 30 Esay the prophet and said: Understandest thou what thou readest? And he said: how can I, except I had a guide? And he 31 desired Philip that he would come up and sit with him. The 32 tenor of the scripture which he read was this. He was led as a sheep to be slain: And like a lamb dumb before his shearer, so opened he not his mouth, in that he submitted himself, his 33 judgement was exalted: * who shall declare his generation? for his life is taken from the earth. The gelded man * answered 34 Philip and said: I pray thee of whom speaketh the prophet this? of himself? or of some other man? * Philip opened his 35 mouth, and began at the same scripture, and preached unto him Jesus. And as they went on their way, they came unto 36 a certain water, and the gelded man * said: See here is water, what shall let me to be baptised? Philip said unto him: If 37 thou believe with all thine heart, thou mayst. He answered saying: * I believe that Jesus Christ is the son of God. And * 38 commanded the chariot to stand still. And they went down both into the water: both Philip and also the gelded man. * And he baptised him. * As soon as they were come out of the wa- 39 ter the spirit of the Lord caught away Philip. And * the gelded man * saw him no more. And he went on his way rejoicing: but Philip was found at Azotus. And he walked thorow out the 40 country preaching in their cities, till he came to Cesarea.

* Saul yet breathing out threatenings and slaughter against IX the disciples of the Lord, went unto the high priest, and de- 2 sired of him letters to Damasco, to the synagogues: that if he found any of this way whether they were men or women, he might bring them bound unto Jerusalem. * As he went on his 3 journey, it fortun'd that he drew nye to Damasco, * and suddenly there shined round about him a light from heaven. And 4 he fell to the earth, and heard a voice saying to him: Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me? And he said what art thou Lord? * 5
 The Lord said, I am Jesus whom thou persecutest, it shall be

v.29 Other: Then. v.30 Other: And. v.33 Other: Because of his humbleness, he was not esteemed.: v.34 Other: chamberlain. v.35 Other: And. v.36 Other: chamberlain. v.37 Other: and said.: v.38 Other: he. v.38 Other: chamberlain. v.39 Other: And. v.39 Other: that. v.39 Other: chamberlain. 9. v.1 Other: And. v.3 Other: But. v.3 Other: as he journeyed and was come nye to Damasco. v.5 Other: And.

6 hard for thee to kick against the prick. * He both trembling and astonied said: Lord what wilt thou have me to do? And the Lord said unto him: Arise and go into the city, and it shall be 7 told thee what thou shalt do. The men which accompanied* him on his way stood amazed, for they heard a voice, but saw 8 no man. * Saul arose from the earth; And when he had opened his eyes he* saw no man. Then led they him by the hand, and 9 brought him into Damasco. And he was three days without 10 sight, and neither ate nor drank. * There was a certain disciple at Damasco named Ananias,* to him said the Lord in 11 a vision: Ananias. And he said:* I am here Lord. And the Lord said to him: arise and go into the street which is called straight, and seek in the house of Judas after one called Saul of 12 the city of Tharsus. For behold he prayeth; And hath seen in a vision a man named Ananias coming in unto him; And putting 13 his hands on him, that he might receive his sight. * Ananias answered: Lord I have heard by many of this man, how much 14 hurt* he hath done to thy saints at Jerusalem: and in this place* he hath authority of the high priests to bind all that call 15 on thy name. The Lord said unto him: Go thy ways: for he is a chosen vessel unto me, to bear my name before the gentiles, 16 and kings and the children of Israel: For I will shew him how 17 great things he must suffer for my name's sake. Ananias went his way and entered into the house and put his hands on him and said: brother Saul, the Lord that appeared unto thee in the way as thou camest, hath sent me, that thou mightest receive 18 thy sight and be filled with the holy ghost. And immediately there fell from his eyes as it had been scales and he received 19 his sight, and arose and was baptised. And received meat and was comforted. Then was Saul a certain days with the disci-20 ples which were at Damasco. And straightway he preached Christ in the Synagogues how that he was the son of God.
21 All that heard him were amazed and said: is not this he that spoiled them which called on this name in Jerusalem? And came hither for the intent that he should bring them bound 22 unto the high priests? * Saul increased in strength; And confounded the jews which dwelt at Damasco affirming that this v.6 Other: And. v.7 Other: journeyed with. v.8 Other: And. v.8 Other: but.

v.10 Other: And. v.10 Other: and. v.10 Other: behold. v.13 Other: Then.
v.13 Other: evil. v.14 Other: here. v.22 Other: But.

was very Christ. * After a good while, the jews took counsel 23 together among themselves to kill him. But their layings wait 24 were* known of Saul. And they watched at the gates day and night to kill him. Then the disciples took him by night, and 25 put him thorow the wall and let him down in a basket. * When 26 Saul came* to Jerusalem he assayed to couple himself with the disciples, and they were all afraid of him and believed not that he was a disciple. But Barnabas took him and brought him to 27 the apostles and told* them how he had seen the Lord in the way and had spoken with him: and how he had done boldly at Damasco in the name of Jesu; And he had his conversation 28 with them at Jerusalem, and quit himself boldly in the name 29 of the Lord Jesu. And he spake and disputed with the greeks and they went about to slay him. * When the brethren knew of 30 that, they brought him to Cesarea, and sent him forth to Tharsus. Then had the congregations rest thorowout all Jewry and 31 Galilee and Samary, and were edified, and walked in the fear of the Lord; And multiplied by the comfort of the holy ghost.
* It chanced that as Peter walked throughout all quarters, he 32 came to the saints which dwelt at Lydda. And there he found 33 a certain man named Eneas, which had kept his bed eight year sick of the palsy. Then said Peter unto him: Eneas, the Lord 34 Jesus Christ make thee whole: Arise and make thy bed. And he arose immediately. And all that dwelt at Lydda and As- 35 saron, saw him, and turned to the Lord. There was at Joppa a 36 certain woman (which was a disciple named Tabitha, which by interpretation is called Dorcas) she* was full of good works and alms deeds, which she did. * It chanced in those days that she 37 was sick and died. When they had washed her and laid her in a chamber: Because Lydda was nye to Joppa, and the disciples 38 had heard that Peter was there, they sent unto him, desiring him that he would not be grieved to come unto them. Peter 39 arose and came with them:* when he was come, they brought him into the chamber, and all the widows stood round about him weeping and shewing the coats and garments which Dorcas made while she was with them. * Peter put them all forth 40 and kneeled down and prayed and turned him to the body, and v.23 Other: And. v.24 Other: was. v.26 Other: And. v.26 Other: was come.

v.27 Other: declared to. v.30 Other: But. v.32 Other: And. v.36 Other: the same.
v.37 Other: And. v.39 Other: And. v.40 Other: And.

said: Tabitha, arise.* She opened her eyes, and when she saw 41 Peter she sat up. And he gave her his* hand and lift her up, 42 and called the saints and widows and shewed her alive. And it was known thorow out all Joppa, and many believed on the 43 Lord. And it fortunated that he tarried many days in Joppa with one Simon a tanner.

X There was a certain man in Cesarea called Cornelius, a cap-2 tain of the soldiers of Italy, a devout man, and one that feared God with all his household, which gave much alms to the peo-3 ple, and prayed God always. The same man saw in a vision evidently about the ninth hour of the day the* angel of God 4 coming in unto* him, and saying unto him: Cornelius, when he looked on him, he was afraid, and said: what is it Lord?
 He said unto him: Thy prayers and thy alms are come up into 5 remembrance in the presence of* God. And now send men 6 to Joppa, and call for one Simon named also Peter. He lodgeth with one Simon a tanner, whose house is by the seaside.
 7 He shall tell thee, what thou oughtest to do. When the angel which spake unto Cornelius was departed, he called two of his household,* and a devout soldier of them that waited on him, 8, 9 to whom he told* all the matter, and sent them to Joppa. On the morrow as they went on their journey and drew nye unto the city, Peter went up into the uppermost part* of the house 10 to pray, about the sixth hour. Then waxed he an hungered, and would have eaten;* while they made ready for him. He 11 fell into a trance, and saw heaven opened, and a certain vessel come down unto him, as it had been a great sheet, knit 12 at the four corners, and was let down to the earth, wherein were all manner of four footed beasts of the earth and vermin 13 and worms, and foulds of the air. And* a voice spake unto him 14 from heaven: Rise Peter Kill and eat. * Peter said: God forbid Lord, for I have never eaten any thing that is common or un-15 clean. And the voice spake unto him again the second time: 16 What God hath cleansed that make thou not common. This was done thrice; And the vessel was received up again into 17 heaven. While Peter mused in himself what this vision which he had seen meant, behold, the men which were sent from Cor-

v.40 Other: And. v.41 Other: the. 10. v.3 Other: an. v.3 Other: into. v.4 Other: before. v.7 Other: servants. v.8 Other: and told them. v.9 Other: upon the top. v.10 Other: But. v.13 Other: there came. v.14 Other: But.

nelius, had made inquirance for Simon's house, and stood before the door. And called out one and asked whether Simon which was also called Peter, were lodged there. While Peter thought on this vision, the spirit said unto him: Lo,* men seek thee: arise therefore, get thee down, and go with them, and doubt not. For I have sent them. Peter went down to the men which were sent unto him from Cornelius, and said: Lo,* I am he, whom ye seek, what is the cause wherefore ye are come? * They said unto him: Cornelius the captain a just man, and one that feareth God, and of good report among all the people of the jews was warned by an holy angel, to send for thee in to his house, and to hear words of thee. Then called he them in, and lodged them.* On the morrow Peter went* with them, and certain brethren from Joppa accompanied him. And the third day entered they into Cesaria.* Cornelius waited for them, and had called together his kinsmen, and special friends. And as it chanced Peter to come in; Cornelius met him, and fell down at his feet, and worshipped him. * Peter took him up, saying: * Even I myself am a man. And as he talked with him he came in, and found many that were come together. And he said unto them: Ye do know how that it is an unlawful thing for a man that is a jew to company or come unto an alien: But God hath shewed me that I should not call any man common or unclean: therefore came I unto you without scruple,* as soon as I was sent for. I ask therefore: for what intent have ye sent for me? And Cornelius said: This day now four days I fasted, and at the ninth hour I prayed in my house, and behold, a man stood before me in bright clothing, and said: Cornelius, thy prayer is heard, and thine alms deeds are had in remembrance in the sight of God. Send therefore to Joppa, and call for Simon which is also called Peter. He is lodged in the house of one Simon a tanner by the seaside, the which as soon as he is come, shall speak unto thee. Then sent I for thee immediately, and thou hast well done for to come. Now are we all here, present before God to hear all things that are commanded unto thee of God. * Peter opened his mouth* and said: Of a truth I perceive, that God is not partial, but in all people

v.19 Other: Behold. v.21 Other: Behold. v.22 Other: And. v.23 Other: And.
v.23 Other: away. v.24 Other: And. v.26 Other: But. v.26 Other: stand up: for.
v.29 Other: saying nay. v.34 Other: Then. v.34 Other: mought.

he that feareth* him and worketh righteousness, is accepted 36 with him. Ye know the preaching that God sent unto the children of Israel, preaching peace by Jesus Christe (which is Lord 37 over all things.) which preaching was published thorowout all Jewry, and began in Galilee, after the baptism preached by 38 John; After that* God had anointed Jesus of Nazareth with the holy ghost, and with power, he* went about doing good, and healing all that were oppressed with* devils, for God was 39 with him. And we are witnesses of all things which he did in the land of the jews and at Jerusalem, whom they slew, and 40 hung on tree. Him God raised up the third day, and shewed 41 him openly, not to all the people, but unto us witnesses chosen before of God, which ate and drank with him, after he arose 42 from death. And he commanded* us to preach unto the people and testify, that it is he that is ordained of God a judge of 43 quick and dead. To him giveth all the prophets witness, that thorow his name shall receive remission of sins all that believe 44 in him.* While Peter yet spake these words, the holy ghost fell 45 on all them which heard his* preaching. And they of the circumcision which believed were astonied, as many as came with Peter, because that on the gentiles also was shed out the gift 46 of the holy ghost. For they heard them speak with tongues, 47 and magnify God. Then answered Peter: can any man forbid water that these should not be baptised, which have received 48 the holy ghost as well as we? And he commanded them to be baptised in the name of the Lord. Then prayed they him, to tarry a few days.

XI It came to the ears of the apostles and the brethren which were in Jewry, that the heathen also had received the word of 2 God.* * When Peter was come up to Jerusalem, they of the cir-3 cumcision disputed* with him, saying: Thou wentest in unto* 4 men uncircumcised, and atest with them. * Peter began and 5 expounded the thing in order to them saying: I was in the city of Joppa praying, and in a trance I saw a vision; A certain vessel descend, as it had been a large linen cloth, let down from v.35 Other: fear. v.38 Other: how. v.38 Other: Which Iesus. v.38 Other: of the. v.42 Other: unto. v.43 Other: all that believe in him shall receive remission of sins. v.44 Other: the. 11. v.1 Other: And the Apostles and the brethren that were thorowout Jewry heard say that the Heathen had also received the word of God. v.2 Other: And. v.2 Other: reasoned. v.3 Other: into. v.4 Other: Then.

heaven by the four corners; And it came to me: into the which 6 when I had fastened mine eyes I considered and saw fourfooted beasts of the earth, and vermin and worms, and fowls of the air. * I heard also a voice saying unto me: Arise Peter, slay 7 and eat. And I said: God forbid Lord, for nothing common or 8 unclean hath at any time entered into my mouth.* * The voice 9 answered me again from heaven count not thou those things common, which God hath cleansed. And this was done three 10 times. And all were taken up again into heaven. And behold 11 immediately were there three men come unto the house where I was, sent from Cesarea unto me. And the spirit said unto 12 me, that I should go with them, without doubting. Moreover the six brethren accompanied me. And we entered into the man's house. And he shewed us, how he had seen an angel 13 in his house, which stood and said to him: Send men to Joppa, and call for Simon, named also Peter he shall tell thee words, 14 whereby both thou and all thine house shall be saved. And as 15 I began to preach, the holy ghost fell on them, as he did on us at the beginning. Then came to my remembrance the words of 16 the Lord, how he said: John baptised with water, but ye shall be baptised with the holy ghost. Forasmuch then as God gave 17 them like gifts, as he did unto us, when we believed on the Lord Jesus Christ: what was I that I should have withstood God? when they heard this, they held their peace and glorified God, 18 saying: Then hath God also to the Gentiles granted repentance unto life. They which were scattered abroad thorow the af- 19 liction that arose about Steven, walked thorow out till they came unto Phenice and Cypers and Antioche, preaching the word to no man, but unto the jews only. Some of them were 20 men of Cypers and of Syrene, which when they were come into Antioch, spake unto the greeks, and preached the Lord Jesus.
And the hand of the Lord was with them, and a great num- 21 ber believed and turned unto the Lord. Tidings of this* came 22 unto the ears of the congregation, which was in Jerusalem;
And they sent forth Barnabas that he should go unto Antioche.
Which when he was come, and had seen the grace of the Lord,* 23 was glad, and exhorted them all, that with purpose of heart they would continually cleave unto the Lord. For he was a 24 v.7 Other: And. v.8 Other: mought. v.9 Other: But. v.22 Other: these things.

v.23 Other: God.

perfect* man, and full of the holy ghost and of faith. And much 25 people was added unto the Lord. Then departed Barnabas 26 to Tarsus, for to seek Saul, and when he had found him, he brought him unto Antioche. And it chanced that a whole year they had their conversation with the congregation there, and taught much people insomuch that the disciples of Antioche 27 were the first that were called Christen. In those days came 28 prophets from Jerusalem unto Antioche. * There stood up one of them named Agabus, and signified by the spirit, that there should be great dearth throughout all the world, which came 29 to pass in the Emperor Claudius days. Then the disciples every man according to his ability, purposed to send succour unto 30 the brethren which dwelt in Jewry, which thing they also did, and sent it to the seniors,* by the hands of Barnabas and Saul.

XII In that time Herod the king layed* hands on* certain of the 2 congregation, to vex them. And he killed James the brother 3 of John with a* sword: and because he saw that it pleased the jews, he proceeded further, to take* Peter also. Then were the 4 days of unleavened* bread, and when he had caught him, he put him in prison, and delivered him to four quaternions of soldiers to be kept, intending after ester to bring him forth to the 5 people. Then was Peter kept in prison. But prayer was made 6 without ceasing of the congregation unto God for him. * When Herod would have brought him out unto the people, the same night slept Peter between two soldiers, bound with two chains; 7 And the keepers before the door kept the prison. And behold the angel of the Lord was there present, and a light shined in the lodge. And he smote Peter on the side, and stirred him up saying: arise up quickly. And the* chains fell off from his 8 hands. And the angel said unto him: gird thyself and bind on thy sandals; And so he did. And he said unto him: cast 9 on thy mantle about thee, and follow me. And he came out and followed him, and wist not, that it was truth which was 10 done by the angel, but thought he had seen a vision. When they were past the first and the second watch, they came unto the iron gate, that leadeth unto the city, which opened to them by his own accord. And they went out and passed thorow one v.24 Other: good. v.28 Other: And. v.30 Other: elders. 12. v.1 Other: stretched forth his. v.1 Other: to vex. v.2 Other: the. v.3 Other: took. v.3 Other: sweet. v.6 Other: And. v.7 Other: his.

street, and by and by the angel departed from him. And when 11 Peter was come to himself, he said: now I know of a surety, that the Lord hath sent his angel, and hath delivered me from * the hand of Herod, and from all the waiting for of the people of the jews. And as he considered the thing, he came to the 12 house of Mary the mother of one John, which was called Mark also, where many were gathered together in prayer. As Pe- 13 ter knocked at the entry door, a damsel came forth to hearken, named Rhoda. And when she knew Peter's voice, she opened 14 not the entry for gladness, but ran in and told how Peter stood before the entry. And they said unto her: thou art mad. And 15 she bare them down that it was even so. Then said they: it is his angel. Peter continued knocking: When they had opened 16 the door, and saw him, they were astonied. * He beckoned 17 unto them with his* hand to hold their peace, and told them by what means the Lord had brought him out of the prison. And* said: go shew this* unto James and to the brethren. And he departed and went into another place. As soon as it was day 18 there was no little ado among the soldiers, what was become of Peter. When Herod had called for him, and found him not, he 19 examined the keepers, and commanded* to depart. And he descended from Jewry to Cesarea, and there abode. Herod was 20 displeased with them of Tyre and Sidon. And they came all at once, and made intercession unto Blastus the king's chamberlain, and desired peace, because their country was nourished by the kings land. * Upon a day appointed, the king* arrayed 21 him in royal apparel, and set him in his seat, and made an oration unto them. And the people gave a shout, saying: It 22 is the voice of a God and not of a man. And immediately the 23 angel of the Lord smote him, because he gave not God the honour, and he was eaten of worms, and gave up the ghost. * The 24 word of God grew and multiplied. And Barnabas and Saul* 25 returned to Jerusalem, and* fulfilled their office, and took with them John, which was also called Marcus.

There were at Antioche, in the congregation,* prophets and XIII doctors,* as Barnabas and Simeonb called Nyger; And Lucius

v.11 Other: out of. v.17 Other: And. v.17 Other: the. v.17 Other: he. v.17 Other: these things. v.19 Other: them. v.21 Other: And. v.21 Other: Herod. v.24 Other: And. v.25 Other: Paul. v.25 Other: when they had. 13. v.1 Other: certain. v.1 Other: teachers.

of Cerene, and Manahen Herod the tetrarkes nurse-fellow, and 2 Saul. As they served God,* and fasted; The holy ghost said: separate me Barnabas and Saul, for the work whereunto I 3 have called them. Then fasted they and prayed, and put their 4 hands on them, and let them go. And they after they were sent of the holy ghost, came unto Seleutia, and from thence 5 they sailed to Cyprus. And when they were come to Solamine, they shewed the word of God in the synagogues, unto* the jews.
 6 And they had John to their minister. When they had gone over all* the Isle unto the city of Paphos, they found a certain sor-7 cerer, a false prophet which was a jew, named Barjesu,* which was with the ruler of the country one Sergius Paulus a prudent man. The same ruler called unto him Barnabas and Saul, and 8 desired to hear the word of God. * The sorcerer Elemas (for so was his name by interpretation) withstood* them, and sought 9 to turn away the ruler from the faith. Then Saul which also is called Paul being full of the holy ghost, set his eyes on him, 10 and said: O full of all subtlety and deceitfulness the* child of the devil, and the enemy of all righteousness thou ceasest not 11 to pervert the straight ways of the Lord. And now behold the hand of the Lord is upon thee, and thou shalt be blind and not see the sun for a season. And immediately* fell on him a mist and a darkness; And he went about seeking, them that should 12 lead him by the hand. Then the ruler when he saw what had happened, believed, and wondered at the doctrine of the Lord.
 13 When Paul and they that were with him, had shipped* from Paphus, they came to Perga a city of Pamphilia.* There de-14 parted John from them, and returned to Jerusalem. But they wandered thorow the countries, from Perga to Antioche a city of the country of Pisidia, and went into the synagogue on the 15 Sabbath day, and sat down. * After the lecture of the law and the prophets,* the rulers of the synagogue sent unto them saying: Ye men and brethren, if ye have any sermon to exhort 16 the people, say on. * Paul stood up and beckoned with his* hand and said: Men of Israel, and ye that fear God, give au-17 dience. The God of this people chose our fathers, and exalted v.2 Other: ministered to the Lord. v.5 Other: of. v.6 Other: thorowout. v.7 Other: Bariesu. v.8 Other: But. v.8 Other: stood. v.10 Other: ,and. v.11 Other: there. v.13 Other: departed by ship. v.13 Other: And. v.15 Other: And. v.15 Other: were read. v.16 Other: Then. v.16 Other: the.

the people when they dwelt as strangers in the land of Egypt, and with a mighty arm brought them out of it, and about the time of forty years, suffered he their manners in the wilderness. And he destroyed seven nations in the land of Canaan, and divided their land to them by Lott. And afterward he gave unto them judges about the space of four hundred and fifty years unto the time of Samuel the prophet. And after that they desired a king, and God gave unto them Saul the son of Cis, a man of the tribe of Benjamin, by the space of forty years. And after he had put him down, he set up David to be their king, to^{} whom he gave witness,^{} saying: I have found David the son of Jesse, a man after mine own heart, he shall fulfil all my will. Of this man's seed hath God (according to his promise) brought forth to the people of Israel a saviour, one Jesus, when John had first preached before his coming the baptism of repentance to Israel. ^{} When John had fulfilled his course, he said: Whom ye think that I am? the same am I not, but behold there cometh one after me, whose shoes of his feet I am not worthy to loose.^{} Ye men and brethren, children of the generation off Abraham, and whosoever among you feareth God, to you is this word of health^{} sent. The inhabitants of Jerusalem, and their rulers because they knew him not, nor yet the voices of the prophets which are read every Sabbath day,^{} have fulfilled them in condemning him. And when they found no cause of death in him, yet desired they Pilate to kill him. And when they had fulfilled all that were written of him, they took him down from the tree and put him in a sepulchre: But God raised him again from death, (the third day) and he was seen many days of them, which came with him from Galilee to Jerusalem which are his witnesses unto the people. And we declare unto you, how that the promise made unto the fathers; God hath now fulfilled unto us the^{} children, in that he raised up Jesus again, even as it is written in the ^{} first psalm: Thou art my son, this same day begat I thee. ^{}other: second psalm: As concerning that he so raised him up from death, now no more to return to corruption, he said on this wise: The holy promises made to David I will keep faithfully.^{} Wherefore he saith also in another place: Thou shalt not suffer v.22 Other: of. v.22 Other: reported. v.25 Other: And. v.25 Other: lowse. v.26 Other: salvation. v.27 Other: they. v.33 Other: their. v.34 Other: give them faithfully to you.

36 thy Saincte* to see corruption. For* David after he had in his 37 time fulfilled the will of God, he slept, and was laid with his 38 fathers, and saw corruption. But he whom God raised again, 39 saw no corruption. Be it known unto you therefore ye men and brethren, that thorow this man is preached unto you the 40 forgiveness of sins; And* by him are all that believe* justified from all things from the which ye could not be justified by the 41 law of Moses. Beware therefore lest that fall on you, which 42 is spoken of in the prophets: Behold ye despisers, and wonder, and perish ye: for I do a work in your days, which ye shall 43 not believe, if a man would declare it you. When the jews* were gone* out of the Synagogue,* the gentiles besought them that they would preach the word of god to them between the 44 Sabbath days. When the congregation was broken up, many of the jews and virtuous proselytes* followed Paul and Barnabas, which spake to them and exhorted them to continue in 45 the grace of God. And the next Sabbath day came Almost the whole city together to hear the word of God. When the jews saw the people, they were full of indignation and spake against those things which were spoken of Paul; They spake* against 46 it, and dispraised it, railing on it. Then Paul and Barnabas waxed bold, and said: it was meet that the word of God should first have been preached to you. But seeing ye put it from you, and think yourselves unworthy of everlasting life, lo, we turn 47 to the gentiles. For so hath the Lord commanded us: I have made thee a light to the gentiles, that thou be health* unto 48 the end of the world. The gentiles heard, and were glad and glorified the word of the Lord, and believed even as many as 49 were ordained unto eternal life. And the word of the Lord 50 was published thorowout all the region. But the jews moved the worshipful and honorable women, and the chief men of the city. And raised persecution against Paul and Barnabas, and 51 expelled them out of their coasts. But* they shook off the dust 52 off their feet against them, and came unto Iconium. And the disciples were filled with joy and with the holy ghost.

XIV * It fortun'd in Iconium that they went both together into the synagogue of the jews, and so spake, that a great multitude v.35 Other: thine Holy. v.36 Other: Howbeit. v.39 Other: that. v.39 Other:

 ,are. v.42 Other: they. v.42 Other: come. v.42 Other: Synagogue of the Jews.
 v.43 Other: converts. v.45 Other: ,speaking. v.47 Other: salvation. v.51 Other:
 And. 14. v.1 Other: And.

both of the jews and also of the greeks believed. But the unbelieving jews, stirred up and unquieted the minds of the gentiles against the brethren. Long time abode they there and quit themselves boldly with the help of the Lord, the which gave testimony unto the word of his grace; And caused signs and wonders to be done by their hands. The people of city were divided: and part held with the jews, and part with the apostles. When there was a fault made both of the gentiles and also of the jews with their rulers, to put them to shame and to stone them, they were ware of it, and fled unto Lystra and Derba, cities of Licaonia, and unto the region that lieth round about, and there preached the gospel. (and all the multitude was moved at their doctrine, but Paul and Barnabas taried still at Lystra) And there sat a certain man at Lystra weak in his feet, being halt* from his mother's womb, and never walked. The same heard Paul preach, which beheld him and perceived that he had faith to be whole, and said with a loud voice: stand upright on thy feet. And he started up, and walked. * When the people saw what Paul had done, they lift up their voices, saying in the speech of Lycaonia: Goddes are come down to us in the likeness of men. And they called Barnabas, Jupiter, and Paul Mercurius, because he was the preacher. Then Jupiter's priest, which dwelt before their city, brought oxen and garlands unto the church porch, and would have done sacrifice with the people. * When the apostles, Barnabas and Paul heard that, they rent their clothes, and ran in among the people, crying and saying: sirs, why do ye this? We are mortal men like unto you, and preach unto you, that ye should turn from these vanities unto the living God, which made heaven and earth and the sea and all that in them is, the which in times past suffered all nations to walk in their own ways. Nevertheless he left not himself without witness, in that he shewed his benefits, in giving us rain from heaven and fruitful seasons, filling our hearts with food and gladness. And with these sayings, scarce refrained they the people, that they had not done sacrifice unto them. Thither came certain jews from Antioche and Iconium, and obtained the peoples' consent and stoned Paul, and drew him out of the city, supposing he had been dead. * As the disciples stood round about him, he arose v.8 Other: cripple. v.11 Other: And. v.14 Other: But. v.20 Other: Howbeit.

up and came into the city. And the next day he departed with 21 Barnabas to Derba. After they had preached to that city, and* taught many, they returned again to Lystra, and to Iconium 22 and Antioche, and strengthened the disciples souls, exhorting them to continue in the faith, affirming that we must thorow 23 much adversity* enter into the kingdom of God. And when they had ordained them seniors* by election in every congregation, after they had prayed and fasted, they commended them 24 to God on whom they believed. And they went over all* Pi-25 sidia and came into Pamphilia, and when they had preached 26 the word of God in Perga, they descended into Attalia, and thence departed by ship to Antioche, from whence they were delivered unto the grace of God, to the work which they had 27 fulfilled. When they were come and had gathered the congregation together, they rehearsed all that God had done by them, and how he had opened the door of faith unto the Gentiles.
 28 And there they abode long time with the disciples.

XV And there* came certain from Jewry and taught the brethren: except ye be circumcised after the manner of Moses ye can-2 not be saved. Then arose there* dissension and disputing not a little unto Paul and Barnabas against them. And they determined that Paul and Barnabas and certain other of them should ascend to Jerusalem unto the apostles and seniors* about 3 this question. * After they were brought on their way by the congregation, they passed over Phenices and Samaria, declaring the conversation* of the Gentiles, and they brought great 4 joy unto all the brethren. * When they were come to Jerusalem they were received of the congregation and of the apostles and seniors.* And they declared what things God had done by 5 them. Then arose there up certain of the sect of the pharisees, which did believe saying that it was needful to circumcise them 6 and to enjoin them to keep the law of Moses. * The apostles 7 and seniors* came together to reason of this matter. * When there was much disputing, Peter rose up and said unto them: Ye men and brethren, ye know how that a good while ago, God chose among us that the Gentiles by my mouth should hear

v.21 Other: had. v.22 Other: tribulation. v.23 Other: elders. v.24 Other: thorow out. 15. v.1 Other: Then. v.2 Other: And when there was risen. v.2 Other: elders. v.3 Other: And. v.3 Other: conversion. v.4 Other: And. v.4 Other: elders. v.6 Other: And. v.6 Other: elders. v.7 Other: And.

the word of the gospel and believe. And God which knoweth 8 the heart, bare them witness, and gave unto them the holy ghost, even as he did unto us; And he put no difference be- 9 tween them and us, and* with faith purified their hearts. Now 10 therefore why tempt ye God, that ye would put a yoke on the disciples necks which neither our fathers nor we were able to bear: But we believe that thorow the grace of the Lord Jesu 11 Christ we shall be saved as they do. Then all the multitude 12 was peaced and gave audience to Barnabas and Paul which told what signs and wonders God had shewed among the gentiles by them. As soon as* they held their peace, James an- 13 swered saying: Men and brethren hearken unto me; Simeon 14 told how God at the beginning did visit the gentiles, and received of them people unto his name. And to this agreeth 15 the words of the prophets, as it is written: After this I will 16 return, and will build again the tabernacle of David which is fallen down, and that which is fallen in decay of it will I build again and I will set it up, that the residue of men might seek 17 after the Lord, and also the Gentiles upon whom my name is called* saith the Lord, which doth all these things: known 18 unto God are all his works from the beginning of the world.
Wherefore my sentence is, that we trouble not them which of* 19 the gentiles are turned to God: but that we write unto them, 20 that they abstain themselves from filthiness of images, from fornication, from strangled, and from blood. For Moses of old 21 time in every city hath them that preach him, and he is read in the synagogues every Sabbath day. Then pleased it the apos- 22 tles and seniors* with the whole congregation to send chosen men of their own company to Antioche with Paul and Barnabas. They sent Judas called also Barsabas and Silas which were chief men among the brethren and gave them letters 23 in their hands after this manner. The apostles, seniors* and brethren send greetings unto the brethren which are of the gentiles in Antioch, Syria and Cilicia. Forasmuch as we have 24 heard that certain which departed from us, have troubled you with words, and cumbered your minds saying: Ye must be circumcised and keep the law, to whom we gave no such commandment. It seemed therefore to us a good thing, when we 25 v.9 Other: but. v.13 Other: And whe. v.17 Other: named. v.19 Other: from among. v.22 Other: elders. v.23 Other: elders.

were come together with one accord, to send chosen men unto 26 you, with our beloved Barnabas and Paul, men that have jeop-27 arded their lives, for the name of our Lord Jesus* Christ. We have sent therefore Judas and Sylas, which shall also tell you 28 the same things by mouth. For it seemed good to the holy ghost and to us, to put no grievous thing to you more than 29 these necessary things, that is to say, that ye abstain from things offered unto* images, from blood, from strangled and fornication. From which if ye keep yourselves, ye shall do 30 well. So fare ye well. When they were departed, they came to Antioche and gathered the multitude together and deliv-31 ered the pistel. When they had read it, they rejoiced of that 32 consolation. * Judas and Silas being prophets, exhorted the 33 people* with much preaching, and strengthened them. * After they had tarried there a certain space, they were let go in 34 peace of the brethren unto the apostles. Notwithstanding it pleased Sylas to abide there still. (but Iudas departed alone to 35 Ierusalem) Paul and Barnabas continued in Antioche teach-36 ing, and preaching the word of the Lord with other many. But after a certain space Paul said unto Barnabas: Let us go again and visit our brethren in every city, where we have shewed 37 the word of the Lord, and see how they do. * Barnabas gave 38 counsel, to take with them John called also Marke: But Paul thought it not meet to take him unto their company which departed from them at Pamphilia, and went not with them to 39 the work. * So sharp was the dissension between them, that they departed asunder one from the other. And* Barnabas took 40 Mark and sailed unto Cypers. * Paul chose Sylas and de-41 parted delivered of the brethren unto the grace of God. And he went thorow all Cyria and Cilicia, stablishing the congregations. (commanding to keep the precepts of the Apostles and elders)

XVI Then came he to Derba and* Listra. And behold a certain disciple was there named Timotheus, a woman's son which was 2 a jewess and believed, but his father was a greek. Of whom 3 reported well, the brethren of Listra and of Iconium. * Paul would that he should go forth with him, and took and circumv.26 Other: Iesu. v.29 Other: to. v.32 Other: And. v.32 Other: brethre.

v.33 Other: And. v.37 Other: And. v.39 Other: And. v.39 Other: so that.

v.40 Other: And. 16. v.1 Other: to. v.3 Other: The same.

cised him because of the jews which were in those quarters, for they knew all that his father was a greek. As they went thorow the cities, they delivered them the decrees for to keep, 4 ordained of the apostles and seniors* which were at Jerusalem. * So were the congregations stablished in the faith, and 5 increased in number daily. When they had gone thorowout Phrighia and the region of Galatia, and were forbidden of the 6 holy ghost to preach the word in Asia, they came to Misia, 7 and sought to go into Bethinia, and* the spirit suffered them not. When* they went over Misia, and came down to Troada 8 and a vision appeared to Paul in the night. There stood a man 9 of Macedonia and prayed him saying: Come into Macedonia and help us. After he had seen the vision immediately we prepared 10 to go into Macedonia certified that the Lord had called us for to preach the gospel unto them. Then loosed we forth from 11 Troada, and with a straight course came we to Samothracia, and the next day to Neapolim, and from thence to Philippos, 12 which is the chiefest city in the parts of Macedonia and a free city. We were in that city abiding a certain days. And on the 13 Sabbath days we went out of the city besides a river where men were wont to pray, and we sat down and spake unto the women which thither resorted. And a certain woman named Lidia, a 14 seller of purple, of the city of Thyatira which worshipped God, gave us audience, whose heart God* opened that she attended unto those* things which Paul spake. When she was baptised, 15 and her household, she besought us saying: If ye think that I believe on the Lord come into my house, and abide there. And she constrained us. * It fortun- 16 ed as we went to prayer, a certain damsel possessed with a spirit that prophesied met us, which brought her master and masters much vantage with prophesying. The same followed Paul and us* saying: These 17 men are the servants of the most high God, which shew unto us the way of health.* And this did she many days. But Paul not 18 content turned about and said to the spirit: I command thee in the name of Jesu Christ that thou come out of her. And he came out the same hour. * When her master and masters saw 19 that the hope of their gains was gone, they caught Paul and

v.4 Other: elders. v.5 Other: And. v.7 Other: But. v.8 Other: Then. v.14 Other: the Lord. v.14 Other: the. v.16 Other: And. v.17 Other: and cried. v.17 Other: salvation. v.19 Other: And.

20 Silas, and brought* them into the market place unto the rulers, and delivered* them to the officers saying: These men trouble 21 our city, which are jews and shew new decrees,* which are not lawful for us to receive, neither to observe seeing we are ro-22 mans. And the people ran on them, and the officers rent their 23 clothes, and commanded them to be beaten with rods, and when they had beaten them sore, they cast them into prison 24 commanding the jailer to keep them surely. Which* when he had received such commandment thrust them into the inner 25 prison, and made their feet fast in the stocks. At midnight Paul and Silas prayed, and lauded God. And the prisoners 26 heard them. * Suddenly there was a great earthquake, so that the foundation of the prison was shaken, and by and by all the 27 doors opened, and every man's bonds were loosed.* When the keeper of the prison waked out of his sleep, and saw the prison doors open, he drew out his sword and would have killed him-28 self, supposing the prisoners had been fled. * Paul cried with 29 a loud voice saying: Do thyself no harm, for we are all here. *
 He called for a light and sprang in, and came trembling, and 30 fell down before Paul and Silas, and brought them out and said: Sirs what must I do to be saved? And they said: believe 31 on the Lord Jesus, and thou shalt be saved and thy household.
 And they preached unto him the word of the Lord, and to all 32 that were in his house. And he took them the same hour of the night and washed their wounds, and was baptised with all 33 that belonged unto him straight way. When he had brought them into his house, he set meat before them, and joyed that he 34 with all his household believed on God. And when it was day 35 the officers sent the ministers saying: Let those men go. The keeper of the prison told this saying to Paul: the officers have sent word to loose you. Now therefore get you hence and go in 36 peace. Then said Paul unto them: They have beaten us openly uncondemned, for all that we are romans, and have cast us into 37 prison: and now would they send us away privily? Nay not so, 38 but let them come themselves and fetch us out. * The ministers told these words unto the officers and they feared when 39 they heard that they were romans, and came and besought v.19 Other: drew. v.20 Other: brought. v.21 Other: preach ordinances. v.24 Other: jailer. v.26 Other: And. v.26 Other: lowsed. v.28 Other: But. v.29 Other: Then.

 v.38 Other: When.

them, and brought them out, and desired them to depart out of the city. * They went out of the prison and entered into the house of Lidia, and when they had seen the brethren, they comforted them and departed. 40

As they made their journey thorow Amphipolis, and Apollonia, they came to Thessalonica where was a synagogue of the jews. * Paul as his manner was went in unto them, and three Sabbath days declared out of the scripture unto them, opening and alleging that Christ must needs have suffered and risen again from death. And that this Jesus was Christ, whom (said he) I preach to you. And some of them believed and came and companied with Paul and Silas. Also of the honorable greeks a great multitude, and of the chief women, not a few. * The jews which believed not having indignation took unto them evil men which were vagabonds, and gathered a company, and set all the city on a roar, and made assault unto the house of Jason, and sought to bring them out to the people. And* when they found them not, they drew Jason and certain brethren unto the heads of the city crying: These that trouble the world are come hither also, which Jason hath received privily. And these all do contrary to the ordinations* of Cesar, affirming another King, one Jesus. And they troubled the people and the officers of the city when they heard these things. And when they were sufficiently answered of Jason, and of the other they let them go. * The brethren immediately sent away Paul, and Silas by night unto Berea.* When they were come thither they entered into the Synagogue of the jews. These were the noblest* among them of Thessalonica, which received the word with all diligence of mind, and searched the scriptures daily whether those things were even so. And many of them believed, and* of worshipful women which were greeks, and of men not a few. When the jews of Thessalonica had knowledge that the word of God was preached of Paul at Berea, they came thither* and moved the people, and then by and by the brethren sent away Paul to go unto* the sea: but Silas and Timotheus abode there still. * They that guided Paul brought him unto Athens, and received a commandment unto Silas and Timotheus for to come XVII

v.40 Other: And. 17. v.2 Other: And. v.5 Other: But. v.6 Other: But. v.7 Other: elders. v.10 Other: And. v.10 Other: Which. v.11 Other: of birth. v.12 Other: also. v.13 Other: there. v.14 Other: as it were to. v.15 Other: And.

16 to him at once. And came their way. While Paul waited for 17 them at Athens, his spirit was moved in him to see the city 18 given to worshipping of images. Then he disputed in the syn-19 agogue with the jews, and with the devout persons; And in the 20 market daily with them that came unto him. Certain Philoso-21 phers of the Epicures, and of the Stoyckes disputed with him.
 22 And some there were which said: what will this babbler say.
 23 Other said: he seemeth to be a tidings bringer of new devils, 24 because he preached unto them Jesus, and the resurrection, 25 and they took him, and brought him into Marce street say-26 ing: may we not know what is this new doctrine whereof thou 27 speakest. For thou bringest strange tidings to our ears. We 28 would know therefore what these things mean. For all the 29 Athenians and strangers which were there gave themselves to 30 nothing else, but either to tell or to hear new tidings. Paul 31 stood in the midst of Marce street and said, ye men of Athens,
 I perceive that in all things ye are somewhat* superstitious.
 For as I passed by and beheld the manner how ye worship your gods, I found an altar wherein was written: unto the unknown God. Whom ye then ignorantly worship, him shew I unto you: God that made the world, and all that are in it, seeing that he is Lord of heaven and earth, he dwelleth not in temples made with hands neither is worshipped with men's hands, as though he needed of any thing. Forasmuch as he giveth to all men life and breath every where,* and hath made of one blood all nations of men, for to dwell on all the face of the earth. And hath assigned times appointed before;* And* the ends of their inhabitation, that they should seek God, if they might feel and find him, though he be not far from every one of us. For in him we live, move, and have our being, as certain of your own poets said. For we are also his generation. Forasmuch then as we are the generation of God, we ought not to think that the godhead is like unto gold, silver, or stone, graven by craft and imagination of man. And the time of this ignorance God regarded not: but now he biddeth all men everywhere repent, because he hath appointed a day, in the which he will judge the world according to righteousness, by that man, whom he hath appointed, and hath given* faith to all men, after that he had

v.22 Other: to. v.25 Other: seeing he himself giveth life and breath to all men everywhere. v.26 Other: and hath assigned before, how long time. v.26 Other: also. v.31 Other: offered.

raised him from death. When they heard of the resurrection 32 from death, some mocked, and other said: we will hear thee again of this matter. So Paul departed from among them. * 33, 34 Certain men clave unto Paul and believed, among the which was Dionysius a senator, and a woman named Damaris, and other with them.

After that, Paul departed from Athens, and came to Corinth XVIII and found a certain jew named Aquila, born in Ponthus, lately 2 come from Italy with his wife Priscilla (because that the Emperor Claudius had commanded all jews to depart from Rome) and he drew unto them. And because he was of the same 3 craft he abode with them and wrought (their craft was to make tents.) and he preached in the synagogue every Sabbath day; 4 (setting forth in the mean while the name of the Lorde Iesus) And exhorted the Jews and the gentiles. When Silas and Tim- 5 otheus were come from Macedonia Paul was pained* by the spirit, as he testified* to the jews that Jesus was* Christ. * 6 When they said contrary and blasphemed, he shook his raiment and said unto them: your blood upon your own heads.*
 For henceforth I go* unto the gentiles, and he departed thence, 7 and entered into a certain man's house named Justus which worshipped* God, whose house joined hard to the synagogue.
 One* Crispus a* ruler of the synagogue believed on the Lord 8 with all his household. And many of the Corinthians gave audience and believed, and were baptised. Then spake the Lord 9 to Paul in the night by a vision: be not afraid, but speak, and hold not thy peace: for I am with thee, and no man shall in- 10 vade thee that shall hurt thee. For I have much people in this city. And he rested* there a year and six months, and taught 11 them the word of God. When Gallio was ruler of the country 12 of Acaia. The jews made insurrection with one accord against Paul, and brought him to the judge's* seat, saying: This man 13 teacheth* to worship God contrary to the law. And as Paul 14 was about to open his mouth Gallio said unto the jews: if it were a matter of wrong, or an evil deed* (O ye jews) reason 15 would that I should hear you: but if it be a question of words, v.34 Other: Howbeit. 18. v.5 Other: constrained. v.5 Other: to testify. v.5 Other: very. v.6 Other: And. v.6 Other: And. v.6 Other: blameless. v.7 Other: a worshipper of. v.8 Other: Won, or Howbeit one. v.8 Other: the chief. v.11 Other: continued. v.12 Other: judgement. v.13 Other: this fellow counceleth men. v.14 Other: to ye.

or of names, or of your law, look ye to it yourselves. For I will 16 be no judge in such matters, and he drave them from his* 17 seat. Then took all the greeks Sosthenes a* ruler of the Synagogue and smote him before the judge's seat. And Gallio cared 18 for none of those things. Paul after this, tarried there yet a good while, and then took his leave of the brethren, and sailed thence into Ciria, Priscilla and Aquila accompanying him after 19 that* he shore his head in Cenchrea. For he had a vow. And he came to Ephesus and left them there: but he himself enter-20 ed into the Synagogue, and reasoned with the jews. When they desired him to tarry longer time with them, he consented 21 not, but bade them fare well saying: I must needs at this feast that cometh be in Jerusalem: but I will return again unto you 22 if God will. And* departed from Ephesus and came unto Ce-23 sarea: and ascended and saluted the congregation, and departed unto Antioche, and when he had tarried there a while, he departed, and went over all the country of Galatacia and 24 Phrigia by order, strengthening all the disciples. And a certain jew named Apollos, born at Alexandria came to Ephesus.
 25 An eloquent man, and mighty in the scriptures. The same was informed in the way of the Lord, and he spake fervently in the spirit, and taught diligently the things of the Lord, and 26 knew but the baptism of John only. And the same began to speak boldly in the Synagogue.* When Priscilla and Aquila had heard him: they took him unto them; And expounded unto him 27 the way of God more perfectly. * When he was disposed to go into Acaia, the brethren exhorted him thereto, and wrote unto* the disciples that they should* receive him. After he was come thither he helped them much, which had believed thorow 28 grace. And mightily he overcame the jews* openly shewing by the scriptures that Jesus was Christ.

XIX It fortun'd, while Apollos was at Corinthum, that Paul passed over* the upper coasts, and came to Ephesus, and found certain 2 disciples and said unto them: have ye received the holy ghost after* ye believed? And they said unto him: No, neither have 3 we heard if* there be any holy ghost or no. And he said unto v.16 Other: the. v.17 Other: the chief. v.18 Other: .And. v.22 Other: he.

 v.26 Other: And. v.27 Other: And. v.27 Other: the brethren wrote exhorting.
 v.27 Other: to. v.28 Other: and that. 19. v.1 Other: thorow. v.2 Other: since.
 v.2 Other: no we have not heard whether.

them: wherewith were ye then baptised? And they said: With John's baptism. Then said Paul: John verily baptised with the 4 baptism of repentance, saying unto the people that they should believe on him, which should come after him. That is on Christ Jesus. When they heard that, they were baptised in the name 5 of the Lord Jesu,* and when Paul laid his hands upon them,* 6 the holy ghost came on them. And they spake with tongues and prophesied; * All the men were about twelve. And he 7, 8 went into the synagogue, and behaved himself boldly for the space of three months, disputing, and giving them exhortations of the kingdom of God. When divers waxed hard hearted, 9 and believed not, but spake evil of the way of the Lord* before the multitude: he departed from them; And severed* the disciples away; And taught* daily in the school of one called Tirannus. And this continued by the space of two years: So 10 that all they which dwelt in Asia heard the word of the Lord Jesu, both jews and greeks. And God wrought not small mira- 11 cles by the hands of Paul. So that from his body were brought 12 unto the sick, napkins or partlets, and the diseases and evil spirits departed from them.* * Certain of the vagabond jews 13 exorcists, took upon them to call over them which had evil spirits the name of the Lord Jesus saying: We adjure you by Jesu whom Paul preacheth. * There were seven sons of one Sceva 14 a ruler of the synagogue* which did so: and the evil spirit an- 15 swered and said: Jesus I know, and Paul I know: but who are ye? And the man in whom the wicked devil* was, ran on them, 16 and overcame them, and prevailed against them, so that they fled out of the* house naked and wounded. * This was known 17 to all the jews and greeks also, which dwelt at Ephesus, and fear came on them all. And they magnified the name of the Lord Jesus. And many that believed came, and confessed and 18 shewed their works. Many of them which used curious crafts, 19 brought their books and burned them before all men, and they counted the price of them, and found it fifty thousand silver-lings. So mightily grew the word of God, and prevailed. 20, 21 After these things were ended Paul purposed in the spirit, to pass

v.5 Other: Iesus. v.6 Other: and. v.7 Other: and. v.9 Other: ,and that. v.9 Other: separated. v.9 Other: disputed. v.12 Other: and the diseases departed from them, and the evil spirits went out of them. v.13 Other: Then. v.14 Other: And.
 v.14 Other: a Jew and chief of the priests. v.16 Other: evil spirit. v.16 Other: that.
 v.17 Other: And.

over Macedonia and Acaia, and to go to Jerusalem saying: Af-22 ter I have been there I must also see Rome. So sent he into Macedonia two of them that ministered unto him: Timotheus and Erastus: but he himself remained in Asia. For a season.
 23, 24 The same time there arose no little a do about that way. For a certain man named Demetrius, a goldsmith,* which made silver shrines for Diana, was not a little beneficial unto the 25 craftsmen: which he called together with the workmen of like occupation, and said: Sirs ye know that by this craft we have 26 vantage. Moreover ye see and hear that not alone at Ephesus: but almost thorow out all Asia, this Paul entiseth,* and turned away much people saying: that they be not gods which are 27 made with hands: so that not only this our craft cometh into peril to be set at nought: but that also the temple of* great* Diana should be despised. And her majesty* should be destroyed, 28 which all Asia, and the world worshipping. When they heard these sayings, they were full of wrath, and cried out saying: 29 Great is Diana of the Ephesians. And all the city was on a roar, and they rushed into the common hall with one assent, and caught Gaius, and Aristarcus, men of Macedonia, Paul's 30 companions. When Paul would have entered in unto the people, the disciples suffered him not. Certain also of the chief of Asia which were his friends, sent unto him, desiring him 31 that he would not press into the common hall. Some cried one thing, and some another and the congregation was all out of 32 quiet, and the more part knew not wherefore they were come together. Some of the company drew forth Alexander (the jews thrusting him forwards) Alexander beckoned with the hand, 33 and would have given the people an answer. When they knew that he was a jew, there arose a shout almost for the space of two hours of all men crying, great is Diana of the Ephesians.
 34 When the town clerk had ceased the people he said: ye men of Ephesus: what man is it that knoweth not how that the city of the Ephesians is a worshipper of the great goddess Diana, and 35 of the image which came from heaven. Seeing then that no man saith here against, ye ought to be content, and to do noth-36 ing rashly; For ye have brought hither these men, which are neither robbers of churches, nor yet despisers of your goddess.

v.24 Other: silversmith. v.26 Other: hath persuaded. v.27 Other: the. v.27 Other: goddess. v.27 Other: magnificence.

Wherefore if Demetrius and the craftsmen which are with him, 38 have any saying to any man, the law is open, and there are 39 rulers, let them accuse one another. If ye go about any other 39 thing, it may be determined in a lawful congregation. For we 40 are in jeopardy to be accused of this day's business. Forasmuch 40 as there is no cause whereby we may give a reckoning of this 41 concourse of people. And when he had thus spoken, he let the 41 congregation depart.

After the rage was ceased, Paul called the disciples unto XX him, and took his leave of them, and departed for to go into Macedonia. And when he had gone over those parts, and 2 given them large exhortations, he came into Greece. And 3 there abode three months.* When the jews laid wait for him as he was about to sail into Syria; He purposed to return through Macedonia. There accompanied him into Asia Sopater of Berea:4
 And of Thessalonica Aristarcus and Secundus, and Gaius of Derba, and Timotheus:* Out of Asia Tychicus, and Trophimos.
 These went before, and tarried us at Troas. * We sailed away 5, 6 from Philippos after the ester holidays,* and came unto them to Troas in five days, where we abode seven days. On a * Sab- 7 bath day* the disciples came together for to break bread, and Paul preached unto them (ready to depart on the morrow) and continued the preaching unto midnight. * There were many 8 lights in the chamber where we* were gathered together, and 9 there sat in a window a certain young man named Eutichus, fallen into a deep sleep. And as Paul declared he was the more overcome with sleep, and fell down from the third loft, and was taken up dead. Paul went down and fell on him, and 10 embraced him, and said: Make nothing ado. For his life is in him. When he was come up again, he brake bread, and 11 tasted, and communed a long while even till the morning, and so departed. * They brought the young man alive, and were 12 not a little comforted. Then took we shipping, and departed* 13 unto Asson, there to receive Paul. For so had he appointed, and would himself go by land.* When he was come to us unto 14 Asson, we took him in, and came to Mitilenes. And* sailed 15

20. v.3 Other: And. v.4 Other: and. v.6 Other: And. v.6 Other: holy days.
v.7 Other: And on the morrow after the. v.7 Other translation: the first of the Sabbaths. v.8 Other: And. v.8 Other: they. v.12 Other: And. v.13 Other: And we went afore to ship, and loosed. v.13 Other: a foot. v.15 Other: we.

thence, and came the next day over against Chios. And the day following* we arrived at Samos, and tarried at Trogon.

16 The next day we came to Mileton. For Paul had determined to leave Ephesus as they sailed, because he would not spend the time in Asia. For he hasted to be (if he were possible) * at

17 Jerusalem at the day of Pentecost. * From Mileton he sent to 18 Ephesus, and called the seniors* of the congregation. * When they were come to him, he said to* them: Ye know from the first day that I came unto Asia, after what manner I have been

19 with you at all seasons, serving God* with all humbleness of mind, and with many tears, and temptations, which happened

20 unto me by the layings wait of the jews, and how I kept back nothing that might be for your profit:* but that I have shewed

21 you, and taught you openly and at home in your houses, witnessing both to the jews, and also to the greeks, the repentance

22 toward God, and faith toward our Lord Jesu. And now behold I go bound in the spirit unto Jerusalem, and know not what

23 shall come of^e me there, but that the holy ghost witnesseth in

24 every city saying: that bonds and trouble abide me: but none of those things move me. Neither is my life dear unto myself, that I might fulfil my course with joy, and the ministration (of the worde) which I have received of the Lord Jesu to testify

25 the gospel of the grace of God. And now behold, I am sure that henceforth ye all (thorow whom I have gone preaching 26 the kingdom of God) shall see my face no more. Wherefore I take you to record this same day, that I am pure from the blood

27 of all men. For I have kept nothing back: but have shewed

28 you all the counsel of God. Take heed therefore unto yourselves, and to all the flock, whereof the holy ghost hath made you overseers, to rule the congregation of God, which he hath

29 purchased with his blood. For I am sure of this, that after my departing shall grievous wolves enter in among you, which will

30 not spare the flock. And* of your own selves shall men arise

31 speaking perverse things, to draw disciples after them. Therefore awake and remember, that by the space of three years I ceased not to warn every one of you, both night and day with 32 tears. And now dear brethren I commend you to God and to v.15 Other: next day. v.16 Other: could possibly. v.17 Other: Wherefore. v.17 Other: elders. v.18 Other: And. v.18 Other: unto. v.19 Other: the Lord.

 v.20 Other: was profitable. v.22 Other: on. v.30 Other: Moreover.

the word of his grace, which is able to build further, and to give you an inheritance among all them which are sanctified. I 33 have desired no man's silver, gold, or vesture. Ye know well 34 that these hands have ministered unto my necessities, and to them that were with me. I have shewed you all things, how 35 that so laboring ye ought to receive the weak, and to remember the words of the Lord Jesu, how that he said: It is more blessed to give, than to receive. When he had thus spoken, 36 he kneeled down, and prayed with them all. And they wept 37 all abundantly, and fell on Paul's neck, and kissed him sor- 38 rowing, most of all, for the words, which he spake, that they should see his face no more. And they accompanied him unto the ship.

And it chanced that as soon as we had launched forth, and XXI were departed from them, we came with a straight course unto Choon, and the day following unto the Rhodes, and from thence unto Patara. And we found a ship ready to sail unto Phenices, 2 and went aboard and set forth. Then appeared unto us Cyprus, 3 and we left it on the left hand, and sailed unto Syria, and came unto Tyre. For there the ship unladed her burden. And when 4 we had found brethren, we tarried there seven days. And they told Paul thorow the spirit, that he should not go up to Jerusalem. And when the days were ended we departed, and went 5 our ways, and they all brought us on our way, with their wives and children, till we were come out of the city. And we kneeled down in the shore and prayed. And when we had taken our 6 leave one of another, we took ship, and they returned home again. When we had full ended the course, from Tyre, we 7 arrived at Ptholomaida, and saluted the brethren, and abode with them one day. The next day, we that were of Paulus 8 company,* came unto Cesarea. And we entered into the house of Philip the evangelist, which was one of the seven,* and abode with him. The same man had four daughters virgins, which 9 did prophesy. And as we tarried there a good many days, there came a certain prophet from Jewry,* named Agabus. When he 11 was come unto us, he took Paul's girdle, and bound his hands and feet and said: Thus saith the holy ghost: So shall the jews at Jerusalem, bind the man that owneth this girdle, and shall deliver him into the hands of the gentiles. When we heard 12

21. v.8 Other: departed and. v.8 Other: deacons. v.10 Other: Iurie.

this, both we and other of the same place, besought him, that 13 he would not go up to Jerusalem. Then Paul answered, and said: What do ye weeping, and breaking mine heart? I am ready not to be bound only, but also to die at Jerusalem for the 14 name of the Lord Jesu. When we could not turn his mind, 15 we ceased saying: The will of the Lord be fulfilled. After those days we made ourselves ready, and went up to Jerusa-16 lem. There went with us also certain of his disciples of Cesarea, and brought with them one Mnason of Cyprus, an old 17 disciple, with whom we should lodge. And when we were come 18 to Jerusalem, the brethren received us gladly. * On the morrow Paul went in with us unto James. And all the seniors* 19 came together. And when he had saluted them, he told by order, what* things* God had wrought among the gentiles by his 20 ministrations. * When they heard it, they glorified the Lord, and said unto him: Thou seest brother, how many thousand 21 jews there are which believe, and they are all zealous over the law. And they are informed of thee that thou teachest all the jews which are among the gentiles to forsake Moses, and sayest 22 that they ought not to circumcise their children, neither to live after the customs. What is it therefore? The multitude must needs come together. For they shall hear that thou art come.
 23 Do therefore this that we say to thee. We have four men, which 24 have a vow on them. Them take and purify thyself with them, and do cost on them, that they may shave their heads and all shall know that those things which they have heard of* thee 25 are nothing: but that thou thyself also walkest and keepest the law. * As touching the gentiles which believe we have written and concluded, that they observe no such things: but that they keep themselves from things offered to idols, from 26 blood, from strangling, and from fornication. Then the next day Paul took the men and purified himself with them, and entered into the temple, declaring the* fulfilling of* the days of* purification, until that an oblation* should be offered for 27 every one of them. And as the seven days should have been ended, the jews which were of Asia when they saw him in the temple, they moved all the people and laid hands on him cry-v.18 Other: And. v.18 Other: elders. v.19 Other: all. v.19 Other: that. v.20 Other:

And. v.24 Other: concerning. v.25 Other: For. v.26 Other: that he. v.26 Other: observed. v.26 Other: the. v.26 Other: offering.

ing: Men of Israel help. This is the man that teacheth all men 28 everywhere against the people, and the law, and this place.
 Moreover also he hath brought greeks into the temple, and hath polluted this holy place. For they saw one Trophimus 29 an Ephesian with him in the city. Him they supposed Paul had brought into the temple. And all the city was moved, and 30 the people swarmed together. And they took Paul, and drew him out of the temple, and forthwith the doors were shut to.
 As they went about to kill him, tidings came unto the high* 31 captain of the soldiers, that all Jerusalem was moved. Which 32 immediately took soldiers and under-captains, and ran down unto them. When they saw the upper-captain and the soldiers; They left smiting of Paul. Then the captain came near and 33 took him, and commanded him to be bound with two chains, and demanded what he was, and what he had done. * One 34 cried this, another that, among the people. And when he could not know the certainty, for the rage: He commanded him to be carried into the castle. * When he came unto a greece, it for- 35 tuned that he was borne of the soldiers for the violence of the people. * The multitude of the people followed after crying: 36 away with him. And as Paul should have been carried into 37 the castle; He said unto the high* captain: May I speak unto thee? Which said: Canst thou speak greek? Art not thou that 38 Egyptian which before these days, made an uproar, and led out into the wilderness four thousand men that were murderers?
 * Paul said: I am a man which am a jew of Tharsus a city in Ci- 39 cill, a citizen of no vile city, I beseech thee suffer me to licence;* * Paul stood on the steps, and beckoned with the hand unto the 40 people, and there was made a great silence. And he spake unto them in* Hebrew* saying:

Ye men, brethren, and fathers, hear mine answer which I XXII make unto you. When they heard that he spake* Hebrew* 2 unto* them, they kept the more silence. And he said: I am 3 verily a man which am a jew, born in Tharsus, a city in Cicill, nevertheless yet brought up in this city, at the feet of Gamaliel, and informed diligently in the law of the fathers, and was fer-v.31 Other: hye. v.34 Other: And. v.35 Other: And. v.36 Other: For. v.37 Other:

 hye. v.39 Other: But. v.39 Other: to speak unto the people. v.40 Other: When he had given him licence., v.40 Other: the. v.40 Other: tongue. 22. v.2 Other: in the. v.2 Other: tongue. v.2 Other: to.

4 vent minded to Godward, as ye all are this same day, and I persecuted this way unto the death binding, and delivering 5 into prison both men and women, as the chief priest doth bear me witness, and all the seniors:* of whom also I received letters unto the brethren, and went to Damasco to bring them which were there bound unto Jerusalem for to be punished.
6 And it fortuneth that as I made my journey, and was come nye unto Damasco, about noon,* suddenly there shone from heaven 7 a great light round about me, and I fell unto the earth, and heard a voice saying unto me. Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou 8 me? And I answered: what art thou Lord? and he said unto 9 me? I am Jesus of Nazareth, whom thou persecutest. And they that were with me saw verily a light and were afraid: but 10 they heard not the voice of him that spake with me. And I said: what shall I do Lord? And the Lord said unto me: Arise and go into Damasco and there it shall be told thee of all things 11 which are appointed for thee to do. And when I saw nothing for the brightness of that light, I was led by the hand of them 12 that were with me, and came into Damasco. * One Ananias a perfect man, and as pertaining to the law having good report 13 of all the jews which there dwelt, came unto me, and stood and said unto me: Brother Saul receive thy sight.* And that 14 same hour I received my sight and saw him. And he said unto me, the God of our fathers hath ordained thee before, that thou shouldest know his will, and shouldest see that which is right-15 ful, and shouldest hear the voice of his mouth:* for thou shalt be his witness unto all men of those things which thou hast 16 seen and heard. And now: why tarriest thou? Arise and be baptised, and wash away thy sins, in calling on the name of the 17 Lord. And it fortuneth, when I was come again to Jerusalem 18 and prayed in the temple, that I was in a trance; And saw him saying unto me: Make haste, and get thee quickly out of Jerusalem: for they will not receive the* witness that thou bearest 19 of me. And I said: Lord they know that I prisoned, and beat 20 in every synagogue them that believed on thee. And when the blood of thy witness Stephen was shed, I also stood by, and consented unto his death and kept the raiment of them that 21 slew him. And he said unto me: depart for I will send thee

v.5 Other: elders:.

v.6 Other: that.v.12 Other: And.

v.13 Other: look up.

v.14 Other: mought.

v.18 Other: thy.

afar hence unto the gentiles. They gave him audience unto 22 this word, and* lifted up their voices and said: away with such 23 a fellow from the earth: it is pity that he should live. And* 23 they cried and cast off their clothes, and threw dust into the air. The captain bade him to be brought into the castle, and 24 commanded him to be scourged, and to be examined, that he might know wherefore they cried on him. And as they bound 25 him with thongs, Paul said unto an under-captain:* Is it lawful for you to scourge a* roman* uncondemned? When the cen- 26 turion heard that, he went to the upper-captain, and told him saying: What intendest thou to do? This man is a roman.* * 27 The upper-captain came to him, and said: Tell me, art thou a roman? He said: Yea. And the* captain answered: With much 28 money* obtained I this freedom. And Paul said: I was freeborn. Then straightway departed from him they which should 29 have examined him. And the* captain also was afraid, after he knew that he was a roman: because he had bound him. On 30 the morrow he loosed* him from his bonds desiring to know the certainty for what cause he was accused of the jews, and commanded the high priests and all the council to come together, and brought Paul, and set him before them.

Paul beheld the council and said: Men and brethren, I have XXIII lived in all good conscience before God until this day. The high 2 priest Ananias commanded them that stood by, to smite him on the mouth.* Then said Paul to him: God shall smite thee thou 3 painted wall. Sittest thou and judgest me after the law: and commandest me to be smitten contrary to the law? And they 4 that stood by said: Revilest thou God's high priest? Then said 5 Paul: I wist not brethren, that he was the high priest. For it is written thou shalt not speak evil to* the ruler of thy people. When Paul perceived that the one part were sadducees, 6 and the other pharisees: He cried out in the council. Men and brethren I am a pharisaye, the son of a pharisaye. Of hope, and of resurrection from death I am judged. And when he had so 7 said, there arose a debate between the pharisees and the sadducees, and the multitude was divided. For the sadducees say 8

v.22 Other: then. v.23 Other: as. v.25 Other: the centurion that stood by:
 v.25 Other: man that is a. v.25 Other: and. v.26 Other: a citizen of Rome.
 v.27 Other: Then. v.28 Other: hye. v.28 Other: a great sum. v.29 Other: high.
 v.30 Other: lowsed. 23. v.2 Other: mought. v.5 Other: curse.

that there is no resurrection, neither angel, nor spirit. But the 9 pharisees grant both. And there arose a great cry, and the scribes which were of the pharisees' part* strove saying: We find none evil in this man. Though a spirit, or an angel hath 10 appeared to him, let us not strive against God. And when there arose great debate, the captain fearing lest Paul should have been plucked asunder of them, commanded the soldiers to go down, and to take him from among them, and to bring 11 him into the castle. The night following God stood by him and said: Be of good cheer Paul: For as thou hast testified of me 12 in Jerusalem, so must thou bear witness at Rome. When day was come, certain of the jews gathered themselves together, and made a vow saying: that they would neither eat nor drink 13 till they had killed Paul. They were about forty which had made this conspiracy. And they came to the chief priest and seniors,* and said: we have bound ourselves with a vow, 14 that we will eat nothing until we have slain Paul. Now therefore give ye knowledge to the upper captain, and to the council that he bring him forth unto us tomorrow, as though we would know some thing more perfectly of him. But we (or ever he 15 come near) are ready in the mean season to kill him. When Paul's sister's son heard of their laying await, he went and en-16 tered into the castle, and told Paul. And Paul called one of the under captains unto him, and said: Bring this young man unto 17 the* captain: for he hath a certain thing to shew him. And he took him, and led him to the high captain, and said: Paul the prisoner called me unto him and prayed me to bring this young 18 man unto thee, which hath a certain matter to shew thee. The high captain took him by the hand, and went apart with him out of the way: and asked him: what hast thou to say unto me?
19 And he said: the jews are determined to desire thee that thou wouldest bring forth Paul tomorrow into the council, as though 20 they would enquire somewhat of him more perfectly. But follow not their minds: for there lay await* for him of them, more than forty men, which have bound themselves with a vow, that they will neither* eat nor* drink till they have killed him. And 21 now are they ready, and look for thy promise. The upper captain let the young man depart and charged him: See thou tell*

v.9 Other: ,arose and. v.14 Other: elders. v.17 Other: hye. v.21 Other: lie in wait. v.21 Other: nether. v.21 Other: ner. v.22 Other: it out to.

no man that thou hast told me this.* And he called unto him 23 two under captains, saying: make ready two hundred soldiers to go to Cesarea, and horsemen threescore and ten. And spear- 24 men two hundred, at the third hour of the night. And deliver them beasts that they may put Paul on, and bring him safe unto Felix the high deputy,* (For he did fear lest happily the Jewes should take him away and kill him, and him self should be afterward blamed, as though he would take money) and 25 wrote a letter in this manner. Claudius Lisisas unto the most 26 mighty ruler Felix sendeth greetings. This man was taken 27 of the jews, and should have been killed of them: Then came I with soldiers, and rescued him, and perceived that he was 28 a roman. And when I would have known the cause, wherefore they accused him, I brought him forth into their council.
 There perceived I that he was accused of questions of their 29 law: but was not guilty of any thing worthy of death, or of bonds. Afterward when it was shewed me how that the jews 30 laid wait for the man, I sent him straight way to thee, and gave commandment to his accusers, if they had ought against him, to tell it unto thee: fare well. * The soldiers as it was 31 commanded them, took Paul and brought him by night to An-tipatras. On the morrow they left horsemen to go with him, 32 and returned unto the castle. * When they came to Cesarea, 33 they delivered the pistel to the deputy,* and presented Paul before him. When the deputy* had read the letter, he asked of 34 what country he was. And when he understood that he was of Cicill; I will hear thee (said he) when thine accusers are come 35 also: And commanded him to be kept in Herod's palace.

After five days, Ananias the high priest descended, with XXIV seniors,* and with a certain orator named Tartullus, and enformed the ruler against* Paul. When Paul was called forth; 2 Tartullus began to accuse him saying: Seeing that we live in great quietness by the means of thee and that many good 3 things are done unto this nation thorow thy providence: that allow we ever and in all places, most mighty Felix with all 4 thanks. Notwithstanding, lest* I be not tedious unto thee, I pray thee that thou wouldest hear us of thy courtesy a few v.22 Other: showed these things to me. v.24 Other: debite. v.31 Other: Then.

 v.33 Other: Which. v.33 Other: debite. v.34 Other: debite. 24. v.1 Other: elders.
 v.1 Other: of. v.4 Other: that.

5 words. We have found this man a pestilent fellow, and a mover of debate among* all the jews thorow out the world; And a 6 maintainer (of sedition) of the sect of the Nazarens: Which* also hath enforced to pollute the temple, whom we took and 7 would have judged according to our law: but the high captain Lisias came upon us, and with great violence took him* out 8 of our hands, commanding his accusers to come unto thee, of whom thou mayest (if thou wilt enquire) know the certain of 9 all these things where of we accuse him. The jews likewise af-10 firmed, saying that it was even so. Then Paul (after that the ruler himself had beckoned unto him that he should speak) answered: I shall with a more quiet mind answer for myself, forasmuch as I understand that thou hast been of many years 11 a judge unto this people, because that thou mayest know that there are yet but twelve days since I went up to Jerusalem for 12 to pray. And that they neither found me in the temple disputing with any man, either raising up the people, neither in 13 the synagogues nor in the city. Neither can they prove the 14 things whereof they accuse me. But this I confess unto thee, that after that way (which they call heresy) so worship I the God of my fathers, believing all things which are written in 15 the law and the prophets, and have hope towards God, that the same resurrection from death (which they themselves look 16 for also) shall be both of just and unjust. And therefore study I to have a clear conscience toward God, and toward man also.
17 * Many years ago I came and brought alms to my people and 18 offerings, (and vows) in the which they found me purified in the temple, neither with multitude, nor yet with unquietness.
(and they took me, and cried, saying, away with our enemye) 19 * There were certain jews out of Asia which ought to be here present before thee, and accuse me, if they had ought against 20 me: or else let these same here say, if they have found any 21 evildoing in me, while I stand here in the council, except it be for this one voice, that I cried standing among them of the res-22 urrection from death am I judged of you this day. When Felix heard that* he deferred them, for he knew very well of that way and said: when Lisias the captain is come, I will know 23 the utmost of your matters. And he commanded an under-v.5 Other: unto. v.6 Other: and. v.7 Other: away. v.17 Other: But after.

v.19 Other: Howbeit. v.22 Other: these things.

captain to keep Paul, and that he should have rest, and that he should forbid none of his acquaintance to minister unto him, or to come unto him. * After a certain days came Felix, and his wife Drusilla which was a jewess, and called forth Paul, and heard him of the faith which is toward Christ. And as he preached of Justice, * temperance, and judgement to come; Felix trembled, and answered: thou hast done enough at this time, depart, when I have a convenient time, I will send for thee. He hoped also that money should have been given him of Paul that he might loose him, wherefore he called him the oftener, and communed with him. * After two year came Festus Porcius into Felix room, and Felix willing to shew the jews a pleasure left Paul in prison bound.

When Festus was come into the province, after three days, he ascended from Cesarea unto Jerusalem. Then enforced him the high priests, and the chief of the jews against* Paul. And they entreated* him, and desired favour against him that he would send for him to Jerusalem, and laid wait for him in the way to kill him. Festus answered that Paul should be kept at Cesarea: but that he himself would shortly depart thither. Let them therefore (said he) which among you are able to do it come down with us and accuse him, if there be any fault in the man. When he had tarried there more then ten days he departed unto Cesarea, and the next day sat down in the judgement seat, and commanded Paul to be brought. When he was come the jews which were come from Jerusalem, came about him and laid many and grievous complaints against Paul, which they could not prove as long as he answered for himself, that he had neither against the law of the jews, neither against the temple, nor yet against Cesar offended any thing at all. Festus willing to do the jews a pleasure, answered Paul, and said: Wilt thou go to Jerusalem, and there be judged of these things before me? Then said Paul: I stand at Cesar's judgement seat, where I ought to be judged. To the jews have I no harm done, as thou verily well knowest. If I have hurt them, or committed any thing worthy of death, I refuse not to die. If none of these things are, where of they accuse me, no man ought to deliver me to them. I ap- XXV

v.24 Other: And. v.25 Other: righteousness. v.27 Other: But. 25. v.2 Other: of. v.2 Other: besought.

12 peal unto Cesar. Then spake Festus with deliberation, and answered: Thou hast appealed unto Cesar: unto Cesar shalt 13 thou go. After a certain days king Agrippa and Bernice came 14 unto Cesarea to salute Festus. And when they had been there a good season, Festus rehearsed Paul's cause unto the king say-15 ing: There is a certain man left in prison of Felix about whom when I came to Jerusalem the high priests, and seniors* of the jews enformed me, and desired to have judgement against 16 him. To whom I answered: It is not the manner of the romans to deliver any man that he should perish, before that he which is accused, have the accusers before him, and have license to answer for himself, as pertaining to the crime whereof 17 he is accused:* when they were come hither, without delay on the morrow I sat to give judgement, and commanded the man 18 to be brought forth. Against whom when the accusers stood up, they brought none accusation of such things as I supposed: 19 But had certain questions against him of their own superstition, and of one Jesus which was dead; whom Paul affirmed 20 to be alive. * Because I doubted of the* questions, I asked him whither he would go to Jerusalem, and there be judged 21 of these matters. Then when Paul had appealed to be kept unto the knowledge of Cesar. I commanded him to be kept till 22 I might send him to Cesar. Agrippa said unto Festus: I would also hear the man myself. Tomorrow (said he) thou shalt hear 23 him. * On the morrow when Agrippa was come and Bernice with great pomp, and were entered into the council house with the captains and chief men of the city, at Festus' commandment 24 Paul was brought forth, and Festus said: King Agrippa, and all men which are here present with us: Ye see this man about whom all the multitude of* jews have been with me, both at Jerusalem and also here, crying that he ought not to live any 25 longer. Yet found I nothing worthy of death that he had committed. Nevertheless seeing that he hath appealed to Cesar, 26 I have determined to send him. Of whom I have no certain thing to write unto my Lord. Wherefore I have brought him unto you, and specially unto thee, king Agrippa, that after ex-27 amination had, I might have somewhat to write. For me thinketh it unreasonable for to send a prisoner, and not to shew v.15 Other: elders. v.16 Other: concerning the crime laid against him:. v.20 Other:

And. v.20 Other: such manner. v.23 Other: And. v.24 Other: the.

the causes, which are laid against him.

Agrippa said unto Paul: Thou art permitted to speak for thyself. Then Paul stretched forth his* hand, and answered for himself: I think myself happy King Agrippa, because I shall answer this day before thee of all the things whereof I am accused of the jews, namely because thou art expert in all customs, and questions, which are among the jews. Wherefore I beseech thee to hear me patiently. My living of a child, which was at the first among mine own nation at Jerusalem know all the jews which knew me from the beginning, if they would testify it. For after the most straitest sect of our lay, lived I a pharisaye and now I stand and am judged for the hope of the promise made of God unto our fathers unto which promise, our twelve tribes instantly serving God day and night, hope to come. For which hope's sake, king Agrippa am I accused of the jews. Why should it be thought a thing incredible unto you, if God* raise again the dead? I also verily thought in myself, that I ought to do many contrary things, clean against the name of Jesus of Nazareth: which things I also did in Jerusalem. And* many of the saints shut I* in prison, moreover I* received authority of the high priests: And when they were put to death I gave the sentence. And I punished them oft in every synagogue, and compelled them to blaspheme: and was yet more mad upon them,* even unto strange cities. About the which things as I went to Damasco with authority, and commission from* the high priests, even at mid day (king Agrippa) * I saw in the way a light from heaven, above the brightness of the sun, shine round about me and them, which journeyed with me. When we were all fallen to the earth, I heard a voice speaking unto me, and saying in the Hebrew tongue: Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me? It is hard for thee to kick against the prick. And I said: Who art thou Lord? And he said: I am Jesus whom thou persecutest: But rise and stand up on thy feet. For I have appeared unto thee for this purpose, to make thee a minister, and a witness both of those things which thou hast seen, and of those things in thee which I will appear unto thee, delivering thee from the people, and from

26. v.1 Other: the. v.8 Other: that God should. v.10 Other: Where. v.10 Other: up. v.10 Other: and had. v.11 Other: and persecuted them. v.12 Other: license of. v.13 Other translation: O King.

18 the gentiles, unto thee which now I send thee, to open their eyes that they might turn from darkness unto light, and from the power of Satan unto God, that they may receive forgiveness of sins, and inheritance among them which are sanctified 19 by faith in me. Wherefore king Agrippa, I was not disobedient 20 unto the heavenly vision: but shewed first unto them of Damascus, and at Jerusalem, and thorowout all the coasts of Jewry, and to the gentiles, that they should repent, and turn to God, 21 and do the right works of repentance. For this cause the jews 22 caught me in the temple, and went about to kill me. Nevertheless I obtained help of God, and stood* unto this day witnessing both to small and to great, saying none other things, 23 than those which the prophets and Moses did say should come, that Christ should suffer, and that he should be the first that 24 should rise from death, and should shew light unto the people, and to the gentiles. As he thus answered for himself: Festus 25 said with a loud voice: Paul, thou art besides thyself. Much learning hath made thee mad. And Paul said: I am not mad 26 most dear Festus: but speak the words of truth and soberness. The king knoweth of these things, before whom I speak freely: 27 neither think I that any of these things are hidden from him. For this thing was not done in a corner. King Agrippa be-28 lieveth thou the prophets? I wot well thou believest. Agrippa said unto Paul: Somewhat thou bringest me in mind for to be-
 29 come christen.* And Paul said: I would to God that not only thou: but also all that hear me today, were not somewhat only, 30 but altogether such as I am except these bonds. And when he had thus spoken, the king rose up, and the deputy, and Ber-31 nice, and they that sat with them. And when they were gone apart, they talked between themselves saying: This man doth 32 nothing worthy of death, nor of bonds. Then said Agrippa unto Festus: This man might have been loosed* if he had not appealed unto Cesar.

XXVII

When it was concluded that we should sail into Italy, they delivered Paul and certain other prisoners unto one named 2 Julius, an under-captain of Cesar's soldiers. And we entered into a ship of Adramicium, and loosed* from land, appointed to sail by the coasts of Asia, one Aristarcus out of Macedonia, v.22 Other: continue. v.28 Other: for to be come a Christen. v.32 Other: lowsed.

27. v.2 Other: lowsed.

of the country of Thessalia, being with us. * The next day 3 came we to Sidon, and Julius courteously entreated Paul, and gave him liberty to go unto his friends, and to refresh himself.
 And from thence launched we and sailed hard by Cypers, be- 4 cause the winds were contrary. Then sailed we over the sea 5 of Cicill,* and Pamphylia, and came to Myra a city in Lycia.
 And there the under-captain found a ship of Alexandry ready 6 to sail into Italy, and put us therein, and when we had sailed 7 slowly many days, and scarce were come over against Gnydon (because the wind withstood us) we sailed hard by the coast of Candy, over against Salmo, and with much work sailed be- 8 yond it, and came unto a place called Goode port. Nye whereunto was a city called Lasea. When much time was spent and 9 sailing was now jeopardous, because also that we had overlong fasted, Paul put them in remembrance, and said unto 10 them: Sirs I perceive that this voyage will be with hurt and* damage, not of the lading and ship only: but also of our lives.
 But* the under-captain believed the governor, and the mas- 11 ter, better than those things which were spoken of Paul. And 12 because the haven was not commodious to winter in, many took counsel to depart thence, if by any means they might attain to Phenices and there to winter, which haven pertaineth to* Candy, and serveth to the southwest, and northwest wind.
 When the south wind blew, they supposing to obtain their pur- 13 pose loosed* unto Asson, and sailed past all Candy. But anon 14 after there arose (against their purpose) a flaw of wind out of the northeast. * When the ship was caught, and could not re- 15 sist the wind, we let her go and drave with the weather. * We 16 came unto an isle named Clauda; And had much work to come by a boat, which they took up, and used help undergirding 17 the ship, fearing lest we should have fallen into Syrtes, and we let down a vessel and so were carried. The next day when 18 we were tossed with an exceeding tempest, they lightened the ship, and the third day we cast out with our own hands the 19 tackling of the ship. When at the last neither sun nor star in 20 many days appeared; And no small tempest lay upon us, all hope that we should be saved, was* taken away. Then after 21

v.3 Other: And. v.5 Other: Cilicia. v.10 Other: much. v.11 Other: Neverthelater.
 v.12 Other: is an haven of. v.13 Other: lowsed. v.15 Other: And. v.16 Other:
And. v.20 Other: then.

long abstinence Paul stood forth in the midst of them and said: Sirs ye should have heard* me, and not have departed* from Candy, neither to have brought unto us this harm and loss.

22 And now I exhort you to be of good cheer, for there shall be no 23 loss of any man's life among you: But* of the ship only. For there stood by me this night the angel of God whose I am, and 24 whom I serve, saying: fear not Paul, for thou must be brought before Cesar. And lo, God hath given unto thee all that are in 25 the ship* with thee, wherefore sirs be of good cheer, for I be-26 lieve God that so it shall be even as it was told me, and* we 27 must be cast into a certain island. But when the fourteenth night was come as we were carried in Adria, about midnight the shipmen deemed that there appeared some country unto 28 them, and they sounded, and found it twenty fathoms;* they went* a little further and* sounded again, and found fifteen 29 fathoms. Then fearing lest they should have fallen on some Rocke, they cast four anchors out of the stern, and wished for 30 the day. As the shipmen were about to flee out of the ship, and had let down the boat into the sea, under a colour as though 31 they would have cast anchors out of the foreship: Paul said unto the under-captain and the soldiers: except these abide 32 in the ship ye cannot be safe. Then the soldiers cut off the 33 rope of the boat, and let it fall away. And in the meantime, betwixt that and day, Paul besought them all to take meat, saying: this is the fourteenth day that ye have tarried and con-34 tinued fasting receiving nothing at all, wherefore I pray you to take meat: for this no doubt is for your health, for there 35 shall not an hair fall from the head of any of you. And when he had thus spoken he took bread and gave thanks to God in 36 presence of them all, and brake it, and began to eat. Then 37 were they all of good cheer, and they also took meat. We were all together in the ship, two hundred and three score and six-38 teen souls. * When they had eaten enough, they lightened the 39 ship and cast out the wheat into the sea. When it was day they knew not the land, but they spied a certain reach* with a bank, into the which they were minded (if it were possible) to 40 thrust in the ship. And when they had taken up the anchors, v.21 Other: hearkened to. v.21 Other: lowsed. v.22 Other: save. v.24 Other: sail. v.26 Other: Howbeit. v.28 Other: And when. v.28 Other: had gone. v.28 Other: they. v.38 Other: And. v.39 Other: haven.

they committed themselves unto the sea, and loosed* the rudder bonds and hoised up the main sail to the wind and drew to land, but they fell into* a place, which had the sea on both the sides, and thrust in the ship. And the fore part stuck fast, and moved not, but the hinder part brake with the violence of the waves. The soldiers' counsel was to kill the prisoners lest any of them, when he had swum out should flee away: but the under-captain willing to save Paul kept them from their purpose, and commanded that they that could swim should cast themselves first in to the sea, and scape to land. And the other he commanded to go, some on boards, and some on broken pieces of the ship. And so it came to pass, that they came all safe to land.

And when they were scaped* they knew that the isle was called Mileta. * The people of the country shewed us no little kindness, for they kindled a fire and received us every one because of the present rain, and because of cold. * When Paul had gathered a bundle of sticks; And put them into the fire, a viper (because of the heat) crept out* leapt on his hand. When the men of the country saw the worm hang on his hand, they said among themselves: this man must needs be a murderer: Whom (though he have escaped the sea) yet vengeance suffereth not to live. And* he shook off the vermin into the fire, and felt no harm. * They waited when he should have swollen, or fallen down dead suddenly. But after they had looked a great while, and saw no harm come to him, they changed their minds, and said that he was a God. In the same quarters, the chief man of the isle whose name was Publius, had a lordship: which* received us, and lodged us three days courteously. * It fortunated that the father of Publius lay sick of a fever, and of a bloody flux to whom Paul entered in and prayed, and laid his hands on him and healed him. When this was done, other also which had diseases in the isle, came and were healed: And they did us great honour. And when we departed, they laded us with things necessary. After three months we departed in a ship of Alexandry, which had wintered in the isle, whose badge was Castor and Pollux. And when we came to Cir-

v.40 Other: lowsed. v.41 Other: chanced on. 28. v.1 Other: ,then. v.2 Other: And. v.3 Other: And. v.3 Other: there came a viper out of the heat and. v.5 Other: But. v.6 Other: Howbeit. v.7 Other: the same. v.8 Other: And.

13 cusa, we tarried there three days, * from whence* we sailed about* and came to Regium. And after one day the south wind 14 blew, and we came the next day to Putiolus where we found brethren, and were desired to tarry with them seven days, and 15 so came we to Rome. And from thence, when the brethren heard of us, they came* to Apiphorum, and* three taverns, and met us. When Paul saw them he thanked God, and waxed 16 bold. * When he came to Rome, the under-captain delivered the prisoners to the chief captain of the host: but Paul was 17 suffered to dwell alone* with one Soldier that kept him. * It fortun'd after three days* Paul called the chief of the jews to gether.* When they were come, he said unto them: Men and brethren, though I have committed no thing against the people, or laws of our fathers: yet was I delivered prisoner from 18 Jerusalem into the hands of the romans. Which when they had examined me, would have let me go, because they found 19 no cause of death in me: but when the jews cried contrary:
 I was constrained to appeal unto Cesar. Not because I had 20 ought to accuse my people of. For this cause have I called for you* to see you, and to speak with you. For I because of* 21 the hope of Israel,* am bound with this chain. And they said unto him: We neither received letters out of Jewry pertaining unto thee, neither came any of the brethren that shewed or 22 spake any harm of thee. But we will hear of thee what thou thinkest. For we have heard of this sect, that everywhere it is 23 spoken against. * When they had appointed him a day, there came many unto him into his lodging: to whom he expounded and testified the kingdom of God; and preached unto them of Jesu: both by* the law of Moses, and also out by* the prophets* 24 from morning to night. And some believed the things which 25 were spoken, and some believed not. When they agreed not among themselves, they departed, after that Paul had spoken one word: well spake the holy ghost by Esay the prophet unto 26 our fathers, saying: Go unto this people and say: with your ears shall ye hear, and shall not understand: and with your 27 eyes shall ye see and shall not perceive. For the heart of v.13 Other: And. v.13 Other: thence. v.13 Other: fetched a compass. v.15 Other: against us. v.15 Other: to the. v.16 Other: And. v.16 Other: by himself.

 v.17 Other: And. v.17 Other: that. v.17 Other: And. v.20 Other: ,even.
 v.20 Other: that for. v.20 Other: I. v.23 Other: And. v.23 Other: out of.
 v.23 Other: of. v.23 Other: ,even.

this people is waxed gross, and their ears wax^{} thick of hearing, and their eyes have they closed, lest they should see with their eyes, and hear with their ears, and understand with their hearts, and should be converted, and I should heal them. Be it 28 known therefore unto you, that this consolation^{} of God is sent to the gentiles, and they shall hear it. And when he had said 29 that, the jews departed from him, and had great disputation^{} among themselves. But^{} Paul dwelt^{*} two years in his lodging. 30
 And received all that came to him, preaching the kingdom of 31
 God, and teaching those things which concerned the Lord Jesus with all confidence, no man forbidding him.^{*}

Here endeth the Actt off the aposttel.

v.27 Other: were. v.28 Other: salvation. v.29 Other: despiciens. v.30 Other: And.
 v.30 Other: full. v.31 Other: unforbidden.

The Epistle Of Paul The Apostle To The Roman.

I Naul the servant of Jesus Christ, called unto the office of* an apostle, put apart to preach the gospell of God, 2 which he promised afore by his prophets, in the holy 3 scriptures that make mention of his son, the which was begotten (unto him) of the seed of David, as pertaining 4 to the flesh: and declared to be the son of God with power of the holy ghost, that sanctifieth, since the time that Jesus 5 Christ our Lord rose again from death, by whom we have received grace and apostleship, that all gentiles should obey to 6 the faith which is in his name,* of the which number are ye* 7 also, which are Jesus Christ's by vocation. To all you of Rome beloved of God, and saints by calling. Grace be with you and peace from God our father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ.
8 First verily I thank my God thorow Jesus Christ for you all, 9 because your faith is published throughout all the world. For God is my witness, whom I serve with my spirit, in the Gospell of his son that without ceasing I make mention of you always 10 in my prayers, beseeching that at one time or another, a prosperous journey (by the will of God) might fortune me to come 11 unto you. For I long to see you, that I might bestow among 12 you some spiritual gift, to strengthen you withal (that is) that I might have consolation together with you, through the com-13 mon faith, which both ye and I have. I would that ye should know, brethren, how that I have oftentimes purposed to come unto you (but have been let hitherto) to have some fruit among 14 you, as I have among other of the gentiles. For I am debtor both to the greeks, and to them which are no greeks, unto the 15 learned and also unto the unlearned. Likewise, as much as in me is, I am ready to preach the gospel to you of Rome also.
16 For I am not ashamed of the gospel of Christ, because it is the power of God unto salvation to all that believe, namely 17 to the jew, and also to the gentile. For by it the righteousness which cometh of God is opened, from faith to faith. As it

1. v.1 Other: to be. v.5 Other: to bring all manner heathen people unto obedience of the faith, that is in his name:. v.6 Other: of the which heathen are ye a part.

is written: The just shall live by faith. For the wrath of God 18 of heaven appeareth* against all ungodliness and unrighteous- 19 ness of men which withhold the truth in unrighteousness, see- 19 ing that that, which* may be known of God,* is manifest among 20 them. For God did shew it unto them. For* his invisible things 20 (that is to say, his eternal power and godhead) are understood and seen, by the works from the creation of the world. So that they are without excuse, inasmuch as when they knew 21 God, they glorified him not as God, neither were thankful, but waxed full of vanities in their imaginations. And their fool- 21 ish hearts were blinded. When they counted themselves wise, 22 they became fools and turned the glory of the immortal God, 23 unto the similitude of the image of mortal man, and of birds, and four footed beasts and* serpents. For this cause* God* 24 gave them up unto their hearts' lusts, unto uncleanness to de- 24 file their own bodies between themselves: which turned his truth unto a lie, and worshipped and served the creatures more 25 then the maker, which is blessed forever Amen. For this cause 26 God gave them up unto shameful lusts. For even their women did change the natural use unto the unnatural. And likewise 27 also the men left the natural use of the woman, and brent in* 27 lust* one on another among themselves. And man with man wrought filthiness, and received in themselves the reward of 28 their error as it was according. And as it seemed not good 28 unto them to be aknownd of God, even so God delivered them up unto a lewd mind, that they should do those things which were not comely, being full of all unrighteous doing, of fornication, 29 wickedness, covetousness, maliciousness, full of envy, murder, debate, deceit, evil conditioned whisperers, backbiters, haters 30 of God, doers of wrong, proud, boasters,* bringers up of evil things, disobedient to fathers and mothers, without under- 31 standing, covenant breakers, unloving, stubborn* and merciless. Which men, though they knew the righteousness of God, 32 (considered not) how that they which such things commit are worthy of death, yet not only (they that) do the same, but also (they which) had* pleasure in them that did* them.

v.18 Other: wrath of God appeareth from heaven. v.19 Other: what. v.19 Other: that same. v.20 Other: So that. v.23 Other: of. v.24 Other: Wherefore. v.24 Other: like wise. v.27 Other: their. v.27 Other: lusts. v.30 Other: bosters. v.31 Other: truce breakers. v.32 Other: have. v.32 Other: do.

II Therefore art thou inexcusable O man whosoever thou be that judgest. For in the same wherein thou judgest another, thou condemnest thyself. For thou that judgest doest even the 2 same self things. But we are sure that the judgement of God is according to truth, against them which commit such things.
 3 Thinkest thou* O thou man that judgest them which do such things and yet doest even the very same, that thou shalt es-
 4 cape the judgement of God? Other* despisest thou the riches of his goodness and patience, and long sufferance? and rememberest not how that the kindness of God leadeth thee to repen-
 5 tance? But thou after thine hard heart that cannot repent, heapest thee together the treasure of wrath against the day of vengeance, when shall be opened the righteous judgement
 6 of God, which will reward every man according to his deeds, 7 that is to say praise, honour, and immortality, to them which 8 continue in good doing, and seek eternal life: But unto them that are rebellious, and disobey the truth, yet* follow iniquity, 9 shall come indignation, and wrath, tribulation and anguish upon the soul of every man that doth evil. Of the jew first:
 10 And also of the gentile. To every man that doth good shall come praise, honour and peace, to the jew first, and also to 11, 12 the gentile. For there is no partiality with God: But whosoever hath sinned without law, shall perish without law. And as many as have sinned under the law, shall be judged by the 13 law. For before God they are not righteous which hear the 14 law: but they which do* the law shall be justified. For if the gentiles which have no law, do of nature the things contained in the law: then they having no law, are a law unto themselves, 15 which shew the deed of the law written in their hearts: While their conscience beareth witness unto them, and also their 16 thoughts, accusing one another, or excusing at the day when God shall judge the secrets of men, by Jesus Christ accord-17 ing to my gospel. Behold, thou art called a jew, and trustest 18 in the law and rejoicest in God, and knowest his will, and hast experience of good and bad, in that thou art informed by 19 the law: And believest that thou thyself art a guide unto the 20 blind, a light to them which are in darkness, an informer of them which lack discretion, a teacher of the unlearned, which hast the ensample of that which ought to be known, and of the truth in the law. Now teachest thou another: but teachest not thyself.* Thou preachest, a man should not steal: and yet thou stealest. Thou sayest, a man should not commit adultery and thou breakest wedlock. Thou abhorrest images, and robbest God of his honour. Thou rejoicest in the law, and thorow breaking the law dishonourest God. For the name of God is evil spoken of among the gentiles thorow you as it is written. Circumcision verily availeth if thou keep the law: But if thou break the law thy circumcision is made uncircumcision. Therefore if the uncircumcised keep the right things contained in the law: shall not his uncircumcision be counted for circumcision? And shall not uncircumcision which is by nature (if it keep the law) judge thee, which being under the letter and circumcision, dost transgress the law? For he is not a jew, which is a jew outward. Neither is that thing circumcision, which is outward in the flesh: But he is a Jew which is hid within, and the circumcision of the heart is the true circumcision, which is in the spirit, and not in the letter: whose praise is not of men but of God.

2. v.3 Other: this. v.4 Other: Either. v.8 Other: and. v.13 Other: doers of.

What preferment than hath the jew? other what advantage hath circumcision? Surely very much. First unto them was committed the word of God. What then though some of them did not believe? shall their unbelief make the promise of God without effect? God forbid. Let God be true, and all men liars, as it is written: That thou mightest be justified in thy sayings and shouldest overcome when thou art judged. If our unrighteousness make the righteousness of God more excellent: what shall we say? Is God unrighteous which taketh vengeance? (I speak after the manner of men.) God forbid. For how then shall God judge the world? if the verity of God appear more excellent thorow my lie,* unto his praise, why am I hence forth judged as a sinner? and say not rather (as men evil speak of us, and as some affirm that we say) let us do evil, that good may come thereof. Whose damnation is just. What say we then? Are we better than they? no, in no wise. For we have all ready proved how that both jews and gentiles are all under sin, as it is written: There is none righteous, no not one: There is none that understandeth, there is none that seeketh after God, they are all gone out of the way, they are all made v.21 Other: But thou which teachest another, teachest not thyself. 3. v.7 Other: lye.

13 unprofitable, there is none that doeth good, no not one. Their 14 throat is an open sepulchre, with their tongues they have de-15 ceived: the poison of Aspes is under their lips; whose mouths 16, 17 are full of cursing and bitterness. Their feet are swift to shed 18 blood. Destruction and wretchedness are in their ways: And 19 the way of peace have they not known. There is no fear of 20 God before their eyes. Yea and we know that whatsoever the 21 law saith, he saith it to them which are under the law: That 22 all mouths may be stopped, and all the world be subdued to 23 God, because that by the deeds of the law, shall no flesh be 24 justified in the sight of God. For by the law cometh the knowl-25 edge of sin. Now verily is the righteousness that cometh of 26 God declared with out the fulfilling of the law having witness 27 yet of the law, and of the prophets. The righteousness no 28 doubt which is good before God cometh by the faith of Jesus 29 Christ unto all, and upon all them that believe. (of him) For 30 there is no difference,* all have sinned, and lack the praise 31 that is of valour before God: but are justified freely by his grace, through the redemption that is in Christ Jesu, whom God hath made a seat of mercy thorow faith in his blood, to shew the righteousness which before him is of valour, in that he forgiveth the sins that are passed, which God did suffer to shew at this time: the righteousness that is allowed of him, that he might be counted just, and a justifier of him which believeth on Jesus. Where is then thy rejoicing? It is excluded.
 By what law? by the law of works? Nay: but by the law of faith. We suppose therefore* that a man is justified by faith without the deeds of the law. Is he the God of the jews only?
 Is he not also the God of the gentiles? He is no doubt, God also of the gentiles.* For it is God only which justifieth circumcision, which is of faith: and uncircumcision thorow faith. Do we then destroy the law thorow faith? God forbid.* We rather maintain the law.

IV What shall we say then, that Abraham our father as per-2 taining to the flesh did find? If Abraham were justified by 3 deeds, then hath he wherein to rejoice: but not with God. For 4 what saith the scripture? Abraham believed God, and it was counted unto him for righteousness. To him that worketh is v.23 Other: for. v.28 Other: we hold. v.29 Other: Yes, even of the Gentiles also.

 v.31 Other: But.

the reward not reckoned of favour: but of duty. To him that 5 worketh not, but believeth on him that justifieth the ungodly, is* faith counted for righteousness. (according to the purpose of the grace of God) Even as David describeth the blessedfulness 6 of a* man, unto whom good* ascribeth righteousness without deeds: Blessed are they, whose unrighteousness is forgiven,* 7 and whose sins are covered. Blessed is that man to whom 8 the Lord imputeth not sin. Came this blessedness then upon 9 the circumcised or upon the uncircumcised? We say verily how that faith was reckoned to Abraham, for righteousness. How 10 was it reckoned? in the time of circumcision? or in the time before he was circumcised? Not in time of circumcision: but when he was yet uncircumcised. And he received the sign of circumcision, as a seal of the righteousness which is by faith, 11 which faith he had yet being uncircumcised, that he should be the father of all them that believe, though they be not circumcised, that righteousness might be imputed to them also;
 And that he might be the father of the circumcised: not be- 12 cause they are circumcised only: but because they walk also in the steps of that faith, which* was in our father Abraham before the time of circumcision. For the promise that he should 13 be heir of the world was not given to Abraham, or to his seed thorow the law: but thorow the righteousness which cometh of faith. For if they which are of the law be heirs, then is faith 14 but vain, and the promise of none effect. Because the law 15 causeth wrath. For where no law is, there is no transgression.
 Therefore by faith is the inheritance given, that it might come 16 of favour: and that the promise might be sure to all the seed.
 Not to them only which are of the law: but also to them which are of the faith of Abraham, which is the father of us all. As it 17 is written: I have ordained* thee a father to many nations,* before God whom thou hast believed, which quickeneth the dead and calleth* those things which be not as though they were.
 Which Abraham, contrary to hope, believed in hope, that he 18 should be the father of many nations, according to that which was spoken: So shall thy seed be. (as the stars of heaven, and sand of the sea) And he fainted not in the faith, nor yet con- 19 sidered his own body, which was now dead, even when he was

4. v.5 Other: his. v.6 Other: the. v.6 Other: god. v.7 Other: unrighteousnesses are forgiven. v.12 Other: that. v.17 Other: made. v.17 Other: even. v.17 Other: called.

almost an hundred year old. Neither considered he the barren-20 ness of Sara.* He staggered not at the promise of God thorow unbelief: But was made strong in the faith, and gave honour 21 to God and steadfastly believed,* that he which had made the 22 promised was able also to make it good.* And therefore was 23 it reckoned to him for righteousness. It is not written for him 24 only, that it was reckoned to him for righteousness: but also for us, to whom it shall be counted for righteousness so we be-25 lieve on him that raised, up Jesus our Lord from death. Which was delivered for our sins, and rose again for to justify us.

V Because therefore that we are justified by faith we are at 2 peace with God thorow our Lord Jesus Christ: by whom we have a way in thorow faith unto this favour* wherein we stand and rejoyce in hope of the praise that shall be given (of the chil- 3 dren) of God. Neither do we so only: but also we rejoyce in tribulation: For we know that tribulation bringeth patience, 4, 5 patience bringeth fealing, fealing* bringeth hope. And hope maketh not ashamed, because the love that God hath unto us,* is shed abroad in our hearts, by the holy ghost, which is given 6 unto us. For when we were yet weak according to the time: 7 Christ died for us which were ungodly. Yet scarce will any man die for a righteous man. Peradventure for a good man 8 durst a man die. But God setteth out his love that he hath to us; Seeing that while we were yet sinners; (according to the 9 time) Christ died for us. Much more then now (seeing we are justified in his blood) shall we be preserved* from wrath thorow 10 him. For if when we were enemies, we were reconciled to God by the death of his son: much more, seeing we are reconciled, 11 we shall be preserved by his life. Not only so, but we also joy in God by the means of our Lord Jesus Christ, by whom we 12 have received this* atonement. Wherefore as by one man sin entered into the world, and death by the means of sin. And so 13 death went over all men, insomuch that all men sinned. For even unto the time of the law was sin in the world: but sin 14 was not regarded, as long as there was no law: nevertheless death reigned from Adam to Moses, even over them also that v.19 Other: :neither yet that Sara was past childbearing. v.20 Other: full certified.

 v.21 Other: that what he had promised, that he was able to make good. 5. v.2 Other: grace. v.4 Other: experience, experience. v.5 Other: for the love of God. v.9 Other: saved. v.11 Other: the.

sinned not, with like transgression as did Adam: which is the similitude of him that was* to come. But the gift is not like as the sin. For if thorrow the sin of one, many be dead: much more plenteous upon many was the favour* of God and gift by favour:* which favour* was given by one man Jesus Christ. And the gift is not over one sin, as death came thorrow one sin of one that sinned. For damnation came of one sin unto condemnation: But the gift came to justify from many sins. For if by the sin of one, death reigned by the means of one, much more shall they which receive abundance of favour* and of the gift of righteousness reign in life by the means of one (that is to say) Jesus Christe. Likewise then as by the sin of one, condemnation came on all men: even so by the justifying of one cometh the righteousness that bringeth life, upon all men. For as by one man's disobedience many became sinners: so by the obedience of one shall many be made righteous. * The law in the mean time entered in that sin should increase. And* where abundance of sin was, there was more plenteousness of grace. That as sin had reigned unto death, even so might grace reign thorrow righteousness unto eternal life, by the help of Jesu* Christ.

What shall we say then? shall we continue in sin, that there may be abundance of grace? God forbid. How shall we that are dead as touching sin live any longer therein? Remember ye not that all we which are baptised in the name of Christ Jesu, are baptised to die with him? We are buried with him by baptism for to die: That* as Christ was raised up from death by the glory of the father: even so we also should walk in a new life. For if we be graft in death like unto him: even so must we be in the resurrection. This we must remember, that our old man is crucified with him also, that the body of sin might utterly be destroyed, that henceforth we should not be servants of sin. For he that is dead, is justified from sin. Wherefore if we be dead with Christ, we believe that we shall live with him: remembering that Christ once raised from death, dieth no more. Death hath no more power over him. For as touching that he died, he died as concerning sin once. And as touching v.14 Other: is. v.15 Other: grace. v.15 Other: grace:. v.15 Other: grace.

v.17 Other: grace. v.20 Other: But. v.20 Other: Neverthelater. v.21 Other:

Iesu. 6. v.4 Other: likewise.

11 that he liveth, he liveth unto God. Likewise imagine ye also,
 12 that ye are dead concerning sin: but are alive unto God thorow 13 Jesus Christ our Lord. Let not sin reign therefore in your 14 mortal bodies, that ye should thereunto obey in the lusts of it.
 15 Neither give ye your members as instruments of unrighteous-16 ness unto sin: But give yourselves unto God, as they that are 17 alive from death. And give your members as instruments of 18 righteousness unto God. Sin shall not have power over you.*
 19 For ye are not under the law, but under grace. What then?
 20 Shall we sin, because we are not under the law: but under 21 grace? God forbid. Remember ye not how that to whomsoever 22 ye commit yourselves as servants to obey, his servants ye are 23 to whom ye obey: whether it be of sin unto death, or of obedi-24 ence unto righteousness? God be thanked.* Ye were once the 25 servants of sin: But now* have* obeyed with your hearts* unto 26 the form of doctrine where unto ye were delivered. Ye are 27 then made free from sin, and are become the servants of righ-28 teousness. I will speak grossly because of the infirmity of your 29 flesh. As ye have given your members servants to unclean-30 ness and to iniquity, from iniquity unto iniquity: even so now 31 give your members servants unto righteousness, that ye may 32 be sanctified. For when ye were servants of sin, ye were not 33 under righteousness. What fruit had ye then in those things, 34 where of ye are now ashamed. For the end of those things is 35 death. But now are ye delivered from sin, and made the ser-36 vants of God, and have your fruit that ye should be sanctified, 37 and the end everlasting life. For the reward of sin is death: 38 but eternal life is the gift of God, thorow Jesus Christ our Lord.

VII Remember ye not brethren (I speak to them that know the 1 law) how that the law hath power over a man as long as it 2 endureth: For the woman which is in subjection to a man, is 3 bound by the law to the man, as long as he liveth. If the man 4 be dead, she is loosed* from the law of the man. So then if 5 while the man liveth she couple herself with another man, she 6 shall be counted a wedlock breaker. But if the man be dead 7 she is free from the law: so that she is no wedlock breaker, 8 though she couple herself with another man. Even so ye my 9 brethren, ye also are made dead as concerning the law by the v.14 Other: Let not sin have power over you. v.17 Other: ,that though. v.17 Other:

 ye. v.17 Other: yet. v.17 Other: heart. 7. v.2 Other: lowsed.

body of Christ, that ye should be coupled to another (I mean to him that is risen again from death) that we should bring forth fruit unto God. * When we were in the flesh, the lusts of sin 5 which were stirred up by the law, reigned in our members, to bring forth fruit unto death. But now are we delivered from 6 the law, and dead from it,* whereunto we were in bondage, that we should serve in a new conversation of the spirit, and not in the old conversation of the letter. What shall we say then? is 7 the law sin? God forbid: but I knew not what sin meant but by the law. For I had not known what lust had meant, except the law had said, thou shalt not lust. But sin took an occa- 8 sion by the means of the commandment, and wrought in me all manner of concupiscence. For verily without the law sin was dead. I once lived without law: but when the command- 9 ment came, sin revived, and I was dead. And the very same commandment which was ordained unto life, was found to be unto me an occasion of death. For sin took occasion by the 11 means of the commandment and so deceived me, and by the self commandment slew me. Wherefore the law is holy, and 12 the commandment holy, just, and good. Was that then which is good made death unto me? God forbid. Nay sin was death 13 unto me, that it might appear how that sin by the means of that which is good, had wrought death in me: that sin which is under the commandment, might be out of measure sinful. For 14 we know that the law is spiritual: but I am carnal, sold under sin: because I wot not what I do. For what I would, that do I not: but what I hate, that do I. If I do now that which I would 16 not, I grant to the law that it is good. So then now it is not I 17 that do it, but sin that dwelleth in me. For I know that in me 18 (that is to say in my flesh) dwelleth no good thing. To will is present with me: but I find no means to perform that which is good. For I do not that good thing which I would: but that evil 19 do I, which I would not. Finally, if I do that I would not, then is it not I that do it, but sin that dwelleth in me doeth it. I find 21 then by the law that when I would do good, evil is present with me. I delight in the law of God, as concerning the inner man. 22 But I see another law in my members rebelling against the law 23 of my mind, and subduing me unto the law of sin, which is in my members. O wretched man that I am: who shall deliver 24 25 me from this body of death? I thank God by* Jesus Christ our Lord: So then I myself in my mind serve the law of God, and in my flesh the law of sin.

VIII

There is then no damnation to them which are in Christ 2 Jesu, which walk not after the flesh: but after the spirit. For the law of the spirit, wherein is* life thorow Jesus Christ hath 3 delivered me from the law of sin, and death. For what the law could not do inasmuch as it was weak because of the flesh: that performed God, and sent his son in the similitude of sinful 4 flesh, and by sin damned sin in the flesh: that the righteousness required of the law, might be fulfilled in us, which walk 5 not after the flesh: but after the spirit. For they that are carnal, are carnally minded; and* they that are spiritual are 6 ghostly minded. To be carnally minded is death; and* to be 7 spiritually minded is life, and peace: because that the fleshly mind is enmity against God: For it is not obedient to the law 8 of God, neither can be. So then they that are given to the 9 flesh, cannot please God. But ye are not given to the flesh; But to the spirit: If so be that the spirit of God dwell in you. If there be any man that hath not the spirit of Christ, the same 10 is none of his. If Christ be in you, the body is dead because of 11 sin: But the spirit is life for righteousness' sake. Wherefore if the spirit of him that raised up Jesus from death, dwell in you: even he that raised up Christ from death, shall quicken your mortal bodies, be cause that his* spirit dwelleth in you.
 12 Therefore brethren we are now debtors, not to the flesh, to live 13 after the flesh: For if ye live after the flesh, ye must die. But if ye mortify the deeds of the body, by the help of the spirit, ye 14 shall live, for as many as are led by the spirit of God,* are the 15 sons of God. For ye have not received the spirit of bondage to fear any more, but ye have received the spirit of adoption 16 whereby we cry Abba father. The same spirit certifieth our 17 spirit that we are the sons of God. If we be sons, we are also heirs (the heirs I mean of God) and heirs annexed with Christ, if so be that we suffer together, that we may be glorified to-18 gether. For I suppose that the afflictions of this life, are not 19 worthy of the glory which shall be shewed upon us. Also the fervent desire of the creatures abideth looking when the sons of v.25 Other: thorow. 8. v.2 Other: that bringeth. v.5 Other: But. v.6 Other: But.

 v.11 Other: this. v.14 Other: they.

God shall appear because the creatures are subdued to vanity against their will: but for his will which subdued* them in hope. For the very creatures shall be delivered from the bondage of corruption, into the glorious liberty of the sons of God. For we know that every creature groaneth with us also, and travaileth in pain even unto this time. Not they only, but even we also which have the first fruits of the spirit mourn in ourselves and wait for the adoption (of the children God) and look for the deliverance of our bodies. For we are saved by hope. But hope that is seen is no hope. For how can a man hope for that which he seeth? but and if we hope for that we see not, then do we with patience abide for it. Likewise the spirit also helpeth our infirmities. For we know not, what to desire as we ought: but the spirit maketh intercession mightily for us with groanings which cannot be expressed with tongue. And he that searcheth the hearts knoweth what is the meaning of the spirit: for he maketh intercession for the saints according to the pleasure of God. For we know well that all things work for the best unto them that love God, which also are called of purpose. For those which he knew before, he also ordained before, that they should be like fashioned unto the shape of his son, that he might be the first begotten son among many brethren. Moreover which he appointed before, them he also called; and which he called, them also he justified; which he justified, them he also glorified. What shall we then say unto these things? if God be on our side: who can be against us? which spared not his own son, but gave him for us all: How shall he not with him give us all things also? Who shall lay anything to the charge of God's chosen? It is God that justifieth: who then shall condemn? it is Christ which is dead; Yea rather which is risen again, which is also on the right hand of God and maketh intercession for us. Who shall separate us from God's love? shall tribulation? or anguish? or persecution, other hunger? other nakedness? other peril? other sword? As it is written: For thy sake are we killed all day long, and are counted as sheep appointed to be slain. Nevertheless in all these things we overcome strongly thorow his help that loved us. Yea and I am sure that neither death, neither life, neither angel,* nor rule, neither power, neither things present, v.20 Other: subdueth. v.38 Other: angels.

39 neither things to come, neither height, neither lowth, neither any other creature shall be able to depart us from God's love,* which is* in Christ Jesu our Lord.

IX I Say the truth in Christ and lie not, in that whereof my 2 conscience beareth me witness in the holy ghost, that I have 3 great heaviness, and continual sorrow in my heart. For I have wished myself to be cursed from Christ for my brethren, which 4 are* my kinsmen as pertaining to the flesh. Which are the Israelites, to whom pertaineth the adoption, (of the children) and the glory, and the testaments,* and the ordinance of the 5 law,* and the service of God, and the promises, whose also are the fathers, and they of whom (as concerning the flesh) Christ 6 came: which is God over all things blessed forever Amen. I speak not these things as though the words of God had took* none effect. For they are not all Israelites which came of Is-7 rael; Neither are they all children straightway because they are the seed of Abraham: But in Isaac shall thy seed be called, 8 that is to say; They which are the children of the flesh, are not the children of God. But the children of promise are counted 9 the seed. For this is a word of promise, about this time will I 10 come, and Sara shall have a son. Neither was it to with her only: but also when Rebecca was with child by one, I mean by 11 our father Isaac, yer the children were born, when they had neither done good neither bad (that the purpose of God which is by election, might stand) it was said unto her, not by the rea-12 son of works, but by grace of the caller, the elder shall serve the younger. As it is written: Jacob he loved, but Esau he 13 hated. What shall we say then? is there any unrighteousness 14 with God? God forbid. For he saith to Moses: I will shew mercy to whom I shew mercy: And will have compassion on 15 whom I have compassion. So lieth it not then in a man's will, 16 or running,* but in the mercy of God. For the scripture saith unto Pharaoh: Even for this same purpose have I stirred thee up, to shew my power on thee, and that my name might be 18 declared thorowout all the world. So hath he mercy on whom 19 he will. And whom he will he maketh hard hearted. Thou wilt say then unto me: why then blameth he us yet? For who 20 can resist his will? But O man what art thou, which disputest v.39 Other: the love of God. v.39 Other: showed. 9. v.3 Other: and. v.4 Other: convenants. v.4 Other: the law that was given. v.6 Other: taken. v.16 Other: cunning.

with God? shall the work say to the workman: why hast thou made me on this fashion? Hath not the potter power over the 21 clay, even of the same lump to make one vessel unto honour, and another unto dishonour? Even so, God willing to shew 22 his wrath, and to make his power known, suffered with long patience the vessels of wrath, ordained to damnation, that he 23 might declare the riches of his glory on the vessels of mercy, which he had prepared* unto glory: that is to say, us which 24 he called, not of the jews only, but also of the gentiles. As 25 he saith in Osee: I will call them my people which were not my people: and her beloved which was not beloved. And it 26 shall come to pass in the place where it was said unto them: Ye are not my people, that there shall be called the sons* of the living God. But Esaias crieth for* Israel, though the number 27 of the children of Israel be as the sand of the sea, yet shall a remnant be saved. He finisheth the work verily and maketh 28 it short in righteousness. For a short word will God make on earth. And as Esaias said before: Except the Lord of Sabaoth 29 had left us seed, we had been made as Zodoma, and had been likened to Gomorra. What shall we say then? we say that 30 the gentiles which followed not righteousness, have overtaken righteousness I mean the righteousness which cometh of faith.
 But Israel which followed the law of righteousness, could not 31 attain unto the law of righteousness. And wherefore? Be- 32 cause they sought it not by faith: but as it were by the works of the law. For they have stumbled at the stumbling stone. As 33 it is written: Behold I put in Syon a stumbling stone, and a rock which shall make men fall. And none that believe on him, shall be ashamed.

Brethren my heart's desire, and prayer to God for Israel is X that they might be saved. For I bear them record that they 2 have a fervent mind to Godward, but not according to knowl- 3 edge. For they are ignorant of the righteousness which is allowed before God, and go about to establish their own righteousness and therefore are not obedient unto the righteous- 4 ness which is of value before God. For Christ is the end of the 5 law to justify all that believe. Moses describeth the righteousness which cometh of the law, how that the man which doth 6 the things of the law shall live therein. But the righteousness v.23 Other: prepayred. v.26 Other: children. v.27 Other: concerning.

which cometh of faith, speaketh on this wise: Say not in thine heart: who shall ascend into heaven? (That is nothing else than to fetch Christ down.) Other* who shall descend into the deep? That is nothing else but to fetch up Christ from death. But what saith the scripture? The word is nye thee, even in thy mouth and in thine heart. This word is the word of faith which we preach. For if thou shalt knowledge with thy mouth* that Jesus is the Lord, and shalt believe with thine heart that God raised him up from death, thou shalt be safe. For the belief of the heart justifieth: and to knowledge with the mouth maketh a man safe. For the scripture saith: whosoever believeth on him, shall not be ashamed. There is no difference between the jew and the gentile. For one is Lord of all, which is rich unto all that call on him. For whosoever shall call on the name of the Lord shall be safe. * How shall they call on him, on whom they believed not? how shall they believe on him of whom they have not heard? how shall they hear with out a preacher? And how shall they preach except they be sent? As it is written: how beautiful are the feet of them which bring glad tidings of peace, and bring glad tidings of good things. But they have not all obeyed to the gospel. For Esaias saith: Lord who shall believe our sayings? So then faith cometh by hearing, and hearing cometh by the word of God. But I ask: have they not heard? No doubt, their sound went out into all lands: and their words into the ends of the world. But I demand whether Israel did know or not? First Moses saith: I will provoke you for to envy by them that are no people, and by a foolish nation I will anger you. Esaias after that is bold and saith. I am found of them that sought me not, and have appeared to them that asked not after me. And against Israel he saith: All day long have I stretched forth my hands unto a people that believeth not, but speaketh against me.

XI I say then: hath God cast away his people? God forbid. For even I verily am an Israelite of the seed of Abraham, and of the tribe of Benjamin; God hath not cast away his people which he knew before. Other* wot ye not what the scripture saith by the mouth of Helias, how he spake* to God against Israel, saying: Lord they have killed thy prophets and digged down thine al-

10. v.7 Other: or. v.9 Other: mought. v.14 Other: But. 11. v.2 Other: Either. v.2 Other: maketh intercession.

tars: and I am left only, and they seek my death.* But what 4 saith the answer of God to him again? I have reserved unto 4 me seven thousand men which have not bowed their knees* to 5 baal. Even so at this time is there a remnant left thorow the 5 election of grace. If it be of grace then is it not by the deserv- 6 ing of works.* For then were favour* no more favour.* If it be by 6 the deserving of works, then is there no favour.* For then were 6 deserving no* deserving. What then? Israel hath not obtained 7 that that he sought. No but yet the election hath obtained it. 7 The remnant are blinded, according as it is written: God hath 8 given them the spirit of unquietness: eyes that they should 8 not see, and ears that they should not hear, even unto this day. 8 And David saith: Let their table be made a snare to take them 9 withal, and an occasion to fall, and a reward unto them. Let 10 their eyes be blinded that they see not: and ever bow down 10 their backs. I say then: Have they therefore stumbled that 11 they should but fall only? God forbid: but thorow their fall is 11 health* happened unto the gentiles for to provoke them withal. 11 Wherefore if the fall of them, be the riches of the world: and the 12 minishing of them the riches of the gentiles: How much more 12 should it be so if they all believed. I speak to you gentiles, 13 inasmuch as I am the apostle of the gentiles I will magnify 13 mine office that might provoke them which are my flesh: and 14 might save some of them. For if the casting away of them, be 15 the reconciling of the world: what shall the receiving of them 15 be, but life again from death? For if one piece be holy, the 16 whole heap is holy. And if the root be holy, the branches are 16 holy also. Though some of the branches be broken off, and 17 thou being a wild olive tree art graft in among them, and made 17 partaker* of the root, and fatness of the olive tree, boast* not 18 thyself against the branches. For if thou boast* thyself, remem- 18 ber that thou bearest not the root, but the root thee. Thou wilt 19 say then: the branches are broken off, that I might be graft in. 19 Thou sayest well: because of unbelief they are broken off, and 20 thou standest steadfast in faith. Be not high minded, but fear: 20 seeing that God spared not the natural branches, lest haply he 21 also spare not thee. Behold the kindness and rigorousness of 22 v.3 Other: and they seek my life. v.4 Other: the knee. v.6 Other: then is it not of works. v.6 Other: grace. v.6 Other: grace. v.6 Other: is it no more grace. v.6 Other: longer. v.11 Other: salvation. v.17 Other: part taker. v.18 Other: boost. v.18 Other: boost.

God: on them which fell, rigorousness: but towards thee kindness, if thou continue in his kindness. Or else thou shalt be 23 hewn off, and they if they bide not still in unbelief shall be grafted in again. For God is of power to graft them in again.
 24 For if thou wast cut out of a natural wild olive tree, and wast grafted contrary to nature in a true olive tree: how much more shall the natural branches be grafted in their own olive tree 25 again. I would not that this secret should be hid from you my brethren (lest ye should be wise in your own conceits) that partly blindness is happened in Israel, until the fullness of the 26 gentiles be come in. And so all Israel shall be saved. As it is written: There shall come out of Sion he that doth deliver, 27 and shall turn away the ungodliness of Jacob. And this is my covenant unto them, when I shall take away their sins. As concerning the gospel; They are enemies for your sakes: but as touching the election, they are loved for the fathers' sakes.
 29 For verily the gifts and calling of God are such, that it cannot 30 repent him of them, for look, as ye in time passed have not believed God, yet have now obtained mercy thorow their un-31 belief: even so now have they not believed the mercy which 32 is happened unto you; That they also may obtain mercy. God hath wrapped all nations in unbelief, that he might have mercy 33 on all. O the deepness of the abundant wisdom and knowledge off God: how incomprehensible* are his judgements, and 34 his ways unsearchable.* For who hath known the mind of the 35 Lord? or who was his counsellor? other who hath given unto 36 him first, that he might be recompensed again? For of him, and thorow him, and unto* him are all things. To him be glory forever Amen.

XII I beseech you therefore brethren by the mercifulness of God that ye make your bodies a quick sacrifice, holy and accept-2 able unto God which is your reasonable serving of God. And fashion not yourselves like unto this world: But be ye changed in your shape, by the renewing of your wits, that ye may feel what thing that good, that acceptable, and perfect will of God 3 is. For I say (thorow the grace that unto me given is) to every man among you, that no man esteem of himself more than it becometh him to esteem: But that he discreetly judge of himself according as God hath dealt to every man the measure of v.33 Other: unsearchable. v.33 Other: past finding out. v.36 Other: for.

faith. As we have many members in one body: and all mem- 4 bers have not one office: So we being many are one body in 5 Christ: and every man (among ourselves) one another's members. Seeing that we have divers gifts according to the grace 6 that is given unto us, if any man have the gift of prophecy, let him have it that it be agreeing unto the faith. Let him that 7 hath an office, wait on his office. Let him that teacheth take 8 heed to his doctrine. Let him that exhorteth give attendance to his exhortation. If any man give, let him do it with singleness. Let him that ruleth do it with diligence. If any man shew mercy let him do it with cheerfulness. Let love be with- 9 out dissimulation. Hate that which is evil, and cleave unto that which is good. Be kind one to* another, with brotherly 10 love. In giving honour go one before another. Let not that 11 business which ye have in hand be tedious to you. Be fervent in the spirit. Apply yourselves to the time. Rejoice in hope. 12 Be patient in tribulation, continue in prayer. Distribute unto 13 the necessity of the saints.* Bless them which persecute you: 14 bless but curse not. Be merry with them that are merry. Weep 15 with them that weep. Be of like affection one towards another. 16 Be not high minded, but make yourselves equal to them of the lower sort. Be not wise in your own opinions. Recompense to 17 no man evil for evil. Provide aforehand things honest (not only before God, but also) in the sight of all men. If it be possible, yet on* your part have peace with all men. Dearly beloved 19 avenge not yourselves but give room unto the wrath of God.
 For it is written: vengeance is mine, and I will reward saith the Lord. Therefore if thine enemy hunger feed him: if he 20 thirst, give him drink. For in so doing thou shalt heap coals of fire on his head: Be not overcome of evil: But overcome evil 21 with goodness.

Let every soul submit himself unto the authority of the higher XIII powers.* There is no power but of God. The powers that be, are ordained of God. Whosoever therefore resisteth power, re- 2 sisteth the ordinance of God.* They that resist, shall receive to themselves damnation. For rulers are not to be feared for 3 good works but for evil. Wilt thou be without fear of the power?
 Do well then: and so shalt thou be praised of the same. For 4

12. v.10 Other: unto. v.13 Other: and be ready to harbor. v.18 Other: howbeit of.

13. v.1 Other: For. v.2 Other: And.

he is the minister of God, for thy wealth. But and if thou do evil, then fear: for he beareth not a sword for nought; for he^{*} is the minister of God, to take vengeance on them that do evil.

5 Wherefore ye must needs obey, not for fear of vengeance only:
 6 but also because of conscience. ^{*} Even for this cause pay ye 7 tribute. For they are God's ministers, serving for the same purpose. Give to every man therefore his duty: Tribute to whom tribute belongeth: Custom to whom custom is due: fear to whom fear belongeth: Honour to whom honour pertaineth.
 8 Owe no thing to any man: but to love one another. For he that 9 loveth another, fulfilleth the law. For these commandments: Thou shalt not commit advoutry: Thou shalt not kill: Thou shalt not steal: Thou shalt not bear false witness: Thou shalt not desire: and so forth if there be any other commandment,^{*} are all comprehended in this saying: Love thine neighbor as 10 thyself. Love hurteth not his neighbor: Therefore is love the 11 fulfilling of the law. This also we know, I mean the season, how that it is time that we should now awake out of sleep. For 12 now is our salvation nearer than when we believed. The night is passed and the day is come nye. Let us therefore cast away the deeds of darkness, and let us put on the armour of light.
 13 Let us walk honestly as it were in the daylight: not in eating and drinking: neither in chambering and wantonness: neither 14 in strife and envying: but put ye on the Lord Jesus Christ.
 And make not provision for the flesh, to fulfill the lusts of it.

XIV Him that is weak in the faith, receive unto you, not in dis-2 puting and troubling his conscience. One believeth that he 3 may eat all things. Another which is weak eateth herbs; Let not him that eateth, despise him that eateth not. And let not him which eateth not judge him that eateth. For God hath 4 received him. What art thou that judgest another man's servant? Whether he stand or fall, that pertaineth unto his master. Yea, he shall stand. For God is able to make him stand.
 5 This man putteth difference between day and day: another man counteth all days alike. See that no man waver in his own 6 mind.^{} He that observeth one day more than another, doth it for the Lord's pleasure. And he that observeth not one day more than another, doth it to please the Lord,^{} for he giveth v.4 Other: but. v.6 Other: And. v.9 Other: they. 14. v.5 Other: meaning. v.6 Other: also. He that eateth, doth it to please the lord.

God thanks; and he that eateth not, eateth not to please the Lord withal, and giveth God thanks. For none of us liveth his own servant: and also none* of us dieth* his own servant. If we live, we live to be at the Lord's will. And if we die, we die at the Lord's will. Whether we live therefore or die, we are the Lord's. For Christ therefore died and rose again, and revived, that he might be Lord both of dead and quick. But why doest thou then judge thy brother? other why dost thou despise thy brother? We shall all be brought before the judgement seat of Christ. For it is written: As truly as I live saith the Lord, all knees shall bow to me, and all tongues shall give a knowledge to God. So shall every one of us give accounts* of himself to God. Let us not therefore, judge one another any more. But judge this rather, that no man put a stumbling block, or an occasion to fall in his brother's way. For I know, and surely believe* in the Lord Jesus, that there is nothing common of itself: but unto him that judgeth it to be common, to him it is common. If thy brother be grieved with thy meat, now walkest thou not charitably. Destroy not him with thy meat, for whom Christ died. Suffer ye* not that your treasure* be evil spoken of. For the kingdom of God is not meat and drink, but righteousness, peace and joy, in the holy ghost. For whosoever in these things serveth Christ, pleaseth well God: and is commended of men. Let us follow those things which make for peace: and things wherewith one may edify another. Destroy not the work of God for a little meat's sake. All things are pure: but it is evil for that man, which eateth with hurt of his conscience. It is good neither to eat flesh, neither to drink wine, neither anything, whereby thy brother stumbleth, other* falleth, or is made weak. Hast thou faith? have it with thyself before God. Happy is he that condemneth not himself in that thing which he alloweth. For he that maketh conscience, is damned if he eat: Because he doth it not of faith. For whatsoever is not of faith, that same is sin.

We which are strong ought to bear the frailness of them XV which are weak, and not to stand in our own conceits. Let every man please his neighbor unto his wealth and edifying. For Christ pleased not himself: but as it is written: The rebukes of

v.7 Other: neither doth any. v.7 Other: die. v.12 Other: acomptes. v.14 Other: am full certified. v.16 Other: Cause. v.16 Other: to. v.21 Other: either.

4 them which rebuked thee, fell on me. Whatsoever things are written aforetime, are written for our learning that we thorow 5 patience and comfort of the scripture should* have hope. *
 God which is Lord of patience and consolation,* give unto every one of you, that ye be like likeminded one towards another af-6 ter the ensample of Jesu Christ, that ye all agreeing together, may with one mouth praise God the father of our Lord Jesus.
 7 Wherefore receive ye one another as Christ received us, to the 8 praise of God. And I say that Jesus Christ was a minister of the circumcision for the truth of God, to confirm the promises 9 made unto the fathers. And let the gentiles praise God for his mercy. As it is written: For this cause I will praise thee among 10 the gentiles, and sing in thy name. And again he saith: ye 11 gentiles rejoyce with his people. * Again, praise the Lord all 12 ye gentiles, and laud him all nations. And in another place Esaias saith: there shall be the root of Jesse, and he that shall rise to reign over the gentiles: in him shall the gentiles trust.
 13 The God of hope fill you with all joy and peace in believing, that 14 ye may be rich in hope thorow the power of the holy ghost. I myself am full certified of you my brethren that ye yourselves are full of goodness, and filled with all knowledge, and are able 15 to counsel* one another. Nevertheless brethren I have somewhat boldly written unto you, as one that putteth you in re-16 membrance, for* the grace which* is given me of God for this purpose that I should be the minister of Jesu Christ among the gentiles, and should minister the glad tidings of God, that the gentiles might be an acceptable offering, sanctified by the holy 17 ghost. I have therefore whereof I may rejoyce in Christ Jesu, 18 in those things which pertain to God. For I dare not speak of any of those things which Christ hath not wrought by me (to 19 make the gentiles obedient) with word and deed, in mighty signs and wonders, by the power of the spirit of God, so that from Jerusalem and the coasts round about, unto Illyricum, I 20 have filled all countries with glad tidings of Christ. So have I enforced myself to preach the gospel, not where Christ was named, lest I should have built on another man's foundation: 21 but as it is written: To whom he was not spoken of, they shall 22 see: and they that heard not, shall understand. For this cause

15. v.4 Other: might. v.5 Other: The. v.5 Other: The God of patience and consolation., v.11 Other: And. v.14 Other: exhort. v.15 Other: through. v.15 Other: that.

I have been oft let (and am let as yet) to come unto you: but 23 now seeing I have no more to do in these countries, and also have been desirous many years to come unto you, when I shall 24 take my journey into Spayne, I will come to you. I trust to see you in my journey, and to be brought on my way thitherward by you after that I have somewhat enjoyed you. Now go I unto 25 Jerusalem, and minister unto the saints. For it hath pleased 26 them of Macedonia and Achaia, to make a certain distribution upon the poor saints which are at Jerusalem. It hath pleased 27 them verily, and their debtors are they. For if the gentiles be made partakers* of their spiritual things, their duty is to minister unto them in carnal things. When I have performed this, 28 and have shewed them this fruit,* I will come back again by you into Spayne. And I am sure when I come, that I shall 29 come with abundance of the blessing of the gospel of Christ.
 I beseech you brethren for our Lord Jesu Christ's sake, and 30 for the love of the spirit, that ye help me in my business, with your prayers to God for me, that I may be delivered from them 31 which believe not in Jewry; and that this my service, which I have to Jerusalem, may be accepted of the saints, that I may 32 come unto you with joy, by the will of God, and may with you be refreshed. The God of peace be with all you Amen. 33

I commend unto you Phebe our sister (which is a minister of XVI the congregation of Cencrea) that ye receive her in the Lord as 2 it becometh saints, and that ye assist her, in whatsoever business she needeth of your aid. For she hath succoured many, and mine own self also. Greet Prisca and Aquila my helpers 3 in Christ Jesu, which have for my life laid down their own 4 necks. Unto whom* not I only give thanks: but also the congregations of the gentiles. Likewise greet all the company* 5 that is in their house. Salute my well beloved Epenetes, which is the firstfruit among them of Achaia. Greet Mary which 6 bestowed much labour on us. Salute Andronicus, and Ju- 7 nia my cousins, which were prisoners with me also, which are well taken among the apostles, and were in Christ before me.
 Greet Amplias my beloved in the Lord. Salute Urban our 8, 9 helper in Christ, and Stachys my beloved. Salute Apellas ap- 10 proved in Christ. Salute them which are of Aristobolus' house-v.27 Other: part takers. v.28 Other: brought them this fruit sealed. 16. v.4 Other: which. v.5 Other: congregation.

11 hold. Salute Herodion my kinsman. Greet them of the house-12 hold of Narcissus which are in the Lord. Salute Triphena and Triphosa, which women did labour in the Lord. Salute 13 the beloved Persis, which laboured much in the Lord. Salute 14 Rufus chosen in the Lord, and his mother and mine. Greet Asincritus, Phlegon, Hermas, Patrobas, Mercurius,* and the 15 brethren which are with them. Salute Philologus and Julia, Nereus and his sister, and Olimpha, and all the saints which 16 are with them. Salute one another among yourselves with an 17 holy kiss. The congregations of Christ salute you. I beseech you brethren mark them which cause division, and give occa-18 sions of evil contrary to the doctrine which ye have learned: and avoid them. For they that are such serve not the Lord Jesus Christ: but their own bellies. And with sweet preachings and flattering words deceive the hearts of the innocents: 19 for your obedience is spoken of among* all men. I am glad no doubt of you. But yet I would have you wise unto that which 20 is good. And to be innocent as concerning evil. The God of peace tread Satan under your feet in short time.* The grace of 21 our Lord Jesu Christ be with you. Timotheus my work fellow, 22 and Lucius, and Jason, and Sopater, my kinsmen salute you. I 23 Tercius salute you, which wrote this epistle in the Lord. Gaius mine host and the host of all the congregations, saluteth you.
 Erastus saluteth you, the chamberlain of the city.* And Quar-24 tus a brother, saluteth you. The grace of our Lord Jesu Christ 25 be with you all Amen. To him that is of power to establish you according to my gospel, where with I preach* Jesus Christ, in opening* of the mystery which was kept close* since the world 26 began, and* now is opened at this time and declared in* the scriptures of prophecy, at the commandment of the everlasting God, to stir up obedience to the faith published among all na-27 tions: To the same God, which alone is wise, be (honour and) praise thorow Jesus Christ for ever Amen.

To the Roman. Sent from Corinthum by Phile, the that wal the minister unto the congregation at Chyndrea.

v.14 Other: Herman, Patrobas, Hermen. v.19 Other: extendeth to. v.20 Other: shortly. v.23 Other: Erastus the chamberlain of the city saluteth you. v.25 Other: gospell and preaching of. v.25 Other: uttering. v.25 Other: secret. v.26 Other:
 but. v.26 Other: opened by.

The First Epistle Of Paul The Apostle To The Corinthians.

Paul by vocation an apostle of Jesus Christ thorrow the I will of God, and brother Sostenes. Unto the congre- 2 gation of God which is at Corinthum. To them that are sanctified in Jesus* Christ, saints by calling, with all that call on the name of our Lord Jesus Christ in every place, both of theirs and of ours. Grace be with you and peace 3 from God our father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ. I thank 4 my God always on your behalf for the favour* of God which is given you by Jesus Christ, that in all things ye are made 5 rich by him, in all speech* and in all knowledge (even as the 6 testimony of Jesus Christ was confirmed in you,) so that ye 7 are behind in no gift, and wait for the appearing of our Lord Jesus Christ which shall strength you unto the end, that ye 8 may be blameless in the day (of the coming) of our Lord Jesus Christ. * God is faithful, by whom ye are called unto 9 the fellowship of his son Jesus Christ our Lord. I beseech 10 you brethren in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that ye all speak one thing, and that there be no dissension among you: but be ye perfect* in one mind, and one meaning: It is shewed 11 unto me (my brethren) of you by them that are of the house of Cloe, that there is strife among you; I speak of that which 12 everyone of you sayth:* I hold of Paul; Another sayth: I hold of Apollo: Another* saith: I hold of Cephas: and another saith* I hold of Christ. Is Christ divided? was Paul crucified for you? 13 other* were ye baptised in the name of Paul? I thank God 14 that I christened none of you, but Crispus and Gaius, lest any should say that I in mine own name had baptised. I baptised 16 also the house of Stephana. Furthermore know I not whether I baptised any man (of you) or no. For Christ sent me not to 17 baptise, but to preach the gospel, not with wisdom of words, lest the cross of Christ should have been made of none effect.

1. v.2 Other: Iesu. v.4 Other: grace. v.5 Other: learning. v.9 Other: For.
v.10 Other: knit to gether. v.12 Other: And this is it that I mean: how that commonly among you, one sayeth:. v.12 Other: the third. v.12 Other: the fourth that.
v.13 Other: either.

18 For the preaching of the cross is to them that perish foolish-19 ness: but unto us which are saved, it is the power of God. For it is written: I will destroy the wisdom of the wise and will cast 20 away the understanding of the prudent. Where is the wise man? where is the scribe? where is the searcher of this world?
 21 Hath not God made the wisdom of this world foolishness? For when the world thorow wisdom knew not God, in the wisdom of God: it pleased God thorow foolishness of preaching to save 22 them that believe. For the jews require a sign, and the greeks 23 seek after wisdom. But we preach Christ crucified, unto the jews an occasion of falling and unto the greeks foolishness: 24 but unto them which are called both of jews and greeks we 25 preach Christ the power of God, and the wisdom of God. For Godly foolishness* is wiser than men: And Godly weakness* 26 is stronger than are men. Brethren look on your calling how that not many wise men after the flesh, not many mighty, not 27 many of high degree are called: But God hath chosen the foolish things of the world, to confound the wise. And* hath chosen the weak things of the world, to confound things which are 28 mighty. And vile things of the world, and things which are despised, hath God chosen yea and things of no reputation, for 29 to bring to nought things of reputation, that no flesh should 30 rejoyce in his presence. And unto him pertain ye, in Christ Jesu, which of God is made unto us wisdom, and also righ-31 teousness, and sanctifying, and redemption. That according as it is written: he which rejoiceth, should rejoyce in the Lord.

II And I brethren when I came to you, came not in glorious-ness of words or of wisdom, shewing unto you the testimony of 2 God. Neither shewed I myself that I knew any thing among 3 you save Jesus Christ, even the same that was crucified. And I was among you in weakness, and in fear, and in much trem-4 bling. And my words, and my preaching were not with enticing words of man's wisdom: but in shewing of the spirit 5 and of power, that your faith should not stand in the wis-6 dom of men: but in the power of God. We speak that which* is wisdom among them that are perfect: not the wisdom of this world neither of the rulers of this world (which goeth to 7 nought,) but we speak the wisdom of God, which is in secret

v.25 Other: the foolishness of God. v.25 Other: the weakness of God. v.27 Other:
 God. 2. v.6 Other: That we speak of.

and lieth hid, which God ordained before the world unto our glory: which wisdom none of the rulers of the world knew. For had they known it, they would not have crucified the Lord of glory: but as it is written: The eye hath not seen, and the ear hath not heard, neither have entered into the heart of man, the things which God hath prepared for them that love him. But God hath opened them unto us by his spirit. For the spirit searcheth all things, yea the bottom of God's secrets. For what man knoweth the things of a man: save the spirit of a man which is within him? Even so the things of God knoweth no man, but the spirit of God. And we have not received the spirit of the world: but the spirit which cometh of God, for to know the things that are given to us of God, which things also we speak, not in the cunning words of man's wisdom, but with the cunning words of the holy ghost, making spiritual comparisons of spiritual things. For the natural man perceiveth not the things of the spirit of God: For they are but foolishness unto him. Neither can he perceive them because he is spiritually examined: but he that is spiritual discusseth all things: yet he himself is judged of no man. For who knoweth the mind of the Lord, other who shall inform him? but we understand the mind of Christ.

And I could not speak unto you brethren as unto spiritual: III but as unto carnal, even as it were unto babes in Christ. I gave you milk to drink and not meat. For ye then were not strong, no neither yet are strong. For ye are yet carnal. As long verily as there is among you envying, strife and dissension: are ye not carnal, and walk after the manner of men? As long as one saith: I hold of Paul, and another, I am of Apollo, are ye not carnal? What is Paul? what thing is Apollo? but* ministers* by whom ye believed even as the Lord gave every man grace. I have planted: Apollo watered: but God gave increase. So then, neither is he that planteth any thing, neither he that watereth: but God which gave the increase. He that planteth, and he that watereth, are neither better than the other. Every man yet shall receive his reward according to his labour. We are God's laborers: ye are God's husbandry, ye are God's building. According to the grace of God given unto me, as a wise builder have I laid the foundation,* another hath

3. v.5 Other: Only. v.5 Other: are they. v.10 Other: And.

11 built thereon: but let every man take heed how he buildeth 12 upon. For other foundation can no man lay, than that which 13 is laid, which is Jesus Christ. If any man build on this founda-14 tion, gold, silver, precious stones, timber, hay, or stubble: ev-15 ery man's work shall appear. For the day shall declare it, and 16 it shall be shewed in fire, and the fire shall try every man's 17 work what it is. If any man's work that he hath built upon, 18 bide, he shall receive a reward. If any man's work burn, he 19 shall suffer loss: but he shall be safe himself: nevertheless yet 20 as it were thorow fire. Are ye not ware that ye are the temple 21 of God, and how that the spirit of God dwelleth in you? If any 22 man defile the temple of God, him shall God destroy. For the 23 temple of God is holy, which temple are ye.* Let no man deceive himself. If any man seem wise among you, let him be a fool in this world, that he may be wise. For the wisdom of this world is foolishness with God. For it is written: he compasseth the wise in their craftiness. And again, God knoweth the thoughts of the wise that they be vain. Therefore let no man rejoyce in men. For all things are yours, whether it be Paul, other* Apollo, either Cephas: whether it be the world, either* life, either death, whether they be present things or things to come: all are yours, and ye are Christ's, and Christ is God's.

IV Let men this wise esteem us, even as the ministers of Christ, 2 and disposers of the secrets of God. Furthermore it is required 3 of the disposers that they be found faithful. With me is it but 4 a very small thing, that I should be judged of you, either of 5 man's day. No I judge not mine own self. I know nought by 6 myself: yet am I not thereby justified. It is the Lord that jud-7 geth me. Therefore judge nothing before the time, until the 8 Lord come, which will lighten things that are hid in darkness: and open the counsels of the hearts. And then shall every man have praise of God. These things brethren I have described in mine own person, and Apollos: for your sakes, that ye might learn by us that no man count of himself beyond that which is above written: that one swell not against another for any man's cause. For who preferreth thee? What hast thou, that thou hast not received? if thou have received it: why rejoic-est thou as though thou hadst* not received it? Now ye are full: now ye are made rich: ye reign as kings without us: and I v.17 Other: ye are. v.22 Other: either. v.22 Other: or. 4. v.7 Other: haddest.

would to God ye did reign, that we might reign with you. Me 9 thinketh that God hath shewed* us which are apostles, for the hindmost* of all, as it were men appointed to death. For we are a gazingstock unto the world, and to the angels, and to men, we are fools for Christ's sake, and ye are wise thorow 10 Christ: we are weak, and ye are strong. Ye are honorable, and we are despised. Even unto this day we hunger and thirst, 11 and are naked, and are buffeted with fists, and have no certain dwelling place, and labour working with our own hands. We 12 are reviled, and yet we bless. We are persecuted, and suffer it.
 We are evil spoken of, and we pray. We are made as it were the 13 filthiness of the world, the offscouring of all things, even unto this time. I write not these things to shame you: but as my 14 beloved sons I warn you. For though ye have ten thousand 15 instructors in Christ: yet have ye not many fathers. In Christ Jesu, I have begotten you thorow the gospel. Wherefore I de- 16 sire you to counterfeit* me. (as I follow Christ) For this cause 17 have I sent unto you Timotheus, which is my dear son, and faithful in the Lord, which shall put you in remembrance of my ways which I have in Christ, even as I teach everywhere in all congregations. Some swell as though I would come no 18 more at you: but I will come to you shortly, if God will, and 19 will know, not the words of them which swell, but the power.
 For the Kingdom of God is not in words, but in power. What 20, 21 will ye? Shall I come unto you with a rod, or else in love, and in the spirit of meekness?

There goeth a common saying that there is fornication among V you, and such fornication as is not once named among the gentiles: that one should have his father's wife. And ye swell and 2 have not rather sorrowed, that he which hath done this deed might be put from among you. For I verily as absent in body, 3 even so present in spirit, have determined already (as though I were present) of him that hath done this deed, in the name 4 of our Lord Jesu Christ, when ye are gathered together, and my spirit, with the power of the Lord Jesus Christ, to deliver 5 him unto Satan, for the destruction of the flesh that the spirit may be saved in the day of the Lord Jesus. Your rejoicing is 6 not good. Know ye not that a little leaven sowereth the whole lump of dough? Purge therefore the old leaven, that ye may be 7 new dough as ye are sweet bread. For Christ our ester lamb is 8 offered up for us. Therefore let us keep holyday, not with old leaven, neither with the leaven of maliciousness and wicked-9 ness but with the sweet bread of pureness and truth. I wrote unto you in the* pistel that ye should not company with forni-10 cators. And I meant not at all of the fornicators of this world, either of the covetous, or of extortioners, either of* idolaters: 11 for then must ye needs have gone out of the world: but now I have written* unto you that ye company not together. If any that is called a brother, be a fornicator, or covetous, or a wor-shipper of images, either a railer, either a drunkard, or an ex-12 tortioner: with him that is such see* ye eat not. For what have I to do to judge them which are without? Do ye not judge them 13 that are within? Them that are without, God shall judge. Put away from among you that evil person.

VI How dare one of you having business with another, go to law 2 under the wicked? and not rather under the saints? Do ye not know that the saints shall judge the world? If the world shall be judged by you: are ye not good enough to judge small trifles.
 3 Know ye not how that we shall judge the angels? How much 4 more may we judge things that pertain to the life? If ye have judgements of worldly matters, take them which are despised 5 in the congregation, and make them judges. This I say to your shame. Is there utterly no wise man among you? what not one 6 at all? that can judge between brother and brother? but one brother goeth to law with another: and that under the unbe-7 lievers? Now therefore there is utterly a fault among you, because ye go to law one with another. Why rather suffer ye not wrong? why rather suffer ye not yourselves to be robbed?
 8 Nay ye yourselves do wrong, and rob: and that the brethren.
 9 Do ye not remember how that the unrighteous shall not inherit the kingdom of God? Be not deceived. For neither fornicators, neither worshippers of images, neither whoremongers, neither 10 weaklings, neither abusers of themselves with mankind, neither thieves, neither the covetous, neither drunkards, neither cursed speakers, neither pillers, shall inherit the kingdom of 11 God. And such were ye verily: but ye are washed: ye are sanctified: ye are justified by the name of the Lord Jesus: And 12 by the spirit of our God. All things are lawful unto me: but all things are not profitable. I may do all things: but I will be brought under no man's power. Meats are ordained for the belly, and the belly for meats: but God shall destroy both him * and them. Let not the body be applied unto fornication, but unto the Lord, and the Lord unto the body. God hath raised up the Lord, and shall raise us up by his power. Either remember ye not, that your bodies are the members of Christ? Shall I now take the members of Christe, and make them the members of an harlot? God forbid. Do ye not understand that he which coupleth himself with an harlot, is become one body? For two (saith he) shall be one flesh: but he that is joined unto the Lord is one spirit. Flee fornication. All sins that a man doth, are without the body. But he that is a fornicator, sinneth against his own body. * Know ye not how that your bodies are the temple of the holy ghost, which is in you, whom he have of God, and how that ye are not your own? For ye are dearly bought. Therefore glorify ye God in your bodies and in your spirits, for they are God's.

As concerning the things whereof ye wrote unto me: It is good for a man, not to touch a woman. Nevertheless to avoid fornication, let every man have his wife: and let every woman have her husband. Let the man give unto the wife due benevolence. Likewise also the wife unto the man. The wife hath not power over her own body: but the husband: And likewise the man hath not power over his own body: but the wife. Withdraw not your selves one from another except it be with consent for a time, for to give yourselves to fasting and prayer, and afterward come again to the same thing, lest Satan tempt you for your incontinency. This I say of favour, not of commandment. For I would that all men were as I my self am: but every man hath his proper gift of God, one after this manner, another after that. I say unto the unmarried men, and widows: it is good for them if they abide even as I do: but and if they cannot abstain, let them marry. For it is better to marry than to burn. Unto the married command not I, but the Lord: that the wife separate not herself from the man. If she separate herself, let her remain unmarried, or be reconciled unto her husband again. And let not the husband put away his wife from him. To the remnant speak I, and not the

VII

2

3

4

5

6

7

8

9

10

11

12

Lord: if any brother have a wife that believeth not, if she be 13 content to dwell with him, let him not put her away. And the woman which hath to her husband an infidel, if he consent to 14 dwell with her, let her not put him away. For the unbelieving husband is sanctified by the wife: and the unbelieving wife is sanctified by the husband. Or else were your children unclean: 15 but now are they pure. But and if the unbelieving depart, let him depart. A brother or a sister is not in subjection to 16 such. God hath called us in peace. For how knowest thou o woman, whether thou shalt save thy husband or not? * Other how knowest thou o man, whether thou shalt save the wife or 17 not? * but even as God hath distributed to every man. As the Lord hath called every person, so let him walk: and so ordain I 18 in all congregations. If any man be called being circumcised, let him add nothing thereto. If any be called uncircumcised: let 19 him not be circumcised. Circumcision is nothing, uncircumcision is nothing: but the keeping of the commandments of God 20 is altogether. Let every man abide in the same state wherein 21 he was called. Art thou called a servant? care not for it. Nev-22 ertheless if thou mayst be free, use it rather. For he that is called in the Lord being a servant, is the Lord's freeman. Like-23 wise he that is called being free, is Christ's servant. Ye are 24 dearly bought, be not men's servants. Brethren let every man 25 wherein he is called, therein abide with God. As concerning virgins, I have no commandment of the Lord: yet give I coun-26 sel as one that hath obtained* of the Lord to be faithful. I suppose that it is good for the present necessity. For it is good 27 for a man so to be. Art thou bound unto a wife? seek not to 28 be loosed.* Art thou loosed* from a wife? seek not a wife. But and if thou take a wife, thou hast not sinned.* Likewise if a virgin marry, she hath not sinned:* nevertheless such shall have 29 trouble in their flesh: but I favor* you. This say I brethren, the time is short. It remaineth that they which have wives, be 30 as though they had none: and they that weep, be as though they wept not: and they that rejoice, be as though they rejoiced 31 not: And they that buy, be as though they possessed not: And they that use this world, be as though they used it not: For

7. v.16 Other: whether thou shalt save that man or no?. v.16 Other: whether thou shalt save that woman or no?. v.25 Other: mercy. v.27 Other: lowsed. v.27 Other: lowsed. v.28 Other: sinnest not. v.28 Other: sinneth not. v.28 Other: saver.

the fashion of this world goeth away. I would have you with- 32 out care, the single man careth for the things of the Lord, how he may please the Lord: but he that hath married, careth for 33 the things of the world, how he may please his wife. There 34 is difference between a virgin and a wife. The single woman careth for the things of the Lord, that she may be pure both in body and also in spirit: but she that is married, careth for the things of the world, how she may please her husband. This 35 speak I for your profit, not to tangle you in a snare: but for that which is honest and comely unto you; And that ye may quietly cleave unto the Lord without separation. If any man 36 think that it is uncomely for his virgin if she pass the time of marriage, and if so need require, let him do what he listeth, he sinneth not: let them be coupled in marriage. Nevertheless, 37 he that purposeth surely in his heart, having none need: but hath power over his own will: and hath so decreed in his heart that he will keep his virgin, doth well. So then he that joineth 38 his virgin in marriage doth well. And* he that joineth not his virgin in marriage doth better. The wife is bound to the law 39 as long as her husband liveth. If her husband sleep, she is at liberty to marry with whom she will only in the Lord. But she 40 is happier if she so abide, in my judgement. And I think verily that I have the spirit of God.

To speak of things dedicated unto idols, we are sure that VIII we all have knowledge. Knowledge maketh a man swell: but love edifieth. If any man think that he knoweth any thing, 2 he knoweth nothing yet as he ought to know. But if any man 3 love God, the same is known of him. To speak of meat ded- 4 icated unto idols, we are sure that there is none idol in the world: and that there is none other God but one. And though 5 there be that are called gods, whether in heaven or in earth (as there be gods many and lords many) but* unto us is there* 6 one God, which is the father, of whom are all things, and we in him: and one Lord Jesus Christ, by whom are all things, and we by him. But every man hath not knowledge. For some 7 suppose that there is an idol, until this hour, and eat as of a thing offered unto the idol, and so their consciences being yet weak are defiled. Meat maketh us not acceptable to God: 8 Neither if we eat are we the better: Neither if we eat not are 9 we the worse. But take heed that your liberty cause not the 10 weak to fall. For if some man see thee which hast knowledge sit at meat in the idol's temple shall not the conscience of him which is weak be boldened to eat those things which are of-11 fered unto the idol? And so thorow thy knowledge shall the 12 weak brother perish for whom Christ died. When we^{} sin so against the brethren and wound their weak consciences, we^{} 13 sin against Christ. Wherefore if meat hurt my brother, I will eat no flesh while the world standeth, because I will not hurt my brother.

IX Am I not an apostle? am I not free? have I not seen Jesus 2 Christ our Lord? Are not ye my work in the Lord. If I be not an apostle unto other, yet am I unto you. For the seal of mine 3 apostleship are ye in the Lord. Mine answer to them that ask 4, 5 me, is this: Have we not power to eat and to drink? Either have we not power to lead about a sister to wife as well as other 6 apostles, and as the brethren of the Lord, and Cephas? Either 7 only I and Barnabas have not power this to do? Who goeth a warfare any time at his own cost? who planteth a vineyard and eateth not of the fruit? or who feedeth a flock and eateth 8 not of the milk? Say I these things after the manner of men?
 9 or sayth not the law the same also? For it is written in the law of Moses: Thou shall not muzzle the mouth of the ox that 10 treadeth out the corn. Doth God take thought for oxen? Either saith he it not all together for our sakes? For our sakes no doubt this is written: that he which eareth should ear in hope: and that he which thresheth in hope, should be partaker 11 of his hope. If we sow unto you spiritual things: is it a great 12 thing if we reap your carnal things? If other be partakers of this power over you? wherefore are not we rather. Nevertheless we have not used this power: but suffer all things lest we 13 should hinder the gospel of Christ. Do ye not understand how that they which minister in the temple: have their finding of the temple? And they which wait at the altar are partakers 14 with the altar? Even so also did the Lord ordain, that they 15 which preach the gospel, should live of the gospel: But I have used none of these things. Neither wrote I these things that it should be so done unto me.* It were better for me to die than 16 any man should take this rejoicing from me. In that I preach the gospel I have nothing to rejoice of. For necessity is put unto me. Woe is it unto me if I preach not the gospel. If I do it with a good will, I have a reward.* If I do it against my will, an office is committed unto me. What is my reward then? Verily that when I preach the gospel, I make the gospel of Christ free, that I misuse not mine authority in the gospel. For though I be free from all men, yet have I made myself servant unto all men, that I might win the more. And unto the jews, I became as a jew, to win the jews. To them that were under the law, was I made as though I had been under the law, to win them that were under the law. (when I was not under the law) To them that were without law, became I as though I had been without law (when I was not without law as pertaining to God, but under a law as concerning Christ) to win them that were without law. To the weak became I as weak, to win the weak. In all thing I fashioned myself to all men, to save at the leastway some. And this I do for the Gospel's sake, that I might have my part thereof. Perceive ye not how that they which run in a course, run all, yet but one receiveth the reward? So run that ye may obtain. Every man that proveth masteries abstaineth from all things. And they do it to obtain a corruptible crown: but we to obtain an everlasting* crown: I therefore so run, not as at an uncertain thing. So fight I, not as one that beateth the air: but I tame my body and bring him* into subjection, lest after that I have preached to other, I myself should be a castaway.

Brethren I would not that ye should be ignorant of this, how that our fathers were all under a cloud, and all passed thorow the sea, and were all baptised under Moses in the cloud and in the sea: and did all eat of one spiritual meat, and did all drink of one manner of spiritual drink. And they drank of that spiritual rock that followed them, which rock was Christ. But in many of them had God no delight. For they were overthrown in the wilderness. These are examples to us that we should not lust after evil things, as they lusted. Neither be ye worshippers of images as were some of them according as it is written: The people sat down to eat and drink, and rose up again to play. Neither let us commit fornication as some of them committed fornication, and were destroyed in one day twenty

v.17 Other: But. v.25 Other: uncorruptible. v.27 Other: it.

9 three thousand. Neither let us tempt Christ, as some of them 10 tempted and were destroyed of serpents. Neither murmur ye as some of them murmured, and were destroyed of the de-11 stroyer. All these things happened upon them for ensamples, and were written to put us in remembrance, whom the ends 12 of the world are come upon. Wherefore let him that thinketh 13 he standeth, take heed lest he fall. There hath none other temptation taken you, but such as followeth the nature of man.
 God is faithful, which shall not suffer you to be tempted above your strength: but shall in the midst of the temptation make 14 a way to escape out. Wherefore my dear beloved, flee from 15 worshipping of idols. I speak as unto them which have discre-16 tion, judge ye what I say. Is not the cup of blessing which we bless, partaking of the blood of Christ? is not the bread which 17 we break, partaking of the body of Christ? because that we (though we be many) yet are one bread, and one body inasmuch as we all are partakers of one bread. (and of one cup) 18 Behold Israel which walketh carnally. Are not they which eat 19 of the sacrifice, partakers of the altar? What say I then? that the image is anything? or that it which is offered to images is 20 anything? Nay, but I say, that those* things which the gentiles offer, they offer to devils, and not to God. And I would 21 not that ye should have fellowship with the devils. Ye cannot drink of the cup of the Lord, and of the cup of the devils. Ye can not be partakers of the Lord's table, and of the table of devils.
 22 Other* shall we provoke the Lord? other* are we stronger than 23 he? All things are lawful unto me, but all things are not expe-24 dient. All things are lawful,* but all things edify not. Let no man seek his own profit: but let every man seek his neighbors* 25 wealth. Whatsoever is sold in the market, that eat, and ask 26 no questions for conscience sake. For the earth is the Lord's, 27 and all that therein is. If any of them which believe not bid you to a feast, and if ye be disposed to go, whatsoever is set be-28 fore you eat, asking no question for conscience sake; but and if any man say unto you: this is dedicated unto idols, eat not of it for his sake that shewed it, and for hurting of conscience: the 29 earth is the Lord's and all that therein is. Conscience I say, not thine: but the conscience of that other.* Why should my

10. v.20 Other: these. v.22 Other: Either. v.22 Other: Or. v.23 Other: to me.
v.24 Other: anothers. v.29 Other: For.

liberty be judged of another man's conscience? For if I take 30 my part with thanks: why am I evil spoken of for that thing wherefore I give thanks? Whether therefore ye eat or drink, 31 or whatsoever ye do, do all to the praise of God. See that ye 32 give none occasion of evil, neither to the jews, nor yet to the gentiles, neither to the congregation of God: even as I please 33 all men in all things not seeking mine own profit, but the profit of many, that they might be saved.

Follow me as I do Christ. I commend you brethren that ye XI, 2 remember me in all things, and keep the ordinances which I gave* to you. I would ye knew that Christ is the head of every 3 man; and the woman's head is the man; and Christ's head is God.* Every man praying or prophesying having any thing 4 on his head, shameth his head. Every woman that prayeth 5 or prophesieth bare headed, dishonesteth her head. For it is even all one, and the very same thing even as though she were shaven. If the woman be not covered, let her also be shaven.* 6 If it be shame for a woman to be shaven or shorn, let her cover her head. A man ought not to cover his head, forasmuch as 7 he is the image and glory of God. The woman is the glory of the man. For the man is not of the woman, but the woman 8 of the man. Neither was the man created for the woman's 9 sake: but the woman for the man's sake. For this cause ought 10 the woman to have power in* her head, for the angels' sake.*
 Nevertheless, neither is the man without the woman, neither 11 the woman without the man in the Lord. For as the woman 12 is of the man, even so is the man by the woman: but all is of God. Judge in yourselves whether it be comely that a woman 13 pray unto God bareheaded. Or else doth not nature teach 14 you, that it is a shame for a man, if he have long hair: and a 15 praise to a woman if she have long hair? For her hair is given her to cover her withal. If there be any man among you that 16 lusteth to strive, let him know that we have no such customs, neither the congregations of God. This I warn you of, and 17 commend not that ye come together after a worse manner, and not after a better.* First of all when ye come together in the 18 congregation, I hear that there is dissension among you: And 11. v.2 Other: even as I delivered them. v.3 Other: And the man is the womans head. And God is Christs head. v.6 Other: shorn. v.10 Other: on. v.10 Other: sakes. v.17 Other: not after a better manner but after a worse.

19 I partly believe it. For there must be sects among you, that 20 they which among you are perfect might be known. When ye come together in one place, a man cannot eat the Lord's supper.
 21 For every man beginneth afore to eat his own supper. And one 22 is hungry, and another is drunken. Have ye not houses to eat and to drink in? Or else despise ye the congregation of God? and shame them that have not? what shall I say unto you?
 23 shall I praise you? in this praise I you not. That which I gave* unto you I received of the Lord. For the Lord Jesus the 24 same night in the which he was betrayed, took bread: and thanked and brake, and said: Take ye, and eat ye this is my body which is broken for you. This do ye in the remembrance 25 of me. After the same manner he took the cup when supper was done saying: This cup is the new testament in my blood, 26 this do as oft as ye drink it, in the remembrance of me. For as often as ye shall eat this bread, and drink this cup, ye shall 27 shew the Lord's death, till he come. Wherefore whosoever shall eat of this bread, or drink of the cup unworthily, shall be 28 guilty of the body and blood of the Lord. Let a man therefore examine himself, and so let him eat of the bread and drink of 29 the cup. For he that eateth or drinketh unworthily, eateth and drinketh his own damnation, because he maketh no difference 30 of the Lord's body. For this cause many are weak and sick 31 among you, and many sleep. If we had truly judged ourselves, 32 we should not have been judged. * When we are judged of the Lord we are chastened, because we should not be damned with 33 the world. Wherefore my brethren, when ye come to gether 34 to eat, tarry one for another. If any man hunger, let him eat at home, that ye come not together unto condemnation. Other things will I set in order when I come.

XII In spiritual things brethren I would not have you ignorant.
 2 Ye know that ye were gentiles, and went your ways unto dumb 3 idols, even as ye were led. Wherefore I declare unto you that no man speaking in the spirit of God defieth Jesus. Also no man can say that Jesus is the Lord: but by the holy ghost.
 4, 5 There are diversities of gifts verily, yet but one spirit. And there are differences of administrations, and yet but one Lord.
 6 And there are divers manners of operations, and yet but one God, which worketh all things that are wrought in all creatures. The gifts of the spirit are given to every man to profit 7 the congregation. To one* is given* the utterance of wisdom: 8 to another is given the utterance of knowledge by the same spirit: to another is given faith, by the same spirit. To another 9 the gifts of healing, by the same spirit. To another power to do 10 miracles: To another prophecy; To another judgement of spirits; To another divers tongues: To another the interpretation of tongues: and these all worketh even the self same spirit, 11 dividing to every man several gifts even as he will. For as the 12 body is one, and hath many members, and all the members of one body though they be many, yet are but one body: even so is Christ. For in one spirit are we all baptised to make one 13 body, whether we be jews or gentiles: whether we be bond or free, and have all drunk of one spirit. For the body is not 14 one member, but many. If the foot say: I am not the hand, 15 therefore I am not of the body: is he therefore not of the body? and if the ear say I am not the eye: therefore I am not of the 16 body: is he therefore not of the body? if all the body were 17 an eye: where were then the ear? if all were hearing: where were the smelling? But now hath God disposed the members, 18 every one of them in the body, at his own pleasure. If they 19 were all one member: where were the body? Now are there 20 many members, yet but one body. And the eye cannot say unto the hand: I have no need of thee: nor the head also to 21 the feet: I have no need of you. Yea rather a great deal those 22 members of the body which seem to be most feeble, are most necessary. And upon those members of that body which we 23 think least honest, put we most honesty on. And our ungodly parts* have most beauty on. For our honest members need it 24 not: but God hath so disposed the body, and hath given most honour to that part which lacked, lest there should be any 25 strife in the body: but that the members should indifferently care for one another. And if one member suffer all suffer with 26 him: if one member be had in honour, all members be glad also. Ye are the body of Christ, and members one of another. 27 And God hath also ordained in the congregation, first the apos- 28 tles, secondarily prophets, thirdly teachers, then them that do miracles, after that, the gifts of healing, helpers, governors, diversity of tongues. Are all apostles? are all prophets? Are all 29

12. v.8 Other: won. v.8 Other: through the spirit. v.23 Other: our ungodly parties.

30 teachers? are all doers of miracles? have all the gifts of heal-31 ing? Do all speak with tongues? do all interpret? Covet after the best gifts. And yet shew I unto you a more excellent way.

XIII Though I spake with the tongues of men and angels, and yet had no love, I were even as sounding brass: and* as a tinkling 2 cymbal. And though I could prophesy, and understood all secrets, and all knowledge: yea, if I had all faith so that I could 3 move mountains out of their places, and yet had no love, I were nothing. And though I bestowed all my goods to feed the poor, and though I gave my body even that I burned, and yet had 4 no love, it profiteth me nothing. Love suffereth long, and is courteous. Love envieth not. Love doth not frowardly, swelleth 5 not, dealeth not dishonestly, seeketh not her own, is not provoked to anger, thinketh not evil rejoiceth not in iniquity: but 6 rejoiceth in the truth, suffereth all things, believeth all things 7 hopeth all things, endureth in all things. Though that prophesying fail, or tongues shall cease, or knowledge vanish away: 9 yet love falleth never away. For our knowledge is unperfect, 10 and our prophesying is unperfect: but when that which is perfect is come: then that which is unperfect shall be done away.
 11 When I was a child, I spake as a child, I understood as a child,
 I imagined as a child: but as soon as I was a man I put away 12 childishness. Now we see in a glass even in a dark speaking: but then shall we see face to face. Now I know unperfectly: but 13 then shall I know even as I am known. Now abideth faith, hope, and love, even these three: but the chief of these is love.

XIV Labour for love, and covet spiritual gifts: and most chiefly 2 for to prophesy. For he that speaketh with tongues speaketh not unto men, but unto God.* No man heareth him: For* in 3 the spirit he speaketh mysteries. But he that prophesieth 4 speaketh unto men, for their* edifying,* and* comfort. He that speaketh with tongues, profiteth himself: he that proph-5 esieth edifieth the congregation. I would that ye all spake with tongues: but rather that ye prophesied. For greater is he that prophesieth, than he that speaketh with tongues, except he expound it also, that the congregation may have edifying.
 6 Now brethren if I come unto you speaking with tongues: what shall I profit you? except I speak unto* you, either by reve-

13. v.1 Other: or. 14. v.2 Other: For. v.2 Other: Howbeit. v.3 Other: to.
 v.3 Other: to exhortation. v.3 Other: to. v.6 Other: to.

lation, or knowledge, or prophesying, or doctrine. Moreover 7 when things without life give sound: whether it be a pipe, or an harp: except they make a distinction in the sounds: how shall it be known what is piped or harped? And also if the 8 trumpet give an uncertain voice, who shall prepare himself to fight? Even so likewise when ye speak with tongues, except 9 ye speak words that have signification, how shall it be understood what is spoken? For ye shall but speak in the air. Many 10 kinds of voices are in the world, and none of them are without signification. If I know not what the voice meaneth, I shall be 11 unto him that speaketh an alien: and he that speaketh shall be an alien unto me. Even so ye (forasmuch as ye covet spiritual 12 gifts) seek that ye may have plenty unto the edifying of the congregation. Wherefore let him that speaketh with tongues, 13 pray that he may interpret also. If I pray with tongues, my spirit prayeth: but my mind is without fruit. What is it then? 15
 I will pray with my^{} spirit, and will pray with my^{} mind also.
 I will sing with my^{} spirit, and will sing with my^{} mind also.
 For else when thou blessest with the spirit, how shall he that 16 occupieth the room of the unlearned say amen at thy giving of thanks? seeing he understandeth not what thou sayest? Thou 17 verily givest thanks well: but the other is not edified. I thank 18 my God, I speak with tongues more then ye all. Yet had I 19 lever in the congregation to speak five words with my mind to the information of other,^{} rather than ten thousand words with the tongue. Brethren, be not children in wit:^{} as con- 20 cerning maliciousness be children: but in wit be perfect. In 21 the law it is written, with other tongues, and with other lips will I speak unto this people, and yet for all that will they not hear me saith the Lord. Wherefore tongues are for a sign, not 22 to them that believe: but to them that believe not. Contrariwise prophesying serveth not for them that believe not: but for them which believe. If therefore when all the congrega- 23 tion is come together, and all speak with tongues, there come in they that are unlearned, or they which believe not: will they not say that ye are out of your wits? But and if all prophesy, 24 and there come in one that believeth not, or one unlearned, he is reprov^{*}ed of all men, and is judged of every man: and so 25

v.15 Other: the. v.15 Other: the. v.15 Other: the. v.15 Other: the. v.19 Other:
 others. v.20 Other: Howbeit. v.24 Other: rebuked.

are the secrets of his heart opened: and then* falleth he down on his face, and worshipping God, and saith that God is with you indeed. How is it then brethren? when ye come together every man hath his song, hath his doctrine, hath his tongue, hath his revelation, hath his interpretation: Let all things be* unto edifying. If any man speak with tongues, let it be two at once: or at the most three at once: and that by course, and let another interpret it: But if there be no interpreter, let him keep silence in the congregation, and let him speak to himself, and to God. Let the prophets speak two at once, or three at once, and let other judge. If any revelation be made to another that sitteth by, let the first hold his peace. For ye may all prophesy one by one, that all may learn, and all may have comfort. For the spirits of the prophets are in the power of the prophets. For God is not causer of strife: but of peace, as (i teach) he is in all other congregations of the saints. Let your wives keep silence in the congregations. For it is not permitted unto them to speak: but let them be under obedience, as saith the law: if they will learn any thing, let them ask their husbands at home. For it is a shame for women to speak in the congregation. Sprang the word of God from you? Either came it unto you only? If any man think himself a prophet either spiritual: let him understand, what things I write unto you. For they are the commandments of the Lord. But and if any man be ignorant, let him be ignorant. Wherefore brethren covet to prophesy, and forbid not to speak with tongues. * Let all things be done honestly and in order. (among you)

XV Brethren as pertaining to the gospel which I preached unto you, which ye have also accepted, and in the which ye continue: 2 by the which also ye are saved, I do you to wit after what manner I preached unto you, if ye keep it, except ye have believed in 3 vain. For first of all I delivered unto you that which I received: how that Christ died for our sins, agreeing to the scriptures: 4 and that he was buried, and that he arose again the third day according to the scriptures: and that he was seen of Cephas, 5 then of the twelve; After that he was seen of more than five 6 hundred brethren at once: of which many remain unto this 7 day, and many are fallen asleep. After that appeared he to 8 James, then to all the apostles. And last of all he was seen of me, as of one that was born out of due time. For I am the 9 least of all the apostles, which am not worthy to be called an apostle, because I persecuted the congregation of God: But by 10 the favour* of God I am that I am. And his favour* which is in me was not in vain: but I laboured more abundantly than they all,* not I, but the favour* of God which is with me. Whether 11 it were I or they, so have we preach, and so have ye believed.

If Christ be preached how that he rose from death:* how say 12 some that are among you, that there is no resurrection of the dead? If there be no rising again of death:* then is Christ not 13 risen. If Christ be not risen, then is our preaching vain, and 14 your faith is also in vain. Yea, and we are found false wit- 15 nesses of God. For we have testified against* god how that he raised up Christ, whom he raised not up, if it be so that the dead rise not up again. For if the dead rise not again, then is 16 Christ not risen again. If it be so that Christ rose not, then 17 is your faith in vain, and yet are ye in your sins. And* they 18 which are fallen asleep in Christ, are perished. If in this life 19 only we believe on Christ, then are we of all men the miserablest. * Now is Christ risen from death,* and is become the 20 first fruits of them that slept. For by a man came death, and by a man came resurrection of death.* For as by Adam all die: 21 even so by Christ, shall all be made alive, and every man in 22 his own order: The first is Christ, then they that are Christ's at his coming. Then cometh the end, when he hath delivered 23 up the kingdom to God the father, when he hath put down all rule, authority, and power. For he must rule* till he have put 24 all his enemies under his feet. The last enemy that shall be 25 destroyed is death. For he hath put all things under his feet. 26 But when he saith, all things are put under him, it is manifest, that he is excepted, which did put all things under him.
When all things are subdued unto him: then shall the son also 27 himself be subject unto him that put all things under him, that God may be all in all things. Other* else what do they which 28 are baptised over the dead, if the dead rise not at all? why are they* baptised over the dead? * And why stand we in jeopardy 29 30

15. v.10 Other: grace. v.10 Other: grace. v.10 Other: yet. v.10 Other: grace.
v.12 Other: the dead:. v.13 Other: the dead:. v.15 Other: of. v.18 Other: thereto.
v.20 Other: But. v.20 Other: the dead. v.21 Other: the dead. v.25 Other: reign.
v.29 Other: Either. v.29 Other: then. v.30 Other: Yea.

31 every hour? by our rejoicing which I have in Christ Jesu our 32 Lord, I die daily. That I have fought with beasts at Ephesus after the manner of men, what advantageth it me, if the dead rise not again? Let us eat and drink, tomorrow we shall die.
 33 Be not deceived: malicious speakings corrupt good manners.
 34 Awake truly out of sleep, and sin not. For some have not the 35 knowledge of God. I speak this unto your rebuke. But some man will say: how shall the dead arise? with what body shall 36 they come? * Thou fool, that which thou sowest, is not quick-37 ened except it die. And what sowest thou? Thou sowest not that body that shall be: but bare corn (I mean either of wheat, 38 or of some other) and God giveth it a body at his pleasure, to 39 every seed a several body. All flesh is not one manner of flesh: but there is one manner flesh of men, another manner flesh of beasts, another manner flesh of fishes, and another of birds.
 40 There are celestial bodies, and there are bodies terrestrial: But the glory of the celestial is one, and the glory of the terrestrial 41 is another. There is one manner glory of the sun, and another glory of the moon, an another glory of the stars. For one star 42 differeth from another in glory. So is the resurrection of the 43 dead. It is sown in corruption, and riseth in incorruption. It is sown in dishonour, and riseth in honour. It is sown in weak-44 ness, and riseth in power. It is sown a natural body, and riseth a spiritual body. There is a natural body and there is a spiri-45 tual body. As it is written: The first man Adam was made a living soul: and the last Adam was made a quickening spirit: 46 but* that is not first which is spiritual: but that which is nat-47 ural, and then that which is spiritual. The first man is of the 48 earth, earthy: The second man is from heaven, heavenly.* As is the earthy, such are they that are earthy: And as is the heav-49 enly, such are they that are heavenly. And as we have born the image of the earthy, so shall we bear the image of the heav-50 enly. This say I brethren, that flesh and blood cannot inherit the kingdom of God. Neither doth corruption inherit uncorrup-51 tion. Behold I shew a mystery unto you: we shall not all sleep: 52 but we shall all be changed, and that in a moment, and in the twinkling of an eye, at the sound of the last trumpet. For the trumpet shall blow, and the dead shall rise incorruptible: And 53 we shall be changed. For this corruptible must put on incor-v.35 Other: in. v.46 Other: Howbeit. v.47 Other: the second man is the Lorde from heaven.

ruptibility: and this mortal must put on immortality. When 54 this corruptible hath put on incorruptibility: and this mortal hath put on immortality: then shall be brought to pass the saying that is written: Death is consumed into victory. Death 55 where is thy sting? Hell where is thy victory? The sting of 56 death is sin.* The strength of sin is the law: But thanks be 57 unto God, which hath given us victory thorow our Lord Jesus Christ. Therefore my dear brethren, be ye steadfast and un- 58 moveable, always rich in the works of the Lord, forasmuch as ye know how that your labour is not in vain in the Lord.

Of the gathering for the saints, as I have ordained in the XVI congregations of Galacia, even so do ye. In* some* Sabbath* 2 day let every one of you put aside at home, and lay up whatsoever he thinketh meet, that there be no gatherings when I come. When I am come, whosoever ye shall allow by your 3 letters, them will I send to bring your liberality unto Jerusalem. And if it be meet that I go, they shall go with me. I 4, 5 will come unto you after I have gone over Macedonia. For I will go thorowout Macedonia. With you peradventure I will 6 abide a while: or else winter, that ye may bring me on my way whithersoever I go. I will not see you now in my passage: but 7 I trust to abide a while with you, if God shall suffer me. I 8 will tarry at Ephesus until witsontide: For a great door and a fruitful is opened unto me: and there are many adversaries. If 9 Timotheus come, see that he be without fear with you. For he worketh the work of the Lord as I do. Let no man despise him: 11 but convey him forth in peace, that he may come unto me. For I look for him with the brethren. To speak of brother Apollo: 12 (I certify you, that) I greatly desired him to come unto you with the brethren, but his mind was not at all to come at this time.*
 He will come when he shall have convenient time. Watch ye, 13 stand fast in the faith, quit you like men, and be strong. Let 14 all your business be done in love. Brethren, ye know the house 15 of Stephana (and of fortunatus and Archaicus) how that they are the first fruits of Achaia, and that they have appointed themselves to minister unto the saints: I beseech you that 16 ye be obedient unto such, and to all that help and labour. I 17 am glad of the coming of Stephana, Fortunatus, and Achaicus:

v.56 Other: and. 16. v.2 Other: Upon. v.2 Other: the first of Sabbaths. v.2 Other: sondaye. v.12 Other: Howbeit.

for that which was lacking on your part they have supplied.
18 They have comforted my spirit and yours. Look therefore that 19 ye know them that are such. The congregations of Asia salute you. Aquila and Priscilla salute you much in the Lord, and so doeth the congregation that is in their house. (with whom also 20 I am lodged.) All the brethren greet you. Greet ye one another 21 with an holy kiss. The salutation of me Paul with mine own 22 hand: If any man love not the Lord Jesus Christ, the same be 23 anathema maranatha. The favour* of the Lord Jesus Christ 24 be with you all. My love be with you all in Christ Jesu, Amen.

The (end of the first) pistel unto the Corinthian, sent from Philipol; By Stephana, and Fortunatul, and Acaidul, and Timotheul.

The Second Epistle Of Paul The Apostle To The Corinthians.

Paul an apostle of Jesus Christ by the will of God, and I brother Timotheus. Unto the congregation of God, which is at Corinthum, with all the saints which are in all Achaia: Grace be with you and peace from God 2 our father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ. Blessed be God 3 the father of our Lord Jesus the Christ, father of mercy, and the God of all comfort, which comforteth us in all our tribulation, 4 insomuch that we are able to comfort them which are troubled, in whatsoever tribulation it be, with the same comfort wherewith we our selves are comforted of God. For as the afflictions 5 of Christ are plenteous in us: even so is our consolation plenteous by Christ. Whether we be troubled for your consolation, 6 and health, (Or whether we be comforted, it is for youre comfort and salvation) which health* sheweth her power in that ye suffer the same afflictions which we also suffer: or whether we be comforted for your consolation and health:* yet our hope is 7 steadfast for you inasmuch as we know how that as ye have your part in afflictions, so shall ye be partakers of consolation.
Brethren I would not have you ignorant of our trouble, which 8 happened unto us in Asia. For we were grieved out of measure passing strength, so greatly that we despaired even of life.
Also we received an answer of death in ourselves, and that was 9 done because we should not put our trust in ourselves: but in God, which raiseth the dead to life again: * Which delivered 10 us from so great a death, and doth deliver, on whom we trust, that yet hereafter he will deliver us, by the help of your prayer 11 for us: That by the means of many occasions, thanks may be given of many on our behalf; For the grace given unto us. Our 12 rejoicing is this, the testimony of our conscience, that we without doubleness, but* with godly pureness:* not in fleshly wisdom, but by the grace of God,* have had our conversation in the 13 world, and most of all to you-wards. We write no other things unto you, than that ye read and also know. Yea and I trust ye

1. v.6 Other: salvation, which salvation. v.6 Other: salvation:. v.10 Other: .and.
v.12 Other: that in singleness of heart and. v.12 Other: and. v.12 Other: we.

14 shall find us unto the end even as ye have found us partly, 15 for we are your rejoicing, even as ye are ours in the day of the 16 Lord Jesus. And in this confidence was I minded the other 17 time to have come unto you (that ye might have had a double 18 pleasure,)* and to have passed by you into Macedonia, and to 19 have come again out of Macedonia unto you, and to have been 20 led forth to Jewry ward of you. When I thus wise was minded: 21 Did I use lightness? Or think I carnally those things which I 22 think? that with me should be yea yea, and nay nay. God is 23 faithful: For our preaching unto you, was not yea and nay. For 24 God's son Jesus Christ which was preached among you by us (that is to say by me and Silvanus and Thimotheus) was not 20 yea and nay: but in him it was Yea: For all the promises of God, in him are Yea: and are in him Amen, unto the laud of 21 God thorow us. * It is God which stablisheth us and you in 22 Christ, and hath anointed us, which hath also sealed us, and 23 hath given the earnest of the spirit into our hearts. I call God for a record unto my soul, that for to favor you withal, I came 24 not any more unto Corinthum. Not that we be lords over your faith: but helpers of your joy. For by faith ye stand.

II But I determined this in myself, that I would not come again 2 to you in heaviness. For if I make you sorry: who is it that should make me glad, but the same which is made sorry by me?
 3 And I wrote this same pistel unto you, lest if I came, I should take heaviness (upon heaviness) of them, of whom I ought to rejoice. Certainly this confidence have I in you all, that my 4 joy is the joy of you all. For in great affliction and anguish of heart I wrote unto you with many tears: not to make you 5 sorry, but that ye might perceive the love which I have most 6 specially unto you. If any man hath caused sorrow, the same hath not made me sorry: but partly, lest I should grieve you 7 all. It is sufficient unto the same man that he was rebuked 8 of many. So that now contrariwise ye ought to forgive him and comfort him: lest that same* should be swallowed up with 9 overmuch heaviness. Wherefore I exhort you, that love may 10 have strength over him. For this cause verily did I write, that I might know the proof of you, whether ye should be obedient in all things. To whom ye forgive any thing, I forgive also. And verily if I forgive any thing, to whom I forgave it for your sakes v.15 Other: that ye might have had yet one pleasure more. v.21 Other: For.

2. v.7 Other: person.

forgave I it, in the room of Christ, lest Satan should prevent 11 us. For his thoughts are not unknown unto us. When I was 12 come to Troada for Christ's gospel's sake (and a great door was opened unto me of the Lord) I had no rest in my spirit, because 13 I found not Titus my brother: but took my leave of them and went away into Macedonia. Thanks be unto God which always 14 giveth us the victory in Christ, and openeth the savor of his knowledge by us in every place. For we are unto God the 15 sweet savor of Christ, both among them that are saved, and also among them which perish: to the one part are we the 16 savor of death unto death: * unto the other part are we the savor of life unto life. And who is meet unto these things? For we 17 are not as many are which chop and change with the word of God: but as they which speak* of pureness, and as they which speak* of God* in the sight of God, so speak we in Christ.

We begin to praise ourselves again. Need we as some other III of pistels of recommendation unto you? or letters of recommendation from you? Ye are our pistel written in our hearts, 2 which is understood and read of all men, in that ye are known, 3 how that ye are the pistel of Christ, ministered by us and written, not with ink: but with the spirit of the living God, not in tables of stone, but in fleshly tables of the heart. Such trust 4 have we thorow Christ to Godward, not that we are sufficient 5 of ourselves to think any thing as it were of ourselves: but our ableness cometh of God, which hath made us able to minis- 6 ter the new testament, not of the letter, but of the spirit: For the letter killeth, but the spirit giveth life. If the ministration 7 of death thorow the letters figured in stones was glorious, so that the children of Israel could not behold the face of Moses for the glory of countenance (which glory nevertheless is done away) why shall not the ministration of the spirit be much 8 more glorious? For if the ministering of condemnation be glo- 9 rious: much more doth the administration* of righteousness exceed in glory. For no doubt that which was there glorified 10 is not once glorified in respect of this exceeding glory. Then 11 if that which is destroyed was glorious, much more shall that which remaineth be glorious. Seeing then that we have such 12 trust we use great boldness, and do not as Moses, which put a 13

v.16 Other: And. v.17 Other: but even out. v.17 Other: by the power. v.17 Other:
and. 3. v.9 Other: ministration.

veil over his face that the children of Israel should not see for 14 what purpose that served which is put away. But their minds were blinded. For until this day remaineth the same covering untaken away in the old testament when they read it, which 15 in Christ is put away: But even unto this day, when Moses is 16 read the veil hangeth before their hearts. Nevertheless when 17 they turn to the Lord, the veil shall be taken away. The Lord no doubt is a spirit. And where the spirit of the Lord is, there 18 is liberty. And now the Lord's glory appeareth in us all, as in a glass:* and we are* changed unto the same similitude, from glory to glory, even of the Lord which is a spirit.*

IV Therefore seeing that we have such an office, even as mercy 2 is come on us, we faint not: but have cast from us the cloaks of dishonesty, and walk not in craftiness, neither corrupt we the word of God: but walk in open truth, and report ourselves 3 to every man's conscience in the sight of God. If our gospel be 4 yet hid, it is hid among them that are lost, in whom the God of this world hath blinded the minds of them which believe not, lest should shine unto them the light of the glorious gospel 5 of Christ, which is the image of God, for we preach not ourselves, but Christ Jesus* the Lord, and preach ourselves your 6 servants for Jesus' sake. For it is God that commanded the light to shine out of darkness, which hath shined in our hearts, for to give the light of knowledge of the glorious God,* in the 7 face of Jesus Christ. But we have this treasure in earthen vessels that the excellent power of it might appear to be of God, 8 and not of us. We are troubled on every side, yet are we not without shift. We are in poverty: but not utterly without some-9 what. We are persecuted: but are not forsaken. We are cast 10 down: nevertheless we perish not. And we always bear in our bodies the dying of the Lord Jesus, that the life of Jesu might 11 appear in our bodies. For we which live, are always delivered unto death for Jesus' sake, that the life also of Jesu might ap-12 pear in our mortal flesh. So then death worketh in us, and 13 life in you. Seeing then that we have the same spirit of faith, according as it is written (I believed and therefore have I spo-14 ken) we also believe, and therefore speak. For we know that v.18 Other: But we all behold the glory of the Lord with his face open. v.18 Other: weare. v.18 Other: even of the spirit of the Lord. 4. v.5 Other: to be. v.6 Other:

 the light of the knowledge of the glory of God.

he which raised up the Lord Jesus, shall raise up us also by the means of Jesus, and shall set us with you, for all things I do for your sakes, that the plenteous grace by thanks given of many, may redound to the praise of God. Wherefore we are not wearied, but though our outward man perish, yet the inward man is renewed day by day. For our exceeding tribulation, which is momentary and light, prepareth an exceeding, and eternal weight of glory unto us, while we look not on the things which are seen, but on the things which are not seen. For things which are seen, are temporal: but things which are not seen are eternal.

We know surely if our earthy mansion wherein we now dwell were destroyed, that we have a building ordained of God, an habitation not made with hands, but eternal in heaven: And herefore sigh we, desiring to be clothed with our mansion which is from heaven: * if it happen that we be found clothed, and not naked. For as long as we are in this tabernacle, we sigh and are grieved: for we would not be unclothed: but would be clothed upon, that mortality might be swallowed up of life. He that hath ordained us for this thing, is God: which very same hath given unto us the earnest of the spirit. * We are always of good cheer, and know well that as long as we are at home in the body we are absent from God. For we walk in faith and see not. Nevertheless we are of good comfort, and had lever to be absent from the body and to be present with God.* Wherefore we endeavor ourselves, whether we be at home or from home, to please God.* For we must all be brought* before the judgement seat of Christ that every man may receive the works of his body according to that he hath done, whether it be good or bad? Seeing then that we know how the Lord is to be feared, we fare fair with men. For we are known well enough unto God. I trust also that we are known in your consciences. We praise not ourselves again unto you, but give you an occasion to rejoice of us, that ye may have somewhat against them, which rejoice in the face, and not in the heart. For if we be too fervent, to God are we to* fervent: if we keep measure, for your cause keep we measure. For the love of Christ

5. v.3 Other: so yet. v.6 Other: Therefore. v.8 Other: the Lord. v.9 Other: Wherefore, whether we be at home or from home we endeavor our selves to please him. v.10 Other: appear. v.13 Other: too.

constraineth us, because we thus judge, if one be dead for all, 15 that then are all dead, and that he died for all, because that they which live, should not henceforth live unto themselves: 16 but unto him which died for them and rose again. Wherefore henceforth know we no man after the flesh. Insomuch that though we have known Christ after the flesh, now henceforth 17 know we him so no more. Therefore if any man be in Christ, he is a new creature. Old things are passed away, behold all 18 things are become new. Nevertheless all things are of God, which hath reconciled us unto himself by Jesus Christ, and 19 hath given unto us the office to preach the atonement. For God was in Christ, and made agreement between the world and him self, and imputed not their sins unto them: and hath 20 committed to us the preaching of the atonement. Now then are we messengers in the room of Christ: even as though God did beseech you thorow us: So pray we you in Christ's stead, 21 that ye be at one with God: for he hath made him to be sin for us, which knew no sin, that we by his means should be that righteousness which before God is allowed.*

VI We as helpers therefore exhort you, that ye receive not the 2 grace of God in vain. For he saith: I have heard thee in a time accepted: and in the day of health,* have I succoured thee. Behold now is that well accepted time: behold now is the day of 3 health.* Let us give no man occasion of evil, that in our office 4 be found no fault: but in all things let us behave ourselves as the ministers of God. In much patience, in afflictions, in neces-5 sity, in anguish, in stripes, in prisonment, in strife, in labour, 6 in watch,* in fasting, in pureness, in knowledge, in longsuffer-7 ing, in kindness, in the holy ghost, in love unfeigned, in the words of truth, in the power of God, by the armour of righteous-8 ness of the right hand and on the left hand, in honour and dishonour, in evil report and good report, as deceivers and yet 9 true, as unknown, and yet known: as dying and behold we yet 10 live: as chastened and not killed: as sorrowing and yet always merry: as poor and yet make many rich: as having no thing 11 and yet possessing all things. O ye Corinthians, our mouth is 12 open unto you. Our heart is made large: ye are not brought into cumbrance by us, though that ye vex yourselves of a true

v.21 Other: aloved. 6. v.2 Other: salvation. v.2 Other: salvation. v.5 Other: watching.

meaning.* I speak unto you as unto children, which have like 13 reward with us:* Stretch yourselves therefore out; bear not 14 the yoke with the unbelievers.* For what fellowship hath righteousness with unrighteousness? What company hath light with darkness? What concord hath Christ with beliall? Ei- 15 ther what part hath he that believeth with an infidel? how 16 agreeth the temple of God with images? And ye are the temple of the living God, as said God: I will dwell among them, and walk among them, and will be their God: and they shall be my people. Wherefore come out from among them, and separate 17 yourselves (saith the Lord) and touch none unclean thing: so will I receive you, and will be a father unto you, and ye shall 18 be unto me sons and daughters, saith the Lord almighty.

Seeing that we have such promises dearly beloved, let us VII cleanse ourselves from all filthiness of the flesh and spirit, and grow up to full holiness in the fear of God. Understand us: 2 we have hurt no man: we have corrupted no man: we have defrauded no man. I speak not this to condemn you: for I have 3 shewed you before that ye are in our hearts to die and live with you. I am very bold over you, and rejoyce greatly in you. 4 I am filled with comfort, my joy* exceeding* in all our tribulations. For when we were come into Macedonia, our flesh 5 had no rest, but we were troubled on every side: Outward was fighting, inward was fear. Nevertheless he* that comforteth 6 the abject, comforted us at the coming of Titus. And not with 7 his coming only: but also with the consolation wherewith he was comforted of you. For he told us your desire, your mourning, your fervent mind to me ward: So that I now rejoyce the 8 more. Wherefore though I made you sorry with a letter I repent not: though I did repent. For I perceive that that same 9 Epistle made you sorry though it were but for a season. But I now rejoyce, not that ye were sorry, but that ye so sorrowed, that ye repented. For ye sorrowed godly: so that in nothing 10 were ye hurt by us. For godly sorrow causeth repentance unto health,* not to be repented of: when worldly sorrow causeth death. Behold what diligence this godly sorrow that ye took 11

v.12 Other: ye are in no straye in us, but are in a straye in your awne bowelles:.

v.13 Other: I promise you like reward with me, as to my children. v.14 Other: Set your selves therefore at large, and bear not a strangers yoke with the unbelievers.

7. v.4 Other: and am. v.4 Other: joyous. v.6 Other: God. v.10 Other: salvation.

hath wrought in you: yea it caused you to clear yourselves. It caused indignation, it caused fear, it caused desire, it caused a fervent mind, it caused punishment. For in all things ye have shewed yourselves that ye were clear in that business.*

12 Wherefore though I have written* unto you, I did it not for his cause that did hurt, neither for his cause that was hurt: but that our good mind which we have toward you in the sight of

13 God, might appear unto you. Therefore we are comforted, because ye are comforted: yea and exceedingly the more joyed we, for the joy that Titus had: because his spirit was refreshed

14 of you all. I am therefore not now ashamed, though I boasted myself to him of you. For as all things which I preached unto you are true, even so is our boasting, that I boasted myself 15 to Titus withal, found true. And now is his inward affection more abundant toward you, when he remembereth the obedience of every one of you: how with fear and trembling ye received him. I rejoyce that I may be bold over you in all things.

VIII

I do you to wit brethren of the grace of God, which is given

2 in the congregations of Macedonia, how that the abundance of their rejoicing is, that they are tried with much tribulation. And how that their poverty, though it be deep, yet hath followed over, and is be come unto them riches in singleness.*

3 For to their powers (I bear them record) yea and beyond their

4 power, they were willing of their own accord, and prayed us with great instance, that we would receive their benefit, and suffer them to be partakers with other* in ministering to the

5 saints. And this they did, not as we looked for: but gave their own selves first to the Lord, and after unto us by the will

6 of God: so that we could not but desire Titus to accomplish the same benevolence among you also, even as he had begun.

7 Now therefore, as ye are rich in all parts, in faith, in word, in knowledge, in all ferventness, and in love, which ye have to us:

8 even so see that ye be plenteous in this benevolence. This say I not as commanding: but because other* are so fervent, therefore prove I your love, whether it be perfect or no. Ye know the liberality of our Lord Jesus Christ, which though he were rich, yet for your sakes became poor: that ye thorow his poverty

10 might be made rich. And I give counsel hereto: For this is ex-

v.11 Other: matter. v.12 Other: wrote. 8. v.2 Other: And thereto though they were exceeding poor, yet have they given exceeding richly, and that in singleness. v.4 Other: others. v.8 Other: others.

pedient for you, which began, not to do only: but also to will, a year ago. Now therefore perform the deed, that as there was in you a readiness to will, even so ye may perform the deed, of that which ye have. For if there be first a willing mind, it is accepted according to that a man hath, and not according to that he hath not. It is not my mind that other be set at ease, and ye brought into cumbrance: but that there be egalness.* Let* your abundance succour their lack at this present time of dearth: that their abundance may supply your lack: that there may be equality, agreeing to that which is written: He that gathered much had never the more abundance, and he that gathered little, had nevertheless. Thanks be unto God, which put in the heart of Titus the same good mind toward you. For he accepted our* request. Yea rather he was so well willing, that of his own accord came unto you. We have sent with him that brother whose laud is in the gospel thorowout all the congregations: and not so only, but is also chosen of the congregations to be a fellow with us in our journey, as concerning this benevolence that is ministered by us unto the praise of the Lord, and to stir up your prompt mind. And* this we eschew that any man should rebuke us in this abundance,* that is ministered by us, (to the glory of the lorde) and* make provision for honest things, not in the sight of God only, but also in the sight of men. We have sent with them a brother of ours whom we have oft times proved diligent in many things, but now much more diligent. The great confidence which I have in you hath caused me this to do: partly for Titus' sake which is my fellow, and helper as concerning you: partly because of other* which are our brethren, and the messengers of the congregations, and the glory of Christ. Wherefore shew unto them the proof of your love, and of the rejoicing that we have of you, that the congregations may see it.

Of the ministering to the saints, it is but superfluous for me to write unto you: for I know your readiness of mind, whereof I boast myself unto them of Macedonia, and say that Achaia was prepared a year ago, and your ferventness hath provoked many. Nevertheless yet have I sent these brethren, lest our rejoicing over you should be in vain in this behalf, and that

v.13 Other: now at this time. v.14 Other: that. v.17 Other: the. v.20 Other: For. v.20 Other: plenteous distribution. v.21 Other: therefore. v.23 Other: others.

4 ye (as I have said) prepare yourselves, lest peradventure if they of Macedonia come with me and find you unprepared, the boast that I made in this matter should be a shame to us: I
 5 say not unto you. Wherefore I thought it necessary to exhort the brethren, to come before hand unto you, for to prepare your good blessing promised afore, that it might be ready: so that 6 it be a blessing, and not a defrauding. This yet remember, how that he which soweth little, shall reap little: and he that 7 soweth plenteously shall reap plenteously. And let every man do according as he hath purposed in his heart, not grudgingly, 8 or of necessity. For God loveth a cheerful giver. God is able to make you rich in all grace, that ye in all things having sufficient unto the utmost, may be rich unto all manner good works, 9 as it is written: He that sowed abroad and hath given to the poor, his righteousness remaineth for ever. He that findeth 10 the sower seed, shall minister bread for food, and shall multiply your seed, and increase the fruits of your righteousness 11 that on all parts, ye may be made rich in all singleness, which causeth thorow us, thanks giving unto God. For the office of 12 this ministration, not only supplieth the need of the saints: but also is abundant herein, that for this laudable ministering, thanks might be given to God of many, which praise God 13 for the obedience in knowledging* the gospel of Christ, and for your singleness, in distributing to them, and to all men. And in their prayers to God for you, long after you, for the abundant grace of God given unto you. Thanks be unto God for his ineffable* gift.

X I Paul myself beseech you by the meekness and softness of Christ, which when I am present among you, am of no reputation, but am bold toward you being absent. I beseech you that I need not to be bold when I am present (with that same confidence, wherewith I am supposed to be bold) against some 2 which repute us as though we walked carnally. Nevertheless though we walk compassed with the flesh, yet we war not 3 fleshly. For the weapons of our war are not carnal things, but things mighty in God to cast down strongholds, wherewith we overthrow imaginations, and every high thing that exalteth itself against the knowledge of God, and bring into captivity all understanding to the obedience of Christ, and are 4
 5
 6

9. v.13 Other: of your professing. v.15 Other: unspeakable.

ready to take vengeance on all disobedience, when your obedience is fulfilled. Look ye on things after the utter appearance. 7
 If any man trust in himself that he is Christ's, let the same also consider of himself, that as he is Christ's, even so are we Christ's. And though I should boast myself somewhat more 8 of our authority which the Lord hath given us to edify and not to destroy you, it should not be to my shame. This say I, 9 lest I should seem as though I went about to make you afraid with letters. For the pistels (saith he) are sore and strong: 10 but his bodily presence is weak, and his speech homely.* Let 11 him that is such think on this wise, that as we are in words by letters when we are absent, such are we in deeds when we are present. For we cannot find in our hearts to make 12 ourselves of the number of them, or to compare ourselves to them, which laud themselves: but* while they measure themselves with themselves, and compare themselves with themselves, they understand nought. But we will not rejoice above 13 measure: but according to the quantity of the measure which God hath distributed unto us, a measure that reacheth even unto you. For we stretch not out ourselves beyond measure as 14 though we had not reached unto you. For even unto you have we come with the gospel of Christ, and we boast not ourselves 15 out of measure in other men's labors: yea and we hope; When your faith is increased among you, to be magnified according to our measure more largely: And to preach the gospel in those 16 regions which are beyond you: and not to rejoice of that which is by another man's measure prepared all ready.* Let him that 17 rejoiceth, rejoice in the Lord. For he that praiseth himself, is 18 not allowed: but he whom the Lord praiseth.

Would to God, ye could suffer me a little in my foolishness: XI yea, and I pray you forbear me. For I am jealous over you with 2 godly jealousy. For I coupled you to one man, to make you a chaste virgin to Christ: But I fear lest as the serpent beguiled 3 Eve, thorow his subtlety, even so your wits should be corrupt from the singleness that is in Christ. For if he that cometh to 4 you preach another Jesus than him whom we preached: or if ye receive another spirit than that which ye have received: either another gospel than that ye have received, ye might right well have been content. I suppose that I was not behind the 5

10. v.10 Other: rude. v.12 Other: nevertheless. v.16 Other: already.

6 chief apostles. Though I be rude in speaking, yet I am not 7 so in knowledge. How be it among you we are known to the 8 utmost what we are in all things. Did I therein sin, because 9 I submitted myself, that ye might be exalted? and because I 10 preached to you the gospel to you^{*} free? I robbed other con-11 gregations, and took wages of them, to do you service withal.
 12 And when I was present with you and had need, I was grievous 13 to no man. For that which was lacking unto me, the brethren 14 which came from Macedonia supplied: and in all things I kept 15 myself that I should not be grievous to you: and so will I keep 16 myself. If the truth of Christ be in me, this rejoicing shall not 17 be taken from me in the regions of Achaia. Wherefore? be-18 cause I love you not? God knoweth. Nevertheless what I do, 19 that will I do to cut away occasion from them which desire oc-20 casion, that they might be found like unto us in that wherein 21 they rejoice: For these false apostles are deceitful workers, 22 and fashion them selves like unto the apostles of Christ. And 23 no marvel, for Satan himself is changed into the fashion of an 24 angel of light. Therefore it is no great thing, though his min-25 isters fashion themselves as though they were the ministers of righteousness: whose end shall be according to their deeds. I say again lest any man think that I am foolish: or else even now take me as a fool, that I may boast myself a little. That I speak, I speak it not after the ways of the Lord: but as it were foolishly, while we are now come to boasting. Seeing that many rejoice after the flesh I will rejoice also. For ye suffer fools gladly because that ye yourselves are wise. For ye suffer even if a man bring you into bondage: if a man devour: if a man take: if a man exalt himself: if a man smite you on the face. I speak as concerning rebuke, as though we had been weak. (in this behalf)^{} Whereinsoever any man dare be bold (I speak foolishly) I dare be bold also. They are Hebrews, so am I: They are Israelites, even so am I: They are the seed of Abraham, even so am I. They are the ministers of Christ (I speak as a fool) I am more: In labors more abundant: In stripes above measure: In prison more plenteously: In death often. Of the jews five times received I every time forty stripes, one except.^{} Thrice was I beaten with rods. I was once stoned.
 I suffered thrice shipwreck. Night and day have I been in the 11. v.7 Other: of God. v.21 Other: Howbeit. v.24 Other: save one.

deep of the sea. In journeying often: In perils of waters In 26 perils of robbers. In jeopardies of mine own nation: In jeoparadies among the heathen. I have been in perils in cities, in perils in wilderness, in perils in the sea, in perils among false brethren, in labour and travail, in watching often, in hunger, 27 in thirst, in fastings often, in cold and in nakedness. * Beside 28 the things which outwardly happen unto me, I am cumbered daily and do care for all congregations. Who is sick: and I am 29 not sick? Who is hurt in the faith: and my heart burneth not?
 If I must needs rejoyce, I will rejoyce of mine infirmities. God 30, 31 the father* of our Lord Jesus Christ, which is blessed for evermore, knoweth that I lie not. In the city of Damaschon, the 32 governor of the people under king Aretas, laid watch in the city of the Damascens, and would have caught me, and at a win- 33 dow was I let down in a basket thorow the wall, and so escaped his hands.

It is not expedient for me no doubt to rejoyce; Nevertheless I XII will come to visions and revelations of the Lord. I know a man 2 in Christ above fourteen years ago (whether he were in the body I cannot tell, or whether he were out of the body I cannot tell; God knoweth) which was taken up into the third heaven.
 And I know the same man (whether in the body, or out of the 3 body, I cannot tell; God knoweth) how that he was taken up 4 into paradise, and heard words not to be spoken, which no man can utter. Of this man will I rejoyce, of myself will I not rejoyce, 5 except it be of mine infirmities: and yet though I would rejoyce 6 I should not be a fool: for I would say the truth.* Nevertheless I spare, lest any man should think of me above that he seeth me to be, or heareth of me. And lest I should be exalted out of 7 measure thorow the abundance of revelations, there was given unto me of God unquietness of the flesh, the messenger of Satan to buffet me: because I should not be exalted out of measure. For this thing besought I the Lord thrice, that it might 8 depart from me: and he said unto me: my grace is sufficient 9 for thee. For my strength is made perfect throu weakness. Very gladly therefore will I rejoyce of my weakness, that the strength of Christ may dwell in me. Therefore have I delectation in in- 10 firmities, in rebukes, in need, in persecutions, in anguish, for Christ's sake. For when I am weak, then am I strong. I am 11 made a fool in boasting myself. Ye have compelled me: I ought to have been commended of you. For in nothing was I inferior 12 unto the chief apostles, though I be nothing, yet the tokens of an apostle were wrought among you with all patience: with 13 signs, and wonders, and mighty deeds. For what is it wherein ye were inferiors unto other congregations? except it be therein that I was not grievous unto you. Forgive me this wrong done 14 unto you. Behold now the third time I am ready to come unto you, neither will I* be grievous unto you. For I seek not yours but you. Also the children ought not to lay up for the fathers 15 and mothers: but the fathers and mothers for the children. I will very gladly bestow, and will be bestowed for your souls: 16 though the more I love you, the less I am loved again. But be it that I grieved you not: nevertheless I was crafty and took 17 you with guile. Did I pill you by any of them which I sent 18 unto you? I desired Titus, and with him I sent a brother: Did Titus defraud you of any thing? walked we not in one spirit?

 19 walked we not in like steps? Again, think ye that we excuse ourselves? we speak in Christ in the sight of God. But we do 20 all things dearly beloved for your edifying. For I fear lest it come to pass, that when I come, I shall not find you such as I would: and I shall be found unto you such as ye* would not:
 I fear lest there be found among you lawing,* envying, wrath, 21 strife, backbitings, whisperings, swellings, and debate.* I fear lest when I come again, God bring me low among you, and I be constrained to bewail many of them which have sinned already, and have not repented of the uncleanness, and fornication, and wantonness which they have committed.

XIII Now come I the third time unto you: in the mouth of two 2 or three witnesses shall every word* stand. I told you before, and tell you before,* as I said when I was present with you the second time, so write I now being absent to them which in time past have sinned, and to all other:* If I come again, I 3 will not spare seeing that ye seek experience of Christ which speaketh in me, which among you is not weak, but is mighty in 4 you. And verily though it came of weakness that he was crucified, yet liveth he thorow the power of God: and we no doubt are weak in him: but we shall live with him, by the might that

v.14 Other: and yet will I not. v.20 Other: I. v.20 Other: debate. v.20 Other: discord. 13. v.1 Other: everything. v.2 Other: and. v.2 Other: that.

God gave us to you ward.* Prove yourselves whether ye are 5 in the faith or not. Examine your own selves: know ye not your own selves, how that Jesus Christ is in you? except ye be castaways. I trust that ye shall know that we are not cast- 6 aways. I desire before God that ye do none evil, not that we 7 should seem commendable: but that ye should do, that which is honest: and let us be counted as lewd persons. We can do 8 nothing against the truth, but for the truth. We are glad when 9 we are weak, and ye strong. This also we wish for, even that ye were perfect. Therefore write I these things being absent, 10 lest when I am present I should use sharpness according to the power which the Lord hath given me, to edify, and not to destroy. Furthermore* brethren fare ye well, be perfect, be of 11 good comfort, be of one mind, live in peace, and the God of love and peace, shall be with you. Greet one another in an holy 12 kiss. All the saints salute you. The favour* of our Lord Je- 13, 14 sus Christ, and the love of God, and the fellowship of the holy ghost, be with you all Amen.

Th̄ (end of th̄) second pistel to th̄ Corinthian. Sent from Philippot a city in Macedonia by Titul and Lucal.

The Epistle Of Paul The Apostle To The Galatians.

I aul an apostle, not of men, neither by man, but by Jesus Christ, and by God the father which raised him from death, and all the brethren which are with me. Unto the congregations of Galacia. Grace be with you and peace from God the father, and from our Lord Jesus Christ, which gave himself for our sins, to deliver us from this present evil world, thorow the will of God our father, to whom be praise for ever and ever Amen. I marvel that ye are so soon turned from him that called you in the grace of Christ, unto another gospel, which is nothing else, but that there be some which trouble you, and intend to pervert the gospel of Christ. Nevertheless though we ourselves, or an angel from heaven, preach any other gospel unto you than that which we have preached unto you, hold him as accursed. As I said before, so say I now again, if any man preach any other thing unto you, than that ye have received, hold him accursed. Seek I now the favour of men, or of God? * Other go I about to please men? If I studied to please men, I were not the servant of Christ. I certify you brethren, that the gospel which was preached of me, was not after the manner of men, neither received I it of man, neither was I taught it: but received it by the revelation of Jesus Christ. * Ye have heard of my conversation in times past in the jews' ways, how that beyond measure I persecuted the congregation of God, and spoiled it: and prevailed in the jews' law,* above many of my companions, which were of mine own nation, and was a much more fervently maintained* the traditions of the elders. But when it pleased God, which separated me from my mother's womb, and called me by his grace, for to declare his son by me, that I should preach him among the heathen: Immediately I commended not of the matter with flesh and blood, neither returned to Jerusalem to them which were apostles before me: but went my ways into Arabia, and came again unto Damasco. Then after three year, I returned

I. v.10 Other: Preach I man's doctrine or God's?. v.13 Other: For. v.14 Other: laye. v.14 Other: fervent maintainer of.

to Jerusalem unto* Peter and abode with him fifteen days, no 19 other of the apostles saw I, save James the Lord's brother. The 20 things which I write, behold, God knoweth I lie not. After that 21 I went into the coasts of Siria and Cicill:* and was unknown 22 as touching my person unto the congregations of Jewry, which were in Christ. But they heard only, that he which persecuted 23 us in time past, now preacheth the faith, which before he destroyed. And they glorified God in me.* 24

Then fourteen years there after, I went up again to Jerusa- II lem with Barnabas, and took with me Titus also. Yea, and 2 I went up by revelation, and commended with them of the gospel, which I preach among the gentiles: but apart* with them that are* counted chief, lest it should have been thought that I should run, or had run in vain. Also Titus which was 3 with me, though he were a greek, yet was not compelled to be circumcised, and that because of incomers being false brethren, 4 which came in among others to spy out our liberty which we have in Christ Jesus, that they might bring us into bondage.
 To whom we gave no room, no not for the space of an hour, 5 as concerning to be brought into subjection: and that because that the truth of the gospel might continue with you. Of them 6 which seemed to be great (what they were in time passed it maketh no matter to me: God looketh on no man's person) nevertheless they which seem* great, added nothing to me: But contrariwise, when they saw that the gospel over the un- 7 circumcision was committed unto me, as the gospel over circumcision was unto Peter (For he that was mighty in Peter in 8 the apostleship over the circumcision, the same was mighty in me among the gentiles:) and as soon as* James, Cephas, and 9 John, which seemed to be pillars, perceived the grace that was given unto me, they gave to me and Barnabas their* hands, and agreed with us that we should preach among the heathen, and they among the jews: warning only that we should re- 10 member the poor, which thing also I was diligent to do.* 11 When Peter was come to Antioch, I withstood him in the face, for he was worthy to be blamed. For yer that certain came 12 from James, he ate with the gentiles: but when they were v.18 Other: to see. v.21 Other: Cilicia. v.24 Other: on my behalf. 2. v.2 Other: between our selves. v.2 Other: which were. v.6 Other: seemed. v.9 Other: therefore when. v.9 Other: the right. v.11 Other: And.

come, he withdrew and separated himself, fearing them which 13 were of the circumcision, and the other jews dissembled likewise; Insomuch that Barnabas was brought into their simula-14 tion also. But when I saw that they went not the right way after the truth of the gospel, I said unto Peter, before all men, if thou being a jew, livest after the manner of the gentiles, and not as do the jews: why causeth thou the gentiles to follow* 15 the jews? we which are jews by nature and not sinners of the 16 gentiles, know that a man is not justified by the deeds of the law: but by the faith of Jesus Christ: and* we have believed on Jesus Christ, that we might be justified by the faith of Christ and not by the deeds of the law: because that no flesh shall 17 be justified by the deeds of the law: If then while we seek to be made righteous by Christ, we ourselves are found sinners, 18 is not then Christ the minister of sin? God forbid. For if I build again that which I destroyed, then make I my self a tres-19 passer. But I throw the law am dead to the law, that I might 20 live unto God. I am crucified with Christ. I live verily, yet now not I, but Christ liveth in me.* The life which I now live in the flesh, I live by the faith of the son of God, which loved me, 21 and gave himself for me. I despise not the grace of God: For if righteousness come of the law, then is Christ dead* in vain.

III O foolish Galatians: who hath bewitched you, that ye should not believe the truth? to whom Jesus Christ was described be-2 fore the eyes, and among you crucified? This only would I learn of you, received ye the spirit by the deeds of the law? or 3 else by preaching of the faith? Are ye so unwise, that after ye 4 have begun in the spirit, ye would now end in the flesh? So many things* ye have suffered in vain. If it be so that ye have 5 suffered in vain.* Which ministered to you the spirit, and worketh miracles among you doth he it throw the deeds of the 6 law? or by preaching of the faith? Even as Abraham believed 7 God, and it was ascribed to him for righteousness. Understand therefore, that they which are of faith,* are the children 8 of Abraham. * The scripture saw aforehand, that God would justify the heathen throw faith, and* shewed beforehand glad 9 tidings unto Abraham: In thee shall all nations be blessed. So v.14 Other: live as do. v.16 Other: therefore. v.20 Other: For. v.21 Other: died.

3. v.4 Other: there. v.4 Other: ,if that be in vain. v.7 Other: the same. v.8 Other: For. v.8 Other: therefore.

then they which be of faith, are blessed with faithful Abraham. For as many as are under the deeds of the law, are under male- 10 diction. For it is written: cursed is every man that continueth not in all things which are written in the book of the law to 11 fulfil them. That no man is justified by the law in the sight of God is evident. For the just shall live by faith. The law is 12 not of faith: but the man that fulfilleth the things contained in the law, shall live in them. * Christ hath delivered us from 13 the curse of the law, and was made a cursed for us (for it is written: Cursed is everyone that hangeth on tree) that the 14 blessing of Abraham might come on the gentiles thorow Jesus Christ,* that we might receive the promise of the spirit thorow 15 faith. Brethren I will speak after the manner of men. Though it be but a man's testament, yet no man despiseth it, or addeth 16 any thing thereto when it is once allowed. To Abraham and his seed were the promises made. He saith* not, in thy* seeds 17 as in many: But in thy seed, as in one, which is Christ. This I say that the law which began afterward, beyond four hundred 18 and thirty years, doth not disannul the testament, that was confirmed* of God unto Christ ward, to make the promise of none effect. For if the inheritance come of the law, it cometh 19 not of promise: but God gave it unto Abraham by promise.
 Wherefore then serveth the law? The law was added because 20 of transgression (till the seed came to which the promise was made) and it was ordained by angels in the hand of a mediator. 21 A mediator is not a mediator of one. But God is one. Is the law then against the promise of God? God forbid.* If there had 22 been a law given which could have given life: then no doubt righteousness should have come by the law: but the scripture 23 concluded all things under sin, that the promise by the faith of Jesus Christ, should be given unto them that believe. Be- 24 fore that faith came, we were kept and shut up under the law, unto the faith which should afterward be declared. Wherefore 25 the law was our schoolmaster unto the time of Christ, that we might be made righteous by faith. But after that faith is come, 26 now are we no longer under a schoolmaster. For ye are all the sons of God, by the faith which is in Christ Jesus. For all ye 27 that are baptised, have put Christ on you.* Now is there no 28

v.13 Other: But. v.14 Other: and. v.16 Other: seyth. v.16 Other: the. v.17 Other: afore. v.21 Other: Howbeit. v.27 Other: put on Christ.

jew, neither greek.* there is neither* bond, neither* free: there is neither man, neither* woman: for all are one thing in Christ 29 Jesu.* If ye be Christ's, then are ye Abraham's seed, and heirs by promise.

IV And I say that the heir as long as he is a child differeth not 2 from a servant, though he be Lord of all, but is under tutors 3 and governors, until the time appointed of the father. Even so we, as long as we were children, were in bondage under the ordi-4 nances of the world: But when the time was full come, God 5 sent his son born of a woman, and made bond unto the law, to redeem them which were under the law: that we thorow election should* receive the inheritance that belongeth unto the 6 natural sons. Because ye are sons, God hath sent the spirit 7 of his son into our hearts, which crieth Abba father. Wherefore now art thou not a servant, but a son. If thou be the son, 8 thou art also the heir of God thorow Christ. Notwithstanding, when ye knew not God, ye did service unto them, which by 9 nature were not* goddes: But now seeing ye know God (yea rather are known of God) how is it that ye turn again unto the weak and beggarly ceremonies, whereunto again ye desire 10 afresh to be in bondage? Ye observe the days, and months, 11 and times, and years. I* fear of you, lest I have bestowed 12 on you labour in vain. Brethren I beseech you, be ye as I 13 am: for I am as ye are. Ye have not hurt me.* Ye know well how that thorow infirmity of the flesh, I preached the gospel 14 unto you at the first: and my temptation which I suffered by reason of my flesh, ye despised not, neither abhorred: but re-15 ceived me as an angel of God: yea as Christ Jesus. How happy were ye then? for I bear you record that if it had been possible, ye would have digged* out your own eyes, and have given 16 them to me. Am I so greatly* become your enemy, because 17 I tell you the truth? They are jealous over you amiss. Yea they intend to exclude you that ye should be fervent to them 18 ward. It is good always to be fervent, so it be in a good thing, 19 and not only when I am present with you. My little children (of whom I travail in birth again until Christ be fashioned in 20 you) I would I were with you now, and could change my voice, v.28 Other: is ther no Iewe nether gentile:. v.28 Other: nether. v.28 Other: ner.

 v.28 Other: nor. v.28 Other: but ye are all one thing in Christ Iesu. 4. v.5 Other: might. v.8 Other: no. v.11 Other: am in. v.12 Other: at all. v.15 Other: plucked. v.16 Other: therefore.

for I stand in a doubt of you. Tell me ye that desire to be 21 under the law: have ye not heard of the law? For it is writ- 22 ten that Abraham had two sons, the one by a bondmaid, the other by a free woman. Yea and he which was of the bond- 23 woman, was born after the flesh: but he which was of the freewoman, was born by promise. Which things betoken 24 mystery. For these women are two testaments, the one from the mount Sina, which gendreth unto bondage, which is Agar.
 (For mount Sinai is called Agar in Arabia, and bordereth upon 25 the city which is now Jerusalem) and is in bondage with her children. But Jerusalem, which is above, is free: which is the 26 mother of us all. For it is written: rejoice thou barren, that 27 bearest no children: break forth and cry, thou that travailest not. For the desolate hath many more children, than she which hath an husband. Brethren we are after the manner of Isaac 28 children of promise: But as then he that was born carnally, persecuted him that was born spiritually; Even so is it now.
 Nevertheless what saith the scripture: Cast* a way the bond- 30 woman and her son. For the son of the bondwoman shall not be heir with the son of the free woman. So then brethren we 31 are not children of the bondwoman: but of the freewoman.

Stand fast therefore in the liberty wherewith Christ hath V made us free, and wrap not yourselves again in the yoke of bondage. Behold I Paul say unto you, that if ye be circum- 2 cised, Christ shall profit you nothing at all. I testify again to 3 every man which is circumcised that he is bound to keep the whole law. Ye are gone quite from Christ as many as are jus- 4 tified by the law, and are fallen from grace. We look for and 5 hope to be justified by the spirit which cometh of faith.* For 6 in Jesu* Christ, neither is circumcision anything worth, neither yet uncircumcision, but faith which by love is mighty in operation. Ye did run well. Who was a let unto you, that ye 7 should not obey the truth? (consent unto no man) Even that 8 counsel that is not of him that called you. A little leaven doth 9 leaven the whole lump of dough. I have trust toward you in 10 God,* that ye will be none otherwise minded. He that troubleth you shall bear his judgement, whatsoever he be. Brethren if 11 I yet preach circumcision: why do I then yet suffer persecuv.30 Other: put. 5. v.5 Other: We look for, and hope in the spirit, to be justified thorow faith. v.6 Other: Iesus. v.10 Other: the Lord.

tion? For then had the offense which the cross giveth ceased.
 12 I would to God they were sundered* from you which trouble 13 you. Brethren ye were called into liberty, only let not your liberty be an occasion unto the flesh but in love (of the spirit) serve 14 one another. For all the law is fulfilled in one word, which is 15 this: Thou shalt love thine neighbour as thyself. If ye bite and devour one another: take heed lest ye be consumed one 16 of another. I say walk in the spirit, and fulfil not the lusts of 17 the flesh. For the flesh lusteth contrary to the spirit, and the spirit contrary to the flesh. These are contrary one to the other, 18 so that ye cannot do that which ye would. But and if ye be led 19 of the spirit, then are ye not under the law. The deeds of the flesh are manifest, which are these, advoutry, fornication, un-20 cleanness, wantonness, idolatry, witchcraft, hatred, lawing, 21 zeal, wrath, strife, sedition, part takings,* envying, murder, drunkenness, gluttony, and such like: of the which I tell you before, as I have told you in time past, that they which commit 22 such things shall not be inheritors of* the kingdom of God: but the fruit of the spirit is, love, joy, peace, longsuffering gentle-23 ness, goodness, faithfulness, meekness, temperancy.* Against 24 such there is no law. They that are Christ's, have crucified the 25 flesh with the appetites and lusts. If we live in the spirit let 26 us walk in the spirit. Let us not be vain glorious, provoking one another, and envying one another.

VI Brethren, if any man be fallen by chance into any fault: ye which are spiritual, help to amend him, in the spirit of meek-2 ness: considering thyself, lest thou also be tempted. Bear ye 3 one another's burden: and so fulfil the law of Christ. If a* man seem to himself that he is somewhat when indeed he is noth-4 ing, the same deceiveth himself in his imagination. Let every man prove his own work, and then shall he have rejoicing in 5 his own self, and not in another. For every man shall bear his 6 own burden. Let him that is taught in the word, minister unto 7 him that teacheth him in all good things. Be not deceived, God is not mocked. For whatsoever a man soweth, that shall 8 he reap. He that soweth in his flesh, shall of the flesh reap corruption: but he that soweth in the spirit shall, of the spirit 9 reap life everlasting. Let us do good, and let us not faint.*

v.12 Other: seperated. v.20 Other: sects. v.21 Other: shall not inherit. v.22 Other: temperance. 6. v.3 Other: any. v.9 Other: Let us not be weary of well doing.

For when the time is come we shall reap without weariness. While we have therefore time let us do good unto all men, and specially, unto them which are of the household of faith. Behold how large a letter I have written unto you with mine own hand. As many as desire with outward* appearance to please carnally, they constrain you to be circumcised, only because they would not suffer persecution with the cross of Christ. For they them selves which are circumcised keep not the law: but desire to have you circumcised that they might rejoyce in your flesh. God forbid that I should rejoyce but in the cross of our Lord Jesu Christ, whereby the world is crucified as touching me, and I as concerning the world. For in Christ Jesu nether circumcision availeth any thing at all nor uncircumcision: but a new creature. And as many as walk according to this rule, peace be on them, and mercy, and upon Israel that pertaineth to God. From hence forth, let no man put me to business. For I bear in my body the marks of the Lord Jesu. Brethren the grace of our Lord Jesu Christe be with your spirit, Amen.

Unto the Galatians written from Rome.

The Epistle Of Paul The Apostle To The Ephesians.

I Paul an apostle of Jesu Christ, by the will of God. To the saints* at Ephesus, and to them which believe on Jesus Christ. Grace be with you and peace from God our father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ. Blessed be God the father of our Lord Jesus Christ, which hath blessed us with all manner of spiritual blessings in heavenly things by Christ, according as he had chosen us in him thorow love, before the foundation of the world was laid, that we should be saints, and without blame in his sight.* And ordained us before unto him self that we should be chosen to heirs thorow Jesus Christ,* according to the pleasure of his will, to the praise of his glorious grace,* where with he hath made us accepted in the beloved. By whom we have redemption thorow his blood, that is to say* the forgiveness of sins, according to the riches of his grace, which grace he shed on us abundantly in all wisdom, and prudency.* And hath opened unto us the mystery of his will according to his pleasure, and pur-posed the same in himself to have it declared when the time were full come, that all things, both the things which are in heaven, and also the things which are in earth, should be gathered together, even in Christ: that is to say in him in whom we are made heirs, and were thereto predestinate according to the purpose of him which worketh all things after the purpose of his own will: that we should be unto the praise of his glory, which before hoped* in Christ. In whom also ye (after that ye heard the word of truth, I mean the gospel of your health,* wherein ye believed) were sealed with the holy spirit of promise, which is the earnest of our inheritance, to redeem the possession purchased* unto the laud of his glory. Wherefore even I (after that I heard of the faith which ye have in

1. v.1 Other: which are. v.4 Other: and without blame before him, thorow love. v.5 Other: before through Jesus Christ to be heirs unto him self. v.6 Other: to the praise of the glory of his grace. v.7 Other: even. v.8 Other: perceivance. v.12 Other: believed. v.13 Other: salvation. v.14 Other: ,and that.

the Lord Jesu, and love unto all the saints) cease not to give 16 thanks for you, making mention of you in my prayers, that 17 the God of our Lord Jesus Christ, and the father of glory, might give unto you the spirit of wisdom, and open to you the knowledge of himself, and lighten the eyes of your minds, that ye 18 might know what thing that hope is, whereunto he hath called you, and how glorious the riches of his* inheritance is upon the saints, and what is the exceeding greatness of his power 19 to us ward, which believe according to the working of that his mighty power, which he wrought in Christ, when he raised 20 him from death,* and set him on his right hand in heavenly things, above all rule, power, and might, and domination, and 21 above all names that are named, not in this world only, but also in the world to come. And hath put all things under his 22 feet, and hath made him above all things, the head of the congregation, which is his body, and fullness of him, that filleth 23 all in all things.

And hath quickened you* also that were dead in trespass II and sin, in the which in time passed ye walked, according to 2 the course of this world, and after the governor, that ruleth in the air, the spirit that now worketh in the children of unbelief, among which we also had our conversation in time past, 3 in the lusts of our flesh, and fulfilled the will of the flesh, and of the mind: and were naturally the children of wrath, even as well as other.* But God which is rich in mercy thorow his 4 great love wherewith he loved us, even when we were dead by 5 sin, hath quickened us with* Christ (For by grace are ye saved) and with him hath raised us up, and with him hath made us 6 sit in heavenly things, thorow Jesus Christ;* For to shew in 7 times to come the exceeding riches of his grace, in kindness to us ward, thorow* Christ Jesus.* For by grace are ye made 8 safe thorow faith, and that not of your selves: For it is the gift of God, and cometh not of works, lest any man should 9 boast himself. For we are his workmanship, created in Christ 10 Jesu unto good works, unto the which God ordained us before, that we should walk in them. Wherefore remember that ye 11

v.18 Other: what the riches of his glorious. v.20 Other: the dead. 2. v.1 Other: you hath he quickened. v.3 Other: others. v.5 Other: together in. v.6 Other: and hath raised us up together and made us sit together in heavenly things thorow Christ Iesus. v.7 Other: in. v.7 Other: Iesu.

being in time past gentiles in the flesh, and were called uncircumcision of* them which are called circumcision in the flesh, 12 which circumcision is made by hands: Remember I say, that ye were at that time without Christ, and were reputed aliens from the common wealth of Israel, and were fremed* from the testaments of promise, and had no hope, and were without God 13 in this world. But now in Christ Jesu, ye which a while ago were far off, are made nye by the blood of Christ. For he is our 14 peace, which hath made of both one, and hath broken down the wall in the midst, that was a stop between us, and hath also 15 put away thorow his flesh, the cause of hatred (that is to say, the law of commandments contained in the law written,) for to 16 make of twain one new man in himself, so making peace: and to reconcile both unto God in one body thorow his cross, and 17 slew hatred thereby: and came and preached peace to you which were afar off, and to them that were nye. For thorow 18 him we both have an open way in, in one spirit unto the father. Now therefore ye are no more strangers and foreigners: but 19 citizens with the saints, and of the household of God: and are built upon the foundation of the apostles and prophets, Jesus 20 Christ being the head cornerstone, in whom every building coupled together, groweth unto an holy temple in the Lord, in 21 whom ye also are built together, and made an habitation for God in the spirit.*

III For this cause I Paul the servant of Jesus* am in bonds; For 2 your sakes which are gentiles.* If ye have heard of the ministration of the grace of God which is given me to you ward:
 3 For by revelation shewed he this mystery unto me, as I wrote above in few words, whereby, when ye read ye may know 4 mine understanding in the ministry* of Christ, which mystery in times passed was not opened unto the sons of men as 5 it is now declared unto his holy apostles and prophets by the spirit: that the gentiles should be inheritors also, and of the 6 same body, and partakers of his promise that is in Christ, by the means of the gospel, whereof I am made a minister, by the 7 gift of the grace of God given unto me, after* the working of his power. Unto me the least of all saints is this grace given, that 8 I should preach among the gentiles the unsearchable riches of v.11 Other: to. v.12 Other: strangers. v.22 Other translation: holy ghost.

3. v.1 Other: Christ. v.1 Other: heathen:. v.4 Other: mystery. v.7 Other: thorow.

Christ, and to give light to* all men,* that they might know 9 what is the fellowship of the mystery, which from the beginning of the world hath been hid in God which made all things thorow Jesus Christ, to the intent, that now unto the rulers 10 and powers in heaven might be known by the congregation the manifold wisdom of God, according to that eternal purpose, 11 which he purposed in Christ Jesu our Lord, by whom we are 12 bold to draw nye in that trust, which we have by faith on him.
 Wherefore I desire, that ye faint not because of mine* tribula- 13 tions which I suffer for you:* which is your praise. For this 14 cause I bow my knees unto the father of our Lord Jesus Christ, which is father over all that is called father In heaven and in 15 earth, that he would grant you according to the riches of his glory, that ye may be strengthened with might by his spirit in 16 the inner man, that Christ may dwell in your hearts by faith, 17 that ye being rooted and grounded in love, might be able to 18 comprehend with all saints, what is that breadth and length, depth and height: and to know what is the love of Christ, 19 which love passeth knowledge: that ye might be fulfilled with all manner of fullness which cometh of God. Unto him that 20 is able to do exceeding abundantly, above all that we ask or think, according to the power that worketh in us, be praise in 21 the congregation by Jesus Christ, thorow out all generations from time to time. Amen.

I therefore which am in bonds for the Lord's sake exhort IV you, that ye walk worthy of the vocation wherewith ye are called, in all humbleness of mind, and meekness, and long 2 suffering, forbearing one another thorow love, and that ye be 3 diligent to keep the unity of the spirit in the bond of peace, be- 4 ing one body, and one spirit, even as ye are called in one hope of your calling. Let there be but one Lord, one faith, one bap- 5 tism: one God and father of all, which is above all, thorow all, 6 and in us all.* Unto every one of us is given grace according 7 to the measure of the gift of Christ. Wherefore he saith: He 8 is gone up on high, and hath led captivity captive, and hath given gifts unto men. That he ascended: what meaneth it, 9 but that he also descended first into the lowest parts of the earth? He that descended, is even the same also that as- 10 v.9 Other: make. v.9 Other: see. v.13 Other: my. v.13 Other: your sakes:.

4. v.6 Other: and in you all.

11 cended up, even above all heavens, to fulfil all things. And the 12 very same, made some Apostles, some Prophets, some Evange-13 lists, some Shepherds, some Teachers: that the saints might 14 have all things necessary to work and minister withal, to the 15 edifying of the body of Christ, till we everyone (in the unity 16 of faith, and knowledge of the son of God) grow up unto a per-17 fect man, after the measure of age which is in* the fullness of 18 Christ: That we henceforth be no more children wavering and 19 carried with every wind of doctrine, by the wiliness of men and 20 craftiness, whereby they lay a wait for us to deceive us. But 21 let us follow the truth in love, and in all things grow in him 22 which is the head, that is to say Christ, in whom all the body 23 is coupled and knit together, in every joint, wherewith one min-24 istereth to another (according to the operation as every part 25 hath his measure) and increaseth the body, unto the edifying 26 of itself in love. This I say herefore, and testify in the Lord, 27 that ye henceforth walk not as other gentiles walk, in vanities* 28 of their mind, blinded in their understanding, being strangers from the life which is in God, thorow the ignorancy that is in them, because of the blindness of their hearts: which being past repentance have given themselves unto wantonness, to work all manner of uncleanness even with greediness. But ye have not so learned Christ; If so be ye have heard of him, and are taught in him, even as the truth is in Jesu: so then as concerning the conversation in time past, lay from you that old man, which is corrupt thorow the deceivable lusts, and be ye renewed in the spirit of your minds, and put on that new man, which after a godly wise,* is shapen in righteousness, and true holiness. Wherefore put away lying, and speak every man truth unto his neighbor, forasmuch as we are members one of another. Be angry, but sin not: let not the son go down upon your wrath, give no* place unto the backbiter, let him that stole steal no more, but let him rather labour with his hands some good thing, that he may have to give unto him that needeth. Let no filthy communication proceed out of your mouths: but that which is good to edify withal, when need is: that it may have favour with the hearers. And grieve not the holy spirit of God, by whom ye are sealed unto the day of rev.13 Other: of. v.17 Other: vanity. v.24 Other: which after the image of God.

v.27 Other: neither give.

demption. Let all bitterness, fierceness and wrath, roaring 31 and cursed speaking, be put away from you, with all malicious-ness. Be ye courteous one to another, be* merciful forgiving 32 one another, even as God for Christ's sake forgave you.

Be ye followers of God as dear children, and walk in love V, 2 even as Christ loved us, and gave himself for us, an offering and a sacrifice of a sweet savour to God. So that fornication, 3 and all uncleanness, or covetousness, be not once, named among you, as it becometh saints: neither filthiness, neither 4 foolish talking, neither jestings, which are not comely: but rather giving of thanks. For this ye know, that no whoremonger, 5 either unclean person, or covetous person (which is the worshipper of images) hath any inheritance in the kingdom of Christ, and of God. Let no man deceive you with vain words. 6 For thorow such things cometh the wrath of God upon the children of unbelief. Be not therefore companions with them. Ye 7, 8 were once darkness, but are now light in the Lord. Walk as children of light. For the fruit of the spirit is, in all goodness, 9 righteousness, and truth. Accept that which is pleasing to 10 the Lord: and have no fellowship with the unfruitful works of darkness: but rather rebuke them. For it is shame even 12 to name those things which are done of them in secret: but 13 all things, when they are rebuked of the light, are manifest.
For whatsoever is manifest, that same is light. Wherefore he 14 saith: awake thou that sleepest, and stand up from death, and Christ shall give thee light. Take heed therefore that ye walk 15 circumspectly: not as fools: but as wise, redeeming the time: 16 for the days are evil: wherefore, be ye not unwise, but under- 17 stand what the will of the Lord is, and be not drunk with 18 wine, wherein is excess: but be fulfilled with the spirit, speak- 19 ing unto yourselves in psalms, and hymns, and spiritual songs, singing and playing* to the Lord in your hearts, giving thanks 20 always for all things in the name of our Lord Jesu Christ to God the father:* submitting yourselves one to another in the 21 fear of God. Women submit yourselves unto your own hus- 22 bands, as unto the Lord. For the husband is the wife's head, 23 even as Christ is the head of the congregation, and the same is the saviour of the body. Therefore as the congregation is in 24

v.32 Other: and. 5. v.19 Other: making melody. v.20 Other: giving thanks all ways for all things unto God the father, in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ.

25 subjection to Christ, likewise let the wives be in subjection to 26 their husbands in all things. Husbands love your wives, even 27 as Christ loved the congregation, and gave himself for it, to 28 sanctify it, and cleansed it in the fountain of water thorow the 29 word, to make it unto himself, a glorious congregation with-30 out spot, or wrinkle, or any such thing: but that it should be 31 holy and without blame. So ought men to love their wives, 32 as their own bodies. He that loveth his wife, loveth himself.
 33 For no man ever yet, hated his own flesh: But nourisheth, and cherisheth it: even as the Lord doth the congregation: for we are members of his body, of his flesh, and of his bones. For this cause shall a man leave father and mother, and shall continue with his wife, and two shall be made one flesh. This is a great secret, but I speak between Christ and the congregation. Nevertheless do ye so that every one of you love his wife truly even as himself: And let the wife see that she fear her husband.

VI Children obey your fathers and mothers in the Lord: for 2 so is it right. Honour* father and mother, that is the first 3 commandment that hath any promise, that thou mayst be in 4 good estate, and live long on the earth. * Fathers, move not 5 your children to wrath: but bring them up with the nurture 6 and information of the Lord. Servants be obedient unto your 7 carnal masters, with fear and trembling, in singleness of your 8 hearts, as unto Christ: not with service in the eye sight, as 9 men pleasers: but as the servants of Christ, doing the will of 10 God from the heart with good will, even as though ye served 11 the Lord,* and not men. And remember that whatsoever good 12 thing any man doeth, that shall he receive again of the Lord, whether he be bond or free. And ye masters, do even the same things unto them, putting away threatenings: and remember that even your master also is in heaven, neither is there any respect of person with him. Finally, my brethren be strong in the Lord, and in the power of his might. Put on the armour of God, that ye may stand steadfast against the crafty assaults of the devil. For we wrestle not against flesh and blood: but against rule, against power, and against worldly rulers of the darkness of this world, against spiritual wickedness in* heav-

6. v.2 Other: thy. v.4 Other: And ye. v.7 Other: serving the Lord. v.12 Other:
 for.

only things. For this cause take unto you the armour of God, 13 that ye may be able to resist in the evil day, and to stand perfect 14 in all things. Stand therefore and your loins gird about with 14 verity, having on the breastplate of righteousness, and shod 15 with shoes prepared by the gospel of peace. Above all take to 16 you the shield of faith, wherewith ye may quench all the fiery 16 darts of the wicked. And take the helmet of health,* and the 17 sword of the spirit, which is the word of God, and pray al- 18 ways with all manner prayer and supplication: and that in the 18 spirit: and watch thereunto with all instance and supplication 19 for all saints, and for me, that utterance may be given unto 19 me, that I may open my mouth* boldly, to utter the secrets of 20 the gospel, whereof I am a messenger in bonds, that therein I 20 may speak freely, as it becometh me to speak. But that ye may 21 also know that condition I am in, and what I do, Tichicus my 21 dear brother and faithful minister in the Lord, shall shew you 22 of all things, whom I sent unto you for the same purpose, that 22 ye might know what case I stand in, and that he might comfort 23 your hearts. Peace be with the brethren, and love with faith 23 from God the father, and from the Lord Jesu Christ. Grace 24 be with all them which love our Lord Jesus Christ in pureness, 24 Amen.

Sent from Rome unto the Ephesians by Tichicus.

The Epistle Of Paul The Apostle To The Philippians.

I Paul and Timotheus the servants of Jesu Christ. To all the saints in Christ Jesu which are at Philippos, 2 with the bishops and deacons. Grace be with you and peace from God our father, and from the Lord Je-3 sus Christe. I thank my God with all remembrance of you, 4 always in all my prayers for you all, and pray with gladness, 5 because of the fellowship which ye have in the gospel from the 6 first day unto now, and am surely certified of this, that he which began a good work in you shall perform* it until the day 7 of Jesus Christ, as it becometh me so to judge of you all, because I have you in my heart, and have you also every one companions of grace with me, even in my bonds as I defend, 8 and stablish the gospel. * God beareth me record how greatly
I long after you all from the very heart root in Jesus Christ.
9 And this I pray, that your love may increase more and more 10 in knowledge, and in all feeling, that ye might accept things most excellent, that ye might be pure and such as should hurt 11 no man's conscience, until the day of Christ, filled with the fruits of righteousness, which fruits come by Jesus Christ unto 12 the glory and laud of God. I would ye understood brethren that my business is happened unto the greater furthering of 13 the gospel. So that my bonds in Christ are manifest thorow 14 out all the judgement hall: and in all other places; Insomuch that many of the brethren in the Lord are boldened thorow my bonds, and dare more largely speak the word without fear.
15 Some there are which preach Christ of envy and strife, and 16 some of goodwill. The one part preacheth Christ of strife, and 17 not purely, supposing to add more adversity to my bonds. The other part of love, because they see that I am set to defend 18 to gospel. What thing is this? Notwithstanding by all manner ways, whether it be by occasion or of truth, yet Christ is 19 preached: and therefore I joy.* Yea and will joy. For I know that this shall be for my health,* thorow your prayer, and ministering of the spirit of Jesu Christ, as I heartily look for and hope, that in nothing I shall be ashamed: but that with all confidence, as always in times past, even so now Christ shall be magnified in my body, whether it be thorow life, or else death. For Christ is to me life, and death is to me advantage. If it chance me to live in the flesh, that is to me fruitful for to work, and what to choose I wot not. I am constrained of two things: I desire to be loosed,* and to be with Christ, which thing is best of all: Nevertheless to abide in the flesh is more needful for you. And this am I sure of, that I shall abide, and with you all continue, for the furtherance and joy of your faith, that ye may more abundantly rejoyce in Jesus Christ thorow me, by my coming to you again. Only let your conversation be, as it becometh the gospel of Christ: that whether I come and see you, or else be absent, I may yet hear of you, that ye continue in one spirit, and in one soul laboring as we do to maintain the faith of the gospel, and in nothing fearing your adversaries: which is to them a token of perdition, and to you a sign of health,* and that of God. For unto you it is given, that not only ye should believe on Christ: but also suffer for his sake, and have even the same fight which ye saw me have and now hear of me.

1. v.6 Other: go forth with. v.8 Other: For. v.18 Other: What then? So that Christ be preached all manner ways, whether it be by occasion, or of true meaning, I therein joy:.

If there be among you any consolation in Christ, if there be any comfortable love, if there be any fellowship of the spirit, if there be any compassion of mercy: fulfil my joy, that ye draw one way, having one love, being of one accord, and of one mind, that nothing be done thorow strife or vain glory, but in meekness of mind. Let every person think every other man better than himself,* so that ye consider every man, not what is in himself: But what is in wother men.* Let the same mind be in you the which* was in Christ Jesu: Which being in the shape of God, and thought it not robbery to be equal with God. Nevertheless he made himself of no reputation, and took on him the shape of a servant, and became like unto men, and was found in his apparel as a man. He humbled himself and became obedient unto the death, even the death of the cross. Wherefore God hath exalted him, and given him v.19 Other: chance for my salvation. v.23 Other: lowsed. v.28 Other: salvation.

2. v.3 Other: but that in meekness of mind every man esteem other better than himself. v.4 Other: and that no man consider his awne, but what is mete for other.

v.5 Other: that.

10 a name above all names: that in the name of Jesus should every knee bow, both of things in heaven, and things in earth 11 and things under earth, and that all tongues should confess that Jesus Christ is the Lord unto the praise of God the father.
12 Wherefore my dearly beloved, as ye have always obeyed, not when I was present only, but now much more in mine absence, even so perform* your own health* with fear and trembling.
13 For it is God which worketh in you, both the will and also the 14 deed, even of good will. Do all things without murmuring and 15 disputing, that ye may be faultless, and pure, and the sons of God, without rebuke, in the midst of a crooked, and a perverse 16 nation, among which see that ye shine as lights in the world, holding fast the word of life, unto my rejoicing in the day of Christ, that I have not run in vain, neither have laboured in 17 vain. Yea and though I be offered up on your sacrifice and of your serving of God in the faith:* I rejoice and rejoice with you 18 all. For the same cause also, rejoice ye, and rejoice ye with 19 me. I trust in the Lord Jesus for to send Timotheus shortly unto you, that I also may be of good comfort, when I know what 20 case ye stand in. For I have no man that is so like minded to 21 me, which with so pure affection careth for your matters. For all others seek their own, and not that which is Jesus Christ's.
22 Ye know the proof of him, how that as a son with the father, so 23 with me bestowed he his labour upon the gospel. Him I hope 24 to send as soon as I know how it will go with me. I trust in the 25 Lord that I also myself shall come shortly. I supposed it necessary to send brother Epaphroditus unto you, my companion in labour and fellowsoldier, your apostle, and my minister at 26 my needs. For he longed after you, and was full of heaviness, 27 because that ye had heard say that he should be sick, and no doubt he was sick, and that nye unto death, but God had mercy on him: not on him only, but on me also, lest I should have had 28 sorrow upon sorrow. I sent him therefore the diligentlier, that when ye should see him, ye might rejoice again, and I might be 29 the less sorrowful. Receive him therefore in the Lord with all 30 gladness, and make much of such: because that for the work of Christ he went so far, that he was nye unto death, and regarded not his life, to fulfil that service which was lacking on v.12 Other: work out. v.12 Other: salvation. v.17 Other: i be offered up upon the offering and sacrifice of your faith.

your part toward me.

Moreover brethren mine,* rejoice in the Lord. It grieveth III me not to write the very same things unto* you. For to you it is a sure thing. Beware of dogs, beware of evil workers. Beware 2 of dissension: For we are circumcision which worship God in 3 the spirit, and rejoice in Christ Jesu, and have no confidence in the flesh: though I have whereof I might rejoice in the flesh. If 4 any other man thinketh that he hath whereof he might trust in the flesh: much more I: circumcised the eighth day, of the kin- 5 dred of Israel, of the tribe of Benjamin an Hebrew born of the Hebrews: as concerning the law, a pharisee, and as concern- 6 ing ferventness I persecuted the congregation, and as touching the righteousness which is in the law I was such a one as no man could complain on.* But the things that were winning* 7 unto me I counted loss for Christ's sake. Yea I think all things 8 but loss for that excellent knowledge's sake of Christ Jesu my Lord. For whom I have counted all thing loss, and do judge 9 them but dung, that I might win Christ, and might be found in him, not having mine own righteousness which is of the law:
 But that which springeth of the faith which is in Christ. I mean 10 the righteousness which cometh of God thorow faith in knowing him, and the virtue of his resurrection, and the fellowship of his passions, that I might be conformable unto his death, if 11 by any means I might attain unto the resurrection from death.*
 Not as though I had all ready received* it, either were all ready 12 perfect: but I follow, if that I may comprehend that, wherein I am comprehended of Christ Jesu. Brethren I count not myself 13 that I have gotten it: but one thing I say: I forget that which is behind me, and stretch myself unto that which is before me and press unto that mark appointed, to obtain the reward of 14 the high calling of God in Christ Jesu. Let us therefore as 15 many as be perfect be thus wise minded: and if ye be other wise minded, I pray God open even this unto you. Neverthe- 16 less in that whereunto we are come, let us proceed by one rule, that we may be of one accord. Brethren be followers of me, 17 and look on them which walk even so, as ye have us for an en-sample. For many walk (of whom I have told you often, and 18 now tell you weeping) that they are the enemies of the cross

3. v.1 Other: my brethren. v.1 Other: one thing often to. v.6 Other: unrebukable. v.7 Other: vantage. v.11 Other: of the dead. v.12 Other: attained to.

19 of Christ, whose end is damnation, whose God is their belly 20 and* glory* to their shame, which are worldly minded. But our conversation is in heaven, from whence we look for the* 21 saviour* Jesus Christ, which shall change into another fashion our vile bodies, that they may be fashioned like unto his glorious body, according to the working whereby he is able to subdue all things unto himself.

IV Herefore* brethren dearly beloved and longed for, my joy 2 and crown, so continue beloved in the Lord.* I pray Euodias, and beseech Sintiches that they be of one accord in the Lord.
 3 Yea and I beseech thee faithful yokefellow, help the women which laboured with me in the gospel, and with Clement also, and with other my labour fellows, whose names are in the 4 book of life. Rejoice in the Lord alway, and again I say re-5 joice. Let your softness be known unto all men. The Lord is 6 even at hand. Be not careful: but in all things shew your petition unto God in prayer and supplication with giving of 7 thanks. And the peace of God which passeth all understand-8 ing keep your hearts, and minds in Christ Jesu. Furthermore brethren, whatsoever things are true, whatsoever things are honest, whatsoever things are just, whatsoever things are pure, whatsoever things pertain to love, whatsoever things are of honest report, if there be any virtuous thing, if there be any laudable thing, (of learning) those same have ye in your 9 mind, which ye have both learned and received, heard and also seen in me: those things do, and the God of peace shall be 10 with you. I rejoice in the Lord greatly, that now at the last ye are revived, and are waxed mindful of* me again in that 11 wherein ye were also mindful,* but ye lacked opportunity. I speak not because of necessity. For I have learned in what-12 soever estate I am, therewith to be content. I can both cast down myself, I can also exceed. Everywhere, and in all things I am instructed, both to be full, and to be hungry: to have 13 plenty, and to suffer need. I can do all things thorow the help 14 of Christ, which strengtheneth me. Notwithstanding ye have 15 well done, that ye bare part with me in my tribulation. Ye of Philippos know that in the beginning of the gospel, when I v.19 Other: whose. v.19 Other: is. v.20 Other: a. v.20 Other: ,even the Lord. 4. v.1 Other: Therefore my. v.1 Other: so continue in the lorde ye beloved.

 v.10 Other: again to care for. v.10 Other: carefull.

departed from Macedonia, no congregation bare part with me as concerning giving and receiving but ye only. For when I 16 was in Thessalonica, ye sent once, and afterward again, unto my needs: not that I desire gifts: but I desire abundant fruit 17 on your part. I received all, and have plenty. I was even filled 18 after that I had* received of Epaphroditus, that which came from you, an odor that smelleth sweet, a sacrifice accepted and pleasant to God. My God fulfil all your needs thorow his glori- 19 ous riches in Jesu Christ. Unto God and our father be praise 20 for ever more Amen. Salute all the saints in Christ Jesu. The 21 brethren which are with me greet you. All the saints salute 22 you: and most of all they which are of the emperors household.
 The grace of our Lord Jesu Christ be with you all Amen. 23

(Here endt the epistle of saint Paul the Apostle unto the Phillipian,) Sent from Rome by Epaphroditus.

The Epistle Of Paul The Apostle To The Colossians.

1 I Paul an apostle of Jesu Christ by the will of God, and 2 N brother Timotheus. To the saints which are at Colossa, and brethren that believe in Christ. Grace be with you and peace from God our father, and from the Lord 3 Jesu Christ. We give thanks to God the father of our Lord 4 Jesus Christ alway praying for you in our prayers, since we heard of your faith which ye have in Christ Jesu: and of the 5 love which ye bear to all saints for the hope's sake which is laid up in store for you in heaven, of which hope ye have heard* 6 by the true word of the gospel, which is come unto you, even as it is into all the world, and is fruitful (and groweth) as it 7 is among you, from the first day in the which ye heard of it, and had experience in the grace of God in the truth, as ye 8 learned of Epaphra our dear fellow servant, which is for you a faithful minister in* Christ, which also declared unto us 9 your love, which ye have in the spirit. For this cause we also, since the day we heard of it have not ceased praying for you, and desiring that ye might be fulfilled with the knowledge of 10 his will, in all wisdom and spiritual understanding, that ye might walk worthy of the Lord in all things that please, being fruitful in all good works and increasing in the knowledge 11 of God strengthened with all might, thorow his glorious power, 12 unto all patience, and long suffering, with joyfulness, giving thanks unto the father which hath made us meet to be partak-13 ers of the inheritance of saints in light. Which hath delivered us from the power of darkness, and hath translated us into 14 the kingdom of his dear son, in whom we have redemption 15 thorow his blood, that is to say, forgiveness of sins, which is the image of the invisible God, first begotten before* all crea-16 tures: for by him were all things created, things that are in heaven, and things that are in earth: things visible, and things invisible: whether they be majesty or lordship, either rule or 17 power. All things are created by him, and in him, and he is

1. v.5 Other: before. v.7 Other: of. v.15 Other: of.

before all things, and in him all things have their being. And 18 he is the head of the body, that is to wit of the congregation, he is the beginning and first begotten of the dead, that in all things he might have the preeminence. For it pleased the 19 father that in him should all fullness dwell, and by him to 20 reconcile all things unto himself, and to set at peace by him thorow the blood of his cross both things in heaven and things in earth. And you (which were in times past strangers and 21 enemies, because your minds were set in evil works) hath he now reconciled in the body of his flesh thorow death, to make 22 you holy, and such as no man could complain on,* and without fault in his own sight, if ye continue grounded and stab- 23 lished in the faith, and be not moved away from the hope of the gospel, whereof ye have heard, how that it is preached among all creatures, which are under heaven, whereof I Paul am made a minister. Now joy I in my passions* which I suffer for you, 24 and fulfil that which is behind of the afflictions* of Christ in my flesh for his body's sake, which is the congregation, whereof 25 am I made a minister according to the ordinance of God, which ordinance was given me unto you ward, to fulfil the word of God, that mystery hid since the world began, and since the 26 beginning of generations: But now is opened to his saints, to 27 whom God would make known the glorious riches of this mystery among the gentiles, which riches is Christ in you, the hope of glory, whom we preach warning all men, and teaching all 28 men in all wisdom, to make all men perfect in Christ Jesu: Wherein I also labour and strive, even as far forth as his work- 29 ing worketh in me mightily.

I would ye knew what fighting I have for your sakes and for II them of Laodicia, and for as many as have not seen my person in the flesh, that their hearts might be comforted and knit 2 together in love, and in all riches of full understanding, for to know the mystery of God the father and of Christ in whom are 3 hid all the treasures of wisdom and knowledge. This I say lest 4 any man should beguile you with enticing words. For though 5 I be absent in the flesh, yet am I present with you in the spirit joying and beholding the order that ye keep, and your steadfast faith in Christ. As ye have therefore received Christ Jesu the 6 Lord, even so walk rooted and built in him, and steadfast in 7 v.22 Other: unblameable. v.24 Other: sufferings. v.24 Other: passions.

the faith, as ye have learned: and therein be plenteous in giving thanks. Beware lest any man come and spoil you thorow philosophy and deceitful vanity, thorow the traditions of men, and ordinances after the world, and not after Christ. For in him dwelleth all the fullness of the Godhead bodily, and ye are full* in him, which is the head of all rule and power, in whom also ye are circumcised with circumcision made without hands, by putting off the sinful body off the flesh, thorow the circumcision that is in Christ, in that ye are buried with him thorow baptism, in whom ye are also risen again thorow faith, that is wrought by the operation of God which raised him from death. And hath with him quickened you also which were dead in sin in the uncircumcision of your flesh, and hath forgiven our trespasses,* and hath put out the obligation* that was against us, made* in the law written, and that hath he taken out of the way, and hath fastened it on* his cross, and hath spoiled rule and power, and hath made a shew of them openly, and hath triumphed over them in his own person. Let no man therefore trouble your consciences about meat and drink: or for a piece of an holyday, as the holyday of the new moon or of the Sabbath day, which are nothing but shadows of things to come: but the body is in Christ. Let no man make you shoot at a wrong mark, which after his own imagination walketh in the humbleness and holiness of angels, things which he never saw: causeless puffed up with his fleshly mind, and holdeth not the head, whereof all the body by joints and couples receiveth nourishment, and is knit together, and increaseth with the increasing that cometh of God. Wherefore if ye be dead with Christ from doctrine* of the world: Why as though ye yet lived in the world, are ye led with traditions of them that say? Touch not; Taste not; Handle not: which all perish with the using of them, and are after the commandments, and doctrines of men: which things have the similitude of wisdom in chosen holiness, and humbleness, and in that they spare not the body, and do the flesh no worship unto his need.

III If ye be then risen again with Christ seek those things which are above, where Christ sitteth on the right hand of God. Set

2. v.10 Other: complete. v.13 Other: And ye which were dead in sin through the uncircumcision of your flesh, hath he quickened with him and hath forgiven us all our trespasses. v.14 Other: handwriting. v.14 Other: contained. v.14 Other: to. v.20 Other: ordinances.

your affection on things that are above, and not on things which are on the earth. For ye are dead, and your life is hid with 3 Christ in God. When Christ which is our life shall shew him- 4 self, then shall ye also appear with him in glory. Mortify 5 therefore your members which are on the earth, fornication, uncleanness, unnatural lust, evil concupiscence, and covetousness which is worshipping of idols: for which thing's sakes 6 the wrath of God falleth* on the children of unbelief. In which 7 things ye walked once, when ye lived in them. But now put 8 ye also away from you all things, wrath, fierceness, malicious-ness, cursed speaking, filthy speaking out of your mouths. Lie 9 not one to another, seeing that ye have put off the old man with his works,* and have put on the new, which is renewed 10 in knowledge, after the image of him that made him, where is 11 neither greek* nor* jew, circumcision nor uncircumcision, Barbarous or Sithian, bond or free: But Christe is all in all things.
 Now therefore as elect of God, holy and beloved, put on tender 12 mercy, kindness, humbleness of mind, meekness, long suffering, forbearing one another, and forgiving one another (if any 13 man have a quarrel to another) even as Christ forgave you, even so do ye. Above all these things put on love, which is the 14 bond of perfectness, and the peace of God rule in your hearts, to the which peace ye are called in one body: and see that ye 15 be thankful. Let the word of God* dwell in you plenteously 16 in all wisdom. Teach and exhort your own selves, in psalms, and hymns, and spiritual songs which have favour with them, singing in your hearts to the Lord. And all things (whatso- 17 ever ye do in word or deed) do in the name of the Lord Jesu, giving thanks to God the father by him. Wives submit your 18 own selves unto your own husbands, as it is comely in the Lord.
 Husbands love your wives and be not bitter unto them. Chil- 19, 20 dren obey your fathers and mothers, in all things, for that is well pleasing unto the Lord. Fathers rate not your children, 21 (to anger) lest they be of a desperate mind. Servants be obedi- 22 ent unto your bodily masters in all things: not with eye service as men pleasers, but in singleness of heart fearing God. And 23 whatsoever ye do, do it heartily as though ye did it to the Lord, and not unto men, remembering* that of the Lord ye shall re- 24

3. v.6 Other: cometh. v.9 Other: be put off. v.11 Other: gentile. v.11 Other: ner. v.16 Other: Christ. v.24 Other: forasmuch as ye know.

ceive the reward of inheritance, for ye serve the Lord Christ.

25 But he that doth wrong shall receive for the wrong that he hath done: for there is no respect of persons. (with God)

IV Ye masters do unto your servants that which is just and 2 egal, remembering* that ye have also a master in heaven. Con-3 tinue in prayer and watch in the same with thanksgiving, praying also for us that God open unto us the door of utterance, that we may speak the mystery of Christ (wherefore I am also in 4, 5 bonds) that I may utter it, as it becometh me to speak. Walk 6 wisely to them that are without, and redeem the time. Let your speech alway have favour with it* and be salted,* that 7 ye may know how to answer every man. The dear brother Tichicos shall tell you of all my business, which is a faithful 8 minister, and fellow servant in the Lord, whom I have sent unto you for the same purpose, that he might know how ye do, 9 and might comfort your hearts, with one Onesimus a faithful, and a beloved brother, which is one of you. They shall 10 shew you of all things which are a doing here. Aristarchus my prison fellow saluteth you; And Marcus Barnabas' sister's son: touching whom, ye received commandments. If he come unto 11 you receive him: and Jesus which is called Justus, which are of the circumcision. These only are my workfellows unto the 12 kingdom of God, which were unto my consolation. Epaphras the servant of Christ, which is one of you, saluteth you, and always laboureth fervently for you in prayers that ye may stand 13 perfect, and full in all that is the will of God. I bear him record that he hath a fervent mind toward you, and toward them of 14 Laodicia and them of Hierapolis. Dear Lucas the physician 15 greeteth you, and Demas. Salute the brethren which are of Laodicia, and salute Nymphas, and the congregation which is 16 in his house. And when the pistel is read of you, make that it be read in the congregation of the Laodicians also: and that 17 ye likewise read the pistel of Laodicia. And say to Archippus:
 Take heed to thine* office that thou hast received in the Lord, 18 that thou fulfil it. The salutation by the hand of me Paul. Remember my bonds. Grace (of oure Lorde Iesu Christ) be with you, Amen.

(Here endeth the epistle to the Colossians.) Sent from Rome by Tichicus, and

4. v.1 Other: seeing ye know. v.6 Other: be always well savoured. v.6 Other: powdered with salt. v.17 Other: the.

The First Epistle Of Paul The Apostle To The Thessalonians.

I aul Silvanus and Timotheus. Unto the congregation of the Thessalonians, in God the father, and in the Lord Jesus Christ. Grace be with you, and peace from 2 God our father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ. We give God thanks alway* for you all, making mention of you in 3 our prayers without ceasing, and call to remembrance your work in the faith, and labour in love and perseverance in the hope of our Lord Jesus Christ, in the sight of God our father: 4 because we know brethren beloved of God, how that ye are 5 elect. For our gospel came not unto you in word only, but also in power, and also in the holy ghost and in much certainty, as ye know that* we behaved ourselves among you, for your sakes.
6 And ye counterfeited* us, and of the Lord: and received the 7 word in much affliction, with joy of the holy ghost: so that ye were an example to all that believe in Macedonia, and Achaia.
8 For from you sounded out the word of the Lord, not in Macedonia and in Achaia only: but your faith also which ye have unto God, spread herself abroad in all quarters, so greatly that 9 it needeth not us to speak anything at all: for they themselves shew of you what manner of entering in we had unto you, and how ye turned to God from images for to serve the 10 living and true God, and for to look for his son from heaven, whom he raised from death: I mean Jesus which delivereth us from wrath to come.

II For ye yourselves brethren know of our entrance in unto 2 you, how that it was not in vain: but even after that we had suffered before and were shamefully entreated at Philippos (as ye well know) then were we bold in our God to speak unto 3 you the gospel of God, with much striving. Our exhortation was not to bring you to error, nor yet to uncleanness, neither 4 was it with guile: but as we were allowed of God, that the gospel should be committed unto us: even so we speak, not as though we intended to please men, but God, which trieth

1. v.2 Other: all way. v.5 Other: after what manner. v.6 Other: became followers of.

our hearts. Neither was our conversation at any time with 5 flattering words (as ye well know) neither in cloaked covetous- 6 ness, God is record: neither sought we praise of men, nei- 6 ther of you, nor yet of any other, when we might have been 7 chargeable, as the apostles of Christ: but were tender among 7 you, even as a nurse cherisheth her children, so was our af- 8 fection toward you our good will was to have dealt unto you, 8 not the gospel of God only: but also our own souls, because ye 9 were dear unto us. Ye remember brethren our labour and tra- 9 vail. For we laboured day and night, because we would not be 10 grievous unto any of you, and preached* you the gospel of God. 10 Ye are witnesses, and so is God, how holily and justly (that no 10 man could blame us) * we behaved ourselves among you that 11 believe, as ye know how that we exhorted and comforted, and 11 besought every one of you, as a father his children, that ye 12 would walk worthy of the Lord,* which hath called you unto 12 his kingdom and glory. For this cause thank we God without 13 ceasing, because that when ye received of us the word, where- 13 with God was preached, ye received it not as the word of man: 14 but even as it was in deed, the word of God, which worketh in 14 you that believe. For ye brethren did counterfeit* the congrega- 14 tions of God which in Jewry are in Christ Jesu: for ye have 15 suffered like things of your kinsmen, as we our selves have 15 suffered of the jews, which as they killed the Lord Jesus and 15 their own prophets, even so have they persecuted us, and God 16 they please not, and are contrary to all men: and forbid us 16 to preach unto the gentiles, that they might be saved, to fulfil 16 their sins:* For the wrath of God is come on them, even to the 17 utmost. Forasmuch brethren as we are kept from you for a 17 season, as concerning the bodily presence but not in the heart, 18 we enforced the more to see you personally with great desire, 18 and therefore we would have come unto you, I Paul once and 18 again: but Satan withstood us. For what is our hope or joy, 19 or crown of rejoicing? are not ye it in the presence of our Lord 19 Jesus Christ at his coming? Yea ye are our glory and joy. 20

Wherefore since we could no longer forbear, it pleased us to III remain at Athens alone, and sent Timotheus our brother and 2 minister of God, and our labour fellow in the gospel of Christ,

2. v.9 Other: unto. v.10 Other: and unblameably. v.12 Other: God. v.14 Other: became followers of. v.16 Other: always.

3 to stablish you, and to comfort you over your faith, that no 4 man should be moved in these afflictions. For ye yourselves 4 know that we are even appointed thereunto. For verily when I was with you, I told you before that we should suffer tribula-5 tion even as it came to pass, and as ye know. For this cause, when I could no longer forbear, I sent that I might have knowl-6 edge of your faith, lest haply the tempter had tempted you, and that our labour had been bestowed in vain. * Now lately when Timotheus came from you unto us and declared to us your faith, and your love, and how that ye have good remem-7 brance of us always, desiring to see us, as we desire to see you.
 8 Therefore brethren had I* consolation in you, in all our adver-
 8 sity, and necessity through your faith. For now are we alive 9 if ye stand steadfast in the Lord. For what thanks can we recompense to God again for you, over all the joy that we joy 10 for your sakes before our God, while we night and day pray exceedingly, that we might see you presently, and might fulfil 11 that which is lacking in your faith. God himself our father, 12 and our Lord Jesus Christ guide our journey unto you: and the Lord increase you, and make you flow over in love one toward another, and toward all men, even as we do toward you, 13 to stablish* your hearts that they might be without ought to be complained on,* in holiness before God our father, at the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ, with all his saints.

IV Furthermore we beseech you brethren, and exhort you in the Lord Jesus, that ye increase more and more, even as ye have received of us, how ye ought to walk and to please God.
 2 Ye remember what commandments we gave you in the name 3 of our Lord Jesu.* For this is the will of God, which is your 4 sanctifying,* that ye should abstain from fornication, that ev-5 ery one of you should know how to keep his vessel in sanctify-5 ing* and honour, and not in the lust of concupiscence, as do 6 the heathen, which know not god, that no man go beyond,* and defraud his brother in bargaining, because the Lord is avenger of all such things: as we told you before time, and tes-7 tified unto you. For god hath not called us unto uncleanness:
 8 but unto sanctifying.* He therefore that despiseth, despiseth

3. v.6 Other: But. v.7 Other: we. v.13 Other: make. v.13 Other: stable and unblamable. 4. v.2 Other: Christ. v.3 Other: even that ye should be holy, and. v.4 Other: holiness. v.6 Other: too far. v.7 Other: holiness.

not man, but God, which hath sent his holy spirit among you. But as touching brotherly love, ye need not that I write unto 9 you. For ye are taught of God to love one another. Yea and 10 that thing verily ye do unto all the brethren, which are thorowout all Macedonia. We beseech you brethren that ye increase, more and more, and that ye study to be quiet, and to meddle with 11 your own business, and to work with your own hands, as we commanded you: that ye may behave yourselves honestly to- 12 ward them that are without and that nothing be lacking unto you. I would not brethren have you ignorant concerning them 13 which are fallen asleep, that ye sorrow not as other do which have no hope. For if we believe that Jesus died, and rose 14 again: even so them also which sleep by Jesus, will God bring again with him. And this say we unto you in the word of 15 the Lord, that we which live and are remaining in the coming of the Lord, shall not come yer they, which sleep. For the 16 Lord himself shall descend from heaven with a shout, and the voice of the archangel, and trompe of God. And the dead in Christe shall arise first: then shall we which live and remain, 17 be caught up with them also in the clouds to meet the Lord in the air. And so shall we ever be with the Lord. Wherefore 18 comfort your selves one another with these words.

Of the times and seasons brethren ye have no need that I V write unto you: for ye your selves know perfectly, that the day 2 of the Lord shall come even as a thief in the night. When 3 they shall say peace and no danger, then cometh on the sudden destruction, as the travailing of a woman with child, and they shall not escape. But ye brethren are not in darkness, 4 that that day should come on you as it were a thief. Ye are all 5 the children of light, and the children of the day: we are not of the night, neither of darkness. Therefore let us not sleep as 6 do other: but let us watch and be sober. For they that sleep, 7 sleep in the night: and they that be drunken, are drunken in the night. But let us which are of the day be sober, armed with 8 the breast plate of faith and love, and with hope of health,* as an helmet. For God hath not appointed us unto wrath: but 9 to obtain health* by the means of our Lord Jesu Christ, which died for us: that whether we wake or sleep, we should live to- 10 gether with him. Wherefore comfort yourselves together, and 11

5. v.8 Other: salvation. v.9 Other: salvation.

12 edify one another, even as ye do. We beseech you brethren, that ye know them which labour among you, and have the 13 oversight of you in the Lord, and give you exhortation, that ye have them the more in love: For their work's sake, and be 14 at peace with them. We desire you brethren warn them that are unruly, comfort the feeble minded, forbear the weak have 15 continual patience toward all men. See that none recompense evil for evil unto any man: but ever follow that which is good, 16, 17 both among yourselves, and to all men. Rejoice ever. Pray 18 continually. In all things give thanks. For this is the will of 19, 20 God in Christ Jesu toward you. Quench not the spirit, de-21 spise not prophesying. Examine all things. Reap* that which 22, 23 is good. Abstain from all suspicious things. The very God of peace sanctify you thorowout. And I pray God that your whole 24 spirit, soul, and body, be kept faultless unto the coming of our 25, 26 Lord Jesus Christ. Faithful is he, which called you: which will 27 also do it. Brethren, pray for us. Greet all the brethren with an holy kiss. I charge you in the Lord, that this pistel be read 28 unto all the wholly* brethren. The grace of the Lord Jesus Christe be with you. Amen.

Thy (end of thy) first pistel unto thy Thessaloniant, written (sent) from Athent.

The Second Epistle Of Paul The Apostle To The Thessalonians.

Paul, Sylvanus and Timotheus. Unto the congregation I of the Thessalonians, which are in God our father, and in the Lord Jesus Christ. Grace be with you and 2 peace from God our father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ. We are bound to thank God always for you brethren, 3 as it is meet, because that your faith groweth exceedingly, and every one of you swimmeth in love toward another between yourselves, so that we ourselves rejoyce of you in the congrega- 4 tions of God, over your patience and faith in all your persecutions, and tribulations that ye suffer: which is a token 5 of the righteous judgment of God, that ye are counted worthy of the kingdom of God, for which ye also suffer. It is verily 6 a righteous thing with God, to recompense tribulation to them that trouble you: and to you which are troubled rest 7 with us, when the Lord Jesus shall shew himself from heaven, with his mighty angels, in flaming fire, rendering vengeance 8 unto them that know not God, and to them that obey not unto the gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ, which shall be punished 9 with everlasting damnation, from the presence of the Lord, and from the glory of his power, when he shall come to be 10 glorified in his saints, and to be made marvelous in all them that believe: because our testimony that we had unto you, was believed even the same day that we preached it. Wherefore 11 we pray always for you that our God make you worthy of the calling, and fulfil all delectation of goodness, and the work of faith, with power: that the name of our Lord Jesus Christ may 12 be glorified in you, and ye in him, thorow the grace of our God, and of the Lord Jesus Christ.

We beseech you brethren by the coming of our Lord Jesu II Christ, and in that we shall assemble unto him, that ye be 2 not suddenly moved from your mind, and be not troubled, neither by spirit, neither by words, nor yet by letter, which should seem to come from us, as though the day of Christ were at hand. Let no man deceive you by any means, for the Lord 3 cometh not, except there come a departing first, and that that

4 sinful man be opened, the son of perdition which is an adversary, and is exalted above all that is called god, or that is worshipped: so that he shall sit in the temple of god, and shew
 5 himself as god.* Remember ye not, that when I was yet with 6 you, I told you these things? And now ye know what withholdeth: even that he might be uttered at his time. For already 7 the mystery of iniquity worketh. Only he that holdeth, let him 8 now hold, until it* be taken out of the way,* and then shall that wicked be uttered, whom the Lord shall consume with the spirit of his mouth, and shall destroy with the appearance 9 of his coming, even him whose coming is by the working of 10 Satan, with all lying power, signs, and wonders: and in all deceivableness of unrighteousness, among them that perish: because they received not the love of the truth, that they might 11 have been saved. And therefore God shall send them strong 12 delusion, that they should believe lies: that all they might be damned which believed not the truth, but had pleasure in 13 unrighteousness. * We are bound to give thanks alway to God for you brethren beloved of the Lord, for because that God hath from the beginning chosen you to health,* thorow sanctifying 14 of the spirit; And thorow believing the truth: whereunto he called you by our gospel, to obtain the glory that cometh of 15 our Lord Jesu Christ. Therefore brethren stand fast and keep the ordinations,* which ye have learned: whether it were by 16 our preaching, or by our pistel: Our Lord Jesu Christ himself, and God our father, which hath loved us, and hath given us 17 everlasting consolation, and good hope thorow grace, comfort your hearts, and establish you in all saying,* and good doing.

III Furthermore brethren pray for us, that the word of God may 2 have free passage, and be glorified, as it is with you: and that we may be delivered from unreasonable and evil men. For all
 3 men have not faith: but the Lord is faithful, which shall stablish you, and keep you from evil. We have confidence thorow 4 the Lord to you ward, that ye both do, and will do, that which we command you. And the Lord guide your hearts unto the 5 love of God, and patience of Christ. We require you brethren

2. v.4 Other: so that he shall sit as God in temple of god. v.7 Other: hit. v.7 Other: For the mystery of that iniquity doeth he all ready work which only looketh, till he which now only letteth be taken out of the way. v.13 Other: But. v.13 Other: salvation. v.15 Other: ordinances. v.17 Other: doctrine.

in the name of our Lord Jesu Christ, that ye withdraw yourselves from every brother that walketh inordinately, and not after the institution which ye received of us. Ye yourselves 7 know how ye ought to counterfeit* us: For we behaved not ourselves inordinately among you. Neither took we bread of any 8 man for nought: but wrought with labour and travail night and day, because we would not be grievous to any of you: not 9 but that we had authority: but to make ourselves an ensample unto you, to counterfeit* us. For when we were with you, 10 this we warned you of, that if there were any which would not work, that the same should not eat. We have heard say no 11 doubt that there are some which walk among you inordinately, and work not at all, but are busybodies. Them that are such, 12 we command and exhort in the name of* our Lord Jesu Christ, that they work with quietness, and eat their* bread. Brethren 13 be not weary in well doing. If any man obey not our sayings, 14 send us word of him by a letter: and have no company with him, that he may be ashamed: And count him not as an en- 15 emy: but warn him as a brother. The very Lord of peace, give 16 you peace always, by all means. The Lord be with you all. The 17 salutation of me Paul with mine own hand. This is the token in all pistels. So I write. The grace of our Lord Jesus be with 18 you all Amen.

(Here endt the second epistle of saint Paul to the Thessalonians,) Sent from Athens.

The First Epistle Of Paul The Apostle To Timothy.

I Paul an apostle of Jesus Christ, by the commandment of God our saviour, and of the Lord Jesu * Christ, which is our hope. Unto Timothy his natural son in the faith. Grace mercy and peace from God our father, and from the Lord Jesu Christ.* As I besought thee to abide still in Ephesus when I departed into Macedonia, even so do that thou command some that they teach no other wise: neither give heed to fables and genealogies, which are endless, and breed doubts, more than Godly edifying which is by faith: for the end of the commandment is love that cometh of a pure heart and of a good conscience, and of faith unfeigned: from the which things, some have erred, and have turned unto vain jangling, because they would be doctors in* the scripture, and yet understand not what they speak, neither whereof they affirm. We know that the law is god,* if a man use it lawfully, understanding this, how that the law is not given unto a righteous man, but unto the unrighteous and disobedient, to the ungodly and to sinners, to unholy and unclean, to murderers of fathers and murderers of mothers, to manslayers and whoremongers: to them that defile themselves with mankind: to menstealers: to liars and to perjured, and so forth if there be any other thing that is contrary to wholesome doctrine according to the glorious gospel* of the holy* God, which gospel is committed unto me. And I thank him that hath made me strong in Christ Jesu our Lord:* for he counted me true, and put me in office, when before I was a blasphemer, and a persecutor, and a tyrant. Nevertheless* I obtained mercy because I did it ignorantly, in* unbelief: but* the grace of our Lord was more abundant, with faith and love, which is in Christ Jesu.
This is a true saying, and by all means worthy to be received, that Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners, of whom

1. v.1 Other: Iesus. v.2 Other: Lord Iesus Christ our Lord. v.7 Other: of.
v.8 Other: good. v.11 Other: the gospell of the glory. v.11 Other: blessed.
v.12 Other: And i thank Christ Iesus our Lorde which hath made me strong.
v.13 Other: But. v.13 Other: thorow. v.14 Other: Neverthelater.

I am chief: Notwithstanding unto me was mercy given,* that 16 Jesus Christ should first shew on me all long patience, unto the ensample of them which shall in time to come believe on him unto eternal life. So then unto God, King everlasting, 17 immortal, invisible, and wise only, be honour and praise for ever and ever Amen. This commandment commit I unto thee 18 son Timotheus, according to the prophecies which in time past were prophesied of thee, that thou in them shouldest fight a good fight, having faith and good conscience, which some have 19 put away from them, and as concerning faith have made shipwreck. Of whose number is Himeneus, and Alexander, which 20 I have delivered unto Satan, that they might be taught not to blaspheme.

I exhort therefore that above all things prayers, supplica- II tions, petitions,* and giving of thanks, be had for all men: for 2 kings, and for all that are in preeminence,* that we may live a quiet and a peaceable life, in all godliness and honesty. For 3 that is good and accepted in the sight of god our saviour, which 4 would* have all men saved, and* come unto the knowledge of the truth. For there is one God, and one mediator between 5 God and man, which is the man Christ Jesus, which gave 6 himself a ransom for all men, that it should be preached* at his time, whereunto I am appointed* a preacher, and an apos- 7 tle (I tell the truth in Christ and lie not) being the teacher of the gentiles in faith and verity. I woll* therefore that the 8 men pray every where, lifting up pure hands without wrath, or arguing.* Likewise also the women that they array them- 9 selves in mannerly* apparel with shamefastness, and honest* behavior, not with broided hair, other gold, or pearls, or costly array: but with such as becometh women that profess the wor- 10 shipping of God thorow good works. Let the woman learn in 11 silence with all subjection. I suffer not a woman to teach, nei- 12 ther to have authority over the man: but for to be in silence.
 For Adam was first formed, and then Eve. Also Adam was 13, 14 not deceived, but the woman was deceived, and was in transgression. Notwithstanding they shall be saved thorow bear- 15

v.16 Other: for this cause was mercy given unto me. 2. v.1 Other: intercessions. v.2 Other: authority. v.4 Other: will. v.4 Other: to. v.6 Other: testified. v.7 Other: ordained. v.8 Other: will. v.8 Other: doubting. v.9 Other: comely. v.9 Other: discreet.

ing of children, if* they continue in the faith and in love, and in sanctifying.*

III This is a true saying: If a man covet the office of a bishop, 2 he desireth a good work. Yea and a bishop must be faultless, the husband of one wife, sober, of honest behavior,* honestly 3 apparelled, harbourous, apt to teach, not drunken, no fighter, not given to filthy lucre: but gentle, abhorring fighting, abhor-4 ring covetousness, and one that ruleth his own house hon-5 estly, having children under obedience, with all honesty. For if a man cannot rule his own house, how shall he care for the 6 congregation of God. He may not be a young man,* lest he 7 swell and fall into the judgment of the evil speaker. He must also be well reported of among them which are without forth, lest he fall into rebuke, and into the snare of the evil speaker.
 8 Likewise must the deacons be honest, not double tongued, not 9 given unto much drinking, neither unto filthy lucre: but hav-10 ing the mystery of the faith in pure conscience. And let them first be proved, and then let them minister, if they be found 11 faultless. Even so must their wives be honest, not evil speak-12 ers: but sober, and faithful in all things. Let the deacons be the husbands of one wife and such as rule their children well, 13 and their own households. For they that minister well, get themselves good degree, and great liberty in the faith, which 14 is in Christ Jesu. These things write I unto thee, trusting to 15 come shortly unto thee. And if I come not,* that* thou mayst yet have knowledge how thou oughtest to behave thyself in the house of God, which is the congregation of the living God, the 16 pillar and ground of truth. And without nay great is that mystery of godliness. God was shewed in the flesh, was justified in the spirit, was seen of angels, was preached unto the gentiles, was believed on in earth and received up in glory.

IV The spirit speaketh evidently that in the latter times some shall depart from the faith, and shall give heed unto spirits of 2 error, and devilish doctrine of them which speak false throw hypocrisy, and have their consciences marked with an hot iron, 3 forbidding to marry, and commanding to abstain from meats, which God hath created to be received with giving thanks, of

v.15 Other: through bearing of children they shall be saved, so. v.15 Other: holiness with discretion. 3. v.2 Other: discreet. v.6 Other: scholar. v.15 Other: but and if I tarry long. v.15 Other: then.

them which believe, and know the truth, for all the creatures 4 of God are good: and nothing to be refused, if it be received 5 with thanksgiving: For it is sanctified by the word of God, 5 and prayer. If thou shalt put the brethren in remembrance 6 of these things, thou shalt be a good minister of Jesu Christ which hast been nourished up in the words of the faith, and good doctrine, which doctrine thou hast continually followed.
But cast away unghostly and old wives' fables. Exercise thyself 7 unto godliness. For bodily exercise profiteth little: But godli- 8 ness is good unto all things, as a thing which hath promises of the life that is now, and of the life to come. This is a sure 9 saying, and of all parties worthy to be received. For therefore 10 we labour and suffer rebuke, because we believe in the living God, which is the saviour of all men: but specially of those that believe. Such things command and teach. Let no man 11, 12 despise thy youth: but be unto them that believe, an ensample, in word, in conversation, in love, in spirit, in faith and in pureness. Till I come give attendance to reading, to exhor- 13 tation, and to doctrine. Despise not the gift that is the thee, 14 which was given thee thorow prophecy, and with laying on of the hands of a senior.* These things exercise, and give thyself 15 unto them, that all men may see* how thou profitest.* Take 16 heed unto thyself and unto learning, and continue therein. For if thou shalt so do thou shalt save thyself, and them that hear thee.

Rebuke not a senior:* but exhort him as a father, and the V younger men as brethren, the elder women as mothers, the 2 younger as sisters, with all pureness. Honour widows which 3 are true widows. If any widow have children or nephews, let 4 them learn first to rule their own houses godly, and to recompense their elders. For that is good and acceptable before God.
She that is a very widow, and friendless, putteth her trust in 5 God, and continueth in supplication and prayer night and day: but she that liveth in pleasure, is dead even yet alive. And 6, 7 such* things command, that they may be without fault. If 8 there be any that provideth not for his own, and namely for them of his household, the same denieth the faith, and is worse than an infidel. Let no widow be chosen under threescore* 9

4. v.14 Other: an elder. v.15 Other: it may be seen. v.15 Other: in all things.

5. v.1 Other: an elder. v.7 Other: these. v.9 Other: sixty.

10 year old, and such a one as was the wife of one man, and well reported of in good works: if she have nourished children, if she have been liberal to strangers, if she have washed the saints' feet, if she have ministered unto them which were in adversity, 11 if she were continually given unto all manner good works. The younger widows refuse. For when they have begun to wax wanton, to the dishonour of Christ, then will they marry, having 12 damnation, because they have despised* their first faith. And also they learn to go from house to house idle, yea not idle only, but also trifling and busybodies, speaking things which are 13 not comely. I will therefore that the younger women marry and bear children, and guide the house, and give none occasion to the adversary to speak evil. For many of them are all 14 ready turned back, and are gone after Satan. And if any man or woman that believeth have widows, let them minister unto them, and let not the congregation be charged: that it* may 15 have sufficient for them that are widows in deed. The seniors* that rule well are worthy of double honour, most specially they 16 which labour in the word and in teaching. For the scripture saith: Thou shalt not muzzle the mouth of the ox that treadeth 17 out the corn. And the laborer is worthy of his reward. Against an senior* receive none accusation: but under two or three wit- 18 nesses. Them that sin rebuke openly that other may fear. I testify before God, and the Lord Jesus Christ, and the elect angels, that thou observe these things without hasty judgment, 19 and do nothing partially. Lay hands suddenly on no man neither be partaker of other men's sins: Keep thyself pure. Drink 20, 21 no longer water, but use a little wine, for thy stomach's sake, and thine often diseases. Some men's sins are open beforehand and go before unto judgement: some men's sins follow 22 after. Likewise also good works are manifest beforehand, and they that are otherwise, cannot be hid.

VI Let as many servants as are under the yoke count their masters worthy of all honour, that the name of God, and his 2 doctrine be not evil spoken of. See that they which have believing masters despise them not because they are brethren: but so much the rather do service, forasmuch as they are believing and beloved and partakers of the benefit.* These things

v.12 Other: broken. v.16 Other: ye. v.17 Other: elders. v.19 Other: elder.
6. v.2 Other: benefits.

teach and exhort. If any man teach otherwise, and is not content with the wholesome words of our Lord Jesu Christ, and with the doctrine of godliness, he is puffed up and knoweth nothing: but wasteth his brains about questions, and strife of words, whereof spring envy, strife, railings, evil surmisings superfluous disputings in scowls* of men with corrupt minds, and destitute of the truth, which think that lucre is godliness. From such separate thyself. Godliness is great riches, if a man be content with that he hath. For we brought nothing into the world, and it is a plain case that we can carry nothing out. When we have food and raiment, let us therewith be content. They that will be rich, fall into temptation and snares, (of the devil) and into many foolish and noisome lusts, which drown men in perdition, and destruction. For covetousness is root of all evil, which while some lusted after, they erred from the faith, and tangled themselves with many sorrows. But thou which art the man of God, fly such things. Follow righteousness, godliness, love, patience,* meekness. Fight the good fight of faith. Lay hand on eternal life, whereunto thou art called, and hast professed a good profession before many witnesses. I give thee charge in the sight of God, which quickeneth all things, and before Jesus Christ, which under Pontius Pilate witnessed a good witnessing, that thou keep the commandment* without spot, so that no man find fault with thee,* until the appearing of our Lord Jesus Christ, which appearing (when the time is come) he shall shew that is blessed and mighty only, King of Kings, and Lord of Lords, which only hath immortality, and dwelleth in light that no man can obtain,* whom never man saw, neither can see: unto whom be honour and rule everlasting Amen. Charge them that are rich in this world, that they be not exceeding wise, and that they trust not in the uncertain riches, but in the living God, which giveth us abundantly all things to enjoy them, and that they do good and be rich in good works, and ready to give and to distribute, laying up in store for themselves, a good foundation against the time to come, that they may obtain eternal life. O Timothy save that which is given thee to keep, and avoid unghostly vanities of voices, and oppositions of science

v.5 Other: and vain disputations. v.11 Other: and. v.14 Other: ,and be. v.14 Other: unrebukable. v.16 Other: attayne.

21 falsely so called, which science, while some professed, they have erred as concerning the faith. Grace be with thee Amen.

(Here endeth the first epistle unto Timothy,) Sent from Laodicea, which is the chiefest city of Phrygia Pacatiana.

The Second Epistle Of Paul The Apostle To Timothy.

Paul an apostle of Jesu Christ, by the will of God, to I preach the promise of life, which life is in Christ Jesu.
To Timothy his beloved son. Grace, mercy, and peace, 2 from God the father, and from Jesus* Christ our Lord.
I thank God, whom I serve from mine elders with pure con- 3 science, that without ceasing I make mention of thee in my prayers night and day, desiring to see thee, mindful of thy 4 tears: so that I am filled with joy, when I call to remembrance 5 the unfeigned faith that is in thee, which dwelt first in thy grandmother Lois, and in thy mother Eunica: and am assured 6 that it dwelleth in thee also. Wherefore I warn thee that thou stir up the gift of God which is in thee, by the putting on of my 7 hands. For God hath not given to us the spirit of fear: but of 8 power, and of love, and of honest behavior.* Be not ashamed to testify our Lord, neither be ashamed of me, which am bound for 9 his sake: but suffer* adversity with the gospel also thorow the power of God, which saved us, and called us with an holy call- 10 ing, not after* our deeds, but for* his* purpose and grace, which grace was given us thorow Christ Jesu before the world was, but is now declared openly by the appearing of our saviour 11 Jesu Christ, which hath put away death, and hath brought life and immortality unto light thorow the gospel, whereunto 12 I am appointed a preacher, and an apostle, and a teacher of the gentiles: for the which cause I also suffer this.* Nevertheless 13
I am not ashamed. For I know whom I have believed, and am sure that he is able keep that which I have committed to his keeping against that day. See thou have the example of the 14 wholesome words which thou heardest of me, in faith and love which is in Jesu Christ. That* good thing which was commit- 15 ted to thy keeping, keep in the holy ghost which dwelleth in us. This thou knowest how that all they which are in Asia be turned from me. Of which sort are Phigellos and Hermo-

1. v.2 Other: Iesu. v.7 Other: soberness of mind. v.8 Other: thou. v.9 Other:
according to. v.9 Other: according. v.9 Other: own. v.12 Other: these things.
v.14 Other: that.

16 genes. The Lord give mercy unto the house of Onesiphorus, for he often refreshed me, and was not ashamed of my chain: 17 but when he was at Rome he sought me out very diligently, 18 and found me. The Lord grant unto him that he may find mercy with the Lord at that day. And in how many things he ministered unto me at Ephesus thou knowest very well.

II Thou therefore my son be strong in the grace that is in 2 Christ Jesu. And what things thou hast heard of me, many bearing witness, the same deliver to faithful men, which are 3 apt to teach other.* Thou therefore suffer affliction as a good 4 soldier of Jesu Christ. No man that warreth, entangleth himself with worldly business, and that because he would please 5 him that hath chosen him to be a soldier. And though a man strive for a mastery, yet is he not crowned, except he strive 6 lawfully. The husbandman that laboureth must first receive 7 of the fruits. Consider what I say. The Lord give thee un-8 derstanding in all things. Remember that Jesus Christ being of the seed of David, rose again from death according to 9 my gospel, wherein I suffer trouble as an evil doer, even unto 10 bonds. But the word of God was not bound. Herefore I suffer all things, for the elects' sakes, that they might also obtain 11 that health* which is in Christ Jesu, with eternal glory. It is a true saying: If we be dead with him, we also shall live 12 with him; If we be patient, we shall also reign with him; If 13 we deny him, he also shall deny us; If we believe not, yet 14 abideth he faithful; He cannot deny himself. Of these things put them in remembrance, and testify before the Lord, that they strive not about words, which is to no profit, but to per-15 vert the hearers. Study to shew thyself laudable unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed, dividing the word 16 of truth justly. Unghostly and vain voices pass over. For they 17 shall increase unto greater ungodliness, and their words shall fret even as doth a canker:* of whose number is Hymeneos and 18 Philetos, which as concerning the truth have erred, saying that the resurrection is past already,* and do destroy the faith 19 of divers persons. But the sure ground of God remaineth, and hath this seal: the Lord knoweth them that are his, and let every man that calleth on the name of Christ, depart from in-20 iquity. Notwithstanding in a great house are not only vessels

2. v.2 Other: others. v.10 Other: salvation. v.17 Other: cancre. v.18 Other: all ready.

of gold and of silver: but also of wood and of earth: Some for honour, and some unto dishonour. * If a man purge himself 21 from such fellows, he shall be a vessel sanctified unto honour meet for the Lord, and prepared unto all good works. Lusts of 22 youth avoid, and follow righteousness, faith, love, and peace, with them that call on the Lord with pure heart. Foolish and 23 unlearned questions put from thee, remembering that they do but make* strife. But the servant of the Lord must not strive: 24 but must be peaceable unto all men, and ready* to teach, and 25 one that can suffer the evil in meekness, and can inform them that resist, (the truth) if that God at any time will give them repentance for to know the truth: that they may wake out of 26 sleep again, out of* the snare of the devil, which are now taken of him at his will.

This understand, that in the last days shall come parlous III times: For the men shall be lovers of their own selves, cov- 2 etous, boasters, proud, cursed speakers, disobedient to father and mother, unthankful, unholy, churlish,* stubborn, false ac- 3 cusers, rioters, fierce, despisers of them which are good, traitors⁴ heady, high minded, greedy upon voluptuousness more then the lovers of God, having a similitude of godly living, but have 5 denied the power there of.* Such abhor. For of this sort are 6 they which enter into houses, and bring into bondage women laden with sin, which women are led of divers lusts, ever 7 learning, and never able to come unto the knowledge of the truth. As Jannes and Jambres withstood Moses, even so do 8 these resist the truth, men they are of corrupt minds, and lewd as concerning the faith: but they shall prevail no longer. For 9 their madness shall be uttered unto all men as theirs was: but 10 thou hast seen the experience of my doctrine, ordinance,* purpose, faith, long suffering, love, patience, persecutions, and 11 afflictions which happened unto me at Antioche, at Iconium, and at Lystra: which persecutions I suffered patiently; And from them all the Lord delivered me. Yea and all that will 12 live godly in Christ Jesu, must suffer persecutions. But the 13 evil men and deceivers, shall wax worse and worse, while they deceive, and are deceived themselves. But continue thou in 14

v.21 Other: But. v.23 Other: gender. v.24 Other: apt. v.26 Other: come to them selves again out off. 3. v.3 Other: unkind, trucebreakers. v.5 Other: thereof. v.10 Other: fashion of living.

the things which thou hast learned, which also were committed unto thee seeing thou knowest of whom thou hast learned them. And forasmuch also as thou hast known holy scripture of a child, which is able to make thee wise unto health* thorow* faith, which is in Christ Jesu. For all scripture given by inspiration of God, is profitable to teach, to improve, to inform,* and to instruct in righteousness, that the man of God may be perfect, and prepared unto all good works.

IV I testify therefore before God, and before the Lord Jesu Christ, which shall judge quick and dead at his appearing in his kingdom, preach the word, be fervent, be it in season, or out of season. Improve, rebuke, exhort with all long suffering.* For the time will come, when they will not suffer wholesome doctrine: but after their own lusts shall they (whose ears itch) get them an heap of teachers, and shall turn their ears from the truth, and shall be given unto fables: But watch thou in all things, and suffer adversity, and do the work of an evangelist, fulfil thine office unto the utmost. (Be sober.) For I am now ready to be offered, and the time of my departing is at hand. I have fought a good fight, and have fulfilled my course, and have kept the faith. From henceforth is laid up for me a crown of righteousness, which the Lord that is a righteous judge shall give me at that day: not to me only: but unto all them that love his coming. Make speed to come unto me at once. For Demas hath left me, and hath loved this present world, and is departed into Thessalonica. Crescens is gone to Galatia, and Titus unto Dalmacea. Only Lucas is with me. Take Mark and bring him with thee, for he is necessary unto me for to minister. And Tychicus have I sent to Ephesus. The cloak that I left at Troada with Carpus when thou comest bring with thee, and the books, but specially the parchment. Alexander the coppersmith did me much evil, the Lord reward him according to his deeds, of whom be thou ware also. For he withstood our preaching sore. At my first answering for myself, no man assisted me, but all forsook me. I pray God, that it may not be laid to their charges: notwithstanding the Lord assisted me, and strengthened me, that by me the preaching should be fulfilled to the utmost and that all the gentiles should hear.

v.15 Other: salvation. v.15 Other: the. v.16 Other: amend. 4. v.2 Other: and doctrine.

And I was delivered out of the mouth of the lion. And the Lord shall deliver me from all evil doing, and shall keep me unto his heavenly kingdom. To whom be praise for ever and ever Amen. Salute Prisca and Aquila, and the household of Onesiphorus. Erastus abode at Corinthum. Trophimos I left at Miletum sick. Make speed to come before winter. Eubolus greeteth thee, and Pudes, and Linus, and Claudia, and all the brethren. The Lord Jesus Christ be with thy spirit. Grace be with you Amen.

The (end of the) second pistel unto Timothy, written from Rome when Paul wal presented the second time up, before the Emperor Nero.

The Epistle Of Paul To Titus.

1 I Paul the servant of God and an apostle of Jesu Christ, 2 To preach the faith of God's elect, and the knowledge 3 of that truth, which truth is in serving God in hope of 4 eternal life,* which life God cannot lie, hath promised 5 before the world began: but hath at the time appointed opened 6 his word by preaching,* which preaching is committed unto 7 me, by the commandment of God our saviour. To Titus his 8 natural son in the common faith. Grace mercy and peace from 9 God the father, and from the Lord Jesu Christ our saviour.
10 For this cause left I thee in Crete, that thou shouldest per-11 form that which was lacking and shouldest ordain seniors* in 12 every city as I appointed thee. If any be such as no man can 13 complain on,* the husband of one wife, having faithful chil-14 dren, which are not slandered of riot, neither are disobedient.
15 For a bishop must be such as no man can complain on,* as 16 it be cometh the minister of God not stubborn, not angry, no drunkard, no fighter, not given to filthy lucre: but harborous, one that loveth goodness, (prudent) of honest behavior,* righteous, holy temperate, and such as cleaveth unto the true word of doctrine, that he may be able to exhort with wholesome learning, and to improve them that say against it. For there are many disobedient and talkers of vanity, and deceivers of minds, namely they of the circumcision, whose mouths must be stopped, which pervert whole houses, teaching things which they ought not, because of filthy lucre. One being of themselves, which was a poet of their own said: The Cretans are always liars, evil beasts, and slow bellies. This witness is true, wherefore rebuke them sharply, that they may be sound in the faith, and not taking heed to jews fables, and commandments of men, which* turn from the truth. Unto the pure, are all things pure: but unto them that are defiled, and unbelieving, is nothing pure: but even the very minds and consciences of them are defiled. They confess that they know God: but with*

1. v.2 Other: which is after godliness upon the hope of eternal life,. v.2 Other: but hath opened his word at the time appointed thorow preaching. v.5 Other: elders. v.6 Other: faultless. v.7 Other: faultless. v.8 Other: sober minded. v.14 Other: that. v.16 Other: the.

deeds they deny him and are abominable, and disobedient, and unto all good works discommendable.

But speak thou that which becometh wholesome learning: II
 That the* elder men be sober, honest, discreet, sound in the 2 faith, in love and in patience. And the elder women likewise 3 that they be in such raiment, as becometh holiness, not false accusers, not given to much drinking, but teachers of honest things, that they nurture* the young women* to love their 4 husbands, to love their children, to be of honest behaviour,* 5 chaste, housewifely, good, and obedient unto their own husbands, that the word of God be not evil spoken of. Young 6 men likewise exhort that they be of honest manners.* Above 7 all things shew thyself an ensample of good works in the doctrine, shew uncorruption,* honesty, and* the wholesome word 8 which cannot be rebuked, that he which withstandeth may be ashamed, having no thing in you that he may dispraise. The 9 servants exhort to be obedient unto their own masters, and to please in all things, not answering again, neither be pick- 10 ers, but that they shew all good faithfulness, that they may do worship to the doctrine of God our saviour in all things. For 11 the grace of God, that bringeth health* unto all men, hath appeared and teacheth us that we should deny ungodliness and 12 worldly lusts, and that we should live honestly,* righteously, and godly in this present world, looking for that blessed hope 13 and glorious appearing of the mighty God, and of our saviour Jesu Christ: which gave himself for us, to redeem us from all 14 unrighteousness, and to purge us a peculiar people unto himself, fervently given unto good works. These things speak, and 15 exhort, and rebuke, with all commanding. See that no man despise thee.

Warn them that they submit themselves to rule and power, III to obey the officers, that they be prompt* unto all good works, that they speak evil of no man, that they be no fighters, but 2 soft, shewing all meekness unto all men. For we ourselves 3 also were in times past, unwise, disobedient, deceived, in danger to lusts, and to divers manners of voluptuousness, living in maliciousness and envy, full of hate, hating one another.

2. v.2 Other: ye. v.4 Other: to make. v.4 Other: soberminded. v.5 Other: discreet.
v.6 Other: sober minded. v.7 Other: with uncorrupt doctrine with. v.8 Other: with.
v.11 Other: salvation. v.12 Other: sober minded. 3. v.1 Other: ready.

4 But after that the kindness and love of our saviour* to man 5 ward appeared, not of the deeds of righteousness which we wrought, but of his mercy, he saved us, by the fountain of the 6 new birth, and with the renewing of the holy ghost, which he shed on us abundantly, thorow Jesus Christ our saviour, 7 that we once justified by his grace, should be heirs of eter-
8 nal life, thorow hope. This is a true saying. Of these things I would thou shouldest certify, that they which believe God, might be studious* to go forward in good works. These things 9 are good and profitable unto men. Foolish questions, and genealogies, and brawlings and strife about the law avoid, for 10 they are unprofitable, and superfluous. A man that is the author* of sects,* after the first and the second admonition 11 avoid, remembering that he that is such, is perverted, and 12 sinneth, even damned by his own judgement. When I shall send Artemas unto thee or Tichicus be diligent to come to me 13 unto Nichopolis. For I have determined there to winter. Bring Zenas the lawyer and Apollos on their journey diligently, that 14 nothing be lacking unto them. And let ours also learn to excel in good works as far forth as need requireth, that they be not 15 unfruitful. All that are with me salute thee. Greet them that love us in the faith. Grace be with you all, Amen.

(Here end the epistle of saint Paul the Apostle unto Titus) Written from Nichopolis a city of Macedonia.

v.4 Other: God. v.8 Other: diligent. v.10 Other: auctor. v.10 Other: A man that is given to heresy.

The Epistle Of Paul To Philemon.

Paul the prisoner of Jesu Christ, and brother Timotheus. Unto Philemon the beloved, and our helper, and to the beloved Appia, and to Archippus our fellow soldier, and to the congregation of thy house. Grace be with you and peace, from God our father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ. I thank my God always making mention always of thee in my prayers, when I hear of thy love and faith, which thou hast toward the Lord Jesu, and toward all saints: so that the fellowship that thou hast in the faith is fruitful thorow knowledge of all good things,* which are in you by Jesus Christ. And we have great joy and consolation over thy love: For by thee brother, the saints' hearts are comforted. Wherefore though I be bold in Christ to enjoin thee, that which becometh thee: yet for love's sake I rather beseech thee, though I be as I am, even Paul aged, and now in bonds for Jesu Christ's sake. I beseech thee for my son Onesimus, whom I begat in my bonds, which in time passed was to thee unprofitable: but now profitable both to thee and also to me, whom I have sent home again. Thou therefore receive him, that is to say mine own bowels, whom I would fain have retained with me, that in thy stead he might have ministered unto me in the bonds of the gospel. Nevertheless, without thy mind, would I do nothing, that that good which springeth of thee should not be as it were of necessity, but willingly. Haply he therefore departed for a season, that thou shouldest receive him for ever, not now as a servant: but above a servant, I mean a brother beloved, specially to me: but how much more unto thee, both in the flesh, and also in the Lord? If thou count me a fellow, receive him as myself. If he have hurt thee or oweth thee ought, that lay to my charge. I Paul have written it with mine own hand. I will recompense it. So that I do not say to thee how that thou owest unto me even thine own self. Even so brother, let me enjoy thee in the Lord. Comfort my bowels in the Lord. Trusting in thine obedience, I wrote unto thee, knowing that thou wilt do more than I say for. Moreover prepare me lodging: for I trust thorow the help of your prayers,

1. v.6 Other: worke.

23 I shall be given unto you. There salute thee, Epaphras my 24 fellow prisoner in Christe Jesu; Marcus, Aristarchus, Demas, 25 Lucas, my helpers. The grace of our Lord Jesu Christ be with your spirits, Amen.

(This endeth the epistle of saint Paul the Apostle to Philemon.) Sent from Rome by Onesimus a servant.

The Epistle unto the Hebrews.

Sod in time past diversely and many ways, spake unto I the fathers by prophets: but in these last days he 2 hath spoken unto us by his son, whom he hath made heir of all things: by* whom also he made the world.*
Which son being the brightness of his glory, and very image of 3 his substance, bearing up all things with the word of his power, hath in his own person purged our sins, and is sitten on the 4 right hand of the majesty on high, and is more excellent then the angels, inasmuch as he hath by inheritance obtained an 5 excellenter name then have they. For unto which of the angels said he at any time: Thou art my son, this day begat I thee?
And again: I will be his father, and he shall be my son. And 6 again when he bringeth in the first begotten son in* the world, he saith: And all the angels of God shall worship him. And 7 unto* the angels he saith: He maketh his angels spirits, and his ministers flames of fire. But unto the son he saith: God 8 thy seat shall be for ever, and ever. The sceptre of thy kingdom is a right sceptre. Thou hast loved righteousness and hated 9 iniquity: Wherefore hath God, which is thy God,* anointed thee with the oil of gladness above thy fellows. And thou Lord in 10 the beginning hast laid the foundation of the earth: And the heavens are the works of thy hands. They shall perish, but 11 thou shalt endure. They all shall wax old as doth a garment: and as a vesture shalt thou change them, and they shall be 12 changed: but thou art the same,* and thy years shall not fail.
Unto which of the angels said he at any time? Sit on my right 13 hand till I make thine enemies thy footstool. Are they not all 14 spirits to do service, sent for to minister for their sakes, which shall be heirs of health? *

Wherefore we ought much more to attend unto those* things II which we have heard, lest we perish. For if the word which 2 was spoken by angels was steadfast: and* every transgression and disobedience received a just recompense to reward: how 3

1. v.2 Other translation: cause of. v.2 Other translation: eras. v.6 Other: to.
v.7 Other: of. v.9 Other: hath. v.12 Other: but thou arte all wayes. v.14 Other: salvation?. 2. v.1 Other: to give the more heed to the. v.2 Other: so that.

shall we escape if we despise so great health? * which at the first began to be preached of the Lord himself, and after ward 4 was confirmed unto us ward, by them that heard it; God bearing witness thereto, both with signs and wonders also, and with divers miracles, and gifts of the holy ghost, according to 5 his own will. He hath not unto the angels put in subjection the world to come, whereof we speak: but one in a certain 6 place witnessed, saying: What is man, that thou art mindful of him: other the son of man, that thou visitest him? * After 7 thou hadst for a season made him lower than the angels: thou crownedst him with honour and glory, and hast set him above
 8 the works of thy hands. Thou hast put all things in subjection under his feet. In that he put all things under him, he left nothing that is not put under him. Nevertheless we yet see not all 9 things subdued unto him: but that Jesus which for a season was made less than the angels, we see thorow the punishment of death crowned with glory and honour: * that he by the grace
 10 of God, should taste of death for all men. For it became him, for whom are all things, and by whom are all things, after that he had brought many sons unto glory, that he should make the 11 Lord of their health* perfect thorow afflictions: * Forasmuch as he which * sanctifieth, and they which are sanctified, are all of one. For which cause's sake he is not ashamed to call them 12 brethren saying: I will declare thy name unto my brethren, and in the midst of the congregation will I praise thee. And again: I will put my trust in him. And again: behold here 13 am I and the children which God hath given me. Forasmuch then as the children were partakers of flesh and blood, he also himself like wise took part with them, for to put down thorow 14 death him that had lordship over death that is to say the devil. And that he might deliver them which thorow fear of death all 15 their life time were in danger of bondage. For he in no place taketh on him the angels: but the seed of Abraham taketh he 16 on him. Wherefore in all things it became him to be made like unto his brethren, that he might be merciful, and a faithful high priest in things concerning God, for to purge the people's 17 sins. For in that he himself suffered, and was tempted, he is

v.3 Other: salvation. v.6 Other: What is man, that thou art mindful of him?.

v.9 Other: but him that was made less than the angels: we see that it was Iesus, which is crowned with glory and honour for the suffering of death:. v.10 Other: salvation.

v.10 Other: sufering. v.11 Other: that.

able to succour them that are tempted.

Wherefore wholly* brethren, partakers of the celestial calling, III consider the Ambassador and High Priest of our profession Christ Jesus, being faithful to him that sent him,* even as was 2 Moses in all his house. And* this man was counted worthy of 3 more glory than Moses: Inasmuch as he which hath prepared the house, hath most honour in the house. Every house is 4 prepared of some man. But he that ordained all things is God.
 And Moses verily was faithful in all his house, as a minister, 5 to bear witness of those things which should be spoken afterward. But Christ as a son hath rule over the house, whose 6 house we are, if we keep stedfast* confidence and rejoicing in the faith unto the end.* Wherefore as the holy ghost saith: to- 7 day if ye shall hear his voice, harden not your hearts, as when 8 ye provoked in time* of temptation in the wilderness, where 9 your fathers tempted me, proved me, and saw my works forty year long. Wherefore I was grieved with that generation and 10 said: They ever err in their hearts: they verily have not known my ways, so that I sware in my wrath, that they should not 11 enter into my rest. Take heed brethren that there be in none 12 of you an evil heart, in unbelief, that he should depart from the living God: but exhort one another daily, while it is called 13 today, lest any of you wax hard hearted, and be deceived with sin.* We are partakers of Christ, so that* we keep sure unto 14 the end the beginning of the substance,* so long as it is said: 15 today if ye hear his voice, harden not your hearts, as when ye provoked.* For some, when they heard, provoked:* but* not 16 all that came out of Egypt under Moses. But with whom was 17 he displeased forty years? was he not displeased with them that sinned: whose bodies* were overthrown in the desert? To 18 whom sware he that they should not enter into his rest: but unto them that believed not? And we see that they could not 19 enter in, because of unbelief.

Let us fear therefore lest any of us forsaking the promise of IV entering into his rest, should seem to come behind. For unto 2

3. v.1 Other: Therefore holy. v.1 Other: callings. v.2 Other: which was faithful to him that made him. v.3 Other: yet was. v.6 Other: so that we hold fast the. v.6 Other: and the rejoicing of that hope, unto the end. v.8 Other: after the rebellion in the day. v.13 Other: thorow the deceitfulness of sin. v.14 Other: if. v.14 Other: the first substance,. v.15 Other: rebelled. v.16 Other: rebelled. v.16 Other: howbeit. v.17 Other: carcasses.

us was it declared, as well as unto them. But it profited not them that they heard the word, because they which heard it 3 coupled it not with faith. * We which have believed, do enter into his rest, as contrary wise* he said to the other: as I have sworn in my wrath, they shall not enter into my rest. And that spake he verily long after that the works were made, from* the 4 foundation of the world laid. For he spake in a certain place of the seventh day, on this wise: And God did rest the seventh 5 day from all his works. And in this place again: They shall 6 not come into my rest. Seeing therefore it followeth that some must enter thereinto, and they to whom it was first preached, 7 entered not therein for unbelief's sake. Again he appointeth in David a certain present day after so long a time, saying as it is rehearsed: this day if ye hear his voice, be not hard hearted.
 8 For if Josue* had given them rest, then would he not after-9 ward have spoken of another day. There remaineth therefore 10 yet a rest to the people of God. For he that is entered into his rest doth cease from his own works, as God did from his.
 11 Let us study therefore to enter into that rest, lest any man 12 fall into such an * ensample of* unbelief: for the word of God is quick, and mighty in operation, and sharper then any two edged sword: and entereth through, even unto the dividing a sunder of the soul and the spirit and of the joints, and the mary: and judgeth the thoughts and the intents of the heart.
 13 Neither is there any creature invisible in the sight of it: but* all things are naked and bare unto the eyes of him, of whom 14 we speak. Seeing then that we have a great high priest which is entered into heaven (I mean Jesus the son of God) let us 15 keep* our profession. (of our hope) For we have not an high priest, which cannot have compassion on our infirmities: but was in all points tempted, in like manner:* but yet without sin.
 16 Let us therefore go boldly unto the seat of grace, that we may receive mercy, and find grace to help in time of need.

V For every high priest that is taken from among men, is ordained for men, in things pertaining to God: to offer gifts and 2 sacrifices for sins: which can have compassion on the ignorant, and on them that are out of the high way, because that

4. v.3 Other: But. v.3 Other: contrariwise. v.3 Other: and. v.8 Other: Iosue.
 v.11 Other: after the same. v.11 Other: ,into. v.13 Other: .For. v.14 Other: hold.
 v.15 Other: as we are:.

he himself also is compassed with infirmity: For the which infirmities sake, he is bound to offer for sins, as well for his own part, as for the peoples. * No man taketh honour unto himself, but he that is called of God, as was Aaron. Even so likewise Christ honored not himself, that he might be the high priest: but he glorified him that said unto him: * thou art my son, this day begat I thee. As he also in another place speaketh: Thou art a priest for ever after the order of Melchisedech. Which in the days of his flesh, did offer up prayers and supplications, with strong crying and tears unto him that was able to save him from death: and was also heard, because he had God in reverence. * And though he were God's son, * yet learned he obedience, by those things which he suffered, and was made perfect, and the cause of eternal health* unto all them that obey him: and is called of God the* high priest, after the order of Melchisedech. Whereof we have many things to say which are hard to be uttered: because ye are dull of hearing. For when as concerning the time, ye ought to be teachers, yet have ye need again that we teach you the first principles of the word of God: and are become such as have need of milk, and not of strong meat: For every man that is fed with milk is inexpert in the word of righteousness: For he is but a babe. But strong meat belongeth to them that are perfect, which thorow custom have their wits exercised, to judge both good and evil also.

Wherefore let us leave the doctrine pertaining to the beginning of a Christian man, and let us go unto perfection, and now no more lay the foundation of repentance from dead works, and of faith toward God, of baptism, of doctrine, and of laying on of hands, and of resurrection from death, and of eternal judgement. And so will we do, if God permit. For it is not possible that they, which were once lighted, and have tasted of the heavenly gift, and were become partakers of the holy ghost, and have tasted of the good word of God, and of the power of the world to come: if they fall, should be renewed again unto repentance: Forasmuch as they have (as concerning themselves) crucified the son of God afresh, making a mock of him. For that earth which drinketh in the rain which cometh of

5. v.4 Other: And. v.5 Other: Christ glorified not him self, to be made the hie prest: but he that said unto him. v.7 Other: because of his godliness. v.8 Other: sonne of God. v.9 Other: salvation. v.10 Other: an.

ten upon it, and bringeth forth herbs meet for them that dress 8 it, receiveth blessing of God: but that ground, which beareth thorns and briars, is reprov'd, and is nye unto cursing: whose 9 end is to be burned. Nevertheless dear friends, we trust to see better of you, and things which accompany health,* though 10 we thus speak. For God is not unrighteous that he should forget your work, and labour that proceedeth of love, which love shewed in his name, which have ministered unto the saints, 11 and yet minister. Yea, and we desire that every one of you shew the same diligence, to the increase of the faith,* even 12 unto the end: that ye faint not, but counterfeit* them, which 13 thorow faith and patience inherit the promises. For when God made promise to Abraham, because he had no greater thing to 14 swear by, he sware by himself, saying: Surely I will bless thee, 15 and multiply thee in deed. And so after that he had tarried a 16 long time, he enjoyed the promises. Men verily swear by him that is greater than themselves; And an oath to confirm the 17 thing, is among them an end of all strife. So God willing very abundantly to shew unto the heirs of promise, the stableness of 18 his counsel,* he added an oath, that by two immutable things (in which it was unpossible that God should lie) we might have perfect consolation, which have fled, for to hold fast the hope 19 that is set before our faces,* which hope we have as an anchor of the soul, both sure and stedfast. Which hope also entereth 20 in, into those things which are within the veil, whither the forerunner is for us entered in, I mean Jesus that is made an high priest for ever, after the order of Melchisedech.

VII This Melchisedech king of Salem (which being priest of the most high God, met Abraham, as he returned again from the 2 slaughter of the kings, and blessed him: to whom also Abraham gave tithes of all things) first is by interpretation king of righteousness, after that he is king of Salem, that is to say 3 king of peace, without father, without mother, without kin, and hath neither beginning of his time, neither yet end of his life: but is likened unto the son of God, and remaineth* a priest 4 for ever. Consider what a man this was, unto whom the pa-5 triarch Abraham gave tithes of the spoils. And verily those children of Levi, which receive the office of the priests, have a 6. v.9 Other: salvation. v.11 Other: to the establishing of hope. v.12 Other: follow.

v.17 Other: counsayle. v.18 Other: us. 7. v.3 Other: continueth.

commandment to take according to the law, tithes of the people, that is to say, of their brethren, yea though they sprung out of the loins of Abraham. But he whose kindred is not counted among them, received tithes of Abraham, and blessed him that had the promises. And no man denieth but that* which is less, receiveth blessing of that* which is greater. And here men that die receive tithes. But there he receiveth tithes of whom it is witnessed, that he liveth. And to say the truth, Levi him self also which receiveth tithes, paid tithes in Abraham. For he was yet in the loins of his father Abraham, when Melchisedech met him. If now therefore perfection came by the priesthood of the levites (for under that priesthood the people received the law) what needed it furthermore that another priest should rise, after the order of Melchisedech, and not after the order of Aaron? Now no doubt, if the priesthood be translated, then of necessity must the law be translated also. For he of whom these things are spoken, pertaineth unto another tribe, of which, never man served at the altar. For it is evident that our Lord sprung of the tribe of Juda, of which tribe spake Moses nothing concerning priesthood. And it is yet a more evident thing, if after the similitude of Melchisedech there arise another priest, which is not made after the law of the carnal commandment: but after the power of the endless life. For he testifieth: Thou art a priest for ever, after the order of Melchisedech. Then the commandment that went afore, is disannulled, because of his* weakness and unprofitableness. For the law made no thing perfect: but was an introduction of a better hope, by which hope, we draw nye unto God. And for this cause it is a better hope, that it was not promised without an oath. Those priests were made without an oath: but this priest with an oath, by him that said unto him: The Lord sware, and will not repent: Thou art a priest for ever after the order of Melchisedech: And for that cause was Jesus a stablisher of a better testament. And among them many were made priests, because they were not suffered to endure by the reason of death. But this man, because he endureth ever, hath an everlasting priesthood: Wherefore he is able also ever to save them that come unto God by him, seeing he ever liveth, v.7 Other: with out nay saying, he. v.7 Other: him. v.18 Other: her.

26 to make intercession for us. Such an high priest it becometh* us to have, which is wholly,* harmless, undefiled, separate from 27 sinners, and made higher then heaven. Which needeth not daily (as yonder high priests) to offer up sacrifice, first for his own sins, and then for the people's sins. For that did he at once 28 for all, when he offered up himself: For the law maketh men priests, which have infirmity: but the word of the oath that came since the law, maketh the son priest, which is perfect for evermore.

VIII

Of the things which we have spoken, this is the pith: that we have such an high priest that is sitten on the right hand 2 of the seat of majesty in heaven, and is a minister of wholly* things, and of the very tabernacle, which God pight, and not 3 man. For every high priest is ordained to offer gifts and sacrifices: wherefore it is of necessity, that this man have some 4 what also to offer. For he were not a priest, if he were on the earth where are priests that according to the law offer gifts, 5 which priests serve unto the ensample and shadow of heavenly things: even as the answer of God was given unto Moses when he was about to finish the tabernacle: For take heed (said he) that thou make all things according to the patron shewed 6 to thee in the mount. Now hath he obtained a more excellent office, inasmuch as he is the mediator of a better testa-7 ment, which was made for better promises. For if that first testament had been such a one that no man could have found fault with it:* then should no place have been sought for the 8 second. For in rebuking them he saith: Behold the days will come (saith the Lord) and I will finish upon the house of Israel, 9 and upon the house of Judah, a new testament: not like the testament that I made with their fathers at that time, when I took them by the hands, to lead them out of the land of Egypt, for they continued not in my testament, and I regarded them 10 not saith the Lord. For this is the testament that I will make with the house of Israel: After those days (saith the Lord:) I will put my laws in their minds, and in their hearts, I will write them, and I will be their God, and they shall be my peo-11 ple. And they shall not teach, every man his neighbor, and every man his brother, saying: know the Lord: For they shall 12 know me, from the least to the most of them: For I will be v.26 Other: became. v.26 Other: holy. 8. v.2 Other: holy. v.7 Other: faultless:. merciful over their iniquities: and on their sins and on their unrighteousness, will I not think any more.* In that he saith 13 a new testament, he hath abrogate the old. Now that which is disannulled and waxed old, is ready to vanish away.

That first tabernacle verily had justifying^s,* and servings IX of God, and worldly holiness. For that first tabernacle was 2 made,* wherein was the candlestick, and the table, and the shew bread, which is called wholy.* Within the second veil 3 was the tabernacle,* which is called holiest of all, which had 4 the golden censer, and the ark of the testament overlaid roundabout with gold, wherein was the golden pot with Manna, and Aaron's rod that sprung, and the tables of the testament. Over 5 the ark were the cherubims of glory shadowing the seat of grace. Of which things, we will not now speak particularly.
When these things were thus ordained, the priests went always* 6 into the first tabernacle and executed the service of God: * 7
Into the second went the high priest alone, once every year: but* not without blood, which he offered for himself, and for the ignorance of the people: * The holy ghost this signifying, 8 that the way of holy things was not yet opened, while as yet the first tabernacle was standing, which was a similitude of this 9 present time,* in which gifts and sacrifices are offered, which can* not make them that minister perfect, as pertaining to the conscience, with meats only and drinks, and divers washings, 10 and justifying^s of the flesh, which were ordained until the time of reformation. But Christ being an high priest of good things 11 to come, came by a greater, and a more perfect tabernacle, not made with hands: that is to say, not of this manner building, neither by the blood of goats, and calves: but by his own blood, 12 he* entered once for all into the wholy* place, and found eternal redemption. For if the blood of oxen, and of goats, and the 13 ashes of an heifer, when it was sprinkled, purified the unclean, as touching the purifying of the flesh: How much more shall 14 the blood of Christ (which thorow the eternal spirit, offered v.12 Other: For I will be merciful over their unrighteousness, and on their sins and on their iniquities. 9. v.1 Other: ordinances. v.2 Other: for there was a fore tabernacle made,. v.2 Other: holy. v.3 Other: But within the second wayle was there a tabernacle,. v.6 Other: all ways. v.7 Other: But. v.7 Other: and. v.8 Other: Wherewith. v.9 Other: a similitude for the tyme then present,. v.9 Other: the time then present, and in which were offered gifts and sacrifices that could. v.12 Other: we. v.12 Other: holy.

himself without spot to God) purge our* consciences from dead 15 works, for to serve the living God? And for this cause is he the mediator of the new testament, that as sone (as his death was fulfilled for the redemption* of those transgressions that were in the first testament) they which were called, might receive 16 the promise of eternal inheritance. For wheresoever is a testament, there must also be the death of him that maketh the 17 testament. For the testament taketh authority when men are dead: For it is of no value as long as he that made it is alive.
 18 For which cause also, neither that first testament was ordained 19 without blood. For when all the commandments were read of Moses unto all the people, he took the blood of calves, and of goats, with water and purple wool and hyssop, and sprinkled 20 both the book, and all the people, saying this is the blood of 21 the testament, which God hath appointed unto you. Moreover, he sprinkled the tabernacle with blood also, and all the 22 ministering vessels. And almost all things, according to* the law, are cleansed* with blood, and without effusion* of blood, is 23 no remission. It is then need that the similitudes of heavenly things, be purified with such things: but the heavenly things themselves are purified with better sacrifices than are these.*
 24 For Christ is not entered into the holy places, that are made with hands, which are but similitudes of true things: but is entered into very heaven, for to appear now in the sight of God for 25 us. Not to offer himself often, as the high priest entereth into 26 the holy place every year with strange blood: for then must he have often suffered since the world began: But now in the end of the world, hath he appeared once for all,* to put sin to flight, 27 by the offering up of himself. And as it is appointed unto men 28 that they shall once die, and then cometh the judgment, even so Christ was once offered to take away the sins of many, and unto them that look for him, shall he appear again, without sin unto their health.*

X For the law which hath but the shadow of good things to come, and not the things in their own fashion, can never with the sacrifices which they offer year by year continually make 2 the comers thereunto perfect. For would not then those sacriv.14 Other: your. v.15 Other: that thorow death which chanced for the redemption.

v.22 Other: are by. v.22 Other: purged. v.22 Other: shedding. v.23 Other: those.

v.26 Other: hath he appeared once,. v.28 Other: salvation.

fices have ceased to have been offered? because that the offer-ers once purged, should have had no more consciences of sins. 3 Nevertheless in those sacrifices is there mention made of sins 3 every year. For it is impossible that the blood of oxen, and of 4 goats should take away sins. Wherefore when he cometh into 5 the world, he saith: Sacrifice and offering thou wouldest not 6 have: but a body hast thou ordained me, holocausts and sac- 6 rifice for sin thou hast not allowed.* Then I said: Lo I come; In 7 the beginning of the book it is written of me,* that I should do 8 thy will, o God. Above when he sayeth* sacrifice, and offering, 8 and holocausts,* and sacrifice for sin,* thou wouldest not have, neither hast allowed (which* are offered by the law)* then he 9 said: Lo I am ready* do thy will o God: he taketh away the first to stablish the latter. By the which will we are sanctified, by 10 the offering of the body of Jesu Christ once for all. And every 11 priest is ready daily ministering, and often times offereth one manner of offering, which can never take away sins: but this 12 man after he had offered one sacrifice for sins, sat him down for ever on the right hand of God, and from henceforth tarrieth 13 till his foes be made his footstool. For with one offering 14 hath he made perfect for ever them that are sanctified. And 15 the holy ghost also beareth us record of this, even when he told before: This is the testament that I will make unto them after 16 those days saith the Lord. And I will put my laws in their hearts, and in their minds I will write them, and their sins 17 and iniquities will I remember no more. And where remis- 18 sion of these things is, there is no more offering for sin. See- 19 ing brethren that by the means of the blood of Jesu, we may be bold to enter into that holy place, by the new and living 20 way, which he hath prepared for us, through the veil, that is to say by his flesh. And seeing also that we have an high priest 21 which is ruler over the house of God, let us draw nye with a 22 true heart in a full faith sprinkled in our hearts, from an evil conscience, and washed in our bodies with pure water, and let 23 us keep the profession of our hope, without wavering (for he is faithful that promised) and let us consider one another to 24 provoke unto love, and to good works: and let us not forsake 25

10. v.6 Other: In sacrifices and sinofferings thou hast no lust. v.7 Other: In the chiefest of the book it is written of me,. v.8 Other: had said. v.8 Other: burnt-sacrifices. v.8 Other: sinofferings. v.8 Other: yet. v.9 Other: And. v.9 Other: come to.

the fellowship that we have among ourselves, as the manner of some is: but let us exhort one another, and that so much 26 the more, because ye see that the day draweth nye. For if we sin willingly after that we have received the knowledge of the 27 truth, there remaineth no more sacrifice for sins: but a fearful looking for judgment, and violent fire, which shall devour 28 the adversaries. He that despiseth Moses' law, dieth without 29 mercy under two or three witnesses. Of how much sorer punishment suppose ye shall he be counted worthy, which treadeth under foot the son of God: and counteth the blood of the testament as an unholy thing, wherewith he was sanctified, and 30 doth dishonour to the spirit of grace. For we know him that hath said, vengeance belongeth unto me, I will recompense saith the Lord. And again: the Lord shall judge his people.
 31 It is a fearful thing to fall into the hands of the living God.
 32 Call to remembrance the days that are passed in the which, after ye had received light, ye abode* a great fight in adversities, 33 partly while all men wondered and gazed at you for the shame and tribulation that was done unto you, and partly while ye 34 became companions of them which so passed their time. For ye suffered also with my bonds, and took a* worth the spoiling of your goods, and that with gladness, remembering* in yourselves how that ye had in heaven a better, and an enduring 35 substance. Cast not away therefore your confidence, which 36 hath great reward to recompense. For ye have need of patience, that after ye have done the will of God, ye might receive 37 the promise. For yet a very little while, and he that shall come 38 will come, and will not tarry: But the just shall live by faith.
 And if he withdraw himself, my soul shall have no pleasure in 39 him. We are not which withdraw ourselves unto damnation, but pertain to faith, for to win our souls.*

XI Faith is a sure confidence of things which are hoped for, and 2 a certainty of things which are not seen. By it the elders were 3 well reported of. Thorow faith we understand that the world was ordained, by the word of God: That by the means of things 4 which appear, things which are invisible might be known.* By faith Abel offered unto God a more plenteous sacrifice than

v.32 Other: endured. v.34 Other: in. v.34 Other: knowing. v.39 Other: to the winning of the soul. 11. v.3 Other: and that things which are seen, were made of things which are not seen.

Cain: by which, he obtained witness that he was righteous, God testifying of his gifts: by which also he being dead, yet speaketh. By faith was Enoch translated that he should not see death: neither was he found: for God had taken him away. Before he was taken away, he obtained record,* that he had pleased God: but without faith it is impossible to please him. For he that cometh to God, must believe that God is, and that he is a rewarder of them that seek him. By faith Noah honoured God, after that he was warned of things which were not seen, and prepared the ark to the saving of his household, thorow the which ark he condemned the world, and became heir of the righteousness which cometh by faith. By faith Abraham, when he was called obeyed to go out into a place, which he should afterward receive to inheritance, and he went out, not knowing whither he should go. By faith he removed into the land that was promised him, as into a strange country, and dwelt in tabernacles: and so did Isaac, and Jacob, heirs with him of the same promise. For he looked for a city having a foundation, whose builder and maker is God. Thorow faith Sara also received strength to be with child, and was delivered of a child when she was past age, because she judged him faithful which had promised. And therefore sprang there of* one (and of one which was as good as dead) so many in multitude, as the stars of the sky, and as the sand of the sea shore which is innumerable. And they all died in faith, and received not the promises: but saw them afar off, and believed them, and saluted them: and confessed that they were strangers and pilgrims on the earth. They that say such things, declare that they seek a country. Also if they had been mindful of that country, from whence they came,* they had leisure to have returned again. But now they desire a better, that is to say a celestial.* Wherefore God is not ashamed of them, even to be called their God: for he hath prepared for them a city. In* faith Abraham offered up Isaac, when he was tempted, and he offered him being his only* son, in whom he* had received the promises: Of whom it was said, in Isaac shall thy seed be called: for he considered, that God was able to raise up again v.5 Other: was reported of. v.12 Other: thereof. v.15 Other: out. v.16 Other: heavenly. v.17 Other: By. v.17 Other: begotten. v.17 Other: which.

20 from death. Wherefore received he him, as an ensample* of the 21 resurrection. In faith Isaac blessed Jacob and Esau, as con-22 cerning things to come. By faith Jacob when he was a dying, 23 blessed both the sons of Joseph, and worshipped on the top 24 of his sceptre.* By faith Joseph when he died, remembered 25 the departing of the children of Israel, and gave command-26 ment of his bones. By faith Moses when he was born, was 27 hid three months of his father and mother, because they saw 28 he was a proper child: neither feared they the king's command-29 ment. By faith Moses when he was of a great age,* refused to 30 be called the son of Pharaoh's daughter, and chose rather to 31 suffer adversity with the people of God, then to enjoy the plea-32 sures of sin for a season, and esteemed the rebuke of Christ 33 greater riches, then the treasure of Egypt. For he had a re-34 spect unto the reward. By faith he forsook Egypt, and feared 35 not the fierceness of the king. For he endured, even as he had 36 seen him which is invisible. Thorow faith he ordained the es-37 ter lamb, and the effusion of blood, lest he that destroyed the first born should touch them. By faith they passed thorow the reed sea as by dry land, which when the egyptians had assayed to do, they were drowned. By faith the walls of Jericho fell down after they were compassed about, seven days. By faith the harlot Rahab perished not with them that believed not,* after* she had received the spies to lodging peaceably.
 And what shall I more say, the time would be too short for me to tell of Gideon, of Barach, and of Samson, and of Jeph-thae. Also of David and Samuel, and of the prophets, which thorow faith subdued kingdoms, wrought righteousness, obtained the promises, stopped the mouths of lions, quenched the violence of fire, escaped the edge of the sword, of weak were made strong, waxed valiant in fight, turned to flight the armies of the aliens. * The women received their dead raised to life again. Other* were racked, and would not be delivered, that they might receive a better resurrection. Other* tasted of mockings, and scourgings, moreover of bonds and prison-ment: were stoned, were hewn asunder, were tempted, were slain with swords, walked up and down in sheep skins, in goat v.19 Other: Wherefore received he him, for an ensample. v.21 Other: bowed himself toward the top of his scepter. v.24 Other: when he was great. v.31 Other: unbelievers. v.31 Other: when. v.35 Other: And. v.35 Other: others. v.36 Other:

 others.

skins, in need, tribulation, and vexation, which the world was 38 not worthy of: They wandered in wilderness, in mountains, in dens and caves of the earth. And these all thorow faith 39 obtained good report, and received not the promise; God pro- 40 viding a better thing for us, that they without us should not be made perfect.

Wherefore let us also (seeing that we are compassed with XII so great a multitude of witnesses) lay away all that presseth down, and the sin that hangeth on us, and let us run with patience, unto the battle that is set before us, looking unto Jesus, 2 the author and finisher of our faith, which for the joy that was set before him, abode the cross, and despised the shame, and is set down on the right hand of the throne of God. Consider 3 therefore how that he endured such speaking against him of sinners, lest ye should be wearied and faint in your minds. For 4 ye have not yet resisted unto blood shedding, striving against sin. And ye have forgotten the consolation which speaketh 5 unto you, as unto children: My son despise not the chastening of the Lord, neither faint when thou art rebuked of him: For 6 whom the Lord loveth, him he chasteneth: yea, and he scourgeth every son that he receiveth. If ye shall endure chasten- 7 ing, God offereth himself unto you, as unto sons. What son is that whom the father chasteneth not? If ye be not under cor- 8 rection (where of all are partakers) then are ye bastards and not sons. Moreover seeing we had fathers of our flesh which 9 corrected us, and we gave them reverence: shall not we* much rather be in subjection unto the father of spiritual gifts that we might live? And they verily for a few days, nurtured us 10 after their own pleasure: but he learneth us unto that which is profitable, that we might receive of his holiness. No man- 11 ner learning for the present time* seemeth to be joyous, but grievous: nevertheless afterward it bringeth the quiet fruit of righteousness unto them which are therein exercised. Stretch 12 forth therefore again the hands which were let down, and the weak knees, and see that ye have straight steps unto your 13 feet, lest any halting turn out of the way: yea, let it rather be healed. Embrace peace with all men, and wholiness:* without 14 the which, no man shall see the Lord. And see* that no man be 15

12. v.9 Other: should we not. v.11 Other: No manner chastising for the present tyme. v.14 Other: holiness. v.15 Other: look to.

destitute of the grace of God, lest any* root of bitterness spring 16 up and trouble: and thereby many be defiled. * That there be no fornicator, or unclean person, as Esau, which for one breakfast sold his right that belonged unto him, in that he was the 17 eldest brother.* Ye know how that afterward when that he would have inherited the blessing, he was put by. His repentance found no grace, no though he desired that blessing with 18 tears.* For ye are not come unto the mount that is* touched, and unto burning fire, nor yet to mist and darkness and tem-19 pest of weather, neither unto the sound of a trumpet and the voice of words: which voice they that heard it, wished away, 20 that the communication should not be spoken to them. For they were not able to abide that which was spoken. If a beast had touched the mountain, it must have been stoned, or thrust 21 thorow with a dart: even so terrible was the sight which ap-22 peared. Moses said I fear and quake. But ye are come unto the mount Sion, and to the city of the living God, the celestial 23 Jerusalem: and to an innumerable sight of angels, and unto the congregation of the first born sons, which are written in heaven, and to God the judge of all, and to the spirits of Just 24 and perfect men, and to Jesus the mediator of the new testament, and to the sprinkling of blood that speaketh better then 25 the blood of Abel. See that ye despise not him that speaketh.
 For if they escaped not which refused him that spake on earth:
 Much more shall we not escape, if we turn away from him that 26 speaketh from heaven: whose voice then shook the earth, and now declareth saying: yet once more will I shake, not the earth 27 only, but also heaven. No doubt the same that he sayeth, yet once more, signifieth the removing a way of those things which are shaken, as of things which have ended their course: that 28 the things which are not shaken may remain. Wherefore if we receive a kingdom which is not moved, we have grace, whereby we may serve God and please him with reverence and godly 29 fear. For our God is a consuming fire.

XIII, 2 Let brotherly love continue. Be not forgetful to be kind to* strangers. For thereby have divers received angels into 3 their houses unawares. Remember them that are in bonds, v.15 Other: and that no. v.16 Other: and. v.16 Other: as Esau, which for one breakfast sold his birthright. v.17 Other: and he found no means to come thereby again: no though he desired it with tears. v.18 Other: can be. 13. v.2 Other: lodge.

even as though ye were bound with them. Be mindful of them which are in adversity, as ye which are yet in your bodies. Let wedlock be had in price in all points, and let the chamber be undefiled: for whore keepers and advoutrers God will judge. 4 Let your conversation be without covetousness, and be content with that ye have already. For he verily said: I will not fail thee, neither forsake thee: that we may boldly say: The Lord is my helper, and I will not fear what man doeth unto me. 5 Remember them which have the oversight of you, which have declared unto you the word of God: consider the conversation of their living, and counterfeit their faith.* Jesus Christ yes- 6 terday and today, and the same continueth for ever. Be not carried thither* with divers and strange learning. For it is a good thing that the heart be stablished with grace, and not with meats, which have not profited them that have had their pastime in them. We have an altar whereof they may not eat 10 which serve in the tabernacle. For the bodies of those beasts (whose blood is brought into the holy place by the high priest to purge sin) are burnt without the tents. Therefore Jesus, to 12 sanctify the people with his own blood, suffered with out the gate. Let us go forth therefore out of the tents, and suffer 13 rebuke with him. For here have we no continuing city: but we seek a city* to come. For by him offer we the sacrifice of 15 laud always to God: that is to say the fruit of those lips, which confess his name. To do good, and to distribute forget not, 16 for with such sacrifices God is pleased. Obey them that have 17 the oversight of you, and submit yourselves to them, for they watch for your souls, even as they should* give accounts* for them: that they may do it with joy, and not with grief. For that is an unprofitable thing for you. Pray for us. We have 18 confidence because we have a good conscience in all things, and desire to live honestly. I desire you therefore somewhat the more abundantly, that ye so do, that I may be restored to you quickly. The God of peace that brought again from death our 20 Lord Jesus Christ, the great shepherd of the sheep, thow the blood of the everlasting testament, make you perfect in all 21 works, to do his will, and bring to pass, that whatsoever ye do, v.7 Other: The end of whose conversation see that ye look upon, and follow their faith.

v.9 Other: about. v.14 Other: one. v.17 Other: that must. v.17 Other: accomptes.

may be accepted in his sight, by the means of Jesus Christ.*
To whom be praise for ever while the world endureth Amen.
22 I beseech you brethren, suffer the words of exhortation: For 23 we have written unto you in few words. Know the brother Timothy, whom we have sent from us, with whom (if he come 24 shortly) I will see you. Salute them that have the oversight 25 of you, and all the saints. They of Italy, salute you. Grace be with you all Amen.

(Here endeth the epistle of saint Paul unto the Hebrews,) Sent from Italy by Timothy.

v.21 Other: make you perfect in all good works, to do his will, working in you that which is pleasant in his sight thorow Iesus Christ.

The General Epistle Of James.

James the servant of God, and of the Lord Jesus Christ, I sendeth greeting to the twelve tribes which are scat- 2 tered here and there. My brethren, count it exceed- 2 ing joy when ye fall into divers temptations, remembering* how that the trying of your faith bringeth patience: and let 4 patience have her perfect work, that ye may be perfect and sound, that nothing be lacking unto you.* If any that is among* 5 you lack wisdom, let him ask of God (which giveth to all men without doubleness,* and casteth no man in the teeth:) and it shall be given him: but let him ask in faith, and waver 6 not. For he that doubteth is like the waves of the sea, tossed of the wind, and carried with violence. Neither let that man 7 think that he shall receive any thing of the God.* A waver- 8 ing minded man is unstable in all his ways. Let the brother 9 of low degree rejoyce in that he is exalted, and the rich in 10 that he is made low. For even as the flower of the grass shall he vanish away. The son riseth with heat, and the grass is 11 withered,* and his flower fallen* away, and the beauty of the fashion of it is perished:* even so shall the rich man perish 12 in* his abundance. Happy is the man that endureth in temptation, for when he is tried he shall receive the crown of life, which the Lord hath promised to them that love him. Let no 13 man say when he is tempted that he is tempted of God: for God tempteth not unto evil: he tempteth no man:* But every 14 man is tempted drawn away, and enticed of his own concupis-cence. Then when lust hath conceived, she bringeth forth sin, 15 and sin when it is finished bringeth forth death. Err not my 16 dear brethren. Every good gift, and every perfect gift, is from 17 above and cometh down from the father of light, with whom is no variableness, neither is he changed unto darkness. Of 18 his own will begat he us with the word of life, that we should be the first of his creatures.* Wherefore dear brethren, let ev- 19 ery man be swift to hear, slow to speak, and slow to wrath.

1. v.3 Other: forasmuch as ye know. v.4 Other: lacking nothing. v.5 Other: of.
v.5 Other: indifferently. v.7 Other: Lord. v.11 Other: withereth. v.11 Other: falleth. v.11 Other: perisheth. v.11 Other: with. v.13 Other: neither tempteth he any man. v.18 Other: that we should be the first fruits of his creatures.

20 For the wrath of man worketh not that which is righteous be-21 fore God. Wherefore lay apart all filthiness, all superfluity of maliciousness, and receive with meekness the word that is 22 grafted in you, which is able to save your souls: And see that ye be doers of the word and not hearers only, deceiving your 23 own selves.* For if any hear the word, and do it not, he is like 24 unto a man that beholdeth his bodily face in a glass. For as soon as he hath looked on himself, he goeth his way, and hath 25 immediately forgotten* what his fashion was: but whosoever* looketh in the perfect law of liberty, and continueth therein (if he be not a forgetful hearer, but a doer of the work) he* shall be 26 happy in his deed. If any man among you seem* devout, and refrain not his tongue: but deceive his own heart, this man's 27 devotion is in vain. Pure devotion and undefiled before God the father, is this: To visit the fatherless, and widows in their adversity, and to keep himself unspotted of the world.

II Brethren have not the faith of our Lord Jesus Christ the 2 Lord of glory in respect of persons. If there come into your company a man with a golden ring, and in goodly apparel and 3 there come in also a poor man in vile raiment, and ye have a respect to him that weareth the gay clothing and say unto him:
 Sit thou here in a good place: and say unto the poor, stand thou 4 there, or sit here under my footstool: are ye not even partial 5 in your selves,* and have judged after evil thoughts? Hearken my dear beloved brethren, hath not God chosen the poor of this world, which are rich in faith, and heirs of the kingdom, which 6 he promised to them that love him? But ye have despised the poor. Are not the rich they which oppress you: and they 7 which draw you before judges? Do not they speak evil of that 8 good name that is called on over you? * If ye fulfil the royal law according to the scripture which saith: Thou shalt love 9 thine neighbour as thyself, ye do well: but if ye regard one person more than another, ye commit sin, and are rebuked of 10 the law as transgressors. Whosoever shall keep the whole law, 11 and yet fail in one point, he is guilty in all. For he that said:
 Thou shalt not commit fornication,* said also: thou shalt not v.22 Other: with sophistry. v.24 Other: forgetteth immediately. v.25 Other: whoso. v.25 Other: the same. v.26 Other: seme. 2. v.4 Other: are ye not parciall in your selves,. v.7 Other: of that good name after which ye be named. v.11 Other: adultery.

kill. Though thou shalt do no fornication,* yet if thou kill, thou art a transgressor of the law. So speak ye, and so do as they that shall be judged by the law of liberty. For there shall be judgement merciless to him that sheweth no mercy, and mercy rejoiceth against judgement: What availeth it my brethren, though a man say he hath faith, when he hath no deeds? Can faith save him? If a brother or a sister be naked or destitute of daily food, and one of you say unto them: Depart in peace, God send you warmth and food: notwithstanding ye give them not those things which are needful to the body: what helpeth it them? Even so faith, if it have no deeds is dead in itself. But one shall* say: Thou hast faith, and I have deeds: Shew me thy faith by thy deeds: and I will shew thee my faith by my deeds. Believest thou that there is one God? Thou doest well. The devils also believe and tremble. Wilt thou understand o thou vain man, that faith without deeds is dead? Was not Abraham our father justified of his deeds* when he offered Isaac his son upon the altar? Thou seest how that faith wrought with in his deeds, and through the deeds was the faith made perfect. And the scripture was fulfilled which saith: Abraham believed God, and it was reputed unto him for righteousness: and he was called the friend of God. Ye see then how that of deeds a man is justified, and not of faith only. Likewise also was not Raab the harlot justified when she* received the messengers, and sent them out another way? For as the body, without the spirit is dead, even so faith without deeds is dead.

III
 My brethren, be not every man a master; Remembering how that we shall receive the more damnation. For in many things we sin all. If a man sin not in word, he* is a perfect man and able to tame all the body. Behold we put bits into the horses' mouths that they should obey us, and we turn about all the body. Behold also the ships, which though they be so great, and are driven of fierce winds, yet are they turned about with a very small helm, whithersoever the violence of the governor will: even so the tongue is little member and boasteth great things. Behold how great a thing a little fire kindleth, and the tongue is fire, and a world of wickedness. So is the tongue set among our members, that it defileth the whole body, and set-

v.11 Other: do none adultery. v.18 Other: Yea and a man might. v.21 Other: throw works. v.25 Other: justified throw works, when she. 3. v.2 Other: the same.

teth a fire all that we have of nature, and is itself set afire, even 7 of hell. All the natures of beasts, and of birds, and of serpents, and things of the sea, are meeked and tamed of the nature of 8 man. But the tongue can no man tame. It is an unruly evil 9 full of deadly poison. Therewith bless we God the father, and therewith curse we men which are made after the (image and) 10 similitude of God. Out of one mouth* proceedeth blessing and 11 cursing. My brethren these things ought not so to be. Doth a fountain send forth at one place sweet water, and bitter also?
 12 Can the fig tree, my brethren, bear olive berries: other* a vine bear figs? So can no fountain give both salt water and fresh 13 also. Who is* wise and endued with learning among you? Let him shew the works of his good conversation in meekness that 14 is coupled with wisdom. But if ye have bitter envying and strife in your hearts, rejoyce not: neither be liars against the 15 truth. This wisdom descendeth not from above: but is earthy, 16 and natural, and devilish: For where envying and strife is, 17 there is unstableness, and all manner of evil works: but the wisdom that is from above, is first pure, then peaceable, gentle, and easy to be entreated, full of mercy and good fruits, without 18 judging, and without simulation: yea, and the fruit of righteousness is sown in peace, of them that keep* peace.

IV From whence cometh war, and fighting among you? come they not here hence? even of your voluptuousness that reign 2 in your members. Ye lust, and have not. Ye envy and have indignation, and cannot come by it.* Ye fight and war, and have 3 not, because ye ask not. Ye ask and have* not, because ye ask 4 amiss, for* to consume it upon your voluptuousness. Ye advourtrers, and women that break matrimony: know ye not how that the friendship of the world is enmity to Godward? Whoso-5 ever will be friend of the world, is made the enemy of God. Do ye suppose* that the scripture saith in vain: The spirit that 6 dwelleth in you, lusteth even contrary to envy: but giveth more grace. (wherefore he sayeth: God resisteth the proud, but 7 giveth grace unto the lowly.) Submit yourselves to God, and 8 resist the devil, and he will flee* from you. Draw nye to God, and he will draw nye to you. Cleanse your hands ye sinners, v.10 Other: mought. v.12 Other: or. v.13 Other: If any man be. v.18 Other: maintain. 4. v.2 Other: obtain. v.3 Other: receive. v.3 Other: even. v.5 Other: Either do ye think. v.7 Other: flye.

and purge your hearts ye wavering minded. Suffer afflictions: 9 sorrow ye and weep. Let your laughter be turned to mourning, and your joy to heaviness. Cast down yourselves before 10 the Lord, and he shall lift you up. Backbite not one another, 11 brethren. He that backbiteth his brother, and he that judgeth his brother, backbiteth the law, and judgeth the law: but and if thou judge the law, thou art not an observer of the law: but a judge. There is one law giver, (and judge) which is able to 12 save and to destroy. What art thou that judgest another man?
 Go to now ye that say: today and tomorrow let us go into such a 13 city and continue there a year and buy, and sell, and win: and 14 yet cannot tell what shall happen tomorrow. For what thing is your life? it is even a vapor that appeareth for a little time, and then vanisheth away: For that ye ought to say: if the Lord 15 will and if we live, let us do this or that. But now ye rejoice 16 in your boastings. All such rejoicing is evil. Therefore to him 17 that knoweth how to do good, and doth it not,* it is sin.

Go to now ye rich men. Weep, and howl on your wretched- V ness that shall come upon you. Your riches is corrupt, your 2 garments are motheaten. Your gold and your silver are cankered, and the rust of them shall be a witness unto you, and shall eat your flesh as it were fire. Ye have heaped treasure together (even wrath to your selves) in your last days: Behold 4 the hire of the laborers which have reaped down your fields (which hire is of you kept back by fraud) crieth: and the cries of them which have reaped, are entered into the ears of the Lord Sabaoth. Ye have lived in pleasure on the earth and 5 in wantonness. Ye have nourished your hearts, as in a day of slaughter. Ye have condemned and have killed the just, and 6 he hath not resisted you. Be patient therefore brethren, unto 7 the coming of the Lord. Behold the husband man waiteth for the precious fruit of the earth, and hath long patience there upon, until he receive the early and the latter rain. Be ye also 8 patient therefore, and settle your hearts, for the coming of the Lord draweth nye. Grudge not one against another brethren, 9 lest ye be dampned. Behold the judge standeth before the door.
 Take (my brethren) the prophets for an ensample of suffering 10 adversity, and of long patience, which spake in the name of the Lord. Behold we count them happy which endure. Ye have 11 v.17 Other: to him.

heard of the patience of Job, and have known what end the 12 Lord made. For the Lord is very pitiful, and merciful. But above all things my brethren, swear not, neither by heaven, neither by earth, neither by any other oath. Let your saying 13 be yea yea,* and nay nay: lest ye fall into hypocrisy. Is there any among of you that is evil vexed? let him pray. Is there 14 any among you that is merry? let him sing psalms.* Is there any man* diseased among you? Let him call for the seniors* of the congregation, and let them pray over him, and anoint him 15 with oil in the name of the Lord: and the prayer of faith shall save the sick, and the Lord shall raise him up: and if he have 16 committed sins, they shall be forgiven him. Knowledge your faults one to another: and pray one for another, that ye may be healed. The prayer of a righteous man availeth much, if it 17 be fervent. Helias was a man in danger to tribulation as we are,* and he prayed in his prayer, that it might not rain: and it rained not on the earth by the space of three years and six 18 months. And again he prayed, and the heaven gave rain, and 19 the earth brought forth her fruit. Brethren if any of you err 20 from the truth, and another convert him, let the same know, that he which converted the sinner from going astray out of his way, shall save a soul from death, and shall hide the multitude of sins.

The end of the pistel of Saynt James.

5. v.12 Other: yea be yea. v.13 Other: If any of you be evil vexed, let him pray. If any of you be merry, let him sing Psalms. v.14 Other: If any be. v.14 Other: elders. v.17 Other: Helias was a man mortall even as we are.

The First Epistle General Of Peter.

Peter an apostle of Jesu Christ, to them that dwell here I and there as strangers thorow out, Pontus, Galacia, Capadocia, Asia, and Bethinia, elect by the foreknowl- 2 edge of God the father, thorow the sanctifying of the spirit, unto obedience and sprinkling of the blood of Jesus Christ.
Grace be with you, and peace be multiplied. Blessed be God 3 the father of our Lord Jesus Christ, which thorow his abundant mercy begat us again unto a lively hope, by the resurrection of Jesus Christ from death, to enjoy an inheritance 4 immortal, and undefiled, and that putrifieth* not, reserved in heaven for you which are kept by the power of God thorow 5 faith, unto health, which health* is prepared all ready to be shewed in the last time, in the which time ye shall rejoyce, 6 though now for a season (if need require) ye are in heaviness, thorow many fold temptations, that your faith once tried be- 7 ing much more precious than gold that perisheth (though it be tried with fire) might be found unto laud, glory, and honour, when Jesus Christ shall appear:* whom ye have not seen and 8 yet love him, in whom even now, though ye see him not, yet ye believe, and rejoyce with joy ineffable,* and glorious: re- 9 ceiving the end of your faith, the health* of your souls. Of 10 which health,* have the prophets enquired, and sought,* which prophesied of the grace that should come unto you, searching 11 when, or at what time the spirit of Christ which was in them should signify, which spirit testified before, the passions that should come unto Christ, and the glory that should follow af- 12 ter: unto which prophets it was declared, that not unto themselves, but unto us, they should minister the things which are now shewed unto you, of them which by the holy ghost sent down from heaven, have preached unto you the things which the angels desire to behold. Wherefore gird up the loins of 13 your minds, be sober, and trust perfectly on the grace that is brought unto you, in that Jesus Christ is opened,* as obedi- 14 ent children, not fashioning yourselves unto your old lusts of

1. v.4 Other: perisheth. v.5 Other: salvation, which salvation. v.7 Other: at the appearing of Jesus Christ:. v.8 Other: unspeakable. v.9 Other: salvation. v.10 Other: salvation. v.10 Other: searched. v.13 Other: by the declaring of Jesus Christ.

15 ignorance: But as he which called you is holy, even so be ye 16 holy in all manner of conversation, because it is written: Be 17 ye holy, for I am holy. And if so be that ye call on the father which without respect of person judgeth according to every man's works, see that ye pass the time of your pilgrimage 18 in fear. Forasmuch as ye know how that ye were not redeemed with corruptible gold and silver from your vain conversation, 19 which ye received by the traditions of the fathers: but with the precious blood of Christ, as of a lamb undefiled, and with-20 out spot, which was ordained before the world was made: but 21 was declared in the last times for your sakes, which by his means have believed on God that raised him from death, and glorified him, that ye might have faith and hope toward God.*
 22 And forasmuch as ye have purified your souls thorow the spirit, in obeying the truth for to love brotherly without feigning, see 23 that ye love one another with a pure heart fervently: for ye are born a new, not of mortal seed, but of immortal seed, by 24 the word of God which liveth, and lasteth for ever, because that* all flesh is as grass, and all the glory of man is as the flower of grass, the grass is withered, and the flower is faded* 25 away, but the word of the Lord endureth ever. And this is the word which by the gospel was preached among you.

II Wherefore lay a side all maliciousness, and all guile, and 2 dissimulation, and envy, and all backbiting: and as new born babes, desire that reasonable milk which is without corruption, 3 that ye may be grown therein. (thereby unto salvation) If so be 4 that ye have tasted how pleasant the Lord is, to whom ye come as unto a living stone disallowed of men, but elect* of God and 5 precious: and ye as living stones, are made a spiritual house, and an holy priesthood, for to offer up spiritual sacrifice, ac-6 ceptable to God by Jesus Christ. Wherefore it is contained in the scripture: behold, I put in Sion an head corner stone, elect and precious: and he that believeth on him shall not be 7 ashamed. Unto you therefore which believe is he precious: but unto them which believe not the same stone which the 8 builders refused, is made the head stone in the corner,* and a stone to stumble at, and a rock to offend them which stumv.21 Other: that your faith and hope might be in God. v.24 Other: For. v.24 Other: falleth. 2. v.4 Other: chosen. v.7 Other: but unto them which believe not, the stone which the builders refused, the same is made the head stone in the corner.

ble at the word, and believe not that where on they were set.
 But ye are a chosen generation, a royal priesthood, an holy nation, 9 and a peculiar people, that ye should shew the virtues of him that called you out of darkness into his marvelous light, which in time past were not a people, yet are now the people 10 of God, which were not under mercy: but now have obtained mercy. Dearly beloved I beseech you as strangers, and pil- 11 grims, abstain from fleshly lusts which fight against the soul, and see that ye have honest conversation among the gentiles, 12 that they which backbite you as evil doers, may see your good works and praise God in the day of visitation. Submit your- 13 selves unto all manner ordinance of man for the Lord's sake, whether it be unto the King as unto the chief head: other unto 14 rulers, as unto them that are sent of him, for the punishment of evil doers: but for the laud of them that well do. For so is 15 the will of God, that with well doing ye should stop the mouths of ignorant men:* as free, and not as though ye took* liberty 16 for a cloak of maliciousness: but even as the servants of God.
 See that ye honour all men. Love brotherly fellowship, fear 17 God,* honour the King. Servants obey your masters with all fear, not only if they be good and courteous: but also though 18 they be froward. For it cometh of grace,* if a man for con- 19 science toward God endure grief, suffering wrongfully. For what praise is it, if when ye be buffeted for your faults, ye take 20 it patiently? But and if when ye do well, ye suffer wrong and take it patiently, then is there thanke with God. * Hereunto 21 verily were ye called, for Christ also suffered for our sakes:* leaving us an ensample that ye should follow his steps, which 22 did no sin, neither was there guile found in his mouth: which 23 when he was reviled, reviled not again: when he suffered, he threatened not: but committed the cause to him that judgeth righteously, which his own self bare our sins in his body on 24 the tree, that we should be delivered from sin and should live in righteousness. By whose stripes ye were healed. For ye 25 were as sheep which go* astray: but are now returned unto the shepherd, and bishop of your souls.

Likewise let the women* be in subjection to their husbands, III

v.15 Other: that ye put to silence the ignorance of the foolish men.. v.16 Other: having the. v.17 Other: and. v.19 Other: for it is thankworthy. v.21 Other: For. v.21 Other: us. v.25 Other: going. 3. v.1 Other: wives.

that even they which believe not the word, may without the 2 word be won by the conversation of the wives: while they be-3 hold your pure conversation coupled with fear. Whose apparel shall not be outward with broided hair, and hanging on of gold, 4 other in putting on of gorgeous apparel: but let the hid man of the heart be uncorrupt, with a meek and a quiet spirit, which 5 spirit is before God a thing much set by. For after this manner in the old time did the wholy women which trusted in God 6 tire* themselves, and were obedient to their husbands, even as Sara obeyed Abraham and called him Lord: whose daughters ye are as long as ye do well, and be not* afraid of ev-7 ery shadow. Likewise ye men dwell with them according to knowledge, giving honour unto the wife, as unto the weaker vessel, and as unto them that are heirs also of the grace of life, 8 that your prayers be not let. In conclusion, be ye all of one mind, one suffer with another, love as brethren, be pitiful, be 9 courteous, (meek) not rendering evil for evil, neither rebuke for rebuke: but contrariwise, bless: remembering that ye are 10 thereunto called, even that ye should be heirs of blessing. For whoso listeth to love life, and* to see good days, let him refrain his tongue from evil, and his lips, that they speak not guile: 11 Let him eschew evil and do good: let him seek peace, and en-12 sue it. For the eyes of the Lord are over the righteous, and his ears are open unto their prayers: but the face of the Lord be-13 holdeth them that do evil. Moreover who is it that will harm 14 you if ye follow that which is good? Notwithstanding happy are ye if ye suffer for righteousness' sake. Nevertheless* fear not though they seem terrible unto you, neither be troubled: 15 but sanctify the Lord God in your hearts. Be ready always to give an answer to every man that asketh you a reason of the 16 hope that ye have,* and that with meekness and fear: having a good conscience, that when they backbite you as evil doers, they may be ashamed, forasmuch as they have falsely accused 17 your good conversation in Christ. It is better (if the will of God be so) that ye suffer for well doing, than for evil doing.
 18 Forasmuch as Christ hath once suffered for sins, the just for the unjust, for to bring us to God, and was killed, as pertain-19 ing to the flesh: but was quickened in the spirit. In which

v.5 Other: tyer. v.6 Other: not being. v.10 Other: If any man long after life, and loveth. v.14 Other: Yea and. v.15 Other: is in you.

spirit, he also went and preached unto the spirits that were in prison, which were in time past disobedient, when the long suffering of God abode exceeding patiently in the days of Noah, 20 while the ark was a preparing, wherein few (that is to say eight souls) were saved by water, which signifieth baptism that now 21 saveth us, not the putting away of the filth of the flesh, but in that a good conscience consenteth to God, by the resurrection of Jesus Christ, which is on the * right hand of God, and is gone 22 into heaven, angels, power, and might, subdued unto him.

Forasmuch as Christ hath suffered for us in the flesh, arm IV yourselves likewise with the same mind: for he which suffereth in the flesh ceaseth from sin, that he henceforward should 2 live as much time as remaineth in the flesh, not after the lusts of men: but after the will of God. For it is sufficient for us that 3 we have spent the time that is past of the life, after the will of the gentiles, walking in wantonness lusts, drunkenness, in (ex- cess of) eating, (excess of) drinking, and in abominable idolatry.
 And it seemeth to them a strange thing that ye run not also 4 with them unto the same excess of riot, and therefore speak they evil of you, which shall give account* to him that is ready 5 to judge quick and dead. For unto this purpose verily was the 6 gospel preached unto the dead, that they should be judged after the manner of men in the flesh, but should live godly in the spirit.* The end of all things is at hand. Be ye therefore dis- 7, 8 creet, and sober, that ye may be apt to prayers. But above all things have fervent love among you. For love covereth the multitude of sins. Be ye harbourous,* and that without grudging. 9 As every man hath received the gift, minister the same one to 10 another as good ministers of the manyfold grace of God. If any 11 man speak, let him talk as though he speak* the words of God.
 If any man minister, let him do it as of the ability which God ministereth unto him. That God in all things may be glorified thorow Jesus Christ, to whom be praise and dominion for ever and while the world standeth Amen. Dearly beloved, be not 12 troubled in this heat, which now is come among you to try you, as though some strange thing had happened unto you: but 13 rejoice inasmuch as ye are partakers of Christ's passions, that when his glory appeareth, ye may be merry and glad. Happy 14

v.22 Other: is our. 4. v.5 Other: acomptes. v.6 Other: that they should be condemned of men in the flesh, but should live before God in the spirit. v.9 Other: one to another. v.11 Other: spake.

are ye when ye suffer rebuke for the name of Christ.* For the spirit of glory and the spirit of God resteth upon you. On their 15 part he is evil spoken of: but on your part he is glorified. See that none of you suffer as a murderer, or as a thief, or an evil 16 doer, or as a busybody in other men's matters. If any man suffer as a Christian man, let him not be ashamed: but let him 17 glorify God on this* behalf. For the time is come that judgement must begin at the house of God. If it first begin at us, what shall the end be of them which believe not the gospel of 18 God? And if the righteous scarcely be saved: where shall the 19 ungodly and the sinner appear? Wherefore let them that suffer according to the will of God, commit their souls to him with well doing, as unto a faithful creator.

V The seniors* which are among you I exhort, which am also an senior,* and a witness of the afflictions of Christ, and also 2 a partaker of the glory that shall be opened: see that ye feed Christ's flock, which is among you, taking the oversight of them, not as though ye were compelled thereto: but willingly: (after a godly sort) Not for the desire of filthy lucre: but of a good 3 mind. Not as though ye were lords over the parishes: but that ye be an ensample to the flock. (and that with good will) 4 And when the chief shepherd shall appear, ye shall receive an 5 incorruptible crown of glory. Likewise ye younger submit your selves unto the elder. Submit yourselves every man, one to another. Knit yourselves together in lowliness of mind. For God 6 resisteth the proud and giveth grace to the humble. Submit your selves therefore under the mighty hand of God, that he 7 may exalt you, when the time is come. Cast all your care 8 to him: for he careth for you. Be sober and watch, for your adversary the devil as a roaring lion walketh about, seeking 9 whom he may devour: whom resist steadfast in the faith, remembering that ye do but fulfil the same afflictions which are 10 appointed to your brethren that are in the world. The God of all grace, which called you unto his eternal glory by Christ Jesus, shall his own self after* a little affliction make you per-11 fect: shall settle, strength, and establish you. To him be glory and dominion for ever, and while the world endureth Amen.
 12 By Silvanus a faithful brother unto you (as I suppose) have I v.14 Other: If ye be railed upon for the name of Christ happy are ye. v.16 Other: his.

5. v.1 Other: elders. v.1 Other: elder. v.10 Other: ye have suffered.

written briefly,* exhorting and testifying how that this is the true grace of God, wherein ye stand. The congregation that is gathered together in * Babylon, saluteth you, and Marcus my son. Greet ye one another with the kiss of love. Peace be with you all which are in Christ Jesus, Amen.

Here endeth the first epistle of saint Peter.

v.12 Other: brevely. v.13 Other: companions of your election that are of.

The Second Epistle General Of Peter.

1 Simon Peter a servant and an apostle of Jesus Christ, to them which have obtained like precious faith with us in the righteousness that cometh of our God, and of 2 the saviour Jesus Christ.* Grace with you, and peace be multiplied in the knowledge of God, and of Jesus our Lord.
3 According as his godly power hath given unto us all things that pertain unto life and to serve God withal,* thorow the knowl-4 edge of him that hath called us by virtue and glory, by the means whereof, are given unto us excellent and most great promises, that by the help of them ye should be partakers of the godly nature, in that ye fly the corruption of worldly lust.
5 And hereunto give all diligence: in your faith minister virtue, 6 and in virtue knowledge, and in knowledge temperancy, and 7 in temperancy* patience, in patience godliness, in godliness 8 brotherly kindness, in brotherly kindness love. For if these things be among you, and are plenteous, they will make you that ye neither shall be idle nor unfruitful unto* the knowl-9 edge of the our Lord Jesus Christ. * He that lacketh these things is blind and gropeth for the way with his hand, and 10 hath forgotten that he was purged from his old sins. Wherefore brethren give the more diligence for to make your calling and election sure. (by good works) For if ye do such things, ye 11 shall never err. Yea and by this means an entering in shall be ministered unto you abundantly into the everlasting kingdom 12 of our Lord and saviour Jesus Christ. Wherefore I will not be negligent to put you always in remembrance of such things, though that ye know them yourselves and be also stablished in 13 the present truth. Notwithstanding I think it mete (as long as I am in this tabernacle) to stir you up by putting you in remem-14 brance, forasmuch as I am sure how that the time is at hand that I must put off this my tabernacle, even as our Lord Jesus 15 Christ hath shewed me. I will enforce therefore, that on every

1. v.1 Other: of our God and saviour Iesus Christ. v.3 Other: unto life and godliness.
v.6 Other: in knowledge temperance, and in temperance. v.8 Other: in. v.9 Other:
But.

side ye might have wherewith to stir up the remembrance of these things after my departing. For we followed not deceiver-16 able fables when we opened unto you the power, and coming of our Lord Jesus Christ: but with our eyes we saw his majesty. Even then verily when he received of God the father honour 17 and glory, and when there came such a voice to him from that excellent glory. This is my dear beloved son, in whom I have 18 delight, this voice we heard when it came from heaven, being with him in the holy mount. We have also a more sure word* 19 of prophecy, whereunto if ye take heed, as unto a light that shineth in a dark place, ye do well, until the day dawn and the 20 day star arise in your hearts. So that ye first know this, that no prophecy in the scripture hath any private interpretation. For the scripture came never by the will of man: but wholly 21 men of God spake as they were moved by the wholly ghost.

There were false prophets among the people even as there II shall be false teachers among you: which privily shall bring in damnable sects, even denying the Lord that hath bought them, and bring on their own heads* swift damnation, and 2 many shall follow their damnable ways, by which the way of truth shall be evil spoken of, and thorow covetousness shall
 3 they with feigned words make merchandise of you, whose judgment is not far off, and their damnation sleepeth not. For if 4 God spared not the angels that sinned but cast them down into hell, and put* them in chains of darkness (to be punished) there to be kept unto judgement: neither spared the old world: but 5 saved Noah the eighth preacher of righteousness, and brought in the flood into* the world of the ungodly, and turned the 6 cities of Zodom and Gomor into ashes: overthrew them, damned them, and made of them an ensample unto all that after should live ungodly. And just Lot vexed with the uncleanly conver-
 7 sation of the wicked, delivered he. For he being righteous and dwelling among them, in seeing and hearing, vexed his 8 righteous soul from day to day with their unrighteous* deeds. The Lord knoweth how to deliver the godly out of temptation, 9 and how to reserve the unjust unto the day of judgment for to be punished: namely them that walk after the flesh in 10 the lust of uncleanness, and despise the rulers. Presumptu-v.19 Other: a right sure word. 2. v.1 Other: upon themselves. v.4 Other: delivered.

 v.5 Other: upon. v.8 Other: unlawful.

ous are they, and stubborn and fear not to speak evil of them 11 that are in authority. When the angels which are greater both 12 in power and might, receive not of the Lord railing judgement 13 against them. But these as brute beasts, naturally made to be taken and destroyed, speak evil of that they know not, and 14 shall perish through their own destruction, and receive the reward of unrighteousness. They count it pleasure to live deli-15 ciously for a season. Spots they are and filthiness: and of you they make a mockingstock feasting together in their deceivable 16 ways:* having eyes full of advoutry, and that cannot cease to sin, beguiling unstable souls. Hearts they have exercised with 17 covetousness. They are cursed children, and have forsaken the right way, and are gone astray following the way of Bal-18 aam the son of Bosor, which loved the reward of unrighteousness: but was rebuked of his iniquity. The tame and dumb beast, speaking with man's voice forbade the foolishness of the 19 prophet. These are wells without water, and clouds carried about of a tempest, to whom the mist of darkness is reserved 20 for ever. For when they have spoken the swelling words of vanity, they beguile with wantonness thorow the lusts of the flesh them that were clean escaped: but now are wrapped in 21 errors. They promise them liberty, and are themselves the bondservants of corruption. For of whomsoever a man is over-22 come, unto the same is he in bondage. For if they, after they have escaped from the filthiness of the world thorow the knowledge of the Lord, and of the saviour Jesus Christ, they are yet tangled again therein and overcome: then is the latter end worse with them than the beginning. For it had been better for them, not to have known the way of righteousness, than after they have known it, to turn from the holy commandment given unto them. It is happened unto them according to the true proverb: The dog is turned to his vomit again, and the sow after she is* washed, is returned to her wallowing in the mire.

III This is the second pistel that I now write unto you, my 1 dearly beloved, wherewith I stir up and warn your pure minds, 2 to call to remembrance the words which were told before of the holy prophets, and also the commandment of us the apostles of 3 the Lord and Saviour. This first understand, that there shall v.13 Other: Spots they are and filthiness, living at pleasure and in deceivable ways feasting with you. v.22 Other: that was.

come in the last days mockers (in deceitfulness) which will walk after their own lusts and say: Where is the promise of his coming? For since the fathers died all things continue in the 4 same estate wherein they were at the beginning. This they 5 know not (and that willingly) how that the heavens a great while ago were, and the earth that was in the water, appeared up out of the water by the word of God: by the which things 6 the world that then was perished overflowen with the flood.*
 But the heavens verily and earth which are now, are kept by 7 the same word in store, and reserved unto fire, against the day of judgment and perdition of ungodly men. Dearly beloved 8 be not ignorant of this one thing, how that one day is with the Lord, as a thousand year, and a thousand year as one day. The 9 Lord is not slack to fulfil his promise as some men count slack-ness: but is patient to us ward and would have no man lost, but would receive all men to repentance. Nevertheless the 10 day of the Lord will come as a thief in the night, in the which day, the heavens shall perish with terrible noise, and the elements shall melt with heat, and the earth with the works that are therein shall burn. If all these things shall perish, what 11 manner persons ought ye to be in holy conversation, and god-liness: looking for, and hasting unto the coming of the day of 12 God, in which the heavens shall perish with fire, and the elements shall be consumed with heat. Nevertheless we look 13 for a new heaven, and a new earth, according to his promise, wherein dwelleth righteousness. Wherefore dearly beloved, 14 seeing that ye look for such things, be diligent that ye may be found of him in peace, without spot and undefiled: And 15 suppose that the long suffering of the Lord is health,* even as our dearly beloved brother Paul, according to the wisdom given unto him, wrote to you, yea, almost in every pistel* speaking 16 of such things: among which are many things hard to be understood, which they that are unlearned, and unstable pervert, as they do other scriptures unto their own destruction. Ye 17 therefore beloved seeing ye are warned;* Beware lest ye be also plucked away with the error of the wicked, and* own steadfastness: but grow in grace, and in the knowledge of our Lord, and 18 saviour Jesus Christ. To whom be glory both now and for ever,

3. v.6 Other: water. v.15 Other: salvation. v.16 Other: almost in very pistle. v.17 Other: know it beforehand. v.17 Other: fall from your.

Amen.

Here endeth the second epistle of saint Peter.

The First Epistle General Of John.

What which was from the beginning declare we unto I you, which we have heard which we have seen with our eyes, which we have looked upon, and our hands have handled, of the word of life. For the life ap- 2 peared, and we have seen, and bear witness, and shew unto you that eternal* life, which was with the father, and appeared unto us. That which we have seen and heard declare we unto 3 you that ye may have fellowship with us, and that our fellowship may be with the father, and his son Jesus Christ. And 4 this write we* unto you, that (ye may rejoyce, and that) our* joy may be full. And this is the tidings which we have heard of 5 him, and declare unto you, that God is light, and in him is no darkness at all. If we say that we have fellowship with him, 6 and yet walk in darkness, we lie, and do not the truth: but 7 and if we walk in light even as he is in light, then have we fellowship with him,* and the blood of* Christ his son, cleanseth us from all sin. If we say that we have no sin, we deceive our- 8 selves, and truth is not in us. If we knowledge our sins, he is faithful and just, to forgive us our sins, and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness. If we say we have not sinned, we make 10 him a liar, and his word is not in us.

My little children, these things write I unto you, that ye II should not sin: and* if* any man sin, yet we have an Advocate with the father,* Jesus Christ, which is righteous: and he it 2 is that obtaineth grace* for our sins:* not for our sins only: but also for the sins of all the world. And hereby we know that 3 we have known him,* if we keep his commandments. He that 4 saith I know him, and* keepeth not his commandments, is a liar, and the verity* is not in him. Whosoever* keepeth his 5 word, in him* is the love of God perfect in deed. And thereby* know we that we are in him. He that saith he bideth in him, 6 ought to walk even as he walked. Brethren I write no new 7

1. v.2 Other: everlasting. v.4 Other: these things we write. v.4 Other: your.
v.7 Other: together. v.7 Other: Jesus. 2. v.1 Other: sin not. v.1 Other: though.
v.1 Other: even. v.2 Other: the satisfaction. v.2 Other: and. v.3 Other: And hereby we are sure that we know him. v.4 Other: yet. v.4 Other: truth. v.5 Other: He that. v.5 Other: verity. v.5 Other: hereby.

commandment unto you: but that* old commandment which ye heard from* the beginning. The* old commandment is the word 8 which ye heard from the beginning. Again, a new commandment I write unto you, a thing that* is true in him, and also in you: for the darkness is past, and the true light now shineth.
 9 He that saith how that he is in the light, and yet hateth his 10 brother, is in darkness even until this time. He that loveth his brother, abideth in the light, and there is none occasion of 11 evil* in him.* He that hateth his brother is in darkness, and walketh in darkness: and cannot tell* whither he goeth, be-12 cause that* darkness hath blinded his eyes. Babes* I write unto you how that your sins are forgiven you for his name's 13 sake. I write unto you fathers, how that ye have known him that was from the beginning. I write unto you young men, how that ye have overcome the wicked. I write unto you little* chil-14 dren, how that ye have known* the father. I write unto you fathers, how that ye have known him that was from the beginning. I write unto you young men, how that ye are* strong: and the word of God abideth* in you, and* ye have overcome that* 15 wicked. See that ye love not the world, neither* the things that are in the world. If any man love the world, the love of 16 the father is not in him. For all that is in the world (as the lust of the flesh, the lust of the eyes, and the pride of goods) is* 17 not of the father: but* of the world. And the world vanisheth away, and the lust thereof: but he that fulfileth* the will of 18 God, abideth ever. Little children it is* the last time,* and as ye have heard how the* antichrist shall come: even* now are there many antichrists come already, whereby we know that it 19 is the last time.* They went out from* us but they were not of us. For if they had been of us, they would no doubt have continued with us. But that fortun'd that it might appear,* 20 that they were not of us. And* ye have an ointment of the 21 holy ghost, and ye know all things. I wrote not unto you, as v.7 Other: an. v.7 Other: had at. v.7 Other: For an. v.8 Other: which.

 v.10 Other: offending. v.10 Other: And. v.11 Other: knoweth not. v.11 Other:
 For. v.12 Other: little children. v.13 Other: young. v.13 Other: know. v.14 Other:
 be. v.14 Other: dwelleth. v.14 Other: that. v.14 Other: the. v.15 Other: nor.
 v.16 Other: are. v.16 Other: are. v.17 Other: doeth. v.18 Other: now. v.18 Other: hour. v.18 Other: that. v.18 Other: so. v.18 Other: hour. v.19 Other: of.
 v.19 Other: how. v.20 Other: But.

though ye knew not the truth:* but as though ye knew it,* and know also* that no lie cometh* of truth.* Who is a liar: but he 22 that denieth that Jesus is Christ? he* is the antichrist that denieth the father and the son. Whosoever denieth the son, the 23 same hath not the father. (he that knowledgeth the sonne, hath the father also) Let therefore abide in you that same which 24 ye heard from* the beginning. If that which ye heard from* the beginning shall remain in you,* ye also shall continue in the son, and in the father. And this is the promise that he 25 hath promised us, even eternal* life. This* have I written unto 26 you, as concerning* them that deceive you. And the anointing which ye have received of him dwelleth in you. And ye need 27 not that any man teach you: but as that* anointing teacheth you all things, and is true, and is no lie: and as it taught you, even so bide therein. And now babes* abide in him, that when 28 he shall appear, we may be bold,* and not be made ashamed of him at his coming. If ye know that he is righteous, know also 29 that he which followeth* righteousness, is* born of him.

Behold what love the father hath shewed on us, that we III should be called (and be in deed) the sons of God. For this cause the world knoweth you not because it knoweth not him.
 Dearly beloved, now are we the sons of God, and* yet it hath* 2 not appear* what we shall be. But we know that when it shall appear, we shall be like him. For we shall see him as he is. And every man that hath* this hope in him, purgeth 3 himself,* even as he is pure. Whosoever committeth* sin, com- 4 mitteth unrighteousness also, for sin is unrighteousness. And 5 ye know that he appeared to take away our sins, and in him is no sin.* As many as bide* in him, sin not: whosoever sinneth* 6 hath not seen him, neither hath known him. Babes* let no 7 man deceive* you; He that doth* righteousness, is righteous, v.21 Other: trowth. v.21 Other: unto them them that know it. v.21 Other: how. v.21 Other: is. v.21 Other: trowth. v.22 Other: The same. v.24 Other: at. v.24 Other: at. v.24 Other: then. v.25 Other: everlasting. v.26 Other: These things. v.26 Other: because of. v.27 Other: the. v.28 Other: little children. v.28 Other: have confidence. v.29 Other: all that work. v.29 Other: are. 3. v.2 Other: though. v.2 Other: doth. v.2 Other: appeareth not. v.3 Other: all that have. v.3 Other: themselves. v.4 Other: All that commit. v.5 Other: there is no sin in him. v.6 Other: All that abide. v.6 Other: And all that sin. v.7 Other: Little children. v.7 Other: beguile. v.7 Other: worketh.

8 even as he is righteous.* He that committeth sin is of the devil: for the devil sinneth since the beginning. For this purpose* ap-9 peared the son of God, to loose* the works of the devil. Whosoever is born of God, sinneth not:* for his seed remaineth* in 10 him,* and he* cannot sin, because he is* born of God. In this* are the children* of God known, and* the children* of the devil.
 Whosoever doth* not righteousness, is* not of God, neither* he 11 that loveth not his brother. For this is the tidings, that ye heard from* the beginning, that we should love one another:*
 not* as Cain which was of the wicked* and slew his brother.
 12 And wherefore slew he him? because* his own works* were 13 evil, and his brother's good.* Marvel not my brethren if* the 14 world hate you. We know that we are translated from death unto life, because we love the brethren. He that loveth not his 15 brother, abideth in death. Whosoever* hateth his brother, is a man slayer.* And ye know that no man slayer,* hath eter-16 nal life abiding in him. Hereby perceive we* love:* that he gave* his life for us: And* we ought also to give our lives for 17 the* brethren. Whosoever* hath this world's goods* and seeth his brother in necessity,* and shutteth up his compassion from 18 him: how dwelleth the love of God in him? My babes,* let us not love in word, neither in* tongue: but with* deed, and 19 in verity:* And* thereby we know that we are of the verity,* 20 and will* before him put* our hearts out of doubt:* For* (if our hearts condemn us) God is greater than our hearts, and 21 knoweth all things. Tenderly* beloved, if our hearts condemn 22 us not, then have we trust to God ward: and whatsoever we ask,* we shall receive of him: because we keep his command-v.7 Other: rightwise. v.8 Other: But for this cause. v.8 Other: even to destroy.

 v.9 Other: All that are born of God do no sin. v.9 Other: abideth. v.9 Other: them.
 v.9 Other: they. v.9 Other: they be. v.10 Other: And hereby. v.10 Other: sons.
 v.10 Other: also. v.10 Other: sons. v.10 Other: All that work. v.10 Other: are.
 v.10 Other: nor. v.11 Other: at. v.11 Other: and. v.11 Other: be. v.11 Other: the devil. v.12 Other: For. v.12 Other: deeds. v.12 Other: righteous. v.13 Other: though. v.15 Other: All that. v.15 Other: murderers. v.15 Other: murderer.
 v.16 Other: are we assured of. v.16 Other: because. v.16 Other: left. v.16 Other: therefore. v.16 Other: our. v.17 Other: He then that. v.17 Other: the substance of the world. v.17 Other: have need:. v.18 Other: little children. v.18 Other: nor with the. v.18 Other: the. v.18 Other: of a truth. v.19 Other: for. v.19 Other: be of the truth. v.19 Other: can. v.19 Other: quiet. v.19 Other: and so shall we certify our hearts in his sight. v.20 Other: But. v.21 Other: Dearly. v.22 Other:
 that.

ments, and do those things which are pleasing in his sight. And this is his commandment, that we believe* his son Jesus Christ, and love one another, as he gave commandment. And he that keepeth his commandments dwelleth* in him, and he in him. And hereby* we know that there abideth* in us of the spirit which he gave us.

Dearly* beloved believe not every spirit: but prove the spir- IV its whether they are* of God, or no:* for many false prophets are gone out in to the world. Hereby shall ye know the spirit 2 of God. Every spirit that confesseth that Jesus Christ is come in the flesh, is of God. And every spirit which* confesseth 3 not that Jesus Christ is come in the flesh, is not of God. And this* is that spirit of antichrist, of whom ye have heard, how that he should come: and even now already is he in the world.
 Little children, ye are of God, and have overcome them: for 4 greater is he that is in you, then he that is in the world. They 5 are* of the world,* therefore speak they of the world, and the world heareth* them. We are* of God.* He that knoweth God 6 heareth us:* He that is not of God, heareth us not.* Hereby know we the spirit of verity,* and the spirit of error. Dearly 7 beloved, let us love one another: for love cometh* of God. And every one that loveth is* born of God, and knoweth God. * He 8 that loveth not, hath not known* God: for God is love. In this* 9 appeared the love of God to us ward, because that God sent his only begotten son into the world, that we might* live thorrow him. Herein is love, not that we loved God, but that he loved 10 us, and sent his son to make agreement* for our sins. Dearly 11 beloved if God so loved us,* we ought also to love one another.
 No man hath seen God at any time. If we love one another, God 12 dwelleth in us, and his love is perfect in us. Hereby know we, 13 that we dwell* in him, and he in us: because* he hath given us of his spirit. And we have seen and do testify that the father* 14

v.23 Other: on the name of. v.24 Other: abideth. v.24 Other: thereby. v.24 Other: dwelleth. v.24 Other: his. 4. v.1 Other: Ye. v.1 Other: be. v.1 Other: or not. v.3 Other: that. v.3 Other: the same. v.5 Other: be. v.5 Other: and. v.5 Other: attendeth unto. v.6 Other: be. v.6 Other: and. v.6 Other: and. v.6 Other: And. v.6 Other: trowth. v.7 Other: is. v.7 Other: all that love are. v.8 Other: And. v.8 Other: knoweth not. v.9 Other: Herein. v.9 Other: should. v.10 Other: a satisfaction. v.11 Other: then. v.13 Other: abide. v.13 Other: For. v.14 Other: hath.

15 sent the* son,* the saviour of the world. Whosoever confes-16 seth that Jesus is the son of God, in him dwelleth God, and he 17 in God. And we have known and believed the love that God 18 hath to us. God is love, and he that dwelleth* in love dwelleth* 19 in God, and God in him. Herein* is the love perfect in* us, 20 that we should have trust* in the day of judgment, that* as he 21 is, even so are we in this world. There is no fear in love, but perfect love casteth out all fear, for fear hath painfulness. He* 19 that feareth is not perfect in love. We love him, for* he loved 20 us first. If a man say, I love God, and yet hate his brother, he is a liar.* How can he that loveth not his brother whom he hath 21 seen, love God whom he hath not seen? And this commandment have we of him: that he which loveth God, should love his brother also.

V Whosoever believeth* that Jesus is Christ, is* born of God.
 And every one* that loveth him which begat, loveth him also 2 which was begotten of him. In this we know that we love the children* of God, when we love God, and keep his command-3 ments. This is the love of God, that we keep his command-4 ments, and his commandments are not grievous. For all that 5 is born of God, overcometh the world. And this is the victory that overcometh the world, even our faith. Who is it that overcometh the world: but he which believeth that Jesus is the son 6 of God? This Jesus Christ is he that came by water and blood, not by water only: but by water and blood. And it is the spirit 7 that beareth witness,* because the spirit is truth. For there 8 are three which bear record* in heaven, the father, the word,* 9 and the wholy ghost. And these three are one. And there are* three which* bear record in earth: the spirit, and water, and 9 blood: and these three are one. If we receive the witness of men, the witness of God is greater. For this is the witness of 10 God, (that is greater) which he testified of his son.* He that believeth on* the son of God hath the witness in himself. He that believeth not God, hath made* him a liar, because he bev.14 Other: his. v.14 Other: which is. v.16 Other: abideth. v.16 Other: abideth.

 v.17 Other: Herefor. v.17 Other: with. v.17 Other: confidence. v.17 Other: For.
 v.18 Other: therefor. v.19 Other: becaude. v.20 Other: For. 5. v.1 Other: All that believe. v.1 Other: are. v.1 Other: all. v.2 Other: sons. v.6 Other: testifieth. v.7 Other: that. v.7 Other: witness. v.8 Other: For. v.8 Other: that. v.9 Other: that God hath born of his son. v.10 Other: in. v.10 Other: maketh.

lieved not the record that God gave of his son.* And this is 11 that record,* how that God hath given unto us eternal life, and this life is in his son. He that hath the son, hath life: and 12 he that hath not the son of God, hath not life. These things 13 have I written unto you that believe on* the name of the son of God, that ye may know how that ye have eternal* life, and that ye may believe on* the name of the son of God. And this 14 is the trust* that we have in him: that if we ask any thing* according to his will he heareth us. And if we know that he 15 hear us whatsoever we ask, we know that we shall have the petitions that we desire of him. If any man see his brother 16 sin a sin that is not unto* death, let him ask, and he shall give him life for them that sin not unto death. There is a sin unto death,* for which say I not that a man should pray. All un- 17 righteousness is sin, and there is* sin not unto* death. We 18 know that whosoever is* born of God, sinneth not: * but he that is begotten* of God keepeth himself, and that wicked toucheth* him not. We know that we are* of God, and that the world 19 is altogether* set on wickedness.* We know that the son of 20 God is come, and hath given us a mind* to know him which* is true: and we are in him that is true,* through* his son Jesu Christ. This same* is very God, and eternal life. Babes keep 21 yourselves from images.* Amen.

Here end the first epistle of saint John.

v.10 Other: because he doth not believe the witness that God hath testified of his son. v.11 Other: the witness. v.13 Other: in. v.13 Other: everlasting. v.13 Other:
 in. v.14 Other: confidence. v.14 Other: ought. v.16 Other: to. v.16 Other: and.
v.17 Other: a. v.17 Other: to. v.18 Other: all that are. v.18 Other: sin not.
v.18 Other: born. v.18 Other: twicheth. v.19 Other: be. v.19 Other: all together. v.19 Other: mischief. v.20 Other: understanding. v.20 Other: that. v.20 Other: be in the truth. v.20 Other: thorow. v.20 Other: He. v.21 Other: Little children beware of images.

The Second Epistle Of John.

I  he senior* to the elect lady and her children which I love in the truth: And not I only, but also all that 2  have known the truth, for the truth's sake, which 3  remaineth* in us, and shall be in us for ever. With you be grace, mercy, and peace from God the father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ the son of the father, in truth* and love.
4 I rejoiced greatly, that I found of thy children walking in troug*, 5 as we have received a commandment of the father. And now beseech I thee lady, not as though I wrote a new commandment unto thee, but that same, which we had from the beginning, that we should love one another. And this is the love, that we should walk after his commandments. This commandment is (that as ye have heard from the beginning) ye should 6 walk in it. For many deceivers are entered into the world, which confess not that Jesus Christ is como* in the flesh. This
7 is a deceiver and an antichrist. Look on yourselves, that we loose not that we have wrought: but that we may have a full 8 reward. Whosoever transgresseth and bideth not in the doctrine of Christ, hath not God. He that endureth in the doctrine 9 of Christ, hath both the father, and the son. If there come any unto you and bring not this learning, him receive not to 10 house: neither bid him God speed. For he that biddeth him God speed, is partaker of his evil deeds. (Behold, I have told you before, that ye should not be ashamed in the day of the 11 lorde.) I had many things to write unto you, nevertheless I would not write with paper and ink: but I trust to come unto you, and speak with you mouth to mouth,* that our joy may be 12 full. The sons of thy elect sister greet thee Amen.
13

Here endt the second epistle of saint John.

1. v.1 Other: elder. v.2 Other: dwelleth. v.3 Other: trueth. v.4 Other: trouthe.
v.7 Other: returning. v.12 Other: mought to mouth.

The Third Epistle Of John.

He senior* unto the beloved Gaius, whom I love in I the truth. Wellbeloved I wish in all things that thou 2 prosperedest and farest well, even as thy soul pros-pereth. I rejoiced greatly when the brethren came 3 and testified of the truth* that is in thee, how thou in troth walkest.* I have no greater joy than for to hear how that my 4 sons walk in verity. Dearly beloved thou dost faithfully what- 5 soever thou doest to the brethren, and to strangers, which 6 bare witness of thy love before all the congregation. Which brethren when thou bringest forwards on their journey (as it beseemeth God) thou shalt do well: because that for his name's 7 sake they went forth, and took nothing of the gentiles. We 8 therefore ought to receive such, that we also might be helpers to the truth. I wrote unto the congregation: but Diotrephes 9 which loveth to have the preeminence among them, receiveth us not, wherefore if I come I will declare his deeds which he 10 doeth jesting on us with malicious words, neither is therewith content. Not only he himself receiveth not the brethren: but also he forbiddeth them that would, and thrusteth them out of the congregation. Dearly beloved counterfeit* not that which 11 is evil, but that which is good: He that doeth well is of God: but he that doeth evil seeth not God. Demetrius hath good 12 report of all men, and of the truth. Yea and we ourselves also bear record, and ye know that our record is true. I have many 13 things to write: But I will not with pen and ink write unto thee.
For I trust I* shall speak mouth to mouth. Peace be with thee. 14
The lovers salute thee. Greet the lovers by name.

Here endeth the third epistle of saint John.

1. v.1 Other: elder. v.3 Other: trueth. v.3 Other: walkest in trouthe. v.11 Other: follow. v.14 Other: shortly see thee, and we.

The General Epistle Of Jude.

Iudas the servant of Jesus Christ, the brother of James.
To them which are called and sanctified in God the father, and preserved in Christ Jesus. Mercy unto you, and peace and love be multiplied. Beloved, when I gave all diligence to write unto you of the common health:* it was needful for me to write unto you, to exhort you, that ye should continually labour in the faith, which was once given unto the saints. For there are certain craftily crept in, of which it was written aforetime unto such judgement. They are ungodly, and turn the grace of our Lord God unto wantonness; And deny God the only Lord, and our Lord Jesus Christ. My mind is therefore to put you in remembrance, forasmuch as ye once know this, how that the Lord (after that he had delivered the people out of Egypt) destroyed them which afterward believed not: The angels also, which kept not their first estate: but left their own habitation, he hath reserved in everlasting chains under darkness unto the judgment of the great day: even as Zodom,* and Gomor, and the cities about them (which in like manner defiled themselves, with fornication, and followed strange flesh) are set forth for an example, and suffer the vengeance of eternal fire. Likewise these dreamers defile the flesh, despise rulers, and speak evil of them that are in authority. Yet Michael the archangel (when he strove against the devil, and disputed the body of Moses) durst not give railing sentence, but said: The Lord rebuke thee. But these speak evil of those things which they know not. In those things which they know naturally (as beasts which are without reason) they corrupt themselves.* Woe be unto them, for they have followed the way of Cain, and are spilt in* the error of Balaam for lucre's sake, and are cast away in the treason of Core. These are spots which of your kindness feast together, without fear, feeding themselves. Clouds they are without water, carried about of winds: Trees rotten in autumn, unfruitfull,* twice dead, and plucked up by the roots. They are raging waves of the sea,

1. v.3 Other: salvation. v.7 Other: Sodom. v.10 Other: In those things which they know they corrupt them selves. v.11 Other: utterly given to. v.12 Other: and trees without fruit at gathering time.

foaming out their own shame. They are wandering stars, to whom is reserved the mist of darkness for ever. Enoch the seventh from Adam prophesied before of such saying: Behold, the Lord shall come with thousands of saints, to give judgement against all men, and to rebuke all that are ungodly among them, of all their ungodly deeds, which they have ungodly committed, and of all their cruel speakings, which ungodly sinners have spoken against him. These are murmurers, complainers, walking after their own lusts, whose mouths speak proud things. They have men in great reverence because of advantage. But ye beloved remember the words which were spoken before of the apostles of our Lord Jesus Christ, how that they told you that there should be beguilers in the last time, which should walk after their own ungodly lusts. These are makers of sects, natural,* having no spirit. But ye dearly beloved, edify yourselves in your most wholly* faith, praying in the wholly* ghost, and keep yourselves in the love of God, looking for the mercy of our Lord Jesus Christ, unto eternal life. And have compassion on some, separating them: and other save with fear, pulling them out of the fire, (and have compassion on the other) and hate the filthy vesture of the flesh. Unto him that is able to keep you, that ye fall not, and to present you faultless before the presence of his glory with joy, (at the coming of oure lorde Iesu Christ) that is to say, to God our saviour (thorow Iesus Christ oure lord) which only is wise, be glory, majesty, dominion, and power, (before all worldes) now and for ever Amen.

Here endt the epistle of Judas.

The Revelation Of St. John The Divine.

I  he revelation of Jesus Christe, which God gave unto him, for to shew unto his servants things which must shortly come to pass. And he sent and shewed by his 2 angel unto his servant John, which bare record of the word of God, and of the testimony of Jesus Christ, and of all 3 things that he saw. Happy is he that readeth, and they that hear the words of the prophecy, and keep those things which 4 are written therein. For the time is at hand. John to the seven congregations in Asia. Grace be with you and peace, from him which is and which was, and which is to come: and from the 5 seven spirits which are present before his throne, and from Jesus Christ which is a faithful witness, and first begotten of the dead: and Lord over the kings of the earth. Unto him that 6 loved us and washed us from our sins in his own blood, and made us kings and priests unto God his father, be glory, and 7 dominion for evermore amen. Behold he cometh with clouds, and all eyes shall see him: and they also which pierced him.
And all kindreds of the earth shall wail. (over him) Even so 8 amen. I am Alpha and Omega, the beginning and the ending, saith the Lord almighty, which is and which was and which is 9 to come. John your brother and companion in tribulation, and in the kingdom and patience which is in Jesu Christ, was in the isle of Pathmos for the word of God, and for the witnessing of 10 Jesu Christ. I was in the spirit on a son day, and heard behind 11 me, a great voice, as it had been of a trompe saying: I am Alpha and Omega, the first and the last. That thou seest write in a book, and send it unto the congregations which are in Asia, unto Ephesus, and unto Smyrna, and unto Pergamos, and unto Thiatira, and unto Sardis, and unto Philadelphia, and unto 12 Laodicia. And I turned back to see the voice that spake to me. And when I was turned: I saw seven golden candlesticks.
13 And in the midst of the candlesticks, one like unto the son of man clothed with a linen garment down to the ground, and 14 girt about the paps with a golden girdle. His head, and his hairs were white, as white wool, and as snow: and his eyes were as a flame of fire: and his feet like unto brass, as though 15 they brent in a furnace: and his voice as the sound of many waters. And he had in his right hand seven stars. And out of 16 his mouth went a two edged sword. And his face shone even as the sun* in his strength. And when I saw him, I fell at 17 his feet, even as dead. And he laid his right hand upon me, saying unto me: fear not. I am the first and the last, and 18 am alive, and was dead. And behold I am alive for evermore, and have the keys of hell and of death. Write therefore the 19 things which thou hast seen, and the things which are, and the things which shall be fulfilled hereafter: and the mystery 20 of the seven stars which thou sawest in my right hand, and the seven golden candlesticks. The seven stars are the angels* of the seven congregations: And the seven candlesticks which thou sawest are the seven congregations.

Unto the angel* of the congregation of Ephesus write: These II things saith he that holdeth the seven stars in his right hand, and walketh in the midst of the seven golden candlesticks. I 2 know thy works, and thy labour, and thy patience, and how thou canst not forbear them which are evil: and examinedst them which say they are apostles, and are not: and hast found 3 them liars. And hast suffered,* and hast patience: and for my name's sake hast laboured and hast not fainted. Never- 4 theless I have somewhat against thee, for thou hast left thy first love. Remember therefore from whence thou art fallen, 5 and repent, and do the first works. Or else I will come unto thee shortly, and will remove thy candlestick out of his place, except thou repent. But this thou hast because thou hatest 6 the deeds of the Nicolaitans, which deeds I also hate. Let him 7 that hath ears hear, what the spirit saith unto the congregations. To him that overcometh, will I give to eat of the tree of 8 life, which is in the midst of the paradise of God. And unto the angel of the congregation of Smyrna write: These things 8 saith he that is first, and the last, which was dead and is alive.
 I know thy works and tribulation and poverty, but thou art 9 rich: And I know the blasphemy of them which call themselves jews and are not: but are the congregation of sathan. Fear 10 none of those things which thou shalt suffer. Behold, the devil shall cast of you into prison, to tempt you, and ye shall have

1. v.16 Other: son. v.20 Other: messengers. 2. v.1 Other: messenger. v.3 Other:
 and didst wash thy self.

tribulation ten days. Be faithful unto the death, and I will give thee a crown of life. Let him that hath ears hear, what the spirit saith to the congregations: He that overcometh shall not be hurt of the second death. And to the angel* of the congregation in Pergamos write: This saith he which hath the sharp sword with two edges. I know thy works and where thou dwellest, even where Sathan's seat is, and thou keepest my name and hast not denied my faith. And in my days Antipas was a faithful witness of mine, which was slain among you where sathan dwelleth. But I have a few things against thee: that thou hast there, they that maintain, the doctrine of Balaam which taught in Balak, to put occasion of sin before the children of Israel, that they should eat of meat dedicated unto idols, and to commit fornication. Even so hast thou them that maintain the doctrine of the Nicolaitans, which thing I hate. But repent* or else I will come to* thee shortly and will fight against them with the sword of my mouth.* Let him that hath ears hear what the spirit sayth unto the congregations: To him that overcometh will I give to eat Manna that is hid, and will give him a white stone, and in the stone a new name written, which no man knoweth, saving he that receiveth it. And unto the angel* of the congregation of Thiatira write: This sayth the son of God, which hath his eyes like unto a flame of fire, whose feet are like brass: I know thy works and thy love, service, and faith,* and thy patience, and thy deeds, which are more at the last then at the first. Notwithstanding* I have a few things against thee, that thou sufferest that woman Jesabell, which called herself a prophetess to teach and to deceive my servants, to make them commit fornication, and to eat meats offered up unto idols. And I gave her space to repent of her fornication and she repented not. Behold I will cast her into a bed, and them that commit fornication with her into great adversity, except they repent of* their deeds. And I will kill her children with death. And all the congregations shall know that I am he which searches the reins and hearts. And I will give unto everyone of you according to your works. Unto you I say, and unto other* of them of Thiatira as many as have not

v.12 Other: messenger. v.16 Other: be converted. v.16 Other: unto. v.16 Other: mought. v.18 Other: messenger. v.19 Other: fayght. v.20 Other: Not wistondinge. v.22 Other: turn from. v.24 Other: others.

this learning, and which have not known the deepness of Satan (as they say) I will put upon you none other burden, but that which you have already. Hold fast till I come, and whosoever overcometh and keepeth my works unto the end, to him will I give power over nations, and he shall rule them with a rod of iron: and as the vessels of a potter, shall he break them to shivers. Even as I received of my father. And I will* give him the morning star. Let him that hath ears hear what the spirit says to the congregations. 25 26 27 28 29

And write unto the angel* of the congregation of Sardis: this sayth he that hath the spirit of God, and the seven stars. I know thy works, thou hast a name that you livest, and thou are dead. Be awake and strengthen the things which remain, that are ready to die. For I have not found thy works perfect before (my) God. Remember therefore how thou hast received and heard, and hold fast, and repent. If you shalt not watch, I will come on you as a thief, and thou shalt not know what hour I will come upon thee. Thou hast a few names in Sardis, which have not defiled their garments, and they shall walk with me in white, for they are worthy. He that overcometh shall be clothed in white array, and I will not put out his name out of the book of life, and I will confess his name before my father, and before his angels. Let him that hath ears hear what the spirit sayth unto the congregations. And write unto the angel* of* Philadelphia: This sayth he that is holy and true, which hath the key of David: which openeth and no man shuteth, and shuteth and no man openeth. I know your works. Behold I have set before thee an open door, and no man can shut it, for thou hast a little strength, and hast kept my sayings: and hast not denied my name. Behold. I make them of the congregation of Sathan, which call themselves jews and are not, but do lie. Behold. I will make them that they shall come and worship before thy feet: and shall know that I have loved* thee. Because thou hast kept the words of my patience,* I will keep thee from the hour of temptation, which will come upon all the world, to tempt them that dwell upon the earth. Behold I come shortly. Hold that which thou hast, that no man take away thy crown. Him that overcometh will I make a pillar in III 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12

v.28 Other: so will I. 3. v.1 Other: messenger. v.7 Other: tidings bringer. v.7 Other: the congregation of. v.9 Other: love. v.10 Other: therefore.

the temple of my God, and he shall go no more out. And I will write upon him, the name of my God, and the name of the city of my God, new Jerusalem, which cometh down out of heaven 13 from my God and I will write upon him my new name. Let him that hath ears, hear what the spirit saith unto the congregations.
 14 And unto the angel* of the congregation which is in Laodicia write: This saith (amen) the faithful and true witness, 15 the beginning of the creatures of God. I know thy works that thou art neither cold nor hot: I would thou were cold or hot. So then because thou art between both, and neither cold nor* hot, 17 I will spew thee out of my mouth:* because thou sayst thou art rich and increased with goods, and hast need of nothing, and knowest not how thou art wretched and miserable, poor, blind,
 18 and naked. I counsel thee to buy of me gold tried in the fire, that thou mayst be rich: and white raiment, that thou mayst be clothed, that thy filthy nakedness do not appear: and anoint thine eyes with eye salve, that thou mayst see. As many as I love, I rebuke and chasten. Be fervent therefore and repent.
 20 Behold I stand at the door and knock. If any man hear my voice and open the door, I will come in unto him and will sup with him, and he with me. To him that overcometh will I grant to sit with me in my seat, even as I overcame and have sitten with my father, in his seat. Let him that hath ears, hear what the spirit saith unto the congregations.

IV After this I looked, and behold a door was open in heaven, and the first voice which I heard, was as it were of a trumpet talking with me, which said: come up hither, and I will shew 2 the* things which must be fulfilled hereafter. And immediately I was in the spirit: and behold, a seat was put in heaven,
 3 and one sat on the seat. And he that sat was to look upon like unto a jasper stone, and a sardyne stone: And there was a rainbow about the seat, to look upon,* like unto an emerald. And about the seat were twenty four seats. And I saw on* the seats twenty four seniors* sitting clothed in white raiment, and had 5 on their heads crowns of gold. And out of the seat proceeded lightnings, and thunderings, and voices: and there were seven lamps of fire, burning before the seat, which are the seven spirits of God. And before the seat there was a sea of glass, like v.14 Other: messenger. v.16 Other: ner. v.16 Other: mought. 4. v.1 Other: thee. v.3 Other: in sight. v.4 Other: upon. v.4 Other: elders.

unto crystal, and in the midst of the seat, and round about the seat, were four beasts full of eyes before and behind. And the first beast was like a lion, the second beast like a calf, and the third beast had a face as a man, and the fourth beast was like a flying eagle. And the four beasts had each one of them six wings about him, and they were full of eyes within. And they had no rest day neither night saying: Holy, holy, holy, Lord God almighty, which was, and is, and is to come. And when those beasts gave glory and honour and thanks to him that sat on the seat, which liveth evermore,* the twenty four seniors fell down before the throne, before him that sat on the throne,* and worshipped him that liveth* ever, and cast their crowns before the throne saying: thou art worthy (O) Lord (our God) to receive glory, and honour, and power, for thou hast created all things, and for thy will's sake they are, and were created.

And I saw in the right hand of him, that sat in the throne, a book written within and on the backside, sealed with seven seals. And I saw a strong angel which cried with a loud voice: Who is worthy to open the book, and to loose the seals thereof? And no man in heaven nor* in earth neither under the earth, was able to open the book, neither to look thereon. And I wept much, because, no man was found worthy to open, and to read the book, neither to look thereon. And one of the seniors* said unto me: weep not: Behold a lion being of the tribe of Juda, the root of David, hath obtained to open the book, and to loose the seven seals thereof. And I beheld, and lo, in the midst of the seat, and of the four beasts, and in the midst of the seniors,* stood a lamb as though he had been killed, which had seven horns and seven eyes, which are the spirits of God, sent into all the world. And he came and took the book out of the right hand of him that sat upon the seat. And when he had taken the book, the four beasts and twenty four seniors* fell down before the lamb, having harps and golden vials full of odoures, which are the prayers of saints and they sung a new song saying: thou art worthy to take the book, and to open the seals thereof, for thou wast killed, and hast redeemed us by thy blood, out of all kindreds, and tongues, and people, and na-

v.9 Other: for ever and ever.. v.10 Other: the xxiii. elders fell down before him that sat on the throne. v.10 Other: for. 5. v.3 Other: ner. v.5 Other: elders. v.6 Other: elders. v.8 Other: elders.

10 tions, and hast made us unto our God, kings and priests and 11 we shall reign on the earth. And I beheld, and I heard the voice of many angels about the throne, and about the beasts 12 and the seniors,* and I heard thousand thousands, saying with a loud voice: Worthy is the lamb that was killed to receive power, and riches and wisdom, and strength, and honour and 13 glory, and blessing. And all creatures, which are in heaven, and on the earth, and under the earth, and in the sea, and all that are in them heard I saying: blessing, honour, glory, and power be unto him, that sitteth upon the seat, and unto the 14 lamb for evermore. And the four beasts said: amen. And the twenty four seniors* fell upon their faces, and worshipped him that liveth for evermore.

VI And I saw when the lamb opened one of the seals, and I heard one of the four beasts say, as it were the noise of thunder, 2 come and see. And I saw, and behold there was a white horse, and he that sat on him had a bow, and a crown was given unto 3 him, and he went forth conquering and for to overcome. And when he opened the second seal, I heard the second beast say: 4 come and see. And there went out another horse that was red, and power was given to him that sat thereon, to take peace from the earth, and that they should kill one another. And 5 there was given unto him a great sword. And when he opened the third seal, I heard the third beast say: come and see. And I beheld, and lo, a black horse: and he that sat on him, had 6 a pair of balances in his hand. And I heard a voice in the midst of the four beasts say: a measure of wheat for a penny, and three measures of barley for a penny: and oil and wine 7 see thou hurt not. And when he opened the fourth seal, I 8 heard the voice of the fourth beast say: come and see. And I looked. And behold a green horse, and his name that sat on him was death, and hell followed after him, and power was given unto them over the fourth part of the earth, to kill with sword, and with hunger, and with death, that cometh of vermin 9 of the earth. And when he opened the fifth seal, I saw under the altar, the souls of them that were killed for the word of God, 10 and for the testimony which they had, and they cried with a loud voice saying: How long tarriest thou Lord holy and true, to judge and to avenge our blood on them that dwell on the v.11 Other: elders. v.14 Other: elders.

earth? And long white garments were given unto every one 11 of them. And it was said unto them that they should rest for a little season until the number of their fellows, and brethren, and of them that should be killed as they were, were fulfilled.
And I beheld when he opened the sixth seal, and lo there was a 12 great earthquake, and the sun was as black as sack cloth made of hair. And the moon waxed even as blood: and the stars of 13 heaven fell unto the earth, even as a fig tree casteth from her her figs, when she is shaken of a mighty wind. And heaven 14 vanished away, as a scroll when it is rolled together. And all mountains and isles, were moved out of their places. And the 15 kings of the earth, and the great men, and the rich men, and the chief captains, and the mighty men, and every bondman, and every free man, hid themselves in dens, and in rocks of the hills, and said to the hills, and rocks: fall on us, and hide us 16 from the presence of him that sitteth on the seat, and from the wrath of the lamb, for the great day of his wrath is come; And 17 who can endure it.

And after that I saw four angels stand on the four corners of VII the earth, holding the four winds of the earth, that the winds should not blow on the earth, neither on the sea, neither on any tree. And I saw another angel ascend from the rising of 2 the sun, which had the seal of the living God, and he cried with a loud voice to the four angels (to whom power was given to hurt the earth and the sea) saying: Hurt not the earth nei- 3 ther the sea, neither the trees, till I* have sealed the servants of our God in their foreheads. And I heard the number of 4 them which were sealed, and there were sealed an hundred and forty four thousand of all the tribes of the children of Israel. Of the tribe of Juda were sealed twelve thousand. Of 5 the tribe of Ruben were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Gad were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Asser 6 were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Neptalym were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Manasses were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Symeon were sealed twelve 7 thousand. Of the tribe of Levy were sealed twelve thousand.
Of the tribe of Isacar were sealed twelve thousand. Of the 8 tribe of Zabulon were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Joseph were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Benjamin *

7. v.3 Other: we. v.8 Other: Beniamyn.

9 were sealed twelve thousand. After this I beheld, and lo a great multitude (which no man could number) of all nations, and people, and tongues, stood before the seat, and before the lamb, clothed with long white garments, and palms in their hands, and cried with a loud voice, saying: Health* be* to him that sitteth upon the seat of our God, and unto the lamb. 10 And all the angels stood in the compass of the seat, and of the seniors,* and of the four beasts, and fell before the seat on their faces, and worshipped God, saying, amen: Blessing and glory, wisdom and thanks, and honour, and power and might, 11 be unto our God, for evermore amen. And one of the seniors* answered, saying unto me: what are these which are arrayed 12 in long white garments, and whence came they? And I said unto him: Lord thou wottest. And he said unto me: these are they which came out of great tribulation and made their garments large, and made them white in the blood of the lamb: 13 therefore are they in the presence of the seat of God and serve him day and night in his temple, and he that sitteth in the 14 seat will dwell among them. They shall hunger no more neither thirst, neither shall the sun light on them, neither any 15 heat. For the lamb which is in the midst of the seat, shall feed them, and shall lead them unto fountains of living water, and God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes.

VIII

And when he had opened the seventh seal, there was silence 2 in heaven about the space of half an hour. And I saw angels standing before God, and to them were given seven trumpets. 3 And another angel came and stood before the altar having a golden censer, and much of odoures was given unto him, that he should offer of the prayers of all saints upon the golden altar, which was before the seat. And the smoke of the odoures which came of the prayers of all saints ascended up before God 4 out of the angel's hand. And the angel took the censer and filled it with fire of the altar and cast it into the earth, and voices were made, and thunderings, and lightnings, and earthquake. And the seven angels which had the seven trumpets 5 prepared themselves to blow. The first angel blew, and there was made hail and fire, which were mingled with blood, and they were cast into the earth: and the third part (of the earth was set on fire, and the third part) of trees was burnt, and all

v.10 Other: salvation. v.10 Other: ascribed. v.11 Other: elders. v.13 Other: elders.

green grass was brent. And the second angel blew: and as 8 it were a great mountain: burning with fire was cast into the sea, and the third part of the sea turned to blood, and the 9 third part of the creatures which had life died, and the third part of ships were destroyed. And the third angel blew, and 10 there fell a great star from heaven burning as it were a lamp, and it fell into the third part of the rivers, and into fountains of waters, and the name of the star is called wormwood. And the 11 third part was turned to wormwood. A many men died of the waters because they were made bitter. And the fourth angel 12 blew, and the third part of the sun was smitten, and the third part of the moon, and the third part of stars: so that the third part of them was darkened. And the day was smitten that the 13 third part of it should not shine, and likewise the night. And I beheld and heard an angel flying thorow the midst of heaven, saying with a loud voice: Woe; Woe, to the inhabiters of the earth because of the voices to come of the trompe of the three angels which were yet to blow.

And the fifth angel blew, and I saw a star fall from heaven IX unto the earth. And to him was given the key of the bottomless pit. And he opened the bottomless pit, and there arose the 2 smoke of a great furnace. And the sun and the air were darkened by the reason of the smoke of the pit. And there came 3 out of the smoke locusts upon the earth: And unto them was given power as the scorpions of the earth have power. And 4 it* was said unto them that they should not hurt the grass of the earth: neither any green thing:* neither any tree: but only those men which have not the seal in their foreheads, and to 5 them was commanded that they should not kill them, but that they should be vexed five months, and their pain was as the pain that cometh of a scorpion, when he hath stung a man.
 And in those days shall men seek death, and shall not find it, 6 and shall desire to die, and death shall fly from them. And the similitude of the locusts was like unto horses prepared unto 7 battle, and on their heads were as it were crowns, like unto gold: and their faces were as it had been the faces of men.
 And they had hairs as the hairs of women. And their teeth 8 were as the teeth of lions. And they had habergeons, as it 9 were habergeons of iron. And the sound of their wings, was as

9. v.4 Other: hit. v.4 Other: And it hurt the grass of the erth: nether eny grene thinge.

the sound of chariots when many horses run together to battle.
10 And they had tails like unto scorpions, and there were stings in their tails. And their power was to hurt men five months.
11 And they had a king over them, which is the angel of the bottomless pit, whose name in the hebrew tongue, is Abaddon: but 12 in the greek tongue, Apollion, that is to say a destroyer. One 13 woe is past, and behold two woes come after this. And the sixth angel blew, and I heard a voice from the four corners of 14 the golden altar, which is before God, saying to the sixth angel which had the trompe: Loose the four angels, which are bound 15 in the great river Euphrates. And the four angels were loosed which were prepared for an hour, for a day, for a month, and 16 for a year, for to slay the third part of men. And the number of horsemen of war, were twenty times ten thousand. And I 17 heard the number of them: And thus I saw the horses in a vision and them that sat on them, having fiery habergeons of a Jacinth colour, and brimstone, and the heads of the horses were as the heads of lions. And out of their mouths went forth 18 fire and smoke and brimstone. And of these three, was the third part of men killed, that is to say, of fire, smoke, and brim-19 stone, which proceeded out of the mouths of them: For their power was in their mouths and in their tails: for their tails were like unto serpents, and had heads, and with them they 20 did hurt: And the remnant of the men which were not killed by these plagues repented not of the deeds of their hands, that they should not worship devils, and images, of gold, and silver, and brass, and stone, and of wood, which neither can see, nei-21 ther hear, neither go. Also they repented not of their murder, and of their sorcery neither of their fornication neither of their theft.

X And I saw another mighty angel come down from heaven, clothed with a cloud, and the rainbow upon his head. And his face as it were the sun, and his feet as it were pillars of fire; 2 And he had in his hand a little book open: and he put his right 3 foot upon the sea, and his left foot on the earth. And cried with a loud voice, as when a lion roareth. And when he had 4 cried, seven thunders spake their voices. And when the seven thunders had spoken their voices, I was about to write. And I heard a voice from heaven saying unto me mark those things*

10. v.4 Other: seal up thoo thynges.

which the seven thunders spake, and write them not. And 5 the angel which I saw stand upon the sea, and upon the earth, lifted up his hand to heaven, and swore by him that liveth for 6 evermore, which created heaven, and the things that therein are, and the sea, and the things which therein are: that there 7 should be no longer time: but in the days of the voice of the seventh angel, when he shall begin to blow: even the mystery 8 of God shall be fulfilled,* as he preached by his servants the prophets. And the voice which I heard from heaven spake 8 unto me again, and said: go and take the little book which is open in the hand of the angel, which standeth upon the sea, and upon the earth. And I went unto the angel, and said to 9 him: give me the little book, and he said unto me: take it, and eat it up, and it shall make thy belly bitter, but it shall be in thy mouth as sweet as honey. And I took the little book out 10 of his hand, and ate it up, and it was in my mouth as sweet as honey, and as soon as I had eaten it, my belly was bitter. And 11 he said unto me: thou must prophesy again among the people, and nations, and tongues, and to many kings.

And then was given me a reed, like unto a rod, and it was XI said unto me: Rise and meet the temple of God, and the altar, and them that worship therein, and the choir which is with 2 in the temple cast out, and meet it not: for it is given unto the gentiles, and the holy city shall they tread under foot forty two months. And I will give power unto my two witnesses, 3 and they shall prophesy one thousand two hundred and sixty days, clothed in sackcloth. These are two olive trees, and two 4 candlesticks, standing before the God of the earth. And if any 5 man will hurt them, fire shall proceed out of their mouths, and consume their enemies. And if any man will hurt them, this 6 wise must he be killed. These have power to shut heaven, 6 that it rain not in the days of their prophesying: and have power over waters to turn them to blood, and to smite the earth with all manner plagues, as often as they will. And 7 when they have finished their testimony, the beast that came out of the bottomless pit shall make war against them: and shall overcome,* and kill them. And their bodies shall lie in 8 the streets of the great city, which spiritually is called Zodom and Eypgt, where our Lord was crucified. And they of the peo- 9 v.7 Other: finished. 11. v.7 Other: them.

ple and kindreds, and tongues, and they of the nations, shall see their bodies three days and an half, and shall not suffer 10 their bodies to be put in graves. And they that dwell upon the earth, shall rejoice over them and be glad, and shall send gifts one to another: for these two prophets vexed them that 11 dwelt on the earth. And after three days and an half the spirit of life from God entered into them. And they stood up upon their feet: and great fear came upon them which saw 12 them. And they heard a great voice from heaven, saying unto them. Come up hither. And they ascended up into heaven in a 13 cloud, and their enemies saw them. And the same hour was there a great earthquake, and the tenth part of the city fell, and in the earthquake were slain names of men seven thousand and the remnant were feared, and gave glory to God of 14 heaven. The second woe is past, and behold the third woe will come anon. And the seventh angel blew, and there were made 15 great voices in heaven, saying: the kingdoms of this world are our Lord's and his Christ's, and he shall reign for evermore.
 16 And the twenty four seniors,* which sit before God on their 17 seats, fell upon their faces, and worshipped God saying: we give thee thanks Lord God omnipotent:* which art and wast, and art to come, for thou hast received thy great might, and 18 hast reigned. And the nations were angry, and thy wrath is come, and the time of the dead, that thou shouldest judge them: and* shouldest give reward unto thy servants* prophets and saints, and to them that fear thy name small and great 19 and shouldest destroy them, which destroy the earth. And the temple of God was opened in heaven, and there was seen in his temple, the ark of his testament: and there followed lightnings, and voices, and thunderings and earthquake, and much hail.

XII And there appeared a great wonder in heaven. A woman clothed with the sun, and the moon under her feet, and upon 2 her head a crown of twelve stars. And she was with child and cried travailing in birth, and pained ready to be delivered.
 3 And there appeared another wonder in heaven, and* behold a great red dragon, having seven heads, and ten horns, and v.16 Other: elders. v.17 Other: allmighty:. v.18 Other: that they should be judged and that thou. v.18 Other: the. 12. v.3 Other: for.

seven crowns upon his heads: * and his tail drew the third part 4 of the stars, and cast them to the earth. And the dragon stood before the woman, which was ready to be delivered: for to devour her child as soon as it * were born. And she brought forth 5 a man child, which should rule all nations with a rod of iron.
 And her son was taken up unto God, and to his seat. And 6 the woman fled into wilderness, where she had a place, prepared of God, that they should feed her there, one thousand, and twenty six days. * * And there was great battle in heaven, 7 Michael and his angels fought with the dragon and the dragon fought and his angels, and prevailed not: neither was their 8 place found any more in heaven. And the great dragon, that 9 old serpent called the devil and Sathanas; Was cast out. Which deceiveth all the world. And he was cast into the earth, and his angels were cast out also. And I heard a loud voice saying: in 10 heaven is now made health * and strength, and the kingdom of our God, and the power of his Christ: For he is cast down which accused them before God day and night: And they overcame 11 him by the blood of the lamb, and by the word of their testimony, and they loved not their lives unto the death. There- 12 fore rejoice heavens, and ye that dwell in them. Woe to the inhabitants of the earth, and of the sea: for the devil is come down unto you which hath great wrath, because he knoweth that he hath but a short time. And when the dragon saw that 13 he was cast unto the earth, he persecuted the woman which brought forth the man child. And to the woman were given 14 two wings of a great eagle, that she might fly into the wilderness, into her place, where she is nourished for a time, times, and half a time, from the presence of the dragon. * And the 15 serpent * cast out of his mouth * water after the woman as it had been a river because she should have been caught of the flood. And the earth helped the woman, and the earth opened 16 her mouth, * and swallowed up the river which the dragon cast out of his mouth. * And the dragon was wroth with the woman: 17 and went and made war with the remnant of her seed, which

v.3 Other: havying .vii. heddes, and ten hornes and crounes upon his heddes. v.4 Other: hit. v.6 Other: one thousand two hundred and sixty days. v.6 Other translation: First edition of 1526: fede her there, M, and xxvj. dayes. Later editions: fede her there a M. ii. C and lx. dayes. v.10 Other: salvation. v.14 Other: serpent.
v.15 Other: dragon. v.15 Other: mought. v.16 Other: mought. v.16 Other: mowth.

keep the commandments of God, and have the testimony of Jesus Christe.

XIII

And I stood on the sea sand.* And I saw a beast rise out of the sea, having seven heads, and ten horns, and upon his horns
 2 ten crowns, and upon his head, the name of blasphemy. And the beast which I saw, was like a cat of the mountain, and his feet were as the feet of a bear, and his mouth* as the mouth* of a lion. And the dragon gave him his power and his seat, 3 and great authority: and I saw one of his heads as it were wounded to death, and his deadly wound was healed. And all 4 the world wondered at the beast, and they worshipped the dragon, which gave power unto the beast, and they worshipped the beast saying: who is like unto the beast? who is able to 5 war with him? And there was a mouth* given unto him that spake great things, and blasphemies, and power was given 6 unto him, to continue* forty two months. And he opened his mouth* unto blasphemy against God, to blaspheme his name, 7 and his tabernacle, and them that dwell in heaven. And it was given unto him to make war with the saints, and to overcome them. And power was given him over all kindred, tongue, and 8 nation: and all that dwell upon the earth worshipped him: whose names are not written in the book of life of the lamb, 9 which was killed from the beginning of the world. If any man have an ear, let him hear. He that leadeth into captivity, shall 10 go into captivity: he that killeth with a sword, must be killed with a sword. Here is the patience, and the faith* of the saints.
 11 And I beheld another beast coming up out of the earth, and he had two horns like a lamb, and he spake as did the dragon.
 12 And he did all that the first beast could do in his presence, and he caused the earth, and them which dwell therein, to worship
 13 the first beast, whose deadly wound was healed. And he did great wonders, so that he made fire come down from heaven 14 in the sight of men. And deceived them that dwelt on the earth, by the means of those signs which he had power to do in the sight of the beast, saying to them that dwelt on the earth: that they should make an image unto the beast, which had the 15 wound of a sword, and did live. And he had power to give a spirit unto the image of the beast, and that the image of the beast should speak, and should cause that as many as would not worship the image of the beast, should be killed. And he made all men, * small and great, rich and poor, free and bond, to receive a mark in their right hands, or in their foreheads. And that no man might buy or sell, save he that had the mark, or the name of the beast, other the number of his name. Here is wisdom. Let him that hath wit count the number of the beast. For it is the number of a man, and his number is six hundred, threescore and six.

13. v.1 Other: see sonde. v.2 Other: mowth. v.2 Other: mowth. v.5 Other: mowth. v.5 Other: do. v.6 Other: mowth. v.10 Other: fayght.

And I looked, and lo a lamb stood on the mount Sion, and with him a hundred and forty four thousand having his (name and his) father's name written in their foreheads. And I heard a voice from heaven, as the sound of many waters, and as the voice of a great thunder. And I heard the voice of harpers harping with their harps. And they sang as it were a new song, before the seat, and before the four beasts, and the seniors,* and no man could learn that song, but the hundred and forty four thousand which were redeemed from the earth. These are they, which were not defiled with women, for they are virgins. These follow the lamb whithersoever he goeth. These were redeemed from men being the first fruits unto God and to the lamb, and in their mouths was found no guile. For they are without spot before the throne of God. And I saw an angel fly in the midst of heaven having an everlasting gospel, to preach unto them that sit and dwell on the earth, and to all nations, kindreds, and tongues, and people, saying with a loud voice: Fear God and give honour to him, for the hour of his judgement is come: and worship him, that made heaven and earth, and the sea, and fountains of water. And there followed another angel, saying: Babylon is fallen is fallen that great city, for she made all nations drink of the wine of her fornication. And the third angel followed them saying with a loud voice: If any man worship the beast and his image, and receive his mark in his forehead, or on his hand, the same shall drink of the wine of the wrath of God, which is poured in the cup of his wrath. And he shall be punished in fire and brimstone, before the holy angels, and before the lamb. And the smoke of their torment ascendeth up evermore. And they have no rest day nor * night, which worship the beast, and his image, and whosoever rev.16 Other: both. 14. v.3 Other: elders. v.11 Other: ner.

12 ceiveth the print of his name. Here is the patience of saints.
 Here are they that keep the commandments and the faith* of 13 Jesu. And I heard a voice from heaven saying unto me: write: Blessed are the dead, which hereafter die in the Lord, even so saith the spirit: that they may rest from their labors, but their 14 works shall follow them. And I looked and behold a white cloud, and upon the cloud one sitting like unto the son of man, having on his head a golden crown, and in his hand a sharp 15 sickle. And another angel came out of the temple, crying with a loud voice to him that sat on the cloud. Thrust in thy sickle and reap: for the time is come to reap, for the corn of the earth 16 is ripe. And he that sat on the cloud thrust in his sickle on the 17 earth, and the earth was reaped. And another angel came out of the temple, which is in heaven, having also a sharp sickle.
 18 And another angel came out from the altar, which had power over fire, and cried with a loud cry to him that had the sharp sickle, and said: thrust in thy sharp sickle, and gather the clus-19 ters of the earth: for her grapes are ripe. And the angel thrust in his sickle on the earth: and cut down the grapes of the vineyard of the earth: and cast them into the great winefat of the 20 wrath of God, and the winefat was trodden with out the city, and blood came out of the fat, even unto the horse bridles by the space of a thousand and four score furlongs.* *

XV And I saw another sign in heaven great and marvelous, seven angels having the seven last plagues, for in them is ful-2 filled the wrath of God. And I saw as it were a glassy sea, mingled with fire, and them that had gotten victory of the beast, and of his image, and of his mark, and of the number of his 3 name, stand on the glassy sea, having the harps of God and they sang the song of Moses the servant of God, and the song of the lamb, saying: Great and marvelous are thy works Lord God 4 almighty, just and true are thy ways, King of the saints. Who shall not fear o Lord, and glorify thy name? For thou only art holy, and all gentiles shall come and worship before thee, for 5 thy judgements are made manifest. And after that I looked, and behold the temple of the tabernacle of testimony was open 6 in heaven, and the seven angels came out of the temple, which had the seven plagues, clothed in pure and bright linen, and v.12 Other: fayght. v.20 Other: a thousand and six hundred furlongs. v.20 Other translations: First edition 1526: a thowsande and iiij score furlonges. Later editions: a thowsande and vi. C. furlongs.

having their breasts girded with golden girdles. And one of the four beasts gave unto the seven angels seven golden vials, full of the wrath of God which liveth for evermore. And the temple was full of the smoke of the glory of God and of his power, and no man was able to enter into the temple, till the seven plagues of the seven angels were fulfilled.

And I heard a great voice out of the temple, saying to the seven angels: go your ways, pour out your vials of wrath upon the earth. And the first went, and poured out his vial upon the earth, and there fell a noisome and a sore botch upon the men, which had the mark of the beast, and upon them which worshipped his image. And the second angel shed out his vial upon the sea, and it turned as it were into the blood of a dead man, and every living thing died in the sea. And the third angel shed out his vial upon the rivers and fountains of waters, and they turned to blood. And I heard an angel say: Lord which art and wast, thou art righteous and holy, because thou hast given such judgements, for they shed out the blood of saints, and prophets, and therefore hast thou given them blood to drink: for they are worthy. And I heard another out of the altar say: even so Lord God almighty, true and righteous are thy judgements. And the fourth angel poured out his vial on the sun, and power was given unto him to vex men with heat of fire. And the men raged in great heat, and spake evil of the name of God which had* power over those plagues, and they repented not, to give him glory. And the fifth angel poured out his vial upon the seat of the beast, and his kingdom waxed dark, and they gnawed their tongues for sorrow, and blasphemed the God of heaven for sorrow, and pain of their sores, and repented not of their deeds. And the sixth angel poured out his vial upon the great river Euphrates, and the water dried up, that the ways of the kings of the east should be prepared. And I saw three unclean spirits like frogs come out of the mouth of the dragon, and out of the mouth of the beast, and out of the mouth of the false prophet. For they are the spirits of devils working miracles, to go out unto the kings of the earth and of the whole world, to gather them to the battle of that great day of God almighty. Behold I come as a thief. Happy is he that watcheth and keepeth his garments; Lest

XVI

16. v.9 Other: hath.

16 he be found naked, and men see his filthiness. And he gathered them together into a place called in the hebrew tongue 17 Armagedon. And the seventh angel poured out his vial into the air. And there came a voice out of heaven from the seat, 18 saying: It is done. And there followed voices, thunderings, and lightnings, and there was a great earthquake, such as was not since men were upon the earth, so mighty an earthquake 19 and so great. And the great city was divided into the three parts; And the cities of nations fell. And great Babylon came in remembrance before God, to give unto her the cup of wine of 20 the fierceness of^e wrath. Every isle fled away, and the mountains were not found. And there fell a great hail, as it had 21 been talents, out of heaven upon the men, and the men blasphemed God, because of the plague of the hail, for it was great and the plague of it sore.

XVII And there came one of the seven angels, which had the seven vials, and talked with me, saying unto me: * I will shew thee the judgement of the great whore, that sitteth upon many 2 waters, with whom have committed fornication the kings of the earth, so that the inhabitants of the earth, are drunken with
 3 the wine of her fornication. And he carried me away into the wilderness in the spirit. And I saw a woman sit upon a rose colored beast full of names of blasphemy, which had ten horns.
 4 And the woman was arrayed in purple and rose colour, and decked with gold, precious stone, and pearls, and had a cup of gold in her hand, full of abomination,^{*} and filthiness of her
 5 fornication. And in her forehead was a name written, a mystery, great Babylon the mother of whoredom and abominations 6 of the earth. And I saw the wife drunken with the blood of saints, and with the blood of the witnesses of Jesu. And when 7 I saw her: I wondered with great marvel. And the angel said unto me: wherefore marvellest thou? I will shew thee the mystery of the woman, and of the beast that beareth her, which 8 hath seven heads, and ten horns. The beast that thou seest, was, and is not, and shall ascend out of the bottomless pit, and shall go into perdition, and they that dwell on the earth shall wonder (whose names are not written in the book of life from he beginning of the world) when they behold the beast that 9 was, and is not. And here is a mind that hath wisdom. The v.19 Other: his. 17. v.1 Other: come. v.4 Other: abominations.

seven heads are seven mountains, on which the woman sitteth: they are also seven kings. Five are fallen, and one is, and another is not yet come. When he cometh he must continue a space. And the beast that was, and is not, is even the eighth, and is one of the seven, and shall go into destruction. And the ten horns which thou seest, are ten kings, which have received no kingdom, but shall receive power as kings at one hour with the beast. These have one mind, and shall give their power and strength unto the beast. These shall fight with the lamb, and the lamb shall overcome them: For he is Lord of Lords, and King of Kings: and they that are on his side, are called, and chosen, and faithful. And he said unto me: the waters which thou sawest, where the whore sitteth, are people, and folk, and nations, and tongues. And the ten horns, which thou sawest upon the beast, are they that shall hate the whore, and shall make her desolate, and naked, and shall eat her* flesh, and burn her with fire. For God hath put in their hearts, to fulfil his will, and to do with one consent, for to give her kingdom unto the beast, until the words of God be fulfilled. And the woman* thou sawest, is that great city, which reigneth over the kings of the earth.

And after that I saw another angel come from heaven, having great power, and the earth was lightened with his brightness. And he cried mightily with a strong voice saying: Great Babylon is fallen is fallen, and is become the habitation of devils, and the hold of all foul spirits, and a cage of all unclean and hateful birds, for all nations have drunken of the wine of the wrath of her fornication. And the kings of the earth have committed fornication with her, and her merchants are waxed rich of the abundance of her pleasures. And I heard another voice from heaven say: come away from her my people, that ye be not partakers in her sins, that ye receive not of her plagues. For her sins are gone up to heaven, and God hath remembered her wickedness. Reward her even as she rewarded you, and give her double according to her works. And pour in double to her in the same cup which she filled unto you. And as much as she glorified herself and lived wantonly, so much pour ye in for her of punishment, and sorrow, for she said in her heart: I sit being a queen and am no widow and shall see no sorrow. There-

XVIII

v.16 Other: their. v.18 Other: which.

fore shall her plagues come at one day, death, and sorrow, and hunger, and she shall be brent with fire: for strong is the Lord 9 God which judgeth her. And the kings of the earth shall bewep her and wail over her, which have committed fornication with her, and have lived wantonly with her, when they shall 10 see the smoke of her burning, and shall stand afar off, for fear of her punishment, saying: Alas, Alas, that great city Babylon, that mighty city: For at one hour is her judgment come. And the merchants of the earth shall weep and wail in themselves, 11 for no man will buy their ware any more, the ware of gold and silver, and precious stones, neither of pearl, and raynes, and purple, and scarlet, and all thine wood, and all manner vessels of ivory, and all manner vessels of most precious wood,
12 and of brass, and of iron, and cinnamon, and odours, and ointments, and frankincense, and wine, and oil, and fine flour, and wheat, beasts, and sheep, and horses, and chariots, and bodies
13 and souls of men. And the apples that thy soul lusted after, are departed from thee. And all things which were dainty, and had in price are departed from thee, and thou shalt find them 14 no more. The merchants of these things which were waxed rich shall stand afar off from her, for fear of the punishment 15 of her, weeping and wailing, and saying: Alas alas, that great city, that was clothed in raynes, and purple, and scarlet, and decked with gold, and precious stone, and pearls: for at one 16 hour so great riches is come to nought. And every ship governor, and all they that occupied ships, and shipmen which 17 work in the sea, stood afar off, and cried, when they saw the smoke of her burning, saying: what city is like unto this great 18 city? And they cast dust on their heads, and cried weeping, and wailing, and said: Alas Alas that great city wherein were 19 made rich all that had ships in the sea, by the reason of her ware,* for at one hour is she made desolate. Rejoice over her 20 thou heaven, and ye holy apostles, and prophets: for God hath given your judgement on her. And a mighty angel took up a 21 stone like a great millstone, and cast it into the sea, saying: with such violence shall that great city Babylon be cast, and 22 shall be found no more. And the voice of harpers, and musicians, and of pipers, and trumpeters, shall be heard no more in thee: and no crafts man, of whatsoever craft he be, shall be found any more in thee, and the sound of a mill shall be heard no more in thee, and the voice of the bridegroom and of the 23 bride, shall be heard no more in thee: for thy merchants were the great men of the earth. And with thine enchantment were deceived all nations: and in her was found the blood of the 24 prophets, and of the saints, and of all that were slain upon the earth.

18. v.19 Other: costliness.

And after that, I heard the voice of much people in heaven XIX saying: Alleluia. Health* and glory and honour, and power be unto our Lord God,* for true and righteous are his judge- 2 ments, for he hath judged the great whore which did corrupt the earth with her fornication, and hath avenged the blood of his servants of her hand. And again they said: Alleluya. And 3 smoke rose up for evermore. And the twenty four seniors,* 4 and the four beasts fell down, and worshipped God that sat on the seat saying: Amen Alleluya. And a voice came out of the 5 seat, saying: praise our Lord God all ye that are his servants, and ye that fear him both small and great. And I heard the 6 voice of much people, even as the voice of many waters, and as the voice of strong thunderings, saying: Alleluya, for God omnipotent hath reigned.* Let us be glad and rejoice and give 7 honour to him: for the marriage of the lamb is come, and his wife made herself ready. And to her was granted, that she 8 should be arrayed with pure and goodly raynes. For the raynes is the righteousness of saints. And he said unto me: happy 9 are they which are called unto the Lamb's supper. And he said unto me: these are the true sayings of God. And I fell at 10 his feet, to worship him. And he said unto me: see thou do it not. For I am thy fellow servant, and one of thy brethren, and of them that have the testimony of Jesus. Worship God. For the testimony of Jesus is the spirit of prophecy. And I saw 11 heaven open, and behold a white horse: and he that sat upon him was faithful and true, and in righteousness did judge and make battle. His eyes were as a flame of fire: and on his 12 head were many crowns: and he had a name written, that no man knew but himself. And he was clothed with a vesture 13 dipped in blood, and his name is called the word of God. And 14 the warriors which were in heaven, followed him upon white

19. v.1 Other: Salvation. v.1 Other: be ascribed to the Lord our God. v.4 Other: elders. v.6 Other: reigneth.

15 horses, clothed with white and pure raynes: and out of his mouth went out a sharp sword, that with it he should smite the heathen. And he shall rule them with a rod of iron, and he 16 trod the winefat of fierceness and wrath of almighty God. And hath on his vesture and on his thigh: * King of Kings, and Lord 17 of Lords. * And I saw an angel stand* in the sun, and he cried with a loud voice, saying to all the fowls that fly by the midst of heaven: come and gather yourselves together unto the supper 18 of the great God, that ye may eat the flesh of kings, and of high captains, and the flesh of mighty men, and the flesh of horses, and of them that sit on them, and the flesh of all free men and 19 bond men, and of small and great. And I saw the beast and the kings of the earth, and their warriors gathered together to make battle against him that sat on the horse and against 20 his soldiers. And the beast was taken, and with him that false prophet that wrought miracles before him, with which he deceived them that received the beast's mark, and them that worshipped his image. These both were cast into a pond of fire 21 burning with brimstone: and the remnant were slain with the sword of him that sat upon the horse, which sword proceeded out of his mouth, and all the fowls were fulfilled* with their flesh.

XX And I saw an angel come down from heaven, having the key 2 of the bottomless pit, and a great chain in his hand. And he took the dragon that old serpent, which is the devil and sa-3 tanas, and he bound him a thousand years: and cast him into the bottomless pit, and he bound him, and set a seal on him, that he should deceive the people no more, till the thousand years were fulfilled. And after that he must be loosed* for a 4 little season. And I saw seats, and they sat upon them, and judgement was given unto them: and I saw the souls of them were beheaded for the witness of Jesu, and for the word of God:
 which had not worshipped the beast, neither his image, neither had taken his mark upon their foreheads, or on their hands: 5 and they lived, and reigned with Christ a thousand year: but the other of the dead men lived not again, until the thousand 6 year were finished. This is that first resurrection. Blessed v.16 Other: vesture and on his thigh a name written. v.16 Other translation: And has on the vesture, namely, over his thigh the title signed: KING of Kings, and LORD of Lords. v.17 Other: stond. v.21 Other: full filled. 20. v.3 Other: lowsed.

and holy is he that hath part in the first resurrection. For on such shall the second death have no power, for they shall be the priests of God and of Christ, and shall reign with him a thousand year. And when the thousand years are expired, 7 Satan shall be loosed* out of his prison, and shall go out to 8 deceive the people which are in the four quarters of the earth Gog and Magog, to gather them together to battle whose number is as the sand of the sea: and they went up on the plain 9 of the earth, and compassed the tents of the saints about, and the beloved city. And fire came down from God, out of heaven, and devoured them: and the devil that deceived them, was 10 cast into a lake of fire and brimstone, where the beast and the false prophet were and shall be tormented day and night for ever more. And I saw a great white seat and him that sat on 11 it, from whose face fled away both the earth and heaven, and their place was no more found. And I saw the dead, both great 12 and small stand* before God: And the books were opened, and another book was opened, which is the book of life, and the dead were judged of those things which were written in the books according to their deeds: and the sea gave up her dead, 13 which were in her, and death and hell delivered up the dead, which were in them: and they were judged every man according to his deeds. And death and hell were cast into the lake of 14 fire. This is that second death. And whosoever was not found 15 written in the book of life, was cast into the lake of fire.

And I saw a new heaven, and a new earth. For the first XXI heaven, and the first earth, were vanished away, and there was no more sea. And I John saw that holy city new Jerusalem come down from God out of heaven prepared as a bride 2 garnished for her husband. And I heard a great voice from 3 the throne,* saying: behold, the tabernacle of God is with men, and he will dwell with them. And they shall be his people, and God himself shall be with them and be their God. And God 4 shall wipe away all tears from their eyes. And there shall be no more death, neither sorrow, neither crying, neither shall there be any more pain, for the old things are gone. And he that sat 5 upon the seat, said: Behold I make all things new. And he said unto me: write, for these words are faithful and true. And he 6 v.7 Other: lowsded. v.12 Other: stond. 21. v.3 Other: agrett voyce out of heaven.

said unto me: it is done I am Alpha and Omega, the beginning, and the end. I will give to him that is a thirst of the well of the 7 water of life free. He that overcometh shall inherit all things, 8 and I will be his God, and he shall be my son. But the fearful and unbelieving, and the abominable, and murderers, and whoremongers, and sorcerers, and idolaters, and all liars shall have their part in the lake which burneth with fire and brim-9 stone, which is the second death. And there came unto me one of the seven angels which had the seven vials full of the seven last plagues: and talked with me saying: come hither I will 10 shew thee the bride, the Lamb's wife. And he carried me away in the spirit to a great and an high mountain, and he shewed me the great city, holy Jerusalem descending out of heaven 11 from God, having the brightness of God. And her shining was like unto a stone most precious, even a Jasper clear as Crystal: 12 and had walls great and high, and had twelve gates, and at the gates twelve angels: and names written, which are the twelve 13 tribes of Israel: on the east part three gates, and on the north side three gates, and towards the south three gates, and from 14 the west three gates: and the wall of the city had twelve foundations, and in them the names of the Lamb's twelve apostles.
15 And he that talked with me, had a golden reed to measure the city withal and the gates thereof and the wall thereof. And the 16 city was built four square, and the length was as large as the breadth of it, and he measured the city with the reed twelve thousand furlongs: and the length, and the breadth, and the 17 height of it, were equal. And he measured the wall thereof an hundred* forty four cubits: the measure that the angel had 18 was after the measure that man useth. And the building of the wall of it was of jasper. And the city was pure gold like 19 unto clear glass and the foundations of the wall of the city was garnished with all manner of precious stones. The first foundation was jasper, the second sapphire, the third a chalcedony, 20 the fourth an emerald: the fifth sardonyx: the sixth sardeos: the seventh chrysolite: the eighth berall: the ninth a topas: the tenth a chrysoprasus: the eleventh a hyacinth:* the twelfth an 21 amethyst. The twelve gates were twelve pearls, every gate was of one pearl, and the street of the city was pure gold, as 22 thorow shining glass. And there was no temple therein. For v.17 Other: and. v.20 Other: jacinth.

the Lord God almighty and the lamb are the temple of it. And 23 the city hath no need of the sun* neither of the moon to lighten it. For the brightness of God did light it: and the lamb was the light of it. And the people which are saved shall walk in the 24 light of it: and the kings of the earth shall bring their glory (and honour) unto it. And the gates of it are not shut by day. 25 For there shall be no night there. (And in to it shall they bring 26 the glory and honour of the nations) And there shall enter into 27 it none unclean thing: neither whatsoever worketh abomination: or maketh lies: but they only which are written in the Lamb's book of life.

And he shewed me a pure river of water of life pure* as XXII crystal: proceeding out of the seat of God and of the lamb. In 2 the midst of the street of it, and on either side of the river was there wood of life: which bare twelve manner of fruits: and gave fruit every month: and the leaves of the wood served to heal the people withal. And there shall be no more curse, but 3 the fear* of God and the lamb shall be in it: and his servants shall serve him. And they shall see his face, and his name 4 shall be in their foreheads. And there shall be no more night 5 there and they need no candle, neither light of the sun: for the Lord God giveth them light, and they shall reign for evermore.
 And he said unto me: these sayings are faithful, and true. And 6 the Lord God of saints and prophets sent his angel to shew unto his servants, the things which must shortly be fulfilled.
 Behold I come shortly. Happy is he that keepeth the saying of 7 the prophecy of this book. I am John, which saw these things 8 and heard them. And when I had heard and seen, I fell down, to worship before the feet of the angel which shewed me these things. And he said unto me: see thou do it not, for I am 9 thy fellow servant and the fellow servant of thy brethren the prophets and of them which keep the sayings of this book. But worship God. And he said unto me: seal not the sayings of 10 prophesy of this book. For the time is at hand. He that doth 11 evil, let him do evil still: and he which is filthy, let him be filthy still: and he that is righteous, let him be more righteous: and he that is holy, let him be more holy. And behold I come 12 shortly, and my reward with me, to give every man according as his deeds shall be. I am Alpha and Omega, the beginning 13 14 and the end, the first and the last. Blessed are they that do his commandments, that their power may be in the tree of life, and 15 may enter in thorow the gates into the city. For with out shall be dogs and enchanters, and whoremongers, and murderers, 16 and idolaters, and whosoever loveth or maketh leasings. I Jesus sent mine angel, to testify unto you these things in the congregations. I am the root and the generation of David, and 17 the bright morning star. And the spirit and the bride said come. And let him that heareth, say also come. And let him that is a thirst come. And let whosoever will, take of the water 18 of life free. I testify unto every man that heareth the words of prophecy of this book: if any man shall add unto these things, God shall add unto him the plagues that are written in this 19 book. And if any man shall minish of the words of the book of this prophecy, God shall take away his part out of the book of life, and out of the holy city, and from those things which are 20 written in this book. He which testifieth these things saith: 21 be it, I come quickly, Amen. Even so: come Lord Jesu. The grace of our Lord Jesu Christ be with you all Amen.

The end of the new testament.